TEX'S TOPICS

We can remember, as a boy, using grasshoppers for fish bait. Now it seems we never saw a real grasshopper until coming to the Panhandle.

Those we saw hopping on the streets yesterday reminded us of schoolyard pictures we had seen of jack-rabbits. If you were to use them for bait, one suspects they'd just naturally back all the fish into a corner from sheer fright.

The leaping orthopterous insects of the family Acrididae which dropped in on Pampa must have been a bit overgrown. They were so unusual that Mrs. Frank Allison reports that as she was on her way down town an aged man stopped her and insisted that she take a look at some of the specimens he had collected. The man had been around a long time, he opined, but never had he seen 'em so big as that.

Not being an authority on grasshoppers, we do not intend to go one way or the other to say they were large or small. However, if it were winter one suspects small boys would have lots of fun hitching them to their sleds.

On July 4 Texans will observe, along with the state's centennial year, the 160th anniversary of national independence.

Thousands of visitors will be in the state on the holiday and it is up to us to do everything possible to see that the day brings pleasure and not tragedy to our visitors and to ourselves.

This tip is gathered in advice from the state department of health. While there is certainly no desire to minimize the joys of the nationwide holiday, it is only common sense to respect hazards to life and limb, and to govern one's actions accordingly.

Not so many years ago the newspapers on each July 5 would publish columns detailing the tragedies that were invariably associated with the handling of dangerous fireworks by careless persons. For a number of years now, however, the press has been placing particular emphasis on the need of a safe and sane Fourth of July, with the result that accidents of this type have decreased.

All injuries, however slight, may carry the lockjaw or tetanus menace with them. Every wound should be cleaned thoroughly and all foreign matter removed. A physician should be consulted immediately, and tetanus antitoxin administered, if necessary, says the state warning.

Well, it's a good idea to obey the rules so that we may live to enjoy many other Independence days. Future happiness and health of your family may depend upon recognizing and carrying out the ordinary precautions.

Speaking of hot and cold weather:

The moon has no atmosphere to shield it from the sun's burning rays. In spite of the fact that its surface may have a temperature of 273 degrees when the sun is over head, the heat disappears with the sun, and on the dark side the temperature sinks to 307 degrees below zero.

Attention gold-diggers: Sea water contains on the average of four grains of gold per kilogram, according to the analysis of a German professor.

Today's Trivial Topic:

Figs can be the cleanest of all farm animals. In fact, they will not sleep in a matted-up bed unless compelled to do so, the little grunts.

The following is not original, but it is still good, withal:

A Seattle poet said he owed everything to the fact that he was sent to prison, whereas others are sent to prison because they owe everything.

TOPICS is practically convinced that this hot weather thing merely is a concoction of mind over matter. It seems we were much cooler Monday when it was 106 above than yesterday when it was only 88.

Try this some time: When you think it's at the hottest point, just lean back, close your eyes and visualize a wintry blizzard with the wind howling and smacking the snowflakes against the window pane. More than likely you'll have

Well, I always figured as how I had too much blood because my nose used to bleed, so I punny and gives him a quart. Funny thing now about that guy, it sort of made him sore because he's got my blood in him, and it sort of embarrasses the poor devil. At first he was as friendly as he could be, but now I just cross the street when I see him coming, to keep him from looking the way he does when he sees me. He don't owe me nothin' and I wish he'd ferget it, but the poor sap oughta know I don't expect nothin' outa him!"

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE FINCHES FORM THE WORLD'S LARGEST BIRD FAMILY... WITH MORE THAN 1,200 SPECIES AND SUB-SPECIES. TO IT BELONG SUCH GROUPS AS THE GRO-BEAKS, FINCHES, SPARROWS AND BLUNTINGS.

MODERN FOOD STORES

Turn your mind along the path of memory, and you may recall this childhood jingle: "A little fly flew past my door, Right into the grocery store. He ate so much jelly-cake, It made his little belly ache."

The verse says nothing about the bellyaches that afflicted humans after eating fly-blown jelly-cake and other foods, but there were plenty of them. The old-time grocery store, as a matter of fact, was an unsanitary marvel.

Contrast today's up-to-date grocery store with that of yesterday. Foods are protected by glass. Refrigeration keeps perishables in the best of condition.

In order to attract customers, stores have adopted the most sanitary display equipment. They put in show cases and refrigerators to protect and preserve foods.

So the fly that flies past your door today will probably fly past the grocery store also, and this will save him, and maybe you, a stomach ache.

COLLEGE MEN WANTED!

There is exceedingly good news awaiting the college graduates of 1936. More jobs are open for them than at any other time since 1931.

Robert F. Moore, secretary of appointments at Columbia University, points out for instance, that many business and industrial organizations were faced with "an alarming gap" in their personnel forces because of depression economics.

Whereas the top salary a young graduate could expect last year was $100 a month, compensation this year is $125 for the best positions and $100 for "average" jobs.

This represents the beginning of a foothold for youth. The absence of that foothold has been one of the great tragedies of the depression.

"BULLET PROOF" AIRLINES

Testifying before a Committee of the House of Representatives a short time ago, Colonel Gorrell of the Air Transport Association of America, recommended that the government spend the sum of $14,000,000 on airway aids, such as radio facilities, field lights, etc.

The airlines themselves are spending $15,000,000 over a two-year period in the interest of safety, even though many of them are operating at a loss.

In the light of the vast spending, $14,000,000 is an insignificant sum. Used to make the airways safer, it would give the country tremendous value for every dollar spent.

HINTS TO U. S. WOMEN

One of the things about the Republican national convention that most impressed James Bone, London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, was its lack of feminine leadership. In fact, after a careful study of the American scene on this and other occasions, Mr. Bone has concluded that women "generally seem to have no important part" in our politics.

"You don't even have many outstanding women who take leading parts in politics," said Mr. Bone. "In Great Britain we have women who have dominant positions in all parties. In Parliament we have women members who take a valuable part in the debates, including one of your fellow-Americans, Lady Astor."

All of which may be either a challenge or a strong hint to the women of America, just as they choose to interpret Mr. Bone.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

SUNNING THE BODY Through the effects of sunlight on the green coloring matter of vegetation (chlorophyll), inorganic (non-living) compounds are converted into organic compounds. These directly or indirectly serve as the food of all living animals.

To the human body, however, sunlight offers certain other advantages, some of which are psychological in nature and others physiological. In its various gradations, sunlight may soothe or irritate the human being. Thus, we are familiar with the calming effect of the dim, religious light of churches, and with the stimulating effect of the glare of the "Great White Way."

To the intense light of the tropics and of high altitudes is charged the nervous disorder frequently developed by those who gradually accustom themselves to the sun. The ill effects attributed to bad air and poor ventilation are due, in part at least, to the over-stimulation of excessive illumination.

But it is a universal conviction that sunlight is healthful. Man and many animals have an instinctive craving for sunlight.

The recent style for sun tanning has received medical approval. But tanning, to be fully beneficial, should be gained by graduated exposures, and not by a series of painful sunburns.

Those who want to tan their skin should begin by exposing the arms and legs for five minutes at a time morning and afternoon. The sunshine between 10 and 11 a. m. and between 3 and 4 p. m. is preferred to that of midday, when the sun is high. The duration of the exposure and the amount of skin exposed should be gradually increased. In this way within a week or so the body becomes acclimated, and the risk of being burned will decrease.

It was not an easy forty days to live through at first. Time hung heavy on her hands and again she was tempted to give up the struggle and go back to her disposition. But she stuck it out and when Easter Day came she found that imperceptibly she had built up a firm foundation for the future.

Exercises for the will and for the mind are not an old wives' tale. They do work, and little by little they need for them is once more being realized and preached. Self-discipline has suddenly been re-discovered and is being advocated as a new and modern invention.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By BERT SPURLIN
A "property man," at one studio for 10 years, sits in today for Robin Coons and tells about his work.

HOLLYWOOD—The prop man's work seems like the most interesting job on the lot to me. First, an explanation about what props are. Props are everything used or shown in a picture, outside of the furniture, drapes, carpets and lights.

Some pictures are "propgy" and others aren't. The "propgiest" picture I ever worked on was "The Trail of '98." Any kind of picture about former days is tougher than a modern picture. We had three baggage cars of props for "Trail," which was shot at Corona, Colo., and it was some hard work keeping track of everything.

