Troops Kill 271 Cong

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Army or American guns and were helicopter-borne troops chopped up a Communist force today in a snow-balling anti-guerrilla sweep on the South China Sea coast.

A spokesman at 1st Air Cavalry Division headquarters at An Khe said the multi-brigade force in "Operation Irving" had killed at least 271 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in 30 hours of fighting.

The Air Cavalry, pioneers in the art of helicopter warfare pounced on a mixed North Vietnamese-Viet Cong force in a coastal valley of the Central Highlands Sunday and cut down 190. They killed the rest today as they chased the Communists down a split of land into the sea.

Another 60 Communists have been captured and almost 200 suspected guerrillas taken into custody, the spokesman said.

American casualties were described as light.

The big mountain fight was taking place about 35 miles northeast of Saigon and about 30 miles north of the central coastal city of Qui Nhon in Binh Dinh Province.

About 80 miles to the south, American paratroopers Sunday made their way across thickly jungled mountains to free 23 Vietnamese inmates of a Viet Cong prison camp. They had been led to the camp by one of the 11 persons they freed from a similar Viet Cong prison camp about a mile away last week.

In a tragic setback, one of the American soldiers was killed and three others wounded when they were in support of U.S. Marines fighting along the southern fringes of the South-Viet Nam border in a continuing effort to cut the flow of Hanoi troops and supplies into South Viet Nam.

Bus Drivers' Meeting Same As Any Strike

DALLAS (UPI)—About 500 Dallas municipal bus drivers who want a bigger raise than the city has given them held a "continuous meeting today."

The meeting had the same effect as a strike and only six of about 200 buses were running.

B. Suddeth, a spokesman for the city-owned Dallas Transit Co., said an assistant city attorney obtained an injunction, ordering the drivers to go back to work and it was served on union officials.

But at last report, the meeting was still going on and stranded bus riders were either taking automobiles, or if they had them, using taxis or thumbing rides.

"It's in bad shape," Grady Atkins, president of the transit workers' union, said. "I would like to see something worked out."

"I have no idea when the buses will run again. It's in the hands of management. It's not a strike. We're not allowed to strike."

Suddeth at first said no buses were running but he later amended this to say six drivers had shown up. The effects of the strike began to be felt at 6 a.m.

The city recently gave a 4 percent wage increase to bus company workers. With fringe benefits, the city claimed that workers got a total of 8 percent.

Atkins last week told the city council it was not enough and asked that the council appoint a committee to examine workers' grievances. The council did not appoint a committee or make any promises.

With the 4 percent wage increase, the wages of bus drivers went up from $2.50 to $2.60 an hour after one year.

Claims Discrimination

Atkins told the city council that transit workers were discriminated against. He said Dallas transit wages are 20 percent or 50 cents an hour lower than the average of more than 25 transit systems comparable to the Dallas system.

Stranded bus riders turned to taxis to get to work. Taxi companies said they had a heavy backlog of calls and could not clear them up.

Electric Union Bargainers Adhere To Johnson Plea

Negotiations Resume Under Cabinet Eyes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—General Electric Co. and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), responding to an urgent appeal from President Johnson, resume bargaining here today under the eyes of a special three-man cabinet team.

The threat of a nationwide strike of some 100,800 GE workers was lifted—at least for two weeks—Sunday night when union leaders called off a walkout set for midnight and agreed to extend negotiations.

The President's appeal, based on GE's importance as a leading supplier of Viet Nam war needs, came just six hours before the strike was to begin.

Negotiations were to resume here today at 12 noon CST.

Russia Admits Missile Experts Aiding Viet Nam

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia has admitted for the first time that Soviet rocket specialists have been sent to Hanoi to train North Vietnamese missile crews.

An article in the military newspaper Red Star also acknowledged that at least one team of Soviet advisers narrowly escaped death or injury during an American bombing raid.

But the newspaper said Sunday, the Soviet team watched the Vietnamese pilots bring down an American plane with one of the surface-to-air missiles (SAMs) that Russia has sent in increasing numbers to bolster North Viet Nam's anti-aircraft defenses.

The Red Star article confirmed two long-standing Western assumptions—that the Soviet technicians and rocket specialists were training Vietnamese missile crews and that these advisers have come under American fire.

The Soviets, while admitting shipments of "considerable" military aid to Hanoi, had never before reported publicly on the presence of Soviet soldiers there. The Soviet press has in the past, however, carried reports of Russian ships coming under fire during U.S. air raids on Haiphong harbor.

