CONCERT DRIVE OPENS — There was a buzz of activity at Pampa Community Concert membership campaign headquarters today as workers, shown here, wounding up renewal memberships and prepared for tomorrow night's kickoff banquet honoring some 100 volunteer workers who will sell 1965-66 concert memberships during the remainder of the week for the 1965-66 concert season. The association brings to Pampa top artists of the music world in a series of three or four concerts. Arthur Fiedler and the Buffalo Philharmonic orchestra and the Norman Luboff Choir already have been booked for next season. (Daily News Photo)

Sixth Dynamite Bomb Found in Birmingham

Mayor To Find Terrorists

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A sixth time bomb was found in the heart of this Negro community today. Mayor Albert Boutwell vowed neither men nor money would be spared to find the persons who have terrorized the area with the deadly explosives.

Ernest Poole, a mortician, found a bomb this morning behind a panel truck parked in a lot across the street from his funeral home.

An Army demolition crew was rushed in to disarm the bomb. Military men worked feverishly Sunday and Sunday night to disconnect five other bombs, including one that was found near a Catholic church where 120 persons were worshipping.

The bombs, prepared with a clock, battery and approximately 40 sticks of dynamite each, were fixed to explode in a pattern of terror.

Other bombs were found Sunday near a parsonage occupied until recently by a brother of Dr. Martin Luther King, an attorney's home, another funeral home and a high school.

Poole discovered the bomb when he went to open his funeral home about 7:30 a.m. CST. He and an employee investigated and then notified police.

He said the bomb was packaged in a green box, the same as those found Sunday.

The steel-nerved demolition experts disarmed each bomb Sunday without mishap. Wires on one were snipped minutes after it was set to explode, and authorities speculated it was faulty.

Each bomb contained from 40 to 50 sticks of dynamite—equal to about two-thirds the force of the smallest Air Force general purpose bomb—and were timed with cheap alarm clocks and wired to be set off by transistor batteries.

The dynamite wrappers, clocks and batteries were to be flown to Washington for examination by Federal Bureau of Investigation laboratory experts.

Boutwell, who was in office here 18 months ago when four Negro girls were killed in a church bombing during a wave of racial violence, pledged an all-out effort to apprehend the would-be bombers.

"This series of bombs is a particularly vicious and calculated crime against the whole (See MAYOR, Page 3)

Marchers on Second Leg

ENROUTE FROM SELMA TO MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — With airplanes sweeping overhead and U.S. Army troops standing at the ready, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and 300 civil rights demonstrators trooped down Jefferson Davis Highway today on the second leg of their historic march to Montgomery.

The marchers stepped off promptly at 8 a.m. CST after spending a chilly night camped in a cowpasture.

Morale was high, the day bright and sunny.

The marchers stepped briskly eight abreast.

Some carried large bed rolls in their arms. Others had knapsacks strapped to their backs. A few women wore dress hats, others carried colorful bed quilts over their arms.

Before setting out, the ranks of the marchers were trimmed from 500 to 300 persons, in accordance with the order of the federal judge who approved the march. The order specified only 300 persons could march at one time along sections of U.S. 80 where the roadway narrows to two lanes.

A big groan went up from the demonstrators when the Rev. Andrew Young told them that some would have to drop out. "Now don't get nervous because you can get back in the march when we get to the four lane again near Montgomery," Young explained.

Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson stipulated in his court order permitting the 50-mile march that it must be completed in five days.

The deadline for reaching Montgomery is 3 p.m. CST Thursday.

The march was late getting started Sunday and King wanted to make up the lost mileage today. Under a federal court order permitting the march, the civil rights demonstrators must complete the 50-mile hike to Montgomery by 3 p.m. CST (See MARCHERS, Page 3)

Scientists Delay Ranger 9 Change

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Scientists today decided to delay for 24 hours (until Tuesday morning) a planned mid-course maneuver to put America's ninth and last Ranger spacecraft on a more perfect path to the moon.

The decision to delay the delicate maneuver until about 4:00 a.m. CST Tuesday was made by scientists at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) because the space probe already was on a near-bullseye course.

The scientists made their decision during a pre-dawn study of telemetry data from the spacecraft, which is racing toward the moon to explore one of its mysterious landing sites.

The maneuver changes the pitch and roll in space of Ranger 9.

At 8 a.m. CST, today Ranger 9 was due to be 99,942 miles from earth. Calculations indicated that at 2 p.m. CST, Ranger 9 would be 123,515 miles from earth and by 8 p.m. CST its distance from earth was figured at about 144,468 miles.

Its speeds were fixed respectively at those times as 3,313 miles per hour, 3,769 m.p.h. and 3,889 m.p.h.

Ranger 9 began its 245,500-mile trip to the moon at 3:57 p.m. CST Sunday when an Atlas-Agena booster blasted it from a launching pad at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Six television cameras aboard Ranger 9 were scheduled to take thousands of closeup photographs of the 60-70-mile-wide crater Alphonsus — one of the few areas on the supposedly dead moon that has shown signs of volcanic life — before the space probe crashes to destruction on the lunar surface about 8:15 a.m. CST Wednesday.

The launching of the 808-pound spacecraft was the opening of a planned American space doubleheader. The second half was Tuesday's scheduled blast-off from Cape Kennedy of this nation's first two-man Project Gemini space flight.

Soviet Spacemen Saw Man Made Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union's two newest cosmonauts said today their Voskhod II space ship came within less than a mile of another man-made earth satellite.

The sighting was disclosed by cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Pavel Belyayev in an interview with the official Soviet news agency Tass.

Belyayev told a news conference at the Baikonur space base, from which the Voskhod II was launched, that they saw the satellite about one kilometer or 62 miles from their path during the flight last week.

He said they "cried with surprise" when they sighted the "man-made satellite of the earth." It was not reported whether the satellite was Russian or American.

Belyayev also said that he brought his space ship to earth with manual controls—the first time the Soviets have used such methods.

Leonov, the world's first "spacewalker," said his venture into space from the orbiting spacecraft was "simple" and shook the Voskhod (Sunrise) II capsule when he stepped out.

"It was not difficult, even simple," Leonov said.

Says Ship Shook
"The ship shook, and even seemed to lurch forward slightly from the push made by my movement."

Tass said the two cosmonauts were interviewed at the big Soviet spaceport in Baikonur on the Russian steppes in Kazakhstan.

They are scheduled to arrive in Moscow Tuesday for a mammoth reception.

Belyayev said the satellite was seen about one kilometer (62 miles) away from the ship.

"The time will come when link-ups in outer space will become an ordinary occurrence," Belyayev said. "We shall even learn to meet one another on space trails and even go from one ship to another."

"Our experiments with man's exit into space is an important step on the way to the solution of this task."

Pleasant Sensation
In explaining his step into space, Leonov said when he left the capsule he made a movement first with one arm and then the other and moved his foot.

