HITLER BREAKS PACT, SENDS ARMY TO RHINE

ITALY WOULD QUIT FIGHTING ON CONDITIONS

WOULD ACQUIRE ALL OF ETHIOPIA BENITO WANTS

By ANDRUE BERDING Associated Press Foreign Staff ROMA, Mar. 7. (AP)—Flanked by an imposing array of conditions, Italy's reply to the League of Nations' appeal for peace in Ethiopia was dispatched to Geneva today in a tenor bespeaking Premier Mussolini's determination to get what he started after.

Second, Italy does not intend to let her African armies stagnate. If Ethiopia wants peace, it must seek it with an eye on the Italian mailed fist.

Pope Funeral To Be Held Today in Baptist Church

Funeral services for Dave Pope, 68, longtime resident of the Panhandle, will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church with the Rev. L. Burney Shell and the Rev. C. E. Lanester in charge. Burial will follow in Fairview under direction of G. C. Malone funeral home.

I Heard . . .

Frank Gillham, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Gillham, repeat names of all the books of both the old and new Testaments and the 23rd Psalm without prompting. His sister Marian Sue, repeated more than half of the books in the New Testament. Mr. Gillham is bookkeeper at the First National bank.

Striking Back

THE STRIKEBREAKERS OF THE FLYNN AGENCY STRIKE AGAINST A $9 WAGE FOR FAIR CONDITIONS LOCAL NO. 1

WAVE OF HI-JACKING, BURGLARIES, THEFTS SWEEPS SECTION

AUTOS STOLEN AT CANADIAN LATER FOUND

CENTENNIAL FETE HELD AT CLARENDON IN WEEK

Highwaymen of this section are having a gala day of late it would appear, several hi-jackings having taken place within the past week.

Three automobiles, belonging to citizens of Roberts and Hemphill counties, were stolen some time between 12 o'clock midnight Tuesday and 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to a report made to Sheriff Walter Jones of Canadian.

Robbery at Panhandle Robbers broke into the Farmers Supply company at Panhandle Wednesday night, making away with three new tires, one new battery and the radio which was used by the owner.

A long bar of steel, sharpened and curved at both ends, was found by officers who investigated the robbery Thursday morning.

Forcing their way through the front door, supposedly with the steel bar, the robbers apparently took only those things which they needed, several tires and other items of value being left in plain sight.

Romance of Texas history had a fuller, more colorful significance to 2,000 Donley county boys and girls after they had spent their Independence Day vacation from schools in an all-day celebration devoted to study of the Lone Star State of early days and its remarkable 100 years of progress since the small band of dauntless men declared the area that was then a Mexico province a free nation.

In two observance programs, held at the same time in the two largest meeting places of the city, the college auditorium and the Methodist church, the school children heard interesting historical addresses and joined in singing patriotic and historical Texas songs.

There were 20 county rural schools represented. Pupils from each of the schools were accompanied here by large groups of parents as well as their teachers. Streets were crowded throughout the day with the greatest number to gather here in many months.

Senator Clint O. Small, of Amarillo, has been secured to make the graduation address of the 1935-36 class, Miami high school seniors.

To Enter Stock Show Fourteen Wheeler county 4-H club boys will enter their baby beef calves in the Amarillo Fat Stock show, which will begin Thursday, March 9, and continue through the following Thursday.

Victor Bouldin, president of the Texas Junior chamber of commerce was honor guest at a luncheon given in Borger by directors of the Borger Jaycees organization as hosts.

Two government trappers are now employed in Collingsworth county, and their catch for the month of February was reported at 32 wolves and two bobcats.

Paul Bowers, student of Tech, Lubbock, spent the week-end with home folk.

Husely Gets License Mr. and Mrs. Mark Husely were Miami visitors Monday from their ranch near Mobeetie.

Parker D. Hanna, district farm agent for the Panhandle, represented Texas and the Panhandle at the meeting of the Southwest Regional Wind Erosion committee held Tuesday, March 3, at Dodge City, Kansas.

Wool Market BOSTON, March 7 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin said yesterday: "A very dull market is reported generally through the wool trade week."

Prices keep generally firm but the trade is inclined to look for some recession on domestic wools which are rather above foreign parity, on account of scarcity.

Mohair is firm on the basis of 55 cents for adult and 65 cents for kid in Texas, although this market is hardly up to replacement basis.

CUSHING BEATS EL PASO 33-29 TO WIN STATE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

CAREY DEATEN BY JEFF DAVIS AND TITLISTS

HOUSTON SCHOOL WINS CONSOLATION TILT AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—Cushing high school tonight won the basketball championship on the University of Texas Interscholastic league by defeating El Paso high school in a tense, thrilling game, 33 to 29.

The game was stubbornly contested all the way and the teams were virtually tied at the end of the first period and the score was 22 to 21 at the half. At the end of the third quarter Cushing had a four-point advantage at any time and at most stages the score was tied. Cushing led 3 to 7 at the end of the first period and the score was tied at 11 at the half. It was knotted again at 25 at the three-quarter mark.

Jeff Davis of Houston placed third in the tournament with an easy 41 to 21 victory over Carey Childress county in a consolation game preceding the title contest.

Jeff Davis high of Houston breezed to a 41 to 21 victory over Carey of Childress county in the consolation game.

The win gave the bayou boys third place in the race for state title.

Jeff Davis, led by Carswell, Croucher and Gomez, took an early lead that was never threatened. Jeff Davis led 22 to 10 at the half.

Score was high sooner with 12 points on five goals and three tosses. Carswell placed second with five field goals and one free toss. Must led for Carey in the scoring with three field goals and three free tosses.

East met West tonight for the state schoolboy basketball championship.

Cushing, representing a 75-student school in Nacogdoches county and playing for the first time in a state tournament, matched goals with El Paso's rugged and fighting quintet. Cushing went in to the finals with an easy 35 to 21 victory over Carey from the Panhandle Plains while El Paso, playing in its ninth tournament, bested Jeff Davis of Houston in a thrilling contest, 28 to 24.

Jeff Davis and Carey were paired in a consolation game preliminary to the championship contest for third place.

"The El Paso-Jeff Davis game easily was the most vicious fought of the tournament. The Jeff Davis team is one of the smallest ever.

Page Masters and Hill. The Harvesters basketball team might have gone to the semi-finals or further in the state basketball tournament at Austin if the officials at the Canyon region tournament had not been so hard on the whole. Poles were the nemesis of the Pampans, in the tournament, and in the final game three Harvesters regulars fouled out in the third quarter, Carey beat the Harvesters by making 13 free shots which came as the result of fouls.

Analysis of the Austin tournament reveals that the officiating at Canyon was too close. The state tournament officials, Sears Boggers, Curtis and Brett, called 36 fouls in the last two games, 18 in each game. In the opening game between Carey and Dallas Tech, 11 fouls were called. In the second, 16 were called. In the final regional game at Canyon, Masters and Hill called 33 fouls, 22 of which were on the Harvesters. Junior Strickland alone made 15 fouls in four games. Carey was assessed more fouls in the final game at Canyon than any team in Austin. There were more fouls called on the Harvesters at Canyon than were called on any three teams in the Austin tournament.

To enter a state tournament but their fast, slicker opponents proved before succumbing in the final minutes of play. Jeff Davis was heavily outweighed and spotted El Paso several inches per man in height but remained a contender until the closing seconds mainly through a clever and polished offensive.

Score Tied in 4th. In Carswell and Croucher, forwards, Jeff Davis offered two candidates for All-State honors. Both appeared ludicrous in comparison to El Paso's bulky guards but they gave a neat exhibition of ball passing and handling. Carswell was slightly off form, however, on long shots. With the score tied at 25 all with only three minutes to play, he tried several shots that rimmed the basket, two of his efforts looped in but bounded back out.

In contrast to the smooth-working Jeff Davis quintet, El Paso presented a team that displayed plenty of sheer power, especially in the punches. El Paso's starting lineup played through the entire game. Castillo, center, was a tower of strength, both offensively and defensively. He was the game's high scorer with six field goals and time after time pulled El Paso out of hot water by excellent defensive work under the basket.

Gomez, Houston guard, proved effective in covering Mike, Laney El Paso one-handed sharpshooter, holding him to two charity losses.

Cushing went into high gear immediately against Carey, scoring 12 points in the first period while

'Daffy' Weakens In Salary Fight, But Not So Higgins

STAR HURLER FOR WHITE SOX 25 YEARS AGO 'KEEPS SCHOOL'

HARTFORD, Conn., March 7. (AP)—Government-subsidized baseball school for Connecticut youngsters are giving 'Big Ed' Walsh his biggest thrill since the early part of the century when he was pitching the Chicago White Sox to pennants and world series triumphs.

