

Chamber Will Send Protest

The Education Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber Board of Directors met in joint session this morning and voted as a body to send a telegram of protest to Dr. Robert Clinton, state assistant commissioner, Public Junior College Coordinating Board in Austin.

The telegram, to be sent Saturday, will put the committee and board members as going on record in opposition to the proposed plan to put Pampa in any junior college district, except one of its own and state a junior college should be located in Pampa where there is the 50 per cent students needed to support a Jr. college as set in the coordinating board's standards.

The coordinating board staff has recommended that for community junior college purposes, the state be divided into 52 geographic regions having certain student population characteristics.

Pampa was placed in District 8, along with Armstrong, Carson, Childress, Collingsworth, Donley, Hall and Wheeler counties.

Clarendon Jr. College is in Donley county, thus putting Pampa in the Clarendon district. Clarendon is 45 miles south of Pampa and it was reported that not more than five or six Pampans attend the college.

Discussions were heard on just what would be the best stand for Pampa to take.

It was suggested that Pampa might be better off in the same district with Frank Phillips Jr. College, in Hutchinson Co., which is District 6.

It was finally decided this would not be feasible nor would it be feasible for Pampa to be in the Clarendon district.

In a projected Junior College enrollment chart, made up by the coordinating board it shows Gray County furnishing 683 junior college students in 1971-72 but only 552 in 1966-67.

The chart shows the eight counties in Dist. 8 supplying 1,512 students in 71-72 and only 1,101 in '66-67.

Committee and board members discussed the possibility of a district composed of Gray, Wheeler, Roberts and Hemphill counties.

The coordinating board meets at 10 a.m. Monday in Austin on the proposed districting.

Jets Damage Soviet Ship In Raid On Viet port

Wilson, Kosygin Set Talks This Month in Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson will visit the Soviet Union Jan. 22-24 for talks with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, it was announced tonight.

Two items were expected to be high on Wilson's agenda when he arrives.

A new plea to the Soviets to reopen the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina as a forum for Vietnamese peace talks.

Moscow and London are co-chairmen of that conference.

A new appeal for freedom for British teacher Gerald Brooke, now serving a five-year sentence in a Soviet labor camp for subversion.

The announcement said Wilson would be making an official visit as the guest of Kosygin, who invited him when he was in London last February.

Moscow Says Ships To Be Armed In Future

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. jets bombed North Vietnam's Hanoi-Haiphong war machine Thursday in a third day of intense raiding, military spokesmen said today. Moscow claimed bombs "seriously damaged" a Soviet cargo ship and warned her vessels will be geared to defend themselves from now on.

American spokesmen said Communist MIG interceptors shot down one U.S. plane Thursday and two more in dogfights the day before. They reported six U.S. jets lost so far this year in the drive to cripple North Vietnam's ability to fight on.

Moscow Radio claimed the Soviet cargo ship was damaged at Haiphong harbor. It said that "in the future cargo ships will be able to defend themselves."

The official Soviet news agency reported that a Kremlin protest note to Washington said, "Appropriate Soviet agencies will be compelled to take measures to ensure the safety of Soviet vessels sailing for the Communist China."

Spokesmen said the jets bombed bridges inside the port city of Haiphong, bridges and anti-aircraft sites within 20 miles of Hanoi's center, and railroad lines within 10 miles of Communist China.

DRV's (North Vietnam's) ports."

There was no official word on what the measures would be.

Resume Raid

Communist reports said U.S. planes resumed the raiding today.

In Thursday's raids against the Hanoi-Haiphong area, obscured for weeks by monsoon clouds, U.S. pilots flew 135 missions.

Spokesmen said the jets bombed bridges inside the port city of Haiphong, bridges and anti-aircraft sites within 20 miles of Hanoi's center, and railroad lines within 10 miles of Communist China.

According to Tass, seven bombs fell from 30 to 70 feet from the cargo ship Pereslavl-Zalesky during a two-hour raid against Haiphong, North Vietnam's main import center. The Russians claimed a delayed action bomb hit a barge alongside the ship and "exploded 25 minutes later." There were no casualties Tass said. The agency said a protest note was handed to Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington Thursday by Soviet Ambassador Anatole Dobrynin.

The Soviets have claimed their supply ships have been hit before in North Vietnam waters during U.S. air raids. The United States has repeatedly advised shipping to stay away from the Communist nation.

Bombing Continues

A Soviet news agency report from Hanoi said the North Vietnamese capital area—seat of the nation's industrial war machine—was under attack again today. Tass claimed three more American planes were lost over North Vietnam today.

In South Vietnam, the larger Communist units apparently hid out after suffering at least 1,300 men killed the first three days of 1968. But U.S. spokesmen said American troops fought a series of clashes with guerrillas and North Vietnamese from one end of South Vietnam to the other Thursday.

These centers are made possible by public contribution.

FEW CASES IN PAMPA

Influenza Onslaught Still Bypasses City

Although Amarillo health authorities today feared that city was in the grip of an influenza epidemic, a survey showed Pampa still was relatively free of wide-spread flu cases.

While more than 1,600 cases were reported in Amarillo, less than 100 cases were officially listed in Pampa hospitals and schools.

Highland General Hospital reported only 25 cases of the flu today, an increase of about 10 over yesterday.

High School principal Cameron Marsh said the senior high school had only a few more absences than usual and that attendance was only 3 to 5 per cent below normal.

A check of elementary schools failed to turn up any serious increase in absenteeism with the percentage running from 2 to 3 below average.

In addition to a few flu cases in the schools, there were some cases of mumps and chicken pox. It was stated.

Jack Nichols, principal at Robert E. Lee Junior High, said there was no noticeable drop in attendance yet.

James Thomas, assistant principal at Pampa Junior High, said attendance there was down a little, but not much.

Doctors, health and school authorities were keeping their fingers crossed today, with a fear in the background that with such a heavy attack of the flu in Amarillo, that Pampa may be hit later.

Health authorities urged everyone to take all possible precautions, avoid crowds and use preventive steps to block a flu outbreak locally.

Rocky, Chafee Praise Romney

BEDFORD, N.H. (UPI)—Nelson Rockefeller and John Chafee came to praise Romney. They may have buried him.

"I have come here to give my wholehearted support to Governor Rockefeller. oops, I mean Romney!" Chafee, governor of Rhode Island, stated in a Thursday before 100 leading New Hampshire Republicans.

Hardly had the chuckles abated than Rockefeller, governor party faithful to unite behind Gov. George Romney of Michigan. Rockefeller said again he would not be an active candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

In the next breath, though, Rockefeller conceded he would "face a draft" for the nomination if it came to him, though he said he doubted he would be drafted.

Rockefeller and Chafee came as advance men to lay the groundwork for five-day Romney campaign swing through the granite state starting next Friday. But after their efforts before the influential New Hampshire Republican leaders, nearly all the audience said Rockefeller was the only man in the party who could beat President Johnson in 1968.

Romney is the only announced major Republican candidate for president. He is running in the New Hampshire primary March 12, first in the nation, but polls show him trailing badly former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Though those attending the meeting listened politely to Rockefeller's pleas for unity, they seemed more interested in his remarks leaving the door open for a convention draft.

"I don't believe it's going to happen, but if it does then I'll have to face it," Rockefeller said.

William Johnson, New Hampshire chairman of the Romney campaign, said the meeting was "successful."

Quint's Death Puzzles Doctors

BRISBANE, Australia (UPI) — Doctors today were puzzled by the death of Geoffrey Braham, the youngest of the quintuplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Braham Sunday.

An autopsy failed to reveal the cause of Geoffrey's death and exhaustive tissue tests were planned. Doctors said the results of the tests would not be known for several days.

The four survivors and their mother were reported in satisfactory condition. Braham praised the hospital today for the treatment Geoffrey received.

"We know everything that could be done was done," he said.

In London Lloyd's underwriters announced it would pay Braham $448 on the insurance policy he took out against multiple births. Braham applied for the insurance when he learned his wife was pregnant. She previously had given birth to twins.

Oops! Clay Was Our First All-American

Pampa News Sports Editor Ron Cross has finally admitted he made a mistake.

In a story that appeared on page one of Thursday's Pampa News, Cross said in a story that Kenny Hebert was Pampa's first All-American football player.

This was an error. Randall Clay, a 1943-44 member of the Pampa Harvesters and a halfback for the University of Texas Longhorns from 1946 through '49 was named All-American in 1949 for the 'Horns.

Clay, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess M. Clay, live at 3067 Christine, played pro football for the New York Giants and is now a stock broker in San Antonio.

Cross regrets the error.

ONE PENNY MORE

Postage Price Boost Effective on Sunday

Pampans, along with all other Americans, will have to come up with an extra penny to mail a first class letter beginning Sunday. The 5-cent stamp will no longer pay the freight. Principal effect on the average post office patron, in addition to the 6-cent stamp for a first class letter, will be a 10-cent stamp for an air mail letter instead of 8, and 5 cents on a postcard instead of 4.

Also hit by the higher rates will be local business firms that use other classes of mail service.

"Second class, which applies chiefly to mailings of newspapers and magazines, will be nearly 25 per cent more costly than at present."

The bulk rate in third class and the rate for books and records sent by mail, which come under fourth class, will also be much greater.

