Dogs, Tear Gas Control Rioters In Windy City

Rattle of Gunfire Greets Police During Second Night of Outbreak

CHICAGO (UPI) — Riot-trained police today patrolled the tense streets of south suburban Dixmoor, where dogs and tear gas Monday night quelled the town's second consecutive night of Negro riots. The rattle of gunfire greeted police as they scattered an angry mob of 200 Negroes milling around a liquor store set afire by five "Molotov cocktails." At least 40 persons—27 of them white—were arrested but no one was reported injured. Cook County Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie said the two nights of rioting, rock-throwing and sporadic gunfire in the racially mixed suburb "appeared to be more than spontaneous combustion." He said there were "outside agitators" in the crowds of Negroes.

Schmitzer Asks For Details on SS For Firemen

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said today he had written to the Texas State Welfare Department for details on the eligibility of Pampa's city firemen to be included under Social Security coverage. The city's 33 firemen, according to Fire Chief Earnest Winborne, voted unanimously to request the city commission to authorize their inclusion under the Social Security law. Chief Winborne said he hoped the action could be accomplished with the new fiscal year starting Oct. 1. City Manager Schmitzer said Texas firemen had not been included under Social Security until last July 2 when a one-word amendment to the Social Security act became effective. The word "Texas" was added to the list of states in which the coverage could be extended to city firemen.

KEATING TO RUN FOR NEW TERM IN US SENATE

Opponent Likely to Be RFK

By JOSEPH BREU — NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N. Y., after almost five weeks of hesitation, announced today he would run for a new six-year term in the Senate independently of GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater. The announcement made him a central figure in a contest that may be second only to the presidential race in national interest.

(NEA Telephoto)

LOYAL FAN — Pierre, a five-year-old Basset Hound, who is used to putting on the dog and who is a loyal fan of President Lyndon B. Johnson, was happy to pose with a campaign button outside Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N. J., boosting his choice for the Democratic presidential nominee. But during the dog days of August, it's a difficult job for a small dog to stay awake and keep interest up, even in such an important project as politics.

His Democratic opponent almost surely will be Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. If the Keating-Kennedy race comes off it probably will be second only to the presidential contest between President Johnson and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater in drawing national attention in November. Kennedy is expected to announce later this week that he is in the running for the Democratic senatorial nomination in New York.

Keating broke with the national ticket after Goldwater was nominated at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco last month. Among the issues which prompted the split with Goldwater was the fight over the civil rights bill. Keating supported the measure and Goldwater opposed it.

Keating's decision brought him under attack from many state Republicans, including Clare Boothe Luce, former Connecticut congresswoman and U.S. ambassador to Italy. Mrs. Luce, a Goldwater supporter, has said she is considering running for Keating's seat under the label of the Conservative party of New York. Informed of Keating's decision to run for a new six-year term today, Mrs. Luce said: "I have no comment at this time. I have to give the situation more thought. Keating told a news conference 'I have said before and I repeat that I consider Sen. Goldwater a sincere, patriotic American.'"

"But during our service in the Senate, Sen. Goldwater and I have disagreed on many issues. He has voted his convictions as a senator from Arizona and I have voted my convictions as a senator from New York. Nothing either of us does at this point can alter our records on the issues. The people of New York are aware of the deep differences between Sen. Goldwater's record and my own. I seriously doubt that any voter in New York would be impressed by any lip service I might give Sen. Goldwater or he might give me in the name of party unity."

"I believe in the two-party system and have never had any thought of bolting the Republican party."

Storm Damage Halts Practice

A violent windstorm which struck Recreation Park last night and caused several hundred dollars in damage also forced postponement of the first night of the Kid Pony Show practice. The storm caused extensive damage to the rodeo arena lights, unroofed an amateur radio shack and turned over several outbuildings. No estimate of the amount of damage has been made by rodeo officials.

They said, however, that the damage is expected to be repaired in time for Wednesday night's scheduled Kid Pony practice.

Entries for the Kid Pony Show, which will be staged Aug. 25, opened yesterday in rodeo offices located in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

The third annual Top O' Texas Professional Rodeo will be held in Pampa Aug. 26 - 29 with performances beginning at 8 p.m. each night. Producing the stock for the third straight year will be the Boutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla.

Contesting under the rules of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, cowboys from all parts of the country will vie for $3,500 in prize money plus entry fees. A purse of $300 will be added to

Plan Under Way For New Topping

Pampa's engineering department is compiling plans and estimates on the cost of resurfacing all of the city's old concrete streets with hot mix asphalt.

This was revealed today as a major project being considered for next year when City Manager Harold Schmitzer submitted a three-page project report for study by city commissioners.

Schmitzer estimated that the cost of the proposal, which he called "a project of some magnitude," would not exceed $200,000. "This is a project which I have favored ever since coming to Pampa. Since it is a project of some magnitude, it cannot be done with current revenue."

The city manager said he would recommend that the paving be done by the issuance of bonds and that the bonds be sold on a negotiated basis. "The two local banks," the city manager added, "would more than likely buy them together."

Schmitzer, in his written report, brought the commissioners up to date on other city projects including progress by R. A. Underwood & Co. of Dallas, the city's fiscal agent, in connection with the preparations for sale of bonds to finance Pampa's new sewage system plant and improvements and a dam. Forrest & Cotton of Dallas, consulting engineers for the project, on the status of planning for the construction.

Conductor Labels Child Prodigies 'Little Monsters'

LONDON (UPI) — Noted British conductor Basil Cameron today celebrated his 80th birthday and said over the years he has had only one dislike — child prodigies in music. "On the whole they are little monsters," he said. "They have technical perfection without any real feeling. They're like vegetables — no good when they're forced to grow quickly."

City Calls for Closer Supervision at Park

Mayor H. R. Thompson and members of the city commission today called for closer supervision of activities in city-owned Recreation Park.

Commissioners were handed a three-page report from Public Works Director R. B. Cooke listing eight recommendations which he stated, in his opinion, would coordinate park supervision and keep city officials better informed on activities there.

A specific area of the park is leased to the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association and includes the grandstand and rodeo buildings. Wiley Reynolds and W. D. Price Jr., of the rodeo association, told commissioners that the association actually uses the park only during the annual Top O' Texas Rodeo and Kid Pony Show.

A number of other organizations use the facilities at various times throughout the year.

Viet Nam Reports Death of 180 Reds

HOA MY, South Viet Nam (UPI) — American military advisers reported today that government troops killed 280 Communist guerrillas in a three-day battle which raged around this outpost in the Mekong River delta. It was the biggest reported Viet Cong casualty toll for any battle of the anti-Communist war.

The bodies of 10 guerrillas were found on the battlefield, but American military advisers said the Communists carried off an "estimated 270 killed." Vietnamese losses were reported as 36 killed, 76 wounded and 10 missing and possibly captured.

Hoffa's Attorneys Planning Appeals

CHICAGO (UPI) — Attorneys for Teamster President James R. Hoffa today prepared appeals for Hoffa's five-year prison sentence and $10,000 fine for conspiring to defraud his union's pension fund. Attorneys for six of Hoffa's co-defendants also were preparing appeals for their clients who were convicted on fraud charges by the same jury of eight men and four women.

Set Dogs Loose

But Gene Callahan, executive director of the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race, said Monday night's flare-up would not have erupted into a riot if police from suburban Midlothian had not set dogs on the crowd without authorization.

An unconfirmed report said one of the dogs accidentally got loose from his handler and charged into the crowd. The trouble started again Monday night at the boarded-up liquor store where rioting first broke out Sunday. State police said the store was set on fire when five gasoline-filled bottles were tossed on the roof. More than 200 Negroes gathered near the store as its roof burned. Police closed in with dogs under choking clouds of tear gas. From the crowd came the sound of gunfire. The Negroes scattered.

Minor Skirmishes

The clash sparked minor skirmishes throughout the sealed-off downtown area of Dixmoor, a half-Negro, half-white community just outside Chicago which teemed with state, county and local police.

During the police advance on the Negro mob, a rock was hurled through the windshield of a sheriff's police car. Within an hour, the streets were all but cleared and police formed a shoulder-to-shoulder blockade in front of the liquor store, where a scuffle over a bottle of gin had first sparked the fighting.

