Pa Pampa, before he left for his trip to the North Pole last week, asked us to take care of his incoming mail.

Well, a letter has come for Pa which we are taking the liberty to publish before he gets back to Pampa next Saturday. It's from one of his correspondents who signs herself, "Ma McLean."

Apparently Ma McLean and Pa Pampa were schoolyard chums. Having been in these parts for only about six months we can't quite appreciate what should go between the lines of Ma's letter to Pa. However, we feel that Pa will understand and be delighted to get this note from an old friend.

Meanwhile, we're going to contribute some of our space today to print the letter from Ma McLean for the benefit of others who may recall schooldays of Pa Pampa and Ma. And we hope that when Pa gets back he won't be angry with us for making his personal mail public. Here's the letter:

"Dear Pa Pampa: Ever since your first letter in the paper I've wanted to write and renew my acquaintance with you, but modesty held me back. Time was when you and I were nearer the same size. That was when we were growing up. Ah! those were the good old days!

"I laugh every time I think of how every member of my family used to climb in the wagon and drive over to spend Saturday and Sunday with your folks and how sometimes we'd get there in time to see you dragging in the wash tub so that all you kids could take their Saturday night baths.

"And then, as we grew older and started to school, do you remember how we used to get up on the stage and say our little speeches to the judges at the Interscholastic League meet and how sometimes you'd win and sometimes I'd win?

"But now we've grown up—that is you have. I know I didn't take as big a dose of oil as you did that year we all had colds, but oil was such a dirty thing that I thought I'd rather try the vegetable and fruit diet, but now I see my mistake. I should have taken the oil. It's made a man out of you.

"I'm full of pep and so are my boys who run my business for me, so I can't see why I don't grow like you do. Maybe it's because I'm a woman (but if I AM a woman, I'm no slazy) but I believe it's because of my failure to teach my children the value of whole-hearted cooperation. They're a good sort, my children, and deep down in their hearts they want to see me grow but here's the secret, Pa, and don't you breathe it to a soul: They love me so much that they are sometimes jealous of each other's attentions toward me. I worry about their jealousies and lack of cooperation and when I worry I can't grow.

"It seems whatever you try to put over, goes over with a bang. I know you are too busy this time of the year taking care of your needy children and making plans for Santa Day to take time out to think much about me, but I think we ought to get together more. I need your stronger arm. My boys need to meet your boys and my girls would enjoy having tea with your girls.

"Now, Pa, I'd like to write you once a week and tell you all about my children, for they are good children, now that they are growing up. There's Charlie, who's the town's law, and a good one, too; Elizabeth, who teaches school, and Jim, who's made a preacher whom every one likes, and so many more—but are you interested?

"Your old time friend,
"MA MCLEAN."

We can't speak for Pa Pampa, but on the face of things we see no reason why he shouldn't be interested. However, Ma, if we were you—we'd just go right on writing to Pa every now and then.

TOY MATINEE WILL BENEFIT MANY KIDDIES

LESS-CHANCE CHILDREN WILL BE MADE HAPPY

Scores of less-chance children of Pampa will enjoy the toys they should have at Christmas time if there is a good response to the toy matinee at the LaNora theater Friday afternoon.

The hero of the feature picture will be that childhood favorite of all boys and girls, Tarzan, who will be played by Johnny Weissmuller. The name of the picture is "Tarzan Escapes." It is said to be even better than the other Tarzan movies.

All children under 12 will be admitted free to the LaNora if they bring a toy. Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion which is sponsoring the toy matinee is expecting several hundred toys. These will be turned over to the fire department for repainting and repairing. Then they will be given to Santa Claus for distribution to children of needy parents.

Final plans for holding the matinee will be made at a meeting of the Legion post tonight at the hut. The hour which will symbolize failure for certain members in the Legion membership campaign will be on display at the meeting. The donkey will be tied in front of the houses of Legionnaires who failed to reach their quota in the membership drive.

SANTA'S POSTOFFICE TO BE OPENED HERE

Santa Claus' postoffice, in West Foster street directly opposite from Uncle Sam's postoffice, will be opened tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce officials have made arrangements to have the postoffice open here for children who wish to mail their letters to Santa Claus.

Just address them to Santa and take them to his branch postoffice here and drop them in the slot marked "Santa Claus Letters."

Appointive Officers Also Named by Lusby

Commander H. P. Lusby of the Pampa chapter, Veterans of Foreign Wars, last night announced his committees and released the names of members to appointive offices at one of the largest meetings of the year.

H. G. Lawrence, a member, gave an interesting talk on his experiences in the German war camp where he was held prisoner for several months after being severely wounded.

Instead of conducting a membership campaign, the immediate activity will be interesting the present and former members in the organization and collection of the 1937 dues.

Chapter officers, elective and appointive, are:

LONDON TIMES RAPS EDWARD IN EDITORIAL

'THE AFFAIR SIMPSON' NEARING CRISIS IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Possible breakup of the British realm with the Duke and Duchess of York as King and Queen of Scotland was hinted today in an editorial in the London Times.

The article, which did not mention King Edward's friendship with Mrs. Wallis Simpson, was interpreted by some readers as the strongest veiled reference to "the affair Simpson" which has yet appeared in England.

At the same time it was learned the friendship of the king and Mrs. Simpson had been placed on the "permanent agenda" of the British cabinet.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and his ministers held their regular session today, and it was reported the meeting, after skipping hurriedly over the Spanish situation, delved with great interest into the newest repercussions on the royal romance.

Many thought that a bishop's reference to the monarch's spiritual "need" and the resultant echoes in the provincial press met with the ministers' enthusiastic approval, as being in line with their campaign to make the king share their views that the situation is serious.

At the same time, observers emphasized the ministers were trying to "bring the king to his senses," if possible, without making him angry.

Attractions of Santa Day, Saturday, Outlined

Final touches were being placed today on plans of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce to entertain thousands of visitors here Saturday on the occasion of the sixth annual Santa Day celebration.

