Indian, Pakistani Pullback Asked

Both Sides Hit Vote Of Council

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Security Council voted unanimously Saturday night to call on India and Pakistan to end fighting and withdraw their armed forces to their own sides of a cease-fire line in Kashmir.

The resolution, which asks Secretary General Thant to report on the Kashmir situation within three days, drew objections from both India and Pakistan.

India called on the council to order Pakistan to withdraw completely from all parts of "the Indian state" of Kashmir, which has been disputed territory since the division of the subcontinent into two countries independent of Britain in 1946.

U.S. Backs Resolution
The United States, whose planes and tanks supplied for Pakistan's defense were reported backing a 10-mile Pakistani thrust into the former princely state, strongly supported the cease-fire resolution which was sponsored by the six non-permanent members of the council.

Indian Ambassador Gopalaswami Parthasarathi said there must be a guarantee from Pakistan that its infiltration of Kashmir would end. He noted that Pakistan had not responded to Thant's cease-fire appeal of last Wednesday and said in the absence of such a response, it was premature to vote a resolution.

Pakistani Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali said he had no instructions from his government and could not speak on the substance of the issue without them. It doubted the usefulness of council action without hearing the official views of Pakistan and he objected that the resolution made no mention of a U.N.-ordered cease-fire of 1949 which envisaged a subsequent demilitarization of Kashmir and a plebiscite to decide its future.

Following adoption of the resolution, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, this month's president, adjourned the council until next Wednesday.

AFRICA'S SCHWEITZER

Famed Doctor's Death Is Near

LAMBARENE, Gabon (UPI) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer lay near death Saturday night in the African jungle hospital he built a few miles from the Equator 52 years ago. Doctors said the end was "only hours away."

At the bedside of the 90-year-old philosopher-humanitarian were his daughter, Rina Eckert, Dr. David Miller, a King City, Calif., heart specialist, and Dr. Walter Munz, the Swiss physician who has been in charge of the hospital for the past six months.

Schweitzer's wife, Helene, died in 1957 at the age of 79, five years after her husband won the Nobel Peace Prize.

Officials at the jungle hospital said Schweitzer was in a coma in the hospital room where he has been confined for the past nine days, in critical condition with increasing exhaustion and respiratory complaints. They held no hope of his recovery.

Condition More Serious
"The state of health of Dr. Schweitzer is becoming progressively more serious," Dr. Munz announced. Other aides said hope had virtually been abandoned.

Reporters were pouring into Lambarene, a steady town in the heart of the West African jungle. It is a 90-minute flight by bush-hopping plane from the Gabon capital, Libreville.

In Lambarene itself there was little talk of anything but the condition of "Le Grand Docteur," as he is known to the Africans he has served since 1913.

The Gabonese government kept in close touch by telephone as the drama unfolded in the heart of the jungle. The area was a leper colony when Schweitzer and his wife came here, abandoning the fame and fortune he had won as a theologian, musician and philosopher. He belonged to no formal religious denomination.

Dr. Miller, who spent seven months at the hospital in 1960, arrived in Lambarene Friday when his longtime close friend took a turn for the worse.

Schweitzer turned 90 on Jan. 14 and until the end of last month appeared in excellent physical and mental condition for a man of his advanced years. He continued his daily visit to patients in the hospital.

Senate Size Subject To Tuesday Vote

Voters in Gray County will go to the polls Tuesday to vote on a constitutional amendment which would change the size of the Texas Senate.

The proposal would enlarge the senate from 31 to 39 members and would call for redistricting senatorial lines in the state.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. at 13 polling places in Gray County.

The ballot will read — for or against — "The constitutional amendment increasing the membership of the State Senate for 31 to 39 members, retaining the present membership of the House of Representatives, requiring apportionment of the Senate according to population, and deleting the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one Senator."

The amendment would have little effect on the 31st Senatorial District, represented by Sen. Grady Hazlewood. It would, however, drastically change other senatorial districts.

The polling places in Gray County will be Pct. 1, Lefors; Pct. 2, Baker School; Pct. 3, Grandview School; Pct. 4, Alarred School; Pct. 5, McLean; Pct. 6, Laketon; Pct. 7, Horace Mann School; Pct. 8, Stephen F. Austin School; Pct. 9, Woodrow Wilson School; Pct. 10, Gray County Court House; Pct. 11, Phillips Office; Pct. 12, Lamar School; and Pct. 13, Court House.

A valid poll tax receipt is the only requirement for voting.

Welton Johnson Dies Suddenly Of Heart Attack

Welton B. Johnson, 47, manager of the Pampa office of American National Life Insurance Co., died shortly before 7 p.m. Saturday in Highland Hospital where he had been rushed following a heart attack while dove hunting north of the city.

Mr. Johnson, a Pampa business man and civic worker for the past 13 years, had gone hunting with his brother, J. H. Johnson of Amarillo, and his son Phillip, 14. They had just arrived at the Ledrick ranch, north of town, when Mr. Johnson was taken suddenly ill.

His hunting companions hurried him back to their automobile and brought him to the hospital where death followed a short time later.

Mr. Johnson, who lived at 1421 Williston was born July 22, 1918, in Parker County, Texas, and attended school there. He started working for American National Life in Wichita Falls in 1942. He and June Armstrong were married there in January of 1942.

He moved to Pampa in 1952 as manager of the insurance company's local office.

Mr. Johnson was a member of the Baptist Church in Saylesville, Texas; Pampa Masonic Lodge No. 966, the Pampa Rotary Club, and was secretary of the Life Underwriters' Association.

Survivors include his wife, June; a son Phillip and daughter Norma; three brothers, J. H. of Amarillo, A. B. Jr. of Mineral (See HEART ATTACK, Page 3)

Labor Day Weather Is Bright

A bright late summer sun toasted most of Texas Saturday, and the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted more sunny weather for the Labor Day weekend.

An occasional light shower drifted in over the Gulf Coast and dark clouds hovered over sections of the Big Bend country, but the only heavy rain reported came in an isolated shower at Junction. A total of .05 of an inch fell at Junction.

Wichita Falls recorded the nation's hottest reading of the day—104 degrees. The mercury rose to 103 at Cotulla and Laredo. Abilene had 101, and Childress and Mineral Wells tied with a 100 degree reading.

Presidio only got up to 97. Most temperatures in Texas were in the mid or upper 90s, with only far west Texas and sections of the Gulf Coast enjoying comparatively mild weather.

Galveston's 88 degrees was the coolest maximum in Texas Saturday.

Forecasts around the state called for perfect picnic, swimming, dove shooting and fishing weather for almost all of Texas.

Temperatures were expected to remain about the same under sunny skies, with the Panhandle possibly enjoying a slight drop in the mercury Sunday.

CAROL IS BORN

Hurricane Betsy Moves Closer To Coastline of the Carolinas

BULLETIN
MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Betsy ground to a halt in the Atlantic Saturday night. Its 135-mile-an-hour winds hurling waves 19 feet high against the tourist-crowded Carolinas coast 450 miles away.

Betsy, held off the mainland by a high pressure zone, was expected to "remain stationary tonight and quite likely most of tomorrow," the weather bureau said. Forecasters refused to say what path the storm might take when it begins moving again.

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Betsy, a "large and dangerous" hurricane that was still growing, boiled slowly toward the Carolinas coast with 135-mile-an-hour winds Saturday and the Red Cross rushed to set up emergency shelters.

The beaches of North and South Carolina, normally jammed with tourists on a Labor Day weekend, were relatively empty. But amusement centers along the coast reported business as usual. Winds were already high and seas choppy, and the Coast Guard evacuated a lighthouse along the coast.

New Storm Named
Meanwhile, a new tropical storm threat popped up in the Atlantic, about 650 miles east of Barbados Island. The weather bureau said a hurricane hunter plane would investigate the area Sunday to see if Storm Carol was in the making.

Betsy made a slight turn to the north-northwest Saturday, raising false hopes it had started a wider curve, that would take it away from the mainland. But forecasters predicted the mighty storm would stay on its present course until late Sunday— which would bring its advance gales to the Carolinas.

"Even if it does turn—and we are hoping for the best—the people up there are in for some rough weather this weekend," said Miami forecaster Raymond Kraft. "In fact, they already know from the high tides and gusty winds hitting the coast now there is a hurricane out there.

"This is a severe hurricane and it is getting larger," Kraft emphasized, "and everyone should keep posted on it.

"If the storm does go ashore, we certainly don't want a lot of people trapped on exposed (See BETSY, Page 3)

Holiday Box Score

The traffic toll for the long Labor Day holiday soared past the 150 mark Saturday as rainslick highways plagued drivers in many parts of the nation.

A United Press International count at 11 p. m. EDT showed 164 persons dead in traffic accidents during the holiday.

The breakdown:
Traffic 164
Drownings 13
Planes 2
Miscellaneous 7
Total 186

California led the nation with 15 traffic deaths. Texas reported 11, North Carolina 10, and Pennsylvania and New Mexico each had nine.

Alibates Appropriation Bill Next Step in National Monument Plans

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa said Saturday in Washington it is his hope that the Congress can approve before the end of the current session an appropriation to begin development of the Alibates Flint Quarries National Monument.

"Now that the President has signed into law my bill creating the Alibates Monument, I am going to exert every effort to see that development of the site can begin as soon as possible," Congressman Rogers said.

The Alibates National Monument, including flint quarries used by American Indians for more than 12,000 years and the ruins of pueblos inhabited during the 12th and 13th centuries, is the first national monument to be designated in Texas.

"We in the Panhandle can take special pride in the fact that the Alibates Monument is a first for our State," Congress-

Local Low Level Flights Scheduled In AEC Radiation Survey Program

Aerial flights to determine background radiation levels over Pampa and a large area of approximately 100 miles square around Amarillo, will be conducted during the next several weeks as part of the Atomic Energy Commission Aerial Radiological Measuring Survey Program, started in 1958. It will be the first AEC-approved aerial survey of its type in the Panhandle Area.

