Rangers and FBI Capture Four In Texas Town

BULLETIN
BUCKHOLTS, Tex. (UPI) — Four sloppy-looking carnival workers suspected of murder in a four-state terror spree were arrested today on a dirt road two miles south of here.
The Department of Public Safety said no further details of the arrest were immediately available.
BUCKHOLTS, Tex. (UPI) — Texas rangers, FBI agents and police with bloodhounds searched door-to-door in this central Texas town today for four sloppy-looking carnival workers wanted for murder in Alabama.
A force of 75 officers worked on the theory that the men were on foot and might have holed up in a home with hostages. Roadblocks were set up to prevent an escape by stolen car.
Police brought bloodhounds from the Texas state prison at Huntsville, 100 miles away.

'Complete Support' Promised Diplomat in New Assignment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ambassador Thomas C. Mann is taking over direction of U.S. programs in Latin America with a pledge of "complete support" from President Johnson.
Mann, U.S. envoy to Mexico, was named Saturday as assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. He was directed by Johnson to coordinate the Alliance For Progress and other U.S. programs in Central and South America.

Work Under Way on Pampa's Nativity Scene in Central Park

Work started today on the nativity scene in Central Park. The scene is set up each year under the direction of Jiggs Cook, director of public works.
The scene will be lighted Wednesday night. The scene consists of seven life-size oil painted figures, created by citizens of Pampa in 1947 under the direction of Charles Thomas.
They consist of The Annunciation to Mary, No Room at the Inn, Shepherds and Their Flocks, The Wise Men, The Nativity itself, King Herod's Court and The Flight Into Egypt.
A great deal of publicity was given these scenes when they were first set up in 1947. They were featured on television, in life magazine and numerous newspaper articles concerning them.
They have now become a tradition in Pampa. Thousands from surrounding areas come each year to view this work that reflects the civic enthusiasm of the people of Pampa.
E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said that inasmuch as these scenes were lighted with electricity, safety precautions should be observed by the viewers. He asked that all persons within the park stay on the pathways. Above all, he warned not to allow children to stray off the trails.
Every precaution has been used and as long as visitors observe these few simple rules no accidents should happen, Wedgeworth said.
The scenes will be lighted each evening until 11, except on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, when the lights will stay on until 12 p.m. The display will remain in the park until New Year's day.

Airman Knew of Wife Mistreating Children

AMARILLO (UPI) — She was particularly resentful of Marcus DeWayne, and Elizabeth Roxanne, both 5. Mrs. Binning thought her husband ran around with other women while she was pregnant with them.
The two children were born 11 months apart.
Saturday, Marcus got in an argument with the other children and Mrs. Binning beat him with a hammer. She also beat Roxanne.
Mrs. Binning called an ambulance but by the time the boy got to the hospital he was dead. Attendants said he had two broken legs, a fractured arm, bruises, and rope burns on his neck. He had teeth marks all over his body.
Roxanne, suffering from malnutrition, was reported in fair condition with a possible skull fracture, bruises and mutilated fingers and toes.
The couples' other children aged 7, 2, and 1, were placed in the Randall County Welfare Home. They apparently had not been beaten, but all were suffering from malnutrition.
Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson ordered Mrs. Binning held without bond at the county jail at Canyon. She admitted the beatings and was charged with murder.
Det. Lt. Charles Hollis said Binning told him he had known about the beatings for a long time. He told Hollis "she threatened to kill herself and all the children if I told anyone."

More Snow in Area Forecast

Pampans can expect snow flurries today and tomorrow with slightly colder temperatures.
A heavy fog engulfed the area Sunday afternoon and night. A light plane with four persons aboard made an emergency landing shortly before dark at a landing strip southeast of the city. The pilot, Ralph McCracken, of Oklahoma City, said he felt it was safer to land there than to fly over the city to reach Perry Lefors Field to refuel. The plane had taken off from Tucumcari bound for Oklahoma City.
No measurable moisture was recorded by Bill Bowen at the amateur weather station.
The five-day forecast for the Panhandle gives 2 degrees to 4 degrees below normal temperatures for the area. Normal high is 51, a low 26.
Forecasters predict a warming trend near the end of the week.

Flood Victims Return To Ravaged Homes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Baldwin Hills area residents returned to their flood ravaged homes today thankful only three persons were killed when an earth reservoir dam burst and caused $10 million damage.
A warning of nearly four hours was credited with preventing it "from becoming one of the big disasters of all time."
With these words, City Atty. Roger Arnebergh seemed to sum up the feelings of city officials that most residents of the heavily populated area escaped death Saturday when a wall of water destroyed or damaged nearly 1,000 homes.
However, there was a possibility the death toll might rise higher as residents and workers dug through three and four feet of mud.
A path of water, almost 40 feet wide, ripped through an area a mile and a half square with homes up to the $50,000 class.
said a policeman who helped clear the area. "Had it taken us another 15 minutes we probably all would have been lost."
Officer T. B. Mason said he and other policemen were sent to the scene immediately after a crack appeared in the north wall of the 500-foot long, 135-foot high dam. He said many residents didn't even know the dam existed.
Advanced Structure
Max K. Socha, chief engineer of water works, said the dam designed by the late R. R. Proctor, was one of the most advanced structures of its type. Proctor, who died a year ago, was a worldwide authority on earth-embanked fills, and the Baldwin Hills dam had served as a model in both hemispheres, Socha said.
Although an official investigation was being held, observers speculated a series of holes in the concrete and asphalt lining revealed after the 300 million gallons of water emptied, could have been the cause of the collapse.
Whatever the cause, there were hundreds of homeless.

Congress Starts Final Business Before Holiday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress today began what leaders hope will be final week of this congressional session confronted with the mauling foreign aid bill.
Congress, which already has authorized a $3.6 billion aid program to continue another year of economic and military help to other nations, still must appropriate the money. The House Appropriations Committee has approved a reduced $2.3 billion appropriation bill that House leaders were expected to debate today.
The appointments were promptly accepted by Dr. Norman Topping, president of the University of Southern California; Dr. Franklin Murphy, president of UCLA, and Dr. Lee DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology.
The death toll could have been staggering had the dam broken at night.
"Hundreds of the 16,500 residents would have been killed,"

President Signs Into Law Bill On Federal Aid to Education

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today signed into law legislation providing $1.2 billion in federal grants and loans to help colleges build classrooms, laboratories and libraries.
The President affixed his signature to the measure at a White House ceremony. He had termed its passage last week as a "major step forward" in efforts to aid education.
The three-year program is designed to meet an expected "tidal wave" of college students in the 1960-70 decade. A major part of the late President Kennedy's education request, the bill would authorize the first broad assistance program for the nation's colleges since the 1950-year act of a century ago.
If used to the limit, the $835 million in direct federal grants and $360 million in low-interest loans could generate up to $3 billion in new construction on the campuses of 2,100 public and private colleges, universities and technical institutes.
Two to One Match
Colleges will have to match federal grants two to one, and supply at least one-quarter of total project costs when seeking the 50-year loans.
The program will be open to privately endowed and church-connected institutions as well as publicly owned and financed schools. No funds will be spent on chapels or divinity schools, nor on sports arenas or other buildings to which admission would be charged.
There also are limitations on (See PRESIDENT, Page 3)

US High Court Again Denies Hearing for 2

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today for the second time denied a hearing to James Douglas Latham and George Ronald York, sentenced to death by a Kansas court for the 1961 murder of a railroad worker, Otto Zeigler.
The brief order again leaves Kansas free to carry out the execution. An earlier appeal was rejected by the high court on May 13, 1963.
After the first round, York and Latham sought a writ of habeas corpus in Kansas City. They lost there and in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.
The men claimed they were denied fair trial because of use of what they termed illegal confessions. They said selections from the tape later were broadcast in Salt Lake City and Great Bend, Kan. They were tried in Russell, Kan.
Zeigler, of Oakley, Kan., was the sixth of seven victims York and Latham left in a scythe-shaped path of crime that covered half the nation.

