

Nation Pays Final Homage to Adlai Stevenson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation he sought to serve in life paid a final homage in death today to Adlai Ewing Stevenson, the eloquent spokesman of its highest and finest aspirations in the councils of the world.

President Johnson led a distinguished band of mourners from the government, the diplomatic corps and the legions of Stevenson's friends and admirers in honoring the memory of the 65-year-old statesman, who died unexpectedly in London Wednesday.

An old and close friend, Judge Carl McGowan of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, delivered the eulogy. Another friend, the Rev. Dr. Richard Paul Graebler, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Springfield, Ill., officiated.

The funeral service at Washington's great, gray national cathedral was the simple, almost stark, service prescribed by the Book of Common Worship of the United Presbyterian Church, the church of Stevenson's mother.

A guard-of-honor of all the nation's armed services had already placed the flag-draped coffin in place at the crossing of the great vaulted nave of the cathedral when the funeral procession, led by Dr. Graebler entered.

American from every walk of life, honored and mourning, filled the cathedral's 2,400 seats for the service, which began with Dr. Graebler intoning the ancient biblical words: "Our help is in the name of the Lord who made heaven and earth... the eternal God is thy refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms... I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord, he that believeth in me, yet shall he live."

The Illinois minister, a friend since Stevenson's days as governor of that state, sought God's help to lift the bereaved family and friends, and the nation, "above our darkness and distress into the light and peace of thy presence." He led the congregation in the Lord's Prayer.

"A man is as free as he can live and get on without being at the mercy of arbitrary decisions on the part of other people."

Soviets Launch Five New Satellites

Russian Space Mark Set in New Series

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet scientists set a Russian space record today by launching five unmanned satellites with one rocket into tightly grouped orbits of the earth.

DeGaulle, Italian President Open 7-Mile Tunnel

CHAMONIX, France (UPI) — A 150-year-old dream became reality today when the presidents of France and Italy opened a seven-mile-long road tunnel linking their countries through the heart of snow-capped Mont Blanc, the highest mountain in Europe.

The launching of five Sputniks into close orbits indicated, Western experts believed, the Russians may be trying to achieve the first rendezvous in space between two unmanned satellites.

If it succeeds, the Westerners believed, the Soviets may try a rendezvous later this year with manned spacecraft.

President's Rent Subsidy Plan Is Just A Single Step From Enactment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's rent subsidy plan, a broad new government attack on the housing problems of the nation's needy, today was but a single step from enactment.

The experimental plan, which would have the government help pay the rent on decent homes for millions of poor persons, was part of the administration's $7.3 billion omnibus housing bill passed by the Senate Thursday night on a 54-30 vote.

A House-Senate conference now will attempt to work out the differences between the measure the Senate passed and the $6 billion bill the House approved on a 245-169 vote, June 30. The conferees were not expected to run into trouble.

Mrs. Agnes Bingham of Borger came to Pampa on a shopping trip and lost her billfold containing $40. She advertised it in The Pampa News Lost and Found column on the Classified Pages.

The Senate defeated 47 to 40 a Republican move to eliminate the rent subsidy program, then stopped 49 to 38 a GOP drive to cripple the project by limiting it to $10 million in each of the four years it would run.

But, on a whopping 59-6 vote, senators did trim the cost of the program to $150 million in new contracts — actually $350 million in payments after four years — instead of the administration's proposed $200 million in new contracts for a total of $500 million in 1969.

Supporters of the novel plan claimed it could work as far-reaching a change in the fabric of American life as the President's multi-billion-dollar medicare program, which also is on the brink of final congressional approval.

City Study Group Has Briefing Meet

The Thoroughfare and Street Improvement study committee named to make recommendations for a long-range street program for Pampa held an organizational and briefing session late yesterday afternoon in City Hall.

The committee, headed by Clinton Evas, will get down to business at another meeting scheduled for 5 p.m. Tuesday.

City Manager Jim White addressed committee members, outlined what would be expected from them and offered services of his City Hall staff for any needed assistance in the street improvement study.

Members of the committee include Joe Fischer, Leon Homes, Dr. Joe Donaldson, Ray Duncan, Lou Troja, James C. Hill, C. P. Buckler, Jack Miller, James Morgan and O. F. Hunter.

Scientists Happy Over Mars Photos

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — U.S. scientists were off to a triumphant start today in their scientific breakthrough which produced the first close-up photograph of Mars showing a bright desert area and the edge of the mysterious planet.

The first picture, unveiled to the world Thursday night, gave no hint as to the Martian terrain, but others were on their way from the Mariner-4 spacecraft, giving promise of further scientific knowledge.

Transmission of the second photograph was completed shortly after 4 a.m. CST and the spacecraft was reported "behaving normally." Reception of the third picture was started shortly after 6 a.m. CST, officials said. The second picture was not expected to be released until later today at the earliest.

The initial photo taken by the spacecraft's cosmic eye Wednesday night in its "fly-by" of Mars took 8 hours, 35 minutes in transmission to earth tracking stations — the same time it will take for all subsequent pictures — possibly 20-which scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) hope to get.

JPL Director Dr. William H. Pickering pointed out the entire picture - transmission process would take 10 days and he and other scientists looked forward to even better results.

When asked about possible terrain features he could detect in the photo, Leighton quipped, "dirt."

He said it was impossible at the present time to determine whether contrasting light and dark areas indicated possible mountains or valleys.

Leighton said the edge of Mars as depicted in the first picture appeared "sharp." Cloudy areas along the edge, he said, were apparently due to "a certain amount of fog reducing the contrast." He said further study had to be made to determine the cause of the fog and streaks.

McNamara, Lodge and Gen. Earl K. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived here earlier today at the head of a 60-man mission from Washington under extremely heavy security.

American soldiers guarded key intersections along the route from the airport to downtown Saigon, watching for any terrorist assassination attempts.

Cong, Government Forces Suffer Heavy Battle Losses

SAIGON (UPI) — Heavy losses on both sides were reported today in a savage battle 30 miles south of Da Nang. An American spokesman said 156 guerrillas were killed.

Other pilots reported seeing as many as 200 guerrillas at the battle zone.

The VC (Viet Cong) we strafed looked like a bunch of halfbacks in a broken field with a 'let's get the hell out of here attitude,' said Capt. Walter B. Harris of Knoxville, Tenn., who led a flight of F104 Starfighters.

In another air action in South Viet Nam, a U.S. Air Force spokesman reported that 87 guerrillas were killed Tuesday by a combined air fleet of U.S. Navy, Air Force and Vietnamese air force planes 45 miles west of Saigon.

On the ground Communist forces boldly attacked two villages within 20 miles of Saigon during the night.

Adlai Stevenson Was Not Always Happy With LBJ

By LEON DENNEN
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA) — Russia's representative to the United Nations, Nikolai Fedorenko, is not noted for always telling the truth. But there was a ring of truth when he taunted the late Adlai Stevenson with defending U.S. policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic in which he did not believe.

Welfare State Politics Displayed in Chicago

By LYLE WILSON
The practical side of welfare state politics is on display in Chicago where racial demonstrators stalk the streets although not in large numbers. Chicago Negroes march in protest against Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley and Dr. Benjamin C. Willis, superintendent of schools. They have been marching for some weeks. The Negroes want Willis fired on charges of refusing to integrate the school system. Daley is in his four-year term as mayor of Chicago. He needed the Negro vote to reach and to remain in office and he got it. It was bought and paid for by the welfare state.

