

Ten Picked To Study Charter

Mayor H. Raeburn Thompson today appointed ten Pampa men to serve as a city charter commission advisory committee. The mayor said he will ask the advisory group to come up with recommendations to the city commission on what changes should be made in Pampa's charter or whether an entirely new charter should be written. Members of the charter advisory committee named by the mayor include: Ed Myatt, chairman; Crawford Atkinson, Arthur M. Teed, Ray Duncan, Joe Tooley, Calvin Whatley, H. H. Boynton, Jack Vaughn, Travis C. Lively Sr. and Gene Lewis. City Atty. Bob Gordon was named to assist the group in a legal capacity. Members of the city commission have long discussed possible charter changes following discussions in which it was declared outmoded in many aspects. A committee from the Downtown Merchants' Association recently requested the commission to take action aimed at charter changes. The mayor said he is requesting the advisory group to study the charter situation, review the charter that failed of adoption (See CHARTER, Page 5)

Khanh Takes Leadership In New Viet Nam Coup

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Rebellious generals today ousted the American-backed government of Premier Tran Van Huong in a bloodless coup that set off celebrations by the nation's Buddhists. A vaguely worded communique gave Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh "responsibility" for solving the latest political crisis resulting from the sixth coup in 15 months. There was no military action and no bloodshed. The military leaders simply bowed to the demands of the Buddhists for the overthrow of Huong, withdrew their support from his government and placed Khanh back in power. The chain of events brought prompt reaction from the Buddhists. Buddhists Celebrate—Thousands of them jammed the National Buddhist Center here this evening to celebrate the overthrow of Huong's government. The center issued a communique, broadcast over the government radio, ordering Buddhist followers to stop demonstrating against the government in the wake of the armed forces' coup d'etat. Police took down the barricades which had sealed off the center, and about 5,000 of the faithful swarmed in to attend a ceremony ending a seven-day hunger strike by five leading monks. They had pledged to bring down Huong's government or starve themselves to death. About 300 Buddhists later marched toward the offices of two Vietnamese language newspapers which had criticized the monks. The mob was broken up by tear gas-throwing policemen. Troops were sent to protect other anti-Buddhist newspapers. Taylor Extends Sympathies—U.S. Ambassador Maxwell (See KHANH, Page 5)

Connally Wants Overhaul of State Government, Education

Charges Flare In Baker Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The explosive Bobby Baker case flared again today with Republican charges that Rep. Emanuel D. Celler's New York law firm paid $2,500 to Baker's law firm. Celler, describing as "utterly fallacious" the account of the payment given by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., scheduled a news conference to give details of his side of the story. The conference was scheduled for 2 p.m. CST. In a Senate speech Tuesday, Williams said that Baker, the former secretary to Senate Democrats under investigation for his business dealings, had shared a $10,000 legal fee from the Sweetwater Development Co. of Dallas, Tex., with Celler's law firm. The senator charged the money was connected with work being done by the firm for the Interior Department on a salt water conversion plant in Wrightsville Beach, N.C. Sweetwater, owned by the Murchison financial interests, holds a $1.03 million contract for the plant. Investigators for the Senate Rules Committee, which is conducting the Baker investigation, have been checking into the contract. Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said in an interview later that Williams was "utterly confused" and "all balled up." He said the $10,000 was a legal fee for complicated work on lease options for supermarkets in New York and New Jersey. It was reported that the transaction also involved helium storage matters in which Sweetwater was interested. The congressman said that in 1961 the law firm headed by Baker and Ernest C. Tucker approached Celler's firm of Weisman, Celler, Allan, Spett & Sheinberg about real estate options on behalf of Sweetwater development. Took Work The firm agreed to take the work and paid $2,500 to Baker and Tucker, which Celler said was the normal 25 per cent retainer for forwarding attorneys. A provision was inserted into the retainer received from Sweetwater stating that the work "would not involve the government or any government agency," Celler said. "We have had nothing to do in North Carolina," Celler said, or anywhere else except in New York and New Jersey. Asked about Celler's comments, Williams said "that's the way it was given to me... I am going to let it stand."

Governor Proposes Cigarette Tax Hike

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally today told Texas lawmakers he wants a major overhaul of state government and educational institutions. And he said his program can be carried out with only one mill tax increase — one cent increase on cigarette taxes in 1966 to nine cents per package. Connally, speaking before a joint session of the legislature, as expected put his major emphasis on his program of "excellence in higher education." He asked the legislature to create a "strong coordinating board" for the state's 22 colleges and universities, and to establish under leadership of this board three super-systems of higher learning. The three systems would include the University of Texas system, the Texas State University system—which would embrace both Texas A&M and Texas Tech—and the state senior college system. The University of Houston, Arlington State, North Texas and Texas Western—as well as the state medical and dental units—would come under the University of Texas system. Nine of the state's smaller schools would be bunched in the senior college system. For public school teachers, Connally proposed a long-range plan of salary increases which would raise the minimums by about $500 over the next 10 years. He put the major emphasis on salary hikes at the maximum range, recommended these be raised by some $1,200 per year over the 10-year period. His program thus failed to support the Texas State Teachers' Association's $45 per month in 1965 program. The governor also left out recommendations by some state groups of a $50 hike in tuition at state colleges and universities. He instead proposed a constitutional amendment to set up a $50 million fund for loans to college students, supported by bonds. Connally noted that his program will need $646 million from the general revenue fund over the next biennium. The state comptroller estimated $633 million will be available from that fund, making it necessary to find $13 million in new revenue. To balance his budget, he proposed a one-cent increase in state taxes on cigarettes effective Sept. 1, 1966, which would produce $11 million the second year of the biennium. He said the state could get a (See CONNALLY, Page 5)

Atlanta Honors Negro Leader

ATLANTA (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will be honored tonight as "A Citizen of Atlanta" in the biggest public tribute ever given a Negro in the Georgia capital. Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. will head approximately 1,500 white and Negro Southerners, most of them from Atlanta, who will honor King for his receipt of the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize. King came from a new racial integration battleground in Selma, Ala., to prepare for the event in his honor. He will deliver an address of about 15 minutes. Enthusiasm for the public event for King developed slowly at first but finally mushroomed into a wild scramble for the $6.50 tickets. Sponsors acknowledged the Dinkler Plaza Hotel ballroom in downtown Atlanta where President Johnson recently spoke had been oversold by several hundred tickets. "We will just have to depend on the spirit of brotherly love to iron things out," said one harried official. Inspiration for a public recognition of King's Nobel award originated in the white community and was backed by both Allen and former Mayor William Hartsfield.

Russians Challenged To Prove Spy Charge

MOSCOW (UPI)—American officials in Moscow have challenged the Russians to prove their charges of espionage against U.S. diplomat Richard Stolz. Stolz, 39, of Montgomery County, Md., was branded persona non grata in a Soviet note published Tuesday night. He is the first secretary at the U.S. Embassy here. American officials quickly called the allegations "unfounded" and challenged Russian officials to provide detailed evidence. They termed the Soviet action a case of "retaliation" for the expulsion of Soviet diplomat Boris V. Karpovich from Washington on Jan. 7. Nevertheless a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said Stolz, his wife and children are expected to leave Russia "within a week." The Soviet note claimed Stolz and the former U.S. Embassy first secretary, Kenneth A. Kerst, engaged in shady dealings with a Russian referred to only as "B." Kerst, 46, currently is working for the State Department in Washington. "It seems obvious," the American Embassy spokesman said, "this is a clear example of retaliation." Stolz, informally clad in slacks and a sweater, declined comment on the Communist charges. (But in Washington, Kerst said there was no foundation for the allegation. He called it a "case of direct retaliation" for the Karpovich affair.)

Negroes Threaten Massive Protest March in Jackson

By United Press International Negro leaders have threatened to stage a massive protest in Jackson, Miss., Friday if officers involved in the fatal shooting of a Negro prisoner at the Hinds County jail last week are not suspended. The threat of a protest at Jackson, one of the strongholds of segregation, came during a stepup in racial and integration activity all across the South—months earlier than the start of the so-called revolutions of 1963 and '64. Fifty state troopers were moved into Selma, Ala., where a voter registration drive and arrests continued. The Presbyterian church moved to throw down racial barriers at Memphis, and a federal judge made an announcement in Meridian, Miss., that an admitted Ku Klux Klansman will plead guilty, or no contest, in the slaying of three civil rights workers in Mississippi last summer. The Klansman, James Edward Jordan, will enter his plea at Atlanta.