Message Delivered By Rusk

By JOSEPH W. CRAIG
PARIS (UPI) — President Johnson pledged firmly today to keep the equivalent of six U.S. Army divisions in Europe "so long as they are needed."
"Under present circumstances there is no doubt they will continue to be needed," Johnson said in a message to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council meeting here.
Johnson also pledged the "steadfast resolve" of the United States to continue defending the free nations of Europe.
U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk read Johnson's message to the opening session of the three-day NATO meeting.
Immediately afterward, Rusk drove to the Elysee Palace for a 45-minute courtesy call on President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Expresses Appreciation

Rusk gave the French leader a message from Johnson expressing appreciation for de Gaulle's recent trip to Washington for the funeral of President Kennedy. However, nothing was said about a possible new visit by de Gaulle to Washington for talks with Johnson.
But today's meeting, arranged at Rusk's request, appeared designed to infuse warmth into the long frigid official relations between the United States and France.
In its opening session the NATO council also heard British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler express belief that the West today enjoys an over-all superiority of force over the Russians. But he warned that the Russians will make "every effort" to close this gap.
Butler said the Soviets did not favor major concessions to the West. Nor, he said, did they want any big showdowns with the West. He urged that the West should maintain contacts with Russians but said he had no illusions about early agreements or early solutions to East-West problems with Moscow.

Main Threat

Butler said the main threat from Communist China is not one of military aggression but of encouragement to a coalition against the Chinese. He said the Red Chinese also appear determined to avoid a clash.
President Johnson's message, in pledging America's firm resolve to continue U.S. commitments to the defense of Europe, said:
"This constancy reflects not merely the community of ideals and culture which binds us to Europe. It reflects also my country's awareness that its security can be assured, its interest and values can be furthered, only by a close partnership with Europe in common tasks."

HOSTAGE GUARDS — Miners, armed with rifles, guard the entrance to the tin-mining center of Catavi, Bolivia, where four American and 17 other hostages are being held. The rebellious miners, surrounded by government troops, were preparing today to release the hostages after threats by Bolivia President Victor Estenssoro. Hostages were taken Dec. 6 in a fruitless effort to gain release of two Communists.

Dear Abby....

A Meeting Is In Order, You Preside!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I married a woman who is "club happy." She joins everything she can get into—accepts offices, volunteers for committees and goes like a house afire six days a week. She keeps a date book in her purse and schedules herself for every hour. We have very little home life because she never has time to cook a meal or to spend an evening at home. Our phone rings constantly with her club business and she thinks this is popularity. When night comes she is so keyed up she has to take pills to sleep. Any suggestions?

HER HUSBAND: DEAR HUSBAND: Make an appointment with her for an emergency "State-Of-The-Family" meeting. Let the first order of business be your list of complaints with regard to her clubbing your marriage to a pulp. Only when she realizes that you won't stand for it will she ease off. Otherwise, YOU had better resign yourself to being last on her agenda forever....

DEAR ABBY: How about this? My brother's wife phoned me and said, "We have some Christmas gifts for you and your family. Come and get them." They have a car, too, and they live less than ten minutes from us. I didn't want any bad feelings, so I didn't tell her off. I just said, "Thank you," and never picked them up. Now she is mad anyway. What would you have done?

STUBBORN: DEAR STUBBORN: If you had been sincere in not wanting "bad feelings," you should have picked up the gifts and kept quiet.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, who is 14, was invited to a slumber party at a girl friend's house. There were 12 girls in all. Some boys crashed the party. As we understand it, the girls let them in and seemed to enjoy their company, but later on they got rowdy and more boys came, and the police had to be called. We later learned that the parents of the girl who gave the party did not sleep at home. They slept at some friend's home so the girls could have an extra bedroom. Our daughter is invited to another slumber party. Her father says she can't go. I say, if we call the mother of the girl who's giving it and she says they will be home, it's all right. Our daughter says if we call the mother it will be like saying we don't trust her. What do you say?

CONCERNED: DEAR CONCERNED: I say your daughter is lucky she didn't get a flat NO from both you and her Dad. I would not permit her to go unless I had the assurance of the mother that the parents would be at home. And even then, I'd think twice.

Hairerscope: A hairstyling center has worked out character readings based on hairstyles. For your fun:

—Give the girl with the high-rising, dramatic coil lots of attention. That's what she's bidding for.

—Admire the courage of the girl with the asymmetrical hairdo. She's a non-conformist.

—Don't be fooled by the girl with the short, short haircut. She's not showing a lack of femininity, but is revealing her basic practicality.

—Marry the girl with the natural looking, becoming hairstyle. She combines a knowledge of today's hair fashions with the desire to please.

56TH YEAR

Shades of the Diamonds

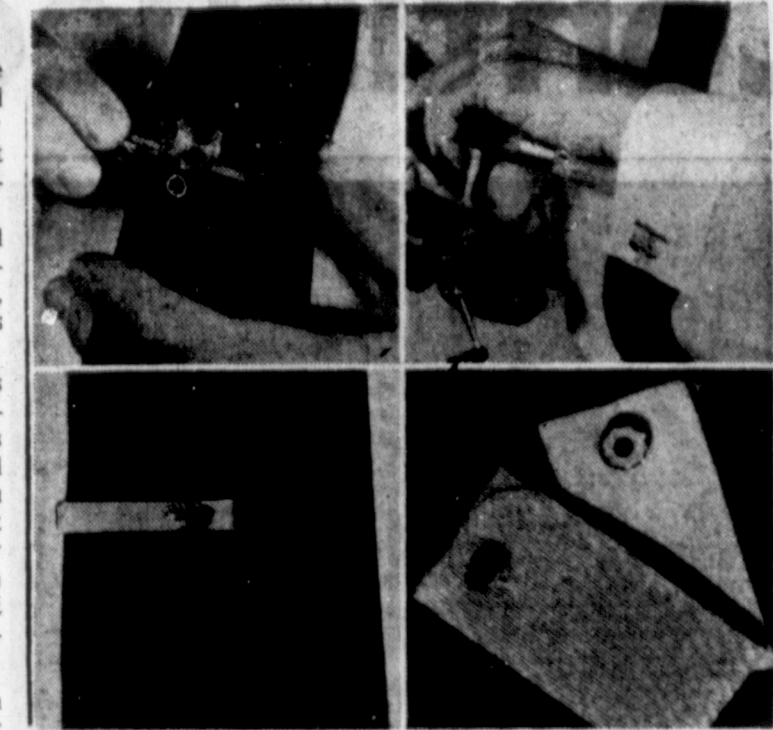

By JERRY SHEEHAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Maybe it is part of the trend toward status flashing, but the Jewelry Industry Council reports that more people are buying higher-priced men's jewelry.

In days past, a man who had arrived might have bought himself a $400 custom suit. But, really, would any of his chums know the difference?

Yet a diamond tie tac—that's another story. There it is, shimmering and knocking everyone's eyes out of focus at the old restaurant. Just for fun—if you can afford it—wear a $45 suit and a $100 tie tac into a beany and watch the waiters hop. Then borrow an expensive suit, omit the stones, and watch the difference.

For whatever reason men wear jeweled accessories, they have a happy choice this season. Prices range from near giveaways at the corner drugstore to something comparable to a turban ornament of the harem captain of Rajputana.

