Speedy Action Expected on Bill Aiding Mrs. JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House was expected to move swiftly today to approve a bill that would provide temporary Secret Service protection and other benefits to President Kennedy's widow and children.

The bill was introduced only last Friday by Rep. Tom Murray, D-Tenn., chairman of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Under an existing law, enacted in 1958, Mrs. Kennedy is entitled to a $10,000 annual pension for the rest of her life. Murray's bill would authorize:

—Lifetime franking privileges for Mrs. Kennedy, enabling her to send mail postage free.

—The General Services Administration to provide her with office space for six months at a place to be selected by her, and up to $50,000 for employment of a staff.

—Secret Service protection for her and her two children for one year, with at least two agents assigned to the family.

—Government payment of expenses arising from the President's death, including undertaking fees and transportation.

Other congressional news:

Guns: The Senate Commerce Committee is reported ready to approve Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's bill to prevent criminals and juveniles from purchasing guns through the mail once it gets Justice Department approval.

Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat, amended the measure after President Kennedy's assassination to extend the prohibition to rifles, similar to the $12.78 Italian-made weapon used to kill the Chief Executive in Dallas.

Taxes: The Senate Finance Committee begins its last week of hearings on the House-passed $11 billion tax cut measure. Closed-door consideration of the stalled bill by the committee will follow with pressure expected to be exerted on members to finish their work and have the measure ready for a Senate vote in January.

Fallout Shelters: Army Chief of Staff Gen. Earle G. Wheeler and Stuart L. Pittman, assistant secretary of defense for civil defense, were to testify as a Senate armed services subcommittee begins hearings on a House-passed bill to provide $19 million toward construction of fallout shelters in schools, hospitals and other non-profit institutions.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, went a step further Sunday and quoted a report that Oswald had identified himself as an American spy.

It said a Ft. Worth stenographer named Pauline Bates was helping Oswald write an "anti-Soviet book" on his stay here from October, 1959, to May, 1962.

"This book, she said, dealt with his sojourn in the Soviet Union." Pravda said. "In it, he sharply criticized the Soviet Union."

"Besides, the stenographer added, Oswald hinted that he had worked as an American secret agent," the Pravda report added.

Death Count Passes 500 For Holiday

By United Press International

The extended Thanksgiving holiday highway death count stood at more than 500 today with final reports still trickling in. The toll was expected to be only slightly higher than average for a normal weekend this time of year.

A United Press International count at 9:30 a.m. EST showed at least 542 persons dead in traffic accidents from 6 p.m. local time Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

The breakdown:

Traffic 542
Fires 47
Planes 23
Miscellaneous 80
Total 692

California led the nation with 58 persons killed in traffic accidents. Texas had 36 dead, Illinois and Pennsylvania had 29, Michigan had 26, North Carolina reported 25, Ohio and New York had 21 each.

Survey Ordered On Gregg Wells

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Railroad Commission has ordered a directional survey of two oil wells owned by a Gregg County man to determine where they are bottomed.

The wells are the Mrs. Lou Harris Wells No. 1 and 3 owned by Robert Cargill, in Gregg County.

The Commission said Continental Oil Co. filed a complaint saying probable cause existed to suspect the two wells were deviated and not legally completed.

The wells bottom under Continental leases, the oil firm charged.

Reds Lose In Fiery Election

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Results of Venezuela's national election signaled a victory today for the country's democratic forces over the bullets and death threats of pro-Communist terrorists.

Officials estimated 95 per cent of the electorate voted for a new president and congress Sunday despite attacks on voting lines and police stations by gunmen of the pro-Castro armed forces of National Liberation (FALN) in which one man was killed and 10 wounded, including an American television news cameraman.

Raul Leoni, candidate of President Romulo Betancourt's Democratic Action party, took an early lead in the returns in the seven-man race for a five-year presidential term.

Unofficial returns with about 11 per cent of the estimated three million votes counted gave Leoni 86,917 votes. Jovito Villalba, Democratic Republican Union, 71,555; Rafael Caldera, Social Christian Party (COPEI), 76,614; Wolfgang Larrazabal, Democratic Popular Force, 38,824; and Arturo Uslar Pietri, Independent, 74,684.

Splinter Candidates Trail

Two other candidates, Raul Gimenez, of the splinter Democratic Action-Opinion and German Borregales, National Action Movement, were trailing far behind.

The Communist Party of Venezuela (PCV) and its extremist ally, the Movement of the Revolutionary Left (MIR), were banned from the election. They will thus lose their current combined total of 21 members of the outgoing congress.

The FALN, which has been accused of receiving arms from Premier Fidel Castro's Cuban regime, warned in handbills that anyone who voted Sunday faced sudden death in the streets.

Failure to disrupt the elections apparently spurred the terrorists to launch attacks on several police stations after dark but relative quiet was restored late Sunday night.

The UPI bureau, located on the ninth floor of a downtown Caracas building, was shot up when gunmen attacked a police precinct headquarters next door. It was not clear whether it was a planned attack on the news agency or the result of stray bullets from the gun battle with police.

Cameraman Shot

Carl Warner, 43, of Miami, Fla., a cameraman employed by UPI on a special assignment, was wounded in the chest, apparently by a ricocheting bullet which struck him a glancing blow. He was pronounced "out of danger" at a hospital following emergency treatment and was expected to (See ELECTION, Page 3)

Ecumenical Council Holds Last Meeting

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council held its last 1963 working session today and was told that Pope Paul VI will promulgate a document Tuesday extending the powers of bishops.

The document is titled "Pastorale Munis," which means "Of Pastoral Gifts."

The document was seen as a move to give concrete meaning to the principle that bishops share authority with the Pope in governing the church.

The council wound up debate today on a document dealing with Christian unity.

Augustin Cardinal Bea, head of the secretariat for promoting Christian unity, promised the council fathers that key statements on religious liberty and against anti-Semitism would come up at the next session, scheduled to begin Sept. 14 and last through Nov. 20, 1964.

A number of council fathers were disappointed that the two subjects had not come up for vote and Bea's speech was an attempt to reassure them that parliamentary maneuvering would not result in their being shelved.

During its two meetings last fall and this year, the council has had 79 working sessions. Council fathers — cardinals, bishops and heads of religious orders from around the world — have heard millions of words of debate in Latin.

So far, only two of the 17 proposed documents have been completed. These two decrees, one dealing with the form of public worship and the other with modern communications media, will be promulgated by Pope Paul VI on Wednesday when he officially brings this council session to an end.

Roman Catholic sources said Sunday the council may go on until 1966, which would give it a five-year span. The late Pope John XXIII, who called the council and presided at its first session in October, 1962, had hoped it could finish by this Christmas. But the end is nowhere near in sight.

To Meet Gordon

The President was to meet with Budget Director Kermit Gordon this afternoon to review the outlook for the proposed fiscal 1965 budget, which he must submit to Congress by Jan. 18.

He also was to see Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges and McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on national security affairs. The Bundy meeting was for the President's daily mid-morning intelligence briefing.

Johnson was scheduled to present the $50,000 Enrico Fermi Award to Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer for his work on the atomic bomb. The honoring of Oppenheimer by the Atomic Energy Commission, which ruled him a security risk 10 years ago, brought a protest from Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, who said he was rejecting an invitation to attend the White House ceremony.

Johnson carried his economy plea to 7,500 defense contractors Sunday with a personal request that they help him get "a dollar's value for a dollar spent" by the government.

The unusual letter, which will will drag its feet or join the proposed international communications satellite corporation. That's necessary to set up a worldwide communications satellite system.

Another major unanswered problem is the attitude of the Soviet bloc. Neither the Kremlin nor any of its satellites have given any clue on that.

THERE IS NOTHING to bar their joining the contemplated international corporation. On the other hand, they could set up a satellite communications system of their own. The Reds have done nothing in this field as yet, but they could.

Regardless of Britain or the Soviet bloc, the United States is determined to put a worldwide satellite communications system into operation by 1967.

Already, three U.S. communications satellites are in operational orbit. They are Telstar, privately financed by American Telephone & Telegraph Co.; Relay and Syncom, by the National Aeronautics & Space Administration. Relay was produced by RCA; Syncom by Hughes Aircraft.

CRUCIAL QUESTION still to be answered is what Britain will do about this painful dilemma. There has been no hint in the preliminary discussions of what may be expected — whether Britain

Budget Tops Issues On Johnson Agenda

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The problems involved in next year's budget topped President Johnson's White House agenda today with yet another 12-hour work day apparently in the offing for the Chief Executive.

The budget was not Johnson's sole concern, however. His first scheduled conference of the day was with Whitney Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League and a prominent civil rights leader.

The conference was set for 9:30 a.m.

Johnson already has received enthusiastic backing from Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Wilkins, who conferred with him last week, said in a New York television interview Sunday that he was "convinced" of the President's "strong convictions" on civil rights.

The President was to meet with Budget Director Kermit Gordon this afternoon to review the outlook for the proposed fiscal 1965 budget, which he must submit to Congress by Jan. 18.

Johnson carried his economy plea to 7,500 defense contractors Sunday with a personal request that they help him get "a dollar's value for a dollar spent" by the government.

The unusual letter, which will go to about 90 per cent of the Defense Department's prime and subcontract holders, was drafted during a five-hour Sunday work session and after conferences with McNamara, Gordon and Comptroller General Joseph Campbell.

Another Step

It marked another in a series of steps that Johnson has taken to hammer home his demand for government economy. In a speech to a joint session of Congress last Wednesday he promised that the government would be administered with the "utmost thrift and frugality."

In a move aimed at emphasizing his intention of maintaining the deep U.S. commitment to the defense of Western Europe, Johnson will meet with the leaders of three Allied nations — West Germany, Italy and Britain — within the next 10 weeks.

