Republicans Strike Back In Hassle With Rogers

Pampans 'Take Up' For GOP

Two fellow townsmen of Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa had answers today for the congressman who charged Wednesday that the Republican Party was trying to "smear" him.

One was Bob Price, Pampa rancher, an unsuccessful GOP candidate for Rogers' seat in Congress at the 1964 general elections in November.

The other was Mrs. Warren Fatheree, Republican district committee woman for the 31st District.

Price tossed the ball back to Rogers in a statement in which he declared the congressman used "extremist phraseology that indicated a total loss of composure to the embarrassment of the citizens of the Pampa area."

Mrs. Fatheree said: "We have come to an alarming situation whenever the Republican Party cannot call attention to the voters in the 18th Congressional District concerning the vote of our congressman without being accused of character assassination."

The argument started last week when the national GOP gave out a press release in which the Party charged that Rogers did not vote for the "best interests of his country" when he voted against proposed curbs on the shipment of U.S. farm commodities to Egyptian Dictator Nasser.

Rogers then charged on the House floor Wednesday that the statement released by the Republicans was a "deliberate lie" and "an attempt at character assassination."

The Pampa congressman charged further that the Egyptian agriculture sale had been misrepresented.

"If there is going to be a smear campaign carried on by the character assassins in the Republican Party," Rogers said, "I am not going to stand idly by and see my name dragged in the mud."

In answering Rogers today, Price stated: "It seems to us that Mr. Rogers is upset because the House did not join with him to rubber-stamp LBJ's request for more aid to Nasser, an arrogant dictator who supports the Congolese rebels and who has told (See PAMPANS, Page 3)

CONGRESSMEN ON WAY TO SELMA

Rights Problem Study Planned

By United Press International
A six-man congressional delegation flies to Alabama today to make a personal investigation of Selma's racial situation.

Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Mich., spokesman for the group of four Negroes and two whites, said the congressmen wanted to "get a full view of the situation and to hear from all sides."

Diggs said also the group wanted to see whether additional federal voting legislation was needed and, if so, what kind.

Federal Judge Daniel H. Thomas of Mobile, Ala., Thursday ordered sweeping changes in voter registration procedures in Dallas (Selma) County. Thomas' order liberalizes and speeds up registration and tossed out a controversial procedure requiring voter applicants to take a test on civics and government.

The order applies only to Dallas County but the Justice Department recently filed suit in federal court in Montgomery asking for a statewide ban on such tests.

Negro leaders at Selma expressed disappointment in Thomas' ruling because it did not hold Dallas County Sheriff Jim Clark in contempt of court. Clark, restrained from interfering with Negro voter registration in Selma, has made most of the 2,800 arrests during the civil rights campaign in Selma and nearby Marion, Ala.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the campaign, ordered a temporary halt in Selma demonstrations Thursday. King, jailed during a march in Selma earlier this week, was expected to post bond and leave his cell today.

Police at Marion arrested

173 Negroes Thursday when the group attempted to march on the courthouse to protest voter registration procedures. Negroes vowed at a mass meeting Thursday night to continue the demonstrations today.

Elsewhere:

Washington: President Johnson told a news conference Thursday that "all of us should be concerned with the efforts of our fellow Americans to register to vote in Alabama." He pledged that the "right to vote" will be secured for all Americans.

Moultrie, Ga.: Police arrested about 60 Negro high school students Thursday to break up a downtown march by some 400 students protesting conditions at their school. Two officers were injured.

Charlotte, N. C.: About 500 Negro leaders from seven Southern states are expected to attend the 13th annual southeast regional conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) here Feb. 25-28.

Baton Rouge, La.: Gov. John J. McKeithen theorized Thursday if two civil rights workers were beaten in Bogalusa their wounds were self-inflicted because they wanted to "stir something up."

Police Probe Strange Death of Millionaire

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — How and why did Eugene Francis (Stormy) McDonald III — co-heir to the $24-30 million Zenith radio fortune kill himself?

Disturbed by these questions, authorities Thursday expanded their investigation into the death of the 23-year-old youth, who appeared to have had every reason to live.

McDonald's body was found Wednesday night outside a photographic darkroom in his rented $50,000 home in this desert sun and fun city.

He was lying in a pool of blood. Both his wrists had been slashed and there was a bullet wound in his head.

Sheriff's homicide investigators found a 22-caliber pistol beside McDonald's body. It had been fired once.

Authorities Curious

But some authorities were curious about three aspects of the case.

—The implement used in the wrist slashing was not found.

—The bullet entered the back of McDonald's head.

—There was no suicide note, although friends reported he had been despondent recently.

However, the thing that puzzled authorities was the question, WHY?

"Why would a guy with millions of dollars and so young want to take his own life?" asked one puzzled detective.

"We are very interested in this case," said Pima County attorney Norman Green. "There are a lot of unexplained things which must be answered."

Pathologist Concur

County pathologist Dr. Edward Brucker conducted an autopsy Thursday and announced he concurred with detectives, who listed McDonald's death as suicide.

But Green asked Brucker to confer with another pathologist, Dr. Louis Hirsch, to determine whether McDonald might possibly have died by a means other than his own hand.

Justice of the Peace Toby La Vetter late Thursday convened a coroner's jury to view McDonald's body and examine the circumstances of the youth's death.

Arms Possible For Viet Reds From Russians

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's mission to Communist North Vietnam is the most important Kremlin initiative since the fall of Nikita Khrushchev, diplomatic observers said today.

They said Kosygin may offer to give President Ho Chi Minh anti-aircraft guns and jet fighter planes to protect North Viet Nam from possible air raids.

