Pre-Dawn Battle Erupts

300 GI's Throw Back N. Vietnamese Attack

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—A force of 300 Americans threw back an onslaught by 1,000 to 1,500 North Vietnamese armed with flamethrowers in a four-hour battle in the Central Highlands today. The GIs killed 135 enemy troops and lost 19 dead and 51 wounded.

Troops of the U.S. 4th Division were awakened by Communist soldiers overrunning their perimeter before a shot was fired. The Americans fought back with rifles and grenades and, backed by American air power, drove the Communists back.

The battle began before dawn against the U.S. firepost 15 miles west of Kontum City and 12 miles from the Cambodian border. In the initial attack the North Vietnamese captured one U.S. artillery piece but never had a chance to use it.

11-Year Sleep Ended

USS New Jersey Is Undergoing Sea Test

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The mighty USS New Jersey arose from an 11-year sleep today and took the first step towards restoring the battleship era once thought dead.

The 45,000-ton battleship, ordered out of the Navy's mothball fleet to prepare for service in Vietnam, inched down the Delaware River from the naval base here to undergo three days of sea trials.

After the trials in the Atlantic Ocean, the huge dreadnaught known officially as the EB62 in Navy nomenclature, will return to the base for recommissioning April 6 and eventual assignment to her third war.

Move Is Surprise Around City Hall

JIM WHITE
... resigns city hall post

City Manager Jim White resigned today. Mayor Jim Nation read his letter of resignation at the conclusion of today's City Commission meeting.

Effective April 30, the city manager will leave City Hall to accept a similar post in Denton, 30 miles north of Dallas.

Additional Tax Service Rejected; Ordinances OK'd

The Pampa City Commission today accepted the recommendation of City Manager Jim White that an application for an additional taxicab service in Pampa be turned down.

In Jordan-Israeli Conflict

King Urged To Back Terrorists

By United Press International
Jordanian public leaders have put heavy pressure on King Hussein to offer official backing to guerrillas fighting Israeli forces in occupied areas of Jordan, informed sources said today.

UPI correspondent John Lawton in Amman said the 31-year-old monarch met with 150 military and civilian leaders Monday. The sources said speakers in the meeting rose to demand support from the King and his government for the resistance movement across the River Jordan.

Hussein, the sources said, replied that he would welcome government cooperation with the guerrillas but would not tolerate their becoming a "state within a state."

hesitated to encourage a revival of the Middle East war and thereby take a chance on a dangerous confrontation of the world's superpowers, UPI diplomatic correspondent K. C. Thaler reported.

The Jordanian leader's pressure for royal backing of guerrilla organizations reflected expressions of discontent by guerrillas in Al Karamah, the town which was the main target of Israel's attack last week.

UPI photographer Charles Eggleston was with an air cavalry unit ambushed about 20 miles west of Hue. He said lead elements of the company discovered tanks hidden in the foliage and yelled back a warning of "tanks." The unit escaped the ambush with moderate losses; enemy losses were not known.

Sextuplets Die After Birth In Mexico Home

ZACATECAS, Mexico (UPI)—Hospital authorities Monday confirmed the birth of sextuplets to a poor silver miner and his wife in their home last Thursday. All six babies died.

Jet Surprises Its Toughest Critics ... Vietnamese Reds

SAIGON (UPI)—Pilots today said the controversial F111A swing-wing jet on its combat debut surprised its toughest critics—the Communists.

Railroad Commission Head Cites Lack Of Incentive In Oil Exploration

By ROLAND LINDSEY
AUSTIN (UPI)—The chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission said today Texas is in no danger of running out of oil, but it is running short on incentives for new oil exploration and discoveries.

Jim C. Langdon said Texas "still has a tremendous amount of excess capacity to produce oil."

Miss Palmer Repeats As 'Bee' Champ

The word was "receptacle" and Miss Nancy Palmer, last year's Gray County Spelling Bee winner, knew its correct spelling, a bit of information which propelled her to her second straight championship.

White left after today's council session to attend a meeting of the Denton City Commission tonight.

He is expected to return to Pampa late Thursday. The resignation came as a surprise to City Hall. White said the decision to leave Pampa was made only within the last few days.

Drowning Victim's Body Is Found

BORGER (UPI)—The body of the fourth person drowned in a boating accident Saturday night on Lake Meredith was found by rescue crews Monday.

Continuing observation of the present taxicab service was suggested.

The city manager also recommended that a request of the Pampa Council of Women's Clubs be granted to fly city flags at half staff during the funeral of any Pampa serviceman killed in action. The council accepted the recommendation.

Six Absentee Votes Cast In School Race

Six absentee ballots have been cast for the April 6 Pampa school board election. Deadlines for casting absentee votes is 4:30 p.m. April 2, in the office of Homer Craig, school business manager.

For Lack Of An Elephant, Viet Village In Danger

By RICHARD V. OLIVER
SAIGON (UPI)—All for the want of a three-ton elephant or two, American and South Vietnamese forces today stand to lose a little village they have labored long to keep out of Viet Cong hands.

The sleepy valley hamlet. Machines have been tried and failed. The villagers say that without the elephants they will lose their only industry, a sawmill installed last year with help by U.S. Army Special Forces.

The Berets charged. They crossed off a land trip. Too long, too dangerous for jumbo. The Viet Cong controls the only road into Tra Bong.

Two elephants to Tra Bong, not only through Viet Cong jungle but through miles of military red tape.

Boat? Too long and, besides, elephants get seasick and even big sampans are not made for green pachyderms. U.S. Marines offered to come to the rescue.

They would ferry the elephants to Tra Bong from Chu Lai, 20 miles away, by (See ELEPHANT, Page 3)

Texans Among Group Studying Unemployment

By United Press International
Six Texas captains of industry are on a national team whose target is to find out on a huge scale who the "hard-core unemployed" are and what jobs are ready for them.

The task is great and the warning time the team members got was low, but they have already gotten started.

"We have had to shake hands on the band stand and begin to play," said D. Hull Youngblood Sr., vice president and general manager of Southern Steel in San Antonio. "We have had very, very good response when you consider we were formed only in January."

The other Texas team members are Clyde Skeen of Dallas, president of Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., and head of a regional team; Patrick E. Haggerty of Dallas, chairman of the board of Texas Instruments; Hugh F. Steen of El Paso, president of El Paso Natural Gas; Frank W. Davis of Fort Worth, president of General Dynamics; and P. H. Robinson of Houston, president of Houston Lighting and Power Co.

Already, the Texans have gathered some volunteers about them. Some firms have given leaves of absence to some men who will devote full time to the project.

The job started with a canvass—the team is checking industries throughout Texas to find out what jobs are going begging. Then the workers will find out in each city what men have the hardest time getting jobs.

"We are trying to put the jobs and the individuals together," Davis said.

"I am spending all my time together with the people who are assisting me...in completing our organization and recruiting people to volunteer from business and industry," Robinson said.

President Johnson got the effort started nationwide, headed by Henry Ford II, but the businessmen who are doing the work are under no rules or regulations.

"Fundamentally, they have put each metro director right out in the middle of the prairie," Youngblood said. "He has to make up his own rules."

Youngblood said the businessmen will be catalysts rather than "a takeover group."

Signs Agreement
One technique in the campaign, Youngblood said, is to bring the "hard core" unemployed up to a level at which men can be given on-the-job training. The employer signs an agreement with the government, then the government pays the employers' expenses above the regular training cost for normally oriented workers. The result is a man who has not had a job for a long time is given some basic skills and can move into a job for further training as he works. Youngblood said he has 40 pledges for such contracts and hundreds of others interested.

"This is better than leaf-raking," Youngblood said of the jobs. "You make a man out of a welfare cast."

Meeting in El Paso
Steen of El Paso called a meeting today with some 400 businessmen to get them into the program. Their particular target is 5,000 unemployed in the El Paso area.

The Texas team members added almost to a man a note of caution to discussion of the effort. For one thing, they will be working with workers of low education and training, many with medical problems and perhaps police records.

So they don't allow themselves the illusion that out of their work will come some great answer to the nation's unemployment.

But they consider the effort the best thing available at the moment, and are going all-out to make it a success.