In Pampa, a total of $402,097 was spent for stamps and other postal services during fiscal year 1966, according to Post Office Department figures.

In 1968, under the new rates, this will rise to an estimated $494,500.

On a national basis, the increased rates are expected to bring the department's annual revenue to $5.9 billion, as against $5.0 billion last year. That amount is equivalent to $29.50 for every person in the country.

Cold Front Due Here Tonight

A fast-moving cold front is expected to rip into the Panhandle, sometime tonight, bringing with it a chance of freezing drizzle and snow flurries tonight and tomorrow.

The Weather Bureau said the air behind the front was "quite cold" and would drop temperatures sharply in the Panhandle. Low tonight is expected to be in the teens. Tomorrow's high is expected to be near 30.

The cold front, which is causing blizzard conditions in Montana, was not expected to bring heavy snowfall, the Weather Bureau said.

'Bucket Brigade' Set For March of Dimes

Several hundred Pampa civic club members are hopeful that the weatherman will be on their side tomorrow when they man the buckets at business sections throughout the city for the 1968 March of Dimes fight against birth defects.

Six clubs will make up the "Bucket Brigade", led by Weldon Trice. They will be on duty from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Participating organizations and their respective intersections are Jaycees, Kingsmill and Cuyler; Key Club, Francis and Cuyler; Kiwanis, Browning and Ballard; Knights of Pythias, Foster and Cuyler; Lions, Brown and Cuyler; and Optimists, Hobart and Kentucky.

Should the weather be severe, the "Brigade" will be postponed until the following Saturday, Trice said.

The "Bucket Brigade" is also scheduled for tomorrow in Lefors and McLean, according to Gray County drive chairman J. A. Martindale. Heading the Lefors group is Joe Clarke, while Jay Thompson is in charge in McLean.

This year marks the 30th anniversary of The National Foundation-March of Dimes. Originally formed to combat polio, this volunteer organization is now leading the fight against birth defects.

Gray County chapter chairman Don Lusher said that The National Foundation-March of Dimes has launched a prenatal care program, which is aimed at encouraging every pregnant woman to protect herself and her unborn child.

"Physicians agree," Lusher said, "that prenatal care can lessen the risks of many birth defects, even though no one can guarantee that prenatal care will prevent birth defects in a specific baby."

The March of Dimes also supports nearly 100 Birth Defects Research and Treatment Centers throughout the country, including two in Texas—Galveston and Dallas. Each Center brings the combined skills of teams of medical experts to bear on the complex birth defects problem.

These centers are made possible by public contribution.

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are both college graduates, and our nine-year-old daughter, who is in the 4th grade, loves to read. Each week she goes to the library and brings home books, which she devours. She also loves to read your column in the newspaper.

Abby, I can explain murders and riots to her, but how can I explain some of the things she reads about in your column? This week she asked me what a "homosexual" was. She also wanted to know how you get a "venereal" disease!

I told her that a homosexual was a person who had a problem getting along with the opposite sex, and a venereal disease was a serious infection. Must I hide the newspaper from my child? Do you really receive so many letters of this kind as to justify printing them? Or was this just a bad week?

RANDOLPH MASS DAD
DEAR DAD: Yes, I really receive sufficient letters of "this kind" to justify printing them. You are fortunate to have a child who loves to read, and doubly fortunate that she asks you to explain things she does not understand.

Few children reach maturity without hearing a good deal about the subjects you mentioned, and what better place than home is there for them to learn the facts? You can "hide" the newspaper from your child, but you cannot hide from her the somewhat less than lovely truths of life.

DEAR ABBY: A girl I have known through high school and three years of college was recently married. I ran into this girl at the student's lounge, and just automatically said, "I hear you got married. Congratulations!"

She seemed annoyed, and then she said, "Gosh, you congratulate me as if you thought it would never happen." Since this was the farthest thing from my mind, I was shocked.

My mother said that I had committed the ultimate sin — that one congratulates the groom, and to the bride she says, "Best Wishes." That sounds so corny. I would like your opinion.

FOOT IN MOUTH

DEAR FOOT: Your mother is right. However, if that is the most "ultimate sin" you ever commit, you may qualify for sainthood.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a year away from retirement, at which time we plan to buy a trailer and live in Florida. I possess many family heirlooms, cut glass, hand-painted dishes, etc. They have been in my family for years. My husband wants me to sell them.

I want to keep them in the family by handing them down to my daughters. (I have three.) We certainly can't take them with us, and the money would come in handy, although we aren't what you would call "hard up."

Could I ask my daughters if they would like to BUY them? They could afford it, but then, would that be right? They did not cost me anything as I got them from my own mother. I would rather keep them in the family instead of selling them to strangers. I want to be fair. What should I do?

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Money always "comes in handy" — but since you're not "hard up" and prefer to keep your heirlooms in the family, GIVE them to your daughters.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE FIRST LIEUTENANT." You weren't the first — obviously.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Speaker Says Return To Sanity Is Needed

America needs to get back something that's been lost, Rev. Leon Hill of Amarillo told Downtown Kiwanis Club members and guests at last night's installation banquet in Coronado Inn.

"We've been building this country for a long time," he said, "and it's now time we brushed off some of the dust that has accumulated."

Hill pointed to the causes of the fall of the Roman Empire, and said:

"We seemed to have learned nothing from this greatest lesson in history. We need to find out how the spiders and the reptiles got into the roots and got us to believing everything we get must be handed to us on a silver platter."

"I hope the time has come when we will stand on our feet again and get some sanity back into the country."

Hill was speaker at the Ladies Night banquet following installation of new club officers for 1968 by past Lt. Gov. T. A. Kilpatrick of Amarillo.

Installed were: Joe Fischer president; Boyd Taylor, immediate past president; Royce Laycock, first vice president; Bob Parks, second vice president; Jerry Davis, secretary; and Cleus Mitchell, treasurer.

The following directors also were installed: Jeff Anderson, Clyde Carruth, Bob Parks, Glenn Radcliff, Joe Steede, George Thompson and Larry Wall.

Entertainment was by Jerry Baxter, soloist, and dinner music was played by Jerry Whitten. Ralph McKinney was master of ceremonies.

Variety of Pills Found in Hippie

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—Laboratory tests were run today on a wide assortment of pills confiscated in a raid on a hippie community at nearby Placitas, Bernalillo County Sheriff Joe Wilson said.

Four women and two men were freed under $500 bond each late Thursday after being arrested in an early morning raid at the Geodesic Dome hippie community.

The six were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors after two runaways from California and Colorado were taken into custody.

Wilson led 20 law enforcement officers in the raid on "Dome City" and two nearby underground dwellings. They confiscated a number of pills, including what was believed to be LSD, pep pills, and some marijuana pipes, and nude photographs officers said were of the 16-year-old girl.

The girl, a runaway from Denver, was held in juvenile detention home for her parents and a 16-year-old California boy was held for return to his home.

Wilson said the youth, who had been apprehended earlier, had told them of considerable quantities of drugs used at the hippie communal house.

Charged in the raid were Donald Robert Waskey, 30, and Joseph Morris Simonds, 21, both formerly of San Francisco; Sally Jean Sukind, 22; Jane Nancy Siebold, 25; Rosamond Hickman, 22; and Helen Margaret Korycinski, 21, all who listed their addresses as Placitas.

Mrs. Gerald Hamers, French teacher and club sponsor, was director of the club's 12th night celebration Thursday night as they met in Wanetta Bayless' home for the election and traditional burning of Christmas trees. Jean Franklin was chosen Epiphany Queen and Terry Pulse, king.

Bond for both men was set at $1,000.

US Defectors To Receive Answer on Asylum Plea

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Four American Navy deserters, who asked for political asylum in Sweden to escape the Vietnam war, will be told next Tuesday whether they can stay, the government announced Thursday.

Government sources said it was virtually a foregone conclusion the Aliens Commission would allow the four sailors to stay when it meets next Tuesday to consider the case.

The Aliens Commission recommended they be granted asylum and the commission nearly always follows the committee's recommendations. The Aliens Commission is an advisory panel and the Aliens Commission makes final decisions.

The four are Richard Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md.; Michael Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa., and Craig Anderson, 29, of San Jose, Calif.

They flew to Sweden from Moscow Dec. 29 and said they wanted to settle in Sweden, a neutral country, because they opposed U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

The quartet has been living with Swedish families in suburban Tyresoe while looking for a place to live if they are allowed to stay. They have also started Swedish language classes.

The Swedish "Vietnam Committee" sponsored their trip to Stockholm.

The four left the U.S. aircraft carrier Intrepid in Yokohama, Japan on Oct. 23 and went to Tokyo. A Japanese peace organization helped them get to Moscow where they appeared on Soviet television to denounce the war in Vietnam.

Earthquake Hits Nicaragua Coast

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — A powerful earthquake rocked the Pacific coast of Nicaragua Thursday injuring dozens and damaging more than 1,000 homes. There were no immediate reports of deaths.

Authorities said the sharp shock registered 6.5 on the Richter scale of 12 and was as strong as the quake of March 31, 1931, which destroyed Managua, killing more than 1,000 persons and injuring 3,000. In that era, most of the homes were of adobe.

The pre-dawn quake drove thousands in Managua into the streets in their night clothes. A series of settling shocks followed the initial seven-second quake at five to 10 minute intervals.

