President, Mrs. Johnson in Hospital

Sneak Snow Ties Up Pampa Traffic

By RON CROSS
Even the weatherman was a bit confused when he woke up Saturday morning. After a prediction Friday of clear skies and temperatures in the mid-40s, the forecaster and Panhandle residents awoke to blowing snow. Winds, gusting up to 50 miles per hour, sent visibility to less than two miles on most highways leading into Pampa. The snow, which sneaked up on the weatherman, sneaked up almost as fast as it came in. A bright Saturday afternoon sun melted much of it away to make for easier travel. Last night's freezing temperatures, however, iced the streets over again and set up hazardous driving in many areas.

Snow was still blowing over the road there and highway 60 to Miami late Saturday evening. Highway 152 going to Wheeler was open to all traffic and slick only in spots around bridges. State highway crews were out until late Saturday with snow plows but weren't making much headway where the snow was still drifting. Four persons were sent to Highland General Hospital Saturday afternoon after a two-car head-on crash about five miles east of Pampa on Highway 60. Treated and released were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fiel, aged 55 and 47 respectively, and their 18-year-old son, Sandy, the driver of the car. Driver of the other car, Johnny Lee Wright, 19, Borger, was taken to the hospital but suffered no visible injuries. One of the vehicles veered to avoid a snowbank and crashed head-on into the other car. Roads to Amarillo out of Pampa were considered dangerous late Saturday night due to ice conditions. Buses running in and out of Pampa were right on schedule, according to an official at the bus depot. A Trailway bus driver said Saturday night that roads were clear from Wheeler to the Oklahoma line. The driver said 152 was icy for about five miles between Pampa and Mobeetie. Pampa received three-quarters of an inch of snow and .07 of an inch of rain for a total moisture show of .21. Snow drifts were as high as seven feet on Highway 60 and some were reported over eight feet on the highway leading to Perryton. Today's weather is supposed to be clear until nightfall with the high today in the upper 30s.

SNOW DRIFTS — Roads leading into and out of Pampa were made usable Saturday by snow plows like the one pictured above. The State Highway Department had several of the plows out on highway 60, 70 and 152 in Gray County to help clear the drifts.

Lady Bird Joins Husband With Cold

By WILLIAM J. EATON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both President Johnson and his wife Lady Bird were hospitalized Saturday with severe colds. Johnson, rushed to Bethesda Naval Hospital by ambulance in the pre-dawn hours, also was suffering from a throat infection which impaired his breathing. But his doctors reported later that he was "greatly improved." His illness was diagnosed as "tracheitis," an inflammation of the upper windpipe. Mrs. Johnson was admitted to the hospital about 12 hours later for treatment of a severe head cold described in medical terms as "an upper respiratory infection." The President demonstrated that he was responding to treatment when he allowed a small group of newsmen to interview him at his bedside. "I wouldn't hesitate at all to put my bristles on and go back to the office if anything had to be done," he declared in a hoarse voice. "I think we'll be all right in a day or two." He talked to the reporters while occasionally leaning over a steaming vaporizer. Mrs. Johnson was hospitalized when doctors examined her after she and daughter, Lynda, visited Bethesda to see the President. Lynda also had a cold but it was more of the sniffle variety. Lady Bird, however, was urged to rest in a room near the President's on the 17th floor. An 11:30 a.m. EST medical bulletin on Johnson's condition said it was "quite satisfactory" and reported he was "responding very well." President "Greatly Improved" Subsequently, his White House physician, Rear Adm. George G. Burkley, told newsmen the President was "greatly improved" and there were no signs of complications. Burkley conceded that Johnson might leave the hospital before the five days doctors prescribed. The physician said he would not object to the earlier departure if conditions warranted. Press Secretary George E. Reedy said the First Lady and her daughter Lynda Bird, 20, both were examined in the medical center's eye, ear, nose and throat clinic. Both were found to be suffering from an "upper respiratory infection" or, as Reedy put it, "in layman's language — a head cold." Mrs. Johnson and Lynda had spent the night at the presidential retreat in the Maryland mountains — at Camp David. They drove to the hospital Friday afternoon. Youngest daughter Luci, 17, already was there with the President. She apparently was the only member of the family not afflicted with a cold. Mrs. Johnson and Lynda were examined by two of the doctors treating the President — Dr. Wilbur J. Gould of New York and by Capt. G. W. Taylor, head of the Bethesda Na-

Battle Against Death Continues
LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill's condition worsened again Saturday night. The 90-year-old statesman was clinging only to a thin thread of life. A bulletin issued by his physician Lord Moran at 9:44 p.m. (3:44 p.m. CST) said: "The deterioration in Sir Winston's condition is more marked. There will be another bulletin tomorrow." As usual, the 82-year-old physician refused to amplify his bulletin, the 19th of the illness, but medical sources said it appeared to mean the circulatory weakening previously reported was now becoming acute.

23 CARS DERAILED
Damage Total Hits $105,000
Damage was estimated at $105,000 to 25 cars of a 115 car Santa Fe train freight express that derailed a mile east of Pampa early Friday morning. M. B. Carey, Pampa Santa Fe official, said the damage estimate was to the 25 cars alone and did not include damage to tracks nor equipment being hauled by the freight train. The derailment, which occurred about 5:30 a.m. Friday, did not, as was first believed, cause traffic to be blocked. "There was no traffic tie-up because of the derailment," Carey said. Twenty-three cars were thrown off the track and two others were damaged but still on the track. Carey said a journal or hot box broke on the track causing the cars to derail. "Some of the wreckage has been cleared but not all of it. The bad weather today (Saturday) forced us indoors," Carey said. A shoo-fly, or other tracks, was built around the wreckage to allow other trains to pass. Carey said the train, which originated in Clovis, N.M., was carrying mostly pot ash. He said most of the cars derailed were in the rear of the train. No members of the crew were injured.

POLICE STAND IDLY BY

Saigon Mob Storms US Information Service

SAIGON (UPI) — A mob of 3,000 Buddhists stormed the U.S. Information Service library in the ancient capital of Hue Saturday, burned most of the 10,000 books, smashed furniture and stoned the U.S. vice consul when he tried to put out the fires. Police stood idly by as the mob demonstrated in front of the U.S. Consulate to demand the recall of U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor then broke into the USIS library and made bonfires of the books. Police promised to place a squad car in front of the building later. Anti-government disorders also swept Saigon, where a mob smashed windows of a USIS library Friday, and the northern city of Nha Trang. Troops used tear gas and clubs in both cities to quell mobs before they got out of hand. The mood of the Buddhist rioters was so violently anti-American in Hue, 400 miles of Saigon, that the U.S. military immediately put the entire city off limits to Americans. There are 200 Americans stationed there with nine American civilian families, including women and children and another 1,000 soldiers at a nearby radio listening post. The mob was mostly youths led by students, including one who has been making daily anti-American speeches around Hue for the past week. The vandalism was carried out chiefly by a vanguard of 100 hoodlums. When U.S. vice consul Anthony Lake drove up and tried to enter the building to put out the fires he was stoned by the mob but apparently not badly hit. USIS Branch Director William Stubbs escaped the mob when he slipped out the back door to seek help. The two men returned later and put out the fires un molested. A U. S. spokesman in Saigon said the mob first marched on the quarters of American military advisers saying "Down with Taylor" then demonstrated before the U.S. consulate. They presented a petition addressed to President Johnson. It was not immediately made public. Smash Windows The mob marched across the city's main bridge to the library and smashed ground floor windows with rocks, then broke in and heaped piles of books on the floor and started bonfires. They smashed movie projectors, mimeograph machines and furniture which they added to the fires. First reports said there was little fire damage to the building but at least half of the 10,000 library books were burned and thousands of others damaged. In the city of Nha Trang, site of previous anti-government demonstrations, 200 Buddhists went on a public hunger strike in the city square. Scuffles broke out in front of the chief pagoda when police surrounded it with barbed wire to keep demonstrators from assembling for an anti-government rally. The U.S. military also placed Nha Trang off limits for Americans.

Academy Cheating Score Totals 100 in New Count

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Approximately 100 cadets including 30 members of the football squad are involved in an investigation of cheating at the Air Force Academy. It was announced Saturday. Twenty-nine cadets have submitted resignations. Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert said he will take the final action on "all resignations or dismissals after review by a board of officers in my office." The announcement was issued after Zuckert conferred with the academy superintendent, Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, and members of the Air Force Command. "The results of the investigation so far indicate the existence of a well organized group of 10 or 12 cadets who were stealing examination papers and offering them for sale," Zuckert said. "The overwhelming majority of the 2,700 cadets are not involved. It appears that more than 100 members of the cadet wing may be involved of whom about 30 may be members of the football squad." In a similar investigation at the Army's West Point Military Academy in 1961, 90 cadets including a major portion of the football squad were expelled. Zuckert pointed out that the honor code at the academy, located in Colorado Springs, Colorado, provides that "We will not lie, steal or cheat or tolerate among us those who do." Zuckert said the cadet honor system was instrumental in bringing the cheating to the attention of the academy superintendent.

New Remap Test Is Due

AUSTIN (UPI) — For a price, Texas could turn all its redistricting headaches over to electronic machines that "Don't know how to gerrymander." Bob Johnson, executive director of the Texas legislative council, revealed the offer from a New York computer center Saturday. The council, and Johnson, have been working for months on redistricting problems. Computer Applications Inc. of New York claims to have the equipment to come up with a complete redistricting plan, taking into consideration not only population but ethnic groups, income groups, natural boundaries, economic interests and the feelings of incumbent solons. The fee for Texas would be in the neighborhood of $100,000 for each reapportionment job. Congress, the state House of Representatives, and the state Senate. Johnson said the legislature would have to appropriate the money before the machines could be called into service.

Jack Halpern, investigator from the Civil Aeronautics Board in Fort Worth, was scheduled to depart from Pampa today after completing his probe of the Thursday evening plane crash that took the lives of three Pampa men. Halpern arrived in Pampa shortly after noon Friday and spent until late Saturday going over the wreckage. Halpern said findings of his probe would remain confidential until an official report is released from the CAB in Washington. Halpern would not speculate how long it would be before the report would be available. Funeral services for two of the victims were held yesterday and services for the third are pending in Ramsey, Ind.

Kai-Shek Calls for Attack on Red China

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-Shek asked the free world Saturday to support an all-out attack on Communist China "before the reds have time to complete their development of nuclear weapons." The 77-year-old generalissimo said "positive support" would enable Nationalist China to "quickly begin our counter-offensive."

State PE Award Goes to Pampa High Instructor

Pete Erwin, physical education instructor at Pampa High School, was named Saturday as the recipient of the 1965 Texas Physical Fitness Leadership Award by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce. Erwin is scheduled to receive a bronze plaque at noon today from State Jaycee President Jim Reeves during a luncheon in Amarillo. Erwin was chosen Dec. 22, by the Pampa Jaycees as winner of the local physical fitness award and entered in state competition. His record of accomplishments was compared with local winners from each town in the state. It was announced yesterday by the state organization that Erwin was chosen as the recipient of the state award based on this record. George Smith, spokesman for the Pampa Jaycees, said Erwin will be entered in national competition along with 49 other state winners. The national award winner will be honored by President Johnson. State president Reeves said Erwin was chosen state winner for his record as PE and health instructor at Pampa High School and for "the outstanding example set for the youth of our country." In addition to his duties at PHS, Erwin serves as assistant director at the Pampa Youth Center and works during the summer with the city recreation program. Erwin has also been instrumental in securing athletic scholarships for deserving students. The physical fitness awards were started by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce and adopted by state and local clubs after the emphasis placed on physical fitness by the late president Kennedy. Erwin is married, has two children and resides at 1202 E. Faulkner.

Old 'Standby' Given to LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's physician said Saturday he had given the Chief Executive a "good old reliable" cough medicine. Rear Adm. George G. Burkley, the President's personal physician, identified it as Brown's Mixture, an old standby in the medicine cabinets of many American homes. "The cough medicine is a good old reliable one, contains aluminum chloride," he said at a news briefing. "There are many on the market but this Brown's Mixture happens to be one that doesn't affect any particular drug house."

CAB Official Leaves Pampa After Probe of Crash Scene

Killed instantly when the Cessna 180 slammed into the ground southwest of Pampa were Wesley Lewis, 53, of 1922 N. Faulkner; Henry Collier, 33, of 1309 E. Kingsmill and Don Davis, 28, of 2406 Navaja Rd. At this time, it still remains a mystery as to what caused the single-engine four-place aircraft to crash. Lewis, who was piloting the craft, Collier and Davis had departed from Perry Lefors Airfield at 5:15 p.m. Thursday for a short flight around Pampa. The plane crashed at 5:35 p.m. two miles southwest of the city, just 500 feet south of Highway 60. Witnesses to the crash said it appeared the plane was having engine trouble about 1,000 feet

Wortham Schools Remain Closed

WORTHAM, Tex. (UPI)—The only physician in Wortham said the respiratory infection which has forced closing of all the schools in the town is subsiding, but the schools will not open until Monday at the earliest. About half of the school population missed classes before the high school and elementary school were closed Tuesday. Dr. N. D. Buchmeyer sent samples of the virus to the state health department to find out what the disease is. He said it might be called a "viral pneumonia" until the illness was officially classified. He said he hesitated to call it a "flu" epidemic because it lacks the normal flu symptoms.

Historical Society Hears Story of Holy Land Trip

Members and guests of the Pampa Genealogical & Historical Society met for the January program meeting of the organization last Monday evening in Lovett Memorial Library auditorium when Mrs. Thurman Boswell of Miami presented by the society in a travelogue of her trips last summer through Egypt and the Holy Land. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance led by Mrs. Katie Vincent after which Tracy D. Cary, president, conducted a memorial service in memory of Mrs. Mittie Farrington Tignor. Mrs. Tignor was a charter member of the Pampa Society when it was organized in 1959 and was an enthusiastic supporter of the organization in its motives and projects. Mrs. Boswell opened her presentation by showing colored slides of scenes noted in ancient Egyptian history including the Great Pyramid of Cheops, which occupies an area 14 acres square and could contain in its structure St. Peter's in Rome, Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, Westminster Abbey in London and also two other of the world's largest churches and have room left over. The pyramid was constructed between 25-30 centuries before the birth of Christ. The speaker observed that Egypt today is a modern police state equal to authoritarian control to Russia and a tourist's every move is carefully observed and even the minutest personal effects are under surveillance. Also viewed were the interiors of five of the gold overlaid chambers of the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen, and his solid gold sarcophagus. The young king who died at the age of 13 was the son of Queen Nefertiti, reputed to have been the most beautiful woman of ancient Egypt and the speaker wore a replica of Nefertiti's famous necklace. Other views included the mummy of Ramses II, the Pharaoh of the Exodus period and the Rosetta stone which first provided scholars with a clue to the interpretation of the ancient hieroglyphics. Other slides included the Sphinx and its adjacent temple where the sun god Ra was worshipped at the break of dawn each day, and which was worshipped by Cleopatra. Shifting her topic to the Holy Land, Mrs. Boswell showed a very rare slide of the interior of the Mosque of Omar or the Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem which contains the last remaining stones of the Temple of Solomon from which place the Moslems believe that Mohammed ascended to heaven. The dome is of gold overlay and the lower structure mosaic. Taking interior pictures is strictly forbidden, but through the complexity of a guide Mrs. Boswell managed to take one anyway. Mrs. Boswell also presented scenes of Lazarus' tomb, the Garden of Gethsemane, the Dead Sea and Sea of Galilee and concluded with views of the interior of the Church of the Holy Nativity in Bethlehem revered as the birthplace of Christ. She further pointed out that the gold, frankincense, and myrrh brought to the Infant Jesus by the Wise Men was used by the Holy Family for their sustenance while they were in Egypt during the persecution of King Herod. The door prize was won by Mrs. Oscar Shearer, and refreshments were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Bert Robinson, Mrs. J. C. Patillo, Mrs. Bernice Cunningham, Mrs. L. J. Barker, Mrs. Willie B. Gull, Mrs. Mary E. Cary, and Mrs. George Ingram. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sloan Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Adams, Mrs. Lillian Snow, Mrs. Rosa Payne Hutton, Miss Florence Jones, Mrs. Leona Haggard, Mrs. J. D. White, Mrs. Lucy Herjacher, Mrs. Lillian Taylor, Mrs. Myrtle Enlow, Mrs. Oscar Shearer, all of Pampa and Mrs. Glynn Dodson and Mrs. Kathleen Stribling of Miami.

Dockers, Shippers Meet For New Contract Parley

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Assistant Labor Secretary James Reynolds Saturday led representatives of the shippers and of the striking International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) to what promised to be a weekend of negotiations aimed at the dockers' strike.

The ILA local in New York voted Thursday to accept a previously rejected contract with ship owners. Though the rejection was what set off the strike at midnight Jan. 10, acceptance on second thought did not end it.

Four other locals demand changes in local contracts with shippers and refuse to work without them. By tradition, as long as one ILA local refused to work, all others also must. The strike is costing the national economy about $61 million a day.

First Contract Proposals
Shippers in the New Orleans and West Gulf (Galveston, Houston, Brownsville, Tex.) districts presented Friday their first concrete contract proposals since the offer was not even worth talking about.

