MAKING KNOWN THE LAW — Mike Carr, president of Pampa Key Club, and Dr. R. H. Rutledge, chairman of the Key Club Committee of Top O' Texas Kiwanis, study copies of "You and the Law," a booklet compiled by National Council on Crime and Delinquency as "a practical step in crime prevention." Top O' Kiwanis purchased 1,000 copies from Kiwanis International to be distributed to students at Pampa High School by Key Club members.

PAMPA IN GOOD SHAPE

No Blanket Boost In Interest Rates Here

Pampa is in much better shape than most cities in Texas and throughout the nation in matter of interest rates on loans. This was the consensus today after a survey of local bank and savings and loan officials. "Money just isn't as tight here as in most places," one banker said in an assessment of the interest rate situation following recent action of three big New York banks and other leading banking institutions around the country in hiking their prime interest rate on business loans. Another local banker said his bank was "playing it by ear." He stated the prime interest rate here on business loans was 6 1/2 to 7 per cent before the last boost.

A number of things enter into gauging interest on a business loan, he said. Asked about the possible increase, the banker stated that, based on the type (See RATES, Page 3)

Dallas Bishop Opens Five-Day Church Sessions

Bishop Norris S. Curry of Dallas will be presiding officer for the 15th annual session of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church in session here today through Sunday, according to the Rev. Monroe Woods Jr., pastor of the host church, St. Mark Methodist, CME.

Bishop Curry received the appointment as bishop of the Texas Conference at a convocation held in Miami, Fla. in May of this year.

He had previously served as bishop of the Louisiana-Mississippi Area; editor of the Christian Index of the CME official church organ and as minister of Phillips Temple CME in Los Angeles, Calif.

He has AB, BD, and PhD degrees from Texas College, Tyler and Drew University, and also has an honorary L.D. degree from Texas College. Bishop Curry will be assisted in conference proceedings by associates, the Rev. G. R. Patterson of Wichita Falls - Amarillo District and the Rev. E. J. Lotte of Abilene Conference.

A Memorial Service for deceased members of the conference was to be held at 10 a.m. today with the Rev. Patterson of the Gilbert Memorial CME Church, Wichita Falls, delivering the sermon.

Committee meetings were to begin at 2 p.m. today for the bishop's cabinet, joint board of finance, layman's council, Women's Missionary Society, board of Christian education, and course of study.

The conference will formally open at 7 p.m. today with the Memorial Service conducted by Bishop Curry.

Approximately 200 delegates and guests are expected to attend from all over the state of Texas.

Measure Could 'Cool' Inflationary Trend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, who is seeking "better ways" than high interest rates to cool off the nation's inflationary economy, today was urged to think about raising corporate income taxes.

Recommending this measure was Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., a key member of the tax-writing House Ways & Means Committee. He said Congress would not act to raise taxes this year, unless Johnson gave the word.

The President, in a statement issued from his Texas ranch Monday, deplored the upward swing in interest rates and said better ways must be found to restrain price increase. He rejected the idea that the higher rates threatened a depression.

Johnson gave no hint of what new approaches he might have in mind—such as a tax hike or wage price controls. He has said as recently as his news conference last Wednesday that he is not ready yet to recommend action by Congress.

Johnson's statement was in reply to one from former President Harry S. Truman, a close personal friend. The 81-year-old Truman voiced fear that rising interest rates contained the seeds of depression because they might bring on "precipitous deflation" rather than forestall inflation.

Ullman maintains that it is the corporate sector of the economy that needs a "cooling-off" and, if it gets it in the form of a tax increase, lower prices and lower interest rates would follow.

Ullman said it was "my hunch" that Johnson would recommend tax legislation affecting corporate income before the election year Congress goes home to campaign this fall. The Oregon Democrat said that Congress would not pass a personal income tax and insisted that "the economy (See JOHNSON, Page 3)

Waukegan Mayor Plans Meet With Negroes To End Violence

Waukegan, Ill. (UPI) — Mayor Robert Sabonjian planned to meet with Negro ministers today in an effort to restore calm to a 35-block area of Waukegan's south side, scene of four straight nights of racial disorder.

"I will meet with ministers but not with violators or demonstrators," said Sabonjian, who called most of the 115 persons arrested since Friday "hopheads, narcotic addicts, drunkards and just plain scum."

Thirty-five persons were arrested Monday night, most for violation of an emergency curfew placed on the area by order of the mayor. Several young Negroes were seized making molotov cocktails, police said.

About 130 riot-helmeted police armed with carbines cordoned off the area before the 7:30 p.m. curfew went into effect. Incidents were scattered and unorganized as police equipped with tear gas and gas masks roamed the area clearing the streets.

The only serious incident occurred before the curfew actually went into effect. As Mayor Sabonjian toured the deserted streets a Negro man threw a bottle at his car. Sabonjian pulled out a pistol and the man fled.

Those people arrested are local hoodlums with police records and are not the true story of Negroes in Waukegan," Sabonjian said after a meeting with City Council Monday night.

He told the council that those arrested were being cut off

Reserve Bill May Deadlock Adjournment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The search for a way to put 133,000 untrained Army reservists and National Guardsmen into uniform alongside draftees in Vietnam promised today to tie up Congress for weeks.

Members speculated that the mushrooming battle between the two powerful committees—the House and Senate Armed Services Committees—over reserve call-up authority could be the cause of the traditional adjournment deadlock this year.

And the twist to the story is that the whole dispute is over something President Johnson did not ask for and may not use even if he gets it.

The latest development in the burgeoning House-Senate battle came Monday when the House Armed Services Committee approved its "reserve bill of rights" by a vote of 32 to 1. The primary purpose of the measure is to block permanently the Pentagon plan to merge the Army reserve into the National Guard.

But embodied in the bill was authority for the President to call up 133,000 reservists and guardsmen who have served less than four months of active duty, plus another 56,000 who have served less than two years and are not attached to any organized unit.

Under existing law, the President can activate the reserve and the guard only after he declares a national emergency—a step he might be reluctant to take for political, diplomatic or psychological reasons.

Stock Market Skids To Low

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market, on the skids all summer long, suffered its sharpest setback of the year Monday as the New York Stock Exchange registered more than $10 billion in paper losses.

Though analysts hesitated to single out any one factor as the cause of this latest decline, it was believed the highly nervous market was further agitated by former President Harry S. Truman's weekend warning of a possible depression if interest rates continue to rise.

While there was no general agreement on prospects for the immediate future, some Wall Street experts voiced the pessimistic opinion that the

Alabama May Decline Federal School Funds

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — The Alabama Legislature appeared certain today to stamp its approval on a bill embodying Gov. George Wallace's defiance of the new federal school desegregation guidelines.

The Senate was taking up administration-sponsored changes in the bill outlawing the guidelines in Alabama and sending it back to the House for concurrence.

This was expected to take little time in the House, which already has passed the measure, and the legislation probably will be on Wallace's desk for his signature Wednesday.

In essence, the bill is designed to tell the federal government to keep its money and hands out of Alabama schools. It will make the state the first testing ground over whether the government intends to back the guidelines.

In addition to outlawing the guidelines, the Wallace proposal would declare null and void all compliance forms signed by local boards and replace about $3.8 million of the more than $30 million in federal education funds the state could lose by rejecting the desegregation provisions. The state said it could not afford to replace any more of the lost funds.

Although the federal government's strategy against the Wallace proposal is not known, a number of Wallace's critics have made predictions.

Most have pointed out a 1964 three-judge federal court ruling which warned the governor there could be a blanket school desegregation order covering every school in the state. The decision also warned the state might be ordered to stop financing all schools which remained segregated.

Planes Ready For Bombing Of Hurricane

MIAMI (UPI) — Seventeen planes were poised at San Juan today ready to bomb Hurricane Faith with silver iodide crystals to sap its strength. The storm was moving steadily toward open sea where the experiment could be tried without endangering land.

Fringe winds from Faith's 120-mile-an-hour fury lashed at the out islands of the Bahamas Monday as it slowly churned northward into the open Atlantic.

Weathermen were confident the hurricane would stay on a near steady course, ending a threat to the U.S. mainland and at the same time putting it in position to carry out experiment "stormfury." A decision on whether to proceed with the cloud seeding was delayed until today.

At 9 a.m. CST the Miami Weather Bureau placed Faith near latitude 27.4 north, longitude 72.4 west, about 500 miles east of Fort Pierce, Fla.

The bureau said the hurricane, moving north-northwest at seven miles per hour, was expected to continue its course or veer slightly northwest at the same slow rate for the next 24 hours.

The sixth hurricane of the season flung gale winds cut 300 miles to the north and 200 miles to the south of its center, with hurricane force winds extending about 80 miles in all directions.