Leonov said he then threw out his arms "with a very pleasant sensation" in the weightlessness of space.

"You simply float around the ship," Leonov said. The cosmonaut was tethered to the capsule by a 16-foot cable. Belyayev said the ship reacted to Leonov's every movement in space.

Doctors today examined the two cosmonauts in advance of their triumphant return to Moscow.

They emerged from mysterious seclusion Sunday two days after they landed.

The spacemen made their first public appearance at the Perm airport in the area 700 miles east of Moscow where Voskhod II made a fiery return to earth last Friday.

Thousands of admiring Russians cheered and pelleted the spacemen with flowers before they took off for Perm en route to the Kazakhstan cosmodrome for medical examinations.

Leonov and Belyayev laughed and joked as if their space voyage had been a joyride.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, quoted Leonov as saying of his 20-minute free float in space:

"I was not afraid. I did not experience fear, but only the infinite expanse and depth of the universe."

"I could see everything very clearly. I constantly felt the presence of people on earth and the presence of the ship's commander (Belyayev)."

Adds Quip
Then, in a quip reported deadpan style by Tass, Leonov added:

"I knew I would not see anyone I knew there."

Moscow television carried a videotape of the cosmonaut's stopover in Perm. They appeared happy and fit.

Scores of well-wishers jostled, hugged and showered the spacemen with bouquets in a preview of the reception they can expect from millions of adoring Russians when they arrive here.

Weather Changes, Gemini Space Shot Looks Good

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A sudden reversal in the trend of the whimsical weather today gave America a good chance to launch its first but "runner-up" two-man flight into space within 24 hours or so.

A pair of medically certified astronauts named John W. Young and Virgil I. Grissom, a converted war rocket named Titan-2 and a 1965-model spaceship whose name was in dispute awaited an official okay to start the three-orbit voyage at 8 a.m. CST Tuesday.

The crucial "go-no-go" decision was in the hands of Christopher C. Kraft Jr., mission director for the inaugural manned flight, already 17 months behind schedule, in the nation's $1.35 billion Project Gemini.

If the word is "go," the seven-hour final countdown will begin at 1 a.m. CST Tuesday.

A surprise switch evident in the spaceport's bad weather behavior stashed the U.S. spirits that wilted in the shadow of Russia's upstaging performance by cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Pavel Belyayev four days ago.

Federal space agency officials said early today a weather forecast called for broken clouds at 8,000 feet at Cape Kennedy Tuesday—a considerable improvement over the gloomy clouds at 2,000 feet predicted just a few hours earlier.

"That would be great... it's very good," said one agency spokesman. At 8,000 feet, clouds are acceptable. But if they descend and remain below 5,000 feet, a delay is certain.

Weather in the main and secondary landing areas in the Western Atlantic Ocean remained good through late Sunday. But that, too, was subject to instant and often unexpected change.

WEATHER

PAMPA AND VICINITY — Colder Tuesday with occasional light rain. Low tonight mid-30s, high tomorrow near 50. Winds westerly 10-20 m.p.h.

Attacks Planned On Viet Capital

SAIGON (UPI) — Reliable military sources said today future American air strikes against North Viet Nam may include raids on the capital of Hanoi and railroads linking it with Communist China.

It was emphasized that no attacks on the Chinese mainland are contemplated.

UPI learned that the stepped-up air offensive against the Communist north is part of a new strategy that could include a sea blockade and naval bombardment of military targets.

Authoritative sources close to the U.S. military command said the deep air penetration of North Vietnamese territory would concentrate on "economic" targets such as railroads and bridges. They said the gradual increase in the raids is not intended to set the scene for negotiations.

The air attacks will continue, competent sources said, until the United States is convinced that the Hanoi regime has stopped infiltrating South Viet Nam. When that happens, there will be no compelling reasons to negotiate with the Communists at all, these sources said.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said today the fighting in Viet Nam may be approaching "a decisive point."

In a speech to the Saigon Lions' Club, Taylor hinted that American Air strikes against North Viet Nam may be intended.

USW Starts Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union (USW) takes the wraps off its major contract demands today in top-level talks with the basic steel industry.

David J. McDonald, president of the million-member union, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the nations "Big 11" steel firms, set the stage for the "summit level" talks in an announcement shortly before the weekend recess.

To date, negotiations have been limited to local plant issues and the union's non-economic demands. Bargainers have 40 days in which to reach agreement on a new labor contract before the May 1 strike deadline.

Steel talks opened Dec. 15 with industry issuing a policy statement declaring any economic settlement surpassing a 2 per cent increase in labor costs would be "excessive."

The Wage Policy Committee of the union released its declaration of intention at the beginning of the negotiations, saying it would demand a "fair share" of steel industry's record profits. But industry retorted that the union was seeking an "unfair share."

The union demands were said to total about 43 cents per hour.

Annual Concert Drive Launched

Campaign headquarters for the 1965-6 membership campaign of the Pampa Community Concert Association opened today in the lobby of the Southwestern Public Service Co., 315 N. Ballard St.

The renewal membership drive was concluded today and memberships were thrown open to the public during the remainder of the campaign which will run through Saturday noon or until the seating capacity of Pampa Junior High School auditorium is filled.

A kickoff banquet is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn to honor more than 100 workers from Pampa and surrounding communities who will sell memberships during the week.

Mrs. Kirk Duncan will serve as headquarters secretary at the central drive office this week. Inquiries should be made by calling concert headquarters at MO 9-9281. Office hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Vandals Damage

Vacant House

Pampa police were investigating a report today of between $1,500 and $2,000 damage to a local residence.

Mrs. Warren Jackson, 1335 Hamilton, told police that someone entered a vacant house she owns at 2517 Duncan. She said holes were knocked in the ceiling and walls and sheetrock was torn down.

Pampa Police Radar Unit Due Workout

Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner said today that the department will again begin using the city's radar unit in an effort to cut the number of accidents on Pampa streets.

In 1964, Pampa had one of its highest years in the total number of accidents, injuries and deaths. The city recorded 654 accidents and two fatalities.

Conner said that even though the figures were below the national average they still represented an increase over previous years.

The chief said the majority of serious accidents result either directly or indirectly from speeding. Conner said speed was not necessarily attributed to the increase last year, but in accidents where speed was a factor, the seriousness of the accident was usually greater.

Conner said the radar unit will be used "simply to slow drivers down."

He said it will be operated seven days a week and primarily on streets where the largest number of speeding violations occur.

"We not going to try and trick them," he said.

The workmen had put down their tools and were drinking tea when a 33-foot crane crashed across the street, blocking a block of shops they had been constructing.