An estimated 1,000 worker's homes in fields east of Managua were damaged or made uninhabitable. Damage was estimated at several million dollars.

Epicenter of the quake was believed to be in Central America. It came less than 24 hours after a minor eruption of the Pocaya Volcano in neighboring Guatemala.

The Toledo Bend Dam was more than 96 per cent complete today and construction officials said they planned to finish it in the immediate future.

The remaining work primarily involves assembly of turbines and generators in the powerhouse. The reservoir level was at 142.5 feet, a little lower than expected because of below normal rainfall in the watershed area.

The lake now covers about 70,000 acres along the Sabine River. Officials said they have acquired 98 per cent of the 206,657 acres needed for the reservoir.

Dam Will Be Ready In Near Future

NEWTON, Tex. (UPI) — The Toledo Bend Dam was more than 96 per cent complete today and construction officials said they planned to finish it in the immediate future.

'Murderer, Go Home!' Shout Angry Anti-War Students at Humphrey

KINSHASHA, The Congo (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew in today from Ghana and was greeted by anti-Vietnam students who threw stones at his motorcade and shouted, "Murderer, go home!"

They milled around his car in the first anti-American demonstration of Humphrey's African goodwill tour.

Security officers said the 150 students involved would not have been able to get close to the car but for the fact it slowed almost to a halt when the French-speaking driver apparently became confused on the way from Kinshasha airport to meet President Joseph Mobutu.

Humphrey's car, a convertible with the top closed, drove away unscathed but the following press and official cars were hit by stones and thumped by the demonstrators with their fists.

African security sources said American officials were tipped a week ago of the possibility of an airport demonstration by pro-Communist student elements but Humphrey turned down a suggestion by officials that they suppress any such show in advance.

Humphrey drove to the Organization of African Unity village on Mount Stanley for an hour and 15 minute meeting with Mobutu at his home overlooking the Congo River rapids.

Also on his schedule was a tour of Lamba Village project sponsored by U.S. aid, a meeting with local Americans and a banquet given by Mobutu for 200 guests in the dining hall of the village built last year to house the heads of state at an OAU summit meeting.

In a prepared arrival statement Humphrey said the United States had been able "to support the dedicated efforts of the Congo in the task of independent nation building."

Before leaving Accra, Humphrey signed a $12.1 million food loan to Ghana.

Officials Warn Hospital May Not Be Opened Again

AMARILLO (UPI) — Officials at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo said Tuesday a 34-bed unit, closed for the holiday season, cannot be reopened unless more nurses can be found.

F. S. Walters Jr., hospital administrator, said the unit is usually closed during the slow holiday season but cannot reopen this time without additional personnel.

He said the hospital had vacancies for 19 registered nurses and 11 licensed practical nurses. The hospital board is considering a salary increase for registered nurses from $470 to $505 a month and is also considering a hike for practical nurses, he said.

Sudden Hanoi Peace Move Puzzles World Diplomats

LONDON (UPI) — Qualified diplomats said Thursday they were mystified by what appeared to be a sudden Hanoi peace offensive. They said both the timing of the feeler and its scope were puzzling and warned it might be a gimmick to embarrass the United States.

The peace feelers conflict with the Communists' well known tough line policy stand and with an appeal from President Ho Chi Minh only a week ago for an intensified fight against the United States.

Unless the purported willingness of the Hanoi regime to start talks when American bombing is halted represents a major policy reversal by the Communists, the move could be a gimmick designed to cause considerable political embarrassment to the United States, the diplomats said.

All attempts to date to elicit clarification from Hanoi of its offer to talk have so far produced no response.

Taken at its face value, the diplomats said, the conditional offer to negotiate covers a multitude of possibilities.

The Communists may mean business because they see no chance of ultimate success any longer in their current fight.

Alternatively, they may want to drag the United States to the conference table, after having secured a halt to the fighting, to present Washington with terms for its speedy withdrawal altogether from Vietnam, the informants said.

What has been established firmly so far is that North Vietnamese Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh has offered to negotiate "the questions concerned" if the United States "ends unconditionally the bombing of North Vietnam and other acts of war."

McCarthy Beefs Up Attack Against Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D Minn., broadened his attacks against President Johnson's foreign policies today and also took issue with administration economic programs in explaining his decision to enter the New Hampshire presidential primary.

He accused the administration of pursuing "a kind of Republican foreign policy in Asia" like that of the late former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. And he called Johnson's newly announced program to reduce the balance of payments deficit "strictly defensive."

McCarthy's comments at a news conference apparently were aimed at bolstering his image as a serious presidential contender not confined to just anti-Vietnam opposition. Many New Hampshire voters are said to hold generally strong "hawk" views on the war.

The administration position has been one of punting on first down," McCarthy said of efforts to stabilize the dollar. "I don't think they'll accomplish what they want."

Calling again for an immediate halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam to induce peace talks, he said if the deficit from the war were eliminated the dollar "would begin to grow so strong Europe would be worried."

McCarthy's entry into the nation's first presidential primary, on March 12, pits him against Johnson, who has the full support of the state's Democratic hierarchy, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, K.N.Y., whose unauthorized backers continue to boost him for president.

Heart Patient Drinks Milk, Has Good Appetite

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Heart transplant patient Dr. Philip Blaiberg is progressing "extremely well," and is drinking milk, heart surgeon Dr. Christian Barnard said today. He said organs affected by his former diseased heart are returning to normal.

Barnard said Blaiberg's condition was better than Louis Washkansky's at the same stage in the first transplant operation last December.

"His circulation is very adequate," Barnard said. "Dr. Blaiberg is interested in his surroundings and in what is going on. His appetite is good. At this stage he is in better condition than the first patient."

A medical bulletin from Groote Schuur hospital this afternoon said tubes leading to Blaiberg's body were removed and he drank some milk. The bulletin said he was fully conscious and had sent several messages to his wife.

Dr. B. M. Nel, superintendent in charge of outpatients, said Blaiberg had gout but added it was unlikely this would affect his recovery the way Washkansky's diabetes might have.

Hospital sources said they expected Blaiberg would be given soft boiled eggs soon and that he will graduate rapidly to such substantial fare as steak and eggs.

Barnard was reported angry over the sale of their story rights by the patient's family to a U.S. broadcasting company.

TAX REVENUE HIGHER

Price Controls Don't Work

Whatever the merit of price controls may be, they do not control prices. During the Revolution, when the thirteen colonies were fighting Great Britain, salt came into short supply. Of course, the price shot out of sight. Out of concern for the general welfare, the Continental Congress considered the adoption of a price ceiling on salt, and a ration. Thomas Paine opposed the law. He argued that the price control would drive salt off the market and that rationing would cause hoarding. Nevertheless, under the pain of what seemed dire necessity, the law was passed. Sure enough salt disappeared from the stores. Sure enough, it was traded clandestinely. Sure enough, the production of salt ground to a stop. Acting belatedly on Paine's advice, Congress repealed the law. Immediately, the market price rose. But production started up again at a curious pace. As new salt came on the market, old salt came out of hoarding. Soon the stores had plenty of salt on hand. And the price fell. So today the suggestion that President Johnson makes, for the possible application of controls, has a solid history behind it. The foreseeable results of price control are as follows:

Further Withdrawal Needed?

How do you fix the limits of liberty? Or when is one man's liberty another man's prison? These great withdrawers from society and its problems, the Hippies, have apparently created another social problem because they have not withdrawn far enough. According to James J. Kilpatrick's column in The Washington Evening Star, the airlines apparently have an answer for that second question. One man's liberty becomes another man's prison when regular passengers and "aromatic" Hippies are cooped up together in the same plane. It has been suggested that the airlines should refuse passage to those not meeting cleanliness standards, the unwashed ones who travel on youth fares and "shock and offend" other patrons. In short, throw 'em off. But who can claim to set cleanliness standards? And, as Kilpatrick reported, the American Civil Liberties Union has

Living Well? Live Better!

Well, the government has come out with a report which says in effect that if you and your family of four aren't spending at least $9,000 a year, you're not living moderately well. The report doesn't say what you should be MAKING to live moderately well. It just says what you should be SPENDING. But since it's a government report, you have to conclude that the folks who prepared it expect you to follow your government's example and spend more than you take in. So, friendly families of four if you wish to live moderately well and aren't making $9,000 a

New Light on 'Dark' Eyes

Here's a break for the kids. A doctor in Florida who is bound to become an idol to the younger male set has announced that black eyes commonly known as "shiners" and commonly suffered by aggressive youngsters in settling more emphatic differences of opinion — may be caused by some allergy affecting the respiratory tract as well as by a good, stiff poke in the pass. Think what this can mean to a kid whose mom or dad spots a shiner, demands to know what happened, and has to be told that their wife and he has not only been in a fight but has been licked as well. All the kid has to do now is announce "allergy" if he can pronounce it, and instead of a scolding or a ribbing, he may win sympathetic attention. Why couldn't they have

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Once upon a time there were three bears: Papa bear, Mama bear and Baby bear. "Someone has eaten my porridge!" boomed Papa bear, in his deep, deep voice. "Someone has eaten my porridge!" cried Baby bear, in her high little voice. "Bitch, bitch, bitch!" said Mama bear, "I haven't even put it in the bowl yet!" Here are my predictions of what will be put into our porridge-bowls in 1968: It is an election year, which means our porridge will be mostly baloney, chitterlings, chicken and pickles covered with Russian dressing. In 1968 I've decided to cease and desist from saying ugly things about President Johnson. I'm worried about over-kill. I don't know anybody who likes him, so why whip a dead mule? The American people have decided that they cannot co-exist peacefully with Liar-Bird.

