Gibbs Paid Tribute For Rhodesia Stand

LONDON (UPI) — Parliament today joined Queen Elizabeth II in paying unique tribute to loyalist Governor Sir Humphrey Gibbs of Rhodesia who stands alone for British rule in the breakaway African colony.

A bi-partisan resolution was placed before Parliament praising Sir Humphrey for his "courageous stand" in the face of illegal attempts to drive him from office. All 630 members were called upon to affix their signatures to the all-party declaration.

Gibbs has refused to bow to demands by rebel Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith that he step down. Gibbs, 62, was replaced by the Smith regime with London-born lawyer Clifford Dupont but has refused to vacate Government House in Salisbury.

The Queen Thursday night awarded Gibbs her personal order of knighthood, making him a Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order. The order was instituted in 1896 by Queen Victoria and is bestowed for personal services to the queen.

Sir Humphrey already had been awarded knighthood, being made a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George in 1960 when he was named governor. He also is a member of the Order of the British Empire (OBE), the same title which caused a stir when the Queen awarded it to the Beatles this year.

The British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) said it would take special measures to assure that radio accounts of the tributes to Sir Humphrey were short-waved into Rhodesia.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson said earlier the BBC broadcasts to Rhodesia were being increased in order to combat newspaper censorship imposed by Smith, who declared the white-ruled colony independent on Nov. 11.

JURY DUTY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Edwin R. Lewinson, an assistant professor of American history, sued Thursday to acquire an obligation so many citizens consider an inconvenience—jury duty. The 35-year-old professor has been blind since birth. Lewinson said in his suit he was rejected for jury duty in May because of his blindness. He said he could serve in cases where sight is not necessary to the rendering of a verdict.

WEATHERWISE—

West Texas Free From Fog Shroud

By United Press International
Thick fog blanketed much of east and central Texas early today, extending as far as the hill country of southwest Texas.

Temperatures were generally warmer than 24 hours earlier, with the range before dawn from 38 degrees at Amarillo to 71 at Galveston. An exception was west Texas, where there was little change in temperatures, and skies were generally fair.

In Dallas the thick fog slowed morning traffic to the downtown area and prevented flights from landing at Love Field. Departing aircraft were on schedule, however.

Houston and Austin also got heavy fog, and air traffic at Houston stopped when visibility was cut to 1-1/2th of a mile. The mist extended over the Gulf Coast.

Planes also were delayed at Austin's municipal airport, postponing the arrival of a team of Atomic Energy Commission site inspectors from Odessa.

Battle of Chu Pong Mountain Costs North Viet Nam 1,411 Men

SAIGON (UPI)—An American general said today the Army's 1st Cavalry Division had killed 1411 Communists by actual body count in the six-day battle of Chu Pong Mountain. Estimates of Communist dead were "more than 2000" but American losses also were heavy.

Brig Gen. Richard A. Knowles deputy division commander and leader of the Communist - killing "Operation Silver Bayonet" for the battle six miles from the Cambodian border gave the figure of 1411. It did not include losses by artillery and devastating B52 strategic bombers.

American losses were described officially as "moderate" but front line dispatches said they were the heaviest of the war for any single engagement.

The American cavalrymen pushed on through the Chu Pong jungles today in search of a suspected supply base for the North Vietnamese Army. U.S. Air Force B52 bombers from Guam flew two more strikes against Communist positions in the high ground.

Military briefing officers said no solid contact had been made with Communist forces in the Chu Pong area for more than 24 hours. Advancing U.S. forces met only occasional mortar and sniper fire today, and 21 snipers were reported killed and one captured.

The cavalrymen repulsed three light Communist attacks during the night, and a Red mortar barrage damaged three American helicopters in a forward-division landing zone near the base of Chu Pong Mountain.

In another combat area,

South-Vietnamese infantrymen airlifted into battle by U.S. helicopters charged Viet Cong machinegunners and recaptured the district capital of Hiep Duc 345 miles north of Saigon.

A company of Vietnamese marines, outnumbered three-to-one, fought off a Viet Cong attack 12 miles southwest of Saigon today and killed 15 guerrillas in a fierce hour-long battle. Vietnamese losses were described as light.

U.S. officers at Tan Hiep airfield 25 miles south of Saigon said 114 Communist bodies had been counted after Thursday's battle between 1,000 guerrillas and two battalions of Vietnamese Rangers.

In air action over North Viet Nam, Communist anti-aircraft gunners shot down a U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bomber Thursday, but the pilot bailed out and was rescued.

In the fighting at Hiep Duc, government forces "fighting like tigers" charged entrenched guerrillas and a hail of machinegun fire to occupy the district capital 28 miles south of Da Nang.

The Viet Cong overran the town before dawn on Wednesday, slaughtering its leaders and their families and impaling the bodies on spikes.

United States Totals Casualties in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States suffered 108 combat fatalities in Viet Nam during the week ended Monday, raising the total U.S. war dead to 1,095.

This was the largest weekly increase ever shown on the weekly tabulation of casualties, released by the Defense Department each Thursday. The largest previous increase was 85 for the week ended Nov. 8.

The new figure for American wounded was 5,661, an increase of 358. The wounded during the previous week had totaled 478.

The Pentagon also identified 31 American servicemen killed in Viet Nam combat.

While the 31 didn't affect the weekly total, it brought the number of military men killed since 1961 to 1,122.

The new figure for combat deaths as of Monday was four more than the number identified as of Wednesday. However, identifications are held up three or four days while the next of kin are being notified.

There are now 96 Americans missing and 27 known to have been captured in Viet Nam, the tabulation showed. These totals were the same as for the previous week. The number of American dead from causes not due to hostile action increased from 391 to 402.

One Dead, Two Missing in Fire

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—An elderly woman was killed and two firemen were missing and presumed dead today as a $500,000 fire raged through a business and residential block on the city's east side.

Fire Chief Robert Cornice said there "could be more victims in the ruins. It was impossible to tell if everybody was accounted for."

Killed in the pre-dawn blaze was Margaret Barb, 76. She died trying to escape the fire. Her body was found in the hallway.

Missing in the wreckage of the building were Firemen Lawrence A. Labbe and John J. Nist. They disappeared after going into the burning building a second time to look for victims.

About 60 elderly patients at a nursing home across the street were evacuated as a precautionary measure, but the fire was brought under control before it could spread to the building.

The blaze raged out of control for several hours in the brick complex, which included two furniture stores, a restaurant, clothing store, a hardware store and several apartments. Cornice said it apparently started in one of the furniture stores.

About 15 persons were led to safety, many of them still in their nightclothes and clutching what few possessions they could carry with them.

Only one of the survivors, a 64-year-old man, was treated for smoke inhalation. He was released after treatment at Akron city hospital.

L. H. Noble, one of the survivors, said he met the two firemen halfway down the stairs leading to the street. He told them there was a woman in an apartment across the hall from his and they went upstairs to try to save her. She came down alone but the firemen did not emerge.

Noble, sobbing quietly, drew a diagram of the apartment area for firemen who dug through the rubble in a search for their missing comrades.

A huge traffic jam developed as firemen sealed off the area just as he day shift reported to work at the nearby main plant of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

LBJ HEARS ECONOMIC REPORT

First Cabinet Meeting Since Surgery

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson held a half hour cabinet meeting today and heard a report that the nation's economic expansion should roll into 1966 "on a strong note."

The cabinet, meeting for the first time since the President's surgery six weeks ago, also heard a report on Viet Nam from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

The President was preparing to fly to Texas shortly after attending the cabinet session and receiving a separate report from Gen. Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

A report from the Council of Economic Advisers to the President and cabinet said the nation's economy continued to advance in October on a broad front.

It said industrial production reversed a September decline and pointed back toward the summer peak reached when factories were building up steel stocks to be used in case of a steel strike.

The report noted that retail sales reached a new high in October, that automobile production was expected to set an all-time record this quarter and that more than 200,000 workers were added to non-farm payrolls in October.

Residential construction was described as "the one important sluggish area" of activity.

The report said the increase in the Gross National Product (GNP) during the current quarter could not be expected to match the $11.5 billion of the last quarter because of the reduction in steel inventories.

"But the gain should not be far from the $10 billion quarterly average of the past two years," the council said. "The expansion remains well balanced and well paced and should enter 1966 on a strong note."

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said the cabinet also heard a report from Undersecretary of State George Ball on foreign policy developments, including the conflict over Rhodesian independence.

Fate of Launch Hinges On Stoppag Measures

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Gemini spacecraft worker went on strike today forcing project officials to take stopgap measures to maintain the schedule designed to launch four astronauts in time to get them home by Christmas.

But the walkout called at midnight against the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. already set one critical test back a day and threatened to delay next month's twin Gemini launches. Gemini 7 is set for Dec. 4 blastoff with Gemini 6 following Dec. 13.

