London Magistrate Orders Ray Held Without Bail

Extradition Efforts To Be Made Later

By SCOTT B. BRUNS
LONDON (UPI) — James Earl Ray, the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., today was half-dragged into a magistrate's court where he was ordered held without bail on gun and passport violations in Britain. U.S. efforts to extradite him will come later, possibly this week.

Ray, a 40-year-old American escaped convict, then was taken under heavy guard to Brixton Prison to await another hearing June 8. His appearance in court lasted only 82 seconds during which he either scowled or screwed his face into a half grin as he answered "no" to two questions.

U.S. extradition efforts will not have to wait until the second hearing. Embassy officials said both the states of Missouri and Tennessee were preparing extradition papers—jail break in Missouri and the King murder charge in Memphis, Tenn.

Decision Not Made
American sources indicated the decision had not yet been made as to which, if either, of these states' possible extradition claims would be used. They said Ray could simplify things by waiving extradition—though he has not spoken on this matter—or Britain could simply deport him as an undesirable.

The British Foreign Office said it understood U.S. authorities were "in the process" of applying for Ray's extradition and that such a request would be "judged on its merits."

U.S. Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson, Jr., who flew to London Sunday to try to speed up extradition, met with senior Scotland Yard officials after the hearing to discuss steps to be taken towards extradition. The formal request will be made by the State Department through the embassy.

Vinson met with Ray briefly on Sunday but American sources said he did not ask him whether he would waive extradition and the embassy said it still does not know Ray's attitude.

A formal request for extradition would be made by the State Department directly to the British Foreign Office before or after Ray appears for his second hearing June 18. The embassy indicated such a request probably would not be ready within the next "couple of days."

Vinson refused to see newsmen today and the embassy refused to disclose any information on Ray's activities nor even his whereabouts before his arrest at 11:15 a.m. Saturday.

Search Everyone
Ray was brought into court by 12 police guards, almost shuffling as they propelled him along into a court room where for the first time in memory every person entering the magistrate's court was searched by detectives. The detectives themselves were armed which is unusual for Britain.

Magistrate Frank Milton, especially careful of Ray's civil rights championed by King in the United States, asked Ray if (See LONDON, Page 3)

Heavy Rain Hits Area
Scattered thunderstorms with heavy rain, hail and some tornado funnels hit the Panhandle area again yesterday. No serious damage was reported in the vicinity of Pampa.

Pampa has received .54 inch of moisture since Saturday night. Some surrounding areas, however, reported amounts of more than an inch, with some hail.

Lefors reported 1.87 inch with some sprinkling of marble-size hail and some high winds. Damage, if any, was slight, Mrs. D. C. Reed, correspondent, said.

Twelve miles east of town, Mrs. Roy Huff received 2.12 inches on her farm, with a sprinkling of hail. She reported a total of 8.12 inches rain during the last rain spell, which started last week.

Southwest of town, Mrs. Hubert H. Keahey reported 1.20 inch.

Near Tulia, Highway 87 was closed and a railroad track was under water after a downfall of 4.50 inches. Tulia itself reported about 3 inches with some golf ball-size hail. A tornado funnel was sighted east of the town on the ground, but it apparently caused no damage.

Other funnels were spotted Sunday morning near Goodnight in Armstrong County and near Edmondson in Hale County. No damage was reported.

At Panhandle there was some damage to crops and gardens after high winds, hail and 1.10 inch of rain struck the area.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Amarillo issued two tornado and severe thunderstorm warnings yesterday. The first one ended at noon. The second one was issued in the early afternoon and extended until after midnight.

Saigon Hit Again By Viet Cong's Deadly Rockets

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong rained deadly rockets on Saigon for the 10th straight day today. South Vietnamese troops broke the guerrillas' nine-day hold on a portion of the Cholon district and 34 of the Communists surrendered en masse, military spokesmen said.

As the war continued Gen. William C. Westmoreland, departing U.S. commander, said a military victory in Vietnam was impossible "in a classic sense." Westmoreland said "trends are favorable" in the war but he cautioned against expecting an early Communist defeat.

New Communist rocket attacks killed eight persons and wounded 33 others overnight, military spokesmen said. While the rockets fell on the capital, government rangers and police continued their sweep through a six-block section of Cholon, the big Chinese suburb, and spokesmen said Communist resistance had collapsed.

The spokesmen said today 34 Viet Cong surrendered en masse Sunday and another five were captured in sweeps today. More than 1,000 refugees were allowed back in the battered area to recover what goods were salvagable from the rubble of their homes.

Fourteen 122mm rockets fell on the city early today, destroying six houses in the heavily populated northwest section. All of the casualties were Vietnamese civilians, and the toll raised to 59 the number killed and 184 the number wounded since the nightly shelling of Saigon began May 31.

At his news conference Westmoreland said it was "almost an impossibility" to prevent the shelling because of the difficult terrain around Saigon. He said the rockets and mortar rounds were "indiscriminate" (See SAIGON, Page 3)

Pampans' Daughter Is Texas College Queen

Miss Ruth Ann Rucker, who recently moved to Pampa, was named last month as Texas College Queen. This week she is competing with 49 other state candidates for the National College Queen title.

Miss Rucker is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Rucker, 1720 Beech. The Rev. Rucker is the new pastor at Harrah Methodist Church. They are formerly of Lubbock.

RUTH ANN RUCKER ... national finalist

The 20-year-old coed, who was a sophomore home and family life major at Texas Technological College in Lubbock, was chosen by national judges on the basis of her scholastic achievements and leadership in campus activities.

As a finalist in the national contest, Miss Rucker received a trip to New York City, Washington, D. C., and West Palm Beach, Fla. Final competition will be held June 17 at West Palm Beach. The final hour is scheduled to be televised by NBC, beginning at 8 p.m.

At New York City the contestants were to attend several Broadway plays and visit backstage with the stars. They also were to tour the United Nations. In Washington they will tour various government facilities, including the White House.

The contestants will be judged on intelligence, as well as cooking and clothing selection ability. They will take an aptitude test and participate in forums on such topics as government, current events and campus activities.

At Texas Tech Miss Rucker is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and will be president of this year. She also is a member of the Tech American Home Economics Association, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and the Women's Service Organization.

Some of the prizes to be awarded contestants include a trip to Europe, a 1968-model convertible and a fashion wardrobe.

