City Property Values Adjusted 'Up and Down' For Taxation Purposes

Notices will go into the mail Friday to city taxpayers who have had adjustments made in real and personal property valuations, it was announced today by City Tax Collector Aubrey Jones.

BRANTLY HUDSON ... Moving to Beaumont

Scout Exec. Accepts Post In Beaumont

Officials of the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America announced today that Scout Executive Brantly Hudson has accepted a promotion to the Scout Executiveship at Beaumont.

His resignation as Executive of the Adobe Walls Council will come effective July 1. Hudson has served as Executive of the local Council since August of 1959.

During Hudson's tenure as scout executive here, a development campaign was successfully conducted for the purpose of constructing a new Council Service Center and expanding and improving Camp Kiowa.

In November of 1962, the Council moved into the new Service Center building at 815 N. Sumner. At the present time, the Council is engaged in the improvement and expansion of Camp Kiowa.

This summer, 11 new troop camp sites will be ready for use by some 1,000 Scouts expected to use the camp during the summer.

Bob Curry, president of the Adobe Walls Council, has announced that a Selection Committee composed of the following men will be asked to work on filling the vacancy created by Hudson's resignation: Arthur Smalley, Don Cain, F. E. Sheehamer, Gordon M. K. Brown, and Bob Curry.

Curry stated that the Council hopes to secure a replacement no later than July 15.

Rains Don't Do Much For Panhandle

By United Press International
Nearly an inch of rain fell on Odessa Wednesday night in one hour and heavy showers soaked West Texas and the Panhandle.

Traces of rain spoiled the Panhandle. The Odessa downtown caused one death, Robert L. Miller, 56, was struck by an automobile and killed Wednesday night as he rushed from a church to raise the windows of his automobile.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said more showers and thunderstorms were in prospect for West Texas today.

Panhandle Cooled
A cool air mass pushed into the Panhandle early today. Low clouds and fog hung over the southeastern third of the state.

some will be down," he added. The city's announcement followed on the heels of yesterday's disclosure by the Pampa Independent School Board that there will be an across the board increase of about 12 1/2 per cent in school taxes to meet an $80,000 deficit in school revenue.

Every taxpayer in the school district will receive a notice of the school tax hike which at the same time will disclose a reduction in the school tax rate from $1.95 per $100 valuation to $1.65, but a general one-third increase in property valuations.

It will mark the first time since 1958 that school and city property valuations will be on the same basis, 40 per cent of actual value. Tax Assessor Jones said the city's current tax rate is $1.45. It was reduced to that rate from $1.50 about two years ago.

Insofar as the city's tax rate is concerned, it will remain the same for the time being. The city commission sets the city tax rate and it does not come up for consideration until later in the year when needs for next year's budget are figured.

The city's tax equalization board made up of George Scott, R. M. Samples and James B. Duvalier and the school district's equalization board comprised of Hugh Burdette, James Fisher and Lee Truesher have held several meetings within recent weeks in their attempts to equalize property values both real and personal for tax purposes.

Both boards will hold separate public hearings in City Hall on Tuesday, May 28 and Wednesday, May 29, for any property owner who wishes to protest the valuation placed on his property. The first day's hearings will be on real property and the following day's hearings will deal with personal property.

Duvalier Controls Illegally

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) — President Francois Duvalier began a period of unconstitutional control of Haiti today, scoffing at "wishful" reports he would flee the country.

Duvalier told foreign newsmen Wednesday reports that his government asked clearance for a military plane carrying him and his family to land on the Dutch island of Curaçao were "absolutely untrue."

"This type of wishful reporting sounds very much like Aesop's fables," he said.

The President spoke to correspondents on the day his legal term as president expired. It was also the day marked by Haitian exiles for the removal of Duvalier in "operation deceleration."

There was no sign of opposition to the president in Port-au-Prince however, and reports from abroad indicated exile groups were beset by confusion and disunity and had no immediate plans for overthrowing Duvalier. The Haitian constitution prohibits a president from succeeding himself, but Duvalier claims he was elected to a second term in 1961 when his name appeared on all ballots in a congressional election and no one voted against him.

He said the withdrawal of dependents of U. S. government personnel from Port-au-Prince was an "ill-considered attempt to create panic."

He denied there was any danger in the "clash and peaceful" nation.

In another apparent reference to the United States, Duvalier said "aggressive, unwise foreign influences" were trying to create a spiritual and ideological vacuum in Haiti.

Duvalier denied his nation was receiving aid from Communist Cuba or any other Communist nation. "No. Absolutely no. Never," he said.

He also denied reports that Haiti would be proclaimed a socialist republic.

Demonstrations Continue As Southerners Battle For Solution to Racial Problems

By United Press International
Negroes staged another big demonstration in North Carolina Wednesday night in a protest against segregation at restaurants and theaters.

At Birmingham, Ala., a group of businessmen urged citizens of the racially tense city to accept an agreement with Negro leaders to desegregate downtown stores. Mayor Art Hanes called for repudiation of the agreement.

Racial committees at Nashville, Tenn., and Raleigh, N. C., continued working toward a solution of racial problems in those capital cities.

An estimated 1,500 Negro college students marched at Greensboro, N. C., in attempts to integrate restaurants and theaters in that textile city which gave birth to the sit-in movement against lunch counter segregation. There was no violence.

At Birmingham, Ala., a group of businessmen urged citizens of the racially tense city to accept an agreement with Negro leaders to desegregate downtown stores. Mayor Art Hanes called for repudiation of the agreement.

Birmingham citizens, including the "senior citizens" group at Birmingham said its agreement with Negroes to desegregate business "violates no law. It binds no one in the white community except the businessmen involved." It urged Birmingham citizens "to ignore the cost of him or her of more thoughtless irresponsibility, violence or hate."

Hanes, however, told some 600 persons Wednesday night to "do everything in your power" to resist desegregation. He called the citizens committee "a group of fury-minded liberals, pinkos and Reds."

Demos Rally; Support JFK Ceiling Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today still boasted an undebated 1963 record in his battles with House Republicans. But only because Democrats rallied to his support in unprecedented numbers to pass a measure hiking the national debt ceiling.

Administration forces overruled almost solid Republican opposition to the bill to boost the $305 billion ceiling on the debt for a new record high.

With only 17 members not voting, the bill squeaked through on a vote of 213-204. Republicans opposed it 212-32.

The House passed the bill would permit the national debt to climb to a new record high next month so the government can keep paying its bills.

The debt now stands at $303.5 billion. According to Treasury projections, it will surge in mid-June more than $1 billion above the record high $305.3 billion peak reached last Nov. 30.

Commission Takes Action on Speed Zones, CRMWA, Election

Pampa's city commission today took the first step to establish graduated speed zones on state highways through the city.

It passed on first reading an ordinance doing away with the maximum 30-mile speed limit now in use in certain areas of the city. The legislation is based on recommendations of the state highway department which were made at request of the city traffic commission.

The new ordinance, if finally passed, would permit motorists on State highways to enter the city by cutting their speed gradually instead of driving from a 60-mile zone directly into a 30-mile zone.

Officials said the special traffic zones of much lower speeds in congested areas and in vicinity of schools and churches will be maintained as usual.

The commission also passed a resolution approving a supplemental contract with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority covering the recent change made in the point of delivery of Canadian River water from Aleck St. to a point in the vicinity of Price Rd. and Kennedy Ave. A resolution was adopted granting right-of-way inside the city limits to the federal government to work on a high pressure water line on Kennedy between Price Rd. and Hubbard St.

Opposition to the Canadian River Water project again was expressed by Commissioner L. P. Fort. The vote on the contract resolution was 3 to 2 with Fort and Commissioner Leon Holmes dissenting. Commissioners Jim Nation, Mac Field, McDaniel and Mayor H. Raeburn Thompson favored the contract change resolution.

In discussion of the CRMWA, Mayor Thompson told Fort he thought any attempt to get out of the Canadian River contract should be initiated outside the city commission. Commissioner Nation said, "The people voted for it. If they don't want it, then a petition should be initiated and presented to the commission asking us to call an election to decide whether they want to stay in or get out at this point. As it stands now, I feel that we are bound by the contract which was entered after a vote of the people favoring it."

Fort stated that "the time is coming when the money must be raised to pay the bills. It will be difficult when the people are asked to approve bonds for it, and the only other way would be to raise the water rates."

Permission was granted to the 9913th Air Reserve Squadron to use rent free office space in quarters formerly occupied by the Boy Scout headquarters in City Hall.

An ordinance was passed on second reading calling an election for July 9 on amending the city charter to change the method of electing.

United Nations, N. Y. (UPI) — United Nations delegates today turned to private talks behind the scenes to seek a compromise solution for the organization's multi-million dollar financial troubles.

Secretary General Thant warned the assembly's budgetary committee Wednesday that the financial problem is perhaps the most serious one facing the United Nations.

"Despite the various measures that have been taken, the unhappy fact remains that the organization continues in a state of serious financial difficulty," he said.

The Budgetary Committee, instructed to find a better way to pay for the U.N. peace-keeping missions in the Congo and Middle East, recessed until Monday after its opening session Wednesday. The recess will give delegates time for private consultations.

The deficit now totals nearly $100 million. It is caused by the failure of the Soviet bloc, France, South Africa, Portugal, and some other countries to pay their share of the peace-keeping costs.

The consultations are aimed at reconciling the positions of the developed countries and the underdeveloped countries. The latter, a majority of the U.N. member nations, wanted the big powers to contribute more, but have run into opposition.

Gordo in Last Laps Of Historical Trip

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — L. Gordon Cooper reeled off orbit after orbit today as he whizzed at more than 17,500 miles an hour through space on America's greatest space flight.

After 7 1/2 hours of sleep in drifting flight, from which he awakened in "very good shape," the 36-year-old astronaut headed into the final laps of his 22.9-orbit mission scheduled to end in the Pacific about 6:23 p.m. EST.

Shortly after the 174-pound astronaut started his 19th orbit at 10:45 a.m. EST—less than four laps from his goal—flight controllers reported that weather conditions in his Pacific recovery area were "pretty good."

As of 11:30 a.m. EST, the space agency said, everything was set for a triumphant conclusion of the 22.9-orbit flight.

Said an agency spokesman: "Recovery forces, weather, and all our people in those areas are going."

Waiting to pluck Cooper and his Faith 7 spacecraft from the sea about 100 miles southeast of Midway Island were the aircraft carrier Kearsarge, with 2,156 men aboard, and two destroyers.

"We are sure he will get a warm welcome," said Lt. Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers, spokesman for the Mercury man-in-space program.

At 8:37 a.m. EST ground controllers gave him the go-ahead for completion of his flight plan. That was during his 17th circuit of the globe, wrapped up at 9:13 a.m. EST.

A little while later, as Cooper soared over the South Indian Ocean, in his 18th orbit, Lt. Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers of the space agency reported that everything aboard the Faith 7 spacecraft was in "emphatic go" condition "with capital letters underscored."

The astronaut completed his 18th orbit and began his 19th at 10:45 a.m. EST.

Cooper long since had broken all previous U. S. space flight records and at 9:23 a.m. EST had become the No. 3 astronaut of the world.

At that moment he surpassed the 25-hour 18-minute flight of Soviet cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov who flew 17 orbits Aug. 6-7, 1961.

Unions Ask for $10-Billion Tax Reduction Bill
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council has asked Congress to pass an immediate $10 billion tax reduction for lower and middle income families and at the same time to increase federal spending.

The Economic Policy Committee of the council in an annual session said Wednesday such a tax cut would result in higher incomes by families which would immediately be put back into the economy and result in further spending.

Further, the statement said, "any tax reduction policy that fails to concentrate its benefits among low-and-middle income taxpayers — that fails to focus on creating jobs and reducing unemployment—will be opposed by organized labor."

The council, in its resolution, also said any tax reduction should not be accompanied by reduced federal spending.

"Since the top priority objective is to get Americans back to work, the AFL-CIO is unalterably opposed to any effort to accompany tax reduction with cuts in the general level of federal expenditures."