Police Halt Godiva Act

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (UPI) — Grady Lee Steen, 26, drove frantically through Spartanburg Monday with a brunette dressed in a nightgown riding on the hood and flailing at the windshield with a rear view mirror.

Started police stopped the car, naturally, to investigate and thereby unfolded the strange case of the kidnapped phonograph record distributor, a case so wild and zany that at one time victim and alleged abductors were all under arrest.

"It is a weird tale," said policeman J. G. Tate, one of the arresting officers. Steen, who works for a phonograph record distributing firm, was the alleged victim although police found it difficult to believe when first they stopped his car and 21-year-old Joyce Kay LeFevres crawled down from the hood and sailed into Steen.

"Would Not Talk" "She was down and clawing at him in a hurry," said Tate. "We pulled her off and put her in the patrol car but she would not tell us a thing."

Officers arrested the woman and then went to a motel and arrested her companion, Stacy Lavern Bigham, 25, a textile worker.

The two, both from Kannapolis, N.C., were turned over to the FBI, which charged them with kidnaping Steen, also of Kannapolis. The police temporarily arrested Steen until they could check out his bizarre account of the case.

Steen said he and a date, Paisy Queen, were sitting in his car at a drive-in hamburger place in Kannapolis Sunday

Pampa Gets Award On Traffic Safety

The City of Pampa today received the "Best in Texas" award from the Texas Safety Association, for its record of no traffic deaths in 1963.

Pampa has now gone 870 consecutive days without a traffic death.

Today's award came following the city's 1963 Traffic Inventory report and was presented to Mayor H. R. Thompson at this forenoon's city commission meeting.

The presentation was made by Hal A. Wyrick of the Amarillo Traffic Commission on behalf of W. O. Heard of Amarillo, regional vice president of the Texas Safety Commission, who was unable to be present.

Mayor Thompson in turn presented the award for cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 population class to Assistant Police Chief Denny Roan who accepted it for Police Chief Jim Conner who was in Amarillo today attending an FBI briefing session on the Civil Rights Bill.

In other business today: The city commission approved the appointments of Mrs. Joe Franklin and Mrs. E. L. Green Jr. to the board of Lovett Memorial Library. They will fill vacancies left by the death of Mrs. R. E. McKernan and the resignation of Mrs. Cameron Marsh.

Eight bids were opened from insurance firms seeking coverage of city employees under a group insurance plan. The bids are to be studied and contracts probably will be awarded next week.

The commission also approved the bid of $5,782.13 by Western Industrial Supply Co. for one 10-inch submersible pump and one 10 - inch submersible motor.

Authorization was given for payment of $17,897.95 to Ray Boswell for paving of the 2100-2200 blocks of N. Hobart St. and $22,440.90 for paving in the city's new Industrial Sub-division.

Transfer of $100,000 from the Water & Sewer Revenue fund to the general fund was authorized.

The commission approved payment of $1,071.60 to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority as Pampa's share of administrative costs for six months. Pampa is assessed 30 cents annually for each of the city's 7,144 water meters.

City Secretary Stanley M. Chittenden was presented with a certificate of merit for completing the International City Managers Association course in municipal finance administration.

Nightie-Clad Abductress Loses Victim night when a car occupied by Bigham and Miss LeFevres drove up.

Steen said the woman got out and held a pistol on him and his date, ordering the girl to leave the car. He said the woman made him drive down a street where they switched to a car driven by Bigham.

Tate said Steen told him that he had previously dated Miss LeFevres.

They changed to a rented car in Charlotte, Steen said, and drove to Spartanburg where they checked into a motel at 1 a.m. Steen said the pair took turns holding a pistol on him.

Steen said they threatened to kill him if he didn't take $5,000 from his checking account and give it to them. He said he gave them all he had—a $130 paycheck.

Both Fell Asleep Finally, Steen said, both fell asleep and he sneaked out to the car. He got in and locked the doors as Miss LeFevre bolted out of the room. She banged on the doors, he said, and then hopped on the hood.

Steen said he drove into downtown Spartanburg with Miss LeFevres — clad only in her nightie — banging on the windshield with a side view mirror she had ripped away.

Police said Bigham was carrying a .25-caliber automatic when arrested.

The couple was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Jesse Ray in Greenville. He set bond at $25,000 for Bigham and $10,000 for the woman. Bigham was jailed at Greenville and Miss LeFevres at Anderson.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

David heard a woman scream as he was walking home. Upon investigation he found Pete Pucher beating a woman. The woman, who was Pete's wife, was bleeding badly.

David immediately separated the parties, wrestled Pete to the ground, and held him there while a friend called the police. In the struggle David's clothes were badly torn.

Later David sued Pete for the damage to his clothes which were torn in the struggle.

"Who does he think he is?" asked Pete. "This guy comes in and starts fighting me while I'm having a discussion with my wife, and now he has the gall to sue me for his clothes that got torn. He had no business butting into our family discussion."

"It looked to me as if he was going to kill that woman," said David. "All I did was try to stop a fight. Besides, I didn't hurt him. I just held him until the police got there."

Does David have the right to make Pete pay for his clothing in this case?

Yes, said a New York court in a recent decision. The court, quoting Justice Cardozo, stated that danger invites rescue. The cry of distress is the summons to relief. The law does not ignore these reactions of the mind in tracing conduct to its consequences. It recognizes them as normal. The wrong that imperils life is not only a wrong to the imperiled victim. It is also a wrong to his rescuer. The risk of rescue, if only it be not wanton, is born of the occasion.

In this case David committed no crime. His actions were nothing more than could be expected from a reasonable person under the circumstances. No public interest can be served by a rule which would deter one person from coming to the aid of a fellow citizen who is in imminent danger of personal injury at the hands of assailants.

David won the case. (Based upon a recent New York court decision.)

Europeans Reported Slain by Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Communist-backed rebels in the eastern Congo were reported today to have killed at least four Europeans, including two United Nations officials.

Celanese May Buy Champlin Oil Firm

NEW YORK (UPI)—Celanese Corp. confirmed that it is discussing the possible purchase of Champlin Oil & Refining and that talks toward this end have been taking place on a preliminary and informal basis.

A company spokesman said, however, "it would not be correct to imply that there has been any agreement."

In Fort Worth, Tex., Champlin Oil also confirmed reports that the two companies were discussing merger. Earl Baldrige, chairman, said the talks "are still going on," but declined to predict chances of a formal agreement.

FIVE YEAR PASSPORT
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress took the first step last week to give the American tourist a five-year passport.

A House foreign affairs subcommittee approved a bill for a longer-lasting passport with the hope it could be passed before adjournment. The present U. S. passport is good for three years, and renewal extends it for another two years. Under the bill, it would be valid for five years with renewal for another five years.

MERGER ACTION SET
NEW YORK (UPI)—The merger of Atlas General Industries into Consolidated Electronics Industries is scheduled for final stockholders' action and consummation Sept. 14, it was announced Monday.

Reports from Albertville, capital of North Katanga Province, described the situation there as "catastrophic." A European diplomat in Elisabethville said he received a radio message from Albertville asking for direct intervention to put down the revolt.

"We already know that two Europeans have been killed and that 10 are in jail and that some 18 others are now in a hospital," the diplomat said. "If nothing is done we are afraid the worst can happen to the 150 Europeans still in Albertville."

Officials in Geneva reported that two French officials of the U.N. were killed Monday while visiting a refugee camp at Kalonge in Kivu Province to investigate reports that reprisals were being planned against the refugees.

"Both men had remained at their posts in spite of grave political disturbances in the area," a U. N. spokesman said. He identified the Frenchmen as Jean Plique, 33, and Francois Preziosi, 43. They were working for the U. N. high commissioner for refugees.

Informed sources said today that Premier Moise Tshombe may ask Nigeria, Liberia and Ethiopia to help him defeat the rebel bands who have now taken control of about half of the Congo.

The United States announced Monday that it will send "a small number" of B26 bombers in response to Tshombe's request for reconnaissance planes to monitor rebel movements.

An American spokesman said the planes will be delivered "within the next few days" but he did not specify the number. It was emphasized that no Americans will be called upon to fly the bombers. The Defense Department in Washington said the pilots of the World

Life Estimates LBJ Interests $14 Million

NEW YORK (UPI)—Life magazine today estimated the personal fortune of President Johnson and his family at $14 million, but a trustee of the President's financial interests put the figure at $4 million.