The consultations with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and Italian President Antonio Segni will take place in this country, it was announced Sunday.

Friends Quizzed

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Detectives questioned friends and neighbors of actress Karyn Kupcinet today in an effort to track down the killer who strangled her with such force that a bone in her neck was broken.

The county coroner said an autopsy indicated Miss Kupcinet died "by manual strangulation." Her nude body was found in her apartment Saturday night by friends.

Those questioned Sunday included the persons known to have last talked with the 22-year-old actress Wednesday night, including her former boyfriend, actor Andrew Prine of the "Wide Country" television series.

Lt. George Walsh said two others, free lance writer Edward Steven Rubin, 22, and actor Robert Hathaway, 24, were the last ones to see Miss Kupcinet. Both told deputies they left her apartment before midnight when she appeared to be getting sleepy as they watched television.

"Whoever did it got a three-day start on us," said Walsh. He said that a house-to-house check would be made of the neighborhood.

Ex-Con Kills 2, Self in Church

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (UPI) — A crazed ex-convict with a long history of violence walked into a church during services Sunday night, terrorized the congregation and killed his ex-wife and the minister with shotgun blasts.

Then while about 40 persons sat in stunned silence he calmly reloaded the double-barreled gun and killed himself with a shot in the heart.

Walter Bailey, a 57-year-old tree surgeon who was convicted of slaying his own father 25 years ago, stormed into the West Asheville Assembly of God Church, waved a sawed-off shotgun and ordered: "Don't nobody make a move."

Bailey saw his wife and advanced toward her. The Rev. Lester Cobb came forward from the pulpit and pleaded with him to "put the gun down."

Bailey seemed to waver then lifted his gun and fired it into Cobb's chest.

Bailey walked over to his wife and fired point-blank into her head, then turned and shot himself.

Women, Children Also Die

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — One U.S. soldier was killed and another seriously wounded in a Communist guerrilla ambush Sunday night near the Cambodian border, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

Nine South Vietnamese troops also were wounded in the clash, the second serious encounter between government and Viet Cong forces within a few hours Sunday.

In the first battle, also near the Cambodian border, the Communists killed, wounded, or captured the entire garrison of a government outpost before being driven off.

The guerrillas lost an estimated 50 men in the six hours of fighting but 42 of the 60 troops defending the outpost were killed, and 15 to 20 of their wives and children also died.

The American casualties brought to 113 the number of U.S. combat deaths since large-scale assistance to South Viet Nam began in January, 1961. The death toll from all causes now is 141.

Names of the two U.S. servicemen were being withheld pending notification of relatives. The spokesman said they were riding in the cab of a truck in a two-vehicle convoy and the guerrillas set off a mine under it.

The Americans were accompanying a Vietnamese troop convoy in the border area about 115 miles west of Saigon.

Survey Experts Schedule Talks

Dr. Jim Bradley and Perry Shephard of Texas A & M. in Pampa for an industrial survey, are scheduled to discuss various phases of business with civic leaders.

Bradley will speak to the Jaycees - Tuesday; The Rotary, Wednesday, and the Lions Club Thursday.

He also will speak over KPND radio at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and over KHHH radio, 8:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The survey under way will take 30 days to complete. Reports should be available within three months.

Frank Culberson, chairman of the industrial committee, said that contributions are coming in well for the support of the survey. He added that more funds will be needed, however, to complete the project.

Tech End First In NFL Draft

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dave Parks, a pass catching end from Texas Tech, was the No. 1 choice in the annual National Football League draft today, picked by the last-place San Francisco 49ers immediately after the opening of the plump-picking session.

San Francisco had been expected to choose quarterback George Mira of Miami, but decided instead to try to strengthen their receiving.

Parks had been rated one of the nation's top receivers and pre-draft speculation was that he would do well in the pros.

Parks was drafted fourth by the San Diego Chargers in the American Football League player picking Saturday.

Russians Hint Oswald Worked As U.S. Agent

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union, which has denied any connection with President Kennedy's accused assassin, Lee H. Oswald, hinted Sunday in two newspaper reports that Oswald spied for the United States during his two and one-half years in Russia.

Oswald, who was killed two days after the President's slaying, was reported to have described himself as a Marxist. Soviet statements have rejected this and denied that the Communists were connected in any way with the assassination, which they have blamed on a plot by American right-wing extremists.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, went a step further Sunday and quoted a report that Oswald had identified himself as an American spy.

It said a Ft. Worth stenographer named Pauline Bates was helping Oswald write an "anti-Soviet book" on his stay here from October, 1959, to May, 1962.

Jaycee-Ettes and members of the Beta Sigma Phi will start making house-to-house calls to collect funds early this afternoon.

Members of the two organizations will call on persons in their own blocks. J. C. Roberts, drive chairman, asks that all contacted give as freely as possible.

Persons missed who desire to give, mail or bring your donation to the First National Bank, Roberts said.

Dear Abby... Good Idea - But It Could Backfire

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I've been married, on special occasions like Christmas, my anniversary or birthday, my husband gives me presents I can't brag about. What I mean is, I am glad to get a new refrigerator or stove or washing machine, but do you think household appliances can be considered "gifts"? Please don't think I am unappreciative, but just once I wish my husband would give me some luxury item on a special occasion.

DEAR CHEATED: Send me your name and address and I'll tip him off. But don't blame me if you get a dozen roses for Christmas instead of an electric blanket.

DEAR ABBY: Here is the story: A college man invited his mother to parents' weekend. She drove over 200 miles and arrived Friday afternoon. Her son spent one hour with her, then disappeared with her car for the rest of the day and that entire evening. Saturday morning he spent another hour with her, and then took off again in her car for the rest of that day and evening. In the meantime, the mother wandered around the campus alone, trying to follow the program planned for the parents. Everywhere she saw college students with their parents. Was she justified in going to his dormitory, using her duplicate car keys and leaving early Sunday morning without bidding her son goodbye? She left word at the house where she stayed that she had gone home. HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: In a word, yes.

DEAR ABBY: I was engaged to a boy and I caught him stepping out with my best friend, so I broke it off. I missed him something terrible, and he begged me to take him back, so I did. Well, he stepped out on me again with another girl. We were supposed to get married this summer. He said maybe we should wait a while because he thinks there is still some wild life left in him. He is 23 and I am 20. What should I do?

DEAR MIXED: Believe him. He is trying to tell you that he isn't ready to settle down.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MN: It's a switch when an eight-year-old tells his parents what to do—and he could use one.

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY — My hint is to make quilting much easier. Heat paraffin (same as used for jams and jellies) until it is good and hot. Place whole spools of thread in it and keep hot for a few minutes so the melted wax permeates the whole spool. The thread then glides through the material so much more easily and it makes threading the needle simpler, too. I do hope you print this for the sake of the elderly women quilters who do not know it as I am sure it will help them.—MRS. J. S. E.

GIRLS — I do not know why this should be confined to the elderly as many young women are doing this type of handwork today. Quilted articles are much in demand and can be very stylish. Quilting fabric for slip covers not only adds to their smart appearance but they will last longer because of the extra padding on the back. Use care when melting the paraffin and dipping the spools.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When I buy a new pair of shoes, I wear them around the house for a few hours to be sure they fit correctly. I slip an old pair of socks over the new shoes to keep them from being marred, so that the store will exchange them if they do not fit. There is a difference in the way shoes feel when walking on hard surfaces and on a soft carpet. I do this with every pair of shoes I buy.—MRS. E. S.

DEAR POLLY — Before each shampoo remove all the hair from your brush by using your comb. Then work up a good lather of shampoo and run the comb and brush through your shampoo-covered hair. Do not every time you wash your hair, this method should keep your comb and brush clean without too much time or effort.—MRS. G. G.

GIRLS — This also makes it easier to remember to wash your comb and brush each time the hair is shampooed.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I saved baby food jars, painted the lids to match the walls in the room where I sew and placed them on a rack near my sewing machine. In the jars I keep snaps, pins, buttons, hooks and eyes, spare thimbles and so on. I keep the needles in a clean plastic pill vial in the sewing machine drawer. I can tell at a glance where anything is. I save all the boxes that new shoes come in and keep them stacked on the shelf in my sewing room. I keep one for cards of buttons, another for bias tape and rickrack, one for elastic and zippers and then there is one for threads and so on. On the end of each box I write what it contains.—MRS. W. V. W.

Where's The Grubby Tomboy?

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

A little tomboy's quick shift to the world of femininity may catch mother off guard. For the smudge-nosed little girl who one day vows she would rather stay in a tree house than wash her ears the next day takes a turn in your highest heels. When she does, you have your work cut out for you.

Although she now may yearn for pink velvet hair ribbons rather than a football helmet, there are still battles ahead, namely over cleanliness and clothes.

What now is routine to most adults is a waste of time to a child busy as only a child can be. Help her along until it isn't necessary to remind her to wash her hands, for example. This necessary beauty and health duty takes on an air of elegance if you provide her with a flowered nail brush to help with the sudsing.

To get over the shampooing hump, set up your own simple beauty salon. An inexpensive shampoo tray which fits into your bathroom sink will add to the illusion and help soothe the reluctant young patron more often and with less fuss. She can lean back and relax while you shampoo her hair. A spray attachment for your faucet also makes the task less painful and cuts down wails about "soap in my eyes."

