

Academic Standards Too High for Average Student

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
DALLAS (UPI)—A grieving family in the Dallas suburb of University Park believes their son died because he was not a scholar.
They believe he hanged himself from a shower curtain rod by his belt because the pressures of trying to rise above the status of the average student were too much for him.

Their 15-year-old son attended an ordinary high school. Students at Highland Park High School in a separate municipal enclave inside Dallas don't spend their time speculating whether they are going to college. The campus question is WHICH college or university to go to.
Ninety-six per cent of Highland Park graduates attend college. In 1960, the school scored an academic coup when the No. 1 graduates of both West Point and Annapolis turned out to be Highland Park products.
The family of the student who committed suicide granted an interview on condition their name not be used. They said they wanted no publicity—but felt a look into their tragic situation might make schools throughout the nation take a second look at themselves.

The boy hanged himself the night after he had received two deficiency reports. The teenager talked about it with his parents and they told him they would go to school early the next day to get him extra help in Algebra.
"It won't do any good because I don't understand it," the boy said and went upstairs. His body was found in the bathroom later, dangling from the shower rod.
"I know he was conscious of the fact he was not a top student," his mother said.
"His older sister (she is 22) was a top student in the same school system. She had many honors and is doing graduate work at an Ivy League school. All of these things made him conscious of her record. He must have had the feeling he could never do it."
In one of the deficiency courses he was worried about, he had a low C. He had an incomplete in the other course.
His mother said there was too much emphasis on grades. "Maybe if they graded them differently it would be better. Maybe there should be some other incentive. The morning after the incident, a woman friend came over and said her daughter 'came in with a deficiency report that all but told her 'you won't get into any college.'"
"Another incident happened with a student in the same Algebra class my boy was in. His father had told him: 'No more deficiency reports.' Well, the

Quickie Snowstorm Covers Pampa

Bright Sun Converts City to Sea of Slush

By RAY RODGERS JR.
An eight-inch snowfall which lasted about seven hours yesterday morning caused traffic tie-ups, melted fast under a bright sun and then had Pampa motorists slipping and sliding as frigid temperatures headed for the teens again last midnight.

The most severe cold was due early this morning. The mercury was expected to fall to the low teens in the Panhandle and other parts of Northwest Texas.

The State Highway Department was warning against travel in the Panhandle today as the melted snow was expected to form a thick ice glaze over highways. Travel on areas where the snow had melted was expected to make motoring extremely dangerous.

The snow, first of the 1965 winter season, began falling between 2 and 3 a.m. Saturday. It was on the heels of a fast-moving cold front that moved into Pampa about 4 p.m. Friday. Temperatures dropped as much as 20 degrees in 10 minutes when the front struck. Shortly before dusk Friday the city was pelted with sleet and freezing rain. The snow blanket here was heavy and reached its peak about 11 a.m. Saturday.

This was followed by clearing skies and a bright sun by mid-afternoon Saturday with the result that downtown streets became a sea of slush.

Saturday morning downtown shoppers could barely cross from one block to another without wading snow over ankle deep. When the sun came out, the snow was turned into huge puddles of water.

The police department did not record a traffic accident until 3 p.m. Saturday, despite the slick and hazardous road conditions Friday night and Saturday morning.

This was attributed largely to sand trucks and city snow plows being out on city streets before the morning rush of traffic began. The Texas Highway Patrol recorded one accident since the storm hit Friday. Perryton Game Warden James Pratt was admitted to Highland General Hospital after his state patrol car crashed into a truck on Price road. The accident occurred about 6 p.m. Friday.

Pampans who couldn't get their cars out of garages because of snow-drifted driveways fell back on taxicab service to get to town in the early morning hours. As a result taxi calls

MINIATURE SKI-RUN — Pampa youths were quick to make the most of the eight inches of snow which fell Friday night and early Saturday. While traffic was stalled on icy streets youngsters were engaged in snowball fights and sledding. Using snow saucers on the hills of Central Park from left are David, 10, Steve, 15, Chad, 4, and Phillip, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Darce, 1326 Charles.

New Method of Traffic Control On Trial Basis

In an effort to alleviate congested traffic conditions around the Cuyler street underpass, the City Engineer's office has installed a new method of traffic control.

City Engineer Harold Foreman said that for a trial period arrows for straight through traffic and right turns will replace green lights. While left turns will be prohibited when a car is coming from beneath the underpass.

The new system was approved several months ago by the City Traffic Commission. "Since then," Foreman said, "surveys have been conducted to determine exactly what type of control should be installed."

He said the "no left turn" should expedite traffic traveling beneath the underpass. He said that in the past cars sometimes would line up bumper to bumper for a motorist making a left turn.

"When snow or ice was on the ground," he said, "this would result in cars stalling on the incline and unable to get out."
Foreman emphasized that the new traffic control method was being tried on a trial basis only to determine its feasibility.

Barnes Has Inside Track on Texas Speaker of House Job

AUSTIN (UPI)—What may be the most important legislative session in Texas history opens Tuesday with an unexpected question facing lawmakers the moment the opening gavel falls.
The question is the choice of a speaker of the house of representatives. The House suddenly was left leaderless by the appointment of speaker Byron Tunnell to the railroad commission just four days before the session is to open.

Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon, Tunnell's 26-year-old understudy in the 58th legislature, apparently has the inside track for the speakership. Barnes says he has enough pledges of support from lawmakers to be elected.

Barnes is clearly the choice of Gov. John Connally's faction of the Democratic party. Frank C. Erwin Jr., the Democratic national committeeman from Texas and two Connally assistants, Larry Temple and Julian Read, were standing in the wings when Barnes announced his candidacy Friday.

Also seeking the speakership are Reps. Henry Grover of Houston, Reed Quillman Jr. of Lubbock, George (Skeet) Richardson of Fort Worth, Paul Haring of Goldad and Jack Woods of Waco.

Selection of a speaker will be the first order of business when the House convenes about noon Tuesday.

In the Senate, both the leadership and membership will be essentially the same as in 1963.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will again preside over the Senate and there will be only two senators—Jack Hightower of Wichita Falls and Pete Snelson of Midland.

Rep. Frank Cahoon of Midland will be the lone Republican in the 181-member legislature this term. There were nine on hand during the last session. When the speakership is decided, the legislature will turn to some of the weightiest issues ever faced by Texas lawmakers—congressional redistricting.

'64 Building Permits Soar

Pampa building permits for 1964 set a three-year high mark with total construction of $1,626,097, according to reports from City Hall.

The figure is $4,978,667 under the 12-year high set in 1957, but shows an increase of $271,321 over the 1963 mark of $1,344,776.

Biggest gain was in permits issued for residential construction. In 1963, a total of $481,000 in new residence building permits were issued. In 1964, a total of $901,800 such permits were placed on city books. The highest monthly total was $191,000 in May.

Two other phases of the report showed increases over 1963. Permits for remodeling businesses climbed approximately $5,000 during 1964. During the year $50,065 in permits was issued compared with $45,500 in 1963.

Permits for remodeling garages and car ports also showed an increase over last year. Permits for remodeling garages and car ports also showed an increase over last year. Permits for remodeling garages and car ports also showed an increase over last year.

City Engineer Harold Foreman pointed out that building permits for the Coronado Shopping Center were not counted in the 1964 figures because the center was not annexed until after construction had started. Had the figures been counted in 1964, approximately one and three-quarter million dollars would have added to the yearly total, he said.

New business permits for the year showed a drop of approximately $120,000. Total permits issued for 1964 was $237,152, compared with $367,400 in 1963.

Remodeling residence permits dropped off from $164,141 in 1963 to $148,516 in 1964.

Miscellaneous permits which include schools, churches, club houses, etc., dropped off slightly during '64. The 1963 figure was $206,030, while the 1964 mark totaled $164,630.

Move-in residents remodeling showed a total of $71,420 in construction compared with $72,255 in 1963.

Record highs in building permits were in the years 1955-59. Permits during those years totaled around $5 million each.

Foreman said the residential permits spurred the high figures in these years. He said Prairie Village, North Creek and several other housing developments were responsible for the large number of building permits in those years.

Shippers Want President To Intervene in Dock Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shippers declared Saturday they would ask President Johnson, through the Congress, to intervene if longshoremen go through with a Maine-to-Texas dock strike scheduled for 12:01 a.m. Monday.

In a statement, the New York Shipping Association (NYSA) said rank and file members of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) did not understand the terms of a proposed contract which union leadership has recommended they accept.

Port of New York dockers Friday night voted 8,354 to 7,792 to reject a contract which ILA negotiators had described as "the best in our history."
The primary objection to the new contract was the proposed

Return Requested Of Dimes Envelopes

The Gray County March of Dimes Saturday issued a reminder to area residents—a reminder about their opportunity to give new hope to childhood victims of birth defects.

Joe M. Daniel Jr., local campaign chairman, appealed for the prompt return of the March of Dimes envelopes sent to all county homes earlier this month.

"The contributions which come back in these envelopes," Daniel said, "will enable the March of Dimes to expand its fight against birth defects, the great killer andcrippler of children."

"Most people just don't realize that birth defects can mean years of physical and mental anguish for at least one out of 16 newborn American babies, and the tragic disruption of family life," he declared.

The campaign leader emphasized that the goal of the March of Dimes in birth defects, just as in polio, is to find the means of prevention. Scientists supported by March of Dimes grants have already uncovered clues which may lead to the elimination of certain types of birth defects.

Meanwhile the March of Dimes through special medical centers and clinics in every section of the country, is now providing expert medical care for children who are already victims of birth defects.

"Please return your March of Dimes mail envelope and give these children a chance," he urged.

GENERALS HAVE CHANGE OF HEART Political Crisis Ends in Viet

SAIGON (UPI)—South Viet Nam's three highest ranking leaders announced Saturday they had ended the country's political-military crisis by promising some measure of civilian government.

Their communique had the effect of ratifying the military's partial coup of Dec. 20 which dissolved the civilian high national council while paying lip service to American objections which arose from the coup.

The U.S. Embassy said it welcomed the announcement. The communique was signed in a public ceremony by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, a former forces commander-in-chief, and by chief of state Phan Khanh Suu and Premier Tran Van Huong.

"The political crisis of the last few days is now considered over," the communique said. The communique contained five main points:—The military reaffirmed its promise of Aug. 27 to return all power to the civilian regime.

—The chief of state was invested with temporary power to issue laws by decree.

—Huong agreed "speedily" to convene a national convention to replace Suu's temporary legislative powers and to draw up a permanent constitution.

—Politicians arrested during the partial coup will be released, including High National Council members who will now be "under the jurisdiction of the civilian government."

—The government will try to rally the whole nation against the Communists.

halted aid talks after the coup. The second and third points merely ratified the coup itself. Huong and Suu had resigned themselves to the army's dissolution of the council but the "crisis" was kept alive by American insistence on civilian rule.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman issued this statement: "The American mission in Viet Nam welcomes the statement of government policy issued today as a promising step in the direction of establishing a stable and effective government which our statement of Jan. 5 stressed is essential to efficient use of American assistance."

The Jan. 5 statement pointed up American insistence on a stable government in Saigon. However the spokesman did not answer earlier questions on whether the embassy will now resume discussions of a new American aid package to Viet Nam. The talks were out of two days after the Dec. 20 coup.

State's Rainfall Total Down in '64

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Texas wound up 1964 short of its average rainfall for the third consecutive year but in better shape than 1963, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

Brownsville had 11.08 inches less than normal rainfall for the biggest loss last year, and 12 more of 19 reporting stations had less precipitation than usual.

The other six with more than normal amounts were led by Wichita Falls with an extra 5.60 inches. San Antonio had 3.98 inches higher than usual, while Dallas, Fort-Worth and Abilene all recorded more than two inches of rain above normal for the year.

Those cities lacking usual rainfall, and amounts they were short, included: Corpus Christi, 6.69 inches; Houston, 6.94; Galveston, 3.30; Beaumont-Port Arthur, 6.45; Victoria, 2.96; Midland-Odessa 6.45 and San Angelo, 6.48.

Snow

(Continued From Page 1) Agent Foster Whaley said the snow would be "a real help" for wheat, already up about two inches and thirsty rangelands.

The cold front posed the biggest threat to the multi-million dollar citrus and vegetable crops in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

U. S. Highway 66, leading into New Mexico and U. S. 80 were closed down part of the night leading out of Amarillo but opened Saturday morning.

Mary Eggleston, operator of the Trailway bus station in Pampa reported late Saturday afternoon buses coming from the east were running 30 minutes to one hour behind schedule.

One Trailway bus was forced off the road and into Willow Creek, near Binger, Oklahoma, early Saturday morning.

A bulldozer was called to force dirt under the bus to keep it from tipping over into the creek.

The forecast called for heavy clouds over Central and East Texas with partly cloudy skies for the western third of the state through late tonight.

The weather forecast for Pampa and vicinity called for colder temperatures last night with a slight warming trend late today.

A warning trend was expected to begin in the Panhandle late Sunday.

Parts of extreme South Texas enjoyed balmy temperatures in the 70s before the frigid air arrived. At mid-day, Brownsville had 71 degrees, McAllen 67 and Beaumont 74.

On the national weather picture, rain and snow fell along the California-Oregon border, where disastrous Christmas week floods caused nearly half a billion dollars damage.

The leading edge of the cold front carried torrential rains into Arkansas. Sub-zero cold gripped a seven state area from Montana to Michigan and southward into Nebraska and Iowa early Saturday.

It was 21 below zero at Superior, Wis., and 22 below at Aberdeen, S. D. and Omaha, Neb., had a low of 1 below.

Rhinestones are made of strass, a heavy lead glass, invented by Joseph Strasser.

Game Warden's Condition Good

A car-truck collision Friday night sent 31-year-old James Pratt, state Game Warden from Perryton, to Highland General Hospital with multiple cuts and bruises.

Pratt, driving his state warden's car, was in collision with a semi-truck trailer driven by Rex D. Spence, 38, of Pampa. The accident occurred about 6 p.m. at the intersection of U.S. 60 and Price road.

According to Stan Schneider, investigating highway patrolman, Spence was attempting to make a left turn from 60 onto Price road when the car driven by Pratt rammed into the rear end.

Both vehicles were headed east when the crash occurred. The state car was almost totally demolished.

Pratt was taken to the hospital where attendants list his condition as good late Saturday night. Spence was not injured.

Vicars Files Suit For $12,500 Friday

A $12,500 personal injury suit was filed in district court late Friday by former city secretary Ed Vicars.

The suit was in connection with a Jan. 12, 1963 auto accident at the corner of Kingsmill and Gray.

Named as defendant in the action was Glen B. Weyandt, 2137 N. Sumner.

Vicars accuses Weyandt of seven counts of negligence which Vicars alleges caused a two car crash between him and the defendant.

Vicars' suit asks for $12,500 for personal injuries and damage to his vehicle.

Former Wyoming Governor Due as K and F Speaker

Former Governor Jack R. Gage of Wyoming, called "The Will Rogers of the West," will be guest speaker when the Knife & Fork Club meets for dinner at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 21, in Robert E. Lee Junior High School cafeteria.

Dinner tickets are on sale at Malone's Pharmacy where they can be purchased by members until 1 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 20. Members may bring women guests or out-of-town visitors by obtaining dinner tickets before the deadline for each meeting.

Ex-Governor Gage is a humorist and retains his sense of good humor despite the fact he was defeated when he ran for reelection.

When Gage relinquished his office as governor he admitted it was against his better judgment.

"But," the western humorist facetiously added, "it all came about because a majority of the voters thought differently than I did."

Gage still is popular in his home state and folks there say he is one of the most entertaining speakers on tour today.

Shortly after leaving the governorship, Gage went to Australia where he spent eight months visiting cattle stations, missions and aborigine camps.

With much of the data obtained in Australia, to which he adds humorous incidents that happened while he was a public servant in the Cowboy State, local Knife & Fork Club officers say Gage is expected to bring an after-dinner speech that may make him "the talk of the town" the morning after.

Traffic Code, Meters On Commission Docket

A number of miscellaneous items are listed on the agenda for action at Tuesday's regular meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

An ordinance amending the City Traffic Code and legislation for establishing three 30-minute parking meters in the 100-block of N. Russell St., will be up for second and third reading, respectively.

The commission will have special guests at Tuesday's session when members of the Junior Service League pay a visit to City Hall.

Boy Average

The boy's record at Highland Park was average, his teachers said, and he was not the type of student who withdrew from a group.

Dr. Watson pointed out that the average student at Highland Park sometimes gets mousetrapped because "our average student is actually below average" compared to the other students that attend the school.

"Many of the parents move to the district because they want their children to have a solid preparation to enter college," Dr. Watson said.

What effect did the suicide have on the school? "Well, we were shocked of course," Dr. Watson said. "It has caused the school to re-examine and re-evaluate, but the grade point system can't be replaced unless the public wants it."

"There are no easy formulas, but some clues may be found by going back through the boy's record that might head off another incident of this type."

"I've been at this school 31 years and it is only the fourth suicide involving a student or graduate of Highland Park I can think of."

"Remember the pressures that teen-agers face today in school originate in most instances with the parents themselves."

"It all boils down to what the parents want."

Chamber Directors Call Monday Meeting

The first meeting of 1965 of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce has been set for noon tomorrow in the Coronado Inn.

Red Wedgworth, Chamber manager, said new chairman of respective committees will be presented to the board for their approval.

Band Concert Plays to Packed House Friday

A full house greeted the Pampa High School Band Friday night in its final performance of a two-night concert in Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

The audience again applauded the band and Carl (Doc) Severinsen, guest trumpet player who appeared both with the band and the "Swing Kings," 22-piece orchestra unit.

Following the concert a reception was given for Severinsen in the school cafeteria by the Band Boosters' Club.

Proceeds from ticket sales for the concert are to be used to finance the band's annual trip to the Tri-State Music Festival in Enid, Okla.

Booster Club officials estimated the band trip fund will receive $800 to $1,000.

Vandals Wreck Vending Machines

Approximately $30 in damage was attributed to vandals Friday as several vending machines at Highland Speed Queen Laundry, 2000 N. Hobart, were wrecked.

Police investigators said two one-cent vending machines were shattered and a five-cent vending machine was also broken.

The vandals left gum and pennies scattered on the floor.

Work Bench, Tools Destroyed by Fire

A work bench and several hand tools were completely destroyed by fire last night when a small blaze erupted in the Southwestern Public Service Company warehouse, 205 E. Craven.

The blaze started when an open flame gas heater ignited the wood bench.

Firemen quickly extinguished the small blaze. Damage was reported very light. The fire started at 7:05 p.m.

The largest white diamond, the Cullinan (3.106 carats), was found in South Africa.

Changes Wanted In Jobless Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration plans to ask Congress to broaden federal participation in state unemployment pay programs by hiking benefits and extending the duration of weekly payments.

The request is certain to provoke controversy on Capitol Hill, where lawmakers have rejected past efforts to federalize the state-administered unemployment compensation programs.