Oil Nominations Up Over May
AUSTIN (UPI) — June nominations for the purchase of Texas crude oil totaled 2,523,970 barrels a day, the Texas Railroad Commission said Wednesday. It was an increase of 10,125 barrels daily over May.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines forecast of June demand for Texas crude oil is 2,560,000 barrels daily, an increase of 20,000 barrels a day over May.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — As astronaut Gordon Cooper slept high in the heavens Wednesday night, protected within his capsule, there were some contented snoozers at the television networks too, and for reasons of their own.

First of all, like everyone else, they were delighted that his long day's journey into night had begun his scheduled 22-orbit, 34-hour trip in such safe fashion. Second, barring unexpected developments, his flight plan seemed so precisely on the button that it appeared he might land early enough tonight not to interfere overly with the prime-time programs. Well, after all, business is business.

If things go according to plans, and all 22 orbits are achieved on time, you can figure on Cooper being recovered at about 7 or 7:30 p.m. EDT, or at least that he'll be near those picking him up. And of course the networks will offer continuous telecasting during his climactic descent.

Wednesday, after the letter-perfect start of the flight, the networks fell into the pattern they had worked out for this longest of American astronaut journeys, and one they will probably follow in outline for the coming longer flights: Continual coverage of the launching, then easing off to periodic bulletins and special reports, and finally all-out broadcasting again for the return, and of course for any unforeseen developments that might arise.

The most-publicized aspect of Wednesday's and today's flight was the tiny television camera Cooper took along to send back the first "live" U.S. pictures from space. These pictures, of himself and then the Florida coast, were certainly precedent-setting and may be of great scientific use for future flights. And naturally there is propaganda value. But overall, Wednesday's shots were probably far less than what viewers hoped for. Cooper's films of himself were hardly discernible, and the coast shots unfortunately ran into a cloud cover.

The Channel Swim: Dorothy Provine, who starred in the "Roaring 20s" series, will be George Burns' new nightclub partner. Cara Williams, once of "Pete and Gladys," may do a 1964-65 CBS-TV series based on the famous old radio show. "The Easy Aces," the Aces were written by Goodman Ace and his wife Jane. Ace, who wrote for Perry Como and soon joins Sid Caesar, is wanted as scripter for Miss Williams.

Senate Worried With CAB Power

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Commerce Committee today called for the State Department's opinion on a bill to give the Civil Aeronautics Board power to regulate international air fares.

The administration measure was sent to Congress Tuesday. Committee Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, who introduced it, said "we want to proceed promptly in this matter."

The bill would give the CAB specific authority to regulate international air fares in much the same way as it regulates domestic rates.

CAB Chairman Allan S. Boyd told the committee that once the authority is granted the United States can seek basic reduction in overseas rates, not just a repeal of the 5 per cent increase to which the CAB has submitted.

Other congressional news:

FEED GRAINS — Democratic Leaders summoned the senate to early session in a drive to try to crush Republican opposition to passage of President Kennedy's feed grain bill this week. Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey insisted the bill would be passed by late tonight, but GOP leaders predicted the fight might drag on into the weekend.

PESTICIDES — A senate government operations subcommittee opened a hearing into the hazards of pesticides. Dr. Jerome Weisner, chairman of the President's Science Advisory Committee, will be the leadoff witness.

BABIES — Legislation to end black market and "grey market" traffic in babies was introduced in the Senate. Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., offered the legislation for himself, delinquency subcommittee Chairman Thomas J.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Arthur Wiesenberger & Co. asks "Now that everybody's bullish, should one turn cautious?" Wiesenberger thinks not: The investment advisory service says that "the long-term trend of stock prices still appears upward, and any near-by reaction against this trend seems likely to be held to minor proportions."

Bache & Co. warns that at this stage the market shows some signs of becoming more selective, and in this light it suggests commitments in selected rails, steels, aluminum and oils.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. points out that the stock list had to overcome a lot of resistance when it reached new 1963 highs. Gilbert presumes that these same favorable forces will continue to dominate the market trend for quite some time ahead.

Mrs. Milnor, wife of Harold E. Milnor, died unexpectedly at 3:55 p.m. Tuesday in a Bartlesville Hospital, where she had been a patient for only eight hours.

A native of Oklahoma, she was born Jan. 23, 1910 in Dewey. She moved from Pampa in May, 1951 to Bartlesville, where she was employed by Phillips Petroleum Co. as a seismic data clerk in the Exploration and Production Department.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by one grandson, Robert Kincaid of Holdenville and an uncle, Jim Allen of Dewey. Two children preceded Mrs. Milnor in death.

Mrs. Milnor was a member of the First Methodist Church and served as president of the L&G Wives' Organization of Phillips. Interment will be in the family plot in White Rose Cemetery in Bartlesville.

In a memo handed to City Manager Harold Schmitzer, the city tax assessor-collector submitted his second quarterly report for the fiscal year on current tax collections through March 31 this year. The report shows $402,053 collected on the $651,151 levy, or 92.46 per cent. This is a higher collection than for the same quarter in the last three years when the collections totaled fractions over 91 per cent.

The report also shows uncollected taxes for the first quarter this year to be $39,140 on real estate and $9,957 on personal property. So far this year, according to the report, $19,635 has been collected in delinquent taxes compared to $17,180 for the same period last year.

In connection with this year's property valuations set by the tax equalization board, Tax Collector Jones said:

"Our appraisals and assessments for 1963 were completed March 31st this year. We received perfect cooperation from the public, as we always do. It is more evident each and every year that the taxpayer is realizing his part of the responsibility in equalizing values."

"The Board of Equalization began its work immediately upon appointment. They have had several night work sessions examining records of the tax department. The public hearings have been set for May 28 and 29."

"The tax department and Board of Equalization has concentrated considerable thought and effort toward surveying, re-appraising and equalizing all property, real estate and personal estate alike. This program has been very successful to date. The continued success of this program is dependent upon, first: keeping capable employees in the tax department; and secondly, the continued conscientious effort on the part of the Boards of Equalization and the public."

Wanted Forger Held Under Bond

Lester George Austin, a long-time forger, wanted in more than a dozen Texas communities for forgery and bad check passing, was brought before Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford today. Judge Lunsford placed him under $2,500 bond and he will be held in the County Jail in lieu of bond.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan reported that Austin has recently been picked up after a long-time career of crime, and was being passed from city to city to be tried on forgery and bad check charges. Jordan said that Austin had just been sentenced to three years in Borger and then turned over to Pampa, where he passed a bad check two years ago. Austin will probably be brought before the May Grand Jury, said the sheriff.

Firemen Answer Calls Wednesday

Pampa firemen were called out at 6:20 p.m. yesterday to battle a grass fire at the Gray County Airport that burned off about 40 acres. Firemen reported that the field itself was not damaged and flying is going on as usual. At 11:25 a.m. yesterday, firemen were called to McAndrew Pontiac on West Kingsmill to put out an auto fire caused by an engine backfire. Heavy damage under the hood was reported.

Man Fined, Jailed

Billy Joe McCormick, arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated this morning by Pampa police, pleaded guilty in County Court today before Judge Bill Craig and was sentenced to three days in jail with a $100 fine.

that Mrs. Martin Ludeman, who has been working in the campaign headquarters since the start, will be in charge of the office at the campaign headquarters which will be maintained at the same location, from noon to 6 p.m. daily except Saturday and Sunday. The statement issued by the executive board stated that response in the campaign so far has been excellent.

"If we can just get the workers to call on the prospects," Teed said, "the people will contribute." Special praise was given to the women's division and it was stated that Jaycee members will be back on the job next week. "One of our needs," Teed said, "is more workers. Volunteers are invited to come to campaign headquarters and pick up prospect cards." Other campaign chairmen working with General Chairman Teed in the drive are Dr. M. C. Overton Jr., Frank M. Culbertson, A. J. Carubbi Jr., and Mrs. Jack H. Osborne.

Junior Rotarians Present Program

Eight Pampa high school students, who served as Junior Rotarians during the current school year, presented the program at the Pampa Rotary Club's luncheon meeting yesterday at Coronado Inn.

Each Junior Rotarian, who was a guest of the club for one month, spoke on the subject of "What Rotary Has Meant To Me". L. J. Edmondson paid tribute to the young men for their service to the community, and on behalf of the club, presented each of them a booklet entitled "Service is My Business".

Robert Pullen was the recipient of a $100 Rotary Scholarship as the Junior Rotarian, who best served his school. In addition to Pullen, Junior Rotarians who participated in the program were Keith Swanson, Donnie Ayres, Ralph Palmer, Gordon Balch, Raymond Nance, Jerry Glover and Randy Matson.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

EXTRAORDINARY WRITS
Over the ages one branch of the law, equity, has devised "extraordinary writs" to meet special needs. Before equity, only the king, as a boon, could grant orders to do or stop doing something. In contrast the law courts dealt almost solely with settling money matters.

Some of these extraordinary writs have come and lasted in our law:

1. Mandamus (Latin "we command") directs a person, corporation, government officials, or a lower court to do a certain thing on pain of contempt of court, with other penalties for failure to obey. The person asking for mandamus must show the court that he has a right to have some thing done, say, to enforce a private or public right. Mandamus can order a public officer to give a taxpayer a hearing or let him vote; or a private person may want to have his fence repaired or his neighbor's land shored up.

2. Quo Warranto (By what right do you hold office or position). This writ makes a person, corporation, public official, or municipality say by what legal right it holds office, exercises powers, franchise, and privileges.

3. Prohibition stops a court promptly from going on with a case if it lacks legal right to do so, especially if one can show that great harm would follow illegal court action.

4. Injunction makes a person quit certain conduct. A court may

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

Time blurs the memory of those years just after the armistice when the United States awkwardly was adjusting to an unknown new world filled with unimaginable terrors at home and abroad. But the year 1919 can be pinpointed as one of shameless U. S. civil disorder.

This disorder consisted of race riots between whites and Negroes in several cities including Washington, D. C. There was race trouble in 1919 in Tulsa, Okla., Chicago and Detroit and elsewhere although the names of other cities do not pop to mind.

There would be no point in dredging up these 1919 sorrows for later but for a single disquieting fact. It is that the 1919 race riots seemed to trigger each other. There seemed to be a sequence in the disorders as though unstable racial elements in one community reading of riotous murder elsewhere were inspired to engage for some of their own.

Thus, the 1919 shame leaped from city to city, hitting the biggest cities mostly, although the Tulsa outburst demonstrated that smaller cities also were tinder dry for trouble. The fact that the 1919 riots seemed to trigger each other invites sober consideration of today in the light of yesterday.

first grant a temporary writ, and order the defendant to show the court why it shouldn't stop him for good. A damaged petitioner may also seek money recovery as well as get his injunction.

(This newfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Psychologists are aware that some persons are more suggestible than others. A spectacular suicide may be followed by a rash of similar suicides because the first suicide suggested something to persons who witnessed or read of it. So, a race riot here may suggest one there and so on in a chain-of-suggestion calamity that could touch many communities in the United States.

Men and women of good will and, more especially, the forces of law and order should be more than usually alert just now.

Racial violence in Birmingham, Ala., may trigger something elsewhere. In the light of events of 1919 that would be the expected pattern. Against such triggering there are several factors.

Pleasing Image
These include the public and private awareness of impending trouble and the desire to avert it. There is the Negroes' new political significance and the eagerness of politicians to please them. Another factor is the infatuation of U. S. statesmen with the idea of presenting to Africans an image pleasing to the tribesmen newly ennobled as citizens of free and independent if not self-sufficient nations.

None of these factors existed in 1919. There were other factors that did not exist in 1919. There was not underway in 1919 any effort by the federal government to impose racial integration on states. Neither were Negroes North and South in 1919 organized behind aggressive and sometimes belligerent leaders. Nor was the Negro in 1919 a political prize greatly cherished by one of the major political parties. These factors all bear today on the race situation in the United States and they do not bear always on the side of peace and reason.

There'll Always Be England-and Titles

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's a country with its feet in the 20th Century but its heart firmly tied to the Middle Ages.

The latest exhibition of this love of nostalgia came recently when Queen Elizabeth II named the Earl of Snowdon, her brother-in-law, the new Constable of Caernarvon Castle.

Thus, Princess Margaret's husband slipped easily into the ranks of a class that seems particularly at home in Britain.

The country is literally full of people who hold official posts and honorary titles that sound as if they were created by Edward the Confessor or Queen Elizabeth I.