Politics May Be 'Cooled Off' For At Least Six More Weeks

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It may be six weeks or longer before the 1968 presidential campaign again builds up to the pitch it had reached before the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The assassination of the second-running Democratic contender is the obvious reason the remaining aspirants for both major party nominations will be more subdued.

Although all of the candidates probably will resume political activity by the end of June, the intense excitement built up during the long run of spring primaries may not be reached again until just before or even during the national nominating conventions in August.

New Phase
It also is a fact that the race

Killing May Have Been By Avengers

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Negro service station attendant was arrested and charged with murder today in the fatal shooting of a Jordanian grocer, believed slain by avengers of the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Aaron Myers, 19, one of two suspects in the Saturday night pistol slaying of Alder Rayyan, 55, was arrested before dawn at the South Side station where he (See KILLING, Page 3) would have entered a different, less public, phase after the June 4 California primary. California was the last of the big state contests in which the candidates had to conduct full scale election campaigns to seek convention delegate votes.

A new phase, in a manner of speaking, would have gone indoors—into the halls in states where party leaders and the rank-and-file choose or instruct their delegations by party convention.

About half of the Democratic and a smaller proportion of the Republican delegations remain to be selected.

Kennedy's death does not seem to change the nomination prospects of either party. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey still is the clear Democratic leader; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon still is the heavy favorite to win the Republican nomination.

Humphrey Leads Votes
At the time of the assassination, Humphrey was leading 56 1/2 delegates votes, Kennedy had 39 3/4, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy 255 and George C. Wallace 255 with 1,312 needed to nominate.

For the Republicans, with 667 required for nomination, Nixon had 392, Gov. Ronald Reagan 110, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller 77 and Harold E. Stassen 1.

Kennedy's convention was nearly half of which came from California, will go to one of the remaining candidates and there will be intense competition for them.

Their Son Wrote 'Goodby' Letter Before He Died

ARVADA, Colo. (UPI)—Their son died last March in Vietnam, but it was only a few days ago that Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parsons received a final letter from him.

The letter was tucked in a Bible included in personal possessions his buddies mailed home from Vietnam. The possessions included a tape recorder and tapes of messages to his family and friends.

Among the other items was a Purple Heart which Marine Corpsman Douglas B. Parsons had won. The 21-year-old had never mentioned it to his parents.

The letter said:
"Dear Mom and Dad,
"This will be my last letter. It will be delivered to you in case of my death."
"Believe me, this is an extremely hard letter to write. But I must face reality. I want you please to remember two things. I hope they will both help and comfort you.

"First, I died for a cause in which I fully believe—in a fashion that goes with the Parsons' name.

"Second, when I die, I fully believe that my soul will go to Heaven. I believe in God and I believe He looks after his loved ones. So you know that I am really all right and I will see you both some day . . .

"I want you to know that I love you all very much. You are the most wonderful family that anyone can ever ask for, and I thank God that I was so fortunate.

"Please don't let this create a bitter feeling in your hearts for the service or for the war. I guess it is something that will have to be done and men will have to die to do it.

"I know the blow will be terrible, but I am praying that God will give you the strength to face the fact and he will console you.

"I love you all so much, Doug."

"But the enemy can be attrited, the price can be raised

Westmoreland Says Victory In 'Classical Sense' Is Not Possible

By RICHARD V. OLIVER
SAIGON (UPI)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland today said an allied military victory in Vietnam is impossible "in a classic sense." He also warned against expecting an early Communist defeat.

"Trends are favorable, but it is unrealistic to expect a quick and early defeat of the Hanoi-led enemy," the departing American commander in Vietnam told newsmen in a prepared statement.

"Asked if military victory was possible, Westmoreland then said with a stern face, "Not in a classic sense, because of our national policy of not expanding the war.

—and it is being raised to the point that it could be intolerable to the enemy."

The general leaves Tuesday to become Army chief of staff. He said in his statement: "At this time our military posture is at its height since our commitment. We are now capable of bringing major military pressure on the enemy.

"This we are doing and the enemy is beginning to show the effects. The Vietnamese armed forces are growing stronger in size and effectiveness. Resolve is still the key to success," Westmoreland said.

He declined to say when and to what extent U.S. troops might be withdrawn from Vietnam. But he said that by

French Election May Cloud 'Peace Talks' By US, Reds

PARIS (UPI)—Diplomatic experts said the official start today of the French election campaign clouded the future of the U.S.-North Vietnamese preliminary peace talks continuing here.

They said the talks might have to move if President Charles de Gaulle's regime is defeated.

The weeks of student rioting and labor strikes leading to the elections did not interfere with the parley.

But the sudden eruption of trouble in France did not aid the calm atmosphere the diplomats planned for when they came to Paris. The experts said that if the Communist-backed leftwing defeats De Gaulle the neutral atmosphere for the talks might be swept away.

De Gaulle's offer of Paris as a talk site was accepted by Washington and Hanoi on the grounds that his regime stood half way between the positions of the two belligerents.

Further spoiling the calm, the Vietnam War itself may become an indirect issue in the campaigning—which is shaping up as a straight contest between Gaullism and communism.

While keeping an eye on the French scene, both negotiating teams today were preparing for their next working session.

The chief U.S. negotiator, Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, was expected to confer today with President Lyndon B. Johnson before returning here for Wednesday's session.

late next year South Vietnamese forces might be taking on "a greater share of the load and possibly this could trade off some of our troops."

He said the war was not a stalemate. "Just look at the number of enemy being destroyed, arms and ammunition caches being captured. Our losses, which are relatively smaller, relative to enemy losses, the enemy is showing great recklessness," Westmoreland said.

The general said Communist troops are defecting "because they're getting suicidal orders from Hanoi."

"I'm not suggesting that they (the Communists) are on the verge of collapse."

Czechs Suspicious About Presence Of Soviet Troops In Their Country

PRAGUE (UPI) — Many Czechs remained suspicious today about the presence of Soviet troops in the country despite government assurances they had come only for maneuvers.

Sunday long lines of Red army trucks were seen on the road from Sobotka to Jicin in northern Bohemia. They moved in the direction of the Mimov army training ground about 35 miles northeast of Prague. No tanks appeared in the convoy.

Warsaw Pact staff maneuvers involving Russian, Hungarian, Polish and Czechoslovak forces are scheduled on Czechoslovakian territory later this month. Newspapers repeatedly have told Czechs that the stationing of foreign troops in Czechoslovakia is only a temporary measure and that the units will leave the country at the end of the exercises.

