Health Group To Sponsor Short Course On Pools

The Pampa Health Department in conjunction with the Texas State Health Department of Health will sponsor a short school in City Hall Monday for persons interested in the safe and sanitary operation of public and private swimming pools.

The course will be a day-long affair running from 8:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. in the City Commission room.

City Water Superintendent E. S. Lowry said today persons who would benefit by attending the school include municipal, motel, country club and private pool owners and operators, health officers and public health personnel, recreation department personnel, and all individuals interested in proper swimming pool sanitation and operation.

An examination covering material presented in the program, Lowry said, will be given at 3:45 p.m. for all who desire to take the exam.

Gene Barber will serve as master of ceremonies at the opening of the school. Mayor H. R. Thompson will give the address of welcome and Harold Schmitzer, city manager, will give the invocation.

Speakers during the day and their subjects will include:

Jimmie D. Dickens, state health department sanitarian, speaking on "Swimming Pool Sanitation" and "Algae Control"; Morgan Edwards, Pampa municipal pool manager, speaking on "Bath House and Premise Sanitation"; Jack C. Wyatt, chief chemist and toxicologist of the Amarillo health department, speaking on "Bacteriology, Water-borne Diseases, and Water Sampling."

At the afternoon session there will be discussions on "Water Disinfection Chemicals, Tests and Equipment," by Hugh LeClair of the Lewis-Dodson Engineering Co.; "Filters," by Gene Barber of Merriman & Barbers consultant engineers; "Recirculation-Equipment," by M. J. Caldwell, Electrical and Pump Maintenance of Pampa; "Swimming Pool Safety," by Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the Pampa Red Cross Chapter.

Dickens will show a film on "Mouth to Mouth Breathing," conduct a review period on the day's program and wind up the program with examinations of those attending the school.

Third Member Of Tragedy-Ridden Troupe Killed

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — A veteran circus aerialist faltered as she stood atop a 50-foot swaying pole Thursday night, then tumbled to her death in the green sawdust below.

Henrietta Grotofent, 42, a fifth generation circus performer and a former member of the tragedy-haunted Wallenda aerial troupe, died almost instantly.

Mrs. Grotofent, who was billed as "Miss Rietta," performed without a net. Her act was known as "skirting on the borderline of eternity."

Fellow performers said Miss Rietta was "extremely nervous" the past few days.

"She was just plain worried," said Barbara Woodcock, who has a trained animal act. "I think it got a little worse each day."

The 4,666 spectators at the Shrine Circus were stunned into silence as a spotlight followed her fall and then—for just a few seconds—lighted her crumpled body as it lay face down.

Suddenly aware of the tragedy, the crowd began to scream.

Performers said she had not looked at all well Thursday night before she began her act on the swaying fiber glass pole.

But she insisted she go on as scheduled. "I'm all right," she said. "I'm always all right when I'm up there."

Air Wasn't Only Thing In Balloons

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I want a balloon, man. I'm going to the circus."

So saying narcotics detective Anthony Schiano bought three balloons from the bicycle-riding peddler, two yellow and one red. The price, $6 each. The reason for the price, a tiny packet of heroin inside each balloon.

It took weeks of surveillance on Manhattan's lower East Side to discover who was selling the narcotics in broad daylight, and more days of eavesdropping to overhear the password.

But Thursday patience bore fruit, and William Yeugelwitz, 28, was taken into custody. Officers, who started looking for a "pusher" weeks ago, had seen Yeugelwitz many times, innocently pedaling his bike around the streets.

His body will rest alongside Shirley Ellen's in lot 354 of St. Lucas Cemetery. Over them will stand a marble tombstone carved with the words, "Together in Life and Death."

It was the story of consuming love.

Revolutionary Council Attempting To Rebuild

MIAMI (UPI) — Antonio de Varona, vice-president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, sought today to rebuild the exile group following the stormy resignation of President Jose Miro Cardona.

Miro, 60, resigned Thursday charging that President Kennedy failed to keep a promise to mount a second invasion of Cuba to topple the regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

The State Department issued a statement in Washington calling Miro's charge a distortion of the truth and saying the United States could not allow Cuban refugees to lead it into possible war with Russia.

Seven other members of the 17-member CRC resigned with Miro, pulling out four of the six political groups in the council, which has been the chief representative of 250,000 Cuban exiles in the United States.

The nine remaining members planned to meet today to decide on the council's future. It was not known whether it would continue to receive financial backing from the U.S. government.

Miro gave newsmen copies of a 10,000-word "white paper" shortly after the final 10-minute session with the council during which he announced his resignation. It gave his version of talks with President Kennedy following the abortive invasion of Cuba in April, 1961.

Varona broke with his longtime associate during the session over release of the statement and the two men argued vehemently according to informed sources.

Varona said following the meeting that publication of confidences in Miro's document would mean that "no government is going to deal with Cuban exiles in the future."

"I will fight to maintain and rebuild the council," Varona said. Miro went into seclusion, presumably at his Miami Beach home. He received permission Thursday from the government of Costa Rica to live in political asylum in that Central American country.

The U.S. government has made no attempt to deport Miro, and there were indications he might remain in the Miami area.

Miro's long statement credited Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev with a "master stroke" last October, heading off the second invasion purportedly promised by Kennedy.

The exile leader said Kennedy personally cleared the way for a second Cuban invasion at a White House meeting April 10, 1962. When the Caribbean crisis arose last Oct. 22 over the placement of Russian missiles in Cuba, Miro said Cuban refugees trained by the U.S. Army, were poised to form the vanguard of an invasion force.

The invasion never came. Khrushchev agreed to withdraw the missiles, the United States lifted its naval blockade and the two countries announced the crisis is over.

Miro said that since this "violent and unexpected change in the United States policy," the Kennedy administration has "been in the process of liquidation of the fight to free Cuba of communism."

The exile leader's break with the U.S. government was precipitated by a recent government crackdown on exile raids on Cuban shores, including two attacks on Soviet merchant ships in Cuban ports.

Auto-Tractor Accident Victim Reported Critical

Three persons injured yesterday in the collision of an automobile and farm tractor on Hwy. 70 four miles north of Pampa, still were confined to Highland General Hospital today.

Mrs. Byron L. Pletcher of Perryton was reported in critical condition this forenoon with serious head injuries.

Her son, five-year-old Perry Pletcher, was in fair condition. David F. Tice, 817 E. Malone in Pampa, driver of the tractor, was admitted to the hospital last night and was undergoing a checkup today.

Byron L. Pletcher, husband of the injured woman, escaped with only minor injuries.

Highway Patrolman Stanley Schneider said the accident happened when the car driven by Pletcher collided with the rear of the tractor driven by Tice.

Both vehicles were traveling south. Patrolman Schneider said.

Italian Doctors End Their Strike

ROME (UPI) — Italy's 83,000 doctors made peace with the government today, ending their strike against health insurance organizations.

Doctors and government representatives announced an agreement after a marathon meeting that ended at 2 a.m.

Health insurance organizations mollified the medical men by offering a generous boost in doctors' fees. Details were not immediately available.