Boys and girls and their parents from towns and communities within a 50-mile radius of Pampa are expected to come here Saturday for the holiday observance which will mark the formal opening of the Christmas season.

The day's program will be opened at 8 a. m. with radio broadcasts from the rocket ship carrying Santa Claus, Pa Pampa and their masked pilot back from Santa's toy wonderland at the North Pole.

This broadcast will go out over KPND and may be tuned in on any radio set or heard over the public address system in downtown streets. KPND expects to contact the rocket ship early Saturday morning and keep in touch with it at 15-minute intervals until it lands at city airport.

Santa, Pa Pampa and the masked pilot will ride together in the big Santa Day parade through Pampa streets.

First free entertainment on the day's program will be a free movie show for children at the LaNora or Rex theaters. Tickets to school children in surrounding towns were being distributed today.

The KPND broadcasts from Santa's rocket ship will continue through the forenoon and at 10:50 a. m. there will be a Christmas carol broadcast over the loud speaker system on the streets.

The Santa Day parade will begin moving at 11 o'clock from its position near the Merrick & Boyd Lums.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM
Bill Anderson was worried about one pair of missing football shoes yesterday. That represented the total loss in football players' equipment this season.

As the custodian of Harvester athletic suits, footballs, shoes, socks, Mr. Anderson is strict, persistent and hard-headed when it comes to keeping track of the equipment in his care. No longer is it possible for departing athletes to lay up a supply of sweat shirts, shoes, coats, towels, basketball shoes for future use or as "souvenirs" as they used to do with the excuse that they "earned them." When the boys get in a hurry or try to rush him, Bill tells them to take it easy, like yesterday when 40 football boys were trying to check in suits at the same time 25 basketball boys were trying to check out their equipment. "Hold it boys, we'll get to you by 'n' bye!"

Bill advised calmly as yells of "my shoes don't fit!" "I haven't got any trunks!" "My socks have got holes in 'em!" "My jockey strap comes down!" were heard.

"You can always tell what kind of an athlete a boy is or is going to make by the way he acts and what he says in the dressing room. That's a test that never fails," Bill said.

CAR TRIP TO TEXAS TAKES EIGHT YEARS

BRAZILIANS ARRIVE AT HOUSTON FROM RIO

HOUSTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Three weary travelers paused today en route to Washington, D. C. after an eight-year automobile trip from Rio de Janeiro.

Jungles, deserts, wild animals, hunger and desolation were among the obstacles Commander Leonidas de Oliveira and Mechanic Mario Fava of San Pablo, Brazil, and Observer Lopez de la Cruz of Santa Catalina, Brazil, overcame on their 15,000-mile journey.

Sent as a commission by El Globo of Rio de Janeiro and El Comercio of San Pablo, Brazilian newspapers, the men collected data for a proposed Pan-American highway. Such a highway, they said, would make the trip a matter of days instead of years.

They left Rio de Janeiro April 16, 1928, in two automobiles. They crossed Brazil, Paraguay, Argentina, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, El Salvador, Guatemala and Mexico before entering the United States. Often they had to make their own roads and many times they were without food and water.

Oliveira described the dreaded Matto Grosso jungle of the Amazon as the scene of their worst experiences.

"Many months at a time we did not set eyes upon a human being," he said. "We were continually menaced by wild animals and we frequently wondered whether we would get out alive. We were forced to hew a road almost across Brazil and in uncharted and unexplored regions of other nations."

The trip taxed their ingenuity. When no gasoline was available alcohol and kerosene were used. Melted lard was substituted for oil. Natives taught them how to obtain water from certain plants and they ate roots and herbs.

They said pumas, javelinas and serpents were a constant threat in the Amazon tropics.

Their next scheduled stop was Austin, where an official welcome from Governor James V. Alfred awaited.

Home Decorations Urged by Jaycees

Decoration of homes, both inside and outside, is urged by the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce, sponsor of Santa Day. Although the "big day" comes Saturday, Pampans will be given until Dec. 19 to decorate their homes.

The committee in charge of home decorations, O. K. Gaylor, chairman, has secured $90 for prizes. Although all details have not been worked out, it is believed the city will be divided into four sections with one or two prizes being given in each of the sections. Plans may be worked out whereby cash prizes will be given for best interior decorations, visible from the street, as well as for exterior decorations.

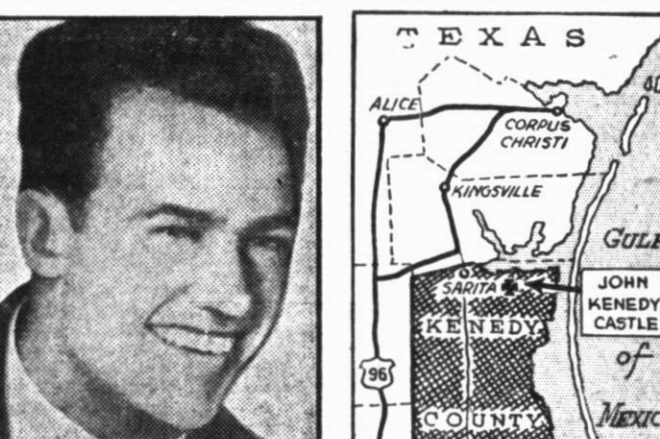

A secret committee will judge the decorations on the night of Dec. 19 and their decisions will be final.

Talks will be made at all civic club meetings urging members to decorate their homes.

Mrs. H. F. Barnhart has returned from Amarillo where she spent Thanksgiving and the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Smith and Mr. Smith.