Elephant

Big Sleep
The U.S. 7th Air Force said alright, it would haul the m. Just so the elephants would be contented passengers. Gantt spent hours on transoceanic phones, calling zoos in New York, Cleveland, Ohio, and London in search of a tranquilizer that would put the jumbos to sleep for the flight but not harm them.
Zoo men told Gantt he needed M99, a potent drug made in Hul, England. He ordered it. But the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics upheld the shipment until American officials in Saigon sent a "required form" explaining just why they need M99 for just what kind of trip.
The M99 arrived. Berets tested the drug on an elephant. The beast laid down for a nap. The Air Force decided it would be safe to fly the friendly skies with elephants under M99.
The testers did notice that the drug appeared to upset jumbos' tummies, producing a harmless intestinal gas. All seemed well. Plans went ahead for the big flight. It even got a code name, Operation Bah-roum.
Bah-roum was supposed to blast off this week. But the plane ride was cancelled.
Brig. Gen. H.A. Rasmussen, the Army's assistant chief of staff for logistics for the U.S. forces in Vietnam, said no. "Technical difficulties have not been worked out. They have not been able to solve them," said a spokesman for Rasmussen.
Tra Bong waits for its elephants.
"If they don't come, we've got 400 families. Unless we get those elephants up there, they're quitting," Gantt said.
One of Gantt's aides said, "I thought this war was for winning the hearts and minds of the people. The way it looks, we're going to lose a lot of hearts and minds in Tra Bong."

that shot flames up 1,500 feet. American commanders have predicted that the North Vietnamese might launch major attacks now in the highlands—just east of the Cambodia and Laos borders—to pull Allied strength from the northern frontier of South Vietnam and from the Saigon area.
In other action, U.S. and South Vietnamese troops Monday and today fought their biggest battle of their biggest antiguerrilla drive, according to military spokesmen. Troops of the Allies' 30-battalion Operation Resolved To Win, sweeping guerrillas from the five provinces of the Saigon area, used tanks, warplanes and infantry charges in killing 284 Viet Cong near the town of Trang Bang, 28 miles northwest of the capital.
Another 106 Communist bodies were found three miles north of Tan Son Nhut, the Allied headquarters and air base on Saigon's western side. Government spokesmen said artillery barrages killed the 105.
It raised to about 1,700 the number of guerrillas killed since Gen. William C. Westmoreland launched Resolved To Win March 11.
Bah-roum was supposed to blast off this week. But the plane ride was cancelled.
Brig. Gen. H.A. Rasmussen, the Army's assistant chief of staff for logistics for the U.S. forces in Vietnam, said no. "Technical difficulties have not been worked out. They have not been able to solve them," said a spokesman for Rasmussen.

slowly declined since 1957, while production has varied. In 1966, there were 5,521 new oil finds and 1,170 gas discoveries.
Discoveries Decline
To date in 1968, there have been 834 oil and 308 gas discoveries in the state, compared with 1,146 oil and 513 gas on the same date a year ago.
Texas' oil reserves Jan. 1, 1967, were slightly less than half the total proved reserves of the United States, and more than six times the reserve total of once oil-rich Oklahoma.
Langdon is convinced there is yet much undiscovered oil in Texas.
"There is a difference in running out of oil and lagging in discovery," he said. He pointed to "incentive" as the difference.
"I don't think the nation or the state is likely to run out of oil in the foreseeable future. As long as there is a demand for oil, we will find it and produce it."

France Mounts Double Threat To US Dollar

BRUSSELS (UPI)—France mounted a double threat to the dollar today, not only through the price of gold but in demands for a share of United States trade in exchange for helping the U.S. balance of payments crisis.
Michel Debre, French finance and economics minister, said his country got agreement from its five Common Market partners Monday to insist that the United States renounce tariff barriers to permit imports of European petroleum chemicals in exchange for help in U.S. gold payments.
Gold closed at $40.38 an ounce on the Paris market today, up from the closing price of $39.40 Monday. Gold stood at $38.95 at the close of trading Friday and apparently rose again quickly on the strength of President Charles de Gaulle's weekend demands for an overhaul of the international monetary system.
The one-day Common Market conference was called to discuss stepping up tariff cuts up to 50 per cent agreed to last year in the so-called Kennedy round of tariff talks in Geneva.
Debre rejected a West German proposal to increase imports in Europe in the Kennedy tariff negotiations.
France insisted any tariff cut increase must first be compensated by a U.S. declaration that it will not increase its trade protection and is ready to reduce the U.S. "selling price" tariff system, enabling European petrochemicals better access to U.S. markets.

Pampans Assist McLean Scouts

MCLEAN (Sp1)—Three Pampa men were in McLean Monday night to assist a Boy Scout unit in its re-chartering work.
John W. Warner, district scout commissioner, and Bill Felter and Darwin Baumann worked with Scoutmaster Jay Thompson of McLean. The scouts were given information on how to re-charter and another meeting is slated for April 18 to continue the work.
The unit is sponsored by the McLean Lions Club and assistance is anticipated from the local Jaycees in providing adult leadership.
Scouts in attendance at the meeting here last night were Boyd Thompson, senior patrol leader; Duane Ford, Paul Blankenberg, Spencer Skipper and Lonnie Ford.

Capt. J. Edward Snyder Jr., the new skipper, estimated the cost of putting BB62 "on the line" off Vietnam at $50 million.

Mishap Reported Here Yesterday

An accident occurred involving two autos yesterday. The cars were driven by Darrell Eugene Crafton, 17, of 416 Roberta, and Jesse Eliza Reeves, 79, of 525 N. Faulkner, with Reeves getting a ticket from Pampa police for improper backing.
No injuries were reported but damages to the autos were: Crafton's $200 estimated by police; and to Reeves—$375 estimated by police.
Crafton hit the rear end of the auto driven by Reeves as Reeves was backing out of a lumber company in the 400 block of Foster at the intersection of Gray and Foster according to the police report.

Pythians Attend Graham Meeting

Three members of Pampa Lodge No. 480, Knights of Pythias, attended and helped in the reorganizational meeting of Graham Lodge No. 143 held last night in the Graham Lodge Hall.
Supreme Representative Bryan Thomas of Electra was in charge of the meeting. Other visitors were W. C. Meason, Grand Chancellor of Texas, Longview; A. L. Weathered, Grand Vice-Chancellor, Pampa; J. E. Milstead, Grand Secretary, Tyler; and Joe B. Wither- spoon, Grand Treasurer, Weatherford.

Also in attendance from Pampa were Wilson Howell and B.B. Altman Jr. New officers for the Graham Lodge were elected and the next meeting was set for April 8.
Pampa Lodge No. 480 will meet tonight at 8 at the Pythian Hall, with James Culpepper presiding.

MONEY-MAKING JOB
 LONDON (UPI)—Britain lately is overcoming one financial crisis only to find itself in another. The latest? The Royal Mint is short of people who want to "make money" and is urgently advertising for labor.

SPAWNING CENSUS
 BLACKBURN, England (UPI)—The Lancashire River Authority is installing electronic devices in the River Lune to take a census of salmon and sea trout on their way to the spawning grounds. The instruments are manufactured by the Harrison Reproduction Equipment Company.

LONER. David Pile of Sheffield, England, designed and built a boat which he plans to enter in this year's one-man trans-Atlantic race. Built over a two-year period, boat's cost will run about $1,800.

Northwood Institute Program Nearly All Involves Business

CEDAR HILL, Tex. (UPI)—No job recruiter is likely ever to complain that students of Northwood Institute, a new four-year college 18 miles southwest of Dallas, are spurning business careers.

Northwood offers 16 programs and nearly all directly involve business. The other programs include something about business.

The Cedar Hill campus is one of four Northwood Institute campuses. The others are in Michigan and Indiana. All four campuses have a total enrollment of 1,450, with about 100 at Cedar Hill, where the institute opened in 1966.

Arthur E. Turner, president of Northwood institutes, and deputy vice president Gary Stauffer founded the institutes. They were working in the admissions office of Alma (Mich.) College in 1957, when the Russians sent up the first Sputnik satellite.

Emphasis on Science
 Many schools at the time started to put heavy emphasis on science, to the dismay of businessmen and supporters of liberal arts.

With a borrowed $40,000 and a lumberman's old mansion for classrooms, they opened the doors of the first Northwood Institute in Alma to 103 students in the fall of 1959.

The company signed an agreement with the Superior Oil Co. for the reserves deal at the Grey Ranch Field in Pecos County. The field will be the first field served by the new gathering facilities.

The company said it has bought some $50 billion cubic feet of gas reserves from Superior Oil Co. in West Texas.

The Coastal firm said it has plans to build the new gathering system over 280 miles of 30-inch line connecting the Delaware-Val Verde Basin of West Texas to existing Coastal States

Gas System Is Slated For West Texas

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Coastal States Gas Producing Co. has reported it will build a $33 million intrastate gas gathering system to tap West Texas reserves.

The company said it has bought some $50 billion cubic feet of gas reserves from Superior Oil Co. in West Texas.