In New Orleans, however, union leaders neither accepted nor rejected Friday's offer and Reynolds was able to start a joint union-shippers' meeting.

"We're going to take up everything," Reynolds said, as the New Orleans meeting started. Negotiations may continue through Sunday and Reynolds hoped for a New Orleans settlement Monday or Tuesday. Union leaders were less optimistic.

Since New Orleans is the nation's second port — New York is first — whatever the New Orleans local does will have a powerful effect on the others: The West Gulf local, the Mobile Ala. local and the South Atlantic local.

Shuttles Between Meetings
In Galveston, Labor Department Mediator David Stowe

shuttled between separate meetings of union and shippers' representatives. The shippers, it was learned, offered the union in Galveston a 51-cent an hour increase in money and fringe benefits.

The West Gulf Local wants 96 cents, which it feels will bring wages along the west Louisiana-Texas coasts to the New York level. What Stowe did Saturday was to seek a modification of demands on one side and then take it to the other side, trying to trade it there for a modification.

The New York "package" — basic wage increase and fringe benefits such as retirement — cost a total of 80 cents an hour. The New Orleans and West Gulf unions wanted a total package of 86 cents.

Pampans' Exhibits In Stock Show At San Antonio

Eight members of the Pampa FFA and one 4-H club member have entries at the San Antonio Livestock Exposition, Feb. 12-21 at the Joe Freeman Coliseum according to vocational agriculture teacher Bob Skaggs.

FFA members exhibiting at the exposition will be Fred Vandenberg, J. T. Winters, Jr., J. T. Rogers, Larry Richardson, Gerry Ingram, Bill Skaggs, Bruce Ginn, and Danny Honeycutt. 4-H member is Gary Richardson.

Their entries are among the record number of more than 6,000 head of livestock and horses which will be at the February 12th through 21st Exposition. An all-time high of $222,000 in premiums, prizes and purses is offered, according to President E. W. Bickett, who also announced Saturday, February 13th as "Rural Youth Day" with some 35,000 rural youngsters expected.

The 16th Annual Stock Show will feature 15 performances of the Harry Knight produced RCA Rodeo, starring America's Western Singing Sweetheart, Judy Lynn and her 8 piece all-male string band. A precision trick-riding group, the ever-popular Calf Scramble for 4-H and FFA members, many feature Rodeo acts and more than 300 champion cowboys provide additional entertainment.

Rogers Re-Appointed Irrigation Chairman

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa was re-appointed as chairman of the irrigation subcommittee of the House Interior Committee.

Rogers, who also served as chairman last year, was appointed by Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo.

Items Reported Taken from Home

Three saddles, a radio and various other household items were reported stolen over the weekend during a burglary of the John T. Bowers residence, 1009 N. Christine.

Mrs. Bowers reported the break-in to police at 11 p.m. Saturday. She said the house was entered sometime between 3 p.m. Friday and 1 p.m. Saturday through a south window. No estimate of the value of the stolen items was made. However, police said it would probably run in the hundreds of dollars.

McClellan Boosts Onw Committees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman John L. McClellan said Saturday his permanent investigating subcommittee has helped convict 190 persons and turned up more than $29 million in income tax frauds over the past decade.

The Arkansas Democrat, rounding out his 10th year as chairman of the permanent investigating group, said the figures also included work of the special Labor-Management Rackets Committee which he also headed.

The rackets group went out of business in 1960 but the subcommittee is a permanent branch of the Senate Government Operations Committee, also headed by McClellan since 1955.

Such well known labor figures as Teamster President James R. Hoffa, his recently-released predecessor Dave Beck, and Maurice Hutcheson of the carpenters union, head the list of big names cited by McClellan in two reports on work of the past decade.

McClellan said 98 witnesses before the rackets group were later convicted of either state or federal violations, as were 92 other persons about whom information was developed in the hearings but who did not testify.

Various inquiries of the investigating subcommittee and the rackets group have turned up tax losses totaling $29,096,336, McClellan said, for an average of almost $3 million a year.

Injunction Halts Negroes' Arrest

SELMA, Ala. (UPI) — A federal judge Saturday ordered Sheriff Jim Clark to quit interfering with Negro voter applicants, and warned that "violence on either side will not be tolerated."

District Judge Daniel H. Thomas issued the order from Mobile following Friday night's confrontation in which Clark and his deputies routed more than 100 Negro teachers from the courthouse steps, using their clubs as prods.

Thomas said his temporary restraining order was not intended "to interfere with the legal enforcement of the laws of Alabama, Dallas County, or Selma," but added:

"Under the guise of enforcement there shall be no intimidation, harassment, or the like, of the citizens of Dallas County legitimately attempting to register to vote, or encouraging them."

The letter pronounced apparently gave Nobel Peace Prize winner Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. free rein in pushing the Selma integration drive, which he launched last Monday.

Scout Presented With Eagle Award

John Karr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karr, 1110 N. Somerville, was presented the Eagle Scout award during a Court of Honor held Monday.

Karr was also presented the "Outstanding Boy Scout of the Year" award.

Other awards were presented to Don Lusher, troop chairman, who received the "Scouter" award and Bill Gething, who received the "Scouter Key" award.

Tenderfoot awards were presented to Albert Archuleta, Gene Carlson, Ray Cox and John Duggan.

First class awards went to Reid Dennis and Randy Marsh. Bruce Munchison received the life scouting award.

In addition, 15 other scouts were awarded a total of 46 merit badges.

Commission Sets Short Session

Unless one of the commissioners stirs deep into the legislative hopper, Tuesday's regular meeting of the Pampa City Commission should be a "quickie."

The agenda for Tuesday's session, released Saturday by Acting City Manager R. B. Cooke, is short and to the point.

No regular business is listed. It calls only for the invocation, reading of the minutes, recognition of visitors, city manager's recommendations and adjournment.

C-C to Hold Pampa Man Knifed Idea Session In Family Squabble

Ideas and suggestions for the 1965 work program of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will be asked from everyone that attends the January membership luncheon set for noon tomorrow in the Coronado Inn.

E. L. Green, president of the Chamber, said those in attendance will be divided into small groups of six or eight and will work informally.

Jim W. White, Pampa's new city manager, will be introduced at the meeting and give a short talk.

Reservations for the luncheon will be accepted until 10 a.m. tomorrow. Tickets are $1.50 each.

A 32 year-old Pampa man, John Ballou of 417 N. Christy, was listed in fair condition late Saturday night after he was stabbed during a family argument late Friday.

According to police, Ballou was stabbed several times with a pocket knife by J. R. Black at 640 Roberta.

Police said no charges would be filed.

Race Tolerance Reported Better Than a Year Ago

DALLAS (UPI)—Racial tolerance in four Southwestern states is much better today than a year ago, according to a professional pulse-taker who travels widely in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

He is W. H. (Bill) Tipton Jr., a 58-year-old former advertising man who is the regional director for the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

"The main thing is that there is a civil rights law on the books," he explained, "although it will undoubtedly get many legal tests. But the situation is more relaxed."

However, Tipton believes the real test of sweeping reforms in attitudes of whites about Negroes is yet to come—when the full effect of equal job opportunity provisions of the law are felt.

"In July," he explained, "every employer of 25 or more people will have to hire strictly on a merit basis. More Negroes will get kinds of work being done by white people."

Tipton said the effect can be helpful to a community seeking more industry, because the best of the supply of Negro workers has been found in other regions to be better than the poorer qualified whites. The overall result is an increase in skilled manpower, he added.

The "hottest problem" area Tipton finds in talks with community leaders is the housing situation. Home owners in all white neighborhoods fear the influx of Negro families, mainly professing worries about losses in property values.

"But sometimes the property actually increases in value," Tipton said. "A good Negro or mixed neighborhood is worth more than a poorly kept white one. The main thing is to keep it zoned for single family dwellings so there won't be crowded conditions."

Town Wants Pay For Interviews With Astronauts

EL LAGO, Tex. (UPI)—This tiny east Texas community has seven space-age assets that would like to turn over to U.S. "freedom of the press" provided the price is right.

The assets are seven astronauts—one-fourth of the nation's space force—who call El Lago home.

The right price is the sliding scale of greenbacks the community's city council proposes to extract from the wallets of news organizations for the privilege of sending mobile equipment to cover astronauts' homes during manned flights into space.

The idea is embodied in proposed ordinance No. 54, "regulating the obstruction of city property within the corporate limits of the city of El Lago," south of Houston and about three miles from the federal space agency's Manned Spacecraft Center.

It is a unique hot potato that protesting newsmen described as "insidious and vicious" and a number of other unpleasant things at a city council meeting Thursday night.

The council, somewhat jarred by the reaction, took no action on the proposal, but instead appointed a three-man "committee for further discussion" to further discuss it with news representatives in Houston Jan. 29.

"The 'dues-for-news' ordinance would require each news organization with such items as mobile broadcasting units and photographic laboratories to pay the city an initial filing fee of $250, a check for $500 for operating the first 72 hours and $150 daily each day thereafter.

The city, which levied $13,200 in property taxes for the entirety of last year, could net a healthy $12,000 from America's two major wire services and three television networks during a planned 14-day flight in Project Gemini—if they chose to pay.

U.S. Diplomatic Core Get Report on Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department cabled a circular to all U.S. diplomatic posts abroad Saturday to "reduce any unnecessary speculation" about President Johnson's condition.

A spokesman said the cables contained a clear medical report on the severe cold afflicting Johnson.

Pampa Kiwanis Clubs Mark Golden Anniversary

Presidents Will Present Community Service Checks

Pampa's two Kiwanis Clubs will join tomorrow night at a meeting in Coronado Inn to mark the Golden Anniversary of Kiwanis International.

The Downtown Kiwanis Club and the Top O' Texas Club will join at the TOT regular meeting when presidents of both clubs will present Mayor H. R. Thompson with a "blank check" for community service.

The club presidents who will take part in the check presentation are Bill Price of TOT and Tom Beard of the Downtown Club.

Fred Thompson, a past governor of the Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwanis International, will be the program speaker.

Thompson will review the activities and accomplishments of Kiwanis International in its 50 years and also of the Pampa Clubs.

The Downtown Kiwanis Club will be 35 years old on Aug. 22 this year. The Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club is seven years old.

The Downtown Club observed the golden anniversary at its Friday noon luncheon when club members listened to a taped address delivered by International President Edward B. Moylan Jr. at a golden anniversary celebration Thursday night in Detroit, Mich.

The observance in Detroit kicked off a year of golden anniversary activities in hundreds of cities and communities where Kiwanis serves over the nation.

There will be traditional golden anniversary balls and parties, and a Golden Anniversary Convention of Kiwanis International itself in New York City in early July which is expected to attract some 25,000 people. This will be the largest convention in Kiwanis history. In late summer and early fall each of Kiwanis' thirty districts will hold Golden Anniversary conventions, as well.

STATE GETS MODEL

AUSTIN (UPI) — The U. S. Navy will give the state of Texas a $200,000, 14-foot, one-ton model of the battleship USS Texas. It will be permanently displayed in the lobby of the Sam Houston state office building.

Severe Punishment Due if Raids Continue

TOKYO (UPI) — The Communist Pathet Lao radio Saturday broadcast a warning that its armies and the Laotian people would "more severely punish" the United States and its allies if bombing and strafing raids on Red-controlled Laotian territory continue.

The statement was carried by New China news agency in a broadcast monitored here.

The statement was made by Khamray Sphandone of the Supreme command of Pathet Lao forces, according to NCNA.

It said the supreme command had commended the anti-aircraft units which "shot down four U.S. jets" on Jan. 13.

The United States announced previously that two of its jets had been shot down over Laos.

Downtown Kiwanis Club In 35th Year of Service

"We Build."

With that thought in mind on Friday, August 22, 1930, thirty-five civic minded citizens of the growing community of Pampa formed the Kiwanis Club of Pampa. And build these men did into a present club membership of 87 members and a list of achievements which reflects the steady growth of Pampa from a boom town to a stable city of the Texas Panhandle.

The achievements show an emphasis on youth. The Pampa Kiwanis Club sponsored a safety first program in the grade schools of Pampa by selecting junior police who served at street and road crossings. The Club thereafter purchased a tract of land, then at the edge of the city on East Kingsmill, and developed it into Pampa's first Girl Scout building.

One of the landmarks of the Pampa Kiwanis Club's contribution to the youth of the city was a summer softball program for boys and girls started in 1944 and conducted for some eleven years. Eligibility to participate for boys and girls 12 through 18 years was based on church school attendance, and the program soon grew into a $6,000 investment in equipment in Kiwanis Park on Hobart Street and with club members contribution some 2,000 man hours each summer to the program.

In 1952 and 1953, in arrangement with American Field Service, the Club sponsored three German students who studied in Pampa High School and stayed with Kiwanians. In 1958, the Club sponsored the formation of the Key Club at Pampa High School that has provided not only the school but the city with a group of eager, young boosters; and that same year saw

Cotton Industry Leaders to Meet

HOUSTON (UPI) — More than 1,000 cotton industry leaders meet Monday and Tuesday to hear ways to lower production costs and improve quality.

The chief economist of the National Cotton Council, Dr. M. K. Horne Jr., told a joint session of the council program committee Friday a basic change for the better is needed in cotton exports.

He said exports ran into problems last year while the domestic market improved.

Horne cited failures to share in the expanding world market as the reason that two million bales may be added to the U.S. carry over in the present season.

run only a small risk of getting another.

"Another surprising result of the study is that people in our locality who are developing mouth and throat cancer smoke cigarettes, and those who continue to smoke and develop second cancers are nearly all cigarette smokers," Moore said.

"Most older reports leave the impression that only cigar and pipe smokers, or chewers, generally acquire mouth cancer."

Moore concluded that "in those smokers who do get mouth-throat cancer, tobacco appears to play a necessary, causative role in 90 per cent of them. Smokers who stop after their first mouth-throat cancer the formation of the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club in Pampa through the sponsorship of the Downtown Club.

Pampa Kiwanis has received many honors through efforts of individual members and as a club. Honorable mention came from Kiwanis International for achievements during the years 1938 (J. B. Massa, president); 1948 (Leib Langston, president); and 1952 (E. L. Henderson, President). District achievement awards were received also during the foregoing years as well as in 1950 (Herman Whatley, president). Fred Thompson served the Texas-Oklahoma District as Lieutenant Gov. in 1936 and as Gov. in 1941. Ed Weiss served as Lieutenant Gov. in 1948; Leslie Hart was Lieutenant Gov. in 1953; and Warren Hasse served in that capacity in 1958.

Two charter members, H. R. Thompson and Edwin S. Vicars, are active members today.

New Study Shows Definite Link in Tobacco, Cancer
CHICAGO (UPI) — A seven-year study has turned up "more convincing" evidence than ever of a link between tobacco and cancer, a surgeon reported Friday.
Dr. Condit Moore of the University of Louisville School of Medicine said the results of his study "implicate tobacco in the formation of most mouth-throat cancers."
Moore also reported that "it would now appear that tobacco in any form can cause cancer of the mouth and throat."
The surgeon's study and conclusions were reported in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.
Moore said data for the study came from follow-ups of 102 "cancer susceptible" smokers who had apparently been cured once of cancer of the mouth or throat. The patients were divided into two groups—those who continued to use tobacco and those who quit.
Twenty-one of the 65 patients who continued smoking developed cancer a second time in what Moore called the "tobacco area"—the mouth, pharynx and larynx. Only two of the 37 who quit smoking developed new throat cancers, the doctor said.
"The study implicates tobacco in the carcinogenic process more convincingly than previous studies because it approximated an ideal planned human experiment, although it was actually only an observation of a natural occurrence," Moore said.
Moore concluded that "in those smokers who do get mouth-throat cancer, tobacco appears to play a necessary, causative role in 90 per cent of them. Smokers who stop after their first mouth-throat cancer

50 YEARS OF SERVICE
1915  1965
The Pampa Kiwanis Club started August 22, 1930, with 35 civic minded citizens. Presently the club has 87 members.
The achievements show an emphasis on youth. Our club sponsored a safety first program in the grade schools of Pampa by selecting junior police who serve at street and road crossings.
The club purchased land and developed it into Pampa's first girl scout building.
These are just a few of the many achievements from the Pampa Kiwanis Club.
Two charter members, H. R. Thompson and Edwin S. Vicars are active members today.
The Kiwanis Club of Top O' Texas, Pampa, was granted a charter as an affiliated Club of Kiwanis International, 101 E. Erie Street, Chicago, Illinois, in September 1958, with 21 charter members.
Today we are incorporated as a non-profit organization.
We are extremely proud to announce that we are part of Kiwanis International which began 50 years ago in Chicago.

Fire Breaks Out Near Sir Winston

LONDON (UPI) — An apartment house fire only 100 yards away from where Sir Winston Churchill lay dying sent smoke drifting toward his sick-room.

Five fire engines answered the alarm when flames broke out in a unit on the fourth floor of the apartment house. It was unoccupied at the time.

Fire officials said there was no danger of the blaze reaching the Churchill home at 28 Hyde Park Gate.

Top O' Texas Kiwanis Has Served Pampa for 7 Years

History of Pampa's Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club dates back to July 3, 1958 when the first meeting was called to organize a second club in the city.

