Gerber 4-Club Bid Originator Here for Tourney

John Gerber of Houston, originator of the Gerber 4-Club Bid, is in Pampa for competition play in the Pairs Event this afternoon at the Top O' Texas Regional Duplicate Bridge Tournament.

His willingness to explain how one can effectively use the Gerber Bid was evidenced at Coronado Inn Saturday afternoon as he took time out to talk with a novice player who became lost in a maze of rules regulating the bid.

Noting the perplexed look on the embryo bridge player's face, the national bridge champion said, "Simply, it's information gained at a lower level of bidding for a slam-minded person. It is a game of errors and we do not tolerate each other's errors. Even the world's best players make them. It's a question of who makes the least that determines the champions. But it is inferior players who end each session by yelling at each other."

The fascination of bridge has been going on for Gerber since 1920 and doubled in intensity when he entered tournament play in 1931.

He is an eight-time national champion; a three-time loser as captain of the United States International Team that lost in 1962, '63 and '65; a former board director for the American Contract Bridge League; 1964 co-captain of the Women's World Bridge Olympiad.

These days, he doesn't participate too often in tournament play, which is one reason the Top O' Texas Regional Tournament players feel proud that he and his wife, (who is a non-player) chose to come to Pampa. Most of his time now is spent as writer and producer for the Charles H. Goren radio show.

Pampa Barbers Claim Charges Are Not True

Approximately 20 Pampa barbers, members of the Texas Barbers' Association, met Friday night to further discuss charges of a local barber that he had been persecuted by the State Board of Barber Examiners for refusing to raise his prices.

The meeting was the outgrowth of an out-of-town newspaper article reporting claims of Marshall Johnson, who operates a barber shop at 1824 N. Hobart, that he was "unjustly treated" by an inspector of the state board, Johnson was not present at the meeting.

The barbers said they felt Johnson's charges unjustly pictures the barbering profession in Pampa.

Johnson has been informed he must appear before the state board in Austin on Aug. 8 to answer charges of alleged sanitary violations while operating his shop.

At the meeting, Charlie Wilkerson, operator of the Coronado Inn Barber Shop, who presided, said Edmund Tobola, president of the state board, informed him the board was not interested in charges of "price fixing." Instead, it was concerned with sanitary violations, he said.

Wilkerson stated Tobola also assured him there was no harassment against Johnson. The board president stated "secret agents" were not used in its investigations.

Wilkerson added that Tobola told him Johnson had been found in violation of sanitary procedures, and the board would consider the case at the Aug. 8 meeting.

Wilkerson said Johnson's claims were "flat out lies" (barbers' charges about price fixing). He said Johnson's charges about price fixing imply that Pampa, one of the (See BARBERS, Page 3)

President 'Opens Up' In Three-State Tour

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WITH JOHNSON IN THE MIDWEST (UPI) — President Johnson, barnstorming the Midwest, Saturday night accused the most severe critics of his Viet Nam policies of blindness toward Communist aggression and atrocities.

The President opened up with the heaviest artillery of a fast-and-furious three-state tour in his seventh speech of the day at Vincennes, Ind.

Johnson said that the "men who are exercising their right to dissent" against U.S. actions have ignored the Red transgressions in Southeast Asia.

With one of those critics—Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., sitting on the platform nearby, Johnson launched into a vigorous reply to those who demand that U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam cease and that this country come to terms immediately to get out of the war in Viet Nam.

"Why don't we talk about both sides sitting down—and your President is ready," Johnson said. "But just could it be that the other side has made some mistakes, too?"

He said that while there are loud outcries against the U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam, "we haven't bombed any embassies in Hanoi—but they have bombed our embassy."

U.S. planes have not bombed any North Vietnamese hospitals, he said, but the Communists had bombed a U.S. hospital at Da Nang within the last day.

Johnson took off the gloves as he neared the end of a hectic day in which he spoke before a crowd of 42,000 in Indianapolis Monument Circle, inspected 6,000 battle-ready troops in a driving rain at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and then opened up as he signaled the opening of an

Montgomery Clift Dies in New York
NEW YORK (UPI) — Movie star Montgomery Clift died late Saturday in his East Side townhouse.
He was 45.
The actor was pronounced dead by a private doctor.
Police said the death was apparently from natural causes.

Fourth Victim Is Shot To Death In Cleveland Riots

CLEVELAND (UPI) — With a double shotgun blast in the face, a Negro was gunned-down by white men Saturday in the fourth death in Cleveland's riot-torn East Side slums. Weary police and National Guardsmen concentrated forces between Negro and Italian neighborhoods to prevent possible interracial war.

On orders of city safety Director John McCormick, police imposed the most rigid security precautions yet on the predominantly Negro Hough area, torn week-long by bullets and firebombs.

By nightfall, police and military patrols — bracing for a possible explosion between Negroes and whites — reported no major disturbances.

Newsmen, who until now could pass through National Guard and police barricades by showing their press credentials, were prevented from entering the riot zone unless they had a special pass signed by McCormick.

The head of the Cleveland NAACP called for more troops as the only way to end the violence. He said the rioting was "really getting out of hand."

"It appears the riots have spread from the hands of those trying to get a message across to the city administration that they have been oppressed and into the hands of people trying to protect the white power structure," said the Rev. Donald G. Jacobs, president of the local NAACP.

Airline Strike In Its Sixteenth Day

TOUGH LOOKING STOCK — A couple of cowboys are shown eyeing bucking stock to be used in the 22nd annual Top O' Texas Rodeo which kicks off Wednesday. The 40 wild horses were unloaded last week at Moody Farms feed lot, 15 miles east of Pampa, where they will rest and eat until rodeo time at 8 p.m. Tooter Henry, left, and B. M. Rogers, employees of Moody Farms, said the horses are some of the best looking rodeo stock in the business and will probably give the nation's top cowboys a pretty tough time. The rodeo will last through Saturday with a Kid Pony Show slated Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Philippines Consul Says Nurse In Speck Case Held Incommunicado

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Philippines consul-general charged Saturday that Filipino nurse Corazon Amurao, sole survivor of the massacre of eight students nurses, was "being kept incommunicado" by Chicago authorities waiting to try Richard Speck for the slayings.

Miss Amurao, her mother, who flew to Chicago from the Philippines, and a male cousin, who also came here from the islands, have been lodged in the South Chicago Community Hospital, presumably until the 23-year old nurse is called before grand jury.

Consul-general Generoso Provido said he has been refused permission to see them. He accused authorities of barring him from "conversing and arranging for legal representation for Miss Amurao."

Rodeo Tickets To Go On Sale In City Monday

General admission and reserved seats for the 22nd annual Top O' Texas Rodeo go on sale at 8 a.m. tomorrow in Rodeo Headquarters in the Hughes Building.

More general admission seats are being provided this year for those wanting to go early, while the reserved section is being reduced. Sections A and B on the west side and Section D on the east side still will be reserved. There will be about 4,000 general admission seats available.

Reservations will be taken by telephone, at the Chamber of Commerce office, or by writing Box 1942.

Admission is free to the Kid Pony Show with performances at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Top O' Texas Rodeo Parade Wednesday afternoon will signal the official start of Rodeo Week in Pampa. Assembling at 2:30 p.m. west of Coronado Center, the parade will get underway from the Center at 3 p.m. proceed south on Hobart to Ward, south on Ward to Browning, East on Browning to Cuyler, south to Cuyler to Craven, where it will disband.

The Pampa High School Rodeo Band, Amarillo Air Force Band and Johnny Lee Willis' Western Swing Band are among the musical organizations providing marching tempos.

Cy Taillon of Denver, Colo., popular rodeo announcer, will be on hand to describe all rodeo events beginning at 8 o'clock Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Miss Molly Bee, television star, will arrive in Pampa late Tuesday in time for rehearsal with the Johnny Lee Willis' Western Swing Band. She will appear nightly at the rodeo and later at rodeo dances in the National Guard Armory.

Top-notch cowboys will register Tuesday at rodeo headquarters for the RCA approved rodeo, produced by Bueller Brothers of Elk City, Okla. They will be vying for a $3,800 purse plus all entry fees in contests, including calf roping, saddle broncs, bareback broncs, bull riding and steer wrestling.

GOODNIGHT — Jutting out of Texas soil, surrounded by scrubby grass and mesquite, a memorial site was completed last week in a small cemetery near the town of Goodnight.

It is a tribute to the life of Colonel Charles Goodnight and his wife, Mary, erected by the request of the late M. K. Brown, Pampa philanthropist, humanitarian and an English-born gentleman, who had great admiration for the rugged Texas individualist with whom he was associated in business and friendship.

Of his association with Charles and Mary Goodnight, Brown wrote these words before his death on Sept. 10, 1964, and requested they be etched in stone for future generations to see and read:

"Together they conquered a new land and performed a duty to man and God. He was a trail blazer and an Indian Scout. She was a home-loving woman. Together they built a home in the Palo Duro Canyon in 1876. They developed the cattle industry. They fathered higher education and civic enterprises. To them the Panhandle pays reverent and grateful tribute."

As a young man, not too many years removed from residence in London, England, Brown came to know the Goodnight family while working as assistant to T. D. Hobart, who was, at that time, manager of the JA Ranch and the White Deer Land Company. It was, perhaps, at this time, Brown began to plant his roots deep in the soil of his adopted homeland and state. It was then, perhaps, too, that his love affair with West Texas began. . . a love affair that lasted to the grave and is still making itself evident today in bequests being carried out by the

M. K. Brown Foundation. Last Thursday afternoon, four descendants of the Goodnight family paid a visit to the memorial site: Mrs. Mae Shaver of Clarendon, Mrs. Mildred Martin of El Reno, Okla., Mrs. Bob (Ruth) Word and daughter, Elizabeth, both of Vernon.

The late afternoon sun, dipping into the western horizon, still fully struck the memorial marker. Reverently, they viewed the 20 by 40-foot site, now covered with sparkling-white gravel and enclosed with a three-foot cyclone fence. Within the enclosure are the two headstones marking the final resting place of Charles and Mary Goodnight; other headstones designate graves of other members of the immediate family. In the center, backed with a towering Yucca plant, stands the stately memorial stone with the fitting inscription written by M. K. Brown. Small artificial evergreens and pots of artificial flowers, vivid in color, are placed at intervals between the gravemarkers. . . hardy decorations that can withstand hot winds and heavy snows that are to come. The sun never leaves the memorial marker. . . from (See GOODNIGHT, Page 3)

Band Directors Attending Clinic

Three Pampa band directors are attending a two-day marching band clinic, which ends today, at West Texas State University in Canyon with William C. Moffit, director of the Michigan State University marching band, as clinician.

The three directors are Harris Brinson, Pampa High School; Joe DiCosimo, Robert E. Lee Junior High; and Jeff Doughton, Pampa Junior High.

"This will be Moffit's only appearance in Texas this year," Brinson said. Moffit conducts other clinics across the nation during the summer. At the West Texas clinic Moffit will discuss a new slant on the technique of precision marching. Brinson stated, with the topic of "Patterns of Motion" it will include planning of half-time shows, charting and selection of music.

Moffit has written several books on bands and "has become quite famous," Brinson said.

The clinic attracted band directors from the tri-state region. It's being conducted simultaneously with the 14th annual West Texas Music Camp for band students.

At the music camp, which began last Sunday and will end Friday, band members from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado are studying band classes, theory and music appreciation.

Sessions are also being held for stage band, solo and ensemble instruments. A series of planned recreation is being presented during the nights.

The students are staying in dormitories on the campus during the period of the music camp. Students from Pampa High School and the two junior highs are in attendance.

A band director's workshop is also slated. Directors may earn two hours of graduate credit for the workshop. It will feature a course in "The Concert Band" taught by James Matthews, director of bands at the University of Houston.

Desk and Derrick Club to Hear Gilmore Monday

The big gamble of trying to find oil in the ground will be explained to the Pampa Desk and Derrick Club by Charles P. Gilmore Jr., Secretary and Treasurer of the Yucca Petroleum Company at 7 p.m. Monday during their monthly meeting at the Coronado Inn.

Gilmore will share a make believe venture into wildcatting for oil with his audience during a presentation of "The Oil Game." Everyone present will see how much money he would make or lose by seeking oil in unproved areas.

Presentation of "The Oil Game" is sponsored by the Oil Information Committee of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The visual-supported speech is based on actual oil industry averages. It was created to clear up misunderstandings about the risk element in hunting for oil, how percentage depletion really works and the oil industry's true profit picture.

Panhandle Water District News

By FELIX RYALS
For the past several years, residents in the Panhandle Area of Texas, have been reading numerous articles about the plight of the northeastern seaboard states as regards to their critical water situation. They were not aware of their situation until several severe drought periods hit the area.

Recently I had the opportunity to observe their plight first hand. I had the good fortune to attend the Lions International Convention from July 5th through July 9th in New York City. These signs were asking the people to not use water to water their lawns or to wash their cars. When we arrived announcements were being made through news media that the crisis had been passed and that everyone could return to the normal use of water.

