DEPUTY HANDS BLACK PAPERS AT A SESSION

SCHWELLENBACH FLAYS SPECIAL INTERESTS AT HEARINGS

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Testimony that he had entertained many members of congress and shared a house with six of them while working for certain legislation was given to the senate lobby committee today by Robert E. Smith, chairman of the national conference of investors.

Referring to representatives as "the boys," Smith said that western power companies contributed the bulk of $23,177 contributed to his National Security Holders association from January 1, 1935, to September 30, 1935. He listed $23,798 of this as going for his own salary and expenses.

The witness insisted most of his discussions with members of congress concerned reclamation projects. He recalled finding no telegrams in his files concerning the Wheeler-Rayburn public utility holding company bill.

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Chairman Black (D. Ala.) of the senate lobby committee today was served publicly with a subpoena to appear in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in answer to an injunction suit brought by William Randolph Hearst.

Deputy Marshal Harry C. Allen, served the papers as a session of the committee was in progress, walking up on the dias where the senators sat.

The action prompted an immediate comment by Senator Schwellessbach (D. Wash.).

"There has just been served on the chairman of this committee a subpoena instituted through court proceedings by William Randolph Hearst in an effort to stop this investigation," Schwellessbach said.

"A sum in excess of 3 1/2 million dollars has been expended by public utilities of the country to defeat one single piece of legislation.

"If the public utilities, William

We sat there for about ten minutes, watching the cars at the stop signs which are on Q and are supposed to stop Q traffic before it enters Broadway. ## "Have You a Dead Horse About?"

Photographically artistic but journalistically misrepresentative is the picture of a dead horse, taken near Bovina by an eastern newspaper man employed by a news agency (not the Associated Press), to illustrate a story on the "dust bowl." Yesterday a member of THE NEWS staff saw another dead horse near Pampa—in a field bright green with growing wheat.

THE NORTHEASTERN Panhandle will be visited by dusts this spring, as last, but indications to date indicate that the dust will be "transient" and that little damage will be done to wheat in the Pampa area.

Last night's duster was an example. A sudden norther arrived near midnight bringing a cloud of dust which settled over this area, leaving dirt on window sills and filtering indoors. But the day was bright and clear. Only a bit of annoyance to housewives resulted. The dust was probably of measurable value in enriching the plains land, since it appeared to be top soil from some distant section.

Near normal moisture last fall gave wheat a good start. Showers and a bit of snow have kept the ground moist, especially those fields which have been terraced and cared for in the recommended manner.

Started at Amarillo
Wrote the visiting photographer, "From Amarillo, Tex., westward to Clovis, N. M., then northward into Colorado, eastward again into Kansas, and down through the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle, an area larger than all New England, we have seen a stage set for tragedy. Within five days, three dust storms were encountered."

Noting exceptional instances, including abandoned farms and ranches—some abandoned long before the present cycle of dusts—this writer also wrote:

"To drive through this area today is like moving up to the front line on a battlefield. Here is the skeleton of a horse; there one of a cow; there a dilapidated windmill, an abandoned cultivator, a reaper, half-buried in sand and falling to pieces.

"Here are fences buried in powder dusts, and there a deserted and disintegrating farmhouse. The ditches along the highways are filled with rippled silt. It rises in choking clouds with the slightest breeze.

"It is like another world, some strange deserted planet in an H. G. Wells fantasy. It is unbelievably barren. No trees, except an occasional dead one stretching gaunt arms above a scarred, sere trunk. No grass or shrubs except an occasional tumble-weed rolling crazily across the plain. No longer can you see the miles of waving golden grain that used to be."

Always a Gamble
Farming is a gamble—has always been; a gamble with winds, storms, markets, insect pests. But Clovis residents may not like this interpretation.

A few gasping farmers, cling to their homes and their acres. Around Clovis, N. M., the young green wheat stands a couple of inches high. The farmers have done what they could.

"But now they stand about the village stores waiting, apprehensively watching the skies for the dark clouds in the north which show that the dust is flying again."

"One weather-beaten old man at Clovis told me: 'I've plowed wide furrows across my fields, as the government said. If that doesn't work, and the dust gets at us again like it did last year, I lose a whole square mile of wheat. I'm just here holding my hands and waiting. If we get it down here like we did the last two years, it's all off.'

"Half-resigned, half defiant attitude was well expressed by H. J. Bosworth, proprietor of the Crystal Cafe at Boise City, Okla.

"We don't even have good dust any more," he complained. "When this thing started, the dust was

WPA WORKERS IN AREA WILL BE DECREASED

SOME NEW PROJECTS IN DISTRICT MAY BE JEOPARDIZED

Although a reduction in the WPA rolls is being ordered by the Texas Works Progress Administration, the need for these workmen is increasing in this area as new projects are launched.

It is feared that some of the new projects, especially those on road construction, will be jeopardized by the new order from H. P. Drought of San Antonio, state administrator, who has asked that the number employed be reduced from 120,482 to 101,950 by March 31.

Increased employment opportunities growing seasonal employment demands, and the approach of the June 30 completion date for the Works Progress Administration program were given as the reason for the quota cut prescribed for Texas by federal authorities.

Issuing instructions to district directors, Administrator Drought said: "It is unnecessary for me to emphasize to any Texas district director that any choice between workers shall be on the basis of efficiency and relative need and that discrimination on any basis—personal, political or otherwise—will not be tolerated."

State officials suggested the following basis for release of workers:

- All those workers who are members of families with other income or resources will be removed from payrolls.
- All workers who are offered employment in private industry or on non-WPA projects will next be released.
- Less efficient workers will be released if it is necessary to reduce further in order to meet the quota after the first two groups are taken off payrolls.

