Academy Probe Takes Athletes

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—A team of Pentagon investigators questioned more Air Force Academy cadets today in a burgeoning cheating scandal that caused mass resignations and threatened to wreck the school's athletic program. The academy already has announced the resignation of 65 cadets. More "voluntary" withdrawals were expected today. The 30 resignations Wednesday were the largest number to be announced since the investigation of examination cheating and related honor code violations began 10 days ago. The Rocky Mountain News today quoted "top congressional sources" as saying as many as 325 cadets might be implicated in the scandal. The story by the Denver newspaper's Washington correspondent Dan Thomason said "all congressmen who might have an appointee or constituent involved are being quietly notified by the Pentagon." Eugene M. Zuckert, the Air Force secretary, said last Saturday as many as 100 cadets, including 30 football players, may be involved.

Jaycees Open Sub-Stations For Poll Tax

Two poll tax sub-stations, sponsored and manned by the Pampa Jaycees and Jaycees-Ettes opened at noon today in the Coronado Shopping Center and the 200 block of North Cuyler in downtown Pampa. The Jaycees will be selling 1965 poll tax and issuing exemptions between noon and 8 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, the deadline, the booths will be open from 1 until about 8 p.m. A check at the County Tax Assessors' Collector office shortly before noon today revealed that only about 2,000 poll tax had been sold and only 1,200 exemptions issued. In 1964, there were over 10,000 poll tax issued and in 1963 there were a little over 8,000. A person must have a poll tax to vote in state or local elections if he is between 22 and 65 years of age. An exemption must be secured if the voter is not required to purchase the poll tax. Deadline is midnight Sunday. In addition to the two Jaycees booths, poll tax may be bought at the county tax assessors' office. The poll tax cost is $1.75.

House Gets First of Governor's Proposals

AUSTIN (UPI)—The first of Gov. John Connally's numerous proposals to the 59th Legislature goes before the House of Representatives today—a constitutional amendment to extend the terms of statewide elected officials from two to four years. The bill was one of dozens of measures sent to the House and Senate clerks by members planning to take the weekend off after today's session. Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine submitted the proposal to the House clerk Wednesday, claiming "more than 50 co-authors" from all sections of the state. Rep. James Slider of Naples helped Hendryx author the measure. The resolution would provide four-year terms for the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, land commissioner, treasurer and comptroller, as well as for the appointed secretary of state. Hendryx planned a bill to make the agriculture commissioner's term four years also, but said it could not be handled in the same measure. Connally called for the extended terms as one of his key issues outlined in an address to the joint session. He also called for sweeping changes in the state's higher education system, a long-range teacher pay raise program, a one-cent hike in cigarette taxes, gradual abolition of state property taxes, abolition of the state poll tax, tougher traffic safety laws, water conservation improvements and an industrial safety law. One senator termed the proposals "a very heavy diet for one legislature." Another said he doubted if all of the programs would pass. A source in the governor's office said Connally already had bills drawn up for all of his programs and had sponsors for most. The source said the governor was "optimistic" that all would be fairly considered. The Hendryx bill was one of more than 70 filed in the House Wednesday. The Senate had only a handful, with a heavy load expected to be introduced next week.

SAIGON (UPI)—Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh today reappointed the U.S.-educated Nguyen Xuan Oanh acting prime minister of South Viet Nam and denied any personal ambitions to take over the government. In outlining the structure he plans to impose on the nation, however, Khanh made it clear that the powerful council of generals he heads will be the final arbiter in affairs of state. Khanh, acting with the approval of the Armed Forces Council, ousted the U.S.-supported government of Premier Tran Van Huong Wednesday. The bloodless coup returned Khanh to power as a military strongman for the second time in 15 months. Oanh, 43, served as interim prime minister once before but lasted only seven days. That brief tenure ended on Sept. 4, 1964, when Khanh's earlier regime as military strongman was throttled in a storm of Buddhist-led street riots against the dictatorial powers he wielded. Oanh studied extensively in the United States and holds an economics degree from Harvard University. He is said to have close relations with U.S. officials here. "Personally, I would like to repeat that I have no ambition to take over the government," Khanh said today in announcing Oanh's appointment at a news conference. "We would like to reiterate the mediating role of the armed forces in order to counter measures that the armed forces have taken power." Wednesday's overthrow of the Huong government followed a week of Buddhist-led demonstrations and riots in Saigon and a dozen other Vietnamese cities. Khanh said Huong was unable to cope with the situation and that troops had to be detached from units fighting the anti-Communist war to control the violence.

LBJ Awaits Doctors' Ok

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson returns to his White House desk today under "take it easy" doctors' orders that led him to forego attending Winston Churchill's funeral in London. Still suffering after-effects of his severe cold, Johnson announced from his bedroom Wednesday night that he would not make the transatlantic flight to attend the Churchill rites on Saturday. The President had no appointments scheduled for today but said he expected to be in and out of his office during the day. He said he would limit his work depending on how he feels for the next several days. Johnson named Secretary of State Dean Rusk to head a three-man U.S. delegation that will fly to England for the ceremonies. Other Appointees Chief Justice Earl Warren and David K. E. Bruce, U.S. ambassador to Britain, also were appointed to represent the United States at burial services for Britain's wartime prime minister. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, invited to the funeral as a personal guest by the Churchill family, accompanied the official party on the Air Force plane leaving Andrews Air Force Base near Washington at approximately 6:30 a.m. CST. Johnson said he was following doctors' advice against un-

U.S. Awaiting Course of New Viet Leaders

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials today awaited some solid indications of the probable course of the South Vietnamese military leaders who ousted U.S.-backed Premier Tran Van Huong. They hoped that Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, who engineered this latest coup, was sincere in his pledge to maintain some semblance of civilian government pending elections late next month for the legislative assembly. It was acknowledged, however, that the future of American policy in South Viet Nam hinged on a number of other unanswered questions as well. Among these were: —Does Khanh have complete backing of the armed forces or are some of his fellow generals with personal ambitions already plotting to sabotage or supplant him? —What sort of "deal," if any, has Khanh made with Buddhist leaders opposed to Huong? They also had demanded the ouster of the American ambassador, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor. Khanh has been a strong anti-Communist in public. He is opposed to any talk of negotiations with the embattled country. But he and Taylor have been feuding for some time. And the fact that the Buddhists, who widely acclaimed Khanh's ouster of Huong are advocates of "neutralization," naturally sparks concern here over the relationship between them and Khanh. Early today, the State Department still refused to comment on developments, beyond saying it had not been "totally surprised" by this latest upheaval.

Johnson Names Katzenbach as Attorney General

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today named Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach to be attorney general. Katzenbach has been acting attorney general since last September when Robert F. Kennedy resigned to run for the U.S. senate from New York. Johnson also selected Ramsey Clark, 37-year-old son of Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, to be deputy attorney general. Katzenbach, 43, was the President's second cabinet appointment since he took office. He previously named John T. Conner as commerce secretary. The White House said the nomination of both Katzenbach and Clark would be sent to the Senate today for confirmation. Clark has been assistant attorney general in charge of the lands division. He was appointed to that post in 1961 by the late President John F. Kennedy. Katzenbach, who studied law in a German prisoner-of-war camp during World War II, came to national attention during an integration showdown at (See KATZENBACH, Page 3)

Administration Says Aid Cut To UAR Would Hurt US Interest

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Johnston administration officials today said that an abrupt end to U.S. food aid to the United Arab Republic could have repercussions endangering American interests.

Rogers Votes Yes to Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Five Texas Democrats Tuesday voted in favor of a bill to cut off surplus food sales to the United Arab Republic until July 1. Sixteen others opposed it and two Texas congressmen did not vote. Voting for it were Reps. Omar Burelson of Anson, Bob Casey of Houston, John Dowdy of Athens, O. C. Fisher of San Angelo and Joe Pool of Dallas. Voting against the measure were Reps. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, Jack Brooks of Beaumont, Earle Cabell of Dallas, Eligio (Kika) de la Garza of Mission, Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio, George Mahoney of Lubbock, J. J. (Jake) Pickle of Austin, W. R. Poague of Waco, Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, Ray Roberts of McKinney, Walter Rogers of Pampa, Olin Teague of College Station, Albert Thomas of Houston, Richard White of El Paso, Jim Wright of Fort Worth and John Young of Corpus Christi. Reps. Wright Patman of Texas and Clark Thompson of Galveston did not vote.

COURT ACTION IN MOBILE

Sheriff Facing Contempt Charge

By United Press International Negro leaders in Selma, Ala., called for a hill today in a voter registration drive that has resulted in the arrest of 280 persons while attorneys bring court action at Mobile. The court action seeks to find Dallas County Sheriff James Clark and others in contempt for interfering with the drive in violation of a federal court order. Twenty-four more persons were arrested at Selma Wednesday in a dispute over how many persons could stand in the voter registration line at the courthouse in accordance with an order issued Saturday by federal Judge Daniel H. Thomas. At Meridian, Miss., 17 of 18 men under federal indictments in connection with the slaying last summer of three civil rights workers entered pleas of not guilty at a preliminary hearing. A court official indicated that it probably will be spring before the 17 can be tried for conspiring to kill the civil rights workers. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the voter registration drive in Selma and 1964 winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, was paid an unusual tribute in Atlanta Wednesday night by a crowd of 1,500 white and Negro civic, business and religious leaders, including Mayor Ivan Allen. It was the first such honor paid a Negro by a joint effort in the Deep South city in this century and the dinner was topped off with the singing of

President Promises Attention

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson reported today that the U.S. economy was in "excellent" shape. He promised Congress he would try to keep it that way by maintaining a close watch on wages and prices. Johnson said he would "draw public attention to those private actions which threaten the public interest," but added that he counted on the "sense of public responsibility" of business and labor to help hold down the wage-price spiral. In his annual economic report to Congress the Chief Executive predicted "uninterrupted and vigorous expansion" for the economy in 1965, but his optimism was tempered somewhat by a forecast of only a "modest" decline in unemployment. Test In Steel The first major test of the President's wage-price stand appears to be shaping up in steel where the companies recently increased prices of certain products. Johnson has called for a report on the price hikes, and Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers told a press briefing he was feeding the President information "as we get it." The President also is paying close attention to the forthcoming contract negotiations between the companies and the United Steelworkers. The present contract expires this spring. Ackley noted that steel users already have begun to build up their stocks in anticipation of a strike. Either a strike or a let-down in steel orders following the current inventory boom would hurt the economy later this year, he said. Although the President cited good reason to believe prices would remain stable in 1965, he noted that the U.S. economy now is closer to using all its available men and machines than at any time since 1957. "Disturbing Exceptions" And although wage settlements have shown general moderation and price-makers have demonstrated "general restraint," he said, there have been "disturbing exceptions." The administration is known to feel that last fall's auto industry wage settlement was too rich for the nation's economic blood. The President himself has expressed concern about recent price increases in certain steel products. "We can no more afford inflation in 1965 than we could in 1964," he said. He admitted that individual prices may have to (See ECONOMY, Page 3)

Banquet Honors Canadian Seniors

Members of the Canadian High School senior class were honored guests at a banquet given Monday evening by the First Presbyterian Church.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Kenneth Mauldin, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Amarillo. His talk was on "Man and Modern Society." He was introduced by the Rev. David McPhail, who acted as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Special guests in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Mauldin were Supt. and Mrs. Woodie Beene, Mrs. Preston Hutton, class sponsor, and Mrs. McPhail.