The school, supported by funds of the Works Progress administration, opened recently in this state capital city. Despite severe snow storms and other handicaps, approximately 3,000 boys of grammar and high school age attended 10 afternoon and evening classes here.

Capacity gatherings, hoping to get pointers from one of the greatest of the big-time pitchers, have assembled wherever Walsh set up his props.

A Touring Schoolmaster. Big Ed's routine calls for a visit to every large city and virtually every town in Connecticut. He teaches afternoons and evenings between three and five days each week, depending upon the size of the community.

Except for silver streaks through his hair and the accumulation of weight, Walsh appears little older than the husky, muscular fellow who blinded the opposition in the American league more than a quarter of a century ago.

Walsh is serious about his new work and its responsibilities, and his enthusiasm for the game is quickly caught by his pupils.

Big Ed explains it this way: "I love the work. It's my life. I always found baseball very interesting and I love kids. In a way, I'm realizing something I had set my heart on for a long time—a baseball school where I could pass on my experience to the younger generation."

Walsh has definite ideas about his position. He points out: "Protection of a boy is the least that can be done for him. This applies especially to athletics, and to baseball in particular. The most important thing a boy interested in baseball needs is capable instruction. Under the present system this is rare. There are too many Latin teachers trying to teach boys how to play baseball."

"The results are tragic. A boy is 'burned out' by the time he reaches his prime. He is allowed to over-exert himself. I've seen too many cases of boys who couldn't burn a candle out. They hadn't been told that every ball they throw was one they wouldn't be able to throw some day."

Advocates Specializing. "A boy is a boy, athletically speaking, until he is 22 years old. Treat him accordingly."

"In my class, I tell the boy to listen to reason. I suggest he forget about being an all-around baseball player, and place with him his concentration on the position he likes to play best."

"The teacher must be a leader. He must show the boy the meaning of loyalty and good fellowship."

Walsh suggests that pressure be brought to reduce the distances between mound and plate and that the bases be shortened for boys. He also advocated that the rest of the nation follow Connecticut's example in establishment of baseball schools, suggesting that state boards of education take over the task with WPA aid to the championship. "Personally," he says, "I'm as happy today as I was at the height of my career."

Gregory Mangin 'Takes a Walk'

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Title Holder Gregory Mangin 'took a walk' into the final of the United States amateur tennis championship today, while Leonard Hartman, whose previous athletic fame has been won in basketball rather than tennis, had to grind down Frank Browne to gain the other berth.

Mangin is three times champion and in the final for the fifth successive year, advanced through the default of Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., who reported a sore throat and a high fever. Mangin and Hartman will decide the 1936 title Tuesday night, when the first combined men's and women's championships will be brought to a close.

holding the West Texans to a single free throw.

Matteson, Cushing crisp shot specialist, virtually clinched a place on the all-state team with a dazzling exhibition. In addition to looping in five goals and a free throw he played a strong floor game.

Faust Stopped. So effective was Cushing's team work that Carey had possession of the ball only at infrequent intervals. Cushing showed exceptional ability in breaking through and generating Carey's passing attack.

Lucas, Cushing guard, stopped Faust. Carey's main scoring threat with one field goal and one free throw. Faust, regarded by observers as one of the most finished players in a state tournament in years, was held to a single charity toss until the last period.

Strawick, forward, Clayton, center, and Lucas each scored three field goals for Cushing. Middiston, Carey guard, tallied nine points on four field goals and one free throw.

Cushing went into high gear immediately against Carey, scoring 12 points in the first period while

TULSA OILERS WILL PRESENT A NEW OUTFIT

VETERAN WILL BE AT EVERY POSITION ON TEAM

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh of a series on Texas league prospects.)

BY B. A. BRIDGEWATER Sports Editor, The Tulsa World.

TULSA, Okla., March 7. (AP)—President Art Griggs is never hesitant about rebuilding his Tulsa baseball club during the winter months, but he has gone in for replacements in a more wholesale manner this time than ever before.

The Oilers will be almost a spanking new outfit when the Texas league season opens.

The president, who managed the team himself in previous campaigns, has signed Marty McManus, veteran third baseman, as manager and plans to do considerable scouting for material this summer.

McManus is an old Tulsa favorite, having starred here before he broke into the American league with the St. Louis Browns. He also has had extensive experience as manager, having piloted the Boston Red Sox and St. Paul of the American association. He plans to play regularly at third base.

Barring mishaps, Tulsa figures to have one of the finest defensive lineups in the circuit—with a veteran at every post. Lee Stebbins, obtained from Knoxville of the Southern association, will play first base. He is no stranger in the league. Stebbins batted over 300 last season.

Jim Levey, one of the greatest shortstops in Tulsa history, will return after a long absence. He played with Wichita Falls of the St. Louis Browns and Hollywood of the Pacific coast. He's still far from being an old man and showed plenty of speed this winter while playing professional football at Pittsburgh.

Bob Allaire, bought from Toledo, is slated for second base duty but will have to beat out Ivan Crawford, hustling youngster who held the job last year. He will be retained for utility duty if he can't beat out Allaire.

Bill Jackson, clotting young catcher obtained from Minneapolis, looks like the No. 1 receiver. He batted .309 for Chattanooga last year. Johnny Berger, a holdover, or Clarence Straub, rookie optioned here by Pittsburgh, will be Jackson's regular man.

Murray (Babe) Howell, giant outfielder who hit like a major league after coming here from Fort Worth in mid-season last year, is the only sure shot in the fly shagging department. Stan Schipko, bought from Syracuse, is virtually certain to stick. He played well with Dallas during the first half of the 1934 season, but failed miserably with the Steers last year.

"Liz" Funk, regular center fielder last year, Hal Patchett, who was sent to St. Joseph of the Western league on option and Irving Plummer, bought from Albany of the International league, are other possibilities.

The big four of the pitching staff last year—Art Jones, Harry Maduzak, Al Shealy and Art McDougal—have all gone in trades or by recall. The ancient Dick Whitworth is the only holdover on the roster. Floyd Newkirk, recently bought, is expected to be the ace of the staff and Syracuse is expected to turn in a fairish amount of victories. Ed Brydner, of Seattle, and Bill Hughes, outfielder from Birmingham, and several young unknowns, will be on hand.

Training starts Monday at Seguin with the full squad due to report by March 16.

RETAINS TITLE ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 7. (AP)—Mrs. Maureen Orcutt, Crews of Miami today claimed the title that has been pursuing defending champions this winter by crushing her old foe, Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, four and three, to retain her Florida east coast golf championship.

WIN CAGE TITLE SAN ANTONIO, March 7. (AP)—Jacksonville won the state junior college basketball championship here tonight, defeating Victoria University 40 to 21 in the final game of the round robin series. Westmoorland of San Antonio was second. The Jaguars made a clean sweep, defeating Westmoorland and Wayland of Plainview in previous games. Westmoorland tonight defeated Wayland 40 to 47 in the other game in five minutes of overtime, to win the hectic second place battle.

WIN CAGE CROWN BROWNWOOD, March 7. (AP)—Howard Payne won the Texas conference basketball championship tonight by defeating Trinity University, 39 to 28, in the final game of the conference season. Howard Payne, winning its first conference basketball title, captured nine out of ten games played.

Mrs. C. C. Brown of LeFors was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

10,000 SHEEP NECESSARY TO KEEP G. MANGIN IN RAQUETS

NEW YORK, Mar. 7. (AP)—It takes 10,000 sheep a year to keep Gregory Mangin in tennis raquets. As a matter of simple mathematics that means about 10,000 sheep for one player.

Delving further into statistical matters, Mangin's raquets, frame and strings, cost him $11.50 each. That amounts to $552 a year. With each restringing at 6.50, the work of fixing up those 48 raquets costs $624 more for a grand total of $1,176.

"There's a reason for it," explained Stephen J. Feron, Jr., who has the task of keeping Mangin supplied. "Greg requires that the gut be strung tighter than any other player because he says he needs a hard surface to bring off volleys at the net."

Dr. Eugene McCauliff of Chicago can explain the effect of the tight stringing, plus Mangin's ability to swing one of his numerous raquets with deadly effect. McCauliff met the sheep raiser's friend yesterday when Mangin was at the very peak of his game and lost 6-2, 6-2.

Today's championship program was given over to men's and women's doubles. Singles quarter finals in both divisions will be played tomorrow.

Paul Carmichael returned Friday from a business trip to Monahans which he reports is 'on the boom.'

ARKANSAS AND TEXAS WILL PLAY IN OPENER

HOUSTON, March 7. (AP)—The University of Arkansas' rangy basketball team starts its bid for Olympic games recognition against the potent University of Texas five here Tuesday night in the opener of the southwest division tournament.

