GRAND ENTRY — Approximately 160 youngsters officially kicked off a week of rodeo activity in Pampa yesterday afternoon with the grand entry for the first performance of the Kid Pony Show. The Show which was held yesterday afternoon and last night, is the annual prelude to four nights of wild and wooly professional rodeo action. The 22nd annual Pampa event, highlighted by TV-star Molly Bee will begin at 8 o'clock tonight.

First Performance Of Rodeo Begins Tonight

By LARRY HOLLIS and RON CROSS
Cowboys are competing in both cities and are being flown from Cheyenne to Pampa and back.
Rodeo activities were actually kicked off Tuesday with afternoon and night performances of the Kid Pony Show, which attracted the largest crowd and a record number of entries in a number of years.
Another added feature to the 1966 rodeo will be the appearance each night, Wednesday through Saturday, of Molly Bee. The pert blonde is star of radio, records, movies and now has her own television show. She was to arrive at Amarillo Municipal airport at 2:30 p.m. today and a Pampa delegation including Mayor Jim Nation, Dr. Jim Bailey, Norman Henry and Mrs. Jake Osborne, were to meet the singing miss.
Mayor Nation extended an invitation to Amarillo Mayor F. B. Wallace, Mrs. Wallace and "all the citizens of Amarillo," to attend the Pampa rodeo Friday night, which has been proclaimed "Amarillo Night."
The annual Rodeo Parade was held at 3 p.m. today, starting at Coronado Center, coming down Hobart to Ward street to Cuyler.
Cowboys are competing for $5,000 in prize money on stock furnished by Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla.
Performances will start at 8 p.m. each night with Cy Tallon of Denver, Colo., describing the events.
A total of 157 contestants participated in the two sessions of the Kid Pony Show with youths from five to 11 performing during the afternoon and the older ones competing last night.
Among the events in the competition were bull riding, calf roping, barrel racing, flag racing, pole bending, ring racing and potato racing. Entrants were from the Panhandle of Texas, Oklahoma and as far away as Mississippi.
Warren Hasse served as announcer for both performances. Co-chairmen of the Kid Pony Show were Tenny Reynolds and Bill McIntire.
In addition to the long hours of practice by the youngsters prior to the show, three rehearsals were held last week to prepare them for the performances, including the grand entrance at the beginning of each performance. Many of the youngsters also rode in parade this afternoon.
Following is a list of the winners of both performances.

Cooper Resigns Pampa School Post

Bill Cooper, assistant principal at Pampa High School, has resigned to take a post as high school principal at Cuero, Texas.
The announcement was made this morning by E. E. Shelhamer, school board president, who said the resignation was accepted at a special meeting of the board last night.
Cooper accepted his first teaching assignment in Pampa in 1956 as a biology instructor in the high school.
After serving five years as a teacher here, Cooper was named assistant principal in 1961.
His resignation becomes effective Aug. 1 and Cooper said to-

Pampa Woman Is Killed in Oklahoma Crash

Mrs. Thelma Liles Casey, 46, 314 W. Francis and Hal D. Cable of Chicago, Ill. were killed in an auto-truck collision about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday two miles east of Elk City, Okla. on Highway 66.
Mrs. Casey, a longtime Pampa resident and nurse aide at Highland General Hospital, was pronounced dead at the scene. She was visiting with her parents, who live near Elk City and was alone in the car at the time of the accident.
Cable, enroute to an antique car convention in Albuquerque, N. M., died about one hour after the crash in Community Hospital, Elk City. He was driving a panel truck containing about $5,000 of replacement parts for antique cars in a conveyer.
Louis J. Judzewicz, 48, of Franklin, Wis. was listed in critical condition with a fractured skull and internal injuries. He was taken to Community Hospital and later transferred to a hospital in Oklahoma City.
The Casey car was traveling east on U.S. 66 when it apparently crossed the center zone of the road and the two vehicles collided head on. The accident occurred on a two-lane road in a construction zone, according to Oklahoma Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Casey was born Aug. 5, 1918, in Oklahoma. A resident of Pampa the past 18 years, she was employed as a nurses aide at Highland General Hospital. She was the widow of Oscar Casey who preceded her in death on Nov. 9, 1959.
Survivors include three sons, John Dale, Oscar Ray and Harris Wayne Casey, all of Oklahoma City, Okla.; one daughter, Mrs. Barbara Jean Fields of Portland, Ore.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Liles of Roosevelt, Okla.; one sister, Mrs. Mildred Camp of Borger; four brothers, Wayne C. and Beryl Liles, both of Oklahoma City. James (See CRASH, Page 3)