The threat of a massive protest in Jackson was voiced by Charles Evers, state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and brother of Medgar Evers who was killed by a sniper in 1963. "We're not going to sit by any longer and let trigger-happy racial bigots kill our people and do nothing about it," Evers told a protest meeting attended by 400 Negroes Tuesday night. "The Mississippi Negro is the only animal in the world that doesn't have a closed season," he added. A coroner's jury ruled justifiable homicide in the death of Otis W. Shelby, 18, who was shot Friday night by Deputy Sheriff O. E. Sanderford while being booked after his conviction on charges of making indecent gestures at a white woman. The sheriff's office said Shelby was shot after he attacked two officers and began beating jailer Neal Hollingsworth. Elsewhere: MOBILE, Ala.: The Justice Department filed a legal brief and information totaling more than 700 pages in federal court Tuesday to back up a suit against Dallas County law enforcement officers in furtherance of the civil rights law. JACKSON, Miss.: Stepped-up efforts to desegregate Mississippi colleges, possibly beginning next month at the University of Mississippi with three Negroes, were announced at a civil rights meeting Tuesday night. Two Negroes are already attending the university, the only state-supported college now desegregated. HANOVER, N.H.: Malcolm X, head of the Black Nationalist movement, said Tuesday night he will visit Mississippi next month to "show the Freedom Democratic Party new methods for securing freedom." He predicted the summer of 1965 would be "the longest, hottest, bloodiest summer ever." DETROIT: The Michigan Civil Rights Commission, in its first cease and desist order, Tuesday told the suburban city of Dearborn to stop posting clippings on city bulletin boards which tend to ridicule Negroes.

Western Diplomats Praise Stevenson Speech; French, Russians Unyielding

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Western diplomats today praised U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's policy speech on the U.N. financial crisis Tuesday. But the Russians, main target of the speech, said it showed the United States is the "main obstacle to agreement." The General Assembly scheduled a morning of tributes to Sir Winston Churchill today and planned to clean up other business afterward. Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey prepared to fly to Churchill's funeral Thursday evening, making it unlikely that a confrontation over Russia's U.N. debts and right to vote will take place before Monday. Stevenson told the assembly it should not accept a "double standard" that would allow the Russians to get out of paying their $60 million debt. He warned that this would lead to crippling the United Nations' effectiveness as a peace-making organization and ultimately make the world "a more dangerous place for us all." Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Fedorenko called the speech "too many words and minimum meaning."

Secrecy Cloaks Air Force Probe

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—A stringently enforced shield of secrecy surrounded the investigation of examination cheating at the Air Force Academy and several more cadets' resignations were expected today. Academy cadets and those who have resigned were reported under threat of severe penalty if they discuss the scandal. Officials at the academy announced six more resignations Tuesday, bringing the number of cadets who have resigned in the past nine days to 35. The number is expected to total near 100 before the cheating probe is completed topping the 90 resignations at West Point in its scandal in 1951. Cadets who have resigned or been dismissed have been threatened with possible court martial if they discuss the matter with anyone, the Denver Post reported in a copyrighted story. The newspaper said a parent of one of the cadets said resignation documents given to the students stated they face court martial and possible dishonorable discharge if they discuss the matter—even with their parents.

Episcopalians Inaugurate New Presiding Bishop

By LOUIS CASSELS WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Rt. Rev. John Elbridge Hines, 54, was installed as presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church today in a colorful service at Washington Cathedral. In his inaugural sermon, he called for a return to Christ-centered preaching to lead bewildered church members out of "a maze of theological speculation." He said that, historically, the church has had a real impact on men and society "only when her theology has begun and continued in the declaration, 'I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only son, our Lord.'" Many Attend Service Representatives of 27 other Christian communions, including the Roman Catholic Church, the Eastern Orthodox Church, and major Protestant denominations, walked in the procession down the long avenue of the Gothic cathedral which opened the service. Hines is the 22nd man to serve as presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church—a post which is comparable to the archbishop of Canterbury in the Church of England. He succeeds the Rt. Rev. Arthur C. Lichtenberger as spiritual leader of America's 3.5 million Episcopalians. Bishop Lichtenberger retired because of illness. Prior to his elevation, Hines was bishop of Texas, and the state was well represented at today's ceremonies as it was at another inauguration held here last Wednesday. All of the clergy of the diocese of Texas, and the lay members of the diocesan standing committee, marched in the procession behind Texas' Lone Star flag. Speaks Against Injustice Hines told a news conference Tuesday that the church must continue to "speak in the name of God against racial injustice," and if some members don't like it, "we'll just have to stand the gaff." He touched on the same theme in his sermon today, warning that the church must never let itself be used "as a means of conserving any vested interests or privileges of any institution or race or class." But he said that the church cannot save men or redeem society by preaching an "over-intellectualized" gospel which treats Christ as an abstract concept rather than a living Lord who "suffered under Pontius Pilate... was crucified, dead and buried... and on the third day rose again." If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Howe, Adv.

Dear Abby...
Go With That Dream
And Happy Landings

DEAR ABBY: We plan to be married in June, right after my fiance finishes college. He is working to put himself through college, and even has had to help with a younger brother's education, so he hasn't enough money saved to pay for the honeymoon trip we've always hoped for. After we marry and he begins his career, it will be years before we will be able to have a trip like that. I am a practicing registered nurse and have money saved. Would it be all right if I paid for part of the honeymoon trip so we could go where we've always wanted to go? Or should we just go as far as his money can take us?

MONEY IN THE BANK DEAR MONEY: If you want to follow conventional practice to a gnat's eyelash, the groom pays for the honeymoon, whether it's to Hawaii or Hoboken. But you've made a special case for yourselves, and admirably, too. So if it takes your "help" to swing the kind of honeymoon trip you've always both dreamed of, I say, help. And happy landings!

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old (nearly 13) and I have normal looks for my age except maybe I am quite a bit more developed for a girl my age. It bothers me when people make cracks about it. A lot of boys seem to notice me, but not for the reasons I'd like to be noticed. I don't wear my clothes too tight or anything like that. I hear remarks made about me that make me feel like something "dirty." It confuses me to be told that I should be proud of my build because I guess in a way I am sort of ashamed of it. Do you think it is fair for my father to laugh when he sees me with my blouse tucked in my slacks and say, "Are you sure you're only 12?"

CONFUSED AND DISGUSTED DEAR CONFUSED: You should be proud of your "build"—and even prouder of your wholesome attitude. Just keep wearing your clothes tight enough to show you're a girl, and loose enough to show you're a lady. Don't pay any attention to the "cracks" people make. And your father ought to be ashamed of himself.

DEAR ABBY: I just had to write you about my husband's overly critical attitude. If he isn't criticizing someone he knows, he's criticizing the performers on television. Our sons are teenagers, and they have picked up their father's habit of criticizing everybody. The boys are aggressive, domineering, obnoxious and disrespectful, and have terrible tempers. Just like their father. Please, Abby, won't you tell me how to handle the situation, as I don't know how much more of this I can take? Thank you.

BEAT DEAR BEAT: From your description of the boys' father I wouldn't advise you to become too critical of him. You will have to try twice as hard to influence your sons for the better in order to offset the bad example set by their father.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ELLIE: Most men who have lived alone for 48 years have developed a long list of self-centered habits that would drive any woman to distraction. Don't work too hard to land this one.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

When a person plants a tree he does so with the full realization that he may be planting for posterity, that the tree will increase in dignity as the years pass, and that a century or more hence it may still cast welcome shade for those who linger beneath its branches.

It is difficult to realize, however, that a lawn may be as permanent a planting as the trees that cast their shade upon it. Many of the lawns which surround the beautiful manor houses of England were planted more than five hundred years ago and today the fine quality of this English turf is an inspiration to gardeners throughout the world. There are few achievements which bring more lasting satisfaction to the home owner than a fine well-maintained lawn. Such a piece of turf is the result of intelligent study of the requirements of lawn grasses, careful planning, adequate preparation, and the faithful adherence to a program of good management.

Before selecting the grass to be planted, it is wise to become familiar with the advantages and disadvantages of the various grasses which are adapted to this locality. Some grasses thrive best under cool, moist growing conditions, while others will withstand extreme heat and drought. Some grasses require a very high level of soil fertility, other types will grow on relatively poor soils; some are suited to withstand heavy traffic and endure hard wear, while others need careful management.

