"We will act in relation to the astronauts," said Al Raby, a public school teacher and one of the leaders of demonstrations that have seen hundreds of persons arrested since Thursday.

"We plan to demonstrate in a manner which will bring the attention of the whole country to the city of Chicago, and at the same time not embarrass the civil rights movement," Raby

Adv. tions do not indicate "any lack of respect for the astronauts," who had been invited to participate but were reported to have ignored the invitation.

> "It's far more embarrassing that thousands of children are going uneducated in Chicago," Raby said.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which has been in the forefront of the protest action against Willis, announced Sunday night it would not participate in today's scheduled street demonstrations. The group said it felt it could work better through the courts.

Daley, in a statement issued by his special events director, Jack Reilly, said, "the mayor can't conceive of anyone in Chicago so unAmerican that they would do anything to ruin the reception for these two great Americans." Vice President Hubert H.

Humphrey will also be here for the reception.