Dean Rusk To Talk Viet Nam With French Foreign Minister Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk meets today with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville for the first of a series of talks expected to range over Viet Nam, NATO and international trade.

The meeting of Rusk and Couve de Murville was preparatory to a Tuesday morning session scheduled for the French official with President Johnson.

Administration officials were hoping that the talks might narrow Viet Nam policy differences slightly, but they doubted it.

Johnson, who spent the weekend at his Camp David retreat in Maryland, has not indicated just what he and Couve de Murville will discuss. But White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said last week there would be "no limit" on the range of subjects.

U.S. officials indicated that the most they hope, at present would be to halt what they consider a steady drift of French policy on Viet Nam away from neutrality to a stand closely resembling the Communist attitude. They said it also was possible Couve de Murville might be induced to provide additional information on the results of French President Charles de Gaulle's talk early last month in Cambodia with the representative of the Communist Viet Cong.

On NATO matters, the main American effort will be to secure some softening of the (See RUSK, Page 3)

PHILIPPINE FOREIGN MINISTER SAYS Manila Conference Postponed To Later Date In October

MANILA (UPI)—Philippine Foreign Minister Narciso Ramos said today the seven-nation summit conference on Viet Nam would be postponed to a date later than Oct. 18 at the request of several of the invited governments.

He did not give newsmen a specific date for the conference but said it would be held in October in Manila. It was originally scheduled for Oct. 18.

Ramos said a foreign ministers' meeting would precede the summit talks but refused to disclose any details.

President Ferdinand E. Marcos, meanwhile, said the summit conference would be the first concrete step towards a negotiated settlement of the Viet Nam war. He spoke in a nationwide broadcast on his return from a three-week visit to the United States and Japan.

"This conference has been called because it is the obligation of any responsible leader to contribute his share no matter how humble and modest in the promotion of world peace," he said.

"It is necessary that seven nations which are like-minded in Viet Nam should get together and agree to a consensus before they mount a peace offensive."

"This is the first concrete step to be taken towards a negotiated settlement of the Viet Nam war and I'm proud that such a concrete step will take place within the jurisdiction of the Philippines."

Northern African Tribes Engage In Bloody Clash

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI)—Reports of violent bloody tribal clashes in this African nation's turbulent northern region reached the capital today.

Refugees and travelers arriving here from Kano, the northern region's isolated capital, reported fighting during the weekend between northern Moslem Hausas and eastern region Ibos living in Kano.

The death toll was not immediately known though it was believed to be high.

The Hausas and Ibos have long been intensely hostile, their tribal rivalry based on geographic and economic factors.

(In London it was reported that in Kano at least 300 persons died in vicious rioting which began Friday when Hausas, including mutinous Hausa soldiers, began attacking Ibos trying to flee the region.)

Another 150 were believed to have died in other troubled northern region cities, such as Kaduna, Zaria, and Jos where a "shoot-on-sight" curfew was imposed Friday by Nigeria's military ruler Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, (a northerner.)

Inez Spares Florida; Heads Toward Bahamas

MIAMI (UPI)—Rebuilding luxury hotels and a big U.S. missile tracking station turned into the Bahama Islands where a hurricane spawned tornado killed one person and injured four others.

The tornado spun across a portion of Nassau, the Bahama's capital on New Providence Island, with winds exceeding 100 miles an hour, wrecking several houses. A 15-month-old child perished when the roof of his home ripped away in the shrieking winds, about three miles south of the city.

The twister, an offshoot of the hurricane, ripped up big trees by their roots and flooded highways hampering rescue of the injured. As Inez pointed 80 mile an hour wind toward the northern Bahama Islands of Great Abaco and Grand Bahama, the weather bureau ordered gale warnings lowered along the southeast Florida coast.

A 7 a.m. CST advisory centered Inez about 100 miles east-southeast of Miami near latitude 25.3 north, longitude 78.6 west. This was about 100 miles due south of Grand Bahama, richly endowed with Bahama hotels and a big U.S. missile tracking station.

At dawn, the hurricane was moving on a north-northeast path at a slow seven miles an hour.

Forecasters said they expected Inez to increase in forward speed gradually and to intensify its center winds to 100 m.p.h. Although it appeared Inez would miss the mainland, it sent high seas crashing against the coastline and the weather bureau warned small craft from Florida to the Virginia Capes to remain in protected waters.