The Commission's Division of Biology and Medicine is conducting the program. More than 25 sites, including Washington, D. C., Chicago, Los Angeles, Atlanta, and Augusta have been surveyed previously.

Background radiation is the normal low-level radiation which is caused by the natural radioactivity of rocks and soils, and information gathered in the surveys, in addition to its scientific interest, provides a basis for rapid assessment of a change in radiation level.

Purpose of the survey, made necessary by life in the atomic age, is to determine present levels of environmental radiation which result from low-level radioactivity of the surface soils and rocks. Determination of today's normal radiation will make it possible to detect any future variations which might result from nuclear testing by any nation, reactor or other atomic energy operations, or radiation accidents.

The Amarillo-Pampa survey over the Panhandle will be conducted for the Commission by Edgerton, Gernsbauser & Griener, Inc., of Santa Barbara, Calif., using a small green and white twin-engine airplane flown about 500 feet above the ground. A special waiver of Civil Air Regulations is obtained from the Federal Aviation Agency to permit low-level flight. Parallel flight lines will be flown during daylight hours and in good weather conditions.

Surveying is scheduled to begin in the area within the next few days, and is set for completion by Oct. 1. The area to be surveyed lies within the geographic area of 36 degrees 10' to 34 degrees 30' north longitude and 102 degrees 36' to 100 degrees 33' west latitude. It includes the cities of Amarillo, Pampa, Borger, Dalhart, Tulia, Hedley, McLean, Miami, Sunray, Hartley, Channing, Hereford and Dimmitt.

These public spirited firms are making this week-ly messages possible — and join with the ministers of Pampa in hoping that each message will be an inspiration to everyone.

Head of Masonic Lodges in Texas Coming to Pampa

J. Carroll Hinsley of Austin, grand master of Texas Masons, will be in Pampa Wednesday, Sept. 8, for an official visit and workshop session with Area E-2 Masonic lodges.

Area E-2 is made up of Districts 98 and 101 and comprises 14 lodges with a membership of 2,500 Master Masons.

The workshop, to be held in Pampa Lodge 966 headquarters, 420 W. Kingsmill, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, will be an open meeting for Masons, their wives, children and friends. Special invitations have been issued to members of the Rainbow Girls and Demolay Boys' groups.

Grand Master Hinsley will give the principal address and refreshments will be served by members of the Order of the Eastern Star.

L. Barrett, District 98 deputy grand master, in charge of arrangements for the grand master's visit, said an attendance of 250 to 300 is expected for the workshop session.

Sen. Tower Sought For Local Speech

Senator John Tower of Texas will be in the Panhandle area Sept. 21 and arrangements are being made to secure him for a speaking engagement in Pampa.

Tower has scheduled speeches before civic clubs in Burger, Dumas, Perryton and Amarillo. Tower will be making a swing through a number of Panhandle towns to visit with constituents and get their views on current issues.

"Conterminous" is the accepted term to designate the 48 states, excluding Alaska and Hawaii. It means "having a common boundary."

First Miss America Contestants Reach Atlantic City for '66 Try

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The first wave of the 50 beauties in the 1966 Miss America contest, with stars in their eyes and extra cans of hair spray in their huge bundles of luggage, Saturday made a big splash in this Labor Day-packed resort city.

Police Recover Stolen Vehicles; Both Undamaged

Two automobiles reported stolen to Pampa police Friday night were recovered early Saturday morning.

Robert M. Chaney, 2212 N. Sumner, reported at 9 p.m. Friday someone stole his car while it was parked at Highland General Hospital.

The vehicle was recovered at 7:43 a.m. Saturday in a vacant lot on E. Frederic.

Maxine Bennett, 811 Locust, reported her car stolen last night from the 300 block of S. Cuyler.

Police located the auto at 12:57 a.m. at the First Methodist Church.

Neither car was damaged and police believed they were taken by someone wanting to "joy ride."

U.S. Recognizes Dominican Regime

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson Saturday announced United States' recognition of the new provisional government of the Dominican Republic.

The Chief Executive assured Dominican President Hector Garcia Godoy and the Dominican people that "they have our full support" in trying to restore order to the revolt-torn island nation in the Caribbean.

Lawn Mower Stolen

Pampa police received a report of a lawn mower theft from Danny Brister, 200 Harvester.

Brister told police the mower was taken sometime in the last few days from his front yard.

Nine contestants had checked into their beachfront hotels by late afternoon, and one more, Miss Mississippi, was expected to be on hand early Sunday.

The early arrivals were quickly whisked off to the beach Saturday afternoon to pose for photographers in swim suits and casual attire. Thousands of sun bathers, particularly the men, enjoyed it as much as the contestants.

The girls had hoped to get in some sun themselves, but met with a steady stream of newsmen's questions and photographers' requests for "a little more leg, please."

Miss Wisconsin and Miss Kansas both flew in this afternoon by chartered private planes which they hailed as the only way for a luggage-laden beauty queen to travel.

Miss Wisconsin said her biggest fear was that her "flip would flop." She said the former Miss Wisconsin told her the damp salt air was murder on hair-dos, making them wilt.

She said she was told by her predecessor to "sleep with the windows closed" and acquire plenty of hair spray to keep her bouffant hair - do, called a flip, from coming down.

Miss Arkansas arrived by limousine from New York City with several pieces of "shocking pink" luggage and several bottles of mineral water from Hot Springs, Ark., because, she said, the drought is so serious along the east coast.

The oldest and most famous beauty pageant in the United States begins officially Monday when the 50 entrants, representing every state, register and begin six solid days of rehearsals, interviews and performances which for one will end with fame and fortune.

The 1966 Miss America will be crowned at midnight Saturday, Sept. 11, in massive Convention Hall before a nationwide television audience (CBS) and some 20,000 spectators. There will be cheers and tears and the traditional pomp and circumstance which has kept the pageant premier over many imitators.

The cheers and tears have been intrinsic to all 38 previous pageants. But innovations and improvements over the decades have brought significant changes in the "grandma" of beauty contests.

It no longer is the pure boardwalk leg shot that Atlantic City merchants threw together in 1921 to extend the vacation season a week past Labor Day and thereby sell more sand, surf and salt water taffy.

Today, it is a multimillion dollar, year-round corporate commercial enterprise that puts an international spotlight on an "ideal" young American woman possessed not only of beauty but talent and brains as well.

The Alibates National Monument will be located near the south rim of Lake Meredith and adjacent to the Alibates recreation area, one of the major recreation areas to be developed by the National Park Service at the reservoir.

Meanwhile, Congressman Rogers has scheduled sessions of his Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee for Thursday and Friday of this week to consider the proposed construction of a third power plant at the Grand Coulee Dam, in Washington. He also will attend sessions of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce considering legislation affecting jurisdiction of the National Railroad Adjustment Board.

The full House of Representatives will consider, as its major item of business, Foreign Aid appropriations, Congressman Rogers said.

Holiday (Continued From Page 1)

Travelers are given free coffee, soft drinks, and offered complete rest room facilities to encourage drivers to slow down as they enter and leave Pampa. Signs have been placed on U.S. 60 entering and leaving town. Near the stop, a wrecked car, with warning signs and flashing light around it, suggested that drivers slow down.

The Pampa News will advance deadlines on the holiday and go to press at noon Monday.

Farmers Advised To Claim Refund On Gasoline Tax

Farmers can get a four-cent per gallon refund on each gallon of gasoline used for farming purposes during the 12-month period ending June 30 by filing a claim with the Internal Revenue Service, according to Gray County Agent Foster Whaley.

Tax refund claims are to be submitted on Form 2240 available at the county agent's office or through the Internal Revenue Service.

Claims must be postmarked no later than Sept. 30. They should be mailed to District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, Texas, 75201, Whaley said.

Extension Farm Management Specialist John Seibert says sufficient records should be kept by each claimant to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify accuracy of the claim. Seibert said a farmer who uses 2,000 gallons of gasoline a year could probably compile the necessary records and fill out the form in about one hour and for the hours work he would get a refund of $80.

Kiwanians Hear Girl's Report On Youth Parley

A report on the Attorney General's Youth Conference in Austin was given to Pampa Kiwanian Club members Friday noon by Pat Ludeman who attended as Gray County representative.

Miss Ludeman outlined plans now under way for a Teenage Jury in Pampa Corporation Court to handle student traffic citations and misdemeanors.

Miss Ludeman, a 1965 honor graduate of Pampa High School, will enter the University of Texas this month.

It was announced that the Pampa High School Key Club will resume meetings this week. The breakfast sessions will be held in the high school cafeteria at 7:15 a.m. each Wednesday.

Lefors Girl Hurt In Traffic Crash

A crash involving a car and a pickup at Main and Fourth St. in Lefors Saturday morning hospitalized one person with what were described as minor injuries.

A 1963 two-door sedan being driven east on Fourth Street by Delores Walker, Box 322, Lefors, struck the left side of a pickup being driven north on Main St. by Raymond Nelson, Box 145, Miami, Texas.

Miss Walker was taken to Highland General Hospital in Pampa where it was determined that she suffered no serious injuries, according to Texas Highway Patrolman Bill Lusk who investigated the accident.

Four Pampans Suffer Injuries In Local Mishap

A pick-up-car crash shortly before 5 p.m. Friday near Starkweather and Browning injured four persons, none seriously.

Driver of the 1963 model pick-up involved was Earl H. Wallin of 851 Locust. Driver of the car, a 1956 model Mercury, was Leo Medley, 30, of 827 S. Banks.

Injured were Nickey Medley, 7, and Haskell M. Medley, 4, sons of Leo Medley who also suffered minor injuries. Also injured was Frieda Wallin, 52, wife of Earl Wallin.

Hospital attendants said the injured received cuts and bruises and were not seriously injured.

Ring Set Taken From Local Car

Johnny Vanderlinder, 1044 S. Nelson, reported the theft of $195 worth of rings from his automobile sometime in the past couple of days.

Vanderlinder said the rings were in his glove compartment and he had several persons riding with him the past two days. He said he believed someone took the rings while riding with him.