"Nearing the end of this work program, we are in a position to finish all projects or integral units of all projects now in operation with the reduced quota of workers," Drought declared. "District directors have been instructed to plan their work so that all projects, or useful parts of all projects, will be completed by June 30."

As a result of this order, this WPA district is expected to reduce its rolls from 3,153 to 2,561 by the end of this month.

Transfer of some men away from the local fairground park project, coupled with the fact that the workers can stop at any time to take a few days of private employment, has greatly retarded progress on the park lately. Set up for having 120 men, the project had only 83 men one day last week.

Miss Lois Hinton, deputy district clerk, is ill and at her home today because of an attack of laryngitis.

Briton Is Jailed and Confession Is Obtained

MANCHESTER, England, March 16 (AP)—Alfred Molyneux, 31, of Lancashire, was jailed today on a charge of attempting to extort £200 ($1,000) from Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow by pretending to reveal a plot to kidnap her newborn son.

Police said that Molyneux had admitted writing a letter during "moments of depression" offering to disclose the "plot." He was remanded in custody for a week.

The prisoner was trapped by police when he went to keep a rendezvous with a "messenger from the countess." He told police that no kidnap plot existed.

Detective-inspector Forster testified that a letter was received at the Haugwitz-Reventlow London home March 7 reading:

"Dear Countess: I have read of your charming little son. Now don't get panicky.

"You should know that two men have left Manchester to kidnap this son and you'd be surprised to hear what elaborate plans have been made for his confinement while they wait for the ransom they intend to demand from you.

"If you would learn of these plans, please send some one to meet me in Manchester at once and I will let you know what I know.

"Do not get the police or I shant talk. Please be sure to bring £200 in treasury notes."

WARM WEATHER INTERRUPTED BY SHARP NORTHER

Balmy Days in Area Belie Current Reports

Spring is near, according to the calendar, but last night's norther threat inspired a bit of caution as Panpans prepared to plant flowers and gardens.

The maximum temperature of 70 yesterday was followed by a low of 38 last night. Near midnight, the chilling wind blew in, bringing a brief period of dust. Saturday was even warmer than Sunday.

Today was clear but cool, with a north breeze blowing.

Fields which encircle Pampa have become a bright green as the wheat spreads on the ground. Moisture is regarded as sufficient to last through this month and into April. Little damage has been in this area by late winter winds. Many of the wheat fields have been grazed lightly.

There was a chorus of denials as press associations asked if any dust accompanied the norther. Newspaper correspondents of the Panhandle replied that the day had dawned clear and bright, but railroad and official weather reports mentioned the brief duster last night.

Workers Ordered Arrested at Oil Well in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 16 (AP)—The arrest of all workmen found on an outlaw well location three blocks south of the Oklahoma capitol was ordered today by Harlan Deupree, municipal counselor.

The K. and L. Drilling company announced simultaneous seizure of the state capital were arrested by Oklahoma City police today and charged with violating zoning ordinances. Kent W. Shartel, attorney and vice president of the K. and L. Drilling company, which staked the location, was one of the three company officers arrested.

Senorita Torres, the Marques de las Fuentes Mel Moral, another rich property holder in the neighborhood, and three local priests were taken to the city of Jaen and placed in prison on the governor's order to insure their personal safety.

Another mob of alleged communists, attacking the presidential estates at Priego de Cordoba, drove off the caretakers and proceeded to parcel out the land among themselves.

The huge olive harvest was divided among the looters and a number of small buildings on the estate were burned.

Guards were sent from Cordoba to protect the president's private summer residence.

A number of persons were reported wounded in exchanges of shots between the police and the mobs.

CAR ACCIDENTS IN TEXAS TAKE ELEVEN LIVES

THREE DIE IN TRUCK CRASH AT HASKELL IN WEEK-END

(By The Associated Press)
Automobile accidents took 11 lives in Texas last week-end. Three men were killed in a collision four miles south of Jacksonville and three in a truck accident near Marshall. In other cases, single persons were killed.

In the Jacksonville tragedy, D. L. Sutton, 44, and Arvel O. Johnston, 24, both of Jacksonville, died several hours later. Melvin Yarbrough, 29, of Dalvill, was injured critically and T. C. Halbert, 53, of Dalvill, suffered cuts and bruises.

J. T. Tucker, 64, and Jesse T. Cook, 33, died yesterday of injuries suffered in a truck accident near Haskell Friday. Their deaths brought to three the total killed in the crash.

Miss Thelma Jinks, 25, of Dallas, was killed when she was struck by a truck.

Miss Bella Orozco was killed and her sister, Guadalupe, critically injured when a truck overturned as they returned from a dance near Laredo. Six other persons were less seriously hurt.

C. B. Standifer, 27, met instant death when he was struck by a car on the highway near Plano.

Kenneth Rausin, four, died of injuries received when he was run over by an automobile driven by his mother as he backed out the family driveway at Palestine.

John Mook, 28, of Lake Charles, La., was drowned when the automobile in which he was riding turned over into a ditch of water near Port Arthur.

Buffaloes Lose First Game in Denver Tourney

DENVER, Colo., March 16 (AP)—Arkansas Teachers and University of Idaho, southern branch, won their events today in the national A. A. U. basketball tournament, the former defeating West Texas Teachers 46 to 32 and the latter downing Nebraska Wesleyan 43 to 28.

Arkansas led from the start in the first game of today's program, holding a 21 to 12 advantage at the half.

