

Canadian Cold Front Knocks Mercury Down 57 Degrees in Pampa

A Canadian cold front that moved into Pampa and the Panhandle about 7:30 p.m. yesterday knocked the mercury down 57 degrees locally over night and tightened its grip on the area today.

The mercury hit a high of 98 around 4 p.m. yesterday which was the hottest Sept. 16 reading on record for Pampa.

When the cold front moved in on winds that gusted to 45 miles an hour in Pampa, the thermometer began a rapid downward trend. Within an hour it had dropped out of the 80s into the 50s. The reading at 8:30 p.m.

Thursday was 52 degrees.

By 6 o'clock this morning it had hit a low of 39 in Pampa. Rain began falling around 8:30 a.m. today and the weatherman indicated it would continue rainy and cold throughout the weekend.

Precipitation had reached .03 inch at noon today as rain fell intermittently. With the outlook for continued rain and cold through tomorrow, weather prospects were gloomy for tonight's football game between Pampa and Rider of Wichita Falls.

Furnaces, idle since last Spring, were turned on in Pampa homes early today. Raincoats and topcoats were brought into use with the first real forerunner of the cold season ahead.

Service station operators began plugging the sale of antifreeze and snow tires.

Amarillo Weather Bureau forecasters said the weather will be on the rainy and cold side into Sunday. Today's high was expected to be in the high 40s with the low sliding down again tonight around 40 degrees. Tomorrow's high is expected to be near 60.

The Pampa reading shortly before noon today was 41 degrees, a rise of only 2 degrees since the 6 o'clock morning low of 39.

The cold front that hit Pampa was moving southward into North Central Texas at a 10-15 mile per hour clip and should spread into South Central and Southeast Texas by tomorrow.

The coldest mark in Texas this morning was 37 degrees at Dalhart, just two degrees colder than in Pampa.

Skies were cloudy behind the front with a complete cloud cover over the Panhandle. Rain and thunderstorms with some lightning were reported from many Panhandle areas.

South of the front skies were partly cloudy and prospects were for another scorching summer day.

The cold front followed almost a week of record shattering high temperatures in Texas. Most Texas cities reported the hottest weather ever recorded so late in the year.

On the national weather scene, a surprise snowstorm pushed out across the northern plains today behind a curtain of killing frost.

Record snows were reported in South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and Utah.

The Weather Bureau said the storm, which broke down the Rocky Mountains from the Canadian border Wednesday, was gradually diminishing. However, snow continued to fall today in wide areas of the plains and great basin.

In a study of late-summer contrast, Crawford, Neb., reported 16½ inches of snow on the ground while Gage, Okla., registered 103 degrees yesterday.

Snow blanketed most of Wyoming and parts of the Dakotas, Nebraska and Montana. The temperature set a record for the second straight day in Denver, Colo., today by slipping to 30 degrees.

A 116-mile stretch of U.S. 30, a main route between Chicago and the West Coast, was shut down between Laramie and Rawlins, Wyo., because of blowing snow. Scores of motorists were snowed in at Southern Wyoming towns.

Snow continued to fall over the Northern Utah mountains, in eastern Idaho and much of Wyoming. Road reports from northern Utah indicated several inches were accumulating in the Wasatch Mountains.

Red China Serves Indian Ultimatum

County Tax Rate Down

A drop of six cents per $100 valuation in the county tax rate was approved this morning as Gray County Commissioners adopted the operating budget for the 1965 - 66 fiscal year.

The budget was adopted following a public hearing at 10 a.m. held in the county court room. No one was present for the hearing.

Just prior to the hearing, County Judge Bill Craig stated that total figures of the budget were not available and it would not be completed for about another two weeks. He stated, though, that the budget would total about the same as last year's budget of $1,104,773.

However, during the meeting Craig did release the estimated expenditures for the county for the fiscal year. They totaled $1,079,979.

Craig stated that the estimated property valuation in the city was approximately $55,000,000.

The judge stated that the drop in the tax rate was due partly to an increased evaluation in the county of approximately $800,000, and the retired principal of hospital and road and bridge funds.

PICKETING MACHINISTS — Members of the IAMAW picketed the entrance to the Cape Kennedy spaceport in a nationwide strike affecting Boeing Aircraft Co. operations at Seattle, Wash., New Orleans; Huntsville, Ala.; Wichita, Kan.; Ogden, Utah and several smaller plants. The walk-out of some 270 missilemen at Cape Kennedy seriously affected the moonport construction program.

Missile Strike Enters 2nd Day

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A missile mechanics' strike that crippled key moonport construction for the eighth time in 20 months went into its second day today at the nation's space center.

Picket lines set up by the striking Boeing Co. missilemen, members of the International Association of Machinists (IAMAW), were expected to keep hundreds of buildings tradesmen away from work again today.

More than half of the 3,600 man construction work force honored the machinists' picket lines at spaceport entrances on Thursday. Some building projects were shut down and the rest of the construction at the Project Apollo moon base was seriously affected by the strike.

Nearly all of Boeing's 270 machinists refused to report to work but the company's vital Minute-2 intercontinental ballistic missile flight testing operations continued with supervisory personnel. The Air Force said the ICBM's launch schedule would not be affected.

Boeing machinists also handled work on the Saturn-5 moon rocket project at the sprawling Merritt Island Apollo Base west of the Cape itself. Boeing's rocket plant in New Orleans and its Saturn works in Huntsville, Ala., were also hit by the strike.

A few union members for other rocket contractors at the Cape honored the picket lines Thursday, but officials said the two-man Project Gemini launch set for Oct. 25 and other space launches would not be hampered by the strike.

India Has 72 Hours To Dismantle Bases

Midnight Note Implies Communists Might Attack if India Does Not Act

By WALTER LOGAN
By United Press International

Communist China today gave India 72 hours to dismantle military bases along the Indian-Chinese frontier. Peking strongly implied that its forces might attack the disputed border area if India did not comply.

