Protest Lodged Against Ambush In South Korea

SEOUL (UPI)—United Nations officials lodged a formal protest today against an Easter night Communist ambush that killed two Americans and two South Korean soldiers 800 yards from the truce village of Panmunjom. South Korean officials said President Johnson will be asked for strong U.S. military aid.

They said President Park Chung-hee would ask for the "firmer" U.S. commitment to guarantee Korean security. Park meets Johnson at Honolulu Wednesday.

North Korean infiltrators poured an estimated 200 rounds of automatic weapons fire into a U.S. Army truck carrying six men. The two survivors, both Americans, were wounded.

The truck, its lights on, was traveling on the main road to Panmunjom, moving from the U.N. advanced camp just outside the Demilitarized Zone to the joint security area which surrounds the truce village.

It was the first major incident involving infiltrators since North Korean terrorists raided Seoul in January. It followed North Korean seizure of the U.S. naval intelligence ship, USS Pueblo. North Korea still holds its 82 man crew captive.

Infiltrators ambushed the truck as it carried U.N. security guards into the joint security area in a regular change of the guard.

Russia Accused Of Prolonging Danger Guerrilla Warfare Continues Between Israeli, Jordanian Troops In Mideast

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

Israeli patrols killed five Arab guerrillas and wounded seven in two weekend clashes that also killed one Israeli and wounded one, Israeli officials announced today in Jerusalem. Quantities of Russian-made weapons were seized.

The communique said one guerrilla squad was discovered Saturday near Nablus, crowded at the time with Israelis who had gone to Mount Gerizim to witness Samaritan Passover ceremonies. Two guerrillas were killed and six wounded and one Israeli was wounded in this operation.

School Resumes Here Tomorrow

Classes in Pampa parochial and public schools will resume at the regular time tomorrow after a four-day Easter holiday. College and university students home for Easter vacation will also be heading back to campuses the early part of this week.

of history. Thirty of them sprang from the hopes and aspirations of people exploited for centuries by white colonial powers. Today more than 170 million newly-independent Africans, mostly black, are trying to find their own way in the world, governing more than 650 million square miles of territory. This is the first of six dispatches in which a veteran reporter of the African scene provides an up to date look at these struggling newcomers.)

By PETER LYNCH
United Press International

There are many ways to look at the new nations of Black Africa.

You can be a reporter seeking notes on "modern" Nigeria with the help of a cultured, London-educated Nigerian journalist who suddenly becomes ill as though with palsy. You discover he has had a fight with your African driver and that the driver has enlisted a "powerful medicine man" to cast a spell on him.

"Everyone with an education knows that Ju Ju is all rot," my companion had told me only a few days earlier. Now, under a medicine man's spell, he seemed almost too weak to lift himself from his bed, and was sweating as with fever. A doctor could find no illness.

Reluctantly, my friend confessed it was the Ju Ju. The only cure was "an even more powerful spell." For $14 the most famous witch doctor in Lagos provided us with a granddaddy of a fetish that outwitted the first one.

Two days later the African journalist was healthy as ever—and disclaiming again any belief in Ju Ju. "It is my father," he explained.

"He believes even though I've told him it's nonsense. The hex got me through him."

This is one view of black Africa in 1968, much cited by those who scoff that the wave of independence which has rolled over the black continent in the past decade has not changed, or enlightened, the African. Such critics can point to much else that is wrong in the newest nations: Nigeria is torn by murderous tribal civil war. The loin cloth remains the chosen garb of millions. There is great poverty. Assassination is a frequent instrument of policy. Murder and rape await the unwary in still savage wildernesses.

Leftwing German Students' Goal Is To Cripple Large Publishing Firm

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin leftwing students today asked 150,000 ban the bomb marchers to cripple West Germany's largest newspaper firm which they blame in the shooting of their leader, Rudi "Red Rudi" Dutschke.

Police here and throughout West Germany canceled all leaves, massed around the publishing plants of Axel Springer and set up steel anti-riot barricades and barbed wire.

The leftwing youth group, demonstrating and rioting since an admirer of Adolf Hitler shot Dutschke Thursday, told the marchers to start crippling Springer plants in six cities after their Easter marches ended late today.

Truckloads of combat-clad Hesse State riot police rolled into Frankfurt where police said they expected up to 10,000 demonstrators to move against the Springer plant in that West German city. In Bonn, government officials were considering calling in federal troops and a statement by Dutschke's followers said the government would be blamed for "any bloody clashes that might occur."

The East German Communist regime declared a VIP blockade of West Berlin to aid the extremist youths.

Auto Inspection Deadline Tonight

Midnight tonight is the deadline for 1968 automobile safety inspection decals to be on automobiles, the Texas Department of Public Safety has reminded residents.

Inspection costs are $1.75. Costs for repairs are, of course, more.

Inspection stations were busy Saturday but the real rush is expected to be today.

The Department of Public Safety also reminded drivers that all autos must have safety belts for both front and rear seats.

LBJ Going To Honolulu For Vietnam Review

By HELEN THOMAS

AUSTIN, TEX. (UPI)—President Johnson flew to Honolulu today for a high-level Vietnam strategy review and talks with South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

The Chief Executive departed Bergstrom Air Force Base at 9:22 a.m. CST aboard Air Force 1 for an eight-hour nonstop 4,200-mile flight. He was due at Honolulu International Airport shortly after 1 p.m. local time.

The Johnson-Park meeting was given more urgency by the North Korean Communist ambush Sunday that killed two Americans and two Koreans.

The Texas White House announced shortly before Johnson's departure an added starter in his entourage of advisors. He was former Defense Secretary Cyrus Vance, who was his special emissary to Seoul following the North Korean seizure of the American intelligence ship Pueblo and increased tensions along the Korean border following attempts to assassinate President Park.

