BENEFIT SHOW WILL BE GIVEN AT MIDNIGHT

75 PER CENT TO BE ADDED TO FUND FOR NEEDY

Pampa's heart was being tapped today as approximately 75 workers went through the business and residential districts of the city seeking to raise a $5,000 supplementary relief fund to aid needy this winter.

The relief drive opened shortly before noon at the conclusion of a general meeting of campaign solicitors in the council rooms at city hall. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, chairman of the fund advisory committee, and Jake Garman, head of the fund solicitation, addressed the workers.

"We are asking Pampans to give $5,000 to this relief fund," he said. "The actual need here for the winter months is $10,000, our investigation has shown. We must raise at least $5,000 and if the figure goes higher than that, the acts which are being done by the community to put the drive over."

Mr. Garman also announced that arrangements have been made to hold a huge midnight relief fund benefit show at the LaNora theater Thursday night. Approximately 75 per cent of the gross box office receipts will be turned over to the fund.

In addition to a full movie program and feature length picture there will be a stage show of five or six vaudeville acts which are being arranged by Mel Marshall, production and program manager of Radio Station KPND.

Marshall stated today that he was lining up some exceptional talent for the stage presentation. In addition to the excellent movie and stage program, those who attend the midnight show at the LaNora Thursday will have the opportunity of contributing their admission price to the Pampa relief fund.

Carl Benefield, manager of the Griffiths Amusement Co. theater in Pampa said today that there will be no advance in admission prices for the benefit show. Doors will open at 11:30 p. m. The program will be announced tomorrow.

At the meeting in city hall today Dan Gribben was named chairman of a special funds solicitation committee which will call on the oil companies. Other members of this committee are Ed Bisset, Lynn Boyd, Mel Davis and Eddie Dunigan.

SANDIE GAME TICKETS SELLING FAST HERE

More than half of the 400 tickets to the Amarillo-Fort Worth North Side game received here this morning had been sold at noon, Roy McMillen reported. The balance of the tickets, at $1 each, may be purchased at Mr. McMillen's office in the city hall.

Tickets received here are in the east grandstand between the 20 and 35-yard lines. Mr. McMillen asked for the tickets but did not learn in advance whether or not his request would be granted until the tickets arrived here on the morning train.

Word that tickets had been received "got around" and a line started forming soon after 8 o'clock. All reserve seat tickets placed on sale at Amarillo had been sold early this morning. It was learned here, Game time will be 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on famous Butler field. It will be a meeting of two undefeated and untied teams with outstanding offensive and defensive records.

SQUARE DANCE WILL BE ENJOYED AT CANADIAN

Charity will benefit when old timers of the Panhandle gather in Canadian Saturday night for a real old fashioned square dance with all the trimmings, such as polka, Virginia reel, new shoes, etc. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock in the city hall. Music will be furnished by Homer Ratliff and his orchestra.

Many Pampans plan to attend the dance and extend an invitation to those attending to come to Pampa on the night of Dec. 29 when a charity dance will be given in the high school auditorium.

Pampans who can attend the Canadian event are asked to get in touch with Mrs. H. H. Heiskell, Mrs. E. A. Shackleton or A. A. Tiemann.

Mrs. Ralph Jones and Mrs. Paul Carmichael drove to Amarillo today to meet Mrs. B. C. Nall of Guyton, Okla., who returned with them to be a guest in Mrs. Jones' home.

D. club, young men's social club, this morning at the city hall take 12 families off the Good Fellow's list of families which will be without Christmas cheer unless generous Pampans share. However, the Good Fellow chief says that there are not enough clubs, groups, churches, classes to take care of the needy, and asks that individuals help.

G-MEN TAKE BANDIT IN GUN FIGHT

Youth Braves Blaze

GRAND SALINE, Dec. 15 (AP)—Jack Robertson, 16-year-old son of W. H. Robertson, postmaster, rushed into his burning home yesterday, rummaged in a smoke-filled closet, jumped from the closet window to safety. Receiving treatment for a wrenched leg, Jack clutched tightly a ribboned package. It bore a young lady's name. "I did my Christmas shopping early," the boy said.

REBEL FLANK CRUSHED GOVERNMENT DECLARES

MADRID, Dec. 15 (AP)—The rear guard of General Francisco Franco's insurgent army besieging Madrid was reported by the government today to have been "destroyed" by a flank attack. In a cold rain which soaked trenches around Madrid, the fascist troops attacked the government position of Fresnedilla, 12 miles west of Madrid, with mortars, machine guns and heavy rifle fire. The insurgents were permitted almost to reach the socialist front line, the official report said, as the government troops held their fire. Then, the socialist militia launched a driving counter-offensive and, aided by a rolling artillery barrage, pushed back the attacking insurgents and struck their rear guard in the flank.

City Prepares to Increase Storage

Action on the purchase of additional above ground water storage for the City of Pampa will probably be taken at the next meeting of the city commission, it was agreed last night. Absence of Commissioner W. T. Fraser kept the commissioners from completing a transaction in regular session last night. The commissioners are in favor of purchasing an 80,000 barrel capacity tank from an oil company operating in the LeFors area. The storage will be needed next summer and it is felt by the commissioners that the tank should be purchased and installed immediately in readiness for the summer rush. Several bills were passed for payment at the brief session.

I Heard . . .

That Coach Pat Gerald of the Panhandle Panthers lost his lucky hat while attending a district basketball meeting here yesterday. If the finder will bring the hat to the Pampa Daily News, I am sure a reward can be obtained. It was scouted after the meeting that the hat, a black fedora, had been swiped by either Gene McCollum of the White Deer Bucks or Otis Burke of the Perryton Rangers. Information leading to recovery of the will be appreciated.

API's Annual Banquet Will Be On Friday

The annual banquet and election of officers of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will be held Friday night at the Southern club, a mile south of Pampa on the LeFors road. Election of officers for 1937 and other business will be transacted at a membership meeting at the club, beginning promptly at 6:30 o'clock. The banquet will be at 7:30 with President Max Mahaffey presiding and Dr. H. H. Hicks as toastmaster. Entertainment will be furnished by Kathryn Duffy of Oklahoma City who will present her "Internationale," a colorful and sparkling review featuring some of America's most beautiful girls in song and dance numbers. Music will be by Billy Hunter and his Southern club orchestra which is featured daily over radio station KPND, Pampa Daily News. Tickets to the dinner and

MARTIAL LAW THROUGHOUT CHINA PROCLAIMED AT NANKING

NANKING, China, Dec. 15 (AP)—Martial law throughout China was proclaimed today by the Nanking government shortly after rebellious Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang announced the killing of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and at least three other military leaders.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 16 (AP)—(Wednesday)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and several other military leaders were killed at Sian-fu after mutinous troops had rebelled, Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang announced by radio today.

Cold-bloodedly without equivocation, the rebellious northern marshal told an anxious China of the slaying of the head of state. His statement brought to an end intense hopes for the premier's safety, which last Friday was detained during a military rebellion in the inner provincial capital.

Marshal Chang announced these others were killed: Gen. Chiang Tso-Pin, former Chinese ambassador to Tokyo. Gen. Chiang Pang-Chen. Gen. Chen Cheng, commander of bandit suppression forces on the Shansi, Shensi, Suiyuan and Ninghsia borders.

The rebel marshal's declaration came on the heels of direct advice from Nanking in which W. H. Donald, adviser to the central government, declared he had personally seen the military overlord and found him in good health and spirits.

Donald's report, however, did not state the exact time the Austro-born adviser had seen Generalissimo Chiang nor did it tell exactly when his information to Nanking officials had been telegraphed from the interior.

Broadcasting from Sianfu, Shensi provincial capital, Marshal Chang also declared several other generals in addition to the four he named had been killed. He did not give their names, however.

Employ Station Employee Burned in Gasoline Explosion

Paul Hughey, employe of the F. E. Hoffman Service station, corner of Foster and Somerville streets, received painful but not serious burns today when gasoline which he was cleaning an oil bath air filter from a car exploded. The operation was being performed in a compartment where there was a lighted stove. Mr. Hughey apparently got too close to the open flame. He was taken to Worley hospital in a Pampa Mortuary ambulance. His condition today was favorable. The fire department answered an alarm and extinguished the blazing gasoline with no damage to the building.