About fifty-five students and special guests were present. Mrs. Rush Snyder was in charge of arrangements; Mrs. Jim Robinson was in charge of the decorations.

At the close of the evening the students were presented with New English Testaments.

Rofary Club Hears Grade School Choir

The Stephen F. Austin School Choir entertained the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday afternoon in the Coronado Inn. The group, which is made-up of fifth and sixth grade students, sang a wide variety of musical selections. Donny Jones accompanied the choir on the piano.

Austin school principal D. V. Biggers introduced the group which was under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Gunn.

In other business Rev. Harry Vanderpool spoke on behalf of the fund raising drive for a chapel in Highland General Hospital.

Gemini Craft Due New Tests Today

EL CENTRO, Calif. (UPI)—Three tests of Gemini spacecraft escape and recovery equipment were scheduled here today in preparation for the twin orbital flights of astronauts Virgil (Gus) Grissom and John W. Young next April.

Astronauts Al Bean and James Lovell planned to watch the three separate tests at the parachute test facility at this Navy desert base in the imperial valley.

The three tests by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) involved the dropping from planes of Gemini astronauts' personal parachutes, a Gemini ejection seat, and a Gemini capsule.

James Gibbs invented the chain-stitch sewing machine.

Three Injured in Separate Crashes

Three persons were injured in Pampa yesterday as police reports revealed a total of three separate accidents within the city.

Charles D. Worley, 38, 216 N. Starkweather, is listed in good condition at Worley Hospital suffering from cuts and bruises and a possible skull fracture.

Worley was the driver of a vehicle that struck a parked truck - trailer at the Lee Way Motor Freight Lines, 425 W. Brown. The accident occurred at 1:30 p.m.

Jerry D. Holloway, 21, 1063 Prairie Drive, received minor injuries when he was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Andrew J. Hennig, 48, of 848 Beryl.

Holloway was taken to a local doctors clinic where he was treated and released. The accident occurred at 1:30 p.m.

Charles M. Ashley, 18, 705 Frederic, was slightly injured at 12:03 a.m. today when the auto he was driving rammmed into a tree in the 900 block of Frederic. Ashley was not hospitalized.

Texas Over Top On 1964 Savings Bond Campaign

Series E and H Savings Bond sales during 1964 totaled $147,317,356 which represents 100.14 per cent of the 1964 sales goal, according to a report received from Ed Gossett, General Counsel for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and State Bond Chairman.

In making the announcement Gossett said: "I am pleased to announce that Texas has achieved its Savings Bond sales goal for 1964, a feat which has not been accomplished since the war years. Earlier we had announced a state goal of $150 million but the Treasury Department later adjusted this goal to $147.1 million—a goal which we have surpassed. On behalf of the Texas Savings Bonds Committee I extend heartfelt congratulations to the many thousands of Texans who assisted us in making the program a success."

Bond sales in Gray County during 1964 totaled $334,796. This represents 53.1 per cent of the 1964 goal of $630,000. George B. Cree Jr. is Gray County chairman. Wheeler County reached 104.5 per cent of its $170,000 goal which was exceeded by $8,351.

Snow Flurries Due Tonight

Snow-chilled arctic air took dead aim at Pampa and the Panhandle today. The Weather Bureau predicted increasing cloudiness and snow flurries over the Panhandle and upper South Plains tonight and Friday.

The colder air was expected to move into Pampa during the afternoon.

Weathermen said snow flurries and temperatures in the lower 20s could be expected tonight. The high temperature tomorrow should reach only about 40 degrees.

The overnight low in Pampa was 21 degrees with the temperature standing at 37 at dawn. The high yesterday was 52 degrees.

Skies were fair over all of Texas with readings ranging from 22 at El Paso and 25 at Dalhart to 50 at Galveston along the Gulf Coast.

Other than the Panhandle, the Weather Bureau said most of Texas should be warmer today.

rise where costs are high or productivity gains low, but he said any increases "should be balanced by price cuts elsewhere."

Johnson also said he would oppose legislation which might threaten to raise costs and prices, and would support any actions to stabilize or reduce them. His language was broad enough to include many proposals, including the 35-hour workweek and a higher minimum wage.

Pay Scant Attention

Business has paid little attention to the administration's doctrine on price cuts since it was first put forward in 1962 as part of the wage-price "guideposts."

In addition to promising to keep a close watch on wages and prices, the President said he would ask for "special, detailed analysis" of price or wage increases in key sectors of the economy. Johnson already has ordered such a study for the recent price increases in steel.

He promised to throw his full weight behind a stable dollar at home and urged Congress to do the same for the dollar abroad by eliminating the requirement that 25 per cent of federal reserve deposits be backed by gold. This would free almost $5 billion in gold for sale to foreigners at the going rate of $35 an ounce.

To insure that the economy stays healthy in the year ahead, Johnson also urged Congress to:

More Money

—Enact his $9.7 billion spending program for the coming fiscal year, as well as a 7 per cent increase in Social Security benefits, which would put more money into the hands of consumers.

—Cut excise taxes by $1.7 billion in order to further boost consumer spending power.

—Reinforce business confidence by making sure congressional procedures permit rapid but temporary income tax cuts if recession threatens. Johnson called for a similar stand-by arrangement for federal spending programs that could put men to work fast and give the economy an additional lift.

In his press briefing, Akeley emphasized that these standby measures would be called into play only in the face of a possible recession. "We certainly don't anticipate a recession in 1965," he said.

To justify this government intervention in the economy, the President said: "No longer will we tolerate widespread involuntary idleness, unnecessary human hardship and misery, the impoverishment of whole areas, the spoiling of our natural heritage, the human and physical ugliness of our cities, the ravages of the business cycle, or the arbitrary redistribution of purchasing power through inflation."

In Excellent State "I am pleased to report that the state of our economy is excellent," Johnson told Congress. "The rising tide of our prosperity, drawing new strength from the 1964 tax cut, is about to enter its fifth consecutive year."

"With sound policy measures, we can look forward to uninterrupted and vigorous expansion in the year ahead."

The President said approval of his tax and spending programs would help boost the country's Gross National Product (GNP) to $660 billion in 1965, an increase of $38 billion over 1964.

But he noted that 1.3 million new workers are due to join the labor force this year. So a gain of $38 billion in GNP "will do little more than keep up with the expansion of our capacity, and will make only modest inroads into the still too heavy unemployment of our human and physical resources," he said.

Despite this gloomy prediction, Johnson said the unemployment rate should average less in 1965 than the 5.2 per cent of 1964.

Coin Collection, $150 Taken in Home Burglary

A coin-collection and $150 in cash was reported taken some time since Saturday night during a burglary of the W. O. Barber home, 2310 Aspen.

Barber reported the theft shortly before 10 a.m. today. He said the thief entered his home sometime between 6 p.m. Saturday and 6 p.m. last night.

He said that a one hundred dollar bill and a fifty dollar bill were taken in addition to his coin collection.

This is the second coin collection burglary in past weeks. A valuable coin collection was stolen in December from the home of David Caldwell, 2208 Aspen, just one block from where the recent burglary occurred.

Barber placed no value on the stolen coins. He discovered the theft Wednesday night.

necessary exposure at this time in deciding against making his first overseas trip since taking office 14 months ago.

He summoned a half-dozen reporters to his second-floor living quarters to announce the decision at a bedside news conference.

Lost His "Bounce" "I don't have the bounce feeling that I usually have," the President said as his doctors watched from the rear of the bedroom.

"I still have some of my cough, throat irritation and discharge from the nose." The President sniffled during the interview and, at one point, removed a handkerchief from the pocket of his fire-engineered pajamas to blow his nose.

He said the doctors want him to get up and around but not to go out for a while. "They want me to take it easy for a few days — on the theory that I'm susceptible to reinfection," he explained.

Johnson came home from the hospital Tuesday afternoon after spending 3 1/2 days there for treatment of a severe cold and sore throat.

Negro students, escorted by Katzenbach, entered the university despite the "school house door" stand by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace against integration.

RARE STAMP DISPLAYED

LONDON (UPI)—The world's rarest stamp, the unique British Guiana one cent stamp issued in 1856, was flown into London tucked safely in a tattered wallet in Finbar Kenny's jacket pocket. The stamp, which will be the star attraction at an exhibition here Feb. 17-20, is insured for $448,000. Kenny said he has been offered $560,000, "but it's not for sale—not yet anyway."

Chocolate Velvet Pie Fits Into Rule of Careful Planning and Elegant Simplicity

CHOCOLATE VELVET PIE fits into a scheme of elegance.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
At-home parties with a touch of elegance — not fanciness — are in vogue. The "cool" set, both in town and country, entertain with ease, grace and without confusion or last-minute franticness. The new rule is careful planning, elegant simplicity and as much ahead-of-time food preparation as possible.

This cool and velvety chocolate pie fits into that scheme deliciously.

CHOCOLATE VELVET PIE
1 package (4 oz.) chocolate fudge pudding and pie filling
1 1/2 cups milk
1 envelope whipped topping mix (x)
1/2 cup cold milk (x)
1 baked 8-inch graham cracker crust, cooled
(x) Or use 1/2 cup heavy cream — whip until peaks will form and substitute for prepared dessert topping.

Combine pie filling mix and 1 1/2 cups milk in a saucepan. Blend well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Place wax paper on surface. Chill in refrigerator at least 2 hours.

Prepare dessert topping with 1/2 cup cold milk as directed on package. Beat chilled pie filling with a spoon or rotary beater until smooth. Blend 1 cup prepared dessert topping into pie filling. Spoon into pie crust. Chill until firm. Garnish with remaining prepared dessert topping. Sprinkle with chopped nuts if desired. Makes 6 servings.

CRUMB CRUST
1 cup fine crumbs (x)

3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup softened butter
(x) Graham crackers, vanilla wafers, zwieback, chocolate wafers, cinnamon-flavored graham crackers, gingersnaps, or shortbread cookies may be used.
Combine crumbs and sugar. Add softened butter and mix well. Press firmly with back of a spoon over bottom and sides of an 8-inch pie pan.

For a baked Crumb Crust: Bake at 375 degrees for 8 minutes. Cool thoroughly before filling.

For an unbaked Crumb Crust: Chill 1 hour. Fill.

Fowl Is Still a Treat

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The traditional all-American Sunday dinner used to be roast chicken with stuffing, giblet gravy, mountains of mashed potatoes, peas, homemade ice cream and chocolate cake.

The enormous output and low prices of broiler-fryer chickens in the past few years, however, more or less pushed plump roasting chickens and capons off the family menu. This Sunday, just for a change, why not treat your family to roast chicken or capon prepared a new way?

BAKED CHICKEN, JAMAICAN STYLE
(6 servings)
6 lb. roasting chicken or capon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
Sweet potato stuffing
1 stick butter or margarine, melted
1 1/2 cups hot water

Draw Praise for Colorful Brunch Idea

About this time of year many of us are feeling we've had enough of the winter months which frequently result in routine living. Can anything be done to relieve this monotony at mealtime?