In its article, Life said that "there may be a number of reasons for the disparity in the figures." The magazine said that financial worth may be measured either by "book" value—the way it appears on the books for accounting purposes—or by "market" value—the current resale value of the financial interests.

"For the purposes of this article, Life has applied the broader measure, to establish a businessman's evaluation of what the total Johnson accumulations are worth by a conservative calculation of present market values."

Six-Month Study
Life, in the second of a two-part series on the life of the President, said its estimate was based on figures gathered over the last six months and that part of the $14 million is "now placed in funds and foundations in which the Johnsons have no direct beneficial interest."

The trustee, A. W. Moursund, in his statement on the Johnson holdings, said Mrs. Johnson and the Johnson daughters, Luci Baines and Lynda Bird, hold an 85 per cent interest in the radio-television properties of Texas Broadcasting Corp.

Other assets consisted principally of municipal bonds, real estate, livestock and cash. Moursund said the Johnsons "have no interests in any holding companies and own no stocks other than those in Texas Broadcasting."

Life said it also included in its totals the investments held in two funds set up by the Johnsons, the Johnson City Foundation and the LBJ profit sharing trust for employees.

Other Interests Noted
The magazine said that "also to be noted are interests totaling $1.7 million held by a somewhat mysterious entity called the Brazos-Tenth Street Co. of Austin." Life said the company was originated in 1955 as a real estate developer's housekeeping unit for an old stone building on the corner of Brazos and Tenth Streets in downtown Austin, a location now occupied by the sleek new offices of KTBC, a Texas broadcasting station.

"Since then," the magazine continued, "it has grown into an energetic, diversified company whose activities are to a great degree interwoven with the Johnsons' interests." Life said that "because Brazos-Tenth is a private company, the names of its stockholders are not a matter of public record, but attorney Moursund says that no member of the Johnson family has a direct interest in the company."

Life put the Johnsons' total accumulation over the years at about $14 million. Breaking it down into individual holdings, the magazine said "there are broadcasting interests valued at $8.6 million; real estate worth (conservatively) $3.6 million; assets held by specified funds and foundations, including bank stocks (as of the last public accounting), $600,000; cash and municipal bonds, $500,000; plus miscellaneous personal property valued at upward of $400,000."

Moursund listed among the Johnson Texas land holdings the Granite Knob Ranch, the Haywood Ranch, the Lewis Ranch and the LBJ Ranch. He also noted "approximately 3700 acres of farm land in Alabama" in Mrs. Johnson's name, and a "business property in Missouri" valued at slightly over $6,000.

Moursund said the Johnsons have no other financial interests or assets, either personal or corporate, other than those listed.

Two New Lights To Be Installed At Intersections

The monthly meeting of the Pampa Traffic Commission heard a report from City Manager Harold Schmitzer yesterday that new traffic lights are being installed at two intersections.

The lights are being placed at the intersection of Brown and Hazel and Barnes and Tuke. Director of Public Works R. B. (Jiggs) Cooke said the lights were installed due to an increasingly heavy volume of traffic at the corners.

The Traffic Commission, meeting at noon yesterday in the Pampa Hotel, also took no action on a proposed traffic signal at Farley and Bond Sts.

Preston Fowlkes suggested that an investigation be made of the high rate of absenteeism among the members of the commission. No immediate action was taken on the suggestion.

E. E. Shelhamer acted as chairman in the absence of Jack Miller.

GOP Candidate to Address Democrats

George Bush, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator from Texas, will arrive in Pampa Friday morning for an address to 20 Pampa Democrats.

GEORGE BUSH
candidate to visit

Bush, Houston oilman, will face Democratic Sen. Ralph Yarborough in the November general elections.

Warren Fatheree, regional campaign manager for Bush, said that 20 Pampa Democrats have agreed to attend a 7:30 a.m. breakfast in Coronado Inn to hear Bush speak.

The candidate is scheduled to arrive in Childress at 10:45 a.m. Thursday. He will address a noon civic club luncheon there and go to Wellington Thursday afternoon.

From 4:30 until 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Bush is to meet with campaign workers in Canadian and then address a Republican rally in Shamrock at 7:30.

He will arrive in Pampa late Thursday night.

Bush is scheduled to address the Pampa Noon Kiwanis Club and then meet with local campaign workers early in the afternoon.

The GOP hopeful will fly to Dalhart for a mid-afternoon meeting with supporters and attend a 7 p.m. banquet in Dumas.

Bush will spend the final day of his Panhandle visit in Perryton where he will ride in the rodeo parade and attend a noon barbecue.

The candidate will depart for Houston from Perryton at 5 p.m.

License Flunkee Claims Record

LONDON (UPI)—Arthur Ries, 65, says he is Britain's most experienced unlicensed driver. He has 17 years of trying, 1,000 driving lessons and 10 tests—all unsuccessful—to back up his claim.

Ries put in his claim after reading that a Manchester driver, Leonard Melling, has flunked nine tests and was ready to try again.

Ries said he took his first test in 1947, flunked it, but was told he should pass the next time.

He estimated he has spent $2,400 on lessons and practice runs, including fees for licensed friends to ride with him.

Three times he bought cars in expectation of getting his license. Three times he sold the cars after failing.

"Every time they give different reasons," he said. "Sometimes it's my reversing, another time it's my driving at road junctions that they find fault with."

"I just can't win," he said. "But I must go on. I have tried too long and spent too much money to admit defeat."

Pampa Realtor in Classes at U of O

James B. Dailey, Pampa realtor and appraiser, has left for the Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education at the University of Oklahoma.

He will attend classes on residential appraising to be presented this week by the Society of Real Estate Appraisers, and will return to Pampa Saturday.

Borrowed Entries Bring Top Prize

CANNOCK, England (UPI)—John Steele, 61, won six first prizes, two seconds and three thirds in a local fruit and flower show Sunday, then admitted none of the exhibits was his own.

"There was no rule to say members had to show their own stuff," said Steele, who helped organize the show. "So I borrowed the necessary flowers and vegetables."

Newsman to Study Challenge of Change

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The challenge for change in newspapers and the controversial issue of massive reporting versus pooling will head the list of subjects to be discussed at the fifth annual UPI Editors and Publishers Conference in Washington Oct. 6-7.

Delegates from UPI newspapers across the country will examine newspaper and wire service coverage practices, techniques and goals in four working sessions during the two-day meeting. Nearly 400 delegates from 40 states already have registered to attend.

Top UPI executives will be brought together on a conference panel to provide personal appraisals of global dangers and coverage problems.

Among the UPI executives submitting reports to the delegates on this panel session will be Roger Tatarian, executive editor; Rhea T. Eskew, general manager for communications; and Frank Tremaine, vice president, UPI newspapers.

Enlistments Expected to Increase and Reduce Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said Monday voluntary enlistments in the armed services are expected to increase to a point where reliance on the draft can be reduced.

McNamara commented to newsmen on the draft after meeting with President Johnson at the White House on this year's and next year's military budget and the nation's economic outlook.

McNamara said the administration wants to eliminate "any remaining inequities" from the draft system and also wants to increase voluntary enlistments.

"We are considering possible compensation changes, and changes in re-enlistment bonuses," McNamara said. "and we want to find ways to utilize men from that one-third of each age group who are not physically or mentally qualified to be drafted. About 1.6 million males pass through each age group, and about 600,000 can't qualify."

The defense secretary said Johnson had asked him about a study, expected to be completed next spring, aimed at ending the draft within the next decade and filling military ranks entirely through voluntary enlistments.

McNamara said that about 80,000 young men are now being drafted each year. But by the same token, he said, there are about 30,000 who volunteer for service in the Army each year and are rejected for physical or mental deficiencies.

McNamara visited with the President for about an hour.

DEFINITE RELATIONSHIP

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Air Force says there is a "definite relationship" between phases of the moon and the amount of cloudiness on earth.

But the service said Sunday that nobody has any good idea why there is such a relationship or what its significance may be.

The Air Force said the finding was based on a study by Iver Lund, an aerospace research scientist at the Air Force Cambridge laboratories, of weather observations made between 1905 and 1962.