Mrs. A. E. Shaw is quite ill at her home, 404 S. Cuyler.

FREE PICTURE FOR CHILDREN IS ANNOUNCED

KIDDIES 14 AND UNDER TO BE INVITED DEC. 24

It will be a happy holiday for Pampa boys and girls when the Lions Club-LaNora Theater-Pampa Daily News annual Christmas party is staged at the LaNora theater on the morning of Dec. 24.

Upwards of 1,800 children were entertained at the party last year and another record-breaking crowd of happy youngsters is expected this year.

All children 14 years of age and under are invited to the Christmas show. Adults may accompany them, but they will have to stand in the rear of the theater. Seats will be for the children. The show is scheduled for 10:30 a. m.

Every youngster in the theater will receive a bag containing candy, oranges, apples and nuts. Ewing Leech, of the Lions club, is chairman of the committee making arrangements for the candy treat.

Santa Claus will be there in person. In fact old Santa will distribute the gifts to the children. There will be a movie program and everything to make for a grand time.

Car Benefield, general manager, said today that provisions have been made to have plenty of supervision and parents may be assured that children will be in good care while they are attending the big Christmas show.

The program for the Christmas party show will be announced later.

STOLEN HOISTS MAY BE IDENTIFIED HERE

Oil well operators who have been victimized by hoist thieves will have an opportunity this week to attempt to identify their stolen property. Sheriff Earl Talley said today that more than a half hundred of the oil well hoists, recovered in Dallas and Fort Worth, will be shipped here and should arrive tomorrow. They will be on display at the courthouse for owner identification.

The sheriff stated that no arrests have been made in the local investigation and that a suspect being hunted in Hutchinson county has been away from home for two days.

The man being hunted is suspected as the ring-leader of the "fence" which has been disposing of the stolen property.

The wholesale theft ring was uncovered on a week-end trip of Sheriff Talley and Sheriff Dan Hardee, of Hutchinson-co, to Dallas. The hoists, stolen from the two Panhandle counties, had been disposed of in Dallas and in some instances found their way back here to be resold to their original owners.

It came to him that he did not know he had actually liked it so much. The whirr of the quail in Wheeler county sage and shirney was still ringing in his ears. . . . He had to shout with joy and get more than the other fellow. But that was beside the point. "The only reason we did not get our limit was because we couldn't hit 'em!" he said. Then he mused over the dogs. "One particularly fine sensation, what a thrill it gave one when the dog would freeze. The pained look in the dog's eyes when the shot found no feathers. The triumph when they hit the mark. Of course he did not say any of this out loud. . . . After while he walked out and went next door to a shooting gallery for an hour's practice.

HOOVER LEADS RAID AGAINST NO. 1 CRIMINAL

DESPERADO EMPTIES GUNS AND GIVES UP TO LAW

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Federal agents blasted an upper west side apartment with a 45-minute siege of gunfire early today, capturing Harry Brunette, 25-year-old desperado, and wounding his wife.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who led the attack, said Brunette was wanted for the kidnaping of a New Jersey state trooper and for a number of bank robberies in the middle west.

Brunette's wife, with a bullet wound in the back, was taken to a hospital where her condition was reported not to be serious.

An area just off Riverside Drive was thrown into a panic by the gun battle as Brunette fought back against the surprise raid with two pistols.

Before the battle was over, several score policemen and a company of firemen had packed into the area swarming with spectators.

Despite the fusillade, no one was wounded except Brunette's wife. "This man is a desperate character," Hoover said after the capture. "Although we never rate criminals, he certainly is one of the worst in the country. The capture of Brunette was more difficult than that of John Dillinger for Brunette fought back until his guns were empty."

"Brunette was on his way toward being another Alvin Karpis," Hoover posted his men at the front and rear of the two-room apartment on the first floor of the house. Then he went to the entrance, banged on the door, and called to Brunette:

"Federal agents! Come out or we'll come in after you!" There was no answer. Then one of the agents in front tossed a tear gas grenade through the window.

The gas was answered with shots from the front window. A second grenade was hurled into the apartment and as it exploded it ignited a window curtain. More shots came from within. The agents retaliated with machine gun and pistol fire. The whole front room was lighted from the blazing curtain.

The agents shot from the sidewalk, backyard, and the hall, riddling doors, and smashing every window.

Mrs. Brunette screamed: "I'm shot. I'm going out." Then for the first time the federal men heard Brunette's voice answer. "Okay, get the hell out of here!" The woman staggered through the smashed door from which the lock had been shot.

A resident turned in a fire alarm and firemen, with bravery which Hoover later called "amazing," dodged into the line of bullets from two directions to throw a stream of water on the flames.

Brunette, guns empty, shouted he would give up and came out the door with his hands in the air.

$338,000 Suit Filed Against Empire Here

Failure to properly develop an oil lease and the alleged withholding of oil and gas royalties were made the basis for a $338,000 lawsuit filed in Gray county district court today by J. W. Cantrell, of Montague county, Texas, against the Empire Gas and Fuel Co., The Cities Service Gas Pipe Line Co., and Texoma Natural Gas Co. The suit was instituted on behalf of Mr. Cantrell by Atty. Leslie Humphrey of the law firm of Bullington, Humphrey and King, of Wichita Falls, Tex. It is alleged in the petition that the three defendant companies have failed to live up to lease agreements on the 160 acres of land owned by Mr. Cantrell, and described as the South half of the south half of section 136, block 3 of the T. & G. N. Railway company survey. The land, Mr. Cantrell alleges, was leased to the Empire company in February of 1926 for oil and gas operations with the understanding that it was to be developed and the plaintiff was to receive one-eighth royalty on the oil and one-tenth of all moneys from the sale of gas. It is further set forth that the lease has been active since 1930 and that the Empire company entered into a working agreement with the other defendant companies—an agreement which was detrimental to the plaintiff. Failure to develop the lease since 1930, it is charged, damaged the plaintiff. The lease had been inactive although producing oil and gas wells have been drilled on all sides of it. This has caused drainage of minerals from the plaintiff's property and caused further damage, it is asserted. Mr. Cantrell alleges in his petition that if the lease had been properly and seasonably developed from the date of initial production there should now be 16 wells in operation.

OIL WORKER HORRIBLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Horrible face lacerations, fractures of both upper and lower jaws, and head bruises were suffered by Tex Patterson yesterday afternoon when a cat line snapped and whipped across his face. He was brought to Worley hospital by workmen. Today his condition was favorable, attending physicians reported.

Patterson, employe of the Cree & Hoover Drilling Company, was working on a well on the McConnell lease eight miles west of Pampa when the accident happened.

When the line snapped, Patterson was hurled against the side of the rig. His upper lip was almost severed, one cheek badly lacerated, his teeth knocked out or broken and the jaws fractured.

X-ray pictures taken revealed no critical injuries.

Why does Alcohol make the imbiber drunk? That is a question which has puzzled physiologists for many years. The answer is that it deprives the body of oxygen. Drs. R. A. McFarland of Columbia University, and A. L. Barach of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, conclude as a result of experiments reported in the American Journal of the Medical Sciences. They suggest treatment with combined oxygen and carbon dioxide.

The symptoms of drunkenness are familiar enough. The "drunk" sways on his feet. He lacks control over his movements. And, in addition, he may become irrational and lose his capacity for self-criticism, association, and memory. Physiologists have noticed a striking similarity between these symptoms and those of a mountain climber who suffers from altitude sickness and the flyer at high altitudes who is not getting enough oxygen.

Twenty-three students, all but two of them non-drinkers, volunteered to serve as subjects for Dr. McFarland and Dr. Barach. They went without breakfast to the laboratory and there were treated to a big tumbler full of alcohol, orange juice, and oil of juniper. Control subjects had a similarly flavored drink without the alcohol. Unfortunately, they were not always fooled. They missed the "kick."

