Administration Begins Study Of Medical Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government study of rising medical costs—ordered by President Johnson—is likely to find the major causes are the mounting wages of hospital workers and the high price of new treatments, a UPI survey showed today.

Senate Starts Aid to Cities Investigation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators set out today to discover just how much the federal government spends on aid to the nation's cities and to determine if any of it is "padding."

Officials of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), which is responsible for coordinating federal urban aid, were summoned before a Senate subcommittee to explain a 17 billion discrepancy in aid estimates made by HUD Secretary Robert C. Weaver, President Johnson and Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach.

Mayor John Reading of Oakland, Calif., also was scheduled to testify about racial tensions and programs to alleviate them in his city. Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles, ran into a fusillade of criticism about his city's programs during testimony Tuesday before the Senate panel.

Subcommittee Chairman Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., has charged that the Johnson administration does not know how much it is spending to help cities plagued by decay and haunted by violence.

Weaver has placed the annual expenditure at $28 billion for programs that have "a direct impact on urban areas," the President puts it at almost $30 billion, close to the Weaver figure; but Katzenbach said $13 billion was being spent on "direct urban aid."

Ribicoff was expected to make public an itemized breakdown of the varying estimates. Just how much the federal government is giving and how much the cities are getting has been a foggy and continuing issue during the hearings.

Testimony from some of the nation's mayors shows that New York gets "somewhere above $500 million but below $1 billion," Detroit, "about $100 million," and Los Angeles, $4 million.

BOXES ARE OPENED

Countdown Resumed On Illegal Ballots

The countdown to determine who will be the Democratic nominee for county judge at the general election in November was resumed at 2 p.m. today in the Gray County courthouse.

Opening of stub boxes from the May 7 Republican primary and the June 4 Democratic runoff got under way at 3:15 p.m. yesterday after District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich overruled all arguments against it.

Pampa attorney A. J. Carubbi Jr. finally had gained his point to have the boxes opened and County Judge Bill Craig had lost his three-month battle to keep the 8-vote margin he received over Carubbi in the election night count. Craig was announced the runoff winner at that time 1,785 to 1,777.

The first hour and 15 minutes of yesterday afternoon's hearing in 31st District Court was taken up with plaintiff's testimony by County Clerk Charlie Thut, Carubbi and District Clerk Helen Sprinkle. Craig's attorney, Bill Kolius survey of hospitals and doctors in key metropolitan areas across the nation. The government study apparently is aimed at stemming charges Medicare has forced costs up.

None of those contacted in the UPI survey found any direct link between the Medicare plan of health care for the elderly—which went into effect July 1—and medical costs, which have risen 2.8 per cent in the last six months, 5 per cent from July, 1965, to July, 1966.

Secretary John W. Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) announced the government study Tuesday. He said Johnson ordered "a quick and very hard look" at the increases.

Erhard In Jam As Top Military Aides Resign

BONN (UPI) — Resignations offered by two of West Germany's four top military commanders in protest of policy decisions by civilian superiors presented Chancellor Ludwig Erhard today with the most serious crisis of his three years in office.

The Defense Ministry announced late Tuesday that armed forces (Bundeswehr) commander Gen. Heinz Tretner had submitted his resignation. Only 24 hours earlier, it was disclosed that the air force chief, Lt. Gen. Werner Panitzki, had offered his and, in turn, had been suspended.

Tretner said he wants to quit because he disagrees with Defense Minister Kai Uwe von Hassel's decision permitting recruiting campaigns by trade unions inside military barracks.

Panitzki was suspended for criticizing Hassel and Parliament leaders, charging them with incompetence in solving the Luftwaffe's problems with the crash-plagued F104G Starfighter. Scores of the sophisticated Lockheed F104Gs have crashed with West German pilots at the controls.

The twin resignations, both submitted earlier this month, dramatized reports of growing dissatisfaction among the military with its civilian leaders.

It was the first time any top German commander had quit in such a manner since 1958, when chief of staff Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck resigned in protest over Hitler's war policy.

of Amarillo, was overruled on all objections to questions asked by attorney John Warner, one of Carubbi's law partners.

After overruling Kolius' final argument that no predicate had been set to show any illegal votes had been cast in the election, that all evidence so far was hearsay and secondary and the only sure way of proving that 71 Republicans voted in both primaries was to put them on the stand, Judge Goodrich turned in his chair and ordered District Clerk Sprinkle to bring in the stub boxes and start opening them.

