Daring Bomb Squad Saves Viet Air Base

U.S. Starts Inquiry of Explosions

SAIGON (UPI) — Two iron-nerved U.S. Army officers risked their lives today to destroy four deadly time bombs buried in the wreckage of Bien Hoa air base — scene of the worst American disaster of the Viet Nam war.

A military spokesman said as many as 27 Americans may have died Sunday in a flight line explosion that destroyed 22 bomb-laden planes and other American property worth at least $20 million. Four Vietnamese were killed and more than 100 U.S. personnel were injured.

The official U.S. casualty toll was placed at 5 dead, 22 missing and 103 wounded. Of 21 bodies in military morgues in Saigon only five have been identified. A spokesman said it would be "many days" before all of the American victims could be identified, so powerful was the blast.

Medical and dental records were being used to identify many of the dead.

Several 500-pound bombs equipped with time fuses were buried in the debris.

Lt. Col. John P. O'Shaughnessy and Capt. Robert J. Earl found the four time bombs today and neutralized them in a daring demolition mission. The hazards involved in the job were underscored when one bomb exploded by itself earlier today.

All of the potentially dangerous bombs will have to be destroyed before an official investigation can be started.

The inspector general of the Air Force, Lt. Gen. William K. Martin, headed a Defense Department team dispatched from Washington to make a thorough inquiry into the disaster.

Unauthorized personnel were prevented from going within 1,000 yards of the bomb area.

Sabotage Ruled Out
Air Force officials said Sunday's chain reaction blast was an accident and ruled out sabotage by Viet Cong guerrillas lurking in the Communist-infested countryside around the big air base.

Ten of the wrecked planes were B57 Canberra jet bombers, each worth $12 million. Maj. Gen. Joseph H. Moore, commander of the U.S. Air Force in South Viet Nam, said the losses represented 16 per cent of America's nuclear-capable B57 fleet.

The trigger for the blast was apparently a 50-pound bomb which exploded aboard a B57 as it taxied along the flight line for a combat mission against Communist positions in South Viet Nam.

Moore said it was possible the fuse on the bomb had been improperly set.

Set Off Chain
The explosion blew the supersonic jet apart, setting off the entire load of incendiary and general purpose bombs aboard and sending flaming wreckage and searing white phosphorous over the area.

It was like lighting a string of giant firecrackers.

The other planes along the line caught fire and exploded one by one as flames reached their ammunition and bomb loads. In addition to the 10 B57s, 11 Vietnamese Skyraider fighter-bombers and a U.S. Navy F8 crusader were destroyed.

The concussion knocked out the base control tower and collapsed the walls of nearby hangars.

Congress Hears Proposal On LBJ's Excise Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today asked Congress for an excise tax cut of nearly $4 billion and called on business to translate the reductions promptly into lower consumer prices.

Specifically, the President recommended an excise tax cut of $3.5 billion in two equal stages effective next July 1 and Jan. 1, 1966.

Another $464 million would be cut in additional installments on Jan. 1 each year from 1967 through 1969.

In a special message to Congress, Johnson also proposed an increase of $300 million in "user charges" meaning higher taxes on fuel used by trucks, airplanes and boats on inland waterways.

A proposed cut of major impact on the nation's economy would be in the manufacturers' excise tax on new automobiles. Johnson recommended that this be reduced from the present 10 per cent to 7 per cent beginning immediately and down to 5 per cent in 1967.

Johnson recommended that the first part of a cut in excises on cars be made retroactive to Saturday, when he made the announcement that he would seek the reductions.

The President recommended complete repeal of the tax on air conditioners and like the cut in the auto levy, to avoid a lag in the retail market, he asked that the cut on air conditioners be retroactive to purchases made after last Friday.

In the cases of both car and air conditioner purchases, after enactment of the tax bill, the government would make refunds to the manufacturer when evidence is presented that the final customer had been reimbursed.

In the July 1 schedule, the President asked full repeal of retail excise taxes on handbags and luggage, toilet articles, jewelry and furs.

On the same date he would repeal the manufacturers' excise taxes on radios, television sets, record players, cameras, refrigerators and freezers, air conditioners and other appliances.

Congress is expected to act quickly and favorably on the requests. There is strong sentiment among lawmakers for cutting excise taxes. The House Ways & Means Committee, which initiates tax legislation, plans to begin prompt consideration of the proposal.

