Murder of Nurses Baffles Police In Crime of Century

CHICAGO (UPI)—The director of the hospital where eight murdered student nurses worked said today their killer could have been a fellow employee.

Police throughout the country were searching for the tall young murderer who Thursday strangled and stabbed the nurses to death in their town-house, one by one, while a ninth girl hid in terror under a bed.

A man's sweatsoaked undershirt found at the scene and the terrifying story of the survivor, still under sedation and under guard, were about the only leads police had to go on.

Albert S. Daniel, executive director of South Chicago Community Hospital, was asked at a news conference whether the killer could have been someone in the hospital, now or in the past.

"When you have 600 employees in a hospital you can have some very strange characters in the group without knowing it," he said.

Josephine Chan, director of nursing at the hospital, revealed at the news conference that a prowler had been arrested three doors from the murder scene and at the same row of townhouses four to five months ago.

Police, fighting Negro riots in another section of the city, hoped to learn more from Corazon Amurao, a part 22-year-old nursing student from the Philippines who survived the mass murder by cringing under a bed while a 6-foot gunman murdered her friends one by one.

More than 160 detectives and 200 uniformed police were thrown into the case that Coroner Andrew Toman called "the crime of the century."

"It's only a little more severe than the riddle of the Sphinx," said homicide Cmdr. Francis Flanagan, who prepared to question the terrified survivor again today with an interpreter. "I doubt there are many policemen alive who have seen a crime like this."

The eight young victims, all students at South Chicago Community Hospital, were bound, strangled and knifed to death early Thursday in their duplex apartment.

It was not until hours after the killer, a white man, left the apartment that Miss Amurao crawled from her hiding place. She stumbled across the sprawled bodies of the other girls and burst through a second-floor window to a ledge.

"All dead—all dead except me!" she screamed. "I'm the only one alive!"

The hospital's school of nursing shut its doors and sent young nurses home "for at least a few days." The death apartment, rented by the hospital for its students, was roped off by police.

Investigators picked up more than a half dozen men during the first hours of the manhunt, but all were released. Flanagan said the number of telephone calls from persons claiming to have seen a man matching the killer's description was unprecedented.

The main hope of police was Miss Amurao. "This is where we're having a tough time," Flanagan said. He said the girl had trouble with English and what was said by the killer "may have been lost."

the killer entered the apartment at 2313 E. 100th St., shortly after 11 p.m. Wednesday. Six girls were then asleep. He knocked on Miss Amurao's bedroom door and then rounded up the other five nurses in one bedroom. When he had finished tying them up, three other girls—including one who was only visiting for the night—came home. This was around midnight.

GOP Demands Probe Into Suit Dismissal Of Demo Contributor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republicans are demanding an investigation of the dismissal of the government's antitrust suit against Anheuser-Busch Inc., a brewery whose top officials contributed $10,000 to the Democratic party a month before the case was dropped.

The demand came from House leaders Thursday shortly before it was acknowledged that the Justice Department's antitrust division chief and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey were guests aboard a beer company plane on a flight to last Tuesday's All-Star baseball game.

Donald F. Turner, an assistant attorney general, told UPI he had been aboard the plane with Humphrey and a party that included Clifford Carter, executive director and acting treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

A committee spokesman denied GOP implications it might have had a role in the suit's dismissal. A statement from Humphrey's office said neither he nor his staff knew anything of the case.

A beer company spokesman said that its officials had been supporters of the Democratic party for a long time, and beer baron August Busch, Jr., has been "a close personal friend of many presidents."

The case against Anheuser was dropped June 17. In May, top officials of the brewery in St. Louis donated a total of $10,000 to the Democrats' Presidents Club, which is made up of donors of more than $1,000.

Humphrey was the main attraction of the President's Club luncheon which preceded the All-Star game played in St. Louis.

It was Humphrey who, in May, invited Turner to go to the game.

Turner said that nothing was said about antitrust cases on the trip to St. Louis which he described as a social occasion.

Tropical Storm Could Postpone Gemini 10 Launch

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Space officials said today that tropical storm Celia could force postponement of Monday's planned launching of Gemini 10 astronauts John Young and Michael Collins if the storm continues on its present course.

The U.S. space agency said the small storm, now about 800 miles southeast of the cape, failed to turn northward as expected and was bearing down on a westerly track that would bring it to this area late Sunday or Monday.

"The storm's path is poorly defined and its effect on the Gemini 10 mission, if any, will not be determined until Saturday," the agency said in a mid-morning advisory. "The Weather Bureau's spaceflight meteorology group has expressed concern."

If Celia, which was packing winds up to 50 miles per hour, continues on its present course, the agency said rain, gusty winds and rough seas could be expected in the area at launch time. Such weather would force a launch postponement.

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Air patrols were reported active on both sides of the tense border between Israel and Syria today in the wake of a bombing raid by Israeli jets on a Syrian engineering unit working to divert the precious waters of the Jordan River.

No new contact was reported today. A Soviet-built supersonic MIG21 jet was downed in a dogfight Thursday following the raid near the tiny Israeli border settlement of Al Magor just north of the Sea of Galilee.

Israel warned anew today that what it called Syrian attacks could not continue unpunished.

"It is inconceivable that Syrian excesses could go indefinitely unhindered," Premier Levi Eshkol said in a statement.

Officials said Thursday's raid was in retaliation for Syrian terrorist attacks on the Israeli side of the frontier.

They said six tractors, an arms depot and a Soviet-built gun battery were destroyed at the construction site where engineers were working to divert the river waters from flowing into Israel.

Court Sets Aug. 8 For Appeals Hearing

The Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo has set 10 a.m. Monday, Aug. 8, for oral arguments in the contest over results of the June 4 Democratic runoff for Gray County judge.

Court attaches in Amarillo stated this forenoon incumbent Bill Craig, defendant, has been given until Aug. 5 to file an answer to A. J. Carubbi Jr., the appellant, whose brief was filed with the appeals court last Tuesday.

Atty. Harold Comer, co-counsel with John Studer for Craig, said today the defendant's answer had not yet been filed but was in the process of preparation.

Craig said today that Bill Kolius of the Amarillo law firm of Folley, Calhoun, Snodgrass and Kolius will represent him at the appeals court hearing.

