The Laetrile Story

(Editor's Note: This series is a result of six months of intensive investigation. In this report neither the writers nor this newspaper make any claims for Laetrile as a cancer drug. This is a report of the claims by both sides in a controversy that has quietly smoldered for more than 10 years. The News considers it important enough to be brought into the open for the first time in a documented newspaper series. Technical and medical questions should be directed to The McNaughton Foundation, 2015 Drummond Street, Montreal, Canada, to medical associations and to local chapters of The American Cancer Society.)

PART IV - THE CLAIMS FOR LAETRILE

BY: JIM DEAN and FRANK M. RTINEZ
(Copyright 1964 - Freedom Newspapers, Inc.)

Claims for the effectiveness of Laetrile have been increasing since 1953, mostly to "proper channels" of medical papers.

But the lay public got a first person report in a court hearing in Montreal, Canada in June, 1964.

In this case The McNaughton Foundation sought a permanent court order to prevent the Canadian Food and Drug Directorate from interfering with the foundation's Laetrile work in Canada.

The court ruled against the foundation because the foundation had not complied with requirements to secure government clearance for the drug.

The effectiveness of the drug was not at issue, but testimony along these lines was permitted.

One of the physicians testifying for Laetrile was Dr. N. R. Bouziane, who told the court he began experimental use of Laetrile on "terminal" cancer patients in April, 1961 at St. Jeanne D'Arc Hospital where he is director of general and research laboratories. Dr. Bouziane is also on the hospital's tumor board in charge of chemotherapy.

He testified on some of the results obtained with Laetrile, stating first that "We always have a diagnosis based on histology, (detailed and microscopic analysis of tissue). We have never undertaken a case without histological proof of cancer," he said.

The doctor testified that in the first case in which Laetrile was used, (a cancer tumor of the thigh) decrease in pain was effected after 10 grams of Laetrile had been injected into the patient's veins.

"At 30 grams, the patient had regained health, his blood picture improved and his general condition was improved. The cancer in the thigh remained but diminished in volume. The part that remained was a crater surrounded by sclerosis (hardening of tissue). The patient was so improved that he was able to leave the hospital discharged, and his daughter, a graduate nurse, accompanied him, took care of him during his convalescence while still continuing treatment at home."

"This case, he testified, had become so terminal that "neither surgery or radiation or any known conventional therapy could be of benefit. Then and only then Laetrile was given."

After the patient was discharged, Dr. Bouziane testified:

"At this moment, an error was committed."

"We had been taught that when the (urine) test became negative, the cancer cells were all destroyed and treatment could be stopped."

"That is why we stopped the treatment when we should not have done so."

"After a few months, the patient experienced a relapse and was again put on Laetrile. I consulted my colleagues and my committee and it was agreed to have Krebs (Ernest T. Krebs Jr., developer of Laetrile - ed.) come and discuss this case and the whole matter with us."

"It was at that time that Krebs learned from our experience that treatment with Laetrile should not stop completely and that it was more logical according to the trophoblastic thesis to continue treatment in a maintenance dosage when a remission was obtained."

Dr. Bouziane testified that the patient survived "many months." But he said they had been unable to overcome the scar barrier which had developed around the initial cancer. He said the patient died from other causes.

(Editor's Note: Records show the cause of death for this patient was nephritis, a kidney ailment.)

In general description of the effects of Laetrile, Dr. Bouziane testified that "in most cases, if not in all, pain diminishes and very often disappears. Those patients who are under narcotics, morphine because there is no other therapy left for them, experience with Laetrile no further need for morphine or at most a very small quantity."

Dr. Bouziane testified that he experienced poor results with leukemia and in those cases in which cancer involved the brain. (Editor's Note: According to Krebs, brain tissue does not contain the enzyme Beta-Glucosidase which triggers the release of cyanide.) But he testified concerning a breast cancer patient.

"The patient was operated on for cancer of the breast. Surgery could do no more. There was a relapse as in most cases. There were metastases (spreading of cancer tissue) to the lung."

"Radiotherapy was then administered by an international authority on radiation. A more than full dose was given, and if my memory is faithful, around eleven thousand roentgens. Again, the patient experienced a relapse with pleural effusion (a flow of liquid from the lung area). Cancer cells were then detected in the effusion."

"Nothing more could be done and the patient was moribund (near death)."

Dr. Bouziane then said he was consulted about Laetrile therapy and the injections were begun.

"The effusion dried up. She started improving, got out of bed and became a nuisance to the other patients."

"She was discharged from the hospital. Our lesson learned with our first patient was applied here by giving a maintenance dosage. As we could not find anyone to give the injection at the domicile of the patient, a religious order took charge of the matter and injections were given several times a week. The patient is still alive."

He then testified that there are many such cases, but that there are some cases to the contrary.

He then mentioned leukemia and brain cancer.

"In our hands, on these two tissues, Laetrile was ineffective. This does not mean, however, that the Laetrile molecule has not limitless potentialities. Laetrile has an advantage of non-toxicity; there is room for improvement, work could be done on the drug itself, on the modes of administration and I believe we can reach a point where Laetrile will have an all over advantage over our conventional therapies."

Dr. Bouziane stated that his hospital had many cases that were so terminal that the basic dose of 30 grams was not even given.

"We have established as basis for therapy 30 grams during 10 days or one gram daily during 30 days before any significant effect becomes apparent."

"Many cases, therefore, were so terminal that they died before even receiving one to three grams."

"What generally happens is this. The patients in despair and the doctors in despair after having done everything they can, ask us to try Laetrile. This is not fair nor honest. We cannot make miracles nor resurrections with (See LAETRILE, Page 3)

Youths Held in Alleged Threat On Life of LBJ

Denver Pair Arrested; Hearing Set for Teen-ager in Arizona

DENVER (UPI) — The Secret Service said today that two Wyoming teen-agers were arrested Sunday night for allegedly threatening to kill President Johnson, who is scheduled to campaign in Casper, Wyo., this afternoon.

Rolland Osborne, special agent in charge of the Secret Service in Wyoming and Colorado and based in Denver, said that the boys, 16 and 17, were arrested in Casper. He said bond of $25,000 each was set at a preliminary hearing.

"They were charged in a complaint with having made a threat to kill the President," Osborne said.

"There was a threat made in Casper yesterday," Osborne said. "It came to our attention. The circumstances were verified. The law against making threats against the President leaves no choice."

The names of the boys were not immediately known. The maximum penalty for making threats against the life of the President is five years in prison or a fine of $1,000, or both.

Osborne refused to reveal details of the threat.

High Court to Hear Sergeant's Vote Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed today to hear the complaint of an Army sergeant living in El Paso that Texas is unconstitutionally depriving him of his right to vote.

The court will hear arguments on the case some time next fall or winter and decide it later by written opinion.

The Texas Supreme Court rejected his complaint 7 to 2 on April 29, 1964. Sgt. Herbert N. Carrington is stationed at White Sands, N.M. He had asked the U.S. Supreme Court to act quickly so that he could vote in the June 6 Republican run-off primary to select the candidate for U.S. senator. The court refused his request on May 25.