In his message, Johnson said: "The proposed program of excise taxes and revisions will spur growth and move us closer to full employment by removing an unnecessary drag on consumer and business purchasing power.

"Removal of excise taxes will . . . cut the prices of many items to consumers and thereby tend to ease pressures on our cost of living.

"To ensure that the excise tax reductions make the maximum contribution to continued price stability and balanced prosperity, I call on American business to translate lower excise taxes promptly into lower retail prices and ease pressures on our cost of living."

There would be a complete repeal on July 1 of excise taxes on safe deposit boxes, coin-operated amusement devices, bowling alleys and pool tables.

Rain Forecast For Pampa Area

While Pampa and the Panhandle basked in warm sunshine Sunday parts of Texas suffered the worst flooding in years and tornadoes continued to plague the south and central parts of Texas.

The Amarillo Weather Bureau promised scattered thunder-showers for the Panhandle tonight and cooler temperatures Tuesday. Highs Tuesday are forecast in the low 70s. Tonight low was forecast near 50.

Temperatures hit 75 degrees in Pampa Sunday and the overnight low was 54. At 8 a.m. the mercury read 61 degrees.

The rich agricultural Lower Rio Grande Valley welcomed the rains, which measured up to 4 inches in the La Gloria area of Starr County, but a broad expanse of Central Texas suffered severe flooding in the wake of downpours that measured up to 9 inches at Killen.

Tornadoes lashed Midland, causing heavy damage and Ingleside, where a trailer home was hit. Other twisters were reported near Alice, where 5.31 inches of rain fell in a 12-hour period.

Winds up to 70 miles per hour rattled the streets at Gainesville—along the Red River—with big tree limbs and power and telephone lines.

Utility services were disrupted at McAllen and Edinburg in the mid-valley section when they were victims of a blowing 2-inch downpour in 90 minutes before dawn today.

Extended five-day forecasts indicated an easing of the storm pattern, although thunderstorms still were expected through tomorrow in southern and eastern sections of the state.

Skies cleared in West Texas today and partly cloudy skies were reported as far east as a Dallas-Waco-San Antonio line. Temperatures ranged from 53 degrees at Dalhart to the mid-70s on the coast.

