Panhandle Soaked; Tornadoes, High Winds Rake Texas

Demos Spark Surprise Defeat of Bracero Bill

60-Mile Gusts Hit Pampa

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A group of newly elected Democrats was credited today with engineering the surprise House defeat of legislation to extend the controversial "bracero" farm labor program.

The House vote Wednesday could well mean the end to the 12-year-old program of importing Mexican migrants to work on U.S. farms, especially in the West and Southwest.

Unless new legislation is approved this session, the program will end Dec. 31.

For 10 years church groups, labor unions and administration officials unsuccessfully have sought to terminate or sharply modify the program. But Wednesday was the first time they had tasted victory.

The 174-138 roll call vote against extending the program for two years was attributed to:

—Quieter and patient hard work by a group of newly elected Democratic liberals.

—Overconfidence on the part of backers of the program.

—Some very real dollars and cents considerations.

—Out and out moral feeling against the program.

Leading the fight against the bill were Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., a New York City Democrat who has the distinction of being the only member of the House Agriculture Committee without a farm in his district, and Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif.

Rosenthal and Cohelan were assisted by Reps. Alec Golson, D-Minn., Spark M. Matsunaga and Thomas P. Gill, both Hawaii Democrats, and Rep. Edward R. Roybal, D-Calif.

Working together, this force of newcomers—Cohelan, who is in his third term, is the only non-freshman—convinced wavering congressmen and saw to it that those they could count on would be present for the crucial vote.

In their conversations with members, they found that a number of congressmen who had been reluctantly voting to extend the program since it was begun during the Korean War had become tired of being told year-after-year that "this was the last year."

They also discovered that the use of Mexican workers in the West and Southwest was annoying representatives from Border and Midwestern states where similar crops were being grown at greater expense because there were no lower-paid braceros.

The rains came again last night to Pampa and vicinity, accompanied by thunder, lightning and high winds.

While Pampa drew .83-inch rainfall, other Panhandle areas got anywhere from one to three or more inches.

Marshal W. R. Combs at Lefors said 2.75 inches of rain fell there and it was accompanied by some hail and high winds. Combs said there was no serious damage.

Panhandle received .89-inch and was lashed at times by 60-mile winds, although no severe damage was reported.

The rain began falling in Pampa about 7:30 p.m. yesterday and continued past the midnight hour.

Northern and eastern portions of the Panhandle did not get the turbulence in the storms that other areas received.

Amarillo got about an inch and a half of rainfall. More than two inches fell at Groom. Dalhart got better than one inch of rain. White Deer had .80-inch.

The high winds caused considerable damage in Amarillo. A revival service tent was blown down and $3,500 damage caused. Street signs were torn from their moorings and plate glass windows broken. A funnel cloud was also sighted near Amarillo shortly before 9 p.m. but it dissipated before touching the ground.

Thunderstorms packing very heavy rains swept across West and North Central Texas early today, flooding streets and underpasses and threatening to flash flood creeks and streams.

Tornadoes, hail, destructive lightning and winds gusting to 80 miles an hour ripped through the state from the Big Bend to the Red River Valley during the night.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Fort Worth warned that heavy rains there probably would send Big Fossil Creek and other streams in the city flowing over their banks.

An unofficial four inches of rain in an hour and a half at Abilene early today closed all underpasses in the city and pushed Catclaw Creek to the top of its banks.

At least a half-dozen tornadoes were spotted late Wednesday and during the night. None did much crooked one" to it.

Red Official Carries Cease Fire Appeal

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Deputy Public Works Minister Souk Vongsak, ranking Communist official in Vientiane, carried the new Anglo-Russian appeal for a cease-fire to Red headquarters in Khang Khay today.

Souk flew to Khang Khay in a helicopter assigned to the International Control Commission (ICC). He was accompanied by four officials of Red China's embassy here.

The diplomats carried luggage, indicating they expected to stay at least overnight at Prince Souphanouvong's headquarters in Khang Khay. Souk said he would return later today.

Souphanouvong has been under increasing pressure from Red China and North Viet Nam to "get tough" with his neutralist opponents. The Red diplomats apparently went along with Souk to press this argument.

The appeal issued Wednesday by Britain and Russia in their capacity as co-chairmen of the Geneva conference on Laos, will test Russia's influence on Souphanouvong.

It called on the Communist leader to grant full facilities to the ICC to help keep the peace in this strife-torn kingdom.

Souphanouvong, at the instigation of Peking and Hanoi, has refused to allow the ICC free movement in the Plain of Jars, where neutralist and Communist forces have been fighting.

Millions Bilked From Foundation By Its Officers

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—A federal court jury convicted a former mayor and four men Wednesday night of bilking the famed Sister Kenny Foundation out of millions of dollars.

The verdict came after a 10-week mail fraud trial in which the government charged the defendants with concealing about $7 million in collected donations.

Convicted were Marvin L. Kline, 58, former Minneapolis mayor and one of the founders of the institute, George Zimmerman, St. Paul, former Kenny bookkeeper, and Philip Koolish, 71, his son, David, 43, and John Carnell, 50, officers of three Chicago fund-raising firms.

All five were found guilty of conspiracy and mail fraud. Attorneys for the defendants immediately filed for a new trial. Judge Edward Devitt gave them 30 days to file written notice of the motion.

The judge also left the defendants in custody of their attorneys and set next Wednesday for posting appeal bonds. Each man could get a maximum of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine on each count of mail fraud, and five years and $10,000 for conspiracy.

Fred Fadell, former Minneapolis publicity man, pleaded guilty to one count of mail fraud and awaits sentencing. The seventh defendant, Philip G. Rettig, 51, Chicago, became ill during the trial and his case was severed from the others.

The government charged Kline assured the Chicagoans of a contract to handle Kenny solicitations, and, through Zimmerman, concealed the actual amounts from the Kenny board of directors.

American War Dead Honored In Pampa and Across Country

Memorial Day was marked in Pampa at sunrise this morning as members of three veterans' auxiliaries conducted flag-placing ceremonies at the graves of veterans in Fairview and Memory Gardens cemeteries.

Women of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and Veterans of World War I auxiliaries assembled at 5:30 a.m. in the cemeteries and as the sun came over the horizon began setting flags in holders on more than 500 graves.

Last night's rains failed to change any of the plans for the graveside services.

The flags will fly there until sundown today when members of the three groups will return to remove them.

Memorial Day observance in Pampa was quiet. City and county offices, banks, post office windows, and most stores were closed for the day.

City swimming pools opened at 1 p.m. for the first time this season and many swimmers were expected to take their first dip of the year, despite the relatively cool day.

Members of the Pampa Key Club arose early to go about their task of setting flags on display in front of business places for which they provide the service on all holidays.

Americans honored their dead with quiet trips to the cemetery and patriotic speeches on Memorial Day today and took to the roads on the first holiday of the vacation season.

In dozens of town squares in the land, in hundreds of grassy

Red Guerrillas Kill Two U.S. Army Officers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Two U.S. Army special forces men, a captain and a sergeant, were killed from ambush by a platoon of Communist guerrillas Wednesday, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

The names of the slain Americans were not made public immediately.

The spokesman said the two were leading a patrol of mountain tribesmen in jungle-matted mountains of the central highlands in Quang Ngai Province, about 325 miles north of here.

Negotiators Give Up Holiday to Try Averting Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Negotiators for the nation's railroads and five railroad unions gave up their holiday today in an effort to avert a nationwide rail strike.

But spokesmen for both sides in the long-standing dispute cautioned against interpreting the decision to work through the holiday as a sign that an agreement was near.

One source said there had not been much change in the situation since the latest round of negotiations began following the May 14 report of a presidential emergency board appointed to recommend a settlement.

The main issue in the dispute is the railroads' desire to eliminate the job of fireman on diesel locomotives. The railroads say the firemen no longer are needed and union rules which require their presence in the cab are feather-bedding.

The unions are seeking job security benefits for the firemen and other employees.

The railroads are banned from putting new work rules into effect and the unions are forbidden to strike until June 13. That is the expiration date of a 60-day cooling off period which took effect automatically when President Kennedy appointed the emergency board.

Negotiators for both sides said the deadline could be extended if a settlement was near. But one source emphasized that it would be extended only if some progress was being made toward an agreement.

The negotiators set aside the fireman issue by mutual consent last Monday. They said they would concentrate on other work rules issues first in hopes of making some progress.

Pope Battles For His Life as Bleeding Stops

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII rallied further today in his fight for life as internal bleeding which has sapped his strength finally stopped.

An official Vatican medical bulletin issued at 1:40 p.m. (8:40 a.m. EDT) said the 81-year-old pontiff, confined to bed with an abnormal stomach growth—or tumor—and other complications, "showed a marked rally" from his ailments.

Internal bleeding was stopped for the moment and he was strengthened with a series of blood transfusions.

An earlier morning bulletin issued at 9:45 a.m. (4:45 a.m. EDT) also reported optimistically on the Pope's condition, stating that "the Holy Father spent an

Administration Speeds Civil Rights Timetable

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration was reported today to have speeded up its timetable for presenting new civil rights legislation to Congress because of mounting racial tension.

Reports circulated on Capitol Hill that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had advanced by six days—from June 12 to June 6—his planned appearance before the House Judiciary Committee in support of President Kennedy's still undisclosed legislative requests.

However, neither the Justice Department nor Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House committee would confirm that the attorney general would testify sooner than originally planned.

The President, deeply concerned about racial unrest, was said to be considering whether to ask Congress for measures that would bar segregation in any restaurant or store selling goods shipped in interstate commerce.

According to congressional sources, the contemplated plan would apply to all forms of public accommodations—theaters and hotels as well as restaurants—grossing more than $1 million a year in business.

Administration officials were expected to spend the weekend working out a draft of the proposed new legislation.

Robert Kennedy and a group of his aides met at the White House with presidential advisers Wednesday to work on the new legislation and plan other civil rights moves. The session followed these developments:

—President Kennedy invited about 100 businessmen to meet with him Tuesday to discuss difficulties facing Negroes in "securing employment and equal access" to stores, theaters, hotels and other public places. Some southerners were invited but most were northerners with business interests in the South.