Gales and heavy rains are expected in the Bahamas, if an Andros Island north and northeastward today," the early morning advisory stated.

"Hurricane force winds will likely occur in portions of the Berry Islands this morning and the Abaco area this afternoon and early tonight."

Tides of four to eight feet are expected where hurricane force winds occur.

Torrential rains ahead of the lethal hurricane, already responsible for 1,300 deaths and

Anti-Inflation Second Stage Is Underway

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Johnson administration today launched the second stage of its drive for swift congressional approval of the President's anti-inflation measure.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler appears before the Senate Finance Committee to urge suspension of two tax incentives that have helped corporate plant investment become one of the most inflationary aspects of the nation's economy.

Fowler was in for some sharp questioning from the committee, especially in the light of an industrial survey which reported that the Johnson plan would fall far short of its aim of restraining investment.

Ford's Electric Car Breakthrough May End Smog

DEARBORN, Mich. (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. today unveiled an inexpensive high-energy battery to electrically power small cars for city driving.

But Ford gave no timetable on when electric cars would be available except to say it might be within the next decade.

The breakthrough battery which promises to relieve air pollution caused by exhaust from conventional gasoline-powered cars, is based on a new principle. It is made of crystalline ceramic, sodium and sulphur, three cheap and abundant materials.

Ford did not show how big the battery would be, how fast it could propel a car or how far the car could go between battery charges.

But Michael Ference Jr., vice president for scientific research, said the battery could store up to 15 times as much electrical energy as the conventional lead-acid batteries of today.

Ference said Ford also had developed a rugged, low-cost electric car motor which weighs only one-fourth as much as today's best direct-current motors with equivalent power rating.

Ference said Ford studies indicated a whole new approach to vehicle engineering is needed to develop a car for use with the electrical system.

He said Ford of England is now engineering a low-cost city car smaller than today's U.S. compact models to carry two adult passengers and two children.

Oregon Jet Crashes Kills 18 Persons

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—18 persons aboard were killed when a DC9, America's newest jetliner, slammed into a heavily timbered Cascade Mountain range of north Oregon only days after it was in service.

The West Coast Airlines plane crashed and burned on the crest of a 4,000-foot ridge miles southeast of Portland Saturday night on a flight from San Francisco to Seattle.

The wreckage of the sleek twin-engine jet was found Sunday—less than a week after it was put into service by West Coast. There were no survivors among its 13 passengers a crew of five.

It was the first crash of DC9—a $3-million plane designed by Douglas to be short range jet workhorse—also was the first time West Coast Airlines recorded passenger fatality in its near 20 years of operation.

Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Chairman Charles Murphy said a 12-man C.A.B. investigation team from Washington, D.C., would work intensively here for two to three weeks, seeking data on the crash.

He said the inaccessibility of the area would require that the remains of the victims be taken out by helicopter.

Murphy and members of a team of experts flew over the scene shortly after the wreckage was sighted.

"Obviously," Murphy said, "we cannot tell now why the plane hit the ridge. We do not even tell whether the plane was intact when it hit. But there is no indication that we know of that anything was wrong."

It comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis H. (Ad.)

Power Powers Staff Picks

If you want to know who is going to win football games over the weekend it wouldn't hurt to ask Pampa News General Manager Bill Power. Last year and through three weeks of the 1966 campaign Power has finished no lower than third but once, and that was the first week in 1965. He was second last week but hit 21 of 25 games this past weekend to walk off with top honors in the Daily News staff selections. Power finished one game ahead of another good prognosticator, Chico Ramirez, last year's season winner, who tabbed 20 of 25 contests. Tied for third were sports editor Ron Cross and Mike Gerald and Larry Winger (who?) Power missed only the Dumas upset of Amarillo. Monterey's stunning loss, Tech's loss to the Aggies and North Carolina's easy win over Michigan. Ramirez missed Borger's victory and Coronado's win over Lamesa plus the Monterey, Tech and Michigan contests.

Harvesters Host Palo Duro Dons

By A Staff Writer Tascosa remained all alone at the top of the 3-4A non-district standings today by remaining the only unbeaten team in the district.

The Rebels have run through four straight opponents with ease while Pampa, Caprock and Borger came next with one loss each.

North teams meet the south zones again this week probably the most interesting one being played at Harvester Field. Pampa (3-1) and a 34-20 winner over Plainview host Duro. The Dons are 0-4 and the only team in the district without a victory.