Vance also will be the military advisor with Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman when the U.S. and North Vietnam fix a time and site to begin preliminary peace talks. A White House spokesman said today there was no new word from the Hanoi government on the attempts to settle the site question.

Johnson flew from the LBJ Ranch, where he spent Easter weekend, by Jetstar to Bergstrom, after saying goodbye to his wife Lady Bird. He wore a gray suit and brown fedora hat. He will speak briefly on arrival at Honolulu International Airport at 1 p.m. and will motorcade to a huge welcoming ceremony staged by Gov. John Burns of Hawaii at Iolani Palace, the government house.

Johnson was expected to receive an invitation to speak Tuesday morning before the 8th annual interparliamentary meeting of American and

Record Number Of Missions Is Flown Against North Vietnam

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. fighter-bombers flew a record 143 missions against North Vietnam's southern panhandle Sunday, military spokesmen said today. Hanoi Radio said the planes returned again today and bombed north of the 20th Parallel.

The Hanoi broadcast said one American plane was shot down in raids this afternoon on Ninh Binh Province which is above the 20th Parallel on the coastal area facing the Tonkin Gulf. President Johnson in his recent de-escalation of the air war set the 20th Parallel as the northern limit.

It was the second time Hanoi has charged violation of the limit. Last week Hanoi charged that American planes bombed a village in far northwestern North Vietnam 10 miles from the border of Laos. The United States denied these charges.

The Sunday raids were the heaviest against the North since Johnson ordered limited bombing to aid the expected peace talks preliminaries with North Vietnam.

The Easter Sunday raids destroyed or damaged scores of targets, including 16 supply route bridges, in the panhandle through which North Vietnam feeds and arms Communist forces in South Vietnam.

U.S. spokesmen said never before had so many air raid missions struck the panhandle in one day.

The big raid came as U.S. Marines, for the second time in a year, stormed and seized Hill 881 north. They killed 106 Communists who had used the peak to bombard the Leatherneck fort of Khe Sanh just under the North Vietnam border.

The Leathernecks suffered six men killed and 12 wounded in the day-long Easter fighting on the heavily jungled slope.

Marines seized the hill-named for its meter height above sea level—in heavy fighting last May. Then they abandoned it. North Vietnamese troops moved back and set up

Feat Accomplished Fully Automatically

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two unmanned Soviet spaceships accomplished history's second fully automatic link-up in orbit today, according to the Soviet news agency Tass.

The agency said the link-up, a vital operation in the preparation of future Soviet manned voyages to the moon, was accomplished by Cosmo satellites Number 212, launched Sunday, and 213, launched today.

The Soviets staged history's first fully automatic link-up in orbit last fall as a space highlight the week before the U.S.S.R. celebrated its 50th anniversary.

The United States had previously linked up manned spaceships of its Gemini series.

But Soviet scientists wrote that Russia's fully automatic orbital link-up was a more sophisticated operation with great significance in the future erection of huge manned orbiting laboratories as well as in the race to put men on the moon.

The link-up was accomplished in an orbit similar to that used by the Soviets for manned space flights.

The Russians announced Sunday after putting Cosmo 212 into an orbit ranging from 127 to 148 miles above the surface that the craft would be used for "testing new systems and elements of the design of spacecraft"—phraseology which in the past has been used to describe tests of unmanned prototypes of manned space ships.

Today Tass said, "An automatic orbital docking of the Soviet Cosmo 213 artificial earth satellite with the Cosmo 212 Sputnik has been effected."

Tass said the two satellites, fitted out with special closing-in systems, radio and computing devices, carried out an automatic mutual search, closed in, docked and coupled to each other.

The parameters of the flights were almost identical to those of Soyuz-1, the last Soviet manned space flight last April which ended in a re-entry crash that killed cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov.

Tass said the rigidly coupled satellites are continuing their joint orbital flight and that according to telemetric data their flight systems and equipment are functioning normally.

The televised images of the coupled vehicles are being sent back to earth along with the telemetric information, Tass said.

The first automatic docking of Soviet space vehicles was accomplished Oct. 30, 1967, and Tass noted that automatic coupling is very important for the exploration of outer space."

Paris (UPI)—French and British newspapers today charged a Soviet spy is working on President Charles de Gaulle's personal staff.

A spokesman at the presidential Elysee Palace described as comical the report which linked the alleged spy on de Gaulle's staff to Harold "Kim" Philby, the British secret service executive who turned out to be a Russian agent.

"It's all very comic and we are serenely awaiting the revelations they say they will make on this espionage affair," the palace official said of promised newspaper accounts.

Le Canard Enchaîné, a weekly satirical journal, first published the report. According to the newspapers, the story of the spy on de Gaulle's staff came from Col. Thiraud de Vosjoly, French secret service liaison officer in Washington with the American Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

De Vosjoly was said to have been ordered home because of too close ties to the CIA, to have refused and to have remained in the United States. He was said to be living now in the Miami, Fla., area.

Two London Sunday newspapers, the Sunday Times and the Observer, printed the reports after Le Canard Enchaîné.

The Sunday Times said it will print next week a copyrighted article showing "There has been a traitor, a French Philby, who pushed President de Gaulle into anti-Western acts."

The French weekly said the character named Colombine in a recent novel by American author Leon Uris, "Topaz," is based on a de Gaulle aide tied to Soviet spy networks.

The newspaper reports here and in Britain said "Colombine" is the presidential chief adviser and overseer of France's Services de Documentation Extérieure et de Contre-espionnage (SDECE) and the Directorate de la Sécurité Territoriale (DST).

Big Boost In Marriages Seen In Gray County

Gray County will be witnessing a sharp increase in its "young adult" population in the next few years, with a consequent rise in the local marriage rate and in the number of new household formations.

It is not idle speculation. It's based upon solid, statistical evidence.

The latest Census Bureau figures show that approximately 2,706 young men and women in the local area are now in the 20 to 25 age bracket—the young adult category.