Elusive, Those Horned Toads The two hardest props I've ever had to get were a horned toad for "Hallelujah" and a British engine for "Today We Live." I started trying to catch a horned toad when our train left Los Angeles, getting off at every stop across the country. When I got to Nashville I still didn't have one. I used to go out after dark and a British engine I finally got three toads. I kept them in my bathtub until the director, King Vidor, was ready for them. I put horns on them, but they didn't look so good. Finally a museum let us use some they had.

We were using an engine on a motorboat in "Today We Live," but it was blown overboard when nobody was noticing. I had to get another one in the Pacific. I tried to paint an old towel. No good. We spotted two British cruisers. I rowed over and finally got them to loan me one, but it was four times too big. I tried to double it up, and saw it to look like a small flag, but that also didn't serve. Next day, just before time to shoot the scene, we passed a lot of old wood floating in the water off Long Beach, and hung on it was the engine we had lost 12 miles away!

Looks Up 'Stealables' The prop man usually goes on the set an hour or more before the company call and gets things ready, uncovering furniture, dusting, testing lights, pulling shades, plugging bells and so forth, to see that everything is all right. He also gets out the "stealables" and puts them around where they belong. "Stealables" are hand props that have to be kept locked up when not being used.

It is the prop man's job to see that all props are returned after being used. He also has to keep everybody happy. Ninety per cent of the stars and directors are swell to the prop man. It's nearly always the extra people who try to get tough.

Governor Landon Rides Horse 17 Hands High Daily

TOPEKA, Kan., June 24. (AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon climbs up on a high horse to get most of the exercise that keeps him in physical trim.

The republican presidential nominee is an early to bed and early to rise fan and regularly walks the eight blocks from his home to office. He takes an afternoon canter on the big chestnut pumper he calls "Old Si." Si is almost 17 hands high; the average horse is about 15.

Landon's weight is about the same as when he became governor four years ago, about 170 pounds. He takes an outdoor workout when he has the time, and romps with his two small children on the same basis, "as I can." He aims at a sleeping schedule of 10 p. m. to 6 a. m.

The governor knows poker, pitch and pinochle but rarely has time for them in these days. He is a football and baseball enthusiast and has been a fisherman since his youth.

U. S. Fleet Has A New Commander

SAN PEDRO, Cal., June 24. (AP)—The United States fleet—greatest in the history of the nation—receives a new commander-in-chief today.

Amid the boom of cannon and the shrill piping of boatswains' whistles, Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn assumes the rank of full admiral and command of the fleet from Admiral Joseph Mason Reeves.

Hauling down his flag as vice-admiral from the Houston, temporary flagship of the scouting force, Admiral Hepburn, distinguished strategist, will turn over his present command to Rear Admiral William T. Tarrant.

Returned to the rank of rear admiral, the retiring commander will proceed to Washington for six months duty on the navy general board before being retired for age.

ORGY OF NOVELS By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH There was once a little girl who was an inveterate novel reader. She read one novel after another, neglecting work, fresh air and exercise for the sake of her dissipation.

Fortunately she lived at a time when people still "gave up" things for the good of their souls. Lent, for example, had a meaning, and sometimes performed a valuable function. It did in this case. No one inquired of a psychiatrist "Why does my child read so many novels? Is she escaping something? How can I uncover her secret sorrow?" Her father merely pointed out to her that she was indulging herself, and by her immoderate novel reading wasting time and energy and relaxing her mental and moral fiber. The little girl gave up novel reading during Lent.

It was not an easy forty days to live through at first. Time hung heavy on her hands and again she was tempted to give up the struggle and go back to her disposition. But she stuck it out and when Easter Day came she found that imperceptibly she had built up a firm foundation for the future.

MAKE SURE OF FOOD SAFETY

The United States Department of Agriculture, The Bureau of Home Economics and other authorities on food preservation and its relation to health agree that all perishable foods such as vegetables, meat, milk and fish should be kept constantly below 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

If you should find an electric refrigerator above 50 degrees you should defrost it, and if necessary adjust the cold control.

In rare instances it may be necessary to call your electric dealer for a service man. If your refrigerator is in the guarantee period this service is also free.

PHILLIPS HOPES TO PROVE TONIGHT 66 CLUB IS IN ROAD RUNNERS' CLASS

WOMEN TO BE ADMITTED TO STANDS FREE

PHILLIPS POINTING TO GAME FOR LAST 3 WEEKS

The Phillips baseball club from LeFors will have its big moment tonight at Road Runner park here when players cross bats with the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners for the first time. Game time will be 8:30 o'clock, with admission 40 cents for men and women admitted free if accompanied by a male escort.

For the last three weeks the Phillips boys have been pointing to a game with the birds. Fans started a rally for the team to meet. There were insinuations that the Road Runners were afraid to take on the Phillips clan after they had defeated Amarillo-Phillips, 2 and 1.

Manager Sam Hale and his birds decided differently and the game was matched Friday night, just before the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., fell before the Pampans. That victory made the Phillips gang look up and take notice.

Long practice sessions were held Monday and yesterday by the Phillips nine. The infield and pitchers were worked hard and long. Manager Eddie Pulliam was undecided who his starting mound artist would be after he had sent his three left-handers and two right-handers thru a final limbering-up workout. Rex Dilbeck, former Road Runner left-hander, appeared to have the inside track, however.

The crafty Road Runner manager was also silent about his hurling choice. Fans pick either Lee Dancy or Sam Gray to be the starting pitcher, although it was rumored about town this morning that a new hurler would appear in a Road Runner uniform tonight and that he might be the pitcher. He is a big fellow, young, with plenty of speed and a high hard one.

On Friday night, the Road Runners will be in Amarillo for a game with the Phillips Parrots of that city. The birds hold three victories over the Amarillo crew.

Mrs. Chandler Wins Round at Denver Tourney

DENVER, June 24. (AP)—A fellow golfer from below the Mason and Dixon line was the second to cross Marion Miley's path today as the Lexington, Ky., girl pushed the quest for her second successive women's trans-Mississippi title at the Denver country club.

Her second-round opponent was Mrs. Leon Solomon, Tennessee champion from Memphis.

Miss Miley was forced to shoot no better than one over par in attempting a 7-and-6 defeat on her first opponent, Mrs. J. L. Bailey of Emporia, Kas., yesterday.

Miss Miley's form in last year's finals, Patty Berg of Minneapolis eliminated Mrs. Channing Polson of Kansas City, 8 and 6. She faced Mrs. J. W. Phillips of Bartlesville, Okla., today.

Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, who tied with the 18-year old Minneapolis girl from the medal Monday at 74 strokes, was paired for the second round with Shirley Ann Johnson of Chicago, who won the only extra-hole match yesterday. She nipped Ann Sue Kennedy of Columbia, Mo., on the 19th green.

Mrs. Chandler, former Texas champion, made Mrs. Ben Grimes of Denver her victim by a 7-and-6 count.

Softball League To Close Halt With Skelly Leading

3 Teams Tied up For Second Place in Loop

The Pampa Playground ball league will close its first half schedule Friday with Skelly Oil in first place. The Oilers have won 14 games and lost 3 while their nearest opponent has won 11 and lost 5 with two games yet to be played against Skelly's single encounter.

After yesterday's games, three teams were in a tie for second place. King Oil and Coltex appeared to have the edge over Texas Company after the oilmen lost to Voss Cleaners. King and Coltex postponed their game because of the death of a King employee.

The winner of the postponed King-Coltex game will take the inside track in the betting since Texas will have to play Skelly in the final tilt. Teams in first and second places will play off for the first half championship before the second half of the schedule begins on July 7.

Voss Cleaners, with Partick hurling great ball, defeated Texas company, 4 to 0, with Stencil on the mound for the losers.

Phillips swamped Cities Service, 15 to 5, behind the great hurling of Dewey Campbell and Halbig were unable to silence the Phillips bats.

Skelly Oil had to come from behind to defeat the Baptists, 13 to 7. The churchmen held a 7 to 6 lead going into the sixth inning. Twenter and Eays divided hurling assignments for Skelly with Glazebrook and Bennett on the mound for the churchmen.

Methodists forfeited to the Christians and the King Oil-Coltex game was postponed.

