AFTER 30 YEARS

Fears Over For Fugitive

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI)—James R. Jones, who had lived in the dark shadow of fear for 30 years, sat back calmly in his jail cell Tuesday and got it all off his chest.

"I had a continuous fear of being caught — for all these years," said Jones. "I have nothing to hide now."

Jones, 49, was arrested Monday by police who held him for possible extradition to Michigan, where he walked off a prison farm 30 years ago. It was Jones' wife who turned him in.

Jones, who changed his name to James A. Keller when he escaped, has been separated from his wife, Mrs. Mary Ellen Jones, 53, for five months.

Made Threat Good
He said his wife had repeatedly threatened to turn him over to police. She made good her threat Monday while Jones was in Harlingen operating a traveling carnival he owns. He has lived for 15 years in Aransas Pass, Tex., near Corpus Christi on the Gulf Coast.

"I hate to bring her name into it," said Jones, "I hold no bitterness."

Jones' friends say he has led an exemplary life while they have known him.

"The only law violation I ever committed was a ticket I got for creeping through a stop sign in Corpus Christi," said Jones Tuesday. "I got a $5 fine."

Many of his friends, and business associates, including bankers have written to Gov. George Romney of Michigan, hoping he will pardon Jones.

Arrested At 17
Jones and his wife were arrested for burglarizing a farm house. He was 17 at the time and had been married for two years.

"She had been sick and I was broke — it was the depression," Jones said. "But that was not why I broke into the farm house. I was guilty, all right."

He was sentenced to a term of 4 to 5 years. His wife was sentenced to nine months as an accessory in the burglary and served her time. Jones escaped from the farm after serving 22 months of his sentence and joined his wife.

"I got put in solitary confinement once for something I had no part in and they let me out when they found out I was innocent." But from then on I was scared to death I might be put back in solitary. I was afraid I would crack up. That's why I escaped."

Battle Rages in Vientiane To Capture Laos Capital

Russia Nixes Big 4 Talks

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union is opposed to new suggestions for a "big four" conference to settle the thorny problem of German reunification, diplomatic sources said today.

The Russians have indicated a meeting to solve the deadlock at this time would be pointless because new "elements" to warrant fresh discussions have not been developed.

German reunification, according to the Communists, is a problem for the two Germanies. Word of the adamant Soviet stand was disclosed by qualified Communist diplomats who said they foresaw no solution for a long time to come.

Communists Say No
The Communist "nyet" to fresh four-power talk apparently was prompted by recent West German suggestions for a new attempt to settle the reunification question.

It was 20 years ago this month that dividing lines for the East-West occupation zones were drawn up at the Yalta Conference.

The Russian stand conflicts with the Potsdam agreement of 1945, which made the conquering powers responsible for a German settlement.

The Communists, who have blocked German reunification ever since, do not want to relinquish their hold on the Eastern sector of the divided country.

The Communist diplomats claimed that since the end of the war the Eastern and Western zones of Germany have consolidated into independent countries. Further, they claim, it is "up to them" to work out reunification or some alternate solution.

Show No Recognition
The Western Allies and West Germany do not recognize the Communist regime in East Germany and insist it cannot negotiate Germany's future.

German reunification, the Western democracies contend, remains the responsibility of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

The Western powers soon will review their position on reunification at the insistence of the government in Bonn, authoritative Western sources said.

US Marine Barracks Hit by Mortar Fire

By MARTIN STUART-FOX
VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Heavy fighting broke out today in the streets of Vientiane as troops of right-wing Gen. Phoumi Nosavan battled to seize the capital from a new coalition of former rebel colonels.

By noon casualties were known to have reached at least 30 killed and wounded and the death toll from indiscriminate artillery firing was feared to be rising. The U. S. Marine embassy barracks was hit by mortar fire but no injuries were reported.

The second battle for Vientiane erupted when troops under Paksane garrison commander Gen. Kham Kong made a pre-dawn river landing east of the capital and joined national police forces loyal to Gen. Phoumi.

Shooting broke out throughout the city. It was a confused melee of machinegun fire, artillery and mortar barrages. It was concentrated at several spots, including the airport which was seized Sunday by the original rebels who tried and failed to stage a coup.

Most of the civilian population, used to bloodless coups and army bickering, was caught by surprise. But hundreds fled across the Kemong River to Thailand when the first battles were fought Tuesday outside Vientiane.

Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma was holding talks with foreign diplomats in King Savang Vathana palace in Vientiane when the first artillery rounds began bursting. Four shells landed within the palace grounds and forced Souvanna to seek refuge in the French-run Mahosot Hospital.

The shifting of alliances in Laos is nothing new. Since Laos obtained its independence from France it has been torn by civil war and by bickering among three factions—the Communist Pathet Lao, the right-wing forces led by Gen. Phoumi and the neutralists led by Prince Souvanna.

Today, as the right-wing faction splintered, Souvanna accused Phoumi, a deputy premier, of master-minding the attempted Sunday coup in which rebel forces seized the radio station, the airport and a city soccer stadium. Phoumi remained a shadowy figure in the Sunday activities which were led by right-wing Col. Bounleut Saycoie. Since then, it appeared, Bounleut has split with Phoumi and is siding with the army faction he was attempting to oust.

The Phoumi forces were pitted against troops of Gen. Ouane Rattikoun, the army chief of staff, and the Sunday rebels.

Other congressional news:
Education: The House general education subcommittee began closed sessions to work on President Johnson's $1.2 billion program for aid to elementary and secondary schools. The group was expected to keep the main points of Johnson's plan in drafting its own version.

Baker: Senate Rules Committee Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N. C., said his group's inquiry into an alleged $25,000 payoff to President Johnson's 1960 campaign involving former Senate aide Bobby Baker was almost complete. The committee is scheduled to hear former White House aide Walter Jenkins on another phase of the investigation at its next session.

Aid: The Senate scheduled floor debate on a $1.6 billion supplementary agricultural appropriation bill containing funds for the Food For Peace program. Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, planned to seek passage of an amendment which would give Congress control over further food shipments to Egypt.

'Hopped Up' Teen-Agers Confess Wanton Slaying

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three unemployed high school dropouts Tuesday night confessed the wanton slaying of a 66-year-old clerk on a deserted street near his home after robbing him of less than $15.

Police said the boys were "hopped up on pills" when they encountered Railway Express clerk Fred Christiansen Sunday night, took his wallet, knocked him to the ground and left him lying in the snow with 19 bullet wounds in his body.

Deputy Chief of Detectives Michael Spiatto said two of the youths were 16 years old and the third was 17. They were captured Tuesday after the mothers of the younger boys reported their sons missing.

A .22 caliber rifle was recovered from a basement hide-away apartment the boys had rented. Police said they had linked the weapon to the Christiansen slaying as well as to the attempted robbery of a grocery 90 minutes before the killing.

Mrs. Bernice Dorff, 57, who was fired upon ten times during the robbery attempt at the grocery, identified one of the boys in a police lineup early today. Her husband identified another.

"Oh, now I can sleep," Mrs. Dorff said after the identification.

Lawrence Dziak, 71, who said he turned over $345 in cash and an $800 check to two youths who poked a rifle from their car window while he was caring for his auto Monday night, identified one of the boys in the lineup.