Cuff links, tie clips and tacs are offered in a wide range of stones, metals and colors. Add to this an almost unlimited variety of designs: sporting, old coin, formal, geometric and pictorial. The Jewelry Council reports that jade and onyx are most popular this year. Its advice further holds that: topaz, quartz and honey tiger's-eye stones are favored for brown suitings. Red stones and garnets tie in with red accessories, while lapis lazuli goes neatly with blue or gray. Gold and silver still hold the honored place among the metals.

Try A Fling At Suit-Making

What makes a Chanel suit so beautiful, so flattering? Understated elegance is the secret ingredient and makes for the success of "Coca" Chanel, the famous French designer.

Her superb designs are the result of perfection for much attention is given to the most minute detail.

Mlle. Chanel seeks out the softest, finest, lightest weight woolen fabrics, the most exquisite knits. This year her collection highlights Irish tweeds.

Exciting fabrics, charming colors, shape and workmanship go into every Chanel design. The Chanel look is right almost anywhere. She never creates a design that is not flattering to the figure.

Mlle. Chanel seems to know best what women can wear for greatest becomingness and naturalness. Women who own Chanel suits treasure them as they do their precious jewels—keep them and wear them year after year. Chanel suits are undated, timeless, always lovely whether they are 10 years or 10 days old.

How can you own a Chanel-type suit? Study her designs as you see them here in your newspaper, in national magazines.

Look for a pattern so simple in line that there can be nary a complication.

Choose a color right for your natural coloring.

Choose a fabric that will flatter your body, not show off any bumps or bulges, but one that will enhance your figure and have grace in movement.

Find a pattern as easy in cut as are the Chanel suits. Cut a muslin guide pattern, have some one fit this carefully. Check shoulders. Are they just right for you? Do they — or even one need slight padding or lifting? Are the sleeves precisely right for your arms? Check the length especially.

Sit in your skirt, be sure it is large enough so it cannot span in wearing. When your muslin is "you," mark all alterations precisely. Remove and make any adjustments necessary. Allow for 2½-inch hem in the skirt.

Place the muslin on your fabric and cut. Be sure that your seams are generous — ¼ to ½-inch.

There are light weight interfacings — pelfon, for example, ideal for use in the center fronts and at bottom of sleeves.

Remember to baste and to press each seam before it joins another.

Use lightest weight crepe or china silk for your jacket lining. Line skirt throughout.

Stores have beautiful braids to trim a suit. Many of the Crewel stitches so popular now can be used, these done in beautifully subtle yarns — with gold, copper, or silver lurex filtered into the design.

Sew to express yourself as an artist and not just to make a namby-pamby suit that you can buy at a bargain price.

Pattern No. 8136, featured above, available in sizes 12½ to 26½. Bust 33 to 47. Size 14½, 35 bust, dress, 3¼ yards of 35-inch; jacket ¾ sleeve, 3¼ yards.

Stamp of Approval Has Been Given To Satins, Brocades and Damasks

By MARY BOOKS PICKEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Top designers, especially in Paris, have put their stamp of approval on brocades, damasks, lampas and satins.

Our picture of a lovely lampas dress and drapery to match comes to us from Scalandre Silks, makers of beautiful brocades and damasks, for America's historic shrines. Fabric shown in this oh, so flattering dress is what is known as a lampas type, i.e., woven like richest brocades and damasks, double warp and filling.

Brocades are of jacquard weave having interwoven all-over designs of raised figures. Flowers and fruits are found in the richest designs and most luxurious fabrics.

American designers are showing long and short dresses of richest damask of pure silk with Many theater coats of white wool or heavy silk are lined with damask or satin. Often dresses are made to match the coat linings.

Norman Norell, a foremost American designer, favors rich satin for evening costumes, deep double flounces and V or oval necklines.

Broades, damaks or lampas fabrics do not need added decorations. They are so rich, so exquisitely beautiful that a good basic design is all that one needs.

Take a lesson from the Orient in working with brocade. Line the fabric with fine silk. This is a protection, not only for the fabric, but for the dress itself. Our best designers follow this practice. Side or center back seams may be left open the depth of the hem to allow ease for walking or dancing. This protects the fabric, too.

Molly Parnis, genius that she is, uses the most lush of the brocades in her creations. They are created mostly for petite figures and small waists. Often she seams the waistline to allow for slight gathers that will give some fullness over the hips.

Adele Simpson, who visits the Far East as often as she does Paris, likes the short dinner or evening dress made in the richest of fabrics. Good line in such dresses is what she works for, and she uses a minimum of seaming — keeping the fabric as "unbroken" as possible.

When you are seeking a rich luxurious fabric for your "pride and joy" dress, go to the drapery departments and see their really lush brocades, damasks and satins. You will be surprised at the beauty you find in these fabrics. Buy pure silk if the purse allows, but don't fail to look at some of the blends especially silk and nylon. You'll need only two lengths of fabric, one length if you are slim as a reed, if 52 inches wide.

If the fabric ravel as do pure silks, stitch the seam line in about ¼-inch from the edge. Overcast into this stitching line and raveling will give you no trouble.

Notch out when you cut. Allow good wide seams. They help to give "structure" to the dress.

City Fire Department Answers Three Calls Over Weekend

The Pampa fire department was called to three fires over the weekend, the worst Sunday afternoon at 1830 N. Sumner.

Harold Boatman, stepson of W. J. Ludlum, suffered second-degree burns on his hand and arms when a gasoline fire started in the garage at the Ludlum home. Firemen say the fire was caused by gasoline being drained from a car. The garage was only lightly damaged.

The backfiring of a motorcycle yesterday caused the vehicle to catch fire in the 1600 block of Grape, reported firemen. The vehicle was heavily damaged.

Firemen were again called at 3:30 a.m. when a heater hose blew off a bathroom heater at 733 Malone.

Firemen reported no damage.

Court Ruling Favors Santa

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UPI)—In one of the strangest court cases on record in Alaska, a federal judge 10 years ago decided no one person could be Santa Claus.

A Fairbanks resident, Robert Lee Chesser, had petitioned the court to legally change his name to Santa Claus. Judge Harry E. Pratt pounded his gavel that a cold spring morning of April 17, 1953, and the little drama unfolded.

The judge asked if there were any objections. "The name belongs to children, and I don't think any one individual should be allowed to have that name," was one. A local merchant sarcastically added that since Fairbanks was the closest large city to the North Pole, it should rename itself Santa Claus.

The man who later became mayor of North Pole, Alaska, also protested. He said there were thousands of Santa Clauses throughout the world.

Chesser, born in Newburgh, N.Y., April 25, 1912, said he had discussed the name change with members of his family, who didn't object, and that associates had assured him it would be good for business.

In cold, legal tones, Judge Pratt said: "It is the judgment of the court that there is no sufficient reason for a change of name in this case and that it would be inconsistent with public interest and unsatisfactory to the court if it were allowed. It is therefore disallowed."

The name Santa Claus still belonged to everyone.

Teen-Ager Hurt In Auto Wreck

Fifteen-year-old Charles Ashley, 705 E. Frederic, was a slightly injured late Saturday night when the car in which he was riding hit a tree on N. Starkweather near Terrace Dr.

Police said the car, driven by Michael Jones, 16, of 600 E. Frederic, was forced over the curb by a passing motorist.

It was foggy at the time of the accident, police stated.

Damage to Jones' car was estimated at $150. Young Ashley was taken to Highland General Hospital in a police patrol car and treated for his injuries.

Former Patrolman Returns to Force

Patrolman H. E. Britton who resigned from the Pampa police department Sept. 3 returned to duty on the force today, it was announced by Police Chief Jim Conner.

Chief Conner said the re-appointment of Britton brings the department to full force with 14 patrolmen, chief, assistant chief, captain, two lieutenants and three dispatchers.