The first task was to remove the 71 stubs from the boxes and check them against names on the Republican and Democratic poll lists.

The stub box check was started by Judge Goodrich and Mrs. Sprinkle and they were joined by court reporter Bob Baker. The stub search was continued until 5 p.m. when Judge Goodrich said it would be resumed (See BALLOTS, Page 3)

Gardner appointed William Gorham, assistant HEW secretary for program coordination, to head the study. It is to be completed "at the earliest possible date."

Heading into the study, HEW officials said it was too early to determine what, if any, effects Medicare has had on medical costs. Previously, however, a top government official had said privately he felt rising costs and Medicare obviously were related.

The official said he felt doctors had begun adjusting to the advent of Medicare and federal payment for some treatment, even before the program went into effect.

He reasoned that Medicare would increase the demand for health care to be levied against an already short supply of hospital beds and doctors, thus increasing costs.

He also cited the increasing pressure from nurses and non-professional hospital staff members for higher wages as a factor in higher overall medical costs, and the apparent cause of hospital rates increasing more rapidly than doctors' charges.

Charles W. Dordwell, executive director of Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami, Fla., appeared to speak for many hospital administrators, among them those contacted in Boston, Dallas and New York City, when he said:

"It is true that operating costs have increased during the past 6 months. It is also true that hospital operating costs have increased 7 to 8 per cent per annum for the past 15 months. There are several reasons for this.

"Salaries paid to hospital employees, both professional (doctors and nurses) and non-professional (custodians and maintenance men) have been lower than those paid in industry. In other words, hospitals are now beginning to catch up. . . as they must insure care for the sick patient."

Plane Down Near Borger

BORGER, Tex. (UPI) — A single-engine airplane reported missing on a flight from Akron, Colo. to Spearman, Tex., was found today north of this Texas Panhandle city.

First reports said the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Collard Jr., of Spearman, had been brought to North Plains Hospital in Borger, but that they were not believed seriously hurt.

The Collards were reported to have stayed with their plane after it went down until daylight enabled them to seek help.

The aircraft, a blue and white Piper Tri-pacer, left Akron at 7:19 CST and was scheduled to arrive at Spearman, 50 miles north of Borger, about 11 p.m.

Marine Unit Captures Cong 'War College'

U.S. Troops Find Diplomas In Camp

SAIGON (UPI) — A force of more than 600 U.S. Marines today captured a Communist "war college" during heavy fighting in a mountain jungle so thick artillery was rendered useless. At least 44 Viet Cong were killed in a battle which raged through the day.

The fighting took place on a 3,000-foot mountain near Dai Lot, 370 miles north of Saigon and only 14 miles southwest of the Da Nang base of Viet Nam Leathernecks. Thick growth climbs 60 to 100 feet above the jungle floor on the mountainside.

Three Marine companies were involved in the battle, taking heavy fire from an entrenched Viet Cong battalion, also number about 600. Marine

Cuban Refugees Report Possible Soviet Sub-Base

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuban refugees reported Tuesday the Soviet Union is operating a multi-million dollar fishing port in Havana that easily could be converted to military use, particularly as a submarine base.

But one exile, a former construction worker at the port, said he saw no signs of any Russian military facilities at the base.

Seven refugees, who fled the Communist island in a 17-foot skiff, told interviewers at the Cuban refugee center here that tight security prevails at the port. Most of the 400 to 500 workers there are Russians, the refugees said.

The port, with docks, possibly two dry docks, warehouses, storage freezers and repair facilities, was constructed by the Russians under the terms of a 1962 Cuban-Soviet agreement. But the Russians subsequently reserved the port for the exclusive use of their fishing fleet in its "harvest" of the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Under construction for several years, the port now is in virtual full operation. The Soviet news agency Tass earlier this year called the base "the largest and most modern in Latin America." It maintains direct radio contact with Moscow.

French ships are the only non-Soviet vessels using the port, the refugees said. The French take aboard about 7,000 tons of Cuban beef every 15 to 20 days, apparently as barter payment for French heavy equipment, the reports said.

Orbiter To Take Shots Of Earth From Luna Area

HAMPTON, Va. (UPI) — America's orbiting camera bug is expected to transmit Thursday man's first view of earth from the vicinity of the moon.

The 850-pound spacecraft, known as Lunar Orbiter, was commanded electronically Tuesday to take a photograph of earth in addition to its primary chore of photographing possible landing sites on the moon.

The picture of earth is to be transmitted to the deep space network tracking station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) at Goldstone, Calif.

