Pampa's Miss Texas entry Carolyn Marak and Miss Lake Meredith Ruth Anne Guthrie join some 65 other beauties from over Texas for the second night of the Miss Texas Pageant competition in Ft. Worth tonight.

Medicare Bill Awaits Johnson's Signature

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's signature was all that was needed today to make a long sought health insurance program for the nation's elderly the law of the land.

The Senate voted approval of the historic $6.5 billion medicare measure Wednesday, 70 to 24. If the President signs the bill into law Friday or Saturday, as expected, the first of its provisions—liberalization of certain eligibility requirements for Social Security recipients—would take effect Sept. 1.

Viet Nam Conflict First for Goldberg

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Arthur J. Goldberg plunged into his new job as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations today with solution of the world organization's paralyzing constitutional crisis as his first order of business.

Goldberg talked with Thant, whom he met socially on previous occasions, for 75 minutes, discussing Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the U.N. financial-political crisis, Goldberg told a news conference.

Goldberg presented his credentials to Secretary General Thant Wednesday and delivered a letter from President Johnson asking for U.N. help to remove the Viet Nam conflict from the battlefield to the negotiating table.

Johnson said Thant's past efforts to solve the Viet Nam crisis were appreciated. He said he hoped the secretary general would continue and he asked him to communicate through Goldberg "any helpful suggestions that may occur to you that can strengthen our common search for the road to peace in Southeast Asia."

SAC Jet Bombers Hit Cong Suspects' Names Withheld

SAIGON (UPI) — Giant B52 jets of the Strategic Air Command today rained 500 tons of bombs on a Communist stronghold southwest of Saigon in support of American troops fighting their first long-range offensive of the Viet Nam war.

As the troops pushed deeper into the jungle away from supply bases, ammunition, food and water were transported into the area aboard other helicopters.

AMERICUS, Ga. (UPI) — One hundred state troopers were ordered today into this city to preserve peace after two Negro youths were charged with murder in the night-riding slaying of a 19-year-old white youth.

Gray County Draft Quota Due Change in August

Kathleen Zmotony, Pampa draft board clerk, said today that she is awaiting new directives from Washington to find out how the doubled draft quotas will effect this area.

Rusk, Mac In Viet Limelight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson says Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's job is to keep the United States in Viet Nam while Secretary of State Dean Rusk's task is to get it out.

Guard, Reservists Still Face Possibility of Callup

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's plans for a U.S. combat buildup in Viet Nam fell far short of what had been predicted. But he carefully left open the possibility of an unlimited increase in the future.

Rogers Votes Against Repeal of Work Law

Only four Texans supported President Johnson on the issue of striking Section 14(b) from the Taft-Hartley act.

Bogus Check Writers Live Well in Pampa and Area

'PAPERHANGING' BIG BUSINESS

Paperhanging in Pampa is a booming business. The paperhanging mentioned here though, has nothing to do with decorating. It's the ever increasing business of writing "hot" or "bogus" checks.

Dior to Present Fashion Showing

By ALINE MOSBY PARIS (UPI) — The House of Christian Dior presents its fall-winter fashion collection today with an advance promise to keep skirts barely covering the knee.

Virtually the rest of Paris is baring the knee this season, making "leg interest" the biggest trend in the fashion shows so far.

Knees show, or legs are sheathed in stockings that are wildly flowered, checked or striped. Skirts are fuller in some houses so they ripple at the hem. Hems are banded with fur, feathers, or just bands of fabric.

Wednesday's collection of designer Jacques Griffe had plenty of features for women who want their legs admired.

Griffe's hemlines on cocktail dresses often were scalloped. One black cocktail coat had a hemline like a sawtooth edge. Dress hems were banded in fur, usually black or beige fox.

The use of fox also on coat collars gave the Griffe show a look of the '20s. The mannequins wore close-fitting cloche hats over short, 1925 hairdos.

Chiffon cocktail dresses were cut on the bias with V-necklines fore and aft to continue the '20s feeling.

The collection of the Jean Patou salon also offered "le interest". Designer Michel Goma showed wool stockings with horizontal stripes topped by loose short wool coats that buttoned up the back. Goma's work had buyers and press dragging out happy adjectives. He won applause by taking the lowly turtleneck and trenchcoat and making them glamorous.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Goodbody & Co. says that barring a full-scale Korea type development in Viet Nam, the market seems likely to back and fill near present levels before making an attempt to regain and penetrate the 690 level in the Dow Jones industrial average.

Bache & Co. says it believes the selective investor will fare well in a trading market in the months ahead but that the emphasis must be on quality and strong fundamentals.

William R. White of Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes says the manner in which trading activity has tended to expand as prices advanced encouraged the belief that for the moment at least underlying trend is toward higher levels in an effort to surmount the supply area, around the 690 level in the Dow Jones industrial average.

Westbrook Signs Letter of Intent With Baylor U.

Mark Westbrook, Pampa High School's state champion miler, signed a letter of intent for a track scholarship to Baylor University today.

Westbrook, who set a state record when he won the 4.4-mile championship in 4:15.5, had been wooed by over a dozen major colleges, but had delayed his decision until he finished summer school. Westbrook chose Baylor over chief contenders Texas, Houston, and Oklahoma because "Baylor just has what I want."

Coach Clyde Hart flew into Pampa last week to bring "Westy" a letter of intent, and Baylor notified Westbrook this morning that his tests were acceptable for a full four-year scholarship.

Westbrook, as a sophomore, broke the Pampa school record for the 800. As a junior, he won four of five 800 races and three of six mile races, finishing fourth in state in the mile. As a senior, Westbrook won 11 straight mile races, setting a new record almost every time he ran. Summer school and a case of shin splints held him to limited post-school action this summer.

Westbrook becomes the second Pampa High trackman to receive a scholarship this year, hurdler Randy Johnston having been accepted at Brigham Young University.

SIB to Hear Rate Hike Complaints

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Insurance Board heard complaints today from two state AFL-CIO officers who contend an increase in automobile insurance premiums ordered by the board July 1 is not justified.

The increase averages 13.4 per cent. It came after a June 22 hearing where insurance companies asked for higher rates to counteract increases in claims and handling costs. State AFL-CIO president Hank Brown and secretary-treasurer Roy R. Evans were the only individuals to register requests to speak against the rate hike. Several insurance companies served notice they planned a stout defense.

On July 1 the three-man insurance board adopted the rate schedule proposed eight days earlier by its staff and the insurance companies, making no changes. A Dallas attorney, Bert Bader, filed suit in Austin protesting the failure of the board to consider investment income by the companies in determining the rates.

The schedule hiked liability premiums an average of 20.7 per cent and collision premiums 20.8 per cent. It also provided a 3.6 per cent jump in medical payments premiums, while decreasing the cost of comprehensive and fire and theft coverage slightly.

Individual motorists' costs are determined by classifications and locations. There are 26 rating territories and eight risk degrees.

Bader had the only protest at the June hearing. He charged the board was ignoring figures which showed insurance companies reaping a $900 million profit last year nationally on investments. Board spokesmen said they considered it improper to consider investment income.

Obituaries

Mrs. Byrdie Virginia Miller
Funeral services for Mrs. Byrdie Virginia Miller, 87, of Laketon, will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in Sparkman's Garland Road Chapel, Dallas, with Rev. T. Herbert Minga, pastor of Dallas White Rock Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will follow in Dallas Restland Memorial Park by the side of her husband, John William Miller, who preceded her in death on Sept. 5, 1938.

Arrangements here are under direction of Carmichael-Whately Funeral Directors.
Mrs. Miller died Tuesday evening in St. Ann's Home, Panhandle. She was born April 15, 1878, in Arkansas, and had been a resident of Laketon for 23 years.

Yard Improvement Awards Scheduled For Sunday Tea

Winners in the annual property improvement program in Pampa's colored community will be announced at a tea to be held at 5 p.m. Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Williams, 1101 Campanella Dr.
Mrs. James Morgan of the Civic Improvement Club said today awards will be made by the Pampa Garden Club and Chamber of Commerce to property owners who have done most to beautify homes and yards during the past year.

There will be, first, second and third prizes and honorable mention certificates.
Officials of the Garden Club and Chamber of Commerce will attend the tea to present the awards. City Manager Jim White will represent the city.

"As the car sped away a white man stepped out in the street and fired at the car," Dozier said the man emptied the gun.

Negroes have been demonstrating in protest of the jailing of more than a week ago of four Negro women who tried to move into white lines to cast their ballots in a justice of the peace election. Only Wednesday a federal judge ordered Sumner County officials to release the women and abandon segregated voting lines.

Some three hundred Negroes marched to the courthouse Wednesday night under a heavy guard of policemen wearing hard hats. When they arrived at their destination, a parking lot at the courthouse, they found it occupied by jeering whites.