Dear Abby... Convicting Evidence Was Only Hearsay

DEAR ABBY: I went steady with a guy for four months and everything was going along fine until my girl friend told me that he was making a big play for another girl. I asked him about it, and he denied it, but we had a big fight over it anyway. Then my girl friend told me she heard that he was throwing darts at my picture. Before I knew what was coming off, she had his picture torn in bits in an envelope and on his front porch. He thought I did it. In a way I was glad, because he tried to show the world that he could hurt me, so I wanted to show him I could hurt him. My girl friend told me to ignore him, but it wasn't easy when I saw him circling the block three times to see if I was home. I was, but I didn't come out. Should I stay mad at him? Or should I make up with him? Who did what he did?

DEAR STILL: What did he do? You found him guilty on hearsay evidence. And then you permitted your girl friend to act for you. This girl "friend" (?) seems to be running your life. Why don't you use your own judgment and make your own decisions? You couldn't do worse.

DEAR ABBY: When I go to weddings and funerals everyone else is in tears, but I remain dry-eyed. But when I see a sad movie, I cry like a baby. I have never been able to show my emotions in public, and because of this I am sure many people think I am hard and insensitive. Do you think I need to see a psychiatrist? Or is this normal?

DEAR CRY BABY: It is not uncommon for people to suppress their emotions in public. But if you shed tears easily in private, I can't see where you have any problem. Don't let it bother you. There are many highly emotional people who would envy your control.

DEAR ABBY: During a discussion in our office, it was unanimously agreed that you were just the right person to settle a very perturbing question for us.

At what age does one stop addressing a young man as "Master" and commence to address him as "Mr."?

Very truly yours,
P. J. D.

DEAR P. J. D.: In addressing a letter (or gift) to a young man, use "Master" until the end of his twelfth year. While he is in "teens," on his cards and mail addressed to him, he is just plain "John Jones." When he is out of his "teens" — call him Mister! P.S. A girl, however, receives the dignity of the title "Miss" from the cradle to the altar.

National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution Is Organized Here

A meeting was held recently in the home of Mrs. A. D. Hills for the purpose of organizing a chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Hills, organizing regent. Guests and members of the chapter were welcomed. A passage of scripture was read followed by a prayer. The pledge of allegiance and the American creed were given in unison after which "America" was sung with Mrs. J. S. Skelly at the piano.

Mrs. Hills presented her credentials and stated the purpose of the meeting saying, "You have been called together to organize a chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a society which is not alone based upon pride of ancestry, but endeavoring to emulate our forefathers by preserving the results of their labors and sacrifices and by keeping unimpaired and undefiled the sacred heritage which they left to us."

"Its objects are to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence by the acquisition and protection of historical spots and the erection of monuments by encouragement of historical research in relation to the Revolution and the publication of its results; by the preservation of documents and relics, and of the records of the individual services of Revolutionary soldiers and patriots and by the promotion of celebrations of all patriotic anniversaries."

"To carry out the injunction of Washington and his farewell address to the American people, 'to promote, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge,' thus developing an enlightened public opinion, and affording to young and old such advantages as shall develop in them the largest capacity for performing the duties of American citizens."

"To cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom, to foster the patriotism and love of country, and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty."

The members of the chapter unanimously adopted the name "Las Pampas" for the chapter. A chapter name must have historical significance. The settlement which later became Pampa had been known first as Ontario, then Sutton and later Glasgow. Finally, the name Pampa was chosen from the Spanish "Las Pampas," meaning the vast treeless plains. The name "Las Pampas" was approved by the National Society.

Mrs. W. I. Casey, organizing regent of the Josiah Bartlett Chapter in Borger was the installing officer and gave the charge to members.

Officers installed were Mrs. A. D. Hills, regent; Mrs. A. C. Wilson, vice regent; Mrs. Henry Merrick, recording secretary; Mrs. J. S. Skelly, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Turner Kirby, treasurer; Miss Lou Ella Patterson, registrar; Mrs. C. E. Cary, historian; Mrs. John McKerney, librarian, and Mrs. Katie Vincent, chaplain.

Mrs. J. P. Smith from Borger, regent-elect of the Josiah Bartlett Chapter, congratulated the members on the formation of the new chapter, told of some of the projects and accomplishments of the Borger chapter and spoke words of encouragement.

At a brief business period it was voted to apply for a charter and to hold it open until Oct. 12, 1965.

Mrs. Turner Kirby was selected to represent Las Pampas Chapter at the State Convention which was held March 16 in San Antonio. The new chapter will be announced at that time and Mrs. Kirby will be recognized.

Mrs. H. T. Nelson was selected to represent the chapter at the Continental Congress to be held April 18-19 in Washington, D. C.

Organizing members other than those previously mentioned are Mmes. Joe Gordon, F. N. Hills, Harold Gregory, Mary Ellen Harris, Lawrence Rice of Dumas, B. R. Shultz and J. G. Morrison. Mrs. C. R. Grimsley attended the meeting as a guest. The next meeting will be held April 10 for the purpose of presentation of by-laws. The by-laws committee is composed of Mrs. A. C. Wilson, chairman, Mrs. Henry Merrick and Miss Lou Ella Patterson.

Mrs. Templin Presents Program on Insecticides for HD Club Members

Mrs. Gilbert McVey was hostess recently in her home at 2211 Hamilton to Merten Home Demonstration Club members.

Mrs. Lloyd Laramore, president, opened the meeting with the club prayer. Mrs. V. Smith, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes and also announced an all-club meeting to be held at 9:30 a.m. April 6 in Gray County Court House Annex. Two films "Breast Cancer" and "To Smoke or Not to Smoke," will be shown.

Members voted to cancel the regular meeting of the club on April 6. Announcement was made of the THDA district meeting to be held in Canyon on April 8.

Mrs. Irene Humberson, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Elbert Templin, who presented the program, "What You Should Know About Insect Repellents."

Mrs. Templin told the group, "It is much more effective in the controlling of insects to first destroy their breeding places, such as damp garbage, old wet leaves and stagnant water, than to attack the insects after they become airborne bugs.

"Different insecticides are needed for ants, roaches, moths, mosquitoes, mites, gnats, flies, wasps and spiders the most common insects."

Mrs. Templin concluded with these cautions: "Always read directions before using; keep out of the reach of children; when using an aerosol can, don't use near a flame, don't smoke when spraying, don't puncture a pressurized can, don't store in a heated place and don't throw in the fire."

Mrs. Jack Howard conducted a St. Patrick's game with Mrs. Laramore winning the white elephant prize. Cake, cokes and coffee were served during the refreshment hour.

Attending were Mmes. Jack Howard, V. Smith, Elbert Templin, Irene Humberson, G. B. Hogan, Lloyd Laramore, T. G. Groves and Gilbert McVey.

Harvesters Try For 6-0 Tuesday

The Pampa Shockers open their season this afternoon at 4 p.m. at the Samnorwood Eagles, in a game rescheduled after last week's snow. Roy Harper is the probable starting pitcher, with Jim Lang and Jerry Largin also figured to see action.