Carubbi, loser to Craig by 8 votes in the June 4 runoff primary, has appealed a June 15 decision in 31st District Court here in which Judge Lewis M. Goodrich dismissed the case and declared Craig the election winner.

Carubbi charges in his petition that the election should be voided because at least 71 Republicans who voted in the May 7 GOP primary also voted in the June 4 Democratic primary.

Three points of error are cited in the appellant's brief filed with the appeals court.

The petition, filed by Carubbi's counsel, Atty. Frank Baughman of Amarillo, charges the court erred in ruling that the fact the 71 Republicans voted in both primaries did not cancel their votes.

It states the court erred further in failing to open ballot boxes and recount the votes after subtracting ballots of voters who participated in both elections, and that the court erred by not declaring the election void because at least 10 qualified voters were refused permission to vote in the Democratic primary on June 4 because they had voted in the May Republican primary.

No Let Up Seen For Hot Weather

Pampans are entering their third week of hot weather as the weather bureau predicts temperatures in the 90's through Sunday with little prospect for showers.

Skies are expected to be generally fair through Saturday, with isolated nighttime showers. Probability of showers is a slight 10 per cent.

High is forecast to reach the mid-90's, with an overnight low near 70. Winds are to be light and variable in the morning, becoming southerly 12 to 18 miles an hour during the afternoon. Outlook for Sunday calls for little change.

Thursday's high was 97, according to the News' weather station, with an overnight low this morning of 71.

Thundershowers dampened parts of the northern Texas Panhandle today with prospects for more showers in the same area and west of the Pecos in West Texas before nightfall.

It was clear most other places and early morning temperatures were at some of the warmest levels of the season, ranging from the mid 80s to the low 70s.

Twenty-Two Hurt In Explosion Of Powder Plant

CARTHAGE, Mo. (UPI)—The Hercules Powder Plant and its adjacent company town "looked as if someone had dropped an atomic bomb" today, but its 135 employees were alive because they obeyed a cardinal rule.

When the emergency whistle blows—run!

The whistle shrieked Thursday when a tractor trailer unit near a powder magazine erupted in flames, shooting a ball of fire 200 feet into the air. Twenty minutes later, nine explosions ripped through powder storage magazines containing dynamite and black powder.

Another magazine blew up in the still-volatile plant area early today.

The latest blast was minor in comparison to those Thursday, the Jasper County sheriff's office said.

"It's just another one of those powder houses," a sheriff's deputy said. "Everyone is cleared out of there."

No one was killed in the series of explosions.

The blasts left 22 persons injured, two seriously, destroyed 15 to 20 of the plant's major buildings, and damaged or wrecked some 60 houses in "Powder City," the nearby company community. Damage was estimated at $5 to $6 million.

The explosions shattered windows 20 miles away. A radio station in Tulsa, Okla., 100 miles away, said scores of residents reported they felt the blasts there.

Damage was also extensive in Carthage, a southwestern Missouri city of 12,000 located four miles from the Hercules plant. Windows were smashed and plaster torn out in the downtown square. Businesses were closed and the square (See EXPLOSION, Page 3)

Three Killed In Chicago's Racial Rioting

CHICAGO (UPI)—Gov. Otto Kerner today called out 3,000 National Guardsmen to help put down the rioting which has swept Negro neighborhoods on Chicago's West Side for three nights.

The guardsmen, all from the Chicago area, were ordered to report to their units as soon as they received word. They will be ready in their armories for possible riot duty tonight.

Mayor Richard J. Daley requested the guardsmen after the West Side rioting reached its peak of violence Thursday night and today.

Two Negroes were shot to death and a third was in critical condition. Seven policemen were shot, scores of persons were injured, and more than 200 were jailed as the snipers took potshots from apartment buildings. Stores were looted wholesale, and a rain of bricks, stones and molotov cocktails pelted the streets.

It was expected that the 15 units of guardsmen would be kept in armories close to the riot area, ready to move out in force if police can not control the mobs tonight.

Brig. Gen. Donald M. Grimmer, assistant adjutant general, said in Springfield, "We don't know about street duty yet. We'll have to wait until General Kane (Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane) reports to Mayor Daley's office."

Kane, of Urbana, Ill., is commander of the 33rd Division of the Illinois National Guard and was put in charge of the riot-ready units.

At Springfield, the governor said 3,000 guardsmen "are now being mobilized." All of the (See CHICAGO, Page 3)

U.S. Warplanes Continue Viet Oil Bombardment

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. warplanes carried their non-stop bombardment of North Viet Nam military targets into the 17th day today after flying a record 114 missions Thursday and fighting three separate dogfights with Communist MIGs.

A U.S. spokesman gave no details of today's raids but said a Navy jet was shot down by groundfire while bombing a surface-to-air missile site. Hanoi radio said the "people of Hanoi" shot down three planes on the outskirts of Hanoi today and captured several pilots.

At the same time Hanoi radio gave its answer to the big U.S. aerial offensive that began June 29 with attacks on oil dumps in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas—"we have only one answer: to fight, fight and fight." It made it clear President Ho Chi Minh was not interested in peace talks now.

Lists Big Names

The official Hanoi daily Khan Dan in a broadcast editorial attacked persons it said were acting as U.S. accomplices in trying to advertise the U.S. "peace swindle" — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato and "traitor" President Tito of Yugoslavia.

"Let them stop committing crimes, that is our warning to them," it said.

It said the United States had bombed the Hanoi and Haiphong areas "to bring us to the conference table to negotiate on their insolent terms."

"But we have only one answer: To fight, fight and fight."

"So long as the U.S. imperialists have not accepted all our terms there will be only one course left for us: To fight and fight until the acceptance of these terms (American withdrawal from Viet Nam). Has this not been clear enough?"

Supporter's Red Aim

At the same time a leading Soviet Commentator, Viktor Mayevsky, warned in the government newspaper Izvestia that Americans who minimize Soviet support for Hanoi are making the same mistake as those who doubted Communist Chinese willingness to fight during the Korean war.

Record Heat Wave Seems To Be Broken

By United Press International

The sweltering heat wave that baked the Midwest and East in 90- and 100-degree temperatures for longer than a week appeared broken today, victim of a mass of cool air centered over the Midwest.

The weather bureau said the cool air would spread East and South to relieve areas parched by days of intense heat.