Tests were made to determine the amount of alcohol and lactic acid in the blood, and psychologi-

BOOM TIME'S BEST TIME TO FIGHT 'NEXT' SLUMP

A burnt child fears the fire, according to the wisdom of the ancients, and it looks very much as if the American people have not in any way forgotten the scorching they took when the 1929 boom went up in smoke.

For an odd phenomenon is observable these days. The business indices show us to be approaching a new boom—and people everywhere are looking away beyond it and seeing another slump coming. They are approaching this new boom cautiously, keeping their figures crossed.

Going up is pleasant, and the view from the top is elegant, but when you slide down on the other side, the bump is something awful, and the people have not forgotten what happened the last time.

This must be the first time in our history that we have approached a boom with anything but unbounded hope in our hearts, and the sign is a good one. A good part of the history of the next generation will be written by the way in which we handle this coming boom.

If we treat it merely as something to be exploited, as a high, wide, and handsome period in which anything goes so long as it makes money, the dark story of the recent depression will begin all over again in a few years, and the things that happen in it will be apt to produce some disastrous consequences.

If, on the other hand, we can work out a way of making the boom truly productive—if we can remember that the problem of the last few years need solution just as badly when the stock market is going up as when the stock market is coming down, and act accordingly, we can help to insure the happiness of America for many years to come.

A depression is supposed to be a good time to make reforms, because during a depression the people are willing to experiment, whereas they tend to be opposed to change in time of prosperity.

But a depression creates an atmosphere of fear. It brings extremists and crackpots to the top, and they get a following they cannot command at any other time. Their excesses, in turn, make conservative folk feel that any concession to change is likely to lead to disaster.

It is different when times are good. The pressure to do something, anything at all so long as it is different, is not there. Men of opposing beliefs can meet calmly and discuss what needs to be done. There is time to take the long way.

For that reason, the coming boom is our opportunity. While we are enjoying prosperity, we can look ahead to the next slump and take steps to make our country as nearly slump-proof as a land may be in this uncertain world.

If we go into the boom with that determination constantly in mind, we need not be afraid of that long slide down the other side of the mountain.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher
WASHINGTON.—Many stout hearts in the American bar were practically broken when the U. S. Supreme Court acted in the utility holding company cases, trial of which the government wanted to delay pending a decision on a single case.

During the last few years, the New Deal and its legislation have proved a magnificent net ticket for lawyers. Thousands of suits have been filed against the government and tens of millions of dollars in fees collected for handling them.

But now the court has struck cruelly at this group which has professed the greatest veneration for the very justices who have now punched so many holes in the meal ticket as to leave available something comparable to the price of a couple of bowls of soup.

The effect is to save the government legal staff from being harassed by mass onslaughts of suits brought by the most talented and expensive attorneys in private practice. Heretofore corporations have been running the federal lawyers ragged and the government has been practically at the mercy of money.

But the supreme court has made new law and given the government a new weapon. If the next Congress passes another Guffey coal act, and a hundred suits are brought against it, the attorney general will be in position to ignore all but one or two, upon which he can concentrate toward building up the best possible case.

Eight justices have said in effect that the attorney general can take on America's biggest corporations and their lawyers one at a time instead of having to be "ganged up" on.

Justice Stone being ill and absent, this meant a unanimous decision, which surprised both friends and enemies of the holding company act, pleasing the former and discomfiting the latter.

It means that when the big test case on the act reaches the supreme court, government lawyers won't be compelled to feel that a certain number of justices already are lined up against them.

Background of the decision is a fight begun by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and his aides when about 50 widely scattered suits were filed against the act by holding companies and operating utility companies, with a promise of as many more to come. The government just hadn't enough lawyers, let alone good ones, to fight as many cases as that.

Cummings went personally into federal district court in Washington and asked a stay of several suits filed there until the government could get a supreme court decision on its main case—the suit against the huge Electric Bond & Share Company.

This was his answer to utilities officials, lawyers, and publicity men who had insisted that the government must get together with them and agree on four or five suits which would be fought out as test cases. (The alternative would be necessity of contesting a hundred suits.)

In the public utilities industry the obvious effect of the supreme court action narrowing the fee field for lawyers is to benefit consumers of electricity and gas as well as stockholders. Much the same applies to other corporations which apparently now will be restrained from pouring out money to contest federal laws.

The possible total sum of legal expenses incurred in contesting federal legislation of the last four years has been estimated—rather hazily, since no one knows—at more than $100,000,000, assuming all the cases were to be fought up to the supreme court.

THE GIRL HE LEFT BEHIND

WESTMINSTER ABBEY

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK — There is, it seems to me, material for an editorial in this note from Joe Penner. The editorial writers had much to say when Tex Guinan's jewels were auctioned off, and when Admiral Byrd's dog died.

Now it is Joe Penner's duck. "He has been a good friend and a competent performer," the comedian writes. "But now, I fear, he will have to lead a more sedentary life or his goose will be cooked."

What Penner means is that he desires to find a good home, preferably in the country, where Goo Goo may spend his declining years in peace and quiet.

The actor feels that nightlife in Hollywood is doing Goo Goo no good. "The old boy still has plenty of heart," he writes, "but the late hours and the unreal atmosphere have taken the edge off his quack."

So, because he realizes it is all for the best, Joe is willing to give up his old friend. There is, however, one condition that must be met before Joe will permit Goo Goo to pass from his keeping. Appreciative for the welfare of his faithful old ally, he wants to make certain that Goo Goo won't wind up as the piece de resistance at some banquet.

King Edward's Eatery
"I am," said the page with the white jacket, "a herald from King Edward."

"Here is His Majesty's card. King Edward is the undisputed monarch of 47th street and he bids you welcome to His Empire of Food."

"If circumstances chain you to your desk, King Edward has a horde of swift-footed pages who will bring your lunch to your office. But His Majesty would be happy if you would visit his domain in person, which is only a slight trek down the alley and a couple of hops around the first corner."

"Too, the royal credit is always extended to those who are momentarily financially embarrassed. A snack or a banquet makes no difference in this merry monarch. Charge what you like, as much as you like, whenever you like."

"Of course the boy smoked more than was good for him. Underneath all this swagger was still the little boy, frightened at his own temerity and bolstering up his nerve and occupying his over-conscious hands with cigarettes."

Sam was emerging from his cocoon. His mother didn't know it. She had her son among other boys and in other houses, she would scarcely recognize him as her own.

Sam's mother would have been wiser had she made no comment on his behavior. Away from his parents, Sam felt free. He could try out his manners, was proud of being accepted as a man among men and blossomed out accordingly.

The older men to whom he spoke with such assurance, far from feeling affronted by his attitude, were probably flattered by it, or else, remembering their own youth, touched and sympathetic.

Freddie Bartholomew plays the spoiled son of Melvyn Douglas, rescued at sea by the thing vessel, and there regenerated into a likely lad. And for this drama of regeneration two other actors—both veterans—came thousands of miles to Hollywood. They were the Spinney and a sister-ship, the Mariner, which once belonged to John Barrymore.

A year ago, while John Lee Mahon was preparing his script, Metro sent marine technician Jim Havens and marine cameraman Harold Marzolari to Massachusetts to buy the Spinney and sail her to Newfoundland Banks for shots of the fishing fleet. The Spinney sailed to the Banks, to Nova Scotia, back to Boston, Charleston, Norfolk, the Cuba Keys, through the Panama Canal to Los Angeles harbor.

The Spinney and the Mariner went up the western coast for further background shots, with weather always a problem. Fog deliberately sought proved elusive at times. Finally, for the racing sequence between the two schooners, they sailed north of Santa Barbara where the Spinney was wrecked for story purposes.

Meanwhile, on a Metro sound stage, the odor of codfish persisted for days after the sequences requiring the presence of thousands of them were completed. The actors smelled of fish, even after baths and changes.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY
An envelope placed on the mantelpiece caught her attention and she stepped across to it and found it was addressed to herself. Inside was a brief message. It ran:
" I may be a few minutes late—T. M."
(Copyright, 1936, Hugh Clevely)

Two girls meet, tomorrow, very strangely.

PAMPA OF YESTERYEAR

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
Investigation started of a fire that destroyed J. H. Casey's store at Phillips camp south of town. It was caused by explosion of gasoline thrown on the stove.

