JFK, Jackie Fly to Texas Tomorrow

By JOSEPH H. CARTER
United Press International
DALLAS (UPI) — President and Mrs. Kennedy fly into Texas Thursday in the Democrats' prologue to the 1964 presidential campaign.

The White House insisted the visit was largely "non-political" but at least one political speech was planned. Five other talks were scheduled.

Deer Hunt Set

Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were to join the Chief Executive and be his host at the 300-acre LBJ ranch, 65 miles west of Austin. The two men were scheduled to hunt deer at the Johnson spread.

Kennedy obviously will be pressing for support in Texas, where voters two weeks ago rejected repeal of the state's poll tax. Johnson, a former Texas senator, actively stumped for repeal of the poll tax, but opponents hit repeal as a play into hands of liberals.

First Texas Visit

Mrs. Kennedy's first trip to the Lone Star State may be the first of many campaign outings by the First Lady. She feels she "is not a" in the drive to re-elect her husband.

The Chief Executive Thursday dedicates the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks Air Force Base, at San Antonio, then flies to Houston to address an appreciation dinner for veteran Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex. The presidential party will spend the night in Fort Worth.

On Friday, Kennedy scheduled a breakfast address at Fort Worth; a lunch talk at Dallas; an afternoon reception in Austin at Gov. John Connally's mansion and the political speech at a $100-a-plate evening dinner in Austin.

Teen-ager Slain at Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—A Houston couple came home from a shopping trip Tuesday night and found their teen-age daughter beaten and strangled on the floor of a bedroom in the fashionable suburb of Spring Branch.

A nationwide alarm was out today for an 18-year old Houston youth who double-dated with the girl last week, the first date of her life.

The victim, Donna Tweedt, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Tweedt, had a three inch gash on her forehead. Her clothing was torn and disheveled and her hands were tied behind her back with a man's necktie. Another necktie was wound around her neck.

Police said the girl's parents returned home about 7 p.m. and noticed Donna's car was gone. They said the girl was forbidden to take the car without permission.

They found blood on the living room floor, along with the scattered contents of Donna's purse. While Tweedt called police, Mrs. Tweedt searched the house for the girl and discovered her in the bedroom.

Police believe the killer stole the girl's car.

Interrogation of the distraught parents and friends of the girl led to disclosure of the girl's first date last week.

Police went to the youth's home but he was not there. During the investigation, police learned the home across the (See HOUSTON, Page 5)

Italy Communists Call Transportation Strike

ROME (UPI)—Italy's powerful Communist party called a 24-hour transportation strike today in an attempt to influence the outcome of crucial negotiations to form a new government.

Buses and streetcars came to a halt throughout Italy when Communist-led workers walked off their jobs over demands for a new contract, forcing 12 million commuters to rely on emergency transportation. As usual during such strikes, the transportation was provided by fleets of army trucks, sleek private buses and ramshackle jalopies.

In Rome, Communist-led construction workers began a 24-hour strike of their own to protest jail terms imposed on 33 construction workers involved in a bloody riot last month. Non-Communist unions refused to join the "unjustified" walk-out.

As the Communists walked out, the political situation worsened. Premier-Designate Aldo Moro, a Christian Democrat, and the leaders of three other parties trying to set up a coalition government were expected to confer again in a decisive meeting today.

But rumblings of discontent within the Socialist party, tabbed as the main partner in the proposed coalition, raised fears that Moro might fail for a second time to set up a new "center-left" government.

Moro was thwarted in an attempt earlier this year to put together a new government following general elections in which the Communist party, second largest in this North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) country, picked up a million votes.

Explosion in Mine Kills or Injures More Than 20

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—An explosion in the Western Deep Levels gold mine at Carletonville, 60 miles from here, killed or injured more than 20 miners today.

A spokesman for the Anglo-American Corporation, owners of the mine, said four Africans were killed, 13 were injured and six others were missing underground.

He said it was possible the missing miners had taken refuge in an adjacent part of the mine.

The accident happened at the 63rd level of the No. 3 shaft, the spokesman added.

The Western Deep Levels mine was the scene of an accident three weeks ago when cables drawing up ore snapped and sent a car plunging 6,000 feet to the bottom of the shaft, killing one miner.

Alabamans Fear Bomber's Return

Blasts Put City On Edge

By United Press International
Police in Tuscaloosa, patrolled city streets and the integrated University of Alabama campus today in hopes of preventing a sneak bomber from striking again.

Three after-dark blasts within the past four days were touched off by the bomber. Two were in a Negro residential community and one was a short distance from the university dormitory where Vivian Malone, the school's only Negro student, resides.

The bombs, so far, have caused no injuries and done very little property damage, but residents of the community are jittery.

"These blasts have gotten people's nerves on edge," Miss Malone said Tuesday.

Police arrested a 40-year-old white man Tuesday in connection with the bombings, but released him after a few hours of questioning.

Nineteen "peace marchers" face trial at Macon, Ga., today on charges of illegally distributing literature.

The biracial group, hiking from Canada to Cuba to demonstrate for peace, was arrested Tuesday after passing out pamphlets to the pastor of a Negro church in violation of a no-pamphlet ordinance. Some of the group were charged with resisting arrest when they lay down in the street.

Led by Bradford Lyttle of Voluntown, Conn., the hikers carried signs reading "Demand freedom to visit Cuba," "End racial discrimination" and "Resist evil but not with violence."

About 100 biracial demonstrators picketed police headquarters at New York City Tuesday in protest against alleged police brutality. The group accused police of using horses and nightsticks to break up recent civil rights demonstrations.

Elsewhere in the nation:

Philadelphia: The U.S. District Court was asked by the Philadelphia Teachers Association Tuesday for permission to intervene in a segregation suit filed against the board of education. The suit, charged the board with violating an agreement to end de facto segregation and the teachers with attempting to sabotage the agreement.

Chicago: Prof. Russell H. Barrett of the University of Mississippi says his school followed a "policy of weakness" regarding the rights of harassed white students who befriended former Negro student James Meredith.

Raleigh, N.C.: Attorney C.C. Malone Jr. told the state Supreme Court Tuesday that five Negro demonstrators were within their rights when they lay down in a Greensboro street.

Anderson, S.C.: The Greater Anderson Ministerial Association has voted to drop sponsorship of annual Thanksgiving Day services in the city recreation center following rejection by city council of a request that the services be integrated.

Birmingham, Ala.: Edward Fields, information director of the National States Rights party, Tuesday filed a $1 million libel suit against the Birmingham News and columnist David Lawrence, charging they "contrived in an article to bring him into disrepute among his neighbors."

Walter Rogers Warns About Encroachment

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Walter Rogers today warned of the danger of encroachment upon Congress by the executive department.

"Congress must be extremely wary about extending any further delegations of authority to departments in the executive branch," the Pampa Democrat said.

Rogers said the "Keystone of our American system is separation of powers." The veteran legislator said in a newsletter he hoped to alert all Americans to the basic principles on which the government was built and "upon which it must be preserved."

The newsletter was a reprint of one which Rogers issued earlier this year.

Policy Makers Meet Over Southeast Asia

HONOLULU (UPI)—America's top policy makers met today in a top-secret conference room overlooking Pearl Harbor to chart a new and unified diplomatic and military course in Southeast Asia.

The meeting was the first since the overthrow of the Ngo Dinh Diem regime in South Viet Nam—and was also the first to include the senior spokesmen for the White House and the Defense and State Departments.

There was speculation here that inclusion of the three spokesmen at the meeting was an indication of concern in the Kennedy administration about previous conflicting reports and predictions on the war in South Viet Nam.

On hand for the talks were the men immediately responsible for implementing U.S. policy in the area, as well as those who must insure that it coincided with America's global strategy.

Third Such Meeting
This was the third such meeting here at intervals of about six months, but the two previous meetings had a less distinguished roster of participants.

Today's meeting included every top man in the Kennedy administration, with the exception of the President himself.

In from South Viet Nam were U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and the chief U.S. Military Adviser, Gen. Paul D. Harkins.

From Washington came Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff General Maxwell Taylor.

Felt Hosts Conference
Host for the one-day conference was Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander in chief of Pacific forces.

Spokesmen here refused to discuss the agenda, and the participants themselves had little to say as they arrived for the conference.

Harkins, who probably was a topic of conversation as well as a participant, refused to discuss reports of his "closeness" to the deposed regime of the late Ngo Dinh Diem.

Cambodia's ultimatum to the U.S. to withdraw military advisers and aid missions—and charges by the Cambodian head of state that the U.S. is plotting against him also were likely topics.

Panel Expected to OK Debt Increase Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Finance Committee was expected to vote approval today of House-passed legislation to raise the legal limit of the national debt from $309 billion to $315 billion.

But committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he would vote against the Treasury Department - requested measure. "I was against it before, and I'm against it now," he said.

Budget Director Kermit M. Gordon told the committee Tuesday that even the requested $315 billion might be too low. Under the bill the higher ceiling would become effective Nov. 20. If it is not enacted by that date present law requires that the debt limit drop to its permanent level of $285 billion. This could place the Treasury Department in an embarrassing position because, as of one week ago, its daily statement showed a debt balance of about $307 billion. It is unlikely that the government's money managers could shave $22 billion off that figure in two weeks time.

The current request to raise the temporary ceiling on the debt limit is the third from the administration since last May. Even at that Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon said it would be barely enough for the government to get through the remainder of the fiscal year.