(Kosygin and a party of aides arrived in Peking at noon today (10 p.m. Thursday CST) for a brief stopover in Communist China prior to continuing to North Viet Nam, it was reported from Tokyo.)

(Radio Peking, reporting the arrival, said Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai and other high officials greeted Kosygin and the Russian party at Peking airport. The Communist radio broadcast was monitored in Tokyo.)

Diplomatic observers here said a Russian offer of military aid to North Viet Nam would rival the assistance provided by Peking and constitute a dramatic attempt by the Kremlin to extend its influence in Southeast Asia at Communist China's back door.

Such a move also would increase pressure against the United States in Southeast Asia. North Viet Nam is backing the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam, where the United States has committed thousands of military advisers and millions of dollars worth of equipment in an effort to prevent a Communist takeover.

American officials have warned that if South Viet Nam falls, all of Southeast Asia may become a sphere of Communist influence.

Longshore Officials Hold Marathon Talks

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Longshore labor negotiators engaged in marathon bargaining today under federal pressure in hopes of breaking the deadlock holding up settlement of the East and Gulf Coast dock strike.

Representatives of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and the Philadelphia Marine Trade Association (PMTA) began continuous negotiations at 10 a.m. Thursday and at the first light today were still talking.

The session, under the supervision of Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds and mediator John R. Murray, was conducted amid reports government officials in Washington were considering the possibility of intervening in the 26-day dock strike by this weekend.

They were understood to be discussing both compulsory arbitration legislation and the possibility of invoking another Taft-Hartley "cooling off" injunction.

The unprecedented imposition of a second Taft-Hartley injunction was proposed earlier this week by an official of the New York Commerce and Industry Association who said "new issues" were involved because a majority of the 60,000 striking longshoremen have accepted

Newsman Mad Over Press Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's latest news conference, called on short notice and held in crowded quarters, did little to quiet reporters' complaints about the timing and form of such sessions.

Nor did the Chief Executive score many points among newsmen, at least with his explanation of why he did not send Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to London for the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill.

For most Washington newsmen, there was less than 40 minutes notice Thursday that the President was planning a news conference at 10 a.m. CST in the White House theater. The theater has been converted into a television studio.

Reporters scurried to the White House only to find 40 or so chairs in the theater room had long since been taken by fulltime White House correspondents. So, more than 100 newsmen stood jammed together in the back of the room, or at one side. Many were unable to hear Johnson's remarks, or to be recognized to ask questions.

There had been grumbles among Washington reporters that Johnson's office news conferences, called without warning, prevented experts on foreign policy, military affairs, economics and other matters from attending and asking nitty questions in their fields.

Several foreign policy experts were on hand Thursday, but Johnson gave all of them the same answer he gave "regulars" about U.S. intentions in South Viet Nam.

Because of the brief advance notice, the number of newsmen who turned up was less than half the average which appeared at the few sessions Johnson held after one day's or even several hours' notice. There were far fewer than the number who attended news conferences by the late President John F. Kennedy at the State Department auditorium. But the White House theater couldn't have held any more people, anyway, and many who were there could not see because of television and news-reel cameras.

A Real Bargain If You Need an Old Atom Smasher

CHICAGO (UPI) — It was a real bargain, the scientists said, but no one really wanted a second-hand atom smasher.

The price was $100,000. The University of Chicago said it would cost $1 million to construct the 200-ton monster today. They even offered a premium — 300 tons of concrete shielding, FOB.

Nor was the betatron just another piece of equipment. It had been used, since its creation in 1951, by Enrico Fermi and other atomic pioneers.

But the university said today it was forced to dismantle the device since no buyers could be found.

It began in 1959 with a classified advertisement in Chicago newspapers and scientific journals:

For Sale

One Hundred Million Volt Betatron fully equipped, 100-million volt electron accelerator in good operating order, built by General Electric Co. Has served as a fine instrument for basic research laboratory. Address: Clement Mokstad, University of Chicago.

"Perhaps we should have realized that no institution, acting on its own, could afford such a piece of equipment," Mokstad said. "The betatron, despite the improvements made on it over the years at Chicago, had to be classified as a piece of second-hand goods."

"It's too bad," he added. "The betatron has improved with age. However, it no longer suited our research purposes, and we couldn't find anyone who wanted a genuine atomic age bargain."

President Rejects De Gaulle Proposal

BY JOSEPH W. GRIGG
PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's startling proposal for a special international conference to revamp the United Nations in consultation with Red China appeared to have run into a blank wall today.

President Johnson virtually rejected the idea Thursday during a Washington news conference held soon after De Gaulle spoke to French and foreign newsmen in Paris.

Communist China is not a member of the United Nations, and for years the United States has led the drive to bar it from the world organization.

Nevertheless De Gaulle, during his 75-minute session with the newsmen, called for a new Geneva conference to reform the United Nations with the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union and Red China as participants.

In London, the British government appeared in no hurry to take up the proposal.

At the United Nations in New York, Western sources said there were two objections to De Gaulle's plan — the inclusion of Communist China and the idea that the big powers have the right to run the world organization.

Irish sources at the United Nations said the plan might be picked up by some of the neutralist countries, especially those which have favored Red China's admission to the world body. But they said many of the smaller nations would object to De Gaulle's parallel idea for a return to strong Security Council rule.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for the Japanese Foreign Office said although Japan feels some changes are needed, "the United Nations should continue as it is... and we think it should be made to function." The United Nations has been bogged down in a financial crisis brought on by the refusal of France, Russia and the Communist members to pay some of their special assessments.

