The Gray County Clerk's office said it had no unusual requests for marriage licenses yesterday. Charlie Thut, county clerk, said three licenses were issued yesterday and none of the applicants indicated it had anything to do with the draft order.

Married Men Now Eligible For Induction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — From now on, draft age men who get married may find the bell is tolling for them. It won't necessarily be the wedding bell. President Johnson signed an executive order Thursday to make any man getting married after last midnight eligible for the draft on the same basis as a single man.

The order revised one put into effect Sept. 10, 1963, by the late President John F. Kennedy which barred draft boards from taking married men without children until they had run out of single men.

Selective Service officials said that under the expanded draft callups ordered by Johnson to meet expanded commitments in South Viet Nam, some childless married men probably will be drafted in the next couple of months.

The new order would mean, however, that those who got married before Thursday night's deadline would not be called until the newcomers in married ranks were drafted.

Men in the 19-to-26-year-old category would be affected by the order, which the White House said Johnson signed at the recommendation of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. The President also consulted with Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, head of the Selective Service system.

In response to an inquiry, presidential assistant Joseph Califano told newsmen that press reports of an increase in marriages by young men of draft age had played a part in the decision.

Wedding chapels along the famed "Strip" were besieged by anxious lovers trying to beat the midnight deadline set by President Johnson Thursday. After midnight, Johnson declared, a marriage ceremony would not prevent young men from being called to the colors.

Prospective honeymooners packed into the yards and halls of the Clark County Courthouse here and police had to be summoned to control the crowd.

Racial Violence Flares Again In New Jersey

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI) — Firebomb violence flared for the second straight night but sputtered out early today in a drizzling rain that chased Negroes off the streets and cooled tensions and tempers.

Negro leaders and city officials worked to maintain calm in the Negro waterfront section and prevent a much worse outbreak over the weekend.

There were a number of incidents Thursday night but none to rival those of the previous night.

A Molotov cocktail gasoline bomb was hurled underneath a parked car late Thursday night and burst into flame. Firemen, ordered to maintain roving patrols through the area as a precautionary measure, quickly extinguished the fire.

A short time later, a fire broke out in the rear of a diner. Police termed it "suspicious."

Police arrested a 16-year-old Negro boy in the hallway of a building. He was carrying rags and a five-gallon can of gasoline — material used for making fire bombs. He was charged with juvenile delinquency.

Also arrested was a motorist for throwing bottles out of his car as he drove along the street.

Police at Plymouth reported no injuries or arrests in the disturbance. The Negroes withdrew to a church and the Klansmen gradually dispersed. State troopers and other officers from a 20 mile radius patrolled the streets to maintain order.

The Klansmen had been attending a late rally. Civil rights workers had been demonstrating for two weeks.

The brief fires at Elizabeth were put out by roving firemen. The fires were the only incidents in the area where Molotov cocktails, rocks, bricks and bottles were hurled at the stores of white merchants, homes and fire trucks by hands of marauding Negroes Wednesday night.

At Prentiss, Miss., federal registrars were being pulled out of a motel commandeered by the federal government under rights of eminent domain. The government said the registrars would move into the small post office at Prentiss to register Negro voters.

21 Persons Arrested In Assassination Plot

SINGAPORE (UPI) — Police announced today the arrest of 21 persons in an Indonesian-backed plot to assassinate Singapore's cabinet ministers and to turn the newly independent island into a Communist state.

Those arrested included ring leader Sim Siew Lin who police identified as a former member of the Malayan Communist party.

The plot was crushed Thursday with Sim's arrest. Twenty others were subsequently taken prisoner, police said.

Police said the plotters' death list included all Singapore ministers, including Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew, and certain members of the police force. The Communists planned to create general havoc by exploding periodic time bombs in several public places and triggering off race riots by inflaming ages old antagonisms between Chinese and Malays, the police said.

Those arrested belonged to the Peoples Revolutionary Party. Police charged the group was expecting a large consignment of guns, hand grenades, explosives and anti-Malay and anti-Chinese propaganda leaflets from Indonesia.

Singapore became an independent state Aug. 9 when the island voluntarily left the federation of Malaysia. The Malaysian federation since its founding in 1963 has been the target of a "crush Malaysia" campaign sponsored by Indonesian President Sukarno.

Gemini Encounters More Rocket Trouble

Civil Rights Workers Scuffle With Klansmen

By United Press International
Ku Klux Klansmen and civil rights workers scuffled in the streets of Plymouth, N. C., Thursday night before police moved in to prevent the disturbance from getting out of hand.

In Elizabeth, N.J., a Molotov cocktail exploded under a parked car and a "suspicious" fire broke out near a diner where some 200 persons were milling around in the violence-married Negro waterfront section.

Police at Plymouth reported no injuries or arrests in the disturbance. The Negroes withdrew to a church and the Klansmen gradually dispersed. State troopers and other officers from a 20 mile radius patrolled the streets to maintain order.

The Klansmen had been attending a late rally. Civil rights workers had been demonstrating for two weeks.

The brief fires at Elizabeth were put out by roving firemen. The fires were the only incidents in the area where Molotov cocktails, rocks, bricks and bottles were hurled at the stores of white merchants, homes and fire trucks by hands of marauding Negroes Wednesday night.

At Prentiss, Miss., federal registrars were being pulled out of a motel commandeered by the federal government under rights of eminent domain. The government said the registrars would move into the small post office at Prentiss to register Negro voters.

The owner of the Magnolia Motel, Burt Allen, had complained bitterly his business was being ruined when the government took over four units of his 24 unit motel.

Elsewhere in the nation: Raleigh, N.C. Gov. Dan K. Moore said he would use "any power" at his command to preserve law and order if there is any violence during the opening of North Carolina public schools, most of which are scheduled to see some degree of integration.

Greensboro, Ala.: State agents intensified their investigation of the mutilation of aged Negro farmer Perry Smaw, 89, whose skull was fractured and his tongue cut out in an attack last Saturday.

Jaycees Seek Blood Donors In Canvass

Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes will canvass Pampa residential districts tonight seeking pledges of blood donations to build a blood bank for Pampa leukemia victims.

The house-to-house solicitation will be conducted between 7 and 10 p.m. and residents are urged to turn on porch lights to indicate pledges will be made.

A bloodmobile is scheduled in Pampa Wednesday and Thursday, but 700 pledges must be received by Monday night in order to guarantee sending it here from Dallas.

Tom Jeter, chairman of the Jaycee blood project, said today pledges are running behind and it is hoped tonight's city-wide canvass will reach the goal.

The blood fund would be established in conjunction with the Wadley Blood Clinic in Dallas. It would enable leukemia sufferers to obtain blood far below the cost locally.

A similar campaign for pledges is being conducted in Miami and Roberts County in connection with the local project.

Attack on Capital Made By Forces

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist forces overwhelmed Tan Nhat outpost only eight miles southwest of Saigon today and launched a mortar attack on a nearby district capital. The assault was part of the determined Viet Cong effort to choke off the supply of food to Saigon.

U.S. Army helicopters and Vietnamese rangers counter-attacked and sharp fighting was reported.

Military spokesmen said "heavy" Vietnamese losses were feared among the small garrison at Tan Nhat. "Light" casualties were reported at Binh Chanh, the target of the mortar barrage.

The guerrillas struck only five hours after the clandestine Viet Cong radio announced a step-up in the determined campaign to encircle Saigon and starve it out.

Binh Chanh sits astride highway 4, a vital link between Saigon and the rice fields and truck farms in the fertile Mekong River delta. The Communists already control many of the farm-to-market roads leading to the capital.

Vietnamese rangers supported by American helicopters firing machineguns and rockets rushed to the defense of Tan Nhat, but the ground troops ran into stiff resistance.

The coordinated pre-dawn attack on Tan Nhat and Binh Chanh was the second in a month.

