

There is nothing more to be esteemed than a manly firmness and decision of character. I like a person who knows his own mind and sticks to it; who sees at once what is to be done in given circumstances and does it.

Ship Mishaps Kill Six on Eastern Coast

By United Press International
Three Atlantic Coast ship mishaps Tuesday took the lives of six workmen and injured at least one other.

Flash fires raged through an oil tanker and an atomic submarine in shipyards and a small Dutch vessel sank in New York harbor after colliding with a British freighter.

At Gibbs Shipyard near Jacksonville, Fla., three men were killed and a fourth seriously injured when a flash fire engulfed the hold of an oil tanker under repairs.

Firemen with oxygen masks worked in dense clouds of black smoke for an hour before bringing the victims to the deck. The four men were working about 10 feet below the water line of the "Gloucester" anchored in the St. John's River.

At Groton, Conn., the atomic submarine Flasher, sister ship of the ill-fated Thresher, was hit by fire. Three workmen in the ship's aft ballast tanks were killed and two others were injured.

Youths Held in Connection With Recent Burglaries

Three Pampa youths, 14, 15 and 16 years old, were in custody of police and juvenile authorities today in connection with three recent burglaries and an automobile theft in March.

Police Captain Denny Roan said the 16-year-old juvenile already had signed a statement admitting that he and his 14-year-old companion had burglarized Stapleton's Boot & Leather Shop, 612 E. Third St., last Saturday night.

The Pampa Milk Co., 601 S. O'Connell, and the Baker School, 300 E. Tule, last Sunday.

The total loss in the three jobs consisted of a $25 pair of cashmere boots, $10 in cash and a roll of stamps.

The 15-year-old youth in one involved when police found a newspaper clipping from the Pampa News in the 16-year-old boy's billfold. The clipping told of the theft of an automobile belonging to E. Young, 405 N. O'Connell, from its parking place on S. O'Connell St. Saturday night, March 23.

When questioned the 16-year-old admitted that the 15-year-old got him out of bed at his home at 2 a. m. Sunday, March 21, told him he had stolen the car and the 16-year-old drove it to a spot six miles south-east of Pampa and sold it into a gully. The auto theft was admitted by the younger boy, but only when

Stations Report Settlement Imminent

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A settlement to the racial strife that has plagued this city for more than a month appeared imminent today.

A Birmingham Negro radio station said a settlement was expected shortly. Another station also carried a similar report.

Scores of the Negro demonstrators arrested during the past week of stepped-up protests were being released from the crowded jails on bonds of $500 each.

Heimerged state troopers formed a human barricade between the white and Negro sections of the city.

Hundreds of troops and deputies from outside the city poured in to reinforce Birmingham police, outfitted and on their way during Negro civil rights demonstrations Tuesday.

An estimated 1,000 officers were available for duty in the city where racial protests have resulted in more than 2,200 arrests in the past 35 days.

In Washington, President Kennedy's staff was reported exploring every avenue of executive action in an effort to bring the explosive situation that began burning last April 5 with the first of the demonstrations.

State troopers stood six feet apart along one block between the Negro and white sections.

Control of a five-block area surrounding a park adjacent to a Negro church was turned over to the state troopers, ordered in by Gov. George Wallace Tuesday.

An officer told reporters the highway patrol's orders were to do everything possible to maintain the peace and to keep Negroes confined to the area around the church where a mass meeting of Negroes was underway.

The officer implied that resistance to the efforts would be met with whatever force was necessary.

Troopers sealed off the park, refusing to let any Negroes come out or any whites to enter.

In Nashville, Tenn., about 200 students marched on the downtown area in support of the Birmingham protest.

Wynne Says He Was 'Duped' by Secret Service

MOSCOW (UPI) — British businessman Greville Wynne charged before a Soviet court today that he was duped by Britain's secret service into becoming an unwitting spy.

Wynne made the charge after his alleged Russian accomplice, former Soviet scientific official Oleg Penkovsky, turned up in the British court and accused him of lying about spying activities against the Soviet Union.

Wynne and Penkovsky are being tried jointly on charges they took part in a spy ring that involved staff members at the American and British embassies in Moscow as well as their wives and children.

The 47-year-old British defendant said his visits to Russia were for purely business reasons, and that he was "drawn into" espionage work.

Then you are asserting that your companions deceived you? The state prosecutor asked.

"Precisely, and that is precisely why I am here," Wynne replied.

Admits Missions
Wynne admitted, however, that he carried out all missions called for by British intelligence.

Wynne and Penkovsky, 44, pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges they participated in the Anglo-American espionage ring.

The Russian agreed to accusations that he betrayed his country because of his craving for wine, women and the "easy life."

Both defendants face a possible death penalty if convicted.

The military trial which opened today in a courtroom of the U. S. R. Supreme Court building unfolded a cloak and dagger tale of graveyard meetings, invisible ink, false candy boxes containing information and secret meetings and contacts arranged by missions on a Moscow laypost.

Tuesday Wynne insisted he did not know the content of the information he admitted passing between Penkovsky and U. S. and Registration for the meeting will get underway today about 3 p. m. However, no activities have been planned until tomorrow.

Principal speaker at the luncheon will be L. W. Collins of O'Brien, director of the Office of Oil and Gas, U. S. Department of the Interior.

Also at the luncheon meeting, U. S. Sen. Gandy has followed a scheduled report in the membership on the motions, issues and moods of the state legislators. Other speakers will make brief appearances at the luncheon and dinner meetings.

Immediately following the luncheon, the Board of Directors of the PPROA will meet to elect new officers and pass new resolutions concerning matters of interest to the industry.

Thursday afternoon the meeting will be divided into three open seminars on specific problems of the industry.

A seminar on natural gas will be conducted by J. W. Collins of Amarillo, past president of the Association and chairman of the Natural Gas Committee.

Collins has said that he expects the "Northern Natural case" and its prospects for the Panhandle gas industry to loom large in the afternoon's discussion. The Amarillo independent also said he will look for talk about what he calls the natural gas excess of supply.

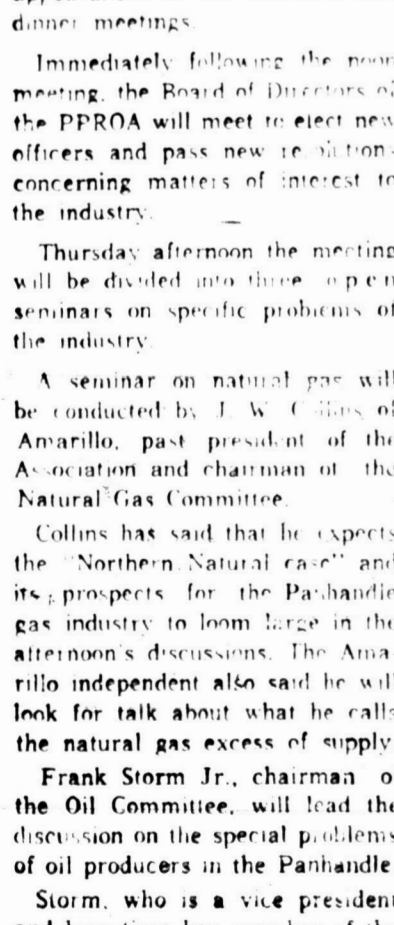

Frank Storm Jr., chairman of the Oil Committee, will lead the discussion on the special problems of oil producers in the Panhandle.

Storm, who is a vice president and long time key member of the Association, also is an independent operator headquartered in Amarillo. He has been the Association's

Hicks Faces Murder Trial

CANYON, Tex. (UPI)—Amarillo contractor Dewey Hicks faced a murder trial today because a district court jury said Tuesday he was legally sane at the time he was accused of killing two men.

Hicks, charged with shooting J. R. Darron and his son J. W. Darron, in their home on New Year's Day, will be tried in 47th District Court in the fall.

Wheat Program Discussion Is Slated Friday

A discussion of the 1964 Wheat Program will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at the Coronado Inn.

The emcee for the 12-county meeting will be Clyde L. Caruth, a farmer of Pampa.

An estimated 106 other Americans, of whom 84 were dependents of military personnel, boarded a charter flight which arrived while the first plane was being loaded. This plane was expected to leave before noon, E.D.T.

The first plane was returning to Miami, via Montego Bay, Jamaica. The second plane, however, was scheduled to fly direct to Miami.