The meeting in the Colonial Inn was presided over by past Lt. Gov. Leslie Hart of the Downtown Club.

The T O T Club actually came into being on July 15, 1958, under sponsorship of the Downtown Kiwanis Club during the term of Lt. Gov. Warren Hasse.

The permanent roster of members was posted at that time. Top O' Texas Kiwanis received its charter on Sept. 9 that year from Gov. Charles McFarland of the Texas - Oklahoma District of Kiwanis International. Twenty-one charter members were listed and the charter meeting was attended by representatives of many Kiwanis Clubs in Division VI.

Top O' Texas Kiwanis, has been in active club and has joined with the Downtown club in Kiwanis service to Pampa as well as conducting many projects of its own in community service.

The T O T Club also is a joint sponsor with the Downtown Club of the Pampa High School Key Club, a service club of high school boys.

Presidents of the Top O' Texas club since its inception were: Charles Cross, 1958; H. E. Stanfield, 1959; Charles Wilkerson, 1960; John P. McCausland, 1961; W. C. Fry, 1962; Robert E. Price, 1963; and H. J. Johnson, 1964.

Current president of the T O T club is Bill Price, Pampa rancher. The club membership today is 26.

Congress to Try Drugs Control

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress next week begins another attempt to control use of goofballs, pep pills and similar drugs. Chances are good for enactment of a tough bill.

The House Interstate Commerce Committee begins hearings Wednesday on a bill introduced by its chairman, Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark. The Senate is expected to begin hearings soon on a bill introduced by Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn.

Both bills are similar to one Dodd got through the Senate last year. But it died in the House. Dodd has said he expects the two bills can easily be reconciled this year.

Officials of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), which will do the policing under the proposed new law, are becoming alarmed over misuse of barbiturates — or goofballs — which are depressants, and of amphetamines — or pep pills — which are stimulants. Both are prescription drugs.

Both types have legitimate medical use but their abuse has grown to a point where their distribution is a major criminal enterprise and their use by teen-agers, a serious juvenile delinquency problem.

The FDA estimates that 9 billion doses of barbiturates and amphetamines were manufactured in 1962 and that half of these ended up on the bootleg market. This would put the illegal traffic well into the multimillion-dollar bracket.

Barbiturates are sedatives. They include such drugs as phenobarbital. Doctors prescribe them for sleep or relaxation. Overuse of barbiturates can result in severe physical or psychological disorders and individuals have died accidentally of overdoses by becoming so groggy they did not know how many they were taking.

Amphetamines, such as benzedrine, are used by physicians for treatment of depression or control of appetite. But truck drivers and cramming college students long have used them to keep going beyond their normal limitations.

Abuses of both drugs have led in some cases to persons who take sleeping pills at night and pep pills in the morning. FDA says this can become a vicious cycle leading to addiction and damaged health, if not accidental death.

Subandrio Arrives For Peace Talks

TOKYO (UPI) — Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio arrived in Peking Saturday to strengthen economic ties between Indonesia and Communist China, the New China News Agency reported.

The Peking reime, which has been treating Indonesia like a first cousin ever since President Sukarno pulled his country out of the United Nations, turned out an impressive array of Red Indonesian foreign minister.

Subandrio and his 42-member delegation were met at Peking Airport by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Foreign Minister Chen Yi, the broadcast, monitored here, said.

Also on hand to greet Subandrio were Gen. Lo Jui-ching, chief of the general staff of the Red Chinese army and Kuo Mo-jo, vice-chairman of the standing committee of the National People's Congress.

After alighting from his plane, Subandrio accompanied by Chou and Chen, reviewed a guard of honor while an assembled crowd of more than 5,000 persons chanted "long live Sino-Indonesian friendship," the news agency said.

Subandrio left Rangoon by air after a three-day official visit to Burma. Before leaving Jakarta, Subandrio said Indonesia was not seeking military aid from Communist China. However, reliable sources said Indonesia would accept a $10 million economic grant and $40 million in credits.

Humphrey Back In Home State

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew back to his home state Saturday for the first time since his inauguration to be grand marshal in the St. Paul Winter Carnival parade.

Humphrey said he made the trip despite President Johnson's hospitalization with a throat inflammation because the President wanted to him to carry on his schedule.

The smiling vice president, his wife Muriel, and Sen. Walter Mondale, Humphrey's successor in the Senate, landed in a military jetstar.

"It's grand to see you all," Humphrey told the airport well-wishers, including St. Paul Mayor George Yavouzis. "I'm delighted to be back. I see you're having balmy weather."

Harvesters Take District 3-AAAA Lead

UP AND IN — Robert Howard drives in with a crisp shot for Pampa, led by teammate David Frasher and trailed by Borger's Dale Dawson.

Crush Bulldogs For 2 Straight

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

BORGER — The Borger Bulldogs fouled up Friday night . . . literally, as they committed 23 personal fouls to enable the Pampa Harvesters to free shoot their way to an 83-60 victory.

The Big Green socked in 27 of 34 charity tosses for their highest point total in district 3-AAAA play. The Harvesters' second straight win of the last half of the season, puts them in first place in the loop as the Monterey Plainsmen were shocked by the Caprock Longhorns, 41-40, leaving Pampa the only undefeated team in second-half play.

Ropes Roper went wild on the boards and under the bucket, coming off the floor in the fourth quarter to a standing ovation for his 23 points. Key to the Harvester victory however, in addition to the shooting of Roper and Ron Curlee, who scored 15, including seven of seven free throws, was the tremendous defensive play of Davy McDaniel.

While the rest of the Harvesters were playing a zone defense, McDaniel was personally covering Borger's 6-4 ace Jerry Cooper like a private detective, holding the big boy, who has been averaging better than 17 points a game, to a low of six, forcing him to shoot from outside and keeping him away from the rebounds. With Cooper's shooting and rebounding, the Bulldogs fell apart as Roper and Mac McWilliams dominated the boards while the press, a full-court led by Curlee and all thief Lanny Lewis, took the ball like a first-grader a lollipop.

Borger stayed in the ball game for the opening minutes as Lewis, Curlee and McWilliams stole the ball four times and then lost it again before they could score. Little Tex Hanna hit from outside to give Borger a 4-1 lead, but Ropes canned a charity. McWilliams rebounded and Roper made a three-point play to give the Harvesters a 5-4 edge. The lead swapped hands four times until McWilliams hit a long shot and Curlee stole the ball for a crisp and an 11-8 edge. Curlee then hit two more quick buckets as Roper blocked Borger's shots and the visitors had a 15-11 quarter edge.

Pampa broke the game up on free throws in the second quarter, sinking 11 of 13 to put the game out of reach. Pampa was deadly from outside as McDaniel, McWilliams, Curlee and Lewis all hit from long range and added free throws, moving the lead as high as 15 points before Pete Loftis brought it down to 36-25 at the half. Both teams pressed the rest of the way, with the Harvesters being successful.

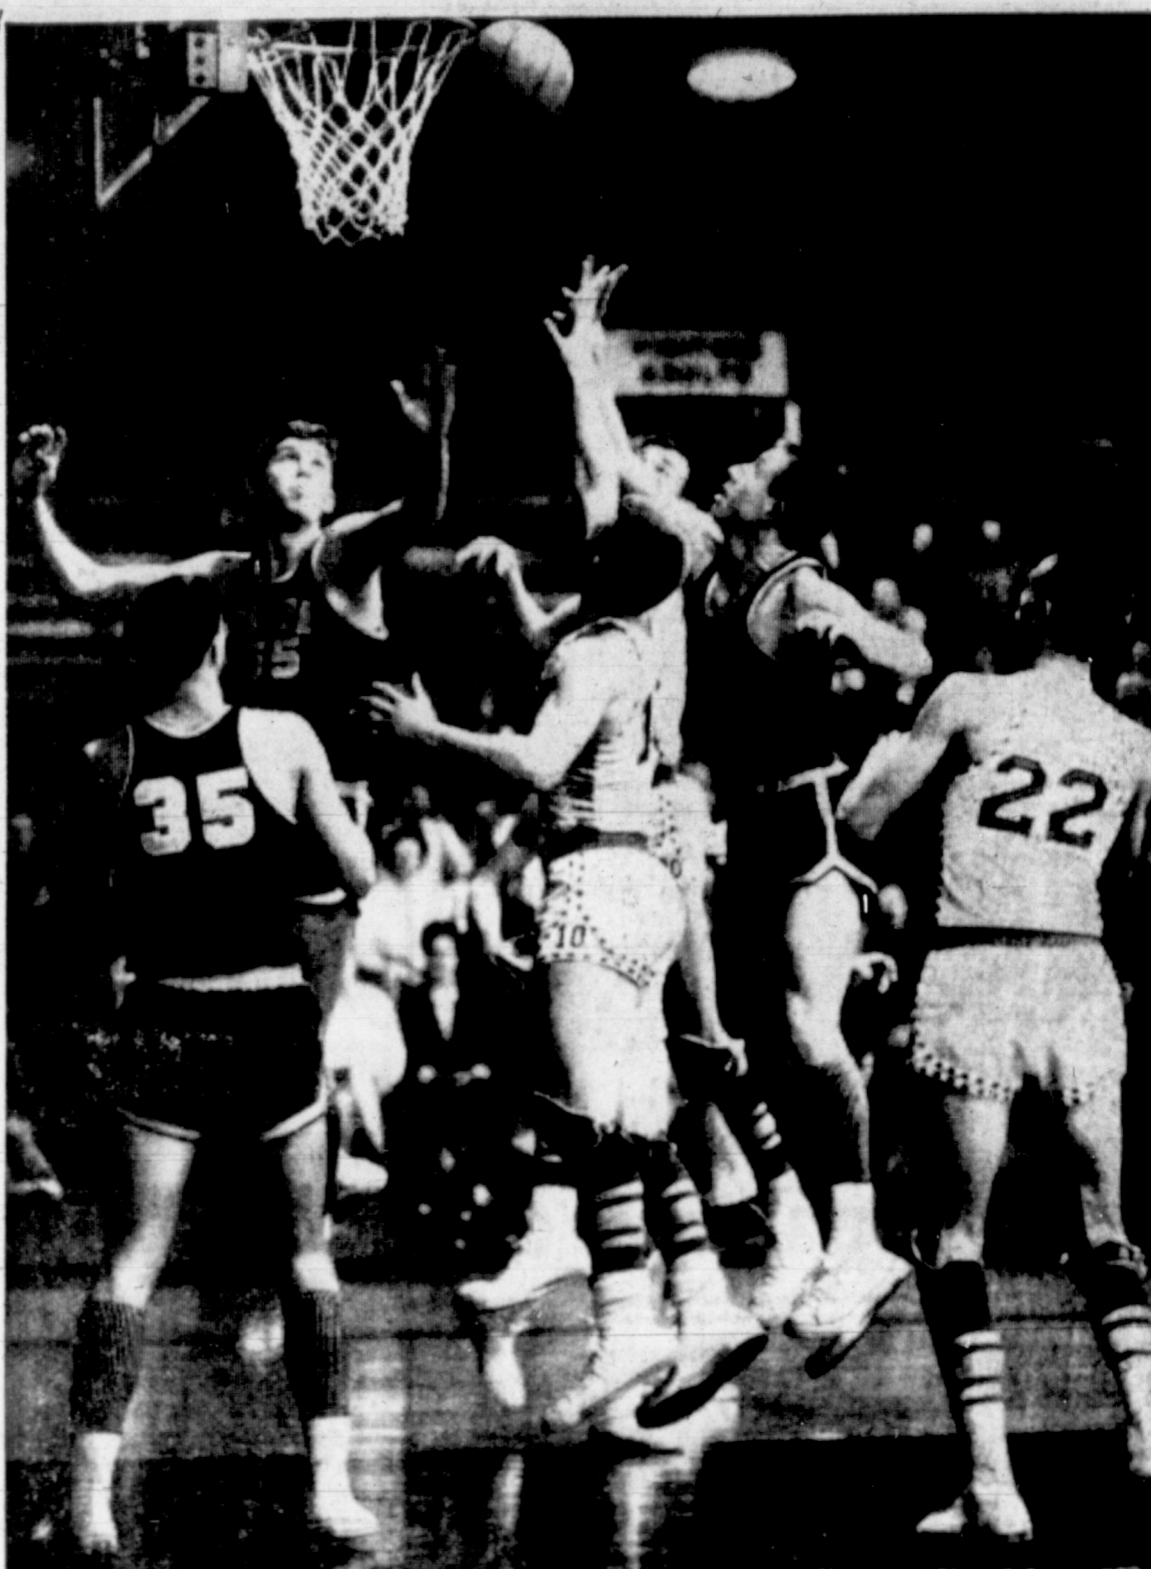

The Harvesters proceeded to feed Roper in the pivot, and Ropes, who had shut out the second quarter, proceeded to throw in hooks, layups, jumps and free throws, smashing home 12 points in the period as McWilliams joined him on the boards for a 60-44 third-quarter margin.

Early in the fourth quarter, Pampa sent in the reserves, who kept adding up the total, Sugar Cain and Mike Wise putting Pampa into a 25-point margin before the fracas ended.

Borger's Bullpups took a 47-42 prelim victory from the Shockers. Little Butch Crossland and Steve Williams led the locals with eight points each.

Lefors Takes Double Triumph Over Kelton

By KEITH GEISLER
News Sports Correspondent

LEFORS — The crowd went wild Friday night as the Lefors Pirates took their second straight district win, 45-40 over Kelton and the electricity carried over to the Pirates who exploded in the fourth quarter for a 6-47 win.

It was the second straight 2-B triumph for the resurgent Pirates, and for the boys and the third double win for Lefors this year.

The girls game went to the extremes of an ice-cold first quarter in which neither team could score to a red-hot second quarter that saw the lead change hands constantly. Kelton, minus Glenda Peas, hospitalized with pneumonia, could score only six points in the first frame, but Lefors, cold as a Hottentot in Alaska, garnered only five.

Both teams got perfect shooting in the second period as Lefors roared to a seven-point lead, only to have Kelton come back into a 25-23 halftime margin.

Kelton opened the third quarter with aiming accuracy, jumping seven ahead in the first three minutes, with Lefors cutting it back to 32-29 at the end of the period.

Vicki Stone was deadly in the fourth quarter, and Frances Clark added key buckets, with the Pirates moving ahead by six points midway in the game. The hysterical crowd screamed for a "reeze", but the Pirates kept on driving and scoring, finally stalling out the last minute.

Vicki had 29 points. Laforn Bradley had 17 and Joyce Walker 14 for the Lionses.

Lefors boys started cold in the first quarter, but got hot as a two-dollar pistol in the next three frames for their second straight loop triumph. The game rocked back and forth in the first half, with the biggest margin either team had five points.

Kelton took a 12-10 quarter lead, but Lefors' height and clutch play by Dickie Sims squared it up. Sims came off the bench as ball-hawking Midge McBee picked up three quick fouls trying to steal from Kelton defensive ace Lynn Austin, and Sims hit eight points and stole the ball eight times.

Moring and Smith each had 22 (See CLARENDON, Page 9)

Meanwhile Dickie Archer came in for Ace Roberts, also three fouls down, and joined Danny Hill in dominating the rebounds, with Lefors moving to a 32-27 halftime edge.

Roberts hit spectacularly in the second half, as did Hill, and the Bucks jumped to 45-33. The pair continued hitting, joined by Larry Pruett, breaking it open in the final canto.

Roberts had 18, Pruett 15, Hill 12 points. Kenneth Abernathy, despite being triple teamed, hit 18 for Kelton while driving Melvin Hunt had 14.

Lefors is at district leader Briscoe Tuesday.

The Bucks were hot in the first half, but cold in the second half, and just held off a McLean rally.

Both teams played slow possession ball, the Bucks working it in to pivotman Red Mike Reynolds and the Tigers doing the same, feeding Eddie Joy Windom. Windom hit for the hosts in the first frame, but Monte Hawpe scored for WD as they took a 9-7 quarter lead.

Reynolds and Hawpe took the boards away from Windom and George Green in the second frame, and Reynolds matched Windom as WD moved to a 24-19 halftime edge.

Homer Goldston started finding the range for McLean in the third quarter, and cut the lead, despite 10 points by Reynolds, to 40-34. Johnny Mooney was the only Buck who could find the bucket in the fourth frame, but his six points held off the rally sparked by Goldston.

Reynolds had 16 points and Hawpe 10. Windom had 17 and Goldston 10.

White Deer's girls led all the way, 19-13, 32-20, 46-31. Cindy Hubbard slapped in 25 markers and Linda Hawpe 20, Jan

Stinnett came from behind late in the third quarter for a 48-41 win over Cock O' Walk, pulling out the edge on seven free throws in the last period. Leon Willingham had 17 points for Stinnett. Coyle Winborn 16 for the losers.

Reynolds said Saturday that he had sent his resignation in that morning. He will finish out the school year, although his status as track and baseball coach will be up to school officials.

Reynolds said that he had enjoyed his stay in Mobeetie and the people there very much. "These have been the happiest years of my life until the last two weeks."

Reynolds said that he was undecided whether he would stay in the coaching profession.

White Deer Downs McLean In Triple

By ROGER SIMMONS

MCLEAN — White Deer pulled out a triple-cage victory here Friday night in district 2-A play, the Bucks winning 46-43, the Does 55-41 and the girls B team 37-26.