There was and still is a water shortage in the New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland area. This seems strange when so much water is in sight throughout the area. The shortage is in the usable water. On July 7 my wife and I, along with Joe Tooley and his wife of Pampana, went on one of the boat tours around Manhattan Island. We took a number of pictures of famous sites around the island and in the Hudson River. We really got a thrill when we passed the Statue of Liberty in the Harbor. It is certainly a wonderful and glorious site.

The Hudson River from upstate New York cuts through New York City. Newspaper accounts of the polluted condition of the Hudson River have certainly not been exaggerated. All one had to do to certify this condition was to look down at the water as the ferry boat tour glided along. Filth of all descriptions was floating down the river. It carried so much filth that the water was a dark murky green. It is a shame and disgrace to treat water the way New Yorkers have treated this once beautiful clean river that was long regarded as one of the most scenic in America and of the entire world.

Undoubtedly there must be thousands of fine far-seeing people in a city as large as New York City. Thinking of what the City could be I felt nauseated at what it has come to be. My impression may be wrong—I may be prejudiced in favor of the Texas Panhandle and its people—but I got the distinct feeling that New York City has become little more than a parasite living off the rest of the country. Its politicians seem to be more interested in garnering the block votes of the minority groups there than they are in doing something about their water situation.

Leaving New York City by bus—the airlines were on strike on the morning of July 9, we traveled down through New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Washington, D.C. and Virginia to Durham, North Carolina.

On the journey down from New York City to Durham, we passed many sights of historical interest. I never fail to get a thrill—the spine-tickling type—when I see the Washington Monument, Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, the National Capitol and the whole city of Richmond, Virginia.

While in Durham, North Carolina, visiting C. A. Christy, we were taken on a tour of the "Research Triangle" that has come into being under the guidance of former Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges, who is also a former governor of North Carolina. The "Research Triangle" is located near Duke University, between Durham and Raleigh; Charlotte, nearby, forms the other corner of the "Triangle".

39TH YEAR

Ranchers Warm Up to Branding

LUBBOCK — There's a new way of branding cattle out in the Old West — and the resulting brands are snow white instead of singed brown or black.

The difference: cold branding irons instead of hot ones.

Super-cold branding, known to scientists as "cryo-branding," was first developed by Washington State University. Increasing numbers of ranchers are beginning to look at it as a new way to mark their cattle.

The new method may take some of the romance out of the traditional picture of cattle branding, but it has some major advantages. It is almost pain-free. It damages the animal's hide much less and it causes white hair to grow in the brand area.

Until the new method was developed, branding had gone virtually unchanged from the days when the West was a vast, unfenced range. Branding irons were heated cherry-red, then jabbed against the animal's hide until they seared a rancher's particular design into it.

Even the branding "iron" is gone with the new method. Instead, the "iron" is made of copper, selected because of its high heat-transfer qualities.

To prepare for the new kind of branding, a rancher clips the hair from the area to be branded and soaks the clipped hide in a 95 per cent ethyl alcohol solution. Then the heavy copper "iron," chilled in dry-ice alcohol, is touched to the hide for about 40 seconds.

That's all there is to it. Within about 20 seconds a stubby patch of white hair appears wherever the branding "iron" touched.

Scientists say this hair appears to be permanently white, with new white hairs growing in the brand area each time the animal sheds, because pigments-producing cells are unable to return to the hair follicles under the brand.

Animals branded this way feel no pain and can scamper off right after the branding, with no ugly lurn to heal over.

And ranchers who use the new method can easily spot their cattle from a distance because the white brand shows up so well.

Young Texan Makes Mark In Livestock

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Skip Barnett, 17, of Krum, Tex., who has amassed a net personal worth of more than $100,000 in the livestock business with his father, is the Outstanding Young Cattleman of Texas.

Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Barnett, was cited Thursday at the 38th annual state convention of the Future Farmers of America.

Barnett was also honored as Lone Star Farmer of Texas.

George Johnson of Idalou, Tex., was named Star American Farmer of Texas. He is married and attends Texas Tech besides running his 160-acre farm and farming another 606 acres. He is the father of a 2-year-old son.

John Lester of Azle was recognized as Star Crop Farmer of Texas and Taylor Strawn of Howe won the Star Chapter Farm award. Mike Davis of Huntsville was named Star Livestock Farmer and Richard Paul Watson of Sulphur Springs was named Star Dairy Farmer.

Eight Texas FFA chapters got special recognition from the national association for outstanding and well balanced programs of vocational agriculture and other activities.

The chapters honored were from Weatherford, Nacogdoches, Tatum, Carrizo Springs, Pleasanton, Joaquin, Avoca and Zavala.

Other individual awards: Joe Kinnard of Sherman, soil and water conservation; Dwight Marris of Nacogdoches, farm forestry; John Weaver of Zavala, poultry farming; Edward Vajdak of Snook, electricity;

Soil erosion is costing us in the United States around 4 billion dollars a year. Four billion dollars in wasted soil, railroad and highway damage, flood damage, abandonment of farms, crop and livestock losses, reduced reservoir capacity, and other damages. We are losing more than 4 billion tons of soil by erosion from our farm, ranch and forest lands each year.

When Captain John Smith landed in Virginia in 1607, each of the 800,000 Indians who inhabited this country had 2,400 acres of land at his disposal. Today, with a population of over 182 million, we have less than 11 acres apiece. Of these, not quite 2½ are cropland; the rest are forest, grazing land and desert,

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County has been designated a drought disaster County. This means those acres still remaining in the old Soil Bank program can be grazed. However, earned payments will be reduced by $1.10 per acre per month grazed. Should the owner let the second party lease the grass the most that can be charged is 150 percent of his initial cost of taking it out of the program temporarily. This would mean the most that could be charged is $1.65 per month. This sounds a little high but a farmer or rancher can take out as few or as many acres as he so desires. With such an abundant reserve of grass on some of our soil bank land, it would be a good idea to concentrate larger numbers on fewer acres. It would not be of any benefit whatsoever if you should stock at the normal rate of 15-20 acres per animal unit.

If you still have that stinky bug on your Mimosa trees blast them with a heavy dose of Malathion; spray a wide area around your tree as well.

One Market Tab For Egg Prices

The Texas Department of Agriculture's Marketing Division will publish a new one-market egg price-report beginning July 19, according to Commissioner John C. White. Formerly, quotations from six separate Texas egg market areas were used in reporting egg prices.

"The advantage of the new policy," Commissioner White said, "is that the single state-wide price quotation for each grade represents a true market for the state, so the information is more useful to producers and buyers alike."

"Better transportation facilities and better communication within the egg industry have virtually equalized prices in the various egg-producing areas."

Shanghai, Communist China's most populous city, has a population of almost seven million.

Cheapest car of all time was the Ford Model T, which could be bought for $295, in 1923.

Race Riots Have More Than One Thing in Common

By JACK V. FOX

Negro riots have flared this month in two major American cities and smaller but ominous race violence has exploded like a string of firecrackers in six others over the same period. A strain of similitude runs through all of them.

They bore these traits in common:—Almost all started with some relatively inconsequential disturbance.

—The real trouble mostly began when police intervened.

—Young Negro men, most of them teenagers, made up by far the majority of the violent troublemakers.

—Gangs were prominently involved.

—Once started, the riots were joined by looters and the points of violence jumped from one neighborhood to another, blocks away like sparks from a forest fire.

There was a marked dissimilarity to the terrifying riot in the Watts section of Los Angeles last year which took 43 lives.

Then, there were screams of "set whites" and "burn, baby burn" with such an outpouring of race hatred that a white man was asking to be killed or maimed simply by going near the area.

As in Los Angeles, National Guardsmen had to be called out in Chicago and Cleveland. Street clashes with police in the two cities left five persons dead, scores injured, hundreds jailed and property damage estimated at more than $3 million.

There were also short-lived but violent outbreaks in New York, Des Moines, Omaha, San Francisco and South Bend, Ind., and in one southern city Jacksonville, Fla.

In New York Thursday night, white youths clashed with Negroes in a predominantly Italian-American Brooklyn neighborhood. It turned into New York's worst racial outbreak since the Harlem riots of 1964.

An 11-year-old Negro boy was shot to death by an unknown sniper and 10 policemen were hurt when pelted by bricks and other objects.

Police quickly quelled the trouble, bantering casually with knots of people milling about as they worked to break the tension. But more trouble was threatened for the weekend.

A United Press International cameraman in Cleveland ran across one small group of Negroes shouting: "Black power, black power." They started to turn on him, but he was hustled away to safety in an automobile by other Negroes. It was the only reported incident of the "black power" theme in Cleveland.

Outbreak Spreads Quickly
The Cleveland outbreak began when a Negro was refused a drink of water in a white-owned bar on Monday night. It spread wildly and looters began breaking into and burning business stores, the vast majority of them Negro owned. "This just doesn't make a bit of sense to me," said Sgt. John Eldridge, one of the National Guardsmen on duty. "These people are burning and destroying their own property."

Within hours, looters were selling bottles of liquor and other booty. A suede jacket went for $10, a watch for 25 cents. A reporter came across two young boys collecting soda pop bottles.

"What are you going to do with those bottles?" she asked. "I'm going to get me a cop with mine," one boy replied. The other tugged at the reporter's hand and beamed up at her. "I'm going to get two cents for mine."

The head of the Cleveland chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) blamed the rioting in part on the police.

It began July 10, touched off when police stopped water streaming over Negro children, from a street fire hydrant in the West Side Negro section.

The first of the month's flareups began in Omaha on the night of July 3 when police answered a caller complaining that fireworks were being set off in a large parking lot a favorite meeting place for youths on the North Side.

Bricks, rocks and bottles were thrown and over the next two nights store windows were smashed and there was considerable looting with crowds as big as 4,000 gathering. A contingent of 128 National Guardsmen were called into the area to restore order. Three policemen and six civilians were hurt, none seriously.

On July 1, in Des Moines, police tried to chase kids from Good Park, a city park near the heart of the town in a Negro area, after the closing time of 10:30 p.m. A crowd gathered and helmeted police were pelted. No one was injured. Twelve persons were arrested.

A crowd gathered in the Fillmore Negro area and the officer threatened to shoot anyone who came near him. A riot call was sounded and patrol cars converged. Shortly afterward fires were started with gasoline bombs and several small groups of Negroes shouted "kill whites" and "we'll burn the Fillmore."

The area was cordoned off and violence quickly quashed.

The next night, in South Bend, Ind., white youths attending a racially mixed dance reported their auto tires had been slashed. When police arrived and made several arrests, a Negro crowd assembled and began taunting police, hurling rocks at them and at passing automobiles. Seven persons were injured, including one policeman.

New York has been simmering all summer. On July 13, Puerto Rican youths in Brooklyn invaded a Negro area and began beating up smaller groups of Negroes. Police and the tactical patrol force broke up the violence within an hour.

Coney Island also was the scene of brief skirmishes in the beach and boardwalk areas between Negroes and whites.

There was also violence in Jacksonville early in the week following a march on the City

Name Change May Help In Secretary Shortage

By PRESTON MCGRAW
United Press International
DALLAS (UPI)—Elmer L. Winter, who hires 150,000 secretaries, typists and bookkeepers and is looking for 50,000 more, believes that the national secretarial shortage might be helped by calling a secretary something else.

"I like administrative assistant," provided she can measure up to it," Winter said in an interview. "It will be a combination of salary and delegation of responsibility. She will have to earn the additional responsibility."

Winter, of Milwaukee, Wis., is president of Manpower, Inc., which supplies temporary office help to businessmen. It is a big business, Manpower, Inc., grossed $100 million last year.

Winter said the secretarial shortage is caused by raising the pay of women in other fields—teaching, social service, librarians. He prefers to call a secretary's boss "her executive." But in any case, he said, the boss is changing.

"There is a tendency now adays with the social revolution for executives to step out of executive suites and involve themselves more in the future," he said.

"As a secretary sees her executive get into community affairs—slum clearance, work with minority groups—she will become more involved," Winter said there will be more executive travel in the years ahead, much of it abroad. The secretary, whatever she is called, will have to learn about foreign conditions and foreign travel.

She also will have to learn about such modern business aids as the computer, although she will not necessarily have to operate one and may have a secretary of her own.

Winter's secretary—he has not yet learned to call her his "administrative assistant"—has a secretary of her own and, according to Winter, does little letter-taking and typing.

This increased knowledge may have to come from college. Winter believes that a secretary smart enough to hold a job with a corporation or business has the mental capacity to learn almost anything she wants.

Winter and his law partner, Aaron Scheinfeld, started Manpower, Inc., in 1948, when they had trouble getting temporary help to type a brief for the Supreme Court.

Their troubles were such that they checked four or five other businessmen to see whether temporary help was a problem to them. It was and Winter and Scheinfeld formed the company.

Drops Law Practice

Winter has long since given up law. Scheinfeld, living in Chicago, is chairman of the board of Manpower, Inc.

In recent months, Winter has been traveling about the country trying to enlist women to work for his company. He tells prospects, for instance, that modern women have the same drives to achieve as men.

And, in addition to that, he tells a prospect, especially if she is wary, that her husband may find her a more interesting wife if she goes to

Thundershowers Likely In Pampa

Pampans will have clear to partly cloudy skies through Sunday with scattered late afternoon and evening thundershowers.