In purchasing grass seed it is important to note the percentage of germination as stated on the tag. In high quality seed the germination percentage should run not lower than 80 per cent and preferably 90 per cent or higher. It is poor economy to buy cheap or "bargain" seed which will usually be low in germination, and is apt to contain a high percentage of chaff and weed seeds or seeds of inferior grasses.

When grass seed mixtures are purchased it is important to also make certain what type grasses are included in the mixture and the proportion in which they are used. According to America's Garden Book a mixture which included a high percentage of grasses such as perennial ryegrass, redtop, timothy, Canada bluegrass, sheep fescue and meadow grass should not be considered as the first two are not permanent grasses and the others are of inferior quality for use as lawn grasses. Local dealers should be consulted on grass seeds as they are familiar with the kinds best suited for this locality.

Bermuda grass is one of the most widely used lawn grasses throughout this area. It possesses many admirable qualities but its chief disadvantage is that it is an extremely invasive grass and can become a serious pest in flower beds and other areas unless restrained.

A fairly new lawn grass started by several homeowners in Pampa is the Zoysia grass. One advantage of the Zoysia grass is that it makes rather slow growth and therefore requires less mowing. This columnist would appreciate any reports from growers of the Zoysia or other new lawn grasses.

Careless littering and vandalism in public areas is putting both state and federal agencies to terrific expense every day. This cost of 500 million dollars could easily be avoided by an aroused public who should think twice before rolling down the car window with trash in hand. Litter is being strewn at the rate of 76 tons a minute, 100 million tons a year and is bough back on next year's tax bills.

When Mrs. James arrived, guests began to come in. Coffee and a birthday cake were served to Mrs. Carl Ferguson, Jack Thacker, Ben White, Larwood Glick, Dean Young and Jesse Ring.

one-time gain of another $6 million by changing the present inheritance tax law by putting a 15-month limitation from the date of death on the due date of the state tax.

His cigarette tax hike would raise that tax from its present 9 cents to 9 cents next year.

In other fields, Connally recommended:

- Transfer of the free textbook program and the teacher retirement system as part of the minimum foundation program.
- Abolition of the 5 cent ad valorem tax for college building funds.
- Abolition of the 35 cent state ad valorem tax for public school purposes effective at the end of 1971. He proposed a study to see if local systems could not take over a bigger share of their own public school costs.
- Make the Texas Water Development Board responsible for all water planning, financing and development of the state's water program, and permit the board to issue the full $200 million in bonds for water development.

Deadline Near For Applicants To Academy

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Sp1) — Congressman Walter Rogers announced today that Jan. 31 is the deadline for accepting nominations of candidates for the next school year of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, one of the five Federal Academies. Congressman Rogers is entitled to nominate 10 qualified applicant Marine Academy, one of all District and he will receive applications for such nominations up to the deadline.

The U.S. Merchant Marine Academy has as its mission the education and training of qualified young men for careers as officers in our Merchant Marine. Its four year college level program leads to a B.S. degree, a U.S. Coast Guard license as a Third Officer or a Third Assistant Engineer in the Merchant Marine, and a Commission in the Naval Reserve.

Rogers further advised that constituents seeking more detailed information about the educational and career opportunities afforded by the program of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, should contact his office, or write to the Academy's Training Representative, Maritime Administration, P. O. Box 52948, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Charter

at an election on Jan. 31, 1960, and come up with recommendations for the city commission. These recommendations could be for a completely rewritten charter or amendments to the present charter.

In either case, an election would have to be held, the mayor stated.

The last charter election was on July 9, 1963 when voters approved a city-wide election of city commissioners instead of election in each of the four city precincts. The first city commission election under this new charter amendment will be held April 6.

Any election on charter changes would have to come after July 9 this year, under state law which permits charter elections only once in every two-year period.

If the advisory group recommends a new charter for Pampa, the city commission would call an election of a Charter Commission which would draw up the new city charter.

Election of the charter commission members would be held at the same time as the city election on April 6.

If this course of action is decided upon by the advisory committee, Mayor Thompson said, a charter election would be called sometime in mid-summer.

It was explained further that if the advisory group named today recommends only amendments to the city charter, election of a charter commission would not be necessary. A charter amendment election, in that case, could be called by the city commission.

RECORD SPENDING

Temperatures to Climb Thursday

Pampans were un-thawing today from subfreezing temperatures and preparing for warmer weather.

After a low of 18 degrees today, the weatherman predicted a high today of around 55. The forecast high for tomorrow calls for an even warmer 60 degrees.

The high temperature in Pampa yesterday was 47 degrees, while the thermometer at dawn today read 22 degrees.

Little or no rain or snow was forecast for the next five days, and most temperatures were expected to average 3 - degrees cooler than normal.

The 6 a.m. survey of U.S. Weather Bureau stations showed no measurable precipitation during the last 24 hours and temperatures ranging from 15 degrees at Dalhart to an even 50 degrees at Brownsville. A high pressure system over the state accounted for the lack of clouds.

The forecast for Pampa and vicinity called for mostly fair through tomorrow with temperatures. A little warmer tomorrow. Low tonight in the mid 20s, and high for tomorrow in the low 60s. Winds should be westerly at 10-20 m.p.h.

UP FOR GRABS — Mac McWilliams of Pampa does board battle with Mike Echols and another unidentified Palo Duro player as Ropes Roper (30), Pat McKean (35) and Tommy Cook (45) watch the action.

Harvesters Roll Over Palo Duro

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

Lanny Lewis led the Pampa Harvesters to a 30-point second quarter last night to break open the game, and the demoralized Palo Duro Dons then were outplayed by the Pampa reserves in the second half of the basketball game, going under to a 90-53 defeat.

It was the Harvesters' third straight district win in the second half of play and keeps them in first place, and was their highest point total of the season. Four starters and a reserve scored in double figures and three other players had eight points apiece.

It was a far cry from the previous meeting of the two teams, as the Dons stood meekly by and watched Lewis, Mac McWilliams and Ron Curlee steal the ball almost at will. Lewis either set up or scored the first 10 points of the second quarter to make a shambles of what had been a close ball game in the opening minutes.

Palo Duro jumped off to a 4-0 lead, but the Harvesters put on a full-court press and tied the score up. Harold Mason put PD into a 6-4 lead, but Pampa immediately canned seven straight points behind their master thieves and kept upping the margin to 15-8. Pampa led by as much as eight points before Palo Duro got on the boards in the waning moments and sliced the edge on rebounds. Tommy Cook getting a tip-in at the buzzer to make it 19-15.

Ropes Roper and McWilliams proceeded to take the boards away, while Lewis stole the ball three straight times and scored two other times to run the score to 29-15. The befuddled Dons took time out, and then broke up the shutout with a pair of free throws, but Pampa continued scoring in clusters as Lewis came back with a three-point play to kick off another string of seven.

Hawking Lewis got his third and fourth fouls within seconds of each other and went to the bench, but Roper led the Harvesters as they moved the margin steadily upward, getting a three-point play with seven seconds left to make the score 49-28 at the half.