Both teams played slow possession ball, the Bucks working it in to pivotman Red Mike Reynolds and the Tigers doing the same, feeding Eddie Joy Windom. Windom hit for the hosts in the first frame, but Monte Hawpe scored for WD as they took a 9-7 quarter lead.

Reynolds and Hawpe took the boards away from Windom and George Green in the second frame, and Reynolds matched Windom as WD moved to a 24-19 halftime edge.

Mobeetie Stuns Miami With 45-44 Shocker

By MIKE McHONE
News Sports Correspondent

MIAMI — Jimmy Johnston sunk a basket with 15 seconds left in the game Friday night to give the underdog Mobeetie Hornets a stunning 45-44 victory over the Miami Warriors.

The district 2-B win was the first time Mobeetie had defeated the Warriors in nine years.

Miami went stone-cold dead in the second half to blow a 20-point halftime margin, injured as Ann and Charlie left at the half.

Both teams missed badly in Guerrero and David Bowers sending Miami to a 10-7 lead. The Warriors got red-hot in the second canto as the 6-1/2 Guerrero gobbled up the rebounds, and he and Bowers put Miami into an apparently insurmountable 30-10 lead.

The lowly Hornets, with only one district win to Miami's 5-1, came roaring back in the third quarter as Miami forgot the whereabouts of the basket. Jim Johnston and Billy Whitten took the rebounds away from Guerrero and Whitten and Eddie Vowell scored to cut the edge to 38-33.

Whitten opened the fourth quarter with two quick buckets and Johnston hit a bucket to put Mobeetie ahead, with Whitten adding a free throw for a 43-40 lead. Guerrero and Bowers hit in succession to give Miami back the lead, 44-43, but Johnston then hit the winner.

Whitten add Vowell had 12 points apiece, Johnston 10, Guerrero and Bowers had 13 each for the Tribe.

Patches Dodson scored 24 points in less than two quarters of play. Bev Weiss hit 10, Connie Ratliff and Jo Lynn Flowers nine each, and Debbie Thompson eight. Miami put two of their standout guards, Martha Paris and Witch Anderson, at forwards in the last quarter and each added four points.

Judy Rowell had 12 and Judy Bailey eight for the Hornets. Miami is off until Friday when they host Wheeler, Mobeetie hosts Wheeler Tuesday.

Matson to Throw at Lubbock

LUBBOCK (Sp) — The fourth annual Lubbock Indoor Meet, featuring 100 of the top collegiate track stars of the southwest, will be held in Municipal Coliseum here Jan. 30, and it is the only meet in the state held on the boards.

Two athletes who participated in the Olympics, shot putter Randy Matson of Texas A&M and pole vaulter Billy Pemelton of ACC, will put on exhibitions in their specialties.

Matson, has been ruled ineligible for the meet here since he was not in school the first semester because of the Olympics and the second semester does not start at A&M until two days after the meet. Pemelton has used up his eligibility and this is a Federation-sanctioned meet, so the only way he could participate was in exhibition.

Clarendon Rips Net, Canadian

CANADIAN — Invading Clarendon took both boys and girls games Friday night in district 2-A play, the Broncos copping 77-55 and the Bronettes 53-34.

Canadian had one of their coldest shooting nights this season, scoring only 34 points until reserves and sophomores got hot in the final frame. With David Moring deadly from outside and big Archie Smith connecting inside, Clarendon opened with a 21-10 quarter, as Moring hit six long field goals, stayed just as hot for a 42-21 halftime edge and pulled away to 64-34 going into the last period.

Cecil Reynolds Quits at Mobeetie

MOBEETIE — Cecil Reynolds, head coach at Mobeetie High School, sent in his resignation as coach with the end of the spring semester.

Reynolds, a Pampa High graduate, became head coach of football, basketball, track and baseball at Mobeetie in 1963, replacing Superintendent Paul Morris.

Last week Reynolds was replaced as boys basketball coach by Morris, although being continued as girls cage coach. It was officially reported that Reynolds was being relieved because of the difficulty of coaching two sports at once. Unofficial report indicate that Reynolds was replaced due to 1/2 attempts to instill discipline in his players, his methods objected to by several parents.

Reynolds said Saturday that he had sent his resignation in that morning. He will finish out the school year, although his status as track and baseball coach will be up to school officials.

Reynolds said that he had enjoyed his stay in Mobeetie and the people there very much. "These have been the happiest years of my life until the last two weeks."

Reynolds said that he was undecided whether he would stay in the coaching profession.

Cherilyn Porter Running For Abilene Track Club

ABILENE — Cherilyn Porter, 14-year-old Lee Junior High girl shows promise of being an outstanding runner and possible Olympic candidate, reports Mrs. Margaret Ellison, famed coach of the Texas Track Club and Abilene Track Club.

Cherilyn represented the Pampa Jaycees in the state meet in 1962, placing fourth in the 50-yard dash. Last year she won high-point honors in the Pampa meet, but girls did not compete at the state level in 1964.

Mrs. Ellison, whose track girls are a highlight of every Texas meet, and who have gone on to Olympic prominence, had Cherilyn brought to her attention by Karl O'Quinn, former sports editor of the Pampa Daily News. Spotting Cherilyn's potential, Mrs. Ellison put her on the Abilene Track Club, a teen-age feeder to the senior TTC.

Cherilyn is to run this month in Albuquerque, and will run the anchor leg on the relay team and the 60-yard dash at the Will Rogers Invitational Meet in Fort Worth Feb. 12.

Following that she will compete in the outdoor meets, beginning with Houston Feb. 20.

Mrs. Ellison feels that Cherilyn has tremendous potential and will be a great runner by the time she is 16, expecting her to specialize in the 100 and 200-yard dashes when she gains experience.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States needs a good substantial crop of "tennis bums" to win back the Davis Cup.

"We have the players but not the time," says former Cup Capt. Billy Talbert, who used to be a tennis bum himself. "Our kids go on to college and then to work. That's our system and it's a good one — but it makes a Davis Cup success more a matter of luck than planning."

Talbert was on hand when chunky Chuck McKinley, 24-year-old U.S. Cupper and former Wimbledon champ, hooked on with a Wall Street investment firm and decided he'd become strictly a "weekend tennis player" though still two years away from his probable peak.

McKinley's decision was a jolt to U.S. Davis Cup hopes but not irrevocable, as if he had signed a pro contract, Chuck at least still is an amateur, and after his training period tapers in 1966 on the U.S. circuit.

From Cradle To Court Part-timer, however, aren't likely to beat the Australian system wherein promising youngsters are scouted, coached and led around by the hand through-out most of their amateur careers.

"We have more potential stars in the 16, 17 and 18 age bracket than any nation in the world, including Australia," says Talbert. "But there is no one to guide them. There is no machinery to help more advanced players like Arthur Hunter's mountain lodges, on the grounds, is within a short trip to a fishing stream.

The 8,751 foot tall peak is the acme of the Guadalupe Mountains, which range through West Texas and New Mexico. The park would center around the skyscraper mountain.

So what would one do at a mountainous national park? According to Yarbrough, White and associates, the view alone is worth the trip. And there will be trail rides over some of the most rugged country in the United States.

The valleys and plains also make ideal camping spots and

Ashe, who could break out almost any time and become a great player."

The same pressing need to make a good living outside of tennis hits the "machinery" as well as the players.

Talbert, Frank Shields, Dave Freed, Bob Kelleher and Vic Seixas, all recent Cup Captains, are business men who handled the team for a few days or weeks at most.

In Australia, there's always good old Harry Hopman to keep the Aussies on their toes. McKinley's decision to go into Wall Street puts him in a class with Ham Richardson and Dick Savitt, earlier big timers who gave no thought to pro tennis but shot for business careers at a time they still could have been factors in Davis Cup play.

They knew what they wanted and so did McKinley.

Bum Business Talbert, now an executive with the American ank Note Co., admits he was one of the leading "tennis bums" of his day but started thinking about a job one day after a talk with his father.

"I ran into a gentleman I knew casually from playing tennis and he asked what I was doing," Talbert said. "I blurted I was looking for a job, though I really wasn't. He gave me his card, later hired me and that was 17 years ago."

Even so, Bill can't afford to take long weeks away from his business and neither can any other qualified tactician who might become an "American Harry Hopman."

"There simply is no way to get a permanent captain who can help the kids all the way," says Bill. "If there were a way to provide guidance, we'd be in great shape."

That's how the Australians survive raid after raid by the professionals on the Aussie amateur ranks.

Over here, the players we don't lose to the pros we lose to business careers and there's nothing wrong with that — if you're thinking of the boy's welfare.

TEXAS OUTDOORS

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
UPI Outdoors Writer

Wolves and coyotes are becoming a major problem in Limestone and Freestone Counties and a plague to livestock raisers in the Central Texas area.

Walt Daniel, a project manager for the State Parks and Wildlife Commission, says as many as 1,000 wolves have been killed by hunters in the Trinity-Brazos rivers area during the past 12 months.

Wolves have been reported as claiming the lives of a number of deer and other wildlife in the area, but the state shows little concern for these reports. Daniel calls it "nature at work" keeping a herd balance.

But the livestock men see it in another light. They see the wolves and coyotes moving into their cattle herds, and many have already noticed losses. Even sheep and goats are threatened by a growing wolf pack.

The Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas SCOT meeting this weekend was certain to result in a statewide water pollution committee to study the water problem from the sportsman's angle.

SCOT has shown increasing interest in such projects since Gov. John Connally expressed concern for the state's dwindling water supply.

Dorothy had 29 points in three quarters of play, Cheryl Frederick added 13. Dora Mae Hext had nine and Susie Owens seven for Canadian.

Canadian kept from a clean sweep by a 48-39 win in a boys B game, led by Terry Robinette with 16 and Butch Nicholson with 14 points.

Newsboys Play Wheeler Again

Tomorrow night's charity basketball game between the Pampa Newsboys and the Miami High School Faculty has been switched to the following Monday night at 7:30, both teams playing other opponents tomorrow.

The Miami Faculty will meet the Miami Merchants in a benefit game sponsored by the Miami Chamber of Commerce, and will play the Newsboys the following week for the benefit of the MHS Senior Class.

The Newsboys, who were slated to meet the Pampa Vikings last night in a charity tournament for the benefit of a local day nursery, will play another game at Wheeler tomorrow at 7:30 out for revenge against the "Faulty Faculty Plus Four."

The PFFPF, starring the Wheeler coaches and a number of outstanding Wheeler and Allison players, slanted a lopsided 80-35 defeat on the Newsboys in an earlier outing.

The Newsboys however, have augmented their aging ranks with a number of standout former Pampa, Lefors and White Deer players, such as 6-3 Gary Sikes, a starter on Pampa's district champions of 1962-63, and Carroll Russett, White Deer All-Star in 1961-62.

Wheeler coach "Sweet William" Harle reports that he will again have his regular aggression with the exception of Mendall Hunter.

In between, the Newsboys will participate in another benefit affair, meeting the Vikings at Carver Gymnasium Wednesday night at 7:30, for the benefit of the Carver P.T.A.

What a week for bowling! Usually 500's are noteworthy accomplishments, and Rose Blackburn with her 531-205 — was a very happy gal, then along come Mary Ray with a 578, Bernita Nidiffer 558, Vivian Garrison 549, Nancy Skinner 545, Vivian with another 536, Sue Reddell 527, so it begins to look like it will take at least a 550 for women these days to even make a ripple. I'll bet that Ginger Murray, a new bowler, had just as big a thrill, with a turkey, and then picking up the 6-7-10. That's pretty good even for an experienced bowler. Mary Bryan, too, had her fun with a 126-126-127. Bernell Copenhaver got tired with a backward staircase allspare game, had to step — 127-122-117. Agnes Cox with 5 in a row, got too excited, and picked only 3 pins on her tired with a backward staircase — 127-122-117. Agnes Cox with 5 in a row, got too excited, and picked only 3 pins on her next shot, and Alene Coker was happy with her big 400. Should not mention Minnie Cable's 514 on the first shift, and slipping to a 363 on the next one, or Vivian Garrison's 549 then to a 399. We all do it sometime or another. Jim Butcher, with a nice all-spare game, had to strike out in the tenth frame to spoil it. Then Johnny Carson busts out with a 254-636, Leonard Cable breaks the 600 barrier with a 622, Russ Evans almost did it with a 225-506, and if you should see a pretty big man walking around talking to himself, and also kicking himself, it's probably Pat Patrick, cause he fouled on a spare, finishing with a 239 and a 599; Bonsal too, with a 198, 199 — ending up with only 511. Forrest Hills seemed to have that magic touch this year — shooting nice 500's every now and then. Oh yes, we have some new King of the Hill Juniors — Johnny Clark and Stan Cable. You know, even in the Juniors 500's are fairly common. Charles Clifton had a 210, and a 554 (I wish I could do that good). Patrick Homer had a 193; Jackie Clark a 145-423.

Seek National Park in Area

A sprawling, rugged mountain range in scenic West Texas stands an excellent chance of becoming the state's second national park, if a Texas senator and a freshman congressman keep pushing for it.

U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Austin and new U.S. Rep. Dick White of El Paso both want a 71,000-acre range in Culberson County converted into another national park, a match for the much-visited Big Bend National Park in the lower half of West Texas.

The Hunter Ranch, located about 100 miles east of El Paso, is the spot Yarbrough and White have in mind. As usual, most of the chamber of commerce groups in the areas are all for it, seeking the park as a natural tourist attraction.

The ranch is owned by oil and cattle king J. C. Hunter, but the biggest attraction on the spread is neither oil nor cattle, but Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas.

The 8,751 foot tall peak is the acme of the Guadalupe Mountains, which range through West Texas and New Mexico. The park would center around the skyscraper mountain.

So what would one do at a mountainous national park? According to Yarbrough, White and associates, the view alone is worth the trip. And there will be trail rides over some of the most rugged country in the United States.

Colleges Flock To New Giant

NEW YORK (UPI) — When Ferdinand Lewis Alcindor Jr. ducks into a subway car every weekday morning in upper Manhattan, he invariably causes a commotion. It isn't that Alcindor is a rebellious sort. He is a studious, self-effacing high school senior considering a college education. He also is seven-feet, one-inch tall, and the most publicized and highly-sought basketball player since Wilt Chamberlain. Alcindor rides the subway to mid-Manhattan, where he attends Power Memorial Academy, a Catholic high school which has won 68 straight basketball games since Lew marauded four years ago at age 14, standing seven-feet, 1/4 inch.

Alcindor has been nurtured patiently and slowly by Donohue. He has been taught only to take good shots, to set up screens for teammates and in general to be a "team" player. Alcindor has been selected by the New Jersey Boxing Writers Association to receive its eighth annual award for long and meritorious service to boxing at the association's banquet on May 15. Jack Dempsey will be the featured speaker at the dinner.

Standing head and shoulders above everyone has its problems for a teen-ager, least of which are crammed subway cars. Alcindor has been approached by more than 50 colleges seeking to lure him to their campuses.

"He has gotten about 10 or 12 good, legitimate scholarship offers," said Jack Donohue, the coach and himself the center of much controversy and speculation since the arrival of Alcindor.

"Lew has very good marks in school," Donohue continued, "and could go to almost any college he chooses. As of right now, he is totally undecided even about in what area of the country he will choose to go to college."

Donohue said Alcindor will make a decision on college after the season is completed. Everyone has to take Donohue's word for it because he has maintained a strict policy of refusing to let reporters, college coaches and others talk to any of his players. Alcindor's family also avoids any publicity.

"Lew is a very easy boy to coach and to get along with," Donohue said. "He is not a forward person. He talks only to his friends. He truly enjoys playing basketball and he wants to play professionally when he finishes college. He also enjoys his school work and is interested in journalism, English and

Texas Coach Builds Small-School Era

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — Coach Sam Williams of Pan American college is proving modern high pressure recruiting is not a necessary evil for winning college basketball. And he has several good examples roaming around the campus of the small Texas school to prove it.

"We like to get the big name high school athletes as much as any other school," Williams said today, "but there are just as many top notch players wandering around begging for a scholarship as there are highly publicized giants."

Williams, who was voted small college coach of the year by the National Coaches Association in 1963, has done quite well looking on the playgrounds as well as in the newspapers.

His 1963 team won the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) title and last year the Broncs lost only in the finals.

In fact, a Pan American product that has become known world-wide is an excellent example of William's soft-touch recruiting. Lucious Jackson, who was twice small college All-America and who last year became the first small college player ever to make the Olympic team was the easiest recruiting job of all.

The six-nine San Marcos, Tex., athlete, who is currently making a strong bid for rookie of the year honors in the National Basketball Association, came to Pan American because Williams accepted a collect telephone call. Jackson called me one night and said he wanted to come to school down here," Williams said. "Luckily I accepted the call."

The team boasts three New Yorkers this year and has had up to five despite the difference from Edinburg, a city of 20,000 at the southern tip of Texas. "The name helps," Williams said, "the name Pan American college just has something about it which attracts athletes." Perhaps this is the answer. But, three straight titles to the national tournament and having "a coach of the year" at the helm may have helped just a little.