Shelhamer said other personnel matters scheduled for last night's meeting were postponed until John Damron, Pampa's new school superintendent can be in attendance.
Damron, who resigned as superintendent of schools at Tulia to take the Pampa post left vacant by the resignation of Jack Edmondson, will take over his duties here Aug. 15.
The board's regular meeting, scheduled for Aug. 11, may be postponed until Damron arrives, Shelhamer said.
The annual budget meeting for the school district has been set for Thursday, Aug. 25.

Views Differ on Reasons For Negro Rioting in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House debate on President Johnson's civil rights bill is bringing out sharply conflicting views of the reasons for riots in the Negro ghettos of big northern cities.
The violence in Chicago, Cleveland and Brooklyn had been deplored by everyone during the first two days of debate, but civil rights supporters and opponents part company on its causes.
Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., laid the blame Tuesday on the procession of civil rights bills approved by Congress. He said there was more violence and trouble every time such a bill passed.
Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the trouble stemmed from discrimination. He told the House that affording equal opportunity to Negroes was "the only solution to violence in our streets."

Except for the continuing subject of riots, House consideration of the bill hardly amounted to debate.
Interest was centered on the proposed partial ban on racial, religious and ethnic discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.
The bill, in its third day of debate, also would prohibit discrimination in federal and state court jury selection, strengthen federal laws dealing with racial violence and give the justice department more power to combat segregation and civil rights violations in court.
The housing provision would not cover the sale or rental of most existing single-family homes or owner-occupied small apartment houses.

Scientists Study Threat by Planet

Asteroid May Be Dangerous

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — A Sydney University physicist said today the United States, Britain and Russia are studying the possibility of using a nuclear rocket to prevent an asteroid from smashing into earth.
Prof. Stuart Thomas Butler said any microscopic deviation in the orbit of the asteroid Icarus could put it on a collision course with earth, causing "a colossal force impact of great destruction" equal to the power of 1,000 hydrogen bombs.
An asteroid is a small planet with a diameter ranging from a fraction of a mile to nearly 500 miles.
Butler, a 44-year-old professor of theoretical physics at Sydney University, said Icarus is nearly a mile wide and presently is "on a near collision" course with earth. It will pass within four million miles of earth in June, 1968, he said.
He said it could reduce any of the world's major cities to rubble in a flash if it diverged only slightly from its present course.
However, he said, scientists in the United States, Britain and Russia are investigating how they can land a rocket on Icarus and smash the asteroid to smithereens by using a nuclear warhead.
"This is where the billions of dollars spent on space research and soft landings on the moon could pay off," he said.

Senate Debating On $892 Billion Military Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Tuesday passed a $2.06 billion economic aid bill, and turned today to debate on a $892 million recommendation for military assistance in fiscal year 1967.
Senate leaders had some hopes of finishing the arms aid measure late today but conceded that Thursday was a more realistic target. The economic aid provision passed 66 to 27 after seven days of debate.
Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, introduced an amendment to lift proposed curbs on arms sales to Latin America under the military aid program.
The military recommendation from the senate foreign relations committee would place a $55 million ceiling on arms purchases.

The present law puts the $55 million limit on grants to all Latin America and leaves the countries free to use other aid funds to buy military equipment.