Bomb Threat Clears Terminal

AMARILLO (UPI) — An anonymous bomb threat caused officials to clear the Amarillo Air Terminal of about 100 persons for 30 minutes Thursday night while police vainly searched for explosives. A telephone caller said it would go off "within an hour."

One airline flight from Denver due in during the search was first told not to land, then was permitted to do so with the passengers kept outside of the terminal.

Windstorms Leave One Dead, 95 Others Hurt

CHICAGO (UPI) — A nightlong siege of tornadoes and windstorms that followed the path of the Palm Sunday tragedy across the Midwest left one person dead and at least 95 others injured today. Many communities were in a shambles.

The outbreak of violent weather began after dark Thursday and did not lift until dawn today.

Crackling electrical storms, winds that hit 93 miles an hour, and occasional twisters brought terror and destruction to towns from the northeastern corner of Iowa to Indiana's Lake County.

Falling trees caught people in their cars and flying glass sent dozens of persons to the hospital. Homes were flooded and blown apart by the winds, streets were impassable with debris, and electric power and telephone service were cut in many areas.

The only reported death was that of Russel Born, an Iowa farmer who lived near La Porte City and was crushed when his home was smashed by the storm.

Iowa counted 16 injuries, Wisconsin 2, Illinois 73 and Indiana

Guerrillas destroyed Tan Nhat and Ba Ta outpost two miles away in a week-long drive that began on July 25 with a similar mortar barrage on Binh Chanh. Vietnamese casualties were said to have been heavy in that battle, but government forces finally managed to push the guerrillas back into the countryside.

Tan Nhat was rebuilt prior to today's attack.

The Viet Cong radio broadcast today was in the form of an order for guerrillas to "encircle" Saigon by sabotaging roads, halting truck traffic and attacking rural outposts. It was issued by Nguyen Huu Tho, chairman of the so-called "National Liberation Front," the political arm of the Viet Cong.

The order called for an increase in pressure against Saigon's lifelines. Reports issued by the U.S. military command say the Communists have more than tripled the level of harassing incidents in the capital military district since the beginning of July.

Under renewed presidential prodding, the United Steelworkers union (USW) planned to continue crisis contract talks today with a threatened nationwide strike less than five days away.

The first session was scheduled for 8 a.m. CST.

The union has warned the "big 10" firms it will call its 450,000 members employed in basic steel off the job at midnight Tuesday unless a settlement is achieved.

Both sides heard directly from President Johnson on the matter Thursday. In telephone calls from Washington he spoke with I. W. Abel, president of the USW and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry spokesman.

The President said he gave both men essentially the same message: "That I rely on them in these troubled times to negotiate a decent and responsible settlement."

Shortly thereafter, Abel, Cooper and their respective teams huddled for two hours with William E. Simkin, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. They held a meeting of similar duration at least 4. There were believed to be more.

Windstorms Leave One Dead, 95 Others Hurt

The battery of powerful storms started in northeastern Iowa, swept across northern Ill.

nois and southern Wisconsin, and churned eastward across the northern tier of Indiana counties. They followed virtually the same path taken by Palm Sunday tornadoes which left more than 250 persons dead.

The storms hammered Iowa cities with hail and strong winds, made a passing swipe at southern Wisconsin and pummeled some Indiana towns with high winds and rain.

But it was Illinois that suffered the most damage.

Hardest hit were Freeport and Rockford, in the northwest, and suburbs south and west of Chicago. Chicago itself was without power in many areas, bore the brunt of 70 m.p.h. winds and was the scene of a brilliant electrical storm that turned the night sky to silver.

The little town of Lockport, southwest of Chicago, was declared a disaster area by its City Council.

The town was completely without power hours after the storm hit. Streets were filled with trees that had been twisted from the ground by the wind. Roofs were ripped from many buildings.

Another Day Up Is Assured

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The Gemini 5 astronauts reported difficulty with two more steering rockets today aboard their tumbling spacecraft but they had a "go" for another full day and they got new instructions for an eight-day splashdown Sunday.

The space champs were felling cold and somewhat cramped but were "fairly comfortable."

"You think we might make it, huh?" Gordon Cooper said.

"Looks like it," came back Gemini control. "We're sure of it."

Just before Cooper and copilot Charles Conrad soared into their seventh day at 8 a.m. CST, astronaut James McDivitt on the ground gave them the go-ahead for another day into the 107th orbit Saturday.

The decision will be made at 5 a.m. CST Saturday whether to go for the full eight day despite troubles with the maneuvering rockets and excess water from the electric power fuel cell system.

"If things are no different than they are today, we're in good shape," said Deputy Flight Director John Hodge.

As far as the rockets and the water are concerned, it "doesn't look like either will prevent us from going eight days."

The astronauts were sent new times for firing retro-rockets to bring them back into the earth's atmosphere and a new splashdown time at a point approximately 180 miles southwest of the original Atlantic target area.

New splashdown time is 8:20 a.m. CST Sunday at the start of the 122nd orbit. This was about two minutes later than originally planned.

The No. 3 and No. 4 maneuvering rockets — which help control turns to the right — were "real weak" when powered up this morning, Conrad reported.

There was no immediate explanation.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Possibly because of ABC-TV's "Peyton Place," or possibly because there is now so much sex in films that viewers have become impassive about it, there will be a good many sexy ladies in television series this season.

It wasn't always like this — not in the fairly recent days when the networks feared putting on too many glamor girls because it was felt their attractiveness might offend lesser-endowed and harder-working housewives who spend the shopping money.

Nowadays, however, the afternoon soap operas provide more sex and suggestiveness for the average housewife than a year of old MGM movies. This comes in addition to the increasingly suggestive new movies. And even the television commercials are getting sexier.

Furthermore, the shortage of old movies for television means that newer ones will be shown soon in greater quantity — which means living rooms will be (and are now) getting the sort of stuff that was on view mainly at art film houses just a few years ago.

One of the female stars who apparently helped break down the old prejudice against glamorous women in regular video series was Inger Stevens, whose wholesome sexiness (in Hollywood they used to call "clean sex") the ideal attraction won popularity in ABC-TV's "The Farmer's Daughter."

This season, NBC-TV's "Dr. Kildare" will have a love interest, and so will the state congressman hero of CBS-TV's "Slattery's People." "Peyton Place" is going to keep up with its expansion from two to three nights a week, which means an extra half hour of steam heat. Eva Gabor will star with Eddie Albert in CBS-TV's "Green Acres."

Production May Dip Soon

DETROIT (UPI)—Auto production was expected to dip to its lowest point of the year this week due to model changeover and the strike of American Motors Corp. workers at Kenosha, a trade magazine said Wednesday.

Automotive Industries magazine said auto production was expected to reach 37,400 this week. At this time last year production was 91,283.

Almost all of General Motors assembly plants are down with the exception of Buick.

Ford Motor Co. is now producing 1966 models near its regular production capacity. Chrysler Corp. is slowly starting its 1966 model run.

The strike at Kenosha halted new car production for AMC and also forced the closing of one AMC plant at Milwaukee.

DIES SPEAKS

NACOGDOCHES (UPI)—State Sen. Martin Dies Jr. told 350 summer graduates of Stephen F. Austin State College he hoped they would stay in East Texas. "With your help and leadership, our future is unlimited," he said in a commencement address.

Democrats Have More to Lose In Churning Racial Strifes

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
 The Democrats have more to lose than Republicans in the churning racial strife in the big northern cities.

These urban masses are the citadels of Democratic political power. In upstate New York and in downstate Illinois the Republicans sometimes look pretty good election day. But an avalanche of big city Democratic votes often overcomes that Republican trend. And minority votes are an important factor in big cities.

Big city racial violence instantly puts the police and the Negroes in opposition. Through the police, the mayor and other city officials become involved. There usually come then bitter charges of police brutality and demands that the mayor protect minority groups.