This is a big increase over the number that are normally in that age group. In 1960, for example, there were only 1,884. Why the sudden increase? It harks back to the second World War and to the extremely high birth rates in the years just following.

The babies that were born in that period have now reached adulthood and are in the prime marrying ages. They are going to work, getting married and forming families of their own.

All of this is sweet music to local retail merchants. Each new wedlock means a household and each new household represents thousands of dollars of consumer business.

Rumor Mill Has Rusk Resigning, Clifford Moving

By ROBERT S. ALLEN WASHINGTON (Sp1) — Washington's always-agitated rumor circuits are sputtering with a new sensation about another big Cabinet upheaval. Within a few hours after it was announced that Secretary Dean Rusk had entered a hospital "for a check-up," the grapevine was aflutter with reports of a series of musical-chair changes, as follows: Rusk to leave and be replaced by Defense Secretary Clark Clifford—shifting from the Pentagon to the State Department.

Defense Undersecretary Paul Nitze to replace Clifford as head of that department. Nitze was prominently mentioned for this job when former Secretary McNamara moved to the World Bank. In one version of this rumor, former Undersecretary Cyrus Vance would take over from Clifford. Vance was another widely reported possibility as McNamara's successor. Highly regarded by President Johnson, Vance was named by him the other day as one of the U.S. negotiators with North Vietnam. gness.

10 Accidents Investigated In County

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 10 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of March, according to Sergeant J. L. Dalrymple, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area. These crashes resulted in four persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $3,135.00. The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first three months of 1968 shows a total of 40 accidents resulting in one persons killed, 16 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $95,000.

The final entry in the 1967 Texas traffic records has been entered and closed. There were 3,367 persons killed, 205,308 persons injured and an estimated property loss of $793,094,000.00. This compares to the 1966 record of 3,406 persons killed, 206,310 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $557,414,000.00. 1967 marks the first decline in traffic deaths and injuries since 1960. The Sergeant stated, "With new traffic laws and the willingness of the public to drive defensively, traffic deaths and injuries can be further reduced in 1968."

Happy Outcome In Car-Stripping Incident Here

"All's well that ends well," as it did yesterday for a man and his son suspected of stripping a car in the 1000 block of Varnon Drive. An unknown complainant telephoned police to say two persons were stripping the car. Police arrived at the scene but found no one about. Further investigation, however, revealed that the father was hiding in the trunk of the car while his son was hidden in a nearby outside utility closet. The suspects said they only wanted a few minor parts and decided to take them after they could not locate the owner. The owner of the auto came to the police station and said he would not file charges. The man and his son later returned to the police station to display a bill of sale they had received after purchasing the car for $50.

Some of it is paid for in cash and the rest is bought on credit. At this rate, the amount of potential spending in Gray County from this source comes to a healthy $6,000,000.

This assumes that nearly all those in the young adult age group get married during the next few years and that some 1,340 new households result. All segments of the local economy stand to gain from the zip in business that this new spending will produce. Marketers of furniture, rugs, dishes, draperies, blankets, clothing, electrical equipment and other household necessities will all benefit. District Court In Session Here

A 12-man jury was impaneled this forenoon as hearings got underway in 31st Judicial District Court here.

On the docket are one civil and three criminal cases. Presentations and arguments in the civil case of Texas Pipe Line Co. Inc. vs Shaw Tank Cleaning Co. Inc. are expected to take up much of the afternoon hearings. The criminal cases to be heard are Jim Lee Bradshaw and Homer E. Beard, each indicted on four counts of burglary, and Thomas J. Malone, indicted for theft by false pretext.

The Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—The sun had gone down a long time ago and it was pitch dark when the Masters winner finally collected all his gear and left the golf course Sunday night.

You had to get up close to see who it was. Or you could listen. The soft accent gave him away. It was Roberto de Vincenzo, the fellow with the thinning hair and slight tummy, the fellow from Euenos Aires, the fellow everyone was told finished second.

That's what all the people were told, but people are funny, you know. They have their own ideas.

Bob Goalby, with all the emotion drained from him, was given the traditional green coat the winner gets here each year and his name will go down in the little green book as the recipient of the $20,000 first prize, but people are funny. They have their own ideas. They don't always believe everything they read.

True Winner
The way they'll probably see it is that Roberto de Vincenzo was jobbed out of a tie by the involved and the complicated rules of golf, which he certainly was. The longer people keep thinking about the rule which ruined Roberto's 45th birthday, the madder they'll get. And the madder they'll get, the more they'll become convinced Roberto de Vincenzo was the true winner of the 1968 Masters championship.

They won't be far wrong, either. Without taking anything away from Goalby, who played brilliantly and certainly deserved all he got despite an indescribably amateurish putt on the 17th, the proper thing.

Census Being Taken In Palo Duro Canyon
AMARILLO — Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists are conducting an aerial aoudad sheep census this week in the colorful Palo Duro Canyon, according to Dick DeArment, Department biologist in charge of the project.

DeArment says the census is being taken from a chartered helicopter with biologists shooting the big sheep with a CO2 pistol which fires colored paint balls to mark to sheep as an aid in movement studies. Aoudad sheep are natives of the Atlas Mountains of Africa and were transplanted by the Department in the Palo Duro Canyon area some years ago. During the past season, the Department issued 84 permits to landowners in the area, and 21 sheep were harvested. The largest ram field-dressed at 215 pounds and had a horn length of 27 1/2 inches.

Possibly the crowning touch came when they put his name up on the master board on the press tent to show he finished second and earned $15,000. They spelled his name wrong: De Vincenzo. It didn't matter. What he had, they couldn't take away from him. People have their own ideas. They don't always believe everything they read.

according to most people, would have been an 18-hole playoff between him and De Vincenzo today.

Ordinarily, I'm a devout believer in rules. But in this case I have to go along with most people.