The committee's action, if upheld by Congress, would roughly halve the total arms flow from the U.S. south of the border. Sales by the U.S. government now run slightly more than $55 million.
The Senate first took up the follow-up military aid measure late Tuesday after passing a one-year extension of economic and technical aid programs except the Latin American (See SENATE, Page 3)

US Planes Rip Viet Oil Depots

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force and Navy planes struck the Viet Cong increased its harassing activities in South Viet Nam, attacking the headquarters of the 25th U.S. Army Division for the second time in one night and shelling the Soc Trang airbase after overrunning two South Vietnamese outposts.
The Communists, reeling under a massive defeat by U.S. Marines who killed or captured an estimated 1,539 Hanoi regulars in Operation Hastings, have increased their activities in the South for the past few weeks. Some attacks have come within a few miles of Saigon.
The Communists struck the 25th Division headquarters at Cu Chi Tuesday night and again just before dawn today, inflicting "light" casualties. During the night they hit the Soc Trang airbase 90 miles southwest of Saigon with an eight-minute attack that did no damage.
Viet Cong terrorists planted a time bomb in a Saigon riverfront building where the Vietnamese army is staging an exhibit of captured enemy weapons. But disaster was averted when the bomb was discovered and disarmed by an engineering corps officer who found it in a straw basket.
U.S. B52 bombers from Guam today bombed a suspected Viet Cong outfit 55 miles southwest of Saigon while other U.S. bombers again smashed targets (See PLANE, Page 3)

CIA Supports Dodd's Story

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Central Intelligence Agency has lifted its customary veil of secrecy just enough to support part of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's explanation of a controversial 1964 trip to West Germany.
The Senate Ethics Committee made public Tuesday a letter from CIA Director Richard M. Helms that said the Connecticut Democrat sought information on Soviet terror and espionage operations before and after the trip.
Dodd's former aides told the committee the purpose of the trip was to help public relations magnate Julius Klein hold on to lucrative contracts with West German business interests.
Dodd denied this, testifying that he flew to Germany in behalf of the Senate internal security subcommittee to interview Bogdan Stashynsky, a confessed Soviet assassin who defected to the West and was in a West German jail.
The trip is a crucial element in the Ethics Committee's investigation of misconduct charges against Dodd. The panel now is gathering material for later hearings on allegations of an improper use of campaign contributions and other financial questions.

Death Charge Names Doctor

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — A young doctor-author accused in the murders of his beautiful first wife and a best friend — was to be arraigned today in Circuit Court.
Dr. Carl A. Coppolino, a 34-year-old retired anesthesiologist, is charged in the 1963 New Jersey death of Lt. Col. William E. Farmer, a close neighborhood friend, and in Sarasota with the slaying last August of his dark-haired wife, Carmell, 34, also a doctor.
Coppolino, who reportedly suffered a heart attack after his arrest, was behind bars Tuesday at the Sarasota County jail after he was transferred from a guarded hospital room.
The physician who signed the removal order for Coppolino would not comment on his decision to move the doctor to jail. Coppolino has a history of heart trouble.
State Atty. Frank Schaub said Tuesday he had been (See DOCTOR, Page 3)

TWD Board Opens Hearing

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Water Development board was expected to get a stormy greeting today at a hearing into the proposed state water plan by Central Texans up in arms over proposals to use the Colorado River to aid arid South Texas.
Both the Highland Lakes Tourist Association and Austin Chamber of Commerce have passed strong resolutions opposing the move and have asked their members to appear and lodge individual gripes at the hearing.
Sim Gideon, general manager of the Lower Colorado River Authority, has already served notice that the LCRA will "fight for every drop" of the lake waters, and said he would have a public statement at the hearing.

Cigarette Manufacturers Facing New Requirements on Packages by Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson today introduced a bill that would require cigarette manufacturer to list the amount of tar and nicotine produced by their product — marking the first anniversary of a congressional requirement for a health warning on cigarette packs.
Magnuson conceded that his bill might not be considered until the next session of Congress. He said he hoped its introduction might bring voluntary action in the industry to list tar and nicotine content, keeping Congress out of the matter.
The Washington Democrat also asked the Federal Trade Commission to give the Senate Commerce Committee a quarterly report listing the comparative tar and nicotine ratings of all major cigarettes.
Despite the health warning on cigarette packs, Magnuson said that an overwhelming majority of those who smoked a year ago are still puffing away.
He said hopes the industry would compete in development of a less dangerous cigarette had been unfounded.