Some Negro leaders now speak bitterly of Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley, the Democratic boss of Illinois. New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner is not seeking a fourth term. Wagner probably moved further faster than any other municipal official to appease Negroes. And Wagner got his lumps anyway. His troubles with the Negro problem gained worldwide publicity last year when Harlem exploded in deadly riot. New York Negroes complain loudly of alleged police brutality.

Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles also is a Democrat, but an irregular, loosely tied to the party. California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown is a high voltage Democrat, new horizon, great Society variety. Yorty came out of the Los Angeles riot crisis throwing punches at everyone — Negro leaders, Pat Brown and the dispensers of poverty aid money in Washington. Brown generally is being applauded for his riot crisis performances so far. Returns on Brown from the Negro leaders, however, are not all in.

There has been or there is continuing racial trouble in Boston and Springfield, Mass., and in smaller communities in the North and East. The potential for trouble is recognized to be great. Having much at stake in these areas, the Democrats might lose much. The Republicans have not much to lose.

A good example is Philadelphia which was a Republican stronghold over the years until mismanagement invited Democratic reformers to take over. Municipal authorities in Philadelphia are feuding with the city's Negroes. The dispute centers around Girard College, a private institution which refuses Negro students and is entitled by law to do so.

SASEBO, Japan (UPI)—The nuclear-powered submarine USS Permit sailed into Sasebo Tuesday to begin a five day rest and recreation visit to Japan.

An estimated 300 Socialists and Communists shouted "Permit go home" from a pier but there were no incidents as American sailors stepped ashore to go shopping and sightseeing in this port city.

58TH YEAR

Finding The Way

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
President Johnson remarked the other week that astronaut White had seemed reluctant to return to the capsule when he had tasted the giddy ecstasy of weightlessness. He suggested that this is somewhat the experience of our age.

Mankind seems to have entered into a kind of revolutionary period which negates all of the old pulls and orderliness. It is a kind of weightlessness in which it is difficult to maneuver and more perplexing to understand. Yet mankind has tasted and more perplexing to understand. Yet mankind has tasted the experience and the old capsule will seem safe and yet never permanently satisfactory.

This comment is an oversimplification but it contains enough truth to describe our uncertainties. Our new freedom is dangerous, yet it's a heady experience and we aren't going to settle for the continuance of the old. Because of this we are in anger of forgetting the rules and drifting off into a kind of orbiting freedom which leads to disaster. Our scientists have been bold because they have respected the existing rules of the game. The danger confronting so many is illustrated by a chap who jumps off a skyscraper. On the way down he smirks at the earthbound landlubbers who stare from the windows seemingly denied his freedom. But there comes a moment when that man comes to terms with the law of gravity.

Many a person leaps from the seemingly earthbound confinement of the Ten Commandments and looks snobbishly at his more pedestrian neighbors. Some of us believe there is a day of reckoning.

Limiting life to the capsule form could make us think only of the value of the form instead of the purpose of our mission. Doing this reduces religion to a kind of State Shinto. It turns patriotism into a nationalistic snobbery. It degrades family pride into a social caste system. It turns education into a cultural aloofness. It demeans economic advantage into a kind of personal superiority. It turns morality into a kind of consensus.

Symbols gave form and substance to other generations and are meaningful to our own. It's of importance that we constantly explore the nature of our existence, but, before we wreck we ought to understand what our hopes in some giddy leap, we're up to. That's as certain for our personal lives as it is for our international behavior. It is as obligatory for our house holds as it is for the familyhood of nations.

The old adage was "Look before you leap." For our own time it could be "Consider carefully before you throw away the capsule."

Youth Led Revival Slated at Hobart Street Baptist

There will be a youth-led revival at the Hobart Baptist Church Sept. 2 through Sat. 5. Two young men, both students at Wayland Baptist College, will lead the services. Both of these men have four years experience working in revivals.

Dean Mathis will do the preaching. He has been active in youth and church work since his High School days. In the summer and fall of 1963 he was Youth and Music Director at the Pierce Street Baptist Church in Amarillo. He has preached for revivals in several states. He has been a member of the International Choir at Wayland and active in other school affairs. At this present time he is president of Wayland's Council of Religious Organizations.

Cliff Hardin will lead the singing. He has been leading church choirs since he was 16 years old. He served as Music and Youth Director of the First Baptist Church, Monument, New Mexico, while still in High School. During his college years he has served as Music Director of the First Baptist Church at Halfway, Texas and at Morning-side Baptist Church, Levelland, Texas. He is a member of the International Choir and is Assistant Director of the Wayland Inspirational Hour Choir. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

MINISTER — Johnny Schmidt, son of Mrs. Joe Burton, Pampa, will be licensed to the ministry in the Church of the Brethren, Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Pampa church. Rev. Byron Dell of Thomas, Okla., and Rev. Lawrence Lehman of Waika, Texas will officiate. Schmidt graduated from Pampa High School last spring.

Rev. Ellis Marks 56 Years As Minister Sunday

Rev. Ford A. Ellis, minister of Lamar Christian Church, has chosen for his 10:45 a.m. worship service, "Would I Enter The Ministry Again?" Scripture Reading Matthew 16:13-28.

Sunday marks two important dates in the life of Rev. Ellis, first it is his birthday and on this date he will be in the ministry 56 years.

Following the morning sermon there will be a rededication service, to which he asks the congregation to participate. The Service will prepare the members to enter into Church Loyalty Month which is September.

Sunday School Assembly in 9:30 a.m. Children who have reached the age for promotion will be given Promotion Certificates at this time, followed by Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.

First Baptist Topic Given by Dr. Carver

"Divine Direction Determines Destiny" is the subject which Dr. Douglas Carver has announced as his sermon for the 11 a.m. Sunday.

Sam Allen, Minister of Music, will sing "I'll Walk With God." The prelude will be "Andante Religioso," and the postlude will be "Portlud," as Miss Eloise Lane presides at the console of the Tom & Ora Mae Rose Memorial Organ. The Church Choir will sing "We Will Walk in the Name of the Lord."

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Rev. T. O. UPSHAW
Central Baptist Church

WE ARE RESPONSIBLE

Over and over in the Bible we are informed, that as children of God we have some responsibilities that cannot be avoided.

"Getting by" is a phrase much over-worked. It suggests that one can evade responsibility with no ill effects. Students may get by with a number of poorly prepared lessons for class sessions. But term exams have a way of weeding them out.

I read a while ago of a poor farmer who had only an ox and a mule to work his fields. One day the ox lay down and refused to budge. The farmer unhitched him and let the mule carry on. That night the ox said to his teammate, "What did the master say about my not working today?"

"Nothing that I heard" replied the mule. So the ox did the same thing the next day, and the next and the next. Once again he asked what the master had said. "Nothing that I know of," replied the mule, "but he is right now leaning over the back fence talking to the butcher."

One cannot "get by", because he is meant for responsibility. The eternal law of God still holds true "That what ever one sows, he will also reap."

Man is responsible for his own soul salvation.

Man is responsible for the life he lives.

Man must stand before God one day and give account of every deed done in the body — whether it be good or bad.

May you seek and find God's will for your life.

Crow to Appear Against Former Mates Tonight

By United Press International
John David Crow, one of the National Football League's best running backs of the last decade, makes his debut as a rival player in St. Louis Friday night when he appears in the uniform of the San Francisco Forty-Niners in the first of 10 week-end pro grid exhibition games.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 215-pound Crow, who gained 544 yards in 163 carries last season, was obtained by the Forty-Niners from the Cardinals in exchange for defensive star Abe Woodson.

The Forty-Niners scored their first victory of the exhibition season last weekend when they beat Dallas 27-7 while the Cardinals have dropped two games including a 13-7 decision to the Washington Redskins in their last outing.

A total of nine exhibition games will be played Saturday afternoon and night with five in the NFL and four in the American League.

In the NFL, it will be Chicago vs. Los Angeles (1-1) at Nashville, Tenn., and New York vs. Philadelphia at Princeton, N.J., in afternoon games. At night, it will be Baltimore vs. Pittsburgh at Atlanta, Ga., Green Bay vs. Dallas at Dallas, Tex., and Minnesota vs. Washington at Charlotte, N.C.