Randy Iced Out of Meet

Randy Matson, Pampas Olympic star, was forced to cancel out of the Los Angeles Invitational Track Meet last night.

Matson was scheduled to compete in the 400-meter race, and had planned to leave Pampa Saturday morning, taking a plane from Amarillo.

Due to the storm Friday night and Saturday morning, Matson found it extremely difficult to get to Amarillo. When he arrived, he found that his flight had been cancelled.

Matson will throw in an exhibition next Saturday at Lubbock, returning to Texas A&M the following Monday.

B MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Suddenly, everyone's trying to tell free-spending David Sonny Werblin of the New York Jets what to do with his money.

Apparently, the fact he has shelled out $700,000 for three college football players during the past few weeks doesn't sit particularly well with some people.

You'd think maybe it was their money the way they go around clucking their tongues, shaking their heads and predicting a sad end to Werblin's utter extravagance.

Question Namath Choice
"How can he possibly give $400,000 to a fellow Joe Namath with a bum knee?" is one of the questions raised.

Back in the old days when a ball club refused to spend money, the fans would grumble about the owners being tightwad. Now when the owners do spend in an effort to produce a winner, the fans begin mumbling about them being crackpots.

Werblin certainly doesn't fit in that category, regardless of how much money he shells out. Long before he came into pro-football, he earned a reputation for being a sound spender, the type of man who knows value and isn't afraid to pay for it. The Jets' president was independently wealthy before ever becoming connected with football and the manner in which he accumulated his fortune was no accident, according to one of Werblin's long-time friends, who also is a millionaire.

Pulled Himself Up
"Sonny wasn't born with any silver spoon in his mouth," said the friend. "His success comes under the heading of 'operation bootstrap.' That's the way he lifted himself up."

"I can't see where he's guilty of any crime in spending money to obtain the best football talent available. Didn't he promise the fans of New York he would do that? He's merely putting his money where his mouth is."

With the newly signed Namath, Archie Roberts and John Huarte, Werblin succeeded in practically cornering the market on quarterbacks. The Jets have six of them but neither Werblin nor coach Weeb Ewbank seemed worried about the situation.

"There's no such thing as having too many good players," Werblin smiles. "I'm sure we'll find a place for them."

Florida Stuns Kentucky, 84-68

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — The Florida Gators shattered a 30-year run of bad luck Saturday with an 84-68 Southeastern Conference basketball win over Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats.

Not since 1934 had the Florida team managed to beat Kentucky. The Gators jumped to a 37-31 halftime lead behind 6'9" sophomore forward Gary Keller and 6'1" senior guard Brooks Henderson, each of whom scored 20 points.

Florida employed a height advantage and dragged down 53 rebounds to Kentucky's 26. The Wildcats lost three men who fouled out, while Florida lost none. A capacity crowd of 6,900 watched as the lead changed hands about five times in the first half. Then the Gators scored seven quick points to move into the lead at halftime.

The Wildcats inched up to within three points of Florida in the opening minutes of the second half, but the Gators bounded back, forging ahead to reach and hold a 10-point lead. The Gators spent the last seven minutes in a freeze, running out the clock.

The win gave Florida an 11-3 record for the season and the Wildcats have an 8-7 tally.

When money means more than a weekly allowance

As soon as a boy has a newspaper route money takes on a new meaning—it's no longer simply a handout from dad. From his route experience he learns the value of thrift; the logic of saving. And when Christmas or birthday time comes around he can proudly use his own cash to purchase gifts.

In addition to learning the basics of money management the boy with a newspaper route gains other rewards that will stay with him for the remainder of his life. He develops skills on his route that many boys may never acquire. He's able to put classroom theory into actual practice. And by working with men who are trained to develop his best potentials he's often a couple of jumps ahead of his classmates.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent

On February 18th we hope to see a large delegation of farmers at the Bushland Experiment Station.

We are happy to report the Hoover Oil Company has agreed to treat the group to a free barbecue. A catering service out of Amarillo will serve the barbecue. Plans are to meet at the Court House Annex, Miami Highway, and take as few cars as necessary. We would appreciate your calling our office and notifying us if you plan to attend. This is necessary so we can advise the catering service of the approximate number. More on this later.

Fertilizer

A farmer was by our office last week talking fertilizer. He is planning to fertilize 25 acres of oats with 100 pounds of nitrogen. The oats are to be planted soon. He wanted to know what kind of nitrogen fertilizer to use. We called a fertilizer dealer to check on the cost of anhydrous ammonia and also a dry, pelleted, nitrogen fertilizer. After we had computed the cost of 100 pounds of nitrogen in the form of anhydrous ammonia, we found it to be six dollars and seventy cents. Cost of 100 pounds of the dry, pelleted, nitrogen fertilizer came to $11.40. His decision was an easy one.

By using the anhydrous ammonia form he would save one hundred seventeen dollars and fifty cents on the 25 acre block.

According to the Bushland Experiment Station one form of nitrogen is no better than another for small grain. So the thing to do is figure your cost on the basis of a pound of nitrogen. Buy the cheaper one.

One thing should be pointed out is the fact that in some cases you have no alternative on the form you can use. If you don't want to disturb the soil in growing wheat, you would be forced to use a dry - pelleted form as a top dressing.

4-H News

By CYNTHIA HOGSETT

The Top O' Texas 4-H Club met Saturday night in the Court House Annex for general meeting. The president, Cynthia Hogsett, presided. The roll was called and the minutes read by the secretary pro tem, Cathy Wilkie. The 4-H pledge was led by Teddy Atwood, the prayer by Brenda Winters.

New members welcomed were Lonnie Cox, Matt Mills, and Jim Sailor.

The Monday night rifle report was given by Doug Abbott. He said they had a match soon with the Boy Scouts. Alan Tidwell reported that the horse project had been studying the parts of a horse. The recreation chairman, David Webster, reported that they had been learning new games to give at club meetings. Judy Cox reported that their clothing group had completed unit two in sewing. Cara Thomas and Marlin Sailor reported from their foods subject matter groups. They are practicing for the Favorite Food Show. In junior leadership Cathy Wilkie reported that she and Phyllis Atwood were working with a new group in foods. Phyllis has one girl she works with alone. Cynthia Hogsett has completed unit two in sewing with five girls.

Certificates of completion were given in these projects: Unit 1 Foods to Christi Whaley and Larl Mitchell by Mrs. Jack Mitchell adult leader. Know your sewing machine to Brenda Winters by her junior leader Phyllis Atwood. Second year junior leadership to Cynthia Hogsett by her adult leader Mrs. Derrel Hogsett. Clothing Unit II to Suzan Hunt, Judy Cox, Mon, Nickel, and Jackie Nickel by their junior leader Cynthia Hogsett.

Cathy Wilkie, vice president, asked that anyone having any extra clippings or pictures that could be used in the club scrapbook to bring them to her.

Generally speaking your fertilizer should be applied to small grains before planting the crop. There is no advantage of applying part before planting and part at a later date after planting.

The Bushland Experiment Station says, "Don't fertilize dry land on the hard soils such as we have in the Pampa area". I have known a large number of farmers that have spent considerable money learning from their own experience that the experiment station is right.

It is such decisions as the above that will determine which farmers are frozen out and which ones stay in the farming business and get bigger. I find the best farmers today are the inquisitive type.

This And That

Jerry Harland, assistant county agent, reports that Gray County 4-H boys will be exhibiting a rather large group of calves and pigs at the Amarillo Stock Show this week. Bob Skaggs, Pampa vocational agriculture teacher, will also have a large group of FFA boys exhibiting livestock at the Amarillo show.

Far West AG Tour Attracts 200 Texans

ABILENE, (Sp) — Interest is mounting across West Texas in a special Farm and Ranch Management Tour into the rich agricultural valleys of Arizona and California, scheduled March 1-6 and sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Approximately 200 Texas farmers, ranchers, bankers, and businessmen in fields related to agriculture will take the tour, which will cover the areas around Riverside, Sun City, Indio, Palm Springs, El Centro, Brawley, and Blythe, California, and the Parker Valley in Arizona.

Headquarters for the tour will be at Palm Springs, Calif., in the Coachella Valley.

Those on the WTCC tour will take a first-hand look at diversified farming and ranching operations in the Perris-Hemet Valley, the Coachella Valley, the Imperial Valley, and the Palo Verde Valley, all in California, and the Parker Valley in Arizona. They will see how irrigation has turned once barren desert areas into fertile, rich agricultural sections; will witness water conservation practices; and see how cotton, grain sorghum, vegetables, sugar beets, and small grain crops are grown.

Gray County SCD News

By VAN MILLS

D. W. Powers has completed 2,600 feet of underground irrigation pipeline on his farm south of Kingsmill. Much water is lost in an open irrigation ditch thru evaporation and seepage. Soil erosion also occurs on the steeper ditches. Underground pipe will cut down on this water and soil loss.

O. R. Blankenship has completed 4,965 feet of diversion terraces, 14,000 feet of standard terraces, installed a windmill, and shaped several gullies on his farm west of McLean, Tex.

There has been considerable interest in establishing wildlife food and shelter plantings. Earl Clayton who ranches southwest of Lefors has done an outstanding job of establishing wildlife areas over his ranch.

Some of the trees and shrubs that are ideal for wildlife plantings are as following: Russian olive, Russian mulberry, osage orange, plum, quail bush (species of skunkbust), tamarix and red cedar. The above species can be purchased from commercial nurseries for about $6 per 100.

Livestock habitually over-use some areas of most pastures and under-use others. Over-use and under-use are either injurious or wasteful, and both are costly.

Effective tools to manipulate grazing to use grass more uniformly, and increase ranch income are: fence along vegetative typelines, build and install windmills in under-used areas, salt and feed winter supplements in under-used areas, plant shade and build rubbing posts in under-used areas.

Shade increased summer gains 22 pounds and fly control increased gains 16 pounds per yearling steer in studies at Woodward, Okla. This 48 lbs. per steer could make the difference between profit and loss.

Feed Grain Price To Jump in 1965

Feed grain supplies for the present marketing year are down six per cent from last year; demand is expected to remain high and prices probably will average a little higher during the 1964-65 marketing year than for the year just passed, says John G. McHaney, Extension economist of Texas A and M University.

Supplies have dropped during three of the last four years and the carryover at the beginning of the 1964-65 marketing year is expected to be around the 50 million ton level. This compares with a carryover of 80 million tons at the start of the present marketing year and the record 85 million tons in 1961-62. The reduced carryover is the result of a 1964 feed grain crop estimated at 10 to 12 million tons below total disappearance.

Feed grain acreage, according to the economist, was down 5 per cent from 1963 and 21 per cent below the 1959-60 average, the base period for the Feed Grain Program. Fewer acres and lower yields in 1964 accounted for the 12 per cent drop in total production.

Livestock feeding rates have been influenced by rising feed costs and declining prices for livestock and livestock products. Domestic use of feed grains is expected to drop slightly during the present marketing year. Exports, on the other hand, are expected to equal or perhaps exceed last year's record of 18.7 million tons, says McHaney.

The economist believes prices will continue the general upward movement of the past three years. Prices received by farmers rose slightly in 1963-64 from the year before and were up about 10 per cent above the post-war low of 1960-61.

Employers Told Of Tax Deadline

All employers in the Pampa area have an important tax deadline on February 1.

Richard V. White, administrative officer of Internal Revenue, said this is the due date for reporting and paying income tax withheld and social security taxes for the calendar quarter ending December 31, 1964.

Employers should use Form 941 to report their tax liability for this period, White said and he pointed out that taxpayers who made timely deposits in the Federal Reserve Banks, or authorized commercial banks, have until February 10, to file their returns.

City officials said the national government failed to come up with promised loans and grants of $13 million.

Local Teenagers Follow New Dance Fads

Dance styles change with the times and well known dances such as the Charleston, two-step and waltz have given way to such fanciful gyrations as the jerk, swim, monkey and watusi among the Pampa teenage set.

Teenagers attending dances today can be found performing these new dances as the newer terpsichorean crazes sweep the country like a blue norther. Dances popular only a short time ago, like the twist, fall by the wayside and are not the "in" thing to do.

Couples dancing to the jerk, for example, appear to be doing the same things at the same time but a closer examination reveals that each member of the couple sets his own pattern. Feet move less in the new dances than in the older favorites but arms flail wildly and bodies swing and sway to the beat of the modern dance music.

The photographs show some of the many forms of dancing currently popular among Pampa High School youths.

SWIM — Motions of moving through water similar to swimming is labeled the "swim". In the lower left photo Linda Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Watson, 2320 Aspen, and Larry Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Stephens, Route 1, are doing the "swim."

MONKEY — Humans acting like an excited monkey describes the dance teenagers call the "monkey". In top right photo are Frances Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holt, 2010 Charles, and Robert Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chisholm, 2200 Beach, dancing the "monkey."

UP-TOWN — Leslie Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Watkins of 1112 Charles, and Fred Tinsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Tinsley of 1916 Evergreen, perform the "up-town" in the bottom right photo.

SLOW DANCE — Teenagers dancing in a manner familiar to most parents are doing what the younger set calls a "common old slow dance." Center photo shows Julie Hofsess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hofsess, 1108 Charles, and Richard Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ellis of 1913 N. Dwight, taking it slow and easy in the "common old slow dance."

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

KNOW A MAN whose favorite saying is "Some people have all the luck," and this is the sentiment felt toward the Hawaiian Island-bound group of Theresa and Ralph McKinney, Anna Mae and Jim Triplehorn, Burton and Jeff Bearden, Evelyn and Ralph Sidwell and Donna Jo and Clinton Evans, who will depart by plane from Amarillo, Feb. 4, for the Enchanted Isles. Little bird says the group is eagerly awaiting their arrival at Reef Hotel in Honolulu where they will spend several days on Oahu Island before touring for four days the outer islands of Kauai, Hawaii and Maui. Hope some day a convention for Women's Editors is held there and my editor deems it a 'must' to send a representative. Several Pampans received invitations to the wedding of Susan Daly Rogers, daughter of Jean and Congressman Walter Rogers. Susan was born in Pampa and attended school here until her father was elected to Congress. She is marrying James Christopher Healey Jr., Feb. 6, in the Shrine of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Washington, D.C., and the wedding ceremony will be followed by a reception at the Congressional Country Club. Some of those receiving invitations were Edwina and Lynn Boyd, Pebble and Frank Carter, Jane and Wylie Reynolds, Margaret and Jimmy Thompson, Zenobia and Russell Holloway, Fannie Fern and Clinton Henry, Fern and Johnny Hines, Mrs. I. B. Hughey and Mrs. R. W. Lane.