The Texas constitution provides that members of the armed forces may vote only in the county where they were living when they entered the service. This section would allow voting by Texas servicemen otherwise qualified but Carrington joined the service as a resident of Alabama.

On this basis, he cannot vote in Texas, although he has paid his poll tax and established a legal residence there. By doing so, he lost his voting privilege in Alabama.

Carrington told the Supreme Court that so far as he can discover Texas is the only state which denies voting privileges to a legal resident solely because he is a serviceman.

He claimed the policy denies him the "equal protection of the laws" guaranteed in the constitution.

'Trial' of Colonel Threatened by Reds

CARACAS (UPI) — An anonymous letter purporting to come from the Communist captors of Lt. Col. Michael Smolen said Sunday night the kidnaped U.S. Air Force officer will be "tried by a revolutionary action court."

The letter made no mention of an earlier anonymous threat to kill Smolen if the government of South Viet Nam executes Nguyen Van Trol, a Red terrorist caught trying to bomb Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

It did, however, refer to the kidnaping of Smolen and the threatened "trial" as phases of "operation Vieg Cong" — the name used by the Communists in South Viet Nam.

The letter said the Reds propose to "try" Smolen because of "shameless U.S. interference in Venezuelan politics."

The letter was sent to newspapers, radio stations and the bureaus of foreign news agencies. Copies were left near the offices of the intended recipients, who were then told by telephone where to look for them.

The anonymous telephone caller also told newsmen "the Yankee has been transferred from zone 1 to zone 2." The meaning of this statement was obscure.

Earlier, Interior (police) Minister Gonzalo Barrios had told a press conference that the authorities are in possession of unspecified clues which "may soon result in Col. Smolen's rescue."

Barrios said the police suspect that Smolen is being held "in a residence near his home."

Official Asks Oil Laws to Prevent Federal Control

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Texas Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon told members of the Southern Governors Conference today that strong state conservation laws are needed to prevent federal control of the oil industry.

Langdon, who was appointed to the commission last year by Gov. John Connally, spoke before a session of conservation of natural resources.

He noted that the very existence of the oil and gas industry as a vital force in this county depends upon the economic and political climate in which it must operate.

"This can be provided only by sound conservation laws administered by state government on a local level," he said.

Langdon pointed out that petroleum is by far the most valuable asset in the southern states. Then he emphasized that the industry in this country "is faced with some serious problems."

"Lower prices, increased costs and foreign oil imports have placed many companies and independent producers in a real cost-price squeeze," he said.

Federal restrictions on oil imports, he added, "are fast losing their reasonableness."

"In my opinion, imports should be held to their present rate for the next few years to give the domestic oil industry a better chance to expand, and at the same time, solve some of the problems confronting it."

300 Soldiers Die In Big Viet Fight

SAIGON (UPI) — More than 300 soldiers have been killed or wounded in 24 hours of savage combat in South Viet Nam, military spokesmen reported today. The casualties included two Americans killed and one injured.

Two American military advisers — an officer and an enlisted man — were killed along with a Vietnamese battalion commander when their jeep was shattered by a mine.

A U. S. military spokesman said the men in the jeep were deliberate targets of the Communist Viet Cong. He said the mine was electrically detonated by a terrorist hiding by the road.

As the peak battle period closed early today, a U.S. Marine Corps officer was slightly injured in a helicopter crash 330 miles northeast of Saigon. The crash was blamed on mechanical failure.

Attendants at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo said this noon the condition of Albert E. Branscum of Pampa still remained critical.

Branscum, accused in the slaying of his 29-year-old wife, Glenna Fay, last Thursday, is suffering from two gunshot wounds in the head.

It was stated that Branscum's condition has been so critical that doctors have not yet been able to attempt surgery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Branscum were held Saturday. Branscum was taken to the Amarillo hospital after undergoing emergency treatment in Pampa on the day of the shooting.

Pampa officers charged that Branscum turned the gun on himself after shooting his wife to death.

Johnson to Ride In Rebuilt Car Used by Kennedy

DENVER (UPI) — Officials said President Johnson would use the presidential limousine in which President Kennedy was assassinated for his motorcade today in Denver.

The specially built car — a 1961 Lincoln Continental weighing more than five tons — was flown to Stapleton Field today in a C132 Air Force cargo plane.

It was to be used earlier in the day at Reno.

It has been rebuilt, heavily armored and given a new permanent "bubbletop" with bullet-proof glass since last Nov. 22 when President Kennedy was assassinated at Dallas.

President Johnson first used the car last Monday.

Scientist, Doctor in Spaceship

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia today launched the first passenger-carrying space ship.

A pilot and two passengers — a scientist and a doctor — were aboard the craft launched at 3:30 a.m. EDT. Moscow television said the space ship "Voskhod" (Sunrise) had gone into orbit and was operating smoothly.

The launching of the first space craft to carry more than one person came 3½ years after the Russians sent up Yuri Gagarin as the first man in space. The American two-man "Gemini" space shot is not expected until February at the earliest. The first three-man U.S. spaceship probably will not be launched for at least two years.

Soon after the start of Voskhod's flight, which was expected to last at least 24 hours, the Soviets hinted at an even more spectacular space feat. The official Soviet News Agency Tass quoted a visiting French space scientist as saying that one or two of the three Russians now in orbit may venture outside the space craft during the flight.

May Leave Ship
Tass said it had interviewed Jean Coulobme, chairman of France's National Center for Space Research, in Leningrad and quoted him as saying: "The fact that there are three spacecraft in one ship will enable one or two of them to venture outside the ship."

Voskhod was orbiting the earth every 90.1 minutes on a path taking it as far as 255.6 miles from the earth and as near as 112.5 miles.

The pilot and flight commander is Col. Vladimir M. Komarov, 37, whose hobby is strumming the guitar and singing folk music.

The engineering scientist is Konstantin Feoktistov, 38, who, according to Tass, is not a Communist.

The doctor is Boris Yegorov, 27, who became a physician only three years ago.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev talked to the space ship by radio and promised the men an overwhelming welcome when they return to earth. The Soviet television carried the first transmission from aboard Voskhod.

The flight was man's 13th journey into space.

The Russians did not give shape, the weight or dimensions of the new spaceship.

Russians Cheer
Red Square filled up with Russians screaming, shouting and tossing objects into the air. Placards were quickly produced reading, "glory to the Soviet astronauts."

Insecticide Choice Is Highly Important

What you are about to read is important to you, to your children, and to your pets. . . therefore you should read it carefully.

Authorities recommend highest selectivity in the choice of insecticides for the home. For obvious reasons, you should use only thoroughly tested, highly recommended insect killers.

Johnston's No - Roach meets the most exact specifications. No-Roach kills bugs, but is safe to use around children and pets. Further, tests have shown that the colorless coating left by brushing on Johnston's No-Roach is effective for months.