Where Hunters Vanished on Ranch

What has happened to Luther and John Blanton, San Perilita, Texas, ranchers, and two Mexicans swallowed by the 1,000,000-acre King Ranch, which they entered to hunt ducks? That's the mystery tantalizing all the Texas gulf coast. Guarded by 1,000 Mexican cowboys and a formidable frontier of fences, the King Ranch is known as the "Walled Kingdom"—private property entered for a strip one-half mile all around its border, which is a state game preserve. Harley Blanton (upper) stands at the place where his father and brother (shown lower left) went through the ranch "wall" to hunt and refreshment. He is seen again. According to local tradition eight men have disappeared into the vast domain during the past 15 years. Starting near San Perilita, the King ranch embraces most of Kenedy county (shaded area on map), where John Kenedy, grandson of the man for whom it was named, maintains an isolated castle retreat. The property is in the process of division among the heirs of Mrs. Henrietta King.

PUBLIC FORUM IS SCHEDULED

PAN-AMERICAN PEACE CONFERENCE TO BE DISCUSSED

E. N. Denard, assistant principal of Pampa high school, will lead the discussion tomorrow afternoon when the International Relations Group of the American Association of University Women holds the second in a series of 5 o'clock public forums in the city club rooms at City Hall.

Officers of the University club said today the forums are being conducted as a civic enterprise and the forum discussions will be open to anyone who desires to attend.

A member of the international relations group said today: "We hope that this public forum will be a place where eventually Pampans of every social and economic group who are leaders in their spheres may meet on an equal footing and discuss freely world affairs."

"We hope to have at each meeting a leader who knows the subject in hand and then invite others present to draw their wise conclusions and talk them over on common ground."

"The forum should be fruitful to all, and, if course, it has had excellent results in other cities throughout the nation."

At the second forum meeting at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening, Mr. Denard will have as his topic discussion on the Pan-American Conference.

The masked pilot says he plans to circle the city once in the rocket ship and then set it down at the airport.

I would like for the Jaycee Santa Day committee to have cars at the airport not later than 10:30 a. m. to carry Santa, the masked pilot and me into town so that we can get onto our special float in the parade. We will be pretty tired by the time we get there and I'd like to have Santa shown every consideration possible. As you know, he will have to leave shortly after the parade and return to the North Pole and complete his Christmas work.

MANY WOMEN AND CHILDREN DIE IN RAID

BETWEEN 30 AND 100 KILLED IN SWIFT BOMBING

MADRID, Dec. 2 (AP)—Sixteen Fascist bombers, smashing Madrid houses to splinters, killed between 30 and 100 men, women and children in a swift and terrible air raid today.

The emergency Red Cross station said the known dead totaled 30 and that the list might go as high as 100. Many of the victims were women and children.

Bombs that fell in Ferraz street destroyed three houses; in Valle Hermosa street, three others were ruined. Others exploded in the section around Montana barracks.

Thousands of frightened Madrilenos ran for shelter cellars as the bombs smashed down into the northwestern parts of the city.

Hospitals coped with what authorities called "the first gas cases" of the siege.

In all, close to 50 heavy bombs were dropped by the sixteen roaring Capronis, mostly in the University, Rosales and Cuatro Caminos workers sectors. Two visiting British members of parliament narrowly escaped flying shrapnel.

One of them, W. H. Green, said they jumped into automobiles at the first explosion and rushed to the stricken district. There, entering wrecked houses, "we saw scores of injured women and children—four women and two children were thrown into one pile."

"Another woman's mangled body was hanging over a tottering banister where the force of the explosion had thrown her," Green added.

(By The Associated Press.)
Reinforced government troops drove back a violent Fascist attack on Madrid today after Premier Francisco Largo Caballero, addressing the Spanish Socialist parliament, said "direct assistance" there was imminent danger of a European war.

"A European war is now being fought on a small scale on Spanish terrain," the premier declared, "and unless the League of Nations takes steps to permit the legitimate government to purchase arms and supplies, it will inevitably spread over Europe."

The premier declared the Spanish insurgents would have been subdued within "a few weeks" had the Fascists not had "direct assistance" by Germany and Italy from the beginning.

He lamented the "tolerance and passiveness" of other nations to delay the civil war in Spain and declared.

Rocket Ship To Bring Santa Claus And Pa Pampa Back Early Saturday Forenoon

Radio to Report Progress of Return Flight

By PA PAMPA.
SANTA CLAUS LAND, Near the North Pole, Dec. 2.—(Via Short Wave Radio)—There's a great hubbub here in Santa Claus land today.

All members of Santa Claus' party, which will be in Pampa for Santa Day on Saturday, are hurrying and scurrying about making last minute preparations for the long hop back to Texas.

Those funny-looking people from the Valley of the Happy Giants already have PA PAMPA departed in two of Santa Claus' airplanes. Santa Claus figured it would be a good idea to have them go on ahead. However, they plan to keep the hour of their arrival in Pampa a secret, because they want to come in under cover of darkness and then immediately go into hiding somewhere.

Andy Gump, spokesman for the Giants, said that they absolutely would not make any public appearances until the hour for the parade through Pampa streets at 11 a. m. Saturday.

Plan Return to Pampa. I do have good news, though, about our return trip to Pampa which I think will interest all the little boys and girls back home.

Old Santa Claus, my masked pilot and I have been carefully going over our plans for leaving here and for our arrival in Pampa. Santa Claus suggested that we leave here and take off from Cape Columbia in the rocket ship in time to get to Pampa about 10:30 a. m. Saturday morning. Santa said that he thought it would be a good idea to land the rocket ship at Pampa airport and he insisted that when we get there that my masked pilot and I both go into town and ride in the parade with him.

All Three To Be In Parade. Well, it was not my original intention to ride in the parade. My masked pilot also was against the plan at first. He said he would fly in the rocket ship back to Hatton, Kas., from where we originally started—and that he would drop out of the picture there and keep his identity a secret.

I was the first to accede to Santa's wishes and told him I would be willing to ride in the Pampa parade if the masked pilot would agree to come with us. We argued the thing over and over for some time and finally agreed that Santa's plan was the best.

