

U.S. Fighting New Kind of War in Viet Nam

By RAY RODGERS JR.
The war in Viet Nam is a strange war... not the kind ever fought before by the United States. But for the first time the conflict is beginning to look a little more favorable for the United States.
These were among comments made by Cmdr. Delbert Grantham, deputy chief of the United States Naval Advisory group in Viet Nam.
Grantham is in Pampa for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Veima Grantham, 1325 Mary Ellen. He is one of 600 Navy military advisors in the war torn country and was for several months advisor to Capt. Tran Van Phan, who is now commander in chief of the Viet Nam Navy force.

Grantham said that even though there is no foreseeable end to the conflict, for the first time things are beginning to look better for the United States. He said that due to the increasing presence of American servicemen in Viet Nam the people are beginning to have more security.
"This security of the Vietnamese people is the key to an ultimate victory for South Viet Nam," the military advisor said.
Grantham, who has spent 18 months in Viet Nam, said he feels an increasing number of Americans will be sent there.
Grantham answered a question often asked, "If an increased number of servicemen seems to be the answer in Viet Nam, why don't we send an armada of planes, ships and men to the country and run the Communists out?"

The military advisor paraphrased his answer by stating, "First - all the United States has never been engaged in a war of this type. We actually don't know who or where our enemy is. The enemy may be a humble rice worker in the daytime and a bomb throwing terrorist by night. Everyone looks alike, friend or enemy," he said.
"The only way the United States can actually win over the Communists or help the South Vietnamese live in peace is to rid the people of fear of the communists."
He said the Communists carry back a fear campaign among the people of South Viet Nam. The people are afraid if they don't help or join the Reds they will be tortured or their wives and children tortured or killed.

"When the United States can get enough men into Viet Nam to provide security and safety for these people, then a major victory against the Communist will be won," Grantham said.
He stated that maybe the Reds have a nucleus of only five or six persons. But this nucleus can instill a fear into 100 Vietnamese to join their movement or die.
"Therefore, when the people of the country know they can say 'no' to the Communists and have someone there to back them up, then the Communists' back is broken," he said.

Cmdr. Grantham related that the people of South Viet Nam are just now beginning to believe in Americans. "For awhile the Reds had great propaganda machines working for them, informing the Viet Nam people that the United States was much like France and was there to overthrow the country," he said.
The people over there are just beginning to trust us and understand that we are there to assist and help them.
Grantham stated that many persons living in the United States picture the war in Viet Nam as a backward type of war with molotov cocktails as the main weapon.
"This could not be farther from the truth," he said, "for recently the Communists received anti-aircraft missiles and are equipped with the latest weapons."

Asked what would happen if the United States got out of Viet Nam, Grantham said the results would be disastrous. He said the Reds would overthrow the country in a very short time and gain another stronghold in the world.
He said most of the world was looking to the United States to uphold freedom in the small country, "and if we fail, our worldwide prestige as a leader among free nations would perish."
Grantham, a 20-year veteran in the Navy, is en route to the Naval War College Station in Newport, Va.

Summer Back for Weekend Rerun

Mercury Due to Hit In 90s Again Today

Summer apparently forgot something and came back to look for it Saturday and was to continue the search today.
The mercury climbed to a sizzling 91 degrees in Pampa Saturday to equal a record set on Oct. 10 in 1920 and 1921.
The U.S. Weather Bureau said the record temperatures were to remain in the Panhandle and over most of West Texas today.
Records or near record temperatures marked the weather picture for most all points in the state Saturday.
Forecasters predicted the weather will stay the same through tonight and said there was little indication of any noticeable change for the next day or two.
As the fair and mild weather blanketed Texas Saturday it marked the third rainless day and there were no forecasts of rain for any part of the state.
Temperatures were in the mid-80s to 90s over most all parts of the state. Presidio, as usual, led the state's hotspots with 101 degrees, the second

Commission to Revise City Boundary Lines

An ordinance establishing Pampa's current city limits and boundary lines will be introduced for first reading at Tuesday's regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Commission.
City Manager Jim White said Saturday the legislation will declare metes and bounds and give a description of all property annexed in recent years.
White said the ordinance was necessary to fix a starting point for compliance with state law which allows a city the right to annex new territory equal to only 10 per cent of its populated area each year.
The city manager said a city is permitted to carry over its allowable annexation area up to 30 per cent.
The legislation to be presented Tuesday is not aimed to annex any new area, White stated.
Other business on the Tuesday agenda will include:
First reading of an ordinance to renew the city's 20-year franchise with Pioneer Natural Gas Co.
Appointment of a new member to the City Traffic Commission to succeed Harold Moore, resigned.
Acceptance of deeds from I. W. Tinney and the Gray County Foundation for a park area along Red Deer Creek, west of N. Hobart St.
Approval of payment to A. W. Boren in the amount of $42,205.14 for work on the city's sewage treatment plant.
Approval of a request from John W. Price to transfer tax-cab permits to James W. Lewis.
Also on the Tuesday agenda will be adoption of a resolution accepting work completed by the Atlas Tank Co. approval of an alley dedication in the Doolley Addition, and payment of current monthly bills.

U.S. Asks Castro Not to Start Open Door Policy

MIAMI (UPI) — The United States disclosed Saturday it has asked Fidel Castro not to start his "open door policy" today, and permit Cubans to try to make it across the Florida Straits in small boats.
John H. Crimmins, coordinator of Cuban affairs, told a news conference that a U.S. note containing the request and outlining proposals for the projected mass migration was delivered in Havana Friday night by the Swiss Embassy.
Delivery was delayed several days because of a mixup in Swiss communications. He said that "up to now we have had no reaction" on the note from the Cuban government which apparently is planning to launch a small boat armada Sunday.
There were unconfirmed reports that scores of small boats from Florida were waiting in nearby Bahamas Islands for the signal to go into the designated debarkation port of Camarioca, Matanzas province, today.
Crimmins said the United States wants to provide the transportation involved, by sea or air, rather than have it provided by the Cuban government as proposed by Castro.
Crimmins also said that "special emphasis on rapid resettlement out of the Miami area" is foremost in the planning of the State Department with local leaders.

Premier Takes Rhodesia Step Closer to Freedom

LONDON (UPI) — Premier Ian Smith of Rhodesia took Britain's white-ruled African colony a step nearer a unilateral declaration of independence Saturday. "We would rather go out fighting than crawling on our hands and knees," Smith said.
Smith spoke at a press conference following collapse of talks with the British government on the future of the self-governing colony.
"I will be going back for a final decision," Smith said, "and I don't believe it will take long."
He said he would confer with Rhodesian leaders on his return to Salisbury but added, "I think we have made up our minds already."

N. Y. Papers To Run Again

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six New York newspapers, idled for 23 days, rushed preparations Saturday to bring papers back to their readers following tentative settlement of a strike by the American Newspaper Guild against the New York Times.
The Long Island Press, which had continued with an out-of-city edition during the strike was the first paper to hit the streets Saturday after announcement of a strike settlement Friday by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.
The Daily News and the Journal-American said they would publish Sunday editions. The other papers planned to resume publication Monday.

Johnson 'Coming Along Nicely' in Hospital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's doctors said Saturday he was "coming along beautifully" in his recovery from gall bladder surgery.
They also revealed he still has one kidney stone "that has been there for years" but is not considered a problem.
The President, with help from a doctor and nurse, walked "several more steps than he was able to yesterday."
He also sat for more than an hour in a chair beside his bed during which he signed into law an interest equalization bill and attended briefly to some other business matters. He signed 12 other measures into law while reclining in his bed.
Dr. James M. Cain, his longtime family physician, told reporters that Johnson — a bit more than 24 hours after his Friday morning operation at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Md., was "feeling fine" though a little fatigued.
He had "a minor headache this morning" but this was among "minor things that one would expect" at this post-operative period, Cain said.
Johnson's surgery was for removal of his gall bladder, a gall stone and a kidney stone. The latter was something the President's doctors said they were aware of for a year or so but were not sure they would remove in the present operation. (See PRESIDENT, Page 3)

COUNSELOR'S JOB TOUGH

Problems Vary From Home Work To Entering Harvard

Pampa High School's dedicated counselor, Mrs. Ruby Capps, has assumed the task of doing everything from telling young teenagers high school students where the rest room is to helping them get into Harvard.
Mrs. Capps is faced with the momentous task of counseling and guiding almost 1,200 students.
She is in charge of counseling programs to provide assistance appropriate to the educational levels of the students by (1) assessing the abilities, aptitudes, interests and education needs of each student; (2) developing understanding of educational career opportunities and requirements; (3) helping students, directly and through their parents and teachers, to achieve educational and career development commensurate with their abilities, aptitudes, interest and opportunities; and (4) interpreting student needs for expanded or modified educational activities.

There are 1,200 students in Pampa High School. There is one counselor. The recommended number of students per counselor is 250-300. The task is massive.
School Principal Cameron Marsh said almost every student needs someone he or she can talk with about school problems, problems at home, dating or a variety of other problems faced by senior high students. It is simply Mrs. Capps job to talk, guide and counsel with each individual student about his problems.

"One girl might come in with problems about her boy friend or a problem at home," Mrs. Capps said, "then the next instance someone wanting help in getting into college."
"However, we don't furnish a shoulder for the student to cry on," Mrs. Capps said. "We do not make decisions for students," she stated. "In fact we want the students to make the decisions for themselves."
"Our task is not one of discipline. We impose no discipline. What we try to do is teach the student to practice self-discipline," the counselor said.
Mrs. Capps, who has a master's degree in guidance counseling, is assigned the task of dealing with "the whole student." Not primarily concerned with the child's progress in mathematics, science or English literature, Mrs. Capps surveys the students entire scholastic program, relates it to his home background and his individual personality and tries to come up with a solution to problems whose complexities sometimes would surprise the parents.

In some instances this is done without the knowledge of the students or the parents.
Another task of Mrs. Capps is the systematic testing of the educational levels of the students.

NEW YORK (UPI)—J. W. Sparks & Co. feels that although business fundamentals remain sound, the rising tide of speculation, rising money rates and the uncertainty of the market on the whole justify increased caution in investing. The company advises selective profit-taking in fully-priced issues but would retain solid long-term investments.