The ultimatum raised fears of a widening war on the vast subcontinent where Indian and Pakistani troops have been battling for more than two weeks in a bitter conflict over Kashmir.

India and Pakistan issued contradictory military communiqués again today, but all indications were that fighting was continuing around Lahore, West Pakistan's second largest city.

In New York, the United Nations Security Council was meeting with Secretary General Thant to hear a report on his peace mission to India and Pakistan. Thant remained optimistic that a cease-fire could be reached.

Communist China delivered its ultimatum to the Indian charge d'affaires in Peking in the middle of the night. The strong Chinese note said India would "bear full responsibility for all the grave consequences" if the border military bases were not dismantled within three days. The note was delivered at 1 a.m.

China stopped short of threatening military action, but the implication was there.

The note coincided with reports of massive Red Chinese troops concentrations along the Indian border—2,000 miles from Burma to Afghanistan.

There was no official reaction from New Delhi, the Indian capital.

In Washington, President Johnson and his advisers were waiting the views of New Delhi and London before deciding what, if anything, to say or do about the ultimatum.

The Chinese threat came after public and private U.S. warnings to Peking against taking advantage of the India-Pakistan war over Kashmir to "fish in troubled waters."

The Chinese note, with its implied threat of invasion, was regarded generally here as increasing the danger of a wider war in Asia. The fact that Red China for the first time set a definite deadline for India's withdrawal from the positions in the area of the Sikkim protectorate high in the Himalayas, was regarded as extremely ominous.

The Chinese have repeatedly demanded India's evacuation of the fortified positions. Peking claims they are on her territory. But the communists have not previously set a time limit which virtually forces them to take some action if New Delhi refuses.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in a statement to newsmen Monday, said that some people believed Red China was preparing to "fish in troubled waters" to take advantage of India's preoccupation with Pakistan.

He said the advice of the United States to Peking would be to refrain from any such action.

100TH BIRTHDAY PRESENT — Salvation Army Advisory Board representatives E. O. Sidwell (right), chairman, and Homer Gibson (left) vice chairman, present a pickup truck to Capt. Robert J. Tritton, local commanding officer. The vehicle was made possible by the Advisory Board and local citizens. It will be used by the Army to pick up usable clothing and furniture.

Salvation Army Will Try To Answer Urgent Appeal

Captain Robert J. Tritton of the local Salvation Army told the News today that he had received an urgent appeal from New Orleans for help in securing badly needed articles for victims of that devastated area.

Needed are blankets, sheets, pillow cases, towels and clothing that does not have to be mended. Captain Tritton pointed out that these are for persons in need right now and there will not be time nor facilities for refurbishing.

Area residents desiring a part in answering this appeal can deliver such articles to Salvation Army headquarters, 615 E. Albert. If it is impossible to make delivery, call MO 9-9921 for pickup.

Captain Tritton emphasized the need for delivery if possible for the Salvation Army only has one small truck for such pickups.

Merchant's Fast Motor Lines in Pampa has agreed to freight the items free of charge to Amarillo to connect with Red Ball Motor Freight Lines which will carry the cargo on to New Orleans without cost.

Washington Grim Over Declaration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials today were assessing the grim political and strategic implications of Red China's demand that India abandon a number of strategic posts along their disputed border before midnight Sunday.

President Johnson and his advisers were understood to be waiting the views of New Delhi and London before deciding what, if anything, to say or do about the ultimatum.

The Chinese threat came after public and private U.S. warnings to Peking against taking advantage of the India-Pakistan war over Kashmir to "fish in troubled waters."

The Chinese note, with its implied threat of invasion, was regarded generally here as increasing the danger of a wider war in Asia. The fact that Red China for the first time set a definite deadline for India's withdrawal from the positions in the area of the Sikkim protectorate high in the Himalayas, was regarded as extremely ominous.

The Chinese have repeatedly demanded India's evacuation of the fortified positions. Peking claims they are on her territory. But the communists have not previously set a time limit which virtually forces them to take some action if New Delhi refuses.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in a statement to newsmen Monday, said that some people believed Red China was preparing to "fish in troubled waters" to take advantage of India's preoccupation with Pakistan.

He said the advice of the United States to Peking would be to refrain from any such action.

Fugitive Trail Leads Search Into Mexico

EL PASO (UPI)—The intensive search for two elusive escaped federal prisoners who left behind them a trail of terror moved across the border into Mexico today.

Roberto J. Fernandez, 30, of Chicago, and Thomas G. Palmer, 20, of Gardena, Calif., escaped Tuesday from a U.S. deputy marshal in Oklahoma City. They pistol-whipped a housewife, kidnaped four persons including a Texas couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weimer, but later released them unharmed.

Then they disappeared.

Thursday night two men—identified through pictures as Fernandez and Palmer—rifled the cash register of a Western Auto store in El Paso and escaped by automobile, taking with them five pistols from the store's gun rack.

An employe of the store took the license number. Police found the car—its motor still running—abandoned about half a block from the Mexican border.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, which confirmed the crash, said it was not yet known if there were survivors.

The CAB said there were 21 passengers and nine crewmen aboard the plane, which left Fort de France on the island of Martinique, bound for Antigua and then on to New York.

Typhoon Trix Hits Tokyo

TOKYO (UPI)—Typhoon Trix today aimed its peak winds of nearly 150 M.P.H. at the Tokyo area. The city called up thousands of police and firemen for emergency duty.

The storm's advance rains caused heavy flooding, and authorities listed 34 persons killed, 14 missing and 46 injured.

Train operations of Japan's National Railways were disrupted at 48 points and most domestic air flights were cancelled.

Weathermen said the full brunt of the typhoon, strongest of the season, would lash the Tokyo area around midnight.

At 5 p.m., Trix was placed about 75 miles south of Shimonisaki in the Pacific South of Osaka by the joint Typhoon warning center on Guam.