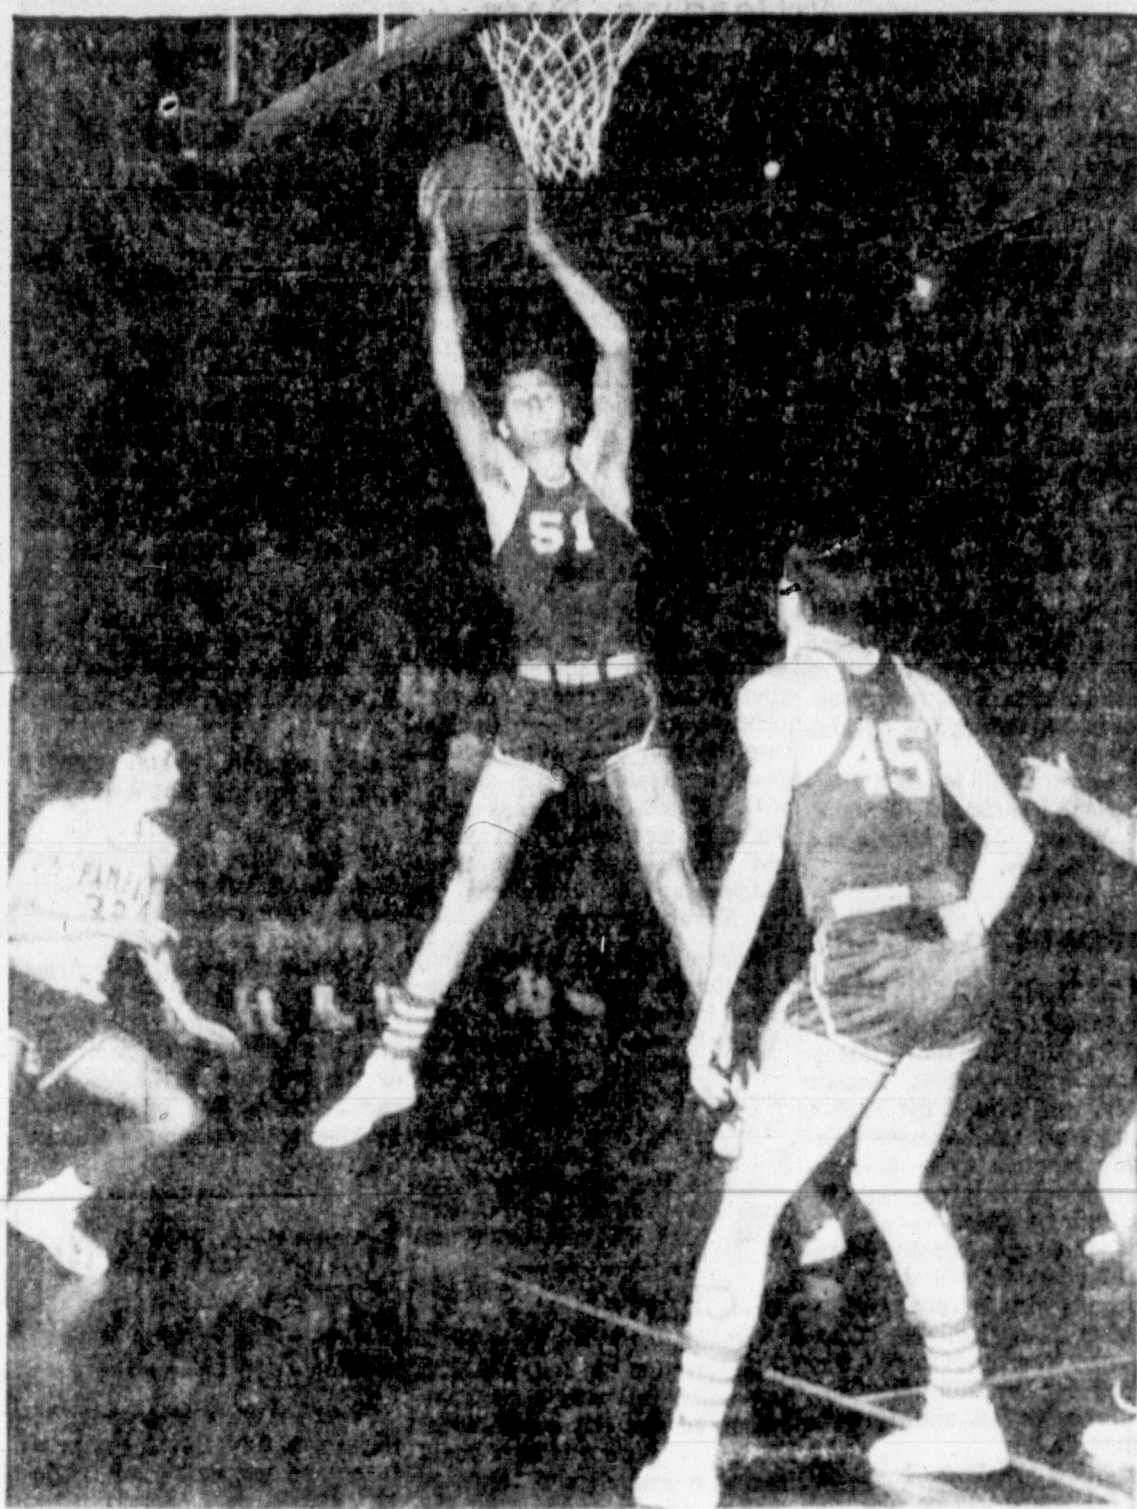

Davy McDaniel opened the third frame with two straight baskets and Pampa led by from 21 to 27 points the rest of the way. Palo Duro cut the edge to 61-40 on free-throws with a minute left as the Harvester reserves went in, but Sugar Cain and Mike Wise popped in a pair of quickies to make it 65-42.

The fourth quarter was a nightmare for Palo Duro as Pampa cleared the bench and still outplayed the visitors. Little Butch Crossland, looking like a flea on an elephant, hawked the ball from the towering Dons, scoring on fast breaks or feeding it to Cain and Wise as the Big Green moved the margin steadily upward toward the final buzzer.

The Pampa Shockers dropped the opening game, 58-44. Steve Williams led the locals with 14 points.

Michigan Nips Michigan State In Crucial Basketball Battle

By LEONARD GRANATO
UPI Sports Writer

For Michigan, ranked No. 2 nationally and leading the Big Ten basketball standings, Tuesday night's game with intra-state rival Michigan State, conference basement, shaped up as a breather. It wasn't.

It took a 40-point effort by Cazzie Russell and an overtime period to down the Spartans 103-98 on the Michigan State court at East Lansing.

The Spartans almost pulled the upset of the year with their finest effort of the season. They worked the ball slowly, deliberately, waiting for the good shots. And they made them. During one stretch they outscored the mighty Wolverines 21-2.

At halftime the upstarts from East Lansing held a 10-point lead, 43-33.

But after the break Russell got the Wolverines moving and they took the lead 56-55 with 13 minutes to play. Michigan led by as many as 10 points (77-67) before the determined Spartans began their comeback.

Curtis Led Wolverines Center Bill Curtis, who wound up with 36 points for the game, led the Michigan State drive, assisted by Captain Marcus Sanders. But it was a reserve, John Schick, who put the game into overtime with a layup that tied the score at 88-all with 14 seconds left.

The overtime period was virtually all Michigan. Russell got eight of the Wolverines' 15 points.

Michigan stands at 4-0 in Big Ten play and 12-2 on the season, while Michigan State is 0-4 in the conference and 4-9 over-

Mustangs Maul Mobeetie, 53-45

WHEELER — Host Wheeler took a pair of district 2-B wins last night over Mobeetie, the Mustangs winning 53-45 and the Fillies 51-32.

Wheeler jumped off to a 13-9 quarter lead on the rebounding and shooting of Mike Gandy and the marksmanship of Richard Wallace, and upped it to 25-19 at the half as Wallace popped in nine points.

The Hornets put the reserves in during the third frame and Mobeetie immediately came alive on the rebounding and shooting of Joe Fred Nixon, Mike Goad and Frankie Rogers led a half-court press that kept Wheeler in a 36-34 lead.

Wheeler put back the starters in the fourth quarter and Dunk Porter and Wallace wrapped it up.

Nine Mustangs got in on the scoring to make their district record 4-4, with Wallace can-

Texas Tech Routs SMU

LUBBOCK (UPI) — Texas Tech sat alone on top of the Southwest Conference mountain today and no one short of the Boston Celtics could have kept them off.

The Raiders turned the "show-down" game with Southern Methodist into a rout Tuesday night thanks to one of the most fantastic displays of shooting seen around the league in years. The final score—107-89—was almost inconsequential.

The win was Tech's third in conference play with no defeats and it was SMU's first loss after two wins. It left Tech in sole possession of first place in the loop and the favorite to replace Texas A&M as SWC champ.

Municipal Coliseum bulged with 9,625 fans and the overflow spilled into an auditorium next door to watch a closed circuit telecast of the game.

The Raiders kept their faithful happy all night, and particularly in the first half when they sunk an incredible 70.6 per cent of their shots from the field.

Dub Malaise and Norman Reuther were the crowd favor-

Gonzalez Upsets Emile In Non-Title Fight

HOUSTON (UPI) — Welterweight Manuel Gonzalez' stock ran high today for a try at the world title on the strength of his narrow upset Tuesday night of champion Emile Griffith in a non-title fight.

The fight went the scheduled 10-round distance, before around 9,000 in Sam Houston Coliseum.

Gonzalez, who moved from Odessa and now boxes out of Houston, had virtually no weight advantage—he weighed 149½ and Griffith, former Virginia Islander now living in New York, was at 149 in the over-the-weight contest.