Scientists believe the picture will verify theory regarding the earth's terminator—the line dividing the sunlit and shadowed portions of the planet. The moon's terminator appears from earth to be a sharply divided line, but scientists believe atmospheric effects diffuse sunlight in such a way that earth's terminator will appear as a region of gradual shading from light to dark.

Despite a malfunctioning camera, Orbiter transmitted at least 26 pictures 240,000 miles back to the NASA research center at Langley Air Force base here Tuesday.

Scientists described half the shots, those taken at a distance by medium resolution cameras, as "excellent." However, they were disappointed in the 13 close-up shots.

Officials blamed the "poor" quality close-ups on a film advancing mechanism which apparently was malfunctioning. They said they would continue efforts to correct the problem.

Committee Approves Measures Against Any Viet Cong Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities today approved 7 to 0 a bill to make it a crime for Americans to knowingly send aid to groups such as the Viet Cong.

The measure also would make it a criminal offense for anyone to attempt to block the movement of American troops or materiel within the United States.

The full committee met for about an hour in closed session today and accepted without change the bill amended and approved Tuesday by a subcommittee which last week conducted a tumultuous series of hearings on the bill.

Absent from today's full committee session were Reps. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., and George F. Semmer Jr., D-Ariz. Committee Chairman Edwin Willis, D-La., said the bill would be brought to the House floor as soon as possible. Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., chairman of the subcommittee, predicted Tuesday that it would win overwhelming House approval.

Pool and others introduced the measure after reading of recent efforts by West Coast groups to raise money and blood for the Viet Cong and one unsuccessful attempt to stop a troop train.

If the bill becomes law—and that's a big if—Americans sending aid to the Viet Cong or North Viet Nam would be liable to 20-year prison sentences. Administration officials have been telling the committee for the past two days that the bill is unnecessary because there are plenty of federal, state and local laws to cover the situation; it could infringe on freedom of speech; and it could work to the disadvantage of American prisoners of war in North Viet Nam.

Rights March Spurs Officials' Chicago Meet

CHICAGO (UPI) — Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner called a top-level meeting today to decide whether to send National Guard troops into suburban Cicero, most volatile target of Dr. Martin Luther King's open occupancy drive.

Civil rights leaders, meanwhile, kept the pressure on by scheduling another protest march this afternoon into an all-white Chicago neighborhood. Marchers Tuesday evening tramped past a flurry of rebel flags and swastikas into the "east end" neighborhood on the city's far south side, where they were met by jeering, stone-throwing whites. Nineteen persons were arrested.

Kerner called the meeting in his Springfield Statehouse offices after Cicero officials requested National Guard troops to help prevent an "obvious disaster" when King leads his followers into the all-white suburb next Sunday.

The meeting was scheduled to start at 11 a.m., CST. Cicero town officials as well as Cook County Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie were invited to the meeting. Sources close to the governor said Kerner was likely to comply with the request for troops.

Ogilvie said if a promise of troops was not forthcoming, he would seek a court injunction to stop the marchers from entering the racially sensitive suburb, scene of anti-Negro riots 15 years ago.

Cicero has 90 policemen, and officials there said even an influx of state and county troopers would prove inadequate to protect the marchers. Ogilvie has called King's planned march "suicidal."

New Orbits Called Off

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The Defense Department, concerned about a possible flaw in seven orbiting military communications satellites, Tuesday night postponed today's scheduled attempt to orbit eight more.

The launch by a powerful Titan 3C rocket was rescheduled for Saturday to give the defense communications agency time to evaluate operation of the seven switchboard satellites orbited in June.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration still planned to use a Saturn 1 super rocket Thursday for a boost and unmanned Apollo spaceship three quarters of the way around the world to a Pacific Ocean recovery fleet.

The 93-minute sub-orbital flight must be passed to clear the way for the launch of three Apollo astronauts in an identical spacecraft in November.

Pampa Officials Attend Texas Water Plan Hearing In Amarillo

A delegation from Pampa joined officials from other Panhandle cities today at a regional hearing on the Texas Water Plan in Amarillo.

Mayor Jim Nation, City Manager Jim White and Chamber President Norman Henry left early today to attend the hearing which opened at 9 a.m. in the Herring Hotel.

Also at the meeting were representatives of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. After a briefing on the Water Plan and proposed development of the Canadian River Basin, local spokesmen were scheduled to tell the state board they felt West Texas and the Panhandle had been slighted in the overall planning. They were expected to request that further study be given by the board to the area's future needs for water development especially from its agricultural and irrigation aspects.