Yes, indeed! What about having a festive breakfast or brunch for the family or some friends on Saturday or Sunday morning? It's a refreshing change-of-pace which folks are certain to enjoy!

February is also cherry month in honor of the country's first president. It would be smart to bring in cherries for breakfast to provide that touch of brilliance and color.

Do you see how plans are shaping up? Start with winter, its monotony at this point, proceed to a colorful breakfast or brunch and add cherries because they honor George Washington. What's next?

Pancakes! They're a breakfast food you don't have every morning of the week.

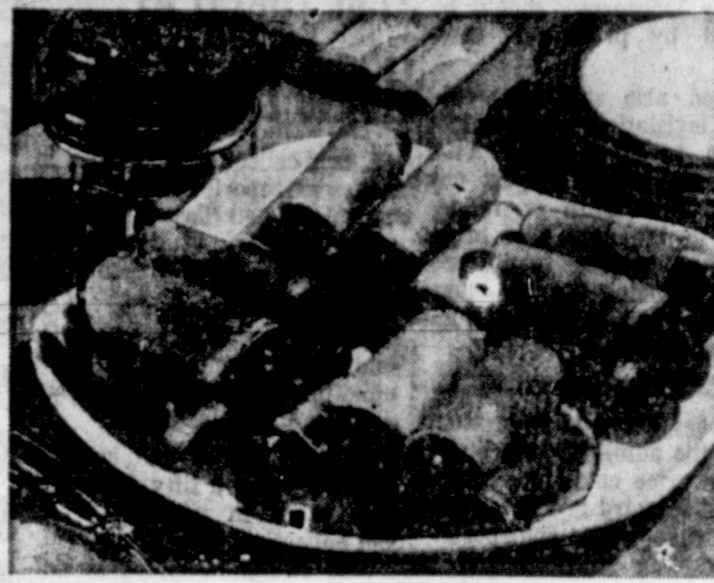

What goes with pancakes? Sausage, of course. These might be pork sausage patties or the little pork sausage links which are such a favorite. Prefer something different? Smoked pork sausage links are tasty fare and they may be new as a breakfast item in your home.

They are, however, prepared in much the same way as other pork sausage. Add a small amount of water to the meat in a frying-pan, covering and cooking slowly for a few minutes. Then remove the cover, pour off drippings and let the sausage lightly brown, turning occasionally.

Prepare the pancakes while the sausage cooks, then roll each pancake around a cooked sausage link and place on a baking pan to keep them together — and warm — in the oven while you continue making pancakes.

The recipe is designed to give thin pancakes as these are the ones which are easiest to roll. There's nothing to the cherry sauce! It's a canned cherry pie filling to which gingerale is added. Keep it at attractive serving temperature in a container over a candle warmer.

If folks get hungry waiting for the piece de resistance, let them nibble on sweet rolls and crisply fried bacon while you finish the pancake roll-ups.

FESTIVE FARE — An easy-do cherry topping makes a festive brunch or breakfast of pancakes and smoked sausage links. The hostess can prepare everything ahead of time if she plans to entertain a crowd.

them nibble on sweet rolls and crisply fried bacon while you finish the pancake roll-ups.

CHERRY-TOPPED SAUSAGE AND PANCAKES
2 1/2 packages (12 ounces each) smoked sausage links
3 tablespoons water
2 cups milk
1 egg
2 tablespoons melted lard
2 cups pancake mix
1 can (16 ounces) cherry pie filling
1/4 cup gingerale

Place smoked links in frying-pan. Add water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 5 to 7 minutes or until heated through. Remove cover. Pour off drippings and lightly brown sausage. Combine milk, egg, lard and pancake mix. Stir only until dry ingredients are moistened (batter will be slightly lumpy). Cook pancakes on a moderate griddle making approximately 20 3-inch pancakes. Roll a pancake around each smoked sausage link and place on a warm platter. Combine cherry pie filling and gingerale. Heat to serve over pancakes and sausage. 8 servings.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the week-end has been prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Week-end food shoppers will have their choice of a good selection of plentiful meat and poultry, along with a typical variety of mid-winter fruits and vegetables.

At the meat counter there will be plenty of ground beef along with beef steaks and roasts, pork chops and ham, and good supplies of broiler-fryer chickens. There will also be good buys on eggs and such fish items as canned pink and chum salmon, fish sticks and fish portions.

At produce counters, the featured vegetables are cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes. Among the fruit choices are plenty of apples, grapefruit, and oranges.

Overcooking protein foods toughens and shrinks the protein, the Department of Agriculture cautions.

Healthful

CHICAGO (UPI) — Americans spend $350 million a year on across-the-counter purchases of vitamins, the "Dairy Council Digest" reports.

This sum does not include the cost of vitamins incorporated into foods.

Favorite Meat

In one study, chuck roasts showed up most often among the meats on sale during a four-month period. By buying chuck on weekend sale, homemakers saved from 10 to 30 cents a pound, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Financial Gossip

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Government, industry and the schools all are joined in a battle to reduce the nation's unemployment rate among youth, but a recently issued study says it will continue to be a problem throughout this decade.

The jobless rate for young persons—in the 16 to 21 age group—no longer in school continues to be almost three times that for the entire labor force, says the National Industrial Conference Board in its latest "Road Maps of Industry" report.

And this lack of education, the NICB report indicates, plays a major part in the inability of the individual to get a job.

Jobs Disappearing
"The jobs that can be performed by persons with little education are disappearing or growing at a slow rate," said the report. "Unskilled and semi-skilled jobs on both the farm and in the city, which usually provided job opportunities to persons in this category, will be unable to absorb the large number of young people coming into the job market."

"By contrast, most of the jobs that are growing at a fast rate will require greater amounts of education and training."

The NICB, using as its sources the Department of Labor, the Bureau of the Census, and the NICB, noted that in October, 1963, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate among the total civilian labor force was 4.7 per cent. But among the out-of-school young persons in the 16-21 year age bracket, the unemployment rate was 13.5 per cent—and the non-white persons in this age group had a rate more than twice that of white persons.

Fast Growth Rate
Of the white group, 49.9 per cent had four years of high school; 42.9 per cent had less than this; 7.2 per cent had one to three years of college. In the non-white group 59.5 per cent had less than four years of high school; 34.3 per cent had a full high school education and 6.2 per cent had at least one to three years of college work.

A thought for the day: Sir Winston Churchill said: "Dictators ride to and fro upon tigers which they dare not dismount. And the tigers are getting hungry."

Christmas Cheer From De Gaulle, LBJ

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Bill Dana, alias Jose Jimenez, probably is the only star in the country to receive Christmas greetings from both General Charles de Gaulle and President Lyndon Johnson.

The greetings of these world leaders were in response to Dana's own Christmas card which read:

"Dear close friend and/or total stranger, it has come to my attention that it is good to give. As a matter of fact it has been further revealed that it is BETTER to give than to receive."

"Since I feel very deeply about this and want to make your holiday season a happier one—send something nice to me—Bill Dana."

De Gaulle responded with a card reading: "With sincere best wishes for a happy 1965." President Johnson and Lady Bird signed a card that read: "Thank you for your holiday greeting and best wishes for happiness in the new year."

Dana dispatched some 300 cards; but not everyone replied. For instance, he is still waiting to hear from millionaires J. Paul Gety and Clin Murchison as well as the famed jewelers, Tiffany and Co. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller also failed to respond.

The royal family of England evidently dismissed Dana altogether.

"I heard from De Gaulle but not Queen Elizabeth," Dana said ruefully. "No wonder England isn't in the Common Market."

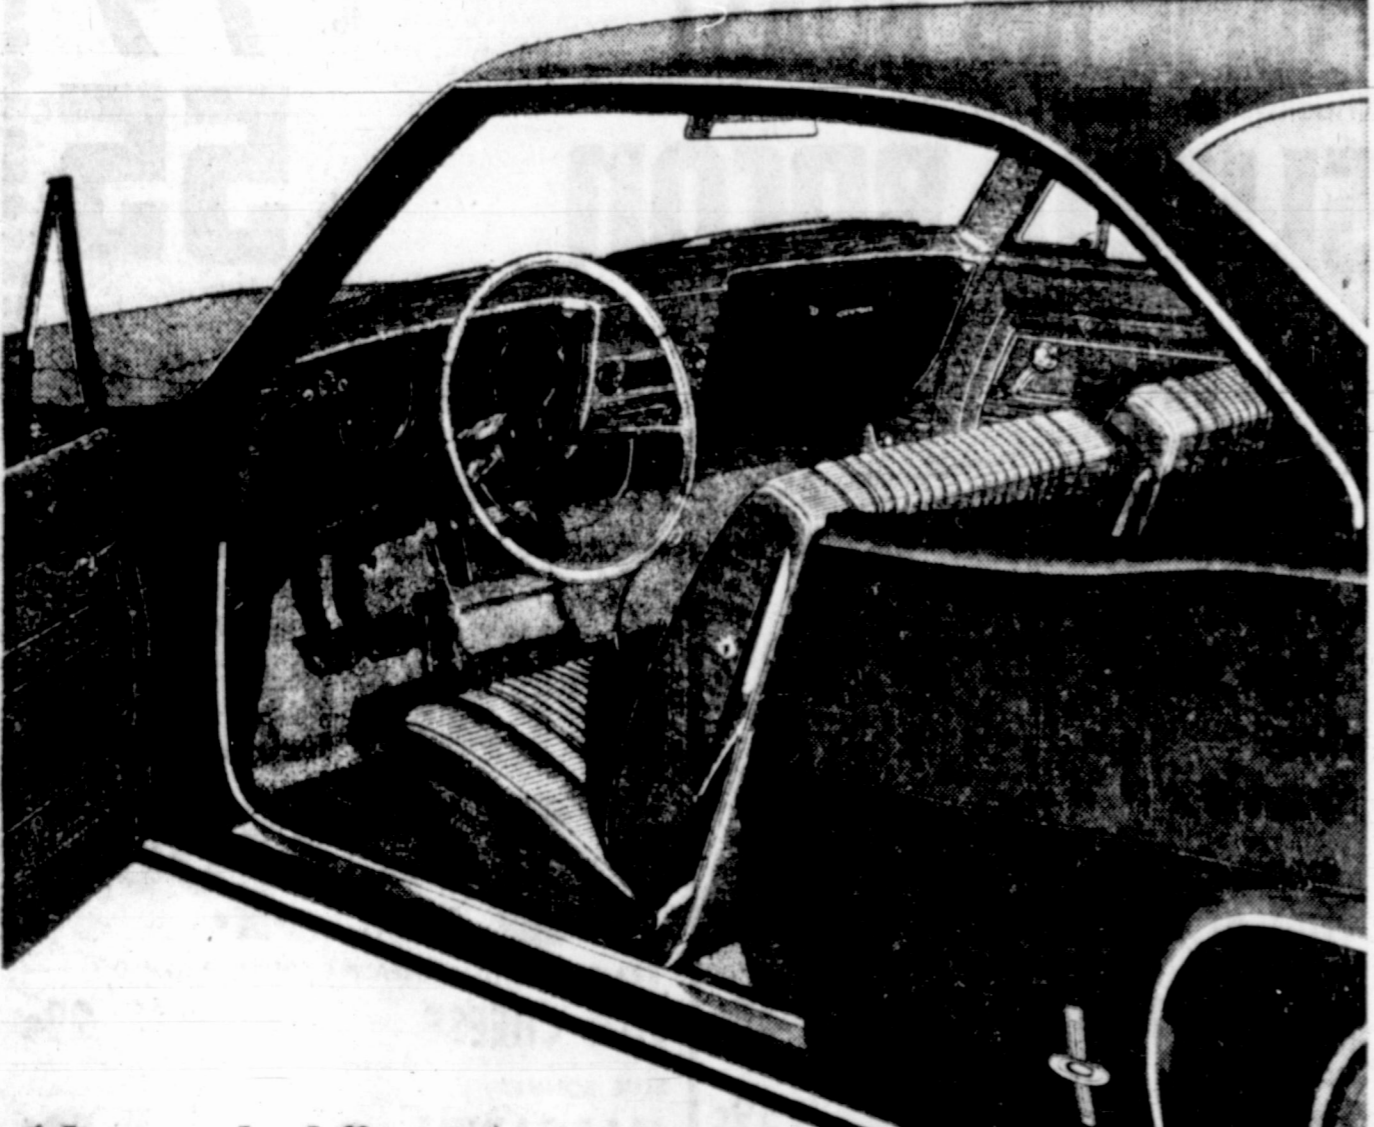

Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton did not return the comedian's greeting, nor did King Farouk.