Police eased the crowd to a new area and avoided a possible clash between the two groups.

A few hours later the shooting came.
Elsewhere:
Bogalusa, La.: Civil rights workers were handed a setback when rain cancelled a scheduled march on city hall.

New Orleans: A federal judge refused to issue an injunction enjoining five Bogalusa restaurants for refusing to serve Negroes. However, Judge E. Gordon West set a hearing for Sept. 22 on the merits of the case with the hope that the defendants would abide by the law by that time and the trial would not be necessary.

Cleveland: Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. continued his whirlwind drive to encourage Negroes to register to vote Wednesday in a series of neighborhood visits and speeches. A doctor has warned King "to take it easy" for a few days because of overwork.

as available manpower for quota filling, experience shows that the figures don't tell the entire story.

Draft headquarters said that in the past, when there has been a sudden draft call, the total amount of eligibles did not materialize.

The reason for this, officials said, was that some prospective draftees had changed their status through marriage or occupation without notifying their draft boards.

Doubling the draft will probably mean Texas will start furnishing about 1,800 men a month, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Wednesday.

Schwartz said doubling the Texas quota of 905 men would not require drafting of married men or anybody in classifications other than 1-A.

sional approval; but in practice this is seldom, if ever, the case.

The doubling of draft calls Johnson ordered will give the Army, already reporting a manpower pinch, at least one additional 15,000-man division and possibly several independent brigades to serve as the home defense replacements for the 50,000 experienced troops being sent to Viet Nam.

The Army is gearing up basic training centers at Ft. Dix, N.J.; Ft. Ord, Calif.; Ft. Jackson, S.C., and Ft. Polk, La., to handle the expected influx of new troops. Other draftees, such as those destined for the engineering artillery and signal arms, may get most of their training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; Ft. Knox, Ky.; Ft. Bliss, Tex.; Ft. Gordon, Ga.; Ft. Sill, Okla., or Ft. Benning, Ga.

In deciding against a callup at this time, Johnson also reserved for another day the use of a major weapon in the U.S. arsenal—the psychological effect on an enemy of a massive mobilization of America's strength.

Foreign Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
 PARIS (UPI)—French President Charles de Gaulle appears to have decided to warm up deep-frozen U. S.-French relations—a few degrees, at least. American officials here, accustomed to being on the receiving end of De Gaulle's diplomatic blasts, are mystified but gratified.

However, they see no signs of a major thawing out of relations now or in the foreseeable future. There are far too many deep-seated and unresolved sources of friction such as the Atlantic (NATO) Alliance, nuclear policy and De Gaulle's attacks on the dollar.

But American diplomats have detected an easing up of pressure by De Gaulle in recent months.

His talk with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey last month was by all accounts a success. De Gaulle was said to have been at his most courtly and charming.

Omitted U. S. Criticism
 At a recent NATO Permanent Council Session devoted to discussion of the Viet Nam conflict the French delegate omitted the usual caustic De Gaulle-inspired criticism of American policy.

Roving U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, when he passed through Paris on his way to Moscow recently, was shown every possible consideration.

Although it was not announced at the time, appointments were set up for him on short notice with Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and several other key Quai D'Orsay officials.

The recent so-called "spy plane" incident at the Pierrelatte nuclear plant was said to have touched off an explosion of De Gaulle's ire when he first heard about it.

But the official French protest was in measured terms. The government dampened down any anti-U. S. campaign in the press and official statements. The American apology was followed up by an immediate statement that the French now considered the incident "closed."

De Gaulle Also Calm
 De Gaulle's recent speeches also have been relatively devoid of verbal rockets against the United States or American "hegemony."

From all this American officials here can only assume De Gaulle has decided to be more agreeable—or less disagreeable—to the United States at the moment and that there presumably must be a reason.

Business Highlights

By United Press International
NEW YORK—Steel output last week fell to the lowest level of the year as fear of a strike receded, the American Iron & Steel Institute reported. Output is expected to continue to fall off from the dizzy early summer pace unless the strike threat grows.

NEW YORK—The war clouds in Vietnam caused advances in several commodity markets. Copper futures gained up to 3 3/4 cents a pound and as grains climbed, the Dow-Jones commodity index made its biggest spurt in almost a year.

WASHINGTON—Eastern Air Lines wants to go eastern with a vengeance—to the Orient. The company filed an application with the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to fly to Australia, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Manila, Singapore, Bangkok and Saigon from Mexico City and to Hawaii from New York and Mexico City.

'Sounds of West' Reaches Season's Half-Way Mark

CANYON (Sp) — Last Sunday, marked the 33rd performance of "Thundering Sounds of the West" in the Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park, and was the half-way mark for the summer season which will end on Labor Day, September 6.

On the parking lot were cars from Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, Louisiana, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

The singing triangle given each evening to the visitor who has come the greatest distance was awarded to Daniel Lederkin from Paris, France. Except for six evenings, the singing triangle has been won by visitors outside of the United States. Winners of the past week were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper, Cairo, Egypt; Mrs. Daniel Sawyer, Bennington Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gillette, Schenectady, N. Y., and Meria Woroki, Helsinki, Finland.

Approximately 10,000 persons attended the amphitheater performances during the first half of the season.

ROUGH SNEEZE

HUNTINGDON, England (UPI) — An unidentified American serviceman reported for duty at Alconbury USAF Base near here with a banged chest — he cracked a rib when he sneezed.

GUTTER CLEANERS

LONDON (UPI) — Five police patrol cars were dispatched to St. Matthews Church following reports of children clinging to the roof and a man hanging from a high window ledge. The officers found the church verger and a troop of Boy Scouts cleaning out the gutters.

Orientation of Teachers Responsibility of Town

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

The orientation of teachers who are new to a school system is the responsibility of the community, the school system, and those teachers. Too often there is no orientation or when there is one, it is too superficial and unorganized.

It is time for educators to recognize the value of a properly designed orientation program for new staff members. Business organizations spend extensive time and money in the training of new personnel. They realize that the eventual value of an individual to the organization depends in great part upon the initial introduction and training which he receives. This is also true in the field of education. A good orientation program will set the scene for a successful teaching experience.

A total introductory program should be a cooperative effort involving the community. Teachers need to know the backgrounds of their students. An understanding of the economic and social environment in the community is helpful. A teacher should know what types of services are available and where an individual should go in order to use them.

The school program itself can be greatly enriched if the teacher is aware of the many resources which may be available in the community. This might include a knowledge of individuals in the community who are capable and willing to come into the classroom and lecture on particular subjects.

The schools themselves must take the major responsibility for providing a training program concerned with the school organization, the special services offered in the system, and the actual program which should take place in the classroom. The teacher should have a complete picture of the administrative and supervisory structure in the school system. In this way she will know where to get assistance and how to request materials. There are often various consultants such as psychologists, nurses, social workers, science specialists, and guidance counselors who are available to assist a teacher with her work and problems which might arise. In addition, the teacher must be fully informed as to exactly what is the philosophy of the system and the instruction for which she is responsible.

A new teacher without previous experience will need a more extensive training program than a teacher who has had prior experience in another school system. It should be remembered that school systems do differ and every new teacher will need some amount of initial training.

The teacher herself must take some responsibility. She should obtain curriculum guides and other written materials (board policies, etc.) and become familiar with these prior to the start of the school year. Even in systems which do not have organized orientation programs, a new teacher seeking help and guidance will usually receive it from other staff members such as teachers and principals.

First postoffice in Mineola, Texas, was housed in a boxcar on the railroad tracks.

Dancing Dangers

As a rule the greatest hazard on a dance floor is a pained look from your partner or a smirk of superiority from nearby couples. But worse things can happen. If you should suffer bodily injury while dancing in a night club or a dance hall, may you collect damages from the management? There is one big obstacle to winning such a claim. The law says you assume a degree of risk simply by venturing onto a dance floor in the first place. Although dancing is not as risky as roller skating, it is riskier than just sitting still, and you should realize it. Certainly you could not hold the management liable for a back sprain caused by your own overindulgence in the twist.

Consider these two cases taken from court records:

A woman dancer who slipped blamed her resulting injury on the fact that the floor was waxed. And a man who tripped blamed the dimness of the lights.

But both victims were denied damages, because a floor reasonably waxed and lights reasonably dimmed are normal and desirable characteristics of a dance floor.

On the other hand, the management, while not flatly guaranteeing your safety, must still take due care to prevent accidents. Falls caused by improperly applied wax or faulty conditions are ordinarily good grounds for collecting.

In one case, a man crash-landed on a night club floor after skidding on a grape. The court granted his claim for damages, on evidence that the grape—one of several—had been lying there long enough to have been discovered and removed by the club's employees.