The Coastal firm said it has plans to build the new gathering system over 280 miles of 30-inch line connecting the Delaware-Val Verde Basin of West Texas to existing Coastal States

Quotes In The News

By United Press International
 NEW YORK—Adam Clayton Powell, preaching to an audience of 3,000 at the Abyssinian Baptist Church where he is pastor:

"Think black. Jesus said when they hit you, turn the other cheek—but after that, I say kick the hell out of 'em."

Washington Senator Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., commenting on a new Republican group organized to keep Richard M. Nixon from getting the Republican presidential nomination:

"I don't think the ball game's over."

NEW YORK—Joseph Tekoah, Israeli ambassador to the United Nations, commenting on the U.N. Security Council's resolution condemning Israel for its raid against Jordan last week:

"Our houses are being dynamited, our roads are being mined, our children are not safe in their beds. Israel should remain inert and wait passively for the slaughter?"

AL KARAMACH, Jordan—A spokesman for the Al Fatah commando organization raiding Israeli settlements:

"If we are left alone for the next three years we will complete our task—the political and social disintegration of Israel."

Rattler Hits Snake Sack Champion

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (UPI)—Chuck Kuller of Fort Worth was recovering today from a snakebite he suffered while competing in the "Texas Rattlesnake Sacking Championship."

Fuller was on one of the two-man teams at the annual rattlesnake hunt in the Brownwood area.

He had a rattler by the tail Sunday and was lifting it to a sack when the five-foot snake twisted around and struck Fuller on the arm. His arm became swollen and blue, but doctors said he will recover.

He won the contest, by the way.

Woman Is Only Casualty When Two Men Duel

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The 20 paces marked off, the two gunmen turned on their heels and, after carefully taking aim, fired away at each other.

It was like a real-life chapter out of the Old West, or something taken from those times when a gentleman was not easily insulted.

The shots were traded furiously. But neither Evaristo Valero or Jesus Rebellor were very good shots, since neither even nicked the other after several shots were fired.

At this point the comedy turned into tragedy when Margarita Fabian, a friend of both duelers and possibly the winner's reward, tried to prevent their deaths.

She ran between the two begging them to put their pistols down and for her efforts was shot in the head. She was reported in critical condition at a Mexico City hospital.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 President Suharto of Indonesia, apparently confident that his position is secure at home, is taking to the road in search of more help in bailing his country out of 20 years of misrule. First stop is Tokyo.

Within coming months other stops probably will include Cambodia, Malaysia, Thailand, the Philippines, Singapore, the United States and several European nations.

Its foreign aid needs for 1968 at $325 million, an increase of $125 million over last year.

The United States has agreed to furnish one-third of the requirements, with another third expected from Japan and the remainder from other non-Communist creditor nations.

Similar but separate negotiations are being carried on with the Soviet Union and other European Communist nations.

Earmarked For Use
 The money will be earmarked for use by Indonesian importers bringing in essential goods, for development projects, notably roads and railways, and for foreign technical assistance.

The Japanese have not yet come through with their promised aid and Suharto fears that continued foot dragging could lead the United States to cut back on its own assistance program to Indonesia.

American observers in Jakarta believe with Suharto that 1968 could be the decisive year for Indonesia.

First Trip
 It is his first trip outside Indonesia since he led the way in the overthrow of former President Sukarno who nearly wrecked the country with his fuzzy concept of "guided democracy," all but opened the door to a Communist take-over, and drained the country's economy with his so-called prestige projects.

From Japan Suharto needs an immediate $60 million dollars to match a like amount already advanced by the United States.

Altogether, Indonesia figures

Sales occasion frequent transfers and gold is shifted bar by bar from one compartment to another.

Driver Improvement Course Is Pioneered By Air Force

By ANN WOOD
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Give yourself a quick test: Which of the following would you do first if your car accelerator stuck?
A. Try to kick it loose with your foot.

B. Turn off the ignition.
C. Brake immediately.
D. Shift to neutral.
Go to neutral, says the answer in a driver improvement course being pioneered by the Air Force and which well could come into general use.

Grade yourself low if you chose turning off the ignition. In many modern cars, this kills not only the engine but power to brakes and steering. Dangerous.

In the program, now in use at 18 Air Force installations, films depicting particular driving problems are flashed on a wide screen. Then comes the multiple-choice question on how to solve them, which students answer by pushing the appropriate button before them.

Dann Smith, manager of the program, says drivers average making an error every two miles on the road. Not all are illegal or potentially dangerous, but in the right combination and under particular circumstances they contribute considerably to the accident rate.

The Air Force goal is to cut that mistake rate by half among its personnel.

Conclusive returns as to the course's effectiveness are not in yet, but there was a 21 per cent drop in fatal accidents involving Air Force people last year, when 15 per cent of all personnel took the course.

A driver may speed to work because he had a fight with his wife that morning, or he may make a sloppy turn. He may swerve across the center line while lighting a cigarette, or come up too fast on another car in front while turning his radio.

The course, demonstrated by Smith on Capitol Hill recently, is designed not only to impart technical knowledge about driving but more importantly, to make the students think consciously about good driving habits they should know but too often ignore.

The basic pieces of equipment for a class of 40 is estimated by Smith to cost about $5,000.

The course, developed for the Office of Aerospace Safety, takes about 18 hours. Its subject matter ranges from the driving environment to emergency situations and how to be a helpful passenger.

Smith says airmen, although sometimes skeptical at first, find themselves enjoying the course and relating it to their highway experiences.

The Air Force is adding a two-hour "local orientation" course which also could serve as a model for schools and communities. This course, prepared individually for each air base, is designed to acquaint airmen with the local driving laws and special hazards of the area.

Price Schedules Busy Weekend In Panhandle Towns

Congressman Bob Price will be back in the Panhandle during the March 30 weekend with scheduled appearances in Pampa, Childress, Memphis, Dimmitt and Gruver.

Price will speak at a Farm Bureau chili supper in Childress on Friday.

He is scheduled to address a 7:30 a.m. Farm Bureau breakfast in Pampa Saturday. From here he will go to Memphis for a 10 a.m. luncheon with one of his agricultural advisory committees and a Town Hall meeting in the Memphis Community Bldg. at 12:30 noon.

Another Town Hall meeting is set for 3:30 p.m. Saturday in Dumas and he will address members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Gruver at 7:30 p.m.

Price will return to Washington from Amarillo Sunday following retirement ceremonies for Maj. Gen. Loren G. McCollom, Amarillo Air Force Base.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for two years and have two adorable babies. Right now he is away in the army. He's been gone five months and this is the first time we have ever been separated.

So far I have received 56 letters from him and in each one he tells me how much he loves me, and misses me. And he never fails to say that he is being TRUE to me.

I believe him, Abby, but when I tell this to the other wives they laugh at me and say that all men are alike and when they aren't with the one they love, they love the one they're with. This hurts me very much.

I would like your honest opinion, Abby. Are all men alike?

DEAR WORRIED: No. All men are not more alike than all women are. You have proof of that. The "other wives" don't think the same as you, and obviously their husbands haven't inspired the confidence and trust that yours has. But, soft peddle your good luck, dear. Some people don't like to hear about it.

DEAR ABBY: My son Rick wouldn't even look at a girl. Last August he started seeing a 17-year-old girl day and night. At Christmas time he gave her a small diamond, but he said they weren't going to get married for "a long time yet"—which was a relief to me because I thought they were both too young.

Well, like a bolt out of the blue, Rick decides he wants to get married now. He asked me to sign for him and I refused. He doesn't have a steady job. Besides, he's got the army breathing down his neck. Now Rick and I aren't speaking. I don't like being on the outs with my son, Abby. We're always had such a good relationship. What do you advise me to do?

UPSET MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: I advise you to start talking to Rick, and encourage him to talk to you. There may be a very good reason why Rick wants to marry this girl in such a hurry.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please set me straight on a problem that has me worried.

Could calling a little five-year-old boy "Mary" (just to tease him) leave any lasting emotional scars in later years? I'm afraid it might.

My husband calls our little boy "Mary" when he wants to shame him into acting more like a "little man." This hurts the boy so much he goes to his room and cries.

My husband says that I have no "sense of humor," but I can't see anything funny about this kind of teasing, can you?

MRS. B.: DEAR MRS. B.: No. Your husband's sense of humor is out of joint. Tell him to think of a more humane way to make a "little man" of his son.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CURIOUS": While a genuineness of social order is no fair measure of a husband's true love, devotion or fidelity, neither is excessive physical ardor is no fair measure of a husband's true love, devotion or fidelity, neither is excessive physical ardor proof of it. And that goes double for wives.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Your Child And School

By DAVID NYDICK UPI Education Specialist

Children are often confined to indoor activities for long periods of time during the winter months. This may be caused by either weather conditions or illness. Regardless, the situations are difficult and sometimes almost unbearable for the parents.

