Paris Students Seize School

PARIS (UPI) — Rebellious students seized Paris' Sorbonne University today as leftwing lawmakers moved to carry their fight against the government of President Charles de Gaulle into Parliament.

De Gaulle, who has publicly ignored the student-triggered riot, flew off to Communist Romania to seek prestige for France.

The students, including hippies, hoisted the red and black flags of revolution and anarchy over the campus of the Sorbonne. They painted Mao Tse-Tung slogans and such signs as "You have the right to smoke, especially pot (marijuana)." Students occupied classrooms and leaders called for the resignation of French Interior Minister Christian Fouchet and Paris Police Chief Maurice Grimaud because of "police brutality" during last week's riots.

Police were conspicuously absent on direct orders from Premier Georges Pompidou who had ordered the Sorbonne reopened to try to pacify the students.

In the National Assembly, Communist and fellow leftist deputies cited the student rebellion against government educational policies and the support it had won from major labor unions in drawing up a motion to censure the De Gaulle regime.

JC-Ettes, Warner Get Awards

The Pampa Jayceettes and a member of the Jaycees brought home top awards from last week's state Jaycee convention in Austin.

John W. Warner, club secretary, won the state Speakup Jaycee award and an all-expense paid trip to Phoenix, Ariz., in June to represent Texas in the national convention in the Speakup Jaycee competition.

Warner spoke on the subject, "Service to Humanity is the Best Work of Life." After the announcement of Warner's selection, he gave the talk to the 2,200 delegates at the convention and received a standing ovation.

The Jaycee club received recognition for its work on the Girls Town Annex, near Borger at the meeting.

The Jayceettes won outstanding club in their division, one of six divisions in the state. They brought home a first place award for their work in civic activities and two second place awards, in the categories of aid to Jaycees and other Jayceette activities.

City Okays Plans For Red Deer Creek Trail

The city commission today approved construction plans for a one and a quarter mile long trail along Red Deer Creek from Zimmers street west to Central Park at Duncan St.

Cost of paving the trail, a four foot wide strip of pathway for pedestrians, will be paid by the Gray-Pampa Foundation as a contribution to the city's park system. The foundation's contributions amount to $6,000 for supplying materials and the city will spend approximately $500 using city workmen on construction.

City Manager Charles Hill said it is hoped to complete the project in July. In addition to the asphalt paved path, three walk bridges will be built to take the trail across Red Deer Creek.

Mrs. Thelma Bray and D. W. Bond, members of the city's Park and Recreation Study Committee, thanked city officials and the Gray - Pampa Foundation for making the Park project possible.

In other business today the commission:

Accepted a low bid of $24,233.48 by the Ray-Boswell Construction Co. of Pampa for sealcoating city streets this summer. Approximately one-fifth of all streets in the city will be topped.

Awarded bids for the purchase of equipment for the city sanitation department as follows: International Harvester Co., two trucks, $22,224.46; five three-quarter ton pickup trucks, Cuberson-Stowers, $11,832.20, and two packer bodies and 130 containers, Pak Mor Mig. Co. $37,976 for a total of $72,026.66.

Opened bids on gasoline and oil purchases and for the purchase of water meters. Bids to be studied and contract awards made May 28.

Approved payment of general city bills for April in the amount of $35,379. Lovett Memorial Library bills totaling $704.18 and bond fund bills, $1,081.17.

CoC Approves Program To Attract Tourists

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce board of directors yesterday approved a tourist promotion program designed to attract more visitors to the Panhandle.

Theme of the pilot program is "In the Land of Coronado." Participating in the three-month effort will be these cities: Pampa, Borger, Herford, Stratford, Dumas, Dalhart, Canyon, Amarillo, Friona, Claude and Panhandle.

Total outlay for the program will amount to $5,500 and will include outdoor billboards and posters. Billboards will list attractions such as Palo Duro Canyon, Lake Meredith, Helium Monument, Panhandle Historic Museum, Boy' Ranch and Holly Sugar tours. Posters will be displayed in restaurants, service stations and motels throughout the Panhandle.

Pampa's share for the program will be $500.

"Because of Hemisfair, the Olympics and the Rotary International Convention, in Houston, 1968 will be a very good tourist year," Chamber manager E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth said. "Through this program we hope to emphasize points of interest that will attract more tourists and visitors to stay a while in the Panhandle."

In other business yesterday at the directors' meeting, President Harold Barrett gave a report on the U.S. 60 meeting held recently in Springfield, Ariz.; Bill Power, a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, gave a report on the recent convention of that group; and Dr. Harbord Cox, president of the Harvester Booster Club, gave a report on that organization.

JC's To Kick Off Light Bulb Sales

The annual Light Bulb Sale by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will get underway tonight at 6:30, club representatives said today.

Proceeds from the sale of light bulbs by the club go to finance the organization's civic activities in the community, they added.

The package of eight light bulbs, from 60 to 100 watts, costs $2. Driver representatives said the workers would be active in the sale from 6:30 to 8:30 on May 14, 15, 16, 21, 22, 23, 27, 28, 29 and June 4, 5 and 6.

Approved payment of $50 a (See CITY, Page 3)

Water Treatment Plant To Be Completed In Pampa By 1970

Plans call for the completion of Pampa's $750,000 water treatment plant in the spring of 1970 and the city should begin receiving water from Lake Meredith and the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority by the summer of 1970.

This was the word today from City Manager Charles Hill following a conference last weekend in Dallas with representatives of Forrest & Cotton, the city's consultants on the project.

The city manager said he was informed by Bill London of Forrest & Cotton that all plans and specifications for the water treatment plant should be completed by next fall and bidding on the project could be scheduled for January of 1969.

It's estimated, Hill stated, that construction probably could be started about a year from now in 1969 and be completed in about May of 1970.

"Pampa should be ready to receive water from the lake by July of 1970 if everything goes as expected," Hill said.

The water pipeline from the lake to Borger to Pampa's west city limits at Kentucky Ave., has been completed for more than a year and now awaits only completion of the treatment plant to receive the water.

The $750,000 project was authorized in a bond issue approved by Pampa voters in March of 1966.

'Tent City' Goes Up In Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The tent city participants in the poor people's march are erecting near the Lincoln Memorial here took on the appearance of an organized community today as the first contingent of demonstrators prepared to set up housekeeping.

The plywood and canvas shelters began going up Monday with a vow from the march leader the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, that "We will be here in Washington until the Congress and leaders of government decide they are going to do something about poverty, unemployment and underemployment in the United States." The 500 marchers in the vanguard, mostly from Mississippi, stayed overnight in accommodations provided by sympathetic local churches, organizations and individuals because facilities of their "Resurrection City, U.S.A." were not ready to use yet.

They were back at work this morning, hoping to complete electrical wiring, sanitation connections and other necessities so they could begin moving in later today.

More En Route
Other contingents meantime wended their way toward Washington from points South, West and Northeast. Some 3,000 members of the New England section neared Philadelphia today, and a 650-member western section swelled by recruitment in Detroit prepared to continue here by bus. Two southern contingents were underway in Mississippi and South Carolina. Current estimates put the total number of demonstrators expected here at 5,000, but the terms of the government permit for the tent city limit its size to 3,000. The overflow presumably will be accommodated by the same groups that helped out the early arrivals.

Abernathy, successor to the slain Martin Luther King Jr., as leader of the march of president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, set the tone for the demonstration Monday in ceremonies dedicating the camp.

With his voice frequently drowned out by jellibens taking off from Washington's National Airport, Abernathy declared "This is a nonviolent movement. We shall not destroy person or property." Demand Jobs, Wages

"But we cannot guarantee anything more," he said, "because we are going to plague the pharaohs of this country until we get meaningful jobs and a guaranteed annual wage."