Another accessory that will encourage a young girl to adopt better grooming habits is a shampoo brush. She may be years from adolescence but early care of the scalp and hairline can help avoid some adolescent skin problems. Her soap-and-water routine should include not only her hands and hair but also her neck. It may sound strange to suggest that a child learn to include her neck when she bathes. But, people are strange creatures and I know of more than one woman who refuses to wash her neck because she doesn't want to get her hair wet between trips to the beauty salon! She forgets that others see the over-all image. This is why the converted tomboy needs to learn that good grooming begins with cleanliness and ends with neatness — no peeking petticoats, crooked, baggy stockings

Find A Creative Endeavor By Dressing Up Your Dining Table

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For many homemakers, setting the table is not just a chore preceding dinner but a creative endeavor. I know several gals who delight in creating different artistic effects with table appointments, often for the enjoyment of a foursome or simply the family.

The hobby is hard on cupboard space, one young homemaker warns me. She says she is constantly on the lookout for the color, texture or shape in accessories you think you need — and the result is a kitchen cupboard brimming with "props."

To give recognition to this art form, a national promotion was held through department stores to find the best-dressed tables. Under the auspices of the Table Fashion Institute, the 10 top winners will tour the country this fall and winter.

The two mentioned here were selected because I thought they could give some of us who are not so gifted a few adaptable ideas. The centerpieces, for example, can be duplicated by a Florist Telegraph Delivery floral arranger. This national outfit supplied the winners with theirs and have passed the formulas around.

The table pictured has an Oriental accent. It comes from southern California and makes a good use of seasonal flowers (a thought, if you're dreaming of holiday parties).

For this, you start with a well-polished table. Set with pastel linen mats and napkins, add traditional flatware and green-banded china. The places are set on either side of the centerpiece which defies traditional rules and rises high enough to block some of the guests' views of each other.

Pale yellow spider mums and tiny cattails in a triangular arrangement are placed in a low dark dish and filled in at the base with green succulent plants. As a finishing touch, the designer nestled a jade figure in the leaves.

Another highly rated table is a buffet created by a New Orleans homemaker. She combines a white linen overcloth with a moss green velvet undercloth. On this goes plain patterned silver, smoky stemmed goblets and covered soup dishes (soup's on the menu).

The centerpiece is a high rising affair with four tall candlesticks of different lengths with the base a cluster of red and white onions (yes, onions). A spire of pale green orchids grow out of the base.

If this were a New Orleans supper, the suggested menu would include onion soup, coffee.

Sweeping Gowns Are Coming Back

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The bedtime story for the holidays is a long one. For the big news in holiday sleepwear is length.

There is a definite return to sweeping, romantic gowns and robes that have elegance synonymous with the season. And they make handsome gifts, indeed.

You will find co-ordinated gowns and peignoirs in chiffon tricot, applied with lace and glimmering with satin trim.

Should you want to send Christmas greetings with flowers, you'll find pastel floral prints blooming on darker backgrounds in luxurious nylon tricot.

Reminiscent of the 1930s is a group of jewel-toned robes, trimmed with ostrich feathers or fur. And the ultimate in night-gowns is one done in pale pink crushed velvet.

Fragile though they may look, most of these gossamer night-time fashions are easily cared for. Synthetics and synthetic blends make sudsing a cinch and an iron just so much excess baggage.

There are Empire gowns, togas, flowing shifts — all pretty styles to dream in.

Dear Kathy: All my eighth grade friends seem to have become ex-friends and I don't know what to do. Whenever they went to a show they invited me or if someone had a party I went — but not any more. I'm beginning to feel like a fifth wheel even at school. What can I do so I won't be just a tag-along? — Mary

Dear Mary: The eighth grade is sort of crossroads. Most girls stop following the crowd in everything and start to become the personalities they'll be as adults. You've seen lots of changes — the gal who suddenly becomes boy crazy, the one who starts heaving at school because college is around the corner, right?

Your gang could be growing apart because they are growing up. As they change interests they'll grow apart physically, too. You have to grow with them or go in new directions with new people who like the things you do. Don't just tag along, wishing for everything to stay the same.

Vernon Hospital Asks Christmas Gift Donations

VERNON (Sp) — It takes a lot of gifts to make Christmas come true for 450 men and women far from their own families.

Mrs. Summerour has just taken on the job of coordinator for volunteer services at Vernon State Hospital. The 450 men and women on her mind are patients here.

They call 96 different countries home and 11 of them are from Gray County.

Mrs. C. D. Beard of Vernon is chairman of the Volunteer Council for the hospital. She has assured Mrs. Summerour that there will be Christmas trees and parties for all wards.

Such checks, Mrs. Beard emphasized, should be made payable to the Volunteer Council and mailed to Box 1440, Vernon, Texas.

She asked that gifts be mailed by December 7, to avoid disappointment to any patient.

What kind of gifts? The same kind you give your own uncles and aunts, Mrs. Beard said. Wearing apparel, toiletries, smoking materials, soft candies, writing materials and stamps, and small jars of instant coffee are especially appreciated.

Most of the patients in the Vernon hospital are older men and women and are physically active.

Oswald's Mother Blames Police, U.S. for Deaths

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The mother of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald came out of seclusion Sunday night and blamed police and federal authorities for the death of both her son and President Kennedy.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, 56, told the Fort Worth Star Telegram the Federal Bureau of Investigation should have been watching her son since they knew he once defected to Russia.

The paper said Mrs. Oswald's temper flared at times during the interview. At other times there were tears.

She said she would accept the findings of a state court of inquiry proposed by Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Car.

"But I would like an opportunity to verify that they are proven facts," she said. "I want another question answered," the paper quoted her as saying. "Why would (Jack Ruby) be allowed within a few feet of a prisoner—of any prisoner—when I could not see my own son?"

Her son was shot to death in the basement of the Dallas police station a week ago Sunday by Ruby, who is now awaiting trial for murder.

She emphasized she was a person seeking the facts, not a mother protecting her son.

Man Draws Fine For Shoplifting

Robert E. Luster, 39, of 1816 W. Browning, was fined $50 and costs in County Court today after pleading guilty to a shoplifting charge.

Luster was arrested Saturday after he was apprehended outside the Ideal Food Store, 801 W. Francis.

Harold Daugherty, store manager, told police Luster had paid for some groceries at the check-out stand, but left the store with a can of spray paint, a roll of adhesive tape and two pairs of pliers concealed in his clothing.

The merchandise, valued at $4.14, was recovered.

Tax Cut

Democrats have been most worried about the West—Utah, Wyoming, California and North Dakota. Even Texas, with one Republican senator, has been shaky Democratic ground.

Two Western Democrats who have been viewed as in danger from the GOP drive to narrow the 67-33 Democratic margin in the Senate are Sens. Frank McGee of Wyoming and Gale E. Moss of Utah.

McGee said today that even though GOP strength had been over-estimated and President Kennedy had "surprising" support in Wyoming.

"Lyndon Johnson is a Westerner," he said in an interview. "He talks our language—cattle and oil. Wyoming has always been ready to identify itself with Johnson."

Throughout the West, Democrats contend, Johnson would draw votes from the segments of population attracted to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the GOP presidential front-runner.

Cost of Living Rises in October

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Living costs rose by a penny per $10 spent during October to reach a new record in spite of a decline in overall prices for food, the government reported.

A Labor Department spokesman said the consumer price index climbed one-tenth of one per cent from September to 107.2 in October. This meant that goods and services which could be purchased for $10 during the 1967-69 base period cost $10.72 during October.

The spokesman said, however, the increase was "strictly seasonal" and not an omen that a new inflationary trend was in the offing.

The index for October was 1.1 per cent above a year ago, primarily because of a raise of 2.1 per cent in the cost of services.

Food prices in October dropped one-half of one per cent but were offset by higher prices for most other goods and services.

As a result of the slight increase in the October index about 42,000 workers will receive cost of living wage increases under union contracts.

Tarrant County Won't Pay For Funeral Clothes

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Tarrant County has refused to pay for clothing worn by relatives of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald at Oswald's funeral, the Dallas News reported.

Secret Service agents bought the clothing at a Fort Worth store after Jack Ruby shot Oswald to death last Sunday. The paper said the agents told the clothing Tarrant County would pay the $34 bill.

The Tarrant County Welfare Department later said it had not approved the purchase and would not cover it.

Store officials were then told the federal government would probably pay the bill.

The News said Oswald's family has been held in "protective custody" at a motel between Fort Worth and Dallas. The paper quoted officers as saying they assumed the federal government would also pay the motel bill.

LBJ's Elevation Likely to Help Senate Aspirants

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's elevation to the leadership of the nation is expected to help some hard-pressed 1964 Senate Democratic candidates—especially in his native West.

For Johnson, born and bred in Texas and seasoned in Washington, "talks the language" of the rangeland. He has crisscrossed the area in past campaigns for present incumbents and others.

Twenty-four Democrats and nine Republicans are up for reelection next year. Unlike most tests for the Democrats, only three of the seats are in the so-called "Solid South."

Democrats have been most worried about the West—Utah, Wyoming, California and North Dakota. Even Texas, with one Republican senator, has been shaky Democratic ground.

Two Western Democrats who have been viewed as in danger from the GOP drive to narrow the 67-33 Democratic margin in the Senate are Sens. Frank McGee of Wyoming and Gale E. Moss of Utah.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
 The left-wing Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) which set up to maintain the principles of FDR's New Deal, was unjustly accused by this correspondent of failing to remark the succession of Lyndon B. Johnson to the presidency with an endorsing statement or other comforting deed.

Not so, protested ADA, and provided the Washington bureau of UPI with the text of an ADA statement issued the afternoon President Kennedy died and Johnson was sworn as his successor. The text was as follows: "ADA joins the nation in shock at the horrible tragedy which has cost the country a great President and the world a great leader. To Mrs. Kennedy and her family we offer our profound sympathy. To President Johnson we extend our offer to cooperate in any way which will help him carry the burdens of his office in this troubled world."