Edward A. Viner & Co. points out that the New York Stock Exchange has banned stop orders on seven issues last week due to widespread speculative excesses. Because of this, the company advises caution until the current froth has been dissipated.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

New books on the shelves of Lovett Memorial Library this week are:

"The Beard and I" — Tommy Whitehead; a warm, witty book by the wife of Commander Whitehead, unofficial ambassador from Britain to the U.S. Mrs. Whitehead has seen much of America and what she has to say about our way of life is interesting and amusing.

"Grand Slam" — Jim Bunning; in this book, Jim Bunning, Whitey Ford, Mickey Mantle, and Willie Mays reveal in clear terms what they feel are the essentials in the making of a solid ballplayer.

"A Man Named Hoffman" — Berton Roueche; a varied and unique collection of eleven medical narratives. Among the subjects covered are salmonellosis, placebo, and de ja vu, the fleeting sensation everyone has at one time or another that all the details of a situation have occurred before.

"Waiting For a Tiger" — Ben Healey; involves an artist and a very mousy young woman who believes that someone is trying to kill her.

"Henry Star, Last of the Real Badmen" — Glenn Shirley; the story of a most unusual bandit — part Cherokee, part white, who was saved twice from the gallows by presidential commutation.

"R.S.V.P. Murder" — Mignon Eberhart; an unsolved murder, six blackmail letters, a paralyzing New York blizzard and the frantic search for the diary of a dead criminal lawyer are the elements that make up this latest novel by a famous author.

"Shadow of a Star" — Jamie Lee Cooper; set in the old Northwest territory New France, and New Spain in the 1680s, this is the story of three brothers who fled the Pyrenees after their sister had been burned as a witch, and the story of how they set out to find each other.

"Petrovka 36" — Julian Seronov; a Russian thriller that comes straight from the Soviet Union. The reader encounters gangsters, beatniks, junkies, murderers, juvenile delinquents, and tough cops.

"Constantine" — Frank G. Slaughter; the first volume in "The Pathway of Faith Series"; this narrative sets forth the events of Constantine's gradual acceptance and then devoted use of Christianity to consolidate the Empire.

"The Schatten Affair" — Frederic Morton; describes the return to contemporary Berlin of a young American of refugee background who becomes dramatically embroiled in the cross currents of that complex city.

Business Highlights

By United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment in the United States fell to the lowest level in mid-September since October 1957 on a seasonally adjusted rate of 4.4 per cent of the work force. This occurred even though employment also fell as several million teen-agers returned to school.

CHICAGO — The Chicago & North Western Railroad has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow it to buy Union Pacific certificates of deposits already issued by the U.P. in exchange for Rock Island shares with its own certificates of deposit. This indicated the North Western still has high hopes of blocking the U.P. bid for the Rock Island.

CLEVELAND — The M.A. Hanna Co., once an industrial operating empire but a closed-end investment company since 1961, has proposed to liquidate and distribute assets of around $609 million or $51 a share to its stockholders.

'Skin Banks' Preserved in Cold Storage

CHICAGO (UPI) — The successful preservation and transplantation of human skin which had been kept in super-cold storage for up to 608 days was reported today in the journal of the American Medical Association (AMA).

"Skin banks," the authors pointed out, are not new, but there has been difficulty in preserving skin for long periods. Human skin quickly deteriorates when merely refrigerated. Hard freezing often destroys the skin's ability to survive when transplanted.

The authors, Drs. Ronald Berggren and Herndon G. Lehr of the University of Pennsylvania's School of Medicine, described how they soaked split-thickness skin in protective solutions of glycerol or the experimental drug, Dsmo, and then gradually cooled it to temperatures as low as minus 385 degrees Fahrenheit. A liquid nitrogen freezer was used. Using the skin thus stored, 12 of 26 transplants of the patients own skin were permanently successful, he said. Six of 12 homografts, or transplants from donors, survived for at least 10 days. There was a high percentage of success when the body areas on which the skin was grafted was in good condition, the doctors said.

Writing in the current issue of the "FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin" Hoover said "Just criticism had been valuable in helping police better serve the public."

Noting the annual observance of National Newspaper Week (Oct. 10-16), Hoover said, "Over the years, law enforcement at times has been taken to the editorial woodshed for its shortcomings and mistakes. We expect just criticism. We profit by it and the public is better served because of it."

Toys Coming in For Underprivileged Kids

The Pampa Fire Department has started receiving used toys to be repaired and given to underprivileged children at Christmas.

Firemen at Pampa's three fire stations will all have a hand in the annual program.

Firemen at the Central Station will be in charge of repairing the toys while firemen at the two substations will be in charge of painting them.

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said the department would rather have rolling toys since they are usually the easiest to repair and make the best gift.

The fire department has been engaged in the toy repair program for approximately 20 years.

Persons are asked to search around the houses for any old, broken toys that could be repaired by the firemen.

The station is equipped with a welding machine which enables the men to repair metal toys such as bicycles, scooters, tricycles and other metal parts on toys.

Plastic toys are usually hard or impossible to repair if they have been damaged severely, but metal, wooden and toys that are stable can be repaired easily if it takes parts of two or three damaged items to make one usable toy.

Also, Winborn said the department is in need of usable paint brushes or cans of paint.

The toys are distributed to needy children during an annual Christmas Party, sponsored by the VFW.

Anyone who has any repairable toys is asked to bring them by the Central Fire Station. However, firemen said if it is impossible for them to bring the toys to the station firemen will pick up the toys.

Expected to testify at the trial are Ray Dudley, Pampa; Hubert Stone, deputy director of civil defense of Washington, who will testify by deposition; Col. Jesse Ward of the Texas Department of Public Safety; Bailey Rankin, Dallas, United States assistant district attorney and Hemphill County Judge Sanford Cole.

KGNC Radio, TV Stations Sold for $5.9 Million

Whittenburg is publisher of the Globe-News. KGNC's AM and TV operations are affiliated with NBC. The radio station has a power of 10,000 watts and is a regional-type station.

The Globe-News formed KGNC in 1935 when it bought WDAG and KGRS and merged them.

Stauffer Publications operates newspapers in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma. Its other broadcasting properties include WIBW-AM-FM-TV, Topeka; two other radio stations in Kansas and one in Oklahoma.

Johnson

No announcement was made of its existence until after the surgery.

The remaining stone, according to doctor Cain, has not changed in size for at least five years and is imbedded in the meaty part of the kidney which produces urine.

Cain said the stone was "very unlikely to move," that it had not interfered with the kidney functions, and had produced no symptoms of discomfort or infection.

He said he knew of "no way in which the President could be doing better than he is" and added:

"He's coming along beautifully. We are going to have our trouble keeping him in bed as long as we want him to stay. . . . We're going to keep him by main force until we think it is safe to leave." Cain said in answer to newsmen's queries as to how long Johnson would have to stay hospitalized.

The earlier forecasts were for 10 to 14 days.

Moyers said the president had "received dozens of floral arrangements" and had asked that some be sent to military patients at the hospital particularly to the veterans home from Viet Nam.

Baptists from 22 churches in this area will hear Harry Hamblen of Dallas outline a new program of advance as they meet with the Barrett Baptist Church Tuesday. The occasion is the 75th annual meeting of the Palo Duro Baptist Association.

Six Pampa churches participate in the Palo Duro Association; none of the original churches which started the association in pioneer days are still in existence. The Pampa churches attending are First, Hobert, Highland, Central, Calvary, and Barrett.

Messengers representing more than 11,000 Baptists in the 22 churches of this area will hear Hamblen explain a plan called "Faith in Action", a program of planned growth for local churches.

Sessions at the Barrett church, 903 E. Beryl, will begin Tuesday at 2:30. The night session begins at 7:00 p.m. Board meetings will be held at 5:00 p.m. and the Barrett members will serve supper at 6:00. James Coffman, pastor of the Groom First Baptist Church, will bring the annual sermon at the evening session. Murle Rogers, new pastor of the First Baptist Church in Skellytown, will also be introduced to the association.

With a budget of more than $7,500 annually, the Palo Duro Baptist Association conducts monthly conferences and fellowships and leadership clinics for

The Red Cross monthly board will meet October 12 with Dr. Julian Key, fund chairman in charge of the program. Wes Langham, chapter chairman urged all chairmen and board members to be present. Meeting will be at 7 a.m. at the Coronado Inn.

The teacher-sponsor Principal breakfast Monday morning was attended by twenty persons. Joe Page, chairman of Youth Red Cross named November for Red Cross month and urged all of the schools to have their fund drive during the second week of November for this year. The Friendship boxes will be packed during the month of November also and this year they will be sent to the displaced children of Viet-Nam for their supplies for school. The program was given by a panel from High School students Miss Glenna Brown told of her trip to the National Convention in Houston and Miss Cindy Hearn and Kenneth Cowan told of the trip to the Training Center at Amarillo Air Force Base last May, 1964. A financial report was given by the Executive Secretary of the American Red Cross.

Mr. Dick Strayer from Amarillo will be the guest speaker on Red Cross at a noon luncheon for the Rotary Club in Pampa Wednesday. Mr. Strayer is the Field Representative for the Panhandle of Texas and is always ready to assist chapters who have a need. Mr. Strayer is working with Borger and Phillips in this year's Fund Drive for their communities.

We hope to have another First Aid Instructor for Robert E. Lee Junior High School soon. Standard and Junior First Aid is being taught this year at Robert E. Lee to the ninth grade students in PE. This is a wonderful beginning and we hope that all Secondary schools will include this important course in their Curricula.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON

Much political courage is required of those U.S. Senators who follow Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen in the filibuster to protect American citizens against national compulsory unionism. Such Senators invite reprisal on two fronts. Not merely do they offend organized labor. They also offend Lyndon B. Johnson. But all is not lost for those Senators who oppose compulsory unionism.

These Senators seem to have in their corner the people. As nearly as this reporter can discover, the national consensus seems to be that this Congress should not tinker with the Taft-Hartley's section 14-B, which permits states to forbid compulsory unionism.

If the people of any state prefer the unqualified right-to-work over compulsory unionism, section 14-B permits the state government to so order. Union leaders call this outrageous. LBJ supports them, apparently in payment for union votes in 1964. As a member of Congress, Johnson was a mighty singer in the choir in praise of the Taft-Hartley Act—all of it.

Organized labor possesses and shrewdly spends from a political treasury fit for a multimillionaire. Organized labor commands literally millions of schooled political workers. Together organized labor and LBJ menace the political future of any senator who dares oppose them.