Bob Price, congressional candidate, attended today's meeting and suggested the TWDB take the lead in formation of an interstate Water Compact Commission to study long-range water needs of the West and Southwest.

"Since the Board has found it not feasible to transport water from East Texas to West Texas and Congress has refused to include this area in the Lower Colorado River Basin Project Study I believe the compact to be the most logical step," Price said.

He pointed to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission has had as a voluntary, non-federal organization in conserving the nation's petroleum supplies.

Price said he would support the action to get necessary Congressional approval for an interstate compact commission and also urged immediate action on the board's proposal; that the 36,000 shallow depressions (playa lakes) in West Texas be modified to conserve and utilize rain water which falls in the area.

Price urged further studies into the possibilities of recharging the underground water table (See PAMPA, Page 3)

General Promises An End To Civilian War Deaths In V.N.

SAIGON (UPI)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland, gravely concerned at the rising number of civilian war casualties, has set up a board to review control procedures for American firepower, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

Nearly 400 civilians have been killed or wounded in the past two months by American weapons. Most of the casualties have been simple errors. But one or two have been caused by violations of already existing procedures in the use of weapons of war.

A spokesman said 157 civilians have been killed and 241 wounded since July 1.

"Let one fact be clear," Westmoreland said. "As far as the United States Military Assistance Command in Viet Nam (MACV) is concerned, one mishap — one innocent civilian killed, one civilian wounded or one dwelling needlessly destroyed, is too many."

Johnson Plans Western Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson was expected to formally announce today his plans for a quick visit to Denver Friday on a trip to the Far West.

Johnson probably will speak at ceremonies marking the start of construction of a $1 million space science center at the University of Denver. He also will receive an honorary degree.

Police and Secret Service officials met Tuesday, apparently to discuss security precautions for the visit. Monday the presidential jet, Air Force One, made a landing at Denver's Stapleton International Airport.

Colorado's four Democratic Congressmen are expected to fly in with the President. Johnson also is expected to make stops in Idaho and Oklahoma before flying to the LBJ Ranch in Texas for the weekend.

Johnson Okays Pet Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today signed legislation to curb petknapping and require humane treatment of some research animals.

Although the National Humane Society has charged that the new law does not go far enough, it provides for humane treatment standards for half a dozen research animals plus more extensive controls over the sale of dogs and cats for research.

Under the law, the secretary of agriculture is authorized to license research animal dealers, register research facilities, and set out requirements for the sale, transportation and care of small animals.

While much of the bill is limited to dogs and cats, the humane treatment provisions extend to monkeys, guinea pigs, hamsters and rabbits.

In response to fears of researchers that valuable experiments could be obstructed, the bill exempts animals from coverage "during actual research or experimentation."

Provisions aimed at curbing a growing number of thefts of family pets require dealers to mark dogs and cats in a humane manner and hold them for five days after acquiring them.

The law sets penalties of up to $1,000 and one year in prison for dealers' violations and up to $500 per offense per day for violations by research facilities.

School Budget Hearing Thursday

Board of trustees of Pampa Independent School District will hold a public hearing of the proposed school budget at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school superintendent's office, 126 W. Francis.

Interested citizens are invited to attend the hearing. Thursday night's agenda will include official acceptance of a budget of $2,916,247.10 for the 1966-67 school year which was given tentative approval in executive session held Aug. 18.

Official authorization is expected to be given to conduct a study of the overall building needs in Pampa schools.

Disease Kills Sixth Person

DALLAS (UPI)—A sixth person has died here of encephalitis and 89 other persons have contracted the mosquito-carried disease, health officials said Tuesday.

Six twin-engine Air Force planes converted into mosquito bombers were to bomb more of the county with insecticides today to kill the insects before more persons are infected.

High winds Tuesday caused the C123 to cut short their bombing runs but authorities said about 75,000 more acres of the county had received coatings of Malathion insecticide.

Senate Calls Up Bill To Hike Minimum Wage To $1.60

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate leaders, acting to clear the docket before the start of the civil rights fight two weeks hence, today called up a bill to increase the federal minimum wage to $1.60 and expand its coverage.

The minimum wage bill, already passed by the House, was one of the legislative items listed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield for action before the Sept. 6 kickoff of the inevitable civil rights filibuster.