So, Santa Claus, Pa Pampa and the masked pilot all will be in the parade at Pampa Saturday. We're hoping to start on the 50-mile trip by reindeer sledge to Cape Columbia tomorrow sometime, and after resting here for a day we can leave Cape Columbia in the rocket ship about midnight Friday and, if everything works out all right, we should arrive over Pampa around 10 or 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

KPND To Talk With Ship. We want to make arrangements with Station KPND at Pampa to keep in communication with our rocket ship starting about 8 o'clock Saturday morning. At regular 15-minute intervals we could broadcast the progress of our flight as we get nearer to Pampa.

I understand it can be arranged to have this broadcast go out over all radios tuned to KPND Saturday morning as well as over the loud speaker system that will be installed on the streets of Pampa on Santa Day. Santa Claus thought this would be a splendid idea to keep everybody, both in the homes and on streets, posted on our movements from 8 a. m. until we land at City Airport.

If these plans meet with approval

FDR'S PEACE SPEECH HEARD IN ARGENTINE

AGGRESSION DECRIED BY PRESIDENT IN ADDRESS

By The Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 2.—The Inter-American peace conference, spurred by President Roosevelt's plea to consolidate western world democracies against aggression for "our mutual safety and mutual good," launched into informal organization today.

Delegates from many of the 21 American nations represented at the conference enthusiastically praised the opening address of the United States' chief executive last night.

They predicted Mr. Roosevelt and President Augustin Justo of Argentina had "set the assembly firmly on the path to success."

"The opening was magnificent and I am optimistic of the conference's results," declared Carlos Saavedra Lamas, Argentine foreign minister and presiding officer of the meeting.

Of prime importance, the delegates said, was President Roosevelt's combined warning to the old world and appeal to the new.

"We stand shoulder to shoulder in our final determination that others, who, driven by war madness or land hunger, might seek to commit an act of aggression against us will find this hemisphere wholly prepared to consult together for our mutual safety and our mutual good."

Mr. Roosevelt planned to leave the Argentine capital for Montevideo, Uruguay, this afternoon after attending funeral services in the United States embassy for his bodyguard, Gus Bennerich, and being

America's No. 1 Engaged Pair

"This is worse than campaigning with father," Franklin D. ing host to President Justo at a luncheon.

Generich died yesterday of a heart attack in a Buenos Aires restaurant.

The first official meeting of the conference will be held tomorrow when the steering committee, composed of the chiefs of all delegations, will discuss formal procedure for the forthcoming meetings.

The vigorous compliments from the delegates followed a tumultuous reception for the two presidents last night when the conference was convened in the state hall of deputies of the Argentine congressional palace.

"The conference opens without hate, rancor or differences and with no desire of any one country to triumph," Mr. Roosevelt said in his conference address.

The sessions, if they can give "tangible form and substance to our will for peace, justice and fair play, will see the accomplishment of a memorable thing in this hour when the world is torn with hatreds," he declared.

Jaycees All Set For Santa Day

"All set" was the keynote of the Junior chamber of commerce luncheon yesterday when Santa Day was the subject of discussion.

President Tommy Chesser turned the meeting over to his Santa Day chairman, A. J. "Skeet" Johnson who had committed make reports. Each of the 20 committee chairmen reported everything ready for the big time Saturday when thousands of children and their parents from over the Panhandle will join Pampa in a big pre-Christmas celebration.

Every member of the Junior chamber of commerce and many other willing workers will handle Santa Day. There will be work for all and every last one of the workers knows his job.

Following a free picture show for kiddies, a monster parade will begin at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, a football game between the Pampa Harvesters and Berger Bulldogs, eligible to compete next season, will be played at Harvester field. A square dance in the high school gymnasium at 7 o'clock will be another highlight.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. Allred says he and Gov. Phillip LaFollette of Wisconsin agree that a one-year sentence is long enough for most first offenders.

He learned the views of the Wisconsin executive several months ago when the latter visited Texas, and his own mind was made up by observing clemency records of thousands of convicts.

"If men who otherwise might be redeemed stay too long in the penitentiary," Allred says, "they are likely to become hardened criminals. Probation for first offenders is much better."

The governor is deeply interested in rehabilitation of convicts, showing early in his administration a desire to study the problem and adopt practical methods.

He was a prime mover in calling the conference on parole at Galveston several months ago and is president of the Southwestern States Parole conference.

In order to attend the second meeting of the conference at New Orleans Dec. 3-5, he decided to forego a meeting at Little Rock, called by Gov. J. M. Futral of Arkansas to discuss the farm tenant problem, another thing in which he is greatly interested. The dates conflicted.

Not long after he was inaugurated Allred began appointing voluntary parole boards of sympathetic citizens to help released convicts find jobs and generally readjust themselves to society.

The Democratic state convention at Port Worth endorsed giving the boards some legal status, in response to pressure from Allred, and it is likely the matter will come up at the session of the legislature convening in January.

"Since becoming governor, I have granted about 1,500 paroles and only one kicked back," he says. "One fellow tried to rob a bank. Nearly all the others made good."

"I think it has been a wonderful investment in humanity."

Although the attorney general's department ruled the constitutional amendment creating a new pardon board and restricting the governor's powers to grant clemencies would not be legally effective until Feb. 1, Allred says he regards the amendment as in effect and would "follow its spirit."

Any convict seeking clemency, therefore, must obtain the recommendation of the board of pardons and paroles. Present members of the board at T. C. Andrews, chairman; J. B. Keith and Stanhope Henry.

GARNER WOULD ELECT RAYBURN HOUSE SPEAKER

Other Congressmen Declare He Is Interfering

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—A charge that Vice-President Garner is "interfering" in House of Representative affairs lent warmth today to a fight for the Democratic leadership of the house.

Garner's public pledge of "200 per cent support" for the candidacy of his fellow Texan, Rep. Sam Rayburn, was quickly challenged by friends of Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York, another candidate. They said it was a "gratuitous intrusion into the affairs" of the House.

A few hours after he arrived in the capital from his Texas home Garner told reporters yesterday he would support Rayburn "in every way possible" because he considered him "the best man for the place."