McDonnell, maker of the two-man spacecraft, employs 215 members of the striking International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, at the Cape. Many were off work, but a final count will not be available until a late afternoon shift starts.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said the already lagging Gemini testing schedule was revised today to work around the missing McDonnell capsule technicians.

He said testing of a new fuel cell electrical system that was installed in the spacecraft Thursday was put off until Saturday because of the strike. He said some machinists were needed for the test.

Company and union leaders were in Washington today to discuss the contract dispute with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. William Simkin, director of the service, said, "National interest requires that immediate efforts be made to resolve the dispute."

Unlike most strikes at the Cape, most of the spacecraft's construction workers were requested to work as usual at the request of union leaders.

Recovery Ships Come Two-for-One

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (UPI) — When it comes to spreading a fleet of ships out to recover astronauts from spaceflight, America can get two for the price of one.

Robert Thompson, chief of the landing and recovery operations for the Gemini 6 and 7 flights planned for next month, said both spaceships could come back to earth almost "tailgating" each other a few minutes apart. And the recovery plans could take care of them, he said.

As the flights are planned, however, they are to return four days apart.

Gemini 7, with astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell aboard, was scheduled for liftoff from Cape Kennedy Dec. 4 for a 14-day flight. Gemini 6, with Astronauts Walter M. Schirra and Thomas Stafford aboard, will go up nine days after Gemini 7 liftoff, and will return Dec. 14 or 15.

The double flight, called "The Spirit of 76 Flight," will try to get the two spacecraft within a few feet of each other in space, the "rendezvous" maneuver that man must master to go to the moon.

"It would be feasible to bring them both in on the same orbit," Thompson said of recovery plans. "We can react to two landings simultaneously, but it is not being planned that way."

Red China Slams UN

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China said today it does not want to join the United Nations until the world organization is overhauled and freed from alleged American control.

The Chinese statement was Peking's first official reaction to last Wednesday's vote by the General Assembly barring the Peking government from U.N. membership for the 15th consecutive year.

An editorial published in the Peking Peoples' Daily, the official newspaper, accused the United States of trying to isolate Communist China and impair its prestige by keeping Peking out of the United Nations.

Nation's Leaders Pay Cautious Tribute to Wallace

DANBURY, Conn. (UPI)—The nation's leaders paid cautiously worded tribute today to former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, an outspoken liberal and one of the most controversial men to attain high rank in American politics.

Wallace, who unceremoniously retreated to a farm near here following his defeat as a third-party presidential candidate in 1948, died Thursday following several months of illness. He was 77.

In his political career which dawned with an appointment as Secretary of agriculture in 1933, Wallace achieved the dubious distinction of being deposed from high office by two presidents. Fourteen years of close association with Franklin D. Roosevelt ended in 1944 when FDR removed him as a candidate for reelection to the vice presidency. And a year after Roosevelt appointed him secretary of commerce, Harry S. Truman demanded Wallace's resignation for labeling the administration policy toward Russia as "too tough."

When informed of Wallace's death, Truman said, "I'm sorry as I can be. Henry was an asset to the country." President Johnson said Wallace "always spoke his mind—and always from a deep sense of social justice. His views may not always have been popular, but they were sincere."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said, "We had our political differences and disagreements, but to me this never diminished the fact that he was a great public servant and one of the greatest friends American agriculture has had."

Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate when Wallace ran for president on the Progressive ticket, said, "Henry Wallace was a man of good will who led many a brave fight for the social advances achieved during his lifetime."

where he lived the contemplative life of a gentleman farmer, developing hybrid corn and experimenting with giant strawberries and gladioli.

He suffered several months from crippling lateral sclerosis. Death was attributed to a "respiratory arrest" resulting from the disease.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Ridgefield, Conn.

Wallace was born in Adair County, Iowa, the son of President Harding's secretary of agriculture and the grandson of the publisher of Wallace's Farmer, a popular farm magazine.

He studied animal husbandry in college and from 1910 to 1933 was associated with the family publication, most of the time as editor. He was a Republican until 1928 when he supported Al Smith. Shortly after, Wallace met Roosevelt.

His appointment as agriculture secretary was in part a reward for helping to swing traditionally Republican Iowa into the Roosevelt column in the 1932 election. He held the post until his election as vice president in 1940.

Foreign Dispute
Wallace's estrangement with FDR in 1944 was attributed largely to his views on foreign affairs and his bitter disputes with their secretary of commerce Jesse Jones, a conservative.

But when Roosevelt removed him from the subsequent vice presidential slate, he was offered any cabinet position except secretary of state. Wallace chose the Commerce Department post, and remained when Truman became president following Roosevelt's death in 1945.

Truman was always regarded suspicious of Wallace's left-wing tendencies. But the speech calling Soviet policy "too touchy" abruptly ended the political affiliation.

Wallace first incurred the wrath of conservatives in the 1930s when his revolutionary agricultural policies brought forth the charge that he was a "great waster of potential wealth; the man who would plow under little pigs, pay the farmers for not planting . . ."

But the left-wing policies which were politically sanctioned in the depression years were sternly opposed in 1948 when the nation was entering the anti-Communist era of McCarthyism. Wallace siphoned off more than a million votes from Truman's plurality, but his views suffered a thorough repudiation at the polls.

WATCH FOR WORMS

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Cods who want to dramatize Texas Tech's ambitions for the Cotton Bowl by wearing corsages of cotton to the Tech-Arkansas game Saturday will have to get them fumigated.

An agriculture official, D. H. Russell, said there is a federal pink bollworm quarantine on that requires cotton taken from Texas into Arkansas to be treated.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV Tuesday night broadcast its one-hour documentary about Frank Sinatra despite reported objections by the singer-actor-director. Apparently he was displeased by the use of personal material. He had given an interview for the show. Some of his friends and family had also cooperated in the filming, and some of them objected too.

He needn't have worried. Nobody lost, and certainly not Sinatra. For whatever he thought of the hour, or whatever specifically displeased him, he came out way, way ahead thanks to his charm, assurance, intelligence, his discerning comments about his profession and the superlative artistry of his singing. The most important thing about Sinatra for the public should be, after all, his singing—for there is no one better in his field—and viewers will have the opportunity to see him in a one-man, one-hour show on NBC-TV next Wednesday.

At one point Tuesday night, Leo Rosten, the writer and sociologist, said of Sinatra: "He's got voltage." And, perhaps ironically, it was this personal voltage, as exhibited by the singer himself, that provided the primary force that carried the hour he objected to—and made it come out his way. The script, which attempted to go for its own comment, occasionally used some subtle needling of Sinatra, perhaps not too obvious to many viewers—but I could not help getting the feeling that, like most needling of the star, there was also a sort of secret admiration and liking of much about him.

Democrats Plan For 'Hard Fight' In Gray County

Jim Terrell, KPND radio announcer, was elected president of the Gray County Democratic Club at a meeting last night in the Gray County Courthouse.

Terrell's election was by acclamation. Other officers chosen were Kirby Hyman, vice president; Margaret Guidry, secretary, and Mrs. D. V. Burton, treasurer.

In his acceptance speech, newly elected president Terrell urged local Democrats to get started on the 1966 election campaign and promised "a hard fight in Gray County."

"It's time we talked like Democrats, acted like Democrats and worked like Democrats," Terrell said. "If it takes door to door education to win in Gray County, we're going to go door to door. If we're going to be passive Democrats, then we have no business calling ourselves Democrats."

Terrell announced the appointment of Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson Jr. to head a committee for precinct organization, and Mary Simpson was named Publicity chairman.

Club members were informed 1965 poll taxes, which will be good for the 1966 elections, already are on sale in the County Tax Assessor Collector's office. They also were told a new precinct has been added to the Gray County map for 1966. It is Precinct 14, north of Kentucky St. and west of Hobart St., carved out of the old Precinct 7.

Pampa Society Plans Annual Roll-Call Meet

Members and guests of the Pampa Genealogical & Historical Society will observe the Annual Meeting and Roll-Call of the Society with a Thanksgiving Covered Dish Luncheon and Pioneer Days Program Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Lovett Memorial Library.

Presenting the program will be a panel of four speakers, including Mrs. Forrest Doshier of Amarillo, Panhandle district chairman of the Texas State Genealogical Society and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson, sister of Mrs. Doshier, and editor-in-chief of the recently published history of Armstrong county, "A Collection of Memories". Also appearing on the program will be Rev. and Mrs. James Todd of Claude, former Pampans and well known throughout the Panhandle. Rev. Todd is pastor of the First Christian Church at Claude and formerly served the local Christian Church as pastor during Pampa's "boom" days. An avid mountain-climber and outdoorsman, the minister has the distinction of also having served as a justice of the peace during the colorful and often turbulent days of Pampa's early 1930's.

Mrs. Evelyn Todd, who served so ably as head librarian of the Pampa Public Library during the early days of its growth, will relate the story of the library and the personalities who aided in the building of the book collection formerly located in the basement of the City Hall and now housed in the Lovett Memorial Library.