As it came from the Senate Labor Committee, the bill would increase the minimum wage 35 cents to $1.60 in 1968 and extend the coverage to an additional 7.2 million new workers.

Other fights were expected on amendments to eliminate coverage of farm workers and to

Use of Fireplace Damages Home

Ordinarily fireplaces are purely ornamental during August, but yesterday's unseasonably cool temperatures prompted a Pampa family to make one functional with ill results.

At 1:43 p.m. yesterday, Sub Station No. 2 answered an alarm turned in for the D. F. Tice residence, 817 Malone. After lighting an artificial fireplace, a faulty connection ignited fumes causing minor smoke and fire damage.

Today's Amarillo hearing was one of a series of regional discussions held by the Texas Water Board since mid-June on its statewide plan to conserve water resources through the year 2020 when the state is expected to have a population of more than 30,000,000 persons.

In addition to the hearing on the Water Plan today, officials of the Texas Water Pollution Control Board also conducted a hearing on the Canadian River Basin's water quality.

A final hearing on the Water Plan is scheduled Sept. 9 in Lubbock where testimony on the plan and the role of West Texas, the High Plains and the Trans-Pecos in the overall project will be heard.

Today's Amarillo hearing was conducted by Joe G. Moore Jr., executive director of the state board, and Donald B. Yarborough, general counsel. Moore also is chairman of the Texas Water Pollution Control Board.

Police Issue Three Tickets

Citations were issued yesterday to Pampa motorists found in violation of traffic ordinances.

Pamela B. Cloud, 823-A N. Nelson, was cited for failure to yield right of way to a vehicle following a collision with a car driven by Priscilla R. Martin, 612 N. Dwight, according to a police report.

Police said the accident occurred around 6 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Gwendolyn and Nelson Streets.

Damages to the Martin car was estimated at $250 with the Cloud car incurring $350 damages.

Citations for failure to control speed to avoid an accident and having an expired Texas Drivers' license were issued Marion L. Fulton of Guyton, Okla., by city police following a collision yesterday.

The Fulton car was in collision with a car driven by Robert W. Vick, 1004 E. Browning in the 600 block E. Browning around 5:15 p.m. yesterday.

The Vick car, turning into a private driveway, was struck from the rear by the Fulton auto, according to a police report.

Estimated damage to the Vick vehicle was $200 with the Fulton car sustaining approximately $300 damages.

Tex., 70 miles southwest of Carlsbad, many residents took to rooftops.

The Pecos River, normally only a trickle, combined with gushing arroyos to drive 130 families from their homes in Carlsbad, where nearly eight inches of rain fell. Two persons drowned in the onrushing water.

Joe Little, 45, a newsman for radio station KPBM, Carlsbad, was swept to his death. Tuesday when a truck driven by state highway patrolman Bill Holder overturned.

Holder managed to grab a lifeline but Little missed it and floodwaters swept him away. A few hours later a 6-year-old girl also was lost in the flood.

at 2 p.m. today.

Stubs were removed from all but two of the Democratic precinct boxes yesterday. The other two and the Republican primary stub boxes were to be checked this afternoon. The GOP boxes should take a comparatively short time since there were only 500 to 600 votes cast in the GOP primary.

When the stub check is completed, the ballot boxes will be opened and numbers on the 71 stubs will be checked against corresponding numbers on the 71 ballots. This will determine for whom each of the ballots was cast.

Totals for each candidate will be subtracted from their June 4 count and the winner announced.

The current recount is being carried out under orders of the 7th Court of District Appeals in Amarillo which ruled if 71 persons voted in both primaries, their votes cast in the June 4 election were illegal.

It was not definitely known, but court observers said it was possible Judge Goodrich would continue the check and count until it was completed tonight. If not, results of the recount might not be known until tomorrow.

Blocked by floodwaters, Mayor Bob Byrd said Carlsbad officials would meet today to decide whether to ask Gov. Jack M. Campbell to declare southeast New Mexico a disaster area.

San Angelo Man Manager Of Year

Russell Willis of San Angelo was named Chamber Manager of the Year according to E. O. Wedgeworth, Pampa Chamber of Commerce manager, who has just returned from Wichita Falls, where he attended the Chamber Managers' Executive Association of West Texas on Monday and Tuesday.

Wedgeworth, a recipient of the first award made in 1963 was a member of the selection committee which named Willis.

The association elected Nolan Conner of Fort Stockton president and Grady Elder of Mineral Wells vice president for the coming year. Wedgeworth attended.

