Wallace To Get Spot On Texas Election Ballot

HOUSTON (UPI)—Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace is assured of a spot on the Texas presidential election ballot next November, his Harris County chairman said today.

Chilton Bryan, American Party chairman at Houston, said Harris County alone gave Wallace enough supporters in Saturday's precinct conventions to assure his name will be on the ballot.

"We are immensely proud that Harris County alone has put Gov. Wallace over the top in Texas," Bryan said.

He said Harris County would give Wallace more than 20,000 supporters, about six thousand more than he needed, and the entire state should pass 100,000.

Bryan said Wallace would make the official announcement today at a news conference in Detroit.

Texas law permits third party candidates to establish themselves either through precinct conventions or petitions, and combination of the two that yields 1 per cent of the previous vote for governor qualifies.

Wallace gave his Texas supporters a pep talk at a news conference in Detroit.

"Let's Make the Scene-Clean" will be the theme of the drive.

City trucks began the operation this morning in Ward 1. They will operate there for four days.

The trucks will then move into Ward 2 from Friday, May 10 to Wednesday, May 15. From Thursday, May 16, through Tuesday, May 21, they will be in Ward 3, and they will be in Ward 4 from Wednesday, May 22, through Monday, May 27.

Bill Fraser, clean-up committee chairman, said the drive would be concerned with cleaning up trash, removal of unsafe structures and junk cars, and improvements on unsightly areas.

If Fraser said, you have a junked car or tumble-down building that needs to be moved, contact R. B. Cooke, public works director. He can be reached at MO 4-8481.

The clean-up committee has also recommended that Pampans purchase 32-gallon trash cans with lids during the campaign. A city ordinance is anticipated requiring new trash cans be in use by about Oct. 1. The 55-gallon trash cans now in use will not be picked up after that date by city sanitation workers, Fraser said, if the ordinance passes. The new trash receptacles have been purchased by Pampa merchants and they have a good stock, Fraser added.

The possibility existed today that Pampa's new school superintendent may be named the latter part of this week.

The board met in a three-hour session Sunday for members to evaluate investigations made of several applicants for the post during the past week.

John Gikas, board president, said all board members participated in the checkup on prospects.

Gikas also stated a second interview was held yesterday with one of the prospects for the job.

"We hope it will be possible to make the selection before the end of this week," Gikas said.

LETTER FROM PRESIDENT — Angela Winegeart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Winegeart, 1216 S. Faulkner, recently received a letter from President Lyndon B. Johnson's personal secretary. The letter was sent in reply to one sent by Miss Winegeart asking questions about the Vietnam War and other current national problems as part of a school project. The answer quoted the President's views and included literature about his statements on various subjects.

Reds' Spring Offensive In Vietnam Starts Crumbling

Viet Cong Kill Four Newsmen

By RICHARD V. OLIVER
SAIGON (UPI)—A sneer on his lips and an Hanoi 45-caliber automatic in his hand, a Viet Cong commander executed western newsmen in a Saigon street Sunday.

Frank Palmos, a handsome young Australian free lancer, played dead and escaped the shooting that killed his four companions in Chinatown in the opening hours of the new Communist invasion of the capital.

He told how death came to Australian Bruce Pigott, 23, of the Reuters news agency, Englishman Ron Laramy, 31, of Reuters, Michael Birth, 23, of Australian Associated Press and Australian John Cantwell, 29, of Time magazine.

Palmos said the five drove in a mini-jeep into the Cholon sector, nosing the low, small vehicle toward a column of smoke. Palmos wanted to turn back. Cantwell at the wheel, headed into a small street. "John don't," said Palmos. "Ah, stop worrying," another said.

Finally Palmos demanded a halt. It was too late. Two Viet Cong were firing, one an AK47 automatic rifle and the other a burp gun.

The firing lasted 10 seconds. Palmos, who had jumped from the vehicle, froze his face in a mask of agony and fell "dead," being careful to put his left leg under him, ready to jump away at the first chance.

"I looked under my shoulder and I saw one...the Reuters man, Ron Laramy, thrown with his arm wide open, his mouth open, head back, looking dead." Cantwell lay six feet from Palmos.

"Pleaded Desperately
"The V.C. commander came forward," Palmos said. The uniformed guerrilla held the 45. Palmos said Birth "cried

Attacks Said Keyed To Peace Talks

LONDON (UPI)—The Communist weekend onslaught against Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities appears designed to help Hanoi negotiate "from a position of strength" at the Paris talks opening Friday, Western diplomats said today.

It may also have been designed to shake the South Vietnamese regime on the eve of the talks, they said.

However, officials noted Sunday's warning by George Ball, U.S. ambassador-designate to the United Nations, that the Communists are making a mistake if they think they can improve their bargaining position in this way.

Informed western diplomats said the "preliminary talks" may develop later into a full-scale Vietnam peace conference.

Communists' Losses Mount In 119 Attacks

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—Heavy fighting raged today in and around Saigon. But spokesmen said more than 1,300 Communists have been killed in a faltering, two-day-old Red nationwide spring offensive.

An American government source said the Communist strikes against 119 allied positions failed in every way except psychologically.

The main Communist targets were Dong Ha, the Leatherneck base just below North Vietnam where 1,085 Reds have been killed in a week and 240 Sunday, and Saigon. Red forces pushed toward the capital's Tan Son Nhut air and warbase and battled in the flaming streets of Saigon's Cholon Chinatown section.

No total of allied casualties was available. But the toll was said to be high in a few places. Saigon hospitals said at least 14 civilians were killed and 235 wounded. Another 5,000 residents fled battle zones in the capital.

In Cholon, where fighting set off fires that gutted two blocks, heavy black smoke coiled over guerrilla bands fleeing white-shirted national police units. Near Tan Son Nhut, allied troops and gunships trapped the attackers in a cemetery.

Near the Phu Tho race track, on Saigon's southwestern fringe, troops smashed at the Communists' main gateway to the city.

Down Copters
Two U.S. helicopter gunships were shot down.

U.S. spokesmen cautioned that the Communists, weaker than in their February Tet invasion of the cities, had yet to commit up to 15,000 troops poised near Saigon. The North Vietnamese still had about 6,000 troops hammering Dong Ha, spokesmen said.

The battle of Saigon roared in the outskirts. Vietnamese and South Korean troops were locked in heavy fighting along Plantation Road next to Tan Son Nhut airbase on the west. Col. Lou Kim Cuong, the warbase commander, was killed at dawn.

