Congressional Probe Of New UFO Sightings Asked

Scores of Lawmen, Citizens Witness 'Glowing' Saucers

Investigator Says 100,000 Americans Can't Be Wrong

By United Press International

Mysterious flying objects were observed in the night sky Sunday night and early today by scores of law enforcement officials and citizens in widely separated sections of the country.

The new sightings came on the heels of a plea from a retired Marine major that Congress investigate the phenomena.

More than 100 policemen, firemen and residents of the Pasadena-San Marino-San Gabriel area of Southern California watched "flickering red lights" in the sky Monday night. An Air Force veteran and 11 police officers viewed an unidentified object in the air over Newark, N.J., and sheriff's deputies early today said they saw weird, darting lights over Ann Arbor, Michigan.

For more than two weeks, reports of unidentified flying objects have increased. In Michigan a top Air Force investigator last Saturday concluded the reports were triggered by luminous marsh gas over swampy areas.

But the reports persisted. Asked what he thought the lights he saw might be, a San Marino, Calif., police officer said it could have been a college prank.

But Donald E. Keyhoe, a retired Marine major turned investigator of UFOs, could not disagree more. At a news conference in Washington Monday, Keyhoe backed Rep. Gerald R. Ford's call for a congressional investigation of the UFO and said 100,000 Americans can't be wrong.

Tire Safety Bill Due Sweeping Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate was expected to give overwhelming approval today to President Johnson's tire safety bill—the first installment of the administration's package of auto safety legislation.

Senate leaders scheduled the vote for early afternoon. There was no advance indication of any opposition to the bill.

The legislation, cleared unanimously by the Senate Commerce Committee, would authorize the Secretary of Commerce to adopt minimum safety standards for new tires on or before next Jan. 31. These would be based on existing public and private standards.

The bill also would authorize the secretary to set new minimum safety standards for new tires and retreads before Jan. 31, 1969. These would be based on two years of research and study.

On the same date, the commerce secretary also must report to Congress recommendations for implementing a uniform quality-grading system for tires, if feasible.

The commerce committee had virtually finished its work on the bill when Johnson included it in his traffic safety message. It was approved midway through the opening day of hearings on the administration's package.

Bomb Hoax Hits Airline

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Someone telephoned Trans-Texas Airways that a bomb was aboard the airline's Flight 433 headed for the Texas-Lower Rio Grande Valley Monday night.

The plane already airborne returned to San Antonio International Airport. A package, measuring seven by 30 by two inches was taken off the plane.

Airline personnel put it in the midst of the runway and summoned a bomb squad from Ft. Sam Houston. Dozens of police and sheriff's deputies ringed the airport to keep away the curious.

Incoming flights were held up. The package was gingerly unwrapped.

Inside were books and magazines about Piper Cub airplanes.

Determined Brother Finds Young Sister's Murderer

NORTH ARLINGTON, N.J. (UPI)—Sleepless and tormented, Dennis Van Orden set out before dawn to find the man who bludgeoned his teen-aged sister and left her to die in a "lovers' lane."

Within hours Monday, a 38-year-old foundry worker, a neighbor of the Van Ordens, faced a judge and said:

"I'm pleading guilty. I have no defense."

Evil W. Long was held without bail today to await trial. He said wouldn't be necessary — for the Sunday night murder of Penny Van Orden, Dennis' 15-year-old blonde sister. She was savagely beaten and left half-clothed along a desolate road. Dennis, 19, left his parents' home with a companion early Monday in search of a blue Cadillac an ambulance driver had reported seeing near where Penny was slain. By chance, such a car passed the Van Orden house.

Van Orden trailed the car to a foundry in nearby Harrison then grabbed and held Long while his companion summoned police. Bloodstains covered the front seat of Long's car.

Long, 58, an employe at the foundry and a neighbor of the Van Ordens, was arraigned before Bergen County Court Judge Benjamin Galanti in RUSH IS ON — Last-minute rush business grows at the Gray County Tax collector's office as motorists hurry to beat the deadline for buying auto license plates. Only three days remain. The 1965 license plates expire at midnight Friday. Shown here is part of the line in the tax office as Mrs. George Lomas, clerk, keeps the typewriter hot turning out registration receipts. The license plate rush is expected to get bigger in the remaining days before the deadline.

Only Three Days Left For Buying Auto Tags

With more than 8,000 passenger tags already sold to Pampa area drivers, County Tax Assessor Collector Jack Back today eyed the Friday deadline and warned drivers only three days remained to purchase 1966 license plates.

So far, 8,448 tags have been issued to area drivers. Back said. The tag office has been doing a brisk business the past two weeks, Back said, and business in new tags is expected to pick up between now and Friday evening's deadline.

Those that are turned away Friday evening will probably be given a day of grace," Back said, but the assessor collector urged drivers to come in before the deadline.

Motor vehicles will be able to carry the 1965 tags until 12:01 a.m. Saturday and then if new tags are not attached motorists are eligible for tickets, Back said.

When purchasing tags, motorists need their 1965 registration receipt, certification of title on the vehicle and the money, in cash, to pay for the tags.

For $10 extra, Back explained, a motorist may obtain a personalized green and white license tag.

Rev. J. W. Duke has a special tag which reads PREACH. Special tags of this nature are readily available to Pampa area

Spring Weather Due

Spring came back to the Panhandle area today with 70-degree temperatures. Low temperatures for today and Wednesday are expected to fall to the middle 30's after the Panhandle basks in 70-degree days. The warming trend is expected to climb even higher with warmer temperatures Thursday. Surface winds are northerly at 15 to 25 m.p.h.

ANNUAL SKIRMISH WITH 1040

County Residents to Pay Over $7,861,000 in Taxes

Taxpayers in Gray County are heavily engaged at the present time. They are involved in their annual skirmish with Form 1040 and the related income tax forms from Washington.

Uncle Sam is highly interested in the outcome of the struggle. Irrespective of what the weather will be on April 15, he will arrive on the local scene, hand extended.

He expects that this year's visit will be even more profitable for him than last year's was. His total take at that time from local residents was a hefty $7,655,000, including personal income and withholding taxes.

That is the approximate amount turned in last April, as determined by an unofficial breakdown of the statewide figures announced by the Internal Revenue Service and by local income reports.

They show that the personal tax payments from the State of Texas as a whole came to $1,867,000,000.

Some 0.11 percent of this amount was turned in by residents of Gray County.

Just how much will the local contribution be this year? The Government expects it to be more than before.

According to the current budget, individual tax payments throughout the country will be 5.3 percent higher, with the total receipts rising from last year's $48.8 billion to a new high of $51.4 billion.

RANSOM DOUBLED

Kidnap Victim's Parents Await Abductor's Call

SURFSIDE, Fla. (UPI)—The ransom price for young Danny Goldman, "a nice boy with a flair for electronics," was presumed to have doubled to $50,000 today after an all-night vigil failed to produce any contact with the youth's kidnaper.

The husky gunman who abducted the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldman before dawn Monday warned that if $25,000 ransom money was not in his hands by 6 a.m. today, the price would double.

"We have had no contact whatsoever with the kidnaper," an FBI spokesman said early today "we have no choice but to assume the ransom price has doubled."

Police, meanwhile, carefully checked out every report of a stolen car in this resort area—figuring the kidnaper may be seeking transportation after abandoning Danny's car, which he used to flee the Goldman's canal-front home early Monday.

The parents of the "average" student at Miami Beach High School, whose 18th birthday was today, kept a futile all-night vigil with 13 policemen and FBI agents, waiting for some word from the bespectacled, middle-aged kidnaper.

Daniel was wearing green pants and a light tan windbreaker when he was abducted. The

Soviets Reaffirm Support for Red Cause in Viet Nam

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev today reaffirmed Russia's support for the Communist effort in Viet Nam while offering an olive branch to the Soviets' one-time allies in Red China.

Brezhnev, in the keynote address at the opening of the 23rd Soviet party congress, demanded that the United States and its allied withdraw all troops from Viet Nam and accept Hanoi's four-point plan for a peace settlement.

Any further escalation of the war in Viet Nam by the United States, the 59-year-old Kremlin leader said, will lead to "ever-increasing support" to North Viet Nam by the Soviet Union. But to Communist China, which had virtually formalized the Sino-Soviet split by refusing to attend the congress, Brezhnev delivered only a mild rebuke.

Soviet relations with Peking are "unsatisfactory," he noted. But Brezhnev renewed the offer of a Moscow-Peking summit meeting, first made in 1964 after the ouster of ex-Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who delivered the main address at Russia's supreme leader at the 1961 party congress. Khrushchev was not at this meeting.

Deadline Thursday For Enrollment In Federal Medicare

Thursday is a special day for many Pampa area senior citizens.

Persons who were 65 before the first day of January, 1966, must sign up for Medicare before the Thursday evening deadline.

If these persons do not sign up before the Thursday deadline, Virgil Holloway, director of the Social Security office, said today, they must wait until 1967 to sign for the Medicare benefits.

This does not apply to persons who were 65 after the first of the year, Holloway said. "The Thursday deadline applies only to persons who were 65 before January 1, 1966," he said.

Study Shows Only Way Reds Can Win Is US Withdrawal

LONDON (UPI)—A study on Southeast Asia by the Royal Institute for International Affairs indicated today the only way the Communists can win in Viet Nam is for the United States to withdraw.

The study said the stepped-up conflict has produced pressures on both sides conducive to a "stalemate accommodation."