Sometimes injury results not from the condition of the premises but from the antics of other dancers. What then?

Again, you assume reasonable risks. A woman bowled over by a man doing a new step, briskly but not boisterously, was held unable to collect damages from the proprietor.

But the dancing was quite different in another case, involving a volunteer hostess at a club for servicemen. Here, the man flung

Television in Review

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Get me some cottage cheese and pine apple," said Lucille Ball. "I look too awful to go downstairs."

She was wearing black ballet slippers and her red-blonde hair was swept up under a makeup hat shaped like a circlet of leaves. She didn't look awful at all. Only tired.

For a lady of a certain age Miss Ball has a great deal going for her besides a hit television show and a profitable career as president of Desi Studios.

She has for example, a notable pair of legs and an engagingly humorous slant on her own activities.

"Tonight," she said, "I am dressing up in a top hat, white tie and tails and I am going to climb on the back of an elephant in Shubert Alley and sing 'Hey Look Me Over'. Don't ask me why," she said, the famous smile crinkling the corners of her mouth. "I wish I knew."

This, indeed, was what Miss Ball was rehearsing for in the penthouse studio of a hotel. Even as we chatted trainers were grooming a large and amiable elephant in another part of town for the midnight rendezvous in the heart of the roadway theater district.

The idea that Miss Ball would hiss terrified partner around like a rag doll for several minutes. Although she screamed for help, no one came to her rescue.

In these circumstances, the management was ordered to pay for the girl's injuries. The court said it had failed to protect her from "risks other than those normally incident to the sport."

be more effective delivering a ditty from the podium of a ponderous pachyderm came from George Schatter, producer of the new Steve Lawrence show who seems to feel the time has come for more television showmanship. Another of his guests this season, Liberace, will ride a motor scooter up the main stem — without piano however.

Miss Ball agreed to be the first of Steve's guest stars on CBS TV, Sept. 13 (10-11 p. m. EDT, color) because she is a compulsive entertainer and what compulsive entertainer would let an elephant stand in the way of a nationwide appearance?

Her lunch arrived and while she ate Miss Ball talked about herself as performer and tycoon. She said she would really Miss Vivian Vance, who has retired to live with her literary agent husband in Connecticut when the Lucy show begins its 15th season on CBS-TV in the autumn.

But he has signed a number of guest stars to help launch

Gourmets Grill Lobster Tails

LOBSTER TAILS AND SWEET SOUR SAUCE go together.

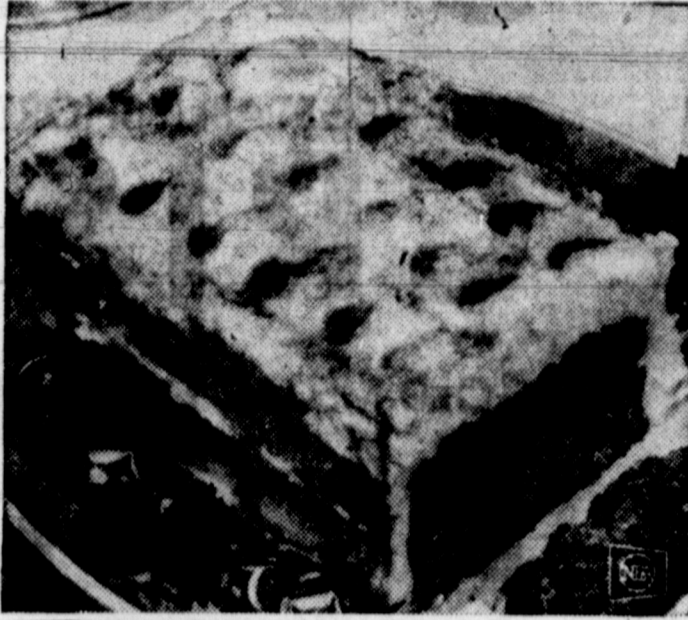

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Outdoor grill enthusiasts are always looking for new recipes. Charcoal weekend chefs are becoming expert and sophisticated and welcome such gourmet dishes as this rock lobster tails with East Indian sweet sour sauce.

SOUTH AFRICAN
ROCK LOBSTER TAILS
6 South African rock lobster tails

1/4 cup oil
2 teaspoons salt
1 garlic clove, mashed
1/2 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice, undiluted
1 cup cider vinegar
Thaw rock lobster tails by letting stand at room temperature; cut away underside membrane. Grasp tail in both hands and bend backwards toward shell side to crack and prevent curling. Or insert skewers. Combine all other ingredients in saucepan and simmer for 5 minutes. Brush rock lobster tails with sauce. Grill tails for 5 minutes, flesh side down. Turn, spread flesh with sweet-sour sauce. Grill flesh side up until meat has lost its transparency and is opaque. This will take from 3 to 5 minutes, depending on heat of the fire and size of the rock lobster. During cooking, brush tails several times with sauce. Serve remaining sauce hot as a dip for the cooked rock lobster tails. Yield: 2 1/4 cups sauce.

'Frost' Adds New Zest to Meat Loaf

POTATO FROSTED MEAT LOAF adds variety.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
"Into each life some meat loaf must fall", culinary poets say. But it doesn't always have to fall the same way, any good cook will add.

We've been experimenting with some of the new packaged instant mashed potatoes and find that they are getting better steadily. We tried "frosting" a regular meat loaf with potato topping. The family gave

It a very good rating. Your family may find it equally good.

POTATO FROSTED MEAT LOAF
(Serves 8)
2 cups bread cubes
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup catchup
2 tablespoons Instant Minc'd Onion
2 tablespoons Worcestershire Sauce
2 teaspoons salt
Black pepper to taste
1/4 cup diced green pepper
2 pounds ground beef
Potato Topping x
2 tablespoons melted butter
Paprika
Remove crusts from slices of day-old bread; cube slices; measure. Combine in a mixing bowl bread cubes, milk, catchup, onion, Worcestershire, salt, pepper and green pepper. Add ground beef; mix thoroughly. Spoon into 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven 1 hour. When baked, pour off juices from meat loaf; place on heat-proof platter or shallow baking dish. Shortly before loaf is done, prepare mashed potatoes (directions below). "Frost" sides and top of baked meat loaf with hot potatoes. Spoon melted butter over top; sprinkle with paprika. Serve immediately, or bake in 450 degree oven 10 to 15 minutes. xPotato Topping: Prepare 1

Grits Pack Energy

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The fact that corn grits are being distributed to needy families by the U.S.D.A. Agricultural Service proves that they are nutritious food. But unless you have used them yourself, you probably don't know how many really good dishes can be made with them.

They are a valuable energy food, are enriched and add their attractive yellow color to dishes and are very inexpensive.

For a low-cost breakfast, try corn grits cereal. Or better yet, serve fried corn grits slices with maple syrup. Serve with a few strips of crisp bacon. Now that's a real breakfast combination.

CORN GRITS CEREAL
(Serves 6)
1 cup corn grits
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 quarts boiling water
Stir corn grits slowly into rapidly boiling salted water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and stir until thickened. Cook for 15 minutes longer over low heat, stirring frequently. Yields about 4 1/2 cups cooked grits.

For a variation try fried corn grits. Place cooked grits in a loaf pan. Chill. When cold, remove from pan and cut into slices. Dip slices in flour and brown on each side in two tablespoons fat in a fry pan.

CORN GRITS AND CHEESE CASSEROLE
(Serves 6)
4 1/2 cups cooked corn grits
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup shredded cheese
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, if desired
Combine all ingredients. Mix well. Place in a greased baking pan and bake at 325 degrees (slow oven) for one hour or until set.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Food stores across the nation generally will offer generous supplies of a variety of meats and poultry as well as a good selection of seasonal fruits and vegetables, this weekend.

Meat counters will display plenty of beef, with roasts and steaks featured in many areas. Selections will also include good supplies of pork, particularly roasts and chops. Leading the list of poultry buys are broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys, both excellent choices for summer cookouts.

Vegetable bins will be brimming with cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, potatoes, squash, tomatoes, corn and lettuce. Fruit selections include plenty of apples, blueberries, cantaloupes, grapes, peaches, plums and watermelons.

Also, look for plenty of fish sticks and portions, and canned pink and chum salmon.

BEEF THIS

On skewers alternate small whole canned beets, canned onions and canned mushrooms. Marinate in vinegar, oil and lemon dressing.

'New Left' Young Americans Plot Revolutions

EDITOR'S NOTE: Far out on the "new left," a handful of young Americans plot revolution and revere the teachings of Fidel Castro and Mao Tse-tung. The following article, reports on the wild side of young American radicalism.

By DAVID SMOTHERS
United Press International
Jack Barnes became a revolutionary socialist on a Ford foundation grant. It happened in Havana.