Denton has extended an invitation for the managers' association to meet there next year, which will be considered at the fall directors' meeting of West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in Denton in October.

Dear Abby...
 Don't Overlook Elder's
 Faults Completely

DEAR ABBY: I have always been taught to respect my elders, but my patience is wearing thin. My husband's mother is living with us now, and she really is welcome, but some of the little annoying things she does is beginning to get us down.

For instance, she gets the newspaper first and tears it all apart. She even works the crossword puzzles while my husband sizzles. She sits in his favorite chair and tunes in the TV program she likes. When one of us is on the phone she will ask later what the other party said as she could hear only "our" half of it. She enters into all family discussions and takes the children's side if we correct them.

Is there some way we can let her know she's out of line without creating a major battle? Or should we overlook it?

DEAR L.A.: No don't overlook it. When petty grievances accumulate they are bound to erupt explosively later on. Mention one thing at a time, calmly and kindly. But your husband should do it. She's his mother.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I don't have a sense of humor, but while walking down the street I saw a sign in the window of a ladies' fur store which said, "A small down payment will hold any garment in this window until your husband does something unforgivable." How does that grab you? It made me see red!

DEAR SAW: To paraphrase Goethe, the famed German poet and philosopher, "What a man laughs at is a fairly accurate key to his true character." And to that I could add, "—and also what makes him see red."

DEAR ABBY: Do you see anything wrong with keeping your old friends after you are married? I must know.

DEAR JACK: Certainly keep your "old friends" — but with a few reservations. Don't expect your wife, for example, to feel real affection for any of your old girl friend friends, even though they may be safely married now.

And your wife shouldn't expect you to enjoy the company of an ex beau, whether he's the one who got away, or the one she threw back.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MUST KNOW IMMEDIATELY" IN

BATON ROUGE: The law changes rather abruptly, but the last time I checked, the legal age for marriage in the state of Louisiana was 12 for the girl and 14 for the boy — but only with parental consent. Without it's 16 for the girl and 18 for the boy. Better check this out with your local authorities.

Gifts Help Mark
 Happy Memories

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the most special days on any family's calendar, be it newlyweds or oldweds, is the commemoration of the day the couple wed.

The Jewelry Industry Council (JIC) has compiled a guide to gift suggestions for THE day, divided into three categories — the young years, the family years, the two-of-us-left years.

The JIC suggested that the first nine years of anniversary gifts be for the growing home — with such items as clocks, silverware, china, crystal and electrical appliances.

The 10th through the 15th anniversaries are best commemorated by personal gifts — furs, textiles, diamond or fashion jewelry, pearls and colored gems, gold jewelry and watches — for these are the years in which the children are grown enough to permit parents to go out more than they could before.

The next four years see a return of the cycle to the home, as the children begin to take interest in it. The council suggested furniture, silver holloware, porcelain and bronzes.

The other years, from the 20th anniversary on, again call for personal gifts, since the children have left the nest. Suggested gifts — platinum jewelry and precious stones including diamonds, traditional for the 60th anniversary.

Lady Pinkertons Get Their Man

By GAY PAULEY
 UPI Women's Editor
 NEW YORK (UPI) — They're the gals who get their man. And because their job is in security and investigation, they often also bring in the women.

They're the Lady Pinkertons, hired by the firm which calls itself the world's oldest and largest security service.

The number of women in the field is growing, say Pinkerton executives, because in many instances they can work where a man cannot. But female investigators have been a part of the American scene for more than 100 years.

One of the most celebrated was Kate Warne, credited along with Allan Pinkerton, the firm's founder, and several male investigators with helping to foil a plot to kill President Lincoln in 1861.

"I'd match some of our women investigators with any of our men," said William C. Linn, assistant vice president and director of security.

"Always get their men?" said

Howard Nugent, vice president in charge of Pinkerton's investigative arm, in answer to a question. "Most women do, don't they?"

Some 200 women, either in plain clothes as investigators or in snappily-tailored steel blue uniforms as security hostesses, now work for the firm in a variety of assignments. These include industrial plants, supermarkets and department stores, colleges, hospitals, at conventions, even mental institutions.

"The uniformed women in one mental hospital we serve have proved most helpful," said Linn. "They have a surprisingly calming effect on patients, as opposed to a robust male guard."

Security hostesses were used during the recent New York World's Fair, found especially helpful in one of the fair's biggest headaches—lost children. Linn said that during the fair's two year run, 10,813 boys and girls were returned to worried parents or guardians.