Police questioned several suspects.

According to investigating police, Wallin was attempting to make a left turn onto Browning and was struck by Medley's vehicle, headed east on Browning.

SEPTEMBER IS THE BACK TO SCHOOL MONTH

Children must be readied for school. Clothes must be mended and new ones bought. School supplies are to be purchased and going away to college children must have their bags packed. They will need quantities of health-aids and toilet articles. You will save time by being able to get them from our pharmacy.

September is a real busy month, but find time to bring the children to your physician for a health check-up before school begins. Some of them may need booster shots or new inoculations against communicable diseases. Others may be told to take vitamins, particularly if they take hurried meals away from home.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Farquhar Wins Medalist Honors With 64; Hardy, Greenwood 2 Back

Fleckman Shoots 66 To Trail By Two

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

The 'Amarillo Kid,' smooth swinging John Farquhar, shattered the 6,010 yard Pampa Country Club course layout Saturday with a seven-under par 64 and one stroke lead over two other amateurs in the Top O' Texas Golf Tournament.

Farquhar toured the 35-36-71 par structure in 32-32-64 to nudge out Oklahoma State's Jim Hardy and defending champion Bobby Greenwood of Cookeville, Tenn. for medalist honors and the first round lead.

NCAA champion Marty Fleckman posted rounds of 33-33-66 to stay two shots back of the leader.

Greenwood shot 31-34-65 and Hardy had 33-32-65.

After Fleckman came Pampa's Buster Carter, playing superb golf with 33-35-68 and Matt Tabor of Lincoln, Neb., the Nebraska Amateur champion who shot 34-34-68.

Two golfers shot 69s and a total of 14 of the swingers bettered par while six more had even par 71s.

Jim Colbert and L. L. Garren shot 68s while Bob Astleford, Richard Bland, Jim Chew, the 1964 medalist, Jim Grant, Bill Harvey and Ben Lane were bunched at 1-under 70s.

Borger's Max Hickey and Pampa's Don Lackey were among those who had even par 71s.

Farquhar played good, steady golf using but 30 putts for the 18 holes and taking seven birdies.

His longest putt came on the 7th and 17th where he sank 15 foot putts on both holes for birdies.

He missed a three footer on the par 5, 13th for what would have been an eagle, and missed another eagle putt on No. 11 from six inches out.

"This course played superb, everything went just right," Farquhar said, adding, "The greens were holding, there was just a slight breeze."

Farquhar, along with about 13 other amateurs entered in the Top O' Texas will journey to Tulsa, Okla. for the National Amateur.

Greenwood had three birdies on the front nine and two over the back nine and still had a chance to tie the Farquhar for the lead coming into 1-8.

But Bobby hit his approach shot about 10 feet past the green and then chipped about six feet past the cup and had to settle for a birdie 4.

Hardy, a mainstay on the OSU golf team, and one of the finest golfers in the Southwest, was two-under at the turn with a 33 and bettered that by one stroke over the backside.

He eagled the tough 420-yard 18th with a 20 foot putt. The eagle was also worth a ham. Hardy missed his chance to

Longhorns Scrimmage

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Orange team, composed of the University of Texas' first two teams, whipped the Whites 27-7 Saturday in Texas' first scrimmage of the fall workouts.

Coach Darrell Royal said he was disappointed in the outcome of the scrimmage, but said the Orange team looked weak because six starters missed the scrimmage.

One of those not on the field was starting quarterback Marv Kristynik, who was replaced by sophomore Greg Lott of Lubbock. Lott led the Orange to two of its four touchdowns.

The Orange picked up its tallies on a three-yard run by sophomore Linus Bear, a five-yard dash by senior fullback Lester Derrick and a 40-yard punt return by Ronnie Derig.

The lone White score came on a one-yard run by sophomore Terry Boothe, climaxing a 65-yard drive.

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Aaron and Dave Hill, defending Phil Rodgers, a stocky ex-Marine and former national collegiate champion, jumped in to a one-stroke lead in the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open as he shot a 69 for a three-round total of 212.

Bo Winger, who led the first two rounds, was bothered by a pulled muscle in his side and bogeyed the last three holes to wind up with a four-over par 76 and a 215 total.

Randy Glover, who had a 71, and Jack Rule, who shot 70, trailed Rodgers by only one shot.

Johnny Pott, who staged a strong run at the lead, wound up with a 71 for a 214, and a tie with Dave Marr, who had 74. Marr had trailed Winger by one stroke going into the third round.

Tied with Winger at 215 were Dean Refram, Tommy

The Detroit Lions edged the New York Giants 25-21 in the first game of the twinned, witnessed by 83,118 fans.

Officials said the cup would remain in the United States for a year and Britain would have possession for a year. The cup matches are held bi-annually.

Clive Clark saved the British from a humiliating defeat with a 34-foot putt on the 18th hole of his match with Mark Hopkins of High Point, N. C., allowing him to halve the match. Britain won only one singles encounter.

Billie Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., scored the points that gave the United States a tie when he defeated Michael Lunt 4 and 2 in the final match of the day.

"I'm in no hurry to return to Russia."

"It will be basketball if the feud doesn't end soon."

"I plan to throw the discus more."

"There's no place like home."

Randy Talks on NCAA-AAU Feud, Basketball and The Discus

By a Staff Writer
World champion shot putter Randy Matson isn't in any hurry to go back to the Soviet Union.

Randy, in town to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Matson, spoke out on several points Friday morning.

If something isn't done to resolve the bitter NCAA-AAU feud he will play basketball and give up his track career for a while, but he is sure the feud will find a happy ending. He didn't see many good looking young ladies in the Soviet Union; He thought the Russians deliberately harassed the U. S. track team; and he will concentrate more on the discus this year more than ever.

Matson, who declined an invitation to testify before a committee on the track feud feels sure the dispute will be resolved soon.

"If it isn't, however, I plan on going out for basketball," the Pampa giant said, adding, "I feel sure they'll come up with some kind of settlement."

What does he think could be done to end the long squabble on a happy note?

"I really don't know. They were talking about letting the Olympic Committee handle it, but it will probably be handled some other way," Matson declared. The 6'6" "Superman" of the track world said that all the training and effort isn't worth it to be able to participate in just a few meets. Randy was due to put in his two cents worth before the committee on August 27, but after arriving back from the World Games in Budapest said he was "tired and wanted to come home."

HE FOOLS 'EM ALL

Charlie Loves to Eat

By TOM TIEDE
NEW YORK (NEA) — All baseball was shocked early this season when Charlie Dressen CF Ins thures Proof to Cross had a heart attack. Who would have figured the old boy had a heart, anyway?

He stops reading. Anyway f the old ticker gives him any bother again, he may just cut the thing out himself and fry it in wine.

Says he: "I lost about 15 pounds in the hospital and still haven't lost it back on. So I got an excuse now. Skinny people can get sick, you know."

The word was he was all stomach from the waist to the neck.

"Boy, the places I know, one thing about baseball, you get to travel around to the towns where the food's wonderful. It's one reason I like the major leagues...it's the steak circuit. The minors are for hamburger eaters."

and treats — if that's the word — his ball club to aftergame feasts that would curl Betty Crocker's recipe book.

It is close to the truth to say that the Detroit Tiger manager, 46 years a part of the game, cannot get along without baseball or food. And if they ever found a way to barbecue a ball, he would never leave the park at all.

"Let's see, now, there's Jimmy the Greek's place in Manhattan. You go into the kitchen and pick out what you like. I used to take Alex Kampouris when he played third base for me (Cincinnati) and we never left the kitchen all night."

Since the heart attack, Dressen admits he's slowed down some. He nibbles at food half the week. "so I ca feast up the other," he chills is too hot for his Pacemaker, so he concentrates on lighter things "like linguini and lobster sauce."

Dressen, 67, was laid up for a month with what the medics called a coronary (friends insisted it was m seive indigestion), but he refuses to let it interfere with his table talents. This isn't to say that when Jolly Cholly reads where heart patients should cut down on their eating, he fails to do something about it. He does.

"In Houston it's the San Jacinto Inn, great for oysters on the stick. Baltimore has Obryoki's Crab House or Brooks Robinson's place. Chicago is like-New York; there are a lot of good spots — Agostino's, Red Star, Stockyard Inn. Ten in Minneapolis..."

But diets as such depress him. Better cakes and ale for the moment, he figures, than crackers and fruit juice forever.

Everybody wants to get into the act. Here are a few choice books readers sent in wanting to buy: "Mussolini's War Heroes," "The Cuban Social Register," "Who's Who in Tijuana," "The Blue Book of Laredo."

No one will catch Jim Houston of the Cleveland Browns short. He's an all-pro corner linebacker at the age of 27, in only two years at that position, he owns an insurance company, one-fourth interest in a golf course, one-third interest in a car wash, a piece of a trotter, is a partner in a boys' camp and has a full-time career in mind..... as a stock broker.

Its rumored there's a Chicago financier ready to put together a $20 million package for both the Bears and the Cubs if he can persuade the owners to sell.

Scouting The Pros

BALTIMORE (NEA) — RECEIVERS — This is one instance where the tight end (John Mackey) and outrun the deep receivers (Raymond Berry, Jimmy Orr). But Coach Don Shula wouldn't trade their moves and experience for any in the league. They get the job done. The future is with reserves like Willie Richardson, Neal Petties. Butch Wilson has been impressive standing in for Mackey. RATING — very good.

RUNNING BACKS — If Lenny Moore tails off from his great comeback of '64, Colts can compensate with improved Tony Lorick. He'll continue to share fullback job with hard-plugging Jerry Hill. There's added beef at that spot, 230-pound rookie Mike Curtis, so the inside game is above average. And if Moore rambles in old style, there's outside balance. RATING — good.