Back in New York City, he preaches the gospel of Trotskyism, with footnotes from the man he calls Fidel. As national chairman of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA), Barnes is one of the more vocal spokesmen of what has become known as the far-out left. He is on the outer edge of today's new radicalism, an edge where a young man's fancies fondly turn toward Mao Tse-tung, or Castro's Cuba, or Joseph Stalin, or—almost always—a revolution in the sweet by and by.

These are the extremists of the extreme, the shrillest and least listened to of the galaxy of proudly radical young organizations which have come to be known as "the new left." The far-outs' numbers are tiny—no more than a few thousand by their own count, quite possibly less. Their perceptible influence on young America is minimal. Their capacity for creating mischief cannot be truly calculated. It is certainly greater than their numbers.

May Seem Alarming: To the average American, the young demonstrators of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) or the unashamed "Marxist Socialists" of the allegedly Communist lining W.E.B. Du Bois clubs may seem alarming enough. They and their sympathizers have helped turn the campuses of 1965 into cook-stoves of controversy.

But to the far-outers, the SDSers and Du Boisers are stick in the muds. Orthodox communism is even stodgier. Khrushchev, generally, is a dirty word. Out on the fringe, revolution becomes the ideal and violence is always a possibility—assuming the fringers have the numbers and cohesion to be effectively violent.

On the fringe, the young revolutionists congregate in cramped, hothouse offices and dusty apartments; they swear loyalty to obscure organizations whose abbreviated names look like optometrists' charts; they sneer at their fellow leftists and talk darkly of what they may do. Whatever their allegiance, they have much in common, including youth, tireless mimeograph machines, and angry contempt for things as they are.

Elder Statesman
Among such a breed, Jack Barnes of the YSA can sound like an elder statesman. He did not sound like one as he talked with the UPI reporter Stanley

Scott in a New York restaurant. Barnes' left arm is missing at the elbow. He slammed his right arm on the table and said "We are revolutionary socialists. We believe that the racial evils, war, poverty, unemployment, are basically a part of the capitalistic system. We offer revolutionary socialism as an alternative."

Barnes isn't calling for violence yet, but he said "We don't think those in power will step aside voluntarily to allow basic changes for others. We advocate violence in no way, but never in history has any ruling group stepped aside peacefully. Violence will not come from us but from the establishment which refuses change."

Describes Views
At the ripe age of 25, Jack Barnes is still a little young to consider himself a onetime "Taft Republican." Yet that is what he says he was when he left Dayton, Ohio, to attend Carleton College in Minnesota. "I received a Ford Foundation grant during my junior year to travel to Cuba," he said. "Meeting with the Cubans, talking to them, I found out for myself. That's when I became a socialist."

Barnes put in some time as a graduate student in economics at Northwestern University before becoming a professional socialist. By his count, he is now the leader of 1,000 YSA members scattered in 90 university based chapters.

They believe in the doctrines of Leon Trotsky, the man Stalin beat out in the battle to rule the Russian revolution, Castro, and the building of "a party for the working people." They scorn President Johnson ("He can't defend the Constitution and defend freedom in Mississippi and Alabama") and the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. ("He and others have built an illusion by telling the colored people they can gain freedom now under the present system of government").

Pale Stuff
Pale stuff, really, in comparison with the hot young bloods of the Progressive Labor Party (PLP), the Provisional Organizing Committee to reconstitute the Marxist-Leninist Communist party (POC), Youth Against War and Fascism (YAWF), and the other silver groups trailing off into the far-out left.

If you want a bunch of fire-eaters take the New York leaders of PLP: President Milton Rosen, 38, and Vice President Morton Scheer, 40, both expelled or resigned from the Communist party in 1961 because they would not turn their backs on the memory of Stalin; William Epton, 32, another vice president who is facing trial under criminal anarchy charges in connection with last summer's Harlem riots; and Fred Jerome, 25.

The PLP claims 1,400 members around New York and San Francisco. Their real numbers probably range between 250 and 500. They drifted away from the Communist party back when Rosen and Scheer were expelled ("Just a tail to the Democratic party," Rosen says of his old comrades) and set themselves up as a party in New York last April with a declaration that "the people" demand revolution and "will not go along with the gas chamber plans of this country's ruling class."

Others on the new and far-out left gently deride much of the PLP's rhetoric. According to Jack Barnes, a lot of PLPers are more interested in "smoking pot" (marijuana) and experimenting with bohemian sex ways than in leading a revolution of their leaders has been quoted as saying "we'd assassinate the President if it suited our ends. Don't think we could."

Take another step into the far out left to the POC. To them, even Mao is a dastardly "revisionist" of the Marxist-Leninist doctrine. As for revolution, n't do it."

These — the YSA, PLP and POC — are the most strident voices on the new left. They provide a cacophonous counterpoint to the immense social changes under way in the United States. The more moderate elements in the new left are convinced that they, at least, have played a vital role in these changes. The far-outers would dearly like to.

Whether any of them — now or far-out left — are conscious, Moscow directed Communists could be irrelevant. Dr. Stefan Potosny, director of the international studies division of the Hoover Institute at Stanford University, may have provided a clue May 17 when he told the Senate Internal Security Committee:

"The radicalization of American youth is proceeding beyond the wildest expectations of the Communists."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — According to the magazine Capitol Hill, the social circle here has produced a new ear-bending technique. It's called "poverty-dropping."

An article by Angele de T. Gingras in the current issue reports that "poverty-dropping" has supplanted name and place dropping on the Washington social scene."

Anyone who has ever been to a party in Washington knows that the guests usually are about equally divided between name droppers and place droppers.

At a signal from the host or hostess, they converge on the hors d'oeuvres table, the object being to see which can be the first to stultify the conversation.

Someone Gives
One group casually mentions the important people they know. The other group casually mentions the interesting places they have visited.

This keeps up until someone is forced to give ground. Then they regroup and attack from another direction.
The new gambit, isolated and identified by Miss Gingras, came into flower after last year's presidential election. Both President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey are men of humble origin and have on occasion alluded to their youthful lack of affluence. This provided the impetus for poverty-dropping, it being the custom for those in the social swim to identify as closely as possible with the White House.

The opportunity was provided by the various anti-poverty measures that the administration has sent to Congress.

Opens Gate
At any social gathering in the capital, the conversation is likely to touch on some aspect of the program, thus opening the gate for the poverty-droppers.

"I know what it's like to be poor," one of them will say. "Back during the depression, my family lived for a month on jam sandwiches—two pieces of bread jammed together."

"You call that being poor?" scoffs the second dropper. "Listen, when I was a kid..."

The first poverty-dropper does not stand a chance.
When confronted with this sort of thing, the best defense is a good offense. What I do is combine poverty-dropping with name and place dropping.

Did you know that Sen. Dirksen and I once starved to death together on the French Riviera?
ASKING ON WHAT...
LONDON (UPI) — Bachelor Edward Heath, new leader of the Conservative opposition, was asked by a woman journalist Wednesday who would be the official hostess of the government if he became prime minister.
Heath peered at his questioner. "Are you making me a proposition?" he inquired.

Paris Autumn Fashion Models Include Beautiful Bride From San Francisco

PARIS (UPI)—The beautiful stars who will grace down the runway of the autumn fashion shows in Paris will include a flower vendor, a Cambodian ambassador's niece and a beautiful bride from San Francisco.

Swedish-born designer Yorn happened to spot blonde Regine Kremmer, 19, selling posies right on the sidewalk near his salon on the Avenue George Fifth. The designer whisked her from her street corner kiosk and Regine now sweeps through the Yorn salon in $2,000 gowns.

Fewer foreign models appear to be tapped for the collections that begin July 26. Only about a dozen girls from abroad are scattered throughout the major salons.

Mom Neang, 20, niece of the Cambodian ambassador to Paris, was hired to be the second Oriental model at the house of Pierre Cardin.

Designer Capt. Malyneux chose a chic-looking brunette from San Francisco, Monique Montgomery. After modeling in department stores by the Golden Gate, Monique married French architect Michel Birmont when he visited California last year. He brought her to Paris.

Circle Officers Of Rebekah Lodge Elected, Installed

SKELLYTOWN (SpI) — Rebekah Lodge NO. 58 met Monday evening in IOOF Hall for a regular meeting. The meeting was opened with the flag ceremony and roll-call-of-officers.

Mrs. Ellen Kretzmeier of Pampa, past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, was welcomed and given the honors of the lodge.

A thank you note was sent to Blondy Williams for mowing the lawn around the IOOF Hall.

After the closing of the meeting the group was entertained by the "Tackett Family", who sang "I Love My S a v i o r", "Yonder in That City of Love," "Standing on the Promises," "Keep Me in Thy Fold," "In the Garden" and "My Wonderful God."