Last year I called traitor Carmichael a dog. Several readers—even some people who say they are on my side—deplored calling any man a dog. And I also had complaints from several dogs. A secret FBI investigation report on Carmichael was leaked to the House Un-American Activities Committee. Committee probes claim there is sufficient evidence in the report to secure nine indictments against the extremist civil rights leader. The Committee scheduled hearings on Carmichael starting December 19, 1966. Rival civil rights leaders supported the hearings, which promised to be sensational. But HUAC Chairman Edwin Willis yielded to White House pressure and called off the hearings. And LBJ ordered the FBI not to arrest SNCC demonstrators who publicly burn their draft cards. And now traitor Carmichael is running at large again in Washington, D. C. If he has not committed treason, then treason is obsolete.

The creed of the Negro anarchists and the union racketeers is "give us what you've got or we'll burn, we'll destroy and we'll strike." A fanatic in Judge's robes named J. Skelly Wright has ruled that integration does not mean racial integration, only that there must be a forced mix of rich and poor, educated and uneducated, social and sub-social. "Judge" Wright in his unbelievable decree in the case known as Hobson vs. Hansen, in the District of Columbia, held that every Negro student has the right to an "integrated faculty experience." Thus he must be taken to where the whites are, or vice versa. He ordered the school board to do everything necessary to make all schools completely integrated. Negroes and the poor, declared this zealot, are constitutionally entitled to "compensatory treatment." Since the Washington School Board is predominantly Negro, despot Wright's "law" will doubtlessly not be appealed. (Like the "moderates" always said: "The Negroes don't really want to mix with whites; they just want to know that they can.")

Last year, 120 cities were disrupted by violence with property damage of $270 million. One hundred eighteen people have been killed and 4,000 injured. This was merely the beginning. In 1967, crime rose approximately 70 per cent over 1966 and in 1968 will be even worse. The more the prosperity, the more the crime. We face organized anarchy and sedition, full-fledged guerrilla warfare, sabotage of industries, institutions and civil war could come later, after the collectivists have collected your guns.

Some people think our government could never be overthrown because there's too much of it. A Communist coup is not impossible in this country. Particularly if the government ever gets your guns. If the "firearms control" bill passes in 1968, the collectivists will soon register your guns—but they won't collect them until the Communists are ready to take over. And that will probably be several years. So why worry?

In his foreword to the latest important book on the Kennedy case, Harold Weisberg's " Oswald in New Orleans" (New York: Canyon Books, paper), Garrison adds that national security "usually refers to the

JIM GARRISON LIBERTARIAN

In the welter of discussion (mainly abuse) on Jim Garrison's conspiracy case in the Kennedy assassination, an important story has been overlooked: the inspiring and knowledgeable devotion to individual liberty that has shone through Garrison's statements.

Thus, in the famous and impressive "Playboy" interview of October, 1967, Garrison said this about the role of District Attorney: "You know, I always received much more satisfaction as a defense attorney obtaining an acquittal for a client than I ever have as a D.A. in obtaining a conviction. All my interests and sympathies tend to be on the side of the individual as opposed to the state." On the political trends in contemporary America: "What worries me deeply, and I have seen it exemplified in this case, is that we in America are in great danger of slowly evolving into a proto fascist state. It will be a different kind of fascist state from the one the Germans evolved. . . . But in the final analysis, it's based on power and on the inability to put human goals and human conscience above the dictates of the state. Its origins can be traced in the tremendous war machine we've built since 1945, the 'military-industrial complex' that Eisenhower vainly warned us about, which now dominates every aspect of our life. The power of the states and Congress has gradually been abandoned to the Executive Department, because of war conditions, and we've seen the creation of an arrogant, swollen bureaucratic complex totally unfettered by the checks and balances of the Constitution. In a very real and terrifying sense, our Government is the CIA and the Pentagon, with Congress reduced to a debating society. Of course, . . . we won't build Dachaus and Auschwitz; the clever manipulation of the mass media is creating a concentration camp of the mind that promises to be far more effective in keeping the population in line. . . . The awesome power of the CIA and the defense establishment seem destined to seal the fate of the America I knew as a child and bring us into a new Orwellian world where the citizen exists for the state and where raw power justifies any and every immoral act. . . . I'm afraid, based on my own experience, that fascism will come to America in the name of national security."

It has been clear for some time that Jim Garrison is a man of enormous courage, courage to stand up against the entire Establishment, officialdom and news media, in a field where well over twenty witnesses who could help shatter the official Warren Commission case have met mysterious deaths. But it turns out that he is a man of keen insight and high principle as well.

WASHINGTON: US Must Use Space Data To Upgrade Its Missiles

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is already quite possible to design intercontinental missiles much more sophisticated than those now in place or on order. It is now possible, for example, to design missiles that can automatically change course one or more times while in space en route to target.

Missiles that will change their course by command from a man stationed in the home country and then follow the new route which he orders. Missiles that can be guided in evasive action by a man at home base when the missile meets up with an antimissile threat.

These are no longer laboratory dreams. All these abilities have been demonstrated piecemeal in one aspect or another of United States and Soviet space shots during the past year.

The communications necessary for following these missiles in flight and through their target on earth can be handled by unmanned satellites. Since the location of such satellites can be determined precisely and since the intercontinental missiles can be guided by communications relayed from and through such stations, these nonballistic missiles can be guided accurately to target.

This is not to say the Russians will likely have great fleets of each new type of missile the Soviet scientists develop. Rather, indications are that the Russians will build modest numbers of one type, then add a series of newer types—again in small numbers—as technology permits.

This variety of improved Russian weapons types is presumably intended to insure that the United States will have to defend against a variety of weapons. It is known that the United States has done some excellent and far-advanced research that would make possible missiles of the type mentioned above and other types of missiles with equally great sophistication. In this research, it is likely that the United States is ahead of the Russians.

The present U.S. development effort, however, is aimed more at markedly improving the quality of today's ballistic missiles (so they can more easily get through Russia's defenses) rather than in developing a completely new intercontinental missile from scratch, taking full advantage of the great discoveries of the past seven years.

Since it takes seven to 10 years or more to develop a completely new weapons system as complex as an intercontinental missile system, the question in many minds here is whether we can afford to delay in view of Moscow's stepped-up efforts.

In 1966, former Democratic Senate aide Bobby Baker was indicted for tax evasion, theft, and conspiracy.

The Manion Forum

By MARILYN MANION

The proof of the pudding, as they say, is in the eating. No amount of catchy advertising or fancy dessert plates can make a dull pudding taste delicious.

So it is with politics. There may be persuasive theories, convincing rhetoric and artful propaganda. But the success of a system can only be measured by one rule: How do the people fare who live under that system?

The application of this acid test would simplify most political debates. Take China, for instance. After years of Communist rule on the mainland, how are the conditions of life there? How do they compare with conditions in Free China?

To answer this question, the Manion Forum turned to the Honorable Chow Shu-Kai, the Ambassador to the United States from the Republic of China. Here is what he told the radio audience in an exclusive interview:

"In the last 10 years, the growth rate in Communist China has been zero. In Free China, we have had an average annual growth rate of 7 per cent. Our per capita income is 200 U. S. dollars. On the mainland, I think it is about one-fourth of that—if they have any per capita income at all.

"Red China is consistently short of food. They have about one yard of cloth every year per person and they have to share housing. Many people actually live in barracks on a mere existence level. The non-Communists and the Red Chinese have denied the people private ownership and profit incentive while we, in the traditional Chinese way of life, respect private ownership and encourage reasonable profit motive."

Do the unfortunate millions in bondage on the mainland have any hope for the future? Here is what the Ambassador thinks: "The current turmoil in China is a revolt of the people against the Communist system. When the Communist Party started the power struggle among themselves, the people exploited the conflict. It is no longer a struggle among the Communists; it is, in addition to that, a general uprising of the people against the system itself. The central authority of the Communist regime has lost its grip."

"The central authority of the Communist regime only claims to control five out of twenty-seven provinces of China in addition to Peiping and Shanghai. So a large portion of China is in the hands of the anti-Communists and non-Communists. The Communist regime can no longer control the machinery, much less the masses, so eventually there will be various pockets; some remnants of Communist groups, some anti-Communists and some fence-sitting for awhile. Eventually anti-Communists will join together with our help and the central authority will evaporate."

If this evaporation does not take place soon, however, the whole world may suffer. Here is the Ambassador's warning: "Time is short. If the Chinese Communists are allowed time to perfect their nuclear weaponry, they are so insane, they would not hesitate to use it. So, before that day occurs, it is essential that these mad people be overthrown. The restoration of freedom to China is the way to avoid a nuclear holocaust."

H. L. Hunt Writes

BATTLES WON AND LOST

In the course of my activities in public affairs, I have one notable win and two near misses. The most satisfactory win was getting the required number of state legislatures to ratify the No Third Term Amendment after it had been before the legislatures four years. The 22nd Amendment is the only Amendment that has been ratified after being before the State Legislatures four years. I started what the newspapers called a one-man campaign on January 10, 1961, and in six weeks and five days, Nevada was waiting to become the necessary 36th State.