The study was published in the Institute's magazine, the World Today. It was written by Dr. Coral Bell, reader in international relations at the London School of Economics.

The study said the United States has shown the capacity to blunt the Communist Viet Cong drive for victory.

It said that therefore the prospect for an early Communist political-military victory, which as late as last June appeared quite real to the Viet Cong, "now looks perhaps decades off"—when the United States might get tired and pull out.

It said in the interim American bombing raids will cancel out the process of construction in Communist North Viet Nam. The overall prospect, the study said, can hardly be attractive to a realist like North Viet Nam's leader Ho Chi Minh who has far more first-hand knowledge of Western strength than, for instance, Red China's Mao Tse-tung.

"And though it may be in the interests of China that the Viet Nam conflict is fought to the bitter end, it can hardly be in the interest of Viet Nam that the Vietnamese should serve as the military proxies of China in her struggle against America, or that Viet Nam should serve as the main battlefield for the America-China round of the cold war," the study said.

"Altogether one may say that the past year of escalated conflict has apparently produced some pressures within the governmental apparatus of each of the main protagonists conducting towards some sort of stalemate accommodation," it added. "There will be of course many obstacles to these pressures expressing themselves in actual policy."

The study dismissed the "domino theory" which argues that if the West cannot safeguard South Viet Nam it cannot save any part of Southeast Asia. This, the study said, would be "like choosing to proclaim to the world that if one cannot stand upright on a 45 degree slope, one cannot stand upright at all."

The study said the future power structure in Southeast Asia could see the former states of French Indochina form a sort of buffer zone while the Thailand-Malaysia area retains its close connections with the West.

WEATHER

PAMPA AND VICINITY—Fair with little change in temperature this afternoon through Wednesday. Highs for both days near 70. Lows in the middle 30's. Winds northerly 15 to 25 m.p.h. Outlook for Thursday: fair and warmer.

EX-VIET NAM SOLDIER INTERVIEWED

GIs Believe 'the Trip Was Necessary'

By TEX DEWESE

The GI Joes sloshing through the rice paddies of S. Viet Nam believe "the trip was necessary," according to M-Sgt. A. F. (Al) Sechrest, just recently returned from one year in Viet Nam.

Sergeant Sechrest was in town yesterday and today conferring with U. S. Army Recruiter Sgt. Bill Blackburn. Sechrest, whose home is in Scottsdale, Ariz., now is stationed in Amarillo as supervisor of the Army's recruiting Zone No. 3 which includes Pampa, Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Guymon, Okla., and Clovis, N. M.

What do the American soldiers in Viet Nam think about the nationwide protest demonstrations such as were staged across the U. S. during the last weekend? Sergeant Sechrest says it does not effect morale of the American GI in S. Viet Nam.

"They just write it off as a failure to understand the cause we are fighting for over there," he said. "I have talked with hundreds of boys and they are almost to the man of the opinion that the demonstrators, of course, have the right to protest — but they disagree vehemently with the methods they use."

Sechrest, who was stationed in Saigon with NCOIC Plans and BACK FROM VIET NAM — M/Sgt. A. F. Sechrest, recently returned from S. Viet Nam, was in Pampa yesterday and today making his first contact with the local Army Recruiting office as supervisor for Zone 3 recruiting area. Sergeant Sechrest, right, is shown here being welcomed by Sgt. Bill Blackburn, Pampa Army recruiter.

Systems Branch of the Saigon Logistical Area, says he rejects entirely the opinions expressed by some that the youth of today do not take up the challenge they face.

"This is wrong," he said. "Our fighters over there are the bravest I've ever seen and they have the stamina and determination to fight and help the people of South Viet Nam."

Sechrest is qualified to speak of the courage of the fighting man. He entered the army in Wheaton, Ill., in 1941, served 38 months in World War II. His last operation in that war was the invasion of Iwo Jima in 1945.

The staff sergeant was particularly high in his praise of the service being given by the foot soldier in Viet Nam.

"All the services are doing a tremendous job," he said, "but we must never forget what the GI's out there sloshing through the rice paddies are contributing to the effort to save South Viet Nam from communism. They are working a 12-hour day plus, and remember, too,"

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—The problem of men discriminating against women in the matter of job has been pretty well solved by the Federal Equal Employment Act.

"Now all we need to do is figure out some way to keep women from discriminating against each other."

What we are up against is the harsh fact that some women are younger and better looking than others. Which obviously is discriminatory on their part.

If pretty young girls would voluntarily refrain from exercising this advantage in the labor market, everything would be hunky-dory. Instead, they insist on making the most of it.

Other Steps Needed

As a consequence, it appears that other measures are necessary to protect the rights of their less fortunate sisters.

In New York last week, a member of the State Commission for Human Rights faulted the policy of airlines that arbitrarily retire their stewardesses at a certain age.

Indications are that the commission will endorse his findings and hold the airlines guilty of discrimination.

The next logical step would be for some governmental agency to come to the relief of "bunny girls" who have been losing their jobs at Playboy Clubs upon losing the bloom of youth.

Not long ago I had a talk with an author who had written some stories for Playboy Magazine and was rewarded with an audience with Hug Hefner, head of the Playboy empire.

This gave him a chance to inspect Hefner's mansion in Chicago, including the indoor pool with its tropical vegetation, waterfall, rock outcroppings, bamboo screening and other jungle decor.

The pool has been pictured as a place where off-duty bunny girls cavort in the nude, or thereabouts. My friend, however, got a different impression.

Bunny is End

The grotto-like setting convinced him he had found the place where old bunnies go to die.

This fanciful notion, which he attributed to watching too many jungle movies on television, started him to wondering what happens when a bunny is excited by Playboy.

"There probably is some sort of ceremony," he said. "Let us say that a bunny commits some offense, like getting too chubby, or is caught reading Esquire."

"The bunnies march in, wearing their Playboy uniforms. There is a ruffle of drums and the bunny who is being cashiered steps forward three paces.

"Hefner ceremoniously draws his scissors and snips off her fuzzy tail. Then they all turn their backs and file out."

TREMORS REPORTED

MATSUSHIRO, Japan (UPI)—The Matsushiro Observation Station reported Monday it had recorded 2,924 earth tremors in the area during a 24-hour period ending at 7 p.m. EST Sunday. It was the highest number of tremors reported in the area in a single day. No injuries or casualties were reported.

Antique Show and Sale Gaining Local Support

Pampans are rallying to the support of the Twentieth Century Cotillion Club's annual Antique Show and Sale at Coronado Inn Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The show and sale, which runs from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday, is for the benefit of Opportunity Plan, Inc. at West Texas State University.

The Opportunity Plan Fund makes it possible for area students to earn a college education by repaying money advanced to them on an educational budget program.

Here is what several Pampans have to say about the program: Tom Snow, 1600 N. Russell — The Opportunity Plan enables the student to maintain his integrity. He is able to pay back his loan and knows that others will have a chance for an education because he did so.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah, 2201 Charles — The Opportunity Plan fills a need which is most important in this day and time. It teaches responsibility and teaches young people to budget their money and time.

Dr. Joe Donaldson, 2530 Duncan — If you believe young people should earn their own way in life, and if you believe communities should look after their own needs, then you will want to support the Antique Show and Sale which benefits the Opportunity Plan at West Texas State University.

Dr. Weldon B. Adair, 2215 Beech — The Panhandle District Dental Society is sponsoring a young man through dental school at Baylor University through their division of the Opportunity Plan. He would be unable to attend school without the Plan and I urge you to support the Antique Show and Sale this weekend at the Coronado Inn. The proceeds from this show will make it possible for other young men and women to have this opportunity.

Mrs. Charles Brauchle, 1206 N. Russell — Come to the Twentieth Century Cotillion Antique Show and Sale, have a good time, and know you are supporting a very worthwhile cause. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jewell, 1109 Huff — Andrea Jewell, their daughter, is a junior at West Texas State under the Opportunity Plan. She is in the top three per cent of her class and is working for her education and contributing to the Plan's Perpetual Fund so that others may have the same opportunity.

Book of Mormon Discussions Set For Thursday

A series of group meetings discussing the Book of Mormon will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at 731 Sloan by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Elder Dent Downey will head the discussion. A native of Arizona, Elder Downey is a graduate of the University of Arizona. He and his wife and two daughters live in Pampa. He is employed as a corrosion engineer at Celanese.

Elder Downey will be discussing some aspects of the religious significance of the Book of Mormon. This discussion is open to the public and any interested persons are invited to attend.

Pampa Garden Club Sponsors Arbor Day Tree Planting

The Pampa Council of Garden Clubs is compiling a list of persons interested in planting a tree in observance of Arbor Day. Trees are to be planted at individual homes and in park areas. Arbor Day will be observed in this area on April 8. The Council hopes to make the event an annual observance.

Residents interested in taking part in the observance may obtain further information by contacting Mrs. Kenneth Osborn or Mrs. Thelma Bray.

Amarillo Bishop To Address Pampa Catholic Deanery

PERRYTON — Bishop Lawrence M. DeFalco, of the Diocese of Amarillo, is scheduled to speak to the Pampa deanery, Council of Catholic Women, at their annual meeting Thursday in Immaculate Conception parish.

Bishop DeFalco, who is spiritual moderator of the diocesan council, will celebrate Mass and will proclaim and explain the decrees of Vatican II.

Monsignor F. A. Smayer, diocesan moderator, will summarize the events of the day as well as challenge the women to continue the program of the Council.