Other congressional news:
Medicare: Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman joined the parade of cabinet members testifying on behalf of President Kennedy's medicare program for the aged. The bill now in the House Ways & Means Committee, would provide hospital and nursing home care for Americans 65 and over. The program would be financed by higher Social Security taxes. In past years the committee has pigeonholed similar legislation.

Credit: Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., was the leadoff witness before the Senate Banking Committee hearing on his proposal to bar the Export-Import Bank from underwriting or guaranteeing short-term loans to Communist nations to finance proposed purchases of U.S. surplus wheat. Mundt originally offered the proposal as an amendment to the foreign aid authorization bill last week but withdrew it after being assured the banking committee would act on the measure by Nov. 25.

Baker: Mrs. Alfred S. Novak, whose late husband was a partner of former Senate official Robert G. (Bobby) Baker in a plush seaside motel, was called as a witness before the Senate Rules Committee investigating Baker's wide-ranging "outside activities." The Senate split wide open Tuesday on whether its members should air their private income — a key issue in the Baker investigation.

Candy Barr Wants Wrapper Peeled
AUSTIN (UPI)—Candy Barr, former strip tease dancer now on parole at her hometown of Edna, Tex., applied for a transfer to Dallas Tuesday with the Board of Pardons and Poles.

Candy complained of the dull life of Edna saying, "I'm not going to be a female Rip Van Winkle and sleep here for 20 years."

B-58 Crewmen Receive Honors

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Three crew members of a spear-headed, supersonic B58 Hustler bomber, two from Texas and one from Louisiana, were cited Tuesday night for setting a world's speed record.

The Texans were Maj. Sydney J. Kubesch, 33, of El Campo, pilot, and Maj. John O. Barrett, 32, of San Antonio, navigator. The other crewman was Capt. Gerard R. Williamson, 26, of New Orleans, defense systems operator.

The three, who flew a Hustler from Tokyo to London in 8 hours, 35 minutes, were awarded the Air Force Distinguished Flying Cross by Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command.

Ceremonies were conducted at SAC headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base. The crew is stationed with the 30th Bomb Wing at Bunker Hill AFB, Ind.

Caracas Called No-Man's-Land

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—The worst outbreak of violence in the two-year Castro-Communist campaign against President Romulo Betancourt transformed the slums of Caracas into a virtual no-man's-land early today.

At least 18 persons were killed and 73 wounded in the first day of an all-out effort by the Reds to impose their will on the people of Venezuela through bullets, bombs and burning.

The government clamped a modified martial law Tuesday night on the Guarataro district, scene of the worst bloodshed in the early hours of the Communist takeover. (See CARACAS, Page 5)

BARGHOORN
... back in U.S.

'UNWITTINGLY, FOOLISHLY'

Prof Gives Details of Arrest And Frameup by Russians

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A "youngish looking" stranger outside a Moscow hotel thrust a roll of newspapers into the hands of the startled American.

"Unwittingly, foolishly," said Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, "I took it and put it in my coat pocket... almost simultaneously a couple of men grabbed me and took me to an auto."

Thus, with the oldest and crudest form of espionage "frameup," began Barghoorn's 16-day ordeal in a Russian prison. He told the story to newsmen Tuesday after reporting it in detail to the State Department.

In view of the incident, U.S. officials said they were still undecided when cultural exchange talks could be resumed with Russia in the absence of a Soviet agreement on treatment of arrested persons.

But Barghoorn told newsmen, "I hope that this experience that I have had will not destroy the possibilities of continuing these exchanges."

Recollection Is Fuzzy
The 52-year-old head of Soviet studies at Yale told newsmen he remembered little about the young man who stopped him in front of Moscow's Metropol Hotel about 7:25 p.m. Oct. 31 and asked, "are you an American citizen?"

He half remembered that the man spoke in English, but he wasn't sure. He recalled that he accepted the papers he thought they must be some kind of propaganda material. Barghoorn said he was handcuffed and taken first to a police station and then to prison. Soviet officials confronted him with the papers and said they contained "military secrets."

Some of the contents "looked like photographs," Barghoorn said, but he didn't understand what they were about because "I've never had any military service."

He was told that the "young stranger" had also been arrested, but he never confirmed this and never saw the young man again.

Why had it happened?
Always Taking Notes
"It is true," the professor said, "that I go about talking to people and taking notes. In fact I have some of the notebooks in my pocket right now." "The definition of intelligence in the Soviet Union," he said, "differs widely from the definition of intelligence in the United States."

He explained that he had been interviewing Russians on such subjects as political indoctrination, which the Russians might consider "sensitive."

Also, he said, there had been a period between 1949 and 1951 before the death of Stalin when he had done "intelligence" work for the State Department, interviewing Russian refugees in Germany.

Barghoorn made trips to Russian in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1961 and twice in 1963. He said the Russians wanted to discuss all of this past travel so "there was quite a lot to talk about."

'Fantastic' Boom Seen for Texas

HOUSTON (UPI) — Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., this week predicted a "fantastic" boom for Texas.

Fitzhugh said a 21-per-cent population increase in Texas during the current decade would trigger economic growth. A national increase of 17 per cent was cited.

"The really fantastic thing," he said, "is that the 18 to 24-year-old group in Texas will show an increase of 54 per cent."

Fitzhugh said the young age group would accelerate demand for all consumer goods and a

House Member Thinks 25 Terms Are Enough

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., one of the most powerful and colorful figures in Congress, announced this week he would not run for re-election. He said 25 terms in the House are enough.

In retiring at the end of next year "Uncle Carl" Vinson will have served a month more than 60 years, setting an all-time record for House tenure.

The veteran of the Armed Services Committee told a reporter he would leave Congress secure in the knowledge that the country was in fine shape and good Democratic hands. He said he would do what he could to see that this condition continued. He foresaw no war with Russia—atomic or otherwise—provided this country maintains its might.

Rivers is Mentioned
Vinson's departure will put Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., in line to become chairman of the Armed Services Committee provided the Democrats maintain control of the House.

Today was Vinson's 80th birthday. To the extent that his fellow lawmakers would let him

Boy, 8, Dies As Brother Did, in Fall

HOUSTON (UPI) — Eight-year-old Francis A. Engel died Tuesday the same way his brother did 16 years ago—from brain injuries suffered from falling out of a tree.

Francis had climbed a neighbor's Chinese tallow tree Saturday and fell when a fragile branch broke. Delicate brain surgery was performed, but doctors saw little hope.

Sixteen years ago, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Engel's first child, Lawrence, 6, fell from a tree and died in the same hospital.

Mrs. Engel accepted what happened without bitterness. "I don't think it's cruel or anything like that. I suppose it's just strange and something we don't have the answer to in this world," she said.

Wallendas Scheduled to Do Famous Pyramid in Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI) — The Flying Wallendas high wire circus troupe was scheduled to present Wednesday what may be the last public showing of its famous human pyramid.

The act has not been performed publicly since two of the troupe were killed and one crippled for life in a fall Jan. 30, 1962 in Detroit.

The Wallendas will perform at a Shrine Circus and the act will be filmed by NBC for a later "Dupont show of the Week" television presentation.

Karl (Papa) Wallenda said the troupe would work with a net in the circus, which will run through Nov. 30.

"My younger daughter, Carla, had to be pulled in from another circus to fill out our complement, but we will do the pyramid here," he said.

Five members of the troupe were injured in another fall early this month at a rehearsal at Sarasota, Fla.

Political Coalition in No Danger Despite Grumbling by Russell

By ARNOLD SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The political marriage of convenience known as the Republican-southern Democratic coalition has not been put asunder, despite some public grumbling by a member of the wedding.

Reports suggesting there may be a crack in the informal, bipartisan alliance of congressional conservatives arose from a speech this week by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga. Russell, the South's foremost legislative strategist, and other Dixie congressmen have had frequent occasion in the past to make common cause with Republicans to oppose liberal programs.

The Georgia Democrat heaped ridicule on House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck, Ind., for helping President Kennedy extract a compromise civil rights bill from the House Judiciary Committee.

In what could be construed as a veiled "turncoat" charge, Russell pictured Halleck as "adorned in the leather shirt and tasseled moccasins of the New Frontier."

Deft Political Punch

Was this notice to Halleck that the North-South honeymoon was over? Perhaps, but some observers interpreted it as strictly for the consumption of southern Democrats. Combining a familiar object of southern distaste — civil rights legislation — with a new and ominous political threat — the Republican party — it was a deft and probably effective political one-two-punch.

The threat posed to southern Democrats by the GOP was pointed up by an exultant telegram sent Wednesday by Rep. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., to Florida state Rep. Thomas Slade, who had announced his switch from the Democratic to Republican parties.

"More and more conservative southern Democrats are realizing the Republican party represents their principles better than the Democratic party," Gurney said. "I hope your move will motivate other Democratic office holders in Florida and the South to make this logical change to the Republican ranks."

Never Existed

In any case, the Russell speech could not signal the end of Republican-southern Democratic cooperation on civil rights because it never really existed in that field.

The coalition has operated successfully in opposition to many spending and social welfare proposals but it has been the South against the field when civil rights was the issue.

It is true that some conservative Republican senators have voted with the South against attempts to shut off debate, but so have some western Democrats. When the showdown votes on civil rights were counted in 1957 and 1960, Republicans in both House and Senate were much closer to united support of the bills than the Democrats.