Survey Shows Gains For County Farmers

Things are looking up for farmers in Gray County. Included in this overall figure are the cash receipts from farm marketings as well as income in kind (the value of items grown and consumed on the farm) and government payments under its (See FARMERS, Page 3)

The findings are based on a national survey which shows that earnings locally from crops and livestock compare favorably with those in other parts of the country.

Gross farm receipts in Gray County were $359,000 higher in 1965 than in the previous year, the figures reveal.

The increase is attributed to several factors—a good harvest made possible by better weather conditions, higher prices for most farm products and a rise in government payments.

The data on the farm situation was assembled by the Standard Rate and Data Service from information compiled by the Department of Agriculture and other governmental agencies. Its breakdown covers nearly every county in the United States.

In Gray County, it shows, total farm income came to $7,470,000 in 1965, as compared with the previous year's $7,111,000. That was the gross amount, before taking operating

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Few television events in recent months have caused as much comment as the total lack of national sponsorship for last Thursday's three- and a-half-hour prime time documentary on organized crime.

Considering the difficult daily job that honest police throughout the nation are trying to do in the face of much lawlessness, sponsors and their agencies have earned all the criticism they get for their unanimous lack of participation in a program that detailed some major problems.

Some of the business community is indeed the recipient of much criticism.

No less than 20 persons have approached me concerning the show since it aired, noting to me the obvious lack of sponsors, and then nodded knowingly, as though they knew something.

They don't know anything, of course. But I suspect, without much doubt, that the public relations effect toward the sponsors, the agencies and some of the business community in general was extremely negative.

Several network people say the agencies were probably to blame for the most part. On the other hand, NBC-TV, which went for a pretty penny on the show, is officially very tactful about the whole matter, at least when its sales department speaks for the record.

John Otter, vice president, NBC, sales, says diplomatically the department itself may have been somewhat to blame because of its selling strategy—holding off going after "scatter buyers" for too long after going for a single sponsor.

Yet diplomacy again seems the word for his explanation, for it seems utterly remarkable that rejection of sponsor support should be so overwhelming and unanimous—even with late selling.

Mr. Otter also noted that some of the sponsors (and-or agencies) may well have felt that August was a bad time of the year to advertise, being the slow television season.

Yet NBC-TV's last three-and-a-half-hour prime time documentary, on foreign policy, got a pretty good rating—and, according to Otter, the early returns on the crime program indicate this show may have done better satisfactorily. Certainly any sponsor or advertiser would have known that American fascination with crime made the program a good bet for ratings success to start with.

Fort Elliott Historical Marker To Be Set Monday

MOBETTIE (Sp) — The official Texas Historical Marker for the Fort Elliott Flagpole has arrived from the foundry and will be erected next Monday at Mobettie, according to John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, President of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

This cast aluminum marker with Swedish steel effect for durability and appearance measures 18 by 28 inches and is being erected by state matching funds, Shepperd stated.

It will be the 7th Official Texas Historical Marker to be erected in Wheeler County. Others previously erected include Moelette Jail, 1886; Rock House on Harris Farm, 1875; Frye Rock House, 1884; Baily Ranch house at David Britt's, 1884; Rock School, 1884 on Brit Ranch and Jail in Wheeler, 1909, according to Mrs. Grady Harris of Mobettie, Chairman of the Wheeler County Historical Survey Committee.

The marking of local historic sites and landmarks as well as early pioneers is a part of the five-year program of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee whose program is described as "RAMPs" which means, Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation, and Surveys of Texas History. The RAMPs program envisions the erection of 1,000 historic markers under the sponsorship of the state, counties, cities, civic groups and individuals.

All state-erected markers will appear in official tourist guides and directories to help stimulate.

An estimated 42 percent of the cash receipts were obtained through the sale of farm crops and the other 58 percent from livestock, poultry and dairy products.

On a per capita basis, the gross income in Gray County was equivalent to $7,470 for every man, woman and child in the local farm population.

It compared favorably with the $3,656 per capita averaged on farms in other parts of the United States and with the $4,596 in the State of Texas.

According to Orville L. Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, a better future is looming for the nation's farmers, although they have a long way to go before closing the gap that exists between farmer and non-farmer.

Their net income rose a full $1 billion in the past year, reaching $14 billion, he notes, and the prospects are for an even greater rise in 1966.

late tourist trade and historical appreciation as well as to acquaint the citizens of the county with their unique historical heritage.

The public is invited to attend the dedication of this marker, Mrs. Harris, stated.

Inscription on the marker reads:

"Fort Elliott flagpole first stood about a mile to the northwest, at Fort Elliott, established 1875 to protect the Texas Panhandle from Indians."

Price Calls For Turn in Tide of Crime and Decay

The men that are elected to high public office should set an example to begin to turn the tide of crime and moral decay that threatens to engulf our nation.

18th Congressional District candidate Bob Price said this noon in a talk at the weekly luncheon of Pampa Jaycees.

"Not only must these men set an example but also whenever possible should support our judiciary in strong sentencing of the guilty and yet protect the constitutional rights of all citizens regardless of race, color, or creed," Price told the Jaycees.

"This is the day of a rising crime rate, even here in the Panhandle, as well as a general disregard for law and order," he noted.

"The Texas Department of Public Safety has stated that there were 23,000 more crimes committed in the state in 1965 than in 1964," Price added.

"I propose that greater immediate steps to strengthen our law enforcement agencies here at home be taken. As your congressman, I would work with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Police Academy in expanding their training to every city, county, and community in the district," he stated.

"Change will not come easily and maybe not for years but with your help we will begin at the grassroots level," Price said.

"Our young people need an example of high-principled officials to set them a high standard. Let us set them a goal of the stars."

Obituaries

Mrs. Lee Harris
Mrs. Lee Harris of 320 E. Foster, 38-year resident of Pampa, died at 4:15 p.m. yesterday in Highland General Hospital following an eight-month illness.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in Central Baptist Church with Rev. Thurman Upshaw officiating. Burial, under direction of Jarmichael-Whaley Funeral Directors, will be in Fairview Cemetery by the side of her husband who preceded her in death on Dec. 1, 1956.

Mrs. Harris was born March 4, 1877, in Kirksville, Mo. She was married to Lee Harris on Oct. 20, 1897, in Queen City, Mo. The couple moved to Pampa from Weatherford, Okla., in 1928.

A graduate of the Kansas City Conservatory of Music, Mrs. Harris had taught piano for over 50 years. She was a member of Pampa Music Teachers' Assn., Senior Citizens' Center and Central Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Letha Chapman of Dallas and Mrs. Helen DeNapoli of Boston, Mass.; five sons, Leon B. Harris of Pampa, Nolan D. Harris of Borger, Beryl R. Harris of Amarillo, Lloyd M. Harris of Lubbock and Owen Harris of Leedeey, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. Ola Antich of Lincoln, Neb., and Mrs. Emma G. Thiessen of Lake Oswego, Ore.; 13 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Gale Harris, Lowell Harris, Wayne Hubbard, Tommy Sides, Roy Nichols, Charles A. Seads, Paul Barrett and Floyd Quattlebaum.

Mrs. Nellie Boyd Barksdale
Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie Boyd Barksdale of Ozark, Ark., former 51-year-resident of Gray County, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the First Baptist Church in Ozark, where she has made her home the past two years.

Mrs. Barksdale was born in 1890 in Oklahoma City, Okla. She died at 1:30 p.m. yesterday in a Fort Smith, Ark. hospital.

Rates

of business and its soundness, it could be from one-half to one percent. There is no fixed rate of interest, he said. Each loan is judged on its merits.

Consumer loans have not advanced locally. These are for automobiles, furniture, etc., and the going rate is and has been, for instance, 5 per cent on new automobiles with a graduated one per cent increase for each year of model age.

One of the best barometers of any area's money conditions, it was stated, is the percentage of bank deposits out on loan.

The national average in this respect is 67 per cent while in Pampa only about 45 to 46 per cent of the deposits are on loan. This bespeaks a sound local economy and available money.

"Another thing," one banker said, "Pampa banks keep their loans on a local basis. We take care of the legitimate needs of our local people first."

Home loan interest rates in Pampa have increased about one-half of one percent over the last six months period from 6 to 6½ per cent to the current going rate of 6½ to 6¾ per cent. The rise there has been gradual.

Another banker said: "True, we have had to make some rate adjustments, but by and large we are continuing to make each loan stand on its own merits and as far as we are concerned we see no need for a blanket interest rate increase."

Nevada Resident Cited for DWI

Nevada resident William Boyles, 60, of Henderson, Nev., was cited last night by city police for driving while intoxicated.

Boyles was stopped around 9:40 p.m. yesterday after being observed driving erratically north on Hobart after stopping at the Foster Street stop light, according to a police report.

Market

Wall Streeters were not certain as to just where the slide will end.

The market's decline over the past few weeks stems from a number of factors, brokers said.

One is the uncertainty over the nature of the economy in the coming months and particularly in 1967. The rising cost of borrowing and the shrinking supply of loan funds, they said, have caused some fear that the current economic boom may be stymied.