The Idaho cagers jumped into a 6 to 0 early lead and were out in front 23 to 13 at the half.

In the curtain raiser, the Texans were wild on the free throw line and missed many chances closing in from the field. In addition, Butler and Clement went out on fouls in the second period.

The slow breaking Idaho quieted held control of the game all the way and permitted the Nebraskans to make on real threats against the early lead. Fore, Idaho center, counted 14 points.

DRIVERS MUST GET LICENSES DURING MONTH

Deadline Will Not Be Extended This Year

If you can believe the applicants, there are only perfect drivers in Gray county.

Gray county drivers do not drink, have no major disabilities, can distinguish colors, and all can read road signs at a glance.

But perhaps the imperfect drivers are delaying their request for drivers' licenses. Fewer than half of the driver's licenses required by April 1 have been obtained at the courthouse office of F. E. Leech, tax assessor-collector. Issuance of automobile licenses has barely begun, although on those, too, the deadline is April 1.

There will be no extension of deadline this year. The new highway patrol is being increased in personnel in this area. On April 2, according to Inspector R. H. Routh, the motorcycle officers will begin asking motorists to show their licenses. Failure to possess a license is a misdemeanor of the same rank as failing to have license plates. Complaints will be filed in justice courts and county courts.

"Not hard-boiled, but firm" is the policy of the state department. Unless citizens begin taking out the two licenses in great numbers, the congestion will be terrific within 10 days. So far, no person has been denied a license. Under the new state law, almost anyone can obtain a license, but a driving mistake results in cancellation or suspension of license.

Licenses are issued only in the county of residence.

'CONDITION' TO DISCUSS PEACE TURNED DOWN

FLATLY REJECTS PLAN TO TALK ABOUT PROPOSALS

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY.
(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 16.—Pierre-Etienne Flandin, foreign minister of France, today presented a resolute condemnation of Germany for violation of the Locarno treaty to the League of Nations council which, earlier, had refused consideration of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's peace proposals.

Six nations, headed by France, in secret session, agreed today to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's demands for equality but flatly rejected his "condition" that the council must discuss his peace proposals.

Hitler had offered to send a representative to the council's deliberation on Germany's demilitarization of the Rhineland only on a basis of full equality in the conference and with the understanding that his recent offer of new peace pacts would be considered.

The council then voted unanimously to accept Hitler's first condition and reject the second.

Earlier in the day, members of the council sought to clarify Hitler's reply to the invitation to send a representative to the council. Clarification, it was said, centered in just what was meant by the word "equality" contained in the telegram Joseph A. C. Avenol, secretary-general of the league, received from Hitler last night.

The German embassy in London, while the British cabinet was considering the situation, informed the foreign office that the correct translation of the word is "in due course" instead of "forthcoming," as the council secretariat officially translated it.

The new translation puts a modified interpretation on Hitler's condition for sending a representative to the council's session.

Hitler's reply originally was interpreted to mean that he demanded

Operators of Carbon Black Plants Testify

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—Operators of carbon black and gasoline extraction plants in the Panhandle, testifying in a railroad commission hearing here today, protested classification of certain wells as gas producers.

E. C. Smith of Shamrock, representing the Buckeye Gasoline company, said that if wells from which the company draws supplies were classified as gas wells, the commission restricted under strict proration schedules its carbon black and gasoline extraction plants would be compelled to shut down.

Asserting a minimum of gas for practical operations was being "popped into the air," he testified the gasoline plant, operating on 30 per cent capacity, used about 15,000,000 cubic feet daily, and the carbon black plant, 8,000,000 cubic feet.

Other witnesses giving similar testimony included Carl Gilmore, representing the Aerline Gasoline corporation, and H. L. McLaughlin, representing the Piny Oil & Gas company. Senator Clint Small of Amarillo appeared as attorney for them.

The law requires wells with a ratio of more than 100,000 cubic feet of gas to one barrel of oil shall be classified as gas wells. The commission seeks to determine the proper classification.

THE COPYRIGHT BILL

When an author has produced a great book or a composer an excellent piece of music, the rights to it ought to belong to him as much in one country as another. This is the premise on which the Berne convention of 1887 established the international copyright union, which since then has extended mutual copyright protection among most of the nations of the world.

The most recent revision of that convention, made in 1928 to bring it up to date, remains, however, unratified by the United States. An American author or publisher, to prevent possible pirating of his work abroad, must make separate registration in each country, so far as its laws authorize. Membership in the copyright union would mean that the author of a work in the United States would automatically be protected against infringement in any of the forty-five present member countries.

The Duffy bill to provide among other things for adherence to the Berne convention was passed by the Senate last summer and is now before the House of Representatives Committee on Patents. It represents a modernization of the copyright code, besides the international aspect, it proposes important changes in the interests of authors and artists.

It would make the copyright belong to the author and not to the publisher of his work, would extend the copyright to a single term of 56 years instead of the present renewable 28-year term, and would afford the "right of divisibility"—that is, the writer could sell book rights to a publisher, serial rights to a magazine, moving picture rights to a producer, and so on, all from a single copyright.

These points are covered also in an alternative bill urged by Representative William I. Sirovich, chairman of the Patents Committee, but the Sirovich bill does not provide adherence to the Berne convention. Due to the Trammell amendment to the Duffy bill, both would require an American printing of a foreign work before it could be copyrighted in the United States—a clause of doubtful benefit to American publishers and one that might partly nullify the effect of adherence.