The posts require no exertion. But they have grand, mysterious titles that enable the nation to point proudly, say, at the hereditary Chief Butler of England; and let loose a cheer.

The current hereditary Chief Butler is the Duke of Norfolk, whose ancestor received his dukedom in 1483.

He has never been known to serve at a table but he did manage the British test cricket team on an Australian tour.

The Marquis of Ormonde is Chief Butler of Ireland but has almost no duties. It was not so with his ancestors when they received the post in the 14th Century.

"In those days, the Chief Butler had a concession on all the wine imported into Ireland, and the job carried quite a rakeoff," he said.

The Earl of Shrewsbury is Lord High Steward of Ireland. His only task is to carry a white wand at coronations.

Some other titles include: The Duke of Argyll — Admiral of the Western Isles.

The Duke of St. Albans — Hereditary Grand Falconer of England.

The Marquis of Exeter — Hereditary Grand Almoner and Lord Paramount of the Soke of Peterborough.

The Earl of Portsmouth—Bailiff of Burley.

The Duke of Richmond is Constable of Inverness Castle, but he doesn't like the title because "he has nothing to do."

"It's a ridiculous thing. It means absolutely nothing," he claims. "I don't even know what it's all about."

Snowdon may not have the same problems. Lord Harlech, his predecessor, 10 years ago had to present Queen Elizabeth with the key to the castle when she arrived for a visit.

It is believed the next time such a ceremony will be called for will be when Prince Charles, the heir to the throne, is invested as the Prince of Wales. This is still years away.

The Constable of Caernarvon was first appointed in 1284. Admiralty House said the title has been given to a series of "tried men" since.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investment counselor Kenneth Ward of Hayden Stone & Co. says that regardless of what happens to stock prices in the near future the longer-range trend will be up "but on an even more highly selective basis."

Ward said there is growing doubt that the stock market can continue its broad advance without some "correction" or "consolidation." But he indicates it would be unwise for investors to "abandon any well-entrenched position in sound dividend paying stocks."

Standard & Poor's says the rise in stock values is soundly based and seems likely to continue, subject to minor interruptions. It says to continue to hold good stocks and add to existing positions as reasonable opportunities are presented.

AGREE ON TEST CENTER — LONDON (UPI) — The United States and Britain have agreed on terms for establishing a joint overseas test and evaluation center in the Bahamas, the House of Commons was told Tuesday.

John Hay, civil lord of the admiralty, said the center will cost $2.2 million. He said it will be used by both the U.S. and royal navies to test equipment for underwater defenses.

The Lighter Side

Enlightenment on Lightness

By DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A large segment of the population still accepts as gospel truth three proven fallacies. They are:

That you can always be sure of getting good meals during cross country trips if you stop at the places where the truck drivers eat.

That if you fill up on Chinese food you will be hungry again in half-hour or so.

That stimulating and enlightening commentaries on world affairs are provided by New York cabdrivers.

To this treasure of folklore there has lately been added a fourth great myth:

That if you drink a "light"

type of booze, you won't get stoned so fast.

We had here recently a coincidence of events that my friend "Diamond John," last of the big freeloaders, described as a two-night doubledecker.

In the late afternoon the French National Association of Cognac Producers gave a brandy tasting reception, and in the early evening the California congressional delegation gave a wine tasting reception.

Needless to say, French brandy was served at one and California wine at the other. "Diamond John" was beside himself with glee.

"This is what has been missing in my life," he chortled. "Dramatic conflict. The importers and the domestics pitted against each other in a battle of the freeloaders."

At the brandy freeloader, the host was I. M. (Tex) Bomba, a New York importer who was pointed out as an authority on American drinking habits.

"Bomba is an expert on the subject of getting bombed," my tipster reported.
I approached the elixir oracle and requested that he elucidate. He responded with a stimulating and enlightening commentary on myth No. 4.

"The trend nowadays is toward lightness," Bomba said. "A lot of people are buying brands that are advertised as 'light' without even knowing what the term means."

"There is a widespread impression that liquors are 'light' if they are pale in color. That is not necessarily true. Good cognac, for instance, is 'light' but has a dark color.

"It also is widely believed that light liquors are less intoxicating.

That is nonsense. The percentage of alcohol is the same whether they are light or heavy."
I thanked Bomba for the information and I pass it along on the chance that it might keep ing out like a light.

OLDSTER PLANS MARRIAGE

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Usaid Ali Mohammad, a resident of the village of Shahroud, said Tuesday he hopes to marry an 18-year-old girl provided he can get permission from his son.

Mohammad, who claims to be 142 years old, said he has outlived three wives and 13 of his 15 children. "Life would be wonderfully sweet if I could marry again," he was quoted as saying.

Bullet scars mar the metal grill work at the entry way to Argentina's General Confederation of Labor headquarters in Buenos Aires and a patch of concrete is a memento to a bomb.

These are the leftovers of the revolution in 1955 which toppled the dictatorship of Juan Peron but left behind more than two million of his angry followers who continue to dream of his return.

Peron drew his power from the "shirtless ones" organized in the General Confederation of Labor (CGT), and although Peron has been gone for eight years, his followers continue to be the decisive factor in Argentine politics.

It was fear of their return to power that led Argentina's military forces to depose President Arturo Frondizi 13 months ago, that led to two unsuccessful military revolts against current provisional President Jose Maria Guido last September and in April and which also precipitated the current government crisis.

Elections July 7

These bitterly opposing elements, the Peronistas on the one hand and the military on the other, now are approaching national elections scheduled for July 7.

Their differences still are unresolved and even should Guido solve his present crisis, there remain more reasons than not to believe it is only the beginning of another series between now and election day.

In the end, elections may not even be held.

Outside the military, there are at the moment in Argentina three political groupings.

One of these is the Peronista Popular Union.

Another is the intransigent Radicals, the party of former President Frondizi, which hopes for Peronista support behind the presidential candidacy of Dr. Oscar Alende, a former governor of Buenos Aires.

The third is the Popular Radical Party which backs Dr. Arturo Illia, another physician, as its presidential candidate.

Running hard for office but without a popular following is Gen. Pedro Aremburo, who served as provisional president after Peron's overthrow in 1955 until 1958.

Compromise Choice

Aremburo's main hope is that differences among the political parties will prevent any candidate from receiving a majority vote.

In that case, the electoral college could name him as the compromise choice.

In the elections held a little more than a year ago and later annulled, the Peronistas piled up more than 30 per cent of the total vote. Argentina's continuing economic ills have led to forecasts that in any free election now, they might poll as high as 40 per cent.

Their appeal lies in a vague program of "social justice."

They claim to be in favor of the U. S. sponsored Alliance for Progress, for economic and industrial development and a third force which would walk between capitalism and communism.

TO HONOR IKE

Mysteries of Indian —

By JAMES J. DOYLE

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The vanishing Indian languages of Oregon may unlock some linguistic mysteries for anthropologists, according to Dr. Joe Pierce of Portland State College.

SIGN TRADE PACT

PARIS (UPI)—France and Japan signed a new commercial treaty Tuesday.

When the white man arrived in the Oregon country about 150 years ago, Dr. Pierce said, there were possibly 32 separate languages being spoken here. Many have died, and a few are on the way out.

summer trying to track down and record the dying tongues, says about 15 languages remain, of which little is known. They have never been written down or recorded.

Of those six stocks, four of them and possibly five — were spoken in Oregon. And three of them were spoken by tribes living side-by-side for centuries in a coastal strip area of Oregon no more than 200 miles long. A fourth dipped into Northern California.

Another mystery is how these tribes lived so closely without one dominating the others, which would have resulted in a single tongue for all.

formant" or Indian who does speak a certain language and will cooperate.

The moon is at last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history: In 1866, the Treasury Department was authorized to manufacture and place in circulation the first U.S. five cent piece.

In 1927, despite the fact that the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages were unlawful, the Supreme Court ruled that "bootleggers" must file income tax forms.

In 1933, President Franklin D. Roosevelt called on national governments to adopt a series of non-aggression pacts.

In 1962, U.S. forces began landing in Thailand to bolster the Asian nation against any spread of fighting from bordering Laos.

Cobbler Sure Sign Spring Is Here

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The rhubarb season means pies, cobblers and sauce. But first let's talk about cobblers — fresh red rhubarb sweetened, with a crusty, golden brown top with a nut-like flavor—baked and served in individual dishes.

¾ cup sugar
¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour
6 tablespoons water
Topping
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

over rhubarb. Add 1 tablespoon water to each casserole.

For dough, sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into bowl. Cut in shortening until crumbs. Stir in oats. Add milk; stir lightly until dry ingredients are moistened. Spoon topping over rhubarb in each casserole. Sprinkle topping lightly with sugar, if desired. Place casseroles on cookie sheet. Bake in oven preheated to 400 degrees about 20 minutes or until tops are golden brown.

FRESH RHUBARB COBBLERS in individual dishes — a tasty way to greet spring.

That's one way to tell the family spring is really here.

RHUBARB COBBLERS (Serves 6)
Base
3 cups 1-inch pieces fresh rhubarb

FRANKFURTER SAUCED spaghetti is a hefty, quick main dish with lots of flavor.

Hefty Eating For The Hungry And Certainly Less Work For Mother

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Looking for quick main dishes with flavor, food value and interest? Then try these two recipes. Hefty eating for hungry, and certainly less work for mother.

1 medium onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 frankfurters
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup beef bouillon
Open packages of dinner and remove spaghetti, can of sauce and can of cheese. Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Cut stem end off green pepper; remove seeds and membrane and cut into strips. Mince onion. Melt butter. Cook green pepper and onion until tender but not browned. Cut frankfurters into thirds crosswise. Add to vegetables with salt, bouillon and can of spaghetti sauce. Cook all together over low heat for about 10 minutes. Serve frankfurters and sauce over spaghetti.

Water Doesn't Aid In Losing Weight

Q—I am much too fat. If I cut out drinking water with my meals, will that help me lose weight?

A—No, because there are no calories in water and for that reason water cannot produce body fat, according to biochemist Charles Glen King, president and scientific director of the Nutrition Foundation. He reminds the dieter that drinking water between meals sometimes lessens hunger pangs without adding any calories to the diet.

Presenting... Congress

By HARRY FERGUSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — News item: Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Wednesday he will introduce a resolution for television and radio broadcasts of Senate sessions.

Dear folks: Start looking for work. You are going to be out of business when the U.S. Senate goes on the air. Comedy, news, suspense, great acting, commercials. You name it. The U.S. Senate has got it. Some samples from the congressional record:

Comedy
Mr. Mansfield: One of our distinguished colleagues, the senator from Arizona Mr. Goldwater will be honored this evening by a dinner. I should notify the Senate that the Senate will not be in session too late today so that all interested Republicans can attend the dinner. I understand that it is a $1-plus a plate dinner (laughter).

Mr. Dirksen: Mr. President, if my distinguished friend will yield, he is invited also if he can scare up $1,000.

Mr. Mansfield: The minority leader is talking to a Democrat (laughter).

Grim Suspense Drama With Unhappy Ending

Mr. Williams of Delaware: I ask for the yeas and nays on the motion to table.

(The yeas and nays were ordered)

Mr. Mansfield: Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry.

The presiding officer: The senator from Montana will state it. Mr. Mansfield: Who has the floor?

The presiding officer: No senator has the floor.

And Now

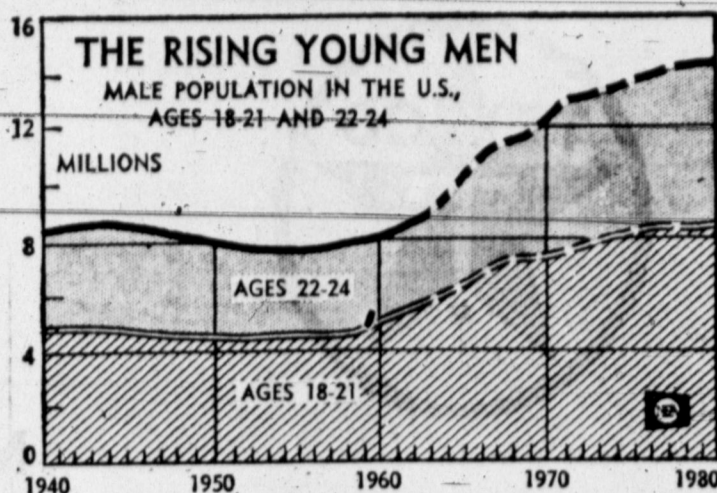

A World From Our Sponsor
Mr. Kuchel: Mr. President, I take this occasion to salute the junior senator from New York.

