Swing-Wing Jets Back In Action Despite Loss

SAIGON (UPI)—The Air Force's new F111A swing-wing jets went back to war today despite the first loss of one of the controversial fighter-bombers that North Vietnam claims to have shot down.

A U.S. spokesman said the five remaining F111As undergoing combat testing could be presumed to have joined the bombing of North Vietnam today.

He said they were not grounded despite one of the warplane, was shot down Thursday in the Southern Panhandle province of Ha Tinh. There was no word of the two crewmen.

In other developments, diplomatic sources said that for the first time during the war American and North Vietnamese diplomats have met and negotiated. They said the meeting took place the past several weeks in Vientiane in neighboring Laos and dealt with the American release of three captured Hanoi seamen freed in exchange for North Vietnam freeing three captured U.S. pilots Feb. 16.

The sources said the Americans took the initiative in the meetings, aiming at arranging more releases. They said the U.S. diplomats hoped the Vientiane face-to-face sessions would lead toward freedom for the 200 American airmen held in North Vietnam prison camps. It was not known if other topics were discussed; Hanoi has brushed aside at least 38 major U.S. bids for peace talks, Washington officials said.

In war action: Viet Cong terrorists assassinated the chief of Binh Mor village, 10 miles north of Saigon, government spokesmen said.

North Vietnam shore batteries "bracketed" the U.S. destroyer Epperson. A man aboard the ship told UPI the shells hit close to the ship "but the nearest landed about 50 yards off." Hanoi Radio claimed the ship had burst into flames.

'March' Erupts Into Orgy Of Destruction

By RICHARD LEGGITT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Police and National Guard tactical squads sealed off shattered Beale Street today and held off looters in the Negro districts of the embattled city. "We are at war in Memphis," reported fire-police Director Frank L. Holloman. A 16-year-Negro looter was slain, 62 persons were injured—three by gunfire—and 300 arrested Thursday. Arsonists set fire to nearly 150 buildings, police said.

As the sun rose, the firebombs dwindled off but vandalism and looting continued, police said. At a liquor store plagued by looters, an officer said "the owners are there but the people keep ganging up and running over them when the police leave."

Cross Burned

In an exclusive white neighborhood 10 miles from the rioting, a 15-foot cross was burned on a vacant lot early today. Negro schools reported very light attendance, police said.

Civil rights spokesmen led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said Negro sanitation workers, whose seven-week-old strike is the issue that flared into violence, would march again at 1 p.m. CST.

There were unconfirmed reports that King would leave Memphis this afternoon. About 100 of the demonstrators have marched late each day for weeks. King said the march would be held today, but police indicated there was a possibility it would not be allowed.

King came to Memphis Thursday to lead a massive, 3,000-man march. It went down Beale Street in an orderly manner until hundreds of young Negroes broke away and began clubbing police and smashing windows, launching the nation's worst racial violence of the year. King disavowed the youths.

After prowling through the darkness in mobile "attack squads," police and soldiers formed into ten-man groups and cordoned off a four block area of Beale Street, the birth place of the blues, allowing only store owners and employees to go into the area.

Holloman said the violence that raged for hours in Memphis Thursday "was guerrilla warfare."

Labor Party Is Reeling Under Defeat At Polls

By ANTHONY TOBIN

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor Party government reeled today from its most sensational ballot box defeat since it came to power four years ago.

The Times of London said Labor's loss in all four parliamentary special elections Thursday had so shaken some of Wilson's backbench followers in the House of Commons that they began plotting to oust the prime minister.

Polls had predicted that Wilson's government, deep in austerity and public feuding, was in trouble in the voting to fill vacancies in four constituencies. Labor had held three of the seats. But all four went to Conservatives and by such massive proportions that even Labor Party General Secretary Len Williams called it "a severe setback."

"This is a devastating verdict by the electors. For the Labor government to hang on to office is to make a complete sham of democracy," said Anthony Barber, chairman of the opposition Conservatives.

The Conservatives held their seat of Warwick-Leamington Spa by 21,922 votes, triple their victory margin in the previous election. And they captured from Labor the seats at Dudley, Meriden and Acton by respective majorities of 11,656, 15,263 and 3,720 votes.

In all the average voter swing to the Conservatives was 18.2 per cent. Labor's total vote in the four races fell from 105,296 in 1966 voting to Thursday's 49,955 when the Conservatives scored 102,516 votes.

Israel, Jordan Fighting Renews On 70-Mile Front

By WALTER LOGAN

By United Press International Israel and Jordan fought with tanks, artillery and mortars in a daylong battle the full 70-mile length of the Jordan River valley today. Israeli jet fighter-bombers screamed into action against Jordan gun positions.

It was the most serious outbreak of fighting since Israel's punitive attack on Jordan a week ago Thursday and appeared to be growing in intensity as the day wore on. Israeli called it a "large concerted attack" by Jordan. A Jordanian military communique said four Israeli planes were shot down in flames in an Israeli territory by anti-aircraft batteries and that a number of Israeli tanks and artillery positions were wiped out.

Israeli reported daylong Jordanian attacks on large Israeli communities near the Jordan River and said its own artillery had knocked out Arab gun sites and a long tom artillery piece capable of firing for many miles into Israel.

Israel said its guns and planes scored "damaging hits" on Jordanian positions and "their people" but did not list casualties. It said so far Jordanian attacks on the settlements of Ashdot-Yaacov, Tel-Katzir, Maasada, Kfar-Rupin, Geshar and Shaar-Hagoian had caused damages but no casualties.

Today's battling began only hours after an Arab mine exploded inside Israeli territory killing four Israeli farmers and seriously wounding an American volunteer described only as a 27-year-old New Yorker. Each side said the other opened the attack.

Jordan reported a heavy attack against the abandoned refugee camp at Al Karamah, 18 miles from the Jordan capital of Amman and about a mile and a half east of the Jordan River. Israel calls Al Karamah the training site for Arab guerrillas attacking inside Israel with support of the Jordanian army.

Israeli Ambassador Joseph Tekoah informed the U.N. Security Council of the fighting. He called it a "large concerted attack" and said it was an extremely grave violation of the cease-fire resolution passed by the Security Council last Monday.

Coffee Today For Candidate

A coffee honoring Jack Hazlewood, candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 7th Supreme Judicial District, is scheduled today from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Emerald Room at Coronado Inn.

Hazlewood, 40, is a graduate of Amarillo High School and the University of Texas. He will be introduced today by local attorney John W. Warner and will discuss various aspects of his campaign for the judicial post.

President Is Said Considering 'Pause'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said today he believes President Johnson is considering a new 30-day pause in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Laird, chairman of the House Republican conference composed of all GOP House members did not give the source of his information.

"I think that it is under active consideration at the highest level of our government at the present time," Laird told UPI.

Laird said he had heard speculation that a bombing pause might coincide with the Wisconsin primaries next Tuesday, but added, "I am not one who speculates along that line."

He then said that "there may be a bombing pause announced for a period of some 30 days just to give it a try, and then the President would be in a position where he could say in his critics that he had offered such a pause."

World Monetary Reform Talked

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—The United States and Britain today overcame a French filibuster against discussion of a revolutionary plan for a world monetary reform. France had sought to discuss almost everything else but found itself completely isolated.

Finance ministers of the so-called group of ten, the non-Communist world's 10 richest nations, opened talks about the plan which would create new man-made money in the form of so-called "special drawing rights" (SDR) in the International Monetary Fund.

The plan would help ease a growing world gold shortage and take some of the heat off the hard pressed dollar. It would be used only between governments to provide additional financial backing for increased trade.

French Finance Minister Michel Debre instead of discussing the SDR plan strongly criticized the heavy American international payment deficit and reiterated previous attacks by himself and President Charles de Gaulle against what he termed the "unfair and privileged position of the dollar."

Absentee Voting Increases Here

Absentee balloting in both the April 2 city election and the April 6 school board election apparently got a shot in the arm from somewhere today.

With the deadline falling at 5 p.m. today for absentee voting in the city election, 22 votes had been registered at mid-forenoon.

The school board absentee vote had almost doubled since yesterday with 60 ballots cast up until noon today. Deadline for school absentee balloting is 4:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

There is only one two-man contest in the city election with former city commissioner Clyde Carruth and Earl D. Hilton seeking the post in Ward 4 and Hugh Eurdette running unopposed for re-election in Ward 2.