League standing including games played yesterday and with one more game to be played by six teams and two games by the others:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Skelly Oil	14	3	.824
Cotex	11	5	.688
King Oil	11	5	.688
Voss Cleaners	11	6	.647
Phillips	10	7	.588
Cities Service	7	10	.412
Christians	4	13	.235
Methodists	1	15	.063

Schedule for Friday
 Coltex at Phillips.
 Christians at Cities Service.
 Methodists at Voss Cleaners.
 Baptists at King Oil.
 Texas at Skelly Oil.

Baer Stops His Clowning Long Enough to Win

TYLER, June 24. (AP)—Maxie Baer, former heavyweight champion, punched George Brown of Houston to the floor for a technical knockout in the fourth round here last night.

Baer, clowning all the way, put his 218 pounds behind three right smashes in the fourth and Brown's manager, each time Brown's managers waved the towel after the last slap-down. Brown weighed 198.

Eddie O'Day of Chicago scored a fourth round technical knockout over Paul Wilson of Tulsa and Steve Paddon fought a draw with Santos Del Gato.

INDIANS LOSE AND SENATORS WIN TUESDAY

GIANTS CONFOUNDING EXPERTS AGAIN IN NATIONAL

By SID FEDER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Presenting a couple of A-No. 1, dyed-in-the-wool mysteries of the major league—the Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators—who so far this season have been doing a flop-flop in form without rhyme or reason.

Your master-minding sleuth could make a full time job out of finding (1) what's keeping the Indians back and (2) what's holding the Senators up.

The Tribe, with a batting order that gives opposing pitchers the willies; and a hurling staff that was among the more effective in the league last year and a complete set-up that, on paper, figures to be battling it out with the leaders. Yet, the Tribe is playing just 500 ball, and at the moment, is about ten games off the American league pace.

On the other hand, the Senators, with only two regulars batting better than .300, the highest under .225, with pitching, which, except for Jimmy De Shong who was not with the club last year, is, if anything, less effective than it was for a sixth place team in 1935, and who generally weren't rated in the first division are up there on the trail of the second place Red Sox.

The Indians took it on the chin again yesterday, 8-6, from the weakest collection of Athletics Connie Mack has put together in years, to drop out of third place. At the same time, the Senators were clubbing St. Louis pitching all over the lot, while De Shong chalked up his ninth victory, 10-5, to move the Washingtons into third place.

The Red Sox, meantime, pulled up a game on the Yanks by nosing out the Tigers, 7-6, while the White Sox were drubbing the New Yorkers, 13-4.

While the Indians and Senators are confounding the experts in the American league, the New York Giants are doing the same in the National. Just about contented out of the race because of their recent apparent collapse, the Giants suddenly revived pitching and an equally sudden hitting spurt by old Travis Jackson made it two straight over the Pirates yesterday with a 3-2 decision.

The Cards and Chicago Cubs, meantime, continued their merry chase at the top of the list, the former pulling out a tough 3-2 win over the Phillies, and the Cubs, paced by Frank Demaree's three-run homer, stopping the blustering Boston Bees 8-6.

The Cincinnati Reds, behind some fine pitching by Wild Bill Hallahan, started sinking Dodgers off on another losing streak with a 3-0 shutout.

Emery, who won the Oklahoma amateur trophy last week, stepped into today's opening round, the "trans" with medal honors, the results of his even par 72 yesterday.

By tonight the field of 64 will be culled to 16, for second round matches this afternoon following immediately after this morning's first round of 18 holes.

Emery's first opponent today was Ted Adams, Kansas City. Goodman, the defending champion from Omaha, who shot 75, drew George Johnson of Wichita.

In the upper bracket with Goodman were Gus Moreland, Peoria, Ill., a former trans-mississippi champion; Leland Hamman, Paris, Tex.; Bob McCarty, Des Moines, Jack Mungler, Dallas, and Walter Blevins, Kansas City.

For company in the lower bracket, Emery had O'Hara Watts, Harry Todd and Reynolds Smith, all of Dallas, Grable Duval Jr., Kansas City, Rodney Blas Jr., Omaha and Johnny Dawson, Chicago.

TOURNEY PROCEEDS
 CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—Freddie Haas, Jr. of New Orleans, and Louisiana State university, the tournament medalist, opened another drive for the national intercollegiate golf title today against a Notre Dame sharpshooter, Louis Fehle. Haas regained the final of the 1935 tournament at the Congressional country club in Washington, D. C. but bowed to Ed White of Texas, 5 to 4.

BALLOTING ON GRID PLAYERS STARTS SOON

CENTENNIAL GAME TO BE SPONSORED BY DALLAS NEWS

DALLAS, June 24. (AP)—Forgive an unseasonable reminder, but balloting on those three college professional football games for early September starts July 1. . . . Fans the nation over are urged to cast vote; for favorite college stars for games at Dallas, Chicago and New York.

First of the three games is set for Soldiers field at Chicago Sept. 1, where Detroit's Lions, national pro champions, meet the Collegians and New York.

Six days later, Chicago's Bears, dethroned "money" players, clash under the lights of Dallas' Cotton Bowl with the nation's top college stars. . . . Three days later the New York Giants play still another college eleven at New York.

Texas' game, sponsored by the Dallas News and Texas Centennial corporation, will feature big names of the southwest, middle-west and Pacific coast. Athletic director Jimmy Stewart of Southern Methodist, has invited, and received affirmative replies from 15 stars. . . . Many of Stanford's stars, New Year's day heroes against Southern Methodist, have accepted.

Dallas and New York are working hand-in-hand with the Chicago crowd, originators of the idea. . . . Some of the collegians will come here; others will go east. . . . New York has agreed to a "hands-off" policy on Southern stars. . . . For the last time such stars as Bobby Wilford, Darrell Lester, John McCauley, Bill Wallace and Jimmy Lawrence will shine.

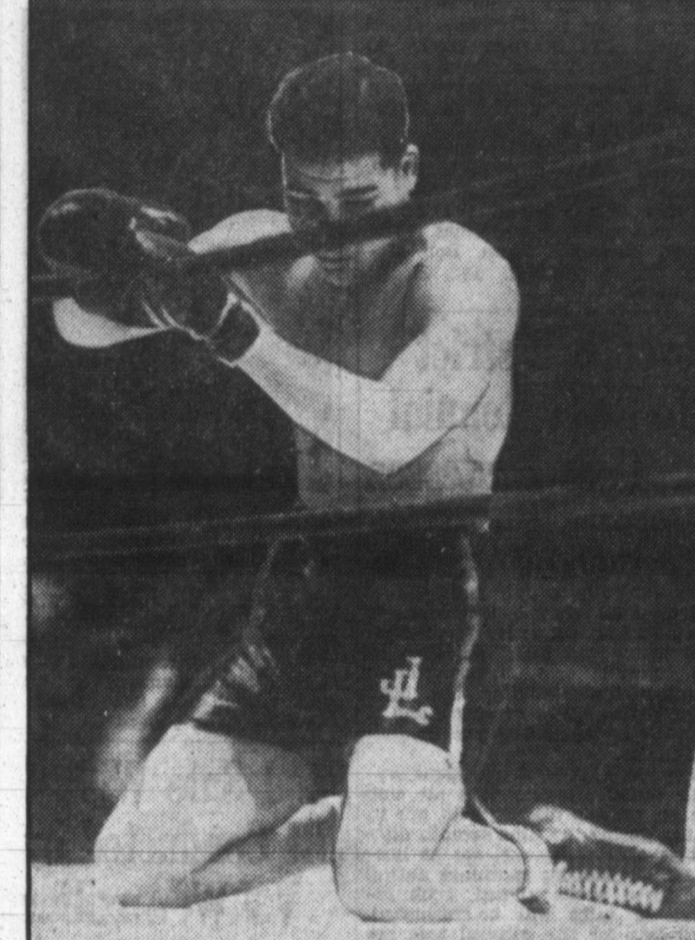

Notes may be mailed to the Chicago Tribune sports editor—after July 1. . . . Balloting on three coaches starts July 15.

This and That: Art Weis, the Texas League's 1935 batting champion, says he's had enough of baseball. . . . He stubbornly refused to report to San Antonio after a deal had been cooked up whereby the Missions would deliver a pitcher to Fort Worth in 1937. . . . The south-paw slugger, hitting .300, said he wanted to go home—St. Louis. . . . Strangely, he is being replaced by Jerry Moore, a youngster who quit baseball himself a few weeks ago and returned to his Pampa home from the Evangeline league.