In other fields, there is reason to believe that the coalition actually is stronger today than it was two years ago. The heyday of the North-South coalition was in the last years of the Eisenhower administration, when the conservatives stood fast against the efforts of congressional Democrats to pass liberal programs exceeding the President's requests. Federal aid to education and an increased minimum wage were two proposals that the coalition stymied.

Sinclair Elects New Vice President

TULSA — G. R. Brainard Jr., former president of Drilling and Exploration Company, Inc., Dallas, has been elected vice president of Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and appointed manager of the Denver division, Sinclair President William H. Morris announced today.

He succeeds R. A. Wright, who recently was appointed vice president — production for Sinclair's general staff in Tulsa.

Drilling and Exploration Company producing properties were acquired by Sinclair earlier this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Brainard, whom he married in 1933 when he was working in the oil fields near Price, Texas, have two sons, one married and one in college. A World War II veteran,

US, Allies Pledge Aid for Economy

PARIS (UPI) — The United States and its Western economic Allies were expected to pledge increased aid to developing nations today at the close of a two-day conference.

Other points likely to be included in the closing communique of the 22-member Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) were an announcement that the member nations are closer to balancing their trade and international payments and are hopeful of reaching the target of 50 per cent economic expansion by 1970.

The council wound up its talks today with discussion of maintaining a balance of international payments and adapting farm, industry and manpower policies to changing conditions.

The OECD is composed of the 18 Western European nations, the United States and Canada plus the executive commissions of the European Common Market and the European Free Trading Association.

The meeting closed as an arbitration panel of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) in Geneva was preparing a ruling on how much the common market owes the United States for raising tariffs on poultry in the "chicken war" affecting U.S. poultry exports.

OECD sources said general agreement had been reached in the Paris conference that easing of the U.S. dollar crisis is an important economic goal of the entire Western world.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
It was last April 30 that United Nations Secretary General U Thant announced that both the United Arab Republic and Saudi Arabia had agreed to withdraw from the conflict within the Republic of Yemen at the tip of the Arabian Peninsula.

The theory was that without outside help, the civil war between Revolutionary Republican forces and the ousted Imam of Yemen soon would collapse and another potential explosion point in the Middle East be eliminated.

Now, more than six months later, the civil war continues with large parts of Yemen under Royalist control and an estimated 30,000 Egyptian troops still inside the country.

A United Nations observer mission continues its efforts toward peace but a settlement seems just about as far away as ever.

Beirut observers see in the Yemen struggle an extension of a much longer conflict which gradually is extending throughout the Middle East.

Nasser in Conflict
This is the fight for Arab leadership between President Abdel Gamal Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Baath party which won control of Iraq last February in a military revolt, took over Syria last spring, and then seemingly lost Iraq in another armed coup this week.

The party functions through underground cells in Egypt and Jordan, is legal in Lebanon and has limited numbers of followers in both Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

It began as a philosophy discussed in the Damascus homes of its leaders in 1940 and emerged as a definite force in 1962 when it seized control first of Syria and then of Iraq. It has resisted Nasser's demands for one-man leadership but, as does he, professes its goal to be Arab unity and socialism.

In Yemen, there have been frequent reports of near-agreement on a government acceptable to both sides.

A major stumbling block has been the insistence of both Jordan and Saudi Arabia that whatever form of government finally is agreed upon, it must come after total withdrawal of Egyptian troops.

Disagree on Leader
But, since there is a strong belief that Yemen's Republican regime would collapse without Egyptian aid, these demands meet strong resistance from Nasser.

There is also the question of selecting a man to head a compromise government.

Mentioned as a most likely candidate is Mushin Al-Aini, Yemen's present delegate to the United Nations. But he is widely regarded as a Baathist and therefore unacceptable to Nasser.

The Baathist-Nasser struggle also extends to Jordan where King Hussein is attempting to counter pressure from Syria and Iraq by moving closer to Nasser, a traditional foe.

Oil, Gas Men Eye Prices of Crude

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—The Texas House Oil and Gas Committee met with oil men Tuesday to look into recent drops in the price of crude oil in the state.

The committee asked both independent oilmen and major oil firm representatives to appear before it and give their views on depressed conditions in the oil industry.

Rep. Maurice Duke of Wichita Falls, a member of the committee, asked for the hearing to be held on recent reduction in the price of crude in West Central and North Central Texas.

Rep. George Cook of Odessa is chairman of the committee, which includes also Reps. Duke, J. C. Adams of Lubbock, George Hinson of Mineola and Ben Jarvis of Tyler.

The committee invited all area independents and representatives of Texaco, Cities Service and Rock Island Refining to the meeting.

Dear Abby....

Intercept A Pass Another Way — Act Like Girls

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14 and I love to play football. I have quite a few girl friends who play tackle football with me every Friday and Saturday night. If girls can play tackle football as well as boys, and are willing to take the chance of getting hurt, why don't they let girls play on the team?

LEFT OUT DEAR LEFT: It's bad enough when a BOY gets his teeth kicked out. Contact sports are NOT for young ladies. You'll have to learn how to intercept a pass some other way.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married to a divorced man who has one married daughter living out of the state. She didn't take it very well when she heard that her father had remarried. Now she wants us to come to visit her, but I am not so sure I want to go unless I know that I will be accepted. My husband refuses to go without me and he says he is certain that I will be treated with respect. Please rush your answer to me as my husband has a new grandson he has never seen and is eager to make the trip.

ON THE FENCE DEAR ON: Go. But leave at home that chip on your shoulder or it will be a plant by the time you get there.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been on the same job 24 years. He has only one more year to go before he retires, provided he doesn't get caught stealing. This has been going on for about three years. I've begged him to stop, but he won't listen to me. Most of the things he has brought home are expensive, but he has absolutely no use for them. They're just hidden away. I have lost all respect for him. He has always been a clean and honest man. I can't understand it. If I turn him in, he'll lose his job and our children will be disgraced. He reads DEAR ABBY. Maybe he will listen to you.

THIEF'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: Your husband appears to be a sick man. A thief takes things he wants and needs. A kleptomaniac has a compulsion to take things whether he needs them or not. I urge you to get your husband to a doctor. Psychiatrists have been able to cure kleptomania. A kleptomaniac is as morally blameless as, say, a diabetic.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ARTHUR: Don't say you "hate" dancing if you don't know how. Learn, and then decide.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Garden Club Plans Holiday Activities

WHITE DEER (Sp) — The Hoe and Hope Garden Club had its regular monthly meeting recently at the White Deer Library. Plans were made for a bazaar which will be held on Nov. 23, at the City Hall. Members are asked to bring their gifts to the City Hall on Friday, so they can be priced and displayed.

Coffee and sweet rolls will be served during the morning, and sandwiches, pie and coffee will be served during the noon hour on Saturday.

Manor Texas fruit cakes will be sold and orders taken for delivery at Christmas. Mrs. Bryon Hodges is the chairman of this committee, and will be glad to take orders for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The Nativity scene, to be placed in front of the city library, has arrived, and plans are in the making for a Christmas Outdoor Lighting contest with the other clubs as co-sponsors.

Mrs. B. O. Bertrand is publicity chairman for the bazaar. Next meeting for the club will be held on Dec. 9.

State Convention Delegates Give Reports At Red Cross Board Meet

Reports of the recent State Convention of the American Red Cross were given by Helen Hampton, representing Pampa High School-Red Cross, and Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the Gray County Chapter of Red Cross, during a recent meeting of the RC Board. The group met in the Coronado Inn with E. B. Pemberton, chairman, presiding.

Miss Hampton extended her thanks to the Board for sponsoring her during the convention which was held in Fort Worth, Nov. 8 and Nov. 9. She reported facts obtained from Educational Relations Workshop and reported projects under way in other schools through Red Cross. She learned about other chapters and youth throughout the country and stated that she had returned to Pampa with plans to enlarge the work of the Red Cross in Pampa.

Mrs. Shotwell, in her report, thanked the board for appointing her as a delegate to the Convention and reported that the workshops were inspiring and well attended. Mrs. O. F. Kreimeyer, who was in charge of the Red Cross activities during the absence of Mrs. Shotwell, reported that she had handled four cases, and felt that people in the community did not know the long reach of the Red Cross in an emergency. She reported that 110 cases had been channeled during October.

Mrs. Margaret Dial reported that a class in Mother and Baby Care is being planned and in becoming instructors in the Care of the Sick and Injured or Mother and Baby Care.

Mrs. Don George reported that classes were being held in Beginner and Polly-wog for children learning to swim, and urged the community to support the swim team and to help with their money-raising projects.

Mrs. Jack Foster reported on the Capping Service of the Volunteers and praised the work of the girls in the hospital. Mrs. H. S. Alexander told that the parties being held by the Gray Ladies in the St. Ann's Home had been well received. She also reported hospital work that is being done by Gray Ladies.

A program on High School and Junior Red Cross was led by Joe Page, chairman of Educational Relations. He said, "The work of the boys and girls from the Children's Fund, a contribution of funds collected each year to be used for other children in an area of disaster, were great and astonishing." He went on to report that $23,427.00 was spent by the Children's Fund in the U.S. for children affected by disasters of flood, tornado, or other community disasters. Also that $1,426.00 had been sent to aid children in Okinawan Disaster. Laotian and Yugoslav disasters and those in other parts of the world have also been aided through this work of children in the U.S. He praised the teachers and children for their programs and work during the year here in Pampa schools.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Remember that survey I told you about, showing the importance of a housewife looking tip-top when her family leaves her in the morning?