A temporary winner was the success of Facts Forum, which had such merit that the TV and radio stations gave it as much as $5,000,000 a year in free time. Some liberal Democrats constantly condemned Facts Forum, but three future Democrat nominees for Vice-President—Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), and John Sparkman (D-Ala.)—all appeared on Facts Forum, as did U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

The failure of the Republican Party in 1962 to nominate General Douglas MacArthur for President was a heartbreaking loss as it came within four hours of success. MacArthur's nomination would have been followed by his election and would have changed the course of world history.

The establishment of small Freedom Posts throughout the Nation, of citizens who would keep better informed, was one of the minor losses. A current project, Youth Freedom Speakers, may help to inform citizens of all ages, by putting the sincerity and enthusiasm of youth to work in behalf of freedom's cause. Hopefully, this project may score a plus.

Wit and Whimsy

Men think of a 10-mile hike as training in physical fitness. Women call it shopping. As a present for her 10th birthday, Mary was to open her first savings account. At the bank her mother told her. "It's your account, darling, so you fill out the application." Mary was doing fine until she came to the space for "Name of Your Former Bank."

After a slight hesitation, she wrote firmly: "Piggy." Johnson defined oats: Johnson — "A grain, which in England is generally given to horses; but in Scotland supports the people." Lord Ellilbank — Yes, and where in the world will you find such horses and such men.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

MELVIN G. HERRING, Pastor
ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH

SELF-EXAMINATION

I wonder who started the "modern" custom of making New Year's resolutions? There is much talk this time of the year about "turning over a new leaf." But I'm not sure whether anyone takes this custom seriously anymore. Actually, the whole idea is not so new. God's Word has much to say on the subject. It goes under such headings as "confession" and "repentance." A passage that come to mind says, "Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves." So, lest we miss out on a "good thing," let's do a little examining of our lives as Christians.