Managers of the Chicago demonstrations have been unable to entice the vast Negro population into the streets or, perhaps, even to turn them against Daley. Their loyalty is to the welfare state. That is Daley's defense against the political punishment Negro leaders would like to inflict on him. Albert A. Raby commands the campaign against Daley. He heads a combination of 50 civil rights groups known as the Coordinating Council on Community Organizations (CCCCO). On some days Raby has been unable to come up with more than 100 Negro marchers although in the past 30 days about 700 have been arrested.

Daley claims the demonstrations are sparked by Communists, a complaint that invites hoots of scorn when it is made by southern officials. Raby complains that Daley's hold on Chicago Negroes is so tight that he cannot entice them into the streets.

Raby had this to say: "The mayor's machine still controls the Ghetto. Daley could be re-elected tomorrow. I don't doubt that because he still has control of the Negro vote through the welfare, housing and city job system."

There in 33 words you have an explanation of the practical side of welfare state politics. The system! Call it New Deal, Fair Deal, New Horizon or Great Society, the welfare state is the most effective political instrument of the 20th Century. It will deliver the votes in any election day.

MISSUS NOMINATION
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The secret is out. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield missed being nominated as the Republican vice presidential candidate last year by only 628 votes.

That was the number of delegate votes by which Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, lost her bid for the GOP presidential convention. The secret of the lady senator's vice presidential choice was divulged to a blushing Mansfield Thursday by Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt. Mansfield modestly allowed it had been the only connection he has ever had with a Republican convention.

First war movies were made during the Sudan Campaign of 1898.

area, large or small. It has kept welfare - stater in office for most of the past 30 years with no hint of early change in that respect.

The welfare state is expensive of course, but not for the politicians. They use other people's money, either tax money or borrowed money. With other people's money the politicians finally will bankrupt the nation in their free spending competition. Politicians now in office don't worry about that. They will be gone and probably dead before the nation goes bust. So, why worry? As of now, they never had it so good. Your grandchildren can fret because it cannot last forever.

Each succeeding generation of politicians must out-do those who have gone before. FDR, Harry Truman and John F. Kennedy were pikers compared to President Johnson. LBJ

Accidents on Pampa Streets On Upswing

Traffic accidents on city streets took a turn upward during June of 1965 as compared with the same period one year ago.

The figures were revealed in the monthly report to the National Safety Council by the Pampa Police Department.

The report showed there were 46 accidents within the city limits of Pampa in June of this year which accounted for 16 persons injured.

For the same month last year there were 38 accidents with 11 resultant injuries.

Also, female drivers had far fewer accidents than their male counterpart.

Failure to yield right of way was listed as the major cause of June's accidents with speeding listed as the second biggest contributor.

The 46 accidents last month accounted for $13,435.37 property damage.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—If there had been major, national television debates between presidential candidates at the time, how would Adlai Stevenson have done against Dwight Eisenhower?

It is, of course, hardly likely that anything at all could have offset the immense popularity of Eisenhower—or that a debate could have made the difference that it did for John Kennedy against Richard Nixon, in other words for the lesser known man against the better known one.
Still, the question is not too completely an idle one in the context of the general feeling that Stevenson ran up against bad timing in politics—especially in having to run against Ike. For if television had been as prominent then in politics as it has been from the time of President Kennedy on, possibly a somewhat altered image of Stevenson in the public mind would have resulted.

This suggestion that possibly his timing was also inopportune in terms of television's political "arrival" arises from the fact that millions of Americans—including his dedicated opponents—remember Stevenson's tough, enormously effective facing down of the Russians at the United Nations in a video session during the Cuban missile crisis. Even anti-Stevenson quarters were impressed.
And yet this capacity for public firmness and even toughness was totally opposite from the image that had settled in millions of minds—the image that indicated that, yes, he was brilliant and witty and informed and sophisticated, but he may have lacked the quick decisiveness necessary for the presidency, as well as the common touch.
His alleged lack of decisiveness—more specifically, his alleged intellectual agonizing of the countless sides of a problem—was what one heard about from so-called inside sources.

and yet the difficult thing was that one never really knows or sees about such matters unless a man is exposed under pressure—as he might have been in a video debate.
For, as Carl Sandburg wrote in his book, "The People, Yes"—
"The final decisions are made in silent rooms."

DALLAS (UPI) — Lone Star Steel Co. said it has received a take-over offer from Philadelphia & Reading Co. The offering is $22 a share and Philadelphia & Reading said it would have to get a minimum of two million of Lone Star's 3,898 million outstanding shares.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — The Justice Department has sued to block the acquisition of Narragansett Brewing Co. of Cranston R. I. by Falstaff Brewing of St. Louis. The suit said Narragansett is New England's largest brewer and therefore the proposed deal would reduce competition.

Youths Worrying Churchmen

United Press International
There are 30 million young adults between the ages of 19 and 29 in America today. A large majority have nothing to do with the church.
How to reach this big segment of the population is an urgent concern of all denominations.
On the premise that the first step in ministering to any group of people is to learn something about them, the Methodist Church four years ago assigned several clergymen to infiltrate the young adult world in San Francisco, Dallas and Wilmington, Del.

Their job was not to seek converts or talk up religion, but simply to look and listen, to find out as much as possible about the attitudes, values, aspirations and needs of young adults.

Their findings were reported by the Rev. Charles E. Mowry, coordinator of the research project, to a recent conference of Methodist officials at Highland Park, Ill.

Here are some things they learned which should interest not only church leaders but all members of the older generation who have trouble communicating with young adults:
"There is in America today a distinct, and in many ways self-contained, young adult culture." Its members reject many of the values and institutions of the dominant adult culture. Their formative experiences have been "vividly different" from those of the generation which lived through the depression, the new deal and World War II. Their view of what life is like has been influenced by cold wars, nuclear weapons, urbanization, automation, population explosion, swift technological advance, and widespread affluence.

They are a serious generation, "devoted to inquiry, doubt and questioning." They "met change with excitement rather than resistance."
They have fewer absolutes in their value systems. Their ethic "places a greater value on relationships as contrasted with the preceding generations' value on virtues." They attach vast importance to "complete honesty, frankness in truth and realism, and are less concerned about 'niceness and ritualized properness.'"
A Quaint Notion
One of the quaint notions of their elders which they have largely discarded is the tendency to treat sex as "the ultimate of ultimates." Although they are not prudish about sex, they have come to believe that "it is far more intimate to know another person in depth without sex than to sleep with another without knowing that person."
They are more tolerant, more willing to accept and relate to people whose way of life differs from their own, than their elders. This trait is particularly noticeable in their attitude toward such outcaste groups as homosexuals.
They are non-joiners. They tend to look with skepticism upon all institutions which are held in high favor by their elders, and particularly upon the church.
Even though they are disenchanted with the institutional church, they are acutely interested in religious questions, especially the basic questions about the meaning of life and the destiny of man.

Life and Death Sermons Continue At Central Baptist

Last Sunday Pastor T. O. Upshaw of Central Baptist Church brought the first in a series of messages on death. Death is just one of the many experiences of life. Birth is a mystery but death is more mysterious. Sunday at the 7:00 p. m. worship hour the message will be entitled "The Disembodied State." If you are concerned about the existence between death and the resurrection of the body hear this message.
The Sunday School will continue a series of studies on Christian growth. The lesson for Sunday is based on the seventh chapter of Romans and is entitled "Christians Grow Through Conflict."
At the Morning Worship hour the pastor will speak on the subject "A Man of Faith." The scriptural basis for his message is in Genesis.