U. S. Embassy officials said they had expected about 200 American civilians or their dependents also to evacuate, but that the Washington recommendation they leave Haiti apparently had not been accepted.

Evacuation of some 220 U. S. and dependents here is expected to be completed Thursday morning with the arrival of a second charter flight from Miami. There are also two regularly scheduled Pan American World Airways flights out of Port au Prince Thursdays.

Most of today's evacuees were children, dressed in their Sunday best for the occasion. Heaps of baggage were stacked around the airport.

The U. S. government Tuesday ordered all 220 dependents removed and urged the 400 private American residents to leave Haiti also.

"Progressive Disintegration"
Undersecretary of State George W. Ball said in Washington that the regime of President Francois Duvalier "seems to be in a kind of progressive disintegration" and in fact appears to be "falling apart."

In Willemstad, Curacao, informed sources said the Haitian government had requested permission for a military plane to land off the Dutch Caribbean island off the Venezuelan coast, about 475 miles southeast of Haiti.

(The sources said Haiti told Curacao authorities the plane's mission was to pick up passengers but there was no immediate reply to the authorities' request to specify the passengers' names. The report raised speculation that Haitian officials, possibly including Duvalier himself, might be making arrangements to leave the troubled Negro republic.)

Capital Appears Calm
The Haitian capital appeared calm today, but a strict 8-to-5 curfew remained in effect Tuesday night.

An exodus of Americans from Port au Prince has been in evidence for the past 10 days since the crisis with the Dominican Republic, Haiti's neighbor on the island of Hispaniola, neared the boiling point.

"I've met Len Hall only twice and have only a casual acquaintance with him. And it's been months since I've communicated with Gen. Eisenhower," Romney said.

Asked if he would accept the 64 nomination if it were thrown his way, Romney replied sharply:

"That is so remote and unlikely that it would be absolutely presumptuous and foolish on my part to comment on."

Romney Says Rocky, Barry Top Choices

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Gov. George Romney returned to his state capital Tuesday and promptly left the 1964 Republican presidential nomination battle up to Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Romney, home after an eight-day sojourn to Washington and New York, repeated that he is "not a candidate and I do not plan to be a candidate in 1964."

The former industrialist said that Goldwater and Rockefeller are the "top candidates at this point" and said he had invited both of them to come to Michigan "to let the state get a look at them."

Amazed At Publicity
Romney said he was "amazed at the publicity given his recent trip during which evidences of a Romney-for-president boom was growing within GOP ranks."

"People have been interpreting things that aren't there," he said. "All I've been doing is refraining from indicating what I'm going to do after this term as governor."

The governor denied reports that he had been listening to encouragement from prominent Republicans, among them former President Eisenhower and former GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

"I've met Len Hall only twice and have only a casual acquaintance with him. And it's been months since I've communicated with Gen. Eisenhower," Romney said.

Asked if he would accept the 64 nomination if it were thrown his way, Romney replied sharply:

"That is so remote and unlikely that it would be absolutely presumptuous and foolish on my part to comment on."

American Personnel Flee Haiti Pampa, McLean Paving Projects Are Announced

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI)—A commercial airliner took out 68 dependents of American Embassy personnel today in the first of a series of evacuation flights ordered by Washington.

The plane left Port au Prince for Miami at 10:50 a. m. E.D.T.

Woman Critical After Automobile, Pickup Accident

Four persons were rushed to Worley Hospital shortly after 4:30 p. m. yesterday, when two vehicles collided on a dirt road 3 1/2 miles south of Miami.

Mrs. Glen Dodson, 55, was taken into surgery upon arriving at Worley and was listed in critical condition this morning.

Connie Dodson, 16, driver of the late-model automobile, Jerry Dodson, 18, and Muriel Trout, 34, driver of the pickup were all treated for minor injuries at the hospital.

The Dodson family lives 10 miles southeast of Miami and Trout resides in Mobeetie.

Trout was driving west on the county road and the Dodsons were driving east. Both cars were reported traveling in the center of the road as they first approached each other. According to Patrolman Stanley Schneider the Dodson vehicle swerved to the right, and Trout swerved to his left, where the cars met head on.

Schneider estimated the Dodson car was traveling at 50 mph, and the Trout vehicle was traveling at 60 mph.

Once it is in orbit, "a satellite" doesn't get off course," the spokesman said. "It just continues to go around and around." He traced weak signals received Tuesday night on Pleumeur Bodou France, to an "inauspicious slant range" and "attitude" of the satellite.

The "slant range" of Telstar II, or its distance in space from tracking stations, was especially great Tuesday night he said. This, he added, will improve as the satellite's orbit changes in relation to tracking stations on earth.

The "attitude" of the "bird," he said, had put its antenna for receiving signals on the far side of the satellite. Thus scheduled transmissions tests for a pass of the Telstar were canceled early today.

The gleaming space vehicle launched Tuesday at Cape Canaveral, had a trajectory "as close to normal as any we have had to date," according to Robert H. Gray, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Mrs. Miller Rests Before Her Last Lap

SUVA, Fiji (UPI)—Mrs. Betty Miller, the flying Santa Monica, Calif., housewife, took a brief rest today before leaving Suva on the final lap of her 7,100-mile solo flight from California to Australia.

The freckle-faced, 36-year-old brunette landed her twin-engine plane at Nandi International Airport here after a flight of 8 hours and 27 minutes from tiny Canton Island, 1,250 miles away.

Mrs. Miller indicated she would rest at Suva for about 12 hours before continuing her bid to become the first woman to fly the long trans-Pacific route alone.

Her final flight to Brisbane, Australia, by way of Noumea will be 1,475 miles over water.

Mrs. Miller is following approximately a reverse course of that plotted by famed aviatrix Amelia Earhart on her ill-fated 1937 flight. Miss Earhart and copilot Fred Noonan disappeared in the Central Pacific.

Balloon Launched To Measure Rays
BROWNWOOD, Tex. (UPI)—A huge, paper-thin balloon, launched early Tuesday to measure cosmic ray energy in the fringes of the earth's atmosphere, released its instrument package by parachute today at Oklahoma City.

The balloon got up to 133,000 feet before the instrument package was released about 5:35 a. m., 10 miles southwest of Will Rogers Air Field. The balloon, 350 feet tall, continued drifting east-south-east.

Ed Oliver, an electronics technician with a crew tracking the balloon, retrieved the instrument package and started back to Brownwood with it.

The balloon was launched by Raven Industries of Sioux Falls, S.D., at Brownwood Municipal Airport at 3:10 a. m. Tuesday for Jet Propulsion Laboratory of Pasadena, Calif.

Mayor Is Arrested After Inauguration

STREATOR, Ill. (UPI)—Shocked residents of this small Illinois city expressed disbelief today at the arrest of their popular mayor for extortion.

Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) agents snapped a trap on Ray Sopher, in a plush cocktail lounge in Chicago Tuesday shortly after he received about $3,000 in cash from a sewage system equipment firm.

Only hours earlier, Sopher told a festive crowd attending his swearing in ceremonies that during his second term he planned to "resurface the alleys, build a golf course and buy a water plant."

"It's really been a shock here," one citizen said.

Some persons questioned how much politics was involved in the arrest of the man who had won a near 2-to-1 victory in the mayoralty election less than a month ago.

Others asked if he were as guilty as the circumstances indicated.

Firm Official Informs
The FBI said Sopher was charged with "having affected commerce and movement of material being shipped from Kansas to Streator by extortion of a substantial amount of money."

Special agent in charge M. W. Johnson said the trap was set up after an official of the firm, Smith and Loveless Inc., Leuca, Kan., informed the FBI of the alleged extortion.

The FBI agent in charge declined to reveal the amount of money involved but said it was recovered, U. S. Dist. Atty. James P. O'Brien said about $3,000, ten per cent of a $30,000 sewage equipment transaction — was involved.

Red Snipers Kill Army Sergeant In Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — Communist Viet Cong snipers killed an American Army sergeant accompanying a Vietnamese army patrol about 25 miles west of Da Nang, Monday night, a U. S. military spokesman announced today.

The sergeant, an adviser to the Vietnamese army, was not identified immediately.

There were no other details of the shooting. Da Nang is about 325 miles northeast of Saigon, on the East Coast.