De Vincenzo made a birdie three on the 17th and his playing partner, Tommy Aaron, put down a four on the scorecard. It was an unintentional mistake on Aaron's part. In his excitement after finishing, De Vincenzo signed the scorecard attesting to the four even though he had made a three.

Ridiculous Situation
What a crime! Dropping De Vincenzo to second place wasn't good enough. They should have sentenced him to six months at hard labor for conspiracy. Ridiculous. The whole thing is so ridiculous that they had poor Bruce Devlin, the fourth place finisher, chasing around looking for a scorer more than an hour after he finished his round because there was a report he had signed for a 71 instead of his actual 69.

De Vincenzo couldn't have taken his ordeal better. "My fault, my fault," he kept saying over and over again. "It's not Tommy Aaron's fault and it's not somebody else's fault. Only mine. We are professionals. We have to know the rules and we have to know what we sign. If I sign wrong, it is my fault."

No matter what De Vincenzo says, the fact remains that stroke for stroke, he played as well as Goalby; there was certainly no intent on his part to misrepresent his score, and he was the victim of someone else's mistake.

Extenuating Circumstances
Even in our courts, there are certain cases determined by extenuating circumstances or by what a man will do in an emotional moment. Golf is the only sport which forces the participant to be a secretary also and to keep score. Not merely his own but his opponent's as well. Even bus drivers kick when they have to make change at the same time they drive.

Philadelphia 76ers Favored
PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia 76ers are favored to complete phase two of a new National Basketball Association dynasty when they host the Boston Celtics tonight with a chance to wrap up the Eastern Division championship.

Philadelphians, playing what Coach Alex Hannum called "inspired" basketball, whipped the Celtics 110-105 at Boston Garden Sunday afternoon to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-seven series. One more victory would give the 76ers their second consecutive Eastern title after Boston had won eight in a row.

Hannum, obviously hoping to wind it up tonight, still was careful to say nothing the Celtics could use against the 76ers for inspiration. He said only, "All we have to do is win one of our remaining two games at home."

The 76ers took their big two-game lead on Easter Sunday behind the timely shooting of Luke Jackson and Hal Greer, although Bill Russell blamed Boston's troubles on its own mistakes.

"That's three games in a row with 26 turnovers, the third straight time we did it," said the Boston player-coach of the count showing the number of times each team gave up the ball without getting off a shot. The error count showed that Philadelphia scored 24 points as a result of Celtic errors while Boston got only 14 points from 18 76er turnovers.

Greer, who wound up with 28 points, netted seven of them over the final minutes to choke off a third Celtic comeback in the game. Jackson, Wilt Chamberlain and Chet Walker had 22 points each.

On the Boston side, Sam Jones tossed in 25 points in 36 minutes of playing time while Russell had 24 and outbounded Chamberlain, 24-16.

A sixth game, if necessary, is scheduled back at Boston Garden on Wednesday night. And, should the Celtics win both times to make it a seven game series, the finale will be played at Philadelphia on Friday night.

LPGA WINNER
WINCHESTER, Va. (UPI)—Marilynn Smith shot a three over par 74 in the final round of the O'Sullivan Ladies Professional Golf Association Tournament Sunday for a 54-hole total of 216 to edge hard-charging Shirley Englehorn by one stroke for the crown.

Goalby Edges Past De Vincenzo

By JOHN G. GRIFFIN
AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—They're engraving Bob Goalby's name on the trophy today as the 1968 Masters golf champion—and while they're at it, maybe they should preserve Tommy Aaron's pencil in bronze.

Because, after all the brilliant golf fired by 72 famous players in four days over the luxurious Augusta National course, it was Aaron's stubby pencil, jutting down the figure "4" instead of "3," that decided the Masters championship. And darn near broke the heart of dead neighbor Roberto de Vincenzo.

One of the most stunning moments in golf history came at the climax of Sunday's fourth round of the Masters when De Vincenzo, who apparently had tied Goalby with 277 for 72 holes, lost a stroke because he signed an incorrect scorecard made out by playing partner Aaron.

In the wake of that shock today: The pro golfers themselves seemed agreed that the Masters tournament committee did the only thing it could in penalizing De Vincenzo because, as former champion Jack Nicklaus put it, "A rule is a rule. Most agreed with De Vincenzo's own admission, 'It was my fault.'"

De Vincenzo, his dream of celebrating his 45th birthday with his greatest triumph shattered, was left to murmur sadly, "Maybe I am too old. I guess, to come back and win another time."

And winner Goalby, who certainly earned a triumph with his brilliant 6-under-par 66 on the final round that included four birdies and an eagle, had to temper his happiness with the observation, "The only thing

I regret is the way I won it." De Vincenzo had a tie for the 72-hole lead slip through his fingers, and with it the right to meet Goalby in an 18-hole playoff that would have taken place today, just when it seemed that he might have won the Masters title outright.

It was the 17th green, the next-to-last hole, when he holed a six-foot putt for a birdie three that dropped him 12 strokes under par. On the course behind him, Goalby stood 10 strokes under par with four holes to play.

That's when Aaron, playing in the twosome with De Vincenzo, mistakenly marked down a "4" for De Vincenzo on his scorecard instead of the "3." In U.S. golf, each player keeps a scorecard on which he marks down his own and his opponent's score. At the end, both cards supposedly are compared and the players sign both.

On the 18th, or 72nd, hole, De Vincenzo punched his second shot in the crowd at the right of the green. He chipped out through an alley the fans formed, but left himself an eight-foot putt. He missed the putt for a bogey five and apparently a 72-hole score of 277. Behind him Goalby had just shot an eagle three on the 18th to go 12-under par. Goalby now could win by playing par on the last three holes.

Roberto signed the Cards, never noticing the error Aaron had made on the 17th hole. Officials plucked him by the sleeve and took him away to be interviewed on television.