Even in Paris, foreign diplomats doubted that the conference proposed by De Gaulle would ever take place.

Two U.S. Shrimp Fishermen
Face Mexico Prison Stay

TUXPAN, Mexico (UPI) — Two U.S. shrimp fishermen faced up to 10 years in a Mexican prison today for ramming a Mexican navy gunboat after being arrested for fishing in disputed Gulf waters.

Mexican naval authorities said the two were shrimping six miles off the Mexican coast. The U.S. recognizes only a three-mile limit on territorial waters, but Mexico claims its authority extends nine miles out.

Russell Duval and Agustin Barrera Munoz were found guilty on all charges against them by Federal District Judge Jesus Boez Thursday in an un-

They were the crew of the "John O'Callahan," a shrimp boat from Brownsville, Tex., where the Texas and Mexican borders meet the Gulf Coast.

Sentencing Later

No date was set for sentencing. Today is a Mexican national holiday, commemorating the anniversary of the constitution of 1917, and courts were closed. Sentences are not generally handed down on Saturday or Sunday, so Monday would be the earliest acceptable date.

The Mexican gunboat "Pohmar I" said it came across the "John O'Callahan" with its shrimp nets out on Monday off the Barra de los Angeles, which is about 40 miles south of Tuxpan and about 330 miles south of the border.

Officers said they halted the (See FISHERMAN, Page 3)

End Asked of UN Financial Problem

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Smaller members of the United Nations today pushed a last-minute campaign to get the big powers to come to terms — at least temporarily — on their financial dispute.

Diplomats said if the campaign fails, the General Assembly is almost certain to recess next week until May 1 to give the opposing factions time to negotiate a settlement.

Mexico and El Salvador were behind the drive to line up the smaller nations — the majority of the U.N. membership — for an appeal to the United States, Russia, and France.

Informed sources said that as many as 80 nations, most of them from the Latin American and Afro-Asian groups, might be expected to back the appeal.

The first step was a Latin American meeting today. From there, if successful, the drive would be carried to the other area groupings.

Ambassador Antonio Alvarez Vidaurre of El Salvador, chairman of the Latin American group, reported to Secretary General Thant Thursday on the plan. There was no immediate comment from U.N. officials.

First Public Flight Heli-Plane Astonishes Crowd

DALLAS (UPI) — The XC-142A, an ungainly vehicle that flies like a plane but takes off, lands and hovers like a helicopter, made its first public flight Thursday.

Two models of the $100 million hybrid, with tilt wings, were shown off to aviation and military officials at the Dallas Naval Air Station.

Five of the craft have been built for military testing. Ling-Temco-Vought, prime contractor for the project, said the plane also has many potential uses for civilian duties.

LTV chief test pilot John Konrad demonstrated the capabilities of the craft. He tilted the wings and propellers of the four-engine aircraft straight up.

The squat "heli-plane" rose 30 feet into the air. It stayed there. The four propellers

The Etiquette of Dating for a Mature Widow

By MRS. DONN SUTTON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
For the mature woman there is a certain etiquette in dating. When a gentleman takes a lady out frequently it is only fitting and gracious that she entertain him in her home in return, or invite him to accompany her to the home of friends whom he may enjoy.

Many widowed women had led very full, active social lives with their husbands. It is important that these contacts continue. It is going to take quite a bit of tact and skill to handle this part of your life gracefully.

What is your setting? Is your house or apartment orderly, fresh, and sparkling; comfortable, softly lighted, furnished tastefully with pleasing colors? Is it a sanctuary for you and a place where you wish to entertain your men and women friends?

It is important that your home complement you and is a gracious spot to bring friends. This does not mean that it need be lavish or expensive. But please, no chairs in need of recovering or a sofa with sagging springs, or poorly hanging draperies. Mary had lived in the suburb of a large city ever since her marriage. She and her husband enjoyed their red brick colonial house and big lawn. Over the years they picked up some fine antique furniture and beautiful oriental rugs. They enjoyed entertaining their friends and their children's friends in this gracious house, which they had furnished with such pleasure during his lifetime.

Now that he was gone, Mary realized that she would have to change her way of living drastically. Luckily the two boys were out of college and working.

She, too, had to find a position. She had always had a flair for dressmaking and liked fine fabrics and design.

Wishing to make the most of this talent, she went into the city to interview the owner of a where she had flower boxes spilling over with petunias. This was a perfect setting for her antiques, her lovely old rugs, her fine china and silver—and for Mary, too.

She had a housewarming as soon as she was settled and invited her friends from the suburbs and the few she knew, if only ever so slightly, from the city. This party launched her on an active social life.

Because of her friendliness and charm she has many men friends who take her out. She has found to her astonishment that a variety of men are attractive to her for a variety of reasons.

One man may be a divine dancer, another a delightful and interesting conversationalist who entertains at small dinner parties in his home where the food is superb, conversation sparkling, guests interesting.

She is home at 11 o'clock after a stimulating evening. She has to have adequate rest to be fresh at her work.

When she entertains at home she plans small dinner parties that can be prepared ahead of time so that she does not need to be in the kitchen for long intervals. She puts the cocktail ingredients out so that her guests can serve themselves after being given the first cocktail. She always has candlelight and wine, which adds an aura to her simple, well-cooked dinners.

Mary always has her wardrobe in order and ready to go, for she never knows when an occasion may come up and she wishes to be ready.

Her life is not as predictable as it was when she was married. She believes that she should not miss any opportunity to go out with friends for an enjoyable time.

She is determined not to feel sorry for herself, and she feels that she owes it to her friends to enjoy their company.