The sergeant became the 35th American combat victim in South Viet Nam and the 84th American soldier to die here, including non-combat deaths.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Things are getting so realistic on television that I wouldn't be surprised any day now to see a holdup man pull a sample job for the edification of a documentary producer. NBC-TV's "Show of the Week," for instance, has had real-life programs about a hospital emergency ward; about a comedian (Shelley Berman) exploding with fury when his act was interrupted; and most recently about the relationship between an ex-convict and a parole officer. And Tuesday night, in ABC-TV's half-hour "Close-Up" look at the Secret Service combats counterfeiters, we saw an airport arrest of a dapper little man hoping to get on a plane to London with a suitcase containing $18,000 in bogus $20 bills.

Like Rossellini Movie
It was like seeing a sequence out of a good Rossellini movie. The camera followed the man from the waist down as he briskly stepped toward his destination at Idlewild Airport in New York, his valuable little case swinging to and fro. One would almost have thought it was Alfred Hitchcock who was doing the walking, except he works for CBS-TV. At any rate, the man was finally stopped, and then came sad proof that art can often improve on life; asked about the money, the culprit said he couldn't explain how it got there. It was a disappointing performance, dating him at least to the Lloyd Nolan era. Any modern hack could do better. Didn't he know he was on camera?

Narcotics Cure Is Big Challenge to Science

By HARRY FERGUSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Curing a person of the drug habit is one of the supreme challenges to medical science. A study of 1,000 persons released after treatment at the Public Health Service Hospital at Lexington, Ky., showed that 90 per cent of them went back on drugs again and usually within six months.

There are two ways in which an addict can get the treatment at Lexington and the other federal hospital at Fort Worth, Tex. If he has been convicted of a federal offense, the judge can order him to take the cure. Or he can enter the hospital voluntarily, provided beds are available, and if he is able to pay the charge of $9.50 a day.

Right from the start the odds are heavily against him being cured. More than one-third of the voluntary patients can't take it, and leave within two weeks. The prisoners, of course, are forced to remain. By the end of the first month one-half of the voluntary patients have given up and departed. Fewer than one-third of them stay as long as the doctors consider necessary. Then one out of ten succeeds in freeing himself of drugs.

Treatment consists of a gradual withdrawal of drugs by giving the patient decreasing doses. Up until 1945 the patients were given injections of morphine. They called this "going to the shooting gallery." Sometime during World War II a synthetic drug called methadone was developed in Germany. It bears only a slight chemical relationship to morphine or heroin and is now used in the public health hospitals. Now the patients say they are "going to the cocktail lounge," meaning they are going to drink a small glass of reddish-colored methadone.

Patient Very Ill
For a person lightly addicted the withdrawal period can be over in four days, but the heavy addict needs between 10 and 12 days. Either way, the patient is deathly ill because methadone does flatten out the peaks of pain in an attempt to make life endurable.

After complete withdrawal of drugs there is a convalescence period of two weeks. The patient begins to have an appetite and gains strength, but he will be restless and irritable for several months. Then the treatment shifts from the body to the mind. A narcotics addict usually is listless and indifferent to everything except where he is going to get his next shore.

At the Lexington hospital an attempt is made to get him interested in something—soft ball, boxing, watching television, bowling, going to the movies, playing in an orchestra, theatricals, or writing for the hospital newspaper called "The Blue Grass Times." The doctors would like the patient to remain in this drug-free environment for at least five months. Then he is on his own.

Some Are Cured
Against all the odds, some persons are cured. One of them founded Narcotics Anonymous after he had been to Lexington eight times. Another one is now a public official in his home town. And there is one man who owns a small business on the West Coast and telephones Lexington every Christmas Eve to express his thanks.

Bad as the narcotics problem is in the United States today, there was a time when it threatened to engulf the nation. Around 1913-14 one American out of every 400

Senate Okays Term Limits

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Senate has approved an amendment to the constitution to limit the governor to two successive elected terms.

Texas voters would have to approve the proposal before it could become effective.

Gov. John Connally has expressed approval of the proposed amendment and suggested it be made effective with his administration.

Under the proposed amendment, a governor could only serve two terms in a row. But after some one else served as governor, he could run again.

The measure was introduced by Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo. He won engrossment of the bill then got a 26-2 vote suspending the rules and 26-2 vote on final passage, sending the measure to the House.

Only Sens. Andy Rogers of Chil-dress and Bill Patman of Galvesto opposed it.

Youths

The case was broken shortly before last midnight when Fred Broadbent, 612 Brunson, city water department employe, was driving by the Day and Night Laundry, 708 E. Frederic. He called police and said he saw two youths in the place trying to break open a soft drink machine.

Patrolman H. E. Britton answered the call and caught the two youths in the place. When taken to the police station the 16-year-old gave his confession to Lt. Bob Crouch and Sgt. Don Aycock.

Captain Roan said Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard and police planned to question the three youths today about possible connection with other burglaries.

Wynne

Penkovsky turned on Wynne just after today's session started. He said the Briton "did his best to organize and perfect the espionage system."

"He brought and delivered our material," the Russian told the court in a booming voice. "He showed me photos of spies with whom I was to make contact. He took me to various conspiratorial apartments."

Booming Voice

Raising his voice even more, he said: "Please believe me, citizen judges. I cannot understand why Wynne isn't always honest. Sometimes he is, but I do not understand why he tries to minimize his role."

The chief judge referred to Penkovsky's claims that he was a loyal Soviet citizen who was spying because of his love for high living. The judge asked how he reconciled his alleged patriotism with treason.

"I was referring to the war period and to my position before 1956," Penkovsky replied. "I repeat that until then I was a loyal Soviet citizen. I do not wish to justify my later activities. I never had any political differences with my country. I became a scoundrel only because of my moral depravation and unhappiness with my professional work."

Tells Of Kickbacks

B. Alden Smith, managing director of Smith and Lovelock, said "kickbacks" had been imposed more than two years ago, shortly after the firm began negotiations with officials of the city of 22,500 for the purchase and installation of factory-built sewage lift stations.

"In early April, 1961, our representatives attended a meeting of city officials at Streator and were told that our prices and specifications on the equipment were acceptable, but that we would have to agree to pay them, in cash, a 'kick-back' amounting to 10 percent of the sale price before they would approve the order," Smith said.

Smith said he was unsuccessful in persuading the city officials to proceed under legal circumstances.

There were 9.7 million foreign-born residents in the U.S. at the time of the 1960 census.

Dear Abby...

Wife Is Advised Just To Hang On!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has had this other woman for over four years. They came to me and begged me for a divorce, saying they loved each other. I said, "That's just too bad because I have six kids who need a father. I am in no shape to start hunting myself up another man and, besides, I got married once and that's enough for me. I don't bother him and he doesn't bother me, but I hate to see him mooning around the house like a sick cat. What does a woman do when she finds herself in this fix?"

NO HAPPINESS DEAR NO: She hangs on — as you're doing. Some men get tired of the chase and come to realize that there's no place like home. Others need professional help. If your husband doesn't "come to" of his own accord and conscience, seek help from a marriage counselor or your minister.

DEAR ABBY: You advised "FRUSTRATED" that any money a wife earns is HERS. In some states, the earnings of a wife, unless provided otherwise by a prenuptial agreement, fall into the community property existing between husband and wife. Furthermore, the husband as head and master of the community has the exclusive administration of the wife's earnings. Respectfully, E. K. L. (New Orleans)

DEAR MR. L.: "FRUSTRATED" took a job as a substitute teacher to earn money for "extras." Her husband, she stated, was a professional man and an adequate provider. She worked in order to buy herself a mink stole, which her husband considered a "frivolity." I still say that morally, under the circumstances, the wife is entitled to spend her earnings as she wishes. I was merely settling a family argument. If she had wanted legal advice, she would have gone to a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: I have gone to the same beauty operator for several years. Lately every time I arrive for my appointment, my operator tells me she is running about an hour late. She says it is because the patrons before me have come late. I finally got tired of it and quit her. My husband doesn't like the way my new operator does my hair and he wants me to go back to the old one. It's a matter of principle with me. Am I right or is my husband? Would you go back?

ASH BLONDE CONFIDENTIAL TO "M.J.": There is always a bit of risk involved with progress. You can't steal second base unless you take your foot off first.