In the nearby alleys, where Brig. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan, South Vietnam police commander and one of the Viet Cong's most hated enemies was shot and wounded Sunday, troops hunted down roving guerrilla bands.

Newsman Slain
In the Cholon Chinatown quarter, where the Viet Cong executed four western newsmen Sunday—a fifth escaped, South Vietnam troops cornered nests of guerrillas. On a street soldiers found the body of Hasso Reudt von Collenberg, the West German Embassy first secretary, his eyes gouged out and shot in the back of the head.

A few blocks away a Viet Cong lieutenant colonel, Nguyen Van Phat, was killed. U.S. troops, 14 miles northwest of Saigon, killed 167 Reds and (See REDS, Page 3)

Moscow Puts Its Blessings On Peace Talks By N. Viets, U.S.

MOSCOW (UPI)—Moscow placed its blessing today on this week's Vietnam War talks between the United States and North Vietnam in Paris. The Soviet newspaper Pravda said "favorable prospects" had been created to end "the American dirty war in Vietnam."

The Pravda comment followed a Sunday speech by Mikhail A. Suslov, the Soviet Union's chief Communist ideologist, in which he said the United States had reached a dead end in Vietnam. In an address marking the 150th birthday of Karl Marx, Suslov also warned four Communist regimes they may be straying from the founding father's path.

Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny repeated the warning in receiving the credentials

Texas May Send Two Delegations To Convention

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas may send two competing delegations to the national Democratic convention in Chicago next August.

Opponents of Gov. John Connally laid the groundwork for such a maneuver Saturday in precinct conventions. The next step will come this Saturday at county and district conventions.

One of the delegations would be led by Connally, pledged to Connally as favorite son, picked by the Connally-controlled party machinery and certified and approved by that same group.

It undoubtedly would cast all its 104 votes for Vice President Hubert Humphrey if forced to choose between Humphrey, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

The other would be a "rump" delegation comprising supporters of all three presidential candidates. Their common ground would be opposition to Connally.

Contend Illegal
They would contend the Connally delegation was illegal because of its alleged misdeeds at the precinct and county conventions.

They would demand to be seated as the true representatives of Texas Democrats. The basis for such an appeal would be a claim that Connally forces "stole" the precinct conventions.

The likely leader of the rump delegation would be Sen. Ralph Yarborough, or Don Yarborough, if the latter is the Democratic nominee for governor, or both.

There is no evidence, however, that either of the Yarboroughs is involved in the strategy at this point.

The purpose of a rump delegation would be two-fold: To prevent Humphrey from getting all of Texas' votes, and to diminish Connally's chances for the vice presidential nomination or any other influential role by picturing him as a man who oppresses racial minorities, working people and loyal Democrats in his own state.

'Absolute Victory'
"On the basis of over 60 per cent of reporting precincts, we cooperation" with a warning against "schemings of circles hostile to progress and socialism."

Nikolai Bragin, Pravda commentator, hailed the "farsighted and realistic position" of North Vietnam in agreeing to contacts and decried Washington's "improper maneuvers to delay the beginning of the contacts." He said the world will watch to see if the United States intends to immediately stop its bombing and other military acts.

Suslov told 6,000 Communist party elite at the Kremlin the United States was learning from its experience in Vietnam that "gone are the times when a mighty imperialist power could stage a police action."

Delegates Named To County Convention

Fourteen precinct chairmen were elected in the Democratic primary Saturday, most of them unopposed.

The only upset occurred in Pct. 12 where Margaret McPhillips, wife of Pampa's postmaster R. W. McPhillips, outpolled incumbent A. W. (Al) Ferguson, 152 to 148. Mrs. McPhillips was a write-in candidate.

In Pct. 11, incumbent Mrs. Tom Florence defeated three write-in candidates, James Alten, Fred S. Vanderburg and Charles Blakney, by a narrow margin. Mrs. Ruth Osborne received write-in votes in Pct. 2 but was defeated by incumbent N. Park Brown.

Results of the precinct elections:

Eight Die As Torch Is Put To Nightclub In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI)—A young Negro threw a bucket of gasoline into a racially mixed nightclub with a macabre funeral decor Sunday and flipped a match into it. Eight persons were killed among the coffin decorations.

Police said there were no racial overtones to the killing and theorized the man may have been a patron who earlier was asked to leave because he was bothering a waitress.

Police said a well-dressed Negro was asked to leave "Lucky's Grave" nightclub about 11 p.m. Some 30 minutes later, they said, a man approached the club with a bucket in his hand.

Joseph Vann, 22, of Fort Worth, who was standing outside, heard someone yell, "it's on fire!" He said he heard a "swoosh and a pop" and the building was engulfed in flames.

The dead included six men and two women, all but one Negro.

The building had been recently transformed into a nightclub from a drive-in cafe. It was decorated as a funeral home.

Over 2,000 Attend Local 'Aviation Day'

More than 2,000 persons turned out Sunday for the Pampa Civil Air Patrol's second Annual Aviation Day at Perry LeFors Airfield.

The weatherman failed to cooperate when he sent in winds that were too gusty to permit parachutists to perform.

The high wind also cut down on the number of planes coming in, although approximately 100 persons attended the fly-in breakfast.

More than 1,000 persons took advantage of the penny-a-pound airplane rides over the city.

The Civil Air Patrol cadet unit was on hand all day selling refreshments and assisting in ticket sales.

Persons attending the one-day event also viewed airplane and helicopter exhibits and displays arranged especially for Aviation Day.

In Clear-Cut Liberal Vs. Conservative Match Smith, Yarborough Ready To 'Fight It Out'

By DAVID ANDERSON
United Press International

Don Yarborough of Houston and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, battle-scarred political veterans with established names and organizations, today began what should be a clear-cut liberal-conservative fight for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The newcomers with money, charm and friends in high places fared poorly in Saturday's primary precinct convention support for their favorite son candidates for president.

Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace won most of the support he needed to get on the presidential ballot in Texas next November.

The biggest vote getter was youthful house speaker Ben Barnes who won 1,166,893 votes in his race against State Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth and Gene Smith of Fort Worth Gladden got 209,995 and Smith 154,973.

Powerful veteran State Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo was upset by former State Sen. W. E. Snelson of Midland and Mike McKool beat one-term Sen. Jim Wade in Dallas. Other major legislative figures won re-nomination.

Five incumbent Democratic with a large percentage of them coming from working-class and minority group precincts.

Smith finished with 369,996 adding substantial big-city support to his always strong rural appeal.