One wore a pork-pie hat in the lineup, similar to that shown in a police artist's sketch drawn from a description given by Mrs. Dorff. The youths answered police questions mechanically during the lineup questioning.

Police said all three boys signed confessions to the Christiansen slaying. They said only two boys were involved in the Dziak robbery and both confessed.

All three boys had previous police records for car theft. Two were on probation from a home for delinquent boys and the third had spent time in a reformatory.

Fort Urges Probe of City Sales Tax Plan

City Commissioner L. P. Fort today warned Pampans that machinery has been set in motion in Austin to invoke use of a city sales tax to produce more revenue for Texas cities.

Fort stated that a bill has been introduced in the Texas Legislature within the past week to enable cities to impose a sales tax of not less than one-half per cent and not more than one per cent.

To nip the city retail sales tax plan in the bud, the commissioner proposed that the Pampa Chamber of Commerce make a full investigation of the enabling act "and take appropriate action."

The bill was introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin. It is called the "Local Retail Sales Act" and its sponsors in the House are Rep. J. M. Simpson of Amarillo, Rep. Dudley Mann of El Paso and Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake.

The legislation, which now goes to committee for study, would authorize cities by a majority vote of qualified voters to impose a local retail sales tax of from one-half to one per cent.

Such an election could be called by a majority vote of the city commission after petitions had been submitted by 20 per cent of qualified voters at the last regular city election.

Commissioner Fort indicated however, that with voter registrations down in an off-year election, an organized movement could easily put the sales tax issue across in any city.

Fort said that the bill introduced in the House by Rep. Traeger proposes that the money collected by cities from a sales tax would be paid to the state comptroller along with present state sales tax collections. The money would be handled by the state for a "small fee." The portion left then would be returned to the cities.

Fort said he did not know exactly what amount of city sales taxes could be collected in Pampa under such a bill.

He said he believed a city retail sales tax in Pampa would work a hardship on local businesses.

"Since this would be a local option law," the commissioner said, "Pampa might adopt a city sales tax and Borger might decide not to adopt it. This would drive business from Pampa to Borger where the tax could be avoided."

In addition to that, the commissioner declared that any business could set up just outside the city limits and be exempt from the city sales tax.

Said Commissioner Fort: "The first comforting thought might be that Pampa does not have to pass such legislation. That is true, but with such a small number of poll taxes being paid this year, a small organized group could put it across."

"The time to oppose this measure is now, and I propose that the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Commerce make a full investigation of the proposal and take appropriate action."

Adventurer Jailed In Passport Fraud

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 25-year-old adventurer was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of turning over passports to Communist agents in East Berlin.

Edward V. Hanrahan, United States attorney said Paul Carl Meyer, was charged with fraudulently obtaining the passports from the Chicago office of the State Department.

The charges contended that Meyer obtained the passports in November of 1962 by having 15 persons apply for passports on the representation that they were to be employed by Meyer in Europe.

Investigators arrested the tall, mustachioed Meyer Tuesday as he left his modest Northwest side apartment.

The indictment against him had been returned moments before he was arrested.

Hanrahan said the persons who applied for the passports and later turned them over to Meyer apparently were victims of the scheme. Hanrahan called Meyer "a sole entrepreneur."

"There is no indication of an espionage ring involved," Hanrahan said.

The four-count indictment charged Meyer with illegally delivering the passports and with misusing one of them himself and that he handed them over to representatives of the U. S. S. R. in East Berlin in February, 1963.

Meyer enlisted in the United States Army in July of 1963 and was in the Army until July of 1964, it was reported.

U.N. Financial Deadlock Clogs Other Measures

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Western officials today expressed disappointment that the U.N. financial deadlock has prevented progress in the General Assembly on three important disarmament issues.

Because of the impasse since Dec. 1 over Russia's debts, and right to vote, the assembly has avoided action on any business that might require a vote, disarmament included.

With the assembly in recess for a week and speculation that a further postponement of several weeks is in store, hopes have all but vanished for any disarmament agreement at the present session.

Informed sources said some neutral nations were pushing for a resumption of the meetings of the U.N. disarmament commission, an unwieldy body of all 114 U.N. members.

'Widow Vultures' Can Multiply Your Grief

(First of Four Articles)
By MRS. DONN SUTTON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The day I became a widow I wanted to die. My husband's life and mine were so intertwined with love and companionship and common interests that it was inconceivable to me that life could go on without him.

My friends and relatives rallied round. One friend took over the house and answered the phone, keeping all messages of sympathy for me. Others brought food in, ran errands, called on me and my children to console us, dined with us.

Then the funeral. It was soon over and I was left there with my great loneliness. You really don't know how dependent you are upon your husband till the day you don't have him.

Hard as it is to force yourself out, to put aside your grief and loneliness, it is so important to do so.

I shall always remember the first time I was invited to dinner with some dear friends. They had invited a few other couples, all of whom I knew well. It was a bitter cold, snowy, dark evening and I had to drive 15 miles alone to their home. I mustered up what courage I could and made the trip I had always taken before with my husband.

When I entered their house and saw the faces of my friends they were solemn, grave and sympathetic. I was so relieved to be there, so happy to see them, that suddenly sadness left me. I felt joyous and grateful and smiling. Spontaneously the solemnity left their faces. We had a delightful evening as only old friends can.

You are, in widowhood, setting out on an uncharted course. Chances are over a period of years you have had your life absorbed by your husband and children. When you are left alone, your whole outlook changes.

First, you no longer have the protection of your home or the shelter of your husband's love. Most of us have lived in our own small world of household duties, rearing a family, being the best kind of wife we know how and a companion to our husband.

It was just a temporary loan to "tide him over for a short time"

Many of the harsh, cold realities of life have been about us all the while, but only now are we aware of them. Our sex is noted for its adaptability. Your adjustments will come all in good time.

There is no need to panic and upset your entire life's pattern by any hasty action. Make only the changes at first which are absolutely imperative. In your state of grief and shock so much you do will be wrong. Time heals and corrects many things. Take that time!

Unfortunately, some tradespeople and sales promoters consider a widow easy prey. Be watchful. Do not be gullible. Do keep your wits about you. Particularly in money matters, some people may try to take advantage of you.

In choosing persons to handle your legal and business affairs, get advice from friends whom you respect. Remember, where money is involved, whether the sum be large or small, families at times are separated and money matters can spoil friendships. Generally it is better to put your affairs in the hands of professional people who are not close friends.

There are predatory men who make an occupation of preying upon lonely women. These are the "widow vultures."

They lead you to believe that you are the most alluring, adorable, irresistible woman in the world. They flatter you, are romantic, call you often by phone, are solicitous, can't bear being away from you.

And what a joy it is to hear all these lovely things. You have been lonely, grieved, feel unwanted, abandoned, and suddenly the world seems bright and gay. You feel and act just like a schoolgirl and you can't seem to help it.

If this man comes along, let us hope you won't be too gullible, that you won't marry in haste, sign any blank checks, or turn over any insurance money to him.

Try just to enjoy the courtship so that it may be merely a diversion for you if it alleviates some of your pain and grief.

A charming woman of our knowledge had worked hard at ter her husband's death to become a real estate agent and get her license. She was highly respected professionally in her community when she became enchanted by a man who succeeded in getting her to make a temporary loan to him — "to tide him over for a short time while he was consummating a big business venture."