There can be no guaranteed solution to this kind of problem. In order to provide activities for children, it is important to consider the individual interests as well as the available facilities and materials. Another factor which is important is the possibility of involving friends and siblings.

The first consideration is the development of some kind of plan. Children should not be expected to spend all of their time participating in quiet type activities. Their bodies require exercise.

Gather Ideas

Parents might benefit by listing the kinds of activities which are available. Many ideas can be obtained from the children, books about games, and discussions with other parents. During these difficult months, a group of parents working together might develop a very exciting program. Depending on the age of the children, they should have involvement in the planning.

A change of scenery is often very helpful for maintaining interest. This may mean visiting friends, going to a museum, movie, sports event, or a skating rink. Don't overlook the school gym or other community buildings. Through the use of these kinds of facilities it is often possible to provide extensive physical activities. The home with its limited space can then be used for quiet programs.

Las Pampas Chapter, D.A.R. Hears 2 Reports on Patriotism, Defense

Mrs. Katie Vincent, chaplain, gave the invocation for Las Pampas Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution when it met recently at Furr's Cafeteria for lunch and Mrs. Henry Merrick, regent, presided over the business meeting.

The Defense Committee report was made by Mrs. J. S. Skelly, chairman. She quoted from remarks of Richard T. Hanna (Calif.) in 1967 in the House of Representatives.

Hanna said, in part, "that in just two decades we have seen an almost unparalleled expansion of interest in exploration and exploitation of the ocean floor. We are all aware of the strife and conflict that was a part of the development of the West. The legendary land grabs range wars and gold rushes make a vivid, yet regrettable, chapter in our Country's history."

"All of us want to avoid a repetition of history's bitter lesson. We all want to avoid necessary conflict which might result between nations competing to tap the resources of the ocean deep. Few, however, agree on how this aim should be realized," she said.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY MARCH 28 GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although many changes seem to be taking place in the way that you handle your daily existence or your work, you have decided changes to urge about by quiet listening to the voice of your intuitive perceptions to get the answers that can be most helpful for you. Show interest in everything beautiful.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) - Ideal day for making some secret support, but be sure you are not taking on too much. Go out for a social time early and meet new people who are fascinating. Show that you are a friendly person.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) - Some new plan you employ now can bring you right to the head of the class, as it were, if you work tirelessly. Do not permit laziness to stop you from carrying through, since you know it will work. They do not have all facts.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) - You need some secret support, but be sure you are not taking on too much. Go out for a social time early and meet new people who are fascinating. Show that you are a friendly person.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) - Pleasing those at home is wise instead of being concerned with making more money for the time being. Do not overextend, but do not overextend. Get busy doing something kind for those less fortunate as well.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) - Instead of being critical with others, buy and listen to suggestions made. Get together and handle some important work. Wait a better time for personal matters.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) - You want to add to your holdings, and this is fine, so long as you do not get greedy about it. Make your plans and then carry through with them in a positive fashion. Show that you have a good sense.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) - The planets are favorably so don't sit around and listen to what others have to say in order for you to advance. Put own ideas to work. You have fine judgment. Use it to your finest benefit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) - You want some secret support, but be sure you are not taking on too much. Go out for a social time early and meet new people who are fascinating. Show that you are a friendly person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 23) - Look up that older who has good advice to offer right now and then you get right results, whether in business or in personal affairs. Your ideas are good, but need a wiser start to them. Study in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 24 to Feb. 19) - You can accomplish a great deal in outside activities provided you observe every rule that applies to you meticulously. Get it some higher-up on your side. Use diplomacy and tact in doing so.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) - You must be amenable to new ideas now that will help you to have more harmonious relations with associates. Read paper brochures, periodicals, etc. These can open your eyes to new openings and opportunities.

Make Mouth Perfect

Use a lip brush to reshape a less than perfect mouth. It may be just what your face needs to keep its over-all proportions in balance. For full lips, paint out your mouth with foundation, then draw in a slightly smaller outline. Use subtle lipstick shades. For thin lips, brush on the outline beyond the natural lip line. For well-defined lips, add an illusion of fullness with highlights of a paler gloss on the too-thin lip.

Mrs. Lynda Robb's Hairdresser Ends Vietnam Trimming

SAIGON (UPI) - Mynsieur Daniel, 26, whose full name is Robb's New York hairdresser, today ended a week's tour of snipping and coiffing in Vietnam. He won the hearts of 350 nurses, Wacs and Waves.

Daniel, 2, whose full name is Daniel Wadiaeff, wore jungle fatigues instead of his usual formal suit and carried a 45-caliber pistol among his brushes and combs.

He crammed six major Vietnam bases into his frantic week that saw 30 and 40 women at a time waiting "with towels around their heads."

Escorting him on the tour was John Miller, of Bonita, Calif., a Korea and Vietnam combat veteran and ex-Special Forces major.

"Wherever we went," Miller said, "there the girls would be in huts, under parachute awnings, trailers or service bays. Thirty or 40 of them at a time all ready and waiting with towels around their heads."

Daniel, who paid his own way, said everyone in New York thought he was "nuts" to undertake his quick-clip project in Vietnam.

"But it's been well worth it," he said. "I've never had such a reception. No one's come out exclusively for the women before."

Ritual of Jewels Ceremony Inducts Sorority Members

Pledges to Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were inducted into membership during a "Ritual of Jewels" ceremony recently in the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. Hospitality Room.

In the candlelight ceremony, Mrs. James Lee presented each pledge to Mmes. Buddy Lamberson, Warren Chisum, Charles Snider and Benny Stout, who conducted the ritual.

Each pledge knelt on pillows before a table covered with a ritual cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses and ritual candles. Mrs. Buddy Lamberson pinned each pledge, and presented each with a small gift from the chapter. Mrs. Robert Benyshek was presented a charm for being voted the outstanding pledge.

Pledges receiving the "Ritual of Jewels" were Mmes. Robert Benyshek, Howard Reed, Jim Hopkins and Henry Harnley.

Following the ceremony, the pledges presented the chapter with a gift of new candle holders and vase.

A short business meeting followed, with Mrs. Chisum presiding. Reports were given, and the chapter voted to send $30 to Phyllis Archer the chapter's girl in Girls Town, Whiteface, to be used to purchase an Easter outfit. The rush party for Phi Epsilon Beta russhes will be held in the home of Mrs. Charles Snider, at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The program was presented by Miss Mary Gerik. The subject of her program was "People." In the program, different ways of treating people of different age groups was discussed. Several members told of different experiences they had had in dealing with people.

The St. Patrick's day theme was carried out by the hostesses Mmes. Charles Snider, and Ronald Beard. The table was decorated with Shamrocks and centered with a leprechaun and a green Shamrock hat.

Those attending were Mmes. Ronald Beard, Warren Chisum, Buddy Lamberson, James Lee, Charles Snider, Penny Stout, Don Huffaker, Howard Reed, Henry Harnley, Jim Hopkins, Robert Benyshek, Phyllis Mitchell, Miss Mary Gerik, and sponsor, Mrs. Georgia Mack.

Scouting Scoops

The third day of the four-day outdoor training was held 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. today, Girl Scout Little House. This was "Cookout" day, a meal planned and prepared by leaders attending this training.

Brownie Troop 99 conducted a program on foreign countries during World Association Month. Mrs. Curt Beck, originally from Holland, was guest speaker, and discussed her home-country. Each troop member brought something from a foreign country and gave a short talk concerning the article. All of the girls received their World Friendship pins during the following meeting.

At the regular March P-TA meeting, Jenny Bronner, Troop 136, presented Joe Page, principal for Lamar Elementary School, a Girl Scout membership. Troop 136 members are Debbie Anderson, Jenny Bronner, Gay Cade, Belinda Collins, Cindy Day, Pattie Estes, Kim Gooch, Cathie Henry, Lorrie Huddleston, Patricia Jackson, Brenda Kite, Rose Ann Miller, Alice Ford, Cheryl Miser, Pam Radcliff and Renee Wright. Mrs. Thomas Collins is leader assisted by Mrs. David Bronner and Mrs. James Radcliff.

The Cadette Fair will be held Saturday, March 30 at Pampa Optimist Boys Club, 601 E. Craven, 1 to 6 p.m. Specialty performances are scheduled 1:30, 3:30 and 5:00 p.m. April 1 is deadline for campership letters to be completed and turned in to the Girl Scout office.