DEAR ASH: When a customer is late for an appointment, SHE is the one who should be kept waiting. Even if her tardiness was unavoidable, it isn't fair to throw everyone else off schedule. I think you are right. Shop around for another operator. And reward the prompt ones with your patronage.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

This is the season of the clean, clear fresh look. Slim lipsticks make it easier (left) to outline and fill in lips with such springy colors as Bermuda coral, pink clover or orange. Eye make-up is lighter for a more natural look. The model (center) uses a gray eyebrow pencil to outline her brows and a gray lid liner along the edge of the eyelid. She darkens the lashes with brown or black mascara. For a refreshing and cooling finishing touch, the model (right) uses a spicy fragrance which matches the fragrance of her bath oil and dusting powder.

The Mature Parent A Baby Swan... Or An Ugly Duckling?

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Though our 6-year-old girl can remember nothing she learns in school, her father got her through her first grade reader in one night. She is a demon artist: sees everything in terms of pictures and angers her teacher by making little Christmas candles out of the "i's" in her name. At home she calls the teacher by the name of a fairy tale cat which scared all the mice. Her school says she's "immature" and hints there's something mentally wrong with her. We always knew that she would clash with the world and so fear it will crush the strangeness we love in her. We have seven other youngsters.

ANSWER: Schools often refuse to recognize baby swans in ugly, nonconforming ducklings. You or your child may be a baby swan. So my earnest counsel is to get her tested by an intelligent psychologist who knows the difference between insanity and the artist's nature. You need his authority to withstand the anxiety you've been made to feel.

You and your husband both see a baby artist in this child, don't you? O.K. Then you must help her to gradually admit this world you fear will "crush" her. For the difference between an artist and a mentally sick person is his attitude toward the world. The men-

'Oriole' Leaves Lyndon Speechless On Visit

By HELEN THOMAS WASHINGTON (UPI)— Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is quite a talker. But when he's around his cousin, Oriole Bailey, he just listens.

"Oriole," as she's known throughout the Texas hill country, lives in a ramshackle house on the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, and draws out her genius of refreshing wisdom to everyone "Lyndon" brings by to meet her. "Everyone" takes in such personages as President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan, President Lopez Mateos of Mexico, and a string of Washington politicians and diplomats.

It's a regular evening ritual when Johnson is back at the ranch to call on Oriole, and heaven help those who don't tag along. A tall, handsome, grey-haired woman in her 70s, "Co' Oriole" has a girlish femininity and personality which hold an audience in rapt attention.

Tricky Encounter When the vice president brought party-giver Perle Mesta to Oriole's house, it was aptly described as an encounter between "the hostess with the mostess" and "the hostess with the leastess."

But back of wordy goods doesn't bother Oriole. She greeted Mrs. Mesta wearing a tight-fitting black crepe dress but no shoes and they quickly sized each other up as friends.

When it occurred to Oriole just who Mrs. Mesta was, she turned to the former minister to Luxembourg, who was sitting on a broken-down sofa on her porch, and excitedly said: "Why, honey, you're world-renowned, you rich thing, you."

Mrs. Mesta joined in the laughter that followed and Johnson said admiringly, "that's laying it on the line."

Oriole is hard of hearing. But there's a strong suspicion she just tunes some folks out. Gets Car Annually Every year the vice president gives her a car. She recently collided with the postman which led exasperated Johnson to exclaim, "One car goes down the road in front of her house each day, and she waited to hit him."

Oriole is up on all the hot news on the Pedernales River which flows through the LBJ Ranch. She also is a poet of sorts. She said she began writing poetry after her husband died in 1950 when she "couldn't sleep." Comedian Arthur Godfrey, another one of her admirers, had them printed in a booklet. But she's cagey about giving them out, "until I get a copyright." She willingly recites her poem, "The Pedernales River Blues," however, which starts out: "I got no socks, I got no shoes, I got those Pedernales blues."

Meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship. Following a devotion by Mrs. Verda Adair, Mrs. Charles Lanehart presented a program on "Ministry To Special Need Through National Benevolent Association. Important, too, is the trend toward the long, slim crayon-like lipstick which gives you more control. You get a clean, clear outline of your lips.

To avoid bleeding of your lipstick, apply foundation slightly over the lip line. Powder your lips before applying the lipstick to give it smoothness and staying power.

What you do with your eye make-up is extremely important in creating an over-all soft, natural look.

To achieve a subtle effect, you must take extra care with this area. Start with a natural, cleanly picked-up eyebrow line. You will find your eyes will look more beautiful if you use eye cream at night to help keep tiny lines in check.

Put aside your black eyebrow pencils. Outline your brows with small strokes with a gray eyebrow pencil. You may outline your lashes with brown or black liner and follow this with black mascara.

If you are a brunette, eye shadow stick in amethyst frost shade will be a good bet, provided it doesn't clash with your costumes. Blondes will find the green tones their mainstay.

MOROCCO, 1959: Moroccan citizens, among 10,000 infected by criminally adulterated cooking oil, learn to re-use paralyzed limbs at a Red Cross center.

Since its birth 100 years ago the International Red Cross has sprung to the side of the world's ailing, wounded and uprooted peoples. Coinciding with the national convention of the American Red Cross in Philadelphia this month, the World Health Organization has published a Centenary Album, depicting scenes—some of which are seen here—of Red Cross activity through the years and around the world.

RETIREE INSURANCE

NEW YORK (UPI) — A sharp increase has been reported in the trend in group health insurance policies to provide workers with coverage after retirement. The Health Insurance Institute reports that in group policies written last year by insurance companies, four of every five workers had the right to retain their coverage on retiring. The year before, two of three workers had this right. In 1959, the proportion was little more than half.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Enough of the pieces have fallen into place now to remove any lingering doubts there may have been over Communist good faith in Laos. What events in that sorry little kingdom do add up to is simply the early approach of a new moment of truth for the United States in South Vietnam and perhaps in Thailand as well. Communist objectives are both political and military and are unlikely to be changed by talks, whether they be held in Moscow, Washington or the Plain of Jars. The United States accepted neutrality for Laos for the very good reason that U.S.-trained and equipped Royal Lao forces turned out to be miserable fighters, although probably as good as their opposite numbers in the Pathet Lao were — the latter not beefed up by hard-core Communist troops from neighboring North Vietnam. Only Neutrality Left With the military stance abandoned, neutrality became the only thing left unless the United States were willing to commit its own forces on a scale far larger than anything yet attempted in Southeast Asia, including South Vietnam. Current events in Laos recall vividly to this correspondent interviews in 1962 with two individuals who continue to play important roles in the Southeast Asia drama, one of whom proved correct and the other incorrect. In his office across the street from Bangkok's Temple of the Emerald Buddha, Thailand Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman said that neutrality for Laos would work only if guaranteed by Washington and Moscow. Moscow, he said, would have to guarantee withdrawal of Communist Viet Minh forces back to North Vietnam. Because of the strained relations between Moscow and Red China, he did not believe the Russians could do it. On a steamy night in Vientiane, the capital of Laos, long-time Indian diplomat Avtar Singh also was considering Laotian neutrality. As chairman of the International Control Commission, it would be up to him to see it enforced. The United States, he conceded, was taking a calculated risk but he believed it a good one. Laos, he believed, would remain neutral rather than lose U.S. aid. The commission, he believed, could prevent transport of Communist reinforcements through Laos over the Ho Chi Minh trail to South Vietnam. Events proved Avtar Singh somewhat less than realistic. A glance at the map illustrates the military point. One area of recent fighting in Laos was the market town of Luang Nang. It is near the eastern boundary with South Viet Nam, directly between the key towns of Tchepone and Saravane. Tchepone once served as a Russian air base for ferrying supplies to the Pathet Lao and Viet Minh. Saravane marks the beginning of the last leg of the Ho Chi Minh trail through mountainous jungles into Cambodia and South Vietnam. This trail, the Communists mean to preserve and they will fight for it.