Wall Street also is nervous regarding what actions the Johnson administration will take to curb inflationary tendencies in the economy. There is the possibility of a wage-price freeze or a tax increase, a move called for by some government officials.

Jets

from a nearby navy carrier dumped 1,000-pound bombs on a convoy of eight trucks 30 miles southwest of Thanh Hoa, destroying four and damaging three.

A Communist terror squad meanwhile early today blew up a billet housing Viet Cong defectors at Tri Tam, about 30 miles northwest of Saigon. Some of the occupants were wounded but no fatalities were reported.

and loan association officials agreed the Pampa economy is on a sound financial basis and ready to weather what may lie ahead.

Pampa Featured In West Texas Chamber Magazine

Pampa has two featured spots in the August issue of West Texas Today, official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

One is a two-page illustrated article on the city's Marie Foundations factory by Tex DeWeese, executive editor of The Pampa Daily News.

Highlighted by Marie Foundations' recent announcement of its Pampa plant expansion, the article is supplemented by pictures of the garment factory's spacious workshop interior and Calvin Fraser, company president.

The other article in this month's West Texas Today contains a resume of the mid-summer workshop meeting of the WTC board of directors in Pampa Aug. 11 and 12.

Bed Linens, Bible Taken From Home

Bed sheets, bedspreads, towels and a family Bible were reported yesterday to city police as missing from the home of Vermer Washington Ingram, 705 Octavium.

Mrs. Ingram told police she had been out of town since July 15 and when she returned she found the items and Bible missing.

She said entry was gained by putting a screen off an east window of the house.

Storm Hits Fort Worth
Although showers are in prospect for other parts of the state, no showers are forecast for Pampa and vicinity, with slightly warmer temperatures expected.

High is to be in the mid-80s, with an overnight low in the mid-60s. Skies will remain partly cloudy, with southerly winds 10 to 20 miles per hour. Outlook for Thursday calls for clear to partly cloudy skies and a little warmer.

Monday's high was 80, with an overnight low of 63.

A violent thunderstorm that hurried nearly seven inches of rain, tornadoes, hail and high winds, smashed through Fort Worth Monday.

Another thunderstorm hit the Lubbock area.

More rain was in prospect for all sections of the state with a slight warm-up expected in the northern half.

The Fort Worth storm left as much as 6.85 inches in the Seminary Hill section of the city and 6.80 in South Hills. West-cliff had 4.65.

Arlington police got three twister reports.

PROPOSES MEETING
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A planning meeting will be held here Sept. 3 for O. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's proposed "national conference on black power."
Powell said Sunday that the conference, for which no date has yet been set, would seek to "evolve meaningful programs"

President Calvin Coolidge, though well known for his frugality, was willing to buy rather expensive cigars.
for the still-deprived black masses of this country to more levels of political, economic and educational power now enjoyed by the white majority.

With both domestic and foreign grain demands rising, the nation for the first time in many years finds its surplus stocks virtually exhausted. Fewer American farmers than in former years must now meet the greater demand from current production. Farm population (scale at left) dropped from 23.2 per cent of total U.S. population in 1940 to 6.4 per cent in 1965. Number of farms (scale at right) dropped from more than six million to less than 3.5 million, although average farm size increased. The farmer's net income (scale at right) rose, however, from less than $1,000 in 1940 to more than $4,000 in 1965.

Wives May Go To Jail With Prisoners Serving In Sweden

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Prisoners serving long sentences in Sweden will be allowed to take their families, wives or fiancées with them to jail, the head of the Swedish prison board said Sunday.
Torsten Eriksson, the prisons' director general, said the long-debated decision will go immediately into effect on a limited experimental basis in two of the country's smaller prisons.
Eriksson said the experiment was designed to make prison life easier for long-term inmates.
The decision to allow prisoners to have families with them in jail stemmed from nationwide debate which erupted after several newspapers recently reported that homosexuality and other forms of sexual divergencies flourished in Sweden's prisons.
Eriksson said that in one of the two experimental prisons, wives and fiancées will be allowed to live secluded with prisoners for a "couple of days."
In the other prison, both wife and children shall be allowed to stay with a prisoner during his whole term, he said.
He said the wives or fiancées who stay only a few days at a

TERRORIST ATTACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Alexander Hamilton Institute says that except for technical rallies from an oversold position, it sees little likelihood of a sustained general market recovery pending a reversal in still rising interest rates and an easing of credit.

Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds & Co. says it appears as though a lot of the immediate future depends on the course of the market in the next few days, with an ability to hold around 780.790 in the Dow-Jones industrial average construed as bullish and a decline below this area presaging an almost immediate testing of the expected support at 740 in the average.

Foreign News Commentary

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
The outlook from the foreign cables desk:
Fairytale Hero:

Gen Suharto and the other military leaders of Indonesia would like to oust President Sukarno once and for all but probably would bring on a civil war if they tried it. Sukarno is still, almost a fairytale hero in Central Java, Indonesia's most populous area and it is this area that poses the biggest threat to efforts by the military and disenchanted students to get Sukarno to retire. Already there have been fatal clashes between pro and anti-Sukarno elements there. And the Communist underground is reported on the use. Observers said it would make little sense to topple Sukarno now—but that a showdown may be inevitable.

Russian Doldrums:
The summer political doldrums may be over this week in the Soviet Union when at least two top Soviet leaders return to Moscow from vacations on the Black Sea—party chief Leonid Brezhnev and President Nikolai Podgorny. Both stopped off in Kiev to visit a world poultry congress and to discuss the current harvest, reported good. Premier Alexei Kosygin stayed on at Pitsunda to entertain visiting Finnish President Urho Kekkonen. Brezhnev is reported planning a visit to Yugoslavia later this fall but the report could not be officially confirmed.

De Gaulle Speech:
French political sources in Paris say President Charles de Gaulle's speech at Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Sept. 1 is expected to be one of the most important of his career. It is thought unlikely he will attack the United States directly but insiders say he will deliver an urgent warning that the Viet Nam conflict can grow into a third world war. They say he will make another strong peace appeal but will not offer himself as a mediator.

No Concrete Results:
Diplomatic sources in London predict De Gaulle will get no concrete results from his expected Viet Nam peace initiative. Hanoi is in no mood to respond and, with Peking getting harder every day, the coming to a conference table remain as slim as ever. Peking's pressure on Hanoi to go on fighting is expected to become stronger in the light of Red China's current "cultural revolution" activities.

Congo Difficulties:
The Belgian government is expected to give its Congo policy a thorough appraisal now that Congo President Joseph Mobutu's relentless pin prick campaign has turned into outright knife-jabbing. Most Belgian newspapers are demanding a reappraisal of Congo policy and a massive pullout of Belgians. Mobutu does not want to discuss financial problems—which are the root of the troubles.

New Korea-Japan Crisis:
More difficulties in relations between Japan and Korea lie ahead, this time in a dispute over South Korean fishery operations in the northern Pacific. Relations were "normalized" recently after years of friction but Japan does not want Korea to fish in waters long used by the Japanese and threatens to bar Korean boats from the area. Korean Agricultural Minister Park Tong Myo replies that Korea is a sovereign nation. Korea has offered to cooperate to preserve fishery resources but a major clash could arise if Japan continues to cold shoulder the offer.

More Polio Cases Occur

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Health Department today reported two new polio cases in Texas during the past week, bringing the year's total for the state to 46.

At this time last year, only 12 cases of paralytic and one of nonparalytic polio had been reported in the state.

The 46 cases recorded so far this year all have been paralytic. The two new cases last week included one each in Bexar and Hunt counties.

The Health Department said nearly all the cases this year have been among very young children who had not been completely immunized against the crippling disease.

Two-Wheeled Put-Puts Boom

THE BIKESTERS are taking to the highways in droves. The smart ones wear safety helmets.

By BOB COGNAR and DAVE BURGIN
NEW YORK (NEA) — When the Rev. James Campbell, a 35-year-old Wisconsin clergyman, painted crosses on his safety helmet, kick-started his 175-cc Japanese bike and scooted off to visit his flock, motorcycles became respectable.

Respectability didn't come at that precise moment, of course. It took a long time. For years an assortment of leather-jacked, tatooned, unshaven, pimply-faced slobbers were able to depress the motorcycle industry simply by screeching around town on hulking, brutish cycles.

Wheeling it

Japan changed everything. A few years ago it began exporting lightweight motorcycles which sold in the United States for around $300 and the boom started. U. S. manufacturers quickly jumped aboard.

Motorcycling, revolutionized, is startling the country and has already won young Americans to its side. Some five million people now ride bikes or scooters. About 540,000 were sold last year and cyclemakers expect sales of 750,000 in 1966.