At least 120 were dead from six days of 100-degree weather in the St. Louis area. The weather bureau predicted temperatures would be in the 90s there today. The mercury reached 105 Thursday.

New York City's record-tying nine straight July days in the 90s was expected to come to an end, one short of the all-time record set in 1896. The temperature hit 95 Thursday.

Hot, humid tropical air remained entrenched over the South, where temperatures hit the 100s. Memphis, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala., reached 101, while Oklahoma City hit 104.

Thunderstorms hit sections of the South and Central Plains, dumping almost an inch of rain on Richmond, Va., Raleigh, N.C., and Dodge City, Kan.

Severe windstorm hit Smyrna, Ga., late Thursday, injuring 17 persons. Trees were uprooted, power lines down and fires touched off by the storm. The Atlanta suburb was without power and telephone service.

The weather bureau said the storms separated the hot and cooler air along a line stretching from the mid-Atlantic coast westward to the Rockies.

Life Insurance Total Hits An All-Time High in County

From the standpoint of insurance, residents of Gray County are comparatively well-protected these days.

Despite the financial safeguards provided for them through social security and private pension plans, they have been adding to their life insurance holdings in recent years. Better incomes have made it possible for them to do so.

As a result, ownership of life insurance has reached an all-time high in Gray County. The total amount in force, as of the beginning of this year, was approximately $179,121,000.

The basic statistics, for the country at large and for each of the states, are from the Department of Commerce and from the Life Insurance Fact Book, soon to be released.

Putting more money into this type of family security is but one of the steps that people have been taking to protect their future. They have also been increasing their cash savings and their investments.

The reports show that the American people have salted away a huge amount of money in the form of life insurance. They now have policies in the capital sum of $90 billion. By (See INSURANCE, Page 3)

White House Bars Magazine From Wedding

NEW YORK (UPI)—A story about bridal gowns has rekindled the flames of one of journalism's burning questions: When is a newspaper obligated not to report the news?

Women's Wear Daily, the paper considered bible of the fashion trade, and the White House came up with two different answers on Thursday.

The newspaper, in front-page story, described the gowns to be worn by Lady Bird Johnson and members of the bridal party at the Aug. 6 wedding of the President's daughter, Luci.

In the story, headlined "Luci's wedding—first report," the newspaper said it refused to attend off-the-record briefings on bridal details and obtained the story instead through a "leak at the White House."

But Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the First Lady's press aide, termed the story a violation of a news release, distributed to other media Wednesday—but with an embargo against publication prior to next Saturday night.

As a result of the WWD story, said Mrs. Carpenter, the newspaper will be denied press credentials for coverage of the wedding itself, she said, "any publication or media breaking the release date on either the sketch or the description of the gowns will automatically be excluded from working press area credentials."

She then excoriated the "unethical conduct of one small publication," and said premature release would not change the embargo on the material because of newspapers and broadcasters already committed to the original release date.

WWD said it was flabbergasted to see the White House "retaliate" against Women's Wear Daily by refusing working press credentials when all it did was print the news.

"As the White House well knows, WWD from the first has declined its invitations to attend off-the-record briefings on the Luci Johnson wedding. WWD refused to attend these briefings in order that it be free to publish news of the wedding whenever such news became available.

"WWD does not believe in accepting information on an off-the-record basis. Mrs. Carpenter was informed of this many weeks ago when WWD made it clear its reporters would be out to break the story, and we wanted no strings attached."

Harvester Street Paving to Start In City Next Week

Work on the paving of E. Harvester St. from Duncan to LeFors is expected to start next week. City Manager Jim White said today contracts for Harvester and the N. Somerville projects will be let at a called meeting of the city commission Wednesday morning. The city manager said bids have been checked and with all specifications met by the low bidder, the contract will go to Ray Boswell of Pampa. The contractor is expected to immediately get equipment and men on the Harvester project and begin moving dirt by Wednesday afternoon. The same contractor will handle both jobs. Work on the N. Somerville extension through to Coronado Drive is expected to get under way within a week or ten days. Boswell's low bid for both street projects was $147,839.

The four are John Bracy, Jim Cornutt, Patty Meador and Gail Craddock. The delegates will be accompanied to Austin by Carubbi who also is a member of the sponsoring foundation.

If it should uphold Carubbi's contention, the case would be remanded to 31st District Court here for rehearing. If the Amarillo court should rule against Carubbi and uphold Judge Goodrich's decision, that would end the contest and Judge Craig would be declared winner of the election and be the Democratic nominee for county judge at the Nov. 8 general election. The Texas Election Code provides that the Court of Civil Appeals has final jurisdiction in election contests. The State Democratic Executive Committee has taken an interest in the case and is expected to be represented in court when the appeal is heard. Will Davis, state Democratic chairman, has stated the committee is interested because of what he called a threat to closed party primaries in Texas if the decision of Judge Goodrich is allowed to stand.

Chicago

(Continued From Page 1) units are from the Chicago area, Kerner said. For the third consecutive night, police poured into the streets to battle hit-and-run gangs of Negro youths who set fires, looted stores, and fought savage gun fights with authorities. Snipers shot at police from darkened tenement windows. Passing motorists were pulled from their cars and beaten during the height of the violence. Hospital emergency rooms were jammed with injured policemen and civilians. Relatives stood quietly in hospital hallways. Some wept, some seethed with anger. Police said thousands of Negroes—most operating in small roving bands—were active in an area of about nine square miles. They faced about 500 policemen armed with shotguns and tear gas grenades. The dead were identified as Rosland Howard, 14, whom police said was killed by a sniper's gun; Raymond Williams, 28, Robinsville, Miss., shot to death near a looted store; and William McBeth, 18, shot and killed while trying to knife a policeman. All were Negroes.

Pampa Youth Hurt in Fatal Wreck in Borger

A 19-year-old Pampa youth was slightly injured yesterday in a wreck that killed a Borger woman. Don Nichols of 1133 Huff was the driver of a car which was in collision in Borger with an auto driven by Mrs. Donna Roberts of Borger. Mrs. Roberts was killed in the accident. A passenger in the auto—with young Nichols, Mike Fortin, 16, of 1044 Huff was treated and released for minor injuries. A passenger in the other auto with Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Sue Richardson, also of Borger was admitted to Borger's North Plains Hospital in good condition. Borger police said that Mrs. Roberts was driving north on Florida in Borger, when her car collided with the car driven by Nichols, who was going east on Third in Borger. Mrs. Roberts, secretary for the Texas Highway Department, had lived in Borger 15 years and had been a secretary in David Crockett School.

