Soviet Officials Free American To Appeal Case

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Soviet judge released a jailed American on bail Saturday and said he could make a personal appeal to the higher court reviewing his three-year sentence for black marketeering.

The Leningrad City Court ordered Buel Ray Wortham, 25, of North Little Rock, Ark., freed in $22,222 bail and permitted him to take up temporary residence at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

He is the first jailed American ever released on bail in Russia while his sentence was awaiting appeal.

American officials said the Russian Federation Supreme Court had granted Wortham's request to make a personal plea when it meets in Moscow in late January or early February to review his sentence.

The Soviet news agency TASS reported from Leningrad that Wortham told an interviewer after his release he would use the opportunity "to denounce personally the crimes he had committed" and that he "wanted to ask the supreme court for leniency."

Congressional Leaders Believe Powell Hearing Will Be Quiet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional leaders Saturday foresaw a quiet, unspectacular hearing on whether Adam Clayton Powell should lose his seat in Congress permanently.

They said airing of the charges against the flamboyant Harlem Democrat probably will be in closed session — unlike the last select committee investigation when the Senate examined the conduct of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R-Wis., in 1954.

The leaders' privately expressed view is backed by key House members who said that time prevents the investigation from growing into a broad, searching inquiry.

Under the Republican-sponsored resolution adopted by the House when Congress convened Tuesday, the special nine-member committee must report its recommendations back to the House within five weeks.

Meantime, Powell, who earlier was stripped of his committee chairmanship by fellow Democrats in a disciplinary move, is a member of Congress only in that he's getting paid.

The House barred Powell from taking his seat until the committee makes its recommendations. Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., is reported having trouble finding five Democrats willing to serve on the politically touchy committee.

Service and Fellowship Lions' Guest Gives Growth Guidelines

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Dedication to service and inter-club fellowship is one of the reasons Lions Club International has grown into the largest men's service club in the world, Alton Griffin, Lubbock district attorney and past governor of District 2T2 Lions Club, said in an interview Saturday afternoon.

"But it still hasn't reached all the people it should, nor has it rendered all the service of which it is capable," he said. The Lubbock attorney, an honored guest at the mid-winter conference of District 2T1 in session today in the Coronado Inn, will be guest speaker at the conference luncheon at 1 p.m. today.

Griffin is currently vice president of the Lions' Club Texas Crippled Children's League at Kerrville.

Holding a press conference Saturday with District Governor W. L. Edelman of Friona, the conference's presiding officer, Griffin said, "We can't afford to be satisfied with the job we are doing even though we are the largest service club in the world. We haven't scratched the surface of the service we can accomplish nor reached all the people who could be members of the Lions Clubs."

"Fellowship and working together on a project of mutual interest is what has made Lionism grow," the former District 2T2 governor said. "The great value of Lionism is that a member can become personally involved in the project and have the fellowship of another Lion while he is doing it."

"Too often," he continued, "service clubs fall into the habit of just writing a check to finance a project. But getting out and working shoulder to shoulder with a fellow member to put something over makes that project come alive and become a personal thing for everyone who works on it."

Griffin said since its founding by Melvin Jones in Chicago 50 years ago, Lionism had grown into a membership of 811,000 strong with clubs in 135 countries and geographical locations in the Free World.

Lionism has continued to grow through the depression of the '20s, the wars of the '40s, and the stepped up pace of living of the '50s.

District Governor Edelman said this morning's cabinet meeting would include discussion of integrating the Texas Crippled Children's League at Kerrville. The league is a summer camping program for crippled children sponsored by voluntary contributions from Lions in Texas.

Plans for reinstating a training center for the blind as a winter program at Kerrville was also to come up for discussion today.

Edelman said he planned to ask members to take a look at and consider instigating a program of voluntary assistance to Girls Town USA in White Face. He said this is a home for

Radio Peking Seized By Mao's Red Guards

Open Defiance Seen In Chinese Struggle

HONG KONG (UPI) — Red Guard followers of Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung seized Peking Radio Saturday because its broadcasts were not following "Mao's thought." The move was seen as a bid to bring all mass media under control of the aging leader.

A broadcast said Red Guards seized the station because its broadcasts had been "suppressing Mao's thought and resorted to the anti-revolutionary line."

Japanese correspondents in Peking said Mao appeared seriously worried by the challenge to his rule but that he appeared strong enough to take counter action.

They also reported Saturday that President Liu Shao-chi, considered Mao's chief opponent in the Red Chinese power struggle, had openly defied the 73-year-old chairman by charging that Mao had wrongly accused him of subversive political activity.

Liu was reported to have demanded that his earlier "confession" of anti-Mao activities be withdrawn and that he no longer be subjected to "self-criticism." The statement appeared in a wall poster in Peking, the Japanese correspondents said.

The statement was seen as a serious challenge to Mao.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said Saturday in a dispatch from Peking that Mao's wife, Mme. Chiang Ching, had told Red Guards to halt their attacks on five vice premiers and the political chief of the Chinese army.

She was quoted as describing the men in a speech last Tuesday as "good comrades."

Mme. Chiang also told the Red Guards that Security Minister Hsieh Fu Chi, recently criticized by Premier Chou En-lai, had now corrected his ways and all attacks on him should cease.

Japanese newspaper reports Saturday also said "several tens" of persons, believed to be members of the army, had been arrested by supporters of Mao aide Lin Biao, the defense minister and vice premier.

The official Soviet news agency TASS meanwhile carried its first report of the rebellion of Communist party officials in Shanghai against Mao's "cultural revolution."

Festivities on inaugural day, Tuesday, will begin with an open house at 3 a. m. in all state offices at the Capitol complex. Connally will receive representatives of all consulates located in Texas at the capital at 10:30 a. m.

At noon on Tuesday Connally and Smith will take their oaths of office on a platform built on the front steps of the Capitol.

At 3 p. m. Tuesday a parade featuring units from all over the state will be held in downtown Austin. Floats will emphasize the tourist aspects of Texas.

Proposed Nuclear Ban Treaty May Be Acceptable to Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is consulting its allies on a proposal for banning the spread of nuclear weapons which officials believe Russia would accept, the administration reported Saturday.

The proposed treaty would pledge the nuclear powers not to turn over nuclear weapons to the "national control" of any country which does not yet have them. According to some sources, it would not specifically rule either way on some form of western European nuclear sharing.

London newspaper reports insisted the United States and Russia had agreed on a text.

Voter Registration May Be Top Issue

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A new subject to fight over—whether voters should have annual or permanent registration — was added to the card of the 60th Legislature this week even before lawmakers got themselves organized.

The controversial issue was given new life on Thursday when Dist. Judge Herman Jones of Austin ruled that a constitutional amendment approved by the voters Nov. 8 failed to sufficiently inform them that it was putting annual registration in the constitution.

The issue, passed by the 59th Legislature, was presented on the ballot only as repeal of the Texas poll tax—which was already done by a federal court ruling that the tax was unconstitutional.

But the proposal on the official ballot failed to mention that the issue also would require the legislature to pass a law calling on voters to re-register every year.

Jones noted in his decision that the proposal, as passed by the legislature, spelled out for lawmakers themselves while they were considering it that it not only repealed the poll tax, but carried provisions for the registration of all voters.

The legislature has to pass a new voter registration law this session, whether or not Jones' decision is upheld or rejected by higher courts.

The emergency registration provision passed by a 10-day special session in February provided rules to conduct elections only through Sept. 30, 1967. Thus, a new registration law is necessary this session for future elections.

Most conservatives favor annual over permanent registration. Many of them had hoped to get the issue settled at once and for all by writing the annual registration requirement in the constitution.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said Friday he plans to appeal Jones decision to the Texas Supreme Court, and expects a reversal.

The governor is scheduled to come before a joint session Wednesday and outline at least a part of his program on spending and taxes for the next two years.

Connally has indicated he will break up his recommendation into several different messages. As a result, lawmakers may have to wait another week or so before they get all of the 1967-69 biennium.

By the end of this week, bills should be pouring into the hopper of both houses. The 60th session of the Texas Legislature will have a full head of steam.

Forces Strike Troop Buildups

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Forces struck from land, sea and air Saturday at Communist troop buildups and roving guerrilla bands along the demilitarized zone. Powerful B52 bombers hit inside the zone and there were reports they soon would operate from a new and closer base in Thailand.

High-level military sources said the eight-jet B52s, which have been flying their bombing runs from Guam 2,500 miles away, now are on station at the new U-Tapao Air Base in Thailand, 80 miles southeast of Bangkok.

But in Washington, a Pentagon spokesman denied any B52s were operating from Thai bases against Communist targets in Vietnam. "No bombers are there and we have no bases for them," the spokesman said. "We have not authorized B52 bombers to operate from Thailand."

It was learned the mighty B52s, capable of carrying up to 60,000 pounds of bombs, were preparing stepped-up air raids against the Communists in Vietnam—probably included two North Vietnamese divisions believed to be rebuilding in the demilitarized zone (DMZ).

At least 74 Communists were reported killed Saturday in Red harassing attacks—possibly intended as feints to mask a big armed buildup in the six-mile-wide demilitarized strip.

U.S. warships offshore shelled Communist concentrations, and Navy and Air Force jets struck north of the border as U.S. Marines smashed a series of Communist concentrations, and against American ground positions.

Jaycees Slate 'Bosses Night' Here Tuesday

"Bosses Night," the annual banquet of Jaycee members and their employers, will be held in the First Methodist Church Fellowship Hall, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, according to Jerry Coley, project chairman.

Bosses Night is an annual feature of Jaycee chapters throughout the nation. It recognizes bosses who support the aims of their Jaycee employees. The "Boss of the Year" will be honored and presented a special certificate by Pampa Jaycees President Jake Webb.

A distinguished service award will be presented to a member of the Jaycees by E. O. (Red) Wedgworth, manager of Pampa's Chamber of Commerce.

Coley said the speaker for the evening will be James O. Reese, Odessa, registered representative of the New York Stock Exchange, associated with Eppley, Guerin and Turner Inc., Odessa; past vice president, United States Jaycees; and selected for the 1967 edition of the publication "Outstanding Young Men of America."

The toastmaster will be Floyd Watson.

Highway Patrolman Captures Escapees

CANADIAN — Three Indiana penal farm escapees, who shot and seriously wounded a State, Okla., city marshal, were captured without force Saturday near Canadian by Pampa Highway Patrolman Stanley Schneider.

The trio, Jerry Delong, 21, his brother Thomas Scott Delong, 23, and James Elmer Cooney, 21, all of Indiana, were to be arranged and extradited to Elk City for the shooting.

The men were hiding in a heavily-wooded area about five miles south of Canadian to avoid being seen by members of the Pampa squadron of Civil Air Patrol, which had joined in the search.

Philadelphia Blaze Kills Nine Members of Family

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A dawn blaze, possibly started by a cigarette, flashed through a three-story row home in North Philadelphia Saturday killing a mother and father and seven of their children.

Three other children and a neighborhood girl visiting with the family jumped out of flaming windows, two of them into the arms of a next-door neighbor.

"The bodies were everywhere, in beds, on the floors and in the hallway," said Battalion Chief Joseph Cody.

Xavier Roman Catholic Parish, where all the children and their parents before them, attended parochial school, stood by to administer last rites.

"Oh my God," sobbed a woman watching the flames leap from all windows, "they are all still in there, all those children."

Tragedy-hardened firemen wept and many in the crowd of some 300 spectators gasped as each small body, wrapped in a bright yellow shroud and tied to a stretcher, was lowered down ladders from the blackened holes that were once windows.

Perryton CoC To Install New Officers

PERRYTON — Dr. Charles Allen will be guest speaker at the Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce annual banquet Wednesday.

The dinner is planned for 7:30 p.m. in the South Elementary School cafeteria.

Highlight of the banquet will be the naming of the chamber's "Outstanding Citizen of the Year."

New chamber officers will officially take over duties after the banquet.

Frank Shaffer was recently installed as chamber president to serve with Dr. Eugene Waide, vice president.

New directors include Gene Austin, J. J. Keim, Paul Baumgartner, Milton Caldwell and Dr. Eugene Waide.

Holdover directors are G. K. Ruppert, C. W. Fouts, Dr. Robert Morrison, Don Ballenger and Elmer Bechtold.

Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce and formerly of Wichita Falls, was guest speaker at the banquet when new chamber officers were installed.

Police Plan To Question Burned Man

Pampa police were waiting today to question a 49-year-old Panhandle man after he was found lying face down on the ground and bloodied at a house fire Saturday.

Pampa firemen answered the call to a home owned by Leslie Morgan at 810 S. Somerville, but roused by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCampbell about 5:10 p.m. and had the fire out by 6:30 p.m. The house and contents were a total loss, according to Pampa fire officials.

Police became interested when Patrolman Preston Bailey found Clifford S. Taylor lying on the ground near the southeast corner of the home with his face bloodied and burned.

Taylor was taken to Highland General Hospital where he was treated. He was listed in fair condition Saturday night, and police were expected to question him sometime today.

According to a Pampa police report, Taylor and McCampbell had been at a local tavern and Taylor was taken to his (McCampbell's) home.

The police report stated McCampbell went to get his wife from work and they went to a cafe.

According to the report, while they were at the cafe, another woman, who was spending the weekend with the McCampbells, came to the cafe and told them a man was "messing around" with one of the stoves in the house.

McCampbell told police that he and his wife hurried home and when they arrived Taylor was standing on the front porch.

Cyclists Collide In Field

George Poole, 17, 1432 Willis, was examined and released from Highland General Hospital shortly after 2 p.m. yesterday following a two-motorcycle collision in a field south of the Kentucky St. bridge.

The two cyclists, Poole and Don Runyon, 26, 1325 N. Stark, were driving side by side when both motorcycles swerved off the road and collided in the field.

Runyon was not injured.

Patrol Investigates 13 Rural Road Accidents During Month of December

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 13 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of December, according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in nine persons injured and an estimated property damage of $6,920.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the calendar year 1966, shows a total of 221 crashes resulting in six persons killed, 122 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $118,300.

"When the final reports are tabulated, we will find that more people were killed in Texas traffic accidents during 1966 than in any prior year in the history of this state," the Sergeant stated. The final count is expected to be about 15 per cent more than the 3,628 traffic deaths in 1965. This increase should be a challenge for every individual to put forth his best defensive efforts to prevent accidents during 1967.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor cautions all motorists to beware of ice spots at bridges, underpasses and in shadows. Reduce speed before you reach these slippery areas.

Price Announces Academy, Postal Forms Available

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Sp)—The Panhandle's new congressman, Bob Price, announced Saturday he will have application forms available until Jan. 31 for high school seniors interested in attending the United States Merchant Marine Academy upon graduation.

"I have been advised I will be allowed to make 10 nominations of students to enter the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y., on July 23, 1967," Price said. "This is an excellent chance for young men to get a college education at no cost."

The 18th District congressman requested that any high school students desiring to be considered for one of the appointments send personal and school information to his Washington office, 1323 Longworth Bldg., before Jan. 31.

Price has also been advised applicants for summer postal jobs, which will pay $2.44 per hour, should apply at their local post office between Jan. 10 and Feb. 9 for information about the Civil Service Commission's written examination.

The freshmen, representative announced the opening of two headquarters in the district. Temporary Amarillo offices will be in Room 623, Bank of the Southwest Bldg., where Amarillo businessman Eddie Baird will serve as Price's district liaison representative. The Pampa office is presently located at 800 N. Sumner. Both offices will be moved to the post office bldg. in Amarillo and Pampa shortly after the first of March.

Price pointed out that although Baird will be officing in Amarillo he will be traveling throughout the district. Mrs. Charles Wilkerson will be in charge of the Pampa office. Lix Ravcraft will be secretary in the Amarillo office.

Wife of Former Pampa Minister Dies in Santa Fe

Mrs. Robert Boshen, 57, of Santa Fe, N. M., wife of a former pastor of Pampa First Presbyterian Church, died Friday night in a Santa Fe hospital following an illness of several months.

Rev. Boshen has been pastor of Santa Fe First Presbyterian Church the past 10 years. He was pastor of the Pampa Church from 1937 to 1944, serving as pastor of Hemphill Presbyterian Church, Fort Worth, from 1944 to 1956 before moving to Santa Fe.

Rev. and Mrs. Boshen, the former Kathryn Culp, an Iowa School teacher, were married shortly before coming to Pampa.

Mr. Boshen was a member of the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian Church of the USA.

Survivors include her husband of the home; one daughter, Miss Ann Boshen, associated with the Metropolitan Opera Co. in New York, her mother and one sister.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon, in Santa Fe First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Memorial Gardens, Santa Fe, under direction of Memorial Chapel Funeral Home.

Guilty Pleas Heard In Local Court

Following previous indictments by a Gray County Grand Jury, five cases were heard in 31st Judicial District Court yesterday by District Judge Grainger McIlhenny.

Eddie Lee Wells pleaded guilty to three charges of burglary. He was sentenced to three five year terms in the penitentiary to run concurrently.

Don Wells, acting with Eddie Wells, pleaded not guilty to a charge of burglary and will be tried by a jury.

Ray Arrendondo waived a jury trial and pleaded guilty to a charge of borrowing an owner's car without permission. He was sentenced to two years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Richard Spradley and Roy Bright, acting together, pleaded guilty to a charge of shoplifting and were placed on two years probation.

R. L. Durham, waived jury trial and pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining money with a worthless check. He was given a two-year probation sentence with the stipulation that he make restitution of $100 to the Tarpley Music Co.

White Deer Student Wins Science Award

WHITE DEER — Gary Stewart, high school student, has been awarded the Bausch and Lomb Science Award for 1967.

Principal David Grayson, in making the award said, "These awards are especially significant. They provide recognition to senior students with the highest scholastic standing in science subjects."

Winners of the Honorary Science Award are eligible to compete for science scholarships at the University of Rochester. The award winner is selected early so that the application for the scholarship competition can be filled out and returned to the university before the Jan. 15 deadline.

SWC Bond Set

Orvil Thornburg Jr., 1433 Charles, was arraigned in justice of peace court yesterday on charges of swindling with worthless checks on two out-of-town stores.

Justice of Peace Ed Anderson set bonds at $1,000 each on the two charges.

Board Extends Contracts Of School Officers

WHITE DEER — The contract of Superintendent of Schools Durman Thomas was renewed to June 30, 1970, at a recent board meeting of the White Deer-Skellytown Independent School District.

Other contracts reviewed and renewed were those of high school principal, David Grayson to July 31, 1969; grade school principals John F. Banks and John Morris to Aug. 31, 1969.

A called meeting is scheduled for Jan. 23 when the board will meet with oil and gas valuation engineers and the Board of Equalization to discuss the school district tax problems for 1967.

Attending the board meeting were Thomas and board members, Bill Terry, Will Urbanczyk, Ed Harmon, Paul Hinton, Kenneth Crawford, Jerry O'Neal and Miller Hawpe.

Many Voters Have Yet To Register

Only one-third of Gray County's over 10,000 eligible voters have registered to vote in elections scheduled for this year.

Deadline for registration is Jan. 31.

Registration requirements are the same as in other years with the exception there is no poll tax fee to be paid.

Persons may register at the Gray County Tax Assessor's office in the courthouse at anytime from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is opened during the noon hour for the convenience of registrants.

Voters must be registered to cast ballots in the April 1 school board election to fill two board members' posts and in the April 4 election to select a mayor and four city commissioners.

To qualify as a voter in Texas, a person must be a resident of the state for 12 months; a resident of the county for six months and must be 21 years of age at the time the ballot is cast.

The over-age exemption is similar to the poll tax exemption regulations in that a registration receipt is not necessary for those who are 60 or over; if they live in a town of less than 10,000 population. Unlike the poll tax requirement, the person need only reach the age requirement by election day, not on the previous Jan. 1.

A person who will become 60 during the year may want to register so he would be eligible to vote in any election scheduled or called prior to the time age 60 is reached.

In 1965, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill went into a coma from which he never recovered. He died Jan. 23.

PHS Debaters Win a 'First'

Pampa High School debaters Gwen Brunson and Joyce Fischer won a first place in the Invitational Debate Tournament held yesterday in Spearman.

Suzy Palmer and Rowena Rudick received a fourth place plaque.

John Karr and Jan Farley placed with five wins and one loss.

Fifty-two member teams from the high schools in Panhandle area participated in the tournament held in the Spearman High School.

Other members from P.H.S. were Jennifer Cunningham and Kathy Becker; Jo Hiatt and Janie Butcher; Jeannie Bell and Steve Bossay; Ann Linda Gunn and Chris Dunn.

Six rounds of debate were given to the question: "Resolved that the foreign aid policy of the United States should be limited to non-military assistance."

David Heath, speech department instructor, accompanied the debaters to Spearman due to the illness of the debate coach, Mrs. Virginia Myers.

The message was relayed to Schneider, who went into the area on foot and caught the trio from behind.

Schneider said the men were unarmed and surrendered without force.

Canute City Marshall Gerald Kupka was listed in satisfactory condition in Elk City's Memorial Hospital. He was shot twice in the chest alongside Interstate Highway 40 about two miles west of Canute and 14 miles east of Elk City.

The men abandoned their car after the shooting and fled in a red ambulance that Kupka had been driving. The ambulance was later abandoned near Hammon, Okla., about 23 miles from the shooting, and another car stolen. This car was found abandoned near Canadian Saturday morning.

Law officers from the Pampa Highway Patrol, Gray County Sheriff's office and Pampa Police Department joined in the search.

Kupka told officers from his hospital bed that he noticed the men driving around early Saturday and thought they might be planning a burglary. He began following them and stopped their car on the highway.

He said that when he got out of the ambulance, they shot him.