Rice that state racked by a measles epidemic drew the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks of Nacogdoches, co-champions of the Lone Star conference, as its first round foe.

The Razorbacks clinched Southwest conference honors just a week ago by trimming Texas in two games at Fayetteville—one by single point. The Pikers will be intact for the game while Texas still is without its eagle-eyed forward, Jack Taylor, out with a game leg.

However, Jack Collins, the conference's leading scorer with 117 points, will be ready at the pivot post for Texas.

The Rice Owls, who finished in a tie for second place with Texas in the final conference standing, and who were the only ones to turn back Arkansas during the conference schedule, have four regulars and a substitute on the sick list.

Suffering from measles are Floyd Kelley, lanky center; Harry Witt and Wills Ott, dazzling forwards; "Spot" Owen, guard; and "Scrub" Waller, reserve center.

Coach Jimmie Kitts was unable to say how many would be ready by Tuesday night.

The winners of the Tuesday night games will play Wednesday night for the Southwest title, the winner in the final game to meet the champions of the southern division.

Hank Greenberg Is New Holdout

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—For the first time since Ty Cobb's day, the Detroit Tigers had a full-fledged hold-out on their hands today.

Big Hank Greenberg, clotting first baseman of the world champions, had no intention of going to the Tigers' training base at Lakeland Fla., until he has ironed out his contract difficulties.

He read in the papers that Mickey Cochrane says he won't permit any players to work out until they have signed contracts, Hank said, "so I'm going to stay here for a while."

Hank revealed he had not heard from club officials for two weeks and had received no answer to his letter asking for better terms than the champions had offered.

The big slugger declined to say just what salary he was seeking or how much the club had offered.

Brevity Takes Florida Derby

MIAMI, Fla., March 7. (AP)—A great three-year-old, briefly, wearing the red and white colors of the Joseph E. Widener, coasted easily to victory in world's record time in the ninth running of the $20,000 mile and one furlong Florida derby today.

His time for the distance, 1:48 1-5, equaled the world record Discovery set at Aqueduct in 1935 and clipped one-fifth second off the Haleah Park track record, posted by the four-year-old Blessed Event in 1934.

It was not Brevity's winning so confidently that expected his leg of backers only $250 for $2 mutual win tickets—but the manner of his winning that struck many into supporters of other Kentucky derby candidates.

Away at the ragged start, in fourth place, the son of Chance Shot or Sickle out of Ormanda blazed into the lead at the first turn and steadily opened daylight behind him.

Jockey Wayne D. Wright, who piloted Top Row to victory in the recent $100,000 Santa Anita handicapped had him five lengths to the good at the half way post, eased him up thereafter, but nonetheless had him going away at the finish. Not once did Wright swing his bat.

SIMMONS SAYS HE'LL PROVE HE WAS BARGAIN AT $75,000

LAKELAND, Fla., March 7. (AP)—AT Simmons is serving notice that the American league is going to concede, before the 1936 campaign is very old, that he is well worth the $75,000 in cash which transferred him from the Chicago White Sox to the world champion Detroit Tigers.

"The flashy-fielding outer sardner was the first Bengal to report for spring training here. He sealed more than 200 points, and immediately began a campaign to get down to 100 by opening day."

"I look for a great season," he said. "For years I've used the heaviest bat in baseball, one 42 inches long and weighing 38 ounces. At Manager Cochrane's suggestion I'm trying out a shorter bat weighing about 33 ounces and I think it will improve my hitting."

Simmons is all enthusiasm. The construction of a new grandstand at Navly Field, Detroit, has shortened the right field distance, and Al White, regular centerfielder last year, and Hubert Bates and Chester Morgan, both rookies.

Don Boss, Gilbert English, Dixie Howell and Chet Laubs are likely recruit infielders and Owen, at third, will have to improve his hitting if he is to keep a full-time hold on his job.

LUBBOCK COACHING SCHOOL TO BE DISCONTINUED FOR A TIME

LUBBOCK, March 7. (AP)—Temporary discontinuance of the internationally famous Texas Tech coaching school was announced today by the school authorities.

In a letter prepared for publication and to be mailed to more than 1,500 athletic mentors who have attended the five previous sessions designed by President Bradford Knapp, athletic council chairman W. A. Jackson, and head coach Pete Cawthon, it was explained that:

"At the present time it appears that many if not all of the leading (coaching school) instructors will be absent from the United States during the summer of 1936 in attendance at the Olympic games in Germany. Furthermore, during the summer of 1936, plans are under way for alteration and reconstruction of the athletic plant of Texas Technological college."

For these reasons, local authorities consider it "unwise to attempt to uphold the standards of previous schools," and have elected to discontinue the summer classes until 1937. It is planned to "come back" next year with a more impressive lineup of instructors than ever.

Lou Little head coach at Columbia university, has been signed as an instructor for the 1936 school, but the contract probably will be renewed for 1937.

FAMED ROOKIE DI MAGGIO IS GIVEN 'ALL RIGHT' BY MATES

ASSOCIATED PRESS Sports Writer ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 7. (AP)—The most talked about baseball rookie since Dizzy Dean blew in from Houston has been voted "all right" by his teammates on the New York Yankees.

Young Joe Di Maggio, the outfield sensation from the Pacific coast, hasn't had a chance yet to prove he can go on the big time but the Yankees, from Manager Joe McCarthy on down, like what they've seen of him.

He's been graded A-plus on size, speed, willingness and hustle, and that's a good start for any rookie in any man's league.

Joe's arrival in camp was almost as much of an event as the night he celebrated Jimmy Fox's walk into the Red Sox hotel at Sarasota, carrying his own grip. Some of the regulars actually went over and introduced themselves to Di Maggio.

The first question Charlie Ruffing, veteran pitcher, asked on reaching St. Pete was "Where is this Di Maggio?" Then he went over and got acquainted.

It's too early to tell much about him yet," says Manager McCarthy, "but he certainly can hit a ball a long way. We'll have to see what he can do when the pitchers begin to bear down. At that he's hitting straight balls further than some of the others."

Di Maggio who batted .399 for the San Francisco Seals last year, comes East ticketed as a sweet fielding, hard throwing outfielder who can hit any kinds of pitching.

Right now it looks like he'll have to battle it out with George Selkirk for the right field job.

Leader In Prison Break Is Puzzle

SIoux FALLS, S. D., March 7. (AP)—A question as to the identity of the ringleader of the sensational prison break yesterday which cost three lives injected a note of mystery tonight into Governor Tom Berry's investigation of the crime. Word came from Burlingame, Kas., raising some doubt whether the ranky 18 year old gunman who maneuvered the break actually was the person he said he was, Claude Carrier, a brother of one of the principals.

Burlingame police said all five brothers of Harold Carrier, who attempted liberation set off the episode which authorities termed the most serious in the state's history, were at-home and that none was named Claude.

HITLER

Act Not Militant

But, stated Hitler, the world should not consider this act militant.

"In order," he said, "to pledge the purely defensive character of these measures beyond peradventure of doubt, and in order further to give expression to its eternally constant yearning for the real pacification of Europe and states having equal rights and enjoying equal respect, the German reich government declares itself willing on the basis of the following proposals, to enter upon new arrangements for the erecting of a new system for the safeguarding of the peace of Europe."

The suggestion embraced six points:

1. Treaties among Germany, France, and Belgium creating new demilitarized zones along their frontiers;
2. A 25-year non-aggression pact among Germany, France and Belgium;
3. The inclusion of Great Britain and Italy as guarantors of this pact;
4. The inclusion of the Netherlands in this pact;
5. A general defensive aviation agreement among all Western European nations to guard against a sudden attack by anyone;
6. A non-aggression pact with Poland and other nations on Germany's eastern border.

Laura Wilson

After he had delivered his memorandum to the diplomats, Hitler went before the reichstag and talked two hours to the accompaniment of cheers from his loyal legislators.

He told them in detail what he had done. He paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson as a statesman who had envisaged a league of all nations "destined to bring people nearer each other in mutual regard and understanding."

A government announcement said the occupation of the Rhineland by the grey-green troops will be completed tomorrow.

Approximately 15,000 men will be stationed there.

Nine thousand infantrymen and 2,500 artillerymen are going into the area from the interior of Germany. The area between the black forest and the Rhine was assigned the heaviest concentrations.

Other units include air corps groups and anti-aircraft detachments.

ment in income will be distributed generally."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 7. (AP)—A prolonged farmer controversy—behind the closed doors of a committee room—over the rates of subsidy payments to be recommended for the south to the administration's soil conservation program, today held attention of delegates to the Memphis regional conference.