Of much interest was the bridge match in which Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culberson were gaining on Oswald Jacoby and Sidney Lenz in a test of rival systems.

Firemen entertained civic leaders at a Christmas party in the fire station, and displayed the toys they had mended for luckless children of the city.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY
Christmas music was presented by several groups—Trebble Glee club sang a cantata at Presbyterian church in the afternoon, and the choir at First Christian church presented another in the evening.

A change in the relief set-up here with Mrs. Cornelia Patton of Amarillo as district administrator and Mrs. W. H. Davis as her assistant, was announced to be effective Jan. 1.

Mrs. Charles Ochiltree had been made chairman of the community Christmas tree committee, for which donations were being received.

EDWARD SUFFERS FROM TORTURING EARACHE

ENZESFELD, Austria, Dec. 15. (AP)—The lonely Duke of Windsor called for sedatives today to ease the pain of torturing head and ear aches.

Baron Eugene de Rothschild, his host, sent a chauffeur post-haste to nearby Baden for medicine to relieve the former British king.

"The Duke of Windsor is indisposed and is still abed," a servant told questioners at the door of the chateau.

Detectives, police and estate guards maintained close watch on all entrances to prevent distractions which might increase the British prince's discomfort.

Inside, extensive remodeling of one suite was progressing. The dark walls were being re-decorated in yellow, blue and gold.

One attendant hinted the refurbishing might be in preparation for a prospective visit by Mrs. Wallis Simpson, for love of whom the duke relinquished his throne.

Production of Oil Reaches New High

The new mark was 16,082 barrels higher than the previous record of 3,087,885 barrels daily for the week ending Oct. 24.

Oklahoma showed a rise of 63,100 barrels daily to 592,200, East Texas was down 5,058 barrels to 444,947 and the total state of Texas showed an increase of 14,157 barrels daily to 1,196,692.

HOW'S your HEALTH

How's your health? The first indication on how to catch a cold is, "don't try too hard." There are so many colds around you will catch one easily and without much effort. On the other hand, if you are really ambitious, you can hasten the process in the following way:

Irritate the mucous membranes of your nose and throat. Excessive smoking, especially by lighting the next cigarette with the smouldering butt of the last, will achieve this promptly.

Dry-sweep your home or your workplace so as to raise clouds of dust. The more dust the atmosphere contains, the better. Keep the temperature of your place as much above 67 degrees F. as you can, and be sure that the air is really dry. This will help you catch a cold.

Get Good and Tired Avoid exercise. Stay up as late as you can, being sure to accumulate a good debt of fatigue. If you have things to worry about, stew over them good and plenty so as to do a first-class job.

Never mind dietetic prescriptions. Just eat what you like, when you like and how you like. Overeating and hasty eating are sure to help you catch a cold promptly. If you suffer constipation, just don't mind it or else use one of the well-known explosive cathartics which is sure to make an impression on your gastrointestinal tract.

Laugh At Weather Never mind the weather. Dress according to taste and not the thermometer. Particularly eschew warm socks or stockings, raincoats, adequate overcoats and umbrellas. In this way you will be sure to be caught in a sudden cold spell or in a rain, wearing insufficient clothing, and that will certainly help you catch cold. Chilling your feet and ankles and chilling your head and neck is quite likely to cause you to sneeze promptly, and that is usually a good sign that you have succeeded in catching a cold.

Be a sympathetic soul and search out all those whom you know to be suffering from colds. Encourage them to talk loudly and to laugh and notice how the air begins to be filled with sputum droplets. If you stay long enough and close enough to these persons you will be sure to absorb some of their contagion and your quest for a cold will be achieved.

Mingle With Crowds If you want further help in this direction, kiss them, use their eating or drinking utensils, shake hands with them frequently and cordially, and then don't wash your hands before eating. If you have no immediate friends who have colds for you to catch, just mingle with crowds wherever you can find them. The larger the crowd, and the lighter the pack, the better are your chances for finding a cold.

By doing all these things and not the contrary, you can have the certain assurance that you will get more than your common share of all the colds that are about.

She could scarcely tell him all this in public, but as soon as she got the boy home she gave him a detailed catalogue of his faults, so spoiling an evening which Sam had found delightful.

It is hard for mothers to see their little boys as grown men. Often a boy is actually seen back and kept awkward and shy by his mother's attitude. If this same mother could use her son among other boys and in other houses, she would scarcely recognize him as her own.

Sam's mother would have been wiser had she made no comment on his behavior. Away from his parents, Sam felt free. He could try out his manners, was proud of being accepted as a man among men and blossomed out accordingly.

Freddie Bartholomew plays the spoiled son of Melvyn Douglas, rescued at sea by the thing vessel, and there regenerated into a likely lad. And for this drama of regeneration two other actors—both veterans—came thousands of miles to Hollywood. They were the Spinney and a sister-ship, the Mariner, which once belonged to John Barrymore.

A year ago, while John Lee Mahon was preparing his script, Metro sent marine technician Jim Havens and marine cameraman Harold Marzolari to Massachusetts to buy the Spinney and sail her to Newfoundland Banks for shots of the fishing fleet. The Spinney sailed to the Banks, to Nova Scotia, back to Boston, Charleston, Norfolk, the Cuba Keys, through the Panama Canal to Los Angeles harbor.

The Spinney and the Mariner went up the western coast for further background shots, with weather always a problem. Fog deliberately sought proved elusive at times. Finally, for the racing sequence between the two schooners, they sailed north of Santa Barbara where the Spinney was wrecked for story purposes.

Meanwhile, on a Metro sound stage, the odor of codfish persisted for days after the sequences requiring the presence of thousands of them were completed. The actors smelled of fish, even after baths and changes.

VOL. 6 FACTS AND FANCIES OF P. H. S. PAMPA, TEXAS, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1936 EDITED BY STUDENTS OF JOURNALISM NO. 14

OUR FUTURE HARVESTERS

It is Guerrillas and not "Gorillas", Pampa's second rating athletic team is not composed of apes, the lowest form of man as it meant by guerrilla, but they are the Guerrillas, an individual band carrying on individual warfare. (Look it up for yourself.)

It was discovered last week in a 1929 Harvester annual that the real meaning of the name of the Guerrillas had been changed through some mistake of spelling in 1930. Since that time no one has apparently observed the difference. Perhaps you have noticed that the NEWS is now using the correct form of the name.

The Little Harvester staff has another campaign to make for the Guerrillas while on the subject, even though it is a little belated. Do you realize that the Junior High Reapers, Pampa's third-ranked football team, rates more than the Guerrillas, who are the material that is advanced to the Harvesters, the number one team?

Every game that the Reapers played this last year they strutted their stuff in new uniforms and new equipment and what is more, they had a snappy pep squad and band behind them. In comparison the Guerrillas had to wear the old uniforms the Harvesters have discarded for the last two years. No glamour is added to their touch-downs by cheers from a pep squad and the band playing "Hall, Hall."

Instead the boys seem to acquire an "I don't care" attitude, and they become as listless as their football looks. Some skip practice, and others quit because they tire of not having an audience to play to.

To you it may seem a small thing to wear old equipment and to not have a crowd on hand to cheer for your good plays, but this is enough to discourage any boy, especially when he is training himself for service to his school the following year. It runs the morale of any team.

Something should be done to give these boys more encouragement, not only because they deserve it, but the future of the Harvesters depends a great deal on what kind of teams the Guerrillas produce.

No definite schedule has yet been worked out for the Guerrillas as yet.

Dennard Speaks To Rotary Club

E. N. Dennard, assistant principal of the high school, made a talk last Wednesday to the Rotary club on the subject of "Vocational Guidance and What the Rotary Club Can Do To-ward Helping the Young People of Pampa."

Mr. Dennard emphasized the fact that something needs to be done to help take care of the leisure time of youth, showing how a well-planned and organized recreational program could be tied in with vocational guidance.

A recreational center would do much to solve the problem, he said. Boy and Girl Scouts and various youth organizations could meet there, and varied recreational activities could be carried on by all the young people of the city. A library in connection with certain books and magazines on vocational guidance.