The Harvesters go after victory number six tomorrow when they host the Borger Bulldogs in a non-district clash at 4 p.m. Ron Curlee will be the starting moundman for Pampa. Coach Deck Woldt reported that another game with Dumas had been scheduled for the first open district date.

With Amarillo and Palo Duro yet to see action, Pampa's Harvesters retained District 3-AAAA's only perfect record in non-conference baseball warfare.

The Harvesters stretched their unbeaten skin to five games with two wins at the expense of Dumas' Demons, 1-0 and 8-1, Saturday.

Monterey's pre-season title favorites improved their record to 6-1 with twin victories over Abilene Cooper, 3-1 and 7-2, Saturday.

Second-ranked Lubbock stands 2-5 after dividing a weekend series with a strong Roswell club. The Westerners won Friday's clash, 8-2, but dropped a 3-4 decision to Roswell in nine frames Saturday.

Tasoca fared 2-1 and Caprock 1-2 in clashes at El Paso Friday and Saturday. The Rebs dominated Jefferson, 8-1 and Bowie, 7-0, but bowed to Irvin, 10-13. Caprock trimmed Irvin, 11-0, on Gary McSwain's no-hitter before falling to El Paso 3-9, and Jefferson, 1-4.

Elsewhere, cold weather cancelled six games Friday and six more Saturday. Amarillo and Palo Duro, slated to play host to Valley and Highland of Albuquerque, had the pair of three-game sets frozen out.

Also cancelled were Dumas at Plainview (1-2), Monterey at Abilene Cooper, and Pampa at Hereford on Friday plus Plainview at Clovis and Borger (0-1) at Mangum, a re-scheduled contest, on Saturday.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS Sports

Unknown Strokes Jacks'ville

ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The 18th hole at Selva Marina is a mean 225-yard, par 3 that plays even longer into a chill north wind. But its memory will bring a smile to the face of Bert Weaver for a long time.

The hole played tricks on Weaver, but it did the same thing to the other contenders and enabled him to win the $57,500 Greater Jacksonville Open by a stroke Sunday with a 285, highest total to win a major tournament this year.

Jack Nicklaus, Dave Marr, Australian Bruce Devlin and New Zealander Bob Charles tied for second at 286, with PGA seniors champion Sam Snead and local product Dan Sikes a stroke behind at 287.

Weaver led the tourney by a stroke in the final round coming into No. 18.

Nicklaus, playing in the threesome ahead of Weaver's had bogeyed the hole to finish two-under-par for the tournament.

Weaver's tee shot, a one iron into the stiff wind, was short and to the left of the green where Nicklaus' drive had landed.

Weaver chipped under a palm tree branch to within eight feet of the hole and then missed his putt, rimming the cup for a bogey.

He left the green wondering whether he would be in a playoff or whether Devlin or Marr, both three-under-par going into the last hole, would take first place with a birdie.

Devlin drove short of the green, as did Marr. Devlin chipped to within five feet of the cup but Marr muffed his second shot and was 10 feet short.

With a tie for first place riding on their shots, both missed.

The victory was Weaver's first on the pro golf tour and his $8,500 first-place money was by far his biggest check.

SA Pair Cop Golf At Houston

HOUSTON (UPI) — Johnny Thornton and partner Bobby Walcott, both of San Antonio overcame a two-stroke deficit to move into a deadlock and then victory for the second straight year in the Champions Golf Tournament Sunday.

Thornton sank a 20-foot birdie putt on the first hole to snare the win. At the end of regulation play they had tied with former University of Texas golfer Wilson Schoellkopf Jr. and Ed Hopkins of Austin, Tex. The two teams were knotted at 282 at the end of the final round.

The foursome was sent back to the par-3, 193-yard 16th hole on the cold and wind-swept Cypress Creek course for the playoff.

Hopkins' putt was short by four feet. Walcott's bounded away from the lip of the cup and he was in at par. Schoellkopf missed his birdie putt to the left and was also at par, leaving the pressure to Thornton.

Thornton lined up the ball and without hesitation stroked it through, drooping the birdie putt and winning the tournament.

Schoellkopf and Hopkins had two-over-par 73s, and Thornton and Walcott were in at par, 71. The day's best round was by the doctor team of Dr. Robert Magness and Dr. Bonham Magness of Houston, who covered the course in 69. They finished the tourney in fifth place at 285.

Major League Roundup

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer
 The San Francisco Giants apparently have paid the overdue electric bill at their Arizona proving grounds because the power finally has been switched on in Phoenix.

The muscular Giants, who led the National League in home runs during the 1964 season with 165, have had trouble crashing the ball out of brown paper bags much less out of ball parks since they arrived at camp this spring.

To be precise, the power-laden Californian slammed a total of zero homers during their first seven exhibition contests before the drought ended Sunday when Willie McCovey blasted a 430-foot shot over the right-centerfield screen with two teammates on base in a 10-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Shortly afterward Jim Ray Hart took the cue from McCovey and lashed a 430-foot inside-the-park circuit which eluded fallen Sox outfielder Jim Gosger. Hart also clubbed a triple, as did Chuck Hiller, to pace the Giants' 15-hit barrage.

Drives in Four
 McCovey, apparently recovered from a dismal season last year, also had two singles and drove in four runs but had to share the spotlight with pitching ace Juan Marichal, who worked six scoreless-innings and allowed only two Boston safeties.

While Marichal, the National League's premier righthander, was hardly ruffled, his American League counterpart, Cy Young Award winner Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels, was hit hard by the Chicago Cubs — literally. Chance was struck on his pitching arm by a line drive off the bat of Vic Roznovsky after pitching scoreless ball into the third inning and will miss two to four days of throwing with a "bone bruise." Bonus baby Rick Reichardt homered and doubled to lead the Angels to a 3-2 victory.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals snapped a six-game losing streak with some superlative pitching by veterans Curt Simmons and Bob Purkey. Simmons allowed the Chicago White Sox only four hits in five innings, and Purkey, obtained from the Cincinnati Reds, held the Chisox hitless over the final four frames to complete a 2-0 shutout.

Dodgers Pelt Bunker
 The Los Angeles Dodgers tried to personally prove the old baseball superstition of the sophomore jinx in the case of the Baltimore Orioles' Wally Bunker. The Dodgers raked Bunker, making his initial start of the spring after a phenomenal rookie season, for five singles, three walks and five runs.

The Philadelphia 76 ers, who play Cincinnati to determine the finalist to meet Boston for the Eastern Division crown, overwhelmed the Baltimore Bullets 127-105 as Hal Greer scored 26 points and Dave Gambee added 25.

Celtics Set Win Record
 By United Press International
 The Boston Celtics, finishing the most successful season in National Basketball Association history with a record 62 victories, became a heavy favorite to win their seventh straight title in the playoffs next month by beating the Cincinnati Royals 116-99 on Sunday.