Cleveland Starts Cleanup Job

CLEVELAND (UPI) — City and state officials mapped cleanup and job finding campaigns in the embattled Hough district today while bristling under criticism that law enforcement agents conducted themselves poorly in last week's rioting.
Hough, located in the heart of the city's east side slums, began returning to normal Tuesday when 450 of the 2,000 National Guard troops were pulled out. Half of the remainder will leave Thursday, the others Sunday.
The rioting left four persons, all Negroes, dead, and millions of dollars in property damage.
The foreman of a grand jury investigating the cause said it appeared to be "organized and planned."
Cleanup operations will begin Friday and will require 80 days, said welfare director Clarence Gains. He said all available men will participate.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN spent a quiet weekend in Cleveland after racial riots last week. The guardsmen began operations to pull out of the city Tuesday and all are expected to be moved by Sunday.

Dear Abby.... Hubby Only Trying To Be Neighborly

DEAR ABBY: How come husbands can be so nice and polite to other women, but can never see when their own wives need help? Yesterday when my husband and I were getting into our car to go shopping, my next-door neighbor was just getting out of her car. She had quite a few packages so my husband rushed over there to help her carry everything into her house. When we got home from shopping, I had lots of bundles and packages, but my husband just got out of the car and went into the house, and I was left to carry everything inside myself. If all men are like my husband, I would advise girls never to marry the one she loves. Just move next door to him.

DEAR TIRED: All men are not like your husband. How much help do you get from the man next door?

DEAR ABBY: I am just about ready to lose my mind. I have talked to our minister, my family doctor (he gave me some pills for my nerves), all my relatives and some of the neighbors, and everyone tells me there is nothing I can do. You are my last hope. I have a beautiful daughter. She is 52 and has never been married. She had her chances, but she was particular. She worked steady for 33 years, saved her money, and never ran around.

Well, she finally met a man she thinks is worth marrying. He is 55 (he says) and has never been married (he claims). He travels for some kind of electronics company and all I know about him is he drives a nice car and he has my daughter in a trance. Here is the blow. My daughter says she doesn't want a wedding, so if she doesn't come here one night I should not worry, because she'll have gone to Las Vegas to get married. How can I talk some sense into that child's head?

HEAVY HEARTED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I'll have to vote with the minister, your family doctor, the relatives, and the neighbors. Your "child" is a big girl now and well able to make her own decisions. Don't take it personally. She's entitled to have the kind of wedding she wants.

DEAR ABBY: I was married to John Jones and we had two children. We were divorced and I was awarded custody of the children. I later married William Smith. Must I have my husband's permission to change my children's last name to Smith? Their stepfather supports them.

MRS. WILLIAM SMITH
DEAR MRS. SMITH: It does not matter who supports them. You may not change your children's names without the consent of their real father.

DEAR ABBY: I heard you say on your radio program the other day that you never had to give up cigarettes because you never took up smoking. How I envy you!

I was a three-pack-a-day man until 16 years ago when I had to quit smoking on the advice of my physician. And do you know that I still miss it? Keep on telling kids not to start, Abby. "WISH I HADN'T!"

Mascara Removal Hint
Scrub-a-dub-dubbing and getting nothing but dark circles under your eyes? It surely isn't from lack of sleep. When removing mascara from those fluttering lashes don't use soap and water, try a professional and gentle treatment for those orbs. Apply mascara-remover on those caked lashes and you will see the amazing results. And no dark circles after all your efforts.

Summer Simplicity For Active Lassies

THERE'S NO NEED for a girl to be all ruffled up for summer. For dress-up (left) there's a bunny jumper in berry or blue with the merest frosting of lace. Solid bodice in Arnel is on a shift of striped seersucker. Groovy cotton sailcloth two-piecer (right) can go anywhere all season long. Its crisp white top has kabuki sleeves banded in the same provincial print as the short skirt. These are Russ Girl designs.