ETIQUETTE

(Editor's Note: In an effort to aid students in meeting everyday problems, The Little Harvester plans to publish each week a short, practical lesson in etiquette.)

Introductions are among the most common pitfalls of etiquette that an ordinary person encounters. Many boys and girls do not know exactly how to make introductions.

First of all it should be remembered that a boy is always presented to a girl, thus giving the lady the privilege to treat the introduction as she wishes. Decency demands that she at least courteously acknowledge the introduction; whatever more she may wish to make of the acquaintance depends upon the degree of cordiality and interest shown in what she says afterwards.

It means that the girl's name is called first, as "Miss Jones, may I present Mr. Brown?" To this she replies, "How do you do?" and usually adds some other friendly remark. It is the duty of the person making the introduction to try to meet the two feet case by giving some hint as to who they are and what they are interested in. (This subject will be taken up another week.)

In making introductions, such expressions as "Miss Jones, meet Mr. Brown" and "I want to make you acquainted with Mr. Brown" are in very bad taste.

On the same principle as when introducing a boy and a girl, courtesy demands that young people always be presented to older people. Thus, when introducing a friend to your father, mother, or any other person, one should always say the older person's name first.

If an introduction of a noted person and some one else is made, the celebrity's name is called first. In case of two older people of equal rank, the name may be named in the same sex, but courtesy requires in case of a man and a woman, that the woman's name come first.

Pep Squad Girls Now in Glee Club

Since Thanksgiving more than 200 girls have been practicing daily on Christmas carols, which will be heard next Tuesday in the White Gift service at assembly hour.

The pep squad and the small glee club which met at the second hour have been combined for the remainder of the semester, meeting the sixth hour. Those girls who stay in the glee club during the second semester will receive 1-2 credit in music. A girl may receive a whole unit of credit for two years' work in the glee club.

Miss Helen Martin is directing the music. Mrs. E. L. Norman and Miss Angela Strnad are co-sponsors. Pauline Stewart is pianist.

LOAN FUND IS REALLY HELPING STUDENTS TO STAY IN SCHOOL

"To help provide for high school boys and girls those things necessary for school attendance is the aim of the Student Loan Fund," says Mrs. G. H. Alexander, who is in charge of the loan fund.

"Our aims and ideals should be understood by the public and especially by the student body," she added. "That is to make needy pupils comfortable so that they may be able to take advantage of school life to the fullest extent. We do not want any pupils excluded from any activity sponsored by the school."

Other members of the Student Loan Fund committee are Miss Alice Short and Miss Carine Brannon.

Money from the loan fund has provided food, shelter, clothing, school supplies, glasses, etc., for many students since its establishment last year. At present students are being given an opportunity to work for the school for 25 cents per hour to enable them to stay in school. About 35 boys and girls made application last week to work to earn at least $2.

During the school term of 1935-36 a total of $250 was raised for the Student Loan fund. Since October about $110 has been raised through the sale of apples in the halls at school and on the streets at various intervals. An unsolicited donation of $50 was received recently from a local organization interested in helping boys and girls stay in school.

"The loan fund is not asking or giving charity," Mrs. Alexander emphasized. "We are giving people their money's worth for apples sold. Those who have received money from the fund have either borrowed it or are working it out. We are not offering charity or second hand clothes to any boy or girl but a chance to earn what they get."

The following are typical examples of the accomplishments of the loan fund. One boy borrowed close to $50 at various times. This aided in providing food, clothing, and school supplies. Most of this has been returned.

Glasses were bought by one borrower. Thirteen seniors who could not otherwise have gone were lent money for the Carlsbad cavern trip last spring. Most of this has been returned.

Two weeks room and board were provided for a homeless girl until she found work. Two girls bought pep squad suits with money morrowed from the loan fund.

N. Y. A. students have depended on loans from this fund to tide them over till their checks arrived. This year we have 24 students doing N. Y. A. work, as compared with 10 last year, since the Panhandle is in the drought area. A group of band boys took advantage of the loan fund to borrow money to aid them in making their trip to the Centennial with the band.

Annual Staff Begins Intensive Sales Campaign

This week has been designated annual week. It started with class meetings yesterday morning when class officers and representatives of the annual staff urged members of the class to buy their yearbooks now.

The goal is 300 books sold before the holidays. Fewer than 100 have been sold to date. The 1937 annual will be bigger and better than last year's. How much better depends on the number of annuals sold and the amount of money raised from other sources such as the carnival.

Letters are being sent to all parents of high school students urging them to assist their boy or girl in securing an annual, which will be a permanent record of school days.

A deposit of $1 will reserve an annual now. The remaining $1 can be paid any time before April 1. A representative of the annual staff will be in the hall each day this week to receive small deposits from students who wish to pay their $1 in installments.

Round-Up of Books Proves Amusing And Helpful

It was round-up time in high school last Wednesday. A new way of gathering strayed and lost articles was introduced. Students were required to take all their possessions from their lockers, leaving everything that did not belong to them.

Books, rulers, notebooks, tennis shoes, mirrors, combs, hats, coats, purses, gloves, gym suits, tennis rackets, lunch boxes, paper carriers' bags, pencils, pens, ink, bottles and numerous other articles filled to overflowing the arms of students bound for second period classes. All lockers were cleared and inspected during that time.

Throughout the day a complete check-up was made on all textbooks, whether state-owned or personal property.

The round-up was apparently satisfactory to all concerned. Numerous lost or strayed books and other articles were returned to owners, textbook number mix-ups were straightened out, and misplaced library books were recovered.

Classroom materials, such as books, papers, and supplies, were also checked and returned to their proper places.

The round-up was a success in that it helped to reduce the amount of lost and misplaced property in the school.

YOUTHS' VIEWS ARE EXPLAINED

Students Take Lead In Discussion At P-TA

In order to understand the problems of the high school students better, the P-T-A. prepared these questions which were discussed in panel style by seven students before that association last Wednesday. The students were asked to give their honest opinions.

The following questions were asked by Mrs. F. M. Culbertson: What do you think about the provision made in Pampa for recreation for youth? What kind of entertainment is provided for our young people? What do you think of our high school students attending our local night clubs and dance halls? Would you like for Pampa to have a recreation hall for young people? How would such a center be sponsored and financed?

What do high school students think about the liquor situation in Pampa? Is liquor a serious temptation to Pampa youth? If so, why is it a temptation? How should liquor be controlled in Pampa? What do you think about "cribbing" in high school? Why do students cheat in their work? Are teachers in any way to blame? How could it be prevented?

What do you think about "souvenir collecting"? Why do students do it? Is it a form of dishonesty? How could it be stopped? Other questions intended for discussion had time permitted follow. They were discussed in Ernest Caba's sociology classes.

What is your opinion about high school marriages? Are they successful? Why, or why not? If it is a bad situation, what could be done about it? Are high school students interested in important current affairs? What could be done to encourage scholarship in high school? What improvements could be made in high school that would benefit the students?

Students who took part in the discussion were Hazel Bath, Etta Marie Choate, Dorothy Jane Day, Byron Dodson, Mickey Ledrick, Rex Rose, and Beulah Southard.

Two songs were sung by the following girls from the glee club under the direction of Miss Helen Martin: Mary Helen Gilstrap, Virginia Nelson, Lois Enloe, Virginia Simmons, Petesie Cason, Hazel Marie Mounts, Altha Mae Duren, and Iva Tubbs.

Congratulation

Congratulations, Sandies, on your successful march toward the state championship. We wish you just as great success next Saturday against North Side, Ft. Worth. Many Pampa students and fans will be in Amarillo to see that game. We were glad Bill Kilman was proved eligible. We're backing you for a third consecutive state championship!

F.R.A. and Hi-Y Have Joint Meeting

The Hi-Y and F. F. A. clubs met last Thursday evening at 7:30 in the high school gym for the purpose of playing basketball. Although the boys on both teams are out of practice, they played a fast and furious game which ended with a score of 32-21 in favor of the F. F. A.

This joint meeting of the two clubs was to create more interest and enthusiasm which is needed to increase the membership.

Pampa schools will be dismissed for the Christmas holidays next Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 22, at the usual closing hour. Classes will be resumed the morning of Jan. 4.

