Settlement Slim In Airline Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An impact of the machinists' other round of negotiations to end the nation's severest airline strike resumed today with a top union spokesman charging that industry bargainers were stalling in the hope of bringing on White House intervention.

Before entering today's session, Joseph W. Ramsey, representative of the International Association of Machinists (IAM), told newsmen: "The public should know that there hasn't been five minutes of real negotiating since this strike started. These carriers are standing pat, protecting their profits, waiting for the President or Congress to help them out."

Ramsey, William J. Curtin, chief airline negotiator, and federal mediators were pessimistic about an early end to the costly strike which began Friday.

A weekend of separate meetings ended Sunday night with a report of "no progress" on major issues—money for higher wages and more fringe benefits.

The situation worsened as one of the five lines was struck by ticket agents and baggage handlers who claimed they were being asked to do machinists' jobs.

Assistant Labor Secretary James P. Reynolds called the International Association of Machinists (IAM) to meet at 8 a.m. (CST) with the carriers—Northwest, National, Eastern, Trans World and United.

Northwest was hit Sunday by the walkout of some 2,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks. An airline spokesman denied the union charge its members were being asked to do IAM jobs.

The clerk's walkout was limited to Northwest and was the latest sign of the spreading

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A large agenda faced returning congressmen today but there was no sign they would abandon their cautious, election-year approach to President Johnson's domestic program.

Fresh from an 11-day summer vacation, the congressmen returned to face consideration of major Johnson proposals in the field of civil rights, the war on poverty, education, auto safety, conservation, agriculture and defense.

The President wants the lawmakers to stay until they pass the rest of his foreign and home front programs. But OPERATION SPARKLE—Pampans who take the time to drive by the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keeton, 344 Tignor, will see a perfect example of what can be done to make a neighborhood attractive. The Keetons' yard, front and rear, presents an immaculately groomed lawn and flower beds. There is a fine vegetable garden in the back yard. The house, gates and fences sparkle with white paint. The Keetons' modest home and grounds combine to mark one more step in Pampa's role in Operation Sparkle and shows what individual homeowners can do to improve a city's image to visitors.

Hot Weather Still Forecast For Pampa

Although isolated late afternoon and nighttime thundershowers are forecast across the Panhandle, Pampa can still expect continuance of the hot weather spell, with little chance for showers.

High is forecast to reach the mid-90's, with a low near 70. Probability of showers is only 10 per cent, with southerly winds 12 to 18 miles per hour. Little change is predicted for Wednesday.

Sunday's high was 90, with a low this morning of 72.

Slashing rains, lightning, hail and the size of golf balls and at least one tornado hit West Texas Sunday. Four inches of rain fell in Midland and the weather may have played a part in plane crashes that took nine lives.

The tornado dipped down east of Plainview, but no injuries, deaths or damage were reported.

Tornadoes and severe thundershowers packing winds up to 80 miles an hour screamed across the Midwest section of the nation Sunday night and early today. The weather bureau warned of a severe rise in Lake Michigan at Chicago.

The summer night's storms stretched from Iowa and Wisconsin across northern Illinois to Indiana. Power lines were down in sections of Chicago and throughout the northwestern suburbs.

A possible tornado slammed through McHenry, Ill., and police said a tree was "blown through a house." A root beer stand was demolished, but no injuries were reported.

A few showers lingered on into the day along the lower Texas coast and northeast part (See WEATHER, Page 3)

Election-Due Solons Cautious Over LBJ Programs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A many, especially freshmen Democrats who rode presidential coattails into office in 1964, are anxious to get home early to campaign.

All signs now point to a late adjournment, perhaps as late as September. And in the days between, it appears much of the President's program will be altered significantly. Some proposals may not be enacted at all.

With the session two-thirds of the way over, congressional performance this year stands in marked contrast with the fervor with which presidential proposals were passed in the first session of the 88th Congress.

The election year pressures which are building up could cut into some of the support Johnson expects in the Senate and House for his programs.

US Planes Again Slam North Viet Nam's Oil Depots

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Air Force and Navy planes struck three more oil depots during 88 missions over Communist North Viet Nam, U.S. military spokesmen reported today.

Communist gunners brought down one American plane, an Air Force F4 Phantom, but its two man crew was quickly rescued. An A4 Skyhawk from the carrier USS Constellation was missing and presumed down.

Two land-based Skyhawks sank an armed Communist motor vessel with Zuni rockets and 20 millimeter cannon shells as the boat raced toward the coast. An Air Force Albatross rescue plane picked up the downed pilots within 20 minutes after they parachuted into the sea.

The United States lost four helicopters in the South and four U.S. servicemen were killed in one of the crashes. American infantrymen who killed 238 Communist troops in a running battle 60 miles north of Saigon during the weekend had difficulty today finding members of the Viet Cong force which fled into the jungle near the Cambodian border under heavy pounding.