Shields in Memoriam will be presented to a family representative of Mrs. Mittie Farrington (Charles) Tignor, who served as first Historian for the Society, and to the family of Mrs. Mary Lee (Gragg) Bullock.

Serving on the Luncheon Committee will be Mrs. Willie B. Guill (Decorations), Mrs. J. C. Patillo (Menu), Mrs. George Ingram (Hospitality), Mrs. Carmie Heflin (Communications).

An exhibit of contemporary paintings will be displayed for the event through the courtesy of the Creative Art Group of Pampa and the showing will be open to the general public for ten days beginning Monday, Nov. 22 in the Library Auditorium.

UF Leaders Drive Soon Hope to End

Division chairman today were asked to rally their forces and get the job done in the Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign to raise $77,000 to support twelve participating agencies.

Norman Henry, president of the fund, said: "We hope to have 95 per cent of the prospect cards worked and the money turned in by next Wednesday. He urged that all cards that have been worked by the volunteers be turned in by that date.

He also asked prospective donors, who wish to contribute but who have not as yet been contacted, to either mail their check to the United Fund Office, P. O. Box 2076, Pampa or phone MO 9-8522 and a volunteer worker will pick up the money.

Henry said that almost all of the advance gifts division prospects have been contacted, but it may still be a few days before all of the money is turned in.

The special gifts division is about 70 per cent complete, while only about one-half of the general gifts division is finished.

Through this morning the total collected stood at $40,660.24, still far short of the money needed to support the various agencies.

According to investigating officers, the auto driven by Miss Fulton struck a parked truck owned by N. L. Roland, 845 E. Kingsmill. The truck was knocked into a house, causing an estimated $25 damage to the house. The truck received damage totaling $1,200.

Dear Abby....

Don't Come Apart At Seams When Needed

DEAR ABBY: First, let me say that I am a better-than-average seamstress. I don't sew to save money, because considering the kind of fabrics I buy, and the time I put into my work, I actually spend more on my clothes than I would pay to get ready-made clothes. I sew to get exactly what I want when I want it, and I get a better fit, too. But my problem is a certain woman in this town who makes me feel that there is a "stigma" attached to "home-made" clothes. Whenever I see her, which is often, she makes remarks like, "I can tell you didn't buy that!" and, "You sew so well it's hard to tell when you are wearing something store-bought or home-made." She pretends she's complimenting me, but the way she says it, I know it's a dig. Once I wore a new $35 hat and she said, "Don't tell me you make hats, too?" I never enjoyed wearing the hat after that. How can I fight this situation?

LOVES TO SEW

DEAR ABBY: Not with needles. Accept her remarks with grace and keep your composure. When she sees that you're not coming apart at the seams, she'll lay off.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who lost her husband a few months ago and is raising her three children, ages 2, 4, and 6, to believe that their Daddy is an "angel" up in heaven and is looking down watching everything they do? She has pictures of her dead husband all over the place and when the kids pass the pictures, they say, "Hi, Daddy!" Honestly, I think someone should tell that young mother to tell these kids the truth about their father because, when they find out their mother has been lying to them, they'll never believe another word she says. If you put this in the newspaper, it might help her.

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR
DEAR NEIGHBOR: I see no reason to disturb the children's present beliefs. It's comforting, and apparently has satisfied their childish curiosity for the moment. While the mother isn't able to prove her theory, neither is anyone able to disprove it. So if the mother is happy, and the children are satisfied, what is the harm?

DEAR ABBY: My son is a fine young man, but when he writes to me he never addresses me as "Mother" — he just writes, "Hey!" Should I tell him in my next letter that I do not like this type of salutation? Or should I remain silent and accept it as a result of my failure as a mother?

FAILURE

DEAR "FAILURE": Write and tell the boy how you feel about his salutation, but don't regard it as an indication that you have "failed" as a mother. It's not the salutation, but the sign-off that counts. If he ends with "love" and means it, consider yourself a success.

DEAR ABBY: If there's anything I can't stand, it's a woman who lies about her age. I wonder what happens to all the years that women subtract from their ages?

HOMO SAPIENS

DEAR SAP: Don't worry, they're not lost. They add them to someone else's.

High school girls are eagerly waiting for the earth to complete its revolution. The reason can be summed up in one word, mums.

Tomorrow morning members of Future Teachers of America will deliver mums to lucky girls all over town. Thoughtful boys have been ordering the corsages from FTA for the last two weeks.

"Since the Borger game is the final game of the football season, we thought it would be a good time to sell mums," said Venita Turcotte, FTA president. The flowers are decorated with green and gold streamers and with either a "P" or a player's number.

FTA will set up booths at Richard's Drug, Jackson's Cafeteria and Duckwall's tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and sell mums to adults and students. The mums are priced at $2.50 and can be purchased from any FTA member.

Mrs. Winifred Cates and Mr. Don Howard, English teachers, are club sponsors. Other officers are Linda Hubbard, vice president; Mary Shewmaker, recording secretary; Mary Hom, corresponding secretary; Jeannie Prock, historian; and Schuyler Stuckey, parliamentarian.

The Harvester band will crown its sweetheart at half time tomorrow night during the Borger game. The three finalists are Georgiann Graison, Sally McKnight and Barbara Zimmermann.

The "Pride of Pampa" has brought home another superior rating to add to its collection. The band received a Division I rating at the Interscholastic League regional marching contest at Canyon Nov. 5. Mr. Fred Stockdale is band director.

Kings, who as the name implies are the more swinging part of the band, played selections ranging from "Goldfinger" to "Wipe-out," at the Red Cross Youth assembly.

The assembly officially kicked off the annual Red Cross enrollment - fund raising drive. The most money the school has ever raised for Red Cross is $800. This year the club is trying for $801. Pampa High has challenged Thomas Jefferson High School of Dallas, a school that boasts well over 1,000 students more than PHS. Homeroms challenged other homeroms and have sold everything from brownies to bubble gum in hopes of raising the most money. The loser traditionally treats the winning homerom to a free Coke party. The drive officially ended today, but it will probably take a few more days to tally up the profits.

Students elected class favorites last week. Linda Hubbard and David Harmon were elected favorites by the Senior Class. Ann Monroe and John Braly were elected favorites by the Junior Class. Jennifer Cunningham and Dickie Henley are favorites of the Sophomore Class. School Pin-ups will be elected Dec. 7 after being presented to the student body in an assembly. Kick the dull driving habit in a car that's really going places. Polara is loaded with looks, luxury and performance. It's big and solid, with wide sweeping lines. And Polara gives you a lot of standard extras (like a 383 cubic inch V8).

Monaco

Take a look at Dodge's top gun. For luxury performance this is the one. Combines performance, comfort and glamour at a reasonable price. By far the most dazzling car in the '66 Dodge lineup of dazzlers. Monaco! Hardtop, wagon or sedan.

Coronet

Here's a car that fills the bill for Rebels who want a brand new thrill. The Coronet is sharp, smart and zippy — and it goes like no other car in its class. Coronet is also loaded with luxury the higher-priced cars haven't caught onto yet. Lots of power in a sponky Six — and a fistful of brawny V8's.

Dart

This is a rebel in the compact class — bigger than any, with a lot more sass. Big on the inside. Big on the outside. Beautiful any way you look at it. (About the only way it resembles an ordinary compact is in the way it saves you money). Your choice of two quick Sixes and two great Eights.

Time for Self-Control

TIME FOR SELF-CONTROL

Protest has always been a significant part of the American scene. Our nation came into being as a "revolution," our political life has been geared to the freedom of controversy and there is a deep strain of respect for the right to speak up and to speak out. Americans know how to talk back.

Yet there have been times when we seemed to shy at our own tradition. McCarthyism was a brief venture in quelling protest and in recent weeks there have been voices, angered at draft card burnings and other acts, that cried out: "The government knows best." Thus the pendulum swings.

Protest demands responsibility. The extremes in draft-dodging and irresponsible protest are obviously unpatriotic; so are the irresponsible voices that cry for the bombing of Hanoi and Red China.

I interviewed a picket in front of the White House on one occasion. This placard-carrier knew that the President was not at home. He knew that responsible political leaders were not seeing his protest. His chief benefit was simply that he was getting something off his own chest. It was probably good therapy for him to release his pent-up frustrations instead of encouraging ulcers but there ought to be a better reason for such actions.

Richard Hofstadter, in his study of anti-intellectualism, states: "Dissenting intellectuals often seem to feel that they are morally on trial for being intellectuals, and their moral responsibility is then interpreted as a responsibility primarily to repudiation and destruction, so that the measure of intellectual merit is felt to lie not in imagination or precision, but in the greatest degree of negativism." That's the danger all of us confront. We are liable to be against something without really doing anything about it or shedding any light upon the problem.