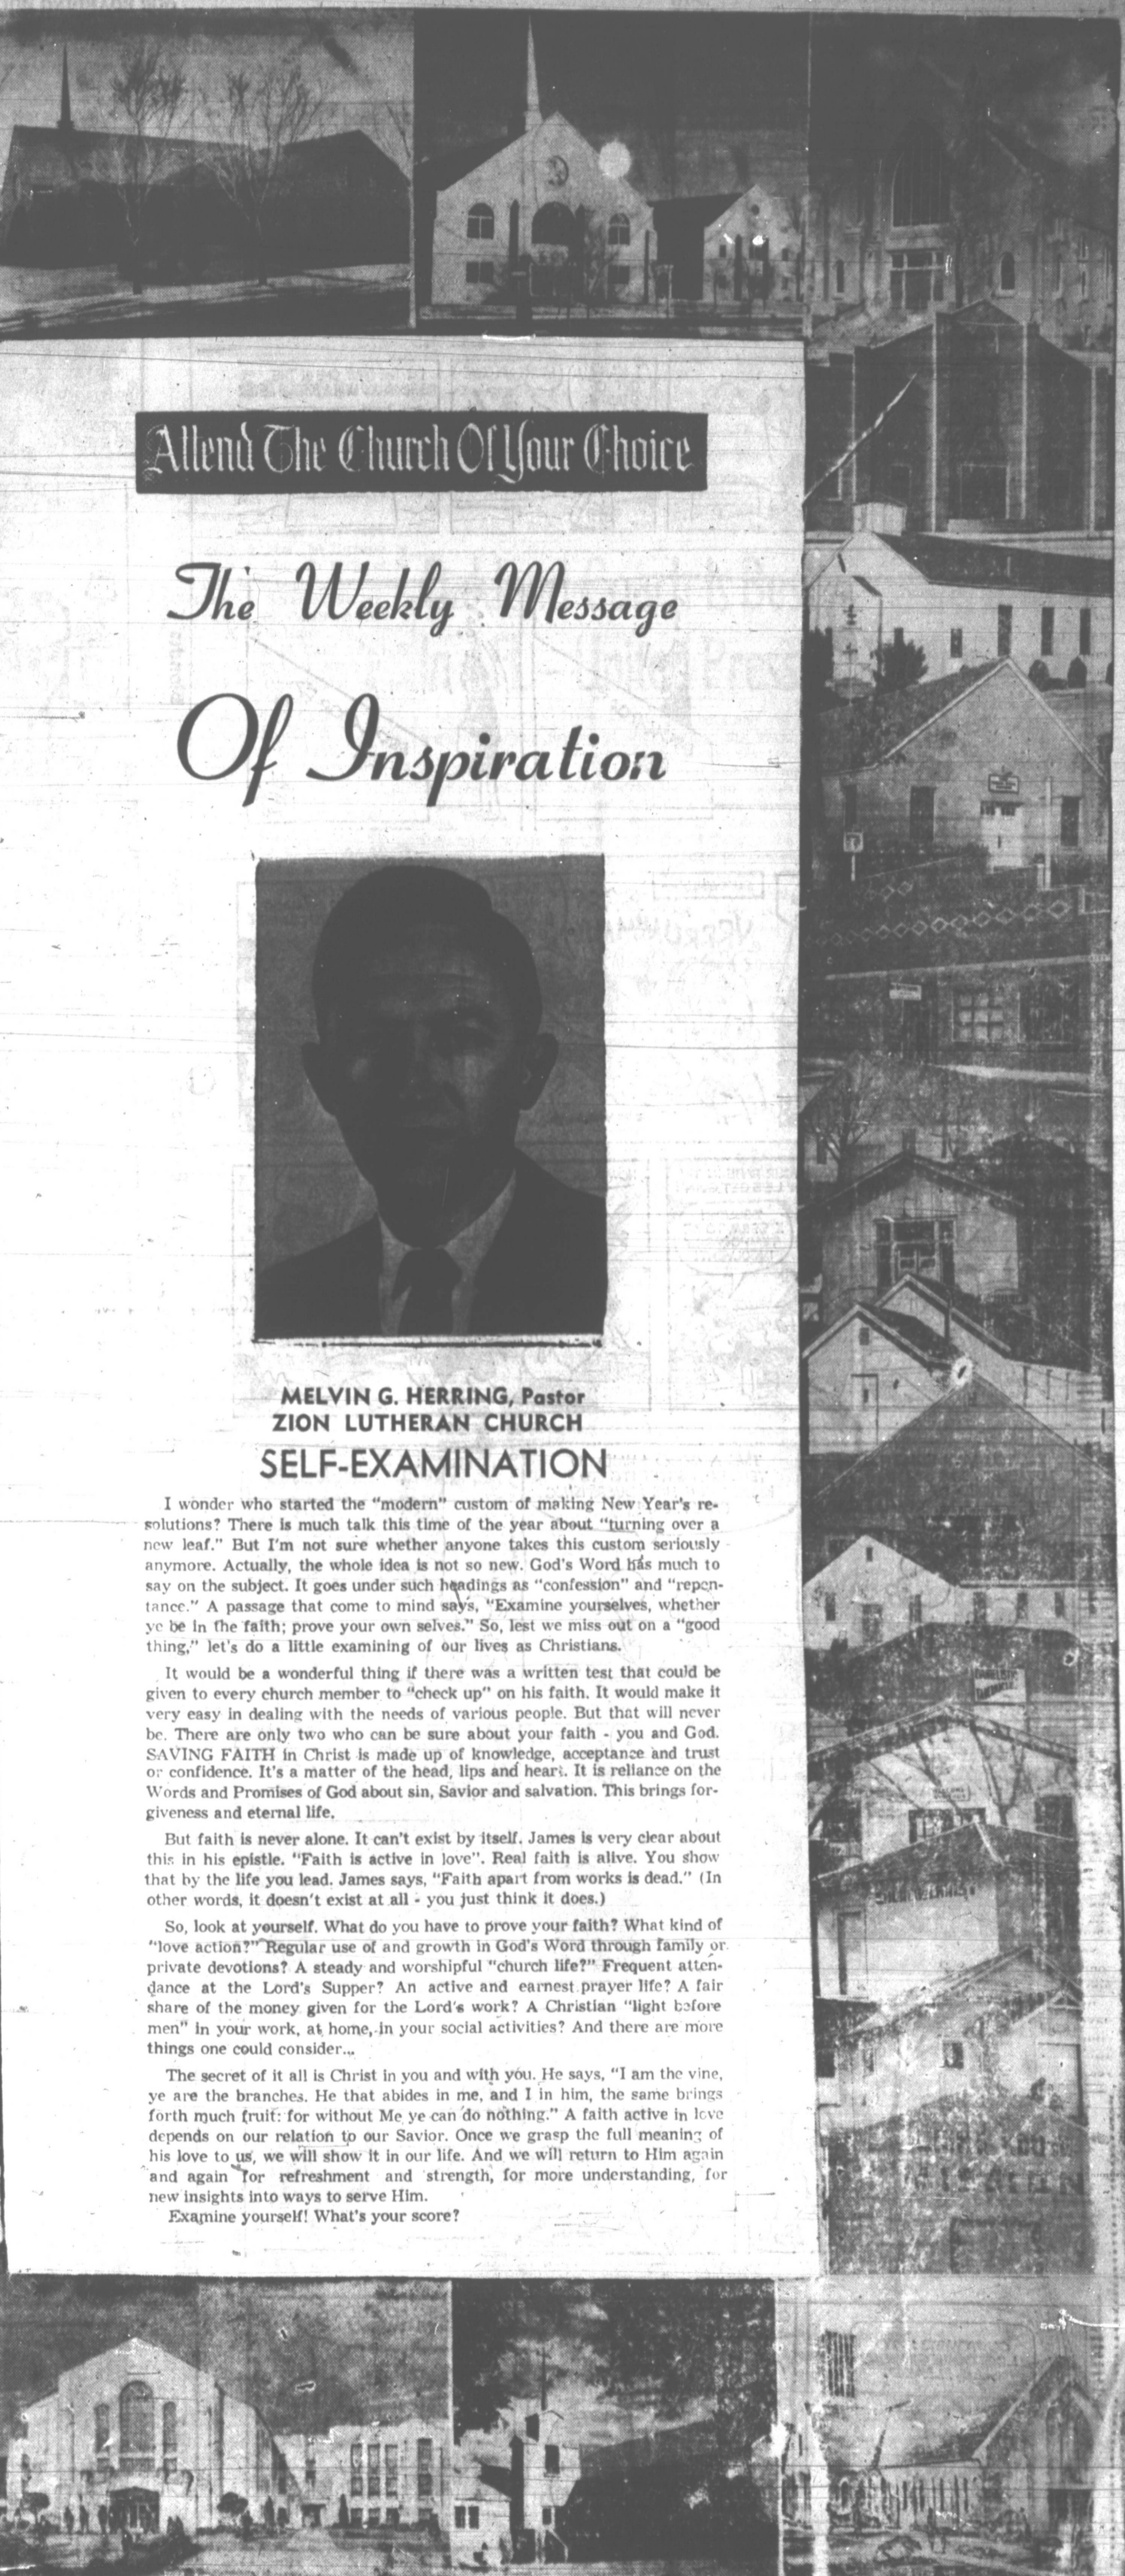

It would be a wonderful thing if there was a written test that could be given to every church member to "check up" on his faith. It would make it very easy in dealing with the needs of various people. But that will never be. There are only two who can be sure about your faith - you and God. SAVING FAITH in Christ is made up of knowledge, acceptance and trust or confidence. It's a matter of the head, lips and heart. It is reliance on the Words and Promises of God about sin, Savior and salvation. This brings forgiveness and eternal life.

But faith is never alone. It can't exist by itself. James is very clear about this in his epistle. "Faith is active in love". Real faith is alive. You show that by the life you lead. James says, "Faith apart from works is dead." (In other words, it doesn't exist at all - you just think it does.)

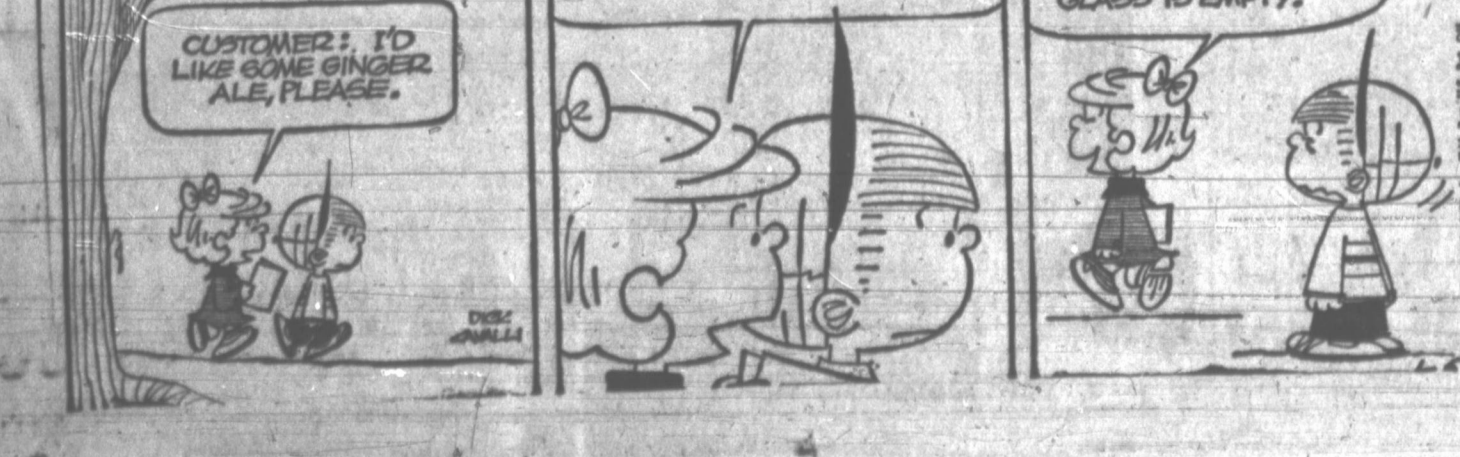

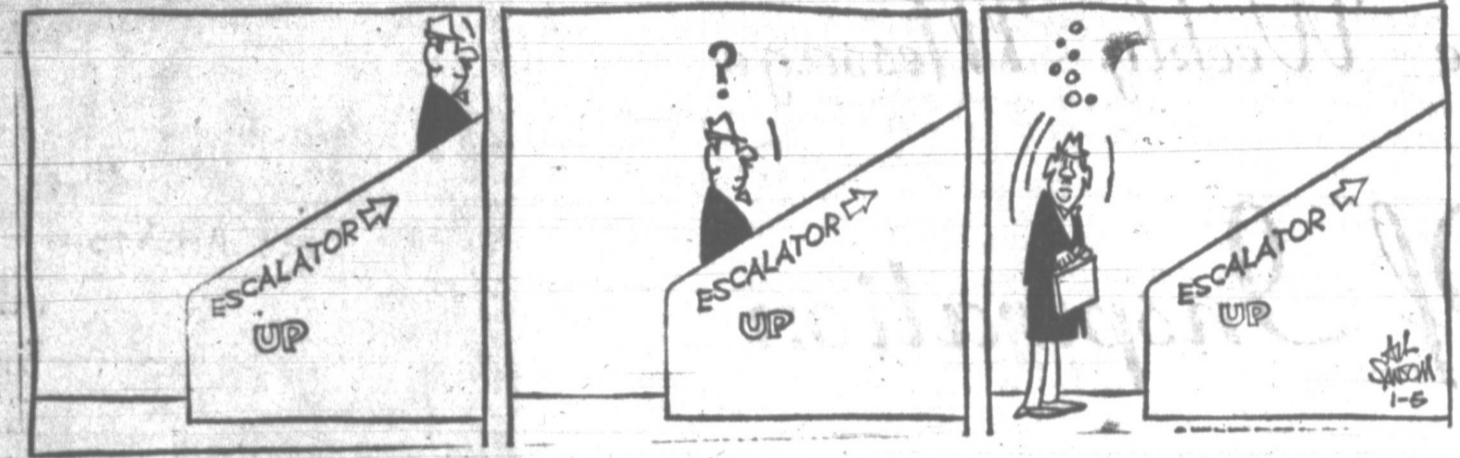

So, look at yourself. What do you have to prove your faith? What kind of "love action?" Regular use of and growth in God's Word through family or private devotions? A steady and worshipful "church life?" Frequent attendance at the Lord's Supper? An active and earnest prayer life? A fair share of the money given for the Lord's work? A Christian "light before men" in your work, at home, in your social activities? And there are more things one could consider...

The secret of it all is Christ in you and with you. He says, "I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abides in me, and I in him, the same brings forth much fruit: for without Me ye can do nothing." A faith active in love depends on our relation to our Savior. Once we grasp the full meaning of his love to us, we will show it in our life. And we will return to Him again and again for refreshment and strength, for more understanding, for new insights into ways to serve Him.

Examine yourself! What's your score?

NO WINS SINCE 1966

South Tries to Rise Again

SPTS 3-48 ITAL. SOUTH MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — The chivalrous South—loser of every post season all star game since January of 1966—tries to regain a taste of past glory here Saturday when it battles the North in the 19th annual Senior Bowl game.

It was in the 1966 version of this classic that the South won its last football battle with the North. Since then, the South has been defeated in all 1966-67 All-Star games, this year losing the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery and the Shrine North-South battle in Miami.

Over-all, the South leads in the Senior Bowl with 11 victories against six losses and a tie. The game makes professionals of the players, as members of the winning team receive $1,000 each and the losers get $750 each.

A sellout crowd of 40,000 is expected in Ladd Stadium for the 1 p.m. CST kickoff, with a national television audience (NBC) looking on.

The South lists four all-Americans on its team—Alabama end Dennis Homan and defensive back Bobby Johns, Tennessee center Bob Johnson, and Clemson lineman Harry Olszewski.

Both teams are expected to rely heavily on passing. North Coach Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots has Wyoming's Paul Toscano and Toledo's John Schneider at quarterback, with the receiver corps including Rick Eber of Tulsa, Haven Moses of San Diego State, Bill Anders of Ohio State and Ken Dyer of Arizona State.

This game contrasts with last year's mismatch when a huge North team manhandled the South 35-13. The South outweighs the North by about five pounds per man, averaging 218 pounds this year.