Then, looking tired, Abernathy helped erect the first of the prefabricated plywood huts, hammering away while holding a handful of nails in his mouth. The Washington phase of the march got off to a smooth though delayed start, but trouble flared briefly in Detroit late Monday. Mounted police swinging night sticks rode into a part of the crowd when a scuffle broke out between police and several marchers after one of the parade cars broke down. There were no reported injuries, but Abernathy dispatched top aides for a full report on alleged "Detroit police errors of judgement and excesses" in the encounter.

Firemen Receive Color TV Sets

Pampa's three fire stations have each received color television sets from the Gray-Pampa and M. K. Brown Foundations.

Fire Chief F. E. Dyer issued the following note of thanks: "We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to the Gray-Pampa Foundation and the M. K. Brown Foundation and to each of you who was responsible for the wonderful thought."

"I am sure the firemen will have many hours of enjoyment from the sets in years to come and will think of these people every time they watch television."

U.S. Camp Overrun; Casualties Are High

SAIGON (UPI) — Allied troops killed almost 8,000 Communists in defeating the Reds' nationwide spring offensive, U.S. spokesmen said today. But the Communists overran a Green Beret special forces camp and shot down nine U.S. aircraft with extremely heavy loss of life.

A force of 6,000 Communists overran the Kham Duc Special Forces camp in the Central Highlands Sunday. Most of the dependents were evacuated in what the military called a "smashing victory" although five helicopters and four planes were downed by enemy gunfire.

Two of the planes were huge C130 transports and one of them was jammed with South Vietnamese irregulars and their families. All were killed. The exact loss was not announced but a C130 can carry 100 fully equipped soldiers — and far more women and children.

The loss would be one of the greatest plane crashes of the Vietnam War and among the big air disasters of all time. In addition 25 Americans were killed and 89 wounded. Communist losses were put at 300. Government casualties weren't reported.

The Communist casualties in the spring offensive—put at 7,934 by allied spokesmen, occurred mainly in the Saigon area where U.S. and South Vietnamese troops were still mopping up enemy holdouts. The offensive opened May 5 to bolster North Vietnam's position at the Paris talks.

Brig. Gen. Jacob Glick told newsmen at Da Nang that in addition to the 300 Communists killed in battle B52 bombers raked the enemy positions with seven deadly salvos, presumably killing more.

Down Nine Planes
Communist troops firing from only yards away knocked down four U.S. planes—two C130 transports, an A1E Skyraider bomber and a scout plane—and five helicopters. The Reds overran the outposts.

But led by an Australian officer and a U.S. Army colonel the allies rescued all the wounded men in camp before blowing up their gear and getting out—some by air and 102 by driving through Communist lines in the jungle.

Twenty-five Americans were killed. Military spokesmen said an "unknown" number of South Vietnamese were killed, mainly in a C130 crash.

Most of the Communists killed in the drive that opened May 5 fell in and around Saigon where U.S. and allied troops continued mopping up operations.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said their forces suffered 918 men killed and 2,563 wounded, plus 140 men missing in the nationwide fighting. It was the heaviest battling and the greatest Communist casualty toll since the Viet Cong's February attacks against the cities.

Report American Dead

American casualties were not yet totaled for the 10 days' fighting. But in the Saigon area 76 U.S. servicemen have been reported killed.

Captured Communist documents and some of the hundreds of captive Viet Cong and North Vietnamese said Hanoi ordered the nationwide offensive May 5 in hopes of strengthening the bargaining hand of their negotiator in Paris, Gen. Xuan Thuy.

In five all four sides of Saigon U.S. spokesmen said 216 Communists were

They said allied forces have captured 409 of the Communists' powerful 122mm rockets partly blunting the Red offensive.

Talks To Resume Tomorrow

By JACK WALSH

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman today conferred with aides and consulted the White House in preparing for another Vietnam peace meeting with North Vietnam negotiator Xuan Thuy. They opened full dress talks Monday and will meet again Wednesday. Harriman was hopeful Hanoi eventually would find merit in a new American plan to de-escalate the Vietnam war.

The plan presented Monday calls for restoring a true demilitarized zone in Vietnam plus a mutual pullback of opposing forces as "a step toward broader measures of de-escalation."

Today's recess gave Harriman and Thuy time to digest each other's opening statement. While Harriman was in touch with Washington, Thuy undoubtedly was consulting his superiors in Hanoi.

U.S. delegates put under "microscopic" study Thuy's opening speech to find some evidence of "give." Thuy mainly restated the familiar Communist condemnation of U.S. policy and action.

So far no "give" has been found, U.S. sources said. As before Hanoi says Americans must stop all bombing of North Vietnam with no return gesture from the Communists. Thuy's argument that his coming here was concession enough.

American officials said they are hopeful that once the talks here pass through a propaganda period—if they do—Thuy in private will give serious evidence of how Hanoi might like to go about fruitful peace bargaining.

Several more rounds of propaganda were in the offing. Both sides gave evidence of wanting to make a public case before getting down to serious negotiations in private. Untouched at the moment was the immediate and critical point in the talks here—how to dampen the flames of war in Vietnam to create an atmosphere in which a peace conference can be held.

Meany, Reuther 'Divorce' Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The AFL-CIO and Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers Union appear headed for divorce, finally, after 13 stormy years together.

Unless the 1.6-million-member UAW pays three months' back dues by the close of "business" Wednesday—and this rates as quite unlikely—the separation will be automatic.

This was the ruling Monday of the Federation's executive council, climaxing a long and bitter feud between Reuther and AFL-CIO President George Meany, two giants of the 20th Century labor movement.

Heart Transplant Raises Delicate Legal Question About Murder Case

HOUSTON (UPI)—The donation of Clarence Nicks' heart for use in a transplant operation may raise the delicate legal question of whether 100 per cent of a person has to be dead for him to be a murder victim.

The heart of Nicks, 36, was transplanted into the chest of John Stuckwish, 62, of Alpine, Tex.

Stuckwish's condition has improved from "grave" to "serious" since the transplant last Tuesday.

Robert Damon Patterson, 19, a longshoreman, has been charged with murdering Nicks by hitting him on the head April 23 with a garbage can.

The legal question has not arisen yet, but if Patterson is brought to trial, his lawyers might contend that all of Nicks is not dead, since his heart beats on in Stuckwish's chest—if Stuckwish makes it.

The legal question of using the hearts and other vital organs of felons in transplants is one that has disturbed Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk, the Harris County medical examiner.

Just before the Nicks-Stuckwish transplant, the medical team at St. Luke's Hospital asked Dr. Jachimczyk for his approval of the operation.

Dr. Jachimczyk said the answer to Cooley, in charge of the team, that under the law he could not give approval, but he assured Dr. Cooley he would not press charges against him.

Under present law, doctors must report certain types of death, including suspected murder, to the medical examiner's office.

"The law says this must be done immediately," Dr. Jachimczyk said. "It does not state what 'immediately' is."

The question of exactly when a donor is dead has arisen and

Dr. Jachimczyk said the answer is simple: "Death occurs when an attending physician says a person is dead."

He said donating an organ from a murder victim for a transplant also may raise the question of whether evidence is destroyed.

"One difficulty is examining a body without a vital organ," he said. "Perhaps homicide victims will be excluded as transplant donors."

"We want to do this in such a way that it is legal, moral and ethical. The law was not written with transplants in mind. We want to work it out so that it is satisfactory to all. The law sometimes doesn't make this possible."

"Since there is no precedent for such a question, all we can do is discuss," he said.

ble who nyou come to the classes.

SWIM LESSONS — Now that the warm weather has set in the swim program has really picked up. Mothers' thoughts are turning to swim lessons for the children. If this is your thought, now is the time to enroll your children. Classes are filling to capacity at a very fast pace.

The full Red Cross Swim Program is offered so there is a class for everyone. These classes, in order of attainment, are Pre-Beginner, Beginner, Advanced Beginner, Intermediate, Swimmers, Jr. and Sr. Lifesaving. Each session meets for 10 days and is taught by a very qualified and capable Water Safety Instructor, Jackie Marlar. At present classes meet from 4-5 and 5-6 p.m. When school vacation comes classes will meet in the mornings. All classes are free to Center members and $4 to non-members.