WCC Expected To Denounce Viet Bombings

GENEVA (UPI)—The World Council of Churches (WCC) Tuesday opens a 12-day conference expected to bring sharp denunciations of stepped-up U.S. air raids against Communist North Viet Nam.

The churchmen from more than 200 Anglican, Orthodox and Protestant denominations with some 400 million members also were expected to criticize racial injustice and Western complacency about the world's widening gap between rich and poor.

It will be the first major church forum on social problems since the end of World War II.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), will speak to the WCC meeting on Sunday.

Although the Roman Catholic Church has no affiliation with the WCC, the Vatican has sent eight observers to the meeting as part of Pope Paul's policy of inter-faith cooperation.

Churches in the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain nations will be represented at the conference for the first time. Voices of protest from Asia, Latin America and Africa also will be heard.

Clerics, economists, theologians, politicians, sociologists, businessmen and laymen all will take part in the 12 days of speech-making and debate. Among the American churchmen here is Dr. Eugene Garson Blake of Philadelphia, general secretary-elect of the WCC. He is the former stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The Geneva meeting will serve as a base for the WCC General Assembly at Uppsala, Sweden, in 1968. A final report

Pampan Critically Hurt in Accident

Mrs. Charlotte Aylor, 1234 S. Farley is in critical condition in Northwest Hospital, Amarillo, following a one-car accident at approximately 9:20 p.m. Sunday.

The accident occurred four miles south of Pampa on TSH-70.

Mrs. Aylor, traveling alone, apparently ran off the road and lost control of her car turning it over one and a half times, according to Highway Patrolman Paul Geiser, investigating officer.

She was taken by ambulance to Highland General Hospital by Carmichael-Whitley Ambulance Service and later transferred to intensive care at Northwest Hospital, where she was admitted at 1:50 a.m. today.

The accident occurred four miles south of Pampa on TSH-70.

Republicans Told To Put Accent On Youth Electorate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republicans in search of the way back to power have been urged to take a leaf from the Kennedy notebook—put the accent on youth.

New facts and fresh programs aimed at the young people who will come to dominate the electorate in the next decade will be a key to GOP rejuvenation, according to a frank report called "where the votes are."

The report, prepared by the conservative-oriented Senate Republican policy committee, was released during the weekend. It placed heavy emphasis on the nature of the voters in the next decade.

"Since party identification is at its weakest among voters in their early and middle 20s, we suggest the presence of enormous opportunity; opportunity to make these new voters Republicans; opportunity to reach these new voters in terms of their own problems, their own issues, their own needs and hopes," the report (See REPUBLICANS, Page 3)

Days of Pretty Boy Floyd Hunted Barmaid Wounded In Blaze of FBI Gunfire

POST FALLS, Idaho (UPI)—Lillian Jo Ramus was expected to put up a fight, and she did.

The cordon of police officers and FBI agents surrounding the motel room of the diminutive 27-year-old barmaid turned gun moll told her to come out. It was the end of four days of flight from the Spokane, Wash., County Jail and Miss Ramus knew it.

She emerged spraying bullets from a cut-down .39-caliber carbine, ripping off 11 shots at officers huddling behind police cars before they felled her with bullets in the left hip and head.

Before she was toppled from the doorway of her room at the Satellite Motel in this tiny hamlet, Miss Ramus wounded FBI agent Robert Rockwell of Coeur d'Alene in the leg.

She was listed in serious condition today at Deaconess Hospital in Spokane, Wash., 20 miles away.

In her motel room, officers found three other loaded guns, a loaded tear gas gun and nearly 900 rounds of ammunition.

The Saturday midnight gun battle involved FBI agents, Idaho State Police, the Kootenai County, Wash., sheriff's office and Post Falls police.

J. Earl Milnes, agent in charge of the Seattle FBI office, said officers had surrounded the motel when Miss Ramus fired one shot through her door, then flung it open and emerged with carbine blazing.

She was being sought on a federal warrant for jailbreaking. She and another woman sawed through the bars of their cell window in the Spokane city jail four days before Miss Ramus was to be sentenced on a forgery conviction. They jumped from the window into the police parking lot. Her companion was injured, but Miss Ramus escaped. The FBI suspected she would return to the Spokane area to visit relatives.

Homers Lift Demons By Pampa Rebels, 7-6

Dumas Faces 2 Foes

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
DUMAS — Home runs did the damage here Sunday and Pampa's Rebels will have to wait and see if they get to play in the American Legion District tournament.

Gary Smith and Ronnie Stephenson blasted home runs to give the Demons a 7-6 win over the Rebels.