On the island of Awajishima in Central Japan, rains triggered by torrential rains flooded 12,000 homes and caused extensive property damage. The flooding has washed away bridges and caused more than 80 landslides on the islands, authorities there reported.

MOUNTAIN FATALITY
BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — Accidents in the Swiss Alps killed 142 tourists, skiers and mountain climbers in 1964, the Swiss Alpine Club reported Thursday. The total was the second-highest on record for a single year, topping the previous high of 150 fatalities in 1962.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Smithsonian Institution currently is celebrating the 200th anniversary of the birth of the man for whom it was named, James Smithson.

(Some people think the place was named for James Institution, but that is wrong.)
Smithson was a very interesting fellow in several ways. For one, he was an Englishman, the son of the Duke of Northumberland. For another, his mother and father neglected to get married.

Because of this parental oversight, Smithson was unable to inherit his father's title. He resented that and resolved to make good on his own. Which he did.

Earns Half Million
He not only became a distinguished scientist but, more important, made a half-million dollars in the process. When he died he left his entire fortune to the United States.

(As far as I can determine, this was the last time the United States has gotten anything from an Englishman.)
Smithson stipulated that the money be used "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." Thus was founded the Smithsonian Institution, which has since become the largest museum complex in the world.

One reason the Smithsonian has done so well is because a lot of other people, in the tradition of Smithson, have given things to it.

I personally have been on hand when the Smithsonian received such treasures as the first silk purse made from a sow's ear and one of the last of the Burma Shave signs.

Talks With Donor
This week, in keeping with the anniversary ceremonies, I had a talk with another Smithsonian donor, Sidney Krandall of Detroit. Krandall, like Smithson, is interesting, but in a different way.

A gem collector known in some quarters as "Mr. Diamond," he owns a diamond mine in Brazil, a sapphire mine in Thailand, a pearl farm in Japan and an emerald mine in Colombia. That would make anybody interesting.

A year or so ago he gave the Smithsonian what is believed to be the only four-star sapphire ever found. Another nine gifts have just gone on display and Krandall said that eventually his entire collection of more than 11,000 precious stones will wind up in the Smithsonian.

Among them is the 40-carat "Krandall Diamond," which was named for you-know-who. (That's one of the nice things about owning diamonds. You can name them anything you please.)

Foreign Commentary

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International
The Kashmir war is likely to lead to an anguished reappraisal of the role of the United States as the world's leading arms merchant and donor.

The spectacle of India and Pakistan battling each other with arms they were supposed to use only for defense against Communism has brought the problem into sharp focus.

The United States during the past 10 years has given away more than $20 billion in military equipment to more than 50 non-Communist nations, all of whom solemnly pledged it would be used only in self-defense.

Yet a number of the recipients have shown that they fear their own neighbors or, in some cases, their own citizens more than they do the Communists.

In addition, the Defense Department's office for international logistics negotiations—referred to by some diplomats as "the Pentagon's arms peddlers"—has sold foreign countries an estimated $9 billion worth of military equipment during the past four years.

American Arms Used
With this amount of U. S. military equipment scattered around the globe, American arms inevitably have figured to some extent in virtually every clash in the non-Communist world.

The Greeks and Turks supplied warring factions in Cyprus with U. S. arms they had received solely for use within the NATO defense framework. France used U. S. arms in her futile effort to suppress the Algerian rebellion. Some right-wing Latin American dictatorships are alleged to retain power solely on the basis of their American armor and planes.

These and other examples are cited by some congressional and other critics of large-scale military aid as evidence to support their views.

The administration, particularly the Pentagon, has counter-arguments which have to be considered. It is contended that if the United States is to make certain its allies will be prepared to react to an once against any Communist threat, the calculated risk" of misuse of the arms must be taken.

In areas outside those covered by formal alliances to which the United States is committed, distribution or sale of American arms is defended on the grounds that if Washington does not supply them someone else will.

Reduce Payments Deficit
Finally, arms sales to allies such as West Germany have played a significant part in reducing the balance of payment deficit which has plagued three successive administrations.

Even economic aid contributes to the arms race, since it renders the recipient better able to use its hard currency to buy U. S. and other war material if they can't be obtained under a giveaway deal.

It is frequently noted that Pakistan, as a member of the Mideast and Southeast Asia Alliances, received $1.5 billion in American military equipment during the past 10 years, whereas India has been given only $200 million since the Red China attack in 1962.

However, India has received a total of $5.9 billion in U. S. economic aid since 1947, by far the largest amount given any country. This has freed some of her dollar and pound sterling earnings to purchase U. S. British, French and other arms.

A vehicle for a complete reappraisal of military aid and sales policy is available. It is in the recently passed aid authorization bill which calls for a top-to-bottom review of the entire aid program.

The India-Pakistan war has made it almost a certainty that an extremely searching study will be made of the whole problem.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Philips, Appel & Walden feels the addition of big industry groups to the rising market is a bullish factor and should lead to new recovery highs. The firm feels that the 960.75 level of the Dow Jones Industrial will be the intermediate testing level.

Thomas & McKinnon says the quick recovery of the stock market from Tuesday's profit-taking is a strong sign of a sizable intermediate upswing. The company feels that despite the accumulated stockpiles of steel in many companies, there are many signs this is only temporary. For various reasons the analyst says, the narrow range in the larger steel issues is getting harder to explain every day.

Bache & Company says that with the favorable economic outlook, the probability of increased corporation earnings and the general technical position of the market, traders' confidence is high and the overall market trend is higher. They caution against investments in highly speculative issues.

Aquanauts Give Tuffy Second Try

LAJOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — An "educated" dolphin and two aquanauts resumed a game of hide-and-seek today 205 feet beneath the ocean. It's all in the name of science.

The experiment involving Tuffy, the trained dolphin, and aquanauts John Reeves and Ken Conda began Thursday with partial success. Tuffy, wearing a harness with a cable was supposed to plumb the ocean depths and "rescue" two "lost" divers at the sound of a buzzer carried by the men.

