Haiti Eases Crisis; Lets 22 Political Refugees Go

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) — Haiti has agreed to the Dominican Republic's demand that 22 political refugees in asylum in the Dominican Embassy here be allowed to leave the country in safety, diplomatic sources said today.

The decision by Haitian President Francois Duvalier's government appeared to ease further the crisis between Haiti and its neighbor republic on the Caribbean island of Hispaniola.

It was communicated to Latin American diplomats as a five-man team from the Organization of American States (OAS) investigated Dominican charges that Haiti violated the embassy last Saturday while searching for opponents of the Duvalier regime.

The incident led Dominican President Juan Bosch to threaten the use of armed force unless Haiti withdrew a policeman from the embassy grounds and guaranteed the safety of Dominican diplomats and the Haitian political refugees sheltered in the embassy.

Bosch mobilized land, air and sea forces to back up the demands. Haiti withdrew the policeman Tuesday.

Granting of safe-conduct permission would permit the embassy to close down under honorable circumstances but would leave relations strained between the two countries.

Haiti broke off diplomatic relations Sunday. Bosch has charged the Haitian government backed an assassination plot against him in January and is still conviving with recently arrived members of the family of late Dominican dictator.

Joint Session Slated for Rail Men, Carriers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five rail road brotherhoods and the national carriers with whom they are involved in a work rules dispute will be brought into joint session today for the first time since mediation efforts by a presidential emergency board began April 11.

Samuel I. Rosenman, chairman of the board, warned Tuesday that a crippling nationwide strike is a "serious possibility" for June 11, when mediation efforts expire and the carriers are free to implement work rule changes.

Under the Railway Labor Act the three-man board must report to President Kennedy by May 11. The carriers and the brotherhoods then have 30 days, until June 11, to negotiate on the recommendations of the board. After that the railroads would be free to make the changes and the unions free to strike.

Thus far the board has made recommendations for changes that would abolish 65,000 jobs and raise the pay for 150,000 others. The carriers have accepted the changes but the unions have refused to agree to them.

The labor groups have refrained from issuing explicit strike threats, but have hinted they might walk out if the dispute has not been resolved by June 11.

Reds Flying Planes for Yemenites

By ED VAN KAN
United Press International
ADEN (UPI) — Soviet pilots are flying transport planes and bombers manned by Russian gunners for Yemeni republicans against royalist forces attempting to win back control of the former desert kingdom.

This correspondent saw many Russian and even Red Chinese technicians taking care of twin-engine jet fighters.

The United Arab Republic flew me to a secret airbase 16 miles north of the Yemen capital of Sanaa to see how it was supporting Republican forces.

I discovered Russians are running the Yemen republic's air force. Apart from turbo-prop transport planes flown by Russian pilots, Soviet-made jet fighters-bombers are lined up in the Yemen desert ready for air strikes against the royalists.

The Russians have the airport in firm control. They fly the more complicated jet planes, while Egyptian pilots fly old-fashioned Yak piston fighters and twin-engine Illyushin bombers and transports.

After filming and photographing Egyptian strongholds in Yemen, I was supposed to be flown out of Yemen by the Russians straight to Cairo.

But when the Russians found out a cameraman for an American news agency had taken pictures of this Soviet-guided operation they refused to take me.

The Russians forced me to empty my cameras because the activities of the airbase were supposed to be secret.

Outside the military airport, I saw hundreds of Russian and Chinese air force personnel living in tents. They are never seen circulating in downtown Sanaa.

Little Hope Now For Soviet, U.S. Breakthrough

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Officials said today that W. Averell Harriman's report on his Moscow talk with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev offered no great hope for a breakthrough on any major East-West issue.

Harriman, undersecretary of state for political affairs, reported to President Kennedy Tuesday. He spent 50 minutes at the White House telling the President about his Friday session with Khrushchev.

The Harriman-Khrushchev talk was concerned principally with Laos and Kennedy's hope that Russia would use its influence to get dissident Communist elements to cooperate with the Laotian coalition government. However, officials said, Khrushchev and Harriman also touched on nuclear testing, Berlin and Cuba.

Harriman told newsmen Khrushchev said he had "every intention" of abiding by his 1961 Vienna agreement with Kennedy on the necessity for stabilizing Laos. Khrushchev reaffirmed his support of the 1962 Geneva agreement on an independent and neutral Laos.

On nuclear testing, Khrushchev was understood to have informed Harriman that he was preparing an answer to the joint letter from Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan urging an intensified new approach to break the deadlock in the test ban treaty negotiations.

Harriman was said to have got the impression that Khrushchev was well aware of Kennedy's efforts to avoid inflaming the Cuban issue.

The Soviet leader's remarks appeared to support the feeling of officials here who believe Khrushchev is prepared to withdraw more troops from Cuba if the United States does not make too great an issue of it so he can pull them out without losing face.

Khrushchev mentioned Berlin, officials said, merely to the extent of noting that it was one of the outstanding East-West problems which still required solution.

Marine Declines Honor Reception

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Marine Capt. Arthur J. Jackson has declined an invitation to a reception at the White House on grounds that his presence might embarrass President Kennedy, it was announced today.

Piers secretary Pierre Salinger said that Jackson, a Medal of Honor winner, forced out of the Marine Corps in connection with the alleged killing of a Castro agent in Cuba, sent a wire Tuesday declining the invitation to the Thursday evening reception.

Jackson previously had accepted the invitation to the military party along with 292 other living Medal of Honor winners. The publicity surrounding his case apparently led him to change his mind.

Scholarship Bill OKayed

AUSTIN (UPI) — A bill that would provide for 100 "Good Neighbor" scholarships to be distributed to Latin American students each year was approved Tuesday. The bill, sponsored by Rep. Ronald Roberts of Hillsboro, originally made no exclusions among Latin American countries. But a committee aide an amendment excluding Cuban students from eligibility. As approved by the House, the bill would assure that the 100 tuition scholarships go to each of 20 countries.

Freeze Endangers Midwestern Crops

By United Press International
Wintery May Day weather frosted today from Kansas to Kentucky today, spread snow across Ohio, New York and western Pennsylvania, and pushed the temperature to record lows.

Louisville, Ky., and Erie, Pa., recorded 31 degrees, both May 1 records. The 29 degrees at Indianapolis was another record breaker.

In Ohio, Youngstown and Cleveland residents slushed through an inch and three inches of snow respectively.

Freezing rains and wet snow up to two inches deep fell throughout western New York, where the temperatures were in the 20s with little relief in sight.

Great Lakes vessels, slapped about by 70-mile-an-hour winds and 30-foot waves, limped to safety.

Snow showers riding high winds buffeted Pittsburgh following 30-degree readings. The snow and wind harassed firemen battling fires at opposite ends of the city.

Police Search for Car Involved in Accident

Police today were trying to locate the driver of a car involved in an accident yesterday noon at the intersection of Hazel and E. Browning St. where a 7-year-old boy was slightly injured.

Mrs. W. D. Haddock, 310 Hazel, reported to police that her son, Michael, was hit by the car as he walked south across the intersection while on his way home from school at 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Haddock said her son told her the driver stopped the car and then drove away apparently thinking the child was uninjured. Mrs. Haddock took her son to a doctor where it was determined his knee had been injured.

Aggies Shaving Heads In Protest

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Texas A&M freshmen are shaving their heads in protest against a newly approved policy of admitting women to the college on a limited basis.

Thefad developed Tuesday as the college received the first application from a woman under terms of the policy approved by directors last Saturday.

Cadet officers meted out four hours in the disciplinary "bullring" to each bald-headed freshman. But the punishment failed to stop the trend.

Mrs. Lewis M. Haupt Jr., wife of an A&M engineering professor, applied for admission for graduate study in education Tuesday.

Mrs. Haupt, whose husband graduated from A&M in 1927, is a sixth grade teacher in Crockett elementary school in Bryan.

Famous Pistol Stolen

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (UPI) — The pistol used by Theodore Roosevelt on his famous charge up Cuba's San Juan Hill during the Spanish-American War has been stolen, police reported Tuesday.

They said a thief broke into the former Roosevelt home, Sagamore Hill, and took the .38 caliber revolver from a showcase.

Integrationists Hiking, Seeking Eating Rights

By United Press International
Attempts to integrate downtown restaurants failed Tuesday in the capitals of Georgia and North Carolina.

Two biracial groups of college students were arrested in Atlanta for trying to dine in two segregated eating places, and a United Nations representative for Liberia, accompanied by a reporter and a photographer, was released service in two Raleigh, N.C., restaurants.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., four white and five Negro integrationists began a civil rights walk to Mississippi commemorating slain Baltimore postman William L. Moore. Moore was shot to death last week near Attala, Ala., while hiking to Mississippi to deliver a letter to Gov. Ross Barnett urging integration.