Officers of the Panhandle Circle were in charge of the Circle meeting. Audit report was read by Mrs. T. A. Mastin of Pampa. An election of new officers was held and those elected were installed.

Serving as Circle officers will be Mrs. Nancy Dixon of Amarillo-Lodge NO. 193, president.

Mrs. Ola McAfee of Pampa Lodge, vice president; Mrs. Mamie Eckard of Amarillo Lodge No. 183, secretary; Mrs. Bess Gilman of Borger Lodge, chaplain; and Miss A. Fern Lick of Skellytown Lodge, musician. Installing officers were Mrs. T. A. Mastin and Mrs. Kretzmeier, both of Pampa.

Door prize was received by Miss A. Fern Lick.

At the close of the Circle meeting the group enjoyed a salad supper. Next circle meeting will be held in the Borger Lodge on Aug. 16.

Four guests from Amarillo Lodge No. 276, five guests from Amarillo Lodge No. 193, 13 guests from Borger Lodge and several guests from Pampa were present.

Attending from Skellytown were Mmes. W. S. Berry, Robert Heaton, John Simmons, Miles Pearson, Kenneth Fanning, Floyd McCoy, Gertrude Hickins, Clifford Coleman, Fred Anderson, E. E. Crawford and Miss A. Fern Lick.

Shoes that punctuate the point-of-fashion-for-spring are the softest, tenderest shapes in a decade, reports the National Shoe Institute. Toes are ovals, rounds or soft squares. And there's lots of exposure via the revival of sling shapes.

Dear Abby... Plan of Action: When In Doubt, Do Nothing

DEAR ABBY: I am 36 and this girl I have been going with for three years is 26. Neither one of us has ever been married. She has been bugging me to marry her for the past two years, but I just can't seem to get fired up about it. I have been putting off my decision to give it more thought, but I can not make up my mind. We both work, so there is no financial problem. There isn't any religious problem, either. We get along okay and don't disagree on anything really important. She's a nice person, an efficient housekeeper and she's very practical. I don't think I love her, but she keeps telling me that she loves me so I say I love her, too, so as not to hurt her feelings. I like my freedom, but if I don't see her I never think of looking for another girl. Should I marry her or not? I just wish someone would help me make up my mind.

UNDECIDED DEAR UNDECIDED: When in doubt, do nothing. You don't seem able to get very "fired up" about much of anything. Perhaps you don't have the capacity for it, but marriage requires more enthusiasm than you display.

DEAR ABBY: I was dancing with my girl friend at a public dance hall, and when we swung out, a man cut in and the next thing I knew she was gone, and I was dancing with a man. I finished the dance with him and he took me back to my table and thanked me. My boy friend was furious! He said I had no business dancing with a strange man just because he cut in on me. Was I right in finishing the dance with the man or should I have walked off the floor and left him standing there? He was a perfect gentleman all the time we were dancing. My boy friend doesn't dance last numbers. That's why I was dancing with my girl friend.

ANGIE DEAR ANGIE: When two women dance together at a public dance hall, it is an implied invitation for a man to cut in, so don't blame the man. To have walked off the floor and left him standing there would have been rude. And if your boy friend did not want you dancing with strangers, he should have put his foot down when you wanted to dance with another girl publicly.

DEAR ABBY: I am nearing 60 and have an important decision to make. My wife died four years ago and for the past year I have been keeping steady company with a widow. Everyone tells me I would be lucky to get this woman. When we started to get "serious," she said she wanted an "official" engagement with a diamond ring. (She is 55 and has grandchildren.)

I asked her what kind of diamond she had in mind and she asked me what I did with the ring my first wife wore for years. I told her I had given it to my married daughter, which I had. Then she said she wouldn't accept anything smaller than two carats, and it had to be perfect! Frankly, I hadn't planned on buying her any kind of a diamond because she already has a nice one from her first husband. She is good company and a fine-looking woman and we enjoy each other's company. But all this talk about diamonds has got me ready to back off. What do you think?

CHANGE OF HEART DEAR CHANGE: Back off!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ANONYMOUS IN SAN FRANCISCO": Go to your Public Health Department. They will arrange for an examination at no cost to you. If your suspicions are correct (and I would guess they are), the disease is contagious. The treatment is painless and uncomplicated. I urge you to go today.

Feathers Adorn New Fashions From Italy

ROME (UPI)—Italian designers have decorated their fall-winter high-fashion collections with lots of feathers.

The ostrich rates as the top bird in the collections presented here for international buyers and press. But the plumage of the swan, the cock and possibly the humble chicken has also found its way into collars, cuffs and capes.

The designers taking stands for and against feathers today included Gregoriana, De Barontzen, Sarli, Bianco, Tita Rossi, Ognibene-Zendman, and Emilio Schuberth.

Pino Lancetti, who presented his fall-winter fashion collection in an airy courtyard on the fashionable Via Condotti Tuesday night, really set the feathers fluttering in his after-dark clothes.

Local TOPS Club

Has Monday Meeting

The regular meeting of Pampa Pound Pirates TOPS Club was called to order by Mrs. Carl Rollins. Roll call was answered with the number of pounds lost or gained the past week. The weight recorder reported 24½ pounds were lost this week and 8½ pounds were gained.

Mrs. Jim Fleming was weekly queen and received the fruit bowl. Her loss was six pounds. Twenty-one members and two guests were present.

Mrs. Bonnie Walker, who lost 4½ pounds, was weekly queen for the preceding week. The weight recorder, Mrs. James Lewis reported a loss of 22½ pounds and a gain of 9½ pounds for that week.

Meetings of the Pound Pirates are held each Monday at 7 p.m. in the Lutheran Church Annex. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RICHTER

For Friday, July 29
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A fine day and evening to relax to a specifically remedied form whatever work you have to do. Don't enter into a sensible schedule for yourself after which you can put into active expression such high-pitched, particularized systems that can serve you well for some time to come.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — It's a good idea to tackle all that work ahead of you but be sure your system is as modern as it can be. Coworkers are amenable to suggestions. Things work out very smoothly.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Don't be afraid to express originality in dress that stamps you an individual instead of just run-of-the-mill. Get into specialized work you like. Make excellent progress.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — If you want to get the cooperation of relatives, you had better be a little sly and subtle about it. Don't list an argue. Then you get the results you want. Be polite.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Get out to shop etc. but be sure you drive, walk carefully or there could be trouble of one sort or another. Much can be found that was unavailable before. Be astute.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Think carefully before you invest — you certainly will rue it later. Confer with trusted advisor first, but don't let your own initiative. Don't let big assets you possess slip through your fingers.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Being forceful with others could get you into a pack of trouble, so be diplomatic even though pushed for time. Listen, respect, fully instead. Butter up a bit and it'll fly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Better be cheerful about the work you have to do and please higher-ups. Copying your boss. Help those in trouble later. Use the stomach stop.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Discussing your practical ideas with good friends at dinner and they seem "fall" in

Visitor Entertained In C. Coleman Home

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Coleman and son Charlie entertained Tuesday evening with a cook out supper honoring their nephew, Bob Redman of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Redmond was en route to Hanover, Mich. to visit his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Earl E. Redman and family.

Attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and sons, Steve and Terry of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Coleman and son, Calvin, of Amarillo; Miss Carolyn Barrett of Pampa and Miss Jennie Severs of Borger.

'Suds' Are Hair Setting Aid

AID IN HAIR SETTING — Good hair styles have movement and design. It starts, though, with a good hair cut and squeaky clean shampooing. After shampoo (left) try a new hair-setting aid, a protein-rich beer concentrate. Foam it on and then set hair. To place curlers (center) part hair on side. On left side place rollers to turn under toward left ear. On right side, rollers turn under to right ear. Curlers at crown and at back are rolled under, too. When dry, brush-up hair, then comb into side curve and soft crown (right) so popular now.

Family Night Event Set by Skelly Club

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Skelly Club met recently in the Club House at Skelly Schafer Camp. Members enjoyed a covered-dish luncheon at the noon hour and painted the main club room.

A short business meeting was held at which a family night was planned for 7 p.m., Aug. 6. Members are to bring ice cream and cake. Games of 42, canasta and other games will be played after the social.

Sunday Open House Will Honor Former Pampon and Family

Mr. and Mrs. J. Loyd Larimore are holding an open house to honor their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Partin and son, Carl, Sunday afternoon, at their home at 417 Magnolia.

Mr. Partin, formerly of Pampa and a carrier-boy for the Pampa Daily News, is now living in Wichita Falls. He is employed by the Wichita Times.

Friends of the parties are invited to drop by and visit between 2 and 5 p.m.

 In some cities a woman might wonder whether she was in a salon or a beauty salon. Many hairdressers swear by beer as an excellent hair setting agent and use it lavishly.