In one series of dives from the surface, Tuffy responded to the buzzer. He came within "inches" of his aquanaut target but paused and shot back to the surface without completing his mission.

Capt. George Bond, principal investigator for the Navy's man-in-the-sea project, said Tuffy might have been frightened by the aquanauts' paraphernalia and sounds from Sea lab 2, their 200-ton, 57-foot-long underwater laboratory-home.

Bond said Tuffy dove to within "inches of Reeves and about 18 feet from Conda," who were about 150 feet away from Sea lab 2.

"He (Tuffy) hovered there for a few seconds and then he made a vertical departure," Bond said. "His actions were bizarre, as if he were leery of the lights and sounds."

Minutes later, Tuffy returned to the aquanauts, but failed to get close enough for the men to collect pliers and screwdrivers attached to the dolphin's harness.

Trinity Canal Bill Ready For Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill authorizing eventual canalization of the Trinity River from the Gulf of Mexico to Dallas-Fort Worth was ready for House action today.

The House Rules Committee Thursday voted to send to the floor the $1.9 billion omnibus public works bill, which contains an initial authorization of $83 million for the Trinity project.

Although the Rules Committee passed the bill, some had misgivings about the Texas projects.

Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., said the project looked like an effort to "build a river" 360 miles.

Rep. Ray J. Madden, D-Ind., suggested an alternate plan—moving Fort Worth to the gulf.

But public works committee members defended the project, at least its flood control stages.

The more controversial navigational features will be subject to further review, Rep. John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., said.

The bill will be subject to amendment on the House floor. Two Republicans, Reps. William H. Harsha, Ohio, and John F. Baldwin of California reportedly plan to attack the project when floor action starts next week.

Deer Hunting Prospects In Panhandle Good

White-tailed deer along the Canadian River and river bottoms traversing the Panhandle will be more plentiful this year than in 1964.

Richard DeArment of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said deer densities have never been higher in the Panhandle compared to Hill County herds, but what Panhandle deer lack in numbers is made for in size. White-tailed bucks weighing 150-200 pounds on the hoof are not uncommon on the Canadian and Washita river.

The Palo Duro Canyon, south-east of Amarillo and the Canadian River area south of Dalhart, supports stable mule deer herds from which most Panhandle mule deer are harvested each year, said the biologist.

In 1964, 246 mule deer and 299 white-tailed deer were harvested by sportsmen.

Pro-Nasser Iraqis Fail in Coup Try

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — A pro-Nasser faction in Iraq tried to seize power in a coup Thursday but failed, according to reports reaching here today.

(In London, the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) said the abortive coup against President Abdul Salam Aref's government was led by Premier Aref Abdel Razzak and a group of high-ranking army officers.)

(This morning Damascus Radio, monitored in Beirut, reported that the Iraqi armed forces "have been alerted." It called the situation in Baghdad "ambiguous.")

The Iraqi capital was reported calm today. Baghdad Radio made no mention of the reported coup attempt.

THE DRAFT -- NOT INEVITABLE

One-Half of Eligibles Never Serve

By MYRON FEINSILBER, United Press International
Like death and taxes, conscription is unpopular. But it is only half as inevitable.

Only half of the 17 million draft-age males in America are likely to ever put on a uniform or pull KP. Roughly one-third of the rest will be found physically, mentally or psychiatrically unfit to serve and the remainder will be deferred until they escape the draft or will be classified 1-A but never serve simply because they weren't needed.

Those are rough figures, based on past experience, but unless a war requires the military to lower its standards, the pattern is likely to prevail.

A 1962 study showed 1.1 million men reached age 26—the usual draft cut-off age—that year. Only 58 per cent—640,000 men—had served in the armed forces. Of the rest, 27 per cent were rejected as unfit, 11 per cent were fathers and deferred for other reasons.

Bigger Manpower Pool
Even with a 400,000-man increase in the armed services caused by the Viet Nam war (bringing the military to over 3 million), the percentage of those who eventually serve is likely to remain relatively stable because baby boom of the post-war years is providing a bigger manpower pool from which to recruit or draft soldiers. In the 1950s, 1.1 million boys reached draft age every year; now 1.9 million do; by 1974, 21.1 million will.

Deferment is a delay of service, not an exemption from it. Its purpose is to serve the nation's interest, not the boy's. Educational deferment is granted so the nation will have enough engineers and doctors and teachers to meet the needs of the civilian economy.

But sometimes the effect of deferment becomes exemption. A boy deferred to complete his education marries while still in college and becomes a father; he then is deferred on grounds of fatherhood and escapes the draft.

Discrimination Charged
The result, many critics believe, is that the draft remains a poor boy's burden. The boy whose family is well enough off to send him to college wins a deferment. Because college guarantees him a well-paying job, he can afford to take a wife and start a family.

Some would like to spread the burden so that every boy, excepting only the totally unfit, would receive six months' military training. They would like the training to come at age 18, rather than at 22, the age at which a young man now is likely to be drafted. That would alleviate the most common complaint of young men: their inability to plan their futures because of their uncertainty about the draft.

The idea appeals, even to some in the Pentagon. They recognize that the military's loss of half a million servicemen a year through normal turnover makes the armed forces nothing more than a huge training school, forever getting ready for defense but never fully ready.

The cost of constantly training new men runs into the billions. Yet it does have a big civilian payoff. The nation's airlines would be desperate for pilots if the Air Force didn't produce them. The services offer some of the best technical training to be had anywhere.

Improve Morale, Readiness
Besides reducing costs, eliminating the draft and creating in its stead a professional army of long-term volunteers would improve military morale and readiness.

There are those who still consider military service a shake-down school for adulthood. Many civilian judges still offer a juvenile delinquent a choice between the Army and reform school. This sort of thinking carries its price, too; a study last year showed that one group of less than 200 "problem soldiers" in only one Army stockade had cost the Army a "minimum of $1 million to $2 million."