The presence of Soviet troops has raised fears of Soviet intervention against the liberalized Czech regime. Increasing the doubts of many Czechs were reports that from 10,000 to 12,000 Soviet and Polish soldiers would be stationed permanently along the Czech-West German border.

In a television interview Sunday Premier Oldrich Cernik said that "a democratization of Czechoslovakia would not be realized to full satisfaction if it is not accompanied by economic successes." Cernik said the main task of the new government was to repair the mistakes of the past, and that the units will leave the country at the end of the exercises.

3 Dramatic Rumors In Mourning Capital

By ROBERT S. ALLEN WASHINGTON, D.C. (Sp) — Behind the shroud of official bereavement, the Capital grapevine is reverberating with three dramatic reports:

(1) President Johnson, Vice President Humphrey and Senator Eugene McCarthy reputedly were to meet during the weekend, following the funeral of Senator Robert Kennedy, in an effort to reach a "consensus on the Democratic presidential race." According to this story, McCarthy is prepared to drop his candidacy in return for "certain understandings" on policies and future appointments. Presumably these involve major issues, such as the Vietnam war and pressing domestic problems, and a possible Humphrey cabinet.

(2) Vice President Humphrey is to publicly announce that he will ask 36-year-old Senator Edward Kennedy, Mass., to be his running mate. Close Humphrey advisers are said to be urging such a public statement in order to bolster his drive, already actively underway behind the scenes, to win over delegates pledged to "Ted's" late brother.

(3) Representative Charles Goodell, 42-year-old upstate New Yorker, is Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's first choice for appointment to Robert Kennedy's Senate seat. His successor will hold office until Dec. 1970. A ten-year congressional veteran, Goodell is third-ranking Republican on the Education and Labor Committee and chairman of the GOP Planning and Research Committee. He rates high with his colleagues on both sides of the aisle as an authority in education, anti-poverty and manpower training.

Intimates of Humphrey and McCarthy would not comment on the report of their meeting with President Johnson. Significantly, however, an authoritative Humphrey source did confirm that he and McCarthy already have had a talk.

It was asserted McCarthy took the initiative on that. "It is my understanding," this informant said, "that what is under consideration is a kind of moratorium rather than an outright withdrawal by McCarthy. But things are still in a

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My brother's widow has taken up driving a motorcycle—at age 61!

She was married to my brother for 30 years and has always been a sensible woman, so naturally when she started with this motorcycle business I became concerned.

She says it's great fun, much safer than riding a horse, and she has met a lot of interesting young people through her new hobby.

Have you or any of your readers ever heard of a 61-year-old woman taking up the motorcycle just for the fun of it?

If this woman is getting a little nutty, her lawyer ought to be advised because my brother left a sizable fortune to which she is the sole heir. Please advise me.

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: If you suspect that your brother's widow is getting "a little nutty," watch for other evidence. Are you sure you aren't more interested in the rocks in her safety deposit box than those in her head?

DEAR ABBY: I take issue with your advice to "Distressed," who wanted her husband to leave graduate school and take a job so she could raise a family.

I have seen too many impatient wives drive their husbands out of graduate school so they could enjoy their "dreams" of color TV, two new cars, a family, and a home of their own—right now. These girls do not realize that their husband's potential income is immediately reduced as is his ability to advance in his profession. He is apt to be frustrated professionally in middle age, and if he is unhappy in his work, his home life will also suffer.

The couples who are willing to scrimp and work hard for a few additional years in order to complete the husband's education to the fullest will reap benefits many times over in terms of income, professional and general satisfaction for the remainder of their lives.

Sincerely Yours,
I. E. DAYTON
(Vice President for Academic Affairs, Montana State U., Bozeman, Montana)

DEAR DR. DAYTON: Thank you for your fine letter. What you say is true, but my correspondent complained that her husband was a "professional student," who preferred the security of remaining in school indefinitely to getting out and supporting his wife and starting a family. In other words he is man was losing his ambition by "degrees."

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and a junior at Shattuck school in Parkbuit, Minn., and I would like to get something off my chest.

Sometimes I get very angry with a few of your generation for leaving the world in such a mess for my generation to clean up. I also get mad at some of my own friends at times for being so childlike and cowardly. When I see "hippies" I think the Lord there aren't more of them. I mean, who would mind the store while we were freaking out somewhere if we were all like that?

I also get frustrated with draft-card burners. Imagine what our men in Vietnam who are fighting and dying must think of that? If a man isn't willing to fight for his freedom, he does not deserve to be free. As far as I'm concerned, my draft card is my deed to freedom, and if I were to burn it, I would no longer be free.

Sincerely yours,
BILL HUMLEKER

(FOR TUESDAY JUNE 11)

GENERAL TENDENCIES:—The day finds you able to handle whatever has to do with getting your life on a more solid and secure structure and, especially, are you able to get rid of whatever is standing in the way of your progress and your development in the world of outside activity. The evening finds you under fine aspects for discussion.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Out to see that bigwig who has the wherewithal to help you with change and give you some right out with what it is you have in mind. Then show your finest talents with heavy, progressive people. Your advancement depends on you.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) —You have found it difficult to get certain benefits before, but now they are within easy grasp. However, do not be so narrow-minded. Listen to what partners have to suggest without being so conceited.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) —Do you know exactly what it is that higher-ups expect you to do, and are you being as precise as is necessary? They sit down with you and talk over how you really can communicate. Some more affection.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 22) —Showing others you are cooperative with associates makes a big hit with officials. Even better, if you make arrangements for the future. Then out for that chummy dinner together. Have fun.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 23) —Stop fooling around and get busy with all those duties ahead of you. Co-workers are in a fine mood for recreation. They sit down with you and talk over how you really can communicate. Some more affection.

VIRGO: (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) —Don't be lax about taking advantage of an opportunity for recreation that presents itself. Show that you are on the alert. Make it really up in your stride, up through in a.m. Show that you have grace, vim.

LIBRA: (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) —Ideal day to do something about those nagging issues around the house that are not to your liking. Take care you do not literally bite at one another who is not feeling well. Show concern instead.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) —You have a better way of operating at home and in business. You want to be happier, have more drive, and a little more dynamic action on your part is good where partners are concerned. Don't be a doormat.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) —You have got to be careful with your money or you could spend it much faster than it comes in, and that is when you really get into trouble. Listen to what that huddy partner has to suggest. You can make more money that way.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 24 to Jan. 23) —Step out to the social affairs that really appeal to you and have a delightful time. Forget the old fogies. A little time spent at beauty shop first is good. A good massage would do wonders for you.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 24 to Feb. 23) —Sit down for awhile and decide just what it is you want to accomplish in the days ahead, and then put the wheels rolling in the right direction. Run out and help that pal in distress. Be kind.