FUN NIGHT — The Center has currently changed its activities on Friday night from a dance night to a Fun Night. On Fridays from 7-10 p.m. the Center is open for fun and recreation. Activities such as swimming, basketball, volleyball, ping pong, pool, shuffleboard, trampolining, tumbling, etc., are available. A juke box is also available and a record player if you want to bring your favorite records. A coke and candy room for refreshments is available.

This Friday night Fun Night would be a good time for home-room classes at schools, Sunday School classes from the various churches, clubs and other group organizations to come as a big group and enjoy a night of recreation. The admission is only 50 cents for non-members, free to Center members and sponsors are admitted free.

MEMBERSHIPS — The Center is operated on a membership plan and is not like most Youth Centers in that it is a private non-profit organization. There is no tax money that goes into the Center. All operations are supported by donations from individuals and other businesses or organizations which allows people to purchase memberships at a cost far below actual value.

The Center offers two types of memberships. One, the individual membership, which is for persons 8 years of age or older including adults. This sells for $5 for six months and $8 per year. The reason for the lower age limit is that we do not allow children under 8 years of age in our swimming pool unless they have a chaperon. The other membership is the family one. This membership when purchased includes all members of the immediate family and sells for $12 for six months and $20 per year.

To purchase any of these membership plans you simply come by the Center, proceed to the receptionist desk, pay your dues and cards are issued. Everyone is welcome.

RED CROSS SWIM PROGRAM — The annual Red Cross learn to swim program, sponsored by the Pampa Chapter under the guidance of Mrs. Libby Shotwell will be held June 17-July 26 this year. Sessions will be June 17-28, July 1-13 and July 15-26. Classes will be offered from 9-10 and 10-11 a.m. Enrollment will be on May 16 at 1 p.m.

WOMEN'S SWIM TIME — The Center is currently sponsoring a women's swim and exercise time. On Monday and Fridays from 9:30 to 11:30 the pool and gym is given over to the women to participate in an exercise class and an informal swim period. Exercising is from 9:30 to 10 and swimming from 10 to 11:30. You may take part in both or either of these classes. Participation is by membership only with memberships available who nyou come to the classes. The candidates were asked to stand and be welcomed into the National Honor Society and charged to keep and guard the honor carefully.

Paris

Students and workers camped inside the university demanded an hour's time on French television or they threatened in a communique—they would seize and sabotage the government-owned Paris station.

Dazzled with the success of their march through Paris Monday, thousands of students demanded sweeping education reforms.

They draped their banners over the busts of such bygone Frenchmen as Victor Hugo, painted the 700-year-old university's walls with such slogans as "Down with bourgeois culture" and policed their own campus in the place of gendarmes ordered out of the Latin Quarter district by De Gaulle's government.

At the Sorbonne gates students checked the identity of their colleagues. Otherwise, one explained, "cops and fascists might get in."

Some students demanded an end to all examinations. Others formed mass debates over what to do with their success in getting 800,000 Frenchmen—Their figure—to join their Paris Parade.

The debate theme was "a new university in a new society." The argument was what course to take.

The students' moment of glory followed last week's street battles with police in which more than 1,500 persons were injured. The trouble stemmed from festering student discontent and spread to other campus cities. At least 50 persons were injured in police fights Monday in Mantes, Le Mans and other places.

Teachers Threaten Not To Renew Their Contracts At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—The South San Antonio School District board met Monday night but failed to take up the threat of 273 of the district's 306 teachers not to renew their contracts unless two administrators are rehired.

The board discussed the hiring of a lawyer to represent the district in a case brought by a contractor.

But after the meeting ended, a woman stepped up to board president Max Fuentes and told him some parents had come to ask what the teacher situation was in the district.

Fuentes said the board was trying to solve the problem. The woman went on to say that the people had tried to let the board know in many cases what they thought.

"Anyone can make a mistake. We want you to admit you made one," she said.

"Are you trying to take the position that the teachers dictate to the board?" Fuentes asked. "If so, then the board is a farce."

The board has refused to renew the contracts of two administrators and to elevate a coach to athletic director.

The Texas State Teachers Association announced in Austin Monday that it intends to "apply sanctions" in the case unless it is resolved to the TSTA's satisfaction.

Hospitals Aid Medicare, SS Officer Says

Noting that May 12-18 is National Hospital Week, Howard Weatherly, social security officer-in-charge at Pampa, said today that hospitals in the Eastern Panhandle area and all across the nation have contributed significantly to the success of the Medicare program.

In the first 21 months since the program began operation in July 1966, Weatherly stated, there were 9.2 million admissions to hospitals covered by Medicare. Payments under the hospital insurance part of the program have totaled $5.2 billion of which over 90 percent was paid to hospitals for in-patient care furnished persons 65 and over.

For 19½ million elderly Americans," Weatherly said, "Medicare has largely removed the major financial threat of illness. And since patients 65 and over can now pay their own way, hospitals no longer have to bear the financial losses of caring for aged charity patients."

Parking Meter Posts Are Being Cut Down

Approximately 1,000 cast iron posts left standing when Pampa's downtown parking meters were removed last year now are going the way of the meters.

City workmen started Sunday night cutting the posts off at the base with acetylene torches.

Public Works Director R. B. Cooke said today one or two posts would be left in each block to carry signs designating the time limit on parking.

A courtesy box post also will be left in each block where violators may deposit penalty fees for overparking.

Since the meter boxes were removed violations have been checked with chalk marks on vehicle tires.

DIRECT ACTION
ABINGDON, England (UPI)—Ted Turner, 46, was fined $24 Monday for chopping the arm off a one-armed bandit.

Turner said he became fed up after feeding $2.40 into a slot machine and getting six little discs worth a total of 18 cents in return. Without a word he left the pub, returned with an ax and demolished the slot machine.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The Missouri Historical Society said Monday its collection of fashions dating back to the 18th Century is fairly complete, but it has nothing "from 1950 on."

ALL HEART
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Traffic engineer M. Bruening Monday ordered an auxiliary traffic light installed after a robin made its nest in an east side traffic light.

Bruening did the same thing, probably for the same robin, last year.

"Nothing beats being for God, country and motherhood," he said.

The English romantic poet, Percy Bysshe Shelley, drowned at the age of 30 on July 8, 1822, when his small boat, the "Don Juan," capsized in turbulent waters off the Tuscan coast of Italy.

FDA Cautions Against Use Of Antibiotic Drug
WASHINGTON (UPI) The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) issued a new notice today cautioning doctors against indiscriminate use of the antibiotic Chloramphenicol, found in some cases to cause fatal blood diseases such as leukemia and aplastic anemia.
The new warning suggested that patients treated with the drug be hospitalized so that adequate blood studies may be made during treatment.
It advised against use of the drug in pregnancy and lactation and added leukemia to the previously listed adverse reactions in the blood disease area.
The letter to the nation's 306,000 physicians and hospital administrators included the estimate that the risk of fatal aplastic anemia—a blood disorder—from use of the drug was estimated at one in 24,200 to one in 40,500 patients, based on two dosage levels.
The estimated risk was based on a 1967 report by the California Medical Association and State Department of Public Health.