This time of crisis demands self-control, in speech as well as in action. There is a quality of courage displayed by men at home as well as on the battlefield, born of selflessness and dedicated to responsible action. That person will dare to protest, stand up and be counted; he will also know when and how to be silent.

We want to be known as a people who know the difference between internationalism and interventionism, between strong defenses and saber-rattling, between freedom and license, between youthful vigor and immaturity. All of this requires self-control. Our nation requires this virtue of responsible protest and creative moral sensitivity in the midst of this debate.

58TH YEAR

Brownwood College President Speaks Here

Dr. GUY D. NEWMAN

Dr. Guy D. Newman, President of Howard Payne College, will be the guest preacher for First Baptist Church, for both services of worship Sunday. Dr. Newman is one of the most outstanding speakers of the Southern Baptist Convention. He is also an author, having written "When God Invaded History; Knife and Fork Club Speaker, and director of the Douglas McArthur Freedom Foundation.

Sam Allen, Minister of Music, will direct the Church Choir in singing the anthem, "I Will Exalt Thee" by Angell. A trio will complete the special music composed of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Allen and Sam II. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Thanks Be to Thee" by Handel for the offertory.

The Chapel Choir will occupy the choir loft for the six o'clock evening worship and will sing special music. Allen will sing a tenor solo before Dr. Newman speaks. "Lift Thine Eyes" by Clarke is the selection Miss Lane has chosen for the organ offertory.

Pampa people may remember that Dr. Guy Newman was the speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet when Pampa celebrated their sixtieth anniversary. We cordially invite the people of this vicinity to hear Dr. Newman in these services Sunday.

'Cheap Grace' Is Morning Topic For Presbyterians

"Cheap Grace," a term used by Dietrich Bonhoeffer with real effectiveness, is the title of the morning sermon at the First Presbyterian Church. The parable of the Publican and the Pharisee, from Luke's Gospel, chapter 18, provides Biblical insight into the real meaning of Thanksgiving. The Rev. Donald S. Hauck will preach at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship hours and will be assisted in the service by Ruling Elder Dr. Will Graham.

The Inquirers' Class continues during the Church School hour, a time when many families prepare themselves for committed church membership.

On Sunday evening the Junior High Fellowship, under sponsorship of Mr. and John Brewer, will meet at 8:30 p.m., and the Senior High will meet at 6 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. a group of Senior High Young People from St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and the Presbyterian Church will meet with David Heath to begin work on a play to be given after the first of the year.

Witnesses Attend Dumas Convention

Some 35 Pampa residents heard A. A. Catanzaro, principal speaker for the circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, in Dumas, promise there will be a resurrection for the dead here on the earth.

The minister was the main speaker for a Bible seminar that attracted 704 to the Moore county building to hear his talk on "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean For You and Yours" presented Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

The Pampa Witnesses joined others from some 29 communities for three days of discussions on Bible topics.

Catanzaro, announced for several large national conventions this summer.

Included in the gatherings will be a series of conventions to be held in Mexico, South and Central America. Several Pampa families have already made plans to attend the larger assemblies in other countries.

The convention ended with a final meal served in a special cafeteria the Witnesses had structured.

Volunteer helpers from Pampa and other communities assisted in dismantling the several hundred pounds of equipment that the Witnesses use for their assemblies.

Evening services begin with the Training Program at 6 p.m. The evening worship hour is at 7. The subject of the pastor's message Sunday evening is "In Times Like These."

STUDY SHOWS

Apartment Dwellers Rarely Join Church

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
There are serious implications for all city churches in a study recently completed in the nation's capital by the Greater Washington Council of Churches.

It shows that people who live in apartments are not likely to join churches. In the Washington area, more than 60 per cent of the residents of single family homes are affiliated with churches. But less than 5 per cent of the apartment dwellers are church members.

This finding is ominous because there is a marked trend toward apartment living. Fifty per cent of the increase in adult population in the Washington area over the past five years has moved into apartments.

If Washington is representative of American cities—and in this matter it probably is—churches have hardly begun to come to grips with the problem of reaching apartment dwellers. Of the 1,500 churches in the metropolitan area covered by the survey, only 50 now are making a continuous and aggressive effort to minister to apartment residents.

The study was made under the supervision of the Rev. Charles A. Ellett, a trained researcher and a specialist in religious sociology. His conclusion: "Churches are losing personal contact with a large and growing segment of the city's population."

What can be done about it? It won't do much good, in the Rev. Mr. Ellett's opinion, to tackle the problem on an every-denomination-for-itself basis. Apartment dwellers place a high value on their privacy and tend to react with pronounced hostility to doorbell ringers who solicit their attendance at a particular church.

What might work better, he thinks, is an ecumenical approach.

Each individual or family who moved into an apartment house would receive a single call from a person representing all of the churches and synagogues in the neighborhood. The caller would extend welcome and leave a brochure giving the addresses, service hours and other information about nearby houses of worship. If the occupant indicated interest in any particular denomination, the caller would report this to the appropriate church for a follow-up contact.

A second suggestion from the Rev. Mr. Ellett is that urban churches revamp their programs to put more emphasis on concerts, films, literary discussions or social activities that might appeal to single adults or couples without children. At present, he points out, most of churches are slanted toward the family.

He also recommends that churches give "far higher priority" to the use of mass media—newspapers, radio and communicating with the growing army of city dwellers who have no personal contact with any religious body.

It so happens that one major protestant denomination, the United Church of Christ, is already in the midst of an imaginative experiment in the use of newspaper advertising in the Washington area.

Two column display ads are being run once a week in Washington newspapers—not on the church pages but in the general news sections alongside commercial advertising.

They are clever, eye-catching ads which obviously have been prepared by professionals. They are aimed at people who don't go to church. Under the heading "never on Sunday?" one recent ad undertook to answer people who say they "have nothing against religion but don't like the institutional church." It concluded:

"We realize there is a great deal more to church and religion than the Sunday morning worship service. Still, we feel it is a good place to start. You are welcome in our churches on Sunday or any other day."

At the bottom of the ad was a list of 19 United Church of Christ congregations in the Washington area with their addresses and telephone numbers.

Another ad had a big headline proclaiming that "We give our sermons in 40 languages." The small print explained that United Church missionaries are at work in that many countries. Then, the ad went on to say:

"In Washington we speak English. Everyday English that makes sense about... what we believe in."

"What's on your mind? Come in and talk it over. We're ready to talk with you in straight-from-the-shoulder language."

Whether the advertising campaign will boost church attendance remains to be seen. But a recent survey among passers-by on a downtown street corner clearly indicates that the ads are getting through. Two thirds of the people questioned replied immediately that they had seen them.

Shelby J. Ruff, chairman of the choir and music committee of the local church, will be in charge of the services. This service is especially planned for all those who love gospel singing.

PRISONER AID...
BOSTON (UPI)—Church people should keep themselves informed of new efforts of prison bureaus to rehabilitate prisoners. Myrl E. Alexander, director of the United States Bureau of Prisons, told a consultation on prisoners and potential juvenile offenders.

The consultation, sponsored by the Division of Health and Social Ministries of the American Baptist Home Mission Societies, was held in the First Baptist Church here.

Referring to programs in which prisoners are released for home furloughs and for work, Alexander said the prison chaplain is a go-between to help people understand prisoners and penal institutions.

Your Child And School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Children often have a great deal of insight about their own problems. They are sometimes confused by parental and teacher decisions in which they are not consulted. The result is a lack of understanding and, possibly rebellious action. On the other hand, there can be too few decisions made. Neither approach solves the problem.

This can be emphasized by a number of questions written to this column by young readers. Some of the individuals writing these letters are seeking to be involved in various parental and teacher actions. In other cases, the opposite is true. Some writers have asked why their parents or teachers do not make decisions. Every time there is a question, the response is to form a committee to study the problem, or the answer is a question such as, "what would you suggest?"

Perhaps, there is an important lesson in these letters. All those concerned with children should review their own approaches to decision making. The democratic process is not at stake here, but rather the responsibility of parents and teachers. Obviously, children want and should have a balance between the two types of decision making. It is not reasonable to expect a child to accept all decisions blindly nor is it a good idea to always avoid making decisions.

Where do we draw the line? This must be done in two ways. Each problem or question which arises should be considered on its own merits. There should also be a periodic review to consider if a reasonable balance exists. At all times, it is necessary to consider the child and his particular needs.

A letter from Gail, a 6th grader, complains that her parents have scheduled homework, play, television and music lessons at specific times without talking to her. She indicates that she understands the need for a schedule but that this particular schedule does not meet her needs. Most of Gail's homework is assigned on Tuesday and Thursday. These are the days on which her parents have scheduled music lessons. Play time has been scheduled when her friends are not available.

WHAT IT TAKES
NEW YORK (UPI)—To be a Religious, a person should be able to meet three requirements, in the form of "bones," says the Catholic Digest, which lists them as:
A wishbone, for you must want to be a Religious.
A backbone, a strong will to choose what is right and health to lead the life.
A funnybone, to laugh at yourself and others.