Support Growing For Revision Of Damage Law

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Strong congressional support was building up today for rewriting the Philippine war damage act to block fat fees for lobbyists representing claimants.

The new drive was spurred by sensational disclosures Thursday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of huge fees already paid and the campaign contributions of Washington lobbyist John A. O'Donnell to more than 20 lawmakers or their associates in 1960.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., called a meeting of the committee for next Tuesday to consider changing the law to make the $73 million total payment directly to the Philippine government instead of to individual claimants.

The administration wanted that approach last year but Congress, with O'Donnell as chief lobbyist for Philippine interests, passed the law providing for individual payments.

Fulbright said quick action was necessary because the filing period for claims expires later this year and the foreign claims settlement commission will begin making payments.

O'Donnell, who was excused from public testimony for medical reasons, testified in a closed session March 1 that he represented about 136 claimants. He also represents the Philippine Sugar Association, many of whose members also are interested in the claim bill.

Fulbright estimated Thursday that the 57-year-old lawyer lobbyist stood to receive from $150,000 to $450,000 if all his claimants were paid in full.

He said O'Donnell also had received an estimated $250,000 to $300,000 in payments for representing various religious orders in the Philippines who benefited from a special 1956 reparations bill to pay for war damage to their schools, hospitals, and other facilities.

O'Donnell's records showed he sent cashier's checks totaling $8,600 to about 20 lawmakers on Oct. 12, 1960, as campaign contributions. The money was part of $18,000 sent to him by Philippine sugar interests to help finance his

Cold Returns; Showers Touched Off In North Texas

A Pacific cool front brought freezing temperatures back to the Panhandle today and touched off badly-needed showers across the northern half of the state.

The front itself stalled during the early morning hours along a Wichita Falls-Junction line, but wide-ranging showers fanned out ahead of it and the remnants of a dust storm were left in its wake in West Texas.

The temperature dropped to 30 degrees at Dalhart and 36 at Amarillo under clear skies and readings generally were in the 40s and 50s to the west of the front. Ahead of it, temperatures were in the 60s and 70s with the highs of 75 recorded at Brownsville, Laredo and Corpus Christi.

Winds gusting to 70 miles an hour Thursday filled West Texas skies with dust-knocked-down fences and felled a power line in the Lubbock area. Visibility was

Water Usage Jumps Near Record Days

Pampa's water consumption has jumped within the past two or three days to a figure which almost equaled the peak days of last summer, according to E. S. Lowry, city water superintendent.

Water usage on Wednesday totaled 4,250,000 gallons, Lowry said, which was not far short of the 1962 mid-summer peak day of 4,500,000 gallons.

Yesterday's consumption was 3,150,000 gallons.

Tickets Going Fast For Skelly Lunch

Pampa Chamber of Commerce manager E. O. Wedgeworth said reservations were going fast for the Skelly Oil Co. "Appreciation Day" luncheon on Thursday, April 25, at Coronado Inn. The luncheon will honor Skelly officials and their wives. The Pampa Lions Club plans to hold its regular meeting in conjunction with the luncheon.

Co-speakers for the occasion will be H. H. Belew of Tulsa, vice president in charge of manufacturing for Skelly and W. P. Whitmore, manager of Skelly's production, also of Tulsa.

Due to the limited capacity, Chamber members planning to attend the luncheon are urged to call the C. of C. office as soon as possible.

Following the luncheon, the general public is invited to join in a tour of the Skelly Kingsmill plant. John Wortman, chairman of the Merchants Activities Committee, said approximately 25 stores have agreed to remain open until 8 p.m. next Thursday. Pampa merchants are planning a special Skelly Day merchandising promotion for the day.

Farmers Would Get $42-Million With Referendum

AMARILLO (UPI) — U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said Thursday night that if a proposed government wheat program is approved in a referendum next month Texas farmers will get $42 million more annually.

Yarborough, speaking at an appreciation dinner in his honor, said the new program is designed to maintain wheat income at a profitable level while reducing stocks of surplus wheat in an orderly manner.

"Total Texas wheat income under the program would be $144,629,211," Yarborough said. "Total wheat income under a 'no' vote would be $102,534,561."

"It was the intent and purpose of Congress that this was to be a permanent and continuing program and no new legislation would be needed or should any be expected," he said.

"A 'yes' vote will not bring a new burden on the taxpayer. Instead, it will relieve the government of over-stuffed grain warehouses maintained at government expense and will lead, overall, to a more stable, dependable farm income."

Conservation Awards Given

FORT WORTH (UPI) — A Trans-Pecos area soil conservation district and a Panhandle Plains farm shared honors today in the 18th annual Fort Worth Press "save the soil and save Texas" conservation awards program.

The El Paso Hudspeth Soil Conservation District will receive $1,000 at the state awards dinner in Fort Worth on May 4.

Texas champion conservation farmer of the year is Castro County's Howard F. Bridges of Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Janek of Hillsboro, parents of five sons, were named the champion "comeback farmers." They turned their "outlaw farm," worn out by 100 years of cotton production, into a show-place conservation farm.

Writes Best Essay Sharon Pierce of Plains, Yoakum County, wrote the prize-winning conservation essay and will receive $200 for a western vacation.

The All-Consuming Love Of A Father: In Memoriam

CHICAGO (UPI) — The world says goodbye today to James Lee, who gave all that he had to the memory of his beloved little Shirley Ellen.

His body will rest alongside Shirley Ellen's in lot 354 of St. Lucas Cemetery. Over them will stand a marble tombstone carved with the words, "Together in Life and Death."

It was the story of consuming love.

Lee's wife died seven years ago. In his sorrow he turned to their little girl, Shirley Ellen, then aged 2. He sold his trucking business and bought a couple of apartment buildings to operate so that he could spend more time with her.

His life became her life. His Thunderbird car carried a nameplate, "The Shirley E. Lee." He found delight in her laughter, her childish caprices, her pixie face.

It didn't last. Shirley Ellen died in a flash fire March 4 at their apartment on Chicago's North Side. Lee's world came crashing down around him.

In his bereavement, he sought to share with others — in fact, the world — his love for the child who had given him so much happiness and so much to live for.

Lee, 45, gave his two apartment buildings to the Lutheran Church and he distributed the rest of his property to charitable organizations. Each piece of property bore a plaque eulogizing Shirley.

In his disconsolation, Lee went to Shirley Ellen's grave Sunday night which he had blanketed with 50 dozen red and white gladiolus.

The next afternoon, sitting in a telephone booth in a tavern on the North Side talking to a newspaper reporter, he said he was going to do what he didn't have the courage to do at the grave-site.

He put a revolver to his temple and pulled the trigger.

About the same time a package arrived at the newspaper's (Daily News) office. It contained arrangements for his burial. He asked that some of Shirley's mementos be buried with him.

Letter Tells Story A letter told a rending story of Lee's love for his daughter. His love was not in vain. Letters came from all over the world — Germany, Arizona, Ohio. One said, "my wife and I are visitors from Germany. We have cut out Shirley Ellen's picture with her contagious smile as well as the story accompanying it."

"Europeans hear so much about material achievements of this country. They hear less about the human aspects, the spirit of love."

The world procession is replete with the beautiful love stories of parents and their children.

