Mail Train Robbers Get $3-Million in Loot

Jewels and Cash Taken By Bandits

CHEDDINGTON, England — A gang of 20 to 30 masked bandits swooped down on a Glasgow-to-London mail train in Wild West fashion today and escaped with loot estimated at almost $3 million in the largest train robbery in history.

The gang halted the train, overcame the engineer and fireman, uncoupled the engine and first two cars, and moved them a mile down the tracks. Then they quickly swept up 120 mail sacks and made their getaway in three army-style trucks and a passenger car.

So swiftly and smoothly did the gang work that about 75 post-office employees, all but four in the rear cars, were unaware of the robbery until it was over.

The incident took place near this Buckinghamshire town 40 miles north of London about 3:15 a.m. (10:15 p.m. EDT Wednesday) in a fashion as spectacular as any of the great train robberies pulled off in the days of the desperadoes of the American West.

Postmaster General J. R. Bevins this afternoon offered a 10,000-pound ($28,000) reward for information leading to the conviction of those responsible for the train robbery.

Although this was the largest, there have been a number of mail robberies in Britain in recent years. In 1961, four men were jailed for a total of 29 years for robbing the "Irish Mail" of $84,000. They were arrested after previously having staged a series of 14 successful train robberies in England's industrial midlands.

Obviously well-planned, the robbery went off with split-second precision. It was the first attack on an all-mail train, or traveling post office, in the 125 years of their history in Britain.

First, the robbers jumped the signalman on that section of the line and set the block signals at "danger," bringing the mail train to a halt three miles from Leighton Buzzard.

When the fireman, David Whitby, 26, climbed down from the cab of the diesel engine to investigate, he was attacked and overcame by two of the bandits.

The engineer, Jack Mills, 35, then was seized.

The robbers swiftly and expertly uncoupled the engine and first two mail cars, and forced Mills at gunpoint to drive them a mile down the track to where their compatriots were waiting.

Crowbars and Blackjacks
There, Whitby and Mills were handcuffed together. The bandits, their faces covered with silk stockings, were armed with crowbars and blackjacks. They quickly broke open the doors of the sealed mail cars and subdued the four postal employees working inside.

Then the gang grabbed the 120 sacks of mail, which were believed to include old bank notes on their way to being destroyed and diamonds destined for London jewel markets.

With the loot loaded aboard the trucks and the passenger car, the bandits scattered before the robbery was discovered by the engineer of another train passing in the opposite direction.

Police promptly threw up roadblocks over a wide area. Dozens of detectives and patrolmen checked the train and the robbery area for fingerprints or other clues. The engine and two looted mail cars remained at the scene, while the rest of the train was taken on to London.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis H&W. Adr.

Prayer Ban Upheld by N.Y. Ruling

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Dr. James E. Allen, Jr., state education commissioner, today directed school districts to refrain from daily religious exercises, "even to what is sometimes referred to as 'voluntary' action by pupils."

The directive reinforced Allen's already stated determination to abide by the U.S. Supreme Court decision on religious exercises in public schools.

At the same time, the commissioner urged the state's public schools to give renewed emphasis on teaching moral and spiritual values.

"Our young people need today as never before," Allen said, "to acquire the inner strength that comes from knowledge and understanding of these values."

Appeal By Parents

The ruling came on an appeal by parents of students in the Levittown Union Free School District No. 5 on Long Island.

The local Board of Education on Sept. 4, 1962 adopted a resolution that each school day begin with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag followed by "reading or recitation of an appropriate excerpt from the Bible... singing of the fourth stanza of 'America' or... an excerpt from the Declaration of Independence or other historical document significant to our national and spiritual heritage."

Allen said it was apparent that the Levittown board "deliberately set out to evade the constitutional prohibition against daily religious exercises in public schools" by providing a list of alternative exercises.

He said it was only the daily morning devotional exercises that the Supreme Court decisions and his own were concerned with.

Dismissed Appeal

Allen said he dismissed an appeal against use of the Pledge of Allegiance because the Supreme Court had not been called upon to decide its constitutionality. However, he said the New York Court of Appeals was presently considering whether the words "Under God" in the pledge were unconstitutional.

In June, 1962, the Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a prayer written by the state Board of Regents. Two months later Commissioner Allen ruled that a stanza of the "Star-Spangled Banner" — designated a prayer by a local district — also was unconstitutional.

WOULDN'T SEE THEM — Booker T. Bonner, left, holds a sign signifying that Gov. John Connally refused to see Bonner and several other persons at the Capitol in Austin, Tex. Bonner was told the appointment to see the Governor was for him alone. Bonner and some 35 Negro and white demonstrators picketed the governor's mansion as about 30 boys across the street booed them. Cold War Talks Resumed Today

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk wound up a sightseeing tour of Leningrad today and prepared to meet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for further talks on ways to ease the cold war.

Rusk was scheduled to fly to Moscow from Leningrad this afternoon, then proceed to Gagra on the Black Sea for an overnight stay as Khrushchev's guest. Foreign Secretary Lord Home began the talks with Gromyko Tuesday, the day after the three foreign ministers signed a partial nuclear test ban treaty and pledged it would be "only a beginning" to a settlement of East-West tensions.

The Soviet Union today arranged ceremonies for the signing of the treaty by other nations, expected to include the entire membership of the Soviet bloc. Other signings were taking place in London and Washington. Diplomats said Rusk's trip to Leningrad provided a convenient break in the talks so that the secretary could brief Washington fully on their first phase and receive instructions from President Kennedy for their second.

Khrushchev's five-point "peace package" was expected to be the central theme of the Black Sea talks, particularly the two points calling for an East-West non-aggression treaty and measures to prevent surprise attack.

U.S. sources said there are greater hopes for progress on the surprise attack measures than on the non-aggression pact. Khrushchev wants the pact to bind NATO and the Communist Warsaw treaty alliance.

But the West Germans fear the pact would mean recognition of Communist East Germany, and France opposes it on these and other grounds. Full NATO approval would be required before the pact could go into effect.

Three safes were found in the room. When officials of the First National Bank opened them today, they found rare coins, old stamps, and jewels that appraisers say may be worth $1 million.

A brother, W. B. (Jack) Ball, was located in San Antonio, Tex.

CUT OFF — Invading Haitian exiles "have cut off the northern department of Haiti" in their drive to overthrow President Francois Duvalier, a rebel headquarters spokesman said in Santo Domingo, D. R. Rebel reports indicated one force is pushing toward the western coastal city of Gonaives (1), while another was apparently encircling Cap-Haitien (2), Haiti's second largest city. The Haitian government has charged the invasion started in the Dominican Republic, with the border town of Qunaminthe (3) the first to fall. (NEA Telephoto)

Mrs. Kennedy Reported Resting Well and in Excellent Condition

By HELEN THOMAS

OTIS AFB, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy arrived at this base hospital to visit his wife Jacqueline following an earlier call this morning on his newborn son Patrick Bouvier Kennedy at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston.

Kennedy landed by helicopter not far from the hospital buildings at 10:49 a.m. EDT.

He drove a short distance to the hospital in an open car. Wearing a light gray suit and bareheaded, he looked somber faced as he entered the hospital. He seemed startled when a hospital maid, Anne Jackson of Buzzards Bay, rushed up to him as he walked toward the hospital steps. She shook his hand.

He smiled at her, however, and entered the hospital to see his wife who is doing beautifully and

Bonner Admits Theft Conviction

AUSTIN (UPI) — Self-styled integration leader Booker T. Bonner admitted today he has a federal court record in Houston for mail theft conviction.

Bonner, 35, has been leading integration pickets for two weeks protesting Gov. John Connally's opposition to civil rights issues involving proposed public accommodations laws.

The unemployed Negro waiter said he is the same Booker Thomas Bonner Jr. who pleaded guilty in Houston to charges of embezzling a letter from the mails on Feb. 7, 1945, and received a one-year federal sentence.

But Bonner pointed out that he was only 17 years old at the time and the prison term was suspended for three years. He was released from supervision of probation on March 21, 1946.

Bonner said he no longer is the spokesman for a group planning a mass demonstration Aug. 28 in Austin to support national civil rights legislation.

He said the activities had been taken over by several groups, but declined to name the groups.

No Permit for Wife, Either

CIRENCESTER, England (UPI) — Reginald Franklin, a milkman who used a milk truck to run away with the wife of another milkman, was fined $28 Wednesday for using a company vehicle without permission.

described as in excellent condition.

Kennedy was to give his wife a first hand report on their nearly one-day-old baby.

A press helicopter carrying a crew of reporters broke down and was unable to accompany Kennedy to the hospital. They were turned back to Boston.

Earlier, Mrs. Kennedy's doctor said she had a "very good night and is in good spirits."

Dr. John W. Walsh, 50-year-old prominent Washington physician who performed the Caesarean delivery of a day-old Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, said that the President's wife was "taking fluids nicely and her post-operative condition is good."

The 34-year-old First lady awakened early today. However, she has not yet been in touch with the President concerning their baby boy who is being treated for a lung complication at Children's Hospital medical center in Boston.

All Is Quiet

Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, spent the night at officer's quarters at the Otis base and called the hospital early today to find out how her famous daughter was getting along.

All was quiet around the asbestos shingled wing of the hospital where Mrs. Kennedy was quartered. Her personal secretary, Mrs. M. Gallagher of Alexandria, Va., who was with her when she was rushed to the Otis hospital for emergency delivery, was one of the first to reach the hospital today.

Dr. Walsh had spent the night in the VIP wing to keep an eye on Mrs. Kennedy.

The President was reported to have telephoned his wife twice during the night from Boston after seeing their new child in its special incubator at the Children's hospital. The second call was understood to have occurred at 12:30 a.m. EDT today.

The President assured Mrs. Kennedy that everything was all right, and, according to sources here, the First Lady "was very comfortable, very happy and sleeping very well."

Mrs. Kennedy's last caller late Wednesday night was her mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, who said she found her daughter "awfully happy that everything was going well" and in "remarkably good condition."

Haitian Exiles Deny Invasion Is Halted

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — The outcome of an invasion of Haiti by about 200 Haitian exiles remained in doubt today. The Haitian government said it had crushed the invasion but exile spokesman said the rebel movement was growing.

The government of Haitian President Francois Duvalier issued a statement in Port au Prince Wednesday claiming it had smashed the invading force and driven the remnants into the sea and back across the Dominican border.

Exile spokesmen in Santo Domingo termed the government "completely false" and "pure propaganda."

Paul Verna, coordinator of the Haitian National Democratic Union (UDN) backing the invasion, issued a counter-statement claiming that the invasion "is continuing and the original invasion force of 300 men has now been increased to some 600 by defectors and peasants."

He said the invaders were moving "in two columns with the same object of isolating the northern zone" of Haiti. There were no direct reports from the northeast area of Haiti, which shares the island of Hispaniola with the Dominican Republic, to substantiate the conflicting claims of the Haitian government or the anti-Duvalier exiles.

Verna said he had received a report "from the front" Wednesday that 100 government troops were killed and three invaders wounded Wednesday morning in a clash on the northern plains, the scene of battles led by Haitian border.

Man Is Still in Coma Two Months After Wasp Sting

HOUSTON (UPI) — A Nederland man, stung by a wasp two months ago, was still in a coma today in Veterans Hospital.

C. W. Gore, 47, was being fed intravenously. Doctors hope he will develop a natural body resistance to the wasp venom. Gore, office manager for Pure Oil Co., was stung by the wasp June 8.

Infant Has Breathing Difficulty

BOSTON (UPI) — President Kennedy received "some encouragement" from doctors today about the condition of his one-day old son but the infant's breathing difficulty was still described as "serious and a cause of concern."

"But the doctors are hopeful," press secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters.

"The baby's condition remained about the same during the night. This is a source of some encouragement to doctors, who had felt it would probably get worse during the night."

"The baby's condition would have to be described as still serious but doctors are hopeful."

Dr. Lenden Snedeker, assistant to the general director of the hospital, described the baby as having light brown hair and said "he's a lovable little monkey."

In regard to the care Patrick is being given right now, Snedeker said: "Loving tender care, medicine, oxygen, and everything else we can do to correct the symptoms."

Salinger asked about the hyaline membrane disease said: "The situation remains exactly as it was Wednesday night."

The President motored from the downtown hotel where he is staying to the Boston Children's Medical Center after a 10-minute drive behind a police escort.

One day old Patrick Bouvier Kennedy has been rushed to the specially equipped Children's Hospital Wednesday after his birth five and a half weeks ahead of time at Otis Air Force Base, Mass.

The President planned to divide his time today between the Children's Medical Center here, where his son is in a plastic-covered device which simulates the environment of a mother's womb, and Cape Cod, with Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and their other two children.

Kennedy's schedule called for leaving the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, where he spent the night after a 20-minute visit with his ailing son, at 9:45 a.m. EDT for a return trip to the hospital. After seeing the child, he planned to fly by helicopter to Otis AFB to visit his wife, who was in "excellent" condition.

Spend Time With Children
Then he was to spend much of the day in Hyannis Port, Mass., with daughter Caroline, 5½, and son John Jr., 2½, before going back to his wife's bedside in late afternoon and flying back to Boston for another visit with his son and another overnight stay.

The newest Kennedy was born by Caesarean section at 12:52 p.m. EDT Wednesday, 38 minutes before a Jetstar transport plane with the President aboard landed at Otis AFB. Mrs. Kennedy had been whisked there by helicopter from her Squaw Island summer home in Hyannis Port shortly after 11:30 a.m. EDT.

Because it was born prematurely and appeared to be having breathing problems, the child was baptized a short time after birth by the Rev. John Scallion of Portland, Maine, Catholic chaplain at Otis. He was named for Kennedy's grandfather, Patrick J., and father, Joseph Patrick, as well as for Mrs. Kennedy's father whose surname was Bouvier.

Father Scallion said the newborn child looked "like Winston Churchill," adding that all newborns have that look.

He told an interview that the newest member of the Kennedy clan looked like a healthy infant despite the respiratory ailment.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters (See INFANT, Page 1)

Traveling Americans Like To Bed Down in Comfort

NEW YORK (UPI) — About 52 million Americans are expected to pile into the family car and hit the nation's roads this summer for long-awaited vacation trips.

Based on past surveys, most of the trips will be of relatively short distance but will involve at least a one-night stopover along the way.