They were expected to receive medical approval for their daring attempt to rendezvous with two satellites and perhaps soar to record altitudes to do it. After completion of the medical checks in the afternoon, the astronauts planned to sit in on a mission review with top project officials. The one problem that had been bothering engineers for two days was solved today. The trouble involved an erroneous guidance signal accepted by the Gemini spacecraft computer during a test Wednesday. Officials said the trouble was caused by an error in procedures during the test. "We have confidence it will not happen on launch day," the agency spokesman said.

Explosion

(Continued From Page 1) cornered off because more explosions were feared. Two plant workers, Clifford Hilton and Maurice Crowell, were seriously hurt in Thursday's blasts. Crowell was pulled from the debris early today by two newsmen who got special permission from Gov. Warren E. Hearnes to enter the devastated area at their own risk. The newsmen and Crowell were evacuated. The newsmen said Crowell's clothing had been blown off and he was badly burned. Most of the injured were Powder City residents struck by flying debris. The Hercules plant at Carthage manufactures industrial explosives for mining, quarrying and construction. Plant officials credited the 20-minute warning provided by the emergency whistle with averting a worse tragedy. The warning was sounded when the truck caught fire.

Three Autos Involved In Pampa Wreck

Three cars were involved in a minor accident yesterday at the intersection of Frederic and Barnes resulting in a failure to yield the right of way citation to Charles Martinez, 828 Wall. According to police, Martinez made a sudden right turn in front of two cars, one driven by Evelyn P. Woods, 2142 N. Banks and the other driven by Willie R. Hunt, 518 N. Dwight, causing the Hunt car to hit the rear of the Woods car. There was minor damage to both cars.

Another Sentenced For Burglaries In Wheeler, Shamrock

WHEELER — Charles Ray McCafferty of Lubbock, the fourth man involved in the February 24 burglary of three Wheeler stores and one in Shamrock, was sentenced yesterday to four concurrent three-year terms. Appearing before 31st District Court Judge Lewis M. Goodrich, McCafferty pleaded guilty to charges and was sentenced to Huntsville State Penitentiary. Involved in the same burglary series, Jerry Valentine, Donny McCullar and Billy Joe Helms, all of Lubbock, were sentenced previously to four concurrent five-year terms.

Insurance

(Continued From Page 1) next year, it is expected, it will be at the trillion-dollar mark. Of this total, some $44,440,000 is in force in the State of Texas. What does it mean in terms of the individual family? For the average family in the state, the amount of insurance carried is equivalent to its net earnings, after taxes, over a period of 25 months. In Gray County, based on this yardstick and on the present level of earnings per household, local residents own life insurance in the average amount of $15,800 per family. This compares well with the average in many parts of the country. In the United States, it is $14,700 and in Texas as a whole, $13,800. These figures are exclusive of the considerable amount of insurance provided for local veterans by the Federal government. Ownership of life insurance is found to be highest among adult men. More than 8 out of every 10 over age 18 have such coverage, but only 6 out of 10 women.

Most Persons Enjoy Their Pets

By LARRY HOLLIS
Daily News Reporter

Most persons who buy pets are usually satisfied with their choice.

"It's very, very rare when people are not satisfied with their purchase," said Mrs. John T. Mobley, operator of The Aquarium pet shop at 2314 Alcock.

Often they ask for advice before choosing a pet to take home or give as a gift.

"Many times, they ask which dog would be better for a child," Mrs. Mobley said.

She recommends a dachshund as they are "clean and even-tempered." Poodles are strictly lap dogs for adults, while men often want boxers, she added.

A lot of the time, the choice of a dog or other pet will depend on whether the customer lives in the city or in the country.

The most common pets bought by customers, Mrs. Mobley said, are dogs and fish.

However, she sometimes receives unusual requests for pets.

"One lady wanted me to order her an ocelot," she stated. In the past she has ordered a raccoon from Florida for a lady, and once a miniature chimpanzee.

In her shop, Mrs. Mobley has several woolly monkeys. "They are just ideal pets," she said.

She also has a talking myna bird.

Usually a customer will buy only one pet, except when buying fish for an aquarium.

The most common fish purchased are swordfish, mollies and angels, she said.

Sometimes, though, a customer may return to seek a mate for a pet. This is especially true for fish, she said, and to a certain extent for dogs, cats and birds.

And a customer may purchase another pet when he tires of the present one, or wants to replace one that has been lost or that has died.

To aid the customer in taking care of a new pet, Mrs. Mobley usually provides instructions and suggestions for pet care.

And she also receives requests on how to take care of a pet.

"I have several calls a day on almost anything," she said.

Like what to feed chameleons, horned toads, snakes and so on.

To aid her customers in keeping care of their pets, Mrs. Mobley maintains all kinds of supplies in her shop.

For dogs and cats, she has clippers, brushes, powders, sprays, perfume, beds, toys, chew sticks and house-breaking aids.

For fish she keeps foods, aquariums, bulbs, pumps, ornaments, gravel and plants.

For birds she is supplied with cages, foods, medications and toys.

There are many reasons why customers may buy pets.

"Maybe it's an elderly person," she explained, "he buys a pet for his own pleasure." If widowed or alone, he may use a pet for a companion.

"Children want something to love," Mrs. Mobley said. A pet is also good for enabling children to learn responsibility.

Keeping a large number of pets in a shop would seem to lead to a lot of trouble.

But Mrs. Mobley said she did not have much trouble as they are separated.

"The birds get kind of noisy once in a while when they're talking," she said, "and the puppies when they're hungry."

But usually most of the pets do not cause much of a disturbance, she added.

Mrs. Mobley has been operating The Aquarium since 1951.

When asked if she enjoyed her business, she replied, "I sure do."

She herself has a number of pets, including about 20 dogs—poodle, pekingsie, miniature dachshund, German shepherd and cocker spaniel.

"Let's not go into that," she said.

UPI Poll Shows No Evidence Of Congregation Giver Strike

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

It is rumored from time to time that disgruntled church members are conducting a "givers' strike" in protest against church involvement in the civil rights movement and other social reform activities.