"I sent a card to Khrushchev," Dana said, "but it may take six months or more to hear from him. I mailed a card to Judge Crater in New York but it came back stamped 'Address unknown.'"

Someone in Boston sent him a gift certificate good for one meal at an Italian restaurant and gave the location of the Andrea Doria.

'65 Corvair

by Chevrolet

(discover the difference)
More room for getting in
More power for getting away

Corvair for '65 is wider across the shoulders. And the increased entrance height makes it all easier to get at.

So ease yourself into the cockpit of a new Corvair. Scan the instrument cluster—tachometer, trip odometer, pressure and temperature gauges. Watch what happens when you hook it all up to a standard 140-hp Turbo-Air Six.

For more powerful fun, order the 180-hp version. Turbo-Chaargaard!

Put that on top of Corvair's improved 4-wheel independent suspension and a wider front and rear wheel tread and you'll enjoy the kind of ride some sport cars charge you up to $6,000 more to get.

Come on in and test drive a '65 Corvair. We bet you'll begin to think that the car you're now driving will never give you any satisfaction again.

But you'll be wrong. You'll be more than satisfied with the liberal trade-in allowance we'll give you for it.

Reckoning Near For U.S. in Viet

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The hour of reckoning for the United States in South Viet Nam is drawing nearer.

The overthrow of the Tran Van Huong government almost certainly means that neutralist pressures will be increased for a negotiated settlement of the conflict, led by Buddhist monks who have shown increasing hostility to U.S. policies.

The fact Gen. Nguyen Khanh chose for the moment of his coup a time when U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was out of the country is evidence that he anticipated strong U.S. opposition to this, the sixth change of government in Saigon in the last 15 months.

U.S. Supported Huong
The United States had given strong support to the Huong government and last December forced dissident army generals to abandon an attempt to restore themselves to political power over the civilian government.

For months Buddhist opposition to the United States has been mounting, climaxed this week in demonstrations demanding the overthrow of Huong and the ouster of Taylor as U.S. ambassador.

At the same time, Khanh, who held power for seven months after Jan. 30, 1964, has been courting Buddhist favor.

Despite Khanh's public calls to carry the war to the north against Communist North Viet Nam, the suspicion has been growing among many Americans in Saigon that he might be willing to carry his alliance with the Buddhists to the point of seeking a truce with the Viet Cong.

Buddhist Leaders Fasted
As for the Buddhists, two of their most influential leaders were among the five who declared a fast to the death if Huong were not removed. They are Thich Tam Chau and Thich Tri Quang.

EXTENDS VISIT

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio has extended his visit to Communist China for 10 days, the newspaper of the Nationalist Party (PNI) said today. Subandrio and his 30-man party had been scheduled to return to Jakarta Wednesday. The foreign minister is discussing military and economic assistance with Communist Chinese officials.

ZENITH EXPANDS

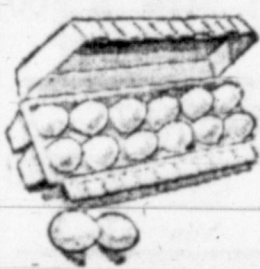

CHICAGO (UPI)—Zenith has been granted a Radio Corp. announcement that the expansion of its color television tube plant here will nearly double capacity. President Joseph S. More Male Teachers Needed in Elementary Grades

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Are girls brighter than boys? They seem to have fewer adjustment and learning problems in school. There have been some indications that girls mature faster than boys.

Do our schools emphasize this and, perhaps, in some ways even cause the difference?

The beginning grades in schools throughout the nation are in many ways female oriented. Elementary schools are overwhelmingly staffed by women. The few men are concentrated above the fourth grade level and in the special areas such as art, music, or physical education. Obviously, much of the instruction and activities will reflect the female viewpoint.

Need Male Teachers

Yes, there is a need for more male teachers to be involved in the elementary schools. The young child is not only exposed to women in the school but the same situation exists in the home. Fathers are generally working during most of the child's day thus leaving most of the time to mothers.

There is no intention to criticize mothers but they are always women. A boy's interests are more directly shared with men. Fathers can share their sons' enthusiasm for certain sports, space age projects, and books.

What about maturity? It would be interesting to take a careful look at why girls tend to date boys who are a year or more older. The same tends to be true of marriage partners. One answer might be that girls grow up faster than boys. There are also some other indications that society and tradition foster this situation.

Educationally and socially there may be some cause for concern. If a boy's home and school programs are not geared to his needs, there is good reason to believe that his development will be hampered.

There are other problems which may result. Actual research shows that girls seem to excel in certain areas while boys excel in others. These differences should be accounted for in the program. It is likely that boys would have an advantage if science and arithmetic were emphasized but women teachers tend not to emphasize these areas because of their own ability and interests.

Girls tend to receive higher classroom grades than boys. Girls do better on tests until the later teen years when boys take over the leadership. Many causes are possible. Perhaps the emphasis on testing changes to the areas of science and math.

The classroom grades normally reflect behavior as well as achievement. This places boys at a disadvantage for two reasons. First, a female teacher is more likely to consider a girl's behavior acceptable since it more closely resembles her own. Second, if the program lacks interest for boys, they are more likely to seek other activities which do interest them and could be considered misbehavior.

The entire area of sex differences in the education program should be thoroughly investigated. In the interim, the implication is for boys to have as much male companionship as is possible.

Highlights From Winnies Career

By United Press International

Sir Winston Churchill composed half a dozen careers into his life, from novelist and painter to soldier and politician. Here are some of the highlights:

1908—Married Clementine Ho-zier, daughter of a British colonel and granddaughter of the seventh earl of Arlie. "I married and lived happily ever after," he once wrote.

1911—Became First Lord of the Admiralty, mobilizing the fleet for action—before the outbreak of war in 1914. But blamed for the naval disaster in the Dardanelles a year later, he resigned and went to France as an infantry officer.

1917—Returned to become a minister of munitions. Held several other government posts, including the chancellorship of the Exchequer, in the 1920's. In the 1930's, however, he split with the government over its attempts to appease Hitler.

1937—Sided with King Edward VIII in the crisis over his marriage to American divorcee Mrs. Wallis Simpson. When the King was forced to abdicate, Churchill helped write his final speech.

1939—Despite his opposition to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, he agreed to become First Lord of the Admiralty again when war broke out.

1940—Chamberlain resigned as the Nazi armies swept into France and Churchill became head of a coalition government in May. "I have nothing to offer you but blood, toil, tears and sweat," he told Parliament. With the menace of Nazi invasion facing Britain, he pledged to the nation: "We shall fight in the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills. We shall never surrender."

1941—First wartime meeting between Churchill and former President Roosevelt aboard the Royal Navy battleship Prince of Wales and the USS Augusta.

1945—While Churchill met with Soviet dictator Josef Stalin and former President Truman at Potsdam for a German settlement after the defeat of Hitler, his Conservatives were defeated at the polls by the Labor party. Churchill turned over the premiership to Clement Attlee and called the election outcome "damned ingratitude."

1946—Churchill remained active in the opposition in Parliament, warning of the Communist danger in Europe. His speech at Fulton, Mo., gave the world the term "Iron Curtain."

1951—Won back the premiership in general elections defeating the Laborites, a victory he had called "the last prize" of his political career.

1953—Queen Elizabeth named Churchill a knight of the garter, the nation's oldest and highest order of chivalry. He could have had a dukedom but preferred to remain a commoner so he could stay in the House of Commons.

1953—His six-volume history, "The Second World War," won the Nobel Prize for Literature.

1955—Retired as prime minister, disclosing he had suffered a paralyzing stroke two years earlier. He devoted his time to writing, painting and his seat in the House of Commons.

Texas Demo Chairman Takes Appointment

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Democratic chairman Marvin Watson has accepted a White House appointment from President Johnson and will join the president's outer office staff next week.

But Watson has not resigned and will not resign at any date in the near future his chairmanship of the Texas Democratic party, according to State Democratic Executive Committee officials.

The 40-year-old Lone Star Steel executive was believed to be en route from Austin to his home in Daingerfield, in East Texas, by car today and could not be reached for comment.

J. Pat O'Keffe, executive secretary of the state Democratic party, confirmed Watson's acceptance of the White House position but denied a news report that Watson resigned his chairmanship in a meeting with Gov. John Connally Tuesday night.

"He has said nothing to indicate he will resign," O'Keffe said. "We do not expect it and I have absolutely no knowledge of such a resignation. Certainly we would be informed of one."

O'Keffe added that there is "nothing inconsistent with Watson's holding a position in Washington and a position as chairman of this party." He said Watson will hold the dual roles "for weeks, or maybe months."

Reliable sources said Watson would join Johnson's staff at a salary of $28,500 annually, taking a position in the outer office of the White House. He is expected to resign his job as a vice president of Lone Star steel.

Watson will remain in Texas during the week, O'Keffe said, but will fly to Washington early next week.

Teens Answers Vary on Subjects of Drinking

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of five dispatches of teen-age drinking.

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's teenagers have 23 million opinions on the subject of adolescents drinking beer and whisky — each teenager being whisky — each teenager being entitled to his own.

Some have flip answers. Sample: "The only way to learn to drink is practice. The more you practice, the better off you are."

For purposes of this report, United Press International skipped the flip subjects and collected opinions from teenagers who are leaders — heads and members of student councils, editors of school papers.

"Any teenager in the city can get liquor whenever he wants it," reported Jacki Sharkey, editor of the Catalina High School paper, Tucson, Ariz.

But Charlotte Ackerly, editor of the Palo Verde High School paper, also in Tucson, said very few of the students drink, fewer are delinquents, and most are responsible persons.