But bold opponents of the Johnson-Labor powerhouse should be of good cheer. If they tell well their story in this current filibuster, they are likely to hold the respect and support of the people. Supported by the people, these bold opponents of the Washington powerhouse could tell LBJ and the union leaders to go fly a kite.

In 1962, Pope John XXIII opened the second session of the Ecumenical Council with a plea for Christian unity.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I've just reached an agreement with your Appellate Division on some business expenses I took. How can I be sure that somebody higher up than the man I dealt with won't reopen my case and ask for more taxes?

A—Agreements reached with Appellate are final. Cases are not reopened unless there is evidence of fraud, malfeasance, concealment, misrepresentation of facts or an important mathematical mistake.

Q—I read recently that IRS arrested two fellows for failing to have a gambling stamp. Who is required to have these stamps?

A—All persons who accept wagers such as in a numbers game or who take bets on horse races, baseball games and other sporting events are required to register and purchase a $50 special occupational tax stamp annually. This requirement includes employees who accept wagers for their boss as well as the boss himself. There is also a 10 per cent excise tax on the gross amount of bets accepted.

Payment of these Federal wagering taxes does not exempt any person from any penalty provided by a law of the United States or of any state for engaging in wagering.

Q—I joined a country club this summer so I would have a suitable place to entertain my clients. Will my dues be deductible?

A—"Entertainment Facilities" come under special rules. For any part of the dues to be deductible, you must show that during the year over 50 per cent of the use of the facility—the club—was for business purposes. If you qualify under the 50 per cent rule, then you can deduct the pro rata portion of your dues that is a "directly related" trade or business expense. Out-of-pocket costs of business entertaining would be deductible under usual entertainment rules.

Q—I make less than $3,000, yet my return was audited this year. Why do you bother to examine the returns of small income taxpayers when the correction of errors and omissions produces so little additional tax revenue?

A—In the administration of the tax laws, the Revenue Service seeks to assure each taxpayer that he pays neither more nor less than is required of him. Regardless of the amount of income, some returns are selected for audit as a pattern to test and measure this standard of compliance. The fact that a possible adjustment to a return is small is never a reason in itself for not examining the return. No taxpayer should feel that his return is exempt from examination.

Q—We hired a tutor to help our son make up some work in school. Do we have to pay Social Security on what we pay him?

A—If the tutor comes into your home to teach your son a special subject he would probably be considered an independent contractor, like a lawyer or doctor. Therefore his fees would not be subject to withholding for Social Security by you. A music teacher would also come in this category and you would not have to withhold here either.

FOGGY BOTTOM WARNING WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has warned would-be Cuban refugees against a head-long, illegal rush into the United States.

The movement of Cuban refugees into the United States, which Cuban Premier Fidel Castro said he would allow, "should be orderly and consistent with our laws," said the State Department.

It warned against "hasty, disorganized and dangerous" attempts to bring Cubans to U.S. shores. It noted there were stiff penalties against bringing in "undocumented" refugees, persons who had not been processed through official channels.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent

Most farmers completed sowing wheat the past week. We predict there will be a better than average or a bumper wheat crop in 1966. We base this on the fact that practically all the wheat was sowed relatively late. For the last few years we have sown wheat earlier than normal in the County because of the time rains fell. This year rains did not come until after the middle of September. The rains were so heavy that drilling did not get underway until late September. Late planted wheat will not yield early planted three times out of four. The chances of plant disease are much less on late planted wheat. Because little moisture is drawn out of the soil in the fall, there will be plenty of reserve moisture to get you through that ever present dry January, February and March. Set your combine for 26-30 bushel wheat for next spring. Wheat pasture will be very poor this fall and winter. It was planted three weeks later than normal. We are having cooler than normal weather. Chances for rain becomes skimpier after October 1st.

If you still have native calves unsold, don't depend on demand from wheat pasture farmers in Southern part of the Panhandle. It will not develop. There is considerable buyers resistance developing because of the wide spread that has been present between native cattle and Eastern imports. If you import some, you better look into the matter or drenching them with Thi-Benzole. A bolus might be better. Be careful and don't get one hung in the windpipe. Rex McAnnelly says cattle going on wheat pasture from Eastern Texas, or Eastern States should be wormed. Thi-Benzole can be used on unthrifty calves or calves under stress and will help greatly to straighten them out. Other worming compounds cannot be given until after cattle are straightened out. An egg count made on two separate calves imported from Montgomery, Alabama showed 900 eggs per gram of feces on one and 600 from another according to Dr. James Bailey, local veterinarian. Test run on 1700 head of cattle at Experiment Station in Louisiana and East Texas showed an increase in weight gain of almost two-tenths pound per day where cattle had been wormed with this new worming compound.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

The 59th Legislature of Texas enacted a statute introduced by Representative Bill Heatly of Paducah which prohibits the transporting of underground water from Texas to other states. A suit has been filed by Altus, Oklahoma in Federal Court asking that the statute be declared unconstitutional. Altus, Oklahoma by way of identification is on U. S. Highway 283 north of the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River above Vernon, Texas.

In 1963 the City of Altus entered into a contract with a landowner in Willbarger County, Texas for underground water rights under the land. This water supply is some 14 miles south of Altus but is located in Texas. In addition to this purchase Altus recently passed a $2,000,000 bond issue to develop the underground water supply it had purchased.

The suit entered in Federal Court names Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr as defendant and asks that the law be nullified, contending that the law is in violation of Interstate Commerce.

A number of other states have similar laws pertaining to transporting of ground water outside their States.

The suit entered by the City of Altus has put the State of Oklahoma in an embarrassing position since Oklahoma is one of those states that have such a law itself. Several years ago the Oklahoma Legislature enacted a new law declaring all water in the state public waters and as such owned by no individual. New Mexico and Kansas are other states in this area who have passed laws designating all waters as public waters belonging to the state and owned by no individual.

Underground water in Texas is owned by the individual who owns the surface rights and can be purchased or sold as property. Texas Courts have upheld this in a number of cases.

There are a great number of instances in the Texas Panhandle and elsewhere in the State where the landowner has sold the water rights under his land to a nearby city or to private interests. Texas Courts have upheld this right to do so where the water rights sold indicated that the water produced was to be used in Texas.

The implications in this suit filed in Federal Court could have grave consequences for private ownership of underground water in the State of Texas. The Federal Court should in most instances be the court of last resort.

The Texas landowner has the right and privilege to go into State Court for relief if he feels that his legal right of sale of his property is infringed.

This case will bear watching. The big question is: Can Texas prohibit the transporting of privately owned underground water to another state to be used by a private individual or by a political subdivision of that state or by the state itself. The other side of this big question is: Can the State of Oklahoma prohibit the transporting of its state owned public waters to another state?

County SCD News

By VAN C. MILLS

Three diversion terraces were staked for H. T. Dickens on his farm east of Grandview school. These diversions will protect some sloping land from further erosion. Loyal Bird reported that his level diversion with a pipe drop worked real well during the recent heavy rains. There was no adequate outlet for the diversion to empty, and a pipedrop was installed to let the water through the diversion to a safe outlet.

An irrigation system was laid out for Robert Rapstine on a place he operates south of Kingsmill. Robert has completed an irrigation well on this farm. Many times we hear people talk about building dams to trap and hold the runoff water. We are overlooking our greatest storage reservoir, the soil. Our high plains soils will hold up to 2.4 inches of water per foot of soil. Our sandy soils will hold from 1 to 2 inches per foot of soil.

If we received a heavy rain and had a three inch runoff over 640 acres, this would be enough water to fill a 20 acre lake 8 feet deep. The best place to store this water is in the soil. It will make more money and do less damage when it is stored in the soil.

When we lose our soil through erosion we lose part of our storage reservoir for water and minerals. This reduces the land's potential to produce. There are many conservation practices that will help to store water in the soil. Some of these practices are stubble mulching, contour farming, terracing and proper grazing of rangeland.

Annual Experiment Station Parley Scheduled Oct. 6-8

Texas Longhorns Outdefense' Oklahoma, 19-0

DALLAS (UPI)—Texas' No. 2 ranked Longhorns pushed arch-rival Oklahoma around unmercifully Saturday while its own defensive corps kept a strangle hold on the inept Sooner offense for a 19-0 victory in the 60th annual grudge battle in the Cotton Bowl between the two schools.

David Conway kicked 22 and 35 yard field goals, Marvin Krisbynik piloted Texas 60 yards for the first touchdown he scored from a yard out, and understudy Gregg Lott threw an 11-yarder to end Kelly Baker in the final 90 seconds.

The Texas defense, anchored on linebacker Tommy Nobis, and ably abetted by just about anybody Coach Darrell Royal cared to call off the bench, held the Sooners to 27 yards total offense and no first downs in building up a 9-0 halftime lead, then relented a little in the third period when Oklahoma broke loose for three first downs.

Until Ben Hart connected with a running halfback pass deep in the third quarter to ignite a brief offensive flurry that carried the ball down to Texas' 24 yard line, Oklahoma had seldom seen daylight from around the swarming Texas defense.

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

A little bit about a lot of things all of it the Pampa Harvesters.

Too Little To Late

Pampa has reached the halfway point in their football season. The first half hasn't been good, as the 1-4 record indicates.

There haven't been many bright spots on the record but there have been a few. One of them returned Thursday night at Caprock.

The Harvesters were hurting against Palo Duro, Tascosa and Caprock with the loss of starting fullback Ted Heiskell.

You simply can't have your starting fullback out of the lineup and not be hurting a little bit.

Heiskell returned to the Pampa lineup Thursday night for six plays and promptly picked up 38 yards. Three times he bulled his way for crucial first downs.

But the 200-pound fullback is still hurting. He still can't go all the way.

Neither the Harvesters defense nor offense has shown much. You have to stop and think which one has shown the most promise.

For instance in the five games played the Pampa defense has given up 101 total points for an average of 20.9 per game while the offense has scored only 48 points for an average of 9.2 per contest.

Score Too Late

The Harvesters seem to have gotten themselves in a rut by starting too late, it only worked against Palo Duro, the only team the Harvesters have beaten.

Against Caprock the Harvesters defense looked good on occasion and put the stopper on the Horns three times.

But it only took one play to win the ball game and the Horns had it the first time they got their hands on the ball, a pass that covered 65 yards right down the middle.

Pampa's speed has shown up, badly, several times and made it plain for everyone to see there just isn't any.

A good fast man could probably have saved Pampa four or five touchdowns. Thursday night it could have saved the game. But the Harvesters had no one fast enough to catch the Caprock receiver, who simply outran two defensive men.