KIDNAP SUSPECTS

The kidnaping case of Frank Sinatra Jr. appeared virtually wrapped up today and the 19-year-old singer prepared to resume his singing engagement at the Lake Tahoe gambling spa near the motel where he was abducted. Charged in the plot were John W. Irving, 42, right; Joseph Clyde Amisler, 23, left above, and Barry Worthington Keenan, 23. The FBI remained mum concerning the details of the capture of the three kidnaping suspects, but recovery of nearly all of the $240,000 ransom paid by Frank Sinatra Sr. was announced by the federal agency.

The Lighter Side

Injured Digit Makes Typist Alter Habits

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — On Thanksgiving Day I went outside between football games to perform a ritual, familiar to all suburbanites—that is known as "putting the lawn mower away for the winter."

While I had the thing upended trying to remove the blade, the wrench slipped and mashed the end of the little finger on my right hand. It was excruciating. Besides that, it hurt.

I ran into the house where I encountered my wife coming up from the basement with a load of laundry. She could sense from the way I was screaming that something was wrong. My wife is very perceptive that way.

"What's the matter?" she asked.

"I hurt my pinkie," I said.

"You poor kid," she crooned. "Come here and I'll kiss it and make it all well."

Sarcasm Unappreciated I didn't appreciate her sarcasm one bit. Besides that, she lied to me. This happened more than two weeks ago and my finger is still sore.

Mashing one's finger is not, I'll admit, a mortal wound. But for someone who earns his livelihood playing the typewriter, it is just about the worst thing that can happen.

Outside of discovering that one's wife can't really heal a mashed finger by kissing it, I don't know of anything more traumatic than having to change one's typing technique.

Versatility Unmatched Under the typing system I employ, the right little finger has jurisdiction not only over the colon-semicolon, its home key, but is also responsible for the letter P, both capital and lower case; the zero; the starboard parenthesis; the asterisk; the dash; the margin release; the 1/2 and 3/4 signs; the plus and equal signs; the question mark and slash mark; a shift key; the per cent mark and that little A with the circle around it.

No other typing finger can match its versatility and none is more important, except possibly the left ring finger, which is assigned to the key used in X-ing out mistakes.

The loss of the right pinkie is particularly hard on someone like me because I have an inferiority complex and consequently use a lot of question marks.

During my incapacitation, I devised a left hand crossover method under which the left index finger substitutes for the injured digit. The result has been a steady erosion of my central nervous system.

After the first week I started suffering, which is a common affliction among amodextrous chess players and baseball switch hitters. At the end of 10 days, I found that my eyes were cross'ed.

Fortunately, however, the soreness is about gone now and I'll be all right as soon as my ears quit twitching.

Obituaries

Mrs. Mittie L. Washington Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Mittie Washington, 64, at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Duengel-Carmichael Chapel with Rev. Glyn B. Adsit, First Christian Church pastor officiating.

Mrs. Washington died yesterday in Highland General Hospital.

Born near Shawnee, Okla., she was married to James Washington in 1918. She moved to Pampa 30 years ago from Tecumseh, Okla., and resided at 334 N. Banks at the time of her death.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Bill and James Washington Jr. of Pampa; two daughters, Mrs. Clara Imel and Mrs. Donna Sims of Pampa; one sister, Mrs. Clara Kennedy of Pampa and 12 grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Y. E. Turnbo, O. B. Schiffman, Hobart Burgin, George Crossman, Lloyd Gooch and Glenn Maxey. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fischer Funeral services will be held in Tipton, Kan., Thursday for Mrs. Elizabeth Fischer, 69, who died in her home in Bloomfield, Colo., early today. Burial will be in the Tipton cemetery.

Mrs. Fischer was the mother of Joe Fischer Sr., Pampa insurance broker, 1429 Charles St.

Mrs. Fischer, who had visited her son's home in Pampa last August, is survived by six other sons and four daughters, two sisters and a brother.

GUARD CHRISTMAS TREE COLUSA, Calif. (UPI)—Michael Hoffman, 19, on leave from the Air Force, stood two hours of guard duty Saturday night—at Colusa's community Christmas tree.

Last year Hoffman sped by the tree in a car, plucked off two large lights, and then ran a signal light. Judge Richard Patton made this year's guard duty at the tree a condition of the young airman's probation.

LBJ Intervenes In Air Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In his first intervention to halt a strike, President Johnson has created an emergency board to head off a walkout that would have crippled six major airlines in the midst of the Christmas travel rush.

On Johnson's order, the board was set up last week to investigate a dispute between the machinists' union and Braniff, Continental, Eastern, Northwest, Trans World Airlines and National.

The action will postpone a strike for at least 60 days while the board tries to solve the dispute over pay raises and rule changes.

The presidential order came with only minutes to spare. A National Mediation Board spokesman said a quickie walkout had been feared in 20 minutes at National Airlines, despite a strike deadline of one minute after midnight Thursday.

Mechanics and ground crews on the other five airlines have voted for a strike, but set no deadline.

The President's action, however still leaves the threat of walkout hanging over United Airlines. The strike is set for 12:01 a.m. (local time) Dec. 19. At last report, a federal mediator trying to work out a settlement said no progress had been made on an agreement.

Johnson took his action under the Railway Labor Act. It was based on a recommendation from the national mediation board.

(Continued From Page 1) use of the $690 million earmarked for grants to help build undergraduate academic facilities. Classroom buildings under that part of the program will have to be designed for instruction in the sciences, mathematics, engineering and modern foreign languages.

Religious Subjects Out The $145 million reserved for post-graduate facilities and the entire loan fund can be used for buildings designed to teach any non-religious subjects.

The bill also allocates 22 percent of the undergraduate grants for public junior colleges and semi-professional technical institutes.

The program will be administered by the U.S. Office of Education, which will allocate funds on the basis of priority lists submitted by state educational agencies.

Medical schools also are excluded from the program. Congress earlier this year passed a three-year $236 million construction aid program for medical, dental and other health professional schools and tuition loans for needy students.

U.S. Officer Killed by Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A U.S. Army officer was killed by Communist guerrillas Sunday and three other U.S. servicemen were reported missing in the crash of their helicopter off the Vietnamese coast.

The death was the ninth in the past four days. It raised to 126 the number of Americans killed in South Viet Nam combat since January, 1961, when the U.S. buildup began here.

Another 29 U.S. troops have died in non-combat accidents.

The three helicopter crewmen raised to 15 the number of Americans missing in fighting or combat operations during the same period.

Top Day for New Security Offerings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tuesday will be a banner day for new security offerings with Sinclair Oil Co. $150 million in sinking fund debentures and Bankers Trust Co. $100 million in sinking fund notes.

Control and Water District is also offering $19.5 million in bonds Tuesday; the town of Farmington, N. M., $16.5 million in bonds and the city of Phoenix, Ariz., $8 million in bonds.

Howard Lee Shoopman pleaded not guilty to driving while his license was suspended and bond was set at $1,000.

Horse Trailer Reported Stolen

A horse trailer was reported stolen from Dr. James Bailey's veterinarian service at 1329 S. Hobart between the hours of 6 p.m. Sunday and 7 p.m. today.

The trailer was parked in the lawn with a "For Sale" sign on it. It is described as a new red two-horse trailer having tandem wheels and no license. The trailer had two green windows at its front and black tires. It was valued at $800.

Gray County Sheriff R. H. (Rufe) Jordan asks that anyone who knows of anything concerning this trailer to contact him.

Reds Accent Food in New Top Budget

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia today announced a record $212.3 billion peacetime budget for the next two years that emphasized bread and butter instead of guns.

The budget presented to the Soviet Parliament cut military spending by 4.4 per cent from the previous budget. Military spending by 4.4 per cent about 14.6 per cent of the total budget compared to 16.1 per cent during the current year.