Amazing Final Rounds
Goalby and De Vincenzo both made astonishing final-round runs. After starting one stroke off the pace, Goalby shot four straight pars, then birdied the fifth, sixth, eighth, 13th, and 14th holes, got his eagle on the 15th and his only bogey on the 17th. De Vincenzo started with an eagle on the par-four first hole, sinking a 125-yard, nine-iron shot that set the gallery at that green to singing, "Happy Birthday to you." The happy birthday continued with birdies on the second and third holes, the eighth, the 12th, the 15th, and the 17th, before the fatal bogey on the last hole.

Staggered, De Vincenzo sat down in a camp chair at the 18th green, waiting for Goalby to finish. Fans noticing his sad face thought he was bemoaning the final-hole bogey. Pöker-faced Roberto said nothing, waiting to learn whether he'd won, lost, or tied.

Goalby marched toward him, bogeying the 17th to fall 11-under. Then Goalby reached the green on the par-four 18th in two. His first putt was a long one and he carefully lagged it short. Then he sank a 6-footer—thinking he had earned a tie. Only later did Goalby learn that actually that putt was his winning shot.

With the announcement that "something very unfortunate happened today," the disclosure was made public. Goalby, looking stunned and happy at the same time, received the symbolic Masters green coat from golf immortal Bobby Jones.

Goalby got a $20,000 check for first prize and De Vincenzo received $15,000 for "finishing second."

Nicklaus, who finished in a tie for fifth, estimated that De Vincenzo's loss had cost him "the chance to make about a million dollars," a subject on which Ohio Jack is something of an authority. But, Nicklaus added, "If I know Roberto, it's not the money; he would rather have that green coat."

Funds To Help Amarillo Park Are Okayed

AUSTIN — Two Federal grants totaling $261,005 have been approved for development of Amarillo Medical Center Park in Amarillo and Anzalduas Dam and Delta Lake Parks, both in Hidalgo County, according to Will Odom, chairman of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

These funds will be matched on a 50-50 basis by the City of Amarillo and Hidalgo County in projects totaling $522,010 at the three local parks. A $140,510 project at 48-acre Amarillo Medical Center Park includes design and layout of the park. The funds will also be used for the construction of a restroom, service and storage building, a nature trail, playground equipment, picnic units, multi-use courts for volleyball and tennis and shuffleboard and horseshoe courts.

Utilities, sanitation facilities, park facilities, rest areas, and landscaping projects are included in the plans. The $381,500 projects at Anzalduas Dam and Delta Lake are the first of two stages which, when both are completed, will include the construction of picnic units, children's play areas, a swimming area with a boathouse, walks and trails, open pavilions, restrooms, roads, parking areas, and utilities.

Renovation of an existing restroom site preparation, and landscaping is also included in the plans. Odom said these projects bring to a total 26 local projects which have had approval of Federal Land and Water Conservation Act funds. The Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Program is administered on the Federal level by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, U.S. Department of the Interior. Its funds are derived from the sale of surplus government property, Federal motorboat fuels tax, the sale of the $7 Golden Eagle Passport, and other recreation fees.

Odom is State Liaison Officer for the fund and responsible for reviewing projects and proposals submitted for Federal assistance.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

A Time for Sanity and Cool Heads

Now that more than a week has passed since it happened, perhaps it is time for reassessment of the senseless and brutal killing of Dr. Martin Luther King.

It was, of course, a blight on the nation that it happened in America where once people prided themselves on their tolerance of opposing points of view.

The Rev. Mr. King, like President John F. Kennedy, was young when he was struck down. He also, was the eloquent leader of a massive movement, seeking what he believed was best for his fellow men, both black and white.

Both men left enemies. Both left friends. They had their detractors, and their supporters, those who questioned their motives and those who followed blindly.

The News did not approve of everything Martin Luther King did. We believe he was mistaken in some tactics in which coercion was advocated. But he was a sincere man and believed what he was doing was the right course.

While we disapproved some of his actions, we deplore as far worse the wrong that was done him and the civil rights movement. Murder is no solution to anything.

It will be small consolation to Dr. King's family and to his many, many followers, but we hope his murderer or murderers are brought to justice quickly. He, or they have forfeited any right to freedom. They have snuffed out the life of a man.

Some will say that Dr. King had invited violence by his acts. This we deny. He was entitled to live and to attempt to persuade others that his view was correct.

It will take cool heads among both whites and blacks in the days and months to come. The cruel and senseless murder of this leader stirred up rioting in many cities. Extremists will attempt to add to the violence which has been abroad in the land for several years, as if violence heaped upon violence could better anything. It is a time for sanity.

It will require determination among the men and women of goodwill of all races to bring a semblance of order out of the chaos. Only when all men respect the equal rights of all other individuals to go about their peaceful activities can America get back on the track to peace and goodwill.

Children Caught in Middle School children in this country are caught in the middle of a tug-of-war and the power play has become so fierce that only the determined intercession of the parents can stop it. Money is a very big factor in this power struggle. Perhaps you have not realized just how much money is involved.

Back in 1950, the federal appropriation for education totaled about $32 million. Two years later, in the first year of the Eisenhower administration, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare was established, with cabinet status, and with the Office of Education as a division of that department. By 1960, the last of the Eisenhower years, the Office of Education was spending $464 million. That's 14 times the 1950 budget, a considerable jump for a 10-year period.

But have a look at 1965; the budget for Education that year was $841 million. For 1966 the figure jumped to $1,972 million. For the fiscal year 1967, HEW's budget for Education is an estimated $2,946 million.