A charmingly simple dress requiring little care, can give a "perkiness" that can influence every member of the family. Such a dress of practical material need not cost more than $3.

On big workdays like cleaning or doing the laundry, there is nothing better than a gaily colorful jumper apron of denim. Slip over any dress—over slacks and sweater, or slacks and blouse—and you have protection, as well as an air of efficiency.

This jumper apron can be cut long enough to wear as a shift if desired. Pockets are essential in such a jumper, so make your jumper long enough to provide ample space for the pockets.

Slip-Stitched Pocket. Turn the flap on your pocket to the wrong side, stitch each side of the flap to the pocket. Clip the corner seam, turn to wrong side, catch-stitch the raw seam edges sides and bottom. Slip-stitch pockets to place on your apron.

The side darts in this jumper are especially good as it allows garment to hang straight down from the bustline.

Neck opening of the jumper is large enough so you can slip it over your head, or a buttonhole on the shoulder may be used. The facing of the jumper should be cut large enough to extend out to the armholes and as deep as the tabs, so all can be stitched around at the same time. Turn the facing to the wrong side; stitch the lower edge free of the apron, then catch to place with secure slip stitches.

The dress is cleverly styled to be young and gay. Make the sleeves below the elbow if you like, use a hem at the bottom of the sleeves and a fitted facing at the neckline.

Pockets accent the popular A-line and add a string tie belt 1-inch wide which can tie in front or on the side.

Do strive to look efficient in the mornings, and lovable when the family comes home. You can do a lot for family morale by showing that you dress attractively for them.

White Telephone On Red Line?

FORT WORTH (UPI)—There is a white telephone in Hotel Texas' Suite 850 that Secret Service men will not let anyone touch or take pictures of.

President Kennedy will visit Fort Worth either Thursday night or Friday and will stay at the Hotel Texas. There was some speculation the white telephone was a direct line to Moscow. Other special telephones marked "White House" were sprinkled throughout the lobby. A spokesman said no one tried to keep persons from taking photographs of those phones.

Texas Gives Up On Extradition

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State of Texas has given up attempts to extradite from New York a man who was linked with the dealings of Billie Sol Estes.

Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said Monday that further efforts to extradite Maynard C. Wheeler were useless. Wheeler, as president of Commercial Solvents Corp., had dealings with Estes. Wheeler was indicted on four counts of conspiracy.

New York Dist. Atty. Richard Uviller said there was no chance of reversing a New York Supreme Court decision that Wheeler did not have to come to Texas.

Walter Rogers Reports Lawmaker Points Out Threats Facing Nation

As the first session of the 88th Congress draws nearer to an end, I think it is appropriate to repeat a portion of a newsletter that I wrote some time back. I take the liberty of repeating this because I think it is most important that all Americans realize constantly the threats facing our form of government. Well-meaning but misled individuals or groups can very easily do as much damage to our philosophy of government as a sinister force bent on destroying it. It is for this reason that I repeat this newsletter with the hope that it will further alert all Americans as to the basic bedrock upon which this government was built and upon which it must be preserved.

Our U.S. Constitution separates the power of government among its three great branches—the legislative, the executive, the judicial. Behind the very sound "separation of powers" doctrine is the theory that by keeping the three branches independent of one another, and by their authority in balance, a concentration of tyrannous power is made impossible.

Man has yet to devise a better system of government than that by which we are governed. A keystone of our system is this "separation of powers." And, despite some stir recently over a "Fund for the Republic" pamphlet entitled "The Elite and the Electorate", there is not the slightest consideration being given in the Congress to changing the Constitutional balance of power. The pamphlet is not a government publication. The "Fund for the Republic" has no connection with government. The pamphlet argues that some authority now vested in the Congress should be transferred to the President in order that the United States might act more swiftly to meet sudden challenges at home and abroad. I'm strongly opposed to any such change—to any move to reduce the power of the Congress, the people's most direct voice in their government. I'm certain the great majority of Congressmen and Senators shares my conviction, as does the great majority of the American people.

From time to time in our history, one branch or another has been dominant in the exercise of power granted under the Constitution's broad outlines. In some periods, the Congress has acted most forcefully. Occasionally the U.S. Supreme Court has acted so strongly as to be accused (and I have raised the point) of exercising powers properly resting with the legislative branch, the Congress. We have had strong-willed Presidents who wielded their powers so vigorously that they were accused in their day of being near-dictators.

Of all our presidents, Abraham Lincoln (whom we now all revere but who was a bitterly controversial President in his own time) cornered more power for the executive than any other. Consider these actions of Lincoln: Under the war power he proclaimed the slaves of those in rebellion emancipated. He devised and put into execution his own plan of reconstruction. He increased the Army and Navy beyond the limit set by statute. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus was suspended wholesale and martial law declared. Public money in the sum of millions was spent without Congressional appropriation. Lincoln knew his Constitution. He did none of these things innocently. He knew how far he could go in taking for his office the powers of a divided, weak Congress.

Thus, through history, one branch or another of our government has been in a position somewhat more powerful than the other branches. Today, in my view, Congress must be extremely wary about extending any further delegations of authority to departments in the executive branch. Because Congress has sometimes not been specific enough in its delegations of statutory authority to executive departments, or too generous in the powers it has passed along, the departments (constituting the government bureaucracy) have assumed larger responsibilities than legislators envisioned. Occasionally the Congress seeks to return to itself grants of authority.

Generally, it can be shown that the "separation of powers" doctrine has been respected, that fluctuations in the exercise of power have through history been contained within the broad confines established by our Founding Fathers in the Constitution.

A sweeping, drastic change in the balance of legislative, executive, and judicial powers could not be made without the adoption of a Constitutional amendment. So fundamental to the entire Constitutional framework is the separation doctrine that, in my firm view, no major change could be made short of the outright repeal of the Constitution—and such a step is beyond any possibility.

Fake, Then A Lateral Saves Loot

BRISTOL, England (UPI)—Like a pair of razzle-dazzle football players, two bank messengers executed a bit of teamwork Monday that foiled a would-be robber.

Pretty 21-year-old Jill Paget and Leonard Norrish, 39, were just going into a bank. The bandit came running toward them.

He lunged for Norrish's bag, which contained $1,741.

Norrish faked, then lateraled the bag to Miss Paget.

In motion, Miss Paget gathered the lateral in as she raced through the bank's doors.

The robber, discouraged, jumped on a motorcycle and got away.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investor & Weeks believes the advance in the margin requirements probably signifies an impending change in stock market leadership rather than any early end of the advance that gained momentum a year ago following the Cuban crisis.

McKibben feels tax cutting legislation is still an important factor and the market prognosis is helped as long as it seems likely for next year.

Analyst James Dines continues to counsel patience and caution until a definitive signal is flashed. Dines also points out the odd-lotter has departed from their usual policy of heavy selling on balance, an indication that the public is becoming optimistic—a major warning signal to those who pursue the theory of contrary psychology.

Ralph Rotnem of Harris, Upham & Co. says a more speculative year-end rally would not be surprising after tax selling is over. Rotnem points out that in nine of the past ten years, the December closing level has been above both November and October.

Schoolboys Hold UPI Rankings

DALLAS (UPI)—El Campo of Class AAA and Woodboro of Class AA eased into the Top 10 for the first time, but otherwise only minor changes marked the United Press International's weekly schoolboy football rankings.

San Angelo, Dumas, Dalhart and Albany continued to reign supreme in their respective divisions with the top seven positions in AAAA, top five in AAA and top four in AA remaining exactly as last week.

El Campo was named to the No. 10 spot in AAA after sixth-ranked Orange lost its third game of the year and Woodboro was spotted at the 10th spot in A when it defeated fifth-ranked Ingleside to win a state playoff spot generally reserved for last year's finalists.

A mild shakeup marked the Nos. 2, 3 and 4 spots in AA where Sinton was dropped from second to fourth and Rockdale and Denver City each moved up one notch to second and third.

Defending state champion San Antonio Brackenridge moved back into the AAAAA ratings at No. 10 when eighth-ranked Amarillo Tascosa was barely able to escape with a 14-14 tie against Borger and was dropped from the list.

Dallas South Oak Cliff and Tyler Lee each moved up one rung to the Nos. 8 and 9 spots.

In AAA, Palestine, Wichita Falls Rider, Austin Lanier and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo all took one step upward to fill the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th spots.

The changes in A saw Hallsville replace Ingleside at No. 5. Seagraves, Petersburg and San Augustine moved up two places to 6th, 7th and 8th and White Oak skid from a tie for 6th to 9th.

Spring Branch High, Corsicana, San Antonio Lee, Corpus Christi Miller, Port Arthur and Garland trailed San Angelo in that order in AAAAA, while Corsicana, La Marque, South San Antonio and Gonzales rounded out the top five behind Dumas in AAA.

Oilers Heading West To Battle Chargers

SAN DIEGO (SpI)—Given a boost by Kansas City and San Diego while they watched from the sidelines, the defending Eastern Division champion Houston Oilers will attempt to take another step toward their fourth straight division championship Sunday when they journey west to battle the Western Division leaders, the San Diego Chargers.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. PST (2:30 P.M. Houston Time) and the contest between the two American Football League powerhouses will be televised to the Central time zone. It also will be carried over Radio KXYZ in Houston.

Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy's Oilers enjoyed a week of rest and relaxation but still managed to pick up a half game on both Boston and Buffalo. Kansas City tied Boston, 24-24 while San Diego knocked off Buffalo 23-13 leaving both clubs with 5-5-1 records. Houston leads the division with a 6-4 mark. Boston and Buffalo have three games remaining but one or the other will be eliminated next week when they collide in Boston.

Sunday's meeting between the Oilers and Chargers will be the first league skirmish of the season between the two clubs that battled for the AFL crown in 1960 and 61. San Diego did manage a 21-3 preseason triumph. However the Chargers haven't beaten Houston in league play since the opening game of the '61 campaign when Sid Gillman's Chargers won 34-24. Houston won 43-13 in regular season in '61 and 10-3 in the championship game. The Oilers won both meetings last year, 42-17 and 33-27.

However the '63 Chargers team is far different from the '62 club that was riddled with injuries and currently leads the Western Division with an 8-2 record, losing only to Oakland and Denver. The Chargers will return home Sunday after completing a three-game sweep in the East with victories over New York, Boston and Buffalo.

Gillman has come up with the proven quarterback to spark his talented squad in 14-year veteran Tabin Rote, the former Rice University great. Rote, who played on Detroit's World Championship club in the NFL, is currently the AFL's leading passer. Prior to last Sunday, the 6-3 giant had completed 114 of 181 shots for 1,746 yards and 14 touchdowns.

The game could easily develop into a duel between two of the game's finest quarterbacks, Rote and Houston's George Blanda, also in his 14th year of stadium just to see the two there is 28 years of experience and that's enough to fill Balboa Stadium just tomses the two "old pros" operate.

Rote has possibly the AFL's hottest receiver in split end Lance Alworth, the former Air Force All-American who is enjoying his first full season after being injured most of his rookie year in '62. Alworth has hauled in 46 passes for 967 yards and nine touchdowns for the Oilers.

Chargers. Other top receivers are Don Norton, just returning from an injury, Dave Kocourek, Jacques Mackinnon and a c a c s Paul Lowe and Keith Lincoln.

While the Chargers have scored 21 touchdowns through the air, Gillman has the finest one-two running combination in the AFL in fullback Lincoln and halfback Lowe. The Charger pair were running two-three back Oakland's Clemon Daniels for the rushing leadership prior to last week's game. Lowe had pranced for 581 yards and five touchdowns while Lincoln was close behind with 560 and two TD's.

Although Rote has been the key figure in San Diego's superb season, second-year quarterback John Hadl of Kansas, has pulled the Chargers out of several close spots.

Borger Steamed Up, Says Scribe

BORGER (SpI)—“The Pampa Harvesters better get real up and real mad for Saturday's game, because the Bulldogs are steaming,” warned Borger sports editor Leo Dromgoole.

“Borger is pretty mad about only tying Tascosa, which gave the Rebels the district title,” said Dromgoole, “they feel they would have been a better representative for the district and they're going to take it out on Pampa.”

“We also feel that Pampa is going too far in boosting Kenny Hebert,” said the ebullient scribe, “and we're going to prove he's not the best quarterback in the district, just as we did Greg Lott.”

To aid them in trying to prove their point, the Bulldogs have the most potent offense in the district, featuring the loop's leading rusher and one of its top scorers.

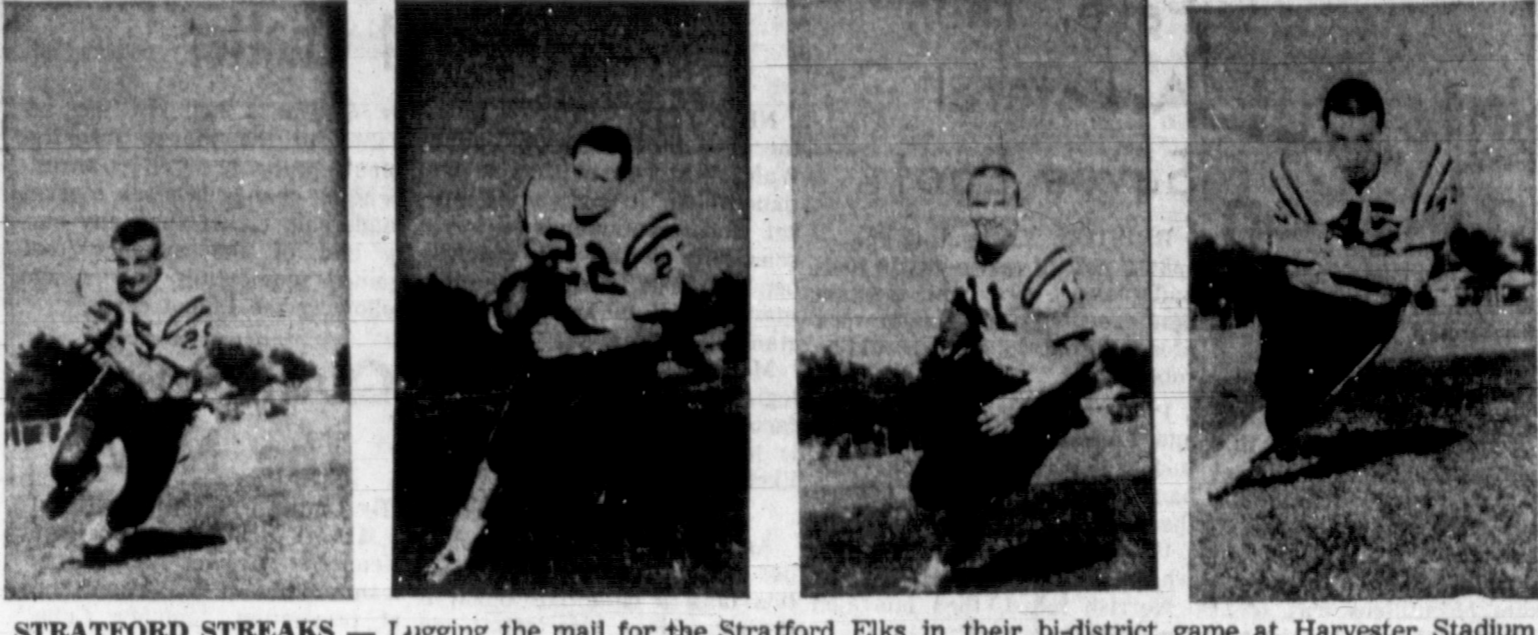

Right halfback David Dillingham, 167, the Bulldogs' top running back, is rated by scouts as possibly the best running back in the district. A 10.5 runner, he can break the game open from anywhere on the field, getting at least one tremendous run off per game, such as his 73-yard touchdown scamper against Tascosa. Dillingham was third in scoring in the district with 46 points last week, and picked up eight more markers against the Rebels. Dillingham is also an outstanding right cornerman in the Dogs' second-ranked defense.

Although Dillingham is rated the best runner, left halfback Neil Bearden, 164, is the district's leading rusher. Bearden rolled up a tremendous 604 yards rushing in his first six district games, putting him far in front in rushing and fifth in total offense.

Joe Coffer, 180-pound fullback, is Borger's bread 'n butter man, picking up those vital first down yards with line smashes and traps up the middle his big gainers. Little Joe plays middle linebacker on defense.

Quarterback Bobby Ramsey, a lanky, 140-pound stringbean, has been overlooked in the shadow of such outstanding quarterbacks as Hebert, Lott, Pat Harkins and Tom Sawyer, but does a first-class all-around job. Although Borger has stuck mainly to the ground, Ramsey can and does throw well and effectively, with the Bulldogs pulling several games out of the fire via the air. Pet target is end Big Joe Robinson, with both halfbacks taking throws as well. Ramsey is also a fine ballhandler and runs effectively on sprints. He is also a 'coach'es' quarterback, calling 99 per cent of the plays himself as coach Gene Mayfield lets him run his own game, which has worked to the tune of six victories and a tie in nine games.

SWC Round-up

By United Press International

Days of Southwest Conference grid activity dwindled down to a precious few Wednesday and three of the six active teams this Saturday were slowed by rain Tuesday.

Baylor, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian worked in rain and mud Tuesday preparing for important conference bouts Saturday. Baylor was forced into its track infield to preserve Baylor stadium turf for the Bruins' clash with SMU in Waco.

Star pass - receiver Lawrence Elkins, already suffering a back ailment, was confined to the school infirmary with flu. Coach Abe Martin ran three quarterbacks with the first team but still was undecided who would star against Rice in a homecoming game at Fort Worth Saturday.

In drier lands, Coach Frank Broyles said his Arkansas team was acting like it wanted to play well in its last game. The Porkers close their season Saturday against Texas Tech in a homecoming contest at Fayetteville.

Coach Jess Neely put the Rice Owls through light drills Tuesday, treading cautiously through small contact work because he "can't afford to get anyone else hurt."

By United Press International

Eight of the division's rated Top 10 teams made it into the Texas Interscholastic League's Class A championship schoolboy playoffs opening this week end and four of them are involved in feature games against another rated entry.