David Bristol, president of the student council at John Harris High School in Harrisburg, Pa., blamed the home, saying:

"I think it would have to stem from the home. If it is to be stopped, it has to be stopped there. There has to be more parental supervision and strengthening of the moral fiber at home."

Student leaders in San Francisco said liquor is obtainable — and easily. The youngsters go to the grocer and say they want liquor for their parents. They get it. If the folks won't let them drink at home, they drink in cars.

Suzie Miller, first vice president of the student council at George Washington High School, San Francisco, said many student leaders feel teen-age drinking is part of growing-up for boys.

"The boys who don't go out and get really drunk at least once usually are the ones who would be better off if they did."

No Drinking Drivers
Colin McRea, yell-leader for the school, said fellow students are careful to stay away from cars when attending drinking parties. If a car is needed, the driver does not drink.

He favors stiffer legal sentences for minors caught drinking while driving. "We should do like Sweden, where the penalty for drunken driving is a permanently suspended license and a big fine," he said.

Bill Bronner, president of New Trier High School student council at Winnetka, Ill., said only 100 out of 1,200 students drink and mostly at private parties.

"At a party, a person sees his friends drinking, and he wants to try it," he said. "He feels if he doesn't, he will be out of the group. It's also for the fun of it. A person wants to try it once."

A school code of ethics at New Trier stated that a student would not drink. It has been changed. Now the responsibility for drinking is placed on the individual.

Kit Peuter, class officer at Shawnee-Mission, Kan., North High School, said some drink because they feel — "we're big now and we can if we want to."

Few Problem Drinkers
Michael Cole, president of student council at Hall High School in West Hartford, Conn., said 65 to 85 per cent of the senior boys drink but the problem drinkers — 15 per cent — are the drop-out types who would be in trouble one way or another.

"Teenagers drink because it's part of generally loose morality," said Dick Zimmerman, vice president of the senior class at Sacramento High School in California. "A solution at teen-age gatherings outside school would be for parents to take a more active role."

Rick Block, speaker of the house of student council at Roosevelt High in Seattle, Wash., said rebellion and insecurity probably are the major reasons for drinking and those doing the most drinking aren't particularly good students or do they participate in activities.

Danny Hoover, student body president at John Francis Polytechnic High School in Los Angeles, discussed the drinking problem with the council and then made these points:

—Drinking is increasing partially because teen-agers have more money and liquor is easier to get.

—Parents should be more aware of where their children are and what they are doing. Liquor store owners should be more careful in selling.

—Some parents set a bad example. Study the adults and find out why they have drinking parties. You may find out why teen-agers drink. A lot of times — parents force children into social circumstances they are not ready for — like making them take dancing lessons.

Plan Youth Center

In Darien, Conn., Sue Coyne and Rufus Millet, speak for students who are setting up a youth recreation center — one aftermath of the death last June of Nancy Hitchings, 17, after a party where liquor was served.

They maintain that drinking is a problem because of its after-effects and also because alcohol is a "forbidden fruit," tempting curious teen-agers. In addition, there are group pressures to drink. The decision to drink or not to drink is made by the individual and an influence in that is the personality — formed by home, school, church, community.

In many communities, teen-agers take a stand on drinking by developing a code that covers conduct.

A code adopted in '61 by student councils of schools, public and private, in Mt. Lebanon, Pa., rules against drinking. The teen-agers developed the code with a minimum of adult influence. It is called — "We agree."

A code in Atlanta, Ga., states that no beer or alcohol in any form should be brought to parties, including graduation parties.

The nation's capital is the latest city to adopt a code. The Washington, D.C., code, for 17 private schools, bans alcoholic beverages at parties, noting:

"No one has the moral right to serve an alcoholic beverage to other people's children. The adult who does so is directly responsible for any of the serious consequences which may result."

Nat's Condition Good; He'll Sing

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Singer Nat King Cole's post-operative condition was "very good" and there is "no reason why he won't be able to sing again," according to his surgeon. The 45-year-old singer underwent a three-hour operation Monday for removal of his cancerous left lung.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oppenheimer, Newborg & Neu believes there is a good chance the present upward move has not exhausted itself but advocates selling on further strength for accounts that are heavily committed.

Analyst James Dines advises investors to stand pat but believes traders should lighten up. He says late February should provide some attractive buying opportunities and adds that both investors and traders should accumulate some cash reserves for exploitation.

The International Statistical Bureau says the market will be supported in the coming weeks by continued favorable earnings reports for 1964, further gains in the economy and legislation favorable to securities.

NEW YORK (UPI) — J. W. Sparks & Co. says the recording of a new peak in the Dow-Jones industrial average suggests that the market may now be on the threshold of a new and more dynamic advance.

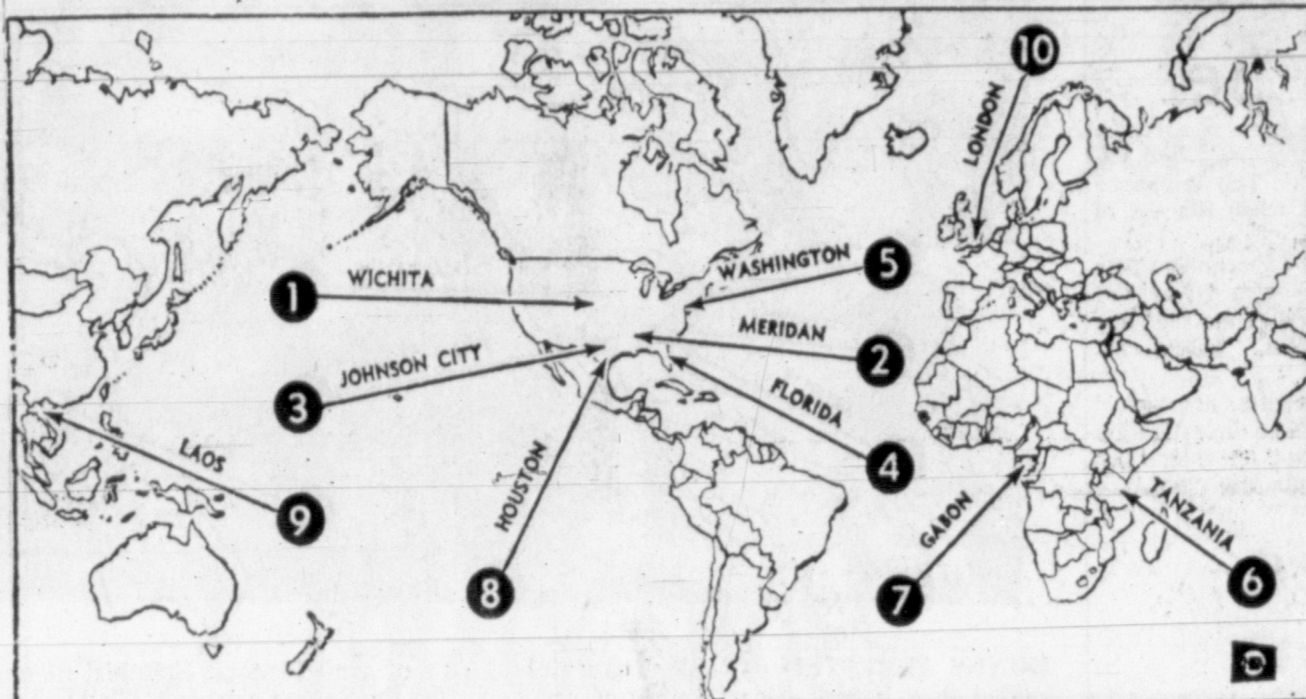

The firm says that while it seems quite possible that a consolidation or even a slight decline might occur, it would merely represent a needed respite for the current bullish surge.

Thomson & McKinnon expects little change in the current investor demand for issues of major companies with the strength and ability to adjust to changing circumstances.

Standard & Poor's says the current economic prospects suggest higher prices in due course.

65 State Highway Maps Due Out Soon

AUSTIN (Sp) — The 1965 edition of the Official State Highway Map of Texas, now rolling off multicolor presses for free distribution worldwide, makes new use of an old notion: A straight line is the shortest distance between two points.

The Texas Highway Department has this axiom to grind in its concept of shortline mileage computations appearing on the popular map for the first time this year. Mileages shown but warns that the emphasis on fundamentals is essential in any new purchases at this stage.

Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co., Inc., believes continuing favorable technical background, plus the impressive manner in which the market absorbed profit-taking last week suggests that the new year advance still has further to go.

in the map's mileage chart will indicate the shortest distance between all principal cities in the State. Some of these short-line routes may include partial travel over Farm to Market roads.

While this innovation will have little significance for most cross-country travelers, it should be easily helpful in compiling shortline mileages for official purposes.

Also new on this year's map face: A welcome message in Spanish for Latin American visitors, and a simplified table whereby they may easily convert miles to kilometers, gallons to liters.

Eighteen brilliant photographs depict Texas in living color and Scene-orama in the 1965 version of the Texas Highway Department's most popular publication.

Last year 764,000 copies of the map found their way to auto glove compartments — and homes of potential tourists — from Bangor to Bangkok. The Highway Department forecasts a circulation just as high or

King Honored By Atlantans

ATLANTA (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. lived Wednesday night through an unforgettable public tribute, then told white and Negro leaders he must return to "the valley of agonies, dangers and frustrating moments" on the integration front.

King was honored at a banquet Peace Prize. Except for a minor two-man demonstration that marred King's entry with his family into a plush downtown hotel, there was nothing to blemish the historic event.

Free copies of the 1965 Official State Highway Map of Texas may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, Austin, Texas, 78701.

Or Texans buying 1965 auto tags between Feb. 1 and April 15 may wish to order their map at the same time. Each Texas county tax assessor-collector's office supplies free postcards for convenient ordering.

AT FIRST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pan American World Airways has reported the first aircraft-to-ground radio message to travel via satellite.

Pan Am announced here Wednesday that one of its jet Clippers, en route from San Francisco to Honolulu, sent and received messages through Syncom III, which is in stationary orbit over the Gilbert Islands.

CULTURAL TALKS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. and Soviet officials begin talks today to review progress of the cultural exchange program between the two countries.

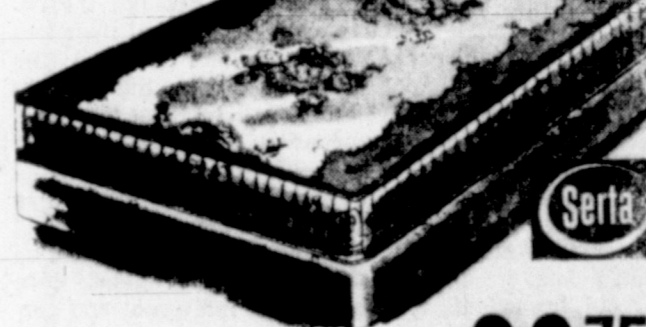

The talks are provided for under an agreement signed last February for a two-year period. Frank G. Siscoe, director of the State Department's Soviet and Eastern European exchanges staff, and Boris Krylov, chairman of the American section of the Soviet Committee for Cultural Relations, will participate.