—The President urged nine Democratic governors to use their leadership to promote equal opportunity for all races in their states. Attending the White House meeting were the governors of Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, New Jersey, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Tennessee. Kennedy expects to meet later with other governors.

The attorney general met with 141 executives of retail stores with southern outlets. The

Berlin Air Lanes Being Watched By United States

BERLIN (UPI)—The United States was watching the Berlin air lanes today to determine whether the Russians have launched a new campaign to harass western flights.

The buzzing Wednesday of a U.S. Air Force C97 transport by a Soviet jet brought an American protest and prompted fears the Russians might be up to their old tricks.

The jet flew within 200 feet of the four-engine Stratofreighter as it approached Berlin.

The Russian jet maneuvered near the transport over Berlin until the C97 made its final low-level landing approach at Tempelhof airfield.

Legal Debt Limit Raised

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Treasury Department was able to pay its bills today following swift action by President Kennedy before the national debt burst through its legal ceiling.

Kennedy Wednesday signed the measure temporarily raising the limit to $307 billion, only a few hours after final congressional action. The law provides the government with authority to pay its bills until June 30.

Photographer Explains 'It's All in Line of Duty'

Getting up with the Memorial Day sun proved to be a hazardous assignment for Phil Duncan, Daily News photographer.

Duncan was out bright and early at Fairview Cemetery this morning to keep a picture-taking date with members of the V.F.W., American Legion and World War I auxiliaries as they conducted memorial flag services at the graves of veterans.

The photographer arrived at 5 a.m. It was cloudy and still dark. Nobody else was there. In fact, nobody else was there for the next 30 minutes—with two exceptions.

Duncan decided to snatch a few winks while waiting.

No sooner had he dropped off to sleep than a flashlight startled him awake. A police patrol car had pulled up and a policeman wanted to know what Duncan was doing parked at that hour in the cemetery entrance. Duncan explained, showed his camera as evidence he was there to take a picture, and the policeman drove off.

Just as he was about to make it to nodland the second time, another flashlight was shoved through the car window into his face. Another patrol car and another policeman. Same questions. Same answers. And the second policeman left.

Duncan decided it wasn't worth while to try the sleep bit again.

At 5:30 a.m. the ladies of the auxiliaries showed up. Duncan got the picture. You'll find it at the top of this page.

Stamp at left is by Bradbury Thompson, other is by Herbert W. Bayer. Object was to design a stamp to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the National Academy of Science.

Red Minister Dismissed

MOSCOW (UPI)—The dismissal of First Deputy Minister Dmitry D. Korolyev from the Russian Republic Ministry of Trade on charges of corruption and participation in sex parties has been disclosed.

The newspaper "Soviet Trade" also reported the arrest of another ministry official, Isai Florent, chief of the economic department, and the dismissal of his accomplice, Konstantin Kozlovsky, the ministry's party secretary.

The account said the ministry's party committee decided to oust Korolyev from the Communist party for "unsavory behavior and moral degradation."

He was one of the highest Soviet officials recently charged for such criminal abuses.

Sought Trade Job
The Soviet news agency Tass reported last July 25 the execution of 16 persons, including the former section chief of the Soviet Finance Ministry K.T. Degtyarev, for bribery and embezzlement.

"Soviet trade" claimed the latest affair centered around Korolyev's attempts to secure a trade job for an alleged big-time embezzler, Joseph Klempert.

Klempert's name was brought up in January by the newspaper "Trud" for amassing large sums of money and acquiring a "mansion" in one of the old quarters of Moscow called the Arbat.

"Soviet Trade" claimed that Korolyev, Florent and Kozlovsky all had tried to exert influence on various trade officials in the Russian republic but were refused on grounds that Klempert, a historian by profession, was not qualified to hold down a trade job.

Two Show Firmness

In particular, two officials and Communist party members, identified as Karnaukov and Kudryatsev, "showed firmness and did not yield to blackmailing," the newspaper account said.

The abuses were discussed at the ministry and its party committee. Throughout, the first deputy minister tried to assert his innocence.

Despite this, the newspaper said, an investigation "established that the first deputy minister was a crony of Klempert's and frequented Klempert's mansion where he participated in orgies and sexual parties."

WATERPROOF

PACIFIC, Mo. (UPI) — Auto theft is the fastest growing criminal activity in the nation, says Chicago Police Superintendent O. W. Wilson. More than 300,000 cars are stolen annually in the United States and the amount is increasing, he said. A total of 900 cars are stolen each day, or more than one every two minutes.

About the time the second medical bulletin of the day was issued, the Pope's official physician left by train for his northern Italian home. As he left, he said his patient "is a man who doesn't listen at all to his doctors."

Dr. Antonio Gasbarrini, who is the same age as his patient, left a corps of younger men in charge of the Pope.

The Vatican press office, maintaining an optimistic flow of reports since the aged Pope suffered his latest relapse 10 days ago, released official communications which said he had slept through the night and that the internal bleeding had ceased. The future was uncertain, however, for an aged man suffering from a stomach tumor which could be cancerous. Almost continuous hemorrhages have weakened him to exhaustion. He has an anemic condition and a prostate ailment.

May Be Dying
The most competent Vatican and church officials admit privately the Pope may be dying. Ceremonial officials already were meeting to discuss the complicated details of a funeral and plans for the conclave of cardinals to elect a new spiritual leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics.

The midday Vatican announcement on the Pope's condition said:

"Further signs of the improvement, ascertained yesterday and still increasing, have been recorded at 8:30 a.m. during routine checkups. The hemorrhagic phenomena which in the last few days had raised some preoccupation has now stopped. The substitutive therapy had good results, thanks to the strong constitution of the august patient and his general condition has shown a sensible recovery."

Massive Transfusions
The "substitutive therapy" meant massive blood transfusions which have helped keep the Pope alive.

damage. An 80-mile-an-hour windstorm with hail, lightning and heavy rain hit Amarillo during the night. It smashed downtown store windows, felled trees and knocked down outbuildings.

Lightning hit the roof of the Medical Towers Building across the street from the Northwest Texas Hospital at Amarillo, setting fire to an electrical transformer and knocking out power briefly.

Lightning struck an oil storage tank in a field near Andrews, causing an explosion. Before oil lines supplying the tanks could be cut, six other storage tanks blew up in a chain reaction. Firemen worked to keep the flames from spreading farther and let the fire burn itself out.

The storm at Andrews sent water gushing through the streets curbing high, but no serious flooding was reported.

The only injury reported in the tornadoes was a severely cut hand suffered by Ramona Contreras, 23, daughter of a farm foreman who lived north of Brownfield. Miss Contreras was cut by flying glass when a tornado struck near her home. Another tornado dipped down from black clouds three miles south of Burkburnett, northwest of Wichita Falls, early today.

It tore up pastures for a half-mile, ripping out fences and felling trees. A Texas highway patrol cruiser followed that twister as it moved eastward, then lifted back into the sky.

Other tornadoes were reported near Quanah, in the air near Amarillo, New Deal, north of Lubbock, in the air over Ropesville and at Clauene near Levelland.

Hail ranging in size from peas to golf balls accompanied the twisters.

Signs, Trees Wrecked
Winds clocked at 65 miles an hour raked Plainview, wrecking signs and felling trees. Up to 5.5 inches of rain fell in Hockley County, flooding roads.

Lima-Ashley Receive Stay Of Execution

AUSTIN (UPI)—Leslie Douglas Ashley and Carolyn Ann Lima got another stay of execution Wednesday while their case is appealed in federal courts. They were to have been executed Friday night for the 1960 slaying of Houston real estate man Fred A. Tones.

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles granted them a 60-day stay.

Harris County Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe asked the stay as a matter of "routine to keep an execution date alive so they will not have to be returned from Huntsville to Houston for re-sentencing."

The board, acting on Briscoe's request, recommended July 30 as the new execution date. Gov. John Connally approved it.

The board pointed out that on March 29, Judge John R. Brown

JUROR WANTS DRINK

DENVER (UPI)—"I'm not an habitual drunkard," juror Joe Dewey said Wednesday in a note a court bailiff passed to judge Robert P. Fullerton. "But a drink before dinner relaxes me. I think to take my drink before dinner away from me is taking my privileges away from me."

The judge disagreed. He said public opinion might be against it since Dewey is part of a district court jury hearing a murder trial.

He ruled Dewey will have to abstain from his pre-dinner highball until the trial is over.

The purpose of Brown's stay was to allow Ashley and Miss Lima the right of appeal from a denial of a writ of habeas corpus by Federal Judge Ben Connally of Houston. The New Orleans court heard the appeal May 9 but has not yet rendered a decision.

Rotarians See Rock Display

Rock Hounds Charles Burton and Herschel Wilks presented a Rock Show to the Pampa Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting yesterday at the Coronado Inn.

The term "rock hound" is used to designate a person who collects rocks and stones as a hobby.

Burton and Wilks gave short talks describing the various types of rocks and stones, methods used in cutting and polishing them, and told of some of their experiences while on their rock hunts.

Club members were then given an opportunity to examine their rock exhibit.

Preston Fowlkes introduced the program.

A thought for the day—French philosopher Montaigne said: "Intellect, when misapplied, is a dangerous tool."

Diamonds Travel Under Wraps

Hollywood
By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The police department at Revue Studios was ever watchful and on its toes recently when a world famous jewelry store loaned the film makers more than $2 million in gems for a movie.

The gems — diamonds, emeralds, sapphires and rubies mounted in silver, platinum and gold — were brought to Hollywood from Cartiers in New York.

Their shipping date, mode of transportation were such top secret information that even studio publicity men were close-mouthed about details.

The chairman of the board of directors for Cartiers, Mr. Jules Glanzer, a man who wears double breasted suits and cardboard shirt collars, cited a very good reason for sheltering the valuables behind an Iron Curtain.

"We keep these things secret," he said. "You never know, four guys with guns could come along. Just say they got here. It's nobody's business now."

Will Take Jewels Back
The jewels are to be used in "King of the Mountain" with Marlon Brando and David Niven, neither of whom will wear them. Once the film is completed, Cartier's hauls the stuff back to New York.