Bill Russell led the Boston offense with 23 points while the Celtics' defense limited the opposition to less than 100 points for the 26th time this season.

The loss made the Royals' hopes for the championship even darker.

Playing without the services of injured Oscar Robertson, the Royals had a five-game winning streak snapped and may have lost Tom Hawkins, who reinjured his right ankle. However, Robertson is expected to be back in the lineup when Cincinnati opens the semifinal playoffs against Philadelphia on Wednesday.

The Philadelphia 76 ers, who play Cincinnati to determine the finalist to meet Boston for the Eastern Division crown, overwhelmed the Baltimore Bullets 127-105 as Hal Greer scored 26 points and Dave Gambee added 25.

Bruins Sight for 3rd NCAA Title

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — UCLA has its sights set on an unprecedented third straight NCAA basketball title — and there probably were few around today who would discount its chances.

Not as long as Coach Johnny Wooden has "reserve" Kenny Washington around, anyway. Wooden's pressure-proof Bruins handed Michigan a 91-80 beating in the finals of this year's tourney Saturday night to become the fifth team ever to win two NCAA crowns back-to-back since the tournament began in 1939.

Washington, a junior, provided the spark — just as he did against Duke in the final a year ago.

The big man in the victory, of course, was senior Gail Goodrich, the 6-1 bundle of energy who ran the Wolverines dizzy and scored 42 points.

Michigan Had Edge
 Although Goodrich said he "knew we were going to win" after the game was three minutes old, Michigan had the edge at the start.

The giant trio of Cazzie Russell, Bill Buntin and Oliver Darden dominated the boards and the Big Ten team had a 20-13 lead midway in the first half.

That's when Washington came off the bench, hit five field goals and propelled UCLA to a 47-34 half-time lead that stood up. A year ago against Duke he scored 26 in the title game. He had 17 Saturday night.

Washington's performance was sorely needed — because UCLA's number two star, senior Keith Erickson, was hobbled by a pulled leg muscle and was used sparingly.

Wooden said he thought "players of Michigan's size would get tired and our press would get to them." Goodrich said he didn't worry about Michigan's early lead because he felt they "couldn't continue hitting that well."

Both Teams Hot
 Both teams were hot — UCLA hit 569 and Michigan 516 from the field. Russell led Michigan with 28 points.

UCLA had 34 rebounds to 33 for Michigan.

Although Wooden loses Goodrich and Erickson — he has five of his "big seven" back for next year — Freddie Goss, Edgard Lacey, Mike Lynn, Doug McIntosh — and Washington.

And Wooden had lost three starters from his 1964 title team — Walt Hazzard, Fred Hirsch and Jack Slaughter.

UCLA 58-2 for two seasons, set a record of 400 points in four NCAA tournament games, 41 higher than its own mark last year.

A record Oregon crowd of 13,204 also saw a fabulous final performance by Princeton's Bill Bradley.

Bradley broke Oscar Robertson's one-game NCAA tourney record of 56 by scoring 58 points in the Tigers' 118-82 third place win over Wichita.

Bradley, who got 12 points in the last four minutes, said he thought he was shooting for a team instead of an individual mark when his coach and teammates urged him to continue firing. Just a little earlier he had waved off a teammate's feed pass with a grin.

Bradley also broke the five-game NCAA mark of 160 with a total of 177. The former was held by Jerry West of West Virginia and Hal Lear of Temple.

Kathy Whitworth Wins St. Pete

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Young Kathy Whitworth stumbled badly in a strong wind on the front nine Sunday, but came home strong to finish with a 74 and win the $10,000 St. Petersburg Open — first professional women's golf tournament this year.

Her total, thanks to a record second-round 66, was 281.

Miss Whitworth went into the final round with a five stroke lead, but saw that cut to three strokes on the front nine as Sandra Haynie, a fellow Texan, shot a 35 to Miss Whitworth's 39.

YCC Basketball
 The Top O' Texas Basketball Tournament opens tonight at 7:30 at the Pampa YCC, with Walsh of Amarillo meeting Richard Drug of Pampa, while Stinnett and Spearman tangle at 9 p.m.

The winner of the second game meets top-seeded Graham Plowboys of Amarillo at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, following a 7 p.m. meeting between the Pampa Newsboys and the winner of the Walsh-Richard game.

McGibbon Oilers meet Cock O' Walk at 8:30 Tuesday night, following the McVicker-Borger game at 7.

Semifinals will start at 7 p.m. Thursday, with third place and finals games Friday.

The Panama Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Panama News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Freedom of Reading in Danger?

Down through the years our freedom of the press has not been easy to maintain. And it was probably never in greater peril than it is today. But it now appears that the freedom of reading is likewise in danger.

"Don't Cancel Subscription, FBI May Come Visit You," says editorial headline in the Swainsboro (Ga.) Forest-Blade and Editor William C. Rogers goes on to remark: "Let us warn you! If you get a notice that your subscription to the Forest-Blade is running out, be careful."

The Oglethorpe Echo reports that Leo Meyers of Oglethorpe County had a visit from the FBI after cancelling his subscription to a certain newspaper.

The sequence of events ran like this:

"Mr. Meyer had several days before sent a notice to cancel his subscription since he was now subscribing to another newspaper and didn't care to receive their 'President' Johnson poop-sheet' any longer."

"On Tuesday of the following week, he said, an FBI agent and a GBI agent came to his house and asked him if he was the man that sent the letter to the newspaper cancelling his subscription."

The 'Approved' View

Free speech does not mean that some views are to be subsidized by the government and promoted until they are popular, whereas opposing views are to be censored and left to clandestine expression.

Who Will Be Boss?

We are hearing in these post-Khrushchev days of Aleksei Kosygin, chairman of the USSR's Council of Ministers (and usually described in the West as "Premier") almost to the exclusion of his duly constituted partner, Leonid Brezhnev who is Communist Party First Secretary.

Premier Kosygin, for instance, did the something of in Hanoi as the guest of North Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh, getting world headlines on two themes: (1) Americans are no good; and (2) Russia will do more for the Viet Cong than Red China. But where is First Secretary Brezhnev? What's he been saying and to whom? Who knows?

Such speculation reminds us of the thesis of Frank Johnson, foreign editor of American Security Council, who points out in the current Washington News Beat magazine that collective leadership won't work in Communist regimes. He cites the fact that "Lenin found it necessary to overcome his timid colleagues and become a dictator in spite of himself," that Stalin had to do likewise, maintaining his authority "by killing or exiling his enemies and by the most ruthless methods of terror." Following his death in 1953 there were three fumbling years of collective leadership while Georgi Malenkov was banished to a Siberian power-plant until the emergence of Khrushchev as top dog in 1957.