Behind the trend is a number of factors: easier parking at no cost, inexpensive maintenance, low insurance, no need for a garage. Talk to a cyclist and you'll hear "I beat traffic jams" you'll hear "I beat traffic jams" ... "I get 160 miles to a gallon" ... "It's convenient."

More and more college and high school-aged people are finding out there's no percentage in buying a used car for, say, $500—only to pay three times that to make it roadworthy. For $500, they can buy a brand-new, lightweight bike and

Highlights and Sidelights

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Officials from major Texas cities, beset with money problems, are calling on the Legislature to allow municipalities a 50-50 split in any new broad-based state taxes enacted next year.

Gov. John Connally pledged to recommend "very substantial new sources of revenue" for the cities after a group of metropolitan area mayors conferred with him.

Question as to whether the kind of revenue-sharing plan advocated by the mayors is permissible under the state constitution will be briefed by the Texas Legislative Council, at the request of House Speaker Ben Barnes.

Cities petitioned for a 50 per cent refund of any increase in the state sales tax or an equivalent amount of any new broad-based tax, with the state doing the collecting and apportioning half of new funds where paid.

While agreeing to ask the Legislature for financial relief for the cities, Connally declined to spell out the precise form and amount he will seek. He did promise there will be "no strings attached" to his recommendation.

amendment, although the Legislature could authorize the cities to levy their own sales tax with the state serving as collector.

NEW MANSION SOUGHT — At its initial meeting, the Texas Fine Arts Commission, created by the Legislature in 1965, recommended a new governor's mansion and said the present residence, completed in 1855, should be operated as an historic house.

Governor Connally has not yet expressed his view on a new mansion. However, last year when the State Building Commission, of which he is chairman, recommended a new $1,000,000 mansion, he deferred and recommended that the money be used elsewhere.

Commission outlined a far-reaching program to encourage development of, and participation in, the arts, including traveling exhibits, festivals, awards, nighttime family entertainment in communities and revived band concerts on the square.

Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa was named chairman of the new agency. "RED MEANS WRONG" — You will be seeing lots of red if you drive the wrong way on a Texas freeway.

Highway Department has spent or obligated $76,600,000 in an overall four-year safety program.

LOANS — Tight money has made it hard for Texas colleges to sell their building bonds. Some still are looking for buyers.

On a third try, buyers were found for the 4 per cent bonds of Angelo State at San Angelo ($1,200,000); Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches ($2,600,000); and Sam Houston State at Huntsville ($2,500,000). But Southwest Texas State at San Marcos and East Texas State at Commerce still need buyers for their respective $2,400,000 and $2,300,000 bonds.

Constitutional ceiling of 4 per cent makes the bonds less attractive to investors than other issues bringing higher returns.

MORE MONEY — Mounting demands of higher education in Texas seem certain to force a tax increase by the Legislature which meets in January.

Johnson Not Disturbed By American Disunity on War

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson believes his weekend speaking trips around the nation prove Americans are not as disunited over such issues as Viet Nam as some of his critics maintain.

In recent weeks the Chief Executive has made two handshaking and speaking swings into the Midwest, one to update New York and New England, and this past weekend into Idaho, Colorado and Oklahoma.

Furthermore, other trips of this nature were in the making today at the LBJ Ranch where the President celebrated his 58th birthday Saturday.

During his birth observance, Johnson talked by telephone with Democratic leaders in Ohio where he plans to speak later in the fall election season. He later told reporters that he advised Ohioans "not to be concerned with reports about people not being united."

Rather than relying on samples of "200 or 300 or 400 people somewhere," Johnson told his fellow party members to take their own soundings. "I had a pretty good sample in Idaho, which is not strictly a Democratic state; in Colorado, with two Republican senators, and even in Oklahoma, with a Republican governor," Johnson said. "The sample was pretty good. We will come and sample Ohio later in the year."

being completed by his staff. His itinerary for Labor Day weekend should be in shape for public announcement by midweek. West Virginia is one of the states on his upcoming schedule.

Barry Thinks GOP Can Win Over Demos

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Barry M. Goldwater believes the GOP can defeat President Johnson in 1968 because "the American people may have their bellies full."

Goldwater gave his appraisal in an interview in Human Events magazine, published Sunday. He tabbed former Vice President Richard H. Nixon as the man with "the best equipment" to challenge Johnson, brushing aside Michigan Gov. George W. Romney, a potential nominee, as a man who "took a powder in 1964—without giving a reason."

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, sticky, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Pampa Girls Use Deception To Meet Their Idols--The Beatles

By LARRY HOLLIS
News Staff Writer

Two Pampa girls received one of the greatest thrills possible to a teen-age girl living in this extremely modern age recently — they got to meet the Beatles and to attend one of their press conferences.

Judy Tarrant, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Tarrant, 1000 Huff, and Deborah Futch, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Futch, 1701 Fir, attended the Beatles' two concerts in Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 19, and by a little bit of deception they were able to be representatives at one of the press conferences.

The girls had made plans to ence were supposed to be at least 18 years of age. Neither one was, but they had the tickets that admitted them to the conference. In addition, neither one was a representative of the organization to which the tickets had been issued. Judy "represented" a record company, and Deborah, a Houston newspaper.

"Everyone was so nice," Mrs. Futch said. In addition to the man who had arranged for Judy and Deborah to use the tickets, the police were cooperative, she explained.

The second conference, the one for teen-age magazines, record companies, various it with, though," she said. Deborah pushed her way in also and got to talk to the four-some before the conference, only to be pushed back by the police also.

The girls then took their seats, along with the others, and the conference began.

"They (the Beatles) really put you at ease," Deborah said. "They were charming and comical. They didn't seem conceited or snobbish."

They all seemed a lot more mature than she had expected. The Beatles' attire, though, was interesting, to say the least, the girls said. John Lennon, wore a yellow and green felt suit coat, with a yellow shirt. He also wore tennis shoes with steel capping and inch-high rubber soles. He also had yellow-tinted "granny" glasses, Deborah remarked.

George Harrison wore green and yellow also, Judy said, while Paul sported a blue suit coat with white pin stripes and a white sport shirt with blue pin stripes.

"Paul kept blowing smoke rings," Judy noted.

Ringo Starr wore a white shirt with giant navy blue polka dots, and a yellow jacket with greenish-brown stripes.

"And the prettiest blue eyes," Deborah sighed.

Ringo kept turning around and winking at her, Deborah said. He waved once.

"He probably realized that she was not over 18," Mrs. Futch commented.

During the conference, each girl asked questions.

Judy asked Paul if Ringo played the drums on "P.S. I Love You," one of the Beatles' earlier releases. Paul replied that Ringo didn't, as Brian Epstein, the groups' manager, didn't think Ringo was that good of a drummer at the time.

Deborah asked Ringo when he was going to release more pictures of his baby. Ringo said that he didn't know; he guessed when someone sneaked up and took the pictures.

Some older persons, Judy said, asked John about his remark that the Beatles were more popular than Jesus. He replied that everything is taken against him in America, as the remark wasn't even noticed in England. He also said that he was misunderstood and that he was now reading the Bible.

One girl, Deborah said, asked Paul if "Yesterday," one of the more popular successes with the "older" generation, was originally to be entitled "Scrambled Eggs." Paul said yes, or "I Want to Rub Your Legs."

George was asked about the incident in the Philippines. He said it was one big mistake, as they had known nothing about the dinner.

In addition to the conference, the girls also attended both concerts in the coliseum. About 20,000 persons attended the concerts, Judy said — 12,350 at the night concert, and the rest during the afternoon.

A Memphis newspaper, Mrs. Futch said, reported 6,000 girls from out-of-town from 37 states.

At the first concert, the Beatles wore gray suits with red pin stripes, red shirts and a slightly flared bell-bottom pants, Deborah said. At the second concert, Judy noted, they wore dark-green 18th-century suits, lime shirts and green suede boots.

Before the Beatles appeared on stage, other groups performed. These included the Cyrkies, the only American group managed by Brian Epstein; the Remains from Boston; the Ronettes, a Negro girl group; and Billy Hemp.

"The Cyrkies were best next to the Beatles," Judy said.

During the concerts, everyone had to sit down, Judy explained. "If you stood up, you were ejected," she added.

They looked different than many of their pictures, Deborah said. Their hair looked shorter, for one thing, she explained.

While they were on stage for 45 minutes, they sang 11 songs, including "Rock 'n' Roll Music," "She's a Woman," "Babe in Black," "If I Needed Someone," "I Feel Fine," "I Want To Be Your Man," "Day Tripper," "Yesterday," "Nowhere Man," "Paperback Writer" and "Long Tall Sally."

"They were really witty on stage," Deborah said. "It was an electric performance."

The performances were also wild, Mrs. Futch noted. Paper cups and other materials were thrown onstage. And during the second concert, someone threw a cherry bomb onto the stage.

The Beatles laughed at the incident, though, Deborah said.