The Saturday night AFL card has Denver vs. Houston at San Antonio, Tex., Buffalo vs. Kansas City at Wichita, Kan., New York vs. Boston at Norfolk, Va., and San Diego vs. Oakland at Portland, Ore.

NFL Camp Notes: The Redskins cut their roster to 53 by releasing veteran halfback Ken Webb and rookies Dick Badar, Fred Mazurek, Jack Dean, Bill Hunter, Bill Bodie and Bruce Day. Nine-year veteran Jerry Reichow, a quarterback who became a star pass receiver, accepted a scouting job with the Vikings. The Colts asked waivers on injured tackle Lou Kirovac.

Leaders All Mixed up in NL

By United Press International
Pennant — Pennant — Who wants the National League pennant?

That's the giant-sized question today in an incredible race that now involves six teams who are supposed to be flag contenders but for the last week have played at a collective 414 pace. The top four teams are only 10 percentage points apart and the top six are only 4½ games apart.

In a fantastic reversal of form since Aug. 21, the first six teams in the league have a combined 12-17 record and the first eight a 17-23 mark while the ninth-place Houston Astros and the 10th-place New York Mets have combined for an 8-2 slate.

Making the reversal almost unintelligible except for an Einstein is the fact that during this very period the Cincinnati Reds have won three of five games and the Pittsburgh Pirates have won five in a row!

Well, so who wants that pennant?

Do the Reds want it? Maybe. They've beaten the Milwaukee Braves three in a row and are within a half-game of the lead. But the Reds are remembered as the team that went into the final weekend of the 1964 season with the flag in hand and then blew it.

Do the Pirates want it? Could be. They've won six straight and eight of their last nine to climb to within 4½ games of the top. But, going back a little farther, they lost six of their eight previous games.

The more you look at the "contenders" the more you conclude it's safer to bet on a wrestling match than any one of the NL's "big six."

Take Thursday night when the following history was written in the NL book: —The outlandish Mets beat the lordly Los Angeles Dodgers for the third straight time 5-2 with rookie Tug McGraw out-pitching NL strikeout king and 21-game winner Sandy Koufax.

—The Pirates scored an 8-0 victory over San Francisco in a game the Giants had "won" Wednesday night and then completed a sweep of the doubleheader with a 6-5 decision on four unearned runs.

—The Reds prevented the Braves from taking over first place for the third consecutive night by beating them 3-1.

—The Astros scored two unearned runs in the eighth inning to beat the Phillies 6-4 and sweep their three-game series.

And, oh yes, don't forget the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat the Chicago Cubs 7-4 Thursday night. They're 10 games out of first place. Forget 'em? A year ago today they were nine games out of first place and they won the flag!

Oklahoma's 'Jones Boys' Open Drills Monday

NORMAN, Okla. — Rocked by continuing pre-season casualties, Oklahoma's young football squad starts fall workouts Monday.

"Our biggest problems are to build both offensive and defensive lines," Coach Gomer Jones pinpoints it.

The squatty Sooner boss, starting his second year as head coach and his 19th overall at Norman, says the brightest spot is the offensive backfield despite the loss of QB Bobby Page. RH Lance Rentzel and FB Jim Grisham from last year.

"We hope to gain enough experience through our first three games (Pittsburgh, Navy, Texas) to play decently thereafter against our Big Eight conference schedule," he declared.

Twice-daily drills will start at 8:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at Owen Field. The 68-man Sooner squad will gather Saturday night at Jefferson dining room for dinner. At 8:30 a.m. Sunday morning physical exams will start. After church services, the squad will report at 2:11 p.m. for an annual photo session.

Loss of 20 senior lettermen was expected. However, recent drop-off of three experienced juniors expected to serve as anchors for the sophomore scaffolding has been most discouraging.

Carl Schriener, all-Big Eight guard who huffed the greenest and least-talented unit of all, the offensive line, signed a professional baseball contract. Safety Larry Shields quit school in the midst of final examinations. Tackle Jerry Goldsby is through after a valiant effort this summer to work his operated knee into shape.

Most maddening of all have been the tackle casualties. Not only are the five top lettered tackles — Ralph Neely, Bill Hill, Glen Condren, Butch Metcalf and Goldsby — lost, but Goldsby's sophomore replacement, Phil Wetherbee of Amarillo, Tex., who improved greatly in spring practice, is decked with mononucleosis.

"While it doesn't appear a severe case, Wetherbee has been bedfast ten days," reports Dr. Don Robinson, Sooner team physician who has been in touch with Wetherbee's doctor at Amarillo. "They are going to repeat tests on him next Monday and Tuesday and let us know. The boy definitely will not be here for the start of practice and even when he gets out of bed will be slow recovering his strength."

Two other Sooner knee injuries appear completely mended. Guard Jim Riley of Enid, voted Big Eight Sophomore Lineman of the Year by the Associated Press last season, says his knee "feels good." Joe Poslick, Enid sophomore fullback now switched to guard, emerged from his operation with a sounder joint than ever.

Helping Jones honcho the Sooners this fall are assistant coaches Jay O'Neal, Drake Keith, Jerry Thompson, Bob Cornell, Dick Heatly, Carl Allison, Joe Rector and Brewster Hobby. Also on the job is trainer Ken Rawlinson, starting his 13th season here.

Jones likes to forget his problems and talk about the rebuilt Sooner backfield of last spring. It's an all-Oklahoma quartet. Left half Larry Brown of Jenks has been switched to fullback. Ben Hart, crack split end from Oklahoma City, works at right half and sophomore Ron Slotts. Weatherford speedster, at left half. Mike Ringer, Pauls Valley senior, wears the quarterback toga.

It's big and has fairish speed. Ringer won two class A state prep hurdles titles in 1961. Shots is the state class B 220-yard dash champion of 1963 and 1964. But with center Bill Carlyle and end Gordon Brown the only returning offensive line platooners, a new blocking unit must be built to work ahead of it.

Oklahoma's drop-off in experience is so acute that the Sooners may depart from the national norm and not become a two-platoon club.

"It's possible some of our boys may play both ways," Jones acknowledges. "Depends upon how well our sophomores come along. We'd be very fortunate to find 22 solid hands for starting duty. And if we lost another regular, we'd be in deeper trouble."

Other interior linemen lost besides the five top tackles are guards Newt Burton (all-Big Eight), Schriener (all-Big Eight) and Ed McQuarters. Rick McCurdy and Allen Bumgardner, starting defensive ends, and sub Ron Harmon, who lettered three years behind them are gone. So are centers John Garrett and David Volles, the latter a starting linebacker.

Palmer Trails By Two Shots

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—A pair of dramatic 18th-hole shots by Johnny Pott and Jim Ferrier left the veteran duo tied for the lead at 68 today at the start of the second round of the $100,000 American Golf Classic at Firestone Country Club.

Pott, who hasn't won a tournament since capturing the classic in 1963, started the game of "can you top this" when he holed a sensational 90-foot putt on the 18th hole Thursday. Ferrier, a 25-year tour veteran and winless over the last 13 years, accepted the challenge by sinking a 30-footer on the same hole to tie Pott.

Only Pott, Ferrier and Bobby Nichols, who fired a 69, were able to beat the challenging Firestone's par 70 Thursday, and only seven players, including Arnold Palmer, Mason Rudolph and British Open champion Peter Thomson, equaled par on the first round.

Another 10 players, including Tony Lema, were at 71, and nine made 72.

But even Jack Nicklaus, Ohio's golden bear whose game soared to 10-over-par 80 Thursday on a series of bad breaks, joined the other players in praising Firestone as one of the top courses on the tour.

"The Monster," as the 7,165-yard course has been nicknamed by the pros, was tamed slightly this year by Dutch elm disease, which forced the removal of about 500 spreading elms that lined the fairways. Even so, par golf remains elusive and Nicklaus was far from alone up there in the 80's.