The loan was never repaid. But in order to get the money, our real estate acquaintance borrowed some of the proceeds from the sale of a house which she had just made for a friend who lived in Mexico. The friend finally asked for the money which wasn't forthcoming. Now the widow faces prosecution for embezzlement, will lose her real estate license for which she studied and worked so hard, her livelihood and reputation.

She is now in the process of trying to work it out by confessing to her friend what she has done. She hopes to arrange to repay her $600 monthly from her income until her debt is paid in full.

In the meantime, the man has gone on to track down another gullible woman and other "big business deals."

NEXT: Develop your skills.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

The reins of the Pampa Council of Garden Clubs were turned over to a new slate of officers last week. Serving for a two year term will be this columnist as president; first vice president, Mrs. Ed Parsons, second vice president, Mrs. Kenneth Osborn; secretary, Mrs. Al Kouri, and treasurer, Mrs. Holly Gray.

For the past two years the council has been under the leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Osborn who served as first president. Garden clubs and plant societies which are members of the Council are Pampa African Violet Society, Top O' Texas Garden Club, Mr. and Mrs. Garden Club, Pampa Rose Society and the Pampa Garden Club.

These five organizations contribute much to Pampa and serve a very special purpose of uniting persons who have a common interest. More news will be forthcoming as to some worthwhile activities by some of these groups.

Two trees have been planted in the Aspen Park in memory of Mr. Paul Skidmore, who was a very capable park superintendent in Pampa. One of the trees is a black walnut, the other a supreme bois d'arc which was donated by Paul Bruce of Bruce's Nursery for which we are very grateful. Bruce propagated these trees by grafting from a specimen found in Southeast Texas. The supreme bois d'arc is a beautiful tree with large waxy leaves that look like a tropical tree and can be seen in a special planting at Bruce's Nursery in Alanreed. This variety does not have the thorns and apples as does the common variety. For the benefit of anyone who would like to watch the growth of the supreme bois d'arc in Aspen Park, the tree has been planted several feet to the east of the foot of the steps just off Linda Drive where Aspen Street intersects. G. E. McConnell called recently with some information on his experience with certain kinds of lawn grasses which he grows and sells. We will have details on this information at a later date.

Dear Abby... Divorcee Should Check 'Dead' Marriage Facts

DEAR ABBY: A woman with a nice-sounding voice telephoned me and asked if I had a daughter by the name of — let's call her "Marcia." I said yes I had. Then she said that if Marcia did not leave her son alone, there was going to be trouble. She said her son is a married man with a family, and Marcia is running after him. The two work together, it seems, and this woman said everyone at work is talking and it could cost her son his job.

I asked my daughter about it and she said the man was 42 years old, had been divorced for two years, and that his mother had been dead a long time. She told me not to pay any attention to the telephone call, but I can't help worrying about it. My daughter is 33 (divorced) and has her own apartment. What would you do in my place?

A WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: You warned your daughter, which is all you can do. If anything is to be done, your daughter must do it. She would be wise to check further on the man to find out if his marriage is "dead" and his mother is living.

DEAR ABBY: What makes people, who can ill afford to spend the money, pick up a telephone and make a long-distance call that comes to 15 or 20 dollars, when they can write a letter for only a few cents? We know many people like that.

DEAR IRRITATED: And so does everyone else. Some folks, of course, are just too lazy to write. But I suspect that the majority of the "I'd rather call than write" breed are unable to write an adequate letter. I am not knocking the long-distance telephone, but more people had better learn to spell and write correctly, and attempt to express themselves with the written word, or the art of letter writing will eventually be lost.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the woman who wrote that her nifty neighbor had the habit of walking into her home without knocking. I once had a neighbor who did the same thing. We were living in the tropics, and my husband, who was a pilot, had just come home from a particularly long and grueling flight. As he walked into the kitchen, he said, "Honey, I'm so hot and dirty. I'm going to shuck my clothes right here." And he did just that.

Only seconds later, my neighbor came bursting through the back door without knocking. Well, I don't recommend this method to everyone who wants to cure a nifty neighbor of not knocking, but it certainly cured mine.

It took a while for the fashion industry to promote the "look," but it's caught on in cold weather climates like the sniffler — the combination of fur hat, or fake fur hat, and boots. Around New York, the hats come in great bundles of long-haired furs, in mink, and in the fakes in both neutrals and bright shades — notably pink. Boots range in height from ankle to just below the knee.

City Businessmen Hear Speech on Labor Legislation

The first meeting of 1965 of the new Chamber of Commerce congressional action committee attracted some 30 Pampa businessmen yesterday for a noon luncheon in the Coronado Inn. D. W. Bond, an employee of Cabot, outlined the major labor legislation facing the 89th Congress.

Bond stated that Congress will deal with right to work laws, minimum wage, double pay for overtime and the 35 hour work week during this session.

The speaker said the four proposals are strongly backed by labor and President Johnson. Roy Sparkman, program chairman of the committee, acted as master of ceremonies at the meeting.

The congressional action committee is headed by Don Lane and meets the first Tuesday of each month.

Car Tag Sales Pace Slackers

After an initial rush, the county tax collector's office said sales of 1965 car tags has slackened to a normal pace.

Tax Collector Jack Back said that on Monday, the first day of car tag sales, an unusually large number of persons were on hand to purchase the tags.

All motor vehicles in the state must bear 1965 license tags by April 1. The license may be purchased anytime between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday or between 8:30 a.m. and noon on Saturday.

Tags this year bear three letters and either two or three numbers as compared with two letters and two, three or four numbers in previous years.

Back said the change to three letters was made to aid identification of cars. Gray County has been assigned a combination of 17 different letter combinations.

Youth Improving After Accident

A 17-year-old Pampa youth, Pete Pettit, Star Route 2, was listed in good condition in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo today.

Pettit was involved in a hunting accident Sunday near the Cabot Plant, West of Pampa. Pettit's father said the youth was standing on a piece of pipe and a bullet, fired from a gun of one of Pettit's hunting companions, ricocheted, striking the youth in the eye.

Pettit was taken to Highland General Hospital by his companions and then transferred to the Amarillo hospital where he underwent eye surgery.

Forced Pooling Bill Goes Back to Senate

By WILLIAM HAMILTON

AUSTIN (UPI)—The much publicized "forced pooling" bill went back on the Senate floor today. The Oil and Gas Committee gave the bill its support Tuesday after a long and noisy hearing.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Galloway Calhoun Jr. of Tyler, would give the Texas Railroad Commission authority to require small lease owners to pool their leases with each other and divide the take accordingly.

Major oil firms and the larger independent operators favor the plan. A Palacios landowner, the Rev. H.A. Whitfield, denounced the plan in committee and accused bill supporters of "putting a little more socialism in my craw."

Malcolm Abel of Midland, president of Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO), said the bill was fair and had broad support from oilmen. A TIPRO committee wrote the measure.

Sen. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur was hopeful his emergency appropriation for Lamar College Technology would go through today or Thursday. It provides $828,380 to replace a science building that burned down on the Beaumont campus.

Tuesday the Senate gave approval to a resolution by Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo advocating a federal constitutional amendment to knock out the U.S. Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" ruling on state legislative apportionment.

Fifteen other states have approved the resolution, said Hardeman, with 33 needed to call a constitutional convention.