But whether it is a 200 or 2,000-mile trip, traveling Americans will do some peculiar things to make sure they get a good night's rest, says the Spring Air Co. of Chicago, a leading bedding manufacturer.

Some motorists will drive 50 miles or more out the way to get to a hotel or motel they know or have been told has comfortable beds.

Others bring along their own electric blankets, non-allergenic pillows and bed boards.

Some even bring mattresses from home. A Milwaukee motel owner tells of one guest who asked for a reduced rate because he was providing his own bedding.

Fortunately, the motorists' chances of sleeping well on short or long distance trips are increasing all the time as more motels and hotels upgrade their bedding to meet competition, says Spring Air.

Another bit of good news for the overland traveler is the increase in the number of extra-long and extra-wide beds available.

"You may have to pay extra for an extra-size bed but many travelers figure the added expense is worth while," says Ronald J. Shepherd, Spring Air's executive vice president.

If you're in the vicinity of Houston, Tex., you may even want to pay a little more to sleep in round beds which several motels in the area are installing to emphasize bedding distinctiveness.

"More could be done to improve sleeping conditions for the traveler if guests pressed good bedding when they found it or complained to the management about bad bedding," Shepherd says.

One guest at a Louisiana motel made his point when he told the clerk he liked the mattress so much he was taking it with him. The clerk laughed. But when the maids went to clean up the vacant room, sure enough, the mattress was gone.

Most guests spend only a night at a hotel or motel so they figure that praising or complaining won't do them much good. So hotel and motel owners have to rate their sleeping accommodations by other means.

For example, a hotel in New York state noted that traveling salesmen were insisting on certain rooms and would check no other. The manager checked and found these rooms had been equipped with new bedding. The remainder of the hotel was supplied with new mattresses too.

The traveler who wants to make sure of a good night's rest before accepting the room should ask for the privilege of testing the bed by lying on it, says Shepherd. Most people are embarrassed to do this but shouldn't be.

Another method is to ask if many guests request bed boards. If the answer is "yes," be wary because a good mattress doesn't require a bedboard.

During the 1963 season, the 20 major league baseball teams will clock more than 400,000 flying miles.

The Ladies, Bless 'Em, Would Form Club on the Moon If They Could

By JUNE NORDAHL
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Get two women together, the story goes, and they'll form a club. Bring a third on the scene and they'll name it a congress.

Well, that old clubby American spirit knows no national boundaries. Proof is the presence overseas of 7,000 women who have united under the banner of Federation of American Women's Clubs Overseas — FAWCO, for short.

The ladies, bless 'em, publish resolutions, conduct bazaars, hold meetings and suspend reading of previous minutes just like any women's organization back home. In addition, they are now recognized as an important team of good will ambassadors for the United States.

Good will is a hard-to-measure commodity. But few persons doubt that in this benighted world the U.S. can use all the good will that comes its way. And here is where the ladies of FAWCO come in.

Current president of the federation is Mrs. Stanley Hale, formerly of New York City, now living in Zurich, Switzerland. Her husband is an air line pilot.

The federation, according to Mrs. Hale, donates about $70,000 yearly to projects in more than a dozen foreign countries. The money is raised through such methods as bazaars and cake sales. American as hot dogs and picnic ants.

The money is channeled into assisting foreign women to study in the United States, or in general welfare work in the host country. During the Hungarian uprising in 1956, FAWCO raised $10,000 and mountains of clothing to aid the refugees who streamed out of that nation as Soviet tanks moved in.

And in the following year, when FAWCO held its periodic conference in Athens, reports of a disastrous earthquake in northern Greece reached the delegates. On the spot, the organization donated several hundred dollars to aid the victims. Later, each club sent additional gifts from its home country.

FAWCO was founded 32 years ago in London by Mrs. Curtis Brown, then president of the American Women's Club of London. She invited 10 similar organizations in Europe to unite, and the first Europe-wide meeting took place in Berlin.

Now, affiliated clubs exist in the Middle East, Asia and South America as well as in Europe. The purpose of FAWCO, briefly, is:

To further the cause of international peace.

Act for standardized laws in different countries regarding the rights of foreign women married to American men.

Observe the quality of education available to American children abroad.

Maintain an International Peace Scholarship.

FAWCO is also dedicated to promoting absentee voting among Americans overseas.

President Hale explained that members are now considering eventual collaboration with larger groups, such as the People-to-People Program and the Peace Corps. She believes that such groups could benefit from association with American women living abroad.

'Key Club' for Females Sprouts on West Coast

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Women now have their own key club.

Located on the famed Sunset Strip and called "Come to the Party," it tries to be just that — a party.

All the keyholders are women. But, as any woman will tell you, a party without men can be terribly dull. So men are welcome, too. But they are discriminated against.

For example, the men must use the public front door while the members slip in through their own private entrance in back. This leads to a combination living room-ladies lounge.

Then, there is the matter of prices. Men pay the full tab. The members' discount includes drinks at half price and a complete meal of roast beef or half a dozen other entrees for 97 cents.

Even the bar stools, thickly cushioned easy chairs atop a stool, were custom contoured for female comfort.

Bob Gilbert, a founding father of "The Party," said:

"We've taken all the embarrassment and stigma off a girl coming into a restaurant or bar alone." The atmosphere and the service is calculated to make a woman without an escort feel at ease. She can make an unnoticed entrance through the private door, so that she does not feel that all eyes are upon her.

"This place is run like a Sunday school," Gilbert said, sounding like a sorority house-mother. "The women are protected above all."

He added that applicants for keys are required to furnish references, which, he insisted, are checked carefully.

Gilbert based his certainty of his venture's success on the fact it is aimed at women.

"Every other bar in history has been designed for men," he said. Entertainment is geared to a party atmosphere, including sing-alongs.

"The Party," open since mid-May, is not exactly inconspicuous. Its exterior is flamboyant even for Sunset Strip.

The building, painted a garish gold, is decorated with flashing light and striped and tasseled awnings.

A huge neon sign says—"Come to the Party."

The interior is decorated to simulate a New Orleans courtyard complete with balconies and a gazebo.

Gilbert explained the New Orleans motif, saying:

"Eventually, we want to make it a Mardi Gras every night. That's the biggest party of all."

President William Howard Taft was the first U. S. president to open the baseball season (1910) by pitching the first ball for the Washington club.

Only Dying Child Can Save Life of Nebraska Infant

DENVER (UPI) — Only a dying child can save the life of 10-month-old Nancy Joanne Schudlies.

Nancy Joanne, born with a defective liver, is waiting in Colorado General Hospital for a donor's healthy liver as her only hope for life. But such a transplant must come from another child — a boy or girl up to three years of age — doomed to die from some incurable disease.

"Only a transplant can save the child and we will need in advance the consent of the donor's parents to perform the operation just as soon as death comes to the donor," a hospital spokesman said. "It would be best if the donor could be found in the area, but if there is a child stricken elsewhere who is a suitable donor, arrangements can be made for that child to come to Denver for the transplant."

Governmental medical grant funds are available to cover the expenses involved, he said.

Nancy Joanne, Scottsbluff, Neb., was admitted to the hospital two months ago. She was born without ducts in her liver to carry body fluids and substances.

After the diagnosis last December, the child was given only a year to live.

When the Norwegian poet and dramatist Henrik Ibsen was young, his father failed in business and recollections of the penury which plagued the family can be found in "Peer Gynt." At the age of 15, Ibsen was apprenticed to an apothecary. It was a business he detested and to relieve his misery he began to write poetry.

Mass Surrender End For Indian Bandits

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Nineteen masked bandits recently rode out of the scorching Rajasthan desert. They whipped off the black cloths which covered their swarthy faces and ended a legend as romantic as anything in the "Arabian Nights."

The hard-eyed desert raiders have been feared for 20 years as "The Bhatias of Modha." Their camels had clattered a hundred miles across sand and bone-dry gullies to surrender the bandit clan at the feet of Rajasthan Home Minister B. Mathur.

Mathur was waiting for the Bhatias in a village of mud huts which had been decked out as though for a festival.

The Bhatias jerked their camels to a halt in the dusty village square. One at a time they knelt before the Home Minister and touched his feet in the age-old, Indian gesture of submission. "Your strength and courage should go to help the people, and not to harass them," Mathur told the bandits.

"Our blood will now be spilt in the service of the country," they replied.

The Bhatias of Modha had been driven to Mathur's feet by a combined operation in which India and Pakistan had tried to stamp out the ancient profession of banditry along the sun-seared deserts of their western border.

For three months before the surrender, the Bhatias had raided into Pakistan, while Pakistani troops had tightened a noose which drove them back toward the Indian border.

Then the Rajasthan Deputy Inspector General of Police, Jaswant Singh, pitched his camp in the village to which the Bhatias finally were driven. Mathur told the surrendered bandits he could make no promises beyond a fair trial. The 19 desert raiders were taken 20 miles to a jail in the town of Jaisalmer. A special magistrate and prosecuting staff were called in to try the clan in the city of Jodhpur.

Mathur told newsmen much of the glory for the mass surrender should go to the Pakistanis who had driven the clan back to the edge of a net of Rajasthan police forces. He said he would send officers to Pakistan to assist at the trial of bandit leader J. G. Singh, who had been taken before he could reach the Indian border.

The state Home Minister made a speech, telling a crowd in the surrender village that an end had come to the profession of banditry along the Indo-Pakistan border.

But many of the mustached nomads who heard him are friends and relatives of the captives. And Mathur himself conceded that several of the Bhatias are still loose on the border.

Long time students of local banditry, or "dacoity" as they call it in India, agree that good police work is making the outlaw profession a tougher and tougher one.

Poverty hangs over the mud villages of Rajasthan. A fast camel and a repeating rifle may still lure many a desert youth from honest work on the state's dry and stony soil.

The 18th Amendment (Prohibition) to the U. S. Constitution is the only one ever to be repealed.

Hot Number-Banana Crepes

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
You may be one of those hostesses who like to surprise your guests with flaming desserts. Here's one we really enjoyed at the Colony Hotel and Beach Club in Montego Bay, Jamaica. The chef of this elegant spot in the West Indies patiently explained how to do it.

BANANA CREPES COLONY
3 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon water
1 tablespoon milk
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
Pinch salt
2 bananas, sliced
Combine all ingredients, except bananas, stirring until well blended. Add 1 teaspoon butter to a 6-inch chafing dish and heat until the butter bubbles. Pour a thin coating of the batter into the pan, cook for 1 minute, then turn. Continue turning until the crepe is browned. Remove from the pan, fold in half and then in half again making the crepe a cornucopia shape. Makes 1 cup batter or 8 crepes. (These may be made earlier and reheated at serving time in the sauce.) Fill each crepe with slices of banana and place them in orange sauce which has been warming in a chafing dish.

ORANGE SAUCE
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup orange juice

1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
Blend sugar, salt, cornstarch and orange rind in saucepan; slowly add orange juice and lemon juice. Heat to boiling point and cook about 5 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in 2 tablespoons butter. Pour sauce into chafing dish. Makes 1 cup sauce.

TO FLAME: Warm 3 tablespoons of Jamaican rum until it steams, ignite and pour over banana crepes and sauce. Serve flaming. Makes 4 servings.

Vegetable Cocktail New Dinner Starter

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Baked ham is a popular summer item. Give it this currant glaze and it will be even more popular.

The vegetable cocktail recipe is a perfect starter for the Sunday dinner.

TOMATO VEGETABLE SPRING COCKTAIL
1 envelope Swiss recipe spring vegetable soup mix
1 cup water
4 cups tomato juice

Empty soup mix into saucepan. Gradually stir in water and tomato juice. Bring to boil stirring occasionally. Partially cover and simmer 5 minutes. Serve hot.

CURRENT GLAZE
(for ham)

3/4 cup red currant jelly
1/2 cup dark corn syrup
1 teaspoon vinegar
1/4 teaspoon powdered cloves
Whole cloves

Combine jelly, corn syrup, vinegar and powdered cloves in saucepan and cook over medium-low heat, stirring constantly, until jelly is melted and mixture is smooth. Pour part of glaze over hot, scored ham. Bake in 325-degree (slow) oven, basting frequently with remaining glaze, until ham is well coated and all glaze is used, about 30 minutes.

Legumes are useful in crop rotation because they have nitrogen-fixing qualities.

Zesty Crisp Salads Eyepleasing, Cool

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The hot weather appetite turns naturally to cooling, eye-pleasing salads. Often, the use of fresh fruits in these salads adds zest and extra refreshment. So let's take a look at two that combine fruit and other pleasing ingredients.

FRESH PEAR AND CUCUMBER ASPIC
6 to 8 Servings

2 packages unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 cup hot water
2-3 cup sugar
2-3 cup fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
Fresh pear balls
1 cup diced cucumbers
2 cups diced fresh pears
1/2 cup thinly sliced cucumbers
Cottage cheese
Fresh parsley for garnish

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water and stir until dissolved. Stir in sugar, lemon juice and salt. Pour 1/4 cup mixture into bottom of a 5-cup ring mold. Chill until partially set. Chill remaining mixture in bowl until as thick as fresh egg whites. Arrange fresh pear balls on partially set gelatin, lightly pressing balls into gelatin to hold them in place. Fold diced pears and cucumbers into remaining mixture. Pour into mold. Arrange sliced cucumbers around outside edge of mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Unmold on serving plate and fill center with cottage cheese. Garnish with fresh parsley.

FRESH GRAPEFRUIT AND CRAB SALAD
(6 servings)
2 cups cold cooked crab meat
1 cup diced celery
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1-3 cup mayonnaise
1 1/2 cups diced fresh grapefruit sections, drained
Head lettuce
Fresh grapefruit sections for garnish

Combine first 5 ingredients. Add grapefruit sections and toss lightly. Serve on a bed of lettuce. Garnish with fresh grapefruit sections.

Ham And Grape Salad Tempts Lagging Summer Appetites

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
What do you do on hot summer nights when no one in the family seems to want to eat? In our house, we often have salad plates that combine meat, seafood or poultry with salad greens. Often with fruit, too.

We like a cup of hot soup first, made with some of the packaged soup mixes. Then the chilled main course salad with crusty bread. The bread is better if heated in the oven for a few minutes.