Following his fantastic 90-foot putt on the 18th hole, Pott said, "these greens are just marvelous," adding that he knew his shot — which gave him a birdie three on the hole — was going to hit the cup as soon as he hit it.

Royal, Parseghian Added To List of Top 20 Coaches

NEW YORK (UPI) — Darrell Royal of Texas and Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame are the newest additions to the list of the top 20 college football coaches, headed for the second year by Johnny Vaught of Mississippi.

Royal and Parseghian replaced Dr. Eddie Anderson of Holy Cross, who retired after 39 seasons with a record of 201 victories, 128 defeats and 15 ties, and Phil Dickens of Indiana who left the field because of illness after compiling an 89-69-10 mark.

Vaught, who has an 18-season record of 142-37-10, owns the highest winning percentage of any college coach with 80 or more career victories, 778. He replaced Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma who retired after the 1963 season with an .826 percentage.

Parseghian, who guided Notre Dame to a 9-1 record last season in his first year at the South Bend, Ind., university has a 14-year mark of 84-42-2, placing him 12th on the list, compiled annually by Elmore Huggins, director of the public information department of the Southeastern Conference.

Royal crashes in as Vaught's closest challenger with his 11-year record of 86-28-3 for a .748 percentage. (percentages are derived by counting ties as a half game won and a half game lost.)

Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama advanced to third place with his 1964 national championship team, boosting his record of 20 seasons to 141-40-13.

Woody Hayes of Ohio State is fourth (123-42-7) followed by Thad (Pie) Vann at Southern Mississippi with a 116-43-2 worksheet. Bob Blackman at Dartmouth (106-39-8) and Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech (149-59-7) ranked sixth and seventh, respectively.

Ralph (Shug) Jordan of Auburn, with 98-42-4, edged Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse, who is 126-55-2, for eighth place and Bill Murray of Duke completed the top 10 at 138-64-12.

Scouting The Pros

NEW YORK, N.Y. (NEA) — RECEIVERS—The only sure thing about the Giants, New alignment finds both Del Shofner (healthy again) and Aaron Thomas split from line and Joe Morrison in the slot, way old Rams used to do it. Thomas gaining in fitness. Homer Jones is a reserve speedboy. Looks like ex-Ram, ex Bear John Adam will beat out Bobby Crespino for spare role behind Thomas. RATING—good.

QUARTERBACK — Coach Alie Sherman confounding everybody by entrusting his offense to little Gary Wood and a bunch of rookies. Gary's feeling pressure of being No. 1 with Title retired. John Torok shows promise. Bob Timberlake figures some place if he gets over a sore wing. RATING—fair-to-good.

RUNNING BACKS — The era of the Baby Bulls dawns in New York. Don't apply unless you weigh 220. Holdovers Ernie Wheelwright, Steve Thurlow facing stiff fight from Ernie Koy (big hit of early camp) and can't-miss Tucker Frederickson, Chuck Mercein can do more than kick field goals, too. Fastest of all and shyest, is Smith Reed, who has to get used to gib time. RATING—fair-to-good.

DEFENSIVE LINE — Set in three spots, with Jim Katsavage, Andy Stynchula at ends, John Lovetere at tackle. Stynchula feels more at home as Robustelli's successor. The problem is to find another tackle. So far Jim Moran (father of five) is staying ahead of Tony John Conzuli. Kot is the solid man up front at left end. RATING—fair-to-good.

SUMMARY—After worst season in history, Giants are in process of complete overhaul. Could have a much better chance of immediate results if they were more stable at quarter back. Best thing Allie Sherman has going for him is his 10-year contract. Allows him to gamble on the kids. You'll be seeing lots of them, particularly in both backfields. PREDICTION—fifth place.

Pirates Begin With New Coach

By RON CROSS

LEPORS (Spl.) — The Pirates have a new shipmaster.

Jack York, former coach at Groom has taken over the helm at Lefors and his position is not envious.

The Pirates do return nine starters from a club that finished 1-9 a year ago. Also back are a total of 12 lettermen, most of whom are lightweights.

In the 5-B conference playing against such teams as Wheeler, Follett and Groom, that isn't good.

But York left a team that is expected to battle it out with Wheeler and Follett for the 5-B title, so he might have a sleep-

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Yankees Prove To Be Good Medicine for Twins

By United Press International

The New York Yankees, bad medicine for Minnesota in recent years, have been a cure-all for the Twins this season and a remedy for Bob Allison.

The Twins, who dropped 10 games to the Bombers in 1964 and finished a dismal seventh in the American League, ended their season series against New York on a jubilant note Thursday by rocking the Yankees 9-2 for their 13th victory versus only five defeats against the once-mighty Bombers.

The 13-5 record represents a .722 percentage compared to the Twins' league-leading .638 mark and clearly indicates how important the Yankees have been in Minnesota's drive to the pennant.

With Harmon Killebrew out of the lineup with an injured elbow, the Twins have had to rely a little more on the power of Allison, who has been rather sick at the plate during the month of August.

But the pitching of New York was all the 31-year-old righty needed to get well in a hurry Thursday. Allison hit his 20th home run besides rapping out two doubles, scoring three runs and driving in a pair that spearheaded a 14-hit Minnesota attack against five Yankee hurlers.

The Baltimore Orioles whipped Chicago 8-1 and dropped the runner-up White Sox 8 1/2 games behind the Twins; the Kansas City Athletics stopped the Detroit Tigers 5-3 and the Boston Red Sox nipped the Washington Senators 4-2 in the only other AL games scheduled.

Jim Kaat registered his 13th victory in 23 decisions for the

NEW YORK (UPI) — All that Maury Wills needed was a good push and he would've stolen 140 bases this season.

That's rather fantastic total and sounds like a figure someone who doesn't know what it was all about might dream up, but light-footed Lou Brock of the Cardinals can speak with authority and believes Wills could have achieved it.

"I've watched him closely. I've talked with him and I'm sure he could've stolen 140 this year if only someone had pushed him," says the speedy St. Louis outfielder. "I tried to for a while early in the year but there was no chance. I can't run as well as he does. I don't know the pitchers as well and I don't accelerate as fast as he does."

"In my opinion, he'll break his own record of 104 with ease this year," adds Brock. "Me? I'd like to steal 60, but I'll take anything I get over it."

Wills, with 80 stolen bases so far, is zeroing in on the all-time single record he set with the Dodgers in 1962.

Brock Breaks Record
Brock broke the Cardinals' club record by stealing his 49th base of the season last week.

Twins and aided the Minnesota attack with two hits, as did Zoilo Versalles and Jerry Kindall. Jimmy Hall collected three safeties for Minnesota while Tommy Tresh had three hits for New York and Clete Boyer blasted his 15th homer.

Brooks Robinson accounted for four Baltimore runs with a pair of round-trippers and John Miller allowed only five hits before leaving the game in favor of Stu Miller in the eighth. Boog Powell and Dick Brown hit home runs for the Orioles and Luis Aparicio went 3-for-4 and scored three runs. John Miller picked up his fifth victory against three setbacks and Tommy John took his sixth loss in 17 decisions.

Bob Tillman's bases-loaded single accounted for three runs. Dave Morehead gave up three hits and Carl Yastrzemski poked his 17th homer of the campaign for the Red Sox. Washington starter and loser Phil Ortega loaded the bases on three walks to set the stage for Tillman's blow. Morehead, who whiffed 10 men, notched his seventh victory and Ortega (12-13) was charged with the defeat.

Tom Reynolds clouted his first home run of the season, a solo shot which broke a 3-3 tie in the sixth, and Wayne Causey hit his second round-triper

U.S. Cagers Face France

BUDAPEST (UPI)—The United States basketball team, bolstered by an overwhelming 81-38 rout of Russia, faced France today en route to a certain gold medal in the World University Games.