The Army needs the nation's best young brains, too, and the draft helps supply them. Modern war is complex and modern warriors handle machinery worth millions of dollars. Yet ending the draft and the threat of being drafted and the inducement that sends many college men into ROTC would end. The selective service system candidly acknowledges that it probably induces more men into uniform than it inducts.

The prospect of abolishing the draft remains remote and this was true even before the buildup in Viet Nam—a war which proves again that machines, no matter how sophisticated, will not replace the soldier in fighting men's wars.

School Shut By Outbreak Of Hepatitis

CANUTILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Four confirmed cases of infectious hepatitis among pupils late Thursday forced Canutillo, Tex., school officials to close the city elementary school until Monday.

Dr. M. D. Hornado, El Paso City County Health Officer said county sanitation engineers and health inspectors began testing water in this small town north of El Paso late Thursday. Two adults also had confirmed cases, Dr. Hornado said. One had contact with one of the four children, a school official added.

Gonzalo Garcia, chairman of the Canutillo Independent School Districts Board of Trustees said county health officials would test today 10 other elementary school children who showed symptoms of the disease.

Garcia said the Red Cross and Texas Public Health Service officials were scheduled to administer Gamma Globulin serum today to Canutillo residents wishing inoculations.

Hornado said the four children and two adults with the disease were isolated in their homes.

Peace Officers Hold Election

ROSWELL, N. M. (UPI)—Maj. Harry Hutchison of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety was elected president Thursday of the Texas South Plains - Eastern New Mexico Peace Officers Association.

Also elected were Capt. A. J. Smith of the Santa Fe, N. M., State Police office, first vice president; Jack Tomlin, Odessa, Tex., assistant police chief, second vice president; and Wade Davis, Roosevelt County, N. M., sheriff, third vice president.

Melvin Miller of the Roswell State Police office was re-elected secretary - treasurer of the association.

SORE LOSER

LONDON (UPI)—A man with a pickaxe charged into a betting parlor yesterday and chopped up furnishings in the premises. Police said the intruder, who fled, apparently was a disgruntled gambler.

Underground School Dedication Scheduled

ROSWELL, N. M. (UPI)—Dr. Howard Jefferson, president of Clark College in Worcester, Mass., will be the keynote speaker Sunday at dedication of New Mexico's second underground school at Roswell, in South Central New Mexico.

The $1,944,070 new Robert H. Goddard High School, named after pioneer rocket scientist Dr. Robert H. Goddard, has been in operation since early this month.

The school, which can double as a bomb or disaster shelter, has its academic plant completely underground. The gymnasium, cafeteria, theater, auditorium and shop facilities are above ground.

Dr. Goddard's space-age pioneering efforts, many of which were conducted on the desert near Roswell, are marked by the 45-foot WAC Corporal rocket which stands before the school, a donation from the Roswell Museum and Art Center which has exhibits commemorating many of the man's early efforts.

The school is building a $5 million memorial library in honor of Dr. Goddard, a native of the area.

Also present at the dedication ceremonies will be New Mexico Gov. Jack Campbell and Roswell area dignitaries: Dr. Werner Von Braun, a key figure in America's space efforts, was invited but was unable to attend.

In time of emergency, some 6,500 persons could be sheltered for two weeks at the school. Park Junior High at Artesia, N. M., the state's other underground school, could shelter another 2,275 persons in an emergency.

Cost per square foot of the new school was $10.42. The gross shelter area is 82,273 square feet with a gross area of the entire facility of 186,273 square feet.

Both the Artesia and Roswell schools were designed by Frank M. Standhardt of Roswell, Dr. Marcello Giomi of Albuquerque, N. M., acted as shelter analyst.

Bra Designer Keeps Abreast of Times

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — When Ida Rosenthal designed her first bra, flappers were wearing foundations to flatten their chests.

Mrs. Rosenthal went against the trend, introduced the uplift bra with a bit of padding, and started a multi-million dollar business. Today, as she moves toward her 80th birthday, the tiny (four feet, 11 inches) dynamo of the foundation industry still is adamant on what women want. It is not nudity, she says. She was asked, weren't there trends toward less clothing, exemplified by the above-knee skirts, the fact that many mod-and Mrs. Ronald Beard and daughters, Vicki and Elizabeth.

Next regular meeting of the Barracks and Auxiliary will be 7:30 p.m., Oct. 8 in VFW Hall.

els have been showing clothes bra-less, that the topless bathing suit and the no-bra bra catapulted designer Rudi Gernreich to international fame?

"Well, we haven't had nudity since Eve," said Mrs. Rosenthal. "You can't guarantee what women will do. But I think if it's in the direction of no clothes, this'll take a long, long time."

"I think the industry is not worried."

"Everybody is not a model," said Mrs. Rosenthal. "The women who can go without a bra is the exception."

But, she added sagely, "we'll give the women the variety they want. We have a no-bra bra that does a real job." An all-over net, or lace, nude in color, it is advertised as one which "covers like a blush."

Ida Rosenthal got into the bra and girdle business via dressmaking.

She was born Ida Cohen, on Jan. 9, 1886 in Rakow, near Minsk in Russia. At 19, she came to America to live with an aunt and uncle in Hoboken, N.J., to work as a dressmaker, and to marry William Rosenthal. She opened a dress shop first in Hoboken, later moving it to fashionable 57th Street in New York.

WMS of First Baptist Meets For RS Topic

The meeting was opened by the group singing "O Worship the King" led by Mrs. George Smith and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. D. Carver, followed by prayer by Mrs. Paul Turner. During the call to prayer Mrs. Owen Johnson, Mrs. G. L. Wilson, Mrs. Roberta Woods, Mrs. Ruth Tarpley, Mrs. L. V. Hopp, Mrs. S. E. Waters and Mrs. P. G. Turner told of their experiences at the Glorieta Baptist Assembly this summer. Mrs. C. E. Powell led the prayer for missionaries.