Dessert? That depends on how much of a dessert eater each one is. So there is always a bowl of fresh summer fruit, a cheese tray and for the sweet tooth either ice cream or a quick mix cake.

HAM AND GRAPE SALAD
(6 to 8 servings)
3 cups diced cooked ham
1 cup diced celery
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt or salt to taste
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 cups Thompson seedless grapes
Lettuce

Combine ham, celery, onion, salt, black pepper, lemon juice and mayonnaise. Mix lightly. Add grapes and toss only to blend with other ingredients. Serve on lettuce.

Eat Elegantly And Expensively
Only Once A Day Parisian Says

The urbane director of the Prince of Wales, connoisseur of wines as well as food, also cautions visitors against ordering only the expensive wines of rare vintage. "Choose the light, moderately priced wines, the way most Frenchmen do. You'll be much happier unless you are a true connoisseur."

He explained the disappearance since World War II of many excellent inexpensive restaurants where working people used to eat. "There is now a law in France which requires any company employing more than 50 workers to provide lunch for them in a company canteen. So the workers no longer need go out. Many good chefs now work in these canteens," he said.

We examined the beautiful crystal wine glasses, the gleaming silver and the fine linen on our table. "Elegance in dining is something Frenchmen love and they are willing to pay for it. Yes, meals at our de luxe restaurants and hotel dining rooms are fairly expensive."

"You'll feel far less stuffed and be in better condition to relish a long and leisurely dinner around 8 o'clock, the usual hour here," he said.

Chinese Cuisine Learned From New Gourmet Book

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
When a cookbook adds to your know-how, and also is beautifully made and fascinatingly written, that is happy news. Such a book is the new "Food for the Emperor" by John D. Keys of San Francisco. The introduction by Kee Joon, a learned Chinese gentleman, will make you much wiser about Chinese cuisine, and the recipes will inspire you. Many of the recipes are accompanied by short translations of Chinese praise and descriptions of the beauty and wonder of food.

Here is one example of "Food for the Emperor" called Chung-Yo Kuk Gai (Roast Young Chicken Stuffed with Fresh Mushrooms and Spring Onion).

CHUNG YO KUK GAI
1 roasting chicken (4 lbs.)
1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced

Shellfish, Avacado
New Duo For Salad

2 cups mixed cooked shellfish (Crabmeat, small shrimp, lobster, etc.)
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1/2 cup toasted walnuts
2 tablespoons diced pimento
1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

1/4 cup Italian style dressing
Salt, pepper and Accent to taste. Generous dash Tabasco
3/4 ripe avocados, halved
1 cup coarsely shredded Swiss or Gruyere cheese
Garnish, greens, etc.

In a saucepan combine shellfish, celery, walnuts, pimento, salad dressings and seasonings to taste. Mix lightly and place over low heat for about 7-8 minutes, or until heated through. Fill avocado halves with hot salad mixture; sprinkle with shredded cheese.

Broil filled avocado halves a few minutes, until cheese melts—do not brown. Garnish and serve at once. Yields 6 to 8 servings, depending on size avocado used.

Shellfish may be left in good-sized pieces, or chopped. The filling is easier to handle and eat if fish is chopped or shredded.

To make toasted walnuts: Spread nuts in shallow pan and butter generously with melted butter and salt. Toast in hot oven, 400 degrees, about 8-10 minutes, stirring several times. Cool before using in salad, or as snack.

Line chilled salad bowl with lettuce leaves.

Add 1 cup tossed mixed greens which have been mixed with garlic French dressing.

Add 1 cup mixed vegetables which have been combined with

Avacado - Meat New Salad Combination

1 can luncheon meat, diced
1/2 cup diced celery
1 teaspoon grated onion
2 ripe avocados
Lemon juice
Salad dressing or mayonnaise
Mix luncheon meat, celery and onion. Peel and dice avocados; sprinkle with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Combine carefully with the meat mixture. Add enough salad dressing to moisten. Chill, if you wish. Pile into crisp lettuce cups. Yields 6 servings.

mayonnaise and seasonings. Sprinkle 3 tablespoons crumbled Roquefort or blue cheese over top of salad.

Garnish with tomato wedges — three to a salad.

NUMBER OF SERVINGS: 25
SIZE SERVING: 1 cup

Lobster Salad Enough For Two

2 pounds (A.P.) lobster, fresh boiled
1/2 head lettuce, medium sized head
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon capers
2 eggs hard boiled, cut in half (only) lemon, cut in sixths
Remove meat from a 2-pound boiled and chilled lobster, being careful to keep meat in as large pieces as possible.

Line an attractive serving bowl with lettuce leaves, and build up center with seasoned, tossed salad greens.
Add lobster meat, having it come well above the rim of the bowl.
Top with mayonnaise dotted with capers—or serve dressing on the side. Serves 2.

Omelets Fashionable Whether With French Touch Or Plain

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The egg has risen to higher social acceptance. Forty-eight stories above the streets of New York, we enjoyed the famous Sunday brunch in the Tower Suite in the Time-Life Bldg. Tom Margittal, the gourmet director, assured us that serving omelets at parties is now the chic thing to do. They can be plain or a combination of bacon, cheese, caviar, crabmeat, mushrooms, sour cream—any delectable combination.

We chose omelet aux fines herbes. A skillful captain prepared it tableside. It was tender, moist inside, delicate golden brown on the outside. Chic? Maybe, but our interest was in how it tasted. The answer: 100 per cent good.

To toss an omelet of Tower Suite excellence requires French skill. Therefore, we asked the Poultry and Egg National Board for a home style recipe, more within the competence of the average family cook. Try it for your next brunch luncheon or supper party. Make omelets for no more than one or two at a time. Large omelets can be unruly.

When mixture is set, the egg no longer flows freely. The omelet is moist and creamy on top. Let it cook about one minute to brown the bottom slightly. Fold or roll, and serve promptly on a warm platter. Omelet should be tender and light, moist and delicately brown on the bottom. Use a 7 to 8-inch omelet pan or heavy skillet.

FRENCH OR PLAIN OMELET
(Makes 1 or 2 servings)
3 eggs
3 tablespoons water
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter
Mix eggs, water, salt and pepper with a fork until yolks and whites are blended. Meanwhile, heat butter in an omelet pan or heavy skillet just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture all at once. Mixture should begin to cook immediately at the outer edges. With the fork, lift cooked portions at edges so uncooked portions flow underneath. Slide pan rapidly back and forth over the heat to keep mixture in motion and sliding freely to avoid sticking.

Drouth Spreads Loss in Millions Into South Texas

By United Press International
A prolonged drought—similar to the one that ruined winter wheat crops in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains early this year—is now threatening Southern Texas with a multimillion dollar loss.

A survey Tuesday showed that small "run of the river" dams are rapidly losing power generating capacity because of the lack of water.

Run of the river dams depend on continuous river flow and are not backed by large storage capacity.

The Guadalupe - Blanco River Authority has six such plants stretching from New Braunfels to Gonzales and all are producing only about 10 per cent of their capacity.

Chief engineer John Vandertulip of the Texas Water Commission said large dams that provide most of Texas' hydroelectric power are still holding enough water to produce adequately.

The Lower Colorado River Authority has been buying power from nearby steam generators most of the summer and is pumping water from Inks Lake into Lake Buchanan at night to increase Buchanan's power production during peak daytime hours.

Only a few scattered thunder-showers have dampened Texas during the past five weeks. Most of those have been so widespread and isolated that they provided

Plucky Lad Wins 'Letters' While Fighting Handicap

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Question: Can a boy who can scarcely walk because of arthritis win a letter in athletics?

Answer: Yes — if the lad has the grit of Tim Ewald.

Tim, 17, wears the monogram of Golden Valley High School in both football and track.

How so? Especially when you notice it takes the plucky youth as much as 15 minutes merely to tie his shoelaces.

For the answer, you look back seven years. As the second oldest of five sons, Tim, at the age of 10, could outrun all his brothers and even his parents, Graydon and Diane Ewald.

Tim dreamed of a high school and college career in football and track. And why not? He was a natural athlete.

Then, at the age of 10 — disaster. One night, Tim was struck by the severe pain of rheumatoid arthritis. His temperature soared.

For months, he had to be hospitalized in body casts and treated with cortisone.

Now, after seven years of the disease, Tim is slowly regaining some mobility — thanks in part to therapy given him at the March of Dimes - supported Treatment Center at the University of Minnesota Medical School. The treatment is conscientiously repeated at home.

Much as the boy yearned to play, such strenuous sports as football and track were not for him.

Little relief to powder-dry range and croplands.

It was all he could do just to hobble from class to class. But in his freshman year at high school he resolved to be as close to sports as his crippled condition permitted.

Tim made a private vow that he would become a team manager.

He made it in his freshman year as manager of the football squad. He made it again in his sophomore year. Last year, his third, he managed the track team.

He won his letters in two sports. Tim won't talk much about what his duties are. He's an excessively modest youngster, but even if it does embarrass the boy, his father says:

"I looked into this with some care because it would be dangerous for Tim to overdo. I found out that these managers aren't snap jobs given by the players to a classmate they feel sorry for.

"The work is rough — Tim goes along in the team bus to games all around the state, he checks equipment and keeps the players' records, he's a time-keeper, and so on.

"But he thrives on it — and it's far better therapy than gnawing his nails because of no contact with sports."

Tim also finds time to draw, chiefly cartoons and caricatures for which he seems to have promising talent. He thinks that someday he might like to be a sports cartoonist.

Will he walk again normally? It is quite possible. Next year, after graduation from high school, he may undergo hip surgery. Dr.

Keith N. Drummond, assistant director of the March of Dimes center, explains that Tim's hips are now locked in a bent position caused by contraction of the tendons and muscles and by inflammation of the hip joints.

Under favorable circumstances, surgery could release and lengthen these shortened tissues.

The famed Cow Palace of San Francisco is not in that city but across the line in San Mateo County.

Foreign Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle may run after all for a second term in 1965—at least, betting among French politicians is increasing that he will.

One factor, it is thought, that might decide him to do so would be failure to patch up his disagreements with President Kennedy about nuclear policy and the future of the Western alliance.

De Gaulle's seven-year term finishes at the end of 1965 — two-and-a-quarter years from now.

Several times recently he has dropped oblique hints that he might not run again. He has seemed to be preparing the French people for thinking about a possible successor.

But he had nothing to say about this at his news conference a week ago Monday. A question was asked, but De Gaulle did not answer it.

Some French commentators have taken this to mean that De Gaulle, who earlier was thought to have decided against a second term, now may be changing his mind.

Time For Consideration
They pointed out that he will have about four weeks for quiet thinking about the future during his August vacation at his country home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises.

Age would be the main consideration against a second term. De Gaulle is nearing 73. He will be 75 when the next presidential election is held. If he took a second term—and few doubt he would be a fair age at which runs again—he would be 82 at the end of it.

That still would be some years short of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who is 87.

But Madame Yvonne de Gaulle is known to feel that he has earned retirement and that 75 would be a fair age at which to take it.

De Gaulle was reported earlier to have taken the same view. Has Second Thoughts Aides said he had planned to run again only if he felt France needed him in an emergency—that is, in case of a grave international crisis or if it appeared that a summit meeting likely to lead up to a general cold war settlement was in sight.

Now, De Gaulle is said to be having second thoughts about what constitutes an "emergency."

It is suggested that he may not want to pull out until he is sure that France's nuclear striking force is fully ready for action.

It also is being suggested that with the future of the Western alliance, the European Common Market and a politically united Europe still so uncertain, De Gaulle might feel reluctant to give up.

Noise Can Ruin Pursuit Of Health and Happiness

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS NEW YORK (UPI) — If the man of the house comes home ready to snap off his wife's head and finds her all too ready to retaliate, noise may be the culprit.

Some medical authorities feel noise is not only a contributing factor to irritability, but an actual hazard to physical health and often has the psychological effect of bringing on such ailments as nausea, headache and fatigue.

There may not be much you can do about the booming, blaring, piercing clamor of the man of the house must endure in the business world, but there's a lot you can do to quiet the racket on the home front.

Sound conditioning is a concern of many companies — acoustical products makers, paint manufacturers, firms which make mechanical equipment and others. Studies have shown that household noise can be reduced appreciably — it can be absorbed, blocked and, of course, cut down at the source.

Small Cost
A homes magazine, Better Homes & Gardens, recently reported on a study which showed it would cost only about $600 extra for quality noise control in a new home.

One of the most important ways to reduce the noise level in a home is to cut down the reflection of sounds from hard walls, floors and ceilings. There is a wide variety of ceiling tile available—in white or colored surfaces, with or without patterns. Surfaces are punched, drilled, slatted or grooved to catch and trap sound waves. They are easily installed on furring strips, in channels or on solid surfaces with adhesive or staples.

Sound transmission through ordinary walls can be cut significantly by nailing 1/2-inch sound-deadening insulation board between the studs and gypsum wall-board on each side of a wall, especially over staggered studs. Additional insulation board between will be still more effective. In remodeling, the insulating board may be added over existing walls—preferably but not necessarily on a new row of studs—before new paneling is applied.

One of the latest home acoustic aids is a sound-deadening floor tile developed by B. F. Goodrich, made completely of rubber. W. A. Drisler, Jr., vice president of the company's consumer products marketing division, says this new tile has absorption properties that apply not only to sounds produced within a room, but especially to sound or vibration transmitted through the floor to the room below. It is said to be superior to cork tile, carpets, ordinary rubber tile, concrete or wood block.

Red Chinese Say United States 'Made up Story'

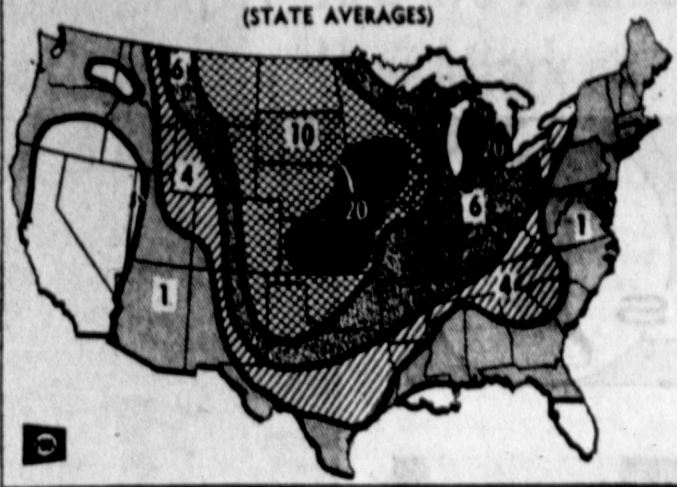

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist North Korea, in a radio broadcast monitored here, charged Tuesday that the United States "fabricated the murder of American soldiers" along the truce line in Korea.