The total budget was 193 billion rubles. At the artificial rate of exchange, the ruble is figured at approximately $1.10.

Defense Spending Cut Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev looked on approvingly in the Grand Kremlin Palace as Finance Minister Vasily Garuzov read out the figures, lopping off $666 million from defense spending for the next year.

At the same time, $27.1 billion was allocated to the nation's faltering agriculture over the next two years and the green light was given to a chemical industry buildup which will supply the farms with fertilizer and also satisfy growing demands for more consumer goods.

Khrushchev and his advisers had taken a cautious look into the future and apparently decided that some funds could be safely diverted from defense and massive sums poured into agriculture and the chemical industry to prevent a recurrence of this year's disastrous harvests.

U. S. Envoy Present U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and other envoys of both East and West watched the speaker read out to 1444 deputies at a joint session of the Supreme Soviet provisions of the new budget.

Pyoit Lomako, chairman of the state planning committee, presented a two-year economic plan to bring Soviet production by 1965 to the United States level of five years ago.

Colombia Bandits Kill Bus Riders

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Bandits attacked a bus in Tolima State in central Colombia Sunday with explosives and one-made grenades, killing 17 persons and wounding 22, according to police.

The bus was en route from Joyaima to Ataco when it was over-turned by an explosive charge planted in the road and set on fire with the grenades.

Troubled Tulsa Bank Gets New President

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — John W. Wright, president of the First National Bank of Duncanville, Tex., has been named president of the troubled Southern Hills National Bank of Tulsa.

Wright, 33, will succeed Lynn R. Helm of Tulsa, who had served as Southern Hills president since it reopened Dec. 2. Southern Hills opened in August offering free checking accounts. It was swamped with 31,000 depositors and had to close Nov. 8 to catch up on its bookkeeping. It was reorganized and opened this month with a normal service charge on all accounts.

Wright formerly was with the First National Bank of Dallas, the American Bank of Commerce of Victoria, Tex., and helped organize the Lebanon National Bank of Dallas.

Wright will be succeeded at Duncanville by Herbert H. Fair, currently vice president of the Chelmont State Bank of El Paso, Tex.

Helm said the change was effective immediately. Helm is president of the National Bank of Commerce in Tulsa and will continue to serve Southern Hills as advisor.

State Safety Unit Gives Warning to Yule Shoppers

AUSTIN (Sp1) — The Texas Safety Association today warned that Christmas shopping and heavy holiday traffic are a dangerous combination.

"Rushed and distracted shoppers in busy downtown areas and in shopping centers, create a special traffic safety hazard during the month of December," J. O. Musick, General Manager of TSA, said.

The safety director has these tips for holiday shoppers:

Avoid window shopping when behind-the-wheel on your car. Don't pile Christmas packages so high in the back seat of your car that the rear view window is blocked.

Stay alert for traffic lights. In gaily decorated shopping areas, it is easy to mistake an ornamental light for a traffic light.

Watch out for bundle-loaded pedestrians. Many shoppers are so loaded down with packages that their vision is obscured when they cross the street.

Plan your shopping trips to avoid last-minute rushing.

Magazine Tells of Oswald's September Trip to Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The magazine Manana last week printed an article that traced Lee Harvey Oswald's footsteps in Mexico last September. It concluded he was "short of funds" during his stay.

Oswald unsuccessfully sought visas at the Soviet embassy and Cuban consulate here.

The magazine said Oswald arrived by bus Sept. 26 from Nuevo Laredo, opposite Laredo, Tex.

Oswald stayed at a cheap hotel in the vicinity of the city's railway station, where he had a room with bath for six or seven days. Room clerk Sebastian Perez said he never talked with Oswald who appeared "normal, though perhaps poor."

The clerk said he remembered Oswald "because 'gringos' (slang for Americans) never stay here."

The operator of a small, cheap restaurant nearby said Oswald ate four meals there "with hunger." Dolores Ramirez Barreiro said "he did not speak Spanish well and the first time we didn't understand what he wanted."

He asked for the check before the main course was served, she said.

"When we offered him the next course, he shook his head. Maybe he did not have enough money."

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

The Innocent Dreamers — by Alice Tisdale Hobart; set in China beginning in the year 1912 and continuing to the indefinite present, the author of "Oil for the Lamps of China" combines the love story of an interracial marriage with a political history in this novel.

A Little Bit of Love — by Richard Underwood; the worldliness and turmoil of a cold-war generation are brilliantly brought forth in this absorbing story of an American lieutenant in Frankfurt, Germany, and an aristocratic German girl he comes to love in his last months of duty.

The Blue Sapphire — by D. E. Stevenson; this is the story of Julia Harburn, a young girl who is engaged to one man but meets and falls in love with another. It wouldn't be true love if the path to a happy ending were straight and smooth, and Julia's path takes her away from home with her true love following.

A Treasury of Nurse Stories—compiled by Sonia Barry; this collection of stories pays tribute to the members of a less glamorized but equally exciting profession—the nurse.

Non-fiction:

24 Hours to Live — by Minton Johnston; making the most of God's gift of life.

The Woman in the White House — by Marianne Means; the lives, times and influence of twelve notable First Ladies.

The Old Trails West — by Ralph Moody; relates the story of the great legendary routes that bound a wild land into a nation — the Oregon Trail, El Camino Real, the Butterfield Overland Mail, the Santa Fe Trail; tells what determined their paths, and how they contributed to the settling of the West.

Rodeo — by Sam Savitt; throughout the book there are lively anecdotes of momentous occasions and notable horses, and revealing sketches of such champion cowboys as Jim Shoulders, Casey Tibbs, and Dean Oliver.

Flowering of the Cumberland — by Harriette Arnow; a companion book to the "Seed-time on the Cumberland", this book carries the story forward from the cultural seeds planted by the settlers to the time when the transplanted growth came to flower.

Foundation For Living — by Clarence Young; the story of Charles Stewart Mott and Flint, Michigan; the story of a city, and of the more than fifty-year partnership between a dedicated man and his community.

The Fire Next Time — by

SENIOR RESIDENT EXECUTED AS SPY

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Tass news agency said Saturday in reply to a questionnaire from Indian officials that Shiral Muslimov, a resident of Azerbaijan, has lived to the age of 158 years by working hard, going to bed and getting up early. It said he does not drink or smoke and lives chiefly on a diet of milk, cheese and dairy products plus vegetables and meat. Most of the farmer's waking time is spent in the open air.

SEUL (UPI)—A Communist ex-official from North Korea was executed by firing squad Saturday as a spy, the South Korean army announced here.

Hwang Tae Sung, a 56-year-old former deputy trade minister in North Korea's Communist regime, was found guilty of slipping secretly into South Korea in 1961 to work as a spy.

Pampa Due Its Share Of Christmas Cards

The Pampa postoffice probably will handle more Christmas cards this year than ever before, according to Postmaster O. K. Gaylor.

The local postoffice cannot maintain a count on Christmas cards because there's no way of telling which letter envelopes contain cards, but the greeting card industry estimates several billion will be mailed this year during the holiday season, Gaylor said.

Based on research by the national Greeting Card Association, the postmaster gave this account of the background and development of the cards:

"Today, the greeting card industry estimates six billion greeting cards for all occasions are mailed annually in the United States. Statistically, this is estimated at about 110 Christmas cards per family on the average each year.

"We often think of the custom of sending cards as modern, but the origins of the greeting card can be traced back thousands of years.

"The earliest known holiday greeting was printed from a crude woodcut about 1450 in Germany. It shows the Christ Child standing in the bow of an ancient galley manned by angels, with the Holy Mother seated by the mast.