No-Roach is better, and more effective because:

1. You can brush No - Roach just where you want it. There's no need to move dishes or food when you apply No-Roach in cabinets, near the sink, and on baseboards.
2. No-Roach coating is colorless and odorless. Neighbors need not know that you are fighting insects in your home.
3. No-Roach lasts for months. The coating kills off the current infestation, and stays effective to kill the strays that wander in from the neighbors to set up a new nest.

Remember, you get what you pay for, and you buy the very highest built-in quality and safety when you buy Johnston's No-Roach.

In short, No-Roach is (a) very effective, (b) odorless, (c) colorless, (d) harmless to pets — it's a pleasure to use.

The discriminating housewife who tries it will find her confidence justified by its performance.

No - Roach is available at Wards, Ideal's, Furr's and all grocery stores. Distributed by Panhandle, Kimbell.

Dr. Pepper's Sales Indicate Increase

Dr. Pepper Company reports national sales for September at a new all-time high with an increase of better than 17 per cent over the same month last year.

The increase boosted cumulative gains for the nine - month period ending Sept. 30 — 13 per cent above the same period in 1963 — a record year for the company.

The new high for September is the 41st consecutive month in which Dr. Pepper national sales have exceeded the same month in the previous year.

Four Cases Set For City Court

Four cases have been set on the docket in Pampa's Corporation Court tomorrow.

According to City Judge John Warner, three of the cases involved traffic citations and one on a charge of drunkenness. The trials are scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m.

Warner also said this morning that the court has adopted a new method of subpoenaing jurors for the trials.

"In the past we have verbally subpoenaed jurors," Warner said, "however under the new method we will have an officer hand them an official written subpoena."

Warner also reminded residents that it is a violation of the law to ignore a Corporation Court subpoena.

Active Car Thief Keeps Police Busy

A 1956 model Cadillac reported stolen late Saturday night was recovered yesterday morning in a ditch, three miles east of White Deer.

Ben Ogden, 1608 Christine, called police at 11 p.m. Saturday and reported the theft of his car. Found near the Ogden residence was a 1951 Chevrolet, stolen earlier Saturday.

Police said the thief apparently abandoned the Chevrolet near Ogden's house and took his car. Sunday morning White Deer authorities reported the theft of a late model automobile. Apparently the thief stole the car in White Deer after he abandoned Ogden's car when it ran out of gas.

The car was not damaged, but police said an electric shaver was taken from the glove compartment.

Laetrile

cases where the basic dosage cannot be given."

Dr. Bouziane is 57. He graduated magna cum laude in medicine from the University of Montreal. He also received a doctorate in science from the University of Montreal and St. Joseph's University, an affiliate of Oxford University in New Brunswick.

He is a Fellow in chemistry and a Fellow in hematology and is certified in clinical bacteriology, hematology and bio-chemistry from the college.

He is also the Dean of the American Association of Bioanalysts.

St. Jeanne D'Arc in Montreal is a 466-bed general hospital. It has full accreditation from the Canadian Council on Accreditation and is affiliated with the faculty of medicine at the University of Montreal.

Besides Dr. Bouziane, Laetrile's proponents include Dr. Manuel D. Navarro, associate professor, faculty of Medicine and Surgery, University of Santo Tomas, Manila, Philippines.

Dr. Navarro has been one of the most prolific writers of medical papers on Laetrile therapy. His papers have been published in the Philippine Journal of Cancer and read before the International Cancer Congress.

An American physician, the late Dr. John A. Morrone, wrote a paper published in Experimental Medicine and Surgery, Vol. 20, pages 299-308 in December 1952. The paper describes effective results in 10 cases of inoperable cancer. Dr. Morrone was attending surgeon at the Jersey City Medical Center in Jersey City, N. J. He died in March, 1964.

Another proponent is Dr. Ettore Guidetti of the University of Turin, Italy, whose paper was read at the sixth International Cancer Congress in Sao Paulo, July, 1964.

Andrew R. L. McNaughton, whose McNaughton Foundation directs the international work with Laetrile, says there are hundreds of cases in which cancer victims have benefited from Laetrile therapy.

"We understand that not all our reports meet the detailed requirements America's orthodox medical authorities demand, but we believe we have shown enough proof of Laetrile's effectiveness that it deserves a proper, unbiased evaluation. That's all we ask."

The evidence submitted by the Beardians includes the 26 medical papers written by scientists who reported from first-hand clinical experience with Laetrile. All the papers were written after the 1953 report published in California Medicine had decreed the drug was without merit in the treatment of human cancer.

Residents Warned on Litter

Pampa residents were again urged today to obey the city's anti-littering ordinance.

Corporation Court Judge John Warner cited four cases today that have been filed under the ordinance in the past two-weeks with the accused paying fines ranging from $5 to $50.

Recently, Police Chief Jim Comer announced a crackdown on violators of the ordinance and urged residents to refrain from throwing paper or refuse on public streets.

The ordinance, enacted in 1928, specifies that it is unlawful for a person to place paper or other refuse in such a manner as to allow it to travel onto public streets.

Pampa Sparked By Wild Victory

"Wasn't that an exciting finish?" glowed Pampa coach Otis Holladay after the Pampa Harvesters had taken a 24-7 lead over Caprock, only to have Caprock take the lead with 43 seconds to go, 25-24, then to have Phil Smith fire a touchdown pass to Red Griffith and give Pampa a fantastic 30-25 win with 24 seconds left in the game.

"We were glad to win, believe me," summarized Holladay. "I think we let down a little bit in the third quarter, our defense slacked off. I guess it was a bit of overconfidence, with a 24-7 lead the kids kinda relaxed."

"We had a hard time coming back, but we did, and that's what counts." Holladay explained that the pass thrown to Griffith for the marbles was a planned play. "Red was the short man and Terry Criss was the deep man. Of course Phil was looking for the long man, but Caprock had him completely covered, so he threw to Red. Criss then threw the key block to spring Griffith the rest of the way."

behind win over Lubbock last year? I don't know, it may do it... anyway, I believe they'll play to win some more. Monterey is tough, but if we play like we did the first half Friday night, we can win it."

US Cagers May Lose Olympics

TOKYO (UPI) — Don Scholander of Lake Oswego, Ore., won the first gold medal for the United States in the 1964 Olympic Games tonight when he captured the 100-meter freestyle swim in record time. Sandra Kolb of Santa Clara, Calif., earned a silver medal in the women's 200-meter breaststroke.

The United States picked up events on the second full day of competition as Isaac Berger of York, Pa., broke a world record while finishing second in the featherweight class of weightlifting. Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara, Calif., was second in the women's 200-meter breaststroke, and Jeanne Collier of Phoenix, Ariz., and Patsy Willard of Mesa, Ariz., placed second and third in the women's springboard diving.

In addition, Jed Graef of Verona, N.J., and Gary Dilley of Huntington, Ind., each shattered the previous Olympic record in advancing to the finals of the 200-meter backstroke along with Bob Bennett of Long Beach, Calif., Sharon Stouder of Glendora, Calif., and Kathy Ellis of Indianapolis, Ind., qualified for the finals of the 100-meter freestyle.