They also have the distinction of being the only team in the district without a point to their names. The law of averages might catch up with 'em at Pampa where the Harvesters have been scoring well but have had trouble keeping the other team from crossing the goalline.

Pampa has scored 74 points but by the same token have given up 80, an average of 15 per game. Tascosa (4-0) plays a non-district game he Amarillo Sandits (22) Saturday. The Rebels downed Bryan Adams of Dallas, 39-16 Saturday. The Sandies were edged by Dumas, 15-14.

Borger (2-1-1) plays host to Dumas (3-1) and the Bulldogs will be looking for the upset. Borger ripped Fort Worth Tech, 21-6 last week. Caprock (3-1) the surprise team in the league, plays host to another surprise team, Lubbock Coronado (22) a 12-6 winner over Lamesa while Monterey (2-2) plays at Plainview (1-3). Monterey was upset 16-0 last week by El Paso Coronado.

In the other game Lubbock (1-3) hosts Bel Air. The Westerners downed El Paso Burges, 33-14 Saturday. Amarillo has the best defensive team in the league, having given up but 40 points while Monterey has given up 41 and Tascosa 44. But the Rebels have shown the best offensive might, scoring 132 points with Borger second with 82.

LA Wins National; Will Play Orioles

'It Don't Hurt Anymore'—Koufax

By United Press International A San Francisco miracle 15 years ago today prevented the Dodgers from winning the 1951 pennant while a 1966 Los Angeles phenomenon stopped the Giants from capturing the flag this season.

On Oct. 3, 1951, Bobby Thomson climaxed the Giants' "Little Miracle" with a three-run homer in the ninth inning of the final National League playoff game to give the Giants a 5-4 victory over the Dodgers. Leo Durocher's hardy band had come from 13 1/2 games back in mid-August to tie the Dodgers on the final day of the campaign and force the playoff.

The Giants' nearly performed another miracle this season and could have won the pennant had not Los Angeles pitching phenomenon Sandy Koufax turned in another clutch stint on the mound.

With a week remaining, the Giants were in third-place four games behind Los Angeles in the loss column. But San Francisco went on a tear, eliminated second-place Pittsburgh and set up the possibility of a playoff if the Dodgers dropped a doubleheader to Philadelphia Sunday while the Giants beat the Pirates and then defeated Cincinnati today in a rescheduled rained-out game. But the contest with the Reds won't be played.

The Dodgers increased the chances for a playoff by losing the opener 4-3 to the Phils while San Francisco erupted for a 7-3 triumph over Pittsburgh. But Koufax deflated any San Francisco hopes by blanking the Phils for eight innings and going on to score his career-high 27th victory by seven-hitting Philadelphia in a 6-3 pennant-clinching triumph.

The Dodgers, opening at home against the Baltimore Orioles in the first game of the World Series Wednesday, scored three runs off Jim Bunning in the third inning with Willie Davis accounting for two with a homer. Los Angeles

Joey Jay relieved rookie righthander Ron Reed in the ninth with John Roseboro and Don Drysdale, who will start the series Wednesday. Pittsburgh and set up the possibility of a playoff if the lasted only two innings. The Phils took a 2-0 lead, saw it disappear as Fairly cracked a three-run homer but came back with two runs in the eighth to win.

Elsewhere, Atlanta downed Cincinnati 4-2. St. Louis blanked Chicago 2-0 and Houston swept New York 6-1 and 8-2.

In the American League, the Orioles beat Minnesota 6-2 before losing 4-0. New York shut out Chicago 2-0, Kansas City nipped Detroit 7-5 and California stopped Cleveland 2-0.

Willie McCovey ignited San Francisco's four-run 11th-inning rally with a tremendous 463-foot two-run pinch hit homer. After two singles, Tito Fuentes slammed a two-run double to cap the rally. The Giants tied the game 3-3 in the ninth on Ossie Virgil's run-scoring pinch hit. But Koufax ended everything with a 6-3, seven-hit second game triumph over the Phils boosted his record to 27-9 and gave the Dodgers their third pennant in the past four seasons. Remember, the Dodgers used to be the team noted for blowing the pennant on the last day of the season.

BUCKS HAVE BACKS

Guinn Player of Week

By RON CROSS Sports Editor Probably the single reason White Deer has been so successful this year is the fact the Bucks are the "most versatile team" in the Panhandle.

In four games White Deer has scored 22 touchdowns and 12 different players have been in on the scoring.