The reply of the O'Connor camp came quickly.

"The dignity of the House of Representatives and its right to organize itself cannot be trampled on," declared Rep. Nichols (D., Okla.), "even by such a distinguished man as the Vice-President of the United States. The O'Connor camp feels that the statement of the distinguished Vice-President has clinched victory for . . ."

Declaring Rayburn, "in sole partnership with Mr. William Randolph Hearst," conducted Garner's 1932 campaign for the Democratic nomination as president against Mr. Roosevelt, Rep. Dingell (D., Mich.) said the Vice-President's intrusion into the affairs of another body of Congress . . . will be resented by the members of the House.

As vice-president, Garner is chairman of the Senate.

DEATH TAKES CIRCUS OWNER JOHN RINGLING

'GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH' WAS HIS CREATION

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—John Ringling, whose name was synonymous with the "big top," sawdust ring and circus spangles from coast to coast, died today.

The circus magnate succumbed at the age of 70 to a brief illness of bronchial pneumonia, the last of seven brothers whose back-yard playtime show in Baraboo, Wis., grew to become perhaps the nation's largest entertainment combine.

At Ringling's bedside at his Park avenue home when death came were Mrs. Ida Ringling North, his sister; John Ringling North, a nephew; Dr. Maurice Costello, his physician; Frank Hennessey, a life-long friend, and his servants.

Funeral arrangements were being made today.

Ringling's interests during his last years were not devoted entirely to the show business, for he owned extensive real estate in Florida, railroad stock, and was a collector of art masterpieces. Sarasota, Fla., became the center of his interests.

The son of a German-born harnessmaker whose name originally was August Ringeling, John Ringling was born at McGregor Iowa, but his family moved to Wisconsin when he was a small boy.

In the early 70s a wagon show visited Baraboo, bought harness from the Ringling boys' father, and departed without paying the bill. They joined the show instead.

The Classic Concert company was their first real venture in the show business. Successful in this, they formed the Ringling Brothers' Comedy Concert company and a short while afterward owned a full-filled circus of their own—three old spring wagons, home made tents, seat, stakes and rigging.

John Ringling showed a genius for transportation details, and it was this faculty that enabled him to enlarge and build up the extensive show business that netted him a fortune.

In 1890 the Ringling venture was

DEFIANCE OF MINES BUREAU IS DISCUSSED

OKLAHOMAN LOBBYING FOR CROW MEAT FEAST

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 2 (AP)—Jesse Pullen, assistant attorney general, is lobbying in the Oklahoma legislature for crow meat.

He set out recently to persuade the solons to attend a big crow banquet and completed plans today, urging 100 per cent attendance of the unofficial Statehouse Crow Meat Lovers association—headed by Governor E. W. Marland, who says the meat tastes "as good as chicken."

A wave of enthusiasm for crow meat swept Oklahoma last year and resulted in it being served in restaurants. Then the fad died out.

The way Pullen puts it, attendance at the banquet is a kind of patriotic duty. The state game and fish department urges crow shooting as a part of its conservation program in protecting chickens, quail and crops.

The department will furnish the banquet crows. It plans to bomb three big roosts, whenever Pullen sets the date for the banquet. Every crow within a hundred rods will be in danger when more than 100 hand made dynamite bombs are set off at night.

Fifteen million pine trees will be planted soon in national forests in three Texas counties in one of the greatest reforestation projects undertaken by the government.

COMPACT'S FUTURE IN OTHER STATES IS CONJECTURED

AUSTIN, Dec. 2 (AP)—Action of Texas last week in boosting its production 56,000 barrels above the recommendation of the federal bureau of mines and the possible effect on the interstate compact continued to dominate public discussion in the southwestern oil industry today.

In the minds of many observers, these questions were presented: Whether the bureau's figures would continue to guide state conservation authorities closely, as in the past, or would gradually slip into the status of suggestions to be disregarded or followed according to the exigencies of state needs.

Whether animosities engendered would find a way into legislative discussion when the compact comes up for renewal next year and lead to the downfall of the interstate agreement.

Oil circles were watching with much interest the reaction in other states where threats to increase production above the bureau's recommendations by the same percentage as that adopted by the Texas Railroad commission were made.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs the most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical: only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Winter be blown!...

OIL-PLATE YOUR ENGINE

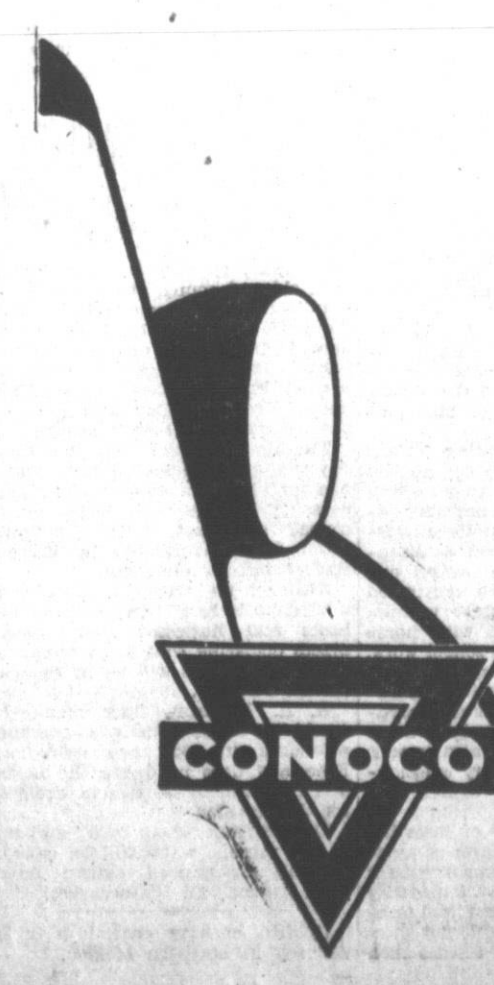

This is exactly true: Oil-Plating supplies lubrication in LESS THAN NO TIME AT ALL!