The broadcast did not specify the incident, but it obviously referred to the July 29 ambush of an American patrol in the demilitarized zone by North Korean troops. Two American soldiers were killed in the attack.

The broadcast charged that the U.S. "made up the story to cloak their aggressive crimes" in Korea. It demanded an apology from the United States.

Varicose veins are mentioned in the first medical book ever written, an Egyptian papyrus dated about 1500 B.C.

NUMBER OF HAILSTORMS IN A GROWING SEASON (STATE AVERAGES)

HAIL OF A MESS—Hailstorms cost farmers—or insurance companies—about $50 million each year, more than tornadoes. They occur usually from March to August. While no area is free from hailstorms, some places are more likely to get them than others, as map above shows. Kansas, Nebraska, Montana, Iowa and North Dakota are the prime targets. Largest official hailstones measured—17 inches around and weighing 1 1/2 pounds—bombed Potter, Neb., on July 8, 1928. In July 1952, a hailstorm flattened three million bushels of growing wheat in Nebraska. However, only one farmer has ever been killed by hail. Data from Furrow magazine.

Idaho Celebration Gives Rise To Some Hair Raising Events

BOISE, Idaho (UPI) — It used to be that Barney Wozniak, a state promotion man here, could be spotted a block away by his pink face and white hair.

But now Barney has an emerald green beard and you can see his coming for miles.

Wozniak took three hours out of life to dye his brush, then insured it for $1,000.

"Keep Idaho Green" is his job with the U.S. Forest Service. His green beard also is a practical joke on the Idaho Territorial Centennial.

today: "Isn't it crazy?" A number of patriotic Idaho wives have forsaken their dislike to stubbles as their husbands can turn in a hand to celebrate the centennial.

Some funny things have happened as a result.

Beauty salon operators are understandably hesitant to admit this — but some of these men hiding the centennial brush are fading into beauty salons when dusk has shaded the front windows.

Some of the salons admit to curling, brushing, tinting and cutting the beards.

"If you advertise this," said one operator, "You'll ruin our trade. This is all supposed to be top secret."

The grapevine has the names of the salons where one can go if he finds too much gray or stiffness in his growth.

Another salon admits selling false whiskers for men having troubles sprouting brush or trouble with the Mrs. A group from this salon made a beard for Gov. Robert E. Smylie after watching him for 30 minutes on a television show.

It doesn't fit. And Smylie doesn't wear it, even for fun.

"It falls down and doesn't look very good one me," said Smylie. Grant Morrison, a Boise barber, says he has qualified in trimming beards but his clientele is slack.

Cotton Harvest In South Plains Down This Year

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — The first official cotton estimate for the 23-county South Plains area released Saturday calls for an estimated 1,842,000 bale harvest, the lowest since the bleak 1957 season.

Such a harvest would mean a loss of an estimated $70 million to the plains economy over last year when a new-record 2,325,000 bales were brought in.

The South Plains — traditionally the world's largest cotton producing area—suffered through heavy rains, several hail and strong wind storms this year, and many farmers had to replant six times.

This put the crop 30 days behind schedule, and officials say the success of the plains crop depends on how late the first freeze hits. Farmers began to gain optimism this week when up to three inches of rain fell on area crops, giving them a "million dollar" boost.

Estimate Could Change
Bob Poteet, secretary of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and author of the estimate for 20 of the 23 counties, emphasized the disappointing 1.8 million bale estimate could change considerably.

"Due to the unusually late crop, above or below normal weather conditions during September and October could alter the area production figures considerably," he said.

Crime Syndicate Stool Pigeon Is Living Dead Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — To the underworld, crime syndicate stool pigeon Joseph Valachi is a living dead man.

To the Justice Department, he is a breathing card index on the underworld and it intends to keep him that way.

Valachi became a man on the run when he defied the syndicate's blood oath of silence and turned informer for the government. The syndicate's answer to the defector: A reported $100,000 price on his head.

But the Justice Department is just as determined to keep Valachi alive as the underworld is to kill him. "We are going to take every precaution necessary to protect this man," a department official said.

One source who interviewed Valachi said the short, graying prisoner, whose record goes back 46 years, "knew he would be dead in a very short time" if the crime syndicate corners him.

It was this very fear of death by his former friends that drove Valachi to talk. He gave the Justice Department dozens of names that, fitted together, gave officials an inside view of an underworld operation that was cheating the public of billions of dollars a year.

In return for the information, Valachi was promised protection. "He was well aware that he was putting a price on his head," one source said.

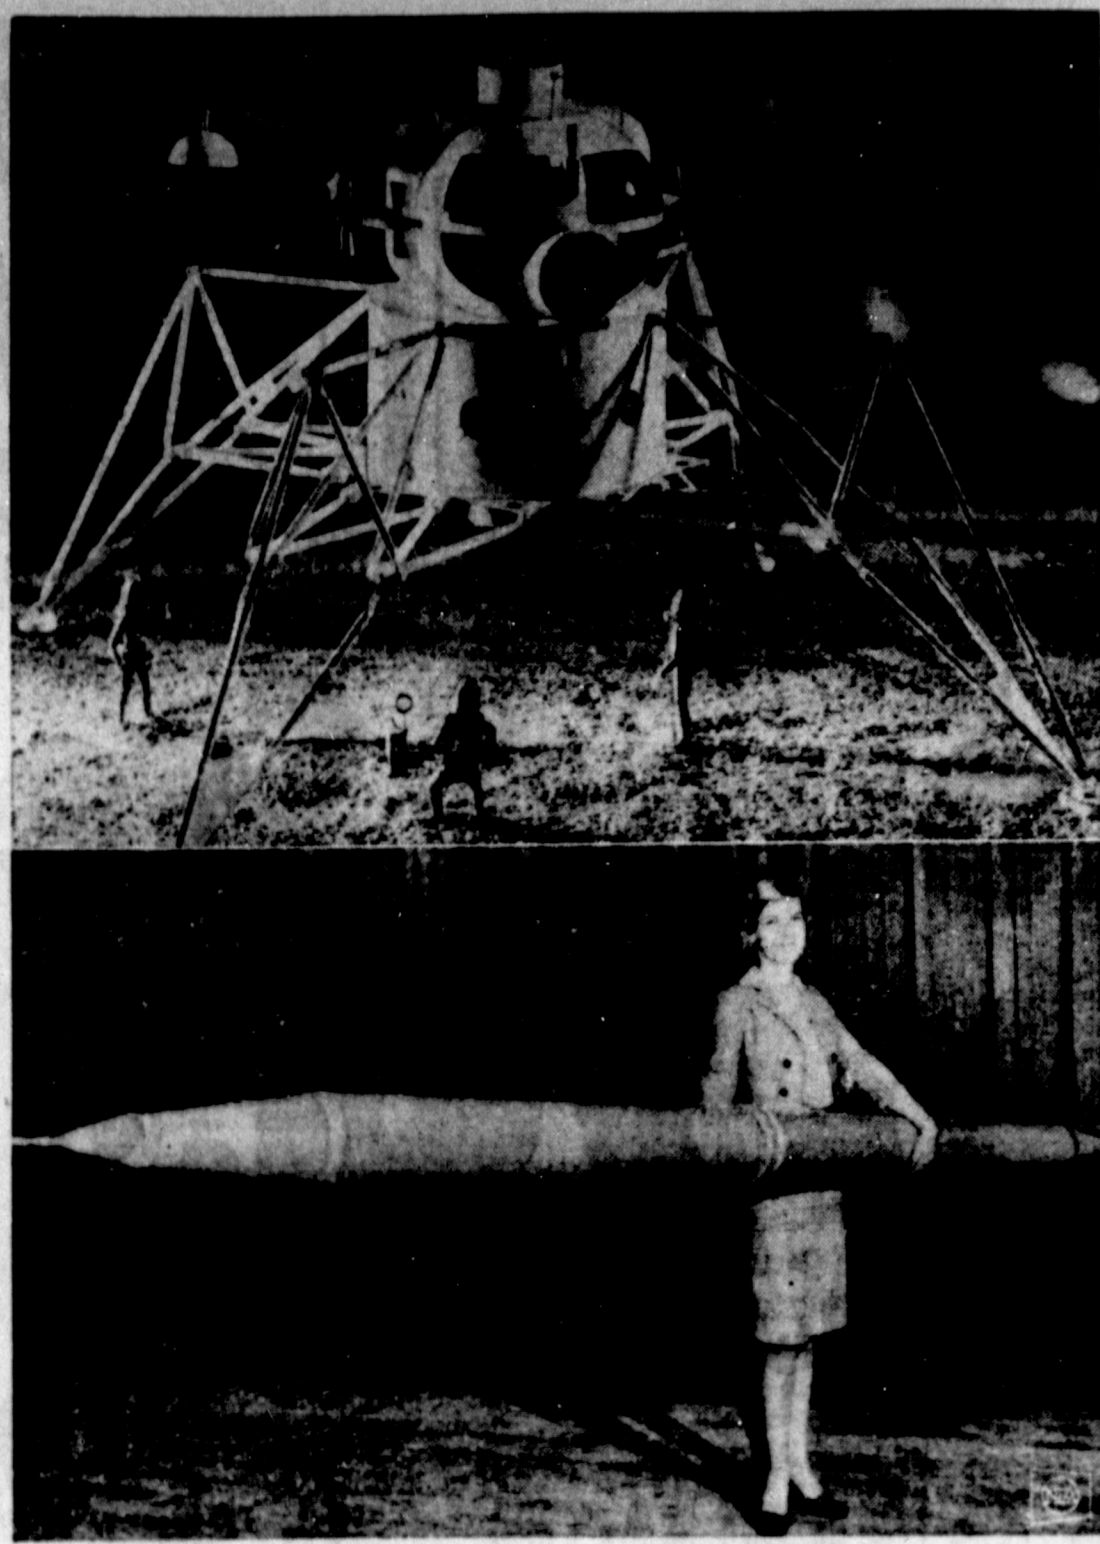

The convicted New York narcotics dealer was removed from a federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga. a year ago. Where he is now, is a tightly held secret. One source said his hideout has been changed several times to elude would-be executors.

AFL-CIO Mounts New Attack on Bracero Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO yesterday mounted a new attack on the Mexican migrant labor (bracero) program.

The labor union's legislative director, Andrew J. Biemiller urged the Senate to defeat legislation to extend the program another year. Floor action is expected this week. The House previously killed a two year extension.

"The Mexican contract labor program has undermined wage and work standards for American farm workers on a wholesale basis," he said.

Biemiller made his latest attack on the program that brings Mexican workers into United States for farm work before a Senate subcommittee considering a bill regulating domestic migrant farm labor. That bill was sponsored by Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N. J.

While favoring the Williams bill, Biemiller advocated changes which he said would increase protection for the American migrant.

Biemiller said that last year, 195,000 braceros were brought into the United States — "in spite of high unemployment among American farm workers."

"When a submarginal wage is induced," he said, "Farmers contend they need the Mexicans because not enough labor is at hand locally."

The bracero issue is expected to spark another argument in the Senate when the pending Labor Department appropriation bill is brought up for floor action. The bill carries $1,387,250 for the department to force compliance with sections of the bracero law.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

RIGHT OF WITNESSES

By far the most vital people in our system of justice are witnesses. Everyone else in a trial exists to hear what they have to say. Our courts need witnesses. A jury to find the facts. The judge to apply the law. The lawyer to tell his client's story.

Chances are you worry about stepping up, taking an oath, and telling your story in court.

On some rare occasions you could be called upon to testify about something affecting your own standing in the community.