As the committee on payments concluded two days work to reach a unanimous agreement on subsidy recommendations, farmers awaiting the report said it may serve as a tentative guide for planning operations until the AAA issues formal regulations for 1936.

Reports from the committee room indicated considerable differences of opinion concerning rates to be recommended. But, authoritative sources said, leaders pushed for approval of a flat payment of about 75 cents an acre for farmers who maintain the normal number of acres in soil conserving crops, plus payments of about five cents a pound for tobacco and cotton lands shifted to soil conserving purposes.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, March 7. (AP)—(USDA)—Midwestern markets received around 144,000 cattle this week. The week's top, with light steers at 11.70 and heavy heifers 9.25. Bulk short fed steers and yearlings at all points turned from 8.75-9.50, bulk better grade heifers sold from 7.50-8.75. Butcher cows are selling from 5.00-6.50.

Choice light stockers at 8.50. Heavy feeders 8.25 and fancy steer calves brought 9.00.

Strictly choice fed lambs in Chicago sold up to 10.15. Best yearlings made 9.95; feeding and shearing lambs cleared from 8.50-9.50.

St. Louis secured 10.60 for a load of 288 lb. averages for the closing top on hogs.

RAIN AT COLEMAN

COLEMAN, March 7. (AP)—Coleman county farms were drenched by the first good rain of the year today. Grain fields and ranges, long dry, were benefited. The moisture will enable farmers to plant grain and prepare the soil for row crops. Matador reported 25 of an inch rain this afternoon and prospects of more tonight.

Mrs. J. C. Lampkin of LeFors was taken to her home yesterday from Pampa-Jarratt hospital.

Movie Stars See Exposition Music

John Boles and Gladys Swarthout, motion picture and radio stars, visited the Texas Centennial Exposition grounds today when they were in Dallas recently. They are shown inspecting a rare, 12th century sacred anthem, part of the historical exhibit planned by the Exposition, first Southwest World's Fair, which opens in Dallas June 6. Boles is a native Texan, born in Greenville, near Dallas.

MONTIETH GIVES REASONS WHY VETS SHOULD JOIN THE LEGION

Reasons why all ex-service men should join the American Legion were set forth today by A. D. Montieth, commander of Kerley-Crossman post here.

"Your interest in the relief of your disabled comrades can be expressed effectively through the Legion," he said. "The Legion is seeing that the disabled world war veterans get justice. It caused the organization of the United States veterans bureau, and has helped to secure thousands of adjustments of disability claims."

"Every piece of legislation beneficial to ex-service men has found the Legion behind the wheel. It has helped to secure modification of unjust sentences imposed on soldiers and sailors during the war. It has fought pressure that resulted in better immigration laws."

"The American Legion is fostering and promoting patriotism. It encourages respect to the flag, observance of patriotic holidays, classes in citizenship, naturalization ceremonies for the foreign born and other activities to encourage the love of our country."

"In its program for advancement of education, the American Legion has conducted American Education week, observed in every community."

"The American Legion arouses the public to the enormous graft in war materials and in cantonment construction during the war by manufacturers and contractors. Articles on 'Who Got the Money,' appearing in the American Legion Magazine, led to the prosecution of war-time grafters by the Department of Justice."

"Your American Legion membership entitles you to a free subscription to The American Legion Monthly, which keeps you in touch with what the service men are thinking. It is among the largest of the magazines of its kind in the United States."

"You will be a member of the strongest organization of World War veterans in the United States. The Legion has many times more members than any other group of veterans."

"The American Legion's highest purpose is to insure that the ideals and traditions for which we fought may be preserved in our country now and for all time to come."

"You wish to help end war. Nobody's opinion against war is more heartfelt or carries greater weight than that of the man who has been through the bloodiest and most horrible struggle of all time. The Legionnaires are daily giving their time, money and labor to constructive work for the benefit of the public."

"The American Legion has raised an endowment fund which assures the perpetual decoration of the graves of our comrades in foreign soil. It has created an endowment fund of $5,000,000 which will be used in the furtherance of rehabilitation and child welfare work."

"The Legion button which you will wear will identify you as having rendered honorable service to your country in time of war and as a member of an organization which is continuing that service in time of peace."

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Clark on Trip

C. A. Clark, executive of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council, left yesterday by car to attend a national executives' conference in French Lick, Ind., and was accompanied by executives from Amarillo and Lubbock. He will be gone about a week.

Congestion Is Near

About 6,000 persons had received driver's licenses in Gray county yesterday. Only 550 others had obtained automobile licenses. About 13,000 driver's licenses and 7,000 vehicle licenses must be issued by April 1 if Gray county residents are to avoid risking penalties. Extra deputies have been assembled by F. E. Leach, county tax assessor-collector, to expedite issuance of the licenses, but the time is growing so short that congestion at the windows is certain.

Minstrel Is Begun

Thirty Lions and 17 local girls met Friday evening in the first rehearsal for the club's 1936 musical show. The cast will be substantially increased. Producer John Sturgeon distributed much of the music and made assignments of many parts. He announced that this year's show would eliminate the usual intermission and have a single curtain fall. This will shorten the performance somewhat and materially add to the effectiveness. Solos, quartet numbers, and selections by a double male quartet will be featured this year. Date of the event will be announced soon. Proceeds of the show will be used, entirely, in the club's work with crippled and underprivileged children.

New Stop-Signs

"Through" highways are being lined with new stop-signs and danger points are being similarly equipped in the city. The new signs have advertisements and are of no cost to the municipality. They will be re-finished each 60 days.

Son to Mullen's

A son, Charles Robert Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. "Bob" Mullen Friday afternoon in Pampa-Jarratt hospital. He weighed 9 pounds 3 ounces, and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Mullen and the great-grandson of Mrs. C. L. Mullen.

Daughter to Hollingshead's

Mr. and Mrs. Payne "Eddie" Hollingshead are the parents of a daughter, 7 pounds 2 ounces, born yesterday morning at Worley hospital. She has been named Sandra. Mr. Hollingshead is a clerk at the postoffice.

Flying Tackle Stops Bandit

DALLAS, March 7. (AP)—The Mirror theater in downtown Dallas was robbed of $500 about 8 p. m. tonight by an unarmed man who was captured when he was felled by a flying tackle before he had fled 100 yards.

The daring bandit shoved a note under the window to Mrs. Margaret Ezell, 32, theater cashier, at the same time taking possession of a pistol in a coat pocket.

"Give me all your paper money and say nothing," the note read. Mrs. Ezell handed over the cash box and the man streaked up the crowded street. J. B. Kline, 23, former high school sprint star, took up the chase and brought the man to earth with a tackle.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—Some weeks ago State Treasurer Charley Lockhart heard a movie company in Hollywood planned to make a picture to be entitled "Hell in Texas."

In reply to his publicly-voiced objection that Texans would not appreciate such a name, an official of the company explained it was the title of an original story which would be changed before the picture was released.

"Rest assured we would never make a picture that would be derogatory to your state," the official wrote, "because in the first place one could never find anything derogative about Texas even if one wished and, in the second place, we in Hollywood are just as tired of seeing just cowboys on the screen, too."

Acquaintances of both men are surprised at the similarity in appearance of U. S. Senator Bob LaFollette of Wisconsin and First Attorney General Elbert Hooper of Austin.

They part their hair similarly, wear the same type of spectacles, are approximately the same height and weight and use gestures in speaking very much alike.

"You would think they were brothers," said Governor Allred, after meeting Senator LaFollette.

Gov. Allred recently received his first request to act as a matrimonial matchmaker. The request came from California.

A former soldier said he believed girls and women from Texas and the south were more nearly what he sought than those from other sections and he wanted the governor's help in finding a wife.

Governor Allred received a double surprise in connection with the proposition. In the same mail was a letter from a woman in Oklahoma who said she had heard of the Californian's quest and believed an Oklahoman would meet his requirements as well as a Texan.

The governor surmised that the Californian man gave a newspaper interview about the time he wrote his letter and the woman read it.

Reps. William A. Schofner of Temple and J. Manley Head of Granbury are having a nip and tuck campaign to win the place of Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, who is running for the governorship.

Both are among the younger members of the house and their platforms, policies and records are much turned yesterday from Coltry, Okla., near Enid, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Carl Talley, wife of the sheriff's brother. Mrs. Talley died Thursday.

Production Man Here

B. H. Hellen Jr., representative of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., of Fostoria, Ohio, was in Pampa yesterday discussing celebration plans with Junior chamber of commerce officials.

College President Here

President D. M. Wiggins of the University School of Mines at El Paso will be a visitor in Pampa today. He will speak this morning to Everyman's Bible class, which meets in the city hall auditorium, on the subject, "The Religion of a Helping Hand." All men are invited to hear him.