Wife of Former Pampa Minister Dies in Santa Fe

Mrs. Robert Boshen, 57, of Santa Fe, N. M., wife of a former pastor of Pampa First Presbyterian Church, died Friday night in a Santa Fe hospital following an illness of several months.

Rev. Boshen has been pastor of Santa Fe First Presbyterian Church the past 10 years. He was pastor of the Pampa Church from 1937 to 1944, serving as pastor of Hemphill Presbyterian Church, Fort Worth, from 1944 to 1956 before moving to Santa Fe.

Rev. and Mrs. Boshen, the former Kathryn Culp, an Iowa School teacher, were married shortly before coming to Pampa.

Mr. Boshen was a member of the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian Church of the USA.

Survivors include her husband of the home; one daughter, Miss Ann Boshen, associated with the Metropolitan Opera Co. in New York, her mother and one sister.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon, in Santa Fe First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Memorial Gardens, Santa Fe, under direction of Memorial Chapel Funeral Home.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

TEEN DANCES FOR JANUARY — The Center has scheduled a good group of entertainment for the young people on Friday and Saturday nights during January. On January 20 and 27 the Essex will play from 8-11 p.m. On January 21 the 2 Squared will play for a dance for all ages (Jr. and Sr. and College) from 8-11 p.m. Then on January 28 the Chanters will play for an all invited dance 8-11 p.m. Bands and events for February are now being planned.

CENTER MEMBERSHIPS AVAILABLE — The Center, since changing its rules, is open for membership to anyone living in the continental United States. The Center maintains its program only through membership and donations from businesses and individuals. The Center receives no tax money of any kind nor does it participate in the Community Fund.

Memberships are very easy to purchase and are very economical. For a family membership you pay only $20 a year or $12 for six months. Now this includes all members of the immediate family. For an individual membership it costs only $8 per year or $5 for six months. You must be at least 8 years of age to purchase an individual membership.

Memberships entitle you to free swim lessons as scheduled, free participation in all recreation except league, free use of swimming pool and use of any equipment the Center has. Pool tables, ping pong tables, TV, basketballs, volleyballs, shuffleboard, etc. are available.

SWIM LESSONS SCHEDULED — The Center has finished its schedule of swim lessons through March and are as follows: Jan. 9-25 at 4 p.m. Beginners at 5 p.m. Adv. Beginners; Jan. 30-Feb. 15 at 4 p.m. Beginners and at 5 p.m. Intermediates; Feb. 20-March 8 at 4 p.m. Beginners and 5 p.m. Swimmers then March 13-29 at 4 p.m. Beg. and 5 p.m. Adv. Beg.

Lessons are free to Center members and $3 for non-members with enrollment now going on. Only 20 in each class will be accepted. Mrs. Jackie Marlar, Center Water Safety Instructor, will conduct all the classes.

CALICO CAPERS SQUARE DANCERS — If you are interested in square dancing, the Center plays host to the Calico Capers Square Dance club on Saturday nights. They meet from 8-11 p.m. and are always happy to have visitors. The president of the Capers is Eschel Jackson and Dewey Palmlier is Vice President. They give lessons twice a year and have several jamborees during the year. Make plans to come out on Saturday nights for a fine time square dancing.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Not long ago I read a disquisition on the economic significance of hemlines.

Statistics were cited showing that short skirts have historically prevailed during periods of prosperity, whereas modesty has been associated with recessions.

No reason was given as to why hemlines and business usually drop at the same time, but I think the explanation is simple.

When a guy is broke, he has his mind on something else. A girl then figures that since nobody is looking anyway she might as well wear something that will keep her knees warm.

All of which brings us to State of the Union address. Recommends New Tax
The President surprised a great number of people by recommending a tax increase. He said the economy should be strong enough this year to withstand a small slice off the top.

We may assume he based his decision on a wide variety of fiscal barometers—the whole, sale price index, per capita income, unemployment levels and so on.

I can't help wondering, however, whether he considered what may be the most reliable economic indicator of all.

You may recall that when preparations were being made for Luci Johnson's wedding last year, Women's Wear Daily offended the White House by publishing sketches of her bridal gown.

This trade publication is one of the best sources for fashion trends. It certainly would be one place you would look if you wanted to know whether skirt lengths were likely to go up or down.

If, however, the paper is still in disfavor at the White House, it is doubtful the President consulted it.

Pool Dress Designers
He may have relied on other leading financial publications, such as the Wall Street Journal.

They are fine for market analyses, investment trends and that sort of thing, but they don't always pay close attention to what the dress designers are up to.

It probably will be a couple of months before congressional hearings on the tax proposal begin. By that time women will be wearing the new spring fashions and we will better know where we stand financially.

I trust the House Ways & Means Committee will be prudent enough to call a few style-setters as witnesses. They could testify as to what they have in mind for next fall.

At any rate to proceed with a tax increase without appraising hemline prospects could be economically disastrous. As the mini-skirt goes, so goes the nation.

Fifty percent of the persons located who are heirs to estates never knew the person who left the money.

An estimated 2,392,000 persons were added to the U. S. resident population in the 12 months before Aug. 1, 1965.

County Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary ARC
The Red Cross Board met Jan. 10 with 16 members and four guests present. The guests were Richard Strayer, field representative for the American Red Cross; John Lawless who is taking his training for Missouri, field representative in Amarillo; Richard Barrett, president of the Youth Council; and Mary Courthiers from St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Courthiers gave the program on Red Cross Youth and told of the work sponsored by the Youth Council for the National organization. She urged the use of youth in all the work of Red-Cross, on the committees and at each of the meetings of the Red Cross.

Letters from servicemen serving our country in Vietnam thanking the Ochiltree County Red Cross for the ditty bags at Christmas have been received by the Amarillo chapter and by the chapter at Shamrock. To date we have not received a letter but we are sure that the servicemen who were in Vietnam at Christmas received a ditty bag with comfort articles and gifts.

The national organization has asked the school children to send "Friendship Kits" for the Vietnamese children this year. Fifty thousand kits have been requested from the Midwestern area of which Texas is a part, before June 30. The kits are distributed by the military channels and are reaching children who are not reached in any other way. James E. Jackson, director of Red Cross Youth, states that it would be impossible to send more kits than can be used for this work. Our chapter will more than likely send 100 kits this spring.

We are so happy that the Civil Air Patrol group has worked with the American Red Cross in taking their Standard First Aid Class. Lewis Gallimore and Ray Fisher have worked with this group of business men and professionals and the Standard First Aid cards were given to the following Tuesday evening: Ralph W. Prock, Paul R. Miller, E. N. Chambliss, Ernest B. Wikerson, Suzanne Wilkerson, Don K. Chisum, Kenneth and Phyllis Gray, Joe Shelton, Leland B. Maddox Roy L. Smith, Joe Hawkins, W. H. and Mary E. Hueston, George W. Ingram, Andrew A. Smith Jr., Dr. Robert R. Loerwald, R. D. Hawkins, Dee Hawkins, Henry J. Gruben, Jow D. Cree J. E. Leverich and Edd Daugherty.

The Red Cross Volunteers are serving juice to the patients at Highland General Hospital each morning, in addition of taking the flow's and mails to each patient. A capping service was held Saturday morning at the City Club Room with Mrs. Chester Thompson, Mrs. Juanita Suttle, Mrs. C. J. Killgo, Mrs. Pat Handche, Mrs. Andre Velasquez Mrs. Darlene Welgshing, Mrs. Jean Griffin and Mrs. Jimmie Keel receiving their caps.

Mrs. Lelah J. Dusapin, who is living in Pampa with her daughter, Mrs. James Holcomb came into the Red Cross office Friday morning. Mrs. Dusapin has worked as a Gray Lady for the past 17 years at Billings, Mont. She visited with our executive secretary and told us she would like to transfer to our chapter. You can be assured she will be welcomed with outstretched arms.

Wednesday evening a group of persons interested in the March Fund Drive in our neighboring communities met in the Red Cross office for plans and discussion. Ted Gikas, volunteer counsellor for Gray County and surrounding chapters, chaired the meeting. Material for the drive was explained and

TAXPAYERS AID
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., is backing a bill to aid the average taxpayer who gets ensnarled in an income tax squabble with the Internal Revenue Service.

Long introduced a bill which would create 20 tax commissioners to help taxpayers obtain a quick and fair hearing on disputes involving refunds or tax obligations of less than $2,500.

Each chapter present received all of the materials needed for the drive. Persons present were: Mrs. Cumi Warren and Mrs. Roberta Adams from Wheeler; Mr. Sam Pakan, chaplain Richard Strayer, John Lawless, Richard Strayer, John Lawless, Harold Gallarneau from Amarillo; and Mrs. Libby Shotwell and Ted Gikas from Pampa. Mike McCally from Clarendon came the following morning for his supplies.

New York Court Decision Puts OK on Topless Fac

By RONALD E. COHEN
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Simma Down, a healthy young girl with a chest full of freckles, bounced past a middle-aged couple to take a drink order at the next table.

The freckles were clearly visible. The woman gave her husband a healthy poke in the ribs and said: "See? She's not so hot. She's only a size B, and I'm a C."

But her husband didn't seem convinced. In fact, he wasn't even listening. Simma was nude above the waist, save for the freckles and two strategically placed pasties. She was grinning broadly. She was happy.

So was another topless waitress, Ruby Diamond. So were topless go-go girls Geraldine Love, Suzie Hart and Candy Taylor, and topless singer Dimples Darling. So was Dolores di Salvo, beautiful ash-blond owner of The Crystal Room on East 54th Street.

So were the patrons who jammed the small cabaret. Perhaps they were happiest of all. Behind the stage where the go-go girls were going was a mirror upon which "Not Guilty" was written in bold, black block letters.

Thursday afternoon four topless waitresses and Miss di Salvo were acquitted by three city judges. The waitresses had been charged with indecent exposure, the owner with permitting a display offensive to public decency.

The topless fad caught on quickly in California after a similar court decision, and the Crystal Room girls believe bare-breasted waitresses will pop out all over the city. "I think it's wonderful," Simma exclaimed. "It will give this city a big lift."

Simma, who calls herself a "sophisticated stripper," was waiting on tables early this morning. "It's a lot different standing on a stage naked than it is down on the floor," he said. "But the customers have been so nice. None stare directly at your chest, at least while you're looking. When you turn away they steal a peek. I think they're more embarrassed than I am."

Simma thinks the lid is off the topless waitress idea. "If they have enough nerve, the whole city will go topless." Would the supply of nervy gals hold out?

"New York has more than enough. They'll come out of the woodwork now." Tourist Attraction? Simma wore no stockings with her tight, short bikini bottom. Her black hair, bouffant style, is etched with a broad stroke of white. Her round, black pendulum earrings bobbed seductively as she leaned over. Her white pasties are ever-so-perfectly placed.

"Once during an exotic dance a pasty fell off. I was so embarrassed I almost died. It's all the difference. Pasties make me feel dressed." They didn't make her look dressed.

"I'm just a hick from Wilmington, Del.," one woman said. "It's my first time in New York in three years. My eyes bug out when I see the Pennsylvania Railroad Station. Imagine when I look at those, I'm losing my head toward Simma. Simma came over. The band was blaring loudly and she couldn't hear the order."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bach & Co. says the decisive penetration of the 820-823 resistance zone of the Dow Jones industrial average now makes this level an important area of support.

The company feels the aluminum ingot price increase on top of recent price boosts in copper, steel and molybdenum suggests industry is countering the possibility of profit-margin erosion and this factor as well as easing money rates could act as an important offset to rising costs of labor and materials.

Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says the present pattern of market movement suggests for the average tock a satisfactory but not very exciting few months, possibly marked by a more worthwhile improvement later in the year. For the performance stocks, whose earnings can show 25 per cent or better improvement from 1966, the company sees an excellent possibility of a continuing speculative boom consistent with the period of general economic indecision.

Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says the present pattern of market movement suggests for the average tock a satisfactory but not very exciting few months, possibly marked by a more worthwhile improvement later in the year. For the performance stocks, whose earnings can show 25 per cent or better improvement from 1966, the company sees an excellent possibility of a continuing speculative boom consistent with the period of general economic indecision.

Perhaps they were happiest of all. Behind the stage where the go-go girls were going was a mirror upon which "Not Guilty" was written in bold, black block letters.

Thursday afternoon four topless waitresses and Miss di Salvo were acquitted by three city judges. The waitresses had been charged with indecent exposure, the owner with permitting a display offensive to public decency.

The topless fad caught on quickly in California after a similar court decision, and the Crystal Room girls believe bare-breasted waitresses will pop out all over the city.

"I think it's wonderful," Simma exclaimed. "It will give this city a big lift."

Simma, who calls herself a "sophisticated stripper," was waiting on tables early this morning.

"It's a lot different standing on a stage naked than it is down on the floor," he said. "But the customers have been so nice. None stare directly at your chest, at least while you're looking. When you turn away they steal a peek. I think they're more embarrassed than I am."

Simma thinks the lid is off the topless waitress idea. "If they have enough nerve, the whole city will go topless."

Would the supply of nervy gals hold out? "New York has more than enough. They'll come out of the woodwork now."

Tourist Attraction? Simma wore no stockings with her tight, short bikini bottom. Her black hair, bouffant style, is etched with a broad stroke of white.

Her round, black pendulum earrings bobbed seductively as she leaned over. Her white pasties are ever-so-perfectly placed.

"Once during an exotic dance a pasty fell off. I was so embarrassed I almost died. It's all the difference. Pasties make me feel dressed."

They didn't make her look dressed. "I'm just a hick from Wilmington, Del.," one woman said. "It's my first time in New York in three years. My eyes bug out when I see the Pennsylvania Railroad Station. Imagine when I look at those, I'm losing my head toward Simma. Simma came over. The band was blaring loudly and she couldn't hear the order."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bach & Co. says the decisive penetration of the 820-823 resistance zone of the Dow Jones industrial average now makes this level an important area of support.

The company feels the aluminum ingot price increase on top of recent price boosts in copper, steel and molybdenum suggests industry is countering the possibility of profit-margin erosion and this factor as well as easing money rates could act as an important offset to rising costs of labor and materials.

Employment Available With Texas D.P.S.

AUSTIN (Sp) — Immediate employment is now available with the uniformed services of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Col. Homer Garrison, DPS director, announced today.

Garrison reported that employment practices have been drastically changed to allow qualified applicants to be in work immediately, in contrast to previous policy of not hiring until time for a patrol-training school to begin.

Under the new procedure an interested person may make application for employment at any of the regional, district or sub-district DPS offices over the state, where the written examination will be given. Each applicant will be told immediately if he has qualified for further consideration. Successful applicants will be given an agility test, and arrangements will be made for a physical check-up. Those persons who are accepted for employment may be placed on the payroll within 10 days, and will be assigned temporary duty until recruit-training school begins.

Periodic patrol training schools will be held at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin. This training is designed to equip the cadet to handle any of the various situations he may encounter as a patrolman and will start him off on the right foot toward a rewarding career in law enforcement. Garrison encouraged all interested high school graduates from the ages of 20 through 30 to contact their nearest Department of Public Safety patrolman for complete details on becoming a commissioned officer with the Department of Public Safety.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the Pampa News as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked.

Q—Who has to file a return? A—A return must be filed by every person under 65, who has gross income of $600 or more during the year. For those 65 and over, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1,200. However, if you are married and your spouse has a return if you have an employment income of $400 or more, even though your gross income was less than $600.

Q—I'm due for a refund this year. What can I do to speed it up? A—The best advice we can give is to file a complete and accurate return and to mail it early to the address listed in the 1040 instructions. The largest single reason for delays in refunds last year was a missing or inaccurate Social Security number. Be sure to enter an accurate number for yourself and for your wife if it is a joint return. Other reasons for refund delays are failure to attach required W2 forms, failure to sign the return and omission of other forms or schedules that may be required.

Q—Are auto license tags a deductible expense? A—Usually this is not a deductible expense. The exception would be where the license fee is based on the value of the car. In that case the expense would be considered a personal property tax and would be deductible.

Q—I do not have a Social Security number. Now I find I need one for my tax return. What should I do? A—You may obtain a Social Security number, which also serves as a tax account number, by filing application form SS-5 with the local office of the Social Security Administration. This application is available at IRS offices, Social Security offices, and at many post offices.

Q—I have a disability pension from Social Security. Is this taxable income? A—No. Social Security benefits are not taxable.

Q—How much can a child earn and still be claimed as a dependent? A—Generally a person may not be claimed as a dependent if he has gross income of $600 or more. However, if your child is under 19 or is a full-time student, you may claim him as a dependent regardless of the amount of income he may have as long as you provide more than one-half of his total support for the year.

Saluting the Jaycees

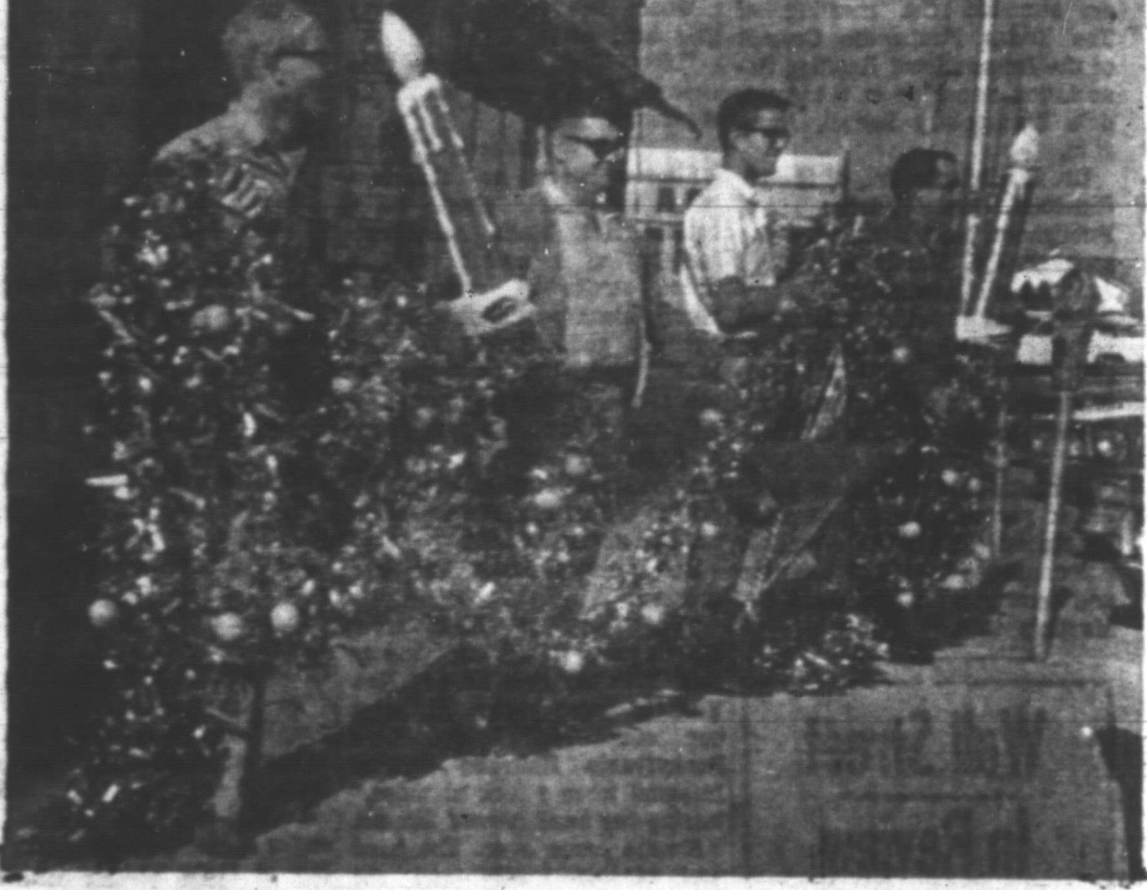

YOUNG MEN OF ACTION

Their Thoughtful Concern and Forward Looking Action Has Made Our Community a Better Place in Which to Live

The Jaycees — young men on the way up — turn their vigorous ability into creative action for the betterment of the entire community. We honor the Jaycees . . . and solidly back their efforts to make our town even better to work in, live in, shop in, and we pledge ourselves to aid them toward that progress.

JUNIOR TRACK MEET — Each year the Jaycees sponsor a junior track meet for local students. Shown above is George Kizease presenting the over-all team trophy to last year's winner. The first place winners were taken to Lybock for the golf, tennis and track state finals. The Pampa Jaycees have taken a group of winners to the state finals for the past several years.

PAST PRESIDENT OF THE TEXAS JAYCEES, A. J. Carubbi Jr., is shown presenting the first place award to Lynn Thompson of Oak Cliff, Texas, for his accomplishments in the State Finals of the Safe driving Road-o held here last June. This award included an expense paid trip to the National Finals in Washington, D.C.

Pampa Jaycee-Ettes

The Pampa Jaycee-Ettes were chartered in March, 1962. Since that time the group has added the feminine touch to almost every Jaycee project, plus helping with many civic projects of their own.

The purpose of the organization is to assist the Jaycees in community service; to offer friendship and sociability among Jaycee wives and to enlighten others as to the need for voluntary service.

At the 1966 State Convention, the Pampa Jaycee-Ettes were selected as the outstanding club in Division 111. Mrs. Morris Wilson was selected outstanding president, Division 111. Mrs. Jake Webb was selected as Outstanding Jaycee-Ette in Division 111.

The present officers are: Mrs. John Warner, President, Mrs. Jess Mathis, Vice President; Mrs. Jake Webb, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Bud McVicker, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Jim Killian, Treasurer; Mrs. Jim Barton, Parliamentarian. Directors are: Mrs. Nathan Lancaster, Mrs. James Weathered, and Mrs. Don Tinney. Mrs. Norris is currently serving as area 1 Vice President of the Texas Jaycee-Ettes.