Secrecy Surrounds Dominican Discussions

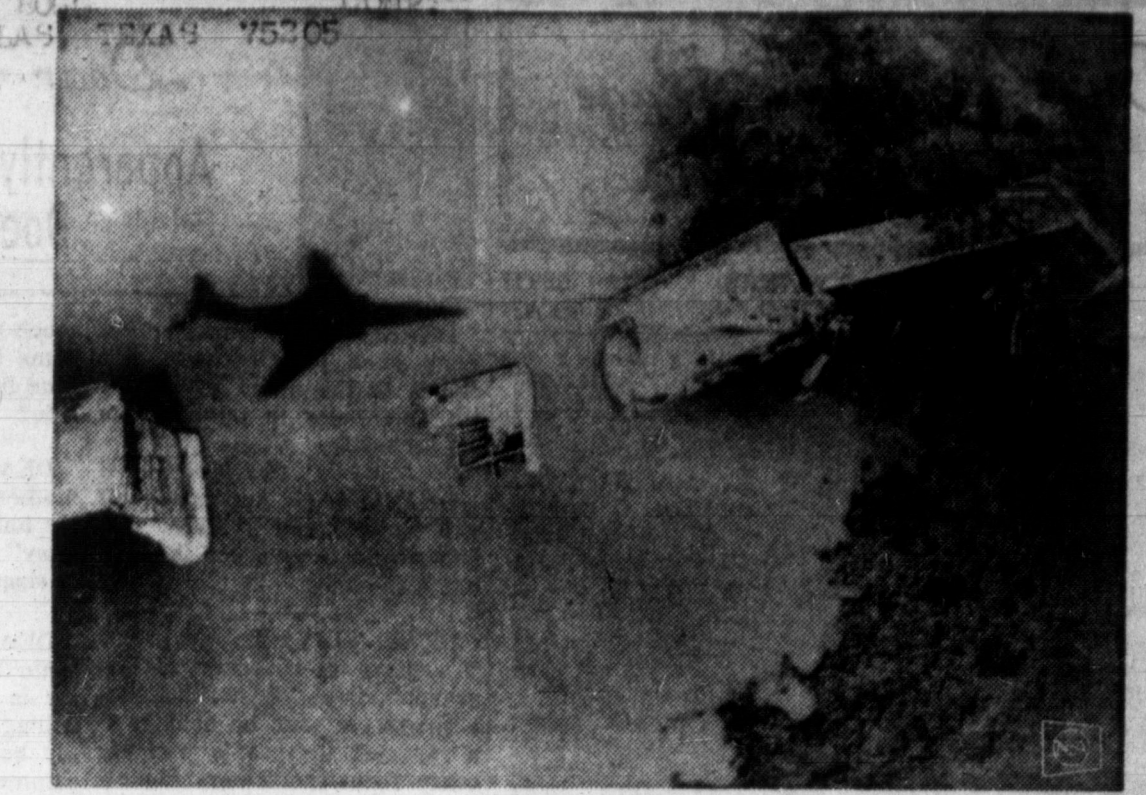

SEEKING SNIPERS — Marines on patrol duty at Haina, near Santo Domingo in the Dominican Republic, use an ancient cannon as a barricade while searching for snipers.

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — The four-member fact-finding panel sent here by President Johnson is trying to arrange a new coalition government made up of Dominican junta leaders and the "constitutionalist" rebels, informed sources said today.

Secrecy surrounded the discussions being carried out by the State Department team and mediators for the Organization of American States (OAS). While the diplomats talked, heavy street fighting erupted in the rebel-held northern sector of Santo Domingo.

Arriving Sunday from Washington were McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs; Cyrus R. Vance, undersecretary of defense; Thomas C. Mann, undersecretary of state for economic affairs; and Jack Hood Vaughn, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. (See DISCUSSIONS, Page 3)

BATTERED BRIDGE — An American jet casts its shadow over the missing spans of a highway bridge in North Viet Nam. The bridge was demolished during a recent raid by South Vietnamese and American planes.

Solons Ready for Stretch Fight on Teacher Pay Hike

AUSTIN (UPI)—The lawmakers get ready today for a home-stretch fight on teacher pay—how much and how soon. Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, backer of the pay raise plan teachers want, wants action of some kind, and quickly.

Hinson backs the Texas State Teachers' Association's $45 monthly pay raise bill and is expected to indicate Tuesday to Gov. John Connally what kind of compromise the TSTA would accept.

Last week, Hinson and Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, Senate TSTA sponsor, stood firm in tentative compromise talks. Hinson's bill is in the House appropriations subcommittee headed by Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah, sponsor of the smaller, slower raise which Gov. John Connally backs.

It is Healy's bill that most observers expect to emerge from the House committee. Aikin won committee approval for the TSTA plan in the upper chamber last week, but the senators have other worries.

Tuesday is the day of reckoning for senators doomed by a Senate remap plan shuttled out of subcommittee last week. The proposal met a cool reception because it maps 13 incumbents into six districts.

A separate plan by Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall meant the loss of seven present senators, and was set aside, too, while the senators took a last hungry glance at the plan to enlarge the upper chamber from 31 to 39 seats.

The last time the Senate tried that, the House members demanded four-year terms for themselves as ransom and only a thaw by the House members on the 10-man conference committee which has held the proposal for a 39-member Senate for weeks now would save the doomed senators.

Healy is one of the House conferees. "You think we're going to give them 39 members?" he grumbled last week.

Healy's appropriations panel listens today to San Antonio's plea for $7.5 million in state money to back HemisFair '68, the hemispheric fair the city is planning.

The Senate budgeting panel already has approved the idea of the special appropriation, and Connally is known to favor it. San Antonio lawmakers claim that without state help, they cannot get federal money and without federal money, cannot win the international recognition which will make the fair a success.

Rights Parley Fails In Louisiana; Talks Reset

By United Press International
Negroes and whites sat down at a conference Sunday at Bogalusa, La., to try to work out racial problems. But after the meeting, Negroes said it was "totally unsatisfactory" and planned a new strategy session tonight.

The meeting lasted three hours. Attending were 10 members of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League, Mayor Jesse Cutrer and the City Council and a three-man mediation team.

Earlier Sunday, seven civil rights workers were turned away from the First Baptist Church, to which Cutrer belongs. But they attended for the second Sunday at St. Matthews Episcopal Church.