We were invited, along with a few other trustworthy people, to see the gems at Revue. The jewels were spread out on a table in Doris Day's dressing room suite.

Miss Day had no need for the suite. She was out at 20th Century Fox making another movie.

No reason was given for making Miss Day's suite the temporary jewel headquarters. Possibly it was thought the suite, like Miss Day, had a girl next door quality which would contrast nicely with Cartier's baubles. Whatever the reason, Revue took great pains to see that not even Miss Day got into the rooms without proper authorization.

Two uniformed policemen were stationed on the outside, a plainclothesman inside. A half dozen executives from Cartiers and the studio were also on hand.

Not Gushy Over Details
Mr. Glanzer, Cartiers boss, was not at all gushy as he pointed out details in his firm's fine jewelry work. He's a friend of politicians, businessmen, prizefighters, football players and golfers, so has the common touch. Besides rubbing elbows with the unbeweled, Mr. Glanzer has been working with Cartiers since 1906. Even a $150,000 diamond studded tiara becomes old hat when you handle them every day for 57 years.

Mr. Glanzer attempted to dispel any impression that Cartiers is a stuffy, expensive store, out of the reach of any working man.

"We've got the reputation of being very expensive," he said, with a wave of his hand towards the assembled jewels. "I beg to disagree, we're cheaper than everybody else."

To show that Cartiers can bend the price a little bit, one store official graciously offered us 10 per cent discount on a $250,000 necklace.

Had he thrown in some trading stamps, the man might have made a sale.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomson & McKinnon says that while the stock market may not drive immediately to a new high, its resiliency is impressive.

The firm feels that the market's tendency to bounce back time and again after selloffs which normally would be expected to trigger a mild correction, plus the apparent trend of profit taking to only bring out new investment money, reflects not only a plethora of idle funds but also a marked preference for equities over fixed interest securities.

Cook Should Turn To Family-Pleasing Menus

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In the springtime, chefs at New York's showplace restaurant, The Four Seasons, lightly turn to dishes that please the fancy. Beside the marble pool and its hanging baskets of pink azaleas, you can relish curried crabmeat on midget avocados, a tureen of May fruits, hot canapes of tiny shrimp, squab en casserole with green almonds and tomatoes, as well as mountain trout with salmon mousse.

Fresh asparagus, a symbol of spring, trips across the beautifully pink menu with a troop of inspired sauces — Hollandaise, Mornay, Parmesan, Hazelnut Butter, Polonaise and others.

Gourmet Stewart Levin, youthful director of the Four Seasons, urged us to try both the slender green stalks of asparagus chinois and his favorite, asparagus with Maltese Sauce. He gave us recipes for both, warning not to overcook the asparagus.

MALTESE SAUCE
(1½ Cups)
¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter
1½ teaspoons fresh lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
Dash salt
Dash cayenne
3 tablespoons fresh orange juice

Grated orange rind
Divide butter into 3 pieces. Put 1 piece in the top of a double boiler, add lemon juice and egg yolks. Place over hot water (not boiling) and cook slowly, beating constantly with wire whisk or beater. When butter is melted, add second piece of butter and, as mixture thickens, add the third piece and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from water immediately and add salt, cayenne and orange juice. Serve at once over cooked fresh asparagus. Garnish with grated orange rind.

ASPARAGUS CHINOIS
26 spears wild or thin green asparagus
¼ cup butter
3 tablespoons soy sauce
¼ teaspoon salt

Cut the asparagus into bias strips one quarter inch thick. Sauté in butter until tender, approximately six minutes. About two minutes before the asparagus is done, add soy sauce and salt.

Gentle Art Of Herb Cookery Adds

More Interest To Family's Meals

By Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The gentle art of using herbs in home cooking adds interest and delicate flavor to many dishes. We think these two recipes will convince you and your family of that delicious fact.

HERBED TOMATO-CHICKEN FRICASSEE
(6 servings)
3 to 4 pound fricassee chicken
2 cups boiling water
3 teaspoons salt
3 cups chicken broth
1 cup tomato juice
6-ounce can tomato paste
2 teaspoon chili powder
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon oregano leaves (crumbled whole)
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
½ cup diced green pepper
¼ cup chopped ripe olives

Hot cooked rice
Cut chicken into serving-size pieces. Place in saucepan with boiling water and salt. Cover and cook 1 hour or until tender. Remove chicken from saucepan. Measure broth, adding water to make 3 cups, if necessary. Return to saucepan. Add tomato juice, tomato paste, seasonings, onion, green pepper and olives. Cook, uncovered, 10 minutes. Add chicken and cook until sauce has thickened, 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot over rice.

HERBED LAMB CASSEROLE
(6 servings)
2 pounds boneless lamb stew meat
1 cup boiling water
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon ground black pepper

2 bay leaves
6 medium potatoes
6 fresh carrots
12 whole white onions
½ teaspoon crumbled whole rosemary leaves
¼ cup flour
¼ cup cold water

Trim excess fat from lamb and cut into 1½-inch cubes. Brown on all sides in some of the fat trimmed from the meat. Place in a 2-quart casserole. Add boiling water, salt, ground black pepper and bay leaves. Cover and cook 45 minutes or until meat is about half done. Peel potatoes, carrots and onions. Cut potatoes and carrots into quarters. Add all vegetables to lamb along with rosemary. Mix flour with cold water until smooth. Add to casserole. Cook 1 hour longer or until vegetables and meat are tender.

Stuffed bell peppers that are greased before baking will keep their color.

Exciting New Foods Are Coming To The Kitchen

Breakfast on a tray may soon be standard procedure in the average American household.

According to Paul S. Willis, president of Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., this is just one of the exciting new adventures in eating now on the way to home-makers from U.S. food manufacturers.

"Our food manufacturers," said Mr. Willis, "are convinced that tomorrow's progress comes out of today's research therefore, they are continuing to invest $125 million annually in search of new products and product-improvement. They fully realize that these products must have attractive appearance, good flavor and nutrition, and built-in time savers."

Frozen breakfasts on a disposable tray, although not on the market as yet, are being researched by technologists in food company laboratories and are indicative of the many kinds of new convenience foods which soon will be found in super markets.

For instance, watch for: meat tenderizer in a spray container, liquid cake batter in a carton, round "push-up" tubes of butter, chocolate syrup in a plastic squeeze bottle with a snap-off cap, a greater variety of instant sauces and gravies, such as chili, white cream, hollandaise, barbecue and pizza, frozen baby carrots, and frozen mushrooms.

Aerosol containers are expected to have wider usage this year. Some packagers predict that we will see salad dressings, spices, cake frostings, and cheese spread in the convenient push-button cans. A flavored milk additive soon will be introduced and, one of the newest spray products is a lemon flavor for salads, fruits, fish and so forth.

Of interest to mother will be the squeeze tubes of baby food that come with a hollow-handled spoon that screws to the tube end. Strained food is squeezed from a tube through the handle onto the spoon—all ready for baby.

Then there is ice cream which will be packaged in a "chub" roll—"chub" is the name used for the kind of roll package usually used for liverwurst and cheeses. The "chub" of ice cream is marked off for servings—all you have to do is slice the ice cream off the roll.

Not too many years ago, a typical homemaker spent about ½ hours per day in meal preparation and serving. Today, by using convenience foods, she can accomplish it in about 1½ hours. Also, she has more to choose from—today's super markets carry 8000 items, compared to only 1,000 a few years ago. In another ten years, big markets will carry 12,000 items, and half of them will be different from those sold today, and practically all of them will have made service built in to do the kitchen work, Mr. Willis pointed out.

"New processes and new methods will make better foods available," Mr. Willis said, "but the final judge of acceptance will be the consumer. She'll continue to be the boss. She has high standards of quality, taste, nutrition and convenience, and she wants a little four every time."

Menu Planning For Mothers Of Brides

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI)—Mothers of brides ask the darndest questions about menu planning.

One intrepid hostess once wrote General Foods for a menu that would serve 150 and could be prepared by one or two persons. The home economists suggested sandwiches — chicken salad, cream cheese and nuts on whole wheat, and ham, with punch; cake, plain or with ice cream, and coffee.

Another cook wanted to know what to serve besides cake, nuts and punch at an outdoor evening reception for 500 guests. Still another planned to bake rolls for 400 guests.

The food company's test kitchen figured 600 rolls would be sufficient (an average of 1½ rolls per person) but advised against home baking for all but the most experienced cooks.

Questions such as these prompted the home economists to offer these general suggestions for hostesses who plan to do their own catering for bridal parties:

—If you are hostess at a pre-wedding meal, check with the mother of the bride to make sure you aren't duplicating her menu. If you are, it's up to you to change yours.

—Plan consomme instead of cream soup or seafood bisque or offer a choice, because some guests may have milk or seafood allergies.

—Don't try to make cakes and rolls at home if your guest-list runs to the hundreds. Go to a local bakery or a nearby restaurant whose owner may be willing to order for you from the commercial bakery it uses.

—Ask the baker if you are unsure about the size of the main cake, the amount needed, and the cutting procedure. He may suggest that you order extra pans of cakes that can be cut in the kitchen while the bride and bridegroom cut the main one before the guests. This way, more guests can be served promptly.

—Serving sandwiches? Make them a day ahead and pack them in foil-lined, foil-covered pans, one variety to a pan, so that the bread stays moist and the flavors don't mix. Then, refrigerate until serving time.

—Save repeated trips to the kitchen and keep service plates full by stacking sandwiches on doilies on large round plates. Separate the layers with lace paper doilies that decrease about 1 inch in diameter with each stack. Use about 4 or 5 layers — only as many as will look dainty and appetizing.

—For greater variety, serve both sandwiches and bite-size cream puffs filled with chicken or seafood salad. The shells can be made ahead of time and frozen, then thawed and filled on the day of the party.

—If your guest-list includes both children and adults, plan one menu to please both generations. Here's a lunch menu suggested by the home economists to serve 60 adults and 14 children: sliced turkey and ham, potato salad garnished with stuffed eggs and cucumber slices, cubed tomato aspic on salad greens with french dressing, cake, ice cream, coffee, and a non-alcoholic punch.