Kenneth Keating has served his state and his nation for many years. He has served America in war and peace. Over his years of service in the U.S. Senate he has been a magnificent record of true liberalism. He is a Republican who has stood four-square for that eternal American gospel, equal treatment under law. . . . I salute my colleague from New York as a true conservative. That is not a non-sequitur because the record which the senator has made in this chamber shows that he has followed the kind of political philosophy laid down by a great, dedicated American patriot. Sound and solid have been the discourses which have come from the mouth of Senator Keating in this chamber and in this country.

News Broadcast
Mr. Humphrey: I announce that the senator from New Mexico (Mr. Anderson), the senator from Virginia (Mr. Byrd), the senator from Connecticut (Mr. Dodd), the senator from Illinois (Mr. Douglas), the senator from Arkansas (Mr. Fulbright), the senator from Michigan (Mr. Hart), the senator from Tennessee (Mr. Kefauver), the senator from Connecticut (Mr. Ribicoff), the senator from Alabama (Mr. Sparkman), the senator from South Carolina (Mr. Thurmond) and the senator from Mississippi (Mr. Eastland) are absent on official business.

Mr. Kuchel: I announce that the senator from Vermont (Mr. Aiken) is absent on official business. The senator from New Jersey (Mr. Case) is necessarily absent.

The presiding officer: A quorum is present.

GOOD NEWS FOR GIRLS—The number of men between the ages of 18 and 24 in the U.S. is expected to increase sharply in coming years. Reflecting the post-World War II baby boom, their numbers will probably grow from nearly 14 1/2 million in 1960 to 22 1/2 million in 1980. Newsmap above, based on data from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., shows the present and projected growth of men in two categories, ages 18 to 21 and 22 to 24.

OFFERS ADVICE
PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (UPI) — Magistrate B. P. Loots ordered a 30-year-old man to prison for four months because he drove his bicycle while drunk. "You should oil your bicycle rather than yourself," he said.

World Follows Flight; Wishes Cooper Well

LONDON (UPI) — The world today followed the flight of L. Gordon Cooper through press, radio, and television reports. The man on the street from Moscow to Tokyo wished him a safe landing.

The 2.5 million citizens of Sydney, Australia, left their lights burning tonight in the hope Cooper could see them in passing over on his 14th and 15th orbits. Office and government buildings and thousands of homes were taking part in what was believed the largest attempt ever made to light a beacon for a space traveler.

In Moscow, newspapers carried long stories and pictures describing the flight, and some ran biographies of Cooper. But Soviet and other Communist commentators took pains to stress that last year's Soviet space twins went much farther than Cooper.

POSTPONES VACATION
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has postponed her summer vacation at Hyannis Port, Mass., until the first week in July.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Wednesday the President and Mrs. Kennedy would continue to spend most of the coming weekends at Camp David, Md.

Steps Ordered to Control Hazards from Pesticides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has ordered immediate government steps to cut down the health hazards resulting from the widespread use of pesticides.

Kennedy Wednesday night revealed a 46-page report from his Science Advisory Committee warning that the environment is suffering "increasing contamination" from chemical poisons.

The scientists said pesticides have been a great boon to mankind and their "judicious" use must be continued. But it urged prompt steps to "minimize risks" to humans resulting from "continued exposures to small amounts of these chemicals."

The committee made a study of pesticides following the controversy that arose around Rachel Carson's book "Silent Spring."

In a statement accompanying the report, Kennedy said he had ordered federal agencies to carry out the committee's recommendations within their authority, and to prepare legislation for Congress where warranted.

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI)—The assembly literally chipped Monday as it passed a bill allowing farmers to use noise-making devices to scare away crop-destroying birds.

To the tune of bird calls from many parts of the chamber, the lower house passed the measure 44-0 and sent it to the Senate.

READING, England (UPI)—Hennike Thorp, 99, has come down with a case of the mumps. "Fancy having mumps at my age. I thought I was safe from it now," he said Monday. Doctors said they were puzzled at first, but a second examination confirmed the diagnosis.

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Mrs. Margaret Mooney returned from grocery shopping Monday and found a two-foot snake in her refrigerator. She removed it with two large butcher knives.

The startled woman still is pondering how the snake got into the refrigerator.

RATIONS WATER

HONG KONG (UPI)—The Hong Kong government Tuesday announced a drastic new water rationing program in this drought stricken colony that will limit the supply to four-hour periods every other day. Officials warned a six-month-long drought threatens to halt the production of electricity.

REPORT NEW FIND

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Tass news agency reported Tuesday that Russian astronomers have discovered an abnormal belt of radiation around the planet Jupiter. It said Puckovo Observatory radio-astronomers found the belt with the aid of a radio telescope equipped with a sensitive receiving device.

Success Story: B. C. Ohlandt

By GERALD S. SNYDER
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—When B. C. Ohlandt was a boy, a delivery-boy job was hard to get and easy to lose.

One winter night, at the grocery where he worked, a hurry-up order was phoned in for three pounds of bacon. Ohlandt dashed off with the package on his sleigh.

But when he arrived at the customer's door, the bacon was gone. It had slipped off his sleigh and fallen into the snow.

Ohlandt went back. He retraced his steps and saw two eyes glistening in the dark. A cat was pawing at the paper bag. The boy picked the package up, wiped it on his sleeve and went on to deliver it.

Funny how B. C. ("Bev") Ohlandt remembers that incident today. It happened 50 years ago, he said, but it taught him to be tolerant of people who slip up and try again. "Finnegan has had his drink," he says when an assistant goof. "Mistakes aren't bad. It's not learning from them that's bad."

Distillery Executive
B. C. Ohlandt now is executive vice president of the National Distillers and Chemical Corp. and member of the board, vice president and general manager of National Distillers Products Co.

He also is chairman of the Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., the public-relations arm of the national distilling industry.

With a first name like "Beverly," living in Brooklyn at the turn of the century, a boy faced a tough future. The grocer's son (born in an apartment above the store), sold newspapers and "hustled for a buck" while going to school.

His schooling over, he served under Gen. Pershing in Mexico and was wounded at Chateau Thierry, France, during World War I. They called him "Buck" in the Army because he was a typical buck private, he said.

Ohlandt has been a salesman for more than 40 years, learning the craft as a personal art, plodding the sidewalks of New York from store to store, riding the rails for a tea company and selling famous grocery items.

He joined the liquor industry after reaching his zenith in the grocery business as president of the Grocery Stores Products Inc.

He spent the difficult war years from 1944 to 1948 as vice-president of Schenley Distillers in days of no whiskey production and problems of fair allocations to keep customers in business and distributor selling organizations from falling apart.

He joined National Distillers in 1948 and six years later was named vice president and general manager of the liquor division. In those six years, net income of the corporation rose from $15 million to $24 million and the ex-grocery delivery boy, now past 65, is still helping to bring home the bacon.

State College Bill Is Killed By Senate

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Senate has killed a bill which would have made Permian State College of Odessa the 23rd state-supported four-year college.

Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso gained permission to suspend the Senate rules and bring up the bill by a 10-7 vote. But, after the proposal was laid out, the upper chamber voted 15-13 against tentative approval.

The Odessa college bill technically is still alive in the legislature, since the House voted 69-68 Monday to give tentative approval to the House proposal by Rep. George Cook of Odessa.

But failure in the Senate for all practical purposes killed the Odessa state support bill for the 58th Legislature.

Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan, one of the strongest voices in the Senate against creation of new state colleges, said, "it looks like this legislature is bent on a path of destruction for the existing state college system."

"If you continue creating these state colleges," he said, "you are going to dilute the state educational dollar so thin that it will be worth little or nothing."

Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba warned the Senate that if it passed the measure, it probably would become law because "this same bill with the aid of the House speaker was passed in the House."

The vote to engross Cook's bill in the House wound up in a 68-68 deadlock. Speaker Byron Tunnell cast the deciding vote for tentative approval.

Cooper Family Plans Another Day with TV

TAYLOR LAKE VILLAGE, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. L. Gordon Cooper and her two daughters set their alarm clock to awaken them today at about the same time Cooper did in his orbiting 17,546-mile-an-hour Faith 7 space capsule.

Mrs. Trudy Cooper and her daughters, Janita, 13, and Camilla, 14, went to bed early Wednesday night. They were tired. It was the second consecutive day they had gotten up before dawn. They set their sleeping schedule to coincide with Cooper's.

Mrs. Cooper planned to try again today to tune in directly on her husband's space capsule radio with a receiver borrowed from Walter Schirra's Sigma 7 capsule. Reception was poor but she heard Gordon's voice.

"It was very comforting to hear," she said.

Mrs. Cooper will not talk to reporters until her husband is safely down from his flight.

But Dave Schwartz, public affairs officer for the national space agency, said, "with this textbook flight, they couldn't be less than pleased."

Throughout the day, Mrs. Cooper and the two girls followed the progress of the Faith 7 on television. The girls went outside during Cooper's sixth orbit, however, and played badminton in the backyard with two neighbor girls. Mrs. Cooper called the liftoff of her husband's rocket Wednesday "beautiful."

To Extend Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House government information subcommittee will resume its "managed news" investigation Tuesday and broaden it to include news coverage "problems" in Viet Nam.

Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., said Wednesday the subcommittee would investigate complaints that a Defense Department "space secrecy directive has resulted in questionable withholding of information from the public about U.S. and foreign space activities."

Moss said subsequent hearings would include further testimony on information problems resulting from the Cuban crisis as well as the Viet Nam situation.

Comparison

By United Press International
Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., whizzing through space at a velocity close to 18,000 mph, has rendered almost insignificant the speeds at which man, until the space age, has traveled.

Some comparisons:—
It took Columbus 45 days to cross the Atlantic Ocean in his ship; Cooper, in his Faith 7, crossed the ocean in 11 minutes.
Nelly Bly's 1889 trip around the world took 72 days; Cooper makes it in 88 minutes.

A New York to Chicago train is supposed to reach its destination in 18 hours; Cooper could make the same journey in under three minutes.

A jet plane can zoom from the East Coast to the West Coast in three hours; Cooper can do it in 10 minutes.

RELEASE PRISONERS

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China released 353 Indian prisoners of war Wednesday, the New China news agency said in a broadcast monitored here.

The Communist agency said the prisoners, captured during Sino-Indian border fighting last year, were released "in the Tibet region on the northern side of Bang Pass." New China also said that 498 more Indian prisoners will be released Monday.

Argentine Generals Seeking Agreement

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The generals directing President Jose M. Guido's government appeared Wednesday to be seeking a political agreement with supporters of ousted ex-President Juan D. Peron.

Maj. Gen. Osiris Villegas, the new interior minister, conferred Tuesday with leaders of the Peronist Popular Union party — the first politicians he has talked with since taking office.

Guido announced Tuesday night that he has appointed Bernardo Bas, a union leader with reported Peronist links, to the post of labor minister in the new cabinet.

net he is seeking to form. The appointment of Bas, who is regarded as a Villegas ally, apparently was made under army guidance.

Former Interior Minister Enrique Raucan's demand for government reform, led to last weekend's mass resignation of the cabinet.

So far, Guido has filled four cabinet vacancies and appointed acting heads of three other departments. Eleven posts remain open.

DEAR ABBY: Another man and I went on a week-end fishing trip. When we came into my home, he met my wife for the first time. When he looked at her, his eyes grew wider, then he turned to me and said, "You must be nuts to leave a beautiful thing like that alone for the week-end." Do you think I was?

LIKES TO FISH

DEAR LIKES: I don't know about THAT week-end, but the next time you go fishing be sure to take the same man with you.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think that diabetes runs in a family? Our son is getting married to a girl who has diabetes. There are three in her family who have it. There are two in our own family who have it, although my son doesn't. They would like to have four children. The girl says there is a good chance the children would be born with diabetes, but that is the chance my son must take as he has been told of her condition. What is your advice?

YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your son and his future wife should sit down with a physician and discuss the matter thoroughly with him. Diabetes most certainly does "run" in the family. And when it exists in BOTH families, it is doubly dangerous.

DEAR ABBY: My husband I just had a heated argument. He came home one evening last week and told me a large company (one he does business with) was having a "dinner." When the night of the "dinner" came, I found out that just a salesman and an assistant buyer were taking him out for dinner and he didn't know where. I say a "company dinner" consists of quite a few men. He says it can be for two or three or more. Please put your answer in the paper as he wants everything in

MATURE PARENT

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My 8-year-old granddaughter is what in my day was called "affected." I saw this clearly the other day when I took an old school friend to visit my son and his family. My friend gave my granddaughter a small purse vial of perfume the child had admired. We were both very embarrassed by her gushy thanks and affected chatter about how generous my friend was.

ANSWER: Is it possible that your granddaughter has not been taught use of the plain old phrase "Thank you"?

It is a functional phrase. The reason we don't require social phrases like "Thank you," "How do you do?" from little boys and girls is that they do not understand these phrases' usefulness. We can force them to repeat them like parrots, but they lack the experience that makes a practical sense of them.

However, at your granddaughter's age, children are ready to adopt them as useful. If they are not taught them, then, in situations that call for one of these phrases, they are at a loss.

Their responses may strike us as "affected" or downright rude. But the truth is, the untrained child is struggling to improvise words and behavior which he hopes will fit the occasion. Thus, in her eagerness to express thanks properly, a girl of 8 will sound gushy and "affected" just as a boy will sound too gruff and offhanded.

Parents sometimes fail to teach children good manners because they regard these manners as ornamental. Children don't want to be decorated. They don't care about being approved as "little ladies and gentlemen."

To make good manners acceptable, we have to appreciate them as functional things. Then we can make sense of them to youngsters. By the time they have reached your granddaughter's age, they already have experienced some of the embarrassment we all feel when we don't know how strangers expect us to treat them and are only too glad to receive instruction in the conventional phrases of courtesy that make it unnecessary for them to improvise their own.

If you can agree with me, maybe you can create an occasion to take your granddaughter aside and say, "You know, Jill, when grownups give you things, all they expect back is 'Thank you.' You don't have to give them any more. It's enough for them."

Engaged couples should accept invitations that do not include both of them. Being "Siamese Twins" always can strain the closest relationships.

It's Official-Froggy Is Out, Patterson Is In

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

A BIT OF THIS AND A BIT OF THAT: A number of people have been asking Yours Truly why there hasn't been a column on the sports pages lately. We could say it's because Putt Powell seems to have run out of acid for his pen and hasn't insulted Panipa in almost a week, or because Leo Drumgoole has been too lazy to jump on us for anything. Possibly it's because Ray Howard has been so busy with spring training that we haven't had a chance to go fishing.

Actually, the major reason has been that this department has been as busy as a peg-legged pelican in a sack race. Cliff Scott, despite our protestations that we had promised to help Harold Gregory with the American Legion team this summer, cajoled us into keeping the scorebook until school was out and he could recruit (or draft) a volunteer, and after the 52 runs scored opening night, our arm was so sore we couldn't even use a pencil. Plus trying to get out and see the Harvesters' spring training as much as possible, trying to wangle some scholarships for some of the deserving area athletes, and also trying to get summer jobs for some of the Legion team. . . wow!

SERIOUSLY, we would again like to ask any Pampa fans to contact us if they have any work for these deserving boys. Some of them vitally need jobs to help their families as well as to play ball, and we need your help for them. Please contact this department or athletic director Weldon Trice if you know of any openings for boys from 15 to 18 for the summer.

SPEAKING OF ol' Birdog, he has been griping that we have been running pictures of athletes, coaches and whatnot, and neglecting him. Since we found some ancient pictures in the files apparently taken when he was a young fella (around the time of the Spanish-American War), we have decided to run one to make him happy. All kidding aside, we really think Birdog deserves not only his picture in this column, but a great big vote of thanks. His efforts, not only to help with high school sports, but also in trying to get jobs for the Legion boys, offering us the use of the baseball field, as well as for the Babe Ruth League to practice on, and a lot of other things too numerous to elaborate on, are appreciated more than we can say, not only by this column, but by all Pampa sports fans.

LAUGH OF THE WEEK: Phillip Duncan, News photographer, who has an eye like a hawk and a memory like a canary bird, has, in the course of snapping dozens of pictures of Randy Matson, Bill Martin, etc., met track coach Norm Phillips at least 20 times. (See SIDELINES, Page 20)

"Ramsey's Raiders" and "Brownie's Bandits" ride again tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. when the annual Green-Gold game closes out the Harvester spring training football season. In last week's Junior-Senior game, coach Eural Ramsey's Raiders, composed mainly of seniors, took a 30-14 win over coach Brown Smith's juniors. The final game however, has seen the team split up into two almost equally divided units, with last week's top players being divided among the two teams so as to make for a close all-out battle.

Smith, still smarting from last week's licking, vowed vengeance upon the balding Ramsey. "Ramsey's Raiders" will be "Eural's Pussycats" when we get through with them," said the usually affable Brown. "This time we have the Gold uniforms, the top line-men, Eugene Madrid and Kenny Hebert. We'll tear them up! Instead of me marking Ramsey's math papers, he'll be grading my final exams after Friday afternoon!" Smith's aides, Ray "Catfish" Howard, and Randy "Stop-watch" Roten, were unanimous in predictions of an overwhelming victory.

Ramsey Goes for Two

COMING THROUGH — Ricky Griffith and Bill Campaigne come blasting through to open a hole for fullback Keith "Red" Griffith. The trio will be seeing plenty of action tomorrow afternoon in the Pampa spring football training windup. (Daily News Photo)

On the other side of the field, Ramsey, still gloating over last week's win, said "Brownie ought to know we have the Indian sign on him. If he tries to bet double or nothing, he'll be taking my classes through 1964! It hurts to lose "The Bandit" (Madrid), but we've got Jerry Garrison back, and Clive Seymour to give Larry Johnson plenty of protection, as well as hitting for those first down yards. I think we have the better line this time, and old Brownie and his boys will have to take off their shoes to count up the number of touchdowns we're going to score!" Vehement agreement was provided by Norm "the golf coach" Phillips and Pete "Blinky" Erwin, the other Green-clad coaches.

Holladay in Middle

Head coach Otis Holladay, asked which side he was rooting for, said "I'm in the middle. I'd like both teams to win and neither team to lose. I feel that I've split the two teams up pretty evenly, offensively and defensively, and the game should be a humdinger. The defense has started to catch (See FOOTBALL, Page 20)

AUSTIN (UPI)—Jack Patterson, a three-time Southwest Conference winner at Baylor, today officially became head track coach at Texas, completing a dynasty pattern in major sports.

Patterson, 49, joins a staff that won or shared SWC crowns this year in football, basketball and baseball. He replaces Froggy Lovvorn, who resigned Wednesday but will stay with the team in summer meets.

Baseball coach Bibb Falk started the existing dynasty in 1940. He has produced two national champions, 14 outright SWC titles and three co-championships. His team shared the crown with TCU this year.

Had Five Bowl Teams — Football Coach Darrell Royal has fielded five bowl teams in six years, shared two SWC titles and won another outright, and has lost but one regular-season game since 1960.

In basketball, Hal Bradley has won two outright crowns in four years and had one of Texas' all-time top teams this past season. Four of five starters will return next year.

Royal's announcement Wednesday cleared a cloud of confusion and feuding about the track post. Lovvorn had claimed Royal, who is also athletic director, was cutting back the track program. Rumors had circulated for a month that Lovvorn was leaving and Patterson would be his successor. Royal said Patterson was the only man sought for the job and "Jack's joining our staff should prove we are not cutting back." in track.

Should Fit In

Patterson, a tall soft-spoken man known for the "fatherly approach" to coaching, should fit in with the winning ways demanded at Texas.