Fat of the Land

NEW YORK (UPI) — Men win more battles of the bulge than women do, according to a report in the "Archives of Internal Medicine."
"Whenever results of treatment have been reported according to the sex of patient, men have been shown to be more successful," it was reported. Women have a more difficult time of losing weight. A report in the "New York Journal of Medicine" says one of the reasons is that women have 150 to 250 per cent more fatty tissue than men.

Trouble shooting will be a natural outgrowth.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

Many people are not aware of the continual destruction that takes place in our city parks. Within the past few days four trees were broken over, two picnic tables damaged and a water fountain damaged by, no doubt, young people who have not learned respect for other people's property. When caught, these vandals should have to work out their fine by helping to care for our city's parks.

It must be very discouraging for those whose job it is to care for the parks to be constantly confronted with such vandalism. Many thousands of dollars are spent each year just to repair damages done by thoughtlessness on the part of some persons and downright acts of destruction by others.
About nine boy and girl scouts came out last week to help improve the parks and also to help them to receive certain badges they are working on. Workers will be at Perryton Parkway, about 2100 block on Hobart St. where Coffee St. intersects with Hobart, Thursday morning at 8:30. Notice the change in time.

We were most pleasantly surprised this week to receive through the mail a donation toward our park beautification projects from Rev. Sam Byron Hulse, Rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. Rev. Hulse and his family, who are new members of our community, expressed their appreciation for the work that is being done and this expression is gratefully received.
Anyone who might be doubtful of the effectiveness of white caladiums in the landscape design should drive by the Bob Curry home, 1126 Charles and the E. J. Dunigan Jr. home, 110 W. Kentucky. Both homes are beautiful.

Persons who want to light their garden for the evening hours' enjoyment could profit greatly by talking with Mrs. Mildred Prince, consultant with the Southwestern Public Service Co. here in Pampa. She has some very clever and inexpensive ideas.

Only two members of the Johnny Appleseed Club were able to attend the meeting last week at Mrs. Ira Carlton's home but the meeting was worth the time just to see the sparkle in their eyes as Vanessa and Ronny Chisum reported on the growth and care they had given the trees they planted last Arbor Day. Mrs. Carlton took them on a tour of her garden and helped them to identify trees as well as furnished tree leaves to be pressed for future identification. Any child interested in being a member of this group should call either Mrs. Carlton or this columnist.

It seems to this writer that one of the required pieces of equipment for a garden, along with the necessary tools, should be a hammock, preferably one with its own stand. A person who works in his garden should take time out from chores to survey the wonders of the sky and clouds above as well as look into the majestic branches of the trees. Besides being very relaxing this prone position in the great outdoors can help a person to get a new perspective on life.

For those who are interested in gardening according to the moon signs, kill weeds July 27, 28, 31, Aug. 1, 2 and transplant July 29, 30, Aug. 3, 4.

Money Becoming an Increasing Problem

Headlines shout the news of crisis in America's largest cities — of racial strife, rising crime rates, air and water pollution, inadequate transportation systems, overcrowded schools and hospitals, and strained municipal treasuries. As I noted in this newsletter several weeks ago, money is an increasing problem for city governments and the Nation's largest cities have turned with increasing pressure to the Federal treasury in an effort to obtain assistance in solving their problems.

Meanwhile, the cities compete aggressively to attract new industry to provide new jobs for their burgeoning populations and to generate new tax revenues. Cities such as New York are working with business leaders to hold the business-industrial base already developed, and to broaden it.

There are no easy answers to the problems cities face, but it is apparent that millions of residents of huge metropolitan areas, in the city cores and suburbs, desire improvements in the quality of their living. Many of these Americans were attracted to the cities in the first place because the economic opportunities were less attractive in the rural areas and small towns they had called home.

In my views, there is increasing opportunity for areas such as our Texas Panhandle to attract the new business and industry on which a regional economy can be strengthened. We have the people, the community leadership, the climate, the transportation structure, the recreational opportunity (greatly augmented by Lake Meredith and other water projects being developed or in the planning stage), the pleasant life of friendly cities and towns where families can put down roots and feel at home. And we have the rich mineral and agricultural resources that provide the essential raw materials for numerous industrial enterprises.