"History reveals people have always had a desire to communicate on a sentimental and emotional basis. For example, the ancient Egyptians conveyed greetings with papyrus scrolls.

"In the Dark Ages, the exchange of symbols—gloves, garters and bows—was regarded as a form of sentimental communication.

"The modern custom of sending greeting cards can be traced back through the centuries to the Chinese who celebrated the advent of the New Year with messages of good will.

"The first-known published Christmas card made its appearance in London, England in 1843. It was designed by John Calcott Horsley, British painter and illustrator of the period.

"In 1846, one thousand copies were lithographed, and hand-colored and sold by an art shop.

"It is surprising how similar this first card more than a century ago was to many today. Small panels to the left and right show the charitable acts of 'clothing the poor' and 'feeding the hungry,' always connected with the Christmas season.

Foreign News Commentary

Notes from the foreign news cables:

France in Asia:
The French, anxious to reassert their presence in Asia, can be expected to offer military and other aid to Cambodia which has renounced U.S. aid after the end of this year. Defense Minister Pierre Messmer will visit there shortly for this purpose. The French fear Cambodia may be dragged into the Communist bloc, unless something is done to prevent this and they believe France is in the best position to do so.

Marking Time:
A lot of words can be expected at the NATO Council of Ministers' meeting starting today, but little action. No major policy decisions are likely while President Johnson still is in the "settling in" stage. Talks will range over the whole spectrum of East-West relations, Berlin, the multilateral nuclear force project and East-West trade. But, commented one official, "the communique could have been written in advance."

U.S.-U.S.S.R. Agreement:
Pan American jets should be winging into Moscow by early summer—if all goes well on the technical end of establishing reciprocal landing rights for Soviet and American planes in Moscow and New York. U.S. Federal Aviation Agency Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby laid the groundwork for the major technical discussions during his Moscow visit last week. There will be further Soviet-American meetings in the United States. Despite the apparent imminence of the air agreement, the first accord to be signed with the Soviets under the Johnson administration may come in another area now under discussion. That is the new cultural accord for 1964 covering exchanges of teacher and students and artistic personnel between the two countries. Earlier talks were called off by the late President Kennedy to protest the Soviet arrest on spy charges of Yale Professor Frederick C. Barghoorn. With Barghoorn's release, the talks got under way.

Spanish Monarchy:
Spanish monarchists may be expected to exert new pressure on Generalissimo Francisco Franco to reinstitute the Spanish monarchy with the birth of a child expected soon by Princess Sophie and her husband, Prince Juan Carlos. Spanish newspapers have been giving little or much space to the coming event, depending upon political alignments. Some sectors of Spanish opinion oppose restoration of the monarchy, preferring instead a presidential republic. So far Franco is following his usual line—saying nothing.

Johnson to Tokyo?
Look for Japan to step up efforts for a U.S. presidential visit to Japan before President Johnson's term expires in 1965. The Japanese had hoped the late President Kennedy would visit them, and such a visit was thought possible sometime late next year. The Japanese government is anxious to prove that the threats of violence which forced President Eisenhower to cancel his visit to Japan do not represent the feelings of the great majority of the Japanese people.

Self-Employed Get Deadline Reminder

DALLAS (SpI) — Self-employed persons were reminded today that U. S. Retirement Plan Bonds, offered under the self-employed individuals tax retirement act of 1962, must be purchased by Dec. 31 to qualify their owners for 1963 tax deferral benefits.

The reminder came from Jesse Adams Jr., state Savings Bonds director, who suggested that eligible persons contact their banks for information about establishing retirement programs for themselves and their employees through a bond purchase plan. IRS Form 3673, which may be used to establish such a plan, is available at the district office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Most banks can furnish application forms for use in purchasing Retirement Plan Bonds. However, the bonds are issued only by Federal Reserve Banks and the treasurer of the United States.

Hall Tire Co. Offers Bargains for Winter

Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, reports exceptional bargains now being offered in mud and snow tires.

Hall's special factory purchase enables this firm to give big savings on mud and snow tires right now—at the beginning of the winter season.

These high traction, long service tires are the kind to keep going on the job...over dirt roads...through snow. The tread design on mud and snow tires gives the traction needed for extra safety in winter and early spring driving.

It will pay to check with Hall Tire Company before buying. Mud and snow tires and all other tires wear longer, ride better and give more pleasure when they are perfectly round. Tires that shimmy or slap cause vibration, bounce, make motorists tire, make cars wear faster.

Hall Tire Co. uses the Alemite Electronic Wheel Balancer and Tire Truing Machine to make tires perfectly round, perfectly balanced. And it takes only a short time. These balanced and truly rounded tires cut car repair costs, driver fatigue, give longer tire mileage and safety.

Also featured at Hall's is the Alemite front-end alignment for overall steering ease and longer tire life.

Leymond Hall, owner and operator of Hall Tire Co., will be glad to show the new seat covers designed to add beauty and longer life to cars and made to fit any model automobile.

Come in and talk over tire, seat cover and other motoring problems with Leymond Hall. He has a complete line of Mobil Oil and Gasoline products at Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster.

Letters to Santa Claus

Dear Santa,
I would like to have an English race bike and some Civil War stuff and some Civil War music.
Donald Gaines,

TEX BRIEFS
INSURANCE PROGRAM
AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas 65 health insurance program enrolled some 5,000 persons during the first enrollment program in October. H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Association, said cooperation by Texas insurance agents was "one of the biggest reasons for our success." He said such agents sold 86 per cent of the policies. The rest were sold directly by the association.

SUSPEND EVICTIONS
ROME (UPI)—Rome police Saturday suspended the eviction of all residents from Monday until Jan. 16 in an annual Christmas gesture.

Six Underdogs In State Finals

By United Press International
Six underdogs and two favorites, with only five losses among them along the 14-week championship trail, square off this week for Texas schoolboy football's four coveted state championships.

Garland of Class AAAA and Corsicana of Class AAA were the only favorites to survive last week's semifinals and they got there by paper-thin one-point margins over Amarillo Tascosa and Graham, respectively.

Garland's final foe, Corpus Christi Miller, and Corsicana's rival for the crown, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, had to knock off favored Spring Branch High and La Marque to make the grade as Rockwall upset Dalhart, Missouri City Dulles beat Liberty, Petersburg ousted Albany and George West upended Hallsville.

No. 1 Ranked
Spring Branch, Dalhart and Albany were the No. 1 ranked clubs in the AAAA, AA and A divisions, while AAA's top-ranked Dumas had been ushered out the week before by Graham. Here's how they'll square off this Saturday in the big games—Garland vs. Miller at Austin, Corsicana vs. Pharr-San Juan-

Alamo at Victoria, Rockwall vs. Dulles at Waco and Petersburg vs. George West at Lubbock, the latter being a night game.

Garland, which beat Amarillo Tascosa 7-6 in the semifinals, boasts a 12-0-1 record with the only blot being a 12-12 tie with Dallas Adams in the second game of the season.

Miller Stands 13-1
Miller, a 14-6 winner over Spring Branch, has a 13-1 record with a 23-14 setback at the hands of Odessa Permian its lone loss.

Corsicana, a former state champ like Garland and Miller, has a 13-0 record to throw against 1962 state finalist Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, which played a 6-6, 0-0 and 20-20 ties with Nederland, San Benito and Gonzales, respectively, against nine victories.

Rockwall lost a 20-12 decision to Lake Highlands, a team it later blasted in the playoffs, in compiling a 13-1 record, while Dulles lost 37-20 to Kay and 14-3 to Boling for a 12-2 record, the worst among the survivors.