Coach Sherrill Bottoms has the area's top scorer in 1965, Randy Elliott, one of the best runners in the state in Vernon Marlar and now has come up with a young man who is driving 'em crazy at quarterback.

John Paul Guinn, a speedy 150-pounder has been making the Bucks' offense go, for 151 points, and has taken over the scoring leadership among Buck players and is also second in the area.

Guinn, who is just a junior, is the Pampa Daily News Player-of-the-Week. The 16-year-old Guinn ran two touchdowns against previously unbeaten McLean Friday night to run his season total to four, mixed with three, two-point conversions for a total of 30 points for the year.

He can run too, and has averaged just over 10 yards per carry. The Bucks aren't a passing team, but Guinn has connected on 11 of 27 aeriels, two for touchdowns and has yet to have one intercepted.

"He's a real fine boy and he's getting better," is the way Bottoms describes Guinn. Bottoms is equally proud of his defense with only three defensive regulars back the Bucks have given-up but one touchdown and 143 total offensive yards in four games. They held Boys Ranch to a minus 42 and no first downs.

The Bucks are idle this week preparing for their first district contest, with Sunray, at White Deer, Oct. 14.

But some other big games are on tap this week with unbeaten Canadian getting its toughest test of the season.

The Wildcats (4-0) and a 40-6 winner over Booker last week, host Wheeler (3-1) who was upset Friday by Wellington, 14-12. This will be a battle of class A clubs.

Another big game will unfold at McLean where the Tigers and Groom play. McLean (3-1) lost their first game last week to White Deer 20-0, while Groom (1-2-1) lost its second straight, 20-0 to Clarendon.

Lefors (0-4) meets another class A club in journeying to Vega. The Pirates lost to Silverton, 14-12 last week, get standings

When Prices Are High

It is 33 years since the 21st Amendment to our Constitution went into effect on December 5, 1933. That Amendment repealed the ill-fated 18th (prohibition) Amendment. It is really no surprise to learn that, after more than three decades, some of the underworld and gangland figures who made breaking the prohibition era laws so profitable are, even at this late date, enjoying equally profitable careers trading in the legalized products. But if it is not surprising to learn that racketeers of the prohibition era have become kingpins in the legalized commerce in that giant industry, it is a distinct surprise to find certain state governments daring to accommodate them with special-interest legislation and protection. One can only surmise that in those cases, at least, the profits are so substantial as to permit pretty conspicuous distribution of the largesse. A case for wondering is the Garden State of New Jersey, which is surpassed only by California, New York and Illinois as a consumer of that once prohibited product. It just happens that New Jersey is a one-party state. For the first time in recent history, with one party controlling both houses of the state legislature and the governor's office. Earlier this summer, the accommodating Assembly and the Statistics are always tricky. This is as true of the Consumer Price Index as anything else. Since price increases have literally hit the headlines in recent months, following the Consumer Price Index has become almost as popular as reading the funnies. However, as a measure of the cost of living, the index can be misleading. To help bring prices into proper perspective, the National Association of Food Chains has issued a memorandum with some shopping suggestions for the housewife. Here are some of the obvious ways to beat the Price Index. Don't buy that high-priced item; invest in a nutritional alternative; if a favorite vegetable is higher priced, rediscover other fresh vegetables — it is infrequent that the whole group

Lenin Was Right

John Maynard Keynes, famed British economist and architect of today's "new economics" once noted, "Lenin is said to have declared that the best way to destroy the Capitalist System was to debase the currency." Lenin was certainly right. The process engages all the hidden forces of economic law on the side of destruction, and does it in a manner which not only one man in a million is able to diagnose. We can see this process at work on every side today in the United States. Government policies for many years have bred inflation. Few seem to realize that government by chronically spending more than it collects in taxes finally establishes a "y"

Poor Goose

There was once a farmer who had a goose. One day he found that the goose had laid a golden egg, and every day thereafter the goose laid an egg of purest gold. But in time the farmer became greedy, and he decided that if he killed the goose he could have her entire treasure at once. So he cut her open to find nothing at all. Moral: Don't kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. Everyone is familiar with this story, probably the most famous of Aesop's fables. Unfortunately, many of us seem to have forgotten the moral. Certainly it has been forgotten by those politicians and professors who urge us to do away with free enterprise — our wealth-producing goose — in favor of hare-brained schemes with no more productive capaci-

CED: Metro's Head Shrinker

By JO HINDMAN
A nationwide group of self-described business executives and educators pooled their prestige in July 1966 to call for a revolutionary abolishment of 80 per cent of local governments in the United States.