Bogalusa, a papermill city that borders on Mississippi, has been beset for months by Negro demonstrators attempting to increase job opportunities and integration.

In other developments during the weekend, three men accused of slaying a white woman who participated in a "freedom" march in Alabama and their attorney were the main attractions at Ku Klux Klan rallies in North Carolina.

More than 1,000 persons turned out for the rallies — at Dunn Saturday night and at Sanford Sunday.

Klan attorney Matt H. Murphy Jr. of Birmingham told both rallies that he would free his three clients on the charge of killing Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a Detroit mother of five shot to death March 25 near Hayneville, Ala. She had been shuttling Negro demonstrators who had participated in the Selma-to-Montgomery march led by Dr. Martin Luther King.

The three Klansmen have been hailed as heroes at a series of Klan rallies since one of them, Collie Leroy Wilkins, Jr., 21, won a mistrial because of a hung jury.

Elsewhere: Selma, Ala.: A federal court hearing resumes today on Negroes' attempts to have Dallas County Sheriff James G. Clark cited for contempt of court for arresting demonstrators.

Houston, Tex.: Negroes planned a house to house campaign today to try to defeat a school construction bond election in an effort to speed up classroom integration. Negro leaders said the election will provide a test of strength for Negro voters.

Slides Threaten Ski Resort

GARMISCH - PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (UPI) — It was a horror . . . it happened like a flash. Just boom, whoosh, white stuff splattering the window . . . then I grabbed the phone."

Rick Baldwin, 22, of Dalton, Pa., a member of the U.S. Army alpine ski patrol, today described the terror of Saturday's avalanche which roared down the slopes of Mt. Zugspitze, Germany's highest peak.

At least 25 persons, all Germans or Bavarians, were known dead in the slide, worst ever to hit the German Alps. Others were believed buried under tons of snow and ice which covered this ski resort at the base of the mountain.

More than 50 rescue workers, including U.S. Army troops, today were probing through tons of snow and rock. Demolition experts were trying to blast away gigantic snow ridges threatening the area with new slides.

Baldwin and another Pennsylvanian, Tom Gannon, 23, of College Park, were tending the Army's Garmisch recreation area ski shop when the avalanche struck. Both are private first class.

"It was like a slow-motion horror movie," Gannon related. "The snow shelf on top of the hotel crumbled and fell down. It looked like it was going to land smack on the roof . . . I could hear people screaming from the hotel. The terrace railing was all twisted off and sun chairs were scattered and twisted on the slope. Down at the bottom I could see black dots in the snow. Dear Abby... Apparently This Wife Doesn't Give a Darn

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a married man who comes to the office every day with big holes in the heels of his socks?

OFFICE GANG: Apparently his wife doesn't give a darn. And he's afraid to give her the needle.

DEAR ABBY: We are in our 50's, have grown children and grandchildren. My husband has a sports car, and he belongs to a car club for people who are crazy about sports cars. They go on long drives together. Each one is some kind of show-off, really. I have back trouble and my doctor says I can't ride in bucket seats or in fast swerving cars — so hubby says I am selfish when I refuse to go on those car trips with him. He drives his sports car to work 25 miles every day, yet he is mad when I tell him I want an ordinary-sized, comfortable car for week ends. I realize he enjoys his sports car, but do we have to belong to a car club? We are twice as old as the average member.

DON'S WIFE: The family that stays together stays together. So if, due to a bad back, you can't race around in a sports car, your husband should turn in his goggles and helmet and join you for a game of checkers.

DEAR ABBY: My boy is 29 years old and he still lives at home. He has a good paying job which leaves him $416 a month take-home, not counting overtime. I keep his room cleaned up, do his laundry, see that his suit is pressed and I even shine his shoes. He eats breakfast at home every morning, I pack him a lunch, and he eats dinner at home about four nights a week. If he doesn't get steak every night he hollers. He gives me $50 a month and complains that this is too much. I would like to have an idea of how much other mothers get for the same kind of service. The next time he complains, what should I do?

HOUSTON: Other mothers get twice that amount for half the service. Give your "boy" back his $50 and tell him to shop around for a better deal.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent Toronto Telegram there was a letter in your column regarding willing one's eyes after death. My husband died suddenly last summer. Both he and I had signed statements willing our eyes, but I was in a state of shock and forgot all about it until my 20-year-old son reminded me. My neighbor took the signed consent slip to the hospital immediately. (Time is an important element.) Thank heaven it wasn't too late.