President Sets Trend, Colds The Thing for Really 'in' Set

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It has frequently been pointed out that the influence of a U.S. president extends far beyond his official powers as Chief Executive.

This was never more evident than during the past few days when President Johnson was being treated at Bethesda Naval Hospital for what was apparently a virus infection.

All over town, people with sniffles, sneezes, coughs and wheezes were proudly identifying with the President. In other words, the common cold was "in."

But a runny nose, clogged sinus passages or other miseries associated with the upper respiratory tract were not by themselves at the height of fashion.

To be really "in," it had to be a common cold with tracheal and bronchial irritation. This started me to thinking that now might be as good a time as any to review some of the "ins" and "outs" that have come about since Johnson took office.

We are all aware, of course, that ballroom dancing is "in." For the younger set, such dances as the "Watusi" and the "Frog" also are "in," but tap dancing, except in the case of the junior senator from California, is "out."

Business suits and dinner jackets are "in." White ties and tails are "out." Western hats are "in," but only when in Texas, which is definitely "in" at all times. Arizona, on the other hand, is "out."

Contact lenses are "in." Eyeglasses with heavy black frames are "out," particularly when the lenses are out, too.

Impromptu meetings with reporters are "in." Formal news conferences are "out." Cousins are "in." Cousins named Oriole are "in." Barbaree is "in" and Southwest Texas State College is "in." Military reserve officers in Congress are "out."

Long brisk walks are "out," but strolling, with stops to shake hands with tourists, is "in." Indoor swimming is "in."

Perle Mesta, who used to be "in," but was "out" for a few years, is back "in" again. May Craig is "in" more than ever. Sarah McClendon is "in" most of the time and will usually find a way to get "in" even when she's "out."

Vaporizers are "in." Red pajamas are "in." The telephone is "in" except when it's out of order.

The Mormon Tabernacle Choir and the Pedernales River are both "in." Beagles and teen-age daughters are "in." Filing cabinets are "out."

Hi-fi sets, as gifts, are "out." The Bobby Baker investigation is more off and on than "in" or "out." Lights are "out."

Highlights Tell Economic Story

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Highlights of President Johnson's economic report to Congress.

Outlook
The state of the economy is excellent with the coming year promising "uninterrupted and vigorous expansion." Such perennial problems as employment, and prices are not fully mastered but "we are well on our way to their solution."

Jobs and Output
About 1.5 million new jobs opened up in the past year and the unemployment rate fell from 5.7 per cent to 5.2 per cent. A further drop in the jobless rate is expected in 1965 but the decline could be offset if the gross national product showed no greater gain than the $38 billion increase forecast for 1965, same as in 1964.

Income
Personal income rose to a national average of $2,228 and corporate taxes hit $32 billion last year. Further gains were seen in both individual and corporate income this year.

Prices and Spending
The cost of living showed a 1.2 per cent increase but price stability was maintained generally during the year and is expected to continue in 1965. "Consumers' confidence is strong."

Taxes
Last year's income tax cut did the job it was supposed to do in keeping the economy moving, and proposed reduction or elimination of $1.75 billion in excise taxes is expected to help further this year. If the economy begins to weaken additional remedies will be proposed.

The Dollar
The confidence of the world in the stability of the dollar must be maintained, which means holding the $35 an ounce value for gold. As a move toward greater flexibility in maintaining the dollar, the law requiring 25 per cent gold "cover" for Federal Reserve deposits should be repealed.

Recession and Inflation
Congress should create the machinery to act quickly to cut taxes if a recession threatens, although recessions are not considered inevitable. But it is vital to be on guard against a spiral in price and wages that could bring on inflation.

Welfare
Congress was urged to approve a hospital insurance program for the elderly under the Social Security system, along with a 7 per cent increase in Social Security benefits and higher public assistance payments to needy, aged and disabled.

MONKS ARRESTED — Under the watchful eyes of armed troops, Buddhist monks are loaded into trucks after they were rounded up in the Saigon suburb of Gia Dinh, South Viet Nam. Fire Destroys 35 Horses in Oklahoma PAWHUSKA, Okla. (UPI)—Thirty-five racing horses valued at $200,000 died Wednesday in a fire that destroyed a barn at the Osage County fairgrounds near Pawhuska. Many of the animals were proven money winners, valued up to $20,000 each. Most of them were owned by Nebraska residents who had stored them at the fairgrounds between racing meets.

Highlights From Business World

By United Press International
WASHINGTON: President Johnson will ask Congress to put an end to the requirements for a 25 per cent gold reserve on Federal Reserve Bank deposits.

NEW YORK: Profits of U.S. Steel Corp. rose 18 per cent last year, falling short of the gains of most other steel companies reporting so far. Fourth quarter profits, however, were up 33 per cent. Chairman Roger M. Blough said the No. 1 steelmaker has no plans to make increases.

CHICAGO: A U.S. district court judge found in favor of Zenith Radio Corp. in a $48 million anti-trust counter claim against Hazeltine Corp., a New York patent-holding electronics firm. Judge Richard B. Austin said Zenith had been damaged in the amount of $16 million by exclusion from Canadian, English and Australian markets. Zenith could get treble damages.

Humphrey Relieved He's Spared the Flu

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey expressed relief Wednesday that he had been spared the "executive flu" which hospitalized President Johnson.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
When West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard journeyed to Paris to meet with President Charles de Gaulle many expected fireworks.
Instead, the meeting proved so peaceful that speculation arose whether De Gaulle suddenly had gone soft.
"I can say," reported Erhard at the conclusion of the two-day meeting that "positive results were achieved in numerous very important fields... our opinions agreed."
Between the two there remained plenty of areas of disagreement, but, on assessment of the results, it appeared that De Gaulle merely had bided his time on the theory that there was plenty of it.
The nub of their disagreement is De Gaulle's determination to eliminate United States influence on the continent and West Germany's determination to maintain its close U.S. ties, including continuing dependence on the U.S. nuclear umbrella for its defense.
Seeks Nuclear Voice
Related to it is the West German desire for a voice in nuclear defenses and thus its support of the U.S. - proposed mixed manned nuclear fleet for NATO.
De Gaulle, on the other hand, would have Europe depend on his own infant nuclear arsenal but would refuse the Germans any voice in it.
Insistence by either side on maintaining a fixed position could well have proved the end of the French-German accord which already has been under considerable strain.
Instead, the subject barely came up.
On his side, De Gaulle agreed to two points dear to Erhard's heart.
One was another try at German reunification, and the other renewed moves toward European political unity.
But the final opinion was that De Gaulle did not give up much of anything.
Reunification Inevitable
De Gaulle is said to believe that economic and cultural factors, plus gradual independence of the Communist satellites from Moscow make German reunification inevitable. But he does not believe that now is the time.
However, he sees no harm in talking about it and so he agreed to a meeting of U. S., French, British and West German foreign ministers to consider an approach to the Soviets.
Similarly, while De Gaulle utterly opposes any surrender of French sovereignty to a politically united Europe, he does not mind talking about that either. He believes that in 1965 at least, talk is all that will occur.
Time On His Side
It is probable he also believes that time is on his side on the question of the mixed manned nuclear force. A British proposal which would drastically alter the U.S. plan has so muddied the waters that it is possible neither ever will be enacted.
But for Erhard there were positive gains.
He had reiterated and re-established that Germany retained freedom of action. He had appeased former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's wing of the Christian Democratic party which had accused him of wrecking the Paris - Bonn accord.
Both would work in his favor in German elections next summer against the German Socialists, a victory for whom would be no less displeasing to De Gaulle than to Erhard.

THE WORLD IN FOCUS

RETREAT FROM TERROR—After walking 64 miles in search of safety, a South Vietnamese family waits for a small boat which will take it nearer its destination. The family was one of many which fled the Viet Cong-held town of Bong Son.

FUNCTIONAL ABSTRACT—Though it might look like something created by a Pop artist, this bunch of reels and spools creates disposable facial tissues in Neenah, Wis. The reels blend and fold tissues along a 300-foot production line.

WAITING FOR DADDY—Ted and Kara Kennedy, children of Sen. Edward Kennedy, impatiently waited for their father to join them in Miami. With nothing else to do, the kids decided that pushing a truck might be fun.

DIVING BUDDIES—It seems that Bobby, the dog, is all set for an underwater exploration with Jacques Boissy of Monaco. The tiny submarine was built by Boissy and is capable of carrying owner and dog to the ocean floor.

SPACE OBJECT—Peering at passers-by from a New York roof is a huge tin drum. It's called "Painted Steel Standing Figure" and carries a price tag of $1,000.

CENTER OF ATTRACTION—Intermission at Los Angeles' elegant new Music Center brings patrons into the lavish lobby. The hall boasts splendid acoustics and beautiful appointments, including the glittering chandeliers.

HIGH HOPES—Ginger, a curious resident of Seattle, clambered up a ladder in an attempt to grab a light cord. It was able to switch off the lights.

A SWINGIN' CAST—Charlie Chimpanzee and Gordon Gorilla appear to chat during the filming of Hollywood's "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion."

KEYS TO SUCCESS—Baltimore pianist Leon Fleisher bends low over keyboard to control a phrase. The mannerism is traced to his late teacher, Artur Schnabel.

MR. COLLECTOR—J. Marshall English of St. Petersburg, Fla., can't collect money, but he does collect the nearest thing: moneybags. Here's his collection.

HEAVY TRAFFIC—These are a few of the hundreds of small boats which arrived in Brunei on the island of Borneo, carrying Brunei citizens from Malaysia to Brunei. The Bruneians are returning to their homeland in order to avoid possible military service in the Malaysian armed forces in the face of threats from Indonesia.

Cashmere Gains Weight and Looks Great

CASHMERE HAS NEW APPEAL — The appeal of cashmere takes on new intensity this spring with the dramatic appearance of new weights and textured surfaces. Left to right, thick, but cloud-light texture in Chanel jacket with fourply yarns. Jacket has contrasting border and is teamed with a sleeveless shell and slender skirt. It is a Bernhard Altmann creation. Wide-ribbed, handloomed sheer delicacy it reigned supreme. Even in Queen Victoria's era the most prized fashion was a cashmere shawl so fine it could be drawn through a ring. This year cashmere emerges in new textures and depths, its former weight multiplied from two to eight times. And the change from the traditional cashmere to a new firm-bodied look is an exciting one. Technically, the new cashmires are called "multiply" knits.

But you don't need a label to help you see the difference. This added dimension has made it possible for designers to create unusual styles in cashmere in such patterns as popcorn stitches, deep ribs, transparent meshwork and even ruffles and flares. Among the favorites are tailored knitted jackets with hefty richness, pullovers with flaring ruffles at hem, neck or sleeves and tri-striped costumes in vivid colors.

Cashmere, though synonymous with luxury, has practically as well as beauty. It is durable, lightweight, can be worn through all seasons and it does not shrink. You can dry clean it if you prefer, but it can be washed and will spring back to its original shape and softness. It has always been beautiful and now, in its new dimension, it is more so than ever before in its centuries-long fashion-history.

Cashmere pullover by Hadley, has cowl neck and lanky lines. Blueberry stitch jacket closes with a parade of golden ball buttons and is matched with a fully lined skirt. Sleeveless bateau-necked shift has optional tie belt and is topped with a bulky jacket with collar. These are cashmere co-ordinates by Deloux.