PRIEST HONORED — Rev. Antonio Catalina has been appointed a resident priest for Canadian and was honored with a covered dish supper and a food and linen shower. The new pastor comes from South Chicago, where he had a church and also taught school.

Lamar Christian Sermon Listed

Rev. Ford A. Ellis has chosen for his 10:45 a. m. worship service, "The Old Fashioned Sermon." Scripture Acts 3:19-26.

Sunday School Assembly 9:30 a. m. followed by Sunday School at 9:45.

FRIDAY, JULY 16, 1965
58TH YEAR

REV. C. L. MELLINGER
Presbyterian minister

New Jersey Pastor To Speak Here

The Rev. Clyde L. Mellinger, Pastor of the Kilburn Memorial Presbyterian Church of Newark, N. J., will preach in the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa this Sunday morning at both the 8:30 and 11:00 a. m. services. With these services, Mellinger completes the exchange program with the Rev. Donald S. Hauck, Pastor of the Pampa Church. The sermon topic will be "The Recovery of the Center." A reception for the Mellingers will follow the 11:00 a. m. worship service.
Featured in the exchange were discussions of the church in urban areas, the social problems of the growing urban areas of our country, and the political shape of life in the East. The Mellingers, who had never been to Texas before, were taken on educational and recreational tours of the area. The Haucks have reported that they have attended several study sessions on the relation of the medical arts to religion in New York City. They also attended the conference on "Preserving the American Way of Life" at Newark State College in Union, New Jersey. While in each other's churches, Mr. Mellinger and Mr. Hauck performed all regular pastor duties.
The Mellingers will leave Pampa on Monday July 19 for California. They will return to New Jersey by the northern route. Visiting several national parks and many United Presbyterian Mission Stations, Members of the Kilburn Church are

Pampa Witnesses At Lubbock Parley

Charles Regal, 1108 W. McCullough, is a printer normally, but he will be doing something quite different within a matter of days. This unusual and sudden change of occupation is only temporary though. The reason is that Regal and many other Pampa Witnesses will be volunteering as workers at the four-day "Word of Truth" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at Lubbock starting July 22.

"Although I will be a volunteer worker in one of the departments at this upcoming assembly," observed Regal, "there will be about 1,000 other volunteers working at every conceivable type of job with me. What is faith-strengthening and rewarding is to see these hundreds of men, women and youth freely volunteering their time and talents to carry out the task needed."
A special report to the Pampa Congregation was read by Jimmy Conner who serves as the local presiding minister. It noted help will be needed in some 20 different skills and trades in order to make for a successful assembly. These range from cafeteria workers and errand boys to musicians and nurses.
Conner said, "Although not all are in a position to perform convention services, one out of every six delegates will be working in some capacity at this convention as a volunteer worker."
"Though not new for our congregation," observed Conner, "volunteering is the key to a successful assembly. The reason is because it is putting Christianity to work."
"People helping people" is the way Conner described the convention organization. "There are some things money can't buy, that includes a willingness to work and serve your fellow man. That's what makes these conventions so outstanding," he concluded.
working with these missions in Poplar, Montana, Chicago, Ill., Cincinnati, Ohio and Morgan-town, West Virginia.
The Rev. Baldwin Strubling, of the First Presbyterian Church, Clarendon, will be preaching in the Pampa Church on July 25. Rev. Hauck will return to his pulpit on August 1.

Adventists Slate Pampa Revival

Elder J. H. Turner of Amarillo will begin a revival at the Pampa Seventh Day Adventists tonight and continue through July 24.
Services will start at 8 o'clock each night and on July 23 a special service will be held. The special service will present the church youths in a drama of ages program.
Turner is district superintendent of the Panhandle district. He also preaches at Borger and Hereford besides being pastor of the Olsen Park church in Amarillo.
Tonight Elder Turner will speak on "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

First Baptist Services Set

Dr. Douglas Carver, Pastor of the First Baptist Church will be in the pulpit for the eleven p. m. worship and will preach from the subject "The Unforgotten Favor." Sam Allen, Minister of Music, will present the church choir in singing "The Beatitudes" by Glarum for the Choral Offertory.
Miss Beryl Nash will be guest organist for both services—worship Sunday and has chosen "Adagio" by Bach for the morning worship prelude and "Benediction" by Regar for the evening worship prelude.
Rev. J. R. Manning will bring the message for the 6:00 o'clock evening worship from the book of Revelation, chapter 3:7-13. "The Church at Philadelphia." The Chapel Choir will sing an anthem and Miss Dianne Phillips will be featured as soloist. The Chapel Choir will also sing the Choral Offertory number.

Air Chaplain Speaks at First Christian Sunday

Chaplain (Major) James L. Williams from Amarillo Air Force Base will be guest speaker at the Sunday morning worship service at the First Christian Church. The title of his sermon will be "Levels of Living." The scripture reading is John 15:1-11.
Major Williams was graduated from Johnson Bible College, Kimberlin Heights, Tennessee. He received the Bachelor of Divinity and the Master of Science degrees from the School of Religion, Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana. He entered the U. S. Air Force in January 1952 and has been stationed in Great Falls, Montana, and Victoria, San Antonio and Amarillo, Texas. He was stationed in Japan from 1954-1956 and in Turkey from 1961-1964. He is presently a member of the First Christian Church, Amarillo.

Charles Meredith, from West Texas University Student Center, will bring three college students to the Snack Supper at 5:30. At 6:00 p. m. they will have a round table discussion with the CYF Group on church participation in high school and college. The Presbyterian Youth Group has been invited and other guests are welcome.
The Sunday Evening Service is at 7:00 o'clock and Lloyd Kuntz will be in the pulpit.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—You remember Dean Acheson, of course?
As a member of former President Harry S. Truman's cabinet, he happened to have been secretary of state at the time of the Korean War.
Acheson requires me to observe that, justifiably or not, Acheson was, during that period, somewhat less than universally admired.
He was a particularly favorite target of cartoonists, who loved either to give his mustache and eyebrows a Svengali twist or else portray him as the prototype of the fancy-pants diplomat.
But a pot of polluted water has flowed down the Potomac since those days and Acheson is now well out of the tumult and the shouting of public affairs.
Infrequently Mentioned
As an attorney in private practice here, he is only infrequently mentioned in the public prints. A few years ago, he dabbled briefly in the literary life, selling a short story to a national magazine.
As I recall, the story was about a fisherman who hooked a fish and then let it get away. I do not recall that it caused any Hemingway fans to switch allegiance.
Despite a decade of relative placidity, however, it is obvious that some of the scar tissue Acheson collected during his tenure in the State Department is still rather tender.
One day this week a local newspaper ran an editorial on Viet Nam that included the following comment:
A fire-drill was one of the utensils buried in Tutankhamen's tomb.

BETHEL ASSEMBLY OF GOD

LIFE

Our generation is characterized by people who are exhausting every ounce to get the most out of life, to really live. The headlines of our newspapers during the past few days have related sordid incidents of some young people who have acted licentiously and the resulting rapery, robbery, and riots have impaled even those who are accustomed to dealing with law enforcement. Many people are following after a diversity of pleasures trying to get the most out of life. But somehow the desired fulfillment is always beyond them when they reach their destination. The good moral person who seeks the fulness of life in character excellence, finds the omission of Christ prevents complete happiness. What is life? What does it mean to really live?