This semester will end Jan. 15. A spring vacation is planned for March 26 through March 29. School will close May 25.

Pauline Stewart was the accompanist.

WHITE GIFT SERVICE PLANNED FOR ASSEMBLY NEXT WEEK; PRESENTS WILL GO TO NEEDY

Volley Ball Girls Play White Deer

The volley ball girls played their first practice matches of the season last Thursday afternoon when about 30 girls went to White Deer. The White Deer girls were winners. A return match will be played in Pampa tomorrow evening preceding the boys' basketball game. The game is called for 6:30 o'clock.

Miss Kathleen Milam, coach, and the following girls made the trip to White Deer: Mildred McPherson, Ruby McPherson, Geraldine Mitchell, Elvira Stone, Wanda Lee Dullap, Mary Houston, Doris Gee, Martha Ann Martin, Bessie Grace, Bernice Adcock; Dorothy Nell Dean, Margie Lee Leslie, Betty Blythe, Lou Dean, Luttrell, Janette Hale, Frances Nash, Lilian Mae Redman, Ethel Wilder, Mildred Pearce, Ruby Eldridge, Esther Franks, Fondell Smith, Joyce Mills, Erma Kinchloe, Jean Dotson, Sarah Pafford, Edith Melton, Jean Edelen, and Jo Edelen.

Everybody happy! We-e-e-ll, not exactly. What with all this taxing of our brains trying to figure up enough pages to constitute one of those term themes, we wonder what the teachers will think up next for us to do.

We practically have to haunt the library hunting up material for seemingly endless pages on hobbies, occupations, presidents, and this and that. We have a hard time deciding which uninteresting title for our theme is the most interesting—and the easiest to find material on.

After acquiring all necessary material, we sit up till the wee hours of the night to finish our masterpiece. We then hand in what we think is the best paper we have ever written. A few days later we receive our theme back, and what do you suppose we made?—the usual C.

The Little Harvester wishes to correct an error made in the last issue in the editorial "What Is Your Future?" Two lines were omitted, thereby changing the thought of the article.

The following discussion of what the women's clubs were doing for girls along the line of vocational guidance, the passage should have read: As yet very little has been done for boys. One constructive piece of work is being done for both boys and girls in Mrs. Hol Wagner's senior English classes, where students are doing research work for term themes on vocations in which they are interested.

Christmas Pageant And Cards on Program

A White Gift Service will be sponsored by the Student Loan Fund again this year for the school's Christmas assembly next Tuesday. All high school students may participate by bringing gifts of food (canned, preserved, etc.), nuts, fruit, clothing, or toys, wrapped in white. These will later be distributed to those in actual need.

The program will be as follows: Processional, "O Come All Ye Faithful"—Glee Club. Invocation—Rev. Joseph Wonderly. Violin selections. Pageant. Benediction.

A place will be provided in the hall where students may leave their gifts. The committee requests that gifts be wrapped so that they can be untied, since it will be necessary to know what is in each package in order that it can be given to someone needing that article.

"The purpose of the program is to give high school students a chance to participate in actual Christmas by giving to those about us in need, to instill within each heart a feeling of the real Christmas, to make us all wake up to the fact that at Yuletide the mere exchange of gifts is not enough," says Mrs. G. H. Alexander, who is in charge. She is being assisted by Mrs. Alice Short, Miss Clarine Brannon, and the glee club.

It is hoped to make both the White Gift Service at Christmas and the Easter program traditional in Pampa High school.

HARVESTER BASKETBALL TEAM WILL PLAY WHITE DEER QUINTET TONIGHT

PAMPA BEATS McLEAN TEAM IN OVERTIME

FIRST STRING TAKES GAME BY ONE POINT

After opening the season last night in McLean with an overtime victory over the McLean Tigers, 29 to 28, the Harvester basketball team will begin its home stand tonight against the White Deer Bucks. Game time will be 7:30 o'clock and will follow a volleyball game between the Pampa and White Deer girls at 6:30. Admission to both games will be 10 and 25 cents.

Coach Gene McCollum and his quintet will come to Pampa with three weeks of play in the bag, facing a Harvester team that has practiced one week and played one game. The Mitchellmen, however, showed flashes of promise in noosing out the Tigers of Coach Bill Allen.

Albert Ayer, only letterman available from last year's district champions, led the Harvester scoring parade with 12 points before he left the game on personal fouls. James Dewey, newcomer to the team, followed Ayer in scoring with eight points.

Handling of the ball was good for the first game of the season. Many will pass and some missed crisp shots dropped up during the game but that was to be expected considering the length of time practice has been under way.

Coach Mitchell started Enloe and Dewey at the forward positions, Cox at center, and Ayer and Kilgore at guard. Reynolds relieved Cox and Heiskell and McKay went in at forward positions.

The score was tied at 12 to 12 at the half and at 25 to 26 at the final whistle. Each team scored a field goal but the Harvesters added the extra point to win in the overtime.

Floyd and Terrell paced the McLean scorers with seven points each, closely followed by Heil with one less. The Tigers passed the ball well and took no chances with wild heaves. Coach Allen showed a mighty promising quintet.

In a preliminary game, the Harvester second string swamped the Tiger seconds, 47 to 12. McDonald forward, was high point scorer on the floor with 15 to his credit followed by Reynolds, center, with five field goals.

Trimble and Wilkerson scored four points each for McLean.

Harvesters in action in the thrilling overtime encounter were: Dewey 8, Enloe 0, Cox 1, Ayer 12, Kilgore 2, Reynolds 2, C. Heiskell 3, McKay 1.

McLean players were: Floyd 7, Dwight 4, Terrell 7, Bogan 4, Heil 6, Humphrey 0, Overton 0, Trimble 0.

Second string players were: Pampa — McDonald, C. Heiskell, Reynolds, Dull, Maxey, Coshow, McKay.

McLean — Trimble, Patrick, Coffee, Wilkerson, Heis.

CHRISTIANS ACCEPT BID TO COTTON BOWL

DALLAS, Dec. 15 (AP)—Approval by the Southwest conference was the only barrier today in the way of a Cotton Bowl football game between Texas Christian and Marquette here New Year's Day.

The Christians accepted a bid yesterday and Marquette previously had agreed to play.

Dr. E. W. McDiarmid, president of the conference, asked Dr. J. T. McCants of Rice to poll representatives of other schools on whether Texas Christian would be given permission. Approval was expected today.

Under terms offered by J. Curtis Sanford, Tyler oil man and promoter of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, Texas Christian would receive $10,000 and Marquette $6,000. Sanford said he would post the guarantee today. He predicted a crowd of 20,000.

The Christians were due home tomorrow from San Francisco, where Saturday they defeated Santa Clara, the last remaining major untied and undefeated team in the nation.

Marquette's record was unblemished until it met Duquesne in its last game. Texas Christian finished second in the Southwest loop. Sanford hoped to make the Cotton Bowl game an annual affair.

DALLAS, Dec. 15 (AP)—Only five losses in seven years... That's the dope on Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm, now swirling toward its third consecutive schoolboy title... The 1930, '31 and '32 seasons were practically failures—the Sandies lost one game in each of those "lean" years... Fans began to believe in them again when they swept through the 1923 and '24 seasons without a loss.

A similar case is "Red" Forehand, successful Temple coach, who likewise went through Baylor without benefit of a football numeral.

A. W. Tillinghast, renowned golf course architect, said on a recent visit to Dallas: "The greatest fault we have to find with golf courses over the country is that they are laid out wrong... They penalize the club, who is never a serious factor in never donned a football uniform... This is all wrong... The experts are the ones who should be penalized, not the clubs." Tillinghast lauded John Bredemus, Texan, as one of the world's finest golf architects... VIRGINIA LIFTS BARS ON HIRING ATHLETES

LYNCHBURG, Va., Dec. 15 (AP)—The University of Virginia lifted the bars today on alumni recruiting of athletes and outside financial assistance to those who meet the Institution's scholastic requirements.

Captain Norton Pritchett, athletic director, said that to promote "honesty in athletics," it would make a difference to the University if a boy is sent there primarily or solely for his athletic ability, so long as he can meet standards now being drafted by the school.