Of all the hundreds of expressions of sympathy I received on the loss of my husband, the one most comforting to me was a letter saying that my husband's eyes are helping two formerly blind people to see. You may use my name if you wish.

Yours truly,
BETTY BISHOP

AFS Requests Host Homes For 35 Exchange Students

Pampa's chapter of the American Field Service today issued an appeal to Pampans willing to take a foreign exchange student into their home on the nights of June 26 and 27. The local AFS will host approximately 35 visiting students during a bus stopover here. The students have been attending school in the U.S. under the AFS exchange student program and will stop here on the way back to New York City prior to departing for their home countries. Hustling White Sox Move Out in Front

By United Press International
Al Lopez has his Chicago White Sox hitting, hustling and healthy.

But most important, believe they received excellent pitching once again Sunday as they registered a 6-2, 5-4 doubleheader sweep of the Los Angeles Angels to surge 2½ games in front of Minnesota.

Reputed to possess the best all-around pitching in baseball, the Sox have surprised rivals with enough timely hitting to lead all teams with a .263 average, almost 50 points more than the ever dangerous Yankees, who have sunk to eighth place.

In other American League contests, Boston took Detroit twice, 5-0 and 5-3; Kansas City hammered Minnesota, 7-4 and 4-2; Baltimore beat New York 7-5; and Washington defeated Cleveland 8-7 in 11 innings and then lost 7-3.

Veteran John Buzhardt won his fourth without a loss in the opener and young lefty Tommy John took his third victory in as many decisions in the nightcap. Chicago's ace reliever, Eddie Fisher, appeared in both contests, picking up his ninth save in 16 games in the second game.

Bill Skowron drove in three runs with three hits, including his fourth homer, to back up Buzhardt. The Pale Hose took advantage of three Angel miscues in the second game to push over four unearned runs, the winning runs coming in the seventh on Ron Hansen's two-run triple.

The Kansas City Athletics presented their new manager, Haywood Sullivan, with a pair of wins over second place Minnesota.

Ed Charles' three-run homer in the 10th decided the opener. Jim Gentile contributed one and Dick Green added two in that encounter. Tony Oliva and Jim Hall socked roundtrippers in a losing cause for the Twins. Jim Landis' seventh inning single snapped a 2-2 deadlock and gave Moe Drabowsky his first triumph of 1965.

Gibson spaced 10 Pittsburgh hits in becoming the majors' winningest pitcher. The 6-foot-2, 185-pound fireballer also belted a home run en route to the victory which pushed the hapless Pirates further into the cellar.

Adding to his achievements, Gibson's seven strikeouts gave him 61 whiffs to tie him with Sandy Koufax for the top mark in that department in league play.

In the second game, Ray Washburn went six innings in his first start of the year and boosted his record to 3-1 with relief assistance from Bob Purkey.

St. Louis infielders Bill White, Ken Boyer and Dick Groat provided the offensive punch, each driving in three runs in the twinbill.

The Dodgers increased their lead over second-place Cincinnati to 3½ games by gaining a split with Chicago. Don Drysdale won his sixth game in the nightcap and scored the win-

Pirates 'Soft Touch' for Cardinals, Bob Gibson

By United Press International
Unbeaten Bob Gibson is 7-0 and even though he claims there's no such thing as "a soft touch," the St. Louis Cardinals would be hard pressed to call the Pittsburgh Pirates anything else.

The world champions have beaten the Pirates 16 straight games, including a 6-3, 5-1 sweep Sunday, which vaulted the Cards from sixth place into a fourth place tie with the Phillies.

The big righthander, who shows six complete games among his seven victories, fanned seven in the opener to increase his strikeout total to 61.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco took a pair from Houston 10-5 and 4-3; the Mets downed Cincinnati twice, 6-2 and 8-5; Milwaukee edged Philadelphia 8-6 in 10 innings in a single game, and the Cubs split with Los Angeles, winning 5-3 in 10 innings and losing 3-2.

The Dodgers increased their lead over second-place Cincinnati to 3½ games by gaining a split with Chicago. Don Drysdale won his sixth game in the nightcap and scored the winning run in the last of the ninth. His two-out double preceded Wes Parker's game winning single. The Cubs scored four runs in the top of the 11th of the opener and then held off a two-run rally by Los Angeles. Larry Jackson went the distance to even his record at 3-3. Ron Perranowski pitched one-third of an inning and lost.