The Bible says "He that hath the Son hath life;" I John 5:12. A very simple yet profoundly true statement. The Bible is not a medical book, yet when it speaks along medical lines it is correct. The Bible is not a science book yet when it speaks along scientific lines it is correct. But the Bible is a book which contains man's surest guide to real living. Theologians pondered the question for centuries of when life begins, at conception or birth. Teenagers would declare that life has really begun for them. Others half-heartedly affirm that life begins at forty. Oldsters remember of childhood as life. But any person who has accepted Christ as their Saviour and have continued to live for Him can wholeheartedly testify that life, real life, began when Christ came into their life. This is real life because the life lived for Christ has assurance of eternal life.

Do you want to really live!

Writer Finds GI's Never Change

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of the following dispatch was a UPI war correspondent during World War II and the Korean War. He is en route to Viet Nam for a new assignment.)

By ROBERT C. MILLER
EN ROUTE TO VIET NAM
 (UPI)—The GI's never change. American troops headed for Viet Nam seem like counterparts of the soldiers who fought World War II and the Korean War.

mail, freight and humans, unless wounded.
 There are the same noises, cramped legs and sore behinds. Culture Unchanged
 The culture is unchanged. The literary types work over the comic books, the art lovers go in for pin ups. The semi-nudes of Playboy have replaced the Varga Girls of Esquire fame. The girls of the month decorate all barracks walls west of Hawaii.
 There are the same tattoos on the same brawny arms with blood dripping from the dagger pierced red hearts, and the same banners to "motter" tattooed across the biceps.
 The khakis and greens predominate the scene just as they did in the Pacific war. The clothing is just as rumpled and frowzy, whether worn by those going into combat or coming out of it.
 There is the same perpetual complaining, the same griping and the same wishing-to-be-someplace-else — always back home.

 Sleep is taken the same way troops have cat napped for centuries; on floors, benches, seats or anything that will support tired bodies, with caps shading eyes and arms being used for pillows.
Same Horseplay
 There is the same horseplay by the same bored groups patiently waiting an order by a harsh voice to go someplace or do something.
 The rifles, burp guns and side arms are of Korean vintage, and fights are still being caused by carelessly swung rifles that smack a neighbor in a tender spot.
 There are the same tired, smelly bodies; the same stale jokes always followed by the mechanical laughter. Coffee is still the indispensable stimulant for all ranks and all branches of the military. It's still the strongest coffee on earth whether you get it in a paper cup or inch-thick mug.
 The juke boxes are the same, only there are more of them playing louder.
 And the homesickness is just as bad as it was 15 and 23 years ago. It's in the letters being written home, the songs being played, the bull sessions and the day dreams. Nobody wants to be going where they're going any more than they did in Korea or the Pacific war. Everyone is still a calendar marker and the farther west they get, the better things look back in Hoboken and Red Oak, Iowa.

REIGN ENDING—Lovely Corinna Tsopei, Miss Universe of 1964, is smiling through the waning days of her reign. The former Miss Greece will turn over her title July 24 in Miami Beach when Miss Universe of '65 is crowned. Representatives of more than 70 countries and locales will vie for the honor to wear the crown and the title of "the most beautiful girl in the world."

During its 2,300 years of life a pound of radium will give off 250,000 times as much energy as released by the burning of a pound of coal.

Foreign Commentary

By HENRY SHAPIRO
BUCHAREST (UPI)—Slowly, methodically and irrevocably the Romanians are removing the last remnants of Russian cultural influence in this non-Slavic Communist country.
 Nothing strikes a visitor who has not been here since 1961 more than the disappearance of Russian language signs at the airport, the changes of Russian names of streets into Romanian ones, the absence of Russian book stores and the scarcity of Soviet plays and films.
 Striking out for cultural as well as economic and political independence from the Soviet bloc the Communist authorities are encouraging a strong form of Romanian nationalism reminiscent of that of Russia at the height of the Stalin era.
 The latest manifestation of this form of cultural nationalism is the attempted restoration to glory of the once discredited poet Octavian Goga.
 Goga was a distinguished poet and writer but as prime minister in 1937 of a government supported by the Fascist "Iron Guard" he was taboo to Communists and Socialists.
 Now the weekly "Literary Gazette," organ of the Romanian Writers Union, has devoted a full page to Goga's impressive contribution to Romanian literature and has completely ignored his dedicated anti-Communism.
 At the same time the process of de-Russification goes on non-stop.
 It is apparent in such minor matters as the revision of the role of orthography to eliminate the slightest influence of Russian spelling from Romania's Latin alphabet.
 De-Russification has gone so far as to erase street signs with the name of Marshall Ivan Tolbuchin, who drove the Germans out of Romania during the second world war.
 Tolbuchin Boulevard, one of the capital's principal main squares named after the Russian soldier who is still revered in this country, became Boulevard of the Republic.
 Only four years ago when this correspondent last visited here Russian was a compulsory language in the schools. Now is an optional subject and its place is rapidly being taken by English and French.
 Two years ago the Romanians rejected the Khrushchev brand of economic integration in the Communist bloc, they also closed the renowned Gorki Institute for the study of Russian.
 A Soviet book store was shut and the annual Romanian-Soviet friendship month is no longer observed.
 Russian films, plays and radio programs which dominated the Romanian stage and airwaves have gradually been replaced by western and largely American attractions.

Wall Street Chatter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House members Thursday defended Negro jurist Thurgood Marshall against charges he had Communist front associations.
 The charges against the U.S. Appeals Court judge, named by President Johnson this week to be U.S. solicitor general, were made in a speech prepared for the House by Rep. Joe D. Wagoner Jr., D-La. Wagoner alleged that groups to which he said Marshall belonged had been cited as having Communist connections.
 As many as ten American plays were shown here during the current theater season and Romanians are still queuing up for hours to see such American movies as "Can Can," "All About Eve" and "America, America."
 Modern American jazz and Broadway musical hits are increasingly heard on Bucharest radios and recently band leader Louis Armstrong, whom the Russians refused to permit in Moscow, received a triumphal reception here.
 Ideologically, the Romanian leaders remain hard line Marxist-Communists, but it appears to be a communist neither of Moscow nor Peking style; but strictly national Romanian.
 Russia's break with Communist China has been adroitly used by Romanian leaders to achieve a unique form of neutrality among ruling Communist parties. They have gone a long step ahead of Tito, Yugoslavia which is as much a Peking's doghouse as the Soviet Union.
 William R. White of Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes says in the present atmosphere the traditional summer rally seems likely to gain further headway before encountering strong resistance.
 Goodbody & Co. says it believes the traditional summer rally is now taking place, although this is on a selective basis and may not be readily apparent in the action of the Dow-Jones average.
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall meets today with the cabinet level water resources council to discuss long range water planning problems in the parched East.
 Udall, who heads the council, called the meeting after President Johnson ordered something be done about the drought situation in the Northeast and along the Atlantic Coast.
 Among the group's members are representatives of the Agriculture, Defense and Health Education and Welfare departments.

Recent Bride Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Jerry Rockwell, the former Miss Marilyn Davenport, was honored at a come-and-go bridal shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. C. Pattillo, 1901 Hamilton. Serving as co-hostesses were Mrs. Pattillo, Mrs. J. B. Conner, Mrs. R. B. McKay, Miss Mariba Pattillo, Miss Janna Conner, Miss Sara Hahn and Miss Georgiann Grayson.

The honoree's chosen colors of yellow and white were carried out in the decorations. The serving table, covered with an ivory lace cloth, was centered with two cut glass vases bearing arrangements of white shasta daisies flanked by cut glassandelabra holding yellow tapers. Miniature white circular napkins, trimmed with yellow scalloped edges, crystal serving dishes, cookies, multi-colored almonds and pineapple punch completed the table setting.

