CASE DIFFERS FROM STRAWN LOBBY RULING

MESSAGE OBTAINED IN ILLEGAL MANNER, SAYS PUBLISHER

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—William Randolph Hearst filed in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia today a petition seeking to prevent the Western Union Telegraph company from delivering a copy of a telegram to the senate committee.

Chief Justice Albert J. Whitt, who yesterday enjoined the telegraph company from turning over to the committee telegrams sent and received by the Chicago law firm of Winston, Strawn, and Shaw, refused to sign an immediate restraining order on the Hearst request. He said he preferred to hear the case on its merits.

What said the Hearst case differed from the Strawn firm case in that Hearst named one specific telegram. The Strawn firm won a blanket injunction against delivering all telegrams over a period of months.

Elisha Hanson, attorney for Hearst, explained he would have Western Union file an answer in the court so that the case could be heard on its merits as soon as possible.

In the petition, Hearst alleged a copy of a telegram had been obtained illegally by the Black committee through communications commission. The telegram was said to have been sent by Hearst to an editor, instructing the latter to prepare a series of editorials for submission to Hearst for approval.

The publisher said that congress is without authority, under the constitution, to interfere with, restrain, or restrict the business of the press.

The petition also said "no agency of the government has the power to go on a fishing expedition into matters concerning the conduct of the business of the press, to obtain messages exchanged between publishers and their employees, and to turn such messages over to other agencies for whatever use such other agencies may desire to make of them."

"The committee is without legal authority to use such information, improperly and illegally obtained as it was, as the basis for a subpoena."

His petition said the Black committee served a subpoena upon T. B. Kingsbury, superintendent of the Western Union in Washington, calling for production of a number of telegrams. When Kingsbury questioned the authority of this subpoena, he said the Black committee went to the communications commission which then subpoenaed Kingsbury to produce the telegrams.

Hearst said the telegram in question was among those seized. It was sent from Chicago by Hearst to James T. Williams, a Hearst editorial writer in Washington.

EUROPE AT A GLANCE

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON — Diplomats reported Britain swinging to the French side, for some German concession in the Rhineland before undertaking negotiations for new pacts, as representatives of the Locarno powers assembled to discuss the Reich's violation of the treaty.

PARIS—The French parliament moved for final ratification of the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact, to complete a chain of military alliances placing a potential army of 40,000,000 men at France's disposal.

SENATE VOTES TO MAINTAIN RECORD ARMY

Largest Peace-Time Fund In History For War Department Is Approved.

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The senate appropriations committee voted today the largest peace-time fund in history of the war department, $300,000,000, including money to maintain the army at the full authorized strength of 165,000.

As the army bill passed the house, funds were provided to maintain an army of only 150,000 men.

The senate committee boosted the house total of $545,228,000 for both military and civilian activities of the army by adding $50,000,000 to the house $168,300,000 bill for rivers and harbors and flood control work.

COL. KNOX SEES GOP CRACKING 'SOLID SOUTH'

He's For Everything New Deal Has Pushed

DALLAS, March 12. (AP)—Col. Frank Knox told Texans today there is a very good chance for the republicans to crack the "solid south" again in the coming presidential election.

The Chicago publisher, on the last leg of a political scouting trip through the West and Southwest, said he had found every reason to believe the voters of the "solid south" are becoming more and more dissatisfied with "new deal" policies would swing to the republican candidate.

Many democrats do not regard the new deal with its excessive expenditures and strong tendency toward centralization of power in government with bureaucratic powers as a true expression of their party's principles. Col. Knox, himself a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, said.

Twinkles
Rust, we read, is again the farmer's enemy. Rust on the wheat—the farmers are not really going to rust while waiting for a new plan to materialize.

After all, about the best way to honor a mother-in-law is to treat her daughter right.

It is not his crooning, it's the songs he sings which make him popular, says Vallee. So now the song-writers are under fire.

Preparedness is necessary, but when an old-fashioned father renewed his supply of peach tree limbs, the children never regarded it as portentous of friendly relations.

Skippy, the family pup, says the depression won't be over for him until folks leave more meat on the bones they throw away.

Musing of the moment: The New York elevator operators' strike is peculiarly significant of our modern urban civilization. Every resident is dependent upon other humans. Individuality and independence have disappeared. When cooperation fails, suffering begins.

Brevitorials

THE WAVE of comment on the Supreme Court decisions is subsidizing. The Constitution had a great many more friends than many persons realized. The question will not exert the influence in the coming presidential campaign that was predicted a month or so ago. Mr. Roosevelt, who could have made the Constitution an issue, will not do so.

The most drastic thing he is likely to do is to advocate an amendment which would be strictly limited in its scope. He is not likely to do even this. It would not be smart politics to do so. And, anyway, the country expects one or two justices to die before long, giving an opportunity for appointment of liberals.

As Americans read their Constitution and ponder on the great truths and guarantees written therein, they realize that they should add to, but certainly not take from, that great instrument. The human and property rights embodied in the Constitution are among the greatest which man through self-government has achieved. In this age of blighting dictatorships, American liberties shine as beacon lights in the sea of political uncertainty.

THE AMERICAN government is founded and perpetuated by the Constitution. This Constitution says that "no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without compensation." In short, to-law the government must hear before it condemns, and even the lowliest citizen must be secure in his personal liberties and whatever worldly goods he may possess.

The Constitution was not hurriedly adopted. The date was Sept. 17, 1787, or eleven years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The Constitution did not go into effect, however, until 1790 after ratification by nine of the 13 states.

Our Constitution should be now, as near its beginning, a growing and modern instrument. Its great principles should never be abandoned. Its historical setting must be remembered to understand it. The Articles of Confederation under which the new states existed for a few years was nothing more than a league of friendship. The Constitution was accepted with reluctance by states jealous about trade, taxation, and other matters.

So strong was the feeling that some Americans favored returning to the British empire to end the confusion.

A bit of Texas flag history: The flag of France was Texas' flag from 1865 to 1890, and under some interpretations in 1923. It was the banner of Robert Cavalier Sieur de La Salle, a white square sprinkled with golden fleur-de-lys. The American Embassy at Paris wrote Dec. 16, 1895:

"M. Lambert, of Sevres, had been recommended to me by the French Army museum as an additional authority on flags. M. Lambert is a flag manufacturer on a small scale, who seemingly is in constant contact with the army museum. He admitted that M. Jean Brunon, of Marselle, was probably right in saying that La Salle's flag should have been a blank white one; he added, with some degree of conviction, that the white flag, covered with an unlimited number of golden fleurs-de-lys might well be used by you."

In 1865, La Salle, Frenchman, in an attempt to reach the mouth of

FEDERATED CLUBS WILL TAKE INVITATION TO MEETING

DELEGATES TO GO FROM ALL PAMPA CLUBS

WILL ASK DISTRICT CONVENTION HERE FOR 1937

Federated Women's clubs of Pampa will invite the seventh district convention to this city for its session next spring, when the 1936 meeting convenes in Lubbock next month.