The House Tuesday passed and sent to the Senate an emergency appropriation sought by Gov. John Connally calling for some $690,000 for continuation of the state water and mental health studies and the screw-worm eradication program in South Texas.

The first bill of the session to clear final action and go to the governor also saw action in the house Tuesday. This proposal allows cities to contract for federal library funds through the state library and historical association for local library construction.

There currently is more than $2 million in federal funds available under this program, pending passage of the proposal by the legislature.

In night committee action Monday night, the House Constitutional Amendments Committee heard testimony on three proposals and assigned each to subcommittee.

One would allow the state to issue $200 million in bonds for college student loans, another would set the start of state legislators' terms to coincide with the opening of the legislative session, and the third would extend jurisdiction of notaries public statewide.

The Senate Finance Subcommittee Tuesday night heard spending requests for the next biennium from the state teacher college group, including East Texas State, Sam Houston State, Southwest Texas State and West Texas State.

Panhandle Due Cool Weekend

A warming trend gave Pampans some relief from freezing temperatures today but the five-day forecast called for a cooler weekend.

Southerly breezes were expected to push the temperature to about the mid-50s by this afternoon, the warmest it has been since the weekend.

The forecast called for even warmer temperatures tomorrow with a high around 60.

At dawn today, the temperature in Pampa stood at 21, after an overnight low of 18 and a high yesterday of 43.

Generally fair skies were reported over most of the Panhandle today, where the long-range outlook called for temperatures as much as 2 to 6 degrees below normal. No rain or snow was in prospect.

The coldest spot in the state last night was Dalhart where a 13 degree reading was recorded. Some light rain was reported in the Eastern sections of the state.

The local forecast, direct from the U.S. Weather Bureau in Amarillo, called for clear to partly cloudy skies today and tomorrow. Warmer today and tomorrow. High tomorrow around 60 and the low tonight around 25. Winds should be southerly at 10 to 20 m.p.h.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Compared to the struggle in South Viet Nam, Laos is a sideshow.

But the United States' interest in both is the same. That is to prevent either from falling to a Communist take-over which like falling dominoes, would increase the threat to neighboring Thailand, Malaysia and ultimately the Philippines.

Thus internal rivalries which threaten or topple U.S.-supported regimes can be no more welcome in Laos than in South Viet Nam.

And so it was this week in Laos.

This was a so-called colonel's revolt but in reality a conflict between two Laotian generals, both of them nominally loyal to the neutralist government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma. And, although presently loyal, both had made previous attempts to overthrow the Souvanna Phouma regime.

Between them they threatened what little stability there is in the dusty and dilapidated Laotian capital of Vientiane where Souvanna Phouma attempts to maintain a government under constant threat of renewed attack by the Communist-led Pathet Lao.

On the one side is former strongman and present deputy Premier Gen. Phoumi Nosavan. Back in 1959 Phoumi Nosavan was riding high with U.S. support in opposition to Souvanna Phouma.

With the coming of U.S. support for a neutralist government his influence began to fade and went into further decline last April when another military coup led by Gen. Kouprasith Abhay and Gen. Sino Lamphouthacoul once more temporarily upset the Souvanna Phouma regime.

Holding Money Strings — The United States, holding the strings on the money bags, forced the return to office of Souvanna Phouma but both Kouprasith and Sino retained much of their influence. Kouprasith as deputy chief of the army and Sino as commander of Vientiane police.

Secret arrests and even assassination became not uncommon in the once sleepy streets of Vientiane and there was considerable doubt about the authority Souvanna Phouma exercised over either commander.

In between were the real neutralists, liked neither by the extreme right nor by the Communists.

The Communists have withdrawn from any real participation in the neutralist government set up under the 1962 accord and the neutralists themselves practically have disappeared in government, with Souvanna himself openly accusing the Communists of aggression.

Hearings Underway On Misuse of Drugs

The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce began hearings last week on H. R. 2, a bill designed to deal with proper control of depressant, stimulant and hallucinatory drugs. It is the opinion of many that these drugs should be brought under controls similar to those applying to narcotics such as opium and heroin.

Most of the drugs referred to in H. R. 2 are valuable therapeutic agents and render a distinct service to mankind. However, the abuse and misuse of barbiturates, which are central-nervous-system depressants for use where a hypnotic or sedative effect is desired; of amphetamines and similar central nervous system stimulants, which serve as treatment for depression and control of appetite; tranquilizers, which are usually helpful in the treatment of distressed and disturbed patients, are causing great tragedy in this country in the form of rising toll of deaths on the highway, juvenile delinquency, violent and bizarre crimes, suicides and other anti-social behavior.

Previous hearings in the Congress have established that the abuse and misuse of these drugs has been on a marked increase, and that this increase has been in the small as well as the large communities. The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, George P. Larrick, testified that the illegal traffic in amphetamines spawned in truck stops, service stations, and roadside taverns had spread throughout the Nation. That there were organized rings bootlegging barbiturates and amphetamine drugs; that it is an interstate and a national problem in all respects, and that tremendous profits are involved. For example, the Food and Drug Administration has established that amphetamines can be purchased at wholesale at less than $1.00 per thousand, and sold at wholesale in the illegal traffic at $30 to $50 per thousand, and at retail for as much as 10 to 25 cents each.

This substantial profit makes this business most inviting to organized criminals and could very well bring about another era of gangsterism. In addition to barbiturates and amphetamines, it is important to note that there are other types of drugs capable of causing unnatural effects, and hence, subject to misuse and abuse. In one instance, a chemical commonly referred to as LSD25, which produces immediate hallucinations and aberrations, was also found capable of inducing lasting changes in the mental and emotional stability of some users. Instances of some college students who took doses of the drug for thrills became disturbed to the point that they had to leave college, or even enter mental institutions. Tranquilizers have also become agents of abuse and it was concluded by one authority that the popularity agents rival barbiturates.

The problems posed must be solved. The Food and Drug Administration is asking for substantial expansion of Federal authority, including wide discretionary powers. The question before the Congress is the extent of power that should be vested in a Federal bureau (which is not directly answerable to the electorate) without invading the Constitutional guarantees of the private citizen, and without pre-empting the rights and powers of the States. Hitler would have solved the problem by simply commissioning his Gestapo to deal with the subject without regard for the innocent people that might be hurt.

The United States, however, places the rights of innocent people first. Hence, the Congress must be very careful in the powers and authority it delegates to a board or a bureau. It is in a situation of this kind that the aid and assistance of all God-fearing, law-abiding citizens of this Country is needed to solve a difficult problem yet retain the rights of the individual under the Constitution.

Backstairs At The Whitehouse

By ALVIN SPIVAK
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backstairs at the White House: President Johnson's aid and newsmen who cover him, are wondering — hopefully — whether his bout with a severe cold will inspire him to look for a warm locale at which to spend weekends and longer holidays.

His LBJ Ranch in Texas offers a warmer climate than Washington's — but the weather can be nippy in winter, as it was when he spent about four days there prior to his Jan. 20 inauguration.

Johnson has shown some interest, privately, in finding a sunny vacation retreat to which he can go to relax or to work away from the grind of telephone calls and visitors at the White House.