Sunday's high should be in the mid-90's with winds light and variable, but gusting near thundershowers.

Saturday's high was 92; low, 70.

There's a 10 percent probability of showers Sunday and Sunday night.

WCC Condemns US Commitment

GENEVA (UPI) — U.S. churchmen joined Russians, Asians, Africans and Europeans Saturday to condemn "the massive and growing" American military commitment in Viet Nam.

Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, secretary general of the World Council of Churches WCC cut short "third world" moves for an even stronger statement by bringing the matter to a quick and final vote. Only a handful dissented in the showdown.

Twins Recovering From Transplant

DALLAS (UPI) — Parkland Hospital reported Saturday that the "kidney swap twins," Joyce and Janet Lindsey, are recovering steadily from their transplant operation Friday.

The 10-year-old twins were on a diet of ice cubes Saturday and looked forward to receiving new toys from a California toy manufacturer.

The operation, lasting six hours, involved removing a kidney from Janet and placing it in the body of Joyce. Doctors said Joyce could not survive without the new kidney. She has suffered from a kidney defect since birth.

LBJ 'Yaks' It Up Good on His Tour

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — President Johnson served notice Saturday that he was going to do plenty of talking as he started out on a three-state, eight-speech tour.

"We are going to have a busy, long, hot day," he told 42,000 persons in Indianapolis' Monument Circle.

"Someone pointed out that the English language has 400,000 words and by the end of today I should have used all of them."

RAG MOP

LONDON (UPI) — Charwoman Elizabeth Smart, 62, sued the company she worked for after the head of her mop fell off while cleaning up and she fell and broke her elbow.

Her case came up in court Friday and she took a mop to demonstrate to the judge that she could handle a mop and that the accident was the company's fault.

When the head of the mop fell off again, the judge dismissed her claim, saying she failed to prove her point.

Slammin' Sam Snead Reaches His 'Awkward' Age

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Sam Snead unfortunately has reached that awkward age. He has little in common with the young fellows and nothing at all with the old men.

At 54, Snead knows he's considerably past his golfing peak. He also knows others know it and, naturally, they talk about it. Most of all he knows the quickest way he could become cock of the walk again, at least temporarily, would be by winning a big one.

Like the PGA title, for which he's in fine position today with a one-under-par 139 total for 36 holes that makes him a one-stroke leader in the third round.

Snead has won the PGA championship three times previously, so winning it a fourth time is going to do little for his scrap book. But it would sure do wonders for his personal vanity.

Of Sambo isn't exactly what you would call extra sensitive about his age, certainly not the way he is about his hair-line which did a to-the-rear march a long time ago, but like the recurrent trouble he has with his putter, he knows the years are there.

Snead's awareness of the stage of life he has reached frequently creeps into his conversation and whether it's significant or not, his countless stories seem to center more and more around the days when he was a barefoot boy in the West Virginia hills.

He was, for example, talking about a shot he made in Thursday's opening round and once again the delicate subject of his decline sneaked into his conversation.

"The course played tougher Thursday," he drawled. "I remember hittin' a nine iron that day and I was over the hill."

There was a momentary pause and Snead suddenly realize what he had said.

"With my shot, I mean," he added, joining the others in the general laughter.

"Was that your first time over the hill?" someone kidded him.

"I've been over a million of 'em," he countered quickly.

There was another pause and then Snead said:

"I hate to admit it, but I'm afraid I'm on the other side."

Snead is competing in this championship with an injured left hip that he seems to be rather proud of. So proud, in fact, that he publicly displayed the injured hip for the benefit of the press after his opening round 68.

He talked about the injury some more following his second round 71, repeating that he had incurred it while making a shot last Saturday in the West Virginia open, "which I've won 10 or 12 times."

They asked him whether his hip hurt him any more or less during Friday's round and Snead merely shrugged.

"About the same," he answered. "Only way it's gonna get better is for me to quit."

"You know how much time I've had off from golf in the last 20 years?" he volunteered.

"Maybe two weeks, that's all. I can hardly remember the last time I wasn't swingin' a club somewhere."

As long as his legs can carry him and as long as they keep putting up good money for winning, Snead will keep trying.

It gets a little rough when you're 54, but what can you do? They won't let you turn back the clock. It's against the rules.

Geiberger Leads Golfers by Four

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—All over the punishing 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course.

The skinny swinger from Carlton Oaks, Calif., shot his first birdie of the day on the tough 500-yard, par five second hole to draw even with Snead and then passed him for good when old Sammy three-putted the 465-yard, par four sixth for the first of his three bogeys.

Old Sambo also had a disastrous double bogey.

If there was a key to the third round, it was Geiberger's utter consistency and the fact that Snead, understandably, became just plain tired.

Geiberger had two birdies, on the second and on the 14th, without a single bogey while Snead had three bogeys—one when he double-tapped a putt—that double bogey and no birdies.

Five strokes off, Geiberger's pace came little Gary Player and Don January with 213's. Player carded an even par 70 third round while January, who was only a stroke behind Snead starting Saturday's play, had a three over par 73.

Frank Beard with a 69 was at 214 along with Snead and Billy Farrell, who shot a 71.

From them, there was a gap of two strokes before four players who were tied at 216—U.S. Open champion Billy Casper with a third round 70, former U.S. Open king Julius Boros with a 75, Doug Sanders with a 73 and Jacky Cupit with a 73 all were at 216.

Gene Littler, another former U.S. Open champion and ex-PGA king Dow Finsterwald were at 217. Defending champion Dave Marr, with a two under par 68, was in a large group of players at 218.

Also at 218 were Ken Venturi, the 1964 Open champion; Bob Rosburg and Jay Hebert, former PGA titlists; Australian Bruce Devlin, Paul Harney and Billy Martindale.

Arnold Palmer with a 71—his best round of the tournament—was at 219 while at 221—13 strokes off the lead—was the favored Jack Nicklaus, who had a th rd round 75. Tony Lama also was in the 221 group.

Rebels Ramble Past Borger, 13-2 Saturday

Pampa, Dogs Meet In Today's Finals

By KON CROSS
News Sports Editor

Pampa and Borger meet at 2 p.m. today in Optimist Club Park for the championship of the Pampa American Legion baseball tournament.

Should Pampa lose, then a second game will follow immediately between the same two teams.

Borger advanced to the finals today with a 11-1 win over Canyon Saturday night after being beaten by Pampa 13-2 in the second game of a 3-game Saturday card.

Larry Stephens and Larry Jones provided the fireworks for Pampa Saturday driving in nine runs between them.

Dickie Henley went the distance for Pampa, allowing four hits, striking out 10 and walking two.

Connelly started for Borger, who had to borrow a Pampa player to start the game, and worked four innings and to five batters in the fifth.

He was touched for 10 runs on six hits and reliever Steve Pruitt gave up three runs on four hits.

The Bulldogs' borrowed Randy Harris from the Rebels to start the game and Harris came through with a single in two trips. His single in the second was the first hit off Henley.

Pampa wasted no time, scoring twice in the first when Achord opened with a single and, after two were out, Melberg walked and Stephens doubled both runners home.

The Rebels tallied three more runs in the third after two were out.

Foster reached first on an error, Molberg walked and both runners advanced on a passed ball. Stephens doubled again sending both men in. Larry Jones followed with a single to score Stephens.

Borger's two runs came in the fourth when Henley walked the leadoff batter and Terry Brewer poked the first pitch to him over the right centerfield fence.

Five more runs came across for Pampa in the fifth when Hyatt doubled and Foster and Molberg walked to load the bases.

Stephens was hit by a pitch to force in a run, his fifth of the night. Jones singled to drive in two more, Summers' single tallied one and Ronnie Sanders' sacrifice fly added the fifth run of the inning.

In the sixth Hyatt grounded out, Foster reached first on an error, Molberg singled and Stephens doubled scoring Foster with Molberg holding third. Jones grounded out and pinch-hitter Roy Harper singled in both runners to end the game.

KING'S ROW — These four big bats have been singing mightily for the Pampa Rebels this season. From left, Larry Jones, who drove in three runs Saturday in Pampa's 13-2 win over Borger, Gary Hyatt, who doubled, Larry Stephens, who hit three doubles and drove in six runs against the Bulldogs and Rick Foster, who tallied three times Saturday night.

Angels Trip NY Despite Grand Slam by Mantle

ANGELS 7, YANKS 6
NEW YORK (UPI)—Whitney Ford's wild throw on a bunt in the eighth inning Saturday allowed Rick Reichardt to score from first base and gave the California Angels a 7-6 victory over the New York Yankees despite a grand-slam homer by Mickey Mantle.

Reichardt led off the eighth with a single, and after Norm Siebern fanned, Willie Smith bunted. Nobody covered first on the play, and Ford instinctively threw to the rightfield corner. Reichardt kept running and scored easily.

Ray Oyler.

The game-winning blast climaxed a come-from-behind effort by the Indians who trailed 5-0 after the first two innings.

Cleveland rallied for two runs against starter Joe Sparma in the third to cut the Detroit lead and added two more runs in the sixth against Dave Wickersham to make it 5-4.

The winning pitcher was Luis Tiant, who came on in the seventh and blanked the Tigers the final three innings.

Saturday night and Jim Kaat scattered nine hits enroute to a 10 to 4 victory over the Boston Red Sox and his 14th win of the year.

The Twins parlayed five singles, including two bunts, and two walks into five runs to take a commanding 6 to 0 lead at the end of five innings.

The Sox touched Kaat for single tallies in the sixth and eighth, and two runs in the ninth, but the classy southpaw was in control all the way striking out seven and walking one.

Kaat now leads the American League in wins.

Phil's 8, Giants 0

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Curve-baller Jim Bunning, who specializes in knocking off the San Francisco Giants, allowed them only three singles Saturday in pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to an 8-0 victory backed by the unexpected home run power of Cookie Rojas and Tony Taylor.

The former Detroit Tigers ace lifted his lifetime mark against the Giants to 9-2 and now is 10-7 overall this season with three shutouts. His last win came on June 28 when he blanked the New York Mets, 1-0. Since then he had dropped three straight decisions.

Cards 4, Cubs 0

CHICAGO (UPI)—Winning pitcher Bob Gibson batted in one run and scored another himself Saturday in a 4-0 win for the St. Louis Cardinals over the last-place Chicago Cubs.

Gibson, winning his 12th game in 21 decisions, allowed only six hits for his fourth shutout. The victory extended the Cardinal winning streak to six games, their longest of the season.

Birds 5, Chisox 4

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Frank Robinson continued his assault on American League pitching Saturday night, clouting a three-run homer as the Baltimore Orioles increased their lead to 12½ games by edging the Chicago White Sox, 5-4.

The victory was the seventh in a row for the streaking Orioles.

Dodgers 6, Mets 2

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sandy Koufax, off his usual smooth form, turned in his 17th win of the season Saturday as the Los Angeles Dodgers punched out eight hits to end the New York Mets' seven-game winning streak, 6-2.

Koufax gave up eight hits, but managed to scatter them throughout the game. He struck out seven and walked five.

Reds, Braves Idle

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Rain forced postponement of Saturday night's scheduled game between the Cincinnati Reds and Atlanta Braves. It will be played as part of a doubleheader Sunday.

Sens 8, A's 1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Bary Moore, making his first major league start, pitched a three-hitter and Ken McMullen's bases-loaded double highlighted a five-run fourth inning Saturday that carried the Washington Senators to an 8-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Moore, a 23-year-old lefthander whose only previous major league experience was one inning of relief last year, was recalled this week from York in the Eastern League. He stymied the A's except for Danny Cater's fourth homer of the season in the fourth inning.

VFW Runs By Celanese 11-6

VFW scored early then held off a Celanese rally for a 11-6 win and the championship of the Pampa Little League tournament, Saturday night.

Richard Edminister won in second game of the tournament, giving up six hits, striking out 12 and walking three.

Marshall Gambelin took the loss, was touched for 11 hits, walked 13 and walked two.

Doug Thompson and Rex Thompson tallied three hits each for VFW while John Caruth and Gambelin had two hits each for the losers.

Doug Thompson hammered two home runs, a three run shot in the second and a solo blast in the fourth.

The winners scored three times in the first, five in the second and added singletons in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Celanese didn't score until the fourth, when one run came across but they scooted five more in the fifth.

Pennel Vaults 17-6 for Record

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—America's John Pennel established a new world's record of 17-6 1-4 in the pole vault Saturday to highlight the first day competition of the Los Angeles International Games at the Coliseum.

Pennel, the 25-year-old roommate of previous record holder Bob Seagren, cleared the height on his final try of the afternoon to better Seagren's mark of 17-5 1-2.

In the 100 meters event, America's Charlie Greene remained unbeaten in the short sprints by overtaking George Anderson to win in 10.4.

Greene, a University of Nebraska speedster, has not lost a race at 100 yards or 100 meters this season. He caught teammate Anderson in the final 10 yards as the United States swept the first four places in the event.

Groom's Roberts In Star Contest

HOUSTON (UPI)—Winning streaks will go on the line here Aug. 3-4 when the Texas High School Coaches Association's annual all-star football and basketball rivalries are renewed.