PISCES: (Feb. 24 to Mar. 23) —If you have a nice talk with higher-ups you have known for a long time, you find they give you the knowledge you need for bigger success. If you get out socially, make sure the people you see are serious. The other type could get you in real trouble.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those naturally practical young people and have much ability at selling both of which attributes can lead to real success. Teach early in study theory very thoroughly so that the most can be accomplished during the lifetime. Much organizational ability here. A field of business fine for these.

Normal Girl A Misfit?
"I am 19," the letter says, "and I hold a good job and pay my own way. There are lots of us, although our college friends have forgotten us, just as writers like you in newspapers and magazines and television shows have forgotten us. Where do I fit? I am not a college dropout, or mentally retarded or a teen-ager who has gone astray. I don't need 'improved job skills' because I have a good secretarial job. I may be searching for things like most other people my age, but generally, I would say I am happy. I am irritated, however, to find I am a forgotten person."

—Helena

I think she is right. The young adult who has not dropped out but simply gone ahead in life has generally been forgotten. But, after all, adults are so wrapped up in the problems of those who cannot of will not "make it." Helena, don't you understand the fashion is to find excuses for failures instead of giving praise to successes?

What are we going to do about you, young friend? I can't feel sorry for you, because you don't write like a self-pitying mourner. Also, we can't save you from drugs or rescue you from some dangerous political society. We cannot recommend setting up a special school to teach you job skills and, if you are getting a good salary, we can hardly put you on the welfare rolls.

Well, she has my sympathy. She is one of those well-adjusted, normal girls—the kind who does not give her parents any problems. However, thinking about it, THERE is a problem. Just think how her poor parents must feel when they are at a party. Other parents can talk about the miserable showing their children are making and

Blonde Artist Splits Wood With Expert Karate Chops

NEW YORK (UPI) — Linda Lutes Howe can split a wooden block with one hand and paint pictures with the other.

The small blonde artist lives with her husband in a lower East Village loft. She holds a green belt in the gentle art of Karate and bruises on her arms to prove it.

Between one-woman art exhibitions in New York and Montreal—she competed in a karate tournament at Madison Square Garden.

"It isn't true that men like helpless, weak women," Mrs. Howe said. "Very often they are just fascinated and want to see if I've got muscled forearms. Maybe it's the idea of violence that interests them."

She said mixing the "art forms" of painting and karate helps her in both fields.

"I started karate mainly for the exercise, off and on, about three years ago," she said. "Gradually it became an art form and I found it very fascinating."

"It's strange, too, that as I became a stronger person, not so much physically but as a personality, I found my skill at karate improving. When that happened so did my painting," she said.

The New York artist is reluctant to place her work in any category popular at the moment. She said it does not fall into any movement "that has been done, but will fall into a movement of what will be."

She uses every inch of canvas space, with the subject often spilling out of one frame and onto another. Much of her work is in this diptych and triptych form.

"New York is full of minimal art at the moment," she said. "Lots of blank space, letting the observer fill in the space for himself."

"It is somewhat like walking into an undecorated room. It has a nice feel to it, but I can not endorse this kind of painting. It does not function well for me."

there Helena's parents are — stuck with a lovely, normal girl.

Maybe we could come up with an hour-long television special. We could call it Parents' Plight — An Apology for Normal Children.

No, I don't think I can bring it off, Helena. You see, I don't think people have forgotten you at all. I think they are merely refusing to see you. They can't feel sorry for you and they can't hate you and they can't continue to do to your kind, my dear, is to ignore you.

BRAKE SERVICE offered at Buckingham Auto Service Center is the finest available. They use the new Star Ventilating Brake system. Pictured above is the equipment used for installing brakes on your car, and the men who service your needs when you stop at Buckingham's Auto Center. At the machine is Bill Turner.

Star Ventilating Brakes Sold At Buckingham Auto Service

When brakes heat up, stopping power goes down. According to Howard Buckingham, that is why your car needs new Star Ventilating Brakes for safe, sure stops.

Brakes that stay cooler give top efficiency. Friction is what stops your car, and friction generates heat. The danger is that too much trapped heat can cause your brakes to fade when you need them most. That is why Buckingham Auto Service Center now features new Star Ventilating Brakes. They are designed to allow free circulation of air through and around brake linings, thus making them cooler for top efficiency. You get smoother, safer stops. Buckingham reminds us that your car is only as safe as the brakes. Therefore he suggests that you have them checked soon at Buckingham's Auto Service Center, 1800 N. Hobart, headquarters for Star Ventilating Brakes.

Buckingham's Auto Service Center also features Sinclair products and Goodyear Tires. They do minor tune-ups. They invite you to stop in and get Committee reports were given by Mrs. Jack Foster, chairman of Volunteers, reported on activities of the Volunteers who are assisting with the school for retarded children this summer.

Swimming enrollment will continue through next Friday. There still are a few vacancies left, and all who are planning on taking swimming lessons are urged to come in and register their children, those who delay may miss out on the date and hour they wish to swim. Mrs. Lois Stephens, RN, has been teaching a group of ladies from the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints in home nursing and care of the sick and injured. There are ten in the class with an additional enrollment of at least five expected in the course next week. The course is free to all interested persons. Mrs. Laura Converse will be the instructor next week.

A card was received from the executive secretary, Mrs. Libby Shotwell, who with her husband daughter and son-in-law were in Memphis, Tenn., at the time. They plan to go to Washington, D. C. before returning to Texas to visit Hemfair. Mrs. Shotwell will be back in the office June 17 in time to start the summer swim session.

THE LIGHTER SIDE Humor In The US

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It is difficult to conduct a column in a lighthearted vein at a time when gaiety is draining out of American life.

I am not referring only to periods of intensive sadness, such as occasioned by the death of Robert Kennedy. The sour mood that is enveloping this country began developing long before that.

How long has it been since you heard anyone described as "happy-go-lucky"? I have known people who were happy-go-lucky even when they were unlucky enough to justify unhappiness. Today hardly anyone has a sunny disposition. The United States has attained a level of prosperity never before achieved by man. And nearly everyone is miserable about it.

Violent Remedy
Public figures deplore violence with utterances that have undertones of violence themselves. "Stop being violent or I'll kill you" seems to be the remedy most often proposed.