Miss Angie Brooks, Liberia's UN ambassador and also assistant secretary of state for the African nation, sought service at the S&W cafeteria and the dining room of the Sir Walter Hotel. She was in Raleigh on a speaking engagement.

Arthur E. Buddenhagen, general manager of the hotel, said he informed Miss Brooks that "we do not serve Negroes." He said the incident was "obviously a put up job" since Miss Brooks had a reporter and photographer with her.

The woman said a formal protest would be issued from the Liberian Embassy and she might take up the incident in the United Nations.

The Atlanta groups, including four Negroes, two white girls and a white man, were charged with violating the city's antirestaurant law. They had attempted to eat together at the Davis Brothers cafeteria and the Ship Ahoy restaurant.

TMA Endorses Kerr-Mills Act for Aged

DALLAS (UPI) — The Texas Medical Association, in the final session Tuesday of its annual meeting, endorsed the Kerr-Mills Act for medical assistance to the aged (MAA) in Texas.

The Kerr-Mills measure, now before the legislature, has been called "Texas' answer to Medicare." It would provide payments to persons 65 or over who were not getting old age assistance.

In other action, the TMA installed Dr. Robert Mayo Tenery, a Wauahatche surgeon, as president and named Dr. Max E. Johnson of San Antonio president-elect.

Johnson has been a general practitioner in San Antonio for 38 years. He will take over as TMA president in April, 1964.

Engineer To Brief Council

T. Carr Forrest of the firm of Forrest and Cotton, Dallas consulting engineers, will be in Pampa Tuesday, May 14, for a meeting with the City Commission on Pampa's sewer system improvement proposals.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer today received a letter from Forrest accepting the city's invitation to attend the meeting which will be held at night, following a regular meeting of the commission that morning.

The city manager said Forrest was asked to return to Pampa so new members of the commission could be briefed on the water and sewer report which the Dallas firm based on a survey made at the request of the former city commission.

Law Day Marked Nationally

By United Press International
A 6-foot high, 150-foot long wall in the middle of Wichita's (Kan.) main street today symbolized the sharp contrast between Law Day-USA observances and the Communists' May Day celebrations in Moscow.

The ugly, cinderblock wall, which has three strands of barbed wire strung across the top, was built as a model of the Berlin wall.

Personnel from nearby McCornell Air Force Base donned "aggressor uniforms" to patrol the wall. An armored car with a mounted machinegun was parked near the wall. Guards halted motorists driving through "Checkpoint Charlie" to give them Law Day literature.

In Cincinnati, Ohio, famed Fountain Square was converted into a Red Square for the nation's sixth annual salute to freedom under the law. Former President Harry S. Truman had been scheduled to speak but had to cancel out because of illness.

Law Day observances were sponsored in many cases by bar associations to foster respect for the law, to teach the values and duties of citizenship and the roles of law and courts in protecting individual liberties and rights.

The Loyola (Chicago) Student Bar Association planned a special seminar on the new Illinois judicial constitutional amendment. In Texas, Gov. John Connally told a "Law Day U.S.A." banquet the three major elements of a free society are "the rules of law, a political democracy and individual freedom."

Connally said the nation's tradition starts with respect for law and the "affirmation that we have consented to be governed only by law. Our law must be living and dynamic expression of our life."

The American Bar Association estimated about 100,000 programs of various kinds would be held in conjunction with law day.

Castro Views May Day Parade

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia flexed its military muscles for Cuban Premier Fidel Castro today in a May Day parade that was boycotted by United States diplomats for the first time.

The traditional rollpast of heavy military equipment included four of the medium-range missiles of the type the Russians pulled out of Cuba last fall.

But military experts said the display of armed might contained no weapons not seen before.

Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, in a keynote speech, warned that the danger of nuclear war with the United States still exists. He charged that U.S. led imperialists are pushing a policy of aggression and supporting "piratic actions" against Castro's regime.

On Lenin's Tomb
Castro, sporting a tie in public for the first time since he arrived in Russia last Saturday, shared the spotlight with Premier Nikita Khrushchev atop Lenin's tomb to watch the hour-long military and civilian parade through Red Square.

U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and his entire staff boycotted the festivities as a snub to the bearded Cuban leader. It was the first time a U. S. envoy has made such a gesture here on May Day since Washington and Moscow established diplomatic relations 30 years ago.

The visiting Cuban appeared relaxed and closely attentive during the 10-minute rollpast of armored personnel carriers, tanks, anti-aircraft guns, mammoth cannon and a large assortment of missiles.

Notably absent from the celebrations was Communist party secretary Frol Kozlov, who has been dubbed by Khrushchev as his successor.

There was no indication whether Kozlov's absence had political significance or whether he might be ill or on vacation. He has not been at any of the official functions here for Castro.

After the military show thousands of gymnasts flooded Red Square shouting "Viva Cuba" and "Viva Fidel." Civilians then took over the square with processions and displays.

No Specific Threats
Delivering the main speech from the reviewing stand, Malinovsky accused the enemies of Cuba of "grossly violating the elementary norms of international law."

"The imperialist circles of the United States lead this provocative policy," Russia's top military leader said.

Malinovsky notably made no specific threats of any military retaliation against the United States in the event of an attack on Cuba.

The military parade included tanks, which the official Tass rockets which the official Tass (See CASTRO, Page 3)

Nomination Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today approved President Kennedy's nomination of Chester Bowles to be ambassador to India.

The action was by routine voice vote although Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., announced beforehand his opposition to the nomination.

Bowles has been serving as Kennedy's special representative for African, Asian and Latin American affairs.

Also approved today by the Senate were the nominations of retired Adm. Jerald Wright as ambassador to Nationalist China and E. Allan Lightner Jr., a career diplomat, to be ambassador to Libya.

Vote Bill Pending

AUSTIN (UPI) — Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio will have to try again next week to get the House to pass his constitutional amendment lowering the voting age in Texas to 20.

Berry's proposal requires 100 votes in the House for passage. A vote Tuesday failed by four votes for passage.

MOVING TIME — The Pampa Chamber of Commerce is moving into new quarters in the Hughes Bldg. All staff members are busy at various chores in getting settled. Patsy Moore, a chamber secretary, is shown here assisting E. O. Wedgeworth, manager, in arranging the Hudspeeth out-of-city directory library, a part of the chamber's service to members. Wedgeworth said it will be the first of next week before the move from another section of the building is completed. (Daily News Photo)

General Clay's Suggestion

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
When Gen. Lucius D. Clay named Indonesia as a good place to stop sending foreign aid money he probably was speaking for a majority of Congress and, perhaps, for President Kennedy as well.
United States taxpayers have spilled $671 million into Indonesia, and for what? President Sukarno of Indonesia is an unreliable friend despite Washington's favors. He tends to nationalize foreign owned property, to play footsie with the Chinese Communists, to scorn American policies.
The Clay committee on foreign aid proposed that aid be cut off unless Indonesia "puts its internal house in order, provides fair treatment to foreign creditors and enterprises and refrains from international adventures."

Soon afterward dispatches noted that Sukarno had signed with Liu Shao-chi, Chinese Communist head of state, a manifesto endorsing the major policies of Communist China in Asia. China, in return, supported Sukarno in his international adventure of opposing the formation of a Southeast Asian state to be known as Malaysia.
Sukarno's alignment with the Chinese Communists is not much return for the vast sum of American funds mistakenly diverted to Indonesia.
President Kennedy trimmed about half a billion from his foreign aid program after publication of the Clay report. Clay sought last week to help Congress cut another $300 million.
There probably are other areas than Indonesia where the need to stop all aid is obvious and not controversial. But other areas seem to involve more dispute as to facts than agreement, even on what is the policy on which foreign aid is based.
For example, in a 1962 American Political Science Review Hans Morgenthau of the University of Chicago dissects U. S. foreign aid. Morgenthau found more confusion and misapprehension than sound policy.
Playing with Fire
Morgenthau warns that in forcing land and related social and economic reforms on backward nations, the United States is playing with dangerous fire. Such reforms, he holds, must tend to weaken the power of the economic interest on whom depends the backward nation's stability, such as it is.
Then, comes the revolution. But Morgenthau suggests that the United States is not equipped or prepared to capitalize on such a revolution whereas the local Communists as a disciplined minority can and will take it over. He cites, for example, Cuba.
In this disturbing passage, Morgenthau seems to be writing of what the United States may expect in much of South America,