Groom's Jerry Roberts will play in the football game.

The South will be aiming for its fourth straight win when the 22nd all-star basketball game is unveiled Wednesday night, Aug. 3, in air-conditioned Sam Houston Coliseum.

But, the North will try to continue its recent domination of the all-star football games the following night in Rice Stadium. The North has won the last four games—and nine of the last 10.

All-stars representing the North lead both sports series—the football by an ever-widening 18-10.3 margin, and the basketball by a narrowing 12-9 margin.

The South has won only one all-star football game since 1953, and that came back in 1961 at San Antonio. A tie in the 1955 game at San Antonio is the South's only other measure of success in the last 13 games.

Basketball appeared to be in for just such a North continuance until the last three years. The North won seven out of eight games starting in 1955 until the underdog South bounced back 81-71 at Houston in 1963. The South upset the North in 1964 at Fort Worth and last year survived an overtime to win 87-81 in Dallas.

Crowd records in both sports have been set during the past two years. The top football crowd of 39,100 turned out at Fort Worth in 1964, then the 1965 basketball game at Dallas was 8,721. Until then, Houston had held the football record with 22,358 in football.

Teenager Conley Birdies Way to WWA Golf Title

CHICAGO (UPI)—Teenager Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash., birdied three of the final eight holes Saturday to win the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament 2 and 1 over Mrs. Barbara Fay Boddie, who sought a third straight title.

Miss Conley, a 19-year-old former national junior girls champion, was seven under par when she closed out the 36-hole match with a par at the 35th hole.

Bessie Anthony's feat of three straight beginning with the first tournament in 1901 has never been equalled.

La. shot six-under-par golf over the women's par-76 Barrington Country Club course in losing her bid to become the second winner of three straight WPGA titles.

It is time for a few gripes and time to set the record straight on a few matters, namely a new golf course, or the lack of one.
First Putt Powell, I do too stay on the fairway. I walk right down the middle of it before turning off into the rough.
Besides, how did you know?
I think it is pretty common knowledge that sports-writers do not have to pay to golf on their home course or courses, if the town they live in is lucky enough to have two.
The reason for this is they (the sportswriters) give good publicity to club functions and it is good public relations.
We were not trying to give the idea that we had to pay to play golf, which we haven't done for two summers, anyway.
We did make one mistake, regrettably, in giving the green fee at Pampa Country Club as $5. It is only $2 during the week and $4 on weekends.
We had one gentleman come in to tell us we were slightly off our rocker if we thought Pampa needed two golf courses. Then we had one fellow call and tell us we were never more right and he had two other guys who agreed with him.
It was pointed out to us that the average golf course per town is one for every 20,000 persons.
Frankly we feel this just doesn't hold water.
There are too many people who would play golf in Pampa if they had the opportunity.
We still stand firm in our belief that Pampa does need a municipal golf course.

We aren't griping, just bewildered about why it was almost impossible to get information on games played during the recent Little League tournament here.
All summer the managers turned in their game reports with out failure.
But come tournament time and two or three calls had to be made each morning to get the results.
It appears the annual Top O' Texas Softball tournament will not be played this year for lack of a field to play on.
Last year and I believe, the year before the Optimist Club was kind enough to let the softballers use Optimist Club Park.
But they tell us it can't be done this year for fear players would tear up the grass and a couple of fellows who say they have put in many man hours of work don't want to see it played on.
It's a shame such a good tournament has to be cancelled. Surely something can be worked out.

Invitations are being mailed out for the Top O' Texas Golf Tournament slated for September.
Although its still over a month off better start making plans now to attend. Some of the finest golfers in the country will be here.

Perryton parlayed six hits and five Groom errors for their 5-0 victory.
Jim Rorabaugh limited Groom to just four hits and struck out eight to gain the victory. Jim Britten took the loss, going four innings and giving up four runs on four hits.
McCoey led the Perryton hitting department with two singles and an RBI and Jerry Roberts slammed two singles to lead Groom.
Gary Molberg, making only his second start of the season, was in trouble several times, but reached back and got a little extra to pace the Rebels to their 5-0 victory over Canyon.
Molberg gave up just four hits, but walked five, enroute to his 13-strikeout performance.
Tom Lair took the loss, although he limited Pampa to six hits, fanned eight and walked two.

No Pampa player had over one hit but Rick Foster and Steve Summers, each poked a triple.
The Rebels came forth with two first inning runs on but one safety and a throwing error by Canyon catcher David Rossi.
After Achord grounded out of Hyatt walked and scored on Foster's triple. Foster scored when Rossi overthrew third base.
Another Pampa run came across in the second when Jones reached first on a fielder's choice, went to second on a passed ball and scored on a single by Ronnie Sanders.

Then the game settled into a pitcher's duel until the sixth when the Rebels tallied three more, this time on three singles.
Hyatt singled and was out on a force play by Foster. Molberg singled and went to second on a passed ball with Foster scoring. Stephens singled sending Molberg to third and the Pampa pitcher scored on a passed ball.
Molberg walked two batters in the first after one was out, but retired the next two on strikes. Two men singled in the third but were left stranded and the Pampa senior walked two batters in the fourth but struck out two to end the inning.
A walk and single put two men on in the seventh but Molberg again worked his way out of the jam.

Perry, Cash Star For Giants, Detroit

By United Press International
Gaylord Perry has made some additions that have resulted in big minus signs for the National League.
Perry reinforced his position as the major league's top percentage pitcher Friday night when he hurled a two-hit, 15 strikeout, 4-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies that left the Giants only two percentage points behind first place Pittsburgh.
New York blanked Los Angeles 3-0. Cincinnati stopped Atlanta 8-2. Houston downed Pittsburgh 5-2, and St. Louis whipped Chicago 9-4 in other National League action.

The Mets stretched their unbelievable winning streak to seven games, longest in their history, behind the eight-hit pitching of Bob Friend (3-1).
The Mets scored in the third on Ed Kranepool's single, a sacrifice and Ron Hunt's single.
Ron Swoboda's sixth home run of the year of Los Angeles Joser Calude Ostee (12-8) in the eighth scored Ed Bressoud who had walked.

First Hit A Homer
Winning pitcher Joe Hoerner socked a three run home run for his first big league hit as St. Louis won its fifth in a row.
Lou Brock, Curt Flood and Mike Shannon added homers with Shannon having a classic day going five-for-five against Chicago pitchers.
Run scoring doubles by Rusty Staub, Lee Maye and Bob Aspromonte and Ron Brand's RBI single gave Houston four runs in the first inning against league leading Pittsburgh as Larry Dierker went all the way to chalk up his sixth in 10 decisions. Pirate homers by Willie Stargell and Bob Bailey accounted for both Pittsburgh runs.
Doubles by Pete Rose and Leo Cardenas highlighted a six run sixth that led Cincinnati past Atlanta. The two Red infielders drove in five runs between them to assure Joe Nuxhall, who was making his first start since June 17, of his third win in five decisions. Don Schwall absorbed the loss, his third against four victories.
The Detroit Tigers, who couldn't buy a victory in six games, added a little more cash and came up with a winner.
The second-place Tigers, recovering from a three-game disaster in Baltimore, walloped Cleveland 10-5 Friday night as Norm Cash drove home six runs with a grand slam homer, a sacrifice fly and a walk with the bases loaded.

Elsewhere in the junior circuit, the Orioles topped Chicago 3-1, California whipped New York 6-4, Boston shaded Minnesota 6-3 in 11 innings and Kansas City downed Washington 7-2.
Jim Palmer, who gave up a Chicago run in the first on Floyd Robinson's single and Don Buford's double, allowed only four other hits in winning his 11th game in 15 decisions.
The amazing Angels took over third place by scoring two runs in the ninth to snap a 4-4 tie. Rick Reichardt tripled and Bob Rodgers, who had homered in the fourth, was intentionally passed. Tom Satriano followed with a long triple, scoring both runners and snapping New York's six-game winning streak.

Worst Is Last
The Red Sox collared four Minnesota pitchers for 16 hits but the last did the most damage. George Thomas singled in the 11th inning off Dwight Siebler to score Don Demeter, who opened the stanza with a single and went to second on George Scott's sacrifice. Tony Conigliaro walked a homer after one of Joe Foy's four hits for Boston.
Danny Cater drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a fielder's choice as the Athletics pinned the fifth straight loss on the last-place Senators. Jim Gosger also homered for Kansas City while Jim Nash, pitching only the first five innings, raised his record to 3-0.

Beyond the Guidelines

It is all but assured that a hike in the federal minimum wage will be enacted by Congress this session. But those who feel that Congress must establish a $1.60 minimum rate owe it to the country to seek their goal by means which add the least amount to inflationary pressures and throw as few marginal and beginning workers out of jobs as possible.

Present legislation as passed by the House would lift the minimum wage from $1.25 to $1.40 an hour in 1967 and provide for the final jump to $1.60 an hour 24 months later in 1969. This represents an annual rate of increase over the two year period amounting to 7.2 per cent. A proposed amendment to the bill would make the final jump to $1.60 in only 12 months—1968, an election year. That would amount to a 14.3 per cent increase in one year—more than four times the average rate of increase in the minimum wage over the past 15 years. If hope of political gain is a consideration behind this proposed amendment, it is a forlorn hope indeed—one can only imagine

A Matter of Principle

If pending proposals to expand size and weight limitations covering the Post Office Department's parcel post service are adopted, the result may well be catastrophic for private carriers.

In the case of one private company, the REA Express, the enactment of the proposal would divert up to 42 percent of the company's surface shipments, and mean a drop of 27 per cent, or over $120 million in its total revenues. If that should happen, then the government, in the opinion of the president of the company, must be prepared to offer a federal subsidy or nationalize the express company.

Some of the reasons why the private company would face a losing competitive battle against parcel post are significant because they show what

President Insists on Highest Priority for 'Demonstration Cities' Program To Start with 'Sleeper' $2.3 Billion Urban Redevelopment Bill

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's "demonstration cities" program could become the legislative sleeper of this session of Congress.

As approved by the House Banking and Currency Committee, the $2.3 billion urban development measure contains a little-noticed mandate designating the rebuilding of slums and blighted areas in the major cities as the government's highest priority domestic program.

The "declaration of policy," written into the legislation at the President's personal request, states, "The Congress hereby finds and declares that improving the quality of urban life is the most critical domestic problem facing the U.S."

Only support of the Viet Nam war will carry a higher administration priority.

The bill also authorizes Housing and Urban Development Secretary Robert Weaver to appoint federal "expeditors" for all major cities to direct and coordinate this massive rebuilding program.

Significance of these and other little-publicized provisions were highlighted during a White House strategy meeting at which the President chided his legislative leaders on the progress of the measure.

"Where is my legislative sleeper — the demonstration cities program?" he asked. "I need that mandate from Congress to tackle the biggest domestic problem this nation has faced since the depression."

When Speaker John McCormack, Mass., pointed out that the bill had been approved by the House Banking Committee and would be taken up on the House floor in August, the President replied: "We don't have a day to lose. That program has the administration's highest priority. The only way we are going to put an end to those riots and demonstrations is to get rid of the slums. Once you give me the authority, I will see that federal expeditors are appointed in all the major cities to push this rebuilding."

THE MARSHALL PLAN—The President told his legislative leaders, "The program will become one of the largest and most important domestic programs ever undertaken by the federal government," despite the administration's modest request for $2.3 billion to launch it.

"My advisers say that upward of $100 billion will eventually be needed to clear our cities of slums and blighted areas," declared the President. "This program is only a start. But we must begin some place and it must be this year."

He reported that already 60 cities have either submitted proposals for or expressed an interest in obtaining funds under the demonstration cities program.

In the individual cases of New York, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles, he said, each city's plan would require almost as much federal aid to finance as the total initial $2.3 billion administration request.

On hearing the President's report, one congressional leader turned to the others, remarking: "I now understand why the President refers to this program as his legislative sleeper. It's a Marshall Plan for our cities."

THE NEW AUTHORITY—As reported by the House Banking Committee, the administration's proposal authorizes the secretary of housing and urban development to make grants and provide technical assistance to "city demonstration agencies" for the planning and execution of "comprehensive city demonstration programs."

Section IV of the measure defines these as "programs to rebuild and restore entire sections and neighborhoods of slums and blighted areas through coordinated use of all available federal funds and local private government resources."

According to a study by the committee, "The magnitude of a city demonstration program becomes clear with the realization that there are federal aid programs in the fields of housing, urban renewal, transportation, education, welfare, economic opportunity and related areas."

It stresses that "these are typically administered by individual local agencies and would continue to be; but under demonstration programs they would be subject to coordination and overall direction by a new layer of government."

Another section gives the HUD secretary power to "qualify only those projects he finds would be of sufficient magnitude to accomplish its objectives, would contribute to creating a well-balanced city, serve the poor in the area, and would afford a choice of housing to all citizens."