Which, then, of the present pair will survive? Traditionally, Mr. Johnson points out, the Communist Party First Secretary holds the big stick, nudges the Premier to one side and takes over his job, too. Thus, we wonder whether First Secretary Brezhnev is playing a waiting game while Premier Kosygin wears himself out getting in the newsreels and making loose promises. And today, for the first time since the Communists took over, thinks Mr. Johnson, a third outcome of collective leadership is possible. The seizure of power by the military, he says, "has become a real possibility in the Soviet Union."

While the Army Brass could control the country, they could hardly run it. And there would conceivably be a chance that the civilian managers they would appoint to restore the economy just might be from the swelling ranks of Soviet executives who now recognize the imperative need of incentives for workers at all levels and are prepared, psychologically at least, to move over to something that at least resembles capitalism.

We can dream, can't we? But Comrades Kosygin and Brezhnev had better not!

National Outlook

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

New Trends in Job Creation

Current trends in employment, as analyzed in Secretary of Labor Wirtz's recent Manpower Report, are encouraging in several respects. The rate of job creation accelerated quite dramatically in 1963 and 1964. And, perhaps even more significant, the distribution of new jobs as among industries, occupations, and geographical regions has become more evenly balanced than in the period prior to 1963.

During the half-decade from 1957 to 1962 we experienced a period of economic sluggishness. Employment in non-agricultural industries increased at an average rate of only about 500,000 a year. Since agricultural employment was declining by about 200,000 annually, there was not much left to provide a net increase in jobs for the growing labor force.

Gratifying Trend

In 1963 the annual rate of new job creation in the non-agricultural sector stepped up to 1,100,000, and in 1964 to over 1,500,000. Farm jobs continued to disappear at about the same rate as before, but now there was a respectable net over-all gain. A slow, but gratifying, reduction in the unemployment rate has occurred during the past two years.

When one looks beyond these summary figures there has been a striking change in the composition of the new job opportunities. In the doldrum period of 1957 to 1962, there was an actual decline of about 10,000 jobs a year in the goods-producing industries — manufacturing, mining, and construction. All the new jobs were created in the service-producing category, including government. Almost half of the 500,000 annual net gain in non-farm employment occurred in government — mainly the state and local governments.

Spread More Evenly

But during the past two years the goods-producing industries have again become large contributors to the growth in employment. In 1964 the net increase in jobs in these industries amounted to 420,000. Government employment has continued to expand but it now accounts for only about one-fifth, instead of one-half, of the total increase in jobs.

The reversal of trend has been most impressive in manufacturing. Between 1957 and 1962 there was an actual decline in employment in manufacturing, as compared with an increase of 300,000 jobs in 1964. Furthermore, the new job opportunities are being spread more evenly over the country than was the case in the five years prior to 1962. The Pacific and Mountain regions, which in the earlier period were developing job opportunities faster than any other section, are now growing about in line with the general average. The Central and Southern states have stepped up their employment growth rates.

The decline in blue-collar employment was arrested, and dramatically reversed, in 1964. In that year blue-collar jobs increased by over 500,000. Only time will tell whether these developments in 1964 will turn out to have been the beginning of new and continuing trends. But we may have to re-examine the belief, which became prevalent a couple of years ago, that blue-collar employment must inevitably decline and new job opportunities will all be in the service industries.

President Must Choose Whether to Bomb, and Blockade Hanoi — or Let Deadly SAMs Be Installed

ROBERT ALLEN

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is grappling with a grim choice in a deadly race against time in the intensifying air war in Viet Nam.

He must decide between two fateful alternatives:

1) To authorize massive air strikes to destroy the Communists' crucial airfields, rail lines, marshaling yards, industrial plants and other vital installations and facilities at Hanoi and its main port at nearby Haiphong.

—So far, in the "controlled" bombing policy now in effect, these vital targets have been untouched. Only relatively minor ones are being hit in U.S. and South Viet Nam air attacks.

2) To allow the Reds sufficient time to install Russian SAM (ground-to-air) missiles capable of imposing as high as 85 per cent losses on attacking planes. Such losses now average less than 3 per cent.

Intelligence authorities estimate the lethally destructive SAM missiles will be operative around April 1.

Directly involved in the President's "agonizing" decision is another equally stark problem — taking forceful measures to prevent the Soviet from delivering these fearful anti-aircraft weapons.

This would mean stopping their ships from transporting the SAMs.

Freighters loaded with these missiles are known to be en route to North Viet Nam.

Ships and planes of the U.S. Seventh Fleet are tracking five Russian vessels, including two with large hatches of the type used for loading missiles. All the freighters loaded their cargoes at Black Sea ports.

Navy authorities estimate they will arrive at Haiphong by March 25.

SAME OLD STORY — Barring freighters from North Vietnam would mean a direct and immediate confrontation between the U.S. and Russia.

The consequence would be an intense escalation of the protracted Viet Nam war. As has long been the case, President Johnson's inner council is split squarely down the middle over taking such a fateful calculated risk.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff are strongly arguing that one of two courses must be pursued: Either launch all-out air attacks to demolish the Reds' crucial plants, depots and other installations and facilities at Hanoi and Haiphong, or use the Seventh Fleet to turn back the Soviet ships carrying the deadly SAM missiles.

If the devastating air strikes are not ordered, then the Joint Chiefs contend the only other tenable alternative is to prevent the killer SAMs from being installed.

Otherwise, they warn, air strikes will become prohibitive costly. Secretary Rusk, Secretary McNamara and McGeorge Bundy, highly influential special

White House adviser on foreign affairs, are vigorously against both courses.

They favor employing the Seventh Fleet to assist South Viet Nam to thwart Red smuggling of arms and guerrillas to the Viet Cong. But the trio is opposed to other naval measures, particularly intervening with Russian shipping, on the ground they would constitute acts of war.

The Bundy-Rusk-McNamara position is that the "controlled" bombing policy now in effect will exert sufficient pressure on Hanoi to bring about negotiations for a settlement.

The Joint Chiefs are convinced that is an unsound theory. As evidence, they cite the incontrovertible fact that "controlled" bombing has had no effect on Hanoi.

It is the emphatic view of the military leaders that the Ho Chi Minh regime can be "brought to the conference table" only by two immediate stringent measures: Massive air attacks on the key Hanoi-Haiphong targets, coupled with a tight Seventh Fleet blockade of the North Viet Nam coast to bar Soviet and other arms shipments and supplies.

So far, President Johnson has given no indication what he is likely to do.

Meanwhile, in the past week, two Soviet merchant ships—Okhotsk and Bryansk — unloaded large quantities of military equipment at Haiphong, under cover of darkness and in a tight security. There were numerous crates, but none large. The SAMs are capable of firing both conventional and nuclear warheads. It has a range of some 30 miles, and an altitude of more than 80,000 feet. With a nuclear warhead, SAM can destroy all planes within a radius of several miles.

Cuba is heavily armed with SAMs. A number of Russian "technicians" are still manning these weapons. Cuban crews to take them over are being trained both at home and in the Soviet.