All seven federated clubs here have voted to cooperate in extending the invitation. Plans, first made when club presidents met last week, were submitted to the clubs in recent meetings and approved by members.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah, president of the Council of Women's clubs here, has been designated to present the invitation.

Delegates from the local clubs have been elected in recent days for the convention, and large representation from Pampa is assured at Lubbock. This afternoon, club representatives are meeting at the home of Mrs. Harrah to designate the pioneer woman in this city who will be one of the honorees at the pioneer women's luncheon, planned as an outstanding social event of the Lubbock meeting.

El Progresso club elected Mrs. S. G. Surratt as its convention delegate in a short business meeting Tuesday afternoon. At that time it voted cooperation in inviting the next convention to Pampa.

Members present were Meses C. T. Hunkapillar, Carson Loftus, C. F. Buckler, J. M. McDonald, George Walstad, Charles Thut, John Andrews, W. R. Ewing, J. M. Dodson, and James Todd.

Merten Club Has A Demonstration And Plans Party

Carnival Rulers Will Be Elected At Sam Houston

"Choose cushions that are practical and comfortable," said Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, at a meeting of Merten club in the home of Mrs. C. B. Haney yesterday afternoon.

"To be practical cushions for everyday use should be made of prints, gingham, or crash, plied and quilted over a piece of outing in a good design," she continued. "To be comfortable, cushions should be filled with feathers or kapok to make them soft, and should be shaped for the curves of the body. A wedge shaped cushion is comfortable for the back of a chair."

In the business session, Meses E. M. Heard, Joe Ford, and E. M. Hope were voted to membership. All three are former members who resigned because of illness in their families.

In keeping with the St. Patrick season, an Irish luncheon of salmon salad in potato boats, Killarney fruit, rolls, and coffee was served to Meses Alva Phillips, Haney, Heard, Ford, W. A. Pickering, J. C. Browning, W. O. Bridges, M. Rake, P. A. Jewell, T. L. Sirman, H. B. Knapp, Fred C. Fischer, and Miss Adams.

New Use Is Found For Garden Product
"I have found that using rhubarb sauce instead of syrup in making gingerbread is cheaper and gives an excellent flavor," said Mrs. C. P. Couits of Hopkins Home Demonstration club in telling of a garden project.

Mrs. Couits has approximately 200 feet of rhubarb in her garden, which yields abundantly. She enjoys trying new ways of using the rhubarb in the diet of her family.

CHORAL SONGS ARE HEARD BY CLUB WOMEN

TOUR OF SCHOOLS IS MADE YESTERDAY BY PARTY

Songs that will be heard in the county Centennial songfest from children of all Gray county schools, were sung by separate school choruses yesterday afternoon for a party of club women who made a tour to hear the groups of pupils.

Arranged by Supt. B. B. Fischer, the tour included every school in the city. Each director had the choruses assembled, ready to demonstrate the choral work that is being carried on this year as part of a statewide plan.

The visitors pronounced it one of the most interesting events of the club year. Mr. Fischer introduced the women at each school, and Mrs. A. H. Doucette, chairman of the singing chorus plan in this county, spoke briefly.

"No study can give a greater cultural value than singing," she said. "It gives the student an opportunity to find a talent which may be developed by his enrichment."

The tour ended at the high school, where the costumed Girls Glee club sang.

Razorbacks Will Represent Southwest In Cage Olympics

Stephen F. Austin Is Defeated 53-24 In Finals

HOUSTON, March 12 (AP)—The University of Arkansas Razorbacks will represent the Southwest in the Olympic basketball eliminations. Shooting goals from all over the court last night, Ike Poole led the Razorbacks to an impressive 53 to 24 victory over the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks of Nacogdoches in the finals of the district tourney.

Announcement as to the Razorbacks' next opponents was not immediately made. The Lumberjacks lacked the punch that led them to a 42-48 victory over Rice the night before. They were on the little end of a 14-9 count at the intermission and didn't make a serious threat.

Poole was the star of the game. The tall center scored 24 points and controlled the ball on practically every tip-off play. His most sensational shot was a field goal from

40 BOYS REPORT FOR McLEAN SPRING FOOTBALL TRAINING

McLEAN, March 12.—Coach Bill Allen experienced the thrill of seeing 40 boys report for spring football practice this week. The Tigers will have to depend largely on reserves and new players for a team this fall, only three lettermen being available.

Eight reserve lettermen from the championship 1935 team will be back however. The Tigers will be defending district champions and every team in the district will be pointing to the games with McLean. LeFors and Wheeler appear the strongest contenders as the spring training season opens.

The three lettermen available are Roy Laswell, D. V. Nicholson and George Watson.

Reserve lettermen are Joe Billy Bogan, Junior Braxton, Albert Overton, Mike Wingo, Harry Barnes, Faris Hess, Spences Sitter and Billy Cash.

New recruits include Billy Cook, James Finley, Morris Turner, Morse Ivey, Merle Norman, Hobart Moore, Strother, Jean Rouse, Finous Glen, Clytton Wilkerson, Ray Humphries, Vester Lee Smith, Clyde Carpenter, Virgil McCauley, Dan Lancaster, W. At the center of the court. He scored eight field goals in the second period.

The Perkers, Southwest conference champions, defeated the University of Texas in the opening game of the tourney.

He also will attend a road hearing Monday in which Gray, Carson, and Hutchinson county representatives will urge improvement of the Pampa-Borger road.

Two Marriage Licenses
Marriage licenses have been issued here as follows:
John G. Darden and Miss Dahl Campbell.
W. O. Franklin and Mae Louise Lewis.

Well Attended
One of the best meetings of the winter was held by the Panhandle API chapter last night in the city auditorium. Three appreciated numbers were given by a high school quartet. In the absence of Chairman Max Mahaffey, C. E. Sturdevant, program chairman, was in charge. Dr. H. D. Wilde lectured on gas conservation and allied topics and showed principles as illustrated by laboratory models. Location of the April session will be announced soon. Pipeline men will be in charge of the program.

Fire Alarm
The fire department made a run to 513 S. Somerville street yesterday afternoon. Burning trash near a house ignited the sideboards which were scorched. The blaze was extinguished with little damage.

Taken To Hospital
H. T. Hampton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hampton, was taken to Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning for treatment of pneumonia.

C. E. Ward Improving
The NEWS has a letter from Charles E. Ward, Pampa resident, who is in Pueblo, Colo., where he is recovering from a serious operation. He expects to return to Pampa about April 1. Mrs. Ward is with her husband.

Son Is Born
Mr. and Mrs. John Gerald Doggett are the parents of a son, John Gerald, Jr., born Tuesday morning at Worley hospital. He weighed 8 pounds. Mr. Doggett is bookkeeper for the Tex Evans Buick company.

Father-Son Banquet
L. L. McColm, chairman of the Boy Scout court of honor, will go to LeFors tonight as official Adobe Walls council representative at a Father-Son banquet sponsored by the LeFors Kiwanis club, to be held in the high school gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The event will benefit troop 19, which is sponsored by the club. The troop plans to make a trip to Catalina Island next summer. The Mother's club of the troop will serve the banquet tonight.