But the stylish and methodical host boxer was cool before Griffith's attack Tuesday night and came out of it almost unscathed. Griffith, too, had little to show he had pounded it out for 10 rounds, except for a bit of puffiness about the eye that Gonzalez got started in a fourth-round exchange.

Rebels Win

BORGER — The Lee Rebels took a tight 53-47 win at Borger Houston yesterday. The score was tied at the quarter at 14-14, but Beetle Bailey spiked Lee into a 26-21 halftime lead and Lee held the edge the rest of the way.

Bailey scored 25 points, Johnny Marsh 13. Brown had 14 for Houston.

Lee 8th grade dropped a 32-23 decision Jim Hollis topped the Johnny Rebs with eight.

Boxer Suing Bud Adams

HOUSTON (UPI) — Millionaire K. S. (Bud) Adams, who has been worried lately with the Houston Oilers' pro football signings, faced a new problem today—a suit from a boxer.

Steve Freeman, a lightweight boxer whose contract the oil man owns, has sued the Oilers' owner to gain freedom from a contract that gives Adams exclusive control of all of Freeman's boxing appearances until June 1, 1969.

Freeman says under Adams' control, he has not been able to get enough fights to keep his reputation alive.

The case will allow Adams to reply to the boxer's charges and will require the oilman to give reasons for Freeman's alleged inability to get fights elsewhere.

Adams' oiler football team is in court at Oklahoma City over another contract problem—with Oklahoma tackle Ralph Neely. The Oilers contend the contract signed by Neely with them is binding and Neely says it is not. Neely has since signed also with the Dallas Cowboys.

Giants Sign Ernie Koy

HOUSTON (UPI)—Texas tailback Ernie Koy cast his lot with the New York Giants Tuesday, spurning offers of a similar pro contract with the Houston Oilers because he preferred to play in the National Football League.

Koy said both teams offered him about the same deal, and the choice was more which league to enter. The 220-pound Longhorn, also noted for his punting, is the second Texas player to sign with the Giants. Olin Underwood, a lineman, was the first.

YA CAN'T WIN department: When the Pampa Newsboys were first formed as a basketball team to play charity tilts for fun, everyone immediately proceeded to tee off on the novice cagers as if they were competing in the NBA.

When, in self-defense, the Newsboys added a few ex-Harvesters and area players to the ranks so that they could play for real, everyone immediately asked that they bring the old team back, they didn't mean it.

BOBBY GOLPHENE, cage coach at Lefors, challenged the Newsboys to a game with the Lefors Faculty for the benefit of the Lefors Lettermen's Club Thursday night. Bobby said we should bring the "ins" team down, honest, the pore of faculty members just couldn't keep up with the fresh youths. However, Bobby immediately admitted that in addition to the faculty, they were seeking a few ex-Pirates for the squad. (Reliable information reports that telegrams have been sent to Don McCool at OSU and Terry Brown at New Mexico Western to come home at once, and that Lightning Coleman is undergoing an intensive emergency diet.)

Bobby cried that even the former high school and college stars on the Faculty were "too old and pooped, they couldn't go any more." Ya know, that's exactly what Sweet William Harle said, and the likes of himself, J. T. Hill, Richard Gaines and Tooter Helton were as healthy specimens as we ever saw.

Golphene was quite a cager at Yakima Junior College, in the wilds of Oregon or Washington or some such, football coach Dean King was a hotshot at Spur and assistant coach Harley Lewis played on a state champ team at Childress.

Then, although Golphene derides Journalism teacher Keith Geisler and math teacher Murray Stroud as a couple of five-fives, we know that Keith was quite a cager not so long ago, and the boys at Lefors tell Stroud was ditto. Science teacher Paul Wadron is an unknown quantity, but he might be using us for experiments.

This department protested the use of Geisler, our long-time correspondent, but Golphene said that if we took him, we'd have to give back Bill Nichols. We quit.

In any case, it will either be a lot of fun or a darn good basketball game, or both. That's Thursday night at Lefors at 7:30. Bobby also promises honest referees, but admits he's planning on using school officials. Yeah, yeah!

For folks who can't get out Thursday, or who like lots of basketball, the Newsboys meet the tough Pampa Vikings at Carver Gymnasium tonight at 7:30 for the benefit of the P.T.A.

Then Monday night, it's up to Miami to play their faculty for the benefit of the Senior Class. When are we going to get a benefit for ourselves? We may get one at Miami, Mike McHone reported the faculty looked pooped staggering to a victory over the Chamber of Commerce Monday night. I dunno, that Lawrence Overcast, pooped or not, is one of the finest cagers of any age in the Panhandle. And don't let Bill Thomas' avoirdupois fool you, that round man can still roll around that court.

"Sweet William" Harle and his Wheeler crew want revenge for Monday night's defeat and another contest at Wheeler. We are trying to get the game at Miami, Lefors or White Deer, we'd just like to see what it's like with the fans on our side. We're still waiting for the Groom coaches to shape up and take us on, and the White Deer Jaycees as well. Cousin George Smith was supposed to book the KIXZ disc jockeys, but we haven't heard yet.

Guess the Lee coaches are chicken. After downing us in a scrimmage, they wanted to play another game for the March of Dimes. However, Tex Nolan watched us work out Sunday, and after viewing the Sikes brothers, insisted that we allow Terry Culley and Gary Griffin to play with them. Okay, Tex, we'll let you have "Old Folks" and "The Jolly Green Giant" if you give us Charlie Snuggs back.

GETTING OFF the basketball subject for a moment, we would like to thank Mrs. A. E. Dunnam of Lefors for a very fine fan letter. After all the abuse we've been getting in the mail lately, it's a pleasure to find someone who has something nice to say. Thank you, Mrs. D., we sure appreciate it.

Reapers Romp

PHILLIPS — Pampa Junior High took a double victory over Phillips yesterday, the 9th grade winning 51-45.

Johnny Carlos sparked the Reapers into a 22-6 quarter lead. Pampa used reserves liberally and the hosts closed the gap in the second half. Carlos, Alvin Achord and Lonzo Gomez led the scoring.

The 8th grade took a 36-16 win, with everyone scoring. Johnny Karr, Dan Carlton and Hal Keyser each had four points.

LA Lakers Back As Contender

By United Press International
Now that Los Angeles Lakers stars Elgin Baylor and Jerry West are both healthy, the Western Division leaders are a National Basketball Association title contender again.

West and Baylor combined for an amazing 83 points Tuesday night before a jam-packed Madison Square Garden crowd of 15,575 to lead the Lakers past New York, 111-99. Wilt Chamberlain made his New York debut since joining the Philadelphia 76ers in the opener of a twin bill but his team lost to Detroit, 107-105.

In the night's only other NBA action, Cincinnati stood off San Francisco, 115-107, to run the Warriors' all-time record losing streak to 17 games.

Los Angeles is leading the Western Division, but its 27-21 record is far worse than that of either Boston or Cincinnati in the East. However, first Baylor and then West, was injured.

Tuesday, both were at their best and the Lakers must now be considered a threat in the playoffs. West hit 18 of 27 shots against New York while scoring 47 points and Baylor had 15 of 29 go in as he meshed 36. That left only 28 points scored by the rest of the team. Jim Barnes led New York with 15.

Chamberlain, the loop's top scorer, was held to 17 points in the opener, but he grabbed 22 rebounds and had five assists. Philadelphia's Hal Greer led the contest with 26, while Detroit's Terry Dischinger and Reg Harding tallied 21 and 20 respectively.

Philadelphia led 81-76 after three stanzas. The game was tied five times in the fourth quarter until the Pistons broke a 99-all deadlock with five straight points and held on for victory.

Cincinnati was leading by 19 points at San Francisco in the third quarter when the Warriors suddenly caught fire and closed the margin to two. But the fine outside shooting of the Royals put them well in front again and San Francisco could never come close again.

Adrian Smith of Cincinnati led all scorers with 22, while Oscar Robertson tossed in 26 and Jerry Lucas 25 for the winners. Tom Meschery had 26 and Nate Thurmond 20 for the Warriors.

Memphis Rallies By Tigers

MEMPHIS — The Memphis Cyclones came from behind in the fourth quarter to take a 74-60 district 2-A win over McLean last night.

Trailing all the way, the Cyclones got red-hot in the fourth quarter led by big sophomore Bobby Carroll, while the Tigers couldn't buy a basket in the final frame.