The Jaycee-Ettes meet the fourth Thursday of each month in the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room. An invitation is always open to all Jaycee wives.

The Jaycee Creed

- We Believe:
- That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
 - That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;
 - That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
 - That government should be of laws rather than of men;
 - That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;
 - And that service to humanity is the best work of life.

JAYCEE PROJECTS

LEUKEMIA BLOOD DRIVE — This project set up a blood fund for all Gray and Roberts county residents at Wadley Blood Bank in Dallas. This blood is available at no cost to any resident of those two counties that may suffer from this dread illness.

JAYCEE COMMUNITY FAIR— The Community Fair was held for the third time this past summer. Purpose of the fair is to provide entertainment for the people of Pampa and to raise money for the activities that the Jaycees carry on during the year. Fourteen civic clubs took part in the Community Fair this past summer. As a result the Fair was a tremendous success.

STATE TEEN-AGE ROAD-E-O — Over 100 participants in this state-wide project flowed into Pampa, June 11-12. Texas Highway patrolmen acted as judges. Speaker for the awards luncheon was John Hill, Texas Secretary of State.

PROJECT CONCERN — This project involves the collection of sample drugs from local physicians and dentists. These drugs are then shipped to Dr. Jim Turpin in Hong Kong for use among the many poverty stricken people of that huge city. Last year the club collected more than $15,000 worth of surplus drugs and shipped them to Project Concern.

JUNIOR GOLF, TENNIS, TRACK — These three area include a complete sports program that is sponsored by the Jaycees during the summer months to provide young people with a chance to compete in a wholesome program and to earn awards and honors at the local, state and national levels if they are able.

AREA 1 SUMMER CONVENTION — 350 area Jaycees and their wives turned Pampa into a convention city, June 10, 11, and 12. Jaycee dignitaries from throughout the state were in town to sample a little of North Texas Hospitality. Leading the host was Glen Reed, Texas Jaycee president.

THE PAMPA JAYCEES

Sometime between October 1929 and the summer of 1930, a group of young businessmen in Pampa undertook the organizing of a Junior Chamber of Commerce. Over the past thirty six years the Pampa Jaycees have done an outstanding job of serving the community with various need projects.

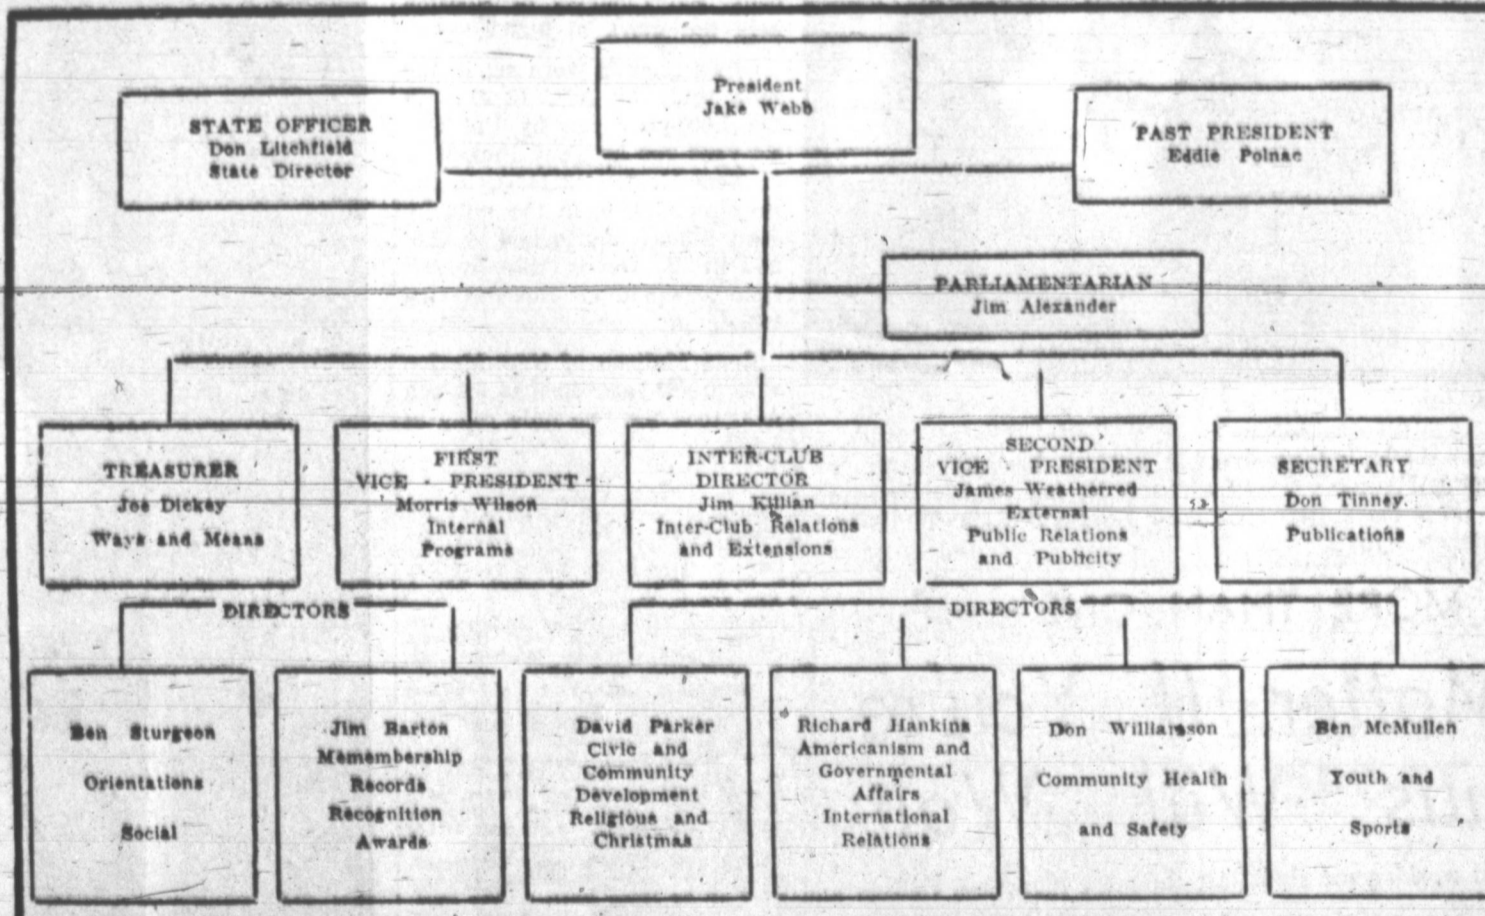

Energetic young leaders have been the bi-products of these projects and have provided the community with able civic leadership that has made Pampa what it is today.

The Pampa Club was the first Jaycee Club in the Panhandle and was responsible for organizing many other area clubs. At present, the Jaycees Club stands 50 strong with a long list of committees and projects to carry out. The Pampa Club is one of the most active clubs in the state.

The Pampa Jaycee efforts were rewarded at the Jaycee State Convention held in Houston last year, when they were named as the outstanding Club, Division III, Texas Jaycees. The year was climaxed when, at the National Convention held in Detroit, Michigan, the Pampa Jaycees were named as one of the top five clubs in the nation. Meetings are held each Tuesday, 12:00 noon, in the basement of the First Methodist Church. Membership is open to any young man between the ages of 21 and 35.

Help On Way for Our Kids?

By RON CROSS
Pampa's school board is taking a long, hard look at the school's athletic program in general and all of our school's in particular.

It is a shame it wasn't done before, at least once the last 13 years. But Dr. John Damron and the present board are hard at work trying to figure out what needs to be done to bring Pampa up to the standards of the other 3-4A schools in athletics and curriculum-wise.

It is pretty apparent that Mrs. Elaine Ledbetter, Pampa High School science teacher and the junior high science instructors have done an outstanding job since the facilities they have to work with are pretty well out-moded.

Help is coming, although it will take time, patience and money and the help of the people, for surely, all that is needed will have to come through a bond vote of the people.

High school football coach Eural Ramsey spoke to the board and apparently started at the wrong time because one board member kept wanting to go to lunch. Ramsey began his talk at 11:50 a.m. and finished at 12:30 p.m., which isn't the best time to try to get your ideas across if you happen to be talking to a group of hungry people.

The physical education program in the schools was explained to the board first, they were told how it is now operating and what needs to be done to strengthen it.

through 12 the number of youngsters in competitive athletics would increase.

Next Ramsey told the board that when hiring a coach his philosophy of coaching should be considered and that the philosophy should be the youngster should be able to participate in every school activity, if he so desires.

The group then heard the needs, athletic-wise of our junior highs and at the high school.

needed at the football field and that the lights needed to be moved behind the stands.

The biggest need, Ramsey pointed out, is a large dressing area for all varsity athletes, except basketball, who would have the fieldhouse.

The Coach said a dressing area could be built on the north end of the football field and would be used for dressing before games for athletes as well as officials and could be used for certain PE classes.

Ramsey then pointed out that, in comparison to the Lubbock and Amarillo systems, Pampa is two coaches and one trainer short of being up to full strength.

The board learned that salaries of assistant coaches are now comparable to the other schools in district 3-4A, but this in itself doesn't do it all.

"Coaches need more stability, because without it it makes it difficult to hire and keep better coaches," Ramsey said.

The coach was referring to the fact that a one year contract wasn't the best incentive to keep assistants from seeking a job in another school system or to hire a coach to replace them.

Ramsey told the board that facilities at Pampa Junior High were 'deplorable' and a dressing area was needed badly.

"The facilities at Pampa Junior High are very inadequate," Ramsey stated.

"Lee Junior High has a good physical education program but the facilities for competitive athletics are not adequate," the coach stated.

It was pointed out to the board that Berger and Plainview, the two schools Pampa compares with in size, has had modern dressing areas for 10 years, while Pampa has fallen behind.

It is deplorable that former Pampa school officials have let this situation develop to the condition it is now in.

The only interest one board member seemed to show, was not in the welfare of our youngsters but in "where is the money coming from?"

It's a 'moot' question but wherever it comes from, it had better be quick, for the schools here are in dire need of changes and the quicker the better.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Gary Dverbeck sank a lay-up with two seconds remaining Saturday to give Texas a 70-68 victory over Texas Tech and keep the Longhorns in the thick of the ball chase.

The Longhorns are now 3-1 in league play, a half game behind league leading Texas Christian, Texas Tech has won only one SWC game in four outings.

Saturday's contest was one of hot streaks in which one club and then another would run off a burst of consecutive points and take the lead. Texas scored 32 straight points at one time in the first half to come from eight points behind, but Tech immediately rattled off nine straight to go in front again.

Neil Stout paced the Longhorns with 22 points and kept Texas in the game late in the second half when he hit nine straight points for his club.

Teah's Vernon Paul tied the game 68-68 with 1:04 remaining, and Texas stalled to get the last shot. Overbeck beat the clock with his lay-up.

The game was close from all standpoints, Texas had a 45 per cent shooting average compared with Tech's 44.1. Both teams hit 16 of 22 shots from the free throw line.

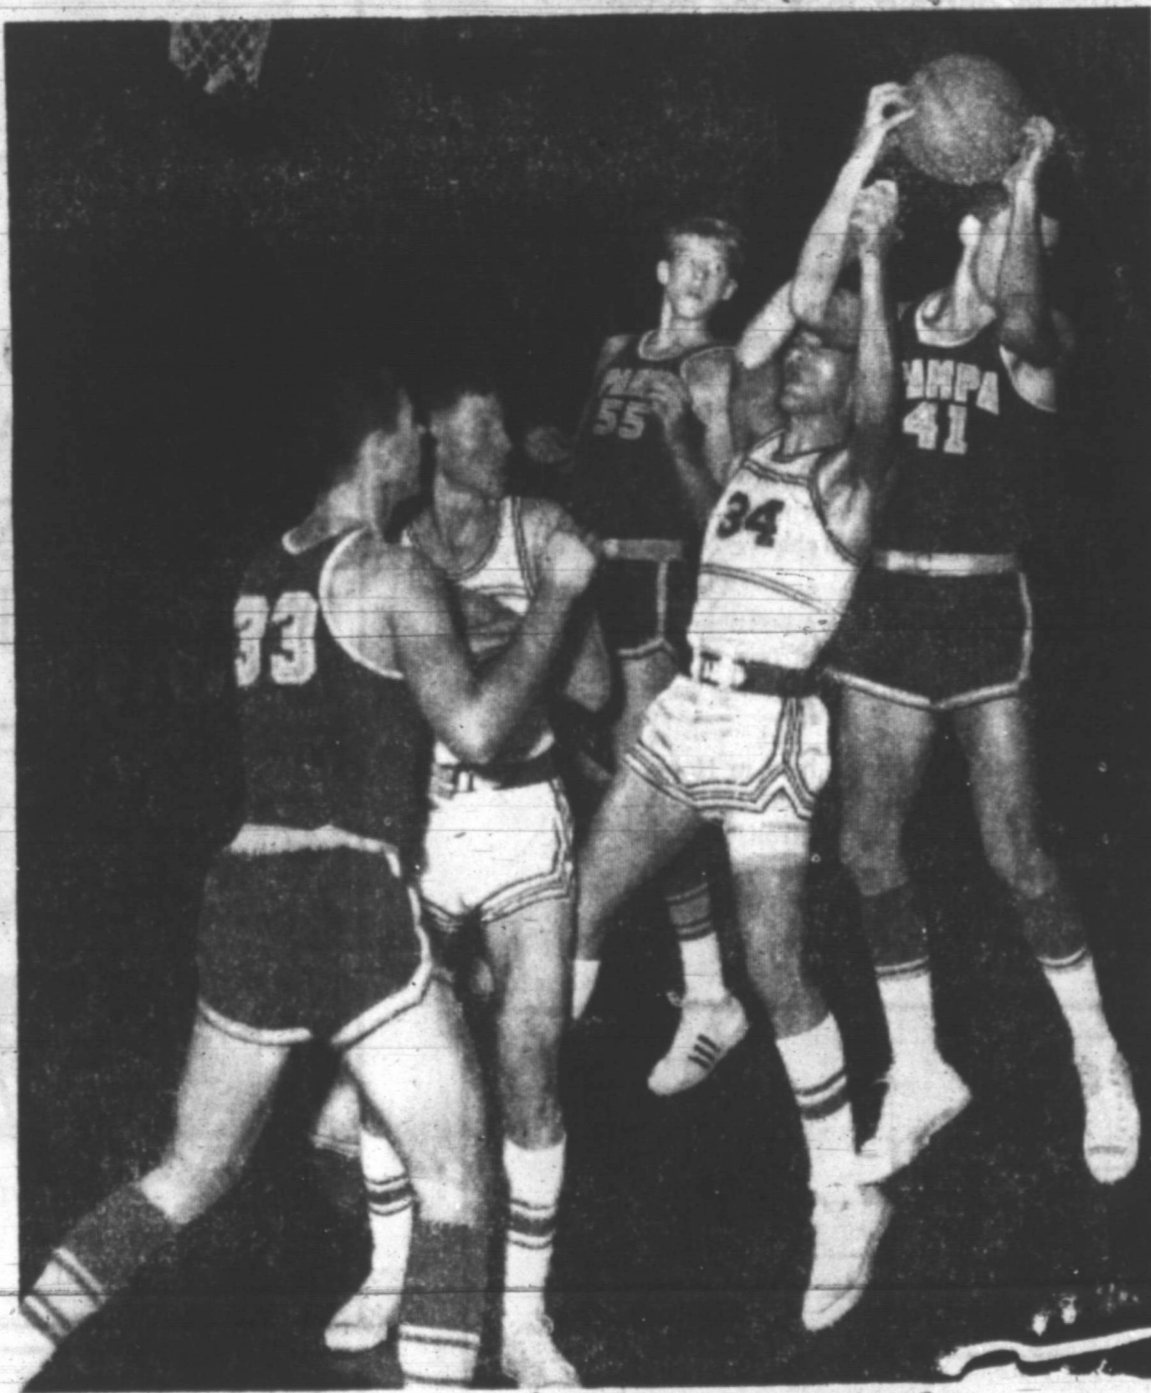

Haskins Sees Better Things

DALLAS (UPI) — Coach Don Haskins gave his NCAA champion Texas Western Miners time off for examinations at the halfway point of their basketball schedule Saturday and took off a round of award dinners with mixed emotions about how good the team really is.

Technically, they're not as well off as at this time a year ago when the El Paso-based Miners were unbeaten (and stayed that way until the final regular-season game against Seattle) because they boast an 11-2 record with both losses coming at home.

But Haskins has hopes. The second half of the schedule will be a bit better because by the time the sixth-ranked Miners dig very deep into the stretch run they'll have back Bobby Joe Hill, the ball-stealing little guard who wrecked Kentucky's hopes in the NCAA finals last spring.

Hill has missed five games, partly because of a bad ankle sprain and partly because of disciplinary action. That action was taken by Haskins when Hill's play fell off due to a bad mental attitude brought on to a certain extent by personal family problems.

IT'LL LAST MORE THAN ONE

It Won't Matter If You're Late Cassius Will Wait

World Boxing Association champ Ernie Terrell comes to Houston Monday to continue his training for the undisputed heavyweight boxing match with Champ Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) on Feb. 6 in the Astrodome.

The arrival of Terrell, who has been chopping wood in a New Jersey woods for the past four weeks as part of his training, sets the stage for the title fight which will end with only one champion.

Terrell is expected to arrive in Houston late Monday morning and go directly to a press luncheon at the Astrodome. Then later in the day or on Tuesday he will start his training in the same ring where Muhammad has been working out since last Wednesday.

For Ali, however, the workouts in a special training site in Astrobhall, the huge exhibition hall across the street from the Astrodome, have been the first serious exercises since the Cleveland Williams fight, Nov. 14, in the Astrodome and a six-rounder against sparmate Jimmy Ellis in Hawaii a week or so later.

The training facilities have been rated by veteran fight personalities as the best ever prepared anywhere. A new ring is prepared with a separate ring for punching the heavy bag and the speed bag.

The training room, 200 by 50 feet with a 20-foot ceiling, is brightly illuminated with seats for more than 1,000 viewers and news media representatives.

It was in this room that Ali had his press conference last Tuesday when he publicly apologized to Terrell for calling him an "Uncle Tom" at an earlier press conference in New York.

Ernie Terrell ain't no Uncle Tom and I should have called him that, but I'm still going to give him a good whupping for calling me Cassius Clay," Ali said.

Uncle Tom is a derogatory name, bearing connotations of slavery or subservience. All admitted that there is little love lost between the two champs, and as usual, he had his little poem about the upcoming spectacle.

COMING TO GRIPS ITS SUPER BOWL TIME Packers, Chiefs Ready

By SCOTT BAILLIE
UPI Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The war of words between the American and National Football Leagues is on the verge of being settled Sunday when the Kansas City Chiefs meet the Green Bay Packers in the Super Bowl for the world championship of pro football.

"It's been a war of words for seven years and now we'll settle it on the grass," Coach Hank Stram of the AFL champion Chiefs said in his final press conference.

Coach Vince Lombardi said there was not a chance in the world that his NFL champion Packers would fail to take the challenge of the Chiefs seriously when they meet Sunday in the Memorial Coliseum before a crowd of around 70,000 fans. An estimated 60 million persons will also be watching the game on two television networks (CBS and NBC).

Lombardi, however, said frankly he was at a loss to say what the game meant to him personally.

No Tradition
"It's the first time it's been played so I don't know," Lombardi commented on his personal reaction. "It seems like a game should have some tradition before you can tell what it means."

Aside from one man each, both squads were in top condition physically. But coach Stram said his tight end, Fred Arbanas, who has been recovering from a mild shoulder separation, was given a medical okay and should be able to start. If not, Reg Caroon was ready to take over.

Packers halfback Paul Hornung, bothered by a pinched nerve in his back since midseason, also was reported able to play but Lombardi would not say if he would start or if Elijah Pitts would get the call.

A spokesman for pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle said more than 63,000 tickets had been sold and a crowd of 70,000 or better was anticipated at the Coliseum. Locally the Chiefs were sentimental favorites but the odds were that Green Bay would win by 14 points.

Hope For Record
Should the game draw 70,000 the gross receipts from the live audience could be an all-time record for a one-day team event. The NFL championship game between Dallas and Green Bay grossed an estimated $740,000 and the sponsors hoped to exceed that figure in the Super Bowl.

The stadium was scaled from $6 to $12 with most of the top-price tickets sold.

The total revenue from the game, however, will include $2 million paid by the two networks for the television rights. The game is being carried on a hemispheric basis except that the Los Angeles area for a radius of 75 miles is blacked out.

Clear, warm weather was forecast for the 1 p.m. PST kickoff with the temperature around 70 degrees.

Three Tied For San Diego Lead

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Husky Bob Goalby shot a three-under-par 68 Saturday to grab a five-stroke lead over the field after three rounds of the $66,000 San Diego Open.

His 54-hole score of 200 tied a Stardust Country Club record set by South Africa's Gary Player in this tournament in 1963. His earlier rounds were 68-64.