GS Troop Two
Troop 26 took advantage of the mid-term holidays by having a slumber party in the home of their leader, Mrs. Richard Stowers.

All members attended Patrol 1 prepared and served dinner for Patrol 2. This was done for a requirement toward the Hospitality Badge. Patrol 1 consists of Vanessa Arthur, Susie Stowers, Julie Johnson, Mimi Miller, Trudy Hunter, and Susan Ycazey. Later in the evening decorations were made for the Council banquet. The next morning, Patrol 2, which contains Becky Linsley, Rebecca Secrest, Sherry Jones, Vicki Wright, Dana Dailey and Bonnie Frazer, prepared and served breakfast. All had a good time and went home at noon to get some sleep.

Troop One recently spent an overnight in the Girl Scout Little House. There was a Court of Awards in which each girl received the Cooking and Hospitality badges and others.

Troop 14 started the Red Cross First Aid Course recently.

Troop 92 had a cake sale Friday in the Hughes Building. Brownies and cookies were sold. The money earned will go toward a train trip to Canyon this spring.

Troop 80 has been making curtains for Camp Mel Davis and cleaned up the camp kitchen.

Dear Abby... Search Is on for Under 51 Great-Grandmother

DEAR ABBY: If things go well, I will become a great-grandmother before I reach my 51st birthday. Thinking this might be a record, I am trying to find out the age of the youngest great-grandmother. So far I've had no luck. Because your column is so widely read, if you'd be kind enough to print my letter, perhaps you could help me get this information. I would be most grateful. Thank you.

DOROTHY S. IN COEUR D'ALENE, IDAHO

DEAR DOROTHY: The search is on! Anyone out there knowing of a great-grandmother who achieved that status before her 51st birthday, please contact this column.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, now past 70, has almost 100 descendants, but she repeatedly tells me that she will be "alone" on special holidays. My husband says, "Let's take her with us." When my husband and I go out together, we enjoy each other's company. When we take Mamma, he treks off for the entire evening and I am left alone to entertain my mother. I invariably become angry, and by bedtime I am not speaking to my husband. What do I do? Leave my mother alone and be angry with myself? Take her along and be angry at my husband? Or stay home and be angry with everybody?

SOUTHWICK, MASS.

DEAR SOUTHWICK: Next time your husband suggests taking your mother along, ask him if he intends to help entertain her. If he refuses, and you can't leave your mother home alone on special holidays without feeling guilty, then say home with her. And you don't have to be angry at anybody.

DEAR ABBY: My parents won't let me have a snake. We have a few books on snakes, and I know quite a lot about them. The name of the snake I want is the Rosy Boa. It is about three feet long and is something like a boa constrictor. It is one of the smallest of the tropical snakes, and it makes a fine pet. I have been wanting one for about two years now, and I can't understand why my parents won't let me have one. Please help me.

WANTS A ROSY BOA

DEAR WANTS: Perhaps it all started in the Garden of Eden, but the most vilified of all creatures is the snake. I have heard that they make "nice" pets, but I am willing to take anyone's word for it. Perhaps the reason

St. Jo's Coach Takes 200 Wins

By LEONARD A. GRANATO
UPI Sports Writer

Victory is always sweet to a basketball coach, but to Jack Ramsay, mentor of fourth-ranked St. Joseph's, Wednesday night's 117-89 conquest of Centenary College was the frosting on the cake.

The victory at Philadelphia was Ramsay's 200th. And the Hawks pulled all the stops to give it to him, bettering by two points their previous high scoring mark.

Sophomore Cliff Anderson led St. Joseph's with 27 points and pulled down 20 rebounds. But scoring honors for the game went to Centenary's Tom Kerwin, who put 30 points through the nets.

It was the sixth consecutive victory for the Hawks, who have won 16 and lost only one. St. Joseph's rolled to a 57-33 halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way as Ramsay began substituting early in the second half.

Come From Behind
John Ritch's three hook shots in the closing minutes put Army into the lead and enabled the Cadets to beat Hofstra 59-57 at West Point.

Ritch led the Army scoring with 22 points, followed by Mike Silliman, who delivered four key points in the final minute, with 21.

Steve Nisenon of Hofstra led all scorers with 34 points, 28 of them in the second half. At one point he bucketed 12 straight points to put the Flying Dutchmen into a temporary lead, 47-45.

The University of Connecticut, led by Wes Bialosuknia's 18 points, swept to a 71-60 victory over Temple at Storrs, Conn. The Huskies led throughout the game, firing a hot 52 per cent from the field in the first half.

Connecticut Captain Toby Kimball added 15 points and grabbed 20 of his team's 32 rebounds. Ken Morgan led the Owls with 15 points.

Xavier came from behind, sparked by Bryan Williams' 16 second-half points, to overtake Loyola of California and win 72-63 at Cincinnati. Williams led Musketeer scoring with 25 points, followed by reserve Jim Hengebold with 17 points.

Burns High Man
Game scoring honors went to Loyola's Bob Burns, who netted 27.

Xavier was down 31-29 at the half and didn't catch up until the score was 48-48 with 9:28 left in the game. With the score tied at 52, the Musketeers outscored the Lions 11-1 in the next three minutes and put the game out of reach.

On a double bill with the St. Joseph's-Centenary game at Philadelphia, Villanova pumpeled Penn 75-46. Penn was unbelievably cold in the first half, making only seven of 42 field goal attempts for a 16.6 percentage.

Jim Washington scored 21 points to pace Villanova and Stan Pavlak's 21 points output was high for Penn.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International
The Texas Longhorns had a Tiger by the tail for 20 minutes Wednesday night and didn't know what to do with it.

Trinity's Tigers, winner only once this season, kept pace with Texas during the entire first half, and knotted the game 41-41 when the intermission came.

But the key to Trinity's success, Pete Ranucci, found two Longhorns following every step he took in the second period and the result came in an 82-68 victory package for Texas.

The supposedly easy non-conference affair for Texas almost turned into a nightmare. Ranucci tossed in 19 points during the first half. But eight minutes went by in the final stanza before the Tigers got a field goal, and it was all over.

It was Trinity's 13th loss of the year. The win ran Texas' record to 7-6. Larry Franks paced the Longhorns, with 24 points. He hit 10 of 13 attempts from the field.

Rodriguez Defending Lucky International

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez, nursing an ailing hand, set out today to defend his Lucky International golf title against a field that includes such top flight pros as Bill Casper and Tony Lema.

The peppery Puerto Rican, making his first start this year, played his practice rounds with his left thumb strapped in a leather contraption. He injured it last year in a tournament in Los Vegas but insists that although he can't hit the ball as long as he used to he still can compete with the rest of the pros.

When Rodriguez finished his round in the pro-amateur tune-up Wednesday, he was called into a meeting by PGA tournament director Jack Tuthill. Tuthill wanted to find out if the leather gadget Rodriguez wears while playing was an "artificial aid" and should disqualify him from tournament play.

Says Device Ok
Tuthill finally ruled the device was a "medical aid" and permitted him to wear it.

"Actually, he's at a disadvantage playing with it, not an advantage," Tuthill said.

Both Lema and Casper were among the top five money winners in 1964 and are about due for a victory on the winter swing. Casper has finished no worse than ninth in his last 17 starts and is off his third place tie in last week's Big Crosby tournament.

Lema, who grew up in the San Francisco Bay area and knows every foot of Harding Park's 6,722 yards, finished a strong second to Australian Bruce Crampton in the Crosby and is due for a jackpot.

Greens Are Rough
However, the bumpy greens at Harding gave the pros fits Wednesday in the pro-amateur warmup before the start of tournament play.

Lema took 78 blows on the par 71 course, Rodriguez turned in a one-over 72 and Casper matched par figures. The only round in the 60's turned in by the 144 pros in the pro-am was a 69 by Doug Sanders — one of the best putters on the circuit.

Darrell Blasts Sauer's Signing

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—University of Texas end George Sauer, Jr. indicated Tuesday he would pass up a final year of collegiate gridiron glory for cash with the New York Jets of the American Football League.

His coach, Darrell Royal, said he would not let Sauer go. The rangy end was drafted by the Jets as a future choice, but has not been signed. His father is director of player personnel for the American Football League team.

Sauer said he told Royal Wednesday he would join the Jets if they will sign him. He said he has checked out of the Texas athletic dorm and moved into a private apartment during mid-term.

Later in the day, Sauer said he would sign with the Jets at his Waco, Tex. home by the end of the week.

Royal said he would do his best to keep Sauer from leaving the school for a pro football career.

"The boy has eligibility left and he has degree time left," Royal said. "He can't graduate in June. Under those conditions I am strongly opposed to the pros talking with him about signing at this time. It's highly unethical."

New York Coach Weeb Ewbank said that any decision to leave Texas for New York was "not induced by us."

"We are pursuing our policy as always," said the Jets' coach. "We drafted him as a junior and we have not offered him a contract. We will not do so unless he is definitely not going back to school."

Lefors Faculty Hosts Newsboys

LEFORS — The Lefors Faculty, vowing they are playing without ringers, will host the Pampa Newsboys, minus their aces and with a leavening of the old and ancient Newsboys crew, in a basketball game tonight at 7:30 at Lefors High School.

The game, for the benefit of the Lefors Lettermen's Club, may turn out either to be a laugh-filled extravaganza or a dead-serious basketball game, depending on whether Lefors coach "Bubbles" Golpenee is telling the truth about his team.

Screaming that "We ain't got anybody to ring," Golpenee, an "ancient" 27-year-old former junior college cager, vowed that all his players were as old and ancient as he, and begged Newsboys coach Jeff Colane to "leave Sikes (Gary) and Russell (Carroll) at home!"

"Let them get a good night's rest... at home! Just bring old people, that's all we want!" "Remember," moaned Bubbles, "we're all loaded with a full tank of gas and don't get much mileage anymore!"

Warned that one sign of ringers would bring the presence of S&R on the court, Golpenee guaranteed a return game if anything fishy went on from the Lefors side of the fence.

The probable Lefors lineup will include Bubbles, B team coach Dean "Drubbles" King, junior high coach Harley Lewis, Journalism teacher Keith "Stickyfingers" Gesler, and Math teacher Murray "Dead eye" Sioud. Bubbles admitted that former Lefors star Punkin McCool may be on the bench along with History teacher Jack "Giant" Johnston, a 43-year-old ace, but pointed out that the ancients had to have some relief.

"Not only will we not full-court press you, we can't even quarter-court press," promised the tricky Pirate chief.

However, Newsboy regular Bill the Bruiser Nichols, former Lefors cager, reported that every teacher at LHS had promised to flunk him if the Newsboys won. Nichols and coach Colane, drafted to play, will be the chief targets of the hosts, but have arranged to bring the Pirate football team as bodyguards and cheerleaders.