Oakland Coach Is Best In AFL -- United Press

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mild-mannered John Rauch of the Oakland Raiders, who finally got his first chance at a head coaching job last season after toiling 14 years in assistant slots, Thursday was named the United Press International Coach of the Year in the American Football League.

Rauch, who piloted the Raiders to the AFL title with the best record in the history of the league, was a close winner over Wally Lemm of the Houston Oilers in the balloting of 27 writers across the nation—three from each league city.

Although the Oilers were clobbered by the Raiders 40-7 in the title game, Lemm also did an excellent coaching job this season in leading the rookie-laden Oiler squad from last place in 1966 to the Eastern Division championship in 1967.

Gillman Receives Votes Rauch received 13 votes while Lemm picked up 10 and one other coach, Sid Gillman of the San Diego Chargers, landed the other four.

Rauch joined the Raiders in 1963 as the No. 1 assistant to coach Al Davis and remained in that position for three seasons.

But after the 1965 season, the AFL decided to escalate the "war" with the National Football League and named Davis the commissioner of the AFL, giving Rauch his shot at the head job.

Davis has returned to the Raiders in the position of "managing general partner" which means he runs the Raider operation.

Builds Around Lamonica But Rauch has continued as field boss and did a superb job molding the club. Last season he piloted the team to an 8-5-1 record and this season he built the team around his new quarterback, Daryle Lamonica, and the club went on to a 13-1 record besides the victory over Houston in the AFL title game. The Raiders now meet the Green Bay Packers in the Super Bowl on Jan. 14.

Rauch started his coaching career as an assistant with Florida in 1952 and '53. He spent a year at Tulane in 1954 and after spending three seasons there, he went back to Tulane for a year before finally joining the Raiders in 1963.

Track Stars To Compete Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The cream of America's youth corps, bolstered by a veteran contingent with something still left in the old bones, feature the All-American track and field games which kick off Olympic year tonight at the Cow Palace.

The youngsters, most of whom are near sure-fire bets to be on the Yank team which goes to Mexico City for the Olympic Games in October, include Tommie Smith, Lee Evans, O.J. Simpson, Earl McCullough, Charlie Greene, Jim Hines and Billy Gaines. All but Gaines are world record holders but the New Jersey phenom isn't more than a step away.

The veterans, hopeful of one more shot in the Olympics, include Ralph Boston, perennial long jump king; shot putter Larry O'Brien, now 35; middle distance man Mike Larrabee, who is 34, and a quartet of 30-year-olds—steeplechaser George Young, shot putter Dave Davis, miler Bob Schul and sprinter Mel Pender.

Between the kids and the vets are such as Billy Mills, the Marine who won the 10,000-meter run at the 1964 Olympics; Ron Whitehead, the hottest intermediate hurdler in the world today; seven-foot plus high jumpers Ed Caruthers, Otis Burrell and John Rambo, the latter a bronze medalist at Tokyo, and the world indoor pole vault record holder Bob Seegren.

Wilt to Lead East All-Stars

NEW YORK (UPI)—A veteran 10-man squad led by unanimous selection Wilt Chamberlain and three members of the Boston Celtics, was named today to represent the Eastern Division in the National Basketball Association's 18th annual East-West All-Star game on Jan. 23.

Chamberlain, the Philadelphia center who has made the All-Star game every year since he came into the NBA in 1959, was the only player to receive a perfect 12,000-point total in voting by sports writers and broadcasters from each of the division cities.

They also selected three members of the Celtics, the maximum allowed from any one team. Representing Boston in the Madison Square Garden contest will be center Bill Russell, forward John Havlicek and guard Sam Jones.

Rounding out the East squad will be Chamberlain's teammate, guard Hal Greer, forward Jerry Lucas and guard Oscar Robertson from Cincinnati, forward Dave Debusschers and sophomore guard Dave Bing from Detroit, and New York's Willis Reed, the leading vote-getter among the forwards with 11,270 points.

The West, which has won 11 of the previous 17 meetings, will be coached by Alex Hannum, who automatically got the nod after leading Philadelphia to the Eastern Division crown last season. Hannum will select two more players next week to round out the squad.

Money Talks, Frazier Listens Very Carefully

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Frazier was listening carefully. Extra carefully. They were talking money.

He already knew what he was to get for fighting Buster Mathis for the "world heavyweight title" during March in the new Madison Square Garden's first boxing show but he wanted to hear it again.

Far down the other end of the room in the swanky 21 Club where Wednesday's news conference was held, Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing, talked into a microphone and told about how hard it was to bring these two fighters together.

This was to be "an unprecedented championship doubleheader." Frazier and Mathis would take on one another for the heavyweight title and Emille Griffith would defend his middleweight crown against Italy's Nino Benvenuti on the same card.

When Markson got through talking, Teddy Brenner, the Garden matchmaker, stepped up and revealed what the boxing people always call "the financial breakdown."

Brenner said Frazier and Griffith would receive $175,000 apiece; Benvenuti $80,000, and Mathis $75,000.

It was precisely at this point that Frazier listened extra carefully to what Brenner was saying over the mike even though Brenner was talking from the extreme other end of the room.

On Speaking Terms "Did you speak to Mathis today?" someone asked Frazier.

"What did he have to say?" "Not much," said Frazier. "We just gabbed about things in general."

"Was there any talk about the fight?" "Some. He agreed winner take all."

"How about you?" "I was the one who suggested it."

"Wait a second? You're getting $175,000 and he's getting only $75,000, so if you fight him better than 2 to 1 odds, winner take all, you're giving aren't you?"

"I should. I'm the best."

Later on, as Frazier passed Mathis in the doorway leading from the room, the subject came up again. Frazier brought it up.

"We agreed, didn't we?" he said to the genial 240-pound Mathis, who is unranked even though he is unbeaten in 23 bouts. The reason Mathis is unranked is because the names of his opponents are like the names of those big $100,000 contest winners. Nobody ever heard of them.

"Agreed to what?" Mathis asked.

"Winner take all," replied Frazier.

"Un-uh," said Mathis. "I can't afford it yet."

Dolley Defends Right Earlier, Edwin B. Dooley, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, didn't back down that easily when braced on what right the commission had to recognize the fight as a world heavyweight championship contest.

"Why is it necessary to have this fight at all," someone agitated Dooley.

"To establish the world championship," he answered evenly.

"What if Cassius Clay is proven not guilty?" came another question.

"We'll reinstate him."

"Then what'll you do with your other champion?" "Let them fight it out."

"Who is the New York Commission to decide that this is a world-championship fight?" Dooley was badgered some more. "Why, Mathis isn't even rated."

"Anyone can rate fighters," answered the harassed Dooley, catching it from all sides.

Dooley glanced around, as if looking for the exit. You had to feel a little sorry for him. It wasn't a fair fight for him. He made it more lopsided yet by some of the answers he gave.

Finally he excused himself from the circle of questioners which had formed around him. He looked glad to get away.

Smoothie Howe Still a Kid

By United Press International Gordie Howe just refuses to act his age.

The old smoothie of the Detroit Red Wings, who has scored more goals and more assists and played in more games than any other player in the National Hockey League history, will celebrate his 40th birthday on March 31.

That's an age when right wingers are supposed to be retired, and reading their scrapbooks. But Howe, the only player in the history of the league to play in more than 20 seasons, still has the touch in his 22nd season.

Howe scored two goals and added two assists Thursday night as the Red Wings blitzed the Oakland Seals 9-3 to move into fourth place, one point ahead of idle New York, in the Eastern Division race. Detroit is also just one point behind third place Toronto.

Howe has now scored 18 goals and is a cinch to break his own record by scoring 20 or more goals for the 19th consecutive season this year.

Howe has scored a total of 667 goals in his career and should have a good shot at becoming the first player to hit the 700 mark before he retires—presuming he will someday.

Doug Roberts also scored a pair of goals for Detroit in a rout as the Wings scored three goals in each period.

In the other two games, the Boston Bruins moved into a tie for first place in the Eastern Division by edging Philadelphia 3-2 and Pittsburgh extended Los Angeles' losing streak to six straight with a 4-3 triumph.

Phil Esposito scored twice in the third period to give Boston its victory. Esposito, who now has scored 19 goals, hit the second one at 16:09 to snap a 2-2 tie. Boston and Chicago are now tied for first place with 45 points each.

Billy Dea scored a pair of goals for Pittsburgh but Andy Bathgate's goal at 11:38 of the third period, which put the Penguins ahead 4-2, proved to be the winning goal as Lowell MacDonald scored for Los Angeles at 14:01. Los Angeles is still in second place but is four points behind Philadelphia in the West.

ANOTHER HONOR FOR GENE

Stallings Coach of Year

DALLAS (UPI) — Sports writers left little doubt in their voting that Texas A&M's Gene Stallings was their choice as Senior College Coach of the Year in Texas, but four other candidates were about evenly matched for the runner-up spot. Aggies to a 6-4 season record and the Southwest Conference football title after his team lost its first four games, received 38 of the 86 first place ballots and 165 points in the preferential voting which counts votes in reverse order.

Rod Rust, a first-year skipper at North Texas State, eased in second place with 207 points but only seven points separated him and the No. 5 choice, Southern Methodist's retired basketball coach Doc Hayes.