Some individuals doubtless have cancelled pledges. And some local congregations probably have felt the pinch of financial reprisal.

But a UPI survey of major denominations this week turned up no evidence of a "givers' strike" on a national scale.

First Baptist Sets Ordination Service Sunday

Rev. J. R. Manning, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in the pulpit for the Sunday services. At the 11 o'clock morning worship he has chosen, "How Much Does It Cost?" with a text taken from Matthew 1:44-46 for his sermon.

Sam Allen, minister of music, will direct the church choir in singing the anthem, "For the Beauty of the Earth" by Kocher, and will present Mrs. Mack Hiatt Jr., who will sing a soprano solo. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Sweet Story" prelude by Graham for the offertory.

Rev. Manning will be in charge of the ordination service at the 6 o'clock evening worship. Sam Allen, minister of music, and Phillip Stoval will be ordained, in addition four men will be ordained as deacons: Warren Hardin, Fred Stale, Jerry Lunsford and Harold Craddock. Rev. Carroll B. Ray, area missionary, will give the charge to the ministers and Rev. Manning will give the charge to the deacons. G. L. Craddock, chairman of the deacons, will give the ordaining prayer. Herman Whatley will introduce the candidates.

The church choir will sing "Brother James' Air" by Jacob for the special music and Miss Lane will play an arrangement of "Jesus Calls Us" by Thompson for the organ offertory.

Rev. Bill Hobson Is New Pastor of Immanuel Temple

Rev. Bill W. Hobson has assumed the pulpit at Immanuel Temple, 801 E. Campbell, moving here from Victory Temple Church in Webb City.

He received evangelistic training in the Full Gospel Evangelistic Association in Katy.

He also served as pastor for the West Side Fundamental Church in Webb City.

Rev. and Mrs. Hobson reside at 2018 N. Hamilton with their three children, Patricia, Marcia and Billie Susan.

Chile covers 286,000 square miles and has an average width of only 110 miles.

Australian tennis stars have participated in every Davis Cup challenge round since 1939.

Clearcut Picture

In all the other denominations surveyed, the picture was clearcut: Instead of buttoning up their pocketbooks, their members are giving more than ever.

The United Presbyterian Church, which has been particularly forthright in its commitment to the cause of social justice, reports that its total contributions increased from $298 million in 1966 to $317 million in 1967. Part of this was due to membership growth, but per capita giving also went up from $90.46 to $95.75 per year.

Contributions to the world service funds of the Methodist Church—which finance the denomination's national programs and foreign missions—increased 6 per cent from 1963 to 1964, and another 10 per cent from 1964 to 1965.

In the Episcopal Church, the amount of money passed along by dioceses to the national denomination has increased by 18 per cent since 1963.

The Southern Baptist Convention, largest U.S. Protestant body, has been relatively conservative on social issues, but not so conservative as to avoid some fairly sharp controversy among its membership.

The controversy, however, has had no visible effects on its financial support. Since 1960, the income of the convention has increased by 8 per cent.

The Roman Catholic Church does not publish financial reports. A spokesman for the National Catholic Welfare Conference said he knew of no Catholic diocese that has suffered serious financial problems because of dissatisfaction with the church's social policies.

When the Archdiocese of New Orleans integrated its Catholic schools in 1962, militant segregationists waged a public campaign to organize a givers' strike. But contributions actually increased that year.

Witnesses Film Juvenile Needs

One of the major problems facing modern man is the growth of juvenile delinquency. It is a problem for the older members of the community to worry about, and it is also a problem for the youth of the community. That is why the film "Heritage" was produced by the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York.

This is a film that fills a need in every home, in the life of every member of the household. A film designed to convince you that young people today have a problem that concerns us all, one they cannot cope with unaided.

These younger members of our modern age demand excitement, they want recognition as individuals, they are seriously seeking security. All these are their rights. But the way they try to obtain them often multiplies their needs.

What can be done? Who can help them? There is a solution to their problem. It has been proved successful. It is working. Watch this film and see what you can do to provide a heritage that brings peace of mind and self-respect. Be sure to watch "Heritage," sponsored in the Pampa area by KFDD-TV Channel 10 at 6:30 a.m., Monday, July 18.

THE GREEKS SEEK JESUS

John: Chapter 12:20-36.

- A. Probably The Last Public Discourse Of Jesus — Tuesday Afternoon.
- B. They Came To Philip — the Apostle With A Greek Name.
- C. Sir, We Would See Jesus: Desire, Wish
- 1. Definition: To see, behold, observe, to attain to a true knowledge, take care. I do not know to what extent they wanted to see him, or for what purpose.
- 2. People have often wanted to see him.
 - a. The Jews looked for him for 1500 years. Primarily they wanted a King to release them from the political, economic, cultural, religious bondage, in which they had been held captive by so many for so long.
 - b. Two of John's disciples, Jno 1:36,39.
 - c. Nathanael, Jno. 1:46,47.
 - d. People of Sychar, Jno 4:29,41,42.

 - b. War, bloodshed, corruption, divorce, murder, intrigue, dishonesty, treason, delinquency.
 - c. Hunger, starvation, ignorance, darkness — growing out of superstition, false religion.
 - Black magic, ghosts, witch doctors. Casting of spells.
 - Ephraim Alphonse was working with the Valiente Indians of Panama. One had a dream that he was going to die. In their morbid belief, they refuse all nourishment and die, literally scared to death, within two weeks. No need to deny it; they will surely die. Sensing the psychological situation, Mr. Alphonse said: "But you must not die within two weeks, for you owe some money, and it will take at least three weeks for you to pay me back. He convinced him that he must pay him, and he had two helpers to work along with him the whole time. Nothing was said in doubt or contradiction to the dream he had had. But he was expected to pay the debt before he died. The two weeks passed — and then they were able to laugh at his superstition.
 - A Christian woman at Nhome Mission had a spell cast upon her, and she lay on the grass mat of her hut until she died, although the Dr. said there was absolutely nothing wrong with her.
 - d. In South Africa, where the rate of literally is about 80%, witch-craft is still very strong. Ritual murder. Mr. Norman had something of value stolen by one of his twenty native workers. The witch-doctor discovered the culprit: He went into each hut and asked about the guilt of each one. Then he took a small green stick and gave to each one, telling him that he (if he were guilty) would find that his stick had grown through the night, and that he would come back the next day and measure it by one he had himself kept. The guilty party, during the night, got up and cut his off, and next morning he was easily detected.
 - e. Most of the world is heathen. Animalism is widespread.