Trip Publicized
Wide publicity is being given in Wheeler county to the free program, school carnival, and auction of pies at Mobeetie Friday evening, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Pampanians will present an entertainment program. Leonard Green will auction merchandise contributed for the occasion. All proceeds of the auction and pie supper will go to the Women's Missionary society of the Methodist church. It is a community enterprise. Pampanians are invited to meet at the B. C. D. here at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow to start the trip.

Injunction Granted
A temporary injunction was granted yesterday in a hearing on the suit of F. E. Shryock, trustee, vs. Earl Roff. A temporary restraining order had been in effect up to the time of the hearing, for several weeks. In regard to disputed equity in Road Runner park, Mr. Roff was restrained from possession of the park and properties, but a mandatory injunction involving other items was denied, the judge holding that there was adequate remedy in law. Harold Miller and Grover Seitz, witnesses for Mr. Shryock as trustee, were the only witnesses questioned.

Licenses Move Slowly
About 1,000 motor vehicle licenses and 7,000 driver's licenses have been issued by F. E. Leech, Gray county tax assessor-collector. In less than half a month, the office will be called upon to issue 12,000 driver's licenses and about 7,000 car and truck licenses. Residents who wish to avoid standing in line are urged to get their licenses. The driver's licenses involve no costs and are issued independently of the vehicle licenses.

To Attend Meeting
C. H. Walker, chairman of the Gray county parole board, will leave for Austin tomorrow to attend a session of county parole boards, called by Governor James V. Allred.

PHILLIPS WINS MANY AWARDS AT ESTELLINE

EACH TEAM MEMBER RECEIVED GOLD BASKETBALL

Members of the Phillips 66 basketball team from the South Pampa field took a large percentage of the prizes awarded in the recent invitation tournament at Estelline which was won by the Pampa aggregation.

The first place award was an 18-inch trophy with the statue of a player reaching after a ball which he has just touched with one hand. The figure is on a wood base with an inscription plate set in the front.

Each member of the team received a gold-filled miniature basketball. Manager M. L. Gibson of the Oilers was the recipient of a gold medal.

Smith, forward, and Christian, guard, were placed on the all-tournament team and each received gold medals. Tip Windom, forward, and Slim Windom, center, were placed on the all-tournament second team and each received bronze medals.

By scoring 18 points in the opening game of the tournament, Tip Windom was the recipient of a gold medal for the high scoring player of a single game. Smith received the other award for Pampa, being placed on the honor list. The three outstanding players in the tournament were thusly honored and Smith was one of them. He was given a beautiful gold medal.

TUBING RUN IN WELL
MOUNT PLEASANT, March 12 (AP)—Operators began to run tubing in the R. L. Peveo No. 1 Carr wildcat near Talco today and expected to swab within 12 hours. A 400-foot concrete plug was drilled. The well is 60 miles from production. A successful showing, experts say, will open up a new territory for oil development in northeast Texas.

Track Oval Being Built As Thinclads Begin Workouts

First Grid Scrimmage Will Be Held on March 20

Building of a new 440-yard oval at Harvester field is now in progress. With the removal of the dugouts, the track inside the football field can be made closer to the fence and grandstand. Soil being taken from the new track is being placed on the football playing field, filling low places.

While Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean are working with about 50 football prospects, a dozen track and field thinclads are limbering up. They don't have a coach, however, and have to rely on Coach Mitchell slipping away from his work to give them pointers.

The track will be much better than the one last year which was made in a hurry. It will be rolled and allowed to settle before being used. The jumping pit will be rebuilt north of the football field.

Several lettermen from last year will be available for the track and field team. The football squad will also release a number of prospects before the district meet. Pampa will not have to compete in the county event but will be eligible to step into the district event which will be staged here. Dates will be set soon.

A call for lettermen from last year's football squad will be made for Monday afternoon. Three of the six eligible veterans are already in uniform.

A scrimmage, the first of the spring training period, will be held next Friday, March 20. Coach Mitchell announced this morning.

Hank Leiber off For Pensacola

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 12 (AP)—Hank Leiber, clouting outfielder holdout of the New York Giants, may leave for the spring training camp at Pensacola, Fla., late today or tonight, his father, Henry Leiber Sr., said today.

"There is something brewing," the elder Leiber said, "and if it breaks Henry will join the Giants."

Young Leiber left Tucson unexpectedly last night for a conference with his father here. Reports were current he had come to an agreement with the Giants.

He has been coaching the University of Arizona baseball team.

McPherson Quint Beats Collegians

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—McPherson (Kas.) Oilers, Missouri Valley A. U. champions, staged a second-half rally to defeat the Metropolitan Collegians, an all-star array selected from New York college teams, 45 to 43, at Madison Square Garden last night. The Collegians led, 27 to 21, at half time.

OIL PROBERS WILL CONVEENE ON MARCH 19

FICTITIOUS NAMES IN INDUSTRY USED, TESTIFY

AUSTIN, March 12 (P)—A special legislative committee today sought new evidence on Texas' hot oil industry after receiving testimony on methods whereby East Texas refiners used fictitious names in paying gross production taxes on oil but protected the sources supplying them with illegal crude.

view asked C. A. Buell, tax supervisor at Tyler. "Absolutely," Buell replied. "We know they can't operate on $1.15 oil and that it is necessary for them to use excess oil. That is the only way they can operate."

"It has just been a confidential relation between the comptroller and the hot oil runners that if they pay the tax that you will not give that information to any law enforcement agency?" Latham continued.

"We never have had that kind of an understanding," Buell said. "The hot oil runners appreciate the fact that information is not divulged to the public."

SENATE LOBBY COMMITTEE IS GIVEN SETBACK

COURT DECISION MAY CURB ACTIVITIES OF PROBERS

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—A history-making decision in which a federal judge rapped the senate lobby committee's knuckles and sharply curbed its hunt for evidence produced during its investigations today.

Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat of the District of Columbia supreme court enjoined the senators from taking possession of a mass of telegraphic correspondence of a Chicago law firm through a blanket subpoena.

The committee chairman, Senator Black (D., Ala.), called the decision "unconstitutional" and hinted he would fight. Whether he would ignore the court ruling and seek to obtain the telegrams anyway, or whether he would push for legislation forbidding courts to issue such injunctions was not immediately announced.

Because congressional investigations have been numerous in recent years and have played a major role in government, the ruling was regarded as of major significance. Under it congress cannot resort to wholesale subpoenaing of documents. It must define more specifically the one it wants.

The Black committee had called on Western Union to produce all telegrams sent by the law firm of Winston, Strawn, and Shaw during 18 months of last year. It later explained it was hunting for certain wires charged to the law firm, but paid for by the American Liberty League, opponent of the new deal's utility holding company control bill.

Mother to Urge Punishment of Own Daughter
AMLIN, W. Va., March 12 (AP)—The mother of 14-year-old Gladys Dillon asked to go before the grand jury today to testify against the girl accused of poisoning her family in retaliation for parental correction. Prosecutor W. F. Damron said he will accept the offer and quoted Mrs. Edgar Dillon as saying: "I can't control Gladys, so I want her to go to the reform school."

think she will be better off there than any place else."

poison in the flour used for baking. Edgar Dillon, 40-year-old PWA worker, his wife and five of their children became critically ill after eating biscuits and gravy made from the poisoned flour. They later recovered and are back in their mountain cabin.

before the grand jurors. Damron accused the pair of conspiring to poison the family, kill the livestock and burn the barn because Gladys' parents objected to their visits to Logan where their sweethearts live. Damron said Payne did not carry out his part of the alleged conspiracy.