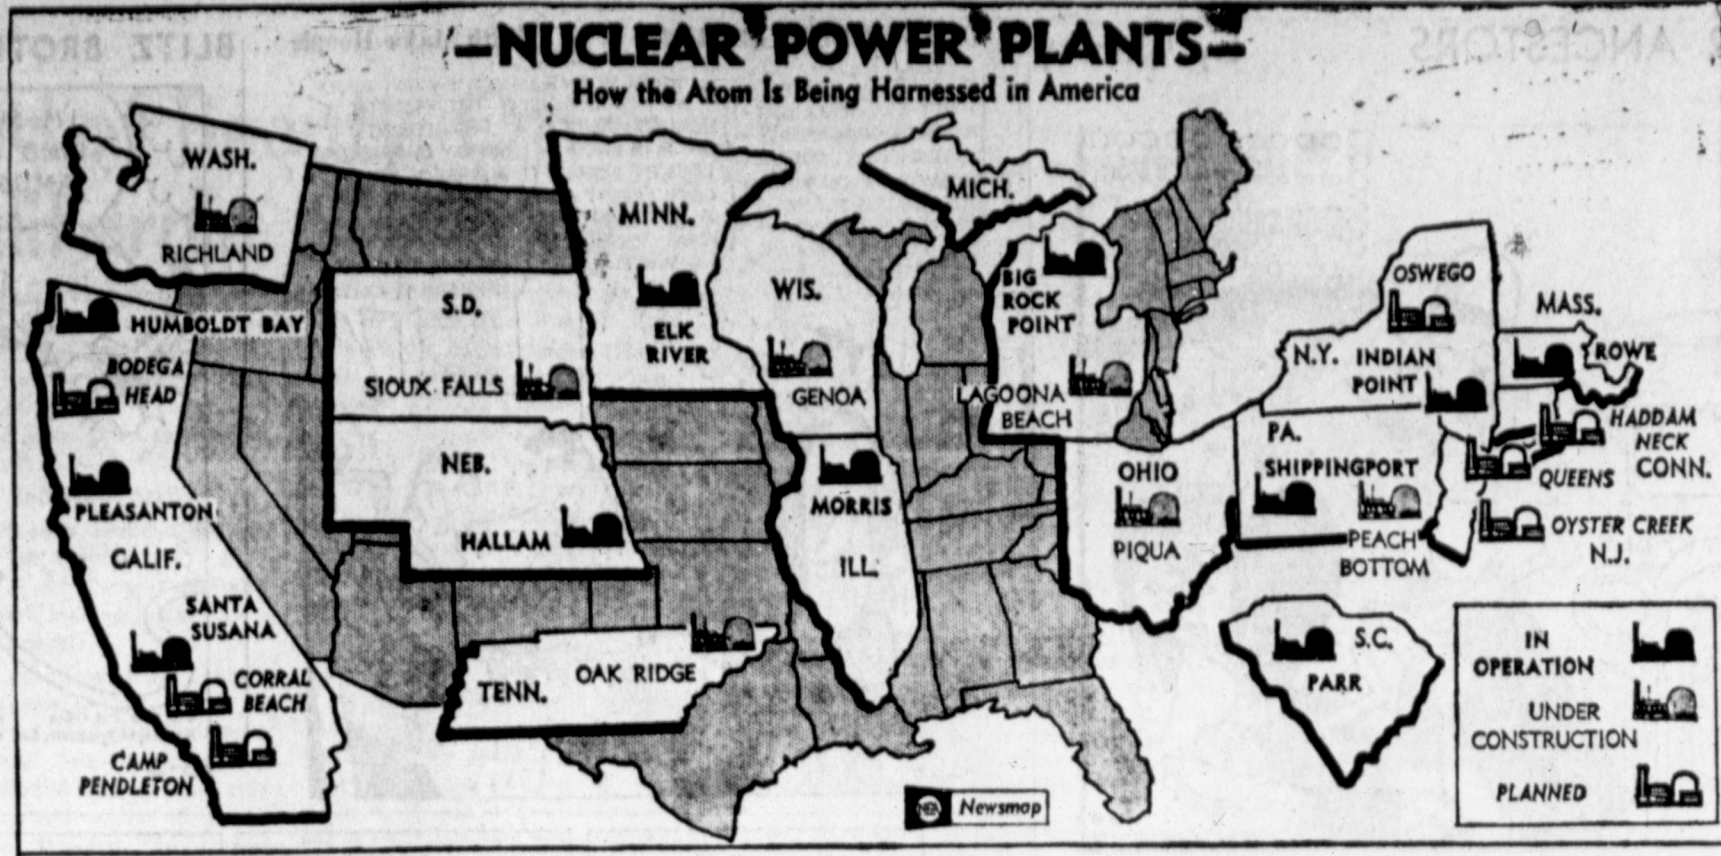

As a witness you too may have the right, for example, not to testify against yourself in somebody else's lawsuit or crime trial.

If you are ever in such a bind, consult a lawyer of your own choice on what to do. The lawyer who called you to testify has a sworn duty to protect HIS client, NOT you. But your lawyer is sworn to keep what you tell him secret and to advise you in your own interests within the law.

Wise lawyers tell their witnesses to obey twelve rules:

1. Go to the place (say, the scene of an accident). Check your memory before you go to court. People forget and get caught up on details. But if you check what you saw and heard you are on solid ground.
2. Visit a court. Hear how other witnesses testify. It will help you see your role on the witness stand.
3. Wear clean conservative clothes.
4. Don't memorize your story word for word. That is the surest way to sound bad. But think of what you saw and heard.
5. Listen to the questions you

6. Give a simple, direct answer in your own words. Don't be rushed.
7. If you err — and people often do — correct yourself at once. If you can't remember some detail, say so. Don't bluff.
8. Tell the truth. Don't figure which side you may help. Don't identify yourself with either side.
9. Stop when the judge breaks in, and don't try to sneak an answer in before he can stop you. What you might say could end in a "mistrial."
10. Keep cool and don't sass back.
11. If they ask you: Certainly, you have talked to other people

Over 20 years since the first controlled nuclear chain reaction and six years after the first commercial reactor went into operation at Shippingport, Pa., atomic power plants are beginning to sprout over the face of America. As Newmap shows, there are 25 commercial plants either in operation, under construction or in the planning stages. There is also one being built in Puerto Rico. They range from a small 11,400-kilowatt plant in Piqua, Ohio (first city to have its own nuclear power plant), to a one-million-kilowatt plant planned for the New York City Borough of Queens. While still more expensive than conventional methods of generating electricity, atomic power is narrowing the gap by constant improvements. The Atomic Energy Commission estimates that it will be fully competitive within five years, ushering in the much talked about day of cheap and abundant energy liberated by man's genius from the atom.

It's Elementary When Children Go to College

REDLANDS, Calif. (UPI) — Some elementary school children already have college experience. The University of Redlands last February initiated the program for 27 children who have been doing superior work in their studies.

The youngsters, from Terrace Hills Elementary School, attended the lawyer, for example; and yes, you may be reimbursed for certain of your expenses incurred in attending the trial.

12. Remember, without witnesses our law would fail to do justice. If you are called, be a good witness.

will probably be continued in the fall.

They said that the same major areas will be covered with the possibility of additional subjects being added.

Many of the university's teachers have expressed interest in donating their time if the program is enlarged.

University officials, elated over the enthusiasm of the youngsters and the overall success of the whole program, indicated that it

Morocco, Land of Beauty, Often Called the California of Africa

By GEORGE A. HALABY
RABAT, Morocco (UPI)—Morocco has often been called the California of Africa for the many similarities it bears to the golden state in the new world.

Its Arabic name is Al Maghreb El Aksa—the extreme West—due to its position in northwest Africa.

It is a warm, sunny land of striking physical beauty.

Morocco is bordered by the Atlantic Ocean on the West and the Mediterranean Sea on the north. On the east and southeast it borders Algeria and in the south on Spanish Sahara.

The total area is about 183,000 square miles and its shape resembles California. Morocco is extremely mountainous. In the North, parallel to the coast, are the Rif Mountains; the central part is traversed by the Atlas ranges. Rich plains stretch to the Atlantic coast while semi-desert extends from the southern and eastern Atlas slopes.

Morocco's population totals 12,350,000 of whom 11,850,000 are Moslems, 160,000 French, 125,000 Jews, 95,000 Algerians and 96,600 Spanish.

Highest Population Increase
Its population is increasing at the rate of 3.25 per cent annually—one of the highest in the world.

Until last year Morocco was ruled by an absolute monarch. But the late King Mohamed V had promised the people a constitution and his son, King Hassan II, fulfilled the promise and submitted the constitution to a public referendum which was approved by more than 95 per cent of the voters.

The nation's first parliament will be elected, this December. It will tone down the king's authority but he will still exercise supreme religious power and great influence in civil affairs. The 36-year-old monarch himself appoints cabinet members and dismisses them.

The earliest settlers of Morocco were the Berbers whose origin is unknown. The Phoenicians in the 12th Century B.C. and later the Carthaginians set up trading posts along the Mediterranean. By the 8th Century, the ports of Melilla, Tangier, Rabat and Casablanca were operating. The Romans, in the 1st Century B.C. penetrated further south.

Arab Influence Arrives
Arab influence reached Morocco in the 7th Century A.D. after the death of the Prophet Mohamed. Berbers were gradually converted to Islam.

It was the combined Arab-Berber armies—the Moors—who achieved extensive conquests in Spain and France where they were checked in 732. Islamic rule of Spain lasted some 40 years.

Relations between the United States and Morocco have always been cordial. Morocco was the first country to recognize the infant United States of America in 1776. The sultan also entered into agreement whereby American trade was guaranteed in the western and southern Mediterranean from pirates of the Barbary Coast.

Morocco boasts the oldest university in the world—the University of Karouine in Fes—which was built early in the 9th Century. Yet, statistics show that about 85-90 per cent of the population is illiterate. Education has recently become compulsory for primary studies.

Have Special Dialect
Moroccan written Arabic is similar to the rest of the Arab world. But spoken Moroccan is a kind of special dialect of mixed Arabic-Spanish-French-Berber.

Moroccans mainly are devout (Sunni) Moslems. During four decades of French rule, Christian missionaries failed to convert them to Christianity. Thus communism has had insignificant success and the tiny party was banned in 1960.

A typical Moroccan is Abdel-Hak Lahcen, a 54-year-old ministry of work employe, who lives with his wife, Aicha, and their four children in Spanish town in one of Rabat's poor neighborhoods.

Mrs. Lahcen says the hard times in Morocco have turned her into an experienced economist in order to manage to live on her husband's 550 dirhams ($110) monthly wage. She does her own shopping in the Casbah where prices are cheaper and the quality a little less fresh than in the new town. She also makes her two daughters' and most of her two sons' clothing. Entertainment is limited to a movie for the children twice a month.

Picnic In Woods
"Every Sunday we take them out on picnics to the woods around Rabat or a visit to my parents or Abdel-Hak's folks," she said.

Her daughters Fatima, 10, and Latifa, 8, attend a girl's elementary school where Mohamed is in kindergarten.

The Lahcens' house is composed of three bedrooms, a large living room, fairly large entrance hall which is used as a dining room, a large kitchen and one bathroom. The house is fairly old, built of red bricks plastered over and whitewashed. The kitchen has an old butane gas stove Lahcen bought second hand from a French family which left Morocco after independence.

Venezuela is the only South American country to lie entirely north of the equator.

WORLD'S NEWEST CABLE SHIP—Built to bind the continents of the world closer together with strands of telephone cable, the C.S. Long Lines heads out to sea. First commercial cable-laying ship to fly the U.S. flag, the ship was named for the Bell System's long-distance division. In the next three years, she will lay some 16,000 miles of telephone cables in the Atlantic, Pacific and Caribbean. Distinctive feature of the Long Lines is her bow sheaves, which are used to pick cable up for repairs and for laying cable in restricted waters.

Land Boom Around Japan's Mount Fuji

TOKYO (UPI)—Real estate brokers are doing a thriving business at the foot of Mount Fuji.

They are increasing in number and making bigger and better commissions because Fuji's foothills are rapidly developing into pleasure grounds, resort towns and industrial centers.

When a proposed new highway across the northern skirt of the mountain is completed, the area in Yamanashi Prefecture will be within an hour and a half from Tokyo by car.

Another highway from Tokyo to Osaka across the southern base of Mount Fuji also will be constructed.

Additional stimulation for brokers is the possibility that government offices will be moved to Mount Fuji's base.

Near Subashiri town, on the eastern side of the base, a large-scale resort already is in business. It has a golf course, hotel, skating rink, artificial waterfall, bird refuge, trout fishing pond, orchard and flower garden.

Another amusement center is being constructed near Lake Yamanaka. The center will include tennis courts, fishing pond and skating rink.

A town of 50,000 population and an airfield will be built next to the center.

Yamanashi Prefecture Governor Hisashi Amano decided to call another projected highland city "West Tokyo" and he is urging the central government to move offices to its outskirts.

At the southern base, in Shizuoka Prefecture, business leaders are planning to build dairy farms. Shizuoka and Yamanashi prefectural governments are eager to invite big manufacturing companies to build their plants on the sides of Mount Fuji, which is 60 miles southwest of Tokyo.

North Favored To Win Tonight

By ED FITE
United Press International
HOUSTON (UPI)—The largest Texas high school coaching school in history hits the semi-windup stage tonight with the north favored to continue its domination of the all-star basketball game.

With the school enrollment itself hitting an even 3,800 mark to far outdistance the old record of 3,333 set at San Antonio two years ago, officials hoped tonight's cage classic in air-conditioned Sam Houston Coliseum also would provide another record.

The prevalence of a lot of stars from the immediate Houston area on the underdog south squad might serve as additional incentive to enable Houston to improve on the basketball crowd record of 6,818 set in Lubbock last year.

The south probably will need all the moral support it can muster from the stands to help overcome a height, speed and scoring potential advantage the north rates on paper.

In the football camps, both coaches settled on their probable starting lineups. The north figures to have Bobby Goodrich of Dallas Wilson and Mickey Maroney of Wichita Falls at end, John LaGrone of Borger and Bob Stanley of San Angelo at guards, Marion Giesecke of Denver City at center, Terry Southall of Brownwood at quarter, Mike Love of Odessa Permian and Robert Leach of Jacksboro at the halves and Mike Jordan at full.

For the south it likely will be Bill Sullivan of Houston Bellaire and John Poss of Brownsville at ends, Harvey Ermis of Corpus Christi Miller and George Gaiser of San Antonio Jefferson at tackles, Tony Labay of Boling and John Ramsey of Houston Lamar at guards, Jerry Lindsay of Silsbee at center, Dennis Gann of Bay City at quarter, Richard DeFee of Livingston and Jim Helms of San Benito at the halves and Randy Behringer of Waco at full.

Top O' Texas Holds Drag

The Top O' Texas Car association will hold their second drag race meeting of the season this Sunday at the T-O-T drag strip, located four miles south of Pampa on Highway 70.

Time trials will begin at 9 a.m. and racing at 2 p.m. The first meet had 175 competitors entered, this one is expected to draw from 250 to 300 competing cars.

Unblown, gas and all stock classes will be entered, with trophies in all races.

In addition to the regular events, several "grudge races" are expected to be run off, with rival drivers slated to turn in excess of 120 miles per hour in the quarter-mile with their superstocks.

The races will be National Hot Rod Association sanctioned and under strict safety rules. All classes from gas down to C must have scatter shields, drive shaft hangers, seat belts and all regulation safety equipment.

TROPHY COLLECTORS—Members of the Top O' Texas Racing Association show off a trophy racked up this year in Amarillo. The Pampa dragsters will hold their second meet of the year Sunday at the T-O-T dragstrip south of Pampa.

Youth Baseball In Quarterfinals

B&B Rallies to Top One Bull, Et Al Cops

In Park II action in the City Youth Baseball Tournament last night, B&B rallied to squeak by One Bull, 11-10, and Et Al topped Radcliff, 6-3.

Paul Johnson doubled in the seventh inning to give B&B a come-from-behind win over One Bull. Ralch behind the outstanding relief pitching of Mark Stephens.

Trailing 9-0 in the bottom of the fourth inning, B&B started blasting, with Mickey Ebenkamp singling, Johnson and Johnny Moore doubling and Jim Hollis hitting a triple for seven runs.

With One Bull holding a 10-7 lead in the top of the fifth, Stevens relieved Mickey Ebenkamp and proceeded to pitch no-hit ball the rest of the way, striking out five of the next nine batters.