Firemen Make Run

The fire department answered a call to the Texas Relief commission warehouse on East Tyng street yesterday afternoon. They found a pile of rags on fire. The blaze had spread to a rafter but water from the booster tank on the large truck was used and no damage resulted.

I HEARD

A very thrifty housewife says: "A new outside band certainly improves the look of a hat."

We've just received a fresh supply of bands direct from the factory.

HARTFORD, Conn.—The tombstone over his father's grave served today as birth certificate to assure an applicant of obtaining an old age pension. Edward H. ## CLUB INTEREST TURNS TO CONVENTIONS -- ONE TO BE HERE

PUPILS BEAUTIFY CITY WITH TREES

Garden Club Gives Annual Quota to First Graders

Seeding trees are being given to first grade children in Pampa schools this month by the Garden Club, continuing a custom whose aim is to provide every pupil with a tree to care for. Two years ago all pupils in the ward schools were given trees, and first graders will receive theirs each spring.

Instructions for setting and caring for the young trees are given by club members. While new trees are being planted this year, those already growing are ready for pruning. For the benefit of students who wish to prune their trees, and for other Pampanas with trees and shrubs to prune, the Garden club offers the following suggestions:

Flowering shrubs, shade and fruit trees are best pruned before growth begins, while leaves are not out and it is easy to see where pruning is needed. Pruning at this time stimulates new growth, and the wounds heal more quickly.

For Dancing

When the music goes 'round and around you want to come out in a new evening dress, and this one of silk taffeta has white music notes printed on black. For the quite young woman, it has a high front-line, with a Peter Pan collar in white pique. It is cut to the waist in back. Revers, roses and skirt flanges are lined with white pique.

CLUB ACTIVITY QUICKENS WITH SPRING SEASON

Girl Scouts to Sponsor Recital in LeFors School

A fine arts recital in LeFors school auditorium tomorrow evening at 7:30 will be sponsored by the Girl Scouts of LeFors. The program will be used for Scout uniforms. Costumes and special lighting will enhance the 42 program numbers.

PANHANDLE, March 7.—Presidents of all federated women's clubs met recently and planned beautification of the county for Centennial year. The zinnia was adopted as the county flower. Homes are to be improved, public grounds beautified, and city entrances marked in the program for the year.

BORGER, March 7.—Mrs. E. R. Nunally was elected president of West Ward Parent-Teacher association for next year, succeeding Mrs. J. E. Briggs. Delegates were named to the annual district convention to be held in Pampa April 22-24.

CANADIAN, March 7.—Mrs. F. D. Teas was elected president of the P. E. O. Sisterhood Monday, and Mrs. Dan Witt vice-president. The election was at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Oscar Studer. Mrs. Teas and Mrs. E. J. Cussen were named delegates to the state meeting in Fort Worth next month.

SHAMROCK, March 7.—Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Groves were honored with a surprise party at their home Tuesday evening, celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary.

CLARENDON, March 7.—Miss Martha Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thomas, and Fred Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reid, were married last Sunday morning. Miss Jessie Blackwell, daughter of Mrs. W. N. Blackwell and S. C. Stencil of Amarillo married Sunday afternoon.

LEFORS, March 7.—Texas day programs were presented last week by the Fine Arts club with Miss Ariel Williams as hostess and by the Junior Art and Civic club at the home of Mrs. J. P. Johnson with Mrs. A. L. Flynn as leader.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Spring will bring midday's wardrobe tailored lace and linen, soft clouds of chiffon, pleated tulle and flowered chintz. That is the promise contained in the fashion preview of smart dinner frocks and glamorous evening gowns being worn at peak-of-the-season festivities at this winter resort.

MRS. BYRD IS COMPLIMENTED WITH A DINNER

BRIDE OF SUNDAY IS HONORED AS TRIO ENTERTAIN

Complimenting Mrs. Charles H. Byrd, who before her marriage last Sunday was Miss Alta Lagow, a trio of friends entertained with a dinner-bridge Friday evening. Mrs. Harry New, Mrs. Willard Johns, and Miss Lillian Leathers were hostesses.

Pink and white appointments in a bridal motif were used for the dinner and the following bridge games.

Guests were Meses. Byrd, Earle Scheig, Glen Hartman, Lydie Over, Haskell Maguire, Skeet Roberts; Misses Ola Nellis, Lucille Saunders, and Ruth Britten.

Accessories for Home Studied in Kingsmill Club

Kingsmill Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. W. J. Bird Tuesday afternoon for a short program of entertainment, business session when reports were heard, and a demonstration on comfortable, attractive and durable cushions for the home.

One of the most interesting cushions was a small wedge shaped one to be used on straight chairs of the type found in many kitchens. It was made with a strap to be hung over the back of the chair.

Soft feathers or kapok were suggested as the best fillers for comfortable cushions. Miss Adams also demonstrated the making of slip covers, and suggested that firm material, preferably pre-shrunk and of fast color, be used for both covers and cushions.

Mrs. W. A. Spoonemore and Mrs. Leo Payne were welcomed as new members. Others present were Meses. Anna Brooks, George L. Roberts, C. T. Nicholson, Chris Baer, Chester Nicholson, O. C. Smith, C. M. Blymiller, Earl Casey, B. T. Bunch, Roy Kretzmeier, E. A. Twentier, E. R. Sunkel, S. W. Kretzmeier, Lewis Brinkman, C. F. Bastion, Otis Davis, Misses Helen Baird and Clara Pearl Gatlin, and several children.

WILKS CHAPMAN IS Tech Honor Pupil

LUBBOCK, March 7.—Wilks Chapman, son of Mrs. Ellen Chapman of Pampa, made the fall semester honor roll at Texas Technological college with an average grade of B.

With A. E. Cloyd, another Tech student, as his guest, Wilks is spending this week-end at Pampa.

USING AN OLD BEDSPREAD as the material for a new bedspread which is wearing out, use it to cover the springs under the mattress. This will save the mattress from being damaged by the springs and will keep out dirt.

AID TO LUNCH-BOX FOUND IN NEW SANDWICH RECIPES

Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women (CIA)

DENTON, March 7.—New suggestions for any meal are welcomed, but perhaps most important are those for the lunches carried to school by the children.

A cold lunch of sandwiches, cookies, and perhaps some fruit may become very monotonous and lacking in proper nourishment unless carefully considered.

SPRING BRIDGE PARTIES GIVEN ON WEEK-END

MRS. BOOTH INCLUDES GUEST GROUPS AT HER HOME

Mrs. O. H. Booth arranged a pretty spring setting in her home Thursday, when Queen of Clubs and a table of other guests played bridge there for an hour. Corsages of spring flowers, plate favors when refreshments were served, repeated the party theme.

Mmes. C. T. Hunkapillar, C. H. Schulkey, and Nita Hargress were tea guests. Special guests playing were Meses. J. M. Lybrand, Siler Faulkner, J. H. Kelley, and Miss Fern Hughes.

Mmes. Present were Meses. A. B. Goldston, C. S. Boston, L. N. McCullough, Max Mahaffey, Carl M. Smith, W. V. Jarratt, R. S. Lawrence, H. C. Wilson, H. D. Keys, Charles C. Cook, Crawford Atkinson, Raymond Harrah.

Mrs. Boston made high score. Mrs. Goldston second high. Mrs. Lawrence low, and Mrs. Lybrand received the cut award.

MRS. A. HOLLAND IS MAYFAIR HOSTESS

Another springtime party of the past week was that given by Mrs. Arthur Holland at her home Thursday for Mayfair bridge club. Appointments for the games were in pastel shades.

Three tables of players enjoyed the games, and prizes went to Mrs. John Sturgeon, Mrs. M. C. Overton, and Mrs. Russell G. Allen.

Mrs. Strickland Has Club Party

White and green, club colors, decorated for the Magnolia bridge club's party at the home of Mrs. Floyd Strickland Thursday afternoon. Prize packages wrapped in white and tied with green repeated colors of the tallies, score pads, and nut cups.

Mrs. N. O. Corman made high score for club members; Mrs. Owen Winton received the traveling package, and Mrs. M. V. Ward the guest award.

RAINBOW PARTY

A leap year party will be given for girls of the Order of Rainbow Friday evening, with the advisory board as hosts. Every girl in the order is invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Seydler for this entertainment.

SERVICE CANCELED

There will be no vesper service at the First Presbyterian church at the funeral of C. Pope at 3 o'clock. The Junior Christian Endeavor will hold their meeting at 5 p. m. and the junior choir will meet at 5:50 p. m. as usual.