Some of his associates have been talking up Palm Springs, Calif., where the Chief Executive met last year with former Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Others have suggested that he consider Florida, perhaps the naval base at Key West, where former President Harry S. Truman used to go.

The President, as is to be expected, has been mum about this. He hardly ever gives advance notice about his travels and resents a lot of advance speculation about where he is going.

One aide jokingly tried to "plant" a story that Johnson had decided against vacationing at St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, figuring the President might want to reverse such speculation.

The late President John F. Kennedy's winter trips to Palm Beach, Fla., gave him the sunshine and away-from-Washington relaxation that he preferred.

Pampa Stays Unbeaten With Win Over Bulldogs

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters remained on top of the district 2-A heap with their fifth straight victory of the second round last night, but for the first time in two weeks, had to battle for a victory as they defeated Plainview, 70-56.

The Harvesters reserves, usually opening the fourth quarter, weren't allowed in the game until the final minutes as the towering Ronnie Peret and his mates stayed in the ball game most of the way.

Peret belted home 28 points, 26 of them in the second half as the Bulldogs led during much of the first and second quarters, only to fall behind by 10 points at halftime. Peret came back to slice the lead to four points early in the third quarter, but Davy McDaniel and Ron Curlee put Pampa back into a double-figure margin and Plainview, deep in foul trouble, was unable to come back again as four Pampa starters scored in double figures.

Pampa outrebounded Plainview, 25 to 24. Peret grabbed 13 off the boards, but Mac McWilliams pulled down nine and McDaniel seven as Ropes Roper kept blocking the 6-9 all-state out of the way, allowing his mates to snare the ball.

Plainview jumped to a 4-0 lead on a tip-in by Peret and a corner shot by Tommy Sawyer. The Harvesters put on the press and came fighting back, Lanny Lewis and McWilliams pulling the Big Green into a seven-all tie. The game was tied three times before Peret put Plainview back into the lead.

Pampa came back once more and McDaniel tied the score at 14-14, with Roper, McDaniel and Lewis striking in quick succession for a 21-14 quarter lead.

McWilliams hopped on the boards in the second quarter, but Pampa couldn't find the basket for the opening three minutes, while Peret and Bob Bolding fought back into a 22-21 lead.

The lead changed hands three times until Curlee hit a layup and Roper a pair of free throws for a 27-24 edge. McWilliams hit and Lewis stole the ball and went in for a crisp shot to make it 31-24. Peret stopped the surge with a charity, but McWilliams and Roper hit in succession for a 35-25 halftime margin.

Sawyer and Charles McAllister cut the edge to 37-33, but that was the stubborn Bulldogs' last gasp as both sides fouled frequently in the press, the Harvesters again showing their marksmanship at the free throw line to pull away to a 12-point lead.

Peret hit three straight to cut the edge to eight, but the "Mc" boys, Davy and Kenneth, hit in a row to make it 53-42 going into the final frame.

Peret and Sawyer both picked up their fourth foul in the opening minute of the fourth quarter, Sawyer fouling out soon after, and Pampa stretched it out behind Lewis' three-point play to 14. Both teams snorbed past the press, with Lewis picking up free throws, hitting 10 of 11 for the evening, and with a 16-point edge and 2:06 left, the reserves went in.

Little Richard Fatheree, 6'11" of him, thrilled the partisan crowd in the final seconds when he beat Peret to a rebound and put it up and in.

The Pampa Shockers slammed to one of their most impressive wins of the season in the opener, 66-46 as Roy Harper scored 28 points and Steve Williams 11.

HOOKED OUT — Ronnie Peret, the Plainview giant, beats Pampa's Ropes Roper and Mac McWilliams to the basket with a hook shot. Peret canned 28 points, but the Harvesters won again.

Miami vs. Miami Play In Miami!

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

The Miami University basketball team hopes it never sees Miami again.

It isn't that the boys are tired of the tropical weather because they spend most of their winter in frost-bitten Ohio but what bothered the players is the cold reception they received from the University of Miami at the Miami Beach Convention Hall.

Although it sounds more like a Florida promotional stunt, Miami of Ohio actually faced Miami of Florida Tuesday night.

The Redskins from up North, Mid-America Conference leaders, laid claim to the name Miami more than 100 years before the Florida institution opened its doors, but it was the upstarts from Dixie which prevailed in basketball with a 100-85 victory.

Rick Barry, the nation's highest scorer, notched 29 points while raising his career total to 2003 at the Coral Gables, Fla., school. Charlie Coles gained consolation honors for the Redskins by outscoring Barry with 31 points.

Took Early Lead

The South's Miami grabbed an early lead in the game and once forged ahead by as many as 23 points in gaining its 14th victory in 18 games. But the Ohio school, which lost its third contest, is likely to have the last laugh since first place in the NCAA tournament while the Hurricanes can't go anywhere due to recruiting violations.

Davidson, the only member of the nation's top 10 to see action, scored an 84-78 Southern Conference victory over VMI, Virginia Tech remained second in the running with a 94-74 trouncing of Richmond. Minnesota mastered Northwestern 70-66 and Syracuse stopped Niagara 83-76 in other important games.

Dick Snyder tossed in 22 points and center Fred Hetzel added 20 as sixth-ranked Davidson won its 18th straight, the longest streak of any major team in the country. The Wildcats remained undefeated in conference play as all five starters scored in double figures.

Miami Romps Over Kelton

By MIKE McHONE

KELTON — Visiting Miami stayed in the District 2-B race with a pair of romps over Kelton last night, the Warriors smashing to an 82-46 win and the Warriorettes 44-33.

Big Ray Guerrero and Scorpion Gill completely dominated the backboards as the Warriors ran up a 33-9 quarter lead behind Lloyd Seitz' 12 points, Guerrero's 10 and Dave Bowers' nine.

Guerrero came back for another 10 and a 49-20 halftime lead and the reserves played most of the second half with Tilden Moore and Jack Evans leading the way.

Guerrero had 22 points, Bowers and Seitz 14 each and Gary Lister 11. Kenneth Abernathy had 19 and Lynn Arthur 11 for Kelton.

The Warriorettes were a little off the pace in a foul-filled game, but still had too much class for the Lionesses, taking 12-6, 27-11 and 31-17 quarter stops.

Fifty fouls were called in the game, but only one player fouled out.

Hefty Patricia Dodson got 23 points, Connie Ratliff 10 for Miami. Joyce Waiser had 14 in defeat.

Miami hosts undefeated Briscoe in a pair of crucial games Friday night.

'Confusion Open' Set

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — The Bob Hope Desert Classic, also known as the Confusion Open, gets underway today with the big five of pro golf hoping to break the string of longshot winners on the winter tour.

All of the top money winners of 1964 — Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, Tony Lema and Bobby Nichols — are entered in the $100,000 classic.

But so are the darkhorse winners of the previous four tournaments staged this year — Paul Harney, the Los Angeles Open; Wes Ellis Jr., who won at San Diego; Australian Bruce Crampton, the Bing Crosby Pro Am; and George Archer, a sophomore tourist who captured last week's "acky in-a-nasal" event.

Both Nicklaus and Archer were ailing on the eve of the tournament — Nicklaus with an upset stomach and long George with a bad back. But both hoped to show up on the first tee.

This event is sometimes called the Confusion Open because it is a 90-hole affair staged on four different courses. Even tournament-wise pros have been known to show up on the wrong course with the wrong trio of amateurs at the wrong time.