The jobless pay program is expected to be the highlight of a package of priority legislative requests in the labor field which will be sent to Congress by President Johnson sometime in February and early March. The others include strengthening of the Manpower and Job Retraining Act, expansion of coverage of the $1.25 federal minimum wage law, and outright repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law permitting state "right-to-work" laws.

Johnson delighted organized labor when he called in his State of the Union message Monday night for repeal of section 14B.

Its repeal would nullify "right-to-work" laws outlawing union shops in 20 states. Prospects were considered good that the Democratic-dominated Congress would approve the repeal request.

Administration sources said the proposal to broaden state unemployment payment programs probably would include an increase in the weekly benefits, which now average $35.92, and extension of the number of weeks of benefits now paid to the jobless, which average about 26 now.

The unemployment compensation benefits vary greatly among the 50 different states.

To finance the increases, the administration may ask that the payroll tax paid by employers be increased from a base of $3,000 to $5,000 a year, involve 2 million

Sources said extension of the minimum wage law would involve coverage for the first time of about 2 million employees in hotels, motels, restaurants, commercial laundries and dry cleaning establishments and certain agricultural processing workers.

They said serious consideration also was being given to requesting double time for overtime work, and an increase in the $1.25 an hour minimum wage for those covered under the wage-hour provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Teamsters Get Foot in Door At Austin Firm

AUSTIN (UPI) — The teamsters union is trying quietly for its first foothold in Austin. Workers at Nelson Davis and Son, a wholesale grocery firm, will vote on Teamster representation today.

The company is owned by the Fleming Co., a large firm with warehouses in at least five states.

Representatives of the National Labor Relations Board were in Austin to set up the ballot of 95 drivers and warehousemen at the firm.

Finance Records Help on Tax Forms

Financial records are important in preparing Federal income tax returns, Director of Internal Revenue Ellis Campbell, Jr., for the Dallas District, said Saturday.

The filing season began January 1. Campbell said that cancelled checks, receipts, records of contributions, and other papers would all be helpful.

Taxpayers who keep good financial records during the year will find it easier to prepare their Federal income tax returns, Campbell explained. Complete records are especially important to taxpayers who itemize deductions. Copies of prior years' returns are good guides in preparing the new return, Campbell reminded.

TO BUILD PLANT

NEW YORK (UPI) — A "multi-million dollar" liquid oxygen plant will be built in Minnesota by Union Carbide Corp. to supply oxygen for a special mining process to be used in the Mesabi taconite range, it was announced.

The plant, to be located in St. Louis County, is due to go into operation early in 1966, the announcement said.

Mass Change Taken Favorably

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The change from Latin to English in the Mass, which took effect Nov. 29, has been received enthusiastically by a large majority of America's Catholics, a liturgical expert said today.

"There has been some foot-dragging," acknowledged Fr. Frederick R. McManus. "But on the whole the transition has gone as smoothly as anyone could have hoped."

Fr. McManus is executive secretary of the Office of Liturgical Affairs established by the U.S. bishops to implement the reforms in public worship decreed by the Vatican Ecumenical Council. The Boston-born priest also served as an adviser to the Ecumenical Council. He said spot checks around the country indicate that at least three-fourths of the priests and laity are very pleased with the new look in Catholic worship, which includes a much greater emphasis on congregational participation as well as the introduction of vernacular languages.

"Some people are finding it difficult to adjust to the changes," he said in an interview with UPI. "But even they are benefiting. Catholic worship has become more meaningful for the participants, and that is a good thing for all of us."

"Many priests have told me that they can detect an entirely different spirit of worship in their parishes." Fr. McManus said the innovations have been most warmly welcomed by young people, but also have had a surprising wide acceptance from those who are middle-aged or older. "For some reason," he said, "the greatest resistance has been encountered among men and women in the 25-to-40 age bracket."

He said the introduction of congregational hymn singing appears to have been, for some parishes, "a more radical change than the switch from one language to another."

"I think it's quite remarkable that there haven't been more complaints," he said. "It is not easy to change the worship habits of a lifetime."

"The biggest shock for the average layman has been the sudden realization that corporate worship depends on his taking an active part in the service. In the past, the man in the pew often was just a silent spectator of liturgical acts performed by the priest. If a layman joined in worship, he did so on a private, isolated basis — as an individual in a group of individuals. But in the new 'dialogue' mass, public worship is a community action in which every layman has a personal part to play. This is the most fundamental and far-reaching change in the church's liturgical life in many centuries, and the response in this country, as in others, vindicates the wisdom of the council fathers in ordering it."

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

By GEORGE SMITH
The Fencing class got off to a bang Monday night and should prove to be quite successful. Joe Pafford is the instructor and is still interested in having more persons to enroll in the course. Meeting time is 7:00 p.m. on Mondays. Those interested may come to the next meeting or contact Joe Pafford at Celanese Corp.

The Center will offer new swim lessons for those interested starting Jan. 25 in the Beginner and Advanced Beginner category. Enrollment is now going on. Beginner class will meet at 4 p.m. and advanced beginner will meet at 5 p.m. Classes will meet through Feb. 10. Center members are enrolled free of charge while non-members will be charged a $3 instructional fee. Chris Patton will be the instructor.

The Center is putting out a call for persons interested in Jr. and Senior Life Saving. If you are interested in such a course, please contact the Center. If enough enroll before Feb. 10, the course will start on Feb. 15 and will meet evenings from 4-6 p.m. Chris Patton will instruct the course. This would qualify persons for life guard positions in the summer months. Center members will be enrolled free of charge while non-members will be charged $3.

The Dolphin Swim Team is still working out each day except Tuesday and Sunday and are still looking for new members. Workouts are from 6-7 p.m. weekdays and 7-9 a.m. on Saturdays. Swim instructor is Al Slaughter of the Celanese Corp. Persons interested should contact Mr. Slaughter or Center Director, George D. Smith.

The second annual Top O' Texas Basketball Tournament for independent teams will be held this year on March 22-26. All teams in the Texas Panhandle are invited to enter. Entry fee is $15 and is due March 17. Games will be played nightly and teams from out-of-town will be given consideration for the late games. Send entries to P.P. Box 1164.

Savings Bond Sales Increase

Savings Bond sales for the first eleven months of 1964 totaled $830,000 in Gray County. Of this amount $23,111 were purchased during the month of November according to George Cree chairman of the Gray County savings bonds committee.

During November Texans purchased $11,577,054 in Series E and H Savings Bonds. This represents a 9.6 per cent increase over the same period last year. Cumulative sales for eleven months of 1964 amounted to $135,945,497 which is 90.6 per cent of the state's goal of $150 million.

"A good habit to get into during the new year is buying U.S. Savings Bonds regularly — buy a month at $37.50 and you'll have $50.00 a month coming back when the bonds mature," Cree stated.

Pampa Comeback Earns First-Place League Tie

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

LUBBOCK—The clutch shooting of Davy McDaniel, a pair of key rebounds by Roper Roper and a six-minute stall led by Lanny Lewis gave the Pampa Harvesters a share of first place in district 3-AAAA with a 58-52 win over Monterey Friday night.

The Harvesters blew a 12-point lead in the first quarter and an 11-point margin in the second frame, and then came back with their finest effort of the year to move their district record to 6-1.

In the second game of the twin bill before over 5,000 people at Red Raider Coliseum, the Lubbock Westerners smashed the Amarillo Sandies, 74-57 to split the loop lead with the Harvesters. Each team has one game left in the first half of the split season. Lubbock meeting Monterey Tuesday night while the Harvesters are at Tascosa.

Outshot from the floor and outrebounded by the giant Plainsmen, the Harvesters used their old weapon, the free throw, hitting 24 of 28 charity tosses for the difference.

The first half was a chess game, with coaches Terry Culley and Gerald Myers making move and counter-move, shuffling their players in and out like pawns. The third quarter was one of sheer frustration for the Harvesters as they couldn't hit a field goal and watched their lead vanish like snowflakes in a heat wave, but the fourth quarter was one of sheer determination as the Harvesters fought their way back for a game they had apparently dropped down the drain.

The Harvesters opened the game with a full-court press and ran to a 5-0 lead as the Plainsmen dominated the boards but couldn't hit the rebounds. The hosts put on a press of their own midway in the frame, but Roper started getting a piece of the boards while Lewis kept stealing the ball like a kleptomaniac at a jewelry counter. The two hit steadily to move the lead to 20-8.

With two minutes left in the frame, the Harvesters put in substitutes and took off the press to give Lewis and company a chance to take a breath, but the Plainsmen came right back as little Bobby Pierce kept hitting from the left corner, and Charley Whitt smacked the net with a long shot at the buzzer to slice it to 22-18.

The first unit put on the press again with Ron Curlee and Lewis making like Dillingers, and McWilliams and McDaniel put the margin back up to 11 points. The pestiferous Pierce started sniping again, teaming with Gary Hughes to close the gap as the press relaxed and Pierce hit at the buzzer to cut the edge to 36-34.

Hughes tied the game with a turnaround jump, and Bill Abernethy hit two straight buckets to put Monterey into a 40-36 lead. Both sides pressed hot and heavy and the scoring slowed down, with Monterey holding a 3-5 point margin and a 43-39 lead going into the final frame. Pampa's press worked like an ironing board and McDaniel suddenly exploded for seven straight points in less than a minute, making the last three-pointer with 6:10 left in the game to give Pampa a 48-45 lead. Abernethy bucketed a 20-foot shot to tie the game, and McWilliams went into a stall. With 4:43 left McWilliams made a pair of free throws, Monterey took a shot and missed and The Roper roped in the rebound. Lewis dribbled like a dervish, spinning back and forth until 2:22, when Whitt was fouled. Whitt missed and again it was Roper on the boards. McDaniel worked in for a shot and it was 52-47 with 1:57 left. Curlee then wrapped it all up as he snow-birded to Lewis, all alone under the Monterey basket.

The second game started slowly as Amarillo began without a full-court press for the first time this season. The score was 3-3 at midquarter until Gary Washington started hitting from outside to speed up the action and Lubbock had a 12-11 quarter lead.

Mike Burkett, Amarillo's leading rebounder, picked up his fourth foul early in the second quarter and that was the beginning of the end for the Sandies, who immediately put on the press. The press and the shooting of Mickey Vaclav kept Amarillo in the game, Lubbock holding a 31-29 halftime lead, but Washington and Doug Dunlap dominated the boards and the scoring as they moved it to 52-41 after three frames.

The fourth period was anticlimax as the same pair fought each other for the boards and fed each other for the buckets, moving up to 18 points ahead. Dunlap had 22 points, Washington 19, Vaclav had 18 for the Sandies.

In an earlier game at Monterey, the Pampa Shockers went down to a heartbreaking 57-53 defeat. Billy Turner, Roy Harper and Little Butch Crossland each had nine points for the Shockers.

10 SUNDAY, JANUARY 10, 1965 57TH YEAR

Bowling

By GIL BURGUND

Miss this column last week? Sorry, but so many leagues did not bowl, and the few who did, must have had too much Christmas to bowl very good so I just took time off, too. Gladys Ellington was one exception, she had a nice 232-574. I told you to be expecting good bowling for the new year and to prove it, Jane Willingham, a new bowler with a 98 average, bowled a 168. Virginia Pettit strung 5 in a row, for a 209, her first 200. Bernita Nidiffer strung 6 in a row and ended with a 227-547. Betty Jones with a 133 avg. rolled a 198. We could go on and on but not enough space.

Welcome to Paul Stanford, Joe Stenbridge, Jeramel Harris and a number of others, who again have the bowling fever after some time. Leonard Cable was aiding a couple of juniors the other day and the first game Stanley Cable came up with a 211—Johnnie Clark 209—Buddy Newton broke in a new ball with a 201, 200, 552.

Pat Patrick, with a infected finger, decided to bowl anyway, had a 539 series and even better, a 559! Some hi scores: Bob Baker, 266; Jim Butcher 234; Gil Burgund 233; Tex Greer 232.

Also Ned Pryor 629; John Snugs 596; Jim Butcher 595; George Cree 567; Ray Browning 559.

Hi among the women were Bernita Nidiffer 227; Nancy Skinner 210; Vesta Parker 527; Lois Tenge 522—Bowler of the week (HDCP) Ken Wesson 693; Sheila Rutledge 636.

Brothers Battle At West Texas
CANYON — There will be a strong personal rivalry present in addition to the usual one when West Texas State hosts McMurry Monday night in Buffalo Fieldhouse.

Marvin Mitchell, 6-2 Buffalo forward from Detroit, will again be facing his "little" brother, Lloyd, a 6-3 freshman at McMurry. When the two met for the first time on a basketball floor (they both played for Chashey High in Detroit, but in Detroit, but in different years) in Abilene in December. Marvin outscored Lloyd, 22-8, as the Buffs won in overtime, 79-78. The battle of the boards was a standoff, each having eight rebounds.

Lloyd has vowed to reverse both point totals on the Canyon maples. His average of 18.2 points per game is second on the Indians squad to Little All who hit for 27 counters against

A WINNER — Davy McDaniel drives past three Lubbock Monterey defenders for one of his key baskets in the final period. McDaniel scored seven straight points in the frame to bring Pampa from behind to the win.

North Defense Holds On For 7-7 Senior Deadlock

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Fumbles, interceptions and a stout Yankee defense repelled the South's spectacular aerial attack Saturday and the North took a 7-7 tie in the 16th annual Senior Bowl game.

The passing of Alabama's Joe Namath—and Florida State's Steve Tensi took the South near victory four times, but each time the North rose up to hold. Minnesota's Craig Loftquist intercepted two of Namath's passes.

Namath had to bring the South from behind in the second half on a 53-yard pass play to end Bob Hayes of Florida A&M to preserve the tie.

North quarterback Rich Badar of Indiana drew first blood in the second quarter, sneaking over from one yard out.

Jim North of Washington kicked the extra point for the North while Justin Canale boot the South's conversion.

The South, riding on Namath's passing, threatened four times but was stymied by fumbles and interceptions. Canale tried two unsuccessful field goals from 39 and 45 yards out as the South tried to grab the lead in the fourth quarter.

It was the first tie in the 16-year history of the Senior Bowl. Namath connected on 22 of 38 passes for 246 yards but the aerial display bogged down each time the South got deep into North territory.

Loftquist's first interception of a Namath pass came in the first quarter on the North 25. Just before the period ended, end John Hilton of Richmond took a Namath pass on the North 10 but fumbled on the nine where it was picked up by defensive back Floyd Hudlow of Arizona.

Early in the second quarter, the South was driving again the Buffs and is averaging 21 who hit for 27 counters against the Buffs and is averaging 21 points per game. Lloyd's 10.1 rebounding average is the Indians' best and far exceeds any of the Buffaloes' marks.

Marvin, on the other hand, has missed four games with a fractured cheekbone and is just returning to action. He was the Buffs number two scorer at the time of his injury. He also was second in rebounding and still leads in free throw percentage with .811.

with Tensi of Florida State at the helm. Tensi had pushed the Rebels down to the North 15.

On the next play, Virginia Tech's Bob Schweickert took a Tensi pass inside the North 10 but fumbled. This one was recovered by lineman Don Hoover of Ohio University.

The North alternated Badar and Tom Myers of Northwestern as quarterbacks. The North's touchdown came after George Donnelly of Illinois intercepted a Tensi pass on the North 28. Badar, passing twice for a total of 44 yards and calling on fullback Tom Nowatzke of Indiana, pushed it to the one. Then he sneaked over.

Steve DeLong, a guard from Tennessee, was named most valuable player in the game. He broke into the North backfield often to halt the Yankees' running game. Namath was the most valuable South back and Dick Gordon of Michigan State was the North's most valuable back. Al Atkinson of Villanova was the North's best lineman. The South's touchdown

McLean Tigers Claw Lefors

MCLEAN — McLean, nursing an old grudge against the team that beat them out of a district championship last year, hit their highest point total of the season Friday night in an 81-61 victory over former loop rival Lefors.

Using the height of George Green and Eddie Jay Windom to dominate both backboards, the Tigers were never headed as they opened a 20-8 quarter lead behind Windom and Ronnie Hunt.

Ace Roberts got hot for the Pirates in the second frame and ripped the cords for eight points, but Green matched him shot for shot and McLean kept a 43-28 halftime margin.

The third quarter saw the Tigers feeding Windom close in, with the big boy bucketing eight more points for a 66-43 margin. Windom closed with 22 points, Hunt and Green had 10 apiece Roberts had 22 for Lefors, Danny Hill 18.

Sharon Goldston broke open a tight ball game in the second half to give the McLean girls a 46-27 win. The Tigresses led 8-5 at the quarter and 21-17 at the half, but Sharon, hitting 13 of her 21 points in the last two tanzas, upped it to 36-22 at the three-quarter mark. Jan Bailey followed with 11 points, Pam Burnett with 10. Vicki Stone had 14. Kathy Gatlin 10 for the Pirates.

capped a 74 yard drive in 11 plays. Namath, chased back, unleashed a high spiral that Hayes leaped into the air to bring down before scampering into the end zone.

Hudlow tried one field goal for the North from the 25 yard line but it was wide.

The players each received $800 due to the tie.

South 0 0 7 0-7
North 0 7 0 0-7

Scoring:

NORTH — Badar 1 sneak (North kick)
SOUTH — Hayes 53 pass from Namath (Canale kick)

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

EVERYTIME I go to Lubbock, it snows! Or rather, every time I go to a basketball game, I have seen track meets and baseball games there that were dry. The worst part about the weather is the wandering around the streets... it seems about 500-miles between places. Went up with David Frasier's dad, and we had to go about five miles between Monterey, where the Shocker game was, and Red Raider Coliseum.

Oh well, it was worth the trip. I think that was the finest comeback I have seen the Harvesters make since the Plainview game of 1962 and a real example of clutch ballplaying if the Harvesters win it, they will be the shortest district champs in history, in all probability. I guess sometimes a good little man CAN beat a good big man.

SOME PEOPLE are lucky however. While we plowed through eight inches of snow yesterday, correspondent Mike McHone called from the Darrouzett Tournament. I wondered if the tourney was going to be called off because of the weather and Mike blankly asked what I was talking about. ... seems it was sunny and warm up there! Meanwhile, neither Bill Nichols or Ronnie Oler could get through up to the Canadian Tournament from down here while coach Jerry Estep assured me it was real nice up there! Guess ya just can't win!

Incidentally, a very nice letter from coach E. L. Weinette of Darrouzett concerning all-state Danna Duke. Glad to help, coach, he certainly deserved the honor as all Top O' Texas teams who played against him will testify.

BLOODY BUT UNBOWED the Pampa Newsboys will try to even up their record Thursday night when they go up against the Wheeler Tanglefeet. The Newsboys took it on the chin from the Berger Misprints last Thursday, 60-51, due principally to the fine playing of Frank Phillips ace Ronnie Cooper. We'll get a chance to even it up on Jan. 18 when we meet again in Harvester Fieldhouse.