Exposition's 'Bluebonnet Girl'

Irene Caldwell, 22, will be official hostess of the Texas Centennial Exposition when the Southwest's big World Fair opens in Dallas June 6. She won the right in a contest entered by more than 600

Dallas girls. Above she shows the bluebonnet dress for formal exposition affairs. The dress, delicately traced with the state flower, was designed by Howard Shoup of Dallas.

The Social CALENDAR

CARNIVAL TO BE ON FRIDAY, 13

Annual School Event Planned by P-TA And Faculty

Friday the Thirteenth was chosen as the date of Sam Houston school's third annual carnival. Its sponsors, Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association members, plan to make it a lucky night for the organization and all who visit the event.

Mrs. Sherman White, finance chairman, is in charge of arrangements being made by her committee and teachers in the school. The carnival is expected to be the most elaborate in the yearly series.

Hundreds of visitors have attended the school's carnivals in the past, and preparations are under way for a record crowd, according to Principal A. L. Patrick.

Community Work Of Auxiliary Is Present Project

"Let's do something for the old home town," is the slogan of the American Legion Auxiliary's 8,700 units in their March activities, according to Mrs. Al Lawson, chairman of the Kerley-Crossman unit's community service committee. Planning and launching community betterment projects will receive nationwide emphasis this month, with the program centering around American Legion birthday parties on March 17 at which funds will be raised for community work.

Community service always has been one of the American Legion Auxiliary's major activities," said Mrs. Lawson. "Every year each unit is expected to carry out at least one project for the betterment of its community. We have selected March as the month for planning and starting these projects in order that they may be completed during the spring and summer months."

"Scores of different kinds of projects are carried out by Auxiliary units to improve conditions in their communities. They give leadership and cooperation in all forms of civic enterprises. Their work ranges from sponsoring clinics to improve health conditions to beautification projects to give the people of the communities more inspiring surroundings. They do an important work in the educational and cultural field. This year aid to public libraries, extending library services to localities now without free access to books, support of better motion pictures for children, and conservation work as projects being carried out nationally.

The Auxiliary hopes that this community service program will be given great impetus by the emphasis we are placing upon it this month, and that it will result in some successful project in every community, improving conditions generally throughout America."

CENTENNIAL IS STUDIED; CLUB PARTY PLANNED IN SKELLYTOWN

will be Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. L. R. Jones.

A spring theme was carried out in decorations at Mrs. Price's home. A real treat of home-made candy was served during the games. Mrs. Dickey made high score and led the floating prize, and Mrs. L. R. Johnson received consolation.

Refreshments were served to Meses. L. R. Serber, S. C. Dickey, W. A. Ward, L. R. Jones, W. B. Campbell, Bill Lott, Jack Probst, Joe Miller, Wesley Black, J. C. Jarvis, Ike Hughes, Gene Dixon.

LADIES AID MEETS
Members of the Ladies Aid gathered at the Community church building on Thursday of last week for a meeting in charge of Mrs. Lee. Mrs. Clegg presented the devotional after a song.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jarvis and Miss Goldie Jacobs spent last week-end at Wheeler.

ALL WILL HELP TO ENTERTAIN DISTRICT P-TA

SPRING BUSINESS IS FACING WOMEN'S GROUPS

Spring may be a frivolous season for some, but not for club women, who are facing some of the year's most important business in conventions and elections. Pampa women at present are interested in the annual conference of the eighth district Parent-Teacher associations here April 22, 23, and 24.

Before that date, however, federated clubs of the Northwest Texas district will have convened in Lubbock, and among the delegates will be representatives of Pampa's federated groups. Election of delegates is important in club business sessions of this month, so that representation will be assured by Mar. 30, when the three-day meeting starts.

Plans Under Way
Not only the Parent-Teacher council, but other organizations look forward with interest to the district conference which will come here. Clubs of the Women's Council will be hostesses at a tea for the hundreds of visitors expected; home demonstration clubs will serve one of the convention luncheon homes of many Pampanas will open to delegates.

Advance plans are well in hand, indicating a successful meeting. Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, district president, told the convention chairman when she met with them here Thursday. Mrs. J. M. Turner is general chairman of arrangements and Mrs. N. F. Maddux vice-chairman.

While they are busy with convention plans, Parent-Teacher associations also must hold elections this month for officers to serve during 1935-37.

Texas Day Honored
Elections are over for the federated clubs. Most of them are devoting programs this month to Texas subjects, with the Centennial a favored theme. Juniors and Century club will present Texas Day programs Tuesday, and Civic League club will continue its year's course on Texas.

El Progresso club will postpone its scheduled guest day next week, but will have a short business session at city club room. It has also studied a series of Texas subjects.

Council to Elect
Officers for next term will be elected when the County Council of Parent-Teacher associations meets at a Web school, Saturday. A board meeting at 11:30 will be followed by lunch and the afternoon business session.

Because much important business faces the council, the program will be very short, consisting of numbers by pupils of Webb school, it is announced by L. McColm, program chairman.

Miss Elizabeth Kennedy of McLean, council president, will be in charge of the business. Yearly reports will be heard, and further plans will be made for the district Parent-Teacher convention here next month.

Teachers' Teams Defeat Parents In Benefit Play

Several hundred persons attended the "fun night" program at the school gymnasium Thursday evening, and more than $55 was added to the band uniform fund of junior high school.

Junior High Parent-Teacher association and Band Mothers club sponsored the program, which featured parent-faculty basketball games. Both teams of teachers won. The sponsoring organizations yesterday expressed thanks to those who assisted, especially those who took part in the games.

Men To Be Given Mystery Supper

A mystery supper will be served to men of McCullough-Harral Methodist churches at their monthly fellowship meeting Monday at 7:30. Women of the Missionary Society will serve the meal.

The program will have a mystery angle also. A short play will be presented by the women, and the Rev. J. E. Kirby of Wheeler will be the speaker. His subject is The Measure of Manliness. All members and friends of the church are invited.

BENEFIT SUPPER PLANNED
Tickets will be on sale next week for a waffle supper to be sponsored by the Altar Society of Holy Souls church next Sunday evening at the parish house, corner of West and Browning streets. Mrs. Howard Myers is in charge of tickets, assisted by Mrs. Emmet Dwyer. Reservations may be made with either.

SELF-DECEPTION: If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. — 1 John 1:8.

This Phenomenon of Speed

Although humans have sought speed, and more speed, since the beginning of history, they have not failed to connect speed with danger and with "sin." Today there is a nation-wide campaign to control speed; i.e., to reduce it, or to combine it with judgment and skill.

There is a national safety campaign. In some cities, a different word is used. That word is danger. Safety connotes freedom from concern. But concern is attended by alertness, a major factor in preventing accidents. The word danger indicates alarm. The new approach is to make folks "danger-conscious."

Highway speed limits are ordinarily 45 miles an hour. Automobiles, even the lightest of them, are constructed to travel approximately twice that fast. Almost no attempt is made to control speed on the highways.

Relaxation and speed are contradictory in theory but it is a fact that many persons cannot relax until they are "speeding." Speeding and relaxation result in many accidents. On the highways, speed is increasingly dulling to the senses in the meaning that what at first seems fast soon seems normal. Then, to slow down in cities seems annoyingly delaying.

This condition of driving is apparent in driving about towns. Those who habitually drive to and from work become acutely annoyed when the traffic slows them below their habitual speed. Some drivers are intensely lazy, finding it irksome to be compelled to stop at stop-signs or to slow down at school zones. We moderns are vexed by such trifles. By way of contrast, remember that Old Dobbin had one top speed, one middle speed, and one slow speed, and he did not vary much in his gait unless frightened.

Often the excuse is heard that "nervous tension" causes speeding, and that such speeding is not deliberate but involuntary. The theory is right but the condition indicates a victory of matter over mind—a dangerous condition. Modern cars have such weight and speed that they cannot be stopped in time to avoid disaster.

It is a fact that speed is a mental and physical stimulant, however—a form of pleasurable intoxication which calls for gradual stepping up in order to obtain its exhilaration. Those who excuse themselves by citing that they "get nervous" when driving only 20 miles an hour should remember that mental discipline alone can stop accidents, and that deliberate adjustment to a speed limit is the national goal.

We are not arguing that 20 miles an hour is an ideal speed limit. In wide, almost deserted streets, it is possible to go faster in perfect safety. In other streets, and in other conditions, even 10 miles an hour may be too fast. We need to be "danger-conscious" and to reduce momentum to a snail's pace, if necessary, to keep these modern cars under control.

Automobiles are rather typical of our civilization. There are many machines and powers which must be similarly controlled. The secret of safety, happiness, and success is harmony in all of its many meanings. Uncontrolled power creates discords and discords include the screams of the injured and the moans of the broken-hearted.