Defecting Russians Arrive in Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—Two Soviet musicians who defected to the West in Tokyo so they could play jazz in the United States flew here Monday and were immediately taken into hiding by American intelligence agents.

"These two persons will be afforded facilities for resting from their 9,000-mile flight," a U.S. Embassy spokesman told reporters.

Agents of the U.S. Army Counter-Intelligence Corps (CIC) met Boris Midney, 27, a tenor saxophone player, and Igor Berukhshtis, 31, a drummer, aboard the airliner that brought them from Tokyo.

The musicians were hustled into a waiting U.S. military sedan and sped to Rhine-Main air base.

By the time newsmen got to the air base, the musicians had vanished. Air Force officials professed not to know they had even arrived there.

It was assumed the "facilities for resting" referred to by the American spokesman were at Camp King, the U.S. intelligence center at Oberursel in the Taunus Mountains, a few miles north of Frankfurt.

The two men said they had fled from a Bolshoi variety troupe in Tokyo Friday because there were no opportunities for jazzmen in Russia. They said they were going to have their instruments repaired, but they went instead to the U.S. Embassy and asked for political asylum.

Actress Will Now Try to Get Aunt From Russia

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actress Ruta Lee rejoiced Monday at her victory over Russian red tape—bringing her grandmother to America—and set her sights on round two—getting an aunt from behind the Iron Curtain.

The blonde, 27-year-old actress and her 85-year-old grandmother arrived here by plane Saturday night, following a takeoff last week from Moscow.

The flight to freedom of Mrs. Ludvise Kamandulis was the culmination of eight years of hard work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars by Miss Lee to get Communist permission for her grandmother to emigrate.

"I have worked a double miracle," said the actress humbly when they arrived at Los Angeles International Airport. "Now we're waiting for an aunt, who the Russians have said can come and live with us here."

The aunt, Mrs. Antose Straznickienie, was expected to arrive next month, according to Miss Lee.

NEW SAFETY CHIEF — Appointment of Brig. Gen. John Dixon Lawlor as executive vice president of the National Safety Council has been announced by Howard Pyle, NSC president. Gen. GOP Chairmen Get Vote Quotas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican campaign strategists in the 50 states began a grass roots search this week for voters to meet quotas set under a novel program designed to put Sen. Barry M. Goldwater in the White House.

State GOP chairmen were given their state quotas and a county-by-county breakdown at a meeting here Saturday. Precinct quotas are now in preparation and about one-third complete.

"We have projected the probable vote and have established what we expect is a safe margin for victory," said Ray Humphreys, a Republican National Committee aide.

For example, the quota program estimates that 36,000 GOP votes will be needed to win Alaska this fall. It estimates the GOP need in Oregon at 441,000 votes and sets a Pennsylvania quota of 2,947,000.

Each state chairman left Saturday's meeting with similar quota breakdowns for the nation's 3,072 counties. The data being compiled will provide similar information for 185,000 voting precincts.

Humphreys said that GOP campaigners could find their regional quotas in the reservoir of non-voters who make up about one-third of the potential electorate.

He said that from the uncommitted one-third, "we expect to get sufficient support to win this election."

Printer Breaks

Swimming Record

DOVER, England (UPI) — Barry Watson, a 25-year-old British printer, swam the English Channel Sunday in the record time of nine hours 35 minutes.

Watson swam from Calais, France.

The best previous time was 10 hours 23 minutes by Helge Gensen of Canada in 1960, swimming from England to France.

An American swimmer, Harry Huffaker, 28, a Detroit, Mich., dental student, got in the swim with Watson Sunday but tired three miles from Dover and was pulled from the water.

SURPRISE VISIT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson paid a surprise visit Sunday night to a reception for members of the Democratic Platform Committee at the Sheraton Park Hotel.

Johnson and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., chatted and shook hands with the committee members who open hearings today on the Democratic party platform. Johnson spent about five minutes at the reception.

ELECTION PREDICTION
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., predicts that GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater will carry no more than eight states in the November election.

McCormack, in forecasting a "landslide" victory for President Johnson, said Sunday that any question of a "white backlash" against the Democrats because of Negro civil rights gains would fade before the Nov. 3 balloting.

Foreign News Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle of France has trotted out once again his favorite formula for keeping world peace.

It is: No meddling by the big powers in other countries' affairs.

De Gaulle did so after astonishing both his friends and critics by sitting out two major world crises quietly—Viet Nam and Cyprus—without offering any advice on how to solve them.

But, after presiding over a cabinet meeting in Paris last week De Gaulle let it be known that his answer to the troubles in Viet Nam, Cyprus—and the Congo, too—is no outside interference.

De Gaulle's message undoubtedly was directed first and foremost at the United States. It certainly was intended for Russia also. They are the two powers he accuses of seeking to run world affairs.

Avoids Offending Peking
 Whether it was intended for Red China as well was not clear. Since establishing relations with the Peking regime last January, De Gaulle has been noticeably careful not to tread on its toes.

His magic formula for Southeast Asia is withdrawing all foreign forces—principally U.S. forces—and convening a new 14-power Geneva conference to seek agreement on neutralization of all of former Indochina.

He applies the same non-intervention formula to Cyprus, but with this difference: He considers the 1959 and 1960 Zurich and London agreements by which Cyprus was set up as an independent republic as "obsolete and inapplicable to the present situation."

Wants Direct Agreement
 In their place he wants a direct agreement between Greece and Turkey—and he indicated his readiness to help work this out.

There is little doubt De Gaulle believes the ultimate answer is union of Cyprus with Greece and some form of compensation for the Turkish minority, territorial or otherwise.

As far as the Congo is concerned, De Gaulle favors aid but no interference. He indicated France's readiness to contribute to the aid.

In offering all this advice, De Gaulle has one great advantage—the fact that France is not directly involved. If he succeeds he stands to gain a lot of prestige mileage. If he fails, or if his offers of aid are unnoticed, France has few chips in the pot.

He cannot really lose either way.

Psychiatrist Has 'Dictator' Theory

LONDON (UPI) — A social psychiatrist suggested Monday that people submit to dictators like Adolf Hitler because of an urge "to return to mother's womb."

Dr. Joshua Ibiere, medical director of the Marlborough Day Hospital and the Institute of Social Psychiatry, explained his theory at the opening session of the first international Congress of Social Psychiatry.

He said that while studying the psychology of people living under dictatorship he concluded that force alone did not account for their acceptance of their dictator.

"There must be a much deeper and more innate force in man which is in conflict with the drive toward freedom," he said.

"Is it not reasonable to assume that there is a strong desire by everyone to return to mother's womb?"

NEW UNIFORM?—Visitors to London's Clarence House are startled when they see guards decked out in ordinary khaki uniforms (left) rather than the regal red tunic and fur busby (right). But it seems the Royal Guards in the red coats are on overseas duty, so other soldiers must take over sentry duty.

AGHULL, England (UPI) — Howard Murray was stuck last week with 40 old Rolls-Royce hearses.

Murray said he bought the old hearses — all made between 1922 and 1930 — to turn them into touring cars. But, he said, he has few buyers and is wondering how to get rid of the surplus.

Why Let Age Get You by the Throat?

CHASE SIGNS — Simple massage, proper application of moisturizing cream twice a day chase signs of aging —jowls and wrinkled neck.

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Age literally can get a woman by the throat. Often visible inroads of time show up first below the chin. And beauty-conscious women take special care to stave off the dry, wrinkled or crepey look that comes too early to the throat and neck.
Loss of strength in muscles encourages sagging jowls and that double chin most of us would rather not have mentioned. Being overweight also adds to the wrinkling problem as the excess fat lies in folds. Stringent dieting adds lines when the neck is too thin.
You can control normal wrinkling, though, with daily care. Start with a moisturizing throat cream. Apply this after cleansing the skin thoroughly in the morning before applying make-up and at night before going to bed.

Smooth the cream on with firm upward strokes starting with the chest and work up to the jaw. Massage all the neck. Now use the back of your hand and slap briskly below the jaw. Give yourself 50 whacks in the morning and 50 whacks at night.
You may follow with a cold astringent for further toning action.
And at all times carry your head high, avoid slumping or leaning forward.
All these contribute to maintaining a slender, clear-cut neckline.