And now James Lee and Shirley Ellen.

Katanga Millions Have Been Found

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Millions of dollars missing from the Katanga national bank since secessionist officials fled the Congolese province in January have been found in Southern Rhodesia, it was disclosed Wednesday.

Authoritative sources said the currency, in Katanga francs, was worth between $4 million and $10 million, depending on which rate of exchange is used.

The International Monetary Fund was credited with solving what had been known as "the great Katanga bank robbery."

But it turned out to be more of a simple transfer than a robbery.

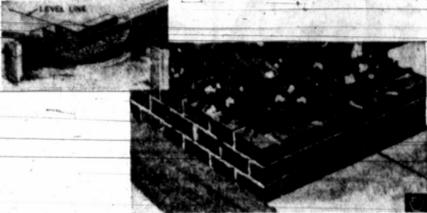

When Katanga officials fled to Southern Rhodesia in the last days of Moïse Tshombe's secession, they took with them much of the money in the national bank at Elizabethville.

They deposited the funds with banks in Southern Rhodesia in the name of the Katanga bank.

When U. N. officials took over the bank in January, they found the vaults empty and the records missing.

The fund, which has helped the central Congolese government unravel the nation's tangled financial affairs, was credited with locating a large portion of the money and arranging for its return to Elizabethville.

HOW TO BUILD A PLANTER BOX

- There are few do-it-yourself ideas that add quite so much beauty to the entrance way, patio or garden as a planter box. Common brick, stone or concrete brick planters are easy to construct in spare time hours. Here are the directions for construction using 4 x 4 x 8 concrete brick. This material is uniform, easy to handle and builds rapidly.
1. Layout the planter area to determine size and location of foundation. Put in line and level stakes.
  2. In clay or compact soil, dig trench for foundation 6" wide and 5" below ground level. Put 2" of gravel in bottom of trench for drainage and level. Finish by placing 3" of Sakrete Concrete Mix on top of gravel. (This pre-mixed material is available at most lumber, building material and hardware stores.)
  3. Stretch lines to mark position and level of initial course.
  4. After base sets, put down a 1/2" bed of Sakrete Mortar Mix long enough for 3 or 4 bricks, furrow mortar and lay first course. Use level and straight edge frequently.
  5. Butter the end of each brick before laying. Squeeze buttered end against the previous brick so that mortar oozes and a 1/4" joint results.
  6. As each brick is laid, use trowel handle to tap brick into proper position. Use level and straight edge frequently.
  7. Both horizontal and vertical mortar courses should be about 3/4" thick, and as you build, check each course with level, both across the bricks and along their length.
  8. Cut off excess mortar with upward sweep of trowel. Check vertical alignment.
  9. When mortar begins to set, tool joints with jointing tool. One week after completion, scrub bricks with 10% muriatic acid solution to remove spots of mortar on brick.

Texans To Lose $75-Billion On Non-Graduation

AUSTIN (UPI)—Young Texans will lose nearly $75 billion in lifetime income by not going on to graduate from high school in the next five years, Texas Education Agency researcher Victor Sumner has said.

Writing in the current edition of the Texas Outlook, publication of the Texas State Teachers Association, Sumner said, "people in the unemployment field tell me the hard core of unemployment now is composed of dropouts from 20 to 30 years ago."

Texans will walk out of school between the ninth grade and high school graduation in the next five years. If they would stay in and get enough education for good jobs, they would make $75 billion more in earnings over their lifetime, he estimated.

Sumner said the ninth- to 10th grade transition is the first really critical point of the situation. Students generally become 16 years old that year, and the compulsory attendance law no longer applies. Also, that is the transition into senior high school with its harder curriculum.

There are more than 31,000 square inches of light-gathering area in the 200-inch telescope on California's Palomar Mountain.

3 Children Die From Poisoning

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI)—Three small children died from poisoning Thursday and six other members of the family were hospitalized. Health authorities began an investigation to determine what poisoned the family of Mr. and Mrs. Hermenio Vega.

They first believed the family was using insecticide-poisoned water from an irrigation canal. However, two wells were found at the Vega home. Health authorities said there was a possibility the wells were contaminated by seepage from the canal.

Water and food samples found at the Vega home were rushed to state laboratories in Austin, Tex., for tests.

The dead were identified as Jose Vega, 5, Reynaldo Vega, 9, and Clarisa Vega, 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. Hermenio Vega.

Justice of the Peace Estrella Trevino ordered an autopsy on the children.

The Vega family was awakened early yesterday by the cries of 16-year-old Silvia Vega's 8-month-old daughter, Maria Esperanza. The family rushed the little girl to a hospital at Mission, Tex.

Dead on Arrival Little Jose Vega asked to go along. Authorities at the hospital looked at the small boy also and rushed him to a hospital at Edinburg, 16 miles away. He was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Health officials ordered ambulances dispatched to the Vega home in the Sherryland area near Mission to bring in the other children.

Reynaldo Vega and Clarisa Vega were dead by the time they reached the hospital.

The elder Hermenio Vegas were hospitalized at Edinburg in satisfactory condition. Sylvia Vega was not stricken.

Girl's Condition Critical Corina, 12, was critical, 5-month-old Ruben was in serious condition and 2-year-old Diana Vega was reported in good condition.

The justice of the peace said Mrs. Hermenio Vega said she cooked some potatoes for the family Wednesday night. However, Mrs. Trevino said, food poisoning was ruled out because the two infants did not eat solid food.

Officials said poisoned water was the probable cause, since the children's formula was prepared with water and the entire family drank a water-based quick-mix soft drink with dinner.

$500 In Tools Stolen Here

Theft of $500 worth of tools and a $5 case of motor oil was reported to police last night by Pete Shaw, owner of the Shaw Engine Service, 1417 Alcock St.

Shaw said the theft occurred between Monday and Thursday of this week. It was not discovered until late yesterday.

The tools were contained in a six-drawer tool chest, Shaw told police.

Entrance was gained to the building, police said, by prying open a rear door.

Solons Distressed At Loss Of Game

AUSTIN (UPI)—East Texas lawmakers blamed a wet field and prejudiced officiating today for Thursday night's 15-6 loss to West Texans in the Texas Legislature's biennial football game.

Rep. David Crews of Conroe, coach of the East, charged that one referee was a brother of West Coach Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon.

"We were heavily penalized," Crews complained, "but the West was not penalized once."
The East was also hurt, Crews said, by the absence of its star, Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline.

Hollowell, who always votes dry in wet-dry matters, refused to play because the field was wet, Crews said.

Support

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Washington lobbyist John A. O'Donnell gave about $9,000 in campaign contributions to more than 20 members of Congress or their associates in 1960 from funds he received to lobby for a Philippine war claims bill.

But lists furnished the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by O'Donnell March 1 on his Oct. 12, 1960, donations do not jibe completely with a report by the General Accounting Office (GAO) which checked his records at the committee's request.

Many of the lawmakers said they were unaware of the contributions. None reported any undue pressure from O'Donnell.

Water

Lowry said the heavy increase was attributed in part to the new water rate and to the drought which has parched the city's lawns.