Corsages of white shasta daisies trimmed with white satin ribbon were presented the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Clifford Davenport and Mrs. S. W. Rockwell, mother of the bridegroom. Miss Pattillo registered guests in the bride's book, which was a gift of the hostesses. Pouring the punch was Miss Conner and gifts were registered by Miss Hahn and Miss Grayson.

Some 40 guests called during the receiving hours.

Dear Abby...
Thoughtful Gesture
Should Be Acknowledged

DEAR ABBY: Since January 1, 1960 I have sent 917 greeting cards. I am not counting Christmas and Easter cards - I sent 3455 of those. I mean get-well, sympathy, birthday, graduation, wedding, anniversary and new baby cards. I go through our local newspaper to be sure I have not overlooked a birth, engagement, accident or death. I am on a limited income and can't afford to send presents, but I spend as much time shopping for appropriate cards as most people do in the selection of gifts. My question: Aren't people supposed to acknowledge cards? Only 16 out of the 917 people I sent cards to bothered to let me know that they received them. I am listed in the telephone directory - if I am wrong to expect thanks, please tell me.

DEAR IGNORED: Well-bred people acknowledge cards with a telephone call, a note or a verbal "thank you" - should they see the giver before having had the opportunity to call or write. However, the giver who is motivated by pure thoughtfulness will send the card and forget it.

To keep a ledger on "thanks receivable" suggests that the giver is unduly interested in placing the burden of gratitude on casual acquaintances. However, the laziness and boorishness of those who fail to acknowledge a thoughtful gesture is inexcusable.

DEAR ABBY: We are a retired couple who are together all day. In the evenings I enjoy watching TV, but my husband prefers the quiet relaxation of solitude. He enjoys just sitting out on our front porch. Of course he likes having company occasionally, but there is one neighbor who is a terrible pest. He is a bachelor, and lately he has been coming over every night. This man has an opinion on everything and he never stops talking. He doesn't even hear what the other person has to say. He stays for the entire evening. Tonight my poor husband said to me, "I am so tired of that man coming over here every night. How can I get rid of him tactfully?" My husband is a good man who hates to hurt anyone's feelings, but this neighbor is a nuisance. Can you advise me?

HIS WIFE: The only way to solve the problem is the obvious way. Tell the pest (in a nice way) that you like to be alone once in a while so he should not visit you nightly. It's either your husband's privacy or the pest's feelings. And your husband's privacy is more important than the pest's feelings.

DEAR ABBY: In 21 years of marriage I have never won an argument with my husband. No matter how small the argument, he is always right, or he says he is. I don't like to argue, or perhaps I give up too easily, but just once I would like to prove him wrong. Please help me. I have lost 24 pounds in the past seven months. Yesterday I mentioned that since I had lost so much weight, my shoes were too large for me. My husband said no matter how much weight a person loses, it doesn't make any difference in their feet. I say it does and I should know when my shoes are too big! I would appreciate a reply in your column. My husband is one of those who has to see everything in black and white.

I'M RIGHT
DEAR I: If your husband had been in your shoes for the past seven months, he would know that you are right!

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Slate Amarillo Trip

Mrs. Ray Blumer served as hostess to Sundown Opti-Mrs. Club when the group met in the Blumer home Monday evening. A brief business session was conducted by Mrs. Curtis Griffin, president, at which reports were given by Mrs. Blumer on the concession stand at Opti-mist Ball Park, and by Mrs. T. L. Garner concerning the Aug. 4 trip of the club to Amarillo to attend a luncheon and style show.

The club will meet next in the home of Mrs. Vincent Simon at 1203 S. Hobart.

Tile Eliminates Need of Paint

Planning to paint a room? If so, it will pay you to write down the kind of paint used, the amount needed, the color, and the place where it was purchased.

If all this sounds too complicated, there's a simple solution: do away with the need for periodic painting by surfacing the areas with a durable material that never needs to be painted, such as ceramic tile.

Ceramic tile also is impervious to scratches and stains. And it's now a decorator's delight, coming in more than 250 colors and shades plus a wide assortment of patterns. This versatility has resulted in tile's use spreading from the bath and kitchen into the living and dining areas, entryways and even to exteriors.

To make sure of high quality in ceramic tile, you can now insist on tile that is "quality certified" under a new program recently begun by the Tile Council of America. Under the program the Tile Council certifies that tile bearing its triangle certification mark equals or exceeds the highest quality standards of the United States government.

Sunglasses Are Going Out at Night, Too

By AILEEN SNOODY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — The urge for men and women to face life through a glass darkly, so to speak, has sunglass manufacturers beaming. No longer are sunglasses picked or worn for their original utilitarian purpose. According to one socialite taste-setter who jetted to Aruba in the Caribbean for a weekend, "You're just out of it, baby, if you don't have a shade wardrobe."

Her way of expressing the Jet Set's affinity for decorative dark glasses was almost as unusual as the way she wore them . . . on top of her head. Before donning her glasses she neatly corraled long, blond hair with a triangular silk scarf, also highly in vogue, bought in a menswear department.

As a member of the "switched on" set, our newly met-confidante also explained not only how to wear shades but also where to wear them. About the only place you don't wear them, our status leader said, is in bed. The biggest fad

GO EVERYWHERE GLASSES — Sunglasses are status symbols. Taste-setters wear them indoors, even to art galleries (left). For nights at the theater, fair ladies push them up (top center) to make a bandeau-type ornament.

They may go to a restaurant (bottom center) and then to an even darker discotheque. Note geometric shapes with the goggle-look and oversized frames (right), this season's fashion news.

in New York, for example, is to wear sunglasses when the sun isn't out — to the theater, a restaurant, a discotheque, art gallery, cocktail parties, and even the movies.

Thanks to mass production techniques, manufacturers can keep up with the mounting demand for restyling in sunglasses. Until recently the industry introduced designs only once a year. Now numbers, according to sunglass maker Foster Grant, are rushed to the eager consumer in Bean Blossom, Ind., within a few months of their first appearance in Rome, Paris or New York.

Sunglass sales last year were an estimated $122 million, a 15 per cent increase over 1963 and double the volume of a decade ago. If the push continues for sunglasses as status symbols, Foster Grant predicts another 15 per cent gain for 1965.

Topping the goggle-look this summer are the hexagon and figure-eight styles. Gold, geometric designs fit the Op-Art craze but hot on their shafts is the swing to the very, very old. Ben Franklin, in fact, would be pleased to see that his eyeglasses with metal frames are among the hottest selling sunglasses in Manhattan.

Matching the shapes — there are 63 basic styles — are fancifully colored lenses. These are yellow, blue, red, brown, sage green and gray. Sunglass specialists caution that sage green and gray are the only colors which don't appreciably affect your color perception. And if you really want to be old-fashioned and buy sunglasses primarily for protection, select ones with ground and polished lenses. These eliminate distortion — prevent eyestrain.

Leading frame colors are black, tortoise, white and various laminates with silver and gold-colored shafts tres chic.

Incidentally, your sunglasses quickly become dated. The fashion-conscious tossed rhinestone trimmed glasses into their charity donation cartons last summer. Thus the sparkly stone, once the field's decorative darling, is dead as a trim. Where the sunglass craze will lead is anyone's guess. However, its impact has been such that psychologists feel compelled to analyze the trend. The theory most often expressed is that we're all trying to hide from our problems and one another via dark glasses.