Harvey (Chink) Wallender of Texas, and Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons, are Texas' two lone survivors in the Olympic trials. . . . Both will make the New York tryouts, Wallender in the 200 meter dash and Terry in the javelin toss.

Cats Win 8th of Last 9 As Shippers And Dallas Lose

At The End Of The Trail?

Ring experts—those same individuals who are hiding under beds after predicting that Max Schmeling didn't have a Chinaman's chance to knock out Joe Louis—indicate that the Bomber's surprise defeat marked the end of his ring career. The above picture, taken as Joe hung on the ropes after his knockout in the twelfth round, would influence such a belief. Bewilderment and resignation are written all over the Detroit Negro's heretofore impassive visage as he fumbles foggly for support.

Texan Still in Tennis Tourney

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—Sixteen survivors in the singles competition faced severe tests today as the national intercollegiate tennis championships went into the fourth round. . . . The fourth round on Northwestern university's clay courts. . . . Ernest Sutter of Tulane, top seeded star who yesterday disposed of Frederick C. Whitman of Princeton 6-1, 6-0, meets John Law of Stanford, while Vernon John of Southern California, regarded as a strong threat for the championship final, opposes Edgar Weller of Texas, who eliminated the tenth seeded player, Norman Bickel of Chicago, 6-3, 6-2, in an upset.

American Polo Team Trounces Great Britain

HURLINGHAM CLUB, LONDON, June 24. (AP)—Using a revamped lineup, America's polo team trounced Great Britain, 15 to 9, in the third and final game of the International series; the match was, in effect, an exhibition, for America had clinched the International trophy by winning the first two games of the series.

Tulsa Defeats Bucs With 9th Inning Score

(By The Associated Press)
 Today's games:
 San Antonio at Dallas.
 Beaumont at Fort Worth.
 Galveston at Tulsa.
 Houston at Oklahoma City. (All night games.)

The Beaumont Shippers, league leaders, and the San Antonio Missions, in seventh place, found themselves skating on pretty thin ice today. The Missions were but a half game ahead of the Fort Worth Cats, who won eight of their last nine games, and Beaumont found the Dallas Steers too close for comfort.

The spirited jockeying for position at both ends of the league standings was heightened in last night's games.

Garns got hold of one of Vic Fraser's tosses and slammed out a homer scoring two runs in the third inning to give the Alamo City club a 2 to 1 decision over the Steers in the nightcap of a double-header. Dallas won the first game 8 to 7.

Beaumont profited from San Antonio's victory in the second game, holding its league lead despite losing to Fort Worth 4 to 3. The Cats demonstrated their new-found strength, with a three-run rally in the seventh.

Jack Jakul, Galveston, flinger, and Max Thomas, on the mound for Tulsa, divided honors in a fine pitching duel—but Thomas seeped into one for a single in the ninth that scored the winning run for Tulsa. The score was 4 to 3.

Houston hung tenaciously to its fourth place rung after Jimmy Lyons, youthful southpaw pitcher his first game for the Buifs, manhandled the Oklahoma City Indians, 9 to 12.

How long should a man's legs be?

Long enough to reach from his body to the ground, said Lincoln. How big should a brewery be? Big enough to supply the demand, say we. How big should the demand be? . . . That's the public's say-so. Anyway, the public has said so often and so consistently, "Give me a bottle of Budweiser," that we had to build the largest brewery in the world to meet the demand. A hundred and ten buildings covering seventy city blocks! When you're in St. Louis, come and see us. Our guides will show you through. We know you like to buy Budweiser, but you may drink it here—on us

Styles change . . . customs change . . . but good taste never changes. People who know and understand beer always prefer a dry flavor... a mild suggestion of tartness. It was true centuries ago. It is true today. Hence the preference for Budweiser.

Come and see Budweiser brewed! Millions of people have visited this huge and efficient institution. Some of its individual departments are larger than most breweries. It can fill, seal and pasteurize 2,799,300 bottles a day.

BPW LEADERS FOR YEAR TAKE OFFICE IN FORMAL PROGRAM

CEREMONY IS CONDUCTED BY CANDLE-LIGHT

GUESTS ARE PRESENT AND CONTRIBUTE TO PROGRAM

Officers were installed to Business and Professional Women's club posts last evening with a formal program. Mabel Gee took office as president, succeeding Gladys Robinson, in a ceremony conducted by Clara Lee Shewmaker, state recording secretary. The club collect and emblem pledge were read in unison by members, and Lillian Jordan read the "last will and testament" of the retiring officers. Mrs. J. M. Dodson, soprano soloist, Mrs. Walter Coffey, reader, and Madeline Tarpley Rowntree, pianist, contributed to the program.

Teed punch and cookies were served afterward. The room was candle lighted and decorated with flowers, and members were in formal dress for the special program, most elaborate of the summer.

Guests were Mrs. W. R. Ewing, Miss Claudine Black, Miss Corene Worley, and those on program.

New officers, in addition to Mrs. Gee, are Mildred Overall, vice-president; Adeline Brazel, recording secretary; Dee Polson, corresponding secretary; Vera Lard, treasurer; Lillian Jordan, parliamentarian.

Chairmen of standing committees who also took office for the year are Ann Johnson, education; Ruby McConnell, finance; Oree Brock, health; Gladys Robinson, international relations; Ruth Brittain, legislation; Christine Cecil, social; Grace Pool, membership; Irene Irvine, public relations; Frances Stark, publicity; Mary Lou Downs, research; Clara Lee Shewmaker, magazine.

Members present, other than officers and committee heads, were LaVena Wooley, LaVerne Ballard, and Gerlie Arnold.

Miss Maudine Woodworth of Kingsmill underwent a major operation at Worley hospital here yesterday. She has been ill several weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woodworth. Mrs. A. C. Matthews of Brady was a guest in the Woodworth home and of other friends at Kingsmill and Pampa last week.

Pete McCarty was taken to his home from Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

MORNING PARTY AND LUNCHEON GIVEN TO CLUB

Tuesday Bridge And A Guest Enjoy The Games

Hostess at her home yesterday morning, Mrs. H. E. Carlson added a guest, Mrs. Reuben Weeks, to members of Tuesday bridge club for a bridge party followed by a luncheon. Summer flowers decorated the rooms.

Mrs. Jim White received the traveling prize, and Mrs. H. P. Elliott the award for high cut.

Other club members playing at the two tables were Mmes. Felix Stalls, Sherman White, Bob McCoy, P. C. Ledrick, and H. T. Hampton.

Seventh District To Be Centennial Club Hostesses

LUBBOCK, June 24.—Club women of seventh district will be hostesses at Centennial headquarters from July 6th to July 29th.

Centennial club headquarters is located in an attractive large room just inside the main entrance of the Travel and Transportation building. This building has been furnished at a cost of $3,600, and is complete as to comfort and modern equipment.

Mrs. W. P. Avriett, president seventh district, insists that all club women of this district who are in Dallas during the time seventh district is official hostess, act as hostesses. On Monday mornings during the three weeks allotted, book reviews or talks will be furnished. Programs for the cultural teas are to be furnished by Lamesa, Plainview, and Amarillo, on Thursday afternoons.

Women who have been requested by the president to appear on the morning programs are: Mrs. William Dingus, chairman, Texas writers; Lubbock; Mrs. S. E. Fish, first vice president, Amarillo; Mrs. Edgar T. Neal, chairman press and publicity, (original poems) Lubbock; Mrs. T. R. Pridoux and Mrs. E. L. Roberson of Lubbock have been selected to furnish program, on July 29.

Mrs. W. V. Jarratt, Sr., left yesterday for Oklahoma City where she will visit a son before returning to her home in Centerville, Tenn. She spent the past week with her son, W. V. Jarratt Jr., and Mrs. Jarratt here.

New 'Garbo'

American movie fans soon may come face to face with a new "Garbo" from Sweden—the lovely Ingrid Bergman, who at 18 has captured the hearts of European filmgoers. She hasn't yet reached the American scene, but notice that she seems to cast an alluring side glance this way, even though she has turned a charming back toward us.

BREAKFAST IS FOLLOWED BY BRIDGE PARTY

MRS. WILLIS IS HOSTESS YESTERDAY MORNING

Mrs. Newton P. Willis entertained with a breakfast and bridge yesterday morning at Schneider hotel, with four tables of guests. Tables were appointed in cool green and white, with pink carnations and dahlias adding a touch of contrasting color in the centerpieces.