Election of officers will be held with officers selected to serve for two year terms. Mrs. John Hoopes, of Borger, is president of the Pampa deanery.

BOYS CHOIR BOOKED

Community Concert Member Campaign Rolls Into High

The Pampa Community Concert Association's enrollment of new members for the 1966-67 season moved into the second day of its open campaign today with the membership roll rapidly filling up.

Mrs. M. McDaniel, association president, announced this morning that the third attraction had been booked for the coming season. "We were fortunate in being able to get the Columbus Boy's choir," Mrs. McDaniel said.

The 30-member choir of youthful voices is one of the most outstanding attractions on concert tour in the United States.

The concert association already had booked Mantovani and His Orchestra and Ruth Page's International Ballet company for next season.

"We now have three stellar attractions under contract," said Mrs. Mack Hiatt, general campaign chairman, "and Pampa concert-goers are going to be in for one of their greatest seasons."

A fourth and final attraction will be booked following the conclusion of this week's membership enrollment.

Mrs. Tom Rose, membership secretary, today advised Pampans who wish to obtain season memberships to call concert headquarters at MO 5-5541 today or tomorrow at the latest in order to be sure of being able to attend next season's concerts.

"When the capacity of the auditorium is filled," Mrs. Rose said, "the membership campaign will end."

No tickets ever are sold for single performances of Community Concert artists.

Memberships may be obtained by telephoning campaign headquarters at MO 5-5541 or by applying at concert headquarters in the Southwestern Public Service Co. lobby, 315 N. Ballard, or by contacting any of the 150 volunteer campaign workers now engaged in enrolling new members. Season memberships are $10 for adults and $5 for students.

In 1792, President George Washington established a precedent when he vetoed a congressional bill.

In 1614, Pocahontas, daughter of Indian Chief Powhatan, married an English colonist, John Rolfe.

Pampa-Lefors United Fund Reorganized

A new plan to expand and reorganize the Pampa United Fund was decided upon in a meeting of the fund's board of directors Monday in the City Commissioners room.

Fund President Ralph McKinney said today the reorganization plan is designed to bring the United Fund back to the forefront as Pampa's first fund effort.

George Cree Jr. was named chairman of the reorganization committee.

Two Pleas Heard In County Court

Bobby Dean Medlan, 1231 N. Russell, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail with six months probation.

Derrell W. Coffman Jr. of Pampa entered a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of aggravated assault. He was fined $25 and costs.

Mrs. Jim Manley Named President Of Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the Citizens Bank Hospitality room with Mrs. Jerry Davis, president, presiding. Meeting was called to order by all members repeating the Open Ritual. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by secretary, Mrs. Dick Smith.

Reports were given concerning the "Red Stocking Revue" and Founders Day. The chapter voted to send Pilar Padilla, Girlstown, U.S.A. a complete Easter wardrobe.

Officers for the new year elected were Mrs. Jim Manley, president; Mrs. Don Stafford, vice president; Mrs. H. G. Cambern, recording secretary; Mrs. Jerry Bond, treasurer; Mrs. Eddie Duenkel, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Warren Chisum, extension officer; Mmes. James Lee and Gail White, historian; Mrs. Charlie Snider, publicity. Installation of officers will be held Saturday afternoon, April 30, in the home of Mrs. Jim Manley. City Council representatives will be Mmes. Peggy Ormsom, Allan Self and Gifford Kerksieck, alternate.

A charm was presented to Mrs. Joe Neely, who is moving to Tulsa, Okla.

Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. C. L. Farmer, Joe Neely and Duane Snyder. Lemon tarts, coffee and cakes were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth, centered with an artificial flower centerpiece.

"Tools for the Art of Life" was presented as the program by Mmes. Jack Chisum and Rae Greer. Mrs. Greer explained the

Fabrics Glamorize Daybeds

By AILEEN SNOODY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Who says daybeds have to be ugly?

The fact that they are becoming a glamorous and integral part of a well-decorated room was heightened by designs shown during the Chicago home furnishings market this winter.

As one manufacturer put it, "The utilitarian use is so fixed now in consumers' minds that style details are taking over." These include dressmaker details, finials on corners, plus crushed velvet and new lush corduroys.

Quality of mechanisms and mattress has improved so much that most shoppers look at the design and upholstery of a convertible sleep unit more than before.

However, those in the market for such a piece of furniture should not hesitate to check the bed mechanism in the store before being swayed by the handsome fabric and design of the sleep unit. Such an item also should be comfortable for seating and sleeping.

Fashion in convertible beds, studio divans and daybeds, though, is the big news this year.

This is encouraging for the young couple or the bachelor home-away-from-home with limited funds. The new apartment also may be as limited in space as the bank account.

Although the earth tones,

SNOOZE BED — Daybeds are back. These very convenient snooze beds evolved from a type of chaise longue made in 1680-1780. Modern versions feature deep cushioning of urethane foam for sitting and sleeping comfort. Daybed with bolsters shown here is brightened by the very "in" combination of varied print fabrics. Bolsters and draperies are color-coordinated but of a different floral design following current trends.

Although this decorative play may seem geared to the moon-bound era we live in, it actually is old hat. It is a throwback to the English and French periods now being stressed in furniture design.

For Feet's Sake — House slippers or run-down old shoes may seem the most comfortable footwear for doing housework, but they can cause many symptoms of "housewife fatigue," says the New York State Podiatry Society.

Very high style is the two-fabric look, according to a stylist for Englander Co. This features two designs of similar patterns in the same colors on one piece of furniture.

Decorators have been using this method to introduce and control pattern in a room. One interior designer suggests that a pattern such as a boldly colored, large check or oversized floral ed daybed and repeated in large unit such as a floral covered daybed and repeated in another room such as a wall covering or seat covers on chairs in a foyer. In a studio apartment, the continuity of pattern and color may be carried into the bath.

All in all, designers encourage the use of more color and combination of patterns in a room.

FOR WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30
GENERAL TRENDS: You have an unusually good chance now to put across whatever is important to you in the way of getting your own special capabilities to the attention of those able to make them a success, but even more you yourself are out the quality of whatever you have in mind and make it available to public.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Confronting those able to further your ambitions after you have first concentrated on exactly what you want, will see you putting details in positive fashion. Get approval from kin too. Think before you speak.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) A little talk with those in managerial positions will help you to get your ideas across and have an easier time in the future. If you are in merchandising, use practical methods with clients. Be interested in them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make monetary plans that will improve your position, property, etc. Don't neglect matters that are coming off their hinges, does that need painting—do it now! Enjoy the beautiful spring ahead.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are capable of almost anything, you see your heart on today, so be up and at it early. Show true efficiency, be direct in attitude, getting out socially thoughts also furthers your ambitions.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Quietly planning for some venture of scope in the near future will make it much easier to reach your aims at that time. Go to those experts who will give satisfactory support. Come to a perfect understanding.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) It is important that you first know what you want in life so that you can go after it in a most precise and positive fashion. Be sure to step out socially. Get those persons to assist you who are in a position to do so.

Dear Abby
By Abigail
Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What a mess my life is. After being a widow for nine years I never thought this could happen to me. Three months ago I married a bachelor in his 50s and now I am honeymooning alone in a big old creaky house, while the man I love is spending his nights (and most of his days) with his aged mother and her cat!

His mother says her rented house isn't nice enough for me, and she refuses to move into another house unless it's a duplex with her son. She can't be alone, neither is my husband financially able to keep up two establishments. I am desperate and heartbroken. I gave up my widow's naval pension for this torment. What shall I do?

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: If the man you love loves you, let him prove it by living with you. Otherwise, talk to your lawyer. Perhaps you can get an annulment. And with this poor excuse for a marriage stricken from the records you can get your pension back.

DEAR ABBY: This is a note to "SQUEAMISH," who thinks her mother should use a separate tasting spoon for everything she tastes while cooking. How I laughed! A very good friend of mine is the chief cook at one of the most exclusive restaurants in New York, and how do you think he goes about tasting sometimes 35 different things? He uses his index finger!

FRIEND OF JEAN'S

DEAR FRIEND: Be a pal and let me know for which restaurant your friend does his tasting. I would like to avoid it.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am out of my mind, but I have a very important question to ask you, and I hope you will answer soon. My fiance and I plan to marry, and we want a small church wedding, but neither of us belongs to a church. Is it possible for us to have a church wedding under these circumstances? If so, which church would you recommend?

ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: If you and your fiancée were to join a church, which one would you join? You surely must have some preference because of your early training or for personal reasons. Speak to a minister of that church and ask him if it is possible to be married in his chapel. I am informed that it is not necessary to be a "member" in order to be married in the chapel of some churches.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CORNELL '45: The Marine Corps, which produced some verile specimens, has a saying, "The man who claims he is irritable to all women needs little sleep, for he dreams while he is awake."

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CHARM on one who is truly influential and can do much to further your career is only right and wise at this time. Get acclaim of public by handling civic duties well. Be upright, sincere.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be sure to seek those persons of refinement and good reputation who can assist your growth in all phases of your endeavor. You need to expand but require the know-how from them. Put your shoulder to the wheel.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your intuition is quite remarkable so be sure to concentrate for awhile today and get the answers you want to dilemmas. Follow through on good ideas that will delight your mate. Don't be stingy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you get out to some charming eating place with associates and talk over matters of importance, you get right results easily. Try a new task where civic affairs are concerned. Make big headway.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) By planning your work intelligently, you can get a tremendous amount of it out of the way quickly and satisfactorily. Procrastination muddles matters up terribly. Confide in coworkers regarding new ideas.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Getting regular work out of the way early releases time for the kind of recreation you most enjoy, relieves tension. Have romance on your mind if you want to be happy with loved one. Don't be so many "don'ts."