Coach Tex Hanna of Berger insists I have been taking lessons from Terry Culley. When the Misprint height got too much, the Newsboys went into a full-court press and fast break and Hanna came by and panted out "the uniforms aren't the only thing you got from the Harvesters!" Thanks much to Tex and Terry... they expected to have an easy time with a comedy game and instead found themselves working a regular contest (only I wish Tex would call Goose Shields for flying, not walking, when the Berger skeleton takes off, the 'goose flies high!')

Poor Ray Rodgers was very disappointed because the Harvesters didn't have a pair of shorts to fit him. Guess he figured that because Randy Matson weighed as much as him, he had the same waistline!

Shields, the ol' Gooseliver, said some pretty nasty things concerning this department, most of which was beneath contempt. However, in one column he said something about it had been a long time since a Pampa team took a win at Berger. Gooseliver, I think you better check your basketball records and your baseball records real closely. Also, I think you will find that in the past three years, the record between our American Legion teams is something like 7-1. As I recall, I beat your predecessor's team for the fourth straight time IN Berger before I left last summer. Grew on that for awhile, Goose baby!

Fred Wortham, the aged city editor of the News-Herald, says that he will play the whole game if I will guard him. Although a bum knee held me to limited action in the last game, I ought to be able to guard that veteran of San Juan Hill (he charged down, not up) on a crutch!

MEANWHILE, the Newsboys have got to worry about what the Wheeler Tanglefeet have. At least one thing, unless they run in ringers too, they won't have the height advantage that Berger did. Basketball coach "Sweet William" Harle is only normal-size, while football coach J. T. Hill is about the same size as Chico Ramirez and I think even I have the height advantage on Tooter Heitton. Only thing is, Sweet Will hasn't sent me a roster yet, the rest of the squad might be 6-8! Anyway, it's for charity, and it's going to be a lot of fun and maybe even a good basketball game, so we'll see ya next Thursday!

Reapers Rack

BORGER — Pampa Junior High 7th won their fourth straight game yesterday, a 37-16 sweep of Houston Berger 7th.

Larry Kotara led the scoring with 18 points, Cliff Gage and Vernon Johnson added five apiece.

The Little Reapers host the Lee Confeds in a crucial district game next Friday afternoon.

Canadian Gets Its Consolation

CANADIAN — Canadian Wildcats and Kittens each got a share of their own tournament honors last night, winning consolation rounds in both divisions. The Kittens broke a tight ball game open in the third quarter for a 52-36 win over Higgins and the Cats clawed Morse, 64-37.

Canadian took an 8-7 quarter lead in the girls game, but Kay Smith's hot shooting put Higgins ahead at the half, 21-20. Higgins scored the first three points of the second half, but the Kit tied it back up and Susie Owens put back a rebound to go ahead, and the locals were never headed again.

Squeaky Petree led the winners with 25 points. Kay had 27 in defeat as Canadian got revenge for an early-season loss.

Tiny Morse put up a struggle in the first quarter, but then started fading, with the Cats almost shutting them out in the third stanza.

Canadian took a 14-11 quarter lead and upped it to 30-20 at the half. Morse then went into almost the last minute of the third quarter before scoring a point, while the Cats rammed the nets for a 49-26 edge.

Butcherboy Eckles had 16 points. Droopy Henderson 15 and Gary Hest 12. Eddie Papay and Gerald Scribner had 13 each for the Cats.

Both Canadian teams moved into the consolation finals Friday, the Wildcats dumping Kelton, 52-25 while the Kittens topped Kelton in a revenge match, 55-48.

Kelton, despite the lopsided score, actually had an 8-4 quarter lead on the shooting and rebounding of Ken Abernathy. Butcherboy Bennie Eckles and his fastbreaking mates took the lead at the half, 15-11, moved it to 28-17 and then Kelton fell apart in the final frame. Eckles led the scoring with 15 points.

The Lionesses also took an early lead, 14-12 at the quarter and 32-30 at the half on the shooting of Lafern Bradley. Sue George and Squeaky Petree rapped the nets hot and heavy in the third quarter, but Lafern kept shooting for a 41-38 margin. The defense put the clamps on the Lionesses in the final frame however, while Sue kept hitting for the victory, scoring 27 points to Lafern's 28.

Wheeler boys and girls both went down before favored Briscoe teams, the boys dropping a 68-48 decision and the girls 57-43.

Orville Atherton, the 6-2½ Briscoe jumping jack, led the Broncos to the impressive victory. Wheeler's 6-4½ Mike Gandy gave him a good battle for the boards until running into foul trouble, and Atherton went wild after Gandy fouled out in the third quarter. Briscoe took an 18-13 lead, but broke it open in the second quarter as Tommy Hays and Atherton led the fast break for 43-21. The Horses double-teamed Atherton from the second canto on, but he moved the Broncos to 61-31. Hays had 25 points, Atherton 22, Dunk Porter topped the Horses' with 16.

It was Marvellous Mickie all the way as the tall Briscoe blonde barreled home 41 points, to break the game open in the second half. Wheeler stayed close the first half, 16-12 and 34-27 behind the shooting of Sherry Barnes, but the Broncoettes upped it to 43-31 on free throws in the third quarter.

Lynda Batey came in and a hit four in a row from the top of the key, but Mickie matched her and added more free throws for the winning margin. Sherry had 14 points, Lynda 10.

In the most exciting game of the tourney, Follett upset Allison, 32-31 as 6'4" Susan Ivie, probably the tallest gal eager in the state, outduelled Linda Miller. Morse boys upset Higgins, 56-54, but Higgins girls turned the tables, 40-34.

UP FOR GRABS — Five players fight for this rebound in the Pampa-Lubbock Monterey game Friday night while three more wait for a piece of it. Identifiable are Mac McWilliams (33), Ropes Roper and Davy McDaniel of Pampa; Ernie Gilkerson (42) and David Reed (32) of Monterey. The shorter Harvesters got the rebounds when it counted for a 58-52 win.

White Deer Nips Claude In Two Overtimes, 63-58

By ROGER SIMMONS
News Sports Correspondent

CLAUDE — White Deer's Bucks pulled out a 63-58 double-overtime victory over Claude and the Does racked up Happy, 49-31 to give each of them third place in the North Plains Basketball Tournament last night as Groom's Tigers met Adrian in the finals.

The thrilling extra-inning victory was set up by Johnny Mooney, who tied the game in regulation time and made the key free throws to give the Bucks the edge in the second extra period.

The game went back and forth, tied 14-all at the quarter.

Colleges Meet Pete

CHICAGO (UPI) — Collegiate officials have met with National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle about premature signing of college football players and found him "very understanding," James J. Corbett said Saturday.

Corbett, athletic director of Louisiana State University and chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's College-Pro Relations Committee, revealed that he and commissioner Bill Reed of the Big Ten, chairman of the NCAA's legislative committee, conferred with Rozelle for two and a half hours Friday night.

The conference came about because of incensed collegiate feelings about the signings of several college players recently before their collegiate eligibility had expired. The NCAA convention, at which action could be taken about the situation, opens Sunday.

"We hope to accomplish something at this convention," Corbett said. "I think we can settle it without federal legislation. We're hopeful of developing a policy which we can negotiate with the professional leagues."

Other members of the committee, football coaches Len Casanova of Oregon and Dave Nelson of Delaware, will meet with Corbett, three conference commissioners, Reed, Bernie Moore of the Southeastern Conference, and Howard Grubbs of the Southwest, and NCAA executive director Walter Byers. It will be the first meeting of the committee.

Warrionettes Win Third, Tribe Cops Consolation

By MIKE MCHONE
News Sports Correspondent

DARROUZETT — The Miami Warrionettes came back yesterday to win third place in the Golden Spread Basketball Tournament with a 45-24 win over Fort Supply. Fort Supply, defending Oklahoma state champs, won boys third place honors over Darrouzett, 62-11.

Port girls were favored in last night's finals against Darrouzett, while the Longhorn boys were the choice over Booker.

Fort Supply put up a battle trailing only 9-6 at the quarter and 19-12 at the half, until Patches Dodson scored 10 points and Connie Ratliff five to give the Warrionettes a 37-18 margin. Patches finished with 26 points, Connie had nine. Barbara Burgess had 16 for the losers.

The Warriors bounced back from Thursday's opening to down Port Friday, 30-24 and then won consolation honors yesterday as Dave Bowers scored with five seconds left to give the Tribe a 36-34 win over Balko.

Stubborn Balko trailed throughout the game but rallied behind Bill Gee to almost pull it out before Bowers' fourth-quarter heroics.

With Big Ray Guerrero manning the boards and Bowers hitting from outside, Miami took a 9-7 quarter lead, but upped it to 16-11 at the half. Balko closed the gap to 24-22 going into the final frame and — on — poured eight points through the hoop, tying the score before Bowers' short jump shot for the money.

Guerrero had 16 points, Bowers 14.

Port, with one of the best girls teams in the country, seems to have neglected their boys, who were over in the Friday contest. Miami took 9-3, 19-5, 33-12 quarter leads. Gary Lister led the scoring with 12 markers.

The Miami Warrionettes played one of the best games of their careers Friday night, outlasted the best team in Oklahoma, Port, 46-42. Miami trailed throughout, 7, 26-15, 36-24 as Port hit with uncanny accuracy from the floor and the foul line, making 20 of 22 charity throws. Port's defense was tremendous, holding Patches Dodson to 21 points while Judy Cluck made 27 and Lynne King 16.

In Saturday's girls consolation, Booker girls defeated Beaver 51-40.

Both Mobette teams were outclassed, going down in Friday's second round. The Hornets dropped a 57-29 tussle to Balko and the Hornettes were stung by Booker, 55-22.

Balko struck for a 17-5 quarter lead and went on to 36-19 and 47-22 stops. Bill Naylor had 12 for the winners, Eddie Kay Hodges 10 for Mobette.

Booker girls won their way to consolation as they led all the way, 15-9, 31-18, 46-24. Linda Holdeman had 15 points for Booker, Judy Bailey 13 for Mobette.

Other Friday results had Darrouzett over Fort Supply, 74-66; Beaver girls over Balko, 50-24; Booker over Darrouzett, 85-73.

TEXAS OUTDOORS

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
UPI Outdoor Writer

The Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas (SCOT) approach their ninth annual meeting next weekend fat and happy, with plans for steady growth in membership and increased conservation activities around the state.

"I think it looks real good," said SCOT secretary Cecil Reid, evaluating the prospects for 1965 in terms of SCOT's goals and projects.

The organization meets Jan. 16 at the Driskill Hotel in Austin to elect officers for the new year and hear reports on operation orphans, operation white-tail East Texas and operation deer-hunt projects closest to Reid's heart.

Main speaker for the meeting will be Dr. Laurence McHugh, assistant director of the bureau of commercial fisheries in charge of biological research. Others on the program include Eugene Walker, state wildlife director; Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, speaking on boat safety; and game warden Gene Ashby of Austin, head of the "Operation Orphans" hunting project.

J. E. Sturrock, general manager of the Texas Water Conservation Association, will speak on the state's water situation—in terms of shortages and pollution, Reid said.

Henry LeBlanc Sr. of Port Arthur, a well-to-do industrialist who spends most of his time and much of his money on SCOT projects, is expected to run for re-election as president of the organization.

Reid says he expects 200 members to attend the meeting representing 112 SCOT clubs from all parts of the state.

"We will have a very fine and interesting program," he said. Reid predicted the setting up of a committee to study and recommend action to improve the state's water pollution control.

Gov. John Connally and other dignitaries are expected to drop in on the meeting.

Nebraska Pays

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—The University of Nebraska showed how it feels about the possible loss of Bob Devaney Saturday when it rewarded the widely-sought football coach with a six-year contract containing a $1,000 pay raise.

The salary boosts for Devaney and his staff voted by the school's board of regents were a move to protect Nebraska's interest in Devaney, one of the nation's most successful football coaches.

Johnnies Win

The Lee 8th grade Johnny Rebs romped to a 38-16 decision over Phillips Friday. Louis Brantley had 14 points and Calvin West nine to lead the scoring. The Johnnies play Pampa Junior High next Friday.

Jets Get Huarte For 200 Grand

NEW YORK (UPI) — Notre Dame's John Huarte ($200,000) signed Saturday to battle Alabama's Joe Namath ($400,000) for the No. 1 quarterback job with the 1965 New York Jets of the American Football League.

As in the case of Namath, Jets' president David (Sonny) Werblin declined to reveal what Huarte cost him but it was believed the 21-year-old Heisman Trophy winner signed a contract for three years with eventual benefits of about $200,000 possibly spread over a longer term.

Huarte, who set nine Notre Dame passing records and tied another as the Irish rode back to prominence with a 9-1 record last season, was the second draft choice of the Jets—behind Namath. He was drafted sixth by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League who are coached by his one-time Notre Dame mentor, Joe Kuharich.

"The Eagles made a quite comparable offer," Huarte admitted. "But the money was just one of the factors. I want to go on to graduate school in business administration and two of the best for my purposes — Columbia and New York U. — are right here."

"Furthermore, I wanted to go with a young club presenting plenty of opportunity."

Huarte, who ranked third in the nation in total offense with 2,069 yards and was 11th in passing with 114 completions in 205 attempts for 16 touchdowns, was the third collegian signed by the Jets for a reported six-figure contract. The other, Princeton fullback Cosmo Iacovazzi, settled for an estimated $100,000.

As for Namath, who signed for an estimated $400,000 over three years, the side-armed Notre Dame passer said, "I have a lot of respect for him but football is competition — as life is competition — and I seem to thrive on it."

"That about ends our acquisition of quarterbacks," said Werblin, whose free-wheeling has rocked the fiscal procedures of clubs in both pro leagues.

"But in the next breath, he added, "If Archie Roberts plays pro football it will be for us."

WANTED MEN-WOMEN

from ages 18 to 35. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings in this area during the next 18 months.

Government positions pay as high as $44,000 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement.

Many positions require little or no specialized educational or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Keep Trust In Dentist

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Parents are the big reason why most children dislike going to the dentist.

That is the firm belief of Dr. Bernard Rabinowitch, who told a panel of dentists "the biggest hazard of being a child's dentist is parents."

"When a parent walks into your office and tells the child, 'he won't hurt you' — brother, you're half dead."

Dr. Rabinowitch, who has a practice in Beverly Hills, Calif., said that children will learn to trust their dentist and can develop an early, comfortable relationship with him if parents will just keep their opinions to themselves.

"They should learn to trust the dentist as a friend and I will look forward to their visits to his office and his painless equipment," Dr. Rabinowitch explained. "They should be started early, preferably under five years of age."

He said that 90 per cent of the nation's children under five years of age have never visited a dentist, and only 50 per cent of those under 15 know what a dentist's office looks like.

Explanation Is Given Of LBJ's Health Plan

By GEORGE J. MARDER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you're 65 or over on July 1, 1966, and you become sick enough to need hospital treatment or a nurse, Uncle Sam would pick up part of the bill under the administration's health care for the elderly program.

This federal aid would be available whether you're rich or poor or somewhere in between, whether you're working or retired, whether you're under Social Security or not. There would be no means test and you would not be required to tell anyone how well or poorly off you are.

But the person who has to go to a hospital would have to figure on paying the first day's bill, or something close to it. The administration proposal contains a deductible factor before the insurance begins to pay off.

This deductible would be set at one day's national average cost of hospitalization. At present, this figure would be about $40, but the sum might be different by the time the program goes into effect.

No Medical, Surgical After that the government would pay hospital bills up to a maximum of 60 days. It would not, however, pay for any medical or surgical expenses; these would have to be covered by private insurance.

In addition to hospitalization, there are these three fringe benefits: —The government will pay for 30 days of outpatient service. But again, this begins after the deductible factor. On outpatient service, the deductible would be half the amount of the cost of hospitalization — at current cost levels, about $20. —The program would pay for visiting nurse or other health worker, but not a doctor. This would include 240 such home visits a year.

—If, after hospitalization a patient required treatment at a medical facility which has an arrangement with a hospital to continue the care, that also would be paid for up to 60 days. This is called post-hospital extended care. It would not go into effect until Jan. 1, 1967, however.

Who Pays? Besides the question of who gets what, there's the question of who pays for the proposed new services. The answer is that — just about everyone pays, but only those 65 and over collect.

The administration's program would be under Social Security, although maintained in a separate fund. A special Social Security hospitalization tax would be imposed, starting at 0.3 per cent of earnings and increasing 0.45 per cent thereafter. The tax would be imposed on earnings up to $5,600 a year and would be matched by employers.

When the plan reaches its peak in 1969, a person under Social Security earning $5,600 a year would pay $25.10 a year into the hospital insurance fund. Even if more were earned the same amount would be paid in; if less, there would be less paid in.

For those elderly persons not under Social Security but eligible for the hospital insurance benefits, the federal government would pick up the tab. The bookkeeping arrangement would work this way:

The Social Security hospitalization fund would pay the costs of those over 65 collecting from the program but not covered by the Social Security retirement system. Then, each year Congress would appropriate money from the general Treasury to repay the fund.

In other words, all taxpayers would subsidize the 2 million oldsters who would come under the plan but who would not be under Social Security. In 1966, the cost of that subsidy from the general Treasury is expected to be $10 million. In 1967 it would be $45 million. It would be expected to level off and decrease as more people come under Social Security.

But the subsidy is only a small fraction of the program. The remainder of it is pay-as-you-go on the basis of the new Social Security taxes.

Won't Go Broke In the first year of operation, the new hospitalization fund would be expected to take in $1.3 billion but pay out only about $900 million. In the second year, 1967, it would take in almost $2 billion and pay out $1.75 billion.

The first synthetic rubies were made in 1895.

A Time to Lean on Your Dependents And Save $$

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Problem: Your daughter, whose total support you furnished all year long marries on New Year's Eve. Can you claim her as a $600 dependency credit on your tax return.

Answer: Pop, you may be stuck. Since your daughter and her husband were married on the last day of the year they are treated by the tax collector as if they had been married all year long. This means she may file a joint return with her new husband or be listed as an exemption on his return. Should the newly married couple file in either of the two ways you may not list her as a dependent on your return.

The remedy: Make a deal with your son-in-law. It's perfectly legal. Assuming that your income is higher than your son-in-law's and therefore your tax rate higher, suggest that he file as if he were unmarried. In that way you can list your daughter as your dependent. Your savings on this $600 credit, will vary from $66 to $462, depending on whether you are in the 16 percent or 77 percent tax bracket. Offer to share your savings with him.

Two other questions concerning dependency occur almost as frequently. This is the first: "My son graduated from college last June. I paid all his expenses until graduation — tuition, clothes, housing, medical and dental care, spending money. After graduation he started to work and earned $1,500 thru the end of the year. Can I claim him as a dependent? Can I at least get credit for that first six months?"