Consequently her enthusiasm, gaiety and friendliness make these occasions memorable to the persons with whom she spends them.

Mary has always placed great value on friendship. Now that she is alone, each and every one of her friends is even more precious. Because she is attractive and a widow, she receives many admiring glances and much attention from men, especially the married men who give her more of a rush than the elusive bachelors and widowers.

The quickest way to lose her women friends, she knows, would be to flirt or pay attention to their husbands.

Dear Abby... Brass-Happy Attitude Ignores the Product

DEAR ABBY: I met a fellow who flies for an airline, and we clicked right away, so we made a date for the next layover he had here. When he showed up he was wearing a regular suit, and he didn't look nearly as good to me. I kiddingly told him that on our next date I wanted him to wear his uniform. He said he wouldn't wear his uniform off duty for the Queen of Sheba, and if that's all I liked about him there wouldn't be any next date. I pretended it didn't matter and I dropped it. But, Abby, it does matter. Somehow, I can't seem to work up the enthusiasm for him without the uniform. Don't you think if he really liked me he'd wear his uniform?

LIKES UNIFORMS
DEAR LIKES: No! Only people who are compelled to wear uniforms day in and day out can appreciate what a bore it is. I don't blame him. Your brass-happy attitude is an admission that you're more interested in the packaging than you are in the product.

DEAR ABBY: We received an invitation to attend a wedding which was to take place two thousand miles from here. The daughter of an acquaintance of ours was being married. They knew we couldn't possibly attend the wedding, but they sent us an invitation anyway. This, of course, meant a gift which we sent. It was last June and we haven't received a "thank you" note from the girl as yet. I do not blame the child, she is young. But I do blame the parents for not having taught her right from wrong.

A HOUSTONIAN
DEAR HOUSTONIAN: A girl who is old enough to be married is no child. And even if parents do not teach their children to write thank you notes promptly, by the time they are married they should have learned that basic rule of courtesy somewhere. So don't blame the parents. I'll wager their embarrassment (if they are aware of their daughter's negligence) is greater than hers.

DEAR ABBY: I can't request this information elsewhere without risking a lot of embarrassment, so please answer if you can. And put it in the paper because my mail is sometimes opened and this is very confidential.

Will a veteran's hospital take a veteran who has had a dishonorable discharge? And will the veterans bury him when he dies?

MUST KNOW
DEAR MUST: Whether or not a dishonorably discharged veteran can receive hospitalization at a veteran's hospital depends on the reason for his discharge. All the facts should be given to the nearest veteran's hospital when application is made, and they will rule on his eligibility. A veteran must have an honorable discharge in order to be eligible for a veteran's burial.

Thief Steals Bad Medicine

Three bottles of medicine, one of which could be fatal to anyone not used to taking it, and $75 in cash were reported stolen from the residence of Clifford Stanley.
 Stanley, 713 N. Naida, told police that the drugs and cash had been taken from his home sometime between 5 and 6 p.m. Thursday.
 He said one of the drugs, Dicumarol, would be fatal to anyone not used to taking it.
 Stanley said he had placed the cash and drugs in a bedroom dresser drawer early yesterday and found it missing when he returned home Thursday night.

Search Underway For Car Vandals

Pampa authorities launched an intensive search today for vandals who stole a 1964 model automobile last night, drove it five miles south of town, and set it on fire.
 The car, completely destroyed, was owned by Norman McElrath, 1217 Garland. McElrath reported to police shortly before 10 p.m. last night that his car had been stolen from near the Capri Theater. Shortly after 10 p.m. the Pampa Fire Department received a report of a blazing automobile, five miles south of Pampa on Highway 70.
 When firemen arrived the car had completely burned.
 Deputy Sheriff D. L. Day said the vandals apparently soaked the car with gasoline and lit it.
 Day said the car was valued at approximately $3,000.
 McElrath told police that the car and ignition were locked.

SOMEONE IS COMING

Matt. 24:3

This is one of the most positive, and most unbelieved doctrines in the Bible today.

Let us examine the scriptures for the truth:

1. WHO IS COMING?

Jesus said in John's gospel the 14th chapter and 3rd verse I will come again and receive you unto myself.

James said in James 5:8. Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the LORD draweth nigh.

The angel of the Lord said in Acts 1:11 This same JESUS which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven.

THEN JESUS IS COMING

2. WHEN IS HE COMING?

In Matt. 25:13 tells us to Watch therefore for you know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of Man Cometh. Matt. 24:44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in such hour as ye think not the Son of Man Cometh.

The world is not looking for Jesus today, so we had better be ready, because the hour now is when ye think not. In the fullness of God's time. Even so come Lord Jesus.

3. HOW IS HE COMING?

Quick, Personal, and Visible
The apostle Paul wrote in 1 Cor. 15:52. In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye.

1 Thess. 4:16 a for the Lord Himself shall descend from heaven with a shout.

Acts 1:11 Tells us we will see Him come in like manner as he left.

4. WHERE IS HE COMING?

1 Thess. 4:17. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the CLOUDS to meet the Lord. In the AIR, and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Regardless of where He comes His promise is: John 14:3 That where I am there ye may be also.

5. WHY IS HE COMING?

Phil. 3:21 Tells us: Who shall change our vile bodies that it may be fashioned like unto His glorious body. He is coming to change us.

John 14:3 I will come again and receive you unto myself. He is coming to receive us unto Himself. To deliver all the saved from an ungodly world, that He might pour out His wrath upon this world.