—Creamy chicken salad makes an unusual filling for tiny cream puffs. Blend 2 tablespoons of vinegar with 1 envelope of french salad dressing mix and 1 cup of dairy sour cream.

—Stir in 3 cups each of finely chopped cooked chicken and finely chopped celery, and 2 tablespoons of coarsely chopped walnuts. Chill 2 hours to blend flavors. Remove shallow pieces from tops of 6 dozen 1-inch puffs, fill with chilled salad and replace tops, served immediately.

Confidence Gained With Of All Things...Cooking

By PATRICIA MC CORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — Cracking eggs and stirring stew-of all things — helps some elementary school children who won't crawl out of their shells.

One morning recently, for example, a previously backward and apathetic child came to class at a New York school with the shyness gone.

Somehow, almost overnight, she had gained an amazing degree of self confidence.

The catalyst for this transformation: The youngster had for the first time cooked and served a complete meal for her surprised and admiring family.

Psychologists have found juvenile cookery of the sort has important therapeutic aspects. The sense of creation and accomplishment engendered by cooking, for example, has helped some shy children.

Teaches Togetherness
Cooking also furnishes a natural social activity in the classroom. Several work together. This is another step toward teaching a withdrawn child to be more extroverted.

Current research shows children can and like to start learning about food and its preparation at an early age.

The experimental program now under way in 65 of New York City's 600 elementary schools begins in the early grades and continues through the sixth.

Called "family living," the courses open with sessions on how to prepare fruits and vegetables and eventually work up to basic instruction on shopping, menu planning, preparing and serving meals.

Washington, D. C.: Potential Powderkeg

EDITORS NOTE. This is one in a series of dispatches by United Press International on the racial situation in five key northern cities: Washington, D.C., the nation's capital, is revealed to be a potential powderkeg of racial unrest.

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., a Negro congressman, predicted early this month that Washington will experience "one of the worst race riots in the history of America" unless action is taken soon to relieve racial tensions.

Powell is not alone in this grim appraisal of the situation in the nation's capital. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has said publicly that Washington is "sitting on a real time bomb." And may other white and Negro leaders have voiced similar warnings.

A nightmarish sample of what could happen here was a brief but violent racial clash which took place last Thanksgiving Day, following a high school championship football game in the District of Columbia Stadium. Negro youths, partisans of the defeated team, raced through the stands beating up white spectators. More than 30 persons were injured before police could restore order.

Negroes In Majority
Racial tensions are a serious business anywhere. They are especially serious in the District of Columbia, which is the only major city in America with a Negro majority. Of the 80,000 persons who live in the district, about 54 per cent are Negro.

It should be noted, however, that the District of Columbia today is only the "inner city" of the Washington metropolitan area, which sprawls far into surrounding counties of Maryland and Virginia. The metropolitan area has a population of about 2 million persons, of whom 75 per cent are white and 25 per cent Negro.

The racial composition of the few sections of the inner city, now are spread throughout the district, save for a constantly shrinking white enclave in the extreme northwest section, between Rock Creek Park and the Potomac River.

Greater In Schools
Because white families with school-age children have moved to the suburbs in disproportionate numbers, the racial imbalance of the District of Columbia public schools is even greater than that of its general population. About 85 per cent of the students this year are Negroes. Thus the school system, desegregated by Supreme Court order in 1954, has been virtually "re-segregated" by population shifts.

Census studies show that 75 per cent of the Negro adults in the district "have less than a high school education. One-fourth of the Negro families live on incomes of less than $60 a week—real poverty in a city where living costs are high.

Whites Fearful
While frustrations and resentments build up on one side of the color line, fear and suspicion are at work on the other side. Many Washington whites are terrified by the steady increase in the inner city's Negro majority. They blame Negroes for the rising wave of assaults which have made it unsafe to walk the streets of the capital at night.

Police statistics confirm that Negroes are involved in about 85 per cent of the felony arrests here. But they do not bear out the widespread impression that Washington has the worst crime rate of any big city. Actually, Washington ranks below New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Detroit and several other major cities in its over-all crime rate.

Washington has a unique handicap in its efforts to cope with the social problems which generate racial tensions. It is the only big city in American which does not enjoy self-government. Its laws are made and its appropriations are voted by the U.S. Congress. South lawmakers for many years have exercised a dominant influence in the House and Senate committees handling district affairs.

Early history of diamonds is lost in time, but they were known hundreds of years before the Christian Era.

The subject came up in House defense appropriations subcommittee hearings May 2, when Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., and others brought up breaks in the undersea cables. Brig. Gen. J. F. Raulor Jr., director of command control and communications for the Air Force Office of Programs and Requirements, said he believed breaks caused by Soviet fishing boats were accidental.

He said the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. had given the Russians maps showing the location of shallow water cables.

Flood said this was "utterly fantastic, ridiculous, and in certain areas it would be criminal." He said the maps should be canceled and the lines relaid.

It should be noted, however, that the District of Columbia today is only the "inner city" of the Washington metropolitan area, which sprawls far into surrounding counties of Maryland and Virginia. The metropolitan area has a population of about 2 million persons, of whom 75 per cent are white and 25 per cent Negro.

Reports of Maps Given to Soviets 'Utterly Fantastic'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Democratic congressman said in testimony made public it was "utterly fantastic" that the United States gave Russia maps locating the undersea cables that link Distant Early Warning (DEW) line stations.

The Pentagon replied that it would not do Russia any good to cut the cables before an attack, because radio communications are virtually jam-proof.

The DEW line is a network of radar stations in the Far North which are supposed to sound an early alarm in the event of a bomber attack on Canada and the United States.

Police statistics confirm that Negroes are involved in about 85 per cent of the felony arrests here. ### New Wheat Legislation?

The majority of the nation's wheat growers, by their resounding "no" vote in the Wheat Referendum this week, have turned thumbs down on high wheat prices through rigid, federally-enforced controls. Will wheat prices be depressed seriously? Will a wheat glut develop? These questions remain to be answered. The farmers had the choice of programs. If the alternative they chose works satisfactorily — and I believe that, in view of the vote by the farmers themselves, it deserves a fair trial — no further wheat program will be necessary.

In advance of Tuesday's referendum, I made it clear to farmers in our district that they should study all the facts before making a decision. I also notified them of my belief that no interim wheat legislation could be expected from Congress this year should the referendum fail to carry.

Already, some of those who strongly opposed a "yes" vote in the referendum are saying they believe Congress will provide new wheat legislation before this session ends. I'm afraid they've misread the mood of the Congress, which had set up the enabling legislation under which the defeated program was proposed to the wheat growers, and also the primary political orientation of most Members of Congress.

Most Congressmen are from urban areas. My Texas colleague in Congress, Bob Poage, the chairman of the Livestock and Feed Grains Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture, estimates that not more than 6 per cent of Members of Congress are from major wheat producing areas. That Congress is so heavily weighted to urban areas reflects the dramatic shift in our population over the last few years. The powerful "farm bloc" of the 1930's has been succeeded by a strong "big city bloc." Its power to control the course of legislation is growing stronger.

A study last year showed that 300 Congressional districts are urban, 137 are rural. By sections, the breakdown is as follows: South, 58 urban, 62 rural; East, 109 urban, 20 rural; Midwest, 84 urban, 45 rural; West, 49 urban, 10 rural. As you can see, farm legislation must have the support of city Congressmen in order to win approval. Such is their strength in numbers, in both parties. I've discussed the situation with colleagues from big city districts. They are not new inclined to support any new wheat legislation this year. They say that if farm income suffers drastically and supplies of wheat become excessive, the Secretary of Agriculture is obligated by law to take action. He is required to establish a marketing quota for wheat and call a new referendum for no later than June 13, 1964, to establish the program for the 1965 crop.

City Congressmen realize, however, that it is an obligation of government to help prevent economic calamity. If the approval of a program calling for loose controls and low price supports threatens disaster for a substantial portion of rural America, I feel confident that these Members of Congress will be receptive to corrective proposals. It may well be that the next few months will find Congress engaged in a serious re-examination of methods of wheat production controls and support prices.

Those of us who represent major wheat production areas will watch the situation very closely. We will do all we can to see that injustices against wheat farmers by other segments of the economy are forestalled.

"I am not too much of a preacher..." So said Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper as he spoke Tuesday before a joint meeting of the House and Senate. Here are the words of the magnificent prayer he said while in the 17th orbit of his flight: "I would like to take this time to say a little prayer for all the people, including myself, involved in this launch operation.

"Father, thank You, especially for letting me fly this flight. Thank You for the privilege of being able to be in this position; to be up in this wondrous place, seeing all these many startling, wonderful things You have created.

"Help guide and direct all of us that we may shape our lives to be much better Christians, trying to help one another, and to work with one another rather than fighting and bickering.

"Help us to complete this mission successfully.

"Help us in our future space endeavors that we may show the world that a democracy really can compete, and still be able to do things in a big way, and are able to do research, development, and can conduct many scientific and very technical programs.

"Be with all our families. Give them guidance and encouragement, and let them know that everything will be OK.

"We ask in Thy name. Amen."

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

CHILDREN IN CAMP
It's a good idea to give written consent for necessary medical care if your child leaves home for a visit or a camping trip, or if you plan to be away for any length of time.

For example, a summer camp nurse may bring a boy into a hospital with an acute case of appendicitis. But the doctor may well hesitate to go ahead and operate without the parents' consent.

Is the doctor arbitrary, and is such permission just a legal technicality? No, he is well within his rights, though he may give first aid—but only for emergency treatment where a child's health or life may be at stake. He is likely to put off follow-up care until he can reach the child's parents. A relative or baby sitter generally cannot grant consent for a child's treatment.

Even an adult must request treatment and grant consent to medical care on his own before a doctor can give it to him. Children cannot do this.

By going to your doctor you show your willingness and consent to accept his treatment. Your consent is assumed also when you ask for a house call by the doctor, or if as a result of an accident you come to a hospital for emergency treatment. If you are unconscious, the doctor may well give you emergency care, yet later he should get your consent to further treatment.