Inspirational
Message

REV. J. S. McMULLEN
First Assembly of God

THE HEART OF MAN

David said, Create in me a clean heart O God. Psalms 51:10.

In Proverbs 3:23 the Preacher said, keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life.

I suppose, the physiologist would say, "The heart is the central organ of the vascular system, a hollow muscular structure that propels the blood by alternate contractions and dilations.

Common usage would declare that the heart is the seat of the affections and passions.

Literary usage would declare that the human heart is the source of wit, courage, grief and pleasure.

The heart is used in the scriptures as the figure of the seat of man's moral being, the center and source of the outward life.

Our Lord teaches that the heart is the fountain from which flows the issues of life. The thought, conduct and speech of man come from the heart. And it will become a cesspool of evil unless controlled by the Holy Spirit.

The fleshly heart is a mass of muscle, weighing about three quarters of a pound. It has the hardest job of any organ of the body. Hold out your hand, clench the fingers into a fist, then let them relax. Imagine yourself repeating this seventy times a minute, hour after hour, from birth until death, 4,320 times per hour, 100,000 per day, 40 million a year. That is the appalling assignment of the heart. It is no wonder that Jesus said, "Mens hearts failing them for fear."

When the Bible speaks of the heart, it means more than that little fleshly engine of energy within the breast. The Bible heart consist of the intellect, sensibilities, the will and the conscience and not just the engine.