This will be a glorious day for the saved, but how about those without Christ? The Bible teaches they will suffer in the great tribulation period then to be cast into Hell to suffer the torments for ever and ever.

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR HIS COMING?

IT COULD BE SOON.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International.
Texas Tech defends its narrow Southwest Conference lead and Baylor and Southern Methodist try to stay in contention in a busy daytime conference basketball schedule Saturday, while Texas and defending champion Texas A&M collide in the only night game.

Texas Tech, which had its high-flying wings clipped sharply by Baylor on Tech's own floor last Tuesday night, cannot possibly widen its current one-game edge in the Raiders' clash with pesky but oft-beaten Rice at Lubbock in the afternoon.

The Raiders, now 4-1 in league play have four teams—SMU, Baylor, Texas and the Aggies—pressing at their heels and even if Arkansas knocks off SMU at Fayetteville and Texas Christian bumps Baylor at Fort Worth, the Longhorn Aggie winner would still be one game back.

Texas, with Larry Franks leading the resurgent Longhorns, has won its last three games, but has been able to beat A&M at College Station only once in the past 10 years. The Aggies have the momentum of an overtime victory over Arkansas at Fayetteville Wednesday night to spur them on Saturday night at home.

SMU whipped TCU and Baylor upset Tech earlier this week to match the 3-2 records owned by Texas and the Aggies, while Arkansas is all but out of the picture with a 2-3 record and TCU and Rice stand at 1-4.

Lane Nixes Texas Loop

CHICAGO (UPI)—With the league meeting only a day away, the Texas League was still without a president today and the leading candidate saying he was "neither available nor interested."

Frank Lane, former general manager of the Chicago White Sox, St. Louis Cardinals and Kansas City Athletics, had been rumored to be the man to succeed Jim Burris. Burris resigned to become general manager of the Denver Bears of the Pacific Coast League.

The Tulsa Tribune said that Lane "looks like a clinch" to become the new president.

However, in a telegram to UPI in Chicago, Lane said "I have been flattered by accounts that I am being considered, for the Texas League presidency. However, I want to put my friends on notice that I am neither available nor interested in the fine Texas League."

Pampa at Amarillo

Pampa's Harvesters match impressive victory strings with their only District 3-AAAA conqueror this season, Amarillo's Sandies, at 8 p.m. tonight in the AHS Armory.

The Harvesters (24-3) will be gunning for their seventh consecutive conference win while Amarillo (17-4) has its sights set on its 11th straight triumph in the Armory.

Pampa's only defeat in its last 17 outings was to Amarillo, 58-56, in Pampa. The Harvesters tied for the first half title with Lubbock and own the undisputed lead in second half action at 5-0.

Amarillo and Lubbock are deadlocked for second at 4-1 followed by Monterey 3-2, Tascosa 3-3, Plainview 2-3, Palo Duro 2-4, Caprock 1-5 and Borger 0-5.

Lubbock (21-3) battles Plainview (16-11) in the second game of a twin bill in the Lubbock Coliseum. Tascosa (12-10) and Monterey (19-7) tangle in the 7 p.m. opener.

Caprock (8-14) is at Borger (5-14) in tonight's other clash. Palo Duro (8-15) has an open date.

Amarillo last suffered a defeat in the Armory on Jan. 17, 1964, to Palo Duro, 69-53. The Sandies, who are 8-0 on their home court this year, were dealt their only second-half setback by Palo Duro, 61-48, after having won their first two meetings with the Dons this season.

Lubbock, which beat Plainview, 71-47, in the first meeting, was edged, 59-58, in overtime by Pampa for its only visit to the loss column in the second half.

Monterey will be seeking to square things with Tascosa which handed the Plainsmen their initial first half loss, 49-47.

Caprock won its first half collision with Borger, 67-55.

Two Unknowns Lead Hope Golf

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—A pair of unknowns named Stan Thirsk and Kermit Zarley led the pack today in the chase for $100,000 in prizes in the Bob Hope Desert Classic but some dangerous golfing wolves were hot on their trail.

So far this year, Thirsk, a 36-year-old club professional from Kansas City, Kan., has won exactly $0.00 on the tour. Zarley, a Yakima, Wash., tourist, made only $1,665.01 in four starts this year.

But not even such golfing greats as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper or Tony Lema could argue with their scores after 36 holes of the 90-hole marathon.

The pair — whose names sound like a vaudeville team — stood at 10-under par 134, Lema, rebounding after a three-stroke penalty on opening day, was five strokes back with 72-67-139. Palmer and Casper were six behind with identical rounds of 70-70-140 and Nick-

SET FOR SHOWDOWN — Miami's ace defensive trio of (l. to r.) Judy "Witch" Anderson, Cindy Coffee and Martha Paris will be out to stop Briscoe's high-scoring Marvellous Mickie Fuls tonight in the game that will decide the district 2-B girls honors. Briscoe is 9-0, defending champ Miami 8-1.

Abilene Christian Visits West Texas

CANYON — Now boasting a 12-6 record, the West Texas State Buffaloes entertain Abilene Christian and Eastern New Mexico this Saturday and Monday, respectively, in Buffalo Fieldhouse.

The Buffs dropped an 84-82 decision to ACC in Abilene in early December, but edged the Greyhounds, 83-82, in an overtime contest one week later.

The Abilene Wildcats, 8-7, are easily the best shooting team on the WTSU schedule as evidenced by their .526 and .728 percent-

Life at 40 In Semifinals

HARLINGEN (UPI)—Dutch Kuntzler of Victoria and Phil Powell of Wichita Falls meet today in one semifinal match in the 13th annual Life Begins at 40 Golf Tourney and Henry Richards Jr. of Jacksboro will meet Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn. in the other.