B&B rallied for three runs in the fifth as One Bull got a single tally, and then came on in the final frame. Johnny Moore walked, Tim Jones singled and Johnson hit a solid double to score Moore.

B&B connected for a double play, Tommy Ivy to John King to Ricky Redus, to wipe out a One Bull threat in the third. Don Reeder led the losers with three hits and Billy Thomas had two.

The "Misfits" kept rolling last night as Et Al downed the pint-sized Radcliff squad, 6-3, outpitching them 11 to five.

Clifford Gage went all the way for the win and Kurt Kelly went the route in defeat.

Gage started his own rally with a leadoff double in the third inning. Al Gomez doubled him home and Sherwin Cox plated Al with a single, with Cox scoring on an error.

Et Al wrapped up the scoring in the fourth with three more tallies. Jackie Edwards and Larry Yearwood singled and Gomez

Cabot Tips Windsor, Hi-Land Hits Hoover

Cabot edged Windsor, 7-6, and Hi-Land Pharmacy hammered Hoover, 16-4, in last night's Optimist Youth Baseball Tournament games at Western League Park.

In the most exciting game of the tournament, Windsor rallied to tie the game up, only to have Mike Stephens double home the winning run in the top of the sixth inning. Windsor again rallied, to load the bases with one out in the last of the sixth, but Elmer Rippetoe, third Cabot pitcher, struck out the last two batters for the win.

With walks and errors in profusion, the two teams battled to a 4-4 tie in the third inning, with the only shining note a Cabot double play, Mike Stephens to Dale Morgan, Cabot got two in the fourth on hits by Steve Carter and Mike Stephens, and Windsor got one back on walks.

Windsor tied it up in the fifth when quarter-pint Kenny Cloud got his third straight single, followed by another by Gary Haynes. With two away in the seventh, Dennis Johnson was safe on an error and Stephens unloaded his two-base blast.

The nightcap was never in doubt as the Hilanders exploded for eight runs in the first inning. Hoover scraped only one run off Lee Waters until the fourth when they picked up three tallies on two walks, an error, single by Bert Hinderliter and double by Al Willis. Big sticks for Hiland were John Doucette with two hits, Eddie Hopkins with two hits and four runs-batted-in and Waters and Doug Thompson each with a single and double.

Cabot 0 4 0 2 0 1-7 9
 Windsor 1 0 3 1 0-6 6

Larry Farrar, Dennis Johnson (3), Elmer Rippetoe (5) and Elmer Rippetoe, Wyatt Earp (5).
 Hoover 0 0 1 0 3-4 5
 Hiland 8 1 2 5 10-16 8

Matt Braly, Al Willis (2), Bert Hinderliter (3) and Bert Hinderliter, Bobby Crawford (3).

Gridmen Hold Workouts

Meanwhile, the all-star football squads turned in final tune-up workouts for their climactic game Friday night in Rice Stadium with the south a slight favorite to cut into the series' edge the north holds in that sport as well.

The north has a 15-10 won-lost record. Three games have been ties.

In basketball, the north holds a 2-1 edge with victories in 12 of the 18 games played with the south winning but one in the past decade.

The starting five of 6-7 Bob Glover of Dallas Jefferson, 6-3 Bob Begert of Canyon, 6-3 John Godfrey of Aspermont, 6-3 Minton White of San Angelo and 6-1 Dale Dotson of Rusk made the north a favorite by a comfortable margin.

Although slower, the south seems prepared to try and fast break the north with a lineup composed of 6-8 Donald Kruse of James Bowie, 6-4 Rick Greenlaw of Spring Branch, 6-4 Curly Lennox of Clear Creek, 6-2 John Hatch of Buna and 6-1 Bill Overall of San Marcos.

Volleyballers Play at YCC

The Pampa Youth and Community Center is sponsoring two open volleyball leagues starting Sept. 9. One league will be for women and the other for men.

The men's league will consist of the first eight teams to enter and the women's league the first four to enter. Men will play one game per week either on Monday or Thursday nights while the women will play one time per week on Wednesday after 8:30. Men will play a single round robin with the two top teams in percentage of won and loss playing a best 2 out of 3 game series for the championship. The women will play a double round robin with the champion being the team ahead after the schedule is completed.

Teams may be from any business, group, church, or organization. More than one team may enter from the same place if desired. A team will consist of not more than 12 players and a player may play for only one team in the open league. An entry fee of $12 will be charged per team with the stipulation that $1 will be deducted from the entry fee for each player that is a member of the Center.

An organizational meeting will be held Monday night August 12 at 8 p.m. in the Center meeting room. Anyone wishing to enter the league should send a representative or call George Smith at the Center. Phone 2-2612 or 2-2622.

Queens Kick Off Tourney

Butts May Take Stand to Testify

ATLANTA (UPI) — The chief counsel for Wallace Butts said he expected call Butts himself to the stand today in the former Georgia athletic director's $10 million dollar suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

William Schroder, the attorney, made the announcement at the conclusion of Wednesday's testimony in the suit that grew out of a Post article entitled "The Story of a College Football Fix."

Butts, one of college football's most respected coaches during a 25 year tenure at the University of Georgia and a member of the football Hall of Fame, charges that the magazine story smeared his character and ruined his career.

The article reported that Butts conspired with Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant to "fix" the 1942 season opening game between the two schools which Alabama, a 17-point favorite, won 35 to 0.

Both Butts and Bryant denied that they fixed the game and each filed multi-million dollar suits against the Post. Butts' suit is in its fourth day of trial.

Denied Verdict Motion
Schroder asked for a directed verdict in favor of Butts when the Post rested its case Wednesday.

Judge Lewis R. Morgan denied the motion and said he would instruct the jury to consider the Post article "libelous per se" (on its face). The jury was out of the room when he made the remark and he added that the jury will have to decide whether the article showed that Butts actually tried to "fix" the game.

Schroder made the announcement about calling Butts to the stand Wednesday when a recess cut short a deposition by freelance writer Frank Graham Jr. in which Graham told how the magazine story was prepared.

The attorney also promised another summertime rerun of one of the sport's most controversial college games.

Films of the first and fourth quarters of the game were shown Wednesday in the darkened courtroom where the suit is being fought out by two old Georgia grads — Schroder and Welborn Cody — before a third old grad — Judge Morgan — and a 12-man jury.

Assistant coaches pointed out the "plot" and "pro set" formations that have been identified by Georgia coach Johnny Griffith as the alleged bits of information that Butts reportedly passed on to Bryant in a telephone conversation which an Atlanta insurance man says he accidentally overheard.

Schroder planned to run the complete movie today.

"I want to show every score that Alabama made," he said.

In Graham's deposition, the writer said he never consulted the alleged telephone notes in preparing the article.

The deposition was the opening gun in Butts' side of the libel suit.

Graham testified that he and Atlanta Journal sports editor Furman Bisher put the article together without actually seeing notes which Atlanta insurance man George Burnett said he took off a conversation between Butts and Bryant.

He said the story was written on the basis of interviews with Burnett, Atlanta lawyer Pierre Howard, who represents Burnett, and Milton Slack, a friend of Burnett.

Plowboys To Play Tonight

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Three games were scheduled tonight in the state National Baseball Congress tournament with eight teams eliminated so far and eight still in competition.

Scheduled games were Seguin vs. Houston; Seminole vs. Edinburg and Amarillo vs. the Lubbock Hubbers.

Two more teams were to be eliminated in tonight's contests.

Wednesday night Longview was eliminated with an 8-1 drubbing by Seguin. Seguin got two runs in the first inning and coasted the remainder behind the four-hit pitching of Arthur Calvert.

Joel Tiggett was the big gun for Seguin with a double and two singles that drove in two runs. Tiggett also scored twice.

In another four-hitter, pitcher Dorsey Anderson hurled the Lubbock Strangers to a 3-1 victory over the Lubbock Hubbers. Bruce Boyd got all four Hubber hits.

Gary West won the Edinburg-Houston ball game with a 7th inning triple that brought in two runs to give Edinburg a 3-4 squeaker.

The winner of the state tournament will represent Texas at the NBC finals at Wichita, Kan. later this year.

MAY TESTIFY TODAY — Former University of Georgia athletic director Wallace Butts waits for his change after buying newspapers for himself and his daughters, Nancy, left, and Paye, holding door, before today's session of Butts' $10-million libel suit against The Saturday Evening Post in Atlanta, Ga. The trial involves a Post story about an alleged fix of last year's Georgia-Alabama football game. (NEA Telephoto)

Al Downing Making Bid For AL Rookie of Year

By United Press International

Al Downing strengthened his bid for AL rookie of the year honors Wednesday night when he pitched a three-hitter as the New York Yankees downed the Washington Senators, 9-1. Joe Pepitone hit his 20th homer of the season and Elston Howard hit 22nd to lead the Yankees' 14-hit attack.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 7-3. The Cleveland Indians beat the Baltimore Orioles, 4-1. The Detroit Tigers nipped the Boston Red Sox, 5-4, and the Minnesota Twins whipped the Los Angeles, 9-4, in other AL games.

Pete Ward, Downing's strongest rival for the AL rookie award, hit his 14th homer and two singles to lead a nine-hit White Sox' attack that carried Juan Pizarro to his 14th win against five losses. Pizarro yielded nine hits and three runs in 7 2-3 innings with Jim Brosnan preserving the win. Orlando Pena suffered his 15th setback for the Athletics.

Homers by Joe Azcue and Fred Whitfield provided the power for Cleveland's Jim Grant to register his eighth victory of the season with a five-hitter. A double by Woody Held, a walk, Al Luplow's single and Larry Brown's infield out produced the other Indian runs as Milt Pappas of the Orioles was tagged with his seventh defeat.

Al Kaline's three-run seventh-inning homer off Red Sox reliever Dick Radatz lifted Detroit relief pitcher Bill Faul to his fifth win. Kaline also had a double and a single and drove in four runs to lead the Tigers' 12-hit attack while Gary Geiger hit two homers and Dick Stuart connected for a two-run homer for the Red Sox.

Harmon Killebrew's three-run eighth-inning homer gave the Twins a 5-4 lead and relief pitcher Bill Dailey's three-run shot in the ninth clinched their triumph at Los Angeles after the Angels staked Ken McBride to an early 4-0 lead. The homer was Killebrew's 26th and gave him the league lead. Leon Wagner hit his 22nd homer and Jim Fregosi had four singles for the Angels.

Pro Football Roundup

By United Press International
The Philadelphia Eagles placed Frank Budd on waivers today along with Bill Johnson, an end from Florida A&M. Budd, who was used sparingly as a flanker back by the Eagles in his first pro season last year, once ran the 100-yard dash in 9.2 while a student at Villanova University.

The National Football League's exhibition season gets underway tonight when the Dallas Cowboys oppose the Los Angeles Rams in a charity game at Los Angeles. Second year quarterback Roman Gabriel will start for the Rams.

The place-kicking department, perhaps the Green Bay Packers only weak spot, may be solved by Willie Wood, a defensive half-back. Wood was connecting from 45 yards out Wednesday.

Glynn Griffing, the New York Giants' rookie quarterback from Mississippi, was reported "making good progress" after the Ole Miss standout ran through his first workout with the Giants.

Coach Bill McPeak of the Washington Redskins had reason to smile when Pat Richter, the rookie end from Wisconsin, averaged nearly 46 yards on 13 punts.

The Cleveland Browns, pointing toward Saturday night's game with the Detroit Lions, had a longer workout than usual. The Lions eased up on their daily drills to avoid injuries.

Raymond Berry, star split end, shined on offense for the Baltimore Colts but the Colt defense stole the show for the first time since camp opened.

Paul Flatley, rookie flanker from Northwestern, will be the only first year man to start on the Minnesota Vikings' offensive unit in Saturday's game with the San Francisco Forty-Niners although four rookies will start defensively.

The New York Jets acquired veteran tackle Sherman Plunkett from the San Diego Chargers for an undisclosed future draft choice.

RIDERS SIGN TAYLOR
OTTAWA (UPI) — Halfback Joe Taylor, cut by the New York Giants Tuesday, has joined the Ottawa Rough Riders. Ottawa coach Frank Clair said Wednesday the former North Carolina A&T star will be given a crack at one of the club's offensive half-back positions.

Koufax Chalks Up More 'K' Records

By United Press International
Chalk up two more strikeout records for Los Angeles fireballer Sandy Koufax today.

Koufax struck out 11 batters in the Dodgers' 3-1, 11-inning triumph over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday.

Koufax' 11-strikeouts lifted his season total to 210 in 213 innings and made him the first National League left-hander to record three consecutive 200-strikeout seasons. It also was a league record 48th time in which he has struck out 10 or more batters in a game.

Koufax turned over a tie game to relief ace Ron Perranoski and the latter gained his 11th win of the season when the Dodgers came up with two runs in the 11th inning on Tommy Davis' homer, singles by Willie Davis and Al Ferrara and an error by Ellis Burton.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to increase their NL lead to six games when the Houston Colts topped the San Francisco Giants, 1-0, and the New York Mets surprised the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-3. The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1, and the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the Milwaukee Braves, 5-4, in other NL action.

Dick Farrell went 8 1-3 innings and Hal Woodeshick threw a game-ending double play ball to pinch hitter Harvey Kuenen to give the ninth-place Colts their fifth win in their last six home games with the Giants. The Colts scored the game's only run off Jack Sanford in the fourth inning on Al Spangler's single, a sacrifice and John Bateman's single.

Jim Hickman hit a homer, triple, double and single and Duke Snider had three hits in the Mets' 11-hit attack that brought Tracy Stallard his fifth win. Ernie Broglio, who had beaten the Mets three straight previous games, suffered his eighth loss against 12 victories.

Jim Maloney's seventh-inning wild pitch enabled Tony Taylor to score with the run that snapped his six-game winning streak and dealt him his fourth loss against 17 wins. Cal McLish pitched an eight-hitter to win his 11th decision for the Phillies.

Relief pitcher Frank Funk's wild pitch in the ninth inning let Bob Bailey score the winning run for the Pirates and gave relief ace Al McBean his 11th victory compared with three defeats. Jerry Lynch homered for the Pirates and Lee Maye had four hits for the Braves.

Sinton, Rockdale Choices As Class AA Champions

HOUSTON (UPI)—Semifinalist Sinton or finalist Rockdale probably will succeed Jacksboro as Texas Class AA schoolboy football champs this fall, according to coaches representing the 32 districts in the division.