If that recommendation of the Committee for Economic Development were followed, the present 80,000 cities, counties, and other governmental units would be whittled down to about 16,000.

CED's nine-point salvo entitled "Modernizing Local Government," is merely a rehash of Syndicate 1313's long-trend attempt to change decentralized American government into a dictatorship controlled by 1313's Metrocrat oligarchy.

1313 takes the name from its multi-group core at 1313 E. 60 St., Chicago. The nationwide syndicate attacks existing American government through destructive devices operating as "new" Metropolitan Government.

CED's point 8 calls for revision of the 50 state constitutions, to make hash of present state boundaries and to extend authority over vast Metro REGIONS. Point 3 would butcher the citizens' ballot franchise. Point 4 applied to state government would pare elected administrative officers down to just one, the governor, a goal advocated by 1313 through 1313's National Municipal League's sample state constitution.

Point 9 promotes 1313's attempt to establish regional government, a movement furthered by Pres. Johnson's mandate that only "metropolitan areas" are to be future recipients of federal assistance.

CED issues a stream of such pro-Metro publications. Examples: "Guiding Metropolitan Growth" (1959), monthly confidential CED bulletins, and the 1965 statement on transportation, including mass rapid transit. Disenchanted by that particular "study," the automobile on CED's panel cast votes disapproving it. Mass rapid transit eliminates much auto transit — not good for the auto industry.

Not good for the best interests of rank-and-file American citizens is CED's self-appointed radical proMetro stance whose propaganda is directed toward shrinking the citizen's government of self-rule.

Through the years, CED posters have revealed names associated with a clique obsessed by pro-global intentions. Such include 1313's Luther Gulick and Charles P. Taft, UNESCO's William Benton; Robt. C. Wood, now an assistant HUD Secretary (Housing and Urban Development); James E. Lash of the American Council To Improve Our Neighborhoods, Inc.; Wm. C. Foster, disarmament chief; also Donald K. David, Paul Ylvisaker and Theodore O. Yntema from the Ford Foundation and Ford Motor Co., respectively.

Independent, citizens-controlled units of government are anathema to the world government movement. One-worlders require a monolithic political and economic pyramid based on vast governmental regions controlled from the top. CED's city-killing document calls for just that.

"Modernizing Local Government," the CED publication put together by 15 men and Anna Lord Strauss of the League of Women Voters, the publicity release to the nation's press outlining the overthrow of existing units of American government and all such CED efforts should be repudiated by the business firms that lend their prestige and financial subsidy to the Committee for Economic Development.

The Meeting Will PLEASE Come to Order!

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

How Do We Compare? Frederic Bastiat was one of the wisest statesmen of the past century. Warning of the expansion of the power of government and the shrinking of individual responsibility, he spoke the following words to the French National Assembly in 1849: "When the people are encouraged to turn to government to settle all their problems for them, the basis for all revolutions is thereby established. For then the people expect the government to provide them with all of the material things they want. And when these things are not forthcoming, they resort to violence to get them. And why not — since the government itself has told them that these responsibilities belong to government rather than to them? I am convinced that a revolution would not be possible if the only relationship between government and the people was to guarantee them their liberty and security."

These words are as applicable in our nation today as they were in France 113 years ago. At that time the government was breaking down in France, just as it is in our country today, as we shrink from self-reliance and beg for state initiative. The outcome in France was long continued bitter suffering and bloody revolution. If we persist in our present course, will it be less here?

The rise of alcoholism in West Germany to the dimensions of a major problem is attributed to the prosperity of the German people. One person in fifty-eight is said to be an alcoholic. Last year the West Germans spent over $4.5 billion for alcoholic beverages, or nearly five times greater than the amount spent in 1938.

Last year sixty thousand traffic accidents resulting in death or serious injury were attributed to drivers or pedestrians under the influence of alcohol. Absenteeism, both for managers and workers has reached alarming proportions. Some are wondering if the enormous waste of human energy and capacity occasioned by excessive drinking will destroy the great prosperity achieved in Germany during the past sixteen years.

If this be true in West Germany, it is even more true in our own country. Per capita spending for alcoholic beverages in the United States rose from $27 in 1939 to $70 in 1964. 2.6 percent of the population are said to be alcoholics in our country, as compared with only 1.7 percent in Germany. The great destroyer remains a major enemy of the health and prosperity of our people.