Waggoner Carr got 248,257, Dolph Briscoe Jr. 219,873, Eugene Locke 213,804, John Hill 149,355, Edward L. Whittenburg 22,706, Pat O'Daniel 45,741, Alfonso Veloz 9,799, and Johnnie Mae Hackworth, 5,446.

In the Republican primary, Wichita Falls lawyer Paul Eggers easily defeated John Trice of Dallas and Wallace Sisk of Houston.

Yarborough got 407,119 votes,

Results of the precinct elections:

congressmen — Joe Pool of Dallas, Bob Casey of Houston, John Dowdy of Lubbock, John Young of Corpus Christi and O. C. Fisher of San Angelo won re-nomination handily. All other congressmen were unopposed in the primary.

In the governor's race, Smith and Yarborough disproved the belief that the candidate who spends the most money wins. The biggest spenders, according to their official reports, were Locke, Briscoe, Hill and Whittenburg. Smith ranked fifth in spending and Yarborough spent less than any other major candidate.

claim absolute victory over Connally's favorite son bid and we predict free and open conventions in both Bexar County senatorial districts," said Albert Pena, chairman of the Bexar County Committee for a Fair Texas Democratic Delegation.

In Houston, Dallas, Austin and San Antonio, McCarthy and other anti-Connally forces won other precincts and claimed skullduggery in others.
Republican Sen. John Tower had little opposition for the favorite-son designation in his party's precinct conventions, but in Houston some supporters of California Gov. Ronald Reagan refused to commit themselves beyond the first ballot.

Precinct Matter
Tower wanted the precincts to let him decide when to release the delegation.

Connally was defeated in his favorite-son bid in his own precinct in Austin. McCarthy supporters and other liberal Democrats from the university city prevented the convention from passing Connally's resolutions. The governor was present but not speaking.
Don Allford, McCarthy's Texas chairman, acknowledged the Connally bid had succeeded but said "the creaky old machinery of the Democratic party was exposed to a lot of informed and intelligent people."

More Rain is In Prospect

Scattered thundershowers are expected to continue today and end sometime Tuesday, further brightening prospects for record crop yields in Gray County this year.

Only .01 was officially recorded by the bureau for Pampa yesterday but a 60 per cent probability of showers this afternoon and tonight was expected to add to the total.

High today was near 80 but tomorrow's high was expected to be in the upper 60's. Winds were southerly at 15-25 m.p.h. today and gusty, but will shift to northerly tonight. Low tonight will be near 50.

Foster Whaley, county agricultural agent, said the showers would give further impetus to bright crop prospects.

Heart Patient Dies

A California carpenter's new heart gave out Sunday night at Stanford, Calif., but surgeons in Houston performed their second heart transplant operation in three days and said their two patients at St. Luke's Hospital are in satisfactory condition.

The death of Joseph Rizer of Salinas, Calif., at Stanford University raised to 7 the number of persons who have died following heart transplant surgery since the first such operation in South Africa five months ago.

Reds

found what may have been the body of a North Vietnamese general.

Thousands of civilian refugees flocked into the center of Saigon, untouched since Red mortar shells hit Sunday.
"Don't worry, they will get smashed by the ARVN (South Vietnam troops) this time," said Nguyen Huu Tu of the guerrillas who chased him from his house near the Phu Tho race track in February and Sunday.

Cut Supply Roads
The guerrilla raids cut supply roads, rocketing Saigon food prices. But there was no sign of defeat among the allies.

At other battle points:
—U.S. troops and South Vietnam allies called down fiery napalm strikes in smashing North Vietnam attacks against Dong Ha Sunday.

—Allied spokesmen said at least 1,200 North Vietnamese were threatening Quang Tri, South Vietnam's northernmost city. Fighting flared all along the northern frontier. The Marine bastion of Khe Sanh took 100 red shells.

—Near Hue, almost destroyed in the Tet offensive, U.S. paratroopers killed 82 North Vietnamese Sunday. Eight U.S. troops were killed and nine wounded.

Pampa Harvesters Play Plainview Here Tuesday

Pampa's resurging baseball team, fresh from three straight wins over district conference teams, will meet Plainview in another loop test in its final home game Tuesday afternoon. Game time is 4 p.m.

Pampa has a chance to extend its victory skein to four straight games, a season high for consecutive wins in Tuesday afternoon's tilt. Coach Bobby Stephens was pleased with his over-all team performance in Pampa's 11-7 win over Borger. He said, however, the team committed a few mental lapses which were costly.

Stephens was undecided on his starting hurler for the Plainview contest but leaned toward senior Dick Henley. All three Pampa pitchers — Kotara, Clabough and Henley, saw action in the Borger-Pampa game and coach Stephens may select the hurler he thinks is most rested.

Pampa outbait Borger, 11-5, in Saturday's win for one of its better days in hitting.

Houston Champion Masters Golf Scoring System In Win

By DARRELL MACK HOUSTON (UPI) — Roberto De Vicenzo returned home to Buenos Aires today, having mastered the U.S. golf courses and, finally, its scoring system.

De Vicenzo, who jested last week that he would need an accountant and a lawyer to win in this country, found out Sunday all he needed was a true driver and a steady putter.

De Vicenzo won the $100,000 Houston Champions International Golf Tournament Sunday with a final round 66 for a 10-under-par 274.

His driving put him on 16 greens in regulation and his steady hands tapped in a two-foot putt on No. 18 to break a tie with Lee Trevino, who finished one stroke back at 275.

Tied Record
De Vicenzo won the $20,000 first prize with a final round of 63, three under par, to go with rounds of 67, 68 and 71 for 10-under 274. This tied the tournament record set last year by Frank Beard.

De Vicenzo, who lost a chance for a playoff championship in the Masters because of a scorekeeping error, checked his card carefully and even had PGA tournament director Jack Tutbill go over it before he signed it.

"Before I sign, I call my lawyer," De Vicenzo jested later.

Jay Hebert, although back in the money, won a Mercury Cougar automobile with a hole-in-one on the 180-yard 16th hole. Hebert used a three iron for the sixth-hole-in-one of his tournament career and the first in champions history.

Dan Sikes, the third round leader, dropped out of contention with a bogey on six and a double bogey on eight, finishing third at 276 after a final round of two-over 73.

Nicklaus Fourth
Jack Nicklaus, who started the day with De Vicenzo three strokes back, shot a 72 for a 278 and fourth place. Tommy Aaron, De Vicenzo's errant scorekeeper in the Masters, and Miller Barber finished in a tie fifth at 279.