Answer: You either get full credit or none at all. There is no such thing as getting a dependency credit for part of the year. Since your child qualified as a student by having attended college full time for at least five months of the year he may earn more than $600 and you may still claim him as a dependent PROVIDING you furnished the chief support.

Now how do you determine just who furnished the chief support? This is the time for work with a pencil and paper. Put a line through the middle of your sheet of paper running from top to bottom. On one side enter the expense of your contributions to his support. On the other side enter his $1,500 plus any other earnings he may have had for the year.

Your contributions will have to exceed his before he can be claimed. Start with the cost of his tuition, if any, then add room and board for the six months, clothing purchases, spending money, transportation expenses, items of expense in his behalf. If your total is greater than his, you claim him on your return. If they are not you are out of luck.

The other frequently asked dependency question goes like this:

"My mother lives in my home. She has no income other than her Social Security checks which amounted to $720 last year. She paid me no board. May I claim her as a dependent?"

Answer: Ordinarily anyone who has more than $600 gross income may not be listed as a dependent. (The exceptions are students and your children under 19.) It is true that Social Security is not considered a part of gross income but it is still spendable income.

Therefore the question revolves around who furnished chief support. Proceed as in the problem above and record the cost of support contributed by each. If your total is greater than your mother's $720 you may claim her as a dependent.

Question: How is the tax situation affected by a birth or death during the year?

Answer: A child born any time during the year — even on Dec. 31 — entitles the supporting parents to a full year's $600 dependency credit. In the case of death the controlling factor is the status at the time of death. If the deceased person was a qualified dependent of the taxpayer until his death, the taxpayer may claim a full year's credit. Similarly, if a husband or wife dies during the year the surviving spouse may file a joint return and claim a full year's exemption credit for the deceased partner.

One final hint: A wife is never considered a dependent for income tax purposes even though she may have had no income. As a spouse she qualified the taxpayer to the same $600 credit but in many other ways a spouse is given different tax treatment than a dependent.

For example, a dependent need not file a return until his gross income is $600 or more. A spouse will pay an income tax on her first dollar of income, whether it be on her own separate return or included with her husband's income on a joint return.

NEXT: The Rewards of the Generous Soul.

NEW DEAL — When a girl marries, it may be time for a tax deal with a son-in-law.

Former Salad Oil King May Change Court Plea

NEWARK, N.J.: Bankrupt salad oil king Anthony De Angelis may change his plea to guilty on charges relating to a $140 million fraud which rocked Wall Street.

The former commodities financier was scheduled to appear before U.S. District Court Judge Reynier J. Wortendyke Jr. U.S. Atty. David Satz said De Angelis' name was on the "retract list," which means he wishes to change a plea or offer other motions relating to it.

WASHINGTON: Treasury officials are not worried about France's intention of redeeming $150 million in dollars she holds for U.S. gold. Officials indicated they felt the move was a bookkeeping "adjustment" rather than the opening of a Gaullist attack on the U.S. dollar. They admitted however, that the gold problem likely would worsen in the next year or so.

NEW YORK: The Georgia-Pacific Corp., a big plywood manufacturer, plans to absorb the Bestwell Gypsum Co. in a transaction that would involve about $93 million. Although directors of both companies have approved the merger in principle a final decision to proceed with the merger is not expected until late next month.

WASHINGTON: Legislation was introduced to authorize the loan of 100,000 short tons of copper from the national stockpile to primary copper producers for a maximum of one year. The move is aimed at helping stabilize copper prices and to meet a current shortage of the metal.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomson & McKinnon suggests investors avoid new purchases of stocks whose prices are high in relation to earnings and especially those which in 1964 seemed to be over-estimating their "visible growth potentials."

The advisory letters adds "strong cyclical groups and issues presumably will also involve greater risks in the new year."

Tessel, Patric, Inc. comments that right now it is "bullish and we expect at least four to six more weeks of generally advancing stock prices." The brokerage firm adds that both technical and psychological indicators "should give us due warning in time to take profits."

Bache & Co. comments that the numerous uncertainties overhanging the stock market likely will produce a see-saw pattern over the months ahead. Bache said it anticipates a market of individual stock performances rather than any definite trend in the overall list.

Johnson, Mills Friends Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., appeared close Saturday to settling their differences and working out a formula for early enactment of a hospital care program for the nation's elderly.

Mills is chairman of the powerful House Ways & Means Committee which must pass on the legislation. He was instrumental last session in killing Johnson's proposal for hospital care financed under Social Security. He fears that adding the program to present Social Security benefits would bankrupt the system.

President, Russian Visit May Be in Works

MOSCOW (UPI) — U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler returned from Washington Saturday and said he wouldn't be surprised if President Johnson met with Soviet leaders "before too long."

He told reporters at Moscow's International Airport he was not carrying a formal invitation from the President to the Kremlin.

There were 500 horse-drawn transit lines in 300 cities in this nation in 1880.

Market May Be Inclined to Move Cautiously Until LBJ's Economic Program Is Evaluated

NEW YORK (UPI) — Goodbody & Co. says the market may be inclined to move cautiously until investors can evaluate in greater detail President Johnson's economic program for 1965.

However, the firm says the market even now seems to be preparing for more moderate gains in consumer spending and in general business activity this year, as well as for the possibility of greater pressure on profit margins.

TO VISIT U.S. — Minister of State for Foreign Affairs George Thomson will fly to the United States Sunday for a week of talks with United Nations and American officials, the Foreign Office announced.

Analyst Elliot Janeway says Wall Street does not understand the complications involved in the sterling crisis or the gold bubble. Janeway says it wants to know whether a storm is coming or has passed and, he believes, the record investment reserve which has been holding back and waiting to catch the market at its low will miss the next upturn.

Bache & Co. says that despite the broadness of the recent upswing it would prefer to continue to adhere to a policy of cautious and selective investment at this time.

The early Spaniards called platinum "unripe" gold and valued it less than the pure yellow gold, using it to adulterate the latter. There is a tradition in the Shenandoah Valley that only co used blowpipes as weapons while the Indians of northern Mexico used bow and arrows.

Pampa Women Choose Distinctive Hairstyles That Flatter Individual Facial Features

When it comes to pretty and varied hairstyles, it's hard to 'top' Top O' Texas women. Pampa's women not only choose hairstyles that are becoming to their facial features, but ones that are easily kept, and are adaptable to all occasions.

Pictured are seven local women wearing hairstyles that fit this description.

PILLBOX — Mrs. Sam Anderson, 2122 Hamilton, selects a pillbox hairstyle on her dark locks, top left photo. She likes this hairstyle, which has upswept sides and back topped by a high, smooth pillbox, because it requires little care from week to week and remains neat, even in the Panhandle wind.

swinging casual hairstyle with fluffed sides and back. Dip waves form a bang-effect to complete this becoming hairstyle.

SOFT CURLS — A blending of soft curls styled on the blissfully blonde tresses of Mrs. H. C. Cambern, 1601 N. Faulkner, top right photo, forms this exciting hairstyle. Flowing wide, soft waves form the sides and back of her hairstyle, which looks lovely both for everyday wear and festive occasions.

HONEY BUN — Dark auburn tresses combined with up-swept lines fashion the hairstyle of Mrs. Cletus Mitchell, 526 N. Gray, center left photo. The upswept sides and back of Mrs. Mitchell's hair flow into a honey bun back. Deep front waves sweep into a side bang.

ANGEL BUN — Teaching Ninth Grade History at Pampa Junior High School keeps Mrs. Bob Parks, 1707 Evergreen, lower left photo, busy, so she likes this easily kept hairstyle on her medium auburn hair. Sides and back hair are swept upward with the top of the hair fashioned into an angel bun.

FRILL BOB — Getting set to swing into spring with a casual, flattering hairstyle is Mrs. Earl Mattes, 2508 Christine, lower center photo. Mrs. Mattes' frosty platinum beige hair is styled with easily kept ruffled back and sides and a frilly forward pouf.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

THE COMING of a new year is reminiscent of birthdays and when it's birthday anniversary time for adults at the E. C. Sidwells, 1901 Charles St., you'll find a number of youngsters joining in the festivities. Last Sunday when the ex-mayor had a birthday, seven grandchildren were among the guests. They were the three children of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sidwell and the double set of twins of the Hobart Fatherses. In fact, four generations were represented with the presence of Mrs. C. E. Sidwell, the honoree's mother. Another happy birthday being marked is that of William B. (Uncle Billy) Frost, who is 102 today.

MATTIE AND W. A. Morgan and children, Cynthia, freshman at Arizona State University, Tempe, Ariz., and Douglas, have returned from a 10-day trip to Mexico City. The family made the trip to attend the wedding of Isabel Prieto Carles of Madrid, Spain and Carlos Prieto Jacque of Mexico City. The bride is the sister of Luisa Prieto Carles who lived in the Morgan home as an American Field Service Exchange Student during the 1962-63 school term. Her father is one of Spain's foremost architects, specializing in designing schools and churches and restoration of old forts, cathedrals and other Spanish landmarks for the Spanish government. The bridegroom is the son of Carlos and Cecile Prieto, who visited in the Morgan home three days when Luisa was graduated from Pampa High School. Mr. Prieto is president of Monterrey Steel and Iron Factory, chairman of the board of directors of the Bank of Mexico and is a member of the board of directors of Celanese Mexicano. The bride's entire family including her 85-year-old grandmother, flew over from Spain to attend the affair, which was one of the outstanding social events of the season in Mexico City. While there the Morgans visited the pyramids, Museum of Anthropology and Chapultepec Park and the castle of Maximilliano and Carlotta, emperor and empress of Mexico at the turn of the century.

FRANCIE AND WARREN Fatheree hosted a small but gala open house New Year's eve for a group of relatives and close friends. Francie served many unusual hors d'oeuvres from a beautifully decorated table. Among those seen welcoming the New Year were Gene Fatheree, Eleanor Braly, Claudia and Howard Greenlee, Betty and Jim Brown, Ann and Hobart Fatheree, Mary Beth and David Fatheree, Jeannene and Harold Cox, Ann and Jim Campbell, Anita and John Lee Bell, Joan and Jack Osborne and Nancy and Jack Imel accompanied by Nancy's father, Robert Beaver of Gentry, Ark. Stan Jones, cousin of Francie and Joan Osborne, who are sisters, impressed those present with his handsome appearance in a Marine dress uniform. Stan, who is stationed at Atlanta, Ga., is the son of Mrs. Thomas Jones of Amarillo. Bob and Marty Price were seen at Coronado Inn's Pampa Club celebrating their wedding anniversary by entertaining a group of friends. Jean (Mrs. Bill) Roots is known for her many abilities and have just learned that another, the ability to pack quickly, can be added to the list. Seems husband Bill gave Jean a one-night notice that the Roots family, which includes daughters Kathryn and Christine could journey to Akron, Ohio to spend Christmas with Jean's parents, the A. F. Repps. Needless to say Jean was ready to travel on time as this was the second time in 12 years she had been able to spend Christmas with her parents.

JOHN LEE BELL was installed as president of Pampa Real Estate Board last night at a dinner party for board members and guests in Coronado Inn. Serving as installing officer was Genevieve (Mrs. Willard) Henderson, a past-president of the board. Other officers installed were Henry Gruben, first vice president; Hugh Peoples, second vice president; Virginia (Mrs. Bob) Ratliff, secretary; Pat (Mrs. Jim) Dailey, treasurer, and directors out-going president Joe Fischer, Quentin Williams, Yvonne (Mrs. Jack) Stroup and H. W. Waters. Seems Amarillo boys like Pampa girls. Thera Warner-Scott, daughter of the Eben Warners, and Maynette Loftus, daughter of Azelle Loftus, will soon become sisters-in-law when Maynette becomes the bride of Bill Scott of Amarillo, brother of Thera's husband, Tabor Scott. Thera and Tabor live in Amarillo and Maynette and Bill plan to make their home there.

Bobby and Joe Reid and children Lisa, Joey, Taylor and Leslie, have returned from Houston where they spent Christmas with Bobby's parents the Robert H. Rays. While there Bobby kept sharp lookout for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who were also in the city where the Duke was undergoing medical treatment, but failed to get even a slight glimpse of the celebrated couple. Marilyn and Paul Brown Jr. were seen attending church last Sunday with Marilyn's parents, Loraine and Elmer Fite. The Fite's son, John, also was home from Chandler, Ariz. John plans to enter Arizona State University at mid-term. Marilyn and Paul make their home in Lindsey, Okla., where Paul is supervising engineer of B&J Well Servicing Co. While here they also visited Nan and Paul Brown Sr., the other set of parents. Susan and J. P. Brantley of Weatherford spent the holidays with Susan's parents, Ann and Roy Kay. J. P. is music director at Weatherford Junior College and Susan is attending TCU working toward her master's degree. Heidi Schneider Rupp and husband, David, of Denver, Colo. spent the holidays with Chris and Bill Campaigne. Margaret and Roy Wells are in Connecticut visiting daughter, Betty, and son-in-law, Dr. Charles Sisk and children. Mrs. Ruth Spearman has gone to Dallas for an extended visit with daughter, Nina, who is employed there.

JUNIOR SERVICE LEAGUE'S new members will start the league's Provisional Training Course tomorrow morning. Taking part in the course will be Janice (Mrs. Richard) Hankins; Lydia (Mrs. John) Horn; Jo (Mrs. Fred) Stockdale; Eleanor (Mrs. Clifford) Braly; Frances (Mrs. LeRoy) Ogden; Jean (Mrs. Roscoe) Elmore; Nancy (Mrs. Gene) Imel; Johnnie (Mrs. Joe) Donaldson; Marty (Mrs. Bob) Price; Jean (Mrs. Bill) Power; Lysle (Mrs. Jim) Baldrige; Joy (Mrs. Joe) Cree; Sheila Chisholm; Judy Neslage; Barbara (Mrs. Jim) Alexander; Nelda (Mrs. Bob) Lincecum; Billie Don (Mrs. Vernon) Watkins and Judy (Mrs. John) Warner; Greta (Mrs. Bill) Arrington, league vice president, has planned the training course which will include a tour of Lovett Memorial Library followed by a panel discussion on cultural growth of the city, attending a city commission meeting, a tour of City Hall and the Court House, a meeting with Rev. Carson Snow, minister of the Nazarene Church and president of the Ministerial Alliance and Rev. Don Hauck pastor of First Presbyterian Church, a tour of the Negro Day Nursery, a visit to the Salvation Army and a tour of Highland General Hospital. They will also hear discussions in community health, growth and development of business and industry Pampa's recreational program and the public school system. League members certainly should be well-informed about things of importance in our town. Mrs. Kenneth (Ruby) Royce, Mrs. W. T. (Katherine) Fain, Mrs. E. A. Bobbye) McLennan, Mrs. Melvin (Lais) Watkins, Mrs. H. V. (Ava) Wilks, Mrs. Paul (Lanelle) Turner, Mrs. J. E. (Bessie) Lewis and Mrs. Ernest (Ernestine) Pulse are among the Pampans who will journey to Borger next Thursday evening to hear Mrs. L. L. Tisdar, a vice president of the state Congress of WTA, speak at Borger High School.

Katherine West and John Rayford Fowler Are United in Candlelight Episcopal Rites

Mrs. John Rayford Fowler
...nee Katherine West

The Right Reverend George H. Quarterman of Amarillo, Bishop of the Diocese of Northwest Texas, officiated in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church at the wedding ceremony of Miss Katherine West, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. West, 2109 Hamilton, and John Rayford Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Fowler of Seagraves. The double-ring service was held at 8 p.m., Dec. 31.

Mrs. J. S. Skelly, organist, gave an organ recital before the service. She played these selections: "Vivace, Allegro and Pastorale," by Corelli; "I Call to Thee Lord Jesus Christ," by Bach; "Largo," by Handel, and "Arioso," by Bacu. She accompanied James Dailey who sang "O Perfect Love," by Barnby. For the processional she chose "Trumpet Voluntary," by Purcell. The recessional was "Psalm XIX," by Marceio.

The church was decorated for the Christmas season with ropes of evergreen and appointed for the wedding with large urns on either side of the altar filled with white chrysanthemums. Spiral candelabra entwined with lemon leaves flanked the urns and repeated the steady glow of the altar candles.

Miss Sarah Fowler, a sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Miss Patty West, sister of the bride, was bride's maid. They wore identical street-length dresses of blue-peau-de-soie with a draped collar and flowing three-quarter length sleeves of matching chiffon. Their hats were tiny veiled pill boxes of blue-peau-de-soie. They carried shower bouquets of blue and white flowers.

Robert Wood of Seagraves was best man and Bill Archibald of Abilene was groomsman. Timothy West, brother of the bride, and Larry Cook, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, were ushers. Calvin West, also brother of the bride, was crucifer and carried the cross preceding the bridal party both in the processional and the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin fashioned with a low rounded neckline. Embroidered lace sprays of flowers were applied down the front panel of the dress from the throat to the hem line. The skirt, smooth in front, was deeply pleated to give sweeping back fullness for the chapel-length train. Long, slender sleeves were pinned to points over the hands. The bride wore a single strand of matched pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white prayer book which had been carried by her mother at her wedding, and a shower bouquet of gardenias and chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue shantung with black accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a rose colored crepe dress with a hat of deeper rose. Both mothers wore corsages of white chrysanthemums.

A reception was held in the Parish Hall immediately after the ceremony. Members of the house party for the reception were Miss Barbara McLain, cousin of the bride, Miss Sherry Hix of Abilene, Miss Mary Lou Copeland, Mmes. Bill Treloggen, Horace Watkins, Jack Curtis, Bill Taylor, Bob Fugate, Howard Johnson, Bill Ragsdale, Paul Hinton, Jay Meador and James Hart.

The couple will live in Abilene, where the bridegroom is enrolled as a senior in chemistry at McMurry College. The bride will be enrolled second semester as a sophomore at McMurry.

Out of town guests at the wedding included the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McLain of Kansas City, Kan. Other out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McLain, Tom and Barbara, Kansas City, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. West, Tom and Richard, Shields, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Walker, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Olin Salsbury, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cook, Canyon; Miss Sarah Fowler, Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gunderson, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Bright, Kevin and Patty, Ulysses, Kan.; The Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Tobin, Borger and Messrs. David Miller, James Moss Jr., Frank Stephenson, James Dennis and Charles Sanders, Abilene.

Why Primping for Party Takes Time

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The husband who impatiently waits while his wife primps for an evening party should be pleased, not poutish. She truly needs more time to make - up for evening. Here's why:

Lighting varies from place to place and nighttime make - up should be a bit heavier than what you wear during the day. This is a good time to use extra make - up to play up special features or camouflage imperfect ones.

Start with a clean face and smooth on a moisturizer. This furnishes needed moisture for the skin and is a good base.

Your foundation for after dark should be light and softly rosy. The cool tones fade out under artificial lights. However, smooth this on so there is no evident break between your chin line and your neck. Whisk away the excess with cotton swabs and be sure to clean the hairline.