The U.S. basketball team was somewhat disappointing and had to overcome a shaky first half before routing Finland 77-51. This led Coach Hank Iba to warn that the Americans possibly could lose the championship. It was the second straight victory for the United States.

Other notable U.S. gains were made in rowing, where Seymour Cromwell of New York and Jim Storm of San Diego, Calif., advanced to the finals of the double sculls and in wrestling, where Gregory Ruth advanced impressively in the lightweight division.

Started Slowly
The U.S. was slow starting in its basketball game and the inexperienced Finns jumped off to an 8-2 lead. Despite several moments of sloppy play, the Americans managed to take a 35-27 edge at half-time.

It was much easier in the second half as the Yanks opened with 11 straight points to take a comfortable 46-27 advantage and go on to their 40th straight victory without a loss in Olympic competition.

Jerry Ship of the Phillips Oilers led the U.S. scowlers with 18 points and Joe Caldwell of Arizona State added 16.

Elsewhere this week, Texas Tech packs its 2-1 league record to Waco for a go at Baylor (0-1) in a night game the Raiders hope will keep them within striking distance of the top should disaster overtake Texas and Arkansas: Texas Christian (0-2) meets Texas A&M (0-1) in a day game at College Station and Rice and Southern Methodist open their league play against each other under the lights at Dallas.

Coach Frank Broyles' maturing Hogs made sure of that with an impressive 17-6 manhandling of Baylor last Saturday night at Little Rock a few hours after Coach Darrell Royal's Steer stampede had met a great Oklahoma challenge in Dallas and stormed to a fast-finishing 28-7 win.

From a survey of play to date, the winner of the Arkansas-Texas tilt should shuffle off to the championship with only Arkansas' season windup game with Tech looming as a real threat to either one.

A maniacal Oklahoma defense thwarted Texas for nearly three periods last Saturday, but in the end it was the Texas defense that helped turn the tide with four Oklahoma fumbles and one interception figuring in the three-touchdown second half explosion that provided Texas with its 15th consecutive victory and its seventh in a row over Oklahoma.

Cards Confident As Series Even

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I like our chances now better than I did when the series opened." And with that confident remark, Manager Johnny Keane of the St. Louis Cardinals sent out his favorite clutch pitcher—right-handed fastballer Bob Gibson—in an effort to grab the lead in the fifth game of the World Series against the New York Yankees today.

SWC Roundup

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer
Another alert, aggressive and extremely agile Arkansas team moves down out of the Ozarks next Saturday night to challenge mighty Texas' No. 1 national ranking and make a bid for the inside track on the run for a Southwest Conference football title.

The Razorbacks, a bundle of question marks in all pre-season forecasts, have answered those queries so thoroughly that they now must command serious respect as a worthy challenger to the Texas dynasty.

Both the Longhorns, riding the crest of a 15-game winning streak, and the Razorbacks will be among the dwindling ranks of major unbeaten, untied teams when they collide at Austin next Saturday night in the feature attraction of an all-league schedule.

Hogs Mangle Baylor
Coach Frank Broyles' maturing Hogs made sure of that with an impressive 17-6 manhandling of Baylor last Saturday night at Little Rock a few hours after Coach Darrell Royal's Steer stampede had met a great Oklahoma challenge in Dallas and stormed to a fast-finishing 28-7 win.

Chalk up one triumph for the Denver Broncos new coach. The Broncos got their new coach only last week—Mac Speedie, and Sunday, in their first game under the guidance of the former Cleveland Brown pass-catching ace, the Broncos went out and snapped a 13-game losing streak.

The victims of Denver's newfound enthusiasm were the Kansas City Chiefs and the 33-27 defeat dropped them into a first-place tie with San Diego in the Western Division of the American Football League.

Speedie, who replaced Jack Faulkner last Monday, was given a rousing ovation by the Denver fans at the half and again at the end of the game.

Leading the attack for the Broncos was Jackie Lee who threw three touchdown passes, two of them in the third quarter when Denver surged ahead to stay.

In the only other AFL game Sunday, the high-riding Buffalo Bills—the league's only undefeated team—trounced Houston, 48-17, for their fifth straight victory. In a game Saturday night, the New York Jets handed the Oakland Raiders their fifth loss in a row, 35-13.

Buffalo quarterback Jack Kemp had himself a field day against Houston, connecting on touchdown passes of 9, 19 and 94 yards and set up two other 45 yards.

A victory for the dead game Cardinals would give them a terrific edge on their home grounds when the series returns to St. Louis for game No. 6 on Wednesday.

For the Yankees, with the series all square at 2-2 as a result of Ken Boyer's grand slam home run for a 4-3 Cardinal triumph Sunday, it was rookie pitcher Mel Stottlemyre who bested Gibson in the second game at tiny Busch Stadium last Thursday.

Face Different Team
But this time it was a different sort of Cardinal team facing the 22-year-old righthander who has been a Yankee only since Aug. 11 when he rushed to the rescue from Richmond to shore up New York's sagging pennant hopes with a 9-3 record down the pressurized stretch.

The Cardinals, says Keane, know something now they only hoped for when the series opened at St. Louis last Wednesday.

"They've proved in four games they're as tough and resilient as the vastly more experienced Yankees, who are competing in their fifth straight World Series with a 'strictly business' attitude."

Only minutes after blowing Sunday's fourth game, many of the top Yanks were relaxing in front of a television set watching New York's football Giants against the Dallas Cowboys.

"Coming back the way we did does something for a club," said Keane. "And it shows we're even in every game. Those so-called odds just don't mean a thing."

Odds on today's game showed the Yankees favored at 17-10 and 2-1 to win the series. Keane shrugged that off, too.

The Cardinals actually made two comebacks Sunday—one to overcome a three-run Yankee lead achieved in the first inning and another to even the series at two games each.

Stottlemyre learns quickly and one of the things he has learned in his brief career as a Yankee is to take things in stride.

"I'll be more relaxed today than I was at St. Louis," said the lean young rookie. "And I know this park better. I don't have to worry about that St. Louis infield."

Young Mel referred to the condition of the hard-baked surface at Busch Stadium that, according to the Yankees, afforded some daffy bounces.

High On Chances
But Keane was high on his chances with Gibson coming back.

"He has been our man all along for the big game," said Keane of his hard thrower who piled up a 19-12 record during the National League season.

"We like him in the tough ones." No matter who wins today, the 1964 World Series returns Wednesday to the ball yard where it all started—Busch Stadium in St. Louis.

And right now the Yankees are hurting. Manager Yogi Berra still doesn't know whether he'll get another pitching effort from his ace—Whitey Ford, Ford has aggravated a bruised heel.

"It's strictly day-to-day with Whitey," says Yogi, who knows full well the days soon will be running out.

Unbeaten Troubled In AAAA

By United Press International
Galena Park's third-ranked Yellow Jackets bump into La Marque's undefeated-untied Tigers in a crucial district game that highlights this week's Texas schoolboy football schedule.

The slate is packed almost solid with district activity, but this 12-AAAA game is the only one matching perfect record teams in the top division of the prep ranks.