Humor still exists, of course, but it is largely of a sardonic nature—the so-called "black humor" popularized by off-Broadway shows, arty movies and numerous books.

The jokes are bitter and carry a social message. Wise men have ceased to relish the "little nonsense now and then" that makes knowledge bearable. Kennedy was an exception to the trend, being one of the few men in public life capable of engendering a blithe spirit.

This is not to say he didn't feel deeply about the issues that concerned him. But like his late brother, John, he managed to have a little fun along the way. And some of it rubbed off on others.

Last Humor
The loss of this lifting element makes his death all the more tragic.

I'm not certain the college students who flocked around his banner fully understood or appreciated that quality. Young people these days suffer from the same up-tightness that inflicts their elders.

"You've got to be committed," they say. Why? Youth should be an interlude of hijinks and tomfoolery. In after years there is world enough and time for as much commitment as the human body can endure.

The saving grace of American politics has always rested on our tradition of not taking politicians too seriously. This is why a political assassination gives us such a shock.

PHILIP HONORED
LONDON (UPI)—Prince Philip marked his 47th birthday today and received as a present from Queen Elizabeth appointment to the Order of Merit, an order founded by King Edward VII in 1902 as a special distinction for eminent men and women.

BARNARD COMMENTS
HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI)—Dr. Christian Barnard, the pioneer South African heart surgeon, said Sunday medicine has "learned a great deal" from heart transplants during the past six months despite the deaths of several patients.

In 1933 President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a bill abolishing the gold standard.

Drysdale Sets Record For Scoreless Innings

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—All he threw seven balls with his first eight pitches but he retired the side and went through the second inning with less difficulty. When he struck out Roberto Pena in the third inning, he had the record and he kept the scoreless string until the fifth inning.

The tall righthanded veteran of the Los Angeles Dodgers was given Sunday off by Manager Walter Alton after he broke one of the oldest marks in a record book Saturday night, running his string to 58 2-3 consecutive shutout innings.

The 31-year-old pitcher went into Saturday night's game against the Phillies under trying circumstances. The Dodgers won the game 5-3 but Drysdale's streak was snapped and he didn't even finish the outing.

Drysdale and his wife, Ginger, were personal friends of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and had visited the Kennedy home. But Drysdale's pitching turn came on the day funeral services were being held for the slain senator.

"I figured Don had been under a great strain and he deserved a day away from the stadium. It was tremendous that he could have kept that streak of consecutive scoreless innings going as long as he did," Alton said.

"I wanted the record badly," Drysdale said. "But I'm relieved that it's over now. When the run scored, I just let down completely. I'm sure it was the mental strain."

Drysdale broke a major league record last Tuesday with his sixth straight shutout, surpassing the record of Guy "Doc" White set in 1904 with the Chicago White Sox.

After that game, Drysdale had 54 consecutive scoreless innings and needed only 2 1-3 more innings to break the mark of 56 set by Walter Johnson of the Washington Senators in 1913.

Houston Star Misses Game

HOUSTON (UPI)—Bob Aspromonte went to an early mass Sunday and decided there was only one decision to make.

Maury Wills said he hated to be put in such a position, but said afterwards he was "satisfied that I have done what I have to do."

Rusty Staub would say nothing and drove north from Houston to his lake home.

All three Aspromonte and Staub of the Houston Astros and Wills of the Pittsburgh Pirates—refused to play in Sunday's game between the two teams out of deference to the memory of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Spec Richardson, general manager of the Astros, said he had not "made up my mind" whether to take action against Aspromonte or Staub.

Pirate manager Larry Shepard referred action in regard to Wills' to general manager Joe Brown.

Roberto Clemente of the Pirates, who originally said he would not play because President Johnson had declared Sunday a day of mourning in respect for Kennedy, changed his mind and took the field as the Pirates won 3-1.

"I didn't want to play," said Clemente after talking with Shepard. "But I played because the team has been going bad and I thought it might need me."

"I know I made the right decision," said Aspromonte, who listened to the game at home. "My conscious is completely clear. I know I did the right thing. It builds up inside of you for three days. It's impossible to throw away."

Wills sat in the Pirate clubhouse in the deep recesses of the huge Astrodome during the game.

"I feel bad that I've been put in this position and that this had to come about the way it has," he said after his teammates filed back into the dressing room. "I'm acting on my own convictions and beliefs, and these are the things that I have to live with throughout my life.

"Only time will tell the results. But whatever the results I feel satisfied that I have done what I have to do.

"If there are any consequences, they are secondary to what I feel I must do. It seems today that if you don't go along with everybody else you're not right."

Wills said he had planned to help the Kennedy campaign later in the summer.

Staub could not be reached for comment on his actions. A teammate said Staub had left town Sunday and had gone to a lake retreat near Cleveland, Tex.

Big Don Thinks Dodgers May Go All Way

By FRED DOWN
 UPI Sports Writer

Apparently nobody in the National League believes that Don Drysdale is right when he says the Los Angeles Dodgers "can go all the way"—except the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I think we've got a great chance to go all the way," said Drysdale Saturday night after stretching his string of consecutive scoreless innings to a major league record of 58 2-3 innings. "What we really need is some hitting at the right time."

The Dodgers got just that Sunday when they stretched their own streak to seven victories in a row with a 4-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies and moved to within two games of the first-place St. Louis Cardinals. They also got it from some unexpected sources.

Paul Popovich hit the first home run of his major league career to tie the score at 3-3 in the ninth. The Dodgers went on to win in the same frame on Jeff Torborg's walk, Len

Fishin' Roundup

On opening day at Greenbelt, Lake, O. O. Bishop of Lefors caught his limit of pike and also 15 black bass. He was using some live minnows, and a spotted Pulver Riser lure.

Virgil Simmons, 1004 S. Wells fished Lake Meredith last week. The fish weren't hitting minnows so he tried a small yellow fly, and a black gnat, and caught 10 crappie. Later he found a bed of nice blue gill, and caught a sackful using a black and white popper.

M. W. Miller, and son Richard fished Spring Lake. Oklahoma and caught a 9 1/2 lb. channel cat using a live water dog. They also fished Foss Lake and caught 16 crappie, and 3 bass, weighing 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 lbs. He used Rapalla lures and live minnows for bait.

James McPherson, 2906 Rosewood, brought in a report on Lake Marvin, north of Canadian. He was there on opening day. The bass have been hit-ing slow. They are running from 2 to 2 1/2 lbs. each. Fishing permits are $1.00 per person. You can also rent a boat there for $8.00 for 24 hours. Or you can use your own boat.