Congress Could Save Money by Cutting Poisoning

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congress could save the taxpayers some money by cutting back on the federal program that now hires more than 600 government hunters to trap and poison coyotes and other animals in the Western states, according to the National Audubon Society.
In a statement to House and Senate appropriation committees, the Society said the predator-control program of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service "has grown all out of proportion to any justifiable need, is largely a waste of the taxpayers' money, is essentially in biological error, and causes losses of other valuable wildlife."
"Among the victims is the rare mountain lion, now grown so scarce as to become an endangered species in the United States."
Federal funds spent for this purpose was less than a million dollars in 1956, but by last year it had swollen to $2½ million.
"There is absolutely no evidence that will stand the test of scientific inspection," the Audubon statement said, "to indicate there are markedly more coyotes or any other kind of predators in the West now than there were six years ago, or that depredations on livestock have increased."
"If coyotes are indeed increasing and carrying off more lambs or killing more calves, then it proves only one thing: The efforts of the federal trappers have been a dismal failure."
"Many of the public grazing lands of the West are seriously overgrazed. Leading experts believe the coyotes and other predators are an essential part of the range ecology. They are needed to check the rodents that tend to increase when the grasslands are overgrazed."
The Audubon Society said it did not deny there are problems of depredations by wild animals on domestic livestock.
"But such problems are nearly always local and can be handled most efficiently by one or two highly trained specialists. This has been amply demonstrated in Missouri where only two trapper-instructors employed by the Conservation Commission take care of all livestock-damage complaints in the entire state. No federal trappers or hunters operate in the field in Missouri; the state doesn't want them. A similar system is working in Kansas."
The Society told the appropriation committees the Predator Control Program is one federal activity that "could well be phased out. The work the federal trappers do is largely unnecessary, and the part that is necessary could be handled better and more cheaply by State and local agencies and by the ranchers themselves."

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, May 1, the 121st day of 1963 with 244 to follow.
The moon is approaching full phase.
The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.
The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.
On this day in history:
In 1883, William X. Cody, better known as Buffalo Bill, staged his first "wild west" show.
In 1884, construction crews in Chicago started work on a 10-story office building to be called a "skyscraper."
In 1931, the Empire State Building, the world's tallest skyscraper, with 102 floors, was dedicated by former Gov. Alfred E. Smith in New York.
In 1960, the Soviets shot down an American U2 plane on a spy mission over Russia.
A thought for the day—American novelist Willa Cather said: "I like trees because they seem more resigned to the way they have to live than other things do."
INTEREST MAY DROP
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interest rates on home mortgages may decline modestly this spring unless home buying spirits beyond expectation, according to the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Silas F. Albert of Grand Rapids, Mich., head of the association's Committee on Economics and Research, said the conclusion was based on a survey of 327 realtors in all parts of the country.

MONORAIL PLANS ANNOUNCED
TOKYO (UPI) — Work has begun here on the world's first municipal monorail system — a two-track elevated line running nine miles between central Tokyo and its international airport at Haneda.
The monorail's 50 mile an hour trains are expected to cut travel time between the two points to 15 minutes. It now takes an hour or more to reach the airport by road during heavy traffic periods.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

THE SUPREME COURT
"I'll take this case all the way up to U.S. Supreme Court," you say. Chances are, you'll never make it. That court can only hear a few cases, involving those mostly dealing with federal or constitutional questions.
Now and then the Supreme Court hears a case from the start instead of waiting until the case goes through all the lower courts. It can hear such cases: (1) involving ambassadors and consuls, and (2) those where a State sues another or the federal government. But only about 123 such (original) cases have come before the Supreme Court in history.
Why the Supreme Court's original jurisdiction? Only three cases involving diplomats have ever come before the Court. As a rule, the State Department prefers to give the diplomat his walking papers, if his conduct might otherwise have to go to court. But only the high court may hear such cases affecting our relations with other nations, or in fact, our federal and state structure. Yet Congress allows lower courts power to hear cases involving the 50 states.
In the past the Supreme Court has helped to promote harmony by offering a forum to adjust differences among our states. What are some of the cases?
California had a dispute with Arizona over Colorado River water rights. Texas and other states claimed tideland oil rights against the federal government. As guardians of the interests of its people, states have sued other states, for example, when the other state lets its citizens discharge sewage to the harm of another state, or allows local businesses preferential treatment injuring citizens of another state. But the court will not give legal relief unless injury is real.
No one has yet solved the problem of how the Court enforces its decisions against a state. Thus in 1793 law-makers declared Georgia would hang anyone who complied with a certain unfavorable decision. In 1860 Kentucky wanted to force Ohio to give up a fugitive. The Court would not comply because the Court said it couldn't force Ohio to act.

In 1915, Virginia got a judgement against West Virginia for $15,000,000. But West Virginia didn't pay. When the Court threatened to enforce the judgement by "Appropriate remedies," West Virginia paid. Nobody knows what the Court could have done, had West Virginia failed to comply.
Sometimes the Court relies on the President or the U.S. Marshall as officers of the Court, as in Little Rock's school case.
Yet, other presidents have not cooperated so well. One said, "John Marshall (the Chief Justice) has pronounced his judgment. Let him enforce it if he can."
In the past, however, the Court has prevailed because the people have usually supported it even in its unpopular decisions. For only hard cases ever reach that Court, and people usually prefer the rule of law rather than the violence that would come if the Court was not supported.

Pledges Increase For Nursing Home

Following the second general solicitation campaign report meeting, all teams reported a total of $5586, making the grand total $81,191.

The next report meeting for all teams will be held on Friday at 10 a.m. in the campaign headquarters, 169 North Ballard.

Mrs. E. J. O'Brien, captain of team 19 is leading with $2,063.00. In the Jaycee Section, Jake Webb, captain of team number 7 is leading.

In the executive committee section, Roy Bourland is leading with $16,876.

"To date there are more than 220 persons or firms that have contributed to the community campaign to build and furnish a 50-bed Nursing-Care Home in Pampa," said Arthur Teed, campaign chairman, "and there will no doubt be nearly 2,000 more when the workers have had time to call on all of their prospects."

Teed cited the ever growing need for a 'home' such as is proposed for Pampa and the advantage of building now before the need becomes too great.

Weather

Damage was minor and no injuries were recorded.

April lent a touch of winter to northern Michigan Tuesday, where 3 1/2 inches of snow fell at Grand Rapids, the heaviest fall ever recorded this late in spring.

The diminishing storm continued to dump heavy rains across the twister-damaged Southland Tuesday, easing the threat of timber and brush fires.

Some 8 1/2 inches of rain fell at Jackson Shoals, Ala.

Winds Lash Great Lakes

The 290-foot cruise boat South America, with 43 persons aboard, rode out rough Lake Michigan waters off Muskegon, Mich., today, waiting to make repairs to a damaged engine which left it nearly helpless.

Lake Huron was battered with 70 mile winds and 38-foot waves Tuesday. The Canadian tanker Cape Transport, which had been adrift without directional, radio or steering equipment, limited for safety today under escort of a U.S. Coast Guard vessel.

A cabin cruiser missing in Lake Michigan since Sunday was found capsized Tuesday. Two men who had been aboard were missing and presumed dead but a search continued for them.

The sap of a tree doesn't always go down in the fall and rise in spring; some trees have higher moisture content in the winter.

Law Day

States, and the President by official proclamation, have designated May 1 as Law Day USA. The basic aims of Law Day are to foster increased respect for law, for independent courts which uphold the law, and for a deeper awareness of the benefits and responsibilities of citizenship.

Liberty and equality for the individual are what distinguish our system of government from communism, under which millions of people today live in fear and tyranny. No better time could be chosen to call public attention to our great heritage of individual liberty under law.

Ledger of Copperas Cove, state first vice president, Mrs. James E. Lewis of Pampa, state chairman of budget and finance; and Jack Edmondson, superintendent of schools, who was master of ceremonies for the Life Membership banquet on Monday night in the Coronado Inn and extended welcome to PTA members attending the Tuesday workshop in the First Baptist Church. (Daily News Photo)

The eighth annual Spring Conference of District 19 PTA, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, concluded its two-meeting in Pampa with an all-day session yesterday in the First Baptist Church.

Keynoting the morning session was A. H. Hooser of Austin, field representative, Texas State Teachers' Association, who stressed the state theme "Homes Create Community Strength Through Good Citizenship" and the conference theme "He increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man" (Luke 2:52). He stated that "example is the best teaching method."

The morning session was highlighted by an address by Mrs. L. L. Ledger of Copperas Cove, state first vice president, who re-vitalized the objectives of PTA: "1) development and welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church and community; 2) to raise the standards of home life; 3) to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; 4) to bring into closer relationship the home and school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of children; 5) to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education."

Mrs. Ledger expressed appreciation for being invited to participate in District 19 conference and complimented the Pampa hosts for the efficient manner in which the conference was organized.

"Your western hospitality is wonderful. And the sunsets and sunsets here, I wouldn't have missed seeing for the world," Mrs. Ledger said.