In AAA, San Marcos' seventh-ranked Rattlers will be in such a predicament for the second week in a row when they host Cuero's Gobblers in a crucial 14-AAA tie. The Rattlers battled Gonzales to a 7-7 deadlock last week in a meeting of unbeaten teams.

The state's unbeaten list has potential trouble in many spots this week as the teams start digging in earnest into league play.

Top-ranked Garland of AAAA apparently won't be among them, however, since the Owls play twice-beaten Carrollton. Neches plays Beaumont South Park, eighth-ranked Pasadena High meets Brazosport, second-ranked Victoria plays Corpus Christi Ray, Kingsville meets Corpus Christi Miller and Austin S.F. Austin plays Austin Travis in AAAA games that could post threats to unbeaten records.

In AAA, top-ranked Dumas could be in for trouble against Lawton, Okla., while sixth-ranked Andrews plays once-beaten Beaumont Forest Park. Clear Creek plays Houston St. Thomas, Gonzales meets San Antonio Sam Houston and Conroe plays Cypress-Fairbanks in potential troublemakers.

Colt-Card Grid Contest Tonight

By GARY P. GATES
United Press International
In recent seasons, when the Green Bay Packers were flying high and mighty over the rest of the National Football League, Coach Vince Lombardi would hardly be delighted by a hard-fought victory over the San Francisco Forty-Niners.

But things are different in the NFL this season. The halcyon word echoing around the league is "balance" and even Green Bay's crusty war lord has become reconciled to the scandalous notion that one team is just about as good as any other.

Even Sunday's 24-14 victory over San Francisco only gave Green Bay's pre-season title favorites a 3-2 record, but in the dressing room after the game, Lombardi seemed to be in a cheerful mood.

"We played good football today," he said with a grin. "We've played good all season. I said before the season that 10-4 might win in the Western Division this year and it looks like, 9-5 might do it now."

Colts Aren't Informed
Maybe Lombardi's crystal ball is accurate, but if so, someone should tell the Baltimore Colts.

The Colts, leaders in the West with a 3-1 record, meet the unbeaten St. Louis Cardinals, pace-setters in the Eastern Division, tonight at Baltimore.

These are two clubs who thus far haven't swallowed the "balance" theory, but tonight's game shapes up as a close, anyone-can-win battle. Much of the attention will be on Colt quarterback Johnny Unitas whose 10 touchdown passes in the first four games have rekindled memories of the Unitas who directed Baltimore to world championships five years ago.

In other NFL games Sunday, the defending champion Chicago Bears snapped a two-game losing streak with a 38-7 triumph over the Los Angeles Rams, the Detroit Lions defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 24-20, the Washington Redskins turned back the Philadelphia Eagles, 35-20, and the New York Giants and Dallas Cowboys battled to a 13-13 tie in a Saturday night game, the Pittsburgh Steelers would hardly be delighted by their first defeat of the season, 23-7.

Pull Out Win
The Packers trailed San Francisco, 14-10 going into the final quarter before they came alive for two touchdowns to pull it out.

Quarterback Billy Wade fired four touchdown passes in Chicago's victory and the Bears' vaunted pass defense pitched in with five interceptions.

A 12-yard touchdown pass from Earl Morrill to Gail Cogdill in the fourth quarter was the deciding factor for the Lions.

Sonny Jurgenson hurled five touchdown passes against his old Philadelphia teammates to lead the Redskins to their first triumph of the season.

The Cowboys spotted New York a 13-3 lead but, with half-back Don Perkins leading the way, they came back with 10 points in the third quarter to tie.

J. Weldon Watson, executive director, announced the 1964-1965 Texas hunting seasons and bag limits on migratory waterfowl as authorized by the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

For duck hunting, under federal regulations, the commission had a choice of authorizing a 40 consecutive day season with a daily bag of four or a 36 day split season - bag limit four; or a 50 consecutive day season or a 45 day split season each with a reduced daily bag limit of three.

The selected regulations represent an increase of five days over last year's duck season. In addition, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's holidays as well as a maximum number of weekends, are included in the open season provided for ducks and coots.

The seasons and limits are as follows:
Ducks and Coot — Open season, Nov. 25 through Jan. 3.
Geese and Brant — Open season, Oct. 31 through Jan. 13.
Sandhill (Little Brown) Cranes — Open season, Oct. 31 through Nov. 29, in the area west of U. S. Highway 277 from its southern terminus in Del Rio, northward to its junction with U. S. Highway 87 in San Angelo; thence northwesterly along said Highway 87 to the junction with Highway 287 at Dumas; thence northwesterly following Highway 287 to the point of intersection with Texas-Oklahoma line in Dallam County. Season closed in the remainder of the State.

Bag and possession limits are as listed:
Ducks — Daily bag limit four possession limit eight. The daily bag limit may include not more than two wood ducks, two mallards, two canvasbacks or two redhead ducks or one redhead and one canvasback. The possession limit may include not more than two wood ducks, four mallards, or two canvasbacks or two redheads.

On American, redbreasted or hooded mergansers, there shall be a daily bag limit of five in the aggregate, including not more than one hooded merganser. The possession limit shall be ten (10) in the aggregate including not more than two hooded mergansers.

New Denver Coach Shines

By United Press International
Chalk up one triumph for the Denver Broncos new coach. The Broncos got their new coach only last week—Mac Speedie, and Sunday, in their first game under the guidance of the former Cleveland Brown pass-catching ace, the Broncos went out and snapped a 13-game losing streak.

The victims of Denver's newfound enthusiasm were the Kansas City Chiefs and the 33-27 defeat dropped them into a first-place tie with San Diego in the Western Division of the American Football League.

Speedie, who replaced Jack Faulkner last Monday, was given a rousing ovation by the Denver fans at the half and again at the end of the game.

Leading the attack for the Broncos was Jackie Lee who threw three touchdown passes, two of them in the third quarter when Denver surged ahead to stay.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself; no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Newspapers: Key to Freedom

National Newspaper Week 1964 finds The Press besieged in the citadel of its own integrity, with arrows through its hat labeled "right" and "left." It has been a rougher - than-usual year for a profession accustomed to taking a certain amount of lumps in the pursuit of news. Letters to the editor have been unusually tart. Reporters have been lectured and abused.

Part of this goes with the job of being all things to all men - hard news, opinion, interpretation and entertainment. News-men are pretty much resigned to the fact that not all readers will be satisfied every day by all of the many thousands of words on all manner of topics, hot or cold. They're willing to settle for most readers most days.

Some partisans in this super-charged atmosphere don't seem to recognize anything but praise for their side as fair comment. Some of the barbs addressed to newspapers show signs of coming from organized groups who have undertaken to "keep the press in line."

Now none among us claims immunity against legitimate criticism. Newspapersmen, like doctors, lawyers, certified public accountants and licensed barbers, are subject to human failure.

We don't claim to possess perfection, although we do constantly aspire to do it.

There are 1,754 newspapers in the United States with a combined daily circulation of 58,905,251.

For better or for worse, those newspapers constitute the world's finest organ of current information. Whatever the individual reader may think about the editor's political policy as expressed almost unflinchingly on his editorial page, he must concede that he is the most conscientiously informed reader on the entire globe.