You may not buy this point of view but sunglass makers believe you'll buy their product, whatever the motivation.

CHOOSING A SWIMSUIT — If your midriff isn't as flat as the proverbial pancake, don't attempt to wear a two-piece swimsuit, and certainly not a bikini. Choose a figure-flattering one-piece suit that will give your figure a slim line.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR SATURDAY, JULY 17
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Take a good look at the work facing you. make a maximum effort to do what is essential now and then quickly reduce to a working success by your own sensible efforts. You have it in your power to show that you have an artistic streak that can be very readily expressed now and that will please everyone you meet it to.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — You can get personal plans formulated now that it will be quite easy to carry through with them. Get busy with small jobs, details. Know how you want things to be in the future.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Getting out to visit with good friends on this free day and being happy in congenial games, line. Get ideas expressed nicely. Socially really pays off in p. m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Anything that tends to spoil your credit should be avoided, but keep busy occupied with outside matters. Plan for greater effect, even in daily routines. Make this a very productive day.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — You are able to meet fascinating persons today and get out of that dull routine that is quite tiring. Data you need can also be acquired easily. Be more successful in the future.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Obligations that "bite" your time can be somewhat gotten out of the way now. Then be happy with loved ones—follow your intuition. It is quite precise at this time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Much pleasant talk with friends shows how to better your methods in joint labors, ideas. Be very polite in listening to their suggestions. Show a very cooperative spirit.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — So many

Manners Make Friends

First names for parents make a child seem like a chance acquaintance.

Fall Suits Adopt Many Shapes and Trims

FALL SHAPES AND TRIMS — There's enough variety in suit fashions to please everyone in the fall 1965 collections. Three-piece town suit (left) by David Kidd for Arthur Jablow is in imported wool plaid of olive, chartreuse and aqua. Short jacket has long sleeves; skirt is straight. Blouse is aqua wool. There's just a faint suggestion of fit in Original's afternoon suit (center) with longer jacket. In black and white combination, its fabric is Lifax tweed of Orlon, Antron and wool. Set-in sleeves are slender and small collar is overlaid with black velvet. Slender white wool dress with short-jacket (right) is by Fernando Bosc for Paul Parnes. Dress and jacket are bound in black silk.

By HELEN HENNESSY, Women's Editor, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — Two messages come through loud and clear from the 1965 fall fashion showings here in New York—women are not being forced into one mold, and the influence of St. Laurent is turning up everywhere. Diversity is the highlight of the collections. There's a style to please all but the gal who laments the demise of "tough chic." For the shapes are many, circle the waist and back belts. And there are diametric closings and double-breasted closings. There is lots of fur trim on suits and the furs used range from sable to Persian lamb.

Gray, pumpkin, magenta, oyster, camel and black take top color honors. White is also important. Bulky wool and colorful tweeds lead the fabric brigade and gray flannel has deserted Madison Avenue to become the uniform of chic women everywhere.

Old Joe Nuxhall Keeps Reds Ahead

By United Press International

The glitter of the youthful Cincinnati pitching stars tends to obscure 37-year-old Joe Nuxhall at times, but as Reds' Manager Dick Sisler puts it: "Where would we be without him?"

Certainly not in first place. The National League leaders, clinging to a bare three percentage point lead over Los Angeles, have won only eight times in the last two and a half weeks — and Nuxhall has been responsible for five of the eight victories.

Pampa Nats Ousted By Dumas, 6-1

DUMAS — Only Pampa American remained in contention in Babe Ruth Regional Tournament play today as host Dumas handed Pampa National a 6-1 defeat, eliminating them from the tourney last night.

Richard Bonner hurled a four-hitter at the Nats, giving up all safe blows in the first three innings and allowing only two base-runners the rest of the way, striking out 11 and walking only one. Johnny Carlos lost it the hard way as he pitched no-hit ball for the first four innings, but was belted for four runs on two hits, a hit batter, walk and error in the fatal fifth frame, and then allowed three more hits and two more scores in the seventh.

Carlos was red-hot in the opening four periods as he registered six of his 10 strikeouts while allowing only two base-runners via walks, one runner being wiped out on a double play from Larry Hastens to Jim Lang.

Pampa started out last as Alvin Joe Achord singled, Larry Turcotte was safe on a fielder's choice, and then romped home on Jim Cornutt's single and an error.

Hoppy Hopkins singled to open the second, but Bonner struck out the next three batters, then the first man in the third. Achord broke it up with his second hit, but Bonner retired the side and never was in trouble again.

Wildness got Carlos in a jam in the fifth and, with two out, an error opened the floodgates for lack-to-back doubles by Gaddis and Bonner for four tallies. The same pair hit doubles in the seventh, followed by Kenny McInturff's single for the final runs.

Pampa American is in action tonight and will go into Saturday action regardless, being the only undefeated team left.

Reluctant Devlin Grabs 1st

TORONTO (UPI) — Reluctant Bruce Devlin didn't want to play in the Canadian Open at all and after suffering a first round shoulder injury he was almost sure he didn't want to go on.

The shoulder twinge cleared up overnight and today the blond, slender Devlin is the half-way leader in the $100,000 Canadian event and a strong threat to become the second straight Australian swinger to win the event. Devlin had a 66 Thursday to go with an opening round 68 for a 36-hole total of 134.

Defending champion Kel Nagle of Australia was six shots off the pace after rounds of 69-71 while still another Aussie, Bruce Crampton, was a further back at 143.

Devlin, troubled so much by varicose veins that he wears elastic stockings, says his aches and pains weren't bothering him, "quite so much" since taking over the lead.

But he was anything but a shoo-in. Burly Jack Nicklaus, whose game is "beginning to come around," was just a shot behind. He too had a second round 66 — one of three registered Thursday. Dudley Wysong Jr. had the other to leave him at even par 140.

Nicklaus belittled his 66, saying "I didn't really think I played that well." He needed 32 putts to get around Mississauga's postage stamp greens as compared with the 29 Devlin used.

Tigers Drop Birds to 4th

By United Press International

Al Kaline has moved front and center in the Detroit baseball picture and the Tigers haven't looked so good in years.

The great outfielder, a veteran of 12 American League seasons, was shifted from his familiar right field position to center on May 25 by acting Manager Bob Swift and since that time the Tigers have clawed their way into the thick of the pennant race.

"He hits better as a center-fielder," was Charlie Dressen's first reaction upon assuming command of the club on Memorial Day and whatever the psychological significance of the change, the fact is that Kaline has improved noticeably on his 1964 performance.

The onetime bonus player, who became the youngest player ever to win a league batting crown when he hit .340 at the tender age of 20, currently is batting .303 — 10 points higher than his average last season — and already has driven in 53 runs compared to 68 for the entire 1964 season.

To those who ask how well he likes it in center field, Al has a quick retort. "Sure, I like it out there," Kaline says. "We're winning, aren't we?"

Which is exactly what the Tigers did Thursday night as Kaline collected two hits and drove in the winning run with a single in the bottom of the 10th inning for a 5-4 decision over the Baltimore Orioles.

The defeat dropped Baltimore from second to fourth in the scrambled AL picture and moved the Tigers within one and one-half games of second as the Cleveland Indians whipped Boston 6-3, and the White Sox whipped Los Angeles 5-2, league-leading Minnesota defeated Kansas City 11-3 in the nightcap 3-2 and the Yankees edged Washington 2-1 in 12 innings in other games.