The top contest in this respect is scheduled at Coleman Friday night when top-ranked Albany, seeking its third state title in four years, opens its bid against third-ranked Goldswaite, one of six undefeated -untied teams left in the race.

The other is set for Longview Saturday night when sixth-ranked Hallsville plays 10th-ranked San Augustine in the only bi-district contest matching undefeated teams.

Should this pair wade through the first four weekends successfully as expected it would set up a replay of the 1961 finals in which Albany edged Hull-Daisetta 18-12 in the mud at Corsicana.

Other Top 10 teams making the playoffs were fourth-ranked Rosebud, which meets Elkhart at Mexia Friday night; eighth-ranked Seagraves, which plays Merkel at Big Spring Saturday night, and ninth-ranked Petersburg, which faces Farwell at Lubbock Friday night.

Few Unblemished

Goldswaite, Emory, San Augustine, Rosebud, Hull - Daisetta and Louise sport the undefeated -untied records among the 32 survivors, while Petersburg, Hallsville, Bastrop and Boerne are unbeaten but tied.

Albany, a pre - season favorite which lived up to its promise, has a 9-1 record, having lost its season - opener to Class AA Olney.

Hull - Daisetta doesn't boast the only top-grade defensive record among the survivors. Hallsville has given up but two touchdowns, Boerne and Rosebud and three each and Woodboro and Petersburg but five each.

In three of this week's bi - district games, the teams have met before this season. Frisco, which plays Van Alstyne at McKinney Thursday night, won 22-16 in their previous meeting to hand the Panthers their only loss. Bastrop, which hosts Round Rock Friday night, won 20-0 in their earlier clash, and Boerne, which plays Somerset at Seguin Friday night, beat the Bulldogs 20-16 earlier.

Wake Forest Skipper Is Coach of Week

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (UPI)—Last year, midway in an all-losing season, the student body of Wake Forest College marched on the football coach's home—cheered him to the echo and gave him a scroll indicating their support of him.

Last Thursday, although the Wake Forest team had 18 straight losses for the longest major college losing streak in the nation, 1,200 students turned out to watch a practice session and again show their support.

Last Saturday Wake Forest trailed by two touchdowns at half.

But then the demon Deacons came back to beat South Carolina, 20-19, in one of the most amazing upsets of the 1963 season. For that conquest, and for just plain courage under fire, Coach Billy Hildebrand of Wake Forest today was named by United Press International college football's "Coach of the Week."

Hildebrand, a former star at Mississippi State and assistant coach at Minnesota, never was one of those losing coaches who goes around letting on that it doesn't really matter, etc., etc. He always made it plain he thinks "it's a humiliating, debasing and frustrating thing to have your team beaten on a football field."

"Losing is like having the living heart cut out of you," he said during the now-ended streak-of-disaster. "All your plans, hopes and ambitions are dashed in front of thousands.

Pro Basketball

By United Press International

The Boston Celtics have found a man to fill Bob Cousy's sparkplug role.

He's veteran Frank Ramsey who Tuesday night broke a close game between the Celtics and the New York Knickerbockers wide open.

The Knicks stayed close to the Celtics through most of the first quarter until Ramsey entered the game and scored nine points in a minute and 49 seconds. Boston then coasted to a 126-98 victory over New York in the second game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at New York Madison Square Garden.

In the opener, Oscar Robertson scored 32 points and paced the Cincinnati Royals to a 127-102 win over the Detroit Pistons. In the only other game played the San Francisco Warriors continued their red-hot scoring spree with a 129-96 victory over the St. Louis Hawks.

Bill Russell played only 29 minutes for Boston but grabbed 15 rebounds as the Celtics won their 12th game in 13 starts this season.

Nine Boston players, paced by Sam Jones with 19 points, hit double figures. Len Chappell scored 27 points for New York, followed by Bill McGill with 23. Cincinnati grabbed the lead from Detroit midway through the first period when Robertson dropped in seven points. Johnny Egan's driving layups drove Detroit to within six points of the lead midway through the third quarter but Cincinnati, led again by Robertson, went on a 23-7 binge that iced the game.

Wilt Chamberlain's 40 points led San Francisco's easiest win of the season. Using a devastating fast break, the Warriors roared off to a 34-10 lead in the first period and St. Louis never could make up the deficit.

The defeat narrowed the Hawks' Western Division margin over Los Angeles to a half-game. Bob Pettit's 24 points were high for the Hawks.

Hoggies Holding Tenth in Nation

NEW YORK (UPI)— Delaware, a small college power which specializes in outclassing major college opposition, Tuesday ran up the highest point total of the season in the United Press International small college football ratings to strengthen its first-place standing.

The Blue Hens have won eight consecutive games this season without a blemish on their record and boast three easy victories over teams classified in the NCAA's University Division.

Delaware was ranked first by 18 coaches to build up its first solid lead (32 points) over second-ranked Northern Illinois since the Blue Hens wrested the top position away from the Huskies three weeks ago.

Northern Illinois has completed its regular season but still has a shot at first-place in the Mineral Bowl Thanksgiving Day against eighth-ranked Southwest Missouri State in a battle of unbeatens.

However, the Blue Hens could wrap up the small college title with a win over Bucknell this Saturday in their season finale.

The three-team struggle for third continued to juggle the ratings.

Florida A&M wedged past Massachusetts into third and Wittenberg also slipped past the Redmen filling the No. 4 position vacated by the Florida eleven. Massachusetts, thus settled into fifth but only six points out of third.

San Diego State retained sixth and St. John's (Minn.) maintained its seventh-place rating. Southwest Missouri climbed two notches to eighth, idle Western Kentucky slipped to ninth and Texas A&I dropped to 10th.

Florida A&M and San Diego State, with two games remaining, and Texas A&I, Western Kentucky and Delaware with one, are the only top 10 teams which have not completed their regular season.

Seven of the teams in the second 10 have perfect records and three of them have finished their season.

Canadian Takes Set From Kelton

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

CANADIAN — Canadian opened their 1963-64 basketball season on a high note last night as they took a twin bill from Kelton, the Wildcats winning easily, 47-33, and the Wildkittens pulling out a squeaker in the girls game, 52-49.

The shooting of Benny Eckles and the rebounding of Kenneth Willis and Joe Schaefer were too much for the Kelton Lions, whose poor marksmanship, from the field and the foul line, cost them their chances of a win.

Canadian slowly worked its way to a first-quarter lead in a frame filled with fouls, as Kelton hit only three of 22 free throw chances all night. With the shooting of Willis and Eckles over the Kelton zone, while the taller Cats dominated the re-

Bauer May Make Training Rugged

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles may feel like they are in a Marine boot camp when they report for spring training at Miami, Fla., in late February.

Although Hank Bauer cried to the press when he was named the Orioles' new manager Tuesday, the flat-nosed ex-Marine sergeant indicated some Baltimore players will be stepped on if they don't behave themselves.

"I'll be tough if I have to," said the 41-year-old former New York Yankee outfielder who hit the beach with the U.S. Marines at Okinawa in World War II. "It's up to the players. I'll expect 100 per cent from each man. If I don't get it, I'll take steps to get it."

When Billy Hitchcock was released as the Orioles' manager at the end of last season it was reported that the front office felt he had coddled certain players.

All this should change under Bauer. At least that appears to be the hope of club President Lee MacPhail.

"Hank has a well earned reputation as a competitor and a winner," said MacPhail in announcing Bauer had signed a one-year contract. "His qualities of leadership are what we need to put some spark into this club and change it from just another first division team into a competitor."

The Orioles, picked in pre-season polls to battle the Yankees for the 1963 American League pennant, slipped to seventh place at one stage of the campaign before climbing to fourth at season's end.

Groom Dumps UT's Tommy Stockton

GROOM (Spl) — Sophomore Jerry Roberts led the Groom Tigers to a lopsided, 57-22 victory over the Clarendon Bronchos, while the Tigerettes downed the visitors in the girls game for a twin win in basketball openers last night.

With Roberts dominating the backboard and dunking in crisp shots while Dan Craig was stealing the Bronchos blind, Groom soared off to a 10-1 quarter lead.

The Tiger second unit, sparked by the shooting and rebounding of Terry Cornett, took over in the second frame and held a 26-11 halftime edge.

The starters returned in the third quarter and the 6'3" Roberts made a shambles out of the game, taking all rebounds and grabbing off Clarendon passes, throwing them downcourt to Bud Fields and Craig on the fast break, and Groom had a 42-15 bulge at the three-quarter mark.

Roberts finished with 21 points and Craig added 11.

The Tigerettes led all the way for a 50-39 victory, with Evelyn Burgin, Shirley West and Mary Kay Johnson leading the scoring.

An opportunity to get that experience came when first Koy and then Philipp were injured. Koy was lost for the season against Oklahoma State when he suffered a shoulder separation. Philipp pulled a muscle in the Rice game and sprained an ankle against Baylor.

Starting against TCU, Stockton gained a total of 89 yards as the game's leading rusher, cleared the way with a key block on Texas' first touchdown, and scored another three-yard touchdown personally.

"We're real pleased with Stockton's play this year," Ellington said.

"Tommy takes coaching extremely well and is learning to run lower and harder all the time."

High Runner

Earlier Stockton's chief drawback was his high running. He was an easy target for tackles and it hurt his blocking. The Texas fullback has to make a key block on both Longhorn bread-and-butter plays, the quarterback option and the power sweep.