DIVORCE GRANTED
LAS VEGAS, Nev., Mar. 12. (AP)—Edna Brothers Bancroft's 1913 marriage to George Bancroft, screen actor, ended in divorce court here.

She was granted a decree yesterday on her allegation they had lived apart more than five years. A property settlement gave Mrs. Bancroft $25,000.

S. B. Morrow Of White Deer Dies at Home

Seaborn Bethel Morrow, 54, resident of White Deer for 20 years, died last night at his home. He had been in failing health for nearly two years. Mr. Morrow was a carpenter by trade. Survivors are his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Eknia Sexson, White Deer, his mother, Mrs. Deliah Morrow, Hugo, Okla., three sisters, Mrs. V. H. Welton, Hugo, Mrs. W. S. Thompson, Walters, Okla., Mrs. T. P. Bradshaw, Cement, Okla., three brothers, E. S. Morrow, Oklahoma City, W. F. Morrow, Hastings, M. L. Morrow, Electra, and a grandson, Billy Sexson, White Deer.

Funeral arrangements were to be conducted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church, White Deer, with the Rev. Herman Coe, pastor, in charge. Burial was to follow in White Deer cemetery under direction of G. C. Malone, funeral home.

Fallbearers named were John Darnell, E. M. Higgins, Neal Edwards, Roy Crumpacker, E. W. Outlaw and J. W. Everly.

GERMANY

under such pre-suppositions can truly be lived up to honorably, because of its agreement with the conceptions of the honor of nations, and it will just as honorably be lived up to also by Germany. Concerning the threat to withdraw its peace proposals, the statement said: "Should our conception that the only pacification of Europe is built upon the voluntary decisions and actions of equal European states and peoples not find acceptance by other governments, the German government will, of course, withdraw its proposals and, resting upon the dependability and the historic will in appreciation of sacrifice of the German people, from now on rather choose honorable isolation than to live as a nation discriminated against in the community of others."

FUNERAL FOR INFANT

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Audiel Swafford were to be conducted at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel at Pampa Mortuary with the Rev. John Scott, pastor of Central Baptist church, officiating. Burial was to follow in the baby garden at Fairview cemetery. Surviving are the parents and a sister, Mariene.

Mrs. B. G. Harris and daughter, Miss Dorothy, and Mrs. S. T. Beauchamp will leave tomorrow on a trip downtown.

To Be Seen at Osborne Sale on Friday

Junior Prince Domino, 163rd son of Prince Domino, will be seen at the Osborne Hereford sale at the ranch near Miami Friday, March 13.

J. F. Osborne will have a private sale of his linebred Prince Domino Herefords at the ranch near Miami on Friday, March 13.

Forty-one head, 18 bulls and 23 females, will be in the sale.

Scores of leading breeders are expected to attend the sale.

Young animals, principally the get of Jr. Prince Domino Jr. and Prince Domino 4th, will be offered in the sale.

These Herefords with the exception of a few cows are mostly under a year old. They are stock that was too young for the Osborne sale in November, but have come along rapidly since that time.

One of the features of the sale will be the showing of six get of Jr. Prince Domino, and six progeny of Prince Domino 4th. Uniformity of color and conformation, and the blocky, quick-maturing type are outstanding qualities displayed in these groups.

The Osborne ranch headquarters is 17 miles northeast of Pampa, 12 miles west of Miami.

The sale pavilion will be a comfortable one, located in one of the big barns on the place. Lunch will be served to the visitors.

Jr. Prince Domino, sired by Prince Domino, was purchased by Mr. Osborne at the age of 13 months for $10,000. Prince Domino 4th is one of his distinguished sons that have been raised on the Osborne ranch. The dam of Prince Domino 4th is Donna Anna 39th, for which Mr. Osborne paid $4,100.

A breeder for 23 years, Mr. Osborne points to the consignment of 41 head as some of the finest young stock he has ever offered for sale. All breeders who are interested in the pure-blooded Herefords are invited by Mr. Osborne to spend the day at the ranch, to inspect the stock, see where they are bred, and to attend the sale of the inbred stock.

Fred Reppert and Earl Gartin are to be the auctioneers. Frank Farley of the Hereford Journal and O. R. Peterson, Drivers Telegram, will be there to attend and assist in the auction.

SPAIN

which marked the outbreaks in southern Spain, crept nearer the capital with the burning of a church at Buitrago, 40 miles from Madrid.

This, coupled with disorders in the suburb of Valdeas, led authorities to redouble their precautions in the capital, which has been comparatively free thus far from trouble.

Convents, churches and religious schools were under heavy guard, with many nuns, dressed in ordinary clothes, ready to leave if necessary.

The government, meanwhile, moved to satisfy leftist cries for vengeance on the officers whose activities in suppression of the October, 1934, revolt were outstanding.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS— which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

LONGSHOREMEN AT TEXAS COAST DOCKS COME FROM RURAL AREAS

(Note: This is the first of two articles dealing with results obtained by Dr. Ruth Allen and Sam B. Barton of the University of Texas in a survey of the depression on wage earners of Texas. The second will follow next week.)

AUSTIN, March 12.—A thought-provoking treatise, replete with "rock-bottom" facts that make an immediate appeal not only to the social scientist but to the average citizen, is found in a recent bulletin published by the Bureau of Research in the Social Sciences of the University of Texas. Written by Dr. Ruth Allen, assistant professor of economics, and Sam B. Barton, instructor in economics at the university, this publication is entitled "Wage Earners Meet the Depression."

Dry figures are given a vitality by the manner in which the authors have interpreted them in this bulletin. The reader finds a glow of reality in the comments on wages, food bills, clothing, amusements, and the social and economic status of the country at large quoted from the workers interviewed.

Electrical union men, dock workers and longshoremen in Houston were chosen as the subjects for this survey of wage earners and the effect the depression has had on them. The reason for this choice is that Houston was considered by the investigators to represent more fully than any other Texas city the metropolitan industrial area. San Antonio was set aside because of the preponderance of Mexican laborers with low standards of living and no organization. Organization of labor in Dallas is less marked than in Houston, which is the largest city in the city, for the average Houston residence for husbands of rural origin is 10.6 years. They seem also to have come under the drive of youthful optimism, for the average age of the country-born husbands is 35.8 years, indicating that they accepted the city's challenge in their middle twenties. As to birth and origin, they are of native American stock. One of the men was of foreign birth, a German, and he had been here for 19 years. One of the wives was also of German birth. They cannot, contrary to much popular thinking, be characterized as roamers, for more than half of the individuals were born in Texas, and only one came from north of the Mason and Dixon line.