This is a good time to play up your eyes. Try a dab of white smoothed across the eyebrow, just under the brow. With this use silver blue eye shadow and silvered green or gold - flecked beige across the eyelid. With the tip of a cotton swab, blend the two shadows so there is no line of demarcation.

If you are in a real fun mood, try a few flecks of gold or silver glitter brushed into your eyebrows. Nighttime also lends itself to false eyeashes. Press these in place and brush them with mascara for added depth.

Artificial lighting also plays a part in your selection of lipstick shades. Keep them warm. The lights tend to fade blue - reds and blue pinks and give you a ghoulish pallor. If you are a television monster fan,

Mrs. Cary Hosts Garden Club Meet

Mrs. Fred Cary was hostess to Pampa Garden Club in her home at 1922 Fir recently. Mrs. C. C. Matheny assisted with hostess duties.

Mrs. Milo Carlson, president, opened the meeting and Mrs. V. N. Osborne led the Club Collect.

Mrs. Carlson reported that the club would serve as host to the Northern District meeting to be held next fall and that a monetary donation, to be used for the beautification of Pampa, was received from E. C. Sidwell. A thank you card was read from Mrs. Charles Barton, honorary member of the club.

Mrs. Floyd Watson gave the Iris Tips for January and Mrs. Ira Carlton gave the Garden Tips.

The program, "Greenhouse Gardening," was presented by Mrs. Carlton who pointed out that greenhouses should be built where they will receive the most sun. The speaker stated "Greenhouse gardening is not only a wonderful hobby but also a good therapy hobby for the handicapped."

Members attending were Mrs. Burt Robinson, C. C. Matheny, W. E. Hinton, Tom Price, H. H. Boynton, Lee Harrah, Wilby Parrish, Floyd Watson, Joe Weaver, Joe Shelton, Milo Carlson, Myron Dorman, Ira Carlton, Lee Moore, Honey Hart, Owen Gee, W. R. Campbell, Harry Vanderpool, V. N. Osborne, Bob Miller, Jimmy McCune, Carlos Grisson, A. J. Mitchell and Fred Cary.

The group will meet next at 9:15 a.m. Jan. 18 in the home of Mrs. John Sweeny, 916 Christine.

this may be "your look." Otherwise stick to clear reds, corals and pinks. Top these with a coat of colorless pomade for more staying power.

Granddaughter of Pampans Is Married In Amarillo Methodist Church Chapel

Mrs. Jeffrey Niles Warner
... nee Susan Duket

Polk Street Methodist Church candelabra appointed the wedding scene. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Duket of Amarillo and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Lively Sr., 521 E. 18th., and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Duket, 504 N. Wells. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Niles Warner of Wichita Falls. Miss Mary Ruth McCulley, organist, presented traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Bob Davis, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street - length two - piece suit of white brocade complemented by a white satin pillbox coif with a short illusion veil. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Deborah Ann Duket, who was dressed in a street - length costume fashioned of green mohair accented by matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Larry Best of Amarillo served as best man to the bridegroom and Clay Lively, cousin of the bride, attended as usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parlor of Polk Street Methodist Church. Miss Janis Lively, cousin of the bride, was a member of the house party and presided at the reception table.

For a wedding trip which included points of interest in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride traveled in a paisley wool dress, suede coat with mink collar and matching mink pillbox hat. Upon their return the couple will make their home at 2703 - B Westhaven Circle, Amarillo.

The bride is attending West Texas State University, Canyon, and the bridegroom is attending Amarillo College. He is employed by Skagg's Drug Center, Amarillo.

Pampa guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Lively Sr., Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Lively Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Don Marler, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Evans, Mrs. Roberta Wood, Mrs. Byron Speck and Mrs. Richard James.

Treble Clef Club Members Present Ensemble Program

Treble Clef Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Fidelia Yoder for the club's annual Piano Ensemble program. Hostesses were Mrs. Bruce Riehart, Mrs. LeRoy Thornburg, Mrs. Joe Rogers and Miss Juanita Haynes of Miami.

Mrs. Yoder conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Rosemary Lawlor.

Discussion of the Hymn of the Month, "From Glory Unto Glory," was led by Mrs. Mack Hitt Jr.

Performing on the program were Mrs. Yoder and Mrs. Lois Fagan playing "La Danga" by Russell and "Spanish Folk-Dance" by Jowe; Miss Eloise Lane and Mrs. W. L. Hall-

Flower Pot Heaven
Bringing beauty into your home can be a problem as well as a delight. Finding a proper place for geraniums and other flowers is a perennial headache because of the inevitable accidents that occur in watering and handling the plants. Best way to solve the problem once and for all is to surface your window sills with durable, easy-to-clean ceramic tile. You will not only have a safe place for your plants, but with ceramic tile sills you will have additional year-round beauty to enjoy.

PRESENTED AT THE BALL — Presented at Sub Deb Club's annual Presentation Ball, which had a theme of "Three Coins in the Fountain," are pledges Misses Pam McLeod, Linda Steger, Chelia Askt, Dana Dalton and Sally Prince, shown left to right. Following the presentation, members and guests enjoyed an evening of dancing in Coronado Inn's Starlight Room.

Seventeen pledges of Sub Deb Club were presented Saturday evening at the club's annual Presentation Ball held in Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

Miss Marika Lang, daughter of Dr. Carl M. Lang, 2220 Aspen, acted as mistress of ceremonies and introduced each pledge with an appropriate verse.

A theme of "Three Coins in the Fountain" was carried out in decorations and musical score. Pampa High School Dance Band played the theme song as pledges were met at the stage by their escorts who presented them with a White Bible and a white parasol.

Pledges were presented beneath an archway entwined with red roses and greenery. Completing the terrace garden setting was a four-tiered fountain and wrought iron benches.

Miss Mary Ledrick, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Mae Ledrick, 121 N. Wynne, and H. L. Ledrick, north of the city, was named as Best Sub Deb Pledge and presented with a dozen, long-stemmed red roses.

Following the presentation and naming of best pledge Miss Suzy Benton sang the theme song.

Presented at the ball were the following pledges, their parents and escorts: Miss Anne Jamieson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Jamieson, 2220 Dogwood, escorted by Gary Crossland; Miss Judy Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lyons, 1104 Cinderella, escorted by Kenneth McWilliams; Miss Kay Bohlander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bohlander, 2512 Christine, escorted by Leon Waters; Miss Jan Crowover, daughter of Mrs. Betty Crowover, 1236 Farley, escorted by Gary Butler; Miss Ann Gage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Gage, 1016 E. Gordon, escorted by Larry Farries; Miss Pat Dalton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Dalton, 1024 N. Christy, escorted by Gary Steger; Miss Mary Ledrick, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Mae Ledrick, 121 N. Wynne, escorted by Charles Snuggs; Miss Betsey Goodwyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Goodwyn, 1714 Dogwood, escorted by Doug Altom; Miss Debra Dorsett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Dorsett, 2321 Rosewood, escorted by Geary Smith; Miss Paula Woodall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Woodall, 1602 Mary Ellen, escorted by Kenneth Johnson; Miss Marilyn Milliron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Milliron, 933 Terry Rd., escorted by Kyle Vann; Miss Pam McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McLeod, 620 N. Nelson, escorted by Wendell Harper; Miss Linda Steger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Steger, 2312 Navajo Rd., escorted by Mike Osborne; Miss Cherie Askt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Askt, 1032 Duncan, escorted by Richard Fatheree; Miss Dana Dalton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dalton, 1011 Christine, escorted by Mike Wise; Miss Sally Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Price, 1114 N. Somerville, escorted by Roy Word, and Miss Carolyn Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wilson, 1221 Williston, escorted by David Smith.

BEST PLEDGE — Mary Ledrick, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Mae Ledrick, 121 N. Wynne, and H. L. Ledrick, north of the city, was named Best Pledge by Sub Deb Club. Miss Ledrick was escorted to the Presentation Ball of the club, held Saturday night in Coronado Inn's Starlight Room, by Charles Snuggs, who presented her with a dozen long-stemmed red roses.

Members and guests enjoyed an evening of dancing to the dreamy music of the PHS Dance Band in the Starlight Room following the ceremonies.

Concluding the gay festivities was a breakfast given for members by Miss Francis Holl, Sub Deb Club president, in her home at 2010 Charles.

The home of Mrs. Gene Barber at 1807 N. Sumner was the meeting place for Twentieth Century Cotillion Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Weldon Adair, vice president, presided and the club collect was led by Mrs. Jack White. A new member, Mrs. John Spearman, was welcomed by the club.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Barber presented a program on "Expressionism in Literature." The speaker explained that expressionism became a definitely recognized manner of literature during the second decade of the 20th Century, and Germany took the lead in this phase of literature.

Mrs. Barber said "Expressionism is first and foremost subjective. Instead of trying to communicate ideas, to give a direct significance to the life about him, the writer admits only importance to his inner responses made to the stimulus from without. The writer is an expressionist simply because he gives expression to his inner vision, his feelings, his emotions, his inner spirit and his intuition. His pen is subject to the dictation of his soul; he gives rein to his feelings and allows himself to be driven by his intuitions. Expressionism discards imitation. It sets for itself the purpose of presenting the abstract; it is fourth-dimensional; it is mystical.

"The reader finds difficulty in adjusting himself to this new manner since its concern is with internal qualities rather than external appearances. It appears distorted and strange to the reader. Life is presented with a new angle which is difficult to explain, like the portion of a stick which is immersed in water.

"Expressionistic writing leans heavily on psychoanalysis. Expressing ones inner self makes clear at once the part psychoanalysis plays in this new writing. Freud and Jung are the fathers of expressionism."

Mrs. Barber explained that since suggestion and implication are such a vital part of expressionistic writing, the author naturally relies largely on symbols. The speaker used James Joyce's "Ulysses" as a symbolic representation of man, a symbol enriched by its allusion to Homer and its implication that a man is the object of forces playing upon him from without.

The speaker said "In general, these writers seem to despair of life, society, government, industry, religion and man himself. All these are presented in a chaotic state. It is because of this disillusionment with the world about them that the expressionist would create for us a new world."

Mrs. Barber concluded by saying "The distortion of form, and diction, the personal psychology presented, the concern with the abstract — all these, though consciously sought for, are natural barriers between the writer and the average reader. However, for those who are attracted by expressionism, an enriching experience is in store. To them is opened up a new realm of thought and emotion, to them comes the revelation of a new beauty, the relation of a new kind of communication between human beings."

Refreshments were served during the social hour to members Mmes. Weldon Adair, Jack White, Tom Snow, John Spearman, James T. Brown, James W. Campbell, Harbord Cox, W. D. Price Jr., Ralph McKinney and Howard Greenlee.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — My blood-sugar test taken two hours after breakfast showed 156, but my urine test taken at the same time was negative for sugar. Does this indicate diabetes or not?

A — A blood-sugar test taken before breakfast should be 60 to 90 and two hours after breakfast it should not exceed 120. Since you had no sugar in your urine, and because 156 is not very much of an increase over the expected figure you are probably mildly diabetic. A glucose-tolerance test should be made to confirm this. Your diabetes, if that is what your tests show, should be fairly easy to control with a low-carbohydrate diet without the use of insulin or other drugs.

Q — I am 70 and have a cystocele. Would it be safe to have an operation at my age?

A — Although there is some risk attached to any operation on a person at any age, the chances of survival are constantly improving so that now many persons in their 80s can be successfully operated on. Since repair of your cystocele is not an emergency, it would be important to clear up any infection you may have before surgery.

Surgeons pay a great deal of attention these days to maintenance of your balance of fluids and minerals. This precaution has saved many lives. Immediately following the operation, they also keep a careful check to see that your blood pressure does not fall to shock level. This danger is minimized by avoiding prolonged operations in elderly persons. My advice, therefore, would be to place yourself in the hands of a skillful surgeon who has had experience in operating on persons who are older than 60.

When fashion oracles say "the natural look" is in, you can be pretty certain that the exaggerated makeup of a close-eyed Cleopatra is definitely out.

And that's how it is, girls, for the seasons ahead. We're all going to try for the natural look, the glow of clear, healthy skin, bright eyes, pink cheeks. However, if time (and nature) have dried your lovely skin, dimmed your eyes and maybe even faded those naturally rosy cheeks, all is not lost by a long shot.

In the first place, you can re-acquire a great complexion with a great all-purpose cleansing cream, a very special complexion conditioner, and a creamy powder base which blends perfectly with the color of your very own skin. And I just happen to know exactly the right ones for you.

Next step on the route to that natural glowing look is the oldest makeup trick in history — blush rouge, a soft gentle pink.

Use sparingly. Start at the cheekbone and blend smoothly under the eye from nose to temple and over your smile area. Smile, so you know the area I mean.

When you blend this creamy rouge to the very edge of the lower lid, you'll see a surprising thing — your eyes brighten. Your face gets a glowing look. Add face powder to set and soften your new look. For the finishing touches to your makeup, you're on your own. Or, write or telephone and ask me about a free hour of beauty.

School and You
 By SUSAN LIGHT
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: My daughter is an eighth grader and my son is a junior in high school. Several times I've wanted to go up to school to complain about their being treated unfairly by their teachers. But regardless of how they feel about any incident themselves, they won't even hear of my mixing into it. I always get the same clincher: "The teacher will only take it out on me afterward."

I've talked with other parents who are scared to death to question anything that goes on at the junior high or high school for fear of repercussions on their children. Are they a bunch of nambys — pambies? Or are they just playing it smart?

— WOULD BE COMPLAINER

ANSWER: I'm not sure. Yours is a common problem, one that almost every parent faces at one time or another. Unfortunately, there's no simple answer.

I wish I could honestly tell you that no teacher would even dream of "taking it out" on a child when a parent complains. Of course, any fair-minded teacher will lean over backward to avoid repercussions. But teachers are people and people aren't always fair — especially when under fire.

Parent-teacher conferences are accepted as necessary and helpful during the elementary years, but from junior high on, the attitude of both parents and teachers changes considerably. Parents of teen-agers tend to visit school only when they are dissatisfied, or even incensed, and teachers naturally resent the criticism and interference.

In high school, visiting parents are usually a source of embarrassment to their youngsters. Teen-agers feel they should fight their own battles, even if this only means retreating into their shells. Most teen-agers would rather put up with an unreasonable teacher than with a meddling parent.

Many teachers are parents of teen-agers themselves. As parents, they may complain to each other about what goes on at their children's respective schools, but they seldom do anything about it. They know better! They're waiting until their last child graduates to voice their criticisms.

I believe I'd play it safe and stay home. I'm inclined to think your children know best!

Mediterranean Style Shows Fast Growth

In every section of the country, especially the Southwest and the West, Mediterranean styled bedroom, dining room and occasional furniture scored the biggest sales gains between 1961 and 1964, according to a survey by a leading home furnishings trade publication.

The study, among selected furniture and department stores, also showed that Provincial, Contemporary and Colonial styles showed sharp gains in case goods. Sales decreases in traditional and Scandinavian styles were recorded for the same period.

The survey disclosed that American walnut, cherry, maple, mahogany and pecan were the leading woods.

While Mediterranean showed the greatest gains, the best-selling styles by volume were Colonial, Provincial and contemporary, in that order.

Rankings by group of the top three:

Bedroom — (1) Colonial; (2) French Provincial; (3) contemporary.

Calvary Baptist Circles Meet for Service Program

WMU Circles of Calvary Baptist held a Royal Service meeting Wednesday in the Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Jack Robertson conducted a short business meeting. Plans were discussed for the "Sign Language Study" to be held at the church. Forms were also made for the forthcoming "Sweetheart Banquet," to be held in February.

Those on the program, "Christ for the Cubans," were Mmes. Owen Long, Myrel Loop, Albert Phillips, Garyson, McGahn and Robertson.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. James Jennings, followed by a covered-dish Luncheon.

Pre-Nuptial Event Honors Bride-Elect

MCLEAN (Sp) — Miss Lynda Sue McCurley, bride-elect of Johnnie Helms, was honored recently with a miscellaneous bridal shower in the parlor of the McLean Methodist Church.

Miss McCurley's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in the decorations.

Miss Joan Flowers presided at the refreshment table which was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a blue and white floral arrangement.

Refreshments of mints, nuts, wedding cookies and golden punch were served to the guests.

Mrs. Charlie Vineyard presided at the registration table which held the bride's book and a blue taper in a silver candlestick.

A three-tiered candelabra holding three blue tapers was centered on the piano, and a white milk glass scales holding blue grapes with silver candlesticks holding blue tapers on the mantel completed the decorations.

Corsages were presented the guest of honor and her mother, Mrs. C. H. McCurley.

Hostesses were Mmes. Charlie Vineyard, Wheeler Carter, J. W. Meacham, Sinclair Armstrong, Lou Gething, Jim Rice, Earnest Beck, E. L. Watson, W. P. Flowers, Ted Shaller, Woody Wilkerson, Everett D'orsay, Jack Bailey, Miss Donna Sue Graham and Miss Joan Flowers.

Miss Margie Ruth Railsback Becomes Bride of Dale Lynn Garner in Amarillo

McLEAN (Sp) — Miss Margie Ruth Railsback and Dale Lynn Garner, Amarillo, were united recently in holy matrimony in the sanctuary of St. Paul Methodist Church, Amarillo.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Jefferson Railsback, McLean, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Dale Garner, Turkey.

Rev. Robert R. Sewell, associate minister, St. Paul Methodist Church, performed the candle-lit double-ring ceremony in front of an altar bearing an arrangement of white roses and greenery. Tall candles bearing white satin bows flanked the altar. A white satin-covered prie dieu completed the altar setting.

Mrs. R. E. Link, organist, Amarillo, presented pre-nuptial selections, the processional and recessional, and accompanied Dwight Elliott, soloist, Amarillo, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Master Hal Lynn Fuston, Turkey, was candlelighter.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Sharon Fuston, Turkey, wore a street-length dress of red chantilly lace over satin, featuring a Peter Pan collar, tiny-covered buttons and elbow-length sleeves. She wore a band of red velvet to which a nose-length veil of silk illusion was attached and carried two long-stemmed white roses.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white peau de soie. The bodice featured a round neckline, long sleeves that came to petal points over her hands, and a seed pearl encrusted panel of Venetian lace roses which led down the floor-length A-line skirt which fell into a cathedral-length train. A satin bow at the back waistline and appliques of Venetian lace roses accented the dress. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion accented with Venetian lace roses and a manilla scalloped lace border, fell from a tiny satin pillbox. She wore a strand of pearls and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses atop a white Rainbow Bible.