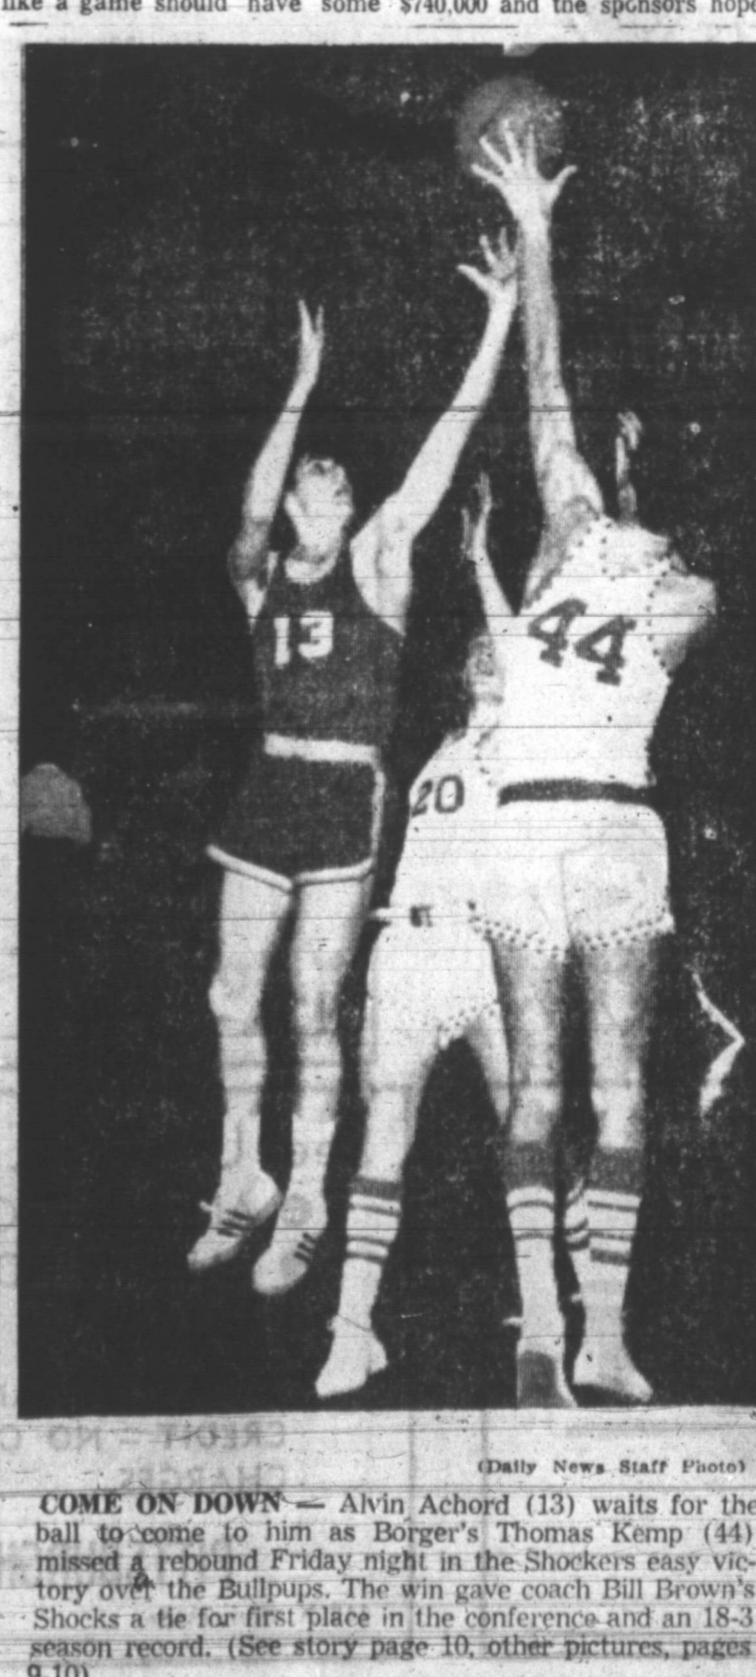

Goalby, who has not won a tournament since the 1962 Denver Open but has always been in the big money, picked up a five-stroke lead going into Sunday's final round over three pros tied at 205. They were Doug Sanders, Tulsa, Okla.; and Al Geiberger, Carlton Oaks, Calif., both of whom had third-round 67s, and 48-year-old Tommy Bolt, Sarasota, Fla., who had a 70.

While Goalby gained three strokes in the third round, Glover had a bad day. He shot a three-over-par 74 and had a 54-hole total of 206, still good for a tie for fifth place with five other golfers, including Steve Spray, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who had a third round 66; Frank Beard, Louisville, Ky., with a 67; Dave Hill, Evergreen, Colo., with 69; Gay Brewer, Dallas, Tex., with a 68, and the veteran Art Wall, Honesdale, Pa., with a 70.

Defending champion Billy Casper, a sentimental favorite in his hometown here, had a third round 68, but was far back in the pack with a 54-hole total of 209.

TRIM TIGER
K IAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (UPI) — Emile Griffith, who defends his middleweight championship next week against Joey Archer in New York's Madison Square Garden, Wednesday decided against aiming for a 156-pound weight target for the bout.

Griffith decided to go into the fight at 153 pounds since any added weight would make him sluggish and affect his speed.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Today is Lombardi."

Kramer isn't an apple polisher. With his ability he doesn't have to be. As a former all-pro with nine years in the league and as a competitor who still can knock heads with any of them despite the fact he has ulcers, a ruptured intestine and has undergone eight major operations, Kramer's evaluation of Lombardi bears a lot of weight.

"You alternately love and hate the man on different days," he says of the Green Bay coach. "This man is the hardest driving individual I've ever known—in my life or

SPORTS

50TH SUNDAY, JANUARY 15, 1967

Chiefs in Sunday's contest would furnish that reputation in his own mind.

Win or lose, there is a chance Lombardi may turn over the head coaching reins to assistant coach Phil Bengtson and confine himself to the Packers' general management in the future. He talked about quitting as Green Bay coach a couple of weeks back when the Packers were preparing for the NFL title game with the Dallas Cowboys, then reversed his field somewhat although not entirely.

er he stays on or yields Custom-Built Pack

Whether he stays on or yields the head chair to Bengtson, there is no question but that the Packers are the sole creation of Lombardi, a man who somehow has succeeded in getting closer to his team than the ordinary law allows.

And if there is any question as to how important Lombardi is to the Packers, it is answered eloquently by veteran, 30-year-old Jerry Kramer, Green Bay's formidable 250-pound offensive guard.

"There's only one reason why we're number one," Kramer says. "That reason is Vince Lombardi. He is a perfectionist in every sense of the word."

More Than Money "As I say, you alternately love him or despise him, but you continually respect and admire him. He gets on you when you have to be chewed out, but he's also there with a helping hand or a pat on the back. He is a most difficult man to work for. Above all, he is a psychologist. He knows exactly what you need, and when you need it."

In a game of this sort, it is money that's on the line. It's also natural to assume the Packers would be the better money players because they have gone through big ones like this before whereas the Chiefs have not.

Kramer claims the money is of such little consequence, however, that it will have no influence on the outcome.

"The difference between winning or losing for each man comes to 17,500," he says. "After taxes you have about $3,000 left, give or take a few dollars. The difference between $3,000 and my nine years in the National League is negligible. In other words, even if the losers got the extra money, I'd rather win."

That's the way Lombardi trains his players. That's the way the man thinks himself.

It's the kind of thinking that leaves little room for relaxation. Or for that matter, anything else.

Terrell Predicts Victory Over Clay

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Ernie Terrell gave his body a rest and his mouth a workout Friday and wound up sounding more confident than the Kansas City Chiefs as he predicted a smashing win over Cassius Clay in their heavyweight title bout Feb. 6.

Facing a press conference, only a few miles from his Pleasantville, N.J. training camp, the World Boxing Association's heavyweight champion said the fight "will not go the distance and I will win."

And then, referring to criticism that he can only punch with his left, Terrell declared, "Clay has called me a one-armed bandit, but when I get in the ring he'll think I'm an octopus."

Terrell maintains that Clay is an incomplete fighter because he is unable to take punishment and predicted that the undefeated champ "will fall like the proverbial accordion," the first time he is hit hard.

Attempting to back up his words, the 27-year-old challenger later took newsmen to his camp where he floored sparring partner Leotis Martin in the third round and then belted amateur Billy Williams.

The 6-6 Terrell, who presently weighs in at 214 but hopes to come into the ring at Houston's Astrodome weighing 209, said he

Berra Presented Slocum Memorial

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York Met Coach Yogi Berra today was named winner of the William J. Slocum Memorial Award for "long and meritorious service to baseball" by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Berra, an All-Star catcher for 17 years with the Yankees and in 1964, will be honored at the chapter's annual dinner and show, Sunday, Jan. 29. At the same affair Baltimore's Frank Robinson will receive the Sid Mercer Memorial Award as player of the year.

During his playing days, Yogi compiled a .285 batting average and was named the American League's Most Valuable Player three times. Iron Man Lou Gehrig was the only Yankee to appear in more games, surpassing Berra's 2,116 games by 48.

Yogi was fired as Yankee manager after losing the 1964 World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals. He joined the Mets shortly thereafter as a player-coach and participated in four games with the club before calling it a career.

BACK TO CAMPUS NEW YORK (UPI)—Green Bay Packers coach Vince Lombardi, a member of Fordman's famed "seven blocks of granite" in the mid-1930's, was chosen to receive his alma mater's insignia medal for outstanding service in sports.

PHILS SIGN DUO PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Pitchers Larry Jackson and Terry Fox have signed 1967 contracts with the Philadelphia Phillies. Jackson had a 15-15 record with Chicago and Philadelphia last season. Fox was 3-2 after being acquired from Detroit.

BUCKS WIN PAIR Wheeler Loses Twice

Clarendon stopped Wheeler twice Friday night in two conference games while White Deer ripped Canadian twice in two league games at Canadian. Clarendon won the boys game, 55-51, breaking a 47-47 third quarter tie. The winners led by only two, 35-33 at halftime after holding a three-point, 18-15 first quarter lead.

Larence Gardner paced the winners with 15 points while Fred Goad led Wheeler with 14.

In the girls game Clarendon broke it open in the final period for a 50-40 victory. The winners led 22-21 at halftime after a 12-12 first quarter tie and 34-31 after three periods.

Judy McAnear hit 26 for Clarendon and Sue Richardson paced Wheeler with 27 points.

White Deer rolled to a 65-50 victory in the boys game after trailing 14-13 after one period. The Bucks led 33-26 at halftime and 51-35 after three quarters of play.

Bobby Rapp paced the Bucks with 27 points while Kenny Stienle hit 17 for Canadian.

In the girls contest the WD girls rolled to an easy 51-25 decision, leading only 7-4 after one period; 17-11 at halftime and 29-18 at the three quarter mark.

Jennie Hawpe led White Deer with 16 points and Mary Jo Porter hit eight for Canadian.

Allison and Briscoe split a pair of games with Briscoe winning the girls contest, 39-29. Briscoe led only 8-6 after one period but stretched it to 21-16 at halftime and saw Allison come back for a 26-26 third quarter tie.

Dianne Dodd paced Briscoe with 19 points and Debbie Grayson hit 12 for Allison.

In the boys contest Briscoe trailed all the way and lost, 65-45. Allison led 23-12 after one period but saw that lead cut to 31-25 at halftime before rallying for a 51-33 third quarter margin.

Mark Meek led Briscoe with 18 and John Richardson and Bernard Dukes scored 16 each for Allison.

Groom split a pair of games with Samnorwood the Groom girls winning, 39-36 and the Samnorwood boys taking a 49-26 victory.

In the girls contest Groom found themselves in a 9-9 first quarter tie and trailing 21-20 at halftime and 28-26 after three quarters.

Brenda Coleman led the losers with 20 points and Pat Hunt paced Groom with 19.

In the boys contest it was all Samnorwood, they led 11-8 at the first quarter buzzer, 21-17 at halftime and 34-24 after three periods.

Bobby Goddett led Groom with eight points and Acie Boyd hit 14 for Samnorwood.

Lefors and Mobeetie each won a game with Mobeetie winning the boys A game, 55-48. The winners trailed 14-12 after one period and 34-24 at halftime before taking a 45-43 third quarter lead that stood up.

Dennis Keith paced Lefors with 14 points and Jimmy Barton led Mobeetie with 13.

In the boys B game Lefors led 6-3, then 13-9 at halftime and 23-14 after three quarters for a 31-21 victory.

Russell Barnes led Lefors with 15 points and Ronnie Barton hit eight for Mobeetie.

Hereford won a conference game from Perryton, edging the Rangers, 42-40. The White Faces led 13-7 after one period, 25-14 at halftime and 33-24 after three periods.

Gene Duvall hit 17 for Hereford and Mike Hargrove 15 for Perryton.

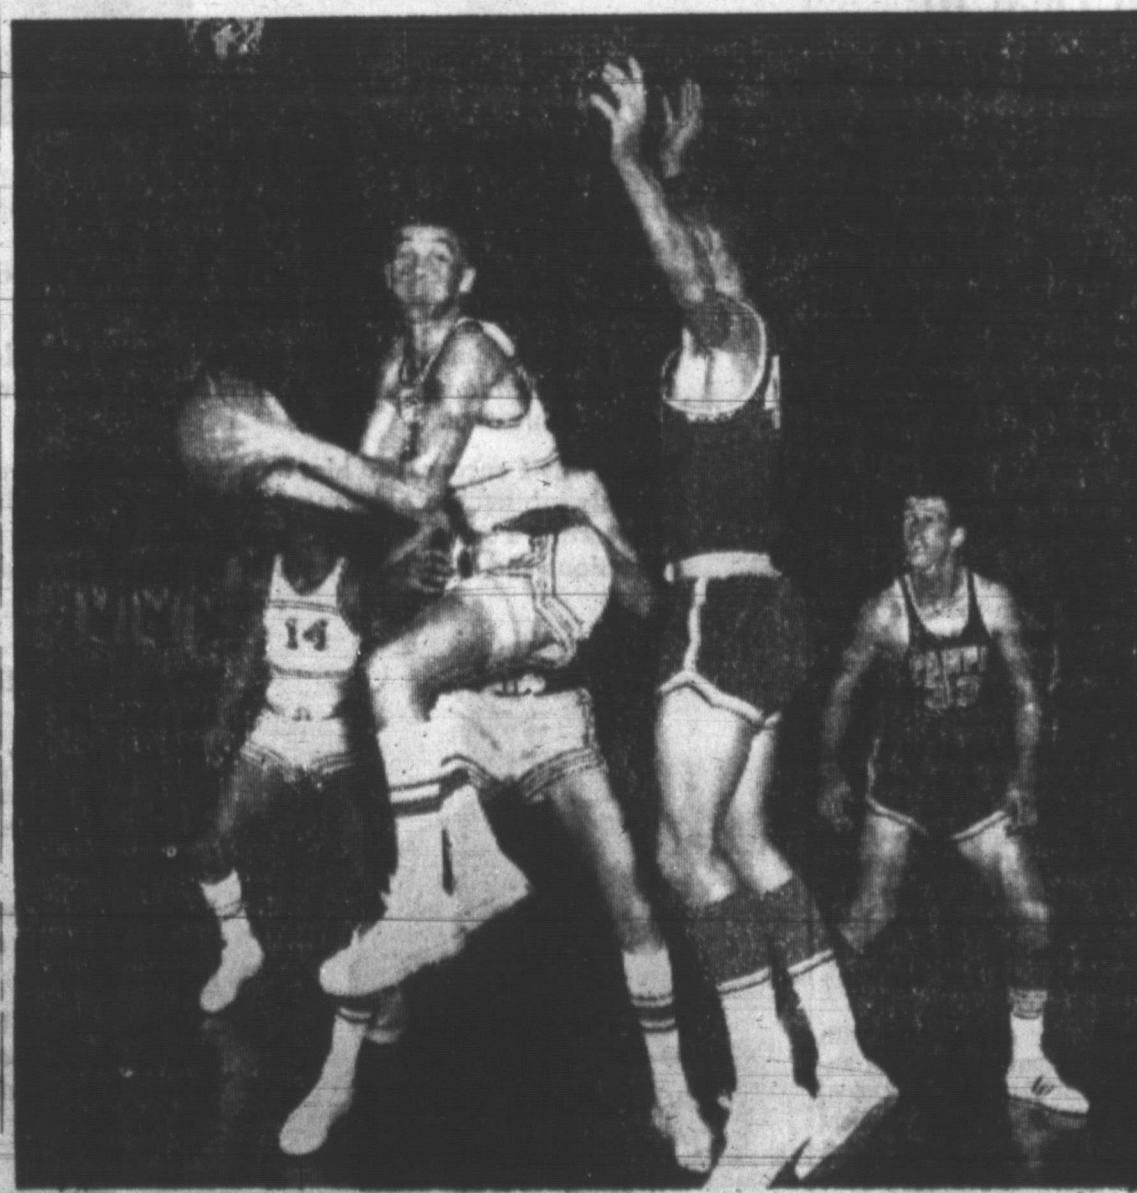

Darrouzett kept up their winning ways and downed Follett twice in conference games.

In the boys contest Darrouzett led 17-10 after one period, 37-28 at halftime, 60-38 after three periods and rolled to a 79-57 win.

Louis Pratt hit 23 to pace Darrouzett while Daryl Wynn hit 20 for Follett.

In the girls game Darrouzett jumped to a 15-2 first quarter lead, led 27-10 at halftime and 35-20 after three quarters and took a 49-26 decision.

Carla Hanshew hit 19 for the winners and Sue Gillispie hit 21 for Follett.

FOSTER ON GUARD — Senior forward Rick Foster (41) puts up a stout defense against Borger's Wayne Frayar and the Bulldog was called for walking when he hit the floor. Bailey, Bo Lead Pampa in Season, District Scoring

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

You'd think that a basketball team that hit 47 per cent of their shots from the field would be right up there. If you thought this you thought right.

The Pampa Harvesters finished the first half of district 3-4A cage play tied with Tascosa for second place.

The Harvesters hit 47 percent of their field goal attempts, 203 of 428 shots and 67 per cent of their free shots, 143 of 211.

Against Tascosa Pampa hit 43 per cent from the floor and lost the Rebels hit 51 percent, they hit 40 per cent against Monterey and lost and hit 44 per cent against Amarillo the first half champ and won.

Bo Lang was the hottest shooter from the floor but still trailed another junior George Bailey in point average.

Lang hit on 49 of 79 in first half play for 62 per cent while Bailey hit 55 of 120 for 45.8 per cent. Senior Steve Williams finished with 43.2 per cent on 47 of 108.

Bailey scored 139 points for a 15.4 average with Lang scoring 131 for a 14.5 mark and Williams 134 points for a 14.8 average.

As a team Pampa averaged 61.0 points for the first nine league games while giving up 53.4 per contest.

Amarillo downed Tascosa Friday night, 53-46 for the first half crown and finished with a 81 record while Tascosa a 61 Pampa ended up at 7-2 Lub-

'COME HERE BALL' would seem to be what Pampa's Alvin Achord (13) is saying as he jumps for a rebound during the Pampa Shockers easy victory over Borger Friday night. The Shockers finished in a tie for first in conference play and Achord scored 16 points. (See other pictures pages 8-9).

Alcindor Rallies UCLA by Trojans

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

This is the week everything is super in Los Angeles and Lew Alcindor is no exception.

With the nation's attention centered on the Super Bowl in the Los Angeles Coliseum Sunday, Alcindor gave another example Friday night of why he's the country's super collegiate basketball player with were routed 104-85 at Laramie. This time New Mexico brought an 11-1 record into Laramie where it hasn't won in the past three seasons while Wyoming had a 4-7 mark.

But in the Western Athletic Conference opener for both clubs, Wyoming took charge from the start and never let up. A pair of sophomores, Harry Hall and Bob Wilson, scored 24 another brilliant showing at Pauley Pavilion.

The 7-foot-1 sophomore was brilliant down the stretch when he turned a nip-and-tuck game with California into a rout with a surge of seven straight points late in the game that enabled the Bruins to record a 96-78 triumph.

Alcindor finished with 26 points.

The No. 1 ranked Bruins are now 11-0 overall and 3-0 in the Pacific Eight and were figured to get No. 12 against Stanford Saturday night.

Wyoming Upsets Lobos

Only two other teams in the top ten in the United Press International ratings were in action. Fourth-ranked New Mexico, which can't seem to win in Laramie, Wyoming, was upset by Wyoming, 86-76 but ninth-ranked Princeton had no trouble clobbering Ivy League foe Harvard, 90-46.

California, which hit 65 per cent of its shots in the first half against UCLA, trailed the Bruins by just a 45-42 margin at halftime.

Russ Critchfield and Charlie Perkins had excellent nights for the Bears as they made it a contest by teaming for 47 points, most of them on long outside jumps. Critchfield scored 25 and Perkins 22 for the Bears in the gallant losing effort.

New Mexico seems to have its problems playing at Laramie. Last year the Lobos clobbered Wyoming, 69-57, at home but

Pampa, Sandies Tie for Second

By RON CROSS

BORGER — Pampa made it two straight over the Borger Bulldogs but not quite as easy as they did it in the Top 'O' Texas tournament, and earned a second place tie with Tascosa as the first half of play came to a close in district 3-4A Friday night.

The Harvesters triumphed, 58-49, to finish 7-2, same as Tascosa, beaten by Amarillo, 53-46 Friday night, in the first half of league play.

The Sandies are first half champs with a 8-1 record, losing only to Pampa, who lost to Tascosa at Pampa and Monterey at Lubbock.

Coronado and Monterey tied for fourth at 6-3, Palo Duro finished 4-5, Borger, 3-6; Caprock and Plainview tied at 2-7 and Lubbock was last in the conference at 0-9.

Palo Duro downed Caprock, 80-75, Coronado beat Plainview, 44-41; and Monterey edged Lubbock, 55-44 in other Friday night action.

The Harvesters found Borger an improved and game bunch of Bulldogs, much better than they were when Pampa won 68-50 in the Top 'O' Texas affair.

The game was tied four times and the lead changed hands four times with the Harvesters going in front 15-13 with 1:08 left in the first period to stay, although the Bulldogs stayed close until deep in the final period.

Pampa led 2-0 but fell behind 4-2 before coming up with a 4-4 tie. But the Bulldogs pulled in front again and had three point lead twice, 11-8 and 13-10 before the Harvesters tied it 13-13 on a free shot by Rick Foster. Bo Lang put in a layup for a 15-13 Pampa lead and the Harvesters closed the quarter on 20-15.