Fortunately for the local minister's wife or a bulwark in the WCTU, the alcohol and the odor evaporate with out any heady effects other than a nice coiffure.

A hair set preparation now comes in concentrate form using the real beer idea. In an aerosol can, it is non-alcoholic yet protein-rich. It now is available in beauty salons for take-home purposes.

One well-known hairdresser passed on home-care tips while discussing the use of various hair-setting products. According to Victor Vito of Fifth Avenue, New York, you can simplify your home hair setting by using cellophane tape to corral pesky strands of hair that escape when you try to roll your hair on curlers.

Also, he says to begin your comb-out with a good brush-up. Keep the part as defined when you brush as when you set your hair. After the brush-up, comb in the side wave curves and soft crown.

POLLY'S POINTERS
 Kids Delighted By Bottle Cap Tambourines
 By POLLY CRAMER
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 DEAR POLLY — Your children will have a wonderful time with tambourines made with soft drink bottle caps. Remove the lining from the caps and punch a hole in the center of each. Take an embroidery hoop, cover with heavy paper. Loosely sew the bottle caps at intervals to the paper.

Give the children a few pieces of old bread and some cookie cutters so they can cut out food for the birds. Hang the bread on string on the trees. It teaches them to love and care for birds. —MRS. O. E.

DEAR POLLY — I am in desperate need of a Pointer. After one or two washings and dryings it is impossible to work the zippers on my son's pants. I have to lubricate the zippers after every laundering by running a bar of soap along both rows of teeth. Is there anything I can do to prevent this problem from arising? Many thanks for any help I can get.

—JULIA

Julia and others with the same problem: A zipper repair company tells me that you j trouble comes from putting the pants in your drier, as this seems to harm the teeth of the zipper. We are assuming that you close all zippers before laundering any garment. There is a commercial stick available, under several trade names and quite inexpensive, that will relieve the existing problem and is better than soap for lubricating zippers. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Another hint for the typists. Place an extra sheet of paper back of a single sheet that you may be typing on. The cylinder will last longer than if used with just a single sheet. Credit for this Pointer goes to my typing teacher. —MIKE

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer concerns an old shower curtain from which I made curtains for my bathroom window. I left the original holes and used the hooks for same. With the material left over I made covers for suits and coats, using a store-bought cover as a pattern.

—MRS. M. L. R.

GIRLS — I am sorry but I must repeat that we cannot answer letters personally. I know it seems to each of you that just your one letter would take little time but multiplying that by the number of requests received makes it impossible. Please try to understand. I only wish time allowed for writing each of you a long detailed letter repeating some hint you have missed or advising you personally on some matter.

Cocky Sammy Sets LA Back

By United Press International
About the only person in Cincinnati who was not worried about Sammy Ellis was Sammy Ellis.

Pampa KOed In Babe Ruth

BROWNFIELD — Lamesa's booming bats and sloppy Pampa fielding eliminated the Pampa Americans from the state Babe Ruth Tournament here last night as they dropped the losers' bracket game to Lamesa, 8-2.

Despite a standout relief pitching performance by Billy Davis, the Golden Tornadoes had piled up a 6-2 lead off Lonzo Gomez in the first four innings, and then got two more unearned runs in the final two frames as Jerry Carlton pitched a two-hitter for the winners, striking out eight and walking four. Both of Pampa's hits were garnered by Johnny Marsh.

Pampa scored both their runs in the top of the second inning on two walks and two Tornado errors, but Lamesa tied it up in their half, going on to knock Gomez out of the box in the fourth. Davis came on with the fourth, jammed and two out and struck out the next batter, striking out the side in the fifth. Davis allowed only one hit the rest of the way, but two Pampa errors allowed two more tallies.

Yank Pick In Senior

DALMAHOY, Scotland (UPI) — Ray Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., who overcame torrential rains and bursters in his left wrist to upset Scotland's Eric Brown, was favored today to win the 72-hole, $28,000 Senior Service golf championship.

Brown, who had never lost to an American in match play, fell to the 22-year-old Midwesterner Wednesday in "Little Ryder Cup" competition. Floyd shaved seven strokes off par with a 34-31 — 65 to defeat Brown four holes up.

Most of the singles matches were washed out by the heavy rains which followed an all night drizzle and left large pools on the course. Only three matches were completed. Five were halted while the participants still were on the course.

Each match was to have gone 18 holes but officials agreed to count the scores as each match stood on the course at the cancellation.

Loyal Seniors To State

Only a handful of loyal seniors will represent the Pampa Track Club at the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation state meet at Denton Saturday night.

Although 23 of 24 competing team members qualified for the meet by placing in the regional meet at Lubbock last week, work, vacations, beauty contests, lack of interest, lack of funds and a minor rebellion saw only a few senior division members loyal to the team and willing to pay a share of their own expenses.

Funds for those willing to work for the chance will come from the Pampa Jaycees and from Elmer Wilson of Windsor Well Servicing. At present, only four PTC members are certain of going, although seven more will make it if possible.

Competing in the senior boys division will be Randy Elliott, who was second in the pole vault last week, third in the 880 and in the low hurdles, and ran on the second place relay team; Gary "Little Butch" Crossland, who won the broad jump, was third in the 100-yard dash and ran on the relay; and Otto Wheeler, sixth in the broad jump, second in both high and low hurdles, and a member of the relay team. Open division contestant Bones Bullard, who placed in high and low hurdles and the 100, will also go.

Shotputter Vernon Marlar will attempt to make the meet, and if so, will round out the relay team. Fellow weightmen Doc Cornutt and James "Gunner" Matney will also compete if their families return from vacation in time.

Four senior girls will also attempt to make the meet if "beauty" does not stand in their way. Bobbie Powers and Linda Stump have entered the "Miss White Deer" contest scheduled for Saturday night also, and if they are able to withdraw, will be joined by Marolyn and Carolyn Young for the run for the medals.

A minor rebellion, led by several of the younger runners who seemed less interested in the prospects of a team win than their own personal glory, has eliminated the chances of the intermediate, junior and midget PTC contenders to compete in the meet.

Senior events at the state meet will begin at 6 p.m. Saturday at the North Texas University track. The meet is sanctioned by the TAAF and AAU and approved by the UIL. Contestants will need both TAAF and AAU membership cards.

Tommy Elliott, former PTC member and brother of Randy, will drive the team down, with coach "Jeep" Webb of Pampa coming down from coaching school Saturday night to mastermind the squad. This will be the final meet of the season for the Pampa Track Club, which has placed fourth in the USIFF Oklahoma state meet, first at the Pampa Jaycee, first at the Lubbock Jaycee, fourth at Andrews TAAF, third at Jaycee state, first at Perryton AAU and first at regional TAAF.

Joe Green Top Rider In Rodeo

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — Joe Green of Sulphur, Okla., took top money in steer roping after competition of first go-round results in the Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeo Wednesday.

Green collected $1,055.47 with the best time of the go-round, .195.

Rodeo headquarters made first go-round payoffs in steer roping, bulldogging and bull riding.

John W. Jones of San Luis Obispo, Calif., won the first go-round in bulldogging and took home $1,014.05 for the effort, a time of .097.

Denny Wall of Miles City Mont., scored a 64 to top the go-round in bull riding and won $740.61.

The breakdown:

Steer roping—1. Green, $1,055.47; 2. Clark McEntire, Kiowa, Okla., $873.50; 3. Jim Prather, Clairmont, Tex., $691.52; 4. John Scott, Miles City, Mont., $509.54; 5. Archie Covington, Wynnewood, Tex., $327.56; 6. (tie) Dewey David, Riverton, Wyo., and Howard Haythorn, Arthur, Neb., $90.99 each.

Bulldogging—1. Jones, $1,014.05; 2. Donnie Johnson, Rio Vista, Tex., $839.21; 3. Nathan Haley, Hanna, Okla., $664.37; 4. Allen Keller, Olathe, Colo., $314.70; 5. Harley May, Oskdale, Calif., $174.84.

ANOTHER TRY — Randy Elliott of Skellytown will make another try for a state title for the Pampa Track Club at Saturday's TAAF meet in Denton. In five meets this summer, Elliott has won the pole vault three times, as well as placing in the low hurdles, broad jump, 880 and running on the sprint relay team.

Pros Have Chance To Displace Nick

HARRISON, N. Y. (UPI) — Four top pros led by defending champion Tony Lema have a chance to displace big Jack Nicklaus as the leading money winner of the year in the $100,000 Thunderbird Golf Classic starting today.

With a $20,000 jackpot going to the winner after Sunday's final round, both Lema and Bruce Devlin of Australia could take over the money lead if Nicklaus finishes fourth or worse.