Powell, a three time winner of the tourney, edged Calvin Huff of Raymondville 3 and 2 Thursday in a light rain to gain the semifinals.

The tournament is being played over Harlingen Municipal Golf Course, a par 71, 6400-yard layout.

Kuntzler defeated Harry Newton of Graham, Tex. 5 and 4, Richards, runner-up for the past two years, downed Pete Sakalovsky of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis. 1-up and Person beat Dr. D. C. Halley of Dallas 1-up.

YCC Basketball

Cock O' Walk outgunned First National, 53-37, to tie them for second place in the league with 6-2 records. Gene Brown had 18 points and Coyle Winborne 14 for the winners. Cousin George Smith canned 15 for the losers.

STARTS AT CANYON — Gordon Balch, former Pampa Harvester, will start tonight at Canyon when his ACC Wildcats tangle with the West Texas Buffs. Although low in the scoring stats, Gordon is rated highly by coach Dee Nutt for his defense and playmaking.

ages from the field and foul line, respectively. The previous meeting was Abilene Christian's first home game of the season and they put on a seldom-matched shooting exhibition for the home folks. They drilled 15 of 24 fielders in the first half and 17 of 27 in the second period for a game percentage of .627.

A record, you say? Not hardly! In their second game of the season, they funneled 68.8 percent of their field goal attempts against Howard Payne in winning 57-55.

The Buffaloes have come a long way since then, however, despite the present slimmness of the squad. Kirby Pugh, the Big Buff, is highly ranked in field goal percentage. Cal Taylor, 6-7 center, has come on strong to tie Pugh for the team's rebounding lead. George Scott is shooting over 50 per cent from outside and Joe "Pogo" McWilliams earned a starting job in Seattle and had scored 87 points in the last five games. Marvin Mitchell, who hit for 10 counters in the last half at Panhandle A&M, appears to have regained his shooting eye. Soph Mickey Pitts has been spelling Pugh and Taylor inside and doing a creditable job.

Charles Cleek is the ACC hero. The 6-8 junior's scoring average (22.1), field goal percentage (.585) and rebounding average (8.8) are the team's best. In addition, he's converted 78.8 per cent of his free throws. Cleek's weakness, if it can be called that, is the personal foul. The Biggest Cat has managed to survive the full 40 minutes in only five of ACC's 15 games and has averaged 4.2 fouls per game.

Supporting Cleek inside are lettermen Jerry Morgan, 6-7 junior from Lubbock, and Spencer "Slim" Pickens, 6-5 senior from Pasadena. Morgan ranks second in both scoring and rebounding and Pickens holds third place in each category.

Terry Priest, 6-3 and Gordon Balch, 6-0, hold down the outside spots, giving coach Dee Nutt a starting five averaging over 6.5 in height.

The Cats have split with McMurry, a team which fell twice to the Buffs, but lost by only 11 points to Oklahoma City which scalped West Texas State by 27 and 16 points.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Now, It's a City Sales Tax

We read with interest the story published in the News a couple of days ago on the Retail Sales Tax Act recently introduced in the House down at Austin as an enabling act to provide more revenue for Texas cities.

It is understood the bill has the support of the Texas League of Municipalities.

One of the biggest arguments proponents of the bill will use is that it will reach non-property owners and force them to come in and pay part of the bill to keep a city going. They already pay their share through rentals and leases.

It would also put an additional tax on the property owner who would not be exempt from the sales levy.

Suffice it to say, The News is opposed to the bill simply because it makes possible one more tax.

If the bill ever gets through the state legislature, it is to be hoped Pampa will not avail itself of the opportunity to impose an additional tax on its citizens just because the state says it is okay to do so.

Governments everywhere — city, county, state and national — seem to be engaged in a major effort to increase the people's burden of indebtedness. Those who seem to feel that a city can only be great on the basis of its "public" expenditures appear always to be ready to try hard to get additional indebtedness items approved.

Costs already are high and taxes are approaching the outrageous stage. We speak of taxes of all kinds. You should try to total them up sometime.

Too many men with government power are only content if and when they have forced everyone to participate in some scheme through a general proposal backed by government.

In the retail sales tax case, the scheme would be backed by state government.

Any way you slice it, the city sales tax proposal comes under the heading of "one more tax." And Heaven knows we don't need one more tax, or one more legalized theft from the pocketbook.

Texas already pay a two per cent retail sales tax. If the measure now before the state legislature is adopted, and a bill of goods is sold to city voters, the sales tax could go to three per cent.

The bill was introduced quietly and without fanfare.

Certainly it needs to be given a lot of study. And that study should convince everyone that Pampans should not be burdened by an additional tax on the things they buy in our retail stores.

Look First, Leap Later

"Retirement," according to veterans of this adventure, "is not so bad, once you get used to it!"

To most who anticipate this chapter of life as a golden dream, the actual day of retirement dawns with the retiree ill-prepared and in a state of shock. For most, it means scaling down living costs to fit a reduced income. And this usually means living somewhere else which can be a terrifying thought as well as a challenging opportunity to retreat from winter into the sunshine.

Until now, such decisions have involved burning the bridge between the old life and the new. Once the retirees have "pulled up stakes" (and sold the old homestead), they can't be put down again on the old home grounds. But the United Federation of Postal Clerks has found a way to do it better, and a way their members are happy to share with others who are ready to enjoy easier days.