DEFENSIVE LINE — No one replaces a Gino Marchetti, greatest pass-rusher of all time. But it's nice to have Lou Michaels around as a fill-in. He has the basic talent, plus experience. Folks'll get a chance to appreciate Ordell Brasse on right wing. Tackles are so-so with agile Fred Miller best of lot; Billy Ray Smith, Guy Reese

QUARTERBACK—Merely the best in the business, as always, since John Unitas started throwing bombs a decade ago. Colts are at loss to explain his flat performance in last year's title game, but they'll take him just as he is. With a virtuoso in the wings named Gary Cuozzo. RATING — excellent.

SWC Coaches Happy

By United Press International
Most Southwest Conference football squads took to the practice field again Saturday morning for their first "short-week" of pre-season drills.

Arkansas' National Champion Razorbacks were slowed by fatigue Friday. But Coach Frank Broyles was not surprised.

"The third day is always the longest in the fall," he said. "The boys are tired from still adjusting to two-a-day practices."

Broyles said Mike Bender, a question mark when he changed from tackle to guard last Spring, was looking good. The Hogs had a short workout in the morning and set a closed scrimmage in the afternoon.

Rice' Owls worked primarily on drills and Coach Jess Neely said it was "a pretty good workout."

Neely said Mike Buxton of Lexington, Ky., threw the ball well at quarterback.

Texas A&M Coach Gene Stallings was impressed by quarterback Eddie McKaughn's passing. He said A&M was improved in every phase of the game.

Baylor's Bears worked on passing Friday, the type they John Bridgers devoted a good part of the practice to protecting passers Terry Southall, Mike Marshall and Kenny Stockdale.

The Bears scheduled a full scrimmage today.

Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist ran his Mustangs through a helmet-and-pads workout, concentrating on basic plays.

He said the Mustangs now have 75 per cent of their offense and 90 per cent of the defense down pat.

It was a light day at Texas Tech. Photographers and newsmen converged on the campus as part of the Southwest Conference press tour.

Tech got in a light contact drill after the photo-interview session.

Wales Fighter May Appear in America

LONDON (UPI)—California promoter George Parnassus today invited world featherweight title challenger Howard Win-stone of Wales to make his next appearance in the United States, whether he wins or loses his championship scrap against holder Vincente Saldivar of Mexico Tuesday.

Parnassus said he would like to match Winstone with Richard (Sweet) Sue, the Portland, Ore., slugger who is ranked eighth by The Ring magazine and ninth by the World Boxing Association in the junior lightweight division in Los Angeles or Seattle.

Sue scored a points win Wednesday over Rafu King of Nigeria in a 12-rounder at Portland. It was his 17th win in 18 fights. Winstone, 26, has won 53 of his 55 fights.

Both Saldivar, 22, and Winstone started to take things easy today after winding up drills for the championship scrap.

Emerson opened his title defense with occasional flashes of brilliance and trounced veteran Eduard Zuleta of Ecuador, 6-1, 6-3, 8-6, despite losing his service twice in the touch-and-go third set.

Santana, seeded fourth off his tremendous effort while leading Spain to a 4-1 Davis Cup triumph over the United States in mid-August, downed Don Fontana of Canada, 6-3, 6-1, 5-7, 6-1, and seventh-seeded McKinley knocked over big Steve Wilkinson of Sioux City, Iowa, 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

There was more action off the court than on in women's singles as Mrs. Sisman, Wimbledon winner in 1962 and the nation's fourth ranking player, pulled out of tournament in a protest over not being granted one of the eight spots on the seeded list.

Emerson Hits Second Round

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Roy Emerson of Australia, Manuel Santa of Spain and America's Chuck McKinley powered into the second round of the U. S. Tennis Championships Saturday but former Wimbledon queen Karen Hantze Susmen of St. Louis withdrew in a huff because she had not been seeded.

FRIDAY'S MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Helms Keeping Reds in Race

By United Press International
Hurricane Helms has hit Cincinnati.

Stirring up a late-season hitting storm reminiscent of Bob (Hurricane) Hazel, who swept the Milwaukee Braves to the 1957 National League title, 24-year-old Tommy Helms suddenly has blown new life into the Cincinnati Reds batting attack.

The Reds kept pace with the league - leading Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night by swamping Philadelphia 16-7 and Helms continued his torrid hitting, collecting two hits, accounting for three runs.

Hold Onto Lead

The Dodgers blanked Houston 3-0 to keep their one-game margin over the Reds while the third-place Giants fell two games off the pace by dropping a 5-4 decision to Chicago. Milwaukee halted its skid by tripping Pittsburgh 4-3 to remain two lengths behind the leaders and New York upset St. Louis 6-3 on three home runs by Jim Hickman.

In the American League, Nick Willite, Howie Reed and Ron Perranoski combined to blank Houston on eight hits and Jim Lefebvre, who drove in four Dodger runs Thursday night, singled and tripled to drive home the first two tallies and scored the third on Wes Parker's suicide squeeze bunt. Willite left after 5 1-3 innings when his arm stiffened but gained credit for his second victory in four decisions. Don Nottebart (4-13) was the loser.

Hickman became the first Met in history to hit three home runs in one game and the third major leaguer to turn the trick this season as he hammered loser Ray Sadecki for consecutive roundtrippers in the second, fourth and sixth innings, accounting for four runs. Tom Tresh of the Yankees and Johnny Callison of the Phillies also have hit three in one game. The blows raised Hickman's home run production this season to 12.

Eighth-inning errors by Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon enabled the Braves to score the tying and winning runs. Ken Johnson won his 5th game but needed help from Phil Niekro and Dan Osinski to halt a ninth-inning uprising by the Pirates. It was only the third loss in the last 13 games for Pittsburgh and the Braves fourth win in their last 14.

Billy Williams cracked his 26th homer and drove a bases-loaded triple as the Cubs pinned the Giants with their eighth loss in the last 12 games. Bill Faul (5-3) was the winner with relief in the seventh from Ted Abernathy. Losing hurler Bob Bolin slammed a two-run homer for the Giants.

Tony Oliva, already distinguished as the only rookie ever to win a major league batting title, may climax his sophomore season by winning an even bigger honor: The American League's most valuable player award.

The 25-year-old Minnesota Twin right fielder has the credentials of an authentic MVP—a .320 batting average, 88 runs batted in, 98 runs scored and a solid power rating as demonstrated by 16 homers, four triples and 33 doubles.

What's more, Oliva has delivered repeatedly in clutch games for the Twins—just as he did Friday night when he drove in four runs with three hits in a 6-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox that stretched Minnesota's first-place lead to 7 1/2 games.

The Baltimore Orioles beat the Cleveland Indians 5-3, the Detroit Tigers routed the Washington Senators 10-2, the New York Yankees drubbed the Boston Red Sox 9-0 and the Kansas City Athletics defeated the California Angels 4-1 and 1-0 in other AL games.

Stu Miller made his 55th relief appearance to preserve

Wally Bunker's seventh victory for the Orioles, who took advantage of Steve Hargan's three walks and a wild pitch and singles by Russ Snyder, Brooks Robinson and Dick Brown to score four runs in the first inning. Curt Blefary added Baltimore's fifth run with a seventh-inning homer.

Norm Cash, Bill Freehan, Willie Horton and rookie Mickey Stanley hit homers to lead a 13-hit Detroit attack. Hank Aguirre yielded homers to Ken McMullen and Woodie Held but went the distance to raise his season record to 13-9. Buster Narum was the loser.

Al Downing pitched a five-hitter and struck out eight to even his mark at 12-12 for the Yankees, who clinched the victory over the Red Sox with a seven-run sixth inning. Roger Repoz and Clete Boyer honored and Horace Clarke had three hits for the Yankees.

Relief pitcher John Wyatt hurled 1 1-3 innings of shutout ball in the first game and 1 2-3 innings of shutout ball in the second game as the Athletics swept a doubleheader in Los Angeles. ## Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

Last week we completed weighing bull calves for Raymond Darsey and assisting him in making application for performance certificates from Performance Registry International. Jerry Harland and I were very impressed with the quality of the Darsey cattle as well as the gainability. In this program certain requirements must be met in order to qualify for P.R.I. certificates. Bull calves must weigh a minimum of 475 pounds on a weight adjusted to 205 days of age.

Darsey had five bull calves out of six to weigh over 500 pounds based on an adjusted weight of 205 days. One of them had an adjusted weight of 615 pounds.

We believe this is a fine yard stick to put on registered cattle of any breed. However, we would be quick to caution any breeder to select for quality first and gainability second. We believe Raymond is keeping his quality high on the list. Two of his bulls graded fancy and four choice.

GAS-TAX REFUND

We have a good supply of Federal Gas Tax refund forms on hand for those farmers and ranchers that would like to apply for Federal gas tax refund on gasoline used on the farm. A farmer has from July 1, 1965 until September 30, 1965 to apply for gasoline used on the farm for the period July 1, 1965 to June 30, 1965. Don't overlook that gasoline used by custom operators doing work on your farm. Reasonable estimates are accepted. Be sure to keep sufficient records to justify your claim.

PRAIRIE DOGS

We have noted a few new prairie dog towns as well as some old towns that have come re-populated. For many years we were able to obtain poison grain for ranchers through the Rodent Control Service. Ranchers must now be present for a demonstration given by a representative of the Rodent Control Service before poison grain can be sold to them. This is for safety reasons.

Some serious accidents have been reported in other areas. A relatively new process in the form of a smoke bomb is now available through the Rodent Control service that works very well in a prairie dog eradication process. The bombs are fused and are placed in the dens. The entrance is closed with dirt.

Jerry Bond, rancher in the Skellytown area, has picked up several cases of these bombs through our office. They can be very conveniently carried in a pickup glove compartment. Should you have badgers or prairie dogs contact our office and we would be glad to assist you in the eradication of these pests.

Bill Wedemeyer, Research and Information Director, Texas Farm Bureau had a comment in a recent news release concerning a comparison of Agriculture in the Soviet Union and the United States. Bill had this to say, "It has been fairly well documented from Soviet publications that much of their food is produced on private plots not exceeding one-half hectare, one cow, one pig, and a handful of sheep, goats, and poultry. Our government reported that in 1961 these private plots accounted for 3.3 per cent of all land under cultivation in the U.S.S.R. In that year, the Soviet state received from this 3.3 percent of its farm land, 26 per cent of all potato deliveries, 34 per cent of all eggs, 15 per cent of all wool, 14 per cent of all meat and poultry and 7 per cent of its green vegetables. Because the pesants sell much of their produce on the open market after making their deliveries to the state, these figures tell only a part of the story of the amazing success of the private enterprise to the extent that it is permitted to exist in Soviet agriculture."