Faster than "instantly" . . . faster than the fastest-flowing Winter oil might even begin to flow, Oil-Plating is ready to lubricate.

That's because a genuine Plating of Conoco Germ Processed oil is always left firmly bonded to every working part. Like any other real Plating, this Oil-Plating cannot run off. After hours or days of standing in the cold, Oil-Plating is still perfectly ready-to-go. Now these days you read on every side, how poorly-oiled starting causes most engine wear, and how fast a Winter oil ought to flow. But you cannot have even a doubt of sure starting-lubrication, when it is always UP IN ADVANCE. That's Oil-Plating . . . a plain, straight, economic reason for changing to your correct free-flowing Winter grade of Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented. Costs no more than changing by hunch.

THE FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

The accent from now until Christmas, throughout the nation, is being placed on the annual Christmas seal sale to raise funds with which to combat tuberculosis. Pampa and Gray county are playing their part in this campaign, and everyone should buy as many of the seals as possible.

A widely known authority on health recently has expressed the opinion that if wide powers were given the government to control tuberculosis, it would become as rare as typhoid fever today.

This is true, he believes, for two reasons. First, because tuberculosis control of any community infringes considerably on the personal liberty of every member. And, second, because proper treatment of individual cases is usually beyond the financial means of those who acquire it.

The spread of tuberculosis is almost entirely due to the carrier who does not know that he has the disease. The modern watchword of the tuberculosis worker when he finds one case is, "Where is the other case?" To show how common it is to have an active case which is either unsuspected or uncontrolled, the figures from New York show that of 5,000 cases only 24 per cent were reported a year or more before death; 44 per cent were not reported until after death; 31 per cent were reported less than a year before death.

Control of the disease would involve the examination and weeding out of every case. This does, admittedly, involve personal liberty, but it is worth it, as shown in the experiment at Framingham, Massachusetts. This community started in 1916 to make a community study. At the end of the seven-year demonstration the death rate had dropped to 38 per 100,000 population, from 121 during the pre-demonstration decade.

After the case is found, the least that should be expected is that the patient would be instructed how to prevent giving the disease to others. In a survey conducted in 1929, among 1,500 tuberculosis patients, it was found that 47 per cent had not been told by their physicians to use only their own dishes; 42 per cent had not been told how to dispose of sputum; 37 per cent were not instructed to sleep alone.

These two measures require a good deal of work and eternal vigilance. They are worth it, because they carry the possibility of wiping one of the oldest and most relentless of man's enemies off the face of the earth.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—Assurances from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and other business groups that industry can be depended upon to absorb the unemployed are a great comfort to those in the administration who believe they can depend on such assurances.

There would be more believers if it were not for the fact that the unemployment problem had been a big one ever since 1929 and that industrial policy meanwhile has been such as to discourage re-employment in proportion to the increase in industrial production.

New evidence as to the effect of growth and improvement of machines on employment is contained in a confidential report, covering a survey of technological unemployment developments, which Roosevelt took away to study during his ocean trip. The Bureau of Labor Statistics and WPA co-operated in the survey.

Thanks to greater efficiency through machines and higher standards imposed by industry, the American factory worker can now produce 39 per cent more than in 1920 and 10 per cent more than in 1929.

The figure covering the post-1929 period is new and shows that the relentless process of displacing workers by machines continued right on through the depression.

Restoration of employment to the 1929 level would require production of 10 per cent more goods than were produced in that year, whereas industrial production is now about 10 per cent below 1929.

Incidentally, it is officially estimated that there were about 1,800,000 unemployed in the best part of 1929. But technological unemployment is only one of the explanations why there are still between 8,000,000 and 11,000,000 unemployed.

The U. S. Chamber's special committee says there are only 4,000,000 available for employment, but that seems low. WPA officials say it merely approximates the minimum estimate of unemployed who aren't on WPA or home relief rolls.

A very large factor is the birth rate, for which captains of industry can hardly be blamed. It is stated authoritatively that since 1929 about half a million more young people have entered the labor market each year than have been retired by old age or death.

Young, eager, and often willing to work for low wages, these new workers have been displacing older men and women. So you find Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins complaining that many corporations are placing the top hiring ages at 40 and 45 years while an increasingly large proportion of persons between 45 and 65 is found on the relief rolls.

This factor—more than 3,000,000 new workers in seven years—means that production would have to be increased 20 per cent above 1929, or nearly 35 per cent over the present figure, to reduce unemployment to 1929 proportions.

Meanwhile, the working population keeps on increasing and technological unemployment also continues.

On top of that, industry has been increasing the number of hours worked per week by the average employe. The A. F. of L. says the average work week increased from 38 hours in 1935 to 40 hours in 1936.

Numerous business experts believe the national average working week is 44 hours or more, when all unorganized industries are included.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBIN COONS. HOLLYWOOD.—Margaret Sullivan takes the crown as definite queen of romantic unpredictability.

It's been a habit of hers. Coming here as the ex-wife of Henry Fonda, she was never supposed to elope to Yuma with William Wyler, her director.

Barrymore won, of course, undisputed title to championship at gossip-thwarting when he suddenly divorced her. She was playing in a picture with Fonda; the gossips insisted these two would make a second attempt.

Yuma with her cameraman, Hal Rosson, three years ago had Hollywood's romantic handicappers been surprised when she was playing in a picture with Fonda; the gossips insisted these two would make a second attempt.

Sometimes, it is true, movie people issue denials and are truthful in doing so. But a star's "You can say for me it isn't so" is as likely to mean—through conventional acceptance—that it is so otherwise.