The Federation has just unveiled its $5 million, non-profit, "luxury retirement community," "Fedhaven, at East Lake Wales in central Florida. Here, the first 100 garden apartments of the 500 to be completed by spring, are being thrown open to couples who want to try out this new life, the climate, the community and meet the neighbors before casting drift from the old moorings, or committing themselves to a year's lease.

Among the first to accept this invitation, and who moved in this month, were retirees from many walks of life — working people, farmers and retired Government employees in addition to the postal people who have, incidentally, an ex - postmaster.

The try - it - and - see tenants pay $135 for a trial month in a completely furnished one-bedroom apartment with all services and utilities (except linen) provided for instant housekeeping. These services include a free medical dispensary with registered nurses on duty around the clock. And, at this moment, we can visualize the new residents fishing on the 15-mile lake, tinkering with their boats in the marina, swimming in the huge community swimming pool, shopping in the town center, watching free movies, or just plain loafing in the sun.

This is the first time, they are told, that any retirement community anywhere has made it possible for prospective residents to sample the life before taking the plunge. And Joseph Thomas, the Federation's Director of Organization at 817-14th St., N.W., in Washington, says he still has some trial rental apartments available for February, March and April.

Even if the experience were unconvincing, we hardly see how two people could experiment on retirement living in a more delightful manner.

Atom Also Helps to Cure

Thanks to the atom, the vital medical tool of the X-ray is being brought to primitive areas of South America and Africa which have no electricity. Radiographs, important for the diagnosis of tuberculosis and other ailments, are being made in the middle of the jungle with a system using the nuclear energy from a radioactive isotope. Since it weighs only 200 pounds and needs no electricity, the unit can be flown by light plane to remote areas. The system was developed by Viso Corp., with field use in Bolivia sponsored by the U. S. Agency of International Development.

The Smithsonian Institution in Washington considers the method so significant an advance in the peacetime use of atomic energy that it is currently devoting an exhibit to it.

High Finance Is Way Out

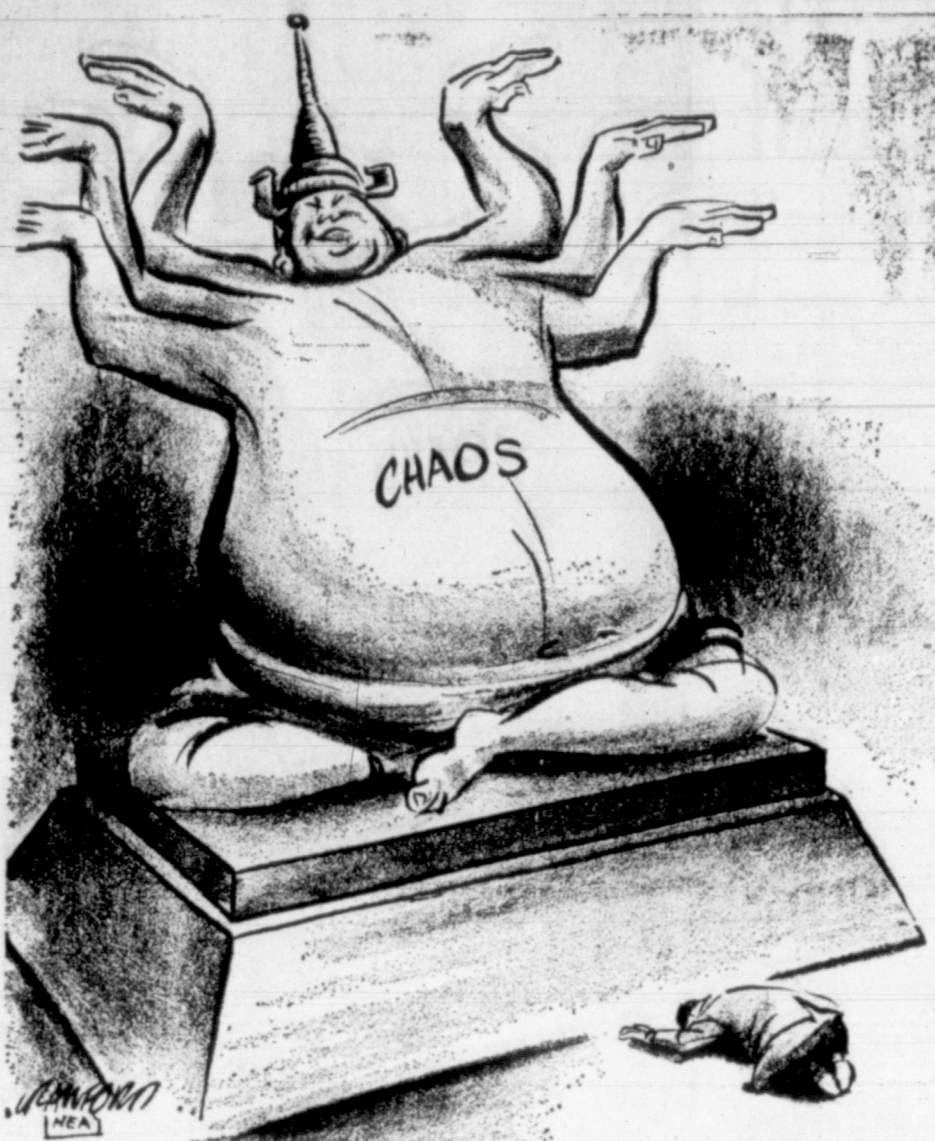

The federal government pruned its budget so mercifully that it will spend in the next fiscal year only five and a half billion dollars more than it takes in.