There are 12 candidates in the school board race seeking two trustee vacancies.

Price Is Testing New F-111 Plane

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price was scheduled for an evaluation flight in the new Air Force F-111 fighter-bomber today. The plane has just entered combat service in Korea. A former jet fighter pilot himself, Price said he wanted to see for himself how the new plane handles. He has kept his pilot's rating since leaving the Air Force and has flown other new Air Force jets.

Because of the controversy over the F-111 including Congressional hearings, Price said he wanted to check out in the plane and test its flight and performance characteristics.

The flight was to be made with a test pilot from the General Dynamics plant in Fort Worth, where the plane is made.

Program On Helium Centennial Is Given To Pampa Noon Lions Club

A program on the Helium Centennial scheduled in Amarillo was presented to the Pampa Noon Lions Club at their meeting yesterday in the basement of the First Methodist Church. Q. L. Wilcox, chief of the branch of helium shipments, Bureau of Mines & Helium Activity, of Amarillo, and Marilyn McCarty Johnson, named Miss Helium for the celebration, presented the program.

(See Picture, Page 7) A Helium Time-Columns monument is being erected in Amarillo to commemorate the discovery of helium in 1868, and natural resource conservation, which the helium story typifies.

The Time Columns, an exhibit building, and a 141-car parking lot are being built on a 2.3 acre tract at the intersection of Nelson Street and Interstate 40. Materials relating to conservation and the need, use, and development of natural resources will be sealed in an atmosphere of helium in the Columns to be opened at intervals of 25, 50, 100, and 1,000 years.

Bubonic Plague May Be Spreading Among Vietnamese Near Khe Sanh

By RAY WILKINSON

KHE SANH, Vietnam (UPI)—Bubonic plague may be spreading among the North Vietnamese troops surrounding this Marine fort on South Vietnam's northern border, U.S. spokesmen said today.

Marine officers said the plague may be carried by rats feeding on Communist corpses lying just beyond the fort's barbed wire defenses.

The Marine command has begun a program to insure that every Leatherneck here has been inoculated against the disease, a spokesman said. Plague shots are required for every American coming to Vietnam.

"We can see dead North Vietnamese bodies near the wire. And the rats have begun to desert Khe Sanh. Apparently the rats are feeding on the rotting bodies. Under these conditions, it is probable that there is plague among the North Vietnamese," the spokesman said.

According to U.S. intelligence estimates, 16,000 to 20,000 Communist troops surround this fort of 6,000 Marines.

American medical authorities here said they are worried that an epidemic could break out.

U.S. servicemen arriving in Vietnam carry an inoculation which lasts six months. The current drive is to insure that all Marines here have had shots in the last 180 days.

for visitors to Dallas during that period. Three of the 1968 operas to be presented are new productions this year: Giuseppe Verdi's "Luisa Miller," which recently premiered in New York to great critical acclaim; the new and different version of "Carmen," staged by Jean Louis Barrault; and a revival of Charles Gounod's "Romeo and Juliette," which has not been given by the Metropolitan for sometime. Completing the season will be Verdi's "La Forza del Destino."

"Luisa Miller," will open the season on Thursday, June 6, at 8 p.m. with Montserrat Cabelle, Sandor Konya, Sherrill Milnes, Bonaldo Giaiotti and Ezio Flagello in the major roles. "Carmen" will bring Grace Bumbry in her Dallas debut in the title role, with Mary Ellen Pracht, Nicolai Gedda and Justiniano Diaz in other principal parts. This is scheduled for Friday evening, June 7.

Mirella Freni will be seen as Juliette and Franco Corelli as Romeo in the Saturday matinee, with Marcia Baldwin, John Reardon, John Macurday and Raymond Michalski assisting. And for the Saturday evening performance of "La Forza del Destino" there will be Gabriella Tucci, Richard Tucker, Anselmo Colzani and Fernando Cortena to round out the season's stars.

Persons interested in information about opera tickets should contact Mrs. Harrah or write directly to the Dallas Grand Opera Association, 5925 Forest Lane, Suite 420, Dallas, Tex. 75230.

Sorority Discusses Rush Party Plans

Members of Xi Beta Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the Citizens Bank Hospitality Room, with Mrs. Ernest Fletcher, president, presiding. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Don Stafford.

Social chairman, Mrs. Edna Ross, announced plans had been completed for a Rush Party to be held at 7 p.m. April 3 at the Southwestern Public Service Building.

Members voted to contribute to the state project of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Jack Vaughn will present Miss Linda White from Girlington, whom the chapter is sponsoring, an Easter wardrobe and Easter basket of assorted gifts from members, before the Easter holidays.

New officers for next year are Mmes. James Trusty, president; George Massie, vice president; Don Stafford, recording secretary; Norma Ross, corresponding secretary; Bill Baten, treasurer; City Council representative, Jack Vaughn and Mrs. Wayne Dollar, alternate.

Members voted by secret ballot for Girl of the Year, whose name will be revealed at the Founders Day Banquet, April 30. Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. Ernest Fletcher and James Trusty.

The serving table was covered with a yellow net cloth, centered with a Spring bouquet. Members present were Mmes. Bill Baten, Don Carpen-

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The fellow I am going to marry hates my best friend. I won't go into details, but it is all my fault, because I told him something about her past that she told me in confidence.

I am sorry I told him now, but I never thought he would hold it against her and make such a big deal out of it.

This girl is the best friend I ever had, Abby, and I wanted her to be my maid of honor, but now my fiancé says he doesn't even want her at our wedding. I am just sick over this. Worse yet, he says he doesn't want her in our home after we're married.

What am I supposed to do? I don't choose his friends.

My fiancé says if I loved him, I'd listen to him, and end my friendship with this girl. I say, if he loved me, he wouldn't ask me to. I love them both and I want him to forgive and forget. Who's right and how would you handle it?

IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: If your fiancé asks you to make a choice between your girl friend and him, that's a decision only you can make. I think his unforgiving and holier-than-thou attitude is less than admirable, but then I don't know what the girl did to provoke it. I hope you've learned a lesson. No fish ever got caught keeping his mouth shut.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is from Pakistan and I am from Sweden. We have been happily married for three years and are both in our late twenties. I am employed as a secretary, and am helping my husband complete his education. We intend to make the United States our home.

Our problem: we plan to go to Pakistan next year to visit my husband's family. His father is very well educated and speaks fluent English, but he wrote to us several months ago insisting that I learn Hindi! My husband wrote to his father telling him that I did not request that HE learn Swedish, and there is no reason for ME to learn Hindi.

My father-in-law wrote back saying that I should indeed learn the language of my husband's people, and if I could learn to speak five languages, (which I do) it would not be too difficult for me to learn a sixth! He informed us that Hindi study manuals were being sent to me.

Abby, a Far Eastern language is entirely different from a Germanic or Latin language, and I have neither the time nor the desire to learn Hindi. Now I don't even feel like going to Pakistan, but I hate to disappoint my husband. Have you any suggestions?

WEARY
DEAR WEARY: Have your husband teach you a few conversational phrases in Hindi. ("Hello, good-by, I am pleased

Pampa Panhellenic Will Discuss Sorority Life at Tea for Seniors

The Informational Tea for graduating senior girls and their mothers given annually by Pampa Panhellenic will be held at 3 p.m. April 7, in the Hospitality Room of Citizens' Bank and Trust Co.

"Every girl who is planning to go to college should avail herself of this opportunity to learn about sorority membership," Mrs. Jimmie Hayes, Panhellenic president, said.

"The advantages, costs, rules pertaining to rush and methods used by chapters to become acquainted with prospective members will be discussed," she said.

As every active chapter requests a picture accompany a recommendation, each girl attending should bring eight bill-fold size pictures with her to be placed in the master file for use of those recommending her.

To insure information is available to the sororities, Panhellenic requests a card be filled out for the master file before a girl will be recommended from Pampa.

Each girl will need to know her SAT and SCT scores, her four-year grade point average, her rank in class, her honors and activities.

Mrs. W. H. Tuke, Alpha Sigma Phi, is president of Pampa Panhellenic. Mrs. W. H. Tuke, Alpha Sigma Alpha, vice-president has charge of the master file and informational manual.