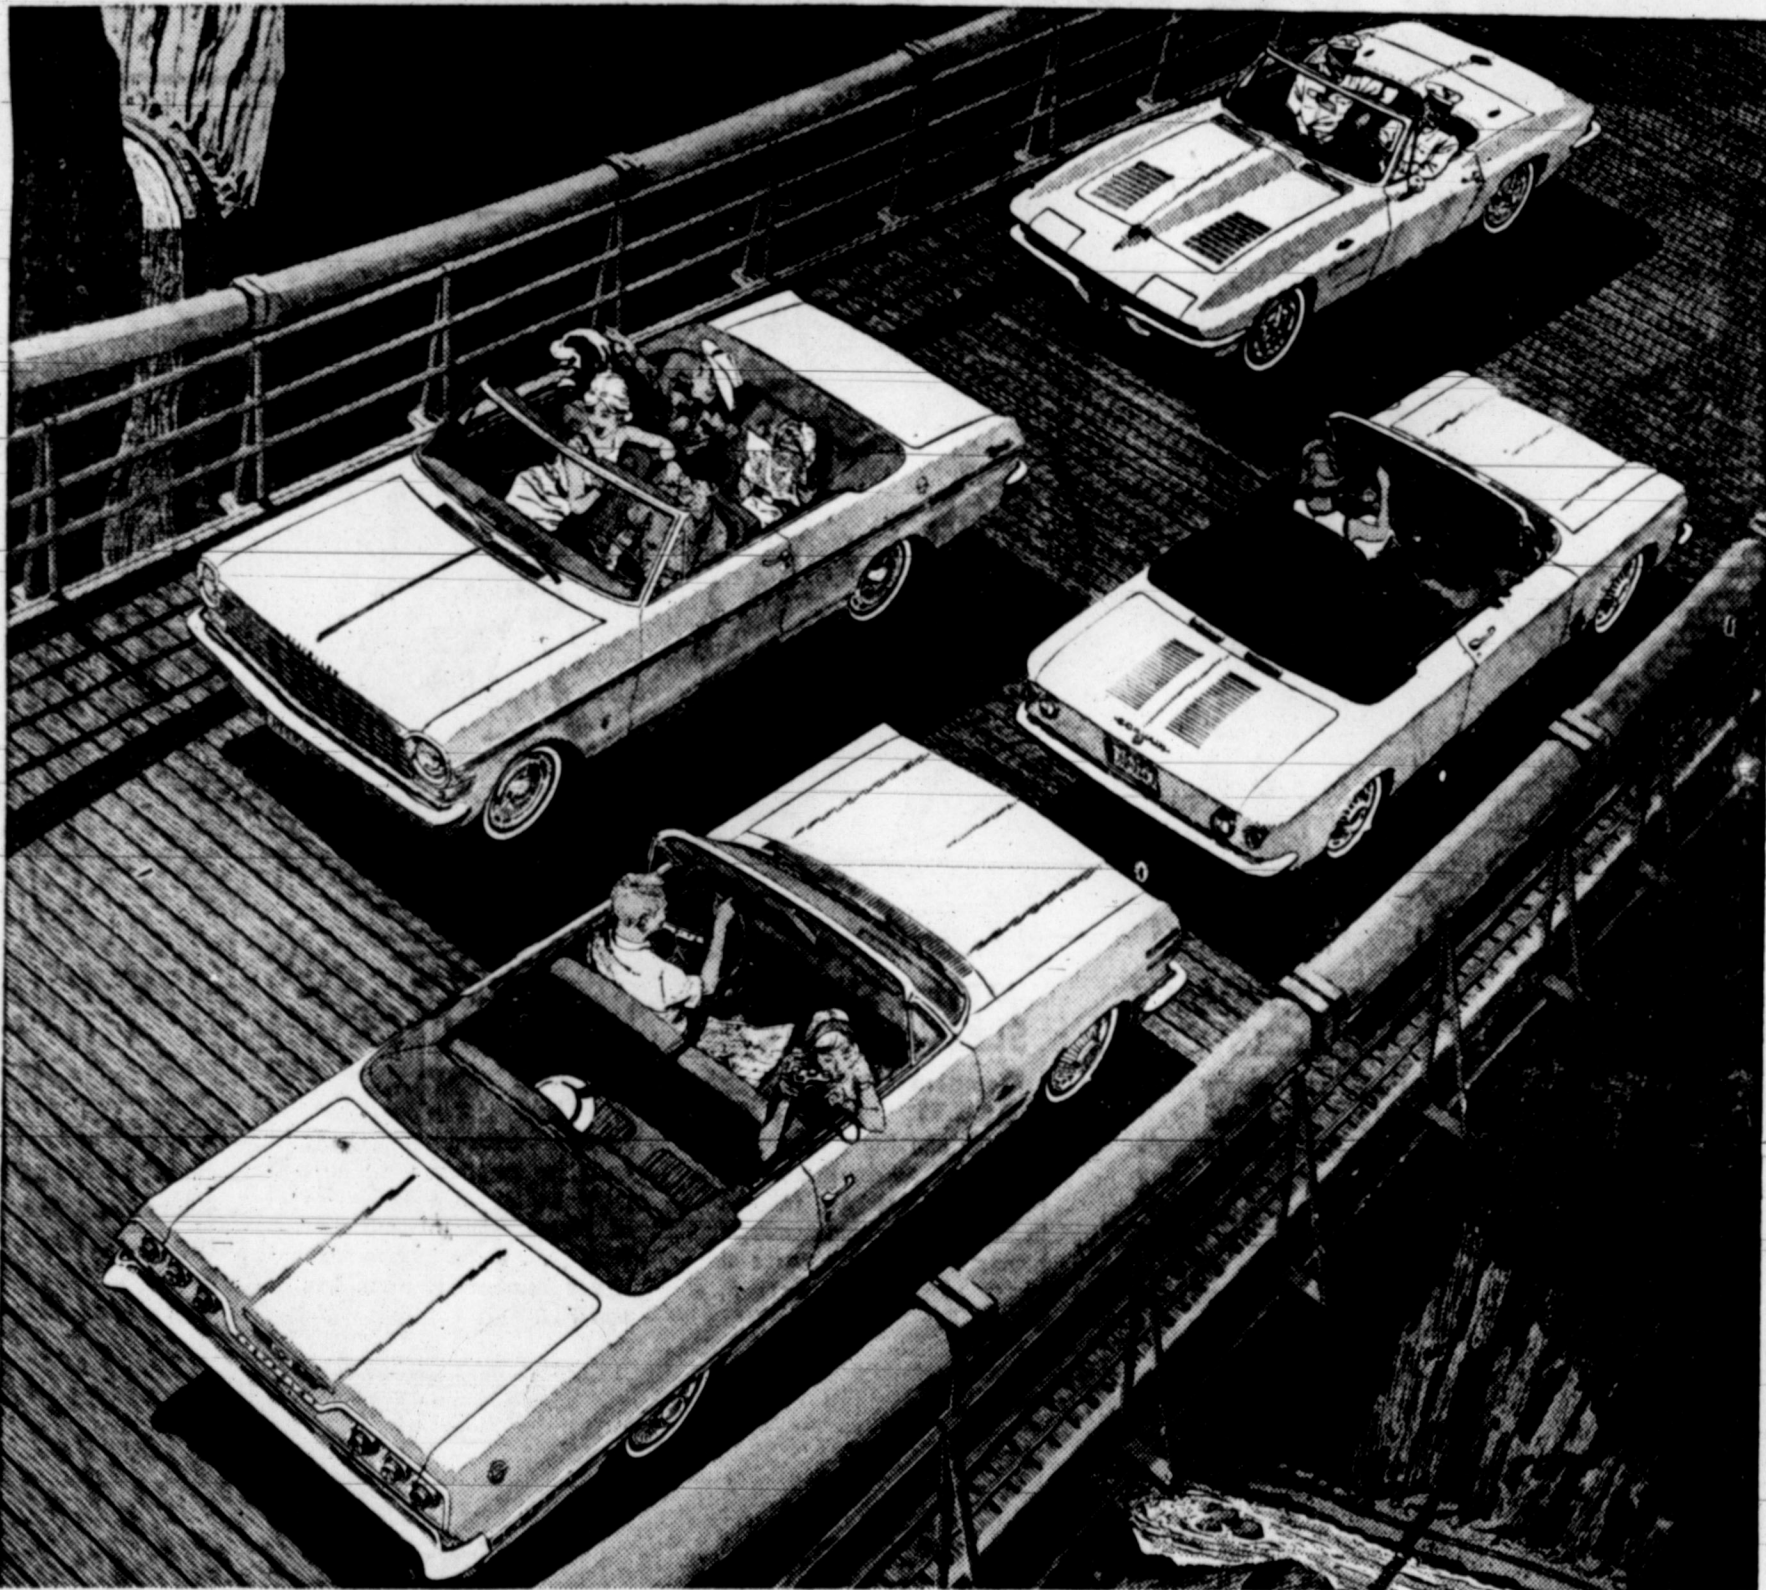

In 1960 he produced the first SWC title at Baylor and followed with team honors in 1962 and this year. His long suit is sprinting, renowned at Texas during Clyde Littlefield's long tenure.

Contract terms were not announced and Royal said any announcement would be made by the university's board of regents.

Clyde Hart, a Baylor graduate and track coach at Little Rock Central High School, was named to succeed Patterson.

Smartt Bowler of Year At Annual PBA Banquet

Jessie Smartt was named the "Bowler of the Year" at last night's annual Pampa Bowling Association banquet.

Smartt won the honor by bowling better than a 201 average in a 12-game rolloff at both Pampa bowling alleys.

The "Champion of Champions" team, composed of Clarence Reeves, James Chastain, Everett Peace, Joe Skinner and Jim Adkins, was also honored. Winners in the first and second halves of the league season engaged in a six-game rolloff at the two alleys for the title.

Dawey Cudney was named by the Harvester Bowl as their "Bowler of the Year." Cudney won the honor by winning "bowler of the week" honors more often than any other league player at the alley. Peg Kastain was named as the Harvester Bowl woman bowler of the year. The pair both received engraved transistor radios and gift certificates.

Garden Lanes honored Sid Parsley for bowling a perfect 300 game in league play this past season, and he was awarded an engraved head pin from the alley he bowled his final strike in.

A special award was presented by the PBA to Al Lawson, Lawson, who has been bowling steadily for the past 60 years, 20 of them in Pampa, has announced his retirement from regular league play. In the past season, the 80-year-old had a 136 average, outstanding for his age. He was presented with an engraved watch and a lifetime membership in the Association.

Top Field At Quail Creek

MCALLEN, Tex. (UPI)—The defending champion and a pair of upstart teenagers are favored today to shoot their way into the semifinals of the 30th annual Texas Women's Public Links Golf tournament.

The defending champion, Mrs. Helen Nash of Galveston, plays Betty Hanson of Austin in one quarter-final match today. Mrs. Nash has won all her matches handily so far, and was favored to do so again today.

The two upstarts are Jeanette Butler of Harlingen, a 16-year-old who won medalist honors in the tournament, and 15-year-old Betty Ferguson of Cuero.

Team Off To Philadelphia

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—The smallest city in the National Basketball Association ended a 17-year professional cage history Wednesday night with the announced move of the Syracuse Nationals to Philadelphia.

Just before midnight, Dan Bionese, president of the National Basketball Association (NBA), said he had sold the Nats.

Treadway Hits Hole-In-One

Roland Treadway shot a hole-in-one at the Celanese Golf Course yesterday. Treadway made his ace on the par-three, 186-yard fourth hole, using a three iron. Playing with him were Bill Lemmons, Carroll Pettit and Russell West.

The course has been open for three years and never had a hole-in-one shot until last month, when Bill Nichols made one. Curiously enough, Lemmons and Pettit were also in the foursome when Nichols made his ace. This makes the second in a month for Celanese and the third in one month in Pampa as junior high golf coach Dick Woldt got an ace at the Pampa Country Club two days before Nichols' perfect hit. It is the first time in history that three Pampa golfers have ever shot holes-in-one in the space of three weeks.

"We had a '55 Dodge truck that went 125,000 miles without a wrench touching it. At 125,000 miles we tuned the engine and found every one of the eight cylinders registering 125 pounds compression or better. When that truck was wrecked in a smashup we replaced it with a 1962 Dodge D500 with a 361 cubic inch V8 engine. That Dodge outperforms any other truck I've ever driven or used. Since then we have added two more D500s, making three Dodges in our grain- and limestone-hauling business." Ivan Rummelhart, Hills, Iowa. Dodge trucks now being sold have a new no-extra-cost feature. See your Dodge Truck dealer* about this newest feature of Dodge—America's only Job-Rated trucks.

Neither Red nor Dead

The communists are masters of psychology, and they are usually adept at what is known as reverse psychology. Take, for example, the slogan attributed to Bertrand Russell: "Better Red than dead." Although this bit of lack-logic has been picked up by the lunatic fringe groups on the left, the majority of Americans are rankled by the very idea of preferring slavery to death. Yet what has been the reaction of most of us? To stoutly proclaim: "Not me, I'd rather be dead than Red!"

In saying this, all we have done is to take two unpleasant situations — death and communist enslavement — and pick what we suppose would be the lesser of the two evils.

Actually, what have we accomplished for the Reds by simply reversing their "better Red than dead" postulation? Plenty! We have lent belief to their avowal that communism throughout the world is inevitable! Whether Red-then-dead, or dead-then-Red, either concept embodies the vision of communism domination here in the United States. And this is exactly what the Kremlin has been working toward — the paralysis of the American will to resist, through the belief that communism will someday rule the U.S.

Don't believe for a minute that you must end up either Red or dead — by choice, that is. The truth of the matter is that we can remain very much alive and free. But before we can be certain of this, we are going to have to stop retreating — and start acting. Communism, the bone in the national throat which is slowly strangling us, must be defeated rather than endured.

We have long entertained a lot of idealistic, nonsense — all aimed at taming the tiger rather than ridding ourselves of its presence. We kid ourselves that we can co-

Prevention of Cruelty to Straw Men

Possibly someone who is interested in forming unique and exciting organizations ought to consider the advisability of setting up an outfit for the prevention of cruelty to straw men.

Propagandists, of whatever complexion politically speaking, are prone to see all manner of evil in their opponents. And seeing this evil, they clutch at every ideological straw blown their way by the winds of providence. When there is sufficient straw on hand, they erect a straw man and proceed to torture and worry the poor thing until they have quite convinced everyone that the straw man is the real thing.

We recall an instance of this a number of years ago. A public speaker, commenting on the prevalence of dogs in the city where he was visiting, observed that in his view people ought not to be spending their money and attention on dogs when there were so many orphans in need of foster parents. To make his point, he climaxed this observation by saying that the community would have been better off if it put all the dogs to death and gave life to the orphans.

It was a pat phrase and the propagandists leaped on it. A newspaper story appeared that Mr. Blank, the speaker, wanted everyone in town to put his pet dog to death. This was expanded by another writer, who suggested that while the dogs were being destroyed, certainly cats, parrots, goldfish, canaries and other pets of any kind ought not to be overlooked.

Actually the speaker was wholly disinterested in the fate of dogs, cats or parakeets. His concern was with orphans. But as a result of his offhand remark and the appearance of the propagandists who delight in building straw men and then torturing them to death, the poor fellow was hard put to explain his comments.

Pull Up A Chair

From the dawn of history the launching of a ship has always been a colorful spectacle and the other day we went "backstage," so to speak, at the Sun Shipbuilding Yards at Chester, Pa., to watch the final staging work in the launching of the EXPORT CHAMPION. Naturally most of the crowd had their attention focused on the high platform where the sponsor was ready to smash the traditional bottle of champagne on the bow. But the real drama took place below, where it was the task of the shipwrights to transfer the weight of the vessel from the building blocks to the sliding ways. The instant the transfer is made, and the "dogs" holding the ship in place are simultaneously released, gravity takes place and the sponsor's great moment has come. The American Export vessel started down the ways, the champagne showered and the ceremony was over in one minute.

Once a year, in May, the veterans sell the familiar Red Poppies, which came into being following World War I as a memorial flower for the American war dead. The American Legion Auxiliary supplies the material, free, to the disabled veterans and PAYS them for their work. In many cases this is the only money they can earn, so be generous, because the annual sale of the poppies helps provide employment for the injured heroes.