You might run down the middle on Pampa for the first quarter, but after that the only place you can go is wide and in the air.

Pampa has gotten fine defensive work from end to end out of the likes of Dan Patterson, Jack Williamson, Billy Stokes, Terry Troxel, James Matney, Woodie Leonard, Roy Harper and David Martindale just to name a few.

Offensively, since the departure of Heiskell, Roy Harper has been most of the offense for Pampa, who is plainly lacking a good one-two punch.

Joey Roden, Lewis Meers and L. D. Rowden have been stopped almost cold by the opponents defensive lines, although, let's hastily point out through no fault of their own.

Heiskell, who is expected back for the Monterey clash, here next Friday, may well be the turning point for Pampa.

With the fullback in running form again, Harper and the rest of the backfield may be able to do a little manuevering.

Play 'Em 12 At A Time

Just in case you thought you counted 12 Caprock Helmets on the field for four plays Thursday night, you were right.

The Horns did use 12 players for four straight plays before calling time out and reverting to the usual 11-man system.

The officials are supposed to catch action of this kind, but maybe the ones used Thursday night failed math in school.

Do not think for one minute, however, that this was the reason for defeat.

Pampa had plenty of chances to win when the Horns had 11 players. But then you don't run into a defense the likes of which Caprock has every week, thank goodness.

DANIELS ON THE MOVE — Larry Daniels (14) playing fullback for the first time this season breaks through the Caprock line for good yardage in Thursday night's 7-0 loss. Pampa's Woodie Leonard (72) is on the ground and (87) on the left is Larry Keyser.

Irish Rock Army, 17-0

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sophomore quarterback Tom Schoen rocked Army with a 29-yard touchdown pass in the second period Saturday night, and Notre Dame went on to hammer out a 17-0 victory over the Cadets before a sellout crowd of 61,000 at Shea Stadium.

It was the first time these colorful rivals had played in New York City since their historic scoreless tie in 1946 and the Irish surprised their fabled "subway alumni" with a nifty passing attack in the first half as Schoen clicked on five of his first seven passes including a touchdown throw to former defensive end Don Gmitter.

Nick Eddy dashed five yards around his left end with a pitchout for a first period score after defensive end Con Rhoads put Notre Dame in position on the Army 29 by intercepting a pass by Curt Cook.

The Cadets drove 52 yards to Notre Dame's 25 on a march with the opening kickoff but there Rassas made his first interception and Army's best move of the game fizzled.

The Irish stayed close to the ground in the second half with Bill Zloch quarterbacking. Zloch called on fullback Larry Conjar for heavy duty in the march leading to Ivan's field goal. Conjar carried on 10 of 13 plays, eight of them in a row, for 52 yards to Army's three. Bill Wolksi then lost four and Ivan came in to kick.

Notre Dame, thwarted in the first period when guard Vince Castello recovered a fumble by Schoen on Army's 15, made sure early in the second there'd be no scoreless tie such as these two rivals staged in the Lujack-Davis-Blanchard era of 19 years ago.

Schoen made up for his fumble by moving the Irish 42 yards in two plays, a 19-yard screen pass play to Conjar and his 29-yard touchdown throw to Gmitter.

Rhoads set up Notre Dame's second touchdown with his interception. Zloch replaced Schoen and picked up two yards, then a personal foul against Army gave the Irish a first down on the 10. On third down Eddy spun around his left end from the five for the first touchdown scored by rushing against the Cadets this year.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Fourth-ranked Michigan State jolted arch-rival Michigan 24-7 today behind the clutch defense of Steve Juday and a jarring offense.

The win was the fourth straight for Michigan State, the only Big Ten team with a perfect record, and its second in conference play. It came before a roaring throng of 103,209, largest of the college football season.

Juday sparked the Spartans to a touchdown and field goal in the first half, then led a 15-point outburst in the final half to snuff sputtering Wolverine hopes.

State's two Hawaiian imports, fullback Bob Apisa and barefoot kicker Dick Kenney, teamed with Juday to spearhead the rout. Apisa burst 30 yards on the game's final play for a touchdown and Kenney kicked two field goals including a 35-yarder.

The win was Michigan State's 11th in the last 16 games of its traditional intra-state rivalry with Michigan.

Michigan came back to grab the lead early in the second quarter on the strong performance of second string quarterback Wally Gabler. The senior signal caller hit halfback Carl Ward on a 20-yard play and tossed 11 yards to end Steve Smith to put the Wolverines on the state 1-yard line.

Gabler carried over for the touchdown and Rick Sygar kicked the extra point to give Michigan its only lead of the day, 7-6.

Michigan state came back to take the lead half way through the second quarter after George Webster recovered a fumble on the Michigan 27.

On a freak field goal attempt, the ball was snapped over the head of kicker Dick Kenney. Juday ran back, recovered the ball, and fired a pass to Clint Jones who bulled his way to the Michigan seven. Three plays later, Kenney came in and kicked the deciding field goal from the 10-yard line.

Purdue Field Goal Stops Iowa, 17-14

JOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—Purdue's Bob Griese passed for 216 yards, kicked a field goal and ran for a touchdown Saturday to lead the Boilermakers to a 17-14 Big Ten football victory over Iowa.

Griese outpassed Iowa's Gary Snook in a passing duel that saw the two candidates for All-America quarterback honors throw the ball 69 times. But snook managed to keep the underdog Hawkeyes threatening up to the final minute with his passing.

The victory was Purdue's first in Big Ten competition. Iowa now has dropped two.

Iowa couldn't move on the ground, and this enabled the Boilermakers to concentrate on stopping Snook's passes.

Griese threw 36 times and completed 20 for 216 yards. He kicked a 19-yard field goal in the final quarter to get what proved to be Purdue's winning points. In the first half, Griese rammed over from the 1 for Purdue's first touchdown.

Snook threw the ball 33 times and completed 13 for 179 yards. One of his throws was a 42-yard touchdown heave to halfback Dalton Kimbie, which gave the Hawkeyes a brief lead in the second quarter.

After this touchdown, Griese directed Purdue on a 78-yard march for the tying score. He completed four passes for 42 yards in this drive ending with a one-yard plunge.

Purdue's second touchdown came on an 83-yard drive in the third quarter. Griese completed only two passes on this drive, but one was for 38 yards to his favorite target, end Bob Hadrick.

Auburn Rips Chattanooga

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI)—Auburn unleashed a yard-chewing band of backs, a substitute quarterback who passed with either hand, and a defense that stopped almost everything Saturday to thrash Chattanooga 30-7.

Before an estimated 32,000 fans, Auburn quarterback Tom Bryan engineered two TD's and scored once. His fullback, Mike Perrillard, rammed over once from the one-yard line, and galloped 35 yards with a pass from substitute quarterback Alex Bowden. Bowden also tossed 13 yards to wingback Carl Hardy for another tally.

Chattanooga scored on a three-yard drive by fullback David Simcox in the third period. Auburn scored in each of the first three quarters.

Quarterback Bryan engineered a 40-yard scoring drive in seven plays in the first period for Auburn. He carried the final four. Then he turned to long passes. He hit end Danny Fulford for 43 yards and Scotty Long for 32 more to the Chattanooga three. Perrillard rammed over a play later from the one.

Southern Cal. Rips Washington

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Southern California put on an awesome display of offensive and defensive strength Saturday to crush Washington, 34-0, the worst defeat inflicted on the Huskies in eight years.

A crowd of 56,000 watched Trojan halfback Mike Garrett run rings around Washington's defense as he packed the ball for 175 yards in 31 carries, more than the whole Husky team could rack up on the ground and in the air.

Washington had not been manhandled like this since 1957. Jim Owens' first year as head coach here when Minnesota walloped the Huskies 46-7 and Ohio State administered a 35-7 drubbing.

Buckeyes Rally To Dump Illini, 28-14

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Ohio State, stunned by a first quarter Illinois score, rallied back behind fullback Tom Barrington's three touchdowns Saturday to swamp the Illini 28-14.

The Buckeyes, in one of the finest offensive displays in their long football history, scored three quick touchdowns in the second period to bury Illinois in the rain and mud. It was Ohio State's opening Big Ten game while Illinois suffered its second league loss in as many starts.

A rain-soaked crowd of 83,712 watched in awe as Ohio State broke open the game with three long drives in the second period, sparked by Barrington and quarterback Don Unverferth. Will Sander, who alternated at fullback with Barrington, scored the first touchdown on a 3-yard smash and Barrington came through with 12 and 2-yard runs for the other two scores in the period.

Illinois started as if it would run the Buckeyes off the field. The Illini marched 62 yards in 15 plays the first time they had the ball, before sophomore Cyril Pinder went wide for the score from the 4 with 7:30 left in the opening period. Quarterback Fred Custardo kicked the extra point to give the Illini a 7-0 lead.

But Ohio State caught fire when Unverferth came off the bench in the second to hit halfback Bo Rein with a 34-yard pass to the Illini 3. Sander went over from there and Bob Funk's kick tied the score.

Hankinson, a 6-1, 190-pound senior from Ekdina, Minn., fired touchdown passes to Dave Colburn, Ray Whitlow and Kent Kramer to lead Minnesota's attack.

Holmberg, who led the Gophers' ground game, plowed for two scores on 1-and 5-yard plunges and halfback Ken Last drove a yard for the other Minnesota touchdown.

Indiana's three touchdowns came on a pair of 1-yard plunges by John Ginter and a 16-yard Gary Toifil to Ginter pass.

GOOD PROGNOSIS WIMBLEDON, Eng. (UPI)—Jesus Saucedo, a Mexican featherweight injured in a fight last month, is on the road to recovery, a spokesman for the Atkinson Morely Hospital said Friday.

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Quarterback John Hankinson passed for three touchdowns and Joe Holmberg plunged for two Saturday to lead Minnesota to a 42-18 victory over Indiana in a Big Ten football battle.

A crowd of 46,010, trimmed by World Series interest, saw the Gophers smash to a 28-6 lead in the first half and keep up its domination in the second half to win easily.

The triumph, in cool, sunny weather, gave Minnesota a successful start in its Big Ten campaign and left Indiana with a conference record of 0-2.

Hankinson, a 6-1, 190-pound senior from Ekdina, Minn., fired touchdown passes to Dave Colburn, Ray Whitlow and Kent Kramer to lead Minnesota's attack.