Minors cannot consent to medical treatment, and except in dire emergencies their parents or guardians must give it for them.

The consent should not be broadly or loosely phrased, but should be as specific as circumstances permit.

The principal reason for having the consent in writing is to avoid later misunderstandings. It is a protection both to the patient and physician.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Cyclone Kills 1,000 Persons

DACCA, East Pakistan (UPI)—A vicious cyclone with winds up to 140 miles an hour smashed across 5,000 square miles of the East Pakistan coast today, killing an estimated 1,000 persons and causing tremendous property damage.

First sketchy reports indicated that wooden houses and huts in the region were destroyed by the thousands.

Telephone poles were uprooted by the winds. All communications between the city of Dacca, capital of East Pakistan near the Bay of Bengal, were cut off.

Commercial airline pilots asked to check the disaster area were unable to land because of floodwaters that swept over airports runways in the path of the storm.

The control tower at Dacca airport failed in all efforts to contact the city of Chittagong by radio. Chittagong is in the center of the cyclone-struck area.

A pilot of a Pan American World Airways Boeing 707 jet en route from Bangkok to Calcutta reported that he also had been unable to contact Chittagong radio.

Supreme Court Splits Over 'Eavesdropping'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The bribery conviction of a Massachusetts restaurant operator has caused the Supreme Court to split sharply over the admission in evidence of recorded conversations.

A six-man majority affirmed the conviction of German S. Lopez of North Falmouth for bribing an internal revenue agent, even though the agent was carrying a minifon recorder which later was played in court.

Justice John M. Harlan said the Internal Revenue Service used the device "only to obtain the most reliable evidence possible in which the government's own agent was a participant and which that agent was fully entitled to disclose."

"The device was not planted by means of an unlawful physical invasion of (Lopez') premises under circumstances which would violate the Fourth Amendment," Harlan said. The Fourth Amendment bars unreasonable searches and seizures.

"This case involves no 'eavesdropping' whatever in any proper sense of that term," Harlan added.

Takes Opposite View
Justice William J. Brennan Jr. took the opposite view for 26 pages. He said the only way to avoid situations like the one in the Lopez case was to keep your mouth shut all the time.

The Fourth Amendment was not designed to protect secrecy, Brennan said, but to enforce each individual's right to determine to whom he would communicate his thoughts.

The high court ruled in 1928 in a famous case that wiretapping did not constitute an unreasonable search.

This decision, according to Brennan, arose from the fact that "the framers of the Constitution had not been far-sighted enough to foresee the invention of the telephone."

Say Change Needed

Brennan and two colleagues — Justices William O. Douglas and Arthur J. Goldberg—said it is about time the 1928 ruling was cast aside. The course of the court's decisions has been "outflanked" by technology, they said.

"If electronic surveillance by governments becomes sufficiently widespread, and there is little in prospect for checking it, the hazard that as a people we may become haggard and furtive is not fantasy," the Brennan opinion said.

BIRD STOPS TRAINS

LONDON (UPI)—One train was canceled and three were delayed near here Monday because of a swan with a broken leg.

The swan could not move off tracks between Shepperton and London's Waterloo station. The engineer of the first train decided to wait until the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals removed the bird.

VALUABLE MAIL

CHICAGO (UPI) — The nation's mailmen transport $20 billion worth of valuables every year. Insurance companies pay out about $3.4 million annually to policyholders whose mail and express shipments are lost in transit, the Journal of American insurance reports.

Aldo Moro is a tall, shy, big-boned man of 46 who has been given the job of forming a new Italian government in time for President Kennedy's scheduled visit to Italy in June.

President Antonio Segni's appointment of Moro was in keeping with the state of Italian politics because Moro is noted as a compromiser. And in the hodge-podge of Italy's political parties it will take a compromiser if the country is to avoid chaos.

The government he is being called upon to head is to replace the left-center regime of Amintore Fanfani, who has been widely blamed for heavy Christian Democratic losses in the April elections and correspondingly impressive gains by the Communists.

Moro's fate will depend largely upon his negotiations with Pietro Nenni's left-wing Socialists, whose passive support also was the keystone of the Fanfani government. For Moro's first attempt will aim at a government which also will be left of center.

Business Decline
The question will be just how far left.

The Fanfani government's nationalization of the power industry frightened some industrialists and was blamed for some reduction in private investment.

Other, less drastic, measures taken by the CDU-Socialist allies included an old-age pension plan for housewives, some minor tax reforms and an increase in the age for compulsory schooling from 11 to 14 years.

Results of last April's elections have been a matter of interpretation. Christian Democratic conservatives blamed party defections on the Socialist alliance.

The Nenni socialists blamed the big Communist gains on government support of any new government. In the end, the price may be too high. Nenni's hand has been strengthened by the fact he

Magic Plains Oil Exposition Slated In Borger's Dome

BORGER (Sp) — The Magic Plains Oil Exposition, set for Borger's unique Aluminum Dome Coliseum September 5, 6, and 7, will offer the exhibitor a ready-made viewing audience of 65,000 people connected with the oil and gas — petrochemical — industry, it was announced this week by the show's sponsoring committee.

C. G. (Lefty) Blair, Chairman of the 1963 bi-annual event said that this figure would fall short of the total attendance since it is expected that viewers with a curiosity or educational motive will swell the estimated attendance figure considerably.

Additionally, Blair pointed out that the Magic Plains Exposition will feature a wide array of the most modern technical equipment as well as "standardized" instruments, equipment and methods demonstrations.

Exhibit space for the event is still available and particulars may be obtained by writing the committee at Box 911, Borger, Texas. Small exhibitors were cautioned that an estimated 75 per cent of inside space has been filled and that early contracts were the only assurance of space.

The Magic Plains Oil Exposition is the only major industrial show in the southwestern United States scheduled for 1963.

The main event will begin September 5 with a four-mile parade through downtown Borger to the coliseum exhibit site where formal opening ceremonies will be conducted.

also is being wooed by the Communists, who are proposing a renewal of the old popular front. Neutral Stand
In the last campaign, Nenni demanded a wider degree of regional self-government, controls on ownership of homesites and other land, a definite program of economic planning, and agricultural and school reforms.

The Socialists, once bitter foes of NATO, agreed to take a neutral stand toward that alliance providing the government missed no chance to press for world peace and some kind of accommodation with the Communist world. As secretary general of the Christian Democratic party, Moro had a large hand in swinging a large majority of the party in January, 1962, behind a left-of-center policy and an "opening to the Left." He has, however, managed to escape blame for April's election results, most of which fell on Fanfani.

56TH YEAR THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1963

Moro first came into the government as Minister of Justice under then Premier, now President, Segni. As an orator he is noted more for his sincerity than his skill.

Scouting Scoops

All the while Girl Scouts were busy finishing up their school year, the Girl Scout Leaders were busy preparing our summer camping fun. Leaders from Canadian, Memphis and Panama met at the Red Seitz Ranch near Miami for the purpose of picking out units, campsites and studying the minor details that will make Day Camp this year more fun than ever.

TROOP 38, under the leadership of Mrs. Edna Taylor, are planning a slumber party for May 31 in the Girl Scout Little House. This senior troop is going against tradition in combining business with pleasure. Reason for the party? Fun, of course, but they do intend to make leis for the Hawaiian Luau they are planning for June. The parents will be invited to this as an end-of-the-year affair. The end of a very exciting year, too!

The first semester was taken up with "Charm courses" in Amarrillo and the second semester was climaxed with a style show, which the troop presented at Senior Conference held in the Panama Hotel.

TROOPS 54, 56 and 59 completed an eight weeks' skating course recently. Upon completion, they received a Certificate in Skating. Troop 54 celebrated the event with a party held in the roller rink. Refreshments were served and games were played.

BROWNIE TROOP 15, including 19 scouts, five guests, two leaders and four mothers, went on a field trip to visit Major Comar. After visiting the television station, the troop had a lunch of hamburgers, potato chips, Cokes in Thompson Park. The girls visited the animals and played games until time to continue their trip to the airport, where they were taken for a tour aboard an airplane by William H. Wheeler Jr., an employee.

Following the tour, the girls had cokes in the airport dining room before returning home. All in all, a wonderful time was had by all. This, and more next week! Sunday — Susan Davis.

Dear Abby....

Abby Burns On The Smoking Subject

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column I noticed the rather vitriolic letter from DOUG concerning his dislike of tobacco smoke. What amazed me was your approval of a device that would retaliate with an equally disgusting odor. On the basis of this, if the odor of garlic is offensive, why not use a logger's peavey to cram a couple of dozen buds down the throats of garlic eaters? And if you don't like the beehive hair-do, simply bust the wearer over the head with a hickory ax-handle. If you are annoyed because your linoleum is being pitted by ladies' steel heels, take a scythe and slash off their feet at the ankles. Heaven knows we all have to put up with a lot of things we don't especially like, but why not try to tolerate it with grace? If smoke is bothersome, stay away from people who enjoy smoking.

DEAR ABBY: In the absence of a "retaliator" for non-smokers, I'll tell you how I defend myself against the smoke thoughtless smokers send my way. I pick up a menu or newspaper and fan it back at them. If there is no one handy—I simply BLOW it back to them. My wife tells me it is extremely rude, but it is no more rude than those who would choke me with their smoke.

ED R. F.

DEAR ABBY: It's only a hunch, but observing the recent tirade you launched against smokers, I'll bet ten bucks you were recently told to give up cigarettes and are dying for a smoke.

AL

DEAR BILL: You rattled the wrong cage. A beehive hair-do harms no one. One can step back a foot or two from another who has eaten garlic. And when you discover that your linoleum is being damaged, you can ask the lady to remove her shoes. BUT, the air belongs to everyone. And no one has the right to pollute it. Many people become physically ill from smoke but, sadly enough, the smoker is usually so elated

DEAR AL: Send the ten bucks to the Cancer Society, Sport. I have never smoked and never will.

For a personal, unpublished answer to your letter, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Co-hostesses included Mmes. Laura Guthrie, Donald Reeves, Roy Ford, Fred Wood, J. D. Johnson, Vernie Hardcastle, and Albert Marshall.