Greetings of welcome to the district conferees were extended by E. O. Wedgworth, Chamber of Commerce manager; Jack Edmondson, superintendent of schools and Mrs. Brantly Hudson, Pampa City Council president. Response was given by Mrs. J. T. Broadway of Panhandle, mental health and exceptional child chairman.

Report-of-conference committees comprised the morning workshop. Included in these were reports from Mrs. Frank Robinson of Panhandle, district vice president, credentials; Mrs. O. M. Cosby of Memphis, district parliamentarian; conference rules; Mrs. D. H. Aronofsky of Memphis, district vice president, program.

The Pampa High School Girls' Choir sang several selections under the direction of Hugh Sanders.

Following luncheon, during which organ music was provided by Mrs. H. V. Wilks, workshop resumed in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

An "S.O.S. (Strengthening—Our Services) Tool Shop" was presented in panel form by Mrs. Angus McDonald of Austin, state publications chairman; Mrs. L. L. Ledger of Copperas Cove, first state vice president; Mrs. James Lewis of Pampa, state budget and finance chairman; Mrs. Sam Reck of Phillips, vice president; Mrs. E. J. Callaway of Spearman, district public relations chairman; Mrs. Buran Pruitt of Borger, council president.

Awards presented, during the afternoon session, went to Mrs. Arling L. Cordell, membership chairman of District 19, for a total of 10,749 district members; the Oak Leaf Award for publications was presented Mrs. E. J. Callaway of Morse.

Achievement awards, presented by Sam Begert, evaluation chairman, were given Lamar; Phillips; Morse; Panhandle; Horace Mann; superior ratings; Gateway, Borger; Central, Borger; James Bowie, Borger; Crockett, Borger; Coronado, Borger; Baker, Woodrow Wilson, Austin and Travis, all of Pampa, excellent ratings.

Following invitations to serve as hosts for the 1964 Spring Conference, Shamrock was named the host city.

The 1963 Fall Workshop will be held in Wellington on Oct. 17 and the state convention is planned in San Antonio Nov. 20-22.

Approximately 211 PTA representatives were registered for the Monday and Tuesday Spring conference from Spearman, Phillips, Memphis, Gruver, Wheeler, Panhandle, Pringle, Morse, Bonaville, Pampa and Borger.

TOUCH OF ROUGE

A rosy complexion is high on the list of what's new for spring. Some women will need little or no make-up because of their naturally high color. Most of us, though, need help to attain the "pink" look desired as a companion to spring fashion colors.

Cheek rouge is important. Learn to apply it properly and discreetly for the best effect. Your cheek rouge should reflect the color of your lipstick. If you choose to wear a red, pink or orange dress or other clothes in the warm color range, you will need very little rouge. You will need more color if you wear green, blue or lavender.

Apply a fluid or cream-type rouge before you use compact or cake make-up. Apply the rouge to the highest part of your cheeks and blend it toward your ears with a damp-dry silk sponge. You will want to experiment to find the pattern that best suits your face. Complete your make-up and put on your dress. Now check to see if you need more rouge. If you do, use dry rouge applied lightly.

The glass in picture frames can be cleared of smudge by wiping with a damp cloth sprinkled with baking soda. Rinse with a clean damp cloth.

Dear Abby... Alter-Shy Romeo Wants To Go Steady

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been going steady with a man for ten years. He gave me a ring eight years ago, but as yet I haven't been able to get the wedding band. I have two other admirers who want to take me out, but we share a house so I can't go with anyone else without his knowing it. A man called me one night and my steady got mad and stayed mad for five days. Then he said, "Let's get married." I made all the arrangements and he backed out again. I am 49 and he is 59. How can I get him to marry me or get out of the picture?

ALL UPSET
DEAR ALL: For the past ten years your "steady" apparently has had all the comforts of home without a wedding ring, so you can't blame him for trying for another ten. If it's your house, tell him to move. If it's his house—it's your move. Give him his ring back and tell him you don't want to go "steady" any more.

DEAR ABBY: I hate to sound like some of those idiotic women who write and complain about their husbands, but I have a problem with mine. He has had false teeth for over ten years and nothing irritates me more than seeing Pa's teeth grinning at me from the top of his bureau while he is outside raking the leaves. Maybe I shouldn't let this bother me but I sure wish he'd keep his teeth in his mouth, where they belong. I am 72 and Pa is 74.

DEAR MA: Unless "Pa" is willing to go back to his dentist and cooperate in the matter of adjustments, you had better get used to seeing Pa's choppers grinning at you from the top of the bureau while Pa is elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: It has been very warm here all week, so I sent my daughter to school in walking shorts. She attends public school and is in the fourth grade. The shorts were not tight, too short or objectionable in any way. The principal sent her home. When I called up to find out why, he said they could not allow girls to wear "shorts" to school as it would create a "discipline" problem. Exactly what does this mean?

ANNOYED
DEAR ANNOYED: It means that if one girl wears shorts to school the other girls would follow. And the shorts would probably become shorter and tighter until they'd be wearing short shorts and possibly bikini bathing suits. I don't blame the principal.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WILLING TO LISTEN": When someone swears that he never lies — don't believe him. No liar would hesitate to make such a statement.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Scouting Scoops

The Girl Scout Gossip Line has been going full speed with thoughts of things that have to be done before the school year ends and the summer activities begin.

Many troops are ending the school year with some sort of party or get-together. Troop 26 is having a tea, while Troop 18 is planning a hamburger fry at the City Park Tuesday. Three troops, 8, 50 and 72, had a camp-out at Camp Mel Davis. Tents were set up and through a child's resentment of chores that service everybody in the family by asking for a personal and private service — a token of interest between person and person.

To children, household chores done for the benefit of everyone in the family can easily come to seem chores done for nobody's benefit. Just as we resent the electric mixer which subordinates a husband's interest in us as an individual to general interest in the family as a whole, so children can resent generalized chores.

center over the tub, so that all those drip dry cottons can be hung there and drip right into the tub. The rods are not expensive and are very handy when used this way.—MRS. G. D.

GIRLS — Before installing such a rod in the center of a shower space, be sure it is high enough to be over the head of the tallest man in your household. In a new house, both the rods could be installed at the same height and the extra one would be less conspicuous.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I am sure many readers put grocery sacks in their kitchen waste cans. To keep the sides of the sack from folding in and also to prevent leaky garbage from soaking through, my daughter (another Polly) suggests placing a paper plate in the bottom of the sack. The sack can be lifted from the container without the danger of the bottom of the bag falling apart.—MRS. H. L. K.

GIRLS — Turning the top of the bag over to form a cuff also helps keep the bag open.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — If your eye-glasses slip down on your nose when you bend, loop a rubber band around each end of the shaft of the frame that goes behind the ears. That will prevent the glasses from slipping.—MRS. P. S.

DEAR POLLY — When getting ready to go on a trip, do not pack newly ironed clothes right away. Let them hang overnight. Try to pack on a clear, dry day and you will find your clothes will be less wrinkled and will shed any wrinkles more readily than those packed when slightly damp or packed on a rainy day.—B. P.

WIND DAMAGE — A 98-mile-per-hour wind roared through Fort Worth, Tex., over the weekend and left in its wake damage estimated at $1.5 million. Seven persons were hospitalized. At the Hereford Hotel, on the north side of the city, six cars were crushed by brick when part of the west wall collapsed in the high wind. The general adjustment bureau said today insured losses from Sunday's tornadoic winds and hail would exceed $500,000 but would probably be less than $1 million. No estimate of uninsured losses was made. Earlier reports indicated winds caused damage ranging upward to $2 million. The bureau is a non-profit insurance adjustment agency. W. J. Mahoney, manager, estimated 600 to 700 buildings were damaged by the storm. City officials estimated it would take a week to clean up the storm's debris. (NEA Telephoto)

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

A deadly strategy that served to break the back of conservative political efforts in behalf of the late Robert A. Taft is showing up now in the campaign to prevent the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for President.

If the strategy could stop Taft it probably can stop Goldwater. Taft's bids for the Republican presidential nomination were strongly based in Ohio, a rich and populous state with a large electoral vote, whereas Goldwater's political base is Arizona.

The modern Republican strategy that beat Taft was to keep banging away at the idea that Taft could not win.

"Don't nominate a loser," chorused the managers of other Republicans, the Deweys, the Stanssens, the Willkies and the Eisenhowers. Notwithstanding that, barring like, none of them could win either. The strategy was to kill off Taft on charges of no vote appeal in the great eastern cities.

Liberal Chorus

"Taft can't carry New York," the GOP liberal chorused. "Can't carry Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut. Can't win."

And now what do we hear about Goldwater? We hear from Sen. Clifford P. Case, P-N. J. Case is a liberal or modern Republican. The New York Times reported last week that Case had endorsed for President Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Scarcely news.