In the bridge games after the delicious breakfast, Mrs. Bill Hoover made high score, Mrs. John Sturgeon low, and Mrs. C. N. Ochiltree received the traveling prize.

Other guests were Mmes. H. Schfer, LeRoy Miller, W. R. Ewing, Howard Buchingham, John Studer, Max Mahaffey, Frank Perry, R. M. Bellamy, Byard Low, Bert Curry, W. J. Smith, P. O. Sanders, Duke Cochran, and Don Conley.

PANGBORN POISED

LOS ANGELES, June 24. (AP)—Clyde Pangborn, "round-the-world flier, was poised today for a hop in his flying wing plane to Dallas, Tex.

"Nothing more than a routine flight to the Texas Centennial celebration," he said, adding he would not make it a speed test. Pangborn has tentatively planned a globe-girdling flight in his experimental craft.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Turner of McLean were Pampa visitors Monday.

Howard Retires As Chairman of Newspaper Chain

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—The retirement of Roy W. Howard as chairman of the board of directors of the Scripps-Howard newspapers was announced today.

At the same time, Robert P. Scripps announced the selection of William W. Hawkins, general manager, to succeed Howard as chairman.

"Mr. Howard, as second largest stockholder, continues as chairman of the executive committee and as president and editor of the New York World-Telegram.

"He is divesting himself of administrative responsibilities in order to associate himself more closely with Robert P. Scripps, the controlling stockholder, in purely editorial activities, especially those pertaining to national and international relationships.

"Mr. Scripps made it clear that there will be no change in the position of George B. Parker, editor-in-chief in direct charge of editorial policy."

DRY WEATHER FOR MID-WEST IS FORESEEN

FARMERS WATCH JUMP IN PRICES OF COMMODITIES

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—Farmers in the arid areas of the west watching farm commodity prices rise while crop prospects waned, faced continuation of hot, dry weather today.

Deeply concerned over the spread of the drought, they received more bad news from meteorologists. Generally fair and warmer conditions were forecast. Showers were regarded as probable only in the northern great plains section.

Market authorities cited the prevailing heat and lack of rain as the major factor in the advance of agricultural products to points at or near seasonal price peaks.

July wheat at Chicago passed the 95 cent mark yesterday. A year ago, the quotation was approximately 79 cents; a week ago 87 cents.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Leactives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

BARKLEY HITS HIGH COURT'S DESTRUCTION

FLAYS REPUBLICANS AS TORTURERS OF CITIZENS

PHILADELPHIA, June 24. (AP)—After roaring its approval of a keynote speech calling for a sweeping reversal of the supreme court's invalidation of New Deal policy, the Democratic convention plunged today into the thick of the struggle for harmony on the 1036 platform.

The delegates, with the convention hardly started, were already hoarse and footsore from the shouting, parading and singing with which they greeted Senator Alben W. Barkley's speech taunting the republican leadership and accusing the supreme court majority of "tortured interpretation" of the constitution.

Today they had something of a respite. After a brief routine session at noon they were "on their own" until evening, when Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, permanent chairman, will continue the assault on the New Deal's foes in a speech about 8 o'clock, C. S. T.

But there was little rest for the select company of delegates on the rules and platform committees. The former group was called together to hear arguments on the New Deal drive to abolish the two-thirds nominating rule.

Much of the opposition to this rule, requiring a two-thirds majority to nominate, had evaporated, but Virginia delegates were calling angrily on brethren from elsewhere to rally to save it.

The platform builders were summoned at 8 a. m. C. T. S. to hear multitudinous and clashing suggestions from almost every conceivable source.

Among them was a brand new threat to convention peace and concord. The Washington state delegation had instructed Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach to carry to the platform committee—and to the convention floor—a fight for a plank favoring the Townsend $20-month old age pension plan and "production for use."

Under the latter plan, the state would act to set up a system under which unemployed could turn out goods for their own consumption in factories now idle. Similar to Upton Sinclair's "epic plan," it is fraught with controversy. The convention contains clashing views on other issues also—such as money, labor legislation and foreign affairs. But new dealers held a commanding position on the platform committee and President Roosevelt's views brought here by Senator Robert Wagner of New York, were generally expected to prevail.

Observers drew from Senator Barkley's address the inference that the platform would contain no demand for a constitutional amendment. But he did project into the convention—and into the campaign beyond—a constitutional issue defined in the New Deal's own terms. He called for a new interpretation of interstate commerce—embracing every product destined to move across state lines. This would give the federal government regulatory power over labor and economic problems which the high court, says it now lacks.

Herbert Hoover had raised "hostilities" for "the tortured interpretation" of the constitution, Barkley said, but against them "I place the tortured souls and bodies" of men, women and working children.

Barkley assailed Governor Alf M. Landon, republican nominee, on the ground he fought insurance of bank deposits and once advocated printing press money. He said that back of "Herbert Hoover's cry for freedom" stood every interest "which seeks to coin the flesh and blood of human beings."

He recounted the Roosevelt record, and said that since 1933, the nation has recovered at an "astounding rate." The Barkley speech—picturing President Roosevelt as a man of "rare and superb courage" whom the people will be glad to re-accept—evoked new outbursts of tumultuous acclaim in a day studded with orations.

Rebel yells, shouts of glee, pell-mell parades of delegates grasping state standards and jauntily waving hats of all descriptions from Texas ten-gallons to copper creations from Utah—all these featured the session.

The delegates liked especially the way in which Barkley picked up the republican lament about "three long years" of Rooseveltism and hurled it back. He roared that "twelve long years" of republican rule culminated in "three long years" of "ruin" under Hoover.

Previously Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania had touched off a riotous parade with a declaration that he had once been a republican but had left that party because of "its leadership is controlled by the forces of predatory wealth."

SANTA ANNA'S WATCH

McALLEN, June 24. (AP)—Through efforts of Perry Clarke and J. C. Downing of McAllen, the silver watch carried by Santa Anna, "Napoleon of the West," at the battle of San Jacinto, is being displayed at the Texas Centennial exposition at Dallas. Rodney T. Crane, one of the three men who participated in the capture of Santa Anna, took the watch, which bears the general's name and a date engraved upon it. Upon Crafe's death in 1890, the J. B. Layne school at Aviley View received the token. Clark and Downing persuaded the school to place the relic on display.

BALLOON TAKES OFF

MINNEAPOLIS, June 24. (AP)—Professor Jean Picard's unmanned experimental balloon took off from Memorial stadium at 6:58 a. m., today, stratosphere bound on a scientific mission, expected to carry it from 10 to 14 miles above the earth.

TEXAS ROBBER STABS CAPONE AT ALCATRAZ

CLIMAXES ILL FEELING AMONG PRISONERS ON ROCK

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (AP)—Federal authorities here awaited an official report today from Alcatraz island prison before determining whether to prosecute James C. Lucas, Texas bank robber, for stabbing Al Capone.

United States Attorney H. H. McPike said he knew of no present plans to bring Lucas here for trial in the attack on the former Chicago gang leader, who was described as only superficially wounded.

"If Capone had been killed that would be another matter," said the prosecutor. "We would then have brought Lucas here for trial on a murder charge. He is serving a 30-year term as it is."

The prosecutor said he expected a letter today from Warden James A. Johnston concerning the stabbing which occurred yesterday.

Capone, termed a "model" prisoner in the forbidding institution, sent his attacker sprawling with a fistful blow as Lucas slashed at him with a pair of scissors.

A guard quickly intervened, and Lucas was placed in solitary confinement.

Doctors said the wound was about a quarter of an inch deep and an inch long. Capone walked to the prison hospital unaided.

Various reports of ill feeling between Capone and other prisoners have arisen since an uprising last January when about 100 of the 259 convicts refused to work and demanded additional privileges.

Capone, serving an 11-year term for income tax evasion, refused to participate in the dispute in which Lucas, considered an incorrigible prisoner, was a ring leader.

BRITAIN LEADS

LONDON, June 24. (AP)—Great Britain led today the procession of nations agreed to drop sanctions against Italy. With 14 votes more than expected, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's government received official approval from the House of Commons to recommend suspension of the war penalties to the League of Nations. The vote last night after extended debate gave the government a 384 to 170 victory, sending a labor motion of censure to defeat.