The room was appropriately decorated with a pink and blue motif. The table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with a bouquet of garden flowers.

Cake and punch were served to the following Mmes. Otis Ford, C. M. Hampton, E. H. Herd, Bill Hampton, Paul Millet, Joe Weatherly, Gordon Whitener, Cleo Gaines, Clarence Robison, K. D.

Ford, Cecil Martin, Claudy Brotherton, C. B. Kirk, and Irene Dyer. Many sent gifts who could not attend.

Coordinated outfits for milady's summer possess chameleon-like qualities and convert from play-suits to at-home dresses as easily as from town dresses to bathing suits. Claire Golden, of Country Calicos, for example, coordinates patch-work calico, sewn in a diamond pattern with calico in a floral print for an outfit that changes from a playsuit to an at-home dress.

WHERE THE FALLEN REST—Thirty-nine per cent of American soldiers killed in foreign battle remain overseas (others were returned by request of next of kin). The American Battle Monuments Commission is responsible for the construction and maintenance of military cemeteries and memorials on foreign soil. There is a total of 22 such permanent cemeteries, replacing the hundreds of temporary sites established during World War II. On map above, eight World War I cemeteries are named in white boxes; 13 World War II cemeteries in black boxes. (First name is name of the cemetery, following names its location.) Not indicated is the cemetery at Manila, Philippines, largest of all. In addition to these cemeteries, the commission has erected memorials at New York and San Francisco to honor those who died in U.S. coastal waters during World War II.

Harvest Conditions Poor in Pampa Area

Harvest operations were progressing rapidly in North Central Texas until stopped by rains last week. Rains in the Panhandle and South Plains were too late to be of material benefit to dry-land acreage.

Reports by local areas are as follows:

Pampa, Miami, Canadian, Wheeler and Lipscomb: Abandonment estimated as high as 90 percent on dry-land acreage in parts of this area. Irrigated acreage is good and an average to above average yield expected. No shortages expected when harvest gets underway June 10.

Dallas: Harvest five percent complete. Wheat averaging 25 bushels per acre. No shortage or surplus of men or machines.

Denton and Gainesville: Wheat harvest two percent complete. Wheat yielding an average of 18 bushels per acre. No shortages reported.

Wichita Falls, Archer City and Henrietta: Harvest 40 percent complete with above average yields reported. Harvest should be completed by June 1 and no shortages expected.

Vernon, Crowell, Quanah, Seymour and Munday: Harvest 15 per cent complete and yields are good. Scattered hail received last week caused some damage to isolated areas. No shortages reported.

Haskell: Harvest 25 percent complete with very good yields reported. No shortage of men or machines.

Childress, Wellington, Paducah, Clarendon, Memphis, Guthrie and Matador: Some rain has been received but too late to be of benefit to dry-land wheat. No shortages expected.

Coleman, Eden, Brady and Ballinger: Prospects poor for all small grain in the area. Harvest should begin about June 10. No shortages expected.

Crosbyton, Dickens and Jayton: Dry-land wheat doing better than expected and yields should average 12 bushels per acre. Irrigated acreage in good condition. No shortages expected when harvest gets underway about June 5.

Brownfield: Average yields expected when harvest begins about June 5. No shortage of men or machines expected.

Littlefield, Muleshoe, Dimmitt, southern fruit crops last winter. The price index for food during April stood at 104.3 per cent. This meant it cost a housewife $10.43 to buy a basket of groceries that cost $10 in 1947-49.

Space Station Project of Near Future

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The Air Force has disclosed that it hopes to start developing "soon" a military orbital space station that could stay aloft indefinitely with men aboard.

Such a station was pictured as a key element of a future "military patrol" that would defend American interests in space.

The aspirations were outlined by Lt. Gen. James Ferguson, deputy chief of staff for research and development, at the Aviation Space Writers Association's 25th annual meeting.

He described an orbiting station that would be visited and supplied by ferry spacecraft operating from earth. One such vehicle would be the two-man Gemini capsule which is supposed to be launched late next year.

He looked on the station as "a natural focus" for the military part of America's space efforts. It would combine in a single vehicle—a container in space—a means for achieving many important capabilities sought by the Air Force.

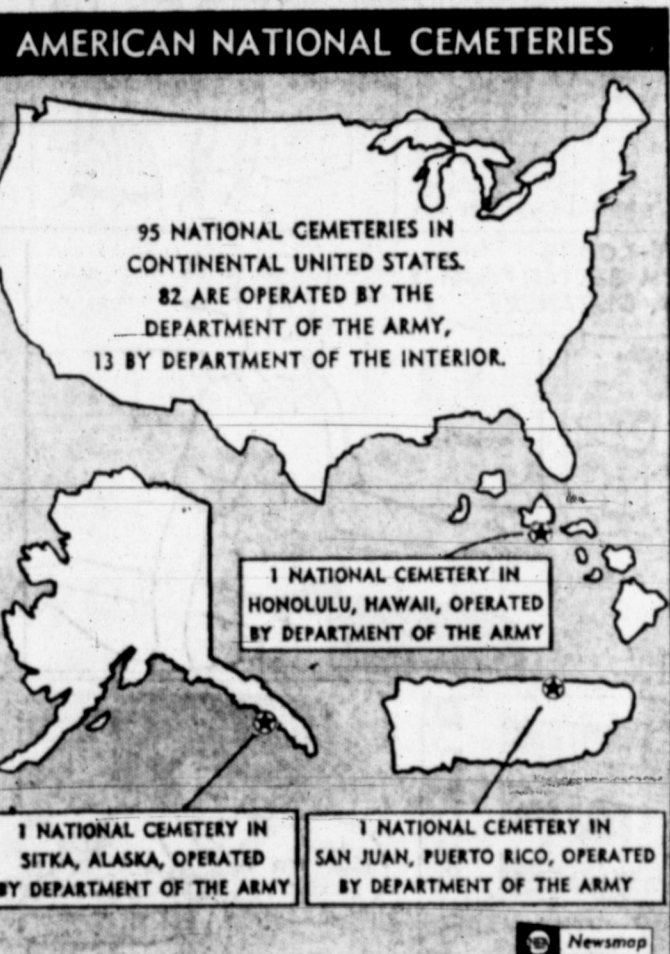

The station could be boosted into orbit by the Titan III rocket now under development. It will lift off with more than two million pounds thrust, compared with 360,000 in the Atlas that sent astronaut L. Gordon Cooper aloft May 15.

"We are sure that we need to provide some protection for the nation in this realm of space," Ferguson said, and "we are also convinced that the defense role in space will require some manned systems."

In preparation for its future, space operations, the Air Force also disclosed today that it plans to train student pilots at sub-orbital altitudes of 200,000 feet instead of beneath 50,000 feet as at present.

That plan was announced by Col. James W. Little, pilot training director of the Air Training Command at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex.

The Soviet Union is nearly three times the size of the United States.

HALLOWED GROUND—Citizens of the 50 states and Puerto Rico will visit 93 national cemeteries this Memorial Day to lay wreaths, meditate and otherwise honor the memories of the soldiers who rest there. Most of the cemeteries date from Civil War days (they were first authorized by act of Congress in 1862), though subsequent wars and military actions have added to their number. Most famous national cemetery is at Arlington, Va. (1864). Newest are at Fort Logan, Colo., and Willamette, Ore. (both established in 1950).

Living Cost Continues at Record High

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living continued at a record high of 106.2 per cent during April, the Labor Department reported today.

Ewing Clague, head of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said food prices dropped three tenths of 1 per cent but the decline was offset by increased prices for housing, used cars, newspapers and clothing.

The consumer price index was 1 per cent higher than a year ago, reflecting increased costs for food, housing and recreation. All major types of goods and services except transportation shared in the over-the-year advance.

Clague said the decrease in average food prices in April resulted largely from drops in the prices of meats, eggs and dairy products. The price of meat was the lowest since 1957, he said.

Meat, poultry and fish prices dipped 2.4 per cent. Beef and pork prices led the way with a drop of about 3.5 per cent.

However, prices for fruits and vegetables increased. Fresh fruits climbed 4 per cent and fresh vegetables 1.6 per cent. Clague said this was largely a continuing result of frost which destroyed

Farwell and Hereford: Rains too late to be of benefit to dry-land acreage and a far below normal yield is expected. Hail and wind caused considerable damage in this area with Parmer County losses reported from 50 to 60 percent. Bailey County lost four to five percent and western Castro County from 10 to 20 percent. Deaf Smith County suffered minor damage and no damage occurred in Lamb County. No shortages expected when harvest gets underway about June 10.

Plainview, Tulia, Lockney, Floydada and Silverton: Rains last week were too late to be of much benefit to dry-land acreage. Irrigated acreage improved but a below normal yield is expected when harvest gets underway about June 10. The normal migration of men and machines is expected to meet all demands.

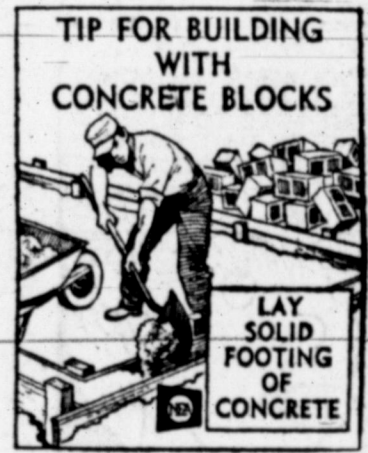

Amarillo, Canyon, Panhandle, Vega and Claude: Rains last week were too late to be of much benefit as approximately 65 percent of the acreage had been abandoned due to drought. No shortages expected when harvest gets underway about June 10.

Borger, Spearman, Perryton, Dalhart, Channing, Stratford and Dumas: Recent rains will benefit the remaining dry-land acreage in this area. Irrigated acreage looks good. The normal migration pattern is expected to meet all needs for men and machines when harvest gets underway about June 10. Our next bulletin will be issued June 3.

SPACE TARGETS

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—An astronomer believes the moon and the planet Mars are the two bodies in the solar system most likely to be reached by man.