The women fit well into firms where employees are predominantly women—as in a New York cosmetics manufacturing concern where small but expensive products could be concealed within the dress or underclothing of a dishonest employe.

One advantage: There is no restriction to the female guards appearing in the ladies' lounge or locker rooms. They serve, too, to prevent one employe's filching contents of purse or pocket of another.

Women guards do not carry firearms, but their beginning and on-the-job training includes fundamental means of protection. Said Linn, "a heavy handbag swung is as good as any club."

One of the firm's women assigned to a retail store in South Bend, Ind., was a judo expert weighing, as Linn said, "about 125 pounds wringing wet. But she'd tackle a male suspect who outweighed her by 100 and bring him down."

Gardening News

The best roses at the central fair station are at their peak now, especially the group in the east bed which are large, red hybrid tea roses. Vernon Pirkle has done an excellent job in caring for these roses. There is no doubt when talking with him that he is an enthusiastic gardener.

Pampa National Flower Show Judges met recently in Amarillo with other judges of this panhandle area for lunch as well as a business session and program. A report was given on the last landscape school which was held in Stillwater, Okla. and is open to all garden club members. (Many times it is closer to attend these schools in Oklahoma and other neighboring states than in our own state of Texas.)

Mrs. Joe Deason reported on the Symposium held in Denver the first of August. So that garden club members can be well informed gardeners and flower arrangers, many and varied schools are made available at very little cost with great rewards. The last in a series of flower show schools will be held in Amarillo on Sept. 27-29. Any garden club member is eligible to attend. Several Pampa judges will be attending a Symposium (an advanced school) in Dallas in November. We are proud of the six judges Pampa has, but more are needed.

Those who attended the Amarillo judges meeting were: Mmes. V. N. Osborn, John Sweeney and this columnist. Mrs. Osborn was appointed to serve on the nominating committee to select officers for the next term. After the meeting was concluded all judges were invited to attend the "Pictorial Briefing of Amarillo's New Civic Center" presented by the mayor and other city officials.

Anyone planning a trip near South Dakota in September should make a special effort to see the Corn Palace in Mitchell, South Dakota. As a tourist attraction in the upper midwest, it is next to Mount Rushmore with the heads of the four presidents carved on the mountain. The Corn Palace is a large building covered entirely with corn of fifteen to twenty different colors. The Indian corn is grown in light and dark reds; the squaw corn comes in shades of lavender, pink and blue. Then there are ears of corn in red, yellow and white. It is the only such building in the world. The architecture resembles a large Turkish mosque with each of its beehive-like domes topped by an American flag waving in the wind. Each year a different theme is pictured, using the different colored grains of corn. The building is used as the city auditorium but the outside of the building serves as a grand feeding station for all the birds in that area.

Redecorating the Corn Palace each year costs about $20,000. Oscar Howe, a full-blooded Sioux Indian artist, is the designer. He works out the annual theme. The work starts just as soon as the corn in South Dakota is ready to harvest. The corn and grains of the earliest varieties are grown especially for the Corn Palace so there will be enough for decorating. It takes thousands of tons of both corn and grains to decorate the Palace and many workers to do the job. By mid-September the work must be completed, for that is when the annual Corn Palace Week is observed.

Work will continue Thursday morning at 8:30 at the Perryton Parkway if this soggy ground dries out. Pampa Garden Club members who worked last week were: Mmes. Carlos Grissom, Floyd Watson, Al Kouri, V. N. Osborn and this columnist, Randy Watson was also there to work as well as four faithful Boy Scouts. Mrs. Osborn provided the workers with a Blackberry Jam Cake and Bonnie Grissom served coffee.

Nervy Notes

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Tension is a useful tool because it helps a person to meet challenges, reports Mrs. Marguerite L. Duvall, a family life specialist at Pennsylvania State University.

However, Mrs. Duvall warns, if life is perpetually difficult and a person is constantly worried and upset, he may break under the strain.

One response to tension may be to ignore the pressures, she points out. Someone under too many tranquilizers doesn't see the problem and may not respond to what are normal demands of the situation.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A real estate salesman told me recently that the first thing most home buyers want to know about a new house is how many bathrooms it has.

After that, they consider the minor features, such as whether the house has a roof. You might think, as I did, that the demand for extra bathrooms was created by women. But that is not the case.

I have just learned that the trend actually represents a revolt by American men against traditional female domination of the bathroom.