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Everyone was enjoying the cooler weather the past few days.
We missed Mrs. Kate Humphrey. Understand she has been on the sick list.
P. J. Turner is in Worley Hospital for a check up and Mrs. Ollie Statons son, J. D. White is in Highland Hospital, having undergone surgery.
Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald is serving as chairman of the Altrusa Club Center project due to the illness of Mrs. Lena Pearl Hobbs husband, who we are glad to learn is improving.
S. E. Barnard attended a family reunion at the home of one of his daughters, Mrs. Virgie Ingram in El Reno, Okla. last week. All of his children were present but one.
Mr. and Mrs. Jay Evans spent the weekend in Sentinel, Okla. visiting his brother, Otis Evans and family.
Houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Norris — and also of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Richardson and family last week were the Norris' son Howard Richardson and family of Laurel, Miss. While here the two Richardson men and their wives drove over to Conches dam for a couple days fishing and report a grand time, although the water was low and fishing not at its best.
Miss Lucy Herlacher reports a wonderful trip with her Sunday school class, (Friendship) over to Boys Ranch near Amarillo Sunday, where they attended church with the boys and shared their dinner.
Mrs. A. D. Hills, one of our Gray Ladies, who also belongs to the class went along furnishing part of the transportation. This class is of the First Methodist Church.
Mrs. Libby Trimble and son, O. G. Trimble and family, drove over to Lake Texoma last Sunday and attended a family reunion. They also visited relatives at Oklahoma City and Norman, Okla. before their return.
Dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Mollie Hethcock and sons were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil VanHuss and family of Wichita falls, Mrs. Jessie VanHuss, mother of Virgil, and Dewinna Hethcock, a granddaughter of Mrs. Hethcock. Jack VanHuss of Wichita Falls was also a guest and all spent some time with Mrs. Jessie VanHuss.
Omitted from last weeks news: Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Turner spent a few days in Kermit with Mrs. Turners, daughter, Mrs. H. B. Williams and family.
Guests of the Lewis Hendersons and Mrs. Nettie Cornelson this week were Clarence Cornelson and family of Certon, N. M. Mr. Cornelson is a son of Mrs. Nettie Cornelson and a cousin of Mrs. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Caillutte of Elk City, Okla., were guests of Mrs. C. G. Miller and son, Bill, D. H. Porter and children Ruth and Richard of Shamrock were also guests of the Millers Monday.
Saw a beautiful sight when down at the First Christian Church recently. A gray squirrel was scampering up and down one of the trees. I had not seen one for many many years and am glad they still exist in Pampa.
Am expecting an old friend of my Kansas days, who has lived in California many years, Mrs. Margaret Pardue, and two of her grandchildren. They are coming in on the evening train, stopping over for a short visit on their way to Kansas City, Mo.
The Jaycettes were hostess again this week. Those serving were Mmes. Patsy Webb, Barbara Alexander and Jan Robertson. Cake and coffee were served. Altrusans on hand to supervise and assist were Mmes. Marie Fitzgerald and Louise Sewell.
Gray Ladies furnishing transportation were Mmes. O. F. Kreimeyer, Lee Harrah, A. D. Hills, Jess Hatcher and George Benham.
If you have not visited the Center lately, come out next week and enjoy an afternoon of fun. See you next week.
Love, Mrs. Wagner

Booklet Tells What to Do When

On the social scene "what to do when" can present problems for manner-minded teens. For example, if you spill something in a restaurant, do you apologize, clean up the mess, or do nothing.
The third answer is correct. If a waiter isn't near when a glass is turned over or food is spilled, simply spread a napkin over the spot and say nothing. Talking about mishaps only impresses them on the minds of others.
This question — and the teen-tested advice — are part of a new free 30-page booklet for the high school girl. "Are You In The Know?" answers questions on personality, dating, manners and good looks. From advice on how to keep the conversation going on a date, to the correct way to wear a corsage, the new booklet answers more than 80 typical teen questions.
Free copies are available on request by writing to "Are You In The Know", Box 551-P, Kimberly - Clark Corp., Neenah, Wis.

Dear Abby.... 'Facts of Life' For 'Older' Children Only

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A very advanced 12-year-old neighbor girl has been telling my 8-year-old son about the birds and the bees. I don't know quite how to handle this because the girl's mother and I are very good friends. It has been handy to ask this girl to look after my son for a few hours after school, or on Saturday afternoons, but lately every time she has been with him he seems to have learned something new on the subject. Our boy never had any curiosity at all about things like that until this girl put those ideas in his head. Is there a tactful way to put a stop to it?

UPSET
DEAR UPSET: How, and from whom, a child learns about the birds and bees has a significant bearing on his later sex attitudes, so don't treat this lightly. Have the girl's mother tell her daughter that the "facts of life" are for "older" children (say about 12) and since you are boys and girls (say around 8) might not understand, their questions should be referred to their parents.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has been on a diet for as long as I have known her. Whenever we are dining out, she won't think of ordering anything fattening; but just let someone else order it and, the moment it comes, she'll plunge her fork into his food, or sink her spoon into his dessert.
"Shades of trench mouth," it's getting me down. I despise this practice and have hinted until I'm blue in the face, but nothing stops her. What would you suggest?

VICTIM
DEAR VICTIM: Be prepared! When you order, ask for a small service plate and give her a "taste" before she attacks.

DEAR ABBY: I wasn't born yesterday. A woman telephones our home quite often. If I should answer the phone, she hangs up. If my husband answers it, that is a signal to her that he can get away to see her, which he promptly does. He always finds some kind of excuse to get in the car and go some place. I wish you would put this in the paper to let the lady know I would like very much to talk to her. If it's my husband she wants, she can have him.

NOT SO DUMB
DEAR NOT: I doubt if you can unload that double-dealing dandy of yours so easily. What woman in her right mind would want a man who can't be trusted? Every time the telephone would ring, she'd go ding bats!

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "ALLERGIC TO ROSES" amused me because we also had neighbors who disturbed us with an extremely loud stereo or hi fi set. We just turned our record player on as loud as we could, and played that old song, "YOU, YOU'RE DRIVING ME CRAZY" over

Headless Bodies of Children Found in Philippine Village

MANILA (UPI) — Fierce Ilongot headhunters have beheaded a 17-year-old girl and her younger brother in a village 180 miles northeast of here Philippine national police reported Monday.

The police report said Cirila Pagurayan, and her 8-year-old brother were beheaded Friday near a forest in Lubbot village, Quezon Province.

The two youngsters were sent by their father Friday morning to gather vegetables in their farm in Lubbot, but failed to return home before sundown, the report said. A search was launched and their headless bodies were found near the farm.

The report did not say why the Ilongots went on the warpath. Government authorities have in the past said that the Ilongots resent invasion of their territory by lowlanders.

White Sox Owner Allyn Challenges Sale Validity

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn said today he is "willing to bet" that American League clubowners will meet for a "good look at the Yankee-CBS deal."

Allyn commented after he fired off a formal challenge to the validity of the American League vote transferring the New York Yankee franchise to

Unknowns Lead Women's Tourney

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UPI) — National Women's Amateur golf entrants who arrived last week for practice rounds felt any lessons learned were of little value in Monday's first 18 holes of qualifying at Prairie Dunes Country Club for the 32 match-play positions.

French star Brigitte Varagnot of Paris, the 1963 British Amateur champion, spent four days testing the layout in cool weather.

In Monday's action she fired a 78, two strokes off the leader's pace, and said, "I had to learn the course all over again."

"That wind made some of the holes play entirely different than they did over the weekend. Saturday I had a 74, Sunday a 75, but I was fortunate to score a 78 today," she added.

The leaders with 76's after Monday's play were Gloria Ehret, Danbury, Conn.; Mrs. Donna Gilliam, Whittier, Calif.; Mrs. Robert Ihanfeldt, Seattle, Wash.; and 17-year-old Susan Gregory, of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Je Anne Gunderson of Seattle, a three-time former National Amateur champ and 1959 winner Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo., both had 77's, as did the tournament's youngest entrant, 14-year-old Marsha Houghton of Modesto, Calif.

Former Texas Hurler Retires

CHANDLER, Okla. (UPI) — Former Texas University pitcher Tom Belcher has quit professional baseball, his father said today.