Dr. Armand N. Spitz predicted during a lecture man might reach the moon in this decade, but said it was unlikely. He said a landing on Mars could be made about 10 years after that.

By JEFF COHANE

THE ANNUAL "slaughter in Indianapolis" takes place today. Under the guise of sport, 33 suicidally-inclined men will head their miling engines of death out on a 500 mile circuit that is bound to bring a minimum of three crashes, two near-misses, and if the hungry crowd is lucky, at least one death.

For death rides perched on the shoulder of every driver, urging him to take that turn just a little bit faster, just a little bit sharper, just a little...oops!...and another Christian goes down under the jaws of the lion.

THE ROAR of the crowd at an Indianapolis Speedway race truly seems the closest thing to what a crowd at the Coliseum giving a thumbs down to a gladiator must have sounded like. Although a fight crowd is substantially the same, hoping for blood and thrills, they are usually backing one fighter against the other and are particularly whose blood is spilled...but a Speedway crowd just wants blood...anyone's blood...the more the merrier, and if there is a little fire to give one's nostrils the smell of burning flesh while they await the next death-doomed driver to spin out, so much the better?

A gruesome thought? Exactly what this department thought when we attended our first and only Speedway race while going to college in the Midwest.

ACTUALLY, the thought that this mayhem, melee and murder goes under the name of sport is even more sickening than the actual carnage itself. It is precisely like horse racing, the "Sport of Kings." While one, perhaps, out of a thousand spectators may actually be there because they enjoy seeing horses run, the other 999 have a betting ticket clutched in their sweaty hands and are hoping to make enough to pay the mortgage, appease the wife, augment their unemployment, or at least break even because they need the money.

Exactly so with a Speedway crowd. While a minority of the spectators, usually the youthful ones, can talk authoritatively about "cams" and "rpm's" and actually want to see what a great driver can do with a great automobile, and a number of the spectators are unsuspecting tourists who actually came to see what all this hullabaloo is about; the majority of the crowd reminds one of the happy souls who come to bring the rope for the lynching, the feathers to go with the tar and fight to get seats for the execution. "Buzards in sport shirts," or "mourners waiting for a funeral" might be an apt term for them; but "sports fans"...never!

WHILE IT is true that many many drag races are started just because two or more young men feel their car and/or driving ability is better and want to find out, and the crowd is composed of their friends and fellow enthusiasts...just as throughout Texas two or more quarter horse owners will race just because each sincerely believes his animal is faster...just as two men or boys will start swinging fists to settle a private argument...that can be classified as sport for the love of it (or hatred of the opponent), there seems little doubt that organized big-time racing, boxing and horse racing are competed in and seen just for love either of a dollar or the spectacle of death.

If the Indianapolis 500 is a sport, then we'll take bullfighting. At least the bull has a fighting chance.

Eye-glasses No Longer Rarity in Major Leagues

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Time was when a major league ball player who wore eye-glasses was as rare as a set of dry tonsils at a brewer's convention—but not anymore.

The old rough and tumble crowd of the hairy chest and "chaw" had as much regard for the bespectacled player as it did for umpires. The umps were the only ones supposed to wear them. Nobody will ever know how many potentially great players were lost in the process.

Phil Linz, the infield handyman of the Yankees, first was fitted for glasses during his rookie year at Kearney, Neb. "Randy Gumpert, the manager, was hitting ground balls at me and I wasn't seeing them very well," he explained. "Then in night games I had trouble seeing pitches."

An eye man found a slight vision defect. Once fitted with glasses, Linz wars on his way up to the big club. Back in 1960, Frank Howard of the Dodgers was hitting over .400 when he was ordered by the front office to take an eye examination. The reason was that he was staggering around in the outfield under fly balls. His difficulty was myopia. He could see objects close by but not at a distance.

Another outfielder with the same problem was Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels. He had the same defensive trouble while maintaining a lusty batting average.

Didn't Think Twice
A pitcher such as Ken MacKenzie of the Mets wouldn't think twice about having a sore arm treated. And he didn't think twice, either, when he found he needed glasses 15 years ago. "I wore glasses playing hockey as well as baseball at Yale," he says. "People ask me if I'm not afraid of being hit by a batted ball. The answer is that glasses give me normal vision and help me avoid such accidents."

Phyllis owner Bob Carpenter, a member of the board of the University of Delaware, heard there about optical tests to measure how fast a hitter's eye contracts when a fast ball is thrown to him. The test was given to the Rochester team and Carpenter said it "was terrific in spotting the good hitters."

Now, some fans might suggest, it's time to use it on the Phillies. Glasses there might well be the necessary answer.

PACKERS INK TWO
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Defensive linebacker Bill Forester and defensive end Willie Davis have returned their signed 1963 contracts to the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League. Forester will be starting his 11th season with the Packers and Davis is a veteran of five campaigns.

Tennessee May Give Wyatt Axe

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—University of Tennessee officials refused comment Wednesday night on a report that head football coach Bowden Wyatt will be relieved of his coaching duties within three weeks.

Sports writer F. M. Williams said in the Nashville Tennessee Wednesday the unexpected development stemmed from incidents at a meeting of Southeastern Conference (SEC) coaches and athletic directors at Ocala, Fla., last weekend.

Wyatt has served as head football coach and acting athletic director at the university since the death of Athletic Director Robert Neyland on March 28, 1962.

University President Dr. Andrew T. Holt would make no comment on the report when reached Wednesday night. But he did not deny that Wyatt would be fired as coach.

Williams said in his article that Holt has received word that Wyatt was unruly during a session of the Ocala meeting presided over by SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore.

The article said Holt has been making telephone calls to obtain information about the alleged Ocala incidents.

Babe Ruth League

Hardware edged the Lions, 10-8, and the Orphans rolled over the Bankers, 21-1, in Tuesday night's Babe Ruth League games.

Mike Stone took the win in relief of Steve Swanson and starter Domingo Velasquez was the loser in the opening game, going out for Dickey Henry in the third inning. Ronnie Stokes led the winners with 2-for-2.

The nightcap saw Dave Frazier toss a one-hitter, with Doc Cornutt breaking up the bid for a no-hit game with a fifth-inning single as he beat out a slow roller to second base. Lyn Engle took the loss, being relieved by Phil Young in the second frame. Walks in the fourth inning cost Frazier his shutout.

Larry Stephens and Jack Thompson had perfect nights at the plate for the winners, Stephens with two triples and two doubles and Thompson with a triple and two doubles.

The league took last night off and returns to action this evening with the Lions meeting Cree and Ideal-clashing with Kist.

Minnesota, SF Giants Hold Onto League Leads

Pitching and Power Key To Win Streak

Ed Bailey's HR Wins For Frisco

By United Press International
Pitching and power—those are the ingredients that have helped the Minnesota Twins carve out a nine-game winning streak.

The Twins' pitchers have turned in complete games in six of their last seven outings. During this same period, manager Sam Rice's sluggers haven't been sitting on their hands. They've unloaded 15 homers in their last five games.

By United Press International
Rival players like to kid Ed Bailey about his hometown of Strawberry Plains, Tenn. (pop. 400), but the San Francisco Giants' catcher is having the last laugh these days.

The Twins' streak Wednesday night when he allowed only two hits in a 10-1 breeze over the Washington Senators. The fire-balling southpaw pitched no-hit ball after giving up a triple to Minnie Miroski in the first inning and a double to Ed Brinkman in the second. He struck out nine and walked three in raising his record to 4-2.

Charles Knocks In Winner
The Orioles finally bit the dust when Ed Charles singled with the bases loaded in the 11th inning to give relief ace Bill Fischer of the A's his seventh victory against a single defeat. Baltimore scored all of its runs in the sixth inning to barge ahead 4-3, but Norm Siebern knotted it with a solo homer in the bottom of the frame.

Bailey unloaded another important home run with two mates aboard Wednesday night to earn the Giants a 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Hits Grand Slam
Vic Power provided the power with a grand-slam homer in the fifth inning and Earl Battey added a three-run blast in the eighth for good measure.

Another nine-game winning streak was snapped when the Kansas City Athletics halted the Baltimore Orioles 5-4 in 11 innings. In the American League's only other action, the Los Angeles Angels downed the Detroit Tigers 4-2. New York at Boston was rained out.

Bailey's latest homer off reliever John Tsitouris gave the Giants a 5-1 lead. The Reds made it close when they picked up a single run in the seventh and Marty Keough hit a two-run homer off Juan Marichal in the eighth. Billy Pierce then took over and preserved Marichal's seventh victory.

Bob Knowles and Norman Tuck of Canyon shot 1,296 in the Class A ragtime doubles to gain that championship. The pair took home $211.

David Staggs posted a 703 — the highest sanctioned series at the house this year — to boost him and his teammate Don McCarty of Borger to the Class B ragtime-doubles championship. McCarty rolled a 599. They won $394.

Bill Dorsett and G. Parks of Borger topped the Class C Ragtime field with a 1,153 series for $145.

Dorsett posted 1,995 for the all-events championship, 11 pins better than Calamello.

The tournament had its top entrant draw this year — including 60 teams, 99 doubles, 116 singles.

They Would Be Pleased

Those from early middle age upward find the name "Memorial Day" still strange upon the tongue.

But there is a very special tribute paid by every person - even those who give no heed to the significance of the day - a tribute that the men who are gone would surely appreciate.

It is the existence of a vital, growing, busy people, taking the first of their three great summer holidays.

Three years, plus little more than a month, had passed since the end of hostilities of the War Between the States.

It is for these things, this life, this very existence, that we are indebted to those who have gone.

Today, 35 years later, Memorial Day marks the tribute the United States pays to the dead of all its wars - tribute by family, friends, military, patriotic and civil organizations.

Somewhere along the way of this holiday, find a quiet place - your church, the corner of a field, a place in your heart - and spend a moment in remembering.

They would be pleased if you take candy. Everybody can understand candy, and most everybody likes it.

Poor Precedent

On its second try, the Air Force has succeeded in dumping 400 million 3/4-inch copper needles into space around the earth.