Duke Passes Panthers, 21-13

DURHAM, N. C. (UPI)—Scotty Glacken's passing and Rod Stewart's punting carried unbeaten Duke to a 21-13 victory over Pittsburgh Saturday in a nationally televised football thriller.

Glacken passed for one touchdown and scored one himself on a perfectly executed quarterback bootleg play. When the Duke offense didn't click, Stewart was there to kick the Blue Devils out of trouble. Thanks mostly to the big end's punting, the Pitt Panthers never were able to start beyond their own 20 yard line.

Glacken, shooting for all-America honors in his senior year, passed the ball into scoring position for the first Duke touchdown, scored by Page Wilson.

He passed to swing end Chuck Drulis for the second, and scored the third himself on the two-yard bootleg.

The win was Duke's fourth in a row this year and gave the Devils a 7-6 edge in the rivalry with Pitt dating from 1929. Eric Crabtree scored Pitt's opening touchdown and Ken Lucas passed to Mitch Zalansky for the other.

GRIESE-D LIGHTNING—Purdue quarterback Bob Griese has put in an early bid for national honors, but the Boilermakers face one of their toughest schedules this season.

BUCKS STILL UNBEATEN

White Deer Rips Claude

WHITE DEER (Sp.) — Johnny Mooney continued his near perfect extra point kicking Friday, booting home five of five as White Deer won No. five in a 41-6 victory over Claude.

The undefeated Bucks built up a 28-0 halftime lead and were never headed as they looked like just what they are, champions.

Recovering a Claude fumble on the visitors 40 on the opening kickoff, fullback Vernon Marler scooted 23 yards to the four.

The Bucks fumbled but recovered and one play later Gary Smith carried in from the six. Mooney kicked and the Bucks were on their way at 7-0.

Again the Mustangs fumbled the kickoff and again the Bucks recovered this time on the 43.

Five plays later Randy Smith carried in from the two. Mooney booted and the first period ended with the Bucks leading, 14-0.

Marler got warmed up in the second period as he carried for 12 yards, then lateraled to quarterback Phil Hart who carried for 39 more and the touchdown. Mooney kicked his third straight point and it was white Deer, 21-0.

Marler scored a few minutes later himself when he skirted left end for 10 yards. Mooney's kick was good and the half ended with the Bucks in front, 28-0.

In the third period White Deer marched 60-yards in six plays with Hart tossing to Anderson for six yards and the touchdown. Mooney missed the conversion and the Bucks led 34-0.

The Mustangs never quit and on this kickoff scored on a 35-yard pass from Edwin Campbell to Gary Gunter.

The Bucks wrapped up the scoring late in the third period when Randy Elliott went in from 10-yards out. Mooney kicked again and it was 41-6.

Panhandle Edges 'Cats
CANADIEN (Sp.) — Panhandle won the battle of the winless Friday night, edging Canadian, 13-12.

Both teams had lost four straight before the game started and the difference was an extra point kick by Ogletree following the winner's first touchdown.

Canadian had three drives stalled on intercepted passes and had two attempted kicks for conversions fail.

Panhandle scored all their points in the second quarter and led 13-6 at halftime.

The Panthers scored first when Ogletree went in from the one. He then kicked the conversion.

Ogletree then scored again on a four-yard run and this time the kick failed.

Canadian cut the lead to 13-6 when Phil Sanders scooted 21-yards but the kick failed.

Both teams failed to score in the third quarter but Candia came back in the final period when Sanders went in again, this time from 13-yards out. But again the kick failed.

The Panthers led in first downs, 13-10 and passing yardage, 52-0. Canadian led in rushing yardage, 203-144.

In the third period Groom scored again, this time on a 35-yard run by Jerry Littlefield. Again Cornett passed to Roberts for the conversion and after three periods Groom led 24-0.

The Tigers really went to town in the fourth period.

Lynn King climaxed a 61-yard drive by going over from the one and Cornett passed to Roberts for the fourth time for the conversion.

The conversion twins reversed things for a touchdown with Roberts scoring from 40-yards out on a pass from Cornett. A run for the extra points failed.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The Center is now enrolling for new sessions of swim lessons beginning time Oct. 13. Lessons are being offered in the beginner class meeting from 4-5 p.m. and the Intermediate class meeting from 5-6 p.m. Classes will meet Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday through Nov. 3. A beginner is a child who has passed the polywog class or is six years of age and measures 33 inches to the chin. An Intermediate is one who has passed the Advanced Beginner class. Center members are to be enrolled free of charge while non-members may pay the $3 instructional fee. Mrs. Lois Dittmeyer will be the instructor.

Attention Boy Scouts! All boy scout troops who are interested in using the pool on Monday nights may contact the Boy Scout office and make a reservation. The Center has again scheduled Monday nights from 7-8:30 p.m. as Scout swim time. Scouts from out of town are welcome to make reservations also.

The Pampa Jaycees are sponsoring a Halloween Howl at the Center on Saturday night, Oct. 30 from 8-11 p.m. Preparation is being made for the band and for a dance contest at 9 p.m. on that night. Everyone mark this date on your calendar.

The Volleyball season is in its fourth week of competition and has already seen several upsets. In the women's division, the Pampa Independents who are the defending champions were shaken by Cock O' Walk by the tune of 15-11, 8-15 and 8-15, knocking them out of first place and letting Cock O' Walk take over. Other action saw First National Bank over Jackson Realty 15-3 and 15-0, while Hopkins took the Spikers 15-7 and 15-10. In men's action Skelly remained on top with a 15-8, 5-15 and 15-7 vault over the Dairy Queen. The Rejects remained in contention with a win over the Senior Citizens 10-15, 15-9 and 15-7 while the Pampa Warehouse took the Doozers 15-8, 6-15 and 15-3.

Basketball will be starting in about 6 weeks so now is the time to start organizing your teams and ordering suits. A look for that sponsor now will save the last minute rush. The entry deadline for the men's and the women's divisions will be Nov. 22. At 8 p.m. at the Center on Nov. 22 the organizational meeting of the leagues will be held and final formation of the league will be held. Entry fees for the leagues is $30 per team plus the referee's fees which will be determined later. Only the $30 entry fee must be into the office by Nov. 22. A meeting of the teams managers will determine the referee's fees total. Both leagues will start tentatively around the first week of December.

There is still time to enroll in the judo and fencing classes which meet at the Center. Judo meets on Sundays from 2-3:30, under the instruction of A. E. Brewer and Curtis King while the fencing class meets on Thursday nights at 7 under the guidance of Joe Pafford. To join these classes you need only become a Center member or, if already, just enroll. Memberships are always available at the front desk. Individual memberships are $8 per year and family memberships $20.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—When I mentioned recently that members of Congress were having trouble keeping up with all the legislation currently being passed, little did I realize that I was laying a trap for myself.

I have since learned that I, too, lost track of an important measure. Or, rather, I followed it into a blind alley.

And in doing so, I cast an ill-deserved slur on the devotion of the House of Representatives to the boiled peanut.

The bill in question would have extended for another two years a provision exempting boiled peanuts from marketing quotas. In other words, farmers could grow peanuts for boiling in addition to their regular peanut acreage allotments.

I wrote that the Senate had passed the bill but the House had not. Which was true, but also misleading.

What the House did was pass another bill that included a provision for making the boiled peanut exemption permanent.

Thus, as you can see, the House not only dealt with this vital national issue, but did so even more forthrightly than the Senate.

Thereupon, the Senate left its two-year measure hanging in limbo and compromised with the House on a four-year extension.

Contrary to usual procedure, the House tucked the boiled peanut provision to the main farm bill. That was what caused me to miss it. Ordinarily, boiled peanuts are handled separately.

In recent years when the boiled peanut exemption came up for renewal in the House, Rep. D. R. (Billy) Matthews, D-Fla., its chief backer, would celebrate the occasion by handing out samples to his colleagues.

It is generally believed that this is the reason why the house voted this year to make the exemption permanent.

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS

By Joe Tooley and Tom Beard

Who at one time or another hasn't had butter smeared on a slight burn to ease the pain and discomfort?

A newer and equally available therapy involves the use of water and ice. This is excellent for emergency first-aid treatment where less than 20 percent of the body area is affected. According to a paper in the AMA, relief and good healing and perhaps less redness and blistering can be expected if treatment is begun immediately with ice water or ice-cold compresses.

This is a slightly different matter, but when you are in need of medication, prescribed by your doctor, remember that prescriptions are a specialty at RICHARD DRUG . . .

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army said Friday it had tested successfully a ground-fired version of the Navy's air-to-air sidewinder missile.

Called the "Chaparral," the Army version is fired from a self-propelled ground vehicle and is designed to protect front-line troops against low-flying planes.

The missile is normally fired from a fighter plane.

Foreign Commentary

By RICHARD C. LONGWORTH
MOSCOW (UPI) — "The battle has just begun."

With those words, a respected Western economic expert here described the quiet but desperate struggle that lies ahead to put the Khrushchev's radical, far-reaching economic reforms in effect.

Except for occasional salvos fired through the press, it will be a secret battle fought mostly in dusty offices and across prefab-covered conference tables beneath portraits of V. I. Lenin. The weapons will be paper and pen, persuasion and persistence.

The stakes are prestige, power, influence — and the future of the Soviet economy.

The antagonists, according to experts, will be Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and the reform-minded "new men" of the Kremlin hierarchy, and the well-entrenched members of the Soviet bureaucracy.

The struggle began three years ago with suggestions to loosen and liberalize Russia's bureaucracy-clogged economy.

Izvestia, the government newspaper, gave a rare peek behind the scenes recently when, discussing the reforms, it reported that "there are attempts now to go back to the old, to administer as before... this must not be permitted."

The first stage ended at the late September meeting of the Communist Party's Central Committee. There, Kosygin laid down guidelines for an economy based on profits for individual responsibility for businessmen freed of detailed state orders, and for a new Soviet price system.

The implications for Soviet bureaucrats were obvious. If the reforms go through, men who have spent their lives telling industry what to do and how to do it will suddenly find their power trimmed. In some cases they may lose their jobs.

The bureaucrats, for instance, used to dictate output, work force, average wages and total wages for each factory. Under the reforms, these four areas of power will be cut back to just one — the wage fund.

The fact that Kosygin delivered as strong a speech as he did proves he has won many of his preliminary battles, the experts said. But there were indications he also lost a few.