Kaline, who also scored two Detroit runs, singled off Stu Miller to drive home Jerry Lumpe, who had doubled, from second base with nobody out in the first extra inning. Brooks Robinson had tied the game in the eighth with a two-run homer. The victory went to relief artist Fred Gladding, his fifth.

Astros Whip TL All-Stars

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — It took four years for the Houston Astros to whip the Texas League all-stars, and it took a wild throw by all-star catcher Dave Pavlesic to do it.

The Astros defeated the all-stars 5-1 in 11 innings Thursday night, the first time in the four-game series that the National League club has won.

The Indians snapped a 3-3 tie in the sixth frame when Joe Azcue and Pedro Gonzalez hit consecutive singles with the bases loaded to account for three runs. Fred Whitfield wal-

Harnsberger Baylor Teacher

ROYCE HARNBERGER

WACO — Royce Harnsberger, Baylor Baptist College basketball player and former Pampa Colts pitcher, has received a physical education teaching assistantship to Baylor University.

Dr. J. T. Powers, head of the Department of Physical Education at Baylor, notified Harnsberger yesterday that he will teach three P.E. classes this year while studying for his Master's Degree.

The recently-married Harnsberger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harnsberger of Pampa and brother of Pampa High cage and baseball star Carl.

oped a three-run home run for the Tribe and Sonny Siebert struck out 10 and allowed six hits in gaining his 10th triumph.

Joe Horien, with ninth-inning relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm, won his eighth decision for the White Sox. Don Buford drove in two runs with a circuit blast for Chicago and the Sox broke the game open in the eighth with a three-run outburst highlighted by Dave Nicholson's two-run triple.

Students Top Publinx Golf

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Jim Schroder, a 21-year-old playing his first United States Golf Assn. tournament, headed into the 36-hole semi-final round of the Public Links championship today with a victory over the defending champion behind him.

Schroder, a University of San Francisco student, takes on Arn Dokka, 21, a student at California State who believes putting is the strongest part of his game.

Dokka was the only semi-finalist from last year left in the tournament after the first four rounds.

In today's other match, Al Bailey, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, another 21-year-old collegian, meets Leo Zampedro, 24, a fireman from Warren, Ohio, who eliminated qualifying medalist Stanley Poploski, 43, of Pittsburgh, 5 and 4 in Thursday's action.

Schroder knocked out defending champ Bill McDonald, 21, of Topeka, Kan., 2 and 1 in the third round Thursday and then eliminated Rufus Grier of Dayton, Ohio, 5 and 4.

Democracy No Panacea

When democratic systems of government are contrasted to one-man rule, in nations which have one-man rule, the advantages of democracy seem fairly obvious. If a tyrant is able to do as he pleases without check or restraint imposed upon him by his victims, then a system which appears to grant political power to the populace itself, seems almost to invite paradise.

But when democratic systems are installed, and government is erected on the premise of large or total enfranchisement, the evils of democracy become equally apparent.

WASHINGTON:

Is Castro's Name on A Bullet?

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A source in Cuba writes: "The security around Fidel (Castro) is more and more evident."

"The measures taken before he speaks on radio or in public are spectacular. . . . When it is known that Fidel will speak on TV and radio, engineers and cameramen from the three big stations in Havana are placed in a house incommunicado."

"These men are searched and live under guard with no contact with outside persons until the night of the speech."

"The stations are also searched, the studio sealed and put under guard. The only people allowed in the audience are Fidel's henchmen who go with him to the station."

"He doesn't announce on which station he will speak until he is on his way. When he decides, the cameramen and engineers of that particular station are taken under guard to work."

The others are released.

"I was told that Fidel wears protection under his jacket and that a bullet-proof plate of steel extending to the floor is attached to the table at which he sits (while broadcasting)."

Another Cuban contact reports the care Fidel Castro takes when making a visit to his mistress in the Vedado section of Havana.

The building in which she lives has several entrances and exits. Armed guards are placed at each. There is also a car at each of these outside doors. It's all so arranged that no one will know which exit Castro will use, or which of the several waiting automobiles he will take. He can dash out any door and to any car quickly and without fanfare.

Back on Oct. 16, 1964, another Cuban writing under a fictitious name to friends in the United States said: "On September 30th, Fidel Castro paid a visit to the city of Holguin in eastern Cuba. He arrived in a helicopter."

What called everyone's attention was the excessive number of bodyguards used, plus tanks, machine guns, mortars, cannons and anti-aircraft guns surrounding him."

Cubans who have known Castro for years say that he has always been exceedingly nervous about his life, despite his reputation as a swashbuckling leader of revolutionaries.

The revolution, Fidel reportedly was very careful about exposing himself to enemy fire.

But of late — certainly within the last six months or year — Cuban sources have reported a noticeable increase in Castro's precautions.

There are indications the overthrow of Ben Bella in Algeria has shaken Fidel badly, intensified his nervousness.

Castro felt close to Ben Bella, someone felt that he and the Algerian leader followed twin paths. The nervousness shows up in Fidel's recent speeches.

But there is as yet no word from Cuba about changes in security precautions since the Algerian revolt.

Analysts here believe Castro is paranoid about security. So far they've not figured out the immediate cause for the increase in his safety measures in recent months.

It could be that Castro has become more suspicious of more people as his economic program fumbles and his various sets of followers knife at each other more vigorously.

Price of Bread, Farm Votes Split Agriculture Committee in Politically Hot Battle over Administration's Price Support Bill

ROBERT ALLEN

The Nation's Press

MRS. POWELL'S SALARY (New York Times)
The clerk of the House of Representatives has stated that he has no intention of looking into the eligibility of Mrs. Adam Clayton Powell for the annual salary of $18,907 she draws as staff member of the House education and welfare committee, of which her husband is chairman.

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The political issue of the price of wheat price supports. They differ sharply on how much and how to do it.

The administration's plan calls for raising the subsidy on domestically consumed wheat $250 million. Funds for that would be obtained by increasing the "users' tax" — on millers and other domestic wheat purchasers. But this $250 million increase would be offset by eliminating entirely $100 million in price supports on grain sold abroad.

Thus, net gain to the growers would be $150 million. Representative Que proposes to boost the domestic price supports by $150 million — and to continue unchanged the present $100 million subsidy on exported wheat. That would provide the farmers with a $250 million income gain against the Johnson administration's $150 million.

Also, Que holds, consumers would not be directly affected, as the money to pay for his plan would come from the Treasury instead of raising the domestic wheat "users' tax."

Freeman sardonically pooh-poohs the bread issue, in a Minnesota speech he declared: "While it is natural to associate bread with the food needs of low income and needy families, those who would exploit this association for their own purposes need to be reminded that this is a different world for the poor than when Marie Antoinette advised that they eat cake. Low income and no income families today receive substantially improved diets through the enlarged (federal) direct food distribution program and the expanding food stamp program."