District meeting for neighborhood Chairmen will be conducted April 1, 10 a.m. 1201

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 33 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. grille constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this grille will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The grille itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both grille and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at

9 Imaginative Lobbying Technique Is Used By Dairymen, Markets Washington Window

AUSTIN (UPI)—A group of independent dairies and supermarket chains have come up with one of the most imaginative lobbying techniques ever seen in Texas.

They have gone to great pains to get an issue on the May 4 ballot in hopes it will get clobbered and never be heard of again.

The issue is a proposed "Dairy Stabilization Act," or, as opponents call it, "The Milk Price-fixing Bill."

It would establish a state commission which would set minimum milk prices by area for producers, processors and retailers.

The argument for it is that without such regulation price wars will ruin the Texas dairy industry.

Opponents say it is an attempt by some elements of the industry to eliminate competition.

With the backing of several large milk processors, the bill passed the state Senate last year but died in House committee. However, with a change of only a few votes, it might have passed.

Many processors are for it and many dairymen are against it, but there are opponents and proponents in each segment of the industry.

After they defeated the bill in the legislature, opponents of the bill quietly formed a group called "the Texas Association for the Prevention of Milk Price Fixing."

Friendly supermarket chains helped circulate petitions to put the issue on the ballot, and more than 130,000 housewives signed them.

Question Motives
 Opponents of the bill then took their petitions to the state Democratic and Republican executive committees and demanded that the issue be placed on the primary ballots of both parties May 4.

Plenty of Signatures
 Some party leaders grumbled about it, but there was nothing they could do. The law says anyone with 62,770 signatures on petitions is entitled to have his proposition on the ballot, and the dairymen had twice that many.

Naturally, the issue is worded in terms unfavorable to the bill.

The question on the ballot will be for or against "enactment law creating the Texas Dairy by the Texas legislature of a Commission with the power to regulate and fix the retail and wholesale price of milk." It will be on all ballots May 4.

A proposition to "stabilize milk prices and prohibit unfair competition" might have had a chance, but not many Texans are likely to vote for "price fixing."

Opponents of the measure hope the vote will be so overwhelming against the measure that the legislature won't be tempted to even consider it next year.

What They Face
 There is little the proponents can do. They are forced to fight a battle not of their own choosing on terms that are stacked against them.

If the technique works, it no doubt will be used again.

For example, school teachers seeking a pay raise might force voters to say whether they favor "professional standards and compensation for teachers."

Industries whose prices are regulated might state their case in terms demanding to know whether the voter is for or against "free enterprise."

Communities seeking new state colleges could state their argument in terms that make the voter say whether he is for or against "education."

female mind the capacity for studies." President Madison was not sure; he merely saw a ray of hope.

From Abraham Lincoln came this cautious homily. "A woman is the only thing I am afraid of that I know will not hurt me."

Even in his part of the 19th century, James Garfield could see trouble ahead. He said, "Put that aside as just if we will, still the woman question is rising on our horizon."

The woman question was more than something on the horizon for William Howard Taft. He came out flatly and said, "I am not in favor of suffrage for women."

Warren Harding resembled a man doing his darndest to be cheerful in the face of inevitability. President Harding said, "Let us not share the apprehension of many as to the danger of this momentous extension of franchise."

Not Too Keen
 Calvin Coolidge apparently was not too keen about having the ladies underfoot in government but he did go so far as to say, "I want every woman to vote." As Johnson noted, Coolidge made this rash statement in an election year.

Reynosa Boasts Two New U.S. Industries

By KENNETH R. CLARK
 REYNOSA, Mexico (UPI) — Until this week, the bustling border city of Reynosa has been like a hungry orphan at a picnic. No one even seemed to be looking her way.

Now, however, she has two brand new American industries, and—with representatives of 56 more waiting just across the Rio Grande in McAllen, Tex., to see what happens — she is well on her way toward joining in the payroll prosperity of sister cities all along the 2,000-mile U.S.-Mexico border.

The stampede of American firms for locations south of the border has been a quiet one. Most of them are so security conscious they won't even admit what they manufacture until they actually have signed the papers and agreed to build their plants in Mexico.

But for the American manufacturer, haunted by the spectre of inflation, the 38-cent-an-hour payroll offered by the Mexican government is just too tempting to pass up for long.

Two decided not to pass it up this week.

They are Diaper Jeans, Inc., a Denison, Tex.-based firm which manufactures infant wear, and another firm which still has not revealed its identity.

Both have negotiated their Mexican options through the McAllen Chamber of Commerce which acts both as an interpreter and as a shepherd to guide interested company executives through the maze of red tape which exists on both sides of the Rio Grande.

"Some of the firms examining Reynosa locations are the industrial giants of the nation," said Frank Birkhead Jr., the McAllen chamber's industrial staff man. "Some criticism has been aimed at the program. Labor groups regard it as representative of runaway industry. But for years, companies have been building plants in Taiwan and Hong Kong where the pay is about 20 cents a day. It's our contention the border program keeps industry from going to the Orient."

"So much for so little"

This is the Man

EVERYONE WHO KNOWS DOLPH BRISCOE WILL VOTE FOR HIM FOR GOVERNOR OF TEXAS ... Everyone!

DOLPH BRISCOE IS A DOER... a successful ranchman... a proven administrator... outstanding businessman... dynamic civic leader... honored native Texan.

These are the remarkable achievements by a 44-year-old dedicated public servant.

IT'S TRUE that Dolph Briscoe compiled one of Texas' most impressive records during his 8 year tenure in the State Legislature. (Successfully sponsored Teachers' Pay Raise measure; supported all constructive Educational Legislation and is best known as a co-sponsor of the famous Colson-Briscoe Farm-to-Market Road Act... which pulled rural Texas out of the mud.)

IT'S TRUE that this man is one of the most honored men in Texas agriculture; a nationally recognized authority on pest control, (eradication of the screwworm) soil and water conservation.

PHS Baseball Team Opens Here Today

The Pampa Harvesters go in the first home game of the year today at Optimist Park at 4 p.m. against the Caprock Longhorns.

The Harvesters are currently riding a two-game winning string which makes them part owner of the 3-AAAA lead with four other teams—Amarillo, Palo Duro, Tascosa and Caprock. Coach Bobby Stephens boys whipped the leading contender for the title in Monterey last Saturday by 5-0 after stopping Lubbock in the District opener by 4-1.

Dick Henley and Alan Woodard put the two wins on the Pampa record with great pitching performances against that pair last Saturday.

Cabell Calls For Investigation On Missing Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Earle Cabell, D-Tex., said Monday he has requested a congressional investigation into allegations of embezzlement in the Dallas Olympic fund.

Cabell said the Dallas figure was something over $100,000 and said the figure might run as high as $1 million in the Southwestern United States.

Cabell said he discussed the situation with Rep. Byron Rogers, D-Colo., chairman of a House judiciary subcommittee. He said Rogers asked him to "supply all the information I can get. He (Rogers) said that since Congress chartered the Olympic committee, it was incumbent on Congress to safeguard the public interest in its activities."

Cabell said the case of one solicitor in Dallas had been submitted to a grand jury. "After the grand jury completes its action, maybe this week, the file will be turned over to Rogers," he said.

Archer Wins In Pensacola

By DAVID M. MOFFIT
UPI Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI)—Poker-faced George Archer, tallest man in pro golf, won the Pensacola Open Monday, but the player they'll be talking about around here for a long time is bubbling Tommy Shaw.

The 6-foot-8 Archer, who lives on a huge cattle ranch about 70 miles south of San Francisco, came roaring home on a closing 65 that gave him a 20-under-par 268 and a one-stroke victory over Tony Jacklin of England and former PGA champ Dave Marr.

The disappointed gallery applauded Archer's performance but there was no doubt they had been pulling for the always-grinning Shaw, the man from Golf, Ill.

When Shaw, who had gone from a four-stroke second-round lead to near oblivion, canned an eagle-3 on the 495-yard 14th hole Monday, some of the spectators lost their composure and ran onto the course to hug him.

But that one shot wasn't enough. Shaw, who had a record-tying 14-under-par 130 after 36 holes, wound up in sixth place with a 69-273.

Ahead of him were Archer, Jacklin, Marr, Gary Player and Ray Floyd.

Player, making only his second tournament appearance since last summer, shot a 9-under-par 63 Monday to wind up three strokes off Archer's pace at 271 while Floyd, who held a one-stroke lead over Archer and Jacklin going into the final round, finished at 70-272.

The victory was worth $16,000, giving Archer more than $36,000 in total earnings and vaulting him from 11th to third place on the official list for this year. Marr moved up to fifth with his $7,800 share.

The top two men on the list, Tom Weiskopf and George Knudson, didn't play here and neither did the previous No. 3 man, Al Geiberger.