County SCD News

By ARNEAL SCOTT

Charley West plans to do some land leveling on the Duncan Bros. farm north of Pampa. He has leveled approximately 25 acres and established it to alfalfa in the past two years. This land will be bordered to control the flow of irrigation water.

Drew Word is carrying out a sound conservation program on his farm north of Alanreed. He developed a 2300 gallon per minute irrigation well last year. This well will be used to irrigate 160 acres of alfalfa and improved grasses. Drew has already established 40 acres of bermuda grass and 40 acres of alfalfa. Drew said, "This 640 acre farm would run only 35 grown cows before development of irrigation. With irrigation, improved pasture and alfalfa, I can run 200 cow units year around."

Curtis Schaffer, Gray County Soil Conservation District Supervisor, will be one of the featured speakers on the Watershed Program for the Golden Spread Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America, September 3, 1965 at Miami, Texas. He will describe the procedure used by Gray and Carson Counties to get an engineering planning priority for the McClellan Creek Watershed. This watershed was approved for planning in April of this year. The planning party is expected to start work this coming December.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

The "seven lean years that waxed fat" became a popular expression through-out the Texas Panhandle during the severe drought period of 1950-1957. Our drought period came to a sudden unforgettable stop during the last week of March in 1957. That was the week that all newcomers to the Panhandle learned first hand about a blue northern blizzard.

It is to the credit of the hardy inhabitants of West Texas that they took the drought period in stride and never looked back—with the end result of continued growth and progress.

The people of this area also brought into operation plans to harness the streams and underground resources of West Texas. The High Plains of Texas today with its irrigated crops is the undisputed bread basket of the nation. According to recent facts revealed by the Texas Water Rights Commission—there are 46 million acres more available for irrigation if and when needed. West Texas is committed to the task of water conservation and will take all the steps necessary on the local level to meet future water requirements of industry and agriculture.

Northern and eastern industries are rapidly waking up to the fact that West Texas offers the best opportunity for expansion and has all the ingredients for a successful future. The West Texas area can lay rightful claim to the best all round weather conditions to be found in the U.S.

A prolonged drought now in its fourth year is slowly paralyzing the north-eastern seaboard states. The current shortage of water in that area points up a situation indicating that the area leaders have been more interested in federal politics than in local plans for taking care of their needs. Recent months have witnessed anguished cries from the leaders of the Northeastern States to the Federal Government to bail them out of their predicament.

The Northeastern States have had a natural abundance of water through the years but have not hesitated to pollute their rivers, lakes and underground reservoirs making them useless for drinking, recreation, or industrial processing. Coupled to pollution is the enormous waste of water by the people in this area. The drought added to all this has brought on a water crisis which could possibly bring on the end of local control.

If local people in any area fail to formulate plans and then put these plans into action we will then see the federal government move into the vacuum.

Sixty-five years ago the use of water in the United States averaged approximately forty billion gallons per day. Today our daily consumption of water is well above 350 billion gallons. The water use plans formulated by Governor John Connally's study group in making plans to meet water requirements to the year 2000 and beyond, indicate that approximately 900 billion gallons will be consumed daily.

All of the facts available at the present time indicate that water consumption in the United States is definitely on the way to equalling our potential supply.

New Grain, Forage Oat Developed

A new variety of oats, Houston, has been developed and tested by the Texas Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

While Houston is limited in use as a fall-seeded oat because it lacks cold weather resistance, it has good disease tolerance, strong straw and is well adapted to spring seeding throughout the area of Texas where spring oats are sown, grain researchers at Texas A&M University explain.

The new variety is a short-stature oat which remains relatively short even under high production levels. Young plant growth is upright and produces early forage. Because of this growth habit, it should not be grazed until well established and should not be grazed or clipped too close to avoid plant damage. Houston has the best straw strength of any variety available in Texas.

Researchers say the grain is of high quality. Kernels are medium to large, are light red in color and have awns that break off easily in threshing. Disease resistance of Houston has been highly effective during tests but, like all other varieties, it is affected by some types of crown and stem rust. It displays good resistance to culm rot and Victoria blight.

Houston is highly recommended for spring seeding in the North Central Plains, Rolling Plains and High Plains. Its strong straw makes it especially suited to seeding as an irrigated crop.

The new variety should be fall seeded only in the area generally south and east of U. S. Highways 79 and 81 in Texas where diseases are an important factor in oat production.

The ship that carried Sir Francis Drake around the world was named the Golden Hind.

Morris-Locke Vows Pronounced in Miami

Mrs. Wallace Keith Locke
... nee Miss Dee Ellen Morris

A large center arrangement of white chrysanthemums flanked by seven-branch candelabra bearing white cathedral tapers and salal foliage draped on the choir and communion rails appointed Miami First Methodist Church Friday afternoon for the wedding rites uniting Miss Dee Ellen Morris and Wallace Keith Locke.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jordan Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace L. Locke, all of Miami.

Rev. D. D. Creecy pronounced the double-ring vows at 3 o'clock. Miss Juanita Haynes, organist, presented traditional nuptial selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in an original chapel-length gown of white peau de soie designed with an empire waistline and slim sheath front skirt. The full back skirt swept gracefully into a chapel train which was highlighted with alencon lace motifs. The fitted bodice featured a scooped neckline adorned with re-embroidered alencon lace motifs and long tapering sleeves. Her two-tiered bouffant veil of imported illusion fell from an organza rose cuff beaded with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Attired in identical formal-length gowns of sapphire blue peau de soie featuring back interests of softly pleated trains attached to square necklines by Dior bows, bridal attendants were Miss Cynthia Coffee, maid of honor, and Miss Ann Airington and Miss Susan Maddox, bridesmaids. They each carried a cascade bouquet fashioned of white glamelias.

Richard Locke served his brother as best man while Monty Michael and Jimmie Gill served as groomsmen.

Ushers were Mark Arrington, Howard Morris, Jerry Morris and Mickey Easley.

Larry Locke of White Deer and Miss Denise Yarbou of Abilene lit the cathedral tapers and Miss Bobbi Greenhouse attended as flower girl.

Rhonda Wallis, Dane Courtney Cambern Repeat Double-Ring Vows in Lubbock

Double-ring vows were pledged at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Miss Rhonda Gayle Wallis, daughter of Mrs. Robert Wallis of Springfield, Colo., and the late Mr. Wallis, and Dane Courtney Cambern, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Cambern of 1536 Coffee St.

Horace Coffman, minister, officiated the ceremony in Broadway Church of Christ Chapel, Lubbock.

The bride was given in marriage by Horace Wallis, her uncle. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white linen with a tunic silhouette. The empire bodice featured a Florentine neckline. Deep scallops of Venetian lace edged the tea cup sleeves and trimmed the semi-sheath skirt. The gown was enhanced by a chapel-length train attached to the lowered waistline in the back. Her veil of English illusion fell from a Dior bow of the matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Gene Shirley of Houston attended the bride as matron of honor and Mrs. Jetty Lehne of Lubbock attended as bridesmaid. They were dressed identically in full-length dresses of orange crepe styled with empire bodices with shallow scoop necklines that dipped to a back V and bell-shaped sleeves, and slim sheath skirts. They wore headpieces of circlets of illusion attached to Dior bows of matching orange crepe and carried cascade arrangements of fall shaded mums.

Grant Cambern served as bestman and groomsmen were Gene Shirley of Houston. Serving as ushers were Kenneth Cambern of Lubbock, Robert Collett of Galveston, Ralph Depee of Houston and George Darby.

Lighting the cathedral tapers were the Misses Sharon and Cindy Cambern. Nuptial selections were provided by Broadway Church of Christ Choir.

Following a reception held in Broadway Church of Christ Parlor the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Colorado and New Mexico. For traveling Mrs. Cambern chose a two-piece camel wool suit complimented by alligator accessories.

The bride attended Colorado Woman's College, Denver, Colo. She received a BS Degree in Home Economics from Texas Technological University and is presently employed in the display department of Hemphill Wells Co. Monterey Center, Lubbock. Mr. Cambern, a graduate of Pampa High School, is attending Texas Technological University majoring in engineering.

Borger Author's Book, 'Marcus,' Novel Of Youngest Apostle, Being Released

Reviewed By
EVELYN PIERCE NACE

"Marcus, a novel of the youngest apostle, to be published Sept. 9, 1965, is the current choice of the Christian Herald's Family Bookshelf, largest of the religious book clubs. This book ("Marcus" is used when Jews are speaking and "Mark" is in the dialogue of Romans and Greeks) carries us through the years of 30-65 A. D. in the eyes of John Mark. The reader is in sympathy with the boy in the book's opening sentence, "My mother was widowed before I was weaned" — and is thereafter fascinated-bound to be part of Mark's life, from his 14-year-old sight of the Agony of Gethsemane to his aging years as Bishop of Alexandria. The reader lives his life as it unfolds against the drapes in the ecclesiastical and its far-reaching consequences. Through Mark's personal life, in Jerusalem and on the Island of Cyprus, we share his love for two girls, his years of training to become head of the family copper business, and his devotion to his mother. But we feel, even more than his family ties, his spiritual growth—his youthful rebellion against the drapes in the ecclesiastical, his refusal of baptism until his own heart dictates it, and at last his witnessing to his faith and his preaching of the gospel to the world of his day. His closeness to the Great Ones of Christianity gives the reader a genuine involvement in the ministries of Barnabas, of Paul, and of Peter. Momentous scenes include Peter's fearlessness when on trial before the Sanhedron, Paul's superhuman escape from death by stoning, the singing of the crucified Christians, and Peter's death on the cross as Mark stands by.