Not speed alone, but speed in the wrong place is what makes life hazardous.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Buzzard Roost is an unusual name for a power project and even more extraordinary are a couple of other side phases to the recent circuit court of appeals decision in the Buzzard Roost case, which held that power plant financing by PWA loan grants was perfectly constitutional.

One refers first to one's surprise at finding New Deal lawyers wishing that Circuit Judge John J. Parker had been confirmed to the supreme court when Hoover nominated him, instead of being booted down the capitol steps by a Senate which considered him altogether too "reactionary."

For this very same Judge Parker has just written a sweeping liberal decision upholding the New Deal in one of its most important victories to date. Senators once attacked him for the reason, along with others, that he had been counsel for the Duke Power Company, which brought the suit to keep PWA and Greenwood county S. C., from building the Buzzard Roost power plant.

This case and the TVA decision furthermore, are privately cited by lawyers in their spare moments as continuing evidence that a surprising but unbroken thread of "Socialism" runs through the decisions of highest federal courts in such cases.

When a municipality or county wants to build a power plant and the existing private company protests, these courts invariably rule in favor of the competition.

Every attempt to bar such competition by cities has been defeated by the Supreme Court, it is said. On the other hand, practically every case involving utility rates has ended in victory for the private companies and defeat for the public.

The natural result has been that states and municipalities often have tired of spending large sums in vain litigation for lower rates and have tended increasingly toward public ownership. Some have even claimed that the costs of construction were lower than the costs of litigation.

Judge Parker ruled that the PWA act under which loan grants were made was constitutional, that the action of Secretary Ickes in making the loan grant was a valid exercise of power, and that no legal right of the Duke company was infringed by Greenwood county's plans.

Copies of his opinion, concurred in by Judge Elliott Northcutt, have just been received in Washington and many who recalled Parker's local reputation as a "reactionary" judge are astonished by its liberal interpretations.

The opinion is considered especially remarkable in view of the fact that Parker is a former Republican national committeeman from North Carolina and Northcutt a former Republican state chairman in West Virginia.

With baseball players heading south for the training camps, hitchhikers must exercise special caution because of the possibility of being mistaken for umpires.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Two moves designed to speed convict rehabilitation in Texas have been prepared.

One is the establishment of the main penitentiary of a psychiatric unit to study convicts during the first days of incarceration and the other is a conference of voluntary county parole board members called by Governor Allred to discuss parole problems.

The psychiatric unit will be under sponsorship of the University of Texas social science research bureau. Psychiatrists will inquire into the past history of convicts to determine what effect environment and other contributing causes have had in turning them toward a life of crime.

The social life of the convict will be carefully investigated and psychological traits noted. Officials hope to make the study the basis for a permanent system of segregation of prisoners, regarded as a prime need in Texas penal institutions. The survey is expected to aid in determining the type of work individual convicts should be assigned to in order to prepare them for useful citizenship.

Prisoners entering the penitentiary will be quarantined for one month during which they will undergo a series of tests and observations. Experts then will recommend their placement to prison authorities.

The work will be supervised by Frank Loveland Jr., who established a classification system for Massachusetts prisons. He will be assisted by a staff of sociologists, psychiatrists and psychologists.

Governor Allred has invited the nation's outstanding men directing suppression of crime to address his round table discussion of parole problems. Invitations were sent to Homer S. Cummings, United States attorney general, Sanford Bates, chief of the federal prison system, and J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the department of justice.

Voluntary parole boards have been set up in 119 counties and the governor expected at least 500 of the approximately 1,000 members to attend the meeting. Governor Allred conceived the parole plan several months ago after a study of prison problems in which he said he realized the need for continuing aid to released convicts.

Under the system all prisoners are paroled to county boards to which they must report at stated intervals to give an account of their activities.

REFLECTION OF LIFE NEEDED IN GOOD FILM

MERE COLLECTION OF WORDS, "CRACKS" NOT ENOUGH

"A talking picture has to be a great deal more than just conversation," says John Stahl, director of Universal's "Magnificent Obsession," which will be seen at La Nora theater starting today.

"Every spoken line has to show what the character is thinking, what that person has done, or will do, with reference to others in the story. No matter how excellent a player's lines may be, they must be woven into the rest of the narrative. If a speech, dramatic in itself, is not knit closely to the action of the picture, it detracts from the entire presentation. The audience becomes impressed by such a talk and tries to figure how that utterance fits in with the rest of the story. While they are doing this, and finding no satisfactory answer, their attention is taken away from the subsequent happenings.

"Suppose, for illustration, I were to have a fine dramatic actor render Patrick Henry's renowned fiery address, or Lincoln's classic Gettysburg speech. The audience would be greatly stirred by that, but the performance would hurt the picture, if it did not possess a direct connection with the other scenes.

"We need strong dialogue, of course, but the dialogue must add something to the dramatic situation. Let us take an example from 'Magnificent Obsession' to show just what I mean. In one of the opening scenes, a wastrel's life is saved at the cost of a great physician's. A man seemingly worth nothing to anybody else—and little to himself—continues to live while another, whose science can save thousands, must be snuffed out even as he is striving to develop further his great gift to humanity.

"That scene must fairly throbb with action. Too much conversation would make it deadlier than a sound-proof wall. Of course, the sequence calls for dramatic lines, but they must not be overthrown, any more than the scene may be overplayed. The speeches of each character must add definitely to the situation, just as their actions contribute to the flow of the camera story. The words must be spoken in the same tempo as the pacing of the scene. Every word, every move must be done so that it will be convincingly lifelike and carry the audience smoothly into what follows.

"Imagine for a moment, a character speaking very rapidly in a dramatic sequence, while he crosses the room at a snail's pace. Why that would set the audience into gales of laughter. Or conjure up in your mind a couple dancing in a scene supposed to be deeply romantic. The man draws slowly while dancing rapidly. As the audience is concerned, so you see, it takes more than conversation to make a talking picture speak with authority."

The featured players in "Magnificent Obsession" are Irene Dunne, Robert Taylor, Charles Butterworth, Betty Furness, Ralph Morgan, Henry Armetta and Sara Haden.

LEAP YEAR PROPOSALS WIN PRAISE OF JUDGE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—If Municipal Judge Luther Z. Rosser had his way, every year would be leap year as far as marriage proposals are concerned.

"Let women propose leap year and all other years," the judge says. He thinks there would be fewer divorces.

"Women know what they want and are more inclined to try to justify their judgment by sticking to whatever bargain they make," he asserted.

Dialing-In On KPDN

By Your Radio Reporter

Resuming our comments in our last interview with Bob Mack:

Another feature which gives promise of being very interesting, is a morning program called Mr. Matter-O-Fact; where a commentator carries on a rapid fire conversation with listeners regarding all kinds of topics, whether domestic, local or national. A mail exchange is conducted for shut-ins during this period; and you are invited to send Bob the names of any shut-ins you might know of who would appreciate corresponding with other shut-ins. When you write Bob regarding these shut-ins, be sure to give him their names in full, address, and telephone number; we are not allowed to divulge his plans for shut-ins, but can assure you they incorporate pleasant surprises for them. You'll be holding some shut-in before relative a real turn, if you'll drop Bob Mack a note in care of The NEWS, but do this soon for your letter to Bob should reach him before March 15th, if you want to assure your shut-in friend's participation.

A question and answer period is to be conducted during the Matter-O-Fact program, and you are also invited to submit any questions you would want answered regarding material things, and topical discussions that might prove controversial in your group, or family, at the moment. . . . If you do not wish to have your name broadcast in connection with anything you write Bob Mack, be sure to so mark your letter in a conspicuous manner on its face.

Local and regional personalities are to be interviewed during this period, specifically regarding their hobbies. You might know of someone whom you would like to hear Bob interview. If you do, send him your suggestions, and these individuals will be interviewed over the air in the order of requests received; Bob tells us that he already has a number of requests, but needs more since he would like to make this interesting portion of the Matter-O-Fact program a daily feature, but obviously must have considerable in the way of requests in order to maintain the practice daily.

Here's a secret we just can't keep. Bob plans a Bachelor's Hour, and incidentally he happens to be a member of that unfortunates' organization himself; well anyway this Bachelor's program is designed to protect those unfortunates during this leap year. We can't divulge the nature of the program, since we are under oath to keep silent, but we urge you, if you know of any bachelors to send him their names, addresses, and telephone numbers. Believe us when we tell you he'll do the rest and to your entire satisfaction. A Kiddies Klub is to be another feature on KPDN, and we told this feature of the inducements to enterprising youngsters; if you know of any kiddies 14 years and younger, send Bob their names and addresses so that they might be enrolled in proper order. From what Bob tells us, KPDN is to be the personalized type of station, designed to serve the needs of the community in all respects, even as to individuals as you can well imagine from the description of some of the programs he touched upon. Bob wants to further expand that type of service, and extends an invitation to all organizations of clubs who desire public participation to contact him directly or by mail, so that schedules might be adjusted to their needs.