Gil Steinke, whose Texas A&I football team had an unbeaten regular season, had 209 points; Burtley Bearden, whose Texas Arlington Rebels football team won the Southland Conference and the Pecan Bowl, had 211 points, and Hayes 214 points. Stallings and other award winners yet to be announced by the Texas Sports Writers Association, will be honored next month in Dallas.

THE AMERICANIZATION OF SOCCER goes as far as introduction of a line of strictly mod-style cheer leaders, but the act bombed in Birmingham. Idea was not so much to dress up the game as to provide a diversion to drain a bit of the bloodthirst from the rabid British fan.

Foyt Man of Year in Racing

DEARBORN, Mich. (UPI) — A. J. Foyt, three-time winner of the Indianapolis 100, was named Man of the Year in automobile racing by Ford Motor Co. Thursday.

The Texas-born racer is the only driver ever to win both the 500 and the 24-hour Le Mans endurance race for a spectacular 1967 season. In the Le Mans, he teamed with Dan Gurney in driving a Ford Mark IV.

Ford Vice President Donald N. Foyt praised Foyt for bringing a "big-league aura" to car racing. "I don't know of anyone who has done more to create a professional image for the sport," he said. Presentation of the award highlighted the third annual Ford motor sports banquet here. Motor Trend magazine honored Ford Vice President Joe Iacocca and Roy D. Chapin, American Motors corp. board chairman, for their "individual achievements in the automotive industry." Iacocca was credited with the development of the enormously popular Ford Mustang, and Chapin was cited for his leadership in pulling AMC from the bottom of its financial doldrums.

Foyt, 32, designed and built the Coyote-Ford he drove to victory last May in the 51st version of the classic. He has also formed his own racing team.

In addition to the Indianapolis 500, Foyt won four other Championship car events in 1967 enroute to his fifth U.S. Auto Club national championship.

Foyt resides in Houston with his wife and their three children.

Louisville's Unseld Is Still King of His Valley

By United Press International
The jolly giant, Wes Unseld, is still king of the Valley.

Paced by Unseld's 19 points and 16 rebounds Louisville edged Tulsa 65-59 Thursday night in a crucial Missouri Valley Conference contest as the Cardinals stretched their record to 2-0 in league play.

Although a disappointing 6-4 on the season thus far, the Cardinals have had the unpleasant task of playing eight of their first 10 games on the road. They still have four more road games—all conference contests—before returning home on Jan. 23.

The game was tied 15 times in the first half, but Louisville began to pull away midway through the second half and coasted to the victory. The Cardinals hit on 27 of 47 shots from the field and got 18 points from Jerry King and 12 from Butch Beard.

Louisville is likely to have its hands full with Bradley and Cincinnati in conference play. Bradley stretched its conference record to 3-0 by whipping

Houston Respects Packers Offense

UPI Sports Writer
Oakland Raiders, champions of the American Football League, are not awed by the Green Bay Packers whom they meet at Miami in the second Super Bowl Jan. 14.

Both teams qualified for pro football's championship by beating two Texas teams Sunday. The Raiders routed Houston 40-17 in 47-degree weather at Oakland while the pre-empted Packers came from behind to edge Dallas 21-17 in 13-below-zero cold at Green Bay, Wis., to capture the National Football League championship for the third year in a row.

"We'll go into the game confident we can do the job," said Raider Coach John Rauch. "Eating the Packers is in the realm of possibility. They are the best."

Travel Sunday
He said the Raiders would work out in Oakland this week and fly to Miami Sunday.

Three of the Raiders suffered injuries against Houston but all will be ready for the Super Bowl in which the individual winner's share will be about $15,000 and the loser's at least $7,500.

Each Raider picked up a winner's share of between $6,000 and $7,000 from the AFL championship game. Defensive tackle Tom Keating suffered an ankle sprain, quarterback Daryle Lamonica sustained a muscle spasm in his Warren Powers pulled a leg muscle.

Houston Coach Wally Lemm, who said Oakland "just outdid us offensively and defensively," declined to make a prediction for the Super Bowl outcome.

Takes No Sides
"The Raiders have a hell of a solid football club, but they're going to meet a solid football club... the most solid in the business," he said. "Green Bay won't beat itself."

Some Raiders were confident of whipping the Packers. Oakland back Hewitt Dixon, who racked 69 yards around left end for a touchdown opening the second quarter against Houston to give the Raiders a 10-0 lead, said: "I feel we can run against the Packers. They're a good team but we'll beat them."

Cowboys Moan GB Field

DALLAS (UPI)—Three members of the Dallas Cowboys defensive unit were still feeling the affects today of frostbite suffered during the National Football League Championship game in Green Bay, Wis.

The Cowboys said Thursday George Andrie, Jethro Pugh and Mel Renfro will require daily medication for three weeks to regain normal sensitivity in their fingers. They will also take tablets daily to increase their blood circulation. Three of Andrie's fingers were frostbitten.

But Dallas wasn't the only one with cold weather injuries. Green Bay linebacker Ray Nitschke was still nursing several frostbitten toes from the Sunday game. However, he said they weren't bothering him as the Packers readied for the Super Bowl contest Jan. 14 with Oakland.

All of this was a result of the extreme cold at Lambeau Field in Green Bay where the Packers defeated the Cowboys 21-17 in temperatures that fell to 2 below zero.

Two other Cowboys, Willie Townes and Dick Daniels, also were affected by the cold but their cases were not as serious as those of Andrie, Pugh and Renfro.

Cowboy trainer Don Cochren said "If some of those guys had been exposed much longer, they might have really been in trouble. A severe case of frostbite causes cellular death in the part of your body which is affected... in the case of these players it could have led to the loss of some fingers, particularly for George."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has gotten the new year off to a good start with an important scientific discovery.

Only the department doesn't seem to know it.

A couple of agricultural researchers have found that a synthetic chemical widely used in commercial insect repellants "occurs" naturally in pink bollworms.

The chemists were amazed by this. They had always thought the chemical, known as "deet," was strictly a manmade substance.

But when deet found in pink bollworms was tested on yellow fever mosquitoes, the insects were as effectively repelled as they are by the laboratory stuff.

Potential Value

This news was released matter-of-factly in a routine announcement with no mention of its vast significance. As my good deed for today, I would like to point out some of the potentials.

Pink bollworms ruin a lot of cotton crops in this country. In fact, the two chemists were experimenting with anti-bollworm measures when they discovered the deet.

Armed with this information, it should now be fairly simple to eradicate bollworms.

All the chemists need do is find some way to remove the deet, release a few mosquitoes in a cotton patch, and the bollworms will come down with yellow fever.

Beyond that, however, is an even greater benefit.

Comeback For Cotton

The real enemy of cotton is not the pink bollworm but synthetic fibers, which have taken over much of the market. Here is a chance for king cotton to make a comeback.

When a farmer plants a cotton crop he shouldn't try to keep down the bollworms as in the past. He should try to make it easy for bollworms to thrive, spread and proliferate.

Then, at harvest time, instead of picking the cotton, he picks the bollworms.

I'm certain insecticide companies would be delighted to have a natural supply of deet, rather than have to make their own. So the bollworms should fetch a handsome price.

Thus, in one swoop, is solved both the cotton surplus and the bollworm problem.

It is a bit of classic irony that the bollworm, so long a scourge of the cotton farmer, should now emerge as his economic salvation. The south shall rise again!

Treasury Makes Gold Available

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury disclosed Wednesday an additional $450 million in gold has been made available to back up the U.S. dollar abroad.

The government reported for the first time that on Dec. 26 it transferred $450 million in gold from its general holdings to its exchange stabilization fund, which provides gold for foreign buyers and arranges exchanges of U.S. and foreign currencies.

The transfer was the second of the month, following a $475 million transfer Dec. 7 in the wake of the devaluation of the British pound sterling a month before.

That brought total transfers for the year to $1.175 billion — as much as in 1966 — and left $11.9 billion worth of gold in the general reserve. Thus, the total amount of U.S. gold continued to remain slightly below the previous all-time low recorded in the depression.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., meantime proposed that U.S. businessmen pay taxes on their foreign earnings left overseas, which are now untaxed. And Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., proposed a plan to encourage Europeans to visit the United States, which he said would stimulate the need for proposed restrictions on Americans traveling overseas.

FORCH ENROUTE

BRIVE, France (UPI) — The torch bound for the Grenoble winter olympics was being carried from Brive to Bordeaux today amid heavy rainstorms that have plagued the area for days.

Romney, Home From World Tour, Says Nomination Fight 'Uphill'

DETROIT (UPI) — Gov. George Romney, home from a round-the-world trip to face an acknowledged "uphill" battle for the Republican presidential nomination, today promised a "strenuous" fight to win the New Hampshire primary.

Wednesday night after a 27-day journey mapped out to fresher his foreign policy and world problems credentials. He told an airport conference that the top world problem is the war in Vietnam; but he spent most of his time forward to a strenuous campaign.

He said he would begin campaigning for the March 12 election one week from Friday at Nashua, N.H. He said he would go vote hunting for 22 days in the nation's first presidential primary of 1968.

HemisFair Tower Rising Speedily

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — A million and a half tons of concrete crept up the spine of the Tower of the Americas at the speedy rate of an inch every 15 seconds today.

The "lophouse" of the tower, which when completed will be a revolving restaurant and observation deck, began its long journey Wednesday.