BORGER'S 1937 TEAM IS PRACTICING FOR FOOTBALL BATTLE SATURDAY

GORILLAS AND REAPERS WILL SEE SERVICE

STARTING LINEUPS TO BE ANNOUNCED THIS AFTERNOON

Yesterday's light rain and cold weather failed to dampen the spirit of the Harvester prospects of 1937 and they went through a strenuous session of running plays at Harvester field in preparation for the invasion of the Borger Bulldogs of 1937 on Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Although Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Frejman would not give their starting lineup for the post season clash, they promised to announce their starters following a scrimmage this afternoon. Several Gorillas and a few Reapers gave the 12 Harvesters a lot of trouble in early workouts and some of them will probably be found in the lineup.

One sure starter failed to report for practice yesterday afternoon, announcing that due to parental objections he wouldn't be able to play football next year. He was one of the brightest ball carrying prospects coming up to the Harvesters.

Tickets for the big game are going fast, according to Bob Curry who put them on sale at Harvester Drug, Pampa Drug, Cretney Drug and Fatherne Drug No. 4 and through members of the pep squad and the annual staff.

All-Southwest Conference Team Stars Baugh, Routt

Frog and Aggie Are Given Unanimous Votes

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT. DALLAS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Two stars of opposite leanings, Samuel Adrian Baugh of Texas Christian and Joe Routt of Texas A. & M., today led a parade of helmeted warriors to places on the Associated Press' 1936 mythical all-Southwest conference team.

Seven coaches and a dozen sports writers gave unanimous backing to "Singin' Sam," without a peer in forward passing, and Routt, a stormy guard who spent the season tagging enemy backs.

Nineteen votes cast gave first team positions to three Texas Aggies, two each from Texas Christian, Arkansas and Baylor and single representatives from Southern Methodist and the University of Texas.

Of the eleven only two, Baugh and Walter Roach, a big part of the Texas Christian passing act, were listed as "repeaters" off the 1935 team.

Seven seniors and four juniors pulled down honors on the composite selection.

Only one vote shy of unanimous recognition, James Benton, six-foot three-inch junior end from Arkansas, shared the wing posts with Roach, Benton, chief "contact man" for the numerous Arkansas aerials, packed scores en route to rank as one of the leading scorers of the conference.

Hardest working lineman since the days of Baylor's Bochey Koch, fiery Joe Routt, defensive and offensive terror in the Aggie line, played a game that made him an all-America possibility. He played close to 60 minutes in every game.

One and all have assumed the avowal of presenting an excellent even the finest machine which performed this year. Hubert Allen, Roy Conner, and Adrian White are leading backfield contenders from the '36 eleven who will be back next year.

As a matter of cold fact, however, the survey showed 163 leading teams scored an average of 113.3 points for the season, and that 1,438 games produced an average of 13.24 points.

Among major elevens, Louisiana State's contenders for a Rose Bowl nomination set the scoring pace this year with 281 points in ten games, of them in a "breather" game with Northwestern of Louisiana.

NEBRASKA HAS FIVE MEN ON BIG 6 ELEVEN

RIVALS FAIL TO SCORE AGAINST STRONG HUSKERS

BY WHITEY MARTIN. KANSAS CITY, Dec. 2 (AP)—The class of the Big Six conference is the senior class—and the champion Nebraska football team which didn't even let its five rivals score against it.

Ten seniors and five Cornhuskers were on the Associated Press' first all-conference team announced today after selection with the advice of coaches, sports writers and other critics.

Teamed with the quintet of Nebraskans were three Kansas State players, and one man each from Missouri, Iowa State and Oklahoma, Kansas, in the throes of a gridiron depression, placed one man on the second team.

Fred Shrey, Nebraska tackle and one of the three repeaters, was the only junior. The other repeaters are Sam Francis, Nebraska's stellar fullback, and Lloyd Cardwell, galloping Husker halfback who landed a first-team place for the third straight year.

The selections: First Team Ends—McDonald, Nebraska; Gustine, Iowa State. Tackles—Shirey, Nebraska; Fanning, Kansas State.

Second Team Ends—Shirley, Kansas; Smith, Oklahoma. Tackles—Schafroth, Iowa State; Doyle, Nebraska.

Guards—Ahrens, Oklahoma; Brock, Iowa State. Quarterback—Cleveland, Kansas State. Halfback—Hewes, Oklahoma. Fullback—Breedon, Oklahoma.

In every home there is a never-ending parade of dirty dishes to be washed. Three times every day—a thousand times every year—this task of dishwashing must be faced. It consumes time, intrudes on pleasurable hours, and steals vitality.

Did you ever stop to realize that in a home with only two adults and two children, over six tons of dirty dishes must be washed each year? Dishes soiled in one day by the average family of four, weigh over 40 pounds! No wonder it is a tiring task and takes a heavy toll of time.

If you kept a record of the time spent washing dishes in your home, you would find at least one entire month each year is spent just "doing the dishes." In the average home this task takes about 1 1/2 hours each day. That's equal to 60 full days of nine hours each, every year.

Advertisement for Southwestern Public Service Company. Text: Now you may wash dishes electrically like many other American women. We shall be glad to measure the available space and make recommendations on the model that will fit your home. Complete — $12.50. CRETNEY DRUG STORE.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

CONFIRMED. On November 12 your correspondent exclusively disclosed that United States Steel insiders were accumulating the preferred shares. It was stated that they were doing so because they anticipated another dividend payment before the close of the year. An official of Big Steel informed your correspondent that there wasn't a chance in the world of such distribution being made.

On November 24 directors of the organization announced an additional $7 per share distribution on account of preferred arrearages. Officials of a corporation frequently don't know as much as insiders do.

BULLISH. In money the $7 extra distribution means $25,219,877. It means that directors expect the company to show better earnings for the fourth quarter. It means that officials would rather pay to stockholders than taxes to the government. It means that directors are to be more liberal in cash payments to stockholders as long as earnings permit. In all it means that United States Steel directors are bullish on the company's outlook.

SUGAR. That the inflation psychology should be so marked in the commodity sugar seems odd to the trade. This because domestic sugar prices bear no close relation to world prices. The supply is based on quotas. These can readily be lifted to meet increased demand.