TCU defenders had both these plays stopped. The antidote was power down the middle, with Stockton carrying Quarterback Duke Carlisle would fake to the tailback and hand off to Stockton off tackle.

That play helped set up both Texas touchdowns against TCU.

UT's Tommy Stockton SWC Back of Week

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The tremendous depth of the No. 1-ranked Texas Longhorns is perhaps best illustrated by Tommy Stockton, a third string fullback in September who was progressed into a starting role.

Stockton's hard drives up the middle helped the Longhorns to beat their last two opponents, Baylor and Texas Christian, and earned him honors as United Press International's Southwest Conference back of the week.

Power at fullback is an essential ingredient of the Texas offense, built around a running attack with occasional passes to keep the defense loose. Backfield Coach Bill Ellington had three rugged fullbacks when the season opened — Ernie Koy, 126-pound junior, Harold Phillip, a 192-pound junior, and Stockton, a 190-pound sophomore.

Lacked Experience

The Longhorn pre-season prospectus praised Koy and Phillip and added about Stockton: "has ability but lacks experience."

An opportunity to get that experience came when first Koy and then Philipp were injured. Koy was lost for the season against Oklahoma State when

Quail Overcomes Mobeetie Twice

QUAIL (Spl) — Quail came from behind in both the boys and girls games to take a double win over Mobeetie last night, 69-49 and 49-45.

Trailing at halftime in both games, Leeta Neeley and Deadly Dale Morris led the Quails back for their victories, the boys' second straight over Mobeetie and the Hornets' first loss of the season.

With Big Ray Corcoran manning the backboards and hitting the crisp shots, while Eddie Vowell covered Morris like a blanket and Gerald Gubgel headed the floor play, Mobeetie took a 12-11 quarter lead and a 26-24 halftime edge.

Morris, who had been held by Vowell to only two field goals in the first half, moved outside in the third quarter and started hitting his fantastically accurate jump shot, getting 12 of 15 for a 49-35 three-quarter edge and a 69-49 final.

Morris ended with 28 points, but Big Ray took down scoring honors with 31 tallies. Billy Whitten added nine.

The Hornets, again led by the sharpshooting of Mary Helen Gubgel and the rebounding of Judy Rowell, took a similar 12-11 quarter lead, but held a 26-21 halftime margin. The Hornets built the lead up to 10 points midway in the third quarter, but the ball-hawking Hens started grabbing off passes and Mobeetie started fouling, and Quail cut the edge to 34-32 at the three-quarter mark.

Leeta Neeley started hitting in the final frame as the Hornets covered Sue Saunders and Quail pulled ahead to a 49-45 win. Mary Helen had 27 points and Judy 16 for Mobeetie, Leeta 21 and Sue 18 for Quail. Mobeetie plays at Canadian Nov. 26 in their next game.

Does Rally Over Panhandle

WHITE DEER (Spl) — The White Deer Does came from behind to win their season basketball opener, 48-44 over Panhandle last night.

The first quarter saw the lead switch back and forth, with playmaker Cindy Hubbard hitting for the Does on jump shots to match Barby Ware for the Pantherettes, and WD held an 11-10 edge at the quarter mark.

Barby continued her sharpshooting in the second quarter and moved Panhandle to a 25-22 halftime lead.

Betty Peters started grabbing off the rebounds and sinking them in a third-quarter spree, while Linda Davis took the defensive boards and White Deer moved into a 40-36 edge going into the final period.

Cindy and Betty continued hitting while Linda Hawpe and Coleen Crawford cut Barby short, and WD held the edge the rest of the way. Cindy finished with 30 points and Betty 16. Barby had 20 for the losers.

Panhandle chopped away at an early lead to come from behind and take a 34-22 win in the B team game. Sammie Boughan led WD with 10 points.

The Does play Monday night at St. Mary's in Amarillo.

Rice Tangles With Froggies

HOUSTON (Spl) — After losing to a team over which you were favored, a ball club can do one of two things (1) sadly review the ordeal and hint for sympathy by pondering the "ifs" (2) or forget about it as much as possible and try for a top effort next time out to regain respectability.

Rice partisans hope the latter circumstance develops this week as the Owls prepare for a test slated Saturday afternoon in Fort Worth with the rugged T.C.U. Horned Frogs.

Certainly the Owls can't justify any claims for sympathy from the 13-6 trimmings at the hands of the fired-up Texas Aggies. It simply was a case that for the day the Aggies were the better team and fully deserved the triumph. Rice had defeated LSU, Texas Tech, and SMU. All three of these teams had beat the Aggies. But it didn't mean a thing as the Cadets throttled the Owl offense after an opening 98-yard kickoff, return while scoring a TD and kicking a couple field goals.

The loss hurt in several ways from a Rice viewpoint. Combined with the Texas victory over TCU, it mathematically eliminated the Owls from even an outside chance to tie for the Southwest Conference title. It shot the chance to have the best Rice season record in a decade.

Trull Leading School Passer

NEW YORK (UPI) — When experts sagely labeled this the "year of the quarterbacks," they didn't expect it to go this far: The boys under the center are leading the country in passing, naturally, and total offense, which figured.

But they're also on top in punting, which is a surprise, have been among the leaders all year in kickoff runbacks, place kicking and scoring, which is a bigger surprise and now, of all things, threaten to take over the country in rushing, too.

Today's NCAA Service Bureau statistics show Gale Sayers leading the rushers and he, predictably, is a halfback. But wait a minute! Right behind Sayers, in good position to overhaul the leader, is Jimmy Sidle of Auburn and he is a T-quarterback. Sayers has a 14-yard lead over Sidle and one game to play (Missouri). Sidle has two games to play (Florida State and Alabama) and is the only one of the rushing leaders who has been averaging more than 100 yards per game.

Don Trull, Baylor quarterback, is the leader in passing and total offense, and the punting leader is SMU's Danny Thomas, another quarterback.

Trull's sprint to the top in passing also put him in sight of a couple of records. His 1860 air yards leaves him 145 short of the major record of 205 by Nevada's Stan Heath in 1948 and he's only 17 completions short of the all-time record of 359 by Don Klosterman for Los Angeles Loyola in 1951. With two more games, Trull seems certain to knock over both records since he's averaged 232.5 yards and 17.5 completions per outing.

Education or Civil Rights

Most parents assume that the President's Civil Rights Bill as it applies to schools has "something" to do with desegregation. It has, but that is only the beginning. Actually, the bill brings Federal control into a whole new area of school policy. The President is asking for the right to dictate not only pupil assignments in local schools, he is asking, as well, for power to approve faculty, censor textbooks, and to change curricula.

One form of this power comes from the section of the bill which allows the President or his appointees to cut off Federal aid in any program, if the President's conditions are not met. The child who drinks Federal milk at lunchtime must also be taught the Federal curriculum. If the President or his agent believe that a social studies textbook is inaccurate in matters of race or religion, Federal aid could be withdrawn where the textbook is used.

The President's Civil Rights Bill would amend every Federal financial assistance act passed by Congress to date. School cafeterias, gymnasiums, athletic facilities, school buildings, laboratories, vocational education programs, lunch programs, scholarships, and every form of grants-in-aid would all be subject to cancellation and political manipulation.

It is noteworthy that every school, public and private, would be under the President's dictates, if that school accepts any Federal financial program. From grade school through college and graduate school, every institution enjoying Federal benefits would be subject to administrative orders of the President regulating personnel, pupil assignment, and course content.

Under Titles IV and VI of the President's bill, such local school districts could not determine what the children should be taught. Administrators could not assign pupils, even within schools, if Federal inspectors found these assignments produced de facto racial or religious segregation. Teachers and professors, even at the highest levels, could not present conclusions honestly arrived at, if there was a conflict with the President's policy.

The power to cut off Federal funds is not merely negative. Those who have already accepted Federal funds can be compelled by foreclosure and blacklisting to meet the President's new standards.

Moreover, the President's bill sets up new kinds of Federal aid to induce local school districts to integrate. Unlimited grants are provided for "training schools" to mold teachers and administrative personnel to the Federal interpretation of the bill.

The bill provides large fees for integration specialists to analyze local situations, and to advise on "problems incident to desegregation." Moreover, the Commissioner of Education, at his discretion, may send agents to assist school board "in coping with such problems."

As broad as these powers are, the President is asking for even broader powers for his brother, the Attorney General. The bill allows the Attorney General not only to intervene in any desegregation suit in the country, but to institute actions in the name of the United States. Such intervention is left to the will of the Attorney General, and gives him power—without any actual limitation—to institute suits against state and local governments.

This action gives to one man a power which has never before existed. It extends the control of the Federal government over state and Federal governments in an entirely new way, and opens up new opportunities for intimidation and thought control. It demonstrates why some observers say, in this bill, a thimbleful of civil rights is drowned in a bucket of Federal control.

And this new power of the Attorney General to bring suit can also affect the rights of local school boards. For previously, the Attorney General could assist only in private suits. Under the new power to initiate suits in the name of the U.S., defendants could lose the right of jury trial. In any contempt actions arising out of U.S. suits, local school officials would be tried by the very judge whose order was allegedly disobeyed.

For all of these reasons, both parents and teachers are becoming concerned about the far-reaching effects of the President's civil rights bill. Many Senators and Representatives have received letters from parents who feel that dangerous precedents are being set in the sweeping attempt to legislate for civil rights.