Pampa led by as much as six, 24-18 with 4:13 left in the half, when they made their first field goal of the quarter, but Borger cut it to one, 24-23 with 2:31 left.

But Pampa hit five straight points for a 28-23 lead and went to the half with a 29-25 margin.

The Bulldogs, now 9-9 for the season, trailed by one three different times in the third period, 31-30, 33-32 and 35-34 but could never get over the hump.

Pampa, now 18-3, scored six straight and piled up a 44-36 margin and 44-38 when the third period ended.

But the Bulldogs weren't through and trailed only 44-43 with 5:39 left but George Bailey goaled with 4:35 to go and the Bulldogs made one last effort at 46-45 before the bottom fell out.

Pampa hit four straight points for a 50-45 lead on baskets by Steve Williams and Bo Lang before the Bulldogs scored again. Then the Harvesters poured in eight in a row to ice it.

Williams led the Harvesters in scoring with 21 points with Lang adding 16 and Bailey 11 more. The Bulldogs had four players in double figures, Wayne Frayar scored 14, Ricky Williams hit 13, Donnie Piland 12 and Mike Plumlee had 10.

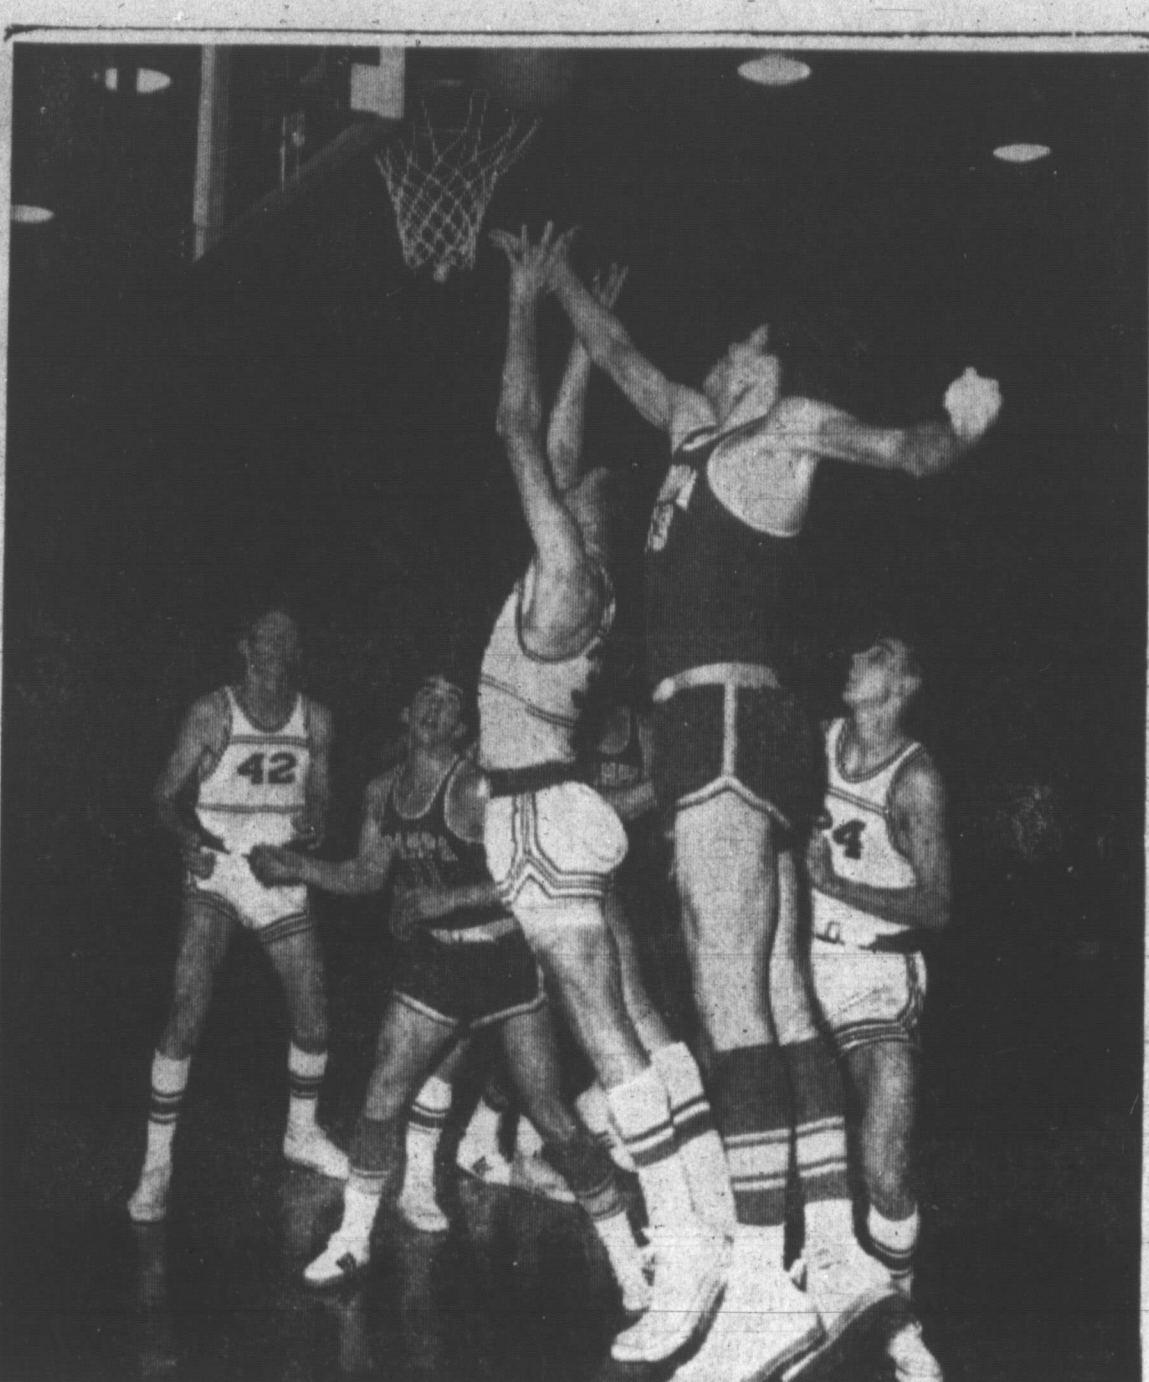

The Harvesters had one of their better nights from the field, hitting 23 of 47 shots for 48 per cent and sank 12 of 15 charity tosses. The Bulldogs hit only 38 per cent, 21 of 53 after having 10 of 19 at halftime.

Pampa picked up two other victories over the host team with the Harvesters C team winning, 51-47 behind Thomas' 16 points, Moltree's 12 and Jay Johnson's 10.

In the B game the Pampa Shockers ran their season mark to 18-3 and tied for the conference lead with a 51-40 victory.

Alvin Achord paced the scoring with 19 and Mike Subiett added 11 more. Pampa led 24-19 at halftime.

The Harvesters host Palo Duro Tuesday as second half action in the district gets underway and journey to Plainview Friday.

A HANDY GUY to have around is Pampa's Beau Bond (53) who jumps high for a rebound against Borger Friday night. John Braly (11) watches as does Borger's Ricky Williams (42) and Wayne Frayar (24). Going up with Bond is Mike Plumlee. Pampa won the game 58-49 to finish second in first half play of district 3-4A. (See other pictures, pages 8-9).

Suit Filed In Football Death

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A $123,328 damage suit is on file in civil district court today against the Orleans Parish School Board, five of its employees and an insurance company in connection with the death of a 16-year-old boy who collapsed and died after a football practice last August.

Dr. and Mrs. William J. Mogabgab filed the suit in connection with the death of their son Robert, who was a student at Benjamin Franklin Senior High School.

Mogabgab is asking $56,634 in damages from the board and its five employees. Mrs. Mogabgab asked for $55,000 from what was named in the amount of $1,693.50.

The suit says instead of taking the youth to the crippled children's hospital, which is only minutes from the practice field, he was brought back to school. The suit contends the boy was unconscious for over an hour before his mother was called and informed of her son's illness.

Named as defendants with the school board are school superintendent Dr. Carl J. Dolce, head football coach Robert O'Neal, assistant coach Sam Mondello, school principal Miss Estelle Barkmeyer, school board athletic director Jack Pizzano and the Continental Insurance Co., which carries insurance on the board's football program.

Allowance Day Used To Be Everyday

Frankly, I was worried because Junior had no appreciation for the value of money. He thought it grew on trees. He always came to me for "just a little extra". One day it was for school activities. The next day it was a movie. And so it went.

This constant doling out was giving him wrong ideas. And, it was also denying him the thrill of earning his own money—and buying things on his own.

That's why I encouraged him to get a newspaper route. That's about the only job left these days that gives a boy well-rounded experience in operating a business—buying at wholesale, selling at retail, making collections and building up profits by good sales and service.

Now Junior's A Newspaperboy...

What a change! He now appreciates the value of money. He works for it.

He doesn't spend his own money foolishly. Before he buys anything now, he takes time to think about the cost. (And the allowance which he used to spend so freely is going into his College Fund.)

Junior is also learning how to meet and get along with all kinds of people and how to put into practice what he's learning at school.

I've got a son to be proud of. A son who already has experience in free enterprise and the American Way of Life. I'm confident that he'll be ready to meet the everyday challenges of his fast full-time job.

Busy Boys Are Better Boys.

If you think your son or some other youngster might profit by similar Newspaperboy experience, why not suggest that he come in and talk to us.

LSU BASKETBALL

Call It Life With Father

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
BATON ROUGE, La. (NEA) —When business slows up at the State House, Gov. John J. McKeithen heads for the Parker Center on the campus of Louisiana State University.

"The governor," says LSU coach Press Maravich, "is a great basketball fan. He sits down there in the front row, eating popcorn and enjoying the game."

The governor enjoys basketball so much that he even comes to watch the freshman games. Gov. McKeithen is not alone.

The freshmen have been drawing as much as the varsity lately because a youngster named Pete Maravich is the best basketball prospect here since Bob Pettit.

Pete Maravich decided to enter LSU late spring when his father left North Carolina State in favor of the rebuilding job here. (Press also was head coach at Clemson before going to North Carolina State.)

"The program here has been down," Press said. "There's no doubt about that. But we figure to come up — soon."

Press, of course, will guide the reconstruction program from the sidelines. Pete will guide it on the floor.

Pete Maravich is not just another promising freshman basketball player. The 6-5, 165-lb. ("he could use 20 more lbs.," his father says) guard has the ability to be one of the dominant names in the college game for the next four years.

He has averaged 40 points, 12 rebounds and nine assists for the unbeaten LSU freshmen this year.

"I don't mind all the talk and all the comparisons about Pete and Bob Pettit," his father said. "Pettit was the greatest ball-player LSU had and was a great pro. The talk about Pete now has stirred interest and that's what we're trying to build."

"I've known for a long time that Pete has the potential to be an outstanding basketball player. He's worked at the game since he was seven."

Helen Maravich can verify that statement. Numerous dinners have turned cold while Pete was out in the back yard shooting a basketball.

There were post-linner sessions, too, with father teaching son many of the finer points that a high school player would never learn.

"One day would be devoted to every type of passing, another to dribbling and another to developing different shots," Press said.

"He is a fine passer with a great knack of hitting the open man," Press said. "I won't switch him to the frontcourt because I need his ballhandling ability at guard."

It's normal for any father to sound enthused when he talks about the exploits of a successful son, so Press has to watch himself, just a bit.

"No," he said, "I don't see any problems arising because of the father-son relationship. He knows what he has to do and I know what I have to do of the father-son relationship. I've always wanted the chance to coach Pete."

Now he has it, and just by coincidence there's a new 14,000-seat field house scheduled for completion at LSU within two years.

It will be a perfect showcase for a unique father-son act.

NEW HORNET STINGER
PITTSBURGH (UPI) —Parker MacDonald, sent down by the Detroit Red Wings, will be in the Pittsburgh Hornets' lineup tonight for their American Hockey League game against Rochester. Pete Mahovich and Val Fonteyne will fill in at MacDonald's position with the Wings.

AL IN THE FAMILY, Press Maravich, left, is the head basketball coach at Louisiana State University. His most promising player is son, Pete, averaging 40 points for Bengal freshman team.

Action in the Pampa Youth and Community Center Basketball League was fast and furious this week, however the League leaders retained their positions. Borger and Cock O Walk remained tied at 5-1 in the Pro League while First National Bank remained 6-0 in the Novice League.

Borger was given quite a scare by The Village of Pampa taking them into overtime before losing 68-64. The score was knotted 60 all at the end of regulation play but Nelby Simpson came in off the bench to push through 4 points in the overtime for the victory. The Village had led at the first two quarters 17-13 and 31-27 but Borger finally overhauled them at the 3-quarter mark to go ahead 48-46.

In the Novice League First National Bank still set the pace with a 62-48 victory over Webco Construction Co. The Bankers never trailed and led at the quarter marks 12-8, 30-13, 46-27 and 62-48. A balanced scoring attack by Max Patton, George Simmons, Terry Brunlow and James Lee proved the deciding blow.

League scores this week: Cock O Walk 68 KPDN 27; Borger 68 The Village 64 (O.T.) Richard Drug 44 Jaycees 29; Curtis Well Service 51 Utility Oil 38; First National Bank 62 Webco Construction 48.

Oil Producers Set Low In Drilling Operations in '66

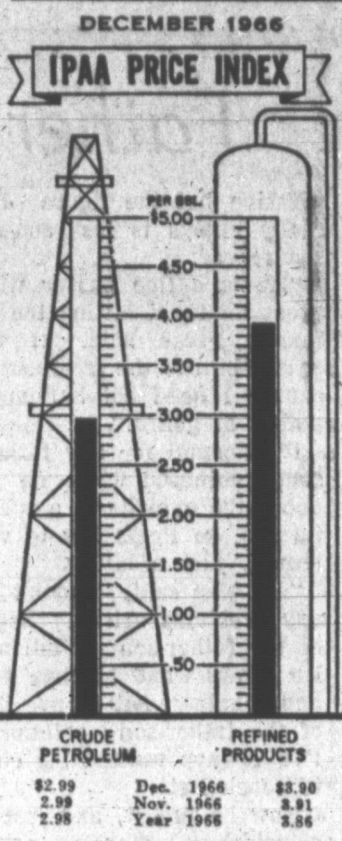

TULSA, Okla., (Spl) — Domestic oil producers set a 19-year low in drilling operations in 1966 and face problems in the coming year "that will be crucial in determining whether we find and develop the petroleum supplies required for the future," the president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America said today.

F. Allen Calvert, Jr., called attention to the current dispute in Syria, affecting shipments of oil from Iraq as one more in a series of incidents including the Suez crisis 10 years ago that demonstrates the necessity of maintaining adequate oil supplies within the United States.

Calvert said in a year-end statement that the U. S. petroleum producing industry "set records in both favorable and unfavorable directions in the past year."

He released a preliminary summary on 1966 operations of the oil and gas producing industry indicating that crude oil production hit a record 8,350,000 barrels daily, up nearly seven percent over 1965. However, drilling took its biggest drop since World War II, with total well completions declining from 41,431 in 1966 to a total of 36,000 in 1966 or a 13 percent decrease. In the 10-year period, 1956-1966, the decline was 38 percent from 58,160 in 1956.

Calvert said while the petroleum industry as a whole showed healthy gains in the past year, "there are indications that independent producers who traditionally have drilled the bulk of the wells and found most of the oil in America are shrinking in numbers and remain in economic difficulty."

Crude petroleum is weighted average well price for 8 principal areas and closely approximates the average price of all crudes in the U. S. Refined products is weighted average refinery price of gasoline, kerosene, light and heavy fuel oils for 9 principal areas calculated from low quotations as reported by Platt's Oilgram Price Service.

Note: This information reflects the trend in oil prices but not the actual sales realization for producers or refiners.

Control Cost For Pollution Will Be High

DALLAS — U. S. Refiners will spend $46,064,000 for pollution control in 1967, according to a survey by Petro-Chem Engineer, Dallas - based international publication of the Hydrocarbon Processing Industry.

This 1967 expenditure will amount to about $4,200.00 for every 1,000 barrels per day capacity, or $600 for every barrel of crude oil the refining industry will process through its manufacturing facilities in 1967.

The 17 gasoline and product refiners covered in this survey which will appear in the February issue of Petro-Chem Engineer, will spend an average of $430,400 per company, or $217.20 for each of the 212 refiners they operate for air and water pollution control.

This survey also includes a directory of over 160 men charged with the responsibility by the nation's refiners to meet pollution control standards.

Johnson Cancellation:
The West German government has become convinced that President Johnson will cancel his tentative plans to visit Europe this spring. Chancellor Kurt-Georg Kiesinger was reported in Bonn as not particularly unhappy about the development, since he would like nuclear problems and payments problems settled before they meet.

New Movie Politician:
There is growing speculation in western diplomatic circles that former movie actress Chiang Ching, the wife of Mao Tse-tung, is trying to move into the line of direct succession to the supreme leadership in Red China. Of late she has been taking one top job after another. Only last Thursday she was made advisor to the committee that is trying to tighten Mao's grip on the army.

Hawks vs the Big Man:
Indonesian Hawks in Jakarta believe the time is ripe to act against the big man—President Sukarno. But reliable sources say no action is indicated in the immediate future. There may be some action after Jan. 23 when Parliament meets and students take to the streets but most sources believe strong man Gen. Suharto will wait until February or March to act. He is a mystic and believes the time would not be propitious before then. But observers say if he waits Sukarno may be able to build up a paper-tiger image of the army and win through. There have been big troop movements in the Jakarta area and various troop commanders are asking Suharto to act now.

Yellow Peril:
Kremlin watchers in Moscow are intrigued by the journeys the Soviet Union's top political and military brass are making across the country to explain the Chinese peril to the grass roots activists. The pains Soviet leaders are taking to expose Chinese antics to provincial Russia presages a major definite Soviet decision on China, observers believe.

Most dangerous of all sharks is the great white shark, also called the "man-eater."

Foreign News Commentary

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
Outlook from the foreign cables desk:
Vietnamese Return:
Highly informed sources in Saigon say the Hanoi regime is much more concerned about the power struggle in Red China than appears on the surface. They say Hanoi has recalled 4,400 North Vietnamese students from China. The reasons were not certain but it was believed Hanoi feared the internal strife would infect the students themselves or they might send back stories that Hanoi's big brother wasn't really keeping an eye on the Vietnamese war at all. The North Vietnamese are now getting little, if any information about the Peking struggle.

Oil and Gas Assn. Group Scheduled

DALLAS — Government affairs at state and national levels, and air and water conservation will be among the topics scheduled for discussion at the annual meeting of the Oil Information Committee of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., Jan. 19 in Dallas, according to OIC chairman Charles F. Heidrick, Dallas.

Headquarters for the statewide gathering of OIC leaders will be the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel. The organization is the public information and service arm of the Texas oil and gas industry.

A highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of awards to 19 OIC members for outstanding service to the industry program in Texas, Heidrick said.

A special award will be presented to Roy Bascue, Fort Worth, general manager of WBAP AM-FM-TV, which produced a public service television program in 1966 in recognition of the 100th anniversary of the Texas oil and gas industry.

Seventeen Take Junior Service League Training

By PEGGY JO ORMSON
Women's Page Editor

SEVENTEEN provisional members of the Junior Service League of Pampa began an orientation program last Tuesday morning which will acquaint them with the social, cultural, educational and civic conditions within the community. Following two weeks of orientations, the new provisionals become active and constructive participants in the League's program of volunteer service to Pampa.

THE PROVISIONAL class includes Mrs. Harbord Cox, Mrs. Robert Waddell, Mrs. Norman Buhrow, Mrs. Robert Lyle, Mrs. George Snell, Miss Jean Sims, Mrs. Sam Hulsey, Mrs. James Evans, Mrs. John McCausland, Mrs. Bob Johnson, Mrs. Jerry Bond, Mrs. Jack Curtis, Mrs. Ronnie Rice, Mrs. Delmar Watkins, Mrs. Jeanne White, Mrs. E. M. Keller Jr. and Mrs. Patrick Carter.

THE JUNIOR Service League helps members realize each is a vital part of the city and provides channels of work for volunteer service. Education, participation and obligation constitute goals toward which the League works—and the "education" part of the league work began for the new class Tuesday morning when they attended the meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

UNTIL JAN. 24 PROVISIONALS will attend 13 sessions. The last session, scheduled in the home of Mrs. Warren Fatheree, will be an oral evaluation of the provisional course which will include sessions devoted to the structure, functions and needs of the city agencies and institutions.

Miss Knox, Dr. Marvin A. Berry Married in Hereford Church Rites

FORMAN-POWELL — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Cheryl Darlene Forman to Donald Wayne Powell is announced by Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Forman of 510 N. Nelson, parents of the bride-elect. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell of 508 E. Foster. Miss Forman attended Pampa High School, Frank Phillips College, and is presently employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Powell attended White Deer High School, and now is serving with the U.S. Navy in San Diego, Calif. The wedding will be solemnized May 6 in First Methodist Church Chapel.

CECIL-TRIPPLEHORN — Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wood Cecil of Houston announce the engagement of their daughter Cheryl Dianne Cecil, to David Robert Tripplehorn, also of Dallas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Tripplehorn, 1801 N. Russell. The bride-elect is a graduate of Southern Methodist University where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority. The prospective bridegroom, also a graduate of Southern Methodist University, was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is presently enrolled as a graduate student at Southern Methodist University. The wedding is planned for the evening of April 8, in the chapel of St. Luke's Methodist Church, Houston.