 - Parsis the streets to keep from stepping on an insect, lest it be reincarnation.
 - f. One out of ten people in America with mental trouble.

- 1. "But we see Jesus..." Heb. 2:9,10,15.

 - (1) His bride, his body, his family. He is head, Eph. 1:21,22; 5:25. If you just look, you will see him in his church.
 - (2) In worship. In the faithfulness of his people, their attitude and spirit of worship.
 - (3) In the sermons. All the counsel of God, Acts 20:27; Christ and him crucified, 1 Cor. 2:2; "God forbid that I should glory save in the cross." Gal. 6:14; Begin at the same scripture. Acts 8:35.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Insurance Problems

"Your money, or your life!" The tax collector seldom phrases his request exactly that way; and, though crime is increasing, not many Americans have been invited to consider the proposition at gun point. Even fewer of us, I suspect, ever have volunteered much serious thought to the relationship between life and property.

Fortunately for us, however, we seem to tend by instinct to accumulate private property in various forms and to defend our property as though our lives depended on it. Perhaps they do in which case, it would seem wise to give the matter further thought. And what better point of focus than the business of life insurance itself and the closely related field of old-age retirement insurance, sometimes referred to as social security? How does one go about insuring his life?

There is a traditional procedure. It involves saving—consuming less than one's earnings—for a time, so that a certain level of consumption may be maintained later when earnings might have declined or ceased entirely. If several persons agree to cooperate in such a program, the individual risks of dying sooner or later than normal may be shared or pooled.

The concept of idea of property is likely to be dormant or poorly developed among grasshopper-like creatures that consume everything just as fast as they appropriate or produce it. But the moment an individual thinks of saving something, that something and the saving reflect some purpose in his life—become a part of his life, so to speak. And at this point, he is in a position to think of the connection between his life and his property. Thus it is that purpose, saving, life, and property become intimately related in the mind of the individual and blend into a single concept. A man's purpose, then, is what gives him an insurable interest in his life. And property might be said to be the economic essence of insurance. That certainly is the basis upon which the life insurance industry has functioned, traditionally saving and investing in productive enterprises likely to yield goods and services for later consumption and the fulfillment of one's purpose in life.

Now, compare that traditional concept and method of life insurance with the "social security" idea—the compulsory taxation of those who have a purpose in life for the benefit of those who lack such purpose. It hardly seems necessary to observe that the mere will to live is not much of a purpose; to live for what? Nor can a person's poverty or great need be logically classified as a purpose. Such a negative attainment is not a sufficient reason for one's wanting to live or to insure his life. And how can a person who has no use or purpose for his own life be of any possible use or service to anyone else? This is the hopeless contradiction and inconsistency of the whole idea of compulsory Social Security. The program compels human beings to work and sacrifice for nothing worthwhile—so it is entirely fitting and proper to refer to it as a something-for-nothing arrangement.

Destructive Nature of Compulsion

The compulsory processes of government are well adapted for the conversion of something-into-nothing. Nor should it surprise anyone that the compulsory Social Security program involves neither saving nor investment in productive property, which we have seen to be essential features of any realistic form of life insurance. Lives without purpose can see no need for property of their own nor any reason to respect or defend anyone else's private property. So, it is entirely logical—once the first false premise of the "social security" idea has been embraced—to base the functioning of the program, as it is based, upon the expropriation of the property of those who have earned and saved according to their respective purposes. This process of destroying the property and defeating the life purposes of those who have either the very antithesis of life insurance. It is antisocial in the extreme for it discourages the thrift and saving upon which increasing productivity depends.

Without savings and production, an individual can neither attend to his own economic security nor practice charity toward anyone less fortunate than himself. Perhaps "social security" of a sort may be found within a den of thieves; but stealing one another to death ought not to be confused with life insurance.

A Tragedy of Errors

One of the great tragedies of our time is the extent to which compulsory Social Security is confused with life insurance. Top executives of private life insurance companies may be found testifying to the "actuarial soundness" of the compulsory Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance program. Insurance salesmen advise prospective clients to build their private insurance programs upon the "solid foundation" of their Social Security benefits. Nor does the typical willing customer for traditional insurance appear to see any inconsistency between such a saving and investment program and the Social Security procedure of plundering property. Even college professors, including teachers of economics, have been known to volunteer themselves subject to the Social Security tax that destroys property and purpose and thus provokes additional appeals for handouts. The individual, who voluntarily subordinates his own life's purpose to the pleasantries of collective living without purpose, fully deserves what he'll get from that kind of "social security."

The great mystery of our century must be why anyone who believes in compulsory Social Security would simultaneously try to save and invest in a private pension or retirement annuity or life insurance program. The success of the one type of program is contingent upon the discrediting and destruction of the other. To the extent that Social Security and related subsidy programs succeed in confiscating private property—either openly and directly, or by the hidden processes of continuing inflation and erosion of savings—then private insurance programs and other claims payable in fixed numbers of dollars must tend to become worthless.

By the same token, if the salesmen of private life insurance and other pension and retirement annuity and savings programs hope to continue to find willing customers for their wares, it behooves them to labor effectively now and forever to halt the process of confiscation and death inherent in Social Security and similar diseases of compulsory collectivism. Otherwise, buying insurance will be just as bad a risk as paying Social Security taxes.

Pull Up A Chair

Offhand you might think Britain's Queen Elizabeth II has more titles than any other member of European royalty, but you would be wrong. The distinction goes to a svelte, blonde, Spain's Cayetana, the 18th Duchess of Alba. In addition to that title, she is also Duchess of Montoro, of Berwick, of Arjona, of Huesca, of Liria and Jerica, and of Hijar. She is 18 times a Grande of Spain, many times a Marchioness and Countess, plus other titles that make her the most titled lady in Europe. Included among her ancestors are Charles II and James II, Stuart Kings of England, and Empress Eugenie, wife of Napoleon III of France. If the monarchy is restored in Spain, as has been predicted, this vivacious young lady would become one of the most important women in the world because of her position—and titles.

Today's smile: One fellow asked another: "How long did it take your wife to learn to drive an automobile?" The other answered: "I think it will be ten years in August."