Jerry Chandler, Turkey, served as best man. Ushers were Jerry Frank Garner, brother of the groom, Amarillo, and Jackie Christian, Turkey.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Lydia Parlor. The reception table was laid with a floor-length net cloth and held a floral arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemum and holly. The three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom appointed the table. The punch service and tiny bags of rice completed the table setting. Serving and assisting with the house party were Mrs. Patsy Railsback, sister-in-law of the bride, Pampa; Mrs. Ginger Courtney, Canyon; Misses Jeanette Lane, Amarillo; Jerry Thomas, Northfield; Sue Garrick, Tell, and Sandra Keel, Carey.

Mrs. Carol Clem Blackburn, Amarillo, registered the guests from a table laid with a white cloth. A single long stemmed red rose completed the registry table.

The bride's mother wore a blue and black ensemble with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Castleberry, Amarillo, wore an ensemble of navy and white with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride, a graduate of McLean High School, is a junior business education major at West Texas State University, Canyon, where she is a member of Pi Omega Pi and Phi Gamma Nu, honorary business societies. She is employed in Amarillo with Miller, Sanders and Baker, Attorneys-at-Law.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Turkey High School is employed as an apprentice plumber with G and W Plumbing of Amarillo, where the couple will make their home.

She wore a strand of pearls and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses atop a white Rainbow Bible.

Jerry Chandler, Turkey, served as best man. Ushers were Jerry Frank Garner, brother of the groom, Amarillo, and Jackie Christian, Turkey.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Lydia Parlor. The reception table was laid with a floor-length net cloth and held a floral arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemum and holly. The three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom appointed the table. The punch service and tiny bags of rice completed the table setting. Serving and assisting with the house party were Mrs. Patsy Railsback, sister-in-law of the bride, Pampa; Mrs. Ginger Courtney, Canyon; Misses Jeanette Lane, Amarillo; Jerry Thomas, Northfield; Sue Garrick, Tell, and Sandra Keel, Carey.

Mrs. Carol Clem Blackburn, Amarillo, registered the guests from a table laid with a white cloth. A single long stemmed red rose completed the registry table.

The bride, a graduate of McLean High School, is a junior business education major at West Texas State University, Canyon, where she is a member of Pi Omega Pi and Phi Gamma Nu, honorary business societies. She is employed in Amarillo with Miller, Sanders and Baker, Attorneys-at-Law.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Turkey High School is employed as an apprentice plumber with G and W Plumbing of Amarillo, where the couple will make their home.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white peau de soie. The bodice featured a round neckline, long sleeves that came to petal points over her hands, and a seed pearl encrusted panel of Venetian lace roses which led down the floor-length A-line skirt which fell into a cathedral-length train. A satin bow at the back waistline and appliques of Venetian lace roses accented the dress. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion accented with Venetian lace roses and a manilla scalloped lace border, fell from a tiny satin pillbox. She wore a strand of pearls and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses atop a white Rainbow Bible.

PERSIAN LAMB STYLES — In a fashion season when tweed goes to the opera and denim entertains by candlelight, it is only natural that furs should be in for a change of fashion pace, too. They should be able to go places with less formality than before. Subtle Persian Lamb ideally fits into the new trend where restraint has become a prime measure to elegance. The go-everywhere greatcoat (left); a Henry Rosenberg design, is in smoky gray. The extravagant collar can be flipped up high against a sudden wintry blast. Sally Victor designs a precise fedora (center) in black Persian Lamb. This is a hat to add costume softness to a coat or suit. Abbreviated chesterfield (right) in the new brown black Persian is especially proportioned by Zimmerman and Scher for you who are five-feet or under.

Mrs. Johnson Presents Program for Twentieth Century Allegro Club Meet

Twentieth Century Allegro Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. George Cree Jr. Mrs. D. W. Hayes was co-hostess.

After the social hour, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. LeRoy Ogden, president. The minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were read.

The program, "The Ancient Civilization of Babylon," was presented by Mrs. R. A. Johnson. "Today let us go back into history to the year 2169 B.C. to the beginning of the first Babylonian Dynasty," the speaker began. "Let us follow the course of this early civilization through its early span — from its first great king, Hammurabi, to its last, Nebuchadnezzar. At this point civilization had been established in Sumeria, Egypt, and Assyria. From Mesopotamia it was to spring to Crete, Greece, and Rome, carrying with it Babylon's magnificent contributions. This civilization almost created astronomy, added much to medicine, established the science of language, prepared the first great code of laws, taught the Greeks the rudiment of mathematics, physics and philosophy, gave the Jews the mythology which they gave to the world, and passed on to the Arabs their knowledge of architecture."

"Babylon, nestled in the fertile soil between two rivers, the Euphrates and the Tigris, built an empire which some historians believe has never been equaled in Asia. It became the Eden of Semitic legend, as well as the garden and granary of western Asia.

"At the onset of Babylonian history stands Hammurabi, who reigned for 43 years from 2123-2081 B.C. Under him the petty warring states were formed into unity and peace, and disciplined into order by an historic code of laws. The Code of Hammurabi was a list of 285 laws. However, it mingled the most enlightened laws with the most barbarous punishments, and put primitive trial by ordeal alongside elaborate judicial procedures. However rough and crude these ways may appear to us, it must be realized that their methods of establishing order and restraint are a basis of civilization."

Mrs. Johnson explained that after Hammurabi's death, Babylon became the prey of envious neighbors. It was not until the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, beginning in 605 B.C., that Babylon again achieved greatness.

"Nebuchadnezzar became the most powerful ruler of his time in the Near East, although illiterate and not always sane," the speaker continued.

"Although their culture left much to the world, astronomy was the special science of the Babylonians. They did much advanced work, including plotting the orbits of the sun and moon, distinguishing between planets and stars, and dividing the path of the earth around the sun into the twelve signs of the Zodiac. The division of one month into four weeks, of our clock into twelve hours, of our hour into sixty minutes, and our minute into sixty seconds are unsuspected Babylonian contributions to our world.

"Babylon reached its greatest era under Nebuchadnezzar. An immense, 650 foot shrine, probably the 'Tower of Babel' and the famous Hanging Gardens came into being under his reign. Within thirty years after Ne-

Furnishings of New Rooms Made Easy With Walnut Start

Shopping for furniture — always a pleasant task doesn't need to be the wild adventure you imagine.

To begin with, be in fashion by selecting walnut for bedroom, dining room and occasional furniture.

The rest of your furnishings, according to interior designers, will fall in place because walnut's natural beauty of grain and versatility will combine with any decor.

This was demonstrated at the recent International Home Furnishings Show in Chicago where buyers were encouraged to buy quality and complete room settings.

Rub grass stains with glycerin and leave to soften for 30 minutes before washing.

Breeden Circle Concludes Study

The Breeden Night Circle of Highland Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Dale Walker, 1133 Prairie Dr., for the latter portion of the mission book, "Frontiers of Advance."

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. M. W. Belote, after which the circle chairman, Mrs. U. E. Winegeart, had charge of the brief business session.

Members voted to send the missionary, which the circle is named for, a birthday remembrance.

Mrs. Walker presented the remainder of the mission book, which was very impressive and had on display several articles from Viet Nam.

Mrs. C. E. Cole closed the meeting with prayer. There were four members present.

The next meeting will be Monday with Mrs. Belote at which time Mrs. D. W. Tracy will present the Circle Program.

Wash blood stains immediately with cold water. Hot water will set the stains.

Clot'es Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY
Costume jewelry makes a fine, easy-to-shop-for Valentine gift for a fellow to give a girl of any age. But if you have not bought any lately, you're in for a surprise.

A few years back when you planned to give mom a nice pin Valentine, you chose gold initials, a pretty rhinestone flower or maybe even something that spelled out "Mother" in a fine marcasite script. Now you buy her a reptile, a piece of office equipment in miniature or maybe a bug. There's even a gold inchworm around!

Charms, too, are big sellers at Valentines. And there are manufacturers who make the personal touch possible in sterling silver for under $5. They suggest that you supply the memory and they will supply the charm. There's something for everyone.

For the woman who loves her job, there are tiny typewriters, erasers with attached brushes just like the real thing, pencil sharpeners, telephones, pencils that actually write, steno pads and staplers. These provide constant reminders of happy hours at work.

For the wife who gets one night a week out to play poker with the girls, there's a touching memory of her last royal flush, beautifully enameled on silver.

Those in love haven't been forgotten in charmand either. There are cupid, hearts and a d. kissing timers, engagement rings, wedding bands and even a tiny marriage license.

And then there are the bugs. She can have any species her little heart desires in charms or pins. If it's beetles she likes, they even come in watch designs.

Your girl loves the Beatles but isn't mad for jewelry? Well forget the jewelry. Just sit down and get all artsy - crafty and make her some Beatie dolls. Four eggshells make the heads. (put a pin hole at each end and blow the eggs out.) black thread is hair, ink does the faces. Secure black paper cylinders to the egg - heads with rubber cement and paste on paper collars and ties. If she changes her mind about jewelry, she can always pin Ringo on her sweaters.

So except for the chap who will be busy with the scissors and paste, the rest of the male population can let costume jewelry take the pain out of Valentine shopping. You can get all the bugs and things in one store and carry home the menagerie in one small bag.

"I just bought a new bright red suit. But the lipstick and nail polish shade I always wear doesn't look right with it. The shade is deep rose. What color lipstick and polish would be best?"

Evelyn F. Dear Evelyn F. Try a very pale pink. If you have never used this shade, you may feel

Linda Sue Abbott, Joe Earl Herman
Are Married in Lubbock Home Rites

The wedding of Miss Linda Sue Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Abbott, 104 North Sumner St., and Joe Earl Herman, Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Crawford of Cartwright, Okla., was solemnized on Dec. 24 at 8 p.m. in Lubbock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis R. Herman, brother of the bridegroom.

Officiant of the single-ring ceremony was Rev. Buford Batton, Church of the Nazarene minister.

The bride wore a street-length dress of royal blue velvet with long fitted sleeves. Her accessories were dark grey.

A reception in the home followed the wedding ceremony. The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School where she was active on the staff of the school paper. She attended South Plains Junior College at Levelland for two years.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lubbock High School.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple are at home in Lubbock where the bridegroom is employed by the Kimbell Company.

Yearly Queen Is Named by TOPS

Members of TOPS Pampa Pound Pirates opened their regular meeting Monday evening by repeating the TOPS Pledge.

During the business session phone buddies and secret pal names were selected.

The group reported a loss of 37 1/2 pounds and a gain of 12 pounds for the last week. Mrs. Dean Steadman was presented the mystery gift and fruit bowl for losing the most weight the past week and Mrs. Geneva Schroeder was crowned queen for the month.

Annual report for 1964 showed a loss of 246 pounds by the members over the last year. Mrs. Judy Rollins was crowned yearly queen and presented a corsage, tiara and monetary gift. Mrs. Schroeder was crowned princess and presented a corsage for being the runner-up.

Meeting was closed by the singing of the theme song.

that it isn't right for you at first. But be a bit more adventurous with make-up than you are now. You say "the shade I always wear doesn't look right."

It's fun to change your make-up to complement your costumes. Give this new method a whirl. You'll enjoy the difference it can make in your looks.

Dear Abby....
Personal Invitations
Are Not Transferable

DEAR ABBY: I sent our R. S. V. P. invitations to my daughter's wedding, which included the ceremony, reception and dinner. I received a telephone call from one of the invited guests (not a relative) who said that she and her husband could not attend because they were going to be out of town, but she was sending their teen-aged daughter and the girl's boyfriend to represent the family. She said it was considered proper because she read where the President and Mrs. Johnson couldn't attend the wedding of the King of Greece, so they sent their daughter to represent them. I didn't know what else to say, so I said, "Your daughter and her boyfriend will be very welcome." Would you please tell me if this is really proper?

BRIDE'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Wedding invitations (or any personal invitation, for that matter) are not transferable. The heads of state, however, abide by different rules. When a President or King is unable to accept an invitation, it is customary to send someone to represent his country. You got a royal rooking.

DEAR ABBY: I am 37, have two children, 11 and 15, and have been divorced for nine years. I met a man who was 38 and good-looking. He said he was single. I fell awfully hard for him. He gave me gifts and money, and we talked of marriage, but something always came up to delay it.

In October I found out I was pregnant. When I told him, he said he would marry me. I called the place where he rooms and a woman answered the phone. She said she was his wife. I almost fainted. I told who I was and she said she felt "sorry" for me.

When I told my boy friend everything, he said the woman on the phone calls herself his "wife" but they aren't really married. It's more like a common law arrangement. Can a man with a common law wife take a legal wife? I don't want to get mixed up with bigamy.

Where does all this leave me?
TOO DUMB FOR WORDS
DEAR DUMB: It leaves you with approximately 200,000 other trusting souls, who, in 1964, bore illegitimate babies. Ask a lawyer if your state recognizes common law marriages. And if you want the name of a Home for Unwed Mothers, send me your name and address and I will help you.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I go to the bakery for doughnuts, the clerk uses a small piece of waxed paper to pick up the doughnuts and put them in a sack. I assume this is because she also handles money and does not want to transmit the germs from the money to the doughnuts. So far this is just fine. But then she stuffs the waxed paper, which is full of germs into the sack on top of the doughnuts, germs and all. While I am carrying the sack home, the germs are finding their way to my doughnuts. What must we do to get the bakeries to keep their waxed paper with all the germs on it and give us the doughnuts only?

ANTISEPTIC MALE IN OHIO
DEAR MALE: The next time you buy doughnuts, tell the clerk please to keep the waxed paper. It's all right to be "germ-conscious," but if you know how many times daily you are vulnerable to billions of "germs," you would stay in bed.

DEAR ABBY: I have gone with this man for seven years and I am very much in love with him. He is much older than I, but we always have a marvelous time together. My problem is, he never mentions marriage. He is a Mamma's boy, and I am sure he is waiting for his mother to pass on before he will marry. I don't know whether I should bring up the subject of marriage or should I dump him?

LONGING
DEAR LONGING: You don't say how old you are, or how old he is, but if you are between 25 and 35, I say dump him. The longest wait in the world is waiting for someone to die.

Much Powder in Puff

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY—When I empty a new box of face powder into my powder jar, my puff always gets too full of powder. Now I keep an extra puff on top of the powder and turn it over now and then. I rub the top puff over the lower one before I use it and get just the right amount of powder each time.

If you knit or crochet, do make use of your old nylon slips. Cut the slips into round strips just as the nylon stockings are cut. They can be dyed any color or mixture of colors and be used for making table mats, rugs and so on.

Nylons will stay much whiter if they are washed twice during each laundering. The reason is that nylon sheds dirt so easily we rinse the soap out before the material is really clean. Wash and rinse just as usual, then wash once more. See the difference. Personally, I like pure soap better for nylon but alternating soap and a detergent every so often work well.

Council of Women's Clubs Holds First Meeting of Year in City Club Room

Council of Women's Clubs held their first meeting of the new year Thursday morning in the Club Room in City Hall with Mrs. R. A. Mack, president, presiding. Mrs. Vernon Graham was elected as treasurer of the Council to fill the unexpired term left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. J. M. Turner.

Clyde Carruth, chairman of the Gray County March of Dimes Drive, showed a film on birth defects and the untiring efforts of faithful scientist and surgeons to correct these. This reminded those present that once again the time and opportunity has come to unite efforts and giving so that these children might live a normal and happy life.

Mrs. C. A. Herd gave a brief history of the American Business Women's Association. The Association was chartered only 15 years ago and the local organization is only five years old. There are 500 chapters in the U.S.A. and a total of 23,000 members. The association gives a scholarship each year to some local person, and has an interest free loan available to any qualified person desiring to further their education. The aim and purpose of A.B.W.A. is to create a better working relationship and understanding between employer and employee and the public. Some of their activities include two Hand of Friendship Teas a year and the highlight of the year is the "Boss Night Banquet" which is held in February. At this time a "Boss of the Year" is crowned and presented with a "Boss of the Year" trophy. Each member of the Association presents a letter recommending her boss as "Boss of the Year" and the letters are judged by impartial judges and the announcement is made at the banquet.

There are district and national conventions held each year. The local chapter is in the Southwest District. The local chapter meets the second Tuesday evening of each month.

Those present at the meeting were Mmes. A. C. Brown and Margeurite Nash, B&PW; Lee Harnah and J. M. Turner, American Legion Auxiliary; Libby Shotwell, Altrusa; Jess Hatcher, Gray Ladies; James Whatley, Rho Eta Beta Sigma Phi; Lyda Gilchrist, Credit Women's Union; James Quay, C. A. Herd and Vernon Graham, American Business Women's Association, and Lurline Bowman, Delta Kappa Gamma.

Apricot Nut Bread Lures Children to Breakfast and Helps Fill Lunch Box

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
This seems to be the baking season. Every day we get letters asking for more home-baking recipes. Many women say they want breads that will encourage children to show more interest in breakfast or to put in their school lunch boxes.

This apricot nut bread recipe is particularly suited to breakfast. The rolled oats and flour, the milk and the nuts and dried fruit carry top nutrition along with an appeal to young appetites that often resist the more familiar family breakfast patterns.

1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1 cup chopped dried apricots
1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
2 eggs, beaten
1-3 cup liquid shortening
1 1/4 cups milk

Heat oven to 350 degrees (moderate). Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and sugar into bowl. Stir in oats, apricots and nutmeats. Add eggs, shortening and milk; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour batter into greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 - inch loaf pan.

Bake in preheated oven (350 degrees) about 1 hour. Cool several minutes; turn out of pan.

Typical American Homemaker Likes Cooking Better

NEW YORK (UPI) — America's "typical" homemaker calls cooking and baking the most enjoyable job in the kitchen and washing dishes the most disagreeable.

This was the finding of a survey conducted by General Electric among the state finalists in this year's Grand National Bake-off. Pillsbury and GE sponsor the cooking contest.

Some 144 of the 340 finalists who answered the questionnaire called cooking the most enjoyable, and another 123 listed baking. In contrast, 148, or 44 per cent, said washing dishes was the job most disliked.

(For ease in slicing, wrap and store bread one day.)

Costumes Make Spring News

SPRING COSTUMES — The costume will go everywhere for spring. Branell's silken costume (left) is a new cosmopolite fashion. The dress in black and white printed silk is cloaked in black silk and worsted. The coat is cut in bold curves and has a cape top. Off-white imported wool ensemble by Townley (right) is scrolled with appliques. Waistline is lightly accented. Matching stole is in the new brief length.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Each year the number of costumes shown in the New York collections increases. This year is no exception.

The costume as we know it is an ensemble comprised of two or more parts.

One of the newest is the dress with its own coat, where the dress follows the slim silhouette of the coat line for line.

New too, are the tunic blouses, with tunic jackets, topping about two inches of showing skirt, often pleated.

There are dresses with their own cape tops or matching stoles. Stoles are brief this spring, different from the long, fringed type which had its fling last year.

Many three-piece costumes take the form of long jackets teamed with a soft blouse and pleated skirt. Contrasting textures and fabrics are often companions in the new ensembles — tweed with chiffon, worsted with silk and crepe with satin.

There are big and small checks and bold prints as well as navy, white and soft pastels.