PJH Downed

The flu-stricken Pampa Junior High Reapers lost a 65-39 decision to Perryton yesterday, with the 8th grade also going down, 45-23.

Larry Hastings had 11 points, Don Whitney 10 for the Reapers, Dan Carlton had eight and Johnny Karr five for the 8th. PJH is at Dumas Thursday.

Dumas Wins Junior Title

The Dumas Gremlins won the junior high district basketball championship yesterday as Roy Giles' three-point play with eight seconds to go clinched a 50-47 win over the Lee Rebels.

Dumas led all the way on the tremendous play of 6'2" Ronnie McInturff, 9-6, 22-18 and 34-26 at the quarter stops.

The Gremlins held a 10-point lead opening the fourth quarter, but a tremendous Lee press, behind the shooting of Jim Cornutt and Johnny Marsh, cut the lead to two points before Dumas clinched it on free throws.

McInturff had 16 points, Glenn Bonner 11, Cornutt had 13, Beatie Bailey 12 and Marsh 10 for the Rebs.

Dumas unveiled another "sky-scraper" in the person of 6'3" David "Tiny" Ruth, who led the eighth grade to a 35-21 win over the Johnny Rebs. Ruth had 13 points, Jim Hollis eight and Gary Parrish seven for the Johnnies.

Samnorwood Nips Groom

SAMNORWOOD — David Kendrick hit both ends of a one-and-one with two seconds left on the clock to give the Eagles a 49-48 district win over Groom.

Groom trailed throughout the game until the fourth quarter, 15-14, 28-24, 38-33 when Jerry Roberts single-handedly pulled them ahead midway in the final frame.

Sam Leslie tied the game, but Roberts hit a free throw and Groom kept the one-point edge until the foul.

Roberts had 31 points, Kendrick 15, Gary Stice 11.

Samnorwood girls led all the way in a 54-36 win. Sue Breeding had 22 and Susan Bentley 21 points for the winners, Carla Barker had 17 for Groom.

Groom is off until next Tuesday at Quail.

LEFORS — The crippled Lefors Pirates were no match for Allison last night, 66-51, while the Pirettes went ice-cold in the second half to give the visiting gals a 52-34 win.

Minus their leading scorer, Ace Roberts, the Bucs were shy of points to stop the deadly trio of George Markham, Punk Childress and Gary Hall as Allison led 14-8, 26-21 and 40-32.

Larry Pruett again did a fine job with 23 points, fighting the boards with Childress, Dickie Archer came in for nine key points and Dickie Sims was a ball-hawking standout. Markham had 18 points, Childress 16 and Hall 14.

Lefors gals led at the quarter, 17-7, fell behind at the half, 26-24 and then lost the touch as Allison took a 33-30 third-quarter lead.

Louise Miller had 29 and Margaret Powlage 14 for the winners. Vicki Stone had 20 for Lefors, 14 in the first half, and Kathy Gatlin had 10.

Lefors is at Mobeetie Friday with Roberts, recovering from pneumonia, still in doubt.

Windom Leads McLean Over Canadian Cats

CANADIAN — Eddie Jay Windom scored a career high of 44 points to lead McLean to a 71-59 win over Canadian last night, but the Wildkitties split the district 2-A honors with a 49-39 upset of the Tigresses.

Windom hit throughout the game on baseline drives and free throws, tallying eight field goals and seven of eight charities in the first half to lead McLean to a 13-9 quarter and 30-21 halftime lead.

The Wildcats put on a full-court press in the third quarter and sophomore Johnny Walker, Mike Cullender and Gary Harrell led Canadian into a 36-35 lead. The score went back and forth until Bob Hext fouled out and George Green put McLean back ahead, 47-43.

Windom went wild again in the final frame to break the game open as two more Cats fouled out.

Green added 14 for McLean, Walker had 17, Ken Harrell 14 and Butcherboy Eckles 12 for Canadian.

Dora Mae Hext led the Kittens in a fourth-quarter rally for the win. McLean led all the way by a narrow margin, 13-10 and 22-21 before Squeaky Petree tied it at 32-all going into the last quarter. Dora Mae put the Kitts ahead by three and Canadian went into a stall, adding it up on crisp shots.

Wellington Takes Girls Loop Crown

By ROGER SIMMONS
News Sports Correspondent

WELLINGTON — The Wellington girls clinched the district 2-A title with a 53-47 victory over the White Deer Does, while the White Deer Bucks lost their sixth one-point heart-breaker of the season, 59-58.

Both Wellington teams came from behind to win, with the Rockettes' victory keeping the defending girl champs undefeated and handing the Does their second loss to the Rockettes.

The score went back and forth until Linda Hawpe hit a free throw and Kay Schultz fired home a 35-foot jump shot at the buzzer for a 15-12 WD lead. Six-foot Dorothy Courtney slammed in 11 points in the second period to spark the Rockettes to a 29-27 halftime margin.

The score went back and forth again in the third quarter until Doe guard Carolyn Young fouled out and Wellington moved into a 37-35 margin on free throws.

Wellington then spread it out on free throws as Cindy Hubbard and Colleen Crawford fouled out in the closing minutes. Dorothy totalled 28 points, Sharon Finley 16, Joyce Holton 12, Cindy had 27 markers, Linda 13. The Bucks led through the first three quarters, only to have a Wellington full-court press pull it out in the final frame. Red Mike Reynolds and Roy Armstrong split the points as WD took a 16-12 quarter lead. Monte Hawpe's free throws pulled the Bucks up, 35-27 at the half and Reynolds came back for a 46-40 margin.

Roger Weems and Bill Spillman led the Skyrocket rally. Wayne Barton tied the game and Weems put the hosts ahead to stay. Wellington moved the lead to four points before Hawpe cut the edge in the final seconds.

The game was delayed by an emergency call for one of the referees... which turned out to be the Clarendon coach wanting to know who was ahead!

Reynolds had 14 points, Hawpe 13, Armstrong 11, Weems had 17, Freddie Peters 16 and Barton 10. The Bucks are at Memphis for a district boys game Friday.

SWC Roundup

It took the persistent Baylor Bears to prove that Texas Tech's Red Raiders were indeed mortals instead of modern day machines programmed to do nothing but win.

The Bears slowed down the hot shooting Raiders Tuesday night and survived the normal upset of Lubbock Coliseum to record a 77-74 victory.

Baylor's upset also opened up the Southwest Conference race and let in a total of six teams that have a good chance of wearing the crown come March.

First Loss

It was Tech's first loss, compared with four wins in SWC play. Baylor is now 3-2 and shares second place with Southern Methodist, which creamed Texas Christian 110-94 Tuesday night, and Texas, a 76-63 win.

ABC Audit Is Your Guarantee

The man from ABC recently finished with us and gave us a clean bill of health.

The ABC is the Audit Bureau of Circulations, perhaps a unique organization and one worth talking about.

We've been taking ABC for granted for a long time. (The News is a member of this 50-year-old organization.) Everybody in the trade knows what ABC is, and respects it.

ABC is an independent organization of publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies which examines and certifies the paid circulation claims of newspapers and magazines.