Case accompanied that endorsement with a prediction that if Goldwater were nominated, he would be badly beaten in New Jersey. Case said Goldwater also would lose New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and, probably Pennsylvania.

This is a replay of the argument raised over the years against Taft. There is no worthwhile means of determining whether a conservative Republican could or could not carry these eastern states. The Republicans have not nominated a conservative since Alf M. Landon in 1932 or, more accurately, since Calvin Coolidge in 1924.

Landon carried only Maine and Vermont against FDR. Coolidge swept the North and West including all of the big industrial, big city states. He had taken opposition from the Democratic ticket headed by John W. Davis of West Virginia. The fat cats who help support the Republican Party are afraid to take another chance on a conservative.

Firmly Established — The liberal or modern Republicans, firmly established in the Northeast, frighten the fat cats with warnings that a conservative Republican cannot carry, for example, New York.

Goldwater supporters seek to counter these claims by claims of their own. They circulated last month among Republican state chairmen assembled here, a mimeographed draft — Goldwater pamphlet. It reproduced a mathematical calculation that against President Kennedy, Goldwater could be elected next year with 311 electoral votes, 43 more than the minimum. This calculation conceded to Kennedy New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, all of New England, Michigan, California, Oregon and Washington.

This is an argument that Goldwater doesn't need the big city states to be elected. It is assumed in this calculation that Goldwater would sweep the South, the border states and most of the Midwest. The Republican fat cats probably would like to be persuaded that all of this could come true for Goldwater. But fat cats are a timid lot, skittish and afraid to take a chance.

No Hoop Jumping

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — Chester Bowles, ambassador-designate to India, said Monday the world's new nations are not going to "jump through hoops" held out by the United States.

This country must realize, Bowles told around 700 North Carolina State College students, that new nations "are anxious to develop their own friends and have suffered under colonialism." He said the United States should design its foreign policy to help those nations which can't help themselves.

Neither as a colony nor as state did Pennsylvania ever strike any coins of its own.

Foreign Commentary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — How dead is colonialism? Well, it depends on who examines the body.

The great empires of Britain, France, Holland, Italy, Spain and Belgium have all but disappeared. Or so those European powers feel.

The Western European view of colonialism's last agony is not shared by most Africans, who are striving to break the British, Portuguese and South African hold on vast territories of Africa.

African nationalists are supported to the hilt by Asian and Communist countries, and with some reservations by Latin Americans. Indonesian President Sukarno once described present-day colonialism as a wounded tiger that is the more dangerous because it senses its life is at stake.

Soviet Get Reminder

The British, who have granted independence to 16 territories with almost 640 million population since 1945, point out often that something ought to be done about Soviet colonialism in such areas as Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania and other "captive" states.

But the Afro-Asians and Communists dismiss this suggestion as irrelevant. For all practical purposes the word "colonialism" still means the Western type.

The U.N. colonialism committee has just drawn up a list of 64 territories that it defines as areas still to be liberated under the 1960 U.N. declaration on the ending of colonialism.

The 64 territories have a total population of more than 44,450,000. They range from the 148 persons on little Pitcairn Island where the mutineers from the British ship "Bounty" put in, to Kenya, with a 7,287,000 population.

By the committee's definition, the colonial powers, and the territories they control, are:

Britain — Southern Rhodesia, Aden, Antigua, Bahamas, Barbados, Basutoland, Bechuanaland, Bermuda, British Guiana, British Honduras, British Virgin Islands, Brunei, Cayman Islands, Dominica, Falkland Islands, Fiji, Gambia, Gibraltar, Gilbert and Ellice Islands, Grenada, Hong Kong, Kenya, Malia, Mauritius, Montserrat, North Borneo, Northern Rhodesia, Nyassaland, Pitcairn Island, St. Helena, St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Sarawak, Seychelles, Singapore, Solomon Islands, Swaziland, Surinam and Caisos Islands, and Zanzibar.

Australia — New Guinea, Nauru, Cocos Islands, and Papua.

United States — Pacific Islands Trust Territory, American Samoa, Guam, and U.S. Virgin Islands.

South Africa — South West Africa.

Portugal — Angola and Cabinda, Mozambique, Portuguese Guinea, Cape Verde Archipelago, Sao Tome and Principe, Macao, and Timor.

France — New Hebrides (administered jointly with Britain).

New Zealand — Cook Islands, Niue Island, and Tokelau Islands.

Spain — Fernando Po, Ifni, Rio Muni and Spanish Sahara.

ADVOCATES ABSENCE

GULFPORT, Miss. (UPI) — State Democratic party Chairman Bidwell Adam said Monday he thinks Mississippi should stay away from the 1964 national convention "if conditions and circumstances are as hot as they are now."

"If you don't intend to support the nominee, the best thing to do is not to go to the convention," said Adam, who broke with the national party last fall when federal troops were sent to the University of Mississippi to enforce integration.

Adam said a state delegation which casts ballots for a nominee at a national convention is "morally bound" to support that nominee in an election.

New Hampshire Has First Lottery In 69 Years

CONCORD, N. H. (UPI) — Gov. John W. King Tuesday signed into law a bill establishing a state-operated sweepstakes in New Hampshire, the first in the nation since 1894.

King said "the decision to sign this legislation was not arrived at lightly. It was taken only after lengthy deliberation and introduction."

He told the legislature: "Having made the decision, you as members of the legislative branch of our state and myself representing the executive department must turn our minds and wills to the task of making the first state-operated sweepstakes in this country one that will be conducted honestly, efficiently and in compliance with the laws of the United States government."

"I am convinced this can be done," he said.

The joint session applauded the governor.

The governor, a Democrat, had until today to veto the bill, sign it into law or let it become law without his signature.

Sunderland, England, was recorded as a shipping port as early as 1346, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Good Style: Vertical Line House Siding

Vertical lines in house design are considered excellent by authorities.

That's why walls with battens are back in style, for example, and why a leading manufacturer of siding, Masonite Corporation, has in its line products that give a distinctive vertical line effect.

Vertical lines accentuate the height of a house. This is one reason for their popularity in ranch-style homes, says John Concord, housing expert for Masonite Corporation.

Broad expanses of siding look better, too, when they have lines to give some variety in the appearance.

Lumber dealers report that builders frequently buy Masonite Sunline Siding with its integral, built-in battens, to get the effects they and their customers seek. Other popular hardboard exteriors are X-ninety V-Grooved siding, Panelgroove and X-ninety Panel Siding, to which the contractor nails lumber battens.

Farmers Told To Vote No in Referendum

WACO (UPI)—The president of the Texas Farm Bureau urged farmers again today to vote "no" in the May 21 referendum on the administration's certificate plan for wheat.

"The 1952 wheat act is the first step in the supply-management program for agriculture," C. H. Davaney, bureau president, said in a statement. "One phase of it provides for compensatory payments.

"Proposals for compensatory payments are being made for cotton and other agricultural commodities. Certainly if we use this approach to one commodity, we will have to do so for others. We believe this to be unsound and dangerous to our economic and political system.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — London isn't a bad town. When people there talk about Oscar, at least they're generally referring to Wilde and not Levant.

But there are problems too. For one thing, it wasn't so long ago that the Queen was finally able to get hot water 24 hours a day. And of course there is the smog, to which ABC-TV's "Close-up" devoted a special half-hour study Tuesday night focusing on London as a sample of the world-wide urban problem.

Despite years of jokes by Chamber-of-Commerce Hollywood comedians, smog, as Tuesday night's program pointed up, is not funny. With the tourist season coming on, British travel organizations are not likely to be thrilled by the show's reminders of the 30,000 deaths a year caused by England's polluted air.

Speed Limit Not Necessarily Safe

Everyone is familiar with the signs along the highways placed there by the proper authorities, indicating the "speed limit" in miles per hour. They are there for a definite purpose — protection.

The "speed limit" as shown on the sign is not necessarily the "safe speed." It is the maximum speed permitted by law under ideal conditions. It is never permissible to drive at a speed greater than is reasonable or prudent, considering the dangers that may exist on the road according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The operator of a motor vehicle must be able to recognize special hazardous conditions and to slow down at intersections, curves, hills, tops, road repairs and for pedestrians, the department says.

'Washed-Up' Curt Simmons Wins 4th

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Take all those reports that Curt Simmons is washed up, wring thoroughly and then hang them out to dry.

Someone apparently made out the wrong laundry ticket on the 33-year-old St. Louis Cardinals southpaw.

Simmons underwent the first crisis of his career when he mangled two toes on his left foot while mowing his front lawn in 1953.

Some felt he was through when he was sent back to the minors in 1959 and most experts were sure of it when he drew his unconditional release in 1960 after 13 seasons with the Phillies.