Mrs. J. R. Schuneman, Kappa Delta; Mrs. Albert Wagner, Tri-Sigma; Mrs. Melvin Dennis, Gamma Phi Beta; Mrs. R. W. Stowers; Delta Gamma; and Mrs. Howard Wirth, Kappa Kappa Gamma, are in charge of invitations, nametags, and registration.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

(FOR SATURDAY, MARCH 29)

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A Saturday day and evening when you are stirred anew to get a course into effect that you feel gives you a chance to get some pretty big financial or property results from your own determination to see things through at all costs—and unless your plan is a wise one and you remove errors, it can be just that. Otherwise it pays off well.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Study your real estate, other holdings and see what should be done to increase and improve them. Don't procrastinate on this. Listen to what business advisers have to suggest and follow their ideas.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Fine day to dress very nicely and then set out activities that improve social, business life. Those you know socially will open new doors of opportunity to you. Contact them first of all, then concentrate on recreation.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Working on that secret plan to win right now, and keep others guessing as to your intentions regarding them. A good day to really know who your true friends are. Ask some rather oblique questions and get reactions.

NOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): You have to be tactful with other people if you want them to aid you in your present plans. You can be very charming in a social way. However, make sure that your demands are reasonable.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Now you have a chance to contact some high-ups and see what can be expected in the way of help from him, or her. Soft pedal the demands, though. Use that fine wit you possess and clinch the deal.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Doing whatever will gain you prestige with others, their assistance, good will is very fine and brings you a boost in the right direction benefit of their experience.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Plan today how best to please all those with whom you associate in any sphere of your endeavor. Follow your intuition if you want to have things more to your liking. Stop being so impractical!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): State your ideas to associates but do not be demanding or you do not get the right results. Find the right restoration for the days ahead. Stop just being led around by others—use your own logic.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Get busy at those duties that you usually find difficult to do during long work weeks and they are soon behind you. Regular associates will lend a helpful hand. Show that you are grateful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Find more modern means through which to express your finest talents so that you advance more quickly. It's all right to go out for fun, but make it the worthwhile kind, the happier tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): If you are fearful with him, they can very well become belligerent now. Show diplomacy instead and they go along with what is right very easily. Earn yourself more devotion that way, also.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Show associates that you are very efficient now, but be sure that you drive with utmost care and speak kindly, courteously. You must apply yourself to get all in the order. Don't depend on others.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: he, or she, will be one of those delightful young people who look a little different from the rest. A tremendous will power, but will come to the fore as an extreme, an earthy quality to listen to what others have to say.

Late-Day Bags Are Mini-Size

In late-day and evening bags, the range of looks for spring is diversified. Mini-boxbags in oval, square and "hut" shapes, are clasped with jeweled flowers, butterflies and other designs or swing from bejeweled chains.

These are little envelopes, tiny totes and swaggers, and shoulder-strap bags chained in gold, silver or tortoise shell.

Leathers are smooth and lustred, saffian, embossed, suede and patent. Metallic colors are seen in grained, crushed and smooth leathers.

Nose Tricks

If your nose is clearly out of proportion to the rest of your face, try these tricks: For a short nose, draw a full upper lip to minimize the space between mouth and nose. For a long nose, use a lip brush to extend and widen the corners of your upper lip. For a broad nose, shading is the answer. Experiment by blending brown shading cream down the side of your nose and nostrils.

ABWA Members Sponsor 1968 Spring Hand of Friendship Tea

The American Business Women's Association sponsored the annual Spring Hand of Friendship Tea recently in the Hospitality Room at Citizens Bank.

Mrs. T. A. Mastin, president, gave the welcome and introduced the executive board. The invocation was given by Mrs. Wallace Bruce.

Refreshments were served to members and their guests by Mrs. Eugene Franklin at the coffee service and Mrs. J. G. Shelton at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Mrs. R. V. Masterson.

Mrs. Vernon Graham was honored as the 1967-68 Woman of the Year for her achievements and accomplishments in her life, and for her contributing to the growth of ABWA.

A tribute was paid to Mrs. Mastin as the member of Pampa Charter Chapter, who had sponsored at least 11 members in the chapter and is recognized nationally as a member of the Inner Circle.

A program of ABWA was presented by members in a classroom routine with the teacher instructing her students in their "ABWA'S."

Mrs. Ed Wylie who gave the history report, said she learned ABWA is in its 19th year and has members in all 50 states. Membership is made up to women of all types of occupations and professions.

The geography lesson was presented by Mrs. Arville Hayes

Ascots and vests joined together in the spring spirit of romantic renaissance call for stick pins, bar pins, antique brooches, animal fair pins.

A cluster of stick pins may converge on an ascot vertically, horizontally or at different levels.

The look of antiqued gold comes out of the past to distinguish this wealth of pins for spring neckwear.

The precious stone look enters for daytime wear; jeweled looks appear for romantic evenings, in dramatic pins, rings, earrings, necklaces and pendants.

Clear plastic balls, cubes, bold geometric shapes join gold chain swag around the neckline, hoop earrings suspended from clear balls and gold chains cater to compliments.

Rings in myriad shapes of plastic, in prism colors, count the ways to look pretty on the fingers of both hands.

Chains hold fast in the fashion forefront with earrings, necklaces, belts, rings and watchbands. Streams of delicate golden chains are tethered to a gold watch at the wrist.

For evening, many chains adopt rhinestone fittings with a special fashion flourish.

Gladiator-styled, brass-buckled, leather arm bands abound in hot fashion colors, varying widths.

Sequined T-straps, jeweled T-straps for the hands, pearly plastic wrist bands harness the fashion spirit.

Bold-faced fashion watches in new colors, new bandings bid for popularity with women of every fashion set.

Native intelligence (the earliest kind) counsels a woman to substitute new bamboo jewelry for basic white jewelry to brighten spring-summer pales. Hot

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Los Angeles—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such a slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at

Felts, Straws Go to His Head

Starting at the top, men's hats move into spring's light and bright color picture by offering lighter shades in spring straws and felts.

Subtle innovations in hat styling make the new hats more elegant than ever, and the recently-introduced "Now Look" silhouette adds a touch of raciness. The "Now Look" features a smart sweep to both crown and brim, designed to blend well with the current more contoured lines of men's apparel.

Lighter in weight as well as color, spring felts offer comfort along with style. The light hues range from very pale grays and almost-whites to more colorful pastels, with bands in tones to complement the color of the felt.

Straws in the new light hues often take brightly hued and patterned bands — paisleys or stripes, for instance.

As men move outdoors for a variety of warm weather activities, casual fabric hats seem due to be much in demand.

NEW CHURCH — The Pampa congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will start using this church for their service Sunday. The group is planning a heavy month of activities for April.

H-SU Hosts Student Meet

ABILENE — Hardin-Simmons University for the second year in a row will host the annual Texas Baptist Student Union Leadership Training Conference, April 19-21.

"This year's program is being carefully planned so as to provide the maximum in useful experiences for all who are involved," said W. F. Howard of Dallas, director of Texas Baptists' Student Division.

Among program personalities will be: S. L. Harris, consultant, Student Department of Southern Baptists, Nashville, Tenn.; Clyde Fant Jr., professor at Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth; Gene Bolin, Department of Student Work, Oregon-Washington and Kermit Whiteaker, associate dean of students, Dallas Baptist College, Dallas.

Also, Dick Baker, student at Baylor University, Waco, and James M. Dunn, newly-named secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Christian Life Commission, will be on the program.

Students from some 84 campuses over the state are expected, Howard reported.

In charge of local arrangements will be Marshall Walker, director of religious activities at H-SU.

Ghetto Action

NEW YORK (UPI) — Action on the crisis in the nation's ghettos will have top priority in spending by the United Church of Christ through 1971, according to the church's Executive Council. The Council called on the denomination's 6,945 local churches to contribute up to 5 per cent of their local expenses for that purpose.

Churches struggling to pay off mortgages were asked to give at least 1 per cent of their annual expenses — costs of maintaining the church and the minister's salary. More prosperous churches will be expected to give at least 5 per cent.

First Presbyterian Minister Names Sunday Topics

The Reverend Martin Hager, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will take his text from John's Gospel, using as the sermon topic for this Sunday, "The Strange New World of the Gospel," for both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services.

Ruling Elder Bill K. Ellison will serve as the Pulpit Assistant this Sunday. At the 11 a.m. worship service, Mrs. George Budd, soloist, will sing "Holy, Holy, Holy" by Dyke. The Offertory will be presented by Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, church organist. She will present, "When Thou Art Near" by Bach.