Also missing were golf's two biggest drawing cards—Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Elvin May Sign With NBA Loser

HOUSTON (UPI)—Elvin Hayes, fresh from one of the winningest schools in the nation, said Monday he would be willing to sign with San Diego, a National Basketball Association team that has lost 17 straight this season.

But Hayes, All-America and Player of the Year, says his services will come high. He said Monday he had not talked contract with the San Diego club, but had already decided he would ask for a three-year contract at $100,000 a year.

The Rockets Monday in New York won the right to pick first in the upcoming NBA draft and club officials said they would select Hayes.

Hayes indicated Monday he would not consider playing for the Houston Mavericks, the American Basketball Association club that won first crack at him in that league recently in a secret draft. He also said he would pass up a chance at the Olympics for a contract.

The decision to skip the Olympics did not concern the boycott some Negro athletes have proposed, he said.

"I made the decision over the last 10 weeks," Hayes said. "I need my health in training for the NBA. It's my decision."

"I only hope the public can understand my problem and that I can make the people of Houston proud of me."

He had earlier said he wanted to try out for the Olympic team but Monday said his decision not to was based on his long-range future.

"I have to look out for myself and my family (his wife and son). If I get hurt, I have nothing. Nothing would come to me or my family. It would be zero-zero."

Pistons Square Now With Celts

By United Press International

The Detroit Pistons are all square with the Boston Celtics in their National Basketball Association playoff series because speed and youth paid off against defense and experience. The Pistons evened their series with the Celtics at one victory each Monday night with a 126-116 victory triggered by a fast-breaking offense that got the Boston veterans into early foul trouble.

"That's the turning point," said Detroit coach Denos Butcher. "We had to run with them, get our kids out in front and get their big guys into foul trouble early."

The Pistons' swift-moving offense accomplished both objectives. It swept the Pistons into a 67-58 halftime lead and eventually led to Bill Russell, Tom Sanders and Bailey Howell fouling out when the Celtics needed them most.

The Celtics drew to within 114-112 with 2:34 left but Dave DeBusschere and Eddie Miles braked the rally with a 7-0 spurt that put the game out of reach. Dave Bing led the Pistons with 24 points and DeBusschere had 23 while Sam Jones led the Celtics with 18.

The Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Chicago Bulls 111-106 in their best-of-seven-game Western Division series as Jerry West's three-point play with 103 and Archie Clark's two free throws with 11 seconds left provided the difference.

Garden Games Go On Today

By CONNIE RYAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Led by the overweight wonder, Chuck McKinley, and the placement wonder, Manuel Santana, the 16 male survivors of the Madison Square Garden International Tennis Tournament moved into the second round today, while the 16 women play their first-round matches.

Mrs. Billy Jean King, who has won everything the past few years, was heavily favored to add the Garden title to her list. She plays the opening evening match against Elena Subirats of Mexico.

McKinley stole the show Monday night as he demolished the Australian champion, Bill Bowrey, with an assortment of shots which would have been impressive even in Chuck's best days in 1963, when he was Wimbledon champ and star of the U.S. Davis Cup team. Now he's a Wall Street businessman and a chubby weekend-only player ("I'm 10 pounds overweight at least").

He had everything he needed as his dropshots, spins, changes of speed and twists ran Bowrey into nervous frustration, 6-1, 6-3. Today McKinley meets Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia, 3-6, 6-4, 12-10 winner over Allen Fox of Los Angeles.

Santana had his usual pinpoint control as his placements flicked from sideline to baseline to sidelines in an easy 6-2, 6-2 conquest of Mark Cox of England. Today the second-seeded Spanish sharpshooter goes up against the big game of Marty Reissman of the U.S., who beat Pancho Guzman of Ecuador's Davis Cup team, 6-1, 6-4.

Top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia, who got only a brief workout Monday night against Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, 6-1, 6-2, today meets Jim Osborne of Honolulu, who advanced over Czech Jan Kukal, 6-4, 6-3. Clark Graebner of the U.S., fourth seeded and the top American now that third-seeded Cliff

TRINITY NETMEN WIN

AUSTIN (UPI)—John Mazola of the University of Texas battled Dan O'Eryant of Trinity for three hours Monday to take his school's only tennis win. Trinity swept all other matches to take a 6-1 victory. Texas forfeited one doubles match when Mazola developed a leg cramp.

GEORGE BAILEY goes up for two more points on the way to making the first team All-State announced by the Texas Sportswriters Association.

Bailey Makes All-State On '68 AAAA Basketball

By CURTIS MONTGOMERY
Pampa's own George Bailey has a big feather in his cap today after being named to the first team All-State in AAAA along with four others, all but one of whom played in the state tournament in Austin.

The others are Jerry Bonny of state champion Houston Wheatley, a 6-3 senior; George Price of San Antonio Brackenridge, a 6-1 senior described by Daily News correspondent George Smith in Austin for the tournament as the best college material at the tournament; Ricky Duplantis of Port Neches, a 6-8 senior; and GEORGE BAILEY, Pampa, 6-3, senior.

Bailey set two scoring records for season performances at PHS. He set the single season scoring record and a two-year mark for the local high school that has seen some great roundballers whip in more than one from way out.

Bailey was contained by a stubborn L. D. Bell defense and except for that, PHS would have been in that Austin tournament. Bell's Blue Raiders upset the

White Deer Boy Makes All-State

White Deer's Mike Hawpe made the second team All-State basketball team announced by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Hawpe has already signed to play football for the University of Oklahoma in Norman. Hawpe is considered one of the top prospects in the nation in football and is an all-around athlete as shown by making the top team in Class A.

He was a Super All-State linebacker on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram team.

The complete Class A all-state squad:

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Pueblo Case Precedent?

Was the "Pueblo Incident," the recent capture of the U.S. electronic ship of that name by the North Koreans, a contrived affair?

Did the administration deliberately order the Pueblo to carry out a provocative assignment within or adjacent to North Korean territorial waters in the hope that the ship would be attacked and thus provide an emotional "incident" calculated, with an election coming up, to take some of the sting out of the growing criticism of the administration's foreign and domestic policies?

Is the administration, faced with an economic emergency of its own making worse than that created by FDR's administration in 1941, desperately looking for a contrived "Pearl Harbor" of its own as an excuse to broaden the war and consolidate its power at home?

These are questions that are being asked: and, certainly, with the truth about Pearl Harbor slowly coming out, and the curtain of secrecy, further fogged with double-talk and contradictory statements, drawn about the "spy" ship capture there are good and cogent reasons for asking them.

Such thoughts may have been running through the mind of Newspaper Enterprise Association staff writer Ray Cromley when he wrote:

"Though the capture of the USS Pueblo creates some severe headaches for President Johnson, curiously enough this sticky incident may ease some of his other burdens.

"It should take some of the steam out of the marches and other demonstrations protesting the Vietnam war."

"It will make it more difficult for those who disagree with Johnson over Vietnam to claim that this is purely a local war and there is no international Communist planning or co-ordination involved."

"Johnson should have far less trouble getting his budget through Congress in the shape he wants. He may now find it possible to secure all or part of the tax increase he has been asking for."

"Finally," Cromley concluded, "The Pueblo incident should destroy in part the creeping apathy and unconcern in some quarters that has hampered a number of the President's defense programs."

So, when one begins looking for them, there are "reasons" aplenty for rigged incidents: the cold and calculated cynicism of the Pearl Harbor "incident" provides a devastating example of what the political mentality is capable of when desperate. Nor do we have to look far a precedent for the "sitting-duck" ship ploy.

Professor Harry Elmer Barnes who, probably more than any single other person, has been instrumental in piercing the officially imposed curtain of secrecy surrounding Pearl Harbor and making his findings available to the American people and the world, was given space on the front page of the Dec. 7, 1967, issue of the Chicago Tribune in its continuing effort to bring the truth about Dec. 7, 1941, to the reading public.

Barnes had this to say about what went on just prior to the Pearl Harbor attack:

"On Dec. 1 (1941), Roosevelt, on his return from Warm Springs, summoned Adm. Stark and instructed him to order Adm. Thomas C. Hart, Commander of the Asiatic fleet stationed at Manila, to select and equip three 'small vessels' which could move out into the path of the Japanese task forces going southward and draw fire from Japanese planes or ships, thus giving Roosevelt his all-important and indispensable attack."

As it turned out, Barnes went on to state, only one of the three ships, the "Isabel," a converted yacht, could be prepared in time, and it... had not even been repainted when it went out to challenge the Japanese who "recognized it at once and were not rash or stupid enough to fire on it."