What do we have to show for this budget which is 92 times what it was in 1950? Well, for one thing, we have one of every four draftees, or thereabouts, who has to be rejected, or assigned to special schools to learn to read and to do simple arithmetic. And we have a call from the floor of Congress that the Office of Education be raised to cabinet status. There also is a call from the National Education Association for an increase of $6 billion in expenditures for education. This is the organization which wields powerful influence and which, for years, has been attempting to get legislation at the state level giving the association autonomy over education, bypassing school boards and such local nuisances. Of late, the association has been promoting and encouraging teachers' strikes for higher and higher pay.

As we said earlier, the poor school child is caught in the middle. The system marches him into a fancy bus to ride congested streets and highways to an elaborate school plant, and then runs him into a huge gymnasium for some exercise, since he didn't get any walking to school. Washington, the teacher unions and the NEA want more money for education, but somehow the youngsters aren't getting educated.

Parents can rescue their youngsters from this situation by moving in to restore local autonomy over the schools.

And a final word— Figures like those above should inform at least one Pampa school board member who seems to have the mistaken idea that any federal subsidy received by local schools is something we are getting "for free." For his information, and he should know it, the things that come from government are paid for by the taxpayers, locally and everywhere. It is always a sad commentary when a local official refers to anything coming from the federal government as being "free." Contrary-wise it is one of the costliest.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Only by public consent is one of the best books on the public relations business we have encountered in a long time. L.L.L. Golden, (editor please note — three initials — correct) the author of this Hawthorn publication, analyzes how four of the world's biggest corporations were alerted to the need for public approval of their policies and programs. Golden details the steps these companies took to establish good relations with the public. He goes behind the doors of such giants as American Tel. and Tel., DuPont, General Motors and Standard Oil of New Jersey and on a vast panorama shows the proper role of public relations and what it can accomplish for a company. This book is "must" reading for the pro in the public relations field and an interesting revelation of the machinations of big business for the layman.

Today's smile: A physician was examining a pretty young girl and said: "You have acute appendicitis." The pretty young girl answered: "I came here to be examined because I had a pain. Not to be admired."

You seldom hear mention of Hetty Green these days, but a half century ago she was the richest woman in the world and easily qualified as the world's No. 1 miser. She left an estate of $95 million. Once her only son needed a leg operation to avoid amputation. The surgery would cost about $200 and the amputation a mere $50. When he told his mother what the doctor had said she calmly counted out $50. That's why the late Col. Edward Green went through life with a wooden leg.

Thoughts while shaving: Have you ever noticed that the Madison Avenue advertising geniuses have a limited vocabulary in conniving you into buying the products they plug? The word "easy" seems to pop up more often in ads and TV commercials than other adjectives. Other words frequently used are "mild," "delicious," "safe," "clean," and "wonderful." Make your own survey and see how often you'll see these words in magazine ads or hear them on TV commercials. . . . That highly touted high speed train between New York and Washington is still in the testing stage, which makes us wonder whatever happened to good old American engineering. The Japanese maintain a regular high speed schedule on the 320-mile run between Tokyo and Osaka with a train that averages 101 mph and at some points enroute hits 124 mph. Don't tell us the Japs can outfigure Americans in the engineering field. . . . New York's Radio City Music Hall in Rockefeller Center is the most successful of all movie theaters in the world. It boasts an annual attendance of 8 million patrons. . . . A lot of people join golf clubs and never play golf. Take for example the Wanderers Club in South Africa. It has 9120 members, but only 850 regularly use the golf course. . . . And speaking of golf reminds us that none of today's stars has equalled the record of Bobby Jones, who won the U.S. Open four times and the U.S. Amateur five times. . . . The Buffalo (N.Y.) COURIER-EXPRESS reported in a story: "The 10C executive added that any decision to call the full meeting would have to be made by executive board." And most executive boards sometimes show themselves to be real pigs.

Undercover Grab for Control of 'Poor People's March' By Militants Raises Fears of Its Purposes, Consequences

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Stokely Carmichael, fiery advocate of racial revolution, bloodshed and destruction "to bring this country to its knees," is making a vigorous grab for control of the late Dr. Martin Luther King's "poor people's march" in Washington.

Actively aiding and abetting this attempted undercover power grab are leading Black Power and allied leftist elements, foremost among them:

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), with close Communist ties and formerly headed by Carmichael; the Communist front W.E.B. DuBois Clubs; the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), headed by Floyd McKissick, and Black Panthers, militant nationalist organization. Also, reputedly, the Revolutionary action Movement (RAM), a highly secret extremist group with Chinese Communist orientation, that preaches urban guerrilla warfare to achieve its goal — overthrow of the U. S. government and rule by Negroes along Chinese Communist lines.

Carmichael and Max Stanford, field chairman of RAM, have long worked closely together. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told a House appropriations Subcommittee, "In espousing his philosophy of Black Power, Carmichael has been in frequent contact with Stanford, and has afforded the latter assistance and guidance in forming a Black Panther Party in New York City."

Primary aims of the covert scheme to gain Black Power control of the "poor people's march" are:

(1) Stage a series of turbulent propaganda demonstrations and disturbances in the capital ostensibly to "force" Congress to enact far-reaching multi-billion dollar job-creating and urban renewal legislation; (2) establish Carmichael as a powerful Negro spokesman to enable him to wield influential political pressure in this year's momentous national elections.

In the backstage maneuvering and jockeying, Carmichael and his Black Power cohorts are making much of the fact that he conferred several times with Dr. King, on "march" plans.

Apparently the idea is to create the impression that Carmichael was one of King's lieutenants in organizing this project.

UNCERTAIN OUTLOOK — As a consequence of the undercover grab for control by the Black Power militants and the greatly intensified doubts of moderate Negro leaders about the advisability of the "march," its future is very dubious.

Even before King's death, prominent moderates voiced strong misgivings, among them Whitney Young, head of the National Urban League; Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP; Clarence Mitchell Jr., director of the NAACP headquarters in Washington, and Baynard Rustin, organizer as States. We are going to develop urban guerrilla warfare and we are going to beat them (the whites) in this field because there is one thing they do not have; their men don't want to fight what they call guerrilla warfare, which is really hand-to-hand combat. You see, their men are cowards. White America is the most cowardly nation in the world.