JUST PARKING LOT

HOUSTON, June 24. (AP)—The site of Gen. Sam Houston's old home in Houston is an automobile parking lot. At one corner of the lot is a tiny bronze marker, mounted in a cement block. Weeds have grown up around it and the marker is smudged with green paint and waste oil. The marker bears this inscription: "Site of home of President Sam Houston of the Republic of Texas, 1887-89. Erected (the marker) Texas, 1887-89. Erected (the marker) of the Republic of Texas, 1928."

MRS. JACCARD DIES

FORT WORTH, June 24. (AP)—After an illness of two months, Mrs. F. L. Jaccarb, prominent musician, composer and club woman, died at her home here yesterday. Mrs. Jaccarb, who was born in Rutland, Vermont, had lived in Fort Worth since 1891.

PENSION PLAN FIGHT LIKELY AT CONVENTION

PLANK ADVOCATING THE TOWNSEND PLAN TO BE PUSHED

PHILADELPHIA, June 24. (AP)—A battle on the floor of the Democratic national convention over the Townsend old age pension plan was foreshadowed today as the party platform makers went to work.

The troublesome pension issue was raised by a demand from the Washington state delegation for a plank advocating the Townsend plan. The state member of the resolutions committee was instructed not only to present it to the committee, but to carry the fight for it to the floor.

Senator Louis B. Schwellenbach, the state's representative on the platform committee, was also instructed to ask for a plank endorsing "production for use." The state caucus voted unanimously with the senator absent—to carry both planks to the floor of the convention, if necessary.

This action injected the first serious threat of strife into what was apparently shaping up as a harmonious session of the resolutions committee. With the committee overwhelmingly composed of new deal supporters, President Roosevelt's views had been expected to meet little dissent.

The chief executive's opinions on the platform were still a secret, however, so far as most resolutions committee members were concerned. Few of them had had a chance to confer with Senator Robert Wagner of New York, who brought the President's suggestions with him from Washington. The senator was making no public announcements.

The platform committee finally got down to work today, with public hearings. It is expected to let a subcommittee do the drafting at an all night session tonight.

Make-up of the resolutions committee indicated that there was little chance for the "liberal-conservative" conflict that marked the drafting of the Republican platform at Cleveland. Only half a dozen of the more than 50 members were definitely "conservative" while the great bulk of them were senators, or others known to be friendly to the "new deal."

Rotarians Attend Picnic at Borger

A number of Rotarians from the Pampa club attended an inter-city meeting of Pampa, Panhandle and Borger clubs in Borger last night when a picnic lunch was served. Tom Rose made a talk on inter-community relations and fellowship at the meeting.

Those attending from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gribbon, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. McCullough, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Owens, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Claude Roberts and E. Hooks.

DIES OF INJURIES

HOBBES, N. M., June 24. (AP)—L. D. Henderson, 24, of Breckenridge, Texas, died in a hospital here yesterday of injuries received in an accident which Monday cost his brother's life. The brothers were run down in a collision at an intersection here. John Henderson, 36, died without regaining consciousness. Their bodies will be returned to Texas for burial.

BISHOP NAMED

Latest Thing for Piles Gets Results Right Now

According to records of many cases during the past ten years, an improved treatment called Drysorb (USReg) solves the painful trouble Piles and its serious strain on vitality. Drysorb is a refined, odorless lotion, and unlike old remedies is greaseless, so that the tissues take it up at once, and relief quickly follows. It may now be obtained from Drysorb Co., 100-B, St. Louis, Mo., or from the CRETNEY DRUG STORE, Pampa, Adv.

JEWELRY TAKEN GARDEN CITY, N. Y., June 24. (AP)—Burglars entered the bedroom of socially-prominent Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coe while the couple was sleeping in their sumptuous estate on Long Island's "Gold Coast," and escaped with jewelry which the owners said was worth more than $400,000.

Drownings Will Be Reported to Army General

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—Officials at the army headquarters in Brooklyn said today the complete report on the drowning of Capt. Lindsay M. Bawel and his three children will be submitted to Brigadier General Thomas W. Darrah when the transport Chateau Thierry docks here Friday.

Army officials were notified yesterday of the tragedy, which occurred Monday while the four were en route from Panama to New York aboard the transport.

Brief wireless messages from officers on the ship said the captain and the children were swept overboard during a tropical hurricane, and that the deaths were being investigated.

Later, at Atlanta, Charles Bawel, a brother, said he had received a cablegram from the captain's widow who was aboard the transport when the tragedy occurred.

OIL NEWS AND NOTES

Panhandle and Other Fields

OIL MEN CONFIDENT
TULSA, Okla., June 24. (AP)—Oil men accustomed to taking a broad view of the industry weighed controversial indications in the business today and inclined generally to the opinion that everything was going to be all right.

Offsetting the warnings of some authorities that the present trend of huge crude oil production surely would lead to top-heavy surpluses, with a resultant collapse of the market, there was available today the bureau of mines' estimate showing enormous increases in the nation's consumption capacity.

The bureau's recommendation for an increase of 78,900 barrels daily over June to meet an estimated demand of 2,917,300 barrels daily was heartening to those who have contended that the present trend in the present production trend which lately has just about followed those figures.

To help brighten the prospect was the action of the Texas railroad commission in reducing the state's allowable 56,719 barrels daily. The disposition of the operators to guard closely against overproduction was shown further in the recommendation of the Oklahoma allocation committee, an advisory body of operators here, that the state continue its production of Oklahoma's July allowable at five per cent under the June figure.

FRANCES PERKINS ARMS WOMEN FOR PART IN COMING CAMPAIGN

COURT RECORD

Divorces granted:
R. M. Miller versus Mary Miller; Elsie Miniard versus Lawrence Miniard, maiden name of Elsie Gibson restored; Lillian Weldon versus J. W. Weldon.

Trial of the workmen's compensation case, J. P. Perkins versus The Texas Indemnity Insurance company, today went into its second day in district court. Jurors sitting at the trial are O. R. Jeter, J. P. Johnson, E. L. Calvert, R. F. Hodge, Luther Petty, Troy West, T. W. Jamison, Lloyd Mathis, Johnny R. Back, Allen Cumberland, R. B. Archer, and Ray Stepp.

Another petition in a compensation case was filed in district court today in the case of Traders General Insurance company versus D. K. Brown, in which the plaintiff asks that the decision of the Industrial Accident board be set aside.

Testimony still was being heard today in county court in the damage trial of Mark Long versus the City of Pampa went into its third day.

COUNTY RECORD
AUSTIN, June 24. (AP)—Proceedings today in the court of criminal appeals:
Affirmed: Ross Yoakum from Jefferson; Chester Elliott from Bowie. Appeal reinstated; judgement affirmed: Estel Pugh from Cass. Appeal dismissed: State of Texas vs. M. T. Wilson from Gregg.

State's motion for rehearing overruled: Earl Cockrell from Gregg. Appellant's motion for rehearing overruled: Leonard Johnson from Bowie; Wallace Gillespie from Cass; Guadalupe Garcia from Hidalgo; Arch Lee Watson from Newton. A district court jury yesterday deliberated three hours and returned a verdict of guilty. It was Stroud's second trial on the charge. The state sought to show the defendant stabbed his wife three times after an argument growing out of their separation.

VIRGINIA IS FIGHTING FOR ANCIENT RULE

MASSACHUSETTS LINES UP WITH OLD DOMINION

PHILADELPHIA, June 24. (AP)—Angry delegates from Virginia appealed to friends in the north and west today to rally to their stand against repeal of the two-thirds nominating rule at future Democratic convention.

The issue headed for its first showdown today in the initial meeting of the rules committee. Representatives of the 48 states gathered to debate the administration proposal that only a majority of delegates be required for the nomination of presidential and vice-presidential standard bearers.

The scrap—one of the few in sight for this 1936 convention—will be carried to the convention floor tomorrow if the rules group approves repeal as all observers expect it will.

Encouraged by sentiment in the 34-vote Massachusetts delegation for retention of the 104-year-old requirement, Virginia leaders went to the meeting talking fight.

"I regard the two-thirds rule as one of the major footholds possessed by those states which are consistently furnishing the electoral votes, in the selection of Democratic candidates," said State Senator Aubrey G. Weaver of Front Royal, Va., a member of the rules committee.