That ADA offer of cooperation was not exactly a thunderous, 21-gun salute to the new President. No doubt it was genuine—if also subject to a qualification that the cooperation probably must be on ADA terms. Johnson will need all of the cooperation he can get.

Pick A Path
 It is not reasonable to believe, however, that Johnson can drive the Democratic donkey both right and left at the same time. John F. Kennedy could not do that nor could Harry S. Truman nor FDR. Soon, therefore, President Johnson will need to hoist his colors and to call the roll of his troops. Johnson's address this week to a joint session of Congress merely postponed that difficult day.

Bids Sought On Hospital At Canadian

CANADIAN (SpI) — Bids are being sought by the board of managers of Hemphill County Hospital on the construction of a new wing which will add six private rooms to the present building.

Original plans for the addition have been changed, however, and now call for the extension to be built northward from the rear center of the present building, not from the end of the east wing as initially proposed.

A $50,000 bond issue for the project was approved by county voters in a closely contested election in September, and much of the opposition to the proposal apparently centered around the plan to do away with the present ward in making the new addition.

The board asked the architect, Gene Hollar of Pampa, to revise the plans to allow for retention of the ward. The six-room addition as now planned will not eliminate any ward space, although a small area of the present ward is to be partitioned off to provide needed storage facilities adjacent to the hospital kitchen.

Plans call for construction of storage facilities, a mechanical equipment room, and some minor revisions in the present building in addition to the six-room addition.

"We expect that the cost of the new plan will be a little higher, but still within the $50,000 amount allowed by the bond issue," Board Chairman Bud Hoobler said this week, "but we think the new plan will be more satisfactory all around."

There was one interesting bookkeeping aspect of the tragic change that came about last Friday. The GAO said the pay on that day for both the late President and his successor would be pro-rated.

A GAO official said that for such bookkeeping calculations, the President's salary and allowance is figured on a daily basis which comes to about $411 per day.

He said this means that the books were adjusted to credit the late President's salary account for about 14-24ths of the daily salary on Friday—or a little more than half of the $411.

The balance went to the new President for services performed the remainder of that fateful day when the nation's highest office was suddenly thrust upon him.

Quota for Draft Shows Decrease

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas draft quota for December was placed last week at 667 men, the first drop in four months. The national draft requirements suddenly shot up during the summer.

The state's quota for November was 868 men, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director said. The 667 quota for December is Texas' share of a national call for 13,000 men, all for the Army.

The December quota will be filled mostly with men who are volunteers under 26 years old and non volunteers ages 19 through 25. No married men will be drafted because of a directive several months ago by the late President Kennedy.

Texas Scoff at 'We'll Bury You'

AUSTIN (SpI) — Khrushchev's "We'll bury you" boast draws yawns at the Texas Highway Department.

Fifty per cent more new highway miles were opened to traffic in Texas in the past fiscal year than will be built in all of the Soviet Union during 1963.

The Highway Department says a total of 977 miles of new highways were added to the Texas transportation network during fiscal 1963. This compares to just 620 new highway miles for Russia this year, as this year, according to the publication, "Highway Research Abstracts."

The designated all-weather highway system in Texas totals about 65,000 miles. In 1959, the Russian hard-surfaced highway system totaled 36,000 miles.

Dies Remembers Rubenstein Name

LUFKIN (UPI)—A man named Jack Rubenstein was under investigation as a communist youth leader by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1928, former Rep. Martin Dies said.

Jack Ruby, the man who shot accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, denied ever having appeared before any congressional committee or having been under investigation. Dies said he doubted Ruby was the man he remembered.

Ruby had his name legally changed from Rubenstein a number of years ago.

"The name is a very common one," Dies said. "But the age element does fit."

"The Communist Youth Movement is for people in their early 20's."

[Ruby is 52.

Payroll Changeover Reflects Continuity

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Effective 2 p.m. EST. Friday, Nov. 22, the name of John F. Kennedy was removed from the government's payroll as President and replaced with that of Lyndon B. Johnson.

Few of the events of the last week illustrate more effectively that "continuity without confusion" in government urged by President Johnson than that simple bookkeeping notation by the General Accounting Office (GAO).

The actual change on the GAO's books was not made until Tuesday since the office was closed Monday, the official day of mourning for the slain President. But it was made retroactive to that tragic hour when the President passed away.

At that time, Johnson's salary went from the $35,000 annually he received as vice president to $100,000.

He also began receiving the $50,000 annual allowance given to the President "for defraying expenses relating to or resulting from the discharge of his official duties."

A GAO official said the bookkeeping change was strictly an intra-office transaction that involved no extensive paperwork.

Handles Payroll
 The GAO handles the presidential payroll. It sends a form each month to the Treasury showing how much the Chief Executive should be paid for that period. Checks are made out at the end of each month.

There is no change in the salary of Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., now next in line of presidential succession. He continues to receive the $35,000 salary paid to the presiding officer of the House.

However, Senate President Pro-Tempore Carl Hayden, D-Ariz.—who becomes third in line for the nation's highest office—received a raise from his senator's pay of $22,500 to $35,000. He now receives the vice president's salary because he will be performing the vice president's Senate duties even though Hayden does not receive the title. These include presiding over the Senate, processing communications and legislation, and handling other responsibilities involved in the parliamentary ritual.

The law also provides that the widow of a President is entitled to a $10,000 life-time pension, but to receive it she must waive the right to any other government annuity for which she may be eligible.

In the case of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, she also would be entitled to a pension as the widow of a man who served in both the House and the Senate.

Use Formula
 A Treasury official said the amount is calculated by using a formula based on years of service and the salary during those years.

He was unable to state specifically whether this would be more than the $10,000 presidential pension. He said this information was considered confidential and usually was not revealed by the government.

There was one interesting bookkeeping aspect of the tragic change that came about last Friday. The GAO said the pay on that day for both the late President and his successor would be pro-rated.

A GAO official said that for such bookkeeping calculations, the President's salary and allowance is figured on a daily basis which comes to about $411 per day.

Tom Glitsch Owner of Pampa's Surplus City

Surplus City, 403 S. Cuyler, has been under the new ownership of Tom Glitsch since Oct. 1. Glitsch has resided at Woodward, Okla., since 1937. After graduating from Enid Business College in Enid, Okla., he served in the U.S. Air Force from April 1951 to 1955. After his service tour he joined the C. R. Anthony Co. and became an assistant manager for them. In 1957 he was made manager of Newcombs Department Store in Woodward and in 1960 he became associated with Fitts Dry Goods Co. in Kansas City as their salesman in northwest Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle. Glitsch has always wanted his own retail business and is very excited about Pampa and Surplus City. He will continue to bring the finest quality merchandise at lowest prices. Darrel Cokely and Mrs. Wilma King are employed by Glitsch and they all invite you to come in, browse around and get acquainted with Surplus City at 403 S. Cuyler. Glitsch's wife, Jonie and their three sons, Randy, 9; Steven, 7; and Richard, 5, were visiting in Pampa over the Thanksgiving holiday. They, too, are excited about Pampa and anxious to move here. The new store slogan is, "The working man's friend. Right on the corner. Right on the price" 403 S. Cuyler.

Plans Being Set for Information Marker

Plans are under way for the erection of a Confederate Memorial Information Marker for Peter W. Gray in Pampa, John Ben Sheperd of Odessa, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, announced today. The marker will be placed on the court house lawn. Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan and J. Wade-Duncan have been assisting the TSHSC with the marker placement. "History is of prime interest to tourists," said Sheperd. "We must also not forget that through this marker program our school children can learn more about the history of the area and state." Peter W. Gray, in whose honor this county was named, came to Texas from Virginia in 1838. He was a political and cultural leader in Houston, the Republic, state and confederacy. He was district attorney, judge, justice of Texas Supreme Court and legislator in Texas and of the C.S.A. In 1864 he became treasury agent for the "amputated" C.S.A. sector west of the Mississippi River. The marker will be of Texas pink granite, stand 5 feet high, and have the Texas star and wreath incised at the top. The markers are part of a three-year program to commemorate the Civil War in Texas in stone. The TSHSC is endeavoring to place markers at important Civil War locations in Texas for distinguished Confederate units, and in counties named for men who had Confederate service.