San Francisco ran its win streak to five behind the first game pitching of Juan Marichal and the relief work of Masanori Murakami in the second game.

Willie McCovey (8) and Willie Mays (13) hit back-to-backers in a six-run, second inning rally of the opener as Marichal won his sixth game.

Best Average
Mays', whose .408 average is best in the majors, hustled to what proved to be the winning run in the second game. He reached base in the sixth on an error, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and came home on a wild pitch. Murakami snuffed out a Houston rally in the eighth and two on and one out.

Mayer Wins New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Sports writers and golf buffs are calling Sunday's final round in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open one of the most spectacular finishes they have ever seen.

Dick Mayer of Palm Desert, Calif., snatched the $20,000 first prize money from three other potential winners with a fantastic 90-foot chip shot on the 18th hole.

That final shot gave him a four-under-par 68 for the day and a 15-under-par 273 for the 72 holes.

Tied for second a single stroke behind at 274 were Bill Martindale of Jacksonville, Tex., and Bruce Devlin of Canberra, Australia. They each earned $9,400.

Martindale and Devlin both had 70s Sunday on the Lakewood Country Club course. Jack Nicklaus finished in a deadlock for third place with George Knudson and Jacky Cupit.

Opening Tonight

The Pampa Optimist Club's 1965 baseball program begins at 5:30 p.m. today with a barbecue and band concert, opening addresses and three baseball games, one at each of three lighted diamonds.

The barbecue is open to the public and will be followed at 6:45 p.m. by a concert presented by the Pampa Junior High School band. Pampa mayor J. M. Nation and attorney Tom Snow, representing the Chamber of Commerce, will give the opening addresses.

The feature speaker at the ceremonies will be George Barr, dean of major league umpires, a National League umpire for 19 years.

The players, coaches and sponsors of the 37 teams slated to compete in this year's program will be introduced prior to the three game competition.

Tax Benefits for Unions

One of the little problems which particularly plagues people who know what is going on is that unions are tax-exempt. With all the rush these days to attack tax-exempt foundations, little if anything is said about the fact that trade unions are exempt for income tax purposes and are able to campaign politically with no let or hindrance from the federal government.

Now, one of the major points which the Internal Revenue Service constantly makes if a foundation seeks to secure tax exemption, is that it must not be organized for political purposes. Indeed, quite a number of foundations including some on the "right" and some the "left" have lost their tax exemptions because they were believed to have participated somewhere in seeking the passage of some law or the election of some candidate.

Some Youthful Heroes

With a great deal of talk about "juvenile delinquents," we are reminded frequently that not enough is told about the young people who are assets to their communities. The Chicago Tribune recently reported one incident as follows: "A robber was captured the other evening as a result of the courage and quick thinking of four young clerks in a supermarket where he had just taken $834."

Where Your Money Went

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which one wag has called "Healthy, Wealthy and Wise", is the third highest spending agency in the federal government with a budget of $7.8 billion. Recently that department released a 594-page volume on grants it had made for various studies, including: $38,000 for studying aging in the house fly; $9,720 for a study of garden spiders in New Zealand; $22,185 for a study of familiar patterns of schizophrenia in Iceland; $6,240 for a study of the Mexican free-tailed bat's physiological adaptation.

Federal Aid to Education

The new federal aid to education bill — a measure which, of its kind, is unprecedented in scope, cost, and purpose — is now law. It remains to be seen how much further the federal government will go in its invasion of the educational world — and what effect there will be on local responsibility and authority. But, looking at the statistics, it is difficult to see what need there is for the federal government to play "a Big Brother" role in the educational scheme of things.

CAPITOL EYE:

'Think-ins' Instead of 'Teach-ins'

By BRUCE BLOSSAT Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — America's intellectual community is under the heaviest fire it has felt in many years. It is worth inquiring why this is so. The attacks, of course, represent a response to the sweeping criticisms many intellectuals (and a lot of others) have leveled against U.S. policy in Viet Nam. In rebuttal, some of these are now complaining that President Johnson and his supporters appear to want to muzzle them.