Dr. Daniel Poling says of this book "It is, by every test, a worthy and inevitable best seller." Clarence W. Hall says, "You feel a deep respect for the author's style of writing, for her research of this first-century setting, and for the tremendous impact of the book." And Beatrice Plumb adds, "It leaves the reader exalted by its stirring, graphic portrayal of the faith and fortitude of early Christians."

Mrs. Chinn is a Borger writer, author of three previous books "The Unappointed," "Voice of the Lord," and "Believe my Love" and a frequent visitor to her many friends in Pampa. Her husband is a petroleum engineer, and she has two married children. She is a past president of Panhandle Pen Women. She traveled to Greece, Israel, and Italy before completing Marcus, thus giving the story a firsthand vividness.

Golden Eagle Country Store Completes First Year of Operation

On Aug. 24, 1964, the Golden Eagle, "country" store, operated by members of the Junior Service League of Pampa, opened its barn-red front door to the public. At the conclusion of its first year of operation, the Golden Eagle has nearly tripled its stock and has already expanded its floor area.

The store, which is located at 216 North Ward, is a non-profit organization operating on a non-assignment basis. This is the way it works: a person may bring in any articles of used clothing or household goods which are clean and in good condition. If considered acceptable by the League committee responsible for receiving and marking the merchandise, the articles are listed on a file card with the consignor's name, address, etc., and a permanent number. The articles are then priced, tagged, and put on the floor for sale. At the present time, the Golden Eagle has a file consisting of cards representing 528 consignors.

When the articles have been sold, a check for 66 per cent of the sale price is sent to the consignor. The Junior Service League keeps 40 per cent for operating expenses and for its charitable projects.

If an article has not sold within three months, the marking committee will notify the consignor. The Junior Service League or allow the committee to mark it down and put it on the floor again.

The store stocks everything from antiques to second-hand jigsaw puzzles. In addition to its large line of women's, men's and children's clothing, the Golden Eagle stocks kitchen articles, goods, books, and infants' wear and furnishings. Among some of the more unusual items that have been sold are a huge antique cradle, an ancient country telephone, and a complete line of dolls.

Mrs. Bob Curry is general chairman of the operation of the Golden Eagle; and League members complete their placement hours by working as markers and clerks. All monies derived from sales are used for operating expenses and the development of a fund which the League hopes will eventually help to start a worthy community project.

Since the store's opening a year ago, a steady flow of customers has passed through its door—from Pampa, and most of the surrounding Panhandle towns. "We are so very grateful to all the people who have placed merchandise with us and to all those who have purchased it," Mrs. Curry said, "and we are especially grateful to the people of Pampa who have given us their enthusiastic support and encouragement."

The Golden Eagle is open Mon., Wed., and Fri. from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Merchandise for sale may be brought in on Tues. and Thurs. mornings after 9 a.m. All clothing must be clean and stylish, with no buttons, belts, or other accessories missing. The store will accept no winter clothing after Feb. 1 and no summer clothing after July 15. All household items must be in good shape with no missing parts.

Former Pampan Marries in Waco Rites

Waco First Baptist Church Chapel was the scene for the Aug. 28 wedding rites of Miss Sue Jeraldene Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sheppard of Wilburton, Okla., former Pampan, and Larry Winston Sherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sherwood of Jasper.

Rev. M. B. Smith officiated the ceremony before an altar appointed with large arc candelabra, flanked by two small candelabra decorated with greenery.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of candlelight ivory satin peau de soie with alencon lace motifs adorning the bodice and train. Her finger-tip veil of ivory silk bridal illusion fell from a matching lace head-dress. She carried a cascading bouquet of ivory carnations centered by a brown orchid.

Dressed in full-length gowns with empire styling of olive green crepe and wearing head-piece of flowers clusters of the matching material with olive silk tulle veils bridal attendants were Miss Martha Jeanne Sheppard, maid of honor and Miss Janet Tate and Miss Teresa Phelps, bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was Danny L. Sherwood and groomsmen were Arthur A. Kees and Kenneth L. Hodges. Serving as ushers were James Rydel and Charles Brown.

Michael and Patrick Sheppard attended as candle-lighters while Miss Tina Kay Sheppard was flower girl and Philip Newland was ring bearer.

Nuptial music was provided by Bob Wayne Ousley, vocalist, and Samuel Porter, organist.

How Much Screening Needed For Patio?

Dear Abby....

She Has a 'Knotty Problem' With Bachelor

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a very fine 36-year-old bachelor. He has high moral standards and no bad habits. He is nice-looking, honest, unselfish, good natured, hardworking, and neat and clean. His only fault is that he never wears a necktie. He has nice clothes, but he always wears a sport shirt and leaves the top button unbuttoned. I have been wanting to ask him to wear a tie, but I can't bring myself to do it. I am 34 and have other gentlemen friends, but none with so many fine qualities. He has hinted about marriage, and would make an ideal husband. I'd like to invite him to our church supper, but I'm afraid he would show up without a tie and I'd be embarrassed. What would you do?

RURAL ROUTE NO. 1
DEAR RURAL: I'd invite this nice-looking, honest, unselfish, good natured, hardworking, neat and clean gentleman to the church supper. Then I'd buy him a necktie and ask him please to wear it. Once you get the tie around his neck, go to work on getting him to tie the knot. And I don't mean in the tie, either.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your advice on something that has me betwixt and between. I am going with a wonderful girl and I want to marry her. But she has a few relatives who are a little off.

past." It's "wrong" to call boys and to go to their homes, uninvited, because it is too forward. Some boys might enjoy having girls run after them, but when a boy wants a girl to be "his girl," he chooses one who waits to be called and called on.

DEAR ABBY: So often in your column a husband complains that his wife is "cold." I say, if that is true, it's her husband's fault. It is so easy to warm up a wife. All you have to do is pay her an honest compliment about herself or her cooking once in a while. Sneak up behind her when she's doing her work and kiss the back of her neck. Put your arm around her in public occasionally. A woman wants others to know that her husband feels some affection for her. Just keep telling her you love her.

If you follow the above instructions, they will work like a doctor's prescription. Take it from a man whose wife is —

DEAR OAKS: Who hasn't? Go ahead and marry her.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has always taught me that it isn't "nice" for a girl to call boys on the phone, or to go to a boy's house unless you have been invited to a planned party there. Well, I have a girl friend who does just that. I know because I have been with her when she's called boys and gone to their houses when we happen to be in the neighborhood.

Is my mother living in the past? Would you call that running after a boy? My mother doesn't know I've done this. But I only do this when I'm with this girl friend because she does not have nerve enough to do it alone. If it's wrong, why is it wrong, Abby? Most girls would never see a boy outside of school if they didn't.

James H. Self of Las Vegas, Nev.

Chaplain Lee Backman officiated the double-ring rites in Kirtland Air Force Base Chapel before an altar appointed with white floral basket arrangements. Nuptial selections were provided by Charles Smith, organist.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a formal-length gown of ivory silk peau de soie trimmed with imported re-embroidered alencon lace featuring a sabrina neckline, brief sleeves and an A-line skirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil of silk illusion secured by a peau de soie pill box coil enhanced by lace appliques and seed pearls and carried a cascade bouquet of ivory carnations and orchids.

Miss Elaine Grady, wearing a gown of turquoise peau de soie with matching lace bodice and carrying a white carnation nosegay, attended as maid of honor. Best man to the bridegroom was Robert Kirchhoff while ushers were the bride's cousins, Ray L. Robbins Jr. and Charles T. Robbins of Phillips.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents following the wedding rites. Presiding at the bride's table was Miss Virginia Lanning and Mrs. Ray L. Robbins, bride's aunt.

For traveling to Colorado on a wedding trip the bride changed into a three-piece suit of turquoise, coffee and gold and lifted the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Self is a 1965 graduate of the University of Texas. The bridegroom attended the University of Nevada. He is presently employed by Edgerton, Gernheshausen and Grier Inc. in Las Vegas, Nev., where the couple will make their home.

Husband a Stay-at-Home In Family of Future

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A land developer, who plans and develops cities from scratch, predicts that by 2015 the design of cities will make some big changes in family living.

As he sees the city of the future, at that schools will be there, at that schools will be close by, stores that offer one-stop shopping will be near everyone, and the family will be able to find every kind of leisure-time activity close by. And since men will work close to their homes instead of commuting great distances and since there will be more and more leisure time, men will be around the house much more than they are today, coming home for lunch and so on.

And he adds: "We are constantly told that the commuting male relinquishes control of the family to his wife because he isn't around much. Well, in our cities in 2015 he'll be a permanent fixture in the home—and he'll have no excuses."

If that's the way it is going to be, homemaking is going to be a bigger job for women than it has ever been before.

As any housewife knows, nothing slows her work down as much as having an idle man underfoot, needing her help with any project he undertakes, creating constant clutter, hurrying her to join in his sporadic moment plans, feeling neglected if she bustles around with housework, as usual.

That's why the housewife tries her best to plan her work so that there is as little as possible for her to join in his spur-of-the-moment to be done on weekends when the man of the family is around.

So if the husband and father (who now happily, for his wife, is gone from home all day five days a week giving her time to get her work done, see her friends and pursue her own interests) is to become a "permanent fixture in the home," life is going to be a lot different for women.

For one thing a wife is likely to get more togetherness than she bargained for. For another, she's likely to be saying, as women used to when men were permanent fixtures around the home, that a woman's work is never done. And maybe she'll like having papa in control of the family, the way men once were. And maybe she won't.

Bench Forms Nucleus for Living Area

CONNECTS GARDEN -- A simple garden bench was the glue that pulled this garden together visually. Placed at the rear property line where it joins around a handsome tree, it makes a crisp boundary. Bench is Douglas fir dimension lumber, serves as favorite party center with firepit, graveled area.

Livability in the back yard means different things to different people.

For some, nothing will do short of a full-scale summerhouse with built-in telephone and TV jacks and indoor quality furniture.