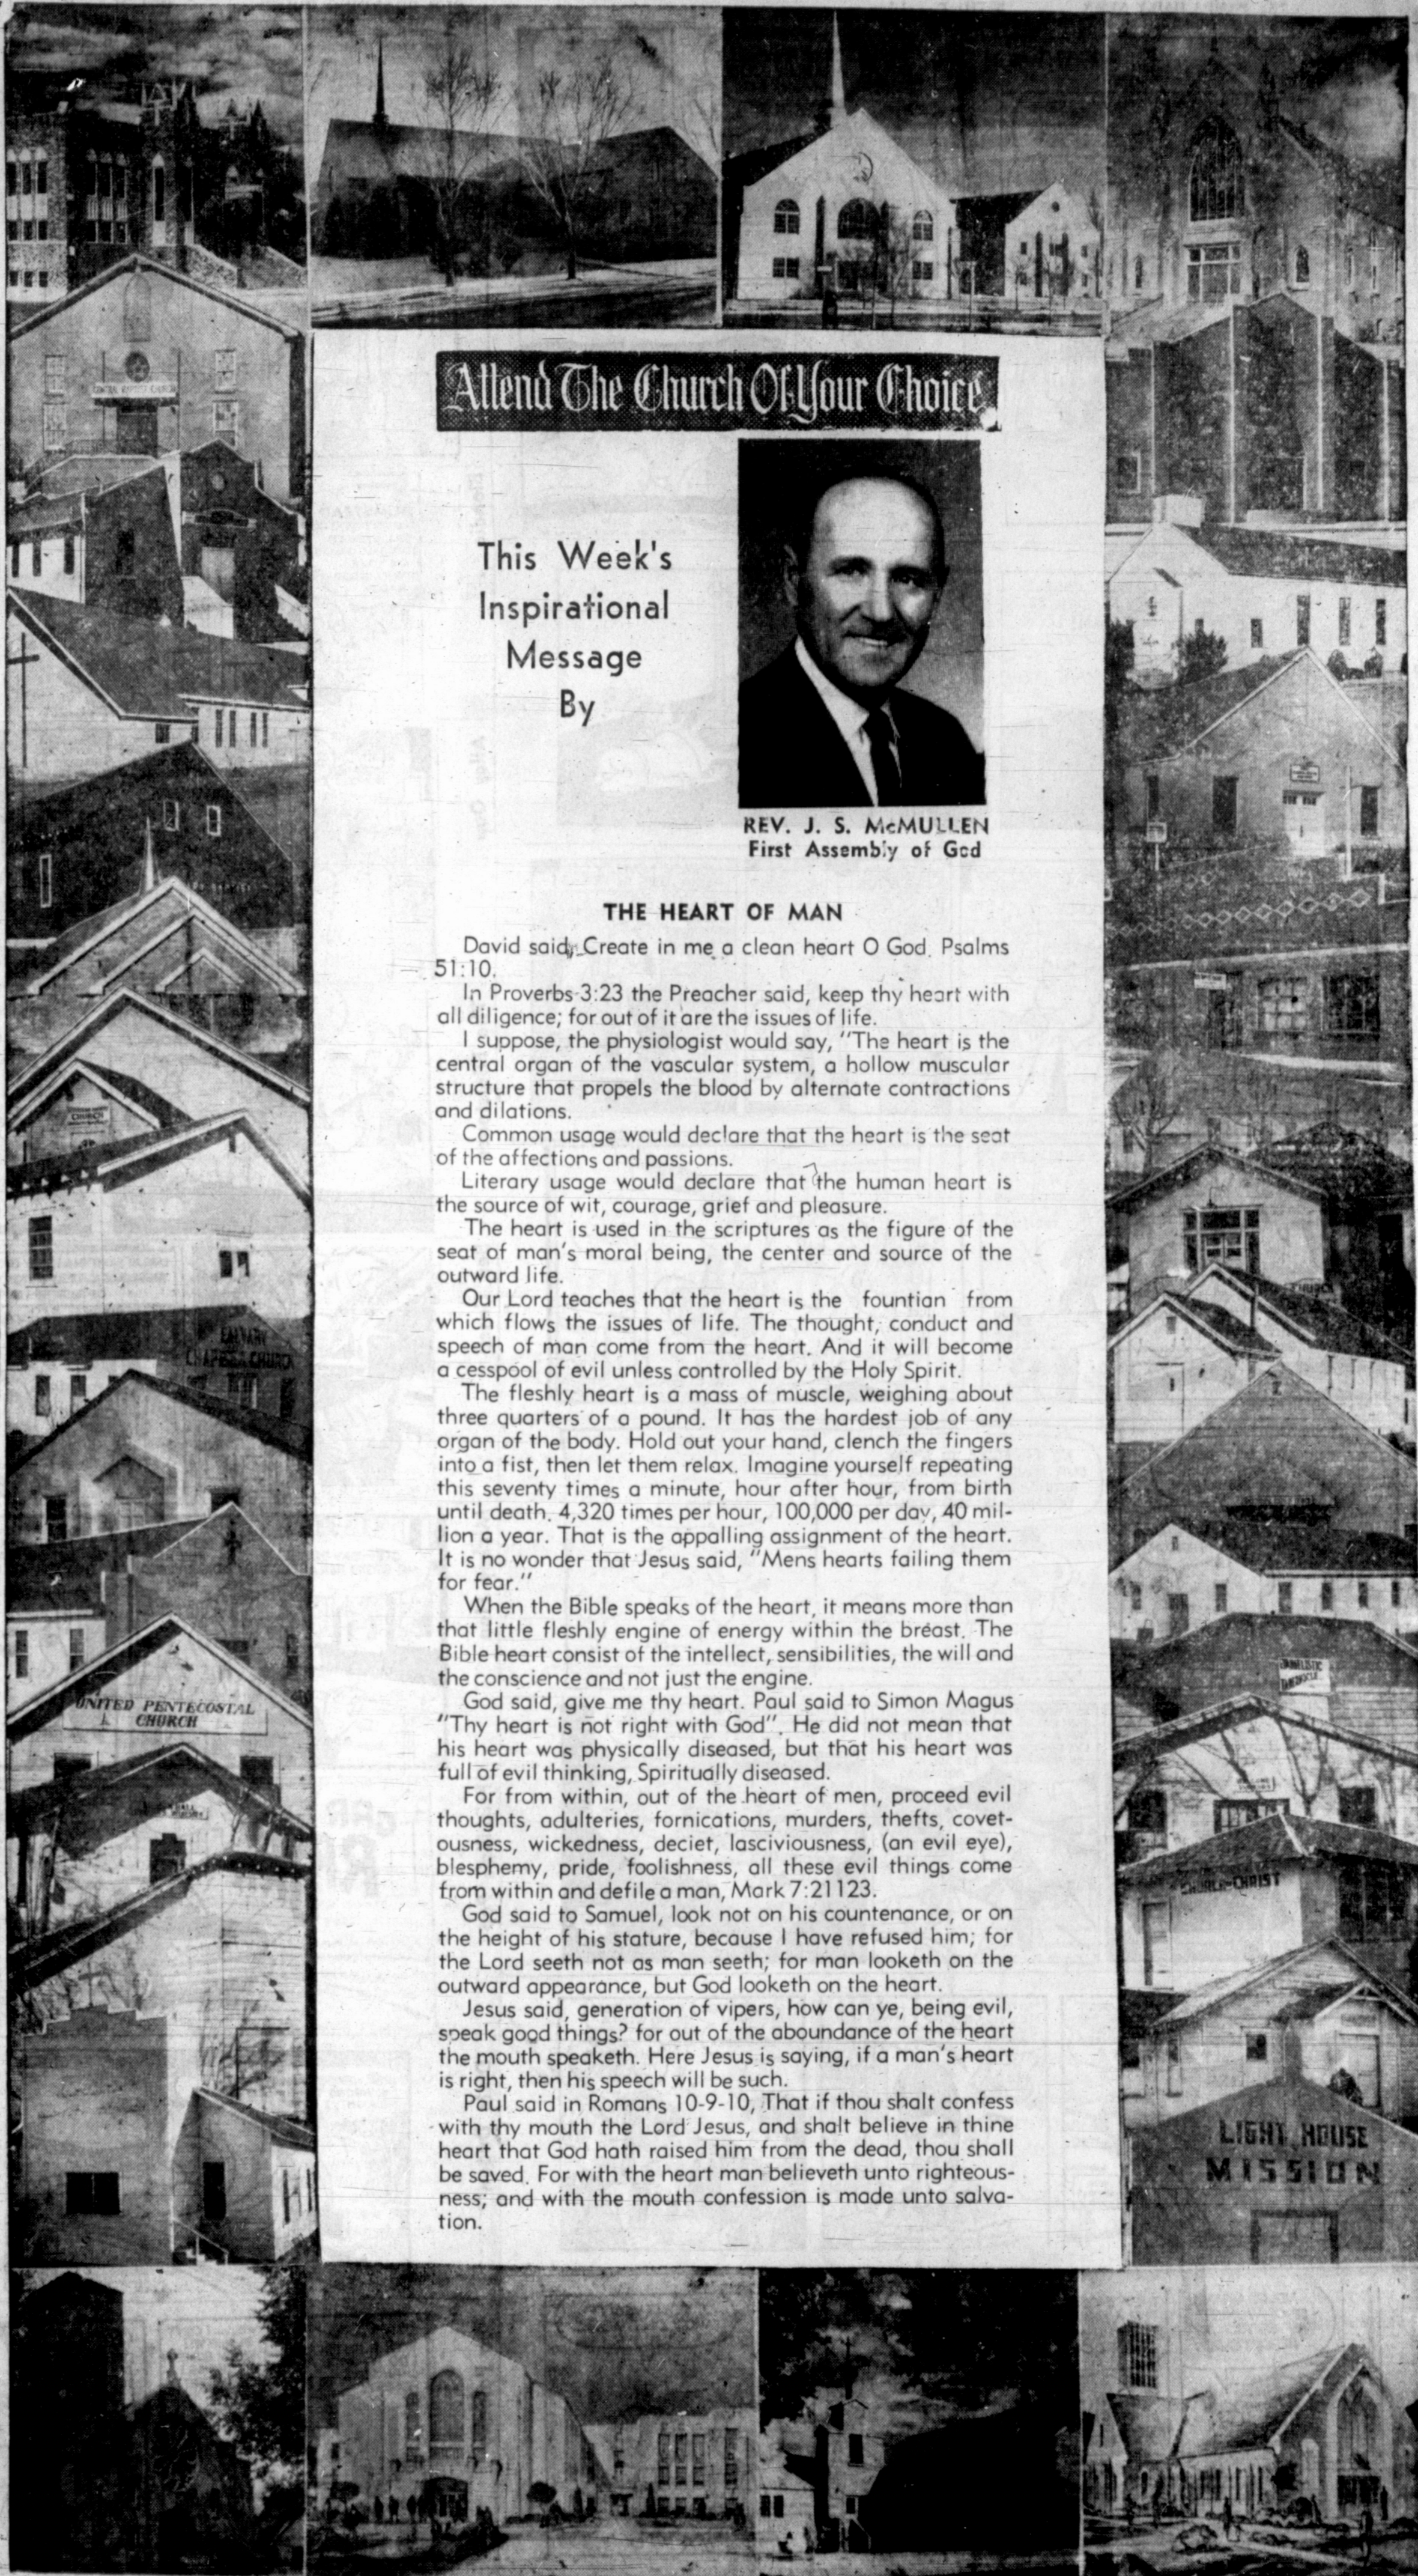

God said, give me thy heart. Paul said to Simon Magus "Thy heart is not right with God". He did not mean that his heart was physically diseased, but that his heart was full of evil thinking, Spiritually diseased.

For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deciet, lasciviousness, (an evil eye), blasphemy, pride, foolishness, all these evil things come from within and defile a man, Mark 7:21 123.

God said to Samuel, look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature, because I have refused him; for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but God looketh on the heart.

Jesus said, generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. Here Jesus is saying, if a man's heart is right, then his speech will be such.

Paul said in Romans 10:9-10, That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shall be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

Pampa Ends Grid Year With Borger

By RON CROSS
Daily News Sports Editor

Nineteen seniors will bow out of varsity football for Pampa Saturday when the Harvesters host Borger in the closing 3-4A football game of the season, starting at 2 p.m.

These 19 seniors, who will be playing for Pampa High School for the last time, have never played on a Pampa team that defeated the Bulldogs.

Borger has run roughshod over Pampa for the past seven years. The Harvesters last taste of victory came in 1957, 22-16.

The only thing at stake in Saturday's contest is the struggle to stay out of the 3-4A cellar. Both teams have 1-6 league records.

Season-wise Borger has fared a bit better than Pampa, having won two of their nine contests, while the Harvesters lone victory has come at the expense of Palo Duro.

It's been nothing but snake-eyes for Pampa since then, with six straight losses having been stuffed down the Harvesters' necks.

Losing is something new to the Bulldogs, who haven't had a losing season since Gene Mayfield took over in 1959. But Mayfield is gone this year and the Bulldogs have had to scrap every game.

They, like Pampa, are much better than their record indicates, although, again like the Harvesters, they have been having trouble scoring.

In nine games, the Bulldogs have amassed only a total of 78 points while giving up 133. Pampa has scored 67 points and given up 230.

Borger was beaten only 9-0 last week by Tascosa, a team that handled Pampa, 34-14. Too, Borger was hampered by penalties and the fact that their best runner wasn't suited up.

But, he will be for Pampa. Pete Loftus, a 165 pound senior halfback, who has scored 30 of the Bulldogs points will see action Saturday.

Pampa's scoring troubles have mounted the past two weeks, with Lubbock and Amarillo both blanking the Harvesters.

Pampa hasn't put together four good quarters yet, with only 18 points coming in the opening half, 12 of them in the first quarter.

Seniors who will end their high school football careers Saturday are:

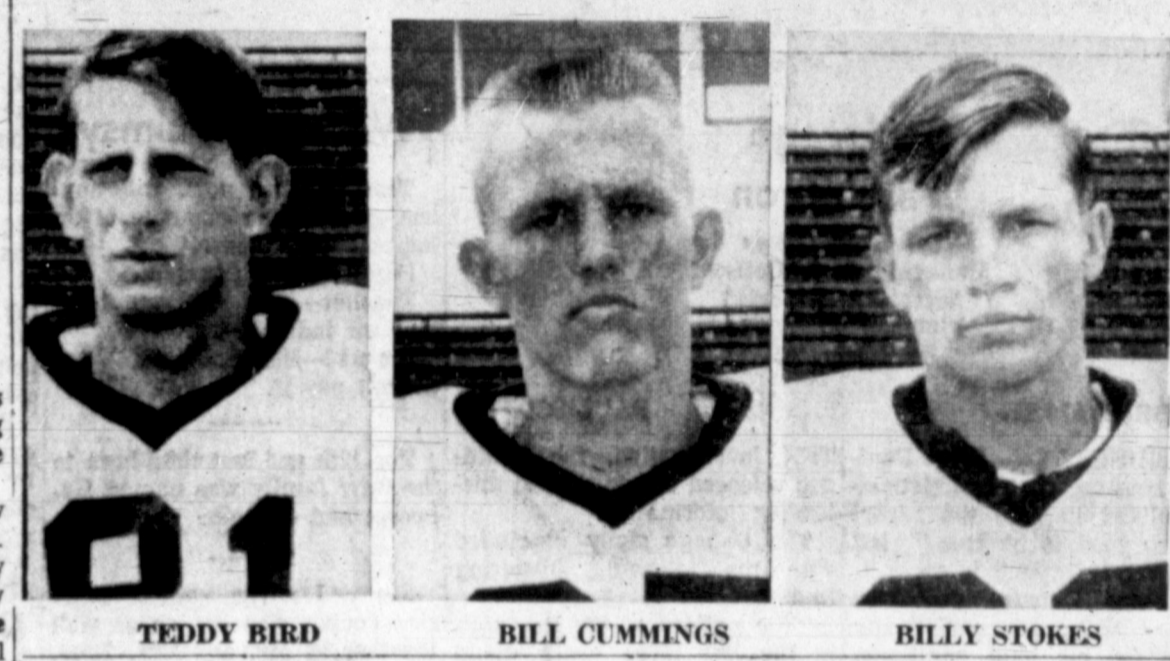

Roy Harper, Joey Roden, Jim Moore, Lewis Meers, Jerry Wright, Berry Craig, David Taylor, Larry Eckroat, Dan Patterson, Johnny Lofton.