The costume in some version is bound to turn up in everyone's spring wardrobe this time around.

Tape Recording Helps Omit Habit or Interrupting

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
After listening to a tape recording of a wife's nagging, a divorce court judge in London said flatly:

"No man could be expected to go on living with a wife who behaved as this wife is recorded as having behaved."

It must have been pretty embarrassing for the wife to have a third person listen to a taped recording of her nagging.

And that ought to give other victims of nagging wives an idea.

Why not have a tape recorder handy and quietly turn it on the next time your wife starts berating you?

Later, when she has simmered down, play it back and let her hear how a nagging woman sounds.

That in itself might be enough of a shock to make her resolve never to nag you again about anything.

But if hearing her own querulous, accusing voice going on and on isn't enough to make her mend her ways, you could always threaten to turn the tape recorder on the next time you have guests.

Say you'll let them hear how she sounds when she isn't being all sweetness and light to impress outsiders.

The thought of that kind of exposure ought to oil the most rasping, nagging tongue any wife could have. . . and set it purrring.

Most naggers wouldn't nag if they had any idea of how they sound, or if they ever thought any outsider would ever get a chance to hear them at their worst.

For the women who nag their husbands in private usually sweet-talk them in public.

Help Your Baby Sitter Help You

Nothing can ruin a mother's enjoyment of a festive party more than the nagging worry about the proficiency of the teen-age baby sitter left at home with young children.

Youngsters are excited and expectant about the strange s i t t e r. Situations normally handled easily can become baby-sitting crises at that time. What's more, time-tested sitters aren't always available.

Before leaving for the party, mother should allow at least half an hour for the child to become acquainted with a new sitter. Parents should tell the child frankly that they are going out for the evening. Mother can paste a little story book figure over the hour when they expect to return. Often the child will fall asleep watching the clock tick toward the coming-home hour.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Big Brother Will Protect You from Fortune Tellers

The other day we ran across the following news note: "The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced it will study 100,000 hands in the next 18 months to settle, once and for all if a person's future can really be foretold by reading the lines of his palm."

So, all hail the bureau of professional Palmistry and Fortune Telling! Our palmist days are upon us.

May we timidly suggest that this idea is balmy? Is the federal government girding up its mighty loins to conduct a war against gypsies, fortune tellers, tea-leaf readers and crystal-ball gazers?

Are we to be protected from this particular brand of nonsense? Somehow, when we think of the tolling millions who have been despoiled of their earnings so that this bureau can be established and research conducted in the area, we shudder. The cost of examining this area is going to far exceed the total earnings of the entire crew of future-lookers.

And assuming the government does discover that there is no scientific reason to believe in the prognostications of these itinerant spell-binders, how is it to enforce the law which will surely be written?

Will it become necessary to get permission from the government before one has a Halloween party? Will a policeman be posted in all private living rooms to make certain that no guest, however harmless appearing, may as a matter of spare-time amusement, don cloaks and wizard's cap to recite meaningless incantations in banks. If a bank robber were going to be marked indelibly, we suspect he would be less willing to take the chances he now takes.

Another device is a noise-maker. When triggered, it goes off with a sound that rends the air like the crack of doom and is calculated to send a foot-pad streaking for cover. It is small in size and will fit readily into purse or pocket. And it is not costly.

However, the biggest single factor relates to the attitude of people.

If there is a general belief that criminal activities fall into a category wherein the police have a monopoly, then many if not most people will continue to shrug off cries for help and shift the burden on someone else.

But if we can learn that government, including the police, cannot protect you and that you must protect yourself, then we will have accomplished a major objective.

Municipal police are a relatively recent invention. If we go back more than a hundred and fifty years we will discover that they didn't exist.

Then, a cry of "Stop thief" would electrify a community, and all good men and true would drop whatever they were doing to take off in pursuit of the miscreant. Then it was that people believed that protection was important and that they would volunteer to help protect each other.

However, with the rise of legalism, professional and taxpayer-paid police agencies, and so on, our willingness to go to anyone's rescue has been virtually eliminated.

and attempt to conjure up a "spell"? Are millions to be spent so that a "report" can be made to the nation indicating that we had best disregard the findings of those who trace the fine lines on the hand with ghoulish intensity?

When someone has so much money he doesn't know how to spend it, some ingenious avenues of waste invariably can be made to appear. And when a bureaucrat has tapped the public purse and actually has nothing to do, it is mighty convenient in order to keep those dollars rolling in, to have a "project." And here is one that has never been undertaken before. Guess why?

Could it be that the idea is so zany, so ridiculous, so far-fetched that no one before now has had the nerve to suggest it? Of course, today it is imprudent to oppose any spending scheme the government suggests. Anyone who has the gall to state that the government is often appearing ridiculous is at once classed as an "extremist."

But really, now! Isn't it a trifle extreme to assume an air of sagacity and great impartiality and condone such an extreme way of making use of loot?

We'll be glad to take a chance on the lack of wisdom of various individuals who may leave their money for obscure purposes, or may bequeath it to crummy individuals. But, the money is theirs. If they want to throw it away, that is their business. But what do we say when programs of public looting are conducted for the obvious purpose of making us "safe" from palm readers?

Why? Dispersal of city populations should be the goal for many obvious reasons: economy, health, defense, morality.

I'm for making radio and TV networks that are still fighting Nazism and Fascism give equal time to fighting "The Great Society" and other socialist fronts.

For making the display of the hammer and sickle an equal crime with display of the swastika. For outlawing the Communist Party and jailing or deporting all known Communists, including those in our State Department.

NATIONAL PURPOSE For a "national purpose" diametrically opposed to coexistence with history's most despotic, atheistic mass enslavers.

For a "national purpose" dedicated to freeing the half of the world enslaved by the Communists. For these conquered people then holding their own "Nuremberg" trials to convict and hang slaughterers like Khrushchev, Mao, Tito, Brezhnev, Castro. For declaring to the mass slaughter of Africans, Cubans, Russians, Hungarians, Chinese, Catholics and Protestants an equal crime with the mass murder of Jews.

I'm for restoring the last part of what should again be our "national purpose": "Give me liberty, or give me death." (The American people have shortened that original sentence to just "gimmie.")

For the only kind of security there is: that which comes from one's own self and soul. For encouraging individualism, the desire to excel, to win, to profit. For an upward reach for our nation toward more spiritual values and morality, starting at the Presidential level.

Let's place major emphasis on PREVENTING the crime, not on court procedures afterwards.

Straight Talk

By Tom Anderson

WHAT I'M FOR . . .

As the perennial pollyanna said to his friend in the prison death house an hour before the execution: "There's always something to be thankful for; just think, you still have your health!"

This is a time for thanksgiving, for faith, for re-dedication. This is a time for resolutions for the coming year.

Helen Keller said: "Most of us take life for granted. Only the deaf appreciate hearing, only the blind realize the manifold blessings that lie in sight. It is the same old story of not being grateful for what we have until we lose it, of not being conscious of health until we are ill."

"But I who am blind can give one hint to those who see: use your eyes as if tomorrow you would be stricken blind. And the same method can be applied to the other senses; hear the music of voices, the song of a bird, the mighty strains of an orchestra, as if you would be stricken deaf tomorrow. Touch each object you want to touch as if tomorrow your tactile sense would fail. Smell the perfume of flowers, taste with relish each morsel, as if tomorrow you could never smell and taste again."

"Make the most of every sense; glory in all the facets of pleasure and beauty which the world reveals. Thus, at last, you will really see, and a new world of beauty will open up before you."

FOR AND AGAINST

One of my devoted readers has inquired: "Have you decided what all you're going to be against in the coming year?" Much as I hate to disappoint this booster, my New Year's resolutions all relate to things I am for.

I am strongly for a congressional investigation of the State Department — to give the Wiens, Rostows, Rubintons and the faceless brigade a chance to prove their innocence, stupidity, insanity or treason, as the case may be. I'm for "urban renewal" for every city that wants to pay the cost, most of which should be billed to the people who own the downtown real estate and get most of the benefits. "Save the downtown?"

Why? Dispersal of city populations should be the goal for many obvious reasons: economy, health, defense, morality.

I'm for making radio and TV networks that are still fighting Nazism and Fascism give equal time to fighting "The Great Society" and other socialist fronts.

Inaugural Ball Snafu: Space for 30,000 But 100,000 'Must' Invitations

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The huge inaugural ball is turning out to be a giant-size ball-up. With arrangements set to accommodate 30,000 guests, Inaugural Chairman Dale Miller is being snowed under with requests he can't decline to send out more than 100,000 invitations.

If even half accept, he is in one hot jam. President and Mrs. Johnson alone have deluged their old Texas lobbyist friend with invitation lists totaling some 60,000.

Vice President-elect Humphrey's lists exceed 30,000. And another 10,000 names have poured in from members of Congress, administration officials, state and local party leaders and others — and they're still coming.

Capping this jumbo headache is another hefty snarl. The Inaugural Committee ran out of the flossy invitations, and is having a rugged time meeting the flood of requests.

TELLING THEM OFF — Senator Vance Hartke, D-Ind., is introducing a bill barring all forms of U.S. aid — economic, military, surplus food, credits or loans — to any country engaging in "aggressive action." The measure is aimed specifically at Egypt and Indonesia, the former with some 40,000 troops in Yemen, and the latter threatening to "crush" Malaysia.

Both Egypt and Indonesia have received hundreds of millions in U.S. aid, and are still getting some under programs which the State Department is refusing to cut off. . . . Earl Hawley, editor of the Glendora, Calif. Press, sent a cable to bombastic President Sukarno that is a dead-center bulls-eye. Declared Hawley: "Some dozen years ago, as an undergraduate, I had the dubious pleasure of collecting books for the University of Indonesia library. Apparently the effort to educate a former colonial people was well-meaning but pointless. Eventually I trust we shall eliminate all charlatans, liars and thieves from the UN. Also communists and their sympathizers. Here's earnestly trusting you will soon be relegated to the ash heap of history."

Mrs. Mann as sharply retorted she couldn't send out invitations she didn't have; that they were being mailed as quickly as they arrived from the Texas printer.

Because of these mix-ups, it's still very much up in the air how many guests will have to be taken care of. In anticipation of 30,000 the D. C. Army, with 12,000 capacity, and the three largest hotels were rented. Preparations now are under way to add several more hotels.

The ball is an invitation affair at $25 a ticket. There also is a limited number of boxes, holding eight, at $750. That includes a few bottles of champagne.

Arrangements for the big gala, at the Army two nights before the inauguration, also are in a state of confusion. This is a no-charge, invitation-only affair and all indications point to an overflow through — a lot of hurt feelings and ruffled tempers.

Democratic Treasurer Richard Maguire is seeing to it that members of the $1,000 "President's Club" get first shot at gala tickets. He is insisting on that preliminary to launching a new fund drive to wipe out several million dollars in campaign debts and to start building up a reserve for the 1966 congressional battle.

Almost 5,000 contributors belong to the "President's Club." If only 50 per cent and their wives attend, they will fill one-half of the Army.

That leaves thousands of other party faithful and contributors clamoring for gala tickets still to be taken care of. Presumably they will get them. What happens then, only the gala will tell.

WASHINGTON:

Viet Cong Strategy Snafus U.S.

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the bloody battles of Binh Gia, the Viet Cong were out to break the back of the new U.S. - South Viet Nam pacification program centered on the Greater Saigon area.

If the theories that Red Ho Chi Minh's top General Giap has been advocating are carried through, Binh Gia will be only one of a series of sharp punches in the next few months.

The U.S. South Viet Nam program gambles that a strong local militia can be trained in each area to defeat small Viet Cong raiders and hold off large Red attacks until government regulars arrive.

Theoretically, the regulars are to get there quickly enough with sufficient men and weapons to knock out any number of Red troops.

This program (according to U.S. plans) is to be perfected in the Greater Saigon area, then be spread through South Viet Nam.

If the Viet Cong follow Giap's theories, then they must prove this U.S. plan unworkable before it really gets going so that we'll abandon it and try another plan. Then when we're started on the next plan, they'll try to get us to abandon that new plan before it gets operating.

The Giap aim is to get us to try and then abandon one strategy after another, never giving one a chance to succeed before we drop it and jump to something else.

So far Giap's plan has succeeded. We've already started and abandoned several major strategic programs in infancy.

At Binh Gia, the Reds won several victories: The local militia did not hold. The Communists won with the shopworn tactics they have used for 20 years, the same they used against the French.

They captured Binh Gia, set up ambushes and waited. Government troops fell into the ambushes and Americans were killed. The Viet Cong used the American helicopter dead as bait for further ambushes. Government troops fell into these ambushes, too.

The Reds held Binh Gia just long enough to be able to kill off some of the democratic anti-Communist leadership of the community, set up and trip ambushes, inflict heavy casualties on government troops and capture sizable numbers of U.S.-made weapons.

But the Red Viet Cong didn't win all the victories. The South Viet Nam government troops showed high bravery under sustained fire. They kept moving in regardless of casualties. That should ease American concern that the Vietnamese aren't willing to die for what they believe when properly trained and led.

PRODUCTION — NOT POLITICS — BRINGS PROSPERITY

By Harry Browne

Here it is — 1965. And now we've heard all the predictions of what the new year will bring. "Such and such" a bill will be passed by Congress — the President will probably do "this and so."

Why must the future be analyzed in terms of what politicians will do? Is this where our prosperity lies? Let's analyze it:

Some people are hoping the "Medicare" bill will be passed by Congress. Why? Because they're hoping to get medical insurance at a lower cost than their circumstances warrant. If this weren't the case, they'd buy the insurance they want from private companies.

But how can they get a lower rate through the "Medicare" bill? The answer, of course, is that other people will pay to make up the difference. So this prosperity will be achieved at another person's expense.

Others are hoping the "War on Poverty" bill or the Area Redevelopment Act will bring them subsidies or low-cost loans. How will they get them? Of course, someone else will pay for them.

"GRAB BAG"

So, through politics, we have a giant free-for-all as everyone tries to get "their share" of the plunder. But all it amounts to is a redistribution of the present property.

Now let's look at it from another angle. Suppose, during 1965, the Allen - Bradley Co. develops a new labor-saving machine tool. And suppose this tool makes it possible for a working man to produce 20 percent more products in the same amount of time. This will make it possible to increase the total amount of property.

Or suppose General Motors innovates a newer, less expensive way to produce automobiles. This will make it possible for more people to own cars and increase the wealth of society.

PROSPERITY General Electric, Westinghouse, American T&T (and the millions of companies like them) produce prosperity. It is the creative talent and labor of every working man in society that produces wealth. Through this avenue, the total property in existence continues to increase.

But politics is simply a game of "take what you can from someone else." Property is never increased by political action — it is only redistributed.

If you want more for yourself, look to production as the key. Produce more in your own job — and help to set a societal climate in which others can produce more (this helps you). Through free enterprise production, you'll have more medical care, more labor-saving devices, more luxuries, better food — more of everything.

When the politician no longer controls our economic lives, we will all be free to produce more — and have more!

National Outlook

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Capital—Human and Material Economic experience and economic theory both teach that the essential prerequisite for the progress of a nation is the accumulation of capital within its borders. Until recently, the emphasis was laid on the accumulation of physical capital — the tools and equipment which make human labor more productive than it would otherwise be.

It is pointed out that capital formation of this type depends on the ability of a country either to provide its own savings through cultivation of the virtue of self-denial, or to attract savings from abroad by creation of confidence in the stability of the country's institutions. The growth of the United States since its inception was the result of a combination of both conditions. The difficulties currently experienced by the underdeveloped nations are the product of their failure to acquire sufficient capital through either route.

Can Be Misleading

More recently the emphasis has shifted to the gains to be realized from the development of "human capital." By this is meant the fund of skills, attitudes and motivations which reside in human beings as such, rather than in the physical possessions over which they have control. The moral drawn from this, for guidance in decisions on national policy, is that a dollar spent in improving the health, education or working skills of the people may yield a higher return than a dollar spent in providing capital in the ordinary sense — new productive plant and equipment.

The new emphasis on human capital is well taken, but it can also be misleading. No one can deny that the fate of a nation, in the long run, depends more on the quality of its people than on the quantity or quality of its material assets.

Latent Contradiction

But human capital cannot be created by fiat. We cannot pour human capital into people simply by a central decision that we will spend so many tax-collected dollars each year for health, education or welfare. The most precious form of human capital is described by the old-fashioned word, "character." No one yet has found any way to buy this with dollars.

At the risk of seeming corny, we may point out that when the Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock it carried a heavy cargo of human capital. The capital was not in the technological skills or higher education of these early immigrants. By the standards of their time they were quite ordinary in those respects. They were extraordinary in their faith, determination, and their recognition of the personal responsibility of each individual for the consequences of his own actions. It was this kind of human capital that grew, by compound interest, into the kind of society that the United States became.

There is a latent contradiction in the idea that government-directed and government-financed accumulation of human capital can contribute to the creation of a better world. The habit of relying on Big Brother represents depletion, rather than accumulation, of human capital.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Sunday, Jan. 10, the tenth day of 1965 with 355 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1861, Florida seceded from the union.

In 1870, John D. Rockefeller incorporated Standard Oil Company in Cleveland with a capital of one-million dollars.

In 1917, Buffao Bill Cody died.

In 1946, delegates from 51 nations convened in London for the first session of the United Nations General Assembly.

A thought for the day—U. S. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said: "Taxes are what we pay for civilized society."

Matter of Fact

In North America the word cowboy first cropped up in New York State during the American revolution, and was applied to a group of Tories who made a business of raiding the settlements that supported the American cause. The western cowboy was not related to the Troy raiders of New York.

Jack Jones, Bill Cosby Manage To Keep Busy

JONES: A steady growth proposition.

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK (NEA) — Between them, Jack Jones and Bill Cosby are appearing on television more often than most stars of television series.

Additionally, Cosby will be a regular on a series next season, and Jones might be.

Cosby, who will costar with Robert Culp in NBC-TV's 'I Spy,' as an undercover agent, recently has been seen with Jack Paar and Andy Williams in several appearances with Johnny Carson, and, in February, will be with Jimmy Dean.

In March, he will head for Hollywood and his acting debut, starring in the pilot film he made for I Spy.

'The series is another dimension, said Cosby, a stand-up comedian who looks more like a businessman, "but now it's a matter of seeing what I can do. I have never acted before, but Sheldon Leonard, who will produce the series, convinced me that with Bobby Culp's help, I would come along fine."

The hardest thing, I discovered when we filmed the pilot, is learning to listen. I'm used to working alone, and ad libbing. So I memorized Bobby's last word, and didn't bother to listen. When I heard his word, I would come in. That is not acting.

"I also forgot about the camera. I tend to turn my back on it. When I come through a door, I come through the way everybody does, but I always wind up with my back to the camera as I shut it."

Cosby, a Philadelphia and former star athlete at Temple University will be moving to Los Angeles with his wife Camille. He confesses he loves living in Philadelphia, and will keep his permanent home there.