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETH, the alkaline (non-oxide) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Causes "white odor" (denture breath). Disc Brakes: How Good Are They

By ROBERT COCHNAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — One of the most highly touted "safety features" on Detroit's 1966 autos are disc brakes. Foreign car manufacturers are wondering what the fuss is all about. Many of the European car cars better. Engineers at the Johns-Manville Brake Lining Division point out that the major advantage lies in the reduction of brake fade or loss of braking power in less-than-ideal conditions. Operation of disc brakes is simple. You can demonstrate must use his brakes constantly, he will have steady braking power all the way down. One of the main reasons why American manufacturers have been slow to adopt disc brakes is that drum systems have demonstrated their ability to stop the car under normal driving con-er and on rougher roads. Besides, the disc system is a bit more expensive to manufacture in large quantities. There isn't much doubt that soon Detroit will equip its behemoths with disc brakes at no extra cost. Right now, however, the potential car buyer must decide whether discs are worth the extra expense. Most auto experts would say they are.

HOW THEY WORK: Drawing shows arrangement of typical 1966 car with disc brakes on front wheels and drum brakes on rear. Stepping on the brake pedal forces hydraulic fluid from master cylinder through the fluid line to both front and rear brake cylinders. In the drum brakes, the linings are forced outward and against the brake drum to slow the car. In the disc system, hydraulic pistons on either side of the caliper force the brake lining pads against the brake disc to slow the wheel down.

makers have used disc brakes for years without really ballyhooing the fact. They appear to be somewhat distressed to hear Detroit claiming them as a new American invention.

"What's even worse," one European car representative points out, "is that of the few American makers which are offering disc brakes, most are charging extra for them. They've always been standard equipment on almost 30 European cars."

In any case, disc brakes appear to be a major selling gimmick this year. So the obvious question is, what's wrong with the old drum brakes?

It's not that there's anything wrong with them, but proponents of the disc contend that disc brakes last longer and stop the bigger, heavier and faster how they function by taking a sheet of paper and holding it lightly between thumb and index finger. When your fingers are loose, the paper slides easily. As you exert pressure, it becomes more and more difficult to slide the paper.

Finally, when your fingers are pressed tightly together, the paper cannot move. In effect, you have created the disc, or caliper, brake.

In standard drum brakes, on the other hand, the brake linings are forced outward from the wheel cylinder by hydraulic pressure and against the brake drum to slow the attached wheel.

Users of disc brakes report that the braking ability of the system is more consistent in normal driving and that during foul weather or when driving through deep puddles there is less loss of braking from the wetting of the disc or lining.

Disc brakes are also self-adjusting, having a lining life expectancy about 50 per cent longer than most drum brakes and are quickly and easily relined when necessary.

What this means to the average driver, under average driving conditions, is that he will have consistently uniform braking ability without fade. If he is going down a steep incline and

FEW SURPRISES
SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) —Not all the surprises for Gemini 8 astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott came in space, the two pilots said Saturday. There were a few on earth.

The landing itself in the western Pacific Ocean 500 miles east of Okinawa after an emergency re-entry came as "something of a jolt," they admitted. Then there was the ocean's condition. A weather report told them to expect up to five-foot waves —but "nobody said anything about the 10 to 15-foot swells," said Scott.

London Paper To Break Away From Tradition

LONDON (UPI) —The Times of London will end a historic tradition May 3 and begin printing news on its front page instead of classified advertisements.

The paper, established in 1785, announced its decision Sunday in a small notice on page 10 —its main news page. The announcement said simply that the work of redesigning The Times "has now been completed."

The only time the paper broke with tradition this century and printed news on page one were the special Sunday editions during World War I and last January 25 in a tribute to the late Sir Winston Churchill.

In the early days of the paper's publication, news items often shared front page space with advertisements.

MINERS STRIKE
LUSAKA, Zambia (UPI) — Production at the world's second largest copper mine was halted Monday when 2,000 African workers at the Exchange mine went on strike. The miners were protesting a new monthly pay scheme and the disparity between local wages and those paid to expatriate white miners.

MAY JOURNEY EAST
PARIS (UPI) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville may visit Cairo later this year to continue present French-Egyptian efforts to strengthen relations between the two countries, it was reported Monday.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International
MOSCOW: Soviet Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev on the Sino-Soviet split:
"We are convinced that in the long run our parties, our peoples will overcome all the difficulties and will march in single formation in the struggle for the common revolutionary struggle."

SURFSIDE, Fla.: A schoolmate of 18-year-old Danny Goldman, who was kidnaped Monday and held for $25,000 ransom.
"We've had so many things happen to schoolmates in the last year that this is just another incident."

WASHINGTON: President Johnson to Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India:
"I shall seek your counsel on the problems of Southeast Asia, where India, under the Geneva Accords, has for so long played such a special role."

BANGKOK: Jazz vibraphonist Lionel Hampton on the jazz-playing King of Thailand:
"I'll really have something to tell the boys back home because, man, he's a cool king."

ADDED TO STAFF
NEW YORK (UPI) — Theodore C. Sorensen, an aide to President John F. Kennedy, has become an editor-at-large of the Saturday Review.

Norman Cousins, editor of the magazine, said Sorensen "will contribute occasional signed editorials and articles" and "undertake special assignments not conflicting with his legal practice," which Sorensen resumed after he left the White House.

Poodle Chews Up Man's Dentures

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — A California man needed a fast denture repair after his poodle chewed his false teeth. He stated a new product, PLATE-WELD, repaired the break and replaced a tooth on the spot. He said it held like new. Company reports PLATE-WELD is available at Gibson Stores.

Hackensack. When informed the court would enter a mandatory plea of innocent, Long spoke up.

"I'm pleading guilty," he said. "I have no defense and I want no lawyer."
The judge, taken aback by the retort, told Long he would be remanded to the county jail and assigned a court-appointed lawyer for his defense. Again Long tried to dissuade him.
"I'm putting up no defense, judge," he said. "I have no defense."

"What are you charged with?" Galanti asked him.
"Murder," Long replied.
"Of whom?" Galanti asked.
"Penny Van Orden," Long said calmly. "I'm not fighting anything because I'm guilty."

Stuns Courtroom
Long told the stunned courtroom that arresting officers had informed him of his constitutional rights and fully understood that anything he says may be used against him. But he insisted he wanted no lawyer.

"I don't think it's necessary for the state to go through with a jury trial," Long said.
Despite his urgings, Long was committed to county jail without bail under a plea of innocent.

Penny left her Newark home about 6:30 p.m., EST Sunday. Two hours later, two patrolmen found her in a pool of blood on a lonely road in an industrial section of this northern New Jersey community, five miles north of Newark.

She was clad only in a green and red print blouse, a bra and a three-quarter length black leather jacket.

"She was moaning and fighting all the way" in an ambulance to West Hudson Hospital in Kearny, one of the patrolmen said. She died 90 minutes later without being able to tell police anything about the attack.

Police said the girl was not raped.

they are not getting paid time and a half for overtime."

Sergeant Sechrest's personal belief is that there could not be much to gain from negotiations with the Viet Cong, a proposal which has been made recently by Senators Kennedy and Fulbright and others.
"I can't see how we could sit down and reason with cut-throats and murderers and expect to reach any definite peace with them," he said.

"And," he added, "the end of the trouble could come tomorrow if only the Viet Cong would cease what they are doing today."

Sergeant Sechrest recently was presented the U. S. Army's Commendation Medal, Second Award, for outstanding service in Viet Nam.

Kidnap

Miami Beach High School senior, described as an average student by school officials, was an electronics bug and even had his own little fix-it shop, Goldman's Electronics.

"A nice polite boy," said one neighbor, "not one of those long-haired Beatle types you see around."

Surfside Mayor Louis Stallman paid a brief visit to the Goldmans' canal-front, $50,000 home Monday night and reported they were "holding up surprisingly well although they are quite concerned for the safety of their son."

"They're just sweating it out," he said.

Police were trying to identify the gunman, who they termed "extremely dangerous" in an all-points bulletin, from fingerprints found on the abandoned kidnap vehicle at nearby Miami Beach.

Federal agents were "actively" participating in the case, according to an FBI spokesman.

Awakened By Screams
It was 5:20 a.m. Monday when the elder Goldman's screams awakened the neighbors in the exclusive residential section.
"We heard him screaming 'please help me, get the police, help me,'" said Emil Meizles, who lives across the street.

McWilliams Judged District Optimist Texan of the Month

Kenneth Ripley McWilliams, son of Mrs. and Mrs. J. C. McWilliams, 1318 Mary Ellen, was presented a winner's certificate by the Pampa Optimist Club Monday evening for winning the District judging for Young Texan of the Month. McWilliams will represent the Pampa Optimists in the state-wide contest. McWilliams, a senior at Pampa High School, is a B-plus student with a certificate in advanced English and has been a member of the National Honor Society for the past two years. A veteran of Little League baseball, McWilliams also played in the Pony and Babe Ruth Leagues. He pitched three no-hit games in Little League and one no-hitter in Babe Ruth League.