Players Selected

AUSTIN (UPI)—Players selected for the annual Texas coaching school all-star football game were announced recently by L. W. McConachie, executive vice president of the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Jack Mildren, widely sought quarterback for Class AAAA runner-up Abilene Cooper, will lead the North all-star squad. Mildren's tutor, coach Merrill Green, and his Cooper staff will coach the North group.

Quarterback Cary Hammond of Port Arthur and Austin Reagan scabbard Johnny Klerner will head up the South team, which will be coached by the Bridge City High School staff of H. W. Chief Wilson. The game will be Aug. 1 in Fort Worth.

Al Geiberger, who kept score here for De Vicenzo, was bunched at 280 with defending champion Frank Beard and Dale Douglass.

De Vicenzo and Trevino both said the key to the tournament was De Vicenzo putting out on No. 18 De Vicenzo ran a 35-foot putt for a birdie by the cup two feet.

Then he made the two-footer for a par to put all the pressure on Trevino, who needed a four-foot putt for his par. He missed it three inches to the right.

Thirteen Track Men Will Return For Texas Team

By MICHAEL RABUN FORT WORTH (UPI)—The University of Texas has another Southwest Conference track and field championship tucked safely away, and a quick glance at the bulky list of juniors, sophomores and freshmen on this season's team shows the Longhorns should be the team to beat next season as well.

Thirteen of the 17 Longhorn performers who won points in Saturday's championship will be back next year.

Foremost among that group will be Dave Morton, who as only a freshman ran the fastest 440-yard dash ever by a Texan Saturday—a 45.5—to set a conference record.

Other than Morton's 440-yard win, the Longhorns captured only three other first places in compiling 66 points to runnerup Baylor's 54. But everyone who had anything to do with those wins will return.

David Matina, who captured the 880-yard run, is only a junior and Freddy Cooper, who triumphed in the mile, is but a sophomore. And Texas will return all four members of the mile relay team that set the conference record of 3:07.7. On that team were Matina, Morton, Eddie Canada and Stan McDaniel. Canada is a junior and McDaniel is a sophomore.

The wealth of depth in the middle distances—which was Texas' trademark this year—will return in the presence of junior Lee Anderson, junior Rudy Alaniz and sophomore Mike Mosley along with Morton, McDaniel, Canada, Matina and Cooper.

The chief casualties Texas will suffer next season will be Brian Woolsey, who placed this year in both the mile and three mile, and James Means, who finished second in the 100-yard dash.

Baylor, the Longhorn's chief competition while Texas was wrapping up its 30th track and field crown, also return a good portion of its team. But they are nowhere near the prolific point producers as are the returning Longhorns.

The Bears will lose three-mile champion Walter Reyna as well as Joe Ratliff, the second place finisher in the 440-yard hurdles.

But Baylor will return its excellent stable of sprinters—junior Jimmy Jasper, junior Jackie Allen and freshman Ronnie Allen. Sophomore Mike Robins will also be back to defend his high hurdles crown. All four of the participants on Baylor's winning 440-yard relay team will also be back next season.

The Rice Owls, whose hopes for a title this year were decked by the pulled thigh muscle of sprinter Conley Brown, went through all of this year's meet without getting a single first place.

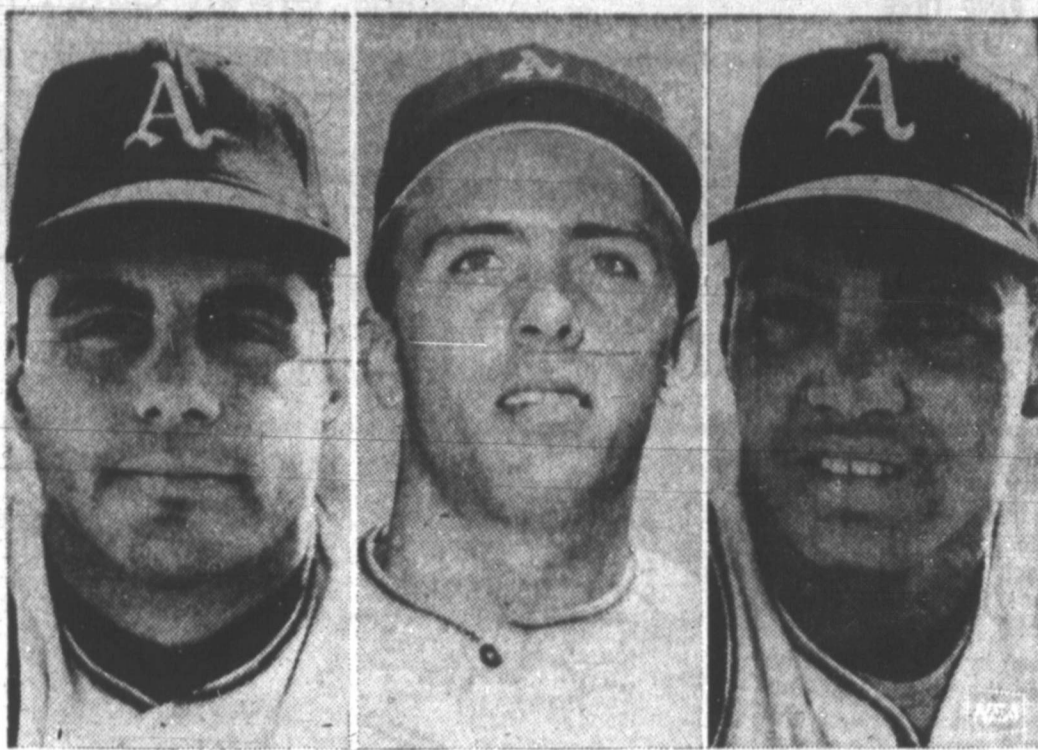

And the one man who could have helped them get a first place or two—Brown—will graduate this year, thereby eliminating Rice as much of a challenger next season in the Southwest Conference title picture.

ORSOLICS DEFENDS TITLE

Durocher Bars Sport's Scribe

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Leo Durocher says no, no, no, they've got the whole thing all wrong. What feud with the press?

They must mean some other manager, not him. One newspaperman already has been barred from the Chicago Cubs clubhouse and Leo says he'll continue keeping the door closed 15 minutes every game, win or lose, but what's all this about him feuding with the press? Not him. No way.

The whole trouble started last week in Pittsburgh, where the Cubs dropped three out of four.

Clubhouse Door Shut
Durocher kept the clubhouse door shut following two of those defeats and after one of them he waited until all his players were dressed and walked out together with them to the team bus so that, according to one report, they wouldn't be able to talk to any newsmen.