McLean opened a 16-11 quarter lead as Eddie Jay Windom slammed home 10 points, and Windom and George Green upped it to 33-27 at the half.

Memphis put on the press, but Homer Goldston and Windom broke through it, while fast-breaking Jim Odom cut the margin to 51-49.

Windom had 23 points, Goldston and Green 11. Four Cyclones scored in double figures. Odom with 24, Hoot Jones 17, Bobby Carroll 13 and Larry Helms 11.

Memphis also won the B game, 41-37. Jim Hester had 11 and Drew Fuller 10 points for McLean, Gary Ray 19 for Memphis.

RUPP PICKED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Mickey Rupp of Mansfield, Ohio, became the first rookie nominated for the 49th annual Indianapolis 500 Tuesday. Rupp is sponsored by H. A. Chapman of Tucson, Ariz., and will drive a conventional roadster, which is the first car of its type to be entered this year.

Football Mourns Death of Harry

"Outlined against the blue-grey October sky, the Four Horsemen rode again. In dramatic lore they are known as Famine, Pestilence, Destruction and Death. These are only aliases. Their real names are: Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden."

vice-president-marketing at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow, Mary, and four sons, Harry Jr. of Detroit, Michael of Pittsburgh, John of Washington, D.C., and Peter of New York City.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The legend of the Four Horsemen, college football's most fabled backfield, was born in 1924 when the late sportswriter Grantland Rice wrote of the Notre Dame-Army game.

The legend lives. One of its stars is dead. Harry A. Stuhldreher, quarterback of the Four Horsemen who helped Notre Dame become one of the giants in college football, died Tuesday in a hospital here, 12 days after undergoing major surgery. He was 63.

His death left the other three members of the Four Horsemen deeply grieved.

Elmer Layden, the fullback, said Stuhldreher was "a great leader... who gave so much of himself... we played golf together for the last 12 years. He was just like a member of the family."

"We were so close," said teamed at fullback with Harry sleepy Jim Crowley, who Miller. "He has been such a warm friend all of these years."

Called The Plays
"In my estimation," said Miller, "he was the greatest quarterback of all time." When he played, Harry called all signals from the formation. There was no help from the sideline in playcalling.

Miller and Stuhldreher were roommates at Notre Dame.

Stuhldreher is the fifth member of that Notre Dame team to be claimed by death. Knute Rockne the coach and one of the Irish's greatest names, was killed in a plane crash March 31, 1931. Also dead are three of the linemen, whose appellation the Seven Mules also caught the public's fancy. They were left guard John Weibel, right guard Noble Kizer and right end Ed Hunsinger.

Joe Bach, one of the Mules, said Stuhldreher personified "everything that was a credit to athletics." Adam Walsh, center and captain of the 1924 team, termed Stuhldreher's death "a tremendous loss to his family, his friends, football and the nation."

Stuhldreher entered West Penn Hospital here Dec. 29 and underwent surgery of the pancreas on Jan. 14. He was reported making good progress, but suffered a relapse Monday night and was placed on the critical list. He died at 6:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Hall of Famer
The "little general" — he weighed only 152 pounds in his playing days — was an All-American and lived to see himself enshrined in the National Football Hall of Fame and the Helms Foundation of Fame.

A native of Massillon, Ohio, where he played high school football, Stuhldreher attended Kiski Prep at Saltsburg, Pa., for two years before enrolling at Notre Dame. He quarterbacked the teams of 1922-23-24, reaching the top in 1924 when the Irish were named national champions and capped the season by defeating Stanford 27-10 in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, 1925.

Stuhldreher became head coach at Villanova, a small gridiron unknown on Philadelphia's "Main Line," after his graduation. He built the school into an eastern power. He left in 1936 to become athletic director and football coach at the University of Wisconsin. In 1950, he joined U.S. Steel, where he was employed as a

KNICKS ACTIVATE HOOVER
NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Knickerbockers activated 6-foot-9 Tom Hoover Tuesday in time for their game Tuesday night with the Los Angeles Lakers at Madison Square Garden. Hoover replaced Len Chappell, who was put on the inactive list with a broken foot.

Carver Wins

Carver Junior High's 7th and 8th grade team, headed by the shooting and rebounding of Charles Mathis, took a 70-63 win over Silverton.

Silverton led through the first two quarters until Carver rallied for a 37-34 halftime lead and the Wildcats never trailed again. Mathis led the scoring with 27 points.

The Wildcats play at Carver tomorrow night.

LBJ on Compulsory Union

President Johnson has put himself squarely in line with the union bosses who would like to compel every worker in the nation to become dues-paying members to the organized unions.

It apparently passed over the heads of most listeners when the President said in his State of the Union Address:

"And as pledged in our 1960 and 1964 Democratic platforms, I will propose to Congress changes in the Taft-Hartley Act, including Section 14-b. I will do so hoping to reduce conflicts that for several years have divided Americans in various states of our Union."

Probably not many of those who heard and saw the President realized the import of that statement about Section 14-b. That section is the provision of the labor law which permits each state to prohibit by law "agreements requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment within that state."

There are 20 states which now have so-called "right-to-work" legislation on their books. And these have been something of a thorn in the sides of the union bosses. One of the reasons is that there's a growing interest in outlawing compulsory membership in unions as condition of employment and additional states have been adopting the "right to work" laws. Latest was Wyoming in 1963.

Mr. Johnson in advocating repeal of Section 14-b of the Taft-Hartley Act says he hoped "to reduce conflicts that for several years have divided Americans in various states of our Union." If he and the union bosses are successful in their aim, they may create a greater division than ever among Americans.

If Mr. Johnson and the union bosses have the great respect they claim for the opinions of the majority, they should look at the 1964 report of Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N. J. Last year 67 per cent of those polled in a nation-wide survey said they favored an arrangement under which "a man can hold a job whether or not he belongs to a union." In 1962 the percentage was 62 and in 1956 only 48 per cent favored voluntary unionism.

As columnist David Lawrence commented:

"It seems ironic that, with all the many references the President's message to 'freedom' and the constant reiteration that the American people are enjoying unexcelled freedom, a worker in many areas cannot keep a job unless he agrees to join a union within 30 or 60 days after he is employed."

The Care You Need

When the Federal Government asserts its right to tax your income its claim has first priority. It may tax you for the purpose of sending an ice show to Africa at a time when you need the money for an operation. The fact that you obviously have need for your money - and should have a better claim on it than Congolese ice - skating fans - will avail you nothing in your conference with the Internal Revenue Service.

Fewer Americans would have trouble meeting their medical bills if our Government had not spent and wasted so much of their earnings through the years. That's something to remember now that the Administration is urging that the Government take on more responsibility for our health.

The bills for this will go to the taxpayer. He will benefit only if his health problems happen to fit neatly into the particular medical approaches Washington sets up. If you should happen not to qualify for treatment under the Federal programs, the new Federal taxes would still sap you to pay for the ailments of others and leave you so much less solvent to pay for your own care.

Under the Administration's new plans, even persons under the $3,000-a-year "poverty level" will have the obligation to meet hospital bills for anyone over 65, no matter how wealthy. The bread-winner who is fighting a battle against crippling arthritis will see part of his earnings tapped to treat others whose ailments may be cardiovascular.

Need will be no criterion for Federal help, and hardship will bring no relief from the costs. Persons of some ages and with some diseases will have claim on the resources of us all, while others in greater need and with diseases as serious will be only on the paying end.

These new health programs seem sure of enactment in this Congress. National polls show that those who most favor them are ignorant of what they contain. Once these plans are enacted, we may expect that Congress will be asked to liberalize them - at least until they provide what most people think they provide now.

Ultimately, if this start is made, we may expect the Federal Government to assume responsibility for all medical costs. Anyone who believes that it will cost American families less this way just doesn't know the record of the Federal Government.

'Cold War' Speeds Up

According to the US Public Health Service, the average American will have three colds this year (just as he always does) - and that will be about 579 million colds for the nation. But by 1970 all may be changed!

In the meanwhile, the average sufferer will spend about a dollar in the drugstore, hopeful that something will help, and that's half a billion! His absenteeism from this cause will exceed that from all other illnesses and injuries combined! Every single day, 5,000 workers are staying home to nurse colds. The annual cost in lost production and lost wages plus medical bills is estimated at $5 billion.