With local chambers of commerce taking the lead, communities across the Panhandle are scouting for businessmen and industrialists who wish to relocate facilities or build new ones. The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, to cite an example, has prepared a very attractive brochure based on a recent "Texas Parade" magazine article, "Amarillo: Space to Space Age." With many color photographs and drawings, the brochure's last page notes that Amarillo is the fastest growing metropolitan market in the Southwest, with a growth rate increase of 22.9 percent from 1960 to 1965. The Panhandle area as a whole can speak in the same terms. Along with chambers of commerce, the utility companies, rural electric cooperatives, banks and other enterprises are working hard to bring industrial development. In my own conversations with business leaders, I have found growing interest for the possibilities of developing new facilities in our area. On the State level, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Industrial Commission pursue the search for new business and industrial development. It is possible that Congress may next year consider some form of incentive plan to assist new plant construction in areas primarily rural in character. Legislation may be proposed providing Federal income tax incentives for such development, although such a measure would be almost certain to draw opposition from huge cities and their Representatives. However, the precedent for tax write-off approaches was set some years ago by Congress in approving a bill advocated by the Defense Department to help disperse defense industries from areas regarded as prime targets in event of enemy nuclear attack. A good, healthy trend toward non-urban plant locations is developing. All of us need to keep telling the wonderful Panhandle story, and the story of our own towns and cities.

Letter From Dead Husband Explains 'Why' in Viet

BURLESON, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Ruby Delano opened a letter from her husband and read it slowly to her four children so they could understand the best they could.

"I am no longer with you because I returned to a little country that I felt was in dire need of my knowledge and talents, the letter said. "A country whose people are fighting for their lives."

The letter was not written recently. It was written last year by M. Sgt. Henry Delano, 35, who volunteered to return to combat duty in Viet Nam. He left the letter to be read only in case he was killed. He told his wife to read it to the children.

Last week, Sgt. Delano, a native of Abilene, Tex., died in the wreckage of his light, single engine artillery observation plane. It was shot down by the Viet Cong.

Mrs. Delano had to read the letter this week to Jackie, 13, Rebecca, 12, Charles, 11 and Henry, 4.

"They" (the Vietnamese) do not know what it is like in a free country like America," the letter continued. "I am a professional soldier and our country needs its best to help stem the tide of communism; therefore I have been selected to go.

SCHOOL STUDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — A survey of Catholic school students indicates that religious education is "virtually wasted" on three quarters of them, it was reported Monday.

The study, financed by the Carnegie Corporation and the Federal Office of Education, indicated that the Roman Catholic Parochial schools make the devout more devout, but have little or no effect on others.

The massive mountain-top fortress, La Citadelle, on the north coast of Haiti, took 13 years and the labor of 200,000 men to build.

FUTURE CANDIDATE
WHEATLEY, England (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson may be having problems with his party, but not with Jonathan White. White wrote the premier saying: "Please the premier saying: 'I may I join the government? I am six years old so may I join later? We don't want bombs or war. Love from Jonathan.'"

SKY'S THE LIMIT

Oliva Takes Bat Lead

By United Press International
Tony Oliva is on top and the sky's the limit.
The Minnesota rightfielder replaced Baltimore's Russ Snyder as the American League's leading batter Tuesday night with a homer and double that raised his average to .331. It also helped the Twins score their second victory over the New York Yankees in 10 games this season, 6-3.
Oliva has won the batting championship two straight years with averages of .323 and .321, respectively, and is seeking to become the first player since Ty Cobb (1917-1919) to win three in a row.
"You know what I was hitting at this time last year?" Oliva asked a reporter at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night. "I was hitting about .285. Then the base hits started dropping in all the time and my average really moved."
Go Either Way
"Who knows," he goes on. "If that happens again I might get up to .360 or something. Of course, it might go the other way and I might only hit .260."

