Haiti Defiant Toward OAS

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI)—The government of Francois Duvalier took a defiant stand against the Organization of American States (OAS) today and accused the United States of trying to destroy democracy in this troubled Caribbean republic.

Top OAS officials said privately in Washington that Haiti was opposing a planned new on-the-spot inquiry by an OAS team into charges by the neighboring Dominican Republic of government repression and abuses of diplomatic norms.

The OAS mission was reported to have warned that it would take counter-measures against any Haitian attempt to put obstacles in its way.

Charge U.S. Plot
The Haitian Foreign Ministry charged in an official statement Thursday that a plot by the United States government to destroy Haiti's democratic institutions was behind the current crisis.

The United States flew 158 more American residents of Haiti to safety in Miami Thursday, ending the first phase of a withdrawal program attributed to the "deteriorating" situation in Haiti.

A strict curfew remained in effect Thursday night in Port Au Prince and there was no indication of new anti-government violence.

The threat of renewed massive demonstrations remained in the Dean South steel center, Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. and things are about worked out but there are still some minute problems to be dealt with.

King said a two-day truce would end at 11 a.m. EDT unless an agreement could be reached on a demand for the release of 600 Negroes held in the Birmingham jail.

At Knoxville, Tenn., police arrested more than 75 Negroes demonstrating in front of a segregated downtown movie theater. The arrests came when the Negroes sat down in front of the theater entrance. They were charged with obstructing traffic and commerce.

Mayor Sounds Warning
At Raleigh N.C., Mayor W. G. Linton said Thursday night Pough must act to keep the city from becoming "another Birmingham."

The mayor's statement came just before a Negro was forcibly ejected from the statehouse restaurant Thursday and after demonstrations Wednesday in which 57 Negroes were arrested at segregated downtown restaurants and theaters.

"It's time to act," the mayor said. Let's not settle this thing by laws or creeds but by being human beings dealing with one another."

At Albany, Ga., scene of massive demonstrations and arrests last year, 14 young Negroes were arrested Thursday for picketing stores owned by white persons. The arrests brought to 49 the number of demonstrators taken into custody in Albany in the past three days.

Student Revolt Ending
At Savannah, Ga., a student rebellion that flared red hot earlier appeared to be ended today. Most of the students at the all Negro Savannah College were back in class.

The students had stayed away from classes and demonstrated because the contract of an economics professor who had invited whites to attend his classes was not renewed.

At Greenwood, Miss., two white men were indicted Thursday in the shooting of a young Negro civil rights worker. William Greenlee and Wesley Kersey were indicted for assault and battery in the March 5 wounding of Jimmy Travis.

Trinity Belle Is Fifteen Hours Behind Schedule
CORSCIANA (UPI)—The 4,000-pound, jet-powered barge Trinity Belle, running at least 15 hours behind schedule, today encountered a massive logjam on the Trinity River 17 miles north of Corsicana.

Trinity Belle skipper Freeman Gross of Arlington dynamited the tangled mass to no avail. A five-man crew from Corsicana worked with a bulldozer and winch line to try to clear the way for the Trinity Belle.

The crew abandoned ship both for breakfast and to get away from the swarms of mosquitoes surrounding the logjam.

Gross had hoped to reach the proposed Trinity River turning basin between Dallas and Fort Worth by noon today.

JFK Meeting Canadian Minister

OTTAWA AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (UPI)—President Kennedy welcomed Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson here today as "an old friend of the United States" and the visiting leader said they would set a new course of friendship in two days of talks.

Kennedy greeted Pearson at this Air Force base before flying by helicopter with him to the President's home at Hyannis Port, Mass., about 18 miles away, for information discussions today and Saturday.

The President said the United States and Canada "share more than geography." They also have a common history and a common commitment to freedom and hope for the future, he said.

The two leaders are scheduled to talk informally about Canadian-American problems.

Foremost among these has been the U.S. desire for Canada to accept nuclear arms and Canada's refusal under former Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker to do so.

There have been reports from Ottawa that Pearson was expected to commit his country to acceptance of nuclear arms for its own defense in Europe and air components of the North American Defense Command on this continent.

Before the legislature quit, the executive director of the Chicago Federation of Settlements said if the legislature doesn't act to stop the riot, he will.

"The pressure really hasn't come yet," said Clarence Bonher. "We're looking for the real pressure to build up over the week end."

Operation Canned Goods
He said settlement houses usually feed three or four families a week. With public aid checks held up, he said, some houses fed as many as 20 families Thursday.

The Salvation Army and Catholic Charities also doled out free food.

At PPROA Meeting
The Board of Directors of the one-year term, at the 33rd annual PPROA meeting, which closed last night at the Coronado Inn, unanimously re-elected the current slate of officers for another year. Re-elected were Billy B. Davis, president; J. W. Collins, immediate past president; Lester L. Wiles and Frank Storm Jr., vice presidents; Dick Hermann, secretary; and John Chisholm, treasurer.

The board also named three new members to the nine-man executive committee to replace three members whose terms had expired.

New executives are J. E. Reed, G. N. McDaniel and W. W. "Bill" Carter. Stepping down are E. J. Dungan, George Cree, Jr., and J. W. Gayden.

A series of resolutions were also adopted by the group.

Closing out the official meeting last night was a dinner, also in the Starlight Room, featuring L. D. (Red) Webster, vice-president of Lone Star Steel.

Webster's speech, "Is the Red Paint Peeling," was in two parts. The first consisted of a summary of a trip to Russia in which he described the Russian building program as similar to a "false-front" house.

He illustrated this by describing a trip through the magnificent structure of Moscow University, admiring the ornate grillwork and beautiful marble pillars, but said that when he examined the pillars, he found the "marble" was just paint, and peeling away at the bottom.

Homes which were impressive from the street were found to be rotten and crumbling close up and in the back.

However, said Webster, the basic difference between the average Russian and the average American is in attitude. Despite the peeling paint, the average Russian feels that he is contributing toward his government and the overall effort of building his country.

Private Joke
L. D. (Red) Webster, left, and J. E. (Joe) Reid engage in a humorous conversation during last night's dinner of the PPROA at the Coronado Inn. Webster, vice president of Lone Star Steel, was the guest speaker at the dinner. Reid, of the Cabot Corporation in Pampa, is a member of the Executive Committee of the PPROA. (Daily News Photo)

Hoffa, Six Associates Indicted in Jury Case

Cooper's Flight May Give 'Armchair Astronauts' Televised View of Space

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—America plans to launch Air Force Maj. Gordon Cooper Jr. next Tuesday on a 28-orbit voyage that may give millions of "armchair astronauts" a peculiar view of space.

Cooper is the last of the flight-eligible Mercury astronauts to get a crack at space, and his is the prize — a marathon 34-hour journey that, if all goes well, will keep him in orbit longer than all previous U.S. manned space flights combined.

Has Television Camera
Millions of television viewers from Seattle, Wash., to Berlin, Germany, may have a chance to share the astronaut's breathtaking views of space for the first time. Cooper will take along a small television camera to take pictures that will be flashed to America and Europe.

The United States hopes to flash television pictures to Europe via its new communications satellite, Telstar-2, launched from Cape Canaveral last Tuesday. Twelve European networks have indicated interest in transmitting the Cooper pictures to homes on the continent.

Youngest Original Astronaut
The slender spaceman-elect, at 36 the youngest of the original seven Mercury astronauts, is scheduled to blast off from Cape Canaveral aboard a silver Atlas rocket sometime between 6 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. EDT next Tuesday.

A bell-shaped capsule he named Faith-7 will be Cooper's home in space on the flight that hopefully will take him 22 times around the globe, at altitudes ranging from 100 to 170 miles, including an unprecedented four passes over Communist China.

If the flight goes the full distance, Cooper and Faith-7 will slow down and return to a landing in the Pacific Ocean 80 miles southeast of Midway Island sometime late the following day.

More Indictments Possible
Federal Judge Frank Gray Jr., at the request of the Justice Department, instructed the jury to meet again May 21 or 22 with the exact date to be set later. Further indictments may be returned at that time.

Justice Department attorney James F. Neal said the indictment on alleged jury tampering was not yet finished. He told Gray there were "additional related matters" to be considered by the jury.

The indictment returned Thursday accused Hoffa of "aiding, commanding and inducing" attempts to influence through the offer of money or favors two jurors and a prospective juror in Hoffa's $1-million conspiracy trial here last year which ended in a mistrial.

Others Named
Also named in the indictment were Ewing King, president of Teamsters Local 327, Nashville; Allen Dorfman, Chicago insurance broker who handles insurance for the Teamsters Union; Larry Campbell, business agent for Detroit Teamsters Local 299; Thomas Ewing Parks, Nashville; Campbell's uncle, Nicholas J. Iweel, Huntington, W. Va., president of Continental Tobacco Co.; and Lawrence W. Meillin, Nashville merchant.

Convention Site To Be Set in June
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican national chairman William E. Miller announced today the site of its 1964 GOP national convention will be selected at a meeting in Denver June 21-22.

Miller said the selection will be made from seven cities which have bid for the convention—Atlantic City, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Miami Beach, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

A committee on site selection has scheduled a preliminary meeting in Denver May 17. Miller said in a statement it will hold its final meeting June 20 to draw up its recommendation to the national committee.

Jean K. Tool, Colorado Republican chairman, is vice chairman of the site selection committee.

Hottest Day Sends Water Use Soaring
The mercury hit 99 degrees in Pampa yesterday afternoon on the hottest day of the year so far and the city's water consumption climbed to 5.3 million gallons, a new record for any day in the month of May.

E. S. Lowry, water department superintendent, said yesterday's daily consumption figure was the highest for any May day in the department's history.

The extended drought and the city's lowered water rates for summer have caused Pampans to use more water in an effort to stimulate the growth of grass in parched lawns everywhere in the city.

Lowry said the average daily consumption during the first ten days of May has been 4 1/2 million gallons of water, which also is a record.

Indications were that the mercury would rise into the mid-90s again this afternoon with possibly another record day for water consumption.

Lowry said the Pampa water department has a capacity for pumping 12 million gallons a day before there would be any water shortage.

"However," Lowry said "this could be reduced if anything went wrong with any of our equipment."

The 12-million gallon capacity figure holds only when all pumping equipment is in perfect working condition.

Officers Re-Elected; Federalization Blasted

"The average American, on the other hand, always has his hand out — he feels the government owes him something," Webster said.

He quoted Dr. Ken McFarland, noted orator and consultant to General Motors, as saying "If our American system should fail, history will not say it is because we developed the atomic bomb, but because of our philosophy — that the individual is no longer morally or economically responsible."

"We have allowed the government to acquire, largely through default, a centralization of power beyond the wildest dreams of the founders of our Constitution," declared Webster.

"Our tax laws, the supreme power of the Supreme Court, the wasteful Federal giveaway program that is as shameful at home as it is foolish abroad — a policy that has one bureaucratic department paying a farmer to raise eggs and another paying him not to."

"Federal aid to education ought to start in Washington... with the teaching of arithmetic!"

"The government's power arises from our own apathy. The government is the biggest buyer, the biggest spender, the biggest employer, the biggest spender. Why? Because you and I have permitted it."

"We must stand up and be counted. We must fight to regain our rights, we must stop taking Federal handouts. If we are willing, there is nothing to fear. If

Missouri 4th State to Okay Anti-Poll Tax
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Missouri Thursday became the 34th state to approve the anti-poll tax amendment, but there was only a slim chance that four more states would ratify the measure and make it part of the U.S. Constitution this year.

However, congressional sources pointed out that the legislatures of only four states which have not ratified are still in session so they all would have to approve in order to make the amendment law this year.

Two of them—Maine and New Hampshire—are considered good bets to ratify. But North Carolina and Texas are the other two, and they are considered uncertain.

Racial Trouble Erupting Over Several Fronts

By United Press International
A precarious truce held while Negro and white leaders in Birmingham, Ala., sought to end the crisis there, but elsewhere in the South Thursday integration troubles erupted on numerous fronts.

The threat of renewed massive demonstrations remained in the Deep South street center. Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. said, "Things are about worked out but there are still some minute problems to be dealt with."

Top Business Leaders Talk Economics

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI)—The elite of the business community gathered today to talk politics and economics in the conference room of the Ritz-Carlton hotel. The list of speakers for the three-day meeting included Chairman Walter H. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisors, presidential assistant Ralph A. Dungan, and Christian A. Terrence, president of the American Enterprise for Public Policy.

Theme Of Optimism
Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, a Republican, were scheduled to deliver the main addresses at the evening session.

Unlike some previous council meetings, all signs indicated a theme of economic optimism and confidence.

The council members include the presidents of the big, mid-sized and small private companies in the United States. About 100 businessmen were here for the week-and-a-half session.