The most sharply contested difference between the two bills, however, is a point quite unconnected with these leading features of the legislation. It has to do with the inclusion or omission of the present $250 minimum fine for infringement. The fine is insisted upon in the Sirovich bill as an indispensable protection to popular music writers represented in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. It is opposed by broadcasters and operators of places of amusement, who allege it is used by the ASCAP as a lever to exact excessive charges and who carried their point in the Senate bill.

No one wishes to deprive song writers either of their fair reward or to see the users of their product overcharged, but it does seem as though Congress should be able and entitled to bring about some compromise or decision on this point so as to proceed with the important business of extending better protection to authors, composers and artists in the use of their works at home and abroad.—Christian Science Monitor.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The NRA is down to its last 500 employees and they'll all be gone by the end of this month, when the Blue Eagle formally ascends into bird heaven.

Few of the remaining workers will be on hand at the end. Most of them have "accumulated leave" and want to take it while still on the payroll. Others, however, will struggle earnestly until the last moment with the series of postmortem studies on which NRA has largely been engaged since the Schechter decision last May.

Obsessing this latter group is much heavy speculation as to whether Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper will undertake to censor or suppress sections of the forthcoming reports on industry, labor, code administration, trade practices, price-fixing and other items covered by the studies.

It was Roper, you'll remember, who inherited the NRA carcass in the end, even though General Johnson had driven him from the hen-yard in earlier and more exciting days.

Some of the reports will be valuable and well done, others comparatively soapy. None of the higher-ups appears to have taken a sincere interest in an able scientific survey of the industrial situation and the lessons and facts learned through NRA.

Nevertheless, much good factual material has been assembled for use of the President and Congress as they consider innumerable bills fostered by industry—all of which ask for practically everything except a federal hand in labor relations.

Some aspects of the reports will be sensational and some of the men who have written them are so interested in their work that if Roper tries to censor them he probably will cause more publicity for those aspects than otherwise would be the case.

Theoretically, the plan is to make many mimeographed copies of the studies available, but certain industries oppose publication. Especially they object to revelations as to pricing, financial structures, corporate organization, and certain trade practices. And to such juicy materials as that which will show how corporation managements have enriched themselves enormously at the expense of both customers and investors.

Studies were begun of industries employing 13,500,000 persons and with annual sales of $66,000,000,000. Many of these studies have been curtailed, but there will be important reports on automobiles, coal, lumber, paper, fertilizer, electrical manufacturing, iron and steel, textiles and tobacco.

Squabbles between industrial-minded and labor-minded or consumer-minded NRA employees have persisted to the last. The Labor Studies Section was treated shabbily from the beginning and half its original 70 workers were assigned to other jobs.

The section on trade practices had about 200. It now has 11 employees. Anti-labor and anti-New Deal men have been used to review labor studies, it is charged, and it is possible to find marginal notes of criticism by superiors, such as the following on a study of working hours: "Re-employment only one angle. Probably least important."

That will interest you especially if you recall the good old idea that NRA eventually would eliminate unemployment through shortening of hours.

"Joe Louis' trainer faces trial on charge of assault." Joe's trainer! That's justice for you!

Strikers Go Back To Building Jobs

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Tenants of 2500 buildings, hampered by a two-week service without welcomed strikers back to work today while arbitration machinery was put in motion for a final settlement.

The end of the strike came yesterday when union leaders and landlords compromised their differences and agreed to immediate re-employment of strikers and arbitration of wage and hour demands.

Both sides hailed the settlement as a victory. The union pointed out that it had won reinstatement of strikers while the building operators won a retention of the open shop.

Leading society women and social workers joined in a statement appealing to the public to support the demands of the 12,000 women employed in New York's hotels, declaring investigation showed the average chambermaid receives $10.58 for a seven-day week.

Signers included Mrs. John Boettiger, daughter of President Roosevelt.

CAPACITY CROWD EXPECTED AT FARNSWORTH-PHILLIPS TILT WEDNESDAY

CHAMPIONSHIP OF PANHANDLE TO BE DECIDED

OCHILTREE QUINTET IS UNDEFEATED BY A TEXAS TEAM

Followers of independent basketball in this section are at the season's top heat as the Phillips basketball game between Phillips of the South Pampa field and Farnsworth, Ochiltree county's crack independent team, draws near. The local high school gymnasium, scene of the battle Wednesday night at 8 o'clock with admission 10 and 25 cents, is expected to be filled to capacity.

A number of fans will accompany the Farnsworth team here. The Phillips Petroleum company will turn out in record numbers it has been announced. The Phillips 66 club, sponsor of the team, will attend in a body. LeFors, Skellytown and Borger will also be represented. McLean will be present since two of the Phillips aces were former McLean high school stars.

The game is for the independent championship of the Panhandle, each team claiming the right to be titled and their claims not being challenged by any other team, the two got together and decided on a sudden death game to be played in Pampa. Past, deadly basketball is in prospect and no one envies Coach Carl Mouldin of Borger his job as referee.

Each team lost only two games during the season. Farnsworth fell twice before the Goodwell Aggies, but defeated 32 other strong teams. Phillips, starting late, won 22 and lost 2 games. The losses were to Shamrock, by one point, and Skellytown, by two points. Both losses were avenged by lopsided scores.

Phillips will be without Jack Bacucus, big guard who was a sensation all season. Weston will replace Bacucus with Smith starting at forward with T. Windom. Slim Windom will be at center and Christian at the other guard job.

Picard, Sarzen Contest in Finals

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Henry Picard and Gene Sarzen, with their amateur partners, contested today in the 36-hole final of the second annual national amateur-professional match play golf championship at the St. Augustine links.