Roscoe (Bo) Belcher said his son had told him he was quitting because he felt he had not been treated fairly by the New York Mets organization.

Young Belcher had a 2-1 exhibition record with Buffalo of the Class AAA International League last spring and a 9-3 record with Williamsport, Pa. in the Class AA Eastern League this season. He was called up to Buffalo, given one starting assignment, then ordered to report to Austin of the Class AA Texas League.

His father said Belcher felt the game was not a fair trial in the Class AAA league and he should not have been sent down.

Belcher, a graduate of an Oklahoma City high school, pitched for the University of Texas in 1960-62 and had a 25-4 record.

Devine Quits As Card GM

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Bing Devine today turned his thoughts to another job after announcing his resignation as general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, the only employer he has ever had.

Devine has been with the Cardinals since his graduation from Washington University here 25 years ago but he resigned Monday because he was unable to bring the team to a pennant. Resigning with him was Art Routzong, business manager, who has been with the club for 27 years.

Devine was appointed general manager in 1957, succeeding the controversial Frank Lane. He brought Routzong up to his current position.

Neither man said he was pressured to quit by owner August A. Busch, Jr., but Routzong noted that Busch was planning some changes and "if you want to call that pressure, then you can."

Routzong cleaned out his desk at Busch Stadium immediately after the announcement. The Cardinals announced Monday that Robert L. (Bob) Howsam would replace Routzong. Howsam is former general manager of the Denver Bears baseball club and a co-founder of the American Football League.

Devine said he would stay with the club, probably until the end of the season to insure "an orderly transfer of controls."

Pamcel Tourney Due Tough Field

Jerry Keel of Borger will be back to defend his Pamcel golf tournament title in the one-day affair Sunday but he will have no easy time repeating.

Already entered in the tournament are a number of strong area golfers, including Max Hickey of Pampa and Don Lackey of Borger.

Hickey beat out Johnny Hatcher of Pampa for the Friona Country Club championship two weeks ago and Lackey, an Oklahoma State University golfer, won the Borger Invitational.

Other highly regarded local golfers whose entries have been received are Jack Foster and Las Howard of Pampa and Jim Haren of Borger.

The championship flight will play 27 holes medal for the title while four other flights will play nine holes match and nine medal.

The Pamcel Golf Club course is in the Celanese compound five miles west of Pampa on US 60. The course will be open Saturday for practice rounds.

Allyn acted after league attorney Benjamin Fiery said last Thursday's telegraphic vote of 8-2 was "sufficient and legal."

"Fiery wired me that there is a degree of conflict of interest but that this did not come up to that degree," Allyn said. "Fiery is wrong, and I told him so."

Only Allyn and Charles O. Finley, Kansas City Athletics owner, voted against the sale. The vote of three owners would be required to force league President Joe Cronin to call a meeting. Allyn said he is confident a third owner will join Finley and him in demanding the meeting.

"After the fuss that has been raised about this thing," Allyn said, "I'm sure we'll get three votes."

Allyn's telegram to Fiery quoted the league constitution as to conflict of interest. It reads:

"No member of the league, whether owned by a person or persons, trust, firm, or corporation, either by itself or through such person or persons, trust, firm, corporation, or the officers or stockholders of such corporation, or otherwise, shall be or become interested by means of stock ownership or otherwise in any other member of the league, or in the conduct or operation of more than one baseball club in the league."

Dallas Trims Four from List

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The Dallas Cowboys cut four players from their roster yesterday, including offensive guard Dale Mummelaar, a five-year National Football League veteran.

Coach Tom Landry also cut place-kicker specialist Lance Poimboeuf, rookie guard Henry Huettner of Syracuse and rookie defensive halfback Tony Leiker of Kansas. Landry's squad now stands at 49 players, including 16 rookies.

Mummelaar, who spent three seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals after graduating from Wyoming, was replaced in last Saturday night's starting lineup against San Francisco by rookie Whaley Hall of Mississippi. Mummelaar joined the Cowboys before the 1962 season and was rated a top-flight lineman.

Poimboeuf is a Southeastern Louisiana graduate who spent most of last season on the taxi squad. His departure leaves place-kicking chores to rookie Billy Lotheridge of Georgia Tech unless Landry can get a kicker in a trade.

Phillies Increase Lead; White Sox Edge Yanks

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD UPI Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies are stealing away with the National League pennant under the cover of darkness.

Manager Gene Mauch's moonlight operators opened the biggest lead any team has enjoyed this season (five games over San Francisco) when they battered the Chicago Cubs Monday night, 8-1.

The victory was the 49th after dark for the Phillies this season against only 22 nighttime losses for a percentage of .690. The Phils have been playing less than .500 during the day.

Chris Short, Tony Gonzales and Johnny Callison led the Phillies to their latest victory. Short limited the Cubs to five hits to earn his 12th victory and lower his earned run average to below 1.98, making him second only to Dodger great Sandy Koufax in that department. It was the first time in Short's five big league seasons that he has won 12.

Hit Two Doubles
Gonzales contributed two doubles and a single, good for two runs, and Callison slammed two triples, drove in two runs and scored twice in the Phils' 12-hit barrage against starter Ernie Broglio and three Chicago relievers.

The St. Louis Cardinals rallied in the ninth inning to down Houston 3-1 and the New York Mets blanked Pittsburgh 5-0 in the only other National League action.

The White Sox relied on their superior pitching and took advantage of a costly error by sure-handed Bobby Richardson to defeat the New York Yankees 2-1 in the opener of their crucial series in Chicago in the lone American League contest.

The victory moved the second-place White Sox within 1½ games of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles and dropped the Yankees three games off the pace in third place.

Pizarro Wins 16th
Juan Pizarro became the first 16-game winner in the AL but needed a brilliant relief effort from 41-year-old knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm.

Wilhelm entered the game in the eighth inning with one run in, the score 2-1, two Yankees on base and Roger Maris at bat. Wilhelm struck out Maris and got Elston Howard on an infield grounder to end the inning and retired the side in order in the ninth.

The Cardinals capitalized on two ninth inning errors by Houston and four singles to score three runs and ruin 39-year-old Hal Brown's excellent pitching performance. Brown had shut out St. Louis for 8 1/3 innings on four singles. Dick Groat singled home Ken Boyer with the tying run and Mike Shannon drove home the winning tally.

Rookie Dennis Ribant, obtained from Milwaukee 11 days ago in a trade for Frank Lary and cash, hurled a four-hit shutout for the Mets over Pittsburgh.

It was Ribant's second major league start and first victory. Charley Smith drove in four of the Mets' runs with a pair of home runs.

TWO BIG ONES — Rodney Hail, 1101 Cinderella, caught this pair of two-pound rainbow trout while stream fishing at Red River, N. M., Friday. One is 17½ inches long, the other 18½ inches. Rodney was vacationing at Red River with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hail.

IL All-Stars Beat Indians

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The Cleveland Indians are becoming the favorite "cousins" of the International League All-Stars.

The American League team came into War Memorial Stadium Monday night and suffered a 4-2 setback at the hands of the IL Stars. Cleveland's only offensive thrust was a two-run homer into the centerfield stands by Woody Held in the fifth inning.

Outside of that, the Indians were peaceful before the offerings of six IL hurlers. The Indians managed only two hits in the 1961 game and dropped a 2-0 decision in the home park of the Buffalo Bisons.

While winner Jim Merritt, the Atlanta southpaw, and five successors were handcuffing the Indians Monday night, the All-Stars bunched two hits and three walks off loser Tom Kelley in the first inning for three runs.

Trouble With Majorities

If one spends any time studying the writings of the 19th century savants one is immediately impressed by the fact that so many of them foresaw a general preoccupation with democracy as the "coming trend."

Inspired, without a doubt, by American entrance into a kind of government resting upon majority decisions and popular plebiscites, many of the nations in the world began to court the democratic idea of rule by majority vote.

What is instructive about the writings of the aforementioned thinkers is their general agreement that a flirtation with democracy or even with democratic forms, would bode no good in the long run for the people of the world.

Great store is placed by many Americans in the fact that this nation was not intended to be a democracy, but rather a republic. However, the emphasis upon a republican rather than a democratic form has more significance in terminology than it does in actual fact.