It has been customary at this annual Newspaper Week to quote from Thomas Jefferson and other men of substance on the vital role of a free press in a free society.

This year we'd also like to advance testimony from the actions of the Press itself. Your newspapers bespeak your confidence and support in such ways as these:

— They constantly seek to advance professional standards through professional associations such as the American Newspaper Publishers Association, the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Sigma Delta Chi, The Texas Press Association, The Panhandle Press Association and many state and regional associations.

— They seek to improve the methods of training men and women for careers in journalism.

— They seek to recruit young people of the highest ethical and professional potential for careers in newspaper service.

But, above all, if a newspaper is to serve the best interests of its readers it should be a watchful newspaper dedicated to furnishing information so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

The pursuit of these aims is rewarding in itself. Newspapersmen ask no other reward except that you read their newspapers. For knowledge is the key to freedom and freedom is our goal.

40 Percent Won't Do

We seldom stop to think of the labor union as the most un-American organization in America. But right now, when we are being asked to name the man who will be our President and the man who will represent us in Congress, is a good time to do so.

The labor union is the only private organization in this country that can compel membership! The veterans' organization cannot do it. The fraternal organization cannot do it. The Church cannot do it. Only the labor union can do it — in those 30 states that are without the protection of a Right to Work law! In those states where there is a "union shop" operation, a non-member must join within thirty days of his hiring — or be fired from his job.

Thus, the labor overlords, the Meany's, the Reuthers, the Hoffas, the Harry Bridges and the rest have announced their determination to destroy Right to Work laws in the 20 states whose citizens now enjoy this freedom.

The means is simple and specific. All that is required is repeal of 44 words of the Taft-Hartley Act — the famous Section 14(b) which says: "Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing the execution or application of agreements requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment in any State or Territory in which such execution or application is prohibited by State or Territorial law."

These are the words that now stand between the workers of 20 states and compulsory unionism, the words that hold the promise of voluntary union membership throughout the nation and of full stature as free men for all Americans.

But they are also the words that stand in the way of Big Labor's complete control of all the jobs in American industry. Labor bosses are therefore determined to repeal this section of Federal law. Labor hopes, as Al Barkan, national director of COPE, the AFL-CIO political machine, says "to not only elect a friend in the White House, not only elect our proven friends in the Congress and in the Senate, but in addition, elect 20 to 30 new congressional friends and three or four new senatorial friends and get rid of that union-busting, union-smashing 14(b)."

The task of the rest of us, in this and every other community, is likewise simple — but not easy. We must first make sure where every candidate stands on 14(b) and Right to Work laws. And we must then work to elect those who will defend 14(b) and who will fight for the freedom of voluntary unionism.

Luck Is For Gamblers

The Senate of the United States has approved a proposed constitutional amendment providing for the replacement of an ailing or disabled president and the filling of a vacant vice presidency between elections. Details of the proposal are rather academic right now, for nothing can be done on the matter until the 89th Congress convenes next January.

New Congresses traditionally get off to slow starts. Much time is consumed in assigning newcomers to committees and in getting the elaborate machinery of the legislative branch in operation again. Much other time is plainly wasted.

But an amendment on presidential disability, whether it be the one passed by the Senate or something similar, should be in the first order of business in January, lest it be forgotten in the bill-passing crush later on. Since no partisan issues, no sectional interests and no appropriations are involved, there is no reason such an amendment cannot be drawn up early and delivered to the states for their consideration.

America has been lucky so far. No president has been seriously disabled during a time of crisis. There has always been a vice president in office to succeed a dead president.

But luck is for gamblers to depend on, not nations.

National Outlook

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

The Silver Problem Revisited
Some weeks ago this column discussed the problem created by the increased industrial demand for silver and the necessity of using the existing limited supply both for that purpose and for minting new coins. We mentioned a suggestion that the difficulty be dealt with by doubling the value of existing silver coins — a half-dollar to count as a dollar, a quarter as 50 cents and a dime as 20 cents. What this would amount to would be a halving of the amount of silver in a coin of any given value.

Mr. F. H. Wemple, Treasurer of Handy & Harman and a leading authority on the subject, takes a somewhat different view of the matter. He wants to go the whole hog and eliminate the use of silver entirely in dimes, quarters and half-dollars.

Must Plan Now
Mr. Wemple believes that in the years to come there will not be enough silver to meet both the growing needs of increasing demand for more and more coins as the population grows and business activity increases. Something must be done, and in our opinion the elimination of silver from our subsidiary coinage is inevitable. It is essential to plan for it now and not wait until the problem is worse.

Mr. Wemple rejects the idea that we should attack the problem by reducing the silver content of our subsidiary coins. He argues that we would thereby merely postpone the inevitable elimination of silver from the subsidiary coinage system. By his calculations we would be forced to abandon silver coinage in less than ten years, even if we halved the amount of silver in our coins.

Thus by this route we would have two changes to go through — one when we shifted to coins of reduced silver content and another about ten years later when we had to abandon the use of silver entirely in fractional-dollar coins. Instead of one period of adjustment the public (and the vending machine industry) would have to face two such periods.

Industry is currently withdrawing about 60 million ounces annually from the Treasury stock of silver which amounts to 1,400 million ounces. At this rate we can calculate that the stock would last about 20 years and this leaves room for technological developments — on both the production and use side — eventually to balance consumption and production. Also, if the U. S. abandoned silver coinage other nations might be expected to follow suit and this would help to ease the shortage.

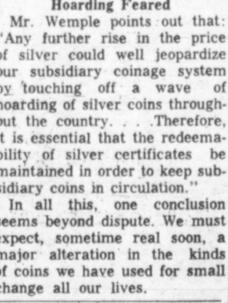

The gap between supply and demand is presently filled by silver sold by the Treasury to industry, in redemption of silver certificates, at $1.29 an ounce. As long as this continues, the price will not rise above that level.

Hoarding Feared
Mr. Wemple points out that "any further rise in the price of silver could well jeopardize our subsidiary coinage system by touching off a wave of hoarding of silver coins throughout the country. . . . Therefore, it is essential that the redeemability of silver certificates be maintained in order to keep subsidiary coins in circulation."

In all this, one conclusion seems beyond dispute. We must expect, sometime real soon, a major alteration in the kinds of coins we have used for small change all our lives.

Matter of Fact

The Koh-i-noor, one of the world's most famous diamonds, has a history of at least 600 years. When it was acquired by the British in 1849 it weighed 181 carats. It was recut in London and now weighs 108 carats. It is the central stone of the queen's state crown, made for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth, wife of George VI, in 1937.

The Davy Crockett is a light and highly mobile ground weapon operated by two men. It has a destructive equivalent of 40 tons of TNT and, while very effective against armor and fortified positions, its principal purpose is as an anti-personnel weapon.

Davy Crockett Tactical Nuclear Weapon Being Withdrawn in Europe; 'Defects' Claimed

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Army's most mobile tactical nuclear weapon — the Davy Crockett — is being secretly withdrawn from U. S. combat forces (chiefly infantry and armor) in Europe.