The council's loyalty in the past has been with the Republican Party, which has presided President Kennedy from energetically trying to win its confidence.

Missouri 4th State to Okay Anti-Poll Tax
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Missouri Thursday became the 40th state to approve the anti-poll tax amendment, but there was only a slim chance that four more states would ratify the measure and make it part of the U.S. Constitution this year.

But the outlook for obtaining final approval of the 24th Amendment to the constitution in August was regarded as excellent.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-La., chief sponsor of the amendment to ban the poll tax in federal elections, said he was confident in the remaining states needed to ratify the measure.

However, a state ratification of only four states would not be enough to bring the amendment into effect.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he was confident that the ratification of only four states would be enough to bring the amendment into effect.

Puckerless Policeman
TORONTO (UPI)—A traffic cop stood by helplessly at a busy intersection here Thursday as a traffic jam loomed.

The reason? He couldn't blow his whistle.

The policeman had had several teeth removed and was "unable to pucker his lips."

Another policeman took over and a traffic snarl was averted.

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (UPI)—President Kennedy welcomed Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson here today as "an old friend of the United States" and the visiting leader said they would set a new course of friendship in two days of talks.

Kennedy greeted Pearson at the Air Force base before flying by helicopter with him to the President's home at Hyannis Port, Mass., about 10 miles away, for information discussions today and Saturday.

The President said the United States and Canada "share more than geography." They also have a common history and a common commitment to freedom and "hope for the future," he said.

The two leaders are scheduled to talk informally about Canadian-American problems.

Eachman among these has been the U.S. desire for Canada to accept nuclear arms and Canada's refusal under former Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker to do so. Pearson defeated Diefenbaker last month in a political campaign marked by the latter's bitter attacks on U.S. policy.

There have been reports from Ottawa that Pearson was expected to commit his country to acceptance of nuclear arms but a division in the North American Defense Council on this count.

Thousands Facing Hunger in Relief Crisis in Illinois

CHICAGO (UPI)—Thousands of needy families faced at least a week of hunger today in a deepening of Illinois' relief crisis.

The state legislature, deathlocked in a tight over-reliance on aid payments, recessed Thursday for another four-day weekend without reaching agreement.

The Illinois Public Aid Commission (IPAC) has run out of funds for its aid to dependent children and general assistance relief programs. The legislature has blocked an emergency appropriation.

Says State 'Set'
A Republican state senator, in a parting blast at Democratic opposition to the GOP aid limits, said the state was being "too soft" on welfare recipients.

The Welfare organization, headquartered in Chicago's South Side, planned to picket Republican party offices in the Loop today.

Hundreds of families turned to settlement houses and private welfare agencies for food, but authorities said supplies were running low and appealed for more assistance.

Before the legislature quit, the executive director of the Chicago Federation of Settlements said "if the legislature doesn't act today, we're bad off."

"The pressure really hasn't come yet," said Clarence Huchel, executive director of the Salvation Army. "We're looking for the real pressures to build up over the week end."

Operation Canned Goods

The Salvation Army and Catholic Charities also doled out free food and clothing to the people of Cuba.

Cuban Exiles Are 'Going into Action'

MIAMI (UPI)—A Mevohadiah anti-Communist Cuban exile group today said that it will "go into action" soon with new attacks on Cuba to disrupt a C. S. broadcast on anti-Communist radio.

The group is known as the Cuban Freedom Fighters. It said its "commandos" will launch attacks against Cuba unless the United States forces Western nations engaged in shipping and trading with Havana "to cease their commercial dealings at the expense of the blood and suffering of the people of Cuba."

At PPROA Meeting
The Board of Directors of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty PPROA meeting, which closed last night at the Coronado Inn.

Re-elected were Billy B. Davis, president; J. W. Collins, immediate past president; Lester L. Wiley and Frank Storm Jr., vice presidents; Dick Hermann, secretary; and John Chisholm, treasurer.

The board also named three new members to the nine-member executive committee to replace three members whose terms had expired.

New executives are J. E. Reed, G. N. McDaniel and W. W. "Bill" Center. Stepping down are F. J. Dungan, George Cree Jr. and J. W. Gardner.

A series of resolutions were also adopted by the group.

Closing out the official meeting last night was a dinner, also in the Stratlight Room, presided over by Dick Webster, vice-president of Lone Star Steel.

Webster's speech "Is the Red Point Peelin" was in two parts. The first consisted of a summary of the 12-million gallon capacity described the Russian buying program as similar to a "red point" house.

He also touched on the developing crop through the metropolitan area on Monday. Lee of officials in state railroad and federal market policy, but said that when he examined the picture, he found the "marble" was just paint, and getting away at the bottom.

Homes which were impressive on the street were found to be rotten and crumbling close up and in the back.

Hoffa, Six Associates Indicted in Jury Case

ASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A federal grand jury Thursday indicted James E. Hoffa and six of his associates on charges of tampering with the jury during the labor leader's $1 million conspiracy trial last fall.

Hoffa surrendered several hours later to a U.S. commissioner at Philadelphia where he was arraigned against a disjunct faction of his huge union. He was released under $10,000 bond after a two-minute proceeding.

"I committed no offense of any nature in Nashville and will plead not guilty in Nashville court," he said. "The only statement I will make at this time is that I am not guilty of any crime."

More Indictments Possible
Federal Judge Frank Gray Jr., at the request of the Justice Department, may indict the jury to meet again May 21 or 22 with the exact date to be set later. Further indictments may be returned at that time.

Justice Department attorney James F. Neal said the investigation into alleged jury tampering was not yet finished. He told Gray there were "additional records" to be considered by the jury.

The indictment returned Thursday accused Hoffa of "aiding, abetting, counseling and inducing" attempts to influence through the offer of money or favors two jurors and a prospective juror in Hoffa's $1-million conspiracy trial here last year which ended in a mistrial.

Hottest Day Sends Water Use Soaring

PAMPA (UPI)—The mercury hit 99 degrees in Pampa yesterday afternoon on the hottest day of the year so far and the city's water consumption climbed to 5.5 million gallons, a new record for any day in the month of May.

E. S. Lowry, water department superintendent, said yesterday's daily consumption figure was the highest for any May day in the department's history.

The extended drought and the city's lowered water rates last summer have caused Pampans to use more water in an effort to stimulate the growth of grass in parched lawns everywhere in the city.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Emmy nominations are announced, the awards will be made May 26 on NBC-TV, and the big question is: Who cares? That the nominations are generally meaningless and frequently contemptible is indicated again by this year's results.

One hardly knows where to begin, or what with usual mistaking of nominees and categories, but as good a place as any is the incredible failure to list the excellent "Exploring" among the best children's programs. On the other hand, "The Beverly Hillbillies" is up for best comedy show, which indicates the basic insanity of the entire Emmy structure: Popularity and "outstanding achievement," as the nominees are referred to, have absolutely nothing to do with each other. If the "Hillbillies" really is our best, or even nominated for it, we may be closer to the bomb than we imagine.

Jack Paar Overlooked

Musical nominees include the "Telephone Hour," which is safe, dull and undistinguished; the Judy Garland-Phil Silvers-Robert Goulet special, which was a bomb; and the Carol Burnett-Julie Andrews Carnegie Hall Hour, which overwhelmed everybody in advance and wasn't all that much. In the variety field, the Jack Paar show was unbelievably overlooked, while the awkward Andy Williams program was put forward, along with the up-and-down Red Skelton. And while we're at it, should there really be an award for best panel or quiz show?

I don't know how "Chet Huntley Reporting" can be overlooked. I don't understand how a drama, "The Invincible Mr. Disraeli," can be nominated for best actor, best supporting actor and actress, best writing, best directing and best camera work — and not be nominated for best drama. It was not great, but it was certainly better than all of the utter claptrap of "The Eleventh Hour," with which it shouldn't be grouped anyway. And wasn't anybody watching when David Wayne showed the boys what acting was all about in "Teahouse of the August Moon"?

Uncured Ham

Then there is that extraordinary nomination of Joe Schildkraut as a man of the cloth in a "Sam Benedict" episode; it was uncured ham, and he is up for best actor in a single performance. And Peter Falk, who was magnificent as a half-wit deaf-mute on the Dick Powell Theatre's "The Rage of Silence" didn't rate as much in the selections.

How can there be no mention of coverage of 40 of the most suspenseful minutes in years — when astronaut Scott Carpenter was believed lost in space? And what about President Kennedy's history-making hour-long interview? And "The Chosen Child," about adoption? And "Charles Dickens' Chronicle," about Charles Dickens? And "The Dialogues of Archibald MacLeish and Mark Van Doren"? And the hour of American poetry and the American people? And "Russians: Self- Impressions," about the Soviet people through their classic writers? And "The World of Maurice Chevalier"? And the Victor Borge special from Lincoln Center, New York?

In case anyone is interested, our choice for best single program of the year goes to "The Tunnel," about the building of an escape passage under the Berlin

Shamrock Kicks Off Seat Belt Campaign Today

The Shamrock Oil Company today kicked off a seat belt program which company officials said they hoped would start a national movement within the petroleum industry.

Officials say the installation can be made at the rate of 15 minutes per belt.

With 40,000 lives at stake and 44 million injuries in auto accidents each year, said C. R. Bowen, public relations director for Shamrock, "it is difficult to over-emphasize the need for more belt Americans to get securely fastened to their collective seats."

"We are unwilling, then the least we can do for our children is to teach them to count in rubles!"

The luncheon speeches, which opened the meeting yesterday, were made by Jerome J. O'Brien of the Department of the Interior and State Sen. Grady Hazlewood. Senator Hazlewood warned the oil men that "their house was on fire," that the Legislature was trying to appropriate money for foolish spending, such as the education of state migrant workers and their children, money that would come out of our taxes, rather than help the oil industry as it should.

Resolutions adopted by the board of directors at their meeting included:

- Re- adoption of a resolution against a bill in the legislature, which is in effect creating a new Railroad Commission; opposition of Presidential tax changes that would effect the oil and gas industry; opposition of Administration bills in Congress unfavorably affecting the oil and gas industry; opposition of the "Compulsory Pooling Bill"; a request that the governor give consideration to filling the current vacancy on the Railroad Board with "a man who knows the technical problems of oil and gas;" favoring continued regulation of import of foreign crude oil and further regulation of same; relief of the independent producer from the Federal Power Commission.

The board also voted a memorial resolution in tribute to two members, Andy Bartlett and J. G. McClintock, who died this past year; for a floral gift and a get-well message to Andy Housely, in serious condition in a Houston Hospital; to Railroad Commissioner Gen. Ernest Thompson wishing him good health and regretting that he was unable to attend this meeting; and for a letter of encouragement to the area legislators for their good work for the industry.

Following the meeting, open seminars on various problems of the oil industry were held in the Starlight Room.

The Lighter Side Fun and Games with Columns

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Just about my favorite form of entertainment is provided by a question-and-answer column in one of the Sunday supplements. I am always intrigued by some of the questions that the readers send in. For instance, this one: "Can you tell me if Romano Mussolini, jazz pianist son of Benito Mussolini, has been booked into Las Vegas—Louise Schneider, Fort Dodge, Iowa."

What intrigues me is why Louise Schneider wanted to know that. I dare say that most American girls aren't even aware that the late Italian dictator had a piano-playing son.

Might Make Good Story
Is Louise a friend of his? A relative? This could have the ingredients of a good human interest story.

On the other hand, it could be that Louise Schneider doesn't really exist and that the question actually was sent in by Romano's booking agent.

The poor guy may have lost track of where Romano was supposed to appear and was too embarrassed to inquire under his own name.

At any rate, this is the way that I entertain myself. I read the questions printed in the column and then I invent situations to fit them.

It makes a fine pastime for a rainy day and in my opinion is more fun than working the crossword puzzle.