But the coaches, polled at the 31st annual Texas High School Coaches Association School Wednesday, said that a host of fine teams in the south half of the state could bypass the favorites and go on to win the crown.

Jacksboro is expected to have trouble winning its own district this year. The defending champs have only five lettermen and two regulars returning and their coach, Chuck Curtis, has moved up to Class AAAA at Garland.

Coaches Predict Winners
Based on the coaches thoughts, it appears that Sinton and Rockdale will again meet in the southern bracket semifinals and go on to defeat northern bracket semifinalists Lake Highlands and Quanah for the championship.

Rockdale beat Sinton 14-0 last year and then went on to get slaughtered 52-0 by Jacksboro in the finals.

Rockdale has 15 lettermen, including five offensive and six defensive starters from that team, while Sinton returns nine offensive and seven defensive starters and gets the nod if and when the two meet again.

Quanah's Indians are about as well loaded in experience as the southern favorites with 15 lettermen including eight offensive and seven defensive regulars.

Lake Highlands, a new school playing seniors for the first time, has 25 lettermen and 10 starters and could be a real stunner if it can get outside its own district where Lancaster is likewise loaded with 23 lettermen.

The coaches' picks in the various districts included:

1, Dalhart; 2, Canyon; 3, Muleshoe; 4, Denver City; 5, Quanah; 6, Winters; 7, Crane; 8, Cisco; 9, Nocona; 10, Arle; 11, Plano; 12, Lake Highlands; 13, Paul Pettit; 14, Daingerfield; 15, Lindale; 16, Pine Tree; 17, Marlin; 18, Mason; 19, Rockdale; 20, Elgin; 21, Columbus; 22, Livingston; 23, Liberty; 24, West Orange; 25, Missouri City; 26, Edna; 27, Pleasanton; 28, Crystal City or Hondo; 29, Sinton; 30, Aransas Pass; 31, Freer; 32, Edcouch Elsa.

SNIDER GETS AWARD
NEW YORK (UPI) — Outfielder Duke Snider will receive a Catholic Youth Organization award as the most popular New York Met player before tonight's game with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Poetry of Summertime

Oh, to be a child again, not the child that was, but the child the man would be, the adult would be with his later-learned knowledge of what is best in childhood.

To be a child returned from summer camp, to experience the excitement of a 9-year-old, to tell his assembled and listening family "How to Survive the Forest."

To be delighted, as the child is now who writes her father, "I bet by now I can shoot a rifle better than you. I can also name all of the parts of a gun better than you."

The innocent, unsophisticated pleasure, the memory of which will last a lifetime, derived from nothing more than (as the adult would describe it) "We went fishing today, and I fell into the river. I had on all my clothes, even my sweater and shoes. Everybody laughed so much, they all fell in too, even the counselor. It was ice cold."

The happiness and pride of the child in making his permanent family acquainted with his camp family — it overwhelms the adult. The adult makes an immediate judgment, from looks and manner, but fortunately is civilized enough to make sudden astonishment appear to be sudden enlightenment, to absorb in a moment the all-favorable opinion that the child was prepared to make at the beginning and strengthen over a two-week association.

"This is Miss So-and-So, our counselor," says the bright-eyed child. And the adult gulps. Can this possibly be? Can this gangling, colorless, shy creature be so much that she appears not to be? Is she paragon of wit, knowledge, leadership, wisdom, kindness as

A Local Problem

A common defense to the statement that the cost of government should be reduced in nonessential nondescript areas is, "Where would you make the cuts?"

Well, many an excellent survey has pointed to various places where cuts of assorted sizes, many substantial, are not only possible but desirable. For instance, take this excerpt from an editorial in the Onarga, Illinois, Leader-Review:

"REA was organized during the 1930's to bring electricity to the nation's farms. It did a fine job. Today, though, 95 per cent of the nation's farms are electrified, and you'd think that this would be one federal department that had about worked itself out of a job. Unfortunately, this almost never happens. As Fortune magazine points out in its article, 'There's No

Stopping REA—Or Is There?', the 'co-ops financed by REA have grown into a nationwide $4 billion electric group increasingly engaged in aggressive, government-subsidized competition with investor-owned electric companies. Five out of six of the co-ops' new member customers in recent years have been industrial, commercial, and non-farm residential customers."

This, of course, is a national problem. But, beyond that, it is a local problem too, which affects in one way or another every community in the land. All of us are taxpayers — and all of us lose when government enters business on a subsidized basis — or when a heavily-taxed private business is prevented from expanding and doing the job of which it is capable.

TV plans a special on Cecil B. DeMille, pioneer movie director and one of the greatest. He went to Hollywood when it was a bean patch, directing "The Squaw Man" in a barn on the outskirts of Los Angeles, and then went on to make some of Hollywood's greatest films. We recall him as a man of high principle, Lurching with him one day at Paramount Studios he explained to us why he tossed off a radio job he loved, which paid him several thousand dollars a week. He simply would not contribute a single dollar of his own money to a political cause in which he didn't believe.

First monorail east of the Rockies is now in operation at Miami, Fla., where it takes passengers for a ride over an Australian pine hedge, over an area where flamingoes and iguanas live, across a channel filled with sharks, and through a 55-acre marine exhibition which is breathtaking. This new departure in transportation will give traffic planners an opportunity to see what can be done in rapid transit for the future.

The Hot Line: We just learned that Krushchev wants to scrap the Soviet National Anthem: "Inscrutable Union of Free Republics", and we feel it's long overdue. Any song with a title like that will never make a hit parade or the top ten.

Country Editor speaking: "Working in a garden not only makes those long-idle leg muscles churn, but it loosens nerves, clears away mental cobwebs, and brings contentment." We just learned that railroads in Maine and some parts of Canada have changed the horns on their diesel locomotives because they sounded like the mating call for moose. Just picture a bull moose charging through the forest in answer to such a call, and finding only a freight train. That would be enough to send any moose to see his psychiatrist, and that might lead to a batch of stories about a sick moose. We've heard enough sick animal stories already.

Trouble in Paradise Dept.: The accident rate on Czechoslovakia's collective farms has increased from 3211 in 1961 to 7348 in 1962. Be careful, boys and girls. You may find yourselves recuperating in Siberia.

A recent poll of New England employers rated recently graduated college men as being ambitious, but not imaginative. They'll change when they get married. . . . More Trouble in Paradise Dept.: Even as in the U.S. the pursuit of the fast buck caught up with 33 Hungarian officials, who were sentenced to eight years for bribery in connection with housing, trade licenses, and taxation. . . . The Soviet masters handle such matters at home more decisively: They recently shot an alleged bezzler for looting state funds from a collective farm in Kazakhstan. . . . We try to read a chapter of the Bible every week and last week came across this verse in the Book of Ecclesiastes, Chapter 10, Verse 2: "The wise man's understanding turns him to the right; the fool's understanding turns him to the left."

Memory Lane: When we would crank the old Victrola and spend an evening listening to the jazz records of Paul Whiteman, Vincent Lopez, and Art Hickman, Jazz was jazz in those days and you didn't have to be a student of music to enjoy it.

Polio affected 886 persons in 1962, a 35 per cent decline in a year. There were 6092 cases five years ago. Today's smile: We just heard the Soviet papers are playing down the Profumo scandal. There is no mention in Russian news stories of call girls. The reason is obvious: There are very few phones in the workers' paradise.

Allen-Scott Report

Senate Republicans To Ask Scrutiny Of 'K-K' Letters For Test-Ban Implications

WASHINGTON — Senate Republican leaders are squaring off to raise a nuclear inspection issue of their own in the crucial debate on the test ban treaty.

They propose to formally ask President Kennedy to submit for scrutiny by the Senate his extended exchange of letters with Premier Khrushchev on the test ban, other disarmament proposals, Cuba, Berlin and Laos. It is authoritatively known that this private correspondence exceeds 30 letters.

The GOP senators will contend that "on-site inspection" of the "K-K" communications is necessary to reach a sound decision on the full implications of the test ban pact on U.S. foreign policy.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., is drafting this dynamite-loaded request. It will be sent to the White House under his signature and those of GOP members of the Foreign Relations Committee, which will conduct the hearings on the treaty.

In discussing his unique proposal with colleagues, Dirksen is stressing that the closely-guarded "K-K" correspondence should be made available to the Senate "so we will be able to determine before voting on this treaty how far down the road toward complete disarmament the President is committing us."

"Only by seeing what is in the 'K-K' letters," avers Dirksen, "will we really know where this treaty is taking us."

In urging Republican senators to remain uncommitted until treaty debate is concluded, Dirksen explains he will seek access to all the Kennedy-Khrushchev letters and not just those dealing with the test ban.

"Since the President and his foreign policy advisers have held that all policies and actions toward Cuba and Berlin must be considered within the framework of our overall foreign policy," Dirksen says, "all correspondence with Khrushchev should be laid before the Senate in order to make perfectly clear how the treaty will affect our relations with the Soviet in these crucial areas."

LIFTING THE LID — As previously reported in this column, President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have exchanged more than 30 letters on subjects ranging from the test ban to Cuba, and from setting up an international crisis commission to a non-aggression pact between NATO and the Warsaw Pact nations.

"K-K" correspondence — which is highly doubtful — the lawmakers would learn that Khrushchev picked the time and place for the test ban negotiations.

Also that the Kremlin leader is convinced the President favors a nonaggression pact between NATO and the Warsaw Pact countries.

In one exchange, Khrushchev wrote that "in light of your Thanksgiving Day (1961) statement of my son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubel, I see no obstacle to reaching an agreement with you on my proposal for a NATO-War-saw non-aggression pact."

As a clincher, Khrushchev quoted the President's statement — "It would be helpful if NATO and the Warsaw Pact engaged in a commitment to live in peace with each other."

Senator Dirksen and the other Republican leaders feel they have nothing to lose in seeking access to these and other unpublished details of the Kennedy-Khrushchev correspondence.

If the President should let them read these historic letters, their votes for or against the treaty will be on that clear-cut basis. If the President asserts "executive privilege," as is virtually certain, those senators who oppose the treaty will have a strong argument for taking that stand.

TO THE SUMMIT — Prime Minister Macmillan is anxious to hold a summit meeting in London to advance his badly-battered party's election prospects. But in his exchanges with President Kennedy, Macmillan is stressing geographic rather than the political reasons, pointing out that London lies between Washington and Moscow. The President favors a summit conference at the United Nations in New York. Premier Khrushchev wants it to be in Moscow. Best bet is the United Nations in the fall. . . . Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, Minn., is telling colleagues the administration is aiming for approval of the test ban treaty by late August. The backstage schedule calls for two weeks of committee hearings and one week of floor debate. Treaty opponents say this timetable is too optimistic. They contemplate at least two full weeks of Senate debate and perhaps more. . . . So far, Senate Democratic leaders are sure of only 55 votes for the pact. A minimum of 67 is needed for ratification. That's the size-up they gave the President at their last weekly meeting with him. Floor leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., expressed confidence that "in the end" well over this minimum requirement will be lined up. He predicted a final favorable vote of at least 80. Basis of Mansfield's optimistic forecast is his contention that the "hard core opposition" totals only around 20.

All of us want more than we ourselves are able to produce. Scheming politicians erect on this universal desire the political, economic scheme called socialism, by which they hope to use the power of this urge to erect for themselves an edifice of vast powers over the people. They expect this will provide great privileges and luxuries for themselves as well as the thrill of power and authority over their fellows.

The socialists in England are talking about an annual capital levy to be imposed on everybody possessing $20,000 or more. This is the heart of socialism — taking other people's property and spending other people's money in a way that will get votes, power, privilege, and wealth for those who are able to set up and operate the schemes.

All those who go in for socialism, whether they be the common people or the bosses, expect that somebody else will pay the bills. They know they all must contribute but they fondly hope that in the redistribution they will get more than they must pay. This is a mirage, for human experience shows that with a few exceptions all pay more than they receive. Nevertheless those few exceptions keep the system in motion just as the occasional pay off of the gambling machine entices the multitude to operate it.

Even Conservatives have become victims of the great illusion of the benefits to be attained from spending other people's money. Prime Minister Macmillan is reported to have said recently, "A great deal of money is going to be spent by the government next year. . . because there are great things on which we must spend money." His deficit spending, of course, will be a capital levy on all the citizens of Britain because it will further dilute and depreciate the pound.

Don't bother about the pound, the Liberals say; let it take care of itself. Who cares about the capital levy imposed upon the people if those who do it reap a temporary profit for themselves?

The taxpayers have been forced to contribute a little less than 3 billion dollars to Tito in Yugoslavia, apparently in the hope of weaning him away from the Communists. Any realist knows that could not be done and the proof is the recent action of Russia in accepting Tito back into the Communist bloc. Word has just come telling of the sale of American coal to Yugoslavia for dinars. These dinars are then used to build roads in Yugoslavia. The coal is, therefore, a gift to that Communist country. At the same time, we are buying cement from Tito. Our State Department, it seems, is determined to make communism work in Yugoslavia even though it bankrupts the American taxpayers.

Two doctors in Ohio had a surprise when they X-rayed an 8-year-old schoolgirl and found that the large intestine contained spots that the X-rays had failed to penetrate. It seemed that the child had swallowed tiny fragments of metal or some other substance that blocks the X-rays as they pass through the body.

The doctors at first wondered whether she had been taking any kind of medicine that might cast shadows on an X-ray film. She had not. Neither had she been eating metal pellets of any kind.

Had she been eating anything at all between meals? At last, after thinking hard she confessed that in school she would often nibble on her eraser. It didn't taste good, but then it didn't taste bad either. After all, a girl has to do something while she is waiting for classes to end.

Then the doctors observed similar X-ray findings in a 12-year-old boy. They asked him just one question. Did he nibble his eraser in school? He did. The next step was to get X-rays of several brands of school erasers. Those that blocked the X-rays were found to contain lithopone, a pigment that contains zinc and barium.

Fortunately this compound is harmless. But, in all fairness, it must be admitted that it has no food value. We have known for a long time that infants will put anything they can reach into their mouths. We must now also recognize that school children will chew anything that doesn't taste terrible, especially when they find their lessons boring. Teachers may be able to find a moral in this.