BEATLES, ANYONE? — Judy Tarrant, left, and Deborah Futch, both 14, look at the folder of Beatle pictures that Judy purchased while in Memphis, Tenn., to attend a concert of the Beatles. Both girls also sat in on a press conference with the English singing sensations, though neither met the age requirement of 18 or older.

see the Beatles several months in advance when they learned that Mr. and Mrs. Futch had decided to take a vacation through Tennessee and North Carolina during the Beatles' concert tour.

Deborah wrote the Chamber of Commerce in Memphis and other places before she was able to receive four reserved tickets for the concert at the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis.

Prior to their departure, the girls talked to Tex DeWeese, editor of the Pampa Daily News, and received a letter from him designating them as official representatives of the two news to attend one of the scheduled press conferences.

After they arrived in Memphis, though, they discovered, as did a number of other teenagers present, that a letter would be of no use. However, this setback did not deter them from attempting to realize their desire.

Mrs. Futch talked to one of the directors of the press conference and received his offer to help the girls. The director informed her that he had several tickets to the second press conference that had not been claimed; if they were not picked up by the time of the conference, the girls could use them—they did.

The deception enters here. Attendants at the press confer-newspapers and so on, was scheduled after the first concert.

Mrs. Futch had the girls' cameras and attempted to find them in the crowd when the first performance ended. With the aid of the police, she was admitted through the gates to await the girls.

She looked through the crowd in an attempt to find them, but she could not see them. The police helped her by allowing her to view the girls in the first aid room.

"Several girls had fainted," she explained, and the police felt that the two girls might be among them. In addition, one girl had been trampled on by the pressing crowd. Fortunately, though, Judy and Deborah were not among those receiving first aid.

After a long wait, she finally discovered them in the crowd and gave them their cameras. The girls were now ready to attend the conference.

When they first went in, Judy attempted to get Paul McCartney's autograph, but the police held her back. She got Paul's attention though, and he agreed to give her his autograph after the conference. She had to push her way back in after the conference, but she got his autograph — only to lose it on the trip home.

Dear Abby... Enough's Enough - It's Time for Action

DEAR ABBY: Our neighbors across the street are lovely people, but they have one fault. They tie their dog outside in summer and he barks continually, night and day for no reason at all. I love dogs so I can't bring myself to do anything that might hurt him, such as: (1) poison him, (2) shoot him or (3) turn him loose at night, although I confess I have thought of it during a sleepless night while the barking was at its peak.

these lovely people by reporting them to the police or humane society. And ear plugs are out because if an emergency telephone call or knock on the door came, I could not hear it. I have spoken to these neighbors several times about it but they do nothing. Any suggestions?

ROVER-BUGGED
DEAR ROVER-BUGGED: Tell these "lovely people" that since your previous requests have been ignored, you must now protest to the authorities. Your rest is more important than their friendship.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Most astrologers have a chip on the shoulder now and want to express their opinions. You can run into considerable opposition in getting what you want, so you would be wise to concentrate upon getting rid of unpleasant feelings and attitudes.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) - It is better to keep busy with what you have to do instead of sitting around talking shop with others that is pretty boring. Dig up those facts that make you authoritative on various subjects. Keep on your toes.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) - Try not to be too demanding with good pals since they are no busy-ty they can give you - very little of their time or effort. Keep busy with small duties that help you to get ahead. Some social affairs to fine tonight.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) - Analyze what should be done so that your career work is performed far more efficiently. Assist higher-ups who can be in a ditch from many pressures. Don't get into trouble with one you admire. Criticism should be constructive.
CANCER (June 22 to July 22) - Fine ideas assail you that can help to get rid of irksome chores quickly, so do not try to dash away from them. Find a better way to perform routine tasks, and future ones. This clears the slate quickly.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) - Although you may be troubled subconsciously, there is no reason for you to act in such a demanding and impatient way. Be conscientious in whatever has to be done. Postpone changes until later.
VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) - Your associates must not realize that you are disappointed, so carry through with chores very earnestly. Situations come up that test your patience. Only you can do them your own way.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) - Why fret because your surroundings are not just as you want them to be - get busy with intricate, etc. and make them so. Make sure that your clothing is also improved. Attend to this also.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) - Making new arrangements that will delight all and get rid of tensions that have been building up for some time. Entertain those you like. Be encouraging with mate and the future dawn with ever-increasing clarity.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) - Being more cooperative with those who dwell under your roof brings more happiness and well being in the future. Put aside any prejudice you may have. If you are happy, your own welfare instantly improves.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) - Being with those who are of a happy frame of mind and getting into activities that you enjoy dispels that gloom that has been bothering you. Give immediate attention to important reports. Only you can do them accurately.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) - You need for added income is great, but don't concentrate on small collections you have to make, but find new outlets that bring in quick cash. Sponsored business persons give fine ideas. Follow for best results.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) - If you are not getting ahead as fast as you desire, it may be that your health needs improving. Do this in your spare time. Avoid arguing at any social affairs or there is real trouble ahead.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fascinating youngsters who will require a little extra care and attention that the father disorganized mind here will set itself straight and comes in tune with the higher elements, which is where he or she belongs. Getting into some business where better utilization is made in ideas here, since many a such can be put on a very well-paying basis. Send to business college.

Look for all shades of purple, from pale mauve, to deep as that traditionally worn by royalty to be strong in the fall and winter ready-to-wear.

Don Loper, the Beverly Hills, Calif., designer who loathes fashion fads, has some cutting remarks about some of the shapeless silhouettes women are wearing these days. Loper says they make women look pregnant. "Either that," says Loper, "or they are all going camping in their tent clothes."

It's Campus Modified

BOLD BRIGHT COLORS will separate the individual from the herd on campus this season. From left, a ribbed turtleneck sweater is coupled with muted plaid woolen trousers. The tan, raglan-sleeve raincoat features a zip-out pile lining which makes the coat an all-weather garment. Student is also wearing a bold, herringbone sports jacket. Man in front wears the traditional natural shoulder, three-button, vested suit in glen plaid. Newest button-down collar shirt has wide-track stripes and a buttoned flap pocket. At far right is a trim version of the classic pea jacket, worn with a white turtleneck sweater and wide-wale corduroy trousers.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two related columns on organizing a back-to-school wardrobe. The final column will appear two weeks from today.)
NEW YORK (NEA)—Preparing for college also means getting together the nucleus of an appropriate wardrobe. This project sometimes can be trying.

Despite the student's general disdain for things military, the armed forces have contributed a definite style to the campus. Heavy CPO shirts and new adaptations of the classic pea jacket will be popular outerwear styles. Also look for the "dough-boy" jacket with the stand-up collar, epaulets and big pockets.

Many campuses have developed, for better or worse, a certain sartorial style and woe betide the naive freshman who appears with out-of-it clothing. So the best advice anyone can offer is to wait until you're settled in the dormitory and see, generally, what upperclassmen are wearing before buying.

While this method is safe and your reputation as a tweed will be guaranteed from the start, it is highly unimaginative and you're liable to wind up with ivy-type uniforms.

If you feel your tastes are developed to the extent that you needn't toady to the fashion whim of campus "fashion-plates," by all means strike out on your own. You might want to know, however, what fashion experts and manufacturers consider appropriate campus garb this season. So read on.

Although the Mod look has not been comfortable on campus (leave your floral-patterned shirts home), a modification influenced by western styling promises to be most acceptable.

Martin Miller of Contact Slacks, a keen observer of men's fashion trends, suggests that bold colors and prints will be big. "Western jeans in hopsacks and elephant wale corduroy are in great demand," he reports.

While madras continues to be a staple, bold plaids and striped patterns have become popular. Miller adds that the trend is toward co-ordinated outfits - slacks, sweaters and accessories forming a total look rather than isolated items.

Sweaters with turtle, mock turtle, crew, vee and boat necks will be seen on every campus. The colors will be bold, and sleepwear for women is going frankly feminine after the past few years of kinky fashions. Manufacturers are stressing gently gored long shifts in delicate colors with long icing.

"There's no way of knowing how children are going to turn out. It's a lot of luck, I guess," the young mother said.

There's no way of knowing for sure how children will turn out. But luck isn't nearly as important as some other things, such as:

One. Giving a child the important kind of security that comes from knowing that his parents love and respect each other and that both of his parents love him.

Two. Teaching a child by example, not just through talk, the importance of truthfulness, honesty and a respect for the rights of others.

Three. Insisting that a child treat all adults with special courtesy. Parents made a big mistake when they stopped teaching their children to say "Yes, sir" and "No, ma'am" to grownups because of the nonsensical idea that it sounds subservient.

Four. Backing up the teacher who disciplines a child or insists on his working to capacity and thanking the neighbor who reports a child's destructiveness, instead of marking the neighbor off as a crank.

Five. Giving the child certain chores to do at home and making sure that he does them.