The introduction to the program, "Scattered Abroad in the Orient," was given by Mrs. Ruth Tarpley. Others appearing on the program, who were dressed in oriental robes and appeared on an oriental decorated stage, were Mrs. W. C. Erwin on "Purple Proverbs," Mrs. Gene Fort on the "Yellow Chinese," Mrs. John Gikas on the "Red Chinese," Mrs. Wes Langham on the "White Missionaries," and Mrs. Carroll Ray on the "Green Americans." Mrs. Ruth Tarpley closed with a prayer.

Dear Abby....

While Baby Is Tiny
Be Careful of Cats

DEAR ABBY: I am expecting my first child in a few months. My problem is this: I have raised two cats since birth and they are very dear to me. My husband and my mother say that if the cats are still here when my baby comes they are likely to hurt, or even kill, the baby. They say that cats are naturally attracted to a baby's mouth because of the scent of milk on the baby's breath, and a cat will suck the breath out of a baby trying to get the milk. I have talked to quite a few people about this and most of them say they never heard of a cat harming a baby. But one lady said she knew of a case where a cat jumped up into a baby's buggy and would have killed it but the mother got there just in time. Now I am worried. I would never put my cats above my baby, but I don't want to get rid of my cats unless I have to. Any information you, or your readers, can give me on this subject would be greatly appreciated.

LOVES CATS

DEAR ABBY: What you have heard about cats harming babies is an old wives' tale. But

MATURE PARENT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. That the mental instability of her mother contributed to the tragedy of Marilyn Monroe's life is a just assumption. Since Miss Monroe had experienced psychiatric treatment, it is also a just assumption that she was aware of the part this mental instability played in the unprotected homelessness of her wounded childhood and youth.

Despite this awareness, she made the continuing protection and care of that unstable, damaging mother a chief provision of her will. That is moral achievement, an accomplishment of that forbearing love expressed in those words of Jesus, "Forgive them for they know not what they do."

However, the bureaucrats of our Internal Revenue Service seem unable to see it this way. They have confiscated the money left for the care of that damaging mother by the forbearing daughter who could not care for herself.

I think that we should all feel warmed and comforted if President Johnson would reverse this blindly bureaucratic act by his tax collectors.

If you reveal yourself as outstandingly brave by flying around the earth in a space capsule, you are singled out for presidential attention, are promoted in rank and get your salary raised. If you oblige the Army by killing a lot of the enemy, you are asked to step out of the lone composed of lesser mortals so that a general can pin a medal on your chest.

But if your heroism is not the kind which makes a physical display of itself, then there is no singling out for special appreciation. Though your achievement of forgiveness is clear, there are no promotions, no salary raises, no medals. You get not special attention but the disallowance of your achievement.

I write this because I have a special memory of Marilyn Monroe. I once sat in the box next to hers at the Metropolitan Opera House. By the time the curtain fell, she'd been recognized by many people in the audience. When her box door was opened to allow her to leave, she couldn't do it. The corridor was so crowded with her admirers that the door had to be closed and other exit arrangements made for her. How we thronged and beset her with our appreciation of her physical beauty!

But her moral beauty? Well, admiration of that seems harder to come by, doesn't it?

Rev. Adkins, with his wife, is on furlough in the United States conducting services among Churches of the Nazarene. This is their first furlough since being assigned to Bolivia in 1959 by the Department of World Missions, Church of the Nazarene.

The first year of overseas service was spent in language study in Mexico City. In July 1960 they were stationed in La Paz, Bolivia and assumed the responsibilities of pastoring the Spanish speaking Church of the Nazarene and teaching in the Nazarene Bible Institute.

Rev. and Mrs. Adkins have three children, one boy and two girls, ranging in age from ten years to five years. They will be living in Akron, Ohio during their furlough year.

When Thorpe was later charged with being a professional, his Olympic medals were taken from him and his records stricken from the books.

Classroom Check
Reveals that 25%

By United Press International
There is still a lot of confusion among school officials and parents about just what the Supreme Court forbade in its famous "prayer cases" of 1962 and 1963.

A survey of 16,000 principals earlier this year showed that about one-fourth of the nation's high schools were continuing to hold precisely the kind of classroom religious observance the court found unconstitutional.

On the other hand, many public schools have gone far beyond anything the court required in banning every reference to religion. Some have even removed Bibles from library shelves.

The start of a new school term is a good time to list once again the specific activities which the court ruled out—and those which it permitted and even encouraged.

In the Engel vs. Vitale case of 1962, the court held that it is unconstitutional for a public school to require the recitation of an official non-sectarian prayer as part of a classroom religious exercise.

The following year, in Abingdon School District vs. Schempp, the court said that a public school may not require the reading of a portion of the Bible or the recitation of the Lord's Prayer as part of a classroom religious exercise.

At the morning worship, Mrs. Harold Craddock will be the featured soloist and Mrs. J. R. Manning and Mrs. Sam Allen will sing a duet at the evening worship. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "utumn" by Chaminade for the morning offertory and "I Would Be True" by Hughes for the evening offertory.

Rev. J. R. Manning, assistant pastor, will use "Man's Religions" for his sermon subject at the six o'clock evening worship.

The Need for Victory In The Church

Text — Romans 6:11-20

There can never be victory in the church until first the need is realized. When there is complacency, self-satisfaction, and self-emulation, there must follow a spiritual and moral degeneration. The church today becomes so involved that the Founder Himself, the Lord Jesus Christ, often can not find a way to enter. We come to the point in our lives that we feel we are as good a Christian as we need to be. The living Word of God warns us, "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." I Corinthians 10:12

THERE IS A NEED FOR VICTORY BECAUSE OF:

I. THE AGGRESSIVENESS OF SATAN.

I believe in a real personal devil; I believe he is aggressive; I believe that he stands back of every aggressive move of anti-Christian endeavor. "Be sober, be vigilant, because your adversary the devil as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour." I Peter 5:8

II. THE INCREASE OF WORLDINESS IN THE CHURCH.

There is too much compromise with the world. When the Word of God is preached, people say they are scolded, and resent it. (Read Ezekiel 2:1-8) Some in the church would compromise the truth to give friendship to the world. "... know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God." James 4:4

People need to understand that the preaching of the Cross is offensive to the world. Godly living will certainly bring persecution for the world.