Asst. Agriculture Secretary Speaks At Food Meeting

Robert S. Reed, assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture, discussed "National Operations and Plans" today at a U.S. Department of Agriculture County Defense Board Training program in Jackson's Cafeteria. Reed highlighted a morning program at the meeting which began at 9 a.m. During the afternoon session of the one-day meeting, current concepts in food management were discussed.

dent with a certificate in advanced English and has been a member of the National Honor Society for the past two years. A veteran of Little League baseball, McWilliams also played in the Pony and Babe Ruth Leagues. He pitched three no-hit games in Little League and one no-hitter in Babe Ruth League.

McWilliams quarterbacked his seventh grade football team to an undefeated season and continued on to play basketball for the Harvester starting five. His high score as a senior was 34 points in one game. He was selected a Hustling Harvester of the Week twice last year and once this year. He made honorable mention for the district as a junior and all-tournament at the Top of Texas tourney and at Plainview.

He is president of the 1966 Pampa High School student body and served in home room offices since the seventh grade. The Pampa youth is completing his third year as member of the A Capella Choir and the Male Chorus. As a junior he had the supporting role in the choir's presentation of "South Pacific," and played the lead this year in "Pajama Game."

In nominating McWilliams for the honor, Massie said, "Kenneth is a credit to our community. He is an outstanding young leader with respect for the law and his fellow man. This Optimist Club presents him as our nominee for the Young Texan. He comes highly recommended by his high school officials, church and law enforcement officers."

YOUNG TEXAN NOMINEE — Cameron Marsh, right, Pampa High School principal, presents Kenneth McWilliams with a certificate of commendation for winning the district Young Texan of the Month award. Nominated by the Pampa Optimists Club, McWilliams will now represent the club in the state finals. McWilliams was honored by the Optimists at a special dinner Monday evening at Jim's Steak House.

Taxes
turns will be proportionately greater and in others, lower. Tax returns from residents of Gray County this year will reflect the gains made by them in 1965. It is estimated that their payments will be close to $7,861,000, a rise of $206,000.

For many people in the area, this is the last time they will be called upon to fork up a substantial amount of money for Federal taxes on April 15. The new tax bill passed by Congress raises the withholding rates for people in the middle income and upper income levels so as to bring their pay-as-you-go payments closer to their final tax liability. This graduated withholding system, involving rates ranging from 14 to 30 percent of taxable income, will go into effect on May 1 this year.

Pampan Aboard Endangered Oil Drilling Barge

A severe storm in the North Sea off the coast of England endangered the life of a former Pampa man recently.

Harry Hoyer Jr., an employee of Off-Shore International Drilling Company, was a member of a crew bringing a drilling rig by barge from Glasgow, Scotland to Great Yarmouth, England. A severe storm endangered the rig and the lives of the men on the barge.

The barge was being towed by a small tug when the storm struck. It was turned into the wind and rescue attempts were made by helicopter to remove the men from the barge. Riding on the barge, the drilling rig assembly rose 150 feet into the air, interfering with the helicopter's efforts to hover over the barge.

Because the helicopter could not lift the men from the storm-threatened barge, they were forced to ride out the storm.

The Pampa man's mother, Mrs. Harry Hoyer Sr. said today her son survived the severe storm in good condition and the drilling rig will soon be in operation near Great Yarmouth for the Atlantic Drilling Company.

Agents Seeking Ku Klux Leader

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI)—FBI agents and state investigators today sought the leader of the most militant and secretive Ku Klux Klan group in the nation on charges of violating civil rights statutes.

The fugitive, Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., 41, was presumed armed and considered dangerous, but there was speculation among authorities that he might surrender voluntarily.

Bowers, owner of an amusement company at Laurel, last was seen late Sunday night entering a cafe owned by a Klansman. His car still was parked outside the establishment Monday morning, but Bowers had disappeared.

Bowers is imperial wizard of the White Knights of the Klan, 13 of whom were arrested in a swift strike by FBI agents at dawn Monday. The Klansmen were charged in the death of Vernon Dahmer, a Hattiesburg Negro who died of burns received Jan. 10 when nightriders peppered his home with gunfire and Molotov cocktails.

Charged with violating statutes forbidding intimidation and violence to civil rights workers, the Klansmen were arrested on the basis of evidence, apparently uncovered by a Klan informer.

The FBI did not say whether there were any "confessions," but a high state investigator said, "I think anybody can see that there must be an inside informer on this case since any information at all was obtained."

Bulldogs Trip Harvesters, 8-1

BORGER (Sp) — Borger's Bill Langen pitched a two-hitter to hand Pampa their seventh setback in 10 games, 8-1, Monday evening.

Gary Molberg got the Harvesters first hit in the fourth, a single to right and Pampa couldn't touch the righthander until the sixth when they scored their only run.

Borger scored singletons in the first and second innings and scored twice in the third, fourth and sixth innings.

The first Borger run came when Sanders singled, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Gooch's double. The Bulldogs made it 2-0 in the second when Billington walked, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Sanders single.

The Bulldogs made it 4-0 in the third and knocked out Pampa starter Jim Lang when Pruitt opened with a single and Gooch belted a 330 foot homer over the center field wall.

The score became 6-0 in the fourth when Rodgers singled, Shaw doubled and Sanders singled driving in both runners.

Pampa's lone run in the sixth came when Henley singled, went to second when Alvin Achord was hit by a pitch and scored on Molberg's ground out.

The Bulldogs put the finishing touches on in the sixth when Sanders walked, Pruitt doubled and Gooch singled.

Sanders and Gooch were the hitting stars with Sanders going three for three and driving in three runs and Gooch picking up three hits in four at bats with four runs batted in.

Pampa won't play again until Friday when they open 3-A competition at Lubbock and play in Lubbock again on Saturday.

Throwing Bothers Yankees' Mantle

By MILTON RICHMAN SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — Everything's perfect for Mickey Mantle except for that one minor looking flaw which would throw a monkey wrench into the whole works.

Watching Mantle here in spring training, the ordinary observer would say he's ready to go tomorrow.

Mickey looks well generally, his legs are in excellent shape, he's swinging perfectly from the right side of the plate and much better from the left side than he did last year.

"There's only one trouble," says the Yankee outfielder wistfully. "I can flip the ball maybe 20 yards or so, but that's all."

Even that modest sounding 20-yard estimate be a little high.

Mantle is taking it real easy after his winter operation for bone chips in his right shoulder chiefly because he has no other choice.

"It's getting a little better every day," he said, after taking his regular turn in batting practice. "But I still can't get my arm back far enough to throw real well. It'll take time."

How long, no one can actually say. Not Mantle, not Johnny Keane, not the doctors nor anyone.

"They're all asking for a target date," Keane said. "We don't have one. We have no idea."

Mickey has an idea of his own but being the type individual he is, he doesn't often express it because he has no wish to disappoint anyone, including himself.

"If it was up to me," he said, gazing toward the outfield fence. "I'd like to open the season. I don't know whether I'll be able to or not. It's still a possibility."

It certainly is a possibility but not a strong one. Mantle knows deep down in his heart. His sincere eagerness to get going again heightens his optimism and then that optimism suddenly is tempered each time he tries to throw.

So far this spring, Mickey's Grapefruit League activity has been limited to one pinch hit appearance in which he struck out. He could tolerate the enforced idleness if he has some idea of when he'll be ready to play again.

"The big thing is that I'm seeing some improvement," he said. "My shoulder is a lot better than it was when I first came down to Florida and I don't mind not playing in these games because I was never too crazy about spring training."

"Good Signs" "I see several good signs," he went on. "I'm swinging at the ball well, my legs are in good shape and I'm running without any trouble at all. All I have to do is throw."

There were some reports while Mantle was undergoing surgery at Mayo Brothers Clinic that the Yankees might consider playing him at first base. Keane says now, however, er, there's no chance of that. "He's our left fielder," said the Yankee manager.

"First base is out as far as he's concerned. In my own mind, I feel sure he will hit and run as well as always. All we're doing now is just waiting on his arm."

Keane, a man who was rendered near helpless by wholesale injuries to his ball players last season, shuffles his eyes in agony at the question of how he would like to have to go without Mantle this season. "I wouldn't like it at all," he says slowly. "Not one bit. It's easy to see his point."

PAINFUL POINT — Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, whose 1966 contract calls for $100,000, points to his injured shoulder that, on the advice of doctors, will keep him from beginning the baseball season.

Bauer Predicts His Birds Will Be Okay

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Just when it looked like the Baltimore Orioles had plugged the last hole in their dike, they sprang another leak.

They will have to plug that one, too, if they are to live up to their rating as the pre-season favorites to win the 1966 American League pennant.

"We'll be all right," confidently predicts their manager, Hank Bauer, who looks to Frank Robinson to solve the Orioles' problems. The only trouble is that the hard-hitting outfielder can't catch and that's where Baltimore is hurting.

Extra Punch Robinson gives them the extra punch which Bauer claims cost the Orioles the 1964 and 1965 pennants so when they acquired him from Cincinnati, Hank figured his club was all set.

Then, a couple of days after opening spring training, they lost their No. 1 catcher Dick Brown, for at least this season, with a brain tumor.

Baltimore moved to plug the gap by getting Camilo Carreon from Portland. But Carreon's credentials are not that impressive.

The odds are against him coming through, which would shift the receiving burden to veteran Charley Lau and a rookie, Andy Etchebarren. Lau can hit but is not a good handler of pitchers while Etchebarren has promise but probably would be better off with another year in the minors.