Billy Casper, winner of the Insurance City Open last weekend, can make No. 1 if Nicklaus finishes sixth and Gene Littler, the 1962 Thunderbird champ, could be the top man if Nicklaus is seventh.

Lema was a slight favorite over the 6,573-yard par 72 west course at the Westchester Country Club where last year he bested Mike Souchak in a head-and-head duel down the final nine for the $20,000 prize.

"I've always liked this course," said Champagne Tony,

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—NCAA champion Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., and Herb Durham of Dallas, were among the leaders today as 180 survivors played the final 18 holes of qualifying for 16 match play berths in the men's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Fleckman, from the University of Houston, shot a 34-37-71 even par, to trail leader Bill Newton of Ann Arbor, Mich., by one stroke. Durham, a veteran campaigner, was among a half dozen players posting 74s in Wednesday's opening round of qualifying.

Pascual's Tumor Shakes Flag Hope

By United Press International
Ever see a pennant walk off a pitching mound? That's what Minnesota Manager Sam Mele envisioned Wednesday night when the Twins ace righthander Camilo Pascual stepped off the mound and motioned to the dugout for him.

Pascual was in the midst of pitching his best game in more than a month when he suddenly called Mele to the mound. Pascual said he couldn't pitch any more, that his arm bothered him too much.

Off he walked with a perplexed Mele trailing behind, watching the Twins winningest pitcher for the last five seasons clutching his right elbow. He had allowed Washington only two hits and had a 3-0 lead when he left with two out in the fourth.

Dr. George Resta, team physician for the Washington Senators, examined Pascual and recommended immediate surgery to remove a tumor on the back of his pitching arm.

Roggenburk Takes Over
Bary Roggenburk took over for Pascual and pitched the last 5 1-3 innings as the Twins defeated the Washington Senators 8-1. But Mele was visibly depressed by the news of Pascual's tumor and the dressing room of the American League leaders was as quiet as a tomb.

"I'd rather not talk about it just now," Mele said. "I called Mr. (Cal) Griffith (the Twins owner) and discussed the situation with him and asked him for a replacement for Pascual."

"What can I say," he shrugged.

In other AL games, second-place Baltimore remained four games behind the Twins by stopping Los Angeles 5-1, Cleveland downed Chicago 4-2, Boston blanked Kansas City 6-0 and Detroit edged New York 4-3.

Decision Today
Griffith and the Twins doctor were expected to reach a decision today whether to go ahead with the operation, which would sideline Pascual for at least two weeks and possibly longer. Pascual won his last game on June 8 and has pitched only 25 innings since then, losing three.

Harmon Killebrew slugged his 22nd home run and Tony Oliva collected five hits for the Twins, who tagged Washington starter Phil Ortega with his ninth loss in 20 decisions. Oliva's barrage raised his batting average to .308. He also stole two bases and scored three times.

Dick Brown's two-run double drove in the winning run for Baltimore in a three-run seventh and the Orioles added two more tallies in the eighth. Fred Newman, the Angels starting hurler, accounted for Los Angeles' only run with a homer. Steve Barber worked the first eight innings to win his ninth.

Bell Gets WP
Fred Whitfield's two-run homer broke a 2-2 tie and gave the Indians and reliever Gary Bell the victory. The loss went to Joe Horlen and was the ninth in 10 games for the slumping White Sox. Larry Brown had tied the score in the seventh for Cleveland with a squeeze bunt.

Norm Cash belted a three-run homer off reliever Steve Hamilton in the eighth inning to bring the Tigers from behind. Jack Cullen, making his first major league start for the Yankees, had blanked the Tigers on five hits for seven innings before he gave up a single and triple in the eighth. Dave Wickersham, with an assist from Terry Fox, was the winner.

Bill Monbouquette scattered eight hits and Lee Thomas and Carl Yazstrzanski hit home runs for the Red Sox, who also suffered a blow as Tony Conigliaro suffered a hairline fracture of the right wrist when he was hit by a pitched ball in the fifth inning. He will be out of action at least 10 days.

OIL BOWL-BOUND
WICHITA FALLS (UPI) — Skippy Sprull, a 255-pound All-American and all-state center from Odessa, and two other players were named today to the Texas squad for the Texas-Oklahoma Oil Bowl football game here Aug. 20.

The others named include end Barney Oliver of Archer City and tackle Grady Ivy of Dallas Spruce.

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Great Society Doesn't Come Free

Federal aid payments to both state and local governments and to individuals totaled $12.8 billion in fiscal 1964, a 17 per cent increase over the previous year. Good old Uncle! The increase was substantially larger than those of recent years. In both fiscal 1962 and 1963, there was a 6 per cent hike from the preceding 12 months and in 1961, a 7 per cent increase. Not since 1959, when a 29 per cent increase occurred, has there been such a sizeable jump. But the 1964 increase continued a 10-year trend. Except for 1960, federal aid to state and local governments and individuals has risen annually over the decade, as new programs were initiated and old ones expanded. In 1960, a four per cent decline occurred. The totals and percentages are compiled annually by Congressional Quarterly from basic statistics collected by the Treasury Department. The most recent figures are for the government's accounting year which ended June 30, 1964. Nevertheless, it is clear that the trend will continue to be upward — perhaps dramatically — over the next few years as an increasing number of President Johnson's Great Society programs are enacted. Already this year, Congress has approved a $1 billion program to aid the economically depressed Appalachian region and a program of federal-aid-to-education. The latter is expected to cost at least $1.3 billion during the first year and much more in the following years. In addition, Congress is expected to approve legislation to assist other regions of the nation that are experiencing economic difficulties. This bill authorizes spending of up to $665 million a year. Last year, Congress approved a $948 million anti-poverty program. President Johnson is asking the present Congress to raise the figure to $1.5 billion. Of the total $12.8 billion in federal payments, $10 billion went to state and local governments and $2.8 billion went directly to individuals. The 1963 total was $10.8 billion, with $7.9 billion to governments and $2.5 billion to individuals. Federal aid covers a wide variety of programs that have grown up over the years. They range from highway construction to public assistance and include such other activities as public health, education, housing, agricultural and conservation practices and child care. The money goes in the form of grants and other types of payments. The largest category in 1964, as in previous years, was expenditures of $3.6 billion for highways. This was an increase

The Ideal Job For Everyone?

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz says we have no reason to feel comfortable about an unemployment rate of 4.6 per cent, nor should we even if it drops down to 4 per cent. There is only one answer as far as employment is concerned, he says, and that is that every person in this country who is capable of doing a job is entitled to an opportunity to do that job. To illustrate what he means, he reports a conversation he had with an airlines stewardess. She took the job, she said, only because she couldn't find work as an actress. According to our statistics, she is employed. But is she really, asks Wirtz? Are we correct in counting a person employed when that person happens to be filling one of the jobs which is available but is not doing what he or she is capable of doing? Well, now, Mr. Wirtz undoubtedly has a valid point, but the ideal which he erects seems to be something that not even the Great Society can realize. In the first place, what a person thinks he would like to do is not necessarily the best nor the only thing he is capable of doing. Our ideas change, too, as

Sensing The News By THURMAN SENSING

POLITICAL ROUGH-STUFF In trying to ram through repeal of section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits state right-to-work laws, the Johnson administration is using rough-stuff on members of the Congress. The latest example of arm-twisting involves heavy pressure on congressmen from farming areas of the country. The new tactic came to light in mid-July when Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman addressed a breakfast meeting of 50 farm-bloc congressmen, most of them from the Middle West and the South. These big guns of the Johnson administration made it plain to the congressmen that if they wanted to obtain a favorable farm bill they would have to line up in support of repeal of 14(b). This is no way to conduct the legislative process in the United States. Certainly, the authors of the Constitution never imagined that pressure tactics of this sort would be used by the President in order to force Congress to legislate a particular way. The arm-twisting by Messrs. Humphrey and Freeman also reveals the desperation which drives the administration. One of Mr. Johnson's favorite words is "consensus." He is said to favor getting laws on the books that are broadly representative of the thinking of the American people. But he isn't about to seek a "consensus" on the right-to-work issue. The reason is that there is no grassroots support for repeal of right-to-work laws or enabling legislation. On the contrary, it is apparent that the great majority of Americans are quite satisfied with the freedom which 14(b) permits. It is interesting and revealing to consider the shaky moral foundation of the union-bosses' position. They say that they want every working man to have an opportunity to join a union. But they do not want a working man to have the opportunity to reject unionism. They are all for freedom when it means that another member will be brought into the house of Big Labor. But they are all against freedom where it may enable a working man to escape Big Labor's net. Morally, of course, this is a completely untenable position. Insofar as the farm-bloc is concerned, one can only hope that the congressmen who come from farming areas will have the moral stamina to resist the rough-stuff employed by the administration. Indeed, people living on farms should speak out strongly and let their representatives know that they oppose the limiting of freedom in the United States. In times past, farmers enjoyed great freedom. They were not living under big city political machines, for example. But in recent years, farmers have lost more and more of their independence. Nowadays, the federal government can tell them, in many instances, how much of a crop they may plant. If they violate federal farm regulations, as in the case of the wheat farmers, they are in for serious trouble with the law. Thus the farmers should bear in mind those fellow citizens who, because of right-to-work laws, are free of the overlordship of union bosses. Those working men and women who have this measure of freedom need help from all Americans, whatever their walk of life, to guard and preserve that freedom. The story of the Republic today is the story of vanishing freedom. The diminishing of one citizen's freedom, by action of a grasping federal government or union organization, results in the diminishing of freedom on the part of all citizens. The process of stripping away freedom must be arrested. And the representatives of farming areas have a clear-cut responsibility to help curb Big Government and Big Unionism. Unfortunately, Big Government is fully mobilized for its attacks on the freedom of citizens. In a recent interview, Lawrence O'Brien, the chief White House lobbyist, frankly described the methods used to pressure Congress into a particular line of action. It seems that every congressional liaison man in every government department and agency is required to submit detailed weekly reports to the White House on his pressure activities. On the basis of these reports, the White House deploys its forces against Congress. In view of this mobilization of federal lobbying power, the Congress has all the more need