The University withdrew from the southern conference last Friday because of regulations which the school said bred "suspicion, distrust and mutual recriminations."

A statement by Captain Pritchett said the University proposes to place all students on an equal status and treat them accordingly.

CHAMP TEAM GIVEN BANQUET AT PANHANDLE

DR. HICKS AND HARRY HOARE SPEAK AT DINNER

By Staff Correspondent
PANHANDLE, Dec. 15 — Dr. H. K. Hicks of Pampa was principal speaker when mothers of the Panhandle Panthers, region 1 football champions, banqueted their sons, fathers, school officials and coaches and a few fans last night. Turkey with all the trimmings vanished like all foes faced the Panthers during the 1936 season.

Place cards in the form of a scoreboard told the story of the Panhandle season of no defeats and no ties in 12 games. They revealed that the Panthers had scored 398 points while holding their opponents to 26 and that 180 first downs had been registered to 40 for opposing elevens.

The banquet room in the high school was decorated in the Panther colors of purple and gold. On the tables, besides the place cards, were slipings of "writups" given the Panthers in the Pampa Daily NEWS, all pasted on gold cardboard with back rests.

Supt. Bob Vaughn presided and after introducing members of the squad, Connie Sparks, captain of the champions, paid tribute to parents of the players, school officials and fans who backed the team to the limit. He then presented Coach Pat Gerald and Winford "Lefty" Fowler with gifts from the boys on the squad.

Coaches Gerald and Fowler spoke feelingly of their great love and the loss to them and the rest of the squad of all seven linemen and Connie Sparks from the backfield. They predicted, however, that the Panthers of 1937 would be an up and coming bunch of fighters.

Wit featured Dr. Hicks' address during which he spoke of the excellent record of the team and of what it takes to make a football team as great as the 1936 Panthers.

"In talks here tonight I have heard credit given where credit was due—to the parents and the linemen," Dr. Hicks said. "Your clean type of play proves that you have been brought up right in your homes and also that your coaches have taught you that it takes eleven men to play a game of football."

Several fathers and fans and Harry E. Hoare of the Pampa Daily NEWS were other speakers on the program.

SANTA CLARA CLAIMS BRONCHOS WERE 'OFF'

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Dec. 15 (AP)—The Santa Clara Bronchos, whose unbeaten record was knocked silly by Texas Christian, resumed workouts today for their New Year's Day game with Louisiana State in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl.

Coach Lawrence "Buck" Shaw indicated the chastened Bronchos would spend most of the time on blocking before they entrain Dec. 26 for New Orleans.

"It was off color in the Texas Christian game," said Shaw, "and we'll have to be at our very best to stand a chance against L. S. U." Coach Shaw will start his regular lineup in the Sugar Bowl game, which holds almost as much national-wide interest as the traditional Rose Bowl contest at Pasadena, Calif.

He credited Sammy Baugh's kicking with doing more to beat the Bronchos than his passing.

COLUMBO CONSPIRACY OF MERCY CONTINUES

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 15 (AP)—A conspiracy of mercy endured today, shielding the blind mother of Russ Columbo, screen and radio crooner, from all word of his death 27 months ago.

Mrs. Julia Columbo, who built bright dreams for her handsome son in her darkened world, believes him still alive.

Saturday night she observed her fiftieth wedding anniversary with her husband, Nicholas, a gay celebration at the Columbo home.

She was "very happy," she said, even though Russ, busy singing in the east, could not be there. Friends nodded and spoke of his success.

Not since Columbo was killed in a shooting accident in Hollywood, Sept. 3, 1934, while his mother lay critically ill in a hospital, has she received any hint of the tragedy. Physicians said the shock might be fatal.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

NEW YORK — Policeman Victor Slater said he was certain either Martin Berger or Harvey Berger, twin brothers, stole an automobile, but in the cold light of a police station he couldn't tell them apart.

So the puzzled policeman charged them both with grand larceny. The brothers indicated they didn't think the charge would stick.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

BLAME.

Ever since President Roosevelt expressed his "hot money" fears on foreign interest in our security markets, other administration officials have issued warnings concerning a possible stock market boom. The New York Stock Exchange knows what is behind this administration movement. To them it means that the administration knows a boom is in the making and that the administration knows what happens after booms. To them it appears as if the administration is laying the foundation to place the blame for the inevitable collapse upon the shoulders of brokers and bankers.

To combat this move the New York Stock Exchange is forming a committee to join the administration in warning against a market boom. A leading public figure is to be named chairman of that committee. As yet no man has been selected. But proof that bankers and brokers are already on the firing line with the administration is the statement of Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the Chase National Bank. He urged higher banking reserve requirements.

In playing the game wisely bankers and brokers are throwing back upon the administration the blame for a runaway stock market which—these men say—is the doings of the administration itself.

CONFIRMED.

Several weeks back your correspondent authentically disclosed that Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad would pay a substantial dividend in December. It was also disclosed that both Great Northern and Northern Pacific would benefit from the payment.

Here's what happened. Last week Burlington directors declared a $4 dividend on the capital stock. Northern Pacific and Great Northern each own $830,179 shares. To each road it means a revenue of $3,320,718 which is equal to $1.34 per capital share of each road.

Professional traders are getting nervous about Congress going into session. It is feared that the capital gains tax will be lowered. If that is so these traders expect activity to increase on the selling side. Lower taxation on capital gains—it is feared—will start a rush of shareholders in accepting paper profits accumulated over the past 24 month bull market.

MYSTERY.

The sudden but sharp advance in market price of the Houston Oil shares is a puzzle to experienced traders. On the New York Stock Exchange the common is priced at a fraction over $11. On the Baltimore Stock Exchange the preferred is quoted at a fraction over $19. There are $7.75 per share in accumulated dividends on the preferred. This places both issues at about the same price levels. As if and when earnings come in the preferred gets priority over the common. And thus the move is unexplained. Perhaps say Wall Streeters—the Securities Exchange Commission will soon have something to say about it.

SOLVED.

Last week your correspondent disclosed that there was mystery surrounding the strength in United States Rubber shares. It was also disclosed that the dividend talk was unfounded. After investigating the share activity the reason was discovered. The buying was traced to those close to the management. What's it all about? The company is said to obtain about 25 per cent of its crude requirements from its own plantations.

Since crude purchases account for about 12 per cent of the average tire company's operating costs it shows how overhead has been reduced. The tire trade discloses that it is cheaper to grow crude rubber than purchase in the open market.

MERRY.

Toy sales will be the largest revenue maker for F. W. Woolworth this year. When the organization's price limit was set, holiday sales of the toy section were rather small. But with the price limit now up to $1 items toys are going like a house on fire.

Dolls are the largest selling features in addition to large-sized mechanical automobiles. An insider said that if the volume continues the increased toy sales will make a merry Christmas in earnings for Woolworth stockholders.

EAST TEXAS FLOOD CONTROL PROGRAM BECOMES PRESSING

By DAVID A. CHEAVENS JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 15 (AP)— Nearly four feet of water falls annually on east Texas. One-third of it is consumed by evaporation and one-sixth by plant life. The other half flows into the Gulf of Mexico.

What to do with this one-half, which becomes a potentially destructive force from the moment it strikes the ground, is the problem which faces the Sabine Neches conservation district, which proposes to control flood waters that affect nearly a million persons.

The major purposes of the Sabine-Neches district program are reclamation, flood control, soil conservation and preservation of the waters of the Sabine and Neches rivers and their tributaries. The district encompasses some of the state's greatest wealth: assessed valuations in the area are, according to C. K. Debusk, managing director of the district, $511,803,242. The area produced 172,704,445 barrels of oil in 1935 and the value of farm products was estimated at $101,702,485 in 1929 plus $38,806,824 in livestock the year following.

"Fifty years is a conservative estimate of the time in which the soils of East Texas have been subject to intensive cultivation," said Debusk in discussing the conservation angle of the program.

"Yet, in this brief span of years, we are told that approximately 35 per cent of our once-fertile land has reached an advanced stage of erosion and that approximately 50 per cent is on the very verge. It is about this 50 per cent that we are most concerned just now and it is an obligation and duty to take some drastic steps immediately to save it.