"That's an out-and-out lie," declared the Cub manager, having his pre-game cup of milk and cigarette before Sunday's doubleheader with the Mets.

"Never in my life have I ever told the players not to speak to the press. They're free to talk to the press anytime they like. Sure I walked out of the clubhouse with them in Pittsburgh. I'll tell you why: I held a meeting after the game, that's why. And we all walked out together after the meeting. What's wrong with that?"

Coach Verlon Walker came in to get something from his locker as Durocher was speaking and Leo said to him:

Wire Sent
"You've been with me a while, have you ever heard me tell one of my ballplayers not to talk to a newspaperman?"

"Never," said Walker. After the trouble in Pittsburgh, Gen. William D. Eckert, the Baseball Commissioner, sent a wire to all general managers in both leagues.

The wire was aimed primarily at Durocher and sought to prevent managers from closing their clubhouse doors to the press arbitrarily after ball games.

MARATHON MATCH
MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Former top-ranking amateur Dennis Ralston won the Twin Cities professional tennis classic Sunday by whipping John Newcombe of Australia in a marathon playoff, 31-26, 19-31, 5-4. Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., received $1,325.

Washburn's First Loss
Mike McCormick scattered 10 hits and drove in two runs to help his own cause as the Giants moved to within two and one-half games of first place.

McCormick's bases-loaded single capped a three-run sixth inning rally that helped tag Ray Washburn with his first loss in four decisions.

Atlanta's Ken Johnson hurled two hit balls for 8-2-3 innings then was balled out by Claude Raymond in the ninth as he

Hereafter, the wire said, if a manager planned to hold a meeting with his players after the game he would have to advise the press about it via a message to the press box sometime during the game.

John Holland, the Cubs' general manager, received the wire, and passed it along to Durocher.

Leo Durocher is a good soldier and follows all orders from the general. So now his clubhouse remains closed 15 minutes after every game, win or lose.

"How do I know in advance when I'm gonna have a meeting after the game?" he said. "I may decide to have a meeting because of something we did on the last play of the game. The commissioner said to let the press know in advance. So I'm letting 'em know in advance. I'm merely complying with the commissioner's request."

Outweighs Bad
Down through the years, Durocher has had a bad press occasionally but he feels, and rightfully so, the good press he received outweighed the bad.

He also feels he could be a good newspaperman, if he had to, because he believes he knows when and of whom to ask certain questions.

Ex-Astro Hurler Blanks Houston, 2-0, Sunday

National League Roundup
By United Press International The light-hitting Dodgers, who went 17 innings to defeat the Atlanta Braves last Thursday night, toiled for 16 more innings Sunday and ended up losing 3-2 this time as rookie Johnny Bench slammed a run-scoring double in the 16th.

Sunday's marathon made it 51 innings of work in four days for the Dodgers during which time their batters totalled only eight runs and their pitching staff surrendered just nine.

First Off Purdin
Bench's hit came with two out: off reliever John Purdin and scored Lee May, who had reached base after hitting into a force out. It was the first run off Purdin this year in five relief performances.

In other NL action, San Francisco defeated St. Louis 8-4. Atlanta blanked Houston 2-0, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 5-2 and Chicago swept a doubleheader from New York 3-2 and 1-0.

Detroit beat California 3-2. Cleveland edged Minnesota 2-1. Baltimore shutout Washington 8-0. Oakland nipped Boston 3-2 and Chicago topped New York 5-1 in the first game then lost 4-1 in American League games.

The Reds, who trailed Don Drysdale 2-1 for seven innings, tied the game in the eighth when Alex Johnson doubled home Pete Rose. Rose collected two singles in the game to extend his consecutive game hitting streak to 20.

Dallas Prep Star Sets New State Shot Record

By ED FITE UPI Sports Writer AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Defending champions in general strutted their stuff in high fashion at the 58th annual state track and field meet over the week end.

This pertains to individuals only and if you throw in relay teams you have to add Vernon Lockett to the list since the little Class B champions returned its 1967 victorious sprint relay team intact and it set a new division record of 42.1 seconds.

And, Class A champion Tidehaven came close with three of the four boys who won the 1967 mile relay returned and the Tiders responded with another triumph. Its 440 relay team, with two out of four back, also repeated.

Wins Shorter Race
Or, you could take the case of Spring Branch Memorial's John Drew, the 1967 mile champ who dropped back to the half mile this year and proceeded to win it.

Corpus Christi Moody, who won the Class AAAA title with only four athletes, brings all four back next year and just might turn the trick again.

Lubbock Dunbar and Fort Worth Kirkpatrick, Negro school competing for the first time in the big meet, sacked up the Class AAA and AA titles as expected.

But, back to the defending champions. Here's how they fared:

AAAA
Mike Post, Fort Worth Paschal, was unplaced in the 440 dash.

John Spreen, Galena Park, placed fourth in the pole vault. Sammy Walker, Dallas Samuel, set a new state shot put record of 68-5/8.

AAA
Riley Odoms, West Oso's all-stater in football and basketball as well as track, set a new state high jump record of 6-8.

AA
James Shaw, West, repeated in high hurdles in a division record time of 14.0 and also set a 330-yard intermediate hurdles mark of 38.3.

Jimmy Daniels, Canton, repeated in the high jump at 6-4.

Bobby Stack, Barbers Hill, finished second in the 100-yard dash.

Billy Porter, Dawson, repeated in the 220 dash in a division record time of 21.3 and beat Stack in the 100 dash.

Dancer's Image Rests In Stall After Winning Kentucky Derby

By RAY AYRES UPI Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Dancer's Image, who came from last place to win the Kentucky Derby Saturday with a rail hugging stretch run, quietly rested in his stall at Churchill Downs today, awaiting transfer to Maryland for the $150,000 Preakness Stakes on May 18.

There was nothing wrong with the colt who had a swollen ankle just prior to the first of the triple crown classics but who never took a lame or sore step while he was in Kentucky, according to his trainer.

The trainer, Lou Calavaris, plans to fly the rugged son of Native Dancer to Baltimore Wednesday where at least a half dozen horses who passed up the Kentucky Derby will be on hand to challenge him in the Preakness.

Losers On Hand
And several of the 3-year-olds Dancer's Image soundly trounced in the 94th Kentucky Derby also will be on hand.

Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, the Derby favorite who was second, and third place Francis's Hat from the Saddle Rock Farm will be at Pimlico. Later in the week decisions will be reached on the Preakness status of T.V. Commercial who was fourth, fifth place Kentucky Sherry who set the fastest early pace in derby history by running the first six furlongs in 1:09 4-5, and Captain's Gig.