Bauer has another problem, too, but that is a minor one compared with finding an accomplished receiver. He needs a fourth starting pitcher to take up the slack left when Milt Pappas went to the Reds in the Robinson deal.

The first three starters will be Steve Barber (15-10), Dave McNally (11-6) and Wally Bunker (10-8). Jim Palmer (5-4), John Miller (6-4) and Moe Drabowsky, getting another major league chance after an 8-2 mark at Vancouver, are the leading candidates for the other starting spot.

Bullpen Trio Stu Miller (14-7), Don Larsen (1-2) and Dick Hall (11-8) form the bullpen trio.

John (Boog) Powell will be the first baseman and along with Curt Blefary and the two Robinsons will have to carry the Orioles' batting attack. The Robinson other than Frank is third baseman Brooks.

The infield will be rounded out with Jerry Adair at second and the veteran Luis Aparicio at short. The two Johnsons—Dave and Bob—will be around for infield utility duty.

The outfield spot between Blefary in left and Frank Robinson in right is up for grabs, but Paul Blair, who hit only .234, will probably start the season there because of his defensive ability.

Harvesters To Compete In Amarillo Relays

Amarillo will be full of athletes Friday and Saturday, including a number from Pampa High School.

The 17th annual Amarillo relay, which include, of course, a track meet, also includes a golf and tennis tournament.

The relays will kick off Friday and end Saturday afternoon. Each of the three sports is divided into two divisions with the class AAAA and AAA schools in division II and the AAA and B schools in division I.

The extravaganza will be held at Dick Bivins Stadium, for the track and field events set at Amarillo Country Club and Tascosa Country Club.

Large school golfing will be held at ACC and the smaller schools at TTC.

Tennis events for division II will be held at Amarillo Tennis Center and division I will be held at the Amarillo High School courts.

Golfers will start things off at 11 a.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Saturday with track events slated to get underway at 12:30 p.m. Friday and semifinals at 9:30 a.m. Saturday with finals to be run at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. The tennis matches will start at 1 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Saturday.

Pampa will be in division II with Amarillo High, Caprock, Palo Duro, Ysleta, Wichita Falls, Midland Lee, El Paso Burges, El Paso Irvin, Lubbock Dunbar, Canyon, Vernon, Lubbock High, Borger, Plainview, JWichita Falls Rider, Tullis, Perryton, Odessa High, Hereford, Dumas and Lubbock Coronado.

Tascosa is the defending track champion with titles in 1964 and 1965.

Tascosa is expected to be challenged for the top spot this year by the Carver Dragons who have won division I for the past two years. Carver moved into the large school division this year.

WASH DAY BLUES—Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates has an unusual audience as he chases a base hit at the Kansas City A's training camp in Bradenton, Fla. It was also wash day before the exhibition game and the A's hang out their sweatshirts in the warm sun.

Dodger Hitting Is Weak

By United Press International Now that Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, finally have reported for work, the Los Angeles Dodgers' hitters have gone out on strike.

The result is a double disaster for the reeling world champions because Koufax and Drysdale, those paragons of pitching perfection, began their working day in Hollywood, 3,000 odd miles from the Dodgers' Vero Beach, Fla., headquarters.

And no sooner had the two hurlers, who are seeking a combined three-year pact of $1 5-2 million, began rehearsals at Paramount Studios for their forthcoming movie, "Warning Shot," than the rest of the Dodgers struck in sympathy.

They didn't exactly walk out and picket but they did the next best thing. They laid down their bats against the Pittsburgh Pirates and succumbed 5-0 without a hit.

The ignominious loss was their 11th of the exhibition season and plunged them into a deadlock for last place among National League teams with the Philadelphia Phillies, who whipped the Baltimore Orioles combined three-year pact of $1 5-2 million, began rehearsals at Star, and rookie Luke Walker combined to pitch the no-hitter against Los Angeles. The fireballing Veale worked the first seven innings and Walker, also a lefthander, blanked the Dodgers over the last two frames.

Only two Dodgers reached base—Tommy Davis on an error in the fifth and Jeff Torborg on a walk in the sixth. Gene Alley lashed out four hits and Roberto Clemente had three to pace Pittsburgh's 11-hit attack.

The two leading Grapefruit League teams both went down to defeat, The Chicago White Sox' winning streak was snapped at nine by the Yankees 4-1 and the Mets were shut out by St. Louis 3-0.

The Yankees exhibited some of their old-time power against the Chisox as Roger Maris blasted his first homer of the spring with a man aboard and Clete Boyer socked his fourth. Tommy Agee's solo circuit in the sixth off impressive New York rookie southpaw Fritz Peterson was the only run for Chicago, which lost its third game against 15 victories.

Washburn Looks Sharp Ray Washburn, plagued by sore arm miseries for three years, looked sharp in limiting the Mets to five hits and no runs over the first seven innings. Charley Smith, traded by New York to the Cards for Ken Boyer, continued his torrid hitting with a run-producing double which raised his average to .408.

The California Angels routed Cleveland 11-1 for their fourth consecutive victory over the Indians. The Angels have scored 11 runs in each of the four games. Jim Fregosi, Joe Adcock and Ed Kirkpatrick slugged successive homers off loser Luis Tiant in the third and Bob Rodgers clouted a two-run home run in the eighth.

In other games, Ron Herbel pitched six shutout innings and Len Gabrielson hit a three-run homer in San Francisco's 6-3 triumph over the Cubs. Jim Maloney allowed one run in a three-inning stint, his first of the spring after a long holdout, and Tommy Helms rapped a bases-loaded single to lift Cincinnati over Atlanta 5-3.

Houston whipped their Oklahoma City farm club with the help of Eddie Kasko's tainted grand slam home run which bounced through 9ers' outfielder Norman Miller and reliever Dick Bosman retired Bernie Allen with the bases loaded in the ninth to preserve Washington's 3-2 victory over the Twins.

FIGHT OR FIASCO?

Chualo To Test Clay

TORONTO (UPI) — Will it be a fight or fiasco?

The key clue may be provided around noon today when Cassius Clay, a champion regarded with contempt by millions of his own countrymen, and George Chualo, a journeyman boxer who has earned a measure of respect in his country, weigh in for tonight's 13,000 persons in the Maple Leaf Gardens and perhaps 150,000 in closed-circuit television theatre outlets in the United States gather to see about to suffer another black eye. But the anticipation that leads men to pay $50 to $100 for a ticket is building up because there always is a reasonable doubt when two strongmen stand face to face in the ring. The controversial issues that caused the bout to be barred in New York, Chicago, Montreal and Verdun will be stripped away at 10:30 p.m. EST when 13,000 persons in the Maple Leaf Gardens and perhaps 150,000 in closed-circuit television theatre outlets in the United States gather to see what happens in paked presure-filled combat.

The odds are at least 7-1 that the fast-moving, fast-hitting 24-year-old Clay will slash the 28-year-old native of Toronto to ribbons and retain the heavyweight title with a technical kayo or a knockout. Few experts are betting on Chualo but there is surprising support that he will go the scheduled 15-round distance.

The big question at today's weigh-in at the gardens are Clay's physical structure and mental attitude. The champion is expected to weigh the heaviest of his career—between 212 and 215—a poundage that will raise the question whether he will retain the foot and hand speed that are his greatest attributes.

Clay's mental approach to the bout is also open to question because of his erratic behavior in the face of criticism that has been heaped upon him for "unpatriotic" statements about U.S. war policy in Viet Nam.

A stolid plodder with an iron jaw, Chualo seems to have gained confidence because of the adverse publicity surrounding the bout. He's a cinch to weigh in at 208 to 210 pounds and is expected to carry the fight to Clay with a mauling, aggressive style that may include the toughest kind of back alley fighting Cassius has encountered during his career.

He is a hard right hand puncher to the body and has a fair left hook to the head. Each fighter has predicted he will win by a knockout—Clay claiming "it could be over quick if he gets dirty" and Chualo saying "I've got a round in mind to end it."

Hokum is a part of any heavyweight title fight, but most experts will be surprised if it goes the distance.

PWBA Tournament To Windup Sunday

The Pampa Women's Bowling Association tournament will windup Sunday at Harvester Bowl with 81 teams competing.

Besides team bowling, 85 sets of doubles and 170 sets of singles will be bowled.

Celanese No. 5 took the team leadership after the first weekend with a 2758 while Browns Chevron Station trailed with a 2746 total and Kelly Milk-maids are third at 2721.

Ann Rader and Clara Achord lead the A doubles with an 1197 total and Betty Jack and Wyliene Patrick are second at 1186. In third place are Penny Pinley and Inez Snider with 1145.

In B doubles Zorah Thornton and Jerry Hulsey lead with a 1262 total followed by Lynell Jarvis and Mary Clark with 1235 and Nell Mynear and Mel Lantz with 1127.

The class C doubles leader is Wanda Ensey and Myrtle Brock with an 1142 total with June Rowdan and Shirley Stafford second at 1090. Louise Brown and Diann Brown are third at 1066.

Dot Osborne has the class A singles lead with a 643 with Maxine Hawkins second at 631 and Beth Ramsey third at 619.

The class B singles leader is Shirley Thompson with a 625, second is Pat Jenkins with a 613 and Ann Rader is third at 609. Myrtle Brock leads the class C singles with a 657 with June Rowdan second at 610 and Lynell Jarvis third with a 585.