The Youth Choir will practice at the First Christian Church at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Junior High Fellowship will meet Sunday afternoon at the regular time of 5 p.m., at the home of Eugene Sidwell, 103 E. 18th St. The Senior High's will meet in Youth Lounge at 5:30 p.m.

Christian Science Subject, 'Reality'

"Reality" is the subject of the lesson Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text which sets the theme for this Bible lesson is from Isaiah: "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

"Christianity causes men, to turn naturally from matter to Spirit as the flower turns from darkness to light. Man then appropriates those things which 'eye hath not seen nor ear heard.'" This is one of the correlated statements to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

POLITICAL DEVELOPMENTS PROMPT IT

Churches Increase 'Activity For 'Peace'

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

Recent political developments have prompted a fresh spurt of peace activity in churches.

Methodist bishops in a dozen cities held news conferences this week to present a peace proposal adopted by the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church and the Board of Bishops of the Evangelical United-Brethren Church.

They said the United States should take the initiative in breaking the impasse with North Vietnam over conditions that must be met before peace negotiations can get underway.

The simplest way to do this, the bishops said, is for the United States and South Vietnam to announce that they are sending top-level teams of negotiators to a neutral place on a certain date, to open talks as soon as the other side shows up.

Simultaneously, they said, the United States and South Vietnam should halt all military action except that required for "maintenance of positions for the safeguarding of life and order."

The Methodist-EUB proposal coincided with a somewhat similar peace plan offered by "The Ad Hoc Committee on Vietnam," a group of staff members at the Valley Forge, Pa., headquarters of the American Baptist Convention. The committee called for a halt to bombing of North Vietnam, and "a deliberate, de-escalation of American military involvement over a one two-year period, culminating in withdrawal in cooperation with an international control commission."

In a third development this week, Dr. Paul Geren, president of Stetson University, Deland, Fla., told a Christian citizenship seminar sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention

Seventh-Day Adventists, one of the most missionary-minded of American's churches, sent a record number of missionaries abroad last year.

A report to the denomination's annual spring council in Washington this week showed that 421 new missionaries went out to Adventist schools, hospitals and other mission stations in 190 countries. This is a far larger number than was sent by some of the big main-line Protestant denominations which have 10 times as many members as the Adventists.

Adventists support their huge missionary endeavor by "double-tithing"—giving 20 per cent of their total income to the church.

'Underground Church' Surfaces

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

They call themselves "The Underground Church." They are young and old, male and female, black and white, rich and poor, Catholic and Protestant, clergy and laymen.

No one knows how many there are, because they have no interest in membership records and statistical reports. But the number is substantial, and it is growing steadily.

They are not deliberately secretive. They are "underground" only in the sense that they exist apart from the highly-visible institutions which they refer to as "The Establishment Churches."

Their movement surfaced this week with the publication of a book entitled "The Underground Church" (Sheed & Ward). It's editor is Fr. Malcolm Boyd, an unconventional Episcopal priest who acts as chaplain-at-large to Americans of all ages and faiths who are "turned off" by the institutional church.

Fr. Boyd described the underground church as a loosely-organized ecumenical community which "seeks honestly to find out what it means to be the body of Christ now... here... with this person in this situation... in this moment."

He emphasizes that it has no intention of developing into a new denomination. Its major premise is that the church should be "not an organizational structure... but a community of servanthood in the midst of the world's concerns."

Because it is not encumbered with buildings and budgets, Fr. Boyd says, the underground church can enlist in unpopular causes and take radical stands on such issues as peace and racial justice.

In so doing, he contends, it is much closer to the spirit of Christ—and thus more truly orthodox—than an "Establishment Church" which is essentially committed to the status quo.

Chapters on various aspects of the underground church were contributed by 17 other writers, including a bishop, a nun, a Peace Corps worker, a civil rights agitator, a student leader and a pacifist.

The Rt. Rev. Paul Moore Jr., suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington, D.C., suggests in a closing chapter that Christians devoted to the institutional church should be thankful for, rather than alarmed about, the emergence of the underground church.

The institutional church, he says, is "tied with canonical knots, separated by Gothic language and Medieval thought forms."

"These do not kill the spirit,"

the spirit never dies. But they prevent its free operation within the church so that the spirit, frustrated as it were, leaves the rigid institution and springs up with new life in unlikely places.

"The Holy Spirit is present wherever new life is growing, even when no one recognizes in that life the church. So we can say that the old stump of the church as new shoots of life—even when it is embarrassed by them."

Unofficial Saints Lift Churches To Heights

By DAVID POLING

Just when the religious headquarters has everyone trained to use the official song books, study guides, worship materials and vacation Bible school handbooks, out pops some inspired individual with a bright idea with out clearing it with the brass.

In the day of the institutional church, I think this is a good thing, especially when you consider the machinery and red tape that surrounds every ecclesiastical board room.

Take Eisenhower College in New York. Ten years ago some free-wheeling Presbyterian laymen thought it would be great to have a liberal arts college upstate. A small steering committee presented the idea to local church officials, synod power brokers and anybody who would listen. All they had was $100,000, a precarious site and lots of enthusiasm.

Everybody laughed and told them they were suffering from cabin fever from the long, icy winter. Experts cleared their throats and said to come back when they had $20 million. The way-high-up church officials would hardly give this motley crew an appointment, much less encouragement.

Maybe it was the opposition or the name or the Holy Spirit. I don't honestly know but you are aware that Eisenhower College opens in September, 1968, for its freshman class, making it the newest liberal arts college in New York in 50 years.

These unofficial saints make the establishment nervous.

This same independent, inspired activity is going on in drama and music. A couple of years ago Arthur Zapel Jr. got tired of directing the same old church Christmas pageants. All the material was so predictable and so dated that he finally started writing his own plays.

He had the ability and know-how. For nearly a decade he had been heading up the television production for J. Walter Thompson in Chicago. He turned some of the same savvy loose in a religious setting and developed some contemporary plays for sanctuary drama.

Not satisfied with Christmas, he went on to develop a "Lenten-Easter" material that already has caught on. For a while Zapel worked out of the attic on these plays and then the demand became so great that he established Contemporary Drama Service in Downers Grove, Ill.

By Easter, 1968, more than a thousand churches across the United States will be putting on one of his Lenten dramas.

Here again, a quiet layman has filled in the gap left wide open by the organized church. His themes include a drama on LSD, "It's Happening Now, Baby," "The Gap" (Generation, that is); another entitled, "I Can Do It Alone," the story of a "Swinger." Drama really began in the cathedral and how fitting that it should be returned at the hands of a skilled and concerned layman.

The real excitement in sacred music this year has also been developed by a nonheadquarters layman.

By the guidance and support of Mary C. Crowley, Ralph Carmichael, the noted composer and arranger, and Anne Criswell, the talented soprano from Dallas, have produced a thrilling record entitled, "Amazing Grace." What is amazing to me is the entrancing power of this young lady's voice with the skillful accompaniment of Carmichael's orchestra. I honestly believe that Royalty Records has established a new standard for sacred music.

"Amazing Grace" bursts free of the restrictions that have been placed on us by Bach or Handel or hot gospel or whatever else is your favorite tone in religious sounds.

Just at the moment that everyone despised of the institutional church, the unofficial saints come marching in!

There will be special music for each of the services throughout the entire series.

Religious Relics At Olympic Site

MEXICO CITY — Archeological pieces approximately 3,000 years old have been found on the site of the Olympic villa currently under construction in the southwest part of Mexico city.

Roberto Jimenez, chief of the archeological rescue squad at the Olympic site, said the finds included fossils and ceramic pieces of a religious nature.

From May to December of 1967 archeologists discovered 147 human burial sites, all predating the Teotihuacan period, Jimenez said.

He explained that the Cuicuilca tribe which inhabited that region is from the lower pre-class era dating from 1,200 B.C. The tribe stayed in the valley of Mexico until the eruption of the Xitle volcano, he said.

Jimenez also said five pyramids have been found so far during construction of Olympic facilities.

More Baptists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Membership in Baptist churches throughout the world totals 29,817,707, and increase of 2.6 million over the total figures available a year ago, according to the Baptist World Alliance.

The largest single group is the Southern Baptist Convention with 11,142,726 members, followed by the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., 6.3 million members; National Baptist Convention of America, 3.5 million, and the American Baptist Convention, 1.5 million.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

BILL W. ROBSON, Pastor
Immanuel Temple Church

"The Ascended Christ"

Text Acts 2-22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by Him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: — this Jesus hath God raised up, and we are witnesses.

Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of The Holy Ghost, He hath shed forth this, which ye now see and head . . . Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly that God hath made that same Jesus whom ye have crucified, both LORD and CHRIST."

These verses are taken from Peter's sermon on the day of Pentecost. Peter could just as easily, just as truthfully said "Let All the World Know . . . that God hath made this same Jesus both Lord and Christ." We can see the Peace that Peter had when he stood and preached this message. Today we have the same peace, It is a Perfect Peace because all barriers have been removed, all obstacles dissolved, all difficulties removed by the mighty power of the matchless Son of God in his reconciling grace. The peace is a Perpetual Peace. Does not the Apostle say in Hebrews 7:25: "Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them." Also this peace is a powerful peace we know that our God is all powerful and over all — He is the source of power, He is the substance of power. He is the sum of power. He is the scope of power, and to think He is our Lord and Christ. This peace is like a rock under our feet. It is the haven of rest we sing about.

Bomb Report Management

For more than a year, top Pentagon brass have had on their desks a report claiming that the bombing of North Vietnam has been "of doubtful value" from almost every standpoint—economic, political and military.

The report, prepared under government sponsorship of Dr. Oleg Hoffding of the Rand Corp., a "think tank" has only recently been declassified and made public. It was first revealed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. correspondent Dick Kleiner in a recent article.

In essence, the report claims the bombing has not been as severe as the North Vietnamese were prepared for, has not seriously disrupted their economy and while it has raised the cost of infiltration into the South, "has not reduced it sufficiently to prevent North Vietnam from helping to maintain a combat force in the South strong enough to deny the prospect of a decisive military victory to the United States and its allies in the foreseeable future."

Hanoi, in fact, would not have asked for a better situation. There have been just enough civilian casualties to keep the population's anti-American feeling high, says the report.

"In terms of its morale effects," wrote Hoffding, "the U.S. campaign may have presented the regime with a near-ideal mix of intended restraint and accidental gore."

"A year ago, Hoffding warned that 'further escalation of the air war would involve the United States in increasingly serious conflict between the quest for greater effectiveness... and the credibility of the U.S. stance of asserted restraint in targets and objectives'."

Today, reports Kleiner, Hoffding's opinion has not changed: "Escalation of the bombing has occurred and the effects—or lack of effects,—have been what I predicted."

Ignoring the whole question of why the report never was acted on, why for the past year the bombing has continued at higher and higher levels, it is tempting to speculate on the reasons for its release at this time.

Possibly it is by way of preparing the public for a complete cessation of the bombing—ostensibly to bring about negotiations but really because it has not been worth the cost.

More provocative is speculation about where this could place the Republicans in this election year. Most potential GOP candidates are hawkish bent.

According to Hoffding's report, a sizeable portion of North Vietnam's war-essential manufacturing capacity has been moved "beyond the effective reach of any but the most indiscriminate and wasteful air attacks."

Some November, it would be startling, to say the least, to see which initiated and escalated the war once again adopting the position of peace-loving reasonableness and the Republicans again relegated to the unpopular role of the "war party."

It would be the political paradox of our time if President Johnson, who has done everything and more than Barry Goldwater was repudiated by the voters for advocating in 1964 were to be the beneficiary of all the costly and dubious actions of the past four years because no Republican offered the electorate an alternative strategy for achieving American aims in Southeast Asia.

Admen 'Hit Bottom'

They say if we wait long enough, the Russians will eventually become as crassly materialistic and conspicuously consuming as we are. That does not satisfy one enterprising American advertising executive.

An evident proponent of the direct, hard-sell approach, James DeWolfe, president of Hockaday DeWolfe Gordano Inc., recently wrote to Leonid Zimyanin, chief editor of the newspaper Pravda. He urged the paper to adopt a new policy and accept product advertising, which would, he predicted, "heighten reader interest, expand consumer markets, bring about increased production, add to national revenues and produce a higher standard of living."

After this persuasive pitch, he then requested—apparently in all seriousness—space for a full-page ad on behalf of one of his clients, who is anxious to bring "the beauty and gracious utility" of his product to the USSR consumer market.

The product? Toilet seats—available in red, white, blue and green.

Placed in proximity to some of the official news that fills the drab columns of Pravda, such an advertisement would not be inappropriate, in an editorial sense.

As an opening into the vast, untapped Russian market, however, we entertain strong doubts that the offer will inspire a new movement within the Kremlin.

There are some things that Russia is just not ready for.

Cities' Hard Facts in Black and White

The big news of the 1960 census was the decline of the cities at the expense of the suburbs. That trend is continuing.

Writing in Science magazine, two sociologists, Reynolds Farley of the University of Michigan and Karl E. Taeuber of the University of Wisconsin, analyzed special mid-decade census data for 13 cities—Buffalo, Cleveland, Des Moines, Evansville, Fort Wayne, Greensboro, Louisville, Memphis, Providence, Raleigh, Rochester, Sacramento and Shreveport.

They found that seven of the 13 experienced a decline in total population—as much as 10 per cent in Providence and Buffalo. But in each city, South as well as North, the Negro population grew more rapidly or decreased less rapidly than the white population.

"The concentration of whites in the suburbs and Negroes in the central cities is continuing," they write. At the same time, the "indices of racial residential segregation" have generally increased.

The combination, they conclude with professional reserve, "has greatly intensified the problems of segregation and desegregation of neighborhoods, local institutions and schools."

The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders put it more vividly:

"Our nation is moving toward two societies—one black, one white—separate and unequal."

They found that seven of the 13 experienced a decline in total population—as much as 10 per cent in Providence and Buffalo. But in each city, South as well as North, the Negro population grew more rapidly or decreased less rapidly than the white population.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Suppose—way back in 1967—someone had predicted that a fourth-rate power, or even a first-rate power, had hijacked a U.S. vessel outfitted with secret gear and information and had captured her crew. And suppose that our fleet in the area had ample time—two hours and a half—to get planes to the spot to save our men and secrets, but refused to do so! (Our Russian enemy might not like it!) And suppose that instead of giving the enemy 24 hours to surrender our ship and crew, unharmed, or suffer the consequences, we had turned the matter over to be decided by an organization controlled by our enemies—the United Nations. Would you conclude that we are afraid? Some informed people think so.

And suppose that somebody had predicted that in 1968 our government would be dicker with our Number One enemy, Russia, to call off the Vietnam War in repayment of which we would agree to pay $50 billion in reparations to North Vietnam!

Well, folks, this is not just supposin'. It's happening. And yet it's not really just "happening." It's not just a series of accidents or unpreventable developments. It has all been planned that way—and some of the people who planned it and who are putting it into effect are on your payroll. Call it insanity, stupidity or treason, we are being deliberately bankrupted, disarmed and surrendered to the greatest menace the world has ever known—Soviet Russia—while our government, educational, business and church leaders "build bridges of friendship" to the Communist, atheist criminals.

Why are we so excited about the fate of the men captured with the Pueblo? We have forgotten the thousands of American boys who have been caged in North Korean prisons ever since our traitors surrendered them in the first war. Ever lost.

Giving away the Pueblo is nothing compared with giving away our Panama Canal. Hardly anybody is excited about that.

Our leaders are still feverishly trying to get the UN to settle the Pueblo case, return our ship minus the secrets, swap our men for a few hundred dollars; or, if they keep our men we would get the assurance that they would be assigned to the best prisons. If the UN eventually can accomplish all this, press, networks and the educational mafia would finally be able to sell the American people on full acceptance of the UN. Then, in due course, we could turn everything over to the UN, first our atomic weapons, as old clayhead Eisenhower has urged; and finally our money, our sovereignty, our guns, our freedom.

According to one responsible source, the Johnson Administration is lying to the American people about the Pueblo. The truth is, we are told, that the Pueblo and its crew resisted the Communist attackers who were twice repulsed in a battle that lasted an hour and forty-five minutes. These and other details of the fierce battle waged by the Pueblo crew are being suppressed by President Johnson to keep public opinion from being inflamed—and to keep votes from being lost. If the people knew the truth about the Pueblo—and about the Vietnam stalemate—they would demand not only victory now, but also on election day.