CONGRESSIONAL FLASHES—A top Republican strategist in the House is advising his colleagues to be wary about making Viet Nam their main campaign issue. Representative Melvin Laird, Wis., is saying, "The President will make a major peace offer before the fall elections in order to play down the war issue." President Johnson is privately warning legislative leaders that he will call a special post-election session of Congress if his major proposals aren't passed before adjournment. Speaker McCormack, who is opposed to a lame-duck session, says that Congress can pass all of the President's "must" legislation by October 1 if members will stay on the job. This will leave enough time before the election for the necessary speeches, and handshaking, he adds. The Interior Department is preparing legislation on Indian affairs that will be the most important in 30 years. The Doctor Says:

No Sure Cure Known For Fingernail Problem
Q—All my fingernails crack clear down to the cuticle. What can I do about this?

A—This is a common complaint, especially in women. The cause is unknown, but it is usually worse in older persons than in the young. There is no sure cure. Several nail hardeners are available but they are of doubtful value. The same is true of special diets for this condition.

The best treatment is to cut your nails short to prevent their catching on various objects and when you do any manual labor.

Q—Is there any cure for a fungus infection of the nails?

A—Deep-seated fungus infections of the nails are admittedly hard to cure but a course of griseofulvin by mouth, combined with local applications of Advinol, should clear up the infection within three months unless the fungus is Candida (Monilia), in which case tetracycline phosphate with nystatin would be more effective.

Q—For many years I have had white spots on my fingernails. What causes them and how can I get rid of them?

A—These spots are due to imperfect development of the nails as they leave the growth center under the skin. This may be caused by injury to the matrix or to separation of the nail from the underlying nail bed. The condition is no threat to your health. No treatment is known but nail lacquer will mask the spots.

Q—What causes my toenails to become so hard I can't cut them? Is there any remedy for this?

A—The cause may be a hereditary trait, poor circulation due to wearing shoes that are too short, a fungus infection or psoriasis. Finding the cause is the first step toward treatment but at best a cure is likely to prove difficult.

Q—Which foods contain keratin, the substance that makes the nails strong?

A—Keratin is a hard protein that is found in skin, hair, nails and teeth. Your body makes its own supply—and various diets, advocated to lend your body a helping hand with this task, have been disappointing. By the same token, biting your nails and swallowing the pieces will not solve your problem.

Q—My doctor says I have erythrocytosis. What is it? Can it be cured?

A—This is sluggish circulation. It can cause cold hands and feet and it increases the likelihood of clots forming in your veins. Your doctor must discover the underlying cause before he can offer you anything more than symptomatic relief.

Confusion in Laws

(The Wall Street Journal)
The United States Supreme Court, it seems, has been under fire since the memory of man runneth not the contrary. The session recently concluded made no breach in the tradition.

That tradition got off to a good start when "Jay's Court" in 1793 allowed British creditors to sue the State of Georgia for property confiscated during the Revolution. Naturally, there was a dissenting opinion from a Justice, and a political row. One upshot was the 11th Amendment designed to clip the jurisdictional powers of the Court.

So it went through such controversial rulings as the Dred Scott decision, the "separate but equal" doctrine, the overturning of early New Deal legislation, and in later years with the reversal of "separate but equal" in the many civil rights cases and the shift to a generally permissive attitude toward Congressional statutes. A lull-balloo every time.

That should give the present Justices a certain resignation about the fire that has been directed at "Warren's Court." When the Justices can't agree among themselves what the law is—and they disagree with regularity—it's hardly surprising if ordinary people feel free to choose up sides, especially when the cases involve both emotion and philosophy.

But lately the Court has gotten involved in a different kind of controversy which the Justices ought to view with less resignation and more concern. Today the complaint—and it comes from lawyers as well as laymen—is directed not just at the Court's political philosophy but at its legal confusion.

There's hardly a lawyer who would dare say with confidence what "the law is"—i.e., what the Supreme Court will hold it to be tomorrow—on questions ranging from the complexities of business mergers to the peddling of pornography.

Take the latest decision limiting the powers of police in questioning suspects. No one quarrels with the Court's desire to protect accused persons from overreaching police. But this decision, coupled with previous ones, appears to make every policeman uncertain as to what he can and cannot do.

This is not just a layman's confusion. Four of the Justices disagreed, and in two dissenting opinions fired off stinging dissents in language that rebuked their five colleagues who outvoted them. A shift of one vote next time and the rules would be different.

QUESTION: "It was mostly businessmen who pledged their lives, fortunes and sacred honor to begin this nation. Businessmen brought us through wars and gave us the highest standard of living, yet businessmen are constantly maligned. What can be done to present an honest image of American businessmen?"

ANSWER: It is true that independent businessmen have had much to do with the great progress that America has enjoyed. Much can be credited to the fact that there was opportunity for an individual to enter business for himself and to compete with already established businesses. Opportunity, however, has declined as political intervention has grown and people appear to have lost faith in their ability to do for themselves.

The thing which can be done to present an honest image of businessmen under free enterprise, is for all businessmen to return to competitive enterprise and to avoid seeking special privilege from some political agency.

Seeking special monopoly privileges by way of licensing, tariffs, exclusive franchises, prohibitions against competition, zoning regulations, all serve to destroy competitive enterprise. When businessmen seek government help in establishing parking lots, when they seek to prevent sales by competitors from other areas, when they ask for subsidies from Urban Renewal, Small Business Administration, or other government agencies, they are not presenting an honest picture of free enterprise.

Each man who is willing to stand on his own two feet and is not willing to use the coercive forces of government—national, state or local—to gain advantage over his fellow men will present an honest image of competitive enterprise.

Among the consequences of this was that a week later the Court had to issue a clarifying opinion saying that the earlier opinion did not apply to criminal cases before a certain date, and implying also that perhaps the earlier decision didn't quite mean what it appeared to mean to those who read it.

Nor is this the only area in which the Court has managed to sow chaos in the law. In a series of decisions the Court seemed to be liberalizing its interpretation of what kind of published material can escape the ban on obscenity. Then in the past session it suddenly fell upon Ralph Ginzburg, upholding his jail sentence for publishing what is certainly no worse than other pornography readily and legally available in any book store.

Antitrust law may not be as emotion-arousing as the law on policemen or pornography but it can have just as far-reaching effects. And today, as any corporate lawyer can tell you, it is just as confused.

What has happened here, or so it seems to us, is that the judges have taken to making "ad hoc" decisions; that is, they are prone to pragmatic judgments on the case at hand without much regard for what has been decided before or what may be decided next session.

Presumably the rationalization for this is "justice" in each case. But the effect of it all is often to destroy anything in the way of a rule of law which men can understand beforehand and therefore use to govern their conduct. The result can be the worst injustice.

Book publishers, serious ones as well as smut peddlers, cannot know what the rules are. A policeman making an arrest at the scene of a crime is uncertain whether yesterday's correct procedure may not be ruled illegal tomorrow. A lawyer does not know how to advise his client in the conduct of his business affairs.

In the hoary phrase we are supposed to have a government "of law, not of men." This does not mean that the law is an abstraction or that it is not made by men. What it does mean is that no man is above the law, and that when any man comes to the bar of justice his right to be judged by a known set of laws and not by the passing judgment of the particular judges of the moment as to what the law is.

This is the case today in most of the areas of law, and unfortunately are we that it is so. But there does seem to be much truth in the criticism that in many areas the nation's supreme judicial body is giving the law not order but confusion.

And this ought to give concern to the judges, even if criticism of their philosophy does not. In a good society bad laws are never happily tolerated, but uncertain law is intolerable.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE TAKES A DRUBBING (Chicago Tribune)

The Johnson administration has marshaled its heavy Democratic majority to push legislation through the House to keep its Post Office department in business at the probable cost of putting a competing private operation out of business.

The bill increases the size and weight of parcel post packages which can be mailed through the Post Office, and also raises the costs on parcels and other material. Objectors said that the bill sought to grab 42 per cent of the business now going to the Railway Express Agency, a private freight handler.

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien and his bureaucracy tried to meet this complaint by saying that, even if R. E. A. goes under, the Post Office department will take on the agency's 3,000 employees and 40,000 or more railroad employees faced with loss of their jobs. This is the equivalent of an admission that the R. E. A. has been sentenced to death.

The Post Office department's position was that it is in a fight for self-preservation. Under existing statutes, the department cannot draw Treasury funds appropriated to it if parcel post revenues and costs vary by more than 4 per cent. At present the parcel post operation produces a deficit of 107 million dollars a year.

In 1963 Congress voted a three-year waiver of the 4 per cent requirement, but the moratorium ran out July 1. In these circumstances, the solution of O'Brien and his party supporters is to take enough business to break a private competitor which meets its own payroll and pays taxes on any profits from its service. Thus the socialist wave rolls on.

What Is Your Credit IQ? Many Factors Considered

EDITOR'S NOTE: In belief that credit — springboard to material wealth not heretofore known in the world — has facets which its granters and users fail to consider. The News here publishes the third in a weekly series of articles prepared by Wynne Veale, manager of the Credit Bureau of Pampa.

By WYNNE VEALE
Many people have had credit accounts opened without any investigation into their credit history at all, but don't be misled. Department store credit runs on a month to month basis. It can be stopped quickly if you don't pay. A prompt payment of past bills isn't harmful, but don't count on it to the exclusion of other factors. A good record on auto payments is usually discounted because a car is an absolute necessity to most people. And if you do fail to pay, the car can be repossessed. The same is true of loans secured by household furnishings or appliances. There are many factors that credit men consider when they examine a credit applicant. When they look at the application, they look to see if you have a bank account. Is it a checking or savings account? A savings account with small but regular deposits rates higher than a checking account because it is a sign of money management. Applicants rarely give the name of any store they have been unsatisfactory with or any employer that discharged them for unsatisfactory services. These items come to light, however, when the credit manager gets a report from the Credit Bureau. Other items that are occupational danger signals are employment with a relative, business people who rent desk space or telephone service only. Credit men usually take into consideration that the first year of home buying brings added costs and many unforeseen expenses.

If you open several new accounts all at once, or go on a spending spree you will be double-checked. A credit manager from a department store points out that when a wife starts spending with abandon, it could be the evidence of a family quarrel and she decides to take revenge through the husbands' pocket book, or she may have come into some inheritance, or she may be bored and trying to break the monotony. More likely, however, she is getting a separation or divorce. She is out to stock up on several years supply of shoes and clothes. When she is finished, her husband who is usually to be an "ex" by then, refuses to pay. It takes a law suit to finally decide who is liable.

A family can check their financial standings or vulnerability by asking these questions:

1. Do you have less than $200 in cash? This could be savings or bonds.
2. Will it take you more than a year to pay off your present installment debt?
3. Do your installment amounts to more than 20 percent of your income after taxes?

If you answered "yes" to all three questions, you are carrying too much debt. The National Retail Merchants Association advises its members that under normal circumstances, the average family with one bread winner can obligate themselves for installment payments up to 12 percent of their basic monthly pay with one per cent deducted for each dependent.

The National Retail Merchants Association also says that a business executive is probably the best credit risk. They also rate professional people, trainees, skilled factory workers, office workers, owner-farmers, ranchers, small retail proprietors, public utility job holders, insurance agents, traveling

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The Center has started something new again for the teens. A Tuesday night teen dance has been scheduled every Tuesday night during the summer. All new bands will play on these dates. On next Tuesday night, July 26, the Valasquez Brothers will play. On August 2, the Cordas from Amarillo will play. Several top notch bands are lined up so you young people come out to the Center on Tuesday nights from 8-11 p.m.

Registration for the Junior and Senior Life Saving Courses are now being taken. This is open for adults as well as young people. The Courses will meet August 1-12 from 9-11 a.m. under the direction of Pete Erwin, Red Cross Water Safety Instructor. Cost for the course will be $2 for everyone as this is the only Life Saving Courses that will be taught in Pampa this year.

If you are interested in securing your Water Safety Instructors Rating, you need to have passed Senior Life Saving. Also if you are interested in water front work such as lifeguarding at pools or beaches, you need Life Saver must be 12 years of age while Seniors must be 16.

The Center is now in the last session of the Red Cross Swim Program and will be starting on our own program August 1. Classes still available for the August 1-12 classes are Advanced Beginners from 9-10 a.m. and Swimmers from 10-11 a.m. These classes are free to Center members or $3 for non members.

Enrollment is now going on too for the first session of swim lessons that will be offered when school starts. These are classes Sept. 12-28. Offered are Polywogs from 4-5 p.m. and Beginners from 5-6 p.m. A polywog must be 4-6 years of age and measure 33 inches to the chin. These classes are free to Center members or $3 for non members.

Center memberships are always available at the front office of the Center. There is no limit to the number of members that the Center may enlist. The Center is open the year round with an indoor heated pool in the cooler months. A membership entitles you to full use of the Center as well as free swim lessons. You may enjoy such activities as basketball, volleyball, swimming, swim lessons, tumbling, trampolining, salesmen, unskilled factory workers, nurses, building trade workers, tenant farmers, barbers, waiters, tailors, beauty shop operators, bartenders, domestics and entertainers in that order. In general if you are employed in a seasonal industry, or your income depends on commissions, tips, or one-shot deals you will be viewed with caution and have a harder time getting credit than if you are with a good firm and your job involves skill and education.