Speculates On Questioners

Following are some of the questions that have been submitted recently along with my conception, in parentheses, of who might have written them:

Q. I would like to know the name of the 17-year-old Belgian girl Stewart Granger is now going with (Stewart Granger).

Q. Is Rosemary Clooney reconciled with Jose Ferrer? (Jose Ferrer).

Q. I understand Eddie Fisher is writing a book. What will it be about? (Richard Burton)

Q. Does McGeorge Bundy have the same relationship to President Kennedy as Sherman Adams had to President Eisenhower? (President Kennedy)

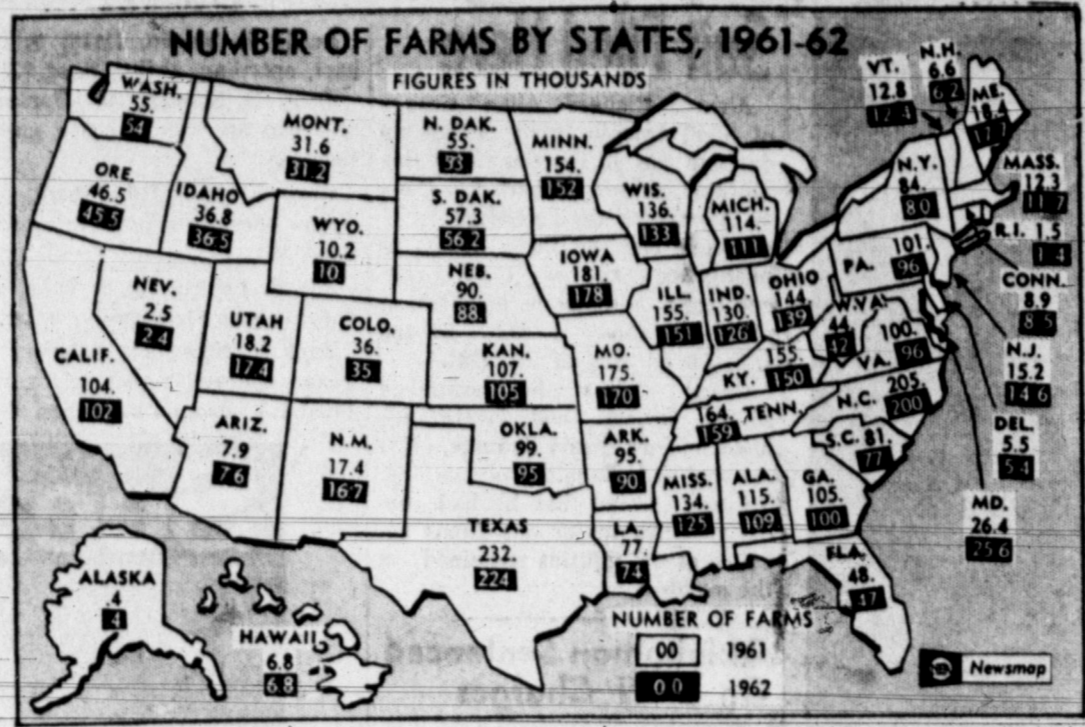

Q. Which of our states levy no sales or personal income taxes on their residents? (Mortimer Caplin)

Q. Screen star Deborah Kerr—is her marriage to writer Peter Viertel on the skids? (Peter Viertel)

Q. Is it true that Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York will become Joan Crawford's fifth husband? ("Happy" Murphy)

Q. Peter O'Toole, who stars in Lawrence of Arabia—doesn't he have a different nose than the one with which he was born? (Peter's mother)

Q. What about the Princess Soraya-Maximilian Schell romance? True or publicity? (Schell's press agent)

FEWER AND FEWER FARMS—The number of farms is steadily decreasing in the United States. Newsmap illustrates the point that the number of farms in operation in 1962, estimated at 3,695,200, is about three per cent less than in 1961. Total land embraced by the nation's farms is estimated at 1,168,145 acres. (Source: U.S. Department of Agriculture.)

It had been an all night bargaining session and dark circling the eyes of German Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard when he finally emerged. "We did good work," he said. "We avoided disaster."

Erhard referred specifically to a compromise agreement to end a metal workers strike which had idled a half million German workers and which, if allowed to spread, would threaten the whole of West Germany's booming economy.

But Erhard, the portly economic professor, who for 14 years has guided West Germany's economic destinies, might well have applied his remarks to his own political future.

For his night's work Erhard won a standing ovation from parliamentary members of his Christian Democratic Party and went far to assure that sometime next fall he will be elected to replace the aging Konrad Adenauer

as West Germany's Chancellor. To Step Down

In late April Adenauer reluctantly agreed to a three-to-one vote-of-party leaders that this fall he should step down from the office through which he had guided Germany back from the ruins of defeat to make it one of the most prosperous and powerful nations of Western Europe.

He pledged to lend his counsel to his successor, even though that successor be Erhard, whose ability to run the tough job of chancellor Adenauer continues to doubt.

Critics of Erhard had termed him "soft in times of crisis, a rubber lion."

But in the metal workers' negotiations Erhard had placed his prestige on the line and that criticism now would be harder to support.

It also would make it more difficult, if that should be Adenauer's intent, to maneuver Erhard out of the job for which he has waited so long.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

If you want to see what the skeleton of the new gym looks like, now is the time to drive by the Youth Center.

The Center is very anxious to see it completed. It will house basketball, badminton, volleyball, shuffleboard, trampoline, punching bags, judo and many other indoor games.

If you haven't joined the Center, maybe now would be a good time. You can refresh in the pool after you have worked out in the gym. Memberships are $5 and $8 for individuals with families being $12 and $20. All the facilities we have would then be at your disposal.

The Center has been asked many times about Memorial Funds given in memory of loved ones who have passed away. We do have such Memorials established at the Center. We notify the families that such a fund has been set up by the donor and that it will be used to buy needy boys and girls Center memberships. We here at the Center think that this is one of the nicest ways to show their concern toward a family who has gone through such sorrow.

This is the time of the month we change our schedule so here are some of the new attractions at the Center for the next three weeks: Swimmer Swim Class on week days from 4-5 p.m.; Mother and Daughter swim time on Tuesdays from 6-7 p.m.; Lad and Dad swim time on Thursdays from 6-7 p.m.; Swim Team workouts—daily 5-6 p.m. and square dance lessons on Wednesday nights.

We would like to emphasize the Mother and Daughter and the Lad and Dad swim time. This gives parents a chance to do something personal with their children. Moms and Pops should take advantage of this time, and only through your use of the time can we keep this on our schedule.

Parents we still can take children into our beginners swim class starting Saturday, May 18 at 9 a.m. This is for Center members only with the stipulation that anyone may join the Center. This will again.

be the last opportunity until next year, because the summer months and school vacation is coming. Our schedule will change then.

With the completion of the new gym we will need some equipment that possibly you have lying around the house, garage, or attic. Such equipment as basketballs, volleyballs, tennis rackets, nets, balls of all kinds which your children no longer use. Just a call to the Center will bring a car to pick them up. Also we wouldn't turn down any new equipment that you might want to purchase for us.

With the coming of the summer schedule you might be looking for a lot of new activities exclusive of the gym such as: twirling lessons, art lessons, bridge lessons, afternoon teenage dances, dance band contests, watermelon feasts, motion picture film night, swim meets and diving contests. All looks to a very interesting summer full of activities. These are in addition to our present activities which will be carried on through the summer months.

Anything you would like to see started, please contact the Center director.

Wall Street In Review

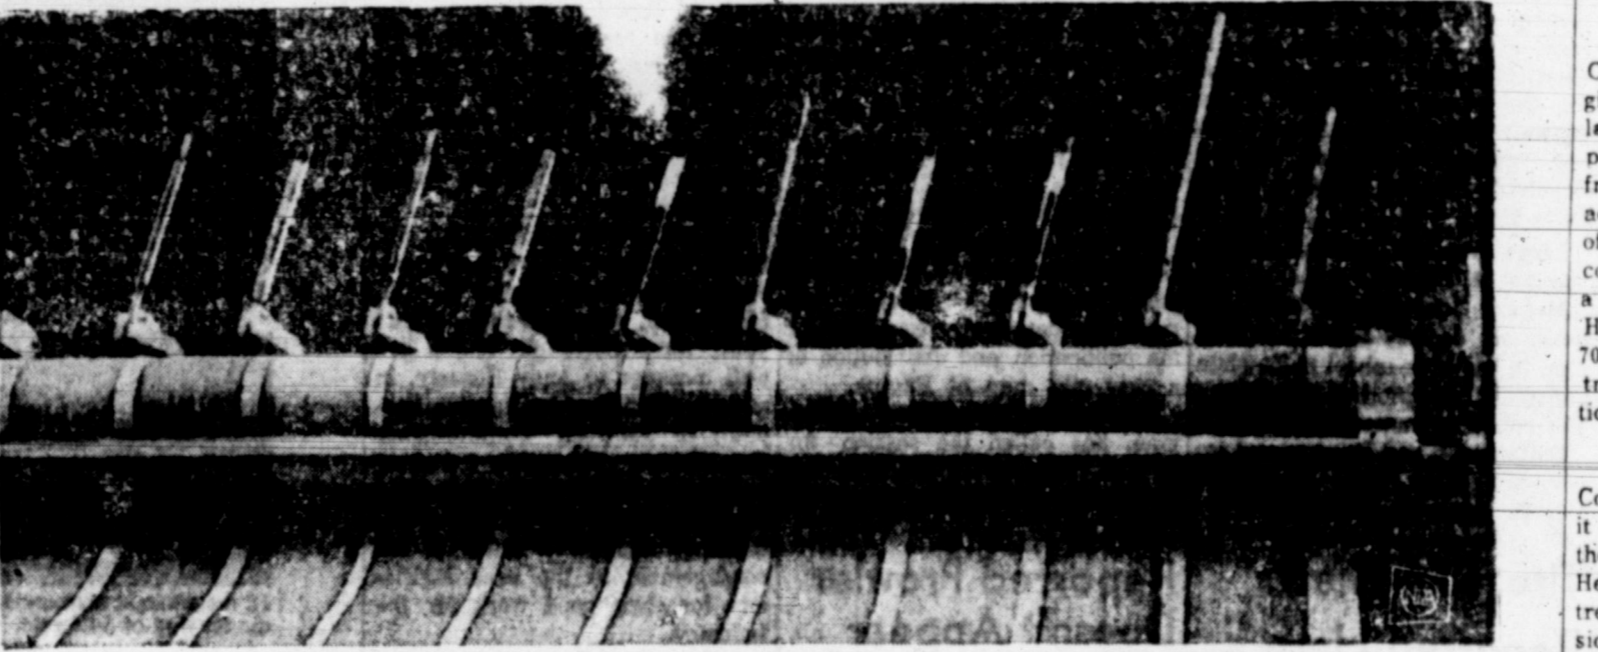

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walt McKibben, editor of Investograph Stock Survey, feels that while there is no "general pattern of boom-type enthusiasm," there still is clear evidence of continuing small improvements.

McKibben says he finds solid justification for an advance to the 740-750 level in the Dow-Jones industrial average. He predicts, partly on technical grounds, that the market will swing well above 740 before falling to that level again.

L. Palmer of J. W. Sparks & Co. believes the market was beginning to show signs of fatigue last week when trading slowed as prices advanced. Palmer reasons from this that, with the current advance encompassing a period of nine weeks without a suitable correction, it seems possible that a correction might be witnessed. He considers a return to the 685-700 level in the Dow-Jones industrial average as a normal correction on the current uptrend.

Lawrence Bleiberg of Bache & Co. says the market looks as if it is "building up momentum for the eventual rush to the summit." He sees the current indecisive trend as a resting period and considers the slow up in volume as an indication that no great downside pressure has been built up.

Negro Leader Is Bombed in Mississippi

LEXINGTON, Miss. (UPI) — Some "Molotov cocktails" were thrown into the home of a Negro civil rights leader near here setting the house afire.

Robert Moses, a field secretary for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, was arrested for impeding an investigation of the fire.

The incident occurred at the rural home of Hartman Turnbow, who has been leading a voter registration campaign in Holmes County.

Turnbow said several shots were fired into his house after the "cocktails" — bottles filled with gasoline—touched off the fire.

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Smith said Moses impeded officers at the scene of the investigation. The New York native was jailed here.

Moses has been in Mississippi for some time, leading civil rights campaigns in Greenwood, McComb and other places.

Authorities said Turnbow had served a prison term for manslaughter in the death of his wife. He has addressed several civil rights meetings here during recent months and led a march on the courthouse here several weeks ago.

Pakistanis Learn About Molasses For Cattle Feed

By JOHN BARTON

United Press International
KARACHI, Pakistan (UPI) — Pakistan livestock breeders and farmers may save a lot of money because an American animal nutrition expert likes molasses.

Burch Schneider, who teaches at the West Pakistan Agricultural University in Lwalipur under contract with Washington State University and the U.S. Aid Mission to Pakistan, discovered that 50,000 tons of molasses are dumped into rivers each year in Pakistan because sugar mill operators cannot find a market for it.

He estimates the wasted amount of this proven source of highly digestible energy could replace grain raised on more than 100,000 acres of farm land.

Schneider also learned through research that Pakistani livestock breeders are using expensive and scarce grains such as barley to feed their animals. In food-short areas, this competition between man and livestock for the available supply of cereals is a serious problem.

In fact in many areas of Pakistan it is necessary to import food grains to prevent near famine conditions.

The nutrition expert also found Pakistani farmers know very little about the value of molasses as an animal feed.