Also, Jon Windsor, Billy Quarles, Woodie Leonard, Gary Jarrard, Glynn Abbott, J. T. Winters, Ted Bird, Bill Cummings, and Billy Stokes.

Harper has been Pampa's starting quarterback, having been switched from end where he played last year.

He has been one of the few bright spots on the Harvesters. Ted Bird, Billy Quarles, Joey Roden, Jim Moore, Jerry Wright, Dan Patterson, Woodie Leonard and Stokes have all played better than Pampa's record indicates.

You can bet that come Saturday afternoon and all will give that little extra.

GAME TIME IS 8 P.M.

Harvester Basketball Host Dumas on Saturday

By A Staff Writer

Pampa, although they have but one starter back from the 1964-65 basketball season, will be favored to take the measure of Dumas Saturday night when the two teams open the 1965-66 roundball season.

Cochair Gary Griffin's 'B' team will start the ball rolling at 8 p.m. in Harvester fieldhouse and coach Terry Culley's varsity will open the Harvester game at 8 p.m.

Culley has but three lettermen back but, as always is expected to win. He's starting his sixth year as head of the Harvesters and still has to go through a losing season.

Kenneth McWilliams, "who can play just about anywhere," according to Culley, is the only starter back on the Pampa squad.

McWilliams is a 63 senior and will probably start at forward along with 6'2 1/2 Mike Wise, another senior who lettered last year.

David Cain, 6'5 senior letterman, will probably get the nod to start at center and two of four boys will be called on at guards.

There is David Frashier, 6'3 1/2 senior; Gary Crossland, 5'9 senior, Doug Altom, 5'10 1/2 senior and Steve Williams, 6'0 junior.

All are adept at the guard spot and Frashier will probably see action at forward also.

On last seasons team, that finished 26-5, McWilliams averaged about 12 points a game. Dumas, with coach Jerry Hale at the helm, returns three lettermen and one starter. Football has interfered with the Demons practice sessions and Hale indicated he expected about 21 more boys out when the grid season ended for Dumas.

Ronnie Stephenson, a 6'0 senior forward is the only returning starter Hale has. He also can count on forward Guy Kimbly a 6'2 senior and James Curtis, 5'10 senior guard and that takes care of the lettermen.

The other two starters will probably be Junior Randy Welch, a 6'2 1/2 jumper at center and 5'10 Lane Boyd at the other guard. Boyd is a senior who saw only limited action last year.

Bucks Favored Over Gruver

White Deer will try to take another giant step toward the AA state championship tonight when they host upstart Gruver in the first round of the regional playoffs.

The Bucks feature a fast moving offense that is averaging 38.2 points per contest and a defense that is one of the stingiest in the state with a 3.2 per game average.

White Deer has lightning in the backfield in the form of halfback Randy Elliott, the area's scoring leader with 116 points on 19 touchdown runs and one conversion and fullback Vernon Marlar, who insists on running over you, and out-running you.

Marlar has 15 touchdowns for 90 points. White Deer also has Jimmy Smith with seven touchdowns for 42 points.

The Bucks sport a perfect 10-0 record and wound up 5-0 in conference play. One of their pre-conference victories was over Gruver, only 7-0.

Gruver is the only team that has been able to hold White Deer to one touchdown.

Meanwhile, back in the 5-B race, Groom has clinched the title and needs only a victory over Darrzoute Friday night to windup 6-0 in league play.

Second place Wheeler, whose only loss has been to the Tigers plays at Lefors in the season ending game.

Miami will close out the 1965 season at Follett.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Demonstrations Reaction

The reaction against the beatnik demonstrators against the war in Viet Nam is becoming more pronounced. Young college people around the country are coming out with strong statements against those who have been lying in front of troop trains and offering to send aid to Communists in North Viet Nam.

And there are letters from service personnel which point out that the servicemen are disturbed at what has been going on at home.

A marine wife sent this excerpt from a letter from her husband who is stationed at Da Nang Air Base:

"Honey, I hate to get on this subject; but, what is wrong with the people back home? Don't they know there is a war on? What is this thing, 'Marching', and 'Bring the Boys Home'?"

"Sure, we want to come home; but, if we fall here, honey, we might as well hang everything we stand for, as we would have lost all. Then, in a few years there will be shells landing on our shores.

"We are not brainwashed here; we are only trying to give the people their freedom, those that want it that is. True, they are not highly educated; but they are people and they deserve to be protected. This way, other nations will understand what we will fight for.

"These draft dodgers; they ought to send every one of them over here, so they can see for themselves, what is going on. One day would be enough. Sure, I gripe. Who wouldn't? The heat, mosquitoes, away from you and loved ones; but, most of all you! We're fighting for America, the greatest nation in the world. We have but one flag flying here, our flag. What I mean is, that there is one American flag in our area, and it's great to see Old Glory flying.

"I feel I am doing my part and I expect all those that live in America to do their part also, even if it means dying for their country. To read about the way the kids are acting, makes me sick! Better stop now; but, you know my feelings, honey. I am proud to be an American—Don't we wish there were more!"

Learning How the Gears Work

Today's ambitious youngster still starts up the ladder of success in the time-honored way—by mowing lawns, delivering newspapers, baby-sitting.

But more and more frequently, if you ask a young man or lady what he or she does to earn extra money, the reply may be, "I'm an executive officer of an industrial corporation."

This year more than 115,000 boys and girls will learn what the world of commerce is really like—by running a profit-making company by themselves under the sponsorship of Junior Achievement.

J. A. began in 1919 in Springfield, Mass. Today, it is an international organization sponsoring some 3,000 teen-age companies in hundreds of communities throughout the United States and Canada.

Its purpose: To teach high school students about the workings, the accomplishments, the rewards and penalties of the free enterprise system of economy; to provide an opportunity for young people "to learn about business by running a business."

Through Junior Achievement, these youngsters will become acquainted with business in all its aspects, from product research to market analysis, from production to sales.

With advice and help donated by employees of local companies, they will set up small-scale corporate structures, issue shares, declare dividends.

Not least, they will manufacture and sell a useful product, such as an article of clothing or a household gadget, which will be offered to the buying public on its merits, just as any product is.

Come on, Cheer Up

Each day's news adds to the catalogue of urgent crises, pressing needs, alarming trends, of domestic and international problems that demand our worried attention.

It is, in short, a world of terrible realities that must be dealt with realistically. Anyone who does not recognize this fact is guilty of looking at the world through rose-colored glasses.

And this, as everyone knows, is just about the worst thing anyone can do.

"We just happen to disagree with it," says "Through the Meshes," a tiny magazine large with homely wit and wisdom published by the W. S. Tyler Co. of Cleveland, Ohio.

The magazine suggests that optical factories tool up to make rose-colored glasses and that an hour or two a day of wearing them would do most people a world of good.

"Through rose-colored glasses, the day takes on a softer, brighter look. The weather is no longer something to complain about but something to prompt the remark, 'It's pleasant out today, isn't it?'"

"Aunt Millie may be getting old and wan, and may not be feeling well at all, but through rose-colored glass her complexion lights up, and instead of seeing her with sadness we say 'Mil, old girl, you look wonderful this afternoon.'"

"Silly to see things more cheerfully than the facts warrant? Not always. Once in a while, a sound person says to himself, 'Down with reality. On with the rose-colored glasses.'"

Backstage Washington

Sylvester, News Managing Asst. Defense Secretary, Reported Planning to Retire in Early '66

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Some Pentagon insiders are pessimistically inclined to rate the report as "too good to be true," but all fervently hope it is so. Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester, caustically known for his bald admission of "managing the news" and justification of the "right of the government to lie," is reputedly planning to quit early next year. Close friends are so sure that.

Approaching 65, he will have held his $27,000 job for five years on January 29 and be eligible to retire with an annuity of some $2,000.

Under the civil service system, federal employees can retire at 62 with five years' service. Annuities are based on length of service and the "high five" salary—average basic salary earned during any five consecutive years.

Although without military service or background of any kind, Sylvester was appointed to his key Defense Department job by President Kennedy. He quickly became as controversial as his boss, Secretary McNamara. In 1963 the Advancement of Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, leading journalism fraternity, scathingly denounced both in a detailed report.

Among the highlights of this castigation are the following: "Secretary of Defense McNamara and his public relations director, Arthur Sylvester, have created an oligarchy of control over the release of all news emanating from the Department of Defense, and which led to the latter's boast of 'managing the news' in the Cuban crisis late in 1962. . . . Shortly after that crisis, Sylvester boasted of the way the Kennedy administration had 'managed the news' during the crisis.