Q — My 15-year-old daughter is very round-shouldered. Is she too old to have anything done to straighten up her shoulders?

A — There is a wide variation in what is considered normal. In some persons, round-shoulderedness is in a large part hereditary. If your daughter has always been round-shouldered, her inherited bone structure may be the cause. If, however, it is a recent development it may be due to chronic fatigue. Then, too, a child may slouch because she has not developed self-confidence. Constant admonition to throw back the shoulders and stand or sit up straight may even aggravate round-shoulderedness.

It is important, therefore, first of all to look into her general hygiene. Does she eat enough of the right foods? Does she get enough rest? Does she make friends easily? If not, your doctor may want to make some specific recommendations to fit her case. At 15, a girl usually wants to make herself look as attractive as possible. If she is motivated to want to look her best, she will give her posture as much attention as she gives the other aspects of grooming. I do not think that putting her back in a plaster cast would be advisable.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "How can the government's bringing pressure on the railroads to gain delay laying off unemployed employes improve our economy?"

The answer is that it cannot. Keeping men on the payroll who are not producing their own wages is harmful to every man, woman and child, not only in the United States, but the whole world over. Keeping unemployed men, the management believes are not earning their wages is the result of the labor unions fantasy and government interferences.

Transportation is necessary to have a high standard of living. And anything that interferes with their operating efficiently and making a profit to improve their equipment and compete with other means of transportation is harmful to all consumers.

It is an economic law that wages come from production, and the man who does not produce something that the management believes the customers make a profit by buying, is just the result of permitting the government to help establish false values. No one knows what wages should be. All people must be equally free to help establish what each worker should receive. All our progress comes from free market competition. And the government delaying the railroads reducing their costs is discrimination of the worst kind.

Possibly it might be well to let the unions strike now and let a lot of people suffer, rather than to concede and concede and concede that men need not earn their own wages. If we keep on conceding that men need not earn their own wages, as determined by the agent of the consumer, the employer, we are on the road to complete state socialism. And when we have complete state socialism starvation faces any nation that permits some politician to try to plan and set prices and wages for every human being.

If the railroads were permitted to lay off those who are not needed, then we'd have a strike and people would begin to awaken sooner. This would be better than to delay it for ten or twenty years, when we'd all go down the sewer into state socialism.

Early American furniture with a modern approach.

Early American Goes Modern

Don't Be Caught Short
When you buy an evening gown, be sure to try it on with all the underpinnings you plan to wear with it. This way you won't be caught short with a bra that shows above the plunging back of your gown.

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
No matter how often the crystal ball gazers predict the decline of Early American designs in furniture, the style stays as solid as the rock maple so often used in its manufacture.

This autumn is no exception. Even as the trend guessers were predicting that Early American would be less in evidence, some of the more forward-looking manufacturers were hiring top talent to give a new image to it.

Recently, I had the opportunity to chat with Melanie Kahane, a Fellow in the American Interior Designers association, who obligingly put together the room you see with this article to show what she thinks the modern approach to Early American might be.

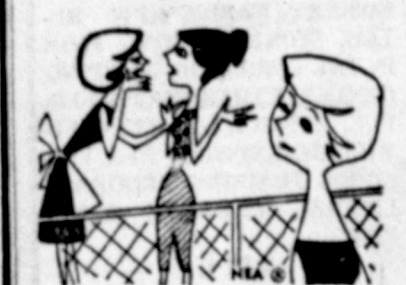

The panels, spindles and curves are mighty familiar; so is the copper-lined dry sink. The new look is the red and brass checked upholstery fabrics. Instead of a traditional braided rug, she likes the vibrant look of a gold and red striped cotton area rug.

Instead of the ruffled curtains at the window, Miss Kahane uses fabric shades in mustard with braid-trimmed borders.

New, also, is the spindle-backed couch which opens to make a dual sleep lounge, and a coffee table, a sort of scaled-down harvest table. It expands from 19 inches wide to 34 inches for supper service.

The copper lining in the sink besides being picturesque is a durable serving center for beverages. There is storage space underneath for pitchers, glasses and accessories.

Manners Make Friends

The neighborhood gossip makes you wonder what she tells others when not talking to you.

Dear Abby... The Major And The Minor Don't Harmonize!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been working for Mr. and Mrs. Smith for two weeks. I take care of their two children. I am almost 17. My problem is Mr. Smith. He is always trying to get me alone to kiss me. He told me he has no romantic interest in me, he just wants to kiss me. This man is old enough to be my father. His wife knows nothing of this and I am sure it would hurt her to find out. I can't tell my parents because they would make me quit, and I need the money for school in the fall. I am really afraid and don't know what to do.

NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO: Quit your job and go home. Tell your parents the reason for quitting, and let THEM tell Mrs. Smith. She may be "hurt" to learn that her husband is either sick or lecherous, but covering it up could be a disaster for the next young girl she hires to care for her children.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago I invited some friends over for a Sunday supper. They accepted a week prior to the day. So on Sunday morning I proceeded to prepare for the dinner. At exactly the moment they were to arrive we received a telephone call from them saying "company had dropped in" and they were unable to come. Having thawed out a nine T-bone steaks, made two apple pies, besides French fries and onion rings and salads, I was a bit miffed to say the least. Do you think they had a legitimate reason for disappointing us that way? Or were they wrong?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: They were wrong. They should have told their unexpected company that they were expected for supper. And promptly left for your home.

DEAR ABBY: In romance stories I notice that when a man proposes to his lady he takes the engagement ring along with him. After the girl says yes he slips the ring on her finger and they are engaged. What I can't figure out is how the man finds out the lady's finger size without her getting wise to what he's up to.

DEAR ZM: In "romance" stories the girl always says yes, the ring always fits and they live happily ever after. In modern times, the man asks the girl for her hand first. If she wants to give it to him, she starts with her finger, which the jeweler measures for the ring size, and they select the ring together.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "D": Since you can read your husband "like a book", why don't you skip what you don't like in him, as you do in a book? Your life's story will then have a happier ending.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Getting married? For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding", send 50 cents to Abby.

Tip for Shorties
If you're short and don't have a slim waistline, beware of wide belts. They may look chic on others, but they will saw you in half and create a dumpy effect.

Fall Shoe On Other Foot

NEW YORK — A boy's favorite cordovan shoe is on the other foot this year — his girl friend's.

The "boy look" starts at a girl's toes with classic cordovan color shoes to wear with textured and patterned socks or stockings, says the August Seventeen. Shapes, too, take a boyish bent: slip-on moccasins; cordovan with black leather in a classic saddle shoe; cowhide Chukka boots with brass eyelets; square-toed ankle boots with natural crepe soles; and mid-high boots built along true moccasin lines.

Knee socks borrowed from the boys include cable-stitched ones with striped cuffs, snow-flake patterned, stretch, argyles, and cuffed ribs.

Take It From Kathy

by Kathy Peterson

Dear Kathy: I'm 15 and date boys 16 and 17. My mother and father are reasonable about dates and trust me to choose the right kind of boy — until I mention a drive-in movie. Nothing I say makes any difference, they just won't let me go. All my friends go to drive-ins. What do you think about it?

Dear Wendy: Drive-in movies are fine for families and for those old enough to steer their own course the rest of their lives BUT — there is a BUT!

At a drive-in theater, the car becomes your own private island, temporarily apart from the rest of the world. Even though your mother does trust you in most circumstances, would she let you go to a house party that had no chaperone? I'll bet the answer is "No!" Isn't this a similar situation?

An unsupervised situation can attract teens who want to take advantage of freedom to misbehave. Don't you know of some who go to drive-ins for this reason? Even though parents trust you, they may not trust others who attend with you.

I've answered your question by asking a few, but can't you fill in the blanks?

Children Battle Nature to Save Chunk of Nature

TIMBUCTOO, Calif. (UPI)—In a weed-choked remnant of what once was a roaring California gold town, school children and their teacher are battling nature and time in an effort to save a chunk of history.

All that remains of Timbuctoo — once a bustling mining village of 1,200 population located between Grass Valley and Marysville in California's Sacramento Valley — is a Wells Fargo agency.

This is the building that John Mayer and his fifth grade students at Lone Tree School are trying to save.

The students are children of personnel at Beale Air Force Base. Their building is in sad shape. Weather and souvenir hunters have chipped away, leaving holes in the walls. Tourists scratched their names on the ravaged brick. And a sea of weeds and bushes threatened to engulf the structure.

Last January, Mayer's class voted to do something to stop the death-by-inches of the town's lone survivor.

They were told: "Go to the government, go to the bank, go to some agency for help."

"But we felt it should be possible for individuals to group together and accomplish something on their own," Mayer said.

They began to search for aid by letter. Fifth graders took turns writing superintendents of schools throughout the state asking them to ask other students to help with money-making projects.

They wrote surrounding counties to ask for a brick or stone from an historic building to transplant to the crumbling agency.

They baked and sold 1,800 cupcakes — nearly $90 worth. They begged for and were promised two windows from a recently razed courthouse.

Every Saturday the 10-year-olds themselves turned out to hack at enveloping scrub and berry bushes, round up bricks fallen beneath the building, mix mortar and help put stones in place.

Mayer said response to their efforts has been enthusiastic, but actual contributions and pledges of volunteer help disappointing.

Take It Easy On Saturday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Saturday is the most dangerous day of the week on the road.

That's the conclusion of the Travelers Insurance Companies' annual compilation of records of street and highway accidents nationally, based on state motor vehicle records.

Jailed Mobster Breaks Gangland Silence Barrier

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department says it has for more than a year been getting invaluable details on the operation of nationwide crime syndicates from a jailed mobster who broke gangland's infamous barrier of silence.

A Justice Department spokesman said the informer identified as Joseph Valachi of New York, has given details of how crime bosses operate a web of vice known as "Cosa Nostra," or "Our Thing." He has been naming names and has pinpointed crime operations in 15 cities, the spokesman said.

Valachi is expected to appear later this month before the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Details of what the Justice Department believes is a major break in the war against organized crime were first disclosed Sunday in the Washington Star by reporter Miriam Ottenberg. The Justice Department later confirmed the story.

The spokesman said Valachi, 60, who has a record dating back to 1918, is serving a life term for killing a fellow prisoner in Atlanta Federal Penitentiary when he mistakenly thought the man had been sent by the syndicate to eliminate him.

Valachi began talking in June of last year and has been under

BACK FROM PASTURE—The Charles H. Cogle, a World War II Liberty Ship in mothballs since 1948, is moved from its Reserve Fleet mooring to a Mobile, Ala., shipyard where it will be refitted to serve as the world's first floating nuclear power station. The complete center section of the ship will be removed and replaced by a new section housing the power plant, which will be able to generate enough electricity for a community of 20,000. The project, under the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, is scheduled for completion by 1965.

super-tight security since then to protect him from gangdom's executioners. His present whereabouts is a closely guarded secret.

Cities named by the informer as crime centers are New York, Detroit, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, Providence, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, Kansas City, Miami and several places in New Jersey, the justice spokesman said.

Walter Rogers Reports:

House Should Participate In Treaty Ratification

The House of Representatives has no formal role in the making of treaties. In this aspect of United States foreign relations, the Constitution made the Senate and only the Senate a partner of the President. The Constitution declares that the President "shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur."

One of the hundred separate dramas unfolding now on Capitol Hill is the preparation by the Senate to exercise this historic responsibility. Senate hearings have begun on the treaty pledging the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain to ban nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water. The crucial question, whether or not the Senate will ratify the treaty, will follow the hearings.

Members of the House of Representatives are sitting in on the Senate hearings; my House colleagues who are members of the Joint (Senate-House) Committee on Atomic Energy are joined with Senators serving on that committee and members of the Senate Foreign Relations and Senate Armed Services committees in receiving testimony concerning the treaty. Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dean Rusk came to the House side of the Capitol to brief the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Although it is somewhat unprecedented for House members to be included to this degree in the treaty process, the Constitutional power remains confined to the Senate.

I have long held that the House of Representatives should be empowered to participate in the ratification of treaties. As a legislative body more directly responsive to the will of the American people — its 435 members being more closely in touch with the folks at home than are the 100 Senators — the House of Representatives SHOULD be able to take part in treaty decisions. Treaties in the nuclear age can commit a nation to a life-or-death course; the full legislative course should run, with decisions by both House and Senate, before the United States should be pledged to international agreements.

Last year and again on January 28th of this year, I introduced in the House a resolution proposing a Constitutional amendment to provide for the advice and consent of the House, in addition to that of the Senate, in ratifying treaties — ALL treaties. So far, the resolution has yet to be cleared by the Judiciary Committee for a decision by the full House.

I hope that the current nuclear test-ban treaty situation will help provide a spur to action on the resolution I introduced. I am convinced that the attitude of the people of the United States concerning the proposed treaty would be more accurately reflected by a vote of the House than by a vote of the Senate.

The wording of my proposed amendment to the Constitution, as expressed in H. J. Res. 205, is as follows: "No treaty with respect to which the advice and consent of the Senate is required by section 2 of article II of this Constitution may be made without the advice and consent of the House of Representatives." The amendment would not alter the existing Constitutional requirement that "two-thirds of Senators present concur." It would add the requirement that for ratification to be completed a majority of members of the House present at the time of the vote give their approval to the treaty terms.

Participation by the House of Representatives in treaty-making would give the nation an additional guarantee that the United States not enter into unwise international agreements.

My own committee assignments in the House have kept me extremely busy recently. During the week of July 13-19, I presided over morning and afternoon sessions of the Communications and Power Subcommittee of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee as it delved into the matter of current broadcast editorializing practices. During the week of July 22-26, I presided over meetings of the Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee looking into water resources matters and at the same time joined the full Commerce Committee in hearings conducted on the joint resolution aimed at averting a nationwide railroad strike. These latter hearings continued this week. As soon as the Commerce Committee has made a disposition of the railroad issue, I expect to call the Communications and Power Subcommittee back into session to resume hearings on editorializing on radio and television — with emphasis on voluntary testimony from broadcasters themselves.

Atomic Electricity
By the end of 1962, five nations (the United States, the United Kingdom, France, the Soviet Union and Canada) had demonstrated a capacity to produce electrical power from atomic energy, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

In 1831, the first train in the United States to be powered by steam made a run between Albany and Schenectady, N.Y.