The type of work you do does not provide a conclusive evaluation of your ability or willingness to pay your bills. Individual exceptions are so numerous that judgments based on employment records alone are not enough.

shuffleboard, pool, ping pong, weights, wrestling and TV watching as well as several quiet games.

A family membership which includes all members of the present family living at home or at college and who is not married. Family memberships are $20 per year or $12 for six months. An individual membership is for those persons who are 8 years of age or older and costs $8 per year or $5 for six months. All memberships run for a full six or 12 months according to the purchase.

The 1966 Fall Volleyball season will get underway Sept. 8 with a Men's Tournament. The Women's Tournament will be Sept. 11. The full leagues will start Sept. 12 for the women, Sept. 14 for mixed league, and Sept. 15 for the Men's league.

The organizational meeting of the leagues and tournaments will be held Sept. 7 at the Center beginning at 8 p.m. All entry fees for league and tournament must be in by that time and date. Entry fee for tournaments is $5 while entry fee for leagues is $15. Contact director, George Smith, for further details.

New Books At The Library

Fiction:
"Trust" by Cynthia Ozick; on the surface, this novel deals with a young girl's search for her "psychological" father. At a deeper level, it is concerned with the concept of "trust" in private life as well as in the worlds of finance, banking and inheritance.

"The Room Upstairs" by Monica Dickens; Jess is peculiarly and quietly destroyed by a ghost and the haunting of Pilgrim tradition that fills the house of her grandmother-to-be — a woman whose escape from reality had been a success for quite some time.

"At Some Forgotten Door" by Doris Miles Disney; a novel of suspense set in the 1880's of a young girl who comes into money — and danger. Scene: Connecticut.

"Brood of Helios" by Jack Berlin; the experiment of Doctor Meredith ended in a terrific explosion — and the next thing he knew, he, his daughter, and the two young men who had been in the laboratory regained consciousness in an alien world, with men who turned out to be moon men.

Cooking-Plain and Fancy for Family and Friends by Lois and William Katzenbach; over 500 recipes with helpful suggestions for easy preparation and serving.

"Homemaking for the Handicapped" — Elizabeth E. May and others; a resource book in home management for the physically handicapped and their families and for professional personnel concerned with rehabilitation.

In 1941, Gen. Douglas MacArthur became commander of the American forces in the Philippines. Five months later Japan attacked Pearl Harbor.

U.S. Staving off More Inflation

NEW YORK (UPI) — While Prime Minister Harold Wilson clamped down on the British economy this week with a harsh program of deflationary measures designed to rescue the faltering pound, economists here studied a writer of June figures for a clue to the prospects for further anti-inflation measures in the United States.

In Britain, the need was obvious for a crash program to stave off devaluation of the pound. The measures taken including a freeze on wages, prices, dividends — seemed likely to quench British hopes for economic growth and better living in the immediate future.

At home, the picture was less clear-cut. Several close watched indicators showed further slowdown in the economy's growth. But President Johnson warned that inflationary pressures remained strong

Action-Packed Events Will Thrill Annual Rodeo Fans

By RAY RODGERS

The 22nd annual Top O' Texas Rodeo, highlighted this year by television star Molly Bee, and featuring some of the top cowboys in the nation, swings into action with a Kid Pony Show Tuesday, followed by four nights of wild and wooly rodeo action starting Wednesday and ending Saturday.

Molly Bee, stage, screen and radio-TV star, will make nightly appearances at rodeo performances, accompanied by Johnny Lee Wills and his western swing band.

The singing star also will appear nightly with Wills and his band during rodeo dances in the National Guard Armory.

Some of the top cowboys in the nation will be attracted by almost $4,000 in prize money, plus entry fees. Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., will again furnish stock and direct the arena, while popular rodeo announcer Ty Tailon will return for the sixth year as official announcer.

The big rodeo parade will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday, with the first rodeo perform-

Molly Bee Will Highlight 22nd Annual Event

STAR ATTRACTION — Molly Bee, stage, screen, TV and radio star, will highlight each night's performance of the rodeo with an appearance. The star will be accompanied by Johnny Lee Wills and his western swing band. She will also appear nightly with Wills and his band during rodeo dances in the National Guard Armory.

ance at 8 p.m. The rodeo will be held at the same time Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Additional fun and frolic for rodeo fans will include nightly dances at the nearby National Guard Armory, a concert by the Pampa High School band, preceding the last two rodeo performances. The Kid Pony Show, for young cowboys and cowgirls from 5 to 15 years of age, will hold a free matinee at 2 p.m. Tuesday and another performance is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. that night.

Special rodeo attractions will include the Zoppe Family, with a variety of trained animal and trick riding acts and 4-H and FFA Calf Scrambles Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Bill Tidwell, president of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association, said this year's show is expected to be one of the best in the 22-year history of the Pampa rodeo.

Although final entries are not yet in, a number of cowpokes rated among the best in the country are expected to compete as well as most of the defending champions.

CHAMPION CALF ROPER — Lee Cockrell, formerly of Pampa and now of Panhandle, will be back to defend his title this year during the Top O' Texas Rodeo. Cockrell walked off with top honors and money in the calf roping event. Cockrell's brother, Buddy of Pampa, won the steer wrestling event last year and is expected to enter competition again this year.

BRONC RIDER — George Williams of Tulsa, Okla., is expected to be another top notch cowboy to enter the 1966 Top O' Texas Rodeo. Williams, regarded as one of the top saddle bronc riders in the nation, won the event in the 1964 rodeo. Williams will join with some of the top names in rodeo to compete in the four-day Pampa event.

HAZING — Stopping a runaway steer several times your own weight and then twisting the animal to the ground — all in a matter of seconds — requires a dab of intestinal fortitude plus plenty of knowhow. The "hazer" on the left keeps the steer running straight for his partner's leap.

ENTERTAINERS — The Joe Zoppe family will entertain the rodeo audience between events at each night's performance. The trick-riding family will present a variety of trained animal and riding acts.

BULL RIDING — An unwilling gymnast turned a flip by his hump-shouldered adversary's bucking tactics. This cowboy heads for a rough landing in rodeo's bull riding event.

SADDLE BRONC RIDING — The keystone of all rodeo competition is saddle bronc riding. Here a cowboy rides in classic style timing his action to that of his mount.

Roping Is A Race Against Time

If a cowboy intends to use two loops, two ropers must be carried. Cowboy must throw calf by hand, cross and tie the three feet. If calf is down when the roper reaches it, he must allow calf to get up and then throw calf. Tie must hold for six seconds after roper calls time. — Synopsis R.C.A. rules.

Calf roping is a race against time with seconds counted in decimal points and the money going to the swift. — there is not time to be lost in waste motion, even less to be spent signalling the horse.

What's This—Kids Have Snowball Fight

WAUPUN, Wis. (UPI)—The kids had a snowball fight in mid-July in Waupun Friday.

It was real snow, buried sometime during the winter in a gravel pit. Somehow, the earth kept it from melting during the spring thaw and the broiling summer.

Friday, a gravel hauling company found the deposit of snow, trucked it into town, and dumped it in front of studio of radio station WLKE.

Out of the box, a good horse will rate the calf, closing on him quickly and holding a steady interval, regardless of how the calf bobs or weaves. Most ropers like their horses to stay a length behind and a fraction to one side to allow a clean throw.

If the thrown loop misses, the cowboy gets another try, provided he carries another rope ready tied to the saddle. Calf roping is catch as catch can as long as the loop holds until the roper gets his hands on the calf. The horse's quick stop is used by the cowboy to propel him down the rope to the calf. He comes off the horse running. If stop and dismount are not timed perfectly the roper is left flat footed beside his horse.

On the ground, the roper must throw the calf by hand, a task made easier if the horse keeps backed against a tight rope. The calf may be downed either by "legging" — using a foreleg as a pry to tip him over — or by "flanking" — picking the animal up bodily and laying him on his side.

Once the calf is downed, the cowboy gathers three legs, wraps and ties them with a short length of light rope, called a pigging string, carried either in his mouth, or tucked in his ways drawn the easiest stock. Often his instinctive knowledge of when to move in, just when to flank or leg his catch, makes the whole run seconds faster than if he had rushed in to try and overpower the calf.

Week in Review: Violence Aplenty

United Press International In New York, it was a for-reel reprise of "West Side Story."

In Chicago and Cleveland, it was the same scene—bad National Guardsmen fought the homefolks. Death and destruction prevailed.

So it was last week as the lid blew off the boiling cauldron of racial strife. The long hot summer—mean as ever—arrived.

National Guard troops sought to quell Negro rioting in Chicago and Cleveland. As week's end approached, Chicago was simmering. Cleveland was still sizzling.

A thousand policemen swarmed over Brooklyn's East New York neighborhood as Italian-American and Negro youths clashed in New York's worst racial outburst since the 1964 Harlem riots.

Gin originally was known as genievre, the French word for juniper berry.

TEAMWORK — Between man and horse, in professional rodeo's calf roping, is a must to reach the paywindow. Here, the horse is playing his part perfectly, keeping the lariat rope taut as the cowboy sprints toward the calf for the tie.

Roman Riding Act Gives Crowd Laughter Tonic

Young girls—and everyone else, too—can have a lot of fun screaming at the comedy Roman riding act scheduled each performance of the Top O' Texas rodeo.

They just need to keep in mind that the smarty little girl bobby soxer who comes out from the crowd and wants to join the farmer in trying to ride his two big plow horses while standing with one foot on the back of each isn't really a bobby soxer.

Because the prissy "girl" is really Roger Zoppe, 14, and a terrific young athlete. And the "farmer" wearing blue jeans is really his father, Joe, internationally renowned rider of rosin-back horses bareback. And, the two "farm horses" he forgot to take the big collars from are specially trained performing horses, but really do graze the Zoppe range acres in southern Oklahoma when they're not appearing at a heavy schedule of rodeos and circuses.

The little "girl" from the audience who wants to do Roman riding on the huge horses with the "farmer" finally does get aboard and ride them—standing up. But not until after the crowd has had a week's tonic of laughter.

Those Roman stand-up riders were the "hot rod" horsemen of their times. And, if they had as many difficulties learning to ride as this little "girl" and "farmer" indicate, we can see why Rome—or at least Roman riding—fell.

Part of NATO Policy to Change

BONN (UPI)—Allied troop withdrawals from Germany will force a revision of NATO's "forward strategy" of defending western Europe right from the Iron Curtain, a German government spokesman warned.

State Secretary Karl-Guenter von Hase said the announced withdrawal of part of the 51,000-man British Army of the Rhine is bound to have repercussions on the strategy of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"The forward strategy concept depends in the main on troop strengths, he told a news conference.

THE ZOPPE TROUPE

Molly Bee A 'Hep' Gal

Molly Bee, who stars in NBC-TV's new daytime songfest, "Swinging Country," (Monday-Friday, 11:30 a.m.), is about as hip as they come.

Pampa area audiences will get a chance to judge for themselves when she appears at the Top O' Texas Rodeo.

Even in a casual conversation Molly continually cracks you up by coming across with wry comments and little gems of wisdom. "I went out and bought all the brands of mouthwash in the store and I still don't have any friends. What do I do now?"

And, "When I was looking around for a stereo tape recorder the salesman told me he had one so sensitive it could record frequencies far exceeding the range of the human voice and that it could reproduce sounds well outside the range of human hearing. What all that extra-sensitivity is for is way beyond the range of my understanding."

Molly Bee hip, you say. Then I must be confused. I thought Molly Bee was a country and western singer. Watch out! Nothing . . . that's right, nothing makes the pert, blonde songstress madder than people putting all c&w singers in the same bag, namely the one with the label "Yoke!" on it.

Molly maintains that among country singers are some of the sharpest people you'll ever meet. She points out Roger Miller for an example. In his medium he is practically a genius. He can sit down and knock out a song, lyrics and music, in a matter of minutes. He has a feel for music that you practically have to be born with. Talking with him you realize he is one of the brightest and most perceptive people you ever sat down with.

"The reason people jump to the conclusion that C&W singers are all hicks," explains Miss Bee, "is probably because they judge them by the songs they sing. If an artist does a number with what is considered a country accent, (sort of an extreme mixture of western and southern) right away people get the idea that he has never seen a sidewalk or . . . ummm . . ."

what do they call them varnents on the corners that turn red and green . . . traffic lights, that's it. That's about the same thing as believing that if an actor plays a certain part, that's the kind of person he is."

About country and western music itself, Molly, who every year at this time does the country-fair and rodeo circuit, feels it is a type of music that is just as valid as folk singing, rock and roll, or the blues. And it is as indigenous to our country as these other types of music are. More and more, C&W is making its influence felt in our contemporary music scene. It's rare when there aren't several C&W tunes on the top hit lists, and every so often one in the number one spot.

Denver Post Gives Rodeo Sports Page

With the recently established editorial policy of the Denver Post placing national news of professional rodeo and the current World's Championship Standings on the sports page, a monumental step has been taken toward the goal that in 1950 was resolved by the R.C.A. Board of Directors as the number one project of the organization.

The move of this prestige news paper is recognized as a major breakthrough toward achieving that goal.