"As one acquainted with rural conditions in the south might expect, they had poor educational opportunities. Only four had finished high school, and seven failed to complete the elementary grades. The men took on the burdens of manhood during adolescence. The age at which the median group became self-supporting was 14 years, and the average age was 14.7, with extremes at 10 and 18 years. They seem to be caught in that vicious circle wherein poverty begets not only poverty but semi-illiteracy and child labor. Six of the wives had worked for wages. One began at the age of 30 and another at the age of 13.

"The men had not taken up their present work as the result of thoughtful rational choice between competing alternatives, but that which would be best for them. They had drifted into the work from other fields, being 2.96 years. At the time these observations were made, the depression dating from October, 1929, had dominated the economic life of the country for about the same length of time. They had come from skilled occupations, such as locomotive firemen, pipefitter, hoisting operator, machinist, and auto mechanic. One pliant, intelligent individual, an ex-carpenter, had been able to get only one day's work at his trade in two years. Another had been driven to the docks by the shut-down of the Ford plant. The wives had worked on farms, in canneries, cotton mills, restaurants, stores, tailor shops, and offices. Only one is working at the present time, as a garment worker and secretary of her local union.

"In the ten families there were 21 children who lived at home. Only one family was childless, and the largest family contained five children. Twelve were of school age and were in school. A crude test of school advancement was obtained by averaging the ages of the 12 children and finding the average grade in school. The difference was found to be 1.2 years. The parents indicate that the children of the coastwise workers started to school at the age of six and made a grade a year. None of the children quit before finishing high school. The parents desire very much that the children shall have the education which they lack.

"Due to the irregular and piece-rate nature of longshoremen's wages, it is impossible to get exact figures on earnings, but the carefully considered estimates are not far from the truth. In six of the 10 cases, weekly wage accounts were kept, and the accuracy of the figures was further assured by the non-seasonal nature of the coastwise shipping, which deals little with cotton. The test of the estimates which were accepted was that total incomes plus borrowings plus savings spent during the current year should not vary more than 10 per cent from estimates of total expenditures. The average of estimated incomes was $552. The average weekly wage of those keeping records was $11.25, which, multiplied by 52, gives a yearly wage of $585. The uncertainty of nature of the wage is illustrated by the wage record of one family: December 10, $5.40; December 17, $19.30; December 26, no wages; December 31, $12.80; January 7, $4.80; January 14, $12.70; January 21, $9.80; January 28, $2.90.

"The wages of the men were found to cover less than 70 per cent of the reported expenditures. Only two families had no source of income other than the husband's wage. One, consisting of a young husband and wife and a baby four months old, could not make both ends meet on their income of $600, and reported themselves as 'always in debt.' The other, with an income of $572 for a family of five, was spreading the amount by making no payments on their house, and by allowing the loan company to pay the taxes and insurance. In two cases boarders added to the family income; in another case three boys in school added $169, probably their own 'board and keep.' The single grown son in the group added 1.5 times his father's wage to the income of the family of four members. An ex-farmer, only 18 months on the docks, sold a mule to eke out the year's payments, thus severing probably the last tie which bound him to the soil. One thrifty individual who had been forced to leave the carpenter's trade had built a duplex and was more than covering the payments on his own apartment by rental of the other. A wife in another case, by her trade as garment worker and her services as secretary of her local union, just about 'made car fare and lunch money.' One man reported additional earnings of $6 from odd jobs, and from six chickens. Two persons received compensation, one military compensation amounting to $120, and another accident compensation amounting to $140.63. With these additions, income in four cases was sufficient to meet expenses.

"One family had spent the last $50 of the savings of more prosperous days and had borrowed in addition $17.10 on the security of an insurance policy. Another had exhausted all savings, and a third had borrowed $40. Save for the owner of the duplex mentioned above, each of the four persons who were buying homes balanced his budget by letting payments lapse on principal, interest, taxes, and insurance. Only one of the renters was in arrears, and he had attempted to settle by moving three times during the year. By so doing he added only $3 to his expense as contrasted with $35 rental. The average rental, $14 a month, represents 20 per cent of the average income. The only family paying higher than the average rent had a grown son making three times as much as the father, and paid a rental of $344 a year."

PROPER AGING

Tobacco in its natural state is harsh and strong. Though "cured" by the grower before sale, it is unsuited for use without further aging. During this aging period (which ranges in the case of Lucky Strike from 1 1/2 to 3 years) important changes occur. These "Nature" changes result in the partial "smoothing out" of the original harsh qualities of the leaf. Our process of manufacture carries these improvements many steps further—as every Lucky Strike Cigarette exemplifies: A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco.

RUST-RESISTANT VARIETIES OF WHEAT

Considerable disappointment has been expressed because supposedly resistant varieties of wheat have been severely injured this year. This has been particularly true of Ceres, which in many regions was injured as severely as the Non-resistant Marquis and which was rusted far more heavily in all regions than most people suspected it could be. It has been known since Ceres was introduced that, altho resistant, it was not immune from rust. This year, when the crop was grown, for the most part, in a very moist soil and under cool, cloudy conditions until late in June, the plants were more tender than they normally would be, the stands were dense, the crop late, and the result was that, with the large number of spores in the air, Ceres rusted heavily.

Minturki, a hard red winter wheat, which usually either is highly resistant to rust or escapes it, also rusted very heavily in some localities. The experience with Ceres and Minturki this year, as well as with Kota and Marquillo during other seasons, indicates that even very highly resistant varieties may under certain climatic conditions rust heavily if they are subjected to heavy inoculation with rust. Were the barberries permitted to remain, it is certain that resistant varieties so far developed and distributed might become heavily rusted if the barberry bushes were discharging billions of spores in the immediate vicinity of the fields. The eradication of barberries gives these resistant varieties a chance to develop without great damage from rust or from new strains of the rust.

It should be realized also that rust resistance in varieties so far known is a variable character like any other plant character. Recent investigations have shown that even so resistant a variety as Hope may rust quite normally when light intensity is reduced. Under cloudy conditions, therefore, when there is considerable moisture and large numbers of rust spores in the air, even this variety may become heavily rusted. The fact that varieties like Hope and Ceres, having so-called "mature plant resistance," which has a tendency to protect them against all parasitic strains, rust heavily under certain conditions indicates clearly that, in the present state of our knowledge at least, the perfectly resistant wheat has not yet been developed for practical conditions. Even Thatcher, which appears to be by far the best resistant hard red spring wheat yet developed, was moderately rusted in certain plots in 1935. Were it to be grown under conditions unfavorable to its development and favorable to rust, there is no assurance that it might not be damaged appreciably by rust.

The problem of developing rust-resistant varieties of small grains is no easy one. The fact that there are so many parasitic strains of the stem-rust fungus and that the resistant varieties may fluctuate within wide limits makes it all the more important to eradicate barberries from the Northern States in order to help prevent highly resistant, but not immune, varieties from rusting.