Assorted remedies developed since World War II, have shortened a cold's duration somewhat and relieved respiratory misery. But even the most effective, such as Coricidin (which doctors prescribe and is now sold over the counter) are palliatives at best, to be used until the "master weapon" finally appears.

A year ago, our best scientific minds, directing the multi-million-dollar research efforts of the Government and the nation's pharmaceutical companies were cautious in their predictions, the most optimistic hinting at a breakthrough in ten years. At that time, Dr. Preston Perleman, director of biological research for Schering Corporation, advised us to forget the idea that there is a single common cold virus since there are "any number... possibly 100 or more." Thus, to achieve an effective common cold vaccine, he said, "would probably take an effort ten times the magnitude of the polio vaccine effort."

And Dr. Robert Huebner of the National Institutes of Health, who is co-ordinating the vaccine hunt while the actual vaccine-making job is being done by pharmaceutical manufacturers such as Schering, pegged the project last year "at the same stage we were with the polio virus ten years ago." But, he warned, the urgency is not the same, declaring prudently: "the timetable will depend on the magnitude of the effort."

Today, Dr. Perleman is optimistic over the progress made

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON
The Do-Gooder's Deeds

A great majority of the American people, north and south, including many who piously plead from beneath their halos that all men are created equal, don't practice integration and have no intention of ever doing so. They just preach it, for others. Many of the white, eager-beaver integrationists live in towns where there are no Negroes, or they are able to buy their own segregation in all-white private schools, all-white civic clubs, social clubs, golf clubs.

Each weekday many thousands of white suburbanites have their white wives drive them to the station to catch their commuter trains to the city. They kiss their all-white spouses and brood and leave their little Anglo-Saxon, Christian towns for their daily grind without having seen a Negro. They ride a lily-white train as they read "all the news that's fit to tint" in their leftist newspapers.

Really Underprivileged
These culturally-deprived citizens should not be allowed to deny themselves the equal opportunity to really mix with their Negro brothers. The Supreme Court should pass another law requiring these overprivileged hypocrites to benefit by living with, going to school with, working with, socializing with their share of Negroes. It is now unmodern-American to allow Negroes to be discriminated against by being forced on children and poor whites only. The Burning Tree and Augusta National golf clubs, the DAR and the Junior League, NAM and C of C, Princeton and Groton, must be Mississippi with all deliberate speed.

When President Kennedy illegally sent U. S. Marshals and federal troops to Mississippi to violate that sovereign state and the U. S. Constitution, the assembled goons and GIs damaged private property to the extent of $104,544. And the federal government refused to pay a cent of it. The Comptroller General of the United States of America said there is nothing in the record to indicate that the U. S. government ever contemplated or intended paying rent or damages for its invasion of Mississippi. Right. The only way Mississippi could qualify for damage payments would be to get itself declared a foreign state. For 100 years the South has been the only country invaded by the U. S. government which has not been rebuilt by it.

No Change
One former Southern governor who has many times said: "I am an old-fashioned segregationist," now declares he's changed his mind. In your heart, you know he's lying. All he's changed is his desire to take a big government job instead of his present railroad job. He's for Let's YOU Integrate. He reminds me of this episode which occurred down in the bayous of Louisiana: It was Halloween and prayer-meeting night. Just as the final song was sung, some pranksters lifted a huge 17-year-old "devil," dressed in full regalia, into the little church's main window. One minute later the church was empty, except for one very old, and very crippled little woman. The devil lumbered toward her menacingly.

"Hold on there, Mistuh Debbl! There's somethin' I gotta tell you." I been in this church 57 years. Been President of the Woman's Society, taught Sunday School, ain't never missed a meetin' I was able to git to. But Mistuh Debbl, I really been on yo side all the time!"

by the industry in 1964 and says: "We all have high hopes that an effective cold vaccine will be on the market in five years!"
But, mind you, this will be no "cure" - for with the vaccine, nobody will catch cold in the first place! The common cold will be as out-of-style as housemaid's-knee.

Modern Russian Arms - Challenge U.S. Viet Nam Policy of Washington-Controlled Bombings of Red Supply Lines

ROBERT ALLEN
PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON - The appearance of modern Russian arms in the battle for South Viet Nam is raising serious new military and political questions for President Johnson.

Soviet-made 37mm radar-controlled anti-aircraft batteries, which destroyed two of the Air Force's most modern fighter-bombers and damaged eleven others in one U.S. raid, are being installed along the important Communist communication lines and storage areas in Laos and North Viet Nam.

The unexpected use of these rapid-fire Soviet anti-aircraft guns, capable of downing the speediest U.S. fighter-bombers, has drastically changed the tactical air situation in the Vietnamese war.

Ambassador Maxwell Taylor, who estimates the new Russian guns will double U.S. air losses, is seeking permission from the President to bomb these Communist strong points at will rather than wait for permission from Washington for each air strike.

At present these tightly controlled air raids are being directed from the office of presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy rather than by Ambassador Taylor, who is supposed to be bossing U.S. military operations in South Viet Nam.

High-ranking Air Force officers are privately protesting that this long-range political direction of air strikes is making it almost impossible for U.S. authorities in Saigon to take effective action against Communist supply operations.

While these strictly controlled air attacks make big headlines in the U.S., and seemingly indicate a tougher stand by the administration, the officers point out that the military results so far show this impression is highly misleading.

LIMITING THE TARGETS - The Air Force officers contend that the air strikes - less than one-third of those requested by Ambassador Taylor - are so limited by the White House that the raids are only delaying and not stopping North Vietnamese supply shipments to the pro-Red Pathet Lao and Viet Cong forces.

The officers argue that the mounting toll in U.S. jets isn't worth either the military or political results unless the bombing raids are expanded to include communication and storage targets in North Viet Nam.

By extending the war, they believe the new attacks could immediately cut U.S. air losses by smashing the railroad yards near Hanoi where the Russian-made 37mm anti-aircraft guns are being unloaded and assembled, and Vietnamese troops are trained to operate the batteries.

These raids have been opposed by Bundy and Secretary Rusk on the ground such U.S. action would escalate the war rather than bring about the negotiated settlement in South Viet Nam that President Johnson is secretly trying to arrange.

Under present administration policy the U. S. is using the "limited" air strikes against the Communist communication lines in Laos to pressure North Viet Nam into seeking a negotiated settlement.

The President also has secretly sent repeated messages through Moscow to Hanoi and Peking offering to withdraw U.S. military advisers immediately in exchange for a military truce in South Viet Nam.

According to congressional leaders briefed at the White House last week, the President admitted his strategy has failed to produce the expected results, but he plans to continue it temporarily.

While not completely ruling out Ambassador Taylor's requests for air strikes in North Viet Nam in the future, the President told the legislators he still hopes to negotiate a broader diplomatic arrangement with Peking and Russia guaranteeing an acceptable solution for the U. S. in Asia.

The President gave no details, and none of the bipartisan group of legislators pressed him for further information.

WORLD FOOD BANK - President Johnson is seriously considering proposing the establishment of a world food bank with the U. S. as the main contributor.

The revolutionary proposal, now on the President's desk awaiting comments from Cabinet members, was drafted by Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman and has the support of Secretary Rusk.

If approved, the President will propose the project in a major speech at the United Nations in February when he unveils a new "Food and Peace Program."

Under this program, the U.S. will each year turn over to the newly-created international agency part of the government-controlled farm surpluses to be resold by the UN to needy, underdeveloped nations for their own currency.

According to one provision of the President's proposal, the UN would use the local currency to pay for large-scale development projects in the countries that purchased the food.

All UN members, including Communist bloc nations, would be permitted to buy food from the bank. Although the U.S. would be the main contributor, other surplus food-producing nations, such as Canada and Australia, would be asked to turn over part of their surplus to the world food bank.

No final decision on this country's contributing share will be made until the President discusses his proposal, which needs congressional approval, with Senate-House agriculture leaders.

Soundings taken by the President among Midwest governors attending his inaugural were reported as favorable by Agriculture Department backers of the plan.

To pay for the program, the

Promises of Miracles
In delivering his State of the Union message, President Johnson promised nothing less than miracles. Other chief executives, in other times, have cited opportunities for national growth and development. They have made political promises of an extensive nature. But Lyndon B. Johnson presented himself as a miracle-worker.

Indeed he didn't only promise miracles for the United States, but for the entire world. His generous vision of wealth and well-being was directed, as he put it, to "every corner of a dwindling planet." He vowed to bring good cheer to the most remote corners, to endow them with abundant freedom, and to provide peace on earth.