U.S.-PROPOSAL — After carefully analyzing this Soviet block financial dilemma, President Johnson asked Senator Magnuson to make his unpublished trip to Moscow to inform the Kremlin leaders that the U. S. is prepared to help them cope with the problem.

In addition, Magnuson was directed to state that the President is prepared, in the event peace is restored in Viet Nam, to extend economic and financial aid to North Viet Nam, through either the newly established Asian Development Bank or the United Nations from funds provided by the U.S.

Magnuson was instructed to stress that once the Viet Nam fighting is concluded, the U. S. will be in a position to divert the huge outlays for the war there, now running around $2 billion a month, to aid Southeast Asian and other countries, regardless of their ideologies.

Only condition the U.S. will require is that the country seeking assistance does not try to impose its will on neighbors. POLITICAL STAKES — Senator Magnuson, who has contemplated visiting Russia earlier this year but postponed that at the President's request, has a big political stake in the success of his mission.

Timely Aid for Russia's Strained Finances Offered in Viet Nam Peace Package Carried by Magnuson to Moscow

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The mystery-shrouded Moscow visit of Senator Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., commerce committee chairman, is directly linked to President Johnson's latest Viet Nam peace drive.

Magnuson, long-time close friend of the President, agreed to undertake the unannounced Moscow mission as part of an intensive effort to induce Russia to bring North Viet Nam to the conference table before the November elections here.

On the instruction of the White House, Magnuson is offering the Kremlin the prospects of increased trade and long term credits to the entire Soviet block once the Viet Nam conflict is ended.

In tendering trade and credits through Magnuson, who long has advocated that, President Johnson is hoping to convince the Soviet leaders of his sincerity in seeking peace, and that it would be to their economic advantage to bring about a Viet Nam truce.

Timing of Magnuson's visit is highly significant. The trip was hurriedly arranged after word was received from authoritative banking quarters that the Iron Curtain countries were seeking extension of the three-year credits under which they have made huge wheat purchases from Canada.

According to the international bankers, Russia and the other Communist countries are asking for additional time to pay for this grain—five or more years. And that isn't all. Their financial resources reportedly are so strained that they want to borrow from the West to pay for the grain—especially in the U.S.

Representative John Rooney, D-N. Y., chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee that handles both the Justice Department and the Supreme Court budget, is flatly predicting Ramsey Clark will be named attorney general.

A close friend of the President, Rooney was one of the few members of Congress told in advance about Katzenbach's shift to the State Department. Asked about the likelihood of Mills' going on the Supreme Court, Ramsey replied, "No comment."

Mills gave the same answer. FLASHES — Before going to Moscow, Senator Magnuson visited Hungary and Bulgaria. . . . A U. S. Reuther's Bad Investment

(Washington Observer) Big auto union labor leader Walter Reuther is in real hot water with his own union membership over bad debts. The bad debts are defaulted investment loans of the multi-million pensions funds of the United Automobile Workers Union. Reuther approved the loans. The union lost $3 million on a bad loan invested in Don Silverthorne's bankrupt San Francisco National Bank and $50,000 in the bankrupt Brighton (Colo.) National Bank.

There are now $10 million in other defaulted loans invested by the UAW pension and benefit funds. Although the UAW employs a big staff of professional economists and highly specialized business analysts, Reuther pays big fees to "money brokers" to find suitable long-term investments for union funds. Some of the bad loans were negotiated by the money brokers. Trade union members are demanding that Reuther explain why big cash to arrange large investment fees were paid to money brokers loans now in default. In an effort to protect Reuther, his henchman, Emil Mazey, Secretary-Treasurer, International Union UAW, has assumed full responsibility, but the fact remains that Reuther personally approved the big investment loans now in default.

Incidentally, big shot Jay Vegas gamblers, played a "mystery role" in some of the defaulted UAW loans. They also had a hand in some of the unsavory transactions of Jimmy Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Schools Are Standing Idle

Postulate the existence of a vast business enterprise with plants and related facilities in every town and city throughout the nation. Consider the huge investment, amounting to billions of dollars, that this enterprise would have tied up in these facilities.

Now suppose that for three months out of every year this business shuts down all but a few of its plants, and carries on only limited operations in those that do remain open. That would be preposterous, wouldn't it?