Car Shopper Disapproves

By DICK WESA
WASHINGTON (UPI)—For 16 years Stephen Spingarn, a former member of the Federal Trade Commission, toiled around in a 1946 sedan. Life was good then. But a couple of months ago, disaster struck. His faithful old conveyance succumbed to fatigue and Spingarn was forced to go out shopping for a new car. "It was then that I discovered," he said in relating his adventures, "that I had become a Rip Van Winkle among motorists." His rude awakening came when he tried to get in one of the 1962 models. First he banged his head on the roof. Then he crashed his knee cap on the steering column. "To my amazement, I found that the cars I thought had been getting bigger were only getting bigger on the outside," he said. "On the inside they had been shrinking. Fine For Replies "They are fine for cobras and other reptiles that can crawl in on their bellies, but a man has got to creep into his own car like a midnight thief. Then he has got to curl up in the nasal position before he can drive it." Spingarn, who stands just under 5-foot-2 and weighs 230 pounds, test-entered every make of car that sells for less than $3,000, picking up new abrasions along the way. "The only way I avoided a concussion was by training myself to stop and say 'Look out, Spingarn! Don't bump your head again!' before I opened the door," he said. At some point, possibly as a result of too many lumps on the cranium, Spingarn changed from a Rip Van Winkle into a sort of latter day Captain Ahab. He lost all interest in mileage and other performance features and became obsessed with the pursuit of an auto whose portals permitted easy ingress and egress. They were even rarer than white whales. Finally, Spingarn found a dealer who promised to remove the front seat track and reinstall it four inches farther to the rear. Being a lawyer, Spingarn made him put it in writing. Then he carried the signed stipulation to another dealer, who agreed to match the terms. But it turned out that the seat tracks on some cars can only be moved back about two inches. Nothing could be done about the roof and this is what has prompted Spingarn to organize the "inner space crusade." Its aim is to bring pressure on the auto makers to produce in at least a high roof and abundant leg room. Many recruits have been rallying around the "inner space" banner, including Sen. Edwin L. McMurry, R-N.M., who is 5-foot-3 and who offered to make a "bipartisan revolt."

Castro Tours War-Famed Volgograd

VOLGOGRAD, U.S.S.R. (UPI)—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro toured this war-famed city formerly named Stalingrad today on the first stage of a provincial tour that will take him from the Ukraine to Siberia. Castro is expected to visit Leningrad in the north, the Ukrainian capital of Kiev, the Central Asian city of Tashkent and several Siberian cities, before he returns to Moscow May 23. The bearded Cuban spent the weekend talking politics with Premier Nikita Khrushchev at a hunting lodge outside Moscow. Details of their talks were not revealed, but the topics discussed presumably included the question of increased Soviet military and economic aid for the Castro regime. Khrushchev did not go to the airport in Moscow to see Castro off for Volgograd, but Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, Defense Minister Rodia Malinovsky and Mikhail Suslov of the presidium (politburo) were on hand. The Cuban leader received a ceremonial welcome on his arrival here Monday night.

MOTHER'S LIVE A DIFFERENT LIFE.
Each Mother's Day, which we celebrate this year on May 12th, gives us the welcomed opportunity to publicly express our admiration for all mothers.

MOTHERS WATCH OVER FAMILY HEALTH.
Every sniffle, running nose, cough, bruise or ache are their personal concern. We know this well, for many mothers tell us about these problems.

MOTHERS ARE GOOD TEACHERS.
Before children reach the maturity needed to learn to live peacefully with others, tolerant understanding and guidance is needed. The lessons taught on mother's knees have shaped the progress of mankind.

MOTHERS ARE UNSELFISH.
Almost without exception, no task is too great if it benefits the family. Sleepless nights nursing a sick child, watching every moment to keep growing children from harm, worrying about their future; are all done without any expected thanks.

THIS PHARMACY LOVES ALL MOTHERS.
We will welcome any mother's request for any help we can give. We are honored when they make us their personal pharmacy and permit us to serve them.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The recent narrow inaction of the stock market represents the first test of its inherent strength since its March "break out" above 700, says Bradbury K. Thurlow. The Winslow, Cohn & Steison analyst says whether the market could suddenly stop "exercising without catching a bad cold, or even pneumonia, was the question uppermost in the minds of technicians. "We can only report a week later that the patient sneezed a couple of times, but still appears to be in the best of health and resting comfortably."

MIKE WILLIAMS
... Gets teacher's post

Pampa Boy Given Assistantship

CANYON (Spl) — Mike Williams, Pampa senior at West Texas State College, has been awarded a teaching assistantship for the 1963-64 session at Colorado State University at Fort Collins. Williams, a mathematics major at WT, will work toward his master's degree at Colorado State. He expects to receive his B. A. degree from WT May 26. Williams will also participate in a National Science Foundation program in mathematics at Colorado State for eight weeks this summer. The math research seminars will open June 17. A member of Alpha Chi, national honor society, and the Joseph L. Gilmore Mathematical Society, Williams is a 1959 graduate of Pampa High School. Son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Williams, he attended Frank Phillips Junior College for two years.

Only if new laws are passed to wipe out the regulatory discrimination between railroads and their competitors, if the big mergers now proposed are approved, and if featherbedding is eliminated, will railroad earning power get a truly significant lift, says the Value Line Survey. Current carrier earnings, it says, are being inflated by sizable tax savings made available in mid-1962.

Analyst James Dines says it is crystal clear that so long as the Dow-Jones industrial average does not violate its major uptrend lines on the technical charts, the bull market is alive and young. Percentages, he notes, always favor continuation of a trend in motion until an actual trend reversal occurs.

Three Harvesters Make All-District

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

Jerry Glover, Kenny Hebert and Ricky Stewart made first team on the Pampa Daily News All-District team chosen Monday and Tuesday by vote of the eight district 3-AAAA coaches.

Each coach was asked to vote for a first team and a second team at each position, except at pitcher. Coaches were asked to pick two pitchers for first team and two for second team. Coaches participating were Bobby Moegle of Lubbock, Monterey, Roy Dunn of Borger, Gus Hrcir of Amarillo, High, Bill McElduff of Palo Duro, Ben White of Plainview, Jack Rice of Tascosa, Earl Parker of Lubbock High School and Ray Howard of Pampa.

Fullerton Utility
One oddity in the voting was in the case of Jimmy Fullerton of Lubbock. The hard-hitting combination of third baseman-outfielder received votes both at third base and in the outfield. Most of the coaches said that it would be unfair for Fullerton not to make the team because his votes were split; yet it would not be fair to crowd a player out of a berth he had received more votes in. Most of the coaches suggested making Fullerton a fourth outfielder. However, since his 40 points, received on the basis of 10 points for a first place vote and five for a second, were more than Jerry Glover of Pampa and Billy Carthel of Plainview received at third base, and less than the top four outfielders received, it was decided to make him the all-around utility man on the district dream team.

Another oddity in the votes gave Danny McDougall of Plainview a first-place in pitching over Glover. Coach Gus Hrcir of the Sandies said that he could not decide which of the top three pitchers in the league, McDougall, Glover and Big Joe Robinson of Borger, were better, and voted all three to the first team. Robinson led with 55 points on five first place votes and one second, but the tie gave McDougall 45 points on four firsts and a second to Glover's 40 markers on three firsts and two seconds.

Glover Doubles
Although a number of other players received votes both as a pitcher and a fielder, Glover is the only one to make the top two teams in both divisions, tying with Carthel as Glover got two firsts and three seconds while Carthel had three firsts and a second team vote. Preston Wilson of Borger was the only other third baseman to get a first 10-point vote at the spot besides the pair and Fullerton and makes the second team.

Two other ties were recorded, at shortstop, where Manuel Nagar of Plainview and Gary Huey of Monterey each tied with 35 points, while teammates Ronnie Baker and Jimmy Carter of Tascosa, who alternated the post while Carter was pitching, tied for second with 15 points each; and at second base, where Stewart and Jerry Haggard of Monterey also tied with 35 points each.

Mix Out Fielders
Since a number of the outfielders nominated played more than one position, the flychasers were listed as outfielders rather than assigning them strictly to right, center and left, although Kenny Hebert was almost strictly a centerfielder, Keller Smith a left fielder and Mike Defee a right fielder. The trio just edged out Sammy Gast of Amarillo, who has only five points behind Hebert. Eldon Frost, who had 25 points for the sixth spot in the outfield, also had 10 points at first base to clinch the post.

The only positions that did not see tight races were first base, where Danny Davis was Bill Bogans' only competition and at catcher, where Joe Coffey was the only man besides Buddy Hampton to get more than two votes.

Harvesters Mentioned
Harvester players making honorable mention included Larry "Shotgun" Gregory with a first place and second place vote, Ricky Maynard with three second-place votes, Ken Collins with two second-place votes, and Eugene "El Bandido" Madrid with a first and a second place.