Another idea, gleaned from children's playgrounds, is the use of wood chips. The advantage of using wood chips is that they create a soft, carpet-like feeling and give safe footing — no turned ankles from stepping on a pebble the wrong way. Children can rough-and-tumble on it without fearing skinned elbows and knees. No splinters, either, from wood chips, which endears the material to school personnel. And, of course, if a chip lands in the lawn, it won't break mow blades.

A firepit is the other ingredient that's mighty nice to have for this casual living and entertaining area. They're especially good for evening gatherings, when light and warmth are well-both adults and kids than an old-fashioned wiener and

One would be a floor of some type to avoid the damp grass problem for evening use. Crushed rock is one favorite choice. It gives a tailored look and also works in well with lawn and planting beds.

PATIO SCREENING -- Only minimum screening is needed for privacy when patio is above grade and above direct sight line from neighboring homes. A pair of offset western red cedar screens in an open pattern does the job here. Shrubbery will fill in at the base for additional screening action.

Privacy is the magical ingredient that makes patio living pleasant.

But how to attain privacy is the question. What works well for one yard may be too little — or too much — for another.

As often as not, only minimum screening is needed, and always the best rule to follow is: use as little as necessary.

For example, a house set higher than its neighbors requires less screening simply because upward sight lines are more limited than those directed down.

For this home, a pair of screens seven feet long by five feet tall may be all that's needed. Further, the screens need not be a solid pattern. Instead, they could be built of western red cedar 2x4s in an open pattern. With thick shrubbery around the base and a flowering tree well positioned, the privacy problem could be solved.

On perfectly flat land, many solutions are possible. Always there is the back yard fence, which, if delicately designed, can be both handsome and practical. The board-on-board pattern, which produces strong shadow lines, is especially good for back yard enclosures. To build it, cedar 1x6 inch boards are nailed on alternating sides of the framework, with edges overlapping one inch. Always finish with a cap board for trim appearance.

An increasingly popular solution for flat-land patios is screening right at the patio's edge rather than at the property line. Sometimes only a pair or triplet of baffles will do an entirely adequate job of insuring privacy while leaving most of the yard open to view.

When working with privacy screens, it's always a wise investment to call in a landscape architect, who can determine whether the style, size and Homemakers generally know more about automatic washers than they do about dryers, Fuller learned in trips to various cities.

Dryers, he says, now offer rapid, proper drying, similar to what a woman expects from outdoor drying. How many know this? Early model home dryers had high heat and tended to over-dry clothes, making them rough and wrinkled. Many new models now rely upon electronic devices to "feel" the clothes, just as a woman would with her hands, for proper dryness. They shut off automatically.

It makes no difference, Fuller says, in drying results if the dryer is gas or electric. Which you choose depends upon which is cheaper — gas or electricity — in your community.

When shopping for an automatic dryer, select one that is vented to the outside. A few self-venting models are made, but manufacturers recommend venting.

Couple United in Candlelight Ceremony

At 8 p.m., Aug. 28, Miss Loretta Jean Terry became the bride of James Ray Grantham in Immanuel Temple. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Terry of 1213 E. Francis and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grantham of Laverne, Okla.

Rev. Earl Pruitt pronounced the double-ring vows before an altar appointed with an arrangement of white gladioli flanked by arched candelabra bearing white tapers.

Mrs. Bob McClennathan, organist, presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Bob McClennathan, vocalist, as he sang "Oh Promise Me."

With the "her mother and I avowal" the bride was given in marriage by her father. She was gowned in a chapel-length gown of white lace over bridal satin designed with a fitted bodice featuring a scalloped square neckline and wrist-length sleeves terminating in petal points, and a softly gathered skirt that swept into a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of bridal illusion fell from a seed pearl tiara. She carried a lace covered white Bible, gift from her great grandmother, topped by a cascading arrangement of white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue and wore a six-pence-in-her shoe.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Billy Thompson, matron of honor, and Mrs. Gerald Johnson, bride's sister, and Mrs. Bill Terry, bride's sister-in-law, bridesmaids. Dressed identically in waltz length gowns fashioned of pale blue silk brocade, they wore white carnation corsages.

P. D. Grantham of Laverne, Okla., served as his brother's best man while groomsmen were the bride's brother, Bill Terry, and Gary Peterson of Perryton. Sharing ushers' duties were Jack Hulsey and Gerald Johnson, brothers-in-law of the bride.

Miss Betty Jean Terry, bride's niece, and Miss Mary Ruth Pruitt, dressed identically to the honor attendants, lit the cathedral tapers.

Flower girl, Miss Sherry Lynn Terry, bride's niece, was gowned in a white organza frock with lace panels falling from a large sash belt and carried a white lace colonial basket filled with rose petals. The bride's nephew, Kevin Johnson, ring bearer, carried the rings on a white lace pper satin heart-shaped pillow.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Terry chose a dress fashioned of shaded blue print complemented by black patent accessories. Mrs. Grantham selected a pink and brown floral print dress and black patent accessories. Corsages for both mothers were of white carnations.

The Church Annex was the scene for the reception held following the wedding ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth over blue satin, was centered with a blue and white floral arrangement flanked by crystal candelabra bearing white tapers. A crystal punch service appointed one end of the table while the three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple and decorated with blue roses, rested on the other end. Mrs. Jack Hulsey, bride's sister, served the wedding cake while Mrs. Eugene Leigh presided at the punch bowl.

The new Mrs. Grantham donned a frock fashioned of blue and aquamarine print with fitted bodice and pleated skirt, accented by black patent accessories, before departing on a wedding trip to Alva, Okla. She lifted the white carnation corsage from her bridal bouquet. The bride, a 1964 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Midwest Bible College at Webb City, Mo. Mr. Grantham, a 1964 graduate of Laverne, Okla., High School attended Midwest Bible College. He is now an industrial arts and agriculture student at Northwestern State College, Alva, Okla., where the couple will make their home. PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS Pre-nuptial events feting the bride included a wedding shower given on Aug. 13 in the home of Mrs. Ruth Pruitt with Mmes. Geneva Thompson, Elinore Mercer and Nancy Pletcher serving as co-hostesses; and a wedding shower given in Laverne, Okla., on Aug. 24.

A Little Touch of the Real

By HELEN HENNESSY, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — Fur that is frankly fake has been around for a long time and it gets better-looking each year. But this may be the season to top the whole story.

The news (the result of a process developed by Alamac Knitting Mills) is that now there are fabrics for synthetic fur coats which contain 15 per cent genuine fur fiber. In the past, fake fur was all synthetic, chiefly blends of Dynel and Orlon.

TAPERED EDGE — Alamac's new pile of Dynel blended with 15 per cent genuine American raccoon fur fibers is cut individually by a master fur craftsman to preserve the length of the fibers to make coat shown in other photo.

Coats made from the new fabric are cut individually with razor-sharp instruments (as real fur is cut) so that the ends of the hair taper naturally. The coats are also individually blended for color so that the markings give each coat a "faded" look. This is a result impossible to achieve if the fabric is color-blended by the yard.

Lou Nierenberg, a master craftsman, who designs coats from the new knitted fabrics, explained the advantages of the addition of genuine fur fiber to the fabric and then handling it as though it were real fur.

"The fur fibers guide the synthetic fibers into position," he said. "They keep the fake fur from going to sleep like a tulip petal on a damp day. And they give the finished fabric a beautiful hand."

As to cutting the fabric as though it were the real thing Nierenberg said, "When a gar-the hairs go all one way and stay that way.

Alamac's new fabrics include raccoon, which is further news, for until now no one has tried to imitate raccoon. Each coat has 15 raccoon hairs to every 100 hairs of Dynel. Beaver and mink also are among the new fabrics and other "furs" are in the works. Aside from women's coats there are men's coats and children's wear, as well.

A silicon finish makes these moderately priced garments moth and mildew-proof and non-allergenic, pretty much waterproof and they require no storage.

Should you doubt all this interest in fake fur is warranted, an anecdote of Lou Nierenberg's may sway you.

He was sent to Russia by our State Department to teach his craft. And in Russia, the land where everyone is pictured muffled to the eyes in real fur, the ment is cut individually the way real fur is handled, the ends of the hairs are tapered and look like fur does.

"Take a look at the original fake fur coats that were cut in bulk like cloth. The edges—hems, collars, sleeves—look as though they were sheared with a lawn mower or given a Beate haircut."

Nierenberg has installed closed circuit television in his office through which he can watch the entire factory all day. I felt I had wandered into a scene from "1984." But this kindly "Big Brother" said the television sim-to immediately contact cutters, blenders or pressers without wasting time should any difficulty arise. And well it might, for the process seems detailed and complicated.

Footwear Folklore For Fall Reading

By HELEN HENNESSY NEW YORK (NEA) — Feet and footwear have been the basis of many an interesting fact and fancy over the years. One pioneer firm in the shoe business has kept a running file of these tales.

For those who are light of heart and would enjoy a little folklore instead of ashion on the subject of footwear I cite a few of these tall tales for summer reading:

Once upon a time, the natives of ancient Greece carved the names of their sweethearts or wives on the soles of their shoes so that "wherever they trod, they might leave a witness of their devotion." (Sounds more like the origin of "he makes a doormat of her" to me.)

Centuries ago, it was customary for the Roman shoemakers to form parades almost daily "so marchers' shoes would wear out quickly and give the shoemakers more work." (Since all roads led to Rome, wouldn't you think they would get enough business without resorting to such skullduggery?)

Nicotine literally causes cold feet. In fact, experiments show that excessive smoking will drop the temperature of the pedal extremities by as much as 10 degrees. (No wonder smoking is dangerous. A person could develop la grippe.)

It was once the custom after a wedding to tap the bride on the head with a shoe and to hang the bridegroom's shoe over the bed as a symbol of his authority. (This one leads me to suspect an enterprising woman invented the twin bed.)

Boots on a table foretell an argument. Put them underneath quickly to avoid one. (Any self-respecting housewife would fight about such sloppiness even today.)