Wayland Graduates Eligible for AAUW

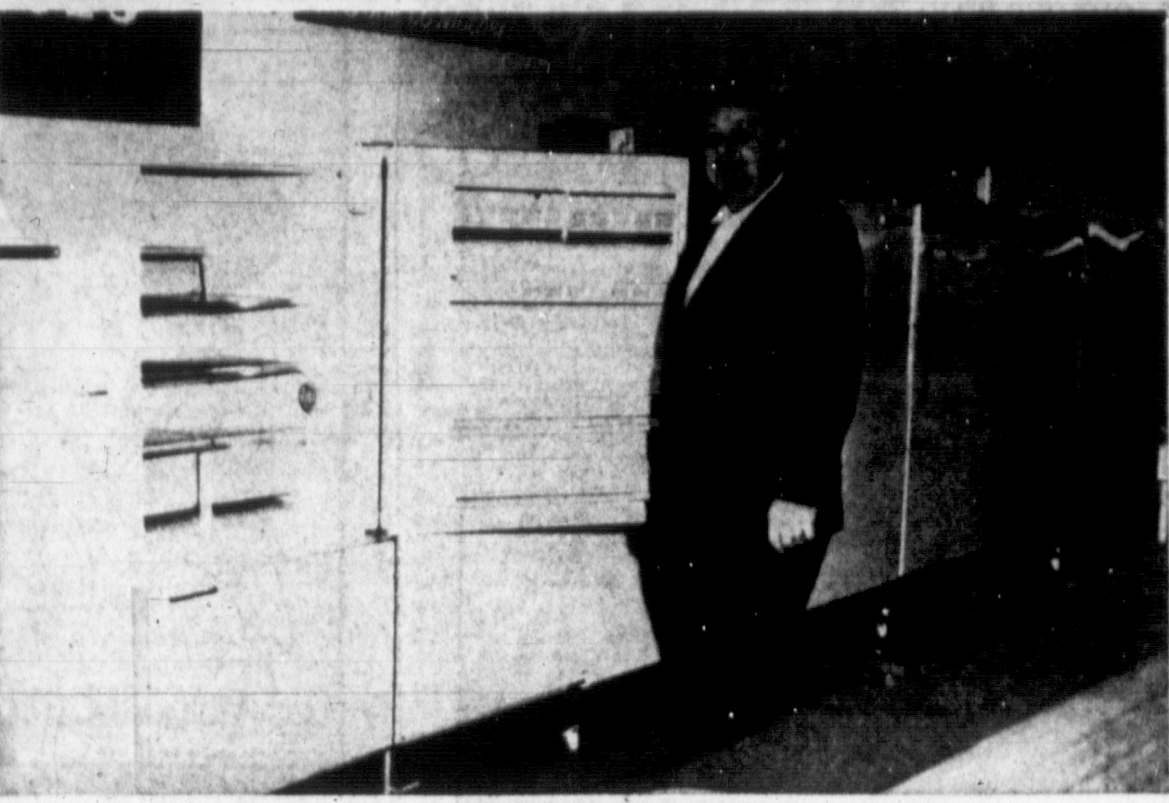

PLAINVIEW (Spl) — Membership in American Association of University Women has been given Wayland Baptist College, reports Dr. Blanche H. Dow, national president. "This is another achievement for Wayland and adds to the college's effectiveness," said President Roy C. McClung in making the announcement. In her letter of notification, Dr. Dow stated: "Women graduates of Wayland Baptist College, including those who graduated with a recognized baccalaureate degree prior to AAUW listing, are now eligible for membership in the association." This means that all women graduates since 1949, when the college awarded the first B.A. and B.S. degrees, are now eligible for membership in local branches of AAUW. Wayland became a senior college in 1947 and conferred the first baccalaureate degrees in 1949.

Students Get Band Positions

CANADIAN (Spl) — Eight Canadian High School Band members qualified for participation in the regional band in competition last week at Caprock High School in Amarillo. Two won the honor of playing first chair in their sections of the band, which will hold a concert next Saturday night in the Perryton High School auditorium. Wade Adams will be playing first chair base and Earl Rhea III will play first chair cornet. Betty Gober will play second chair clarinet and Sandy Henderson third chair flute. These young people will be qualified to enter competition for all-state band later in the year. Other Canadian students qualifying for Regional Band and the positions they will be playing in are Donna Zenor, eighth chair cornet; Marian Ezzell, seventh chair clarinet; Jane Forrest, 20th chair clarinet; Janie Jackson eighth chair French horn. Conductor of the band will be Gerald Hemphill, a member of the faculty of West Texas State University.

NO TEAM since the great Wichita Falls and Abilene teams of a few years back ever dominated an all-district team so completely as did the Tascosa Rebels the all-district 3-AAAA team picked by the Amarillo News-Globe yesterday.

Tascosa, the district champ, notched 14 of the 22 positions on the honor squad, with a few bones thrown to each of the other teams, principally Borger.

The team, chosen by our friend, Jim Sims, a fine sports-writer, but apparently a man with a prejudice or two hidden away, is almost exactly the same as his all-city team chosen last week. . . the only difference being Borger players substituted for Palo Duro players on the all-district.

★ WHEN YOU HAVE a team like Wichita Falls that is so obviously better at just about every position than anyone else in the loop, you can have a one-way team. . . but when you have a team that was tied by another and barely squeaked by two more, well, they just couldn't have been that good.

What is more, some of the other positions seem to have been awarded on a per capita basis, not on an ability basis. . . either that, or frankly, brother Sims just can't tell one football player from another.

Two defensive team positions were given to the Pampa Harvesters. One went to Kenny Hebert, and the other. . . to Jerry Goodwin!

★ THAT IS CORRECT. . . Jerry, not Ricky Goodwin. Either Jim didn't know that there were two Goodwins or he had never really paid any attention to the Harvesters, heard the name Goodwin being praised by other sportswriters and coaches, and just threw him in as a sop to the Green 'n Gold.

Because Ricky Goodwin was one of the finest linemen the Harvesters have ever produced, and if he doesn't deserve the mention, the whole thing becomes the biggest farce since a San Antonio newspaper invented a football team to stop a

Demons Only Defender Left

By United Press International
Quite a few surprise names were on the Texas schoolboy quarterfinals list today.

As a matter of fact, only one defending state champion survived the pace so far — the Dumas Demons of Class AAA. Former Class AAAA champ San Antonio Brackenridge and AA tittit Jackboro lost out last weekend in bi-district action and such favorites as Dallas South Oak Cliff in AAAA, South San Antonio in AAA, Pine Tree and Katy in AA and Rosebud and Hull-Daisetta in A were all victims of upsets.

Lee, Dumas, Corsicana, La Marque, Gonzales and Dalhart own the only undefeated untied records in the race, while Garland, Pasadena, Spring Branch, Pharr — San Juan — Alamo, Paul Pettit, Sinton, Petersburg, Hallsville, and Bastrop are unbeaten but tied. Pasadena and Pharr — San Juan — Alamo have been tied twice.

Garland and Lee emerged from last week's play as strong title threats after their 58-14 and 55-48 defeats of Texarkana and Brackenridge, but San Angelo and Spring Branch still are favored to reach the finals.

San Angelo beat Ysleta Bel Air 42-0 and Spring Branch stopped Houston Waltrip 13-6 last week. Tascosa blanked Grand Prairie 34-0. Paschal upset South Oak Cliff 21-12. Pasadena edged Port Arthur 22-21 and MHSR beat Temple 18-6.

In AAA, Dumas and La Marque are the finals favorites after 7-3 and 43-14 defeats of Andrews and El Campo last week. Graham beat Snyder 19-0, McKinney edged Fort Worth Castleberry on penetrations in a 21-21 tie. Corsicana hurdled Palestine 21-14. Conroe beat Nederland 24-7. Gonzales beat Austin Johnston 24-0, and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo put out South San Antonio 21-0.

RICKY GOODWIN

rival on copying its sports stories!

Jerry Goodwin is a fine youngster, and I have a definite belief that next year he will be to the Harvesters what Ricky was this year. . . but Ricky, not Jerry, was the man who made the Harvester line. . . Coach Otis Holladay said before the season started. . . "as Ricky Goodwin goes, so go the Harvesters." Since Ricky, the only lineman named a team captain, led the team in tackles and in blocking, and in at least two games, was literally a one-man line, surely he should at least deserve the honor of a sportswriter knowing the difference between him and his brother!

★ AS FAR AS Hebert making the team defensively, although this was definitely a deserved honor, it would seem as if this were a sop for the fact that he did not make the offensive team. At least he got more of a consolation than players such as Greg Lott and Tom Sawyer. . . they didn't even make honorable mention!

It was a foregone conclusion that Harkins would make an Amarillo News team. There is no gaining the fact that he looked better than Lott in their meeting and played Hebert on even terms. It would have been a very interesting situation, though, to have seen "Li'l Ol' Birdleg" behind a line such as Lubbock or Plainview, and Mr. Hebert or Mr. Lott operating back of that Tascosa forward wall. Just an academic question, but interesting.

★ Position by position, there are quite a few spots where I would disagree with Mr. Sims. Possibly I, too, am prejudiced (but then I only have to be loyal to one team in this district, not as many as Jim is supposed to be for), but I feel that both Ricky and Kenny deserved to be on the offensive team as well, and I definitely believe that Rick Stewart and Terry Criss both should have a defensive spot. Oh well, coach Holladay says that the coaches choose a team of their own. . . we'll wait until Tascosa finishes play, and then see what the coaches like.

Weekend Sports

By United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI) — The San Francisco Forty Niners get first choice today in the National Football League draft and probably will select Miami quarterback George Mira to open the annual harvest of college talent.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The University of Tennessee athletics board met today to hire a new football coach who can push Tennessee back to its old days of gridiron glory.

Coach Jim McDonald, who held the top job for only five months and compiled a 5-5 record this season, was moved to the post of assistant athletic director at an undisclosed salary. McDonald, former Ohio State fullback, tried to fit a multiple offense into Tennessee's old single wing attack but it didn't take.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Wall Alston was rewarded with a $50,000 contract today for leading the Los Angeles Dodgers to the world championship and to prove that the club is one big happy family he asked to have all his coaches back, including Leo Durocher.

SAN DIEGO — Baseball's winter meetings opened with the Pacific Coast League voting to continue with 10 teams in 1964. The International League voted to operate with eight clubs, but was considering expansion to 12.

NEW YORK — Bruce Kidd of Toronto won the National Amateur Athletic Union 10,000-meter cross-country championship.

White Deer Loses Most Of Starters

WHITE DEER (Spl) — What have you got left when you lose all but one part-time starter from a two-time district and 1961-62 state championship team?

Well. . . if you are coach Roy Simmons of White Deer, you start rebuilding and hope you can develop some youngsters by district action.

A long-time White Deer basketball dynasty was literally wiped out by graduation, grades and injuries. Gone are All-Stars Carroll Russell and Curtis Campbell, plus all-district Jim Thurmond and Charlie Coleman. Out with a broken foot is Wes Schultz. Out for the time being trying to improve his grades is Mike Gann, leaving only six-foot Dan Simmons from the club that won state in 1962 and rang up a 23-7 record last year, losing bi-district to state finalist Canyon.