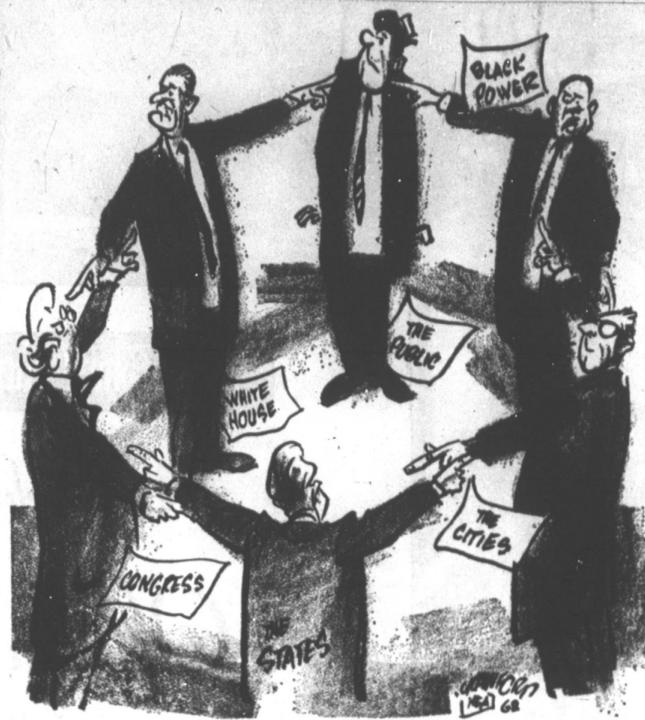

One "reason" given for the surrender of the Pueblo and her crew is that any reprisal had to be approved by the White House. Lyndon calls all the shots—and downs quite a few, too.

Why shouldn't civilian Johnson call all the war shots? Civilian Hitler did and look how successful he was.

A leftist writer siding with the North Koreans in the argument over those waters our captured ship Pueblo was in, said: "The North Korean government hasn't lied to me recently."

Isn't it appalling that we in America no longer know whether our government is right because we no longer know whether our government is lying to us or not? The credibility gap has become a yawning chasm.

DROPOUT NOT DIRTY WORD

I've been conducting my own personal survey to determine just how employers evaluate a good education when it comes to selecting employees. The reason for this probe is the endless amount of propaganda filling the air waves and messing up good, clean paper, which assures us that school dropouts are a number one national emergency and that to get a GOOD job you have to have a GOOD education.

Let me give you the plus factor first. In very big firms, where the management is unable to take a personal interest in employees and thus the task is relegated to personnel departments, college degrees and credits play an important role. Personnel managers usually have received some training in business procedures and have studied rudimentary psychology. So they provide elaborate forms through computers and thus come up with the people they want to hire.

But you have to keep in mind that these larger firms hire on a more or less impersonal basis. And they can afford to pick up and carry a certain amount of deadwood for a time, since many of them have government contracts. Actually, you can put a man into some big firms and he can get lost in the red tape and the bureaucracy there almost as effectively as he could in a government bureau.

Of course, after about six months or a year, his progress and ability will be reviewed on the basis of performance rather than on the basis of his education. And at this point, many a grade A grad is separated from his grade A job.

But if you move slightly away from these giants of industry and begin to examine firms that are slightly less gargantuan, you begin to find something else. Men who know their business personally and who take a personal interest in their employees aren't looking for college credits when they hire, except in cases where specific professionals are being sought, such as chemists or engineers. The businessmen in this category I have talked with—and it includes some heads of fairly large companies—assure me they couldn't care less about the educational background of the men they hire, providing they can read and write and speak intelligently. They tell me that they are frantically looking for men who will WORK, and that such men are hard to find.

Further, I'm informed, it is the college man with lots of academic credit behind him who doesn't want to work, but wants to have a big-paying job "connection." I'm told that plenty of high school dropouts who are ambitious and who will really bend their backs in favor of production can get jobs and hold on to them. And that is the major factor.

In spite of all the propaganda, it isn't the school credits or the degrees that will make you a

Nixon's End-the-War Plan Based on Blockade of War Materiel; 7 Steps Outlined

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Former Vice President Richard Nixon's pledge to end-the-war in Vietnam if elected President is built around a "Kennedy-type naval quarantine" of North Vietnam.

As outlined by his closest advisers, the Nixon plan calls for use of massive U.S. naval and air power to cut off the flow of Russian and Chinese Communist military supplies to Hanoi.

By imposing a "limited blockade," as the late President Kennedy did during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, aides say Nixon believes the U.S. would force the North Vietnamese in a relatively short time to end the fighting and come to the conference table.

While rapidly moving events in Vietnam could and probably will force some changes in Nixon's end-the-war policy, his proposed tactics and strategy for accomplishing this are now as follows:

—A "Kennedy-type" naval and air quarantine would be imposed on Port of Haiphong and along the coast of North Vietnam. All ships carrying military supplies would be turned back, but ships carrying food and medicine would be permitted to go through.

—U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would be centered on rail lines and roads to mainland China and other supply routes.

—The search and destroy military tactics of General William Westmoreland would be abandoned and replaced by a clear and hold strategy.

—The pacification program would be transferred from American military control to the South Vietnam government, South Korea, Thailand, Australia, and the Philippines would be urged to increase their assistance for this work.

—A timetable would be set for transfer of the main military burden from Americans to the South Vietnamese. Other Asian allies would be asked to help the Saigon government.

—The U.S. would help train, equip, and finance a build-up of South Vietnamese forces to the 800,000 level, or larger if needed.

—Increased U.S. priority would be given to economic programs to bolster the country's economy, help rebuild its war-damaged cities, and resettle refugees.

THE EISENHOWER AGE — In developing his position for ending the war, Nixon has consulted with a wide-ranging group of advisers.

The Manion Forum

By MARILYN MANION

There are times when this writer wishes she didn't have to read the daily paper. Each morning brings more bad news. Death in Vietnam. Prospects for riots this summer in our cities. War, and rumors of war, and no end in sight.

What has happened to the world? The question inevitably enters the mind of anyone perusing the newspaper.

What has happened to the world is in great part due to Communism. Vietnam, of course, and the Cold War. But the Reds are also working in America.

A guest on the Manion Forum radio program outlined some of the Red programs being carried out today—in your own city perhaps. The guest was Dean Richards, President of the Dean Richards Corporation; and here is what he had to say:

"In my travels I have seen the infiltration of local power positions by carefully trained individuals—organizers, Communist organizers— from different schools around the country. The Marxist School of Study in New York City openly admits that it has trained individuals in Marxism, Leninism, atheism and class warfare. It 'teaches' its students to lie, to deceive, and to infiltrate and survey the individuals in each community (whether Negroes or whites, Catholics, Protestants or Jews). These 'students' learn to carefully infiltrate each position they can get into; agitate; and cause the riots, deaths and millions of dollars of destruction in cities throughout the United States.

"These Communist-inspired agitators openly admit that there will be more bloodshed and more destruction in 1968 than there was last year.

"The Communist Party is well organized, with thousands of training schools worldwide. They don't conceal these schools where they train recruits—college students (I like to call them WM2's—well-meaning, but woolly-minded). These youths are not Communists. They are Vietnam is not that of our fighting men, but the failure of our leadership in Washington to back them up."

Nixon will continue to criticize "the use of military power gradually in Vietnam," while contending that if President Johnson had earlier employed power in the way he does now, "the war would be over."

In addition to repeating his pledge to end-the-war in Vietnam, Nixon in his coming campaign speeches will promise no more Vietnams or Koreas."

Aides say he will hammer away on the theme that "in the future when countries are resisting Communist aggression in Africa, Asia, or South America, it will be our policy to help them fight the war—but not fight the war for them."

The big question facing Nixon is whether the rush of time and events in the world will overrun Nixon's policy before he believes the time is right to announce it.

WATCHING THE MIDDLE EAST — With most of the world's eyes glued on Vietnam and the explosive U.S. political show, the Russians are launching a new diplomatic military arms offensive in the Middle East.

As a starter the Soviets are sending two of their most important leaders there to stoke the fires of a new anti-American campaign.

U.S. intelligence reports Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin is scheduled to visit Iran April 2 to 8 to arrange a new Soviet-Iranian trade and arms deal.

Although arrangements are still being worked out, Kosygin is expected to visit Iraq and Egypt before returning to Moscow.

While Kosygin travels the diplomatic route, Soviet Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko will be taking the military road. He is visiting Iraq and Syria to work out new arms and defense arrangements and is also expected to stop over in Cairo. The Soviet Union is the major weapons supplier for all these Arab countries.