ABC has its own board of directors. It is beholden to nobody and no publication controls it. ABC sets down a lengthy, and sometimes complicated, series of rules defining what is and what is not bona fide paid circulation. When a publisher submits to an advertiser or an agency his ABC circulation, he doesn't have to look back, justify or explain. The advertiser knows what he's buying, no ifs ands or buts.

None of this would be very important to the newspaper subscriber except that it demonstrates what can be done by a voluntary, non-government, self-respecting organization which polices an industry without calling for the cops.

This is the most nearly "government" with the consent of the governed" sort of regulatory body you can find. The members are voluntarily bound together. There is no government law which requires a publisher to belong. There is no law which requires an advertiser to pay any attention to it. A publisher can drop out any time he wants to.

Because it is voluntary, independent and impeccably honest, ABC means quality control and scrupulous auditing.

Another thing — ABC costs the taxpayer nothing. It is not a political issue. The administrator does not change every four years.

ABC is an object lesson — perhaps with special importance to the tobacco industry.

There is increasing demand for government control of the cigarette industry and especially its advertising practices. The demand, to be sure, doesn't come from the industry or the smoker but from the government's employees. What a fine, fat and growing bureau this could become! Government policing of the industry, along the lines of the Federal Trade Commission could add substantially to the government payroll and the government's control over the individual. In the name of "protecting" the consumer, virtually unlimited control could be exerted over the cigarette manufacturer, advertiser and — ultimately — the consumer.

Bacteria: Next Food Source?

What in the world would bacteria be doing in aviation fuel? This is what biochemists asked when they first found the bugs hitchhiking in airplane fuel tanks. Obviously, they were thriving.

Now researchers at the University of Michigan Medical Center, armed with a $125,000 grant from the National Science Foundation, intend to find out just how this special strain of bacteria does it.

Some of the fallout from this research may be a better understanding of how the human body manufactures energy.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the Atlantic, a group of French scientists has discovered that microorganisms that hang around refinery slop tanks and even under asphalt roads are rich in proteins that contain all the amino acids necessary for life.

Since the bacteria are able to consume certain paraffins that are unusable by — products of oil refining, this raises the possibility that they could be put to work as one stage in the normal refining process and then be harvested — in the form of a tasteless powder — for use as a food supplement.

The scientists estimate that the 700 refineries around the world could produce as much as 20 million tons a year of protein-rich microorganisms to aid the battle against hunger and malnutrition in underdeveloped countries.

Fill 'er up, and pass the mustard!

Around the World

By ROBERT MORRIS

Winston Churchill
The announcement of Sir Winston's death brought more than a toll of sorrow.

I think the greatest tribute I can pay the eloquent warrior is to express the wish that he could have been born ten years after his allotted time. For while he was in his prime during the grim Battle of Britain when he led his country to triumph, his powers were spent and his hour past when the more formidable threat from Soviet power rose over the Eastern skies.

More than anyone else, Churchill's courage and dedication brought his country, and indeed the world, to victory over Hitler. Ten Downing Street with Winston Churchill will long remain my image of the spirit of freedom and fortitude in a beleaguered world. He articulated, as no one else, the sorrowful plight of people in bondage — concepts we are now only grudgingly allowed to voice.

But a fickle electorate moved Churchill from the center stage as the world struggle moved from Berlin to Moscow. Soviet divisions under Stalin took up where Hitler left off, but Churchill was sidelined by his own people, weary of strife for freedom.

Churchill's role in the titanic struggle that was to follow proved to be that of the herald. It was his words at Fulton, Missouri that signaled the onset of the cold war: "An iron curtain," he said, "has descended across the continent."

But he was only an articulate spectator in the new drama unfolding, whereas he should have been the protagonist in the center of the stage. Potsdam and the retreats that followed were not his retreats. He said that he would not be King's Minister to preside over the liquidation of his beloved Empire. He was not because he was sidelined when the liquidation began.

He realized, more than any Englishman, that Britain had to look to the United States for leadership in any struggle. In 1945, he observed: "The United States at this minute stands at the summit of the world. I rejoice that this is so. Let them act up to the level of their power and responsibility — not for themselves but for all men in all lands — and then a brighter day may dawn on human history."

The world knows that we did not live up to our power and responsibility and a billion people are in bondage.

When Churchill was restored to power in 1951, the ravages of time and the enervation of the British spirit under Socialism and in the wake of Soviet subversion began to take their toll. The great spirit could not overcome the new and more formidable odds. He was powerless to persuade the United States to put aside its posture of retreat, even when it was still strong.

This is why I say that if he had only ten years more of the vitality he flashed at Normandy, the world of the Sixties would be a greater arena of freedom. This is the hour when Britain and the world needed him most.

A great, colorful and courageous man has gone to his reward. In my book he is among the leaders for the title "Man of the Century."

Fall Out from Recent Soviet Nuclear Test Was Underground, Committee Told

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Alarming new information gathered by the joint Air Force - Atomic Energy Commission airborne detection team has cast a mysterious cloud over Russia's "underground" nuclear test.

The explosion, which the Soviet claims "vented" the earth's surface, spewed twice as much radioactive debris into the atmosphere as did Red China's first above-ground nuclear test.

This jolting Air Force-AEC discovery was revealed by Central Intelligence Director John McCone during his private briefing of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee on the Soviet-Chinese tests.

McCone, head of the Atomic Energy Commission during the Eisenhower administration, told the legislators the startling new data resulted from a comparison of air samplings taken over Japan following the detection of the separate Communist nuclear explosion.

Although the Air Force - AEC finding is not conclusive proof that the January 15 Soviet test was conducted in the atmosphere, McCone testified, it does raise grave questions on whether the nuclear explosion was set off underground as the Russians contend.

McCone estimated the blast yield of the Soviet test as one megaton — comparable to a million tons of TNT.

He stressed that if the explosion was detonated underground, as claimed by the Russians, it was the largest ever attempted below the earth's surface. No U. S. underground nuclear test has approached that size.

In comparing the two Communist tests, McCone reported that China's first explosion had a blast yield of less than 50 kilotons (50,000 tons of TNT), but appeared to be an advanced nuclear device.

LACK HARD INFORMATION — Under intense questioning by committee members, the CIA director admitted the U. S. has no information other than that furnished by the Russians to support the general AEC and State Department belief that the test was conducted underground and accidentally vented.

The limited nuclear test ban treaty signed by both the U. S. and the Soviet forbids experimental atomic blasts in the atmosphere, space, under water; and also underground explosions that spread radioactive debris beyond the testing state's borders.

According to McCone, the Soviet explosion occurred in the Semipalatinsk area of southern Russia. The U. S. has recorded "seismic events" in this region from time to time, he said, but the government has no way of determining whether the incidents are underground tests or earthquakes.

are going all out to catch up with our lead in small - yield nuclear weapons.

When pressed about their progress in big devices, he admitted the Russians had developed and detonated nuclear weapons of far higher yield than the U. S. had prior to the treaty banning atmospheric tests.

DISARMING THE POLARIS — The Joint Congressional Atomic Committee has quietly launched an investigation into the use of Defense Department funds to pay for disarmament studies proposing restrictions on the Navy's Polaris - firing nuclear submarines.

The committee's unannounced inquiry was dropped off last week by the discovery of a unilateral arms study suggesting that Soviet observers be placed aboard Polaris submarines, and that these undersea craft "be confined to sea areas outside of the missile-firing range of the Soviet Union."