The starting lineup features such power as Glover's .395, Bogans' .408, Defee's .427, Smith's .381, Haggard's .361, Huey's .325 and the league's leader in Hampton with a tremendous .559. Power is supplied by Glover with 12 doubles, four triples and two home runs; Defee with nine doubles, two triples and three homers, and Bogans with three doubles, a triple and two home runs.

The pitching includes McDougall's 6-1 district record and 13-1 season mark, with a 1.97 ERA and Big Joe's 8-3 record, backed by Glover's 6-4 district mark and 2.17 ERA.

All-district certificates will be awarded to Pampa players by the Daily News sports department.

Negro Named As Davis Cup Candidate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Arthur Ashe, a 19-year-old student at UCLA, may soon become the first Negro ever to represent the United States on a Davis Cup team. The Richmond, Va., youth was one of 11 players designated as candidates for the squad Tuesday. The others include Chuck McKinley, Dennis Ralston, Frank Froehling, Allen Fox, Charles Pasarell, Martin Riessen, Cliff Buchholz, Tom Edelsten, Gene Scott and Don Dell.

"This is not to be construed as our definite squad," said team captain Bob Kelleher. "But these are the players who, on their records, must figure in our (1963) plans."

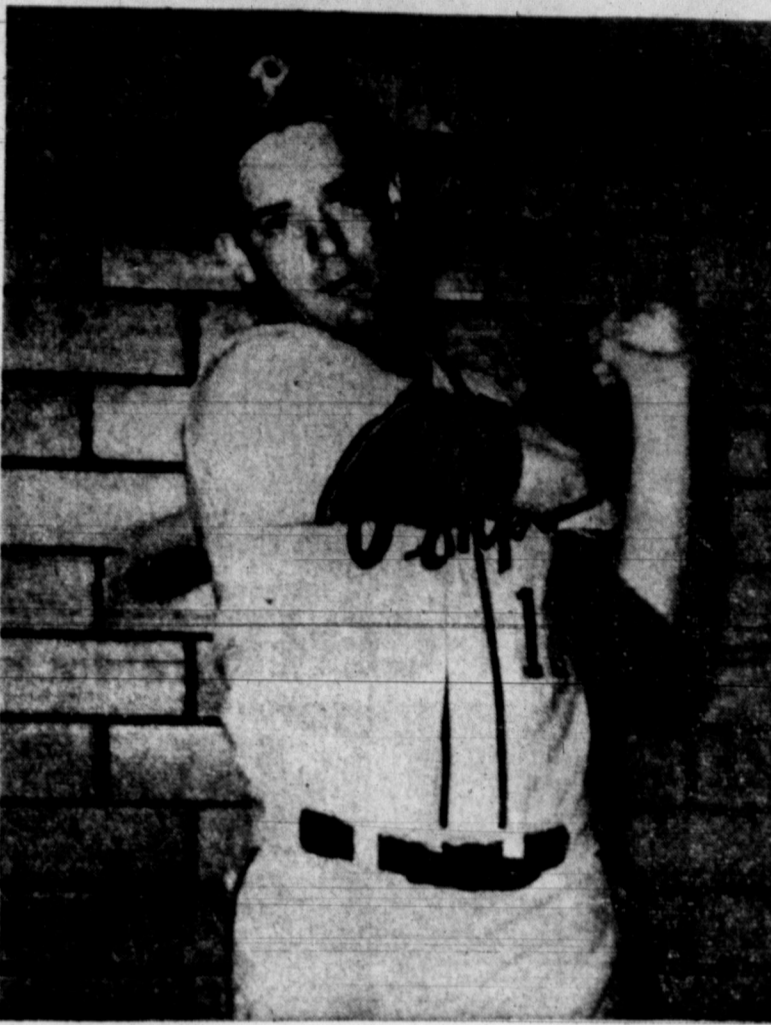

Kelleher had this to say about Ashe: "This boy has talent running out of his ears. He is the finest Negro tennis prospect we have ever had."

"He is thin as a rail, but extremely strong. He has the God-given talent of being able to make every shot in the book."

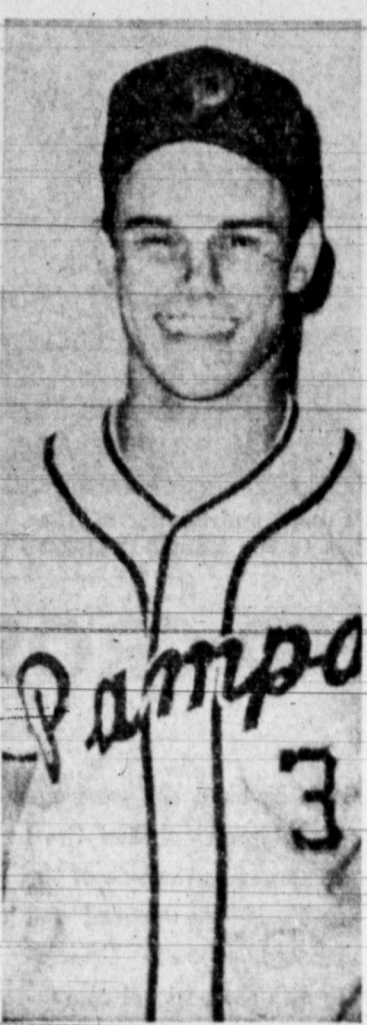

Kelleher registered a strong complaint against UCLA and Southern California, both of whom are insisting that their tennis players compete in the national intercollegiate tourney at Princeton, June 17-22.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association laid aside its racked and began swinging with brass knuckles today in an attempt to get Uncle Sam's derailed Davis Cup express back on the tracks.
The United States for 17 consecutive years was in the challenge round, meaning the Davis Cup finals, and eight times carried off the big chunk of silver. But the past three years we haven't made it and last year we barely got off the pad, winning only one match.

Yet with plenty of talent on hand this time around, Davis Cup captain Bob Kelleher has hauled off and blamed the selfishness of UCLA and the University of Southern California for damaging our prospects.
They, respectively, "own" Charles Pasarell and Dennis Ralston, two of our hotshots. In payment for tennis scholarships they insist that their lads pay off on the investment by shooting for the intercollegiate crown at Princeton June 13-22.

Kelleher, a California attorney, wants them released to uncle so they can hook up with Chuck McKinley of Trinity and right from the start in our first match against Iran June 14-16 form a triumvirate which might go all the way to the challenge round.

The tall, handsome Kelleher didn't pull any punches as he surveyed the situation.
"The universities don't see eye to eye with me," he said bluntly. "I think they're wrong and I wish they could be persuaded to see it our way. There's no question but what the boys would prefer to play in the Davis Cup and the schools should recognize their obligation to the country."

Kelleher lists Uncle Sam as "having a lot of talent" in the college ranks but makes no secret of his desire to corral the "big three" and keep them together for the full shot at Australia.
"As it is," he explained, "they'll be on their own through Wimbledon, through the clay court championships at Chicago and we won't be able to form our team until two weeks prior to our match with Mexico."

The team, it might be added, which knocked us off in the second match, we played last year.
Kelleher, running through our hopefuls, named a dozen lads but in this fashion: "Frank Froehling has a long way to go to make our team," and "Allen Fox doesn't look like a world class player," etc.
"We can't win on quantity," he pointed out. "We have to do it with quality. You do it with one

Archie Moore Drops From Top 10 Ranks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, 47 going on 50, was dropped completely out of the Ring Magazine's top 10 rankings today for the first time in memory of modern man.

Mustachioed and sometimes-goateed Archie, who had come up through the light heavyweight rankings to the light heavy title and then had shifted into the heavy division, did not have far to drop this time.
In the last previous monthly list of ring rankings, the ancient San Diego (Calif.) swatter had been hanging by his fingernails on the 10th notch. Now, because of inactivity, he was dropped completely out.

His last bout of any importance, at least, was on Nov. 15, when he was knocked out by Cassius Clay at Los Angeles in the fourth round, just as "Gasseous Cassius" had predicted. That was Moore's 25th defeat in 225 bouts.
Ex-heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden was unexpectedly boosted a notch from fifth to fourth because of his decision victory over Brian London of England at Stockholm, Sweden, on April 21, although Ingemar apparently was saved from a knockout by the final bell.