III. THE PREVALENCE OF INDIFFERENCE IN THE CHURCH.

It is becoming more difficult to move people with the preaching of the Word; more difficult to get people to stand for God and His Way. You will recall the story of Elijah and Baal. (I Kings 18:17-40) Note three things. They did not oppose his program of revivalism. They did not make any statement in favor of idolatry. They stood unconcerned, not willing to stand for God.

IV. BECAUSE OF THE PRESENCE OF SPIRITUAL DEFEAT.

Many people who call themselves believers are slaves of worldly habits, puppets of evil lusts. They are sometimes poisoned by jealousy, retaining grievances, and have an unforgiving spirit. We need victory over the flesh that only the Holy Spirit can bring. (Ephesians 4:30-32)

V. BECAUSE OF THE ALARMING DEGREE OF FRUITLESSNESS AMONG CHRISTIANS.

Every Christian should be able to say, "I have witnessed, prayed, and cried for souls." We are not saved just to fill a pew, but to be a channel through which the Holy Spirit can win others to Christ. True we are living in the days of evil apostasy but I believe that many sinners can say as David when chased by Saul, "No man cared for my soul."

CONCLUSION:

We need to realize the gaining influence of Satan and the weakness of us who call ourselves Christians. But Wait! Just look around! The Devil does not have any more power than he did years ago, and certainly God is not backing down on His promises of power and strength. The Fault lies with us. Examine your own heart and life, and see what is keeping you from having victory.

"Am I what once I was? Have I that ground maintained,
Wherein I walked in power with Thee, and Thou My soul sustaine?
"While I speak to Thee, Lord, Thy goodness Show; Am I what I ought to be? O Saviour, let me know."

Pampa Hosts Wichita Falls Rider in Home Grid Opener

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
Pampa opens the home football campaign at 7:30 p.m. today against Wichita Falls Rider.

The Harvesters (0-1) hope to get on the winning track against a Raider team (1-0) that possess a big, fast line and backfield.

Rider runs from the single wing and throws from the I formation. They have the team that can do it.

Rider averages 171 pounds per man in its line and 179-pounds per man in the backfield. But don't let the weight fool you. Speed is abundant on the Wichita Falls team.

Bud Deerinwater, a 212 pound senior tailback heads the offensive show for the visitors. Deerinwater is a three year starter and was named the Player - of - the - Week by the Fort Worth Star Telegram for his play last week.

Deerinwater scored twice, hit three of five passes, including one for a touchdown. He also carried the ball 35 times for over 200 yards.

The Raiders also have one of the best blocking backs in the state in 196-pound senior James Vanderslice, also a three-year regular.

The Raiders round out their backfield with Don Dudley, a 160-pound junior at fullback and Steve Shelton, 155-pound junior or Ken Hudson, 151-pound senior at the wingback slot.

Shelton and end Dennis Bramlett, a 210 - pound senior are most always on the receiving end of Deerinwater's passes.

Harvester coach Eural Ramsey made two changes in his starting offense from the Perryton contest.

Doc Cornutt, a 205-pound junior will start at center in the place of senior Jerry Wright and Jack Williamson, another junior and 173 pounder starts at the right guard spot for 190-pound senior Larry Eckroat.

Pampa will now have only seven seniors on the starting offensive unit.

All 3-4-A teams see non-conference action this week but next week turn to league action with Pampa opening against Palo Duro at Amarillo.

In other 3-4-A action: Amarillo plays at Wichita Falls; Borger goes to Dumas; Caprock hosts Lubbock Coronado; Lubbock High plays at Odessa Permian; Palo Duro goes to Midland; Plainview plays at Littlefield and Tascosa hosts Robert E. Lee.

Pampa, a 27-8 loser to Perryton in the opener last Friday, hopes to have its offense, which sputtered, and defense, which faltered, much improved.

Speed, or lack of it has been the biggest concern among Harvester coaches. Inexperience, which showed mightily at Perryton, still continues to plague Pampa.

Coach Joe Bob Tyler's Raiders upset one of the state's top teams last week, rolling to a 40-8 decision over Wichita Falls Hershey.

Deerinwater was the offensive show, but the Raiders interior linemen threw up a defense that stopped Hershey cold, except once.

Tyler has 165 pound senior Glenn Brown and 210 - pound Dennis Bramlett at ends; John Estes, 175-pound senior and John Meyers, 185 - pound senior at tackles; 165 - pound Ger- al Hodges and 180 - pound sen- ior Danny Mullins at guards; Mike Arp, 170 - pound junior at middle linebacker.

Ramsey, with the exceptions of Cornutt and Williamson, will start Ted Bird and Billy Stokes

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Mays Rests; Giants Win

By United Press International
The San Francisco Giants rested Willie Mays Thursday night, but Len Gabrielson and Willie McCovey furnished the power and Bob Bolin pitched an easy 5-1 victory over the Houston Astros.

The victory was San Francisco's 14th in a row and its fourth straight over the Astros. It moved the Giants 4 1/2 games ahead of the pack in the National League pennant race.

The Giants jumped out in front with four runs in the first inning. Dick Schofield and Jesus Alou singled and Willie McCovey walked to load the bases. Jim Hart scored Schofield with a sacrifice fly, then Len Gabrielson unloaded a triple that scored Alou and McCovey. Tom Haller's sacrifice fly scored Gabrielson with the fourth run.