The breeding of resistant varieties, like barberry eradication, should not be condemned because of the disappointment this year. Ceres wheat has saved the farmers of the Northwest millions of dollars in past seasons when the conditions for the development of rust and for the growth of the plants themselves did not combine to break down the resistance of this variety. Nevertheless, it is evident that more highly resistant varieties must be developed. The two commercial, or semi-commercial varieties that have withstood rust best this year are Marquillo and Thatcher, both developed at the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture. Marquillo was injured relatively little by rust but is no longer recommended for general commercial growing because of the yellow color of the flour produced from it. Thatcher was introduced only two years ago, and not enough seed is available to plant a considerable acreage. Thatcher is the result of a so-called "double cross" which resulted from crossing Marquis with Imullo durum, which was highly resistant to rust, and again crossing a selection from this with a selection from a Marquis x Kanred cross which has the resistance of Kanred to a considerable number of parasitic strains of wheat stem rust. It appears to be the most resistant commercial variety of hard red spring wheat so far developed and introduced. It withstood the attacks of rust in 1935 remarkably well, and gives promise now of proving an extremely valuable variety.

No one method of rust control has so far sufficed to prevent epidemics. Combination of barberry eradication, together with further progress in the development of resistant varieties, however, will continue to reduce rust losses.—Plainview Herald.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN March 12 (AP)—The proclamation designating March 5 as "Mother-in-Law-Day" in Texas was prepared and made public on that day, a very unusual procedure. It is customary to issue proclamations several days in advance.

The reason? The governor, or his secretaries, forgot about it until the last moment.

Capital comment, gathered in a quick survey for the most part, was favorable to mothers-in-law, although a little cynicism cropped out here and there.

A headline over a newspaper story from Gladewater published on the day, read:

"Fined $250 for Shot at Mother-in-Law."

The jury was told that the defendant before the shooting was doused with a pail of hot water.

The Society of Virginians, headquarters at Lynchburg, Va., is alert in the interest of historical accuracy to see that no native Virginian is erroneously "born" in another state.

A newspaper dispatch which said Gen. Sam Houston was a native of Tennessee was promptly noted by the Lynchburg headquarters and corrected.

Houston was born in Rockbridge county, Va. March 2, 1793. Stephen F. Austin, "Father of Texas," was born in Wythe county, Va., Nov. 3, 1793.

The police seem determined that capital residents shall operate automobiles which are mechanically sound.

Having concluded a campaign of persuasion they now propose one to force drivers unmoved by other means to put their automobiles into good condition.

For some weeks they operated a "safety lane," advertising its changing location daily. There drivers might have their cars tested free of charge without penalty from the law if found defective. Hundreds took advantage of the opportunity.

SENATOR HOLT SAYS POLITICS RULES RELIEF

WILL ANSWER HOPKINS ON FLOOR OF SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 12. (AP)—Federal spending was pushed further to the forefront as a hot campaign issue today amid sharp attacks by republicans and an anti-new deal democrat and defense by the administration.

Another development in the fast-moving pre-convention campaign was announced that Senator Borah of Idaho would enter the California primary to win support for the republican presidential nomination.

Charles A. Sunderlin, Los Angeles lawyer, said the Idahoan, already slated for strategic primaries such as Ohio and Illinois, would enter his name on the coast tonight for the vote May 5.

A renewed assault on administration expenditures came about the time Harry I. Hopkins, WPA administrator, issued a report saying charges of "political influence" in relief activities in West Virginia were unfounded.

Former Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, a Liberty league democrat, declared last night that "all the power of the greatest patronage organization this country have ever seen" was used in the New Hampshire primary to win victory for delegates pledged to President Roosevelt.

Hopkins said in a report last night that not a single relief job in West Virginia was obtained thru political influence. Senator Holt (D-W. Va.) who charged relief was politics-ridden in his state, prepared to reply to Hopkins on the Senate floor today.

Col. Frank Knox, candidate for the republican presidential nomination—on the hustings in Houston, Tex.—declared new dealers to be "guilty of blatant demagoguery" in charging that "those of us who cry out against reckless spending and boondoggling . . . would economize by letting the people starve."

Political observers speculated about the future of former Senator Moses as a result of his capture of second place on the republican slate of delegates to the national convention from New Hampshire. Moses, defeated for re-election in the democratic landslide in 1932, has been mentioned as a possible candidate this year, to run against senator Keyes (R-N. H.).

In a surprise Harris county primary election in Georgia yesterday President Roosevelt rolled up an overwhelming lead over Gov. Eugene Talmadge, new deal foe.

Wife of Wealthy Oil Man Shoots Self to Death

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 12. (AP)—Mrs. Florence Glover Lucey, 58, wife of a millionaire southwestern oil man, preferred death to impending blindness, police said today.

Separated for several years from Capt. John F. Lucey of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Lucey shot herself through the heart at her apartment last night.

A brief note to her maid asked that her two nephews, Richard Cantillon and John E. Glover, Los Angeles attorneys, be notified.

The maid, Susan Fleming, said Mrs. Lucey, once a figure of Washington and European society, had been dependent for months because she was slowly losing her sight from cataracts.

Captain Lucey, who received his commission in the Spanish American war, was closely associated with Herbert Hoover in world war time. He was stationed in Rotterdam in charge of relief administration and later served in the food administration at Washington.

One of the first operators in California oil boom of 1909, Captain Lucey later founded a manufacturing company with headquarters in New York and shops in Chattanooga.

He and Mrs. Lucey were married in New Richmond, Wis., in 1912 at the home of her father, John E. Glover, prominent lumberman.

Cotton Picker Profits Would Be Eliminated

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 12. (AP)—John D. and Mack D. Rust, inventors of a mechanical cotton picker, announced today that they will forego large profits from their invention so that "it may be a blessing and not a curse to mankind."

With the machine practically perfected and ready to go into production, they appealed, they said, "to the world" to help them perfect a plan by which their may be the first labor-saving machine to be put into use with assurance that it will not bring distress to labor.

For their own service in inventing the picker, the brothers have set up a novel scheme of limited returns.

"As compensation for our invention," John, 43, said, "we will accept an income that will not exceed 10 times the salary of the lowest full-time paid employe of the corporation."

"We do not believe all salaries should be leveled, but that each should be paid according to his services. But there should be a maximum. Ten times the lowest salary, which should represent at least a minimum living wage, seems a fair place to stop."

EYE SPECIALIST DIES BALTIMORE, March 12. (AP)—Associates here were informed of the death today of Dr. William H. Wilmer, internationally famous eye specialist, at his home in Washington of coronary thrombosis, a heart ailment.

The first oil well in Texas was drilled in Nagdoches county in 1866. Oil was found at a depth of 100 feet. The field did not pay although Texas today leads the world in production of oil.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

By Deck Morgan © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

Chapter X At the tea dance in the Venetian room the ship's passengers saw the blond young man with the actress, Nora Lane.

They wondered how he had met the actress, and some of them made guesses that he was going to be her third husband, now that her second marriage had gone to the rocks. It was exciting for the on-lookers. Miss Lane laughed for their exclusive enjoyment, it seemed. She was one of them. Dancing close to her, they could have touched her!

But they saw that she laughed with a distinct retraction of her lips. Her eyes were undeniably sad. "Tell me," she said to Dirk, "are you a bridegroom who was left at the altar?" Her voice was sympathetic. "I have been so terribly afraid that you were. It would hurt your kind so cruelly."