Ready to challenge the Kentucky Derby winner at Pimlico will be Poleaxe, speedy winner of the Will Rogers Stakes; Go Marching, undefeated in four races this year; Clever Foot, a multiple stakes winner in the east this season; Wise Exchange, the Flamingo Stakes winner; What A Pleasure, Sir Beau, and Nodouble.

Back To Back Wins
Dancer's Image's victory gave jockey Bobby Ussery back-to-back Derby triumphs but it was the first winner for owner Peter Fuller and the trainer in their first try.

Ussery let Dancer's Image settle down after the colt was bumped at the start and trailed the field for half a mile. The veteran rider from Vian, Okla. then took Dancer's Image between horses and at the start of the stretch cut over to the rail.

Dancer's Image was second choice and paid $9.20, $4.40 and $4.00. Forward Pass paid 4.30 and 3.20 and Francis's Hat, paid $6.40.

Dancer's Image earned $122,600 for Fuller in winning his third straight $100,000 race. Previously he won the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie and the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct. He has earned a total of $359,236.

The Dripping Horn

That old saw about whose ox is being gored has passed into oblivion, it seems. What really matters today is whose horn is dripping the blood. Never has the double standard of political morality in America been so sickening as in recent months.

Let's take the matter of the Pueblo, for example. Can you imagine the performances we would be witnessing if it had been the present Greek regime, or Nasser's Egypt, that seized the ship? Suppose Franco had pirated the Pueblo? Picture the scene if it had been Chiang Kai-shek. The TV screen would have been filled with parades and placards, teach-ins and "demonstrations." There would be no minute's peace until the dastardly act was atoned for.

But North Korea? Why that is one of the People's Democratic Republics, bless you, and it's piracy only means that the United States was guilty of provocation.

And what about the Tet New Year offensive in South Vietnam? For weeks the enemy virtuously prepared for the national Holiday and vowed solemnly that the truce it proposed would be recognized. Nary a placard appeared in the streets of US cities to protest that treachery. The toll: Three dozen South Vietnamese cities were sacked in a surprise attack, at least 2,500 civilians killed, something more than 8,000 wounded, and nearly 70,000 civilians left homeless. Repeat, those are the figures for civilians.

Did the great peace-loving liberal-left in the United States protest?

Not one peep. Not one angry word. There comes to mind another era in our history when this elaborate mechanism for propaganda was set in motion. Many who are marching and protesting today are too young to remember Communist agitation for war against the hated Nazis as white heat. Then, the Hitler-Stalin pact was announced. The silence was deafening. Speechless discomfort took hold of the protesters and it ended only when Hitler's legions invaded the USSR. Only then did the agitators return to the streets, to demand that we save the USSR.

Could it happen again? Indeed it could. Suppose Mao began throwing atomic missiles and bombs at Siberian and Russian cities. The protesters would be out before sunset demanding that our forces in Vietnam, Taiwan, Korea and Japan forthwith start marching on Peking, and overrun Hanoi and Pyongyang on the way.

What Are They Hiding?

This is probably the only time in your whole lifetime that you'll read an editorial comment in this space about men's fashions.

The rage this year, according to the slick magazines, is a jacket for the male which is known as the "Nehru" jacket. Actually, it was introduced as the "Mao" jacket, but the creators quickly realized that the Red dictator wasn't exactly the most popular guy in this country and all the advertising campaigns were cancelled, and the Mao jacket became the Nehru jacket. But it's the same jacket, and it's described as something that came west out of the east.

That's not quite the whole story, and here is how we know. The late Rodney Gilbert used to delight in telling the story of a visit to Peking a few weeks before the death of the venerable Dr. Sun-Yat-sen, the famed founder of the Republic of China. Mr. Gilbert had gone there specifically to interview Dr. Sun, an old friend of a quarter-century at least. And when he entered the hotel suite, he was taken aback to see Dr. Sun wearing what is now described as the Nehru jacket.

"What in the world are you wearing, Dr. Sun?" Rodney asked in some amazement. "You look like one of the bellhops in the lobby downstairs."

Dr. Sun immediately unlatched the fastener at the throat. "But Rodney, observe. No shirt. It saves laundry."

And that inevitably comes to mind when one of those Nehru jacket-clad fashion plates appears on TV these days, or gets his picture in the paper attending the latest congregation of space-grabbers. There, for all the world to see, is a guy who didn't have a clean shirt to wear, and grabbed the monstrosity imported into China from the USSR half-a-century ago and which has finally found its way to the fashion marts of big-town, USA.

For a guy who has no shirt, or is too lazy to wash his neck,

VENGEANCE BREEDS

"This country was built on the backs of black men! Cotton was king when we were brought to this country as slaves. Black men built this country. So if the country does not take care of the black men the way it should, then the country should be burned!"

This lesson in vitriol was delivered to me the other night during a speech at a leading university. Of course, the charge is, at best, only partly true and, at worst, a complete distortion of the facts. It is to suggest that no one but the blacks did any work; that cotton was king throughout the country; that all cotton was tended exclusively by blacks; that all but blacks who obtained wages or profits, obtained them unjustly, based upon black labor.

But let me ignore the distortions and the lack of factual accuracy. It's a fact that many black people believe they are justified in making such statements. They believe their justification rests upon prior exploitation and injustice. And once more the entire idea seems to be that because of some prior injustice (real or only partly real), vengeance and retaliation are now justified.

For a very long time, we have endeavored to perpetuate our society by basing it upon retroactive justice. Evils have occurred and continue to occur in the world. So we see men in pursuit of criminals and like Javert, the retributors are unwilling to let justice reassert itself as a natural force. Instead, they propose to act as agents of justice, as if they held commissions from on high.

Let us look at the black men. Were they treated unjustly? Certainly they were. Were they the only people treated unjustly? By no means. But the black men living today have not been slaves on cotton plantations. Their forefathers may have been, but they are not. And what of the white men? None of them are engaged as plantation slave owners, or as overseers of slaves. A few of their forefathers may have been so employed, but today's generation is guiltless in these happenings.