But it has a 5 mile speed limit. The concessionaire has live bait, and some artificial bait. He also has a small amount of groceries, hot coffee, and cold drinks. As yet he did not have his fishing license, you might get them before you leave.

Jack Hood, 2336 Duncan, with his two boys Dan and Jim spent one week deep sea fishing at Port Aransas, Texas. They caught three Kingfish with the biggest being caught by Dan, it weighed 30 lbs. They also caught 8 Jackfish weighing approximately 25 lbs. each, one 15 lb. shark and a few Speckled Trout and Redfish. For the big ones they trolled with ribbon fish for bait 14 miles off the coast. Happy fishing everyone.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Panna News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Cause To Suspect 'Surveys'

We haven't heard much lately about the "credibility gap," but there's cause for much to be said.

A couple of news items in national publications remind us that "surveys" by government or government-oriented organizations give cause to suspect such when they are produced in the interest of getting legislation which the politicians want. One of the accounts is from U.S. News & World Report; the other is from the National Observer.

Of current interest is the claim that at least 10 million Americans are suffering from chronic hunger or malnutrition. That claim was made by the so-called Citizens Board of Inquiry into Hunger and Malnutrition, a group headed by Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers union. The report listed 256 counties in 10 states which are classified as "hunger areas" involving "desperate situations."

This report is being used by the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, leader of the "poor people's" invasion of Washington in support of a demand for more handouts and some sort of a guaranteed annual income. But indications are the Reuther report is a hoax.

Rep. W. R. Poage, Texas Democrat and chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, wrote to the health officers of all the 256 counties listed in the report and asked them if they had knowledge of serious hunger occasioned by inability to buy food. By the middle of May they had received 125 replies. They were summarized in the May 27 issue of U.S. News. All the replies were negative. Some health officials reported cases of malnutrition, but the cases were attributed to ignorance of proper foods or parental neglect of children.

Dr. Clarence A. Bush of Wilbax County, Montana, appeared indignant as he wrote:

"I will pay $100 to any selected charity, if anyone will find in Wibaux County, or any adjacent county in Montana or North Dakota, one individual who has suffered for lack of food, or any other necessity of clothing or shelter, medical or hospital care and attention for any reason other than misuse or failure to notify this correspondent or any other person in authority. I do not believe one can be found who has so suffered, even from these reasons of misuse or failure."

"For 25 years, I have known almost every resident of this and adjacent communities, and I say no such condition exists, or has existed in that time. On many occasions of fire, storm, or other disaster, the citizens have responded with cash gifts of $1,000 or more to help those families so affected, and in no one instance has the welfare board ever refused any request that I have ever made for medical assistance, no matter how expensive it turned out to be."

From a reading of the reports from the doctors in the field, it would appear the report of Reuther's organization was either manufactured or highly doctored.

The Chicago Tribune notes that the federal government "already is spending about $70 billion a year on social security, welfare, health and education programs. In addition to all the cash payments, about 36 million Americans get some free food which will cost $906 million in the fiscal year ending June 30."

The account in National Observer, a Dow Jones weekly newspaper, is an extension of its reports of last year's hoax by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in its campaign to get intra-state meat packers under the control of the feds. National Observer and others found that reports of unsanitary conditions in various state plants were exaggerated or just plain untrue.

How Much Can We Swallow?

We wonder how much the U.S. military expects the American public to swallow.

A United Press International Vietnam war dispatch datelined Da Nang, started out this way: "The allies lost nine aircraft and an undetermined number of men but scored a 'smashing victory' in evacuating the Kham Duc Special Forces camp in the face of North Vietnam invaders." UPI was quoting U.S. Marine Brig. Gen. Jacob Glick.

If this is victory of some sort, our side certainly can't afford to take any defeats.

Then, apparently with a straight face, although no photograph accompanied the dispatch, our man Glick said thusly: "The 1,300-man allied garrison killed at least 300 Communists before leaving."

As a further cushion for what was to come later in the story was this weaselly quote: "This camp had served its purpose by sighting major enemy movement."

Any reader with a third grade level of intelligence would have no difficulty in drawing the conclusion that the "major enemy" also sighted something — a d headed straight for it, thereby becoming responsible for our "smashing victory" in which we lost, per the first paragraph of the UPI dispatch, nine aircraft and an undetermined number of men.

It came out later in the story that the blazing crash of one of the C130s shot down by the North Vietnamese killed more than 100 South Vietnamese who were being evacuated from the over-run Special Forces camp.

In addition, UPI said, "the evacuation also cost the lives of 25 Americans — 12 Leathernecks, seven U.S. Army troops and six Air Force crewmen. Eighty-nine Americans were wounded."

This is a smashing victory? Glick is relentless in pursuit of his victory. With regard to the evacuated camp he had this to say:

"It no longer had any military or political significance. We decided to evacuate the personnel so that we could hit the area with massive B52 strikes and other aerial sorties."

This would be if we had anything left after the lost aircraft was described — two C130 transport planes, an A1E Skyraider bomber, a spotter plane and five helicopters — "all destroyed by Communist fire."

How can North Vietnam sustain defeats like this?

The UPI dispatch ends, and not a minute too soon, with this: "But U.S. officials hailed the air evacuation, plus a bold jungle escape by other allied troops, as a victory that outweighed up to 6,000 North Vietnamese. About 4,200 of the Communists had driven into the area from across the Laos border and surrounded the camp, allied spokesmen said."

Our side certainly outwitted those dumb North Vietnamese. To quote the man who was having his nose bitten off during a barroom fight, "I've got him right where he wants me."

The Lesson of France

The chaos that has overtaken the French Republic is a grim warning to free men everywhere that anarchism, unless promptly and firmly curbed, can destroy the most solid structures of government and disrupt the most prosperous countries.

No excuse existed for revolutionary upheaval in France. In the last decade, the French economy has moved forward steadily. The French people are better off financially than ever before. More young people have access to higher education than at any time in the history of the country. Nevertheless, France has been torn apart by disorders.

Why? To be sure, France has tolerated a large and active Communist Party. As a result many working men in France still are influenced and conditioned by Marxist ideas. But the regular Communist Party of France did not spark the explosion in early May. It began at the University of Paris and had its roots in the anti-American agitation of leftist students opposed to U. S. involvement in the Vietnam struggle. Only when the student anarchist disorders began to grow in size did the regular Communist Party organization order major strikes and take over the control of the disorders.