Mrs. Marvin Albert Berry
...nee Miss Kathleen Ann Knox

Miss Kathleen Ann Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Calvin Knox of Hereford, and Dr. Marvin Albert Berry of Fort Worth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eura Berry of 712 Buckler, exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony Dec. 27 in Hereford Central Church of Christ.

A choral group sang the prayer song, "Be With Us Lord," the professional, "Faithful and True," and recessional, "O Perfect Love," directed by Mrs. Dale Young who presented a solo, "Because" (D'Hardelo). Nate Stark, tenor soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest."

Chorus members were Mmes. Wayne Stark, Alton Hollingsworth, Melvin Young and Ray Gadberry, Miss Judy Hollingsworth, Ken Stark, Nate Stark, Eugene Campbell, Dale Young and Marvin Knox.

As her father gave her in marriage, the bride was gowned in white peau de soie ornamented with chantilly lace. The bodice, its empire waistline defined with lace appliques, was cut with sabrina neckline and long sleeves with lace insets at the wrist.

Lace scallops edged the cathedral train and the illusion veil which fell elbow-length from a lace pillbox cap. She carried a cascading arrangement of French roses and stephanotis.

Both her attendants wore red velvet dresses, floor-length and in empire silhouette. Their flower girl was Pam Vinson and Jim Denington of Dallas was the ring bearer.

ers were pale pink miniature carnations.

Guests were received at a reception in the church fellowship hall, where the three-tiered wedding cake was served with pink punch by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. O. Livingston of Shreveport, La., Mrs. B. E. Brumley and Mrs. Hollingsworth.

Pink carnations surrounded red tapers in silver candlesticks in the center piece. The cloth was of white satin with an airy net overskirt.

Dr. and Mrs. Berry left on a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wearing a yellow paisley print suit with matching accessories and a corsage of roses from her bridal bouquet.

The newlyweds are now at home at 3021-A Cockrell, Fort Worth. Dr. Berry is a resident physician at John Peter Smith Hospital in that city.

Mrs. Berry is a senior music education major at Texas Christian University, vice president of Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority, a member of Kappa Delta Pi and of the University Symphony.

Other campus memberships are in the German Club, Educational Service Organization and Music Educators National Conference. She attended Abilene Christian College two years and played in the Abilene and ACC symphony orchestras and the ACC Band.

Berry is a graduate of Southwestern Medical School, Dallas where he was a member of Phi Chi National medical fraternity. He received the BS degree from West Texas State University where he was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, was a member of Mary E. Hudspeth and Kappa Alpha fraternity president of the Buffalo Bills and was editor two years of the West Texas Christian.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
Pre-nuptial courtesies extended the bride included a shower given in the Pampa home of Mrs. Vic Houchin, a shower given in Hereford in the home of Mrs. Alton Hollingsworth, and showers given in Fort Worth by Mrs. John Kempin and Miss Karen Hale.

The wedding party was entertained at a rehearsal dinner the evening preceding the wedding rites. The event, given in Caison House, Hereford, was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Berry, parents of the bridegroom.

demolition because public apathy has permitted the destruction of thousands of buildings and neighborhoods which were uniquely American, and which can never be replaced. Can we as Americans afford to grow and progress — which we must do — and at the same time cut ourselves off from the past?

In an age of increasing leisure, is not a building or a site that was closely associated with great Americans or designed and constructed in an important architectural style, a useful object for enjoyment and education? She concluded by stating that we must do something about these precious old homes and sites today as tomorrow may be too late.

An open discussion followed where points of interest in the local area were pointed out by members present.

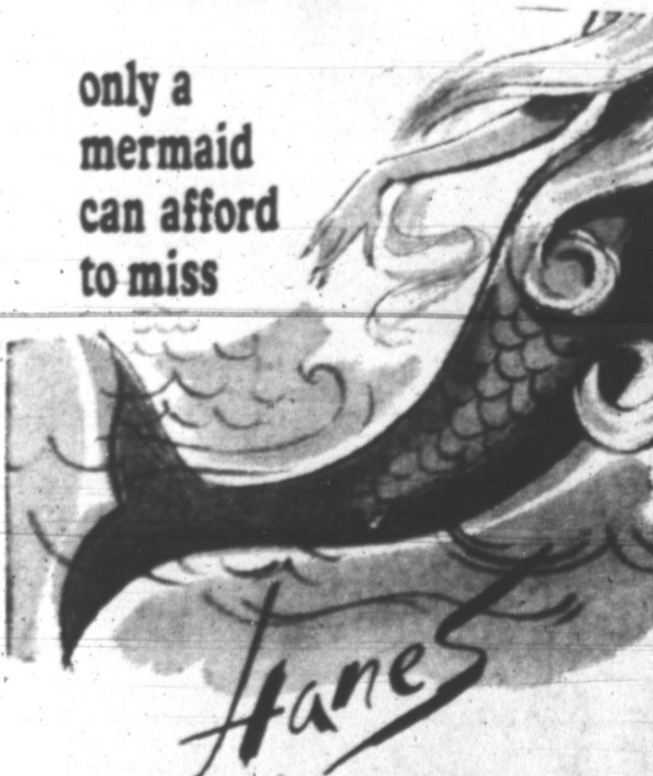

Mrs. Hamilton continued by stating "The nation's heritage includes historic sites and buildings which are solid evidence of what we have been like as a people. These links between our past, present and future face the constant threat of demolition because public apathy has permitted the destruction of thousands of buildings and neighborhoods which were uniquely American, and which can never be replaced. Can we as Americans afford to grow and progress — which we must do — and at the same time cut ourselves off from the past?

Dear Abby... It's Best for All So Just Let 'Them' Talk

DEAR ABBY: My wife's widowed mother has made her home with us for the past 22 years. She was not a built-in babysitter for our children, neither was she a servant. (Fortunately we have always had help.) I will not say my wife and her mother got along "famously" — they had their differences, but my wife always deferred out of respect. I never interfered.

Lately my mother-in-law's mind has been affected, and her health is failing. She has made such a madhouse out of our home that our teenage children can no longer have their friends over. My wife and I have discussed putting her mother in a fine rest home, but my wife's only worry is, "What will people say if I send my own mother away to be cared for by strangers?" If you have a comment on this, I would like to see it in print.

SILENT IN EUGENE
DEAR SILENT: Elderly people who pose a problem in the homes of their children, should, for their own sake as well as for their children's, be cared for in a rest home, if possible. Of all the reasons for refusing to send her, "What will people say" is by far the poorest.

DEAR ABBY: I am the secretary of a man who employs 22 people. He planned a dinner party at his home to honor a retiring employe and he set the date for Friday. One woman spoke up and said if the party were to be on a Friday, he should postpone it until after the first of December so everybody could eat meat! A few others joined in and agreed with her. My employer and his wife entertain graciously and I am sure they would have made ample provisions for those who couldn't eat meat on Friday. (Maybe they planned on serving fish to everyone for all I know!)

Anyway, my boss was so disgusted he abandoned the idea of the party, and he and his wife entertained the man alone and bought him an expensive gift.

Now the employes are miffed. They feel that the boss promised them a party and he "cheaped." What is your opinion?

GIRL FRIDAY
DEAR GIRL: I think your boss was unfair to have punishing all the employes for the boorishness of a few. Now those employes who wish to pick a home with him, have their choice of fish or meat—any day in the week.

DEAR ABBY: The letter written by "Recent Widow" could have been written by me for I am also a recent widow who regrets being given condolences in public places by people who never got around to sending me a note or paying a call. But I would have added this: What on earth is wrong with people who say to a grieving widow, "Well Annie, how are you doing?" I fight the urge to reply, "How would you be doing if you were in my shoes?"

How much better it would be if these thoughtless people would just take my hand and say, "I am glad to see you." When they ask me how I am doing I want to break right down and cry.

NOT DOING VERY WELL

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HURT MOTHER", Don't ask your son to make a choice between his wife and you. If you've raised him right you'll lose.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cates Are Honored On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cates

Calvary Baptist Church Fellowship Hall was the scene of an open house reception last Sunday afternoon honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cates on their golden wedding anniversary.

The event, hosted by members of Calvary Baptist Church, was attended by a host of friends and relatives of the honored couple.

Mrs. Cates received an orchid corsage and Mr. Cates was presented a carnation boutonniere.

Guests were registered by Mrs. C. A. Pixler on a table covered with a white linen cloth and appointed with an arrangement of yellow mums centered with gold "50th" numerals.

The refreshment table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a large arrangement of yellow mums and white pom poms sprayed with gold in a silver bowl. The numerals "50th" in gold centered the floral arrangement which was flanked by silver candelabra bearing gold tapers. Silver tea and coffee services, silver serving dishes and white napkins cent Home and Charley Cates of Port Barre, La., and Mrs. Cates' nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dalton, Bobby, Debbie and Curtis.

Miss Malinda Sparkman and Ben Cates were united in marriage on Jan. 4, 1917, in Chickasha, Okla. Residents of Pampa for the past 40 years, the couple resides at 738 S. Reid. Mr. Cates, now retired, was employed as a salesman for Walsh Food Service. They are members of Calvary Baptist Church.

The couple has three sons, Dudley F. and Dale Cates, both of Garden Grove, Calif., and Don Cates of Fort Worth. They also have eight grandchildren.

Former Pampans Are Honored In California on Golden Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Glen W. Redman ... honored on anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Glen W. Redman honored them with a 50th wedding anniversary open house recently at their home in El Cajon Calif. The reception was held on the patio and featured gold floral arrangements. Seventy-five relatives and friends calling during the event.

Miss Ola Floyd and Glen Redman were married Dec. 20, 1916, in Lubbock. They farmed in West where their three children were born. They moved to Pampa in 1930. Mr. Redman was a painting contractor in Pampa for 30 years. They lived on a farm 1 1/2 miles east of Pampa Country Club. He retired in 1960 and the couple moved to El Cajon in the San Diego area. Since that time that have traveled extensively in the States and Mexico.

They have a daughter, Mrs. Scott Hall Jr. of Pampa, who was unable to attend; twins Ray Redman of Lompoc, Calif. and Fay Salender of El Cajon, Calif., a granddaughter Jan Hall and grandson, Phillip Hall of Pampa, a granddaughter of San Diego and two granddaughters of Lompoc, Calif.

Bill Robertson Is Ass'n. Speaker

Bill Robertson, Highland General Hospital administrator, gave a talk on "You Can't See the Forest for the Trees" at the recent meeting of the Licensed Vocational Nurses Assn. Highland General Hospital dining room was the meeting place.

Mrs. Joan Varnell was welcomed as a new member.

Attending were Mmes. Doris Heller, Laura Converse, Lena Robinson, Belva Jean Vance, Essie Epps, LaVerne Furr, Meda Hudgins, Jewell Wallace, Betty Rice, Ruby Stovall, Imogene Murrel, Pattie Utzman, Joan Varnell and Miss Grace NeCase all of Pampa, and Mmes. Zella Shelton and Laura Hill of Groom.

March of Dimes Discussed for Council of Clubs

Jim Morris, Cameron Marsh and Bill Robertson were guest speakers at the recent meeting of Pampa Council of Clubs.

Mr. Morris spoke on the "March of Dimes" program, asking the cooperation of those present to aid in the drive and help stamp out birth defects.

Mr. Morris stated "We now have 250,000 afflicted children in America today."

Mr. Marsh, March of Dimes city chairman, presented a series of pictures of children suffering from birth defects and announced that the Mothers' March was set for Jan. 30.

Mr. Robertson, Highland General Hospital administrator, spoke on the "Medicare Program."

Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, president, presided.

Open House Reception To Fete Couple Marking Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hollis ... observe golden wedding date

An open house reception, honoring Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hollis on their golden wedding anniversary, will be held from 2 till 6 p.m. today in the couple's home at 939 S. Schneider.

Hosting the event will be the honorees' children, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Givens and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hollis, all of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Hollis of Spearman; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hollis of Tarrance, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gilbert of Geraldine, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hollis of Fyler, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wright of Birchwood, Tenn. and Mr. and Mrs. George Hollis of Skellytown.

Mrs. Wanda Perry will register guests at the event and Miss Sheila Givens will preside at the punch bowl. Miss Sue Ann Thomas will serve the tiered white wedding cake which will be decorated with yellow roses and topped by a gold "50th Anniversary" emblem.

The serving table, which will be covered with a white lace cloth, will be centered by an arrangement of yellow mums and poms, flanked by yellow tapers in gold candlesticks.

Miss Mollie Williams and L. C. Hollis were married on Jan. 14, 1917, in Eldora, Tenn. The couple moved to Pampa from Tennessee in 1952. Mr. Hollis, now retired as the owner and operator of a second-hand (See OPEN HOUSE, Page 18)

Couple Observe 60th Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Jones ... on wedding date

Miss Lillie Bell Kirbie and Ernie Bramlet Jones were united in marriage on Jan. 16, 1907, in Wellington.

Rev. Solly, pastor of the Wellington Baptist Church, performed the ceremony in front of the Baptist parsonage while the couple sat in a two-horse buggy. The bride was dressed in a full-skirted white lawn dress with leg of mutton sleeves and a high lace collar. White kid pumps and a wide white ribbon bow, pinned to her hair at the nape of her neck, completed her costume.

Seated in another buggy, Mr. and Mrs. Will Guinn, Miss Joe Kirbie and Rolla Jones, attended the couple.

Mrs. Jones is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Kirbie of Clifton and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Franklin Jones of Memphis.

The first five years of their married life the couple resided on Mr. Jones' father's ranch near Wellington, where the two men raised cattle. They then purchased the E. B. Jones Ranch north of White Deer where Mr. Jones was engaged in the cattle business until 1960, when Mr. Jones retired and the couple moved to Pampa to make their home at 403 N. Nelson.

The couple will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary at a family dinner in their home this afternoon. Attending will be relatives from Pampa, White Deer, Amarillo and Hutchinson County.

The Jones have three daughters: Mrs. Ernest Charles Pulse of 1153 Neel Rd., Mrs. Cammie Terry of Terry Ranch in Hutchinson County and Mrs. Henry

Alpha Iota KKI Conclave Enjoys Pennsylvania Dutch Dinner Meeting

A Pennsylvania Dutch dinner was served by the hostesses, Mmes. Kenneth Baker, Jack Williams, Jack McDonald and Misses Jerry Rampy and Stella Kiser to the members of Alpha Iota Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota Monday evening.

The Homemaking II girls of Pampa High School designed and made the long Pennsylvania Dutch red pique skirts worn by each hostess. White blouses and white aprons accented the costumes.

Each dish served was prepared by the hostesses. The serving table was covered with a green table cloth and the center piece was a brass tiered compote dish filled with fresh fruits of bananas, apples, oranges and grapefruit. The menu included such dishes as shoe-fly pie, apple pandowdy, anadama bread, funnel cake, puddle cake, sauerbraten, corn pudding, Pennsylvania Dutch meatballs, many relishes and vegetables.

Mrs. Baker gave a short explanation of the origin of the Pennsylvania Dutch. In the early years of the Eighteenth Century, many of the first settlers in Eastern Pennsylvania came from the Palatinate in Germany. They selected pieces of land, built log houses and began to clear and cultivate the soil. Though these thrifty people came from Germany, they were known as "Dutch". They developed, as a language, a mixture of their mother tongue and that spoken in their new homeland, America, which was soon called Pennsylvania Dutch instead of Pennsylvania Deutsch.

At each meal, "seven sweets and seven sour" were known to be served. The guests would court to see if there was a shortage and chide the hostess. This custom adds to the ever-present abundant variety and interest of the table and is a delightful aid to appetite and digestion. The Pennsylvania Dutch recipes inspire you to go into the kitchen and try something different and remember the saying, "Kissin' don't last, but cookin' do."

Long tables were set with Pennsylvania Dutch napkins and plates lighted by kerosene lamps. Members present ate "elbow to elbow" in the cheerful room of the homemaking department at Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

Rho Eta Chapter Has Regular Meet

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi opened its meeting Tuesday evening with members repeating the Opening Ritual with Mrs. Jim Manley, president, presiding.

Reports on progress and planning for the Red Stocking Revue were given by committee chairman. The Revue will be held March 3 and 4.

Program, "Music into Drama and Dance" was presented by Mrs. Hunkey Greene and Mrs. Don Huffaker.

Hostess for the evening were Mmes. Myke Brown, Charles Thompson and Benny Stout. Sandwiches, potato chips, cookies and Cokes were served on lavender cloth centered with an arrangement of flowers and grapes.

Members present were Mmes. Dwaine Blakemore, Ronald Beard, Jerry Bond, Myke Brown, Warren Chisum, Sam Condo, James Lee, Greens, Huffaker, Gifford Kerksieck, Buddy Lamberson, Jim Manley, Peggy Ormson, Charles Snider, Don Stafford, Benny Stout, Charles Thompson, Harry Ward and Stanley White.

Chenille bedspreads can be kept fluffy and fresh as new if washed every month. Wash chenille items alone. They give off lint.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGTER

FOR SUNDAY, JAN. 15

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a Sunday when your spiritual life can be greatly satisfied and enhanced by the services or studies that bring you the greatest amount of peace, and by which you can best save the future so that you have the insight to live by the Golden Rule and other fine precepts in which you live by belief.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Meditation can reveal to you how to be more attuned to the Infinite Power of health, success and harmony. Go about your work in a most quiet and knowing fashion. Show that you have charity in your heart as well.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Your companions have the right key to more success in social activities. Be sure to contact them. Get out socially and meet interesting, worthwhile personalities. Come to a very good understanding.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — This is a good day to contact higher-ups for ideas that will help you to get a new start toward greater things in the new week. Approach them diplomatically. You can help both credit and career.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — You have to try a new tack if you want to clear up existing problems intelligently. You have fine intuitive flashes that are most helpful. This is also great for helping you to zoom forward in your career.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — You know what must be done to achieve greater happiness or success with mate, so don't be lazy and sit in that comfortable chair. Romantic life can improve greatly, also. Show that you have both vitality and wisdom.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Concern yourself with being helpful to bigwigs around you and you get excellent favors, good will. Tell others how you would like to have conditions around you then work together to improve.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — An ideal day to make your home more charming, neat and to show others that you are very efficient. Planning week ahead is good so that you are in a position to assist others as well. Be sure to build up your health in a plan.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Follow your own inclinations today and find relief from worries that are bothering you. Be with congenial, good dining at a fine restaurant could be very pleasant with some person you admire very much.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — You want to improve conditions around you but be sure to do this quietly and without loss of temper. You may have perplexities clarified with little trouble. This can be a very productive day and night.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Getting out to services of your choice can be most inspiring and give you incentive you need for this new year. Contact very interesting personalities later. Have a most fascinating time.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Don't be blind to all the fine chances around you to gain greater abundance. This will give you an opportunity to help others more. A conference with one who has practical ideas is good.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You can reach personal aims and have a marvelous time as well this Sunday. New personalities come into your acquaintance that are very worthwhile. Buzzing around socially will just work wonders for you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those intelligent persons who knows just what the goals are for the future and even how to reach them, but there is a tendency to be pretty much anti-social. So be sure to have playmates around very early in life in order to learn how to deal with others successfully. Then the chart could become very successful instead of just an ineffectual one.

FOR MONDAY, JAN. 16

GENERAL TENDENCIES: One of your best days to make a fresh start to gain the advanced course that is essential to your progress and development. You can easily make big headway in exploring a course that may have been too much closer to your mental desires and ambitions and can see the future with you "at risk."

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Have no fears and carry through with whatever plans of a constructive nature you have made and you get desired results, returns. Making new allies via the social path is good in p.m. Be a little more aggressive.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Confering with experts privately can open up a new and more successful vista for you in the weeks ahead. Several such are within easy reach. Get busy and set up appointments — keep it on time.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Good friends who really understand your position and have your interests at heart are your best bet for support you need now. Social avenues are good for advancement. Use them long and be happier.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — Permit that bigwig you know to assist you with problems you do not seem able to cope with. Improve your career. Make excellent contacts tonight socially. Be charming.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — If you follow good suggestions of individuals whose background has been different from yours, you can advance more quickly by now. Study with them in a positive fashion.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — You can carry through with agreement to the letter without those around you interfering so much. Then you get ahead as you want to. Be sure to get important bills. Be harmonious with mate in p.m.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Clever associates will give you suggestions which, if understood correctly, run the most helpful. You want new allies, also, but be sure they are the right ones. Know (See HOROSCOPE, Page 18)

Greek Island Is Newest 'In' Spot for Travelers

United Press International MYKONOS, Greece (UPI) — This shining isle in the Aegean Sea has become the new "in" island of Greece.

Yet it is less openly touristy than the other mecesses of Rhodes and Hydra, possibly because it has not had time yet to be used to its new status. New hotels and clusters of one or two "chalets" are going up, but tourists who come in July or August without reservations usually must sleep in the streets or on the beaches.

After World War II, Mykonos was a sleepy, dirt-poor island of fishermen and of farmers who tried to scrape a living from the stony ground. Most of its sons went to mainland Greece or to the United States.

Today, it is a sleepy, well-to-do island that has abandoned fishing and farming for the care and feeding of tourists — and does it so well that most visitors feel like guests and find no trouble in making friends with the islanders.

"Why shouldn't we welcome tourists?" asks Anastolos, a captain-guide who ferries tourists to the nearby "holy" island of Delos. "Once we were poor and unhappy. Now we're rich and happy. I've got two houses myself and have six rooms set aside for tourists — and I treat them like friends, too."

The life of the island centers on the harbor town, also named Mykonos, a blinding constellation of white-washed houses, narrow winding streets and windmills, wrapped around a u-shaped bay.

Every building is whitewashed twice a year, the streets once a week. The streets are clean enough to go barefoot, and almost everybody does.