By Carroll Righter

For Wednesday, May 15
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Discouraging your future new ideas long with attracting personalities who are very modern in their ideas and their modes of expression is very good now. But it is equally adverse for you to attach yourself to those who are formal and conventional and whose perspective is limited.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A kind manner and word to those who ask you for aid will be sufficient to give them a spiritual lift to carry on valiantly. Seek out that expert in business and garner information you want. Use it wisely.
Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Others will gladly cooperate with you in your plans provided you state specifically what you want to do. Stop arguing so much. Take time for some dancing little evening and relieve tensions.
CRAB (May 21 to June 21): Do nothing that will spoil your reputation today; be modest. Go to that highest and what your aims in a very confidential way. Gain the support and advice you want in a relatively short time.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Getting that information you need from those whose background has been different to your own is your best bet today. Take the time to look into a new outlet that adds to your creative growth. Be clever.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23): Try a new slant at attacking those government, how-tos, personal problems. Show mate that you are indeed affectionate though you may be somewhat brusque at times. Buy that outfit that will please.
Virgo (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Showing sincerity in your association with partners requires more cooperation. If some tense moments arise, take them in your stride. Don't make a big to-do about a small matter. Be wise.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Keeping

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Whenever we need a baby-sitter, I ask a 16-year-old girl who lives in our block. My problem is the way she acts around my husband. Abby, this girl is big for her age and she is just as developed (Physically) as I am. She likes to run her fingers through his hair and wrestle with him. I've told my husband that I don't think he ought to let her get so familiar with him as it only encourages the child.

DEAR ABBY: About those husbands who can't understand why their wives don't wear sheer, sexy nightgowns to bed; I don't know what other wives look like in flimsy, revealing nightgowns. But I do know what I looked like for about 2 years after my second baby, and it wasn't anything I wanted to show off in a sexy nightgown.

I love my husband very much, and would love to be a pin-up girl for him, but if your liabilities exceed your assets, you are better off in a flannel. Sign me.

DEAR UPSET: Getting another sitter won't help because she is only half your problem. The other half is your husband. First, tell the "child" in a motherly way that it isn't nice for young ladies to engage in horseplay with men, so please to keep her hands off your mister. Then tell your mister to see to it that she does.

DEAR ABBY: What kind of a husband would encourage his wife to line herself up with dates with other men while he is out of town?

DEAR NOSY: One with a guilty conscience.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon, and am now planning my wedding. My fiancé has a 29-year-old sister, who lives about 800 miles from here. She is married and has two children. Should I ask her to be a bridesmaid?

They are not very well off financially, and I am afraid the cost of the trip plus the gown might be a strain on them. But then, if I don't ask her, maybe she will be hurt.

I can't very well ask her if she can afford to come and be a bridesmaid because even if she can't, she might be ashamed to admit it, and borrow the money or something. I have never discussed this with her as I hardly know her. My fiancé is as confused as I am and we have no one else to ask. Also,

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: Rather than hurting her feelings, ask her, and let her decide whether she is able to accept. Bridesmaids are usually very close friends of the bride. Matron of honor (if you have no one closer to honor) would be a more appropriate role for your husband's 29-year-old married sister, should she be in the wedding party.

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: Refreshments of cake, coffee, tea and jello were served to the following: Mmes. J. C. Payne, Lester Reynolds, Boyd Brown, N. B. Cude, John A. King, John T. King, Ray Robertson, O. G. Smith, W. G. Kinzer and Nellie Kitchens, a visitor.

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: You would be wise to quit bugging your "wonderful" husband. He's right. He has done nothing to encourage her, and by ignoring her he is discouraging her in the best possible way. His old girl friend probably never enters his mind—until YOU bring her up.

STILL DIETING

Worthwhile Club Hears Program On 'Decapoge'

The Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Pearl Ferguson, 939 S. Love.

The meeting opened with Mrs. N. B. Cude, president, presiding.

Mrs. C. B. Rogers gave the program on "Decapoge." She stated "the board should be beat up to make it look rough and the stain should be put on before the picture is pasted on. It should be torn or burned on the edges to make it look rough, then it should be shellacked. It can be clear varnished or clear plastic can be used. As high as 18 coats of varnish can be put on."

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Eoyd Brown, 12 miles east of town, with "Jelly making" to be the program.

Refreshments of cake, coffee, tea and jello were served to the following: Mmes. J. C. Payne, Lester Reynolds, Boyd Brown, N. B. Cude, John A. King, John T. King, Ray Robertson, O. G. Smith, W. G. Kinzer and Nellie Kitchens, a visitor.

Miss Wainscott Is Merton H D Club Guest Speaker

The Merton Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Ed Wylie. Mrs. N. A. Briden, president, presided.

Mrs. Wylie was elected delegate to the state convention to be held in McAllen in September.

Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County Home Agent, demonstrated home canning and freezing. She told how to can strawberries in jars, also how to quick freeze squash. Miss Wainscott said, "be sure and get tender vegetables when freezing. She also advised to leave an inch from the top of a glass container for expansion when freezing." Miss Wainscott stated "to keep your pressure canner in safe working order, you should take off removable petcocks and safety valves and wash and dry thoroughly after each use. Occasionally soak the parts in vinegar to remove any corrosion and to have the master gauge tested at least once a year. You can use the "Pack Hot," "Pack Raw" and "Steam or One Step Cold Pack," in home canning.

In freezing your fruits and vegetables, be sure and put them in the freezer as soon as you have a few packages ready. That's the way to prevent some of the juices from draining. You can use ascorbic acid, (vitamin C) to prevent discoloration in some fruits.

The following members were present: Mmes. C. J. Bryan, Tony Smith, Gretchen Templin, Audra Sanford, V. Smith, Clyde Gray, G. B. Hogan, Ed Wylie, N. A. Briden, David Rife, Chester Williams, Lazetta Grants, T. G. Groves and Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, the guest.

The serving table was draped with a cloth of floral design in pastel colors. The centerpiece was a floral arrangement. Milk-glass appointments completed the setting. Refreshments of punch, cookies, nuts and mints were served.

Approximately 100 guests attended or sent gifts.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Miss Janie Gee captivated a big MGM dinner gathering in Beverly Hills with her singing.
 On May 22, Miss Janie Gee will open in the main room of the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas with NBC-TV's Danny Thomas. The next night she will appear on the television show of the same network's Dean Martin.
 Miss Janie Gee is 10 years old.
 And the story of her career thus far is colorful and eye-opening even by Hollywood standards.

Pilot Discovers Talent
 The most important person to her success, for instance, is a former pilot who flew for an American civilian operation in Vietnam, and had nothing to do with show business until he heard Janie sing in a Saigon club one night.

"I was in this theatre-restaurant," says the ex-pilot, Lou Testa, who now is Janie's business manager. "She was seven years old then. I heard her sing and I blew my mind. Her name then was Baby Jane. She had on a white ballerina-style dress. And she sang songs like 'What Now, My Love' and 'From Here to Eternity' and 'Rock and Roll. I talked to her mother right away.'"

And since then, Janie's future has been his concern.
 "I found out," he said, "that she had been working since she was four. When she was four, she entered a singing contest in Manila (she is from the Philippines) and won it."
 "After that, she was picked up by radio and television. When she was five, offers started coming in, and she began touring."

Comes to U.S.
 Last August, in a Saigon hotel room, with a Vietnamese band, he had Janie cut a tape of her music. He took it home, listened and decided she was ready for the United States. He quit his job and brought her over in September.

Testa got to Hollywood about a week before Janie and her mother, and, as he says, "I knew nobody in this town." But he met a few people—and he sent copies of the tape around.

A noted arranger, Don Costa, was impressed. So were some agents. And so was Greg Garrison, who put on the Dean Martin NBC-TV series.

"She was immediately booked for two shows," says Testa. Both of the shows aired during the past season, and the May 23 outing with Martin is a rerun of one of them.

Janie also did a guest shot for CBS-TV's 'Dm de Luise summer show after she was seen on the Martin series. And she has appeared on various other programs, such as Art Linkletter's and Woody Woodbury's.

Opens With Thomas
 Through a mutual friend, says Testa, Danny Thomas also heard about Janie, listened to the tape—and quickly confirmed the arrangement to have her open at the Sands Hotel with him.

Things are moving for Janie. She is set for an upcoming show of ABC-TV's "Operation: Entertainment" series. And anyone who saw her turn on the MGM crowd Saturday night knows why.
 She wore a short orange dress and white boots and looked like a picture with her long dark hair hanging down. She moved around the large stage with the poise and presence of a veteran entertainer. Her voice still has some of the strains you would expect from a 10-year-old, but she has the know-how to play to her strength and score with the big, crowd-pleasing notes.