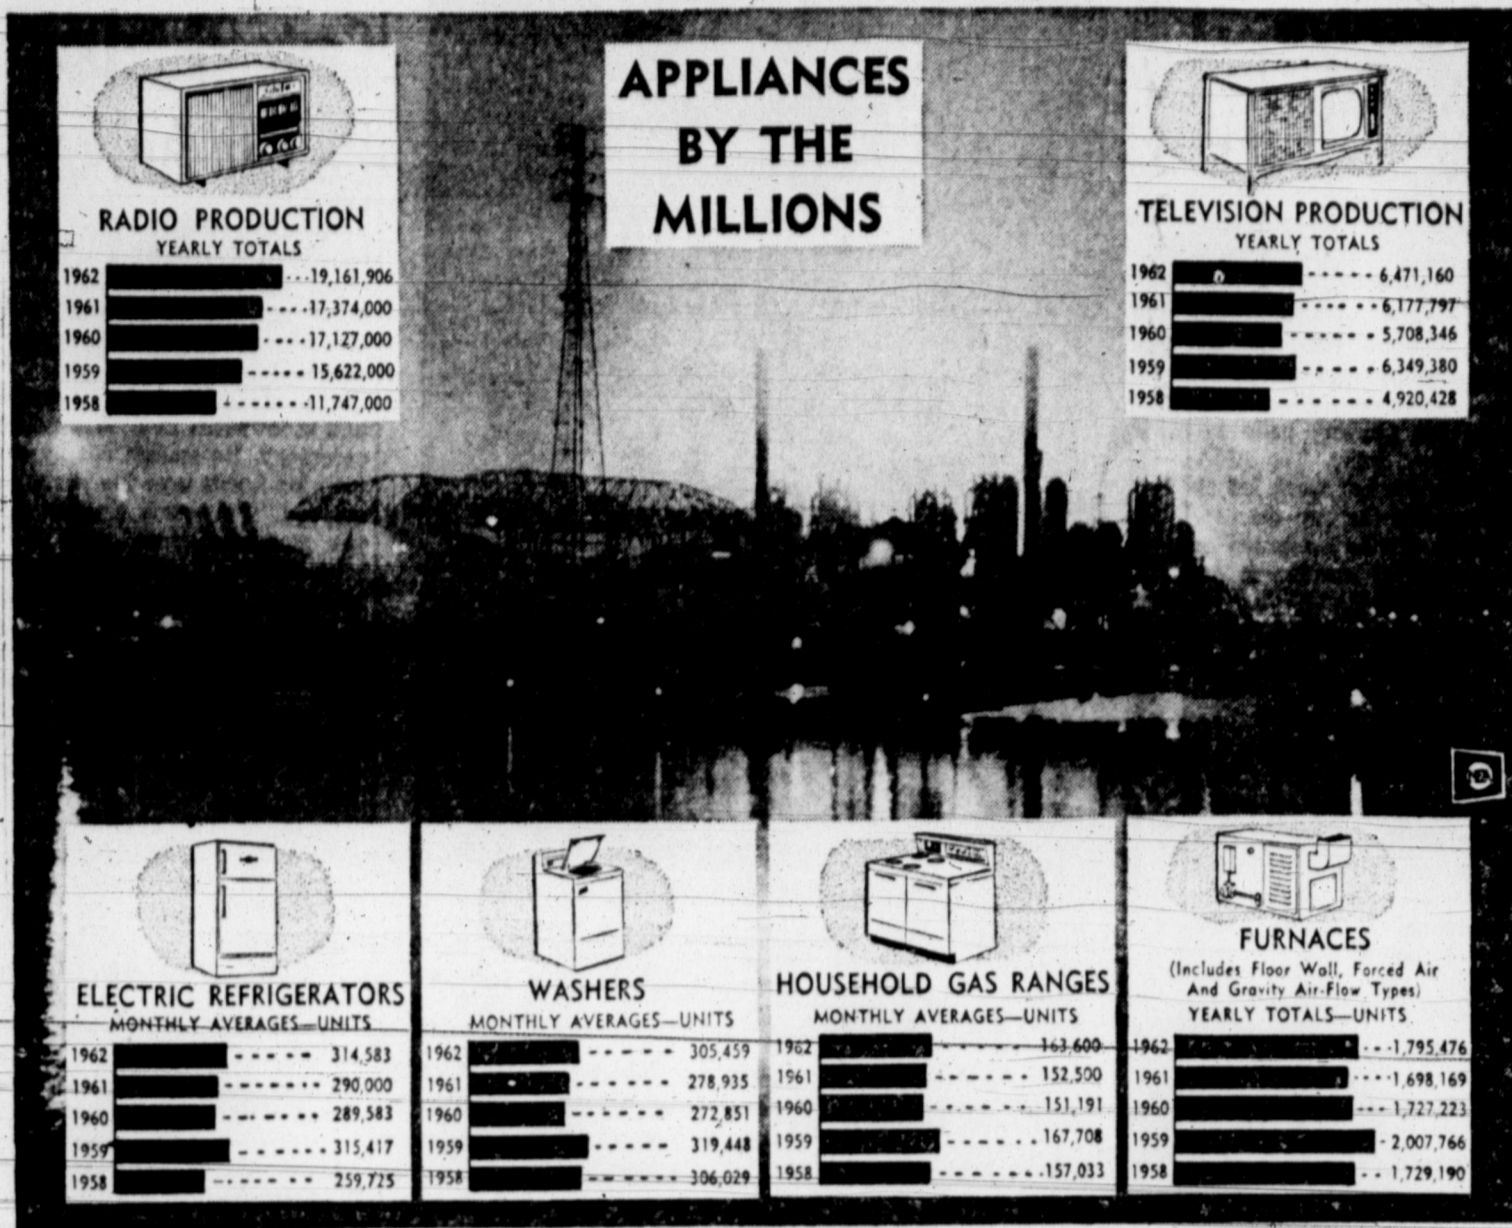

Schneider decided to do something about it.

He held demonstrations for farmers in the former Junjab area so they could see the value of molasses as an animal feed and learn how its use also could save valuable cereals for human consumption.

Schneider selected ten pairs of bullocks for his demonstrations. For a period of 20 weeks one of each pair was fed a ration of barley while the other was fed a ration containing molasses.

At the end of the experiment the weight differences between the two groups was statistically insignificant.

What was significant, however, was the difference in the feed bills. Molasses can be delivered anywhere in West Pakistan in tank cars for eight to twelve times less than barley.

U.S. Uses Cuba as Example For Need of Disarmament

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States told the 17-nation disarmament conference Wednesday recent events in Cuba prove the necessity of adequate verification to prevent stockpiling of rockets and other nuclear weapons.

U. S. Ambassador Charles C. Stille said the fact the Soviets had successfully hidden rockets in Cuba "is the best proof that if a state was determined to engage in secret deployment of strategic weapons, it could also do so undetected, at least for a certain period of time, in the proximity of another state which would be the potential victim."

The American negotiator used the Cuban example in appealing to the Soviet Union at today's 129th plenary session of the conference for more details of an alleged "compromise" proposal on retention of nuclear weapon-delivery vehicles.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko put the proposal before the United Nations General Assembly last Sept. 21 and since then the Russians have refused any more details.

"I can't come before fur o'clock. I have got good parents and I wouldn't hit him but I cant come till next week so please donte come or come round to my house."

The newspaper sent a representative anyway and found Kevin Mahoney, who explained he wated the money to buy his mother a Rolls-Royce or Bentley car."

Brothers Say Parker Was Mentally Ill

FORT WORTH (UPI)— Two brothers of J. Loyd Parker Jr., 44, believe he was mentally ill when he shot to death his father last week, defense attorney Clyde Mays said.

The younger Parker is charged with murder in the slaying of J. Loyd Parker Sr., 72. He was shot three times in the back and once in the neck.

R. Allison Parker of Houston and Earle North Parker of Fort Worth said J. Loyd Parker Jr., should be committed to a mental institution, Mays said.

Mays said he will enter an insanity plea at Parker's trial. He said he was preparing a court request to commit Parker to a Dallas sanitarium for at least 30 days observation.

Dist. Atty. Doug Crouch has said the younger Parker confessed he shot his father. A gardener at the Parker home admitted hearing the shots and saw J. Loyd Parker Jr. leaving the house.

Crouch said father and son were embittered toward one another since the senior Mrs. Parker was killed in an automobile accident near Glen Rose last November.

This Machine Knows Dames

ATLANTA (UPI) — The average American woman today measures, where measurements are important, 34.6-25.3-35.7.

And, diets or no diets, she stays pretty much the same in those areas, give or take a decimal point.

That's been reported here on rolls of magnetic tape.

That tape records the bust, waist and hip measurements of about 30 million women of the civilized world, culled from that many orders received annually by a local firm and processed through a recently-installed computer in the firm's foundation factory.

In a matter of seconds, the machine also came up with these findings:

—Our West Coast girls are slightly larger in these vital places but, says (Honeywell) computer chivalrously, they are "in perfect proportion."

—European women are somewhat larger and, because they stay consistently larger, their men probably like them better that way.

—Most girls like white bras throughout the year, but red, black and other colors are in demand at Christmas, Easter and Valentine's Day.

Bexar Official Says Resolution Avoids Issues

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Bexar County commissioner Albert Pena said Thursday a resolution criticizing his part in the all-Latin American city council election sweep in Crystal City was "a grandstand play" to take attention from pressing Bexar County issues.

Pena came under fire from the commission for his part in organizing the Latin vote in the April 2 Crystal City election.

At a news conference today Pena said what the commissioners now regard as a racial situation in Crystal City was plain politics two years ago. He said two of the commissioners asked him to help swing the Latin American vote in a Bexar County election two years ago.

Pena is president of the Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations (PASSO).

Wednesday's resolution condemning him was "a grandstand play to cover up the current Bexar County issue concerning dependent and neglected children," Pena said.

"I have been chosen as a scapegoat and this is what I bitterly resent," Pena said. "As far as I am concerned the Crystal City matter is over and done with."

Pena said "the public is in the process of being hoodwinked. All this is a red herring and a badly spoiled one at that."

House Approves Farm Program Without Change

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Agriculture Committee handed the Kennedy administration a major farm policy victory today by approving without change a House-passed bill to curb surplus feed grain production.

Committee chairman Alen J. Ellender, D-La., said after the 11-6 vote that he would move to bring the measure before the Senate next Monday.

The bill would extend into 1964 and 1965, with some revisions, an existing program under which producers of corn and other feed grains can qualify for government payments by voluntarily curbing production.

The current struggle over the bill involved timing. Democratic strategists are driving for final enactment before May 21, the date wheat growers will vote on a controversial administration-backed wheat control program for 1964.

Passage of the feed grain bill automatically would activate provisions of a 1962 law granting more flexible acreage controls and action on the feed grain bill is designed to make the wheat plan more attractive to farmer-voters. As for the wheat program, President Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that there is no alternate plan "in the wings" if growers reject the May 21 proposal.

Nobel Winner To Receive AMA Award

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Boston Nobel Prize winner who did research on the viruses of polio and measles will receive the Scientific Achievement Award of the American Medical Association (AMA), the AMA said Thursday. John F. Enders, 66, will be honored for isolating a strain of measles virus and developing techniques for growing polio viruses in living tissue. The AMA said his "pioneering" work led to vaccines against the two diseases.

The award will be presented at the AMA's annual meeting in Atlantic City June 18.

GOP 'Oozing' Confidence

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican campaign chiefs, oozing confidence, predicted "heavy" GOP gains in next year's elections extending "from the White House to the courthouse."

They said there was "public disillusionment" with the Kennedy administration.

The GOP leaders issued their forecasts at a news conference as some of the party's biggest financial angels gathered here to look over some of the prospective 1964 Republican presidential possibilities.

The guests, who each paid at least $1,000 for "subscriptions" to the Republican senatorial campaign committee, will attend a dinner honoring Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
More important to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's political future than his divorce and re-marriage could be the fireball developments that are beginning to spark the Goldwater-for-President movement.

The G-for-P movement is showing political muscle. There is a powerhouse of enthusiasm under the hood of the G-for-P bandwagon. Goldwater is a crowd pleaser. He has been and may still be somewhat of an underdog, coming as he does from politically insignificant Arizona. But, however that may be, the senator arouses among his followers a boisterous affection.

Consider some recent political developments:

State and regional Goldwater-for-President headquarters are popping up at a great rate.

These are accompanied by enthusiastic draft-Goldwater efforts.

A congressional quarterly poll of delegates to the 1960 Republican national convention found a majority personally favored Goldwater even though a majority also regarded Rockefeller as most likely to be nominated.

Won Most Sections
Goldwater was the personal preference of every section of the country in this poll except the East and by a good margin.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution polled Republican Party officials in southern states and reported:

"Sen. Barry Goldwater is almost the solid choice across the South for the Republican presidential nomination—and some 250 delegate votes are his more than a year ahead of convention time.