Rounding out the nucleus of the new team is 6-1 letterman Mike Reynolds. Billy Gann, another letterman, is also out temporarily, leaving the rest of the team to be formed out of last season's B team, which came up with a rush late in the season to finish over the .500 mark.

Up from the B team are 6-3½ Larry Carter, 5-8 sharpshooter Cal Johnson, 6-0 Gray Cook, 5-4 Jack Dunivan and 5-8 Ray Armstrong. Rebounding aid is expected from 6-2½ Gary Turner, a B teamer year before last who sat out last season.

A pair of promising sophomores are 5-11 Ricky Paul, expected to be one of the team's best shooters, and 6-1½ Monty Hawne on the boards.

"We're going to have to experiment a great deal," explained Simmons. "Early in the season we have a real tough schedule, one of the toughest you can find. We'll learn more playing better teams though, and by district we might jell as a unit."

"I guess you'd just have to list us as an unknown quantity. We'll lose quite a few before we get rolling, but I think we have the potential to start rolling if these boys can compete against much more experienced teams. "As far as the district goes, Shamrock should be a dark horse. They integrated this year and have a couple of fine colored boys out. Otherwise, on the basis of last year's records and the boys coming back, I'd have to pick Stinnett, Dalhart and Spearman in that order in 1-A.A."

"White Deer? As I said, we're strictly an unknown quantity. I'll be able to give you a better idea when district rolls around."

Gold Sox May Get Axe

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The Texas League will operate as either an eight-team or six-team loop next year — despite the fact that there were seven franchises today.

Directors of the league Sunday voted to approve the Fort Worth franchise which will be operated by Tommy Mercer and associates.

That brought the number of franchises to seven — the others being Austin, El Paso, Amarillo, Albuquerque, Tulsa and San Antonio.

"But if we can find an eighth member by the time our January meeting rolls around," said President Dick Butler, "we'll operate as an eight-team loop. If we don't, then we'll drop back to a six-team league."

The guessing among directors present was that Amarillo would be the team without a franchise in 1964 if the league cuts down to six clubs. Amarillo is the only one without a major league tie-up at present.

The league all-star game will be played against the Houston Colts on Aug. 20 at a site to be determined.

The player limit was set for 22 men the first 30 and last 20 days of the campaign with only 20 men per team the rest of the time.

Pro Loop Races Closer After Sunday's Games

By NORMAN MILLER

UPI Sports Writer

Jimmy Brown rode to glory by land and Y.A. Tittle through the air, but rookie Ron Vanderkelen scrambled his way to fame, just like he did in the last Rose Bowl game.

All in all, it was a hectic National Football League Sunday that produced two records, two tie games and the further tightening of both conference races.

Brown gained 179 rushing yards in the Cleveland Browns' 24-10 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and set a new NFL single-season record of 1,677. He broke his own mark of 1,527 gained in 1958.

Tittle's winning 17-yard touchdown pass to Del Shofner in the New York Giants' 34-27 triumph over the Dallas Cowboys gave

Army-Navy Tilt May Set Cotton

By FRED DOWN

UPI Sports Writer

Army and Navy will meet next Saturday in the annual interservice classic which they regard as the beginning and the end of their seasons, but the third time in seven years the game will be "bigger than both of 'em" as far as the rest of the country is concerned.

Because behind the pageantry and the traditional pomp will be the possibility that this year's Army-Navy game will create a head-on meeting in the Cotton Bowl between the nation's first and second-ranked college football teams.

Texas, rated No. 1 by the UPI board of coaches, has already earned a Cotton Bowl berth on the strength of its perfect season and Southwest Conference championship. And now it's up to Jolly Roger Staubach and his Navy cohorts to beat Army and win the second-ranked Middles an invitation to oppose the Longhorns on New Year's Day.

Bowl Lineups

The other big New Year's Day berths were resolved Saturday as follows:

—Washington defeated Washington State, 16-0, and was selected by the Big Six to face Big Ten champion Illinois in the Rose Bowl.

—Mississippi and Alabama were matched in the Sugar Bowl despite disappointing windups of their campaigns.

—Auburn beat Alabama, 10-8, and won the right to oppose Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

him a career record of 197 TD tosses, one more than the old mark set by Bobby Layne.

The Cleveland and New York wins kept them tied atop the Eastern standings with 9-3 records while St. Louis dropped back to third with 8-4.

Vanderkelen Shines
Of less permanent significance, but just as heroic among the day's achievements, was the emergency performance of Vanderkelen in the Minnesota Vikings' 17-17 tie with the favored Chicago Bears.

In Sunday's other games, the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Philadelphia Eagles battled to a 20-20 tie; the Baltimore Colts trounced the Washington Redskins, 36-20; and the Los Angeles Rams defeated the San Francisco Forty Niners, 21-17.

The Bears, with a record of nine victories, one defeat and two ties, compared to the Green Bay Packers' nine victories, two losses and one tie, now cannot afford another defeat.

Vanderkelen got his chance to play against the Bears when Fran Tarkenton was injured early in the game. The former Wisconsin star set up Minnesota's first touchdown with a 30-yard pass to Gordon Smith. Vanderkelen then completed a 53-yard pass to Smith for the first touchdown pass of his pro career.

Bears Battle Back
The Bears battled back in the second half, however, to wipe out that 17-3 halftime deficit. Billy Wade went over on a one-yard buck after a Viking punt gave the Bears possession on Minnesota's 49-yard line and his eight-yard scoring pass to Joe Marconi tied the game with 7:49 remaining.

Jimmy Brown broke his rushing record with a 61-yard bolt in the first period. He scored two touchdowns on short carries to give the Browns a 21-3 halftime lead and they coasted home from there. Frank Ryan passed 23 yards to Rich Kreitling for Cleveland's first touchdown.

Parilli, beset by Beantown taunts of "take him out," quarterbacked two touchdown drives in the second half against Buffalo Sunday for a 17-7 victory and a first place tie with Houston.

San Diego helped set up the deadlock by clobbering Houston, 27-0, while New York edged into the tight Eastern picture by disposing of Kansas City, 17-0, to move within a half-game of the lead.

Boston plays its "crucial" game against the Oilers in Houston next Sunday and closes out the season at Kansas City on Saturday, Dec. 14. So any future boogie of Parilli by the Boston fans will have to be directed at their home television screens.

Parilli connected on a 44-yard scoring pass to halfback Larry Garrison to tie Buffalo at 7-7 in the third period and then put the Patriots ahead by scoring on a two-yard keeper play. Gino Capeletti added an insurance field goal from the 43-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Cookie Gilchrist climaxed an 80-yard Bill drive in the second period when he bucked over from the one for Buffalo's lone touchdown.

Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe generated a San Diego attack against Houston that gave the Chargers a two-game lead in the Western Division. Lincoln, who gained 102 yards, penetrated the Oiler defense for a 15-yard touchdown romp in the first period and Lowe went over from the two in the second quarter.

George Blair booted field goals of 42 and 20 yards and Lance Alworth tallied on a 22-yard pass from Tobin Rote to close out the San Diego scoring.

New York shut out an opponent for the first time in four years of AFL play and the Chiefs, under Dallas and Kansas City franchises, suffered their first whitewash in 54 league games that included the 1962 championship playoffs.

Defensive back Bill Baird set up the first jet TD by returning a missed Kansas City field goal try 60 yards. Dick Wood followed with a 20-yard scoring pass to Don Maynard.

Harvesters Kick Off Home Play

The Pampa Harvesters open the homecourt basketball season tonight against Perryton with a B team game beginning at 6:15 and a varsity game at 8. The Green 'n Gold hits the road again with a game at Phillips tomorrow night and then enters the Plainview Tournament this weekend.

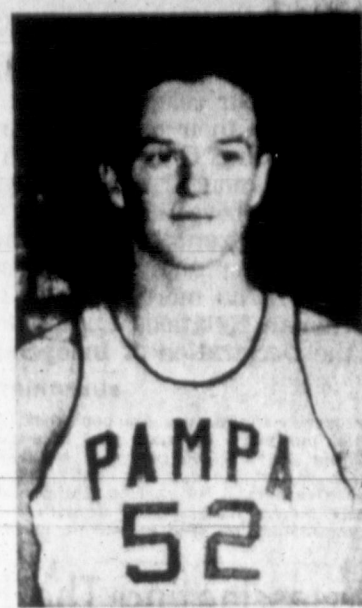

Coach Terry Culley was pleased with the opening of the Harvesters' cage season this weekend, despite two hairbreadth losses, 61-60 to Wichita Falls and 63-59 to Wichita Falls Rider.

"What really impressed me was the surprisingly accurate shooting for the first time out, the way our football players came around in such a hurry, and the ability of the kids to come back from behind in both games," said Culley.

"We don't know much about Perryton," said the longtime Harvester cage coach, "apparently they haven't played yet. We played them a home-and-home last year and they gave us a good game both times, we had to break the second one open in the second half to win. They graduated their 6-7 boy, I believe, but they have good size, several 6-4 and 6-3 boys."

"Phillips has looked very impressive in a very lopsided win over Shamrock and a win over White Deer Saturday night. They have fair height and some very good outside shooters, especially this Danny Dawson boy."

"This weekend was kind a heartbreaking," continued Culley. "It's rough losing one game on a free throw after time is up, and the other in the last minute on more free throws. Overall though, it wasn't really too bad. I expected that we'd make a lot of mistakes the first time out and we did, but we had some very good moments. "Our shooting was excellent. We hit over 41 per cent the first game and 47 per cent the second game from the floor and did 73 per cent at the free throw line the second game. The kids really hustled too, especially in coming from behind."