"Hart," Barnes continued, "recognized that it was being sent out as bait... and did not wish to lose it to promote Roosevelt's plan. Hence, he ordered the commander of the Isabel, contrary to FDR's intentions, to do all possible during his trip to sea to avoid a Japanese attack. Despite this, Hart told the commander of the Isabel when he returned that he had never expected to see him alive again after he departed."

Significantly, although published as recently as December of last year, and stated, not as conjecture, but as bald, unequivocal fact these Barnes statements in connection with the hypocrisy leading up to Pearl Harbor, have not, to our knowledge, been challenged or even questioned by anyone in the government.

We believe the facts surrounding the Isabel and her sacrifice of over 3,000 American lives at Pearl Harbor to follow, are invaluable in assessing the political mentality and the kind of desperate thinking that COULD have engineered the affair of the Pueblo.

Social Security -- Another Tax

Since that moment in time when the political-bureaucratic cabal discovered that "thuh peepul" could be bribed and their votes purchased with tax money, the productively employed "average" American taxpayer, trying to get along on his own earnings, has been progressively in a bad way. As tax is piled upon tax, at every level of government, he is being inexorably pushed to the wall.

Most, if not all, tax schemes are sold to the public with the Marxist bait, badly stated or strongly implied, that they were designed to help the "little fellow" by robbing the rich.

But, as it works out, the "rich" are far too few in number to produce the amount of taxes required to maintain the "establishment" in the style to which it has become accustomed and to provide the bribe money required to keep the voting machines oiled. As a consequence the middle-income taxpayer is, increasingly, bearing the brunt of the tax-grab.

Social Security taxes, euphemistically called "insurance," are a case in point. Beginning with a deceptively small deduction from one's paycheck, Social Security did, for a while, pay recipients far more than they and their employers paid in. But that, aside from the obvious theft inherent in the plan, was merely the beginning; the socialist foot in the door.

Now, with Social Security plainly revealed as merely another form of income taxes instead of the "insurance" it claimed to be, the direction has been reversed.

Present and future entrants into the program can expect far less in "benefits" than their compulsory "contributions," and incidentally, far less than the same amount (their own payments plus withheld wages "contributed" by the employer) invested in a good insurance policy would pay.

Tax Foundation, Inc. (a private-research organization) makes it abundantly clear that Social Security is nothing more than another poorly camouflaged income tax in a recent study.

With many families' Social Security tax payments now exceeding their personal federal income taxes—and they will go much higher—the study showed that the earnings of middle income and even lower groups are being progressively cut into by compulsory social security deductions. For example: "A family with an income of $5,000" the study showed, "will pay social security taxes of $220 in 1968. Such a family with two children, would pay a federal income tax (excluding any sur-

The Infernal Revenooer's will not only take the shirt off your back—now they even take the whole blasted laundry.

Back in Delaware these two IRS agents took over a laundry for non-payment of taxes.

A laundry is a place where they take your shirt and run it thru a button chopper. Then after it has been put into a shirt-tail chopper they wash it, mangle the collar to a rip-saw edge, wrap it up and stick a ticket on it.

Now if a tax agent can't read your tax form why, he just sends it back—months later if you got a refund coming—by special delivery if they are into you. But in the laundry they ran into trouble. They couldn't read the tickets and they didn't have anywhere to send the bundles.

As a result a lot of customers are beating their gums at the agents because they are down to their last clean shirt and with the tax bite being what it is they can't go out and buy another batch.

Of course, if the Agents was to spend a little more time at the laundry they might be able to find out which shirts belonged to which customer.

But they only open the laundry from 2 to 2:30 in the afternoon, thus being their usual working hours, so until the taxes are paid it looks like the citizens on the Delaware will just have to go around bareback.

IMAGERY

In our Madison Avenue culture, imagery has become an art and a science. Experts in image building draw huge salaries for their services. A lot of people are critical of the image building on TV and in other advertising media, but there is nothing wrong with advertising. The advertising profession is an integral part of the personal enterprise system, and advertising, as persuasion, is far better than the compulsion in other economic systems. It appears that many of the frequent attacks on advertising are motivated by a contempt for the personal enterprise system itself.

However, where advertising and public relations efforts are directed toward building the image of a public figure who is critical of our free economic system, we find no such wholesale condemnation of image building. Those who attack our American institutions often enjoy a favorable image in "sophisticated" circles.

On the other hand, one who believes in truth over consequences does not always fare so well. He who is opposed to communism, who points out that the socialist economic system cannot even feed its captive people, often finds his image besmirched with criticism.

In recent years, some people here and abroad have actually shunned the pro-freedom, pro-truth, pro-American image, because they haven't wished to share the brunt of the attack against it. Some have sought to "improve" this image. But I wonder what should be improved about the image of a person who advocates individual liberty, or a person who defends a system which has produced the greatest standard of living the world has ever known. What is wrong with that image?

(tax if enacted) of $290, assuming standard deductions. At lower levels the security tax for most families would exceed the federal income tax."

The study, revealing the fantastic rate of upward progression, noted that the Social Security tax "went up in one year, 1965-66, by 103 or 59 per cent for the worker alone. Under the new legislation enacted in 1967, the share of both employer and employer will be higher. The maximum taxable wage under the amendments of 1967 was raised from $6,000 to $7,800 and the rate (of taxation) is now 8.8 per cent on employee and employer combined. This combined tax rate would rise to more than 11 per cent by 1973."

Social Security tax collections, concluded the Tax Foundation study, showing the monstrous extent of the legal con game, will, under the 1967 amendments, reach close to $50 billion by 1972."

Research In Some Areas Is Best Aid

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
LAHORE, PAKISTAN (NEA)—If Pakistan is any example, the most valuable foreign aid may consist of inexpensive research.

The striking lesson here is that very small amounts of imaginative, private technical assistance can be as great in over-all effect as hundreds of millions of dollars in direct gifts or loans.

Pakistan economists estimate that within the next few years this country will earn an additional $200 million a year, and thus save that much in scarce foreign exchange, through the use of new types of wheat and rice from Mexico and the Philippines.

The wheat, called Mexi-Pak, is a modification of a wheat developed with Rockefeller aid in Mexico.

The rice, called IRI-5, is a variety developed with Ford and Rockefeller funds in the Philippine Islands.

These new types produce from two to four times the crop per acre as traditional Pakistan wheat and rice.

Within a decade, these new varieties may enable Pakistan to be a major food exporter. If this proves out, economists estimate her foreign exchange savings, plus export earnings from these two food crops, may add up to $300 million to $400 million a year.

This is only the beginning. U.S. research has developed a high-yield maize (corn), now being modified to meet Pakistan requirements.

New research in Pakistan give promise of multiplying the amount of jute per acre. A tree grown in the Philippines and now being introduced into Pakistan promises to be a cheap source of pulp.

Relatively small amounts of technical aid have made possible the drilling of thousands of small wells in Pakistan. These produce water in dry areas and reduce the crop-ruining salt content of the soil in other regions.

There is a strong feeling among some men experienced in aid that countries like the United States is helping world profit greatly if more of American aid were devoted to joint research projects in local universities, research laboratories and agricultural institutes.

The direct application of foreign technology to developing countries is often wasteful and unsound technically. More original local research is needed. More research is also required in the adaptation of foreign technical know-how to the local situation.

This is not to suggest that research and technical aid would be a complete substitute for other dollar assistance, the new Pakistan wheat and rice, for example, increase the need for fertilizer. Major areas of Pakistan require more water than can be supplied by wells alone. Countries short of foreign exchange frequently require loans to enable them to buy

Someone told us recently there are 62,000 telephones in N. Y. City, which made us wonder why they are all busy whenever we want to use one. A survey reveals that at supermarkets women buy more than 50 per cent of the beer sold, but at liquor stores and other outlets men comprise 60 per cent of the beer purchasers. Maybe the gals buy it at the supermarkets because they pick up a few extra trading stamps. The ancient Greeks and Romans kept fairly accurate time with the sun dial when the sun was shining. But on cloudy days and at night they had to rely on an educated guess.

Today's smile: A woman patient complained to her physician about a pain that troubled her. The medico asked: "How often do you experience this pain?" "About every five minutes," she replied. "And how long does it last?" the doctor inquired. The patient answered: "A quarter of an hour at the very least."

The National Safety Council tells us cost of all automobile accidents last year totaled $11 billion. No doubt most of it was due to human carelessness. Maybe the temperature has something to do with it, but any rate the New York Health Administration says a three-year study shows more babies are conceived in the fall and early winter than at any other time of the year. Needless to say the NYHSA cannot give any reason for it. Your new car this year will contain about 37 pounds of parts and accessories made of plastic. Back in 1940 there was only five pounds of plastics and only 22 pounds two decades later.