The tax-supported schools do it. Their physical facilities represent one of our society's heaviest public investments, yet for the most part they are used during only nine months of the year.

The comparison is not wholly accurate, granted. Schools are different from a business operation, and the use of facilities cannot be judged by the same standards in both cases. Yet it is suggestive that, whereas a well organized business seeks to make the fullest possible use of its investment, the average school system makes almost no attempt to do this. Summer school and adult classes employ school facilities to a limited extent, but in general schools stand idle.

In recent years there has been increasing talk about the advisability of getting away from the three-month vacation pattern. Various proposals have been made. Though there are apparent difficulties in changing the present system, the matter ought to be gone into thoroughly. The uneconomic summer idleness of school buildings is not the only argument in support of change, but it is a persuasive one.

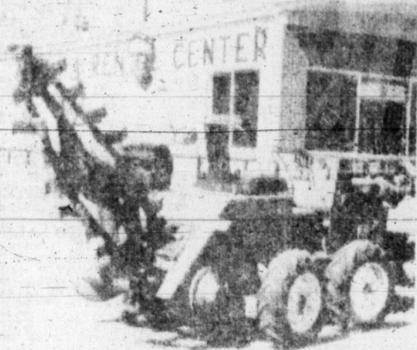

Will increase the price of this metal next year. The U. S. Treasury sells silver at a pegged price of $1.299 an ounce. Smith claims the increasingly heavy demand for the metal will force the Treasury to hike the price.

Boss—The boy who gets this job must be fast.
Boy—Mister, I'm so fast I can drink water out of a sieve!
Landlady—How do you like this place as a whole?
Gopher—It would make a fine sand trap, but I'm looking for a place to sleep.

A to Z Rental Center — Offers the community new and different equipment like the Ditch-Witch pictured above. This equipment can help to solve the added expenses involved in digging ditches.

A to Z Rental Expands; Adds Ditch-Witch

A to Z Rental Center has once again expanded their line of products to provide more, and better service to the growing needs of the community.

Recently they purchased two Ditch-Witch ditch-digging machines, a well-known leader of construction equipment. This new addition to their line provides the homeowner or prospective homeowner with a chance to lay their own ditches for whatever purpose they desire. Unlike many ditching machines, these can be operated by the renter, without the usual expensive cost of an operator.

According to Glenn Winningham, manager, the rental of ditching machines has become more and more popular with the trend of do-it-yourself ideas. It has proved to be very expensive to hire the equipment to do the job of digging a ditch for a sewer, water lines, etc. Now this expense can be curbed tremendously with ease, speed and comfort.

"We strive to serve the community with the type of equipment which every householder, home craftsman and business organization needs on occasion, but which they find impractical to own," says Glenn. "Renting the right equipment can make hundreds of tasks possible, easier and more enjoyable. In fact we may be able to advise customers on equipment uses they don't even know about."

Do-it-yourself tools such as Sanders, power drills and saws, plumber's and mechanic's tools, as well as painting equipment, all still appear as though the ladders are standard rental fare. Stair carts and furniture dollies will make moving jobs easy. And the home gardener can now rent every kind of

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomson-McKinnon Inc. says it is more than likely the market will continue in the doldrums until the administration takes steps to raise the level of personal and corporate income taxes, a move which may well be announced within the next few months.

Bache & Co. urges investors to look beyond the gyrations of the moment and consider the values which have been made available by the temporary erosion of confidence.

Stanley Heller & Co. says if the worst that can be seen for corporate profits in 1967 is a decline of 5 to 10 per cent, then it believes the market has now fully adjusted itself for that contingency.

Purcell, Graham & Co. says it still appears as though the next important move for stock prices generally will be down.

Auto Industry Rolling At High Speed

DETROIT (UPI) — The nation's auto industry is rolling at high speed again and has produced the biggest output of cars this week since last June, Ward's Automotive reports said today.

The week's 184,923 car and 36,786 truck assemblies were spurred by the showroom introduction of new models and "enthusiastic" public reaction to the new cars, the statistical agency said.

The passenger car assembly plants and eight truck plants will work overtime Saturday to keep up with demand. Total car production for calendar 1966—meanwhile, is running 300,000 under last year, Ward's said.

Last week's production was set at 173,007 cars and 33,397 trucks. Production for this week one year ago was 168,975 cars and 36,613 trucks.

Old Faithful Geyser in Yellowstone National Park has never failed to erupt since it was discovered in 1870.