For instance, the Central Committee Plenum was postponed from July to September to permit settlement of many arguments beforehand, sources said. And Kosygin only mentioned in passing one widely-predicted reform — the elimination of the old state marketing system in favor of direct contacts between factories and stores.

This casual treatment indicated high-level opposition to the direct contact system, possibly from the state middlemen whom it would strip of power.

The redecorating included refinishing the woodwork and floors, lowering the ceilings and repainting the interior.

"There is a lot of unfinished business, including the direct contact squabble," one expert summed up. "There will be much petty interference from medium and lower-level bureaucrats."

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

THE FIREMEN'S BALL Thursday evening was a roaring success with some 580 persons purchasing tickets to aid members of Pampa Fire Department in their Children's Christmas Project. Moose Lodge receives a vote of thanks for donating its facilities for the dance and Moose members and firemen attended to the many chores associated with such an affair. Paul Jones was chosen by fellow firemen to serve as chairman for the dance, which was held during Fire Prevention Week. The Lodge Hall was filled to capacity with many couples having a ball at the Firemen's Ball, which it is hoped will become an annual affair. Some of those seen enjoying the evening were Fire Chief J. E. Winborne and wife Maggie, Assistant Fire Chief J. V. Pirkle and wife Ann, and Floyd and Renee Steele, Charles and June Elliott, Davie and Evangeline Turner, A. O. Atwood, Arthur Clark, Paul and Carol Jones, F. E. and Neva Dyer, L. V. and Laverne Bruce, Richard and Clea Norwood, Doug and Julia Poteet and Charles and Nancy Davis, all members of PFD and their wives. MRS. RAY (DORIS) E. Wilson, former women's editor of the Pampa News, fondly remember by Pampans as d.e.w., is women's editor for the Great Bend, Kan., Tribune, and received quite an honor recently when her society pages took first place in the Special Page bracket of the Tenth Annual Kansas Fair in Topeka, Kan. d.e.w.'s husband, Ray, was transferred to Columbus, Ohio, about a year ago but she and daughter, Kim, remained in Great Bend in order that Kim could finish her senior year in high school there, and the family's home could be sold. Kim is now enrolled for her freshman year at Wichita State University and Mr. Wilson has been transferred to Kentucky where Mrs. Wilson will join him soon. The Wilson's other two daughters will also be remembered by Pampa friends. Shirely is married and lives in Wichita, Kan., and Elaine and family live in Las Vegas, Nev., where husband Dave is on special assignment with Bird Well for the U.S. government working on an atomic energy project. Head rumors that the E. M. Kellers are in the process of building a lovely two-story home on Aspen. Ethel and Jess Clay went to Lubbock for the Texas Tech and Texas A&M football game as son Randall served as one of the officials. Wouldn't be surprised if the couple were more attentive to the officiating than the game. Mrs. Leon (Augusta) Brown and Mrs. Ray (Wertna) Ramey, members of a local TOPS Club, attended a two-area meeting of TOPS in Plainview last week where they heard many success stories of fellow TOPS members on the losing of weight and maintaining desired weights. Have had a number of phone calls concerning ESP, mentioned in last week's column. What is needed now is a person in this area who has done research on the subject who will meet with a group of people interested in ESP and discuss the matter. If anyone knows of a person with knowledge on the subject, let us know.

MRS. ROSEMARY TINSLEY received a pleasant surprise last week. Mrs. Tinsley and mother, Mrs. H. T. Hampton, departed Wednesday for England where they will visit their sister and daughter, Mrs. C. P. Maples in Greaby. Mrs. Tinsley was surprised by a group of her beauty salon patrons and friends at a farewell party where she received a pink carnation corsage, gifts and a cake decorated with a train and inscribed with "an revoir, Rosemary." Participating in the event were Mrs. Bill (Greta) Arrington, Mrs. Buck (Burnice) Miller, Mrs. J. B. (Mamie) Maguire, Mrs. Joe (Johnnie) Donaldson, Mrs. Mary Nell Gunter, Miss Elsa Plants, Mrs. Eunice Maddox, Mrs. Tom (Jean) Braly, Mrs. Calvin (Annabelle) Whatley, Mrs. Jim (Dody) Moritz, Mrs. Joe (Louise) Franklin, Mrs. J. B. (Kitty) Veale, Mrs. Gene (Polly) Sidwell, Miss Susan Maguire, Miss Debbie Veale and Miss Melanie Arrington. Points of interest to be visited by Mrs. Tinsley and Mrs. H. T. Hampton will be London, Liverpool and Stratford Upon Avon, England, Wales, Ireland, Brussels, Belgium, Heidelberg, Arlsberg and Koblenz, Germany, Innsbruck, Austria; Zurich, Switzerland, and Paris and Chalons Sur Marne, France. Yesterday morning Mrs. Henry (Sally) Bulter, Mrs. W. R. (Jenkie) Campbell, Mrs. J. M. (Bit) Fitzgerald, Mrs. M. K. (Bess) Griffith, Mrs. Clarence (Thelma) Lutes and Mrs. Ralph (Ruth) Thomas entertained a group of friends at coffee in Starlight Room of Coronado Inn. Know it was a lovely affair and hope to have more news concerning it next week. Federated Clubs of Pampa received very clever invitations to the annual Fall District Workshop to be held in Spearman, Tuesday. Mrs. B. F. Seay of Andrews, first vice president of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, will appear on the program.

HAVE YOU HEARD about the perfect surprise housewarming party at which Nancy and Ed Watts were recently surprised? A group of Mr. Watts' buddies and their wives, some of them strangers to Mrs. Watts, arrived late one evening for a bang-up housewarming. They brought with them all the food for refreshments and a stereo and records to furnish entertainment. Mrs. W. L. (Aurbey) Campbell, Mrs. Verl (Carmel) Hagaman, Mrs. Finis (Lillian) Jordan and Mrs. Paul (Dorothy) Crouch entertained a large group of friends at Pampa Club last Saturday afternoon. Was nice to see former Pampa Mrs. David (Naneen) Warren Jr. as a member of the house party. Mrs. Curt (Will) Beck and Mrs. R. E. (Barbara) Dobbin were seen attending the affair together. Others seen were Mrs. Arthur (Jeanette) Aftergut, Mrs. Ell (Bonnie) McCarley, Mrs. Tom (Horlene) Rose, Mrs. Paul (Mildred) Harbaugh, Mrs. Mack (Mary) Hiatt, Mrs. Bruce (Ruth) Riehart, Mrs. J. W. (Margaret) Duke, Mrs. J. L. (Lena) Bain, Mrs. C. S. (Mary) Boston, Mrs. Cecil (Ruby) Dalton, Mrs. Earl (Jess) O'Brien and Mrs. J. B. (Bit) Fitzgerald.

Hinton-Johnson Vows Read in Denver

Mrs. Joseph Lloyd Johnson
...nee Miss Betty Hinton

Lakewood Methodist Church of Denver, Colo., was the scene for the pledging of vows of Miss Betty Hinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hinton of 1123 S. Hobart, and Joseph Lloyd Johnson, son of Mrs. John Johnson of Shickley, Neb. Dr. Walter Boegegrain pronounced the double-ring vows at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 17. Miss Carolyn Lamb, organist provided traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Jane Grace, vocalist, as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years." Baskets of white gladioli and red carnations appointed the wedding scene. Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and 1" avowal, the bride was attired in a white wool suit accented by white accessories and a matching pillbox coif with brief veil. She carried a corsage of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Deane Knox, attired in a red wool knit suit, and red feather hat, attended as matron of honor. She carried a single long-stemmed red rose.

Gordon Johnson of Shickley, Neb. served his brother as best man. Ushers were Don Hinton, bride's brother, and Kenneth Newborn of Colorado Springs, Colo.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hinton chose an aqua wool knit suit complemented by brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception followed the wedding rites in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth, was appointed with silver candelabra bearing red tapers, a crystal punch service and the three-tiered wedding cake. Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. James Sampson and Mrs. Art Anderson. Mrs. Don Hinton served the cake and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell ministered the guests. Other members of the house party included Miss Marcia Truitt and Miss Joan Woodward.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the newlyweds are at home at 5655 W. 8th Ave., Denver, Colo., where the bride is employed as a teacher at South Lakewood Elementary School and Mr. Johnson is employed as an engineer at Federal Center.

The bride is a graduate of North Texas State University Denton, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Iowa State University (SEE HINTON, Page 16)

Dear Abby... Let Teenager Know You're 'Up in Smoke'

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, who is in her early teens, smokes against our wishes. She never smokes in front of us but we know she smokes, even though she says she doesn't. How do we treat this situation? Do we make an issue of it and "punish" her in some way? Or do we ignore it, hoping she will realize she is too young for such behavior?

WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: For parents to lay down rules, learn they are being violated, and then to ignore it, is foolish. But even more serious than your daughter's smoking is her lying about it. If you let her get away with this, don't expect her to listen to you in other matters of behavior. Restrict her activities, and let her know that she is being punished more for lying than for smoking.

DEAR ABBY: I met Phil six years ago. He was divorced and so was I. I was 47 at the time and had two married children and one still living at home going to high school. First I let Phil eat at my place as he had only a sleeping room and took all his meals in a restaurant. He always brought steaks and good food, which I prepared. Gradually Phil seemed to move into my place, which I was in favor of as I was lonely. Finally he was there so much I told my children that we were married (they would disown me if they knew the truth.) I grew to love Phil and so did the children. When I bring up marriage he says if we applied for a marriage license now it would be in all the papers and everyone would know we had never been married. I've been working under his name for four years and I don't suppose it's applying against my social security for it's not my legal name. How can we make it legal without any publicity?

LIVING IN SIN
DEAR LIVING: You're lucky you live in California. Confide this problem to your clergyman. He is authorized to perform a marriage ceremony, file the document in his church records and you will be legally and quietly wed with no publicity whatsoever. Those with this problem in other states should consult a local lawyer or clergyman and inquire about their chances to do the same.

DEAR ABBY: The longer most girls go with a guy, the harder it is to hold him off. My problem is just the opposite. I am 17 and George is 18 and we have been going together for almost a year now. When we first started dating, he used to kiss me goodnight, and we even did a little light making out. (Nothing serious.) Now George hardly even kisses me goodnight. I asked him if he was losing interest in me and he said no, he just didn't want to get "involved." What do you think he means by that?

"LOVE STARVED AT 17"
DEAR "LOVE - STARVED": George means to look out for your best interests as well as his own. Better to be "love-starved" at 17, than worrying about the consequences of forbidden fruit.