Prepared for the Navy by the Institute for Defense Analyses, the disarmament proposal was turned over to the committee by a high Navy officer who was shocked that taxpayers' money was used to make such a report.

The IDA study, now being carefully reviewed by the committee's staff, contends that by taking this unilateral arms action "the U. S. could demonstrate restraint in our relations with Russia."

It states, "This kind of deployment could be viewed as providing the U. S. with an option of moving the submarines forward, as a bargaining device in a time of tension short of war."

Since the deployment of the Polaris submarine is one of the Navy's highest classified secrets, members of the Joint Committee, headed by Representative Chet Holifield, plan to quiz Defense Secretary McNamara on why such a disarmament proposal is even being circulated at the Pentagon.

The committeemen also plan to ask McNamara to furnish them with all disarmament studies on the control of nuclear weapons which were paid for by Defense Department funds.

Other agencies, including the Atomic Energy Commission and the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, will be requested to submit similar studies to the committee for review.

THE BOMBHELL — Retiring Air Force General Thomas Power's book, "Design for Survival," to be published in March, should hit the best-seller lists. The former Strategic Air Commander, who served as director of the Pentagon's Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff, goes all-out in his attack on the Johnson administration's arms policies. He charges that for the first time in our history, most of the nation's striking power is to be entrusted to weapons never fully tested operationally.

Wit and Whimsy

Friend — Well, and how are you getting on with your courtship of the banker's daughter? Young Suitor (beamed happily) — Not so bad. I'm getting some encouragement now.

Friend — Really. Is she beginning to smile sweetly on you, or something?

Young Suitor — Not exactly, but last night she told me she had said 'No!' for the last time.

A fellow dialed his home telephone number.

Fellow — Hello. Is this Mrs. Brown?

Mrs. Brown — Yes.

Fellow — This is Jack speaking. I say, dear, will it be all right if I bring home a couple of fellows to dinner?

Mrs. Brown — Certainly darling.

Fellow — Did you hear what I said?

Mrs. Brown — Yes. You asked if you could bring home a couple of fellows to dinner. Of course you can, dear.

Fellow (as he hung up)—Sorry, madam. I've got the wrong Mrs. Brown.

Mary — I don't know whether I ought to recognize him in the city or not. Our acquaintance at the seaside was very slight.

Mary — You promised to marry him, did you not?

Mary — Yes, but that was all.

The chairman of the central committee was receiving reports from the county committees.

One County Warwick—Things never looked better for a clean sweep for the Republican ticket than they do this fall. It's dollars to doughnuts that we'll even elect the candidate for judge of probate.

Chairman — What makes that so important?

One County Warwick — Well, you see the Democrats put up a man who had only one arm several years ago and we've never been able to overcome the appeal of that empty sleeve. But he's our meat this time, boys. We Republicans have nominated a man who is paralyzed from his neck up!

Bachelor — I. A selfish, callous, underserving man who has cheated some worthy woman out of a divorce. 2. A man who never makes the same mistake once.

Money can't buy friends, but it can sure rent a lot of them.

A well-known executive also well known as a ladies' man, announced at the club that his wife had just hired a new secretary for him.

Friend — That so? Blonde or brunette?

Executive (sadly) — Neither, he's bald.

Mack — I understand your wife came from a fine old family.

Jack — Came is hardly the word—she brought it with her.

Between the Bookends

Morals and the Welfare State
All the modern-day trappings of the Welfare State are justified by one basic premise, that it is humanitarian and moral to help others, according to their need.

Whatever the merits of the philosophy of helping others, there is much to be challenged in the basic premise above when applied to the Welfare State. For the means the state utilizes to provide that "help" are certainly out of harmony with every moral principle that we recognize as applicable to individuals.

A clear definition of this contradiction is presented in a new 34-page booklet, "Morals and Liberty" written by the very competent economist F. A. Harper (the booklet is distributed by Research & Education Services, Box 727, Menlo Park, Calif.; 35 cents each).

Mr. Harper points out that a moral law must be universally applicable or there is something wrong with it. He refutes the concept that individuals and state can operate side-by-side with two different standards of morality. And he cites the existence of natural laws that cannot be broken, regardless of the wishes of the people or the politicians they elect to office.

Using the Decalogue and Golden Rule as basic moral codes, he applies them to specific human conduct and shows their validity in personal relationships. Just as the Law of Gravity cannot be compromised by good intentions, he contends that these moral codes can not be compromised by "humanitarian" desires. Specifically, he calls attention to the commandment "Thou shalt not steal" as a valuable standard of conduct.

The case is made airtight by pointing to the obvious truth that "Good ends cannot be attained by evil means," no matter who or what is applying the means.

Mr. Harper provides a useful appendix at the end of the booklet, in which he properly defines the Welfare State as a political agency that prohibits freedom of choice and private property. But he makes it clear that the retention of some of these rights does not mean freedom for the individual.

As he summarizes it: "... perhaps it is an instance of a temporary grant of freedom by the Welfare State such as when a master allows his slave a day off from work to spend as he likes; but the person who is permitted some freedom by the Welfare State is still a vassal of that state just as a slave is still a slave on his day off from work."

Editor:
This idea of taking "prayer" out of school. Aren't they going to sit a bit too far? What I fail to see and will never understand is why Jesus of Nazareth hasn't been proclaimed an historical figure and due mention been given Him in the school history books? He was just as much alive as George Washington, Abe Lincoln, Plato, or any of them. Was Jesus any the less greater? Why then do we continue to deny Him a place of mention in our school history books? This man was an actual person. He lived back during the days of the Roman Empire in a little town by the name of Nazareth in Palestine. We could visit this city today. When kids study this era in history, they should learn of this man and what He taught. No greater teacher ever lived.

Taking prayer out of school? This is the anti-Christ movement arising that we're warned about. It had better be nipped in the bud or it could turn into something far worse than anything we've ever had to contend with before. It'll be worse than any war. The Church should be attacking on this battlefield! It is not! This is the beginning of the final conflict between good and evil. If this goes unopposed we'd better hope we don't live long enough to see the results when the next generation or so undertakes the responsibility of running our government without any knowledge of God or what He stands for.

The majority of the children in the U. S. never see the inside of a Sunday school room. Religion is the most uninformed on subject of the day. Ask most any "adult" what the word Memorial means, Presbyterian, Catholic, Lutheran, etc. Nine out of ten can't give you an intelligent answer, and why? Simply because they've never been taught the difference. It isn't taught! We're kept in the dark. I say teach our children about the Bible, how it came into existence, who wrote it, and the beliefs of the different faiths.

The church is sleeping. If anything is to be done it's going to be up to the common ordinary everyday folks to do it. As a start, petitions need to be started to have Jesus proclaimed an historical figure and given His rightful place in the school history books. It should have been done long ago.

A concerned citizen,
Mrs. Rosemary Lister

See us. We deliver:
big-car luxury,
not just a big-car name.

CIDAA

Remember this fact when you're shopping big-car names. If you don't get the room to begin with, you don't get the luxury. That's why Chryslers come in only one size. Large.

Here's another point to consider. Almost half of the '65 Chryslers are priced only a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars comparably equipped. Last point. If you're going to pay the price of a Chrysler, get one.