She sang "The Impossible Dream" and there were bursts of applause even before she finished. She sang other songs and held the audience in the palm of her hand. She gave 100 per cent, and the crowd knew it and loved it. The thing about Miss Janie Gee, 10 years old, is that she is an old pro.

NEW YORK—Pollster Louis Harris, on a network television show, speaking of the popularity of presidential candidates:
 "The one candidate who seems to have slipped in the past two or three weeks is Sen. (Robert) Kennedy, who seems to lose to both (Richard) Nixon and to (Gov. Nelson) Rockefeller."

Washington Window

By FRANK ELEAZER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—House members are in print with their latest semiannual confession on how they spent $9 million. It won't prove much one way or another about their claim they are painfully honest.

That is too bad, because any unfettered report of how congressmen disperse their petty cash would undoubtedly show that the chiselers among them are really few, if in fact there are any at all.

The book is published by the Government Printing Office. It is free, and is not likely to become a best seller even at that price. It is entitled "Detailed Statement of Disbursements, July 1 to Dec. 31, 1967," and if the text came near supporting the title, reader demand might be greater.

Unnamed Members
 Typically we are told that an unspecified number of unnamed members or staffers of the committee on Interior and Insular Affairs went somewhere to investigate something Aug. 14, 15 and 16. Tickets on American Airlines came to $1,003.15.

Likewise, Northwest Airlines hauled Public Works Committee members and staffers to or from points unspecified (for purposes not divulged) at a cost of $1,247. In this case, too, the other detail disclosed was "the date, Aug. 30-Sept. 2."

At scattered, uncategorized points in the book may be found, it is true, reports of individual members on the per diem and other expenses they drew for making such trips. So in some cases it can be determined, by a good accountant with plenty of time, who spent how much going where and for what.

Without benefit of index or other guideposts we learn that Anthony J. Furka, a United States Marshal, was paid $5.84 to serve four subpoenas for the Banking Committee; that pistols and blackjacks for Capitol police cost $2,100; that the House ice bill for July came to $364.60; and that somebody bought two quarts of Gulf oil for $1.55.

Busy in Florida
 The committee on Un-American Activities spent $27 to rent post office boxes and $13.35 to get the combination changed on a security desk. Robert C. Graff, staff member for the Post Office Committee, was busy in Key West, Fla., Nov. 11-25, and spent $375. This book (and a similar, slightly more helpful version put out by the Senate) is the latest in a series growing out of an attack of conscience suffered by congressmen eight years ago when it was alleged that some members were abusing official accounts.

Members concluded then that outlays of tax money by congressmen, for whatever purpose, were matters of public interest. They wrote a law that said so and ordered all expense accounts published.

In fairness, most major congressional outlays for such things as clerk hire either already were, or since have been made, matters of public record, and no quibbling about it.

But somewhere along the line those charged with this new publication got the idea nobody cared except nosy newspapermen, and everybody knew you couldn't satisfy them. The result is a twice-yearly listing of vouchers, with only rudimentary grouping, no index, mostly filed in chronological order, and frequently lacking the detail sure to be sought by the serious expense account student.

So if you want to know what your congressmen spent from the so-called contingent fund of the House, write him for your free copy (him, not me, I repeat) and then settle down for some serious study.

FOREIGN NEWS COMMENTARY Poland Fears Changes

By HAROLD MARTIN
WARSAW (UPI)—Poland has viewed changes in Czechoslovakia with open apprehension, perhaps because more than any nation in the socialist bloc she has the most to fear from them.

During student demonstrations against the Polish cultural policy last March, one of the slogans was "All of Poland is waiting for its Dubcek." Alexander Dubcek is the new liberal Communist leader in Czechoslovakia.

There have been strong currents of dissatisfaction and envy running through Poland since Czechoslovakia began pursuing her independent road.

Many political analysts feel that fear of a Czechoslovak type upheaval in Poland has been the catalyst that brought on the Polish purge, in which more than 100 persons have lost their jobs or been expelled from the party.

Poland has openly expressed in the press her concern about "anti-socialist" trends in the Czechoslovakian changes. More particularly she has been annoyed by the freedom given to the Czech press during the changes.

The Czechs have felt at liberty to criticize "police brutality" during March student demonstrations and of "anti-semitism" and trying to strange progressive thinkers during Poland's subsequent purge.

Rare Protest
 Such rarely heard criticism in the Communist world brought an even rarer note of protest from the Polish government last week.

Czechs and Poles, despite proximity, or perhaps because of it, have never been too close friends.

The Polish opinion of Czech wartime resistance against the Germans—an important point for Poles—falls far short of admiration.

But even more important than traditional differences is the Polish recent leadership's devotion to socialist solidarity and friendship with the Soviet Union.

This is something she sees crumbling south of her borders and it frightens her Communist leaders.

New Plan Assures Blood To Meet Need

DALLAS (UPI) — A security plan under which the Wadley Institutes of Molecular Medicine guarantee a member as much blood as he needs has signed up 6,000 members in the past year and the men who run the plan expect 100,000 members in the next few years.

To become a member, a person pays a $2 fee to join and $1 a year thereafter. He also agrees to provide one pint of medically acceptable blood every three years or pay $30 every three years if unable to provide the blood.

The blood security plan was started in Delaware six or seven years ago. Dr. J. M. Hill, executive director of the Wadley Institutes, sent a man to study the plan and in 1964 put it into effect in Dallas.

Enrollments Gain
 For the first years of the plan, recruits were obtained through persons who voluntarily contributed blood. A year ago, Dr. Hill and his son Norwood, director of Wadley's blood bank division, started promoting the plan and enrollment rapidly increased.

The 6,000 added in the past year make a total of about 30,000 persons now in the plan. Wadley's procedures may be a little different from other blood banks in that information

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of slain civil rights leader, addressing a rally of demonstrators who are trying to impress upon Congress the need for legislation to help the poor:

"I must remind you that starving a child is violence. Suppressing a culture is violence. Neglecting school children is violence. Punishing a mother and her family is violence."

ELEANOR PARKER RETURNS IN "Wylie"
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Eleanor Parker returns to movies to co-star with Michael Sarrazin and Gayle Hunnicutt in "Wylie" at Universal.

about each member is computerized and the computer automatically decides when a member is called in for a blood donation, on the basis of blood type and how much blood is needed in a given time.

Dr. Norwood Hill said that because of the computer, dues can be kept at $1 a year.

Big Guarantee
 "The plan guarantees a member even thousands of pints of blood if he bleeds that much," Dr. Norwood Hill said.

The Wadley bank supplied between 1,500 and 2,000 pints of blood and various parts of blood several years ago for a boy whose blood refused to clot. "That boy was not in the plan," Dr. J. M. Hill said. "He would have been if his father had joined before he was born."

The plan does not now accept "bleeders," but the Dr. Hill believe they can take all types of patients if enrollment reaches the 100,000 mark they expect.

Small Number Donate
 Dr. J. M. Hill said that about 3 per cent of the population donates blood without being encouraged.

"I think they are motivated by altruistic motives. They just want to help," Dr. Norwood Hill said.

Around Christmas, 1967, Wadley and blood banks throughout the state ran short of blood. There was an influenza epidemic, it was the holiday season and there were ice storms.

For the first time in five years, Wadley had to make a public appeal for blood. The Dr. Hill said that when the circumstances that caused the shortage ended, the shortage ended and that banks over the state have an adequate supply now.

If you don't want to pay the price of America's roomiest car try the second roomiest:

a new Chevrolet like this

If things like head, shoulder and leg room are important to you, take a close look at the new Chevrolet. Automotive News did—and its 1968 Roominess Index shows Chevrolet is the second most spacious of all American sedans. The roomiest? That distinction, we're not at all embarrassed to admit, goes to America's most popular luxury car. Based on the Roominess Index, which totals seven key interior dimensions to the fraction of an inch, Chevrolet's 4-door sedan scored 290.7. A tenth of a point behind the 4-door luxury model. A pretty good showing when you consider how much more the expensive models sell for. And some of the other cars Chevrolet topped carry just as impressive price tags. But that's just a sample of the pluses you get at a Chevrolet price. You'll find a lot more of them in the things Chevrolet has designed around all that space.