This is heralded as a major triumph in hardnosed slicing. But there must be a housewife here and there who is wondering why her husband gets so upset if she bends the family budget a bit on her clothes or household supplies. What's good for the government must be good for the people, mustn't it? Or has somebody been kidding us?

Turtles seldom go more than 300 yards from their native habitat, says a nature columnist. "And when they do," as the observant quips, "they usually end up in the soup."

WHEN TEACHER GAVE THE WRONG ANSWER (Chicago Tribune)

Thirty years ago, in the early years of the New Deal, there appeared on the market an economics textbook entitled, "Our Economic Society and Its Problems." It was written by two professors sympathetic to the New Deal, Rexford G. Tugwell, who was then serving as assistant secretary of agriculture, and Howard C. Hill of the University of Chicago.

At the end of each chapter there was the usual list of "questions and problems." And at the end of the chapter on Russia, one of the questions was, "Explain the Russian challenge to America."

A student could have earned an "A" on this question by repeating word for word what appeared two pages earlier: "The real challenge to America... is the challenge of the planning idea. Russia has silenced forever the notion that economic affairs are governed by adamant natural laws. She has demonstrated that men have it in their power to set up the system they want and to make it obedient to their wishes.

"With Russia as an example, intelligent people in America... will want to plan and act." Well, Messrs. Tugwell and Hill merely put into words what a great many New Dealers were thinking. Washington was bursting with planners in those days and there are plenty of them there even today, especially in the Department of Agriculture. But in retrospect, the word "intelligent" seems to have been misplaced. You might be able to find a few die-harders in Peking who still believe everything in life can be planned, but not in Moscow.

For two years, first in agriculture and later in industry, the Russian government has been backing away from central planning just about as fast as it can back. The retreat began under Khrushchev and has speeded up under his successors. Only last week, 400 more factories in the Soviet Union were freed from central planning and told to make their own decisions. They were promised a share in any profits they made, on the theory that a company dedicated to making profits would be most likely to turn out goods that the people wanted.

An even more startling report appeared in the New York Herald Tribune: That Russia is considering allowing American firms to share in the ownership and profits of Russian factories in exchange for investing in them.

If this is true, Russia has not only abandoned central planning and endorsed the profit motive, but is about to commit the gravest of all Marxian sins by investing (perhaps the better word is begging) the investment of private capital.

What happened? Did Messrs. Khrushchev, Kosygin, and the others neglect to study "Our Economic Society and Its Problems"? Or were our own New Dealers sounding off without any idea what they were talking about? We think we know the answer, but won't give it away. Some of our readers may have flunked economics by giving the wrong answer about that challenge, and they may want to take a re-exam.

Wit and Whimsy

A golfing clergyman had been beaten badly on the links by a parishioner thirty years his senior and had returned to the clubhouse rather disgruntled.

Parishioner — Cheer up, Remember, you win at the finish. You'll probably be burying me some day, I expect.

Clergyman — Even then, it will be your hole.

While a judge was trying a case he was disturbed by a young man in the rear of the room lifting chairs and looking under things.

Judge — Young man, what's all the noise about? Young Man — Your Honor, I've lost my overcoat and I'm trying to find it.

Judge — Well, people often lose whole suits in here without making all that disturbance.

Smithsonian Adds Another Item to Collection

By DICK WEST
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Smithsonian Institution, which is the chief U.S. repository for the artifacts of our civilization, enriched its collection this week with what may be the most significant item of all.

It accepted for preservation an original model of the world's first mimeograph machine.

The primitive flatbed duplicator, which is credited with starting the paperwork revolution in this country, was presented to the museum by the A. B. Dick Co. of Chicago.

It was Albert Blake Dick, founder of the company, who conceived the idea in 1883. He and Thomas A. Edison put together the machine that became known as the "Edison No. 3."

Changes History
 Dick, who was then in the lumber business, knew a good thing when he saw it. He quickly switched from lumber to mimeographs, and the rest is history.

Where would our republic be today without the mimeograph? The mind boggles at the thought. It also boggles at the thought of where our republic is today with the mimeograph.

Pardon me if I report that the federal government alone uses enough mimeograph paper each year to make a stack 1,590 times higher than the Washington Monument.

If that doesn't boggle your mind, nothing will.

Old "No. 3" could turn out about 300 copies an hour in good weather on a fast track. Current models can produce about 9,000 copies an hour without even breathing hard.

Considering the advanced stage that mimeographing has reached, I was a mite amazed to learn that the process was only invented about 80 years ago.

Pre - Mimeograph Era
 This means that Hannibal crossed the Alps, Columbus discovered America and Grant took Richmond without mimeographing anything. Which is almost incredible. I somehow had the impression that even the Egyptian hieroglyphics were mimeographed.

When Samuel F. B. Morse tapped out history's first telegram, he wrote "What hath God wrought?" Nobody knows what A. B. Dick wrote on the first mimeograph, but the assumption is that it was nothing more dramatic than a price list for lumber.

There are several hundred species of cactus native to Texas.

JFK Memorial Library Five Killed by Dedication Set in OC Power Explosion

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Oklahomaans were set to greet Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., as a conquering hero today, despite his defeat in a bitter factional battle for control of the New York Legislature.

Kennedy was expected to arrive at 3:37 p.m. at Will Rogers World Airport for an appearance on behalf of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library fund drive.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Engineers worked beneath a downtown street today attempting to learn why an "ultra safe" electrical transformer exploded and killed five workmen.

A Kansas City Power and Light Co. spokesman said the transformer was a new design and was filled with a non-flammable synthetic oil.

But Thursday, as the five utility workers repaired a switch on the transformer, something caused a short circuit and a thundering explosion.