The circus first appeared in America shortly after the American Revolution and consisted of wild-animal acts, acrobats, freaks and clowns and the exhibition was performed in tents. The modern circus as we know it today was set up by P. T. Barnum, who introduced the three rings — up to that time the American circus followed the European pattern with one performing circle. The slogans on the auto license plates of the various states have always interested us as we traveled about the United States. At present, 30 of the 50 states carry some descriptive designation on their tags.

Every year at tulip time the most beautiful scene in the Canadian capital at Ottawa is the flowering of these blubs about the Parliament Buildings. The Dutch annually send over 125,000 tulips as a thank-you gesture — the Canadians helped liberate Holland in World War II.

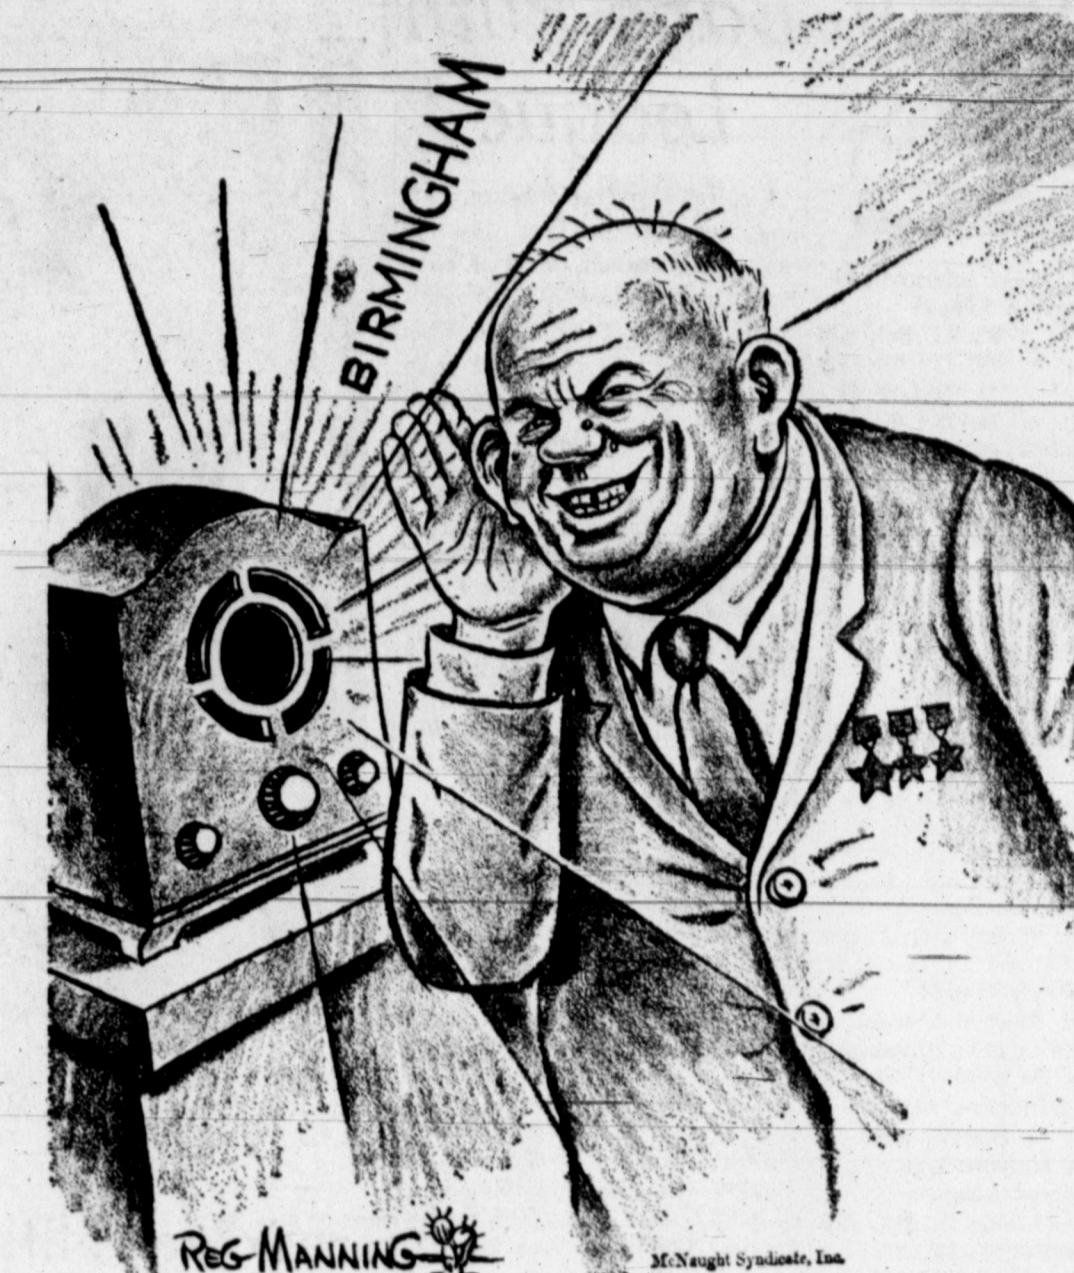

Over a year later, it happened that we ran across a small item in a newspaper which announced the arrival of Mr. Blank in another town to make his appearance. And the item included the remark that Mr. Blank had won fame for his policy of killing all pets.

His are straw men made. Thus are they tortured. And thus they endure; for the characteristic of the straw man is that he never dies. Like Tantalus, he is simply tortured forever. Our interest in the subject is heightened by the straw men that have been erected in the wake of our editorial policy. We stand for freedom, for the rights of individuals. We believe in self-reliance and the right of private ownership and management of property. We believe that the rights of individuals are supreme, that man is a sovereign being, able to manage his own affairs.

Behold the straw men! Here are some of their labels: "Anarchist," "Reactionary," "Fascist," "You would destroy government," "You would abolish schools." Then, having provided these labels, efforts are made to show that anarchists are wrong, that reaction is bad, that a fascist is a villain, that government should not be destroyed and that schools should not be abolished. To all of which efforts we are happy to agree.

But that no way affects our view that freedom is what we must have and the rights of individuals are sacred. We believe in self-reliance and the right of private ownership and management of property. We believe that the rights of individuals are supreme, and that man is a sovereign being, able to manage his own affairs.

THE LADY'S RIGHT

Against What She Calls 'American Way of Life'

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

I've been scolded again. A few days ago I received a letter from a lady who preferred not to identify herself. If the writer was not a lady, I approve of the perfumed aroma of the letter and the feminine style, anyway. She accused me of being against everything which epitomizes her opinion of the American Way of Life.

I was, at first, indignant. I read on and came to a conclusion: The lady is correct, if we accept her ideas of an American way of life. During the past couple of years I have found myself to be increasingly reluctant to discuss a "way of life," American or otherwise. Since my concern is with freedom and individualism, my definition of a way of life insists that a correct way of life is a way of life only for the person whose way of life is a subject for discussion. The writer of the indignant letter, however, insists that her way of life must be mine unless I wish to acquire a reputation for being against the American Way of Life, as she sees it. How does she see it?

She believes government has the right to legally steal from the earnings of its employers for the support of foreign governments, friend or foe, with the largest cut going to friends. Of course, she didn't phrase it this way but facts remain facts no matter how you cut them up.

She wants the "strongest government in the world." She believes a willingness to maintain the strongest government is an important factor in her American Way of Life and thinks "every American has a right and the duty to be proud of the strength and power of their government."

The Nation's Press

OUT OF POLITICS (The Dallas Morning News)

County Agents, though many of the million residents of Dallas have never seen one, are among the most influential men in Texas. Trained as professional agricultural workers, they help farmers fight pests, maintain and restore soil fertility, grow food and fiber economically and efficiently. In the 60 years since this program was incubated on a Kaufman County farm, these career servants have helped to revolutionize agriculture.

Such a powerful force long has been the target of politicians, Republican and Democrat, state and national, who seek to bend it to their own purposes. Despite the fact that 45 per cent of their financing comes from the U.S. Treasury, 23 per cent from state funds and 32 per cent from counties, farm agents, on the whole, have maintained nonpartisan professional standards. Texas agents, whose work is directed from Texas A&M, have a record better than that in some states, in the opinion of The News, which long has supported this needed and productive activity.

The danger that county agents will become political tools of Washington or Austin, or some self-seeking county commissioner, is ever-present. That is why directors of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, meeting in San Antonio, strongly opposed the use of county agents "to propagandize the theories and policies of any administration or political philosophy."

This is no anti-Kennedy resolution, but an expression of the deep convictions of Texans well-informed on farming and ranching activities. It is specifically inspired, however, by an all-out effort of Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and his aids to marshal support for a stringent control program for wheat. Faced with strong opposition from many potent farm and ranch organizations, the USDA has had many of the employees of its other bureaus busy beating the bushes for this unsound program.

Through such tactics, underwritten with taxpayers' funds, these theorists hope to tighten their control of American agriculture. To resist such pressure is difficult for the county professional agricultural worker. It is even harder for their district and state administrators, directly under fire from Washington.

Some other bureaus have completely knuckled under to this domination, and their administrative heads dare not speak or act without permission from the banks of the Potomac. Worse than that, some political appointees are busy belittling those who still speak for individual initiative and private enterprise for the farmer.

Texas county agents will do well to stand firm, as most of them have in the past, in their well established policy of professional, nonpartisan service. They will do well, too, to maintain the strong, grass roots support from such groups as the cattle raisers and others whose taxes foot the cost of all government — county, state and federal.

Administrations that come and go in Washington, in state capitals and county courthouses are not the real rulers of this nation. And heaven help the country, and the agriculture these agents serve so well, if the 180 million Americans who do run this country ever relinquish their right.

A Move to Prevent 'National Suicide'

By ED DELANEY

All right-minded persons in the free world desire peace. They deplore the obliteration of people and property by war. But until the forces of evil in the world that are constantly building their armaments, show a disposition to end the arms race, we cannot let down our guard. The burden of armament to safeguard our national sovereignty is staggering and mounting annually.

Mere agreements for arms reduction are worthless unless coupled with inspections in foreign lands by our constituted authorities to verify that such reductions have been or are being carried out. We have the example of arms shipments and installations in Cuba where inspections were refused by the communists. Peace is the bait and catchword now being used by our State Department to disguise a plot for the eventual disarmament of the United States and putting this nation under absolute control of an international "peace" force bearing the label of the United Nations. "A Plan for General and Complete Disarmament in a Peaceful World" is the title of a State Department document, which should be called a blueprint for surrender. In close cooperation with the U.N., our State Department plans, to impose in the next 10 years, to impose on the American people the same kind of "peace" that was inflicted on the defenseless people of Katanga by Afro-Asian mercenaries in U.N. uniforms. The "peace" was accompanied by cold-blooded murder, rape, inhuman and brutal torture of civilians and reported instances of cannibalism.

Our dedicated U.N. realists and communism apologists will endeavor to pooh-pooh such an assertion but they cannot deny that the printed pages of the State Department's booklet, "Blueprint for the Peace Race," outlines those very objectives. This "peaceful" Utopia will be reached in three stages of disarmament — extending from 1966 to the final complete delivery of the United States into the benign protection of the armed forces of the U.N. The United States would be permitted to retain only sufficient military forces to "maintain internal order," at the end of that final disarmament stage in 1973. Congress can and must expose and stop any implementation of the State Department toward our national suicide. With that in view there has been introduced in the House at Washington, H. Con. Res. 83, by Omar Burleson (D. Tex.) and the same in the Senate by Carl Curtis (R. Neb.) as S. Con. Res. 21. It calls for on-the-spot inspection of all areas involved in arms control or disarmament agreements, with members of Congress to be included among the inspection teams. It demands that the President report to the appropriate committees of Congress any steps taken by him toward altering the existing weapons holdings of this nation, our allies and the Soviet bloc. Most important, all preliminary and final arms control or disarmament agreements must be embodied in treaties which are subject to the advice and consent of the Senate. They may not be done through any of those "executive agreements" or secret pacts with other nations.