"Those votes are almost half enough to give Goldwater the nomination. And the people who hold those (delegate) votes say they could carry every southern state for Goldwater if he were nominated."

The Constitution poll found some Rockefeller strength in Arkansas, Tennessee and Virginia and a bit in Georgia and Kentucky for Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky. The evidence of convention strength in the Constitution's poll is a reassurance much needed by Goldwater's friends.

Republican nominating conventions long have been loaded against conservatives. The Republican Party has not nominated a conservative for president since Calvin Coolidge in 1924. It has seemed to some observers that the convention would be the greatest obstacle between Goldwater and the White House; that it should be less difficult to elect than to nominate him. That is because Republican conventions have been dominated by Eastern Republicans whose political strategy increasingly has been to out-promise the Democrats instead of out-slugging them.

In publisher John S. Knight's "Editor's Notebook," published May 5 in the Detroit Free Press and other Knight newspapers, this point is made: "Until someone such as Goldwater heads the Republican ticket, the conservative strength in this country never will be tested."

Knight doubts that Goldwater could lick President Kennedy. But he asks a question that Republicans long since should have been asking themselves: "Why should the Republicans, basically the conservative party, fear to try strength?"

The answer to that seems to be that when the chips are down, the kingmakers of the Republican Party are more interested in victory than in principles. Conservatives have not much representation in either major party. Goldwater could change that although the odds are long against him.

Kennedy Thinks Cartoonists Don't Do Him Justice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy voiced a tongue-in-cheek complaint Thursday to a group of editorial cartoonists—he is much thinner than they draw him and has less hair.

Kennedy, greeted 80 cartoonists and their wives at a rose garden ceremony. He started out by rubbing his hands over his jowls and quipped "I'm much thinner than you gentlemen draw me."

Glancing at a display of 92 cartoons, the President added: "And the hair is much less."

The cartoonists took his kidding good—naturally. Like other visitors, they all wanted to shake his hand and most of them wanted his autograph, which he obligingly gave.

Some of the cartoonists had their drawing pads with them and quickly sketched Kennedy so that he could autograph the caricature.

On the serious side, Kennedy praised them for "the ability to place in one picture a story with humor and compassion." He said it made them essential commentators of the American scene.

Martin Van Buren was the first President born in the USA.

Let's face it—nobody wants a safety belt. But with 10 million accidents a year, the odds are that each of us is going to be in an accident sooner or later.

We feel obliged to do what we can to reduce the injuries and deaths from automobile accidents. Safety belts, we're convinced, are the best remedy available.

So, we're offering for a limited time a top quality belt for only $5.98 on terms of $1 a month per belt. We'll install them free. Don't you agree it's a small price to pay to double your family's safety?

The National Safety Council says that, of the 442 lives lost during a July 4th weekend, about half of them would have survived had they been wearing seat belts. Crippling injuries would have been reduced by 60%.

Needed at low speeds? The need for safety belts is greater in neighborhood driving than at highway speeds. Most accidents occur at speeds under 40 miles per hour and less than 25 miles from home.

Belts uncomfortable? When snugly secured, safety belts lessen fatigue on long trips by holding you in a relaxed, yet properly postured position.

What about the belt? The Beam's #200 Auto Safety Belt is commended by Parents' Magazine and exceeds rigid S.A.E. and Federal specifications. Instant release metal-to-metal buckle; Immediate non-slip adjustment to any size for your complete comfort; Extra strong 100% Caprolan nylon webbing; Choose from 6 harmonizing sunfast colors.

Remember—safety belts save lives!

McLEAN (Spl) — The Pioneer Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Jim Hahaway recently. As the members arrived they were served refreshments of pineapple ambrosia salad, cookies and punch.

Mrs. Jack Riley, president, was in charge of the business session. Plans for the annual senior tea were discussed.

Mrs. June Woods selected for her program a book of poems, "Thou Shalt Not Fear," written by Bud Collyer, the genial host of television. It is designed to meet spiritual growth on every level and portrays the true potentials of Christian faith," Mrs. Woods said.

Members present for the meeting were Meses: Sinclair Armstrong, R. T. Ayres, Jim Beck, Jim Boyd, Jesse Coleman, Harold Fabian, Dale Glass, Jim Hahaway, Forrest Hupp, Creed Lamb, Clyde Magee, Jack Riley, Alice Short Smith, Bob Stubblefield, Lee Welch, June Woods, Jerry D. A. Ted Raines, Nelson Christie, John Ramp and Leslie Webb.

Mrs. Dudley Steele To Guest Review At PEWS Luncheon

Mrs. N. Dudley Steele, popular reviewer, will present "Travels With Charley", written by John Steinbeck, at the Petroleum Engineers Wives' Society luncheon Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in the Cibola Room of the Coronado Inn.

Newly-elected officers will be installed during the business meeting, according to Mrs. N. E. Turnbo, president. Mrs. Paul Davis will conduct the installation ceremony.

Included in the business meeting will be discussion of the social hour, which is to precede the AIME Spring Dance planned for May 17, with the PEWS members as hostesses.

Members will be asked to make reservations for the social hour at the luncheon.

SCARF MAGIC
Scarves are an important fashion item for spring and summer. They add filmy, floating elegance to suits and dresses and can be pretty when worn as a stole over a summer evening gown.

Members will be contacted for luncheon reservations or they may call Mrs. Davis at MO-5-3497 before Sunday, May 12th.

Scouting Scoops

Summer is fast approaching and Girl Scout headquarters in City Hall are well aware of the fact... and well prepared with summer activities.

Heading the list are the continuous camps to be held throughout the summer. Day Camp opens the season with sessions June 10-14; June 17-21; and June 24-28. During these sessions, girls will learn basic camping skills and will cook out occasionally.

Visitation Day will be held the fourth day of each camp and parents and friends will find their chance to explore the grounds of Camp Mel Davis and to observe newly-acquired skills in action. Aiding the adult leaders at camp will be senior and cadette scouts. Hours spent by Senior Scouts will be applied to Program Aide bars.

More extensive camping opportunities are offered to scouts from the fifth to twelfth grades. Among these are troop camping, primitive-style, and for the first time in the Quivira Council, established camping. Both camps will be held at Camp Kiowa in August.

First to pitch tents (literally!) on Aug. 4-10 are the troop campers. The only difference in this year's program, as compared with last year's, is that the evening meal will be served at the lodge. This additional time will enable the girls to take in more camp craft, canoeing, archery and swimming activities, as well as less supervised ones (such as raiding tents and playing jokes!)

Each evening, campfires will be held with different troops providing entertainment. From this score of productions, skits and acts will be chosen to perform at the visitation day ceremonies, which are quite a reunion.

Last year, one girl's brother was so anxious to see her, he baked a cake for her and her troop.

Being held during the troop camp session and extending until Aug. 15 is the established camp. To handle the different interests of the girls, the camp has been divided into three groups; aquatics, pioneer and survival.

Activities in the aquatics division will center around swimming and canoeing. Girls will take life-saving training and to top off the session, a canoeing pack-trip is planned.

In the pioneer division, the girls will handle activities similar to the troop camping activities. However, more advanced skills will be required and more activities have been planned. For instance, the girls will take a trip, if possible, to climax their session.

Survival camping is actually the advanced session of the pioneer division. In pioneer camping, girls have tents and complete food supplies and equipment; however, in survival camping girls are taught to fend for themselves with little or no equipment or food. After learning how to use nature's re-

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who says, "Honey, I don't know what to get you for Mother's Day. Here is $20 — go buy yourself something"? I felt so bad I cried all night.

WET PILLOW
DEAR WET: Your husband may not have much imagination, but at least he remembered, and he put his money where his mouth was. I hope you never have anything more serious to cry about.

DEAR ABBY: I was married before and so was my husband. We've now been married three years and are very happy. I happened to mention that I had two graves here in Pittsburgh, bought and paid for. He said when he dies he wants to go back to West Virginia. Now, he left West Virginia years ago because he didn't like it, so how come he wants to go back there to be buried? I told him we belonged together and he said if I felt that way about it I'd be buried in West Virginia with him. I don't care anything about West Virginia. I want to be buried in Pittsburgh. I am 37 and he is 39, which is too young to be worrying about this, of course, but I would like to get it settled. What is your opinion?

PLOT PROBLEM
DEAR PLOT: Does HE have plots bought and paid for in West Virginia? If not, he might just as well get down to earth in Pittsburgh.

DEAR ABBY: Is yawning a sign of physical tiredness? Or is it a sign of boredom?

CURIOUS
DEAR CURIOUS: It can be either, or both. It's usually an involuntary opening of the mouth when you wish others would shut theirs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BABE: If you want to find out what makes him tick, meet his wife. She could be the whole works!

Anatomy of a Crisis

By ROBERT GORDON
 United Press International
 BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—
 This Southern steel center has been called the most segregated big city in America.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the Negro integrationist, bestowed the title and the Atlanta minister and thousands of his followers are in the midst of a campaign to change it.

Negro leaders began planning their massive campaign to break the racial barriers here more than six months ago.

One of King's top lieutenants stretched out on his bed in a Negro motel and related the history of the South's biggest push for equal rights in history.

"The merchants let us down in September," the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth said simply.

Shuttlesworth, a 46-year-old Baptist minister, began almost single-handedly in 1955 to break down color barriers here. He has since been arrested 88 times by his own count, been beaten and threatened and has moved his family to Cincinnati.

"The downtown (white) merchants agreed to desegregate lunch counters and other facilities and upgrade the Negro in his job last September," he said.
 "But they went back on their word."

Press Business Leaders Troubled, Shuttlesworth and other local Negro leaders contacted King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, of which Shuttlesworth's Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights is an affiliate.

With King and the SCLC's top leaders, Shuttlesworth said "We decided that since Birmingham was the nation's worst in race relations, we had to go all out... with the biggest campaign this nation had seen. There was no use in dealing with the city officials. We had to press the business leaders into action."

Wyatt Tee Walker, a business-like top assistant to King who had planned the strategy used in a long campaign in Albany, Ga.,
 came to Birmingham in November, 1962.

"I mapped the city, its stores,

its restaurants, the libraries,
 Walker later related. "In three days of walking around I knew where the lunch counters were in the stores, where the water fountains were... everything."

"By January, we had a thick file and a day-by-day plan of action," Walker said.
 Twice the campaign was postponed.

Change City Government

The first was a move by several business leaders to change the form of city government and oust the three present commissioners, viewed as stern-segregationists who were not willing to negotiate on desegregation.

Voters approved the change from three-man commission to a mayor-council form of government.

The second development was a runoff election pitting Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor, a strong racist, against more moderate Albert Boutwell.

"We decided to hold off again," Shuttlesworth said. "If we had acted any earlier we would have re-elected Connor as mayor."

April 2 was the runoff. Boutwell won by a sizable margin.
 The same night, King and his top aides arrived and the campaign started immediately the following morning and swelled to the biggest movement in Southern history.

Shuttlesworth said "Don't get me wrong, I love Birmingham better than any other place on earth. But it's got more hell in its soul than any city I've seen."

Runs Into Trouble

Almost immediately, the movement leaders ran into trouble.
 A. G. Gaston, a Negro millionaire and respected by both white and Negro, denounced the campaign as coming "at the wrong time."

Many racial moderates among whites who had been working to ease 100-year-old racial problems were dismayed. One, who later worked with a bi-racial committee on the problem said:

"Birmingham's responsible citizens had been working with local Negro leaders for more than a year when this broke. King demanded immediate concessions under pressure of threats ite almost undid all our work."

 About the only areas of this city not strongly segregated are linked with transportation. Bus and airplane terminals were integrated by an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling.

Shuttlesworth and other Negro integrationists filed federal court suits that led to city repeal of an ordinance requiring Negroes to sit on the rear of city buses.

Parks Remain Closed

The parks remained closed, although several members of the incoming government promised to have them opened if elected. The judge has ruled if they are reopened, they must be available to still bears two scars on his face and head from the beating.

Other suits in federal courts bogged down in legal maneuvers.
 In January, 1962, the city's municipally owned golf courses, community centers, swimming pools and parks were closed when Connor and the other officials were faced with a federal court integration ruling.

Since the campaign began,
 some white churches have accepted Negroes at worship services.
 Negro leaders do not consider registration to vote in elections a serious problem here. The Negro vote, estimated at 15,000, was held to have been a large factor in the change of city government.

 King, 34, arrived here four days after the birth of his new child.
 The Atlanta minister and author of books dealing with his adopted theory of passive resistance to segregation began his campaign without much visible backing.

Started Cold

"We had no opportunity to come in and meet with local groups for fear of influencing the election," Walker said. "We had to start cold."

Did the resultant record-breaking demonstrations exceed the original plan?