The big question is no longer whether married couples should have twin beds, but whether they should have twin baths. "Men who in the past have been resigned to a bathroom planned for women and used mostly by women are asking for their own separate bathrooms," says a press release from Sherle Wagner, a leading bathroom designer.

The popular suburban custom of installing an extra basin in the bathroom "is not enough for some men," she says. "They want total freedom of the bath. Where space limitations make two bathrooms impossible, the minimum requirement are two tubs instead of one."

She goes on to say that the only time some busy couples have to talk is while bathing in their "back-to-back" tubs. As a member of the downtrodden male sex I cannot but applaud this rare display of aggressiveness on the part of my brethren. For the life of me, however, I cannot imagine what sort of conversation a man and his wife would have in back-to-back tubs.

Side-to-side maybe. Or even facing each other. But back-to-back conversations could cause complications.

She: I plan to take junior to the store today and buy him a pair of sturdy brown oxfords. Will you need the car?
 He: Blub-blub.
 She: Are you listening to me, Homer?
 He: Sorry, I had my head under water.

Or she is in her tub talking a blue streak and not realizing that all the while he is taking a shower.

Besides that, bathtubs are a place for singing, not colloquy. If you happen to be married to a woman who handles the terror part of "On the Road to Mandalay," okay.

Soviet Economy Still Plagued With Shortcomings

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union, like other Communist countries in its drive to collect much needed foreign convertible currency, is swallowing plenty of national and ideological pride.

The Soviet economy with all its shortcomings is making steady progress and the living standard is the highest in this country has known, although still considerably below that of many Western countries.

Today, if you have foreign money, you can buy almost everything for the palate and stomach, from domestic raw potatoes to Havana cigars and good scotch whiskey.

Durable industrial goods, television and transistor sets, tape recorders and typewriters, can be bought at prices to be envied by any shopper at an American discount store.

There is a special restaurant with an orchestra, a grocery store, bars where cocktails and highballs from imported liquors are sold, furniture and oriental rug shops, clothing and souvenir boutiques—all for the privileged owner of foreign currency.

Not only goods but also rents and services can be had by tourists and resident foreigners only for foreign currency.

HERBICIDES REPLACED CULTIVATION—At Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center, McGregor, cotton that was not cultivated yielded as high and higher than cotton cultivated twice. The A&M researchers are experimenting to see if cotton or other row crops will produce high yields — using herbicides instead of cultivation.

HEW to Study Medical Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Tuesday asked the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to undertake a major study of medical costs, which have climbed 3.4 per cent in the past six months.

The President's request was disclosed by HEW Secretary John W. Gardner, who had gone to the White House to submit reports on federal aid to colleges and health legislation. Gardner said Johnson himself had raised the question of rising medical costs and had asked him "to undertake a major study."

Asked if the increase was related to the newly-launched Medicare program, Gardner said only that the costs had been rising for several months. As to what the government could do about doctors' fees, he said he was not sure, but that the study would go into hospital costs, medicines, doctors' fees and other medical expenses.

Reminded that he once expressed fear that the medical insurance program might lead to abuses, he said he was not suggesting that any such thing had resulted from the Medicare program, but that "a hard and very quick look" was in order.

Priests Convicted Of Church's Theft

PARIS (UPI)—Two priests were convicted Tuesday of robbing 79 Parisian churches of gold objects and other treasures over the past four years.

Father Michael Demissy, 35, was sentenced to two years in prison and Father Pierre Breux, 36, to 18 months. Alne Bergeron, 24, a former Roman Catholic Girl Scout who was described as Breux's girlfriend, was fined $60 for receiving stolen goods.

South Vietnamese Elections Will Hold Great Importance In Support Of U.S. Predictions

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst SAIGON (UPI)—When or if Pham Dinh Tuan casts his ballot in South Viet Nam's national elections Sept. 11, he will be a participant in an event of extraordinary free world importance.

The "if" also is important because Pham Dinh Tuan, who lives in Quang Nam Province just below Da Nang, may not live to see election day. Or he may have been marched away from his village by the Communist Viet Cong to prevent his presence at the polling place.

Or he may have remained at home, either out of apathy toward the election or fear of Viet Cong reprisal. The issue is comparatively simple. On Sept. 11, approximately 4.9 million South Vietnamese voters in the 43 provinces will be asked to elect 117 deputies to a constituent assembly which in turn will write a new constitution.

other. A strong voter turn-out would destroy the Communist argument that the U.S. and South Vietnamese superiority in arms is more than offset by the Saigon government's political weakness.