You'd think with all of the "talk" in Washington that city would hold the record for telephones in the U.S., but it does not. Swank Beverly Hills, Calif., has 1,327 phones for every 1,000 persons as against Washington's 883 per 1,000. And, New York City, with the most phones (almost 3 million of them), has only 623 telephones per 1,000 inhabitants. We don't know if anyone ever took advantage of the site and built a home there, but the only place in the U.S. where you can put a house and have each of its four corners in a different state is that point where Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico meet.

Thoughts while shaving: Boating is fast becoming one of the most popular of all summer outdoor recreational activities. A survey showed there were some 7,770,000 recreational boats used in this country last year. More than 6 million of them are powered by outboard motors. Although we're living in an atomic age, coal is still the fuel choice of most power companies. Plans have already been made to build facilities within the next five years that will burn 103 million tons of coal to produce electric power. One of every 10 U.S. families has a woman as its head. Most of these estimated 5 million women are widows, divorced or separated from their husbands and each has the major economic responsibility of supporting themselves and at least one child or other relative. The commonest surname in the U.S. is Smith, as you would surely guess. There are 1,300,000 of them. You are not required to have a lawyer file an application for a patent, but Uncle Sam advises you to do so. It's a highly complex branch of the legal profession and the U.S. Patent Office will only deal with attorneys on their register. The Rochester (N.Y.) DEMOCRAT & CHRONICLE headlined a story: "Firemen To Form Auxiliary In Bath." As good a place as any.

Loneliest Place In The World

ROBERT ALLEN
WASHINGTON — The bungling and fumbling anti-poverty agency is under new management. While R. Sargent Shriver still has the title of director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the actual running of the big, sprawling, trouble-racked agency is in the hands of a career expert in government administration — with White House authority and orders to clean it up, tighten it up and straighten it out. He is Bertrand Harding, who as deputy director is now No. 2 OEO official. Formerly Deputy Internal Revenue Commissioner, he was shifted to OEO for the express purpose of putting its widely assailed house in order.

In tackling this mammoth and thorny job, Harding has the benefit of a comprehensive analysis of the many things wrong with the anti-poverty program. He knows all about this detailed study because he was in charge of an unannounced interdepartmental task force that compiled it.

This group of career administrators was quietly set up by the White House when it became alarmed over the mounting chorus of outcries about OEO snafus, scandals and numerous other shortcomings. With Democrats as well as Republicans castigating the program, President Johnson and his political lieutenants became concerned about the strong likelihood of widespread adverse repercussions in the fall state and congressional elections. In the hope of heading that off, a task force was created to go over OEO from top to bottom and submit corrective recommendations.

Under Harding, this backstage group spent six weeks minutely analyzing OEO and preparing a 200-page report with more than 100 findings. Shriver is said to agree with many of them. He knew about the study and reportedly approved of it when informed by the President. But Shriver did not initiate it. It was entirely a White House idea.

So was Harding's appointment as deputy OEO director — for the purpose of using his task force's report as a blueprint to reorganize the anti-poverty agency.

There are no surface indications that Shriver is balking at that. He and Harding appear to be getting along harmoniously, and no evident objections are being raised to the new officials. Harding is bringing into OEO to help him with his difficult undertaking.

UNDER TIGHT WRAPS — All this is taking place strictly sub rosa. In fact, the existence and contents of the task force's critical report are so secret that members of the Senate Labor Committee were unaware of them when Harding appeared before it to answer questions regarding his OEO appointment.

Significantly, he never said a word about the study.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "A friend of mine is a painter and a strong union man. He recently told me about an experience he had once trying to go into business for himself, and of the difficulties he encountered. These were mainly high costs (labor, particularly) and prohibitive regulations, which in the end caused failure of this particular light manufacturing business because he lacked sufficient capital to keep going and meet these costs during the delay of getting into production caused by the government requirements. Haven't unions, by forcing arbitrary wage levels on employers and by backing governmental regulation and interference, been responsible for creating a situation where this man was actually harmed and held back by the very organization whose purpose is supposed to be to help him?"

ANSWER: This question certainly has put the finger on the problems which face those seeking to establish small business firms.

It would appear that organized labor unions do not want small business to be established. They make it difficult for a worker to branch out for himself by compelling him to pay arbitrarily established wage scales, not based on prices a willing buyer is willing or able to pay for or what a worker is willing to work for. They also back governmental regulation and interference in licensing—both local, state and national—which set obstacles in the path of a small business.

Union officials would rather call a strike and set up picket lines at a large manufacturing plant than at a small plant, where the owner may be well known in the community and where he will have the sympathy of people who understand how hard he is working to get established.

Hunt for Truth

BY N. L. MUNT

CASTRO'S PRISON CAMPS — The concentration camp, the most infamous feature of the Nazi tyranny of Adolf Hitler in Germany and Stalin's regime in Soviet Russia, has been introduced on a grand scale in Castro's Cuba.

Castro has filled all the prisons built in Cuba by the far less brutal dictators who came before him. For a time he used the Isle of Pines as a prison center; now that too is full. New prison camps are being built, with all the odious characteristics of the concentration camps.

The camps are surrounded by barbed wire and guarded by vicious dogs. Political prisoners are kept at constant forced labor and are cruelly beaten. Eyewitness reports prisoners driven insane by torment and mistreatment in Castro's concentration camps. Cuban refugees estimate the total number of political prisoners now in Castro's jails and concentration camps at 85,000.

Cries ascend to high heaven from our professional complainers in this country when our government simply attempts to require communists to register, or when a free world government balks at "one man, one vote." But when it comes to the appalling inhumanity and Nazi-like penning up of thousands of innocent people by Castro's communist government in Cuba, these voices are strangely silent.

Surely we have come to the point where reasonable men will no longer tolerate this fantastic double standard. There are many evils in the world, but none worse than what Castro has created on our own doorstep. It should be expunged from the face of the earth, and the suffering people of Cuba brought back to the light of liberty and hope.

Shot in Arm Needed By Reservists

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Uncertainty can kill morale faster than anything else.

The other day some of us were talking to a group of young Army reserve lieutenants. They were selected, topflight reserve officers. They were also upcoming men in their civilian work.

These young men were debating whether to continue in the reserves when their six-year obligatory term was up.