Sarzen and Mallie Reynolds of Jacksonville, Fla., defeated the team of Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., Pro, and Charles Whitehead of South River, N. J., 3 and 1, in the 36-hole semi-finals Sunday.

In the other semi-final match Picard and Jack Cummins, former Cleveland district amateur champion, disposed of Orville White of St. Louis and Scottie Severly of Thomasville, Ga., also by 2 and 1.

Fifteen tons of data has been gathered by the University of Chicago library on state, county and local governments.

Metcalf Is Choice To Win Track Honors At Olympics

'PROSPERITY' IS WORST FOE OF GREAT SOX

(Editors note: This is another of a series outlining major league prospects.)

BY PAUL MICKELSON, Associated Press Sports Writer.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Boston's million-dollar Red Sox must beat one of the toughest "pitchers" of them all to make good their boast of running away with the American league pennant this year.

They have to bat—and bat hard—against prosperity.

Except for a question or two about the pitchers, who give every indication of coming through, the team has championship class written all over it. But can it stand prosperity, pull together and keep going at full steam?

Most experts believe the team, like an all-star aggregation, will get lazy and lose its chance to a hustling club like Detroit or Cleveland. Manager Joe Cronin insists they are wrong.

Here at Sarasota pervades probably the most aristocratic atmosphere in baseball training camp history. Meals are served in full courses, the players are cheered like transatlantic heroes when they drill.

Cronin has made a flat prediction he has the team to beat.

"Let them take pot shots at us, let them hoot and holler," he said. "We've got the best team in the American league and we think we are going to win the pennant, so why try to walk around with bear stories on our lips?"

"Furthermore, I don't see where they get the idea that we have an old men's club here. Of the probable regulars, Manush is the only man over 30, except for Walberg and Grove. I'll come out right now with the prediction that we think we can win in 1936, '37 and '38. We've got a young ball club and we're building for the future—not just for 1936."

Cronin is planning on Grove, Wes Ferrell, Johnny Marcum, and Fred Ostermueller to make up his "big four" among the pitchers. Joe Casarella, Walberg, Johnny Welch and Manuel Salvo probably will complete the hurling corps.

The Red Sox probably will open the season with this lineup: Mel Almada, Dusty Cooke or Art Graham, field; Roger Cramer, again sweet to field; Manush, left field; Fox, first base; Cronin, shortstop; McNair, second; Bill Werber (still a holdout), third, and Rick Ferrell, catcher.

"Werber will sign up all right," said Cronin, "but if he shouldn't, John Kremer might be a capable substitute there."

MEALS ARE SERVED IN FULL COURSE AT SARASOTA

BY ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette graduate student whose flying feet slipped upon the threshold of Olympic contest four years ago, is the outstanding choice of America's foremost track coaches for international honors in the Berlin games this summer.

"Metcalf should breeze in this time," says Robert (Dink) Templeton, Stanford's coach, in picking the runner who has captured seven out of eight available national outdoor sprint titles in the past four years.

"The big negro is coming along without the strain of a college season, just as Eddie Toland did in 1932. Metcalf's powerful physique will carry him through the grind and make him this country's best bet to retain sprint supremacy."

But what about Ohio State's Jesse Owens, who equalled the world's 100-yard mark of 9.4 and lowered the 220-yard record to 20.3 seconds in one dazzling afternoon of unprecedented performances last spring, or Eulace Peacock, Temple's holder of national broad jumping as well as 100-meter honors?

Templeton doubts if Owens, less rugged than Metcalf, can withstand the pressure, especially on heavier European tracks. He rates the buckeye bullet "tops" in the broad jump. Other coaches, including Bernie Moore of Louisiana State and Dean Cromwell of Southern California, bracket Owens with Metcalf for the Olympic sprints. His own mentor, Larry Snyder, says:

"Owens will run the 100 meters, 200 meters and will broad jump, if the final tryouts are arranged so that he will not have to run too many heats in the dashes. He will need to broad jump only on Friday to clinch a place, if he is as good as he was last year (when he leaped to a world record of 26 feet, 8 1/4 inches). That will enable him to concentrate on the sprints on Saturday. The Olympic program is so spread that he can easily compete in the three events if he qualifies and he will qualify."

In any event it appears the American negro's dominance of world sprint championships, first established in 1932 at Los Angeles, will continue. Four years ago, diminutive, bespectacled Eddie Toland, graduate of Michigan, scored an Olympic "double," beating Metcalf by an eyelash in the 100 meters and capturing the 200 easily, with George Simpson of Ohio State second and Metcalf, victim of a bad start, running third.

Toland has since turned professional.

California's George Anderson, 1. C. 4-A, 100-meters champion, will be a brilliant record for a 19-year-old sophomore last year. He was undefeated in 28 races in Europe. He is unusually strong and will go after both 100 and 200 meters but his best race is the longer distance. He should improve this year.

The South has two possibilities in Herman Neugass, the Tulane star who has been clocked in 9.4 for 100 yards, and Bobby Packard, university of Georgia freshman. Chick Wallender, Texas star, and Poy Draper, diminutive Southern Californian, also are prospects.

(Tomorrow: 400 and 800 meters).

Beer-Trained Oxford Amazons Win Crew Race

LONDON (AP)—Oxford's husky beer-trained Amazons, averaging a well-curved 141 pounds, again swept to victory over the Cambridge women's crew in their annual rowing match on the Thames river.

It was the first time they had fought it out side by side, previous races having been rowed by time tests because, as one was explained, "it was feared they would stop rowing and take to hair-pulling if they got close enough."

The Oxonians, breezing over the half-mile course in 2 minutes 15 seconds, won by a length to score their third straight victory. They rowed in an 8-year-old second-hand shell that cost $60.