The Denver Post has always given rodeo generous coverage, supporting and promoting the sport in the Rocky Mountain Empire. Publisher Palmer Hoyt has long been a friend to rodeo and the late Leo J. Cremer once named one of his finest bucking horses after the famous newspaperman.

Much of the credit for Managing Editor, Bill Hornby's decision to include national coverage of rodeo in the Sports section is due to the urgency of Red Fenwick, long time widely known Post columnist who intervened in behalf of the R.C.A. cause.

Since activation of the Denver Post's recent editorial policy concerning national rodeo news. Sports Editor Lee Meade

Managers, R.C.A. Slate Meeting

The American Livestock Show and Rodeo Managers' Association has accepted the offer of the Rodeo Cowboys' Association to meet with its Board of Directors in regard to a proposal for adding a management representative on the R.C.A. Board.

Representatives of the Managers' Association who will present the proposal will be determined at a meeting of that group in Denver prior to the R.C.A. meeting in Cheyenne.

The Denver meeting will also be attended by representatives of the International Rodeo Management and the Rocky Mountain Professional Rodeo Management Association. Final agreement on the proposal will also be achieved there.

The R.C.A. Board indicated during its Denver Convention in January, that the inclusion of a spokesman for rodeo committees was under consideration. The office of Stock Contractor Representative was created at that time.

In making the announcement of the Board's move, which could not have been conceived in a previous decade, president Dale Smith said it was felt that by broadening the base of the R.C.A. Board, it would be possible for all segments of rodeo to present a united front.

At the Phoenix, R.C.A. Board meeting in March, considerable discussion was held concerning a manager's spokesman to serve on the R.C.A. Board in a similar position-as the stock contractors representative. The Board is receptive to the idea and invited a solid proposal from the managers groups and rodeo committees.

Bull Riding Is Most Dangerous

Riding to be done with one hand and loose rope, with or without hand hold. Rope must have bell. Bull will be ridden eight seconds. Rider will be disqualified for being bucked off or touching animal with free hand. —Synopsis R.C.A. rules.

The most popular riding event, and the most dangerous in rodeo, is the bull riding. Watching these cross-bred Brahams do everything but turn inside out the question immediately arises why would anybody in their right mind get on these heaving, spinning juggernauts. Not only have there been many who have gone a whole season without being ridden the required eight seconds, but there are some who will go after the rider whether he left their back intentionally or not.

Because bulls will charge a man off horseback—and pickup men can't be used in the other two riding events—only the clown can help the scrambling, stunned, or upended cowboys.

At this moment, the man in the baggy raiment is the most important person in the world to the bull rider. Often his courage, recognition of what a bull has on his mind and his reactive speed, is the reason that bull rider can eat supper that night.

If a man is motivated by testing his own nerve, bull riding will do it. In addition, the event has added appeal because any one who can ride half his stock during the season will wind up with a lot of prize money.

In the other riding events an unlucky cowboy conceivably could draw horse after horse on which he couldn't win a dime. A bull rider uses a rope which is looped like a noose around the animal's middle. It is a flat plait with a handhold like the snug handle of a dufflebag. The rider puts his gloved hand in this loop, knuckles down, and a helping friend, standing on the chute, pulls the slack out of the rope as if he were tugging a heavy bucket from a well.

When the rope's tightness feels right to the rider, he takes the free end of the rope and lays it across his palm. Then he warps it once behind his hand and lays it across his palm again. He clenches his fist with everything he can muster; he hunches his body close to his hand and, as soon as he feels the bull standing squarely, he nods and the gate swings open.

As long as the cowboy doesn't touch the bull with his free hand, and still has his riding hand on some part of the rope at the end of the eight seconds, the judges will score his ride from 1 to 25 on how hard the bull bucked, and from 1 to 25 on how well the cowboy rode.

A bull rider dreads being bucked off away from his riding hand. When this happens his weight—even though his fist has opened—can bind the wrap behind his hand and there he's hung. Looking like a rag doll tied to a mad dog, the cowboy is helpless until his hand wrenches free or the clown comes to his rescue.

King Hamrurabi of ancient Babylon engaged stargazers to decide the cost auspicious time to collect taxes.

Benny Reynolds in Lead For Bill Linderman Memorial Award

The 1961 All Around Champion Cowboy of the World, Benny Reynolds 30, Melrose, Montana takes the lead in the race for the Bill Linderman Memorial trophy buckle to be awarded by the Rodeo Sports News. The award will be presented to the All Around Cowboy winning the most prize money this year in three or more events with the conditions stipulated that at least $1,000 must be won in each of at least three events, and at least one of which must be a timed event and at least one a riding event.

Big Ben, though about half lame this spring, has already socked away $8,536 in rodeo bulls and qualified in the prize money, giving him better than a $1,000 lead over second ranking contender for the coveted award, Bernis Johnson, who hails from Cleburne, Tex. At the latest tabulation, with points racked up in five events, Reynolds has posted $3,523 to his bulldogging charts; $1,758 in the bareback riding; $1,667 in riding; $1,539 in bronc riding; and has looped $40 worth of team roping points.

Johnson has a total of $7,351 to his credit. $4,270 of it won in the bareback riding, $1,969 on socked away $8,536 in rodeo bulls and qualified in the prize money, giving him better than a $1,000 lead over second ranking contender for the coveted award, Bernis Johnson, who hails from Cleburne, Tex. New Bill May Halt Air Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Legislation was introduced in Congress, that would pave the way for a virtual government takeover of the nation's five strike-bound airlines.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., offered a joint resolution to empower a federal court to halt the 15-day-old strike. He predicted passage of the measure by the middle of next week. The legislation, intended to by-pass stalled contract negotiations, would permit the President and a federal district court to hand over the airlines to a receivership with all profits going to the U.S. Treasury.

"I can't imagine this Congress not getting this legislation passed by late Tuesday night or Wednesday," Morse told the Senate. "I don't think Congress has any choice..." Chief airline negotiator William J. Curtin, commenting on Morse's action, said: "It's a sad day when representatives of the public are forced by an irresponsible union to consider emergency legislation."

P. L. (Roy) Siemiller, president of the machinists' union, said: "We consider Sen. Morse wrong on a lot of things. He's wrong in Viet Nam, and we think he's wrong again."

President Calvin Coolidge, though well known for his frugality, was willing to buy rather expensive cigars.

Saddle Bronc Riding Has Less Competitors

To qualify, rider must have spurs over the break of the shoulders and touching the horse when front feet hit the ground first jump out of the chute. Rider disqualified for being bucked off; changing hands on rein; losing stirrup; or touching the animal, saddle or rein with his free hand. — Synopsis R.C.A. rules.

Oddly enough, saddle bronc riding, the class event, has less competitors than any other in professional rodeo. Cowboys with little ranching experience yet with a strong hand, have gone to the top in bull riding and bareback bronc riding, but rodeo's oldest event, and with roping, the most closely linked to actual ranch work, demands a contestant with years of actual experience on rough horses.

Few outsiders have ever crashed the upper ranks. The instinctive reactions required to keep the stirrups, sense what a horse will do next, and the rhythm required—because there is nothing solid to hang onto—make this event one in which there is no substitute for the school of hard knocks.

To give the horse every advantage, the rider is required to have his dulled spurs over the point of the animal's shoulders when the bronc's front feet hit the ground first jump out of the chute.

Quoting former six-time world champion saddle bronc rider, Casey Tibbs, "the first thing we think about when we know what horse we've drawn, is how much rein we'll give him. If we don't know the horse, we'll find someone who has been on him and they'll tell us."

The dependency a cowboy has on his rein often makes the difference between the good and the champion rider. A man who is not dependent on the rein alone — relying greatly on balance — can use his feet with more freedom. The judges, marking the rider from 1 to 25, will give him a higher mark for this full arcing stroke which cowboys call "lick."

Equally important is the fact that some horses, which the judges also score from 1 to 25 on how hard they buck, will "turn on" better if his passenger isn't hanging on to the rein with brute strength.

The rider is marked down by the judges if he loses control—cowboys call it "getting into a storm"—and in this event the rider himself makes recovery more difficult. The cantle of the saddle, behind, and the swells, in front, get under a man and literally knock him out of there. For generations rodeo has been open to any ambitious kid with nerve enough to give it a try; and the tradition still stands.

Any youngster — or for that matter any restless adult discontent with his job in the bank — can test his skill in taking lumps at rodeos approved by the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

For $10 a season he can get a permit card from RCA headquarters in Denver allowing him to enter in the association's sanctioned rodeos, until he wins a total of $1,000 in prize money. That's enough by the cowboys' reckoning to make him a pro in any man's league.

Rodeo Open to Anyone Who Can Ride

The fear of hanging up in a stirrup, always in the back of the rider's mind, is another angle adding to the event's danger. In the fraternity of saddle broncs, the tried and true campaigner becomes legendary. More people remember He's Angels, Midnight, Miss Klamath and their modern counterparts, Trail's End, Big John, Jesse James, Jake and Warpaint, than they would recognize the names of the men who tried to ride them.

In spite of the fact one of these horses may be the victor over a cowboy more often than not, that same cowboy has a quiet affection for this consistent, hard-trying opponent. For this cowboy knew, had he been able to stay aboard, the judges would have given the horse a high marking and the cowboy could have won money.

1966 Rodeo Payoff Tops Million and a Half Cash

Six major rodeos, of a total 37 held over the Fourth of July sanctioned by the Rodeo Cowboys Association, reported 227 contestants shared in their $54,306 prize money payoff. This brings the officially tabulated total payoff thus far in 1966 to $1,378,136. Remaining rodeos not yet heard from will boost the holiday bonanza to over $200,000 bringing the year's prize money to well over the million and a half mark.

As '66 swings into the down hill stretch, once again Dean Oliver holds down the drivers seat going for the cowboy's championship of the world with the respectable sum of $17,499 to his credit.

Freckles Brown, a 45-year-old veteran cowboy from Soper, Okla., emerged pro rodeo's big money winner over July Fourth, traditional holiday harvest for the big-hatted clan.

Brown, an ageless bantam who survived a broken neck to capture 1962's national bull riding championship, won $1,965.

Brown collected his riding loot at rodeos in Springdale, Ark., Camden, Mo., and Hinton, Okla. The new money pushed Brown to fifth place in the 1966 bull riding charts.

No serious injuries were reported at any of the six major rodeos. Ken Roberts, veteran of 32 years riding bulls was hooked in the groin as he stepped off Walt Alsaugh's "Snuffy" at

CABOT CORPORATION

TEAMWORK — Lets this cowboy make a smooth catch of his quarry in professional rodeo's steer wrestling event. Course held straight by the hazer on the left, the jump to the racing steer's horns is arrow true.

Steer Wrestling One Of Sports Most Dangerous

Steer must be caught from horse. If steer gets loose, dogger may take no more than one step to catch him. Steer will be considered down only when it is lying flat on its side, all four feet and head straight. — Synopsis R.C.A. rules.

Steer wrestling has a surprising number of spectators voting for the most exciting event in the rodeo arena. When a man drops from a galloping horse onto the horns of a steer, who is going full tilt, stops the steer and throws it to the ground, they have seen skill overcome heavily weighted odds.

The first time people see this they are sure the strongest man, who is lucky enough to draw the slowest and most cooperative steer, should be the winner. The truth is, the man who quickly and consistently can get a steer off balance while he himself stays in control is on the way to the winner's circle.

Briefly, the secret is this. As the cowboy catches up to the steer he reaches with his right hand, scooping up the right horn, and as his horse speeds by the steer the cowboy gets this horn snugly in the crook of his right elbow. At the same time, his left hand pushes down on the other horn while his horse veers off to the left. The cowboy's heels are dropped ahead, and at a 45 degree angle to the path the steer is taking. Digging in his heels, the cowboy is tipping the steer's head as much as he can and pulling it toward the center of a left hand turn. As the steer stops—his hindquarters having swung around—the cowboy's left hand reaches for the animal's upturned nose and with this hold he is able to throw the steer on its side.

The winning run takes perfect coordination. Besides the steer wrestler and his horse there is a second man who starts from

Bucking Horse Leads Easy Life

The professional bucking horses of rodeo work less, live as well and last longer than any other "working" horse in the world.

Even more than the slick thoroughbreds cared for on the racing farms, the shaggy, ill-tempered bronc is the pampered prince of the equine kingdom.

Rodeo broncs buck in eight and ten second stretches. Even the busiest bucking horses are rarely turned out of the chute oftener than twice a week or more than thirty times a year. Thus, their "working" year is less than five minutes long.

No one can train a horse to buck. He either likes it or he doesn't. All his owners can do is to give him plenty of rest, feed and water and hope his moral stays high enough that he'll go on trying to flatten every rider who crawls on his back.

A big part of the moral building is letting the horse think he is winning. That's why the bronc ride in professional rodeo is limited to either eight or ten seconds, depending upon arena conditions.

Bucking horses are at their worst the first twenty jumps from the chute and a cowboy who got past that first storm would have an odds on chance of riding the bronc from there on out.