DANNY HEIL . . . looking good

"We took a 20-7 lead against WF in the first quarter, but then we got stoned cold in the second quarter, hit about 15 per cent while they were making half their shots and seven or eight free throws. They caught up and went ahead, but the kids came right back again and had it all tied up until that free throw."

"Against Rider we had a poor first quarter and trailed all the way, but we came back and caught up in the fourth quarter and kept it even until the three-point play they made in the final minute."

"For a start for an inexperienced team, it was pretty good. Any team that keeps coming from behind and doesn't know when it's beaten won't be beaten when they get a little more experience under their belts."

"Outstanding players over the week end would have to be Rick Stewart, Kenny Hebert, Danny Heil and Kerry Roper. I didn't think Stewart and Hebert would round into shape so quickly after football, but playing only 18 minutes total as we two-played, Kenny was high scorer with 13 and 14 points and Rick had eight and 11. Heil had 11 points the first game and did a real good job on the boards, and Roper sparked that comeback against Ryder."

56TH YEAR MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1963 7

RCA Names Oliver Champion Cowboy

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dean Oliver, a rangy 200-pounder from Boise, Idaho, today owns the title of 1963 World Champion Cowboy — conferred by the Rodeo Association of America.

Oliver, a 34-year-old 5-foot-3 calf-roping specialist, won a total of $31,329 at rodeos during the year and this gave him the title Sunday night at the conclusion of the National Finals Rodeo (NFR).

A clean-living guy who does not smoke or use stimulants, Oliver picked up all of his winnings except $2,232 in calf-roping. He got the remainder in steer wrestling.

Best average for the calf-roping was recorded by Olin Young of Albuquerque, N.M., who won a total of $1,894 at the NFR.

Oliver, however, had the best individual time when he tied a calf in the flashy time of 9.3 seconds in the seventh go-round Sunday afternoon for an NFR record.

Biggest NFR money-winner was a bull-riding buckaroo named Leo Brown of Czar, Alta., Canada. He won $2,486 in NFR money and finished the year in seventh place in national standings with $10,854.

Champion for 1963 in bull riding was 19-year old Bill Kornell, Palm Springs, Calif., who won a total of $15,452.

Another big winner was Jim Bynum of Waxahachie, Tex., who took the steer wrestling championship. Bynum, a graying 38-year-old weighing around 235 pounds, won $18,252 during the year although he didn't do very well in the NFR where he picked up only $616.

Best NFR performance in the steer wrestling was turned in by Don Huddleston, Tahliha, Okla., who pinned a long-horn in the record time of 3.9 seconds in the final go-round.

Huddleston won $1,387 in NFR money and had a total of $14,460 — good for fourth place for the year.

Total attendance at the eight go-rounds was 68,886. The final go-round was filmed and will be shown on the ABC-TV network Dec. 7 at 4 p.m. CST.

Assassinating The Facts

Our country is shrouded with the tragedy of John F. Kennedy. The personal disaster to the Kennedy family, the violent disruption of the processes of government, the dread intrusion of assassination into our life above all, the emotional aftermath stage of national, and indeed, international life. We are a troubled nation, experiencing a sobering crisis. The facts of the assassination themselves are comprehensible. The motive, however, is still obscure. A second assassination has deprived us of the official verdict that we needed so badly. But, in their most authoritative form, these facts must be preserved and held high for all to see. Without them, we would be experiencing an emotional reign of terror spawning sweeping and unfounded accusations. Lee Oswald was a man of the Communist left. He had publicly proclaimed his love of the Soviet Union and his hatred of what he called "the prison" United States. He was a follower of Castro. He was an agitator for the cause of Soviet aggression. Whether or not he acted officially as a Communist in perpetrating the dastardly act has not been established. The evidence that Oswald committed the heinous crime is mountainous. His palm prints were on the box at the sniper's post. Paraffin tests established that he had just fired a rifle. He was photographed with such a rifle as fired the lethal bullets. He went to the building where the shots were fired with an elongated package he described as "window shades." In his living quarters there was found a diagram of the trajectory of the bullets that killed the President. Oswald was placed at the scene of the firing. He was seen killing the policeman who sought to arrest him. When these facts began to reach the grief-stricken nation, the Communists found it imperative that they be impeached. The Communists, or, at least to fuff over, the verdict. Onto this scene came Jack Ruby. What was his role? The whole Communist apparatus has gone to work at impugning the assembled facts. The campaign is well orchestrated. It is helped by powerful voices thundering that the killing was the work of "bigots" and "rightists." Communist street pamphleteers are passing out thousands of leaflets which say that the assassination of the President was the work of the "Birchites." This is the framework of the struggle ahead. The Communists, and those who unaccountably side with them, will be pressing hard to deflect the great emotional surge that swirls around the tragedy of John F. Kennedy into a national neurosis against further resistance to the growing Soviet tide. It is appalling even to contemplate the emotional frenzy that would have been unleashed against the city of Dallas and the so-called political right if Police Chief Jess Curry's men had not apprehended an out-of-town Marxist as the assassin of the President in the first hours after the deed. It is becoming more and more apparent that Dallas is being designated by the Communists as a symbol in the chess game they are playing with our destiny. It is particularly lamentable that the man who should be the most judicial-minded in the land, the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, is being less than carefully judicial about his emotional assessments of the evidence, and hurls his own emotional charge over the land — Robert Morris in "Around The World."

Profits or the Whip!

One of the most dangerous illusions fostered in this country in late years is that there is something sinful about profits — that profits are a device for robbing the people. It is possible to run an economy on a profitless basis. The communists demonstrate how. They do it by using fear and the whip as the motive force behind production. But if men are to work voluntarily, willingly and eagerly to make better products, to explore new frontiers, and to build a richer life for all, they must see a chance for profit. The profits — often vastly exaggerated or misrepresented — of the pharmaceutical industry have been a primary target. Sometime ago the president of one of the leading pharmaceutical houses said: "Men of vision and courage in our industry have undertaken risks which more often resulted in failure than in success. The reasonable rewards which provide the incentive for this activity are profits. Without them our industry could not operate as it does. The perverted sense of values which has been forced upon us in recent years draws the broad implication that because our industry is commercial we should be suspect; the word profits has been portrayed as having an evil connotation; most recently we have been depicted as an industry willing, for profit, to foist 'unsafe' drugs upon an unsuspecting public. Nothing could be farther from the truth." What, in return for the drug industry's profits, have we received? We have received miracle drugs that have banished many of the most dreaded killers and controlled others, especially in the later years. The physician has been given invaluable tools, many of which did not exist 20 or even 10 years ago. Is that a fair exchange?

Edson In Capitol

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Lyndon Baines Johnson has a 23-year voting record in Congress which gives the best insight on his ideas, particularly on domestic policies. This is the real background against which his statements as president should be measured. Comparison will show how liberal he has been or, if his ideas have changed, just how conservative he has become. His own appraisal is that he is neither liberal nor conservative, but votes on the merits of issues.

In his early years in Congress, when he was a protege of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Rep. Johnson piled up a formidable record in favor of New Deal farm policies. He voted for the original Agricultural Adjustment Act. He voted for increased Commodity Credit Corp. borrowing authority and increased parity payments to farmers. He opposed all the Benson programs during the Eisenhower administration. Johnson's voting record shows consistent, affirmative support for flood control, reclamation projects, prevention of water pollution, desalinization experiments to increase fresh water supplies, and public power development. He has been a backer of Tennessee Valley Authority and its expansion.

In the 1960 Democratic convention, organized labor leaders were cold on Johnson all the way. They charged that he had used his position as Senate Majority Leader to slow down liberal legislation that labor wanted most.

He had voted for the Taft-Harley Act in 1947 and the Labor-Management Reporting Act of 1958 and 1959. But he did vote for minimum wage increases. After becoming vice president, Johnson tried to improve his relations with labor. He gained union backing for his equal employment opportunity and apprenticeship training programs. Last year the AFL-CIO invited him to address their legislative conference in Washington. He gave them a fight talk on the Kennedy programs and they liked it.

As an advocate of civil rights, Johnson bases his claim on two principal activities. He put through the 1957 and 1960 Civil Rights Acts. These measures were compromises and did not go as far as the Negro leaders wanted. Also, they have not been too effective or enforceable. But Lyndon Johnson ran for the vice presidency on the 1960 Democratic platform which advocated more far-reaching reforms than are proposed in the bill now before the House Rules Committee. And as vice president, Johnson has served effectively as chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

In the health, education and welfare fields, the new President's congressional voting record is all on the side of the liberals. He has been for the National Defense Education Act all along and has supported federal funds for both public school construction and teachers' salaries. He has voted for big health research and public health appropriations, Social Security and welfare payment expansion. He has voted for slum clearance and public housing. He was for an anti-recession bill in 1959 and backed redevelopment aid for depressed areas before the Kennedy administration.

In 1960 he was for the Kennedy-Anderson bill to put medical care under Social Security, but when this was defeated in the House, Johnson voted for the substitute Kerr-Mills bill. His position on tax legislation needed the partial clarification President Johnson has now given it by announcing he will support the Kennedy tax cut proposal. He made no mention of tax reform.

He has been consistently against reduction of oil depletion allowances. He seems to have made no public statements on the Kennedy-Dillon tax cut and tax reform programs, though he praised the beneficial effects on business of the changed depreciation allowance and investment tax credits. As chairman of the Space Council, Johnson has given full support to this multibillion dollar program. Similarly, he has been a strong defense man. He was chairman of the Senate Preparedness Committee after World War II, but his efforts were directed at reducing waste, not cutting defenses.