If the latest U.S. intelligence estimates are reliable, one of Kosygin's prime missions will be to try to convince the Shah of Iran that the balance of power in the Middle East is shifting from the U.S. to Russia.

As an inducement for closer alignment with Russia, the Soviet leader is reputed to be ready to offer vast new amounts of economic aid in exchange for oil and gas. Work on a new Soviet-backed steel mill was inaugurated in Isfahan earlier this month.

not leftwingers or rightwingers. They are well-meaning, but woolly-minded, when it comes to the Communist Party threat.

"They are highly idealistic. They are humanitarian. They are for the poor. They take this type of individual and put him in a Communist training school. They teach him the art of survey, evaluation, master-plan, fund-raising, organization—how to control a mob, how to agitate a mob, how to excite a mob.

"I think the entire battle regarding the Communist Party threat and the other trends in this country today involve three areas. First, we have to have a spiritual revolution. Secondly, Americans must educate themselves.

"Thirdly, they have to get some training, and this is the program I have developed. We have a 13-hour conservative, anti-Communist training program that I take into communities all over the United States.

"The whole point of this course is to come into the community and train individuals in speech, organization and fund-raising techniques. We teach them how to win politically, whether Democrat or Republican, in the precinct—how to elect a conservative to office in 1968."

Do you, dear reader, really want to help change the world? You can, you know. The Dean Richards' course is available to you now. For details, write to The Manion Forum, South Bend, Ind.

Janis Paige is the luckiest girl on Broadway for she has beat out more than 15 other contestants to win the leading role in "Mame," the best show in New York, when Angela Lansbury steps out after 776 performances at the end of this month. The new star is a real "pro" who made her mark on the stage films and TV as an actress, singer and dancer. She faces a tough assignment for Angela Lansbury was the best "Mame" of all in the Patrick Dennis story, which has been done many times on the stage and screen with other top-notch actresses in the lead. Angela Lansbury was the perfect unconventional aunt who was forced to become guardian for a young nephew. It's a wonderful show, filled with fun and laughter and excellent songs and dances. Now that Janis Paige has been signed for the title role it may run a fate reserved only for those productions that are truly terrific.

Today's smile: A young man gave his elderly aunt a color TV set for her birthday and a few weeks later called her and asked if she liked the set and if it worked properly. She said she liked color TV very much, but she didn't use the new set very often since she preferred her old black and white set. She explained: "The black and white set has better shows."

Thoughts while shaving: More than 2700 nameplates have been registered since the first U.S. automobile was built in 1893. Today only four U.S. auto manufacturers survive: General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors. Together they turn out the 30-odd nameplates of American cars. . . . The Bible, the most quoted and least read of all books, contains 773,746 words. There are 31,173 verses in the 1189 chapters of 66 books. . . . Cigar bands were invented by Cuban women, who smoked cheroots long before females in other countries took up the habit. They used to wrap paper bands around the cigars so their fingers would not get nicotine stains. . . . We recently learned that in a ski-jumping contest it is possible to make the longest jump and still lose. Points are awarded for distance, control and form. Each contestant is allowed two jumps and form ranks equally with distance in awarding points. . . . The 900 tenants of New York's Empire State Building pay annual rentals of $10 million, which is about a quarter of the original cost of constructing the world's largest building. . . . SIGNS FOR LOTS OF BREAD — Pampa's Kenny Hebert, who was All-American at the University of Houston, has signed a three-year contract for approximately $85,000 with an additional $15,000 for just putting his name on the dotted line. He is shown here in HS.

Hebert Signs for $100,000

By CURTIS MONTGOMERY Sports Editor
Pampa's own Kenny Hebert has signed a three-year contract for $85,000 with an additional $15,000 coming to the Houston All-American as a bonus for signing with the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers according to Hebert's father Walter Hebert of Pampa. Hebert will receive a certain bonus for doing well. For instance, if the former Harvester beats out the punter for Pittsburgh, he gets so much more. And if he averages a certain yardage in various categories, he gets some more money. At the time the Pittsburgh club drafted Hebert he was really pleased. "I'm just tickled pink that a National Football League team wanted me," Hebert said. Hebert could easily have signed a pro baseball contract as he was an outstanding ball player both at Pampa and at the University of Houston. He played in the NCAA tournament for UH last season. Coach Bill Yeoman praised Hebert when Hebert was feted by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in February on Kenny Hebert Day. Yeoman said, "It is unusual for a boy to make the All-American team, but it is even more difficult for a boy to excel in athletics and also in the class room. Kenny never lost track of the real reason for his being a Houston. He knew that sports was second and he did exceptionally well at the scholastic end," Yeoman said. Hebert was named on the Look magazine All-American football team and appeared with Bob Hope on his show in December.

Culley Misses Out On Richardson Job

Pampa's basketball Coach Terry Culley did not get the position at Richardson High School as basketball coach with the job going to the freshman coach at Caprock High School in Amarillo, Jerry Stone.

Richardson, a 7-AAAA school, signed the 26-year old cage tutor over a more experienced Culley but caused some relief around Pampa today even though a majority of people in town may not realize that Culley had more than just that iron in the fire. A winning basketball player like Culley will have little trouble landing a big job, perhaps in a small college as athletic director and basketball coach. Stone took a team which was ranked eight in the pre-season poll of coaches in District 3-AA and came within a hair-and-a-half of taking the crown away from the Harvesters. The Longhorns were tied for first going into the final game of the season and 14-14 for the year under Stone who was in only his first year for Caprock as head coach and third as a head coach anywhere. Stone played high school ball at Arkansas City, Kan. and attended McMurry College in Abilene. Curtis Montgomery

COACH NAMED
NEW YORK (UPI)—Jerry Seckler today was named to succeed Stan Thornton as head wrestling coach at Columbia University. Seckler, co-captain of the Penn State wrestling team in 1961, served as assistant wrestling coach at Columbia the last two years.

Harvesters To Run In Amarillo Relays

The Pampa Harvesters tennis, volleyball (girls), track and golf teams will be competing today at the Amarillo Relays at Dick Bivins Stadium.

Heap has jumped 6-5/8, an inch higher than the existing record of 6-4 1/4 established by Crane's Clarence Miller in 1954. For either Amarillo High or Odessa to succeed, it must first get past Palo Duro, which may prove to be insurmountable obstacle. The Dons, like the Sandies, have won every meet in which they have participated this year. Palo Duro may have better balance than any of the other entries in the large schools' bracket, however, and should score heavily in today's field events.

Amarillo and Odessa are the favorites in the competition today and tomorrow in track in its 19th running of the event.

Other large school entries are Tascosa, Caprock, Midland High, Midland Lee, El Paso Irving, El Paso Austin, Wichita Falls, Lubbock Estacado, Ysleta Bel Air and Dumas.

Amarillo High has won all four of the meets in which it has entered this year.

The small schools bracket should offer a preview of things to come in several district races.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Favored Memphis, Olton and Friona all will battle for honors in the District 3-AA meet next month while Wheeler, Clearendon, Claude and McLean are all District 2-A members.

Odessa athletes are well within range of a pair of records in the event, Jimmy Whitley in the 880 and Craig Heap in the high jump.

The long-awaited battle between the two keen rivals, who insist "there's no feud, we get along fine," will take place in the semifinals of Madison Square Garden International tennis tournament.

Whitley has raced to a 1:55.5 clocking in the half mile, third best in the state and only sevenths of a second over Chuck Frawley's 1:54.8 record.

The 35-year-old coach of the St. Louis Hawks, who quit as a player-coach this season to devote full-time to coaching duties, Thursday was awarded the highest accolade of his pro career by being selected as the National Basketball Association's Coach of the Year for the 1967-68 season.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Guerin, who coached the Hawks to the Western Division title, received 25 votes in the balloting of 31 sports writers who cover the league. Bill Van Breda Kolf of the Los Angeles Lakers received three votes, Alex Hannum of the Philadelphia 76ers got two and Gene Shue of the Baltimore Bullets one.

King Goes Tonight With Texas Girl

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pert Billie Jean King and grim Nancy Richey, America's two finest women tennis players, finally meet in their first duel in three years tonight.

Guerin's decision to coach entirely from the sidelines, this year proved to be a wise one for the former all-pro guard.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Alvin Achord, Steve Summers, John Jenkins, Hal Claubach, Fran McGahn, Henley, Woodard, Gary Parrish, and Mike Fortin will be in the line up today in Lubbock. Dan Carlton will likely be a key player also.