Their real complaint is that they are not being intellectual enough. The charge is that their critical comment has far too often been founded on the quicksand of factual error, has been painfully imprecise, and has lacked the hard bite of well-thought-out judgments. The critics' rejoinder has been to fault the President for not giving them the facts. But much vital information is already a matter of open record, and some independent experts on Viet Nam go on collecting significant data without much help from the government.

The intellectuals' errors of fact and their shallow judgments have seriously eroded their credibility at a time when sane debate would be highly useful. Their high-pitched complaints against U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam as dangerous, unnecessary, and above all inhumane, seem very close to being hypocritical.

Another Russian Guerrilla Warfare Expert Appears In Key Diplomatic Post in Southeast Asia As 'Ambassador' WASHINGTON — Russia now has another expert in guerrilla warfare in a key diplomatic post in war-torn Southeast Asia. Major General A. P. Ratanov, with no previous diplomatic experience but a veteran of World War II guerrilla fighting, is the new Soviet Ambassador in Phnom Penh, capital of Cambodia.

Foreign Lobbying

FOREIGN LOBBYING — An unusual cocktail party took place in the offices of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Hosted by Representative Barratt O'Hara, 83-year-old Spanish War veteran and chairman of the Foreign Affairs Subcommittee in charge of African affairs, the unpublicized event was notable on two counts. The unabashed lobbying of Egyptian Ambassador Mostafa Kamel for more U.S. aid, and the presence of a large number of foreign ambassadors, most of them African.

Mounting the Assault

MOUNTING THE ASSAULT — Directly reinforcing this belief are the following: — Since Ratanov's arrival in Cambodia, the Soviet embassy staff has doubled, from around 70 to 150. Most of the newcomers are military personnel. At the same time this was occurring, the U.S. embassy was shutting down. — In Hanoi, there has been a considerable increase in the number of Russian military advisers and technicians — from an estimated 1,000 last month to more than 3,000. They operate some intellectuals, then, is that they have not been living up to the best of their own breed. They have been making propaganda, not reasoned argument rooted in fact. There is no danger of their "fighting the last war," as a nation's key figures often are accused of doing. They do not even remember it.

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

Get the Connection? NEW YORK (NEA) — Now, here is an item to conjure with. A new approach to criminology indicates that a link exists between tattooing and primitive crimes such as homicide and sex offenses.

According to a report delivered to the 10th annual conference of the National Police Officers Association of America last week, a significantly high proportion of these criminals are found to be tattooed. Not that a tattoo makes a criminal. (See Barry Goldwater's hand.) But the anti-social profile does start to emerge among people with two or more illustrations.

Foreign Aid Question

FOREIGN AID QUESTION The gigantic foreign giveaway program in which this country has been embroiled for nearly 20 years is very likely the most fantastic story in the history of any great nation. Since the end of World War II we have shoveled the inconceivable sum of more than a hundred billion dollars down the bottomless rathole of foreign aid. That comes to $2,500 for every family in America — enough to have put one child in every American family through college.

OCCASIONS AND PROTESTS The highly-celebrated author John Dos Passos has recently released a volume of his own essays, interviews and other miscellaneous writings of the past thirty years. In this book, "Occasions and Protest," we see the movement of an individualist away from the institutions and leaders that have betrayed the concept of individualism. (The book is published by Regnery Co., 114 W. Illinois St., Chicago 10, Ill.; $4.95.)

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed. Editor: The Johnson administration is at it again. A new series of regular (not commemorative) postage stamps will be issued beginning this year. This appears to be another effort to promote the New Order and downgrade patriotism. On the 30 cent stamp, for example, Robert E. Lee will be replaced by John Dewey, who denied God and taught that man has no soul. Paul Revere will be dropped in favor of Frederick Douglass. Gen. John J. Pershing will be replaced by Albert Einstein on the 8 cent denomination.

Editor: I wonder if the general public is aware of the fact that there is an anti firearms bill (S-1592) before the U.S. Senate at this time. This bill will seriously effect every person that now owns or ever plans to own a firearm. This does not just pertain to the dealers, collectors, or gun clubs. It also takes in the farmers and ranchers of this area who carry firearms for varmint control, also the man who wants to take his son out to shoot a tin can or target of any kind, and please, let's not forget Grandfather's old civil war musket, hanging over the fireplace or on the den wall. Also affected is the bird hunter, of which there are many in this area. There are so many parts of this bill, that I couldn't begin to write it all down in a limited space. My own interpretation of what it all boils down to is this: "It is the fact that instead of punishing the criminals, who misuse firearms, they are punishing us, the general public." Following are only a few who would be hurt by this bill: 1. Farmers and ranchers, who want and need firearms, for different reasons.