The visionary man who is now in the White House plans virtually to abolish disease, ignorance, and poverty. Whether people suffer from cavities or mental illness, he plans to be Dr. Cure-All.

While he cures the physical ills of the body, he contemplates a conquest of poverty. Though the Bible says that a man must earn his bread by the sweat of his brow, Mr. Johnson apparently believes that this truth is out-of-date. He means to abolish poverty, starting in Appalachia - with doubled federal grants in aid, of course. Then he proposes a system of grants for the poor. There will be a big Job Corps, to be sure, and a wide variety of projects similar to those given Franklin Roosevelt's old WPA. At the first sign that things aren't going well, said Mr. Johnson, he will start slashing taxes. There just aren't going to be any poor people in this nation, or the world, if the miracle-worker has his way.

When he isn't getting rid of every last scrap of poverty, Lyndon Johnson will be busy eliminating blighted regions of cities and dull, depressing suburban areas as well. He will turn dirty rivers into streams as clean as they were when the Indians were the only people on this continent. He also promised in the State of the Union message to be the biggest park builder in history, creating more than any President since Thomas Jefferson made the Louisiana Purchase. Naturally, he also intends to eliminate air pollution. People who are litterbugs will be brought under federal control so that there will be no messy paper or old cartons on the ground of America the beautiful.

While Mr. Johnson gives the out of doors a shining new face, he also will be occupied in seeing that the country gets new symphony orchestras and other cultural assets.

War, crime, juvenile delinquency and other problems that have troubled and vexed President will seek a supplemental appropriation from Congress to restore the Commodity Credit Corporation funds that would be used to purchase the surplus farm commodities under the government's price-support program.

Question Box

QUESTION: "Is the belief of most people in the power of eminent domain, one of the primary causes of the local, state, and federal governments interfering with the unalienable rights of individuals to the use of their property?"

ANSWER: We think the belief in the power of eminent domain by the governments, usually miscalled the "right" of eminent domain, is a primary cause of the growth of socialism. The reason is that the government is not an entity, it is only an agent of the people. The Declaration of Independence or the Constitution doesn't talk about the rights of government, it only refers to the rights of individuals and the power granted by the people to the government. If the people do not grant the government power, it has no power. It is a pauper.

The people cannot grant to the government the right to do something that each and every individual doesn't have a right to do himself, unless we believe in a double standard of right which in reality is no standard at all. It seems to be a hang-over of the belief in the divine right of kings that people get their rights from God by way of a king.

If the government didn't have the power of eminent domain to do things that no individual has a right to do, the government then could not draft soldiers, could not compel parents to send their children to a school supported by the government by way of taxation. If people did not believe in the power of eminent domain we would not have tariffs, immigration restrictions or irredeemable counterit money made legal by government but not moral.

In short, we would not have acts by the government which interfere with people enjoying fruits of their property and their primary property is of course their lives and all that they produce.

Some people go so far as to contend that the power of eminent domain gives one government the power to take the property of another government. It has no right but it might have the power.

It is hard to see how the United States government is setting a good example to other governments seizing property. If the governments didn't have the power of eminent domain, property would then be safer generations of Americans will be easily dispensed with by LBJ, if the State of the Union message is accurate. In addition, labor and management will be devoid of problems. Prices won't worry anyone, and everyone will be a voter and a good citizen.

To complete the rosy picture, Mr. Johnson told the nation that these are real miracles - for they won't cost much, he says. He declared that the U. S. will continue along the path toward a balanced budget. Now there is a visionary statement for you, for he is certainly following a strange and devious path to reach this goal.

Now, all these things Mr. Johnson promises would be fine - maybe, certainly some of them would - but promises won't produce them.

Can the American people believe in the LBJ miracles? For the time being, they seem taken in by the glowing words and the splendid vision of life as one big carnival with free admission to all rides and booths. But it seems reasonable to suppose that sooner or later a rather sizable element of the population will ask where the money will come from to pay for the miracles. Mr. Johnson is a man of great political skill but the public certainly knows that he hasn't repealed the laws of nature or eliminated the truth that you can't get something for nothing.

If the American people are to enjoy new comforts and luxuries, someone has to pay the bill. Mr. Johnson hasn't a money tree on the White House grounds. The federal government has no means other than the taxes it extracts from the wallets of tax-payers. If handouts are to be given in new profusion, then a staggering new burden will be imposed on the taxpayers of the United States.

In the long run, it is impossible to fool all the people all the time. Anything you get in this world you have to pay for. If Americans want more in the next four years, they will have to work harder. But Mr. Johnson didn't have the courage in his State of the Union message to tell them that prosperity comes only through hard work, not through promises.

Wit and Whimsy
A rooming house landlord received a phone call from the mother of a college freshman. "Please keep an eye on Albert for me," begged the mother. "See that he gets plenty of sleep and doesn't drink or run around too much."

"You see," she added in an apprehensive tone, "this is the first time he's been away from home - except for two years in the Marines."

"Think" is the most important word in the language, today this column is helping to make men think. The world always needs the man who thinks, the worker who thinks and the thinker who works.

The only thing people learn from experience is that they've made another mistake.

Those who want to live a quiet, peaceful life have picked the wrong time to live.

Harry - I want to do something big, something clean.
Larry - Go wash an elephant.

One neighbor (to another) - Hear you've been having car trouble.
Other Neighbor - Yes, I bought a new carburetor that saved 30 per cent on gas, a new timer that saved 50 per cent on gas, and a new set of plugs that saved 40 per cent on gas.

First neighbor - So, what happened?
Second neighbor - After I'd gone about ten miles, the gas tank overflowed.

Jim - Does your wife really obey you?
Joe - Sometimes. When I say, Go ahead and never mind me, she always does.

Sue - My grandfather never uses an umbrella when it rains.
Joan - What does he do?
Sue - He just gets wet.

A kias is a peculiar proposition. Of no use to one, yet absolute bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to lie for it, and the old man has to buy it; for the baby's right, the lover's privilege, and the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl, faith; to a married woman, hope, and to an old maid, charity.

No man is a hypocrite in his pleasures.

The difference between gossip and news depends on whether you hear it or tell it.

Fact

The word martinet, a military term meaning a strict disciplinarian or taskmaster, was derived from Jean Martinet in the French army during the reign of Louis XIV. He was an inspector general of infantry and a stern drillmaster. He was accidentally shot by his own artillery while leading an infantry charge.

Teenage Drinking Problem Fault of Childs Parents?

EDITORS' NOTE: This is the third in a series of five dispatches on teen-age drinking.

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—Contemporary teen-agers were post-war babies, born as a result of happy reunions and a great desire to have children.

There was a primary emphasis on permissiveness, based on the theory that if you give endlessly to a child, he will blossom to the utmost.

They were burped by the rules in child-raising books, given vitamins and shots pediatricians recommended, and otherwise, all along the way, were exposed to the "good life."

So guess who gets blamed for millions of them drinking beer and whisky today? Their parents.

By poor example and lack of discipline, the parents have just the teen-agers they deserve, in the opinion of educators, social workers, police officials and clergymen polled by United Press International.

Numerous Causes
Sharing the blame with parents are such things as the bomb — "tomorrow we die"; social pressures to grow up fast — beginner bras for 11 year olds; teen-age rebellion — an age-old thing; teen-age desires to do what the crowd does; television, movies and advertisements which make drinking glamorous.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

The London Stock Market's first reaction to Labor's loss of a supposedly safe election district in grimy East London was an abrupt rise in the price of steel shares.

It was a reflection of the market's belief that the loss which cut Labor's already slim majority in the House of Commons to three, also meant that Labor's promise to re-nationalize the steel industry had been put off indefinitely and might never come to pass.

East London's Leyton District had been especially selected for the candidacy of Patrick Gordon Walker, foreign minister in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government, because it was believed impossible for a Labor candidate to lose there, a double blow.

For Wilson it was a double blow. It not only cut his strength in Commons, it also cost him his foreign minister since members of the government also must be elected to the House of Commons.

In his American-style campaign Wilson had promised British voters a first 100 days of "dynamic action."

As the anniversary passed, there seemed agreement that the new government had not been able to live up to its promises.

In fact, with the passing of the first bloom, there were predictions that Wilson, now at the mercy of factions within his own party, would have to call national elections soon. The results in Leyton were not hopeful.