This resolution — known as the Burleson - Curtis Res. - will effectively block the State Department plot to unilaterally disarm the United States and consign us to the dubious, in fact the deadly control of the U.N. It is to be expected that pressure from the liberal organizations and the members of Congress who supinely endorse administration and State Department policies and programs, will endeavor to block the resolution for our salvation. Write, wire or communicate with your two senators and your representative in Congress, demanding they support the Burleson-Curtis Resolution, number 83 above. It is your safety and that of the coming generations you hope to preserve. You and others like you can — if you demand firmly enough. Twenty-six members of Congress already have gone on record for the measure, including Strom Thurmond, Frank Lausche, John Bell Williams, Barry Goldwater, Wallace Bennett, Hiram Fong, Hugh Scott, John G. Tower, John L. McClellan, Milton R. Young, Edwin L. McCheser. These and others in Congress need your support to save us from the State Department trap.

The American Way

COLLECTIVIZED FARMING CAN HAPPEN HERE

By Raymond C. Baker American Way Features Correspondent

It is more usual than not for federal agencies to operate on the theory that the right hand must never know what the left hand is doing. The idea is to spend as much of the taxpayer's money as possible and make him like it, while grabbing more and more control over him.

A prime example of this "art" is the crazy-quilt operations of Interior Department's Bureau of Reclamation, the Corps of Army Engineers and Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation.

Reclamation wants $348 million in fiscal 1964 for, among other things, irrigation of arid, but otherwise fertile land to put it into production. Army Engineers seeks $994 million for navigation and flood control, with Reclamation taking over much of the dammed water for further land improvement. These agencies work hand-in-glove to make more land agriculturally productive.

Conversely, the Department of Agriculture wants $560 for handling and storage of surplus grain and its Commodity Credit Corporation asks $294 million for land reclamation. CCC also wants another $22.5 million to transfer land from farming to recreational purposes. Agriculture is dedicated to decreased farm production.

It is hardly an anomaly that these agencies work at cross-purposes. It is one method of harnessing farmers' with increased control. Robert C. Liebenow, one of the nation's most articulate champions of the American free enterprise profit system, sees a possible parallel in the predicament of American farmers and that of farmers in Fidel Castro's Cuba, only 90 miles from our shores.

The 40-year-old president of the Chicago Board of Trade, world's largest commodity exchange, has been telling audiences throughout the farm belt that substantial groups of people in high places feel that the way to solve America's farm problems is to put agricultural well, if the 180 million Americans who do run this country ever relinquish their right.

Castro Destroys Farms

Before Castro came to power farm production accounted for one-third of the island's national income. Mr. Liebenow recently told a Country-City Congress of the Topeka, Kansas, Chamber of Commerce, "and as a consequence the Cuban people enjoyed one of the best diets of any Latin-American country."

After seizing power, Castro nationalized farm properties and organized them into government-owned and operated "cooperatives." He improved on this in 1961 by stealing a leaf from the Communist farm book. Now they are "peoples farms," a Cuban version of collectivized Russian and Chinese farms.

"Today food is critically short in Cuba," Mr. Liebenow stressed, "and important foods in short supply are strictly rationed. Our greatest industry is farming. The farm production explosion is directly traceable to the American free enterprise system and the personal profit incentive," he asserts at every opportunity.

Grab For Power

Mr. Liebenow is correct. But many people wonder how reasonable persons can compare American and Communist agriculture and still come to the conclusion that the way to solve our farm problems is through government regimentation. This is no mystery, however, once it is understood how our government agency serves another in the continuing grab for power over people. With one government department working assiduously to promote more farm land and another working equally hard to curtail production, it is little wonder that agriculture is in a mess.

When the nation's agricultural balance is upset by planned bureaucratic meddling, it is time not only for farmers, but every person who eats three square meals a day, to start screaming. A thought for the day—French philosopher and author Francois Voltaire said: "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Koufax Wins In Twelve, Stuart Belts Two HR's

United Press International
Sandy Koufax exposed one of baseball's oldest myths yesterday by proving a pitcher doesn't necessarily have to take his lumps the next time out after a no-hitter. Down through the years relatively few major league pitchers have managed to go the distance in their next game following a no-hit performance.

by third baseman Bob Bailey on Willie Mays' hard smash produced two more runs.
Frank Robinson and rookie Pete Rose each collected three hits to pace the Reds to their victory over the Cubs as Jim Maloney won his first game of the season with help from Al Worthington.

Koufax, who hurled a no-hitter against the San Francisco Giants last Saturday night, not only went nine innings Wednesday night but did better than that, going 12 while leading the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 3-2 extraordinary triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The southpaw fastballer gave up 11 hits but struck out 12 and did not walk a man. It was only the second time in his major league career that he did not give up a walk during an entire game.

Ron Fairly provided Koufax with his fifth victory by singling home Jim Gilliam from second base in the bottom of the 12th. Reliever Johnny Klippstein had retired 14 straight batters before Gilliam singled in the 12th and moved up to second base on Bob Olds' passed ball.

Braves Down Cardinals
Elsewhere in the National League, the Milwaukee Braves defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3, the league-leading San Francisco Giants shamed the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3, the Cincinnati Reds crushed the Chicago Cubs 10-2, and the New York Mets snapped the Houston Colts' six-game winning streak 7-4.

Bob Hendley of the Braves held the Cardinals hitless for 8 1/3 innings before Curt Flood tripled. The Milwaukee southpaw gave up two more hits in the ninth and settled for a three-hitter and his fourth victory. Denis Menke connected for his fourth homer of the year off Curt Simmons, who lost his first game after five straight victories.

The Giants were limited to four hits by Inzer Don Cardwell and two Pirate relievers but rallied for four runs in the fifth to win. Cardwell, now 15, walked winning pitcher Juan Marichal (5-3) with the bases full in the fifth and hit Felipe Alou with a pitch to force in another run. An error

Canadian Rider Top Bronc Buster

DENVER (SpI) — Idaho's pair of top cowboys, Dean Oliver and Harry Charters, Jr., today were still running neck and neck for pro rodeo's top money spot, after the 25th annual Tulsa, Okla., Stampede, a major rodeo which ended late Sunday.

Oliver, 33, from Boise, found himself with a narrow $158 edge—$10,674 to $10,516 — on his 6-foot, 6-inch, 240-pound rival after finishing third in calf roping at the six-day contest. He earned $468.

Charters, 38, from Melba, came away from Tulsa empty-handed. He had gone ahead of Oliver, reigning world champion, a 14-roper, the week before at a rodeo in Long Beach, Calif.

Both men compete only in calf roping and steer wrestling. Last year's big money champion, Tom Nesmith, 28, Sulphur, La., who enters the same events, is running third this year in defense of his title, behind the Idahoans with $9,587.

Pro rodeo's payoff so far this year nears the million dollar mark after Tulsa added $14,464 to the game's prize money log. Some 61 rodeos now have dispensed $852,872 among winners. Totals at the end of the last four seasons have topped $3,000,000.

Event winners at Tulsa were: in saddle bronc riding, Marty Wood, Bonanza, Alta, bareback bronc riding, a three-way tie for first between John Hawkins, Twain Harte, Calif., Bill George, Canadian, and Clyde Frost, Lapoint, Utah, and in bull riding, Joe Green, Sulphur, Okla.

Don Feddersen, of El Reno, Okla., won both calf roping and steer wrestling events worth a total of $1,452, emerging the rodeo's individual high money winner.

White Sox Keep First Place Lead

By United Press International
Some guys back up to the pay window, but Dick Stuart had to be different—he went clear over the wall.

That's the friendly left-field wall at Fenway Park and what better time to hit a couple of balls over it than on pay day?

They passed out the pay checks all over the majors Wednesday and Stuart picked the occasion to pace the second-place Boston Red Sox to a 9-3 and 7-6 two-night sweep over the Los Angeles Angels with a grand slam homer in the opener and a three-run homer in the nightcap.

It was kind of a mixed-up night for the ex-Pittsburgh first baseman.

The Fenway Park crowd of 12,789 booed him for committing his first two errors of the season but also cheered him for hitting his sixth homer with the bases full in the third inning of the first game and his seventh homer with two on in the third inning of the finale.

Drives In Seven Runs
Stuart drove in a total of seven runs during the twin bill, and although his first homer assured Bill Monbouquette his third victory, Russ Nixon had to break a 4-4 tie with an eighth-inning double in the nightcap to bring reliever Dick Radatz his third triumph.

The league-leading Chicago White Sox came from behind to down the Detroit Tigers 7-4, the Cleveland Indians blanked the Kansas City A's 1-0, the Baltimore Orioles walloped the Washington Senators 7-1, and the New York Yankees ran their winning streak to four games with a 4-3 win over the Minnesota Twins.

Chateaugay First Preakness Entry

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Entries for Saturday's 87th running of the $150,000-added Preakness Stakes close today with Darby Dan Farm's Chateaugay, the Kentucky Derby winner, named ahead of time just as he was at Churchill Downs two weeks ago.

record at 3-3 with the Indians. Tito Francona singled home the only run of the game in the first inning off Orlando Pena, who suffered his third loss in seven decisions.

Home runs by Jim Gentile, Jackie Brandt and Jerry Adair powered the Orioles to their victory over the Senators. Milt Pappas yielded only three hits, including a homer by Ken Reizer, in winning his third straight without a defeat.

Trainer Jimmy Conway, who had to leave for New York Wednesday, filed the entry before he left "just so there will be no slip-up."

And when the box closes, the names of Candy Spots, Never Bend, Sky Wonder, On My Honor, Lemon Twist and Country Squire are expected to join that of Chateaugay, completing the field of seven.

Although he won the Kentucky Derby by a length and one-half, Chateaugay once again finds himself cast in the role of underdog. For Candy Spots, third in the Kentucky Derby, is pre-race favorite at 7-5 with Never Bend, second at Churchill Downs, second choice at 2-1. Chateaugay ranks third at 5-2.

Candy Spots, winner of the Santa Anita derby and the Florida Derby this year, suffered his only defeat in the Kentucky Derby, many observers blaming jockey Willie Shoemaker for his third place finish. Shoemaker again rides the son of Nigromante, who now boasts six wins in seven races.

Green Starters

Ramsay reported that Evans had been moved up to starting center due to the tremendous improvement he has shown since spring training started. Oler gained a starting berth due to his fine running and blocking in last week's game.

Halftime entertainment will be provided, with the high school and both junior high bands performing, and the new 1963 cheerleaders introduced and leading the teams on.

Sidelines

Recently Norm came in to ask Phil for a picture of Randy to be hung in the school's trophy case. When he approached Phil, Ol' Hawkeye looked at him blankly and then said: "Oh yes—The golf coach! What can I do for you?" (We understand that Norm was not half as put out as Eural Ramsey who has threatened to wrap a nine iron around Phil's neck for what he terms an insult to his good looks. We dunno, Eural, at least Norm has hair.)

GETTING BACK to spring training, in answer to all queries, we have been tremendously impressed with the looks and attitude of the Harvesters. Coach Otis Holladay promised that the new offense would provide plenty of thrilling action and an opportunity to score from anywhere on the field, as was amply borne out by the two touchdowns scored in the first minute of last Saturday's intra-squad game. Anyone who missed that wing-ding should be sure to take in the game Friday afternoon at 3 p.m.

WE HAVE also been asked how the Harvesters stack up with the teams we saw last year. We feel that it is impossible to answer since we primarily covered Pasadena, 10th in the state, with three All-State boys on the team; Galena Park, eighth in the state, with two All-Staters; and South Houston, runner-up in district to the number one team in the state, Spring Branch. However, we will make this prediction: We have never covered a losing team as a sportswriter yet, and we don't feel that this year is going to break our record.

ONE OR TWO PEOPLE have commented that they feel there is too much on Randy Matson in the News' sport pages. We are sorry they feel that way, but from the 100-plus telephone calls we get everytime Randy is at a meet, we think that popular opinion has them outvoted. In any case, we do not want to neglect any athlete in the area at all, but a super athlete like Randy comes along only once in a generation. Since he will be making the name of Pampa known through the country for just a few more weeks, since United Press International, Sports Illustrated and Texas Coach feel that his picture and story are enough to run not only state-wide, but nationwide, we don't believe we are "overemphasizing" him. The people who think there is too much about Randy Matson will be the first to miss the tremendous prestige and publicity he has brought to Pampa when he departs for college. We doubt if even the great Harvesters basketball teams of the Fifties have spread the name of our city through the nation as have the efforts of this one boy, and we don't think there are enough superlatives in the book to use about him.