The object of the experiment - called West Ford II - is to create an artificial ionosphere which could be used to bounce extremely short-length radio waves between two points on the earth.

The project was almost universally opposed by the world scientific community. Apparently, however, fears that the needles would interfere with radio astronomy observations of the universe have not been borne out.

With such precedents established by ourselves, we will have slight leg to stand on should the Russians pull off an experiment we don't like.

TRUTH FORUM

Rocky Out; Who'll GOP Go For Now?

By ED DELANEY

Potential Republican nominees for the 1964 presidential race have been reduced by one.

The question then arises, who can they groom for their candidate? Some supporters of Barry Goldwater now feel that his chances are enhanced.

Although some of the die-hards in the Republican ranks endeavor to minimize the damage that marriage has done to Nelson's political chances at the presidential prize, they are deceiving no one but themselves.

Another whom the tipsters dangle as a potential GOP candidate is Gov. George Romney of Mich. He alienated himself with a large percentage of the Republicans when he made a stupid attack on the John Birch Society and its members.

Rockefeller's divorce from his first wife, of 31 years, might not necessarily react on him at the ballot boxes. But his marriage to the very recently divorced Mrs. Murphy will lose votes for him, not only among Catholics who do not approve of a divorcee marrying while the ex-mate is still living, but also from millions of Protestants who share somewhat similar views.

A dark horse in the race is Gov. Bill Stark of Pennsylvania. He has a lot in his favor but lacks a national publicity campaign.

Edson in Washington Your Sweet Tooth Giving Headache to Candymakers

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Now you take candy. Everybody can understand candy, and most everybody likes it.

Before Russia got the Cuban sugar, it charged its people 50 cents a pound for its domestic beet sugar production.

Candy is either an energy food, or it makes you fat, depending on how much you eat.

The state sugar industry profits from 500 to 1,000 per cent - which no capitalist country would dare mark up - have more than paid for the entire Russian agricultural program.

That's what you think! But 3,000 candymakers and their suppliers, assembled in Washington for the 80th annual convention of the National Confectioners Assn. didn't come here to compare products in 2,000 exhibits or to swipe each other's recipes.

The clothing should be loose and so arranged as to minimize pressure on the abdomen. We don't hear as much these days about cigarettes stunting adult growth as we did 40 or 50 years ago.

There's one candymaker in Congress by the way. He's William Brock 3rd, R-Tenn., of the Brock Candy Co. family in Chattanooga.

What all this points up again is that practically every industry in the country now has to look to Washington for guidance and help - even to make a candy bar.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Why do the communists hate us? That's my 10-year-old son's question. My answer wasn't satisfactory to him."

Answer: We are not sure that the communists hate us. It is possible that some communists hate some individuals in the United States and that some individuals here hate communists.

There are basically two different ideas which are opposed: collectivism and individualism. Collectivists may call themselves communists, socialists, fascists, Democrats, Republicans or even "liberals."

In the United States there has been more individualism and freedom from bureaucratic control than in most other nations.

The collectivists envy the material gains, and seek to obtain the material benefits without observing the moral guides which made them possible.

The Doctor Says:

Watchful Waiting is Clue to Happy Period of Pregnancy By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

While the normal pregnant woman should not "eat enough for two," she should be sure to drink 6 to 8 glasses of water every day, in addition to what is taken at mealtimes.

This is because all the nitrogenous wastes from the growing child must be eliminated by the mother normally.

She should also avoid late hours and get plenty of restful sleep. This is an aid in warding off infection, or in making a good recovery if infection of any kind should develop.

The clothing should be loose and so arranged as to minimize pressure on the abdomen. We don't hear as much these days about cigarettes stunting adult growth as we did 40 or 50 years ago.

It is well known that nicotine causes a spasmodic constriction of the arteries. It is believed that either this constriction of the arteries in the umbilical cord, or a direct effect of the nicotine on the fetus, causes the babies of mothers who smoke during pregnancy to weigh generally 5 to 8 ounces less at birth than those born to nonsmoking mothers.

Because the effect on the fetus of various drugs that might be taken by a pregnant woman are either unknown or are known to be harmful, no expectant mother should take any drug except on advice of her doctor.

One of the first things a doctor should determine when a woman becomes pregnant is whether there is a possibility of a clash of Rh blood types in the prospective parents. If, for example, a woman with Rh-negative blood should marry a man with Rh-positive blood there is danger their offspring will suffer from a blood ailment.

If, however, any of the well-known danger signals are noted during pregnancy, an obstetrician should be seen without delay.

These signals are scanty urine, persistent headache, disturbance of vision, swelling of the face or feet, or loss of blood. They may ty, they seek to criticize and attack those who have followed those practices to help themselves and others.

Every year on Memorial Day, an anchor of red poppies is lowered into the Severn River at Annapolis by an Honor Guard and floated out to sea, during ceremonies at the Naval Academy.

This is in memoriam to the Navy men and Marines who gave their lives for our country. The Army and Air Force are also honored today by a large heart of poppies, which is placed on the Tomb of the Unknowns at Arlington Cemetery.

These wonderful women supply the material, FREE, to the veterans and pay them for every flower they make. All funds collected provide for the rehabilitation and welfare of the injured heroes and their families.

Allen-Scott Report

Soviet Nuclear Test Analysis Joins Senate Subcommittee; Shatters 'Second Strike' Confidence

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON - Central Intelligence Director John McCone jolts the Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee with the core with a hair-raising report on Russia's latest nuclear capabilities.

The top intelligence chief, whose forthright accounts of the Soviet's menacing military buildup in Cuba won high praise from these senators, bluntly warned that Russian nuclear weapons developments now pose a grim threat to this country's missile-striking force.

In briefing the senators, McCone revealed that the latest analysis of the Soviet's super-bomb tests in the Arctic last winter clearly showed that their "50 to 100 megaton warheads" are capable of inflicting crippling damage on our "second strike" Minuteman and Titan II missiles, even with "near misses."

Gigantic shock waves set off by only one of these Russian super-bombs could knock out the electronic connections and equipment of an entire missile complex, making it impossible to fire the missiles in that area.

Prior to the compilation of this highly classified CIA analysis, Defense Secretary McNamara had strongly stressed the invulnerability of the "second strike" force. Testifying before the Senate committee in March, he contended it would take a direct Soviet hit on each missile site to put it out of action.

McNamara argued that there was no "hard intelligence" to indicate the Russians have either the capability or are planning to build a missile force large enough to destroy the 1,000 Minuteman and Titan II missiles the U.S. plans to deploy by the end of 1964.

The Minuteman, the Air Force's solid-fuel, so-called "instant" ICBM, can be fired directly from "hardened" underground silo-type bases within minutes after the command is given.

With the Titan II and Polaris submarine missiles, the Minuteman squadrons constitute this country's "second strike" missile force. These missiles would be fired only after a Soviet nuclear attack on the U.S.

UPSETTING THE APPLECART - The CIA chief's startling estimate of Russia's grim nuclear capability punches a shattering hole in the "invulnerability theory" of McNamara's "second strike" nuclear strategy.

According to senators who have heard the testimony of both Secretary McNamara and McCone, the former, in a hasty move to overcome this sinister hazard, has given the highest priority to an Air Force study to determine whether the now vulnerable missile sites can be modified and strengthened.

The jolting CIA analysis of the Soviet nuclear tests has also caused the Joint Chiefs of Staff to urge tests of our own "big" bombs to determine their effect on missile sites and communications.

The military leaders have told the President such tests have become a "must" to protect the security of our missile forces.

The Joint Chiefs contend the latest Soviet nuclear weapons breakthrough - far overshadows previous reports regarding their successful testing of an anti-missile missile.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Television's rerun season seems to be starting earlier than usual, and with awesomely sophisticated deception. Some ingenious publicity writers describe repeat shows as "reprises." CBS-TV's "Camera Three," however, is the hand-down winner by virtue of calling its reruns a "retrospective festival."

It all makes a fellow yearn for the days when it was sophisticated to say, "I'm warning you, Tex, stay away from my gal," especially if you were talking to someone named Tex. But one of the important television series, "CBS Reports," is showing more than ever that a repeat can be more than just another run-through, that it can be updated with fresh material so that it is really worth a second meaningful look.

Wednesday night, for instance, the series took a one-hour documentary about birth control that had aired May 10, 1962, and, by working in a new flare-up over the issue in Illinois, proved that creative hands can get endless use out of a basis of material, to viewer advantage.

It has been done before, of course, but it should be done more. One of the justified complaints about television is that a good many fine shows disappear after being displayed. Yet the vast documentary files that the networks are building are really a wealth of bases upon which to construct updated shows on the same subjects — thus providing more than just reruns, yet also, during slow seasons especially, enabling viewers to see timelier versions of what they may have missed.

The "CBS reports" effort was particularly suited to updating last year's program centered on Chicago, where there are charges that there is a ban on birth control services in public hospitals and clinics. Wednesday night, the focus was on the current Illinois furor over whether public funds can be used to give birth control aid and data to unwed mothers. And, again, both sides were given their say, with methods again being the main cause of disagreement—but, encouragingly, nearly everybody agreeing that the population problem must be solved by all.

The Channel Swim: "The Kremlin," NBC-TV's top-rank documentary which was shown last week, will be repeated Tuesday. If you missed the program, catch it by all means.

CBS-TV plans at least six prime-time "same-day" news shows about President Kennedy's European trip between June 20 and 29—five half-hour reports and an hour special on his visit to Berlin and tour of the Communist wall.

Baby Care Class Set

A class in mother and baby care will begin Monday at 7 p.m. in the Red Cross Office, basement of the City Hall, with Mrs. Forrest Hills RN instructor.

The course is on prenatal care and the birth of the child. Parents are invited to take this course free of charge. The course also teaches care of the child through the first 6 months.

Couples expecting their first child will find the course of great value to them, according to Mrs. Hills.

BEAUTY AND BRAINS—Richly endowed with talent, beauty and intelligence, Yvette Mimieux is adding rungs to the ladder leading to stardom with each film she makes. She has demonstrated her versatility in the widely differing roles she played in "A Light in the Piazza" and "Diamond Head."