Top O' Texas 4-H Club Members Meet, Study 'Unit Three Money Management'

Members of Top O' Texas 4-H Club enrolled in Unit Three of Money Management met recently in the home of Mrs. Derrel Hogsett, 2356 Aspen Dr.

Topics discussed were "Pay Your Money and Take Your Choice" and "The Cost of Family Living." The members discussed recent purchases they had made and why they thought it a good buy. They felt that it was an advantage to live in a city like Pampa where one has a large selection of commodities to choose from.

Family finances are earned in different ways with one or both parents and sometimes the children earning the money. The cost of family living is based upon money spent for food, clothing, and shelter; and upon time and energy providing everyday needs such as preparing meals and doing laundry. The members discussed ways in which they can do their share to help maintain their homes. Each was to discuss with their parents the different costs of their individual family, and how they could help save money, time and energy. This training will bene-

The Mature Parent Adopted Adolescence Needs Reassurance

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: We adopted our daughter 15 years ago when she was one month old. This week she finally said what I've always known she would say. We've been having arguments over late hours and when I told her she would have to keep her promises to be home from dates at the times we'd agreed on, she turned on me and said: "You're not my real mother! Who are you to tell me what to do?" Please help me. When I think of what I have given this girl...

ANSWER: You'd better do a lot more thinking about it.

Because when we really know the value of what we've given a child, we don't mind if she calls us a "bad" mother, an "unreal" one or any other kind of mother. Though we may feel momentary hurt, the worth of that giving becomes instantly alive to us, so real that the hurt soon passes.

Of the adopted child who has called us her "unreal" mother, we can only think, "Oh, darling, that 'real' mother of yours housed you resentfully for only 9 months. But I, the 'unreal' one have housed you lovingly for 15 years. So, if it's 'unreal' I am to you, that is fine with me."

Then we'd be ready to say to the adopted child: "Have you been wondering about your real mother, wondering if I've told you all I know about her? If so, let me make an appointment for you with the adoption agency that gave you to daddy and me so that you can ask them any questions that are on your mind."

In adolescence, sex feelings in adopted children intensifies interest in their physical parents. What they really want, is reassurance of the trustworthiness of their adoptive parents.

Suspicion of our reliability is characteristic of all adolescents. If we've an adopted daughter, 15, who is questioning our reliability with disparaging comparisons to her "real" mother, it is sensible to put her in touch with that adoption agency that can confirm our truthfulness.

What concerns me about your letter is what you say about "always" knowing that this girl would disparage you.

It tells us that you yourself have been living with a good deal of doubt of your worth of her. It's one thing to say: "When I think of what I have given this child who has hurt me." But it is quite another thing to so appreciate your giving that the whole world could call you an "unreal" mother and you wouldn't bat an eye. It's the absence of your own respect for the reality of the motherhood you have given this girl which is the true problem here. If it is not real to you, it can't become real to the child. She can only do what you do—disparage it.

Alexander—the Great—accomplished the legendary feat of "cutting the Gordian Knot."

School And You

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LIGHT: With the stepped-up programs in education today — kindergartners learning to read, first graders studying algebra, high school students mastering calculus — my kids don't have time to call their souls their own. Every minute counts, it seems, and any student who dawdles falls woefully behind his classmates.

Yet, with all the stuff they have to assimilate between kindergarten and college, their schools still take time out for frill subjects. In my boys' elementary school, for instance, music, art, and gym classes take four hours out of the school week. This doesn't seem to jibe with the emphasis on reading, math, and science.

Seems to me this time would be far better spent in supervised study and individual help so the children would have less to do at home. The kids are warned not to waste time—but what about the schools?—SELI OUS DAD

ANSWER: Most schools don't consider sources like music, art, and physical education a waste of time. To paraphrase an old adage, all math and no music makes Jack a dull boy.

In the last decade our schools have taken on a number of responsibilities that may be somewhat questionable from a strictly academic viewpoint. Nevertheless, they are important. One of these is education for leisure time.

Paradoxically, while students are working harder and harder, the older generation is easing up, with shorter work weeks, more vacation time, and earlier retirement. Consequently students must learn to use the leisure time they will eventually have, developing interest and hobbies to fall back on in later years.

Recently the American Music Conference queried more than 100 psychologists about the psychological implications of increasing leisure time; the responsibility of schools in preparing students for it, and the value of various studies in meeting nonvocational objectives. Almost 85 per cent felt schools should foster creative leisure-time activities and cited music, art, and physical education courses as the best means for doing so. Less than 2 per cent thought such courses took too much time from more important subjects.

In my experience, I've found "special classes" give both students and classroom teachers a welcome break in the school day. Relax, Dad. That four hours a week may help your children to get more out of life, both now and 50 years hence.

Please send your school problems to Susan Light in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Calories Count

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two popular notions concerning weight control are pure hogwash, says Dr. Jean Mayer, a Harvard University nutritionist. The notions: that calories don't count, that with the right kind of diet you can eat all you want and not gain an ounce.

Reporting in the "American Journal of Nursing," Mayer explained that to lose weight, the caloric intake must be less than the amount of calories expended by exercise. He said no other formula works. He underlined this point: calorie burning exercise is an important part of any weight reduction regime.

Texas Economy, At a Rosy Peak, Faces No Danger

AUSTIN (UPI) — Despite a summer drop in business activity, Texas' economy remains at a rosy peak with no signs of declining, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the bureau, said the state's index of business activity declined slightly in July but "it has been advancing consistently for more than four years, with only erratic downward fluctuations each of which has been immediately offset by another increase."

At the beginning of August the seasonally adjusted index compiled by the Bureau of Business Research stood at 164.5, compared to the 1957-59 base period index of 100. The June reading was 167.

The index is based on bank debits in standard metropolitan statistical areas of the state.

Stockton said the first seven months of 1965 were up 12 per cent over the same period last year and July 1965 was 8 per cent over July 1964. "The length and strength of the rise in business activity that has been uninterrupted since early 1961 have set an all-time record," he said.

Dallas had the highest business increase among the state's 20 larger cities, up 21 per cent.

The business analyst said Texas business has weaknesses, "but there does not seem to be a strong enough concentration of soft spots in the economy to indicate that any change in the present high level of business is imminent."

FIRE WHEN READY! — Members of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club can do just that like these two are taking advantage of the club's indoor range at Recreation Park. ## Firearms Show Set By Local Gun Club

By RAY RODGERS, JR.
The Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club will hold a Modern and Antique Gun Show in the National Guard Armory Sept. 11 and 12.

According to Club President Jerry Lunsford the show will feature all types of weapons: rifles and handguns, antique and modern, as the title of the exhibition indicates.

This is just one of many functions sponsored by the club throughout the year. Other activities include a Winter League Shooting Competition, NRA Sight-In Day scheduled for later this month, informal turkey shoots and other shooting matches throughout the year.

Club members, not limited to local residents or the male sex, share a common bond: love of guns.

The club's roster includes members, male and female, from Amarillo, Panhandle, White Deer, Canadian and LeFors.

Some of the men who have competed against women in matches have gone on record acclaiming many of them better shots than most men.

The Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club was formed in October, 1953, with approximately 40 members. Since that time, despite some members moving away, the membership has grown to 96 at the present time.

The club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association sharing its purpose and objective: "the encouragement of organized rifle and pistol shooting among citizens of the United States, including residents for our community, with a view toward a better knowledge of the part of such citizens of the safe handling and care of such firearms as well as improved marksmanship."

The first concern of the Pampa club is safety in shooting. It shares the enviable record of the NRA and all affiliated clubs that there has never been a person injured at a sanctioned match in the United States.

Two ranges are maintained for use of members and local law enforcement officers. The indoor range for pistol and small bore shooters is located at Recreation Park. It provides four shooting positions and movable targets.

The outdoor range for large bore (.30 caliber) is located about one and one-half miles east of Hoover on the Bond farm. It is equipped with two targets and has firing positions at various distances up to 300 yards. The range is equipped with telephones so that the target pits are in contact with the firing positions.

The club carries insurance covering both ranges for the protection of any person suffering possible injuries provided a member is in charge.

All local law enforcement officers are allowed to use the indoor range for pistol practice and some of the officers are expert marksmen. The local police department uses the range when officers are shooting for their qualification.

The club is connected with the army program of Civilian Marksmanship, through NRA, and the Director of Civilian Marksmanship provides free ammunition and other items to club members who fire the prescribed qualification course.

Shooters who are NRA members can also obtain surplus rifles and other items from the same source.

The program also includes a junior group that teaches teenage shooters gun safety and supervises the firing of small bore rifles by the youngsters.

The club, as is the NRA, is active in opposition to Congress-

Khrushchev's present residence is beyond the 25 mile limit within which foreign diplomats and newsmen are permitted to travel freely.

The Khrushchevs' also have a five-room town apartment at Staro Konushenny No. 19, next door to the Canadian Embassy. He has not visited the Moscow apartment since last spring.

However, Khrushchev's wife is seen in Moscow occasionally on shopping trips. She drives into town in a chauffeured Zim car and does most of her shopping at a special store reserved for high Kremlin officials.

Hardin-Simmons U. Expects Record Enrollment for Fall Semester

ABILENE — Slightly more than 1,600 students are expected to sign up for classes during registration, Sept. 13-14. This will represent a modest gain over last year's enrollment. Classes will begin Sept. 11.

Whaley made the announcement noting that the figure did not include 30 degrees awarded by the Graduate School of Business.

Orientation for freshmen students will be held Sept. 8-10. Among other highlights will include a conference for faculty and staff personnel on Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Registration for night classes will be conducted Sept. 13 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Last date to enroll for credit in any course is Friday, Sept. 24.

The 1840 United States dollar was first of the regular dollar series to portray the seated figure of Liberty on the obverse.

MODS SURPRISE

VARMOUTH, England (UPI)—Vacationers grumbled and feared the worst Sunday when a column of 200 teen-age "mods" pulled into town, near the site of previous battles with another teen-age element known as the "rockers." The tourists did double-takes when the mods joined a seaside mission service and sang, "We Shall Overcome" and "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."