The anarchist groups that have been creating small-scale violence in France for over a year were not taken seriously by the French authorities. So long as the USA was the target of demonstrations, the DeGaulle government apparently didn't mind a little disorder and lawlessness. It learned the bitter lesson that a little strife soon grows into a monster of strife.

In the United States, good citizens can only hope that governmental authorities and heads of educational institutions will learn from the French experience. The groups of anarchists and civil disobedience advocates in American colleges and universities are numerically small. Too often they are dismissed as insignificant. Well, Columbia University at long last discovered that the anarchists aren't insignificant at all.

It takes only one individual yelling "fire!" in a crowded theater to cause a disaster that takes a terrible toll of life. And it takes only a scattering of organized, violence-inclined groups to upset great universities and throw chaos into towns and cities.

Most Americans don't understand the conspiratorial mentality. They don't grasp that the anarchists and civil disobedience types think along totalitarian lines — that is to say, that they are planning actual war within our country. Most Americans think in terms of practical discussions and sensible negotiations. But the radicals in the universities are like the North Vietnamese communists at the Paris conference table — they believe in total war to the end.

The anarchists are playing for the highest stakes — the destruction and takeover of western society. The example of France shows how far small militant groups can go in creating havoc. The example of Columbia University, which has been crippled, provides further confirmation.

It is not clear what else the anarchists may be planning in the United States this summer, but they surely will not be idle. It is possible, even likely, that they will try to repeat the Columbia University performance at the nominating conventions of the two national political parties. They may try their force methods as an attempt to demand political concessions from the convention delegates.

On the college and university front, however, it is time that responsible citizens realize that they cannot just stand on the sidelines and deplore what has taken place. A writer for Barron's Financial Weekly has spoken to this point. "Now is the time for intelligent counter-action," said the writer for Barron's Financial Weekly has spoken to this point.

"You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn."

"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they SHOULD and COULD do for themselves."

Half of President's Budget Cut To Come From National Defense, Congressional Leaders Told

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Although there has been no public announcement, President Johnson has made a very controversial decision on how he will carry out a proposed congressional mandate to cut $6 billion from the huge federal budget. After grimly agreeing to bow to Congress in order to obtain a $10 billion tax boost, the President has decided to cut at least $3 billion — or half of the $7.8 billion now being spent for national defense.

The enormous defense request is the biggest single item in the administration's $108 billion budget for the year beginning July 1. The $7.8 billion figure represents a cut from the $10.4 billion originally requested by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

While President Johnson has ruled out any reduction in the $30 billion being spent for the Vietnam war, military experts here say the huge defense cut-back will cripple a number of programs directly related to that conflict.

Most critical of the war-related projects to be affected will be the training and equipping of a new Army division needed to replace one being withdrawn from the Strategic Reserve in the U.S. for duty in Vietnam.

If the $3 billion is cut out of the coming year's military spending, members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff claim, plans to activate the division will have to be dropped.

Other military spending cuts will force the Army to withdraw an additional 50,000 troops from Europe, including part of the small garrison which is now serving in strife-torn West Berlin.

THE "UNTOUCHABLES" — The President's controversial decision to take half of the proposed reductions out of defense was made known to Democratic congressional leaders at their regular legislative White House meeting.

Stressing his populist-liberal background, the President told the legislators that he was financial support from colleges which condone or compromise with student terror tactics."

College and university trustees are under heavy pressure from the Left. Radical faculty members, as well as the militant students, are threatening strikes and other forms of intimidation. The trustees need to know that alumni and the general public feel very strongly on the subject of law and order in educational institutions.

At Columbia University the students who want to study and who oppose the radical rioters are organizing. Such students at Columbia and elsewhere deserve assistance from alumni and other interested students. Efforts should be widened to get the views and proposals of these law-abiding students into the news media. As the writer for Barron's declared, "A free society cannot survive unless men of reason rally to its defense."

desperately trying to ease the spending cuts on domestic programs by using the meat ax approach on the Defense Department.

The other $3 billion in cut-backs, he pointed out, will be made in the domestic programs, with the main reductions coming in space, agriculture, and public works projects. An estimated $400 million would also have to be slashed from the government's anti-poverty program.

In making his reduction plans, the President stressed, $7.8 billion of the budget represented what he described as "uncontrollable items" which could not be cut, including: Social Security, medicare, and other social insurance trust funds ($38.5 billion); interest ($14.4 billion); veterans, ($5.2 billion); public assistance grants ($5.7 billion); farm price support commitments ($2.9 billion); and other government fixed payments ($4.4 billion).

His pretended alarm over the "chaos" to be produced domestically if his "Great So-

A BLANK CHECK — For all city programs are cut back, the President so far hasn't included foreign aid on his reduction list.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., and Senator John J. Williams, R-Del., two authorities on federal waste, have proposed $3.5 billion to cut out of foreign aid.

Curtis also has warned members of the House Ways and Means Committee, of which he is a member, that the President could blandly ignore any congressional mandate on spending cuts.

According to Curtis, President Johnson can if he wishes leave most of the budget cutting to his successor next January 20. He points out that Congress is giving the President a blank check on how the reductions are to be carried out.

Also, he claims, there is no way that the President can be forced to carry out the reductions during the remaining seven months of his administration.

HEADLINES AHEAD — Two cabinet changes are in the wind. Attorney general Ramsey Clark is reported ready to accept a judgeship appointment on a federal court of appeals. Joseph Barr, under secretary of the treasury, will become secretary this summer when Henry Fowler leaves the Cabinet for a major operation.

Does anybody remember the 'Pueblo'?

Our great leaders hope not. They hope that with peace talks go on and the national electioneers popping off that the people will forget the men who offered their lives to protect the people.

Once an American government who permitted piracy would have been instantly killed by the American people. But today, the lack of character in leadership that has mired us in a no-win war overseas and insurance at home seems to be accepted by most everybody.

Our leaders are lost in the toolies. They are afraid if they was to demand the return of the 'Pueblo' or go in and get it, that it might jeopardize negotiations in Viet Nam. Well, that ain't so. Surrendering our ships without a fight only gives confidence to the enemy.

It shows the N. Viets that we will capitulate just as we did in Korea. The leaders like to holler that the people who object to the war are the ones who give aid and comfort to the enemy when it is their floundering around that is the cause of it all.

With the kind of characters we got representing the U.S. nowadays we are looked on as a country who could be whipped with a bean-flipper. And if they don't start changin pretty quick we will be.