Cruel treatment of bucking horses is a myth among misguided animal lovers. Besides being specifically forbidden by a set of rules—written in harmony by the Rodeo Cowboys Association and the American Humane Association—mistreatment of bucking horses would be a good way for any rodeo stock contractor to commit economic suicide. Underfed horses simply won't buck at all.

The average age of all bucking horses in pro rodeo is somewhere between twelve and fifteen year old and nearly every major bucking string boasts more than one old reliable past twenty.

the launching pad. The further back he gets on a high kicking horse the further out he is on the catapult.

Also the cowboy who has his riding arm straightened invariably winds up having his clenched riding hand jerked open. Rules require the rider's dulled spurs be over the break of the horse's shoulders when the animal lands the first jump out of the chute. Some bareback broncs wheel out almost as quickly as the gate can be jerked open and the cowboy has a hard time keeping that outside foot where it is required to be.

The judges are looking for the horse that gives the rider the most trouble for the full eight seconds. Onlookers when hearing the score often are mystified because the bronc who threw the spectacular whinging, once or twice, wasn't marked higher. They failed to take into consideration that for half the eight seconds the horse, in the judges' opinion, wasn't difficult to stay on.

The event originally started as a time filler when it was necessary to shuffle animals behind the chutes. The riders often were youngsters with nothing but a burning ambition to become rodeo hands and a rope they looped around a wild horse's middle.

The aspirant hung on with both hands and stayed aboard as long as he could for "mount money" usually about $2. Many a rookie who started this way went on to the top.

The equine stars in this event often find their niche because they fire better without a saddle and the restriction of the buck rein.

Bareback Riding Confuses Some

One hand rigging to be used. To qualify rider must have spurs over the break of the shoulders when horse's front feet touch the ground, first jump out of the chute. Horses will be ridden for eight seconds. Rider cannot touch horse with free hand. — Synopsis R.C.A. rules.

The 8-second bareback ride is confusing because some cowboys' wild spurring appears to be simply showing off while in actual fact the rhythm of a man's legs on some horse is all that keep the rigging—a hand hold on a surcingle like the handle on a suitcase—from being torn out of his hand.

The bareback rider throws his feet forward in time with the horse's jumps, and at the same time this motion keeps his seat close to his riding hand. He's well aware that once he slips away from the handhold he's on

'Americanism' Program Is Presented By Miami Chapter to Local OES Members

Fifty-six members and guests of Pampa Chapter 65, Order of the Eastern Star, heard Mrs. Herb Adams present a program on "Americanism" Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Reva Tomlin, worthy matron of the chapter, introduced special guests of Miami Chapter 98 who presented a patriotic program. Those participating from Miami were Mrs. Carol Snodgrass and Mrs. John Shearer, who gave a history of the U.S. flag, Mrs. Mellic Boxwell who presented the poem, "The Name of Old Glory," and Mrs. Adams.

Vardeman Smith, worthy patron of the Pampa chapter, led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Other guests introduced were Mrs. Carrie Lee, deputy grand matron, and Rue Hestland, member of the Masonic Heritage Committee.

The program Mrs. Adams presented was a paper prepared by her husband which read "Some of you may wonder why we are in South Viet Nam. The main reason in my opinion is compassion for the love of man, this being the same reason for the forming of our beautiful order of the Eastern Star by Rob Morris so many years ago. This has been primarily our reason for entries into the wars of the past.

"Though many of us may have lost loved ones in the defense of our country and some may wonder of the complexity of our government, if they have died in vain. Through my belief in God, my answer is no."

"We have progressed from an oppressed colony into the greatest nation in the world. As we look at 'Old Glory,' we are reminded of the brave and the free, the brave who shed their blood on the battlefields that we may be free. Those who fought in battles that span the globe keeps our flag flying over the land of the free and the home of the brave."

"How can we be better Americans? This is a never ending question. My answers to these questions concerning better Americanism are, belief in God to the point of no doubt; follow the obligation of our order; live your life of being a constant Eastern Star; vote in all elections; settle differences by discussion; write to your representative on issues you may or may not agree with, for they are your elected servants and can only know the views of the people by communications about issues brought before the house; be active in any community organization or program that you believe in. A real and true American in my opinion is a doer and definitely not a demonstrator," the speaker continued.

"During the past 18 years I have been a member of the United States Air Force and have seen people throughout the world and in all walks of life and my wife, Lota is a veteran of the Korean War and we both believe the ways of our government concerning freedom, liberties and justice certainly far surpass that of other countries we have seen."

"I do not consider myself a patriot just because I happen to wear the uniform in the service of my country, but just another American doing a job that I believe in.

"If you will reminisce with me to the day when we had only 13 stars in our flag. Our forefathers fought and died so that they could be free from one of the mightiest nations in the world at that time. By their individual belief in God and the belief that they should be free they fought their battles and won. Their dedication was preserved that a new nation would exist by accepting the traditions they laid down. Our nation has continued to progress by accepting the responsibility that a man's right to do and believe and worship as he pleases has granted him the everlasting privilege of being an American. Today we have 50 stars in our flag and each and every star was added voluntarily.

"We feel that we are a typical American family, however we may be just a little more typical than most because, the Air Force is my career, my wife is a veteran, we have two adopted children who are Sioux Indians and we live on Custer Street in Miami, Texas, all of which is by our own choice," the paper concluded.

Mrs. Bennett Lowry McCathern
... nee Miss Bobbie Marie Smith

An archway of greenery decorated with white satin bows provided the setting for the wedding of Miss Bobbie Marie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Smith of 929 Terry Rd., to Bennett Lowry McCathern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. McCathern of 736 N. Christy.

Rev. Therman Upshaw, pastor of Central Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony held at the home of the bride's parents at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with a fitted bodice and scooped neckline and petal-point sleeves. Appliques of rose point lace embellished the front of the bodice and skirt which swept to back fullness, creating a brief train. Her waist-length veil of illusion was held by a rhinestone tiara. She carried a white Bible topped by a cascading bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Cynthia Ann Smith, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, with Mrs. Earl Leith attending as bridesmaid. Both wore sleeveless, street-length dresses of blue brocade with matching jackets. A veil fell from their blue pill-box hats. They carried bouquets of white carnations.

Best man was Neal McCathern, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsman was Earl Leith.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The table was appointed with candles and the three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom standing underneath an archway decorated with blue flowers. Miss Debbie Smith, bride's sister, and Miss Dianne Russell assisted at the punch bowl. Mrs. James Rhodes, bridegroom's sister, served cake, and Mrs. Floyd Huddleston, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests.

For a honeymoon to New Mexico, Colorado and Nebraska, the bride wore a champagne brocade suit accented by white accessories and the corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. McCathern is a 1966 graduate of Pampa High School. Mr. McCathern, a 1960 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Stephen F. Austin State College at Nacagdoches. He is currently employed by McCathern, Inc. in North Platte, Neb., where the newlyweds will make their home.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James P. Cody, Houston; Mrs. Paul Cody, Dallas; John Reynolds, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McCathern, Mr. and Mrs. Don McCathern and Mr. and Mrs. E. McCathern, Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. James Rhodes, Denison; Mrs. Joe Anderson and B. E. Anderson, Shamrock.

PRE-NUPRIAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial events included a shower given June 27 at 1317 Terrace, co-hosted by Mrs. Earl Leith and Mrs. James Harvey.

'Rock Gardens and Waterpools' Topic Presented for Pampa Garden Club

Pampa Garden Club met Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. H. H. Boynton with Mrs. C. J. McNaughton as co-hostess. Mrs. W. R. Pairsh presented the program on "Rock Gardens and Waterpools."

Mrs. Pairsh said different types of rock gardens have been developed through the years to solve landscaping problems, to prevent erosion and to add beauty. The man-made rock garden can be built on a flat surface to grow tiny rock plants and alpenes. The natural rock garden is the easiest to achieve because it is a natural outcropping on a rocky slope or hillside and requires little modification to blend with the surrounding landscape. The ledge is the simplest form of rock garden and consists of a few rocks on a low level and should be long and narrow. The principal use is to give character and color to great sweeps of lawn especially where there is a steep incline or an abrupt curve. A well planned and well constructed ledge garden will provide an effect that will make your lawn different from your neighbor's. The wall garden consists of a stone wall in which soil is used instead of mortar and where rock plants are grown between the stones on the sides and top. The wild or woodland garden is usually densely shaded and planted with woodland plants. The sink garden is an English innovation which is gaining popularity because it is a tiny garden and includes window boxes, dishes and almost any type of container.

"Water pools can be of any size, small to reflect the beauty of a portion of the garden or large enough to accommodate fish, water lilies and other plants. The pool should be planned before the rock garden is started in order to provide the proper drainage and water supply. The construction should be hidden by skillfully placed rocks in order that it will have the appearance of being a natural part of the garden where with proper attention it will bring joy and serenity to the gardener," the speaker concluded.

Members of the Hoe and Hope Garden Club of White Deer were guests at the meeting. Those present enjoyed a tour of Mrs. Boynton's beautiful flower gardens.

Marriage Nuptials Read in Liberal, Kan.

St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Liberal, Kan. was the scene for the recent wedding ceremony uniting Miss Karen Sue Frazier and James Joseph Holt, both of Liberal.

Mrs. James Joseph Holt
nee Miss Karen Sue Frazier

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Frazier of 1117 Willow Rd. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Holt of Liberal are the parents of the bridegroom.

Father John Lavrih solemnized the double-ring ceremony at 7 o'clock the evening of July 17. Mrs. Fred Moffett, organist, presented a program of traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Don VanBuren as he sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

Large baskets bearing arrangements of blue and white gladioli, accented by moss green ribbon and bows, flanked the altar setting. Following the pledging of vows the bride placed a nosegay of white miniature carnations and salal leaves on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown fashioned of pea de soie embellished with appliques of alencon lace. The empire bodice featured a portrait neckline and brief sleeves. Appliques of the chosen lace traced the A-line skirt from the bodice to the hem-line. A detachable chapel train, applied on each corner with alencon lace motifs, fell from the shoulders. Short white lace gloves complemented the gown. A circle of white pea de soie held the bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascading arrangement of white miniature carnations and Stephanotis, accented with ice blue maline and moss greenery, centered with white roses.

Mrs. John M. Holt of Great Bend, Kan., attired in a floor-length gown with empire styling fashioned of ice blue pea de soie and trimmed with a moss leaf velvet bow at the waistline with streamers extending to the hemline, attended as matron of honor. Mrs. Holt carried a bouquet of ice blue carnations.

Dr. John M. Holt of Great Bend, Kan., served his brother as best man while ushers were James R. Frazier, brother of the bride, and William C. Pittman, both of Liberal.

Miss Kim Snider of Pampa, niece of the bride was flower girl, wearing a sleeveless dress of ice blue seranno with matching chiffon over skirt, accented by a moss leaf velvet ribbon with long streamers at the empire waistline. She carried a colonial basket of rose petals and wore a wristlet of ice blue miniature carnations.

John M. Holt III of Great Bend, Kan., nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer and Robert Holt of Great Bend, nephew of the bridegroom, and Miss Kelli Snider of Pampa, niece of the bride, handed out mass booklets as the guests arrived.

Guests were greeted in St. Anthony's Parish Hall at the reception held following the wedding rites. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with an arrangement of ice blue carnations flanked by candelabra encircled with greenery and bearing moss green tapers. Mrs. Jewel Snider of Pampa, the bride's sister, served the three-tiered wedding cake which was encircled in greenery, and Mrs. James Frazier of Liberal, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by another sister of the bride, Miss Sandra Frazier of Pampa. Other members of the house party included Mrs. Roger Wilkerson of Turpin, Okla., sister of the bride, and Mrs. W. C. Pittman.

The new Mrs. Holt changed into a two-piece beige and brown ensemble, accented by bone accessories and the rose corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet, prior to departing on a wedding trip to points of interest in Colorado. Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home in Wichita, Kan., where Mr. Holt is employed at the Fourth National Bank and

'Fieder's Choice' Is Program Topic For Rose Society

"Fieder's Choice" was the program presented by William Bennik at the July meeting of Pampa Rose Society.

The program consisted of narration and showing of colored slides of previous Rose Society field trips and flower shows and scenes of travel and camping trips, which the Bennicks had made to the Pacific Northwest, California and Yosemite, and foliage trips through the Arkansas Ozark region and their recent trip to Michigan, the Smokey Mountains and return through the southern states. Also included were snow and sunset scenes taken in the local area.

The society met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carruff with Mr. and Mrs. Holly Gray serving as co-nests.

Mrs. R. E. Darsey, president, led the group in giving the Club Collect and presided over the business session at which standing reports were given.

"Next Month in Our Rose Garden" was presented by Mrs. Glenn Radcliff, who stated "The primary concern at this season is the faithful watering, mulching to protect plants from the hot sun, diluted spraying when necessary, and a reminder that August is the final month for fertilizing of roses to allow the stems to harden for the winter dormant season."

Refreshments were served during the social hour to Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Adair and Dr.

It was addressed to you, it read: "Dear Abby, My dad works all the time. He's never home. He gives me money and lots of toys, but I hardly ever see him. I love him and wish he would not work all the time so I could see him more." (signed) Danny