"The question is simply when to employ urban guerrilla warfare. It's the only means by which we can win in the United States because they cannot use bombs against us, since we are inside their country. They will have to fight us hand-to-hand and we will defeat them."

Despite his bombastic talk about hand-to-hand combat, Carmichael is constantly surrounded by heavily-armed guards. To avoid arrest for possessing unauthorized weapons, he personally does not carry a gun. But he is always careful to have plenty of them handy around him.

SLEEPING BEAUTY — Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson's pet highway beautification program is gone with the wind as far as this Congress is concerned — and probably for good.

Shelved in the House Rules Committee since last September and without the slightest prospect of being resurrected is a Senate-passed bill authorizing another $85 million to continue this once much-glorified project. Graphically illustrative of the doleful plight of the long-stalled measure is that even the First Lady has stopped talking about it.

There is a potent reason for her unhappy silence and the Rules Committee's inaction.

A recent head count by House Democratic leaders revealed that if the bill could somehow be brought before the full chamber it would be defeated by a bipartisan majority of at least 150. Facing that kind of stinging rebuff, the leaders hastily dropped the matter.

Two factors are the cause of this sad fate of Mrs. Johnson's pet beautification program. One is the strong demand for economy in government spending and elimination of "luxury" and other "non-essential" outlays. The second is the powerful opposition of the billboard industry — which strenuously opposed original legislation enacted in 1966.

The industry argues that more large-scale federal spending to eliminate outdoor advertising will wipe out thousands of jobs throughout the country.

The previous Congress voted $150,750,000 to be allocated among the states for highway beautification. Most of this activity has been in landscaping, establishing roadside rest areas and coping with unsightly junkyards. So far, only 13 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico have formulated billboard control.

Initially, the states were given until Jan. 1, 1968, to adopt outdoor advertising curbs or lose 10 per cent of their highway construction aid. But uncertainty and controversy over the implementation of the law compelled the Transportation Department to extend the compliance deadline to Jan. 1, 1969.

Of the original beautification funds, the Bureau of Roads has only about $1 million left. But despite the virtually non-existent prospects of getting more

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Takes Love and Patience To Toilet-Train Child One mail brings letters from three mothers whose children are not toilet-trained. The youngest is a boy, 2½, who showed signs of being trained at the age of 20 months. Then a baby brother was born and now he is still in diapers. The advent of a baby in a family is often seen by the one who was formerly the baby of the family as a threatened loss of his mother's love. As a result the child may try to revert to babyhood in various ways — thumb-sucking, preferring a bottle to drinking from a cup or refusing to be toilet-trained.

With such a child, it is important, first of all to be patient and not show displeasure with his behavior. Punishment will only make him feel more rejected and thus increase the problem. Second, every effort must be made to show him that your love is all-encompassing and that love for the new baby in no way diminishes love for him. When he is convinced of this he will start acting his age again.

The second mother wonders whether the fact that her daughter, 3, is not toilet-trained might indicate a physical defect. Most children by their third birthday will have learned to recognize the need to go to the toilet and will be able to attend to this function without assistance. There may still be accidents when the child is too absorbed in playing to heed the "call." A physical defect as a cause is so rare that the possibility can be dismissed. It would not appear as an isolated symptom but as a part of a serious nervous or mental disease. As with the younger child, love and patience are the best treatment.

The third child, a boy, 4, was born with spina bifida and associated meningocele — outpouching through the skin of the membranes surrounding the spinal cord. This was corrected surgically at the time of birth. It is possible but not likely that this boy's lack of control of his bowel is related to the birth defect. The family doctor would have to determine whether this is so. This mother wants to know what will happen when her son starts to school. I think the disfavor he will meet in the eyes of the children of his own age will cure him overnight.

If you have had your eyeballs trained on the negotiations of Viet Nam and the negative notions of the riots, then you probably have missed what is going on in Korea.

We have been sneaking in a buildup of airpower in S. Korea, the biggest since 1953. Also they are sending loads of new military equipment.

The reason they are keeping it so quiet is because it ain't goin' to the Korean military forces, where it is goin' is to one Kim Wuk, director of S. Korea's CIA, and buddy-buddy to the president Park Chung Hee.

Park Hee is using the supplies to build up what he calls his "second army." And he is the one who was sentenced to death in the '40's as a ringleader of a Commie cell. But he squealed on his cohorts and they turned him loose and put him back in the army.

In 1961 Park knocked off the premier Chang and took over as president. Now he is building his "second army" with our supplies which will have 2.3 million men. But it ain't going to allow any U.S. advisers in. I wonder whose side is he? I even wonder whose side our CIA is on.

money, bureau officials remain optimistic.

"As long as the law remains on the books," says one, "we will continue to encourage the states to enact beautification programs that can be implemented when federal funds are available. We are fully aware that many serious fiscal problems face the nation and Congress, so while we deeply regret the apparent loss of this authorizing legislation, we are not giving up. Basically, Mrs. Johnson's idea is too sound and desirable to be abandoned. Sooner or later it will again come into its own."

FLASHES — COPE, political arm of the AFL-CIO, will throw its weight and substantial financial resources behind Vice President Hubert Humphrey in his soon-to-be announced campaign for the Democratic nomination. Indicative of this significant labor backing, the Indiana AFL-CIO executive committee, at a meeting this week, will endorse the favorite son candidacy of Governor Branigan, who agreed to run at the request of President Johnson's Polls indicate Branigan is leading both Senators Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy — in their first direct confrontation.

McCarthyites are claiming he is privately favored by Senator J. William Fulbright, vociferous "peacenik" chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. According to them, the Arkansasian is saying that if McCarthy is nominated he would carry that state.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which not require answers.)