Good Idea to Check on School Requirements

By DAVID NYDICK

UPI Education Specialist

From now until September thousands of youngsters will be registered in public and private kindergartens. School requirements and procedures vary. If you have any questions concerning procedure, do not hesitate to check with the school office.

Although many children have attended nursery schools, the kindergarten experience is most important. It normally is the first exposure to the regular school program. A good experience can set the stage for success in the following years.

Schools often arrange an orientation for parents and/or children. If a program exists, make sure you attend. Your knowledge of the school's procedures and the helpful suggestions you will receive may avoid many unpleasant incidents.

Parents Sometimes Object

At times parents may object to a school requirement and therefore do not comply. Unintentionally, they are putting their child in a difficult situation. Kindergarten children should not be placed in a position where their parents want them to disregard a school rule. The result will be unpleasant. If a parent objects to a procedure, they should talk to the teacher or principal without involving the children.

Parents' attitudes also are important. Children should not be exposed to a parent's dissatisfaction with the school program. Children are very impressionable, especially in relation to their parents. They should not develop poor attitudes towards school. Changes in the school program should be brought about by bringing the suggestion to the attention of the teachers and principal.

It is also possible that some schools do not have organized orientations. In such cases, parents should investigate the possibility of having one. Perhaps the PTA can make the arrangements.

As a parent you can eliminate some problems by planning ahead. Make sure your child knows the route to school. Many trips between now and September will make the route familiar and less frightening. Similarly visits to the building and classroom will be helpful.

Discuss with your child the many wonderful activities in which he will participate. Encourage him but do not make it over-exciting. He should not become so anxious that he will be disappointed or fearful of what will be happening.

Logotherapy Discussed By Religious Writer

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
For half a century, Freudian psychiatry has tried to interpret human life in terms of the instinctive drives which man shares with the beasts.

Now a new school of psychiatry has arisen in Vienna. In a strange echo of words that Jesus spoke 2,000 years ago, it is saying that man does not live by bread alone, that his deepest need is not to achieve sexual fulfillment but to find an authentic meaning for his existence.

This new school of psychiatry, which takes man's spiritual nature seriously, is known as "logotherapy." Its founder and chief apostle is Dr. Viktor E. Frankl, professor of psychiatry at the University of Vienna, and president of the Austrian Medical Society for Psychotherapy.

A layman's introduction to Dr. Frankl's thinking is now available in the form of a paperback book entitled "Man's Search For Meaning."

It begins with a vivid autobiographical account of Dr. Frankl's experiences as prisoner No. 119-104 in the Nazi concentration camp at Auschwitz. It was there, in the shadow of the gas ovens that his wife, father, mother and brother died, that the Viennese psychiatrist came to appreciate the philosopher Nietzsche's words: "He who has a WHY to live for can bear with almost anything."

Survived Auschwitz
Dr. Frankl survived Auschwitz because he discovered that life always has meaning, even when it seems to be bounded on all sides by suffering.

Nor is this meaning something which man invents to kid himself along, a sort of self-constructed cart on the stick of existence.

"If the meaning that is waiting to be fulfilled by man were really nothing more than a projection of his wishful thinking," says Dr. Frankl, "it would immediately lose its demanding and challenging character. It could no longer call man forth or summon man."

"The meaning of our existence is not invented by ourselves, but rather detected."

Since Dr. Frankl is writing a book of psychiatry rather than religion, he does not argue about what name should be applied to the Ultimate Source of the meaning which man "detects" in his existence. But his own name for it is God, a word which he uses often and unashamedly in his psychiatric texts.

Avoids Abstract Terms
He avoids any attempt to express the meaning of life in general or abstract terms.

"The meaning of life differs from man to man, from day to day and from hour to hour," he says. "What matters is not the meaning of life in general but rather the specific meaning of a person's life at a given moment... Life ultimately means taking the responsibility to find the right answer to the very real and concrete problems which are constantly being set before us as individuals."

Dr. Frankl flatly repudiates the basic Freudian doctrine that man's main concern is to "gain pleasure and avoid pain." He contends that the real primary urge is the "will to meaning" and that it is so powerful that "man is even ready to suffer on the condition that his suffering has a meaning."

He tells of an elderly patient who was overcome with severe depression because of the death of his wife. Dr. Frankl asked him what would have happened to the wife if her husband had died first. The patient replied that it would have been "terrible" for her.

"You see," Dr. Frankl replied, "such a suffering has been spared her and it is you who have spared her and it is your suffering, but now you have to pay for it by surviving and mourning her."

"He said no word," Dr. Frankl recalls, "but shook my hand and calmly left my office. Suffering ceases to be suffering in some way at the moment it finds a meaning, such as the meaning of a sacrifice."

Rejects Freudian Notion
Dr. Frankl also rejects vigorously the Freudian notion that human love is "a mere side effect, or sublimation, of sex."

"Love is as primary a phenomenon as sex," he declares. "No one can become fully aware of the very essence of another human being unless he loves him. By the spiritual act of love he is enabled to see the essential traits and features in the beloved person; and even more, he sees that which is potential in him. By his love, the loving person enables the beloved person to make these potentialities come true." Freud's warnings against "inhibitions" and "repression" have been cited by many years as an alibi for free indulgence of sexual appetites. But the man who now ranks as Europe's leading psychiatrist is no friend of repressions. "Sex," says Viktor Frankl, "is sanctified as soon as — but only as long as — it is a vehicle of love."

Helms Family Returns From A Three Day 'Witness' Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helms, Pampa, Texas, with their son Jimmy Doyle, 16, and their daughter Kathy Ann, 10, returned Monday, having spent the week end in Dalhart, Texas, where they attended a 3-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Witnesses from 40 cities and 5 states gathered in Dalhart's Rita Bianca Coliseum to learn how to become, as emphasized by the convention theme, "A Right Kind of Minister."

Mr. Helms, who has been actively engaged as a door-to-door missionary since 1940, was a delegate to the international Watchtower convention in New York City in 1953, where thousands gathered to receive special instructions.

"At Dalhart," Helms said, "we were made to realize the importance of our ministry as never before by the public address on Sunday entitled 'Who Will Win the Struggle for World Supremacy?' delivered by our district supervisor, Mr. P. D'Mura, to an audience of over 720 persons."

D'Mura, a representative from the Watchtower world headquarters, recalled the bitter struggles for power and domination prevailing for centuries among the nations of the world, and then showed the true cause of the conflict from the Bible, pointing to God's Kingdom as the only hope for world peace.

"This is a time of decision," D'Mura declared. "We must know where we stand personally in relation to the struggle." With optimism he pointed out the prospects awaiting the survivors of the struggle for world supremacy.

"Since acquiring an accurate knowledge of the Kingdom of God means life to earth's inhabitants," Helms continued, "we are vitally concerned about the quality of our ministry, we never retire because of age, and our training program is continuous."

The Helms family plans to attend the assembly in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, this summer, which will be one of the "Around-the-World Tour of Jehovah's Witnesses," a series of globe-encircling conventions beginning in New York City in June.

D'Mura declared, "We must know where we stand personally in relation to the struggle." With optimism he pointed out the prospects awaiting the survivors of the struggle for world supremacy.

Show left to right are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helms, Jimmy Doyle and Kathy at the Dalhart Convention.

'Dedication Day' Is Sunday Morning Theme at First Methodist Church

Dedication Day is this Sunday at First Methodist Church. This Sunday we shall be coming at the Church to dedicate our lives anew and to make our pledges to the Church for the new church year of 1963-64. This year is to be for each of us something more than making of a pledge. We shall be dedicating our lives as well as our income to God's Work throughout the world as carried on by and through First Methodist Church. Dedication Services will be held in each of the Sunday School Classes and the Sanctuary. In addition to the Dedication Services at the regular Sunday School hour the church will be open throughout the day where pledge cards will be available when one may come to the altar of the sanctuary and privately and reverently make his pledge. Mr. Frank Culbertson has been general chairman of the campaign with the 11 adult classes having cooperated together with the youth and children's divisions.

Sunday evening fellowship will begin at 8:00 p.m. with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. At 6:30 p.m., children, youth, and adults will separate for one hour of planned activities according to interest and needs. The Adult Bible Study is held in the Friendship Classroom.

Special victory celebrations services will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall with Dedication Day reports being made.

Wednesday, the Methodist Men will meet in Fellowship Hall at 7 p.m. for their monthly meeting.

'Mother Who Prays' Will Be Sermon

"A Mother Who Prays" will be the morning sermon that will honor those attending on Mother's Day. Rev. Glyn B. Adst is returning from the State Convention of Christian Churches in San Antonio and will be in the pulpit this Sunday.

The anthem, conducted by Miss Rosemary Lawlor, their director, will be "Laudamus Te" by Carl F. Mueller. Organist is Mrs. John Gill.

The evening program consists of a "School of World Outreach" where those attending are studying the entire program of the Church. This begins at 8 p.m. and will be dismissed no later than 7:15 p.m.

The worship bulletins to be used in the Mother's Day service have been provided by Miss Verma Springer, of Phoenix, Arizona, in memory of her mother Mrs. Amy K. Springer, a long-time member of the Pampa Christian Church.