He and Camille, who will become parents for the first time in April, met when she was a University of Maryland student.

"It was right after they integrated the college, and man, biling, narcotics, bootlegging, labor - management racketeering, corruption and other forms of organized crime.

When Jack Jones hosts the premiere of NBC-TV's new musical series, 'Hullabaloo,' on January 12, he will be making his 20th network television appearance in 16 months.

"I'm pretty content with the way things are going," the handsome singer guffawed. And he should be. Aside from his heavy television schedule, Jack has several hit singles and albums released on the Kapp label, and movie offers are pouring in.

"I have been talking with MGM about a remake of 'Girl Crazy,' and I like the idea. But this is a critical time for me and I have to be careful what I do, and the direction I go.

My career has not been a big bombastic thing, but it has been growing steadily and I wouldn't want it any other way."

Jack, who says he has a desire to act in serious drama, is presently negotiating to star in a television series. "But for a regular diet," he said, "I don't want a variety show. I want to do a comedy series."

COSBY: There's acting, then there's acting.

No Old Black Magic For The New Billy Daniels

NEW YORK (NEA) — For the first time in 15 years, Billy Daniels is able to make a personal appearance and not be asked to sing "That Old Black Magic."

To accomplish this, he has had to turn dramatic actor, playing in support of Sammy Davis in the Broadway musical "That Old Black Magic." It has sold more than 6 million copies, plays a sinister Harlem type who sings two of the best songs in the show, "White City Sleeps" and "This Is The Life," a fact obvious to anyone who has heard the Capitol original cast album.

"I'm enjoying the show immensely," Billy said, "but I'm surprised I'm coming across. I had thought of making a move like this for some time, but I wasn't sure I was equipped for an acting part. Voice-wise, I have no qualms."

After a long and distinguished career as a night club attraction, Daniels is finding disciplining himself the hardest part of Broadway.

"In a night club, if you feel like cutting your act, you can know the comic will do an extra half-hour. For Broadway, you have to learn how to react."

Billy, who says he is through with night clubs is enjoying the schedule of Broadway, which allows him time to be with his wife and two daughters, Andrea, 8, and Dominique, 5. He hasn't been in "Golden Boy" long enough to be bored with the routine. "Rigor mortis has not set in yet," he said. "But I'm told it will."

Album of the week — "Beatles '65" (Capitol) is a lively excursion with the Liverpudlians, including Ringo and his tonsils. (The last time that statement can be made.) Seven of the eleven songs on the album were written by John Lennon and Paul McCartney, and they are the best tunes by far. The Beatles prove they are still the best of their genre.

Deluxe sets — Capitol has issued some goodies for collectors. "The Hawaii Cals De Luxe Set" consists of three records, with 36 tunes divided into instrumental, an all-star set, and songs by the late Alfred Apaka. "The Jazz Story" is a five-record set covering the years from 1919 to the present. The Kingston Trio covers "The Folk Era," with 32 of their best-known songs.

Good albums — "I Can See a New Day" (Pete Seeger, Columbia), "In the '30s, In the '40s" (Louis Armstrong, RCA Victor), "Fete's Place" (Pete Fountain, Coral), "The Dave Clark Five, Coast to Coast" (Epic), "Chim Chim Chere and Other Children's Favorites" (Burl Ives, Disneyland), "Cheers" (Tessie O'Shea, Command) and "White Ginger Blossoms" (Honolulu Symphony conducted by George Barati, Decca).

High classical — Prokofiev's witty "The Love For Three Oranges" (Ultraphone) is given a good performance by the Moscow Radio-Chorus and Symphony and some fine soloists. Virgil Thomson's "Four Saints in Three Acts" from Gertrude Stein's libretto has been issued by RCA Victor. It is a performance recorded in 1947, and the cast is nearly identical to the original cast. Some glowing music here, and Miss Stein's gibberish is highly singable. George Szell conducts the Cleveland Symphony (Epic) is Mousorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition" (with Ravel's orchestration) and Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite."

Blacketout Answer For Oscarcast?

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — How can ABC-TV's annual Academy Awards show insure the attendance of movie stars who stay away and thus deprive it of its full glamor?

Dick Dunlap, who has been guiding the event for the network, has a suggestion and says he is dead serious about it.

Did he think a sponsor would stand for the elimination of a major market like Los Angeles in its Oscar pitches? He thought so.

Did he think Los Angeles and Hollywood area movie fans would stand for the blackout? He shrugged, and left no doubt he felt it was more important that the Academy Awards' telecast maintain the prestige that is necessary to keep it a major event.

There is nothing like getting education into soap opera, so NBC-TV has given its latest daytime serial, "Moment of Truth," a college setting. Toss in all sorts of innuendoes of sex — and rest assured that NBC-TV tosses them in — and the first week of this soaper is on its way to making Edward Albee seem like a tea-dance writer by comparison: The hero of "Moment of Truth" is a psychology professor who also has a private practice. What ho, Virginia Woolf!

Follow the example of televised sports events that want to protect their attendance, and have the Oscarcast blacked out in its home territory — namely, the Los Angeles area.

Dunlap admits it has been distressing to have so many stars stay away from the awards — especially those who are nominated.

Viet Cong Launches New Small Attacks

SAIGON (UPI) — The Viet Cong has launched a series of small attacks within a 25-mile radius of Saigon in an effort to disrupt the American-backed pacification program there, military sources disclosed Saturday.

One of the attacks killed an American military adviser officer and wounded a U.S. Army sergeant. The death was reported earlier. He was the 357th American killed in Viet Nam, the 24th to die in combat with the enemy.

PESA Color Film Made Available

Petroleum equipment suppliers contributions to the oil industry are dramatized in "Partners in Progress", a 12-minute sound and color film produced under the direction of PESA's public relations committee and now available for showing.

Although the film deals with industry activities specifically, in the Permian Basin area, it is a "very good presentation of our contributions to the oil industry's technological progress," said PESA President A. W. Rose. "The film is ideal for showing to employees of member companies, service clubs, civic groups and others."

The film was prepared for presentation by television stations in the Permian Basin area during Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association Week, sponsored as a salute to the service and supply industry by the Odessa Chamber of Commerce.

Member firms wishing to show the film to employees and others should contact the Houston office of PESA, giving dates desired and the date the film can be returned.

U. S. Navy Pilots Held by Algerian Army After Crash

ALGIERS (UPI) — U. S. Embassy officials reported little progress Saturday in efforts to obtain the release of two U. S. Navy pilots held by the Algerian army after a forced landing 180 miles inside Algeria.

Embassy spokesman John Root said approaches to the Algerian government were hampered by the absence from the country of Defense Minister Houari Boumediene and Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika.

He said the situation was further complicated by the fact the young Algerian republic did not have experience in handling such an international incident.

The government of President Ahmed Ben Bella so far has made no statement on the "Green" landing of the two fighter planes from the Sixth Fleet carrier Saratoga, other than to confirm they landed near Djelfa, 180 miles south of Algiers.

The pilots were flying a mercy mission at the time. They had left the Saratoga to search for the Italian vessel Leopold II which had sent out distress signals.

TO SEND TROOPS

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—South Korea announced Friday it will send about 2,000 non-combat troops to South Viet Nam to aid in the government's anti-Communist war.

South Korea already has a medical unit of 130 men and nurses in South Viet Nam.

Quota Limitations Asked On Foreign Feedstocks

NEW ORLEANS — Domestic oil producers have urged that any foreign petroleum feedstocks used for petrochemical processing in a proposed foreign trade-zones plant near this port city be made subject to import limitations under the mandatory oil import program.

This "firm position" of the Independent Petroleum Association of America was expressed by its executive vice president, Minor S. Jameson Jr., Washington, D. C., in a hearing before the Foreign Trade Zones Board.

Jameson said national policy of limiting oil imports as necessary to U. S. security has been established many years. He added that continuing unhealthy conditions in the domestic oil industry require that import controls be strengthened to serve these security objectives.

Any actions having the effect of circumventing or contravening of import limitations must be prevented, he said.

The IPAA official testified on an application of the New Orleans Port Authority supporting establishment of a Foreign Trade Zones subzone at Taft, La., where Union Carbide Corp. proposes to construct a petrochemical plant to operate primarily on foreign petroleum feedstocks.

TESTING OUT THE BUG

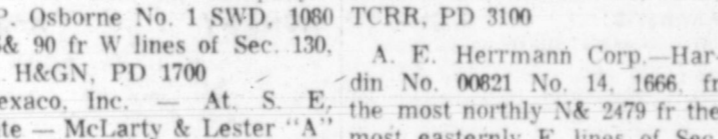

The primary object of the Apollo mission to the moon will be to land two of the three astronauts on the surface. These astronauts will leave the mother ship via a Lunar Excursion Module (LEM), or as it is known to the astronauts, "the bug." The LEM crew will perform various tasks and experiments and then will blast LEM's cab off the moon and back to the Apollo for the return trip home.

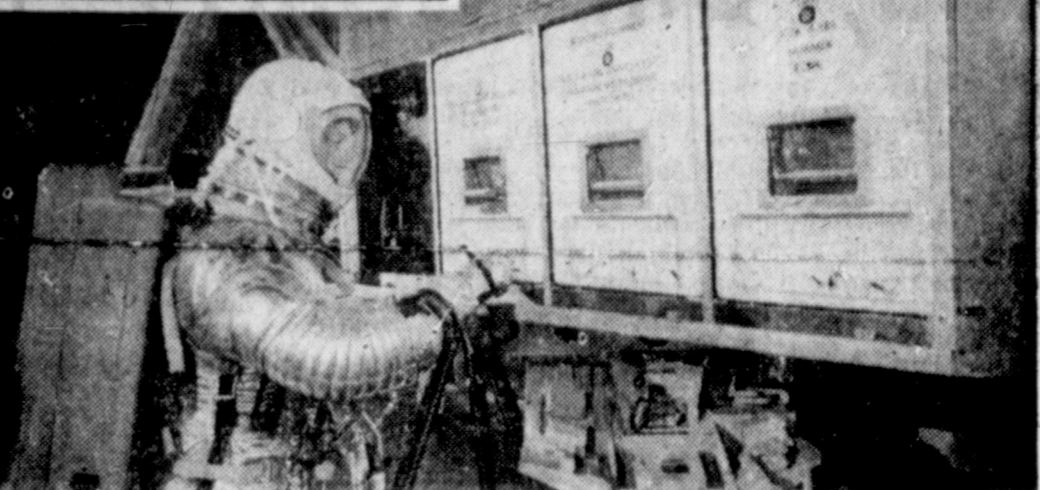

Charles Smythe, wearing a Gemini-type spacesuit, demonstrates the accessibility of equipment for scientific experiments which come in packages. These equipment compartments are mounted on the outside of LEM.

Interior view of the Lunar Excursion Module shows the maze of equipment and instruments the astronauts will have at their disposal. The design of the vehicle is compatible with the astronauts' requirements while they are based on the moon's surface.

Suited engineer embarks from full-scale, all-metal, mock-up of Lunar Excursion Module (LEM), the part of the Apollo spacecraft that will land on the moon.

Charles Smythe, wearing a Gemini-type spacesuit, demonstrates the accessibility of equipment for scientific experiments which come in packages. These equipment compartments are mounted on the outside of LEM.

Interior view of the Lunar Excursion Module shows the maze of equipment and instruments the astronauts will have at their disposal. The design of the vehicle is compatible with the astronauts' requirements while they are based on the moon's surface.

Texas U. to Host Southwest Geologist

AUSTIN, Texas (Sp.) — The University of Texas will host to about 600 geologists from nine cities in Texas and New Mexico during the seventh annual meeting of the Southwestern Federation of Geological Societies Jan. 27-29.

The federation is composed of geological societies in Hobbs and Roswell, N. M., and San Angelo, Midland, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth and Abilene.

The gathering also has been designated as Southwestern regional meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

Major feature of the program will be a symposium on "Oil and Water - Related Resource Problems of the Southwest," concerning the relationship of

Indonesian Force Turned Back by Malaysian Troops

SINGAPORE (UPI)—Malaysian forces Saturday shattered one Indonesian invasion attempt and moved in hard to wipe out two other guerrilla forces already in Malaysia.

At least 18 Indonesian guerrillas were presumed drowned and a total of 31 others were taken prisoner in a series of actions in waters northwest of Singapore and along the swampy coastal region.

An armed band of Indonesians attempting to reach the mainland in a stolen Malaysian tugboat ran into the fire of the Malaysian patrol boat Perak. The Perak's fire ripped the tugboat apart, sinking it. Eighteen Indonesians were believed killed in this action. Twelve survivors were plucked out of the water and taken prisoner.

Nineteen other Indonesian infiltrators were flushed out of coastal swamps and jungles by Malaysian security forces in Panglima and Kotatingi.

Four of those taken prisoner were in a boat off the "guerrilla force" which was intercepted by a Malaysian patrol boat. The four were believed trying to flee Malaysia as security forces pressed hard to track down a band of guerrillas which landed some weeks ago.

The prisoners included Maj. Abu Talib Bin Osman, the highest ranking Indonesian to fall into Malaysian hands.

Premier Tengku Abdul Rahman charged that the heavily-armed Indonesian invaders loaded their arms with dum-dum bullets, long outlawed by most of the civilized world. Such bullets mushroom on impact, causing gaping wounds.

The increased guerrilla activity followed Indonesian President Sukarno's announcement that his country had quit the United Nations.

New Method for Breed Cattle Selection Eyed

A new method for selecting breeding animals, which emphasizes what livestock professors call "functional efficiency," is getting a lot of attention from Texas cattlemen. In it, the fertility potential of cattle is judged by visual appraisal of their physical characteristics. It is best used as a supplement to performance records.

SCS Officials Take Conservation Tours

The Golden Spread Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America attended an agricultural tour at Hereford recently.

Those attending from Pampa were Duane Bartee and Jack Williams. Approximately 40 SCSA members and about 15 guests were present.

The group met at the Community Center in Hereford at 10:00 a.m. for a morning program presented by representatives of the Miller Seed Company, Messrs. George Warner and James Priddy. Warner discussed many of the important aspects of the grass seed industry. He supplemented his talk with colored slides. Some of the main points covered were production of native grass seed production under irrigation, germination characteristics of various head of the Department of Animal Science at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. Bonsma, now serving as a visiting professor at Texas A&M University, was brought to Texas by a grant from the Wortham Foundation of Houston.

Improving Texas' calf crop percentage is Bonsma's primary goal. His solution is the selection of breeding animals with no structural abnormalities and showing no symptoms of endocrinal imbalance. Signs of endocrinal imbalance show up in an animal's appearance.

"Any experienced cattleman can tell at a glance the difference between a steer and a bull," Bonsma points out. "But he seldom recognizes gradations" in differences which are of great importance in assessing the masculinity of the male. A similar situation exists in appraising the relative femininity of the female."

For instance, Bonsma says the subfertile female frequently has coarse hair growth upon the head and neck and is coarse in bone structure. The fertile female, in turn, is generally refined in hair growth and bone growth and bone development, showing over-all femininity. Besides, hair growth and bone development, Bonsma's visual appraisal method considers such body characteristics as fat deposition and distribution and muscle development. He has measured more than 22,000 cows and correlated external measurements with each animal's fertility rating.

Most objective and controlled studies on type, Bonsma maintains, have failed to show any correlation with productive or reproductive capacity.

Gray County SCD News

By VAN MILLS

A stock pond was completed by Elmer McLaughlin on a place he operates north of Laketon. Tom Anderwald has completed a field of land leveling on his place south of Kingsmill. O. R. Blankenship is in the process of completing a terrace system and three diversions on his place west of McLean.

Continuing heavy grazing of sandy ranges seriously restricts the soil's ability to absorb moisture needed for grass production. USDA scientists at Woodward, Okla. found that the water-intake rate of range that had been heavily grazed for 20 years was only half that of lightly grazed rangeland.

Water intake rate was 2.27 inches per hour after heavy grazing, 3.64 inches after moderate grazing, and 4.41 inches after light grazing.

Reduction of vegetative cover by heavy grazing was the principal reason for the accompanying decrease in water intake rates. Tall grasses such as sand bluestem, little bluestem, switchgrass and sand lovegrass were being replaced by short inferior type grasses under heavy grazing.

A little over a year ago Dr. Ralph Durham, formerly head of the Animal Husbandry Department, Texas Tech, made a talk at the McLean Lions Club. A good portion of his talk was devoted to the merits of dairy cattle as feeders. Farris Hess, well known hereford breeder of McLean, challenged Durham to a contest. Durham placed two cows of dairy breeding on the Farris Hess ranch with calves that had sires of dairy breeding. Recently a progress report on this test was made. At time of weaning on Oct. 6, the tech calves weighed 935 pounds. Two calves selected earlier from the Hess herd weighed 985 pounds. Two buyers valued the Tech calves at $72.37 each while the Hess calves were valued at $114.50 each. The four calves were placed on feed at the Triangle Ranch Feed lot at McLean in two pens under identical conditions. On Dec. 28, 1964, these calves were weighed and the feed consumption totaled. The Tech calves had gained 515 pounds and the Hess calves had gained 480. Gain on the Tech calves cost $18.75 per CWT. Gain on the Hess calves was $15.80 per CWT.

The calves are to be slaughtered when they weigh in the neighborhood of 1050 pounds. We will try to give a complete analysis when the test has been completed.

Eben Warner was by the office talking about a ration for some calves he has on feed. We agreed that no change in ration was necessary. He has an all concentrate ration. This is rather new in cattle feeding. For years it was believed that at least one-third of the ration for cattle should be some type of roughage. There has been a revolution in all types of livestock feeding in the past 15 years. With the exception of the development of Silbestrol, cattle feeding has made less progress than any other type of livestock feeding. More pounds of feed are required to put on one pound of gain on beef cattle than any other type of livestock. In the poultry industry some researchers have developed a ration where one pound of feed will produce one pound of gain. In swine they have got this figure below the requirement of 3 pounds of feed to one pound of gain. In cattle it will still vary from six pounds to as high as 14 or 15 pounds of feed per pound of gain. This is why beef is the luxury meat in our diets.

I predict more advances will happen in beef cattle feeding within the next 10 years of any other type feeding.

With a self feeder and a bulk delivery service available in this area at a reasonable price I can see the place for many small farmers to be feeding from 50 to 200 cattle. A windbreak, corrals, and water facilities are already available on most of these farms and are not being used to their maximum.

Charlie West plans to plant some of the hinn soybeans we mentioned in last week's news column. Charlie was asking what the advantage was of hinn over other varieties. Research done at the Halfway Station shows, a substantial yield increase over other varieties. However, some of their own farm plots done under their supervision show little or no advantage for hinn soybeans. At Hereford several other varieties produced more. This was also true at Muleshoe and at Halfway as well. However, the over all average at on-farm locations showed a very slight but not significant advantage to hinn soybean.