Lowry said that the 1,000 mark was passed yesterday in the applications filed since Monday under the new water rate ordinance.

Lowry explained again that the new rate would not be effective until the next regular reading of the customer's water meter. The meter readings are staggered at different periods of the month in various sections of the city, he stated.

Pampa Twins Get W. Alton Jones Graduate Fellowships

Bernice and Patricia Beuselink, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beuselink of Pampa, are the recipients of the W. Alton Jones Graduate Fellowship, according to Ralph A. Cornell, president of the Henry L. Doherty Educational Foundation, administrator of the award.

The fellowships will provide all expenses for the twins to do graduate work in mathematics at the school during the 1963-64 academic year.

The W. Alton Jones Fellowship was established in 1953 by the then board chairman of Cities Service Company, Mr. Jones died in a plane crash last year and Mrs. Jones is carrying forward the Fellowship grant.

When Mrs. Jones reviewed the applications for the fellowship, she was impressed by the outstanding and almost duplicate academic records of the twins. Rather than grant the award to one of the twins or split the award, Mrs. Jones decided to underwrite duplicate fellowships. The twins are the first girls to receive W. Alton Jones Fellowships.

The Beuselink twins will graduate from West Texas State College in Canyon this spring with bachelor degrees. During their work toward the degree with a major in mathematics and a minor in physics, the twins have maintained a B-plus grade.

During their college careers, they were recipients of Henry L. Doherty Educational Foundation awards, made to deserving sons and daughters of Cities Service employees. The Foundation is supported by the subscriptions of Cities Service employees, matched by Cities Service companies.

The twins' father is employed at the Pampa Gasoline plant of Cities Service Oil Co. He is a 22-year employee of the company.

Dear Abby...
Get An Educated Organist... Or Pianist!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I love organ music, but if that piano player they have playing the organ at my church doesn't take some organ lessons pretty soon I am going to quit going to church. It is punishment to listen to. She brags that she has never had an organ lesson in her life. Believe me, she didn't have to say so. Anyone who knows organ music could tell it.

GRITTING MY TEETH
DEAR GRITTING: Call your clergyman and suggest that he consider getting an organist — or educating the piano player.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter and her husband are planning a trip to Europe. We offered to keep their two pre-school children during their six-week trip, and they had the nerve to ask us to keep their dog! I don't care for dogs and neither does my husband. My daughter says it will spoil her trip if they have to put the dog in a kennel. She's afraid he might be mistreated or maybe die of homesickness. Are we wrong in refusing to keep him? Or are they wrong for insisting?

NO DOGS
DEAR NO: It is cruel to force an animal on people who dislike animals. The dog deserves better. Explain this to your daughter. Don't let her talk you into anything or it shouldn't happen to a dog.

DEAR ABBY: I have a terrific crush on my family doctor. I am a happily married young woman with children and it annoys me to have this doctor on my mind all day. I told my husband about it and even offered to change doctors, but he said it wouldn't do any good because I'd only develop a crush on the next one. And, besides, he says EVERY woman is in love with her doctor. Is that true? I know my doctor doesn't feel anything special toward me, but that doesn't change my feelings toward him. Any suggestions?

MRS. X
DEAR MRS. X: Every woman is NOT "in love" with her doctor. Your feelings of gratitude, admiration and respect are confused with romantic love. Analyze your emotions and recognize them for what they are or your doctor will never be able to get a history of your normal blood pressure, pulse and heartbeat.

RUTH MILLETT

Do you know a Margie? Maybe your Margie — or Susie, or Alice, or whatever her name may be — is a lovely person and absolutely harmless.

But the Margie — or Susie, or Alice — I'm talking about is far from harmless.

It takes friends quite a while to find out that Margie is really a dangerous woman.

At first meeting, and often for a long time afterwards, Margie's wide-eyed interest in other people's lives seems just that — genuine and harmless interest.

Until they know her much, much better her friends don't censor what they say within Margie's hearing.

Her questions seem ingenious, rather than prying. Her comments about people often carry a hidden sting, but that isn't noticed at first either, so deftly is the sting hidden in a bouquet of flowery phrases.

But before whatever anecdote she is telling is finished, there'll be something told or some comment made that will give the one talked-about, feet of clay.

After some time it begins to dawn on first one friend and then another that Margie almost always tucks a derogatory comment in her verbal bouquets.

And pretty soon the friends begin to see that Margie's questions aren't as innocent as they seem. Margie's questions help her to gather the information she spreads around.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The television networks next season will offer three serious school-oriented series in prime time, and anyone who suggests it is because of the enormous purchasing power of teen-agers should be horse-whipped.

I only bring the point up at all because, to coin an expression, it is not entirely immaterial or irrelevant. Two recent newspaper articles come to mind. One noted that weekly pocket money for teen-agers increased from $2.50 to $10 in the past 15 years, and called attention to a firm called Mailbag International Inc., which plans to send an endless stream of advertisements for various products to these newly affluent youngsters.

The other article revealed that there are more than 19 million of these young consumers now and that they are increasing rapidly. Be that as it may, advance indications are that the networks are apparently using some decent principle in taking advantage of this situation. The three series seem well-intended and many cuts above, say, the Dick Clark dance show monstrosity for the squirm set.

One series, "The Great Adventure," will deal for an hour each week on CBS-TV with a drama on American history. It will be produced in cooperation with the National Education Association (NEA), an organization of about 800,000 teachers. The NEA plans to have a speaker on each program and will help CBS issue study guides and the like. Mrs. Hazel A. Blanchard, president of the NEA, says she is "gratified" about the whole thing.

Another series, "Mr. Novak," will center around a teacher in a large metropolitan high school, and will air for an hour each week on NBC-TV. James Franciscus is the teacher and Dean Jagger his principal, and the NBC press agents are ecstatic about it, but it may be very good anyway. Mrs. Blanchard has given NBC equal time. She says she saw one of the shows and that it is "heartening."

The third series, "Channing," deals with a college (named Channing), and the pivotal characters are a young teacher (Jason Evers) and a dean (Henry Jones). It will appear for an hour weekly on ABC-TV, and is an outgrowth of an excellent drama, "Of This Time, Of That Place," which was presented on the "Premiere" series on March 6, 1962. This drama, in turn, was based on a short story by the noted essayist and critic, Lionel Trilling, a professor himself for many years at Columbia University in New York.

It will be interesting to see whether "Mr. Novak" and "Channing" will — like the legal series, "The Defenders" — go beyond the safe norms of their subjects and dig into some tough and important matters: the pressures of boards of trustees on teachers, the question of free speech, the academic and professional infighting which makes Madison Avenue back-stabbing look like tiddlywinks.

At any rate, the shows are something to look forward to. It will also be fascinating to see whether they command the attention of untutored teen-age consumers, who, as critic Marya Mannes pointed out, "bear a large share of responsibility in elevating the jerk."

The Channel Swim: Teacher training in America is the subject of a one-hour report on NBC-TV's "Today" show Wednesday. "The Defenders" is now seen in 20 countries abroad, the most recent sale being made to West Germany.