Philadelphia's Ernest Terrell's unexpected victory over Cleveland Williams of Houston, Tex., boosted Terrell into the top 10 heavies at Moore's old station. No. 10, Williams dropped from fourth to sixth.
Ralph Dupas of New Orleans was named "Fighter of the Month" for winning the junior middleweight crown from Denny

Red Sox in First, Mets Down Phils

Pesky, Pitching Start Boston Off

BOSTON (UPI) — There are two words needed to explain why the Boston Red Sox are off to their best start in 10 years: Pesky and pitching.

Rookie Manager Johnny Pesky has instilled a new spirit and a strong young pitching staff completes the new look of a team that so often in the past has been all muscle at the plate and all thumbs in the field.

The combination has the Red Sox occupying first place in the American League today — a heady experience for the survivors of last season's eighth-place bumblers.

The Red Sox reached the top rung for the second time this season when they beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-1, Tuesday night to give them six victories in their last eight games. Earl Wilson, 12-8 including a no-hitter last year, fired a three-hitter and struck out seven to raise his 1963 mark to 3-2.

Roberts Loses Again

Lu Clinton homered, Frank Malone had three hits and Chuck Schilling, Carl Yastrzemski and Roman Mejias had two each to lead the Red Sox' 12-hit attack that dealt 1962 comeback of the year star Robin Roberts his fourth consecutive loss of 1963. Boog Powell doubled home the Orioles' run.

The Detroit Tigers beat the New York Yankees, 6-2; the Los Angeles Angels topped the Minnesota Twins, 2-0; the Cleveland Indians defeated the Washington Senators, 7-3, in 11 innings and the Chicago White Sox edged out the Kansas City Athletics, 2-1, in other AL games.

Bill Freehan, $100,000 bonus catcher, scored three runs and drove in two with a homer, triple and double to lead Detroit's ninth-inning attack on Bill Stafford and two successors, Don Mossi, beating the Yankees for the second time this season, allowed seven hits, no walks and struck out four.

Pitches Three-Hitter

Ex-Yankee Bob Turley pitched a three-hitter to win his first game for the Angels, who purchased him conditionally from New York last October. Turley, a 21-game winner in 1958 who has had a variety of arm ailments for the last three years, struck out nine and didn't walk a batter.

Leon Wagner continued his fine hitting for the Angels with two singles and a run batted in. Pinch-hitter Johnny Romano's two-run double and Al Luplow's two-run single were the big blows of a four-run 11th-inning rally that carried the Indians to their fifth straight win. Bob Allen, the fourth Cleveland hurler, was the winning pitcher. Four Senators were ejected from the 3-23 struggle by Umpire Al Salerno.

Gene Green Will Talk to Indians' Boss

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Outfielder Gene Green of the Cleveland Indians planned to fly to Washington today to try to "straighten things out" with Manager Birdie Tebbets who suspended him for jumping the team.

Green, who was disgruntled when used sparingly by Tebbets this season, said he talked by telephone with the Cleveland manager but that he would have to talk with him in person.

"If I can't straighten things out, I'm going to go back home," Green said. His wife and family live in St. Louis where Green played for the Cardinals 1957-1959.

The 25-year-old player took a room in the House of Serfas Hotel here Monday as the team traveled to Washington for a series with the Senators.

Green, who has been used as a pinch batter four times this season after hitting .280 in 66 games last year with Cleveland, said he wants to be played regularly.

He said during the weekend series with the Los Angeles Angels he "heard the Angels were trying to get me but Cleveland turned down any deal. Apparently I'm not good enough to play for Cleveland, but too good to be traded."

HSU Coach Gets the Axe

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI) — Jack Thomas, who coached Hardin-Simmons to its only football victory in the last three seasons, was fired Tuesday for "failure to follow administrative directives in the conduct of the athletic program."

Thomas, who coached at Hardin-Simmons only one year, compiled a 1-9 record in 1962. The victory came after 27 straight defeats.

George L. Graham, executive vice president of the school, announced the dismissal. His statement was short and he would not elaborate.

However, observers believe the action was related to an NCAA directive which placed the school on probation for illegal recruiting.

Al Jackson Hurts New York Win

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Casey Stengel, master of the non sequiter, reserves one of his best for pitcher Al Jackson of the New York Mets.

"If he wasn't a left-hander," says Stengel, "you'd think he was a ball player."

What Stengel means is that the 27-year-old native of Waco, Tex., moves with such grace that he would be mistaken for a shortstop or a second-baseman — except, of course, for the fact he's left-handed. As it is Jackson is a pitcher and he's turning out to be a mighty good one, too.

A 20-game loser for the former Mets of 1962, Jackson posted his third win against two defeats this year when he beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-1, Tuesday night. Jackson allowed 11 hits, including three doubles and a triple, and the Phillies had a runner in scoring position in five of the first eight innings but they didn't score until Bobby Wine homered in the ninth.

Homers Provide Runs

Charlie Neal hit an inside-the-park homer and Frank Thomas hit a two-run homer in the first inning to provide all three runs for the Mets, who have won four of their last seven games to achieve a respectability they never had in '62. Nobody is rating them a first-division threat in the strong NL but they're no longer the palsies that drove Stengel whacky last year.

Samoy Koufax and Bob Purkey, two pitchers who could be of key importance in the pennant race, provided encouraging news Tuesday night for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds.

Koufax, sidelined since May 23, pitched a five-hitter for eight innings as the Dodgers cloverleafed the St. Louis Cardinals, 11-1, while Purkey, out since spring training with a lame arm, yielding four hits and one run in 5 1/3 innings and left the game with the lead even though the Houston Colts rallied to top the Reds, 3-2.

The San Francisco Giants went back into first place with a 5-2 win over the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-4, in other NL games.

Washburn Loses First

The Dodgers backed Koufax with a 13-hit attack that included three hits by Ron Fairly, a homer by Tommy Davis, a triple by Johnny Roseboro and three doubles. Ray Washburn, who had won five straight games, was routed in three innings and suffered his first defeat.

Purkey turned over a 2-1 lead to his successor but the Colts rallied for two runs on singles by Jim Campbell, Johnny Teague, Bob Lillis and Rusty Staub in the eighth to hand Joey Jay, a 21-game winner in each of the last two seasons, his sixth straight defeat of 1963.

Juan Marichal pitched a four-hitter and Felipe Alou, Ed Bailey and Jose Pagan homered for the Giants, who replaced the Pirates in first place. Hank Aaron homered for the Braves, who saw Lew Burdette's record squared at 3-3.

Larry Jackson pitched a five-hitter and struck out seven and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs, who have won seven of their last eight games. Roberto Clemente and Smoky Burgess homered for the Pirates.

Paul Pender Retires, Tiger Now Champion

BOSTON (UPI) — Paul Pender faded into boxing's shadows today and the Massachusetts Boxing Commission prepared to join the rest of the world in recognizing Nigeria's Dick Tiger as midweight champion.

The former Brookline, Mass. fireman announced in New York Tuesday that he was calling it quits as a boxer for the second time in his career — only this time it was for keeps.

Pender, a slender, dark-haired man whose craggy nose gives the only hint of his profession, first retired from boxing some 12 years ago when brittle hands seemingly cut short his career almost before it had begun. But surgery corrected his hands and he went on to win 40 of 48 professional bouts, which included two draws.

The 32-year-old Pender said that the inability of promoters to secure television for the proposed June 1 Boston Garden bout with Joey Giardello and the present impossibility of luring Tiger into a match for the undisputed world title led him to quit.

His trainer, Al Lacy, said Pender was in "wonderful physical condition and able to beat Joey Giardello or Dick Tiger unquestionably."

But Pender said that this time his retirement was "definite." Pender, married and the father of three, would have no financial worries, according to his friends, for he had handled his money wisely. After a vacation trip to Vermont he will consider "several good positions" that have been offered to him.

Two of the three members of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, caught by surprise by Pender's announcement, indicated that it would be only a matter of days before Tiger was recognized as world midweight champ. Commissioner Tom Ravson said, "Where Tiger is recognized by all other groups as the champion, it would be just common sense for the Massachusetts Boxing Commission to regard him as the midweight champion."

Baseball's top brass agreed during a meeting here Tuesday that the confusing one-second stop requirement be eliminated from the balk rule.

However, Commissioner Ford Frick and league presidents Warren Giles and Joe Cronin emphasized that the rule is an essential part of baseball and that the pitcher must come to a stop before delivering the ball to the batter with men on bases, although not for a full second.