Cards Edge Pirates

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Jim Bunning spent all winter thinking positive thoughts about pitching for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bunning, traded from the Philadelphia Phillies to the Pittsburgh Pirates on Dec. 16, kept thinking about all those Pirate hitters—Clemente, Stargell, Clendenon, Alou, Mota, Mazeroski, Willis.

After losing five 1-0 games last season at Philadelphia, he thought he'd have better support this season.

Which just goes to show you that positive thinking can be overrated.

He's living through last season again. Bunning lost his second 1-0 game of the season Monday night when Nelson Briles pitched a four-hitter to COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Tailback Larry Stegent and fullback Wendell Housley scored two touchdowns each to lead the Maroons to a 42-7 win over the Whites in a Texas A&M spring football scrimmage Monday.

Edd Hargett passed 31 yards to wingback Barney Harris and reserve tailback Johnny Weaver raced 28 yards to account for the other two Maroon touchdowns. Charlie Riggs had a perfect 6-for-6 in the extra-point department.

The Whites tallied when quarterback Robert Stansberry raced around end for three yards on a keeper. Mike Kearney booted the extra point. Coach Gene Stallings afterwards said he thought the defense was "slow about getting started" and the offense "moved the football well."

Harvester Club Will Discuss Spring Football Progress Here

By WES DUMONT
Daily News Sports Editor

Spring football training progress will be the prime topic of discussion when the Harvester Club meets at the high school cafeteria Tuesday night. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 tonight.

Football practice, under athletic director and head football coach Swede Lee and his staff, began Monday, April 29, and will climax with the playing of an intra-squad football contest this Saturday night. Game time is 7:30.

Football fans are welcome to attend the scrimmage Saturday night and no admission will be charged. However, those football fans wishing to join the Harvester club may buy a membership card at the game. All football coaches will be at the meeting tonight. They are Swede Lee, head coach, and football assistants Bob McAllister, Marvin Lay, Ed Lehnick, Bob Stephens and E. C. Jenkins, all high school coaches.

Junior high coaches Marvin Bowman, Lee school, Harold Moore, Pampa junior high school and Jack Norrels, assistant at Pampa Junior High school, will also be in attendance to get acquainted with parents of boys playing at the junior high level.

A prime function of the meeting tonight is to appoint various committees for the club and discuss the membership drive. A goal of 1,000 memberships has been set for this year as the total membership for the Harvester Club.

Lee reports that the squad worked indoors three days last week because of the rainy weather. "We're definitely going outdoors today, the personable Lee said. The squad worked outside Monday afternoon. Only three days remained until the climax of spring football the intra-squad game. Lee said he would not use a specific defensive and offensive team but shuffle players in and out, using some on both offense and defense.

Lee also announced the postponement of a scheduled Shockers sophomore squad scrimmage until Saturday afternoon at 2. The scrimmage had originally been set for Thursday afternoon.

High school fans interested in boosting the athletic program at Pampa high school may purchase Harvester club memberships from Ray Thompson, R. Thompson parts and Supply, or buy them at Saturday's intra-squad game, it was learned from Lee.

Colonial Loses Big Name Stars

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Eight more golfers joined the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament list Monday as four more contestants withdrew from the tournament which begins Thursday.

The last-minute withdrawals came close on the heels of earlier regrets sent in by some of the tournament's biggest attractions—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Ben Hogan and Tom Weiskopf.

Chi Chi Rodriguez, who reported he hurt his hand in the New Orleans Open last Friday, Doug Ford, Rod Funseth and Mason Rudolph were the latest to beg off from the $125,000 affair.

Named to fill the vacancies were Larry Mowry, Rocky Thompson, Don Cherry, Billy Martindale, Jerry Edwards, John Schlee, Bert Weaver and Chris Blocker.

Palmer and Hogan withdrew because of long-standing injuries, while Weiskopf, the tour's leading money winner, had to bow out because of a date with his Ohio draft board. Nicklaus rejected a bid because he said Colonial was not his kind of course.

Pampa-Palo Duro Game Siated Today

Senior Dick Henley was slated to hurl for the Pampa high school baseball team when the Harvesters met Palo Duro at Amarillo this afternoon. Game time was to be at 4 p.m.

The lineup for Pampa was scheduled to remain the same as last game, although the positions will be changed somewhat with Hal Clabaugh moving to left field and Henley changing from the outfield to the pitcher's mound. The batting order may be changed some, baseball coach Bobby Stephens said.

Three seniors—Larry Turcotte, Steve Summers and Dick Henley—were scheduled to play their final two baseball games this week at Amarillo.

WOODARD, the southpaw pitching sensation for the Pampa Harvesters early in the season, will journey to Houston to play legion baseball this summer.

Woodard, after blanking Monterey, 5-0, early in the season developed arm trouble and was advised not to pitch for the

Driven To Drink

A lot of Americans drink liquor. We're willing to leave it to the psychologists, psychiatrists and sociologists to debate why we're prepared, however, to tell you when Americans drink liquor, and it's a fascinating fact, this matter of when.

First, you should understand that the statistics show that the average drinker consumes about 14 quarts of liquor in a year. Taking a few parties into account—such as New Year's an anniversary or two and maybe a going away or a coming home happening—that leaves a moderate amount of something like 4 drinks a week to ease the pain of taxes, spading the garden or painting the ceiling. That's the average.

How does that average balance out, year after year, since Prohibition was repealed? The record shows a remarkable consistency. In the first two years after prohibition the average adult intake was rather low, there wasn't much liquor available in 1934 and 1935, through legal and record-keeping sources at least. But from 1936 through 1940, the average adult held very close to the aforementioned average. The same was true for the period from 1948 to 1961. The average held firm. There was a pattern which may be considered "normal" consumption.

The years of the Second World War were very difficult, however. In those years the average amount consumed per adult rose far out of line with any previous experience. The war separated families, dislocated lives, brought about serious problems of readjustment in jobs, put woman to work and made the future of all Americans uncertain. The tensions brought about by uprooting, separation and uncertainty were painful. It appears that an extra drink or two helped some to relax or even forget the pain for a little time.

And by now you're asking, what about 1962 to the present. We have figures only to 1966. But there has been a rise in the rate of liquor consumption which is only comparable, since Repeal, to the years of the Second World War. As we moved toward the New Frontier and entered the Great Society, Americans took to drink.

Did adult America move into this era in happy anticipation? Was the character of our national leadership such as to give Americans confidence in a joyful future? Have these recent years really been years of normal adjustment? Clearly not.

The record is that the New Frontier and the Great Society have driven many, many Americans to drink. Those people who have been saying the Government was driving them to drink really meant it.

Oil Output Skidding

The cutoff of oil supplies from the Middle East as a consequence of the Arab-Israeli war last summer was a warning of the danger that could face the United States should it become too dependent on foreign sources for its petroleum. This view was expressed by Frank N. Icard, president of the American Petroleum Institute, who also noted that domestic exploratory drilling had dropped sharply in recent years, despite government estimates that domestic petroleum needs in the next 12 years will almost equal total consumption over the last century.

His statement came on the heels of the institute's annual report which shows that U. S. proved reserves of crude oil dropped to 31.3 billion barrels at the beginning of 1968. This was a decline of 75 million barrels from a year ago and the fourth such annual drop in the last eight years.

A big factor has been the cost-price squeeze that has caught domestic producers. While expenses have been rising sharply, the average price realized by producers for their oil dropped from $3.09 a barrel in 1957 to $2.91 in 1967.

There are still ample quantities of undiscovered oil in this country, according to U. S. Geological Survey studies.

"The Challenge," says Icard, "is finding this oil in the face of very stiff odds. Of every 100 wells drilled in search of new petroleum fields, only two or three make commercially profitable discoveries."