Sidewalk cafes and shops line the waterfront where Peter the Pelican, the island's mascot, struts tamely. Behind the waterfront, a baffling maze of streets winds into the hills. The islanders spend the winter knitting lovely sweaters or weaving fine clothes and cloth on looms, then hang their wares on walls and government-owned. The Zenia is newer and charges about $11 per night for a double room with bath and two meals — cheap by almost any standards except Greek.

TV PROFILE

Negro Television Star Is Electrical Gadgeteer

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Greg Morris, Negro star of television's "Mission Impossible," plays an electronics expert on the action adventure show and is something of a whiz with electrical gadgets at home.

A onetime jazz disc jockey in Iowa City, Iowa, Morris put together his own stereo set at home. Still a jazz buff, he plays Miles Davis and Oscar Peterson almost every evening.

Morris and his wife, Leona, have been married 10 years and are the parents of Iona, 9; Philip, 7; and Linda, 4.

Their home is a rambling Spanish abode in the Larchmont area of Los Angeles, an upper-middle class neighborhood. It is an integrated, older section of large, well-tended homes.

Because he is a Negro, Morris finds himself answering questions about his race in regard to show business. He has no pat answers.

"Things are much better for Negroes in Hollywood," he says, "but I would like to see them improve even more. I'd like to see a situation comedy in which the next door neighbors are Negroes."

Friendly Neighbors
Morris is on friendly terms with his own neighbors. Leona has decorated their home in an Oriental motif. The predominant colors are orange and black.

Greg's daily regimen begins at 6 a.m. when he arises, has breakfast and drives to Desilu studios, a scant 10 minutes from home.

In addition to sports, Morris also is occupied with the typewriter. He has written a couple of plays and hopes someday to see them produced.

The Morris family entertains sparingly during the week but they enjoy having a couple of two stop by for dinner and animated games of double-deck pinocle. Two or three times a year they will throw a party for 30 or 40 friends, which Greg says are informal.

The guests sit around the floor and hold songfests with Leona playing the guitar and leading the music. Frequently they will just sit and talk and listen to Greg's large collection of jazz records.

"The series is time consuming," Greg concludes, "but it's worthwhile and I enjoy every minute of it."

That Old Black Magic

NEW YORK (UPI) — Billy Daniels hasn't lost that "Old Black Magic."

Daniels, who recently finished his eighth engagement at Manhattan's Copacabana night club, combines sentimental songs such as "What Now My Love" and "The Shadow of Your Smile" with rousing renditions of "Close Your Eyes" and "Old Man River," the latter a duet with his accompanist of 23 years, Benny Payne.

Daniels was no stranger to the Copac. He played there first in 1952. Booked for two weeks, he stayed eleven.

Film To Show Why Wyatt-Earp Changed from Good to Bad Guy

TORREON, Mexico — Wyatt Earp a bad guy? Psychoanalysis at the OK Corral.

You better believe it.

Producer John Sturges does, and he's making a movie about his idea of what happened to Earp after the "most famous gunfight in American history," the legend-shrouded OK Corral shootout.

Sturges is producing and directing the movie "The Law and Tombstone," being filmed near Torreon in North central Mexico, with Jason Roberts, James Garner and Robert Ryan.

"Hardly had the echo of gunfire died beyond Boot Hill Cemetery and the smoke of gunpowder drifted away from the OK Corral, when controversy arose about Wyatt Earp's character," he says.

"What happened next to participants in that fight? This, in essence, is what 'The Law and Tombstone' is all about. Sturges denied the film is a sequel to his earlier, "Gunfight at the OK Corral."

"Our story begins with the OK Corral gunfight, then continues with its aftermath," Sturges said.

"That was the most famous gunfight in the history of the American West. It took place at 11 o'clock on the morning of October 26, 1881, in the city of Tombstone, Arizona Territory. The shooting lasted only a few seconds, but it set in motion events that twisted those involved for the rest of their lives: "Within a short period one of Earp's brothers had been killed, the other crippled for life, fired on from ambush by gunmen of the Clanton who ran away from the OK Corral fight he started. With federal authorization, Earp set out to arrest and bring to trial Clanton and four others who had broken his brothers.

Earp's Switch
"Somewhere along the trail something happened within him. A man known for his reverence for law and order, Earp turned killer as he hunted down his enemies.

"Doc Holliday, as ruthless as any man in frontier history, held Earp up as a demi-god. Nearly shockproof, even he was shaken by Earp's bloody revenge. When Earp finished with the five men, he took off his guns and his badge and never again put them on.

"This is history — chronologically jiggled for story line, but history, truly."

So all right, what DID happen to Earp to make him trade in his white hat for a black one?

Sturges isn't saying. For that he wants you to see the movie, since his reasons for making it go somewhat beyond the simple desire to clear up a gap in Western history.

TV NOTES

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the second half of the season, ABC's "The Pruitts of Southampton" series will be known as "The Phyllis Diller Show" and some new characters will show up from time to time. Comedian Paul Lynde, for example, will appear as Miss Diller's ne'er-do-well brother, John Astin and Marty Ingels, both well known to video audiences from work on other series, will be making some appearances as a brother-in-law and handyman, respectively.

British star Emyl Williams will be seen on the CBS network Jan. 29 doing his readings from the works of Charles Dickens. He has been appearing in the theaters in this routine off and on for years with fine success.

Worldwide syndication rights to 195 episodes of Danny Thomas' old weekly series, aired on the CBS network from 1958 through 1964, have been acquired by CBS Films, Inc.

The premiere broadcast of "CBS Playhouse," ambitious new drama project of the network, will be Jan. 29 when an original play entitled "The Final War of Oily Winter" by Ronald Ribman will be telecast 9-10:30 p.m. "CBS Playhouse" shows will be broadcast at irregular intervals.

Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower will reminisce about the late Winston Churchill as a military man on the "ABC Stage 67" program Feb. 16.

PHARMACISTS ARE SAFETY EXPERTS

A physician never has to specify it when writing a prescription, but safety is always one of its most important ingredients. Before preparation, each prescription is carefully studied to insure absolute certainty of the physician's specifications.

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Panama News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Threat Is Internal

Liberty presupposes individual responsibility. Individual liberty is lost through ignorance because intelligent people do not deliberately give up their freedom.

Personal liberty is only surrendered voluntarily by the unenlightened individual who does not know that government aid in personal affairs is always accompanied by government control of personal affairs. And any government control of personal affairs anywhere is a loss of liberty for someone somewhere.

Individual liberty seems to mean to some people: the liberty to use their liberty to take liberty away from others; the liberty to use their own misguided greed to secure special privilege which infringes on the liberty of others. What these people, in their ignorance, don't know is that if government is given any powers over any group, it winds up with powers over every group. And liberty is lost for all groups.

It seems that many have lost the willingness to think. The maintenance of liberty demands a certain amount of mental equipment which can only be provided by education (not schooling). It cannot be legislated. Our education processes are being transmitted into a collective indoctrination which teaches that one who does not conform to and agree with the majority is an extremist or a kook. This conformist and collectivist teaching is rapidly eroding the willingness of the individual to think for himself. He is losing his individuality.

We're being taught myths as truths. Such as the myth that all men are equal, merely because they were conceived by the same biological process. And the myth that the government creates wealth and should support the people, merely because the government is pillaging the wealth from the industry.

The Quandary of Sanctions

President Lyndon B. Johnson has South Vietnam; British Prime Minister Harold Wilson has Rhodesia. The one has made a commitment not to permit a Communist takeover of 16 million Asians; the other has made a commitment not to "abandon" four million black Africans to rule by a white minority.

The apparent fact that the four million black Africans aren't anxious to rule themselves seems to be beside the point.

For both men, the verdict of history awaits. It will record of each that he either achieved greatness by surmounting his particular rock of Vietnam or Rhodesia or that he foundered on it—possibly carrying a large part of civilization down with him.

Just as confrontation with Red China is an ever-present possibility because of America's involvement in Asia, so Britain's call for economic sanctions against Rhodesia could expand into a bloody showdown between black and white Africa.

Limiting the Vietnam struggle to a local war while at the same time pursuing it with enough vigor to win it eventually has been Johnson's problem. How to apply economic pressure on Rhodesia without jeopardizing Britain's vital trade with South Africa is Wilson's.

On this side of the Atlantic, trious and thrifty to support the thrifless and shiftless. And the myth that poverty can only be alleviated by government intervention and redistributing the wealth, merely because the poverty-stricken have only one tv, one car, and a one-holer. Millions of them didn't know they were poverty stricken until the government told them. Some still don't believe it yet.

The whole philosophy of freedom envisioned by our founding fathers has been reversed. There was a freedom to and a freedom for. Freedom to work as they pleased; to speak as they pleased; to write as they pleased. Freedom for "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," or individual welfare and freedom for the citizens from government interference in their private and property affairs.

In the last thirty-five years, the philosophy of freedom, has evolved into freedom from want, freedom from worry, freedom from ownership of property, freedom from poverty, freedom from responsibility, freedom from work and freedom from freedom itself! This revised philosophy has substituted freedom for security which, if pursued, we will also have freedom from just as soon as we run out of little tin gods capable of making all the decisions for everybody.

The greatest threat to our survival and our liberty is not foreign aggression or internal communist subversion, but the self-destruction of personal liberty by the increasing dependence of the people on a paternalistic government. People don't seem to realize that if a government is given power enough to give them everything they want, it's also powerful enough to take away from them everything they have — including their liberty and their lives.

The President has been charged both with following a "no win" policy in Vietnam and of waging a dirty, unjust war. On the other side, the prime minister has been accused of "hypocritical cant" in asking for sanctions against Rhodesia on moral principles while making sure they will be of no practical effect by excluding South Africa.

The President has replied by questioning the patriotism of some of his critics; the prime minister has called his opponents appeasers of an illegal and tyrannical regime.

It is about here, however, that the parallel breaks down. America has received no material and precious little moral support in Vietnam from Britain, but Britain is counting on the United States to back it in Africa. Britain continues to trade with Red China, but we have agreed to observe the sanctions against Rhodesia.

Americans do not shrink from the consequences that might follow from opposing militant communism in Vietnam, or anywhere else, but many are wondering if we are not getting involved in something we would not care to see through to a finish in Africa.

Both President and prime minister seem to do well to reflect on Hamlet's complaint: "The tie is out of joint: O cursed, despite, That ever I was born to set it right!"

Don't Believe It!

(Industrial News Review)

In an age of management specialists, advanced degrees and decision by computer, it is always gratifying to be reminded that a man can still start at the bottom of the ladder and work his way to the top. A top official of one of the largest domestic petroleum firms, American Oil Co., who started out pumping gas in a service station, gave some advice to a high school graduating class not long ago: "The crowd will tell you that the safest thing to do is conform, blend yourself into the background. Don't believe it. The rewards go to the imaginative—the creative, the original, the people willing to take the big dare of life. It's enough, the crowd will say, to keep your nose clean because everything's run by formula or by machine calculation today. Don't believe it. You count as an individual, as a unique person, and even in a corporation as big as the one for which I work, you'll be judged as an individual."

An optometrist showed us figures that revealed there are more than 10 million contact lens wearers in the U.S. and he says that number will double within the next few years. He says the reasons vary from cosmetic to medical and emotional reasons men and women wear them to make themselves look younger. He told of an 8-year old boy who had a complete change of personality after discarding his glasses and being fitted for the plastic buttons. The other kids didn't call him "four-eyes" anymore. His oldest patient, he said, is a 90-year old gent who wanted to show people he could "get along without glasses." He says the new contact lenses come with bifocal and are weighted so they will always cover the eye-ball correctly. And the better ones have been ground to eliminate the effects of ultraviolet and infrared rays which cause vision disturbances. However he cautions no one should be fitted for contacts without a prescription from an ophthalmologist.

Today's smile: A young housewife was telling her husband about the man on the fruit counter at the supermarket, and said: "He tried to sell me some alligator-pears, but I told him we didn't even have a goldfish."

Never knew 'til now that "the oldest living thing" in the world is a box huckleberry plant in Pennsylvania. Authorities estimate that it's 13,000 years old. They say the second oldest living thing is a bristlecone pine tree in the White Mountains of California, estimated to be about 4600 years old. Would be interesting to know how they could prove their beliefs.

Thoughts while shaving: You are never too old to do the things you want to do. At least if you follow the example of a 70-year old grandmother who recently signed up for a two-year hitch in the Peace Corps. She's a nurse and asked to be assigned to India. She plans to sign on for another two years when she returns to this country. Hunting and fishing are the two sports that mean the most to the nation's economy, according to a survey by the federal Bureau of Fish and Wildlife. The study revealed some 33 million persons over 12 years of age, and of both sexes, spent $4 billion last year pursuing their favorite outdoor hobby. If you sometime gripe about the mail being too slow this may be one of the reasons. The Denver, Colo., post office was recently hit with 200,000 pieces of mail containing a sample of toothpaste. At the same time they were required to deliver another 200,000 samples of a new mouthwash. The next book or recollections of the John F. The Caspar (Wyoming) STAR TRIBUNE reported in a story about the new library at the local college: "Boob capacity will be increased to 50,000 volumes." It doesn't matter. The Boobs won't read them anyhow.

Evaluation Executive Committee Named by President on Power Struggle in Red China

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is setting up a special National Security Council committee to "review" all intelligence relating to Red China.

The turbulent and seemingly chaotic situation there is now deemed by the President and his top advisers the most crucially important foreign problem facing them. Therefore, to assist them in reaching potentially fateful decisions, the President has established the special National Security Council committee as President Kennedy did during the Cuban crisis.

Designated the "Executive Committee" (Ex-Com), it consists of four members headed by Secretary Rusk.

The others are Defense Secretary McNamara, Central Intelligence Director Richard Helms and Dr. Walt Rostow, special White House assistant on foreign affairs. Rusk and McNamara served on the Kennedy "Ex-Com".

Immediately following establishment of the special "China panel," the President gave it a series of urgent assignments, as follows:

—What faction or factions control China's nuclear arsenal; are any of the atomic weapons or devices in the hands of elements opposing the Mao Tse-tung clique?

—What is the extent of actual fighting between rival factions, and do conditions for extensive civil war really prevail?

—What impact, if any, would large-scale strife between the rival factions have on the Vietnam conflict?

—What are the likely Russian attitude and policy toward China in the event of large-scale civil war?

MORE INTELLIGENCE NEEDED — In setting up the special National Security Council committee, President Johnson also directed increased flights by high-flying reconnaissance planes and satellites over Red China.

Particular emphasis is to be placed by these intelligence-gathering flights on changes in the disposition of Chinese army units, particularly those in southern China, on the borders with Russia and opposite the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa. Information on these matters is to be reported to him immediately.

Still being discussed is whether attempts should be made by low-flying U.S. planes to photograph reported civil strife in various large Chinese cities, or in the vicinity of the atomic plants and suspected nuclear storage areas.

his was proposed by CIA Director Helm because of the lack of "hard information" and "eye-witness reports" of alleged fighting in cities such as Nanking and Canton.

Good Hygienic Habits Help Promote Health

Q — I am in the health and life insurance business. From my observations (without any statistical proof) I have formed the impression that small children have more lung diseases if they are reared in a home where the parents smoke a great deal. Would breathing this contaminated air damage their lungs? Also I find that claims are more frequent in families where the houses are not kept clean and food is allowed to remain on the table rather than placed in the refrigerator after a meal. I find, too, that fewer colds occur in homes where dishwashers are used. What do you think?

A — Since it takes several years of deep inhalation of tobacco smoke to produce lung cancer, emphysema and other lung diseases, I don't believe that the amount of contamination of the air in a house occupied by heavy smokers would damage a child's lungs. Children brought up in such an environment do, however, start to smoke at an earlier age and are more likely to become heavy smokers than children brought up by parents who do not smoke.

Cleanliness and good hygienic habits do help to promote health, and failure to refrigerate leftovers promptly after a meal may lead to various types of bacterial food poisoning.

Any method of washing dishes thoroughly in hot, soapy water will serve hygienic needs. Getting dried food particles out of the spaces between the tines of a fork, the junction of the blade and handle of a knife, the corners of rectangular pans and the raised design on the china-ware, is more important than the method used. In families that don't use a mechanical dishwasher, an increase in the number of colds (if this can be shown to exist) would depend on a complex of many factors.

Q — What was in the powdered milk that was taken off the market recently?

A — It was contaminated with Salmonella organisms. This is the group that causes typhoid, paratyphoid and some outbreaks of food poisoning.

Q — Is there any disease that can be caught by eating raw eggs or eggs that are only partially cooked?

A — Aside from an allergy to eggs in any form, food poisoning due to contamination with Salmonella may result from eating eggs that have been cracked in handling. Thoroughly cooked (hard-boiled) eggs would be safe.

Spanish authorities have told U.S. embassy officials in Madrid that Khider's assassin and several of his accomplices are still in Spain, including one reported hiding in the Algerian embassy.

Another member of the Algerian National Liberation Front, who has been conferring with U.S. intelligence authorities, is said to be earmarked for the same fate meted out to Khider.

According to informed sources Khider, who had his own underground in Algeria, furnished U.S. agents full details on the proposed location of the Soviet missile bases and scheduled dates when these weapons were to be installed. Presumably this is to be done in June and July.

Two weeks before the February visit to Algeria of Communist party boss Brezhnev was announced, Khider notified U.S. officials of this plan. His last warning, delivered the day before he was slain, was that Algeria's President Houari Boumediene was firmly in the Soviet camp and had agreed to make his country a Russian missile base.

U.S. Must Bolster Japan, Make Clear Its Role in Asia

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
TOKYO (NEA) — Action must be taken now to prevent serious trouble in 1970 over renewal of the U.S.-Japan security treaty which guarantees Japan's defense and provides the United States with key Far East bases. Without this treaty, which gives Japan a nuclear umbrella, Tokyo could swing sharply neutralist or go into nuclear warhead production itself. Neither prospect is inviting. The probusiness, pro-American governments that have been in power since the end of World War II have grown steadily weaker. The party in power is split with dissensions and rivalries, torn by the corruption of officeholders and weakened by the growth of a small, vociferous, highly nationalistic Buddhist party, ultra-right-wing at home and isolationist abroad. The downfall of the Liberal party, weak as it is, would bring chaos. The left-wing opposition is even weaker in leadership and just as susceptible to corruption. It is opposed to U. S. policy in Asia. Communist and ultra-left-wing teachers have heavily infiltrated Japan's high schools. They turn out increasing numbers of Red students. College and university freshman classes are heavy with these brainwashed youth. These young men are the backbone of many of the Communist-led antigovernment and anti-U. S. demonstrations. This situation provides a happy hunting ground for the Communist dream of an anticomunistic united front in which the Reds would play a prominent role. Severe economic problems further complicate the picture. The strength of the Liberal Democrat party is in the countryside, but Japanese are moving into the cities in increasing numbers. The cost of living has shot up in Japan. The government partly subsidizes food to hold prices down and to protect the farmer — the Liberal Democrat party's chief source of support. Despite the subsidies, prices continue to rise. Higher subsidies would upset the budget. But city people know it costs twice as much to produce rice in Japan's small plots as on large mechanized U. S. farms. They clamor for greater imports of cheap U. S. rice. But an influx of this low-cost food would ruin Japan's farmers. The administration hopes to solve these problems with two mammoth drives: —An aid program to encourage building new homes throughout Japan. —A superhighway program that would cover Japan with a net of trunk roads. The houses and highways would encourage the building of factories through rural Japan, thus slow the flight to the cities and provide small farmers with part-time factory work to supplement their incomes and make possible lower rice prices. These rural factories, it's hoped, would encourage more Japanese to shift from full-time farming into industry, yet stay in the country. Many would then sell their farms and make possible the creation of larger, mechanized farms with lower costs—producing cheaper rice. These long-range programs aren't enough. The Liberal Democrat party will have to take strong, firm steps to clean up the corruption within its ranks. It will have to retire a good chunk of its tired leadership and draw in young, vigorous men with imagination and honesty. The government will have to get management of schools back into the hands of the school principals and university presidents and out of the domination of politically oriented teacher associations. The United States must act now to give the average Japanese citizen a firmer understanding of our role and purposes in Asia. It must give the Japanese government technical aid in making internal improvements.

PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY IN FREEDOM

In their unceasing efforts to change the course of history socialists insist theirs is the way of progress and their opponent are "reactionaries."

But this country's progress under the personal enterprise system from 1776 into the present century shatters such ridiculous illusion. Our progress has been the result of freedom and the unfettered personal enterprise which freedom made possible. With only 6 per cent of the world's population and 7 per cent of the land area, the U.S. produces almost half of the world's good things. Our productive capacity is the envy of the collectivist world. Socialists are against freedom, the profit motive and the personal enterprise system. They are dedicated to the destruction of all that made our progress possible. It is inconceivable that the advance of Socialism could be regarded as progress by anyone not himself a socialist. Socialism is the greatest reactionary movement in the history of the world. By using unlimited government force it reduces every human being to the lowest common denominator. Socialism has been the common source and conveyor of the two greatest evils in government, fascism and communism. Commenting on Russia's communism, Churchill said, "There is not a single social or economic principle or concept in the philosophy... which has not been realized, carried into action, and enshrined in immutable laws a million years ago by the white ant."

Under socialism the only way to acquire wealth is control enough government forces to loot the earnings of others. Under such a system men eventually stop earning more than they need to keep themselves barely alive. When there is nothing left to loot, socialism collapses, and so does the nation or civilization harboring it.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Every schoolboy knows that wherever possible a war should be fought on the soil of the enemy, and never at home. Nevertheless, for five long years we have continued to bomb and strafe our friends in South Vietnam, while allowing the homeland of the enemy sanctuary. Now we are doing some bombing, but Prime Minister Ky of South Vietnam is entirely right when he says that the war cannot be won from the air, and that only the invasion of North Vietnam can bring it to an end. Ho Chi Minh is quite safe in spite of destruction from the air as long as his territory is not invaded by hostile forces. The way to bring him to the conference table is to invade his territory and to start the process of unifying the whole of Vietnam.