Although Gary Sikes will not play, younger brother Gerald "Little" Sikes, 6-2 1/2, will be present to fight the boards against Golpenee, along with Larry Daniels and Ronnie Oler. Newsboys regulars Charlie "Sleepy" Sands, the 12th draft pick of Snuggs and Rapid Ralph Meixner will guard the bench and come scheduled to fly here today for in if there is any dirty work afoot or if Lightning Coleman he will be examined by Viking Don McCool show up on the floor. Coming back from the old "Newsboys," will be Mike Velasquez and Chico "Midget" Ramirez. Pampa will round out their lineup by letting the referees play as well as whistle-tooters Cliff Daniels and Bill Oler will join the squad for this evening.

Alec Swenn, Lefors Junior High principal, will be one of the officials, with the other not yet named. Golpenee promises honest officiating, and says the refs will take a loyalty oath before going on the court.

The Newsboys were in action last night, coasting to an 85-63 win over the Pampa Vikings at Carver Junior High. The rebounding of the Sikes brothers and the post marksmanship of Russell slammed the Newsboys into a 26-12 quarter and 45-27 halftime lead, with subs playing much of the rest of the game as Bobby Price took the boards and Snuggs and Meixner joined him in the scoring.

Gary cannoned 30 points, his high for the season, Russell, playing only half the game, got 16, Gerald and Snuggs each hit 12 points. R. Dunn had 16 for the Vikings, Curtis Eastman 13.

YCC Basketball
W-B Pump coasted to a 61-34 win over the Jaycees and Richard Drug rallied over Cook O'Walk, 57-53 in last night's games.

W-B jumped to a 19-4 quarter lead and went on from there behind Ronnie Cooie's 18 points.

The nighttime squads were tied at the half, 23-23, but the Drugists lasted out the struggle, Gunner Pool and Coyie Winborne split scoring honors with 16 points each.

TO HAVE PHYSICAL
MONTECELLO, N. Y. (UPI) — George Chuvale will undergo the customary pre-fight physical today in addition to sparring three rounds in preparation for his Monday night fight with Floyd Patterson at Madison Square Garden.

Chuvale followed Tuesday's Pirate football team as bodyguards and cheerleaders. The Canadian had previously boxed 12-rounds on Monday.

FACES POSSIBLE SURGERY
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Texas end Walter (Sandy) Sands, the 12th draft pick of the Minnesota Vikings, will be scheduled to fly here today for in if there is any dirty work afoot or if Lightning Coleman he will be examined by Viking Don McCool show up on the ing physician Dr. Don Lannin.

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Floyd Patterson has two strikes against him already, meaning one more and he's out, and the way you spell that is FINISHED.

The grim, tight-lipped ex-champ needn't bother announcing his retirement should he lose this one coming up with George Chuvale next Monday night. Except for his immediate family, nobody really will care whether he ever fights again or not.

Patterson is a rather pathetic figure despite the fact he has earned more than $7-million and has held the world heavyweight title twice.

He said a long time ago he planned to quit the ring at the age of 30. He's 30 now but persistently hedges on the question of whether he'll hang up his gloves if Chuvale beats him.

Old Saying
There's an old cracker-barrel saying that if three different parties tell you're dead, lie down. Some of Floyd's best friends began hinting he had little fistic future after Sonny Liston put him away in one round in their first fight.

Everyone naturally felt Liston performed an encore during their second fiasco, and even his best friends won't bother telling Patterson anymore — in the event Chuvale knocks him off.

Patterson pictures himself as a man with a purpose.

"I want to change the public's image of me," he says solemnly.

The sad truth of the matter is that Patterson is beating a dead horse. Once a guy gets a reputation, he's stuck with it the rest of his life, particularly in the sports world.

Remembered For Boner
Fred Merkle was a stickout ballplayer in the majors (or most of his 18-year career, but people always remember him for the boner that cost the Giants the pennant when he neglected to touch second base.

Similarly, Gene Tunney was one of the great heavyweights of his day but he's still best remembered for his "long count" victory over Jack Dempsey at Chicago.

Even if Patterson goes on to win the heavyweight crown a third time, and don't hold your breath waiting, he'll inevitably be remembered as the guy Liston flattened twice inside the time it takes for two three-minute eggs.

Jinxed Sophs Sign Contracts For New Effort

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

According to baseball lore, a rookie of the year can expect to encounter the worst season of his major league career the year after he receives his honor when he runs into the celebrated "sophomore jinx."

But Tony Kubek of the New York Yankees and Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants would have to take exception to that legend.

It's true that both Kubek and McCovey slipped considerably from their freshman performance during their second year in the big leagues, but neither one of them could possibly have envisioned the nightmares that beset them during the 1964 season.

Both Kubek and McCovey spent as much time in the hospital as on the baseball field last year and their batting averages were every bit as feeble as their physical condition. But with the knowledge that things can't get much worse, they both agreed to terms for the 1965 season Wednesday.

The Yankees, also signed Mike Hegan, a rookie first baseman who replaced Kubek on the New York roster at the end of the year when the shortstop sustained a sprained wrist.

The Cincinnati Reds signed three veterans and one newcomer. The vets were shortstop Leo Cardenas, a member of the National League's All-Star team in 1964, relief pitcher Billy McCool and first baseman Gordy Coleman. Gerry Arrigo, whom the Reds obtained from the Minnesota Twins in a winter deal, also signed.

The Philadelphia Phillies added catcher Clay Dalrymple, who hit .243 last season, 19-year-old pitcher Rick Wise, who won five of eight decisions in 1964, and minor league pitcher Dick Beck.

Pitcher Eddie Fisher, who was 6-3 last season with a 3.02 ERA, and rookies Tommie Agee, Greg Bello and Duane Josephson agreed to terms with the Chicago White Sox. Agee, an outfielder, was acquired from the Cleveland Indians last week.

Walter Rogers Reports:

U.S. Military Might Supreme, Unmatched

In the fast pace of headline-catching events during Inaugural Week, many Americans may have missed the substance of President Johnson's message to Congress on the current state of our Nation's defenses.

For friend and foe alike, the message was clear: Our military forces are supreme and unparalleled and we mean to keep them that way. "I am able to report to you that the United States today is stronger militarily than at any other time in our peacetime history. . . ."

President declared. "For the past 4 years, the focus of our national effort has been upon assuring an indisputable margin of superiority for our defenses. I can report today that effort has succeeded."

In four years, Americans can note these milestones of progress — and our enemies abroad, who might be contemplating new adventures in a test of arms, also can give them sober study: Our strategic nuclear power on alert has increased threefold; our tactical nuclear power has been greatly expanded; our special forces, trained for the undeclared, twilight wars of today, have been expanded eightfold; our combat-ready Army divisions have been increased by 45 percent; our Marine Corps has been increased by 15,000 men; our airlift capacity to move these troops anywhere in the world has been doubled; our tactical Air Force firepower to support these divisions in the field has increased 100 percent.

Remember: This strength has been developed to support our basic military strategy, a strategy of strength and readiness, capable of countering aggression with appropriate force from ballistic missiles to guerrilla bands.

Supporting our defenses at this level of preparedness costs approximately half of all the money we Americans pay in taxes. But Congress and the country know that our security and continued sovereignty depend on vast military expenditures — and will for the foreseeable future. As the President said, ". . . We — and free men everywhere — have proved preparedness to be the most effective means of preserving peace."

Our defense dollars are to be spent, according to the President's plan for the next fiscal year, on further increases in missile strength as well as further technological improvements and research and development. Major new developments to begin include these: A new missile system, the Poseidon (with double the payload of the Polaris), to increase the striking power of our nuclear submarines; new payloads for strategic missiles; a new short-range attack missile, the SRAM; improved ability to concentrate U. S. military power rapidly, by expanding airlift and sealift capability and increase the amount of prepositioned equipment; stepped-up efforts to protect our people, cities, and industry should a war be forced upon us; and continued research and development into systems providing protection against missile and bomber attacks.

We all know that the United States is the leader of Free world forces arrayed against a common enemy. International Communism may be deterred from overt aggression by the knowledge of America's military might, but despite serious problems created by ideological differences the Red-dominated nations are bent on world conquest by whatever means they determine will succeed. Thus, the struggle involves more than military might. The moral and economic vitality of Freedom will continue to be tested.

HEADLINE DEATH — This is the way British newspapers headlined the death of Sir Winston Churchill who died at his London home Jan. 24, 10 days after suffering a cerebral thrombosis.

LBJ to Ask End To Gold Reserve

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson asked Congress to put an end to the requirement for a 25 per cent gold reserve on federal reserve bank deposits.

The administration action, was included in Johnson's economic message to Congress today. It was made known when Senate Banking Committee Chairman Willis Robertson, D-Va., said he would introduce the measure.

Probe Started to Oust Sooner Judge

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—A House committee began preparations today for an investigation into possible impeachment action against State Supreme Court Justice Earl Welch.

Chairman Lou Alard of Drumright called an organizational meeting of the House Investigating Committee today and said he hoped to have the group organized within a week.

Churchill Had no Qualms on Discussing His Own Passing

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three dispatches giving a new insight into the remarkable life of Sir Winston Churchill.

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill took a calm view of death—as a man who had faced it personally many times—and his funeral arrangements owe part of their splendor to the fact he had no qualms about discussing his own passing.

"The world," he said, "does not end with the life of any man."

Since the world was bound to go on, even after his departure, he gave some thought to the kind of funeral he might expect.

A few years ago the Army Council, reorganizing the forces, disbanded many famous regiments and amalgamated others. One thing worried them—what would Winston say when he learned his old regiment, the Fourth Hussars, was going to be merged with the Eighth Hussars?

Field Marshal Lord Montgomery was asked to undertake the hazardous mission of explaining to Sir Winston that "The Fighting Fourth" would be no more.

To his surprise he found Churchill completely unconcerned about the fate of his regiment but quite worried about the continuation of military bands and the Royal Horse Artillery.

Self-Revealing

"Monty," said Sir Winston earnestly, "what sort of funeral should I have without bands and the Royal Horse Artillery?"

A remark like this is self-revealing. In the common man it might seem to lack humility but Churchill, though he understood the common man very well, was not one himself.

He was an aristocrat to his fingertips, born into an illustrious family at a time when the chasm that divided the classes was almost unbridgeable. The life that stretched before him was the life of stately homes, of great privilege, of easy relationships with the famous right up to the throne.

Power came naturally to those of his class who wanted it. The rest of the nation could only press its nose to the windows that sealed it off from the fairytale world of wealth and luxury denied it by birth.

Sometimes, however, there was a chance for the public to play tiny parts in the distant drama, like an army of unidentifiable extras in a movie epic.

One such occasion was the marriage of Churchill to the poor but beautiful Clementine Hozier, kinfolk of the Earls of Arlie, in 1908. A vast throng jammed central London for the ceremonies and newspapers put out special editions.

Churchill's birthplace was one of the grandest palaces in the world, Blenheim, the nation's gift to his warrior-ancestor, the Duke of Marlborough. The natal bedroom is now one of Britain's leading tourist magnets. In these democratic times the half-crown (35 cents) admission fee helps maintain the splendid house.

The tourists see a few mementoes of Sir Winston, his father, Lord Randolph Churchill, and his mother, Jennie Jerome of New York.

Until the very end Churchill worshipped the memory of his lovely mother.

"She always seemed to me to be a fairy princess," he said.

The State of Washington has the greatest average cloudiness.