Who Gets The Plums?

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

How Expert Is An Expert? How Solid Is A Statistic?

By SAM CAMPBELL Register Business Editor If you can't understand what the man is saying, you naturally figure he knows more than you. Writers of financial copy are generally aware of this human tendency and, since they need the status of experts, you see them using big words and obscure phrases. Of course, some people who do know their onions fall into the same lamentable habit. The problem thus becomes how to tell the legitimate operators from the fakers. I suppose it would be possible to write a book on the tricks of financial reporting. But a few samples will suffice for the time being. Better Than What? For instance, some fellow comes out and says to the Associated Press or United Press International that the balance of payments is getting better. The vital question here is, "better than what?" Usually it turns out that what the chap really meant is that the deficit was lower in the quarter just ended than in the prior quarter. But the accumulated gold loss is greater than it ever was before. In short, something "bad" is made to look "better" by the simple expedient of comparing it with something worse. That is to say, a rat might look big when you see it in your camping tent at night, but when you compare it with a mouse the next day, it doesn't spook you half as much. Words Are Synonyms Another thing to keep in mind when you read the financial gobblegook, is that each word and each phrase — if it has any meaning at all — must refer to something. In other words, a phrase or word is a symbol. It has meaning only in so far as it points the mind to something that is real. Some words and phrases actually refer to nothing at all. For instance, try to define the term "public interest." Some words and phrases refer to collections of statistics. Since statistics are mathematical, you would expect them to be about as solid as any fact that you would come up against. Actually, however, virtually every statistic you come upon contains some element of opinion and the value, accordingly, is strongly qualified. Imports Exceed Exports As an illustration, a prominent Spanish economist pointed out that if all the world imports for a given period were added together they would exceed the world exports. The reason, he pointed out, is that the statistics are official; they do not reflect the unofficial trade, specifically the black market, for moral stamina. The public has an even greater need for publicity being directed at the federal pressure corps. A close look at the Humphrey-Freeman operation is a case in point. Publicity may spike the guns of Big Government and Big Unionism in the 14(b) repeal fight.

Question Box

QUESTION: "It seems that we are always reading about the post office raising postal rates or cutting service to save money or just complaining about being always in the red. Why then, all of a sudden after 50 years, is it that postmen are no longer walking? Instead they are all driving expensive little cars. I really do not understand." ANSWER: We do not believe all postmen are driving the small cars, although their use seems to be increasing. Presumably, the cars are being put into service on routes where the postmen are covering larger territories with longer distances between stops. The question is not whether the men walk, ride bicycles or drive autos. The question is whether the government should be in the business at all, and if it is in business whether it should be entirely self-sustaining, with charges for service covering all of the costs. If the post office were operated by private enterprise, the stockholders would insist on the service paying all of the costs plus a profit for the investors. In order to earn more, the management would find it necessary to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible charge in order to continue in business. This conceivably could include motorizing the carriers, or use of other mechanized aids to improve the service.

Between the Bookends

The Free Market And Its Enemy "Only a moron would believe that the millions of private economic decisions being made independently of each other will somehow harmonize in the end and bring us out where we want to be." This provocative statement was made by a labor official in 1962. It demonstrates the prevalent trend today — a total lack of comprehension of the way the free market works. The noted writer, Leonard Read, has approached this problem in his new book, "The Free Market and Its Enemy" (published by Foundation for Economic Education, Irvington-on-Hudson, N. Y.; $1.75). The main purpose of his book is to identify the forces at work in opposition to the free market; but his last chapter describes the "incomprehensible order" in the market. He addresses himself to the labor official's quotation by pointing out the composition within each human being: "An octillion atoms... bone marrow producing one billion red blood cells every 60 seconds; each kidney having some 5 million complex glomeruli..." etc. "These trillions upon trillions of data, in each human being... can easily tempt one to conclude: 'Only a moron would believe that these will somehow harmonize in the end and bring us out where we want to be.'" Read goes on to call attention to Russia, Red China, Cuba, and East Germany. "Like our labor official and many of our educators and business leaders," these unfortunate people do not understand how mil-

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE How much are you worth? Is your present income more than you are worth? Not as much as you're worth? Or is your income just right? How can you tell how much you're worth? First of all, we know that everyone uses his money in ways he considers most important. A buyer will look at a product, mentally set a value on it, and then decide whether or not the product is as valuable as the price being asked for it. Your employer offers products and services to potential buyers. He sets a price. The buyer judges whether or not it's a "fair" price by whether or not he buys. If you employer finds it difficult to make sales, he must either lower the price, increase the value of the product, or else go into another line of business. Since your employer can't make these products by himself, he hires you and others to help him. He has to pay a wage that's consistent with the price the customer will pay him for the product. So here's how it's determined if you're getting the right wage: If your wage is too low, someone else will be willing to hire you at a higher wage. That other employer will recognize that your value to him is greater than the wage you're getting, and offer you more to work for him. In other words, he will profit from hiring you at a higher wage. If your wage is too high, you'll eventually lose your job. This will happen for one of two reasons: (1) your employer will find someone else who will do your job for less money; or (2) your employer will not be able to sell his product at a profit, and he'll go out of business. Even if you could force your employer to pay you a higher wage, this would simply hasten the day when you'll be out of a job. Your employer will pay you the highest wage possible, because this is the only way he obtains the best employees whose value will help him make a profit. If your employer were not smart enough to realize this, other employers would outbid him for the best employees. If no employer offers the employees enough — and the employees think they should earn more — then the employees themselves can go into business and pay the wages they think are proper. The formula is simple: if your employer is satisfied with your present wage and value — and no one else offers you more — then your wage is apparently the right one. Does this mean you can't expect to make more than you're getting now? Of course not. You can raise your wages just by becoming worth more. Figure out ways to make yourself more valuable to your employer. Help develop ways to increase your production — or learn a new job that provides greater value — make suggestions to reorganize your department in ways that will be more productive. Find out what others want and are willing to pay for. Learn how to provide these things for them. They'll pay you more — because it's profitable for them to do so. Don't count on anyone else but yourself to raise your wages. Only you can increase your value. And there's nothing to stop you from doing so. It's your future that's involved!

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Tuesday, Aug. 3, the 215th day of 1965 with 150 to follow. The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Mars. Those born today are under the sign of Leo. American journalist Ernest Pyle, who served as a war correspondent in World War II, was born on this day in 1900. On this day in history: In 1492, Christopher Columbus left Spain on his voyage to the New World. In 1914, Germany declared war on France, and England announced it would protect France from naval attack. In 1951, 90 cadets, including the core of the Army football team, were dismissed from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., for cheating on exams. In 1958, the U.S. submarine "Nautilus" made the world's first undersea crossing of the North Pole. A thought for the day: Robert Louis Stevenson said: "Give me the young man who has brains enough to make a fool of himself." advice and counsel of neutrals, friends or allies must be of the "yes sir" variety. But it is evident each country thinks of its own immediate problems. Some countries believe the Reds will leave them alone at home if we give in to them elsewhere — say in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. Some don't want the United States to get so involved at another end of the world, we won't be able to come to their aid. Some find criticizing the United States a convenient political crutch in dealing with their own domestic critics. The moral is that after getting all the facts it can, the United States will have to chart its own course with humility, firmness and vigor. It will be impossible to please everyone. Sometimes it may be impossible to please anyone. HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS You may wish to write your senator and representatives in Washington and Austin.