Unlike the richly financed men's crews, the women blade-pullers receive little monetary encouragement. They have to get along on $100 a year, but they train religiously. Smoking, "heavy dating" and French pastry are major crimes.

No gun was used in starting the race. One of the Oxonians said she was afraid the bark of a gun might make her faint. So the starter just said, "One—two—three—go!"

The whole crew trained on beer—except Miss E. I. George, No. 4, who refused point-blank. "I don't like the taste of it," she says. "It may make you urinate, but I'd rather keep my feminine charm."

The Oxford eight weighed a total of 1,127 pounds, the heaviest 155 pounds and the lightest 132.

Emporia, Kansas, put its water wagon in service this winter to carry water when mains froze.

Colorado Fears Wheat Damage

LAMAR, Colo., March 16 (AP)—Farmers of southeastern Colorado's "dust bowl" looked over their fields today to check on what possible damage yesterday's severe dust storm may have done to the young wheat crop.

The storm, swooping out of the northwest with an intensity said by residents to have been greater than any since last year's disastrous "black blizzards," exerted its sand-blasting powers as it whipped across the prairie. Farmers feared that many of the tender green wheat shoots which are coming up may have been broken off by the abrasive winds.

Visibility was reduced to zero at the height of the storm.

FINE WEATHER PREVAILS FOR CITY GOLFERS

85 OUT SUNDAY; KIDD BURNS UP COURSE WITH 65

Pampa golfers are jubilant. They believe they are going to get a weather break this year. For three consecutive Sundays they have been able to play golf and that was unusual even in the middle of last season.

Yesterday was the best day of the year. Eighty-five local golfers played with Gentry Kidd burning up the course with a 65 after carding a 66 on Saturday afternoon. Kidd shot five consecutive birdies and missed a sixth by an inch.

Golfers like the course since changed to make the old front nine, with one exception, the present front nine. Old No. 18 is now the first hole with old No. 1 being No. 2. Old No. 9 hole is now No. 10 and old No. 10 is No. 11. The change makes the front nine par 36 with the back nine par 35.

A free adult golf school will be started soon by Del Love, club professional. He will release the opening date soon.

PHILLIPS CLUB HEAD WILL BE COUNTRY DAVIS

SQUAD OF 40 PLAYERS WILL BE CUT TO SIXTEEN SOON

By JERRY MALIN, Sports Editor, Amarillo Globe-News

AMARILLO, March 15—Country (Cordwood) Davis, rollicking, hard-hitting hero of many a minor league baseball battle, will manage the Amarillo Phillips '66 semi-pro baseball team this summer. He was signed officially yesterday.

Davis, who will tell you reluctantly that his first name is Wilbur, has had a diamond career that left emblazoned across the country a record as one of the leading hitters ever to take a toe hold in the minors.

Starting out with his very first professional contract as a mere boy, Country enjoys the distinction of having started his baseball at the top. In 1914 he was given a chance as a pitcher by Connie Mack and stuck with the A's for two years.

Switched to First

After discovering he enjoyed smacking the ball better than throwing it for others to hit, Davis came up as a first-class first baseman in 1923. From the time he tagged his first man at the initial sack, Country's clouting proclivities began to become famous.

At Okmulgee, Oklahoma, Davis was on pennant winning teams in 1923-24. In his last year there, he whammed 55 home runs besides leading his league in hitting. He next played for Sacramento, California, in the Pacific Coast league, and in 1927 was purchased by the New Orleans Pelicans in the Southern Association.

Davis was the big gun in the Pelican's attack and the pennant charm that seemed to follow the husky hitter around the country worked again, for New Orleans, won the 1927 and '28 Southern Association championships. In 1927 Country hit 380 to lead the league.

Starred at Dallas

The pennant-hungry Dallas Steers in the Texas league paid cold cash for Davis in 1929 and forthwith won the Texas loop pennant as Cordwood continued flagging 'em out at first and busting the fences with his over-sized bludge.

Reading in the International league bought Davis from Dallas and Country continued his amazing hitting. Jimmie Collins, now Card first baseman, beat Davis for the International batting title in 1930 by a hair-lined margin.

Davis ended up as a bossman in the Eastern league, but when that circuit folded up, he became a free agent and organized a traveling team of his own.

Last year, Country was manager of the Bentonville nine in the Arkansas State League.

This year the hard-skinned veteran will hold the destiny of Amarillo baseball in his huge, iron-tendon hands.

Elated Over Job

Cordwood, who still oozes with the personality that made him once among the most feared batsmen in the minor leagues, is elated beyond expression over the opportunity here.

"We've got over 40 ball players on the list right now," beamed the muscular, rawboned vet as his eyes sparkled like they must have those many years ago when Connie Mack sent him to the mound for the first time. "It's going to take a real ball club to hold us. Why, man, we've got power there. I never saw so much on one club. If the pitchers come up to the standard of the rest of the squad, nobody's ball club is going to shove us around."

With Davis firmly and happily in the saddle, the Phillips boys will be busy from now on out getting in shape. The squad will be cut to around 16 players and a

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PETERSBURG—Rumors were rife today that Charley Ruffing, Yankee holdout, was about to come into the fold. He drove over to the field yesterday and Manager Joe McCarthy stuck his head in the window of the twirler's car and had a long talk with him.

CLEARWATER—Commissioner Landis, Will Harridge, W. G. Bramham and Bob Quinn were in the stands yesterday as the Tigers beat the Dodgers 5-3. They probably heard the imprecations heaped on Umpire Charlie Moran by the Dodgers who thought bum decisioning cost them the game.