It is quite probable that the North Vietnamese would hail the South Vietnamese for ending the communist regime and be happy to have their country united once more. Without the occupation of territory this cannot be accomplished. Ho Chi Minh can continue to resist while building up his air defenses and the war still go on indefinitely until his territory is taken away from him. This is the way to win the war. It will be said that such action will bring war with China. Personally, I do not believe it. If the U.S.A. served warning that intervention from China would bring certain and swift retribution from our bombers, China would surely not risk her budding nuclear installations by inviting destruction from the air.

Wars are either won or lost. We never should have become involved in Vietnam, since there are millions of free Asians willing to do the fighting, but we are past that point and we must either go on to victory or lose the war. Our present policy of destroying the homeland of our friends while we fight on their soil, as distinguished from a policy of prosecuting the war on the soil of the enemy, will lead eventually to defeat.

The Moral Equivalent of Power

By DR. JOHN A. HOWARD

President of Rockford College

Some 25 years ago a man died and bequeathed a small fortune to be spent in helping the people of other nations to understand the American way of life.

After many months of seeking advice from experts and weighing carefully one project after another, the executors concluded that the more elaborate or grandiose the plan, the less likely it was to fulfil the purpose.

The film followed a paper boy on his early morning route, and a milkman on his, as they left their deliveries on front porches and at apartment doors.

Such scenes scarcely seem destined to make the blood boil with undying enthusiasm for the American way of life, but there are some messages here which you and I cannot read.

This attitude on their part is an unconvincing, woefully short-sighted, far aggressive, highly aggressive and easily on itself.

Not too long ago the student-power-seekers began preparing for their next beachhead. A group of students from many of the most noted campuses in the country issued a proclamation declaring that academic administrators should confine their activities to house-keeping and security measures.

Today many of us might see these films as the creation of a naive Pollyanna, or at least as the presentation of a distortedly favorable and falsely healthy American community.

However the qualities of American life which they neglected are, it seems, waning. And it is to this point that I wish to speak today.

Nevertheless the qualities of American life which they neglected are, it seems, waning. And it is to this point that I wish to speak today.

In recent months we have seen upon plasmascreens running roughshod over the opposition, smug little power with apologetic indifference to the consensus for the general public, or even for the voters of their own membership.

Perhaps you saw the article in Look Magazine reporting an interview with Lillian Smith the author of Strange Fruit, who was one of the best-known leaders of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

As in the case of any body that starts down the path of power tactics, the civil rights leaders have had to run faster and faster to keep ahead of their traps, gathering more devastating arms and making more sweeping demands to satisfy the power appetite they have generated.

The national discipline of force is the main technique for change in our society.

Let us remember that in the history of man, the usual condition of his life has been one of oppression. Tyranny has reigned over most peoples most of the time.

Well, what is the message for us in all this at the outset of a new college year? There are, I think, several messages.

The degree to which the press for power leads to corruption of word and deed is dramatically illustrated in the Berkeley uprising, and has been incisively analyzed by Ayn Rand in an essay entitled "The Cashing In."

To facilitate the acceptance of force, the Berkeley rebels attempted to establish a special distinction between force and violence.

Violating rights is merely "force" and is a legitimate, powerful method of dealing with opponents.

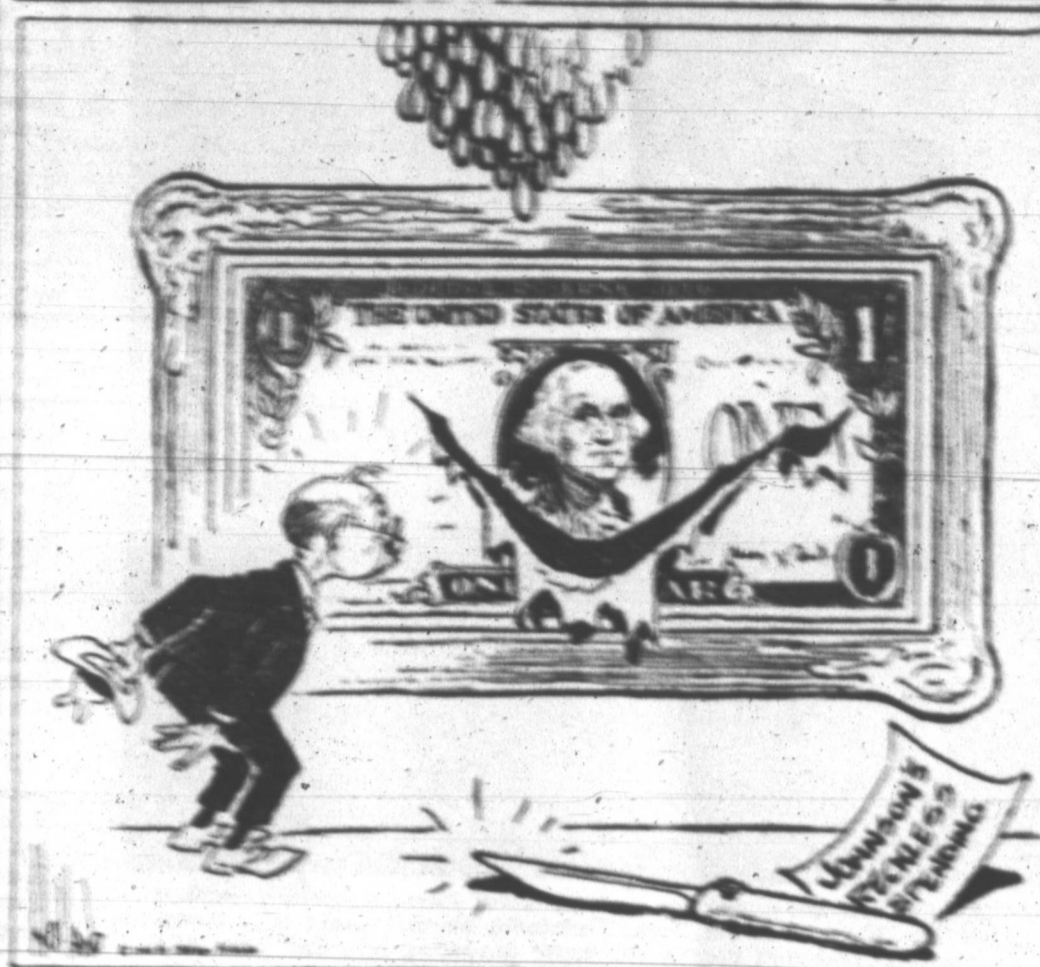

Consider the implications of that distinction as a rule of social conduct. If you drive home one evening, find a stranger occupying your house and throw him out, he has merely committed a peaceful act of "force."

What can be done about a tendency of society to rely on force to accomplish its ends? There has long sought a moral equivalent of war.

There is still much of the trusting, the helpful, the friendly, and the unpretentious in the American people, but it is being uprooted by the riots and the power-seekers and the promoters of the mischief-makers who feed an unending, and by the system they create.

Fertilizer Use Increases Need For Soil Tests

Expanded use of fertilizer in the Panhandle has increased the importance of using professional soil testing as a guide to profitable fertilization, according to an Extension Service soil chemist serving the area.

The recently published Panhandle Economic Program (P.E.P.) report shows fertilizer use multiplied more than three times from 1959 to 1965, says Jim Valentine, who operates the Extension Service soil testing lab at Lubbock.

Panhandle farmers used about 75,000 tons of fertilizer in 1959 compared with more than 225,000 tons in 1965, according to the P.E.P. report.

Valentine says all of the fertilizer probably contributed to increased yields, but in many cases a soil test would have indicated that a different rate and analysis of fertilizer would have produced a more profitable yield.

To get an accurate fertilizer recommendation for a field, the Extension Soil Chemist says a farmer must do two things. First, he says the sample should be taken from 10 to 15 representative locations in a field.

Second, an information form should be carefully completed so the recommendation can be based on crop history, available irrigation water, past fertilization and yield goals.

Valentine said soil test information forms and instructions are available through the county agent's office.

Four-pasture rotation deferred grazing systems are gaining in popularity in Texas. One Hemphill county rancher set up this system in 1964. In 1966 by actual weights on scales at the ranch the calves from the rotation deferred land had gained 2.15 pounds per day as compared to 1.75 pounds per day on the continuous graze land. The stocking rate was heavier on the rotation country than the continuous grazed land.

Irrigation is another way to increase pounds of beef produced per acre. It takes from 850 to 400 pounds of water to produce a pound of blue grama grass. It takes from 800 to 1000 pounds of water to produce a pound of shinnery oak, and 1700 to 1900 pounds of water to produce a pound of mesquite brush. We can see from the above that it is much more profitable to grow grass than brush.

Texas Crop-Growing Areas Need Much Soil Moisture

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—The snows will help, but most Texas crop-growing areas need much more moisture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

The service's weekly outlook of Texas agriculture said temperatures were below normal for the past week and there is growing concern about the shortness of soil moisture.

Snows in southern, southwestern and far western areas are a temporary help, but widespread moisture is needed for cool-season plants on ranges and pastures and for small grains. Also, stock water supplies in many areas are getting short, the service said.

Little Green Grazing
From the 12 agricultural district agents, reports are that livestock men are having to feed increasingly to keep up the condition of their herds, because of the loss of moisture. Dry grass is available in most areas, but supplemental feeding is necessary. Little green grazing is available anywhere in Texas.

Rains improved the soil moisture situation in East and Northeast Texas and in some coastal counties, but small grain "is having a rough time," the service report said. Plants are dying from lack of water and there has been freeze damage some places.

Irrigated wheat in the Panhandle was giving only fair grazing and livestock are being moved from most dryland fields. Stock water supplies are low in many places, the service said.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that Texas crops are declining steadily due to the lack of baly needed moisture.

December rainfall fell below normal in all areas of Texas, with only the Lower Rio Grande Valley reaching as much as 60 per cent cumulative rainfall for October, November and December. The Valley total was primarily due to heavy October rains.

Dryland wheat received little beneficial moisture during the month and wheat pasture continued to decline. Only about 45 per cent of Texas Panhandle wheat obtained sufficient growth to be grazed by mid-December compared with 80 per cent last year.

The cotton harvest was completed by Dec. 31, comparing with 92 per cent completion at the same time in 1965 and the sorghum and peanut harvests were completed during the month.

Equipment Aids In Growth of Cotton

DALLAS (UPI)—Cotton is sensitive to the same "precision and accuracy" that vegetable crops get and respond to it, Lambert H. Wilkes, an associate professor at Texas A&M University told cotton men Friday.

Wilkes spoke before some 1,200 cotton industry men attending a Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference. The conference ended Friday.

"One of the greatest potentials of towering production cost lies in the effectiveness of the use of mechanical equipment," Wilkes said.

He said this necessitates accuracy and precision. There must be precision in constructing seedbeds to provide a foundation from which to operate, Wilkes said.

Cotton Cost Could Be Cut 10 Cents

DALLAS (UPI)—The cost of producing cotton could conceivably be cut 10 cents a pound, but a team effort is required, a speaker told the 1967 Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference today.

The conference opened today for a two-day run.

Dr. George W. Irving Jr., administrator of the Agricultural Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture spoke at the opening session.

"The lowering of cotton production costs 10 cents a pound is not a visionary, impractical goal," he said. "The cost reduction could be achieved through a program of more intensive research specifically directed toward that objective: research aimed at controlling insects diseases, and weeds; improving mechanization and methods of processing; and improving yield and fruiting."

He said it appears more frequent communication between the USDA and state experiment stations could help.

On this shaped bed, independent planters suspended from parallel linkages permit exact placement of seed in each row, he explained. This practice differs from current methods in that planters are rigid across several rows and seed placement varies from row to row.

Wilkes said this new system of planting has been tested. Cotton sprouted and came up much better than when planted conventionally and yields were 20-30 per cent greater.

Wayne Underwood, vice president of Lockett Seed Co., Vernon, said there are two ways to solve the cost-price problem.

"The price per pound of cotton can be increased by growing harvesting and ginning high quality cotton, then marketing it in uniform lots; and the cost of production can be reduced," he said.

The key to producing high quality cotton uniformly is for growers to organize around a gin, within a county or over a few counties, he said.

SLIM PICKINGS in the 1966 cotton harvest put total production at its lowest since 1946. Growers voted to continue marketing quotas for their crop, provided through the federal program that enabled them to reduce acreage sharply from totals planned in recent years. Bad weather and insects cut the yield below earlier expectations, and a sharp reduction in surplus stocks is expected.

Wheat Conditions
Several people have remarked how unusually dry it is and the sad state of condition the wheat crop is in. Frankly, I haven't seen anything unusual about it. This is just about what we have every year. There is always more danger to wheat freezing out when it is dry than when you have fair moisture. When rain falls to come in the fall after you get wheat up, it means your sub-soil moisture is retained longer. If we had received a two-inch rain in early October and had a few days warm weather, our wheat pasture would have been terrific. As far as making wheat in 1967 our chances would have been diminished.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS
Interest in the operations of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District reached a high peak during the first ten days of 1967. Landowners in Gray and Carson County did not relax until the results of the Water Conservation District Director's election was announced last Tuesday night. Rumors began circulating in late Dec. of 1966 that a major oil company representative was sponsoring a write-in for Director for the District in several of the District Director's Precincts. This brought on a flurry of activity preceding the election on Jan. 10 of this year.

In Director's Precinct No. 4, extending two miles east of Pampa and going to the Gray-Carson County line on the west, Fred Vanderburg defeated write-in candidate Fred Neslage by a vote of 272 to 90. One write-in vote was cast for B. H. Shields.

In Director's Precinct No. 3, beginning two miles west of White Deer in Carson County and extending to the Carson-Gray County line on the east, C. Russell McConnell defeated write in candidate B. H. Shields 211 to 7.

In Director's Precinct No. 2, covering the central portion of Carson County, Phil H. Hawkins was re-elected by a vote of 137 to 3.

The directors who were elected will serve a term of two years. The Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District No. 3, was voted into existence in January of 1956 under Articles 7880-1, 7880-2, 7880-3c. In recent months a number of questions have been raised by interested parties in regard to the operation of the District. For the benefit of the general public, we are listing some of the reasons and purposes for the District:

"To formulate, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations for the purpose of conserving, preserving, protecting and recharging the underground water of the underground water reservoir or subdivision thereof; To formulate, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations to prevent waste, as herein defined; To provide for the spacing of wells producing from the underground water reservoir or subdivision thereof and to regulate the production therefrom so as to minimize as far as practicable the drawdown of the water table or the reduction of the artesian pressure; provided, however, the owner of the land, his heirs, assigns and lessees, shall not be denied a permit to drill a well on his land and produce underground water therefrom subject to rules and regulations promulgated hereunder to prevent waste, as herein defined; To develop comprehensive plans for the most efficient use of the underground water of the underground water reservoir and for the control and prevention of waste of such underground water, which plans shall specify in such detail as may be practicable the acts, procedure, performance and avoidance which are or may be necessary to effect such plans, including specifications therefor; to carry out research projects, develop information and determine limitations, if any, which should be made on the withdrawal of underground water from the underground water reservoir or subdivisions thereof; to collect and preserve information regarding the use of such underground water and the practicability of recharge of the underground water subdivision thereof; to publish such plans and information, bring them to the notice and attention of the users of such underground water within the District, and to encourage their adoption and execution."

In following issues other portions of these Articles will be published.

Roll the drums, friends, toll the bells, this 16th day of January is the 47th anniversary of one of the great power grabs of all time. This was when government invaded the villages and precincts to forbid the humblest citizen to peddle, sell or to manufacture booze.

This invally led the people to demonstrate their right and ability to rise up and crush a law of the land.

The common man also was forbidden even to transport the stuff. The bigwigs who obtained a federal crackdown in this area of personal conduct did not dare forbid the common man to take a drink of hootch if he could find one. That would have provoked quicker rebellion against the prohibition experiment than the lush ty uprisings which finally did reject the idea that big brother knows best.

The 18th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution and the lynch law Congress enacted to enforce it became effective Jan. 16, 1920. The discredited 18th Amendment was rejected by repeal effective Dec. 5, 1933.

The enforcers had been pitiless, like scapling Sioux on a long ago war path. State laws of awesome consequences were enacted to supplement the federal Volstead Act. In some states a citizen could earn and get a lifetime sentence merely for transporting a pint of hootch in his automobile and getting caught at it.

The 18th Amendment was as firmly implanted in the U.S. Constitution as any other provision of that document. But some states chose to ignore it, to refuse cooperation with federal law and federal officers to enforce prohibition.

Maryland was a notable example. Another was New York. Best source of information for a visitor to Baltimore in search of a good beer was the cop on the corner. He would finger the barroom which probably was just across the street behind swinging doors and sporty with a brass rail. Maryland required the illegal bars to close only on election day.

New York City became a center of federal pressure for prohibition law enforcement because rejection of the bigots' rule there encouraged rejection elsewhere. The preachers pounded their pulpits. Anti-Saloon League boss Wayne C. Wheeler, a tough guy with political cut, kept the pressure on the Congress for more law. He sat in the distinguished visitors' gallery of House or Senate, scaring the gutless legislators into tremors of awe as he took notes of who said what and who voted how.

Prohibition had grown out of the temperance movement. Temperance means restraint. Applied to an individual temperance means to restrain one's self. Wheeler and his fellow Anti-Saloon Leaguers, the only deacons of prohibition and public morals and their pals never heard of the world. Hard nosed, vengeful characters, all Nice Nellies coined the word scoff-law to ridicule fellow citizens who did, indeed, scoff at, scorn and despise prohibition. The intemperance of the bigots, plus the crime engendered by prohibition's hoodlum run runners undermined this so-called noble experiment for a noble purpose.

"Law of the land, law of the land," chanted the drys demanding support for their 18th Amendment. The law-of-the-land chant is being heard again in support of recent Supreme Court rules which, like prohibition, have cut directly across custom, habit and sometimes good precedent. The learned court has invaded some prickly thickets.

The justices gaily are off on a legislative kick in which the court seems to encroach on the constitutional prerogatives of legislators, state and national. That could lead to public rebellion, a la prohibition's repeal.

CLARIFY TERMS
WASHINGTON (UPI)—What's in a name?
Plenty, according to the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC is objecting to use of the terms, "man-made leather" or "reconstituted leather" to describe a leather-like material composed of 70 per cent leather with a vinyl backing.

The commission has advised Sellers to use the term "polyvinyl leather," or "shredded leather," together with a disclosure of the vinyl backing.

Card of Thanks

HENRY MAPLE
What would we give to see you smile
To see you talk with you
We often sit and think of you.
The things you used to say and do.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes on we miss you more and more
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your vacant place.
The blow was sudden, the stroke why you had to die,
To part with you whom we love so dear
Wonder why you had to die,
Without a chance to say goodbye.

Many a gently heartache,
Often a silent tear, but I always can find my friends to bring the memory of one we love so dear.

We wish to express our thanks to our many friends for their prayers, words of comfort and for the many, many flowers and cards that were sent during the loss of our husband, father and dear friend as well as having during a time like this. May God bless each and every one of you.

Spotlighting Servicemen

PURPLE HEART — Victor D. Symons, left, of Pampa is awarded the Purple Heart for injuries received in Vietnam.

Symons Receives Heart For Vietnam Action

CAMP ZAMA, Japan (AHTNC NC) — Army Private First Class Victor D. Symons, 20, son of Mrs. Leda M. Symons, 859 E. Fredrick, Pampa, received the Purple Heart Medal from Colonel Robert S. Lockwood, commander of the U.S. Army Hospital, at Camp Zama, Japan, Dec. 21.

Symons, now a patient at the hospital, was presented the award for wounds received while serving in Vietnam on "Operation Attleboro."

The private, a team leader in Company C, 2nd Battalion of the Infantry in Vietnam, entered on active duty in Dec. 1965 and was last stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

He attended Liberal (Kan.) High School and completed his high school education through the General Educational Development program.

Gasaway Spends Leave at Home

Machinist's Mate Fireman, Harold W. Gasaway spent Christmas in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gasaway, 1333 East Kingsmill.

He is stationed aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Oriskany which is now at San Francisco where it is undergoing major repairs necessitated by the extensive fire aboard her while on combat duty in Vietnam.

Gasaway has been in the Navy a year and has spent all his time, except during basic training, aboard the Oriskany. A 1964 graduate of Pampa High School, he has lived all of his life in Pampa.

After ship repairs are completed, the Oriskany will return to Vietnam for another tour of duty.

Hoyer Receives Army Commission

NORMAN, Okla., — James G. Hoyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hoyer of 128 N. Sumner, will be among 43 men who will receive their commissions today in the Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and Army during ceremonies at the University of Oklahoma.

Hoyer will be commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the Army.

The joint commissioning exercises for Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) cadets and midshipmen who are graduation at the end of this semester will be at 2:30 p.m. in Meacham Auditorium in the Oklahoma Memorial Union.

Guests will be welcomed by Dr. Pete Kyle McCarter, vice president of the university. Capt. Marcus L. Lowe Jr., commanding officer of the Navy ROTC unit, will preside, and the guest speaker will be Rear Adm. Pierre N. Charbonnet Jr., commandant of the Eighth Naval District which includes Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana and Arkansas. Lt. Col. Tullis J. Woodham Jr., Marine officer instructor, will administer the oath of office, and the Rev. W. W. Haines, associate Methodist Church, Norman, will deliver the invocation and benediction.

The bar-pinning ceremony, where wives, sweethearts and mothers will pin gold bars on the new officers, will take place during the All-University and Alumni Reception at 3:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom.