Thoughts while shaving: Every one thinks America's richest farm lands are in western states like Kansas and Iowa, but they are actually in the New Jersey Rural acreage in the Garden State is valued at about $25,000 an acre. TV coverage of sporting events isn't cheap. ABA pays about $2 million to televise the winter Olympics and another $3.5 million to get it to you quickly via the Early Bird communications satellite. Barnum was right. People will pay to see anything. Recently in Chicago 600 advertising men paid $5 each to see what was billed as "the 100 best TV commercials of 1967". Maybe they enjoyed the show, but we wouldn't have paid a nickel to see it. It was inevitable that someone would think of renting camp equipment since you can rent just about anything else these days. This summer all you need to do is pick up the phone and call an agency and when you arrive at your selected camp spot all of your needed equipment from tent to martini will be ready for you. And, no doubt you can put it on a credit card, too. The Columbia (Mo.) MIS-SOURIAN reported in a story: "Two big downtown 5-and-10 stores no longer refer to themselves as such." That's because they don't have very much to sell these days at those prices.

Country Editor speaking: "Illegible handwriting is the best way to hide the fact you're a poor speller."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. Wayne Brandstadt
Best to Limit Child's Television Viewing Time

"Much has been written about the effect of watching television on a child's eyes and general development (insufficient exercise). Dr. M. V. Simko, a foot specialist, now warns that a child may damage his feet by prolonged sitting in front of the television with his feet curled under him. The best solution to the problem is to limit the time your child is allowed to watch, but in any case you should see to it that he doesn't sit on his feet while at this or any other pursuit.

Q—My daughter was born with arthrogryposis. She is very weak. What can be done for her?
A—Arthrogryposis is a contraction of the joints, especially of the hands and feet, with flexion. It is usually present from birth and may involve all the joints of the arms and legs. The involved joints should be massaged and gently straightened. In most cases, however, splints, plaster casts or even surgery may be required. In some victims, large doses of female hormones given early in the course of the disease will bring about marked improvement.

K—My son, 15, has Friedrich's ataxia. The doctors know of no cure. What causes it? There is no trace of it on either side of the family. How does it affect one?
A—This is a hereditary degenerative disease of the spinal cord. Both parents, although not affected themselves, might be carriers of the abnormal gene. Their unaffected children may also be carriers. The disease usually has its onset in childhood with a staggering gait. As it progresses, voluntary control of the muscles of both arms and legs is lost. There is no effective treatment.

Q—My baby was born with a hemangioma across her nose. When she cries, it is much more noticeable. Is this a permanent condition? What treatment do you advise?
A—Although most hemangiomas (capillary moles) disappear without treatment, there are exceptions. For this reason, authorities disagree on the best procedure. Some favor

THE PRICE OF A VOTE
The vote, long sacred to many persons, is commonly considered to be a tool for protecting freedom. But it needs serious review.

Voting has no real purpose, except as a means by which the will of some persons can be imposed upon others. A unanimous vote is superfluous; unanimity would have its way without bothering to vote.

By the voting process, individual participants surrender to the decision of voting might (Majority), whatever the decision may turn out to be. It is like putting the destiny of one's liberty up to the wiles of a whirling roulette wheel.

Let's examine one illustration. You and other United States citizens own (or did own when this was written) nearly $12 billion in gold, which you have permitted government to hold as custodian. To give an idea of this amount: If it were all in dollar bills laid end to end, it would reach around the earth (at the equator) nearly fifty times. But the amount is not the point; our concern is that this gold really belongs to you and other individual citizens. Rather than assert their rights to this gold, the people—like sheep—have followed the Judas goat of government ownership of that gold.

On Wednesday, February 21, the eve of the birthday of George Washington, a champion of property rights—the Congress voted to remove the gold clause and let others the world over enter our bargain basement and take all our gold away.

Was the vote unanimous? Far from it. In fact, a shift of only five votes in the House of Representatives would have changed the vote from "yes" to "no. So, in a sense, five Congressmen, who do not represent you and for whom you never had a chance to vote voted: "Let them (foreigners) come and take your property at will."

Would a single one of those five Congressmen have given unknown foreigners a change to come and take any of his own personal property at will, at perhaps half its worth? Even a single dollar of it? I doubt it. But under the power of the vote and of collective ownership, he does not hesitate to open the bargain gates for access of outsiders to the property of all his neighbors.

We had better rediscover the true meaning of private property in the United States. And soon.

The Clearing House

Editor:
A great deal has been written and said on radio and television, about how to solve our problems of war on poverty, inflation, and unemployment. It's my mind that the solution is not to commence from the top with more government controls, taxes, $3000 guaranteed incomes, and great society programs. I suggest that the better plan would be to investigate what made America the greatest industrial, military and political nation in the world.

I think you will find that profit built the nation. Incentives created by good profit, small taxes, and low interest rates built industrial expansion and real prosperity. Profit was the baby that grew up, furnished jobs, individual prosperity, and the highest standard of living of any peoples of the world. For this we are all thankful.

The people of the U.S., in general, have been lulled asleep by false ideas: come easy, go easy; That this socialistic Utopia will last for ever; the world owes them a living whether they work or not; Uncle Sam will take care of them, Eat, drink and be happy. Indifference is the greatest enemy the American people have. Self-contented, drunk with independence, forgetting from whence all these good things come. Providence has been good to them. They say freedom was a gift of destiny; why worry about the future; live today, let tomorrow take care of itself; their credit too easy and too good. They are soft, idle. Let the government do the thinking. The German peoples at one time let Hitler do the thinking, while they enjoyed inflated prosperity. You know the rest! History has a habit of repeating itself.

Let us return to true prosperity brought about by production of individual labor, and free industrial profit; not by government planned and regulated; national debt $25 billion secured by mortgaging the payroll of unborn generations. Foreign aid, 40-billion-man to the moon deal. Who wants to go to the moon? This government inflated prosperity balloon can be deflated over night. This critical economic, abominable circumstance in which our nation finds itself didn't grow overnight. No amount of government money congress can appropriate will relieve it over night.

Congress should reduce industrial income tax by 50 percent to 75 percent, give them cheap commercial interest rates for expansion of business. This would mean more jobs for labor. How about jobs for our servicemen when they come home? Congress should put in the federal budget ten billion dollars annually to retire the national debt. This is a big bill of goods. What can we do about it? Voters can read, study and find out what is going on, write your congressman what you think; vote for a man—not a party—that will clear this issue up. We don't need more multimillionaires in Washington or in Congress. Why not put businessmen in Washington with patriotic guts to balance the budget, pay as we go, put good, clean business principles in our government.

Capital and labor should shake hands and realize that one can't get along without the other. What is good for the goose is good for the gander. Bury the hatchet. Learn to live and let live. Freedom belongs to all, great or small. Too much has been said how to stop the war in Vietnam. First, take the profit out of war. Let the military do it. The best way to end the war is to declare war. Do as Israel did. Hit the enemy with everything we have, a quick and snappy victory. Save lives. Reclaim American prestige. Who wants a long war? Another Korea or Pearl Harbor? Victory always has been won by all-out offensive action. We don't want peace at any price.

How To Succeed

(Arizona Republic)
Apparently the way to succeed with the Small Business Administration is to work hard, be a good credit risk... and belong to the right political party.

For, despite SBA denials, it's quite clear that political considerations alone dictated that a prominent Alaska Democrat would receive almost twice as much in flood disaster loans as his Republican neighbor (whose waiting three or four years to see whether the lesion will disappear. If at any time the mole seems to be getting large, it should be treated at once. A small hemangioma can be destroyed easily with an electric needle or the application of carbon dioxide snow. Injection with a coagulating agent may also be used. More recently, the laser beam has been used with apparently good results. The choice of treatment would depend on the size and location of the mole and the doctor's preference.

neighboring motel suffered greater flood damage). The SBA is not talking, except to make the routine disclaimer that politics had anything to do with the hanky-panky. Furthermore, it is not allowing the lawyer who uncovered the incident to be interviewed.

But congressmen are free to discuss the matter, of course. As a result, fiscal watchdog Rep. H. R. Gross has demanded an investigation of "this partisan outfit," which he accused of using tax funds "for a political payoff to one of its party faithful."

When the SBA succeeded the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in 1953, Congress envisioned that it would dispense funds on a non-partisan basis. Indeed, when SBA Administrator Bernard L. Boutin was sworn in in 1966, he said, "It is my firm conviction that SBA cannot be the strong and effective voice of small business within this government unless it maintains its position as an independent agency of this government."