That is being done on orders of Defense Secretary McNamara, with the full knowledge and approval of President Johnson. The number of these tactical nuclear weapons involved is classified and cannot be divulged. Their return to this country has been underway since early this year.

West German authorities have known about it since May when they first learned of this unannounced development. In response to their alarmed inquiries, they were told by Secretary McNamara that U. S. fighting units are being stripped of the Davy Crockett because of the discovery of serious defects.

That is being flatly denied by Army authorities. They are saying privately they have no knowledge or reports of defects that would require such drastic action.

To McNamara's contention, these critical military sources retort that the secret withdrawal of the Davy Crockett is part of a backstage Johnson administration decision to remove from U. S. combat units all tactical nuclear weapons not equipped with the electronic lock system that gives the President sole control over their detonation.

All U. S. strategic nuclear weapons now have such electronic locks. Pentagon experts have explained that these security devices have not been "imposed" on tactical nuclear weapons because of excessive costs. It is held such costs far outweigh the combat value of the Davy Crockett and similar weapons.

The covert withdrawal policy is credited to White House fear that its lack of control of the Davy Crockett could lead to the "escalation" of an armed clash into a cataclysmic nuclear war. POWERFUL LITTLE GIANT — Secretary McNamara has had two discussions with high West German officials on taking away the Davy Crockett from U. S. battle forces in Europe.

The first was in May in Bonn with Defense Minister Kl. Uwe von Hassel, who voiced grave concern about this serious reduction in fire power. The second was in Washington in mid-September with Dr. Richard Jager, chairman of the influential Defense Committee of the Federal Parliament. Like Hassel, Jager expressed strong misgivings.

To both German officials, McNamara declared the sole reason for the withdrawal of the Davy Crockett was risky defects. He said nothing about Army denials of this claim. The Davy Crockett is a light and highly mobile ground weapon operated by two men. It has a destructive equivalent of 40 tons of TNT and, while very effective against armor and fortified positions, its principal purpose is as an anti-personnel weapon.

The Davy Crockett is highly regarded by U. S. and allied combat troops. In training exercises it has repeatedly proved a decisive battle factor.

Pentagon insiders say there are no known plans at present for the withdrawal from Europe of nuclear weapons equipped with electronic locks placing their control in the hands of the President. It's possible that may be done after the election.

The electronic locks are officially known as "permissive action links," an elaborate and immensely costly control system instituted in 1961 by the late President Kennedy. Most of the nuclear weapons equipped with this highly centralized control are strategic.

Such weapons cannot be fired until "unlocked" by an electronic message released by the President, who has sole possession of the coded electronic key which is kept constantly by his side, even when he is asleep.

The "permissive action link" system also includes a small group of high officials empowered to use the coded signal in the event of the incapacity of the President. They are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary McNamara, Deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus Vance, McGeorge Bundy, White House assistant on foreign affairs, and Dr. Eugene Ghiron Fubini, assistant defense secretary for research and engineering.

Fubini has acknowledged that, as a university student in Italy, he was a dues-paying member of a Fascist organization. He was appointed by President Kennedy and has been retained by President Johnson.

POLITICALS — Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., who has been warmly lauded by President Johnson and other Democratic leaders for materially aiding in the enactment of the civil rights and other major administration measures, is quietly returning this exceptional commendation. Dirksen has declined to go to Montana to campaign for the Republican candidate against Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. The GOP aspirant is Alex Blewett, former majority leader of the Montana Assembly, and the request for electioneering help for him was made by the State Republican Committee. At the close of the recent congressional session, Mansfield and Dirksen exchanged glowing encomiums for outstanding leadership, statesmanship and patriotism. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy is putting aside her year-long period of mourning and will actively campaign for former Attorney General Robert Kennedy. She will make a number of joint appearances with him to "steam up" his faltering race against Republican Senator Kenneth Keating.

Senator Strom Thurmond, R. S. C., is taking his militant campaign for Senator Barry Goldwater into one of the country's major Democratic strongholds — Philadelphia, which in 1960 gave Kennedy a 330,000 majority and thus enabled him to carry Pennsylvania. Thurmond will address the annual convention of the Military Order of World Wars on Friday. . . . President Johnson has agreed to spend a full day campaigning in Boston, home of his late predecessor. He is doing this at the request of Speaker John McCormack and Senator "Ted" Kennedy, still hospitalized with a broken back suffered in a plane crash early last summer. Tentative date for the President's appearance at a giant rally in Boston Gardens is either October 27 or 28.

My uncle Zack Doubtit gets real serious once in a while and then, with his countryified philosophy and brings forth a thing or two for thoughtful minds to chew on.

He reckons that we should have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all politicians as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, that they will immediately begin to exercise unauthorized powers to the detriment of all men.

He theorizes that there is something about that final step up the ladder to the Presidency, that causes men's minds to run off in several diversified directions. They become enraptured with themselves and can't learn anything from past history, because they cease to believe the world existed before they came along. They do not believe any legislation can be harmful to future generations, because they can't possibly visualize the world existing after their departure.

Uncle Zack says that our incumbent instant President got bit by the self enrapture bug double quick and that it's just possible that the free world will not survive him, or his grand society.

I want to take this opportunity to urge my friends and relatives in your area to support Bill Hayes for Congressman at Large in the coming election.

His opponent, Joe Pool, voted for what amounts to a vote away of wheat to Russia.

Bill Hayes is conservative Republican. A vote for Bill Hayes is a vote for America.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Chase Chief Pleads for Enterprise Sales Plan

By SAM CAMPBELL
David Rockefeller, president of New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, was in Los Angeles this past week to issue a plea that American businessmen should begin to tell the story of free enterprise to Latin Americans.

Sizeable investments in Latin America have put the Rockefeller in close touch with the business climate down there, and he reported that the communists are making substantial gains with their anti-business salesmanship.

From Los Angeles, the Chase president hurried off to San Francisco where he advocated greater trade with Soviet Russia.

Just how he reconciled a program to counteract communism in South America with another program to become its logistical support is one of those mysteries that must be left to the keener minds of the eastern establishment to decipher.

Anyway, what the business branch of the Rockefeller family tree had to say in Los Angeles made a great deal of sense. Here are a couple of statements that get the message across:

"First, we must develop an effective message — one that will explain clearly and affirmatively what we stand for and what we are trying to accomplish. In developing such a message, the key word is 'identification.' Each individual company, operating in Latin America or trading with Latin America, must identify itself as a positive factor in the region's economic development."

Having developed such a message, the next step is to find out whom to deliver it to. Rockefeller's answer:

"Latin American businessmen constitute an audience which needs attention because many of them do not fully appreciate the role of foreign investments in their countries. They constitute a good vehicle for reaching other audiences because they have access to a vast number of groups — employees, customers, clients, government officials."

"Once aroused to the need for telling the free-enterprise story, they can be the most effective salesmen in their respective countries. Where their efforts can be coordinated with those of the foreign business community, a hard-hitting program of public information, education and social action can be carried out in support of common business objectives." (End of quote.)