BIG LABOR LAW SHOWDOWN—House Democratic leaders have told AFL-CIO chiefs that the administration's bill to repeal Section 14(b), empowering states to enact right-to-work laws, is slated to be brought before the full House July 26. Outcome of that showdown is a toss-up. Both sides are claiming victory, but neither is certain what will happen. Laborites are still grumbling over the President's failure to mention their measure among the important bills he listed in his speech several weeks ago at the $1 million fund-raising dinner in Washington for the Senate and House Democratic Campaign Committees. . . . Women newspaper friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, whipmart press secretary of Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, are vigorously boosting her for permanent White House press secretary — it and when acting secretary Bill Moyers relinquishes the job. It's long been no secret that Mrs. "Liz" Carpenter would like to be the first woman White House press secretary. A Texan and one-time Washington correspondent, she considers herself well equipped for the place. . . . Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler is telling friends he is looking for a "Wall Street lawyer" for general counsel of the department. Fowler explains he feels that an attorney with experience and knowledge in banking and finance would best fit in that key Treasury post. If he holds to that view, that will slam the door on a number of leading aspirants, among them David Acheson, U.S. attorney in the District of Columbia and son of former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

REPUBLICAN FLASHES — Texas Republican State Chairman Peter O'Donnell is busy lining up backing to replace Mississippi State Chairman Wirt Yergler as head of the Southern Republican State Chairmen's Conference. O'Donnell is gunning for Yergler's seat on the ground "it's time for a change." O'Donnell partisans claim he needs only a few more votes to oust Yergler at the next meeting of the Southern State Chairmen. If that happens, it will be the second setback for Yergler. He sought the chairmanship of the Republican State Chairmen Advisory Committee, which Ray Bliss vacated when he became national chairman. But Bliss disregarded both Yergler and Craig Truax, Pennsylvania state chairman, who also sought the post, and appointed instead Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, California state chairman. . . . Ray Henle, whose nightly newscast was recently terminated by the Sun Oil Company, is going to work for the Goldwater sponsored Free Society Association. According to insiders, Henle will head a radio-TV division and may broadcast for the organization. At the time Henle's long-time newscast was dropped, it was announced he was giving it up to work for the Hoover Library at Stanford University. Reports also are circulating that Texas oil millionaire H. L. Hunt is tying up with Free Society Association, Hunt's Foundation recently lost its tax-exempt status under an Internal Revenue Service ruling.

Around the World

By ROBERT MORRIS
IT ALL FITS

Only a few minutes after arriving here in the nation's Capitol, I encountered a seasoned legislator whom I have always regarded as one of the best constitutional lawyers in the country. He was distressed at two recent high court decisions that he felt would have devastating effects on the nation's moral survival.

One was the recent Supreme Court decision that held that legislation directed against the Communist Party is a Bill of Attainder, which has always (and understandably) been proscribed under the Constitution. Actually, legislation against the Communist Party is patently legislation directed against anyone who, overtly or covertly, collaborates with others of similar persuasion to overthrow, in gradual stages, the whole moral and constitutional framework of the United States and subordinate all of us to foreign bondage.

My constitutional friend, quite correctly, pointed out that an extension of this judicial viewpoint will effectively vitiate all legal efforts to restrain the very successful Communist apparatus in the United States.

The second decision was that of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the District that held that homosexuality, with all its moral and security corollaries, could not be grounds for ineligibility in federal employment.

These two decisions, giving sanction to two great deviations, could go a long way toward removing ancient stigmas that now serve as a flimsy barrier at least, against torrents that are driving us toward national dissolution.

Another fascinating trend that fits the grand design — is the announcement of Martin Luther King that the "time had come" for his civil rights movement to become involved in the problem of "war." He is quoted: "The war in Viet Nam must be stopped. There must be a negotiated settlement even with the Viet Cong. The long night of war must be stopped."

On the same day, however, Roy Wilkins, long-time head of the NAACP strongly dissociated himself from this highly political point of view. He said: "When you mix Viet Nam with the things American negroes want, you confuse the issue."

But, to pull all of this together: conventional barriers against disloyalty to one's country and one's heritage as well as against moral deviation are being washed away. A powerful wing of the civil rights movement that has had the highest encouragement at every level of society is moving on to new goals, in this case the undermining of President Johnson's foreign policy that seeks to keep 15 million more humans from being engulfed in Communist slavery and the loss of their civil rights in their totality.

At such a time, our churches should come forward and awaken the nation to the spiritual elements of this grave hour. The problem is moral and spiritual.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Necessity of Profit

Thirty-three years ago during the darkest days of the great depression, I sat one evening in the office of a leading industrialist. It was late and everyone else had gone home. This man was walking the floor in great distress and talking half to himself and half to me. Gesturing toward the plant, he said, "Out there in my plant I have thousands of men that I don't need; I haven't discharged them because I don't know how they would live if I did."

After a long pause, he continued, "But I have widows and orphans who are stockholders in my business, dependent upon the dividends I pay them for their livelihoods. If I keep these men on the payroll, I can't pay dividends, and if I don't pay dividends, these people who depend upon me will suffer great hardship." After walking to the end of his office and back he made another broad gesture and continued, "Out there is the public who need my product in these hard times; we ought to be selling our goods at lower prices for their benefit, but we can't do that if we are to continue to pay dividends and continue paying for labor which we do not need."

At this point, my friend sat down and faced me across the desk. Talking directly to me, he said, "We need money for new and more efficient equipment. We should be spending more for research to improve our product and to develop new products. We need money for new buildings and expansion but where are we to get these funds unless we curtail expenses along one or more of the three lines I have been talking about?"

Fascinated by the serious monologue, I watched as this great industrialist took another turn about his office and paused at the window overlooking the plant. With a sigh I heard him say: "I almost to myself, 'And what about me?' This whole business and the product we make are the result of my own initiative and effort. I have put into this business during the last 45 years. It would not be here if I had not given it my life. What am I entitled to? Surely, I have some claim on whatever profit possibilities there may be in this business." "The man was going the second mile in his effort to do his duty as between the claims of the workers, the claims of stockholders, the claims of the public, 'I need for more capital investment, more development, more research, more advertising and last of all, some consideration for his own unremitting toil. He knew that if he did not pay adequate wages, he would have unsatisfactory help. He knew that if he did not reward his stockholders, additional capital would not be forthcoming. He knew that if he did not lower prices and serve the public better, he would not hope to hold his position in the market to say nothing of expanding his business and, finally, he knew that unless people like himself were adequately rewarded, most of them would not make the supreme effort necessary to develop such industries. What could he do with the small profit he was able to earn as among these several urgent demands that were being made upon him?"

I was impressed as never before with the importance of profit as a means of making the industrial wheels revolve and providing adequately for all concerned. Without profit, there would soon be nothing for workers, stockholders, the public, the suppliers of raw material, machinery and equipment, and for the extraordinary men who are able to organize all these factors into a great productive mechanism.

Our freedom gives us not merely the ability to endure; it gives us the ability to prevail. We do not have to lose. In fact, we can be defeated only if we defeat ourselves, and it is the everyday concern of the patriot to use freedom to see that we do not permit this to happen. Testimonials to freedom strengthen our cause. They should be offered regularly and often.

A thought for the day: U.S. Ambassador to the U.N. Adlai E. Stevenson once said: "The time to stop a revolution is at the beginning, not the end."

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

TESTIMONIALS TO FREEDOM

The daily life of the patriot is a 24-hour testimonial to freedom, whether expressed in the spoken word or in affirmative action.

The patriot is given two kinds of chances for offering testimonials to freedom. One is when he finds freedom in danger; it would be negligent not to speak up and act then. The other is when the cause of freedom is being promoted; then the patriot's open encouragement should be expressed immediately and strongly.

This takes a little effort, of course. A willingness to work for freedom's cause is the patriot's greatest strength. We in America do not miserably hunger and thirst for freedom — as does one-third of the world's population. Freedom is here and now for us. To keep it we have only to partake of it. The wonderful thing about this is that the more we use freedom, the more there is of it to use.

The patriot is that American citizen who is called, in derision, "ultra-," "super-," and "extreme" by freedom's enemies. To be non-patriotic is to extend to these enemies of liberty quite a bit more aid and comfort than