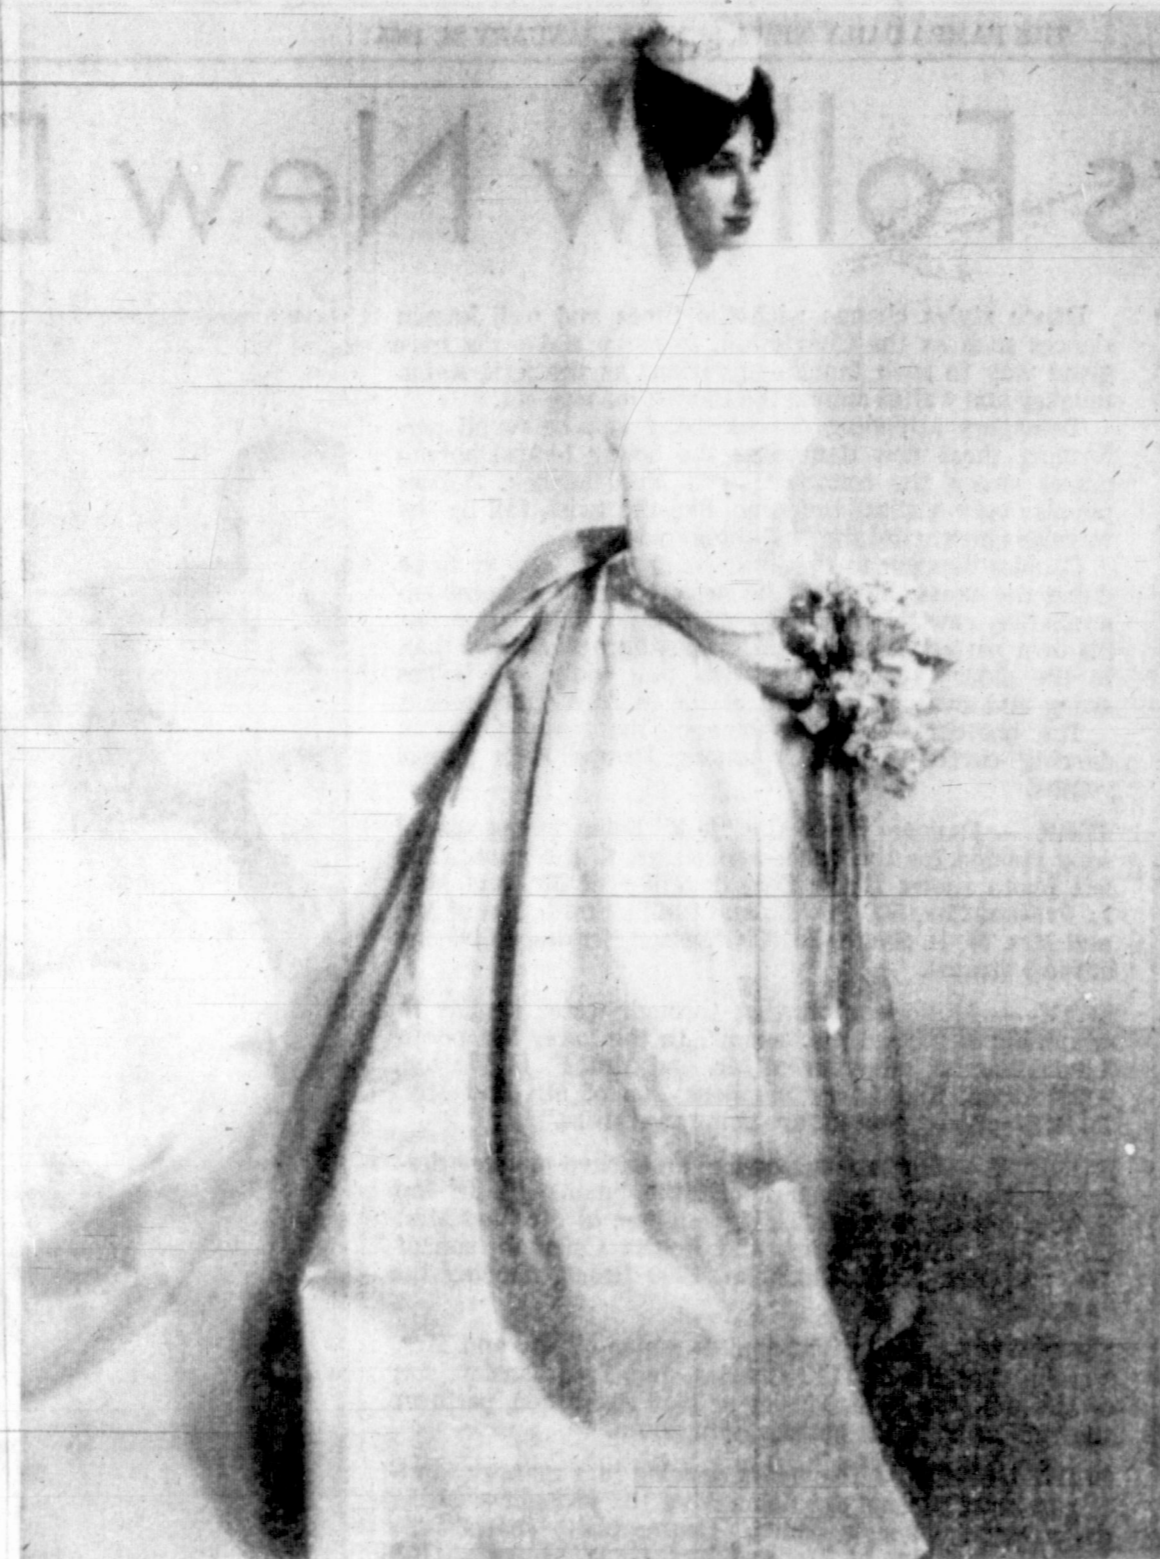

ALTHOUGH JUVENILE delinquency often makes the headlines, it is well to realize that it is a noisy minority which overshadows all the fine youths of a community. Two groups of Pampa young people spent part of their holiday weekend to improve themselves and at the same time be concerned with helping others. The Future Nurses Club went to Amarillo and toured hospital and nursing school facilities while representatives of the High School Red Cross were in Amarillo meeting with other area representatives to formulate plans for area achievement. Thelma Bray took advantage of the Friday school holiday and accompanied twin sons, Ronny and Roddy, and daughter, Debbie, to Colorado skiing. Mrs. R. A. (Georgia) Mack and some of her Mothers' Marchers were featured on Channel 4 TV for the area-wide March of Dimes story last Sunday evening. Georgia, assisted by a group of dedicated workers, has served in this capacity for Pampa for several years with outstanding accomplishment. This group of workers, like the postman, lets nothing halt their march. Just ask Mrs. Weldon (Marge) Adair, who was injured in a home fall, but didn't let it keep her from helping with the Mothers' drive.

TOP O' TEXAS weather outdid itself last Sunday and everyone took advantage of it. Really, the weather has been something to write about, even the beautiful snow. Seems that Mother Nature always thinks of the children who receive sleds for Christmas and tosses in a snow soon after for their enjoyment. Pampa is fortunate to have so many parks with perfect sledding slopes so that the fun may be carried on in safety. School spirit carries over in the weather fun. A huge 20-foot R.E.L. Rebels was seen traced in the snow in Williston Street Park. But back to Sunday. Mrs. Ed Anderson was seen dining out even though she had a foot in a cast. Alleith Curry was strikingly attired in gray and dining with her two handsome men, her husband Bob and son John. Frank and Esther Culberson were seen sharing a table with daughter and son-in-law, Betty and Don Cain and family. Little Scott Grayson appeared quite grown up dining out with mother Jerry and grandparents, A. B. and Sally Carruth. Bernard and Ruth Johnson, Ruth and R. E. Wright and Marguerite and Chester Thompson were seen dining together Wednesday evening must have been "cook's" night out as the Bill Jarvises, Irvin Coles and Ralph Thomases were seen in animated conversation at one table while the Joe Pages and D. V. Biggers were surely discussing the close of the first half of the school year at another table, only to be joined briefly by John and Edith Rankin, who had finished dining. Also seen were John Lee Bell and wife Anita, the Price Dostiers Sr. and granddaughter Cheryl, the Kermit Lawsons and the W. V. McArthur.

MRS. C. J. (JODIE) Deslote, who spoke to the B&PW group last week, is here for in-service training at Cabot's technical laboratory. Jodie spent two weeks early in December here and ran back home to Franklin, La., for Christmas with the family. She will serve as secretary to the executive for the new laboratory being built by Cabot at their plant in Franklin. Meanwhile Jody is a very attractive asset to our town. Mrs. Jess (Ethel) Clay and Mrs. George (Norma) Hrdlicka hosted a lovely seated brunch Tuesday at the Pampa Club honoring Maynette Loftus, Mrs. E. T. ## Carmelita Hogan and Sam Holt Barber Are Married in Candlelight Ceremony

Mrs. Sam Holt Barber
...nee Carmelita Hogan

In a candlelight ceremony performed last evening at 7:30 o'clock in First Baptist Church, Miss Carmelita Hogan became the bride of Sam Holt Barber.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hogan, 2007 Williston, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holt Barber, 2310 Aspen.

Rev. E. Douglas Carver solemnized the double-ring vows before a background filled with large woodwardia palms and a myriad candles in tree and spiral candelabra. A large woodwardia fern decorated the choir rail immediately behind the priest and tall bouquets of white chrysanthemums, arranged in white Grecian urns, flanked the wedding party. Smaller pots of ferns trimmed the setting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I avowal," was gowned in a snow flake formal-length gown of silk peau de soie and alencon lace. The bodice front was fashioned of imported alencon lace medallions around a taupe de soie cummerbund trimmed with lace medallions embroidered with tiny seed pearls. The scooped neckline came to a V in the back, which was fastened to the waist with self-shoe buttons. The long tapered sleeves ended in petal points over the hands. A graceful bustle bow fell from the back waist line point. The skirt front was designed with inverted darts at each side which formed the controlled side fronts into a chapel-length train. The bride's finger-tip veil of French illusion was secured by an Empress Eugenia pillbox fashioned of alencon lace embroidered in seed pearls and peralized orange blossom buds. The bride wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of siephanotis centered with a white orchid. Small pearls and scalloped maline tufts enhanced the whiteness of the blossoms and streamers of white satin ribbons cascaded down across the bridal gown.

Bridal attendants were Miss Nancy Metcalf of Dallas, maid of honor, and Mrs. Carter Williams of Goodland and Mrs. Jerry Shackelford of Canyon, bridesmaids. Honor attendants were attired in floor-length gowns fashioned of Iran blue chiffon over taffeta. Designed with empire lines, the gowns were belted at the bodice line with emerald velvet caught up in the center front by an imitation sapphire and emerald pin. They wore pillbox coils of pleated Iran blue chiffon and carried cascading bouquets of green fuji chrysanthemums designed with skelton leaves of blue velvet tubing. Serving the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Fred S. Barber. Groomsmen were Wesley Stewart of Amarillo and Albert Lee Easley of Dumas. Sharing the duties of ushers were Bob Dawson of Borger and William Clark of Miami. Cathedral tapers were lighted by Jeffrey Lynn Hogan, brother of the bride, and Don E. Cain. Miss Juanita Haynes of Miami, organist, provided traditional nuptial selections and accompanied James Dailey, vocalist, as he presented "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hogan was attired in an antique gold peau de soie dress with brief jacket, matching shoes and bag and a coil of beige roses. A corsage of brown cymbidium orchids completed her ensemble. Mrs. Barber wore a sheath dress fashioned of American beauty chiffon over taffeta complemented by matching shoes and bag and flower hat. Completing her costume was a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church was the scene for the reception held immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a white satin cloth, was centered with a white iron cherub candelabra gilded with smilax and gardenias. Crystal and silver appointments were used in the punch bowl was Mrs. B. L. Hoover Jr. of Amarillo and Mrs. Meredith Meaker served the wedding cake. Attending the guest register was Mrs. Randy Geisler. Other members of the houseparty included Meses. Don Cole, Floyd Watson, Bob Miller,

E. E. Shelhamer, Joe Hawkins, Doyle Ward and L. J. Zachry. For a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev., the bride donned a winter white wool suit trimmed with a white mink collar, white mink pillbox hat, white lizard shoes and bag and white kid gloves. She wore an orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the newlyweds will be home at 1326 Coffee, Apt. 3.

The bride attended West Texas State University, Canyon, and Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Okla., where she was a member of Chi Omega Social Sorority. The new Mrs. Barber is presently employed as a stenographer for Kewanee Oil Co. The bridegroom attended Clarendon Junior College, Trinity University and West Texas State University, where he was a member of Psi Epsilon Kappa Fraternity. He is now associated with his father in the retail drug business.

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended the couple included a tea given in the home of Mrs. J. B. Maguire Jr. with Mrs. Bruce Parker and Mrs. Eugene Bentley sharing hostess duties; a shower given in the home of Mrs. L. J. Zachry co-hosted by Meses. Joe Hawkins, Floyd Watson, Bob Miller, Don Cole, Doyle Ward, Bill Hinton, Welby Pairson and J. B. ## 'Ancient China' Discussed for Twentieth Century Allegro Club

Twentieth Century Allegro met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Curt B. Beck. Mrs. LeRoi Ogden was co-hostess.

The program, "Ancient China," was presented by Mrs. J. R. Reeve. "Geography is inseparably linked with the civilization of any people," the speaker began. "The huge country of China has a total area of four million square miles and a population of over 500 million."

"Like all primitive people, the early Chinese sought to explain their own origin. They believed that at first chaos alone existed. Many years later a man named Pan Ku came forth. Pan Ku worked for eighteen thousand years shaping the earth, sun, moon and stars."

"Archaeology in the modern sense is only beginning in China. China has not been fortunate compared with many ancient countries in the manner in which her relics of antiquity have been handed down to modern times. The centers of the earliest Chinese civilization were shifting sand, and the early Chinese found no stone with which to build large tombs and temples. However, despite these difficulties, much has been learned about the early Chinese from the Neolithic period and a Bronze Age Culture."

"The Chou Dynasty, which began in 1031 B.C., brings us to the period of historical China. This dynasty lasted 800 years and many Chinese institutions crystallized during the rule of the Chou dynasty. Toward the end of this rule there was a decline in morality and constant warfare."

"During the latter part of the 6th Century B.C. in the midst of this decay, came the fathers of Chinese philosophy. They were Lao Tse, Confucius and Mo-Ti. Confucius was the most famous and influential of all Chinese philosophers. His teachings are concerned almost entirely with ethics. According to him, human society depends upon the natural sympathy of man for his neighbors."

Mrs. Reeve explained that by 221 B.C., China had experienced many wars for supremacy between the seven various states. The prince of the state of Ch'in conquered the six other states and set himself up as "first Emperor." He organized one empire, one emperor and one set of customs and beliefs. The Emperor sought to rid China of the old methods of government and the scholars who objected to the new government. He called his dynasty Ch'in after his own state, and some believe this is the origin of the word China. No sooner had the emperor strengthened his country, when the dreaded Huns appeared from the north. To defend his empire, the Emperor built the Great Wall.

"The next strong ruler was Hans Wu Ti in 140 B.C." the speaker pointed out. "Like the First Emperor, he was an empire-builder. He extended the borders to include the country south of the Yantze River. These changes made China a rich country. Wu Ti was the first emperor to become interested in foreign trade. In consequence, the caravan routes across the great expanse of Asia became busy thoroughfares during the Han Dynasty."

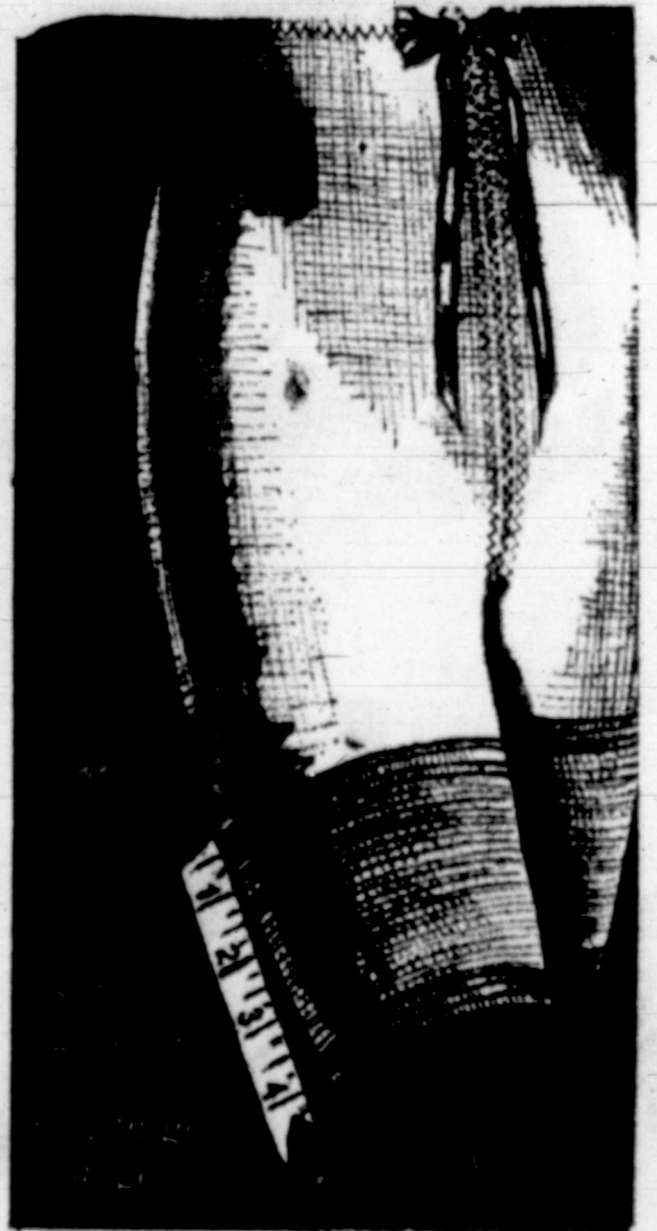

"It was in this dynasty that another great religion, Buddhism, entered China. One of the great inventions of the Han Dynasty is the invention of paper. Heretofore, literature had been written on bamboo or silk. The Hans ruled China for 408 years and so successfully that the Chinese feel honored to call themselves 'Sons of Han.' But the glory of the Hans came to an end. Quaiing Su Ma Chien, the 'father of Chinese history', 'At length, under lax laws, the wealthy began to use their riches for evil purposes of pride and oppression of the weak'."

"China went down into the Dark Ages of struggle and suffering," Mrs. Reeve concluded. "dark ages which have cast their shadow down through the centuries — even on China today. For the habit of strife between north and south then established has persisted."

During the business meeting the following officers for the 1965-1966 term were elected: president, Mrs. Curt Beck; vice president, Mrs. LeRoy Ogden; secretary, Mrs. Ted Alexander; treasurer, Mrs. D. W. Hayes; reporter, Mrs. R. H. Cory and parliamentarian, Mrs. John Cabot. The Guest Day Tea was set for March 16. Plans were made for an informal coffee to be held Jan. 25 in the home of Mrs. Will Graham.

The groom, a graduate of Tulia High School, attended Abilene Christian College. He is now a senior at West Texas State University. The newlyweds plan to continue their educations at WTSU.

Twentieth Century Club Members Are Presented European Program and Film

Mrs. W. R. Campbell was hostess to Twentieth Century Club Tuesday, when the subject of the program was "World Travels." The president, Mrs. Bill Roots, was the presiding officer, and gave some pertinent thoughts for the new year.

During the business session, reports were given on plans and projects by both officers and committee chairmen. It was decided to go to Amarillo for the next meeting on Jan. 12.