McCovey added to the San Francisco margin in the third with a 390-foot home run into the right field seats, his 36th of the year.

Richie Allen's bases-loaded single in the eighth inning snapped a 6-6 tie and gave the Philadelphia Phillies an 8-6 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Allen's two-run blow climaxed a three-run rally in which Dick Stuart doubled home Tony Gonzalez with the tying run.

Lou Brock singled home Bob Tolan in the eighth inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates for their 17th consecutive victory in the Pirates' home park. Tolan drove in the other run with a sixth inning sacrifice fly after a leadoff double by Jerry Buchek and a sacrifice by Tracy Stallard. Stallard picked up the victory, his 11th against seven losses.

Sandy Koufax made his second relief appearance of the season, retiring three batters in order in the ninth inning to preserve a 2-0 shutout for the Los Angeles Dodgers and teammate Claude Osteen over Chicago.

Pampa Jr. High Stops Groom, 16-8

Pampa Junior High ninth graders were the only one of four Pampa junior high teams to post a victory Thursday.

The ninth grade team stopped Groom 16-8; The Pampa junior high seventh grade lost to Groom seventh, 36-12; Canadian B downed Lee Junior High ninth, 28-0 and Lefors seventh grade edged Lee seventh, 14-0.

Jack Newsome scored twice for the Pampa Junior High Ninth grade.

Newsome rambled 35 yards for his first score and then caught a 40-yard pass from quarterback Phil Long for the other score.

Extra points came on runs by Charley Price and Hal Kaiser. Pampa scored in the first and fourth periods and the game was tied 8-8 at halftime.

The Pampa Junior High seventh grade couldn't stop their counterparts and fell, 36-12.

Fred Harper scored twice, both times on runs of 20-yards.

The Lee Rebel ninth grade took on a tough foe in the Canadian B team, a 14-0 loser to Miami high school last week.

Lee trailed 12-0 at halftime after playing the high schoolers to a 0-0 first period deadlock.

But Canadian came back strong in the second half and scored once in the third period and once in the fourth.

Canadian gained 303 yards on the ground while the Lee offensive unit could muster only 153 yards.

Lee seventh grade fumbled four times and Lefors recovered three of them, turning two into touchdowns and a 14-0 victory.

Lubbock A&M Club Slates Barbeque

The Lubbock A&M Club has made big plans for the Tech-A&M football game. There will be a barbeque held from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Army Reserve Building located at 2819 4th St. preceding the game. The tickets sell for $2.00 each.

The club has a block of 500 tickets to the football game available.

MISTAKES HURT

Bullpups Take Shockers, 22-8

BORGER (Spl) — The Borger Bullpups scored once in each of the first three quarters Thursday and rolled to a 22-8 victory over the Pampa Shockers.

Borger marched 50 - yards in the first quarter for their first tally with halfback Allen Brown going over from the five for the score. An attempted pass for the extra points failed and the first period ended 6-0 in favor of Borger.

The Bullpups made it 14-0 at halftime when fleet halfback Willie Dunn scooted around left end for 47-yards and a touchdown. Brown then ran across the extra points.

The Shockers came right back in the third period to cut the lead to 14-8.

Pampa took the opening kickoff in the third period and marched 65-yards for their lone tally.

Quarterback Gary Hiatt scored from the three. Hiatt had also picked up valuable yardage in the drive.

Steve Summers passed to Mike Brown for the points after to bring the Shockers close.

But the Bullpups weren't having any and scored at the start of the fourth period on a 30-yard pass from quarterback Doug Darden to end Bunn. Bunn then took across the extra points to make it the final 22-8.

The Shockers were hurt by their own mistakes, fumbles and penalties.

Pampa had taken the opening kickoff and marched to the Borger 20. But a 15-yard penalty on third down killed the drive.

Again the Shockers threatened, driving to the Bullpups 11 yard line just before the first half ended but another 15-yard penalty stopped them cold.

The Shockers play their third game of the season next Thursday when they travel to Lubbock to meet the new Coronado high school.

Area Grid Teams Play Tonight

Only five games dot the area football schedule tonight with White Deer and McLean taking a week off.

In the only 2-A contest Canadian seeks the victory column for the first time in three outings when the Wildcats host Sunray.

In district 5-B play Wheeler meets its second Oklahoma foe and shoots for victory No. 2 at Erick, Okla. Groom journeys to Claude and Miami plays at Vega. Lefors rounds out the schedule, going to Happy.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — At the start of his new one-hour NBC-TV variety series Thursday night, Dean Martin explained that his show was the kind for which a fellow could take his wife, kids, mother and father—and sit around a bar and watch." He explained further that his latest album was "Love Themes From the Clayton Liston Fight."

Martin has basically a riverboat gambler's appeal—and attitude—and for a matinee idol, it is certainly one of the most attractive images one can cultivate, especially since it is almost always bound to pay off. The question is whether the television audience feels comfortable with this devil-may-care attitude, or whether it likes to be kowtowed to, and buttered up by its favorite performers. It is this factor—plus the competition of CBS-TV's Thursday night movies and ABC-TV's drama series, "The Long, Hot Summer"—that will probably determine the fate of the Martin show.

Martin does not kowtow to, or butter up, an audience, any more than his friend Frank Sinatra does. He is polite, and he obviously cares—more than he likes to show—whether his program is being accepted, but basically his approach is: Here is what I have to offer. Here is what I am—take it or leave it.

For example, at the end of Thursday night's show, he commented drolly, "Good night, folks, and keep those cards coming." It was a very funny line because obviously, since this was the premiere, no cards concerning the quality of the show could yet have been received; and because, even if he was being half-serious in his pitch, it was a lovely dig at the trite signoffs of some other celebrities.

In short, I happen to like his approach because, even if one feels the relationship of performer and audience should be different in most cases, he is playing his attitude straight—laying himself on the line. I find this refreshing. And I like the talent he attracts.