In both cases, the form of government calls for active participation by the masses of voters at the polls. In a democracy, the voters act directly on the issues; in a republic, the voters act to select representatives who then act upon the issues.

Some feel that the characteristic of a republic is that it will have a written charter, such as our Constitution. But written charters can also be provided for democracies. In our own case, we have a mixture of the two general ideas. In some cases we vote to elect representatives. In others, as in referenda and recalls as well as at state or county level where charter amendments are voted, or where bond issues are promoted or other decisions are sought from the voters at large, the democratic nature of the government is precisely revealed.

You'll Be Seeing Red

This is the Year of the Redhead. Now this may not be as important to scientists as the International Geophysical Year or the Year of the Quiet Sun. But to us non-scientists, of whom there are quite a few, it's an interesting piece of news.

The red hot flash comes from the hair-dressers of the nation. And if you men don't think what they say goes—straight to lady's head—just take a look at a few months.

The hairdressers have decreed that red hair will be the thing this fall and winter. Not a "hot" red, mind you, but a "cool" red. A "cool" red is red with brown tones in it. Why this rush to redheads? Well, because red hair will snap up the black that women will be wearing this coming season. And because it will be a change from blondes and brunettes. And, doggone it, because there's just something about a redhead. Or hadn't you noticed?

VIET NAM REPORT

US Attack Buys Viet Troops

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — "A year ago all the Viet Cong we hit had home-made weapons. Now they're using new stuff—Czech, Chinese and Russian machine guns, recoilless rifles, mortars, even the infantryman's individual weapons."

"We know it's coming across the border from Cambodia—brought there down the Ho Chi Minh trail from the North. But we don't have the men or the firepower here to stop them from bringing it in. They're building up a considerable amount of power here for when they want to use it."

The speaker is an American officer talking to me on the Cambodian border. This officer regularly patrols with a Vietnamese Ranger battalion. He's a hero to his Vietnamese Rangers. They're a "Tiger" unit, raring to fight.

When I talked to these men they were just in from a patrol, drinking roisterously and ready for more action. They frightened the girls they were with by playing games with a live hand grenade.

But back to the American Ranger officer: "Maybe it's like they say—the Reds aren't bringing heavy tonnage down the Ho Chi Minh trail. But they're sure hitting us with a lot of new weapons and their fire power is going up sharply. From where I sit we've got to shut that trail off. Otherwise they can do us a lot of damage."

The Viet Cong already move through much of this area at will.

So the American officer and the officers and men of the Vietnamese battalion he works with were delighted when word reached us of the U.S. bombings in North Viet Nam.

They hope the United States is ready to take the steps necessary to put a halt to the flow of arms, equipment and troops coming down from the North.

The Vietnamese Ranger Battalion commander exclaimed: "Let's have a drink, because now the war begins."

He and his men are tired of the "half war" where you chase an enemy you never see and you're hit by an enemy you can't find.

The kind of fighting the Vietnamese and Americans have been doing gets to seem sort of useless to the man on patrol. The enemy dishes it out from one safe haven in the North and another in Cambodia. The enemy in South Viet Nam kills us from ambush. Though he's a poor shot, he still inflicts sizable casualties.

Some officers estimate they're losing 5 to 10 men for every Viet Cong they get.

I talked to officers in some regions on my recent tour who've been out on patrol for six months, have suffered heavy casualties, yet never have seen a live Viet Cong in battle.

You can't tell whether you're hurting the Communists or not. They carry their dead and wounded away with them. All the U.S. advisers and Vietnamese soldiers I talked to are tired, too, of being on the defensive. As one officer puts it, "You've got to feel you're getting back at the guy who's hitting you."

So the idea that we're at last hitting back gives a lift to the fighting men.

As one rugged Vietnamese Ranger put it, "We're going to be No. 1 Tigers." An American Ranger officer said the same thing in a different way: "I feel more gung ho."

But for this feeling to catch fire and hold, the men I've been with say the U.S. and Vietnamese governments are going to have to come up with a continuously aggressive policy.

WHERE REST OF MONEY IS—Counterpart funds accumulated as the result of various foreign aid operations and the sale of surplus farm commodities under Public Law 480 — which the buyers pay for in their own currency that remains in their country.

In effect, PL 480 transactions are give-aways. That's their overwhelming record on the government's books.

The use of counterpart funds is hedged with a variety of restrictions. Mainly they are drawn on for the construction and to some extent the maintenance of U.S. embassies, the financing of congressional and other junkets, for training military and civilian specialists and assorted other activities in these countries.

Of the 87 countries in which the U.S. owns local currencies, in 27 the total is in excess of $10 million. In 21 others, the amount runs between $1 and $10 million. In the remainder, the

U. S. Counterpart Funds Accumulating Around World Equal Twice Balance of Deficit

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Of all the incomprehensible phenomena of the vast foreign aid program, none is more so than the little-known but huge amount of foreign currencies the U.S. is accumulating around the globe. While President Johnson is badly exerting every pressure to ram through Congress his $3.5 billion foreign aid budget for the 17th consecutive year of such multi-billion dollar spending, the U.S. now owns almost that much in foreign currencies in scores of beneficiary countries. According to the Treasury Department's last report, December 31, 1963, the total of these so-called "counterpart funds" was $3,034,997,676 in 87 nations. Unquestionably, this has appreciably increased in the eight months since then. In 1962, a State Department study indicated that such foreign currency holdings would continue to accumulate at upwards of $500 million a year. The $3,034 billion total is twice the amount of this country's estimated $1.5 billion balance-of-payments deficit this year. If these counterpart funds could be applied to offset that, a long stride would have been taken toward halting the further loss of our vital gold reserves — which have shrunk from $23,252 billion in 1952 to around $15.6 billion. A remarkable aspect of this remarkable foreign aid phenomenon is that the five biggest counterpart fund countries are either Communist or neutralist. Not one is an ally of the U.S., although all have received hundreds of millions of economic and military aid. Total counterpart funds owned by the U.S. in these five countries are: India $1,054,470,759; Poland 447,989,121; Yugoslavia 291,310,399; Egypt 234,816,752; Pakistan 205,146,814.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES — If you've wondered exactly what foreign aid funds are spent for the following up-lifting projects brought to light during the Senate battle played an important role in slashing some $250 million from the President's budget — despite his strenuous pressure: — $1,489,000 for "improvement of national government administration in Indonesia" — whose Communist-leaning President Sukarno not long ago publicly declared, "To hell with U.S. aid." — $1,481,000 for "civil aviation development" in Syria, anti-Western and particularly hostile to the U.S. — $160,000 for "advanced office procedures training" in Uganda. — $265,000 for "book publishing" in Nigeria. — $135,000 for "rural slaughter sheds" in Chad. — $164,000 for "highway maintenance" in Jordan, now busily playing footsie with Egypt's neutralist dictator Gamal Nasser. — $200,000 for "improvement of crop and livestock production" in Egypt. — $463,000 for "civil police and public safety" in Libya. — $756,000 for a "mapping and geographical institute" in Ethiopia. — $500,000 for "colonization" in Bolivia. During the Senate debate, Senator Wayne Morse, D-Ore., spearheading the drive to cut the President's budget, disclosed that there is some $6.2 billion in the "foreign aid pipeline"; that is, unspent but obligated funds.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Gov't. Finance: Borrower Acts as Agent for Lender

Governments and individuals acquire buying power by the same general methods — by earning, borrowing, gift, or stealing.

Thus there is a general similarity between government finance and personal finance. In response to a reader's question this resemblance was discussed previously. The same reader asked about the differences between governmental and individual finances.

So far as the federal government is concerned, the differences relate mainly to the manner in which borrowing is done.

Individual Borrowing When an individual borrows, the lender parts with buying power on the assumption that the individual will pay the money back. Of course, a risk is involved, but the lender is able to diminish the risk by taking security and/or by taking into account the character of the borrower.

In short, the lender is not required to lend and does lend only if he deems it prudent to do so.

In the case of government borrowing, however, the situation is not clear-cut. The borrower in this instance is the government which is also the representative of the lenders (that is, the people).

You have, therefore, in this dual role a conflict of interest; namely, the borrower is actually helping himself to the buying power that belongs to the lenders individually.