DEAR ABBY: Our church rummage sale is over again for another year. Thank heavens. And as usual there have been hurt feelings by the stupidity and thoughtlessness of otherwise kind and gentle ladies. In our church we have some very well-to-do women who buy expensive clothes one year and give them to the rummage sale the next. We also have others, like myself, who are not "poor" but we can't afford to buy such expensive clothing and what we wear for a long time. The problem is women who wouldn't for the world hurt your feelings intentionally but while sorting and pricing rummage they make remarks like, "ish... I wonder who brought this rag!"

Naturally they are not aware that the person to whom they are making this remark could be the one who brought the article. This happened to me, Abby. Mrs. Lemons conducted the program, using as her title "Christian Imperatives in A Scientific Age" and discussed the effect automation has had upon the American Woman and how it enforces her to have more leisure hours. "The role of the Church," Mrs. Lemons stated, "must be to stand ready to help even greater numbers of its members to find the rich and abundant life Christ came to bring. This need will be far greater in years to come if the self-respect gained through work is taken away." Mrs. Ford discussed a current article entitled "Retirement City". She stressed that elderly people should carefully weigh their pros and cons when thinking of selling their homes and moving to a retirement village. "Older people are not always happy away from the environment where they have been living for so many years," Mrs. Ford stated.

Mrs. Lemons gave the meditation using a passage from Guidepost. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Lee Harrah. Miss Jan Bailey Becomes Bride Of Mike Johnson in McLean Ceremony

McLEAN (Spl) — Miss Jan Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey of McLean, recently became the bride of Mike Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Johnson, in McLean Methodist Church. Rev. H. F. Dunn performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Norma Curry played the traditional wedding marches and pre-nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Wanda Waldrop as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar was decorated by an arch of yellow roses and baskets of white mums flanking the branched candelabra.

Miss Linda Tindall was maid of honor and Misses Pam and Cathy Bailey, nieces of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore yellow peau de soie dresses with matching pill box hats. Each carried a long-stemmed yellow rose.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white lace over tulle. The dress featured a fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline, pointed waistline and petal-point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of white illusion was held by a teardrop tiara.

She carried a bridal arrangement of yellow roses.

Larry Pat Andrews of Albuquerque, N. M., was best man. Groomsman and ushers were Dwight Hathaway, Rodney Bailey, nephew of the bride, Gary Graham, Dickie Crockett, Max Coleman and Jackie Don Bailey, brother of the bride.

Claudia Bailey of Miami, niece of the bride, served as flower girl and the ringbearer was Brent Bailey of Pampa, nephew of the bride.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlor.

Guests were registered by Miss Mikki Green. Misses Linda Littlefield and Sarah Coleman presided at the serving table.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to Red River, N. M., the couple are now making their home at 409 27th St., Canyon where both will attend West Texas as State University.

and seed pearls embellished the gown. A single white satin rose coil secured her shoulder-length veil of tulle. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and gardenias atop a White Bible and carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

Miss Debbie Sublett, bride's niece, attended as maid of honor. She was attired in a mint green brocade gown fashioned after that of the bride and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Eddie Roberts served the bridegroom as best man while ushers were Norman Sublett, bride's brother-in-law, and Larry Sublett, nephew of the bride. Lighting the tapers were Larry Atchley, bride's brother, and Darrel Sublett, bride's nephew.

Mrs. Crutcher chose a two-piece green knit suit accented by black patent accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Goldsmith selected a blue silk frock complemented by black accessories. Corsages for both mothers were of white carnations.

Lefors Civic Center was the setting for the reception held following the pledging of vows. An arrangement of white gladioli flanked by green tapers and a crystal punch service appointed the bride's table. Miss Eloise Goldsmith, bridegroom's sister, presided at the punch bowl while Mrs. Alton Flinham, bride's sister, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Norman Sublett, bride's sister, was guest registrar. Other members of the house party included Mrs. R. H. Barron and Mrs. Warren Crutcher.

Points of interest in New Mexico were visited by the newlyweds on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride donned a green linen dress with A line styling. Black patent accessories and the white gardenia corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet completed her costume. The couple is now at home at 110 W. First St., Lefors.

These are changing times, we will admit, but we don't wholeheartedly subscribe to an expert's belief that the beauty shop replaced the general store as a place to meet friends and neighbors.

In the words of the expert "It is the neighborhood place of relaxation for hurried and hurried businesswomen and house-weary homemakers."

On second thought, this expert might have something. For example, you can meet old friends and make new ones! You can relax confident in the knowledge that any personal service is going to be beautifully handled. And whether your desire is a tint, a permanent, or an eye-catching hair style, you just know that you will leave with an aded spring to your step and a bright new zest for living after a session at BOB-ETTE BEAUTY SALON 2110 Perryton Parkway, Phone: MO 5-3591. Pay Viet Cong Taxes --Or Else

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — A Vietnamese source has passed on the Viet Cong tax schedules for one South Viet Nam province.

Communist guerrillas collect taxes, called "contributions," in government-controlled and contested areas as well as in the hamlets and villages under V.C. control. Their take from Saigon, for example, is great.

Transportation taxes of 10 to 50 per cent are levied on bus lines, barges, "motorized" boats, trucks.

Backstage Washington De Facto Recognition of Castro Called Aim of Refugee Offer, State Dept. Citizenship Move

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Fidel Castro's cynical offer to open Cuba's refugee floodgates has touched off a sharp backstage policy dispute among President Johnson's policy-makers and his congressional advisers.

CAPITOL EYE: Bureaus Bust Out All Over

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Vice President Hubert Humphrey believes the country now needs a major pause so government can catch up, administratively, with the huge legislative tonnage dropped on its doorstep in this and recent years.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — After what we did to the Cuban refugees at the Bay of Pigs, we owe them a lot more than another Bay of Pigs," replied Feighan. "In effect, this amendment amounts to nothing more than a repeat of that tragic incident. It will finalize the Communist occupation of Cuba and pave the way for the eventual recognition of Castro."

Can't Afford Not to Watch
NEW YORK (NEA) — After considerable despair over the new television season, we were astounded to find that it would not be nearly as bleak as previously reported.

Well, we must admit to having been quite staggered by this late development. Especially as we always thought the addition to television was incurable, and consequently just acquired a new superscreen set for that very reason.

That is doubtless what is meant by the term "The miracle of television." And we mentioned our exultation the other day at lunch to a friend of ours whose name is Legion.

Hunt for Truth BY H. L. HUNT EXPERTS AND COMMON SENSE

Many Americans, bewildered and discouraged by the stream of contradictory reports they get about what our government is doing, throw up their hands in despair, believing that it is entirely too difficult for ordinary people to understand.

Hunt for Truth
BY H. L. HUNT
EXPERTS AND COMMON SENSE

Expert advice is also valuable and certainly there is plenty of it, real or claimed, in Washington. However, a wit once defined an expert as a man who knows a great deal about very little. Extensive knowledge, essential as it is, does not guarantee sound judgment.

When an American policy, claiming to be based on special information and expert advice, flies squarely in the face of common sense, ordinary Americans should not hesitate to ask why.

But, apparently the ailment is not only curable; it also yields immediately to treatment now that they have found a way to build the antidote into the poison.

THE KENNEDY ROLE

THE KENNEDY ROLE — Significantly, Senator Edward ("Ted") Kennedy, D-Mass., who is the administration's refugee spokesman in the Senate, attempted to guide the Cuban proposal through Congress.

Total Newcomer to TV Best Bet

By JOAN CROSBY
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Lee Majors, Gary Collins, Roy Thinnes, Paul Geary, Lana Wood, David Watson, Sally Field and Stephen Brooks have every right to feel as nervous as a barber in Britain whose specialty is crew cuts.

They are among an exciting crop of newcomers appearing in television series set for the new season. A year from now, if the fates allow, the scripts hold up and the viewers tune in, they could be public favorites. Or, a year from now, they could still be struggling to gain a foothold in the industry.

The actor with the best chance for stardom, according to everyone who knows his work, is Lee Majors. He plays Heath, who shows up in ABC-TV's "The Big Valley" to announce to his brother, "I'm your father's bastard son."

Barbara Stanwyck, who stars in the series, says Lee "comes on like Gangbusters." Producer Aaron Spelling says, "This boy can't miss. I wish he was under contract to me. The only one can hurt Lee Majors is Lee Majors himself, and he is too nice and decent to do that."

Majors is a complete newcomer, who came to California from Middleboro, Ky., to be a teacher. But he says he idolized the late James Dean when he was in high school. His knowledge of everything about Dean sent Lee to see agent Dick Clayton, who had been Dean's agent.

"The first time, I didn't get to see him. But I tried again," Lee says. "I guess he was impressed with my desires and outlook. He told me to go steady, to keep in touch, and to keep working."

Lee was a recreation director for the Los Angeles Recreation and Park Dept., a job he kept through last May. He studied acting for eight months, then went back and did a scene for Clayton, who was impressed enough to take Lee to MGM. He studied in the studio's acting school for another eight months.

Pilot season came around and Clayton sent Lee out to read for a series. The first one he tested for turned out to be "The Big Valley." After two tests he got the role for which 500 other actors had tried.

"It sounds easy, but it really wasn't I worked hard. Because Dick Clayton told me to keep my job — he said if I wasn't hungry I could wait for a break — I had to travel from my home in Calabasas to MGM — 45 minutes away by motorcycle — and then another long haul to my job. I didn't do much dating."

Lee, who is quiet and respectful (he calls everybody Mr. or Miss, and hesitates to use first names even when he is told), lives in a remote area with horses, two collies and a wild burro he captured on a hunt.

"The burro was only 4 months old and still on milk. So I had to feed him from a bottle. He follows me around like I'm his mother. Actually, it's a female, called Julie. But I called her 'Julie' 'til I found she was a female."

Lee says he hasn't thought about the future which could contain many invasions of the privacy he likes so much. "I just think of each day. Each scene I do has to be better than the last. Supposedly I did well in the pilot. Well, I have to make people believe it wasn't a stroke of luck. The producers gave me a break and I have to prove they didn't make a mistake."

Circus Big Loser in Race Riots

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — When you add up the cost of the Los Angeles riot — 36 lives, for example — the dollars that were lost by the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus may seem insignificant.

But, as a matter of record, the big show had to cancel six performances here because it was playing in the Sports Arena, which is in Exposition Park and that was on the fringe of the riot area.