To have the president of so important a banking institution speaking so forcefully in this wise is certainly an encouraging turn of events. Of course, the first step in communicating free enterprise is to understand it. If and when the rationale of free enterprise is as widely understood as its material benefits are enjoyed, the end of the Marxists will be at hand.

The initial problem in other words, is not the Marxist salesmen south of the border, but the poorly informed Americanist salesmen north of the border.

Wit and Whimsy

No man is a hypocrite in his pleasures.

Nothing is impossible to the man who doesn't have to do it himself.

A woman, observing a mule owned by colored boy, asked: Woman — What do you call your mule?

Boy — Ah calls him Utility. Woman — How did you come to give him such a name?

Boy — Well, I've been studying de animal and readin' de papers. Dat mule get mo' blame an' abuse dan anything else in de city, an' goes ahead doin' his level best just de same.

Friend — Can I borrow a cigarette?

Girl — You should be able to. You've had enough practice.

Wanda — He wore my photograph over his heart and it stopped a bullet when that bank bandit fired at him.

Ethel — I'm not surprised, dear. It would stop anything.

The best secret-keeper of modern times is the automatic clothes dryer.

Many a woman thinks she bought a gown for a ridiculous price when in reality she bought it for an absurd figure.

Arithmetic is one thing but logic is another.

The teacher gave this problem to her class:

Problem — If there are six flies on your desk and you kill one, how many would remain?

One Boy (shouted) — One, de dead one.

Dear Abby....

All Girls Can't Be Judged by One Miss-take
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a college freshman. I drew a girl's name for the freshman mixer. When I called for her at her dorm I was pleased to find a nice-looking girl with a friendly personality. After one dance she suggested we go somewhere and "talk." We spoke hardly ten minutes when she was all over me. I spent most of the evening trying to talk her out of what she was trying to talk me into. Abby, I want to be pure for the girl I marry, but if this one is any example of what I have to put up with, I am going to have some fight on my hands. How can a fellow act like a gentleman with college girls without getting the reputation for being a square or a cold fish?

SAVING MYSELF
DEAR SAVING: Don't identify all college girls with the miss you got mixed up with at the mixer. Hang on to your gentlemanly instincts and your reputation will take care of itself.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the lady whose husband keeps his first wife's picture on his dresser. There must be lots of us. I have been a second wife for 12 years, and I can sympathize with her. My husband still carries his first wife's picture in his wallet. (None of me.) He named OUR son after his first wife's father. He also has moved a cardboard carton of her love letters around with us every time we've moved. Why don't men who just can't love again hire a housekeeper and leave women who need love and affection alone? Please print this. My husband reads your column. I think I have taken enough punishment for a loss I had nothing to do with.

A BLUE DOMESTIC APPLIANCE
DEAR APPLIANCE: If your husband is really the cad you portray him to be, you'd do better hiring yourself out as a housekeeper. At least if you didn't like the place, you could quit.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend

Faculty Honored By Houston P-TA

Sam Houston P-TA kicked off the 1964-65 year with a tea honoring the faculty at 2 p.m. Thursday in the school cafeteria.

Teachers were presented with corsages and boutonnieres, compliments of the P-TA.

Mrs. Buddy Cockrell, president, called the meeting to order, followed by the flag ceremony presented by Girl Scout Troop No. 125.

Devotional was a Parent-Teacher prayer led by Mrs. L. G. Greer.

Committee reports were given by the following chairmen: Mrs. J. S. Kelly, legislation, and Mrs. Paul Bowers, hospitality. Mrs. Bowers presented the plans for Family Night to be held Oct. 30, and challenged the entire organization to make an all-out effort to make this fund raising project a success.

L. C. Davis, school principal, introduced the faculty and invited the attending parents to visit in the rooms after the meeting.

An executive committee meeting was held prior to the regular meeting in which plans for the coming events were discussed.

with whom I went all through school. I shall call her Mary. Mary has many good qualities, but she doesn't make friends easily. I believe I am her only friend. A few months ago I became acquainted with another girl. I will call her June. June is a very likeable person and has many friends. Mary let me know that she did not care for June, but I didn't see what that had to do with me. Now Mary has told me that if I don't give up June's friendship she and I can't be friends any more. I like them both, Abby, but I don't want to make a choice. We are not kids. We are all young married women. What would YOU do if faced with such a choice?

TROUBLED
DEAR TROUBLED: I'd choose June. No one has the right to dictate who your other friends shall be.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BIG BROWN EYES: Yes, some women have husbands who cheat and lie. Yours confesses to you, which means he only cheats. Big deal! You're only half safe!

Fourth Session Of P-TA Study Course Slated

The fourth session of the P-TA study course will meet on Tuesday, October 13, in the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School auditorium. The theme for the session will be "Together We Help a Child by Stressing the Values of Our American Heritage."

The program will be opened with a flag ceremony led by Boy Scouts.

First speaker will be Miss Inez Clubb, eighth grade history teacher at Robert E. Lee Junior High School, who will stress the importance of having our children learn American history.

Rev. Douglas Creecy, Methodist minister from Miami, will discuss American heritage. Following the coffee break, Tracy Cary, local music teacher and student of history, will speak on local and Texas history.

The fourth participant will be John Brewer, Scout Executive from the Adobe Walls Council, who will explain the ways in which Boy Scouts study American heritage.

A nursery will be provided for pre-school children. Mrs. James S. Silcott is study course chairman for Woodrow Wilson P-TA, and Mrs. J. W. Bennett is study course chairman for B. M. Baker, which will be the co-host unit.

Study course is being held on Tuesday instead of on Thursday in order that P-TA members may attend the District Fall Workshop in Wheeler on Thursday.

Snooze With Color

NEW YORK (UPI) — That phrase "white as a sheet" no longer holds.

Because, one study shows, more and more colors are going into the linen closets. The Vat Dye Institute found that sheets of colors other than white are found in 57 per cent of the U.S. homes. Color preference overwhelmingly is for blue.

The researchers also reported that the average inventory in closets is 14 sheets and 17 pillowcases. However, owners of colored linens have a higher inventory — a total of 34 sheets and pillowcases.

Don't try to oil the lock of a door or car. Oil the key and insert it. Turn key back and forth a few times.

Texas Grocers to Participate in Food Campaign

WACO (Sp) — Texas grocers will take part in a united food industry campaign during October centered around the theme "Food is a Bargain," according to Robert E. Crozier, executive vice president of Texas Retail Grocers Association.

Crozier said the campaign was being conducted to acquaint consumers with achievements of the food industry during the past two decades.

"For example, the consumer is now spending only 19 per cent of the after-tax dollar for food as compared to more than 26 per cent less than 20 years ago," Crozier said.

The 19 per cent current food expenditure compares with 29 per cent spent by British consumers and more than 50 per cent for food in Russia.

Crozier said government figures show that consumers work fewer hours to earn a month's supply of food — 37 hours in 1963-64 as compared to 60 hours in 1947-49. Each farm worker produces food for 28 people as compared to feeding 14 people in 1947-49.