"We must retire eroded and sub-marginal lands and develop them as pastures and income producing woodland areas. This we can do in part by reclaiming our rich valleys by channel rectification and drainage. We must establish the best known methods of conservation on the remaining fertile uplands.

"The loss in this 50 per cent of the water which sweeps into the gulf is staggering, but the millions of tons of rich top soil which it carries with it is even more appalling. This water should be retained in the soil and turned to other valuable and beneficial uses. The control and conservation of surface water through reservoirs, terraces, contour cultivation and other methods will aid. Through impounding, an ever-abundant supply will be maintained for domestic and industrial uses and provide a dependable source and supply for the rice growers in the lower sections of the district and in the interior in seasons of less rainfall."

To accomplish these purposes, plus an incidental production of power and an important control of malaria, the project has obtained six work units at strategic points in the watershed. The entire plan is still in its early stages, but it has been projected from the outset on the basis of covering an entire watershed, and preliminary surveys are well under way. A more comprehensive survey is sought, and a loan and grant totalling $20,000,000 has been applied for from the Public Works administration.

ITALY DEFAULTS. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Italian government defaulted anew today on its war debt to the United States, informing this government it is unable to meet its $2,141,593 installment due on December 15. PLAINVIEW SEEKS STATION WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Communications commission announced today receipt of two applications for new broadcasting stations in Texas. Faith Broadcasting Co., Inc., Wichita Falls, asked authority to construct a one-kilowatt station to be operated on 1380 kilocycles, unlimited time. Frank N. Adcock, Plainview, asked permit for a 100-watt station to be operated on 1500 kilocycles, unlimited time.

40 HAVE INCOMES OF MORE THAN $1,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—One person in the United States had more than $4,000,000 income last year, the treasury reported today, and 40 others had more than $1,000,000.

In a preliminary report on 1935 income tax returns filed up to August 31, the treasury said an aggregate net income of $14,656,079,000 was shown, $1,860,000,000 over 1934 but $10,150,000,000 under 1929.

A total of 4,473,426 returns was filed for last year, but only 2,067,736 were taxable. About 89 per cent or 3,992,000 reported net incomes of $5,000 or less.

The 41 incomes of $1,000,000 or more compared with 33 in 1934, 50 in 1933 and 513 in 1929. Treasury statistics showed that million-dollar incomes increased steadily from 21 in 1921 to the 1929 peak and then slid to 20 in 1932.

Of these incomes last year, 23 were between one and one and a half million dollars, eight between one and a half and two million, two between two and three million, seven between three and four million, and one between four and five million. The names were not disclosed.

The seven between three and four million compared with only one in that classification in 1934. On total net income of $73,630,000, the millionaire group paid taxes of $41,499,000 last year. This compared with $57,775,000 net income in 1934 for the 33, who paid taxes of $32,311,000. The final 1934 figures were made public yesterday.

QUEEN MARY IS LIKELY TO BE EMPIRE'S SHADOW QUEEN AGAIN

(Roger D. Greene, former member of the London staff of the Associated Press and now in its New York office, has written another story of Great Britain's royal family, explaining Queen Mary's place in the new set-up.)

By ROGER D. GREENE NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—At sixty-nine, Queen Mary today finds herself restored suddenly to great "behind-the-scenes" influence in shaping the new era of empire.

During Edward's reign, deeply shocked by the death of her monarch-husband, George V, last January, the stately queen went into retirement. Edward ruled alone. He seldom consulted her. Strong-willed, trained from boyhood to the job of sovereignty, he needed no emeritus guidance.

But the "one man revolution" conducted by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, which swept Edward from the throne when he chose the love of Wallis Simpson instead of the crown of empire, has changed all that.

Now, with the shy, self-effacing "Bertie" on the throne as George the sixth, the new Queen Elizabeth—the former "smiling Duchess" of York—more famed for her smile and her motherhood than for knowledge of statecraft, it is likely Queen Mary may assume once more the role of "shadow empress."

Historical commentators are agreed that Queen Mary exerted a powerful influence over the philatelic George V. Some maintain George loved his stamp albums more than affairs of state, and that through their long married life he never made any important decision without first consulting Queen Mary.

Q. How long after the abandonment of East Texas missions in 1693 was it before other missions were established there? B. M.

A. On July 3, 1716, Spaniards, under leadership of Capt. Domingo Ramon and Father Hidalgo, guided by St. Dennis, located the second San Francisco de Los Tejas mission on a spot chosen by the Indians about ten miles from the site of the first mission of that name. This was followed by establishment of Conception, San Joseph, Guadalupe, Dolores and San Miguel at favorable East Texas sites, with military headquarters for the group about one league west of Conception.

Q. Where was Mission de Valero located and for what special purpose? B. M.

A. At Bexar, in 1718, to provide a halfway station between Mexico and the East Texas missions.

Q. Is there any ground for the tradition that St. Dennis laid out the Camino de Real or San Antonio trail? H. C.

A. It is probable that it was the route traveled in the main by expeditions of both Indians and Spaniards between the Rio Grande and the Natchitoches-Nacogdoches section, but for special purpose Denis was the first to use and mark it.

Q. Who was the first minister from the Republic of Texas to the United States? K. K. G.

A. William H. Wharton, appointed by President Sam Houston under an act passed in 1836.

Q. By what other name was Sulphur Springs once known? C. C. M.

A. Although first called Sulphur Springs because of the sulphur springs there, the postoffice, established in 1854, was called Bright Star, which name was retained until 1871, when it was changed to Sulphur Springs.

Texas Seeks to Collect Green's Inheritance Tax

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—The State of Texas today started a move in the Supreme Court to collect an inheritance tax from the huge estate left by Colonel Edward H. R. Green, son of the famous Hetty Green.

Attorney General William McCraw of Texas estimated the tax would be approximately $10,000,000, should the suit be successful.

Texas asked the Supreme Court for permission to file a bill of complaint against the states of New York, Massachusetts and Florida and against Hetty Green Wilks, sister of Green, and Mabel Harlow Green, the widow.

Colonel Green died in New York last June, leaving an estate estimated to be in excess of $80,000,000. In its complaint Texas set forth Colonel Green in 1892 abandoned domiciles in other states and took up residence in Dallas, Texas.

"Thereafter," said the petition, "he continuously maintained such domicile, until his death, and repeatedly, every year until his death, he reaffirmed his choice of Texas as his choice of permanent domicile . . . and declared every other state, including New York, Massachusetts and Florida, not to be his domicile."

Each of the other three states has claimed Green as a resident, and each has claimed Hetty Green Wilks and Mabel Harlow Green should pay a tax in order to inherit any of Colonel Green's property within the state's jurisdiction.

LUTCHER STARK FAVORS HIRING BIG-TIME COACH

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—H. J. Lutchter Stark of Orange, chairman of the University of Texas board of regents, said today he favored hiring a "big-time" football coach and paying him $15,000 a year. His statement, coupled with that ing the best known typical songs of Texas—songs of the state, of the Texas home, patriotic songs—songs every Texan should know and delight in singing. Twenty-eight of the best songs sung in Texas have been carefully selected by competent musicians, set to music, and published in a 32 page, 6 by 9, booklet on heavy coated paper with covers in colors.

of H. H. Welner of Seguin, chairman of the board's athletic committee, who recently expressed himself in favor of raising the present salary of $5,000 and $2,000 expenses, led observers to believe the school was in the market for one of the nation's top-flight coaches.

"Conditions generally warrant employment of the finest coaching setup we can get," Stark said. "Football pays well enough for us to get the best money can buy. I also favor out-and-out above board salaries and jobs for players."

"Whether or not the entire board will favor paying $15,000 a year for a coach I don't know. But the coach pays for himself many times over. I want to compliment Jack Chevigny for setting up the system we now have with a separate dormitory for the athletes. We ought to go on the same basis as Louisiana

State university which has done a great job in that direction." Questioned as to how he felt about Ted Twomey, first assistant to Chevigny, for head coach, Stark said: "If we want to hire Twomey, that's all right. But we have a rule that the head coach appoint his own assistants."