But along comes this same Simmons with his fourth straight victory Tuesday night and pitches the Cardinals into first place in the National League by beating the Milwaukee Braves, 2-1.

The veteran left-hander no longer owns the blazing fast ball that brought him a $65,000 bonus from the Phils 16 years ago but he still has enough stuff to make the Cards happy they signed him as a free agent three seasons back.

Allows Four Hits

Simmons limited the Braves to four hits and fanned eight in going the distance for the fourth time. His current 4-0 start is in keeping with his break from the barrier last year when he won his first five straight games.

Bothered by arm trouble down through the years, Simmons was hardly bothered at all by the Braves as he turned in the 14th victory of his major league career.

Frank Bolling tagged him for a first inning homer, after which Simmons held the Braves hitless until the seventh. The Cards had no easy time either with 24-year-old Denny Lemaster, who also struck out eight and allowed four hits during the seven innings he pitched.

They scored their first run off him in the fourth and Julian Javier's homer in the fifth proved to be the clincher.

Rain threw a damper on the major league schedule for the second straight night, washing out four other scheduled National League games and two American League contests.

Angels Beat Yankees

In the AL games that were played, the Los Angeles Angels beat the New York Yankees, 6-3, and the Minnesota Twins defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 8-1.

Ken McBride of the Angels had a no-hitter going against the Yankees for six innings but still needed help when the losers rallied for two runs in the ninth.

Second baseman Billy Moran, back in the lineup after a four-day layoff due to an ankle injury, drove in two of the Angels' runs with a home run and a double while Leon Wagner accounted for two more with a pair of singles.

Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris playing together for the first time this season, each collected one hit and that was during the fifth inning rally. McBride yielded five of the Yanks' seven hits in winning his second game. Ex-Dodger Stan Williams was charged with his first defeat after being rallied for five runs in the eighth.

Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles each collected a pair of doubles in the Twins' 14-hit attack against the Orioles. Minnesota built a 3-1 lead off loser Steve Barber (4-2), then rallied for five runs at the expense of reliever Dick Hall in the eighth.

Camilo Pascual, who lost his first three games of the season, posted his second victory. He gave up 11 hits and aided his own cause by driving in two runs with a pair of singles.

Pampa Queens Hold Tryouts

The Pampa Queens, local girls softball team going into their third year of competition, announces tryouts for tomorrow and Friday nights this week and Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday night of next week.

Tryouts will begin at 7 p.m. at the North Hobart ball park. All girls and women from 15 years olds up are eligible to play. Anyone desiring further information on the Queens is asked to call Neva Hale at MO 9-5653.

Pennel Tops Pole Vault Mark Again

MONROE, La. (UPI) — John Pennel, who says 17-foot pole vaults are just a matter of time, Tuesday night bettered Brian Sternberg's three-day old unofficial world record with a leap of 16 feet 6 1/2 inches.

The Northeast Louisiana State College vaulter also barely missed on three tries at 16-9 in a meet with Northwestern Louisiana.

It was the third time in less than six weeks that Pennel had bettered the recognized world record of 16-2 1/2 held by Pentti Nikula of Finland.

Sternberg, of the University of Washington, last Saturday broke Pennel's unofficial world record of 16-4 by clearing 16-5 in the Penn Relays.

Northeast Louisiana Coach Bob Groseloc said Pennel's performance Tuesday night followed two 16-6 vaults in weekend practice.

Northeast won Tuesday night's meet 81-60.

NO CEILING — John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State regained the world pole vault record with a 16' 6 3/4" leap yesterday after his 16' 4" mark had been topped only last Saturday by Brian Sternberg of Washington with a 16' 5" leap. Sternberg admitted after his record jump that he doubted that it would last much more than 24 hours. With the fiber-glass pole in full swing, Pennel's record may again be broken any minute.

SEGUIN, Tex. (UPI) — Catcher David Kruger banded out three hits in five trips to the plate Tuesday to lead Southwestern University to a 4-3 Big State Conference baseball victory over Texas Lutheran.

THE BEST — Jerry Glover, who leads the team in almost every hitting and pitching department, took his sixth district win yesterday to practically clinch third place for the Harvesters. Big Jerry will close out his high school career Friday as he attempts to pitch and bat Pampa into second place in the loop.

Quail Beats Mobeettie to Clinch Crown

MOBEETTIE (Spl)—Quail clinched the district baseball championship yesterday as sophomore Dale Morris hurled the Quails to a 14-3 win over Mobeettie.

Morris, winning his fifth straight game, gave the Quails a 5-0 district record with one game left to play. Samnorwood and Hedley, tied for second, have each lost two games, and cannot tie even if Quail should lose their final.

Morris had to hurl only five innings, due to the league's 10-run rule, but struck out nine batters in that stint, including the entire side in the second inning, while walking only two. His mates got 13 hits to support him, all singles except for Russell's solo home run in the fifth. Morris led his own cause with three hits.

Terry Johnson led the Hornets with a single and a home run in two at-bats. The only other extra-base blow was a leadoff double by Eddie Hodges in the bottom of the first, but Hodges was thrown out at home as he tried to score on Ray Corcoran's single.

Mobeettie closes out their season at Hedley next Tuesday. Coach Paul Morris has nominated Charlie Risner as the starting pitcher as the Hornets try to take one win for the season.

Herb Score Loses First Mound Start

Herb Score, who has essayed more comebacks than Sugar Ray Robinson, finds himself in the unenviable position of having to prove he can pitch in the International League.

The 28-year-old Indianapolis left-hander, who now tries to accomplish by guile what he once did by blazing speed and a swerving curve ball, made an unsuccessful and losing debut as a starter Tuesday, night in the Indians' 4-2 loss to Richmond in the opening game of a doubleheader.

Score, who in his only other outing gave up two runs in three innings in a relief role against Buffalo April 21, was touched for three runs in four innings, including home runs by outfielder Jack Davis and Al Downing, the Richmond pitcher.

Indianapolis evened the score in the nightcap, 4-2, with outfielder Ken Barry's two-run homer in the second inning providing the winning margin.

ENTER THUNDERBIRD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus, the big three of professional golf, have entered the 100-man field that will tee off in the $100,000 Thunderbird Invitation Classic at the Westchester Country Club June 12-16.

Pampa Defeats Palo Duro, 5-2

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters took a 5-2 win over Palo Duro here yesterday to move within half a game of second place in District 3-AAAA, with the crucial and final game coming up Friday.

The win gives the Harvesters an 8-5 record, while Borger lost to drop to 8-4. Tascosa is half a game behind Pampa, with Amarillo half a game behind the Rebs. A win by Pampa at Borger Friday could give them at least a tie for second place, regardless of the outcome of the Borger-Tascosa game Saturday. A loss could find them in either third or fourth place, depending on the other final tilts Saturday.

Four-Run First

Pampa virtually sewed up the game with a four-run first inning as Jerry Glover and Mike Vachon both pitched excellent ball, with tremendous fielding support behind them. Glover gave up six singles, four of the scratch variety, struck out five and issued no walks. Vachon gave up five singles, struck out six and walked but one. Pampa piled three of their hits, coupled with the Dons' two errors for their four-run first, and clinched it when Jerry Garrison stole home in the fifth inning.

Palo Duro bunched three of their hits and Pampa's lone error in the fifth inning for both their runs.

Outstanding in the field for Pampa was senior shortstop Ken Collins, playing his last game before the home folks, while second baseman Ralph Sadler played a tremendous game to back up Vachon.

Double Play

Darrel Garrison opened the game with a scratch single between short and second. Terry Simpson laid down a perfect bunt to sacrifice Garrison to second, but when third baseman Kyle Vann came in on the bunt, Simpson dashed for third. Vann and Ricky Maynard's perfect peg both got there one step ahead of him to kill the threat.

Jerry Garrison opened the home half with a walk, stole second, and moved to third on Eugene "El Bandido" Madrid's perfect bunt, which was good for a single. Ricky Stewart then laid down a bunt to try to squeeze Garrison home, but Vachon grabbed it and threw to catcher Doug Walsler to get Garrison at home.

Hot Bats

Jerry Glover struck out, but Kenny Hebert then blooped a Texas Leaguer down the right field line to score Madrid. Pickie Maynard lashed a solid hit through the middle of the diamond to score Stewart and Shotgun Gregory hit a bouncer to first base. Dean Redding bobbled the ball, allowing

Stolen Home

Glover then runner the next seven Dons in a row, aided by two outstanding fielding plays by Maynard and Claude Middleton. Pampa picked up another tally in the bottom of the fifth as Jerry Garrison gave the Dons a dose of their own medicine, singling, stealing second, moving to third on a wild pitch, and then stealing home to make the final score 5-2.

Law Day, 1963

Today has been proclaimed by the President as Law Day. Since it is not a legal holiday, we have seen no reason to lead up to it with fanfare. On the other hand, it does provide a suitable occasion on which to reflect upon the very nature of law.