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit beat Chicago 3-1 before the second half of the doubleheader was rained out. Cleveland bested Baltimore 7-4, Boston bombed Kansas City 8-5, and 6-2.
Dave Boswell pitched seven innings for the Twins and fanned nine Yankees to tie Washington's Pete Richert for the league's strikeout leadership. He left the game in the eighth after being nicked by a pitch on the right shoulder.
Rocky Colavito and Leon Wagner hit two homers apiece and Fred Whitfield slammed one as the Indians blasted first place Baltimore. Oriole starter Steve Barber left the game in the second inning with a sore elbow after serving up Colavito's first inning blast.
Horton Hot
Willie Horton went four-for-four and drove in all three Detroit runs. He doubled home Norm Cash in the fourth and singled in Al Kaline in the sixth and eighth innings. Chicago scored its only run in the fourth when winner Mickey Lolich gave up a single to Tommie Agee and walked the next three batters.
Joe Foy slugged two home runs to back Dennis Bennett's first win of the season for the Red Sox. The tall lefty was reactivated July 14 after undergoing an operation on his shoulder in April. George Smith had three hits for Boston and Mike Ryan drove in a pair of runs with a single in the first off Kansas City loser Lew Krausse.
Frank Howard and Ken McMullen drove in two runs apiece and Bob Saverine collected three more hits as Washington downed California. Howard's bases loaded single in the third scored two runs and McMullen's triple knocked in two more in the sixth. Saverine's three singles gave him 11 hits in his last 17 times at bat.

England Gains Soccer Finals

LONDON (UPI) — For England, champagne. For Portugal, coffee and commiserations.
For England, a place in the World Soccer Cup final on Saturday against West Germany.
For Portugal, a consolation third place game Thursday against Russia, a game they unhappily qualified for by coming out on the losing end of the semifinals. Both went down by identical scores of 2-1, Russia on Monday to West Germany and Portugal on Tuesday to England.
The finalists are the teams about which the Latins raged "Fix" when they won quarter-final games through alleged biased refereeing.
As England and West Germany celebrated their success and prepared for their last 90 minutes of play, criticism and argument still raged around their heads.
The South Americans want a completely new setup organized within the International Football Federation (FIFA) to deal mainly with the allocation of "impartial and unbiased" arbiters at World Cup finals.
From Italy, Spain, Switzerland and Chile, the allegations came. Not only was the refereeing system criticized, by FIFA's disciplinary committee came in for a hammering. Some teams also were accused of dirty play and the West Germans, in particular, came in for some criticism for

Williams Wanted To Finish With Team He Started

NEW YORK (UPI) — Now that Ted Williams is in the Hall of Fame, it's time to blow the whistle on him by disclosing two of his deepest secrets.
They merely prove that here's one man who always puts his word and his pride far above money or anything else.
The story of how the Red Sox and Yankees actually traded Williams for Joe DeMaggio one night in 1948 and then called the whole thing off next day is generally known now.
But the fact that Williams was offered his same regular contract by the Yankees just to pinch hit for them in 1961 after he retired from the Red Sox is not generally known because he didn't go around blabbing about it.
Nor did he ever go around talking about the two bona fide offers he had to manage the Detroit Tigers and another American League club, whose identity is best left guessed at because it probably would shake up the incumbent manager winning three games against crippled opposition.
Williams' offer from the Yankees came during the fall of 1960 after he had publicly announced he had played his last game with the Red Sox.
One day Yankee President Dan Topping happened to run into Fred Corcoran, Ted's, long-time friend and personal manager, and the conversation got around to Williams.
"You know," said Topping. "I've always admired the guy and I tried to get him once from Boston in 1948. Do you think he'd come with us now, just to pinch hit? That's all he'd have to do, nothing else. And I'll pay him the same thing Boston did."
"I'll have to ask him," said Corcoran.
So he did and Williams' answer was a quick, definite no.
"I started with Tom Yawkey and finished with him," declared the strong-willed left-handed slugger. "He treated me great. I'd never play for anyone else. But the next time you see him, I wish you'd thank Dan Topping for me."
It was right around that time also that the Tigers and that other AL club were looking around for a manager, but Williams rejected both bids.
"Thanks a lot," he told the people who contacted him, "but I wouldn't make a good manager."
Curiously, that was virtually the same thing Di Maggio said when newsmen asked him if he was interested in managing after he quit playing for the Yankees.
"It's tough enough trying to manage myself," declared Di Maggio. "I wouldn't want to try managing 25 others."
Not so much the pitchers, but the other players miss not having Williams around. They always felt free to go to him and ask for batting tips. Occasionally, even the pitchers would come to him for advice.
Ralph Terry, then with the Yankees and now with the A's, once did, telling Williams he was having trouble getting the hitters out. Ted told him to try developing a slider.