Mrs. Tom Rose, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers for the coming year. Nominated were Mrs. Jack Stroup, president; Mrs. Bob Andis, vice president; Mrs. Raymond Harrah, secretary; Mrs. Paul Harbaugh, treasurer; Mrs. Bill Roots, parliamentarian; Mrs. Lorene Locke, critic; Mrs. Harry Vanderpool, reporter and Mrs. David E. McGahey, Federation counselor. There were no nominations from the floor and the nominees were unanimously elected.

The leader, Mrs. V. J. Jamieson, read the thought for the day and presented the speaker, Mrs. F. M. Culberson, whose subject was "Around the World in Retrospect." Mr. and Mrs. Culberson recently returned from a trip around the world with a travel party and also visited with a daughter and family in Spain.

"Actually we visited or touched upon 16 countries on our flight," the speaker explained as she designated their route from a world map. "But, because of limited time, I shall show you pictures from eight of them, and only discuss four at any length."

"I can best give you our most vivid impressions of the tour by quoting three things my husband said when we again touched soil. First, 'I thank God that I am an American and live in our country.' Second, 'The urgent need for understanding and better communications between the peoples of the world. Whether a common language would be most effective I do not know, and third, 'The tremendous effect of the religion of a country on its progress, because of its taboos and prejudices.'"

As Mrs. Culberson showed films of Spain, India, Algeria, Morocco, Iran, Egypt, Lebanon and Jordan, she talked at length about the first four. The films were most instructive showing both the beauties and the needs of the countries.

A social hour followed. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Jack Foster's mother, was a guest.

Introducing Miss Debbie Sullins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sullins and escorted by Mark Westbrook, was the poem "Our next lovely girl carries out our theme, Fantasy and Frost. She's simply a dream. Her eyes shine like the heavens above. She's the type of girl everyone loves."

Miss Barbara Schaffer, escorted by Gary Steger, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Schaffer, was described as "In this one little package so small, is all you could want in a girl. With a friendly smile for one and all, she goes through life in a whirl."

The description "Pretty blue eyes and dark brown hair, Susie looks stunning in all she may wear. She's vivacious yet kind, but that's not all, with her personality, who needs to be tall?" was given Miss Susan Root, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Root, who was escorted by Mike Bridges.

Escorted by Johnny Budd, Miss Vickie Pruess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pruess, was introduced with "Vickie Pruess, so thoughtful, so fair. She goes through life with a nonchalant air. Her black velvet hair and ebony eyes sparkle with the stars of the skies."

Glenda Converse, Curtis Bain Didway Vows Are Repeated in Church Chapel

(Photo by Kenneth Butler)
Mrs. Curtis Bain Didway
... nee Glenda Kay Converse

At 8 o'clock last evening, Rev. Harry Vanderpool solemnized single-ring rites uniting in marriage Miss Glenda Kay Converse and Curtis Bain Didway. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Converse, 100 S. Faulkner, are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Didway of Post are the parents of the bridegroom.

Two baskets holding white gladioli and candelabra bearing white tapers centered the wedding scene in First Methodist Church Chapel. Organist Mike Phillips presented the traditional processional and recessional and also played "I Love You Truly."

"Because," "Till the End of Time" and "The Wedding Prayer."

For her wedding the bride was attired in a street-length dress of white whipped cream featuring a rolled collar, full gathered wrist-length sleeves and sheath skirt. She wore a satin pillbox coif with short illusion veil and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations centered with white gardenias. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Doug Brown of Arlington, wore a shift styled dress fashioned of yellow wool and carried a long stemmed yellow rose. Mrs. Jan Goodwin of Lovington, N. M., bridesmatron, was attired identically to the matron of honor. Serving as best man was Walter Didway of Post and groomsmen were L. K. Poole, also of Post.

Mrs. Converse chose a suit of pale green raw silk suit with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Didway selected a suit of royal blue accented by black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of carnations.

For traveling on a short wedding trip, the bride wore a dress fashioned of brown wool with blue trim topped by a blue coat. Brown accessories and the gardenia corsage from the bridal bouquet completed her costume.

The bride, a graduate of Pampa High School, is a senior at West Texas State University, Canyon, where she is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, national English fraternity, and is employed in the Student Personnel Office on the university campus. The bridegroom, a graduate of Post High School, is a senior at West Texas State University where he serves as vice president of Phi Epsilon Kappa, national physical education fraternity.

Speak Up, But Be Ready To Accept the Position

DEAR ABBY: Our church dinners begin promptly at 6:30 and could be over by 8:00 p.m. but after the meal, we are a captive audience for amateur singers, dancers, magicians and long-winded speakers. The chairs provided for us are the wooden folding type, which are utter agony after the first two hours.

Most people would prefer to move about after dinner to visit with friends, or make an early evening of it and go home. Last week we were pinned to those chairs from 6:30 until 11:00 p.m.

while various speakers droned on. All I heard around me was, "My back is killing me! How much longer can this go on? My feet are going to sleep." And, "Would it be awful if I sneaked out?" Print this Abby. The guilty ones will know who they are. Or maybe I should write an anonymous letter to the people who plan the "entertainment?"

DEAR HAD IT: Why an anonymous letter? Yours is a legitimate complaint, so write to the chairman of the program committee and sign your name. But don't be surprised if you are offered the job next year.

DEAR ABBY: I recently read that a group of parents, teachers and clergymen in a mid-western city drew up a code of teen-age behavior which tells teenagers of all ages what time to be home from dates, where they may and may not go (drive-ins are out for couples under 17), how they should dress, wear their hair, and conduct themselves generally. What is your opinion of such a code?

ANXIOUS PARENT

DEAR PARENT: You rattled the right cage. I am, in principle, opposed to teen codes, and I made such a statement to some 1500 students in Louisville, Kentucky, last year. The following morning I was invited to amplify my statement at breakfast with 12 Louisville clergymen. I said: "The rules of dating, dress and conduct of teenagers should be the responsibility of their parents. (Perhaps some parents have even a stricter code) In my opinion, the 'code' is the second line of defense for parents whose children have stopped listening to them long ago. Those are the parents who, when they first said no, got the argument, 'Well, everyone else can,' and didn't have the courage to say, 'We don't care what 'everyone else' can do. You are our responsibility. And you may not. Period!' How much more sense it would make simply to say to your teenagers, 'You may not go to the Prom breakfast because we don't want you riding in an automobile driven by a boy who

Double-Ring Vows Are Exchanged by Linda Montgomery and Tommy Clinton

Mrs. Tommy Clinton
... nee Linda Montgomery

First Methodist Church Chapel was the scene for the wedding of Miss Linda Montgomery and Tommy Clinton. Mrs. Hugh Carson, organist, provided traditional wedding music for the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown fashioned with a lace bodice featuring a round-neckline and long fitted sleeves. The white satin sheath skirt was enhanced by a gathered over-skirt of white satin brocade which terminated at each side-front. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias tied with white satin streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Brenda Kay Leith and bridesmaids were Miss Diane Russell and Miss Freda Dale Looney, cousin of the bride. The bridal attendants wore cocktail length gowns of red satin brocade and corsages of red roses attached to a white fan.

Miss Kim Langford served as flower girl wearing a dress of white cotton sateen and carrying a white basket filled with red rose petals.

Jerry Johnson of Amarillo served the bridegroom as best man and groomsmen were Earl Leigh and Jerrell Montgomery, brother of the bride. Bob Montgomery, bride's uncle, and Mike LaFon, bride's cousin, attended as ushers.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at Harvester Pit Barbeque. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Dean Wilson and Mrs. Ernie Wilkerson served the wedding cake. Guests were registered by Mrs. Jack Lankford.

The bride, a graduate of Lefors High School, is employed by Marie Foundations. The bridegroom attended Pampa High School. He is presently employed by Triplehorn Well Service. The couple are making their home at 520 N. Hazel.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lee LaFon and son and Mrs. J. P. Wolford and daughter, all of Tahlequah, Okla.; Mrs. John Montgomery of Coppville, bride's grandmother, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Montgomery of Dallas.

HUBBARD - MANKINS — Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hubbard of White Deer announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lovanda Lois, to Kenneth H. Mankins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mankins of Floydada. The couple will be married Feb. 20 in First Baptist Church of White Deer.

Mrs. Harrah Is Speaker at Rose Society Meeting

Pampa Rose Society held a regular meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Darsey with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Boynton serving as co-hosts.

Mrs. Darsey, president, presided. The club prayer was given by H. H. Boynton. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the year's membership dues were collected. New year books were distributed.

In appreciation for the past year's work, Cecil Collum, outgoing president, was presented a token gift.

Mrs. Darsey announced that Jackson and Perkins Co. is sending Polynesian Sunset, a new rose, to be planted in the club garden in Aspen Park.

Mrs. Milo Carlson spoke on "Next Month in Our Rose Garden," stating that it is time for dormant spraying which is effective for three months. In choosing new roses, the speaker suggested root plants. "If potted plants are chosen, they should come from the larger containers to assure a good root system, and soil should be treated with peat moss when planting," the speaker told the group.

Mrs. Lee Moore, guest speaker, was presented by Mrs. Roynton. Mrs. Moore chose the topic "Our National Parks," telling the group "Our national Park Service was established by an act of Congress in 1916. Stephen T. Mather dedicated his time, efforts and fortune in promoting this Congressional act. He was the first director of the National Park Service at which time there were only 13 parks."

Mrs. Moore continued by giving a brief synopsis of the major national parks. Cake, coffee and minted nuts were served by the hosts during the social hour to guests Mrs. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Don Glaxner, and members Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Campbell, and Messrs. and Mrs. W. A. Benick, H. H. Boynton, D. A. Caldwell, Milo Carlson, A. B. Carruth, Raymond Darsey and Glenn Radcliff.

Look for a revival of the small handbag. The leather goods people say the new shapes are "not doll like, but generally more compact. Big bags are reserved for places where they make sense — carryover for conservative shoppers and travel bags."

Mrs. Greenlee Presents Program for Meeting of Twentieth Century Cotillion

Members of Twentieth Century Cotillion Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Howard Greenlee at 1728 Grape.

The vice president, Mrs. Weldon Adair, presided, and Mrs. Ralph McKinney led the reading of the collect. Mrs. Adair introduced and welcomed as a new member Mrs. Bob Rogers. Mrs. Jim Hobbs was appointed club secretary for the remainder of the club year replacing Mrs. David Fatheree.

A slate of new officers for 1964 - 65 was elected unanimously. Elected were Mrs. Weldon Adair, president; Mrs. James Gallemore, vice president; Mrs. Jack W. White, secretary; Mrs. Harbord Cox, treasurer; Mrs. Howard Greenlee, public relations, and Mrs. Don Morrison, parliamentarian.

Mrs. W. D. Price Jr. introduced W. E. Workman of the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company, who showed a film entitled "Your Color Newsreel." This film showed the importance of color as a force and factor in a person's life. Seven famous interior designers decorated different rooms in a modern home and color was the key to making these rooms comfortable. The film also featured a fashion show of today's style trends modeled throughout the house. The movie stressed that color reflects moods and atmosphere in this colorful world; it reflects personality and freedom of expression can be used in color.

Mrs. Greenlee presented a study of American music, showing the development of American music from the straight-laced religious music of the Pilgrims to present day modern music.

The speaker stated "Music was restricted to church during the early days of this country and it was not until 1764 that the first concert was held in America. Francis Hopkinson was America's first composer and was a signer of the Declaration of Independence. The American Revolution resulted in a burst of nationalism in American music and our national anthem was written at this time. After this period American music became vivacious and alive. Jenny Lind and M. Julian appeared on the scene to help the spread of music and Stephen Foster made his great contributions to American music. Many modern composers have borrowed from Stephen Foster, who was America's greatest melodist and has been compared to Schubert."

Mrs. Greenlee played selections from George Gershwin to demonstrate how he changed the whole picture of our nation's music. She also played "America" by Ernest Bloch and "The Grande Canyon Suite" by Ferde Grofe. The "Billy the Kid Ballet" by Aaron Copeland introduced the very modern sounds of music and Mrs. Greenlee closed with the "New England Symphonies" by Charles Ives.

Mrs. J. Gill Presents 'Classical Music' Program at El Progreso Club Meeting

Mrs. John Gill presented the program, "Classical Music," for El Progreso Club when the group met in the Gill home at 1513 Hamilton Tuesday evening. Mrs. Lonnie Richardson served as co-hostess.

During the business session, the nominating committee presented the following slate of officers: Mrs. Vera Hagaman, president; Mrs. Kermit La wson, vice president; Mrs. Ben Hamilton, secretary; Mrs. Elice Richard, treasurer; Mrs. F. R. Spears, reporter; Mrs. V. J. Lewis, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Lonnie Richardson, Federation Counselor.

The club accepted, with regret, the resignation of Mrs. Harold Schmitter and welcomed Mrs. Walt Bailey as a new member.

Mrs. Gill began by stating, "In reading this paper I found a quotation that should be widely used and inscribed in the life of the world. Aristotle said 'Music directly imitates the passions or states of the soul—gentleness, anger, courage, temperance and their opposites and other qualities; hence, when one listens to music that imitates a certain passion, he becomes imbued with the same passion and if over a long time he habitually listens to the kind of music that arouses ignoble passions his whole character will be shaped to an ignoble form. In short, if one listens to the wrong kind of music, he will become the wrong kind of person; but, conversely, if he listens to the right kind of music he will tend to become the right kind of person.'"

Both Plato and Aristotle were quite clear as to what they meant by the 'right' kind of person. And they were agreed that the way to produce him was through a system of public education in which two principal elements were gymnastic and music, the one for the discipline of the body and the other for that of the mind. The two educational elements must be balanced. He who mingles music with gymnastic in the fairest proportions, and best attempers them to the soul, may be rightly called the true musician and harmonist.

"But only certain kinds of music are suitable. Melodies of expressive softness and indolence are to be avoided in the education of those who are being trained to become governors of the ideal state; Plato even chose the particular modes, rhythmic patterns and instruments to go with various areas of education. Furthermore, the foundations of music once established must not be changed, for lawlessness in art and education inevitably leads to license in manners and anarchy in society."

The speaker continued "Aristotle is less explicit than Plato about the particular rhythms and modes, and also less severe. He allowed the use of music for amusement and intellectual enjoyment as well as for education; but he agreed with Plato that all music used for education of the young should be regulated by law."

"The Greeks had a highly developed melodic system organized by means of tetrachords. However, there is very little musical evidence of the Greeks left. We do not know what their music sounded like or what their instruments sounded like."

Barbara Gail McDowell Becomes Bride Of Richard Howard Northcott in Lefors

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howard Northcott, nee Barbara Gail McDowell

Baskets holding white gladioli, centered with a basket of palms and flanked by candelabra bearing white tapers, set the wedding scene for Miss Barbara Gail McDowell and Richard Howard Northcott. Following the ceremony the couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu.

Rev. Ed Spivey performed the double ring service at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 15 in Lefors First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. McDowell of Lefors and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Northcott, also of Lefors.

Mrs. John Roy Shores, organist, provided traditional nuptial selections and accompanied vocalist Mrs. Charles Parr as she sang "Through the Years," "I Love You Truly" and, while the couple knelt, "The Wedding Prayer."

Wearing a chapel-length gown of white silk peau de soie, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Featuring a princess bodice accented with re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearls, with low scooped neckline, the bridal gown was designed with a bouffant bell-shaped skirt which fell into a chapel sweep. A crown of lace and seed pearls held the bride's shoulder-length veil of French maline. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. George E. Nolan, who was attired in a dress of baby blue brocaded satin. A coil of crystal peau de soie flower petals, covered with a tulle circle, and a cascade bouquet of white carnations completed her ensemble.

Tommy Northcott served as bestman to the bridegroom and ushers were George E. Nolan and Gerald L. Pflug.

Ringbearer was Ricky Pflug and Kerri Leath, attending as flower girl, was attired in a blue peau de soie dress with fitted bodice and full gathered skirt and carried a basket of red rose petals.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. McDowell, chose a two-piece dress of blue accented by white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Annex. The bride's table, covered with a blue net cloth over satin, was centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations. Crystal appointments and the five-tiered wedding cake appointed the table. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Tommy Northcott and serving the wedding cake was Mrs. Gerald Pflug. Background piano music was provided by Mrs. John Ray Shores.

The bride changed into a blue suit with blue and white accessories before departing on a wedding trip. She lifted her corsage from the bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Northcott, a 1962 graduate of Lefors High School, was employed by Lane and Douglass Attorneys at the time of her marriage. The bridegroom, a 1960 graduate of Lefors High School, is presently employed by Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp. in Dumas where the newlyweds will make their home at 212 Klein.

"Why humiliate the 'good' teen-agers in a community by imposing on them a code of behavior? Those who will obey the code don't need it. And those who need it, won't pay any attention to it."

"I have no right to set up rules and regulations for the children of others, and no one has the right to impose their rules on my children. Let each parent assume the responsibility of rearing and disciplining his own child."

CONFIDENTIAL TO J. W. C. IN JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA: "There are other callings that pay better. If a doctor wants money, he'd better marry it." I quote my good friend, Dr. Charles W. Mayo.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Consistency No Jewel to LBJ

President Johnson, in his State of the Union message, declared that the nation is dedicated to "freedom from arbitrary power" not merely for Americans but for all.