The six performances — they were over the weekend, too — and the lower attendance at subsequent shows cost the circus a quarter of a million dollars. That's the estimate of Rudy Bundy, the ex-dance band leader who is now the circus' vice president, treasurer and on-the-road boss. And it is, he says, a conservative estimate.

"In all our years," the silver-haired Bundy says, "that's the first calamity of that nature we have come up against. We've had fires and train wrecks and two years of union troubles, but never a race riot."

The circus will survive this, as it has survived other problems.

"There is a new threat to the circus, too — raids by Las Vegas, attempting to lure talent away. They offer big money to circus acts and a few have succumbed."

"I wouldn't be surprised," Bundy says, "if we lose Chrys Holt (the gorgeous doll who hangs by her hair and juggles) next year. They've been after her lately."

DEATH SCENE, or THREE'S A SHROUD
Julie Andrews gets a death scene in "Hawaii," her first, and she says she's looking forward to it. It's one of the things she particularly likes about her part in the picture, because it symbolizes to her the marked contrast between this and her other parts.

She likes variety and that's what she has lined up for herself — after "Hawaii," she co-stars with Paul Newman in Alfred Hitchcock suspense film called "Torn Curtain," then does a musical based on Gertrude Lawrence's life and then into a comedy, "The Public Eye," for Mike Nichols.

And you can't hardly get an assortment like that — unless you're a Julie Andrews.

JOHNSON, or RISING ARCH
"Television," says Aron Johnson, "has muffed its chance to say anything it's good entertainment, that's all. I felt for a while that Slattery's People or East Side - West Side might say some things, but they copped out."

"The networks are to blame, of course. Maybe, if we ever get pay TV, we'll be able to do some important things."

Johnson is a big bruiser whose real name is Archibald, and that may be where he got his busted back.

"That name, spelled that way," he says, "has been in our family for generations. It's the only time I've ever heard of it with that spelling. I figure it comes from my ancestors, Northumberland English, who heard the name from the Scots and liked it but didn't know how to spell it properly."

Meanwhile, Arch like the other good television actors, is making a happy living. He is switched, this season, from a career as a heavy to a job as a light comedian, in NBC's new series, Camp Runamuck.

"This series has a chance of being something good — financially," he says.

Johnson is a big bruiser whose real name is Archibald, and that may be where he got his busted back.

100 PLANES LOST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has lost just over 100 planes in North Viet Nam since the bombing raids began last February, an average loss of less than one-half of 1 percent.

In revealing this Thursday, U.S. officials noted that the loss rate compared with losses of 2 or 3 per cent over Europe in the late stages of World War II.

Exact figures on U.S. aircraft losses in both North and South Viet Nam were not available, but apparently they total in the neighborhood of 400 including four jets shot down by Soviet-built anti-aircraft missiles.

Prudhomme Is Director on Oilwell Staff

DALLAS — The appointment of Robert J. Prudhomme as director — industrial, machinery sales — oilwell Division, United States Steel Corporation, Dallas, Texas, has been announced by W. A. Weir, vice president. The appointment was effective Oct. 1, 1965.

Prudhomme joined Oilwell in 1962 in the Dallas headquarters sales department as assistant district engineer responsible for compressor and engine sales for the Central Midwest area. He was appointed product manager—pumps and engine sales for Oilwell Division in February 1964, the position he held prior to his recent appointment.

In his present assignment, Prudhomme will be responsible for sales in industrial machinery markets other than oilfield including refining, petrochemical, steel, mining and railroads. The product line encompasses centrifugal and reciprocating pumps, engines and special machinery bearing the Wilson-Snyder and Witte trade names, and manufactured by Oilwell's plants at Garland, Tex., and Kansas City, Mo.

Prudhomme is a native of Wheeling, West Va. He served in the UNITED STATES NAVY from July 1941 to July 1946 as a lieutenant. He is a graduate of Miami University where he received his degree in economics. He also received a BS degree in mechanical engineering from Southern Methodist University.

NOT REALLY CURED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A medical journal reports that individuals are not really "cured" of the smoking habit until they have abstained from cigarettes for at least two years.

The article in the journal of the American Medical Association also said that persons who start smoking at a young age have the least chance of breaking the habit.

The article added that smokers who give up tobacco entirely have a better chance of giving up smoking than those who switch to pipes or cigars.

Brussels to House Major Headquarters of Oil Firm

NEW YORK — Cities Service Company will establish the European headquarters of Cities Service International, Inc., in Brussels, Belgium, in October to provide close coordination of various Cities Service interests in Europe. J. Ed. Warren, president, announced today.

In this connection, George P. Bunn Jr., has been elected president of Cities Service International and a vice president of the parent Cities Service Company. Bunn has also been named managing director of Cities Service International — European operations.

Primary functions of Cities Service International will be to seek new opportunities for investments by Cities Service and serve as liaison with the operating managements of companies in which Cities Service has stock ownership. Primarily these include a 49 per cent interest in Ammoniaque Synthetique et Derives, S. A., a Belgian chemical and fertilizer manufacturer, and a 50 per cent interest in Socomissil, S. A., which markets petroleum, coke, and coal in Belgium.

The remaining interest in these two companies is held by Evence Coppee and Cie., a diversified Belgian enterprise with operations in chemicals, steel, electric power and mining.

Other Cities Service operations in Europe will continue under existing managements. However, Cities Service International will be available to assist upon request.

In addition to Bunn, the top managerial staff of Cities Service International in Brussels will include E. L. Weir, who has been elected vice president and Treasurer, and E. H. Leloux, who has been named director of operations.

Bunn has been a vice president of Cities Service Oil Company, the domestic petroleum subsidiary of Cities Service, since 1962. Previously, he had been associated with Columbian Carbon Company, the chemicals and carbon black subsidiary of Cities Service, since 1950. Bunn, who graduated from the University of Kansas with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering, was elected vice president in charge of Columbian's oil and gas operations in 1959, a position he

Pampa Man, Home On Leave, Speaks At Kiwanis Meet

A description of the war in Viet Nam was given Pampa Kiwanians at their Friday noon meeting by Commander Delbert Grantham, back in Pampa on leave from his post as second in command of U. S. Naval Forces in the Viet war theater. Cmdr. Grantham will be found at Mrs. Velma Grantham, 1325 Mary Ellen.

The naval commander said he had seen nine different governments come and go in South Viet Nam.

He said one of the things needed in the war there was to

14-B Hard to Understand

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International

The purpose of this essay will be to suggest that all good men should know precisely what is contained in section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

To begin at the beginning, the Taft-Hartley Act more properly is called the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947. It was enacted in that year by the 80th Congress which Harry S. Truman ridiculed as the worst of all time but which, in fact, was a pretty good Congress just as Taft-Hartley was pretty good legislation.

Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) had been in the Senate some years when the Republican 80th Congress was elected in November, 1946. Taft had seniority sufficient to make him eligible for chairmanship of any committee of which he was a member. His three major committees were labor, banking and finance.

The Finance Committee chairmanship is a position of such power and prestige that senators urgently seek it. Taft chose, instead, to be chairman of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor.

Taft explained that he had chosen education and labor above others because he regarded the existing federal law on labor relations to be a shambles of error. This was the Wagner Labor Relations Act of the first Roosevelt administration. The Wagner Act was so shockingly loaded against the interests of employers as to begin to lose public confidence the moment it became effective.

Chairman of the 80th Congress House Committee on Education and Labor was Rep. Fred A. Hartley of New Jersey. Together, Hartley and Taft worked out the basis of the new Labor Relations Act while organized labor cried out in protest. It would be slave labor, the unionists protested, if Taft-Hartley became the law. But the politicians had heard from the people about the Wagner Labor Relations Act. So it was that Taft-Hartley was enacted over Harry Truman's veto. This could not have been accomplished by the Republicans alone. Many Democrats supported Taft-Hartley in the 80th Congress, among them a young representative from west Texas, Lyndon Baines Johnson.

Since 1947 organized labor has been knocking its head against a wall in an effort to obtain repeal of Taft-Hartley. Failing to make a gain, labor this year demanded only repeal of section 14-B. Repeal was the campaign promise to organized labor for its support, last year of the Johnson-Humphrey ticket. Of all that is contained in the many pages of the Taft-Hartley Act, labor hates most section 14-B. This is what it says:

"Nothing in this act shall be construed as authorizing the execution of agreements requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment in any state or territory in which such requirement is prohibited by state or territorial law."

That imposes nothing on organized labor. Section 14-B is wholly permissive. It permits the people of any state or territory to decide for themselves whether they shall or shall not have permit requiring compulsory unionism. Compulsion is the opposite of liberty and liberty is one of the unalienable rights noted in the Declaration of Independence. It is too soon for that document to go out of style.

Following official ribbon cutting ceremonies, Miami residents took a tour of the pool and facilities.

A free public swim was held from 2 until 6 p.m.

The pool will be open for free swimming this afternoon and then will close until next Spring.

Miami Chamber of Commerce President E. D. Daugherty spoke briefly at the dedication, along with County Judge Ed Haynes and Miami Mayor Woody Pond.

Fire Destroys Shamrock Courts

Fire broke out at the Shamrock Courts on the west edge of Shamrock Friday afternoon destroying seven units of the motel and extensively damaging several others.

Motel owner Cleve Hamilton said he had no idea how the fire started. There were no injuries and no estimate of the damage was made.

Volunteer firemen with two pumper units, aided by civil defense units answered the call and fought the blaze for about two hours.

In 1868, Thomas Edison filed papers for his first invention, an electoral vote recorder.

Gray Officers Probe Theft Of 17 Pigs

The theft of approximately 17 head of pigs was being investigated Saturday by the Gray County Sheriff's office.

The pigs, 10 shoats, six weaning pigs and one large sow, were stolen sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning from pens owned by Glen Curry of McLean.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said apparently someone drove a pickup or truck to the pens, located one mile east of McLean, and loaded the pigs. He said there were 35 head of pigs in the pens and 17 were taken.

Jordan said the animals were worth approximately $300.

PLANE CRASHES
RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (UPI)—A Pakistani International Airlines Fokker carrying a crew of four crashed in the Kaghan Valley northeast of Rawalpindi, Radio Pakistan reported.

The twin-engine plane left Rawalpindi Friday morning on a routine flight to Skardu in the Himalayas with civil supplies. The fate of the crew was not known. No passengers were aboard.