$24,000 Found In Lema Parcel

MUNSTER, Ind. (UPI) — Investigators found about $24,000, including a bundle of British pound notes, Tuesday in the luggage of golfer Tony Lema, who was killed Sunday in the crash of a small plane.
Some $20,000 was in checks dated from June to mid-July and included some from a number of tournaments, according to Dr. Albert Willardo, Lake County deputy coroner. The remainder was in British pound notes, which Willardo said Lema may have earned in a British Open.
The money was intact despite the flames that swept the cockpit.
Funeral services were scheduled in San Leandro, Calif., today for Lema and his wife, Betty. Services were being held in Joliet, Ill., for the pilot, Mrs. Doris Mullen, and at Beaverville, Ill., for the co-pilot, Dr. George Bard.
Investigators went through the wreckage piece-by-piece to try to determine what caused the Beechcraft Bonanza to crash on the Lansing Sportsman's Club golf course.
RESUMING OLD FEUD
CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs and White Sox said they would resume their spring baseball feud next April with a four-game series starting at Dallas-Fort Worth on April 6. It will be the first meeting of the two clubs since 1961.

The Lighter Side

BY DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Most historical shrines and monuments don't do much of anything except attract sight-seers. The rest of the time they just sort of stand there taking up space.

Two notable exceptions are the White House and the U.S. Capitol, both of which serve practical as well as symbolic purposes.

The White House, for instance, can be used for wedding receptions and the capitol provides a workshop for Congress.

Occasionally these dual functions come into conflict, as in the current controversy over plans to revise and extend the Capitol's west front.

Those who favor the project point out that it would give our lawmakers more working room. Those opposed contend that the extension would mar the historic character of the building.

Prominent among the latter group is Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., a New Jersey Democrat who sometimes takes a jocular approach to burning issues.

At a House subcommittee hearing this week, Thompson waggishly reported that the west front project was part of a master plan developed by a secret organization called the Society for the Prevention of Obsolescence in Important Landmarks (SPOIL).

The next step, he said, would be to remove the Capitol dome and put it on top of D.C. Stadium so that the Washington Senators would have an all-weather baseball field like the Astrodome in Houston.

After that, Thompson continued, spoil plans to start work on other national monuments to make them more useful. The projects he listed include:

—Adding windows and fire-escapes to the Washington monument to convert it into "a tall, thin office building."

—Putting doors on the front of the Lincoln Memorial so that the side walls can be used for handball courts.

—Converting the Statue of Liberty's arms to low-income housing.

—Building steps and handrails on Plymouth Rock to make future landings safer.

—Outfitting the "old faithful" geyser in Yellowstone National Park with pipes and nozzles for use as an automatic carwash.

Thompson did not say what plans SPOIL had in mind for the Jefferson Memorial, but I think I can provide a clue.

The late Frank Lloyd Wright once commented that the design of the Jefferson Memorial was ideally suited for a "public comfort station." So all it needs to become utilitarian is a little plumbing.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says it is not surprising the market has returned to its traditional summer vacation doldrums in view of the many problems that have faced it in recent months, including high interest rates, the war in Viet Nam and another sterling crisis. Since there is no quick solution apparent in these situations it is reasonable, he says, that traders should rest until a new direction is shown.

Bache & Co. feels that the influx of improved earnings has lightened the cloud hanging over the market but that confusion still remains regarding Viet Nam, the economy, inflationary pressures and the monetary problem.

Thomson & McKinnon says the market continues in the doldrums, reflecting the increasing seriousness of the Viet Nam war and British economic difficulties. The company also notes the growing feeling that the present rate of capital expansion, if left alone, might eventually cause recession resulting from widespread industrial over capacity.