They didn't ask about reserve pay. There wasn't any for the reserve posts they were considering. They didn't ask about promotions. They knew they would be slow.

These young men basically asked only two questions:

Question 1—Would they be given the tough, demanding, difficult jobs in the reserves that would challenge them and prepare them for a possible war time assignment?

If they wouldn't be given such jobs, then they weren't interested.

Question 2—With the reserve program so unsettled and confused with all this talk of merging with the National Guard, was there going to be any program that they could count on or would whatever they joined blow up in their faces before it even got going?

They couldn't find out the answer to this from anyone, they said.

"I've been sitting around now for more than a year in the reserves while people were trying to make up their minds and haven't been called on to do anything," said one of the young men. "What assurance can anyone give me that if I sit on, it won't be the same?"

"What's the future in the reserves? From where I sit I do not see much," he said. "They talk of training. But I'm not being trained."

These young officers and some 526,000 other reserve officers and enlisted men, are part of a "pool." A few thousand of this "pool" are in organized units or detachments. Some have summer training.

Numbers of these young officers and men are highly trained specialists, either through Army or civilian training and experience—in electronics, finance, intelligence, data processing, or any one of hundreds of essential skills.

These are skills that certainly would be in short supply in any war—whether it is a world-wide conflict or a local counter-insurgency.

Such highly skilled and highly motivated officers and men and the leadership they represent can't be quickly trained in the numbers needed. Some have developed their skills after years of intensive study and practice. Their knowledge and experience can't be drilled into men in six-week quickie courses.

Some dedicated officials and officers have been attempting to make changes in the reserve program which would hold these essential young officers and noncommissioned officers in the reserves.

But the constant hullabaloo over Defense Secretary McNamara's merger with the National Guard proposals—which are neither alive nor dead—and the uncertainty that these proposals create—won't let the reserve program settle down to business.

END OF ERA? — Mickey Mantle, left, of the Yankees has been hitting home runs as often and as dramatically as he used to in his prime years. But the clock hasn't been as kind to teammate Whitey Ford who, at 37, is three years older than Mantle. After a series of arm ailments, Ford has requested to work out of the Yankee bullpen because his arm has been tingling after three of four innings.

Detroit Hard On Orioles, Managers

 The Detroit Tigers, not only rough on the health of their own managers, are making Baltimore pilot Hank Bauer a little queasy today too.

Elsewhere in the junior circuit Chicago shaded Cleveland 2-1, Minnesota stopped Washington 3-1, New York nipped Kansas City 5-4 and California edged Boston 3-2 in 10 innings.
 Wayne Causey's eighth-inning double scored Ken Berry to break a 1-1 tie and snap Chicago's five-game losing streak. Tommy John outdueled Garry Bell (9-5), limiting Cleveland to six hits and running his record to 8-5. Pedro Gonzalez collected three hits for the Indians, who dropped their ninth game in their 10 starts.
 The Yankees scored three unearned runs in the eighth, with pitcher Hal Reniff capping the uprising with a run-scoring single. Joe Pepitone hit his 20th of the season for New York and Pete Ramos turned in two innings of perfect relief to win his second game in eight decisions.

Amarillo Pads PLGA Lead With 274 Team Total

By RON CROSS
 News Sports Editor
 The stifling Panhandle heat didn't bother over 90 lady golfers Thursday as they strolled over Pampa Country Club course in near regulation figures.

Amarillo Country club picked up 12 strokes on Tascosa Country Club with a team total of 274.

The Ladies Panhandle Association golfers played 18 holes medal play, counting handicap, but save-for two holes Pampa's Mary Myatt didn't need a handicap.

Mrs. Myatt turned the back side in one over par 37 then turned in a 40 over the back side for a 77, five strokes over par.

Her handicap gave her a low net of 64, a tie for low net honors with Deborah Fitzpatrick of Amarillo. The Amarillo golfer shot 43-43-86 with a 22 stroke handicap.

Mrs. Myatt did have the lowest round of the day with Claudine Nunley of Tascosa next at 40-39-79.

The only team to move up a notch in the standings was Pampa Country club, going from sixth to fifth place, replacing Dumas in the No. 5 spot.

At the start of Thursday's action Amarillo held a one stroke lead over Tascosa, who shot a 286 for a 1109 season mark to Amarillo's 1095.

Third is Ross Rogers course of Amarillo with a 287 Thursday and 1126 total, then Huber of Borger with a 288 Thursday and 1127 total; Pampa with 278 and 1150 total; Dumas, 294 Thursday and 1160 and Phillips with 288 and 1180 season total.

Pampa's golfers had the second lowest team total of the day with Mrs. Myatt's leading 64, a 69 by Peg Kastein and a 72 by Ruby Hunt and a 73 by Janice Webb. All of these scores are counting handicap.

Mrs. Kastein shot 86, Mrs. Hunt, 90 and Mrs. Webb, 95 over the 18 holes.

For Amarillo Country Club Deborah Fitzpatrick had a 64, Marge Dickson, 69; Marie Deane, 70 and Betty Fitzpatrick, 71. Regulation figures showed Mrs. D. Fitzpatrick with an 86, Mrs. Dickson with a 91, Mrs. Deane with a 92 and Mrs. B. Fitzpatrick with an 85.

The team totals are figured thusly: Take the top four low net golfers on each team and each team's score is then added together.

Dumas Tumbles Pampa All Stars

PLAINVIEW—Dumas handed Pampa's Babe Ruth American League All-Stars their first district tournament loss Thursday night and did it convincingly, 21-1.

Pampa plays Plainview, a team they beat earlier 2-0, at 8 p.m. tonight and a win here would put the All-Stars in a 6 p.m. game Saturday.

Dumas took an early 1-0 first inning lead, made it 5-0 after two then tallied eight scores in the third, four in the fourth and four more in the fifth.

Al Gomez started for Pampa and lasted three innings. Carlton and Ziebarth finished up.

The winners collected but 11 hits and Pampa was guilty of nine errors.

Pampa was held to only one official hit, a sixth inning single by Bob Jeffers, who was forced at second by Dan Harris. Harris then stole second, went to third on a balk by winning pitcher Larry Nutt, then scored on a wild pitch.

Harris actually doubled in the third and brought in two runs, but the youngster was called out at first for falling to touch the bag.