"Why such southern states as our neighbor, North Carolina, as well as numerous less populous states in all sections of the country should desire to surrender this veto power passes my comprehension."

Although National Chairman James A. Farley has reiterated the question was for the states to settle themselves, he continued to predict a majority for repeal.

Visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition need have no serious fears about the food they eat within the Exposition grounds. Five Dallas food inspectors have been assigned the task of eliminating bad food.

- Lasting efficiency
- Continued low operating cost
- Fullest food protection
- Savings that pay for it

Addressing the first of a series of breakfast meetings of women delegates and national committee-women, Secretary Perkins said that since inauguration of the new deal better labor legislation had been enacted than in any corresponding three years in the nation's history.

"Since March, 1933," she said, "laws have been passed providing for shorter hours in nine states; minimum wages in nine states; protection against accident and industrial disease in 16 states; regulation and abolition of home work in three states; curbs on the issuance of injunctions in 18 states; establishment of a 16-year minimum age for the employment of boys and girls in seven states."

"The new deal has been, is, and will be vitally concerned with the welfare of working women," she said.

In private industry, employment payrolls and earnings of working women have been substantially improved. The records of the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that in the fourteen manufacturing establishments in this country which employ the largest number of women, employment increased 27.1 per cent between March, 1933, and March, 1936, with a corresponding increase of 78.3 per cent in payrolls, and from 16 to 57 per cent in per capita earnings."

She spoke of the annual conferences held by federal and state departments of labor to maintain the gains made by NRA in the improvement of working conditions.

She said that nearly one and a half million jobs for women were filled through the United States employment service between July, 1933, and December, 1935.

Chapter 41
BADGER GAME

Roddie was no angel, but he hadn't been like this. Hope went on. "That tequila that Torrobin sold him made him wild.

"Torrobin wasn't selling it now. He was hiding Roddie. When I rode back into the hills to the little 'dobe house where they were he denied that Roddie was there. But Roddie heard my voice, and came out. I hope I forget what he looked like.

"They seemed to be waiting for another man. . . for some word of him. When I told them about the arroyo and that rangers had chased me, and about the bank-robber who was killed, they decided without a word to leave.

"I understood. All at once I knew. But I made Roddie tell me. When Torrobin went out to make arrangements for their leaving, I made Roddie talk to me. He couldn't remember clearly, but he knew what had happened.

"I couldn't see him go back. I couldn't see him die. I wanted him to return the money, but Torrobin, of course, refused.

"Torrobin and Roddie left for New York. Torrobin wouldn't have me with them, and it was just as well. It would have made constant trouble between him and Roddie, however hard I might have tried to avoid it. But I made Roddie promise to keep in close touch with me, so that I might follow, and he did.

"They left that night by train, and I the next. And I wrote to Mother. I couldn't tell her about Roddie's trouble, for her own sake. I couldn't even hint it. But I told her I had found him, and that I was going to New York with him. I asked her to forgive me for breaking my promise to come straight home, and for using the money to go away. I told her I would pay back the money.

"She felt that this was a cruel and heartless letter. She wrote me afterwards that it was. But I did pay back the money, though not till I had married Rupert.

"Torrobin had taken Bowie with them. He had certain plans for Bowie and Roddie.

"The first thing he did after that fight he had with Roddie was to take Roddie's gun away. Roddie bought himself another before he left Texas. . . the pearl-handled office one morning, selling calendars, he knew that his hour had come.

"It was more than a matter of calendars with him. But Leonor was young. She was demure and shy. America was so very strange, she said. He had to do a lot of persuading, but she finally got him to cross the Hudson River with her and they went to a New York hotel. Whereupon Torrobin, following almost at once, tracked them to their room, and entered the role of the outraged and dangerous father.

"It worked like magic. At least for the moment. That gentleman from Hoboken had money and he paid it gladly to escape with his life and his good name. He had, too, thought you might suspect it, a certain amount of intelligence. He was not long in connecting the dark lady and her recuring father with Madame Chowdhury. He quietly started investigations, and later trapped Madame at this same game in Atlantic City.

"Whether Leonor got wind of these investigations, or whether Carlo—Carlo had the lions; he and Leonor were sweethearts—whether he suspected what she was doing, I don't know, but they disappeared before anything came to light. Neither Chowdhury, who was supposed to know everything, nor Torrobin, realized that these investigations were under way. Torrobin privately invited me to take Leonor's role in future dramas of the sort.

"I declined perhaps without much fact. He used arguments and then insults. Plopio the trapezist, overheard the insults. Plopio threatened to write his neck. That was the day I stole Roddie's gun. I was afraid that Torrobin would take up with Roddie the suggestion of my playing Leonor's role.

"That very night Roddie had his accident in the ring. Torrobin pushed me down the van steps. You saw him, and knocked him down.

"I wanted to see you again that night—I hardly knew why. I knew only that I was worried about Roddie, and that you would help me.

"You were gone, but Torrobin and Chow were there, back in the little curtained booth, talking. She was telling him all about you. All she had got from girl—that Natalie Page who had her fortune told.

"He told him not to mind because I wouldn't come into the game—she called it 'the business.' Said there were plenty of dark girls, fair ones, too. That besides you had seen me here, and I wouldn't do for you."

Zioncheck Now In Hospital for Sanity Treatment

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Court action to determine the mental status of Rep. Marion A. Zioncheck of Washington state was called off today as the young legislator started a course of treatment in a private hospital at Towson, Md.

Loudly protesting, Zioncheck was removed late yesterday from Gallinger hospital on a stretcher and wrapped in a "pack"—tightly bound sheets.

An ambulance quickly whisked Zioncheck off to the Shepard and Enoch Pratt hospital, three days before a sanity hearing was to have been held in the District of Columbia supreme court.

Final arrangements for the transfer were completed by the congressman's young bride, the former Ruby Louise Nix. District and court authorities agreed to the transfer on condition Zioncheck be committed to the private institution for an indefinite period.

TO SELL HALL

HOUSTON, June 24. (AP)—Sam Houston Hall, constructed here for the democratic national convention of 1928 at a cost of more than $200,000, is considered worth $350,000. The figure was the highest of six bids submitted to the city council for the big frame structure in which yelling democrats nominated Alfred E. Smith for the presidency. The lowest bid submitted was $250. Bids were referred to the city public works director for tabulation and recommendation.

Long parchment rolls like those used 2,000 years ago and pictures of preachers with pistol in one hand and Bible in the other feature church exhibits in the Hall of Religion at the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Activities of Kiwanians for 1936 Planned

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Texas Kiwanians attending the 20th annual convention of Kiwanis International here planned today for 1936 agricultural and community activities.

More than 1,058 clubs in the United States and Canada are engaged in agricultural work and in Texas 48 are engaged in such activities.

The following were announced as members of the agriculture committee in the Texas-Oklahoma district: J. I. Moore of Abilene, chairman; E. E. Clark of Sherman, Ernest Symcox of Cordell, Okla.; Louis Lindsay of Okeon, Okla.; and C. S. Bush of Pauls Valley, Okla.

Agricultural activities which Kiwanis clubs will carry on the coming year include plans for diversified farming and advocacy of consumption of local, home-grown products. Rural groups will be brought together to discuss land use planning and other farm problems. Other work will be the promotion of farm institutes and scientific projects dairying and pure-bred stock raising, sponsoring grain and stock shows, county fairs and 4-H boys and girls club shows.

In their community work, clubs were urged to undertake safety campaigns, study traffic codes, obtain adequate examinations for driver licenses, develop safety propaganda and erect danger and warning signs. "In 1935 there were 37,000 deaths in the United States from automobile accidents, including 1,885 in Texas," said Victor Randal, of Huntville, Tex., chairman of the public affairs committee. Among members of this committee to assist in safety work are: Oscar R. Burden of Wichita Falls and Dr. L. W. Newton of Denton.

speculators were his associates. With another syndicate, they were credited with buying and selling half the stocks turned over on the New York stock exchange in days of huge volume. He was reported to have made as much as $10,000,000 on single deals.

But the self-styled "cash grain merchant" disclosed nothing concerning stories that he and his colleagues made $10,000,000 in Baldwin Locomotive stock in 1927, and from $18,000,000 to $35,000,000 in early 1929 in Montgomery Ward. But he told a senate banking committee, investigating the market in 1933, that he and friends shared $12,000,000 from Consolidated Oil securities deals.