THE APPLIED TRUTH

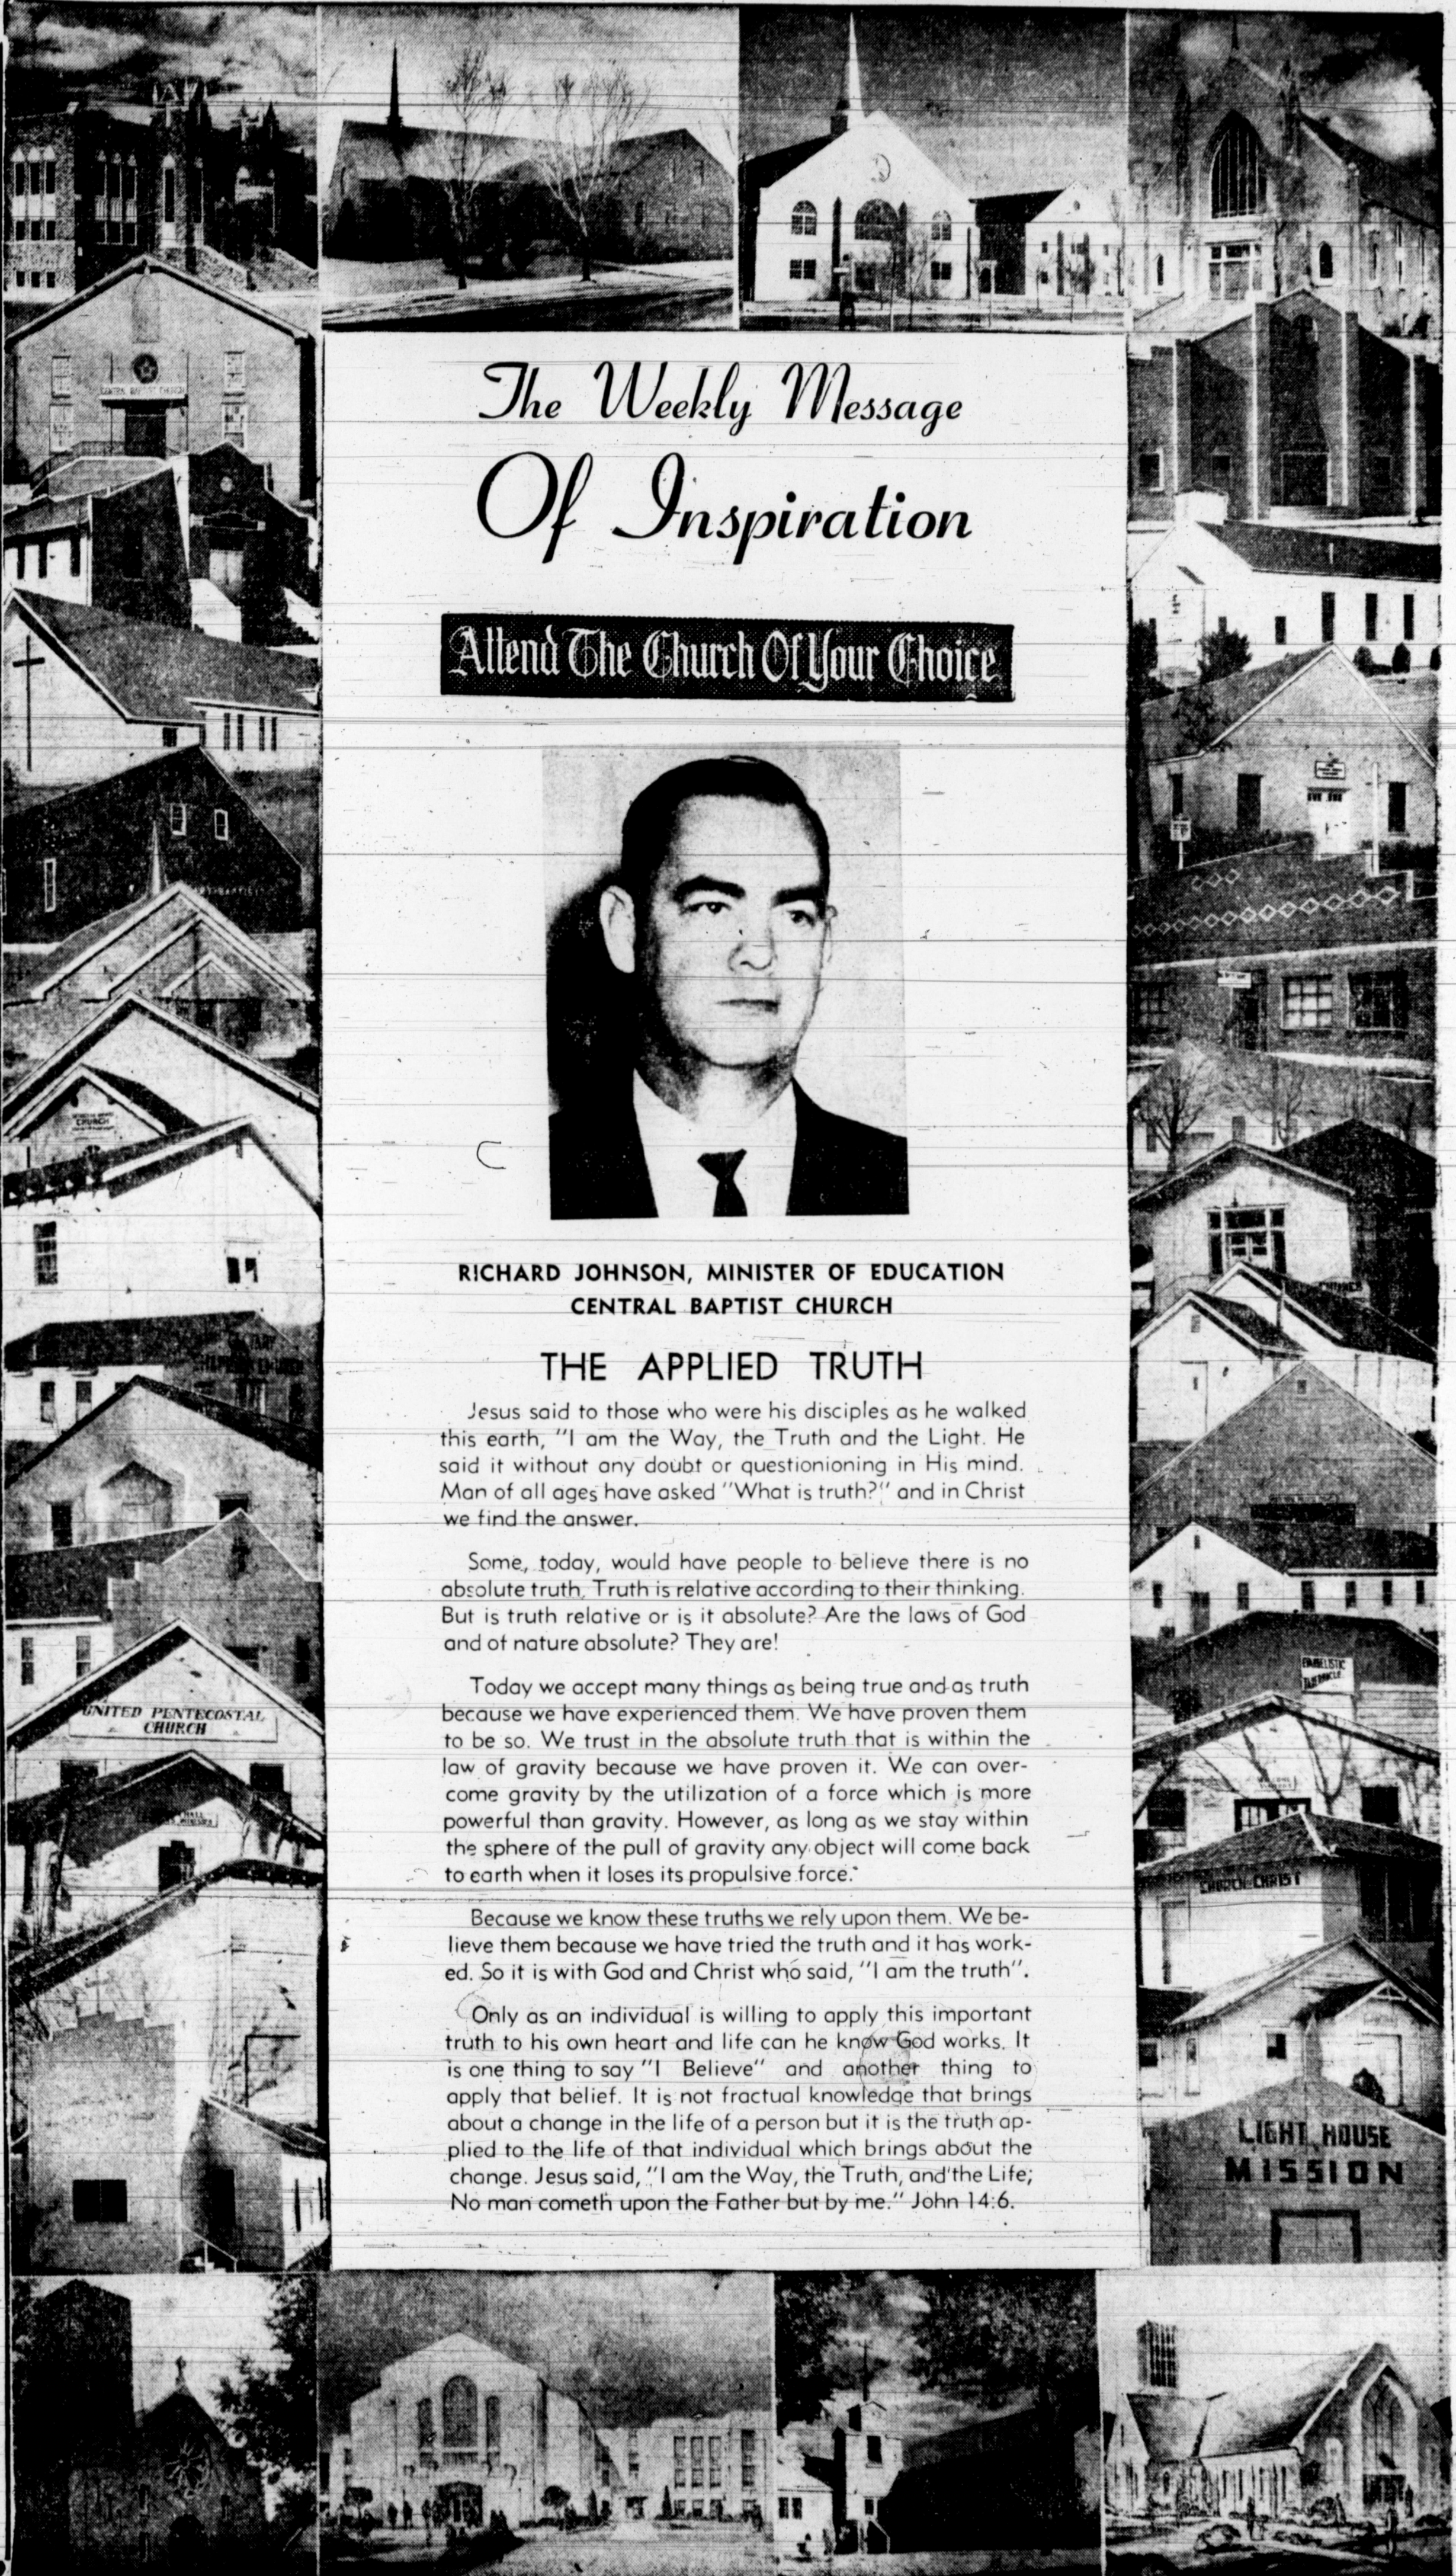

Jesus said to those who were his disciples as he walked this earth, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Light. He said it without any doubt or questioning in His mind. Man of all ages have asked "What is truth?" and in Christ we find the answer.

Some, today, would have people to believe there is no absolute truth. Truth is relative according to their thinking. But is truth relative or is it absolute? Are the laws of God and of nature absolute? They are!

Today we accept many things as being true and as truth because we have experienced them. We have proven them to be so. We trust in the absolute truth that is within the law of gravity because we have proven it. We can overcome gravity by the utilization of a force which is more powerful than gravity. However, as long as we stay within the sphere of the pull of gravity any object will come back to earth when it loses its propulsive force.

Because we know these truths we rely upon them. We believe them because we have tried the truth and it has worked. So it is with God and Christ who said, "I am the truth".

Only as an individual is willing to apply this important truth to his own heart and life can he know God works. It is one thing to say "I Believe" and another thing to apply that belief. It is not factual knowledge that brings about a change in the life of a person but it is the truth applied to the life of that individual which brings about the change. Jesus said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life; No man cometh upon the Father but by me." John 14:6.

Frank Robinson Leads Reds' Win With 5-for-5

CINCINNATI (UPI) — There's fresh proof today that the Cincinnati Reds go as Frank Robinson goes.

National League actually put it another way.

"When Robinson's not hitting, they say, 'it's like playing a team that's blind-folded when it bats.'"

The 1961 NL champions seemed blind-folded, at that, for the first three weeks of the season. They were shut out four times and held to one run three other times as they stumbled around in a hit famine that was enough to hit Manager Fred (The Bear) Hutchinson tear up the clubhouse furniture.

Then, Robinson, the NL's Most Valuable Player in 1961 and a .342 hitter with 39 homers and 136 runs batted-in last season whose average this year had dwindled to a sickly .261, suddenly burst out of his slump. And what a coming out party it was!

Blaze Two Homers

All Robinson did Thursday night was go 5-for-5, with two homers, a double and two singles, score three runs and drive in seven to pace the Reds to a 13-3 rout of the Houston Colts. Teammate Vada Pinson weighed in with 3-for-5, three runs scored and four RBIs to make it a breeze for Jim Maloney to chalk up his fourth victory against one loss.

Robinson's spurge raised his 1963 average 40 points to .301 and gave him six homers and 22 runs batted in.

The San Francisco Giants downed the Milwaukee Braves, 8-2, the St. Louis Cardinals turned on the Los Angeles Dodgers, 10-7, the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1, and the New York Mets defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2, in other NL action.

Robinson hammered a two-run double to cap a four-run third-inning rally, hit a two-run homer in the sixth and added a three-run round-tripper in the eighth to round out his one-man attack on Houston pitchers.

Ed Bailey and Felipe Alou each drove in three runs for the Giants, who have won nine of their last 10 games. The Giants routed Warren Spahn with a 10-hit, seven-run outburst in 5 2/3 innings to hand the great lefty his second loss of the season against four wins. Billy O'Dell pitched a seven-hitter to win his fourth in a row for the Giants.

White Grand Slams

Bill White hit a grand slam homer, Charlie James connected for a three-run round-tripper and Gene Oliver connected for a two-run blast as the Cardinals collected 17 hits against five Dodger pitchers. Bob Gibson went 6 2/3 innings to win his first game for the Cardinals.

The Cubs ran their winning streak to six games, longest since 1961, on the strength of the two-hit pitching of Dick Ellisworth. Billy Williams and Ron Santo had two hits each for the Cubs, who have won nine of their last 10 games.

The Mets ran their winning streak to four games when reliever Johnny Klippstein's ninth-inning wild pitch let pinch-runner Al Jackson score from third with the winning run. Relief pitcher Ken MacKenzie, who pitched a perfect ninth inning in relief of Roger Craig, received credit for his third straight victory.

Chisox Down NY, Stretch AL Lead Over A's, Birds

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

It took Ray Herbert a long time to learn how to beat the New York Yankees, but once acquired the technique is habit-forming.

A 20-game winner in 1962, the Chicago White Sox right-hander from Detroit is the newest American League pitcher to qualify as a "Yankee killer." And, in the bargain, his flashing curveball is making him one of the AL's top pitchers and a "shutout artist" reminiscent of the dead ball era.

Herbert, who had a 6-14 record against the Yankees until he beat them twice in the last week of the 1962 season, topped 'em for the third straight time Thursday night when he hurled a two-hitter that gave the White Sox a 2-0 victory. It was Herbert's fourth win of the season—and his fourth shutout.