Echo I Flutters on Last Wings

Scientists don't know whether it will end with a whiff! in a streak of flames across the sky or a plait: as it flutters to earth like an old rag, but they do know that Echo I's days are numbered.

The first satellite the more fitting one for the 100-foot aluminum-coated balloon that was launched Aug. 12, 1960, as a passive communications satellite to bounce television signals across the Atlantic. Echo I was the first satellite that could easily be seen with the naked eye, and people used to wait for its passage every night following the daily schedules printed in the newspapers. It was later joined by the large Echo II.

The Echoes have long since been eclipsed by more sophisticated communications satellites like Telstar and Syncom, which have made "Live" from Europe via satellite" programs a routine event.

Echo I has begun dipping deeper into the atmosphere. We hope that when the battered, punctured satellite does fall to earth, it will do so in a spectacular way. Just for old time's sake.

Foreign Tongue in Cheek

Like just about everything else, tourist guidebooks have been updated. There's even one according to Quinto Linguo magazine, that tells you how to say in Polish:

"If you please, I asked for some coffee half an hour ago. If I don't have my coffee in five minutes, I shall set fire to the hotel."

Then there was the recent commercial for a language course that promised potential tourists that they would be able to say everything from, "Doctor, I am not feeling too well" to "Please ship the body home by air."

It makes you wonder. Maybe old George was right after all about staying away from foreign entanglements.

PINE TREE FEATURES

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY
I have just been reading a talk given recently by David Rockefeller. He says our money situation is pretty bad. He's right. About that, anyway. He says the American dollar is the unit of currency in world trade and we can't afford to let people think that we won't stand behind it.

It is good to see Mr. Rockefeller, who certainly has had lots of opportunity to learn how dollars work, getting on the bandwagon. I know lots of people with less money who have been saying he same thing for years. Welcome aboard, David.

But having spent an inordinate amount of time explaining that we are in a period of dollar crisis, which just about anyone ought to know by now, he came up with the panacea. Raise taxes, so we don't run into the appalling budget deficit again that has been building up these last few years.

Perhaps it's time for the American people to realize that every time the federal government talks about raising taxes, what they are really admitting is that they are fiscally irresponsible. In a sense it is the same kind of overt admission we have to make personally if our expenses run higher than our incomes and we have to borrow in order to meet our day to day costs. If a person borrows in order to make an investment, that's one thing. But if a person has to borrow just to keep going, he's not doing his homework properly.

Well, the American government hasn't been doing much fiscal homework for years. And unfortunately, fiscal irresponsibility on a national level is a lot worse than fiscal irresponsibility at home. For one thing, it's more complicated.

If you and I run up some bills we can't pay, we either straighten things out by cutting costs, increasing income, or both. There's no magic about it. You can't take more out of the bucket than you put in.

But government irresponsibility is worse. Because when the government doesn't take in enough to meet its costs, it prints more money. And that weakens the purchasing power of everybody's dollars and becomes a hidden tax, in addition to the taxes already being paid.

That's what the government is complaining about now. It has inflated. That is to say, it has increased the amount of money in circulation via the printing press route. That's one folly. Now, in order to prevent a runaway inflation, the government wants to increase taxes. This is to admit that it was wrong when it printed the money. It is an attempt to take back in taxes, the excess it has already pumped into the economy in terms of unbacked paper.

So now we have fiscal irresponsibility on two fronts: increasing costs that can't be met out of income and increased supply of money, which is causing prices to go up, which can be offset by taxing some of it back again.

Actually, David is right. If the government doesn't increase taxes it will print still more money, rather than admitting that its costs are too high. And that will be still more inflationary. But the cue isn't in taxes or in upping the supply of green paper.

The only real cure is for the government to cut costs. But the men in government are so certain that they must maintain the image of a prodigal uncle in order to keep world respect, that they are as frightened of retrenchment as a new-born kitten is of lightning.

So the Congress says it will increase taxes if the president will cut some costs. That is to pass the buck. The Congress is the one that passes nearly all of the tax measures. The Congress is right about asking that costs be cut. But it could very well lead off with out waiting for the President. Factually, we don't need and really can't stand a tax increase. But we sure could stand a reduction in costs.

From where I sit, I don't care who starts slashing the budget. But it ought be reduced at once by about $30 billion. And that ought to include some pay cuts for every man working for the federal government. That would be a really good beginning.

Backstage Washington

Student Agitators Joining 'Poor Army' Making Violent Confrontations more likely

WASHINGTON, The hardcore student agitators, who touched off many of the recent disturbances in the nation's universities, have begun gathering in Washington.

Anxious government security officials are warning that these reckless young demonstrators are being called into the nation's capital by organizers of the "Poor Army" invasion to ignite a violent confrontation between the invaders and local law enforcement officials.

Many of these militant students, according to government security records, traveled to Cuba in recent years to confer with Castro lieutenants charged with creating revolutionary conditions in the Western Hemisphere.

In New York city the students are being recruited by Robert Collier, former student from Massachusetts convicted in 1965 of a plot to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument, and the Liberty Bell, following his return from Cuba.

Only an alert New York Negro policeman, who infiltrated the Collier group as an undercover agent, aborted their plans.

Collier, who boasts of his personal acquaintance with the late guerrilla warfare expert Che Guevara, has been working on the "Poor Army" march with the Rev. Frederick Douglas Kirkpatrick, of Gambling, La., named by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) as a regional organizer.

NATIONAL APPEAL—Sweeney Cooks, militant coordinator of student and campus activities for the SCLC, has been traveling around the nation to recruit and to involve students and the campus in the "Poor Army's" campaign.

Cooks a veteran black militant organizer who came to SCLC as a college student during the 1965 Selma march; has developed work-study seminars and a Free University Institute to be conducted during the campaign in Washington.

He is also arranging for a summer task force to student "volunteers" to follow through on the "Poor Army" campaign with assignments to help disrupt both the Democratic and Republican national party conventions in August.

In his Campus recruiting, Cooks is promising personal meetings with Stokely Carmichael, the pro-Castro black militant, for those students that come to Washington later this month.

Cooks also is handing out an appeal to students to join the "Poor Army" campaign from Ralph Abernathy the figurehead leader who replaced Martin King as head SCLC.

"I urge all students who support this campaign of militant action to join us in Washington as soon as studies and examinations permit. We especially need students starting May 27 when we will be building up our demonstrations and preparing for a great March in Washington, May 30. We are encouraging students to come and stay as long as possible, if it becomes necessary to intensify the campaign beyond May 30.

"It was students who were the shock troops through the sit-ins, freedom rides, the Birmingham and Selma movements. We are now confident that students will become the shock troops of this campaign."

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE A two-way, often competitive, Communist influence has been inserted skillfully into activities of militant American student groups now trying to take over universities.

After prodigious inquiry and double-checking Federal Bureau of Investigation agents have satisfied Director J. Edgar Hoover that the groups are receiving special Communist backing, consultation, and cash contributions.

The competition, although it often follows the same guidelines, is between a veteran Soviet-sponsored students' international and assorted missions in Eastern Europe of the National Liberation Front, the formal identification for the Viet Cong.

Foremost, best-heeled and highly experienced in providing support and advice is the Prague-based International Union of Students (ISU).

Organized by the Soviet Union nearly 23 years ago, it has a worldwide affiliated apparatus. Leadership remains in the hands of professional Russian students in their mid-thirties or older, plus equally veteran East Europeans.

Ironically, the ISU has kept itself lily white, excluding African students from high echelons as "undisciplined elements." Suspicion, correspondingly, has kept Viet Cong missions from having a kind of Popular front operation with ISU.

KITS FOR REVOLUTION A do-it-yourself method of making Viet Cong flags has been distributed by the ISU along with instructions on how to make fire-bombs. Contributions in money orders and small but numerous gifts of cash by donors using mail drops across the U. S., have fortified the deficit financing of many demonstrations.