His losses in the aftermath of the market crash were supposed to have compared with his previous gains, but he was reported to have abandoned them and to have returned—in the role of "bear" instead of his traditional role of "bull"—to the grain pits to recoup.

Cutler preferred obscurity to wide renown. He planned his moves in a small, dark office near the board of trade. His name did not appear on the door.

He and his wife shunned society, contributed to nurseries, orphanages and other charities without fanfare. They were childless.

He will be buried in Guelph, Ont., where he was born. —where he was born July 6, 1870.

NO. 2 — (Continued From Page 1)

did not know his constitutional rights and therefore had not waived them.

A number of persons have been indicted in Tennessee on charges of conspiracy in connection with alleged shipment of gasoline into the state billed as kerosene, thereby evading the gasoline tax.

"Our contention is that regardless of whether Taylor was in Tennessee at the time of the alleged offenses," Norman said, presenting Tennessee's case, "after he voluntarily returned and submitted to the jurisdiction of Tennessee courts he became a fugitive from justice and is subject to jurisdiction."

He cited the Luke Lea case in support of his contention. Lea, a newspaper publisher and Tennessee political leader, was extradited to North Carolina, Norman said.

Norman said Taylor gave $10,000 bond and then returned to Texas, forfeiting the bond.

Sayers cited various Texas judicial opinions in support of his contention Taylor could not be extradited.

"Taylor didn't know anything about his rights," Sayers said. "He consulted some lawyers and obtained bad advice. They informed him he could be extradited and taken back to Tennessee in chains. He was terrified and went back. "But that return did not constitute voluntary waiver of rights guaranteed under the Texas constitution."

Woodul interjected that "nobody forced him to go back to Tennessee," and "Tennessee didn't pick his lawyers."

Now they have another reason to celebrate the day. It's also the birthday of a son.

YOUTH JAILED
A youth was placed in city jail last night following an automobile accident about 200 yards south of the city limits on South Cuyler street. A woman passenger in one of the cars was slightly injured. Both cars were damaged.

A VIEW OF PHILADELPHIA'S SKYLINE

Thousands of visitors to the Democratic national convention will admire this view of Philadelphia's skyline as seen from the terrace of the Art Museum. Straight ahead is the Parkway rear; the tower of city hall.

Factory Guards' Arsenal Seized

Factory guards were armed to the teeth in the battle which raged at the Black and Decker Tool Co. plant in Kent, O., as this haul of shotguns and gas guns held by Patrolman W. C. Barr shows. Nearly a score of casualties resulted from gas and bullets in the battle in which pickets and the guards clashed.

recommend that you incorporate in your platform a declaration in favor of the adoption of an amendment to the constitution of the United States which provides that no law shall be declared unconstitutional by the supreme court except by not less than two-thirds vote of its members.

He urged, too, a strong plank declaring labor's right to organize and bargain collectively and a long list of other planks which included:

High wages and adequate annual income for workers' preservation of free speech, press and assembly; continuation of a social security program; ratification of the pending child labor amendment to the constitution; more restrictive immigration legislation; approval of the Wagner housing act and deportation of all aliens who advocate revolution and violent overthrow of the American political and social order.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American farm bureau federation, and L. J. Taber, master of the national grange, presented recommendations of their groups for farm aid.

The recommendations of the two groups differed sharply at several points.

The farm bureau urged the endorsement of crop production control a permanent system of commodity loans and, thirdly, the maintenance of a "well rounded practical soil conservation and land utilization program."

Both farm organizations demanded recognition of the principle of price-parity between the products of agriculture and industry in the domestic market.

However, the grange omitted reference to production control and placed emphasis upon a soil conservation program.

Whereas the farm bureau endorsed the administration reciprocal trade agreements for expansion of foreign markets, the grange asked for revision of the reciprocal treaty act to require Senate ratification of agreements and to repeal the unconditional most favored nation clause, by which concessions of a single bi-lateral treaty are extended other nations.

The farm bureau asked for federal control or regulation of monopolies. Both groups recommended further maintenance and expansion of rural credit facilities, aid to cooperative marketing associations, continued federal and state support for efficient and low cost transportation.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—The stock market whipped up a rally today that pushed selected issues ahead 1 to around 4 points.

Chrysler, leaping to a new 6-year high, provided inspiration for buying in other parts of the list. While there were a few soft spots, and many advances were restricted, the close was firm. Transfers were around 1,100,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—Hesitancy on the part of potential buyers distinguished wheat dealings late today, and as a rule prices pivoted at around yesterday's close.

Expansion of the domestic flour trade was a bullish factor as to wheat. On the other hand, Canadian reports said American mills have been good purchasers of Canadian wheat of late, and this was construed as bearish on domestic wheat values.

Wheat closed nervous, 1/4 off to 1/2 up compared with yesterday's finish, July 95 1/4-%, Sept. 96 1/4-%, Corn 1/4-% advanced, Sept. 65 1/2-%, cats 1/4-% higher, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents down.

'BITSY' GRANT CRUSHES FOE AS ALLISON AND BUDGE WIN

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 24. (AP)—After spotting his rival one set, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, the Atlanta atom, bore down today and crushed M. D. Deloroff of England in the second round of the all-England tennis championships, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

Fred Perry, the defending champion, advanced easily at the expense of K. Chartkavani of Siam, Perry won at 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

In the women's singles, Frau Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling of Germany and Denmark defeated Patricia Connell of Great Britain, 7-5, 6-2.

Donald Budge, of California, a semi-finalist last year, gained the third round at the expense of Ian G. Collins. Budge was in rare form in disposing of the former British Davis cup player, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

John Van Ryn of Philadelphia hung up a 6-4, 8-6, 6-3, second round victory over Hans Timmer of Holland.

Displaying the hardest service seen at Wimbledon since Bill Tilden's amateur days, David Jones, former Columbia University star, gave Wilmer Allison the American champion, the battle of his life before losing, 14-12, 6-3, 6-4.

The lanky former college star fired 44 service aces in the ninety minute match that drew gasps and cheers from a crowd of 10,000.

Allison just shook his head at many of Jones' thunderbolt serves and didn't attempt to reach them.

As powerful as his service was, however, Jones delivered a number of double-faults at critical moments which must hurt his chances of upsetting the Texan.

George Patrick Hughes, British Davis cup doubles player, defaulted after the third set of his second round match against Harry Cooper. He was leading 6-3, 5-7, 6-2 when he withdrew. Hughes found the heat exhausting and retired to save himself for England's defense of the cup.

Gene Mako of Los Angeles defaulted to Christian Boussus of France in their scheduled second round match. Mako is suffering from an injured right shoulder. However, he said he intends to continue in the double competition with Donald Budge.

Jack Crawford, sixth seeded Australian player, trimmed Charles

Hare of England, 6-3, 6-2, 8-6. Jean Lesueur of France won on a default by Jacques Brugnon, who retired after the first game of the final set, with Lesueur leading 5-7, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5, 1-0.

Mrs. Dorothy Angus of New York defeated Mrs. K. Bowden of Great Britain, 6-4, 7-5, in a second round match.

Readers of the Pampa News are hereby extended an invitation to listen to a radio "salute to the modern newspaper" to be broadcast at 6:30 p. m. next Monday over the NBC blue network.

It's a program aimed to give every one who hears it new insight to the development, ideals and public-spirited service of the American newspaper.

The occasion will be the birthday party marking the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the linotype. It should be well worth a twist of your dial.

CONE WINS RACE
JACKSONVILLE Fla., June 24. (AP)—A 61-year old Lake City banker, farmer and lawyer, Fred P. Cone, won the Democratic nomination for governor of Florida in yesterday's run-off primary. Nearly complete unofficial returns gave Cone more than 52,000 votes over Judge Raleigh Petteway of Tampa, high man in the June 2 primary field of fourteen gubernatorial candidates. Cone ran second, almost 5,000 votes behind Petteway to enter the runoff.

NOISELESS NAG
SEATTLE (AP)—Studying the written divorce suit testimony of Mrs. Eliza Seth, a deaf mute, that her deaf mute husband "found fault and nagged at the time," the judge said he hardly thought it possible for the husband to "nag" inasmuch as he could not talk.

"A lot of people thought that," Mrs. Seth's counsel, replied. The divorce was granted.