Let us refer to one Frederick Bastiat, a Frenchman, who published — over 100 years ago — an eloquent definition of law. His book, "The Law," has become a classic. He says:

"What, then, is law? It is the collective organization of the individual right to lawful defense."

"Each of us has a natural right — from God — to defend his person, his liberty, and his property. These are the three basic requirements of life, and the preservation of any one of them is completely dependent upon the preservation of the other two."

"If every person has the right to defend — even by force — his person, his liberty, and his property, then it follows that a group of men have the right to organize and support a common force to protect these rights constantly. Thus the principle of collective right — its reason for existing, its lawfulness — is based on individual right. And the common force that protects this collective right cannot logically have any other purpose or any other mission than that for which it acts as a substitute."

"Thus, since an individual cannot lawfully use force against the person, liberty, or property of another individual, then the common force — for the same reason — cannot lawfully be used to destroy the person, liberty, or property of individuals or groups."

"If this is true, then nothing can be more evident than this: The law is the organization of a common force for individual defense. And this common force is to do only what the individual forces have a natural and lawful right to do: to protect person, liberties and properties; to maintain the right of each, and to cause justice to reign over us all."

M. Bastiat then proceeds to examine the law in practice. He points out, as above, that the law was created to protect citizens from illegal plunder of their property. But he then demonstrates that the law is usually converted into an instrument of legal plunder — meaning that the law commits the theft for which the individual would be punished, were he to attempt it.

"... how is this legal plunder to be identified? Quite simply. See if the law takes from some persons what belongs to them, and gives it to other persons to whom it does not belong. See if the law benefits one citizen at the expense of another by doing what the citizen himself cannot do without committing a crime."

How many such laws do we have in America today? Farm subsidies, foreign aid, public power, subsidized lending and insurance — and on and on indefinitely.

Law Day, 1963, should be our day to rededicate ourselves to the American way, the American system of law — in which the law is utilized to protect the life, liberty and property of individuals, rather than to plunder those individuals. That way is rapidly leaving us — but we have it within our power to restore it. Are we willing?

(Editor's note: A copy of "The Law" can be obtained for only $1 from The Foundation For Economic Education, Irvington-on-Hudson, N.Y.)

The Function of Conscience

There is a difference between right and wrong. There has always been.

Furthermore, deep down inside ourselves, each of us knows it. There is a tiny area of self-awareness which is called conscience that tells us when we are thinking or acting in violation of what is right. This has been referred to as a "still, small voice."

Psychologists might refer to it as the mores of a particular group culture derived from environment.

The fact is that science and ordinary experience among ordinary people confirm the existence of some sensory center which informs us when we are acting in violation of the rights of others.

Now, of course, it is possible for persons to persistently and habitually disregard that still, small voice. Indeed, it is possible for whole groups of persons such as a community or a religious group or a race or even a whole nation, to be conditioned by skilled application of propaganda so that the conscience still works. It merely shifts the direction of its warnings.

This is the phenomenon sometimes known as war psychosis or war hysteria. Normal men will be warned by their consciences that it is immoral to murder. The very idea of it will be so abhorrent that they will shudder at the thought.

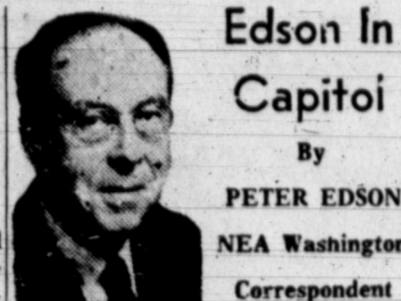

And in Japan we have been in favor, out of favor and back in favor.

Yet, we look at ourselves and believe that we changed not at all. We are, in our minds, the same kind, generous, forgiving, freedom-loving people we have always been. Give Japs or Germans a chance and they will express themselves similarly as they view their own nations and their own behavior. Yet, in those periods when our hostile feelings coincided, bloody and devastating wars were fought.

The problem, then, is not to argue that there is or is not a conscience.

The problem is to recognize what its function is and then to strengthen it by bearing its warning to both ends and means which are in harmony with ultimate peace and freedom.

This is difficult. But it is not impossible. It calls for the development of individual character, the surest means at our disposal to prevent a shift in our reaction to evil, so that we do not adopt evil as a means of helping to eliminate evil.

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The most succinct, nonpartisan, constructive presentation of problems faced by the United States at home or abroad — and what individual citizens can do about them — may be found in a 32-page pamphlet now being offered free by The Advertising Council.

The title is "Challenge to Americans" with a subtitle, "The Struggle We Face and How to Help Win It."

More than 150,000 copies have been distributed. With a newspaper good will advertising campaign coming up in the near future, the hope is that a million copies will be put in circulation — maybe more.

In a world and in a country where the clamor and confusion of carping criticism by lame brain extremists has become the theme song for national and international despair, "Challenge to Americans" is inspirational in a frankly do-good approach.

It opens with a two-page foreword by President Kennedy and a one-page foreword by former President Eisenhower. This gives "The Challenge" bipartisan backing in place of the usual bickering heard in Congress and country.

Excerpt from Kennedy: "We must match great challenges with great achievements."

Excerpt from Eisenhower: "The important thing is to do something."

After the introductions come five two-page easy-to-read chapters: The Challenge of the Awakening Peoples, The Scientific and Technological Challenge, The Challenge of International Cooperation, The Communist Challenge and The Challenge of Our Own Permanent Revolution.

After each chapter is a one-page list of short suggestions on "What You Can Do to Help" meet each of these challenges. Here are random samples from each list of suggested actions:

"Learn more about our neighbors around the world. Keep up with the news. Commend those local newspapers, television and radio stations which give full attention to news interpretation."

"Through PTAs, the press, the ballot box, join with other citizens in working for better and more science courses in schools."

"Study the purposes of international organizations."

"Study communism, its background, tactics and goals. Rely on the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the appropriate agency to investigate possible subversive activities within the U.S. Discourage self-appointed vigilante groups from attempting to perform such delicate functions. Avoid the extremes of complacency and despair. Have confidence in the final outcome."

"Do your part in encouraging law observance and the prevention of crime and juvenile delinquency."

"Become better informed on our dynamic American economic system. Participate in the 'You Are Challenged' program to consider our national goals. Write to The American Assembly, Columbia University, New York 27, N.Y."

The Advertising Council, which gives all this free advice is the public service organization representing all U.S. advertising media. It was born in World War II, but it has kept up its support of worthy causes for 20 years under both Democratic and Republican administrations.

It has contributed talent, time and space at its own expense to promote safety, savings bond drives, forest fire prevention, aid to higher education, freedom from hunger, physical fitness and mental health, Radio Free Europe and Peace Corps recruiting. All these are continuing programs.

In tackling the new "Challenge to America" drive, however, the council got into a new field of promoting abstract ideas.

After two years of preparation, says Council President Theodore S. Repplier, "We have launched a campaign of such potential usefulness as to dwarf anything we have done in peace-time."

There is a final "Call to Greatness" facing a full-page picture of the Liberty Bell in the pamphlet, from which a few lines may be worth quoting to give the flavor of the thing:

"This nation was forged in the crucible of rebellion. Today's America has emerged from the challenges of yesterday. We are in for a long struggle. It is a time for each of us to do, something extra... which contributes to our nation's strength, unity and progress."

The state of Washington has 2,656 miles of salt water shoreline, including 1,114 miles of island shoreline.

Allen-Scott Report
Warn Soviet Widens Gap, Deploys Anti-Missiles While U.S. Keeps Superior Nike-Zeus Unproduced

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary McNamara's adamant refusal to permit the Army to put its powerful Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile into production for early deployment around major U.S. population centers and other key targets is in direct contradiction to what Russia is doing with a comparable weapon.

Not only is the Soviet producing ballistic anti-missile missiles in quantity, but it is deploying them in considerable numbers for the protection of vulnerable military targets.

Already an extensive complex of at least 30 anti-missile missiles, manned by full crews, has been established in a 100-mile arc around Leningrad.

Particular significance of this massive defensive system — whose existence is fully known to both President Kennedy and Secretary McNamara — is that these missile killers safeguard the air approach over which 90 per cent of the intercontinental ballistic missiles fired from the U.S. at Moscow would have to pass.

The same is true of the shorter-range Polaris missile that might be launched from nuclear submarines patrolling strategic areas of the Atlantic.

Intelligence authorities attach special importance to the fact that the anti-missile missiles in the Leningrad concentration are on mobile launchers. This is positively known from photographs obtained by Samos reconnaissance satellites which traverse Russia at regular intervals.