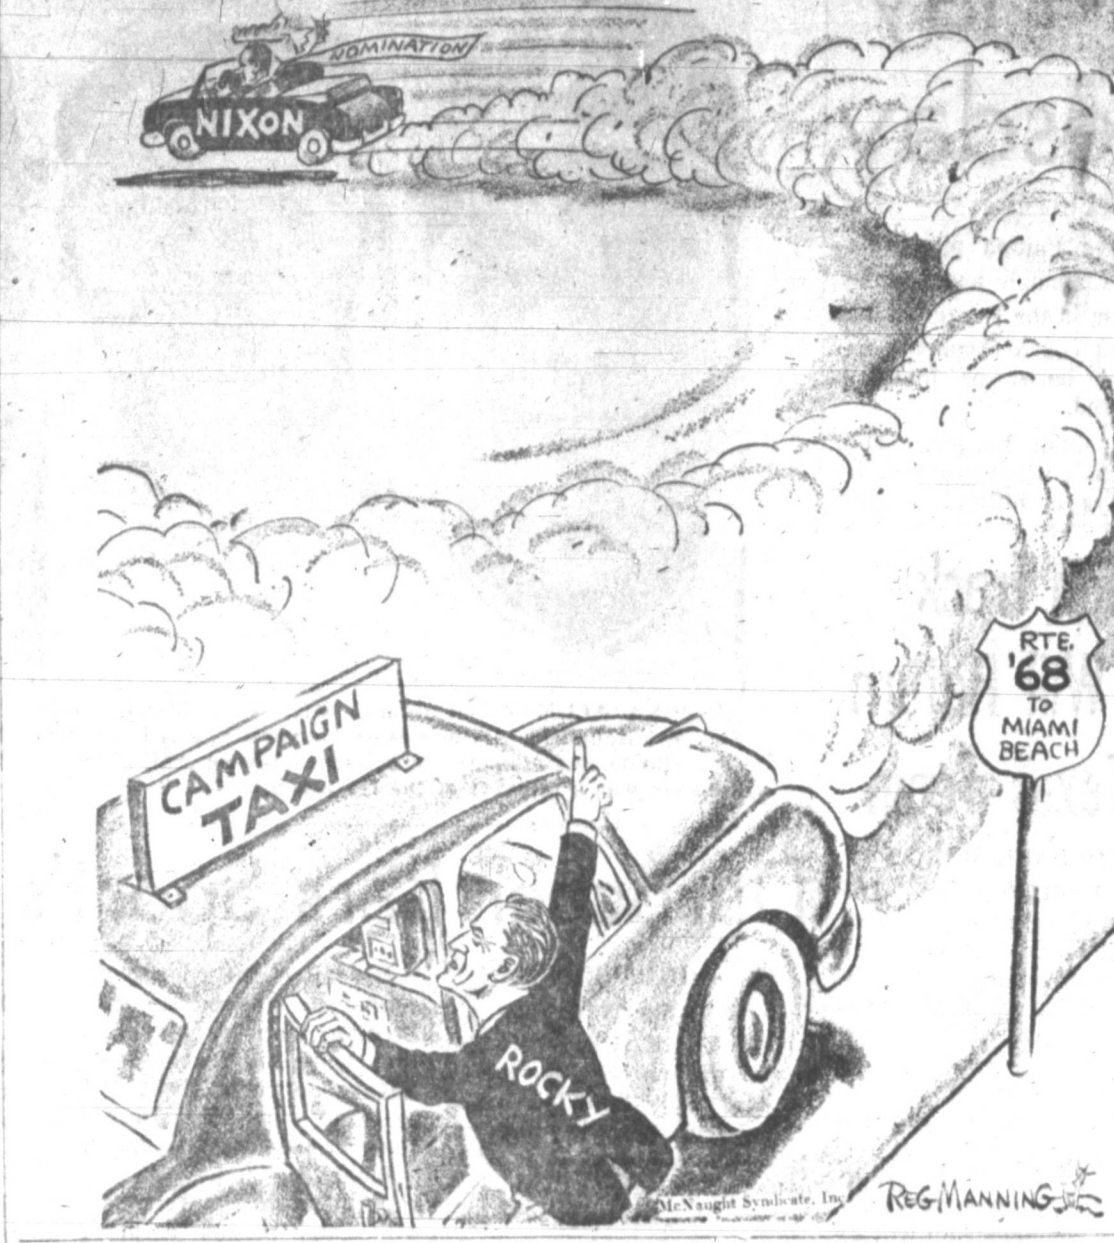

So now we have a generation of blacks, some of whom feel that they should take vengeance against all whites for what some few whites did in respect to the many black slaves a hundred and more years ago. All of the former slaves and all of the former slavemasters are now dead. I am not condoning slavery. I'm pointing out that that vicious practice is no more. So why seek to justify the punishment of today's innocents for the crimes of a few, seven and eight generations (or more) ago?

This is the whole nature of vengeance. And let me spell it out. Suppose the blacks stage a Mau-Mau type of uprising in this country and murder innocent white people. What will be the result of this? It will mean the re-enslavement of what is left of this generation of blacks and, unfortunately, it will mean vengeance taken by whites against the blacks who are engaged in taking vengeance. It might even mean the same senseless type of retaliation wherein blacks are punished because they are black, and not because they have individually done wrong. And this will be justified in the same way the black power advocates are now justifying the idea of black power.

Vengeance breeds vengeance. In time, any evil can be justified on the grounds that a prior evil now validates an extension of evil. And where do you stop that mad pendulum? There is no stopping it, unless we resolve finally to abandon vengeance as a core of societal arrangements. If we resolve not to take vengeance anymore, will this eliminate evil and crime? Of course not. It will simply remove the multiplication factor. Evil and crime will continue. But their incidence will be reduced. And perhaps, at this unhappy juncture, that is the best that can be hoped for.

In war, as Clausewitz showed, every act is an act of retaliation. There are always prior evils to be stamped out. And the stamping out is comprised of evil. The drama continues. The curtain rises on a new act. But the plot is the same. Only the names of the innocents are added to the roll of victims. And

Dangers Seen in 'Poor People's March' To Law, Order, Health, D. C. Budget; Byrd Demands Injunction

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The Johnson Administration is being bluntly warned that a number of dire developments can be anticipated unless the so-called "marchers," particularly women and children, and to take care of them in case of illness, straggled their shoulders. It was clearly obvious they are not only doing nothing about this urgent problem, but intend to thrust it on either the D.C. or federal government, or both.

Senator Byrd, in calling the administration's attention to this ominous situation, pointed out: "An outbreak of typhoid or dysentery, or such killer diseases as spinal meningitis, all of which are spread and flourish under such primitive conditions as are envisioned, not only could seriously endanger the health of the poor people who are brought here, but the health of the citizens of the metropolitan area as well."