All America Bill Bradley of Princeton thrilled a resounding pro-American standing-room crowd of 8,000 with his court wizardry Thursday night as the U.S. registered its sixth straight victory against the team that was expected to cause it the most trouble.

Bradley finished with a game high of 16 points, followed by Ollie Johnson of the University of San Francisco, who had 14.

The Yanks raced to a 34-17 halftime lead and coasted home in the second half to the appreciative roars of approval of the partisan crowd. Many spectators rushed to the court at the final whistle to get autographs from the U.S. players.

The situation wasn't as joyful for the U.S. in other activities on Thursday's program as George Anderson of Baton Rouge, La., was upset in the 100-meter dash and tennis player Allen Fox of Los Angeles was so infuriated by heckling fans that he stormed off the court after losing his match.

The U.S. also fell back into a tie with Hungary in gold medals at 11 each as the Yanks failed to win any. Hungary picked up one in the men's epee fencing by beating Russia 8-7 in the final.

Russia leads in total medals with 31 to 23 for the U.S. However, the Russians, who have a far larger delegation here than America, have only two gold medals. They have accumulated 20 silver and nine bronze.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

How AID Harms Recipients

There are more than a few in the United States who are concerned that the foreign aid program is contributing to disaster in the United States. But, it would appear, the program also is harmful to the recipients of Uncle Sam's largesse. The Citizens Foreign Aid Committee reports the following:

"It is increasingly apparent that while foreign aid runs the U.S. helplessly into debt, it is doing the same for developing countries.

"Tiny Uruguay, population 3 million, Alliance for Progress showcase, welfare state, dictator - proof, long considered the banker for Latin America, is in deep financial trouble. In 1963 the Uruguay government admitted that it was facing bankruptcy. So far this year its peso has fallen from 5 to 2 cents. Since April a series of bank failures has caused the central bank to default foreign obligations. As a consequence Wall Street bank lenders today stand to lose $40 million; U.S. official lending agencies have authorized foreign aid loans totaling $100 million. In addition to these unpayable loans, Uruguay has received $110 million in foreign aid, only $25 million of which could possibly have been included in the above-listed loans. Last week Uruguayan officials in Washington were seeking new loans. Doubtless AID will accommodate.

We Are Not Alone

It now appears that the youth problem is international. What sociologists label the "youth culture phenomenon" has been singled out as a major factor in what is virtually a worldwide crime boom. It's a sufficiently serious situation to preoccupy an international crime-prevention congress sponsored by the United Nations at Stockholm.

Experts from 75 countries were reported in general agreement that "crime develops out of youth" with a big boost from the modern world. Also, while economic factors alone do not explain crimes, social change and paradoxically greater individual freedom through better living standards apparently are directly contributory to increased criminal activity.

It thus appears that modern societies, as they strive for ends generally regarded as good and desirable, are at the same time encouraging development of some of their major social ailments to a degree not generally realized.

Unions Not Altruistic

"One of the myths organized labor attempts to foist on the public is that it is concerned with the welfare of all working people, union or non-union," comments the State Labor News of Columbus, Ohio.

"As evidence" the unions pointed to their support of an increase in the federal minimum wage standard. Few of these people (the low paid) are union people labor leaders proclaim loudly, but we want everybody to have a living wage.

"Well, maybe they do but don't get the idea that organized labor's support of higher minimum wages is entirely altruistic.

"Here is the picture: For years, organized labor has succeeded in maintaining a ratio of about 4 to 1 in the rate of wages paid to skilled and unskilled workers.

"When Congress adopted the $1.25 an hour minimum a few years ago, the unions immediately started approaching the $5 an hour mark for skilled workers and this ratio has now been achieved in most cases.

"So now the unions are asking for a new minimum. Something like $2.00 or at least $1.50.

"If Congress goes along with the idea of $1.50 an hour minimum it will enable the unions to start pressing for a scale of $6 an hour for the skilled craftsmen and semi-skilled workers to $3.50 to $4.00 an hour wage scale."

Old Worlds to Conquer

No more worlds to conquer? Maybe not, but the old one has been serving nicely for a few adventuresome souls in recent days.

First there was the lady who used her life savings to buy a boat and sail it across the Pacific from California to Hawaii - alone.

Then the young Englishman, who made a leisurely odyssey from his homeland to the United States via the Azores and Bermuda in a 12-foot cockleshell - alone.

ruined Turkey's credit. Turkey has received $4.3 billion in U.S. foreign aid, the publication Middle East and African Economist reports.

"The aid to Turkey consortium, formed in 1962 under OECD auspices, has been very cautious in its financial commitments. . . The World Bank will not lend on its normal terms. Few government agencies will guarantee suppliers credit for Turkey. The U.S. Ex-Im Bank will not.

"Mr. Irving S. Friedman, World Bank economic adviser, on July 21, 1965 stated:

"... for a group of 37 developing countries the external public and publicly guaranteed debt increased at an annual rate of 15 per cent during 1955-62; from $7 billion to $18.2 billion; while over the two years 1963 and 1964, the annual increase was 17 per cent. . . and for all the developing countries debt service on the external public debt alone is estimated to have amounted to $3.5 billion in 1964. "Despite the billions of AID money poured into these developing countries (Uruguay and Turkey serving as only two examples) their public debt continues to mount. It is an expense which will be borne principally by the mounting debt of the U.S. On June 30, 1965 unliquidated AID funds from prior years totaled $10.6 billion. Fiscal '66 AID appropriations therefore should be limited to support of our war effort."

ments to a degree not generally realized.

There are indications that "civilized" crime goes hand-in-hand with aid to developing nations. The Stockholm deliberations brought to light reports of emerging gang and group criminality among youths in urban areas of Africa, Asia and Latin America - a new and unpleasant experience for many nations just emerging from primitive pasts into the modern world.

One Stockholm delegate put it bluntly: "The price we will have to pay for freedom and democracy is crime and delinquency."

We hope the relationship is neither that basic nor inevitable. But evidence that mass achievement of the good things of life does not automatically make for an untouchable society, particularly in its youthful segment, are all around us. We are not alone with the problem, if that provides and comfort.

Pull Up A Chair

Brides have it easy these days with the new quick cookery products that make preparing a meal very easy, even for those who can't cook. That thought struck me while shopping in a super-market where we saw pop-up pastries that can be heated in a toaster, ready - to - spread cake frostings, a whole line of freeze-dried food products in plastic pouches that you simply drop into boiling water for a quick meal, and even frozen sliced tomatoes. That joke about a bride's biscuits being like lead is also outmoded because any new wife can buy prepared biscuits, too. Such convenience foods can fool a newlywed into thinking his bride took cooking lessons from his mother.

Today's smile: Our favorite teen-ager told us about the kangaroo who visited a psychiatrist and complained: "I'm worried, Doctor, I don't feel jumpy lately."

That Biblical quotation from Isaiah about "a little child shall lead them" is about to have a practical application at a New York shopping center. The management has posted pictures of animals and comic strip characters on poles on its big parking lot so children can help lead lost parents back to their cars. They say it's easier for youngsters to get their bearings than it is for the old folks, who are probably still reeling mentally from their weekly bouts with the high cost of living.

And a two-ounce piece of platinum could thus be drawn out to encircle the world. . . Ever hear of a white blackberry? Well, plant wizard Luther Burbank finally grew them after experimenting with upwards of 50,000 hybrid bushes for many years, which shows you that Luther had patience besides other qualities of genius. . . Fight Looms over Renewal Of Atomic Agreement with Indonesia

WASHINGTON—Congressional leaders are being sounded out on a new U.S. atomic agreement with Indonesia.

That is strongly favored by the State Department. With President Johnson's approval, the Department has secretly worked out a new atomic contract with Communist-trucking President Sukarno and is maneuvering behind-the-scenes to win congressional assent.

Under the law, an atomic agreement must be submitted to Congress, which then has 30 days to consider it. If not expressly disapproved by the Senate and House, it automatically goes into effect.