ORLANDO'S PRIDE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Ana Cepeda, wife of San Francisco Giants star Orlando Cepeda, gave birth to a 10-pound, 3½ ounce boy Monday at St. Joseph's Hospital. It was the first child for the Cepedas.

ON STRIKE — New York Yankee third baseman Clete Boyer tries to persuade his son Mickey, 2, to call off the "lie-in" so dad can get on with spring training.

Crowd Expected At Cage Banquet

A full house is expected to light in the high school cafeteria for the annual Pampa Harvester Basketball Banquet, slated to begin at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker for the banquet is Abe Lemons, Oklahoma City University basketball coach and one of the Southwest's most successful cage coaches.

"The Fighting Harvester" award will be presented to one of the Harvester basketballers and the PHS basketball queen will be crowned.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less.

Human Action Not Boring

A big shot in the newspaper business, Gardner Cowles, recently stated in a speech that, on the whole, newspapers are "Dull, dull, dull."

Guess he hasn't been reading the Freedom Newspapers. Now, we admit that dullness is often found in routine news reports that come to us as handouts from the Great Society leaders.

But the people-made news is never dull: there is high drama in every line. Maybe we don't all see the drama in the same pieces, but somebody sees it, and we find ours in some other news items.

Nobody ever goes to sleep while reading the editorial page of a Freedom Newspaper. Disagree. Yes. But sleep, no! They say that, if you do something three times, it becomes a habit.

Individual Responsibility Give a motorist an automobile and the open road, and he sometimes forgets himself. Maybe it's all part of being an individual and pushing aside responsibilities.

Some persons — in and out of government — have taken pleasure recently in putting the blame for highway deaths chiefly on the automobile industry.

Too often the role of the motorist in highway safety discussions is dismissed or placed far back in importance. Actually, it is a major consideration. No matter how automobiles are built and highways designed, the speeder, the drinking driver and the motorist who fails to keep his car in good repair will be a menace.

We're Flying High High school auditoriums have resounded for many a year with vaudeville forecasts of the coming "Air Age" when the plane would threaten the motor vehicle.

Summer Travel Note Summer resort hotels are getting competition from the Army. It is a little-known fact, and a surprising one as well, that the Army hired more than 26,000 civilians for summer jobs last year.

Mr. Cowles said, "Daily newspapers not only inform and entertain, they are invested with responsibility for truth, fairness, balance, completeness and newness coupled with their responsibility as the monitor and conscience of their communities and the nation."

That sounds as though he doesn't think newspapers are quite so dull as he said at the beginning of his talk. But he says responsible newspapers have a public character and the ones that lack such character or shun it, ignore their greatest asset and this will eventually show up in the balance sheet.

But we don't really believe that a newspaper can have either a character or a conscience. Newspapers merely reflect the characters or the consciences of the people who make them.

Local school boards would be well advised not to invite outside groups to take over special summer educational projects in their communities. If further education is needed for slum children, then the educational program should be devised by local authorities and conducted with teaching staffs of known responsibility and sincere interest in education.

The federal government has not helped the situation by making it difficult for local anti-poverty commissions to operate as public agencies. It has been charged that the Office of Economic Opportunity, which directs the War on Poverty, does not want local or state government involvement with the community anti-poverty groups.

Motorists have a responsibility to each other. No one else can assume it. We enjoy freedom of speech but cannot abuse it. This privilege, for instance, gives us no license to run into a theater and yell "fire" when there is none.

High school auditoriums have resounded for many a year with vaudeville forecasts of the coming "Air Age" when the plane would threaten the motor vehicle. Ignoring this, the passenger plane has logged along as an increasingly important segment of the transportation complex but no more.

WATCHING THE POVERTY WARRIORS

With the beginning of spring, the Great Society's anti-poverty agencies in American communities are beginning to make plans for the long hot summer ahead.

It is apparent that some of the projects now on the poverty warriors' drawing boards offer little but trouble to the communities concerned. On the basis of past experience and common sense, it is possible to lay down some guidelines as to what is and what is not worthwhile.

Some poverty war planners sincerely believe that what is necessary to eliminate poverty is "discrimination in reverse." That is to say, they believe that the taxpayers should provide concentrated training and concentrated benefits to residents of slum areas in the hope of eliminating what they call a "cultural lag."

Some anti-poverty groups already are planning to import groups of teachers from far beyond the limits of the states and communities concerned. These teachers will hold special summer classes for children from slum areas.

The truth is that there are persons with political goals who are only too eager to invade other communities in the guise of legitimate teachers in order to promote their particular political objectives, to create groups of students who will become political action groups in future sit-in, lie-in campaigns.

Nationally known Republican leaders, including former Vice President Nixon, plan to vigorously campaign against these legislators, contrasting GOP support for the President's military policies in Viet Nam with the Democrats' constant critical carping at these policies.

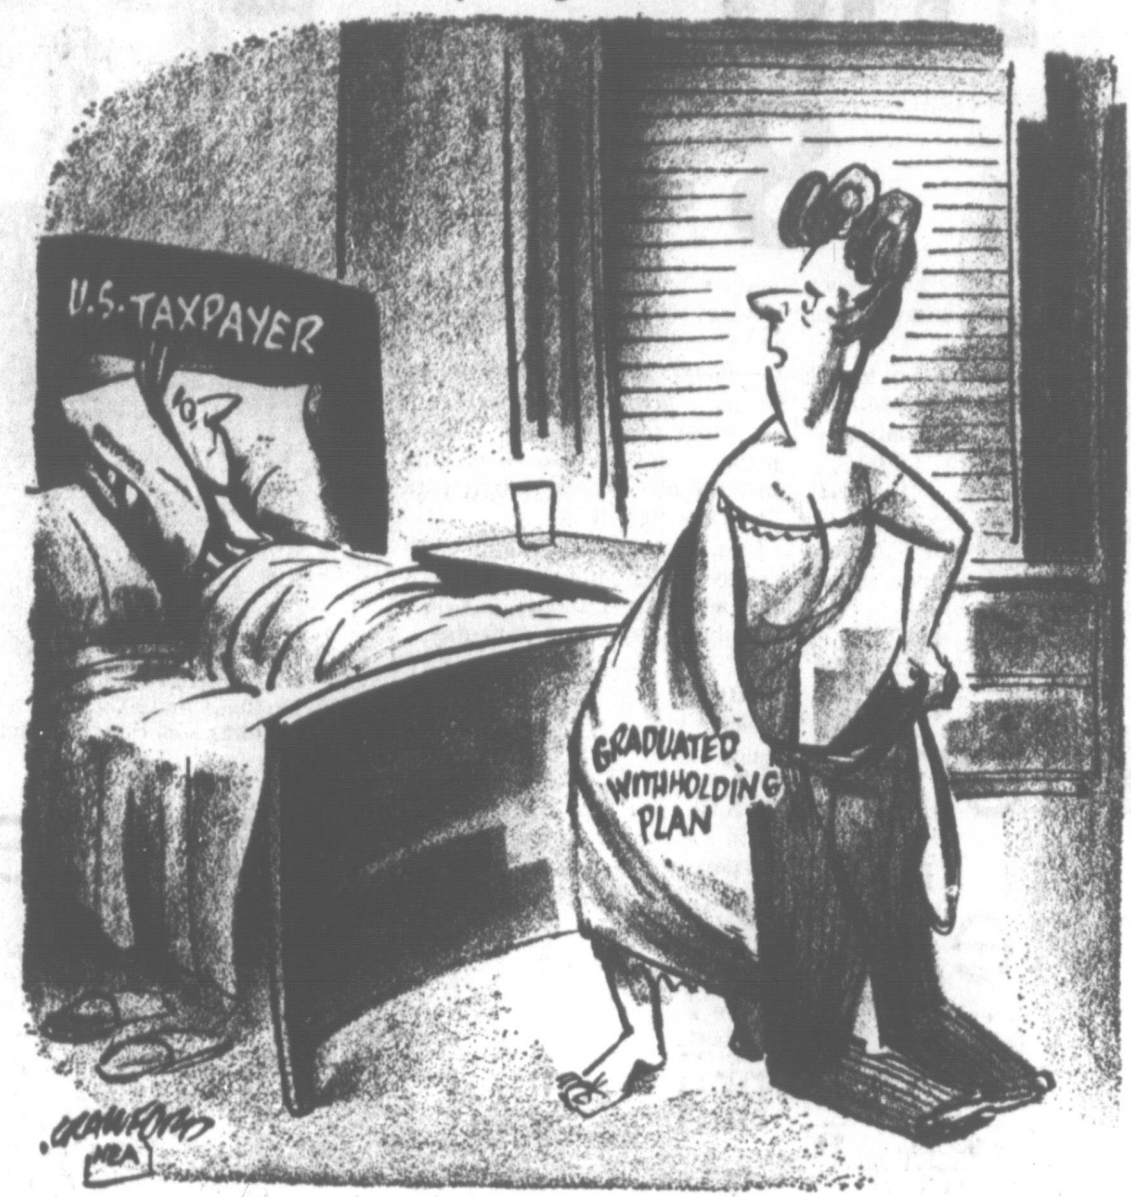

"We Republicans in the House have called upon the President to disavow those within his party who would divide this country as they have divided the Democratic party. As the President has stated, 'There is much more that unites us than divides us: America, indeed the world, is waiting for the President to take command of his party.'