This mobility makes these anti-missiles readily available for other areas or uses, such as with field forces when the Soviet's improved anti-missile is ready for deployment — estimated by 1965.

The Reds' current anti-missile missile is a modified version of their deadly SA-2 and SA-3 anti-aircraft missiles that shot down our U-2 planes in Russia and Cuba. Russian tests, monitored by the U.S., indicate these missile killers have the capability of intercepting and destroying intermediate range ballistic missiles and certain intercontinental range missiles.

In one Soviet test, an anti-missile armed with a nuclear warhead destroyed two ICBMs at one time.

Scores of SA-2s and SA-3s are now deployed in Cuba, particularly as coastal defenses. It is also definitely known that a number of these missiles are employed to fire at the Guantanamo naval base.

SINISTER ANTI-MISSILE MISILE GAP — While Secretary McNamara and Deputy Secretary Roswell Gilpatric have privately admitted to members of Congress and others that the Nike-Zeus is as good as and possibly superior to Soviet anti-missile missiles the U.S. does not have an operational system of these weapons.

The Army is continuing to test and perfect the Nike-Zeus also to develop an improved version, the Nike-X and the Sprint.

But that is as far as McNamara, with the President's complete support, is allowing the Army to go. There are some indications McNamara may be having second

Editor: The big propaganda gimmick which is being played to the hilt these days, and is deceiving almost every American patriot in the nation is the "fear of Russia."

This "slogan" has made absolute treason on the part of our government not only excusable, but permissible. Conservatives look upon official treason, and failing to recognize it as such, refer to it as blunder or ignorance of confusion.

If FDR were alive today, he might well revise the wording of his slogan, to make it read: "The only thing we have to fear is fear of Russia." Because of "fear of Russia," Communist Cuba is to be recognized. Because of "fear of Russia," we must have total disarmament of our nation, and total dependence upon the United Nations as a last resort defense mechanism. Because of "fear of Russia," we must have interdependence until the U.N. has grown strong enough to fully take charge, at which time we will have sold our glorious freedoms and national sovereignty for a mess of one-world socialist pottage.

Because of "fear of Russia," we must create "common markets" in all geographical subdivisions of the one-world. Because of the "fear of Russia," we must speak softly, and look the other way, as we sell out our anti-communist friends (such as Katanga). Because of "fear of Russia," we must stand by and watch Old Glory die, replaced with the spiderweb U.N. flag. Because of "fear of Russia," we must continue giving aid and comfort, as well as all our resources, to communism and "neutral" nations, and keep them moving forward "with vigah!"

All lies, misrepresentations, news management, and acts of treason, stem from the first lie, the "fear of Russia."

Ask yourself: Who created Bolshevik Russia in the first place, that we might have a Russia to fear? Who bailed out time after time the sinking ship of Socialist economics, that we might have a Russia to fear? Who recognized this Godless government, and set this Satanic tyrant up as an honorable member of the family of nations, that we might have a Russia to fear? Who gave Russia atomic secrets, and U.S. money plates, that we might have a Russia to fear? Who gave Russia half of Europe and almost all of Asia, and now vital portions of Latin America, that we might have a Russia to fear?

Then ask yourself: Is it Russia we should fear, or the men in our midst who made Russia what she is today? Russia is but a symptom, before our nation is truly destroyed and buried — and not by Khrushchev!

Orthodox Church Is Part of Government

By ED DELANEY

On Feb. 10, 1963, it was announced from Rome that the Metropolitan (Archbishop) of the Ukrainian Catholic Church, Joseph Slipyi, was released from Russian captivity after 18 years imprisonment and had arrived in Rome the previous day. Many newspaper editors, columnists and some political leaders who are not too discerning, construed that as an indication that Khrushchev is altering his harsh policy against religion and particularly against the high prelates of the Ukrainian as well as what was formerly the Russian and Greek Orthodox church.

More recently the son-in-law and daughter of Khrushchev, when visiting Rome in connection with Communist Party affairs, had an audience with Pope John. Immediately wordy speculations appeared in the press of this country and Europe which conveyed the hint that Moscow might seek to establish diplomatic relations with the Vatican. Without presuming to reflect the view of any important clerical authority on either side of the Atlantic, it would appear that any such seeming departure from the well known anti-God policy of international communism is merely a smoke screen to deceive the credulous and make more easy the infiltration of Christian churches in the West.

Although communist leaders in the Soviet have changed their tactics with regard to religion, for the purpose of implementing certain domestic and foreign policies, they still adhere to the principles of atheism and endeavor to destroy true religious faith. Communism, as practiced in the Soviet, is not merely a synthesis of distorted Marxism and the tyranny which has prevailed in Russia since the time of Czar Ivan the Terrible. Soviet communism is a modern form of ruthless colonialism and is in itself a pseudo-religion, denying the existence of God. It holds as worthless any moral precepts based on the belief in a Divine Being. Communism negates the freedom of the human will in order to transform man into a robot, with no will of its own and to enforce conformity to the prescribed conditions of the totalitarian society.

For publicity purposes and deception, Moscow established its own Orthodox Church. Some former priests of the old established church who were weak enough to renounce their Christian faith or for political and personal prerequisites offered, officiate as "clergy" in the sham Orthodox Church.

But they do not deceive the Ukrainians any more than they do many of the Russians. The Ukrainians cite the words of the chairman of the Council of the People's Commissars when addressing a group of party leaders in Moscow regarding the tactical change in church policy. He said: "Our new religious policy will be valuable in smashing the anti-Soviet propaganda of the Roman Catholic, Lutheran and other religious groups. Do not underestimate the wisdom of our party's action. We have the chance to draw the Orthodox Church in other countries closer to Russia and make Moscow the next Rome. There is neither soil nor sap on which religion can feed in the U.S.S.R. The press, the radio, schools literature — all the forces of the mind are in the party's sole control. It is clear to everyone that a young man with religious inclinations cannot possibly make a career. This is our supreme advantage. Remember, the church is separated from the state and the schools are in the hands of the state. Are we such idiots that we will turn over the new generation to the priests?"

For these reasons the communist government allows the Russian Orthodox Church to exist as a front. The head of their puppet "church" abides by the instructions of the state administration, as a former officer of the propaganda service of the Ministry of the Interior recently asserted, "The Church is completely dependent on the State and the State conducts all its activities in the Soviet Union."

Not many weeks ago, the so-called Metropolitan of the Orthodox Church was in this country and was actually accepted by some churchmen in this country as a religious leader, instead of being a political imposter. But the recent moves of Moscow in the new church policy will deceive many. There will be pleas for closer "co-operation" and for co-existence with evil. There is something in Holy Scripture about "be ye not deceived."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Are the acts of labor unions, that limit apprenticeship to prevent an individual from making an individual bargain and strike, a form of civil war?"

Answer: All wars are an attempt to get control of the products of labor of other people. No real war tries to exterminate all other people. Those who initiate war want to use the fruits of the labor of other people. That is, they want to get something they have earned, by the use of initiative force or intimidation.

So labor unions that limit apprentices, one way or another either by making a minimum wage so high that the inexperienced cannot get a job or setting the limit of the number of persons who can become apprentices, and labor unions that strike if the employer makes an individual contract with any employee who does not have the permission of the labor unions, are certainly engaged in a form of civil war. Their whole aim is to get more for the product of their labor than they could get if they let all people freely help establish values and wages.

Of course, in the long run labor unions, like wars, harm everybody, because they greatly reduce production. And labor unions that get power by way of the government, eventually lead to social poverty and misery that war is the inevitable result.

If any believer in labor union can tell how wages should be arrived at, unless all people are permitted to help establish the value of what each man produces, we are glad to learn how he proposes to establish wages.

Bring Empty Room To Life

When Johnny or Mary leaves home, you'll have an extra room that can be many things for the parents and other children remaining.

various purposes:
A hideaway for Dad in the evening, a sewing room, a student's study, a guest room, an isolation room when there is sickness, and a game, hobby or music room.

a well-equipped den practically 24 hours a day.
Many lumber dealers recommend using woodgrained paneling for an all-purpose room and its built-ins. Because it is low cost and factory-finished, they often suggest Masonite Royalcoote woodgrained hardboard.
It's important that a den be something more than four walls; it should have character, and there's nothing like woodgrained paneling for this.

Storage space for records, hobbies, sewing equipment and the like can be built readily by factory-finished Masonite hardboards on a simple lumber framework. Of course, versatile Peg-Board, now available in a decorative pattern, too, can serve for displays of art, hobbies and sewing equipment.
Mom's sewing department can be built right on a closet door.

With the door shut, no one would guess. For a free plan showing how this can be built, send a postal to the Home Service Bureau, 29 North Wacker Drive, Chicago 6, Ill., and request NE-380.
A total of 12,254,800 new homes were built in the United States between 1952 and 1962, according to Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.