The matter of scheduling shows requires considerable time, we are told, because the station's commercial department's requirements obviously must be served first, and as we explained in our interview with Joe Bryant, that department has been plenty active and demands for time are increasing daily.

Regarding some of Bob's further program requirements, he is looking for a feminine voice or two to do two programs designed to appeal to the housewife. Perhaps some friend or relative of yours would fill these requirements; so put in a bid for them to Bob. . . . In fact feel free to write Bob regarding any radio suggestions you might have to offer, they might prove acceptable, and become the foundation of a daily feature you would like to hear. In illustration Bob mentioned a program he plans doing that originated with a listener and has become one of the featured shows on an Eastern Station. Bob plans calling it Pep Unlimited. It represents a mythical train with a comedy crew who broadcast for an hour daily. The crew and train are supported by a thirteen-piece orchestra who play popular numbers between the comedy situations. This audience participates in this fast moving show, and to every listener who sends in three jokes and his or her name and address, the station mails a life-time pass on the Pep Unlimited. This pass allows you to visit the studios at any time during the broadcast, so that you might ride the mythical train with the crew operating it.

Naturally the station is accepting jokes and applications for passes already, and early applicants will probably receive passes before broadcasting actually begins. So get yours in early if you want to ride The Unlimited on it's first run to a mythical town, a trip it will make daily. . . . Early riders will be admitted to their pass numbers, since the demand will probably exceed the space available during the first few broadcasting days.

Our inquiry regarding the kind of music this program will feature developed that this same orchestra will be used for KPDN studio orchestra is to be used during this period, which includes lovely Lois Lee, former KMOX star from St. Louis as the vocalist. Bob explained that the same orchestra will be used for the musical work for the remote broadcasts to be given twice daily from the Eagle Buffet, 11:30 a. m. and a half hour before sign-off nights. Ralph Emerson's dance music will also be heard from the Pla-Mor ball room beginning March 17, when they begin an extended engagement. The management of the Pla-Mor who are bringing this musical group from Ames, Iowa, tell us that Emerson's augmented band is fast developing into one of the country's snappiest and peppiest rhythm aggregations. Bob had lots more to say about program schedules, but we plan to give you more of the results of that interesting conversation in another issue. Our impressions were that listeners who intend to participate in the early broadcasts reviewed today and last Friday, had better write him early in order to assure their requests being filled.

Texas History Is Recalled Here in Kiwanis Program

The Kiwanis program Friday was in keeping with Texas history of 100 years ago.

The Rev. Lance Webb gave a brief discussion of events in Texas that have made history. He urged that the present generation accept the challenge to keep the history of Texas as we have found it. Miss Helen Shellebarger played "Under the Double Eagle" and "Beautiful Texas" on the accordion. Edwin Vicars, chairman of the finance committee, was in charge of the program. Emery Crockett was introduced as a new member. Visitors included Polly Parrott of Amarillo and W. J. Daugherty.

Free Communist Time on Radio Draws Protests

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—A storm of protest today enveloped the granting of free radio time to the communist party of America for a discussion of political problems.

Earl Browder, secretary of the party, as he spoke on a coast-to-coast Columbia hook-up, was picketed by 100 flag-bearing persons and snubbed by a New England network. He also had been told his speech would be cut off the air if he deviated from his prepared manuscript by so much as one word.

Browder was offered the facilities as part of the broadcasting company's program of sponsoring discussion by all recognized political parties.

Although they refused to broadcast the original speech, tonight they will transmit an address in rebuttal by Rep. Hamilton Fish (R. N. Y.).

Chapter VI

Meanwhile Jane stood before the small mirror in her stateroom, rubbing cold cream on her face. It was almost a ritual tonight. She dabbed it on with her finger-tips and rubbed it with a circular motion away from her eyes. She felt like one of the movie stars, comfortable and warm and beautiful. Tonight she was so deliciously happy!

She gathered her negligee about her—the really fine one she had picked up at a subway sale for less than a dollar—and danced to the berth. But she didn't turn out the light. She lay back, with her head against the pillows and sighed. It was a long, luxurious sigh. Here she was on a great liner steaming into the glamorous tropics!

She had been too starved to wait for dinner in the ship's dining salon, for she hadn't had any lunch at all. She had ordered the dainty little things set up to her, and it had come up on a great silver tray. She had tipped the waiter extravagantly, but she didn't care. It gave her such a sense of well-being now.

The city with its teeming millions, the bleak cold winds and slush in the streets, was far away from her now. She was all alone—and close to the sun and the moon and the stars—where nothing humdrum could happen.

Gone were her cares about tomorrow. In the morning she wouldn't wake up with that certain dread—that hobgoblin of fear which led to the elevators. She heard a door opened and shut, and then she was alone. The electric fan hummed. She slammed her door, locked it and crept quivering to bed.

Dirk and the detective sat in the great dining salon and watched the people come in for dinner. They had just finished the entree. Long Island duckling, and were prepared for the dessert and coffee to follow.

Snowshoes was on his favorite subject of conversation. "The big racket in this country right now is the numbers racket. The football pool is no small turkey" around Thanksgiving time. But they're just a chiseling game on a big scale. Now you take the jewel thieves—"You take 'em," Dirk said, smiling.

"All this talk about unsettled money conditions has made the rich people afraid of gold and securities. A lot of them are putting all their money in jewels. The underworld knows it. There are international syndicates which do nothing but steal and market precious jewels."

"Don't talk shop," Dirk begged. "You give me the creeps. Every person I see tonight, I look at and wonder if he might be a blackmailer or an international jewel thief."

"Jewel thieves belong to an exclusive racket. They wear fine clothes, have grand manners, and mingle with the very people who own the jewels."

Dirk was watching the old dowager, Madame Doremus, seat herself for dinner, close by. Her companion, the mousy little girl, was trying to quiet her, but Madame, slightly deaf, went right on talking in loud, stentorian tones which everyone in the salon could have heard. She was idly fingering a large jeweled pendant about her throat, and as her hands turned to the lights a dazzling collection of large diamonds blazed forth.

"I always come in late," she said loudly to her companion, "so as to attract no attention. It's vulgar to make an entrance."

Dirk smiled. "Now, take that nice old lady," he said, "you're not going to suspect her of anything."

"Her jewels are probably paste," Snowshoes said dourly, and Dirk laughed. "She's the real thing, and too wise to come on board a ship with her real jewels."

The dining room was crowded now, and they looked about them to see three hundred guests merged into one indistinguishable mass of fine clothes under the soft lights. There was a sound as of buzzing bees, as people talked and laid plans to satisfy their various desires. And there were perhaps three hundred human wills at that moment working at cross purposes.

"I can tell 'em," Snowshoes added. "There's a slice of rich Park Avenue, a slice of high-brow Broadway, and a slice of—"

He paused to watch two sleekly dressed individuals enter the dining room, walking stiffly past their table. "Times Square," he said, low. "That was Dutch Lenz, and bless me! your drinking pal of a few minutes ago."

"Mannie Jackson," Dirk supplied. "I'll just write that down." Snowshoes said, "for future reference. But it's probably a phoney name. They always are."

"There may be a few people like that who stand out," Dirk said, smiling. "But after all there are probably two hundred just like you and me, going on this cruise for a little vacation."

"Maybe," Snowshoes said sourly. "I wish I had picked some other place for my vacation. I'd rather be shooting ducks."

He watched the two men seat themselves at a table and glance furtively about the great room.

Down the center stairs came a handsome young man—tall and dark, his clean, smiling face crowned by well-groomed curly black hair. He was smiling for the world to see, and his well-timed entry attracted the attention of almost every person in the salon.

The waiter, who was leaning over the table, volunteered this information. "That is Tino Rossi, the Italian baritone."

Dirk watched his triumphal progress through the room, the cynosure of all feminine eyes. Tino walked toward a table where sat a boy and a girl who seemed to be engaged in themselves. They did not look up when Tino approached them.

The boy had a tanned face, and was regarding the blond girl with an intent gaze. He merely looked at her, smiling a little lazily, not taking his eyes from her when he had short puffs on his cigaret. But it was a respectful look, too. He looked at her as if he adored her.

"Now, you take that pair," Snowshoes commented expertly; "they're in love."

Dirk laughed. "I recognize the symptoms. Do you know who they are?"

"Sure. A house detective don't