Dirk flushed. "You know my kind," he smiled. "I quite probably would be left at the altar. But why do you ask that?"

"You had the best suite on board—mine now, thanks to you. Wasn't there a woman who changed her mind? Please tell me. The thought of a boy like you facing such cruelty has distressed me—terribly! That is my failing. I absorb too many people's distress."

Dirk said, "No, I haven't been jilted. I'm afraid I don't fall that hard."

Nora Lane gave his shoulder a fond pat, and a thrill passed through the watchful crowd again. "You are a charming boy," she said. She lifted a hand and made a gay gesture. But it seemed as though the gaiety which had been in her face slipped off as a mask. A silence overcame them. They danced, each looking ahead, with his own thoughts.

Dirk experienced a little self-conscious pride. Everyone pointed them out in the saloon. He knew they were saying, "There's Nora Lane, the actress. I wonder who it is with her?"

He wished he'd meet Jane Weston now. He'd like to show her.

Nora Lane asked then, "What do you do? Do you work at something or are you still just—living?"

She was so careful not to hurt anyone's feelings that she worded her questions like bright lines from a play. He told her he was only a ski jumper, and she smiled.

"I once saw those incredible fellows jumping at St. Moritz—sailing through the air like giant birds," she said. "I talked to a little Swiss in the stands. He was only 16. I asked to feel his arms to see if jumpers had any nerves and I think he fell in love with me on the spot. It was a very trying affair. I had to leave St. Moritz with my husband—"

Suddenly the actress turned her head and said in surprise, "Who is that pretty girl staring at us?"

Dirk looked about. He saw the broad-shouldered opera star and over the man's shoulder, caught a glimpse of reddish hair and an upturned nose. It was Jane Weston. She was dancing with the opera singer.

A moment more and her eyes met Dirk's. Each smiled with a vague, whimsical expression of regret. Then they stiffened. That one look they exchanged was enough. It was youth's challenge to youth. Jane flung up her head, almost with bravado, and Dirk smiled coolly in return.

Later when they met in the foyer Dirk bowed formally and Jane smiled prettily. She and the bartones were going out on deck to watch the sun set. Dirk let his eyes follow them, a little resentfully.

He turned to Nora Lane. "Let's go see the sun set," he suggested. "We can go up on the hurricane deck and there'll be nobody to stare at us—"

Miss Lane smiled. "I was hoping you'd ask me. I've been lonely on this cruise." Her face was radiant again. She looked about her furtively, as though afraid of something.

"But I'll go with you," she finished, and Dirk knew what her fears were. He was sorry for her.

Jane stood with Tino Rossi at the ship's stern and watched the sun set on glorious tropic seas. The blood-red fire in the west sent its parting rays into waves that were almost green. The phosphorescent coloring of the water was fantastic, unreal. There were marine plants and coral sprays, indicating the presence of islands and reefs nearby.

"Late tonight," Jane said, "we'll be in the Bahamas. I asked the petty officer that lovely brute in the white and gold braid—"

"Darling," Tino said, "When you speak of other men I am mad with jealousy."

"Idiot!" Jane said agreeably. "You've known me less than 24

HUGE ARMY IS READY TO AID FRENCH CAUSE

By EDWARD KENNEDY (Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press.)

PARIS, March 12.—France, dropping official hints that she might prefer a "preventive war" with Nazi Germany now to "carriage" later, hastened today to cement a chain of military alliances which would place a potential army of 40,000,000 men at her disposal.

A possible allied army of that magnitude was disclosed in new, if unofficial, figures to be based on an alliance of France, Soviet Russia, the little entente and Poland, and to embrace:

1.—For 48-hour mobilization: 8,000,000 men.

2.—Additional trained reserves: 31,000,000 men.

3.—Eight thousand airplanes.

4.—A million tons of warships.

The new military calculations were made as Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin, at London, brandished the threat of French withdrawal from the League of Nations to compel Great Britain to join in chastising Adolf Hitler for his armed march to the Rhine.

At home, the French senate took up the question of final parliamentary ratification of the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact.

It was this far-reaching treaty which the German fuhrer blamed for nullifying the treaty of Locarno and causing remilitarization of the Rhineland. It is the last step in forging an "iron ring around the reich," extending from the English channel to Asia and the Arctic ocean.

Events of the past week having fostered a tremendous sentiment in France in favor of the pact, the senate was expected to lose no time in approving it by an overwhelming vote.

The first category of the "paper army," troops which could be mobilized within 48 hours, was reckoned approximately thus: France, 1,000,000 men; Russia 3,000,000; Poland 1,000,000; Rumania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, 800,000 or more each.

In the second category were placed those trained reserves: France, 7,000,000; Russia 17,000,000; Poland 2,000,000; Rumania 1,000,000; Yugoslavia 1,700,000; Czechoslovakia 1,600,000.

As for airplanes, France was listed as able to furnish 2,400; Russia 3,000; Yugoslavia 800; Poland 700; Czechoslovakia, 600 and Rumania, 500.

BOILING OF 4 HUMAN BODIES IS ADMITTED

MASS SLAYING TOLD IN DETAIL BY MAN AT ATHENS

ATHENS, Mar. 12. (AP)—A statement by George Patton that he destroyed four bodies after a mass slaying near here Thanksgiving day, 1932, led officers to wonder today how they could press four charges of murder against the 54-year old man.

Sheriff Jess Sweeten said he had little hope of convicting Patton unless the bodies were found.

Patton, according to the sheriff, made the statement when questioned in connection with the mysterious disappearance of J. W. McGehee and his wife and their two small sons.

Gehee and his wife and their two small sons.

"The McGehees were living at my house out from Athens," Patton's statement said. "He (McGehee) said he was going to sell his corn and leave."

"I went into the house that evening and McGehee came in drunk. McGehee told his wife that she had been crooked with him and he was going to kill her and the baby."

"He grabbed a club and struck one of the little boys with it. McGehee's wife then grabbed one of the other little boys and started running with it. McGehee ran after her and struck both her and the other little boy with the club."

"The statement said McGehee then threatened to kill Patton and that Patton grabbed a club and felled him."

Patton, according to the sheriff, said he later boiled the bodies in sals until the flesh came off the bones and then buried them.

Patton was arrested soon after the McGehee family disappeared and was released eight days later. He was charged with murder but a grand jury dismissed the charge because of lack of evidence.

He was rearrested two weeks ago and taken to Tyler where he made his statement yesterday.

Patton told officers he married a 16-year old girl soon after the slaying. He said he sent her home when he was re-arrested, adding that he had no other relatives.

Doctor Implores Court Aid and Weeps in Trial

MANCHESTER, Eng., Mar. 12. (AP)—Dr. Buck Ruxton, weeping and twisting a silk handkerchief in his hands, begged the judge at his "devil's beef tub" murder trial today to take notice how the crown's prosecutor was "cornering" him.

During stiff cross-examination concerning the physician's blood-stained suit following the disappearance of his wife and nursemaid, the judge intervened to tell Ruxton: "Listen, answer the questions."

"I humbly beg your pardon," replied the defendant, bursting into tears. "But don't you see how he's driving me into a corner?"