The new contract would: —Allow Indonesia to retain the research reactor given by the U.S. in 1961 under an agreement that expires Sept. 20.

—Provide additional atomic fuel for this reactor.

—Shift supervision on the reactor, its operation and use from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission to the International Atomic Commission — of which Russia and other Communist countries are active members.

Nationals from these nations hold key positions on the IAC.

In defending this backstage deal, State Department officials make two points:

(1) If the U.S. refuses to renew the 1961 contract, Sukarno will seek atomic assistance from the Communists, particularly Red China.

(2) Continuation of "peaceful atomic aid" will enable the U.S. to maintain a "toehold in Indonesia" despite Sukarno's increasing close ties with the Moscow-Peking bloc.

TROUBLE AHEAD — While President Johnson favors the new contract, he has strong (and well-founded) misgivings about submitting it to Congress.

Already the treaty with Russia to establish consulates in the two countries is in such serious difficulty that it's very questionable whether Senate ratification will be sought this session. Opponents believe they have the votes to block it.

WASHINGTON—Congressional leaders are being sounded out on a new U.S. atomic agreement with Indonesia.

That is strongly favored by the State Department. With President Johnson's approval, the Department has secretly worked out a new atomic contract with Communist-trucking President Sukarno and is maneuvering behind-the-scenes to win congressional assent.

In defending this backstage deal, State Department officials make two points:

(1) If the U.S. refuses to renew the 1961 contract, Sukarno will seek atomic assistance from the Communists, particularly Red China.

(2) Continuation of "peaceful atomic aid" will enable the U.S. to maintain a "toehold in Indonesia" despite Sukarno's increasing close ties with the Moscow-Peking bloc.

TROUBLE AHEAD — While President Johnson favors the new contract, he has strong (and well-founded) misgivings about submitting it to Congress.

Already the treaty with Russia to establish consulates in the two countries is in such serious difficulty that it's very questionable whether Senate ratification will be sought this session. Opponents believe they have the votes to block it.

And Sukarno is even more disliked on Capitol Hill than President Nasser. The Senate overwhelmingly voted an amendment in the $3.36 billion foreign aid authorization bill barring further economic aid to both war-threatening dictators. But under White House pressure, this provision, by Senator Fred Harris, D-Okla., was eliminated in conference.

A bitter fight is certain if the new atomic contract with Indonesia is sent to Congress.

Representative Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the Joint Atomic Committee, has served notice his key group "will want to take a long and careful look at such a proposal. We will want to know a lot more about it than we do so far."

Representatives Clement Zablocki, D Wis., and H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, members of the Foreign Affairs Committee, are flatly opposed.

PAUL SCOTT

Zablocki brushes aside the State Department's contentions as "typical bureaucratic rationalizing and incoherence."

Gross is not only against a new contract, but is demanding the nuclear reactor be repossessed.

"No atomic fuel for any purpose should be given Sukarno," Gross told Assistant Secretary William Bundy. "He may not be able to use such fuel to develop an atomic bomb. But he certainly can use it to train atomic scientists and technicians for that. We should demand the immediate return of the reactor. It should never have been given him in the first place. That was a grave mistake, and it would be the height of foolhardiness to compound it by giving him more fuel for it."

In Sukarno's three-hour long independence day harangue last week, he truculently boasted "we are prepared to defend ourselves with atomic weapons."

He also went out of his way to exhortate U.S. policy in Viet Nam, as follows:

"If we allow U.S. aggression against Viet Nam to continue, it will become a great danger to the international way of life. Unless this aggression in Viet Nam is stopped, it is possible that tomorrow it will happen in another country. It has already taken place in the Dominican Republic. We must resist U.S. aggression and give active aid to our brothers in Viet Nam."

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Where Incentive Prevails Needs Will Be Fulfilled

By SAM CAMPBELL Business Editor

Few like to dwell on their own problems in hot weather. So, I call your attention to the plight of two Pacific isles — the Island of Weh and the Island of Hew.

Weh has adequate roads, but lacks comfort facilities along them. Hew, technologically more advanced, has adequate roadside facilities, but needs more roads.

Both islands are considering a tax levy to supply their respective needs, but a small group of persons on each contends that the oil companies in their pursuit of greater profits will build either the required rest facilities or the roads.

Symbolize U.S.

The story is a parable. Both the islands represent the United States at different stages of development. Did you ever stop to think what a wonderful job the oil companies have done in providing comfort stations from one end of the country to the other? What a boon to the traveler! And what an attraction a clean restroom is to customers. Yet this giant system of comfort and sanitation never required any central planning and never cost the taxpayer a thin dime.

Question Box

QUESTION: "Should a United States citizen try to do business with communist countries?"

ANSWER: It would seem that the answer would depend on what kind of business and on what terms the business was to be done. Trade promotes good will and understanding between individuals and that is what the world needs.

The individual should not do business with communist countries and expect the United States government to guarantee that they would get their money. They should do it at their own risk. In fact, they should get their money before they deliver their goods, or put it in escrow with some neutral nation that would see that the money was paid over in dollars or gold before the goods were delivered.

It seems to us that even selling them wheat at the market price is fine, but they certainly shouldn't sell the wheat to foreigners at 75 cents a bushel less than millers in the United States can buy it and then have the government make up the difference as it does by paying the farmers a fictitious price for wheat.

If the government hadn't interfered with the free market, as to the amount of wheat a farm should produce, we would not have this surplus. The price would be the guide. When the government steps in and sets prices we have a surplus. It is just that simple.

Just as when wages are set above what a man can produce there is a scarcity of jobs for those who are incompetent of earning the minimum wage.

When labor unions set wages so high that the costs go up, so that we are unable to compete with the rest of the world, we are building a fence around the territory, and any nation cannot long be prosperous when it tries to interfere with the natural laws of trade.

We believe that it would promote prosperity in this country and prosperity in the other countries if we had a real free market. There isn't a sale until the money is received and the cord of the communist countries is that they repudiate their debts. And we do not have a clear record on that because we repudiated our debts and obligations when we went off the gold standard and changed the value of a dollar. We had better pull the beams out of our own eyes before we try to reform the rest of the world. It is so much easier to try to educate others than to do a little hard thinking and try to develop our own consistency and rationality.

Doctor — The tobacco habit my dear sir—

Patient — Isn't any joke. It's hard for a man at my time of life to take up smoking.

Furthermore, seldom if ever is anybody denied use of such facilities simply because he does not have money to buy gasoline with.

So that is the solution to the restroom problem as it was outlined in the parable about the Island of Weh ("We" spelled with an "h").

Road Financing

Now then we may consider the road problem. Highways in the United States are financed largely from what is called a gasoline tax, which really is not a tax in the proper sense of that word, but a payment for a service, so the so-called "gasoline tax" is about the fairest form of raising governmental revenue because no one has to pay for it who doesn't use it.

Nevertheless, the gasoline-tax system of financing highways is defective in that the money is routed through the bureaucracy and part of it gets lost there before the construction contracts are let. A simpler method of handling highway financing would be to leave the oil companies alone; they would surely build the roads in order to have customer to sell to.

I once asked a pioneer land developer if building leases such as hamburger stands and whatnot would be sufficient to finance interstate highways. He replied that gasoline station leases alone would be sufficient for that purpose. And his answer is self-evident, for most road today are paid for out of the price that the consumer pays for gasoline.

The point of the two parables is this, that whenever and wherever a genuine material need arises in a free society, the profit incentive will induce some person to strive to fill that need. Neither state intervention nor taxation is required.

We easily see this apparent fact in the case of restrooms, but many of us are completely blind to it in the case of roads. One service we leave to private enterprise, but the other we insist could not be accomplished without the politicians. Why can we see the one truth and yet not perceive the other? Andrew Galambos, director of the Free Enterprise Institute in Los Angeles once observed that "a traffic jam is a collision between capitalism and socialism for industry is producing cars faster than the state can produce roads." Can you imagine a traffic jam if roads were privately operated for profit purposes?