Six. Refusing to fall for the idea that teen-agers live in a world of their own and know better than their parents what is acceptable behavior. (Many parents today don't even chaperone their teen-agers' parties because their teen-agers have convinced them that it is not the thing to do.)

Seven. Not being afraid to say, "It doesn't matter what all the other kids can do. You cannot do it."

Eight. Never letting a child

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Of course two can live as cheaply as one. My wife and I live as cheaply as our daughter in college.

The family of the late W. E. Moseley had a reunion at Mangum, Okla. Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moseley of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moseley of Dallas, Mrs. Mattie Cannipe of Dallas, Mrs. Pansy Savage of Bakersfield, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moseley and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moseley of Reed, Okla.

Mrs. Lyda Stockman would like her friends to know that she has moved to 415 1/2 N. Frost St.

A dinner guest of Mrs. Mollie Hethcock Wednesday was Mrs. Jessie VanHuss, and afternoon callers were Mrs. Jo Webber and sister.

Reported in Highland Hospital is Mrs. H. M. Norris and Mr. Ellis. Mrs. C. C. DeMoss is still confined to Highland, and all would enjoy having company.

Mrs. J. C. Keen of Andrews is a house guest of Mrs. P. H. Gates, and was a welcome guest at Senior Citizens Center Thursday.

Mrs. E. Garland has returned from a visit to Juarez, Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lawrence and visiting son, Frank Yates of Cheyenne, Wyo. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Shaw Sunday, and the group made a tour of Lake Meredith in the afternoon.

Mrs. Shaw is a daughter of Mr. Lawrence.

Mrs. Linnie Chandler drove to Clarendon Friday to spend the day with Mrs. Stella Smith. Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Smith were house mothers together at Carwin State Home for several years.

Mrs. Ruff Hill visited in Liberal, and Sublett, Kan. and Springfield, Mo. last week and attended a family reunion at Lamar, Colo., Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Bell Puckett and Mrs. Irma Tubbs enjoyed a fishing trip near Dalhart recently, and report all the fish were little but they had a grand outing.

Richard Porter of Shamrock has spent the summer working at Guyton, Okla. He was enroute home Monday to enroll for his senior year in Wheeler High School and stopped in Pampa to visit his grandmother, Mrs. C. G. Miller, and uncle, Bill Miller.

Truteen Service League, sponsored by the Altrusa Club, was hostess at last Thursday's meeting. Serving sandwiches, cookies and coffee were Misses Suzy Palmer, Joyce Fischer, Martha McMullen, Dale Cain, Gail Craddock, Mary Jane Rose, Vickie Martin and Mrs. Thelma Bray, sponsor. Several of the Altrusans were present and assisted in registration and serving.

Gray ladies providing transportation were Mrs. Chris Byrly and Mrs. Ivo Denson.

Door prizes went to Mrs. C. G. Miller and C. W. Lawrence. Next meeting, Sept. 1, will honor those having birthdays in September and also will be celebrating the tenth anniversary of Senior Citizens Center.

Wheeler 2-A Pick

By A Staff Writer
WHEELER — Even though they are moving up in class the 1966 Wheeler Mustangs are the choice of four of the five district coaches to win the district championship.

The Mustangs received four five-place votes and 21 total points, based on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis, to nudge out Clarendon, who is expected to give Wheeler a run for its money.

Clarendon totaled one first place vote and 18 in all while Claude, expected to field a strong team also was third with 15 votes and McLean fourth with 12 and Silverton last with nine.

Wheeler coach J. T. Hill returns nine starters from a club that posted a 9-1 record in 1965.

He has the area's second leading scorer in Bobby Vanpool and Fred Goad, a 170-pound junior fullback who earned quite a reputation last year.

Hill's line is paced with veterans and he has lettermen to back them up in case of injury.

Clarendon returns eight defensive starters and seven offensive starters from a team that had only a 4-6 mark in 1965.

Besides his starters, coach Jeff Walker can unload 16 lettermen with proven ability.

Clarendon's biggest weakness is at quarterback where a junior and sophomore are fighting it out for a starting berth.

"We should be much improved over last year. We are bigger and have better speed and if we can come up with a quarterback should be pretty tough," was the way Waiser described this team's chances.

Claude is in a building stage and returns but four starters and nine lettermen with not one senior on the starting unit.

Coach Jerry Cannon, who fashioned a 3-6-1 record in 1965 feels his team has a year to go before they develop into a contender.

Cannon described his team thusly. "We have fair size and speed but our squad is made up of all juniors and sophomores. Give us a year."

McLean's 12 votes came as something of a surprise with coach Fred Hedgecock returning only six starters, two lettermen and three other lettermen.

The Tigers are small and inexperienced but might come up with a defense to hold their opponents.

The Tigers returned both starting tackles from last year and two guards.

Silverton coach, Tom Thornburgh isn't singing the blues over being picked last, in fact he likes it that way.

"That gives us more to shoot for," he said.

Thornburgh's 1965 squad finished 1-9 but looks good on paper with five offensive starters and six defensive starters back plus 15 lettermen.

"I think we've looked much improved so far. We don't have any speed but we have fair size and good experience, the coach said.

The Mustangs will have a chance to see how well they might perform this year when they open the 1966 season with a toughie, Lefors, picked to win their district, Sept. 9.

OUT OF GAS IN NEW YORK

Top Three Clubs Downed

By United Press International
 After their early-morning refueling at Grand Island, Neb., the Los Angeles Dodgers' run out of gas in New York.

Following their 5-2 victory over San Francisco Sunday, the Dodgers embarked on their private jet to New York, leaving at 8 p.m. CST, the Dodgers were forced to refuel at Grand Island — about halfway across the country — and didn't arrive at their destination until daybreak.

Exhausted after the 3,000-mile all-night trip and drained after the crucial series with the Giants, Los Angeles fell to the Mets 5-3 Monday night and lost a chance to take over first place in the National League.

The third-place Dodgers, viewing the scoreboard bleary-eyed, saw the front-running Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates tied for first with a 580 won-lost average — drop their encounters Monday night Houston blanked the Pirates 2-0 and Philadelphia whipped San Francisco 5-1.

Other NL Action
 Elsewhere, Cincinnati nipped St. Louis 2-0 and Chicago edged Atlanta 4-2 in 14 innings.

Shaw resumed after peace was restored and promptly yielded a two-out single to John Roseboro. Lou Johnson, who had slammed a two-run homer in the seventh, fanned to end the game.

"I didn't realize I hit him," Shaw explained after the game. Kenny Boyer collected a double and two singles and Jim Hickman drove in two runs for including defending N.L. batting champ Roberto Clemente three times — in pitching Houston to its 10th victory in the last 12 games — and sixth straight. Rookie Ron Davis slammed a two-run triple in the fifth to beat Bob Veale (13-9).

Throws Four Hitter
 Jim Bunning won his third game in four decisions against the Giants this season, hurling a four-hitter and raising his record to 15-9. Bunning yielded hits in the first and ninth innings and pitched hitless ball in between. Johnny Callison collected three hits and two RBIs as the Phils whipped San Francisco for the ninth time this season.

Joe Nuxhall, a 38-year-old southpaw, limited St. Louis to three hits to lead the Reds to their sixth straight victory. Nuxhall, turning in his second consecutive complete game, retired the last 13 batters in a row. Deron Johnson supplied the offense with home runs No. 18 and 19.

George Altman's two-run pinch single with one out in the 14th inning snapped a 2-2 tie and provided Robin Roberts with his fifth triumph in 13 decisions. The Cubs, who had loaded the bases in the 13th, filled them again the following stanza. The Braves had tied the game 2-2 in the ninth.

Mike Cuellar posted his first big league shutout as the Astros won their first game of the season at Forbes Field. Cuellar (10-6) fanned 12 —

Bob Shaw.

Cowboys Still Rated Darkhorse

By United Press International
 The Dallas Cowboys are so used to being called darkhorses, you almost expect them to play at Aqueduct.

Guided since their birth by one of the National Football League's recognized coaching geniuses, Tom Landry, the Cowboys have long been touted as an up-and-coming team in the Eastern Division.

In fact, for the past three summers, the Cowboys have been called by some experts as a darkhorse contender for the division crown.

But in December, when summer's hopes have to be measured against the realities of competition, the story has been the same.

Cowboys Have Flopped
 The Cowboys have flopped. They've still never won more games than they've lost in a single season.

Last year the Cowboys finally managed to break even at 7-7 and gain a share of second place and a berth in the Playoff Bowl — but they were clobbered then by the Baltimore Colts 35-3.

This year, however, they finally hope to fulfill their promise. The Cowboys are not only darkhorses in the East, they're top-flight contenders for the crown now that Jimmy Brown has decided he wants to memorize scripts instead of his playbook.

They're playing like contenders, too. Dallas is 4-0 in the exhibition season with all four victories over teams in the supposedly tougher Western Division, including a 21-3 trouncing of defending NFL champion Green Bay.