Petersburg had a 13-13 tie with Crosbyton against its 13 victories, while George West lost 20-0 to Sinton and was tied 0-0

Chicago Bears vs. Y.A. Is NFL Playoff Plate

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

It will be the Chicago Bears' superb defense against Y. A. Tittle and pro football's most explosive offense in the National League's championship playoff, Dec. 29.

And who could ask for a more dramatic match-up?

Although the Bears should be slight favorites for the showdown at Chicago, the New York Giants undoubtedly consider them a refreshing change from the Green Bay Packers, who walloped them two straight years in the title game.

This will be the sixth playoff meeting between the Bears and Giants. No NFL division rivals ever have met as many times. The Bears haven't won a playoff title since 1946—when they beat the Giants. And the Giants' last playoff win was in 1956—when they beat the Bears.

The Bears clinched their 10th Western crown Sunday when Billy Wade took some pressure off the overworked defense by throwing a pair of third-period touchdown strikes that produced a 24-14 victory over the Detroit Lions.

Giants Top Steelers
And the Giants extended their record total of Eastern Division championships to 14 with a 33-17 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers in their winner-take-all game in New York.

Both conference races thus were decided on the final Sunday of the season. Chicago finished with a record of 11 wins, one defeat and two ties; the Giants have an 11-3 record.

The Packers and Cleveland Browns wound up in second place to qualify for the Playoff (Runnerup) Bowl game at Miami, Fla., Jan. 5. Cleveland defeated the Washington Redskins, 27-20, giving them a 10-4 record. The Packers edged the San Francisco Forty Niners, 21-17, Saturday to finish with 11 wins, two defeats and one tie.

In Sunday's other games, the Dallas Cowboys upset the St. Louis Cardinals, 28-24; the Baltimore Colts edged the Los Angeles Rams, 19-16; and the Minnesota Vikings trounced the Philadelphia Eagles, 34-13.

Offense vs. Defense
To get an idea of the offense vs. defense battle shaping up in the title playoff game: The Giants scored a total of 448 points during the season, 79 more than any other team in the NFL and 147 more than Chicago. The Bears' help opponents to 144 points, 62 less than any other club in the league and 136 less than the Giants.

Sunday's 24-14 score does not adequately tell the role the Bears' defense played in the victory. The defenders held the Lions within range while the Bears held opponents to 144 produce only a field goal in the first half.

Wade helped overcome the 7-3 halftime deficit by completing a pair of touchdown passes within three minutes and 21 seconds of the third period. He threw 51 yards to Johnny Morris and 22 yards to Mike Ditka for a 17-7 lead.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International
The Texas Longhorns and Rice Owls, who between them have lost only one of 11 starts this season, leave the friendly confines of their home floors for rugged intersectional tests this week.

The defending Southwest Conference champion Longhorns, who managed an 81-78 victory over Oklahoma last Saturday in their first venture on the road, must play Wichita at Wichita Monday night and Oklahoma State and Stillwater, Okla., Saturday, boasting a 6-0 record.

Rice entertains Georgia Tech at Houston Monday night with a 5-1 mark, then travels west to meet Brigham Young Friday night at Provo, Utah, and Utah Saturday night at Salt Lake City. Utah beat the Texas Aggies 98-71 there last week.

Baylor Hits Road
Baylor (3-1) also is in an intersectional mood. After falling to Kentucky 101-77 last Saturday, the Bears jump to Owensboro to meet Kentucky Wesleyan Monday night, then travel to California for Friday and Saturday games against Long Beach State and UCLA.

Texas Christian (2-3) plays powerful Vanderbilt, which already has beaten Rice, SMU and Arkansas, at Nashville, Tenn., Wednesday, while other conference teams do their inter-sectional entertaining at home.

Congress Urged To OK Pros

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Six members of the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee urged Congress to give professional football, baseball, basketball and hockey teams the same limited immunity from antitrust prosecution. Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said in a statement prepared for the Senate delivery that antitrust regulations "have been as great an irritant to professional sports as an umpire who is unfair in some cases and uncertain in others."

AFL Featuring Surprise Finish

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

The American Football League race has come up with more possible endings than a ride through the tunnel of love.

One playoff already is guaranteed and there may even be two.

The Boston Patriots and Buffalo Bills are tied for the Eastern Division lead so they'll meet in a playoff for the title at Buffalo on Dec. 28.

The San Diego Chargers clinched at least a tie for the Western Division championship by knocking over the Houston Oilers, 20-14, Sunday in a game loaded down with "firsts."

It was the first time the Oilers failed to win the Western Division title since the league was formed in 1960; it was the first time the Chargers ever beat the Oilers in Houston, and it also was the first time the young AFL ever has been faced with the possibility of two playoffs.

That prospect came about when Tom Flores passed for five touchdowns Sunday to keep Oakland's Western Division title hopes alive with a 35-31 victory over Denver.

San Diego's record now is 10-3 and Oakland's is 9-4. That means there could be a playoff between them if Denver defeats San Diego next Sunday and Oakland beats Houston.

On Saturday Buffalo beat the New York Jets, 19-10 and Boston got kicked around 35-3 by Kansas City.

The Oilers managed to keep the outcome of Sunday's game with the Chargers in doubt until the last play. Houston was driving on San Diego's 35 at the final gun after scoring earlier in the period on Bo Dickinson's one-yard plunge.

The Chargers scored all but three of their 20 points in the second quarter after intercepting three passes thrown by Houston quarterback Jack Lee and George Blanda. San Diego quarterback Toby Rote went over from the one following a 59-yard run by teammate Paul Lowe and Charger fullback Bob Jackson also scored from the one-yard line after linebacker Emil Karas picked off a Blanda pass.

George Blair's 22-yard field goal, his first of two during the game, proved the decisive points.

Flores tossed two touchdowns apiece to Art Powell and Clem Daniels in Oakland's victory over Denver after opening the game with a 31-yard scoring pass to Bo Roberson.

Although the underdog Broncos pulled to within four points of the Raiders twice, they never were able to draw even. Powell produced the winning touchdown midway in the final quarter when he made a tumbling catch of Flores' fifth TD pass.

UNDERGOES TREATMENT

NEW YORK (UPI) — French jockey Claude Deluize will undergo X-ray examinations today or Tuesday in Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, N.Y., in an effort to determine whether an operation can restore the use of his legs. Deluize was paralyzed from the waist down as a result of an accident in a race last August.

For every man who ever fell in love with a Jeep—a new kind of family station wagon has been born. The Jeep Wagoneer. It's the first station wagon ever built to offer the comfort, silence, speed and smoothness of a passenger car—plus the traction and safety of 4-wheel drive.

It's sheer pleasure to drive. Simple too. One lever puts you in 4-wheel drive. So at a second's notice you can shift into greater safety... from wheel-spinning in mud or snow... from skids on slick surfaces... from getting stuck or going out of control on the highway or off!