PHILLIPS CLUB HEAD WILL BE COUNTRY DAVIS

SAN ANTONIO—The Pirates were in for a light workout today in making ready for the first barnstormer with the Chicago Cubs tomorrow. Arky Vaughan, champion slugger of the National league, got three hits in five trips to the plate in an intra-camp game yesterday.

ORLANDO—Sensational outfield catches by Stone, Powell and Hill were credited with preventing the Phillies from taking the lead thrice in yesterday's game, won by the Senators 5-3.

LOS ANGELES—The Chicago Cubs were away on the first leg of their exhibition tour which will lead to Florida and back to Chicago. The next stop is San Antonio, Tex., where the National league champions meet Pittsburgh Tuesday and Wednesday. Pitcher Hugh Casey has been sent to Los Angeles on option.

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIEZE, Associated Press Sports Writer.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Charlie Dressen must be superstitious. Before he'd hole the Reds in the Florida over in Tampa he made sure the hotel not only didn't have a 13th floor, but no rooms tagged with the supposedly unlucky number, as well.

These reports that the Yankees will get Frank Higgins from the Athletics have flared up again. . . . Neither Washington Senators are so cocky they are betting 2 to 1 they'd lick the Boston Red Sox Saturday. . . . Bill Terry has an idea Hank (Ach Du) Leiber will be in the fold before the end of the week. . . . Connie Mack is finding time to hit the magazines with some dandy baseball stuff.

Notes of the Reds: Larry McPhail wired Ernie Lombardi and Babe Herman to come in and talk it over at the club's expense. . . . Neither Hank nor the colored lad gave him any independent they are. . . . However, Larry gets some cheer out of the fact that every reserved seat for the Reds' opener has been sold for weeks. . . . Jack Ryder, veteran baseball expert of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is starting his thirty-third year following the Reds. . . . Kiki Cuyler has been campaigning regularly in the majors since 1923, but until he went to Cincinnati last year he's never been with a club that finished lower than third.

The latest dope we have is that Hank Anderson of North Carolina State may be the next Southern conference coach to hike for greener pastures. . . . They say President Graham would personally investigate the case of every football player at North Carolina. . . . John Henry Lewis must be better than a lot of us thought. . . . Joek McAvoy isn't any slouch in the ring. . . . Still the colored lad gave him good trimming. Must have been quite a jolt to McAvoy who had bouts with Jack Peterson and Joe Louis in mind. . . . Improved conditions in German agriculture have increased sales of farm machinery.

Arkansas Files Protest Against Olympic Action

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 16 (AP)—University of Arkansas officials protested today against playing Western Kentucky Teachers college of Bowling Green in the semi-finals of the Olympic basketball trials at Memphis March 25.

Business Manager Boyd Cyperst alleged Coach Glenn Rose made the protest. Both said it was not "fair" for the team in one district to be forced to go through an elimination tournament while the team in another was selected by the district chairman.

Arkansas won the Southwestern Elimination tournament at Houston for the right to represent district 3. There was no tournament in district 3. Coach Adolph Rupp of the University of Kentucky, district chairman, selecting Western Teachers for the Memphis clash.

PHILLIPS CLUB HEAD WILL BE COUNTRY DAVIS

SARASOTA, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Branch Rickey still insisted on the "loyalty oath" from Dizzy Dean today.

The St. Louis Cardinal vice president, discussing the Dean holdout situation, said he had not receded from his position that Dizzy's attitude toward his work and his team spirit constituted the issue.

Rickey asserted the difference of opinion over the pitcher's baseball pay is a lesser matter.

"I will not say how high the Cardinals will go but the salary is not the issue," he said.

In his opinion, he said, Dizzy had not shown the right spirit toward the ball club's welfare and declared the pitcher must promise Manager Frank Frisch the fullest cooperation.

Dizzy, at his home here, has said he "could not understand why such accusations were made as I've always given my best efforts to the club and everyone knows it."

He is holding out for $40,000.

Buffaloes To Play Today In Denver Meet

DENVER, Mar. 16 (AP)—Big guns of the National AAU basketball tournament will be wheeled into action tonight.

Two of the teams favored to take the 1936 championship away from the Santa Fe Trails of Kansas City will clash with their initial opponents of the basketball marathon—the Denver Safeways with the Marine Corps outfit from San Diego, Calif., and the Globe Refiners, McPherson, Kan., with Royal Hearts, St. Louis.

The defending champions won't get started until tomorrow. Their first adversary is the winner of the Phillips University-Western State, Colo., college game, slated for 2 p. m. today.

The California "Devil Dogs" put on an entertaining show of smart basketball in beating Oberlin, Kan., 54-42, yesterday.

The tournament favorites, the Kansas City Philcos, led by Chuck Hyatt, one of basketball's greatest showmen, open play tomorrow, meeting the winner of today's West Texas Teachers-Arkansas Teachers fray.

Ten first-round games were left on the schedule today.

Dr. James A. Naismith of the University of Kansas, inventor of the cage sport, will be honored tonight in ceremonies with all the tourney teams taking part.

pretty course. It had some body to it. But it's been blowing back and forth so much now that it's about worn out."

"After a trip similar to the one which resulted in the above statements, another writer (A. P.) painted a pessimistic picture. His story included:

"Only about one thing is needed," said H. H. Fennell, regional conservator for the soil conservation service.

"We need the 100 per cent cooperation of the farmer."

Fennell has what he contends is conclusive evidence that the southwest's great "blow bowl," lately the "dust bowl," is not going to become a land of worthless sand dunes.