The domestic beet sugar crop will be the second largest on record. Cuba will turn out 500,000 tons more than last year. Other world crops are higher by several million tons. By no stretch of the imagination can the trade see any shortage of supplies.

Informed circles say that prices are simply moving higher because of speculative participation. It appears to them that a mass conviction along these speculative lines has become a reality. And so there's buying on the belief that bargains are being obtained. The supply and demand law is being ignored. Conservative interests say it will prevail in the long run. That is why they are not assuming sugar positions at current price levels.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the state and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Why were Austin's first colonists called "The Old Three Hundred?" R. F.

A. Because the grant given Moses Austin was to settle 300 families.

Q. How much land was included in the grant to Moses Austin, later transferred to Stephen F. Austin? R. F.

A. Each family was to have a free gift of 4,605 acres and Austin was to get 99,630 acres for settling the 300 families.

Q. Why is the bridge that crosses the Colorado river in the eastern part of Austin called Montopolis? R. D.

A. The bridge crosses the river at a point where a town site was laid off in 1838 and was named Montopolis, but which was abandoned as a town when Austin was located as the capital site in 1839. Montopolis, across the river from the older town of Waterloo on the south side, was surveyed for a town one-half mile square.

Q. What was the site of the original Austin town site? R. D.

A. One mile square; it extended south and north from the present First street to Nineteenth street and east and west from East avenue to West avenue.

TEXAS SHIPS INSECTS TO AUSTRALIA.

UVALDE, Tex. (P)—Insects are among the commodities Texas exports to Australia.

The insect is the aBris, a tiny black beetle, which Australian officials are using to rid the country of cockleburrs. The beetles attack the roots of the cocklebur plants but do not bother other vegetation.

A shipment of 10,000 beetles was sent recently to Canberra, N. S. W., headquarters for burr control work in Australia.

ROESER AGAIN HEADS INDEPENDENT OIL MEN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Independent Petroleum Association of America re-elected officers at its closing session yesterday and expected a report later from its executive committee on the choice of a city for its 1937 convention.

Charles F. Roeser of Fort Worth, Tex., again headed the organization. Five cities were bidding for the next meeting including Washington, St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, Kas, and Tulsa.

The convention asked the oil industry to adopt a program restricting drilling unnecessary wells in proved territory for the purpose of conserving oil and gas, and to slow drill-in development of new pools.

DEFINITE IMPROVEMENT IN TALKING BOY SEEN

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 2 (AP)—A hospital staff doctor reported "definite improvement" today after an examination of four-year-old Emmie Wilson, tiny victim of a 15-day talking spree.

"His fever is under 100 today," the doctor said. "It has not been more than 100 for two days. It formerly ran as high as 103. We have reason to believe he may be on the road to recovery."

The child weighs but 20 pounds, eight ounces, and will have to gain strength before he can leave the hospital.

A nurse said "He isn't talking as much as he was," and "we may let him play with other children soon."

ENGLAND NEGOTIATING NEW DEFENSIVE TREATY

LONDON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today that England was negotiating a new defensive alliance with France and Belgium.

Eden's remarks were the first British indications bearing out French reports of a tripartite military treaty between the three countries.

The foreign secretary did not discuss the provisions of the treaty other than to say England's obligations "shall approximate as closely as possible those of the Locarno treaty."

Court Rules Out Arbitrators Award In Gambling Deal

AUSTIN, Dec. 2 (AP)—The supreme court ruled today that an award of arbitrators based on a gambling transaction could not be enforced in courts.

The opinion was in the case of Bert K. Smith against S. W. Gladney from Tarrant county, and involved certain dealings in futures on the Chicago Board of Trade.

In a dispute, the Fort Worth grain and cotton exchange arbitrators committee found in favor of Gladney, and later a district court and court of civil appeals upheld the award.

The supreme court reversed both courts, saying:

"It appears to be almost universally recognized that a claim arising out of illegal transactions, such as a speculation in futures, is not a legitimate subject of arbitration."

The highest tribunal reversed the court of civil appeals and affirmed the district court in the case of Mrs. Rosa Allen Williams against the Harris county Houston Ship Channel Navigation district.

The trial court had given judgment for the plaintiff, seeking to foreclose on land sold to the Greater Houston Improvement company, the navigation district. The court of civil appeals had refused foreclosure on the tract purchased by the district.

Judgments of lower court sustaining the title of the Sun Oil company to a tract in Gregg county were affirmed. L. S. Strong and others, in a suit against Manuel Strong, had claimed 15-32 interest in the tract.

Chief L. G. Phares of the Texas highway patrol says members of the patrol wear guns "to show they're not bus drivers." The uniforms are similar.

THE TINY GALAPAGOS ISLANDS

OFF THE WEST COAST OF SOUTH AMERICA, WERE DARWIN'S GREATEST INSPIRATION IN HIS THEORY OF EVOLUTION!

DARWIN'S visit to the Galapagos Islands, in 1835, seemed to be the needed impetus to launch him into serious work on his theory of evolution. On these islands, he found that 75 per cent of the fauna was different from that of the mainland only 600 miles away, and that the species varied from island to island.

OIL LEGISLATION HEADING FOR ANOTHER SHOWDOWN IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The controversial subject of oil legislation appeared today to be headed for another showdown in the next congress.

For the first time since the Supreme Court invalidated the NRA, one major producing state has abandoned recommendations of the bureau of mines; and the two principal statutes affecting the oil industry expire within nine months.

While Texas fixed its December allowable about 5 per cent above the federal standard, Oklahoma and Kansas considered similar steps, word reached Capitol Hill that Secretary Leches, former oil administrator, has drafted a comprehensive petroleum bill similar to the Guffey coal act. A representative who preferred to remain anonymous said the legislation would be submitted to Congress early in January.

The Connally "hot oil" law intended to prohibit interstate shipments of crude and its products in excess of state allowances expires July 1. The interstate compact law authorizing states to band together to prevent physical waste and provide a production balance wheel expires September 1.