Allen-Scott Report

'One-Man Investigating Committee,' Senator Williams, Plans To Quit in '65; Meanwhile To Push Baker, Other Probes

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Senator John Williams, who sparked the sensational Robert G. (Bobby) Baker investigation and others equally explosive, is quitting at the end of his current term in January 1965.

The 59-year-old Delaware Republican, whose quiet but dogged probing and exposes have earned him the unofficial titles of "conscience of the Senate" and "one-man investigating committee," is telling friends he will not seek a fourth term. He was first elected in 1946.

In confirming this inside word, Williams told this column: "There is a very strong probability that I will retire at the end of this term. I have been considering that for some time." He declined to discuss his future plans, but they involve a high private position.

While preparing to wind up his long Senate career, Williams made it clear that will in no way affect his insistence on an all-out investigation of the business and other activities of "Bobby" Baker. In addition to the considerable information he has already turned over to the probers, Williams will submit new material he has uncovered.

Two other potentially highly explosive cases are being explored by Williams. One involves conflict-of-interest charges against an important official of the foreign aid administration; the other, startling irregularities in a government agency. Williams has specialized in exposing tax scandals. His reverberating disclosures rocked the administrations of Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy. He played a prominent role in the Henry Grunwald case, the Bernard Goldfield sensations that led to the resignation of White House assistant Sherman Adams, and the still-unfinished Billie Sol Estes affair.

It was Williams' disclosures that also forced out of office a State Department official who hadn't filed an income tax return for six years. Previously he had held an important office in the Treasury Department.

KENNEDY'S ASSASSIN — A House Judiciary Subcommittee has documentary evidence that Lee Oswald, slayer of President Kennedy, swore allegiance to Communist Russia. The assassin did that on November 2, 1959 in the U.S. embassy in Moscow.

A State Department report states that on that day, "Oswald swore to the following affidavit: 'I affirm that my allegiance is to the Soviet Socialist Republic.' He requested that his American citizenship be revoked."

In the files of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee is other information that may shed significant light on this tragic murder. On August 27, 1960, Senator Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., vice chairman was questioning Arthur Gardner, former Ambassador to Cuba, on the Communist threat in the Caribbean. A transcript of their discussion contains the following:

Dodd: "Did you once see a picture of Fidel Castro with a telescopic rifle, boasting that he could kill a man at a thousand yards?"

Gardner: "Someone told me about that. I never saw the photograph myself."

SMART FATHER — Egypt's dictator President Gamal Nasser has enrolled his 17-year-old daughter Mona in the American University at Cairo. She is proving one of the star students of her class.

According to Intelligence, Algeria's leftist Premier Ben Bella has asked for the young woman's hand.

WHY THEY DON'T VOTE — President Johnson is preparing to make public his first important report — why millions of Americans don't exercise their right to vote.

Submitted by a commission named by the late President Kennedy, the study reveals that various state and local restrictions rather than indifference keep voters from balloting. Following are highlights:

Some 8 million voters were prevented from balloting in 1960 because of inability to comply with residential requirements. An estimated 20 million voters shift residency between presidential elections.

New Hampshire, Idaho and Utah consistently have the highest voter turn-outs. The reason, according to the report, is minimum registration requirements. Example: In Idaho, voters can register up to a week before election.

Voting procedures discourage balloting. Large numbers of voters get tired of waiting in line and forgo voting. Inaccessibility and unattractiveness of polling places also are deterrents.

The 10-member commission, headed by Census Director Richard Scammon, rejected a recommendation for a federal law for uniform election requirements and practices throughout the country. A majority of the commission held that should be left to the states.

The commission also kept aloof from racial and other discriminatory issues.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "Why is it that most of our trouble comes from sincere and conscientious people?"

ANSWER: The simple reason is that there are more sincere and conscientious people than there are people who are criminals or who are not sincere and conscientious.

The sincere and conscientious people would not be able to do much harm if they didn't run to the government and use the power of the government to put their mistaken ideas into practice. If they were not able to use initiated force to make other people comply with their will, they could do little harm.

These sincere and conscientious people wouldn't think of doing what they are asking the government to do because they know that it would be wrong for them as individuals to do it. These sincere and conscientious people usually are not able to recognize a contradiction.

Pareto, the great Italian philosopher says that most of our trouble comes from well meaning people attempting to do good for other people.

Henry D. Thoreau says if he sees a man coming to his cottage with the idea of helping him he will run for his life.

Isabel Paterson, who wrote "The God of The Machine," says that most of our trouble comes from well meaning good people.

The trouble is that a lot of people think that many people are vicious and wicked. Very few are, but leaving these people alone and not dealing with them and not talking to them, unless they will answer questions, might be a way to get them to straighten out. We certainly are not making any progress by using initiated force by way of the government to try

HISTORY IGNORED

Plymouth Colonists Not 'Wiser Than God'

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

"The failure of this experiment of communal living, which was tried for several years and by good and honest men, proves the emptiness of the theory of Plato and other ancients, applauded by some of later times that the taking away of private property, and the possession of it in a commonwealth or community, by a commonwealth, would make a state happy and flourishing; as if they were wiser than God".

During a period of 16 weeks, I read this historic statement to students who ranged in age from 16 to 84, to high school and college students, graduates, teachers, high school principals, business executives, engineers, doctors, lawyers, housewives, newspaper editors and publishers and students of the libertarian philosophy and out of more than 150 people, only one recognized the quotation and the author and one recognized the theme and time, generally.

The author, William Bradford, governor of Plymouth, made the statement in 1623, and our present government-owned and controlled system of compulsory "education" ignores it for obvious reasons. It is convenient to ignore the fact that a public office holder in 1623 recognized socialism for the con game it is and denounced it in no uncertain terms. Gov. Bradford's recognition of the symptom of paranoia which made men believe they were wiser than God certainly deserves no less attention today.

Politicians love to refer to some intangible thing they call the public good or the public interest or the best interest of the public, as if the politicians were wiser than the people generally and individually. I marvel at their egotism, their delusions of grandeur, their self assumed air of omnipotence.

And so "educators" must have decided it was not in the best interest of those who are to be educated to learn about what Gov. Bradford thought of socialism and communism in 1623. A 10-year-old child might think to ask about the system which compelled people who were not responsible for his education and welfare, to pay for his education. Yes, I believe many 10-year-old children even today, might ask such a question if they studied Gov. Bradford's History of Plymouth.

Students of the history of Plymouth might also discover other interesting sidelights, for instance, John Alden was admonished to speak for himself and married Priscilla Mullins. Now take a look at what can happen if a man learns to speak for himself: The couple had 11 children.

It is worth noticing that Mr. and Mrs. Alden and other inhabitants of Plymouth possessed a strong sense of responsibility. Today, our children, grandchildren and generations yet unborn are enslaved by a monumental debt which a succession of tyrants have foisted upon us and them. The majority of Americans show little concern over this fact. Gov. Bradford reported a different attitude among the older inhabitants of to reform and make people good.

Plymouth in 1639; "... many of them grew aged and saw many changes were likely to befall; so as they were loath to leave these intanglements upon their children and posterity. . . . At this point, the elders began to try to straighten out their financial affairs. Our own politicians confidently expect to be dead before the financial wreckage they have created, drifts to shore.

Unfortunately, Gov. Bradford, despite his understanding of the evils of socialism, remained under the influence of a school of thought which demanded that some form of government was necessary for the protection of the people. He wondered why many inhabitants of Plymouth moved away from the Colony despite reputed dangers from Indians and wild animals. The inhabitants of Plymouth had journeyed far to get away from tyranny and yet, after their journey, they found no protection against government. Logically, they moved away from those who would govern, preferring to face unknown dangers.

So, too, do we have the choice of sanctioning thievery by government or refusing our sanction by boycotting politicians personally, socially and politically. I wonder what aspects of contemporary history will be ignored. Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Dear Editor:

There has been much comment since the death of President Kennedy, concerning the part which we as Americans, and especially as Texans, played in the assassination. It has been said that we must bear at least a part of the blame, because of the social condition of our country. One television newsman in this area made the remark that he was ashamed that he was a Texan. This is the most ridiculous thing I've heard in a long time.

I've seen rattlesnakes in Texas, alligators in Louisiana, grizzly bears in Colorado and gila monsters from Arizona, and I'm still proud that I'm an American. Can Texas help it if its climate and terrain is appealing to rattlers? Can Colorado help it if the grizzly is more suited to their climate? Must Louisiana fill in its rivers and bayous, and make itself uninhabitable to the alligator? Or Arizona air-condition its deserts to drive out the gila monster?

There have been four Presidents assassinated in the last century, and one of them was shot in Texas; so, that makes Texas an unlikely place to find security. But what of the two which happened in Washington, or the one in New York? I haven't heard any New Yorkers saying that they are ashamed to be a citizen of that great state; and, Washington still remains the capitol center of the nation. Then why degrade ourselves because our state happened to be the spot picked for the last assassination?

It is indeed regrettable that our President had to die in such a despicable manner; that he had to die at all, especially in his very prime of his life and career; and that such great tendencies for leadership should be extinguished, before it had time to finish its tasks. But to burden one state, or even our entire nation, with the guilt of one badly deranged individual, would be a gross mis-application of justice.

Some of the greatest leaders in history have been citizens of our fair state. Must we stigmatize their honorable memories by linking them with such atrocities? Must they be branded as assassins, simply because of one such atrocity happening in their beloved state? Let's place the blame right where it belongs — in the demon possessed mind of the perpetrator, not our lovely state and nation.

A thought for the day—U. S. Naval Officer Chester Nimitz said: "A ship is always referred to as 'she' because it costs so much to keep one in paint and powder."

"No, I'm not worried about being late for the party... it was all over an hour ago!"