The loss dropped Pampa into the third place at 6-4 while the Demons are 5-3 with games left with Caprock and Borger.

A loss to either of the teams would force a three-team play off Wednesday and would mean that the winner would have to play in the district tourney the next day. Only the first two teams play in the tournament and Palo Duro has nailed down one spot, finishing with a 7-3 record.

Maz Moves Buccs Closer to First

By United Press International
Even though Walter Alston may not, Harry Walker appreciates Bill Mazerowski.

But Mazerowski, who is now hitting at a mere .264, is unassumingly leading the Pirates back to the top of the National League.

The Pirates completed a four-game sweep of the New York Mets Sunday in which Mazerowski knocked in 10 runs, by romping to a 9-4 victory, which moved the Pirates to within one game of first place.

"I've learned to appreciate Mazerowski," Walker said after the second baseman again sparked the team. "He's the best second baseman I ever saw."

McLain, Giants' Marichal Named

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Denny McLain of Detroit will be entrusted with the opening responsibility of drawing the American League all even Tuesday and Juan Marichal of San Francisco will keep the National League All-Stars ahead, if all goes according to general expectations.

Chances are the two rival managers, Sam Mele of the American League, and Walt Alston of the National, will officially name their starting pitchers today.

Mele had more than the usual reasons for wanting to win the sellout contest, which is scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m. EDT at new Busch Memorial Stadium.

"I like to win every game," said Mele, "but this one has a little extra significance."

To begin with, Mele will be making his first appearance as an All-Star manager.

Secondly, his Twins were defeated by Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series last October, and Mele still remembers that beating. In addition, the American Leaguers are 7-5 underdogs.

Nationals Lead Series

The Nationals went ahead in the series for the first time last year by beating the Americans, 6-5.

The A.L. pitching staff is divided with five righthanders and three left-handers and since the N.L. has only two lefthanded swingers in its starting line-up, Mele leaned toward McLain.

Jim (Catfish) Hunter of Kansas City, Sonny Siebert of Cleveland and Mel Stottlemyre of New York are the other righthanders available to Mele, who also has such left-handers as Steve Barber of Baltimore, Pete Richard of Washington and Jim Kaat of his own Minnesota club.

Alston has three lefties including Sandy Koufax, generally acknowledged the foremost pitcher in the game today.

The other N.L. southpaws are Bob Veale of Pittsburgh and Billy McCool, whom Cincinnati uses strictly in relief. The four other N.L. righthanders besides Marichal are Gaylord Perry of San Francisco, Jim Bunning of Philadelphia, Claude Raymond of Houston and Phil Regan of Los Angeles.

The Americans had only two lefthanded hitters in their starting lineup in Tony Oliva of Minnesota and Dick McAuliffe of Detroit.

But the N.L. had four lefty swingers among their reserves — Tom Haller of San Francisco, Tim Lincecum of St. Louis, Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh and switch-hitting Maury Wills of Los Angeles — while the A.L. had only Carl Yastrzemski of Boston and Norm Cash of Detroit.

The odds favoring the National were influenced by such hitters as Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Roberto Clemente, Joe Torre and Ron Santo.

Coody Richer, Patton Happy

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI) — Charles Coody of Fort Worth was $5,000 richer today and amateur partner Richard Patton of Midland had a lot of glory. They won the 18th annual Odessa amateur golf tournament with a final round seven-under-par 65 Sunday for a 72-hole total of 255.

Coody and Patton finished four strokes ahead of defending champions Babe Hiskey and collegiate star Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur.

Hiskey and Fleckman, closing in a flourish with birdies on the last eight holes fired an 11-under 61 to tie the last round record and finish with a 259. Hiskey won $3,000 second place money.

Tied for third place, eight strokes off the pace were the teams of Terry Dill and Billy Munn and Randy Petri and Robert Leach. Dill and Petri both won $2,000.

Coody and Patton played a steady brand of golf during the entire tournament, turning in rounds of eight, nine, eight and seven under par.

Hiskey and Fleckman were eight strokes back at the opening of play Sunday and continued rather unrespectably for the first nine holes and then exploded, getting par at No. 10 and then birdied their way to the clubhouse.

A's Continue Hot Pace

By United Press International
The Kansas City Athletics now ask what New York can do for them, not what they can do for the Yankees.

Because of seemingly charitable offerings to the Yankees, Kansas City has been called New York's best farm club.

Over the years, the A's have supplied the Yankees with players instrumental in New York's pennant drives. In return for this deluge of talent, Kansas City has received lesser name players who contributed only to last place showings.

All this is in the past, however. New York has fallen on hard times. Al Dark has brought the A's to the brink of respectability. Perennial tallenders who've finished last in the American League the past two seasons, the A's rank sixth today. The Yankees, winners of 29 pennants in 45 years, are ninth.