Byrd has been urging Clark for several weeks to move for an injunction. He has discussed the matter with him personally, and his latest appeal is in the form of a telegram stressing the potentially disastrous problems the "march" presents. As detailed by Byrd, they are as follows:

(1) A breakdown of law and order, with a new eruption of rioting, looting, burning and homicides. Washington is still recovering from last month's destructive outbreaks following the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King. Cost to the city in extra police, firemen and other emergency expenditures alone is estimated at more than $10 million.

Top officials of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) admit nothing is being done to exclude hoodlums, activists, agitators and other undesirable elements from the "march."

There are only two criteria for participation: "a SCLC spokesman told this column. "First, the people must be poor. Second, they must be in reasonably good health. We are not going to dig into anyone's personal background or ideology. We are assuming that everyone who takes part is sincere, law-abiding and believes in nonviolence."

MORE OF SAME—(2) Serious public health menace due to lack of adequate sewage, water, refrigeration and medical facilities for the thousands of "Poor marchers" to be housed in makeshift camps during the capital's torrid summer heat. Local hospitals already are overburdened with indigent cases. 80 per cent of them Negroes. This year's cost to the District of these patients is around $24 million.

Foreign Relations Committee — both vociferous "doves" and opponents of this long-pending legislation.

Inside indications are that this covert hatcheting was done at the instigation of the State Department, which has vigorously opposed the measure. Last year, when it was pending in the House, the department got Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., to pigeonhole it, although the bill had been approved 22 to 2 by the Agriculture Committee and unanimously by the Rules Committee. Threat of an open revolt finally compelled the 75-year-old Bostonian to allow the measure to be considered by the House — which quickly approved it 274 to 64.

In the Senate this year, the State Department resorted to the same stalling tactics. But Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., principal sponsor, after three months of persistent battling, finally forced the bill through the Agriculture Committee by an 8 to 7 vote.

Until late last week, it was pending on the Senate calendar, awaiting its turn for consideration — with passage certain once vote was reached, as happened in the House.

It was at this point that the State Department, with the connivance of Mansfield and Fulbright, pulled its slick play that spells finis for the legislation unless this astonishing parliamentary jobbery can somehow be undone. It's a remarkable story, as follows:

Early in the week, Sen. Montoya entered a hospital for exploratory surgery. Several days later, while recuperating and cheered by a favorable medical report, wholly unbeknownst to him Mansfield suddenly rose in the Senate, when few members were present, and quietly had the bill referred to Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee.

It's Up To You

How Evil Grows Strong
Again and again it has been demonstrated throughout history that evil prospers when right-thinking men lose the courage to oppose it. When good men are unwilling to overthrow evil, it grows stronger and stronger and eventually enslaves the people. In other words, he who will not fight for the right is destined to be overcome by evil. The action of our country in tolerating and even aiding the Communists to enslave the people of Russia, instead of destroying the Bolshevik movement at its inception, is responsible for the desperate situation we are facing today.

Illegal strikes that are permitted, with no punishment for the leaders, and the seizure of our ships with no reprisal against the guilty parties is evidence that our country has lost the will to resist evil. If further evidence is needed, we have but to note the soft treatment meted out to traitors in our midst who are openly advocating the overthrow of our government by force and violence. To tolerate treason of this kind is to show the enemy that we are too weak seriously to resist him.

The soft policy in Korea led to the war in Vietnam. The same soft policy there for the last five years is leading to future wars of conquest. The pacifists in our country are helping to convince the Communists that we are too weak to resist.

of the contents of the intestines. Such concentrated foods as sugar, cheese and fats neither stimulate nor hinder the bowel. Constipation at any age is due not to the presence of certain foods, but to the lack of sufficient bulk or roughage.

Q—Whenever I am constipated, I have a headache. A laxative relieves this. What laxative is best?
A—Constipation may cause difficult or painful evacuation but it is blamed unjustly for many other symptoms. Some other cause for your headaches should be sought.

Q—I had pains in my right side and my doctor said I had a sluggish bowel. He has me taking Surfak. I am better, but I still have abdominal discomfort. What do you advise?
A—Surfak, a sulfosuccinate, is a nonirritating, nonlaxative drug that softens the stool. Taken in too large a dosage, however, it can lead to over-emptying the bowel. You should try to regulate your bowel by adjusting the amount of vegetable and fruit in your diet. If you must take a sulfosuccinate, try using a smaller dose or switch to a psyllium preparation (Konyl or Metamucil).

Q—I have chronic constipation and have been taking Dialose every day. About once a week I don't take it because my stools become too loose. I have also taken Colace. Is there a better drug?
A—Dialose and Colace are both sulfosuccinate preparations and for recommendations see answer to previous question.

and that they have only to continue fighting a little longer and our effort will collapse. If America does not recover from that fatal philosophy, we face defeat and enslavement. It is doubtful that civilization ever would have arisen in the world if right-thinking men had not been willing to put down evil. Now we seem to have lost the will to do so. Unless we recover it, the future is dark indeed.

bill, and Fulbright ignored it during the three months it was deliberated on by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

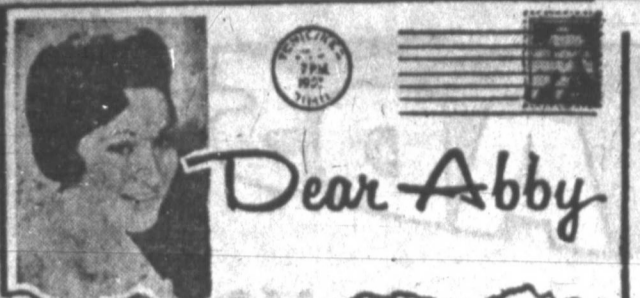

In Senate circles, it's being taken for granted that he was put up to this move by the State Department, which is doing its utmost to block the legislation while endeavoring to negotiate a resumption of diplomatic relations with Nasser. The department argues that enactment of the bill barring the Egyptian extra-long staple cotton would slam the door on any chances for renewed diplomatic ties.

Next apparently pre-arranged move was made by Mansfield. With few senators present, and no one paying attention, the Democratic floor leader got "unanimous consent" to have Montoya's measure removed from the calendar and turned over to Fulbright.

Not only was this almost unprecedented, but it was done behind Montoya's prostrate back. Without giving him the slightest hint of what they were pulling off, Mansfield and Fulbright did this covert hatcheting on a bill he had succeeded in putting on the Senate calendar over the vehement opposition of the State Department.

What happens next is conjectural. It will be several weeks before Montoya returns to the Senate. His aides say he is furious and will demand the "unanimous consent" be reversed. Whether he can do that is anyone's guess.