In some cases of government borrowing, the lender has a choice as to whether he deems it prudent to lend. An example of this kind is when you buy a government bond.

But in other cases the government takes your buying power whether or not you choose to lend. An example of this kind of transaction is when the government obtains notes or credits from banks by trading government "securities" to the banks. The "securities," it should be mentioned — unlike a mortgage on a house or farm, as in individual borrowing — are simply sheets of paper (bonds) that have no reference to anything of commercial value.

Since bank notes, or more precisely Federal Reserve Bank notes, are used by the population in place of money, the effect of government borrowing in this manner is simply to increase the number of dollars that are in circulation.

Like anything else, when the dollar supply increases, the buying power of each individual dollar is decreased. Then each dollar buys less. This is the process known as inflation. It takes buying power out of the worker's paycheck and out of the widow's pension.

Because the inflation process is very technical, the lenders by and large do not know what has taken place. They feel the economic pinch. Emotions run high. Strikes and demonstrations follow, and ultimately the narrow. There are two ways you could explain this parallelism in growth rates. Either receipts place a limitation (although a loose one) on spending, or spending requirements determine tax policy and hence the level of revenues.

The probable truth is that cause and effect run both ways. The policy lesson is that we should plan ahead to control federal spending and to distribute the revenue gains from economic growth to our citizens in the form of tax reduction. A determination to control expenditures helps make tax cuts feasible. A will to reduce the tax burden strengthens the forces making for economy.

TO THE EDITOR: I think the main thing that Goldwater is unhappy about with our Social Security program is this: Will the value of the dollar be the same when a person receives Social Security as it is right now when it is being paid? If your income in 1946 was a $5,000, and if your income in 1964 is $5,900, you have a 60 percent decrease in buying power. In other words for a $5,000 salary in 1946 it would take $7,990 to compare with it now.

If you are paying social security now with hard earned dollars and you receive social security with inflated dollars that will buy less, you are losing money.

Barry Goldwater wants to curb much of this unnecessary spending in our government which is undermining our dollar. He wants to keep our dollar steady. He doesn't want you and me to pay 1964 dollars, and collect inflated dollars in the future which would deteriorate our savings from social security when we retire. If the present trend in inflation is continued, every dollar that we save in social security or in most other investments might be worth about 30 cents in 20 years.

National Outlook

By GEORGE HAGEDORN The federal budget deficit for the fiscal year ended last June 30 — $8.3 billion — turns out to be less than had previously been predicted. This is some satisfaction but it is still a deficit and a substantial one. It reminds us that the federal government has operated in the red in all but 3 of the past 10 fiscal years.

That is simply to say that spending has exceeded receipts most of the time. Yet, if one looks at a chart that shows both the growth in expenditures and the growth in revenues, one is struck by the remarkable parallelism of the two lines. The two seem to grow at about the same rate, although the spending total stays ahead fairly consistently.

Depends on Base As everyone who works with statistics knows, you can prove what you want by judicious selection of the base year. If we pick fiscal 1959 as a starting point we can show that receipts have increased faster than spending. Between that year and fiscal 1964 receipts have grown by $22 billion and spending by $17 billion.

If we start from fiscal 1960 the reverse appears true — receipts increased by $12 billion whereas spending expanded $21 billion. In order to eliminate the peculiarities of single years let's compare averages of two five-year periods. We find that average revenue for the period 1960-64 was $16 billion higher than for the average of 1955-59. Similarly, average expenditures were $17 billion higher. This is about as close to a match as you could hope to get.

Parallel in Rates This recalls the story of the little boy who is surprised to discover that, as time passes, his older brother always remains older than he, and by the same number of years. Federal spending tends to grow at about the same rate as federal receipts and thus the gap between them doesn't seem to narrow.

Coin Collection Stolen in Ohio

WARREN, Ohio (UPI)—The theft of a two-ton coin collection valued at $250,000 from an exterminator firm was discovered Monday.

Police said burglars used sledge hammers and cutting torches to gain entrance to the Berk Exterminating Co. sometime during the weekend. The coins belonged to the firm's owner, Harold Berk.

Berk said he had been collecting coins for 35 years. He told officers the burglars made off with 16,000 silver dollars, a 1794 U.S. dollar valued at $5,500, and an 1856 eagle penny valued at $2,500.

The burglars smashed their way through the cellar walls of two adjoining stores and the floor of the Berk office, then used torches to cut into a wall safe to get the coins.

Apparently the coins were then loaded into a truck at the rear of the firm.

Officers found two sledge hammers, two acetylene gas tanks and a .38 caliber revolver at the scene. One of the gas tanks was empty.

Berk said he had been dealing in coins for the past 10 years, although he had been collecting for much longer than that.

He told investigators the burglars left $12,000 worth of proof sets behind.

Convention 'Fever' Sweeps Boardwalk at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—This is the hometown of Ventnor Avenue, Park Place and the Boardwalk—but President Johnson already has won the game of Monopoly.

Signs on the outskirts proclaim: "Welcome President Lyndon B. Johnson and the Democratic National Convention."

Signs on the boardwalk, where the action is, scream out: "The Ranchhouse—a bit of old West on the Boardwalk"; James' "cut-to-fit-the-mouth" salt water taffee; and "the tastiest sandwich in America."

But it is also on the Boardwalk where the tens of thousands of tourists now packing this Atlantic Ocean resort city can buy their "LBJ button" and 10-gallon plastic hats emblazoned with "All the way with LBJ."

And it is also on the Boardwalk where, if so inclined, they can buy the game of Monopoly, perhaps coming all the way from Marvin Garden (a yellow square, as against the blue of Park Place) to do so.

A sign at the front of the gargantuan Convention Hall on the Boardwalk says that the Democrats will meet here starting a week from today to select their presidential candidate. This is a town where tourists can't tell a convention without a scorecard—there will be 502 such meetings here this year—and so far the Democrats are causing no excitement.

Sunday an airplane flew above the seafloor trailing a banner saying: "Put a decency plank in the platform." A little boy in red swimming suit gazed aloft from the sandy beach and asked his mother: "What platform?"

That, of course, is part of the trouble now. The Democratic Platform Committee is meeting in Washington, not here, and there are few visible signs of political activity.

Tomorrow's Leaders Aided by United Fund

(Editor's note—This is the third in a series of articles on participating agencies of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund. The stories are accounts of functions or instances, written by the head of each agency, whereby the money donated to the agency through the United Fund has been put to use. The stories will appear every other day in the News.)

By John Brewer

Yes, the future is indeed in the hands of today's Scouts who will become tomorrow's leaders. But the shape of that future depends a great deal on us too... on the things we do to support the Scouting program and to provide the means for it to grow and serve the needs of an expanding population.

The number of boys of Scout increases each year. In 1963, for example, the number was just about double that of 1953. The Adobe Walls Council serves the Scouting communities in a 15-county area located in the panhandles of Texas and Oklahoma, and it is through the increased efforts of the many volunteers—men and women who give of their valuable time and resources—that over 40 per cent of the available boys in the Pampa and Lefors area have an opportunity to share in this great experience.

The cornerstones of the Scouting program hinge on character building, physical fitness, self reliance, and the many skills of Scouting in which boys receive training in preparing them to be better citizens.

It has been said that if you take the "outing" out of Scouting, it has lost three-fourths of its meaning.

Men like those represented above provide the opportunities for boys to receive training in water safety, camping skills, first aid, the ability to get along with others, and the opportunity to explore the over one hundred ten vocational areas represented by the merit badges. Out of these fields of exploration, boys may find a vocation they would like to make their life's work. These same men who serve as leaders give on the average of 350 hours a year in serving the youth of this community.

Lefors United Fund will provide more opportunities for our boys to experience the Scouting program.

Luci Baines Offered Role in Hope Movie

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Luci Baines Johnson, the President's teen-age daughter, has been offered a role in the new Bob Hope comedy, "I'll Take Sweden." Fred De Cordova, the movie's director, said.

De Cordova saw Miss Johnson dancing the "Watusi" with actor Steve McQueen at a barbecue last Saturday boosting her father's election.

If she accepts, she'll be doing the same dance in a film sequence where a group of teenagers toss a party at Hope's home. De Cordova said.