FOREIGN AID QUESTION The gigantic foreign giveaway program in which this country has been embroiled for nearly 20 years is very likely the most fantastic story in the history of any great nation. Since the end of World War II we have shoveled the inconceivable sum of more than a hundred billion dollars down the bottomless rathole of foreign aid. That comes to $2,500 for every family in America — enough to have put one child in every American family through college. In the beginning some persuasive arguments were made for foreign aid. It was urged that we had a duty to help rebuild shattered Europe. Most people never realized that the best and only economically healthy way to rebuild Europe was through trade. But this justification for foreign aid is ancient history now. For more than ten years all the emphasis in foreign aid has been on outright grants "with no strings attached" to the potentates of backward foreign nations in the weird hope that somehow the golden stream of American tax dollars will "trickle down" to and help the poor of those lands. A mountain of evidence proves that it has not done so and never will. At this moment, no less than 22 federal agencies and 71,416 government employees are distributing your money to the bureaucrats of 99 foreign countries. Already they have a backlog of $11 billion in unspent funds and yet are clamoring for more. The dream of selfless, unconditional money-giving to cure all the world's ills has turned into a nightmare.

(The book is published by Regnery Co., 114 W. Illinois St., Chicago 10, Ill.; $4.95.) Dos Passos has apparently considered himself a "liberal" for as long as he can remember. And while the label "liberal" has been misused and confiscated by many institutions and leaders who are opposed to individual liberty, the author's basic philosophy has not changed. Although the book, being a collection of writings, does not follow a settled path, the core of his attitude is revealed in an essay, "A Question of Elbow Room." He notes: "When all the discussions of the position of man in the framework of government which had obsessed so many of the best minds of the century came to a focus in 1776, the chief preoccupation of the state builders in America was to establish institutions in their new country that would allow each citizen enough elbow room to grow into individuality."

Zale's Contributes Over $1 Million on Share Plan

Zale Jewelry Company's em-ent credit as a result of invest-ment income and gains in the Plan's investment portfolio. All contributions to the Plan are made by the company, none by the employee. The Plan was established to assist employees by Coley Capo, manager of Zale's stores in Pampa.

This growth in the Plan's assets is twice as large as any annual increase in the Plan's operation since its establishment in 1951. Current assets now total $9,539,510.

Over 1,900 participants in 409 stores in 39 states, including 11 local employees will share in this record figure, the manager said. The company's contribution amounts to 11.9 per cent of each participating employee's annual salary. Each employee's balance in the Plan last year also received a 23 per cent increase.

PLANE TURNS BACK

LONDON (UPI) — A New York-bound Pan American World Airways jetliner with 100 passengers aboard turned back to London Sunday when radio navigational trouble was discovered.

DUE IN COURT

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI)—Actress Nina Foch, 41, was due to appear in Municipal Court today to answer to a misdemeanor drunken driving charge.

The actress was arrested early last Saturday when police said they saw her automobile "swerving back and forth" on Pacific Coast highway. Authorities said she narrowly missed hitting a police car and two trucks.

She was freed on $276 bond after she was booked on suspicion of driving under the influence of liquor.

F. W. Bessel was the first to measure the distance to a star in 1835.

1964 Biggest Year for Levines

Stockholders of Levine's, Inc., last week heard President Morris Levine report the company's greatest year in history, and then received tangible evidence of Levine's expectation for further increases in earnings when the board of directors approved an 8.3 per cent increase in the cash dividend rate.

The quarterly dividend rate was upped to 13 cents per share, and will be paid June 16 to stockholders of record May 26. The new annual rate of 52 cents per share compares with 40 cents per share for the year earlier. This increase brings the total annual dividend rate to a level 30 per cent above the year ago rate.

Levine reported that sales in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1965, rose 11.6 per cent to an all-time high of $40,287,061.

Earnings soared even more spectacularly, rising 37 per cent to a peak of $1,045,347.

Sales for the first quarter ended April 30, 1965, were announced as $8,311,143 up 5 per cent over a year ago.

There are now 103 stores in operation, Levine added, but he pointed out that the company's current operation was geared to handle as many as 200 stores.