To Meet Vikings
 The Cowboys will attempt to complete their exhibition season with a perfect record when they meet the Minnesota Vikings in the last of the nationally televised Friday night clashes. The NFL doesn't play or televise games on Friday night once the season starts because of complaints from the high schools that it would ruin their gates.

Yanks Win Seventh Straight Contest

By United Press International
 Most athletes compete to win a letter. Willie Horton is trying to earn a number.

Willie was a veritable tiger Monday night when he walloped a pair of home runs and a single to drive in five runs and pace Detroit's 6-3 triumph over Baltimore, whose first place margin was sliced to 1 1/2 games.

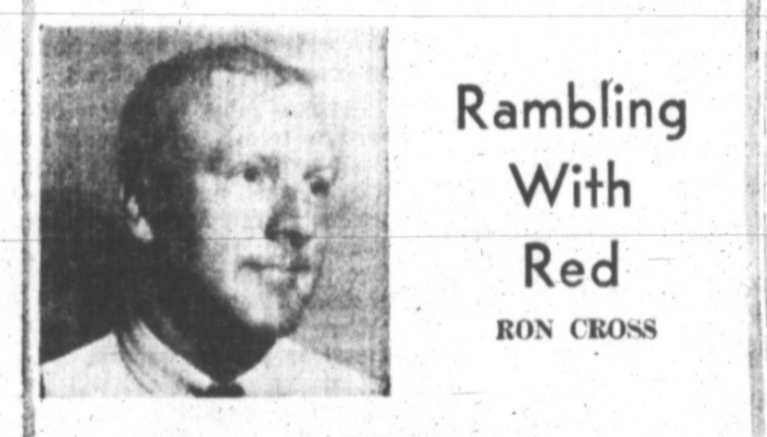

Elsewhere, Chicago shut out Cleveland 2-0, Minnesota trimmed Washington 6-1. New York downed Kansas City 7-2 and Boston beat California 4-3, swinging Allen, broke a 1-1 tie. Perry went the route — fanning six, and won his eighth decision against five setbacks.

Horace Clarke tripled home the tying run and then scored the go-ahead tally for New York in the eighth inning at Kansas City as the Yankees overcame a 2-1 deficit. Lou Clinton ripped a two-run homer in the ninth when the Yanks added four more runs.

Jose Tartabull's ninth-inning pinch two-run single drove in George Scott and George Thomas, who had singled, with the tying and winning Boston runs as the Red Sox vacated the cellar in favor of Kansas City. Scott socked his 25th homer in the seventh inning to tie the score and Bobby Knop gave California a 3-2 lead with a roundtripper in the last of the seventh.

Tommye Agee hit his 17th home run with pinch runner Al Weis on base in the sixth inning as Chicago southpaw Tommy John stopped Cleveland on five hits, moving the White Sox into fourth place. Agee's sixth inning roundtripper saddled Gary Bell with his 10th loss overall and fourth to the Sox. John, now 13-8, didn't walk a man and allowed only one runner to advance to third base while compiling his fifth whitewash of the campaign.

Rambling With Red RON CROSS

The loss of quarterback Larry Stephens to the Pampa Harvesters is a staggering blow. But, it does not necessarily mean everything has been lost.

The morale of the gridderers dropped 100 per cent when Stephens broke his arm Saturday and improved 150% Monday but no one was hurt anymore, in more ways than one, than Larry himself.

He hurt his back as a sophomore and didn't play his junior year to exercise the back so it would be strong enough so he could play this year.

He lasted almost a week. This hurts Larry more than you can imagine. He is the type boy who gives his all on every play. He is a leader in every sense of the word.

This was to be the year of the comeback for Pampa. 1966 was to be their first winning football year in longer than almost anybody can remember.

The Pampa football team of 1966 has more potential than any team that has been here in the last 10 years. They are sure winners.

Quarterbacking will be a problem, a little speed is gone now, the defense is weaker.

Gary Hyatt is now in the spotlight as the Harvester's No. 1 signal caller and the senior has a lot of responsibility to shoulder.

But he is man enough to do it. He has all the tools, a good mind, size, fair speed and good hands.

It is hard to whip a defeatist attitude, which Pampa has had to these many years, but the Harvester coaching staff has done this in less than a year.

Head coach Eural Ramsey had said earlier Saturday that his 1966 squad had shown more hustle and determination than any team he had ever coached.

"You can tell these kids want to play football. They are ready to hit somebody," Ramsey said.

Doc Cornutt, elected captain Monday, will serve as a good leader. The players respect Doc and well they should. He is a standout in both the classroom and football field besides being a good Christian.

Pump 'em up, Doc, and let's get this show on the road!

The Wrong Emphasis

It is predicted from this desk that there will be an upsurge in kiddie smokers.

Inspired by noble motives, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers supported by Public Health Service funds ($87,000 worth) will make a major effort to keep 7th and 8th grade school children from smoking cigarettes...

We are all for encouraging children to make decisions against anything which will be harmful to them. But we seriously doubt that this is the best of all possible plans of succeeding by cramming their ears with anti-smoking propaganda...

It is our experience that kids are pretty canny individuals. "No" has real meaning for them when the ones saying it are persons they respect, even admire.

We Read You, But Is It English?

The men who run the nation's space program are experts in science and engineering, not English.

This is fortunate for the space program but it has been known to wreak havoc on the mother tongue.

One of the latest examples of how "space speak" is changing the language is the use of the word "nominal."

Recently an aerospace magazine was called to task for printing: "The dissolution of the committee will occur on..."

McNeill described "space speak" itself as "an engineering technology concept expression manuscript sentence grammar device."

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

Without a Fight The death of the once great "New York Herald Tribune" has caused concern far beyond the metropolis of New York City where it was published.

A few months ago 'the Trib' was read by more than a million persons a day. The company that published it gave employment to hundreds of people—editors, reporters, advertising men, printers and a variety of clerical help.

The Trib died not simply of one labor dispute but of the climate of opinion which permits a union to silence the press in the nation's largest city and to paralyze other types of essential industry.

The nation—and New York State, for that matter—has not been without individual leaders and organizations striving to wake the American people to the terrible danger posed by monopoly unionism.

Mr. Lindsay was opposed to state right to work laws. He bragged that New York City was a "union" city.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

A device to enable the deaf and blind to converse on the telephone has been developed. The model for deaf persons who can see has a small lamp that converts long and short sounds into blinks of light.

No matter where you go these days you see expensive boats. It makes us wonder where folks get the money to buy these luxury items.

Thoughts while shaving: The telephone ranks third as the (most popular method of) pro-lousing marriage.