Control invoked today for the sake of one cause may turn out to be control for another cause tomorrow. Parents who realize the potential danger to the minds of their children understandably are urging their Representatives and Senators to defeat "The Civil Rights Act of 1963."

Shackles
The purpose of all government is to control. No purpose is more dangerous. While few could object to restraints placed upon evil persons, governments as they are organized in fact, must begin by placing restraints on good men so the money will be available by means of which evil persons may be restrained.

"A Sham"
The Consumer Advisory Council, one can safely say, is not widely known. It is among the youngest of the federal government's almost endless bureaus. Very recently it submitted its first report, in which it dealt with current upward price trends. To quote it directly, "Our responsibility to the American consumer requires us to give attention and study to this subject in order to determine whether such increases appear to be justified from the consumer point of view."

Now, it should be obvious to anyone that price increases may be justified for any number of reasons other than "the consumer point of view." The consumer, naturally, wants to buy things as cheaply as possible. But the manufacturer and the retailer must pay wages and rents and taxes and all the other costs, and these must be reflected in the selling price of the product. And, in a long editorial concerning the Council, Baron's Business and Financial Weekly, made this important point: "In theory as well as in practice, the organization is a sham. For contrary to the device tenets of the powers-that-be, consumers do not constitute a special pressure group with special needs; everyone is a consumer. Furthermore, as anyone in business will be glad to testify, in a society which enjoys freedom of choice, the consumer can take care of himself. The government is there to prevent the use of force or fraud. Beyond that, it would do best to make itself scarce."

What is the consumer's surest and most effective protector? It is the competitive free enterprise system itself. As every housewife knows, the makers and sellers of goods of every conceivable kind are constantly soliciting her business. This is done in every legitimate way, to take just one example, by the retail industry—in lower prices, better stocks, more attractive advertising, higher standards of service, and so on. And the end result is top possible value for the consumer's dollar.

The next time you enjoy an order of French fried potatoes give thanks to Louis the Fourteenth. Once, when inspecting his army, he was late for a luncheon engagement at a certain field headquarters. The food was kept hot over steam, but the cook was frantic because the potatoes, unfortunately fried ones, were limp and cold. Finally, the monarch arrived. In desperation the cook immersed the potatoes in hot fat for the second time. Voilà! He brought forth a dish that made him rich and famous—French fried potatoes.

PROFIT—KEY TO HUMAN RIGHTS
By Tom Anderson
Publisher, Farm and Ranch Magazine

Recently key people in a company I am associated with were asked to answer a list of questions. First question was: "What is this company in business for?"

Not one person gave the right answer. Answers were "to serve farmers," "to help farm people farm and live better," etc.

Constructive Motive
They're good answers. But the number one reason for being in business is to make a profit. That is the first obligation of any business. And that is the first point at which I fall out with co-op leaders. They deny they're in business for profit. That's merely a device to avoid taxes that other people have to pay.

The bureaucrats take great credit for what they've done for agriculture. And much credit is given to the American farmer for the tremendous job he has done. But usually overlooked is the fellow who deserves the greatest credit of all, the American businessman.

Aside from the fact that America is a natural paradise, probably the number one reason American agriculture leads the world is that American farmers have the most and the best machinery and equipment in the world and the American housewife has the world's most efficiently marketed farm products.

Our great manufacturing systems and distribution systems were built mainly by tax-paying, private companies, not by co-ops.

The co-op way is essentially socialistic: "savings" instead of profits; one vote per member, regardless of "stock" owned.

Contrast
I'm for the American free enterprise, capitalist, profit and loss system in spite of the fact that it doesn't seem to pay these days to stand up and proclaim such openly. I'm for the system because it produced the highest standard of living for the highest percentage of people in human history. And, also, the highest degree of freedom. I'm for the system because it is right, economically, practically and morally. The co-op way, the socialist way, is not the wave of the future; it's the wave of the past. Socialism has been a miserable failure for a thousand years.

Our children are being taught in some schools and Sunday Schools that the profit motive is wicked. That's a lie. The Bible is replete with approval of private ownership and private gain. Private property and private profits are the basis of "human rights." That's the reason the Holy Commandments say, "Thou shalt not steal."

The Doctor Says

Polluted Air Is Messenger Bearing Disease and Death
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

If someone handed you an inhaler and told you it was full of poisonous chemicals I trust you would not sniff it. We are, however, all exposed to many poisons in the air. Why then are we not all sick?

Under favorable conditions air currents dilute and disperse most of the polluting substances. But the fact remains that we are simply not aware of how much quiet damage long-term exposure is doing until we develop one of the chronic respiratory diseases.

Some air pollutants are capable of causing lung cancer. It has been found that prolonged exposure to them is associated not only with a high incidence of lung cancer but also of stomach cancer.

Such exposure is responsible also for an increase in bronchial asthma and infections of the nose, throat and sinuses. Smog can make you cry, sneeze and cough, and in those who are already in a weakened condition or are suffering from a chronic respiratory disease, it can kill.

It can temporarily paralyze the cilia in the lungs and thus interfere with the natural cleansing of that organ. Furthermore, asthma can definitely be aggravated by community-wide burning of leaves in the fall.

Studies show that persons who have been made sick by severe smog and have recovered have a much greater susceptibility to future respiratory diseases than their neighbors who are not made sick. Thus, the ill effects on one's health may persist for many years.

As though this were not enough, consider the fact that the cost of air pollution in crop destruction, disease in livestock, erosion of stone and metal surfaces of buildings, increased need for laundry and dry cleaning, and damage to painted surfaces has been estimated to be $7.5 billion annually.

If steps are ever taken to control air pollution it may well be for these reasons rather than for reasons of health.

In attacking the problem each community must have exact knowledge of what pollutants are present locally and how they are causing injury. One of the chief reasons for a lack of progress in air pollution control has been the fact that there is no simple universal solution and that as industrial methods change the types of pollutant change. The only way to get rid of pollutants in the air is to control them at their source. Ordinances aimed at controlling smoke from furnaces have helped in many cities.

In the past 25 years we have learned much about the causes and effects of air pollution but little has been done to control it. Air pollution is a man-made problem. Man must find the answer or risk ever increasing impairment of his health.

Each American uses 58 pounds of paper in 1899; today's figure is more than 410 pounds.

Edson In Washington Scandals: Ill-Timed Tag On U.S. Pay Increase Bill

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The $600 million-a-year pay increase for 1.8 million government employees just approved by the House Civil Service Committee is only the first step.

The bill may be amended as it proceeds through the congressional grinder and it might even be killed, though that isn't considered likely.

But the raise could hardly have been brought out at a worse time. For the standing of public servants is now near an all-time low.

The late House speaker Sam Rayburn once summed up an earlier but similar situation this way: "Toward the end of the Truman administration, we got a little bit careless."

The result was that in the 1952 elections the Democrats lost not only the White House but also majority control of both houses of Congress.

The implication today is that if the Democratic administration in the White House and in Congress doesn't tighten up its operations, it will deserve to lose the 1964 elections.

This increasingly heard political criticism is inspired, of course, by the conflict-of-interest charges and questions of ethical conduct involving government officials.

There may be nothing legally wrong in some of these cases. But it did not sit well with public opinion to have former Navy Secretary Fred Korth charged with soliciting business for his bank while holding high government office.

The charges by Rep. Oliver P. Bolton Jr., R-Ohio, against Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz for soliciting lobbyists and trade association representatives to buy $100 tickets for a reception honoring Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., reflect credit on neither. They are too similar to Interior Secretary Stewart Udall's famous roundup of oil company representatives for a Democratic dinner.

The current investigation into the possible conflict-of-interest activities of former Senate Majority Secretary Robert G. Baker is merely the latest example of loose administration in Congress.

Before that, there was the record of House clerk Ralph R. Roberts using a government car for travel to race tracks outside of Washington.

Elected congressmen have been involved, as well as their staff assistants. Former Rep. Thomas F. Johnson, D-Md., was sentenced to six months imprisonment for conspiring to use influence to get a mail fraud charge dropped. Rep. Frank Boykin, D-Ala., was spared imprisonment because of bad health, but was fined $40,000 in the same case.

The old racket of putting relatives and even friends on the congressional payroll is still practiced flagrantly by both senators and representatives in spite of repeated exposures which seem to do no good.

The scores of senators and representatives holding reserve commissions in the U.S. armed services, exposed by Scripps-Howard reporter Jim Lucas, forced a mild congressional inquiry but no general corrective action.

The nation was shocked by disclosures that James M. Landis, former government administrator and Harvard Law School dean, filed no income tax returns over a period of years. A similar charge recently was filed against Herbert K. May, 18-year Treasury official and deputy assistant secretary of state.

And it was only a year ago that Internal Revenue Service renewed action against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., to collect nearly $50,000 in back income taxes and penalties.

The chiseling fever affects the lowest ranks in government as well as the highest. Witness General Accounting Office evidence that 85 District of Columbia employees were out driving taxis when they were supposed to be working for Uncle Sam.

Not all government employees should be condemned for these excesses by a few. The vast majority are loyal, efficient and in many cases distinguished public servants.

Republican administrations have their crooks as well as the Democrats, and throwing the rascals out is good American political practice.

But if the Democrats want to be returned to power in 1964, and if they want to merit any general pay and salary raises, they have a job to do in raising the standards of conduct in government.