Dick Powell's widow, June Allyson, hosts four reruns of his NBC-TV "Theatre" this summer. ABC-TV will soon present a half-hour featurette plugging the forthcoming movie "35 Days at Peking." The narrator is Charlton Heston, who stars in the film.

Sunglass Modes

NEW YORK (UPI) — While sunglasses come in all shapes and sizes, studies made by the National Notion Association point to sectional preferences.

The South and Southwest prefer the pixies or small sunglasses; the Far West, the very large glasses; California prefers the black and other dark-hued frames; in the state of Washington there is an overwhelming preference for white frames.

What Happened To AL's Sluggers-Pitchers Ahead

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Who has stolen the home run thunder from the bats of the American League's sluggers? Was it the rules committee with its new strike zone regulation? Maybe the manufacturers have taken some of the rabbit out of the ball? Or perhaps the pitchers are getting away with that old devil the spitball?

Whatever the reason, the pitchers have been having a ball at the expense of the hitters during the first two weeks of the campaign.

The figures show that there

Kansas City Won't Buy Dallas Texans

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Civic promoters working to move the Dallas Texans professional football team to Kansas City were disappointed today by advance ticket sales.

Lamar Hunt, owner of the American Football League championship team, said he would transfer the club for the 1963 season if 25,000 advance season tickets were sold.

Workers mourned today that only 6,707 tickets were sold during the first three days of the campaign.

"We're very disappointed at the result," Ray Evans, ticket sales chairman said. "We had expected sales of 8,000 to 10,000 by this time."

have been nine shutouts pitched and only 59 homers hit in the AL's first 33 games. At such a pace over the entire season the pitchers would accumulate 180 shutouts—far more than the league record of 146 set in 1909 and considerably above the major league record of 163 in one league set by the National League in 1908.

Also, a mere 59 homers in 33 games represents a 13 per cent decrease in homer output from 1962 when AL sluggers hit 1552 in 810 games.

There were only two games played in the American League Thursday and both resulted in shutouts. Dick Stigman pitched the first major league shutout of his career to give the Minnesota Twins a 3-0 win over the Los Angeles Angels and Ray Herbert tossed a three-hitter as the Chicago White Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 3-0.

Two homers were hit—one by the Twins' Earl Battey and another by the White Sox' Dave Nicholson.

Stigman, a 27-year-old lefty in his fourth big league season, gave up scratch singles to Lee Thomas and Albie Pearson and a solid double to Jim Fregosi. He struck out five and walked only one.

Herbert, a 20-game winner last season, struck out five and walked only one in posting his first win of 1963. Floyd Robinson scored the first two White Sox runs after a single and a double and Nicholson homered in the seventh for their final run. Nelson Fox singled for the Sox' fourth hit—the 2,400th hit of the little second-baseman's career.

FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1963 56TH YEAR

Fans Think Hornung, Karras Hit Too Hard

NEW YORK (UPI)—Only one thing was certain today in the wake of the National Football League's betting scandal: Paul Hornung, the "golden boy" of the Green Bay Packers, and all-pro tackle Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions will not play in 1963.

Whether or not they will play in 1964 or ever depends on their behavior, according to Commissioner Pete Rozelle, but from there on in, for all intents and purposes the investigations into betting by players, which were triggered in January, are over.

That's the official line from the NFL today after an exhaustive study which failed to show anything more than that Hornung, Karras and four other members of the Detroit Lions made wagers on the outcome of regular NFL games betting on their own teams or on games in which they were not involved.

However, there is reason to believe that the matter will not die there as indicated. It's too early to assess fan reaction, but early samplings show most fans were shocked at the severity of Hornung and Karras' punishment. Most league officials, including general manager and coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers agreed that Rozelle had no other alternative but to suspend Hornung, the league's greatest player, and Karras.

Breach Of Contract

Other officials, inside and outside of the sport, seemed to feel the same way, claiming that there was a definite breach of contract by the two players, and inasmuch as the sport depends on public patronage for its existence the players had to be suspended.

There are indications, too, that the Senate subcommittee headed by John L. McClellan, D-Ark., may call for a comprehensive report on the entire investigation by Rozelle as part of its inquiry into gambling and reported fixing in football and other sports.

Paul Hornung

Whether or not such an inquiry would involve the calling of witnesses is problematical. If, however, Hornung, Karras et al were called in then they would have to testify under oath. In the NFL inquiry they were simply called in by Rozelle, confronted with evidence and then admitted they had bet on games.

Hornung's genuine regret and honest admission that he had made a "terrible mistake" by betting on games more than likely gained him a point toward reinstatement. Karras, on the other hand, first hedged and then admitted he, too, had wagered on some games, but angrily snapped that as far as he was concerned "this thing isn't over yet. I am going to protest" the suspension.

Gets Good Offer

Ironically, Karras already has been made a $40,000 offer to engage in a series of wrestling matches, and more than likely will agree. He wrestled once before under the name of "Killer Karras" and, because unlike Hornung who has invested his money wisely, Alex needs an income while on the football shelf.

Reb-Borger Game Tops Loop Action

Tascosa and Borger tangled today in the top-billed game in District 3-AAAA baseball action at Borger. In the other games, Amarillo hosts Lubbock, Palo Duro entertains Monterey, and Pampa travels to Plainview for the 4 p.m. games.

Borger leads the district race with a 6-0 mark. Tascosa is third at 4-2. The Bulldogs beat Pampa Tuesday, 7-2, while Tascosa fell to Plainview, 5-0.

Amarillo is fourth in the district at 3-2 and Lubbock is sixth at 1-4. The Sandies will start Jim Carrigan and Lubbock David Milburn on the mound. Palo Duro is tied for sixth with Lubbock at 1-4. Amarillo high beat the Dons, 12-11, in nine innings Tuesday. Monterey downed Lubbock Tuesday, 12-3.

Pampa is fifth with a 3-4 record. Plainview remains in the cellar with a 1-6 record despite its win over Tascosa Tuesday.

Lee Second In Golf Play

BORGER (Sp) — Austin Junior High's A team took honors in the Junior High Invitational Golf Meet here yesterday, carding a 343. Robert E. Lee of Pampa's A team was second with 363, Austin B had 365, Houston A 379, Lee B 422, Pampa Junior High's eighth-grade 424 and Houston B 433.

Jerry Cryer of Austin had medalist honors with an 81.

Lee A's individual scores were Jim Deaton and Richard Ellis each 84, Tom Warner 97 and Bob by Pritchard 98. Lee B had David Fain with 105, Fred Tinsley 113, Ricky Roach 102 and Charles McKinney 102. Pampa had Troy Edwards 95, Tommy Capps 103, Mike Nabbit and Darrell Smith each 113.

The four schools will play another match at the Huber Country Club in Borger next Friday at 1 p.m. and a third round at the Pampa Country Club on Tuesday, April 30, reported junior high golf coach Deck Woldt.

Sanford Says He'll Hold On To 'Cotton-Pickin' Ball'

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Jack Sanford says he'll "hold the cotton pickin' ball" for five minutes between pitches if National League umpires insist on calling so many balks.

That'll be okay with NL hitters if the big San Francisco pitcher carries out his threat. In fact, anything Jack does differently should be an improvement as far as the batters are concerned because he's become the "Mr. Invincible" of the league.