"Our nation was created," he said, "to help strike away the chains of ignorance and misery and tyranny wherever they keep man less than God means him to be."

tenets of democracy, then they must be free to seek a livelihood without prejudice." Mr. Larson said that he thought it "strange that Mr. Wirtz can offer these brave words at the same time he is leading the fight to further the cause of forced union membership, to extend even further the arbitrary control by the Federal Government over the lives of all our citizens."

Referring to a recent survey showing that 67 per cent of Americans favor voluntary unionism, Mr. Larson charged that in the face of mounting public opinion, "the President has now openly pledged to take away another individual freedom."

AMA to the Rescue

A comprehensive health plan for those over 65 who do not have the means of paying for hospitalization and medical costs is the eleventh-hour answer of the embattled American Medical Association to the President's massive, yet inadequate, plan for solving all of the health problems of all of the people at incalculable cost.

For the aged, the Administration would provide under Social Security sixty days in a hospital, sixty days post hospital care and 240 home visits - and that's all. As Dr. Donovan F. Ward, AMA president, has pointed out, these services represent "only a fraction of the cost of sickness," while the Association plan limited to those in need and administered by the states under the Kerr-Mills law includes payment of all surgical, medical and drug expense as well as hospital and nursing - home care.

Describing this help-for-those-who-need-it program as "sound and workable," Dr. Ward says it "would accomplish far more than medicare, with none of the attendant evils of unpredictable expense, invasion of medical practice by the Federal bureaucracy or disruption of the private health insurance industry by the Government."

It also relieves the already-shaky Social Security program of a burden it might not survive and saves its captive contributors from tax increases that could well become insupportable. And besides, it is still difficult for many Americans to believe that self-reliance, ambition, industry and dedication to some code of self-respect are no longer virtues, but the eccentricities of a square!

Two Budgets

Most of us think that each year's federal appropriations represent the total spending for that year. But, incredibly large as these appropriations are, that isn't the case.

Congress also authorizes what is known as new spending authority. The authorizations are for projects and programs running over a considerable period of time, and the money is not disbursed in any one year.

This is no small matter. In the last three years, spending authority has exceeded expenditures by an average of nearly $6 billion a year. By July 1, 1965, over $90 billion of unused spending authority will be accumulated. It will still be available for spending - on top of the spending authority requested in the 1966 budget.

This is not so complicated as it may seem. To all intents and purposes, there are two budgets. One - the one that makes the headlines - covers a single year's outgo. The other - the one few of us know about - makes available additional billions to be spent over several years. In either case, the unbelievable bills must be met, in the taxes we pay now and in the debt we bequeath to our descendants.

The case for economy in government - that will bring all spending within income, make possible a start on reducing the debt and save what is left of the dollar's value - was never so strong as it is now.

Speed of Obsolescence

History moves with such rocket speed these days that even rockets can't keep up with it. Hardly had they been planted in their concrete silos around the country than some 150 Atlas and Titan I missiles are to be hoisted out and retired. They'll be replaced by the more versatile and efficient Titan II and Minuteman ICBMs.

For the few years of their reign, however, these old missiles helped keep the peace. It would be fitting if some of them found a last use as satellite launchers in peaceful space exploration.

But even if they are consigned to the scrap heap, it is a better end than that for which they were designed in case of war. It is to be hoped their successors follow them there as quickly.

Phil - So you were married ten years ago. Took place in the church, I suppose, with bridesmaids, flowers, cake, and the brass band?

Bill - No, it was an elopement.

Phil - An elopement, eh? Did the girl's father follow you?

Bill - Yes, and he has been with us ever since.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Will we, who believe in freedom and the Golden Rule, be forced to become submissive nonentities of the 'Great Society'?"

Answer: Without a doubt total submission is intended. The entire efforts of the government and the pro-government people for years has been to preach conformity, to strike down traces of "poisonous" individualism, to clamor for unity in all things.

How far this effort will go remains to be seen. In consequence, it is important to have certain things in mind.

In ancient times, the semi-legendary king of Sparta, Lycurgus, introduced such savage controls on the people under his sway that Sparta became little more than a military encampment with the people behaving "almost" (in the words of Plutarch) like ants and bees. The word "almost" is the key. Regardless of the totality of the regime, men are not ants and bees.

In modern times we have only to observe the Soviet Union, which in 1917 began a massive assault on the rights of the Russian people in an effort to create total state operation of the economy and to bring all the people there into submission as nonentities.

If one examines this history, one will be impressed by the nearly total failure which met those efforts. The Lenin program, "from each according to ability, to each according to need," introduced in 1917, was such a complete failure that within three years, Lenin himself had to reverse his position and introduce what was called the "new economic policy" (NEP).

The new economic policy, so-called, created a small area of private enterprise which began to redeem the earlier failure. However, when Stalin came to power (1925) he went back to the original socialist concepts in what he called the "five-year plan." This plan was introduced in 1928 and was such a total failure that in 1933 it was modified by a re-introduction of the NEP policies which this time carried the label of the "second" five-year plan.

From that time forward Russia has slowly but surely modified its controls over the people until under Khrushchev a real forward thrust was obtained by removal of the many controls, the reduction of rationing, and by permitting bargaining to occur in many areas of exchange.

Since the ouster of Khrushchev the new Russian leadership is moving even more rapidly toward free enterprise, permitting independent pricing operations on the basis of supply and demand and generally allowing a far more lenient regime than Lenin or Stalin ever imagined.

By its experience, Russia demonstrated conclusively that total submission is impractical. The United States, if it continues on its present course, will be doomed to experience this same unfortunate and tragic discovery.

What we are saying is that nature rebels against authoritarianism. Each man, by his own nature, is free and does control his own energy. Although this freedom can be grossly impaired by the state, no state, either ancient or modern, has ever been able to invoke total controls over its subjects.

Terrible privations usually follow in the wake of any such attempt.

A nation is strong as its people are individually strong and free. A nation which reduces its people to peonage loses its strength and becomes only a second-class power, which is what Russia did.

This remains to be said. The degree of submission in any case, is always left in the final analysis to the resistance of individual people. You do not have to become a nonentity, even if the government works to make you totally subservient.

But keep in mind this fact. Bureaucracy is its own worst enemy. Ultimately, it destroys itself.

The excuse for tyranny is that it creates strength. The fact of tyranny is that it is weak and creates a false facade of unity which is inherently destructive. Remember, it is the weak that resort to force and violence, the strong stand on their own feet, even though they may be alone.

Red China Feeling Out U.S. on Informal Talks of Asian Trouble Spots and Trade Agreements

WASHINGTON - Red China is putting out feelers for discussions with the U.S. through non-diplomatic channels, preferably prominent businessmen with close White House ties.

War-racked Southeast Asia, the future of Formosa and Korea, and trade are the indicated principal subjects of the proposed informal talks.

This profoundly significant overture has been conveyed by Alvin Hamilton, Conservative member of the Canadian Parliament and the former Agriculture Minister who negotiated his country's first huge wheat sale to Communist China.

Hamilton spent four days in Washington last week conferring with top State Department and other administration officials and leaders of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. His unannounced meetings with these key senators were arranged by the State Department.

One session was a luncheon. Among those present were Senators J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman, Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, ranking Republican, and Frank Church, D-Idaho, sharp critic of U.S. involvement in South Viet Nam.

Also on hand was Thomas Hughes, director of State Department intelligence and research, who took extensive notes of the views expressed by the senators.

Senator George Aiken, Vt., second-ranking Republican committee man, who was unable to be at the luncheon, later had a half-hour talk with Hamilton at the request of the State Department.

These backstage Washington soundings were preceded by a visit of more than a month that Hamilton made to Peking late last year.

During this stay he conferred with Premier Chou En-lai and others. In Hamilton's talks with the senators, he expressed willingness to act as intermediary in getting a "non-diplomatic dialogue" underway between the U.S. and the Mao Tse-tung regime.

POSSIBLE U.S. SPOKESMEN - At the luncheon with the Foreign Relations committee, there was considerable discussion of well-known and highly respected personalities who might be sought to meet with the Red Chinese.

Around the World

By ROBERT MORRIS
Sukarno

Historians will be puzzled, in the future, at the way the United States has dealt with Achmed Sukarno, the dissolute dictator of Indonesia.

I was a Psychological Warfare Officer in the Western Pacific during World War II when I first became aware of Sukarno's activities. He was then the Japanese puppet in the Indies, the quisling who was grinding down the anti-Japanese forces. Later, he boasted that it was the ambition of his life to dance on and to desecrate the grave of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Nevertheless, at the war's end, the wily Sukarno flipped, made an alliance with the Communists, and thus gained diplomatic respectability instead of execution as a war criminal.

By 1949, Sukarno's dissensionist Republic was recognized by the United States. In 1950, it was admitted to the UN, and Sukarno thereupon dissolved the original parliament and established a cruel dictatorship which he euphemistically called a "guided democracy."

The forces who helped us in our war against Japan naturally opposed Sukarno's dictatorship. Nevertheless, we have been sending torpedo boats and small arms to Sukarno and he has been employing them to run down and kill our wartime friends and, indeed, all other dissenters in the vast archipelago.

Back in 1958, I met several times with Karel Nikijuluw, a spokesman for the million or so South Moluccans. Nikijuluw was in New York hoping to petition the UN on behalf of self-determination for his people. I wrote at that time in my book NO WONDER WE ARE LOSING: "He (Nikijuluw) has tried valiantly to bring to the surface the just cause of his people whom Sukarno has been grinding to destruction. The double standard that he invoke when it comes to self-determination and liberation deserves, some day soon, to be fully analyzed. The cause of self-determination, when the poor souls seeking liberation want to be free of Soviet or crypto-Soviet rule, has few champions in the forums of our day."

A few years ago at Jakarta, Sukarno boasted how he had helped the Indonesian Communist Party to become the second largest in all of Asia. When he came to the UN general assembly in 1960, he was escorted by Dipit Aidit, the head of the Indonesian Communist Party. Yet, money from the United States continued to pour into his coffers and was used for his

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Man Who Runs Toward the Goal Usually Gets the Ball

By SAM CAMPBELL
Business Editor

When I was a kid, we used to play basketball with a single goal mounted just below the hayloft on the barnside. The way you play single-goal basketball is to dodge around a bit and scream for somebody to throw you the ball.

In a few years, we graduated to a gymnasium that had two goals. But for awhile I played the game in the same old way. I would dodge about and scream, but no one would throw me the ball. Then one day I made a marvelous discovery.

Instead of dodging and screaming, I started running toward our goal. To my amazement somebody actually did throw me the ball. I went in for the setup but missed. Nevertheless, that same day I tried running for the goal again, and sure enough the ball arrived. I came out of the game high-point man.

The lesson lingers on. We capitalists spend a great deal of time dodging and screaming. As our socialist opponents say, we are too negative. The time has come for us to run for the goal. If we do, we can confidently expect that someone will

What I propose is something like this: Let us draw up the basic documents for a truly and totally free-enterprise society. Let us live and do business as nearly as we can in accordance with the structure of that society.

Continue To Obey Of course we must continue to obey the rules and the regulations that our socialist friends impose upon us. We continue to pay the taxes that are exacted. Wherever necessary we continue to protect ourselves from civil liability by making the appropriate references to the existing socialized civil law.

But while so doing, we subscribe also to a higher law - the natural law, which is well documented - and between ourselves we write our contracts on that basis and arrange for private arbitration in event disputes cannot be resolved by informal discussion.

The natural law, by similar processes, becomes the basis of agreement between employer and employ; between buyer and seller, between retailer and customer.

My confidence is that a free society - even though formed in the midst of a socialist structure, even though entangled, even though impeded - will be able to out-compete its socialist counterparts, will be able to beat their price in the marketplace.

Not only that, but our socialist friends will be able to see not only that we are getting ahead faster than they, but that our system really does work just as we today tell them it will work.

When the socialists perceive that our system is working better than their system, they will have to do one of two things. Either they will have to up their destructivity, or they will have to witness the steady demolition of their own cherished empire. Their result will be cruel, and often dissolute, purposes. We were keeping him from aligning himself with the Communists, it was said.

Two years ago Sukarno coveted Dutch New Guinea. Our State Department supported him against the Dutch. Even the UN which he now professes to mock joined with our State Department leaders in helping him extend his dominion to that island, now called West Irian. Today, with Soviet-built cruisers, destroyers, submarines and torpedo boats, some believed equipped with missiles, Sukarno is menacing Australia and declaring war on Malaysia.

But the same chronicle could be told of Nasser in Egypt, of Ben-Bella in Algeria, of Nkrumah in Ghana and many other crypto-Communist dictators whom our State Department has fashioned and, in some cases, even fathered. As a result, a new cast of arrogant Hitlers holds forth at the council tables of the world.

Still unanswered are the questions why and for how much longer?

the same in both cases, the emergence of a free society. History shows that new systems typically rise on new ground or upon the leveled ruins of old systems. But a footnote or two tells us that new social structures also can rise amid the standing landmarks of an existing order.

In short, we have graduated to a new stage of the contest. It is time to run toward the goal.

WASHINGTON:

First Four Years Are Crucial Ones

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Johnson may be missing the boat in his proposed preschool education program—federal money for kindergartens and nurseries in "poverty" areas.

Recent educational research with small children suggests that much of your basic intellectual development and mine took place before we reached kindergarten.

By the age of five, some research indicates, our intellectual development is 50 to 75 per cent complete.

Experiments suggest that development of creative curiosity and the ability to deal with new concepts may be crucially influenced by the time a child is four.

That is, if a child reaches four with a serious lack of intellectual and emotional stimulation, he may never achieve the ability of his more fortunate peers.

Insofar as intellectual development is concerned, it may not matter very much which college a young man or woman attends. By then, some research indicates, it's too late to do much good (or harm). Said one scientist recently: "As for intellectual development it doesn't seem to matter whether you go to Princeton or Podunk College."

Indications are that a child's creative ability (as distinct from his ability to do rote memory work) depends in great measure on the attitude of his parents.

Child researchers have found three types of fathers and mothers: — Those who answer a child's questions with "Because I say so" or "Because boys don't do that."

— Those who answer with an explanation of the facts, so that the child sees a meaning.

— Those who answer a child's questions with some explanation, but then lead him on by asking him questions so that he must think things through himself.

Children in the first group may tend to lag further behind as school work progresses from rote to reasoning, at which they will tend to do poorly.

Because under-five children are so greatly influenced by their parents, some researchers believe child intellectual improvement should come through showing mothers and fathers how they can better handle their children's questions. (It's better than putting these deprived children in nurseries.)

London Becoming Plagued With Crime Increase

By TOM A. CULLEN
LONDON (NEA) — Muggings and other senseless crimes of violence that have plagued New York and other big American cities now threaten to become a familiar part of city life in Britain.

Parts of London are becoming unsafe to ordinary law-abiding persons after dark as young hoodlums roam the streets, bent on destruction.

In the last week in Dec. 1964 muggings alone accounted for three murders in London, two of which took place outside of pubs. All of these killings were apparently motiveless.

There are two new factors which make the present wave of violence different from preceding ones, and which give the police cause for alarm.

One is the increasing use of firearms, usually shotguns by young hoodlums out for kicks. In the past, teen-ager gangs used their fists mostly whenever there was a rumble, although the odd bicycle chain or flick knife made its appearance.

But in recent weeks, young gangsters have terrorized their rivals by firing at them with shotguns from speeding cars, making sedate London resemble Chicago of the 1920s.

Smash-and-grab gangs now go armed with everything from sawed-off shotguns to pistols when they raid a bank, a practice which has hitherto been rare in Britain, whose police are unarmed.

An unwritten code long existing between the underworld and the police holds that as long as one side did not take up arms, the other would refrain from totting firearms. Until recently, this understanding has worked remarkably well.

But now gunplay has become contagious, and even youngsters have taken to firing at trains with their air rifles.

The other factor that worries police is the seeming public indifference to violence in the streets, with bystanders slow to go to the aid of victims who are being attacked.

In order to counteract this indifference Scotland Yard recently called on the public to "have a go" at criminals such as bank raiders, providing that the circumstances were right.

This brought the wrath of the British Safety Council down upon Scotland Yard's head. To advise the public to "have a go" at armed criminals is "madness" and "suicidal," the council claims.

Not only would such bystanders get in the way of the police, but they'd risk losing their lives without preventing criminals from escaping.

"You are not being a coward if you keep out of these affairs and let the police deal with them," Graham Spiers, an official of the safety council, explains.

After President Kennedy's assassination the British viewed with horror the case with which firearms can be procured in the United States. But the situation is little better here. Anyone over the age of 17 can buy a shotgun across the counter.

Most of Britain's shotguns are the oldest of the 31 bridges crossing the Seine in Paris is called "Pont Neuf," or "New Bridge."

imported. More than 42,000 were imported in the first 10 months of 1964 from Spain, Italy, France, Belgium and Czechoslovakia — a big increase over the 25,000 brought into Britain in 1963.

Many of these shotguns find their way into the hands of sportsmen and farmers. Britain is still sufficiently rural for large numbers of amateurs to go potting rabbits regularly on weekends.

Police are more concerned about the vast armory of stolen shotguns that has been built by the underworld through raids on gunsmiths' shops. More than a dozen shops have been raided in the London area in the past two months.