Sanders Leads Open In Jacksonville Golf

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Doug Sanders, who deliberately started slow this year to keep from tiring himself too early, figures it's time to make his move. "I've only got three more chances to qualify for the Tournament of Champions, said the Beau Brummel of the fairways. Although he won more than $100,000 last year, he hasn't won a first-place check since the 1967 Doral open more than 12 months ago.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Sanders, went into today's second round of the Greater Jacksonville Open with a one-stroke lead, thanks to Thursday's 7-under-par 65.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Sanders had an eagle and five birdies, three of them in a row as he equalled the tournament and course record.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Included in that runnerup group here were 48-year-old Julius Boros, this year's Doral champion Gardner Dickinson, Al Geiberger, who just returned to the tour after a four-week layoff, and Dewitt Weaver and Steve Reid, both recovering from a touch of the flu.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Just one more stroke back as 66 of the 144 entries bettered par in the opening round of this $100,000 tournament, were PGA champion Don January, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Dick Martinez and Bobby Nichols.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Defending champion Dan Sikes, this year's leading money winner Tom Weiskopf ($66,000), and Masters Champion Gay Brewer were among the dozen who had 68s.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

Arnold Palmer, still complaining about his game, shot 70 which he called "two over par considering the great weather and the condition of the triple-bogey on a water hole and course." Jack Nicklaus, took a wound up at 74 and Gary Player had a 69.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

RED SENT DOWN ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Outfielder Clyde Mason, drafted from Cincinnati last November, has been returned to the Reds' Indianapolis farm club of the International League for $12,000.

Odessa, while not capable of matching that record, has also been impressive. The Bronchos were third at the West Texas Relays, finishing ahead of Tascosa, which has won the Amarillo Relays crown the last seven years.

MISS ROSEBROOK GUIDED her team to the finals of the state Class A girls' basketball tournament. George West lost to Spring Lake 75-65 in the finals, but Miss Rosebrook scored 60 ok her team's 65 points.

Pampa To Play In Lubbock Today

The Pampa baseball team, regarded as a top contender for the District 3-A race now that the Bobby Stephens coached Harvesters are winners over the highly touted Lubbock Monterey, and the Pampan will be out to prove it today as they meet the team of Coronado High in a game starting at 4 p.m. in Lubbock.

Alan Woodard is the probable starter for the Harvesters today. Dick Henley will probably go with the Harvesters behind him against a new team in Lubbock, Estacado, starting at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Alvin Achord, Steve Summers, John Jenkins, Hal Claubach, Fran McGahn, Henley, Woodard, Gary Parrish, and Mike Fortin will be in the line up today in Lubbock. Dan Carlton will likely be a key player also.

Flower Children In Austin Today

AUSTIN (UPI)—The flower children took over the University of Texas campus today. Hippies picnicked on the grass outside classrooms, danced on the sidewalks, handed out balloons and flowers to passing students, painted themselves and all available concrete, and "grooved" on the sounds of two psychedelic music groups.

The "Gentle Thursday" activities are part of the hippies' annual "flipped out week" in Austin.

Most of the university's 28,000 students registered amusement or disbelief at the hippies' antics.

Just To Play

Centerfielder Jim Antoon doubled in the fourth Lion run to insure the win over Ear pitcher Ricky Deseck.

Baylor broke across after eight scoreless innings when a sacrifice fly by Freddie Barton drove in Ricky Head. Lion relief pitcher Steve Peirrotte walked four men, forcing in the second Baylor run.

George West Star Cager

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Mary Rosebrook, a 5-11 player for George West, Tex., high school, was named Thursday the state's top high school basketball player by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce—the first time a girl ever won the award.

Miss Rosebrook guided her team to the finals of the state Class A girls' basketball tournament. George West lost to Spring Lake 75-65 in the finals, but Miss Rosebrook scored 60 ok her team's 65 points.

She scored 103 points in the two game tournament and averaged 39.7 points for her senior year. Her four-year scoring average was 28.3 a game.

Train Passes Over Man; He Is Unhurt

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (UPI)—Agustin Peralta sustained slight scratches after a night of heavy drinking and chose a spot between the two diesel locomotives and a long line of railway cars ran over him near here.

60th saw "a body" between the tracks and applied the emergency brakes but skidded on past.

A frightened crew dragged Peralta out from under the cars and sent him to the hospital, where he was found suffering a few facial scratches and a heavy hangover.

One of the engineers said he

Drug Official Blasts Use Of Narcotics

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI)—Mind-blowing drugs have done more genetic harm to the human race than has the atomic bomb; a drug control official said this week at a narcotics panel discussion.

J. W. Hand of the Bureau of Drug Abuse Control in Dallas spoke at the conference at Pan American College. "I once saw shippie, carrying a sign in protest. The sign said, 'Drop acid, not the bomb.' The ironic thing is, LSD has done more genetic damage to the human race than the bomb ever has," Hand said. "The pusher stresses the fact that neither LSD nor marijuana is addicting. But he does not mention the fact that they do produce a drug dependency."

Some 900 Pan American students turned out for the sessions featuring Hand and other narcotics experts. The Student Senate, concerned about the lack of factual information on drugs, sponsored the meeting.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN LONDON (UPI)—The five leading gold dealers in London were holding secret talks today to plan a new free gold market in which supply and demand will determine the price of the metal. The market's establishment worked out in Washington two weeks ago by major central bankers to protect the dollar and halt a run on gold.

THE LIGHTER SIDE Grits Unappreciated!

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI)—Like so many other magnificent morsels with which the earth is blessed—okra, blackeyed peas, cornpone, etc.—grits are widely misunderstood and unappreciated.

I understand that very few of the "beautiful people" dine on grits even though this gastronomical delicacy has long been known as "the caviar of the South." The extent to which grits are ignored may be seen in the fact that 80 per cent of the annual consumption takes place on the Dixon side of Mason-Dixon line. And it is estimated that at least 50 per cent of the remaining 20 per cent is consumed by expatriate southerners.

But the relegation of grits to the status of second or third class cuisine may soon end. Grits seem destined at last to take their rightful place among the great dishes of the western world.

Snobby Grits For there has now appeared upon the scene grits with snob appeal—"gourmet grits," if you please.

It is ironic, in view of current relations between the two countries, that the man who finally recognized the true potential of this underrated American repast should be a Frenchman. When he arrived in this country six months ago to take a job as chef de cuisine at Maxim's de Paris in Chicago, Pierre Orsi had never seen nor heard of grits.

Once he made their acquaintance, it was love at first sight. "Voila! Where have you been all my life!" Orsi exclaimed. Or words to that effect.

That was when he began whipping up grits in the classic tradition of French cuisine.

Gritty Senators This week Orsi came to

Quirks In The News

By United Press International AGAINST SMOKING MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Sergio Chavez, 17, told police he asked a passerby for a cigarette Wednesday.

"God saves men noses," he breathes with and not use as chimneys," the passerby said, then pulled out a pistol and shot Chavez three times. Chavez was reported in serious condition today.

THE REVENGE COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The State Highway Patrol's general headquarters ranking officers defeated a state house news team in four straight volleyball games Wednesday night.

The games were set up after newsmen called the officers "paunchy, old men of general headquarters" when the officers were sent into the state house last week to quell a disturbance in the senate chambers.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hayden Stone, Inc. thinks that "A selectively, positive market approach seems more justified than a completely negative attitude at this time."

From a technical market standpoint, the firm continues, volume indications are slightly more bullish than bearish, many stocks seem reluctant to yield much further ground, institutional funds for reinvestment are sizable, and the large short position represents an important cushion of support.

Thompson & McKinnon feels that there are recent indications that "selling pressure may be running out as steam." It is noteworthy that the number of new lows has not expanded meaningfully, yet there has been no reversal of trend, according to the firm.

E.F. Hutton & Co. comments that the market remains in a strong support area, yet seems to respond optimistically to any news forecasting a change in the Vietnam situation. The news of an impending change in the military command there could provide a basis for some increased investor hope. But "while no policy change is as yet indicated, the news from southeast Asia has been so consistently bad that any new development is almost automatically considered as a change for the better," the firm adds.

BARNARD TO MOSCOW JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the South African heart-transplant surgeon, was flying to Moscow today at the invitation of Soviet transplant researcher Alexander Wisniewsky.