Sanford reeled off his third victory in the row for 1963 Thursday when the Giants beat the Houston Colts, 6-3, and now has won 21 of his last 22 decisions in NL competition. The 200-pound native of Wellesley, Mass., won 18 of his last 19 decisions in 1962, including 16 in a row between June 17 and Sept. 15.

Sanford blew his top after the game because of two balks called against him, but he didn't lose control of himself or his stuff during the game. He merely coasted behind a 12-hit attack that earned the Giants their sixth victory in eight games.

The Milwaukee Braves retained their half-game hold on first place when they beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the St. Louis Cards, 3-2, and the Chicago Cubs scored a 5-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in other National League games.

Sanford, 24-7 in 1962, yielded five hits and struck out four. Howie Goss drove in all three Houston runs with a two-run homer and a single but his one-man attempt couldn't overcome a San Francisco attack led by three hits each by Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Felipe Alou.

Ex-Boston Red Sox rookie of the year Don Swain gained a victory in his National League debut for the Pirates when Bill Virdon singled in the winning run in the ninth. Swain retired with an upset stomach after eight innings but Elroy Face protected the one-run lead in the ninth. Ken Boyer homered for the Cardinals and Stan Musial doubled bringing him to within one extra base hit of Babe Ruth's major league record.

Glen Hobbie, aided by Don Elston's ninth-inning relief, beat the Dodgers for the first time in three years and only the fifth time in his career when three Dodger errors treated the Cubs to three unearned runs. Don Drysdale, 25-game winner and Cy Young Award winner in 1962, suffered his first loss of 1963 after two wins.

Youngsters Leading In Houston Classic

By KENNETH CARR
United Press International
HOUSTON (UPI) — A trio of fuzzy-cheeked youngsters, whose average age is little more than 23 years, defended their top three spots today against a field of 156 in the second round of the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Tommy Aaron, a 26-year-old Georgia boy, went to the top of the heap Thursday with a 6-under par 64. Jack Nicklaus, 23, took second with a 65 and amateur Kermit Zarley, a mere 21, was third with a 66.

Following with 67s were Bob Charles of Saratoga, Fla.; Jack Fleck of Los Angeles, Calif.; Jerry Steelsmith of Glendale, Calif.; and Charles Sifford of Los Angeles.

Most of the golfers claim that the 7,200-yard memorial course is in the best condition ever and a new tournament record may be set this year.

This is borne out by Thursday's scores when 15 golfers broke par and another 14 tied it. Much to the delight of the estimated crowd of 18,000 — an opening day record.

Aaron's score of 64 was one over the tournament record of 63 set by Jerry Barber in 1955. Barber went on to lose the Classic that year to Mike Souchak, who also set a record — for 72 holes with a 273, which still stands.

Aaron said his putting was the big reason for Thursday's 64. His putts included a 35-footer.

Nicklaus said the course was playing well and Thursday's gusty 20-mile-an-hour winds were helping his high drives. The former Ohio State player had six birdies on the first nine holes for a 30, which tied the record. He then tapered off to a par 35 on the back nine. He said he was "satisfied" with his game.

Zarley, the University of Houston's national collegiate champ, who walked away with the All-American College Invitational last week in Houston, missed a two-foot putt on the 18th hole Thursday that would have tied Nicklaus.

Four players were tied with 68: four had 69, 14 shot 70 and 20 had 71. Twenty-nine followed with 72.

Those who came in with 68 were Claude Kipp, Virginia Beach, Va.; Homero Blancas, an amateur from Houston; Miller Barber, Rye, N.Y.; and Gary Player, Arawack, Bahamas.

MINER COACH TO SPEAK

EL PASO (UPI)—The New Mexico Coaching School Aug. 4-10 at Albuquerque will feature a lecture by Don Haskins, Texas Western College basketball coach. Haskins coached the Miners to 18-6 and 19-7 records the past two years, his first seasons as a college basketball coach. The Miners were rated the No. 3 defensive team in the nation last year.

Pigeon Club Races Start

The past two Saturdays the Top O'Texas Racing Pigeon Club flew its first two races of the current 'old bird' race season. The first race from Eldorado, Oklahoma, was won by A. J. Tipton of Borger. The winning bird flew the 110 mile course at an average speed of about 35 miles per hour. The first eleven places are as follows:

1st — A. J. Tipton, Borger; 2nd — A. J. Tipton, Borger; 3rd — A. J. Tipton, Borger; 4th — A. J. Tipton, Borger; 5th — A. F. Casey, Borger; 6th — Jerry Bonsal, Borger; 7th — Walter Thomas, White Deer; 8th — Bazel Pettit, White Deer; 9th — Bob Baird, Pampa; 10th — Buddy Epperson, Pampa; 11th — Delbert Thurman, Pampa.

Saturday, April 13, the club flew a race of 150 miles from Frederick, Oklahoma. Buddy Epperson of Pampa won first as his first bird flew at almost fifty miles per hour. The first ten places are:

1st — Buddy Epperson, Pampa; 2nd — Bob Baird, Pampa; 3rd — Buddy Epperson, Pampa; 4th — Buddy Epperson, Pampa; 5th — Buddy Epperson, Pampa; 6th — Delbert Thurman, Pampa; 7th — A. J. Tipton, Borger; 8th — A. F. Casey, Borger; 9th — Jerry Bonsal, Borger; 10th — Walter Thomas, White Deer.

UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world may be full of brain-twanging tensions and crises these days, but when a New Yorker sits down to his morning coffee and newspaper, he can anchor his mind to one dependable fact:

The Mets have lost again. Hence the solid city-wide confidence that Casey Stengel's team will break the National League record of nine consecutive opening season defeats during the week-end series with the Milwaukee Braves.

Before today's start of that Polo Grounds series, the Mets could boast eight straight losses, half by shutouts. They needed only one more defeat to equal their opening nine of 1962, which tied the circuit record held by the Brooklyn Dodgers of 1918 and the Boston Braves of 1919.

Great Defensive Outfit
Because of the imaginative adroitness with which the Stengels have avoided victory thus far in the campaign, many admirers regard them as a memorably great defensive outfit.

Their effectiveness in transforming a potential triumph into another defeat was demonstrated gloriously on Monday at Milwaukee in the ninth inning.

The Mets were genuinely threatened with a victory, for they were leading 3-2. There were two out and one man on base. And pitcher

Griffith Set For Rematch

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ex-champion Emile Griffith will try for a third capture of the world welterweight crown on June 8 in a "rubber match" with champion Luis Rodriguez at Madison Square Garden.

Each will receive a guaranteed $40,000 for the nationally televised (ABC) 15-rounder, which was announced Thursday night.

Cuban Rodriguez of Miami Beach won the 147-pound crown from Griffith of New York on a unanimous but controversial decision, March 21, at Los Angeles. Nevertheless, Griffith was installed a 7-5 favorite today.

Tracy Stallard had two strikes on the batter, Lee Maye.

It should be recalled that Stallard had become a "reverse immortal" back in 1961 with the Boston Red Sox when he delivered the pitch that provided Yankee Roger Maris with his 61st home run.