"He followed this up with his infamous comment about the 'inherent' right of the government to lie when involved in a nuclear crisis. The full quotation from the transcript is as follows. . . . 'that it is inherent in the government's right, if necessary, to lie to save itself when it's going into a nuclear war. This seems basic to me.'"

"Sylvester was called before the McClellan subcommittee for making what is now admitted to be a false, misleading and erroneous statement in connection with the TFX war plane investigation. . . . Sylvester had charged that Chairman McClellan and other members of the subcommittee had a state self-interest. Under questioning, Sylvester admitted that he had no information to support this charge against the members of the subcommittee.

"Committee members concluded that Sylvester had engaged in loose handling of the truth in an effort to discredit the McClellan subcommittee probe of the $6.5 billion TFX war plane contract. . . . Throughout the TFX investigation, the Pentagon released erroneous and misleading information."

The 60-page study concluded with the following blistering findings: "The pattern of the Pentagon in the last three years would appear to be designed to quash dissent and to close up the avenues through which evidence of dissent normally finds its way to the press and to the public."

SECRET PENTAGON DEAL—The Defense Department is on the verge of "kissing and making up" with a finance company that has been the target of a seven-months congressional investigation.

On several occasions during the headline-making probe, Representative Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., demanded that the Federal Services Finance Corp. be declared "off limits" to military personnel—its principal customers. The Defense Department refused on various grounds.

Finally, under persistent congressional fire, the department issued an outline of policies that finance companies would have to follow in dealing with the military. Those that didn't would be barred.

Annunzio caustically rejected this compromise maneuver. In a sharp letter to Secretary McNamara, the legislator pointed out that Federal Services had already violated most of the provisions of the directive and that a hearing should forthwith be held to determine whether the company be permitted to continue doing business with servicemen.

To that blast Annunzio has received no answer. But Stephen Jackson, a special assistant in the department, sought out Representative Wright Patman, D-Tex., Banking Committee chairman, and asked his backing of a proposed deal—under which Federal Services' slate would be wiped clean if the concern would review and make restitution of pending claims.

"Assailing this unannounced plan as 'fantastic,' Patman flatly refused to have anything to do with it. He indignantly pointed out that his investigating committee had been trying for months to induce the company to settle pending complaints without results or help from the Defense Department. Despite this rebuff Jackson told Patman the department would go ahead with its backstage agreement with Federal Services. The company, with headquarters in Washington, does a worldwide business in personal and automobile loans to members of the armed forces. Eight retired generals and admirals are on its board, one a former chief of naval operations. Early this year, following hundreds of complaints, Patman's committee launched an investigation that uncovered numerous alleged controversies practices. They involved excessive interest rates, in some instances as high as 50 per cent; charging for non-existent insurance; inaccurate loan repayment records, and circuitously repossessing late-model autos.

As a consequence of Patman's sensational expose, the concern is also being investigated by the Internal Revenue Service, the Federal Trade Commission, Labor Department and FBI.

Recently, the Labor Department went into the federal court in Columbus, Ga., requesting a nationwide restraining order to bar Federal Services from violating the Fair Labor Practices Act. The department charged that time cards were changed to show no overtime, even though some employees worked as much as 15 hours overtime a week.

FLASHES—Senator A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Banking Committee, has written letters saying he favors the House-passed bill that would wipe out all exemptions for banks under the Holding Company Act. On the basis of Robertson's letters, this controversial legislation, pending in his committee, has an excellent chance of passing next year. . . . Senator Russell Long, D-La., who takes over the chairmanship of the Finance Committee with the retirement of Senator Harry Byrd, D-Va., plans a significant reorganization of the powerful committee. Long intends to set up a group of subcommittees with their own chairmen. Under Byrd's long chairmanship, he kept all reins tightly in his own hands, unlike other major committees which have subcommittees. . . . Representative L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., decisive chairman of the Armed Services Committee, is considering holding hearings on draft deferment policies—which he deems "far too liberal." Says Rivers, "These hearings, which may get underway before the next session of Congress, will be concerned not only with the present termination date of the authority to induct individuals under the draft act, but also with an immediate strengthening of those provisions of the law which may inadvertently lend themselves to the machinations and subversive activities of those individuals and organizations who wish to repudiate the fundamental principles of citizenship embodied in our Constitution, as well as deferment policies which may tend to weaken the equitable application of the existing law."

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

ENVY AND FORCE

Envy is probably the most destructive of all human feelings, and force is most often the chosen weapon of the envious. Anger and pride are not objectionable if they are truly justified. Even fear may sometimes aid in survival. But envy is a ruthless and a relentless destroyer, both of the person envied and of the man who envies.

The constructive reaction to desiring for oneself the wealth or the happiness, or both, that another has attained is to go out and seek it on one's own. The destructive reaction is envy, the resentment of wealth or happiness in another merely because someone else has it and you don't.

Among primitive, uncivilized people, those who envy another often simply band together and attack him, looting his property. Where personal jealousy is involved, physical assault occurs more often than we like to think even in our highly civilized society. Still it is not so dangerous among us because physical assault, whatever its motive, it a crime and police can deal with it.

The real danger of envy in our society is much more subtle and sophisticated. It is the use and the deliberate stimulation of envy of the successful to line up support for measures concentrating more power in big government. Government has a legal monopoly on the use of force. Through government, the envious can strike back at the object of their envy and help deprive him of what he has earned.

When success is penalized, every man who hopes to succeed by his own efforts suffers. The success seekers, not the envious, should be our guides.

AIR FORCE CHIEF SAYS

Supporting Role Outgrown

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—American military airpower in Viet Nam has added mobility and punch to our effort there that have far outgrown airpower's role as merely support force, the Air Force chief of staff said Wednesday.

Gen. John P. McConnell spoke to delegates to the International Congress on Air Technology in Hot Springs, Ark. who went to Little Rock for his speech and to see American military aircraft demonstrated.

"Military airpower has outgrown its supporting role," McConnell said. "It has become a principal factor in dealing with any kind of conflict, now and in the future." The four-star general returned recently from a trip to Viet Nam, where he interviewed many service men.

The "tremendous effectiveness" of air power in fighting the Communists in Viet Nam is the most striking military fact to come out of that war, McConnell said.

He has "no doubt whatever" that the United States will achieve its goals in the struggle and prove to Communists it can turn away any similar aggression anywhere, McConnell said.

The general said it is not the U.S. goal to destroy the enemy for unconditional surrender, but rather "for a peaceful and mutually acceptable settlement which will insure the lasting freedom and security of South Viet Nam."

Yarborough Day Feted In Midland

MIDLAND, Tex. (UPI)—Yesterday was "Ralph Yarborough Day" in Midland by proclamation of Mayor Hank Avery.

The U.S. Senator from Texas was to be honored tonight at an appreciation dinner by friends was honored last night at an appreciation dinner by friends.

J. C. Williamson, chairman for the dinner, issued a statement explaining why Gov. John Connally was not invited.

"Because the things that he has been saying lately about the senior senator from Texas the committee believed that the governor would not want an invitation," Williamson said.

The poor vision of trucker Norman C. Turner, 53, of Verga, N.J., was the reason his truck sideswiped a North Carolina Highway Patrolman's parked car on the shoulder of the road the ICC said.

Thompson was talking with the trooper after his car had been stopped by the officer.

Bad Eyesight Blamed for Fatal Mishap

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) blamed a truck driver with very bad eyesight today for a North Carolina highway accident that killed Rep. T. Ashton Thomson, D-La., last summer.

The ICC said an investigation of the July 1 accident near Gastonia, N.C., disclosed that the driver of a truck responsible for the wreck had eye cataracts and had previously been cited as unfit to drive.

Huge Ransom Paid in Kidnaping

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI)—Charles H. Hyde III, 13, the son of a wholesale grocer was kidnaped from his school bus stop Wednesday and released Wednesday night after his father paid a $45,000 ransom, Pierce County Sheriff Jack Berry said today.

The boy was unharmed. He was held in an abandoned house in the old Tacoma district of the city just down a hill from the house where a kidnaper abducted and killed 10-year-old Charles Mattson 29 years ago.

The Hyde boy's father told Berry he was contacted at 10 a.m., two hours and 15 minutes after his son was taken. He was told to obtain $45,000 in $5 and $10 and $20 bills plus not more than $4,500 in $100 bills and go to 77th street and Park Avenue and wait for instructions.

The father, with the money in a valise, did as instructed, leaving the money in the front seat of his parked car. He went to a telephone booth and when he returned the money was gone.

At 4:53 p.m. Hyde called the FBI, who in turn called the sheriff's office. Berry and his deputies were questioning Hyde when Rush Stoffer, a resident of old town called saying the boy had appeared at his house.

The boy said two men in a car pulled up to him near the bus stop, asked him his name and then grabbed him, shoved him in the car and put a blanket over him.