Chisox Stretch Lead

The White Sox' fourth consecutive triumph and sixth in their last eight games enabled them to take a one-game lead over the idle Kansas City A's and the Baltimore Orioles, who suffered a 4-1 loss to the Boston Red Sox.

Dave Stenhouse pitched a seven-hitter to give the Washington Senators a 6-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the only other AL activity of day or night.

Herbert, a refugee from the Kansas City Athletics, from whom he was acquired June 10, 1961, has now shut out the A's, Orioles and Senators in that order. In those 27 shutout innings, he has allowed a total of only nine hits. His victory Thursday night also dumped the lordly Yankees into fifth place in the AL and tagged them with their first shutout of the 1963 season.

Surrenders Two Singles

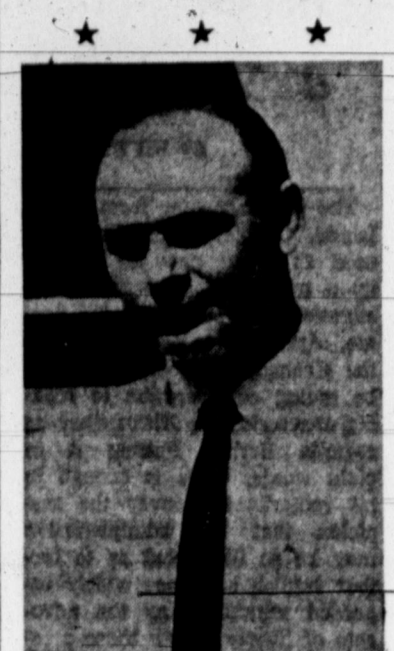

Herbert was tapped for singles by Joe Pepitone and Cleo Boyer, walked only one batter and permitted one Yankee batter to reach third base. The White Sox scored both their runs off World Series hero Ralph Terry (3-4) in the fourth inning on a double by Pete Ward, a walk to Dave Nicholson and Ron Hansen's double.

Stu Miller's one-hit relief pitching for two innings preserved the Baltimore victory for Chuck Estrada, who had yielded the Red Sox only two hits over the first seven innings. Boog Powell homered for the Orioles' first run and they added three more in the sixth inning, with the key blow a two-run double by Brooks Robinson. Chuck Schilling, John T. 11-men and pinch-hitter Gary Geiger accounted for the Red Sox' three hits.

Senators Beat Grant

Stenhouse, who tailed off as a rookie last season after a brilliant start, turned in his second victory of the season for the Senators, whose eight-hit attack was paced by Ed Brinkman's three-run fourth-inning homer. It marked the first time the Senators beat Jim (Mudcat) Grant after 12 straight losses to him at Washington. Grant started the game with an overall lifetime mark of 20-4 against the Senators.

Junior-Senior Game Tomorrow

EURAL RAMSEY

Breathing mock fire and fury, coaches Eural Ramsey and Brown Smith, named as coaches of the Junior-Senior squads tomorrow night by head coach Otis Holladay, both vowed that their teams would win with ease.

The game, featuring next year's seniors against next year's juniors, will be played tomorrow night at Harvester Stadium. Both coaches urged fans to attend, insisting that their squads would "eat the other team alive."

Climax Training

The game will climax the second week of spring training and give the public a preview of next year's Harvester team, slated to be one of the best in a decade.

The future-execs game, ordinarily a spring training feature, was cancelled out due to a shortage of execs, as there are only 14 seniors off last year's team, and a number of them would be unable to play.

Due to the future juniors having nearly a 10-man advantage in quantity of men, but also lacking experienced men in several positions, the two coaches have traded a few players, but very cautiously.

"Eural acts as if he were the New York Yankees and we were the Kansas City Athletics," fumed Smith, "they outweigh us 20 pounds a man, but when he tries to deal with me for a fullback because Clive Seymour has a bruised arm, he offers me a 120 pound boy for a 175-pounder. I offered to swap him for Ricky Goodwin or Donnie Rexroad, but no deal. He wants everything for nothing, but that's just what he's going to get on the scoreboard... nothing! As a matter of fact, I'm so sure my boys will beat his, that I'm willing to bet him on the game if it is okay with principal Cameron Marsh, the loser to have to check the other's homework papers for the rest of the semester!"

"We are Yankees"

Ramsey scornfully replied to Smith's charges. "Why shouldn't we try to trade like the Yankees? We ARE the Yankees of this game and they're going to feel like the New York Mets I'm real willing to take him up on his bet... I'd like to see him marking science papers! He's going to have to spend too much time counting up the touchdowns we make!"

Smith came back to laugh at Ramsey's threats. "My boys may be light, but they're fast. We're going to run right past those seniors as if they were standing still! As far as his 'big boys,' we're going to do a lot of stunting, keying on Hebert. If we can stop Kenny and keep him too busy to pass or run, they'll be lucky if they cross the midfield stripe! I wouldn't even let my tigers talk to his boys yesterday... they're going to do their talking with a football... and when they get through, for the first time in his life, Ramsey won't have a thing to say—he'll be too busy crying!"

Ramsey's final retort was "Stunting, HAH! It will really be a stunt if they can score a touchdown. As far as not talking to us, I wouldn't even let my boys associate with those upstart youngsters. The only thing we'll be saying to them Saturday night is: 'can we help you up off the ground?'"

Brown might as well lie down to watch the game, because that's where most of his boys will be.

Canadian's Head Coach Resigns, Goes to Canyon

CANADIAN (Sp1) — Ned Jolly, head coach of Canadian High School, has announced his resignation effective with the end of the semester, to become assistant coach at Canyon High School.

Jolly, 24, who came to Canadian upon his graduation from West Texas State in 1961, explained that he was leaving mainly in order to study for a master's degree.

"I hate to leave a head coach's job," explained Jolly, "but I feel that in order to advance as a coach, you must have a master's degree. By coaching at Canyon, I will be able to study towards a graduate degree in Administration at West Texas as well."

Jolly explained that he had done his student teaching at Canyon and was offered the post by Coach Jeep Wehr in two years at Canadian, a Class A school, Jolly won the district track title in 1962. His football teams had losing records both years, finishing in the district cellar last year. At AA Canadian, Jolly reported he will be assistant football coach. B team basketball coach, and will probably coach the track team.

Superintendent of Schools Woody Beane has interviewed several candidates for the post, said Jolly, including his two assistants James Anglin and Dick Weigand, both of whom came to Canadian with Jolly in 1961. The resigning coach said that he did not think the School Board would make a decision until after school is out.

Big Daddy Lipscomb Is Dead

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, giant tackle for the Pittsburgh Steelers professional football team died mysteriously early today after collapsing at a party.

The Baltimore News-Post said the giant athlete had four "punctures" in his right forearm.

Police said the huge, 21-year-old former all-pro lineman was pronounced dead on arrival at Lutheran Hospital here after attempts at "external heart massage" failed to revive him.

Lipscomb lived in Baltimore, where he formerly starred with the Baltimore Colts, and had been at a party in a private home on Brice Street, police said. He suddenly fell unconscious, witnesses said, and an ambulance was called. By the time he arrived at the hospital, Lipscomb was dead, a hospital spokesman said.

The body was then taken to the city morgue for an autopsy. Police said they had no idea what was the cause of death and declined to speculate.

A spokesman for the hospital said Lipscomb arrived at the emergency entrance at 7:55 a.m. EDT.

Police said Lipscomb was unconscious and breathing heavily when the ambulance arrived at the house but he apparently died en route to the hospital.

Floyd, Jackie Off to Jail

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jackie Robinson, whose life has been one long crusade, boasted a new running mate today in former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and they form a strange double play combination against the color line.

Together they plan to fly to Birmingham, Ala., Monday to join the freedom marches which have overpopulated that city's jails. Both of them anticipate being jailed to focus even more attention on the situation.

It is an old role for Robinson and a new one for Patterson. Back in 1947 when he joined the Brooklyn Dodgers as the first Negro in the major leagues, Robinson was warned by President Branch Rickey that he would be blasphemed, splurged and even threatened.

"You'll have to wear an armor of humility," Rickey said. "I've got two checks — is that what you want to hear?" Robinson asked.

Swallows Tough Pill

Until he was an established star, Robinson did turn the other cheek. But it was a role alien to his nature. Eventually he became a militant battler on the baseball paths who was noted for his truculence.

Softball League Meets Tonight

Assistant Fire Chief J. V. Purkle, director of the Industrial Softball League, reported that a final organizational meeting would be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the old commission room at City Hall.

"This will be the final organizational meeting," said Purkle. "Any team wishing to join the league must have a representative at tonight's meeting or they cannot be considered."

Program Set Up For City Parks

R. B. A diamond will be reserved for each scheduled game. The dead line for this request will be May 17, 1963."

Marvelous Marv Says Farewell to NY Mets

NEW YORK (UPI)—The flags should really be at half mast at the Polo Grounds today.

"Marvelous Marv" Throneberry is gone.

The fans here all loved him because he typified the Mets in so many ways.

He floundered around first base, he dropped throws and didn't terrorize enemy pitchers, but he always gave a bit more than 100 per cent and somehow managed to deliver several key blows last season.

They's why—the fans dubbed him "Marvelous Marv." Good or bad, they cheered him on and were responsible for his receiving a 25-foot-cabin cruiser last summer as the most popular member of the Mets.

Optioned To Buffalo

But it all came to an end Thursday, on cut-down day when the 29-year-old first baseman was optioned to Buffalo of the International League.

Marv was standing around the batting cage two hours before the game with the Phillies when it happened.

A courier from the Mets' clubhouse in center-field notified Throneberry that Casey Stengel wished to see both him and Gil Hodges in his private office.

"You go first, Gil," Marv told Hodges, who was hitting at that moment. "I'll wait on you."

Both walked toward Stengel's office together and Hodges was informed the Mets were placing him on the disabled list.

Then it was Throneberry's turn.

Mysteries of Indian Tongue Studied

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The district attorney's office withheld state withheld evidence at the trial of condemned Houston killers Carolyn Ann Lima and Leslie Douglas Ashley, defense attorneys told the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday.

Attorneys Clyde Woody and Lloyd Lunford sought a new trial for the pair. The court was expected to take their arguments under advisement.

Miss Lima, now 21, and Ashley, 21, were convicted for the 1951 slaying of Houston real estate man Fred A. Jones, after a sex orgy at Jones' office. Miss Lima now become the first woman ever to die in the Huntsville, Tex., state prison electric chair.

Woody's petition for a writ of habeas corpus resulted in an indefinite stay of execution for Miss Lima and Ashley. They were sentenced to die March 23, 1951. Woody said the Harris County

CONTRACT AWARDED

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Garrett-Airesearch has been awarded a $1 million contract for production of primary components designed to inflate the Gemini paravlider, by McDonnell Aircraft Co., prime contractor to the National Aviation & Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center, it was announced Thursday.

The first permanent iron works was built in Massachusetts in 1645.

Wright McGee Cited for Conservation

GROOM (Sp) — Wright W. McGee of Groom was presented with a plaque at this week's meeting of the Lion's Club in Panhandle, naming him the outstanding conservation farmer for 1952 Carson County.

McGee owns, operates and lives on his 320-acre dryland farm three miles northwest of Groom. He was commended for his ability as a farmer in successfully applying a program of soil and water conservation on an operating unit only one-third of the average size of all farm units in the McClellan Creek Soil Conservation District and at the same time maintaining a liveable income for his family.

McGee began a program of soil and water conservation on his farm with technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service in 1959 and completed it in 1962. Because of soil and water conservation, he was instrumental in joint working with the County Commissioners to control water erosion problems on his farm developed from country road outlets.

McGee's structural conservation practices include a grassed waterway containing 15 acres of land, division, terraces and farm-pond. His management conservation practices include a conservation cropping system of high residue producing crops; and the management of these crop residues by stubble mulch tillage.

McGee's conservation efforts are estimated at a cost of $4,050.00 or $12.50 per acre for complete land treatment. McGee recruited financial assistance of the Great Plains Conservation Program to assist him to obtain his objective. "To use each acre of agricultural land in accordance with the needs for protection and improvement."

His farm has been visited many times on tours by such groups as neighboring farmers, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Foreign National from Tunisia, Australia and South Africa.

AIRWAY TO THE EAST—Two U.S. agencies are helping to build a 1,000-mile controlled airway from Ankara, Turkey, through Tehran, Iran, to Karachi, Pakistan. Federal Aviation Agency is furnishing air traffic control and air navigation equipment. The $5 million cost of this equipment is being provided by the Agency for International Development through the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO). CENTO members—Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan—are providing additional money and equipment. All airway installations are scheduled to be completed by July 1964. Accurate navigation is extremely important since the route crosses deserts as well as mountainous terrain with peaks rising to almost 19,000 feet. One U.S. airline, Pan American World Airways, flies over the entire route; six foreign lines cover all or portions of it.