THINKING FREEDOM THROUGH

It is not enough just to be for freedom. We must know why we are for it.

Freedom may, and should inspire and awe us. But if we do not use our heads we will remain free.

Freedom is not good just because we are accustomed to it or because we happen to like it. It is not good just because our Founding Fathers, great as they were, loved it and won it for us, at such enormous price. To take freedom on authority or by custom is a contradiction in terms and we will not keep it long on those terms.

Freedom is good because it is the only way a man can live the kind of life proper to men. A beast of burden can do the work of a slave. A lion or a tiger or a shark can plunder and destroy. The leader of a band of baboons can rule by force.

But man has a reasoning mind and a constructive will. He can use that mind and that will to build a better life for himself and for everyone around him. So long as there is freedom, these men who do use their mind and will in this way will succeed.

But when freedom is destroyed, they are crushed; and men are reduced to hopeless, endless labor with little or no reward.

Freedom gives every person a chance, and the most competent and persevering the best opportunity to succeed. Centralized power gives nobody a chance except those who are a part of the machinery of ruling, and they soon are themselves in danger.

Freedom and force must differ and are enemies; they cannot coexist.

U.S. Might Consider Cessation of Attacks

LONDON (UPI)—The United States might consider a prolonged cessation of air attacks against North Viet Nam if the Communist regime cut back military activity in South Viet Nam, it was reported today.

An official British government white paper said the American position was communicated to Britain by the U.S. State Department earlier this month in a lengthy policy outline.

Last May, U.S. planes stopped bombing North Viet Nam for a five-day period. The State Department said the cessation of air action failed to produce any reaction from the Hanoi regime.

Today's British white paper, summarizing Viet Nam peace efforts, said:

"The United States does not rule out the possibility of another and perhaps more prolonged suspension in the bombing of North Viet Nam if Hanoi gives some clear indication that there would take place appropriate and commensurate actions in relation to the infiltration and military action in South Viet Nam and the presence of North Vietnamese personnel."

The communication from the State Department was dated Aug. 8.

"The U.S. government initiation of a pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam in mid-May and the communication of its intentions to Hanoi (at that time) were undertaken in order to explore the path of possible peace talks," the Washington document said.

"At that time, North Viet Nam made it completely clear that it would not respond."

Other points made by the State Department:

"In the absence of any indication that North Viet Nam is prepared for a solution by some path, the U.S. government remains fully committed to use whatever resources and military force are necessary to protect the people of South Viet Nam against outside directed Communist aggression."

"The United States would not object to Viet Cong representatives participating in any peace talks 'as part of the delegation' of North Viet Nam."

"The basic American peace designs represent 'in principle a return to the basic concept of the Geneva accords of 1954' which—partitioned North and South Viet Nam after the Indochina war."

"Whether their realization would involve the re-affirmation of these accords or new agreements which would embody these essential points, perhaps providing for more effective international machinery and guarantees, could be worked out in discussions and negotiations," the document said.

Immigration Bill Heads For Senate

By United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration's immigration bill, which got impressive approval in the House Wednesday, headed for a Senate subcommittee today where it might not fare so well.

The measure, approved 318 to 95 by the House Wednesday night, strikes down the national origins quotas system, the first major changes in U.S. immigration policy in 40 years.

Other congressional news:

Military: The $46.8 billion military appropriations bill was unanimously approved in the Senate Wednesday, carrying funds to support a military strength of 2.6 million men.

Library: The government operations subcommittee voted to waive the law to permit an immediate go-ahead with plans for the Lyndon Baines Johnson Library at the University of Texas.

Foreign Aid: The Foreign aid program cleared another barrier when a House appropriations subcommittee voted to cut only $75 million from the $3.36 billion authorized. It was the smallest reduction by the subcommittee in the 18-year history of the program.

Reapportionment: A Senate judiciary subcommittee approved the latest version of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's controversial reapportionment amendment for state legislatures. The vote sent the proposal to the full Senate Judiciary Committee. Dirksen's aim is to permit states to apportion one of its houses on factors other than population.

Arrest Of Tourist Made

BERLIN (UPI)—Communist police arrested an American tourist in East Berlin three months ago, informed sources said today. He is the third American known to be in Communist captivity.

The sources identified the American as William Wyot Lovett of San Francisco. They said he was involved in a traffic accident last May in East Berlin when an East German was injured. No other details were disclosed.

Western officials disclosed Wednesday the arrest in East Berlin of an American and two Britons. The American was identified as Benjamin F. Whitehill III, 21, of Tulsa Okla. He was arrested Aug. 12 with Briton John Thwaites, a 19-year-old student.

A third American, John Van Altena of Milton Junction, Wis., was sentenced to eight years imprisonment in January for allegedly trying to help refugees escape.

The other Briton being held was Arthur Wilbraham, 29, of England, who was arrested in East Berlin on undisclosed charges last Friday.

LAUNCH SINKS

RANGOON, Burma (UPI)—A crowded passenger launch and a boat loaded with rice collided and sank in the Rangoon River Wednesday night, killing at least seven persons, it was reported today. Six persons are known to have drowned in the double sinking, and a seventh died in a hospital.

U.A.R. and Saudi Arabia Agree to End Civil War

The United Arab Republic (U.A.R.) and Saudi Arabia have agreed to a formula for ending the civil war in Yemen, but it may not be easy to get the two sides to stop fighting.

A tangled web of tribal loyalties and blood feuds complicates the situation in this Red Sea nation on the southwest corner of the Arabian peninsula.

The United States, Britain and Russia are all interested in the outcome, since each has a stake of sorts in the issue.

On paper, the agreement reached this week at Jidda between U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia looks good.

They have provided the muscle for the opposing sides and presumably should be able to bring the war to an end. However, things are never simple in Yemen, part of what used to be the ancient Kingdom of Sheba.

The Jidda agreement calls for an immediate cease fire to be policed by a joint U.A.R.-Saudi Arabia peace committee.

Under the agreement, Nasser will withdraw the 55,000 U.A.R. troops backing the republican regime, which seized power three years ago, and Saudi Arabia will stop supporting Royalist factions.

The agreement calls for a transitional government of Republican and Royalist officials to rule Yemen, pending a plebiscite to be held before Nov. 23, 1966.

One major difficulty may arise from Nasser's insistence that the Imam, or king, may not return to the capital of Sanaa in any capacity. The present Imam, Mohammad Al Badr, was toppled by an army coup in September, 1962, shortly after his father was assassinated.

The agreement is also understood to exclude the president of the republican government, Abdullah Al Sallal, from the caretaker cabinet, which will hold power until the plebiscite.

The United States has been quietly exerting pressure on both sides behind the scenes in an effort to get a peaceful settlement. A few weeks ago, when there were rumors that Nasser might launch an attack against Saudi Arabia itself, the State Department publicly reminded him that the United States was committed to the support of Faisal.

The principal U.S. interest in ending the war has been to eliminate a disturbing element in the ever-restless Middle East. It also has a more direct concern because of the fact that American companies have oil-rich rights in Yemen.

Britain has a strategic interest in the situation. Yemen is directly north of Britain's oil-rich Aden protectorate. The strife in Yemen has encouraged restless elements in Aden.

Russia has said little if anything about the situation. However, she has given Yemen help in building a jet airport just north of the capital and supplied the republican government with some military equipment. Moscow presumably will be watching carefully to see if the composition of the new government in Yemen, should it come to pass, offers her any

Deadline Nears For Excise Tax

The deadline for many businesses to deposit Federal excise taxes is near.

Manufacturers, retailers, and others, liable for more than $100 of excise taxes for July must place such taxes in a depository by August 31.

District Director Ellis Campbell Jr., of the Internal Revenue Service at Dallas said deposits accompanied by Forms 537 must be made in a Federal Reserve Bank or an authorized commercial bank.

Detailed information on this subject is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.