The two league presidents and the commissioner are agreed that the single confusing element in the present rule is the phrase "at least one second." Frick said, "A proposal will be made to the rules committee to amend the rule to eliminate this particular phrase."

Frick added that "with the elimination of the one-second stop requirement, there should be no difference now between the two leagues."

American League umpires, who have insisted all along that a pitcher merely come to a stop in his delivery with men on base, have called only eight balks this season compared to 98 by National League arbiters.

SMU Takes First Diamond Triumph

DALLAS (UPI) — Pitcher Joe Miller blanked Baylor on 2 hits Tuesday to lead Southern Methodist to its first victory of the season, 6-0.

The last conference game the Mustangs won was the season finale against Texas Christian two years ago. The victory was Miller's first in 16 starts during his three-year stint as a Mustang chucker.

Miller had a no-hitter going until pinchhitter Bob Cluck singled to open the ninth for the Bears.

The normally-punchless Mustangs belted three Baylor hurlers for 15 hits, including four by left-fielder Charles McCallum.

NL Umpires Still Calling Lots of Balks

NEW YORK (UPI) — National League umpires, despite a new interpretation of the balk rule, still are relying on their own judgment in dealing with the controversial pitch.

Two balks were called in four NL games Tuesday night — one against Bob Purkey of the Cincinnati Reds and the other against Ray Washburn of the St. Louis Cardinals. None were called in five American League night games.

Spring Game Changed to Saturday

Coach Otis Holladay announced this morning that due to other school activities being previously scheduled for Friday evening, the annual junior-senior spring training game will be played Saturday night at 8 p.m. at Harvester Field.

The game, between this semester's juniors who will be seniors when football season starts, and the sophomores who will be juniors, will feature approximately 20 upperclassmen against about 30 juniors.

"With the fine battle the youngsters have been putting up against the lettermen in scrimmages," said Holladay, "Saturday night's game and another next weekend will do a lot to determine who will be next season's starters."

Holladay urged all fans to attend the game and get a preview of what next year's squad would look like. "I think we have a great bunch of boys here," said the Harvester headman, "a team that is really going to be tough next year if spring training is any indication."

58TH YEAR WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1963 9

Ewbank Hires New Coaches

NEW YORK (UPI) — Weeb Ewbank, head coach and general manager of the New York Jets, today announced the addition of three new coaching aides to the American Football League club.

Signed for the 1963 season were offensive line coach Charles Knox, defensive line coach Walter E. Michaels and defensive coach Jack E. Donaldson.

Knox, 31, currently serving as an assistant coach at the University of Kentucky, is regarded by Ewbank as one of the "finest young offensive coaches in the nation."

Michaels, 33, a veteran of 10 years as a player with the Cleveland Browns and one with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, was a coach with the Oakland Raiders of the AFL last season. The 35-year-old Donaldson last worked as an assistant coach at the University of Toledo.

Defeating 'Enemy' Begins at Home

One of the most common devices employed by criminals seeking to bring off a major robbery is to create a diversion at some point other than the target of their depredation.

A similar tactic is standard operating procedure in the military hand-book on aggression. If you want to capture Objective X, you create a mock attack on Objective Y.

In short, if you want to rob the house, set the barn on fire. With this simple reminder, let us consider the danger besetting us thru the advent of alien philosophies in our country.

Reciprocal Marketing on Main St.

Most of us have had the experience in a big city store, of being confronted by half a dozen makes of an article we had asked to see.

What is needed to rescue the shopper from this ridiculous, but common situation, and to improve business for both the manufacturer and the dealer, R. Harvey Whidden, marketing head of the Bulova Watch Company told the Pittsburgh Advertising Club.

"Merchants owe some loyalty," he said, "to good, dependable product makers. If the merchant is convinced it is a quality product and the manufacturer is doing his best to back up the merchant with facts, selling aids, product warranty and service, one way he can readily 're-

Anyone who has ever nursed a mouthful of misery until he had the money to pay for proper dental care will eye with twinging interest the growth of two dental pay plans.

In the first type of financial operation a patient receives necessary services and then makes payments to a bank. The bank has a contract with the dental society to which our friendly dentist belongs.

The dentist gets his money promptly, the patient gets relief, and the bank extracts interest from the patient — without novacain.

Almost $90 million has been financed in California alone by post-payment plans over the last 10 years, according to the American Dental Association.

Administration Seeks to Whitewash Oppenheimer

Pernicious influences are zealously at work in Washington. Although some of the political pundits on Potomac will vigorously challenge that accusation, they cannot refute it.

WHEAT REFERENDUM

The Wheat Referendum poses a dire threat to the American wheat farmers and to total American Agriculture.

If approved, this plan would create the first major step leading towards the complete control of all agricultural commodities and livestock under the dictatorial control of a Central Federal Government.

Fulbright Hamstrings Foreign Relations Committee to Block Bipartisan Challenges on Cuba, Nuclear Ban, Disarmament

WASHINGTON — Congress has been in session four months, but astonishingly one of its most important committees — the lofty Senate Foreign Relations Committee — is still unorganized and largely at loose ends.

Cause of this extraordinary backstage muddle is an apparent effort by Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., to set up one-man rule.

Heartily supporting him in this ambitious power grab are key Kennedy administration officials, foremost among them members of the White House staff.

It is this threatening bipartisan opposition that is prompting the one-man rule drive. Apparently the administration fears that unless a tight rein is imposed on the Foreign Relations Committee, it may get out of hand on these explosive issues.

This is a complete flip-flop on his part. Only two years ago, in a special committee publication listing the members of the subcommittees, Fulbright approvingly explained their purpose as follows:

"Since 1950, the Committee on Foreign Relations has maintained a series of subcommittees corresponding generally to the organization of the Department of State.

"Since World War II the U.S. role of leadership in the world has thrust new and important responsibilities upon the Congress.

But this year, Fulbright is acting very differently. MONKEY - WRENCHING THE WORKS — As a result, following are highlights of the extraordinary situation that prevails inside this august committee:

—Although this session of Congress is about half over, not one of the Foreign Relations subcommittees has been designated. Officially, they are still unorganized and not functioning.

Particular target of Fulbright and the administration is the Disarmament subcommittee headed by Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, Minn., and consisting of Democratic Senators A. B. Gore, Tenn.; Frank Church, Idaho; Stuart Symington, Mo.; and Republican Senators Bourke Hickenlooper, Ia., and George Aiken, Vt.

A majority of this strategic subcommittee are highly skeptical of the administration's Cuban, disarmament and nuclear test ban policies, particularly the latter.

The White House clearly does not want this subcommittee handling these dynamite-loaded issues, and is eager to get rid of it.

The Lighter Side

325,275th Conqueror

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Hard on the heels of the American expedition to Mt. Everest comes news of another expedition that also was hard on the heels.

this correspondent was a member, has just returned from the summit of Old Rag Mountain, Virginia.
That craggy, forbidding pinnacle, known as "the roof of Madison County," had previously been conquered only by approximately 325,275 Americans, give or take a Brownie troop and the Young Republicans Club.
Setting forth from Washington, which is the capital of the United States, we crossed the wide Potomac, a river, and drove through a region of thick, virgin suburbs.

To our delight, the roads were passable. We had been warned that they might be clogged with native vehicles.
Eventually we came to the foothills of the Blue Ridge chain and established a base camp where we took on extra supplies of ginger ale and cheese crackers.
By unanimous agreement, the post of group leader was assigned to Myron Glaser, a travel writer who was instrumental in organizing the expedition.

Glaser was chosen mainly because he has a pair of shoes with leather laces. Nothing inspires confidence like leather shoelaces.
Having assured ourselves everything was in order, we began our ascent.
After running into a couple of trees, we took our eyes off the summit and began to watch where we were going.

Among mountain climbers, there is a closeness and camaraderie that sort of brings a lump to your throat, particularly when you have been eating cheese crackers.
What a Pity
It would be a pity if the fraternal spirit that bound our group and made it possible for us to achieve our goal were shattered by rival claims over who beat whom to the summit.

It really doesn't matter which of us was approximately the 325,276th American to conquer Old Rag. The honor belongs equally to all of us.
Someone had to be content with being approximately the 325,277th, the 325,278th, etc. There wasn't room up there for everybody at the same time. Besides, crowds make me nervous.

Rather than bicker over individual credit, I propose to end my account of the expedition on a philosophic note.