On that historic 1961 day, Stallard insisted he had thrown "a perfect pitch—one I would throw again."

Did he throw that perfect pitch Monday? Boom! You're right. And the consistent Mets achieved a 4-3 defeat. They were a bit luckier than last Sunday at Milwaukee, when they needed 10 innings to lose to the Braves.

Centerfielder Jim Hickman earned the admiration of many a Met roofer on Wednesday at Cincinnati when the New Yorkers garnered a 5-0 defeat for their eighth straight loss.

Hits Grand Slam
The Reds loaded the bases in the first frame, with two out. Batter John Edwards hit a high drive to center. Hickman backed up to catch it. He backed into a seven-foot wire fence, and the feel of the fence apparently upset his thinking. His leap for the ball was too late, and Edwards' drive became a grand-slam homer. The Reds' fifth tally in the seventh inning was incidental.

Last season the Mets lost a record 120 games.

Before the current campaign began, Stengel said, "We shouldn't lose as many games this year" because of improved pitching.

The way Casey talks, sometimes he means "couldn't" when he says "shouldn't." But the way the Mets are going now, they could!

The club's front office reports heavy fan mail with rarely a letter of criticism. Fans throughout the metropolitan area write cheery, sympathetic letters, the office reports.

In their two games at home last week, the Mets drew a total of 33,000 patrons. And advance orders indicated they will do well in the current series with Milwaukee.

One sports writer explained: "If the club was just another tailender, it would be nothing; but it's so horrible it's an attraction."

McKinley Tries To Catch Up

DALLAS (UPI)— Top-ranked Chuck McKinley tries to catch up with the field in the Dallas County Club invitational tennis tournament today.

The nation's No. 1 amateur, a late arrival due to his studies at Trinity University, takes on young Al Hill Jr. of Dallas in a first round match this morning then, if he wins as expected, will face Fred Stolle of Australia in an afternoon quarterfinals match.

Other quarterfinal pairings will send Aussie Marty Mulligan against Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn.

Tascosa, Kermit Regional Picks

With the most number of qualifiers among 19 team entries, Tascosa's Rebels have been tabbed favorite in the Class AAAA division of the regional track meet Saturday at Odessa. The Class AAA regional will be held at the same time.

Kermit is favored in Class AAA but will be pushed for the title by Fort Stockton and Dumas. Because of its strong relay teams, Odessa Permian probably will furnish Tascosa with its strongest opposition. San Angelo and El Paso Burges have a large number of individual qualifiers, but each qualified only one relay team.

Floyd Burke of Palo Duro qualified for the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He has a 9.75 clocking in the 100, which is the best among entries. The Don sprinter has a 21.4 time in the 220. Henry Prizzell, Burke's teammate, high-jumped 5-10 in the District 3-AAAA meet to qualify for regional.

The Dons' 44-yard relay team qualified with a 43.1 time. Donnie Walton qualified in the pole vault. Tascosa's Mike Bell won district in the 220-yard dash with a 21.4 time. He has a 21.2 to his credit earlier in the year. Mark Yarbrough has the fastest time among regional qualifiers in the 440-yard dash—48.1.

David Webb of Tascosa has run a 1:55.9 880-yard dash. Steve Plattor qualified for the regional in the high jump with a 6½ effort. Gary Choate put the shot 33-3½ and Dennis Eubanks threw the discus 152.4 to earn positions at regional. Glen Beard was second in district in the mile with a 3:37.2 time. Dave Taylor vaulted 12.9 to place first.

The Tascosa mile relay team won district with a 3:20.1 time, but has been clocked in 3:18.4 this year. The Rebels had a 42.7 time to win the district 440-yard relay, but lowered it to 42.2 last week.

Amarillo High qualified Ricky Hickman in the 100-yard dash. He ran a 9.9 to place second to Burke. Pampa's Randy Matson is favored in the shot and discus events by a wide margin. He has already thrown further in both events than his state records last year. The 6-6, 220-pounder has hurled the discus 188-7½ and the shot 66-7.

Matson's teammate, Ralph Palmer, has run the second best time among regional entries in the 440-yard dash—49.6. Only Yarbrough's time is better.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

JOHN DYER, PASTOR
HOBART ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

A Christian Duty—Moving Church Membership Acts 18:24, 27, 28

The last paragraph in our Church Covenant reads "We moreover engage that when we remove from this place we will, as soon as possible, unite with some other church where we can carry out the spirit of this covenant and the principles of God's Word."

Millions of church members in the United States have broken this Covenant. Why? In a tract by C. E. Wilbanks, "Your Last Engagement," he lists at least 12 reasons people give for not moving their membership and serving the Lord.

1. "My people all belong 'back home' and have for generations."
2. "My people are buried by the old church."
3. "I don't know how long I'll be here." (On one occasion a lady told me this and I said "How long have you been here?" she said, "Twenty years.")
4. "I went once, but it didn't seem like the old church back home."
5. "I have been unable to find a church here that I like."
6. "Our clothes are not good enough."
7. "I'm supporting my church back home, and could not do my share here." (How many support their church back home by being present every Sunday and Wednesday night and attending all the organizations of the church?)
8. "I'll be leaving soon; my work transfers me."
9. "I'm not financially able to do my part."
10. "My husband (or my wife) is not a Christian, and if he (or she) would join I would."
11. "I worked so hard in the last church I was a member, I want to rest awhile."
12. "I have suffered certain things which have hurt my feelings, I just can't join a church anymore."

None of these are scriptural reasons. The church is the Christian's spiritual home on earth. To see how foolish these excuses are, just think how they would sound if you gave them for not moving your furniture or family or mailing address.

They WILL NOT SATISFY GOD. These excuses grieves the Holy Spirit. God says in Eph. 4:30 "Grieve not the Holy Spirit". To move and not move your membership is rebellion against God. You break the church covenant. Your testimony for Christ dies. Your influence is against the church not for it. You deprive yourself and your family of the rights and privileges of church membership.

Next Sunday won't you come to church and move your membership for God's glory and for your great joy. Rev. 2:10 "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."

Passports To Reds Under Bitter Dispute

By DONALD MAY
 United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bitter controversy is raging in the State Department over the issuance of U.S. passports to Communists.

Abba P. Schwartz, department administrator of security and consular affairs, has threatened to fire Frances G. Knight, longtime director of the passport office.

Miss Knight has testified in a secret session of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that she regards present passport regulations concerning Communists as inadequate.

The background of the dispute begins in 1958 when the Supreme Court, in a case called Kent vs. Dulles, struck down the secretary of state's authority to deny passports to Communists, ruling that Congress had never expressly authorized it.

Then, in October, 1961, the Internal Security Act, which had been in a legal limbo since 1950, was finally upheld by the high court. It provided, for the first time, a specific congressional mandate to withhold passports from Communist party members.

The State and Justice departments drafted new regulations to implement the provision. These were announced Jan. 12, 1962, and were unique in U.S. law.

For the first time in any major U.S. security program, the new regulations provided for hearings in which accused Communists would be confronted with the evidence against them.

If the only evidence came from a secret FBI "plant" in a Communist unit, the government has the choice of producing him at the hearing or dropping the case.