Representative George Miller, D-Calif., chairman of the House Space Committee, has warned the White House that if these additional personnel reductions are made the proposed "landing on the moon" would have to be abandoned or delayed by several years.

He wrote the President that recent arbitrary budget cuts were "causing much unrest in the NASA professional work force and have resulted in partial dismantling of a very competent team."

On the other hand, he pointed out, Russia appears to be stepping up its space spending in an effort not only to beat the U.S. to the moon but also to gain military control of outer space.

Here's How They Erased Crime in One Community

By PAUL HARVEY

Is your town stricken by the nationwide epidemic of lawlessness? Crime is increasing nine times faster than the population is increasing.

Is your neighborhood victimized by vandalism and breaking? You can do something about it.

Let me tell you about Morningside. Morningside is a better-class neighborhood in Sioux City, Iowa, representing about one-third of the city's 100,000 population.

Until recently, that community provided convenient pickings for burglars, amateur and professional. In March of this year, Morningside residents suffered a crime of some kind most every night.

Somebody robbed a variety store by crawling through the front door transom at a busy, lighted intersection. One service station was burglarized five times in five weeks.

Members of the local Commercial Club contemplated remedial action. They consulted the police chief about the advisability of using civil defense, installing burglar alarms, hiring off-duty policemen and so forth.

Then the club's president, Larry Manker, remembered that whenever local families left on vacation they customarily alerted next-door neighbors to "keep an eye on the place."

He suggested ORGANIZED CITIZEN SURVEILLANCE. Beginning March 1 of this year, the men of Morningside volunteered to patrol their own community. No pay, no uniforms, no guns — driving their own car at their own expense — they would drive back and forth through the community's streets "looking for trouble."

Reaction was immediate and mostly unfavorable. Iowa Gov. Harold Hughes announced himself "unalterably opposed to vigilantes."

Sioux City Councilman Donald Shoning called it "unwise." Bernard Vogelgesang, executive director of the Iowa Citizens Council on Crime and Delinquency, hoped businessmen "in other cities will NOT follow the example of Morningside."

He said, "I hope it's not going to get started any place else or we'll really be in trouble."

But the men of Morningside persisted. "We are not vigilantes," they insisted. "We are armed only with flashlights. We merely report to police anything suspicious."

With a pool of 80 volunteers, four men on duty each night, it was necessary for only four hours to go sleepless for only four hours to go a month. Volunteers included an insurance agent and a banker, a store owner and a schoolteacher, a florist and a real-estate agent.

Sioux City's police chief,

James O'Keefe, approved the effort from the beginning. Within four nights his confidence was vindicated: "We have not had one break-in since the surveillance started."

There were 16 break-ins in Sioux City, none in Morningside.

Today, as I prepare this interim report, the men of Morningside have been patrolling their neighborhood nightly for more than two months and there has not been one instance of burglary or vandalism.

Elsewhere in the city, state and nation, crime continued apace but none in Morningside. The people were enthusiastic. Church groups applauded. The critics surrendered.

Now Gov. Hughes says, "I've changed my mind."

The effort's organizer, Larry Manker, figures criminals "play the odds," that "they've gone to less-protected communities elsewhere."

Now Gov. Hughes says, "I would like to see similar citizens' groups in every city and county in our state!"

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

New Yorkers gladly accept their designation as Gothamites, but most are unaware that in medieval times Gotham, England, was noted for the folly of its inhabitants. Incidentally, the name was first applied residents of Manhattan by Washington Irving in 1807 in his novel 'Salmagundi.' ... And Chicagoans accept the fact their habitat is known as the Windy City, not because of the breezes that sometimes howl in from Lake Michigan, but because in the early days residents bragged so much about their hometown.

Today's smile: A hypochondriac rushed into a doctor's office and demanded a thorough examination. He believed he was suffering from a liver disease. The M.D. looked him over and said: "Nonsense, you wouldn't know if you had that disease. There's no discomfort whatsoever." The patient looked at him and said: "Of course, but those are my exact symptoms."

Although Frances Scott Key composed "The Star-Spangled Banner" during the War of 1812 it took 114 years for Congress to make it the national anthem. President Hoover signed the bill passed by Congress on March 3, 1931, which made it official. The expression "thank your lucky stars" dates back to antiquity when astrologers taught the stars and their positions in the sky had omnipotent influence on the lives and destinies of men.

Thoughts while shaving: A survey by an insurance firm reveals that upwards of 15 million Americans are overweight in some degree and another 5 million adults are considered to be obese. Diet and exercise are the only answer and both take will power. You sometimes read in history about the efficacy of the ancient Egyptian physicians. Much of their success stemmed from the fact they relied on common remedies concocted from dates, figs, onions, lettuce and even opium. The phrase "his goose is cooked," meaning a man is finished financially, socially, etc., derives from medieval times when warriors in a besieged town would become so enraged at the insults they would try to burn down the town, thus cooking its goose. ... A physician told us recently that bad dreams or nightmares may have harmful effects. He said heart attacks that occur during sleep often coincide with such dreams. He says there's no evidence that the dream prompts the heart attack, but the excitement of it could play a part in stimulating coronary spasms. He didn't tell us how anyone can avoid such dreams or nightmares though. The phrase "apple of your eye" originated in medieval England when medical knowledge was scant. It was believed then the pupil of the eye was apple-shaped and the expression came to mean something precious and irreplaceable. The Boston (Mass.) RECORD AMERICAN headlined a story: "Monkey Business Booming in Lynn." Seems as though monkey business is booming somewhere all the time.

Country Editor speaking: "Good penmanship these days is about as great an accomplishment as being able to whistle through your fingers."

GRAVY RUNNING OUT (Texas Tax Journal)

Warnings to our lawmakers, local, state and national that we can't fight a growing war and continually ride on the gravy train at home are growing stronger. Some of the political spending programs are going to have to be cut to a "no desert basis." You see this every day when the people get a chance to vote on a local tax-raising measure.

On the national scene, the people can't vote directly on spending, but at election time they can vote for or against the spenders who dish out tax funds as if they were on a perpetual picnic with an inexhaustible supply of ice cream, cake and soda pop.

In Oregon, the people are rebelling at property taxes, and in the two most populous states, California and New York, taxation is a critical issue. Maybe this is a sign that many people are beginning to think they have about all the government they can afford.

In 1898 U.S. Marines began the invasion of Cuba in the Spanish-American War.