The Wagoneer really makes a demonstration worthwhile. It'll be your most exciting 30 minutes behind the wheel in 1963. Also in 2-wheel drive models. See your Jeep® dealer.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

General Welfare Clause

(First of a Series)
It has been the custom of socialists to criticize the Constitution of the United States. The general tenor of their remarks has indicated that the document was too loose, too general, that it granted too few powers and ought to be revised so that the federal powers could more nearly cope with the kind of a welfare-state they would like to see exist.
In reaction to this criticism it has been the custom of patriots and conservatives to defend the Constitution, and thus to make the contrary claims. The general tone of the defense has indicated that the merit in the document lay in the limitation of its powers, that it did not and should not provide for any enlargement of powers.
It is possible that both socialists and anti-socialists failed to examine the document itself, but based their contentions on current events more than upon a logical study of the instrument.
Socialists have a tendency to analyze things according to their own lights and not necessarily from a realistic point of view. And, of course, it has been true that with the passing of the years not a few socialistic measures met with short shrift at the hands of congressmen and senators, prior to the advent of World War I and the various amendments beginning with the 16th and 17th.
Since most of the rebuffs socialists experienced at the hands of the American government were stated in terms of constitutionality, it was only natural for the fomentors of share-the-wealth schemes to conclude that the Constitution was their enemy, that it had been drafted as a document representative only of the "property classes" and hence stood in the way of socialist "advance."
Also, it was only to be expected that anti-socialists would reach much the same conclusion. When, for years, interpretation and casual legislation

Pull Up A Chair

The new "space-age cathedral" built alongside the ruins of England's ancient Coventry Cathedral, bombed by the Nazis, has become a center of interest and controversy for artists, architects, Christians and tourists. Now Sir Basil Spence, its architect, has told how it happened in "Phoenix At Coventry," published by Harper & Row. His story is interesting, but we have no desire to see the edifice since contemporary architecture does not inspire us spiritually. After reading this provocative book and viewing the handsome illustrations, we somehow felt Sir Basil replaced a medieval architectural gem with a transitory curiosity. Just our own opinion, of course.

Memory Lane: Remember when Tin Pan Alley's hits were measured by the sheet music sold and every five and ten cent store boasted a pianist and song plucker? Today, you have a hit when you sell a million records. American motorists will mount 42 million deep-cleated snow tires this winter, according to a rubber firm executive, who attributes their phenomenal popularity to increased car safety in rough weather, and greater mobility in driving on snow and ice. Speaking of bad weather, the world's greatest rainfall recorded in one month was 366 inches, which fell in a section of India during July 1881. Still on the weather: The Franklin Institute at Philadelphia, boasts the world's first educational weather station. It's something to see when there. The Military Air Transport Service (MATS) used only 40 per cent of available aircraft in moving 15,700 troops of the 2nd Armored Division from Texas to West Germany in 63 hrs., 5 minutes. Within a year they'll do it in 24 hours.

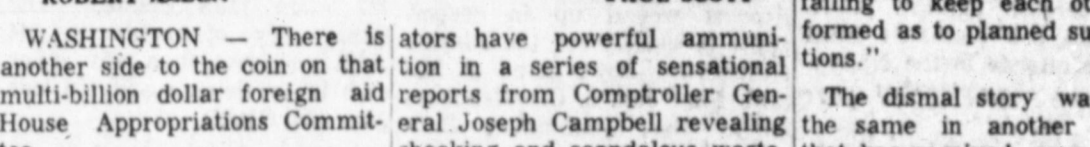

Country Editor Speaking: "Some folks tell themselves they're broad-minded when they're really scatterbrained." U.S. smokers used about 96 per cent of the total U.S. tobacco output; the rest goes abroad in commercial exports. A patent was issued recently for a rotary parachute, actually a motorless helicopter. Its advantage is its small bulk, maneuverability, and the fact it can be camouflaged. A recent survey shows more than 3 million persons are employed directly and indirectly on our space projects, and more will be added for the moon shot. That wheat deal with the Soviets means the American housewife will pay a little more for flour, but retail prices on bread are not expected to rise. Samuel de Champlain, 17th Century French explorer, has given his name to a lake, a Quebec county and village, and a New York town. William Levitt, possibly America's greatest home builder, has towns named after him in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The New Jersey town is debating about changing its name back to Willingboro since the townsfolk don't want their mail confused with the other Levitt towns.

Johnson-Passman Agreement on Small '64 Budget For Foreign Aid Behind Committee Approval of Current Bill

WASHINGTON — There is another side to the coin on that multi-billion dollar foreign aid House Appropriations Committee. Actually, the measure is the product of a two-part backstage deal between President Johnson and Representative Otto Passman, D-La., chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee in charge of the foreign aid budget.
A long-time opponent of large-scale foreign aid spending, Passman was set to slash the pending budget to around $2.7 billion — approximately $2 billion less than the late President Kennedy contended was "essential." But at a private White House meeting with Passman last Wednesday evening, President Johnson persuaded him to agree to a higher amount in return for bowing to Passman's demands next year.
Under this backstage arrangement, Johnson promised to hold down his 1964 foreign aid budget to around $2.9 billion. This would be the leanest foreign aid budget submitted to Congress in the 16-year history of this fabulously costly program. Early this year, President Kennedy proposed a $4.9 billion budget; later reduced that to $4.5 billion.
President Johnson also assured Passman there will be a big "shake-up" in the foreign aid agency.
The inside word is that Administrator David Bell will be replaced in February.
The one-time Budget Director in the Kennedy administration is not too highly regarded by the new President. When Johnson addressed a gathering of top State Department officials, he was noticeably cool toward Bell.
The foreign aid agency is among the very largest in the government, with upwards of 60,000 employees — 40,000 Americans and 20,000 foreigners. This immense bureaucracy has been repeatedly assailed in Congress. During the bitter Senate battle over the foreign aid authorization bill last month, Senator Stuart Symington, D-Mo., member of the Foreign Relations Committee, declared he was "shocked" by the huge oversupply of foreign aid manpower he found everywhere he went abroad.
MORE WASTE AND SCANDALS — Regardless of what the House does on the multi-billion dollar foreign aid spending "deal," Senate foes are prepared to do their utmost to slash the total to under $3 billion.
This battle will again be waged by the bipartisan "team" led by Senator Wayne Morse, D-Ore., that succeeded in lopping some $500 million from the $4.2 billion authorization bill voted by the Foreign Relations Committee. The "team" is ready to pick up where it left off three weeks ago.
In this renewed fight, the senators have powerful ammunition in a series of sensational reports from Comptroller General Joseph Campbell revealing shocking and scandalous waste, extravagance, negligence, incompetence, bungling and possibly worse, running into hundreds of millions of dollars in foreign aid spending in numerous countries.
Campbell's jarring reports were referred to in the Senate deliberations last month. But their astounding revelations could not be discussed because the reports are secret.
They have been classified by the State and Defense Departments so their scandalous disclosures cannot be made public.
Some members of Congress have scrutinized these dynamite-loaded reports. Senator Morse read a few unclassified extracts into the Congressional Record. But the American people, whose taxes are paying for these immense outrages, are barred from knowing about them.
As this column reported several weeks ago, there isn't a military secret in any of these reports. But they have been classified to protect State and Defense Departments bureaucrats responsible for these reprehensible losses running into hundreds of millions of dollars.
THE SORDID DETAILS — Strikingly illustrative of the comptroller general's disclosures are the following eye-openers:
"Our review disclosed that more than $30 million worth of missile system equipment either was not in use or was in use but had a limited readiness, although the equipment had been on hand (in certain European countries) as much as 13 months more than the period of time normally required for employment and check-out after delivery."
"This delay in equipment utilization resulted from delays in acquiring land and missile sites, unavailability of personnel and affiliated equipment to be furnished by the recipient countries, failure of the Defense Department to deliver all related equipment concurrently, and delivery of equipment for which no valid requirement existed."
"Our review also disclosed that as much as $9 million of funds for spare parts and modification kits were programmed and committed in excess of the amounts necessary to operate and maintain these weapons systems. In addition, many unneeded parts were delivered and other necessary parts were not delivered to recipient countries, which resulted in inoperative equipment."
This $30 million waste was slightly less than half of all the missile equipment turned over to these particular countries.
Regarding the costly mishandling of military aid to a Far Eastern country the comptroller general found:
"Serious supply and maintenance deficiencies resulting in the inability to adequately support military units, the requisitioning and delivery of unneeded material, and the inadequate maintenance of delivered material. We also found that the U. S. organization had contributed to the delivery of unneeded material, overstating requirements, failing to take timely action to cancel requisitions, and failing to keep each other informed as to planned supply actions."