Fifteen days after they disappeared last September, bodies identified by the prosecution as those of the two women were found, dismembered, in a Scottish ravine with the satanic name. The crown charges that Ruxton, inflamed by jealousy, killed Mrs. Ruxton and Mary Jane Rogers, the maid, cut up their bodies and tossed them into the gully.

Every man who ever ran for president must have felt, as old Zachary Taylor did, that he had been subjected to the "vildest slanders of the most unprincipled demagogues (sic) this or any other nation was ever cursed with, who have pursued me like bloodhounds."

Possibly the explanation of the current lamentation is that politics is growing more dirt-conscious. That would be a hopeful sign, rather than the opposite.

Political Trend Uncertain.

Is the country drifting toward radicalism, or in the opposite direction?

The answer heard most commonly is that we are caught in the unquarable flow of ebb-tide for the old conceptions, and are being swept outward and across the unathomed deep of radical experiment. Recent developments show how greatly this conclusion may be open to question.

When congress met at the beginning of the year, the Townsend plan was reported to be rolling down Washington with terrific force, and there was much talk that inflation by legislative fiat was just around the corner.

Now the house has decided by overwhelming vote to put the remaining Townsends on the grill of a propaganda investigation, and the inflationists are able to muster only a corporal's guard in favor of bringing their bills out of committee.

Mr. Roosevelt's "no retreat" message stirred many predictions that "intrenched greed" would be haled into the legislative forum without delay or mercy, and made to sweat for its sins. So far the summons remains unserved, the gallows unbuilt.

And the White House is quieter that it has been in many a day. Who is wise enough to know what all means as to the direction of political action in the future?

POLITICS at random

BY BYRON PRICE.
Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.

A strange thing about political utterances is that an absolute trum, which nobody would think of disputing, often will attract wild attention than a bold new thought or theory. Witness the recent prediction of Postmaster General Farley that this will be a "dirty" campaign.

Of course it will be a dirty campaign. All presidential campaigns are dirty, and for that matter politics itself hardly is a parlor game invented to entertain little girls' tea parties. If someone were to foresee a presidential campaign which was not dirty, that would be news.

Yet Mr. Farley's word are taken up in all directions, amid woeeful forebodings. Even Owen D. Young, although somewhat out of the steam of active politics, tells a graduating class that certain political figures, men already have been guilty of exaggerated and possibly slanderous political utterances.

Political memory is short, but it should not be difficult to recall the ramifications of the religious issue in 1928, the discredited whispers about Mr. Harding's ancestry in 1920, the charges of disloyalty against Mr. Wilson after the war, the satirical stories about Mr. Hoover and the gossip about Mr. Roosevelt's health in 1932.

Every man who ever ran for president must have felt, as old Zachary Taylor did, that he had been subjected to the "vildest slanders of the most unprincipled demagogues (sic) this or any other nation was ever cursed with, who have pursued me like bloodhounds."

Possibly the explanation of the current lamentation is that politics is growing more dirt-conscious. That would be a hopeful sign, rather than the opposite.

Political Trend Uncertain.

Is the country drifting toward radicalism, or in the opposite direction?

The answer heard most commonly is that we are caught in the unquarable flow of ebb-tide for the old conceptions, and are being swept outward and across the unathomed deep of radical experiment. Recent developments show how greatly this conclusion may be open to question.

When congress met at the beginning of the year, the Townsend plan was reported to be rolling down Washington with terrific force, and there was much talk that inflation by legislative fiat was just around the corner.

Now the house has decided by overwhelming vote to put the remaining Townsends on the grill of a propaganda investigation, and the inflationists are able to muster only a corporal's guard in favor of bringing their bills out of committee.

Mr. Roosevelt's "no retreat" message stirred many predictions that "intrenched greed" would be haled into the legislative forum without delay or mercy, and made to sweat for its sins. So far the summons remains unserved, the gallows unbuilt.

And the White House is quieter that it has been in many a day. Who is wise enough to know what all means as to the direction of political action in the future?

GOVERNOR MAY QUIZ 'JAFSIE' ON KIDNAPING

BRUNO'S LAST HOPES ARE PINNED ON CONDON

TRENTON, N. J., March 12. (AP)—Although Governor Harold G. Hoffman said his power to reprove Bruno Richard Hauptmann expires this midnight, counsel for the condemned kidnap-slayer clung today to a belief that the convicted man still has a chance to escape the death penalty for the Lindbergh baby kidnap-murder.

Their hopes, it was indicated, are largely dependent upon the possibility that the planned questioning of Dr. John F. Condon, now returning from a vacation cruise to Panama, may develop some important new evidence in the case.

Hauptmann is scheduled to be electrocuted the week of March 30. Dr. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the kidnap ransom negotiations, is due to arrive in New York by boat next Tuesday.

Developments depend largely on the governor, who has said he believes Condon ought to be questioned about statements, written and oral, delivered since Hauptmann's conviction February 13, 1935.

The governor after reprobating Hauptmann on January 16, ordered the state police to reopen investigation.

This investigation and the governor's own investigation still are going on, although the governor has said he sees no chance of staying execution again.

Reports of a possible second reprove elicited from the governor the comment that people furthering this sort of talk were "barking at the moon."

Mother on Trial For Kidnaping in Doll Baby Tragedy

DORCHESTER, N. B., March 12. (AP)—Mrs. May Bannister, not knowing a jury had condemned her 19-year-old son to the gallows, was called into Dorchester's old courthouse today to stand trial for kidnapping in New Brunswick's strange "doll baby" tragedy.

The 45-year-old mother is accused of stealing Philip Lake's baby daughter to replace the doll she had been carrying, bundled-up, to dupe two suitors.

A jury convicted Arthur, her son, yesterday, of murdering Lake, his housekeeper, and his little son, at Lake's shack last month. Then, prosecutors allege, 6-months-old Elizabeth Ann Lake was stolen.

Rhineland Will Hear Hitler in Ballot Campaign

KARLSRUHE, Germany, March 12. (AP)—This little city, virtually smothered in waving swastikas, worked with bated breath today to prepare a delirious, night-long reception for Adolf Hitler, "liberator" of the Rhineland.

Scenes paralleling those in the Saar, when that district returned to the reich a year ago, were anticipated with his evening's triumphant entry into Karlsruhe of the Nazi Fuehrer.

The sudden announcement of Hitler's visit and speech tonight, first since his stunning proclamation last Saturday of Rhineland remilitarization, turned Karlsruhe into a bee-hive to prepare a fitting welcome for his idol.

Karlsruhe lies just east of the Rhine, not far from the fortified French borderlands.

Authorities ordered virtually all traffic to be stopped at 5 p. m. in preparation for Der Fuehrer's arrival. Only a few taxis will be permitted on side streets.

With typical Prussian thoroughness, special trains were arranged to bring in the country folk for Hitler's speech, opening the March 29 plebiscite campaign in the Rhineland. Authorities expected approximately 60,000 persons would hear Hitler's speech at 8 p. m., not counting those planned to listen to his words as they echo from loudspeakers through the town's narrow streets.