QUESTION: Is the racial strife of this country caused primarily by politicians promising larger handouts and favors than they can deliver?

ANSWER: We believe much of the racial strife is caused by dissatisfaction of individuals who have been led by the politicians to believe that governmental action can solve their problems, but who found that all they received were empty promises.

Politicians of both parties for years have been telling people they are entitled to handouts and favors from the government. Instead of protecting a ch individual's God-given rights. With great expectations of better jobs, more money, finer homes and other things which must be earned, the poor people have become disillusioned to learn that their lot is worse, not better, with each political intervention.

Some of the people then are ripe for a demagog to come along and tell them they should take by force what the politicians have been telling them they are entitled to.

Cool heads are needed who will point out that Americans of all race, color, creed and ethnic background can succeed on their own and that the politicians are leading them down a blind trail.

DEAR ABBY: I know that most small boys have a natural aversion to soap and water but at what age is a boy supposed to start keeping himself reasonably clean?

I have a son, 13, and you wouldn't believe how he detests soap and water. And to top it off, he doesn't even want to wear socks. The answer I get is, "If Huck Finn could go without shoes, I can go without socks."

When he comes home from school grimy and sweaty, and I tell him to shower before supper, he tells me he had a shower in gym, so he doesn't have to shower at home. And he climbs into bed at night, exhausted, with dirty hair and filthy feet. You should see the bed sheets: You would think he had been working in the coal mines. And he sleeps until the last minute in the morning so he can't shower then. O, please, Abby, how can I clean up this kid? I don't know how much longer I can take it.

HIS MOTHER: Cleanliness should be mandatory, and if your son at age 13, does not keep himself reasonably clean, offer to give him a bath. You may have to start undressing him, I'll bet he moves!

DEAR ABBY: A year ago I fell in love with a girl I'll call "Mary." We started to date, and I became serious about her. She was 18 and I was 24. She was beautiful and the nicest girl I had ever known. To me she was perfect. I was crazy over her and she never let me touch her. It was the first time in my life that a girl ever "tamed me down."

I finally told her I loved her and wanted to marry her. She refused saying she didn't love me, and we shouldn't see each other any more.

In anger I violated her and got so carried away I beat her up so badly she ended up in a hospital.

I still love her, Abby, and I think maybe she cares something for me because she never told on me. I have been trying and trying to apologize, but she won't even see me. Don't you think she should forgive and forget? I have learned a lot in the last year. She always reads your column. Maybe she'll see this and give me another chance.

TURNED DOWN: Steer clear of the girl. Although you escaped punishment from the law, I advise you to turn yourself in and ask to tell your troubles to a doctor. You appear to be a very sick young man who needs treatment. The reason the girl never "told on you" was NOT because she "cares" for you, but probably to avoid possible unpleasant publicity, which was unfortunate because it left you free to "violate" others.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Madrigal Singers Present Program

Pampa Music Teachers Association recently sponsored a special program of choral music by the Madrigal Singers of Robert E. Lee Junior High School, under direction of Jerry Baxter. This program was given especially for parents, students and guests of music teachers in the St. Paul Methodist Church. About 75 guests attended.

The program, a variety of choral numbers, included selections from "Balai Hai" and "Oklahoma!" as well as several sacred selections. Soloists were Marcie Anderson and Don Jones.

A reception followed the program and refreshments were served from a table decorated with Spring appointments.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ramon Wilson, Mrs. W. M. Cooper and Mrs. Lois Fagan.

Preceding the program, at a called business session of the Music Teachers Association, officers were elected for the coming year. This includes the following: Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, president; Mrs. Lois Fagan, vice president; Mrs. W. M. Cooper, secretary and Mrs. Calvin Whately, treasurer.

Scouting Scoops

By Mrs. G. J. Boyd

Registration time for Day Camp will soon be here. Leaders are asked to remind their troop members to return their completed application form on the last page of their camp badge work for Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors. Information from Scout office, second floor, City Hall 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m., May 8-10.

Volunteers are still needed to help with Day Camp registration. If you find you could spare a morning or afternoon or perhaps a day to help during this registration, please contact the office.

Approximately 40 Girl Scout adults are registered to take advantage of the outdoor day scheduled April 19. The training will be held at the new Boy Scout Adobe Walls Reservation near Mobetle from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Those planning to attend from Pampa are asked to meet at the Girl Scout Little House at 9 a.m.

Showings of the Hemisfair film by neighborhoods are to be held April 29, 30, May 1, 2, 3. Leaders needing further information may contact their neighborhood chairman: Highland, Mrs. George Eroughton; Sunrise, Mrs. Jerry Davis and Sunset, Mrs. G. J. Boyd or the Girl Scout office.

Information will be promptly sent upon request from offices of Chamber of Commerce from Pampa and area towns. This provides information for leaders planning trips and for badge work for Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors. Information from Pampa, Amarillo, Canyon and Woodward was received last week. A follow-up letter was received from Mrs. R. L. Ulrey, Woodward Day Camp Director of the Yucca Council, offering assistance in finding lodging and extending an invitation to troops touring Boiling Springs State Park and offering Woodward Girl Scout troops to hostess their stay.

Girl Scout leader uniforms have been newly designed. Girl Scout uniforms are to remain the same. Leaders may still wear their present uniforms.

"If I have questions about bills, payment arrangements, or some other telephone matter, whom do I call?"

Here's the expert.

She's your telephone service representative. To many telephone users, she is the phone company.

She answers questions, provides personal number booklets, directories and duplicate bills. She helps you get new phones installed.

As a service representative, she has to be something of a lady executive, a bit of a diplomat and an expert in phone service.

And she is. She was hired from a select group of applicants and put through an extensive training program.

And she attends regular meetings to discuss customer service.

Next time you need help on a telephone problem, just call the telephone business office.

Your service representative will take it from there.