FOREIGN FLASHES — Turkey and Poland have signed a new trade agreement totaling $24 million. Red China and Cuba have expanded their five-year trade agreement. An intriguing aspect of this deal is that it calls for the "transport of cargo and passengers" by plane between the two countries. And amazingly, in view of the furious trading between Peking and Moscow, these planes are four-engine Ilyushin turboprops THAT RUSSIA HAS SOLD TO RED CHINA. This raises a lot of doubt as to just how real their apparent feuding actually is.

A thought for the day: (Novelist W. Somerset Maugham once said: "People ask you for criticism, but they only want praise.")

The Nation's Press

NOT WITH A BANG BUT A WHIMPER

(Chicago Tribune)

The 19th general assembly of the United Nations has come to an ignoble end after three months of refusing to look facts in the face. Its record was empty and sterile. It discussed nothing of importance. It accomplished nothing except to save its own hide and the push jobs of the delegates who live high on the hog in Babylon on the East river.

The issue before the assembly was whether it would enforce the charter by stripping the deadbeats who refused to pay their dues of their votes in the assembly. The Soviet Union, which owes more than $42 million, is the principal delinquent, but there are scads of others, among them France, which joined the Russians in refusing to pay its share of the costs of U.N. "peace-keeping" forces in the Congo, Cyprus, and near east.

At this point, the assembly, having agreed not to vote, decided to reverse itself and vote anyway on whether the Albanian motion, as a "procedural question," should be ruled out of order. Stevenson, swallowing his valor along with his pride, offered this proposal, and then voted with the Soviet delegate to run away from a fight. This enabled the assembly to adjourn and everybody to slink out of town until next September, when some new evasions will be necessary.

Adlai Stevenson, the American spokesman, started out beating his breast like Tarzan and proclaiming, "No rubles, no vote." But, in a neat bit of evasion, the membership decided to forgo voting on anything. It would reach all decisions by unanimous agreement. Thus the issue of unseating Russia never came up, although at the last moment communist Albania, fronting for Red China, tried to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery by forcing a showdown.

At this point, the assembly, having agreed not to vote, decided to reverse itself and vote anyway on whether the Albanian motion, as a "procedural question," should be ruled out of order. Stevenson, swallowing his valor along with his pride, offered this proposal, and then voted with the Soviet delegate to run away from a fight. This enabled the assembly to adjourn and everybody to slink out of town until next September, when some new evasions will be necessary.

Cannel At Bay By Ward Cannel

The Almanac

Mrs. Gullis Takes On The Press NE YORK (NEA) — (Because of the possibility of a strike against New York City's newspapers by the typographical union, Ward Cannel's column will not appear today.)

(In its place is a news analysis of the situation by his landlady, Mrs. Mae Gullis, who could tell you a thing or two about the newspapers from what she has seen of the goings on in Apt. 2B.)

By MRS. MAE GULLIS My Ernie says this here possible newspaper strike is because of the new machines that could replace the men. But I say if that is the case then it is the own fault of the newspapers.

You cannot go around writing them human interest stories all the time without sooner or later you get people to start taking themselves seriously.

But if you ask me what I think I think it is nothing of the kind. I think it is a lousy little plot between the papers and the Supreme Court.

Ernie says now Mae dear there two could not possibly be connected.

Ha that is also what he said about the radiators in 5A that time the oil bill got so big and we had to take the tenants to court for a rent increase.

O you people do not have no idea what it is like to operate a decent property nowadays without you also have to worry whether the tenants are doing plumbing the minute your back is turned.

But that is just the 1/2 of it. And then to open the paper the next a.m. and see everything you said in court printed verbatim as if it was the truth. If that is freedom of the press I think it is finally rotten.

Now I finally am all in favor of the newspapers myself. But I do not see why they cannot leave well enough alone and be more like the TV where you can watch the news and not have to worry every 2nd if they are stirring up the tenants.

I especially like them longer news programs after supper and find if you turn the sound way down it is very restful just sitting back and watching them nice looking young men nodding and blinking at one and another.

With the papers you cannot do that but must read it each day to find out what it is about at a great cost of time.

Of course I for I do not want to see no strike in the newspapers and shutter to think of the last time they ran one. It was terrible. You had to make do with old Xmas wrappings or store boughten bags at 4c ea.

I do not think it will come to that as I have told Cannel in 2B that if he is replaced by a machine it will have to pay the same rent even if it does not use no utilities.

Besides, nobody will ever convince me that is the problem. If they close the papers I would be willing to bet you 1/4 it is just so decent people like I cannot find out what is playing on the TV.

A story: "New Facial Lotions Are Designed To Hide Wrinkles In Minutes." Most gals don't care where they hide so long as they disappear.

By United Press International Today is Monday March 22, the 81st day of 1965 with 284 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Mercury and Jupiter.

Anthony Van Dyck, the Flemish painter, was born on this day in 1599.

On this day in history: In 1794, Congress passed legislation forbidding slave trading with foreign nations.

In 1820, Commodore Stephen Decatur, the American naval hero, was mortally wounded in a duel with Commodore James Barron outside of Washington.

In 1874, the Young Men's Hebrew Association was founded.

In 1941, the Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia River began producing electrical power.

Wit and Whimsy

Pete — Brown says he is always ready to grant his wife's smallest wish. Do you believe it?

John — Oh, yes — if it's small enough.

The woman who marries a man for his money usually earns it.

Artistic Temperament — Seldom recognized until it's too old to spank.

Two men working side by side in the War Production Board in Washington never spoke, but each watched the other. One man quit work daily at 4 o'clock, while the other always worked till 6 or later.

Finally, the harder worker approached the other.

Hard working man — I beg your pardon. Do you mind telling me how you clean up all your work everyday at 4 o'clock?

Other man — Not at all. When I come to a tough piece of detail, I mark it "Refer to Cmdr. Jones." I figure that in an outfit as large as this there is sure to be a Cmdr. Jones, and I must be right. None of those papers come back to me.

Hard working man — I beg your coat! — Brother, prepare for action. I'm Cmdr. Jones.

Deacon Jones was deaf; but he was energetic as they make 'em. His particular function in the Log City Presbyterian Church was selling the new hymnal to the members at seventy-five cents a copy.

One day, after the preacher finished his sermon, he arose and said:

Preacher — All you who have children to baptize will please present them next Sabbath.