The old system denied passports for mere failure to file a non-Communist affidavit.

Proponents of the current regulations, who include Schwartz and are backed by higher officials of the Justice Department, argue that for the first time the United States is complying with due process of law in passport cases.

They note the reduction in passports that regards present regulations concerning Communists as inadequate.

Miss Knight, who is backed by the FBI, recently told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that under the new procedures "the more treacherous... the individual may be, the less likely it is that he will be denied a passport."

Quotes In The News

By United Press International
 BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, a top aide to jailed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., on continued lunch counter sit-ins protesting racial segregation:

"Our theme now is persistence. We've shown our strength. Now we'll show them we won't go away."

WASHINGTON — Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert, expressing his belief that the effect of having a 100-megaton bomb would be mostly psychological:

"We do not see any really high-priority need for it."

DETROIT — Promoter John Doyle, predicting that suspended National Football League player Alex Karras could make more money in wrestling than in football:

"This suspension will make him more popular than ever because he received such harsh treatment. Fans will turn out to see him wrestle."

BICYCLE BUILT FOR ONE—It looks as though the space race is being carried out atop a bicycle, and, in a sense, that is just what is happening, at least at Republic Aviation Corp., in Farmington, Long Island. Uncomfortable as he may seem right now, this scientist is part of a team that's trying to make space suits as comfortable as possible for our astronauts when they explore the moon.

Second Place For Satisfied

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of statements by Pampa civic leaders published by The Top 'O' Texas Foundation, Inc.

A MATTER OF CHALLENGE some congenial thinking by Walter Rogers, Member of Congress

There is no fun in being second, whether you are pitching horseshoes or aiming for the moon. The second place individual who is satisfied with his performance has never breathed the sweet air of the victory circle, else he wouldn't be satisfied with his lot.

Champions — real champions — never became champions by setting second place as their goal. They, every one of them, were reaching for the stars, or they would never become true champions in the first place.

Most of us, as individuals and as community builders, go through life without ever pressing our accelerator all the way down. And most of us go to our graves without ever really testing ourselves to see just what we are capable of accomplishing. We seem to avoid such a test in the fear that we may fail when the competition becomes stronger, the going more demanding. Instead, we too often retreat to the comforts of going half-speed, knowing that if worse comes to worse, there is always a little extra that we are holding in reserve.

If each of us had always given his best at all times I wonder what changes might have been effected in Pampa — or in this world of ours.

Perhaps we might be living in a world free from cancer, heart disease, sickness of the mind, poverty and ignorance.

But all of this is idle dreaming.

And it will all remain a dream until all of us become willing to press our accelerators to the floorboard and keep them there, give our best in everything we do, with no fear of failure and unwilling to settle for second place.

I am sure most of us share a common desire in wanting the finest community in the world in which to live and earn a living. Most of us want to raise our families in this same community in which there will be job opportunities, business opportunities, a balanced economy and a growth determined populas; and we want Pampa to be this city.

The current undertaking to provide a 50-bed Community Nursing Care Home in Pampa is a real undertaking. But, it is worthy, realistic, and makes sense. It calls for each of us to push our accelerator all the way down and to make sure that Pampa is rated first place in every respect. We need never settle for second place if we are willing to accept this as "A Matter of Challenge."

Walter Rogers

COMPLAINT DISMISSED
DALLAS (UPI)—County Criminal Appeals Court Judge Newton Fitzhugh threw out of court Wednesday a ticket Jim Moody had received for "pumping three children on a bicycle."
Moody's custom-built bicycle with four seats did not violate safety statutes, Fitzhugh said.

CATTLE FIGURES HIGHER
AUSTIN (UPI)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) said today Texas cattle being fed for slaughter market totaled 338,000 as of April 1, or 32 per cent above a year earlier.
The total has dropped, however, 20 per cent from January's estimate.

Lubbock Man On SREB Board
AUSTIN (UPI)—Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock has been named Texas Senate representative on the legislative council of the Southern Regional Education Board, replacing former Sen. Crawford Martin, now secretary of state.
Gov. John Connally made the appointment Wednesday and said: "I am glad that this outstanding young senator has accepted."
Blanchard and the Texas House representative, George T. Hinson of Mineola, travel to Atlanta, Ga. this week for a quarterly meeting of the board and council. The board works in a 16-state area.
The Texas representatives will work mainly on improving junior college systems.

TWO-WAY SQUEEZE—An American family with an annual income of about $7,500 in 1963 has the purchasing power of the $3,000-a-year family of 1939. Reason: the two-way squeeze of inflation and increased federal income and social security taxes. Newschart above shows where the money goes for a married couple with two children in four different income brackets, together with their 1939 equivalents. Data is from the National Industrial Conference Board.

Astronauts Warned About 'Space Smog'

By DOUGLAS DILTZ
United Press International
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—America's astronauts could die of "space smog," according to one of the nation's leading bioastronautic scientists.
This chilling possibility was advanced by Dr. Thomas B. Weber, who said:
"A tightly-sealed capsule in outer space might be turned into a death chamber by a smog of contaminants emitted from the astronaut's own body."
He said these contaminants might become lethal during an extended period of time in the closed "trap-like" atmosphere of manned interplanetary probes and long-duration space stations. The more men in the spaceship, the more deadly it could become.
"This looms as possibly the most pressing problem we face in preparing for future deep space travel," Weber said.
"Space smog would be 100 times worse than the smog plaguing Los Angeles."
Weber said that whereas smog in the earth's atmosphere is continually circulated, a confined spaceship would surround man with "a hostile environment of a vacuum" that would breed a lethal concentration of "space smog."
On a long space trip, Weber said, a number of chemicals from the body such as methane, acetone and ammonia "could tear up the liver or debilitate the lungs." A lethal dosage of "space smog" could come from the astronaut's breath, saliva, sweat and other functions.
"As man enters space his bacteria will accompany him," the scientist said.
"For example, the skin bacteria could decompose many of the materials exuded through the skin and produce sizable amounts of such contaminants as organic acids."
"New unsuspected toxicants of high concentration probably would enter the spacecraft's atmosphere."
Weber said that, as of now, there are almost no original investigations to be found on toxic hazards in manned space environmental systems. What is needed first, he said, is identification of the contaminants and then a means of removing those that could cause trouble.
"I have been studying this crucial problem for six years and have so far found at least 400 different materials the human body gives off," he said. He added that 80 per cent of these possess a potential of being or becoming deadly.
"In the spacecraft's atmosphere they might not only accumulate, but could react with one another into a contaminant 100 times more toxic than either in its original state," Weber said.
Weber, a former U. S. Air Force scientist at the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., is one of the nation's few authorities on space toxicants. He recently became manager of bioastronautics for Beckman Instruments, Inc.
"Russia is way ahead of us in simulated space studies involving toxicants and our lack of experience in this field could be a major roadblock when we try to embark on manned flights to the planets," Weber said.
He said the seriousness of "space smog" has not yet arisen with astronauts because flights to date, such as those in Mercury capsules, have not been long enough for ill effects.
The Y.W.C.A. of the USA was founded in 1858.