Contacts with the ISU or Viet Cong missions by students are pretty easy. Any student traveling in Eastern Europe who showed a pro-Viet Cong or anti-American involvement knew about access to these offices.

According to U. S. security sources, the decisive battleground on the nation's camp uses this year will not be on the front line, where students demonstrate, and war with authorities. The issue, they say, is whether enough general university support will be given to the

H. L. HUNT

Personal Enterprise VS. BUREAUCRACY

A bureaucratically run business operation cannot function as well as a privately-operated business. Ample proof is found by comparing two organizations dealing with communications: the United States Post Office Department, run by the government, and American Telephone and Telegraph, a privately owned business.

Over the years, the telephone system has held its prices down, and in some cases substantially reduced them. In 1932, a three-minute station-to-station telephone call from Boston to San Francisco cost $9.50 during the day, $5.75 at night. Currently the day rate is $1.75, the night rate $1.00, a decrease of 82.5 per cent.

In the postal system, the opposite has been true. In 1932 a first class letter, sent regular mail, 10 cents air mail, 5 cents. In 1968, a first class letter is now 6 cents regular mail, 10 cents air mail. The cost of living has gone up 20 per cent in that time and the industrial price index seven per cent, but the Post Office rates have increased 65 per cent and 100 per cent.

The increased cost of the postal service compared to that of the telephone system can be traced largely to the relative efficiency of the two systems. Between 1930 and 1966, the telephone company per cent, while the Post Office could increase the number of pieces of mail handled daily per employee by only 36 per cent.

Since 1935, the telephone company has paid $30,945 million in taxes, while the Post Office has received a $12,843 million subsidy from the taxpayer. It is obvious from this comparison that bureaucrats do not make good businessmen.

A small minority who conduct sit-ins and carry out campus disobedience. Past experience, as studied here, would indicate that the next move of the small minority will be to try to get support for their campus activities from national political candidates.

The objective of the Communist infiltrators in the student groups is to make sanctuaries on college campuses for revolutionary activities in new communities—especially those with Negro populations.

By TOM ANDERSON

When you cash in your chips for this life, the only thing of any value you can take with you is your character. Character is a victory, not a gift. Character knows no race, creed, color or circumstance. If you lack it, it's nobody's fault but your own.

The agnostic pragmatists who called themselves "liberals" have taught a generation of children: (1) That there are no clear distinctions between right and wrong; (2) that there are no eternal verities, no absolute truths; (3) that environment determines truth, and since environment constantly changes, everything is relative; (4) that "life adjustment," not inculcation of principles and disciplines, is the aim of education; (5) that patriotism is out of date. The Freudian frauds further proclaim that we are not responsible; "Man is a product of his heredity and his environment; and you cannot expect him to rise above it." The collectives, so-called "liberals," seem to operate on the theory that a socialistic government can legislate unsuccessful people into prosperity by legislating successful people out of it. Remember, there is no such thing as equality. Hold up your thumb and look at it. God has never made another thumb like it. We cannot be free and equal. Free men are not equal and equal men are not free. But all slaves are incarcerated equally. All men are created equal only in the eyes of God and of the law. And they don't even stay equal thers. God penalizes unrepentant sinners, and the law penalizes repeating criminals.

All totalitarianism must "destroy" God, for no total state can stand the competition of man as a free creature under God. All atheists are not Communists, but all Communists are atheists. We are headed the way of the ROMAN Empire, and for the same reasons: The world has lost faith in us and we have lost faith in ourselves. We have all but abandoned the eternal principles that made this country great: religion and morality discipline, honesty, patriotism and work.

Kid Gloves or Asbestos?

"Certainly an officer should do everything in his power to make an arrest—to prevent a crime—by utilizing the minimum force necessary. But I cannot believe that any citizen would hold that policemen should permit an arsonist to carry out his dangerous, murderous mission when the minimum force necessary cannot prevent or deter him."

"I believe the basic responsibility of the police department is to protect the hundreds of thousands of citizens of the community—from loss of life, destruction and mayhem."

"There can be no possible justification of a deliberate criminal act which results in helpless and homeless victims of a holocaust."

"Men poised with Molotov cocktails, incendiaries or fire bombs of any kind are the same as the assassins who pulled the triggers on the guns that killed the Rev. Martin Luther King and the late President John F. Kennedy."

The above words were spoken by Chicago's mayor, Richard Daley, as he elaborated upon his orders to Chicago police to shoot arsonists and looters on sight. Those orders predictably raised cries of protest from both black and white civil rights proponents and from liberals of various hues.

A typical reaction was that of New York Mayor John Lindsay, who dramatically announced that he didn't intend to kill any children. (Although Daley had specified that youthful looters be routed with MACE, a nonlethal chemical, to say the least.) Lindsay said that the FBI and police administrators maintain that "unwarranted application of force will incite the mob to further violence."

If the police are to be governed by that curious argument, does it not follow that the mob will be angered by the very presence of a policeman on the scene? If his line reasoning is correct, then the way to avoid aggravating the criminal mob is to leave it alone—keep the police away!

Will Daley's "get-tough" policy succeed in preventing riots? We aren't predicting, but consider the case of Miami, Fla. Last December, Miami's Police chief Walter Headley bluntly warned the city's hoodlums that "when the looting starts the shooting starts."

Headley's statement was met immediately by criticism from civil rights and liberals. But his policy worked. Violent crime in the Miami Negro district has declined—since December—by nearly two-thirds. And there were no riots in Miami after the death of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The Negro individual in Miami is safer than he would be in most other cities in the nation, thanks to a "get-tough" policy. We find it hard to determine just how really objects to swift and firm action against the arsonists. Certainly not the Negroes who have been working in the ghettos to help the people help themselves.

No one is endangered by orders such as those of Daley and Headley—no one, that is, except those who would burn and kill and steal; those who are, in the words of Whitney Young "destroying their own neighborhood and killing their own people."

My generation sold out its freedoms and inheritance—freedoms and inheritance—and passed the bills on to you. However, it so happens that we Neantherthals over 30 and our parents and grandparents also produced the highest civilization over known in human history and bequeathed a great part of our bounty to the world and to our young people, neither of which even thanked us for it. One of the basest sins is ingratitude. Santa Claus gets millions of letters requesting—but hardly ever gets a "thank you."

Your opportunity is unlimited—except by government. There is less competition than ever before, if you really want to. Most of your competitors do not. This is the age of the half-done job—more and more pay for less and less work. Beatniks are long on hair and short on character.

Don't brood over failures; if you must cry over spilled milk, condense it. And don't blame your "bad luck." Luck is a circumstance as rare as an honest politician. Your "luck" is what you make it. Those who complain about the way the ball bounces are invariably the ones who fumbled it.

When Queen Victoria exclaimed to the great pianist Paderewski: "Ah, you are a genius!" he replied, "Perhaps, Your Majesty—but before I was a genius, I was a drudge."

In the final analysis, neither your government nor your parents are responsible for you—you are responsible for yourself. As somebody said: "The young man who thought the world owed him a living is the old man who is blaming the world for his failure." If you're determined merely to milk all possible pleasure out of life you should buy your own cow, not milk somebody else's through the fence.

Wit and Whimsy
If, when boy meets girl, he tells her how lovely she looks, how much she means to him, and how much he loves her, that is "Sales Promotion."

If, instead, he impresses on her how wonderful HE is, that is "Advertising."

But if the girl seeks him out because she has heard from others what a splendid person he is, that is "Public Relations."

A mother may hope her daughter will get a better husband than she did—but she knows her son will never get as good a wife as his father did.

The Hollywood magnate told an assistant that in his opinion a certain writer was the only man for a film they had under consideration. The assistant was tactfully doubtful.

(Mr. Lee (the assistant) — Don't you think, perhaps he's a little too caustic?
Mr. Long (the producer) — Do I care how much he costs? Get him!

A thought for the day: novelist George Meredith said, "A witty woman is a treasure; a witty beauty is a power."