Deaf Deacon Jones, anxious to be of assistance, and supposing the announcement concerned the hymnals, rose and cried out:

Deaf Deacon Jones — All you who haven't, can get as many as you want by calling on me, at seventy-five cents apiece.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

FICTION
 "The Italian Girl" — Iris Murdoch; Edmund Narraway subconsciously considered himself a saint, set apart from other mortals; but life was lying in wait for him and he had no avenue of escape. In the kaleidoscope of scenes following his mother's death, he finally discerns the Italian girl.
 "Corridors of Power" — D. P. Snow; the story of a politician called Roger Quaipe who rises to the top of English politics and wants to do something valuable with the power once he has won it. In the end he is defeated and ruined.
 "Word of Mouth" — Jerome Weidman; a New York lawyer,

35, happily married, is taken back to his childhood when a successful producer and a woman director decide to do a play about his famous father. He discovers truths about himself even more horrifying than what he had known about his father.
 "Up The Down Staircase" — Ben Kaufman; a satiric novel about the misadventures of a harassed school teacher in today's classroom. It is told in the form of scraps and bits of information "found" in a teacher's wastebasket.
 "White Lotus" — John Hersey; the author boldly dramatizes the issues of race in this novel which is essentially a creation of the imagination, in which the dust and confusion of immediate issues are pierced, and the underlying issue is searched out.
 "The Best of H. E. Bates" — the collection displays the versatility and infinite variety of H. E. Bates as a master storyteller, and represent the best of his lifework.
 "Jane Clemens" — Rachel M. Varble; Mark Twain's mother, Jane Lampton Clemens, emerges as a vital person in her own right in this biography that also presents a close-up of the people, houses, clothes, inns, meals and fads of the period.
 "Reminiscences" — Douglas MacArthur; in his own words, General Douglas MacArthur, the center of controversy during four wars, portrays his life as a soldier, decade by decade, battlefield by battlefield.
 "Sixpence In Her Shoe" —

"Miracle" for False Teeth

Vogue Cleaners Offers Protection For Raincoats

Soggy Raincoats—Thing of the Past
Tips on Care For Outerwear by Fred Malone
 Chemical breakthrough! Unique textile finish Weather Guards all outerwear and household goods.
 A spectacular new development of a chemical product called Weather Guard. So great is the protective finish imparted by Weather Guard that without it your weather coat is not weather-proof. The cost of weather-proofing your garments is really small, ask us about it for raincoats, outerwear, draperies and slipcovers. When materials are treated with Weather Guard, they attain a resistance to moisture, spots and stains.
 The exciting discovery of a compound called Antipen solved the problem that has plagued the industry for over a decade. Weather Guard produces a soft resistant finish which means customer satisfaction. Vogue Cleaners is the first to offer this service. Always look to Vogue, first with the latest convenient drive-up car service, after hour clothes drop (open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Other services offered by Vogue include Minute Man Service for those who want garments cleaned in a short time—glove, suede and leather cleaning—reweaving-dyeing-all kinds of alterations—drapes and slip covers-storage-moth-proofing. 30 day accounts invited.

COIN SUPPLY IMPROVES
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The coin supply is getting better.
 The House monetary affairs subcommittee reported Sunday night that only the John F. Kennedy 50-cent piece remains in short supply after a crash program by the U.S. mint to get more coins into circulation.
 The subcommittee said the Kennedy half-dollars were running low "not so much because inadequate quantities have been produced, but because millions of people treat them as mementos and thus keep them out of circulation."
HONORARY DEGREE
PADUA, Italy (UPI) — The University of Padua Saturday awarded an honorary degree to Prof. Robert Hofstadter, 1961 Nobel Prize winner for his research with electrons at Stanford University in California.

BODY WORK HEADQUARTERS — Ford's Body Shop at 111 N. Frost offers the most complete and up-to-date body and automotive painting service in the Top O' Texas area. Efficient personnel are on hand at all times to make your car as good as new, regardless of how large or small the job may be. Ford's proud, too, of the reasonable prices for the excellent work.

Ford's Has Solution for Bends and Dents

Ford's Body Shop at 111 N. Frost offers a practical solution to problems of automobile body work. With pounding rain and harsh roads ahead during the winter months, your car will undoubtedly take a terrific beating, and you will need a practical solution to those dents incurred during this time.
 Ford's Body Shop does not claim that they can "hang the moon," but they do claim they can give you an A-1 job on any body work your car might need. The efficient personnel at Ford's realize that the main objective of their business is to make your car as good as new; no matter how large or small the job might be. As they put it, "We can't hang the moon or stop a war, but we can fix your car." With this in mind, you can be sure that you won't receive overrated promises and unreasonable prices when you stop in for your next car problem at Ford's Body Shop.
 If your car has been needing a new paint job, or maybe a few dents taken out, then there is no need for you to wait another day. Take your car to Ford's today and let their expert personnel look your car over, and give you a down-to-earth estimate of the cost of making your car like new. It doesn't cost a thing to find out. You may be surprised to find out that your car is not a money-eater after all.
 Ford's have never believed that high prices make a business. It is the quality of the workmanship that make people trust a man with their car. So if you are looking for top-quality work at a practical price, then the place for you to go is Ford's Body Shop, 111 N. Frost.

Phyllis McGinley; the author believes that the role of wife, homemaker, and mother is a creative art and she describes here every aspect of housewifery. From attic to basement, with particular emphasis on the affairs in the kitchen, she contributes her observations.
 "Who Speaks For the South?" — James McBride Dabbs; an enlightening book that explores the inexplicable paradoxes of the South in terms of people rather than slogans; written for readers who wish to face the issues objectively, this book is invaluable if one is to understand why the South acts as it does.
 "Politics And The Businessman" — David J. Galligan; this is expert help on how to approach getting involved in politics — for everyone who wants to learn what politics is all about, and who wants to translate his knowledge into effective action.
GETS CHINESE PLAUDITS
TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China broke three days of silence on the Soviet space flight Sunday and sent congratulations to the Kremlin.
 Radio Peking said the congratulatory cable was signed by Mao Tse-tung, Chou En-lai and Liu Shao-chi. It was addressed to their Russian counterparts — Leonid I. Brezhnev, Alexei N. Kosygin and Anastas Mikoyan.

Financial Gossip

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Today's land development projects no longer are the exclusive hunting ground of the real estate man, a developer said, but are attracting the attention of "big business."
 Joseph Timan, president of Horizon Land Corp., a major developer of territory in the southwestern United States, ticked off the names of a few major industrial companies which have shown interest in land development in recent years.
 "They are buying into them because they see profits in the future," said Timan on a recent visit here, "and it has been a good thing for the industry."
No Overall Planning
 But too often in the past, he continued, there has been development without the overall planning which should always precede it. Even the home-buyer often has not shown foresight in his selection," Timan said.
 "We've grown into a country of 'throw-away', looking for a new model every year," he said. "A new TV set, a new radio, a new car, a new car—and somebody has to pay for it. But we're also doing it for too many of our homes. The buyer doesn't look to see whether his house is in a community that is a good place to live—but only to see that the house is new."
Ground Up Planning
 Timan said it was the opportunity to plan communities from the ground up, with a careful mixture of industry—for its employment and tax benefits—schools, shopping areas and homes that led to his interest in the Southwest, and to the formation of the land company in May, 1959. He said that today it is the largest single company in that area, with control over slightly less than 250,000 acres.