Yanks Humbled

Kansas City continued its assault on the first division by sweeping a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians Sunday, 4-1 and 5-3. The Washington Senators, meanwhile, humbled the Yankees twice 3-2 and 9-2.

Elsewhere in the junior circuit, California blanked Baltimore 4-0, Boston whipped Chicago twice, 8-4 and 10-6 in 10 innings and Minnesota shaded Detroit 4-2.

The Yankees, who once owned a farm club in Kansas City, have made 16 trades with the A's since 1954. Most notable for New York were deals involving Roger Maris (1960), Ralph Terry (1965), Ryne Duren (1957) and Bud Daley (1961).

But Kansas City has done better at the bargaining table in the last two years, which also coincides with the collapse of the Yankees. In May of 1965, Killebrew slammed a two-run homer as the Twins handed Sheldon and catcher John Blanchard to the A's for last nine games.

backstop Doc Edwards, who now plays in the minors.

This year, New York exchanged pitcher Bill Stafford and infielder Roger Repoz for Kansas City righthander Fred Talbot. The Athletics' acquisitions, however, have all contributed to the success of the team.

Repoz scored the tie-breaking run in the nightcap Sunday on a sixth-inning single by Larry Stahl. Repoz, who collected two doubles in four trips to the plate, doubled home Bert Campaneris during KC's three-run first inning.

Rookie Jim Nash hurled a three-hitter in the opener to record his second consecutive victory since being recalled last week from the minors. Joe Nosske hit a two-run, inside-the-park homer in Kansas City's four-run first.

Sunk Homers

Two-run homers by Willie Kirkland and Fred Valentine sent the Yankees to their third doubleheader loss of the season. The Senators, moving past New York into eighth place, collected 13 hits off four pitchers and handed Bob Humphreys his third victory, against one setback.

Lefthander George Brunet, scoring his second successive shutout, limited the league-leading Orioles to four hits in besting All-Star selection Steve Barber (10-3). The Orioles still maintained their eight-game lead over the Tigers.

AUSTIN (UPI)—The U.S. Public Health Service has given a near perfect rating to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in its protection of the Gulf Coast Oyster industry.

The state agency was rated at 100 per cent for a program of purification of oysters from contaminated waters, and 99.3 per cent for its effective patrol apprehensions and prosecution of persons violating shellfish sanitation regulations under the department's jurisdiction.

AUSTIN (UPI)—A mountain lion which for months had been preying on wildlife in Brewster County was trapped and killed recently. It is being mounted for display in the nature exhibit at Texas Parks and Wildlife Department headquarters.

TEACH SOVIETS
LONDON (UPI)—Six Cambridge University competitors were en route by small bus to the Soviet Union today to try to teach the Russians how to play tiddlywinks.

"We hope to get them interested by playing games in the villages," said John Pehhalow, 22, leader of the six-man university tiddlywinks club.

"We may even play in Red Square, Moscow," he said.

A to Z Rental Gets New Franchise for Tractors

Case Tractor Contractor Awards Local Franchise
A to Z Rental Center recently has expanded its line of products to better serve the growing needs of the community.

A to Z Rental Center has been appointed a franchised dealer of Case garden tractors by the J. I. Case Co., leading agricultural and construction equipment manufacturer.

According to Glenn Winningham, manager of the new operation, garden tractors have become more and more popular with the trend toward outdoor living and the development of larger areas to maintain in suburban communities. Where most outdoor power equipment is restricted to a few operations, a garden tractor provides year 'round versatility. With proper attachments, a garden tractor mows grass, plows and blows snow, does dirt and gravel, plows, plants and cultivates with ease, speed and comfort.

The new line of Case garden tractors is especially designed to handle the widest range of jobs. These units develop real tractor work power with 10 and 12 choices. Three Case models are available. Two with Hydraulic Drive, a revolutionary hydraulic transmission that eliminates clashing and shifting.

A to Z Rental Center also has rental tractors as well as the new line. "We strive to serve the community with the type of equipment which every householder, home craftsman and business organization needs on occasion, but which they find impractical to own," says Glenn.

"Renting the right equipment can make hundreds of tasks possible, easier and more enjoyable. In fact, we may be able to advise customers on equipment uses they don't even know about."

Do-it-yourself tools such as Sanders, power drills and saws, plumber's and mechanic's tools, as well as painting equipment and scaffolding are standard rental fare. Stair carts and furniture dollies will make moving jobs easy. And the home gardener can now rent every kind of specialized gardening equipment to achieve that expert touch.

Beds, chairs, tables, banquet and party needs are available for special occasions. And if there is a patient at home, such sickroom aids as hospital beds, wheel chairs, crutches and other needs are available at economical rates.

Contractors and other business firms are able to rent special-