Local and state officials who let anti-poverty programs operate without public inspection may be letting the anti-poverty warriors set up new political units designed to take over the political control of cities. The whole anti-poverty effort should be subjected to the closest, continuing scrutiny.

Dissenting Democrats To Be Chief Targets For GOP Campaign, Which Hopes For 40-60 Seat Gain

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — House Republican leaders are zeroing their big campaign guns on the 78 Democratic congressmen who have publicly opposed widening the war in Viet Nam.

These Liberal Democrats, including 25 freshmen who won by close margins in 1964, are being singled out as special GOP targets because of their growing differences with President Johnson over Viet Nam.

Under the backstage campaign strategy mapped by House Republican Leader Gerald Ford, Mich., the GOP will center their fire on this foreign policy split in an effort to keep the President from endorsing and actively campaigning for these dissenting Democrats.

"It fell into our laps like a gift from the gods," Ford says in advising GOP candidates to "zero in on this hostile Democratic statement and make it the center of your campaign."

"By taking this campaign tack, we can't lose," he continues. "We can drive a wedge between these Democrats and the President. That is how you can win independent and Democratic votes without losing Republican support."

Ford also revealed it will be Republican strategy to force the President to wage a "hop-skip-jump" campaign by challenging him to support only Democrats favoring his Viet Nam policy.

"The voters are deeply disturbed that there is such a wide diversity of opinion among congressional Democrats and the President," Ford points out. "If we can highlight this Democratic split and keep it before the voters until November, we can pick up anywhere from 40 to 60 House seats. We may not be able to win control of the House, but we will be in position to do so in 1968."

As one of the three House Appropriations Committee members that police the Central Intelligence Agency, Ford is basing the new GOP strategy on information that the Viet Nam war will soon be expanded both on the ground and in the air.

Increased pressure for a blockade of North Viet Nam to protect American fighting men in South Viet Nam.

DIVIDED DEMOCRATS — In addition to the campaign speeches, newspaper advertisements, TV-radio spot announcements and pamphlets are being prepared to criticize Democratic disunity on Viet Nam.

Typical of this GOP campaign material is the following letter signed by Representative Ford and being circulated in the districts where Democrats are assailing the President's Viet Nam policies:

"The deep division within the Democratic party over policy in Viet Nam is prolonging the war, undermining the morale of our fighting men and encouraging the communist aggressor. It has confused the people in other nations about the American purpose, and has led North Viet Nam to believe that in time we may falter, that we do not have the necessary will or determination to win.

"As a result, the peace that this nation and the free world seeks has been delayed, the fighting intensified, and the threat of a major war deepened.

"We Republicans in the House have called upon the President to disavow those within his party who would divide this country as they have divided the Democratic party. As the President has stated, 'There is much more that unites us than divides us: America, indeed the world, is waiting for the President to take command of his party.'

FLASHES — Republican Floor Leader Gerald Ford (Mich.) is forecasting that "the present Congress will pass legislation requiring that congressional districts in each state be compact and contiguous, and setting the outer limits of permissible population disparity among congressional districts. This legislation will not prohibit gerrymandering. It will stop only the grossest forms of the gerrymander."

According to the Defense Department the Korean war cost $18 billion, and the cost of U.S. troops stationed there since 1953 to maintain the truce amounts to another $5.7 billion. In comparison, the cost of the Viet Nam war is estimated at $11 billion a year.

The fabled unicorn was said to have the head and body of a horse, the hind legs of an antelope, the tail of a lion, sometimes the beard of a goat, and its chief feature a long sharp, twisted horn, similar to the narwhal's tusk, set in the middle of its forehead. A passage in the Old Testament tells how the unicorn defeated an elephant in combat.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS 'Guidelines' Lead the Way To Controls, Freedom Loss

By KIRK WELS

There probably are many "chat" sessions on the relative pitching skills of such baseball pitchers as Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Cincinnati's Jim Maloney.

But there's relatively little discussion about why the Los Angeles Dodgers offer their pair $106,000 and $95,000 contracts respectively while their eastern counterpart signs for $46,000. The fact, of course, is that Cincinnati's ball club, with its smaller park and smaller drawing area, takes in less money with which to pay salaries.

Similarly, the Los Angeles Lakers were able to pay basketball stars Jerry West and Elgin Baylor more money than St. Louis pays Zelmo Beaty and Cliff Hagen. Reason: Attendance at Laker games this past season totaled more than that of all other western division clubs combined. There should be a little more available for salaries despite amortization of the $5 million reportedly shelved

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "What is one of the most common false assumptions that leads to erroneous conclusions which have resulted in untold harm of man's relation to man?"

ANSWER: One of the most common false assumptions that we can remember, is the contention that if we didn't have tax-supported coercive schools, the poor could not get an education. The false assumption is that we have an education now.

Very few people have an education and no one has a complete education. And if one can't recognize a contradiction and be rational and logical, he certainly has anything but an education. He might have great skill, great training and a great memory, but he is far from having an education. In fact, he has stopped learning when he doesn't recognize a contradiction and keeps repeating false assumptions that have nothing to do with the subject.

Those people who claim they wouldn't have received an education if it hadn't been for tax-supported schools might explain why, if people are educated from a moral standpoint, we are in the predicament that we are in. Albert Jay Nock in "The Theory of Education in the United States," quotes Ernest Renan as saying:

"Countries which, like the United States, have set up a considerable popular instruction without any serious higher education, will long have to expiate their error by their intellectual mediocrity, the vulgarity of their manners, their superficial spirit, their failure in general intelligence."

And that seems to be exactly what has come true. If we were educated to the difference between right and wrong and we knew the meaning of the Golden Rule, we wouldn't be in one war after another, we wouldn't be drafting soldiers, we wouldn't have an increase of crime, we wouldn't be piling up debts for our future generations to pay or repudiate and we would have money that would have value in itself — and not political orders for real money that no one can get except a foreigner.

But it seems that the people who have little education or little ability to reason, are the persons that want to educate other people.

So the next time you hear a person ask the question, "how would poor get an education if it weren't for tax supported schools?" ask them if they think we're educated now and if we are, why are we in the mess we're in today?

Ask him if he as an individual would regard it as a violation of the Golden Rule if he used coercion on his neighbor to make him pay for the education that he wanted rather than what the neighbor wanted.

And if he says no, then ask him how many people have to do a thing that violates the Golden Rule to make it in harmony with the Golden Rule. It seems that the best way to educated others is to educate oneself — as Socrates says, "know thyself."

A thought for the day— American author Henry Thoreau: "That man is richest whose pleasures are the cheapest."

out for purchase of the franchise. All this is leading up to comments made earlier this week by R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president, personnel services, U.S. Steel.

Cooper questioned the effectiveness and desirability of a federal "guidepost" system. "One must ponder seriously the question whether this is the approach that best protects the public interest in the long run, and preserves our freedom," he said.

"I don't think it is," Cooper continued. "I believe it points in the direction of government control and loss of freedom."

Cooper, the steel industry's chief labor negotiator, says undue concentration of labor union power and federal guideposts are leading to wage and price controls.

The guidepost theory provides that wage increases, limited to the average increase in national output per manhour — currently 3.2 per cent — will not be inflationary.

Cooper said that general guideposts are unrealistic because problems and economic conditions vary in different companies.

Obviously major league baseball clubs are not the same as factories. . . . But basic considerations are similar. The economic conditions vary from company to company, from site to site, just as they do for ball clubs.

Whenever a general rule or law is applied over multiple sites, inequities rise. The usual inclination is to add more rules, more controls, more laws to correct the problem that rules, controls and laws created.

I've watched companies do this . . . but not for long. The company which confuses its workers with multiple and constantly changing regulations soon finds its best workers leaving for other employment. The firms which do not quickly return to organized simplicity soon go out of business.

It's too bad government doesn't have to meet the same standards . . . or go out of business. In the extreme it does. People revolt and governments fall."

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. MUMY

CIA AND SUKARNO On the way out, Sukarno appears "on the way out," but it may be too good to be true. His kind never give up and until the time of Malenkov and Bulganin and Khrushchev, the prudent procedure in Communist circles was to kill and consider consequences later.

If it is actually consummated, the ouster of Sukarno, with a Non-Communist soon succeeding to the presidency of Indonesia, must be viewed as a glorious victory for freedom-loving people everywhere.

CIA gave Sukarno no trouble for 20 years, and if its new head, Admiral William (Red) Raborn, can be demoted, Sukarno's staunchest friends and apologists may save him his empire with anti-communism, anti-imperialism, anti-military and anti-American nonsense.

The last time this cheap Castro-type dictator told the U. S. A. to "go to" with its lavish foreign aid to its enemies, Washington stepped up substantially its attempts to buy his tolerance or tacit good graces.

The Soviets, as heretofore, can be depended on for aid in discrediting the Navy-veteran CIA head. Other Departments, bureaucrats and the entrenched CIA secondary personnel must furnish much of the leverage if this deserving national hero is to be dislodged.

Public opinion decides these matters and has been deciding wrong while 900 million humans since World War II were being surrendered into Communist domination and eventual slavery.

Definitely Admiral Raborn is most knowledgeable concerning "tricks of the trade" through which the best interests of our nation are betrayed. He has vast experience, and none have succeeded thus far in impugning his loyalty and integrity. The heads of other departments of government may find that loyal, patriotic Red Raborn intends in the future that the Central Intelligence Agency shall function precisely as an Agency for the preservation of American policies and traditions.