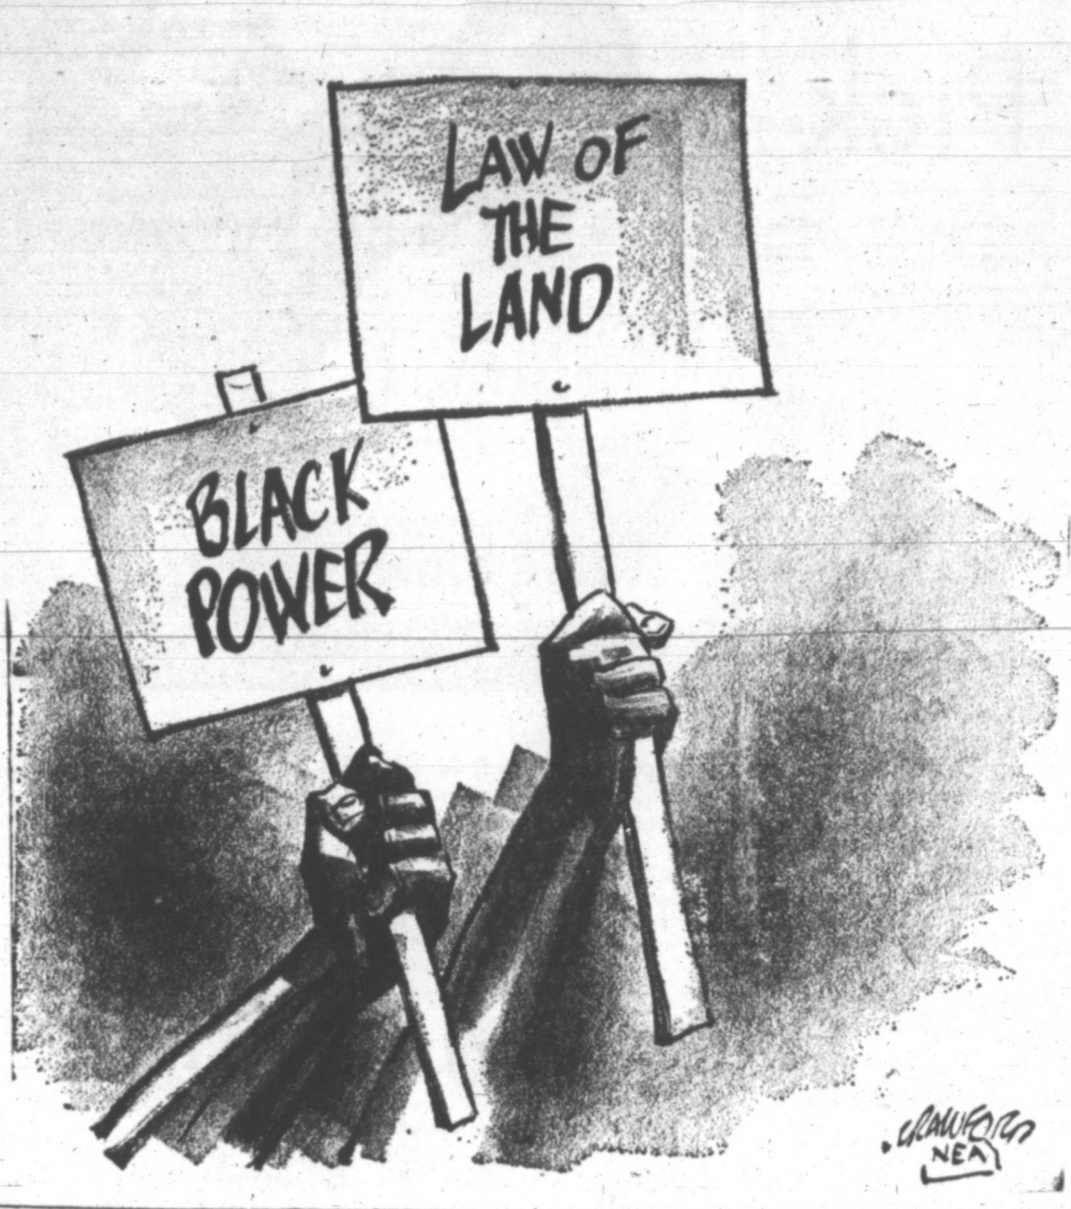

There's a lesson here. Some people in our society look at the power of the "liberals" and say: "If I can't lick them, I will join them."

In this life, it doesn't pay to run away from struggle or to abandon sound principles for what seems momentary gain.

In this life, it doesn't pay to run away from struggle or to abandon sound principles for what seems momentary gain.

Indeed, had The Trib chosen conservatism instead of "liberalism," New York City today might have a conservative mayor.

New Satellites Could Bring Live Coverage Of Viet-Nam War to U.S. and Europe in '67

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON—A major communications breakthrough that will bring a new dimension to the Viet Nam conflict, is in the immediate offing.

Two satellites are being readied for launching by the National Aeronautics & Space Administration from Cape Kennedy, Fla., for COMSAT—Communications Satellite Corporation.

Powerful TV-radio ground transmitters and receivers will operate from Thailand, Japan, the Philippines and Hawaii.

By mid-1967, live TV coverage of the war will be possible when Saigon is connected to a mobile transmitter in Thailand.

The satellite communication rates are as low as COMSAT officials are privately saying they will be, many independent TV stations as well as the networks will find it feasible to transmit daily war reports from South Viet Nam.

Some of the President's advisers are urging him to set up a special panel to study this "instant TV" problem.

One circuit is being set aside for direct communications between the White House and the command in Saigon.

"Once the new system is in full operation," said an Army officer working on plans for the military use of the new communications system.

CONGRESSIONAL FLASHES—Republican House Leader Gerald Ford (Mich.) has informed the White House he is less.

Country Editor speaking: "Some fellows believe in dreams until they marry one."

HUNT FOR TRUTH

By H. L. HUNG MIND - DESTROYING DRUGS The use of mind-destroying drugs is on the increase, especially among our young people.

Certainly it is true that only a relatively small minority of our young people is in any way directly involved with dangerous drugs. But this minority includes a disturbingly large number of college students, who ought to be the most aware of the enormous damage these drugs can do.

In the past, the chief menace has been the habit-forming drugs which in time can kill. Now the fastest-growing threat comes from drugs such as LSD and marijuana which destroys the mind rather than the body, which in a sense is worse.

It is far from a sufficient explanation to say that young people take mind-destroying drugs simply in search of a thrill. Youth has always been daring and adventurous, but to take a mind-destroying drug is no daring adventure. It is a sick attempt to escape from the world and from oneself.

Instead we must ask why young people feel driven to seek such an escape. Perhaps we will find that a vital part of the explanation lies in the kind of education they have been given.

If they have been taught by super-sophisticated teachers and authors that right and wrong, truth and falsehood are outmoded ideas with no meaning for them, they will never be able to make sense out of the world and themselves nor will

Another Secret In LBJ's Closet

(Detroit News)

The American public has just been treated to another example of the secrecy-prone, father-knows-best character of the Johnson administration.

Last April, we are now informed in press reports, Mr. Johnson decided the nation's program to develop a supersonic transport airliner (SST) must be stepped up to a "highest priority" basis, comparable to the conduct of the Viet Nam war.

This multibillion-dollar program—estimated change yearly, but never go down—has been designed to put a number of 1,800-m.p.h. airplanes in commercial service by 1974. Supposedly, the research and development costs now borne primarily by United States taxpayers will be repaid once the planes begin operations, but the economic feasibility of the whole project is still open to serious question.

The decision to give the SST the highly unusual "highest priority" status apparently stems from a desire not only to race competitors to market with the aircraft but to prevent any worsening of our balance of payments deficit which successful competition might cause.

The new policy is a clear departure from earlier plans to avoid any such race with Russian, French, and British competition. Until April, we were content to work deliberately, sure that eventually we would produce a better airplane.

What is peculiar is that the American people, who are paying for the project and will be its prime beneficiaries, have been kept in the dark about its new, apparently critical, importance.

This suggests either that our present commercial air superiority is in much greater danger of being usurped by other nations than we have been told, or that there is something about the SST project which should be kept from critical eyes.

Aside from keeping trade secrets confidential there is no justification for the clandestine activity involved in developing the SST or in assigning such urgency to this nondefense project. When such huge amounts of public money are involved, it is unacceptable.

The President owes the taxpayers an explanation.

Your Dental Health

By DR. WM. LAWRENCE

Doctor Answers Questions About Dental Troubles Q—I have to use dental floss after every meal. What's the right way to use it?

A—If you have to use dental floss after every meal, then there must be something wrong with your teeth: faulty contact due to poorly contoured fillings; decay between teeth; periodontal difficulty; natural spaces between teeth that should be corrected.

There is a right way to use floss. Hold it so that fingers of both hands are close together. In that way, only an inch or two of floss has to be controlled, instead of a long strand.

Don't remove floss the same way it went in. Hold one end and pull it out the side if impacted food can't be dislodged this way, make a loose knot at one end of the floss and pull it through the embrasure between the teeth.

Q—What can I do to keep my false teeth from having an odor?

A—It's not unusual for plastic materials used in dentures to absorb odors. And sometimes they are objectionable. This can be kept at a minimum if dentures are not allowed to cake up with stains and tartar and soft foods.

Brush your dentures at least once a day with a stiff brush and soap and warm water. Every week or so, soak them in an oxygenating cleanser. There are many brands available.

Q—Tell me the truth. Don't you admit that toothpaste is just dentist bait? I use soap and water and I have no cavities.

A—All I can say is UGH! This reader claims she has no cavities, but she didn't say she had teeth.

to finish work on the President's program. If there is a lame-duck session, I will employ every parliamentary maneuver and tactic in the book to block passage of legislation. Only if there is a national emergency, do I favor Congress returning after election.

President Johnson is letting it be known that he would like to see Congress recess by Oct. 1 and return after the Nov. 8 election. In talking with Representative Wilbur Mills D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, the President suggested that if this were done, his Committee might be asked to hold hearings on new tax proposals.

THE DISTANCE FROM REASON

Topeka, Kan., Free Lance

How many concepts can you think of which are commonly accepted today which just simply are not valid or true? The listing will amaze and frighten as one realizes how far we have strayed from the path of sense and morality. Here's a few to start with. See how many more you can add:

- 1. That workers have a right to strike—walk off their jobs then use force to see that the employer can't operate his own property by hiring other workers.
2. That government can spend beyond its income on and forever without a fiscal day of reckoning.
3. That ours any longer is a government of law and not of men.
4. That money which has no intrinsic worth is just as good and as safe as silver and gold coinage.
5. That government can wipe out poverty by gigantic expenditures of the taxpayer's money.
6. That federal funds should be spent to enable downtown merchants to compete with privately financed shopping centers in the suburban areas.
7. That government should have the power of conscription.
8. That government should force one person to associate or enter into business transactions with another if he chooses not to do so.
9. That government should engage in bloody warfare against communism on the one hand and support communism with concessions, subsidies and gifts on the other.
10. That government should own and operate businesses in competition with private enterprise.
You take it from here.