"With normal moisture, from one to four feet of rich top soil. "We can even restore that land," Fennell said.

Cost is a big item in the government fight but Fennell's crews recently stored some "sand dunes," land to cultivation for as low as 45 cents an acre. Even after it is leveled, however, the government men said prevention methods must be practiced.

One of the principle objectives is to hold moisture on the soil. "With normal moisture, from 15 to 20 inches a year, this country can raise enormous crops," Fennell said. "Even under drought conditions, fair crops can be raised."

At the Oklahoma Panhandle experiment station, near Goodwell, Harley Daniel, acting director, said (terracing will increase yields as much as 170 per cent. The cost of the improved methods will be more than repaid to a farmer over a 10-year period, he said.

Hundreds of farmers are adopting the new methods.

SERGE MDIVANI IS KILLED IN POLO ACCIDENT

MOUNT COLLIDES WITH FAMED TEXAN'S HORSE

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Death in a polo game gave a final dramatic touch today to the colorful life story of 33-year-old Prince Serge Mdivani, one of the widely known "marrying Mdivani" brothers.

While his bride of less than six weeks, the former Louise Astor Van Alen of Newport, R. I., collapsed at his side from the shock of grief, Prince Serge died yesterday a few minutes after he was kicked on the head by his horse from which he had fallen.

The tragedy, recalling the death of his brother, Prince Alexis, in an automobile accident in Spain a few months ago, occurred at the Delray Beach polo field.

Prince Serge's bride, one of America's outstanding socialites, was the divorced wife of Prince Alexis.

In the match between his Georgians and the Texans, led by Cecil Smith, Serge attempted a daring maneuver. He cut his pony across the line of play for a difficult reach. His mount collided with Smith's and fell. Prince Serge struggled to his feet, was kicked in the head. Ten minutes later he died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Although informed at first that her husband's injury was slight, the princess rushed to his side. As physicians continued to work over him it started raining but the princess, drenched to the skin, stayed on the field until all hope was gone.

Most of the several hundred members of Palm Beach society who were watching the game left without knowing the prince was dead.

Mdivani's body was taken to Palm Beach to await funeral arrangements.

Prince Serge was born at Batoun, Georgia in Russia in 1902. His father, General Zahari Mdivani, was aide-de-camp to the Czar during the World war.

GERMANY

The negotiation of his peace proposals simultaneously with the discussion of his denunciation of the Locarno pact.

The new translation might mean that consideration of his proposals could come at a later date which might be acceptable to the French. Last night the French denounced Hitler's reply as impossible.

The German embassy explained that it communicated with Berlin and was informed that Hitler meant "in due time" rather than "immediately" and that the word "alsbald" was translated differently by north and south Germans.

The French delegates said they regarded the verdict of the secret session as a decisive victory for France.

French delegates said they regarded the verdict of the secret session as a decisive victory for France. League officials, immediately after the secret session, began drafting a message advising the German government of the decision which was made subject to ratification in public sessions.

It was said that the wording of the message would not slam the door completely shut in Germany's face although it would not contain any new invitation to Germany to attend the council sessions.

The vote was interrupted as tantamount to a qualified refusal of Hitler's conditions.

The council was agreed that Germany was entitled to sit in the council on an equal footing with the other Locarno powers—that is, without the right to vote.

The council ruled however, that the reichsfuehrer's proposals were a matter, not for the council, but for the signatories of the Locarno pact.

It was understood that the council decided to draft still another invitation to Germany to attend the League of Nations.

SEN. BLACK

Randolph Hearst, the American Liberty league and other special interests of this country succeed in preventing this committee from proceeding with its work, we may expect hereafter that when they object to some piece of legislation before the congress a marshal of the court may walk into the United States senate and serve a subpoena on the vice president.

Robert E. Smith, chairman of the national conference of investigators, was on the witness stand when Allen appeared. He stopped testifying.

Black smiled as he accepted the papers.

Smith testified many members of congress had been guests at his house in Washington during the last session of congress.

The statement brought a flurry of questions from Schwellenbach. He questioned whether the witness had let the congressmen know he was "paid by the power companies on the Pacific coast."

"They were not told your expenses were paid by power interests on the Pacific coast?" Schwellenbach asked. "They were invited the same way Rep. Ekwall (R., Ore.) invited me—to a friendly evening with friendly congressmen. Isn't that the way you got in touch with them?"

"Categorically I would say, no," Smith said, adding that the guests were "invited largely by western congressmen interested in reclamation."

"Did congressmen, who invited these other congressmen, tell them you were receiving money from the power companies on the Pacific coast?" Schwellenbach persisted.

"I couldn't say."

Ralph Walkup of Skellytown was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital Saturday for treatment of pneumonia. His condition was slightly improved this morning.

Mrs. Reese Green underwent a minor operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Byard Low were Amarillo visitors yesterday.

HITLER GIVES NEW FLAGS TO ARMED FORCES

BERLIN, Mar. 16 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, declaring Germany's armies "can never be conquered," conferred new regimental flags by decree on his armed forces today, on the first anniversary of Germany's rearmament in defiance of the Versailles treaty.

"The old armies' glorious career was cut short by the events of 1918," Der Fuehrer said in his decree, issued in his role as supreme commander-in-chief of the Reich's army.

"The gallant soldier whose spirit has been well tried in past centuries may be repressed in times of national misfortune, but they can never be conquered."

Trumpet calls summoned Berlin to the celebration of the first anniversary of Hitler's creation of a new army.

Garrison troops marched from their barracks through the Bandenburg gate into the west end of the
